Four Thousand Hear Jim Ferguson's Address Here

The Best Is Yet To Come

An Editorial Bearing on the Governor's Race

ANOTHER gubernatorial candidate has come and gone, leaving little behind him in the way of enlightment in the maze of problems which confront this great state.

This time it was a strangely docile Jim Ferguson, wearing lamb's clothing, clutching at the straw of public favor by deserting the savage attack which lost, for his cause four years ago—and hoping to win on an effort at kindliness.

About 4,000 Lubbock and South Plains people—the estimate is generous—heard the one-time powerful 'Farmer Jim' discuss his wife's campaign and while he held 90 per cent of the throng through the hour and 45 minutes; it was the most undemonstrative Ferguson meeting this territory has ever seen. The reason is apparent. The Fergusons are 'washed up and done.' They do not solve the problem. Stronger hands, cleaner hands than theirs are needed to turn the trick.

There is a consolation, however, in the Ferguson debacle. That is, the best is yet to come.

One of these fine evenings will come to Lubbock a new leader of the democratic party in Texas—a West Texan, if you please—in the person of Senator Clint C. Small of Wellington. Then, and not until then, will the best in the gubernatorial race come to Lubbock and the South Plains.

Don't expect Senator Small to appeal to the sympathies of the crowd which hears him here. Don't expect him to use the name of the Deity to stress his points. Don't expect him to say "I" part of the time and "We" the other part in making his campaign promises, for he doesn't have to. He makes the race upon his own merits — not barred behind a cloud. He proposes to be frank, as well as morally responsible for his official acts, if elected.

Don't expect Clint Small to painfully sidetrack a former administration which made a national laughing stock of Texas, for no such handicap dogs his steps. Don't expect him to make a pitiful play for tears with touching stories of mistreated convicts, for that's not his campaign. And, furthermore, don't expect him to come sounding like a representative of the railroads against the bus lines when, without those bus lines, every man and woman on the South Plains knows this territory would be terribly hampered.

Clint Small won't refer ambiguously, and with care not to call any names, to 'the crowd' which is 'scheming' to 'steal' this, that or the other thing, for he knows what the people of Texas want in this campaign. You may expect him, however, to talk business—the people's business, and to offer remedies, not a mass of high-sounding laws which would take months to write on the statute books, much less pass them in the legislature.

Further, don't expect Clint Small to talk touchingly about 'the people' and 'the home,' forgetting all the while to mention that he lives in a mansion and operates a 'show farm' in Bosque county. For everyone in West Texas knows that Clint Small, with a fine public record behind him, is as much of the humble citizenry as the poorest tenant farmer in Collingsworth county, his home.

Jim Ferguson, edition of 1930, made a good talk. Those who heard him will attest that it was a good talk. But because it was talk and talk alone is the principal reason why we say that 'the best is yet to come.'

Hold your political affiliations in abeyance until Clint Small, of West Texas—the answer to Texas democracy's prayer?—is heard. Then the best will come with reasonable assurance that the talk will be backed up by action.

RODEO UNDER WAY

Riding, Roping Contests Are Featured at Stamford

STAMFORD, June 27. (AP)—Riding and roping contests featured the rodeo here today in the second day's events of the first annual Texas Cowboys' reunion. More Comanche Indian dances and a square dance were on the program tonight, as well as a night rodeo program.

"Callers" who can be heard a mile calling off the figures were promised for tomorrow night's square dance and another parade was planned for tomorrow morning.

HEADS COTTON GROUP

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 27. (AP)—The Cotton Stabilization corporation today re-elected E. F. Creekmore, of New Orleans, its president. Mr. Creekmore is also vice president and general manager of the American Cotton Cooperative association, which today concluded a two-day meeting here.

McMillan Awarded Airport Contract

Local Man Is Low with Bid To City Dads

Hangar Project Awarded for $22,803; Figure Is $200 Below Nearest Bid Opened Here Friday Night

Six Seek Contract

Building to Be One of the Largest in West Texas; to Be 120 by 80; Paving Job Goes to Lubbock Firm

W. G. M'MILLAN, Lubbock contractor, was the low man among six bidders for the contract to erect the hangar on the municipal airport, Mayor J. J. Clements announced last night at the meeting of the city commission when the bids were opened. McMillan's bid was $22,803, approximately $200 lower than the next bid.

Members of the city commission will meet today as committees to locate the point on the grounds at which the hangar is to be built and also to select the type of face brick.

To Be Large.

The hangar will be 120 feet wide and 80 feet deep. One of the largest, it is said, in West Texas. The hangar is larger than either the municipal or English field hangars in Amarillo, or the ones in Abilene or Big Spring.

Following were the bids submitted:

W. G. McMillan, $22,803; H. H. Shell and son, $23,636; Sampson Construction Co., $23,000; W. S. Moss, $25,000; Harrison and Smythe, $25,130; J. G. Biffle, $27,974.

Harrison and Smythe are from Plainview. The other bidders are Lubbock men.

Paving Contract Let.

The Panhandle Construction company was the only bidder on the paving of Avenue H, 19th street to the F. W. D. C. railroad. They were awarded the contract.

A water system and compressor is to be erected at the airport at an estimated cost of $700.

To Open Tech Grading Class

Registration to Be Monday for Summer Cotton Grading Course; Will Continue for Period of Four Weeks

Texas Technological college's summer short course in cotton grading and stapling, to continue for a period of four weeks, will open for registration on Monday, July 14, according to announcement by college officials late yesterday.

There are no special entrance requirements and the course is open to anyone who feels he can profit by taking the work offered. The aim of the school is to make the work of special value to those who grow, handle or deal in cotton.

Daily Instruction

All classes are to be conducted in the Textile Engineering building which is completely equipped to carry on work of this character. Practical instruction will be given daily, to be accompanied by lectures on the various phases of the cotton business as the class progresses. Instruction will be given in grading, stapling, buying, selling and various other fundamentals of the cotton business. Greater part of the work will probably be on grading and stapling as officials feel that these

Local Man May Die After Touching High Voltage Wire Friday

BADLY burned and unconscious for several hours, Ralph Portwood, 26, employe of the City of Lubbock, late last night was in a serious condition at the West Texas hospital following an accident about 4:30 yesterday afternoon when he contacted a high voltage wire while working on a pole.

Portwood was rushed to the hospital in a Bynum Brothers ambulance after fellow workmen had succeeded in getting him loose from the wire and had lowered his body to the ground.

Physicians stated last night that he was resting well but that he was not entirely out of danger. He received severe burns about the right arm, shoulder, hip and leg and was badly shocked. When taken to the hospital he was unconscious and did not fully regain his senses until about 8 o'clock.

Portwood, together with Edgar Keen, Raymond Coker, Everett Branch and Lloyd Thomas, all city employes, was taking down service wires in an alley at the rear of the Lubbock Inn and became entangled between the secondary and high voltage. Other workers stated that 2300 volts of electricity were sent through his body.

Body Rigid

Keen and Coker, working near noticed Portwood's body became rigid and rushed to his assistance. Coker immediately cut the secondary wires and the injured man was lowered to the ground by use of a rope.

Portwood has been in the employ of the City for the past four years and lives with his father, R. T. Portwood, in the Arnett & Benson addition, north of Texas Tech.

Second Victim Near Death in Auto Explosion at Amarillo

Police Start Investigation After Piece Of Nitro-Glycerine Found; Woman Blown To Bits And Youth Dangerously Hurt

(By Associated Press)

AMARILLO, June 27.—What police believe was an infernal machine killed Mrs. A. D. Payne, wife of an Amarillo attorney, and maimed and probably fatally injured her 14-year-old son, as they were driving in their automobile toward the business part of the city today.

Mrs. Payne's body was blown to pieces and the boy's left side, which was next to his mother, who was driving, was badly mangled—his left leg and left arm having been almost torn from his body.

Planned Vacation.

Payne had walked to his office, almost three miles from his home, and left the automobile for his family's use as they shopped and completed final plans for a vacation they were soon to start.

He could not ascribe a motive for the explosion, although he agreed with police that it must have been caused by an infernal machine. He said he did not know of any enemies who would go to such lengths to wreak vengeance against him.

Thought Nitroglycerine.

Tex Thornton, nitroglycerine expert, after an investigation, said the blast was not caused by gasoline or dynamite, but, in his opinion, nitroglycerine or TNT had been used.

The explosion occurred after Mrs. Payne had driven about 10 blocks after leaving her home. The boy was hurled about 30 feet. The chassis of the car was left intact and the gasoline tank was not damaged.

Detectives said they found bits of wiring and pieces of dry cell batteries in the wreckage. Officers investigating the explosion said they believed the charge had been placed directly beneath the driver's seat.

Payne had been a candidate for district judge but withdrew recently. In the course of his practice he

Brothers Pass 386th Hour in EnduranceHop

John and Kenneth Hunter Are Confident of Surpassing Mark of "St. Louis Robin"; Lack Only Thirty-four Hours

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, June 27.—The Hunter brothers, John and Kenneth, piloting the plane "City of Chicago," had been flying continuously for 386 hours at 5:40 p. m. (C. S. T.) tonight. Lacking only 34 hours and 21 minutes of equalling the world refueling endurance record of the "St. Louis Robins."

Notes from the Hunters today said they were feeling fine and that their 300-horsepower Wright whirlwind motor was still performing well.

Difficulties.

Thus far the Hunters have conquered many difficulties. The gasoline tank on the right wing of their monoplane began leaking two days ago. They were forced to shut it off, necessitating refueling at night.

Another difficulty has been the replacing of spark plugs, a hazardous job that brings one of the pilots within a few inches of the propeller. Still another hazard has been encountered with blustery winds — less fearful, however, than the fatigue, which once sent both pilots into momentary oblivion, only to awaken as the ship plunged earthward.

Negro Saved From Lynching By Mob

PORT ARTHUR, June 27. (AP) — Officers here today successfully fought off a crowd that attempted to seize Rainey Williams, 8-year-old negro who confessed to attacks on eight white women, and safely lodged the prisoner in the county jail at Beaumont.

The negro was taken the 22 miles to Beaumont in 15 minutes in the fire chief's automobile after members of the mob had almost succeeded in dragging him from the rumble seat which had been closed on him. Tear gas bombs hurled into the crowd, however, caused them to relinquish their grips on the prisoner and allowed the car to speed out of town.

CROPS WIPED OUT

Six Miles Area Destroyed in Lockney Territory

(Special To The Avalanche)

LOCKNEY, June 27. — A heavy hail storm in the Muncy community wiped out approximately six square miles of crops Thursday night. A hard wind assuming the propositions of a gale ruined gardens and wrecked several barns and outbuildings in the same community the hail and wind was accompanied by a rain over the central portion of the county that amounted to one-quarter to one-half inch.

Hundred Local Persons to Go To Rail Party

Lovington Is to Celebrate Completion of New Railway Today; Special Trains to Be Run Over Line

Twitty In Charge

Texas and Pacific Officials to Be on Hand for Ceremony in Lea County Seat; Gov. Dillon to Speak

ALL aboard for Lovington, N. M. Lubbock business men, to the number of approximately 100, led by the high school band, will leave this morning at 7 o'clock for the county seat of Lea county to witness the ceremony marking the completion of the Texas-New Mexico railroad into that town. Fire Chief W. E. Twitty will lead the party.

The special train over the newly-completed line is scheduled to arrive in Hobbs at 9:40 a. m. and in Lovington at 11 a. m.

Marks Achievement.

The trip is one of good will and fellowship and in recognition of the achievement of a generation by Lovington, which today is to have inaugurated passenger train service for the first time.

Last Sunday the town, more than a third of a century old and one of the oldest towns in that section of New Mexico, heard the whistle of a locomotive for the first time, when the work trains reached the city limits.

Since then efforts have been made by the company to ballast the track and see that the rails are true and make ready for the handling of freight and passengers.

Officials To Attend.

High officials of the Texas and Pacific and the Texas-New Mexico, a subsidiary of the former road, left Dallas for the trip. The party is to

Lawyer Takes His Own Life To End Trial

L. A. Manchester, Counsel in Youngstown-Bethlehem Merger Trial Suicides Early Friday; Court Adjourns

(By Associated Press)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 27.—L. A. Manchester, chief counsel for the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company, killed himself today at the moment of the opening of court for the third day of trial in the injunction suit to prevent merger of the Youngstown company with Bethlehem Steel corporation.

The suicide caused abrupt adjournment of the trial after a dramatic episode in the Mahoning county common pleas court. July 8 was set as the date for resumption of the hearing.

Awaiting Opening.

News of the attorney's act was brought to President Eugene Grace of the Bethlehem corporation in the courtroom as the score or more attorneys settled in their places to await opening of the third day's session.

The chair immediately behind Former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, acting as chief counsel for all the defendants in the suit, was vacant.

President Grace called Baker and Attorneys F. H. Wood and James B. Kennedy aside for a whispered conference. Judge David G. Jenkins entered. The bailiff rapped his gavel and began the ritual.

"Hear ye! Hear ye!" As he continue through "God save this honorable court," Attorney Kennedy leaped to the judge's dias and pushed that official through the door leading to his chambers. Spectators and opposing counsel, unaware of the tragedy, gasped.

Attorneys Called.

Finally Baker, Wood and Luther S. Day of Cleveland, the latter

Guardsmen Are Called Out to Calm Violence

Mob Surrounds N. C. Jail in Effort to Get Seven Negroes Charged with Attack on a Young White Girl

(By Associated Press)

RALEIGH, N. C., June 28. (Saturday)—Governor O. Max Gardner, shortly after 1 a. m. today, ordered out one company of the Concord National guard to prevent mob violence by a crowd of several hundred persons which surrounded the Cabarrus county jail at Concord where seven negroes are held in connection with the criminal attack on a young white girl.

The governor's action was taken following a conference with adjutant general of North Carolina, J. B Van Metts. General Metts was notified by private citizens of the Concord situation, he said.

Mayor Pul Younts, of Charlotte, was ordered by General Metts to go to Concord immediately to survey the situation and if he thought necessary, call out the Charlotte National guard troops.

This is the first time troops have been called out since North Carolina's widespread textile strikes last summer.

Fifty Lives Are Taken In Storms

NEW YORK, June 27. (AP)—Death and destruction rode the wings of storms in parts of the United States and Canada last night and today, taking 50 lives, injuring many persons and causing property damage of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Thirty persons were killed at Brockville, Ont., in the explosion of a charge of dynamite under the drill boat J. B. King. It was believed the blast may have been caused by lighting.

Eleven persons were killed near Caperol, Ont., in the wrecks of a freight train and a passenger train. Almost a dozen deaths and loss of 30 fishing vessels were reported at Harbor Grace, N. F., and vicinity.

Two men were drowned at Buffalo when a boat floundered. A farmer was killed by lightning near Carlisle, Pa., and a nine-year-old girl at Hackettstown, N. J., met the same fate.

'Tame' Speech In Behalf of Wife Is Made

Fiery, Vitrolic Phrases of Former Campaigns Lacking in Talk in Interest of 'Ma's' Gubernatorial Race

Former Governor Makes Few Verbal Attacks on Opponents in Coming Elections; Still Anti-Prohibitionist

By CHARLES C. WATSON
Of The Avalanche Staff

IT was the "same old Jim" in body who spoke last night to an assembly of between 3,500 and 4,000 Lubbock and South Plains citizens from an improvised platform in front of Hotel Lubbock—the "same old voice" of former years but it was a strange tongue in which he spoke.

The fiery and vitrolic phrases which so characterized the campaigns of Jas. E. Ferguson in the past, were lacking as he discussed the various issues in the gubernatorial campaign in behalf of the candidacy of his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson.

Only at very short intervals did the old "political master" step back into the role he has so often displayed in former campaigns. At such times other candidates in the race, together with the Moody administration, were on the receiving end of these attacks.

No Honor Sought

In closing his speech Mr. Ferguson declared that no honor was sought by the Fergusons, rather a desire by the two to offer themselves in the service of the people as an appreciative impulse for the way in which thousands have stood by him and his one-time wife executive through trying years.

"I would truly be unmindful to the feeling of gratitude and sentiment were I not to express my appreciation for the presence of you 5,000 people gathered here tonight," he opened. "We are now entering into a momentous campaign for governor and I occupy the most peculiar position of any man in public life. If you could call a political campaign and its discussions a political

Johnnie Bowen Hurt in Crash

Thirteen-Year-old Lubbock Youth Struck by Car Here Following Ambulance; Gets Fractured Leg in Mishap

Johnnie Bowen, 13-year-old son of Mrs. J. T. Bowen, was painfully injured Friday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock when he was struck by an automobile at the intersection of Avenue L and Main street.

The automobile, driven by Elmer Ray, knocked young Bowen from his bicycle onto the pavement.

The lad was taken to the West Texas hospital for emergency treatment and physicians stated upon examination that he suffered a fractured right leg. He was resting well last night.

Bowen was going west on Main street to the West Texas hospital following an ambulance carrying Ralph Portwood, who was seriously injured a short time before, when the car, also travelling the same direction, struck him. The accident was said to have been unavoidable.

Bigamy Conviction Of Riley Hopson Reversed, Remanded By Higher Court

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 27. — Holding that a person could not be tried for bigamy in Texas if the bigamous marriage was contracted in another state, the court of criminal appeals in its last session of the 1929-30 term today reversed and remanded the case of Wiley Hopson, convicted of bigamy in Wichita county and sentenced to serve two years. Hopson married Louise Allison at Davidson, Oklahoma, while his first wife was still living.

The state contended at Hopson's trial that co-habitation constituted common law marriage. In its opinion today, the court held that a common law marriage could not be consummated where either party had a lawful spouse living.

Dissenting Opinion.

A dissenting opinion was written in the case by Judge O. S. Lattimore in which he characterized the judgment of the court as one that might result in grievous consequences and which might put society at the "mercy of freebooters abroad on our social seas in this day of much talk of increasing sexual crime."

Under the opinion, the greatest criminal offense for which Hopson could be tried in Texas was adultery, the court holding the relations between Hopson and his Oklahoma bride adulterous and not bigamous.

Flying Across Oceans "Just A Job Of Work" To Aviators Of Southern Cross

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 27.—Flying across oceans is still something to make ordinary earth-bound folk applaud and speak in flowing terms of heroic courage, but to the crew of the Southern Cross it is "just a job of work."

Squadron Leader Charles Kingsford-Smith and the three men with whom he made the perilous westwart crossing of the North Atlantic in the same plane in which he flew the Pacific two years ago were welcomed as heroes at the city hall today and at a luncheon were presented medas of valor.

"It's awfully nice to get these medals," the Australian flier said, "but I don't know why they should be called medals of valor. There wasn't any valor about what we did. It was just a job of work we had set ourselves and we did it."

Kingsford-Smith then protested against all the credit being showered on him, saying that four men had been in the ship and all had played equally important roles. He then introduced the members of his crew, the bad-weather pilot from the Dutch East Indies, Evert Van Dyk, whom he called "The Flying Dutchman," Captain J. Patrick Saul, the Irish navigator, whom he called Paddy; and "Little Johnny Stannage," the Australian Wireless operator.

Young People Chosen Will Represent North Texas At Conclave In Arkansas

Stamford Girl and Amarillo Boy Are Chosen at Close of Episcopal Summer Gathering

Resolutions Are Passed on Friday Morning Expressing Thanks to Those Assisting in Meeting

Miss Helen Lyles, of Stamford, and Willis Avery, of Amarillo, have been selected as the girl and boy to represent North Texas at the Provincial Young People's conference in Winslow, Arkansas, July 23 to August 5. The choice was made at the close of North Texas Summer conference of the Episcopal church which has convened at Cheri Casa for the past two weeks.

They were each awarded a thirty dollar scholarship covering registration, board, and lodging there.

Resolutions Past

Friday morning, at breakfast, resolutions were passed expressing thanks to the local Episcopal Woman's auxiliary and other members of the congregation and the Country club members for the two picnics and the reception at Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Wilson's home; to the authorities of Tech college for the privileges of the campus and class rooms; to the Rix Furniture company for a piano and victrola; and to the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal for its generous and accurate news stories, and to all who have kindly contributed to the success of the conference.

At luncheon a bowl containing a large cluster of sweet peas was presented to Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Harper of Cheri Casa for their consideration of the comfort and convenience of their guests.

President Horn Speaks

Thursday at luncheon President Paul W. Horn of Tech college spoke of the value of the personal touch in religious and educational and social work, commended the conference for its program of training youth for leadership and expressed an interest in the continuation of these conferences at Lubbock in future years and in the Episcopal church program in connection with college life.

Rev. W. H. Martin spoke Thursday at Cheri Casa on personal efficiency in church work, pointing out many parallels between Christian work and business methods. His address was followed first by a lively discussion of some of the subjects proposed by him and later by a program of music consisting of a violin solo by Miss Dorothy Harlan, vocal solos by Miss Elizabeth Beecher and Miss Elizabeth Crawford, each accompanied by Miss Maurine Mullican. Rev. Percy W. Jones gave a humorous reading. Specialty acts were rendered by Mrs. Elizabeth F. Page, Misses Dorothy LeFevre and Katharine Aiken, Messrs. Walter Henckell and Willis Avery, Bishop E. Cecil Seaman and his son, Henry. The fellowship program was in charge of Mrs. Lois Prude Bennett and the performers were introduced by Rev. A. E. Hanson.

All-Day Meet Is Held By District

An all-day conference of the Junior Methodist Missionary socities throughout the Lubbock district was held in Slaton recently with more than 150 persons in attendance. This is the first junior district meet held in the Lubbock district and was declared successful.

I. A. Smith, jr., of Slaton, was appointed chairman and presided during a program consisting of readings, stories, songs, negro spirituals, vocal solos, piano solos, and other instrumental solos.

Lunch Is Served

At noon a lunch was served in the basement of the church and in the afternoon a farewell service was held for the Friendship chest which the juniors are filling to send to children of the Philippine Islands.

O'Donnell was presented a picture for having the largest delegation present.

Delegates were present from Lamesa, Slaton, O'Donnell, Tahoka, Lorenzo, Post, Levelland, Lubbock, Drews, Amherst, and Crosbyton.

England has a campaign against fake whist parties.

VILLAGE RECOVERING

Severe Hail and Rain Storm Hits Canadian Town

ST. JOHN'S N. F., June 27. (AP)—The fishing village of Lumsden, which suffered serious damage last November in the tidal wave that swept the Burin Peninsula, today was recovering from a hail and rain storm that took three lives and sank thirty boats.

Virtually every pane of glass in the village and many roofs of the fishermen's dwelling crashed in under the weight of the hail stones, which a message to the minister of posts here described as weighing ten pounds. The storm arose suddenly after a day of perfect summer weather. Three fishermen were drowned when their boat went down in the harbor.

LAUNDRY CUTS

During hot summer months, you will find your laundry pile cut perceptibly if you get one of the new waterproof table clothes or luncheon sets. They look like dull, heavy linen, come in attractive colors and patterns and do not look in the least like oil-cloth, though they wipe off quite easily.

Shorter Wrap

By MME. LISBETH

THE SHORTER WRAP for evening or formal afternoon wear seems to have captured the femine heart. And another thing that has captivated womankind is the ensemble idea.

It is a number of years ago that the first suits that mated dress and jacket were introduced. Now, every item in milady's wardrobe must bear some relation to every other piece or she feels improperly dressed.

Marion Shilling, screen player, is pictured, wearing a youthful violet flowered chiffon frock with ruffled skirt, puffed sleeves, high waistline and intricate bows and ties.

Over it she wears a violet hued velvet wrap laned with chiffon to match the frock.

Tyler To Dedicate New City Airport

TYLER, June 27. (AP)—With more than 100 airplanes and army and civilian aviators expected to participate, the formal opening and dedication of the new $50,000 Tyler municipal airport will be held Saturday and Sunday.

Attorney General R. L. Bobbitt representing Governor Moody, will officially accept the airport for the state, and Major Davenport Johnson of Fort Crockett, Galveston, will receive it for the federal government.

Two thousand dollars in prizes will be distributed to winners in various flying contests and for the best stunters.

EASY LAUNDERING

If you roll your little gilets up in a towel when laundering them, and iron them before they get too dry, you will find they look beautiful and it is a much simpler process than drying and sprinkling.

Husbands and Friends Given Lovely Affair

Jolly Dozen Club Members Entertain with Party on Lawn of Hawkins Home Thursday Evening

Members of the Jolly Dozen Forty-Two club entertained their husbands and other guests with a party Thursday evening on a beautifully lighted lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hawkins, 1919 16th street.

Guests gathered at 7 o'clock and were served a lovely picnic supper. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing games of forty-two, eight tables being in progression. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the games.

AUTHORIZE LOTTERY

France Formulates National Plan to Raise Funds

PARIS, June 27. (AP)—Persistent talk in parliamentary circles for weeks, favoring a national lottery for the conversion of national defense funds, came to a climax today with the introduction of a bill authorizing the lottery.

The measure, put up by Deputy Henri Labroue, would organize a national lottery to produce 20,000,000,000 Francs ($1,200,000,000).

INVITING SEAT

Do try to have a place outside that invites you to come into the open. It may be a comfortable chair on the porch, a shady nook in an arbor, a swing that moves gently while you shell peas, darn the family stockings, or peel potatoes. Such a lure can take you into the open at least two hours daily, which will aid both your health and your disposition.

JELLED SALADS

What could be cooler on a hot night than a chilled, jelled salad? Thinly sliced cucumbers, jelled with diced tomatoes in unsweetened lemon gelatine, make a fine salad. Salt, pepper and add a few drops of onion juice before it jells.

GOOD COLOR

Stockings will look new longer if after the first washing or two a little mild dye is added to the rinse water. This counteracts the tendency all hosiery seems to have to grow either pinkish or whitish.

The Velveteen Jacket is a popular addition to the wardrobe of the younger set.

Marion Schilling, screen beauty, is shown wearing a printed frock of black, orange and white with pleated skirt. With it she wears a tiny orange velveteen bolero jacket.

Belt, gloves and bag are also in this color, as is the draped jersey turban, which is fitted across the head in the approved Paris style, the pleats being held in place by jeweled pins.

Mrs. H. F. Williams Hostess at Event Given Thursday as Courtesy to Daughter, Miss Pauline

Mrs. H. F. Williams was hostess at her home, 2514 21st street, Thursday afternoon honoring her daughter, Pauline, the occasion being her twelfth birthday.

Games were played and late in the afternoon guests were served ice cream with the birthday cake.

Those present were Greta Marie Elmore, Virginia Cook, Brunett Beard, Ernestine Lockhart, Annie Lee Snider, Dona Huff, Marjorie Johnston, Madelin Delevan, Helen Fay Campbell, Mary Hortense Power, Helen Marie Roberts, Jean Sheppard, Ruth Henry, Mildred and Maurine Boswell.

Ruth Henry and Dona Huff won prizes in contests which were held during the afternoon.

TRAY HABIT

A competent housewife has what she calls the "tray habit." She saves time and steps by always accumulating all the utensils she needs for a specific task on a tray which she carries along. All her cleaning rags, furniture polish, dusters, oil for doors and so on, on cleaning days. All her luncheon needs for her hour of rest at noon-time, such as her salad, rolls, tea or coffee, salt, pepper and a book to read. Through habit she has learned to remember everything that she will need before starting on a given task.

HOLE PREVENTION

If your style of walking seems to encourage holes in the heels of your stockings very quickly, try putting a small square of adhesive tape on your bare heel just at the shoe line before you put your stockings on. It often helps.

Las Picaras Club Has Gala Outing

A pleasant outing was enjoyed by members of Las Picaras club and their guests Thursday evening at Tumble N.

Following a swim, a picnic supper was served to Lois Ford, Odell Ford, Ione Drake, Barbara Smith, Kathleen Payne, Winnie B. Weed, Margaret, Norman and Douglas Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson.

Miss Bowers Will Wed On July First

Announcement has been made of the approaching marriage of Miss Ladelle Bowers, former Tech student, to Perris Thompson, both of Vernon, the ceremony to be read on July 1.

The announcement was made at a lovely bridge party and miscellaneous shower given in Vernon Tuesday afternoon by Miss Mary Tom Lisman and Mrs. Billy Duckett.

American Army Officers Take Tender Care Of Gold Star Mothers In France

ST. QUENTIN, France, June 27. (AP) — American army officers are tenderly caring for the American Gold Star mothers and wives who are now visiting the tombs of their World war dead. And the Gold Star mothers are mothering these young officers whom they call "their boys."

This ever thoughtful attitude of the American officer has also made a deep impression upon the French people of the district visited.

"You are indeed valiant youth men," said an aged French woman as she ran the gauntlet of flower greeted leading the women through the streets of her village.

Return Compliment

The officers take special delight in going from table to table at meal time to see that every Gold Star mother gets just what she wants to eat. The mothers return the compliment and inquire whether their officer guides are quite comfortable.

French cooking pleases the Gold Star mothers, but their praise for French cooking does not extend to French coffee.

The mothers are not forgetting their men folk at home and members of one party answering a question as to what were the principal souvenirs brought to take home replied handkerchiefs and neckties, though many a French doll is tucked away for little Annie or Elsie.

Bouquets Given

When one party sat down to eat at St. Quentin there was a bouquet of flowers beside each plate. It developed that the donor was a French peasant who had lost three sons in the war. She could not leave the American mothers but had slipped quietly into the dining room while the Americans were at the grandstand of their cars and placed a bouquet of flowers at each plate.

The first California officer to [illegible] was that of Major and Mrs. Ralph Ellis Bell, of Pasadena, Cal. He was killed in action on April 27, 1918. Officers Scalded As Still Explodes

CHICAGO, June 27. (AP)—Two highway policemen, lying in wait for moonshiners, were scalded and injured early today when a still they had under surveillance exploded.

Patrolman Walter Remillard, was reported near death from burns. His companion, Sergt. John Orgel was not seriously hurt.

Smelling mash, the patrolmen found the still of about 150 gallon capacity in Markham. They found no one on the premises, but there was a fire burning indicating that the operators planned to return.

The officers concealed themselves close to the still.

Twenty minutes later it exploded, showering them with the boiling mash.

Honeymooners Run Out Of Everything At Once But Police Come To Rescue

CHICAGO, June 27. (AP) — The Evans family of Los Angeles ran out of everything all at at once last night.

First they ran out of air in a tire. They got out to take stock of the situation. They found they also had run out of gas, water, oil, food, money and patience. They were directly in front of the Chicago lawn police station.

On Honeymoon

It was unfortunate from a sentimental standpoint, because the Evans are on their honeymoon. It was sad from a practical standpoint because they still were quite a ways from Cleveland, O., their destination.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Evans, there were in the car the five children of Mrs. Evans who, before her recent marriage to Wilbur Evans, was a widow.

Not only were they out of everything, but they also faced a hair cut problem. Mr. Evans needed a hair cut. The five children needed hair cuts.

Police Come To Aid

The Evanses dilemma was one of those things that gives the Chicago policeman a chance to show the big heart that beats beneath the silver star. The officers took the travelers in. They fed them. They arranged the replenishment of gasoline, oil and water for the honeymoners' rattly chariot. And officer Carrol, who purports to posess almost uncanny skill as a barber, dug out his shears and performed what he proclaimed to be swell haircuts, although the vote on this was not unanimous.

Then the Evanses went to sleep in the station. At 4 o'clock this morning they awoke, refreshed, piled into the poor but proud car, honked the horn, and chugged away toward Cleveland.

Youthful Americans Win Way To Tennis Semi-Finals

British Stars Are Set Back By Yank Aces

Allison, Mangin and Doeg Are Among Last Eight at Wimbledon; Tilden Advances in Two Phases

WIMBLEDON, England, June 27. (AP) — Three youthful Americans rose to brilliant tennis heights today to stroke their way into the semi-final round of the Wimbledon championships as they dealt a blow to England's titular aspirations.

Wilmer Allison, the young Texan, and the equally youthful Johnny Doeg from California, and Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., won their way into the last eight along with Henri Cochet, the wiry little defending champion from France, at the expense of the English. Big Bill Tilden, the ace of the American invaders, and George Lott, United States No. 4 ranking player, may increase the United States representation in the final eight to five, when they meet their British Empire opponents in the fourth round tomorrow.

American Women Shine.

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and Miss Helen Jacobs, America's ranking women stars, also sailed through their matches today, each losing one game. Mrs. Moody made short work of her match with Miss M. Canter, Holland star, 6-0, 6-1, while Miss Jacobs defeated Mrs. W. D. List of England by the same score.

Of the three American men who won today, Mangin had the hardest fight and covered himself with the greatest glory by defeating H. W. (Bunny) Austin, Britain's foremost singles star, 9-7, 10-8, 6-0.

Allison Has Tough Match.

Allison and G. P. Hughes, English Davis cup team member, carried on an exciting match, each battling for the advantage at the net but the swift Texan finally emerged with the honors, winning 4-6, 6-1, 6-3.

Doeg's powerful southpaw service and volleying compensated for his lapses on ground strokes and the Californian brought in the third American singles victory as he defeated H. P. David of England, 6-3, 6-3, 6-1.

America's supremacy in the singles failed to carry over into the doubles, although the invaders from across the Atlantic managed to get an even break. Tilden advanced in two phases of play. Paired with his Dutch partner, H. Timmer, he defeated Pierre and Landeaux, 8-6, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4. With Fraulein Cilli Aussem of Germany as his partner the American ace downed J. Van Der Heide and Miss M. R. Couquerque in straight sets, 6-4, 6-4.

Bobby Sails For Home But Leaves His Clubs Behind

SOUTHAMPTON, England, June 27. (AP)—Bobby Jones sailed for home on the Liner Europa today, but the golf clubs that rendered him such glorious service in winning the British Amateur and Open championships didn't sail with him.

In the excitement of saying goodbye to innumerable friends, Bobby left the clubs behind in a London hotel. He will get his sticks shortly after he arrives in New York, however. A friend took them back to London and they will arrive on the Aquitania which docks in New York about 24 hours after the Europa.

Bobby's clubs have caused him more trouble recently outside of tournaments than they have in actual play.

Over a year ago his bag of clubs was stolen from his car in New York City. They had been taken by three small boys to whom golf clubs were just funny looking sticks with metal and wooden knobs on one end.

The boys tried to sell their loot to a garage foreman who had heard of the hue and cry that rose when Bobby's precious implements disappeared. The garage man, John Jope, returned them immediately.

Special Rates Asked For Jones' Homecoming

WASHINGTON, June 27. (AP) — Bobby Jones now has the railroads running excursion trains on his account.

Southern lines asked Interstate Commerce Commission permission today to begin running special excursions at reduced fare from Atlanta and Athens, Ga., to New York beginning June 30, that his admirers might rally to welcome the golf champion back from his most recent conquests in England.

His last request was that he would not be stuffed and presented to congress. He figured he had suffered enough.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

Power? Well, Yes

The football season is in the fall, but you wouldn't think so from reading the scores of recent ball games in which a baseball team—cept the New York Yankees have participated.

By power alone, except for a well-pitched game about every fifth day, the Yanks have marched, swinging their bats, from far down in the second division, to a place of honor among the leaders. And this with one good pitcher, I mean Pipgras.

They swooped down upon Cleveland after the Indians had taken a series from the Macks, and after the Yankees left that town, you could have bought the new 44-story terminal tower for a quarter. Moving on to New York, they knocked off their ancient Nemesis, George Uhle, who struck out the Babe three times in that game, but gave the Bam a fast one the fourth time—and the ball knocked out a window in an apartment several miles away.

Down in Florida this spring, the experts were disposed to belittle the Yankees. But not Connie Mack.

"They have plenty of power," Mack told me in Fort Myers. "Any team with Combs, Ruth, Gehrig and Lazzeri is dangerous."

Since then, Shawkey has sent Hoyt on his way and picked up Harry Rice, as sweet an outfielder as there is in any man's league and one who knows how to take a wicked cut in there, too.

During the first two weeks of the 1930 pennant race, the Yankees were playing .000 baseball. Then the rumblings began. Those big bats started to click. And they're still clicking.

In Shawkey's Corner

Jack Shawkey may be the most erratic heavyweight in the world, but this moment finds a great many people in his corner rooting for him to win. He made a great mistake in bringing that left hook into Maxie's abdomen, but who is there to say that the blow was not accidental? And he is ready to atone in the fairest possible way, by fighting the German again, on any basis, even if he, Jack Shawkey, gets not so much as one dime out of the box himself.

This offer to meet Schmeling at practically Max's own terms, even offering to pay his old manager, Bulow, out of his (Shawkey's) share of the gate, wins me. Maybe they're just fooling me again, but I must admit that Jack has taken me quite by surprise in this generous gesture.

What Did You Say, Max?

This puts the matter up squarely to Schmeling. If, as he says, he believes that sailor's heart grew small in that fourth round, and thinks he was just starting to get to Shawkey, it should be easy for him to prove that he can win.

Schmeling is a nice fellow, apparently, with affable ways. He has many admirable qualities.

Shawkey has proved himself a bum on some occasions, and at other times looked like a great guy.

Right now, I am in Shawkey's corner.

Latonia Derby To Open In Kentucky

LATONIA, Ky., June 27. (AP)—The forty-eighth renewal of the Latonia derby, worth $25,000 added for three-year-olds, will feature the opening tomorrow of Latonia's thirty-seven day summer thoroughbred meeting.

Out of 208 nominations the starting field was reduced to eight horses. Gallant Knight, which finished second to Gallant Fox in the Kentucky Derby, being established as the favorite. Gallant Knight also has the Fairmount Derby to his credit.

SCOUTS AFTER MALLON

Major League Teams Want Fort Worth Star

FORT WORTH, June 27. (AP) — The play of Leslie Mallon, Fort Worth's youthful second baseman, has attracted a number of major league teams, but no price has been set on him, according to Ted Robinson, president of the Panthers.

"We aren't considering selling him," Robinson announced today, "and the report that we have set a price of $20,000 on him is all wet."

"Scouts of the Athletics, Yankees and Cincinnati Reds have followed our club looking Mallon and others over. They have asked for a price but we are playing this Texas League race and not selling ball players. I have never said what price I would take for his contract.

Wouldn't this be a grand country if the leans could find the weight the fats lose in reducing?

Morgan and Frnka to Attend Coaching Schools This Summer

J. O. (Dol) Morgan, newly elected varsity football assistant at Texas Tech will leave Monday for Dallas where he will attend the Ray Morrison-Howard Jones coaching school at Southern Methodist University.

In addition to special work in football tactics, Morgan will spend considerable time at the school on basketball. He is to coach freshman basketball at Tech when the 1930-31 school year gets under way.

Coach Henry Frnka of Lubbock High school will be unable to join Morgan until July 10. The Dallas coaching school opens July 1 and ends July 14. From Dallas Coach Frnka will go to Houston where he will attend Jack Meagher's coaching school, which opens August 14.

Mickey Walker In Court Fight With Estranged Spouse

TRENTON, N. J., June 27. (AP)—Edward (Mickey) Walker, middleweight boxing champion, filed suit today in Chancery Court to restrain Mrs. Margaret Kelly Walker, his wife, from spending $200,000 he claims to have given her during their married life.

Walker also seeks to prevent his estranged wife from transferring title to their home at Rumson and property in Middletown.

It had been agreed, Walker continued, that the money and real estate would remain his property, although in Mrs. Walker's possession.

Jack Kearns, Walker's manager, accompanied the fighter to California, where Mrs. Walker then resided in February to effect a reconciliation, Walker said. Kearns, in an affidavit, said Mrs. Walker informed him she spent all but $81,500 of the money.

Dunlap, Moller To Clash for Golfing Title

Princeton and Notre Dame Golfers, Co-Medalists in Intercollegiate Tourney, Meet in Deciding Match

By LRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sport Writer.

OAKMONT, Pa., June 27. (AP)—The Collegiate golf championships of 1930 has demonstrated that the medalist in the qualifying round is not always jinxed when the match play begins. The current competition had two medalists, George T. Dunlap, Jr., of Princeton, and Lawrence Moller, of Notre Dame, and they are the only survivors in the record field.

Dunlap had a comparatively easy road today to the final match, winning from Winston Fuller of Southern California, eight up and seven to play in a 36 hole match but Moller had to battle 37 holes before he got down a bridge four at the extra hole to eliminate Phillips Finlay, Harvard captain.

When Moller and Dunlap tied at 153 for the holes of the qualifying round, officials of the intercollegiate association suggested they arrange for a playoff to decide possession of the medal. Tomorrow will bring the first convivment season so the player who leads after the first 18 holes will get the pretty gold medal with the blue ribbon.

The youth able to outlast the other over the marathon 36 holes at the Oakmont Country Club will be acclaimed the best college golfer in the United States.

Observance of Statistic Law Held Lax Here

Failure to Record Births and Deaths Here Claimed by Dr. W. A. Davis, of State Department of Health

Observance of the law with reference to vital statistics is lax in Lubbock county and the federal government's test will reveal an extremely low birth rate for this city "due to the fact that many births are not recorded here," according to announcement here yesterday by Dr. W. A. Davis, of Austin, of the State Department of Health.

A test of the law will be made by the government in August, using the facilities of the recent decennial census.

Low Birth Rate

"Lubbock county has perhaps the lowest birth rate of any county on the South Plains," he said. "According to the 1929 statistics as compared with the 1930 population, there were 21 births in this county per thousand population. Figures of other surrounding counties are Hale, 27 per 100; Lynn, 27; Garza, 32; Dawson, 24, and Terry, 27."

Death rate of Lubbock county is 10 per 1,000. This rate is increased by nature of the fact that Lubbock furnishes the hospital and mortuary facilities for a great area of the South Plains and West Texas.

The state law requires that registration must be five days after each birth and that a public record must be made of a death before burial.

Plan Welcome For Visitors

Committee Selected by Local Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development for Coming Conventions

In meeting yesterday morning directors of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development appointed a committee to make plans for cooperative welcoming of visitors to all local conventions. This is to be done in an effort to cement good will toward Lubbock.

Members of the committee are Tom White, Dick Smith and John L. Vaughan. Upon recommendation of the committee, the chamber of commerce soon will invite owners and employes of all cafes, restaurants, soda fountains, tourist camps and hotels to a dinner meeting for the purpose of emphasizing the value of welcoming strangers and convention visitors.

It was announced yesterday that R. J. Murray, Director P. R. Friend and A. B. Davis will confer Monday with officials of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association in Dallas, prior to starting a membership drive here.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us.—II Corinthians, iv, 6, 7.

TO LOVINGTON, NEW MEXICO

CONGRATULATIONS, Lovington and Lea county, New Mexico, upon the coming of the great 'iron horse'!

We'd rather, of course, have your new railroad connect you and your splendid territory with Lubbock, as a wholesale base, but since fate has ruled otherwise we will glory in your most recent accomplishment.

Lubbock's good will evangels, in your city today, form a living proof of the spirit of co-operation prevalent in this city toward the people of Eastern New Mexico—Lovington's own province. Your hopes are our hopes; your wishes our wishes; your labors a part of our own.

For many years Lovington has stood guardian over the frontier, its welcoming community given over to service of the molders of what is rapidly becoming an economic empire. It has stood as a haven of rest and of human want and to see the rails of a great transportation system running into the one-time ranch supply town is comforting to behold.

On this day of triumph—this long-looked-for attainment—Lubbock and the South Plains rejoice with Lovington and great Lea county upon the completion of a gigantic task.

As the spokesman for your neighbors on the east The Morning Avalanche offers sincere congratulations and best wishes—together with the hope that the new railroad will usher into being your greatest period of growth and development.

Carry on, Lovington, as in the past—this time aided by a bulwark of modern times!

INSULL OVERREACHED HIMSELF

Samuel Insull may be a great business man, a great organizer, but as a politician he is one of the most complete flops America has seen. It was Mr. Insull who dug down into his pocket to finance the campaign of Col. Frank L. Smith, who wanted to be senator from Illinois—and when it came out that the head of several utilities companies had contributed a large amount to aid the chairman of the state utilities commission such a roar went up that Col. Smith's ambitions were frustrated.

A few days ago Mr. Insull was tipped off that Ambassador Sackett, in an address welcoming the World Power Conference to Berlin, was going to have something to say about high electric rates in the United States. Mr. Insull went to Mr. Sackett and advised him not to repeat such things. Mr. Sackett told Mr. Insull he would make an uncensored speech or none at all—and on reflection, decided to make none at all. But the address had been given to the papers in advance of delivery. The newspaper men wanted to know why it was recalled. The story of Mr. Insull's interference came out, together with those parts of the speech to which Mr. Insull had taken exception. And thus Mr. Insull gained many times as much publicity for the unfavorable speech as it would have received if he had not interfered.

It should be pointed out that Mr. Insull was not interfering in the public duty of an ambassador, since Mr. Sackett had not been instructed by his government to make the speech. He simply made a stupid move in an endeavor to sidetrack criticism of his industry. Mr. Sackett was merely making a charge that Senators Norris and Howell and several others have made from time to time in congress with little effect. But Mr. Insull made it news, and very bad news for his industry.

"Chicago gangsters bring machine guns into action in the dining room." No doubt the usual methods of trying to attract the waiter's attention failed.

Kansas is forming a club for men over 90 who drive their own cars. At the present rate of motor suicide they will have to reduce the age limit to get the first charter member.

Empires rise and fall, feminine fashions complete their own cycle from long to short and short to long, and congress debates a tariff bill—all while a comic strip gets through one climax.

A film of the Sharkey-Schmeling fight was seized. And yet they let the contestants go free!

On the Firing Line at the Nation's Capital

MORE ON NAVAL TREATY ARGUMENT

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

ASHINGTON, June 27.—How public must a diplomatic bargain be to be reasonably safe?

Once such lickers were considered nobody's business but a few rulers.

It was quite the regular thing for two of them to agree to help each other in case of war, without telling the hoi polloi in their two countries a word about it; if war actually broke out, their subjects were expected to jump in and fight — that was deemed plenty sion enough for them to know that there was any treaty.

Now this good old custom is generally recognized as having been dangerous; people will not stand for it.

Nevertheless, the old-time bosses doubtless honestly felt that they understood their own game best—that it simply would cause trouble to have ordinary folk butting into it.

Moreover, there are many signs that modern bosses still think so—except it is harder for them to get away with it than it used to be.

Anyway, they try to be as secret as possible.

Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson's recent row with Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California, over America's naval pact with England and Japan, reveals the diplomatic complex beautifully. The story has been printed piecemeal already, but not assembled in a single volume.

As has been recounted, our delegates England's and Japan's framed up the naval agreement in London last winter. However, each country has a legislative body which must ratify any treaty its government signs, before it becomes binding—in England parliament; in Japan, the diet; here, the senate.

When it has a bill, appointment, treaty or whatever it to a committee of its members who specialize not to act on, the senate invariably begins by referring it to a committee of its members who specialize on that subject; then turns to other work pending the committee's report, favorable or adverse. It does not always do what the committee advises, but the report weighs considerably, as its experts' opinion.

The naval treaty went to the foreign relations committee, of which Senator Johnson is the influential senior member, next to Chairman Borah.

Senator Johnson proved suspicious.

Perhaps he was rendered so partly by a remark attributed to Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald in parliament, to the effect that the negotiators had "assumed" somewhat more than they actually put into the treaty; but only "evil" could come from discussing the matter, he added. It really sounded like the mixture of a little old-fashioned secrecy into modern "open diplomacy."

Anyhow, the senator said he wanted to see all the confidential notes exchanged among the negotiating—obviously intending, if the compact contains a "joker" to find it.

Slightly fretted, Secretary of State Stimson took the position that it is not to the senate to ratify or reject treaties; not to insist on a hand in making them. To which the senator countered with article 2, section 2, paragraph 2 of the constitution, empowering the president to make treaties "by and with the ADVICE, as well as the "consent of the senate."

Semi-acknowledging the cogency of this reasoning, the secretary finally did send to the committee, not the desired notes, indeed, but what he called a "paraphrase" of them—their general sense in his own words.

Still the senator was balky.

What might seem to Secretary Stimson an excellent "paraphrase," he explained, might seem to him very faulty—maybe even with omissions in it.

The Secretary dwelt on the private, personal nature of the original notes—notes, he argued, which it might be highly embarrassing to the American delegates' fellow negotiators, of other nationalities, to have him broadcast.

He reminded Senator Johnson that President Washington once refused to let congress see the inside correspondence which preceded one of his pacts—the Jay treaty.

Did not the senator consider President Washington's example a pretty good one to follow, asked Mr. Stimson.

The senator said "yes," he did, but pointed to an inaccuracy in the secretary's historical allusion—

It is true that President Washington refused to send the Jay correspondence to the house of representatives, which has no voice in treaty-making; however, he sent it to the senate, which has.

Regardless of the merits of the debate between Secretary of State Stimson (really, of course, meaning President Hoover) and Senator Johnson of California, this much is fairly obvious—

Diplomats never did like kibitzers.

Diplomatic kibitzing positively was forbidden in the middle ages; it has been risky until quite recently; it is frowned on now, and it seems unlikely that it ever will be popular among professional internationalists.

KNOWLEDGE OF CHEMISTRY HELPS TO BUILD A HEALTHIER RACE

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

Chemistry to the average man means the pouring of two fluids together in a tube with some sort of reaction taking place in the form of a precipitate or the development of gas. Little does he realize that in every cell of his own body chemical actions are constantly going on, building up new materials, breaking down and eliminating old materials, providing energy, causing and preventing disease.

The continuance of life is dependent on this constant series of chemical reactions, and modern medicine is greatly dependent on the knowledge that the chemists of living materials have furnished in order that it may aid the patients in time of disease.

Only recently has there come to be a full understanding of what are known as the deficiency diseases. In the absence of certain substances from the body, diseases develop and by the provision of these substances the diseases may be prevented, and unless the changes are too great, they may be corrected. Thus vitamin D and calcium and phosphorus prevent rickets, iodine helps to prevent simple goiter, other vitamins prevent nervous diseases, diseases of the eye and disturbance of digestion.

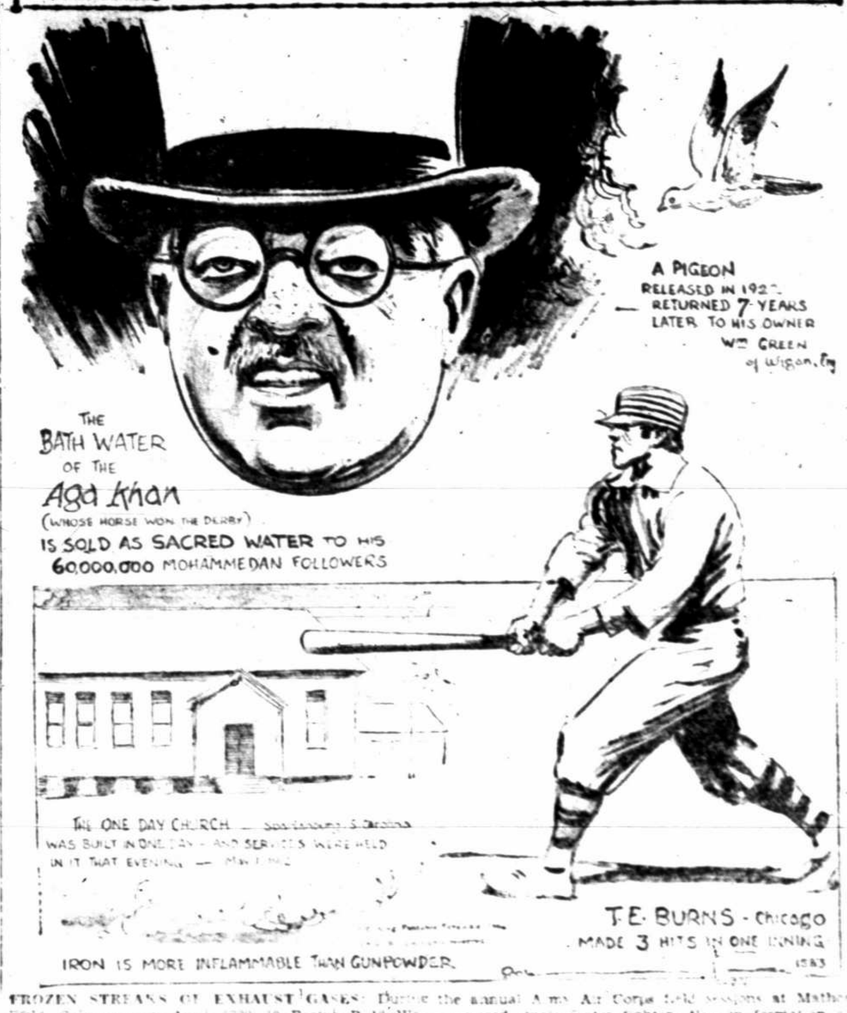

Most of the body tissue is composed of protein. Protein is the kind of substance that occurs in white of egg, in gelatin, in cheese, in cottage cheese or casein, and in meats and blood. Protein is, however merely a general name for combinations of various simpler chemicals.

When proteins are taken into the stomach they are broken down into the simpler substances are carried to the organs and there used in building human tissue.

Sugars and starches are broken down and carried to the liver and muscles where they are re-deposited as glycogen and used for energy and warmth.

"Ma" Spends $392 On Her Campaign

AUSTIN, June 27.—(AP)—Miriam A. Ferguson of Austin, candidate for the democratic nomination to the governor, has expended $392.32 in her campaign thus far, according to a preliminary statement filed today with the secretary of state. She also reported $375 in contributions ranging from $1 to $50. Each donation was made by J. S. McKelvey of Temple.

True Simms of Navasota, candidate for lieutenant governor, reported expenditures of $26.15.

The largest expenditures made in any campaign have been made by Arthur L. Mills of Waco, candidate for the nomination for comptroller. He reported expenses of $1,215.35.

Edwin Walker, candidate for agricultural commissioner, reported $222.30, his report showed.

Mitchell Waldrop, candidate for the congressional nomination from the 16th district, reported no receipts or disbursements.

Bank Closed When Cashier Suicides

NEVADA, Mo., June 27. (AP)—The State bank of Deerfield, a small town 10 miles west of Nevada, was closed today following the suicide of T. F. Coffman, 46, the cashier.

Bank officials said the institution was carrying a large amount of frozen assets and attributes both the suicide and the closing to this fact.

The last statement of the institution showed $51,645 in loans, deposits of $49,488, capital stock of $10,000, and $5,000 surplus.

Discover New Dye To Aid Diagnosis

DETROIT, June 27. (AP)—Discovery of a dye which makes the kidneys opaque to the X-ray when injected into the veins has been disclosed at a meeting of the radiology section of the American Medical association convention.

The new dye discovered by Dr. Arthur Binz of Berlin was taken as an aid to diagnosis of kidney lesions heretofore a painful process fraught with danger of inaccuracy.

Announcement of the discovery of the dye known as uroselectan was made by Leopold Jaches of New York. Dr. Binz described the history of his discovery after the announcement. By use of uroselectan he said kidneys now stand out as vividly as bone structure under the X-ray. Tests have proved, he said, that uroselectan can be injected without deleterious effects upon the patient.

Four Dead in Train Mishap

Twelve Others Injured When Passenger Train Derailed and Wrecked on Canadian National Railway

SUDBURY, Ont., June 27. (AP)—Four persons were killed and 12 injured when a train of the Canadian National railways bound from Winnipeg to Toronto, was derailed and wrecked four miles east of Capreol, Ont., last night.

The wreck was caused by a washout, resulting from unprecedented flood conditions, officials of the road said.

Motorists Stranded.

Several other trains were stalled and many motorists stranded in this district as a result of landslides and washouts following 14 hours' incessant rainfall.

The rain abated somewhat this morning but creeks and rivers had already been turned into raging torrents. The rain had been falling at intervals for the last two weeks.

In this city the Junction and Nolan creeks, which run through the center of Sudbury have reached the highest marks known, and two bridges have been swept away. Many homes and business places were under several feet of water.

EVERE SPELLS OF INDIGESTION

Black-Draught Helped Me a Great Deal," Says Tennessee Lady.

Elizabethton, Tenn.—Writing of r experience in the use of Thedford's Black-Draught, Mrs. W. S. anning of 148 Watauga Avenue, his city, recently said:

"For some time, I suffered from digestion and sick headache. I ould get almost blind, and stars ould dance in front of my eyes. "I had bad gas pains, and heartburn would come with these spells. "I read about Black-Draught and decided to try it. I found it helped me a great deal. I got relief from these spells.

"I find Black-Draught a fine medicine for constipation. I have used it in my home for about twenty years. I don't think anything can take its place, for general family use. It is the best medicine of its kind I have ever tried.

Thedford's Black-Draught is a purely vegetable cathartic or laxative medicine, composed of selected medicinal herbs and roots. Black-Draught is finely powdered, which enables the juices of the stomach to extract its medicinal properties in a natural way. adv

Cotton Market Is Easier Following Bulge Livestock Slaughter Steers In Active Market Grain Another Advance On Cash Wheat

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, June 27. (AP)—The cotton market after a moderate opening bulge of 6 to 8 points due to favorable cables and an advance in silver gradually eased off on some show of weakness in the stock market and a few rains and lower temperatures in the northwest. The decline carried values down 23 to 26 points from the early highs. Sentiment among ring traders appeared to be bearish and even the usual demand from shorts covering was lacking.

The market was steadier after mid-session and gradually recovered 10 points on July and 6 to 7 points on new crop months on shorts covering. The general market closed steady at net declines for the day at 4 to 13 points.

Liverpool came in 1 point worse to 2 better than due and first trades here were 4 points down to 3 up.

Later prices eased off with stocks and cooler weather and rains in the northwest, July dropping to 13.03, October to 12.90 and December to 13.07, or 23 to 26 points down from the highs.

After mid-season the market ruled steadier owing to shorts covering and recovered 6 to 13 points. July closed at 13.15, October at 12.97 and December to 13.13, or 4 to 12 points net higher on those months.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, June 27 (AP)—Cotton reacted here today under week-end realizing or reselling by some of the recent buyers who may have been disappointed over the failure of a more general or aggressive demand to develop.

After selling up to 13.82 at the start, July declined to 13.45 and closed at 13.52 while new October declined from 13.16 to 12.87 and closed at 12.97. The central market closed barely steady at net declines of 10 to 18 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 2 to 10 points on a renewal of yesterday's buying movement, which was probably encouraged by the fairly steady showing of Liverpool and some rather less favorable private crop reports from the southwest referring to the effects of recent high temperatures in some sections. The old October sold at 13.45 and the new December at 12.30 but the rallies of some 60 to 80 points from the low levels of the week, appeared to have eased the technical position of the market. This was reflected by a falling off in demand and trading later was quiet with prices working gradually lower under realizing and scattered selling.

The market showed little resistance until old October had eased off to 13.15 and the new December to 13.05 or about 25 to 30 points from the early highs but these prices attracted some covering and closing quotations showed rallies of some 5 to 8 points from the lowest on the more active positions.

Markets At A Glance

NEW YORK, June 27. (AP)—Stocks heavy; Southern Railway and North American drop 7 points.
Bonds irregular; trading dull.
Curb irregular; Utilities break 1 to 3 points before rallying.
Foreign exchanges irregular; Spanish peseta continue weak.
Cotton lower; favorable weather and crop reports.
Sugar higher; better spot demand.
Coffee steady; European buying.

CHICAGO, June 27. (AP)—Wheat steady, large flour sales for export.
Corn steady; high temperatures southwest.
Cattle steady.
Hogs higher.

Bears Back On Job In Stock Market As Rallying Gives Way To Declines

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer.

NEW YORK, June 27. (AP)—The bears were back on the job in the stock market today. Perhaps it was too much to expect that prices could close higher three days in succession these days, at any rate, they did not and the index, which had established the records of advancing on two successive days—Wednesday and Thursday—for the first time this month, finished the dull session a point and a half lower.

Rallying tendencies at the opening quickly gave way to another decline. The familiar tactics of hammering two or three stocks were employed and as usual the weakness spread throughout the list although the market was extremely dull, an afternoon upturn eliminated most of the losses, but pressure was again applied in the final dealings and prominent issues were down one to three points.

Quietness Featured.

The quietness of the trading was the day's chief feature. Sales aggregated only a little more than 2,000,000 shares.

Commodities were irregular. The grains made a fair showing, both wheat and corn closing fractionally higher while cotton eased 10 to 18 points. Sugar made narrow advances and there was some improvement in rubber.

North American and Southern railway securities among the day's most vulnerable stocks, each breaking about 7 points to establish new lows for the year, the former at 80 and the latter at 90 1-4, and closing 3 and 5 points lower respectively.

Stocks Lose.

Stocks losing one to three points net included American Can, American Telephone, General Motors, General Electric, Consolidated Can, Radio, Westinghouse Electric, New Haven, Atchison and Union Pacific.

In the foreign exchange markets, which on the whole were steady, the Spanish peseta made another new low.

Livestock

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, June 27. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Slaughter steers sold on a fairly active and higher market here today. Moderate advances of 10 to 15 cents were reported in most cases and big bulk of the steers changed hands during the morning rounds. The day's cattle receipts consisted largely of slaughter steers, ranging in grade from cutters grassers to good fed steers.

Carlot sales of slaughter steers were reported at 9.00, 8.90, 7.85, 6.35, 5.25 and less. Cutter grassers sold at 6.35, 5.25 and less. Cutter grassers sold at 4.00. Fed steers brought 9.90.

Poorly Tested

The market for slaughter yearlings, butcher cows and other classes of cattle, including stockers was very poorly tested, owing to short receipts.

Slaughter calves sold steady. Very good medium weight fat calves brought 9.00.

Heavy slaughter calves sold from 7.00 downward.

Rail hog topped 8.85.

Best truck hogs sold at 9.00 and bulk from 8.75 to 8.95.

Good fat lambs sold at 8.50 and truck lots of desirable grades were reported from 8.75 to 8.00. Good fat yearlings moved at 7.50. 2 year old fat wethers at 5.00 and aged fat wethers at 4.00.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, June 27. (AP)—(U. S. Dept. Agri.)—Moderate supplies of hogs at all of the larger markets influenced a strong feeling in the trade and considerable activity developed with prices 10-20 higher than Thursday's average; both shippers and packers were aggressive buyers at the advance. The day's top reached 9.25 on choice light and medium weights at St. Louis and Chicago. Receipts were estimated at 67,000.

Trade in fat lambs ruled somewhat uneven. A few sorted native lambs reached 12.00 at Chicago for the extreme top, while best range lambs scored 11.50 at Omaha and St. Joseph. Mature sheep sold on a steady to weak basis. Most of the fat ewes ranged from 2.50@3.50. Offerings totaled 30,650.

All classes of killing cattle sold fairly active at generally steady rates, choice fed steers and yearlings were scarce and the best offered sold at 11.85 at Chicago. Most of the arrivals were eligible to sell from 11.00 down. Choice lightweight fed steers scored 10.75 at St. Louis. Total arrivals at 11 markets were estimated at 10,325.

Auto Blast

had participated in several sensational murder trials in the Panhandle during the past year.

However, he insisted that so far as he knew he had no bitter enemies.

Authorities late today were without any clue to follow concerning the bombing.

Motive Sought.

Efforts of police, the sheriff's office and the district attorney were being directed at finding a motive for the attack, after M. M. Scott, chief of detectives, found a metal scrap which he said had been identified positively as part of a nitroglycerin bomb. This was found in wreckage of the car.

Parts of dry cell batteries found earlier in the day, Scott said, indicated the charge was planted in the car with apparatus timed to explode after the car had started. He also discovered that ignition wires of the car had been tampered with and surplus wires spliced to a circuit leading from the storage battery.

The car was left in the garage last night, Payne said, but the garage door was not locked.

Daughter Saved.

Payne's daughter, Barbara, nine, escaped injury by walking to town with him this morning, instead of riding in the car with her mother and brother, as she had previously planned.

The report of the explosion was heard for blocks away and windows in nearby houses were shattered.

Mrs. Jessie Smith was looking out of a window at her home as the car passed. The explosion shook her house, wreckage of the car was scattered along half a block and the mutilated body of the boy was dropped in her yard near the window.

A coroner's verdict was withheld pending further investigation.

RELIVE HEAT WAVE

PARIS, June 27. (AP)—The thermometer had dropped to a minimum of 72 degrees from 103 yesterday, a cloudy sky and a stiff breeze bringing relief from excessive heat of the past few days.

Great Britain's safest place, as regards road accidents, last year was the Isles of Scilly, where there was not a single casualty.

China has accepted the proposal of the German government to establish a wireless telephone service between the two countries.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, June 27. (AP)—Another advance in cash wheat on the Fort Worth grain market Friday left prices a full nickel above recent lows. Demand was reported keen at the advance with exporters bidding 94 3-4@95c, basis ordinary export wheat basis delivered Texas Gulf ports. Millers were bidding 95@95 1-2c for ordinary No. 1 hard; 96@96 1-2c for 13 per cent protein; 97@98c for 14 per cent, and 98@99 1-2c for 15 per cent, all basis delivered Texas common points.

Demand for corn was fair and for oats good while barley and sorghums were slow with trade light.

Sets New Record.

Estimated receipts of 415 cars of wheat set a new day's record for the 1930 crop, although it is not expected to stand through next week. Other estimated receipts were: Corn, 4 cars; oats 9, and sorghums 3.

Bids and offers on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid.

Corn: No. 2 mixed 92@93c; No. 2 white 98@99c; No. 2 yellow 97@98c.

Oats: No. 3 red 43@44c.

Barley: No. 2 nominally 58@60c.

Sorghums: No. 2 milo per 100 pounds, 1.88@1.90; No. 2 kaffir 1.58@1.60.

Dealers also quoted as follows, basis delivered Texas group one points: No. 2 mixed corn 90@91c; No. 2 white corn 95@96c; No. 2 yellow corn 94 1-2@95 1-2c; No. 3 white oats 47 1-2@48c. To which add 1c for delivery group three.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 27. (AP)—Reports of black rust in the northwest and of farmers holding their wheat in the southwest gave wheat buyers an advantage today.

After fluctuating rapidly both above and below yesterday's closing figures, wheat closed firm, unchanged to 3-4c higher.

Corn closed unchanged to 3-8c up, oats 1-4@3-8c off, and provisions varying from 2c decline to an equal gain.

Corn borrowed strength today from the action of wheat. Oats trade was very small.

Provisions were upheld by upturns in the value of hogs.

Closing indemnities: wheat July 90 3-8, 94 1-8; Sept. 93 3-4@97-8, 97; Dec. 99 1-2@98, 103 3-8@1-2. Corn July 74 3-4, 76 3-8; Sept. 73 1-2@5-8, 75 1-8; Dec. 68 1-8, 69 1-2@5-8.

Lovington Trip

leave Monahans this morning at 6:35 for Hobbs and is due there at 9:40, a telegram to the Avalanche last night from Frank Jensen, general passenger agent, said.

President J. L. Lancaster is expected to be in the party as well as other railroad officials.

Gov. R. C. Dillon also will be there. Governor Dillon is billed to participate in a golden spike driving event to mark the actual completion of the line into the county seat. There will be a speech making program and other jollification.

Lovington has long worked for the coming of a railroad. Several attempts have been made in years past to interest transportation companies in building into the area. Owing, however, to a general lack of a varied agricultural development, aside from cattle, there seemed to be little to induce railroads to consider seriously the long haul.

Fight For Territory.

With the coming of oil into southeastern New Mexico, starting north of Cheyenne, Texas, and steadily proceeding northward, the railroads began to fight for the right to build into the territory.

The Interstate Commerce Commission first granted the Texas-New Mexico authority to build from Wink north to the New Mexico line—then on into Hobbs. Later permission was granted to extend northward into Lovington.

Rails first reached Hobbs April 19. Governor Dillon pulled the throttle of the first engine into that town. Two months and a half later the line was completed into Lovington.

Distance from Monahans to Hobbs is approximately 84 miles. From Hobbs to Lovington it is 22 miles, a total of 106 miles.

Hobbs Growing.

Since the arrival of the railroad at Hobbs that city has grown to a town with a population estimated at in excess of 10,000. It has become the second city in importance in eastern New Mexico.

Lubbock business men have been planning for some time to make the trip to Lovington. Preparations have been made to get acquainted with Lovington business men.

"Lubbock has been enjoying a splendid trade with Lovington and with this development this trade is expected to increase many times over," said a statement issued yesterday by the committee in charge of the motorcade. However, with the railway connections going in another direction, Lubbock business men will have to be more aggressive in holding the trade that has always looked to Lubbock as the natural trade center."

To Join Party.

Broncho and Morton business men, to the number of a score or more, will join the party at Broncho, on the New Mexico line. A delegation may also join the party at Brownfield and several other West Texas towns will probably have cars in the motorcade.

Following the ceremonies several of the Lubbock group may go to Hobbs, Carlsbad and other places of interest in that section, it was indicated last night.

Members of the committee following L. C. Ellis, R. F. Hinchey, Chapman Minor, W. O. Daniels, Gregg James, J. F. Hankins, Jack Parsons, S. C. Wilson, A. A. Bradshaw, Luther Bynum, M. C. Butler, Walker Stanton, and R. D. Erwin.

Among those who have signified their intention of making the trip are the following: H. L. Allen, W. D. Girand, Jr., E. A. Gatlin, Gregg James, George E. Benson, J. J. Clements, H. P. Lehr, J. F. Hankins, Fred Cayler, M. C. Butler, H. H. Shell, D. K. Boudreaux, O. B. Martin, Clarence Minor, W. O. Daniel, R. F. Hinchey, Luther Bynum, Jack Parsons, W. W. Rix, A. A. Bradshaw, C. E. Hunt, S. E. Coss, Art Miller, J. T. Tripp, Frank White, F. O. Bennett, Del Morgan, Swede Kling and others.

Jim Ferguson Talks To Four Thousand Here In Interest Of Wife's Campaign

zoo, you would at once brand me as the only animal of my kind outside of captivity. Any man of any kind can hold office except Jim Ferguson. The situation is serious in some respects and humorous in others but remerber this, I will keep them all as busy as a cat on a hot rock. Some of them say I ought not to be in this campaign but the fact still remains that I am here.

Talks Of Present

"I am not here to rehash personal reverses nor to revive dead issues. I will not live in the past but will talk in the present and future. We must stand together to survive, or stand apart and perish."

The speaker explained that last winter he had outlined a platform upon which he would make the race but when he was denied the right to run, his wife came to the rescue. Her platform varies from that he had outlined in only one respect, Mrs. Ferguson advocates the passage of a law prohibiting anyone from holding office who drinks "bootleg" liquor. "I am an 'anti'", he explained, "have always been but I believe she is right. I don't want to oppose the enforcement of the law, and prohibition is the law of the land and should be inforced. Until this law, as outlined my wife, is passed we will never have enforcement of the prohibition law. In many instances officers stick their noses into other people's business in an effort to catch a pint of liquor. They take some man to court and railroad him after they have drunk the liquor. Every other candidate in the race is opposed to this plank. They are opposed, sure, because they oppose everything that Jim Ferguson stands for.

Will Give Advice

"They state that if my wife is elected I might advise her. God help the State of Texas if some of the other candidates do not have wives to advise them, and worse still if their wives do not have any more sense than some of them have. I won't leave home if my wife is elected— I'll be right there, picking up the chips and carrying in the water. Why they are afraid that I might give her good advise, if they thought I would give her bad, then they'd even vote for her themselves so as to get me introuble."

In a lengthy outline of the platform upon which his wife is asking the support of the people, the speaker advocated economy in government, stating that instead of there being too many employes, there are rather too many incompetent employes. He advocated the combining position as a means of saving thousands of dollars to tax payers, he would limit all public salaries to $6,000 per year, all the people to pay their taxes quarterly and not annually in order to keep the money in the pocket of the people and not those of the banks. Mrs. Ferguson would keep Texas money in Texas, no bank, state or national, being allowed as a depository that made loans of more then 10 per cent of its capital and deposits outside of the State. "They are just a bunch of two-bit liars when they tell you there ain't any money," Jim declared. "If every state in the nation passed such a law then we would 'bust' the New York stock exchange."

Favors Redemption

He also advocated the law of redemption which would give home owners the right to redeem their property within two years upon payment of interest and loans and attorneys fees of not more than two per cent, after they had been sold out. "We must protect the weak against the strong," he said.

Mr. Ferguson dwelt at some length on the question of the highway problem, strongly being in favor of electing the state highway commission as against the present practice of appointing. He opposed in strong terms the $350,000,000 Sterling bond issue, stating that the crowd back of it are the cement trusts who seek to steal and scheme and make the "Teapot Dome affair look like thirty cents."

Stating that he is "some pumkin" when it comes to the penitentiary question, Jim explained that he knew more about the penitentiary system because he tried to know more than any other man.

Would Pardon 2,000

"When my wife becomes governor she will pardon at least 2,000 convicts the first thing," he promised, "because there are that many in the pen who deserve consideration through good behavior and because they have made good convicts."

He stated that with $200,000 from the legislature old buildings at Huntsville could be easily repaired while with $300,000 more the six large convict farms could be renovated, and declared that there is no need for a new building program at Austin which would cost the State $5,000,000. "When I was governor, within one-half a day I got $700,000 credit for the penitentiary system, but this bunch of ignoramuses can't get 700 cents worth of credit."

Needs Experience

"We are not here for personal honor," Jim explained. "We are here because we are grateful and because we feel that you need us. We have nothing against anyone. Half of those in the race are not worth cussing while the other half are not worth discussing. Clint Small, a from your own territory, is a very estimable young man, one who has served his section well and will no doubt make a good governor some day but he needs experience.

"As we grow older we don't take things so seriously. The veil of tears passes on—long since we have made uor peace with God and Man. If you think we can serve you better, then we want you to vote for us. What we want is to give the State the best service in its grave hour of misfortune. We will never forget the people who have stood by us and we love all mankind. Vote as honest men and women and we will be satisfied."

chief cotnsel for the stockholders fighting the merger, were called into the chambers.

Baker emerged first. He was crying. The atmosphere was charged with excitement. At first the spectators thought there had been an out-of-court settlement of the suit.

Judge Jenkins emerged. His face was white, His features drawn. He rapped his gavel. "For good and sufficient reasons, this court is adjourned," he said.

It was several minutes before newspapermen and spectators learned what had taken place. Manchester's death occurred at 8:55 a. m., just five minutes before court was scheduled to open. From his own office at the headquarters of the Youngstown company on the public square J. C. Argtsinger, associate counsel, heard a shot. He rushed into Manchester's office. The attorney was slumped over his desk dead.

Situation Serious At Chihuahua City

EL PASO, June 27. (AP)—The correspondent of the El Paso Times, who returned late today by plane from Chihuahua City, Mexico, reported a tense political situation there.

He said both Francisco Almada and Manuel Jesus Estrada, rival governors, claimed to be serving in the state's executive chair. One had his offices across the hall from the other in the governor's palace and both were transacting official business, awaiting the decision of Mexico City federal officials as to who should be recognized.

Federal Government Enters Lingle Murder Mystery

CHICAGO, June 27. (AP)—The federal government today took a hand in untangling the background to the assassination of Alfred Lingle $65 a week newspaper reporter who played the stock market with a reputed six digit account, and apparently lost heavily last fall.

His murder June 9 by gunmen still remained unsolved but possible reasons for his death were apperently nearer discovery.

Interested in the reports of the slain reporter's inflated income, Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackidge, internal revenue collector, sent agents to Chicago banks and brokers today to search for Lingle's assets. She has been unable to find an income tax return by Lingle.

Men, Here Are Some

HOT WEATHER SUITS

At a Price

We wouldn't represent these clothes as being the last word in fashion, for frankly they are not. Neither would we say that the colors are all desirable for some of them are rather drab.

It's an accumulation of odds and ends in men's summer suits that have been pushed aside from season to season, but one good thing about them—they will still make good cool clothes for these hot days. There are thirty-five of them in the lot.

The materials are Palm Beach and other light clothes. Sizes are broken. Originally they sold for from $14.85 to $30.00. We are offering them now for—

If they have any value at all, they are certainly worth this figure. Come and see for yourself what you think about them.

STORMS IN FRANCE

PARIS, June 27. (AP) — Southern France, particularly the lower Rhone valley and the departments of Gard and Ardeche, suffered heavily from violent storms yesterday. Towns were inundated, buildings wrecked, crops ruined, and railways and highways put out of order.

RECOUNT IS ASKED

PARIS, June 27. (AP)—Alleging 104 illegal votes were cast in the city election of April 1, in which Mayor J. Morgan Crook was declared re-elected by 25 votes, attorneys for T. J. Record, his opponent, today filed suit in district court asking for a recount of the votes in two boxes.

Unemployment Relief Is Cited

Conditions Will Improve in Late Summer and Autumn, According to President of American Labor Federation

WASHINGTON, June 27. (AP)—A prediction that unemployment conditions will improve in the late summer and autumn was made last night by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

In a formal statement, he said unemployment conditions in June had shown no improvement over May when the federation estimated 3,600,000 persons were out of work. He also estimated that wage earners had lost more than $2,000,000,000 during the first six months of this year because of unemployment.

Sees Improvement

"Layoffs always come with the beginning of the summer dull season in June," he said, "with the usual fall pickup in business, employment will improve in the later summer and autumn.

"But meanwhile, the summer months will bring hardships to hundreds of thousands of workers who have already been out of work from three to six months. And the low level workers purchasing power will continue to delay business recovery."

Heavy Loss of Life Reported

Fighting in Bolivian City Takes Heavy Toll of Life According to Advices from Former Vice-President

LIMA, Peru, June 27. (AP)—Bautista Saavedra, former vice president of Bolivia, in a telegram from Arequipa, Chile, today said there had been a heavy loss of life in fighting in streets of La Paz, Bolivian capital, Wednesday night. His message follows:

"The rebels are dominating the situation, and I can assert that the only government positions are the government palace and Commercio street.

Death Toll Heavy

"It is known that the number killed last night in La Paz is great, among them many socially prominent persons."

Previous telegrams from the former vice president in exile had said that the military college, aided by civilian and other military elements revolted and defeated the loyal regiment.

Saavedra blames the president-resigned Hernando Siles, and the Bolivian commander-in-chief of the Bolivian armies, General Kundt, who has supported M. Siles, for the sanguinary disturbances. The revolutionary elements charge that M. Siles is attempting to have himself re-elected president in defiance of the constitution.

Handsome Gunman Is Shot To Death

CLEVELAND, June 27. (AP) — Charles Velotta, 28, handsome gangster, was shot and killed early today in the "Little Italy" section.

Velotta died at a hospital from 43 bullet wounds in his body an hour and a half after he was found lying in a street.

Police said Velotta had been the target of the underworld since the double murder of Ernest Yorkell and Jack Brounstein, who came here from Philadelphia to "shake down" bootleggers but who met gang deaths October 8, 1927.

Velotta had driven Yorkell and Brounstein around the city and introduced them at the gambling places and speakeasies they later tried to "shake down," police said, and it was considered likely his death sentence was passed for attempts to repeat the extortion scheme.

Mexican Slayers Escape From Jail

EL PASO, June 27. (AP)—Jesus and Jose Ramirez, convicted murderers of George Elkins, American cattleman, have escaped from the Casa Grandes, Chihuahua, jail. It was reported at Juarez today. They were being held for transfer to the state penitentiary to serve sentences of 20 years each for the murder.

Elkins was murdered two years ago at his ranch near Casa Grandes. The Ramirez brothers, reputed cattle thieves, were said to have confessed to the murder after their arrest. Their trial lagged for months before they were finally convicted.

Cholera Outbreak Is Fatal To Three

MANILA, June 27. (AP)—An outbreak of Cholera on the Island of Masbate, causing ten cases of illness and three deaths at Cataingo, resulted in the sending of a health expert there from Manila today. The expert carried vaccine enough to immunize 5,000 persons.

Bantayan, a small island north of Cebu which was swept by Cholera and famine, one aggregating the other, was quarantined. The island was quarantined because Cholera there was more virulent than in other places and because there have been more cases in that district than any other locality.

The Philippine Red Cross has taken steps to relieve the famine stricken area. It was estimated 6,000 persons in the famine district were short of food.

In a horror near Ballater, Scotland, King George's gamekeepers recently found a fox and two cubs and a rabbit and four young living together.

Held As Slayer Of Capitalists

R. L. Benton, above, faces prosecution at Muskogee, Okla., as the slayer of George and David Smith, Connecticut capitalists, having been identified by John L. Wike, companion of the slain men, who witnessed the shooting in a Muskogee hotel on April 26. The Smiths and Wike were in Oklahoma to inspect oil lands when the slaying occurred. Robbery was the motive.

Second Deficiency Appropriation Bill Carries Eighty Million for Various Federal Projects

WASHINGTON, June 27. (AP) — The last of the big annual supply measures was passed today by the senate with approval of the second deficiency appropriation bill carrying more than $80,000,000 for various federal projects, including $10,660,000 to start construction of Boulder Dam on the Colorado river.

Before the measure can go to the White House it must be returned to the house for approval of amendments totaling more than $12,000,000, which were added by the senate.

Limits Studies

The bill provides $50,000 for continuance of investigations by the Hoover Law Enforcement Commission, but limits future studies by that body to the dry laws. It also reappropriates the $88,000 unexpended balance of the original $250,000 appropriation for the commission.

In addition the measure carries funds for various federal building projects, including an item of $5,000,000 for a new postoffice site and $2,450,000 for a federal court building site in New York City. These two items were added by the senate today on motion of Senator Wagner, democrat, New York.

Other amendments tacked on by the senate included $130,000 for relief of certain officers and employees of the foreign service.

For participation by the United States in the international exposition of colonial and overseas countries at Paris, $250,000.

For a study to determine the lands in Arizona to be embraced within the Parker-Gila valley reclamation project, $250,000;

For payment of claims to Sisseton and Wahpeton bands of Sioux Indians in South Dakota, $300,000.

To defray expenses of participation by the United States in the international hygiene exhibition at Dresden, Germany, $5,000.

Seligson, Sutter Reach Net Final

HAVERFORD, Pa., June 27. (AP) The last of the Californians was squeezed out of the National Intercollegiate singles tennis championship today, while a player from the deep South and another from the East remain to clash for the title, tomorrow.

Dolf Muehleisen of the University of California, met defeat in the semi-finals, but forced that strategist from Lehigh university, Julius Seligson, to struggle through five sets before he succumbed. The scores were 6-1, 4-6, 6-2, 12-10, 6-4.

Seligson, seeded number 1 and winner of this tournament two years ago, clashes in the final tomorrow with Clifford Sutter of Tulane university, who today defeated Donald Cram of Vanderbilt university, 6-2, 6-2, 6-4.

Seligson and Sutter will play for the title Berkeley Bell of the University of Texas, won last year. Bell is with the United States Davis Cup team in Europe.

Gum Chewing Is Point Of Law

ZION CITY, Ill., June 27. (AP)—The eschewing of gum has become a point of law and order in Zion.

Someone reported to overseer, William Glenn Voliva that three young women employes of Zion industries had been seen purchasing gum. The Misses Lillian, Dorothea and Mary Baker, charged with the deed, confessed. They went further. They said they they had actually been chewing gum.

Mr. Voliva discharged them, for the Zion industries chewing gum must be eschewed.

Girls Burn to Death After Gasoline Stove Blows Up and Is Thrown Through the Door by Kansas Farmer

WICHITA, Kans. June 27. (AP)—Two girls were fatally burned last night when a gasoline stove exploded in the Riverside farm home of Thomas Ostrander.

The girls, Lavonne Ostrander, 9, and Georgia, 17, died today.

Clothing Ignited

Their clothing was ignited by the flaming stove as it was sent ruhtling through the Kitchen door by Ostrander, grandfather of Lavonne.

Ostrander was refueling the stove when the blast occurred, spreading flames over the kitchen. Unaware his granddaughter and her guest were entering the kitchen he hurled the stove through the door and almost into the faces of the girls.

Beats Out Fire

The youngest girl, her clothes aflame, ran more than 100 yards before her grandfather overtook her and beat out the fire with hands already severely burned.

Miss Simpson made a futile attempt to save her life by rolling in the grass.
