Hearing Set on Brucellosis Control Program

Dr. R. C. Garrett, executive director of the Texas Animal Health Commission announces the receipt of the Collingsworth county petition for Type II Brucellosis Control.

Proclamation by the Governor No. 202 has been issued and a hearing has been set for May 6, 1963, at 9:30 a.m., in the office of the Texas Animal Health Commission, State Office Building, Austin.

All those in favor of or in opposition to the designation of this county as a Type II Brucellosis Control Area are invited to attend. If no opposition is presented, Collingsworth county will be designated as a Type II Control Area effective June 15.

WHS Places 8 on All-District Cage Teams

Eight Rockets and Rockettes were named for honors by the coaches of District 2-A, who met at McLean last week to select all-district teams.

Betty Courtney and Jane Orr, forwards, and Carol Blain and Vicki Glenn, guards, were named on the girls all-district team. Linda Millsap was chosen for honorable mention.

"I feel like we were real fortunate to get four on the all-district team, and they are deserving kids," Coach James Stavenhagen said.

Craig Bergvall won a place on the boys first team; Lynn McLain was on the second team, and Raymond Sanders won honorable mention.

The selections were based on playing as coaches of opposing teams saw the teams.

On the girls all-district team in addition to the Wellington players, were Dorothy Richey and Sharon Williams of Clarendon, Raylene Waters of Canadian and Lavon Watson of McLean, forwards; and Connie Martin and Molly Floyd of

PARK RANGER HONORED

Bobby Jack Watson holds the special recognition award he received recently from the Texas State Parks Board for exceptionally good maintenance of park vehicles. Watson has to drive his pickup more than 1,100 miles a month over the worst kind of terrain in the big Palo Duro Canyon State Park. This park is the roughest of the 50 State Parks in Texas. Only one of these awards is given in Texas each year.

Beginning Thursday

WHS Students to Hear C. L. Kay in American Heritage Lectures

Students of Wellington high school and junior high will hear the American Heritage lectures in a series of four sessions, the first scheduled for Thursday, March 14. They will be delivered by C. L. Kay, vice president for public services of Lubbock Christian College, and one of the Southwest's most effective spokesmen for the American way of life.

The lecture will begin at 8:45 a.m. and last about two hours. The other three lectures will be at the same hour on March 21 and 28 and April 11.

The series is sponsored by the Wellington Business and Professional Women's Club. Mrs. Bura Handley is in charge of the arrangements.

This series is primarily for students, but any interested adult is invited to attend the lectures at the school, Mrs. Handley said. There is no charge for either students or adults, she said.

The object of this meeting, it was pointed out, is to create among the young people an awareness of the menace of communism and how closely it has approached.

During the past year, Kay has made more than 350 addresses on the theme of Americanism to civic and state organizations. He was a speaker at the state convention of the B&PW Clubs, where Wellington members heard him. He also has spoken before the Texas Press Association, New

Soil Conservation Essay Winners Named

Winners in the Save the Soil and Save Texas essay contest for Salt Fork Soil Conservation District were announced this week by Bob Crawford, work unit conservationist for Soil Conservation Service.

These are Charlotte Allen, eighth grade student in Wellington junior high, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen;

Nancy Emmert, sophomore in Quail high school and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Emmert; and Neal Lowry, senior in Samnorwood high school, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lowry.

The essay topic this year was "Conservation as a Way of Life."

Each of the three school winners received $25 cash from Salt Fork Soil Conservation District and their essays have been forwarded to Fort Worth to be judged in the state contest.

In additoin to the school winners, other winners were named in each of the classes participating within the schools. They also received cash awards.

In Wellington, the contest was carried on in junior high school. Winners in addition to

Only Two Seek School Trustee Posts Here

Only two candidates filed for the two places in the up-coming school trustee election, Supt. J. L. Harper announced after the filing deadline had passed.

Candidates are Louis Allred and John Sherman.

Velman Warrick, long-time member of the board and currently serving as president, was not a candidate for re-election.

The other post became vacant recently with the resignation of Frank Campbell.

Neither Sherman nor Allred has been a member of the board previously.

The date of the election is Saturday, April 6, and absentee voting will begin 20 days prior to the election.

Funeral Here Friday for Mrs. W. A. Box

Funeral services for Mrs. W. A. Box, a former Wellington resident, were conducted at the First Baptist Church Friday, March 8, at 3 p.m. by Dr. Glenn Hickey, pastor. Burial was in the West Wellington cemetery.

Mrs. Box died at 6:20 a.m. Thursday in Northwest Texas Hospital, Amarillo. She had lived in that city 12 years, and her home was at 3315 Fleetwood.

Pall bearers for the service were Robert Lacy, Paul Brewer, J. A. Hoover, Bill Downing, Richard Jackson, and Leslie Ledbetter. The last four are from Amarillo.

Mrs. Box was the former Wecie Odell Thomas, the daughter of Haywood and Mary Long Thomas. She was born in Ector September 29, 1884.

Red Cross Fund Drive Opens Here March 15

Collingsworth county's annual Red Cross Drive opens Friday, March 15, and will run until the goal is reached, George Shadid, chairman, announced this week.

The quota this year is $1,222.

Even in advance of the drive, response is gratifying, Shadid declared.

T. E. Lennon, Dodson chairman, already has worked that town, and other workers have done some work.

"We are optimistic over this year's prospects," the chairman declared.

In pointing out the need to support Red Cross, Mr. Shadid reminded that this organization serves as the official go-between for the man in the armed services and his family on certain occasions, as when there is need for an emergency leave due to illness or hardship or in other designated cases.

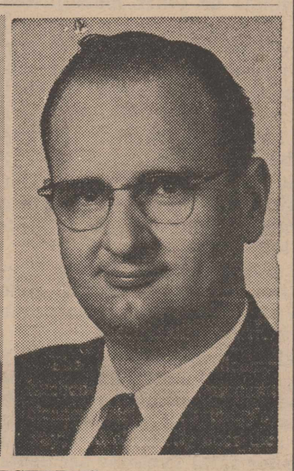

Needs of those unable to care for themselves are met by the local chapter of the Red Cross, Shadid pointed out, but should a disaster strike the county, the resources of the National Red Cross would be available.

Workers for the various communities of the county, named by Shadid, include:

Dozier, Mrs. J. D. Throckmorton; Abra, Mrs. Bill King; Lone Mound, Mrs. J. C. Breeding; Indian Creek, Mrs. Bill Janes; Shinnery, Mrs. D. C.

DIRECT HERITAGE LECTURES

Wellington high school and junior high students will hear the American Heritage lectures, beginning Thursday, March 14, under the sponsorship of the Wellington Business and Professional Women's Club. Mrs. Bura Handley is in charge of arrangements for the club and C. L. Kay of Lubbock Christian College will deliver the lectures, which stress the value of the American way of life.

Program Continues

Ranchers Add $550 to Screwworm Fund

Collingsworth ranchers and the Wellington Livestock Commission contributed $550.50 toward the screwworm eradication drive just completed, John R. Henard, chairman, said this week.

Henard was notified Monday that sufficient funds were raised statewide to continue the screwworm eradication project.

Stock men in this county had raised $1,810.00 on the drive prior to Feb. 1, when the final fund-raising push was made, making a county total of $2,360.50 given here.

The program was threatened with being shut down for lack of funds.

It is operated by the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, using sterile screwworm flies which are turned loose in an area where the worms are found. The flies come from the Foundation's laboratory, hatchery and sterilization plant at Mission.

"A number of Collingsworth county cattle owners used the foundation's laboratory to check worms found in cattle last summer, and fortunately screwworms didn't show up here," Henard said.

He urged all farmers finding worms in cattle this year to send samples to the lab at Mission to be checked.

Participation of the State of Texas, through the Texas Animal Health Commission, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture is expected to complete the eradication.

President of the Foundation, C. G. Scruggs, in making the announcement, said: "While this intensive 30-day effort probably represents the greatest single short-time achievement in the history of the livestock industry, it becomes increasingly urgent that every county complete its drive to assure that funds are adequate to carry on the program until State funds become available."

The Southwest has just completed the longest screwworm free period since the eradication project began last Febru-

10 Indictments Returned by Grand Jury

A 100th District Court grand jury, in session Tuesday, Mar. 5, returned 10 bills of indictment, according to Lorene Jenkins, county-district clerk.

This is one of the heaviest one-day sessions the court has seen in several years.

Judge Lewis Goodrich of the 31st District, Shamrock, presided in the absence of Judge Luther Gribble.

Two of the men indicted were tried on the same day.

Billy Norris, billed on two counts of forgery, pled guilty and was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

Israel Sagredo pled guilty to a charge of burglary and received a three-year sentence and was placed on probation. He was indicted for the burglary of O.K. Rubber Welders.

Dayne Klincote, indicted on two counts of burglary, came up for the trial the same day and pled not guilty, according to Mrs. Jenkins. He was remanded to custody and will be tried later before a jury.

Indictments of defrauding by worthless check over $50 were returned individually against Mr. and Mrs. Roy Welch. The Fires Take Toll in County over Week End

Fire took its toll in Collingsworth over the week end, destroying a house, approximately 100 acres of grass in two fires north of Salt Fork, and a car belonging to a family traveling on U.S. 83.

A 6-room vacant house on the J. I. Thomas farm five and a half miles south of town was completely destroyed during the early hours of Monday, March 11.

A passer-by saw the fire about 3 a.m. and notified the fire department, but the blaze was too far along for firemen to save the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas occupied the house 16 years until they moved to Wellington in May. Recently they sold it to Mr. and Mrs. Tiffin Young, who in turn sold it to a woman living in Memphis, to be moved there.

The Youngs were out of town at the time of the fire, and the new owner, whose name was not learned, was not aware of her loss until she came to the farm later Monday to see about moving it, neighbors reported.

The house was of frame construction with a stucco exterior and sheet rock interior, Mrs. Thomas said.

Lightning set fire to the pasture on the Bob Glenn ranch north of Salt Fork Friday between 2 and 3 p.m.

Mr. Glenn said approximately 50 to 60 acres was burned over. A creek contained the fire on one side, and firemen with the rural fire truck were able to put out the blaze without too much trouble. Neighbors turned out to help fight the fire.

Cattle were in the pasture, but none were close to the blaze, Mr. Glenn said.

Another grass fire occurred on the John Stages farm near Dozier, where neighbors reported approximately 50 acres was burned over.

Firemen were called to three-fourths mile south of Lucky Corner about 8:30 p.m. Sunday to put out a burning car.

"It looked like the fellow had a flat tire and was rolling on it," said Johnny Cagle of the fire department.

The back fender area and back cushion were damaged by the blaze, he added. Riding in the car were a man, woman and two children. Their names were not learned.

First All Sports Banquet to Honor Wellington Athletes

The Rocket Athletic Banquet, first all-sports banquet ever held here, is slated for Saturday night, April 6, when more than 100 boy and girl athletes of Wellington high school will be honored.

The Skyrocket Booster Club is putting on the banquet, and are shooting for an attendance of 500, President Jim Martin said.

The speaker will be one of Texas' leading sports figures, Coach Joe Kerbel of West Texas State College—coach of the 1963 Sun Bowl champions.

Another special guest, according to Wellington head coach Don Beck, will be Jerry Logan, the great offensive and defensive back of the West Texas State Buffalos. He has received many honors and will play next year for the professional Baltimore Colts.

Tickets for the banquet go on sale Friday, March 15, with Martin in charge. He is being assisted in the selling by the civic clubs of Wellington.

The banquet will be in the community building beginning at 8 p.m.

It is open to anyone wanting to attend, Coach Beck pointed out, but ticket sales close Apr. 1 and there will be no more tickets available.

This will be one of the outstanding events in the field of sports Wellington has seen. There have been football banquets in the past, but never has there been an event of any kind honoring the athletes of all sports, both boys and girls.

Players in seven categories will be included on the honor roster: the Skyrocket A and B football teams, the boys A and B basketball teams, the girls A and B basketball teams, and the track team.

Special awards will go to outstanding athletes, Coach Beck said. The recipients of these awards will not be known until the night of the banquet, but the categories in which they will be given will be announced next week.

"The banquet is informal. The boys will wear sports coats and suits. There will be no dinner jackets for the boys or formals or corsages for the girls. We just want everyone to come, relax, eat and enjoy the program," Coach Beck declared.

Firearms Restrictions

Two points concerning private ownership of firearms need to be established right now.

One, no responsible person — in or out of the firearms industry — sportsman or not — wants firearms to be freely used by criminals or other maladjusted members of our society.

Two, by the same token, no responsible person should desire or attempt to limit the free use of sporting firearms by other responsible members of that same society.

Considering these two statements, certain factors in gun ownership should be recognized.

Outlawing the sale of firearms will not prevent their use by criminals. Most firearms used in crime are stolen — a great many from military and police arsenals — or smuggled into the country.

There is only one way to restrict the use of firearms by criminals. Make the penalty for use of guns or any deadly weapons in the commission of a crime so severe that criminals will be afraid to use them.

According to an editorial appearing in the Saturday Evening Post on Feb. 13, 1960, the fatality rate for all forms of accidents was 56 per 100,000 persons in 1957. Motor vehicles caused 22.7 of these deaths, falls accounted for 12.1, fires and explosions for 3.7 and drowning for 3.1. The rate for fatal firearms accidents was only 1.4, scarcely above the 1.2 rate from suffocating or choking on food!

All deaths by accident—regardless of cause — are tragic. Many could be prevented.

Education, proper supervision and prevention safeguards are the answer to safety problems concerning household objects that hold a potential danger for any member of the family. If the family is properly educated regarding positive and negative aspects of firearms and if in the home firearms are under proper supervision, the accident ratio would drop to nil.

Sporting firearms — and there are literally tens of millions of them in the United States — hold a huge potential for recreation, pleasure, sport and applied skill. They hold a very small potential for danger relative to use, numbers and in comparison to other sports.

Hunting has always been an important factor in many good "father-son" relationships. With the recent greatly increased interest in trap and skeet — and, indeed, all participant outdoor sports — shooting is becoming an important family recreational activity.

The Coming of Spring

From the Files of The Wellington Leader . . .

Other Days and Familiar Names

10 Years Ago—1953

J. N. Glasgow was named VFW Man of the Year by the Glynn Moore Post.

Jim Leach of the Glynn Moore Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was named to the state office of Instructor for District 13—the first man from the local post to be named to a state office.

Bill Phillips, Quail high school coach, was named an award winner and member of the national Sports Trail Century Club for his record of winning 160 ball games.

Quail FHA Chorus was chosen to sing at the state FHA meeting to be held in San Antonio.

"Disease X" (hyperkeratosis) which had spread through cattle herds throughout the South Plains, has been found in local herds.

A memorial shelf in the Samnorwood school library was set up by Mrs. Marjorie Caperton Fleener of Shamrock to honor her mother, Helen Smith Caperton.

Ross Swift was named commander of the VFW Post.

Washington school was host to the district basketball tournament.

20 Years Ago—1943

More production is the aim of this year's government farm program, according to R. E. Byron, AAA secretary.

District Attorney John Deaver of Memphis resigned to enter the Marine Corps.

1st Lt. J. M. Moore was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for action with the Army Air Force.

Cpl. Madison E. Dawson of Dodson, stationed in the Southwest Pacific, was awarded the Air Medal. Details were not learned.

Forrest Baumgardner was appointed superintendent of the Texas Tech milk plant, and assistant professor in the agriculture division of the college.

S/Sgt. Henry R. Wolf of Loco was awarded an Air Medal in a ceremony at Hickam Field, Hawaii.

Collingsworth county was included in the ban prohibiting the drilling of new gas wells in the Panhandle area, set up by the Petroleum Administration in Washington.

G. A. Debord contributed his steel helmet, worn during World War I, to the scrap metal drive to help win World War II.

Dodson juniors presented "Aaron Slick from Punkin Crick.'" In the cast were Garland Hightower, Owen Carter, Darle Darnell, Loraine McWhorter, Billie Ruth Thompson and Dorma Ladjohn.

30 Years Ago—1933

Collingsworth county's four banks were among the first to open following the recent bank holiday called by President Roosevelt.

Donald Curry and Lester Benge were winners of the tennis doubles championship tournament, and Curry the winner of the singles.

A mass meeting and turkey dinner was held by the American Legion to get ex-service men of the county together to discuss old times and also the problems faced by service men.

Plans were made to use jail labor to work the roads in Precinct 1.

Social items: Billy Ben Sugg was honored on her sixth birthday by her grandmother, Mrs. B. F. Snell. Miss Katherine Lynn and Miss Owen Gilmore planned the games. . . . Misses Lois and Lucille Miller were hostesses to the No Trump Club. . . . James Sullivan was host to members of the senior class at a St. Patrick's Day party in the home of his parents. . . . Miss Mildred Hulsey honored the Sunday School Class she teaches at Methodist Church.

Firemen were kept busy: A radio broke into flames at the T. D. Sumner residence. It was carried into the yard and extinguished with chemicals. A rent house belonging to Kinney Godfrey, located on his farm 3 miles north of town, was completely destroyed by fire.

ROMAN FINGERS

Fort Worth grand jury returned a car theft indictment against a person called Julius Caesar.

HARD WAY

Chicago safecrackers like to do things the hard way. One set of them used an electric drill, a sledge hammer, screw driver and a can opener, to no avail. However, located on top of the safe was a slip of paper bearing the combination. Then, too, the owner said it wasn't locked.

NEWS LETTER from Congressman WALTER ROGERS

TAX PRESSURES

At this time every year, Uncle Sam takes his heartiest cussin' from his nephews and pieces.

It's time to wrestle with Form 1040. We all see the awesome percentage of income Uncle Sam requires from us. A man just can't be calm about taxes, even when he knows the money goes to support the most perfect form of national government ever devised. His feelings about taxes aren't helped by his conviction that the Federal budget they help support is badly in need of trimming.

Uncle Sam's bite is sharp. But he's not the only one who imposes a heavy duty upon the citizens. Never before this year has there been so serious a revenue problem facing U. S., State, and local governments. In legislature after legislature, city council after city council, this year is being marked by a struggle to find money legislators and councilmen believe must be found to support needed programs.

Facts

Tax collection in the fifty States have been rising at a rate of about $1 billion per year. This year's increase is expected to be twice that.

In the period from 1947 to 1952, the debt of the Federal government rose $40 billion, or 15 per cent of the 1947 total. At the same time, the debt of State and local governments increased by $56 billion, an increase of 332 per cent over the 1947 total.

A substantial portion of Federal revenue is passed to the States and cities. Grants-in-aid to State and local governments are estimated to total $7.8 billion in the current fiscal year and would total $8.8 billion in the next fiscal year, according to the President's budget proposal.

Approximately one-fourth of the total expenditures of the State of Texas comes from the Federal treasury. Only two other states receive more Federal money.

The State of Texas is in a critical position again this year as it seeks to meet the responsibilities of our State government. The sales tax passed by the Legislature in 1960 was only a partial, and not very popular, answer. Now the cities of the State, pushed to the wall by the property tax limitation on their revenue raising ability, also are seeking new sources of money. The Texas Municipal League, comprised of about 600 Texas cities, is plugging for a bill in the Texas House of Representatives to give cities optional authority to levy a municipal sales tax of either ½ of 1 per cent, by ordinance or with approval of voters, or 1 per cent, with voter approval.

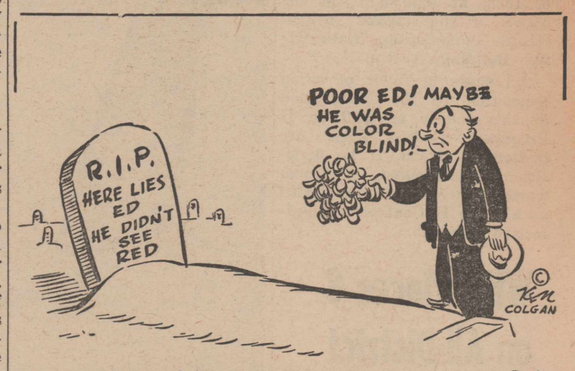

The president of TML, Robert Willis (mayor of Livingston), reports in the TML magazine "Town and City," this month that "If we are to fulfill the promise of modern Texas, it is imperative that we take action necessary now to permit local governments — especially the cities — to finance their own responsibilities out of their own revenue sources."

Showing how serious the situation is becoming, Willis points out that of the major States, Texas is experiencing the third largest annual increase in population, that more than 85 per cent of the annual population increase is coming in Texas cities, and that the growth is straining a taxation system he says was "inherited from the 19th century."

Texas cities were spending $258 million a year six years ago. Six years from now, city spending will be $778 million a year. Within 10 to 15 years it will reach $1 billion annually.

These common, national problems are reasons why pressures on the Congress increase as aid is sought by States and cities from the Federal government. Too many Americans assume the Federal treasury has a never-ending supply of money for urban renewal, for alleviating big-city transportation problems, for building of more highways, for aiding education, for correcting pollution problems.

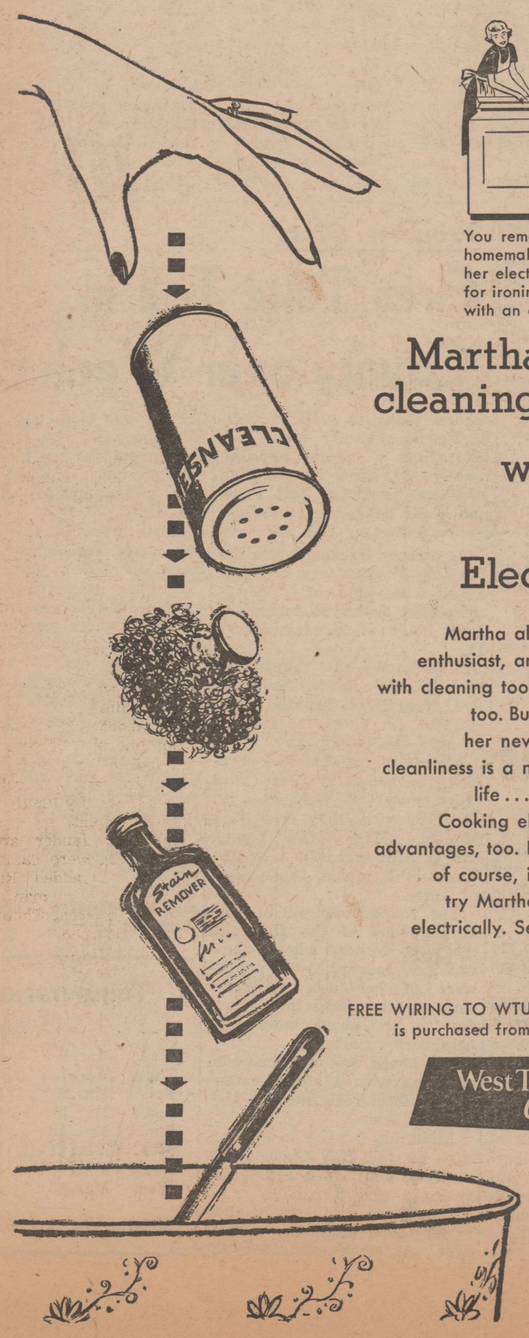

Congress this year must pay heed to these State and local problems. It should recognize them, not by stepping up the grants-in-aid but by alleviating tax pressures on American citizens from the Federal level. This feeling is one reason why a tax cut is very likely—and a good reason why it is desirable. Reduced Federal taxation would provide leeway for tax increases that seem sure to come in many cities and States.

JUST LIKE OLD MAN RIVER

If you want a truck that does its work without yelling for attention all the time, buy a "new reliable" Chevrolet.

You have to take care of it; it's a machine. But this isn't a full-time activity. The clear idea is that the truck works for you, not vice versa.

The way to build such a truck is to put more quality into it. For example, Chevrolet doesn't build one type of suspension system for all sizes of trucks. Chevrolet designs suspension systems to fit your need. The light-duty type is strong on comfort. Another kind for heavier trucks stiffens up as you increase your load and vice versa. Make sense?

Conventional pickups have double-wall construction in cabs, doors, lower side panels. Roofs are insulated. Body floors are select wood, not metal. Tailgate chains are wrapped in rubber. If you'd like to examine or drive a new '63 Chevrolet truck, just call us. We'll be right over.

Fashion Show Friday Highlights Spring Social Season in Wellington

Plans are nearing completion for an evening of food and fashion under the sponsorship of the 1924 Study Club.

On March 15, the eighth annual fashion show-dinner is to be presented, according to the general chairman, Mrs. Ed White.

Gilbert Forrest, minister of First Christian Church, is to be the narrator of this "Spring Soiree."

The models' rehearsal is, as customary, to take place on the eve of the fashion show.

Models chairman, Mrs. Mack Bush, has announced the following participants:

House of Beauty, Nancy Crawley; Lora's Beauty Shop, Mrs. James Stavenhagen; Lavell's Beauty Shop, Karen Childress; Crownover Beauty Shop of Dodson, Sherrie Crownover;

The Fair Store, Mrs. R. L. Templeton, Mrs. Ruth Hightower, Karen Childress, Mary Beth Aaron;

The Fashion Shop, Alvina Roberts, Gayle Henard, Nancy Crawley, Beverly Singley, Anna Katherine Kelso, Vickie Glenn, Mrs. Jimmie Fay Strickland, Mrs. Sam McGill;

Saied's Department Store, Mrs. Edd Henard, Mrs. Stavenhagan, Glenna Taylor, Sammie Thompson, Sandra McGill, Vickie Allen;

Parker's General Store of Dodson, Sherrie Crownover.

Fine arts interludes are to be by Anna Katehrine Kelso and Karen Childress, accompanied by Pat Kimbro.

Excelsior Studies Beauty Spots

Cades Cove, a spot in the Smoky Mountains that progress has passed by, was described for members of the Excelsior Club by Miss Rose Shadid at a meeting Thursday, March 6.

Mrs. Oleta Burquist was the hostess.

This was one of a series of programs on Beauty Spots of the United States.

Basing her talk on an article by Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, Miss Shadid told the group that this rustic valley is a remnant of pioneer America—a way of life that has almost vanished.

"The words of the people have the verve and flair of Elizabethan England, with the pronunciation we have almost lost," Miss Shadid said.

Cades Cove, she added, is now a part of the Great Smoky Mountain National Park.

Following the business meeting, a dessert plate was served to Misses Dorothy Robertson, Rose Shadid, Marie Shadid, Sara Jones, Edyth Jackson, and Mmes. E. F. Bartlett and J. F. Michael, and the hostess, Mrs. Burquist.

Pattern Study by N'wood Club

Mrs. Claude Simpson was hostess to the Samnorwood Home Demonstration Club on Thursday night, February 21.

Mrs. Jess Deger and Mrs. Charlie Bradley gave a very interesting talk and demonstration on "Fitting and Alteration of Patterns."

Refreshments were served to Mmes. Lee Lackey, Fred Johnson, Jack Lowry, Charlie Bradley, Jess Deger, J. L. Alexander and the hostess, Mrs. Simpson.

The Samnorwood Home Demonstration Club met Thursday night, March 7, in the home of Mrs. J. L. Alexander.

At this meeting the members learned to crochet sweaters.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. Fred Johnson, Charlie Bradley, Jess Deger, Jack Lowry, Lillie Bradley, Claud Simpson, Bill Hill, one visitor, Mrs. Walter Deger, and the hostess, Mrs. Alexander.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Charlie Bradley on March 21.

Garden Club Members Hear Report of Project Completion at Cemetery

One stage of the improvement of the North Wellington Cemetery has been completed, members of the Wellington Garden Club organization were told by Mrs. Woody Wood at a meeting Thursday morning, March 7.

The circle, edged with concrete and brick, is completed, and shrubs will be planted in it this spring.

The public was invited to drive by the cemetery and see the work, according to Mrs. Chester Fires, vice president, who presided at the meeting.

Improvement of the cemetery is one of the major projects undertaken by the Garden Club, and their work is in conjunction with a master plan set up by the city, the cemetery association, and the club.

Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch showed two films, "The Promise of Spring," which showed the uses of spring bulbs, and "Modern Chrysanthemums," which gave timely information on their planting.

Mrs. C. C. Killingsworth and Mrs. J. M. Stowell were hostesses at the meeting, which was held in the directors room of the Greenbelt Electric Inc.

Norwood 4-H Plans for Food Show

The Samnorwood 4-H Club met at the Samnorwood high school on March 4.

The members discussed the "Favorite Food Show for 1963" and decorated the school cafeteria for National 4-H Club Week.

Members attending were Rita Lackey, Carol Garner, Karen Waters, Ruth Dwight, and Mrs. Billy Waters, the leader.

Engagement of Madelyn Eikenburg and Lt. Brooks Announced at Tea

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eikenburg of Dallas, formerly of Wellington, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Madelyn, to Lt. William I. Brooks, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Brooks of Waco.

Their wedding is planned for June 8 at Gaston Avenue Baptist Church in Dallas. Participating in the ceremony will be Miss Francis Drake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Drake of Wellington, and Miss Carolyn Couch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Couch of Homer, Louisiana, formerly of Wellington.

The engagement was announced at a tea Saturday, March 9, at the Dallas Womens Forum. Approximately 200 attended. Among these were Mrs. Fred LeDerer, who is in Dallas this winter.

Miss Eikenburg was graduated from Baylor University and teaches in the Dallas' school system.

Her fiance, now stationed at Travis Air Force Base, California, was graduated from Texas A&M College.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hatch of Eldorado, Okla., spent the week end in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hatch. They came to get their daughter, Carol Sue, who had spent several days with her grandparents.

Belles Lettres Studies Collect

Mrs. Dick Richards was hostess to members of the Belles Lettres Club Tuesday night, March 5, when the program was devoted to the collect used by federated clubs.

Mrs. Charles Cason Jr., vice president, directed the business session. All members were urged to attend the convention of the district federation of women's clubs, to be held in Amarillo April 2 and 3.

Mrs. Howard Riggs presented the devotional on the responsibility of club heritage.

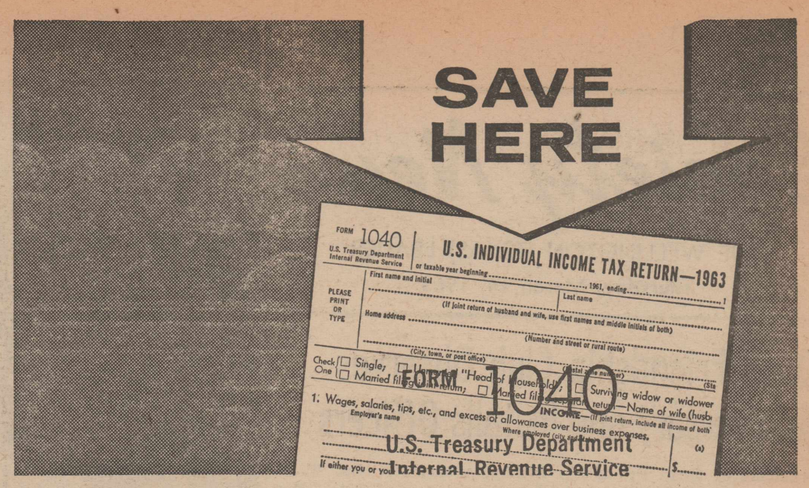

Mrs. J. M. Stowell, program speaker, told the history of the club collect, telling the group it is the personal prayer of the author, Mary Stewart, as she was about to enter a new profession, teaching school.

Mrs. Bob Hightower explained each phase of the collect, and as she did, Mrs. Stowell placed a pink rose in a container, which at the end of the discussion, formed a table arrangement.

Strawberry shortcake and coffee were served to Mmes. Hightower, Stowell, Bryan Denley, Cicero Gulley, Richard Bailey, Bess Owen, F. A. Hatch, A. B. Clark, Riggs, Cason, E. F. Bartlett, and the hostess, Mrs. Richards.

Students at North Texas State University, Denton, visiting their parents the past week end were Freddie Watkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Watkins; Harold Pigg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Pigg; and Jerry Rainey, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rainey.

DRUGTAX
A SERVICE TO TAXPAYERS

Ever wish, at income tax time, that you had a complete record of every cent you spent for drugs and drug products throughout the year—and how much of it was legally deductible?

That kind of a record could save you money. And that kind of a record can now be yours, every year, absolutely free of charge.

This new service is called DrugTax. We are making it available to all of our customers immediately, free of charge, as another way of saying "thank you" for their patronage.

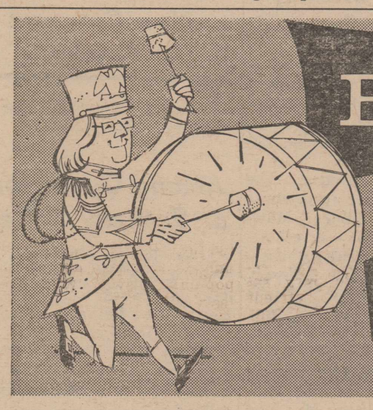

You would be surprised at the number of drug and medical supplies that can be of a deductible nature—items such as antiseptics, aspirin, cough and cold preparations, and hundreds of others.

Indeed, the American taxpayer has been losing millions of dollars annually because he hasn't been aware of how many drug items are legally deductible.

But you must be able to offer proof of purchase in order to claim such items in preparing your federal income tax return. And when you buy from us, you get that proof—in the form of an annual record, mailed in February.

Come in today and let us tell you more about DrugTax. And from now on, buy all of your drug and medical supplies from the store that gives you the free DrugTax record.

Quail Friendship Club Observes Anniversary and Installs Officers

Members of Quail Friendship Club observed the 13th anniversary of the club's organization Thursday, March 7, in a meeting at the Quail Home Economics Cottage. Mrs. Ira Morgan and Mrs. Bill Clay were hostesses.

Installation of new officers also highlighted this meeting.

The club, organized in 1950, has as its project each year the purchase of needed articles for the home ec cottage or the school.

During the last year $100 was donated for the purchase of library books, to help replace those destroyed when a storm damaged the library wing of the school last spring.

The anniversary program was directed by Mrs. Ira Morgan.

A candlelight installation service for new officers was conducted by Mrs. Tom Wilson, parliamentarian.

Taking office were Mrs. John Bishop, president; Mrs. T. B. Johnson, vice president; Mrs. Pat O'Hair, secretary; Mrs. Ira Morgan, treasurer; and Mrs. Ray Godbey, reporter.

Jenny Ann Kennedy and Mary Lindsey gave piano selections during the program.

Refreshments were served from a table laid with a cloth enhanced with embroidery and cutwork. An arrangement of red roses, with candles at each side, formed the centerpiece.

Attending were Mmes. T. B. Johnson, Robert Johnson, Frank Lindsey, Herbert Field, Roy Peggram, Vada Vaughan, Tom Wilson, Monty Mitchell, J. I. Morgan, Bishop, Godbey, also Jennie Ann Kennedy, Mary Lindsey, Linnie Morgan, Jimmy Morgan and the hostesses.

Family Life Group to Set Up Five Year Program March 15

The family living section of the County Program Building Committee under the Extension Service will meet Friday, Mar. 15, to map a five-year program for home demonstration club women and all others interested in the fields of foods, clothing, housing and home beautification.

The meeting will begin at 2 p.m. in the county courtroom, according to Mrs. Kathryn Barjenbruch, home demonstration agent.

Claudia Williams, county program building specialist with the Extension Service, College Station, will conduct the meeting.

Mrs. Barjenbruch explained that the five-year program will be carried out through workshops, programs in home demonstration clubs and special programs and other events by the county program building committee's family living section.

These are open to all women of the county and are not restricted to members of home demonstration clubs. Each section of the program — foods, clothing, housing and home beautification — will be carried through on a logical plan. The purpose is educational.

The family living section of the county program building committee was formed recently by what was four sections of the committee. Chairmen of these were Mrs. Richard Noll of Wellington, foods; Mrs. J. L. Alexander of Lutie, clothing; Mrs. Wilton Ketchum of Wellington, housing. Each of these has from six to eight members on her committee.

Sanford on MU Honor Roll

Bob Sanford, freshman in Midwestern University, Wichita Falls, was listed on the honor roll for the first semester.

He was carrying 17 hours of work at MU, and in addition works 20 hours a week for Wingler and Sharpe, Wichita Falls architects.

Sanford is studying architecture. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sanford and a 1962 graduate of Wellington high school.

Bagwells Transfer to New Orleans

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bagwell were here over the week end to visit her mother, Mrs. Nannie Masten, and other relatives as they were en route from Seattle, Wash., to their new home in New Orleans.

Bagwell is employed by Boeing Aircraft and is one of the men who will work on the 11 first-stage boosters for the Saturn V launch-vehicle program.

The booster will be produced at Boeing's Michoud Ordnance plant at New Orleans.

At the time the contract was announced, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the $418,820,967 contract was the largest single contract it had signed with a manufacturer.

Bagwell is one of approximately 100 Seattle employees involved in the project, which will run for five years.

The couple formerly lived here.

N'wood Banquet Honors Two Cage Teams

Samnorwood honored its high school basketball teams Saturday night, March 9, with a banquet, prepared by the teams' mothers.

Leon Garcia, a senior in the high school, was the principal speaker. He told of the life of Babe Ruth and pointed out the possibilties for every boy and girl to rise from slums to the world of fame.

Others speaking briefly were Mrs. J. L. Alexander, Supt. Orville Cunningham, and Darlene Rainey.

Vocal selections were given by Pollye Clark, accompanied at the piano by Nancy Hill. and by Neal Lowry, who had as accompanists Mike Wischkaemper at the piano and Bill Wischkaemper on the guitar. Lowry also acted as master of ceremonies.

Coach Doyle Chambers presented the bars and gold basketballs to all letter players, and these were all members of both the boys and girls teams.

The teams were cited for their outstanding season.

The Eaglettes compiled a 26 to 5 record, losing the district championship to Claude, three times state champion and competitor on that level again this year.

The three losses came while Gail Bradley, post guard, was out with an appendectomy.

The Eagles finished with a record of 21 wins and 11 defeats. They had victories over many of the top Class B teams of the area, having defeated Miami in two of the four games the teams played. Miami went into regional finals, only to lose to McAdoo by two points and McAdoo went on to win the state Class B championship.

Mineral Estate Tax Proposals Made

Proposals to set up tax procedures on mineral estates, severed from the land, have been filed by Reps. Emmett Lack of Kountz and Clyde Haynes of Vidor.

Proposals are part of a package that should be favored by small-tract landowners and independent oil and gas producers.

One piece of the package is a constitutional amendment to increase the Railroad Commission from three to five members.

Second would give the Legislature the authority to "establish the duration of any interest in an undeveloped mineral estate."

Texas landowners and independent Oil & Gas Operators Association contends that some major oil companies hold onto undeveloped mineral interests for an unreasonable length of time.

Two other bills by Lack and Haynes are aimed at forcing development of mineral interests:

One provides that mineral interests would revert to the owner of surface land if no development attempt is made for 10 years.

Second provides for a county tax assessment of no less than $5 an acre, if mineral estate isn't developed.

Rep. Bob Bass of DeKalb proposes a 25-cent minimum tax assessment on each acre of undeveloped mineral estates.

Strong Support for Screwworm Eradication Bill

Rep. Jack Crain of Nocona had 50 co-signers lined up when he introduced a bill to provide $2,840,837 as the State's matching share of the $12,000,000 federal-state-private screwworm eradication program.

Since it's backed by Governor Connally's strong recommendation the bill should be off to a good start.

But the House Appropriations Committee didn't include a provision for screwworm eradication in its 300-plug page appropriations bill.

Crain said legislators would seek a separate appropriation to cover the proposed state contribution.

Will Farmers Pay Higher Costs of State Schools?

When Rep. Don Garrison of Houston spread before the House Revenue and Taxation committee his bill to boost the Available School Fund by $3,000,000 a year, a spokesman for Texas farmers and ranchers registered a strong protest.

Garrison plans to get the additional $3,000,000 by amending the state law that allows a 98½% exemption refund from the State Motor Fuel Tax for gasoline not consumed on the highways. His bill would cut the refund to 73½%.

That 25% cut then would be credited to the school fund.

Charles M. Huff of Texas Farm Bureau said almost half of the new school fund money — about $1,500,000 a year — "would be coming out of the pockets of farmers and ranchers."

They get motor fuel refunds of about $5,700,000 a year — or 49.11 per cent of the usual total refunded. Much of their refund comes from motor fuel taxes paid on farm machinery.

Airlines and private plane owners, who get about 30 per cent of the refunds, would be the second biggest contributors to education under Garrison's bill.

Four members of the subcommittee named to study the bill are from ranch or farm country—Reps. George Cook of Odessa, Ben Barnes of DeLeon, William Davis of Midland, and James L. Slider of Naples. Rep. F. Lee Duggan Jr. of Houston is the fifth member.

CARS FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

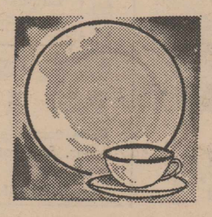

When Texas county commissioners stopped asking the Legislature to authorize horses and wagons and won the right to drive pickup trucks on their appointed rounds, they thought they were thoroughly mechanized.

As their operations became more streamlined and pickups no longer were necessary, some switched to automobiles. But a pickup is not an automobile, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has ruled. So Williamson, Cochran, Hockley, Terry and Yoakum counties are asking authority from the 58th Legislature to buy cars for their commissioners.

Harris, Tarrant, and some Panhandle counties discovered the difference for themselves some time ago. They already have authority to decide whether pickups or autos would be best for commissioners' transportation.

28 Men Form Rocket Track Team for '63

Skyrocket track and field men stepped into the spotlight of high school athletics with the close of the basketball season, and these Rocket athletes now have competition in two meets behind them. A possible six more are ahead.

Coach Don Beck said this week he is taking around 30 men to the meets, compared to five who ran last year.

The team's first competition this year was in the Iowa Park track meet March 2, when they placed seventh in their division and third among Class A teams. Merkel was first and Rotan second in the latter class. Fifty-eight teams participated in the meet.

A week later the Rockets ran in the Gruver meet where 21 teams, ranging from Class AAA to B ran in one division. Wellington was 11th. Among teams of this district, Canadian made a total of 24 points; Lefors 13; Wellington and Memphis 12, and Clarendon failed to make a point. Other teams of this district did not enter.

In both meets, Beck's team was short about five men, due to flu and injuries.

Boys placing in the Iowa Park meet were:

Herbie Duncan, third in the 100 yard dash 10.2 seconds; and third in the 220 yard dash, time 23 flat.

Johnny Ford, 6th in the 880 yard run, 2 minutes 11.2 seconds.

Lynn Wolf, 5th in the mile run, time 5 minutes, 3.2 seconds.

The mile relay team, composed of Glen Thomas, Lynn McLain, Gary White and Raymond Sanders, 7th.

In the Gruver track meet, Duncan was 5th in the 100 yard dash, time 10.5 seconds.

Ford was 4th in the 880, time 2 minutes, 6.8 seconds.

Wolf, 3rd in the mile run, 5 minutes, 5.8 seconds.

Mile relay, again 7th, with team members this time Bobby Hudson, Ford, White and Craig Bergvall.

Coach Beck is holding his team at around 30 men and will run as many men as each meet will allow. High school athletes not participating in track are going through the off-season program.

"We haven't shown up very strong in these meets, but our kids are catching on and we expect to be strong — very strong — in our district competition," Beck declared.

In addition to the high school team, Beck has 46 junior high boys running track and the remainder also in the off-season program.

Track meets remaining on the schedule are:

Lefors, Friday and Saturday, March 15 and 16.

Childress Relays, March 23, with preliminaries in the afternoon and the finals that night.

Chillicothe track meet, Friday, March 29.

Under consideration are the Duncan, Okla., relays Saturday, April 6.

The district meet is Tuesday April 9 and the regional meet Saturday, April 20.

Here are the Rocket track men:

High and low hurdles: Bryan Hatch, Danny Martin, Joe Henard, Tim Bailey and Lyndal Bowen.

100 yard, 220 yard, 440 yard dashes and mile relay: Herb Duncan, Ronnie Max, Craig Bergvall, Ronnie Hurst, Gary White, Bobby Hudson, Lynn McLain and Ray Floyd.

880 yard run: Johnny Ford, Don Sweat and Dwayne Poteet.

Mile run: Lynn Wolf, Randy Wooldridge and Andy Moreno.

Weights—shot put and discus: Jennings Wells, Joe Rudy, Raymond Sanders, Skippy Duncan, Chester McLain, Eddie Hale, Johnny Ford, Bobby Hudson, Craig Bergvall, Lynn McLain, Ronny Hurst and Wayne Barton.

Sam Hughes, a potential stand-out in tract is out for the remainder of the season after receiving a pulled muscle, Coach Beck said.

Boats

Although the horsepower race in boating isn't over, it has slowed down a bit.

This was evident to those attending the International Marine Trades Show held in Fort Worth recently for dealers and members of the press.

During the unveiling of 1963 equipment we found more things of interest than just horsepower in motors.

We found that prices are coming down. Many of the boats, similar to those in last year's show, were down 10 to 25 per cent.

Apparently this is due to more than just plain economics. It is largely due to the changing pattern of buyers.

There were plenty of big boats at the show this year. But there were a great many more smaller boats. Practically all the major manufacturers in the south, and some of the others, were there with prams, john boats and ordinary 14-ft. fishing boats.

Another trend seems to be toward the comfortable family boat.

Larger boats with big pontoons for the water and a fringed top overhead for protection against the sun drew the most interest.

Without a doubt you'll see more boats on every lake during the coming year that are moving slower, but with more comfort.

Even the fast boats are indicative of more comfort. The seats are better and the boats will take the rough water with greater ease.

Most of the motors were pretty much the same, except for minor refinements. Every year it appears impossible to make a better motor, but manufacturers continue their improvements. Certainly there never has been a better motor than those you'll see in '63.

The manufacturers' reps talked freely of the trend. A representative of one of the largest firms commented at length about his company's attitude.

"In recent years we went all out for fast motors for fast boats," he said. "People were willing to pay the price. Many thought nothing of making the down payment and signing a note for $2,000 for a boat and motor. There still are many in that class.

"However, today we find the majority just as happy with a complete rig in the $1,500 class.

"Then there is the family group. They want pontoon boats, with ordinary horsepower, to move them slowly about the lakes.

"Still another group is that fast growing crowd that's interested in flat bottom or john boats for fishing, or even just for fun."

A great many new aluminum boats are being readied for '63. In the past there had been a definite turn from aluminum to fibreglass. There still are many fine glass boats. But you're going to see more good aluminum boats in the water next year. There will be big ones and little ones, lots of them of the lapstrake design.

Boats are being made simpler and safer. It is pretty difficult today to find a boat without adequate flotation. Boatsmen generally are more safety conscious. They take along an ample number of life cushions.

This undoubtedly accounts for the fact that fatalities in boating are low by comparison with highway motoring. But both are higher than necessary.

Check Social Security at Retirement Age

Many people lose money because they dont' check on their social security when they reach retirement age, according to Hal Geldon, Amarillo social security district manager.

In many cases, these people are still working and believe they cannot get any benefit payments unless they are completely retired.

Geldon stated that workers who earn over $1200 yearly may still get some social security payments depending on the amount of their earnings.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Enlow and children, of Altus, spent last week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wood.

Landa Has New Gas Well

WATER USE CHART

This chart, one of the slides shown at the Soil Fertility Program here Thursday, March 7, points up the rate at which water is used in relation to plant development, and also reveals something of the value of irrigation to those farmers using it.

★ ★ ★

Dave Sherrill

Plant Use of Water Told to Area Farmers

(Given here is the talk delivered before the Soil Fertility program crowd Thursday, March 7, by Dave W. Sherrill, area irrigation spe'cialist with the Extension Service.)

Windmill water has made possible vast plains ranching operations. Water has helped stem the tide against drouth and has lessened the severity of dust storms.

Sprinkler systems have made possible the successful and profitable irrigation of sandy land.

Collingsworth county has 130 sprinkler systems irrigating 7,200 acres and 1,000 acres are irrigated by surface methods with 135 wells.

Collingsworth county, in 1962 irrigated 8,200 acres of cotton, only 500 acres of wheat and 250 acres of grain sorghums. Perfect irrigation is the spreading uniformly and timely the same amount of water in each square foot of soil over the entire field. Sprinklers can do just this.

Preplanting irrigation should be used to wet the soil to soil depth or four to six feet, whichever is less. Cotton is a deep-rooted crop and can use moisture to a depth of six feet if good soil is that deep. A pre-plant irrigation is easily our most important and profitable irrigation.

Cotton from emergence to squaring will use only one-tenth inch water per day. From square to first white bloom, it will use one-tenth to twenty-five hundredths inches water per day. From first white bloom to peak bloom period, it will use twenty-five hundredths inch to four-tenths inch per day. The accompanying water use chart for cotton should be studied carefully.

We can water too early and cause excess vegetative growth and therefore too large a stalk. If we supply adequate water during peak water use of cotton, we can safely and profitably cut off water the last of August.

Thereby we will assure a better quality of cotton, less bollies and usually earlier harvest. Late irrigation delays maturity.

Sandy soil holds one to one and one-half inches water per foot of soil. We can examine the soil, dig and press soil in the hand to test for moisture.

From first white bloom thru peak bloom, we need to hold the moisture above 50% available moisture. Your county agent has charts to hand out called "A Practical Soil Test." Since sandy soil holds less water per foot of soil than tighter clay soils, more frequent waterings are necessary.

Two-thirds of the cotton roots are in the top two feet of soil. In peak use periods or from first white to peak bloom period, we need to replenish the moisture in these top two feet of soil as often as is necessary. Usually two or three waterings can accomplish this goal. Timeliness of cotton irrigation is perhaps more important than amount of water. The settings of the sprinkler line can accurately put on the exact amount of water required at the proper time.

Balance of fertility with supply of water can make best use of water. Organic matter will save water by cutting down on surface evaporation. Cotton burs, sorghum stubble or manure can be used for this purpose.

Weeds rob us of valuable soil moisture. Eliminate these thieves of moisture.

Do not water cotton early unless necessary to save a stand or stop sand blowing damage.

Study water use rate of the cotton plant.

Examine soil often for moisture content.

Allow sufficient time to get over cotton before moisture reaches below 50%.

Balance fertility with water. Use organic matter.

Do not water cotton too late.

Use sprinkler system that gives the best coverage.

Use average nozzle pressure which is 35 to 40 pounds.

Use shield to avoid irrigating area beyond edge of the cotton.

Only 21 Per Cent County Motor Cars Inspected

Many motorists in Texas are going to be faced with long lines and waiting periods in order to have their cars inspected prior to the April 15 deadline. Only 39% of the 586,270 registered vehicles in Region 5 of the Texas Department of Public Safety have visited the safety inspection stations and obtained their 1963 safety inspection stickers, according to Capt. Alan Johnson, motor vehicle inspection service of the DPS.

According to the records of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Service there are 5,125 vehicles registered in Collingsworth county and only 1,082 or 21% of the vehicles have been inspected to date. Due to this low number the captain suggested that all motorists check their vehicle and see if they have a current 1963 inspection sticker on the windshield and if not to have the vehicle inspected today in order to avoid the last minute rush.

"All registered vehicles in Texas must be inspected by April 15 and have a 1963 inspection sticker on the windshield," Capt. Johnson said. He stated that there would be no extension of the April 15 deadline and advised motorists who have not had their cars inspected to do so now, before the long lines start forming.

"In the past, many people wait until the last few days of the inspection period to have their vehicles inspected and have to wait for a long period of time at the inspection station," Capt. Johnson said.

Your Dollar Is BIGGER at Home...

It's a statistical fact that about one-third of every Dollar we spend goes into the taxes and contributions that pay for community services and facilities ... IN THE COMMUNITY WHERE IT IS SPENT. When we run a Dollar through our own home trade channels, WE, ourselves, enjoy the benefits of better living and richer opportunities which a third of that dollar buys... for somebody.

The dollar we spend somewhere else, pays for these advantages FOR SOMEBODY ELSE. Our money has bought the same things... but WE do not get ALL it has paid for... we have received LESS for it. And... since, obviously, we get MORE for a home-spent dollar, who can deny that your dollar is BIGGER at home?

Soil Testing Required for Fertilizer Test

Given here is a summary of the talk and commentary on slides presented by Jim Valentine, area soil chemist with the Extension Service, Lubbock, before a group of Collingsworth farmers at the Soil Fertility meeting Thursday night, March 7.

Mr. Valentine's topic was on soil testing and fertilizer methods.

Accurate and reliable methods of soil testing have been developed by the Texas A&M College system. Applying fertilizer without a soil test is somewhat like buying a lot of medicine without having seen your doctor. Your soil may need the type fertilizer you've bought or it may not.

An example is: If you put down a 30-30-0 and your soil only needs 30-0-0, your fertilizer bill has cost you almost twice as much as it should have.

Fertilizers have proved their value year in and year out in this county if they are needed.

A soil test is no better than the sample received in the laboratory, Valentine explained.

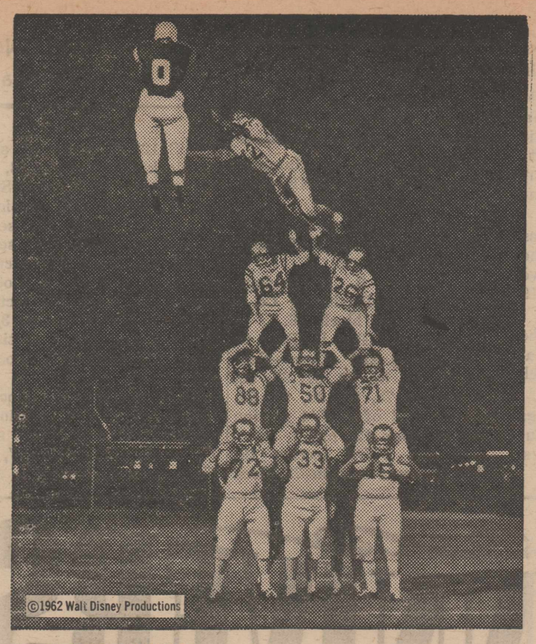

The information sheet is just as important as the soil sample in making a good recommendation for your field.

Many things affect soil productivity and crop yields.

These include the type of season and climate conditions, soil management, physical conditions of the soil, time of plowing, insect control, methods of applying fertilizer and many other factors.

Mrs. James Richardson, Karen and Linda, spent several days last week in Plainview, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Williams and other relatives.

Bob Sanford, student at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, spent the week end in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sanford.

Attend FTA State Meet

Beverly Singley, Vickie Killian, Bonnie Farrar and Mrs. Bernice Welch represented the Wellington high school chapter of the Future Teachers of America at the state convention in Dallas Friday and Saturday, March 8 and 9.

The girls and their sponsor attended workshops and sectional meetings.

Beverly attended a meeting of new district officers, as she has been elected corresponding secretary of District 9 of the FTA.

The delegates were entertained one night with a tea and dance.

Camp Fire Girls

The Muk-kin-ne'unk group of Camp Fire Girls met last week in the Camp Fire room. First they played games, then this was followed by a lesson on Ethiopia, by the leader, Mrs. Cecil Masten, whose son is stationed there in the Army.

She showed a number of items he had sent her, including coffee, a coffee grinder made of olive wood, coffee cups, a basket, Greek cigarettes, and a guitar.

Debbie Lewis served refreshments.

Present were Debbie, Mickye Ann Kendrick, Mary Lou Holton, Vicki Sherman, and Mrs. Masten.

K-State Hands Winter 200th Coaching Win

Kansas State handed Tex Winter his 200th basketball victory in a recent win over Iowa State in a game on his home court in Manhattan, Kan. This was something of an event in Big Eight coaching circles.

Tex is a former Wellington boy, and he learned to pitch goals by pitching basketballs through a hoop nailed to the side of Bob Bowen's garage east of town. The hoop is still there, according to Bowen, the coach's uncle.

But Winter's team eventually lost out in its bid to represent the Big Eight in the NCAA tournament when it dropped a game to Colorado in Boulder.

The K-State Wildcats' 200th win was a 62-50 victory over Iowa. This was its 33rd straight victory over conference opponents at home, and at the time they were leading the Big Eight. K-State broke the game open early in the last half.

The 200th victory was also something of a birthday present for the coach, as Winter celebrated his 41st birthday Monday, Feb. 25.

The school had a streak of 33 straight Big Eight victories on its home court.

With 200 wins, Winter has lost 93 games overall, including a 25-25 record at Marquette in Milwaukee, Wis., in 1952-53.

Winter's father died when he was young. His mother is now Mrs. Norman LeGrand of Lubbock.

Boy Has Many Grandparents

Eleven grandparents and great grandparents live almost within whistling distance of 2-year-old James W. Wheeler III of Fontana, Calif., writes one of his grandmothers, Mrs. M. L. Lemley, who formerly lived here.

James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Wheeler II.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wheeler of Redland and Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Vaughan of Lynwood. Mrs. Vaughan is the former Junita Lemley who graduated from high school here.

Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James W. Wheeler I, of Redland, Calif; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Elliott of Yucipa, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Lemley of Lynwood and Mrs. Margerit Vaughan of Bell, Calif. Mrs. Leon Hartman of Wellington is an aunt.

FFA Judging Teams Begin Contest Circuit

Wellington Future Farmers placed second in livestock judging in the Greenbelt District contests held in connection with the Top O'Texas Livestock Judging contest held in Pampa Thursday through Saturday, March 7-9.

High individual in the swine section of the contest was Kent Holland of the team.

Two other judging teams from the county participated.

Samnorwood placed fourth in district judging and Jimmy Martindale of the team was fourth high man in the sheep judging section.

Quail team placed fifth.

The teams of the Greenbelt District not only competed against each other, but also against other teams of the Panhandle, with a total of 49 competing.

Memphis placed first in the district; Turkey was third and Clarendon was sixth.

The boys judged classes of Hereford and Angus steers, Hereford bulls, a class of Poland China barrows and one of Duroc barrows, and one class of sheep.

Members of the Wellington team were Holland, Mark Fires and Phillip Hughey. Holland, as high individual, scored 851 points out of a possible 1000.

Samnorwood members were Mack Shields, Martindale, and Danny Knoll.

Members of the Quail team were David Phipps, Duane Campbell and Kirby Word. Dwight Burns was an alternate.

This marked the opening of the judging contests for Future Farmers of the Panhandle.

The Wellington teams will compete in livestock, grass and land judging contests sponsored by Abilene Christian College on that campus Monday, March 25.

Salt Fork Soil Conservation District will sponsor its annual grass and land judging contest for the Greenbelt District Tuesday, April 2. This also serves as the official district contest in these two events.

Quail will be host at the poultry and crops judging contests, with the dates for that event to be set.

Winners of the Greenbelt district contests will participate in the Area I contests at Texas Tech, with the date to be announced.

Independents to Enter Hedley Volley Ball Event

Independent volley ball teams started looking to their hitting this week with the first invitational volley ball tournament of the season slated for Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, March 14-16 at Hedley.

First team to announce its entry in the tournament was the Wellington Untouchables—a team that last year won every tournament it entered until it staged its own, and lost to a Wellington high school team.

To date the Untouchables have had one practice session and lists barely enough members to field a team. More members are expected.

More independent teams are expected in Wellington, until there are four or five and possibly one or two women's teams, according to Danny Garcia, a team member.

Members of the team so far are high school principal E. W. Clement and teachers Ralph Word and Garcia. Richard Mauldin will come from Cameron College, Lawton, Okla., to join the group, and Tony White from West Texas State College, Canyon. Farris Wood is the other member.

Game time in the Hedley tournament is 6:30 p.m. Teams are expected from most towns of the southeast Panhandle.

Miss Carter in McMurry Play

Andrea Carter, freshman drum major in McMurry College, Abilene, has the role of Ann Boleyn in "Royal Gambit," which will be produced Thursday and Friday, March 14 and 15 in McMurry's Radford Auditorium.

The play, by Hermann Griesekes, depicts the lives of Henry VIII and his wives.

Miss Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Carter, appeared earlier in the chorus of "Trojan Woman." This is her first major role at McMurry,

Watson Honored by Park Board

Bobby J. Watson, park ranger at Palo Duro Canyon State Park, received last week a certificate of special recognition from the Texas State Parks Board at the annual park managers' convention held this year in Kerrville. Watson formerly lived at Wellington.

The certificate of special recognition is given each year to the Texas State Parks employee who has taken especially good care of park vehicles, and only one certificate is given each year.

The award is specially significant in Watson's case because he has to drive the park vehicles over the roughest terrain in a Texas state park. There are 50 state parks in the state.

Park business requires that Watson drove his pickup truck more than 1100 miles per month over the rough badlands of the park.

Park manager Buddy Hoskins said, "It was a privilege for me to accept the award for Watson. The award has special significance since every park employee of the 50 state parks may be eligible to win it."

Flight Safety Meeting Set

AUSTIN.—John G. Uranga, Flight Safety Specialist from the Texas Aeronautics Commission, will conduct a series of flight safety refresher courses during the month of March at Childress, Pampa, Quanah and Plainview. All pilots, and anyone interested in aviation safety, are invited to attend. There will be no charge.

These courses include four meetings over a period of four weeks, and are designed to offer the pilot an opportunity of upgrading his knowledge and pilot skills, and to promote overall flying safety.

General subjects to be covered are: Aviation weather; air traffic control; navigation radio aids; safety techniques in the operation of single, multi-engine and rotor-wing aircraft; and an analysis of current changes in Civil Air Regulations.

The meetings at Childress are scheduled to be held at the Gate City Electric Cooperative on Tuesdays, March 5, 12, 19 and 26.

The Pampa meetings will be held in the Lovett Memorial Library on Wednesdays, March 6, 13, 20 and 27.

At Quanah, the meetings will be held at the Quanah Municipal Airport on Thursdays, March 7, 14, 21 and 28.

Deadline Near for 1963 Grain Sign-up

"Don't think it over too long," is the word passed along to feed grain producers by W. C. Harwell, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee.

He reminds growers who are interested in taking part in the 1963 feed grain program that filing an "intention to participate" form at the ASC county office is a necessary first step, and the signup period extends only through March 22. This gives farmers only a few days longer in which to make up their minds about 1963 production plans.

The chairman reports that farmer interest is high in Collingsworth county. Indications are that 1963 participations will equal that under last year's feed grain program.

Minimum diversion under the 1963 program is 20 per cent of the individual farm's total feed grain base. For diverting more than the minimum acreage from feed grain production into a conserving use, the diversion payment will be figured at a higher rate.

Besides the diversion payments available through participation in the feed grain program, participating farmers also qualify for a special price-support payment on the normal production of the acreage planted to feed grains in 1963, and they are also eligible to put their crop under the regular price-support loans or purchase agreements. If the farmer wishes, a part of the diversion payment may be made in advance.

Chairman Harwell points out that participation in the feed grain program not only saves the farmer the costs of planting and harvesting acreages of unneeded feed grains while guaranteeing a substantial income from his diverted acres, but it also increases the conservation of the nation's cropland, continues the reduction of government feed grain stocks, and saves dollars for the taxpayers by reducing the costs of storage, shipping, and handling of the government-owned grains.

Bond Sales Total $7,350

The savings bond volunteers of Texas can be proud of the fine start made in sales of E and H Savings Bonds during January. Sales increased $500,000 over January of 1963. This represents 3.2% increase. January bond sales for Texas were $15,814,670.

Savings bond sales in Collingsworth county totaled $7,350, according to John Forbis, chairman of the county savings bond committee. The 1963 goal is $120,000.

April First Maturity Date on Wheat Loans

Loans on 1962 crops of wheat and grain sorghum will mature on April 1 this year, W. C. Harwell, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, has announced.

Since the normal maturity date of March 31 occurs on Sunday this year, the date is automatically extended through the following day, April 1.

This means that growers who have any of these crops under loan may redeem their crops at any time through April 1 by paying off the loan and incidental charges.

A headline in a daily paper says: "U.S. Threatens to Cut U.N. Cash." The small print goes on to explain that this refers to our voluntary contributions to bringing peace and enlightenment to the Congo, etc., and has nothing to do with our regular assessment which is now 40% of the entire U.N. expenditures. The U.N. is handing over part of this money to help Castro rehabilitate Cuba.

Wellington's coffee break crowd simply can't understand the Administration's unsurpassed ability to antagonize our proven friends and cower before the threats of our avowed enemies.

People are talking about the excessive number of crows in our area this year and especially about the fact that the big birds have moved to town. They can be seen any morning roosting in trees or dropping down to pick up food in the back yards. An intensive shooting of crows has been conducted at night in the shelterbelt just east of the city limits on Highway 83 and some people wonder if this is the cause of the cawers moving to friendlier terrain. Ocie Scott says no. He claims that he and a group of men killed about 700 of the pests in one night and that you could not even miss them the next evening when they came back to roost.

Horrible thought. Do you suppose the feed has played out in Wheeler county and the big black birds have moved to Collingsworth? John Roberts says no, and contends there are more in Wheeler than ever before. Be that as it may the song birds have departed from our yard since the crows came. Among those that can neither be seen nor heard any more are a pair of cardinals and a pair of mourning doves.

I was particularly fond of the doves. A pair nested in our yard last summer and one stayed all winter. The mate was evidently killed last September when the "sportsmen" went quail hunting. Whether the remaining bird found a new mate or whether a pair of the young have returned to their old flying field is something I do not know. In fact, I do not know much about birds for the item above about the crows driving off the doves is all wrong. I can hear the haunting melody of the mourning doves right outside my kitchen door even as I write at 6:30 in the morning.

My niece down at Wichita Falls is taking a course in Shakespeare. The other day she returned home and opined to her mother as follows: "Don't talk to me about the obscene literature in these paperback books you can buy at the newsstands—you ought to read some of Shakespeare." Now cool down Pam before you make any hasty judgments about the greatest genius, poet and playwright who ever used the English language to probe into the heart and soul of mankind. Shakespeare does have some warm passages, but I can't say that they sizzle as much as some of those in the Old Testament. As I understand the phenomena the way of a "man with a maid" has not changed appreciably in the last ten thousand years. The difference is that the ancient Hebrews and Shakespeare wrote about it with more understanding and used more expressive, elevating and beautiful words.

Raymond Patton tells this on Paul Starr: Mr. Starr had two Hereford bulls, one a prize animal and the other a rather ordinary bull. He sent a man out to the farm to castrate the inferior male and a few days later discovered that his prize bull had been altered and is reported to have remarked "I do declaire."

I must get around to seeing Charlie Bearden about the prospects for a peach crop this year. He has not missed in his predictions in the last twenty years. The peach trees are budding and it will not be long until they are in full bloom. Peaches are important financially to a small group of growers in this county, but a good crop keeps the housewives from wasting their time going to clubs for a week or two each year when we have a bumper crop.

Rancher: How many cows do you think are in that herd?

City Friend: About two hundred.

Rancher: Right, but how did you know?

City Friend: Oh, I just counted their legs and divided by four.

couple were apprehended in El Reno and returned here by Sheriff John Rainey's department Monday.

The couple, here during the cotton season, were charged with giving the worthless check to C. A. Winton. After leaving here, they lived briefly at Shamrock, Sentinel and Cordell, Okla., then went to El Reno, according to Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Hodge.

Donald Ray Doles, indicted for forgery, was apprehended in Murfreesboro, Ark., and Sheriff Rainey went after him Tuesday.

An indictment for assault with intent to murder was returned against Aaron Raford, who is out on $2,500 bond.

One man, indicted for forgery, is not yet in custody of the sheriff's department, said Hodge.

Morrow Buys 2 New Planes for Ag Spray Work

Gene Morrow of Morrow Flying Service, based at Marian Airpark has announced the purchase of two new S-2C agricultural airplanes, manufactured by Snow Aeronautical Corporation of Olney.

The bright yellow 600 horsepower crop dusters are already at the airpark, and Morrow is inviting the public to visit his hangar and see them during the next two weeks.

"Everybody is invited out to see them, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily. This is one of the larger planes used in the agricultural spraying field, and if you have any interest at all in aviation, you'll enjoy these craft," Morrow said.

On hand to show the craft will be Morrow, or one of his employees, Herbert Wyatt, the chemical mix man, and Tommy Falcon, ground crew man.

Morrow will use the planes exclusively for ag spraying.

His reason for buying the Snows, Morrow said, is that they carry unusually heavy pay loads and permit the operator to do more work. He said he considered the 600-horsepower S-2C to be near the ultimate in aerial agricultural equipment.

Morrow Spraying Service is beginning its seventh season of agricultural spraying at Marian Airpark.

The owner, Gene Morrow, is one of this section's more experienced men in the agricultural spraying business.

Reared here, he learned to fly in the Air Force during World War II. He spent several years with the Federal Aviation Agency in Bryan before returning here to enter business for himself.

Morrow said this week that two experienced ag pilots, one coming from Georgia, the other from Arizona, will join him before the spraying season.

Alaska's easternmost point is 600 miles west of San Francisco.
