High Winds Cause Damage Over State

TORNADO SCENE NEAR WOODSON—Tornadoes and windstorms have become almost commonplace over the state the past few days and Monday's lashing winds which brought twisters to Henderson county and area were no exception. Above is shown a scene at Woodson, Texas. A man digs to disconnect the water main in front of the destroyed home of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Peacock, who were seriously injured when a tornado hit their house in Woodson. Similar wreckage was caused in Monday's twisters in Opelika in Henderson county. See story in Column 7. (NEA Telephoto.)

HST Target For New GOP, Demo Blasts

(By The Associated Press)

PRESIDENT TRUMAN stirred up a political row Monday by accusing his opponents of playing politics.

A southern Democrat, Rep. Williams (D-Miss), helped it along by proposing that Mr. Truman "gracefully withdraw" from the 1948 presidential race.

And the names of Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) and Gen. Douglas MacArthur figured anew in the discussion of candidates.

Truman Said Authority

The President told a news conference at his Key West, Fla., vacation spot that election year maneuvering "is having a very bad effect" on the settlement of "both foreign and domestic problems."

This is understandable, Mr. Truman said. But he added there should be a bi-partisan approach to foreign affairs and housing in particular.

Tartly, Republican National Chairman Carroll Reece said the President's remarks on politics "should be taken very seriously because there is no more eminent authority on that subject than Mr. Truman."

Administration Scored

Reece blamed "bungling ineptitude" of the Truman administration for the housing shortage.

Chairman Eaton (D-NJ) of the House Foreign Affairs committee said the administration has produced "a background of prejudice, stupidity and ignorance" by its various foreign aid proposals.

"We have one party downtown (at the White House) in power which doesn't know how to handle the situation and another party on the hill in a like evil condition," Eaton declared. "The leadership leads up north one day and down south the next."

Truman Talks Around Issue

In a like vein, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said of Mr. Truman's statements: "It seems to me the Democrats are balking him more than the Republicans."

Both Taft and Eaton were referring to the southern Democratic "revolt" against the President's anti-poll tax and other civil rights proposals.

Mr. Truman in his news conference talked gingerly around that situation — including the Virginia move to bar the names of candidates, his own name among them if he runs for a full term—

One Dead, Six Hurt As Blast Damages U. S. Ship At Sea

(By The Associated Press)

SAN PEDRO, Calif., March 1—An explosion at sea board the U. S. Destroyer Duncan today killed one crew member and injured six others, the Eleventh Naval district announced tonight. The Duncan was enroute to the Western Pacific via Pearl Harbor.

The Navy said the explosion occurred shortly before noon, (PST), and that the Duncan suffered "considerable damage at the stern and the flooding of the after compartment from a hole at the water line."

The destroyer is in no danger of sinking, officers said, and she is proceeding to the naval base shipyard in San Pedro, escorted by the aircraft carrier Bairoko. Cause of the explosion and the full extent of the damage was not known. Names of the dead and injured were not immediately available.

The injured are to be taken to the Long Beach naval hospital when the Duncan arrives, probably at 1 a. m. tomorrow. The destroyer was about 125 miles at sea at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

Solon Makes Plea For Aid To Avert War

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 1—Speedy approval of the Marshall plan to "help stop World War III before it starts" was urged by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) today in an impassioned hour-and-a-half speech that brought fellow senators to their feet applauding.

Opening an historic debate on the $5,300,000,000 aid-to-Europe bill, the Foreign Relations committee chairman said this country must "light the beacon" of freedom in a world menaced by "aggressive Communism."

Solon Sounds Warning

"But if that beacon is to be lighted at all, it had better be lighted before it is too late," the Michigan senator warned.

Already, he said, Czechoslovakia has been "gutted by subversive conquest" and "the kindred fate of brave little Finland" hangs in the balance.

Vandenberg spoke as the "cold war" against Communism stirred new rumblings on the House side of the capitol.

A $500,000,000 recovery program to make Japan a self-supporting "bulwark against Communism" was recommended to the House Foreign Affairs committee.

General's Views Invited

The proposal came from William Montgomery McGovern, a Northwestern university professor who made a special tour of the Orient as a committee consultant.

And the committee itself:

1—Decided to lump European aid in the same bill with administration proposals for $375,000,000 in military backing to Greece and Turkey and $570,000,000 in non-military aid to China.

2—Invited Generals Douglas MacArthur and Claire Chennault to give their views, either in person or by correspondence, on aid to China and "other critical areas in the far east."

Aid Situation "Confused"

MacArthur said in Tokyo last week, at the height of a political squabble over bringing him home during a period of presidential maneuvering, that he didn't want to come to Washington in the near future.

Chairman Eaton (R-NJ) of the Homes Destroyed As Small Twister Hits

Two Injured In Henderson County; Rain, Hail And Dust Sweep State

(By The Associated Press)

TEXAS was hard hit Monday by a variety of wild March First weather.

There were twisters, floods, dust storms, rain, hail and high winds.

The first twister hit near the Henderson county oil community of Opelika. Four or five houses were destroyed and several barns damaged. A mother and son were injured.

"The twister seemed like it came down in a little clump of houses, hit the ground and then went back up in the air again," H. M. Kemp of nearby Athens said.

Mabank Hit By Twister

The community is situated two miles west of Brownsboro on the Athens-Tyler highway. The destroyed houses were of frame structure. No one was hurt.

"Several escaped injury by weathering the twister in the storm cellar on T. E. Kent's place," Kemp said. After the blow, constables, city and county law enforcement officers, ambulance drivers and others searched the wreckage for victims, but none was found.

The other twister struck Mabank during a blinding rainstorm. Almost three inches of rain fell. Mabank is on a line between Henderson and Kaufman counties. A service station and other buildings were damaged.

Car Carried 50 Yards

Mrs. J. H. Ragland and her son, Morris, 25, both of Kerens, were hurt when their car was lifted from the Tyler highway near Opelika and dropped in a field 50 yards away.

The Raglands were taken to a hospital.

Henderson County Sheriff Dean Holiman said he knew at least six residences were blown away. More damage was anticipated.

Several houses were reported damaged near Brownsboro, in the same vicinity. The Bailey Branch community, four miles west, was reported hit. So was the Malakoff community.

Rains accompanied the blow and livestock was removed from bottom lands.

Threats of floods to areas along the Trinity grew greater hourly as more rains fell on the watershed.

At Rosser, dirt levees were

Heavy Winds Sweep Over South Plains

New Cold Front Hits Area After Duster

WHILE winds of near tornadic proportions were lashing a wide part of the state Monday, Lubbock and the South Plains was buffeted by gales up to 60 miles an hour. The winds brought a heavy duster to the area, following early Monday morning thundershowers, and heralded a new cold front which moved in over the section early last night.

All in all, it was quite a day for the weatherman. He had just about every kind of weather there is, except snow, and even that was possible today with a forecast of partly cloudy and cooler weather today with similar conditions for Wednesday.

No Damage Reported

The winds hit their peak around 11:45 a. m. Monday with a sustained velocity of 47 miles an hour, although reaching gusts of 60 miles an hour at times during the afternoon. No damage was reported over the area from the strong winds, however.

The temperature reached 59 degrees at 2:30 o'clock, then tumbled 29 degrees to 30 at midnight. A low of 26 was forecast for early this morning.

Amarillo Has Snow

The cold front, which at one time during the day had shoved the mercury to 29 in Amarillo along with snow flurries, struck Lubbock shortly after 6:30 p. m., shoving the temperature from a reading of 50 down 11 degrees to 39 in one hour.

Earlier in the day, it had been forecast by the Weather bureau that snow flurries and low hanging clouds would accompany the cold front, but at midnight it was clear, although clouds were expected to move in momentarily. Partly cloudy with a maximum temperature between 45 and 50 degrees was predicted for the area today. Moderate winds of from 15 to 20 miles an hour also were forecast.

Little change was seen in temperature for Wednesday.

Powerful Air Force Urged

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 1—Congress' own aviation policy board today urged a $10,000,000,000-a-year program to head off "the next war" by making it obvious America would win with air power.

Go-slow signs based on economy were immediately put up in the path of any such project, however. Rep. Engel (R-Mich), chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee handling military outlays, commented that "we can't keep up to war strength continuously."

U. S. Facing Attack

The bi-partisan policy board, composed of five senators and five representatives, declared that the political and industrial preliminaries of World War III already are going on. It said civilization "stands vulnerable to annihilation" by scientific weapons, with the U. S. "continuously facing" aggressive attack.

The desirable solution, its report said, would be a "magna carta of world defense" through the United Nations. But it said nothing like that is in sight and the need now is to build up America's air strength.

The board, completing a seven-months study, offered 92 recommendations among which these were salient:

Extensive Research Urged

1. A warplane strength of 35,000, double the present number.

2. Multiplication of the present plane production rate by five to assure that the 35,000 warcraft will be modern and effective.

3. Extensive research, including intense work on atomic propulsion, to keep American planes ahead.

4. Close coordination of civilian and military aviation programs, on the theory that civilan flying is a big factor in total air power.

5. Quick action by the joint chiefs of staff on a unified plan of military action. The board sharply criticized the lack of such a plan.

Completion Date Set

The board joined President Truman's five-man air policy commission of private citizens in setting 1953 as a target date for completion of such a program. It did not, however, state publicly that it was doing so with the idea

Mahon Asks Hike In Grain Sorghum Export

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—Rep. Mahon (D-Tex) asked Secretary of Agriculture Anderson today to increase export quotas on grain sorghum.

The quota for the year ending July 1 is 14,000,000 bushels.

Only 1,000,000 bushels remain to be shipped, Mahon told Anderson, yet there is a great surplus of the grain available in West Texas, with a heavy crop in prospect.

Mahon noted that 9,000,000 bushels had gone to India to be used as human food and sold there for cash, while the remainded has gone to Japan, Korea and Germany.

"I am advised that the consumption of grain sorghum in the United States for feed in recent months has been below expectations," Mahon wrote the secretary after they had talked earlier today.

"I feel confident that substantial additional foreign sales can safely be made."

Called 'Weak Link' In Atomic Security

Scientist Declared Associate Of Reds

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 1—A House un-American Activities subcommittee declared today that Dr. Edward U. Condon, a top atomic scientist, has associated with alleged Soviet spies.

It labelled Dr. Condon, who is head of the National Bureau of Standards, "one of the weakest links in our atomic security."

Dr. Condon told a reporter who asked him about this:

"If I am one of the weakest links in the nation's atomic security, this is gratifying information, because I'm absolutely reliable and therefore we (the nation) have nothing to worry about. The country can relax."

Wallace Also Hit

The House group, in a formal report, recalled that Condon was appointed to his post on the recommendation of Henry Wallace. Speaking of Communists, the report said:

"In this country they haven't gotten as far as they did in Czechoslovakia, but they got pretty far, because they got a man as vice president of the United States, and he is now their candidate for president, and he is the same man who recommended Dr. Condon as director of the Bureau of Standards."

The committee spoke warningly of evidence which it said "indicates very strongly that there is in operation at the present time in the United States an extensive Soviet espionage ring."

Report Called Vague

It warned of "ultimate disaster" if this ring be allowed to continue.

Dr. Condon, the report said, "knowingly or unknowingly entertained and associated with persons who are alleged Soviet espionage agents."

Condon commented: "That's just too vague to talk about. I certainly didn't do it knowingly."

Of the report's statement that he "has lent his name and influence to one of the principal Communist endeavors in the United States," the scientist replied:

Letter Made Public

"I suppose that refers to my membership in the American Soviet Science society. This society is supported by a $25,000 grant from the Rockefeller foundation and is not Communistic in any sense of the word."

The committee report did say

Britain To Join European Talks

LONDON, March 1 (AP)—Britain, France and the low countries will begin talks in Brussels Thursday on implementation of Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin's plan for a "western union" in Europe.

Prime Minister Clement Attlee announced the conference in a surprise statement to the House of Commons.

The disclosure apparently reflected the urgency felt in London for speeding both economic recovery under the Marshall Plan and the political unity of Western Europe in the wake of events in Czechoslovakia and Finland.

Widespread Fear Noted

It came only a few hours after a foreign office spokesman indicated it would be a "matter of weeks" before anything concrete was done toward implementing Bevin's proposals of Jan. 22 for drawing Europe's democracies closer together.

"There is this dangerous and chaotic state of affairs in Europe and there is fear in Europe — widespread fear—and that is due mainly to a spread of dictatorships being intensified by events of the last few days," Prime Minister Attlee said. He spoke during a debate on a defense white paper.

The House approved the white paper, which proposed cutting Britain armed forces to 716,000 members of all services by March 31, 1949. This would be a reduction of 224,000 from the present strength of the armed services.

The House rejected by a vote of 243 to 122, a Conservative party motion expressing "concern at the apparent absence of comprehensive measures for a coordinated and up-to-date system of national and imperial defense."

Trail Of Buffalo Bank Robber Lost; Search To Be Continued

AUSTIN, March 1 (AP)—Bloodhounds lost the track of the Buffalo bank bandit, and officers admitted today they haven't been able to pick it up.

Rangers and local law enforcement officers were still seeking the short, stocky man who robbed the Citizens State bank of Buffalo of $2,000 Friday.

The bandit, who held up officers of the bank with a pistol, abandoned a black Buick sedan 10 miles north of Buffalo Friday afternoon. Bloodhounds failed to pick up a track at this point.

JEWS CHARGED WITH TERRORISM

British To Fight Impartially Against Jew, Arab Aggressors

(By The Associated Press)

JERUSALEM, March 1 — The British army said tonight that from now on its troops would use their weapons impartially against Jewish and Arab aggressors in the fighting within the Holy City.

An announcement from the military commander of Jerusalem said:

"Prolonged firing between Arabs and Jews within Jerusalem makes life intolerable for its inhabitants. Such disturbances of the peace will not continue. Force will be used in incidents of this kind. The army will if necessary use weapons more powerful than those available to Arabs and Jews."

The military statement then added that since in such fighting it was impossible to determine who is the aggressor, "the army will therefore use its weapons impartially against whichever side is firing."

The implication was that British forces previously have generally withheld their fire during Jewish-Arab battles.

The military commander's announcement followed quickly a British mandatory government statement which bitterly charged the Jewish leadership in the Holy

Alien Suspects Threaten Strike

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP)—Four alleged alien Communists held on Ellis island announced today they were starting a hunger strike to obtain their freedom but an immigration service official said their room was well stocked with food.

W. F. Watkins, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization service said the men "did not show up" for any of their meals today.

However, "they have received various packages from friends with foodstuffs and they have this in their room with them," Watkins added. The men are being held on deportation warrants.

Red Official Seized

Meanwhile, the Justice department's drive against alleged alien Communists brought another arrest today with the seizure by federal agents of Irving Potash, manager of the Furriers National conference.

Potash was born in Russia, has lived in the United States since 1915, and is a member of the American Communist party's national committee, the department said. He was taken to Ellis island.

The four men who announced the hunger strike said they would refuse food until given their freedom, the department announced. They are:

Man Injured When Car Hits Center Of Underpass Here

Felix Worley, 29, of 105 Hub Homes, was being held by police last night after he had been found in an automobile which had collided with the center column of the north underpass on Ave. H.

Patrolmen in the area noticed a car parked near the center of the underpass, and upon investigation found Worley in the car seat, police said. The investigation indicated that the vehicle had hit the underpass column.

Worley was taken to Lubbock Memorial hospital where his condition was pronounced 'satisfactory.' According to police, the man was then taken to the city jail. He was charged with drunkenness, records showed.

Finnish Party Opposes Pact

(By The Associated Press)

HELSINKI, March 1—Conservatives in the Finnish parliament tentatively are oposed to a treaty of friendship and mutual aid with Russia, Arvo Salminen, chairman of the group, said today.

He emphasited, however, that the party's stand is not yet definite.

The reaction of the conservatives, a minority group, became known as President Kuho Passikivi opened discussions with cabinet members on Prime Minister Stalin's proposal for such a pact against "possible German aggression."

Pact Said Favored

Paasikivi conferred at the presidential palace with Premier Maundo. Pekkala, Foreign Minister Carl Enkell, Vice Foreign Minister Reunhold Sveento and Lt. Gen. Aaene Siho, commander in chief of the Finnish army.

Well-informed circles reported that Passikivi was in favor of signing the treaty.

The general opinion in Helsinki is that the negotiations cannot be avoided and that they probably will take place in the Finnish capital.

LEGAL ELECTIONS ARE PROMISED FOR CZECHS

PRAGUE, March 1 (AP)—Czechoslovakia today was promised legal elections which foreign newsmen could observe. The date of the balloting, however, was left in question.

The promise was made at a news conference attended by new members of the government. The cabinet members tried to justify what Information Minister Vaclav Kapecky, a Communist, called "the Czechoslovak revolution." They said the events of last week giving Communists control of the

State Sen. Morris To Oppose Rayburn

GREENVILLE, March 1 (AP)—State Senator G. C. Morris announced at his home here today that he expects to be a candidate for Congress from the Fourth congressional district, an office now held by House Minority Leader Sam Rayburn.

Morris ran against Rayburn in 1944 and was defeated by a count of 24,507 to 18,736. Morris carried three of the seven counties in the district, Hunt, Rains and Rockwall. In 1945, Rayburn had no opponent.

In his announcement today, Morris stated: "The failure of the present congressman from this district to speak out in opposition to certain parts of the proposed civil rights' bill, constituted on his part a repudiation of the best interests of the people of the south and district which he has represented for 35 years.

"Not only has he failed to speak out against this attempt to destroy the segregation laws of our state, but it is apparent that he favors the civil rights' program. I am opposed to any program which would tear down the segregation laws of the South."

RADIOLOGIST DIES

Grain, Livestock Prices Boosted

CHICAGO, March 1 (AP)—Grain, livestock and cotton prices rose today in the nation's major wholesale markets.

In the securities exchanges stocks moved generally a little higher. Railroad bonds edged upward.

Wheat futures advanced 5¾ to 9½ cents a bushel on a pessimistic wheat crop report by the Santa Fe railroad, unconfirmed rumors that the government had re-entered the flour market, and small marketings of feed grains by farmers.

Government Resumes Buying

Resumption of government flour buying was confirmed after the market close when the Department of Agriculture asked competitive bids from flour mills to sell it 19,000,000 pounds of whole wheat flour and 15,000,000 pounds of white flour for shipment abroad.

May wheat closed at $2.45½ to ¼ a bushel.

Improved eastern demand strengthened all livestock selling at the Chicago stockyard where hogs soared $1 to $1.25 a hundred pounds. Choice hogs sold at a $24.75 top.

In New York, cotton futures responded to belief that recent European developments assure prompt action on the Marshall Plan.

WOULD EMPLOY LIBRARIAN NOW

Methods Of Improving Library Program For City Discussed

By OPAL DIXON
Avalanche Staff Writer

SUGGESTION that a librarian be employed immediately to plan a "complete program for the development of a modern public library for Lubbock" was made by Francis H. Henshaw of Austin, state librarian, at an adjourned meeting of Lubbock Public library association Monday night in Fellowship hall of the First Presbyterian church.

Since a $500,000 bond issue has been voted to provide funds for construction of a public library in Lubbock, there is danger of an attitude that, "We have the money, the job is done and now we can sit back and wait for the benefits," he said.

Quoting an example in New York in which a building had been constructed, then the librarian employed, Henshaw said numerous changes were necessary to make that building a working institution fitting the needs of the community.

"My suggestion for Lubbock would be that you get first your librarian," he said. He suggested that the person chosen not be one

Law Violations Are Probed Here

Four men whose address was listed by police as 'city jail,' were unable to test their idea yesterday that the large crowd of Monday shoppers 'would make easy picking.'

The foursome was sauntering along in the 1000 block of Broadway early yesterday, unnoticed by some of the possible prey, but the eye-beam of Patrolman Mark V. McCurry followed their shuffle. Shortly afterwards their 'easy picking' idea backfired and exploded in four red faces.

"This oughta be a good day to pick up a lot of stuff, because there're lots of people in town today," McCurry said that he had noticed the men loafing along the same street for several days, without any 'visible' means of support.

Officer Takes Charge

The officer immediately decided to do a little picking up himself, according to police. The framing four were arrested, taken to the city jail where they were being held last night on a charge of vagrancy.

Robert G. Holm, 23, of Cutback, Montana, was being held by the police department last night for Hobbs, N. M. authorities. He was charged with check law violation at Hobbs, police said. Holm signed waiver of extradition in the presence of officers, and a witness.

TEXAS PRESIDENT SPEAKS

Informed Discussion Urged As Weapon On 'False Propaganda'

PORT ARTHUR, March 1 (AP)—Free, open and informed discussion is the best method of offsetting "fallacious propaganda" urged on students, says Dr. T. S. Painter, president of the University of Texas.

In a speech at a meeting of the University of Texas ex-students here tonight, the president said the university should take the responsibility of seeing that all sides of such questions are presented.

Can Find Proper Answer

"The minute you place a taboo on any subject, it immediately becomes intriguing to the inquisitive minded and has a certain amount of appeal," Dr. Painter said. "But when you drag all the facts out into the open, our youngsters are quick to sense the proper answer."

His reference was to attempts by protagonists of isms or social and political reforms to influence young people by "fallacious arguments and promises." Oldsters are not likely to be influenced by such arguments and promises, he explained, so the protagonists "find it more profitable to endeavor to recruit adherents among the young people of this land."

"Hitler showed how very effectively this can be done," Dr. Painter continued. "So it is but natural that your boys and girls and mine are being constantly bombarded with propaganda of all sorts—and don't you doubt for a moment that the people who put out this propaganda are not skillful psychologists."

As to what the university should do to offset fallacious propaganda, he asserted:

To me the answer is perfectly clear; namely, the free and open discussion of all controversial issues. I think that it is a basically sound and wise policy to encourage free and open but informed discussions of controversial questions at the university and that the primary responsibility of the university should be simply to see that all sides of the question are represented so that students will not get a one-sided or biased point of view."

Winners Named At Southwestern Rodeo

EL PASO, March 1 (AP)—"Squaw Man" lost some of his reputation on the rodeo circuit. Gene Pruitt, Yakima, Wash., yesterday stuck on the bucking bronc to qualify in the last showing of the 19th annual Southwestern Livestock show.

It was the first time anyone had qualified aboard "Squaw Man" and only two others have managed to hang on for any length of time.

Rodeo winners divided $12,200 in prize money.

Top money went to to:

Dee Burk, Comanche, Okla., second go-round of calf roping; George Brown, Grapevine, Tex., all go-rounds calf roping.

Casey Tibbs, Fort Pierre, S. D., in bronc riding. Buster Ivory, Hayward, Calif., and Howard Baker, Fort Worth, divided second money. Other winners were Bill Linderman, Red Lodge, Mont., Wart Baughman, Archer City, Tex., Billy Weeks, Grady, N. M.

Linderman won the second go-round of steer wrestling. Buff Douthitt, Brownwood, Tex, won day money in this event. Ross Dollarhide, Lake View, Ore., took third and Todd Whatley, Hugo, Okla., won fourth. Whatley also won first money for the best average of the entire show.

Hank Mills, Pueblo, Colo., had the second best average, Buddy Groff, Bandera, Tex., had third and Homer Pettigrew, Chandler, Ariz., fourth.

L. V. Shannon, Pelly, Tex., brahma bull riding. Wart Baughman, second; Sonny Lavender, third; Spike Bronson, Vinita, Okla., fourth; Lee Harris, Tucson, Ariz., fifth.

Johnny Cobb, Bandera, won second in saddle bronc riding day money. Tom Knight, Cody, Wyo., had the highest second place average over the full show. Jim Like, Kim, Colo., had the third.

Burk won day money in calf roping and Linderman was second.

Forgotten Man Is Freed From Jail

GALVESTON, March 1 (AP)—The "forgotten man" of the county jail was free today.

He spent four months in the jail after he had been nobilled by the grand jury.

The man is Roger Mayfield, young negro truck driver.

The three-person combination that effected his release consisted of a woman who is active in church work among prisoners; Mayfield's former employer and a district judge.

The church worker heard about the case and called Mayfield's employer, Harry Black. Black asked Judge Charles Dibrell of 56th district court about the case.

Judge Dibrell investigated and promptly ordered Mayfield's release.

As pieced together from court records and official explanations, Mayfield was nobilled by the grand jury on charges of having stolen money from a negro woman.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Fitzsimmons explained that Mayfield was held because an assistant county attorney thought some more charges were pending and asked that he not be released.

Mississippi's Investigation Force Goes Out Of Existence

JACKSON, Miss., March 1 (U.P.) —The Mississippi Bureau of Investigation, which was denounced by its opponents as a "Gestapo," went out of existence at 12:01 a. m. today.

The MBI was authorized by a special session of the legislature last November to stop violence in a bus strike. The governor could hire his own men and was not required to make their names known. The MBI's opponents charged it could make arrests without warrants.

As soon as the force was organized, the bus strike violence stopped and the MBI never used any of its powers. Actually, the bureau never had more than three members, one of whom was its director, Col. T. B. Birdsong.

Birdsong became director of the State Highway patrol today. He succeeds C. R. Bradley, who resigned to enter private business.

25 Persons Slightly Injured As Bus Crashes In'o Building

HOUSTON, March 1 (AP)—Approximately 25 persons, the major portion of them negroes, were injured, none believed critically, when a southbound Bellaire bus of the Houston Transit company trying to dodge a fruit wagon, crashed through a 10-by-10-foot plate glass window, coming to a stop in the Herzog galleries.

The accident happened at 9:25 a. m. The bus was heavily loaded with many passengers standing in the aisle.

The homicide squad of the police department sent ambulances to the scene. A check later revealed that 17 negroes had been taken to St. Joseph's infirmary and four white women to Hermann hospital. All with the exception of one or two of the negroes were treated and released.

HOUSTON PIONEER DIES

HOUSTON, March 1 (AP) — George S. Bruce, 88, once a friend and neighbor of Robert E. Lee at Richmond, Va., died here today. Bruce was born Dec. 12, 1859, at Covington, Ky. He came to Houston in 1899, and was district passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific railroad at the time of his retirement 18 years ago.

TAKE A LOOK AT YOUR INSIDES

Study the above drawing for a few minutes. Notice particularly how the bile flows from the liver into and out of the gall-bladder and thence into the small intestine where it mixes with the partly digested food just below the stomach. Bile is a necessary adjunct to proper digestion. Its absence from the intestines inevitably causes putrefaction and fermentation.

NATURE'S DANGER SIGNALS

When your stomach, liver, and gall bladder have been upset by improper eating or drinking, or when they are not working well because retained and putrefying food matter in your intestines is poisoning your entire body, you, sooner or later, begin to feel some of the following symptoms:

Your breath may become unpleasant (halitosis), your tongue coated, a bad taste in your mouth, your coffee (and tobacco) lose their natural flavor, your food does not agree with you; you may have heartburn, gas and dizzy spells, you may be troubled with belching; at night the gas in your bowels may press upon your bladder making you get up frequently, thus breaking into your sleep.

In the morning you are tired instead of refreshed. Gradually your health is impaired.

Your complexion may become sallow or bilious; dark rings may appear under your eyes, you may feel lazy, dull and irritable or blue and melancholic. You may have frequent colds (catarrh) or dull head-ache; your bowels stop their free, full and natural action; you have constipation, gas, putrefaction and self-poisoning ("intestinal toxaemia" or "acute gastritis" as many doctors call it).

HOW TO GET RELIEF

You can relieve this condition usually overnight, by taking Calotabs at bedtime and drinking water freely next day.

The beneficial effects of Calotabs lie in the fact that they are (1) laxative, (2) antiseptic to the intestines, (3) diuretic to the kidneys, (4) effective in relieving symptoms of biliousness and acute gastritis due to constipation or faulty digestion.

Calotabs are pleasant to take (sugar coated), prompt and effective. Try them and see. Follow label directions. At your druggists'.

"What this country amounts to depends on what happens to its homes." . . . That's why the life insurance companies and their agents are bringing you this series of messages from the nation's foremost authorities, to help you plan for happiness in the handling of your family money. (This is Message No. 31.)

How "Lewis Family, Inc." showed a profit . . .

MONEY is a problem hard to escape! This authoritative article tells how a family can plan for happiness by planning its finances

by IDA C. HAGMAN
Extension Specialist in Home Management
University of Kentucky

IDA C. HAGMAN

"WHO should manage the family money . . . who should pay the bills?" What family hasn't debated this old, old question . . . and how much happiness depends on the right answers!

No need to envy the ones who have it all worked out. It's really easy. Perhaps, like the family I'll call the Lewis family, you can even have fun doing it. . . .

Here's a picture of their "directors' meeting." Young Johnny, aged ten, reports as manager of the odd job department: "Income, $4.20. Spent, $2.10. Saved for new boxing gloves, 50¢. Saved for the new family car, $1.60. . . ."

Sometimes Mother reports on the household budget. Sometimes Dad goes over taxes and insurance and investments. The big point is, they talk it over!

If you're puzzled or having difficulties, that's the way to begin. Decide what your family wants out of life. Make dollars-and-cents plans to get it. Put the plans down on paper. Then divide up the plan, and assign each part of it to whoever can do that job best. For example, Dad will probably be in charge of long-range items, like life insurance and the savings. . . . Make sure that everybody—children included!—understands the reasons for what is decided upon.

Next, get together regularly and check on how you are getting on. But don't interfere with the way someone is running another "department"! Discuss, don't wrangle. And remember, asking what something cost shows interest, not criticism.

Whatever your income, whether from a modest salary or large investments, you need to manage money to be sure of the most happiness for yourself, your marriage and your children!

Should the Wife be the "purchasing agent"?

National figures show that most day-by-day family spending is done by women! So she seems the best candidate. In fact, most of the time she's an expert at buying. If she isn't, she should study prices and grades of food, clothing, and all household items. Try doing comparative shopping for different things, in different stores. Keep notes on places and prices. You may find that you can run the house better for less!

Should you talk money with the Children?

Yes! As early as they can understand. On simple things, perhaps even at four. A child can grasp the idea that it must choose between a new toy and new shoes if it knows why. Give children an allowance, if only a penny or two. And let them spend it in their own way. As soon as they can, let them earn their own money (never give money "bribes"). Above all, let the children feel that they are sharing in the family's money plans.

How to PLAN for Family Happiness

● Planning each individual's share in the handling of the family money is only part of sound money planning. You'll be more likely to have enough money on hand when you need it, if you'll follow these few simple rules:

FOR TODAY... The first thing, for most families, is to take care of the larger fixed items such as rent, taxes, insurance, mortgage and installment payments, etc. So start by adding up all your fixed items for the year, divide by 52, and set aside that amount weekly.

Also, every family should have a "rainy day" fund equal to at least four weeks' income. Set aside a little every week until you have that much. Then, you'll know how much you can spend for food, clothing, heat, light, amusements, and so forth.

FOR TOMORROW... We live in a changing world. Family needs and circumstances change . . . living costs . . . taxes. If you have not had your life insurance program reviewed lately, the chances are 2 to 1 that it should be brought up to date.

There are so many ways in which you can use your life insurance, that you should have the life insurance you now own checked to see if it is suited to your needs. This is a service that comes with your life insurance.

The person best equipped to help you with this is the well-trained life insurance agent. Get in touch with your agent, or write your life insurance company. INSTITUTE OF LIFE INSURANCE, 60 East 42nd Street, New York 17, N. Y.

World Crisis Not Causing Big Increase In Fears Of New War

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., March 1—Despite gathering of diplomatic storm clouds over Europe and Asia, fear among voters of another world war has not grown appreciably.

Events in Czechoslovakia, Palestine, Greece, Korea and China have received considerable attention in the daily press. Yet the proportion of voters who foresee the involvement of the United States in another war within ten years is practically the same today as it was last August.

GALLUP

Slightly more than half believe we will be involved in a war within the next decade, while three out of four predict world-wide hostilities in 25 years.

Russia's accusations against America about war-mongering and Henry Wallace's statements to the same effect find little fertile ground in this country. An overwhelming majority of those who feel that war can't be avoided think that Russia, not the United States, will be responsible for starting it.

For more than two years the Institute has conducted tests of the voting public's expectations of war. Today's results are the latest in this series which forms a kind of fever chart of war fears. The temperature has risen very gradually but steadily.

"Do you think the United States will find itself in another war within, say, the next ten years?"

	Yes	No	No opin.
March, '46	49%	38%	13%
April, '47	50	38	12
August, '47	53	36	11
TODAY	54	32	14

Respondents answering "yes" in the current survey were then asked:

"Who do you think will be responsible for starting the war?"

The answers:

Russia	70%
U. S.	7
England	2
Capitalists, politicians, etc.	6
Miscellaneous	7
No opinion	13
	105%*

(*Adds to more than 100 since some gave more than one answer.)

The more education a voter has the less likely he is to expect war before 1958, as shown in the following table:

	Yes	No	No opin.
College	47%	47%	6%
High school	53	34	13
Grammar or no schooling	58	25	17

A separate but comparable cross-section of voters was asked:

"Do you thing the United States will find itself in another war within, say, the next 25 years?"

The results:

WAR IN 25 YEARS?

	Yes	No	No Opin.
March, '45	38%	45%	17%
Aug., '45	40	48	12
Oct., '45	54	28	18
Feb., '46	59	22	19
Mar., '46	69	19	12
Aug., '46	65	16	19
Apr., '47	73	18	9
Aug., '47	73	18	9
TODAY	76	15	9

Those saying "yes" to this question also feel that Russia will be responsible, by the same one-sided vote as in the other cross-section.

Voters in this country are more fearful of a world war than citizens of other foreign nations. A poll conducted by the International Association of Public Opinion (Gallup) Institutes last September reported sentiment in nine other nations, where the proportion of "yes" answers were lower than in the United States. The countries: Great Britain, Denmark, Canada, Netherlands, France, Austria, Sweden and Norway. Anxiety was more prevalent at that time in Italy.

The nearly extinct white Rhinoceros, is with the exception of the elephant, the largest of land mammals.

Two Matadors From Brooklyn Make Plans For European Tour

MATAMOROS, Mexico, March 1 (U.P.) — Two Matadors from Brooklyn were ready today to return home before starting an European tour.

Sidney Franklin and Julian Fara, both of East 29th street in Flatbush, each fought two bulls in the Matamoros bullring yesterday and each had difficulty administering the final blow to their animals.

They sail from New York in May for a European tour, with three appearances already set for France. They expect to follow their fights there with appearances in Spain, Portugal and northern Africa.

Franklin, who's been in the business more than 20 years, said his success in Europe and Africa will determine whether he'll hang up his sword and capes—but, he adds, he'll probably do another season or two in Mexico and South America.

SCHOOLING UNNECESSARY

HORICON, Wis. (U.P.)—Oliver O. Schmidt, 44, whose formal schooling ended with the fourth grade, has built one of Horicon's most imposing homes with his own hands. He said the most serious problem was building a straight three-flue chimney. But "a little preliminary figuring" took care of the matter.

Marihuana Loot Valued At Over $100,000 Is Seized

SAN ANTONIO, March 1 (U.P.) — Thirteen bundles of marihuana, valued at approximately $110,000 retail, were seized by five San Antonio detectives last night as the climax of a two-day wait for an expected dope-running effort by members of a dope ring.

Three men were arrested by the detectives, who stopped two automobiles as they entered the city en route from Mexico to New York, Detective Sgt. Albert Guerrero said.

Two of the suspects, age 37 and 17, were listed as aliens, while the third man, 25, gave a Laredo address.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

AT a recent meeting of the Northern New Mexico Educational association, pamphlets on flag etiquette were passed around and one point was as follows:

". . . Keep the United States and Texas flags up during school hours and on special days except when weather is bad . . ."

When the teachers did no so much as raise an eyebrow, the editor of the Raton Range reasoned: (1) either the teachers' nervous systems were so benumbed by kids' antics that nothing surprised them: or (2) displaying a Texas flag was the proper thing to do anywhere —since about half are native Texans anyway.

THE ALAMO

WHEN one considers John Myers' book, "The Alamo," which is just off the press, he wonders why some astute historian or reporter had not done this piece of work before now. As the author explains, the Battle of the Alamo is a stirring saga in which all Americans, and especially Texans, take great pride, but the truth is the story of the Alamo is at once familiar to everybody and not known at all. As a matter of fact, back there on Feb. 23, 1836 when the Texas patriots began their battle against overwhelming odds there were no enterprising correspondents such as Hal Boyle and Kenneth Dixon to write columns on it and no Charles and Mary Beards to write its history for posterity.

Myers spent many months in studying records on the political ethnic background that made the Mexican war inevitable and he describes the actual siege and assault and reconnects the Alamo to the main stream of Texas history, the battle of San Jacinto and the Mexican war. He writes well and he likes our state and Texans, as is evidenced in his foreword: For the Texans with whom I've soldiered and pounded typewriters.

WE think every Texan should visit the Alamo, that "Cradle of Texas Liberty," which is rather successfully preserved in its former glory, with a few modern facilities, such as electric lights, floors and a ceiling to add to the comfort of the sightseer.

We paid our first visit to the former chapel a few weeks ago and it was when we were standing within those walls where history, which we are commemorating today, was made that the idea occurred that here was a spot which should be seen by all Texans.

That place seems sacred to us all right and the feeling must have been shared by tourists who came in before we left because we heard no loud words, no silly giggling that so often mark the scene when one is visiting a historical spot.

The inside of the Alamo is cool and damp and at the time we visited the building and the adjacent museum, we heard only a few whispers, such as one might expect from vacationists on a tour of a cathedral.

We suppose the place where Bowie, Crockett and Travis and their men carved a place for immortality seems very real to many Texans because their grandfathers and uncles knew those men and their families. Reading about them, one has the feeling that it is certainly tragic that men refuse to look to the past for a light to brighten the way of the future.

The place likely would be in complete decay today had it not been for the intervention of the late Mrs. Clara Driscoll who saved it from oblivion, and started a fund to restore it in part to a semblance of the former military post.

Snyder Claims Big Tax Slash Threat To Nation's Economy

By DAYTON MOORE
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 1—Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder today opposed tax reduction now because it involves "serious consequences" for domestic prosperity and world peace.

Opening the administration's fight in the Senate against the House-approved $6,500,000,000 income slash, Snyder said it would raise prices, be of little or no help to lower income groups and create a deficit next year.

Backing For Plan Seen

He said postponement of tax reduction "requires an unusual measure of self-denial" but this is no time to lower government revenue.

Snyder's views were contained in a statement to the Senate Finance committee which opened hearings on the bill. Snyder was not in the capital. The first witness before the committee was Budget Director James E. Webb.

Snyder reiterated in a large part his testimony given previously to the tax-writing House Ways and Means committee. His testimony carried little weight there. The Senate, however, was expected to set its target on reducing the overall slash to about $4,000,000,000 and thus attract Democrats who would support an anticipated presidential veto.

Deficit Is Feared

Snyder again asked for approval of President Truman's $40-for-everybody tax cut and an excess profits tax of 75 per cent on corporations. This, he said, would maintain about the present general level of revenue which the government now gets.

Snyder estimated that under the President's budget for fiscal 1949 a surplus of $4,800,000,000 would be available for reduction of the national debt. This debt must be reduced in the good years, Snyder said, because there may be lean years when no payments can be made.

Snyder's statement pressed at these points:

1. The House bill would result in a deficit of $2.2 billion in fiscal 1949 instead of a surplus of $4.8 billion.

2. The bill would not encourage business to expand and spur production as argued. Tax reduction is certain to raise prices, he said, by increasing competition for limited supplies.

3. The bill doesn't give adequate relief to lower income groups. The President's program, he said, would free 10.3 million persons and the House bill only 6.3 million.

4. Income taxes are equalized with community property states at the "cost of substantial revenue." It does not equalize estate and gift taxes.

Traffic Deaths Drop As Mileage Boosted

HOUSTON, March 1 (U.P.)—Traffic deaths in Texas have decreased sharply as the mileage of Texas motorists has increased, Homer Garrison, chairman of the State Highway commission, told delegates at the eighth annual southern conference of teamsters today.

The teamsters, representing 100,000 members in 12 states, opened the conference today.

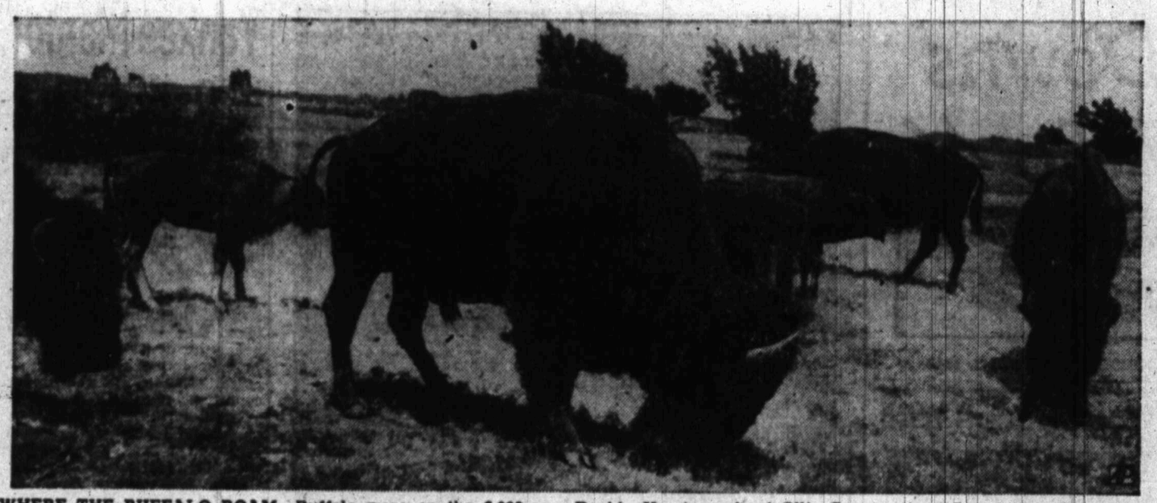

"In 1937, there were 14.6 persons killed for every 100,000,000 miles driven in the state. In 1947, there were 8.7 killed for the same number of miles," Garrison said.

Further emphasis on highway safety marked the address of Maj. Gen. Phillip B. Fleming of Washington, Federal Works administrator.

Air Pollution Claimed Cause Of Over 700 Deaths In Chicago

SAN MIGUEL DE ALLEGLA, Mexico, March 1 (U.P.)—More than 700 people die every year from air pollution in the city of Chicago alone, and a proportionately larger number die from the same causes in other American industrial cities, Dr. Clarence A. Mills of the University of Cincinnati said in a paper delivered here today.

Respiratory illnesses, many of which are due to air pollution, also are responsible for about 70 per cent of the time lost from work, Dr. Mills said.

He pointed out that even such cities as Los Angeles and Mexico City, which once boasted of their fresh air and sunshine, now "find themselves buried much of the time beneath an irritating canopy of pollution."

Dr. Mills addressed the final session of a three-day series of meetings of the Pan American doctor's club at its mountain hideaway above famous old Real Del Nonte silver mine. The club occupies the hacienda once owned by the Duke De Regla.

Reporting from studies made in Chicago, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Nashville, Birmingham, and Atlanta, Dr. Mills said pneumonia, respiratory tuberculosis and lung cancer all became increasingly frequent and severe as investigators moved from the cleaner city suburbs into the dirty air of the industrial and business districts. He said fatalities were three to 10 times heavier among men than women.

"The finding that death rates from respiratory tract cancers rise along with those from pneumonia and (respiratory) tuberculosis points strongly to a general (respiratory) tract irritation as the basic factor involved," Dr. Mills said. "Economic, housing and nutritional factors appear of much less importance than air pollution, as evidenced by the difference between male and female hazards."

He said the fact that pneumonia, pulmonary tuberculosis and cancer of the respiratory tract all follow the "same course of increasing severity as one goes down into the dirty areas of the city should also probably be taken to mean that chronic irritation of the respiratory tract by smoke-laden air is at the basis of the trouble."

Dr. Mills pointed out that a generation ago, cancer of the respiratory tract was a rare disease, but said today "it ranks very close to pneumonia and pulmonary tuberculosis as a cause of death in males (in Chicago)."

Red Raider Five Downs WTSTC Buffs, 67 To 46

Jay Kerr Paces Tech Offensive

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

CANYON, March 1 — Texas Tech's tournament-bound Red Raiders clinched the runner-up position in the Border conference cage title chase by drubbing their traditional rivals, the West Texas State Teachers college Buffs, 67-46 here tonight.

The triumph gave the Tech quintet a loop record of 10 wins and six losses and a season record of 15 victories and 11 defeats. Only Arizona university's Wildcats, with a circuit tally of 12 wins and four setbacks, finished ahead of Coach Polk Robison's charges.

Buffs Take Lead

The Buffaloes jumped into an early lead on Glenn Braden's hook shot after 30 seconds of play, but Gene Gibson tied the count with a push shot. Guard Wimpy Hill sent the Raiders ahead with a free throw, then the sharpshooting Braden put the West Texas crew back into the front position on another hook shot at 2:15 of the first half.

Jay Kerr, veteran Tech forward, deadlocked the score at 4-all and a minute later Kerr sank a one-hand set shot to give the Raiders a 6-4 lead. After that two points the Techsans were never headed.

Kerr hit five of six field goals in the first half and with aid from Center Don Grove and Guard Ardis Barton sent Tech into a long 33-18 halftime margin.

Barton Fouls Out

The diminutive Barton fouled out of the game after one minute and 50 seconds of the second half and Gibson left the encounter at the three-minute mark.

Each five scored only four points during the next three minutes, then Tech started a drive that increased the score to 51-25 in a five minute period. From that point offensives of both quintets were ragged and numerous fouls were called.

Both Hubert Kitchens and Sammy Malone, Buff stalwarts, fouled out of the contest in the last 10 and both teams completed the game with subs on the floor.

Kerr, playing his final conference game for the Tech quint, took individual scoring honors with 17 points on six field goals and five charity tosses. Don Grove, big Raider center, gained the runner-up post with 15, while Bill Allen topped the Buffs with 13 points.

A total of 57 fouls were called during the game although the tilt was not especially rough.

RAIDER QUINTET LEAVES THURSDAY; RALLY SLATED

Approval for Texas Tech's participation in the Texas division NAIB basketball tournament, scheduled Friday and Saturday nights at Will Rogers Memorial coliseum in Fort Worth, was voted Monday by the Tech athletic council.

Members of the council telephoned their approval of the trip to Chairman W. L. Stangel, officials reported, and coaches have been notified of the action.

A squad of 11 players, accompanied by Coach Polk Robison, is slated to leave the campus at 10 o'clock Thursday morning for Fort Worth and a giant pep rally is being planned by the Tech student body.

Players making the trip will include forwards Jay Kerr, Wayne Bowles, Gene Gibson and "Whistle" Banks; centers Don Grove and C. W. Dukes; guards Ardis Barton, Wimpy Hill, Jiggs Jackson, McAlister and Winston Churchill.

The winner of the Texas division meet will get a spot in the national NAIB cage tourney at Kansas City March 8-13.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

When Robert Lawrence Layne —better known to Southwest sports fans as "Blond Bobby" — signed with the Chicago Bears of the National Professional Football league this weekend, in preference to a richer contract offered by the Baltimore Colts of the rival All-American conference, the real weakness of the new circuit became apparent. For until now, larger bonus payments and higher salaries have provided most of the ammunition for the All-American in its battle to gain equality with the older loop. If All-America cash fails to attract the top stars the conference, lacking the stability of the NFL, can hardly hope to succeed.

LAYNE

Since such college performers as Skippy Minisi, Johnny Lujack and Layne have joined clubs in the older league, it is apparent that several important factors now influence the pro choices of grid stars. Primarily, the NFL has increased its salary scales to the point where it can successfully bid against the All-America, at least to the point where the gridders feel the few extra dollars are not worth the insecurity of the new loop. Layne admitted as much when he said. "Money isn't everything," and "with the Bears you can always be sure of playing with a good team." Obviously, Bobby has some misgivings as to whether the All-America is here to stay.

Probably the most important effect of this new trend is that the NFL has grabbed off the stars the All-America needed to strengthen second division elevens and thus provide better games for the ticket-buyers. The All-America chiefs manipulated the draft this year to throw most of the best talent to the lower clubs, but the National Football league has squashed this maneuver by signing these same stars. Another runaway race in the All-America in '48 could spell disaster at the gate.

Some confusion has resulted from the advance notices on two major track meets to be held in Lubbock in April, so here's a needed explanation. On April 17 the first annual "South Plains Relays" for all schools in West Texas and eastern New Mexico will be conducted at Tech stadium. The meet will be a non-conference affair, like the Southwestern Exposition meet held every year at Fort Worth or the Texas Relays at Austin. One week later, on April 24, the Texas Interscholastic league Region 1 meet, for all Class AA, A and B schools in districts assigned to this region, will be unreeled at the Tech stadium. The winners of the regional event will, of course, be qualified for the state meet at Austin in May.

Virgil Johnson, the point-making specialist of the Lubbock Westerner basketball quint this year, was the only unanimous choice of coaches and sportswriters for the All-District 1-AA team announced by the Amarillo News-Globe recently. Other first team selections included Darrell Davis of Pampa, Bill Howton of Plainview and Jimmy Sharp and Bill Bybee of Amarillo. Lubbock's Jack Alderson and Charles Galey received honorable mention.

Congratulations go to Coach Marvin Wheeler and the Levelland Juniors for their victory in the Lubbock Junior Invitational cage tourney last weekend. The scrappy Juniors looked very promising in their games and South Plains fans will see them as members of the Lobo quint before too many years. Lubbock fans have every reason to be proud of the undaunted little Calfropers for their amazing performance in taking second place. The Calfropers were given no chance to go as far as they did, but some fighting youngsters — Tatum, Hawkins, Newell, Brewer and Lowrey—refused to give up.

Water Hazard With Waves Unfair, Says California Duffer

MONTEREY, Cal., March 1 (U.P.)—Golfer James C. Anderson—a die-hard duffer of the old school—paid off a golf bet under protest today. He claims that a water hazard with waves is unfair.

Anderson, a San Francisco newspaperman, scattered one buck bets all over his office that he could break 100 in his first tour around the notoriously tough Pebble Beach course here.

He was doing all right, too until he reached the 18th green Saturday afternoon. There his 97th stroke found him lying in a sand trap. His explosion shot misfired, and on stroke No. 98 he overshot the green and landed in the Pacific ocean—15 feet from the hole and 10 feet under water.

Refusing to concede the bet with one perfectly good stroke left, Anderson consulted a tide table.

At 1:15 p. m. yesterday he went back at low tide, doffed his shoes and sox and found his ball on the rocky bottom under two inches of water.

Just as he was about to swing, a pounding wave rushed in and receded—taking the ball with it.

Anderson paid his bets in an ill humor.

Favorites Win In TAAF Games

ABERNATHY, March 1 (Special)—Favorites in the TAAF cage tourney being played here moved into the semifinals tonight.

Spade edged out a scrapping Hoyt five in the first tilt of the evening, 31-28. Spade hald a 20-11 lead at the half, Vance Osborn led the Spade quint with 12 points. Paul Haskins, garnering nine tallies, was high-point man for the losers.

A two-man scoring team composed of Forwards Eugene Shuey and Billy Preston of Abernathy High school lead the Plains Gassers' 60-35 rout of the Derrick Gulf service of Idalou. Shuey racked up 16 points, while Preston got 15. Bob Galey, with 12 points, was high-point man for Derrick. Score at half-time was Plains 32, Derrick 11.

Thomas Tinkers scored a 47-29 win over Anton American Legion in the third and final game for the night, with Toughy Nabors getting eight points to lead the Tinkers, and Ed Billings garnering nine tallies for the losers. Half-time score was Thomas Tinkers 20, Anton 13.

Primm, defending champions, meet Spade in the first semifinal tilt at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night with Thomas Tinkers facing the Plains Gassers in the nightcap.

Wednesday night will witness the third and fourth-place teams in a consolation battle at 7:30 o'clock, followed by the championship tilt at 9 o'clock.

The Primm quint, which has lost only two games in its last 60 contests, is rated among the favorites. Thomas Tinkers, the outfit that scored one of the wins against the Primm five, is given a good chance to come through unscathed.

TRYING ONE FOR SIZE—President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians beams happily as he helps Hank Greenberg into a Cleveland uniform, after a conference in Phoenix, Ariz., with the former Detroit Tigers and Pittsburgh Pirates slugger. Although Greenberg did not sign a contract, Veeck said the baseball star will be with the Indians "in some capacity." (NEA Telephoto.)

CENTURY, DISCUS MARKS FALL

Lubbock Tracksters Brave Cold In Intra-Squad Meet

Two new records were chalked up in the first section of the annual Lubbock High intra-squad track meet Monday afternoon at Chapman field, despite a stiff, cold wind that hampered performers, and the Gold squad took an early 33-19 point margin over the Black group.

Slender Charley Williams knocked .4 of a second off the 100-yard dash mark by taking the final century heat in 10.3, after Earl Hutcherson, the previous titleholder, had dropped the time to 10.6 in a preliminary. Don Decker, junior letterman, finished in second place a step behind the flying Williams, with Hutcherson third and Wayne Stroud fourth.

Discus Mark Broken

Rangy Jim Wilson, a promising sopohomore, was credited with a new meet record when he tossed the discus 121 feet, nine inches. Ray Henslee gained the second position, with Norman Deand third and Dick Schmidt fourth.

Bob Schmidt, veteran high hurdle specialist, may have established a new mark in winning that event, but an error in timing nullified the effort. Schmidt finished five steps ahead of the second timber-topper, Jim Wilson, while Dick Schmidt took tihrd.

Clayton Ross turned in a creditable 5:16.9 performance in the mile to take top honors, but he was pressed hard by Porter Foster in second place and Richard Johnson, transfer distance star, finished in third spot. Bob Johnson was fourth.

Dead Heat In Relay

The 440 relay teams provided the most exciting event of the day as the anchor men and squad captains, Donald Decker and Earl Hutcherson, crossed the finish line in a dead heat. Points in event, timed at 47.6, were split between the two squads.

The remainder of the meet is scheduled to be unreeled at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Chapman field layout, then Saturday afternoon the Westerner speedsters will be host to area teams here at the South Plains Invitational Practice meet.

Yankee Mentor Is Optimistic

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 1 (AP)—Bucky Harris said today his New York Yankees look to be the best fortified team he has ever managed.

Harris, starting his 22nd year as a big league manager, figured it this way:

Good Candidates

"I'm fortunate in having a team that is pretty well set in nearly all departments. Except for first base, we are solid in every position — despite the uncertain conditions of Charley Keller in the outfield and Spud Chandler in the pitching department.

"Even at first, we have several good candidates. In addition to George McQuinn, who did a fine job for us all last season. We have young Bobby Brown, Steve Souchock and Joe Collins. Each one of them can hit.

"It's a far cry from this time a year ago when I was worrying about Joe DiMaggio's heel and Tommy Henrich's shoulder. Also where would I get four regular starting pitchers? Now, thanks to the recent acquisition of Lefty Ed Lopat from the Chicago White Sox, I believe our pitching staff is second to none in the American league. Joe DiMaggio tells me he has nexer felt better and Tommy Henrich also is in fine shape."

Harris' biggest headache is pairing his hurling staff from 16 to 10.

Fourteen Teams Begin 147-Hour Grind In New York Bike Race

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP)—The bikes are racing again in New York. And with the six-day grind has come all the hoopla of a circus, down to the smell of sawdust.

Fourteen two-man teams started chasing each other around an eighth of a mile wooden saucer at 9 o'clock last night. They'll be at it for 147 hours.

An opening night crowd of about 9,000 apparently had a good time. They cheered and stamped their feet, although many were newcomers to the spectacle.

This is the first six day bike race in New York since 1939.

Baylor, Southwest conference champion, was beaten by Arizona, Border conference titlist, 64-56 in its first game of the season.

Lambert said playoff plans were made by the six district committee, of which other members are Jack Gray, University of Texas, and Morley Jennings, Texas Tech, and A. C. "Dutch" Lonberg, Chicago, NCAA chairman.

Major Loop Players Take First Workouts

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP)—Major league baseball clubs knuckled down to the serious business of getting into shape for the 1948 season today by beginning their spring training programs.

Banned by a major league rule from starting spring training before March 1, the players will be forced to round into playing form quicker than usual.

Beginning Saturday when the Chicago Cubs and the Chicago White Sox meet at Los Angeles and the Cleveland Indians and New York Giants battle at Tucson, Ariz., the clubs will play a total of 378 "grapefruit league" games.

Loboes' Spring Drills Carded

LAMESA, March 1 (Special)—The Lamesa Loboes will open spring training for the 1948 West Texas-New Mexico league season here on March 29, Club Owner Dan Y. Davis announced today.

George Sturdivant, who led the Loboes into the play-off for the first time in the club's history last season, will again be manager-first baseman of the independently-operated Lamesa nine.

Exhibitions Slated

The Loboes will play at least eight exhibition games before raising the curtain on league play here April 21 with the Albuquerque Dukes. Four exhibition contests have been carded with Big Spring of the Longhorn league on a home-and home basis.

Other pre-season opponents will be Borger, Pampa, Odessa and perhaps Sweetwater. Playing dates have not yet been definitely set.

Signed contracts have been received from Third Baseman I. B. Palmer, Center-Fielder Jack Wilcox, regulars last season. Tony Fiarito, hard-hitting second sacker on last year's club, has agreed to terms in a telephone conversation from his home in Chicago.

Also on the dotted line is big Jim Prince who was the nation's leading hitter in 1947 when he batted .429 while playing first base for Midland of the Longhorn league.

Two Pitchers Drafted

Prince, who was drafted by Lamesa, is 29 years old and a left-hand hitter. He will probably play in the outfield with Sturdivant a fixture on first base.

Lamesa also has drafted two pitchers from the Longhorn circuit. They are Chet Zara, a promising young left-hander, and Right-Hander Paul Cook.

Several limited service players must be disposed of to make room for the four rookies the Loboes must carry. Davis said that a dozen or more promising rookie prospects are expected for try-outs despite the fact that the Loboes have no working agreement.

Lobo field is being readied for the coming season. Davis said there had been an unprecedented demand for box seats and that they had all been sold in a short time.

Lawson Little Wins St. Petersburg Open

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 1 (U.P.)—A putter that didn't sputter made Lawson Little $2,500 richer today.

The hulking veteran of tournament play just couldn't miss on the greens yesterday as he strode the final round in 67, which gave him first place in the St. Petersburg Open Golf tournament with a 272 for the 72 holes.

Locke Is Second

Little had to sweat out a stirring stretch drive by South Africa's colorful Bobby Locke, who clipped eight strokes off par on the final 18. But not even Locke's sterling 64 was good enough to beat Little's unfailing putts.

Locke had seven birdies and an eagle yesterday yet wound up three strokes behind Little with a 275.

Ben Hogan, who held the lead until Little overtook him Saturday, finished in a tie for third with George Schoux of Mamaroneck, N. Y., with 277. Next in line were Australia's Norman Von Nida with 278, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Little Rock, Ark., with 279, Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, 280, and Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., with 281.

Softball Loop Play To Begin April 17

Play in the Texas Softball league will get underway Saturday night, April 17, with a twin-bill scheduled here on that date at Jumbo Webster field.

A schedule of games for league members will not be made until it is determined whether a tenth team will enter the loop. At the present time, two teams each from Lubbock and San Angelo, and one team each from Odessa, Big Spring, Monahans, Stamford and Crane are entered. A team from Midland may enter the loop between now and the deadline, March 11.

League officials and team managers met Sunday in Big Spring to work out a playing schedule, but this matter was postponed until after the deadline for entry of a tenth team. In the event nine teams are in the league, each team will play 32 games. They will play 36 games in a 10-team league.

This will be the first season for the newly-organized Texas Softball league, headed by Hugh Welch, president. It will augment the South Plains Softball league, which will schedue its games on Monday through Friday nights.

Baldridge Bakery, South Plains league defending champions, are entered this year in the Texas loop. The other local entry is the Bluebonnet - Sunbeam laundries. Nathan's Jewelers and Ragsdale's Sports shop will represent San Angelo, Gabriel's Sport shop will represent Odessa, Cosden Oilers will represent Big Spring.

Appropriate ceremonies are being planned for the opening night games here. The schedule will be so arranged that local fans will be able to witness a home game each Saturday night. League play will be climaxed with a Shaughnessy playoff.

Umpires for league contests will be appointed by the respective members. Local league officials said they are currently searching for a pair of good softball arbiters.

Scientist Called Red Associate

this was the organization. It added that the council was affiliated with the National Council of American Soviet Friendship "which was recently cited as a subversive organization" by Attorney General Clark.

The committee report included a letter written last May 13 by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to Condon's boss, Secretary of Commerce Harriman.

The letter said that Condon had been in contact "with an individual alleged, by a self-confessed Soviet espionage agent, to have engaged in espionage activities with the Russians."

An inquiry today at Hoover's office brought only the reply that "Mr. Hoover does not care to discuss the matter in any way."

Condon told a reporter that he had made two efforts to give the House committee whatever information it wanted about him.

He recalled that Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) "took a couple of cracks at me" in magazine articles last summer.

Recommendation Made

"When those appeared, I wrote to him and volunteered to give him any information he might want in the investigation," Condon said.

"He never answered that letter and I supposed that he thought the investigation wasn't worth carrying out."

The committee recommended that Dr. Condon either be "removed or a statement should be forthcoming from the Secretary of Commerce, setting forth the reasons why he has retained Dr Condon in view of the derogatory information which he has had before him."

The Bureau of Standards is under the Commerce department. The subcommittee said Condon was appointed head of the bureau on November 5, 1945, and was recommended by Henry Wallace, then Secretary of Commerce.

Matter Said Urgent

The subcommittee which made the report is composed of Rep. Thomas (R-NJ), chairman of the full committee, and Representatives Wood (D-Ga), and Vail (R-Ill). Its report was made public by Robert E. Stripling, chief committee investigator, on behalf of Thomas, who is ill at Walter Reed hospital.

Stripling said that while the report will be laid before the full committee at the earliest possible time, it was made part of the committee's records and released to the public today "because of the urgency of the matter involved."

The committee listed Dr. Condon as a native of Alamogordo, N. M., who will be 46 years old tomorrow. He married Emilie Honzek, an American-born woman of Czechoslovakian descent, on November 9, 1922.

In 1940, the committee said, Condon was a member of the National Defense Research committee and in 1941 was a member of the Roosevelt committee on Uranium Research. During the 79th Congress he was scientific adviser to the special congressional committee on atomic energy. In July, 1946, he was a member of the President's Evaluation committee formed for the purpose of observing the Bikini atom bomb tests. Dr. Condon also has served as an adviser to the National Advisory committee for Aeronautics.

Aid Plea Cheered

Foreign Affairs group said the foreign aid picture is "confused beyond measure" by the administration's various proposals.

In the meantime, Eaton told reporters "we have no permanent foreign policy based on obligations to ourselves and to mankind."

The other House developments:

1—A Foreign Affairs committee, in a long report on the "strategy and tactics of world Communism," declared that Soviet policy "begins with the assumption of inevitable war."

2—Reps. Nixon (R-Calif) and Kersten (R-Wis) said after a series of talks with Soviet bloc diplomats here that the Marshall plan should be backed up by "military alliances" between the U. S. and the democracies of Europe.

(In Key West, Fla., President Truman said he couldn't answer at this time a reporter's question: Has the time come for the western powers to form a military alliance against the spread of Communism?)

Solon Makes Major Speech

Vandenberg stepped down temporarily from his post as presiding officer of the Senate to appeal for adoption of the European recovery bill, drafted in large part by himself, by March 15.

In one of the major speeches of his long legislative career, the broad-shouldered Michigander said Congress' decision "can be a turning point in history for 100 years to come."

He said the issue is this:

"That aggressive Communism threatens all freedom and all security, whether in the old world or the new, when it puts free peoples anywhere in chains."

Moscow's campaign against the Marshall plan, Vandenberg said, is "treacherous propaganda" and "it is indeed 'cold war'."

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and several other Republicans were ready, however, to press for a smaller total. An economy bloc headed by Senator Ball (R-Minn) will meet tomorrow night to map strategy for changing the aid bill.

About 50 of the 96 senators heard Vandenberg speak. One of the few who did not join in the applause was Senator Taylor of Idaho, who is running for vice president on the third party ticket for Henry A. Wallace.

Library Facilities

who stamps books and pushes them across the counter, because any competent clerk could do that, but one who plans, selects, studies the community and adapts the library to the needs of the community.

Attending a dinner earlier at Hilton hotel with the board of directors of the library association, he had suggested $4,000 as amount needed to attract a librarian of the training, experience and personality needed for the position. He advanced the idea that challenge of work in a community developing a new library would add to attraction of the position.

Plan Is Suggested

In his speech, he referred to Lubbock as "an alert, modern community with a chance to develop a public library which will be a model not only in Texas, but for the country." There will be no traditions to break down, no changes to be made—nothing to stand in the way, he said.

Elaborating on his suggestion for immediate employment of a librarian, he said that with the investment in the building plus $60,000 to $80,000 a year to maintain the library, it behooves the city to have a well planned, well thought out, well prepared for library.

Before actual construction of the the library, the librarian could occupy himself with meeting business persons, meeting with groups, determining needs and working with the architect. Answering questions following his speech he suggested a year as period needed for the survey by the librarian and explained manner in which the architect and librarian might work together. The architect would contribute the technical portion of the building. The librarian would contribute specific needs to fit usage. For example, he said, one librarian knew from work with the community the kind of children's room needed, the size of the reference room, that booths for listening to recordings were needed.

Benefits Are Named

Listing benefits to the community of a modern public library, he said such a library provides book service and non-book service, the non-book service including records, story hours, readings and motion pictures, proves extra-curricular information for young folk not only for entertainment and recreation but for informational needs, and that such a library is a "silent but very active partner" and "to every business in the community" and "to every rancher and every farmer in your area" and assists clubs and other organizations. He said that more and more industries are taking into account the recreational and library facilities in choosing a location.

In a business session preceding the talk by the state librarian, the association re-elected three directors and elected one other director, Floyd Honey, Mrs. A. W. Young and Mrs. H. F. Godeke were re-elected and Joe Bryant was elected. A vacancy had been left when Rev. John A. Winslow moved from Lubbock.

Mrs. Godeke, president of the association, presided. Floyd Honey, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Federal Bill Approved

The group voted to go on record as approving a federal bill which has been passed by the Senate which would provide $25,000 to each state for demonstration library facilities and in addition would provide amounts matching money set aside by states for the purpose up to $50,000. If the state provided the maximum, the total for the federal government and state funds would amount to $125,000 which, according to estimates, would finance five demonstration units of a bookmobile or mobile unit and personnel.

A film, "It's All Yours," depicting benefits of library service, was shown after the state librarian's speech at the adjourned meeting, attended by about 20 persons.

Directors of the organization, in addition to the four voted upon Monday night, are James G. Allen, Mrs. A. F. Rasor, Mrs. John Redwine of Shallowater, Mrs. Isabel Garrison and Marion T. Key.

Truman Stirs Row

from the state ballot next November.

Every state has the right to make its own election rules, the President said, so long as everybody has a chance to vote.

But Rep. Williams, for one, was not pacified. He suggested in the House that Mr. Truman rule himself out as a candidate "with the hope that our party may still be salvaged from the ruins which he has left."

Senator Hill (D-Ala) voiced support of the President, however, while opposing the civil rights program. "I shall continue to fight such federal measures," he said in announcing that he wants to be a delegate-at-large to the Democratic national convention.

In the Republican camp, Vandenberg asked that his name be withdrawn from the April 13 presidential primary in Nebraska.

MacArthur's name cropped up again when the House Foreign Affairs committee invited the general to come here from Tokyo—or write a letter, if he preferred—and give his views on such matters as aid to China.

Committee Democrats recently fought a Republican move to bring MacArthur home.

MISSISSIPPI DEMOS IN THREAT TO BOLT PARTY

(By The Associated Press)

Mississippi Democrats threatened outright secession from the Democratic National convention yesterday unless national leaders back down on President Truman's civil rights program.

Top developments in the Dixie rebellion against the President's program of anti-poll tax and other civil rights legislation were:

1—Mississippi's delegates to the National Democratic convention were asked by the party's state executive committee to walk out unless the party reverses itself on the civil rights issue.

2—The South Carolina Democratic executive committee opposed the nomination or election of Mr. Truman, and charged the national party with "contemptuous political betrayal" of the south.

3—Memphis Democratic Chieftain E. H. "Boss" Crump said: "I will vote for a Democrat next November but it will not be Truman." Crump added: "In his scheming, cold-blooded effort to outdo Henry Wallace and Governor Dewey of New York for the negro vote, he (Truman) has endeavored to reduce the South to a country of crawling cowards."

4—Arkansas Governor Ben T. Laney formally proposed that the South repudiate the Democratic party's national leadership. His letter was addressed to the southern governors conference which will meet in Washington March 13.

Land with condoning terrorism for political purposes.

In its statement, the government virtually severed its relations with the Jewish agency.

The government warned that it was becoming "clearly more difficult for British troops to look upon members of the Jewish community as persons who are entitled, as they are, to protection."

In the strongest words it yet addressed to the Jews, the government said that continuance of "indiscriminate murder and condoned terrorism can only lead to forfeiture of all right in the eyes of the world to be numbered among civilized people."

The statement raised political tension to a boiling point in an otherwise comparatively quiet day in Palestine.

A police report said the car of Lt. Gen. Gordon McMillan, general officer commanding British troops in Palestine, was blasted by a road mine, but there were no casualties.

Sporadic incidents throughout the country today brought the death toll to 1,513 since partition was approved.

Jewish reaction to the government announcement, although unofficial, was immediate and unanimous. Jewish observers termed it "unfair and even insulting." A concensus of Arab opinion to the criticism of the Jewish agency was "It's about time."

that 1953 is the time when it may be assumed others will have atomic bombs. The President's commission, making military recommendations similar to those of the congressional board, based its plans on that assumption in a report Jan. 13.

Engel told a reporter he had not had a chance to study the congressional board's report, but said:

"Any such program will cost considerable money. We can't keep up to war strength continuously.

"There is the question of how far we can go in money and how far the American people want to go.

"The committee is always reluctant to overrule the President's budget on national defense since as commander-in-chief of the Army and Navy he should know what the needs are.

"We'll want to go into this report thoroughly and check into the information on which it was based."

Senator Byrd (D-Va) said that while he favors building up the air force, the cost mentioned in the report seems large.

"However, I would rather put some of that money into airpower instead of foreign economic recovery programs," he said.

Senator Ball (R-Minn) said he wonders where this country is going to get the money for such a large undertaking.

The board, with Senator Brewster (R-Me) as chairman and Rep. Hinshaw (R-Calif) as vice chairman, was unanimous in its findings.

3. Approving the stand taken by the Texas State Teachers association on submerged lands and favoring retention of control by the state.

Increase of the dues of classroom teachers from $1.50 to $3 was also voted by the council.

The council announced that any money contributions for the NEA fund for the relief of teachers overseas should be paid to school principals by March 31.

The river crest at that point was eight feet above "bank full" and the weather bureau expected the river to go 10 to 11 feet above bank full Tuesday. The bureau said the rise was putting a "very great strain" on the levees.

Hail Reported

Rains Monday brought new flood threats. The river was 34.8 feet at Dallas.

The first day of March in Texas was cloudy and warm. Thunderstorms were general in Central Texas.

The temperature at Laredo was 90 degrees. Other temperatures were in the lower 70's or middle 80's.

Thundershowers occurred over most of Texas west of Big Spring except on the coast.

Lightning struck a radio tower at Dallas, putting a radio station out of operation. Randall Tinkle, 29, suffered shock when lightning struck a hangar at Navarro Junior college at Corsicana. His condition was not considered critical although he was hospitalized.

Some hail was reported in North Tevas. Gainesville reported large hailstones Sunday night but no damage.

Strong winds bringing dust storms were reported by the weather bureau at Wink, Big Spring, Abilene and Lubbock. Other points also had high winds with El Paso reporting a blow of 42 miles per hour, reaching 51 miles per hour in gusts.

Purge Underway

Later it was announced that parliament would meet March 10 to hear a statement by Communist Premier Klement Gottwald. Parliament now is being purged of unwanted deputies by parliamentary and party action committees.

Gottwald was not present at today's news conference nor was Interior Minister Vaclav Nosek.

The elections question came up early. It was stated that the voting might be held before parliament is due to adjourn June 7, but that the current crisis and the amount of legislation that must be passed to speed nationalization and agricultural changes might cause further delay.

Curbs Claimed Considered

A statement by Evjen Erban, minister of social welfare, gave evidence that the government heads are beginning to consider steps to curb the activities of the action committees.

These committees, set loose by Gottwald, launched wholesale purgings and firings throughout Czechoslovakia. In attempting to explain the legal basis for the committees Erban said:

"The central action committee is now going to lay down rules for the activities of all the action committees."

He declared the committees were authorized by "the will of the people."

Warning Issued On Reds' Goal

WASHINGTON, March 1. (U.P.)—Communists expect "one more catastrophic war" and their goal still remains violent world revolution, a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee said today.

The subcommittee said the United States must take the lead in fencing off Russia from the non-Communist world. It warned that Americans are playing with "loaded dice" by associating with subversively by Communists.

Some Of Conclusions

The subcommittee issued a long report, "The Strategy and Tactics of World Communism." It drew these "simple conclusions of Soviet policy:"

"(1) The Communists have one goal—world revolution. (2) They assume that the revolution will be violent. (3) They are incapable of accepting the idea that peace can endure from now on, and they expect one more catastrophic war."

The report said that Communists have infiltrated labors groups, organizations boosting civil rights and clean-politics movements and "liberal groups of all kinds."

The subcommittee's report was issued on the 100th anniversary of "the Communist manifesto." Chairman of the group is Rep. Frances P. Bolton, R., O.

The report said that the antidote for world communism is a gigantic effort to establish an economically-strong non-Communist bloc headed by the United States. It would include western Europe, China, the Near East and the western hemisphere.

El Paso Can Lay Claim To Having Share Of Static Electricity; Entire Area Charged

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

Whatever else El Paso has, it can claim more than its share of static electricity.

The whole, high, dry area is charged with it and anyone going there quickly attains a personal if not a scientific interest in the subject.

Thirty minutes after we registered at an El Paso hotel, we were on the telephone, complaining to the management that the building was short-circuited and that electricity was flying out of the radiators, light switches and elevator buttons.

Charges Built Up

The management just laughed. It was an old complaint.

"It isn't the hotel," the man said, "It's you. You've been scuffing your feet on the rugs and building up static electricity inside you. The spark is jumping from you to the elevator button, not from the button to you. Just pick up your feet."

In Dallas, a couple of electrical engineers told us that El Paso and, indeed, all of West Texas is supercharged with static electricity.

Friction causes it—the friction, for instance, of dry air against an automobile.

"The friction of a sandstorm on a West Texas fence frequently builds up a high charge," L. H. Cardwell, one of the engineers said. "Many a lonesome cowboy riding along a fence after a sandstorm has gotten a bad jolt."

Cardwell explained that automobiles in dry areas build up charges because the insulation of the rubber tires prevents the charge from running off to the pavement. So when you walk up and grasp the door handle, the shock you get is just the static electricity finding its way to the ground, through you.

Voltage Not Deadly

"When a spark jumps at you," Cardwell said, "you are getting a lot of voltage. A half-inch spark means 15,000 to 20,000 volts."

Such voltage is uncomfortable, not deadly. Only an electrical current is deadly, and there is no such current in static electricity.

But static electricity can be terribly dangerous in another way, 57-year-old, brown-eyed Paul S. Bentley, the other electrical engineer stated.

"It can set off explosions," he stated. "Refineries guard against static electricity exploding vapors. Flour mills take precautions against dust explosions. Machinery in such industries is grounded with great care to prevent the building up of charges. Those chains you see dangling from gasoline trucks carry potentially-dangerous charges to the pavement."

The moist-aired Gulf coast is singularly free of static electricity Bentley stated. He added:

"During my lifetime, I've run into several people who were always full of electricity. I don't know why and neither did they. Every time you'd shake hands with them, you'd get a shock."

Oklahoman Believes He is Near End Of Search For Gold

LAWTON, Okla., March 1 (U.P.)—Joe H. Hunter sat at home today and bemoaned the fact that a heavy rainstorm was preventing him from continuing a search for buried treasure that may bring him fabulous wealth any day.

Hunter and his two partners, Herbert and Archie Pennick, have uncovered a number of clues, including a long hidden brass bucket which indicated that their search is nearly over.

Believe Wealth Located

The trio believes it has located a hiding place for long-missing wealth of the Jesse James gang. The men are digging in an isolated canyon of the Wichita mountains 15 miles northwest of Lawton.

The search had been going on in secret for several years until publicized yesterday by the Lawton Constitution in an exclusive story.

or ____ mfwyp SHRDL cmfwy

Hunter said he started seeking the treasure in 1932, after an old man who claimed that he once belonged to the James gang, gave the Lawton man a set of maps.

Hunter took the maps and started working on the accurately-drawn, cowskin charts. The going was slow, the leads more than often turned into hoaxes or bad hunches, but in the past 15 years Hunter has built up what he thinks is a "near perfect" case.

Found Small Cache

To add fuel to his argument, Hunter found a small cahe of gold bullion and jewels on a farm near Cement in 1937. He believes the Cement treasure was buried to throw gold-seekers off the course.

Actually, Hunter figures the James treasure will be part of a larger cache of gold—a fortune buried several centuries ago by Spanish missionaries.

"That gold later fell in the hands of the James gang, and I reckon it's worth about two or three million dollars," Hunter said.

One of Hunter's clues is the bucket which bears the names of the James gang and the date "March 5, 1876," on its side.

Hunter's theory is that James and his band of outlaws found the treasure and hid it away. He has heard from old settlers that Frank James once re-visited the area before the turn of the century—and Hunter thinks this confirms his beliefs.

The trio are taking steps to protect the treasure—if and when it is found.

"If we find it, we'll let the government look it over and take what ever share the law entitles us to," Hunter said.

Newspaper Executive Warns South Africa Of Communism

LONDON, March 1 (U.P.)—Roy Howard of the Scripps-Howard newspapers warned South Africa today to crack down on Communism immediately, because war might flare up at any time.

Howard said in an interview at Johannesburg published in the Sunday Express if a new war were to break out, it would be over some unexpected incident and not by design. Neither the United States nor Soviet Russia wanted war, he said.

He said he did not believe the Western Democracies would submit indefinitely to Russia's infiltration into the world's educational systems and trade unions, however, and he did not think Russia would alter its policy of non-cooperation with the West.

Warning against a feeling of security because Communism is not widespread in South Africa, Howard said: "There is no mild dose of Communism. You either have it, like hydrophobia, or you don't have it."

Flight Training Program Backed

WASHINGTON, March 1 (U.P.)—The controversial veterans flight training program may get a pat on the back from a House veterans' subcommittee, members indicated today.

Rep. Joe L. Evins, D., Tenn., said he is preparing a joint resolution that would establish as congressional policy that flight training for veterans is neither wasteful nor useless. That's what the administration says about most of it.

Webb's Contention

Budget Director James E. Webb said that "leisure time" flying by veterans is costing the government more than $200,000,000 a year. Webb said the training has little or no value to national defense and little value to the veterans either.

Chairman Homer a Mamey of the subcommittee which has been holding public hearings on the program said he may introduce a bill to restore full flight training in colleges.

The Ohio Republican said the measure, if approved, would return college pilot classes for veterans to the status they held prior to a restriction put into effect by the Veterans Administration last fall.

Protests Start

Protests went up after the Veterans administration ruled that veterans drawing subsistence and tuition payments for regular college training could not load onto the government the costs of an elective flight training course on the side. That was protested by state universities and operators of flying schools.

Evins said he felt the training program is doing "a great deal both for civilian aviation and for the national security."

His resolution, Evins said, will declare that flight training is a beneficial course, not to be labeled a "leisure time" program.

Oklahoma Negro Law School Faculty Finally Gets Job

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 1 (U.P.)—The three-man faculty of the new negro law school finally has a job to do.

The three professors, who have no students, are compiling state laws affecting institutions of higher learning in Oklahoma. The job was handed them by the Oklahoma regents for A. & M. colleges.

Dean Jerome Henry of the school said today the compilation does not directly concern negro education but applies to all higher education. The work, when finished, will be turned over to the state regents for higher education.

The new negro law school, located in the state capitol building, was established in January to provide equal law facilities for negroes. However, no negro was enrolled.

Henry said that he and the other two professors—Randall S. Cobb and Arthur Ellsworth—also are working on their lecture courses for the summer term starting June 7. He expects at least two negroes to enroll.

The deadline for enrollment in the current term has passed.

Seven Teams Of Scientists Will Observe Solar Eclipse From Points Around World

WASHINGTON, March 1 (U.P.)—Teams of scientists take off this week on a solar eclipse expedition to settle, if they can, a long-standing controversy about the earth's surface.

The issue is: Does it have big or little bumps on it (not counting mountains)?

The scientists also hope to get the most accurate data yet obtained about the planet's size and shape. Everybody knows that the earth is about 25,000 miles around and some 8,000 miles in diameter, and that it is slightly flattened at the poles.

Eclipse To Be Observed

But round numbers and approximations won't satisfy these investigators. Seven teams of them, operating under auspices of the National Geographic society, will observe the sun's eclipse by the moon on May 8-9.

They will set up seven stations in Burma, Siam, China, Korea, Japan and the Aleutians. Once on station, they will spend the time until eclipse day testing instruments and getting set.

By recording the precise time when the moon touches the sun's edge at different places along a 5,320-mile arc, they will be able to compute evact distance between the stations. And from that data they can figure out the earth's size, shape, and sea-level contour.

What they learn should settle arguments between the little-bump and big-bump schools of geodesists. It is known that the earth's sea-level surface (as mathematically computed with mountains and valleys hypothetically smoothed out) is not uniform. It has bumps.

Burma Expedition Set

One group says these bumps are no more than 15 or 20 yards high at the most. Another believes they may push up to more than 100 yards.

This second group argues that the weight of ice during glacial times distorted the planet's surface more than the other school will admit.

Inter-continental distances recorded by the eclipse expedition should, when correlated with those obtained by more conventional means, iron out the bump issue once and for all.

The Burma party, headed by E. A. Halbach of Milwaukee, will leave National airport here on Thursday. The China team headed by Dr. C. H. Smiley of Brown university, will take off on Saturday.

Other teams, including one going to Korea under Dr. George Van Biesbroeck of Yerkes observatory, will follow later.

Examinations Are Planned For Engineering Positions

Two series of examinations have been announced by the Civil Service commission, to fill posts with the Galveston Engineer district and the Corps of Engineers, Department of the Army, in the Galveston district.

One series of tests would fill posts of core drill operator helper, core drill operator junior, and core drill operator, at salaries ranging from 88 cents to $1.33 an hour.

The other is to fill posts of civil engineer, electrical engineer, and mechanical engineer, at $2,644.80 a year.

Application forms are available at the postoffice here, from the secretary of the board of examiners in the Santa Fe building at Galveston, or from the civil service regional office at Dallas.

New State Highway Officers Take Up Duties Over Area

Capt. E. L. Posey, commanding officer of the Lubbock district of the Texas Highway patrol, said seven additional patrolmen were reporting Monday for duties in his district. They were graduated from recruit training school recently at Camp Mabray, near Austin.

Their addition makes a total district personnel of 17, exclusive of the captain and a non-commissioned officer, Sgt. E. L. Stroud.

Two men will be stationed at Plainview, seven in Lubbock, two at Brownfield, two at Lamesa, two at Big Spring, and two at Seminole, Capt. Posey said.

Addition of the new men should "assist us greatly," Capt. Posey said, "but, to cut down deaths, injuries and property damage on our highways, the public must learn to keep cars under control at all times. Most of our collisions reflect a lack of control of at least one vehicle figuring in each collision."

Huge Outlay Is Claimed Needed

By MAX B. SKELTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

HUNTSVILLE, March 1 — The Texas Prison board today received and adopted a long range program which they believe will enable them to carry out the provisions of state statutes called for—"modern prison system" that is "self-sustaining."

In a confident, business-like manner, General Manager O. B. Ellis read the board an 18-page report that contained such recommendations as expenditure of $4,201,075 on construction and purchase of equipment for expansion of the system's agricultural and industrial facilities.

With the plans for expansion was plea that the state legislature approve the sale of prison-produced goods to other state institutions at a profit.

Program Claimed Essential

The well-rounded report also emphasized the need for new but firm disciplinary measures, an improved rehabilitation program, and the securing of efficient personnel.

Such a program, Ellis said, is "absolutely essential for efficient operation and management of any business and the Texas Prison system is a big business, a losing business that has cost the State of Texas a lot of money."

The general manager frankly admitted the program would involve much time and money but predicted its fullfillment, combined with prison labor, prison products and equipment available for use in its enactment, would realize assets valued at $8,000,000.

Support Is Pledged

After a minimum of discussion, the board adopted the report unanimously as its program for 1948.

Said K. E. Wheat, Woodville: "It is the answer to our prayers and just what the doctor ordered."

Ellis received pledges of support for:

Construction of industrial units at Huntsville and the central No. 2 farm, near Sugarland, at a combined cost of construction and equipment of $412,898.

New Construction Asked

Establishment of a diversified agricultural and livestock program that would include close co-operation with Texas A. & M. college in carrying out experiments and demonstration projects.

Construction of individual cell blocks and solitary confinement cells blocks (at a cost of $1,102,850 to facilitate segregation of incorrigibles, troublemakers, and mentally insane, and the separation of first termers from repeaters. Attached to this proposal was a plea that the legislature be asked to permit transfer of insane prisoners to hospitals for insane.

Texas Demos Plan Nationwide Program To 'Educate' Nation

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, March 1—A nationwide program designed to educate the nation, especially the North, East and the West Coast, as to "the real intent and purpose of President Truman's alleged social program," was revealed at a meeting of Texas Democrats here today.

Neville Penrose, member of the state Democratic executive committee from Fort Worth, explained "there is a prevailing impression throughout the nation that the southern states are anti-social. This is not in keeping with the facts. No thinking southerner is against any social program to help any portion of our population. We are definitely against the alleged social program of President Truman. It is anything but social.

States Rights Threatened

"It is a broad, well-designed program invading the rights of the 48 states and is not at all a problem acute to the South."

WE NEVER KNOW

Life's Uncertainty

THE UNCERTAINTY of man's life span never was more graphically illustrated than in the sudden death in Gallup, N. M., the other day of S. L. Forrest.

Without warning, death closed the career of a business genius who apparently, was in the very prime of his life. Gone, in a twinkling of an eye, almost, was a man who began his career in a small retail lumber yard and reached such eminence in his chosen field that he was called on not only to head the lumbermen of Texas, but, twice later, the National Retail Lumbermen's association.

Mr. Forrest's period of residence in Lubbock has been brief, covering only five years. But already he had attained a front rank position in business, civic and church circles here, while behind him were many fruitful years of similar service in Lamesa. His death brings a loss not only to Lubbock, but to this entire area and to appreciable circles of Texas and the nation.

Lamar Forrest saw in Lubbock a great future; recognized this area as one certain to increase in stature as an important economic, cultural and religious entity of the nation. It is most regrettable that he shall not be here to view and enjoy the expansion, growth and improvement he so confidently expected and toward which he generously long contributed.

Good Investment

MOST TEXANS will contribute their share willingly to the increased tax expense which permits the addition of 75 men to the Texas Highway Patrol, seven of whom have been assigned to Lubbock district.

Also sure of public approval are plans of Col. Homer Garrison, state director of public safety, to add about 150 more men to the Patrol as soon as they can be trained, giving it a total manpower of about 400.

The mere presence of these additional uniformed officers on the highways probably would justify the expense. But their value will be considerably more than just decorative. All patrolmen are thoroughly trained for exacting duties. Highways of Texas almost certainly will be safer because of the Patrol's increased strength.

Housing Programs

WHEN President Truman proposed a 10-year federally sponsored homebuilding program recently, critics instantly charged him with "playing politics." Republican congressmen now propose a program, calling for 1,500,000 low cost homes a year for five years, and the same cry is raised.

The not-too-prejudiced observer, and particularly those in need of decent places to live, probably will be inclined to suspect that, in both instances, the charges contain more than a grain of truth. In view of governmental bungling of housing problems, they are likely to believe that the real motive behind these election year projects is to get votes rather than to build houses.

However, no one would be happier than the skeptics if they should be proved wrong. The only way to do that is to build houses. Any politician or political party who actually does that—who provides houses instead of promises—won't have to worry about votes. He can be sure of them in plenty.

First of a series of get-acquainted meetings of the Lubbock Kiwanis club through its agriculture committee, at communities in this vicinity was held at the Canyon community east of here. Dinner was served by ladies of the community in the new Methodist church, and Prof. Harry Le Maire's saxophone quartet furnished the musical background. Dean A. H. Leidigh presided and Ray Mowery was program chairman. W. T. (Tanlac) Strange spoke at random, in a humorous vein, and principal address was by Col. Clark M. Mullican.

The T.D.L. club, new social group, was organized at the home of Mr. nd Mrs. R. L. Ellison. Mrs. Ellison was named president. Other officers were L. G. Murder At My House

By Rene Ryerson Mart

XXVI

WHEN I came to again I was in bed and Marie had had the sense to put a very attractive nightgown on me. Marie was there in the room with me as well as a man I had never seen before who seemed to be trying to locate my spine by punching through my abdomen. The overhead lights were still on and I blinked helplessly against them.

"Ah, waking up?" the stranger asked. His voice was brisk and cheerful. "You're going to be all right now. I've just finished examining you and you're not hurt. The bullets missed you and that fur rug at the foot of the steps broke the impact of your fall. You have a nice goose egg over one eye but the swelling will probably go down by morning. Have your maid fix the ice pack and keep it on there. However, you've had considerable shock—I want you to stay in bed until tomorrow afternoon at least."

So he was a doctor; that explained the sickening aura of optimism. He pulled the sheet back over me, put a stethescope and some other instruments into a black bag and nodded at Marie "You can tell that detective he can come in now," he said.

Bob Leiphan came in and sat down on a chair not too close to the bed. He looked at me and his eyes were as cold as they had been that first day in the patio. "What's been going on here?" he asked.

I told him, faltering a little under his aloof manner.

"And when you came to, the gun was in your hand?" His question was pointed.

"Yes—but I wasn't trying to shoot myself, as Marie thought. Somebody put the gun into my hand after I fell."

"You think somebody was hiding in your bedroom here waiting for you and then took a shot at you when you opened the door?"

"How esle could it have been? And if I'd turned the light on in the hall before I opened the bedroom door, his aim would have been better."

"It might have happened that way," he said.

THAT made me furious. "Do you think I was trying to kill myself?"

He looked straight at me. He said coldly, "There's one other possibility."

He wasn't the friendly man who had given me his handkerchief to cry in at his office that morning. This man was all policeman, remote, suspicious, as cautions as if he were walking on eggs.

"One other possibility. . ." My voice faltered.

Bob Leiphan said flatly: "I was busy while you were in that faint. I've talked over the telephone with Jeff Haverson and Liz Leyden, both have abilis and witnesses to back them up, for every minute of this evening. Do you see. . ."

He went on questioning me for an hour and I answered him through stiff, numbed lips that held back a torrent of misery. Through the French windows, as we talked, I could see other men with flashlights going over the terrace inch by inch, and finally a couple of them came inside and took fingerprints from the door knobs and furniture and things on my dressing table.

"Not that I think they'll find anything," Bob Leiphan explained briefly. "If—there was someone here he wore gloves. There were only your fingerprints on the gun."

I couldn't blame him really for what he was thinking. It was all too pat. One bullet shattering the mirror in the hall and the other bullet—I had been right in thinking there were two shots—found imbedded in the plaster just below where the mirror had hung. The gun, Leiphan said, was a Belgian-made automatic—a Walther 7.65. And, being one of those foreign guns smuggled illegally into this country by returning GI's, its ownership couldn't be traced. It might have belonged to me or to anyone. A souvenir gift from some returned soldier friend.

I COULD have fired those two shots at random and then have fallen down the steps and feigned the unconsciousness in which Marie first found me. Indeed, it was the very sort of thing a woman with an overactive imagination might have cooked up, in order to clear herself of any suspicion of the original murders. Trying to make it look as if she herself were in danger. It made me sick to think how complete it all was. And how corny. No wonder Bob was furious, thinking I had played this cheap trick to fool him.

Marie came back into the room before Leiphan finished with me. She brought an ice pack and her notice. "I'm quitting, Miss Donn. That broken mirror means bad luck. I'm not going to stay in a house where such things happen."

Leiphan turned on her. "Don't be foolish. If it's bad luck for anyone, I think it's for Miss Donn. You're safe enough."

Which goes to show how little Bob knew of the truth then.

"Besides," he snapped. "There will be a policeman on guard here from now on. There will be no more prowlers."

"Do you think that's necessary?" I said bitterly. After all, if he didn't believe my story why put anyone there to guard me?

"Yes—I think it is."

I couldn't be sure what he meant by that.

In the end Marie agreed to stay until I was out of bed.

All of which certainly didn't leave me any happy thoughts to console myself with when Leiphan finally left and my room was dark and the only sound was the occational footsteps of the officer who had been left on guard on the terrace.

But there was at least one person who believed my story about being attacked and who thought it cleared me of any suspicion of being a murderess. Jeff Haverson.

He came hurrying over the next morning.

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

MY hat is off to the Rev. Robert I. Gannon, president of Fordham university, who is opposed to the President's Committee on Higher Education, which intends to enroll 4,600,000 students in the nation's colleges by 1960.

BRANDEIS

The success of this plan, says Father Gannon, would threaten the colleges with "tides of mediocrity" and would constitute "educational inflation."

In one of the comic strips this morning, there is a girl standing up; looking quite uncomfortable, and reading a book.

"What are you doing, Penny?" asks her mother.

"I'm studying my history home work, Mother."

"You certainly don't look very comfortable," comments the mother.

"I'm definitely not," says Penny.

"Well, don't you think you'd work better f you were more at ease?" asks Mother.

"That's just it, Mother. If I'm too comfortable I might get interested in this stuff and read away half the night!"

"It has been a normal condition of American colleges for years," said Father Gannon, "that one-third of the so-called students were in the way, cluttering up the place and interfering with other people's intellectual progress."

"Stuff" the girl in the comic strip called it. "Let us clear out the useless lumber that we already have on our campuses," suggested Father Gannon.

A COLLEGE education is a splendid preparation for certain people and certain activities.

But what is the purpose of a college edueation?

Just to give a lot of kids a chance to keep out of work a few years longer?

Just to achieve a little higher social position by being able to say "I went to college"?

According to Father Gannon, a college education should produce "much-needed national leaders."

How many college graduates become national leaders?

How many college students have any desire to become national leaders or even to utilize the knowledge they have gained—or could have gained—in college?

Thousands of parents deny themselves a lot of things just to be able to send their kids to college.

But to untold numbers of those kids college is just a lark and, in their opinion, a stepping stone to quick careers and to easier ways of making a living.

Who should go to college?

Only those who, by their abilities, their character, their ambitions and their earnestness, deserve the privilege of a college education.

Unfortunately, to quote Robert Burns, "A set o' dull conceited hashers confuse their brains in college classes; they gang in stirks and come out asses."

IN NEW CONGRESS

Leftist Bloc Feared

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The prospect that a Wallace bloc of radical dissenters may hold a small balance of power in the next House of Congress now worries the leaders of both major parties. They fear that such a setup might transform the national legislature into the same sort of squabbling, paralyzing and unparliamentary body that has beset so many European governments.

TUCKER

In a tight race, it would be possible for neither Democrats nor Republicans to return a clear majority. As has happened several times in recent years, each might win about 200 of the 435 seats. Obviously, an independent faction subscribing to the pro-Moscow candidate's views on foreign policy would exert considerable influence, especially on key committees and in debate.

COMPROMISE: The G.O.P. and Democratic representation could outvote them at any time by pooling their forces. But whenever the major parties are divided on partisan lines, as they will be on questions of domestic economy and the financing of new commitments under any Marshall Plan, the Wallaceites might have the deciding vote. It would be a temptation for each major group to cater to or compromise with them.

In any event, the Wallace men would fashion a hair shirt for the man in the White House, whether he be a Democrat or Republican. They could also embarrass and endanger both national defense and foreign policies in these troubled times.

SHIFTING: Repercussions abroad from such leftist inroads within the American Congress would be even more threatening to all plans for world stability. It would discourage the nations which we seek to mobilize in a showdown with Stalin, and tend to defer the day when he might agree to cooperate with us.

It would be welcomed by Communists everywhere as a sign that the United States was shifting toward the Soviet standard.

It might be the deliberate program of the more extreme members of such a cabal to try to prevent continued good times here to provide evidence that our capitalistic society is as internally weak as Stalin says it is.

CHANCE: The victory of the Wallace candidate in New York's Twenty-fourth District has finally fixed the pattern for the strategy of the independents' attempt to roll up a sizeable Congressional bloc.

Based on that surprising result, his advisers say they have spotted approximately fifty districts in which they think they have a fighting chance. But they will count themselves fortunate if they can grab off even twenty. That number will give them a Congressional toehold.

In these contests, Mr. Wallace and his slogan-makers will cater to every discontented and dissatisfied element of the population, especially racial and religious minorities. By promising a reversal of our "get tough" policy toward Russia, they will hold out the hope of bettering the lot of the Jews, Poles, Germans and other peoples living behind the "iron curtain."

FORMULA: They will top President Truman's demands for racial equality at home, also charging that he has backed away from this issue because of Southern protests. They will argue that a Wallace bloc plus the Republicans would be able to implement the Administration's pledges on this question.

They will promise cheaper food, clothing and rents, free education through higher institutions of learning, better wages and farm prices and "peace in our time.' This was the fantastic formula which enabled Leo Isacson, the Wallace entry, to garner more votes than three rivals in the Harlem election.

MATCH: No responsible nominee on either major ticket can afford to match these glittering offers, although it is expected that developing signs of Wallace strength will drive Mr. Truman further to the left than he has moved in recent months. So, the free-thinking and free-wheeling Iowan will have the political bargain basement market all to himself.

Here are the states where third-party prophets figure that they may pick up enough seats to make them the largest guerrilla group in modern Congressional annals: New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Washington and California.

PREJUDICE: Topnotch military experts at Washington have broken sharply with President Truman on two issues which involve all long-range planning for future national defense—Palestine and China. They have submitted critical memos to the White House, but they cannot speak out because of official censorship.

They insist that his request for $570,000,000 to bolster China's economic and transportation systems is hopelessly inadequate—in fact, worse than no money at all. Not a nickel, they point out, has been allocated for military aid or supplies, although Secretary Marshall concedes that Manchuria and North China will fall to the Communist forces without this kind of assistance.

"We gave $250,000,000 in war materials and personnel to such a tiny country as Greece." according to GHQ's version, "and the Commies are stronger now than before we went in. We have got to send a lot more. But to such a vast and important country as China we don't send a cap pistol. It doesn't make sense."

President Truman, it seems, has developed as deep a prejudice toward Chiang Kai-Shek, based on the Marshall and Wedemeyer reports, as F.D.R. did toward Charles de Gaulle. The White House figures that Kai-Shek's ruling group are un-Democratic, unrepresentative and financially careless, to put it mildly.

OIL: The military's objection to any aggressive policy in Palestine is oil. They maintain that we cannot fight another war without supplies of petroleum from the Near and Middle East. They also fear that any plan to enforce partition will give Russia a foothold in these vital areas.

On both questions, the Army-Navy men believe, the White House has been outsmarted by the Kremlin which is biding time before moving into these trouble spots for keeps.

A mother is an animal who always attributes the bad deeds of her son to evil companions.

VIRGINIA ACTION BLOW AT VOTERS

Move To Bar HST On Ballot Hit

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The neatest trick of this year and perhaps of many other years is that contrived by Governor William M. Tuck of Virginia by which his his state's electoral votes could be withheld from President Truman in retaliation for the President's civil rights program.

STOKES

As is often the case with flim-flam games, this one is strictly legal, even if somewhat outdated.

Under the Virginia governor's proposal to his legislature the right to vote for President could be taken away from the people and transferred to a party convention or even a smaller party committee.

Could Control Vote

The scheme is simple. The ballot for presidential electors would not carry the name of candidates for President, as is customary, so there would be no designation of what candidate the electors represented. Instead, authority would be conferred upon a party convention or committee to make this decision. This would make it possible, in the Virginia case, for the electoral vote to be cast for someone other than President Truman, presuming he would be the party's candidate and Democrats carried the state, or the vote could be withheld from President Truman.

A bill for this purpose is expected to be passed, since the governor controls the legislature. He suggested that the scheme be copied by other southern states as a means of expressing resentment against the President.

There are several ironies in this trick. The most obvious is this: President Truman has recommended extension to the south of civil rights that are guaranteed by our constitution and generally recognized everywhere else outside the South. Among these is extension of the elemental right of suffrage by elimination of present restrictions in some southern states on voting imposed by "white primary" regulations and the poll tax.

Now to punish the President for daring to propose such fundamentals of Democracy, Governor Tuck would go clear to the other extreme and, in effect, disfranchise the whole people of a state by depriving them of the right to vote for the regularly nominated candidate of their party and transfer this right to a sort of directorate which might be a mere handful.

The people would be voting blind.

Governor Tuck is the agent, as governor, of what is known as the Byrd machine in Virginia, controlled and directed by Senator Harry F. Byrd. It is a tight machine. Both the senator and the governor recently have declared that the President's civil rights proposals could, in some mysterious and unexplained way, lead to "dictatorship," an absurd sort of charge from responsible public officials.

Own Plan Dictatorial

But could there be anything more dictatorial than this trick that would place the voting power of the people in the hands of a few persons whose decision, in the last analysis because of political circumstances in Virginia, probably would be made by one man—Senator Byrd? This is, indeed, government by the few. Napoleon Bonaparte never thought of anything slicker.

Maybe the people of Virginia and other southern states will take this. Time will tell.

It is somehow ironical that it originates in the Virginia of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Patrick Henry, George Mason, James Madison and Woodrow Wilson to mention a few exponents of Democracy, but maybe Virginia has come to represent something different in these latter days.

They have the law on their side. In the early days of our country electors were delegates who met after the election and actually chose a President and vice president. That was abandoned long ago in actual practice and electors automatically cast their ballots, in a mere formality, for the candidate who got the biggest popular vote in their states. But the ancient electoral system never has been changed. An the Constitution empowers state legislatures to say how electors shall be chosen. For many years abolition of the electoral college and substitution of direct popular election of President have been advocated and proposed constitutional amendments are regularly introduced in Congress.

This campaign now may receive new impetus.

"FOLKSAY" IN DICTIONARY

NORMAN, Okla. (U.P.)—The word "folksay" has been accepted by the dictionary after nearly 20 years of use as a colloquial expression. The term was coined by Dr. Ben A. Botkin, former University of Oklahoma professor. The dictionary defines "folksay" as informal verbal expressions such as proverbs and exclamations.

U. S. May Be Forced To Join In Military Alliance Against Reds

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The day is rapidly approaching when the United States must decide whether to use its military alliances as well as economic power in the battle for Western Europe.

Developments in Czechoslovakia and Finland have intensified European efforts to bolster the Marshall plan countries with military treaties and arms standardization.

The foreign ministers of France, England, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg are conferring on what they can do among themselves, with the expectation that Italy also will join in.

Soviets Will Respect Alliance

A military and economic union of countries which are militarily and economically bankrupt can present no great barrier to the Kremlin's expansion program. But the politburo will recognize the meaning of a firm alliance between western European and the United States, a meaning which has been demonstrated against Germany twice within 30 years.

A 10-member congressional aviation policy board has just declared that "it is folly to pretend that the world does not live under a sense of impending tragedy. Deliberately and continuously we are faced with the possibility of aggressive attack . . . The political phase of the next war has been actively engaged in since V-E day —and the industrial phase is clearly recognizable."

It is estimated that a modern steamboat will use more power in crossing the Atlantic than was used in the construction of the Great Pyramid in Egypt.

Interest In Bible Stimulated By High School Instruction

Increasing interest in the Bible as result of teaching of courses in Lubbock High school and Junior High, has been noted by Mrs. R. S. Bearden, the instructor, she told the Methodist Men's club luncheon today at Hotel Lubbock.

She said the book is taught strictly as history and literature, and that classes have included representatives of all denominations, including Catholics and Jews. No denominational doctrines are discussed, she said, and in the four years the courses have been taught, not one student in the classes has given any trouble. She said also that not one complaint has been received by Supt. R. W. Matthews from parents or otherwise.

Course Said Successful

Mrs. Bearden said that of the approximately 400 graduates from high school last spring, more than two-thirds of them had taken the Bible course, and that there are 109 in the classes this year. Adding that others have told her they wanted to take the course, but could not arrange it due to other courses, she said many of the students have told her they have learned more about the Bible from the course than in all their years in Sunday schools and other church work.

She added she meant no indictment or criticism of church efforts or teaching programs.

Citing some results of the course, Mrs. Bearden said two or three students listed as difficult cases on school records have turned out to be among the school's best students in behavior and otherwise.

Church Efforts Cited

The speaker was introduced by Dr. H. I. Robinson, First Methodist church pastor, who recounted briefly efforts of ministerial circles to start the courses in the public schools. This was done in 1940 by the ministerial alliance, and in 1942 the alliance named a committee consisting of Dr. Jack M. Lewis, Dr. H. G. Gantz, and Dr. Carl Hereford, with Rev. Alsie H. Carlton as secretary, to arrange a course. Teaching was started in 1943. A similar course is taught at junior high by Miss Virginia McLain.

Visitors at the luncheon included Rev. Bill Wallace of Tulsa, who is here to assist with the funeral this afternoon of S. Lamar Forrest, chairman of the board of stewards of First Methodist, who died Saturday.

Lamesa Lions Club Stages Minstrel Show Monday Night

LAMESA, March 1 (Special)—An old-fashioned minstrel show was presented by the Lamesa Lions club tonight in the high school auditorium to gather funds for benefit of blind, near-blind and crippled children.

Rehearsals for the event had been going on for five weeks.

Rex Van, director of the minstrel show and a featured performer in it, and Dallas Whaley of Lubbock who acted as Van's partner in the "Two Black Crows" were the only out-of-town players.

The rest of the cast of approximately 60 persons was made up of local talent. Special minstrel music was directed by Richard Crawley who also led an added attraction, the Slumtown Swingphony.

Lubbock Jaycees Win Trophy At Amarillo Regional Meet

Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce had 17 delegates present at the regional convention of Jaycees at Amarillo the past weekend and received the man-miles trophy, it was announced at the Jaycee luncheon Monday at Hilton hotel.

MARKET CONTINUES RALLY

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP)—The stock market entered March today with a general forward swing paced by selected rails and aviations.

While dealings were relatively quiet, volume of 770,000 shares equalled that of Friday which was the best since Feb. 16. Advances running to 2 or more points were shaded or erased here and there at the close but plus signs maintained a wide majority.

Air transports enjoyed a speedy last-hour flurry on recommendations of the joint congressional air policy board and modest gains were shown for American Airlines, Northwest Airlines, Transcontinental & Western Air and Eastern Air Lines.

Aviation manufacturing issues were popular throughout.

Buying still was largely professional and based on expectations of a technical correction of the sharp February relapse.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .4 of a point at 61.4, its widest jump since Monday week. Of 911 issues registering, 516 rose and 195 fell.

Gulf Mobile & Ohio touched a 1947-48 peak but finished up only ⅛ at 16.

Pessimism over the maintenance of the British tax on earnings of American films restrained amusement stocks, most of which held around record lows.

Off fractionally were Montgomery Ward, American Telephone, Du Pont, Dow Chemical, Westinghouse Electric, Air Reduction, International Paper and Mission Corp.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, March 1 (AP) — Cotton futures were strong today on aggressive short covering and replacement buying. The market was stimulated by sentiment that recent European developments assure prompt action on the Marshall foreign aid program involving substantial cotton exports.
Mills also covered contracts aggressively on the possibility that the spot cotton supply may suddenly tighten.
Washington advices stated that Secretary of Agriculture Anderson's advisory committee on cotton exports is scheduled to meet this week to discuss cotton export problems.
Cotton closed firm.

who has just returned from Jackson, Miss., where he talked to Democratic leaders about the President's civil rights program, was one of the out-of-town persons at the meeting.

Others at the meeting included a number from Houston and Dallas. Fort Worth people, including Rice Tilley, Lloyd Price, Hamilton Rogers, Gordon Wiley, made up the bulk of the 75 present.

Writer Introduced

Introduced at the meeting was Carlisle Bargeron, Washington, D. C., former political writer for the Washington Post, and the Washington Times-Herald, who now is a magazine writer and publicist.

Bargeron's discussions in Fort Worth today followed by talks with other Democratic leaders in Houston tomorrow, will aid in providing a true-fact basis for newspaper, magazine and pamphlet articles which he will write for nationwide distribution.

The articles will be concerned with a brief history of the party, especially the principles it was designed to protect at the time of organization and which are no less important today, Penrose stated.

Daniel Says Austin Men Trying To Sabotage Tidelands Fight

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—Attorney General Price Daniel of Texas today accused two Austin, Tex., men of "trying to sabotage" pending legislation to give all rights to tidelands to the states.

He identified them as Creekmore Fath, lawyer, and Ray Lowry, a news letter writer.

In his statement, Daniel said:

"I am displeased with an attempt of two individuals back home who are trying to sabotage our efforts while we are away from Texas," he said.

Daniel has been here with Gov. Jester and other Texas officials to support the tidelands legislation.

He added:

"One is an Austin lawyer recently returned from Washington jobs with the Interior department and the National Democratic committee.

"The other is an Austin news letter writer who has called the state's fight to retain tidelands 'an unpopular issue.'"

They also criticized, he said, the fact that Texas has employed Walter R. Johnson, Nebraska attorney general, as special counsel for Texas in the legislative fight.

Daniel said the Austin lawyer's statement favored federal control of tideland leases on the grounds that the U. S. Interior department receives more royalties and makes harder contracts with oil companies.

He denied this saying:

"Texas gets more than twice as much lease bonus, rentals and royalties than the Department of the Interior now receives from its present producing leases, and we lease in much smaller tracts so independents have a chance to compete with major companies."

Statement Not Refuted

Daniel said he was proud that he had been able to obtain Johnson's legal services.

He said that since Jan. 1, Johnson has been retained by the National Association of Attorneys general to lead the fight for state ownership of tidelands.

(At Austin, Fath said today he did not know Lowry. He also said he made no reference to Johnson in a letter he sent to the governor, attorney general and State Democratic Chairman Robert Calvert urging federal management of the state's tidelands in behalf of the state's permanent school fund.

(Fath said he has seen no refutation yet of his claim that the state would receive more money under the federal royalty schedule than under the state's schedule.

(Lowry was not immediately available for comment.)

Records in the comptroller's office at Austin today showed that special counsel fees in Texas' fight for tidelands legislation are costing the state $500 a month.

The books show that amount was paid in October, November and December to Walter R. Johnson, attorney general of Nebraska, from the state attorney general's law enforcement fund.

An official of the comptroller's office said there was ample precedent for payment of special counsel fees by the attorney general.

Three Persons Shot After Song Played Over And Over And-

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP) — Continual playing of the tune "Civilization" on the juke box in a Manhattan bar early today led to the shooting of three persons.

The victims, police said, were red-haired Josephine Ostoloco, 20, who had fed nickels for the same song for an hour, a seaman who objected and the bartender, Nemesio Calasen, 47.

Police said Filipe Torres, 30, the sailor, shot the woman and then the bartender when the latter tried to pick her up from the floor. Torres was wounded and seized later in a gun duel with police on a subway platform.

Bullets flew when the woman changed a $1 bill at the bar and walked toward the juke box after she had played "Civilization" over and over again.

The victims were reported in serious condition at Roosevelt hospital.

City Manager's Post Taken Over By Smith

The post of Lubbock city manager was taken by Marlin R. Smith, jr., Monday morning as scheduled and as his first task he started study of the city budget for the fiscal year beginning April 1.

The installation was entirely without ceremony. Miss Lavenia Williams, city secretary, administered the oath of office and Smith started work. The budget will require much of his attention during the next month.

Much of the detail of preparation already has been done by the retiring city manager, Homer A. Hunter, who plans to take charge of his newly opened offices as a consulting engineer at 6403 Bob-o-Link drive, Dallas, Wednesday morning. Mrs. Hunter is in Lubbock and they are to drive to Dallas together.

Smith was city engineer from 1926 to 1942 and city manager from 1942 until 1946. He has been a consulting engineer here the past 26 months.

Symbols of Heritage

TEXAS
SINCE 1836

Texas, a great state! Texan's a great people! Tuesday, March 2nd is Texas Independence day, marking 112 years of progress. Yes, 112 years of going forward, growing and getting greater! But how did they get that way. Not by waiting — not by hoping — nor wishing. No—but by sheer force of will—by the pattern set for them by a handful of men, who fought and died courageously 112 years ago, for what they believed in. Today, Texas stands as a monument, forever reminding Texans of their heritage. Lester's, too, is proud of their heritage. For over 37 years we have gone forward, have grown, until today our stores stand in many cities as a monument, forever reminding us of our heritage—a policy of greater value, of finer quality, of guaranteed satisfaction. We too . . . will carry on . . . go forward and keep faith with the example set by this great state—TEXAS.
