Three Days Drizzling Rain Fills Lake Fryer to More Than 2,400 Acre Feet; Much Topsoil Lost

Ochiltree county and the greater part of northeast Texas was literally covered with a sheet of water following a three day rain Sept. 27-29, which varied from an inch in some vicinities in the southern part of the county to as much as ten inches in others. Wolf creek went on a rampage and reached flood proportions heretofore unmatched, destroying property, killing livestock and doing unestimated damage to the Wolf creek dam. Crops were washed out in many areas, which will have to be resown, and much topsoil was reported lost.

Official rainfall records maintained in Perryton by Judge Jack R. Allen revealed that 2.12 inches of rain fell here Thursday night and early Friday with an additional .62 of an inch recorded Saturday bringing the total received to 2.74. Near freezing temperatures accompanied the rains.

Wolf Creek Damage

According to observations made along Wolf creek by George M. Parker, chief of Perryton SCS office, and W. J. Caserta, government lake official for this region of Amarillo, water reaching a height of 25 feet in some places poured from tributaries and filled the creek bed to capacity doing considerable damage to the Lake Fryer dam. Water went over the north wing wall of the spillway approximately five feet deep at the east end, placing around 100 feet of this portion under water. Flood waters reached to within four or five feet of the top of the dam at the spillway.

Dirt was washed out from behind the south wing wall of the spillway from 50 to 60 feet along the east end letting the wing and auxiliary wall break off back to the first construction joint or approximately 30 feet. Sheet piling at the toe of the spillway was badly damaged. The current ate into the vertical bank on the south side for a considerable distance, far enough to include some of the rip-rap on the east and of the dyke above this raw bank. Also considerable cutting of the banks on either side was observed below the dam.

Picnic Area

The picnic area below the dam was extensively damaged with more than a score of tables scattered along the stream bank for two miles. Water reached a depth of seven feet in the lower part and from three to four feet in the main area. Heavy deposits of debris and sa...

The Smaller War Plants Corporation is working on a plan whereby veterans will be allowed to inspect and buy army automotive equipment ahead of the regular dealer sales. This plan was tried out at San Antonio, Sept. 19, and 58 veterans purchased trucks and similar equipment valued at more than $40,000.

C. Ray Earley, district manager of SWPC, says that the experiment at Fort Sam Houston was unusually successful. Experience of veterans and representatives of political sub-divisions in the purchase of army automotive equipment has been very unsatisfactory. Both were supposed to have a priority in the purchase of such equipment but they found the so-called priority pretty much of a myth.

If the government really means what they say about granting the

Dowers Youth Writes Folks

Two letters were received this week by Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Dowers concerning their son, Knute, who for over four years had been a prisoner of war captured by the Japanese in 1941 when Corregidor fell. One was from their son, who was recently evacuated from Tokyo to Manila on the hospital ship Benevelonce and the other was from Cpl. Frank Teague, who pail him a visit.

Dowers was kept in various prison camps during his incarceration and recently escaped along with a group of fellow prisoners from a camp at Tsurriga, 450 miles from Tokyo. They made thier way on a Jap train to Tokyo and joined the allied forces.

His letter postmarked Sept. 16 follows:

"I'm still heer and don't know when I'll leave. I can hardly wait to get home and see you all. I've almost forgotten what everybody looks like, its been so long. You probably won't know me either, I've changed an awful lot.

Its good to see Manila again and the natives I knew before the war. The Philippines is a wonderful place. I may return someday.

I don't know whether I'll fly back or sail yet. I've got a lot of red tape to go through. I've already been processed and examined. I was found in excellent physical condition and now weigh 180. Expect to weigh more when I get home.

Hoping to see everybody soon."

Cpl. Teague, now serving with the Army in Manila, writes in a letter postmarked Sept. 21 as follows:

"Will drop you a note to let you know I saw that long lost boy of yours, Knute. I should say Alfred K., because I've been hunting him since Sept. 1 and just today located him due to the fact I said Knute Dowers instead of Alfred K. Dowers—I've been going to the Red Cross, as they have a list of them that came in today. She asked if it could be Alfred K. He had been there since the 9th. I went out to

Sumpter is Chairman of Ochiltree County Red Cross Chapter; Succeeds Judge Dave Shanks

Judge Dave Shanks retires as wartime Chairman of the Ochiltree County Red Cross Chapter, after four years of outstanding service. F. B. Sumpter, Perryton real estate and insurance man, was named to succeed Judge Shanks at the annual election of officers held in the county courtroom, Thursday, Sept. 28, 8 p. m.

Other chapter officers are: George M. Parker, vice chairman; Mrs. Gene Brillhart, secretary; Miss Moina Caldwell, treasurer; Dave Shanks, L. R. Conner, Mrs. R. T. Correll and A. N. "Fred" Dowers, directors.

The new officers were nominated by a committee consisting of Mrs. R. T. Correll, Mrs. F. L. Garrett and Van W. Stewart. No nominations were made from the floor.

The nominating committee recommended that an executive secretary be employed by the local chapter until such time as the county employs a county service officer. A service officer will relieve the Red Cross of much of its home service obligations. This recommendation was approved by the chapter at the annual meeting.

The above officers and directors will appoint the standing committees to carry on the many activities of the chapter during the coming year.

Service Calls Four Oct. 7

The Ochiltree county local draft board announced this week that four youths were scheduled to leave Sunday, Oct. 7, for Oklahoma City, Okla., to be inducted into the armed forces. The men, who will fill this county's October induction quota are Jackson Hartford Wooster, Roger Curtis Tandy, Wesley Clarence Tusing and Ivan Eugene Dow. Dow is from the Waka community.

Harold Glen Carnes left Monday, Oct. 1, for Okla. City to take a pre-induction physical examination. Dan Gerard Ellis, who is enrolled at TCU will take a physical examination at Dallas, having transferred from local board No. 1. These men fill the county's pre-induction quota for the current month.

New rulings on the selective service system were released by the board as follows:

Any person 18 or 19 years of age who, while pursuing a course of instruction at a high school or similar institution of learning, is ordered to report for induction during the last half of one of his academic years at such school or institution, shall, upon his request, have his induction postponed until the end of the academic year, without regard to the date during the calendar year on which it ends or until he ceases to pursue the course, whichever is earlier.

Also a person who enters a course in high school before they became 18 years old can request postponement of induction until they graduate or until they cease to satisfactorily pursue courses. This applies until they reach the age of 20 years.

Students enrolled in college can request a postponment of induction before reaching 18 years old to the end of the quarter or semester or until the course of instruction they are pursuing is accomplished unsatisfactorily, whichever is the earliest.

Someone has said that we're only sure of two things, death and taxes. Anyway, the death rate doesn't increase every time congress meets.

Rangers Beat Spearman Friday Night

The Perryton Rangers took their third consecutive victory Friday evening at Ranger field when they downed the Spearman Lynx 7-0. Playing under most difficult condition, induced by cold rain, both teams turned in a good game with the newly revived Lynx slightly outclassed by a more experienced Ranger eleven.

Coach Paul Robertson of Spearman stated that the Lynx had been inactive during the past three years and that this years team was built entirely from fresh men who hadn't played football before.

Floyd Murray, Ranger coach, has developed a formidable array of manpower this year as portrayed by an undefeated season thus far. Players are showing great adaptability in taking over different positions.

Friday's game opened on a muddy field with the Lynx receiving the kickoff on their own 35-ya... line and returning it to the half way mark. On the next play Spearman fumbled losing the ball to the Rangers. Taking the ball on the 30-yard stripe, Bill Jones made the first gain of the game for 5 yards before being downed by Bobby Crawford, Lynx halfback. Jones repeated for a 4 yard gain. Keith Bray, 165 pound Ranger fullback plunged through center for a 6 yard gain to chalk up the first down of the tilt. The Rangers took to the air on the next play when Jones completed a pass to Kenneth Fuller from the Lynx 25-yard line. Fuller was downed on the 1-yard line. A determined Lynx eleven settled down and opposition was held from the goal. The ball went over to Spearman who manuevered it out of dangerous terri...

Pvt. Joyce W. Hoch Is Declared Officially Dead by War Dept.

Private Joyce W. Hoch, after being missing in action on Java for over two years and declared as a prisoner of war by the Japanese government in January of 1944, has been officially listed as dead according to a telegram received Tuesday by his uncle P. D. Thiessen from the War Department.

JOYCE W. HOCH

The telegram was signed by Edward F. Witsell, acting adjutant general of the Army, and read as follows:

"It is with deep distress that I must inform you that since my telegram of August 30 inviting you to submit a message for attempted transmission to your nephew in the event he was returned to military control, a delayed report has just been received from the Japanese government which states that your nephew Private Joyce W. Hoch died in Burma on August 25, 1943, from tropical ulcer while a prisoner of war of the Japanese government. The secretary of war asks that I express his deepest sympathy to you in your loss. Permit me to add my own personal condolence. Letter follows immediately."

Private Hoch volunteered for Army service on January 15, 1941, and received his initial training at Camp Bowie, Texas. He left the States November 17, 1941, and sailed for the Philippines with the 131 Field Artillery division. While at sea they heard by radio of the fall of Manila and changed their course to Java. History of Church

The nucleus of the First Christian Church of Perryton, Texas, was formed by the families of the Christian Churches who were formerly members of the churches of Ochiltree, Texas and Gray, Oklahoma.

In July, 1909, at old Ochiltree, W. A. Boggess, of Dallas, Texas, held a revival meeting which resulted in the formation of the Ochiltree Christian Church with 24 charter members. The old Ochiltree courthouse, which is now the home of the American Legion, was used as a temporary meeting place. The first business meeting of this church was called in July, 1909, at which time elders and deacons were elected, and the church was organized in harmony with the Texas Christian Mission Board, of Dallas, Texas. S. G. Battenfield was called to serve as minister

Veterans' SERVICE BUREAU

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper, through special arrangement with the Washington Bureau of Western Newspaper Union at 1616 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., is able to bring readers this weekly column on problems of the veteran and serviceman and his family. Questions may be addressed to the above Bureau and they will be answered in a subsequent column. No replies can be made direct by mail, but only in the column which will appear in this newspaper regularly.

Veterans Bill of Rights

It is virtually certain that this session of the congress will liberalize many provisions of the G.I. Bill of Rights, particularly since President Truman and the Veterans administration have now given added impetus to needed clarification and liberalization.

In his message to the congress, the President urged that prompt consideration be given for more liberal hospitalization and veterans care, more vocational training under the vocational rehabilitation act and to education and training under the serviceman's readjustment act (G.I. bill). The President further urged more specific language for re-employment of veterans under the selective service act, so there can be no doubt about the right of a veteran to get back his old job should he desire it.

The Veterans administration itself will take the lead and spearhead the fight for these clarifying and liberalizing amendments and the administration will have the backing of such organizations as the American Bar association, the American Institute of Banking, the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

At this time 22,349 veterans, out of more than two million demobilized thus far, are taking advantage of the education features of the bill of rights. Some of the proposed amendments would include "adequate subsistence and travel allowances for veterans taking intensive refresher courses away from home; permit instruction by correspondence, particularly from approved educational institutions which have not hitherto conducted correspondence courses."

Questions and Answers

Q.—My husband was given an honorable medical discharge March 9, 1943. At that time they did not receive a discharge button. Where can he obtain one? Mrs. R. R., Marshalltown, Iowa.

A.—At any army separation center, probably at your local draft board, or one may be purchased at almost any army store.

Q.—Has an army officer the right to cut off the allotment to his wife and child without any reason? Has he no obligation to meet concerning his family? Wife, Stilacoom, Wash.

A.—Yes, he has the right to discontinue his allotment. He has the same obligations concerning his family as any other husband.

Q.—I am making application for a one-ton truck. I have a farm of 200 acres and need a truck very much. I am an honorably discharged soldier, with two years service. I would like to get a government - owned truck if possible. J. E., Schenectady, N. Y.

A.—If you are referring to a surplus war property truck, would suggest that you contact your local AAA county committee or your county agent for information where these surplus trucks are available from a bona fide dealer in your community. You are entitled to an A-1 priority without red tape if there are surplus war trucks for sale at any of your local dealers.

Q.—I want to know if a man that has been in the navy 16 months, is 26 years old and has a wife and two children, will get a discharge soon? Wife, Vida, Okla.

A.—Not necessarily. The navy man will be subject to the discharge system of rating adopted by the navy.

Q.—I am a World War I veteran and have a job. Will I have to give up my job for a veteran of World War II? Does a veteran of World War I have as much right as a World War II veteran? W. L., Mora, Minn.

A.—If you are holding a job now which was given up by a veteran of this war, then the honorably discharged veteran of World War II has a right to that job back under the provisions of the selective service act. A veteran of World War I has all the rights of a citizen of the U. S. A. and as much right as a veteran of this war except for the express benefits enacted for veterans of World War II.

Q.—A serviceman owed his father some money before he entered the service. Then the father became suddenly ill and was unable to work. The serviceman then provided the father a family allowance from the government. Should the serviceman get credit on what he owed his father for the amount the government sent? Reader, Hayden, Colo.

A.—That question obviously is a matter for private settlement between the serviceman and his father.

Before you decide to go around with a married woman, be sure you can go two rounds with her husband.

Ideal Installs New Equipment

Lucian Cates, manager of the Ideal food store announced today that the installation of Westinghouse Sterilamp equipment in this store has been completed.

Sterilamps have been placed in the market's large walkin refrigerator and the meat display cases. This new unltraviolet ray equipment improves the quality of the merchandise by controlling the airborne and surface bacteria and mold and prevents spoilage caused by micro-organisms. The sterilamp is an electronic tube which produces germ killing ultraviolet rays in practical usable quantities.

The Ideal food stores are among the first stores in Kansas and Texas to provide this scientific food protection for their customers' benefit. W. M. Thomas, electrical engineer for th Blakemore brothers grocery company offices in Liberal, Kans., installed the equipment and he stated that before long all of the organization's 23 Ideal food stores would have these ultra-violet conditioning units installed.

The Tire With The O-P-E-N C-E-N-T-E-R TREAD

For more "honest day's work," over more years, you need the extra pulling power that's built into long-wearing, hard-working Goodyears. Unlike other tractor tires that may lose pulling power and traction due to smooth, slippery packs of mud between lug bars, Goodyears with the famous O-P-E-N C-E-N-T-E-R Tread clean themselves as they roll, allow plenty of grip rubber to stand out and bite deep into the ground with every turn of the wheel. These big, self-cleaning, evenly spaced lugs are fortified against tearing with an extra strong buttressed base that resists ripping under the toughest working conditions.

Your Newspaper Reconverts, Too

It gives your editor a good feeling to cancel certain subscriptions on the papers he publishes each week and to meet these overseas subscribers again face to face on the street, see discharge buttons shine in their lapels, and hear of their plans for returning to the old job, or going to college, or opening their own businesses here in our town.

Your hometown newspaper has done quite a bit of travelling these past few years—it's been mailed to training camps down South and in the West; it's been shipped out to the Pacific and followed our boys to Hawaii, Guadalcanal, Autsralia, China and the Philippines. It's flown to Africa, cruised the Mediterranean on a destroyer, invaded Italy, slogged through France with the Infantry and been waiting back at the base in England when the boys came back from the "milk run" over Berlin.

Not a bad war record for a small town paper, especially when you consider that it's been kept so busy on the home front, too.

Your paper, and the thousands like it across the nation, has spearheaded war bond drives in which America purchased forty billion dollars worth of bonds. The nation's weekly newspapers gave more than 29 million lines of advertising and editorial comments to these drives, in addition to printing sponsored war bond advertisements.

Your hometown paper has helped collect fats, scrap metal, and clothing. It has backed the war relief drives, the Red Cross drives, and a dozen other nationwide campaigns.

At the same time, to be sure that our town would keep on being the same fine place our boys dreamed of returning to, your newspaper has taken an active part in local civic improvements, voicing our honest and, we hope, constructive opinions and criticisms.

Now that the war is over your newspaper may discard some of its military flavor and not do as much travelling about as it has this past four years. But like our returning veterans, your paper has learned many lessons that will not be forgotten.

Like our veterans, your newspaper returns to peacetime living with the knowledge that while our town is a small place in terms o fthe world-wide community of nations, the democratic way of life that it represents is one of the most precious and most encouraging things in our world today.

With this thought, looking toward a future of peace and freedom for all, your hometown newspaper is observing the sixth annual National Newspaper Week by reaffirming its pledge to support "A Free Press—Torch of World Peace!"

MAGIC FOODS

Babson Warns Certain Growers

Gloucester, Mass., Sept. 28.—We today eat food for two reasons: (1) To provide us with necessary starches, proteins, vitamins, minerals, etc. so as to give us growth and strength. (2) To give us the pleasure which comes through taste, odor and the formation of the gastric juices.

Foods Growing Poorer

The best foods are those which naturally combine both (1) and (2) as outlined above. These were the foods which my ancestors raised on the virgin soils of Cape Ann which have since run out. Not only were the vegetables and other products of the soil much better in those days, but also the cattle and poultry, including the milk, eggs and butter. If you have any doubt as to this, compare the taste of the blueberries which you, yourself, pick and the trout which you, yourself, catch with the frozen food and fish which you buy at the market.

Not only are our foods becoming less nourishing and less tasty from soil deterioration, but the various forms of processing foods in order to make them "ready to eat," have taken from them further valuable qualities. This applies not only to what is done to the wheat and the sugar, but also to the picking of fruit before it is ripe. It is true that bread is in part artificially "enriched" by chemicals or rays; but only a very few products are now being treated in this way.

Importance of Odors

Yesterday I was in the old kitchen where my Mother cooked my meals for many years. The kitchen wood stove has gone and a gas stove or electric range takes its place. This is okay of itself, but the big iron pot which my Mother always kept simmering on the back of the stove has, of course, gone likewise. This was the pot in which she stored the water in which vegetables, meats and other things had been boiled. It was full of vitamins, minerals and other valuable foods which can now be secured only at drug stores.

Not only do our homes lack that iron pot of vitamins, but many of them now have an electric fan in the wall which draws out the valuable odors. As a result, that important aroma which comes from the bacon at breakfast, the roasts of meat at dinner, and the stewed fruits at supper is thrown away into the air. Yet, these aromas are most necessary for developing the gastric juices so important for arousing our appetites and digesting our foods; also certain common nasal difficulties may be due to the lack of aroma stimulation. Our whole food situation is topsy-turvy.

No wonder adults are breaking physically and children "going to the dogs." The two factors which make good citizens are Religion and Food. Today both are pretty wishy-washy!

Looking Into The Future

Two important developments are taking place: (1) The analysis of foods to ascertain which are the most valuable, and (2) the development of synthetic flavorings. I refer to the chemists' ability to make cooked apples taste like peaches or plums, or to make cooked carrots taste like mushrooms or artichokes. Our children will be able to buy foods purely for their health-giving qualities and then give them the flavor of any vegetable or fruit desired. This should reduce living costs, improve family health and give more joy when eating.

Under the above system escarole (chicory) or beet greens or carrots, which ar very rich in vitamins and easily raised, would be flavored so as to taste like any fruit or vegetable desired. In the same way, beans, peas and lentils, which are very rich in iron, would be served to taste like more expensive and tasty meats. We will still be able to buy a can of "peaches"—the contents tasting like peaches and healthier than peaches—but they may be made from one of the base vegetables such as carrots.

DISCHARGED—Word was received this week that Sgt. Loyd Morgan, formerly of Perryton, was discharged Sept. 22, at Camp Hood and plans to make his home in San Antonio. Sgt. Morgan, a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Morgan, was inducted into the armed forces from here December 8, 1941, and spent 38 months overseas in the Pacific area with the Medical Corps. He arrived back in the states in June.

Caution to Farmers

All of the above means that before spending more money setting out peach and apple orchards, or orange and grapefruit groves, readers should carefully study this subject. Annual crops may be a much safer investment that tree crops or shrub crops; while money invested in good chemical stocks may be safer than if invested in farm land.

Before It Starts...It's Our Biggest Enemy

Since time began, fire has been a constant source of comfort — and disaster. It has protected us from the cold—and it has put us out in the cold. It is a helpful thing—and it is a dangerous thing. The lesson that National Fire Prevention Week strives to put across is the one of respecting fires ability to destroy. The amount of damage done by fire each year and the untold misery caused, reaches an unestimateable figure. If fire worked only as our friend, hundreds of lives would not be lost. But fire respects no laws.

(half time) beginning the second Sunday in August, 1909.

The minutes of a business meeting hld January 1, 1911, reveals the fact that the church had grown to 57 members. Brother Arthur W. Jones, state evangelist, held a revival meeting from April 25 to May 10, 1912. Baptismal srvices of the church were conducted at The Springs, near Ochiltree.

The Ochiltree Christian church passd from record July 28, 1912.

At Gray, Oklahoma, 1914, J. W. Duff organized the Christian Church. In the same year, LeMay held a revival meeting at Gray, and an active church was established with regular services. At this time the church house was built which now stands at Gray. In 1919, many of the people of Gray and Ochiltree moved to Perryton. In May, 1920, Jasper Bogue of Dalhart, Texas, serving as pastor-evangelist for the Panhandle District made arrangements to hold a revival in the Methodist church-house of Perryton. In July, State Evangelist John W. Holsapple held this meeting which resulted in the organization of the First Christian Church of Perryton, with 41 members. Sunday School and church was conducted in the Methodist church building and the school houses until 1921. A revival was conducted the last of August, 1921, in a brush tabernacle, by W. M. LeMay of Commerce, Oklahoma; Mrs. C. M. Daniels, of Tucumcari, N. M., and Jasper Bogue. Fourteen new members were added to the church. The building committee continued its plans and on May 28, 1922, services were held in the basement of the present building, located on three lots donated by the Santa Fe Railroad. C. H. Harriman was called as the first minister, remaining only two months.

Revival meetings were held by F. W. Lynch, L. P. Kopp and E. M. Douthitt.

In January, 1925, Chas. G. Kelley, pastor of the church, signed a contract to complete the building. On May 18, 1925, the corner stone was laid at which time the walls were near completion. Total cost of this building amounted to $20,000.

A great many incidents and events of human drama have been enacted within the walls of this building, one which calls to our memory is that of W. H. Richardbrother and sister, W. H. Richardson. He had been an Elder from the beginning of the church in 1909, at Old Ochiltree. It was in this sanctuary that they celebrated thir 60th wedding anniversary October 21, 1928.

Another interesting incident happened during the construction of these walls. A very small boy who lived across the street premeditatingly placed his father's razor strop in the mortar of the foundation for safe-keeping. The church has a gold star in the service flag for him.

Soon after the building was completed Brother Kelley preached a particular sermon on Ooah's Ark, which will long be remembered by many. In this sermon application was made of social religious set-up of the whole world. The lesson was ably taught that as it takes all the parts to make a perfect ark so also it takes all the different members to make a perfect church—each must be shaped and properly placed in perfect obedience to God's command.

Since May, 1920, regular service and many spiritual uplifting meetings have been held. The church basement has twice been used as a public school room to relieve congested conditions.

Names of the ministers in their proper sequence follow: Jasper Bogue, May, 1920; E. H. Harriman, January, 1922; Jhas. G. Kelley, October, 1923; Martin T. Pope, January, 1926; L. O. Byerly, September, 1929; J. William Hart, October 1931; M. C. Jackson, July, 1934; M. K. Griffith, 1936 (deceased); Bob Woodall, September, 1933; Leon Berry, September, 1939, Garland S. Farmer, October, 1941; Ward H. N. Gregg, July, 1943.

The highest constant attendance records for bible school and church services were attained during L. O. Byerly's ministry.

Under the able ministry of the present pastor, Ward H. N. Gregg many progressive steps have been takn. A face-lifting campaign was conducted in which the church house was beautified and remodeled. The baptistry was moved to a central location behind the pulpit. Over the baptistry an archway was constructed which frames the light ed wooden cross. On last Christmas after the church had been decorated for the seasonal holidays, a most beautiful and inspiring cantata was given by the choirs of the Methodist and Christian churches. The parsonage was paid for in 1944.

Far-reaching results have been accomplished by the recent youth sponsored revival. At present the membership is 241. An aggressive program has been projcted and adopted for the coming two year period in the material and spiritual program of the church in the community.

The charter membership roll was composed of: Geo. R. Ragsdale, Mrs. Geo. R. Ragsdale, Mrs. W. P. Ragsdale, Mrs. D. Brazell, Chas. W. Callaway, Mrs. Chas. W. Callaway, W. D. Fulton, Mrs. W. D. Ain't you surprised to see that heading after not seeing it all summer — I've been so cockeyed busy that I've just neglected you.

I know people really read my adds, sales show that they do. People come in from miles away and holler—

Where is the Dark Horse?
Where is OLD ONE WOMAN NALL
Show me the COW CHIP PICKER
Where is that Crazy Man?
Where are all of the tires you say you have?
Does your wife read your ads?

I also advertise in tire magazines that go all over the U. S. A. and you should see the funny remarks I get from other tire dealers about my adds. If I neglect to put an add in they write me letters hollering for them.

Well good friends and good customers I'm not going to neglect you so long any more.

I'm going to shoot you some fancy stuff this winter.

Many boats went over the spillway and were all practically a 100 per cent loss. At the peak of the flood the lake held more than three times its capacity, or 2400 acre fee. as compard to 800 acre feet normally.

Farm and Crops Damaged

Hood Wills, county agent, stated that in the southern part of the county hundreds of acres of crops were washed away, much of which would have to be entirely resown. The moisture was beneficial throughout the county however.

H. B. Urban of the McMillen community reports that this vicinity received around eight inches with many crops damaged.

Arthur Swink reported that his community west received approximately ten inches during the three days with most of the fields completely under water. Pood Herndon lost all fences on his land in the dam vicinity with around three feet of water entering Lawrence Elizey's farm home damaging furniture.

The tenant house on the Keith McLain ranch southeast of Perryton was completely washed away and was a total loss with furniture strewn all along the course of flood waters.

Reports from the northern part of the county to the east and west indicate that no damage was done to crops. Many wheat growers stated that prospects for a good yield were enhanced by the welcome moisture. About three inches of rain was received generally over these areas.

Ranchers Marooned

Bud Brainard, Roberts county rancher, and his nephew, Ben McIntyre, were caught by the rains Thursday on their way from the northwest corner of Roberts county to Canadian and in attempting to reach Highway 117 between Perryton and Spearman, were hopelessly mired down and had to leave their automobile. They stayed with the Jake Lamb family two days unaware that an extensive search was being staged between Spearman, Canadian and Perryton for them by Army planes, jeeps and horseback parties. They rode 25 miles by horseback to the highway in order to notify their family of the delay in returning.

The first quarter closed with Perryton threatening again after Keith Bray toted the ball downfield for several short progressive gains.

The Rangers drew the lone score of the game in the second quarter when Jones went over after a sweeping run around left end on a 30-yard gain to the goal. Attempting a play untried thus far in the season the Rangers drew additional pay dirt when Jones successfully passed to Raymond Powell for the extra point.

Mud coated teams fought each other to a standstill during the last half of the game highlighted by long run made when William Seedig received a Lynx punt and returned approximately 40 yards in a broken field running exhibition. Spearman launched an aerial attack which was doomed by inability of pass receivers to retain a muddy and slippery ball.

Christ near Bolenge in Belgian Congo. Mr. Russell, as one of the missionaries founding this school in 1928, supervised the erection of the buildings, homes for students, and other units. He has continued as an instructor and has seen remarkable improvements in the work of the native staff on all stations and in the outstations as a result of better training.

Through his "Customs and culture" classes, and because of his high regard for the art and other contributions the African has to make to civilization, Mr. Russell has made extensive studies of African life and customs, and he has become a close friend of the Congo people. He is especially interested in the African drum for sending messages from village to village and has learned to beat it, a difficult feat.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell first went to Africa in 1924, and were stationed at Mondombe, farthest inland of Congo Christian mission stations, fifteen hundred miles from the mouth of the Congo river. Here in an area where missionaries had been living only four years they made bricks, erected buildings, carried on elementary educational work, conducted Christian worship, and did a variety of pioneer tasks.

Mr. Russell is a graduate of Lynchburg college, Lynchburg, Va., the College of Missions, Indianapolis, and the University of Chicago.

veteran priority, then we say, do it and quit talking about it or just come out flat-footed and tell the world that the speculators are going to be allowed to buy up all the surplus equipment and let the veteran buy from the speculator at inflated prices.

We'd like to see the strings cut on the lot of government and army red tape . . . cut out so many carbon copies . . . give the veteran action on his rights . . . instead of bogging down in the files of officious officialdom.

Hoch's death accounts for the last of four local youths captured by the Japanese during the opening days of the war. Lt. Kenneth Fuelscher and Sgt. Lee Tucker were killed aboard a Japanese transport Dec. 15, 1944, in a POW transfer and Private Knute Dowers recently made an escape from a POW camp in Japan and is now at Manila waiting to return to the States.

Joyce W. Hoch was born June 8, 1919, at Hitchcock, Okla. His parents died when he was in his early teens and he made his home with his uncle, P. D. Thiessen, assisting him in the farming business until volunteering for service. He attended high school at Perryton.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Henry Littau and a half sister, Doris Peters.

the 29th Depot and there was old Knute as fat as a butterball and a big man now weighing 185 lbs. Among all the boys Knute had fared the best of all, by his cleverness. He said I was the first one he had seen in over four years whom he knew. He sure was in good spirits and looked healthy—not much use for me to say anymore about him, because I know you had rather hear and talk with him. He will be leaving in the next day or so. I expect to be home in November and will be glad to get out of this heat."

Band News

The Ranger Band seems to have a monopoly on rainy weather in this country, scarce as it is. Perhaps I'd better change that last statement, for rain sure wasn't scarce last Tnursday, Friday and Saturday. Anyway, last Friday the band was scheduled to play for the Park Memorial Services. It rained and broke up the service. Last Thursday the band again was scheduled to play at the postponed Park Memorial. The band turned up after school, in uniform, ready to play, but it rained, all night it rained. The next day the band planned to play at the game but it still rained. If there are any of you farmers left dry, please turn in the report to the Ranger Band, rain-bringers extraordinary.

Meet the Seniors

"Rain is wet" is the philosophy of June Cameron. June was born June 1, 1929, and has brown hair and greenish eyes. Her hobby is riding horseback, and she had rather travel than anything. Pecan pie and beefsteak are the tastiest of foods according to June, and Claudette Colbert and Spencer Tracy are "the" movie stars. The song she likes best is "The Atchison, Topeka, and Santa Fe." In her spare time, she likes to read any book that is funny and mysterious. School is all right sometimes, and shorthand is the subject she enjoys most. June says she wants to go to a business college, probably in Amarillo, and become a private secretary. June and her brother, James, ride 52 miles each day to attend Perryton Public Schools. Her pet peeve? Ah yes: people who don't know enough to come in out of the rain.

Darlene Bull was born at Cheyenne, Oklahoma, which officially makes her a first class "Okie." She is five feet six inches tall with brown hair, brown eyes and a liking for fried chicken and pecan pie. Betty Grable and Dane Clark. "The Very Thought of You" was a super movie according to Darlene. Her pet peeve is snobbish people. Her hobby is reading and she had rather swim than eat. Homemaking is her favorite subject, she plans to major in it when she goes to college at Canyon. "To marry" is her chief ambition. Darlene has one sister, Emma Faye, and one brother, Weldon, to send her birthday presents on August 13th. This student from the country rides 22 miles each day to learn more about readin', writin', and 'rithmatic.

Bob Urban a little angel.

Claudine C. and Veva Jo M. without four or five boys on the string.
Janet R. with coal black hair.
"Bobby" P. a sophisticated vamp.
James Hale being quiet.
Duane Bell making F's.
Carol Trosper studying.
Bill Stephenson with energy.
E. R. Bell not popping his gum.
Rita Ann H. troubled.
Lloyd Dean S. baldheaded.
Gene S. without a remark.
"Ju-Ju" Allen without that dumb look.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin A. Eakens, Wewoka, Oklahoma, were guests in the Darwin Barnes home Monday and Tuesday. They brought Mrs. Barnes home after she had spent a week visiting there. Mr. Eakens, her brother has recently been discharged from the army.

Editorial

When Shakespeare said, "I look upon myself and curse my fate," he had me in mind. A few weeks ago I considred myself intelligent. I knew that rain was wet and that a hundred per cent of the people born in the United Staes were babies. I also knew how to tell time. But gone forever are those days. I'm now not sure that rain is even damp; I don't know how many people born are babies; and at the sight of a clock I turn into the fiend that my inner self has always been.

It was Sunday night, the Sunday night just before Monday morning. Already every clock in every kitchen and on every street corner had been turned back. One lone clock remained an hour ahead of time and that clock ticked faithfully away on my dresser.

Sunday morning the time stood still, marched backwards or otherwise managed to slow up and get in step with the sun. But at two a. m., when you were supposed to turn your clock back to one, didn't you lose an hour? A perfectly good hour of your life where anything could happen and might? Determined not to lose this hour, determined to live my life in full, I conceived, in that corner of my brain still in action, a scheme. I'd wait till Sunday night slip upon my clock when it least expected it, turn it back, and thus save my otherwise lost hour.

It must have been a contented clock, ticking in its happy, carefree way all that Sunday. But black clouds covered its horizon; the minutes grew near; soon would be the time. I drew my hat down over my face. I pulled my collar up around my neck. I knew it must be now or never.

With a firm step I entered the room, we needed a new floor anyway. Everywhere was darkness. I edged my way along the wall, leaning hard on it. That wall had a window; funny I didn't remember that window. A few minutes later, I disentangled my bruised body from the broken window glass, gathered myself up and re-entered the house.

This time I turned on the light. There sat the clock, innocence in all its glory. My undernourished brain began to wonder if I hadn't been cheated out of my extra hour years before. I had vague recollections of seeing Mama tearfully pick up the clock and turn it up an hour. Confusion ruled my brain. Panic started across my face, but, seeing what it would have to cross, rushed back. The clock just sat there, looking like the cat which had swallowed the canary.

Could I never redeem my lost hour? Or had I gained one? For better or for worse, I must grab that odious clock and turn it back. Suppose I got to school late, or, worse, early? That settled it! I sighed and with trembling fingers turned back the clock. Whatever had happened to that hour of my life, now I could be sure of sleeping an hour later to go to school half an hour earlier to which I was never in time for anyway.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Slough, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Tetzen and Leonard Slough, F 1-c, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Slough Sunday.

Mrs. Otis Kizziar returned home last week from California where she has been at the bedside of her brother, Bill Taylor. He is much improved and expects to be released from the hospital soon.

Miss Emily Blasingame who has made her home in Amarillo recently has moved to Denver, Colo.

From October 14 to November 19 of this year, a special savings bond drive for schools will be held by the government. The money from this drive will be used to save lives instead of destroying them. The entire amount raised by the United States will be used to purchase hospital units. Each state has a quota of units, Texas' being 1,464. Each unit costs $3,000; so you can see where our part comes in. Each unit will take care of a wounded man for two months, and also buy all of his equipment — clothes, bedding, bed and medical supplies. The hospitals will later be turned to civilian use.

If someone would ask me if Perryton could buy $3,000 of savings bonds, I would immediately answer "No!" But considering it, we might. We all made money this summer by working. Why couldn't we? The average per person in PHS would be $10 and the average for the whole school would be $3.75. Some would buy more, some less. We can outdo all past goals if we want to. What about it, PHS?

Assembly

Perryton High School assembly was called to order by master of ceremonies, Nettie Mac Brillhart, Friday afternoon at 2:15. Rev. H. L. Thurston was guest speaker and spoke on the school life of yesterday compared with that of today. The pep leaders, Barbara Buckley, Norma Flowers, and Jimmie Key took charge of the program after Mr. Thurston's speech.

Norma Flowers announced that the winner of the yell contest is Bernard Pletcher, who sent in this yell:

"Go get a doctor; go get a nurse;
Go get a coffin; go get a hearse;
Spearman, Spearman almost dead,
Perryton Rangers still ahead."

After the pep leaders had led the students in several yells, Mr. Cox closed the assembly with a reminder of the time change and the fact that school would begin at 9:00 a. m. and close at 4:00 p. m. instead of 9:30 a. m. and 4:40 p. m.

Mrs. E. L. Whippo was a dinner guest in the M. A. Boehning home Tuesday.

To see what's new.

There's being many a wishful eye turned in PHS these days. Among those turning them are Henry P., Jewell M., Marva Jean C., Robert G., Raymon P., Gwyn V., Betty Sue M., Bob U. Come, come, children, you can do better than that.

This week's blow by blow report shows Bill S. losing out momentarily in a certain triangle. But beware, Russell C. Bill has it on good authority, namely a fortune teller, that he'll stage a comeback. May the best man win.

Edward D., why the sudden interest out of town?

Verlin H., what's this we hear about Harolyn M.?

Spearman is moving in in full swing. If you don't think so ask Kathleen L. and Rita S.

Bill J. swore last year he wouldn't go with Claudine C. again. Lately Edward P. has been helping him keep his word.

Keith F., you and Jewell M. enjoyed the preview Saturday night didn't you?

It won't be long now till Patsy Ruth P. will stop giving out with those wolf calls. The navy's coming home on leave, isn't it Pat?

Eugene W. and Yvonne B. seem to like the back seats in the show Sunday afternoons.

A proclamation has been issued for all senior high students to stay off the playground equipment at night. That includes you, Pat A., Rita H., Vernon F., Gene S., J. C. J., Barbara B., Veva Jo M., Claudine C., and other unidentified gals and guys.

Duane B. has been getting letters from somewhere, and it isn't Lord, Duane, and they also aren't your cousins.

Sheldon W., how's Canadian?

Who were the four girls giving those poor out-numbered Booker football players the wolf call Sunday in the show? If all the Booker players were here they'd still be out-numbered by those four girls.

Watch out, kids, till next week your reporter will be on the prowl.

Meet the Teachers

That brown-eyed, brown-haired young teacher you've been seeing around PHS lately is none other than Miss Reba Gowin. Miss Gowin was born in Quitaque, Texas, on October 21, 1922. When she finished high school in Quitaque, she attended West Texas State Teachers College, where she got her B. S. degree. She taught at Quitaque before coming here.

Miss Gowin's favorite sport is basketball, and where food is concerned fried chicken and ice-cream are tops. In the teaching profession, her favorite subject is math. She teaches math here; so we have hopes that her favorite place may soon be Perryton.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

The Christian Way Of Life Is Task Of World at Peace

The International Sunday School Lesson for Oct. 7
Scripture: Matthew 22:36-39; Mark 12:28-34; Luke 10:25-37

FROM the story of ancient Israel, ending with the Israelites in Egypt, we turn to a series of lessons in the fourth quarter on the general theme, The Christian and His Relationships. The first is on The Christian Way of Life.

The atomic bomb has emphasized as never before the horror of war, and the cleavage between the destructiveness of war and the life and teaching of Jesus. He said He had come, not to destroy men's lives, but to save them.

Now, in the time of victory, comes the supreme test. Do we really believe in the Christian way of life for which we have been fighting? How closely and truly are we going to follow it, now that freedom to follow it is restored? The war has been like a great epidemic of disease, threatening to destroy us; but now, with normal health restored, shall we find and keep the highest things to which man can commit his whole heart and soul?

The Christian way of life is defined, in Matthew, Mark, and Luke, explicitly, and in the whole New Testament generally, in the two great commandments of love to God and love to man; to love God with all the heart and soul and mind and strength, and to love one's neighbor as one's self.

Jesus did not invent these commandments, or the Christian way of life. He asked His questioner what was written in the law; how did he read it? And when the questioner replied in the words of the two commandments, Jesus approved. "This do," said He, "and thou shalt live."

What Jesus did was to emphasize what is written in God's constitution of the universe, and in the highest life of man. Jesus did not make truth; He asserted the truth that is in the very nature of God and man, and man's relation to God, and man's relation to his fellowmen. What Jesus did in relation to these commandments was to make them real and vital. He gave a new meaning to the word "neighbor."

GOOD? IT OUGHT TO BE GOOD!

Sure, the New Phillips 66 is a swell gasoline

Why Not?

We'd be ashamed of ourselves if it wasn't! Since Pearl Harbor we've put every ounce of sweat and energy we possessed into perfecting the finest combat fuels the world has ever seen.

Millions of dollars worth of new equipment ...hundreds of thousands of man-hours and brain-hours . . . weren't spent in vain!

Good gasoline? Man, it ought to be good!

And if you're one of those who aren't surprised that Phillips research and Phillips know-how have produced a world-beater of a gasoline, here's a little thought you can tuck in your hatband:

The most important thing about a Phillips 66 Service Station is still the man who runs it. Yes, he can give you fine gasoline. But he'll also give the consistently high standard of thoughtful, courteous service that has always characterized the sign of 66.

We didn't forget how to deliver that during the war, either!

Christian Science

"Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 7.

The Golden Text is: "Thou art my portion, O Lord . . . Through thy precepts I get understanding therefore I hate every false way" (Psalms 119:57,104).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. But his delight is in the law of the Lord; and in his law doth he meditate day and night" (Psalms 1:1, 2).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If our hopes and affections are spiritual, they come from above, not from beneath, and they bear as of old the fruits of the Spirit" (page 451).

PELLETS

Cattle--Sheep and Poultry

This announcement we feel is of very great importance to ranchers and farmers of this area. Pellets are manufactured at the new Equity Mill, for range cattle, dairy cattle, chickens and turkeys from feeds that are raised mainly right here at home. The uncertainty of shipping facilities has many times delayed feed shipments which has worked a hardship on farmers and ranchers. Of course, everyone knows of the shortage of protein at the present time, however if you will come in and place your orders for pellets they will be taken care of.

The range pellets that we have in stock are 20% protein but as soon as protein feed is more abundant, a higher protein range pellet will be manufactured. Range pellets are fortified with minerals and vitamins to make a well balanced feed. It is a good bone and body builder and also a protection against cold weather

"The Bullfighters" at The Ellis Theatre

With a shake of a serape and a snap of a sombrero, Laurel and Hardy are on the loose again in a fiesta of fun south of the border in their new hilarious comedy, "The Bullfighters," which is scheduled for Saturday night preview at the Ellis Theatre.

They are a couple of dopey dicks from Peoria chasing a curvaceous blonde to Mexico City, only to find themselves being chased right into a bull-ring of hilarious comedy.

Stan Laurel is mistaken for a famous Spanish toreador. With a flip of the tongue, he doubles on himself and gives out with a Latin lingo that will send movie audiences into gales of side-splitting laughter.

"Harvest of Stars" New Radio Program

CHICAGO, Ill. — International Harvester Company offers what may be considered a new concept in radio entertainment in its "Harvest of Stars," which goes on the air over all NBC stations for a half hour broadcast at 2:00 p. m., Eastern Time, Sunday, October 7th, and regularly thereafter.

Woven in a dramatic and musically colorful pattern are the people, places and events that are America, under the talented hand of Raymond Massey, in the dual role of narrator and actor. With him will be noted Howard Barlow as conductor of the seventy-piece International Harvester orchestra. A choir of 20 mixed voices, under the direction of famed choral leader Lyn Murray will lend vocal support to the production.

Taking off by plane from Europe, where he has been entertaining our GI's in the leading part in the play "Our Town," Massey will fly home and is scheduled to arrive two days before the "Harvest of Stars" goes on the air, thus personnally dramatizing the best tradition of the stage that the play must go on."

Jan Peerce, noted tenor of opera and radio, will be the first guest star on this program, which has been announced as the first of a series on which many other guest stars will appear, among them Gladys Swarthout, Eugene List, and Bidu Sayao.

Old Chinese Custom — Bang!

Storms, raging torrents, bombings, fires — required for the film, "The Keys of The Kingdom," which opens at the Ellis Theatre Thursday and Friday, Oct. 11-12 held no fear for Lou Witte's special effects department at 20th Century-Fox, but to create a Chinese celebration nearly upset the whole force.

The Chinese have made no firecrackers since the Manchukuo incident; they have other uses for their gunpowder these days. Witte sent out an SOS to various warehouses in the U. S. and found the largest supply was held in San Francisco by wholesalers who had surplus due to the firecracker ban on the Fourth for the last two years. Twentieth Century-Fox bought the entire supply so that when Father Francis Chisholm, in the person of Gregory Peck, stepped from the boat at his journey's end, he was greeted with a big bang. It's just an old Chinese custom.

Electrical Safety Tips

NATIONAL FIRE PREVENTION WEEK OCT. 8-13

Permanent wiring, installed according to the National Electrical Code and properly fused, is safe from fire hazards, although frequently fires are blamed on "defective wiring" simply because no other origin is apparent. When a fire is traceable to electrical causes, it is usually due to an improper installation and subsequent neglect or to misuse of electricity or electrical equipment.

Follow These Safety Suggestions

1. Have your wiring inspected to see that it conforms with the National Electrical Code, your local code or other recognized safety standard. Correct any hazardous conditions.
2. Specify code requirements when making additions, alterations or repairs to your wiring.
3. Deal only with a capable, experienced electrician. Do not entrust wiring to an inexperienced "handyman" or the safety of the job may be impaired.
4. Never use a penny as a substitute for a fuse. Fuses are current limiting devices, designed to cut off current before damage can result if a short circuit or overload causes wires to overheat. Pennies or fuses that are too large may allow wires to become hot enough to ignite insulation, possibly causing a fire. The right size fuse for most household branch circuits is 15 amperes.
5. Use only appliance cords bearing label of the Underwriters Laboratory, which signifies compliance with rigid safety standards. Do not drive nails or tacks through cords, place them under rugs or in contact with radiators or other heat sources.
6. Use only asbestos-covered cords with heating appliances.
7. Always disconnect an iron (especially a non-automatic) if you leave it standing on ironing board while you answer phone or doorbell.
8. Never put away an iron or other heating appliance until cool.

Developed by B.F.Goodrich—it's far better than ordinary synthetic rubber. Helps the new tire run cooler, wear better. It resists cracking, bruising and damage from accidents better too.

New, "Road Level" Tread

35% stronger tire body makes possible tread with a flatter contour—its whole width touches the road. More rubber on the road to share the wear—evenly. The tread design has hundreds of skid-resisting curves to grip—and stop quickly!

16,800,000 Test Miles

Has more test background than any previous B. F. Goodrich tire. Extensive laboratory tests plus 16,800,000 miles of actual road tests—on taxi fleets, police cars, and the B.F.Goodrich test fleet—proved it outwears prewar, natural rubber tires!

3 years' EXTRA synthetic tire experience

Three full years before any other manufacturer, B. F. Goodrich sold tires made with synthetic rubber to American motorists. This extra store of experience shows up in extra mileage . . . extra safety . . . extra value.

With shining courage, comes a motion picture. It tells the story of a man who ranged the world in a magnificent search, whose fighting courage will make your heart beat with new excitement, whose adventures made one of the most widely read and discussed novels of our day. Never has a motion picture given such voice to the secret yearnings of your heart. It is an entirely new and undreamed of experience in the theatre.

Sunday afternoon,
Sept. 9, 1945
30 miles from Tokyo

Dearest Mother, Dad and Boys:

Hello folks. Well, its the end of another week for us and time I write to again. Censoring is thru with, so will try to tell you all the highlights of this cruise. At the present, we are patroling just outside Tokyo Bay.

When we left Pearl Harbor, we headed for the Caroline Islands where we took on supplies and ammunition before we headed for Okinawa. There wasn't many ruins left in P. H. for it was pretty well cleared away. Ulithi was the place in the Caroline where we were. Not much of a place. We stayed there for three days before shoving o' for Okinawa where the Japs wer really fighting. We were in Task force 58.1 at that time.

Fifty miles was as close to the Islands as we ever got. It was close enough so the planes from our carriers could reach their targe easily. We never got a crack at a plane for the planes got them first every time.

While we were there, we were hit by a typhoon (which you probably heard about) and it nearly tore our ship's bow off. It was bent up like the nose of a little p.z and set to one side nearly a foot. If the storm had lasted an hour longer, it would have been torn off. It narly buggered up all the ships. These little destroyers really roll around. They should have gotten paid for submarine duty then for they were as much under wate as they were on top.

The Pittsburg was with us too. It tore her bow clear off. After all that we started for Guam—us and the Pitts with two destroyers as our escorts. Her bow was still afloat and we were going to tow it to Guam but a sea-going tug relieved us of it. It took us five days to get there at ten knots. We didn't know for sure that we could get fixed up but they fooled us. The Pitts went to Bremerton, Wash., after they found they couldn't be fixed up there. I saw the Jones boys while there. The big one is stationed there and the little one was on the Pitts. We stayed in the floating dry dock for a month before we left. None of us liked it but we couldn't do anything about it. We went swimming a lot. They even furnished buses to take us over the biggest part of the island. We saw a lot of ruins there. Every house was blown to hell. There is where I saw my first real water buffalo. There was a lot of them too. The people are dark skinned and live in those little square houses with grass tops and wood shutters for windows. Just like some old barn. You know what I mean. Built nearly three feet off the ground. The kids are about as big as Glen Earl when they are seventeen years old. They told us how the Japs killed their people. I sure felt sorry for those little kids. Some are cute as hell too.

I went right by where Butch stayed but couldn't get off the bus. After we left there, we headed straight for one of the Japanese home islands of Honshu, where the fighting was at its height. We were then in Admiral Halsey's mighty Third Fleet from then until the war ended. We never saw too much action but it was enough for me. We got a crack or two at some suicide planes too. The planes from one carrier did a wonderful job.

One thing that was hard to take was when the planes came back out of gas and couldn't land. They crashed into the water. A lot failed to take off and also crashed. It happens a lot.

When 'cease firing" was given, the day the war ended, they were directly over their targets and never dropped their bombs, instead they dropped them in the ocean a ways from us. I'm sure glad it's over now. Last night all the ships were lit up like Christmas trees for the first time in nearly four years.

Our marines were over on Japan for three weeks waiting for the occupational army to get there. They came back yesterday with a lot of Jap guns and swords. Sold cigarettes for 10 to 20 dollars each.

I hope to get liberty in Tokyo before we come back. I don't know when that will be but I hope it's long off. Don't look for me until I come running over the hill. I think it will be before Christmas. I wouldn't say for sure.

One thing I forgot to say—was the last storm we were in was Aug. 25. It was pretty rugged, but it didn't do any damage. The ship listed to starboard (right) 58 degrees. I was hanging onto the bulkhead (wall) and my feet would raise clear off deck (floor). It's funny now that it's all over, but it wasn't then. I was more scared then than I was at any "Boogies" (Jap Planes) that ever came over.

The day the war ended we raised one big "peace time" flag, as well as all the other ships. It sure looks grand too and to know that you and I helped put it there, and want it to stay forever and ever.

I heard Admiral Halsey on the U. S. S. Missouri, along with MacArthur and a lot of other high ranking men, the day they gave the "surrender ceremony." The Missouri was a battleship that fought with us and was the first to enter Tokyo Bay. I hope we go in before long. Yesterday, I saw the Shangri-La. It was about a hundred yards from us for an hour or two. I looked hard for Hibbs but didn't see him. Bull is coming home with me when we hit the States, then wants me to go home with him from there.

I can hardly wait to hear the words 'heading for the States.' I'll sure be a happy guy. I wish Jack and I would get there at the same time. I guess school will start tomorrow. How about it, Tough? Are you ready for another year of school?

If this point system keeps up, I'll have a few years of this school to put up with yet—Uncle Sam's Navy, the best in the world—The mighty 3rd Fleet that we were in also with Admiral Halsey in command. Our "Skipper" was the highest ranking captain in it too. Smart egg! He loves his sea duty or he would be behind a desk in Washington as admiral. He's from Missouri, and has to be showed. He says he's been in every big port in the world too.

Well, folks, this is that big letter I have been planning to write for a long time. Thanks to the censorship that I can write it. I may have missed a little but will write it as I think of it. It's sure good to seal them yourself once again. I guess I better quit for now as I'm getting tired. I have just five of my big bunch of letters to answer yet. We ought to get a lot more soon as its been nearly three weeks since we got that.

I'll quit now, so here's hoping you are okey. I'm fine. Tell all hello.

Love to all,

My Dearest Mama,

I got my first letter from you today in over a month, I wish you would write more often. I did get a card from you at Eagle Nest, also a package and it sure was nice, had just what I needed, toilet water, tooth paste, brush and candy. That tooth paste was wonderful, a new kind to me.

Now Mama don't worry about me not getting to see you because I hope to visit you, if it's not possible until I'm released from the army, you will still be visited by me.

I didn't get to go to Japan VJ day, but have been to Okinawa, and those Japs know what defeat was. They are so humble now and bow to you, as if it will help them; myself, I have no sympathy for them. It has been rough over here and at times I've lived worse than dogs, when it come to living and eating—anyway I never told you before because I didn't want you to worry Mama. So you are none the worse off. Now its all over and the way I've always looked at this war, is in this respect—I figured if we lost, we would have no "Holy Bible", to use to worship God with, anyway Mom when I get home I want to forget it and start over. Also remember I'm not home yet and the darn army sure hates to turn us loose. More soldiers here than anything and it sure seems slow their discharge plans.

Mom I don't have any souvenirs outside of pictures. The war trophies I had, I've sold at a fabulous price, because I wasn't able to go thru channels to send it home. So much of our stuff is lost moving, etc., so I didn't feel like it was worth the chance to try to keep them.

I'm still in the hospital and the Dr. here says I'm his problem boy—Ha! Anyway I can't figure him calling me a boy I feel so old, and I know I've aged a plenty.

Our letters are not censored anymore so will tell you where I have been. I can also tell you a lot of horrible Jap stories but won't until I get home, and doubt if you would appreciate them. I first landed at Milne Bay, New Guinea, and stayed three or four days; from there to Buna Bay, then to Ora Bay in a replacement camp that was a hell hole if I ever saw one. That was the beginning of the eating out of tin cans, also "bully-beef"—horse meat to be exact, no matter how long it was cooked it was still a red color. Our bathing place, also washing clothes and drinking water came out of a creek close to our perimeter, water was dirty all the time. I got this ear infection from the water and am just now about to get rid of it — I hope.

This place was the place where the battle of Burma was fought and the patrol trip over the Owen Stanley Mountains killing Japs. I next went to Hollandia, I even gave you the hint by telling you to get a Life issue magazine and you didn't catch on. Ha! Anyway from there to here and I'll be darn glad when I get back home, but it sure seems slow to me, men are still here with 90 and 100 points. They just put that stuff out for the benefit of civilians—they don't want us back there to make un-employment bigger.

I had better quit for now and get ready for chow. This seems like a gripy letter but I believe us fellows over here have one.

I have me a new job now, I have been overseeing some civilians in an ice cream plant; you know me, a lot of sampling. Ha! The army has a contract with them for it, but it is a nice job.

Local Navigator Describes Jap Peace Envoys From Ie Shima

Editor's Note: The following letter was received by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bowen of Booker from their son, Lt. Charles Bentson Bowen, recently. Bentson is a navigator in the air corps which entails much traveling with little permanency in location. He is well known here, having attended Perryton High School where he was Valedictorian in the class of 1938.

August 20, 1945
Ie Shima

Now it can be told! Our new location is on the Island of Ie Shima. If you will check your map, you will notice this island is situated just off the northwest side of Okinawa.

Likewise, if you were listening to the radio Saturday night, no doubt you heard the broadcast covering the landing of the Jap envoy on this island. As the two Jap bombers and their escort of P-38's an B-25's were circling the field, another fellow and I grabbed our cameras and tore out for the landing strip.

Luckily, the two Jap planes circled the field another couple times, thus giving us sufficient time to reach the strip. Such a mob of GIs, I never saw before. They jammed both sides of the runway, which is more than a mile long. Of course, there was also an MP stationed about every ten feet along both sides of the runway. We found a little opening about half way down the strip, arriving there just as the first plane was landed. I was unable to snap a picture of this one, but I was all set for the second one.

Upon reaching the north end of the field, these two Jap Betty Bombers made a 180-degree turn and proceeded to taxi to the south end. They were going much slower this time when they passed us, thus I should have gotten a much clearer picture. The crew opened the top hatch and proceeded to stick their heads out during this taxi period. Upon reaching the south end, the members of the peace envoy transferred immediately to an awaiting C-54 transport plane while the Jap crew carried the baggage over to our plane. We could get no closer than 200 yards during this operation; consequently we never got a very clear picture of any of the big shots. One thing, however, was very clear the contrast in size between our GIs and those Japs. They looked more like a 10 or 12 year old boy standing amongst a group of our men.

Lt. Bentson Bowen

About 40 minutes after landing, the Japs were on our C-54, taking off on the last leg of the hop to Manila. I just hope those pictures come out OK. Incidentally, I have one roll remaining.

Planes from our group were chosen to escort the Japs; so you may see quite a lot of publicity about the Air Apache B-25 outfit in the near future. I wish they would give us the honor of being one of the first outfits to return to the USA.

but that seems very unlikely. Orders just came thru to be ready to fly to Manila in 15 minutes. They must need me at the peace conference. Ha.

Lt. Chas. Bentson Bo

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Terhune Saturday for Abilene, where will spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Joy Herge Denver, Colo., are visiting at home of his parents, Mr. and Sam Hergert. They came in and will be here a few days.
