Mideast 'Balance' Calculated

WASHINGTON AP - The Nixon administration's version of a Mideast military balance is an Israel strong enough to defend against an Arab attack into territory she how holds-but not mighty enough to strike deep into Egypt.

The United States is committed to preventing the balance of power from swinging against Israel. But just what constitutes a "balance" is usually in some disagreement.

The United States has yet to supply the additional Phantom jets Israel wants.

According to the U.S. estimate, Israel's army of some 285,000 men is superior to Egypt's 400,000-man army and Jordan's 100,000-man force combined. The navies of the opposing sides are too small to make much difference either way.

Air power is rated a key factor. On this, the U.S. analysts say more planes for Egypt would do her little good now because she lacks the pilots to fly them.

They say Israel has enough planes for defense over the land she now holds, and that a larger Israeli air force might have the power to range through Egypt and suffer unacceptably high losses.

Israeli planes flying into Egypt would face missile defenses emplaced since the 1967 war, and possibly Soviet as well as Egyptian planes. In 1967 the Israelis were able to launch a pre-emptive strike, destroying much of Egypt's air force on the ground.

The U.S. calculation presumes that under a "balance" the Israelis would be able to repel Arab attackers without overly heavy losses to Israel.

It figures Egypt's canalcrossing capability is as yet limited, though Israel would suffer more losses now in repelling an Arab invasion than it did in the brief 1967 flight.

The "balance" still would prevail, in the U.S. view, even with Soviet pilots on Egypt's side, providing they flew only defensive missions.

But Soviet offensive strikes or other operations over Israeli-held territory could quickly tip the scale against Israel.

In 1916, during World War I, some 9,000 Austro-Hungarian troops were killed by an avalanche in the Alps.

In 1918, also in World War I U.S. troops crossed the Rhine River at Coblenz, Germany.

In 1937, Japanese soldiers captured Nanking, China.

In 1944, in World War II, a Japanese suicide plane crashed into the U.S. cruiser Nashville, killing 133 crewmen.

Peking Frees 2 Americans Gives Info On Others

The Peking government announced it had reduced the life sentence of another American and that a fourth American prisoner committed suicide more than two years ago.

Richard Fecteau, 43, a civilian Army employe from Lynn, Mass., captured during the Korean war, and Mary Ann Harbert crossed the border in the early afternoon. A Royal Air Force helicopter flew them to Kai Tak airport, and there they boarded a U.S. military plane for the United States, a spokesman for the Hong Kong government said.

It was not known where the plane was taking them.

Peking announced that the life sentence being served by John T. Downey, 41, of New Britain, Conn., had been commuted to five years starting from the date of commutation. That date was not announced, but presumably it was recent.

The fourth American listed by Peking today was Gerald Ross McLaughlin. The New China News Agency said he was captured with Miss Harbert aboard a yacht in Chinese territorial waters north of Hong Kong on April 21, 1968. The Communist agency said he committed suicide on March 7, 1969, while under investigation.

Peking's announcement was the first word of the capture of Miss Harbert and McLaughlin, and no information about them was available in Hong Kong. Informed sources said American authorities here had not known they were in China.

Two other Americans are known to be still imprisoned in China: Air Force Capt. Phillip E. Smith, whose plane was shot down over the Gulf of Tonkin in September 1965, and Lt. Robert J. Flynn, a U.S. Navy pilot presumed shot down over China's Kwangsi Province in August 1967.

Navy Lt. Joseph Dunn, whose plane was shot down off China's Hainan Island in February 1968, is listed as missing on the Chinese mainland.

The government spokesman said Fecteau looked healthy and wore a blue Chinese suit with blue cap. Miss Harbert, in Western-style clothes, appeared healthy but rather thin, the spokesman said.

Fecteau and Downey were captured in 1952 during the Korean war when a military plane on which they were passengers was shot down on a flight from Japan to Korea.

The Chinese charged that Fecteau and Downey, who were listed as Army civilian employes, were on a mission for the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency dropping Nationalist Chinese spies. The United States denied the charge repeatedly.

Fecteau served 19 years of a 20-year sentence. He and Downey were visited last month by Downey's mother, Mrs. Mary Downey, 74, who told newsmen afterward that her son looked "well and in good spirits." Mrs. Downey predicted commutation of her son's sentence and said Fecteau was due for release soon.

In the Azores, where he is meeting with French President Georges Pompidou, President Nixon welcomed "the act of clemency."

"The President welcomes the act of the People's Republic of China in commuting the life sentence of John T. Downey ... and the releasing of Richard Fecteau," presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said.

IN AZORES FOR SESSION

Nixon, Pompidou Meet

ANGRA DO HEROISMO, Azores (AP) — President Nixon discussed the Indian-Pakistani war and other international problems today in his first session with President Pompidou of France.

The international monetary crisis did not come up in a 2½-hour morning meeting, spokesmen said. Treasury Secretary John B. Connally and France's finance minister, Giscard d'Estaing talked about that in a side meeting.

Nixon and Pompidou are expected to discuss the monetary issue as well as Nixon's upcoming trips to China and the Soviet Union at later sessions.

Nixon's objective in the meeting with Pompidou—and later with other allied leaders—is to discuss his visits to Peking in February and later to Moscow.

In the meetings with allies, Nixon's idea is to discuss East-West relations in general.

But the monetary crisis figures to be an important topic here because of France's differences with the United States on how to reach a solution.

A French spokesman described the morning session as "very frank and cordial."

The spokesman said the war in Pakistan had come up at the meeting but he did not elaborate.

Nixon told newsmen who flew with him to the Azores Sunday that their job would be difficult because "everything important pretty well has to be talked about behind closed doors."

Officially, Nixon made the five-hour Atlantic flight because he wanted to consult with the French leader before going to Peking and Moscow. Nixon was said to be particularly interested in discussing Pompidou's conversations with Leonid I. Brezhnev during the Soviet Communist party chief's visit to Paris in October.

However, Pompidou came preoccupied with the international monetary crisis. And Nixon brought a top-level monetary and trade team headed by Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally and including Ambassador-at-Large David Kennedy, the former Treasury chief now specializing in trade negotiations.

On the foreign policy side, Nixon was accompanied by Secretary of State William P. Rogers, National Security Adviser Henry A. Kissinger and Martin J. Hillebrand, assistant secretary of state for European affairs.

Because it was a working visit to this ocean-girded part of Portugal, the welcoming ceremony for Nixon was low keyed. National anthems were played at Ajes air field, which is operated by the U.S. Air Force, and Portuguese Premier Marcello Caetano was on hand.

Pompidou, traveling in a prototype of the Concorde supersonic airliner, arrived in a torrential rain.

Needy Ruled Free Records

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today that indigent defendants in nonfelony cases must be given free records of their trials, including a full transcript where necessary, for the purpose of appeals.

The ruling by a unanimous court had the effect of overturning an Illinois Supreme Court rule which provides free trial transcripts only for felony cases.

"The size of the defendant's pocketbook bears no more relationship to his guilt or innocence in a nonfelony than in a felony cases," the high court said.

The indigents' ruling came in the case of Jack L. Mayer, who was convicted of disorderly conduct and interfering with an officer during an antiwar demonstration in Chicago on Sept. 14, 1969.

Mayer told the court that when he tried to appeal his conviction he was told the transcript of his trial would cost him $300. Mayer said he did not have the money, but the state refused to provide a free transcript under the Illinois Supreme Court rule.

The state's refusal to give him a transcript, Mayer argued, discriminates against citizens on the basis of wealth since poor people without money to buy a transcript were unable to appeal.

The Illinois Supreme Court rule provides for transcripts for indigents appealing felony convictions but not for persons convicted of minor offenses.

In a 1956 ruling the Supreme Court had held, in another Illinois case, that destitiute defendants generally must be given an opportunity for appeal equal to that available to defendants with enough money to buy transcripts.

Indian Troops Surround Dacca

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two more Indian brigades helicoptered into battle near Dacca today to join Indian assaults closing in on the threatened East Pakistani capital on two fronts, Pakistan reported.

Senior Pakistani officers in the beleaguered city said their defenses were crumbling under the Indian thrusts. They predicted an attack on the city itself by Tuesday.

But correspondents in Dacca cabled in a pool dispatch that Pakistan's eastern military commander, Lt. Gen. A.A.K. Niazi, was determined not to surrender. And Radio Pakistan said the Pakistani forces were "putting up stiff resistance."

The fresh Indian attacks were reported near Tangail, 50 miles northwest of Dacca, and Narsingdhi, about 30 miles south of the city. A spokesman, in the first Pakistani acknowledgement that the Indians were close to Dacca, claimed both Pakistani trooops, engaged both assaults.

However, Indian military spokesmen reported Sunday that Narsingdhi has already fallen and Indian troops have passed through it on their way to Dacca. With newsmen unable to visit the front, there was no way of verifying the conflicting claims.

The Pakistani spokesman in Rawalpindi, West Pakistan, said their defenders apparently were unable to halt an Indian paratrooper assault advancing on Dacca from the north and a second Indian column nearing the city from the east.

The paratroopers airdropped into the province Saturday afternoon. Indian military spokesmen in Calcutta said the troops beat off a counterattack and marched toward Dacca Sunday night.

Indians in Calcutta clamped a virtual blackout on information of the Dacca assault today, claiming it might help the Pakistanis. But arrows on a briefing room map indicated some Indian forces had closed to within six miles of the bastion.

Party invitation causes uproar

By Abigail Van Buren

(c) 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR READERS: I recently published a letter which I found extremely difficult to answer. I wavered between two opposite solutions. I asked my husband. He asked others. I then asked my readers how they would answer it.

The letter:

DEAR ABBY: My husband's boss has invited us to a "housewarming party," which my husband feels we must attend. I disagree.

His boss's wife had surgery recently and was found to have inoperable cancer. [The wife doesn't know this.] The boss sent her to Europe [where she came from] to be with her mother while she's "recuperating." He told her he'd join her in three months and bring her home. But it's obvious that he's banking on her not lasting that long, because the day after she left he moved his girl friend into their home and they've been living together ever since. [She's a divorcee whose husband got custody of their children, so you know what she's like.]

This unmarried team goes everywhere together, knowing that no one is going to tell his dying wife what's going on. They have now moved into a deluxe high-rise apartment furnished with the European wife's generous dowry, and we are invited to the housewarming.

My husband says if we don't attend it will mean his job, and jobs aren't exactly hanging on trees these days. Am I wrong for refusing to go? Or is my husband wrong for insisting that we do?

CAUGHT IN A BIND

My suggested replies:

1. Dear Caught: Your first consideration is to your husband. Close your eyes, hold your nose, and go!

2. Tell your husband that he can help "warm" their house if he wants to, but the setup leaves you cold, and you're not going!

The surprising results:

Number of responses: 877,091.

Don't go: 566,001 [predominantly female]. Go: 311,090 [predominantly male].

Some interesting observations:

The youngest voter was a nine-year-old girl reader of the New York Post. [She voted for Number 2.] The oldest was a 98-year-old female Los Angeles Times reader. [She voted for Number 1.]

Of the females who said, "Go," slightly more than 80 per cent added, "your first duty is to your husband."

Of all who voted "Don't go," and indicated that they were under 30, a surprising number added, "and be sure the boss knows your absence is in protest to his immoral behavior."

Those who voted "Don't go," and indicated they were 40 or older, suggested in overwhelming numbers, "Don't go," but make up an excuse, a sick child, the wife came down with the flu, or some sudden family emergency came up.

I heard from Nursing Homes, where the majority of women said, "Don't go," and the men said, "Go!"

Some male inmates of the Federal Prison in Sandstone, Minn., agreed that the husband should go, but the wife should not.

Nine sisters at the Saint Rose Academy Convent in San Francisco voted for "Don't go." One sister voted "Go."

The Padres of Mission Dolores Basilica wrote, "After years of marriage counseling experience and the overruling principle of Christian charity and emphasis on commitment to spouse, we took a closed ballot and amazed ourselves with a unanimous vote for Number Two!"

The mail is still pouring in, and my mailman is not speaking to me, but tomorrow I shall use my entire column to share with you some of the most quotable replies accompanying the votes.

And to those of you who responded, thank you. ABBY

LOVE AND THE LATE SHOW—Virgil Lee Ramsey, 76, left, and Eileen DeRenia, 60, got married Sunday because the rest home where they live won't let unmarried couples watch the late show on television together. A convalescent home spokesman said if patients of the opposite sex want to watch TV alone after the hospitals set is turned off early, they have to be married. So, Ramsey and Mrs. DeRenia, with the help of the local marriage license bureau, were wed Sunday because "they like to watch television together." (AP Wirephoto)

Texan Is Top Cowboy

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A Texas cowboy has won the all-around cowboy title for 1971 at the conclusion of the National Finals Rodeo.

Phil Lyne of George West, Tex., got two second-place scores in the final go-round Sunday. He finished the rodeo season with $49,244 in winnings to nail down the all-around title.

A crippled Oklahoma cowboy failed in his last-minute bid for the title.

Injuries forced Bob Berger, of Norman, Okla., to forego bronc riding Sunday. But he tried bull-riding and lost his chance at that when he was bucked off just out of the chute. He suffered a broken foot and sprained hand but finished the season with $46,746 in winnings.

The Rodeo Cowboy Association world championship in calf roping also went to Lyne, who had a second-place Sunday in bull-riding.

The bronc riding world champion is Joe Alexander of Cora, Wyo. His winnings totaled $28,659. Alexander didn't place in Sunday's competition.

The steer wrestling championship was won by Billy Hale of Checotah, Okla. He had a first-place time of 4.6 seconds Sunday. His winnings were $23,504.

Bill Smith of Cody, Wyo., won the saddle bronc championship with winnings of $26,330. Bill Nelson of San Francisco, Calif., edged ahead of Oklahoma's Berger for the bull riding championship with winnings of $21,200.

John Miller of Oakdale, Calif., nailed down the team roping title with winnings of $9,614. Donna Patterson of Tecumseh, Okla., won the barrel racing crown with winnings of $11,952.

Hospital Loans Are Approved

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The State Board of Health approved $5.25 million in federal loan guarantees for two Texas hospitals Sunday.

The board endorsed a $3.25 million guarantee for St. Mary of the Plains Hospital in Lubbock and $2 million for Wadley Hospital of Texarkana.

Also approved was a $160,000 Hill-Burton federal hospital grant to Brazos Valley Rehabilitation Center in Bryan.

The federal loan guarantees are subject to future federal guidelines. They include federal payment of 3 per cent interest.

India Denies Bombing Of Orphanage

DACCA, East Pakistan (AP) — Doubt remains as to the responsibility for the aerial bombing of an orphanage last week.

It was taken for granted at first that the bombs came from an Indian plane, since India had been bombing constantly in the area where the orphanage was situated.

Then India denied the orphanage bombing, and some Bengalis claimed to have proof that the Pakistan army had made the assault in an effort to embarrass India. Support for this was doubtful, and other sources suggested that guerrilla forces may have been responsible.

The bombing plane apparently was of the propellor type, not one of the jets normally used in combat.

The death toll still is uncertain, but there are fears that as many as 300 boys were killed in the incident.

Ira Soldier In New Program

FORT ORD, Calif.—Army Private Jerry L. Helm, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Helm, Ira, is assigned to Fort Ord where he is training under the Modern Volunteer Army Field Experiment.

The new concept, called VOLAR, combines basic and advanced individual training into a single 16-week program. Decentralized instruction at the unit level and a reducation of formations and inspections give the soldier more time to train and increased off-duty time. Fewer restrictions on off-duty travel and improved living facilities are other benefits of the VOLAR concept.

Pvt. Helm is scheduled to complete the first phase in late January. He is a 1970 graduate of Ira High School and attended Plainview Business College.

Saturn 5 Moved To LaunchPad

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 16 rocket and spaceships made their first move toward the moon today, a slow 3½-mile trip from the assembly building to the launch pad.

Apollo 16 command module pilot Thomas K. Mattingly II watched from a viewing stand a few hundred feet away as the Saturn 5 nudged out of its hangar. Perched atop the booster were the command and lunar ships.

Once at the launch pad later today, crews will begin an extensive three-month checkout leading to a scheduled March 17 launch date.

Mattingly's fellow crewmen, John W. Young and Charles M. Duke Jr., were in Hawaii today to practice moon-walking techniques on an ancient volcano field.

During the 12-day mission, Young and Duke are to spend a record 73 hours on the moon, exploring in the lunar central highlands near the crater Descartes. They will drive a four-wheel vehicle like that used by the Apollo 15 astronauts last summer. Mattingly will conduct photographic and scientific assignments while orbiting alone in the command ship.

NBC Founder Sarnoff Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — David Sarnoff was 15 when he went to apply for a job as a newspaper copy boy. He mistakenly turned into the office of the Commericial Cable Co., which hired him as a $5.50 a week messenger.

That wrong turn marked his entry into the world of the electron. It changed his life and it indirectly influenced the lives of millions of others who were to be affected by the products of his vision.

Sarnoff, who died Sunday at the age of 80, was a broadcasting pioneer and hard-driving businessman who became a major force behind the development of the electronic media, with all its profound effects on American life.

He organized the National Broadcasting Co. and rose to head of the RCA Corp. When he retired in 1970, he left an empire which had a gross annual sales volume of more than $3 billion and turned out more than 12,000 products.

Because of his farsighted grasp of the practical possibilities of radio and television and communications satellites, he was a dominant figure in the electronic communicutions industry for more than 50 years.

Born in a small Russian village, Sarnoff came to this country as a boy in 1900. When his father died several years later, he took the messenger's job to support his mother and three brothers and sisters.

Saving his money, he bought a telegraph instrument and learned the Morse code. He was hired by the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Instrument Co. of America.

His first real step on the road to fame came on the night of April 14, 1912, when he was wireless operator at the Marconi station atop Wanamaker's Store in New York.

It was that night the SS Titanic, en route to New York on her maiden voyage, struck an iceberg and sank with the loss of 1,517 lives.

Young Sarnoff picked up the staccato dots and dashes of the message from the British steamship: "Hit an iceberg. Sinking fast." For the next 72 hours, he told the world about the disaster, relayed names of the 700 survivors from a rescue ship and guided other rescue ships.

The Titanic disaster served to focus worldwide attention on the vast potential of radio and the new medium advanced rapidly after that. So did Sarnoff.

In 1916 he wrote a memorandum to his superiors proposing that a "radio music box" could be developed to broadcast programs directly into the home.

NY Bank Cuts Rate

NEW YORK (AP) — Morgan Guaranty Trust Co., the nation's fifth-largest bank, today cut its prime lending rate from 5½ to 5¼ per cent, effective immediately.

The prime rate is the interest charged by banks to their best corporate customers and reductions make money more readily available to businesses. Morgan Guaranty said the cut reflected its evaluation of "money market conditions and loan demand, which has been soft."

Morgan Guaranty and most other commercial banks had cut their prime rates from 5¾ to 5½. Nov. 4. Other banks have adopted a so-called floating base rate system, subject to weekly review, to replace the fixed prime rate.

First National City Bank of New York, the nation's second largest, was the first to adopt such a floating rate and the level is now set at 5⅜ per cent.

Driver Flees Mishap Scene

A hit-and-run driver fled the scene after his vehicle was in collision with the parked 1971 Model Plymouth of Jones Spurgeon, 511 Twenty-seventh Street, sometime between 1 a.m. and 9:45 a.m. Sunday. The incident occured while the car was parked in the 500 block of Twenty-seventh Street. Officer L.D. Hinson is investigating the case.

Minor damage also resulted in a two-car collision on the parking lot at the Highland Shopping Center at 4:10 p.m. Saturday. Involved were the 1971 Model Oldsmobile of Marsha Jo Falls, Box 94B, and the 1970 Model Buick of Bobbie Wilson Rose, Route 3. Officer Brian Blair investigated the mishap.

Rhodes Named To Board

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith announced the appointment today of George Rhodes of Port Lavaca to the board of directors of Texas A&I University at Kingsville.

Smith reappointed Everett Braden of Edinburg and J. C. Martin Jr., mayor of Laredo, to the board.

The terms are for six years.

How much gasoline does a Texas baby use?

Not much? Well, every man, woman and child uses an average of three gallons of oil products every day.

All told, America uses 600 million gallons daily. And demand is increasing so fast that by the time this baby is 15 years old, he and every other American will be using six gallons every day.

A country that runs on oil can't afford to run short.

Annual Christmas Party Is Held

The Dorcus Sunday School Class of the Colonial Hill Baptist Church met Dec. 9 in the home of Mary Cargil, 2904 Thirty-seventh St., for their annual Christmas party. Velma Donaldson gave the invocation.

The living room was beautifully decorated with Christmas scenes and ideas which gave an overtone of the many blessings of Christ.

Party favors, presented by the hostess, were Bible chapter markers of tiny china hearts, hand painted with a floral design and anchored upon blue ribbon.

Mrs. Smith introduced Ofeli Rios, the class scholarship recipient, who is attending Western Texas College. Ofelia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.R. Rios, 3010 Ave. E. She has two brothers and four sisters. She is a native of Snyder and completed elementary and secondary school here. She is majoring in Elementary Education. Miss Rios is carrying fifteen hours of work and maintains an average of B. She works in the department of counseling at Snyder High School.

After the exchange of gifts, Ruth Weathers presented the devotional predicated upon Luke 2:1-10. Completing the beautiful story of the birth of Jesus the speaker related the symbolic meaning of each incident of the Master's entrance into the world. She concluded by stating. "Christmas should be celebrated not only in December but each day in the year. It should be an integral part of our lives. Christ in all and above all should be maintained in our daily living throughout the entire year."

Laura Rollins gave the benediction.

Give A Book For Christmas

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Time was when a Christmas gift book was considered a stocking stuffer—a little something extra. But many books of interest to homemakers in our "how-to" society may become the piece de resistance of Santas bag.

Ones on needlepoint, knitting, beaded flowers, organic foods cooking, antiques, and home furnishings are among those with sure-fire woman appeal.

Here are some:

"Bouquets From Beads" by Virginia Osterland tells how to use beaded flowers in Oriental and Western style flower arrangements. There are step by step diagrams for making the flowers, and explanations of the principles and techniques of the arrangements. There are bead patterns, too, for decorating Christmas ornaments.

"Do-It-All-Yourself Needlepoint" by Joan Scobey and Lee Parr McGrath has a wide range of needlepoint information, including how to go about choosing your own design. Direct tracing and composition are explained if one chooses to work with a pattern from a wallpaper, fabric or poster. There are also ideas on how to formulate your own design with patterns shown on grids that are spaced like the canvas ones.

"The Large-Type Knitting Book of Babies and Childrens Clothes" is touted by the author, Joan Rattner Heilman, as being the first of its kind. In addition to the big type, the book is printed on special paper which increases the visual possibilities of the dark type even more, and its design, soft cover and large size pages were made so the book will stay flat. There is a collection of patterns for babies up to size 3, and others for a pants suit, fisherman's sweater and jumper for the little people.

"How to Stay 10 Pounds Slimmer" by Edith Miller Berman and Charlotte Leighton tells how to maintain that 10 pound loss you worked for. It begins with a basic diet based on one developed by the New York Board of Health Obesity Clinic.

"Antiques You Can Decorate With" by George Grotz is again available for people who want a guide to antiques and their prices. The book is useful for new collectors as it discusses things as coded pricing used by antiques dealers, and the prevalance of fakes. The author points out the most widespread fakes are those paintings done on glass for the doors of old clocks.

"Color in Decoration" by Jose Wilson and Arthur Leaman is one of the really fine books on color because of its more than 100 color photographs obtained from the best design sources. These illustrate settings that would be an enormous help to any amateur decorator. The informative text provides advice about paint, pattern, shape, and even lighting.

"The Edible Wild" by Berndt Berglund and Clare E. Bolsby is a great book for the conservation-minded woman. Fifty wild plants provide edible food, and there are illustrations and recipes for goodies like chickweed pancakes and cattail stew. There are also recipes for dandelion teas, coffee, soup, greens and many other uses one may never have thought about when stomping on the greens in the backyard.

"Out of the Stockpot" by William J. Dunn is an ideal book for the woman who has become vitamin conscious. Dunn tells how to squeeze every last vitamin out of foods and to use the stock in soups, sauces, stews.

"Cooking with Understanding" by H. L. Nicholas, Jr., is exactly what the title says. Even the experienced cook would be overjoyed with the book, and the beginner should be enraptured. It discusses things such as spoilage, convenience food, electric fryers, the timing of foods and what to do about lumps, sticking, scorching. There is a chapter on microwave cooking, and one on outdoor cooking.

UNUSUAL CHRISTMAS TREE—If you have patience for a century plant bloom, you can have a most unusual Christmas tree. It is typically western since this plant grown in abundance near Marfa, Texas (This one was grown in Scurry County). The tree was decorated by Dilla Teal, duaghter of Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Teal, 3001 Austin. The tree was sprayed with flat water base paint with medium heavy silver glitter. Tiny clear lights cover each branch and bloom to add sparkle to the tree. Birds, clear grape clusters nestled in a bird nest, multi-colored balls and a tiny red horse (a traditional ornament in the Teal household) complete the colorful decor of the unusual tree.

Stans' Involvement In Thailand Co. Questioned

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A private foundation controlled by Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans has acquired since he took office an interest in a Thailand paper company which directly benefits from U.S. government cash and other assistance.

In response to written questions from the Associated Press, Stans called the $24,302 investment in Siam Kraft Paper Co. "very minor," said he got no income from the Stans Foundation and "couldn't conceive" of any tax breaks normally associated with such foundations as being available to him.

"There is nothing whatsoever in this situation that could conceivably involve conflict of interest," Stans said.

Disclosure of Stans' involvement in the Thailand company, founded on a $14-million loan from the U.S. Export-Import Bank, and extended last year, marks the second time in recent months that questions have been raised about the secretary's financial holdings.

In February it was disclosed he held a $318,000 interest in a Penn Central subsidiary at the time his department was engaged in secret negotiations to save the railroad from bankruptcy.

At that time, Stans said he had disqualified himself from efforts to help Penn Central after attending one high-level meeting.

Tax returns for the Stans Foundation, which list Stans as president and his wife and four children as directors, show it acquired 2,667 shares of Siam Kraft in 1969 when the company was chaired by a Thai major general, managed by an American consulting firm and headed for large initial operating losses.

It got the shares from another Nixon appointee, Henry Kearns, president of the Export-Import Bank.

The foundation, Kearns and a New York investment firm, then headed by Stans, had been partners for a year in a separate real estate venture, Thai Industrial Estates.

A spokesman for Kearns and an officer of the investment firm, Glore-Forgan-Wm. R. Staats, said no real estate ever was purchased or developed although tax returns for the foundation show its initial $4,143 investment had grown to $20,851 by the end of 1968.

James Lynch, Glore Forgan vice president, said he didn't recall when the partnership was dissolved, but that Siam Sharss were distributed in July 1969 to pay off the real estate investment.

Kearns founded Siam Kraft in 1965 with the Export-Import Bank loan plus other backing from four American Banks, an insurance company and the General Electric Pension trust.

Questioned closely by the Senate Banking Committee about his $750,000 interest in the company, which produces paper bags, Kearns pledged to put his holdings in a blind trust and divorce himself from any Export-Import Bank efforts to help the firm.

Kearns declined a reporter's request for an interview, but Don Bostwick, the bank's executive vice president, said Kearns "is and will continue to be totally disassociated with Siam Kraft Paper."

Stans also put his personal stocks and bonds into a blind trust, telling the Senate Commerce Committee he wished to avoid "circumstances which might imply any potential conflict of interest."

But he retained personal control of the foundation, plus real estate holdings in three states.

The foundation, established in 1945, increased in new worth from $501,000 in 1962 to $1.39 million by the end of last year, according to its tax returns. The returns show a $319,514 increase in 1970 alone.

The foundation's tax returns for 1969 and 1970 list Stans as devoting parttime to its operation, but he said in response to a question "I have had no transactions with the foundation for years."

Foundation experts with the House Banking Committee say there are numerous tax benefits available to those who control foundations, with one of the most common being avoidance of capital gains taxes.

"I can't conceive of any tax benefits available to me because of the activities of the Stans Foundation," said Stans.

Siam Kraft's annual report to shareholders in October, listed a $4.28-million loss for the year ended last June. But the company report said extension of the Export-Import Bank loan, plus advice and assistance from officials of the bank and the U.S. Embassy in Bangkok, had brightened company prospects.

Heath Leads Choir, Orchestra

BROADSTAIRS, England (AP) — Prime Minister Edward Heath, who recently conducted the London Symphony Orchestra in a charity performance, took to the podium to lead a choir.

Heath conducted an 80-strong choir and orhcestra Sunday in his home town's annual concert of Christmas carols.

U.S. Ambassador Walter Annenberg was in the audience and joined in the singing at the concert, which raised nearly $750 for children's and old people's homes in the district.

Heath, 55, has presided over the carol concert here since 1936, apart from his service during World War II.

LEAP HIGH—Snyder High School's Tommy Washington (30) goes high in the air to grab a rebound during the championship tilt of the Canyon Reef Tournament Saturday night. Contesting for the Dunbar Panthers are Calvin Walker (42) and Larry Collins (50). Snyder's Dubby Preston appears behind Walker, and Jerry Brooks (24) appears in the right foreground. The Tigers successfully defended their crown with a 74-57 victory.

Tigers Beat Dunbar, 74-57; Defend Canyon Reef Crown

Snyder's Tigers repeated as champions of the Canyon Reef Basketball Tournament, knocking off Lubbock Dunbar 74-57 in the finals after they whacked favorite Irving 70-49 in the second round Saturday.

In winning the tournament, the Tigers exhibited a defense that was as aggressive as a boatswain's mate on shore leave, an offense that shoots like gangbusters in the clutches, and they hung together like glue.

"I thought we played really fine defensive ball," said a happy Coach Bob Moore after his Tigers had sacked up the crown.

Third place went to Irving, 80-66 conqueror of Hereford, and Big Spring thumped Estacado 76-67 for the Consolation title.

Dunbar beat Hereford in the second round Saturday morning 67-58 while Big Spring edged Brownfield 63-59 and Estacado clipped Phillips 73-55 in the second round on the loser's side of the bracket.

The Tigers' triumph over Irving was as impressive a victory as any Snyder team has registered in the past, even more impressive than the finals victory over Dunbar.

Four Tigers made the All-Tournament team—Tommy Washington, Dub Preston, Kent Horsley and Jerry Brooks. Others on the team include Dunbar's Gary Howard and Larry Collins, Big Spring's Robert Wallace, Brownfield's Van Garner, Irving's David Johnson and James Scott, and Hereford's Keith Kitchens.

That finals affair was close for two quarters. The score was tied four times and the lead changed three times in the first period as Snyder held a 19-14 lead. Dunbar pulled within one point with four minutes left in the half, but that's as close as they got as the Tigers held a 34-31 lead at halftime.

The Panthers tied it up at 39-39 with 4:40 remaining in the third period on a field goal by Calvin Walker. But successive field goals by Washington, Preston and Jerry Brooks got the Tigers out of danger and they held a 51-43 edge with 1:14 remaining in the period. They led 52-44 going into the final stanza and built an 18-point lead, at 66-48 with 5:28 remaining.

Kent Horsley was effective in close in the opening period. Tommy Washington looked sharp in the second period. Jerry Brooks hit from long distance and the corners every time Dunbar threatened to pull even in the third quarter. Throughout the game, the Tigers played together well as a unit. They looked especially sharp on defense, forcing the Panthers into several bad shots. Washington, Preston and Jerry Brooks all stole the ball in the second half. Fred Liner looked good moving the ball down court against Gary Howard's press.

Snyder hit 25 of 63 from the floor for 39.6 per cent and 22 of 31 from the line for 70 per cent. Dunbar connected on 22 of 60 field shots for 36.6 per cent and they made 11 of 23 free throws.

Horsley played one of his better games under the boards, taking 14 rebounds. Washington claimed 12.

Washington netted 20 points, Preston made 19, and Jerry Brooks collected 15. For Dunbar, Larry Collins meshed 22 points and Don McGraw pushed in 11.

Snyder took a 17-10 lead against Irving in the first quarter and outscored the visiting Tigers 22-12 in the second period to take an insurmountable lead. It was the agressive defense that stopped Irving. The favorites simply couldn't get off the good shot and were often forced to shoot from long range.

Snyder hit 29 of 66 floor shots for 43.9 per cent against Irving and 12 of 19 from the line for 63 per cent. Washington led in rebounds with 16, and Preston claimed 11.

Preston was the leading scorer with 22 points, Washington popped in 20, and Horsley meshed 12. For Irving, James Scott collected 13 points and Weilert, the main who netted 40 points against Snyder in the Irving tournament, was held to 10 points.

Irving whipped Hereford in the first half, holding 21-11 and 19-4 edges in each of the first two periods respectively. To Hereford's credit, they didn't give up when they were 25 points behind, but fought on even terms in the second half.

Keith Kitchens, who was leading scorer with 23 points, got 17 of them in the second half. David Johnson tipped in 20 points for Irving.

Big Spring's Robert Wallace hurt the Matadors on the inside in the consolation game. He netted 18 points, getting 10 of them in the first period. Kenneth Williams hit well from outside for Estacado, collecting 21 points before he fouled out in the fourth period.

Dunbar trailed Hereford 15-9 in the first quarter and 31-23 at halftime in their second round game, but the Panthers rallied to take a 41-39 lead in the third quarter and outscored the Whitefaces 26-19 in the closing stanza. Gary Howard and Larry Collins led the Panthers with 17 and 16 points respectively. Donnell Bailey made only seven points, but he got them all in the fourth quarter.

Kitchens netted 19, and Dan Vanderzee roped 17 points for Hereford.

The Big Spring-Brownfield clash was close all the way, but the Steers posted a 15-9 edge in the third period to take command with Mike Randle scoring eight of his 22 points in this stanza. However, Brownfield's Van Garner captured scoring honors with 31 points.

Snyder will be at Levelland tomorrow night.

A&I, Howard Payne Share Loop Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas A&I and Howard Payne have jumped to the top of the class in the Lone Star Conference Basketball race.

The Javelinas knocked off East Texas 87-86 Saturday night to post a 2-0 league record.

Right behind A&I is Howard Payne with a 1-0 mark on the basis of a 95-91 victory over Angelo State.

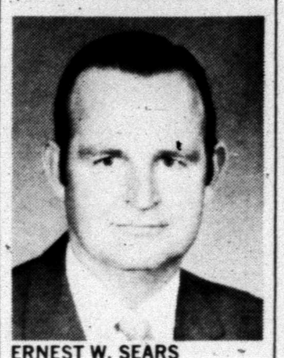

Sam Houston, Stephen F. Austin, Sul Ross and McMurry have yet to fire a shot in conference action.

Sam Houston at 3-0 is the only undefeated team in the league. Howard Payne is 5-1 and S.F. Austin is 4-1. Those three teams shared the conference championship last year.

Other 500 or better records include Southwest Texas 6-3, Texas A&I 5-3, Tarleton 4-3, Angelo 4-3 and Sul Ross 4-4.

There is only one league game this week. Howard Payne hopes to pull into a tie with A&I in a game at Sul Ross Saturday.

"If there is a better quarterback in pro football, I don't know who it would be," Kansas City Coach Hank Stram said of Len Dawson.

"I can't say they're the best two running backs, but just look at what they've done the last two weeks," Dallas Coach Tom Landry said of Duane Thomas and Calvin Hill.

Dawson masterminded a last-ditch 93-yard drive that ended in Jan Stenerud's 10-yard field goal which catapulted the Chiefs to a 16-14 victory over Oakland Sunday and the American Conference West championship.

And the Thomas-Hill tandem rushed for 183 yards and accounted for four touchdowns in Dallas' 42-14 shellacking of the New York Giants that put the Cowboys on the edge of the National Conference East throne.

In Sunday's other National Football League games, San Francisco smothered Atlanta 24-3, San Diego bombed Denver 45-17, Green Bay belted Chicago 31-10, Philadelphia beat St. Louis 19-7, the New York Jets defeated New England 13-6, Cleveland edged New Orleans 21-17, Pittsburgh turned back Cincinnati 21-13 and Houston topped Buffalo 20-14. On Saturday Minnesota beat Detroit 29-10 to take the NFC Central title and Baltimore whipped Miami 14-3.

In tonight's nationally televised (ABC, 9 p.m. EST) game, Washington is at Los Angeles.

"Lenny cut the defense like a surgeon on that last drive," Stram raved. Otis Taylor, who wound up with 113 yards in pass receptions, caught three Dawson passes for 28 yards in the winning surge and an interference penalty on another pass to him accounted for 29 more. Stram called Taylor's catches on the march "one of the greatest individual efforts I have ever seen."

It is Kansas City's first divisional title since 1966—although in 1969, after finishing second to Oakland in the regular season, the Chiefs whipped the Raiders in the playoffs, then went on to rout Minnesota in the Super Bowl.

Bengals Take Consolation

KERMIT—The Snyder Bengals won the Consolation trophy at the Junior Varsity Basketball Tournament here Saturday. The Bengals defeated Kermit A team 55-48 in the second round and nipped Monahans 46-45 in the consolation game.

Snyder took a 15-14 lead in the first quarter of the consolation tilt and led 24-23 at halftime. Monahans went ahead 33-32 in the third quarter, but the Bengals outscored Monahans in the final period to wrap up the victory.

With four seconds remaining in the game, Darrell Morgan dropped in two free throws on a 1-and-1 situation to give the Bengals the victory. Morgan was the leading scorer with 19 points, and Henry Ramos contributed 16. For Monahans, Adams was high point man with 13 points.

Three Bengal starters fouled out and didn't see action in the fourth quarter.

The Bengals overcame a 6-13 defict in the first quarter to beat Kermit A. Morgan tallied 21 points, Richard Gorman scored 15, and V.T. Roberson netted 13. For Kermit, Green pitched in 17 points and Matthews roped 10.

Low Prices Scattered All Over The Country

JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the problems with this country is that it can't manage to put it all together. Put what together? Low prices. They're scattered all over the country, but seldom assembled in any one place.

If you could buy your ground beef in Reno, your eggs in Fresno, Calif., your cigarettes in Hickory, N.C., your canned tomatoes in Springfield, Mo., get your haircut in El Paso, Tex., and rent in Lancaster, S.C., you'd be well off.

Late this year you could buy ground beef in Reno for 41 cents a pound, large grade A eggs in Fresno for 33 cents a dozen, cigarettes in Hickory for $2.41 a carton, number 303 canned tomatoes in Springfield for 17 cents, a haircut in El Paso for $1.50 and a nice apartment in Lancaster for $125 a month.

If you cannot immediately appreciate the relative bargains involved, consider that at the same time a pound of ground beef cost $1.29 in New York, eggs sold for 71 cents in Providence, cigarettes cost $4.50 in Hartford, tomatoes 38 cents in Anchorage, Alaska, a haircut $3.25 in Las Vegas, and an apartment $285 in Jersey City.

The problem with finding a bargain in one thing is that you might have to travel a few hundred miles for a bargain in another.

In Vermillion, S.D., a woman's shampoo and set cost only $2 in September, which was near the lowest price in the country, but a fifth of blended whisky cost $5.80, one of the nation's highest prices.

These figures come from a continuing study of living costs in 140 cities around the nation, conducted by the American Chamber of Commerce Researchers Association.

Whereas the government's Consumer Price Index concentrates on price changes, the ACCRA survey puts great emphasis on the actual prices—and for 140 cities instead of dealing with a representative sampling only.

And it goes a step beyond, rating the relative cost of living in each of the cities for each quarter and then producing an index—not of how prices have risen, but of how prices relate to the national average, which is rated 100.

ACCRA says its index "is keyed to the concept of a middle management executive family of four with an annual income of $15,000 to $16,000."

If this family were to choose one of the 140 cities for reasons of overall price alone it would live in Wilmington, N.C., where total costs in the third quarter of the year were only 85.4 in comparison to the average of 100.

But if it were possible—and this is the problem, it isn't—to shop selectively all over the country, you would buy your food in Tucson, Ariz., where the index was 81, and pay your rent in Ashland, Ky., where housing scored 80.

You would obtain your health services in Lafayette, La., which in the third quarter had an index of 69.8, buy your utilities in San Jose, Calif., which rated 60, your transportation in Henderson, Ky., which scored 67.4, and your miscellaneous services in Vermillion—the place where the shampoo costs little and the whisky a lot—which rated 72.

Since all this cannot be done, you might wonder what can be learned from these figures. Understandably, the various chambers of commerce like to shout about their low figures, if only to drown out comment about their 100-plus scores.

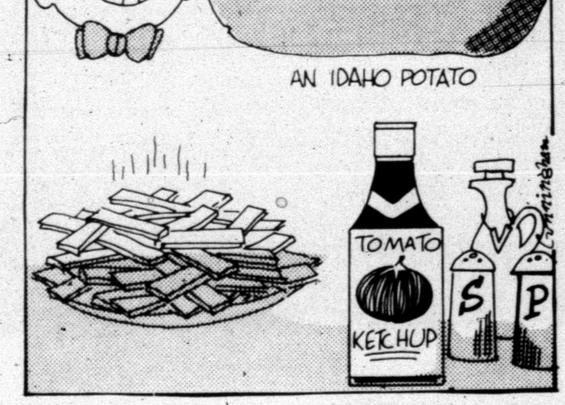

San Jose, for instance, might like to talk up those low utility rates so as to enocurage new industry, but it might also be inclined to do so in order to distract from that 156.4 score in the cost of health care.

The chambers can find myriad uses for such statistics, but for the layman the important lesson is this:

When national averages are used they disquise some amazing contrasts. No place is average so stop looking for it.

In Rutland, Vt., the index of all items was 100.7, or less than a point above the national average. But whereas you could visit a doctor for just $4 a visit, lowest figure for the 140 cities your natural gas utility bill might have been $30 a month, one of the highest in the nation.

Junior Editors Quiz on FRENCH FRIES

QUESTION: Where did French fries get their name?

ANSWER: The French feature foods cooked in a deep bath of hot fat. Hence, the term French fried potatoes. The French use the same method for potato chips, fritters of all kinds and shapes and other delicacies. French fried potatoes have become very popular in the United States as an addition to breakfast, lunch and dinner and also a snack.

While the method of frying in deep fat is associated with the French, it really has been in constant use since the days of the Romans whose household records show that a large proportion of their foods were cooked in hot and generally deep oil. The Italians still prefer many foods cooked in hot olive oil. The Chinese emphasize the cooking of Oriental specialties in deep oil, usually peanut or sesame oil.

In preparing French fries, the potatoes are cut in thin wedges and chilled in ice water for about a half hour. Then they are drained and placed in a wire basket and submerged in oil heated to about 375 degrees Farenheit.

Sweden Has Two Traps

By ROLF ULVESTAM

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Sweden has two first-class tourist traps: the blondes and the smorgasbord. The girls may upset your heart and the smorgasbord your stomach.

If you have not grown up with raw herring, pickled pig's feet, smoked reindeer and highly potent praennvin perhaps you better leave smorgasbord out at least.

If you have a well-lined stomach and purse this is the best time of the year to have-a go at it. As the days grow darker and the cold bites his skin, the Swede tends to seek comfort at the smorgasbord. In restaurants and inns all over the country the Swedes are studying what comes to be known as the Christmas table.

Other countries have counterparts to the smorgasbord-Russia's "zakuski," France's "hors d'oeuvres varies," Denmark's "kolde bord"—but none of these can match the Swedish speciality.

The smorgasbord traces its origin to the aquavit buffet which was served in the 18th century as an introduction to a festive meal. It was set on a separate table and taken standing before the guests were seated for the meal proper. Today's genuine smorgasbord consists of an iced section, a cold section and a hot section.

You start off with the "iced realm" where the herring is sovereign.

Here you'll find raw herring, salt herring, Baltic herring, cured pickled herring, fillets with sour cream, etc.

Then you proceed to smoked or boiled salmon and eel, anchovies, sardines, shrimps and a few colorful egg dishes.

Next come meat dishes like boiled ham, liver paste, sliced beef, picked pig's feet, roasted spareribs.

Small warm dishes then loom on the horizon—meat balls. fried Vienna sausages, omelets.

If you still feel like it you may round off with a sweet or some fruit salad, cheese and coffee. The prevailing theory is to take aquavit with herring and boiled potatoes at the beginning of the meal. You drink it straight in a grand gulp after uttering the magic sword skaal—a toast to good health.

Swedes have a way of sorting out smorgasbord beginners from smorgasbord veterans. A trainee rushes to the table and happily overloads his plate. A veteran pays several visits and puts only a few carefully selected delicacies on his plate each time.

Critics campaigning for healthier eating habits contend that smorgasbord is a dying institution in the Swedish culinary world. Swedish travelers pick up new food habits. A growing number of immigrants bring their own cuisines.

Traditionalists respond that the smorgasbord is flourishing as ever. All restaurants and hotels worthy of their names serve smorgasbord every Sunday all year. And people flock around it as they have done for 200 years.

Prices vary, but you can get an average table for less than $4 at most places. Add to that the price of a couple of aquavits and some beer, and a taxi ride home, and you end up somewhere between $10 and $20.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

BY CRAWFORD C. MARTIN
Attorney General of Texas

Happy holidays can be marred y unscrupulous businessmen ho take advantage of conumer ignorance. My staff and I ake the following method to ring to your attention some hings of which you should be ware while you are Christmas hopping and also to extend our est wishes to you during the oliday season.

Manufacturer's prices printed on cartons, packages, or labels are often used on cheap items such as cuff links, imitation pearls, billfolds, Christmas cards and Christmas wrapping paper to give the illusion of bargains. Don't be fooled by misleading manufacturer's prices.

Expect that the popularly advertised toys will be featured as leaders at deep-cut prices almose everywhere. The so-called "list prices" will be totally meaningless as a basis for competitive pricing.

Remember to save your sales lips. Don't discard them until you are sure the product you purchased is satisfactory.

Refunds and exchanges are privileges granted by some firms. They are not a customer right. (Refunds and exchanges depend on store policy.) If you expect these privileges, have a definite agreement and a thorough understanding.

You should select your Christmas purchases carefully so that exchanges, adjustments, or returns won't be necessary.

Carefully read all papers you are asked to sign and keep copies of them.

High pressure sales tactics are used by unethical firms and individuals to sell inferior merchandise. Don't fall victim to high pressure salesmanship.

Read ads carefully. If they sound too good to be true, they probably are. Enticing ads may be designed to lure you into the store so you can be talked into a more expensive purchase. Learn to recognize illegal "bait and switch" methods.

If you pay an advance deposit on the lay-a-way plan or otherwise, be sure that you can go through with the deal. If you change your mind later on, or if you are unable to take the merchandise out as you have agreed, you may sacrifice your deposit.

Shop at reliable stores with established reputations. Seasonal stores and vendors won't be around after the holidays to service complaints.

Take your time - never buy in a hurry and regret it later.

Make sure you understand the terms of a guarantee and remember guarantees are as good, or as poor, as the company making them. Guarantees should always be in writing. Guarantees should tell by whom, for how long, what parts, and for whose lifetime.

All sales are final unless a definite agreement exists to the contrary. Some shoppers seem to think contracts are binding only on the "other fellow." Contracts are two-way streets, binding on both parties.

Send complaints about false or deceptive Christmas sales practices to the Consumer Protection Division, Office of the Attorney General, P.O. Box 12548, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

Nevada, Utah Due More Snow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow and cold weather remained over the western mountains today, bringing heavy snow warnings to northeastern Nevada and Northern Utah. Rain and thunderstorms dotted the Pacific Coast and light showers dampened parts of the lower Great Lakes and Atlantic Coast states.

Over most of the country, however, clear skies and warmer than usual temperatures were the rule. Unseasonably warm weather continued in the Southeast, with many localities reporting temperatures in the 60s and 70s early in the morning.

Four inches of additional snow fell on Austin, Nev., in a six-hour period, while one inch fell in the same period on Spokane, Wash., Pendleton, Ore., West Yellowstone, Mont., and Ely, Nev.

One thunderstorm deposited hail on Fort Bragg, Calif.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 75 at Homestead and Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to six degrees below zero at Alexandria and Hibbing, Minn.

The National Weather Service predicted occasional snow or snow flurries from the western mountains to the northern Great Plains, with snow flurries from the Graat Lakes to the ills of New England. Showers are expected in the southern Atlantic Coast states.

A $10 million 100-bed hospital be known as the Children's edical Center of New York ll be built at New Hyde Park Nassau County. Completion expected in 1975.

Demonstrators Greet Meir

NEW YORK (AP) — Premier Golda Meir was greeted by about 2,500 demonstrators during an appearance here to attend a dinner sponsored by the Israel Bond Organization.

The demonstrators, mostly Hasidic and Orthodox Jews, tried to engulf Mrs. Meir when she arrived for the dinner at a hotel Sunday night, but she was quickly taken inside.

The demonstrators were protesting an Israeli law to draft girls.

During the dinner the Israel Bond Organization announced that $204,639,000 in Israel bonds had been sold the first 11 months of this year.

Hippies' Ills Could Be Cured With Soap, Water

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Big belt buckles rubbing against the tummy can cause a nagging navel, say two researchers who have been studying assorted ills among hippies.

The researchers also say that preventive medicine—particularly a good dose of soap and water—is about the best solution for combatting such medical woes.

Dr. Joseph M. Wilentz, a Fort Lauderdale dermatologist, and Dr. Robert A. Berger of New York City, have published their findings on hippie malaise in a medical journal.

Medical problems which have been rather uncommon in the past 100 years are plauging many hippies, the doctors said. In particular, they cited itching scalps and skin rash.

Wilentz said some of the scalp trouble stems from a belief that if you don't wash your hair, you won't go bald.

"I heard this over and over when we'd go down to the communes," Wilentz said.

After a year or so without washing their hair many hippies complain about an itching head.

"It's not the dirt but the itch in that's causing the problem," Jilentz said. "So, he gets some treatment and takes a hot shower and the itching stops.

"And then he goes right back to the way he lived before. Six months later we'll see him again with the same problem."

Another complaint—mostly from women—is a fiercely itching rash affecting the belly button and stomach. Wilentz says the top of big belt buckles when worn with low slung pants rubs the midriff and results in a rash.

Wilentz said a condition called "vagabond skin," named for an affliction dubbed the hoboes, is making a comeback.

He and Berger dubbed the condition "hippie skin." They said the condition is marked by lice, bed bug bites, patches of missing skin and caked dirt on the body.

Hippie headbands also produce a rash which hasn't been seen since hats were common, Wilentz said.

He also discussed a more modern problem—hippies who are allergic to marijuana.

"They wind up with 'flannel mouth,' an extreme dryness which feels like they've just sucked a lemon," Wilentz said.

Other symptoms include bloodshot eyes, sinus trouble and even asthma.

Said one youth who had the malady: "I have been rejected by grass."

Nomination Of Girl To Annapolis Considered

By JANET STAIHAR
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Davy Jones' locker may get a new tenant next month: the men-only tradition at the U.S. Naval Academy.

New York Sen. Jacob K. Javits, who upset a Senate tradition earlier by nominating a girl page, concedes there may be a few old Navy hands flustered by the rustle of skirts on the Annapolis campus.

But he says antiwoman discrimination must go.

He is thinking of nominating a girl to Annapolis before the Jan. 31 deadline for academy selections.

If the Navy custom does sink, it may also sound taps for similar enrollment customs at other public military academies, including West Point and the Air Force Academy.

Javits, a World War II Army veteran, is conferring with Navy Secretary John H. Chafee about the school's admission standards and what changes would have to be made in curriculum and facilities to accommodate women. The Navy says it isn't sure whether there's any formal ban on girls. But all of the 4,200 students at Annapolis are men.

"We don't want to change the Navy," said Javit's administrative assistant, Frank Cummings, "but we do want to change the academy. If nominating a woman isn't to Navy's advantage, we won't do it."

Javits claims his drive is not aimed at putting a woman admiral in command of battleships.

Instead he feels that training at Annapolis would better equip women career officers for jobs they already are doing.

"You don't want to send midshipwomen on a summer cruise to train them to be combat officers," said Cummings, who is in charge of strategy to forge an Annapolis beachhead. "So obviously, there would have to be some curriculum substitutes."

He noted that Annapolis already offers such majors as pre-med and literature and offers all kinds of humanities subjects which don't have much to do with firing a six-inch gun."

Another issue under discussion with Chafee is the cost of redoing some facilities to suit women Middies.

"What it boils down to," said Cummings, "is a lady's locker room in the gym."

Javits first thought of challenging the academy when a girl constituent wrote him asking for a nomination for admission.

US Gains Trade Points

By WILLIAM HELTON
Associated Press Writer

HONOLULU (AP) — The United States gained major trade concessions from the Japanese in weekend talks here, but not so much as the Americans bargained for, Japanese spokesmen say.

The same spokesmen indicated that the American failure to win all its goals could dim prospects for agreement on international monetary realignment at the Group of Ten meetings in Washington Friday and Saturday. The Group of Ten consists of the 10 wealthiest non-Communist trading nations.

Japan will unilaterally reduce tariffs on 30 items, hopefully by April 1972, Japanese Customs Bureau Director Katsura Akahane announced Sunday at the close of the two-day session between high-ranking American and Japanese trade officers.

The Japanese also will eliminate import quotas on four items and offered to reduce Japanese auto import tariffs from 10 to 8 per cent if the United States would lift its 10 per cent import surcharge on Japanese goods.

Japanese tariffs will be reduced on items including cosmetics, electrical appliances, refrigerators, wristwatches, cameras and beef tallow. Import quotas will be ended on ham and sausage, refined sugar, tomato puree and cattle feed.

Economic Questions Answered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service released Sunday the following additional list of questions and answers in explanation of decisions and regulations by the Cost of Living Council, the Pay Board and the Price Commission:

Q: May a person who buys products for resale increase his price on such products if the costs of such products to him have increased because of the 10 per cent import surcharge?

A: Yes, such a person may increase his prices to offset the cost increases because of the 10 per cent import surcharge regardless of the effects of such an increase on his profit margin and without prenotifying or reporting such increases to the Price Commission.

Q: Did the Pay Board's delegation to the Construction Industry Stabilization Committee include the authority to grant approval on requests for wage and salary increases to employees in the building and construction industry not covered by collective bargaining agreements?

A: No.

Q: How can a corporation, individual proprietorship, or partnership obtain a ruling that a newly established or amended pension or profit-sharing plan does not exceed the 5.5 percent annual aggregate limitation?

A: IRS local service and compliance offices issue rulings of this type upon written request.

Q: Under Regulations 101.33 (b), it would appear that agricultural workers who earn less than $1.60 an hour are exempt from Phase 2 pay guidelines. Would a wage rise for such employees from $1.50 hr. to $2.00 hr. similarly be exempt under Phase 2 guidelines?

A: No. This initial wage increase would be exempt from the guidelines only up to $1.60 an hour. Once wages are increased to $1.60 per hour, further increases become subject to the guidelines.

Q: What is the base pay figure for any such further increase?

A: $1.60.

McDonald Founder Dies At 69

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Twenty-eight years ago Maurice J. McDonald got the idea of opening a quick-order hamburger stand where customers could buy burgers for 15 cents.

The stand, set up in San Bernardino, Calif., was an immediate hit and the McDonalds began expanding.

They added a architectural motif, giant golden arches, in 1948 when they began selling franchises—an innovation now widely copied.

McDonald and his brother, Richard, were credited with starting the boom in food take-out establishments. The brothers sold their chain for $2.7 million eight years ago. Today the McDonald Golden Arches chain has more than 1,500 outlets across the nation and claims to have sold eight billion burgers.

A family spokesman said Maurice, 69, died in his sleep Saturday night of heart failure at his Palm Springs home. Funeral services were scheduled for Tuesday.

McDonald, a native of Manchester, N.H., moved to Califor-

Crafts Bring In Extra Cash

Career Corner
by Joyce Lain Kennedy

what job would you like to see explored in this column?

Dear Joyce: Some more ideas please, for jobs or crafts housewives can do at home to help enlarge the family income. -- L.E., Riverside, Calif.

INFANT ITEMS. A letter from a Pittsburgh woman suggests: "I crochet beautiful afghans for babies in fine orlon yarn. They are made in panels and put together with a lacy chain stitch and can be machine washed and dried. They cost me about $4. each for materials, and adding something for my time, I sell them for $15. They could be sold commercially for $25 or more.

Since I work full time in my own business, I don't have much time to work on them but if someone could devote more time to it and could find a commercial outlet such as hospital and other gift shops, she could make a fair amount of money. One can be made in a day or so."

SOFT STUFF. An Iowa reader creates goofy oversize floor pillows, shaped like animals, musical instruments, food products and other whacky shapes. Pillows, which kids and teens use for tv watching, record listening or whatever, may have catch-lines. Examples: On a insect-shaped cushion -- "luv bug"; on a banjo design "easy pickings"; a realistic copy of a giant chocolate bar said -- "half nuts"; and on a football -- "Let's have some kicks." Pillow coverings are zippered, washable and stuffed with plastic foam.

GIVE TO GET. A California candlemaker writes: 'I recently had a booth at a ham radio operator club's social event (could be any kind of organization) where I displayed a lot of my candles as well as made some there. Donate candles (or other hand-crafted products) for prizes every so often to different groups. This is a good way to let people see what you can do and promote your sales."

RINGA-DINGY'S. A Cleveland woman writes that she hasn't been able to land any market research telephone work. A friend suggested she send inexpensive flyers to neighborhood businesses stating her availability for telephone contact assignments -- prospecting for new customers, promoting store special events and sales, calling inactive accounts. She hasn't tried it yet and wonders if it's worthwhile. I don't know. Have any readers had luck with this idea? Also, next year's elections may offer phone work for campaigns shy of volunteers.

DAY CARE. Readers in practically all states have suggested children's day nurseries (day-care centers, nursery schools, play schools). Some nurseries are independent businesses, others are franchise operations. (There are also many nonprofit nurseries operated by civic organizations, church groups, industry, etc.) Private business fees usually range from $10-50/week, but cost may not indicate the quality of care.

In general, you should first make a careful study of the demand in your locality to determine the need, determine the licensing requirements and what other regulations, zoning ordinances and educational requirements would have to be met. A number of 2-year colleges offer programs to become a child-care assistant. And in a few cities, federal funds are available to train child-care-worker aides in a 16-week program; jobless persons who wish to inquire about this training should contact their public employment service office. For more information . . .

RESOURCE SHEET. Readers who would like a free resource sheet of publications appropriate to advising prospective operators of day nurseries should send their request to Joyce Lain Kennedy at this newspaper. You must enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Ask for "Day Care."

Investment Fund Is Released

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., (AP) — More than $200,000 representing the first distribution of money under a 500-year investment fund started in 1921 will be released Wednesday to an Indianapolis alcoholic treatment hospital.

The fund was established by a resolution of the Indiana General Assembly from the estate of Charles W. Fairbanks, a former vice president of the United States, in memory of his wife, Cornelia Cole Fairbanks.

Under terms of the resolution, $50,000 was invested for a period of 500 years, with interest or income from the investment to be distributed every 50 years to a worthwhile civic purpose in Indianapolis.

The first distribution of $207,000 will be made in ceremonies Wednesday to the new Cornelia Cole Fairbanks Memorial Hospital. The money was earmarked for the hospital two years ago by the board of trustees which administers the fund.

The hospital opened last May.

Expands Land

TORONTO (AP) — The Ontario government has announced a three-year expansion program for eastern Ontario winter deer-grazing lands. To establish the ranges, crews of local men will be hired to cut nonmarketable hardwoods and remove shade-producing trees to stimulate regeneration of hardwoods and growth for deer grazing.

IDEAL GIFTS—Allen Sewing Machine Center, 2415 College Avenue, has a wide variety of sewing machines and vacuum cleaners that would make ideal gifts for Christmas. The Center also has many other fine gift items, including blenders, electric knives, electric can openers, adding machines and typewriters. Here, Jacqueline Sanders and C.C. Allen, owner and operator of the firm, display some of the quality machines that are available at reasonable prices.

Pact May Hurt US Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department said today U.S. tobacco farmers could be in for serious export troubles if Britain resumes full relations with Rhodesia, a major producer of flue-cured tobacco.

Rhodesia has been under stiff trade sanctions since the African nation unilaterally declared its independence from Britain in 1965. As a result of the embargo, Rhodesian tobacco has been piling up while U. S. leaf found new or enlarged markets.

Before the "unilateral declaration of independence," in 1965, the Foreign Agricultural Service said in a report, Rhodesia exported more than 200 million pounds of tobacco a year.

"Although no official data are available," the FAS said, "it is likely that Rhodesian annual exports since UDI have been only about one-third."

Officials estimate Rhodesia has about 300 million pounds of flue-cured tobacco stockpiled and ready for export when and if Britain resumes ties. Producers there also seem to be increasing production.

Britain and Rhodesia recently made an initial agreement for Rhodesia's reentry in the common Commonwealth.

Flue-cured tobacco is grown in the southeastern United States and is the leading type for cigarette making and for export, accounting for two-thirds of U.S. tobacco production and 83 per cent of the exports.

U.S. tobacco exports have thrived in recent years, partly because of the markets lost by Rhodesia.

"Resumption of normal tobacco trade by Rhodesia would have a dramatic effect upon world tobacco trade and especially upon recent patterns in flue-cured trade," the report said.

The University of Northern Colorado has a 13-story high rise dormitory in operation.

Allen Sewing Machine Center Expands Stock

Allen Sewing Machine Center, operated by C. C. Allen and Jacqueline Sanders, has expanded its inventory to provide one of the largest selections of sewing machines and vacuum cleaners you will find in any town or city the size of Snyder or much larger. It is located at 2415 College Avenue.

You will find at Allen's Sewing Machine Center four of the most popular and leading brands of sewing machines, such as Singer, Elna, Nelco and Brother. They have at all times as many as 35 sewing machines on the floor to select from at prices that range from $49.95 and up.

C. C. Allen services what he sells and gives free personal instructions on how to master any machine you may purchase. He believes there is no product better than the service you receive with it. Anyone who has a sewing machine problem is encouraged to call and Allen will offer you any free information to help you with your sewing problems.

"We want every woman who sews to make Allen's Sewing Machine Center her sewing headquarters," he said.

You will find the widest selection of vacuum cleaners both in the canister and upright models, both Singer and Hoover priced as low as $39.95 and up. Allen has the largest selection of vacuum cleaner parts and supplies that you will find in a town the size of Snyder.

For Christmas, Allen's has a large selection of useful gifts for the home and office—gifts that will last a lifetime—such as Hoover blenders, electric knives and electric can openers. For the office, Brother adding machines and Brother typewriters and many sewing aids for the woman who sews would make ideal gifts.

If you haven't been to Allen's Sewing Machine Center lately you are invited to come in and browse around.

"I am sure you will find a Christmas gift for some member of your family," Allen said, adding, "You also will find for the young boys and girls Singer televisions and Singer portable stereos. We have the little touch and sew sewing machines for the little girls that make a real stitch.

"We have a credit plan designed to fit your budget."

Man Shot To Death In Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Dean Densman, 24, was shot to death Sunday night while walking from a restaurant with a young woman.

Witnesses told police they saw the killer's pistol and arm protrude from a nearby doorway just before the fatal shots were fired.

Police said the woman, about 21, fled.

A man was taken into custody.

Tunnel Blast Probe Continues

PORT HURON, Mich. (AP) — An explosion which ripped through a tunnel beneath Lake Huron has claimed the lives of at least 22 construction workers.

"We think we have all of them out," said Gerald Remus, a project official. "But if you saw that tangled-up mess of debris, you'd understand how somebody could still be down there."

Investigators still were uncertain today what caused Saturday's blast, which rumbled through the six-mile-long tunnel some 230 feet below the lake surface. Eight workers also were injured.

The tunnel, about six weeks from completion, is being built to carry the lake's water to Detroit and customers of the city's metropolitan water system.

The workers were finishing laying cement in the 16-foot-diameter tunnel, which leads out under the lake to an intake shaft extending upward to within 50 feet of the lake surface.

Remus, manager of Detroit Metropolitan Water Services, described as conjucture reports Sunday that the explosion was touched off by natural gas.

"We want to get the experts in there and see what might have happened," Remus said.

The evacuation of bodies and search for survivors was interrupted Saturday night and early Sunday morning by a build-up of methane gas in the tunnel.

Robert Bower, a geologist who examined the construction site a year ago, said gas build-ups occasionally had been detected.

Bower said shale through which the tunnel was cut contained isolated pockets of natural gas.

"They would hit little fissures that would have gas in them and they might blow out for maybe 10 minutes or half an hour, so they would shut down this machinery, so there would not be any fire," Bower said.

He said the amount of gas inside the fissures was small.

Remus said the tunnel had been equipped with sensory devices and would have sounded an alarm in the event of a gas buildup or water seepage.

"It was black down there," said Gary Baranowski of Port Huron, one of the first rescuers to enter the tunnel. "All the lights were out and in the light from my lantern I could see bodies all twisted and bleeding."

Investigators from four federal and state agencies began a probe Sunday.

Sawmill To Sell Smoke

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — A sawmill owner told a county air pollution control agency Thursday he will not only be able to comply with its directive to get rid of his smoke, but will make a profit doing it.

Robert B. McClure of the McClure Timber Co. already has eliminated half his burning operations. He has found a manufacturer who is using as raw material the sawdust McClure formerly burned.

This left the problem of what to do with the bark, which McClure has been burning. He told the pollution agency he will buy a hammer mill to grind it and will sell it as a soil builder.

Edgar C. Jones, chairman of the agency, the Mecklenburg County Air Pollution Control Advisory Committee, commented, "He's going to sell his smoke."
