Americans Meeting Stiff Enemy Resistance on Okinawa

NAZIS SAY REDS IN BERLIN

Polish Question Is Still Unanswered

WASHINGTON, April 21—(AP)—Russian Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov failed to arrive in time for Big Three foreign ministers' conference today so the British and American representatives went ahead without him. Apparently they found their views parallel on issues facing the three major Allies.

Officials disclaimed knowledge of when the Soviet foreign affairs chief will arrive.

British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden had a long conference with Secretary of State Stettinius and said that the two were "as usual in complete agreement on all points discussed."

It had been hoped that the Russian leader would be here by now so that the three could go over a long list of questions on which they hope to act together at San Francisco.

Apparently, Eden and Stettinius felt compelled to begin without him. However, Molotov's delay leaves the deadlocked Polish question unanswered, with the United Nations meeting only four days away.

Russia has demanded twice in the past three weeks that the provisional Polish government at Warsaw be seated at San Francisco.

The United States and Britain sent a flat refusal the first time. The second demand was addressed only to Washington, the United States therefore put forth the second rejection.

Eden's statement was taken to mean that Britain thoroughly supported the American decision.

It appeared likely that President Truman would take a hand in the important discussions. He spent three quarters of an hour this morning in a second talk with the U. S. Ambassador to Moscow W. Averell Harriman.

12 Lawmakers, 17 Newsmen To See Nazi Atrocities

WASHINGTON, April 21—(AP)—Congress and the army today ranged to send a delegation of twelve lawmakers and 17 publishers and editors to see first-hand evidence of Nazi atrocities.

General Dwight D. Eisenhower, in urging this, said that the conditions prevailing in overrun prison camps are "almost impossible to describe in words."

The twelve congressmen designated today will join three republican representatives—Clare Boothe Luce of Connecticut, John Kunkel of Pennsylvania and Leonard W. Hall of New York—who are already on the scene.

A ten-member group from the British parliament also is undertaking a similar first-hand inspection.

The war department said it will fly the following men to Germany within a few days:

Senators: Barkley (D-Ky), majority leader; George (D-Pa), Thomas (D-Utah), Brooks (R-Ill).

Treaty Between Russia, Poland Reported Signed

LONDON, April 21—(AP)—The Soviet-sponsored Polish provisional government announced tonight signature of a treaty of "friendship and mutual assistance" with Soviet Russia as Premier Stalin apparently threw his full support behind the regime which still is not recognized by the United States or Britain and which has been vainly bidding for a seat at the San Francisco conference.

The announcement, broadcast over the Polish home radio from Lublin, gave no details. Moscow had not as yet confirmed it, but it appeared significant here that leaders of the Soviet-backed government were in Moscow and had received a rousing welcome there two days ago.

Official British quarters were silent, but the first London reaction was that the reported treaty "isn't helping" in straightening out the Polish issue.

With British Foreign Secretary Eden in Washington and reported attempting to mediate between Truman and Secretary of State Stettinius to draft a Polish compromise acceptable to Russia, Premier Stalin appeared to be serving blunt advance notice that he was determined to stand behind the regime already established under Soviet aegis.

Many Proposals Face Lawmakers

AUSTIN, April 21—(AP)—A determination of two important policies, adjournment and appropriations, awaits the 49th legislature this week.

Upon the answer rests the fate of many proposals which have accumulated while the lawmakers lounged intermittently upon adjournment and spending.

Senate and house geared for a final push on the appropriations program for the biennium beginning Sept. 1. All but one of the major money items—that for state supported colleges—have been considered by at least one branch.

The senate planned to give the college bill right-of-way early in the week.

Awaiting action in the house was a plan to adjourn the general session from May 22 to Sept. 11. Its disposition may lead to clarification of the adjournment question and perhaps to expedite disposal of many bills.

When the appropriation measures have been completely processed a final answer to the legislature's taxing policy also may be expected. The house revenue and taxation committee has killed one tax bill, a one cent per 1,000 cubic feet tax on natural gas gathering, but other tax proposals have been held in committee.

TIRE GOALS
WASHINGTON, April 21—(AP)—Some liberalization of civilian tire rationing by June was indicated tonight in a war production board action increasing passenger tire manufacturing goals by about 60 percent.

Ie Island Is Occupied, Big Planes Strike

By RAY CRONIN
Associated Press War Editor

Some of the bitterest fighting of the Pacific war marked small American gains through heavily defended Japanese positions on Southern Okinawa. Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported late Saturday.

Meanwhile the American flag was flung to the breeze over Ie island, 4,000 yards off Okinawa's west coast. Doughboys planted the Stars and Stripes atop Mt. Iejima after overcoming furious resistance. The tiny island, now under Yank control, is being mopped up.

On Southern Okinawa, high ground in the Hill 178 sector changed hands several times as the fortunes of battle swung from side to side. The hard-hitting Yank ground forces were heavily supported by naval guns, army and marine artillery and carrier-based planes.

Japanese night air raiders hit two central American-held airfields on Central Okinawa, but damage was minor.

The marines on Northern Okinawa cleaned out enemy pockets and brought all of Motobu peninsula under their control.

As fighting raged on the Southern Okinawa front the B-29s rained demolition bombs on Kyushu, southernmost of Japan's homeland islands.

Bloody battling continued on other islands.

Senate President Asked To Attend Cabinet Parleys

WASHINGTON, April 21—(AP)—President Truman blazed a new path of cooperation between congress and the White House today with an invitation for Kenneth D. McKellar, president pro tempore of the senate, to sit at cabinet meetings.

The action was believed to be unprecedented. Not since Calvin Coolidge took over the presidency on the death of Warren G. Harding has the nation been without a vice president, and the custom of having the senate's presiding officer sit in on cabinet sessions was started by Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Mr. Truman, however, already had demonstrated his determination to perfect and maintain a solid liaison with Capitol Hill, and the invitation he extended McKellar underscored that aim.

McKellar sat in at his first cabinet session yesterday, occupying the seat reserved for the vice president at the end of the long table.

The honor was perhaps the greatest yet conferred on the solidly-built Tennessee democrat, dean of the senate by virtue of more than 28 years of continuous service.

WEST PAMPA REPRESSURING ASSOCIATION:

DATE FOR BEGINNING OF BIG PROJECT NOT SET, ENGINEER TO BE NAMED SOON

Attempts of the West Pampa Repressuring association to obtain an engineer for the repressuring of oil wells in Gray county (one of the largest projects of its kind in the world) are nearing completion, reliable sources indicated yesterday.

Although the identity of the man under consideration was not revealed, a definite announcement in the immediate future is likely.

The decision to select an engineer as soon as possible stemmed from a meeting of the association held at Amarillo April 13. The next meeting is scheduled for May,

Enemy Report, Unconfirmed by Allied Sources, Declares Soviet Tanks Are Near Heart of City

By ED L. CAMPBELL
Associated Press War Editor

Russian armies stormed into the blazing streets of Berlin last night, by German account, and American armies began to move up from their Elbe river line for an expected formal juncture with their Soviet allies at or near the Nazi citadel in a matter of hours.

From the U. S. Ninth army headquarters Associated Press Correspondent Wes Gallagher said the Americans deliberately hung back from Berlin for more than a week, allowing the Russians the glory of humbling the German capital for the first time since the days of Napoleon.

South of Berlin other Russian and American armies were cutting deep into the Saxony corridor and another link-up in the Dresden area was imminent.

PRE-WAR AIR VIEW OF BERLIN

Here is a pre-war air view of the heart of the German capital, Berlin, which last night was being

Latins Demand More Voice on War, Peace for Small Nations

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21—(AP)—Expansion of the proposed world security council to give small nations a greater voice on issues of war and peace was demanded today by representatives of Latin American countries arriving for the United Nations conference which opens next Wednesday.

The Latin conference plans cover three main points:

1. A demand for four more temporary seats on the security council which under the Dumbarton Oaks plan has five permanent big-power seats and six which change periodically for the other nations. The latins said they would like to reserve these four for themselves.
2. A prediction that Brazil would seek an additional permanent seat on the council for one of the Latin American nations.
3. A strongly-expressed intention to dovetail the inter-American system into the proposed world organization without weakening the

British Asked To Abstain on V-E

BRISTOL, England, April 21—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill called on Britons today to restrain any celebration of a victory over Germany in favor of "a new leap forward" to bring about the war against Japan "to a conclusion altogether free from any doubt."

He disclosed that victory in Germany would be decided by Allied army commanders' notification to their governments that "their task is done," and "I do not think it need be long delayed."

"We have the Japanese to finish," he said, "and we stand absolutely with our great American ally paying off at the other end of the world debts as heavy as ever were inflicted on us."

Speaking only a few days before the opening of the San Francisco world security conference, the prime minister affirmed that "a world security organization which we must build and shall build will be free and open to all the nations of the world; indicating the eventual inclusion of neutral and even enemy countries."

Man Suffers Broken Bone in Accident

Don L. O'Mara, whose residence is west of the city, is in Worley hospital today with a broken pelvic bone he received in an accident at Dumas Friday, when the tongs on a drill pipe came loose and hit him while he was working.

Attendants said O'Mara probably will be in the hospital with the injury for three months. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. O'Mara, who live with him.

German commentators, making no attempt to minimize the last bitter agonies of Berlin, said that the red army tanks were three to four miles from the heart of the city, nosing in with irresistible power from the northeastern district; that 16 Russian armies had the capital three-quarters encircled in an inexorable grip; that bombs and shells had made the streets death traps and that in the dank shelters there was terror augmented by a shortage of food and water.

Moscow said only that Soviet forces were "engaged in fighting at Berlin's outskirts" and that entry into the Nazi citadel was "imminent." It listed as captured eight fortress suburbs three to 16 miles from the capital.

This was the general picture in Germany.

Across the waist the U. S. First and Russian First Ukrainian armies were crushing together in the Dresden area of Saxony.

Further south, the American Third army speared into Czechoslovakia, capturing Asch. From Eastern and Southern Czechoslovakia other Russian forces drove up the Moravian Gap in the general direction of Prague.

The great Bavarian mountain retreat of which Hitler so frequently boasted was under assault from the north and west and was the target for Allied warplanes sweeping on Munich and Berchtesgaden. The U. S. Seventh army was moving down into the area from Nuernberg and the French First army was pressing in from the headwaters of the Danube close to the Swiss border.

In northern Germany, where the great Baltic ports offered refuge for some Nazis who may be able to flee Berlin, equally strong power was beginning to show.

The Germans themselves said a great Russian force was crossing the lower Oder at numerous places south of Berlin, cutting highways and railways and heading into the north German plain.

The British Second army already was hammering at the gates of Hamburg and had cut off Bremen. Back on the north sea coast, the Canadian First army probed into the Grebbe line protecting the Dutch cities of Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Utrecht and the Hague.

In Italy, the central barrier city of Bologna fell to the American Fifth and British Eighth armies and a great battle of annihilation spread over the Po plain. Gen. Mark W. Clark said the fall of Bologna marked the "beginning of final victory in Italy."

Hundreds Gather in San Jacinto Shrine

By The Associated Press

The one hundred and ninth anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto was observed on that decisive field near Houston today with Governor Coke R. Stevenson speaking to several hundred persons gathered in the lofty monument to Sam Houston and his immortal.

"I pay tribute," the governor said, "to that unselfish group of men who on this battlefield were the architects of Texas' place in the eyes of the world."

"They did not fight," the governor asserted, "to take government out of the hands of one tyrannical leader and hand it to another. They established democracy here by calling upon the citizens to cast a ballot and elect a man to govern them."

These initial injection gas volumes will be processed and compressed through the Skelly gasoline plant, with later additional volumes to be handled through the Cities Service gasoline plant when Skelly's plant capacity has been reached.

Relative to the project, vocational classes in oil field repressuring were conducted in 1944, under the sponsorship of the state board of vocational education to instructing oil field personnel in the fundamentals of the process. Classes were held at Borger, Pampa and LeFors, and were attended by about 110 oil field workers.

As for the present status of the project, contracts are still in the process of being let. Officials of the West Pampa Repressuring association could make no estimate as to when the project will be in operation.

The present executive committee of the association was elected at a meeting held in Amarillo last February, and C. P. Conover is the Pampa member. Others on the committee are George H. Former Secretary of State Cordell Hull declared that any successful world peace agency "must be built upon the foundations of law, justice and fair dealing."

He laid down that philosophy in a letter to Secretary of State Stettinius saying his health will not permit him to attend the opening of the United Nations conference in San Francisco next Wednesday.
"I hope, however," he wrote, "that my health may in the near future permit a trip to San Francisco and my attendance at a later stage of the conference."

The letter, dated April 20, came from Bethesda naval hospital where the former secretary has been under treatment for several months.
In Washington the White House said that President Truman's opening broadcast to the gathering would last 10 minutes—time for less than 1,000 words—and would be given in the first half-hour of the first session. In Burma British forces were closing in on one of the richest oil regions of the Asiatic continent.

Japan's invasion fears caused her to shake up regional administrative officials. The objective, said radio Tokyo, was to centralize power in event of an invasion and to increase war production. The shake-up involved 125 administrative positions.

A Southeast Asia Allied high command communiqué said British and Indian forces may take complete control of the rich Central Burma oil fields within a few days. The oil region, which produces about 300,000,000 gallons a year, was under Allied threat. A military blackout veiled the operations, although it was disclosed that all Japanese resistance on mountain positions fringing the oil belt had been knocked out.

Whether Drive Will Be Held Is Up to Board

R. B. Merritt, area representative of the Texas United War chest, was in Pampa last week conferring with local committees concerning a United War Chest fund drive in Gray county this year.

After a local committee had recommended that such a drive be combined with the Community Chest drive next fall, Merritt conferred with J. W. Garman, chairman of the board of directors of the Pampa community chest.

Merritt reported that Garman offered to take the matter up with the board of directors.
"It is entirely up to the board as to whether the United War Chest will be included in the Community chest drive," Garman told a News reporter.

Disagreements as to quotas last year resulted in Gray county holding no United War Chest fund drive.

He's Not Planned How To Spend It

NEW YORK, April 21 — (AP)—Charles Dougherty, 91, learned Friday he would receive $135.62 owed him by Uncle Sam for 67 years, but commented skeptically: "I ain't got it yet, and I ain't planning on how to spend it 'til I do."

President Truman signed a bill authorizing payment of the 67-year-old debt, owed Dougherty for overtime work in the Brooklyn navy yard back in '78.

"I've waited 67 years now," Dougherty said. "I've waited so long I don't know how I'm going to spend it."

"—And I'm still waiting," he added firmly.

"But I always thought it would come along some day. Like everything else."

Well, I've just heard about another shortage—straw hats.

Goodness, I can remember when all the horses wore straw hats and now there aren't enough for the men. Remember how they used to cut two holes in the horse's straw hat for his ears to stick through? I've always wondered why Hollywood didn't follow the same procedure.

A lot of men who badly needed it are going to lose all the exercise they ever got if they haven't any straw hats to chase.

It seems that most of our straw came from China and Japan. Also, we're short of the shellac with which the hats were finished. If you ask me, the Japs aren't playing fair. They've stopped giving us the straw, but we're still giving them the shellacking.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing. how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcol Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat

Kwajalein Atoll Is Now Peaceful Chain of Islets

By HAROLD STREETER

KWJALEIN, Marshall Islands—(AP)—Kwajalein atoll, which looks from the air like a coral necklace linked at wide intervals by irregular beads (islands), presents the Pacific's strange war in miniature.

Just a little over a year ago, Kwajalein's islands, particularly Roi, Namur and Kwajalein, were invaded to obtain air and naval bases from which to spring 1,300 miles into the Marianas. Soon the bulk of the U. S. Pacific fleet was anchored in its lagoon.

Today the atoll is almost somnolent. It has passed its peak of power and become a comparatively peaceful rear base.

A group of American war correspondents, touring Pacific bases in a plane of the air transport command, landed at Kwajalein.

"The war is on so far ahead now it just isn't worth expending material and labor to surface roads," an officer explained.

Yet, in a 200-mile radius east and south—in part between him and the United States—there were an estimated 10,000 Japanese on other bypassed atolls of the Marshalls.

Those Japanese don't know they are licked although the core of action is far northwest of them at Okinawa.

Five Japanese were picked up recently by monthly bush-beating patrols on a tiny island in Kwajalein atoll. They wanted to test the fishing at Kwajalein, 150 miles

Sgt. Stanford, a 1942 graduate of Pampa high school, entered the service in February, 1943. He was formerly employed by the Radcliff Supply. He held the Air Medal with Two clusters.

Lt. Inman graduated from Central high school, Muncie, Ind., in 1940 and was employed by the Warner Gear company in Muncie before entering the army air corps.

Relief Director Robert E. Edson said.

Eleven persons were killed and 57 injured in the Arkansas-Texas area where 1,043,000 acres were inundated.

The principal types of fatal accidents to children between five and 14 years of age are: motor vehicle, 31 percent; drowning, 24 percent; burns, 12 percent; firearms, 9 percent; falls, 8 percent.

Do You Feel WASHED UP? at 40-60 or More?

Why feel old at 40, 60 or more—why be the victim of the older years? If life apparently has lost its zest, you again may be able to enjoy life as you did in your youth. If added years have slowed down your vim, vitality and youthful pleasures, here is a simple, inexpensive method that may change your whole outlook on life. Why not try and regain the pleasures of living you once enjoyed. Why be discouraged—why not regain the verve and zest of a much younger man?

Just ask your druggist for Casella Tablets, either 48 tablets or 200. (The 200 size bottle costs much less per dose.) There is nothing harmful in these tablets. Take as long as you feel that you need them. Women, too, find Casella beneficial.

If the very first bottle of 48 tablets does not completely satisfy you that Casella is just what you need, return the empty bottle and get your money back. Ask for and get genuine CASELLA.

Yankees Beaten by Senators In First Loss of 1945 Season

Newhouser Wins For Tigers With Single in 11th

WASHINGTON, April 21—(AP)—The Washington Senators handed the New York Yankees their first loss of the season today as Roger Wolff outpitched Ernie Bonham 2-1. Harold Clift's two-run single in the bases full in the first inning decided the issue.

Each team made four hits, but the Senators bunched three of them in the first inning for all their runs. Harold Clift accounted for both Senators runs when he singled in George Case and George Myatt, both of whom had hit safely.

The Yankees lone run came in the third on a walk to Bud Metheny, a passed ball and a thrower's error. They missed a grand opportunity to tie the score when Joe Bonham missed the seventh with one out, but was out trying to stretch the blow. Don Savage followed with a single, but the inning ended when Bill Drescher filed out.

Hopp's 'Full House' Single in Ninth Wins Game for Cardinals

ST. LOUIS, April 21—(AP)—A single by centerfielder Johnny Hopp with the bases loaded in the last half of the ninth inning gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 3 to 2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds today. The Reds, allowing nine hits, while Manager Billy Southworth had to send relief for starter Blix Donnelly in the seventh.

Carder, the Reds' only lefthand pitcher, appeared to have the game job until Marty Marion pried the lid off the Cardinals at the start of the final frame by rapping out a single.

Emil Verban bunted and Steve Mesner threw wide to first and both runners were safe. Relief Pitcher Ken Burkhardt sacrificed.

Football Team To Hold First Practice Game

Although practice was limited Friday because of wet grounds, Coach Otis Coffey reported yesterday that the football squad, both in good shape.

About 75 high school boys and 50 Junior high students are out for spring practice. This number will be reduced considerably before the season starts next fall. Only about 45 boys will be on the Harvester squad. The remainder will be on the Gorilla squad.

Coffey announced that a scrimmage game with a group of former football players would be held Monday afternoon at Harvester park. He said it would not be a regular game but merely more concentrated workouts on offensive and defensive plays.

First regular scrimmage game of the spring training period will be Friday or Saturday, Coffey said. It will probably be an intra-squad game.

Reporting on the progress of some of the more inexperienced players, Coffey said that Earl Williams, 194-100 pound tackle candidate, looked particularly good in the line. He said that Williams' aggressiveness and spirit made him an excellent line prospect.

In the backfield, Coffey said that shown himself to be an excellent blocker. Hopkins, despite his size, mixes it up with any of the larger boys, Coffey said.

A break in the general spring schedule will occur when Coffey takes seven of the boys to the regional track meet at Canyon Tuesday. The meet, originally scheduled for Saturday, was postponed on account of rain.

French Delegate to Meet Led Underground

By NEA Service

Georges Bidault, French foreign minister, was chosen by DeGaulle for the second highest post in the cabinet because of his extraordinary success as leader of the French underground.

The 46-year-old former professor of history in Rheims and the Louis Le Grand Lycee in Paris spent a year in German prison camps. On his return to France after his release, Bidault knew that if his country was ever to be powerful again he must bend every effort to undermine the enemy. For three years he worked tirelessly with the underground as president of the national council of resistance.

A veteran of World War I and an active member of the democratic popular party—Catholic party of the left—Bidault is a rare combination of a rational and inspired politician.

His views on Germany will be of special interest to delegates to San Francisco's security conference. If France is to become strong, he says, she must not only ally herself with nations in the West but in the East as well. Unlike French statesmen of the first World War, Bidault favors neither dismemberment of Germany nor a vengeful peace.

Capt. A. F. Lucas, discoverer of the Spindletop oil field, also discovered the first notable sulphur deposit in Texas, Bryan Mound in Brazoria county, in 1901.

W. E. Davis, Pioneer County Resident, Dies At Phoenix, Arizona

One of the pioneer residents of Gray county, W. E. Davis, 93, died at his home in Phoenix, Ariz., April 15. His son, Oliver A. Davis, resides here at 333 N. Faulkner.

The elder Davis moved to Gray county in 1897 where he entered the ranching business.

In 1907, he and his brother, the late D. C. Davis, opened Pampa's first lumber yard, located on what is now the corner of West Foster and North Frost streets. In 1912, with two sons, Oliver and the late W. P. Davis, he entered the hardware, furniture, and implement business.

After obtaining the franchise from the city of Pampa and the Texas government, Davis, with the two sons, organized Pampa's first power and light company, opening the institution in 1917.

In 1921, with his wife, who died in 1933, he moved to Phoenix where he was engaged in the citrus industry. He retired in 1940.

Besides Oliver of Pampa, survivors are W. E. Jr., Spearman; a daughter, Edna N. Ford, Phoenix, 17 grandchildren, 19 great-grandchildren, and two great-great-grandchildren.

Davis was a former member of the Texas state militia, enlisting in 1873, at Weatherford, Parker county.

Selective Service Law Faces Dissenters

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(AP)—Backers of a straight-out extension of the selective service law have conceded they face a hard fight in the senate. Amendments to restrict the use of men under 19 in combat service portend difficulties.

The draft extender came through the house without modification, simply moving up the expiration date one year to May 15, 1946, or the end of the war, whichever arrives first.

As soon as the legislation was called up in the senate, Senator Stewart (D-Tenn) and three colleagues pressed for adoption of an amendment which would prevent 18-year-old selectees from being ordered into "actual combat service" until they had six months military training.

Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex) immediately proposed instead that no inductee under 20 be sent to combat duty outside the continental United States without a full year's training.

The peacetime, officially adopted state of Texas, produces an annual crop varying from 5,000,000 to 45,000,000 pounds.

NEW YORK.—Lifted right out of Mexican fiestas and Far-Eastern bazaars are fashion ideas which give many of this summer's sports and play clothes an exotic whoop-to-do to make a woman feel as gay at home as she would at a costume party.

Bowing to the Far-Eastern influence are Persian—tulle leisure outfits, coolie coats, water-bomb pants and wrapped-and-strapped swim suits and sun-fun dresses. One of this year's most spectacular sun styles is the bare-back dress of celanese printed crepe, designed by Tina Leser, winner of the American Fashion Critics' award for just such successes. This one uses monotone crepe for the wrapping, strapping and tying. Teamed with it is a print jacket which obliges when you want to be covered.

Chinese-inspired is the Mandarin-type short beach coat—third important piece added this year to the play suit, shown right, which also demonstrates California designers' flair for turning out eminently wearable but decorative sports clothes. Beneath it is a cotton play suit of the same authentic Americana print depicting the western saga of miners, Indian braves, Spanish dons, and desert scenes.

'Junior Miss' Will Be Sponsored by Business and Professional Women

On Monday evening, April 30, the Business & Professional Women's club of Pampa is sponsoring a stage performance of the successful New York comedy "Junior Miss." Written by Jerome Chodorov and Joseph Fields, directed by Stanley Woolf and produced with care by the Civic Drama Guild of New York with an outstanding Broadway cast and duplicating in every detail the original production which played 720 times on Broadway, this play will mark the inauguration of the return of the living theatre to this community.

For many years a condition has existed where fewer and fewer stage attractions have taken to the road. The great days when every season saw eighty or more major productions on "the road" is a thing of the past. Barrymore, Drew, Fiske, Southern and Marlow, Irving and Petrova, great actors of the past, are names that stir only the memories of the older among us. Problems of transportation, labor, cost of production—the waning interest of the public and other forms of modern amusements—movies, radio, nightclubs, juke boxes—all these factors combined made the touring of a legitimate stage attraction, except in the large cities, highly impractical. People of the smaller towns had to journey to neighboring cities or await their semi-annual pilgrimage to New York or Chicago to be able to enjoy the thrill and exhilaration of real theatre going.

But again, in the cycle of time, the pendulum has swung back, and with it the taste of the public for live entertainment to aid in bolstering up the morale in these war-busy times. Theatres on Broadway and the Broadway of the nation are doing the greatest business in the history of show business. Visiting throngs to New York are paying as high as $25 for a seat to a hit show; the theatres of the loop in Chicago cannot accommodate the crowds that clamor to get in to "in-person" shows. Among this vast influx of visitors to the cities are many service men and women and countless others, who are seeing stage plays for the first time in their lives and learning for themselves that no form of amusement can offer so much as the theatre. USO and Camp Shows, Inc., have sent hundreds of dramatic troupes and entertainers into hospitals, army posts and overseas and in this manner have created a desire on the part of those who have never before seen a stage show, for additional entertainment of this type.

This condition is naturally reflected in the hinterlands and it is the belief of the Civic Drama Guild of New York that, if given the opportunity, every town in the nation will support entertainment of this sort. With this in mind, they have sent "Junior Miss" on a coast to coast tour, more or less in the nature of an experiment. Where good attendance is the rule, these towns will become part of a vast circuit playing a minimum of three outstanding stage plays every season. Listed for next fall will be "The Philadelphia Story" and "Over Twenty-One."

All seats for "Junior Miss" are reserved and go on sale at the box office, conveniently located in lobby of Combs - Worley building, which opens Monday. Miss Murrel Kitchens of Business-Professional Women's club states that many still available.

'Peter Pan' Will Be Presented at Junior High Auditorium Tuesday

When "Peter Pan" is presented in the Junior high school auditorium Tuesday, April 24, Pampa children will have an opportunity to enjoy one of the best loved plays written by Sir James M. Barrie. Two performances by a New York cast of Clare Tree Major players, have been arranged for 9:30 a. m. and 1 p. m. Tuesday.

Ward school and Junior high students may obtain tickets at their respective schools, and a limited number of tickets for pre-school children and their mothers are available in the office of Miss Carol McReynolds, in the Junior high building. Pre-school children must be accompanied by an adult.

Because smaller children will appreciate the play more if they are familiar with it, it is suggested that mothers read the following story to their children.

When Peter Pan was very small, he heard his parents talking one day about what he would be when he grew up. And, since he did not want to be president as they said, he ran away to the Never-Never land and became captain of the Lost Boys. Nevertheless he did not outgrow his love for stories, and when Mrs. Darling used to tell them to her children, Wendy, Michael and John, Peter Pan would come and sit outside on the window ledge. One evening when he was listening in this way, he lost his shadow.

The next night after the children were in bed, he went back to hunt for it. Jumping in at the window, he was accompanied by his pet fairy, Tinker Bell—whom human children can see only as a dancing flash of light—Peter rummaged for his shadow. When he found it, however, he couldn't get it to stay on.

Then Wendy woke up and sewed it on for him. He told her about the Never-Never land, where there are redskins, pirates and wolves, to say nothing of the fairies. The other children awoke and listened, and finally Peter Pan persuaded them all to go off with him to the Never-Never land. Here the Lost Boys chose Wendy for their little mother, and took her to their home, a splendid cove under-ground among the roots of trees. She became their house-keeper, tucked them in at night, and told them stories to their heart's content.

In the Never-Never land lived Captain Hook and his bold pirate band. Hook was an arch enemy of Peter. But Hook had an enemy, too—a crocodile which had once dined on one of his arms, and was

R. D. Rosson Dies In Local Hospital

Funeral services were to be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon, for Ruben Dale Rosson, 37, who died yesterday afternoon in a local hospital after a short illness.

Rosson was born in Myra, Texas, October 13, 1907. He was the operator of a service station here and resided at 1016 W. Brown.

Survivors are the widow, Mrs. Rachelle Rosson; his mother, Mrs. J. T. Rosson, Sr.; Myra, six brothers, Bill and Clyde, Crum, Texas, B. C. and D. R. of Myra, J. T. of Dallas, and Roy, Ft. Worth; three sisters, Mrs. Bill Hoover, Mrs. Lily Caldwell, and Mrs. Thad Harrison, all of Myra.

The body will be shipped overland by Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral home to Myra for burial tomorrow.

Services here were to be conducted by Rev. S. D. McLean, pastor of the First Christian church, in the Duenkel-Carmichael chapel.

forever hungry for the remaining one. Fortunately, however, the beast had also swallowed an alarm clock that ticked loudly and warned of its approach.

Hook sought to overcome Peter and his band. One terrible day Captain Hook came creeping down into the house under the trees. Into a glass of harmless medicine which Wendy had left for Peter, he poured some deadly poison. Before Peter could drink it, however, Tinker Bell swallowed it and was about to die. She was saved by the reassurance from the children that they still believe in fairies.

Wendy and her two brothers with some of the lost boys started for home. But they all were seized by the Pirates and carried to the pirate ship. Peter came to the rescue. In a mighty battle the pirates were routed, and Peter—after a single-handed contest with Hook—threw him at last to the waiting crocodile.

When the children reached home safely, Wendy begged Peter to remain. But he did not want to stay where he would have to grow up, and take on responsibilities. So, regretfully, back he went, and each year Wendy visited him, just to do his spring housecleaning.

Hawaiian Scene Is Setting of Student Banquet in Miami

MIAMI, April 21—The Junior-Senior banquet of the Miami high school was given in honor of the seniors by the juniors Saturday night, April 14, in the home economics department.

An Hawaiian scheme was carried out, and the room was decorated to resemble an Hawaiian beach. Huge bright colored flowers bloomed on the green hedge. The deep blue sky was studded with stars, and over the native Hawaiian hut hung a full moon.

The guests were greeted and ushered into the banquet hall by girls dressed in native Hawaiian costumes. The program consisted of music and songs with the following program:

Master of ceremonies, Jim Bill Caldwell; presentation of Lei, Joan Maubly; acceptance of Lei, Norris Kivlehen; musical trio, Peggy Ramsey, Joan Maubly, Dorothy Williamson; "Riding the Waves," Betty Berry; "At the Crossroads of the Pacific," E. M. Ballenger; "Aloha Oe," Marie Carmichael; solo, "Aloha Oe," Wanda Fae Talley.

The juniors were Mary Lynn Allen, Vera Lee Black, Mary Carr, Jim Bill Caldwell, Rosemary Cowan, Lela Gray, Belton Howard, Virginia Huff, Sue Holcomb, Dare Locke, Stanley McKenzie, Joan Maubly, Jay Maubly, Walton Morehead, Velva McCulliston, Lucile Nelson, Billy Jo Paris, Peggy Ramsey, Cecil Smith, Florine Terry, Ralph McLaughlin, and Harold Schrimshire, and sponsor, Mrs. Ivey Terry.

Seniors were Betty Berry, Marie Carmichael, Etta Bell Cell, Bernice Heare, Jordan Morris, Norris Kivlehen, Horace Shield, Dorothy Williamson, Wanda Fae Talley, Lottie Mae Upton, and sponsor, Mrs. Ione Strong, and guest, Mrs. E. M. Ballenger.

The menu consisted of orange juice, baked ham, raisin sauce, waldorf salad, candied yams, buttered peas, olives, radishes, rolls, cake, ice tea, nuts and mints.

Births in Germany during the first half of 1944 were reported to have shown an increase of 8 percent over the first half of 1943.

Word comes from Mrs. Carl Snow, chairman of the Summer Activities program for Intermediate Scouts, that she is working with Miss Marie Stedje and others on the program, and plans will be announced soon.

Girl Scouts
Dame Katharine Furse, in her New Year's message to the world association, says "There is nothing static in scouting, with its roots in the primitive and its fruits in the spiritual. Its sphere is unbounded, and we have the great responsibility of insuring its elasticity and resilience. Scouting can safely absorb new ideas and make good use of them, thereby maintaining its perpetual youth and attraction for all children who have to grow up in a rapidly changing world."

Intermediate Troop Four met with their troop leader, Mrs. E. C. Hart, last week at the Little Scout House to work on "My Troop Badge" as a group. Miss Marie Stedje, executive secretary of the local Girl Scout association, was a special visitor and assisted the girls in performing a flag ceremony. Full attendance of the troop, together with two visitors, made the occasion a special one. To close the meeting, the following girls enjoyed a sing-song: Joyce Harrah, Joan Stroup, Laura Nell Berry, Mary Lou Gantz, Donna Sue Sackett, Mary Jean Patton, Betty Boswell, Barbara Ward, Betty June Nelson, Bernice Homer, Mary Joyce Mobley, and Jean Corneliuss, troop members. Cornelia Corneliuss and Mona Cox participated as guests.

Miss Marie Stedje announces that plans are being made for eight days of Day Camp this year to be held for two weeks in June. Plans for unit activities are being made that will be fun for all Brownies. Inasmuch as two troops of Brownies will "Fly-Up" immediately after Day Camp, there will be more out of door activities for this group, which will include practice in out of door cooking and hiking.

Word comes from Mrs. Carl Snow, chairman of the Summer Activities program for Intermediate Scouts, that she is working with Miss Marie Stedje and others on the program, and plans will be announced soon.

Chief Engineer Frowns on MVA

WASHINGTON, April 21—(AP)—A major flood catastrophe in the lower Mississippi river might result if a Missouri valley authority is established, Maj. Gen. Eugene Reybold, chief of army engineers, said Friday.

Reybold told a senate commerce sub-committee he believed enactment of a bill by Senator Murray (D-Mont) for an MVA would be "a step backward" in flood control. The army engineers now are in charge of flood control and navigation. The Murray bill would permit by-passing of this agency in the Missouri river valley.

"If the army engineers are to be able to meet their responsibility for flood protection in the lower Mississippi valley, they must have full and complete control of all flood control dams in the Missouri valley," Reybold stated.

"Otherwise, they cannot properly coordinate floods discharged from that river, with similar discharges from the Ohio, upper Mississippi, Arkansas, white, red and other tributaries of the lower Mississippi and a major catastrophe may result."

Chairman Overton (D-La.) asserted "there seems to be an epidemic of these authority bills being introduced for various valleys in the nation."

"These authorities," Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex.) interjected, "can properly be called political organizations. They are wholly unnecessary."

LABORING SAVANT
FREMONT, Neb.—(AP)—Midland College President Fred C. Wiegman doesn't want grass to grow under his students' feet.

Students reported seeing the over-craft-clad president pinch-hitting for a yardman.

Dr. Wiegman decided the college's front yard needed attention and before nightfall he had spaded around the bushes and shrubbery and trimmed the grass along campus walks.

ANY SUGGESTIONS?

MILWAUKEE.—(AP)—John Messmer, courthouse custodian, says he welcomes suggestions to help him solve a problem.

Plagued by pigeons, Messmer found a measure of relief by an invasion of starlings which drove the pigeons from the county building. Plagued by starlings, however, he grasped their roosts and drove them away.

Today, alas, the pigeons returned

V Notes RED CROSS VOLUNTEERS

The local camp and hospital committee was faced with a challenge recently, and it can be reported that was met with speed and dispatch. Within an hour after being notified by Mrs. Bjarne Wolding, Red Cross field director at PAAF, the committee had arranged an entertainment program for the men who had come through from the east on the way to the East. Mrs. ex DeWeese, chairman of the committee and Mrs. George Hepner, entertainment chairman, rounded up entertainers from churches and societies. Mrs. B. C. Fahy also lent hand in locating some of the individuals who later appeared on the program.

Miss Frances Mathieu gave several tap dances, accompanied by Mrs. Jack Hanna at the piano. A

Anyone having bond instruments to donate or sell may call Mrs. Campbell, as these are also needed.

A Case of Unmistaken Identity

Despite his grimy and emaciated appearance the young soldier looked familiar to Mrs. Mary Alford, a Red Cross club director. She began by asking his home town. "Kansas City," he replied. "Really?" she explained. "Why, that's my home town, too." "I know," the soldier said. "You're my aunt."

Failure to receive mail regularly from servicemen overseas may be the result of several routine wartime causes, according to Mrs. F. M. Culbertson and Mrs. J. B. Massa, co-chairmen of home service for the Pampa chapter.

"Families of servicemen would save themselves much unnecessary worry if they would make allowance for normal causes of mail delay instead of jumping to alarming conclusions or assuming that the servicemen are neglecting their correspondence," Mrs. Culbertson said. "When overseas mail is unaccountably interrupted, it is frequently because the serviceman has been assigned to special duty or is in transit and is therefore not permitted to write. Navy personnel, for example, may post mail only while the ship is in port."

When the servicemen writes his family that he is not receiving mail from them, it is usually because he has moved from station to station so rapidly that the army locator systems have failed to keep up with him. This situation is particularly true at a time when there are large-scale troop movements. Even emergency cables sent through the Red Cross may be unavoidably delayed for security reasons. For example, all such messages to the South Pacific must be directed to Hollandia and forwarded from there by boat or plane to their destinations.

"If the family has not received mail from the servicemen in three months or more, chapter home service workers may write to the overseas Red Cross field director assigned to the man's unit, requesting him to investigate the problem," Mrs. Massa pointed out. "This same procedure is followed when a serviceman writes that he is not receiving mail from his family. The field director will be requested by the chapter to inform the man that the family is well and will continue to write despite loss or delay of mail."

Red Cross is forbidden under security regulations to request information on servicemen officially reported as missing in action, ill or wounded. The war department alone can notify next of kin of any change in a man's status.

Japs Told To Fight 'Even After Death'

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—(AP)—Japanese soldiers have been instructed by War Minister Korechika Anami to fight on "even after death" in defense of their homeland.

A five-point program, reported in a Domei agency wireless dispatch recorded by the FOC, was issued by Anami. He told the army that following these instructions would be "setting the imperial mind at ease."

The instructions included these instructions from Domei: "Firmly believe in the indestructibility of our divine land."

"Fight gallantly with this spirit of death defiance and wipe out any enemy who dares to invade our imperial land, and never permit any invader to leave this land alive."

HANDY
JEFFERSON CITY.—(AP)—A 30-gallon whiskey still has been discovered in the prison powerhouse, officials said today.

The still, empty but showing evidence of recent use, was built under a brick housing and camouflaged with a covering of coal.

Askew Rites Will Be Held in California

W. B. ASKEW

Funeral services will be held in Sacramento, Calif., for W. B. (Iron) Askew, 43, a Pampa resident for 15 years, who died in a veterans hospital at Hines, Illinois, April 10, of a malignant ailment.

Askew entered the army in 1942, and after serving a year, was honorably discharged. He saw no combat duty.

He was employed here by a local contractor as a rig-builder and was a member of the local I.O.O.F. lodge. He was not married.

Askew is survived by his mother, Mrs. Belle Askew, Sacramento; three brothers, Guy, Josh, and Jack, all of Sacramento. Jack is serving with General Patton's army in Germany.

With victory in both sides of the world now so clearly in prospect... we should not forget all might have been in vain if men of science had found no effective answer to the preparations which enemies to our freedom had for years been making in secret.—Sir Henry Dale, president Royal Society of London.

Seed Test Tells Garden Seed Age

HENRY L. FREE

Written for NEA Service

Poor seeds can yield only disappointment; be sure to purchase only the best. Commercial producers of seed must comply with strict regulations, established by the U. S. department of agriculture, such as being true to name, and with a purity and germination percentage insuring seeds capable of sprouting promptly into normal seedlings. In many states, no seed may be offered for sale if the germination is below 60 percent. Under ordinary storage conditions, vegetable seeds retain satisfactory germination for a number of years; corn and onions, 2 years; parsley and peas, 3 years; tomato, carrot and pumpkin, 4 years; broccoli, cabbage, kohlrabi, radish, spinach, 5 years; beet, squash, 6 years; cucumber, 10 years.

Many of us have seeds left over from two seasons when we purchased more seeds than we needed.

Such seed, if purchased from a reputable garden supply shop and kept away from moisture and heat, is satisfactory and should be used. However, if you are in doubt, make tests of them.

Commercial seedsmen have special apparatus to establish their germination percentages, but the home gardener needs only a couple of flat shallow pans or dishes, a sheet of blotting paper, plus a few moments each day for about 10 days.

The blotting paper test is no great trouble. Cut a piece of the blotter the size of the bottom of the pan or dish to be used. White paper is best. Mark it off into four, five or six sections, depending on varieties to be tested. Moisten blotting paper with water. Count out a definite number of seeds from each packet, say 25, and spread them out on the blotter, a variety to each section. Identify each section.

Cover the pan or dish with another dish or an opaque lid to keep out the light and conserve moisture. Place in a warm dark corner, but not near a heater, and add sufficient water to keep the blotter moist at all times, but only as much water as can be absorbed by the blotter. A few seeds will sprout in about four or five days, and the remainder by the tenth day, when a count is made to determine percentage of germination. If it is low, you should sow proportionately more seed to get a normal stand of plants.

NOW ... The Editor

A friend to the enlisted men as well as officers, a highly respected journalist by his colleagues, the ideal of all high school journalists—these are the descriptions that fit Ernie Pyle, war correspondent, Ernie Pyle, who brought the war home to us with his vivid descriptions of the invasion, the bottles and the human interest element, was killed "in action" on a tiny Pacific island that was quickly forgotten as a military feat but remembered always as the place Ernie Pyle last visited. This little island was Ie Jima. The high school reporter of today and journalist of tomorrow will always remember Ernie Pyle as a man who was invaluable to the Allied victory by his stirring accounts from "over there."

The highest compliments of the week go to petite Sharyn Pocock. It is a marvel to all how such a little girl could get so much from eighty-eight lines. From now on Lisa's "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2" will be the favorite classical number in PHS.

Thanks Borger! The choir is still talking of the wonderful reception they received when they appeared at Borger High school. They commented on the enthusiastic response of the audience.

The weatherman says that it is spring now, so let's give the grass a chance. (P. S. Walk one the sidewalks. That's "go" for now, but meet us at the same place next week.

Your Weekly Lesson In Boy Psychology

Girls, here are few few things you should know about your friends, the boys. Maybe they made love to you and you wish, he was off to someone else.

1. Maybe he made love to you because he thought you expected it of him. (One definition of a gentleman is that he always does what is expected of him.)

2. He just may have had the urge to make love, so don't think you're irresistible if he grabs you and kisses you. It's just because you're the nearest thing in skirts, and he's probably carrying out his idea of the way a he-man should act.

3. Next comes the guy who makes love simply as a matter of habit. If there's a girl near, he puts his arm around her and remembers, his "goodnight" kisses don't mean a thing.

4. Number four is the fellow who is a little curious, a little feisty, who thinks: "I wonder what she'll do if I kiss her? and thereupon—wrenched, scientific, analytic male—he does it. He waits with interest to see if she'll say "I love you." He waits with interest to see if he will get a slap on the coo, or his objective. Then he's off to another victim leaving you feeling pretty silly and dumb.

5. Be dubious if your new beau makes love to you in a rumble seat. Men are perfectly capable of making love to you to keep warm.

6. And then comes vanity. Nothing seems to bolster up a man's ego like making a romantic conquest when he has just flunked an English exam.

7. Last is the reason you girls want to save those kisses. The guy might really love you. So watch for these types of love-makers and beware. You'll be glad you did when Johnny Right comes along.

By the Time April Comes
Lockers Get Pretty Full

First, a history book as big as a small typewriter, then in quick succession a full notebook, several pencils and a tennis shoe. Things just kept falling. Finally, the sophomore rose from amid a pile of school supplies, rubbed his head and smiled weakly.

Just locker trouble.

Regional Meet Is Postponed to 24th

Tuesday is the new date for Regional Interscholastic League meet in Canyon, April 24. The change came with the new date set instead of Saturday because of the weather.

Two students from Pampa High will participate in literary events: shorthand, Joann Lazar; and essay writing, John Robert Lane, each having won first places in their respective events two weeks ago in Amarillo at the district meet.

Coach Otis Coffey will take boys from the track and field teams to compete in the athletic events.

Randall Clay, the boy who holds the longest heave of the disc, will probably repeat again, but his teammate, Bill Dixon, judging from the district meet, will have to outdo himself to gain a first place over Hopkins of Canadian.

Pampa will enter eight events, as follows: High Jump, Randall Clay; Broad Jump, Randall Clay; High Hurdles, Bill Dixon; Disc, Randall Clay and Bill Speer; 880 yard dash, Joe Cree and Horace Saunders; 440 Yard Relay, Bernie Brown, Joe Cree, Horace Saunders, Randall Clay; Mile Relay, Randall Clay, Bill Dixon, Bernie Brown and Horace Saunders.

The informal initiation of the National Honor Society pledges was presented before the student body in assembly Wednesday morning in form of a dramatization of "Princess None-Such" or "He Who Laughs Last Laughs Longest."

Wanda Jay acted as master of ceremonies by reading the story as the other pledges acted out the romance of Sharyn Pocock and Prince Last Chance (by Dorothy Johnson).

The following objects were played by these people: sun, Elva Jean Anderson; moon, Shirley Sone; tree, Anna Lou McCoy; bright idea, Colleen Chisholm; wind, Marjorie Roth; hush of expectancy, Bernie Brown; hour, Kathryn Rose; game, John Lee Walls; shadows, Doris Shackelford; doubts, Beverly Chandler; clouds, Elsie Graham; and one pledge, Johnny Campbell, was unable to appear.

The formal initiation will be presented in assembly the second of May.

"Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2" by Lizzy was played by Sharyn Pocock. As an encore she played "Deep Purple." "There, I've Said It Again," "Boogie" and "This Heart of Mine" was played by John Robert Lane.

The salute to the flag was very serious this time when members of Miss LaNelle Scheihagen's concealed choir sang "Hear Our Prayer, O Lord" following a moment of silent prayer with Reverend West on the platform.

Council Opens Sales Monday To All-School Prom on May 5

Campbell, Turner Leave School For Uncle Sam's Navy Training

Two prominent athletes from PHS left last Wednesday for Dallas to leave for Navy training. One of these was the president of student council and all-around athlete, Johnny Campbell.

Complete with floor show, the West Texas State Buffalo orchestra from Canyon has been engaged to furnish the music. Members of the council feel that with the out-of-town orchestra students will enjoy the music, the dance and an exclusive floor show.

Last year the prom was held in the high school cafeteria with approximately 300 students present. The floor show was brought in from Pampa Army Air Field.

Ticket sales began last Friday. Admission will be $1.00 script, plus 30 cents tax. In order to step tickets, sales, after Friday, April 27, 25 cents will be added to the admission.

"Students are urged to buy their tickets early in order that the party can be planned in advance," stated Mr. A. L. Steele, co-sponsor of the student council.

The spring motif will be carried out in the decorations. Elaborate decorations are being planned although excessiveness is not due to wartime conditions.

Chairman of the publicity committee is Juanita Reeves. On the social committee are Wayne Fable, Warren Jones and Ardell Seels. Ticket committee is composed of Hilda Burden, Wanda Hilburn and Jeannine Conyers. Dorothy Johnson heads all three committees.

All faculty members will be invited to attend; head sponsors are Mr. Steele and Miss Anne Louise Jones, sponsors of the student council. Only high school students will be admitted to the dance.

Johnny Campbell and Eugene Turner, captain of the '44 football team and basketball guard on the team that went to state several weeks ago.

Both boys were in Dallas for preliminary when the Lubbock basketball game came up. A special plane from Pampa flew the boys from Dallas to Lubbock in time for the game.

Johnny was recently pledged into National Honor Society but missed his initiation which was held Wednesday in assembly.

Johnny Campbell and Eugene Turner called from Amarillo Friday to say that they had a three-hour wait there. They had been expecting only 15 minutes there enroute to the West coast.

Tuesday marked the close of the United National Clothing Collection drive in PHS with the total of 77 boxes of clothing contributed.

The home making department under the direction of Mrs. Leslie Hart and Mrs. Robert Sanford accepted the work of sorting and packing the clothing brought in by students and patrons.

Articles according to home making girls included clothing for all ages and for both men and women. There were shoes, bedding, slacks, suits, dresses, coats and all types of piece goods.

Merchants furnished boxes and Boy Scouts tied the boxes. The boxes will be shipped to 125,000,000 needy people in the war-torn countries.

Is It a New Dress You Don't Need
Or Will You Sacrifice To Save These?

By Vera McDowell
Remember the girl you saw in the cafe yesterday, the one who sat staring into space, for she was holding a baby. Johnny's never seen his dad, and he's almost a year old. Will he ever see him?

In church last Sunday night you saw the girl who was fighting for her country—first in France now Germany.

What are you doing to help him get back?

Then, in the drugstore you saw a young woman sitting alone in a booth. No, not really alone, for she was holding a baby. Johnny's never seen his dad, and he's almost a year old. Will he ever see him?

Choir Entertains Borger Assembly

Playing an engagement in Borger, the Pampa High school A Cappella choir left Thursday morning at 11:00 to spend the day with the students. They were taken back to the high school to present a program to the students there. However, some of the singers were left at the cafeteria; and the program was delayed until these could reach the high school.

Numbers presented by the choir included "Star Spangled Banner," "Were You There" (solo by Anna Barnett), "Dear Land of Home," "The Spirit of de Lord Done Fell," "Rain and the River," "The Riff Song," "Ride the Chariot" and "Lost in the Night" (solo by Ruby Mae Kelley). Special group singing was done by the high school sextet, who sang "Lonesome for You," "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy" and as an encore, "A Million Dreams Ago."

The program included two soloists. Jack Dunham sang "Sweet Dreams, Sweetheart." For an encore he sang "Memories." "There, I've Said It Again" was sung by John Robert Lane, who also played a boogie arrangement of "St. Louis Blues." "Begin the Beguine" was played as an encore.

Choir members arrived in Pampa at 3:30 Thursday afternoon.

PHS Girls Close Season
In Competition Volleyball

Volleyball season closed for PHS girls Monday with the final game with Miami in the Junior High gym.

The records show games with Panhandle, White Deer, Lefors and Miami with all victories except the White Deer game.

All girls composing the varsity team are due to return for school next fall. This gives promise for a seasoned team for 1945-46.

Miss Dorothy Hoyle, director of athletics for girls, remarked, "This has been a good season, and I believe the girls enjoyed every hour spent on their practice."

Tax Assessment On Oil Interest Is $241 Million

DALLAS, April 21—The Texas petroleum industry's over-all tax bill assessed against its properties and products constitutes nearly 73 cents for every dollar it pays to its employees in wages and salaries, according to H. J. Struth, economist for the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, in an address before the Dallas Petroleum Accountants society.

Struth stated that taxes assessed against the Texas petroleum industry's properties and products last year aggregated nearly $241,000,000. This included state, local and federal income taxes levied upon its properties, income and products. At the same time, Texans employed by this industry received in wages and salaries the sum of $332,000,000. He said that 55 percent of the state's tax revenue from all business and property taxes comes directly from the petroleum industry and over one-third of all local taxes are paid by this one industry.

"The astounding fact about the Texas petroleum industry's huge tax bill," said Struth, "is the large number of separate taxes levied directly upon it by government. A list of all these taxes reveals that a total of 36 separate levies are charged against the production of Texas crude oil alone, all of which combine to make a total tax of 22 1-3 cents per barrel."

Struth stated that governmental authorities are beginning to recognize the law of diminishing returns, which defeats the purpose of new tax measures by retarding the progress and development of industry. He concluded that the multiplicity of tax levies upon a single property in Texas is a handicap to oil producers of the state and urged that taxing authorities consider ways and means of reducing taxes to promote uninterrupted future development of its vast petroleum resources.

Supply of Bulk Gasoline Lower

NEW YORK, April 21—(AP)—A drop in both civilian and military gasoline stocks was reported this week by the American Petroleum Institute for the week ended April 14. Light and heavy fuel oil stocks were substantially higher and total production of gasoline showed a modest increase.

The daily average gross crude oil production increased 27,200 barrels, totaling 4,811,065 and compared with 4,432,150 barrels produced in the like 1944 week.

Refining companies owning 85.5 percent of estimated daily capacity operated at 87.8 percent of potential and ran to stills 4,770,000 barrels of crude daily. In the preceding week the same companies ran to stills 4,686,000 barrels. A year ago the total was 4,494,000 barrels.

Total heavy oil production in the week was estimated at 913,700 barrels, compared with 939,000 in the preceding week and 892,000 a year ago. Light fuel oil production was estimated at 5,006,000 barrels, against 4,493,000 a year earlier and 4,675,000 last year.

Civilian grade gasoline stocks totaled 52,485,000 barrels, compared with a revised total of 52,688,000 in the preceding week and 51,013,000 a year ago. Military and other grade gasoline stocks were 44,925,000 barrels. Total estimated gasoline production amounted to 14,270,000 barrels, compared with 14,344,000 last week.

Senate Oil Probe Agenda Is Fixed

WASHINGTON, April 21—Senator O'Mahoney, chairman of the special senate committee to investigate petroleum resources, has submitted to the senate a preliminary agenda for investigation covering important phases of the petroleum supply problem.

The chairman advised that public hearings have been arranged and that the committee would go forward with its investigative work. Matters to be investigated include: (a) Cartels in relation to petroleum in-world trade, (b) new sources of petroleum in the United States, (c) the status and outlook of the independent oil producer, (d) post-war disposal of pipelines, refineries and tankers, (e) petroleum requirements in the United States, and (f) American petroleum interests in foreign countries.

The committee report indicated that it was due principally to the committee's action that Secretary of the Interior Ickes was directed by the President not to enter into any contract with any foreign power in relation to the proposed Arabian pipeline project without giving the committee 30 days advance notice of such intent.

The committee also held hearings on the Anglo-American petroleum agreement.

Senator O'Mahoney indicated that his committee in its investigation of cartels would give consideration to the registration of foreign contracts involving restrictions on production, transportation, marketing, etc., of crude oil and refined products; the question of immunity from prosecution under anti-trust laws where companies follow recommendations approved in advance by the government, and similar issues, and that the committee would co-operate with the senate committee on the judiciary, which now has under consideration a bill dealing with registration of foreign contracts.

The inquiry into new sources of petroleum in the United States will relate to petroleum reserves under coastal waters, in the public lands, and in land privately owned. In this study consideration also will be given to the soundest program to be followed by the federal government and the states in safeguarding and augmenting petroleum resources.

Texas Neighbors Report En Masse To Do His Chores

BY JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

It would be inadvisable to criticize the people who live in and around Tuscola. Particularly in the presence of W. M. Torrence.

Last fall Torrence, a farmer, fell off a load of feed at his farm and broke his neck. His doctor recently told him he had to rest another 60 days. And right at a time when so much work had to be done on his 108-acre tract.

Lee Wilson and W. J. Marchek mentioned they were going to take care of Torrence's plowing—and 19 neighbors turned up with tractors, breaking plows, harrows and lists and went to work.

Before the day was over all 108 acres were ready for the next crop.

L. M. Stephens has had a varied career. He is a Lampasas county ranchman, banker and wool warehouseman. But he says he's always running into something new.

Recently, for example, he had to get a quit claim deed to some sky.

Some years ago the Lometa Masonic lodge got a deed to the second story of a building Stephens owned. Written into the deed was the clause that if the building should be torn down or burned, the lodge would hold title to "the sky above" and had the right to build a second story on any building erected on the lot.

Not sure how high up the lodge's title held, Stephens took steps to clear title to the sky above his property.

Bunnies who had to travel in a prosaic manner to the El Paso international rabbit show would like to have someone check into this.

They'd like to know, says the El Paso Times, how a six-pound Angora rabbit got priorities to fly from Ottawa, Canada, to the border on a swank airliner.

They remember what happened to a dog named Blaze. But, says the paper, they're just jealous.

How Was I To Know

Deodorants Damage Material?

Deodorants, which have always caused drycleaners so much trouble because of their tendering effect on fabric and damage to dyestuffs, are really of two types. While the term, deodorant, is used for both, strictly speaking a deodorant is merely a preparation which deodorizes perspiration, but does not stop its flow.

The second group, the non-perspirants, serves the purpose of closing the pores and avoiding the shedding of perspiration. The principle on which they work is the shrinking of the pores due to an astringent action.

Most of the non-perspirants are strongly acid in nature. Many of them contain alum, others zinc chloride, and many other metallic salts which have astringent properties. Solutions of them are all quite acid in nature.

Many of these deodorants have been submitted to the National Association of Dyers and Cleaners laboratories at Silver Spring, Maryland, and TWO of them have been approved as less apt to cause damage if properly used.

The National Association suggests to cleaners and leading merchants such instruction as these:

1. That deodorants should always be applied at least fifteen or twenty minutes before the outer garments are to be donned. Under no circumstances should even an approved deodorant be applied after the customer is fully dressed.

2. That when deodorants are applied they should be done sparingly. They should be allowed to remain for several minutes, and then the excess sponged from the underarm with a damp wash rag or cloth. This should be wiped dry and then several minutes allowed for any remaining moisture to evaporate.

3. As a further precaution, GARMENTS SHOULD BE SENT TO THE DRY-CLEANER FREQUENTLY, ESPECIALLY IF THEY BECOME STAINED AT THE UNDERARM. This will enable the drycleaner to remove the damaging chemical before it has had time to cause extreme damage. It must be remembered that in time the efficiency of these products is greatly diminished, and the force of the perspiration attempting to reach the surface will finally break through, carrying the chemicals with it. A brown circle at the underarm following the use of deodorants, is almost certain identification of an area which has definitely been tendered in some such manner as that described.

To the Women of Pampa And the Panhandle

The members of the Gray County Cleaners & Dyers Association are vitally interested in advising the proper care of your clothes. Our advice and suggestions come from the findings of such authoritative sources as the National Cleaners and Dyers Laboratories, University of Texas Home Economics Department, the nationally known textile and cleaning authority, Mr. C. O. Hubbard, and from time's long hard (sometimes sad) personal experience.

We believe the women of the Panhandle appreciate this advice and help, however, we would like to hear from you. Tell your favorite cleaner you appreciate it; give him your suggestions. We assure you he will appreciate it tremendously.
