CHINESE ARMY BEATEN BACK IN ATTACK

OCCUPATION OF CITY MAY BRING RUSSIA INTO DISPUTE

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Nov. 18.—General Honjo's Japanese army occupied Tsitsihar, Manchuria, this afternoon.

This is the capital of Heilunkgiang province, 18 miles north of Anganchi, a town which the Japanese occupied earlier in the day.

To enter the capital, the army had to cross the Chinese eastern railway into the zone of Russian influence, driving back the Chinese commander, Mah Chan-Han, who repeatedly refused to accede to General Honjo's ultimatum that he evacuate Tsitsihar and withdraw to the north.

Chinese Beaten Back

General Honjo began his offensive suddenly this morning, used his cavalry to good advantage opening the way for infantry attack, and beat back the Chinese to Anganchi, terminus of the Taonan-Anganchi railway, a Chinese-owned line.

They fought in bitter sub-arctic cold against stubborn Chinese resistance, storming through Lungchiang, which is about a mile and a half from the walled city of Tsitsihar, then pressed on to the capital itself.

Fear was expressed in some circles that occupation of Tsitsihar might bring Soviet Russia into the dispute, since the capital is MUKDEN, Manchuria, Nov. 18 (AP)—China's Manchurian army, fleeing through a blinding blizzard, broke into two scattering sections today and moved northward from Tsitsihar in a retreat which appeared to have turned into a rout.

LOCAL ZONING DECISION IS REVERSED

CASE OF RAGLAND VS. OVERTON REMANDED BY HIGH COURT

A 99th district decision which upheld a provision restricting building on two lots here to residential construction, in the case of H. C. and L. R. Ragland vs. Dr. M. C. Overton, was reversed and remanded by the seventh district civil appeals court at Amarillo, the Associated Press reported.

The lots involved are No. 13 and No. 14 in block 99 of Overton addition, plotted by Doctor Overton about 1908, and are at Broadway and College avenue. Deeds to the lots contain a clause restricting use of the property to residential purposes and provides that if the property is used otherwise it shall revert to the grantor.

Citing establishment and growth of Texas Technological college, the Raglands asked, in a petition filed August 16, 1930, that the restrictions on the two lots be set aside. In an instructed verdict, a district court jury decided last April 27 in Doctor Overton's favor. The plaintiffs appealed.

All of that part of Overton addition on Broadway between College avenue and Avenue Q was deeded under the same restriction as that on the two lots involved in the controversy, Doctor Overton said today.

Smith Conviction Reversed By Court

AUSTIN, Nov. 18. (AP)—The court of criminal appeals today reversed and remanded the conviction of Bert Smith on a charge of aiding in the embezzlement of $6,601 from the Stinnett State bank. Smith, indicted in Hutchinson county, was tried in Potter county and sentenced to three years.

He was alleged in the indictment to have been an accomplice of R. A. Franks, an agent of the bank, and J. W. Adams in the alleged embezzlement. The appeals court held the evidence was insufficient to support the allegation that Smith "advised, commanded and encouraged" Franks and Adams, the opinion stating that should the allegations have been believed true by the state, Smith should have been indicted as a principal and not as an accomplice.

Another Wet Vote Assured In House

ELIZABETH, N. J., Nov. 18 (AP)—Another vote for the wet bloc in congress apparently was assured today with the nomination of Donald McLean by Republicans of the fifth congressional district to complete the term of the late Ernest R. Ackerman.

Percy H. Stewart, the Democratic nominee who was unopposed, is a wet. Ackerman was a Republican dry.

McLean and Stewart will contest for the seat at a special election December 1.

Conspiracy Trials Are Nearing Close

HOUSTON, Nov. 18 (AP) — The government approached the end today of its trial of Bruce Webster, former Harris county district attorney's investigator, and four others on charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws.

Webster and Pauline Cook, Harry Bochelman, W. D. Pierce and Charles C. Peck were the defendants. They were alleged to have sold liquor at a taxi stand.

OPINION WITHDRAWN

AUSTIN, Nov. 18. (AP)—The court of criminal appeals today withdrew its opinion affirming a sentence of 99 years against H. W. Middleton of Smithville for the alleged murder of his father and dismissed the case, the defendant having died last Saturday.

Prizes for a band contest and for the various floats will be announced soon.

Mark December 11th on your calendar as Santa Claus Day!

SHERIFF SENT WRITS FROM AUSTIN

SHELL AND STANDARD OF NEW YORK ARE FIRMS NAMED

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Nov. 18 — Sheriff Hal Hood of Dallas county today received two writs of attachment from the district clerk of Travis county, at Austin, commanding him to "attach forthwith" Dallas county property and holdings of the Standard Oil company of New York and the Shell Union Oil corporation, up to the value of $1,021,500 on each company.

The writs directed the sheriff to execute them on two local subsidiary companies, the Magnolia Petroleum company and the Shell Petroleum company and to hold all such property as he may attach pending a hearing in the 54th district court at Austin on Jan. 4.

A letter from Everett L. Looney, assistant attorney general who has been active in the investigation which preceded the filing of anti-trust suits last week by Attorney General James V. Allred against fifteen oil companies, accompanied the two writs of attachment.

"Call at the offices of the two Dallas subsidiary companies," the letter directed Sheriff Hood, "and demand to know the number of shares and the par value of such shares of the subsidiary companies held by the Standard Oil company of New York and the Shell Union Oil corporation. Then execute these writs of attachment on the shares."

Ransom Asked For Release Of Victim

DESMOINES, Nov. 18 (AP)—Mrs. Allie Kiddie, whose husband was kidnaped last week from the driveway of his home, received a note today asking $50,000 for his release.

Friends of Mrs. Kiddie said the amount was the same as that asked for the release of Jimmy Sheridan, a friend of Kiddie's who was kidnaped a year ago.

Mrs. Kiddie would not comment on the ransom note but it was reported she told the kidnapers it was impossible to raise the amount of money they demanded.

Accidental Death Story Investigated

DENVER, Nov. 18 (AP)—The account of Paul T. Carrington, motor bus ticket salesman, that he accidentally shot his wife to death while cleaning a revolver was under investigation by authorities today.

Deputy Coroner George Bostwick said he was not satisfied the shooting was accidental. Carrington told police he was cleaning a .44 calibre pistol when it went off as his wife entered the bus ticket office.

NO CAUSE FOR ACTION HELD BY COURT

HUEY LONG WINS IN LOUISIANA FIGHT FOR GOVERNOR

(By The Associated Press)

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 18.—Dr. Paul N. Cyr's suit to oust Huey P. Long as governor of Louisiana was dismissed in Caddo district court today on grounds of no cause for action.

Judge T. P. Bell in giving his decision on Governor Long's motion to dismiss the suit denied Long's contention that the court was without jurisdiction but upheld the governor's claim that Cyr had no cause to enter suit.

To Appeal Case

Counsel for Cyr announced that an appeal would be taken to the Louisiana supreme court.

Cyr, as lieutenant governor under Governor Long, took the governor's oath on October 13, and brought suit to oust Long on the contention that Long had automatically vacated the governor's chair after filing his credentials of election to the United States senate.

Cyr claimed that under the state constitution Long could not serve as senator and governor, but Long contended that he had not taken over duties of the new office.

Fall's Application For Parole Slated

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—The application of Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, for parole may be considered by the parole board before December 1.

The request for parole by Fall, serving a year and a day sentence for accepting a $100,000 bribe from Edward L. Doheny, wealthy oil man, has been received.

Officials said the board would meet here about November 20.

SENTIMENT IS IMPROVED

BUSINESS STATE OF MIND BETTER FOR LAST MONTH

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The American Federation of Labor finds the business state of mind has improved a good deal in the last month.

The federation's monthly review of conditions met reinforcement for its conclusions in a $36,000,000 favorable trade balance for the United States in October and assertions by legislators returning to the capital that business is one the upgrade.

Some favorable factors were cited, among them that "business activity has not moved upward" but it followed this by noting optimistic developments.

"The upturn in prices is important," the survey said, "for a continued general price rise is the signal for expanding activity."

The all-commodity price line was described as climbing by November 13 to 2.1 per cent above the June low point.

Difficulties still unsolved, the federation warned, may swing the balance downward again. Among them were mentioned the building situation, the European debt question and the railroad problem.

Placing the number of unemployed at 6,200,000, the survey said the major problem was to adjust work hours to the actual work tim eneeded in industry. A decline in agerage work hours in all industry from 51 a week in 1919, the federation said, to 35 a week at the present time made an adjustment to bring about the six-hour day or five-day week imperative.

Superintendent Of Schools Is Slain

WINFIELD, Kas., Nov. 18 (AP)—The body of W. W. McConnell, 53, superintendent of the Winfield schools, was found on the high school campus here late last night with a bullet wound in the back of the head.

His motor car was parked at the curb and near the body was a revolver.

Officers scouted the theory of suicide because of the position of the wound and the length of the weapon. He was not known to possess a revolver.

NO FROST HERE

The mercury drooped to only about 36 degrees last night, a tentatively forecast frost of killing intensity again being delayed. It was reported at the state experiment station. Light frost has occurred here this fall.

Strickel's Trial Is Nearing End

ARGUMENTS STARTED TODAY IN MURDER CASE HERE

A gray-haired, 60-year-old rancher, W. T. Strickel, on trial a second time for the murder of a Mexican employed on his ranch, was pictured in 72nd district court this morning in argument by the prosecution as being angered by a refusal to obey an order, mounting a horse and running down the other man to shoot him with a rifle.

Hill Stewart, a Lubbock attorney aligned with District Attorney Durwood H. Bradley and Assistant District Attorney Burton S. Burks, made the argument, and was followed by W. W. Campbell of the defense. In his argument, Campbell stressed the motive of self defense which had been alleged by the defense, and Strickel's past reputation for truthfulness and lawful living, to which the prosecution had agreed.

Charge Is Read

Judge Homer L. Pharr read his charge to the jury at about 10 o'clock this morning and arguments began. The jury was expected to receive the case today. J. E. Vickers is the other member of the defense staff.

Strickel testified he shot Francisco Carasco in Cochran county when the Mexican, armed with a knife, charged him following a difference over shearing of sheep. The defendant said he did not have time to shoot from his shoulder and that the gun was fired as he was raising it.

Mexicans, state witnesses, Tuesday morning testified the defendant fired a rifle several times toward them at the sheep barns a short time before Carasco was slain. Strickel denied he fired any shots at the group, as did his son, Len, and Aubrey Walker, other defense witnesses.

No character witnesses were heard because District Attorney Durwood Bradley read into the record an admission by the state that at the time of the shooting and at the present time the defendant's reputation for truth and veracity and as a peaceful and law abiding citizen was and is good.

Walker, friend of the Strickel family, said that, after Carasco ob-

Victim Hiccoughs For Eleventh Day

MANSFIELD, O., Nov. 18 (AP)—In his hospital room plastered with suggested but unavailing cures, Ira A. King hiccoughed for the eleventh consecutive day today.

Physicians, however, reported that for the first time since the attack seized him, King's condition was slightly improved. Members of his family said that after being unable to partake of nourishment for several days, he had been given a small quantity of broth at intervals.

Attendants also said King, a well-to-do garage owner, experienced some relief during a few brief periods.

Physicians believed the seige of hiccoughs which have wracked him might be due to some peculiar infection. All sorts of remedies have been tried, however, with no success.

Mrs. W. T. Lay, 67, pioneer Texan and former Lea county N. M., resident, died at 5 a. m. this morning of pneumonia in Graham at the home of Mrs. W. T. Parkinson, a neice. She had been ill less than a week, taking sick while enroute to Graham from Lubbock.

Prior to moving to Lubbock, Mrs. Lay had lived in Lovington for a number of years. She moved to New Mexico from Weatherford.

Mrs. Lay was a member of the Baptist church.

Leaders Frown On Texas Election

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. (AP)—House Democratic leaders looked on the fourteenth Texas district today and frowned at the spectacle of three Democrats running against one Republican.

They feel the division of party strength might result in the election of another Republican to succeed the late Harry M. Wurzbach.

"It is a Democratic duty to have but one candidate," Representative Garner of Texas said.

Garner is his party's choice for the speakership. It looks as if he will win, but his margin is narrow and every vote is needed.

The Texas election is November 4.

Negro Fugitive Is Sought In Slaying

HOUSTON, Nov. 18 (AP) —A negro fugitive from justice was sought today as a suspect in the shotgun slaying of H. L. Bennett, sr., 71, retired railroad official.

Bennett's body was found in a house on a farm to which he had retired 18 months ago to raise chickens. A charge of buckshot struck him in the body.

His pocketbook, with only an identification card in it, was found near his body. The home showed signs of a hasty search.

The negro was under a suspended sentence and was arrested Monday on a minor charge. He fled from the officers' automobile.

AWAITS DEATH IN CHAIR

CHIEF RED WING WILL DIE EARLY THURSDAY IF STAY NOT GIVEN

(By The Associated Press)

HUNTSVILLE, Nov. 18.—Chief Red Wing, a 39-year-old Indian, paced nervously about his cell in death row at state prison today anxiously awaiting some word from the governor's office at Austin.

He came here under sentence to die early tomorrow for the murder of two-year-old Angelina Cavazos at New Braunfels.

Red Wing, the Mexican consul at San Antonio said in a request to Governor Sterling for clemency is a Mexican citizen. He asked that the sentence be commuted to life imprisonment.

"I don't feel that I will have to die for something I did not do," the Indian said yesterday. "I was forced to make that confession at New Braunfels. I didn't kill that little girl. Another man did and told me about it."

RESPITE EXPECTED

AUSTIN, Nov. 18 (AP)—William W. Sterling, Texas adjutant general, said today he believed Governor R. S. Sterlings would grant a brief respite to Chief Red Wing, under sentence to die early tomorrow in the electric chair at Huntsville.

He said the temporary stay of execution would be given to permit further investigation of the slaying of Agpelina Cavazos, two years old, daughter of a tent show trouper, for whose murder Red Wing was convicted.

Two Special Trains To Lubbock-Amarillo Game Thanksgiving Day Seen

FANS PLANNING TO GO TO TILT ASKED TO BUY TICKETS

If street-corner conversation can be taken as a criterion there will be two special trains pressed into use to carry Lubbock and South Plains grid fans to the Lubbock-Amarillo High school football joust on Turkey Day.

But street-corner conversation, local Santa Fe officials declare, cannot be used as a basis for accurate figuring and, in order to offer the best facilities and comfort to Thanksgiving thrill seekers they are seeking co-operation from the public.

"People planning to ride the Santa Fe special will help us a lot by calling our downtown office in the Myrick building and telling us so", E. Kancher and Everett Tusha, Santa Fe officials in charge of the train, declared this morning. "Or, better than that", they added as an afterthought, "they can buy their tickets now either at the Hotel Lubbock or Hilton drug stores, the Myrick office, or the depot".

"If two sections of the Lubbock-Amarillo special are run Thanksgiving Day one of the specials will be christened "The Westerner", honoring the Lubbock High grid team, and the other will be called "The Plainsman", for The Journal's columnist," E. Kancher, Santa Fe official, said this morning.

"If two sections are run they will leave and return at as near even time as possible", he stated.

GIRL APPEARS DUMB TO FOIL BANK ROBBERS

CHICAGO, Nov. 18 (AP)—Four robbers were foiled late yesterday when they tried to rob the Metropolitan State bank by a girl who played dumb.

When the quartet demanded that Miss Helen Kuphas, the cashier, open the door leading to the rear of the tellers' cages, she pretended not to understand. Then she stumbled clumsily—but stepped on the burglar alarm in her awkwardness. This set off a warning in a nearby police station.

Meanwhile, one of the disgusted bandits fired a shot through the glass panel of the door and reached down to unlock it. John Brezna, president of the bank, heard the shot, rushed out of his private office and began shooting. The bandits fled.

Liquor Charges Are Filed Against Pair

Charges of possession of whisky for sale were filed in Justice of the Peace H. K. Porter's court this morning against J. W. Wallace and A. T. Block, who were jailed late Tuesday following raids by the sheriff's department on Avenue H and Seventh street. Block was said to live in the 1600-block of Seventh street.

Ten or 12 pints of whisky were confiscated by county officers in a raid at a tourist camp, where one of the men was arrested. The other was arrested after he had poured several gallons of whisky into the sewer. Sheriff Hardy said enough of the liquor was recovered before it was poured out to be used as evidence.

PRESIDENT HOOVER AND DINO GRANDI OF ITALY DISCUSS MEANS OF WORLD BETTERMENT FOR TWO HOURS TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—For two and a quarter hours President Hoover and his Italian guest, Dino Grandi, talked over means of world betterment today at the White House.

With Secretary Stimson, they went to the celebrated Lincoln study on the second floor shortly after breakfast. They remained there until just before noon, discussing prospects for further armament curtailment by the world powers, possible war debt revision, and other subjects of mutual and individual concern to America and her world war ally in southern Europe.

No communique was issued after the meeting but one probably will be forthcoming tomorrow. The president and his distinguished guest will have occasion to go over the situation again tonight at a White House dinner.

Grandi's next formal engagement was a luncheon given in his honor by Secretary Mellon at the latter's Massachusetts avenue apartment.

SCRAMBLE FOR GRID TICKETS CONTINUES

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, Nov. 18.—Local school authorities today said that 5,000 fans at the Thanksgiving football game between Amarillo and Lubbock would have to stand, and that another 5,000 probably would be turned away.

What to do with the multitudes that are clamoring to see the game has school authorities puzzled. Lubbock fans have hinted that they were not getting enough seats, although 4,000 have been set aside for Westerner rooters. After 3,000 sold in Amarillo in two hours yesterday, local fans said provisions should be made for more seats.

Arrangements have been made to enlarge the seating capacity from 7,200 to 10,300, but more than that many seats could have been sold already had they been on sale, and no provisions have been made for school children.

Announcement that a new block of seats has been put on sale in Amarillo, Lubbock or Pampa is equivalent to starting a riot. School authorities deny that "scalpers" are buying the tickets.

Although M. H. Duncan, Lubbock school superintendent, late Tuesday said he believed Amarillo school authorities were arranging to accomodate all Lubbock persons at the Lubbock-Amarillo High school football

GOOD HABITS LISTED

IN WORKING out lessons a few years ago in some work with expectant mothers, my wife hit upon the happy idea of matching side by side the habit desired in the infant with the habit in the mother necessary to cultivate the baby's habit. From a pamphlet which she prepared for a public child health association, I am borrowing most of the following statements of this article. We shall designate the habit pairs as (a) and (b), (a) for child, (b) for mother.

Best Sleeping Habits Require: 1. (a) Regular hours, both night and day. (b) Definite hours for child's rest. 2 (a) Proper number of hours' sleep. (b) Child to sleep sufficient hours. 3. (a) That the child does not fuss at bed time. (b) Definite rules about putting child to bed. 4. (a) That the child goes to sleep alone. (b) Child to be put in his own room alone. 5 (a) That child shall not be rocked. (b) That mother do not rock the child.

Best Eating Habits Require 1. (a) That eating be done at regular hours. (b) Definite feeding hours and rules. 2. (a)No fussing for food between meals. (b) No food to be given between meals. 3 (a) Vegetables be eaten as prescribed. (b) New foods to be given in small quantity of milk. (b) Giving child food. (b) Giving child proper quantity of water. 7 (a) No fussing for forbidden foods. (b) Never giving child forbidden foods.

(b) Calmness in giving first aid care. 3. (a) Taking medicine without fuss. (b) Matter of fact attitude in giving medicine. 4. (a) Giving up forbidden things without tantrum. (b) Firmness in making "No" mean "No." 5. (a) Proper care of property. (b) Teaching proper handling of property. 6. (a) Not running away into streets, etc. (b) Not permitting child to run into street. 7. (a) Learning to amuse himself for a time. (b) Giving child opportunity to amuse himself. 8. (a) No fear of thunderstorms, darkness, new faces, etc. (b) Refraining from expressing fears before child.

Although these objectives are simple, the mother who can clearly keep them in mind and arrive at them will find that her child at the age of two or three is equipped with a wholesome array of habits favorable to his physical and mental safety, and for his development of likableness and good citizenship. It may be that study groups will find this list of habits a good basis for discussion. Readers who have friends that are parents of little children might want to clip this article and forward it. A good many grateful mothers have written me that although they do not have access to this column in a local paper, they receive it through the kindness of some friend. Grandmothers seem to find peculiar pleasure in subscribing to a paper containing it to be sent to a distant daughter-mother.

EDITOR'S NOTE. Two pamphlets by Dr. Myers may be obtained by sending 10 cents a coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr Garry C. Myers, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland. O. The pamphlets are: "Punishments and Rewards" and "Fear."

When
makes HIM FUSSY

One of the most important things you can do to make a teething baby comfortable is to see that little bowels do their work of carrying off waste matter promptly and regularly. For this nothing is better than Castoria, a pure vegetable preparation specially made for babies and children. Castoria acts so gently you can give it to young infants to relieve colic. Yet it is always effective for older children, too. Remember, Castoria contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics—is absolutely harmless. When your baby is fretful with teething or a food upset, give a cleansing dose of Castoria. Be sure you get genuine Castoria with the name

REVOLUTIONARY WAY TO ROAST COFFEE USED BY HILLS BROS

Controlled Roasting Just the Opposite of Ordinary Method

By a radically different roasting process — Controlled Roasting — Hills Bros. give their rare blend a flavor no other coffee has!

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow . . . a little at a time . . . so the matchless, uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by Controlled Roasting — the patented process that roasts evenly, continuously . . . a little at a time. While the coffee passes through the roasters, the heat is automatically controlled. Any variation in the roast is thus absolutely prevented!

Such uniformity is not possible by bulk methods. In spite of watchful care, some of the coffee is roasted too much — some too little. Flavor variation is therefore inevitable.

As fast as Hills Bros. Coffee is roasted, it is ground and packed in vacuum. By this process, air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken from the can, and kept out. Ordinary cans, even if "air-tight," will not keep coffee fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

Don't Go To Extremes To End Constipation

When bad breath, or a coated tongue, biliousness or headaches warn of constipation, don't take violent purgatives. There's no use when a candy Cascaret will stop the trouble in a jiffy; will cleanse your system pleasantly, and completely.

The relief you get so promptly from Cascarets is lasting. Cascarets are made from cascara, a substance which medical authorities agree actually strengthens the bowel muscles.

So Cascarets are a blessing to old folks with weakened bowels; to children; to anyone in need of establishing regular bowel habits. Ten cents a box—all drug stores. —Adv.

MATADORS ON EDGE FOR NEW MEXICO GRID TILT

WESTERNERS INTENSIFY SCRIMMAGE

EVER HEAR of Wilson "Buster" Charles? If you are even an infrequent reader of sport pages the name is familiar to you. Last year his name was one of the most commonly used in discussions and news of the nation's outstanding amateurs. Right now he holds the national amateur championship for the decathlon, which is a combination of the track and field arts. He is also a good football player, a basketball star and quite handy with the baseball bat. All in all he's one of the nation's best all-around amateurs, and has been considered as a successor to Jim Thorpe, and you all know who Jim Thorpe is, or was.

Wilson "Buster" Charles will be in Lubbock Friday. He is a regular halfback on the University of New Mexico football team, which plays the Texas Tech Matadors in the big Homecoming Day event Friday afternoon. Charles was at Haskell Institute last year, winning national honors as a representative of that institution. He went to the University of New Mexico this fall along with four other Indians, and it is due largely to his efforts and to those of the other four Indians that the New Mexico school is going so good in football this fall.

Charles is a full-blood Oneida Indian. He will be a candidate for world fame at the 1932 Olympiad in Los Angeles and right now he looks like he might be in the big running. His work last year with the decathlon caused him to be ranked by the Amateur Athletic union of the United States as the 1930 decathlon champion, and if there is a better hand at these ten events in the country today he is Barney Berlinger of Penn. Charles is considered by many to be better than Berlinger.

Pete Cawthon saw Charles at Albuquerque last Saturday and the latter was having trouble with an injury sustained in a previous game, thus did not play the entire period against the University of Arizona. While he was in there, however, he did some neat work. He ought to be ready to go Friday. We look forward to seeing and meeting him.

A reward of all the currency therein contained may be retained by the picker-upper and returner of a more or less flat billfold lost or misplaced by yours truly on or about last Friday. Of course, we do not need the four bobs but the other contents are valued by us and are of no earthly good to the finder.

As time for THE game at Amarillo approaches the talk has drifted from players to tickets, and in spite of much harangue and wrangling over the ducats, they are going as fast as they arrive from Amarillo. Big Chief Duncan of the Lubbock schools says it is no fault of his that the tickets call for seats in the bleachers and somewhat far removed from midfield. He took it for granted that the Amarillo authorities would favor Lubbock with good seats, returning the favor extended Amarilloans last year at Lubbock, but evidently the home town comes first in this instance. They even wanted the number of Lubbock fans limited but all they got was a merry haw-haw. It's no particular business of ours understand, but we'd like to see the right thing done by our Lubbock.

Meanwhile the football teams are going right ahead with practice as if nothing out of the ordinary was happening outside the practice fields. The Westerners are pointing to the big game as the biggest of the year. The team is not in its best shape, physically, and the possibilities of such could be a lot brighter. Gene Barnett is still on crutches. At the most he will not have had but about two days of practice before the game at Amarillo in the event he is recovered sufficiently to play.

The Slaton Tigers go to Amarillo Saturday to clash with the Sandies in what, on the face of things, looks like another set up for Amarillo. It would be nice for everybody in this direction if Slaton could pull a fast one and win their last conference game of the season. Slaton citizens hope for a victory, basing their hopes on Slaton's showing at Pampa last week and Pampa's victory over Amarillo. A Slaton victory would make things easier on Lubbock, particularly if eleven or twelve Sandie players were put on crutches for a week.

Tech students, or a part of the most interested ones, are working toward chartering a special train to Abilene next Thursday. The Tech Chamber of Commerce is also taking part and pushing the move. We are reminded by Manager Bo Williams of the Matador team that any thing we can say toward the special train ride might help. We would underwrite the whole darn thing if we thought it would help Tech's chances against Simmons, if we could, and we sincerely hope enough tickets can be sold to guarantee the train. It should be the case.

TEAM IN GOOD SHAPE FOR CONTEST

GAME TO BE FEATURE OF HOMECOMING DAY PROGRAM HERE

The Matadors of Tech are working late every day this week in preparation for their Homecoming Day game Friday afternoon against the University of New Mexico Lobo-Indians. With all injuries practically healed and with the team members in good shape mentally and morally as well, Tech may be expected to place its best team of the season against the charges of Coach Chuck Riley.

Buster Charles Coming

Outstanding in the New Mexico lineup is one Wilson "Buster" Charles, a full-blooded Oneida Indian formerly an expert athlete at Haskell. Charles is rated by the United States Athletic union as the reigning amateur decathlon champion. Aside from starring in ten events of the track and field, Charles is a football player and basketball player of considerable note. Just how he came to be affiliated with the University of New Mexico is not the question. The question now is how to stop him and the rest of the Lobo-Indians who come to Lubbock for the first time.

Proof of the power in the New Mexico lineup is contained in the present season's record of the team. With Charles out of the game entirely, the Loboes lost their only game of the season to the New Mexico Aggies recently, though the summary shows that at every spot on the gridiron except that which hugs the goal line and that every department of the game except that of scoring, the University was by far the superior team. Charles had not recovered from an injury sufficiently to allow him to do his best last Saturday against the University of Arizona, yet the Loboes played the Arizonans off their feet to gain a 7-7 tie.

Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchey Smith, Captain Jack "Bull" Durham and the Matadors are pointing to Friday's game as one of the most important of the season. It will mark the last appearance of the Matadors on local soil this season, for on Thanksgiving Day they go to Abilene to meet the powerful Simmons University Cowhands, already virtual champions of the Texas Conference.

KANSAS HOPES PUT ON JINX

WIN OVER MISSOURI'S TEAM WOULD SOOTHE BIG SIX LOSSES

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 18 (AP)—On Mt. Oread where the University of Kansas Jayhawkers hold forth, football victories over the Missouri Tigers have done much in past years to soothe wounded pride as the result of disastrous grid seasons.

And this is just the tonic which Coach Homer Woodson Hargiss hopes to set before Kansas followers at Lawrence Saturday to take their minds off thre Big Six conference defeats, all of which came within a year after K. U. had won the championship.

Hargiss is instructing his Jayhawkers in many intricate plays for use against the Tigers when the two schools meet in their 40th annual grid encounter.

The Missourians opened three days of secret practice in which forward passing was stressed. Several regulars were given another day of rest to recover from injuries received in the Oklahoma game.

Preparing for the championship game with Iowa State Saturday, Coach Dana X. Bible of Nebraska shifted McPherson, a reserve center, to tackle in an attempt to bolster the right side of the line.

At Iowa State Coach George Veenker turned his attention toward line play, hoping to speed up the forward wall, which was outcharged by Drake last week.

TECH JUDGERS IN SECOND PLACE

Competing at the American Royal livestock show at Kansas City, the Texas Technological college team won second in feed judging and fifth in the entire crop and grain judging contest there, H. J. Bower of the college agronomy department telegraphed Tuesday night.

Marshall Howard, who ranked third among individuals in the feed contest, placed third in the entire crop and grain division. He was high man on Tech's team. Hugo Mika placed fifth among the individuals in the feed event.

The Texas team left Lubbock Friday. Carlton Carmichael is third member of the Tech group and G. L. Deane is alternate.

Littlefield And Floydada Meet Here This Afternoon

FOOTBALL HERO NOT AS POPULAR AS YOU MIGHT IMAGINE WITH CO-EDS

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 18 (AP)—The football hero isn't so popular as one might imagine, at least with many of the co-eds of Northwestern university.

The Daily Northwestern and other student publications sent questionnaires to 300 freshmen co-eds asking for answers to these questions:

"What must your perfect man be, and what do you think of 50-50 dating?"

Those responsible for the questions said the concensus was that the perfect man must be athletic but not an athlete, must have personality but not conceit, must be intellectual, tall, considerate and ambitious.

As to the 50-50 dating the co-eds were very much opposed to the idea, one of them saying girls spend all their money on clothes to make themselves attractive and have no money left for "dutch treats."

Baylor Bears Hope To Down TCU Frogs

(By The Associated Press)

Confident that if they could hold Southern Methodist to a 6 to 0 score they can beat Texas Christian, the Baylor Bears held an optimistic workout yesterday.

They play Texas Christian Saturday at Waco in the feature Southwest conference game. Yesterdaay's practice consisted of routine work with special attention given to a running game.

Texas Christian worked yesterday to strengthen its running offense as well as a defense against such a type of play. Although Baylor is reputed to have one of the best overhead games in the conference, the Bears' running attack is feared. The Frogs must win this game to retain even a chance to tie Southern Methodist for the championship.

The University of Arkansas was in top form yesterday as the Razorbacks prepared for their invasion of Houston to play Rice. It will be Arkansas' last conference game this season. Passing featured yesterday's practice with Holmes and Phillips hurling the ball. The Rice Owls worked on a running attack that is expected to get Jack Frye, brilliant halfback, loose for several long gains.

The Southern Methodist Mustangs embark from Dallas late today for Annapolis to play Navy. The Ponies worked long and hard yesterday and planned another hard workout today before leaving for their intersectional clash.

The University of Texas Longhorns are on edge to battle Centenary college Friday at Shreveport

RACE IN JANUARY

MIAMI, Fla.—While the north freezes in sub-zero temperatures, Miami will be holding its All-American Air Races. The events, one of the big races of the country, will be run off next January. Army, Navy and Marine planes will take part in the air spectacle.

Another Wood

Those eastern teams that have been patiently waiting for Barry Wood to get his diploma from Harvard may be in for three more years of football nightmares starting in 1932 when Charlie Wood, above, becomes eligible for the Crimson varsity. Charlie is Barry's brother, and has made the Harvard freshman team this fall. He's huskier than his famous brother.

CANZONERI WILL MEET CHOCOLATE

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP)—Class will tell but you can't predict the outcome of the coming lightweight championship duel between Tony Canzoneri and Kid Chocolate on that basis. They both have it.

Canzoneri at 26, already has held three ring titles—featherweight, lightweight and junior welterweight. The latter two he still holds and both will be at stake when he and Chocolate clash over the 15-round route in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Chocolate, 24, first gained national recognition in this country as a bantamweight but he quickly outgrew the division and for some time was regarded as the uncrowned king of the featherweights. That was until he battled Christopher (Bat) Battalino for the 126-pound title and took a beating. Just before that disaster, the Cuban negro flash had been beaten by both Jack (Kid) Berg and Fidel Labarba and the boxing fraternity believed he had burned himself out.

But the "Keed" came back with a rush, stopped Benny Bass at Philadelphia to win the slightly synthetic junior lightweight championship and now is challenging for the not-at-all synthetic lightweight crown.

HICKEY LEADING IN CLUB BATTLE

CHICAGO, Nov. 18 (AP)—The battle over whether Thomas J. Hickey shall continue as president of the American association, today went into its second round, with Hickey apparently leading.

A three-hour secret session of club owners yesterday failed to produce a decision and it was reported the magnates were deadlocked at four votes for Hickey and four for an opposition candidate, probably George Belden of Minneapolis. The situation was the same a year ago at Montreal and Hickey was re-elected for one year. Unless a shift in the voting lineup should occur today, it was expected he would be named for another year at least.

Before going into the presidential problem, the owners voted to reduce the number of games for the "little world series" from nine games to seven, with the players sharing in the receipts of the first four instead of the first five. The new arrangement requires the agreement of the International league, with which the series is played each year.

A long discussion over what to do about the Toledo club got nowhere. The club now is in the hands of a receiver

FOOTBALL FEUD WILL BE SETTLED TODAY IN GRID CLASH

To end a football feud which has been raging in the northern portion of that section known to football fans as Class B, District 2, to decide which of two teams shall be known as the champion of that division and to determine the opponent for Lamesa in the championship game of the district, the Floydada High Whirlwinds and the Littlefield High Wildcats are playing a game of ball at Tech Field this afternoon.

The teams are champions in their respective quadrants of the district, Littlefield having the northeast sector earlier in the season and Floydada having defeated Lockney last week for the southeast division title. Early in the season the teams played a non-title game, won by Floydada by a margin of 7 to 6.

If either team is a favorite it appears to be Floydada, who has had perhaps the hardest competition this season and who looms as one of the stronger Class B teams of the section. Old timers in and around Floydada consider the 1931 aggregation as strong if not stronger than the big clubs of 1924 and 1926. Coach Barksdale has a team this year, with a backfield composed of "Little" Murray, quarterback; Bridges, full; Welch and Heald, halves, that has perfected one of the best running attacks seen at Floydada since the big years.

Littlefield's attack, generaled by Harliss, one of the best quarterbacks seen in these parts, has gained much ground and many touchdowns via the air route this season. Harliss is a passer of much ability. He can run and punt with almost equal ability, which stamps him as a dangerous man and no less. With Wimberley and Cooke at ends and Powell and Carter in the backfield to catch his passes, the Harliss attack looms as something well worth observing.

GOLF MATCHES DOUBTFUL

ENGLAND CONDITIONS MAY CANCEL WALKER CUP TOURNAMENT

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP)—Economic conditions in England may cause cancellation of the 1932 Walker cup matches in this country, it was indicated today.

Leaders of the game in England are said to doubt the wisdom of raising the large sum necessary to send their best amateur golfers to this side. They fear the reaction of the British public would not be favorable under the circumstances.

Possibly as a result of the uncertainty of the situation, the executive committee of the United States Golf association is not expected to name the site and date of the 1932 matches at its meeting here tomorrow. The association has heard nothing from the British body in regard to its plans. If England decides to send a team, the date for the matches will be set when the executive committee next meets, in January.

Only one matter of importance is scheduled to come before tomorrow's meeting—the approval of a ball designed to please the country's golfers. It is indicated the "balloon", ball is on its way out, to be replaced by a pellet of the same diameter—1.68 inches, but the weight of the "old" ball, 1.62 ounces.

LUBBOCK TEAM GETS READY FOR GAME

ALL EYES ON SANDIE TILT AT AMARILLO ON THANKSGIVING

A long signal drill and a session of dummy scrimmage was topped off by a hectic passing scrimmage between the first two clubs on the Fair Park practice field yesterday where the Lubbock Westerners are getting ready for the big game at Amarillo on Thanksgiving Day.

In addition to their spirited drill, another pleasing sight on the practice field yesterday was Eugene "Debs" Barnett, regular fullback who has been out for two weeks with a broken foot. Barnett had discarded his crutches and was making his way about the field with the aid of a cane. He has strict orders, however, not to try any football until next week. There is still an even chance that he will be ready to enter the game against Amarillo. Without him the Westerner backfield is weakened considerably.

Coaches Chapman and Huffman had two squads running for the better part of the afternoon with Chapman's squad doing a bit of offensive scrimmage against a third group. Later on the two big squads locked horns in one of the neatest little passing battles one could want. It begins to look as if Amarillo may expect some overhead plays on Thanksgiving. With Mack assisting doing the tossing and Bill Davidson, Bill Ed Watson and Dalton Blagg on the receiving end there was a display of plain and fancy aerial work that was hard to control. They switched. Big Bob Crawford backed up with the backs, and the other team had some trouble getting their passes to work. But it was good practice for the defense either way you take it.

Cecil Merrill and Bill Davidson, who have been on the injured list since last week, apparently have forgotten all about injuries. Merrill's arm appears to be almost healed and Davidson's knee is just about what it used to be. They haven't knocked Britton out yet and they'll have trouble doing that very thing. He was ripping out signals like an Indiana corn husker and his mates were acting accordingly.

The big Westerner line is in fine shape, judging from the workouts. Blagg and Watson at ends, Elmer Calhoun and Bert Williams at tackles, Melvin Griggs and Cotton Welch at guards and Captain Bob Crawford at center seem to be in the best shape possible.

MAY PLAY OFF GRID TIE

DARTMOUTH AND YALE MAY PLAY AGAIN IN CHARITY CONTEST

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP)—Yale and Dartmouth may play off their 33-33 tie in the charity round-robin in the Yale bowl, Saturday, Dec. 5 but perhaps not by design.

Suggestion made yesterday that the Elis and Dartmouth be paired off arbitrarily in one 20-minute game and Brown and Holy Cross in the other brought out several dissenting votes from the colleges concerned.

But there still is a chance that when the draw is made for the round-robin, luck may pit these two teams against each other. Even if it does not, there still would be a chance of a renewal of the great tie struggle of several weeks ago since the winners of each of the two preliminary 20-minute games are to clash in the "final."

Objections to the plan of staging the playoff came from John M. Cates, director of athletics at Yale; Cleo O'Donnell, director of athletics at Holy Cross, and Tuss McLaughry, coach at Brown.

NEW TARIFF IS HELD ASSURED

ECONOMIC UNITY FOR BRITISH EMPIRE IS PROVIDED

LONDON, Nov. 18. (AP)—A preference tariff to unite the dominions of the British empire into economic unity, for which Lord Beaverbrook, noted newspaper publisher, fought for more than a year, seemed assured today with the passage of the government's tariff measure through its first stages in the house of Commons yesterday.

Lord Beaverbrook, with his powerful newspaper, the Daily Express, demanded during the campaign a policy of free trade within the empire as a means of building up a British economic unity that would be comparable with the United States, between whose states no tariff barriers are known.

In the course of his battles over the issue, the 52-year-old publisher has bitterly attacked Stanley Baldwin, conservative leader and threatened to "smash" the conservative party.

The bill, as it was pushed through the first stages of the House of Commons procedure yesterday, provides for special tariff duties, up to a maximum of 100 per cent, for hundreds of manufactured articles imported into Great Britain, most of them from the United States. From this special "anti-dumping" duty the British dominions would be excepted.

The proposed new tariff measure is to be administered by the board of trade and it carries a provision that imports must be shown to be excessive before its rates may be applied.

WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS IS DENIED

HOUSTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—Dominic Meschi Tuesday was denied a writ of habeas corpus by Federal Judge T. M. Kennerly and ordered held under bonds totalling $15,000 on charges of sale and possession of narcotics, assault, resisting arrest and interference with a revenue officer in the performance of his duty.

Meschi was arrested after he had fought two narcotic agents for 40 minutes, during which time three shots were fired.

Agent William J. Kelly declared that Meschi was the largest peddler of narcotics in Houston and that agents had been working for five years to capture him.

MINE SLAYING TRIAL OPENS

MINER GOES ON TRIAL TODAY CHARGED WITH MURDERING DEPUTY

MT. STERLING, Ky., Nov. 18. (AP)—This peaceful town, near the edge of the bluegrass region not far from the mountains, was crowded today with witnesses and court officials here for the first trial of a murder case arising from Harlan county mine labor disorders.

The trial docketed for today was that of William Burnett, a miner accused of slaying Deputy Sheriff Jesse Pace last April. His case venued here from Harlan county. Burnett faced trial 200 miles from the scene of the killing and seven months after the shooting occurred.

B. B. Golden, Pineville, chief of defense counsel, said he would be ready for trial if witnesses summoned from southeastern Kentucky arrived in time, which he said was likely. Commonwealth's Attorney W. C. Hamilton, in charge of the prosecution, would not say if his plans were complete.

In a statement Golden said: "I am employed to represent William Burnett by the general defense committee of Chicago, an organization of Americans. I have no connection with the International Labor Defense or the National Miners Union, and as chief defense counsel, I can say neither of those organizations participate in this trial."

Eleven other men—miners, union officials and town officials of Evarts, Ky.,—will be tried after Burnett's case is disposed of. The eleven are accused of murder in connection with a gun battle near Evarts last May in which four men were slain.

One Killed And One Injured In Crackup

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 18 (AP)—George W. McGee, 25, was killed and Loren G. Stock, 22, was injured late yesterday when an airplane, piloted and owned by Stock struck a flag pole at Swope park and crashed. Both were Kansas City residents. Stock suffered a skull fracture and other injuries.

John Tobiason, a cousin of Stock, said the latter purchased the plane about four months ago at Wewoka, Okla., and that Stock had 120 hours of solo flights to his credit.

To Determine Place Of Powers Hearing

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 18. (AP)—Harry F. Powers, probably will know Saturday whether he will be tried here or in another county on an indictment charging him with slaying Mrs. Dorothy Pressler Lemke, Northboro, Mass.

Ruling the defendant "has a right to this procedure by law," Judge John C. Southern set 9 a. m. Saturday as the time he would hear testimony in support of a defense petition seeking to have Powers stand trial in another county. Powers is scheduled to go on trial here Dec. 7, but his counsel wants the case transferred on the grounds Powers cannot get a fair trial in Harrison county because the public's mind is "poisoned" against him.

WHY do more and more smokers say:

"I've changed to Chesterfield"

BECAUSE . . .

THEY'RE MILDER. It's the tobaccos! The best tobaccos—the smoothest and mildest that money can buy—go into Chesterfield. Ripened and sweetened in the sunshine . . . cured by the farmer . . . then aged for two years in wooden hogsheads. No wonder you say, "They're so much milder!"

THEY TASTE BETTER. These mild smooth tobaccos are put together exactly right. That's Chesterfield's secret—but millions of smokers agree that the job couldn't be improved! Rich aroma of Turkish and mellow sweetness of Domestic, blended and cross-blended to Chesterfield's own BETTER TASTE.

THEY'RE PURE. Cleanliness and purity, always! Everything that goes into Chesterfield is tested by expert chemists . . . tested thoroughly. The purest cigarette paper made, burning without taste or odor. Sanitary manufacture . . . no hands touch your Chesterfields. They're as pure as the water you drink!

THEY SATISFY. You break open a clean, tight-sealed package. You light up a well-filled cigarette. Yes, sir . . . you're going to like this cigarette—you know that with your very first puff. And right there's where many a smoker changes to Chesterfield. They Satisfy!

ON GREENS

If your salad is made of greens or light vegetables, select a dressing that will let the flavors of the salad assert themselves. Bachelor Club Dressing would be an excellent choice.

To make Bachelor Club Dressing: Beat together twelve tablespoonfuls of Wesson Oil, three tablespoonfuls of vinegar, one teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful each of dry mustard and paprika. Then stir in two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped onions.

ON FRUITS

Fruits, on the other hand, don't go very well with a tart, sharp dressing. They respond best to a dressing to which a little cheese or some nuts have been added. Or one that is slightly sweetened . . . like Bar-le-Duc Dressing.

To make Bar-le-Duc Dressing: Beat together six tablespoonfuls of Wesson Oil, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, one teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter teaspoon of paprika and one-eighth teaspoon of white pepper. Into this mix six tablespoonfuls of red Bar-le-Duc or currant jelly.

ON SEAFOOD

If your salad is going to be something hearty and substantial, made with seafood, serve it with Lemonaise (mayonnaise made with lemon juice). The flavor of the salad will be improved however, if first you marinate the ingredients.

To marinate: Mix twelve tablespoonfuls of Wesson Oil and three tablespoonfuls of vinegar. Add one teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter teaspoon of pepper. Pour over seafood and set aside in the refrigerator for several hours. Serve with Lemonaise.

Cheese goes with Celery but.. not with fish

Some things go together and some do not. We make salads out of so many different things no one dressing can suit all of them. There is a right kind of dressing for each different kind of salad. Don't smother all their delicious individualities of flavor under a blanket of heavy dressing like mayonnaise.

mix a dressing appropriate to the salad

To bring out all the flavor of greens and simple vegetables try a tart dressing like French dressing, Bachelor Club or Vinaigrette Dressing. Fruits, on the other hand, respond best to a dressing made with cheese . . . or one to which a touch of sweetness has been added. Seafood should be marinated in French Dressing before it is made into the salad.

You'll find Mary B. Murray's new booklet on appropriate salad service very helpful in the selection and service of your salads. It tells you what dressings go best with what salads and contains many interesting hints and suggestions as to the proper service of salads. We will be glad to send Miss Murray's booklet to you with our compliments. Address the Wesson Oil and Snowdrift People, 210 Baronne Street, New Orleans, La.

Thought For Today

Receive us; we have wronged no man, we have corrupted no man, we have defrauded no man.—Corinthians 7:2.

* * *

Fully to understand a grand and beautiful thought requires, perhaps, as much time as to conceive it.—Joubert.

When Resources End

Not quite like a mysterious finger writing a prophecy of doom on the palace wall, but rather ominous just the same, was a recent forecast in a middle western banking magazine that present reserves of high grade iron ore in the Lake Superior district will be entirely exhausted in less than 30 years if present rates of shipment prevail.

Of course, new deposits may be found in the rich Minnesota and Michigan ranges. If not, there are extensive low-grade reserves there which may, through some cheap new process become commercially available. If not, there are still vast deposits elsewhere in America, and water transportation is still cheap. And yet—

The forecast, somehow, is discomforting. For it points to a fact that we like to forget; the fact that there is to be, some day, an inevitable end to the natural resources of the earth. Oil, iron, coal—some day, soon or late, mankind will have used up the last of them, and there will be no possibility of getting any more.

In former ages, perhaps, this would not have mattered quite so much. But the civilization that is being developed now is founded in a peculiarly intimate way on just those commodities. Skyscrapers, railroads, automobiles, all the great machines that do the work of the world—they come back to this triumvirate inescapably.

To be sure, a cheap synthetic gasoline will be devised some day. Water power may replace coal very nicely. But who ever heard of a synthetic steel? Can you imagine a papier-mache skyscraper, or a locomotive built of cornstalk fibers?

Yet this approaching end of the great age of steel is a certainty which we need to look at occasionally. We need to be reminded that we are not building for eternity any more than the Babylonians did. The proudest city sky line will some day vanish. The most imposing manufacturing district will lose its smoke-cloud. These things constitute, not an everlasting framework for human activities, but an insubstantial backdrop which will presently be removed.

Football Slipping?

As the autumn football season approaches its close, it is becoming apparent that the gate receipts at the college ticket offices have fallen off sharply from former years. A part of this, undoubtedly, is due to the business depression; yet there are indications that some of the shrinkage, at least, is due to a falling in public interest. Football isn't quite the drawing card it used to be.

It may be that this tendency will disappear in the next year or so. But if it does not—if college football has to accustom itself to a definitely smaller income—most of the evils of "over-emphasis" will vanish of themselves. For those evils stem directly from the big profits winning teams roll up. If the profits shrink the evils will shrink accordingly.

Airmail Incentive

Development of the air mail system at government expense has probably done more than any other factor to promote the rise of commercial aviation lines in the United States. Yet the whole vast job has really cost the taxpayer comparatively little.

Charles L. Lawrence, president of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America, Inc., revealed the other day that in the last 14 years the federal government has spent just a little less than $67,000,000 on its airmail system. This includes everything, from operation costs to the establishment and maintenance of the great lighted airways.

That Girl on Broadway says many a woman who looks smart in sport clothes is dumb as an oyster.

YOU folks who are all hot and bothered as to whether Lubbock is going to get a square deal in the matter of football tickets for the Westerner-Sandie game Thanksgiving can just cool off.

Lubbock is going to get a square deal. You can rest assured on that.

Rumors have been flying thick and fast here for the last two or three days and a lot of folks have been unnecessarily worried. The first batch of tickets received here went so fast that people got kinda hysterical.

The facts are that at least half the reserve seats at Sandie Field will be filled by Lubbock folks or sympathizers and in the general admission division Lubbock people will have just as much chance as Amarillo people—it'll be first come, first served at the general admission gate.

IN answer to at least 50 phone calls and personal solicitations from anguished football fans, who thought Amarillo folks weren't going to give them a square deal, The Plainsman did a little gum-shoe work on his own account and spent about ten slugs with the telephone company to do it. He got the low down, however, and it was worth it.

Late last night, when Mrs. Plainsman got tired of answering the phone for nervous grid fans, The Plainsman decided to get the facts on the ticket rookus. So he called Col. Erasmus Elberfield Tack, this column's official fixer and scout in Amarillo, on the long distance phone.

"Tack", The Plainsman said, "these folks down here are scared to death that they ain't going to be done right by in reserved seat tickets for that football game. Please get me the lowdown quick!"

And Colonel Tack, in a good humor even though called out of bed in the middle of the night, proved that he could perform any kind of a public service cheerfully. He got the facts and called right back.

* * *

"DON'T let those good people of Lubbock worry", he said. "I've got the facts on the case and here they are. Lubbock's putting on at least half of the Thanksgiving Day show here and we're going to see that you get everything that's coming to you—both on and off'n the field".

And here's what Colonel Tack found out.

Sandie Field, which is the old Western league ball park in Amarillo, has a normal seating capacity of 7,500 souls in the grandstand on the west side of the gridiron. The grandstand reserves are being sold in Amarillo and on the east side of the field are being arranged other reserved seats to be sold here until the total reserve sections will number 10,000 seats. In addition to that, there will be general admission seats for which late fans—both Lubbock and Amarillo supporters—will be given just prior to game time.

Lubbock will receive through the mails a total of from 3,500 to 3,700 reserve seat ducats which will be sold in Lubbock alone. Whether there will be 3,500 or 3,700 depends upon the number of reserved seats that can be erected. On top of this number of reserved sold in Lubbock alone, many Amarilloans are buying tickets in Amarillo for Lubbock friends, relatives and acquaintances and the way it looks up there now at least a third of the Amarillo sold reserves will go to Lubbock residents or supporters.

"They're not asking ticket buyers here where they're from", Colonel Tack said, "but they're selling the tickets as called for. At least a third of our tickets here are being bought by friends or agents of Lubbock friends and citizens. You're sure to get your half of the tickets and then some. You can count on that".

COLONEL Tack is telling the truth. In the first place, The Plainsman knows of two blocks of tickets totaling more than 200, which have been bought in Amarillo for Lubbock people including two boxes on the 50-yard line. In the second place, everybody in Lubbock who has ever known anyone in Amarillo has already invited themselves to be the guests of Amarillo people for Thanksgiving dinner and the ball game.

We'll get our share of the tickets—choice and otherwise. Colonel Tack guarantees it and The Plainsman has the confidence in Colonel Tack to be a co-guarantor in the deal.

While in that expensive telephone conversation with Colonel Tack, the famous and incomparable Amarillo columnist, The Plainsman inquired:

"Hey, Tack. How about that bet between you and me on the Amarillo-Lubbock game? You know, that bet that when Lubbock wins you turn your column over to me to tell the folks up there how much better Lubbock and the South Plains are than Amarillo and the North Plains?

"I dunno about that bet yet", he said. "I'll let you know Friday."

FOLKS, that means just one thing. It means that Colonel Tack, the most delirious of all Sandie fans, has cold feet so far. He's afraid Lubbock's going to run rough-shod over Amarillo and he's so scared that he's nervous about betting a column of space.

He was so sure about the Sandies' winning before last year's game that he wanted to bet The Plainsman a Rolls-Royce and sack of eatin' tobacco thrown in!

But we're going to make that bet. Colonel Tack can't wiggle out of it, because if he doesn't make it those Amarillo folks are going to cuss him for admitting defeat before the game.

Watch this column for further information about the bet that will shake the Panhandle-Plains!

That Man on Avenue Q says narrow subjects cultivate narrow minds.

FOOTBALL FANS!

Messrs. E. Kancher and Everett Tusha, two accommodating Santa Fe officials here, have asked The Plainsman to say a word for them. Here it is:

It looks like there will be enough Lubbock fans riding the Santa Fe special to Amarillo to cause the train to be split into two sections. In order to assure enough equipment for special train comfort, the Santa Fe must know approximately how many fans will make the trip on the special.

Call the Santa Fe downtown office, in the Myrick building, or better yet, drop in the downtown office there or at the depot and buy your special train tickets now.

Statistics Don't Lie But They Do Strange Gymnastics Of Many Kinds When Politicians Choose To Juggle Them

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—Figures may not lie, but they are likely to fool you, just the same. Give a politician a few digits to play with and he makes them lie down, turn over, sit up and do flip-flops like a team of trained fleas.

DUTCHER

You might think they would have a special government bureau to do all the statistical tricks which are used to entertain the nation, but it isn't necessary because nearly all men in public life have become expert at it. Cabinet officers who pull magic figures from a hat to end depressions have nothing on the Democratic leaders who can prove to the satisfaction of any complete moron that a couple of billion dollars decline in our foreign trade is entirely due to the Hawley-Smoot tariff.

Shooting holes in the other fellows round numbers is a very large part of the present propaganda of the Republican and Democratic parties.

Secretary of War Hurley has just announced proudly that his department's budget for 1933 is approximately $44,000,000 below the appropriations for 1932. And so it is. That figure sounds $30,000,000 better than the cut of $14,000,000 from last year's budget. Congress last year appropriated $30,000,000 more than the army budget, thereby enabling Hurley to compare budget with appropriation instead of budget with budget. This is an especially good trick and almost defies criticism.

Secretary of the Navy Adams, after White House pressure, announced a cut of $60,000,000 in his budget, which sounded all right until it was pointed out that the total budget this year had been $40,000,000 over last year's and that the real cut was only $20,000,000. Hundreds of millions might have been "saved" if this year's original budget had been high enough.

Congressman Luther A. Johnson of Texas has been razzing President Hoover himself, who, in an optimistic formal statement, said the effect of improvement in the credit situation had increased cotton prices by $15 to $20 a bale. Later Hoover corrected himself and said he should have said $5 to $10 a bale, but Johnson still insists that there was no $10 increase in the period to which Hoover referred and that the market reports prove it. Then Johnson says even with increased prices prevailing the first of this month cotton was $7 a bale less than on August 1 and lower than at any similar period in 32 years. Thus the same figures inspire loud cheers from one man and dismal moans from another.

Lately there have been certain encouraging signs in finance and business, but the general tendency has been to bunch them with all annual seasonal improvements and holler that the whole trend is encouraging. The Commerce Department, however, reports that manufacturing did not experience any of the usual fall gain and that gains in car loadings, retail trade, bank debits, foreign trade and factory employment were less than the normal seasonal rise. That meant that some of the gains were actually losses.

There is also a dandy chance to brag about October's figure as compared with September's, too, because October had 27 working, producing days and September only 25.

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1453 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining," "Feminine Hygiene" "Indigestion and Constipation," "The Care of the Hair and Skin," "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are: "Normal Diet," "List of Books for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

BAD POSTURE

"THE RULES and principles for acquiring and maintaining the proper mechanics of the body in its anatomic correct position are so few and so simple that they offer little excuse for neglect in this field. Emphasize—stand tall, head up, chin in, chest high, abdomen flat, weight on balls of feet.

Dr. Clendening

"Never overcorrect the chest which tends to carry the shoulders too far back and to increase the low lumbar curve of the back, causing the body weight to fall on the heels.

"Always consider the body as a whole. Do not look only at a localized deformity because its causes and results are too far reaching, oftentimes working round in a vicious circle. Departure from the normal poise causes abnormal strain. It must be appreciated that while the chief effect of the strain may show most markedly in one part, nevertheless, the whole body under such circumstances must be affected." (From Thomas—Body Mechanics and Health.)

This means that it is wrong to nag a child about any one feature of body posture. "Throw your shoulders back." "Don't droop." "Hold your head up." "Stand up straight." "Pull your stomach in." If only one thing is corrected it may mean that the correction will throw the body out of place in another and even more disadvantageous place.

Besides that, the psychology of such nagging is all wrong. Children will respond readily to desire for correct carriage and posture if they are encouraged to believe that it will give them stronger muscles or that it will make them more beautiful and attractive. The first argument can be applied to the males and the second to the females.

Physical educators today are agreed that exercises for the arms and legs have been over-emphasized in the past. Far more important are exercises to produce good general bodily posture. They result in far more muscle strengthening than the mere arm and leg exercises.

It must be remembered that correct posture includes not only standing and walking positions, but also sitting and even lying positions. Rules and exercises for attaining these various ideals will be discussed tomorrow.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

J. B. C.: "Please give a list of books which give information to a woman about to be married."

Answer: There's not a single book of this sort that I can wholeheartedly recommend. Most of them suffer either from the defect of too much reticence and modesty and vagueness of statement or from the violent overstatement and explicitness of instruction which tends to frighten the candidate nearly to death. Probably the best, although it belongs in the latter class and its statements should not be taken too literally, is "Ideal Marriage," published by Covici-Friede company, New York.

IN NEW YORK with Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The veteran back-stage folk of the Metropolitan Opera take their traditions just as seriously as do the bediamond gentry who occupy the boxes of the golden horseshoe.

Most of them have been on duty for a generation or more.

Well, take for instance Captain John Edgar, the famous stage doorman. It was about 25 years ago that he arrived at the Met. He was then a young man who wanted the propinquity of musical artists. He had musical ambitions of his own. There was no place for him in the operatic assemblage, so he took the job of tending the stage door.

But today, as then, he is at the door; ready to receive the newcomer and exit the old-timer.

In one of the many cubby-holes that lead away from the foyer, you'll find Lionel Mapleson. He's the musical librarian and he takes tender care of thousands of musical manuscripts and be able to produce almost any score on a moment's notice.

The Metropolitan recently opened its 49th season; and the Maplesons had been there some 40 years of that time. Few in the world have such an intimate acquaintance with musical manuscripts.

Jules Judels, who has been there almost 40 years, knows exactly where spear-bearers and other extras may be obtained on a few hours' notice.

His is one of the more colorful jobs at the Met, since there are thousands trying to get on the opera stage whatever their role. The spaghetti-and-red-ink parlors of the city are cluttered with gents who drive trucks or taxis and follow odd trades, yet who live for that moment when they can stand in the last chorus line on the operatic stage.

But to get along Aimee Gerber, who gives out the pay envelopes, came from the old Grau Opera Company some 35 years ago. Bill Guard has been a press agent ever since he left the Times Building 20 years ago; for a quarter of a century Jacob Butcher has worried about the lights; and it was 20 years ago that Josey Novak began to fret himself about the theater's scenery; Tom Bull, who died about two years ago, had taken tickets at the entrance for so many years that he knew every New York notable by first name and was, perhaps, the only public servant allowed to address them as Gus and "Joe". Hugh Brown, who has been there for 22 years, took his job. Dave Hayes, chief engineer, has 30 years of service; and then there are property men and engineers and box-office folk of equal vintage.

When it comes to matters of sartorial temperament, no one in the theater has had greater experience than Filomena Pamgoni, the wardrobe mistress. She has been there 14 years. And for 26 years, Florence Morton has been answering phone calls in all languages.

Draper Is Seeking To Escape Penalty

IDABEL, Okla., Nov. 18 (AP)—Charles Draper, who confessed he killed three men in a robbery to provide funds for his family, will wage a fight against the state's efforts to send him to the electric chair.

Before the birth of his son two days ago, Draper had appeared resigned to his fate, agreeing to confess if disposition of his case were delayed until after the birth of the child.

True to the bargain, County Attorney L. E. Mifflin delayed announcement of the date for arraignment until after the infant's birth.

Several corporations are alleged to have made a senator a gift of $100,000 to lobby for a sugar tariff. That was sweet of them.

HOOVER KIN TO FACE TRIAL

LEAVITT DECIDES NOT TO FIGHT CHARGE OF BOOZE POSSESSION

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Nov. 18 (AP)—A change in his previously announced plans to fight a charge of possessing a gunnysack filled with liquor was indicated by C. Van Ness Leavitt, 57, brother-in-law of President Hoover, who waived a jury hearing before Police Judge C. A. J. Spencer. The trial date was set for November 24.

C. R. Dailey, Santa Monica grocer, facing the same charge, asked a jury trial. He will be tried December 7.

Leavitt, shortly after the arrest, announced he would demand a jury trial but changed his plans.

Leavitt, a retired plumbing contractor and husband of Mary Hoover Leavitt, and Dailey, were arrested November 9 by Thomas Carr, Santa Monica policeman and liquor crusader.

Leavitt, the officer said, left Dailey's store carrying a gunnysack containing liquor when Carr entered the store to frighten Dailey, once convicted of bootlegging.

Police records showed Leavitt had been arrested in November, 1930, for intoxication and had paid a $25 fine. Both men denied the liquor accusation. Leavitt saying he did not know what was in the sack and that he was taking it outside at the request of Dailey.

ROTARIANS TOLD OF SCHOOLS' WORK

...f education is to be worth anything, it must concern itself with the life interests of the people," Dr. R. E. Garlin, professor of education in Texas Technological college, told members of the Lubbock Rotary club in Hotel Lubbock today noon. Dr. Garlin's address was in observance of national education week. M. B. Hilburn was in charge of the program.

"There are six classes of life interests which education must be based in order to accomplish anything," Dr. Garlin said as he pointed out and explained how the schools were endeavoring to conduct programs along these six lines, namely, economic, health, family, civic, recreational and aesthetic and morality, character and religion.

He said the schools of today were endeavoring to bring about greater understanding in these interests as needed the thought and support of the future.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 18 (AP)—Prices of all grains underwent decided early setbacks today, influenced by unexpected downturns in Liverpool wheat quotations. The bearish action of the Liverpool market was ascribed to an official report saying crop conditions in Argentina were generally favorable except in parts of Pampas province, where in some districts frost damage might be 30 per cent. Opening 1 to 1 3-4 cents off, wheat afterward sagged further. Corn started 3-8 to 1 3-8 down and subsequently held near the initial limits.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP)—Heaviness of the copper shares, reflecting the apparent failure of the curtailment conference, weighed down the stock market today, although trading continued dull.

Losses of 1 to 2 appeared in Anaconda, Kennecott, Cerro De Pasco, American Smelting and U. S. Smelting. Gold mining shares, however, raillied, Homestake rising 3 and Alaska Juneau 1. Union Pacific converted a 2 point gain into a net loss, and Atchison was off 2. New York Central was steady. U. S. Steel, American Telephone, General Motors, Allied Chemical, Case and International Harvester were down 1 to 1 1-2.

Call money renewed at 2 1-2 per cent.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 18 (AP)—The cotton market today opened firmer in sympathy with higher Liverpool cables and some price fixing by domestic mills.

Opening trades showed gains of 3 to 7 points. Later prices eased off on long liquidation and hedge selling against purchases of spots in the interior.

December eased off to 6.28, January to 6.38 and March to 6.57, or 4 to 9 points down from the opening highs and 1 to 2 points under yesterday's close.

Near the end of the first hour the market was rather easy and at the lows.

The marked ruled easy all morning, due to considerable near month liquidatson and hedge-selling. The selling was induced by lower stocks and grains and a decline in silver.

December traded down to 6.18, January to 6.29 and March to 6.47, or 14 to 17 points down from the early highs and 11 to 12 points under yesterday's close.

Near noon, the market was a shade steadier, having recovered one to two points from the lows.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 1 to 4 points on trade buying and covering. Trading was quiet and January sold up to 6.45 and May to 6.78.

Trading was quiet, however, and prices weakened under a renewal of near month liquidation combined with some southern and Liverpool selling. December sold off from 6.35 to 6.26 or 3 points net lower, while May declined to 6.75, with the general market showing net losses of about 2 to 3 points by the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables were relatively steady early but eased slightly just before the local opening, and there may have been some selling here on the action of silver. Liverpool cables reported trade and Bombay buying in that market and said there was an increased cloth inquiry in India.

The market met considerable trade buying on scale down orders particularly around the 6 1-4 cent level for December contracts, but prices gradually sagged under continued liquidation combined with some local and southern selling. The easier tone of the stock market and grain contributed to the decline, which carried December off to 6.24, and May to 6.70 and the market was barely steady at midday with prices showing net losses of 5 to 8 points.

BROTHERS ARE REUNITED HERE AFTER 31 YEARS

Reunited after a separation of 31 years, G. W. Gaddy of Fort Worth is exchanging reminiscences with his brother, W. D. Gaddy, 1708 Avenue E.

It was only last May that the Fort Worth man learned that his brother was alive. During the years that intervened after they last saw each other, G. W. Gaddy wrote letter after letter to his brother, only to have them returned. Twice in that length of time he read where men with identical names had died, once in an explosion and once upon being struck by lightning.

"I thought that he had moved to this section of the country," he said today. "Last May when I was visiting in Austin I met my brother's son and learned that his father was here."

The visitor is alone now and had taken this year to visit relatives. In Austin he visited with relatives whom he had not seen for 29 years and later visited people in San Saba after an absence of 33 years.

BOOTLEGGER WILL RECEIVE SENTENCE

FT. WAYNE, Ind., Nov. 18 (AP)—George Adams, 37, Fort Wayne bootlegger, was convicted Tuesday of voluntary manslaughter for the death of a federal prohibition agent. He will be sentenced to serve two to twenty-one years in prison.

It was decided the defense would accept the jury's verdict without an appeal. Sentence will be imposed today. Adams was indicted for first degre murder following the slaying of John I. Wilson, Indianapolis, who was shot to death with another prohibition agent, Walter N. Gilbert, Cincinnati, O. A like indictment was returned against Adams for Gilbert's death, but the present trial was for the killing of Wilson.

The two agents were slain in a gunfight on a highway south of here when they attempted to arrest Adams. They had arranged with him for the delivery of some liquor.

SPECIAL TRAINS

that can be used on one train is 18, the railroaders said and each coach can accommodate 80 persons. "We don't want to discomfort anyone, however," they said, "and will hold each coachload to 60 and, if as many as 20 or more coaches will be needed we will run two sections. We must get an idea in advance how many people are going so we can order out the right equipment to please".

In addition to the trainload, several busses, filled with grid fans, will make the Lubbock-Amarillo run but just how many busses will be used and who will use them has not yet been decided.

Joe Bowman, well known bus operator, said he had been approached by both school and local groups for busses and that he had agreed to meet demands for his type of transportation.

STRICKEL CASE

jected to shearing the old sheep first, the Mexican grasped Strickel by the shirt and struck him a glancing blow on the cheek. The defendant, Walker said, then went to the house and Carasco left after stopping at an automobile. Strickel returned from the house with a rifle, which he leaned against the barn. After mounting a horse, the defendant agreed to carry the rifle with him, at the suggestion of his son.

Strickel told of making an agreement with the remaining Mexicans whereby they would shear the sheep, provided he would persuade Carasco to return.

Suspension Sought

The defendant has made application for a suspended sentence and was recalled to the stand to testify that he had never been convicted.

Carasco was shot through the head and a knife was found in his hand.

TICKET SALES

game Thanksgiving day, unofficial opinion today seemed to be that it would be a case of "first come—first served."

Receiving about 894 additional tickets this morning, the Hilton hotel drug store reported it had been allotted a total of only about 1,614 pasteboards. The only seating board in Lubbock is at the drug store.

Superintendent Duncan said late Tuesday that Superintendent McIntosh of Amarillo had suggested limiting attendance to 14,000 and at that time left the impression that 14,000 was the present seating capacity of the stadium in which the Westerners and Sandies will meet.

A total of 4,000 tickets—3,000 for adults and 1,000 for students—had been ordered by Lubbock school authorities, the superintendent here said.

Guess And Crosby Face Joint Trial

ARDMORE, Okla., Nov. 17 (AP)—Echoes of the fatal shooting of two Mexican college students here last June 7 will be heard tomorrow when W. E. Guess and Cecil Crosby, former deputy sheriffs, face joint trial for the slaying of Manuel Garcia Gomez, member of an old and wealthy Mexican family.

Guess, who accepted responsibility for actually firing the fatal shots, already has been acquitted of charges of murder in the death of Emilio Cortes Rubio, kinsman of President Ortiz Rubio of Mexico. Crosby is scheduled to face separate trial for the death of Cortes Rubio.

Bow-wow Land the Tinymites got to see some real strange ... They walked right through ...rthway. Then the little fairy ... While you are here you'll be ...ht. The dogs in this land nev... And now I'm going to float ... watch me overhead."

... Scouty. "Gee, before you go each one of us wants you to know how we appreciate the chance to visit Bow-wow Land. We hope we'll meet again some day." The fairy then was on her way. And as she circled overhead, each Tiny waved his hand.

"Well, come on lads. Let's look around," cried Coppy. "Everything thats found in this strange place will surely be a sight that is worth while. The land is not so big, you see, but its as different as can be. To think of real dogs living here in comfort makes me smile."

And so they started on their way and then they heard a gruff voice say, "Hey! Where are you lads going? Maybe I can take you 'round. I know this land from end to end. Assistance I will gladly lend." "Hurray for you," said Scouty, "We are glad that you've been found."

And then they spied the speaker. He was just as queer as he could be. "Why, it's a bulldog." Clowny cried. "He's dressed up like a cop." "Of course I am," the dog replied. "But don't you youngsters run and hide. I'd only have to chase you and then order you to stop.

"You see, with billy in my paw, I make all lads obey the law of Bow-wow Land. But, do not fret. We're glad to have you here. There are a lot of things to see. All you need do is follow me." The Tinies were so tickled that they gave the dog a cheer.

SPONSOR KNOT HOLE GANG

ROTARY CLUB TO HELP LOCAL BOYS TO SEE ATHLETIC GAMES

Enabling boys from seven to 15 years old to see local football and basketball games as a reward for good conduct, A Knot Hole gang has been organized by the Lubbock Rotary club with the cooperation of the high school and Texas Technological college athletic authorities.

Youngsters who otherwise possibly would crash the gate, crawl over the fence, or somehow gain a view of the contests, are in the group. The Rotarians hold themselves responsible for the youths and the athletic organizations of the two schools are admitting accredited members to games without charge.

Plans Complete

Announcement that arrangements had been completed came Tuesday night from H. C. Whitworth, chairman of the Rotary club's boys' work committee. Other members of the group are W. B. Price, Clarence Miner, Guy Johnson and Dr. A. M. Ballinger.

"While the chief purpose of the organization is to help those boys whose parents are unable to send them to games, no boy between the ages of seven and 15 will be turned down after he agrees to abide by the rules," Whitworth said. "The boys will see good clean sport and will be given an opportunity for the right moral development."

Rules Set Out

Every boy agrees to abide by these rules:

I will not at any time skip school to attend a game.

I will attend no game against the wishes of my parents or employer.

I will uphold the principles of clean speech, clean sports and clean habits and I will stand with the rest of the gang against cigarettes and profane language on the field.

I will throw nothing while in the park, and will stay in my section at all times.

Breaking of these rules may cost a boy his membership, Whitworth said. The agreement is printed on the reverse of the membership card. The cards may be had on application to Whitworth and others of his committee. Two Texas Tech students will be in charge of the boys at the field. A section will be reserved for Gang members.

In order to keep a check on the members, the Rotarians are to prepare records on each boy enrolled.

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 18 (AP)—R. B. Creagor, Brownsville, Republican national committeeman has announced J. H. Grant, Houston lumberman, would be a Republican candidate for governor again next year. Grant was defeated by Dr. Geo. C. Butte in the 1930 Republican primary.

WEST POINT OF AIR

SAN ANTONIO. — The "West Point of the Air" is located at the new Randolph Field, about 14 miles from here. This "flying city" will soon be recognized as the world's greatest aviation school. It has cost the U. S. about $10,000,000, and is expected to cost about $40,000,000 more before completion. The Army Air Corps will center its training activities here.

3000 Pigeons Become Aid-Minded

"It's a "check-up"—the annual sports event devised by pigeon fanciers of Long Island—and here you see the first flight of more than 3000 birds which were released by their owners the other day in Astoria, N. Y. The idea is that the birds, upon being released simultaneously, will fly to their home coops and take stray pigeons they have met enroute. The "chuck-up" also tests the loyalty of each fancier's pets, for if any of them have been poorly cared for they are likely to seek better homes.

Rum Runner Killed Over Falls Is Belief

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Nov. 18 (AP)—One rum runner was believed to have gone to his death over the American falls last night when he leaped from hs beer-laden craft in the Niagara river. His companion was captured by immigration border patrolmen at the head of Goat Island.

The prisoner gave his name as Mike Py yski, 18, of this city. The young man who in eluding capture is supposed to have lost his lift, was known to Pyzyski only as Louis.

Shame On Venus

PHILADELPHIA — Venus de Milo a liquor law violator? Anyway, in a raid, police found two statues of the lady, and inside them was a pint of whiskey.

Goes Nowhere

WASHINGTON — Old "John Bull" celebrated his 100th birthday with a run that left him right where he started. He didn't even get steamed up. Compressed air pumped into the cylinders of the first locomotive in America made the driving wheels spin while the engine stood up on blocks. Old John stands in the Smithsonian institution.

Have Excuse

BETHANY, W. Va.—Bethany college students have an excuse for being late for classes. The 1,400 pound weight that operates the clock bell in the old college tower broke from its cable and dropped 100 feet to bury itself five feet in the ground.

Changed Mind

NEW YORK—Peter Piambo, homeless and jobless, decided to die so he shot himself. Then he changed his mind and fired the remaining five shots in his pistol to summon help.

No Joke Now

RAHWAY, N. J.—About two weeks ago William Fredericks predicted there was going to be a "big bank stickup in a small New Jersey town about November 13 or 14." Well, there was one here to the tune of $81,000 on the thirteenth. Fredericks says he was just joking but the accuracy of his prognostication has led to his arrest.

Needs New Gun

ASHLAND, Ky.—Glen Isom put his shotgun carefully away at the end of the last hunting season with rags stuffed in the muzzle to keep the dust out. Now he needs a new gun. The first shot he fired this season blew the gun to bits. He had forgotten about the rags.

Must Turn Barber

LOS ANGELES—Ira B. Acres' father-in-law may sit in Ira's barber shop to watch the cash register but he must dress like an employe. Ira objected to a court order obtained by his wife for a watchdog for the cash drawer on the ground that prospective patrons would think the father-in-law was "next" and would not come in.

"You needn't tell me —I know Camel is the fresh cigarette!"

Milder because they're fresh

CAMELS are never parched or toasted!

FOLKS who smoke really fresh cigarettes made from choice sun-ripened tobaccos never have to give a thought to their throats.

That's because such fresh cigarettes retain natural moisture—and are gratefully smooth, cool, throat-friendly, mild.

Camels are the fresh cigarette—everyone knows that now—they're blended from the finest Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos that money and skill can buy.

We would never dream of parching or toasting these choice sun-ripened tobaccos—that would only drive off or destroy the natural moisture that makes Camels fresh in nature's own mild way.

The Camel Humidor Pack protects a fine cigarette fresh with natural moisture—it could do little or nothing to freshen a cigarette that is dried-out or factory-stale.

If you smoke for pleasure, see for yourself what freshness means in mildness and flavor—switch to Camels for just one day—then leave them, if you can!
