CUPID'S ARROWS FIND EVEN MR. LINDBERGH

(By Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 13 Mexicans hoped today that Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and Miss Anne Morrow, daughter of Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, would be married in this country's capital. It was here that the romance of the famous aviator and the heiress began.

The following statement was issued at the American embassy last evening:

"Ambassador and Mrs. Morrow have announced the engagement of their daughter, Anne Spencer Morrow, to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh."

Efforts to have the ambassador elaborate on the statement were unavailing. He was asked as to the probable time and place of the marriage but persisted in a smiling silence, broken only finally with the remark:

"All you can say on such points is mere guess work. I think your guess will be good if you say the time is not yet fixed."

News of the engagement—which had been often rumored

Aerial Honeymoon For The Lindberghs

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh presumably will have an aerial honeymoon. Since his return from Paris the Colonel's only means of transportation has been by air, except such automobile trips as have been necessary to get him to and from flying fields.

His fiance already is air-minded. She took airplane trips with him in Mexico City soon after they first met, and friends surmise that some of the courtship was up in the air over the volcano of Popacatepeti.

HE'S PARTICULAR ABOUT HIS JAILS

Arkansas Bastile Got On His Nerves and He Moved

PARIS, Tex., Feb. 13 (AP).—J. C. Arthur, being particular about his jails, has moved to the lamar county jail here.

He was arrested in Stamps, Ark., for an auto theft here, but the Stamps jail grated on his finer sensibilities. He extradited himself by escaping, hitchhaking to Paris and surrendering to Sheriff Bud Walter. That officials expressed surprise, but Arthur explained today, from his comfortable cell, that he "didn't care for the jail in Stamps."

FIVE DEATHS ARE LAID TO THIS WOMAN

MOTHER ACCUSED BY DAUGHTER OF BRUTAL MURDER SERIES

(By Associated Press)

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Feb. 13.—Mrs. Ethel Lewis, 49-year-old Eau Claire, Mich., woman, and her daughter, Mrs. Okel Gorham, 23, of Dowagiac, Mich., were held in the Berrien county jail here today following charges by the daughter that her mother killed three of her children and two of her own during the past 13 years.

Wallace Lewis, husband of Mrs. Lewis, and step-father of Mrs. Gorham, also was held. He denied any knowledge of the plot which resulted, Mrs. Gorham said, in the deaths of three of her five babies born since 1923, and the slaying of two of Mrs. Lewis' children while she was married to Henry Ford, a Big Rapids, Mich., farmer.

Investigation was begun last night when Dowagiac authorities asked Berrien county officials to institute a quiz into the death Sunday of Clarence Wesley Gorham, aged 18 months. His death occurred at the Lewis home in Eau Claire under circumstances which officials said were suspicious.

When Mrs. Lewis, her husband and Mrs. Gorham were brought to the Berrien jail today and questioned officers said Mrs. Gorham accused her mother of choking and poisoning Clarence Wesley, giving as her reason the fact that they "didn't have enough money to buy milk for their children."

The Mankoh Maru reached the Meiyo Maru late yesterday, several hours after the latter had broadcast signals she was pounding to pieces on the rocks of Ugamak Island. Because of heavy seas the rescue vessel was unable to aaist her but stood by.

HOW'S THIS FOR YOUNG AMERICA

CHICAGO, Feb. 13 (AP).—Twelve year old Joe Dowling, who carries a gun and has a gang, told police today he had taken part in 150 burglaries since he was nine years old.

When arrested last night as he was offering a $150 diamond ring for sale for $5, Dowling had a loaded pistol in his pocket, a flashlight and a ringful of keys. Two boys, one nine and the other 13, were arrested at the same time.

The boy, who is small for his years, said: "Suppose the dicks caught me, and I had a chance to shoot it out with them? I've had lots of guns. Some I got in flats. One time me an a kid named Coughlin—he's doing a stretch now—stole a car and drove to Gary, Ind., and bought two shot guns from a guy. On the way back Coughlan took a shot at a farmer in a field and knocked his hat off."

Police said they had verified several of the burglaries to which the boy confessed.

FLIERS CLIMB NEAR EIGHT MILES IN AIR

(By Associated Press)

DAYTON, Ohio, Feb. 13 (AP)—Two army fliers in an old army plane reached an unofficial altitude of 39,000 feet from Wright Field yesterday, and brought down with them an account of a condition above the clouds which meteorologists long have suspected but never have been able to prove.

The fliers, Lieut. Johnson and Captain A. W. Stevens, pilot and photographer, were forced down by deplenished fuel at Norton Field, Columbus, Ohio.

The instruments attached to the plane, used in many test and altitude flights, indicated they had reached an altitude out-reaching the record of 38,420.5 feet held by Lieut. C. C. Campion, of the United States Navy. No record was claimed because rules of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale prescribe that the plane must land at the field from which it left the earth.

The two pilots blamed their failure to establish a record for a two-man plane on another phenomenon of the air: Excessive visibility.

"The ordinary horizon line when flying is between seven and eight thousand feet," they explained. "After we got above the clouds of ice we couldn't see the ground and the horizon line above must have been at least 50,000 feet—and we didn't know where we were."

FIFTEEN CRUISERS AND ONE NEW AIRCRAFT CARRIER ARE PROVIDED THROUGH MEASURE

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—President Coolidge today signed the naval bill calling for the construction of fifteen cruisers and one aircraft carrier.

The president's approval was given in spite of the measure's clause requiring that all the vessels be laid down by July 1, 1931, which he had opposed. His opposition to this provision was based on the view that it called for expenditures at future dates with no advance knowledge as to the condition of the treasury when they would be made.

In addition to providing for the construction of the vessels, the measure calls for an international agreement establishing the rights of neutrals at sea in time of war, under an amendment sponsored by chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee and Senator Reed of Missouri.

The president affixed his signature to the measure, the last major legislative project of his administration, a few minutes after he had conferred with congressional leaders on expenditures which must be made under it.

Those present were Senators Curtis and Robinson, majority and minority leaders of the senate, chairman Hale of the senate naval committee, Speaker Longworth, Representatives Tildon and Garrett, republican and democratic leaders of the house.

Recommendations from the budget bureau were that from $25,000,000 to $40,000,000 be made available for work on the cruisers during the fiscal year 1929-1930, with a small amount provided for the present fiscal year.

Under the measure five cruisers are to be laid down in each of the thre fiscal years 1929, 1930 and 1931. In addition, the construction of an aircraft carrier is authorized, to be begun prior to July 1, 1931.

MAY REDUCE CAR TAX 50 PERCENT

House Committee Fails At Settlement Of Problem

AUSTIN, Feb. 13 (AP).—The house committee on revenue and taxation today found itself almost as far from solution of the automobile license fee and gasoline tax problems as on the opening of the session five weeks ago.

Sentiment of the committee toward the pasenger car license situation was revealed to some extent in an informal vote. Eight members balloted for a fifty per cent slash in private car licenses, five favored a 20 per cept cut, and Representative Pope of Hamiln and Tillotson of Sealy voted for no changes in present fees.

MILADY'S TASTE REFLECTED IN COLOR CHOICE

BY JEAN PATOU
For NEA Service

PARIS, Feb. 13—The point wherein a woman's taste is reflected more than anywhere else in her choice of colors.

Although the question of colorings has always been an important one, it is assuredly a fact that couturiers now devote a great deal of time and thought on the choice of colors when establishing a new collection.

The Color's the Thing

Women have had to be educated to this new idea of coloring and have made great strides in this direction. We are now spared the sight of dresses that were veritable color catastrophies, the rule rather than the exception a few years ago. Now when looking over a collection and in the choice of new dresses I find women paying more and more attention to color. They realize the very important part it plays in the clothes they wear.

In the dressmaking world the fact that two colors that blend well enhance the value of an otherwise perfectly simple dress is a well-known one. It is also an understood thing that the best way of setting off any one shade aids in the choice of that placed next to it. When a really successful as well as new color combination is found the artist in the couturier feels as much pleasure in the result as the woman who wears the gown.

Colors Watch Seasons

Facts such as these may be known to those people who are gifted with a "color sense," but even they perhaps have not realized that a couturier varies his color combinations with the seasons. Winter calls for sober colorings and during the dark months bright shades are all but barred. This is only natural as gay colors need sunshine to show up their vividness. Summer generally brings dashing, bold colors and color combinations are always successful at that time.

So far as color opposition goes, black combined with white is the most typical example of the popularity of this theme. It is a theme, though, that has been distinctly overdone. In my opinion it has now reached the end of its long-lived reign.

Combinations Are Many

There are other colors that can be just as effective for summer wear. The contrast may be less sharply defined as in black and white, but the effect is pleasing and perhaps smarter. Place a grege blouse on a black skirt, for example. The result is newer, less banal than a black skirt and white blouse, yet as fresh and summery. In the same order of ideas, if you combine a certain shade of greenish yellow with dark green or a light and dark shade of green, you will get something original and novel. Red and bright blue used with white always looks well and are a good combination for summer wear. Pink on black is usually reserved for the winter months and is an excellent scheme for winter sports clothes.

I think that altogether too much play has been given to what we call "camieu" shades or monochromes. On the other hand, if you use several shades of one basic color, it is possible to achieve colorings that are different whilst still belonging to the same "family." The difficulty there, however, is to avoid setting two shades alongside each other that kill all color in both instead of enhancing it.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

It does take a lot of courage to live, doesn't it? No matter how well we live, trouble finds us sooner or later, and some times we are so hard pressed that we think we'll have to end it all. We think we can not weather the storm. It is surprising what the human heart can bear. I am certainly amazed when I see men and women, clear eyed and poised, whom I know have gone through some devastating experiences.

A short time ago I printed a letter from a young girl whose supposed boy friend had, without warning, sent her an invitation to his wedding to another girl. She thought of suicide, but decided against it. A young man saw her letter and wrote as follows:

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I want to congratulate 'Deserted' on her suicide escape. She is not the only one in such a boat. I've been in the same one and am in it still over a lovely girl of 17 who used to be my wife. Some way we couldn't get along and she filed suit for divorce. I was so wrecked at the news I came near! ydoing the same thing as 'Deserted' had in mind. All of a sudden something told me, 'Don't take what you can't give back.' I cried and grieved over her, and do yet at times when I get to thinking of her.

"I heard later that she only married me to get out of school, but nevertheless I have two large pictures of her which money can not buy, for maybe some day she may return to me, and if she does she will be absolutely welcome. I am a poor fellow of 24, but she is the light of life to me. No other girl will need to apply for her place. If she never comes back I'll be a 'lonely spinster' as 'Deserted' said. Now, 'Desterted', young men are not the only ones who fool their companions.

"LONESOME AND BLUE."

I congratulate you on bravely going on with life after such a disappointment, and hope the lovely young wife will come back and you will be happy together.

BROWN EYES: It is not necessary for a girl to be pretty to be popular with boys. You can be friendly to the boy and let him see that you like him without acting silly. That is the only way I know of to win him.

DOLORES: You don't need advice, Dolores. Go on as you have begun.

LINDY ENGAGED

-spread quickly over the city nd everywhere it was presumed hat the wedding would take place in this capital. May or une was given in usually au- horitative sources as the time.

Former President Calles, who welcomed Colonel Lindbergh at Valbuena Field at the comple- ion of his good-will flight from Washington that endeared him o Mexicans, said:

"This is a great pleasure to me. As you know I am very fond of both these young peo- ple. As Mexico has been the scene of their romance I sin- cerely hope they will be married in this country.

"Certainly their own people can not hold them nearer their hearts and wish them more happiness than we Mexicans. These two families and these two young people are very dear to us. They have our best wishes for, and I know they will have, a happy married life."

LINDY MAY FLY TO VISIT SWEETHEART

HAVANA, Feb. 13 (AP)—Curiosity was aroused today as to whether Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh would fly to Mexico City to visit his fiancee, Miss Anne Morrow.

A laconic statement, "I will confine my remarks to aviation," was all Colonel Lindbergh had to say about his engagement, but in confining his remarks to aviation he outlined a flight schedule which some saw as affording an opportunity for a Mexico visit.

Tomorrow he will fly from Miami to New York, departing soon thereafter on a transcontinental flight over the airmail line route from New York to Los Angeles. At Los Angeles he will be within a day's flight of Mexica City where Miss Morrow, with her mother, arrived yesterday.

It was a much delayed Lindbergh who reached Havana late yesterday from Belize, British Honduras. Friends had believed he would arrive here as early at 1:45 p. m., and a crowd, including United States Ambassador Noble Judah and Mrs. Judah, waited for hours for him there.

Word of his engagement had preceded him and he apparently knew it. He jumped from the cockpit of his Amphibian airplane with a shy grin and faced reporters with the comment:

"Well, you know all about it, and I have nothing to say."

LINDY WON'T TALK ABOUT ENGAGEMENT

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (AP)—The New York American today printed the following telephone interview with Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh at Havana:

"You want to know something about the flight?"

"Not particularly. We want to know something about your engagement to Miss Morrow."

"I can't hear what you say. Anyhow, I don't like to give interviews about flying over the telephone. Wait a minute; I'll see if I can get a better connection."

By the time the new line was established the colonel was gone.

COLONEL ARRIVES AT EARLY HOUR

way.

Mr. Howell, of Quanah, remarked about extensive progress already made on the Carlsbad route, and said the party of 26 from Quanah, and that city's citizenship, were behind this highway strong. Mr. Snider, of Altus, expressed amazement at Lubbock's rapid growth in the past few years. "We want this highway, because we know it will draw us closer together," he said. "The Cavenrs are the most wonderful sight in the world."

"The more highways we have, the more neighborly we become," was Mr. Lilly's statement. He declared the folks living along the route of the Carlsbad road, from Oklahoma City to El Paso, do not realize how good it is. "Highways are like towns. They don't just grow. They are built, and it takes brains to build them, the same as is true of Lubbock," Lilly said.

"A real highway is already in existence, from Quanah to Carlsbad, and it up to the towns along the route to tell the world about it," was the declaration of J. M. Moreau, of Olustee, Okla.

"The Carlsbad highway will be the most direct route across the continent, from Buffalo, N. Y., and the New England states, to the Pacific coast," said Mr. Wey of Quanah. "Quanah believes this road will mean more to every town it goes through than two railroads would."

President Murray told the Rotarians that the Lubbock club stands in tenth place for attendance record, among all Rotary clubs in the world. He appointed Dick Smith, as chairman, with Riley Huie and Alvin Hendricks, as a house committee. Art Miller, with classification of machinery distributing was taken into the club as a new member, introduced by Dean J. M. Gordon.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—The Nye resolution proposing another postponement of the effective date of the national origins provision of the immigration act was rejected today by the senate immigration committee.

HARRY LEAHY GIVEN DEATH

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT SWIFTLY JUDGED FOR SLAYING

(By Associated Press)

GEORGETOWN, Tex., Feb. 13.—Harry J. Leahy, Mathis, convicted slayer of Dr. J. A. Ramsey, aged Mathis physician, today was sentenced to electrocution April 12.

Sheriff Louis Lowe, accompanied by three Texas rangers, a short time later departed for the state penitentiary at Huntsville with Leahy.

The court of criminal appeals recently overruled Leahy's motion for a new trial.

Dr. Ramsey, testimony at Leahy's two trials showed, was called from his home at night to administer to an ill woman. He did not return, and his body was found in a shallow grave several miles from Mathis two months later. A Mexican, testifying for the state, said Leahy had killed the doctor and buried him.

In his first trial at Georgetown, Leahy was sentenced to 50 years. A motion for a new trial was granted, and he was convicted here on a change of venue and sentenced to death.

Beall, Old School Lawmaker, Is Dead

DALLAS, Feb. 13 (AP)—Texas lost one of the old school of lawmakers with the death here last night of Jack Beall, 62, former congressman from Texas, traction executive and banker. Mr. Beall, who died suddenly at his home from heart disease, served in congress from 1903 to 1915.

SUNBURY-ON-THAMES, England, Feb. 13 (AP)—Three speeches in defense of Genral Bramwell Booth were made at today's resumption of the sessions of the high council of the Salvation Army which again took up the question of deposing the aged army leader.

land of McAllen, would visit the legislative halls this afternoon, probably assembling in the gallery of the house.

The party bears a letter to Montgomery asking him to resign and a petition said to contain signatures of more than 5,000 persons asking Speaker Barron of the house to reopen the contest of E. M. Smith against Montgomery.

The contest was finally disposed of by the house when it adopted a report of the committee on privileges, suffrage and elections formally seating Montgomery.

This action was taken after the committee had reported to the house that it would probably cost $25,000 for it to conduct a hearing on Smith's allegations, since it would be necessary to bring many persons from Hidalgo county here to testify. The attorney general ruled a subcommittee could not go to Hidalgo county to take evidence.

The house voted overwhelmingly to instruct the committee to bring in a report seating Montgomery and this was done, adopted, reconsidered and tabled, meaning that it could not be reopened again at this session.

The petition to Speaker Barron opened with the quotation from the Texas constitution:

"The citizens shall have the right, in a peaceable manner, to assemble together for their common good, and apply to those invested with the power of government for redress of grievances or other purposes, by petition, address or remonstrance."

Griffin, who signed the petition as attorney for Smith, was a candidate for district jjudge in Hidalgo county against Judge J. E. Leslie, and has pending a contest of the result of the election, returns of which gave Leslie a few more votes than Griffin.

There were a number of women in the party.

While capitol employes and stenographers went to the windows to look at the demonstration, members of the house and senate, working on their respective calehdars, paid little or no attention to what was going on. When the noon recess came the visitors had left the grouds.

In his petition, Smith stated that he desires "only a fair hearing of the testimony, and trial of the cause, so that it may be determined who received the largest number of legal votes," adding:

"Mr. Montgomery should not object to such a hearing; your petitioner craves it."

GYPSY PARTY MEETS DEATH

EXTREME COLD TAKING CONSTANTLY HIGHER TOLL OF LIVES

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 13. — Westward shifting of Europe's Arctic blanket today added France and England to the extreme sufferers from cold unprecedented in Continental weather records. Deaths on the continent continued to increase.

"Very cold" was the forecast for the British Isles for the next 24 hours. In France there was a heavy snowfall in even the sunny Riviera, and it was feared the Marne and Seine would freeze over.

Continued distress was reported from Germany, Holland, Scandinavia, Austria and the Balkan countries. There was a lessening in severity of the weather in Constantinople, however, and the mitigation was gradually spreading westward and offered the promise of relief there.

Warsaw, Poland, reported an entire Gypsy band of 34 men, women and children, frozen to death in their camp near Lublin, while the Express printed today a Vienna dispatch relating that a pack of 100 wolves attacked a school a Javina and killed 16 children, two soldiers and four gendarmes. Seven died at Antwerp.

Berlin had alarming reports of 30 vessels frozen in the western Baltic, some without food and others badly damaged by ice. Airplanes were dispatched with food supplies. Droves of wild boars attacked villagers in Southern Belgium. A temperature of 76 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit, prevailed in some places in poland.

Sofia, Bulgaria, reported the Black Sea ports of Varna and Burgas closed with ice for the first time since 1849.

disabled vessel began heading for the rocks of Unimak Pass the Montauk began to back away. The helpless ship crashed into the Montauk, but the latter vessel made a safe getaway wihle all except one member of the Alloway's crew took to lifeboats.

The crazed member of the Alloway's crew, a man named Poley, refused to leave the freighter. The Alloway's dragging anchors caught on a rock a few yards off shore and at last reports she was holding there with Poley still aboard.

OILER MAY BE AFTER REWARD

SEATTLE, Feb. 13 (AP).—Marines here declared today that the oiler who refused to abandon the freighter Alloway with 33 other members of the crew off the Aleutian Islands yesterday may not be insane as reported but perhaps rather wise.

Brief radio advices from the steamer Montauk, which rescued the men in Unimak Pass, reported that Oiler Poley of Seattle had gone crazy from the five day battle with an Alaskan storm and could not be forced to leave the distressed ship. Mariners suggested, however, that Poley may be staking his life against a small fortune in salvage. If the Alloway should be saved he would be entitled to a percentage of the salvage, depending on the part that his staying with the ship played in her rescue. Admiralty courts look favorably upon claims of seamen for their part in saving property endangered at sea, shipping authorities said.

POLO CLUB FORMED BY TECH FACULTY AND STUDENT

Three Rahs for Mack

It may be remembered that considerable gab has taken place in recent months over the possibility of Eddie Collins becoming manager of the Athletics if and when Connie Mack ever decides to take a rest and let some other fellow mastermind the A's.

That Collins will step in Mack's shoes is generally believed by baseball men. In view of this belief, it is interesting to pass along the reply Eddie gave a New York sports writer recently when that worthy asked Eddie why Mack didn't take a rest and let him (Collins) manage the club.

"One reason is because I don't know half as much baseball as Connie does," Eddie said.

"You ought to sit in the dugout some day and watch Connie. He sees things that no other fellow sees and he is always two jumps ahead of every play. I'm satisfied with my job and I'll hang on to it as long as he wants me to. As far as baseball knowledge is concerned, Connie is the distinguished professor and I'm just the willing pupil."

Strength from Where?

At the same time that Collins delivered this tribute to Mack's master-minding, he was asked about the chances of the Athletics in the coming campaign.

"I won't say we will win the pennant," Eddie said, "but I do think we will have a better ball club. We may not beat the Yankees out, but you can bet that we will be in there every day trying our best."

Big-Hearted Announcer

There's a trick rule that Cleveland boxing fathers observe which forbids the introduction of a man from the ring at a fight unless the commissioners have sanctioned the performance.

Johnny Risko, just home from his fight with Max Schmelling, was at a fight the other night and climbed up in the ring to be introduced with permission, as 'the local boy who went out and made good."

Old K. O. Christner, from the neighboring town of Akron, also was there. He, too, was just back from New York where he had put up a nice scrap against Jack Sharkey.

Well, when Risko got in the ring Christner's friends sent him in likewise and all he got was a cold shoulder from the big-hearted announcer. Risko went over as the local boy who made good, but Christner was left standing there! And none of the boxing commissioners nearby said anything about it.

Those fellows upstairs did, however, and you know how.

Needs an Iron Hat

This seems as good a day as any to call to the attention of the iron hat salesman that a good prospect for them is Clarence "Nibs" Price, the California football and basketball coach.

Mr. Price is one of these young men who can't control his emotions, and apparently his hat, during the exciting moments of an athletic contest.

Price, since the first of the year, has ruined three expensive fedoras. He got excited in that California-Georgia Tech football game and rumpled his hat so that not even the waterboy would have it. He repeated the performance when Kansas play his team basketball and the third chapeau was blotched up in a cage game with Stanford.

INTRAMURAL TILT AGAIN POSTPONED

The deciding game of the intramural football series at Tech between the Aggies and Engineers has again been postponed according to those in charge of the contest. Failure of the principles to agree prevented the tilt from being played Tuesday as announced. The latest date set for the final tilt is Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Inclement weather has been the cause for the continued postponement of the intramural games, and if it is at all possible, the gridders will get together Saturday.

By winning over the Aggies, the Engineer forces can gain a tie with the Liberal Arts school, while a win by the Farmers would give Liberal the undisputed championship.

RALLS CINCHES CROSBY CROWN

Jackrabbits Down Crosbyton In Tuesday Night Game

(Special to The Journal)

RALLS, Feb. 13—Ralls Jackrabbits defeated the Crosbyton Chiefs, 21 to 17, here last night to clinch the basketball championship of Crosby county.

Leading 9 to 6 at the half, the Rabbits piled up a comfortable lead and reverted to their stall offense during the last four minutes of play. Walker scored 13 points for the winners for high point honors while Work of Crosbyton led the Chiefs with 7.

Sonnenberg Will Meet Giant Pole

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 13 (AP)—"Dynamite" Sonnenberg, world's heavyweight champion wrestler, will defend his title against the threat of Stanley Stasiak, giant Pole of Boston, at the auditorium here tonight. Gus will be outweighed about 35 pounds.

GAME SLOWED AS FREQUENT FOULS MADE

LARGE SQUAD IS USED BY PAYNE IN TILT WITH SUL ROSS

Sul Ross proved an easy victim for the Tech basketball sharpshooters last night and the pupils of Coach Victor Payne bombarded the basket to the tune of a 52 to 13 victory over the Alpine aggregation. Showing a superior scoring attack against the Loboes, the crimson basketeers tallied almost at will throughout a game which was slowed up considerably by numerous personal fouls.

The visitors were outclassed from the outset of the rough and tumble contest but fought gamely for an opening through the stiff Tech defense. Practically every member of the Matador squad took a hand in the scoring as Coach Payne gave each cager an opportunity to strut his wares. The Matadors' plays were working to perfection against the disorganized defense of the Alpine crew, the Tech sharpshooters scoring 22 baskets from the field with little difficulty, while Sul Ross was limited to three field goals.

Ransome Walker was missing from the lineup, but the Tech basket loopers made up for his absence with an aggressive brand of basketball that completely outclassed the visitors.

Taking the lead in the early minutes of play the pupils of Payne galloped away with a comfortable lead that sewed up the tilt before many minutes had passed. The startling combination of Hodges and Hunter at forwards, Tadlock at center, Vinzant and Gee at guards piled up a commanding margin and Coach Payne began to send in substitutes which ran the total of Tech participators up to 14 before the game ended.

Tech was leading 28 to 7 as the half ended, but met a stiffer defense in the early minutes of the last stanza. The Sul Ross cagers held the Matador scoring at a standstill for a brief spell, but the crimson sharpshooters soon broke loose again, scoring 23 points before the final gun sounded.

Hodges, Fisher and Gee led the Tech scoring assault. Hodges was high with ten while Fisher and Gee tied for second honors with nine each. In his first appearance in the lineup since the Abilene series, Fisher showed he had not lost any of his scoring punch and brilliant floor play.

The same teams play tonight.

SHARKEY LAUNCHES TRAINING FOR STRIBLING BATTLE

BOSTON GOB HAS TITULAR HOPES

Here are first photographs of Jack Sharkey in training for his coming fight with Young Stribling at Miami, Fla.

These photographs tell better than words the fact that Sharkey, realizing his heavyweight championship ambitions can suffer a serious setback if he loses to the Georgia fighter, intends to train faithfully to reach superb physical condition on Feb. 27.

The Boston gob played around only a few days with his family at Miami before starting the serious training grind.

Skipping rope has always been a favorite exercise for fighters in conditioning themselves for a bout and Sharkey employs it constantly. He is shown at the left taking his daily skips with the hemp.

No group of pictures about the coming fight would be complete without one showing Jack Dempsey. The center photograph shows the popular ex-champion and promoter of the Sharkey-Stribling fight giving Sharkey a friendly handshake for the benefit of the prospective customers watching the workout.

The photograph at the left shows Sharkey punching the bag, and below is a closeup of the talkative Sharkey.

The fight between Sharkey and Stribling seems at this time a certain financial success. Seat orders totaling in money almost the entire cost of the show have been received already, and hundreds of dollars are coming in daily accompanied by orders for ducats.

The fact that both Stribling and Sharkey are already on the ground and training daily is proving an incentive to the ticket sale.

Stribling, from Macon, Ga., has a popular following throughout the south, a following that believes sincerely he will be the next heavyweight champion of the world.

On the other hand, Sharkey is making his first appearance in the south.

ECKHART HERE ON COAST TRIP

ONCE AMARILLO BALL PLAYER WILL TRAIN WITH SEATTLE

Oscar Eckhardt, former coach of the West Texas Buffaloes and slugging outfielder with the Amarillo Texans of the Western League, was in Lubbock this morning enroute to the Pacific Coast where he is to begin training with the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast League. Mr. Eckhardt is driving through in company with Mrs. Eckhardt.

Bought by the Detroit Tigers during the trading season, "Big Os" has been sent to Seattle, a Detroit farm, for the ensuing year. The Seattle club begins training next Sunday, Feb. 17, according to Eckhardt, and their playing season starts March 26.

Mr. Eckhardt is well known throughout the Southwestern Conference as one of the greatest plunging backs ever produced at Texas University. His name appeared on the mythical all-conference teams for three consecutive years that he dealt terror to the opposition.

All Set For Synder Basketball Tourney

SNYDER, Tex., Feb. 13—R. H. Schulze of Dallas, southern commissioner of the Texas A. A. U., together with Giles Wimberly of San Angelo and Wilson Leyhe of Wichita Falls will arrive in Snyder, Wednesday and will act as officials in the twenty-seven games that will be necessary to be played to declare the Girls Championship of West Texas. The men will be guests of the Lions club at the annual weekly luncheon which will also be attended by every committee member who is working for the success of the tournament—and that means every Snyder resident.

Twelve games will be played opening day and will include some old rivals who always fight tooth and nail for every point, among them being Snyder and Lamesa, Roscoe and Colorado, Roby and Hermleigh.

Schmidt Well Liked By Students, Fans

FORT WORTH, Feb. 13—The announcement that Francis (Ai) Schmidt, veteran Southwestern conference coach, will take over the coaching work at Texas Christian university next fall was enthusiastically received on the Horned Frog campus last week. The resignation of Matty Bell to take the position left vacant at A. and M. by the shift of Danna Bible to Nebraska, left the Frogs without mentors.

Members of the football and basketball teams of the purple institution are grinning broadly, for with the signing of Schmidt the Frogs are assured of a veteran mentor who has proved his ability in both fields.

FORSON GETS POSTOFFICE

BIG SPRING, Feb. 13—Forson, new Howard county oil town is soon to have a postoffice, according to advice received from Washington.

WRIGLEY'S "LADIES FREE" PLAN STIRS FUSS AMONG PACIFIC COAST MAGNATES

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13—From one row to another—that seems the way of Pacific Coast league magnates.

After fussing most of the winter over the choice of a league president, the magnates finally chose Harry A. Williams for a two-year term and then enjoyed amicable relations with each other for nine days before William Wrigley, owner at Los Angeles, opened up another battle.

Wrigley, in 1928 admitted women free every day but reimbursed visiting clubs by paying them the amount they would have received had the women paid.

He recently announced, however, that he is going to let them in free every day this year—but not one cent will he reimburse the visitors!

Wrigley's quarrel last season was with the Hollywood club only—it plays in his park—but his new action involves all clubs and each will suffer a loss of hundreds of dollars on every visit to Los Angeles if he keeps his present stand.

Nothing, apparently, can be done about it as each club has authority to charge whatever admission fee it desires for women.

BILLIARDS CROWN COMES BACK HOME

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (AP)—The world's 18.2 balkline billiard crown, worn since last March by Edouard Horemans, of Belgium, is to come back to the United States. Welker Cochran, of Hollywood, and Young Jake Schaefer of Chicago, clashh tonight in the final match of the tournament with the championship going to the winner.

Schaefer eliminated the last of the four foreign entrants when he defeated Kinrey Matsuyama, 400 to 331, yesterday. It was the second reverse for the game little Japanese who won his first three matches in brilliant style. His other defeat was at Cochran's hands in a gruelling battle Monday night.

His triumph over Matsuyama elevated Schaefer into a tie with Cochran for the lead with only their own duel still on the schedule. The two Americans each have won three matches in four starts.

BABE RUTH IS ALSO A GOLFER

CAMERON, Feb. 13. (AP)—Homer Peel, a graduate of Cameron high school, is preparing to leave for Florida to joint the spring training camp of the Philadelphia Nationals. Peel played with the Houston Buffaloes last season. He formerly played with the Cameron Comets, a semi-pro organization here which flourished between 1921 and 1924.

Among other athletes who have made names for themselves in baseball and received their start with the Comets include Ed Kenna, catcher for the Washington Senators; Buster Chatham, infielder for the Pueblo club; Oscar Eckhardt, who will be given a trial this spring by the Detroit Tigers; Lynton Boggess, who will be a catcher for the Dallas Steers, and Chester (Spot) Falk, pitcher for the Montreal Royals of the International league.

UNIVERSITY MAY STOP CAGE TILT

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 13 — "Finis" may be written on the University of Chicago's National Interscholastic high school basketball tournament after the eleventh prep classic the first week in April.

A. A. Stagg, founder and sponsor of the tourney, is ready to abandon the event that last year attracted 42 championship fives from 38 states. If Stagg does not decide to abolish the tournament the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations may withdraw its national aspect at its meeting in Cleveland February 25.

Stagg does not intend to fight the National Federation. "I have no desire to foster a tournament that does not meet with the approval of the high school educators," he said today.

In an effort to determine the attitude of the high school principals, C. W. Whitten, secretary of the national organization, has mailed queries to 8,000 principals all over the country. The answers will be used in determining the final action of the body at Cleveland.

Some persons have contended that the tournaments served as recruiting places for college athletic coaches to get players.

TILDEN BEATEN BY YOUNG STAR

'BIG BILL' RUSTY IN HIS FIRST MATCH SINCE RE-INSTATEMENT

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 13—Back from six months in exile from the ranks of the simon pure amateurs, Big Bill Tilden has found that time and the younger tennis generation have stolen a march on him. His first competition since his reinstatement by the U. S. L. T. A., the Heights Casino invitation found a slower Tilden with rusty strokes that failed at times to place the ball where he wanted it, taking the courts against the youth, speed and power of John Van Ryn, former Princeton captain, and youth came through to the surprising tune of 6-1, 6-4, 6-2.

The final proved that the lanky Philadelphian has a lot of practice ahead of him before he can again qualify for top flight competition just as the preliminary rounds showed him still invincible against lesser opponents. Bill had not trouble sweeping through three rounds i.. one day to reach the final but there he found his six months of absence of competition had left him too far out of practice to cope with the Orange, N. J., youth who gave up a chance for a Davis Cup post last spring to complete his college course.

TEXAS CATTLE IN GOOD SHAPE

OSSES COMPARATIVELY LIGHT PRIOR TO FEBRUARY 1

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 13.—Texas cattle re coming through the winter in ood condition with losses from exosure and starvation comparatively light prior to February 1, H. H. Shultz, statistician with the bureau f agricultural economics, United States Department of agriculture, aid in a report today.

The condition of Texas ranges n February 1 was 82 per cent, two oints lower than one month ago ut slightly higher than the five ear average, Schultz said.

"The condition of cattle on Feb. was 84 per cent, compared with 86 er cent last month. Cattle usually decline about four points during January but this year weight as been maintained somewhat hrough feeding on the range. More eeding has been justified this winter than usual as cattle are now too aluable to lose by starvation when comparatively cheap roughage is available, and supplemental feeding will help prepare cattle for an early spring market. Fat cattle were well sold out last fall and it is the general belief that not as many fat cattle as usual will be available for the spring market.

"Receipts of cattle and calves at Fort Worth during January were 63,127 head, compared with 87,841 head received during January, 1928. Receipts of hogs were practically the same as during January, 1928, while receipts of sheep were about 12 per cent greater than for the same period last year.

"The amount of wool shorn in Texas during 1928 is estimated at 35,591,000 pounds compared with 32,725,000 pounds in 1927. The average weight of wool per head of sheep shorn was 8.4 pounds compared with 8.5 pounds in 1927. Texas continued to lead all states in wool production by a wide margin.'

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Sea Man seemed to quite enjoy the pushing. He yelled, "Ship a-hoy! Look out for this big basket. Not a thing can make it stop. This bunch is on a trip some place. That's why they started on this race." And then he swung the basket 'round, and spun it like a top.

"Hey, hey!" yelled Clowny. "Stop that, quick! I fear that it will make me sick. Oh, my, but I am dizzy. Guess I'll hop out on the ice." The Sea Man laughed. "Ho, ho, har, har. Oh, No," said he: "Stay where you are, I'll stop this whirling stunt, and promise I'll be very nice."

He promptly made his promise good, and stopped as quickly as he could. "Is this as far as we can go?" asked Scouty. "No, siree," replied the man. "I'll push some. But say, my arms are getting sore. You'll have to wait a little while. I'm tired as I can be."

He sat down on the ice to rest. The Tots and Tines never guessed that he was going to play a trick, to give them all a fright. All of a sudden, as they peered at him, the Sea Man disappeared. He slid right through a big hole in the ice, right out of sight.

"Oh, mercy me, what can we do?" wailed Clowny. "Is our trip all through?" "Of course not," answered Scouty. "I will push the basket now." But ere he had a chance to start, the basket took a sudden dart. It slid all by itself and everybody wondered how.

Not far ahead the bunch could see some ice as rolly as could be. 'Twas funny when they reached it, and the queer ride was begun. They'd slide right up a hill and then, slip o'er the top and down again. It's like a scenic railway," shouted Carpy. "Gee, it's fun."

ACHIEVEMENTS ARE OUTLINED

PROGRESS PLAINVIEW C. OF C. IS REVIEWED AT BANQUET

(Special to The Journal)

PLAINVIEW, Tex., Feb. 13—The achievements of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce during the past year passed in review last night as five hundred persons, including visitors from sixteen different towns, attended the anpual banquet of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture in the local municipal auditorium.

Arthur E. Boyd, former president of the organization, listed among the achievements: securing the Denver lines, passing of a county-wide highway paving bond issue, increase of the poultry and dairy industry. He listed highway improvement as one of the major problems of 1929.

Joseph F. Leopold, manager of the southern central division of the United States Chamber of Commerce, delivered the principal address, pointing out the various changes now taking place that effect the business man. H. S. Hilburn, retiring president of the local chamber, and editor of the Plainview Herald, acted as toastmaster.

Short talks were made by Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Tech college; A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce; and D. F. Eaton, Lubbock county agricultural agent.

Charles Reinken, new president of the Plainview organization; newly elected directors, and all visitors were introduced at the banquet.

"The Plains of Texas has a great future. You have done much," Leopold said, "but you have not yet scratched the surface. You have the man power ,it is mobilized, you have the finances and the program, keep up the work." Leopold predicted a most rapid development on the Plains in the next ten to fifteen years.

He explained the services offered by the United States Chamber of Commerce and told of its organization after President Taft desired the opinion of the American Business Man on a national question.

Chinese Troops In Revolt, Take City

CHEFOO, China, Feb. 13 (AP)—A force of 3,000 former Peking government troops recently incorporated in the Nationalist garrison in Shantung and stationed at Lungkow on the northwest Shantung coast has revolted against national authority and taken over control of the city.

STATE GRANTS CHARTER FOR SEAGRAVES RAIL EXTENSION

With the granting of an amended charter covering the proposed extension of the Santa Fe from Seagraves to Lovington, N. M., by the secretary of state at Austin yesterday, Lubbock will continue the fight to aid the railway in securing a permit for the line from the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The fate of the extension is now left to the commission, which has been invited to hold its hearing here. Albert Reed, traffic expert of Dallas, has been employed by the local Chamber of Commerce, to represent this section in presenting testimony to aid the Santa Fe plea. He is in Washington at the present time, but is expected to open up headquarters here in the near future. Last week Reed held a conference here with railway officials and the railway committee of the local Board of City Development.

Should the Santa Fe secure this extension, the Lea county, New Mexico, oil fields will be given an outlet through this city. The Texas and Pacific also is seeking a line to serve this territory from Monahans.

Einstein's Poetry

By BRUCE CATTON

Trying to assimilate to the ins and outs of Professor Einstein's latest theory is by no means the simplest diversion you could select for a quiet evening.

It starts out very harmlessly. Gravitation, magnetism and electricity are all different manifestations of the same force. This is new, but it isn't hard to grasp. You decide that if this is all there is to it, the intricacy of the whole thing has been vastly over-rated.

But that's only the beginning. There are implications, it seems, that follow; and they are no light mental exercise for anybody. As a result of the new conception of the electron. The electron has no reality; it is simply a name for a disembodied force.

This, too, most of us can accept—chiefly because we have only the haziest conception what an electron is supposed to be.

But there is even more to it. What applies to the electron, it is said, applies also to everything in the universe. Sun, stars, moon, the earth—everything is unreal. These things only seem to be. They are shadows, non-existent and without genuine substance. The solid ground under our feet, the blazing sun in the sky overhead, are equally vague and hazy. The entire universe is something between a shadow-shape and a dream.

All of this, it is said, is implied in Einstein's new theory.

To most of us, probably, the whole thing sounds like sheer nonsense. Yet is is accepted by level-headed scientists; furthermore, it is not particularly new. This is the first time it has been put forward as a scientific theory; but, in all ages, poets and artists have voiced it as their greatest creed.

Shakespeare saw eye to eye with Einstein. But he put it more beautifully. In "The Tempest" we find this:

. . . *the baseless fabric of this vision,
The cloud-capped towers, the gorgeous palaces,
The solemn temples, the great globe itself,
Yes, all which it inherit, shall dissolve
And, like this insubstatnial pageant faded,
Leave not a rack behind. We are such stuff
As dreams are made on, and our little life
Is rounded with a sleep."

What is that but the transfiguration of Einstein's higher mathematics into music? Poetry and logic, married to their highest points, meet. The seer and the scientist see the same vision.

And what is that vision, again? Simply this: that the one reality, in a world of moving shadows, is the internal one. Only the soul stands sure. All the rest is merely the stage setting for its earthly incarnation. You, yourself, are more enduring and immortal than sun, stars or earth. They dissolve and vanish without trace. Reality lies within your heart.

This was Shakespeare's vision. Apparently, Einstein, following science instead of poetry, reaches the same conclusion.

Schools And Crime

The American public school system—pride of the nation for many years—is really a great recruiting ground for our steadily increasing army of criminals, according to an article in the February North American Review by Justice Samuel D. Levy of the New York City Children's Court.

Justice Levy explains it thus: Fully 2,000,000 children in our public schools, a tenth of the total enrollment, are below normal mentally. Given special attention, nearly all of these could be developed into useful citizens. But since the ordinary school makes little provision for them, they fall behind in their classwork, are dubbed "dummy" by their school fellows, and rapidly develop anti-social attitudes that later lead many of them into criminal pursuits.

The remedy, as he sees it, is the establishment of ungraded schools in which such children could be educated without being made to feel inferior. The cost, he admits, would be great, but he believes the savings in the crime bill would more than counterbalance it.

His suggestion is worth earnest consideration. The National Educational Association might well give it some study.

THE PLAINSMAN

FIRST steps toward securing a new park for the city of Lubbock were taken at a meeting of the city commission last night when a survey of all available and desirable park sites was ordered.

Reports at the meeting showed that there are a total of 215.11 acres owned by the city, 203.41 acres of this amount being at Tumble-N pool and park.

Everyone is agreed that more parks are needed here and this, at least, is a start in the right direction.

Eastern New Mexico, a country which is likely to become one of Lubbock's most fruitful trade territories within a few years, is right now in the best condition it has known for several years.

Ever since the years of 1917 and 1918 when high feed, dry years, and low markets bankrupted most of the cattlemen of the country, eastern New Mexico has been in somewhat precarious financial condition.

But this year things are changed. A steady trickle of revenue is coming from oil leases and royalty, spurred by development being daily accelerated in that section. There was abundant rain last fall, ranges are holding up well through the winter and cattle, even this late, are sleek and fat. Tatum and Lovington are building more than at any recent time.

If the Santa Fe wins its fight for an extension from Seagraves to Lovington, this country, vast in potentialities for development, will become part of Lubbock's territory.

Victor Payne, coach of the Texas Tech basketball team, deserves a lot of credit.

Payne took a mediocre batch of material at the first of this year and fashioned a basketball combination that will give any team a real battle.

The Matadors have lost some games this year but few, indeed, are the basketball teams that undergo an undefeated season.

Attendance at some of the games has hardly been representative of the city of Lubbock.

Tonight is the last home appearance for Payne and his Matadors.

Lubbock's building permits sail beyond the half million mark for the year and again this city steps to the forefront as a state leader.

Building permits furnish just one means of revealing in black-and-white statistics the progress which is being made by a community.

They may generally be taken, however, as accurate barometer of the progress in a city.

In Lubbock other statistical evidences of leadership correlates the upward trend in building.

The South Plains of Texas offer the best opportunities. Lubbock, as the hub city of this entire region, is—we believe—possessed of the brightest future of any city in the state today.

One travels through the country between Brownfield and the New Mexico line and is impressed with just how new, raw and undeveloped this region really is.

Out there ranching is still the principal industry—big ranches have been only slightly reduced by tracts of land in cultivation.

Out in that country, cowboys still lounge around town—cowboys with big hats, unshaved chins, bow legs and boots.

It does not require too much of an imposition on the imagination, to visualize the day when railroads will have penetrated those scrubby sand hills, when plows have cut across the unfenced prairies and when waving fields of grain and cotton will supplant the unattractive chaparral that now engulfs the countryside.

Opportunities for investment in that part of the country are many.

Of course it is a gamble, but then, investment in any country is a gamble.

Bachao Sakao, new king of Afghanistan and former water boy, has named as premier a relative of former King Amanullah. Looks as if Bachao is trying to carry water on both shoulders.

Along Hoover's Trail In SOUTH AMERICA

With Our Contemporaries

THE FRONTIER SPIRIT

We like to say that we have left the frontier a long way behind us. Our grandfathers living in isolated wilderness settlements, used to have to battle mightily every winter with snow, cold and loneliness, but we have a habit of saying that all sort of thing is buried in the past. Automobiles, telephones, good roads and a rapidly increasing population—so they tell us—have set us free.

Maybe so. But there are still many places in the United States where a winter blizzard calls for just as much fortitude, endurance and bravery as it did two generations ago. The frontier, at times, is nearer than we think.

A terrific snowstorm struck the northwest recently. In Idaho the drifts were 10 feet deep. Roads were impassable; a high wind and bitter cold added to the difficulties of dwellers in loneranches.

At the height of the storm a daughter of a stockman was stricken with acute appendicitis. The nearest surgeon was 30 miles away at the town of Cottonwood.

The father put his daughter in a covered sleigh and started out. All day they fought the blizzard. By night they had made so little headway that they had to turn back.

Somehow they got word to some neighbors. The next morning a handful of cowboys appeared. Driving their animals ahead of the sleigh, the cowboys plunged to their necks in the drifted snow to break a patch for the sleigh. Throughout the day they kept at it. The sleigh moved forward by inches. Men and horses forced themselves to keep at it to the limit of their endurance. Bravely and painfully they made their way over the 30 mile stretch of blocked roads to the town of Cottonwood.

Finally, late at night, they passed the last of the drifts and reached the town. The girl was operated on and the surgeon said she would recover.

That sort of thing used to common-place in America. In the old days every small town in the northern part of the country took such experiences as part of the regular winter routine.

Naturally, such conditions called for physical endurance and courage. No race of weaklings could survive in such circumstances. It is probably true that a good part of what we like to consider our typically American energy, fortitude and daring are the product of the rigorous training school of the old fashioned winter.

Such things don't happen as often as they used to. They are the exception now and not the rule. But it is comforting to see that when they do happen, people are still capable of meeting them. The ability to face cold, darkness and storm is one of our most valuable heritages. So long as we continue to possess it, we can retain our old pride in our birthright. The dauntless Idaho cowboys have served us all. They have proved that the strain of the hard frontiersmen is still strong.—Abilene Reporter.

Einstein comes out now and calls electro-magnetism and gravity identical. It sounds like a power-trust idea.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—What does Latin American want to buy from the United States?

The answer is as readily obtained here in Washington at the Department of Commerce as in a tour through Central and South America.

For years the department has maintained a clearing house for this sort of information which is so valuable to the manufacturer. Working through our trade representatives over the world in furtherance of the integal part of our foreign policy concerning promotion of our foreign trade, it has helped immensely in development of our export market.

American firms have gone to South America and other part of the world to push their products with advertising and promotion drives as intensive as they have waged at home—some of them have that is, and that means the larger corporations. But there are thousands of smaller manufacturers whose size does not justify or permit establishment of world-wide sales organizations although their products could frequently be sold in substantial quantities in this country or that.

It is these producers especially who are benefitted by the tip system of the Department of Commerce which broadcasts weekly a list of the articles in which foreign merchants, agents and consumers are interested. The Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce provides the bulletins to any manufacturer who requests them, releasing them simultaneously over the country through its 70 or more district or co-operative offices so that everyone will have an equal chance at the business.

More than 35,000 such requests have been received from abroad since the service was instituted. In most instances the inquirers have sought to act as agents or as both purchasers and agents.

Latin-American business men have made extensive use of it. In one week the bureau recently listed 30 manufactured articles concerning which it had inquirers from Argentina.

These included advertising novelties—such as rulers and celluloid articles, rubber aprons, caps, gloves and balloons, bicycles, cardboard, insecticides, leather articles, paints, petrolatum, plumbing ware, toys, whippletree machinery, electric wiring supplies, concrete mixers, cutlery, lumber, elevators, glassware, hardware, stoves, kitchen utensils, medicines, carpenters tools and steel window and door casements.

Colombia has been asking about bath robes, canned fruit and vegetables, children's clothing, corsets, cut glass, automobile gloves, haberdashery, linen goods, photographic supplies, razors, sanitary ware, sporting goods, tropical suits toilet articles, tools, trunks and suitcases, umbrellas and parasols, underwear, watches and alarm clocks.

Uruguay has expressed interest in cochineal, electric and player pianos radio sets and parts, copper distilling machinery for making alcohol and sugar refining machinery.

Brazil has inquired about patent leather, tools to be used in orchards, sport model airplanes, tin foil, agricultural machinery, asbestos, automobiles and motorcycles, canning factory machinery, farm lighrting sets, shellac hardware, lard making machinery, pipe, electric refrigerators, rosin, slaughter house equipment, caustic soda, spices, sulphur, tin plate and wire.

Other articles which have recently been made the subject of similar inquiries from Latin-American countries include cotton yarn, candy, ash trays, dried fruit, hosiery, canned fish cotton piece goods rice, yarn, bathtubs, metal tags for cattle and poultry, food for invalids and children, grocery specialties, baking powder, nails, iron-roofing, tin plate for bottle caps, rubber shoes—and enough other things to indicate that the demand for our goods is extremely varied.

In New York

By Swan

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Gullibility and suspicion often play strange parts in this heterogenous island. Here Honesty is more apt to be suspended than anywhere else, perhaps, in the world, while fraud often sheds an attractive luster.

Let a man try to give something away and he is at once questioned. But the city will give millions for nothing in a brilliant guise. The city is sympathetic, but it has been known to snicker at what is genuine.

All my time in New York has not been spent in cheap rooming houses, but they abound in stories and if this column sometimes seems to repeat scenes, credit it to the great number of cheap rooming houses in New York and the vast array of tales they tell.

It was, then, in such a place that a dapper, stout little man with a half-moon of baldness upon his head lived. He was one of the few that wasn't transient. His clothes had a race track toutishness about them; a cheap dapperness. His collar was always clean and stiff and his shoes shined. He reflected a cheap affluence. Yet he was always broke. He would borrow dimes for his coffee and doughnuts.

And in the evening he would sit in the funny front room and tell all and sundry among the transients his story. He was, he would relate heir, to $250,000. Soon he would get it—any day now. The matter was in process of litigation at the moment, he would say. Meanwhile he had no money—would someone give him a quarter, for instance?

"Well, why don't you go down to your lawyer and draw some advance money—he ought to stake you for a little if it's all so sure!" the annoyed listeners would say.

"But I'm too proud to do that. He thinks I have money and he knew some of my relatives. I wouldn't have him know how I live."

Folk would shrug their shoulders and give him a dime. And so it went.

The other morning I read an item in a newspaper. It told how this dapper little man was found dead in a gas-filled room. He had tired of waiting. But the funny thing is that the afternoon editions sent a reporter around to see the lawyer—and the little man actually had a fortune coming to him but the day before had been told that it might take a year to get his money.

He just couldn't go on borrowing dimes!

A young man who goes about town to the innumerable "teas" that are given these days was being introduced about the other night. One of the young adorers, who lisped as well as any talking picture, burbled up with: "Really, I've heard too much about you that I thought you mutht be a myth."

"Well, you run right back and tell them that I'm not—I'm not a myth, I'm a mythter."

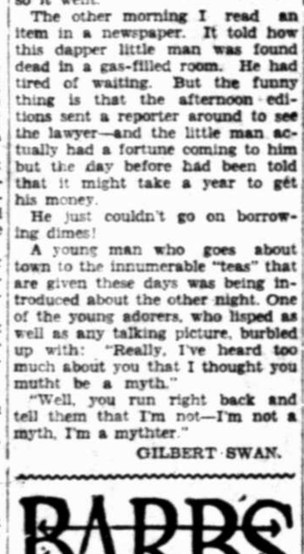

GILBERT SWAN.

A Question Box

Miss R.—1. "What is meant by an irritable heart?"

By an irritable heart is meant one that is not up to par and is easily deranged by emotions and infringements of hygienic laws.

LULU HUNT PETERS, M.D.

2. "Should there be much pain and soreness after a scarnine month after an operation?"

No. Go back to your surgeon and see what is the trouble.

3. "Does nervousness ever cause pain anywhere, or difficult breathing?"

It might. It is quite evident that you need a physical check-up.

4. "Is a secretion from the breasts normal? It isn't noticeable until it hardens, and can only be removed by soaking with warm water. Should there be spots on the nipples, red most of the time, but occasionally white?"

There is no secretion from the breasts that is normal, except milk during the time of nursing, and a little watery secretion known as colostrum, which may appear before the baby is born. You have a condition in your breasts which is abnormal, and you should see a competent surgeon immediately, on account of the possibility of cancer. Miss R. Cancer is curable if taken in time.

Mrs. C.—The article on Acne will answer your questions.

Until your boy, who is self-conscious and unhappy because his eyebrows meet over his nose, can see a skin specialist to have the hairs removed by the electric needle, he can pull them out, one by one with a pair of tweezers. The girls—old and young—have been doing some shaping of the eyebrows for years with apparently no bad results.

Mrs. K.—A cyst is any sac, normal or abnormal, especially one which contains a liquid or semi-solid. The word cyst means bladder.

The normal examples are the gall and the urinary bladders. Usually, however, when cysts are spoken of abnormal cysts are meant. Examples of these are wens, which are sebaceous cysts due to the retention of the oily material from the oil glands; meibomian or chalazion cysts, cysts of the oil glands in the upper eyelid; follicular cysts of the ovary, which are fairly common and are due to some inflammatory condition which prevents the follicles from rupturing as they do normally once a month. The fluids accumulate and the cysts may grow to the size of a pea or an apple, or even larger.

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters can not diagnose, nor give personal advice. Your questions, if of general interest, will be answered in the column in turn. The World And All

BY CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

LONGER LIFE

We are sorely in need of more years in which to live. Of this I have long been convinced.

We do not live longer than did our forefathers, although misinterpretation of medical statistics often leads many people to believe that we do. More of us live through infancy than formerly did, and that fact, digested into statistical tables, gives us what is called a longer average life, but the fact is that the average adult has no more years to look forward to than his grandfather had.

Miss I. A. R. Wylie, in February Harper's deplores the shortness of life. She thinks, as I do, that we could learn something about living if we had about three hundred years each in which to live here.

Miss Wylie doesn't think the doctors are going to do anything about it. I disagree in this hoping era. Many things I don't hope for. I don't hope for any improvement in the human animal by reason of statutory laws. I don't hope for much improvement of the intelligence of the race by reason of the spread of literacy.

But I have very lively hopes for the real and substantial lengthening of life by reason of medical research, development of dietary knowledge, and greater freedom of the individual from economic drudgery.

The common cold, heart diseases, and cancer are the factors that need to be eliminated in order to lengthen the average human life appreciably.

If these three diseases, or classes of diseases, were taken care of as well as diabetes is now checked by insulin, the average adult could actually look forward to a good many more years of life. The person who has reached maturity could, I believe, reasonably expect to live a century. What a difference that would make with one's plans on leaving college!

A hundred years of life would be a term worth preparing seriously for. As it is now, the educational system of the most civilized nation is based upon the presumption that the student hasn't time to prepare very thoroughly for life, since he has only about sixty years altogether, and certainly not more than half of that time can be spent in preparation and education.

Let's turn over a few thousands of murderers to the Rockefeller institute, Johns Hopkins university and the American Medical society for use in experiments that may result in elimination of colds, heart disease and cancer.

LUBBOCK HOUSEWIFE TESTIFIES

"I've Suffered 15 Years And Since Taking One Bottle Orgatone Feel Fine

"I've had a long, hard struggle with ill health but by the help of Orgatone I have found relief at last," said Mrs. J. C. Harper, of 506 Ave. K, Lubbock, Texas, while talking with the Orgatone representative recently.

"I've had stomach trouble so bad for fifteen years that my life was miserable, she continued, "but I'm a lot better since I began taking Orgatone. I was in such a run-down condition I couldn't eat anything I wanted and was losing in weight and got weaker every day. After eating even the smallest meals I would bloat up and my heart would beat so fast I was afraid something serious would result. I would have severe headaches and was weak and nervous and sometimes thought I would be compelled to stay in bed. I took all kinds of medicine but kept getting worse until I was discouraged and almost lost hope of finding anything that would help me.

"I read so much about Orgatone that I decided to try it. It may be hard to believe, but its the truth, I feel better than I have in fifteen years, and I've just taken one bottle of Orgatone. I am no longer bothered with my awful headaches, my appetite is splendid and I can eat anything I want without it hurting me in the least. My heart doesn't bother me as it did and I feel better in every way, my nerves are quiet now and I sleep fine every night. I give Orgatone credit for straightening me up and I am glad to give this statement and to recommend it to my friends."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowen's Drug Store under the personal direction of the special Orgatone representative. —adv.

HINT OF BRIBE IN OKLAHOMA PROBE

WITNESS ALLEGES $1200 BURIED IN TIN CAN; PROSECUTION SAYS IT BROUGHT PARDON

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 13 (AP)—Twelve hundred dollars that T. N. Crossthwaite, Ardmore shoemaker, says he buried in a tin can near his home, but which legislative investigators are attempting to show played a part in securing a pardon for R. D. Crossthwaite, the shoemaker's son, was attracting the scrutiny of the house of representatives and the senate court of impeachment today.

One of the 11 articles of impeachment on which Henry S. Johnston, suspended governor, is being tried before the senate court, deals with the issuance, to the younger Crossthwaite, of a pardon at a time when he, a convicted murderer, was listed as a fugitive from justice.

The elder Crossthwaite, who had been sought for some time by members of the house of representatives investigating committee for questioning in connection with the pardoning of his son, was brought to the capitol to explain what he had done with $1,200 which, bank records had shown, he had secured by cashing a check.

Crossthwaite told the committee his son-in-law had borrowed the money, after the check had been cashed, but later had returned it to him.

"After your son-in-law gave you the cash again," E. P. Hill, committee attorney asked, "What did you do with it?"

"That's my business," the witness retorted.

"I buried it two feet under the ground in a tin can—a baking powder can, I think," he answered, however, when forced to talk under a threat of contempt action.

"Are you willing to get the money, and bring it here to show this committee?" Hill then asked.

"I don't think so."

"Why?" Hill queried.

"Because I was hi-jacked and had $190 taken off me once," the witness replied.

COURT CONTEMPT HEARING DELAYED

Hearing on the motion for contempt of court against J. S. Lancaster, scheduled for 10 o'clock this morning, was postponed until tomorrow morning by Judge Clark M. Mullican. This motion was filed after it is alleged that Lancaster failed to abide by an injunction granted against him by the 99th district court last month.

The Whaley Lumber company recovered judgment and foreclosed a lien on certain property of Mr. Lancaster in a previous civil suit. An injunction was granted by the court restraining the defendant from removing a windmill and other improvements from the land.

The motion for contempt states that Lancaster willingly violated the writ of injunction.

DEATH STALKS CO-WORKER, AND THEN WIFE OF NOTED EDUCATOR

(By Associated Press)

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Feb. 13 — A death mission carried Dr. Edwin Diller Starbuck to Minneapolis Monday; another was bringing him back here last night. He was called home by the sudden death of his wife, Anna Diller Starbuck, shortly after he arrived in Minneapolis with the body of Miss Linnette A. Nelson, who committed suicide here Sunday.

Dr. George E. Maresh, coroner, said he believed the death of Mrs. Starbuck, University of Iowa music instructor, was due entirely to "natural causes." He attributed it to paralysis resulting from cerebral hemorrhage. Mrs. Starbuck was found dead in bed yesterday morning.

Examination convinced the coroner, he said, that there was no connection between the suicide Sunday of the unobtrusive and retiring girl who worked with Dr. Starbuck as a research assistant in the character education station of which he is director, and the sudden death of his wife. Dr. Starbuck also is head of the university's department of philosophy.

Awaiting Dr. Starbuck's return, Dr. Maresh said no inquest would be held.

Students at the university said Miss Nelson learned Thursday or Friday that her research work had ended. She had no close friends or confidants, they added. When she was found dead Sunday, several open gas jets and a note written on a library card were the only evidences of suicide. The note said:

"External circumstances have not driven me to this. I have proved simply that living is intolerable to one whose mind and soul daily destroy his ideals."

Mrs. Starbuck, mother of six children, had been a piano teacher in the school of music here since 1908.

The Starbuck home was a rendezvous for students interested in art, philosophy and religion. Both Dr. and Mrs. Starbuck who traveled extensively, were recognized as critics of art and music, Mrs. Starbuck having composed many piano selections.

ORDER SURVEY ON PARK PLAN

DEFINITE PROGRESS IS MADE AT MEETING LAST NIGHT

Definite progress toward the establishment of a park plan in Lubbock was made last night with the joint meeting of the city commission and the park board at the city hall. A complete survey of all available and desirable park sites in the city including location and price, was ordered by the commission.

Meeting for the study of the city's park and playground problem, the commission learned that the present property for parks owned by the city amounted to 215 acres. This includes 203 acres at and near the swimming pool, four acres west of the K. Carter school, and about eight acres at Avenue Q and 25th street.

The park board was authorized by the commission to secure as many tracts as possible in the survey, and intimated that no sites smaller than a block would be considered. The park board, consisting of Charles H. Mahoney, chairman, K. N. Clapp, J. B. Maxey and Mrs. C. F. Stubbs, will meet again at 2 o'clock Friday.

adopted a code of ethics to eliminate unfair competition. Rebating and other price discriminations through the use of premiums, gifts and special sales, would be taboo under the code.

EASILY OUTDISTANCES ALL COMETITION IN SPRING GO

(By Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 13.—American sprinters have been trying to match the speed of Percy Williams at all sorts of distances but with failure.

The Vancouver flier, double sprint winner at the Olympics, had beaten his rivals from below the border at 40, 50 and 60 yards in Boston, Newark and New York before he accomplished the same thing at 45 yards in the annual Meadowbrook games in Philadelphia last night.

Williams' list of victims during his brief but meteroic American invasion includes such stars as Karl Wildermuth, of Georgetown; Jimmy Daly, of Holy Cross; Jimmy Quinn, former Holy Cross flash now competing for the New York A. C.; and Chet Bowman and Jimmy Pappas of the Newark A. C.

The Canadian Express flashed down the straightaway in 4 9-10 seconds to take the heat of the 45 yard special last night and beat Bowman and Alf Bates, of Penn State, in the process.

In the final the Canadian showed the way by inches to Wildermuth, Papas and Bowman in 5 1-10 seconds.

BOMBS, THREATS ECHO MEXICO RIOTS

GIL BLAMES ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION OF SUNDAY ON FANATICAL CATHOLIC GROUP

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 13 (AP)—Bombs and threats of kidnaping today caused heavy police guards to be placed about the homes of prominent figures in public life.

Against this background there appeared in today's newspapers here a second signed statement of President Emilio Portes Gil saying the government was convinced that "Exalted Fanatical (Roman) Catholics" were responsible for the attempt made against his life Sunday.

Deportation of a Swede, an Italian and a consul of Bolivia were ordered, after expression of pro-Catholic sentiments.

Three more bombs were discovered in the offices and homes of other prominent Mexicans whose names were not revealed. Police meanwhile have made no arrests in connection with the bomb found in the offices of Governor Aaron Saenz of Nuevo Leon Sunday night.

President Portes Gil, former President Calles, and other prominent Mexicans have received threats against their lives, similar in appearance to threats received by General Obregon prior to his assassination, police headquarters revealed. Those to President Calles threatened kidnaping of his daughter, Ernestina, who is Mrs. Thomas A. Robinson, wife of an American.

A detective left at the scene of the dynamiting of the presidential special train Sunday morning concluded his investigations and put three persons under arrest. Their names were not disclosed. Forty nine women and 19 men arrested Saturday at the funeral of Jose De Leon Toral, assassin of General Obregon, were turned over by police to the governor of the federal district.

The three men arrested and ordered deported for pro-Catholic utterances are Alberto Cuataparo, honorary consul of Bolivia at Ciudad Lerdo, Durango; Edward Thungben, Swede, Mexico City, charged with staging a public manifestation at Toral's funeral, and Andaquiles Giacono, Italian, charged with publication of book entitled "Martyrs of Catholocism." Their property will be subject to confiscation under the new policy inaugurated by President Gil.
