4 People Die In Shooting At Courthouse

GROESBECK (AP)—Four persons died on the courthouse square in this little Central Texas town today as a man charged with wife beating leveled a shotgun on his mate and a group of her kinsmen. Sheriff Jack Boswell said Guy Andrews Jr., fatally shot Mrs. Audrey Andrews, about 35; her father, Bernard Bryant, about 63, and her uncle, William Bryant, then put the shotgun barrel in his mouth and pulled the trigger.

The woman and her relatives, along with her mother, were walking out of the Limestone County courthouse after appearing before the grand jury.

Andrews, 35, an unemployed truck driver, was waiting at the foot of the steps. He had been called to appear before the grand jury also.

Officers said Mrs. Andrews was shot in the side and the two men with her apparently were shot in the back.

Mrs. Bryant, her mother, escaped uninjured.

Andrews was free under $5,000 bond on a charge of beating his wife about two weeks ago. The sheriff said he took a shotgun away from Andrews at that time and gave it to Andrews' mother for safe keeping. Boswell said he believed it was the same gun used today.

Deputy Sheriff Conner Spivey said the Andrews and Bryants lived

Scientist Predicts Manned Satellite 'Not Too Far Off'

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A scientist said today the time when a space satellite with humans will circle the earth is not too far off.

Dr. Hubertus Strughold of the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph AFB spoke to a group of medical educators. While interplanetary space flight may still be far in the future, rocket power aircraft already has penetrated into the pseudo-atmosphere which extends from 200 to 600 miles above the earth's surface, Strughold said.

An unmanned space satellite which, the White House says, will be sent aloft in 1957 or 1958, probably will circle the earth about 120 to 300 miles high.

The crew carrying satellite, Strughold predicted, will follow.

Supreme Court Delays Ruling On Inter-Marriage

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today called for more information before passing on a Virginia law that bans interracial marriage.

The court was asked to review and overturn a Virginia Supreme Court decision upholding the Virginia law.

However, the U.S. Supreme Court said the present record is inadequate and sent the case back to the Circuit Court of Portsmouth, Va., with instructions to get a better record of the facts.

Pending that step, the highest tribunal vacated the decision of the Virginia Supreme Court but without expressing any opinion on validity of the Virginia law.

The appeal was filed by Ham Say Naim, a Chinese seaman, who said 28 states impose racial limitations upon the right to marry. He contended such restrictions violate the equal protection and due process of law clauses of the Constitution's 14th Amendment.

Rejecting his arguments, the Virginia court said it was unable to find in the Constitution "any words or any intent which prohibit the state from enacting legislation to preserve the racial integrity of its citizens, or which denies the power of the state to regulate the marriage relation so that it will not have a mongrel breed of citizens."

Naim had asked the Virginia Supreme Court to overturn the Portsmouth Court's annulment of his marriage in 1952 to a Portsmouth white woman, Ruby Elaine Naim. They were married at Elizabeth City, N.C., but returned immediately to live in Norfolk, Va. Mrs. Naim asked annulment of the marriage 15 months later, on the ground it was "void in law."

In other actions today, the Supreme Court:

1. Agreed to rule whether local taxes may be levied on military housing built and operated by private firms on government land. There are 159 such projects with $3,389 dwelling units in various states.

The case before the court specifically affect the right of Sapp County, Neb., to impose a property tax on military housing at the Offutt Air Force Base near Omaha.

2. Agreed to rule on the income tax liability of an employee who is allowed to buy stock in his employer corporation at a reduced price. The ruling was asked by the Justice Department in an appeal from a decision by the U.S. Circuit Court in Philadelphia holding that the gain realized by the employee from the cut price purchase was not taxable income, because the employer wished the worker to acquire a proprietary interest in the business.

3. Refused to review a decision striking down Oklahoma's requirement that Negro candidates for public office must be identified as members of that race on election ballots. The decision by the U.S. Circuit Court in Denver was appealed by Mac Q. Williamson, Oklahoma attorney general.

4. Denied Detroit an immediate hearing in a case in which the city sought to impose personal property taxes on airplane parts being manufactured by the Murray Corp. of America for the U.S. Air Force. The case involves a decision by the U.S. District Court in Detroit denying the right to levy such taxes on government property. An appeal is still pending before the U.S. Circuit Court.

5. Refused for the second time to hear an appeal by Arthur H. Samish, California liquor lobbyist who was sentenced to prison for federal income tax evasion.

MRS. CLARK'S TRIAL

Plea To Quash Indictment Denied

FORT WORTH (AP)—Judge Willis McGregor denied today a defense motion to quash the indictment as Mrs. Mary Clark went on trial on charges she hired three gunmen to kill her wealthy husband in 1953.

The judge took under advisement a defense motion for continuance based on the absence of a witness, Willie Wilson Jr., a Negro who was working with his father as a yardman at the Clark home the day of the slaying.

One contention was that the connection of Mrs. Clark with the slaying was "vague, indefinite and confusing."

The defense planned to ask for a continuance if the motion to quash was denied.

William Clark, oil and real estate man, was found shot to death May 22, 1953, in their 23-room home here. A rifle was on a chair 10 feet from the body. The first inquest verdict was suicide, but after a bullet was found in the floor weeks later, the verdict was changed to murder.

Mrs. Clark, Tincy Eggleston, Cecil Green and Harry Huggins were charged in Clark's death. The indictment accused Mrs. Clark of hiring the three men to kill her husband.

Green and Eggleston have died since in unsolved gangland slayings. Huggins, a former convict whom officers said told them of the slaying plot, also was called to trial today.

McGowan Murder Trial Transferred

WACO (AP)—The murder trial of Raymond McGowan of Dallas was transferred today to Hamilton.

He was to have gone on trial on a charge of killing Bobby Darby, Darby and McGowan's pretty, estranged wife were killed at a Waco motel.

McGowan was convicted in the death of Mrs. McGowan and given five years.

The state requested that the second trial be transferred, saying he could not get a speedy and fair trial in Waco.

Knife, Bullet Wounds Put 4 In Hospitals

Four persons received knife and bullet wounds in three disturbances in Big Spring and southeast of Coahoma during the weekend. None was in critical condition today, however.

Raul Gonzales, Big Spring, received a .22 calibre bullet wound in his hip during an argument with his brother-in-law, Vidal Garza, on the Ralph White farm southeast of Coahoma, authorities said. Gonzales is in Big Spring Hospital.

Rufus Davidson, sheriff's deputy, and Garza said the shooting occurred after the two men had argued about a tractor. Garza, who works on the White farm, said the tractor was driven Saturday night while he and his family were in Big Spring. No charges had been filed this morning.

Assault to murder charges were filed against two men and a woman in Justice Court this morning. Two men were in the Veterans Administration Hospital in connection with the charges.

William R. Bobbitt and Jack Tucker were admitted to the hospital Sunday afternoon following a fight at the Miller Courts, 803 W. 4th. Both men were receiving treatment for knife wounds.

The charges were filed against William H. Thomas, Bessie Lee Thomas, and Jack Tucker. They are charged with assault to murder Bobbitt.

Tucker told officers that Bobbitt and his wife had taken all his belongings from his home at Odessa. Capt. C. L. Rogers signed the complaint against the trio.

Police also were holding a man on a charge of aggravated assault this morning as a result of a knife at Sam's Place, on the North Side. Richie Mae Wadley received a bad cut on her left arm at the cafe Saturday night, officers said. The records show she was taken to Big Spring Hospital, but attendance report she was not admitted.

Doomed Man To See Father

PARIS, Tex. (AP)—Officials completed arrangements today for Hurlie Farris Sr. to visit his son in death row at the McAlester, Okla., state prison.

Hurlie Jr., 21, is to die at 12:01 a.m. Thursday for killing an Oklahoma City detective in 1953.

The father took the news calmly and had nothing to say.

Sheriff Dan Bills talked with the warden at McAlester and made arrangements for the father and son to meet. The son will not be taken from his death cell for the visit.

Bills said he agreed to try to get permission because he was convinced Farris was sincere in wanting a chance to talk to his son. He described the father as a "model" prisoner.

Bills and deputy Sheriff Lloyd Matthews will leave with Farris at about 8 a.m. tomorrow for the three-hour drive to McAlester. They will return right after the visit.

The father is held here for trial on burglary charges. He has been up twice before, for forgery and burglary.

The mother, Mrs. Margie Zeglen, a sister of the notorious Southwestern desperado Raymond Hamilton, is in the Goree Prison Farm near Huntsville. She is serving a five-year sentence for killing her third husband.

A brother, Bethel Farris, is serving a 10-year sentence for burglary. The father's only brother is serving a life sentence in Texas for robbery.

Hurlie Sr. went to see his son last March.

Mother's Insurance Figures In Case

DENVER (AP)—A young Denver man was arrested and accused by the FBI today of sabotaging a United Air Lines plane in which his mother was one of 44 persons perishing in a flaming crash.

The FBI announced he is John Gilbert Graham, 23, married and the father of two small children. Agents said Graham took out an air flight insurance policy for $37,500 on his mother, Mrs. Daisy King, at the Denver airport shortly before she boarded the plane on her way to Alaska.

The plane crashed in a sugar beet field 32 miles north of Denver the night of Nov. 1, killing all 44 aboard. Witnesses said the plane exploded.

Graham's arraignment before a U.S. commissioner was ordered. The FBI said a $100,000 bond would be recommended.

Graham's most recent job was helping his mother operate a drive-in restaurant in Denver.

Webb W. Burke, FBI special agent-in-charge here, and other agents declined to comment beyond the official statement of Graham's arrest.

No details were available immediately as to what caused the DC-6B plane to disintegrate at about an 11,000-foot altitude east of Longmont, Colo.

However, it was learned that Graham has been a construction worker and became familiar with handling dynamite. It also was reported authoritatively that he would be in line for a one-fourth share of his mother's estate, valued at an estimated $150,000, in the event of her death.

At Washington, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said Graham would be charged with violation of a section of the federal code which makes it a crime to sabotage a national defense facility or materials. The code defines commercial airliners as among such facilities.

The maximum penalty for conviction on this charge is 10 years' imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

It was expected that a state murder charge would be filed against Graham in Weld County, where the crash occurred.

Graham is dark-haired, nearly 6 feet tall and weighs 185 to 190 pounds. He and his wife and two children lived in a West Denver dwelling with his mother.

The mother had made the down payment on the house and Graham was making the monthly payments.

Two rewards totaling $28,000 had been offered for information leading to the conviction of the person responsible for causing the plane to crash.

One for $25,000 was offered by W. A. Patterson, president of United. The other for $3,000 was announced by the Flight Engineers

International Assn. (AFL), which has been on strike against UAL since Oct. 23.

Patterson in a statement praised the FBI for "such a remarkable job in solving this great tragedy."

Graham had been working at the restaurant with his mother to help pay off $4,000 in bogus checks he had forged against a Denver firm. He was convicted of forgery in 1951 and given a 5-year suspended sentence.

Graham, a Denver University student, had told reporters the night of the crash that he saw his mother aboard the airliner for a long delayed trip to visit her daughter, Mrs. Helen Hablitzel, in Anchorage, Alaska.

Graham told newsmen he returned home and was notified a few minutes later the plane had crashed, killing all aboard.

Witnesses reported the airliner appeared to explode, and official investigators subsequently confirmed that something "foreign" aboard the ship was responsible for a "bomb-like" blast.

The FBI said U.S. Atty. Donald Kelley of Denver had authorized the filing of a complaint against Graham.

Graham had been working with his mother in a drive-in restaurant in Denver, helping to pay off the balance on $4,000 in checks the youth had forged against a Denver concern. Mrs. King had paid $2,500 of the loss at the time young Graham received a five-year suspended sentence on conviction of the forgery in 1951.

In September 1951 Graham was arrested in Lubbock, Texas, on an illicit liquor charge, and received a 60-day jail sentence.

In November 1951 Graham was convicted on forgery charges in Denver, growing out of the forgery of 42 checks for $100 each drawn on a Denver concern. He received a five-year suspended sentence in a state court in Denver and was placed on probation. His mother made restitution of $2,500 and Graham has been making monthly payments on the unpaid balance which has now been reduced to $105.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said in Washington the formal charge in the case is violating a section of the federal code which makes it a crime to sabotage a national defense facility or materials. The code lists commercial airliners among such facilities.

In his first announcement Hoover gave no details of the alleged sabotage.

Investigators, however, have reported that a cargo compartment of the crashed plane showed evidence of an explosion which they said came from something foreign to the plane itself. Luggage was carried in the compartment.

ALL 'MINOR'

County's Audit Shows Shortages

The audit of 1954 records for Howard County disclosed minor discrepancies in several departments, but all have been cleared up.

Shortages uncovered in four departments totaled $182.55. An overpayment of $1,111.01 also was discovered on tax department records.

Otherwise, said Lee Sanders, accountant for the firm of Jones, Freese, Hay and Company of San Antonio, county records were in good order at the end of 1954. Lee Porter, Howard County auditor, said the last of the discrepancies was erased this morning.

Small sums were found to be due the county at the end of 1954 from the departments of County Clerk Pauline Petty, District Clerk George Choate, Justice of the Peace A. M. Sullivan, and Sheriff Jess Slaughter.

Slaughter this morning paid in $73.55 which records showed his department to be owing. Earlier payments included $72.50 from the county clerk, $20.70 from the district clerk, $15.50 from the justice of the peace.

Porter said that Viola Robinson county tax assessor-collector, has been credited with the $1,111.01 which records showed she had overpaid on Dec. 31, 1954.

Sanders said all of the errors were of a mechanical nature which any bookkeeper might make. Otherwise, he said, the county records were found to be in good order.

The auditors suggested a change in the handling of county funds. It was recommended that the interest and sinking fund be deposited in a separate account, to avoid any confusion with other funds.

It also was recommended that bond of the tax assessor be increased from $50,000 to 10 per cent of the current tax roll. Commissioners said both recommendations will be adopted.

Ike Begins 6-Week Stay At Gettysburg

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower left Washington today for a six weeks stay at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

It is to be a period of recuperation that may well determine his plans as to whether he will seek another term.

Accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower, who was celebrating her 59th birthday, the President left by automobile on the 30-mile trip.

Eisenhower looked so fit and relaxed that if reporters had not known about his heart attack, they never would have guessed he was taking it easy.

Mrs. Eisenhower was wearing a blue princess coat with matching blue shoes and a matching hat trimmed in rose. She had a fur piece around her neck.

The President was in a brown suit. Since the day was warm, he did not wear a top coat.

When someone yelled, "Happy birthday," the President took off his hat and grinned at his wife.

"Look at each other, please," a photographer said. Mrs. Eisenhower looked almost girlish as she smiled at her husband.

For the first time since he was stricken with his heart attack on Sept. 24, Eisenhower went to work this morning. He arrived at his office just before 8:30 a.m. and saw his presidential assistant Sherman Adams and Herbert Hoover Jr., undersecretary of state.

During the morning business session it was decided to send the presidential plane to Geneva to pick up Secretary of State Dulles.

Eisenhower expects to get in some office routine at Gettysburg. An office has been set up for him in the post office there.

As his limousine pulled away from the White House, Eisenhower waved galli to reporters, photographers and White House help who came down to see him off.

Tonight at the farm there will be a family party for Mrs. Eisenhower.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower rode together in the back seat of the automobile with a Secret Service man and the chauffeur up front.

'Bombing' Leaves Hole In The Roof

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Police tried today to solve an aerial "bombing" in which four 10-pound highway flare pots fell in two San Antonio areas Sunday. One struck within 30 feet of a house occupied by six persons and another crashing through the roof of an empty house.

Two other pots plunged into the earth in lawns near homes. No one was injured.

Police said the pots may have been dropped as a "prank" from a light plane.

New Solution Sought For Saar Controversy

BONN, Germany (AP)—France and West Germany have agreed to seek a new solution for the Saar problem.

French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer announced in a joint communique yesterday they would tackle the problem in cooperation with the new Saar government to be elected Dec. 18.

They said the solution would be sought in the light of the referendum of Oct. 23 in which Saarlanders voted two to one against "Europeanization" of their rich borderland.

This anti-Europeanization vote is now accepted by the French as showing clearly that the Saarlanders want eventually to return to their German fatherland.

The French and German governments, in seeking a new solution, hope to eliminate the coal and steel basin as a cause of friction in their goal toward European unity.

Pinay had a three-hour talk with the 79-year-old Adenauer. It was the first major conference for the chancellor since he became ill on Oct. 7.

No hint of the probable nature of the new solution was given.

In the negotiations which led to the rearmament of West Germany in alliance with NATO, France and Germany agreed to "Europeanization" of the Saar. A commissioner appointed by seven West European allies was to be placed over the Saar which would have its own internal government. France would retain its economic hegemony over the area in lieu of World War II reparations, and to balance her coal and steel production against Germany's in the European coal and steel pool.

Pro-German parties defeated the Europeanization project, however, and the pro-French premier of the Saar, Johannes Hoffmann resigned.

The announcement that the new government to be elected next month would be consulted in seeking a new solution meant the Saarlanders would have a say for the first time in deciding their status.

The joint communique said both the French and German governments will "continue their endeavors for a united Europe that is well-balanced and has as its foundation close cooperation between France and West Germany."

Adenauer said the discussion "was not only fruitful but it took place in an extraordinarily friendly atmosphere."

WINDY

'Gee, Real Kids'

Desire To Improve Radio Put 'Sparkie' On The Air

By DON HENRY

If it hadn't been for a six-year-old daughter who was tired of the run-of-the-mill children's radio programs, chances are that Sparkie would still be in the Land of Make Believe. And the chances would be even greater that he would never become a "real boy."

And if the Big Jon and Sparkie program hadn't had its start, some 1.5 million children — and adults — would not have had the privilege of seeing a "real elf."

Jon Arthur related the story this morning of how the program got its start and how Sparkie came to live with Arthur and his four children. Sparkie is with Big Jon in Big Spring today, and they will make two appearances at the City Auditorium Tuesday for the benefit of the Washington Place P.T.A.

The performances are to be held at 4 and 7:30 p.m. But back to the beginning. Some eight years ago, an announcer and father, Jon Arthur, wanted to do something about the type of programs being sent out to youngsters. He felt the programs his 6-year-old was hearing daily were slightly too tough and too filled with gun-smoke.

The result was the Saturday program, "No School Today." But he needed a helper.

So Sparkie got his chance to dwell on Earth and start his attempts to become a real boy. Sparkie came from the land of make-believe and even now has to go back occasionally when he is bad. But the majority of the time, he lives with Big Jon in Stamford, Conn., and they appear every Saturday on the "No School Today" show. The program began as a local show in 1948 on WSAI in Cincinnati where Jon was an announcer and handled small children's programs.

In February of 1950, the program was picked up nationally by ABC and has been a Saturday feature on the network — and KBST locally — since.

About four years ago, Big Jon and Sparkie began going to see the kids. Up until that time, no one had seen Sparkie — only listened to him over the air waves. Sparkie made a big hit with the youngsters, also the adults, and the public appearances have been a part of the schedule since that time.

So that Sparkie won't get tired of traveling so much, Big Jon takes him back to Connecticut about every three weeks. There they make their weekly radio shows for the period of time they plan to be away from home. They stay at home about a month between road trips.

"We would have too much trouble making the 'No School Today' programs while traveling," Sparkie said, "and besides we like to mention local incidents in our program, such as the rains and floods at home."

"Big Jon says we don't have to carry as much equipment around with us either if we tape it before going on the trips," added the little elf who wants to be a real boy. "I've already seen and talked to over one and a half million boys and girls and their parents. Jon says that about 20 per cent and sometimes up to half of the audience is mothers and daddies."

"And I like Texas, too. Me and Big Jon — I'm sorry — Big Jon and I — usually come to Texas about two times every year. But that New Mexico isn't quite so good. While we were in Hobbs last week, I got a broken nose, but Big Jon's helper, Bill Mahoney, fixed it up for me. In fact, I've got it out of the cast already."

"I'm looking forward to seeing plenty of Big Spring kids Tuesday. I'm sorry I made the mistake of saying we would be here Wednesday from the broadcast from El Paso last Saturday. But everybody here knows when it is, and I'll be there to have a long talk with Big Jon two times Tuesday."

Charges Filed In Westex Burglary

Burglary charges were filed today against Donald E. Fortier, a Webb AFB airman.

He is charged with breaking into the Westex-Wrecking Company building, 1606 E. 3rd, Friday night. Deputy Sheriff Tommy Cole said he arrested Fortier after checking a license number he saw in the vicinity of the wrecking yard.

A quantity of money, some cigarettes, wrenches and an automatic transmission were taken from the building, Cole said.

Ackerly Fire Held To Barn

ACKERLY (SC) — Fire of undetermined origin destroyed an out-building in the rear of the Ackerly Drug Sunday night.

The blaze was discovered by Jesse Perez who reported the small barn ablaze about 9 p.m. Within a matter of minutes some two hundred residents of the community were fighting to confine the blaze to the small building. Lack of equipment and water hampered the efforts.

Arrival of the Big Spring-Howard County Fire Unit eliminated the possibility of the blaze expanding to the nearby business district.

Store owner H. J. Morrison reported the loss as small, being used fixtures and unneeded equipment for the store.

The prompt arrival of the Big Spring-Howard County Fire Unit though was credited with eliminating the possibility of a major conflagration spreading throughout the business district. Ackerly is an unincorporated town and has no fire fighting equipment. A major fire some 20 years ago destroyed half the business section. Response of the citizens in fighting the fire held it under control until the arrival of the Big Spring Unit, Morrison said.

Total damage was estimated by Morrison to be less than $1,000. The property is owned by Leon White.

Civil War Vet Is 113 Today

FRANKLIN, Tex. (U) — The oldest of the four surviving Civil War veterans, Walter W. Williams, quietly marked his 113th birthday today.

He had his celebration yesterday.

The former forage master of Hood's Texas Brigade joined with approximately 75 members of his family in singing "happy birthday" to himself at the family farm home 15 miles southeast of here. A family dinner was the highlight of the day.

It may be the last big celebration for Williams. Members of the family said the festivities were becoming too much of a strain on Williams and his 84-year-old wife, Ella Mae.

Williams said he has not changed his formula offered a year ago for a long life.

"Lead a clean, moral life. Get up for breakfast, stay around for dinner, and go to bed with supper," he repeated.

Toward the sole survivor of the Union Army, Alfred Woolson, 109, Duluth, Minn., Williams said he feels "no different." The other two living veterans, both Confederates, are William A. Lundy, 108, Laurel Hill, Fla., and John Salling, 108, Slant, Va.

Russ Newsman Tells Of Tour

LONDON (U) — Moscow radio today broadcast a report of a Russian newspaperman's experiences in the United States — ranging from insults in Cleveland and Los Angeles to an especially friendly reception in Hollywood.

"Our delegation," Boris Polevoy cabled Moscow, "has traveled many thousands of miles in the U.S.A., has visited towns big and small and talked to hundreds of Americans from every walk of life."

But he puts it in his rap: "In the City of Cleveland the delegation was blockaded in its hotel by a crowd of drunken hooligans it began while a whole column of automobiles driving into the square in front of the hotel."

"Their autos carried placards insulting the delegates and our country and openly calling for war with the Soviet Union."

He said the visiting Soviets refused to visit Chicago because the State Department said it could not guarantee their security.

"The disgusting spectacle of Cleveland," he said, "was repeated in Los Angeles where we were delayed for nearly an hour and were late for our press conference."

But in Hollywood things were better. Polevoy said Grace Kelly told him:

"I should very much like to visit your country and the remarkable theaters of which I have heard so much good."

Accidents Kill 21 Soldiers

FORT POLK, La. (U) — Some 21 soldiers have been killed in accidents on and off the post since Exercise Sagebrush began in Western Louisiana.

The mass Army-Air Force war games move into the mock shooting phase today. So far, all activities have been confined to transporting more than 150,000 troops into the area and deploying them.

Army officials said an unusual number of casualties resulted from auto accidents off the post. Casualties include:

Pfc Rex Williams, (Ft. Hauchuca Route 2) Denton, Tex., killed Aug. 22 in a traffic accident in a private vehicle.

Last Rites Held For Area Humble Chief

Several Thefts Are Reported

Police investigated several thefts over the weekend.

A man was arrested at McCroby's Department Store Saturday afternoon and charged with theft under $50. Police said the man had taken a lady's coat valued at about nine dollars, three shirts and a package of razor blades.

John Quin, 1300 Donley, told police that he had bought a stolen tire from a man, only to have the tire stolen back from him by the seller Saturday night.

C. J. Gammon, Lamesa, reported that his car radio was taken from his car while it was parked at the Tip Top Drive-in. The incident occurred Friday night, Gammon said.

Andy Tucker told police that his son's jacket was taken from his car while parked at the North Side Baptist Church. Mrs. Coy Nalley lost her purse at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday evening. The purse contained about $10 and some change, she said. A description of the suspected thief was given to police.

The Standard Sales Company, 106 Lancaster, reported about seven cases of beer were taken from the warehouse Sunday night. The burglars entered through a hole in the wall. A similar burglary of the business occurred Friday night. Although the yeggs entered through the same hole, they got 10 cases of beer Friday.

G. E. Sledge, 1610 Cardinal, said four hubcaps were taken from his car at the Club Cafe Saturday night.

Experts Probe 'Ghost' Launch

SYDNEY, Australia (U) — Naval experts boarded the ghost launch Joyita today but reported no trace of the 25 persons who sailed aboard the 70-ton vessel.

The Joyita, a luxury yacht converted to an island trading steamer, disappeared 39 days ago on a two-day trip from Apia, Samoa, to the Tokelau Islands.

She was found last Thursday 90 miles north of the Fiji Islands partly flooded and drifting with a list.

There were no bodies aboard and no indication of the fate of the 25 passengers and crew members. The hull was intact, though there was some exterior damage.

An air search of islands in the area was accelerated.

Durkin, Ex-Labor Aide To Ike, Dies

WASHINGTON (U) — Martin P. Durkin, the Democrat who was President Eisenhower's first Secretary of Labor, died yesterday after a long illness.

Durkin resigned from the Eisenhower Cabinet Sept. 10, 1953 after serving seven months. He contended Eisenhower had violated a pledge to seek Taft-Hartley law changes which Durkin had recommended. The President replied that he never had broken a promise to anyone.

The late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, an author of the labor law, had described Eisenhower's appointment of the lifelong Democrat as "incredible." The Senate, however, had confirmed his nomination by unanimous vote.

Sun Devils Near BC Grid Crown

PHOENIX (U) — If anyone has an old immovable object floating around, Border Conference football coaches would like to borrow it.

They'd like to try it out against what is taking on the appearance of an irresistible force—the multiple offense of Arizona State College at Tempe.

The Sun Devils, using a dazzling formation and plays, have piled up 272 points and lead the conference with 3 straight victories. The latest was a 20-13 triumph over Texas Western.

New Mexico A&M meets the Devils at Tempe this week.

The El Paso contest was the only conference game last week. In non-conference games, Border teams made a clean sweep. Texas Tech beat Tulsa 34-7. Hardin-Simmons swamped Cincinnati 53-20. Arizona shut out Montana 29-0. A&M downed San Diego State 26-6. West Texas was idle.

West Texas visits Texas Western at El Paso this week. In non-conference games, Hardin-Simmons visits Trinity. Tech plays at College of the Pacific and Arizona entertains New Mexico.

Youth Convicted On AF Officer Impersonation

MOBILE (U) — A youthful Texan who "took the Air Force for a ride"—and vice versa—was convicted by a federal jury today of impersonating a lieutenant colonel, and obtaining a flight to Bermuda.

Federal Judge Daniel Thomas said he would sentence Jack Brown, 26, later today.

Brown, of El Dorado, is charged with impersonating an Air Force officer and obtaining a trip to Bermuda on false "top secret" orders.

He also was indicted for cashing four checks totaling $149 at Brookley AFB here July 12-13. Four other counts of the indictment charged him with interstate transportation of fraudulent checks.

Brown was impersonating an Air Force colonel and undergoing flight training in jet aircraft when last arrested Aug. 11, 1954, at Phoenix, and sentenced to five years in that case.

The FBI said Brown explained his long record of officer impersonations by saying he had always had a burning ambition to be an officer but never made the grade.

The FBI said he admitted more than 100 impersonations since 1950.

Woodward Custody Battle Looms Over Slain Man's Sons

GARDEN CITY, N. Y. (U) — Newsday, in a copyrighted story, said today it has learned there may be a custody battle between the family of the slain millionaire William Woodward Jr., and his widow, Ann, over custody of the couple's two sons.

The newspaper said a friend of the slain man informed it the socially prominent Woodward family is determined to keep supervision of the Woodward boys, William Woodward III, 11, and James Woodward, 7.

The friend said the family would shy away from an open court battle, but hopes to get the children "or at least establish some setup where the children would come under family control and influence."

The story did not name the members of the Woodward family.

Woodward, 35, was killed by a shotgun blast in his Oyster Bay, home early Sunday morning, Oct. 30. Mrs. Ann Woodward, 39, said she heard a noise and, fearing a prowler, fired the blast into the darkened hallway between her bedroom and that of her husband.

Mrs. Woodward has been in Doctors Hospital, New York City, since the shooting, under treatment for shock and hysteria.

Pilot First To Survive Bailout At Super Mach

LOS ANGELES (U)—That day 8½ months ago started ordinarily enough for George Smith. Before it was over he became—painfully—the first pilot to bail out of a plane traveling supersonically and live. The whites of his eyes were left bloodshot solid red. He bled in all parts of his body as his parachute snapped open. It is estimated he was subjected to a decelerative force of 40 times the pull of gravity. The 40 G's increased Smith's weight from 215 pounds to the equivalent force of 8,000.

If he had bailed out just two seconds later—at the estimated 6,500 feet altitude—his parachute wouldn't have had time to open. His injuries and subsequent illness cut his weight to 175.

After months of treatment his right knee is a little stiff. Damage to his liver means he never can touch anything alcoholic. "I shut off the engine, opened the speed brake, pulled my visor down over my eyes and yanked up the arm rest of the seat to automatically eject myself."

"The last thing I remember was the meter in front of my face reading faster than sound. The next thing was waking up in the hospital five days later. Smith was picked up by fishermen aboard a nearby cruiser. His shoes, socks, helmet and mask were gone. His clothes were in ribbons. His arms had flailed so violently that his wrist watch, tightfitting gloves and a ring on his finger had shaken off. He was blind several days. Surgery was required on his intestine.

A more recent case of bailing out at supersonic speed was reported Saturday by the British war ministry in London. Flying Officer Henry Holland, 22, an RAF pilot, said his jet fighter went into a dive at 40,000 feet over the North Sea and with his speed at 700 miles per hour he was unable to pull out. He said he parachuted at 10,000 feet and landed at sea four miles off the coast.

A target-towing tug rescued him. Attendants at Ipswich Hospital said he suffered fractures of the arm and pelvis and two black eyes.

FARM PROBLEM Lower Prices Main Beef For Farmers

(Editor's Note: Ovid A. Martin, Associated Press Farm Reporter, has just returned from a 4,500-mile cross-country swing in sound-out grain roads sentiment on the politically potent farm issue. Here, in the first of five articles, Martin writes of problems confronting farmers in addition to falling prices.)

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Reporter
WASHINGTON (U)—The pinch lower prices is putting on farmers' pocketbooks is the major—but not the sole—factor back of current rural unrest.

The bulk of the testimony farmer-witnesses gave before a series of farm-belt hearings held by the Senate Agriculture Committee in the last three weeks emphasized reductions in farm incomes. But sprinkled throughout were complaints about other things.

Sample criticism of the farm income drop was that of an Iowa corn-hog farmer. He said it now takes 137 hogs to buy a tractor that he was losing his two sons from the farm because they were making not quite $2 a day from their share of the farm's operations.

As for other types of complaints, some farmers found fault with the way crop control measures work. Some disliked tariff and import policies, especially with regard to farm products.

Others criticized milk control programs. Many demanded a halt to reclamation of new farm land. Some voiced concern that farmers in other areas were trying to take over their markets.

A standstill complaint was that advanced by wheat growers in North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana, who grow top quality milling wheat greatly in demand by millers.

Growers told the committee that despite the present record high strip of wheat there is an actual shortage of this good quality grain. Mills are paying premium prices to get it. Yet, because the crop control law does not take quality needs into account, growers who produce the high quality wheat must reduce their acreage just as much as do farmers who produce poorer qualities.

The Dakota and Montana farmers want the law changed to allow them larger planting allotments and to reduce still further allotments of producers of other grades. In the Pacific Northwest, farmers complain that both the government's price support and crop control laws are shutting them out from a big market they once had—that of providing wheat for livestock and poultry feed on the Pacific Coast. Little corn, the major

Executive Kills Family, Himself
SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (U)—Police said today a business executive killed his wife and two young sons and then took his own life because of concern over admitted embezzlements and loss of his job.

Authorities said they have established that Allison R. Sanger, 47, shot his wife of 21 years, Winifred, and stabbed to death their two sons, Allison Jr., 14, and Russell, 9, before he shot himself to death.

Medical Examiner William A.R. Chapin said the deaths in the Sanger residence occurred between 9 p.m. and midnight Saturday night.

A newsboy who wondered why nobody answered his ring, peered into a window and discovered the tragedy yesterday.

Sanger was vice president and general manager of the Brooks Co. Inc., a printing concern. He had been employed by the company for more than 25 years. His salary was listed as between $25,000 and $30,000 a year.

Brooks said an "honest error" came up in the company's bookkeeping system and Sanger was questioned about it. "Obviously," Brooks said, "that led Sanger to embezzlements."

The admission led to his discharge.

Probers Report Hints At Farm Surplus Scandal

WASHINGTON (U)—Congressional investigators have turned over to the General Accounting Office reports of some commodity credit corp. practices which they said "may have serious and possibly scandalous proportions."

The statement is contained in a 300-page report made by the staff of the House Appropriations Committee on major activities of the Agriculture Department.

The report, dated Dec. 29, 1954 and still locked up in committee files, hinted at what it called "favoritism" in awarding contracts and "culpable negligence" in purchasing supplies. It said there is sometimes an attitude in handling stored crop surpluses that since "only government-owned commodities and taxpayers' dollars are involved—why worry?"

The report was prepared primarily for the committee's information, and became available indirectly.

Its major criticism was directed at the Commodity Credit Corp. The department's major agency to handle surplus crops, and the CCC's operating agency, the Commodity Stabilization Service.

The report dealt generally with activities in which it said "deficiencies warranting the attention of the committee" were found and cited what it called "numerous instances and examples of such deficiencies." It emphasized that the objectionable conditions do not exist in all activities of the department and praised the "great majority" of department employees as "loyal, conscientious and generally competent."

'56 Frigidaire Appliances Due

The 1956 line of Frigidaire appliances, featuring refrigerators with a unique ice service and ranges with smokeless, flame-free ovens, will go on display Wednesday at Cook Appliance Company, 212 E. 3rd.

There are 11 new refrigerators, 11 free-standing electric ranges, three automatic washers, three dryers and two upright food freezers in the 1956 offering. The refrigerators, ranges and freezers feature removable "decorator panels," and five exterior colors.

The new ice service freezes three pounds of ice cubes at a time in "ice ejector" trays, dropping the cubes into a serving bin where up to five pounds of ice can be stored. A "miracle filter" on the ranges, does away with smoke and fumes from the ovens while baking is in progress. It operates automatically when the oven is turned on.

Other features include oven shelves that roll out on ball bearings, dial controls which permit the washers to wash, rinse and dry small loads of clothes in a third less time, and temperature controls which adapt dryers to all types of fabric. One dryer requires no expensive outside plumbing or venting.

Tongay, Serving 10 Years In Daughter's Death, Escapes

NEW ORLEANS (U)—Police today hunted for Russell Tongay, the former swimming instructor who escaped from a Florida officer here last night while serving a 10-year manslaughter sentence in the death of his Aquatut daughter.

Tongay was brought from the Florida State Prison at Raiford, Fla., by transfer agent Jimmie Simmons, to undergo treatment for a lung ailment at the Marine Hospital.

After checking in at the hospital, the agent and his prisoner were en route to the Parish (county) jail when they were involved in a minor automobile accident.

Tongay was taken to Charity Hospital for examination. Doctors said he apparently was uninjured. En route back to the jail Simmons and Tongay stopped at a downtown restaurant for supper.

As the agent was paying the check, police said, Tongay fled out the door. Simmons said he pursued him to a parking lot but lost him in the dark.

A statewide alarm was broadcast for Tongay, who made headlines in January 1954 when a Miami jury found him guilty of manslaughter in the death of his five-year-old daughter, Kathy, two years earlier.

Kathy died in a 33-foot dive into a Miami Beach hotel swimming pool. She and her brother, Bubba, 9, billed as "The Aquatuts," received wide publicity when their father announced they would swim the English Channel. French and British authorities refused to allow the channel crossing.

Simmons said he left the Florida prison Saturday with his prisoner and stayed overnight in Pensacola, where Tongay began "acting up" and was put in handcuffs and leg irons.

The prisoner quieted down as they approached New Orleans.

A Bible Thought For Today

But he knoweth the way that I take; when he hath tried me, I shall come forth as gold. (Job 23:10)

Editorial

Battling An Accomplished Fact

Representatives of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce have been pondering the question of filing an injunction against the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee's 1956 cotton acreage allotment proposal.

The WTCC said filing of an injunction was a matter for individuals, not an organization. West Texans, faced with the stark prospect of getting the hot end of the poker, got practically no satisfaction out of the state ASC committee when protesting formulae which will make this region bear a disproportionate share of acreage reduction. Not only would West Texas take its percentage of the regular cut, but when the distribution of the 10 per cent reserve (ostensibly for correcting inequities) is made, West Texas would end up furnishing acreage so that many Central and East Texas counties could have more allotments than they planted in uncontrolled years.

Object of the suit, would be to try and stop this inequity. However, it is highly doubtful that legal action is a practical or workable approach.

The unpleasant fact of the matter is that we have been had. The state ASC committee apparently has almost unlimited discretionary power in distribution of reserves, and getting the perpetrators of this sleight-of-hand to undo their mischief is highly improbable.

Our great difficulty is that in this battle we have been fighting an accomplished fact.

While we can admire the WTCC for leaving no stone unturned, we suggest that our remedy may be ultimate rather than immediate. One means would be for West Texas to turn its back on acreage controls, and perhaps our area (and our dryland farmers) would stand a better chance. Another would be to abolish the reserve. These are things we may think about in the months ahead.

Geneva Honeymoon Seems To Be Over

Molotov's blasting of the last hope of any negotiated settlement of German unification merely served to remind a lot of people of a fact all too apparent to those who had not been taken in by the Russians' expression of cordiality by means smiles, jolly good fellowship and talk of peaceful co-existence.

That is the fact that world tensions have increased in recent months, at the very time the Russians were acting polite. None of the major world tension-causing problems has been so much as scratched, much less removed. The only result of the Kremlin's new look was to fool a lot of careless people into believing, or hoping, that there was some daylight ahead.

To put it bluntly, there isn't. On the contrary.

You can do business with Communists in only one way: on the Communists' terms. Molotov's Geneva pronouncement drove home that lesson in words of one syllable.

There is ample evidence to show that with the Communists it isn't simply a matter of not giving any ground whatever on basic issues, but the constant pursuit of new coils of vantage the world around. They are not releasing and relaxing; they are reaching out for more and more all the time, day and night, wherever opportunity exists.

Their latest and most dangerous move has been in the Middle East, where Communist arms are flowing to Egypt and perhaps other Arab countries. Thus in one bound they overleap the NATO-related system of Western-oriented alliances, and left the Turco-Greek-Yugoslav non-aggression arrangement high and dry.

Today the Greeks and Turks are at loggerheads over the Cyprus issue, which regardless of its origin has become a powerful asset to Russia. French influence in North Africa is fading, and Egypt seems bent on destroying Israel.

President Eisenhower's statement that the U. S. does not intend to contribute to any arms competition in the Middle East, with the implication that we will help Israel if asked, might have come too late to do any good.

Russia has the initiative there, and her lead may be too long to be overcome at this late day.

M. Chevalier Has Same Problem-Age

It is serious business to be a comedian, to be 67 and still at the top of the heap, and no one knows this better than Maurice Chevalier. On stage, age cannot wither his jockey underlip, his com-hither walk, his cucky straw hat, his sexy vocal intonations nor his jaunty cane.

But off stage — "I have to realize my age, which is 67," the indestructible M. Chevalier said matter-of-factly the other day when I ran into him at the Waldorf-Astoria, where he is singing for his supper and funds, since the close of his successful one-man show on Broadway.

On stage, there is the old black magic of 20, 30 years ago from a performer who once seemed as endowed with eternal youth as Peter Pan. But off stage, there is a serious, elderly gentleman who can be a touch crotchety on occasion, and who would like to have his rest, if only he could get it.

True, his hair, while thin and charcoal gray, is still present and accounted for, and his eyes the bright, china-blue of yore. But time has not stood still. There are at least 20 more pounds of M. Chevalier today than in the past, his face is no longer smooth and good-looking has endowed him with a rare roast-beef complexion.

On stage, his prance has much of the old bounce. Off stage, M. Chevalier looks and moves like a successful and aging bank president in need of a holiday. Nor is it a coincidence that he resembles a financier, for there is a widespread belief on Broadway that M. Chevalier has the first time he ever earned and that, like Bing Crosby, he operates his own mint. "I let other people talk of money: I do not," he said primly, when asked to confirm or deny the above.

He remained mum about the amount of loot he is to receive for a four-week stint in Las Vegas, beginning Dec. 19. But it is taken for granted that M. Chevalier did not sell himself for less than his English confrere, Noel Coward.

And if the gambling overlords of Vegas believe they will get back the Chevalier salary at dice and cards, they don't know M. Chevalier.

"I do not gamble," the singer said with finality after giving incredulous attention to tales of American artists whose fat Vegas honorariums were left behind at roulette tables.

M. Chevalier has plenty of plans, but none to retire. A year from now, he expects to be completing a picture, "A New Kind of Love," in the Hollywood girl mines.

"But it won't be a boy-after-girl story, because I am no longer a boy," he said, with no trace of regret.

As I first discovered years ago, M. Chevalier is not a performer to waste bon mots on an audience of one. The nearest he came to a mot this time was in reference to his old friend, Marlene Dietrich, and her peek-a-boo gowns designed for Las Vegas engagements. M. Chevalier said he would wear a dinner jacket as usual.

"After all," he explained, "Marlene and I don't depend on the same kind of material."

Walter Lippmann

The Geneva Gamble

Mr. Dulles, and Mr. MacMillan and Mr. Pinay as well, went to Geneva knowing that there was no chance whatever that the Soviet Union would accept their terms for the reunification of Germany. There is no warrant, therefore, for pained surprise at the fact that Mr. Molotov has restated what was so obviously the Soviet position while the President was talking to Bulganin at Geneva last July.

Just to show how obvious it was even to one who was not in Geneva, I should like to quote from an article I wrote while the summit meeting was still in session: "The Soviet Union has rejected the Eden plan" and "The West is left with what is in fact a gigantic gamble: whether time is on the side of Adenauer or of the Opposition to Adenauer. The German Chancellor is playing for very high stakes — for a German settlement on his own terms, for a Germany reunited within frontiers that are better than those of Potsdam, reunited under his government in Bonn and under his party, rearmament within NATO and when rearmament, the leading European power within NATO."

What the Atlantic allies very much need is something that will reassure their interests in case Dr. Adenauer's gamble fails, and a successor enters into direct negotiation with Moscow.

For reasons which seemed compelling to them the Western Foreign Ministers chose to go to the Geneva conference with the old Adenauer terms, which they knew, when war experts knew, when every correspondent knew, were not negotiable. After a visit to Moscow in September, we may almost take it for granted that not even Dr. Adenauer himself can have failed to realize that reunification could not be had on his terms. So far as I have been able to find out, the reason why the Western Foreign Ministers remained inflexible on the negotiable terms was that they feared the effect on the German opposition to Dr. Adenauer of any concession from them.

There is a very strong German opposition, by no means limited to the Social Democrats, which has never believed that we could prevail upon the Soviet Union to accede to Dr. Adenauer's terms. It has maintained that Germany could not be unified as an armed state within the Western military alliance; that German membership in NATO must be treated as a negotiable asset in dealing with the Soviet Union.

Now it may well be that the Soviet Union would not agree to German unification even outside of NATO. My own belief is that the Soviet Union will not agree to that now — in view of the inner political weakness of the Western Powers.

The first question is whether the German people will think we are making proposals that are not only sincere but are rational and practicable terms for their own reunification. To make German membership in NATO negotiable would be to take a position that Moscow cannot reject without great loss of face in Germany.

Thanks Just The Same

'Geneva Spirit' Fading Fast

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republicans had two good sales talks on ice for the 1956 elections: President Eisenhower got a truce in Korea and helped create the "spirit of Geneva." One of them is melting fast.

The Republicans, unless fighting begins again, can still point to the truce. But the Geneva spirit may have disappeared into never-never land. It looks pretty dispirited after the Big Four foreign ministers meeting.

Eisenhower, at his July meeting with Soviet Premier Bulganin, said something of "great benefit" to mankind might come of it. And the Russians talked of the "spirit of mutual trust."

Mutual trust is what the foreign ministers showed the least of at their present meeting, which was supposed to be the first big test of the Geneva spirit.

And the "great benefit" to mankind hasn't appeared unless it is in men's ears which, since Geneva, got some relief from the strident criticism the United States and Russia had hurled at each other. Both sides toned it down.

Before they quit Wednesday the foreign ministers will probably issue a statement that tries to put a pleasant face on their dismal meeting and say they hope to meet again.

At this meeting — regardless of which was right or wrong — the West and Russia sounded like old phonograph records of themselves. They said only what they had said before no the basic problems separating them.

Neither side budged. Since the foreign ministers only stated positions, and didn't negotiate, they were rather propagandists than diplomats.

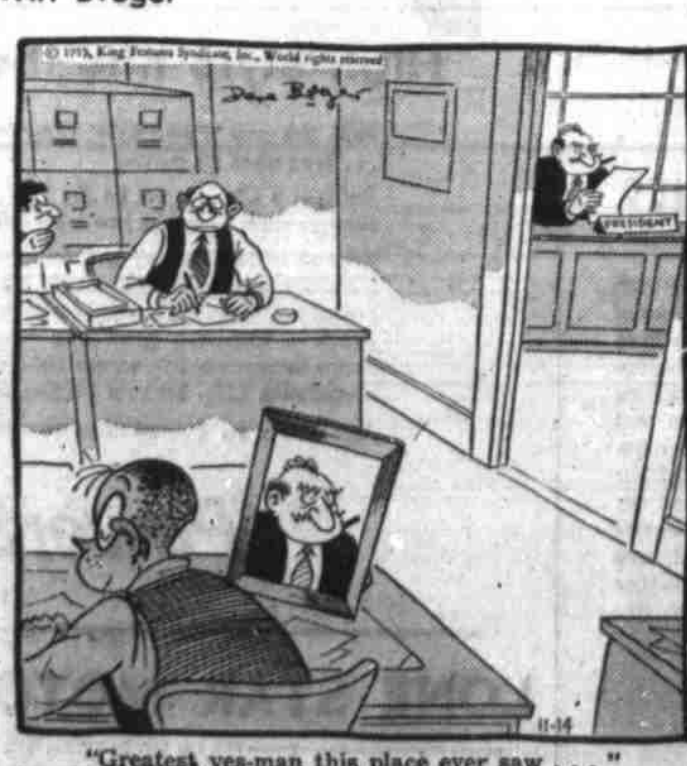

One example is enough to show how slim is the chance they can agree fully in the future: The West wants Germany united and in a Western military alliance; the Russians want just the opposite.

Chestnut Alcohol?

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — The Romanians think they have found an industrial use for the horse chestnut, now scattered along the streets of this capital.

The newspaper Steagul Rosu reports experiments to extract industrial alcohol from wild chestnuts, substituting for important quantities of corn and potatoes as raw materials.

Mr. Breger

Germany has become the prize of Europe.

Since the world, given a publicity buildup about the spirit of Geneva, had hoped for some progress at Geneva, the foreign ministers had to keep world opinion in mind at all times.

So they were very restrained in dealing with one another. Neither side could afford to appear like the killer of the spirit. Each had to appear both just and reasonable.

Secretary of State Dulles could hardly be unkindful of the practical political considerations at home for his doing what he could — even though the meeting failed to keep some part of the Geneva spirit alive.

If some progress toward world peace can be made before the 1956 elections, the Republicans ought to be able to get good mileage out of the Geneva spirit in the campaign. But it will take tangible progress.

Scouting Around The World

NEW YORK (AP) — Three years ago Countess Dagmar von Bernstorff decided to become the first woman in history to go around the world on a motor scooter.

The end is now in sight, said the pretty, blue-eyed, 26-year-old German aristocrat.

She and her first cousin, Diether Ebeler, who has acted as her bodyguard, escort and chauffeur, have scooted 83,000 miles — counting hitchhikes aboard ships — since they set out from Munich Sept. 22, 1952.

Their extraordinary journey had as its basic purpose the collection of folklore and folk music for educational and travel programs which the pair write and produce for a radio station in Baden-Baden.

In addition to a vast store of cultural material the countess and Herr Ebeler, who looks like a movie star, collected seven flat tires and one traffic ticket for scooting on the wrong street in Rome. The countess also collected eight marriage proposals.

"Most of them were in Pakistan," she said, smiling. Visiting blondes are always popular in Pakistan.

Their vehicle, a two-wheeled, 4½-horsepower Vespa scooter, pulls a single-wheeled trailer in which they keep their clothing and recording equipment.

The couple have had many exciting adventures during their trip which has carried them across 20 countries and 18 of the United States.

In southern Greece they were attacked by a pack of wild dogs. "Because we were not allowed to carry guns," recalled Ebeler,

"we had to ward off the dogs with a cake of soap wrapped in a stocking, which we swung like a black-jack."

In Turkey they were caught in an earthquake. In Iran they became lost in a snowstorm. In Indonesia they scooted straight through a camp of outlaws.

The couple started out with $700, have earned about $6,000 giving lectures or writing articles. They carried their passage across the Pacific on a Honduran freighter. The countess worked as a quarter-master, Ebeler as an able-bodied seaman.

The countess was particularly impressed with the versatility of American women.

"They do everything for themselves," she said, adding with a note of awe in her voice:

"They even wash their own hair. In Europe a woman wouldn't do such a thing."

Marriage Mart Closed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sam Kirby, director of the Arkansas Publicity and Parks Commission, received a letter a while ago from a girl who wanted to know about the husband situation in this state. He told newsmen about it and the story got around over the country.

Now he's being swamped with letters from far and near from women who want a place on the list of husband seekers — and a few from men who want the women's names.

A woman in Los Angeles wrote "I have one now but I really could use a new one... He's over 50 and I'm 25... I can't cook good, but I'm good in other things." A girl in Oklahoma City described herself as "pretty if not in a bright light."

Kirby is answering none because his job is to publicize the state's natural resources and "that doesn't include matrimony."

Protection Needed

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP) — When the frantic call came into police headquarters to "send the police right away," desk Patrolman George Katchur asked what was wrong.

"Somebody just took my modeling clay," came the reply in a high-pitched voice. The complainant's age was listed as 7.

Dog Sitter Provided

DETROIT (AP) — Because he can't keep his mouth shut when he's alone, Stubby is going to have a sitter — by court order. Stubby is a 10-year-old mongrel dog. Neighbors complained that for seven years Stubby had set up persistent barking whenever left alone by his owner, Miss Nellie J. Connor. One neighbor, Arnold Benes, suggested a dog sitter whenever Miss Connor left home. The judge agreed. So did Miss Connor.

Getting To Be More Pets All The Time

If you don't have some sort of pet around the house, you obviously are in the minority.

The fellows who go around making surveys have come up with the estimate that 114 million pets are kept by American people and the number is growing daily.

Cats and canines, in that order, lead the parade, which shouldn't be surprising. There are in the neighborhood of 28,000,000 cats leading the life of Reilly, and they can usually be found in the neighborhood, seeking adventure and being very vocal about it after you go to bed.

The tabbies outnumber the dog population by something like 19,000,000, although the mutts are constantly trying to do something about it through a policy of aggression.

Then there are 11,500,000 budgerigars bedded and boarded in American homes. If you are unfamiliar with the term, think how the creature feels. Budgerigar is another word for budgerigah, or parakeet.

Time was when the canary provided most of the bird music around the house but they play a lagging second fiddle to the parakeet these days, according to the survey. There are now 6,500,000 canaries, or fewer by 5,000,000 than the parakeets.

In addition, 11,000,000 rabbits are kept as pets, or were when the census was taken. No telling how many are hopping around the place now, for the survey was made several weeks back.

The tame squirrel population is currently working toward its second million. The aggregate, when everyone stopped to count noses, was a robust 1,400,000.

Pet skunks in this land of ours now number 21,000 — how many had been deodorized, the survey didn't say. Perhaps the census takers didn't take the trouble to find out.

Tame cavies or guinea pigs in the U.S. number 1,250,000, pet hamsters 2,500,000 and tropical fish 1,100,000.

Domesticated chinchillas now number 600,000 but who has a is a moot question. The pet snake population might surprise you — something like 60,000 are retained by the ever-loving public. Frankly, it'd take only one snake to surprise me.

All other pets kept by people in this country number upwards to 30,000,000. The survey didn't reveal how many dinosaurs were included.

Unions Show Strength In Local Elections

WASHINGTON — Republican professionals, like their Democratic brethren with experience in matters political, are privately talking about the lessons of last week's elections.

For the Republican party, the outstanding fact is that organization and unit were never demonstrated to be more necessary than today.

For the Democratic party the most conspicuous revelation is that the CIO is a more powerful influence in local politics and in local organization work than the leaders of the party have hitherto believed.

When the mayor of an Indiana city dared to call for the National Guard a few weeks ago to preserve law and order it created resentment among the labor bosses. They had their revenge at the polls.

Indiana, like Michigan, now is in the grip of the CIO political organization and, while this doesn't bode well for the Republicans, it may make a lot of Democrats wonder what's going to happen if the union labor organization takes over the party nationally.

The disclosure a few days ago that the labor union political organizations spent more than $2,000,000 in the 1954 congressional elections is startling. This is more than a major party itself used to spend and it means that if this sum was recorded on a national basis, as provided by federal law, there must have been even a larger sum expended when one adds up the contributions to the state committees by local unions.

How are the Republicans going to counteract this precinct-by-precinct activity by the political organizations of the national labor unions and, particularly, the large sums collected either from dues or so-called voluntary contributions of labor union members of both parties?

Indiana wasn't the only place where union activity was evident. It emerged in many other states where industrial workers had moved into smaller towns following a shift of plants to the country areas. This is bound to be a continuous movement because of the desire of industry to decentralize in order to meet the threat of atomic warfare against the big cities.

There are worries, on the other hand, in this week's elections for the Democrats, too. Thus, their leaders in Congress have been supporting a plan for more highway construction based on higher gasoline taxes. But in New York state the people voted down a $750,000,000 bond issue plan because of organized protests that the higher taxes wouldn't be spent only for highways. The Republican plan in Congress for financing new roads seems, therefore, to be preferred by voters.

Looking over the national scene, the professionals see a Polish ward in a big city going Republican for the first time and this tells the Democrats that the controversy over Yalta and the sell-out of Poland isn't an insignificant issue after all. The foreign-born vote in several big cities is at stake.

What the experienced politicians of both parties will note, moreover, is that organized minorities can swing elections, especially when the unorganized majorities don't go to the polls. Thus in Ohio a well organized drive beat the amendment that would have permitted state compensation laws to be changed to aid the CIO's guaranteed annual wage plan. Ohio, in other words, voted against the union side, just as Indiana, by a mobilization of the votes, especially in all the industrial cities, sided with the unions who were on the Democratic party side.

The tales of organization warfare in the Republican ranks are more numerous than among the Democrats. In Connecticut, Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey the scars of the last three years of battling between Republican factions were plainly visible in the results.

In Philadelphia, for example, the Republican nominee turned his back on his own organization. His indiscretion was condemned by a leading Republican newspaper. So in the end the Republican precinct workers didn't do the job that an organization is supposed to do. Victory without organization is difficult, especially in local elections.

No inference can be drawn that because Philadelphia went Democratic, Pennsylvania is in the bag for the Democrats. In 1952 the Democrats carried Philadelphia and Pittsburgh by big majorities — in fact, Adlai Stevenson carried the Quaker City by a bigger margin than the Democratic nominee for mayor did this year — but Eisenhower won the state's electoral vote.

Whatever appraisals are made, based on such comparisons, the effect of this week's elections will be to impress upon the Republican party nationally that it is up against some active organizations on the opposite side, especially the labor union bloc. It amounts almost to the same thing as if another major party had come into the arena. The elections contain a warning for the Republicans that 1956 is going to be a bitterly fought campaign.

Hollywood Review

By Gadfrey? No, By Godfrey

NEW YORK (AP) — Manhattan memos: One thing that's hard for a Hollywood reporter to get used to: the ethereal nature of some New York TV stars.

For instance, when this innocent asked about an interview with Arthur Godfrey, the shocked reply was: "Oh, he never talks to anyone."

Except maybe the unemployment office?

Marilyn Monroe, girl producer, may get into the TV field. She dropped the hint that her Marilyn Monroe Productions might dip into the TV market, though it's doubtful if she would be in the productions.

New York TV circles exhibit little concern about the move of many shows to California. Industry workers say the main reason for the westward trend is the lack of facilities here.

Show time: Best of the new plays is "Diary of Anne Frank." It's beautifully staged with humor and humanity and ornamented by a gem of a performance by Susan Strasberg... "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter" has a lot of good laughs, especially for Hollywood ears. Although brightened by Orson Bean and Jayne Mansfield, it's mighty slim stuff.

"Damn Yankees" and "Fanny" are the musicals, together with the long-running "Pajama Game." Gwen Verdon of "Yankees" is the sexiest dancer since Salome... Wonderment: Why a motionless musical like "Silk Stockings" has lasted a year and still draws standees.

Watchman Retires

outside the theater when a star like Errol Penza is out of a show. The announcement was merely made from the stage before "Fanny" began.

"No Time for Sergeants" is about as funny as a show ought to be. The latrine scene is the biggest laugh on the stage since Ensign Plover walked onstage in a billow of suds in "Mister Roberts."

Oddest sight a Clairmont boy; seeing something flaky in the air during a rainstorm. Too big for smog. It must have been snow.

She Keeps In Shape

Diet and exercise are combined to keep Celeste Holm in shape. You'll be seeing Celeste soon in MGM's "The Tender Trap."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Diet, Proper Exercise Gave Her Trim Figure

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — When Celeste Holm walked into the lunchroom at MGM where she was making "The Tender Trap," all eyes followed her trim figure down the aisle. She was wearing a beautifully cut wool dress with revealing lines and I thought I had never noticed before what a lovely figure she had.

When I mentioned it to her later she confessed that she'd lost 16 pounds.

"But you look so well," I exclaimed. "Often when women lose that much weight it robs them of their healthy glow."

"That's because they take off the weight too quickly," Celeste remarked. "My diet covered a six-week period. You can't reduce all most overnight and still keep your looks. Do you know that it takes a reduction of 4,000 calories to lose just one pound?"

I asked her what type of diet she had followed.

"This kind of diet allows you to eat all you wish and still lose weight. That's because it consists of plenty of meat, eggs and other things that stimulate the metabolic process. (This means the process by which the body must use considerable energy to convert the protein before it is used by the body.) I was never hungry the entire time I was dieting," Celeste explained.

"I didn't follow any planned menus. I just drew from a list of high protein foods. A typical breakfast consisted of two raw eggs, whipped in half a glass of orange juice or skim milk, black coffee and a half of grapefruit. Lunch was usually eggs, scrambled in skim milk with just enough butter to grease the pan, sliced tomatoes and coffee. Dinner was very substantial — all the steak or lamb chops I wanted, steamed spinach with dressing of lemon juice and garlic and low calorie fruit like berries, cantaloupe or grapefruit."

"Did you combine diet and exercise?" I asked.

"Yes," she told me. "I exercised every day. For my hips I rolled on the floor, about 30 times, with my body stretched out, then 30 times more with my knees drawn up to my chest. For my waistline I did a twisting exercise. I stood with my hands behind my head and twisted my body as far around as I could without moving my hips. This is even more effective when done sitting on the floor, Hindu fashion."

"Exercise is extremely important when you are dieting because you need to keep the body firm while the fat is being diminished," she finished.

The new lower priced model will still outlast the ordinary piano and will be a beautiful piece for years to come—and not just a year or two. These models will make wonderful Christmas gifts, and Adair is now taking orders for pianos to be delivered either Christmas eve or Christmas morning.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Bobbye Savage has done it again. The ex-Big Springer's East High School football team has won both the Des Moines City and the Big Six championship in Iowa.

East did it by knocking off North High of Des Moines last week, 61-13. Bob's team scored better than 60 points in each of three games this year, racking up 324 in eight games.

East High has now won the Des Moines City crown six times in seven years and the Big Six title four times in five tries.

The Big Six is composed of two Des Moines schools, along with two from Waterloo and one each from Mason City and Fort Dodge.

Bobbye was an all-around athlete in the local high school in the late '30's and early '40's. He perhaps was best in basketball and set a team scoring record that wasn't beaten until Bobbye Malone came along in the early '50's. Last year, Charles Clark bettered Malone's mark.

Snyder fans obviously think their football team is going "all the way" in the state football race this year but it's apparent they don't want observers from other areas using such terms in discussing their athletes.

John Conley and his cohorts have been as nervous as expectant fathers, when the possibility was mentioned by this writer and others in the area.

In addition, Conley's Boswell, Buck Francis of the Snyder Daily News, reacted like a wounded fawn when this window quoted Roy Baird of Big Spring as saying that Sweetwater might have beaten Snyder several weeks ago, had the Mustangs changed their defense in the second half.

A few days later, Francis again took issue with this department over my interpretation of the unfortunate incident which occurred at the end of a recent Junior High football game involving teams of Big Spring and Snyder.

Johnny Johnson, coach of the local team, was confronted with a charge by Conley that his team was not playing "clean football." That blunt accusation cut the amiable Johnson to the quick and anyone who knows him can understand why.

Francis maintained Big Spring players were "guilty of slugging" because "the infractions were flagrant and easily visible from the press box."

Francis' blanket charges can be dismissed as being highly prejudicial. His indictment of Johnson and his boys is an indictment of the whole system here and would have gone better unsaid.

Francis exposed the fact that the job of officiating ball games has been written into the contracts of the Snyder coaches for several years. If it is written in, it should be written out. It doesn't make for good relations.

During the week, Francis repeated a ridiculous story that Carl Coleman, the Big Spring head coach, had remarked that "Snyder might beat us but they won't be in any condition to play Levelland the following week," or words to that effect.

The remark was news to Coleman, who would have been out of character had he said it.

Climbing on Snyder's band wagon isn't as easy as I had anticipated. An outsider is about as welcome as a Stevenson man would be at a convention for Allan Shivers. Think what might have happened, though, had I expressed the belief that Snyder might not have the best AAA team in the state.

Midland's Bulldogs, who will compete in the same district with Big Spring next season, will play Baytown rather than Corpus Christi Miller in a warmup football game next year.

The Bulldogs will again open with Lamesa Sept. 14, then meet Arlington Heights (Fort Worth), Lubbock High, Baytown and Sweetwater, before plunging into conference play.

Coach Tugboat Jones is still seeking an opponent for Sept. 28 and would prefer a home game.

The Bulldogs, incidentally, have been averaging nearly 8,000 paying customers a game in their outings this fall. That includes home as well as road games.

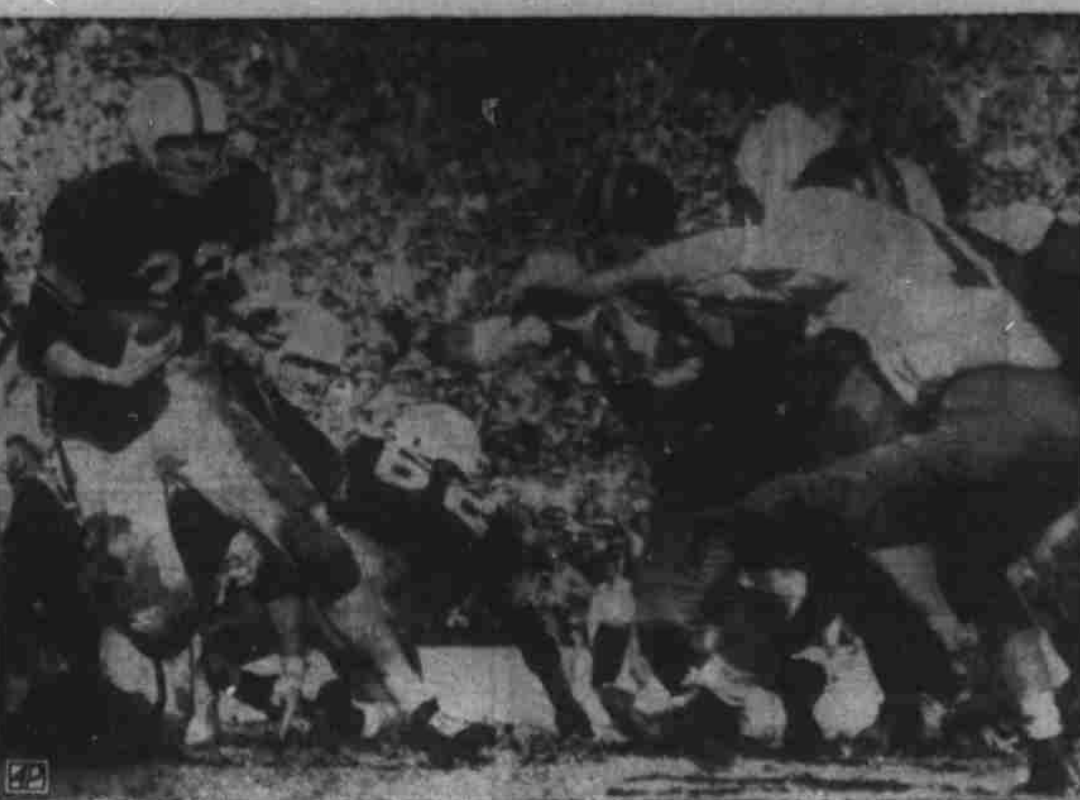

Plainview's Record Very Deceptive, Observers Say

What of Plainview, next football foe of the Big Spring Steers? The Bulldogs have lost seven of eight starts this season but observers who sat in on the Big Spring-Snyder contest in Snyder last weekend and who previously had watched Plainview meet the Bengals said Plainview played the conference leaders the better game.

"We were lucky to beat Plainview," was the consensus in Snyder.

Plainview has been "down" this season mainly because it hasn't been able to field its regular team since early in the campaign. With the possible exception of Lamesa, the Bulldogs have been harder hit by injuries than any other I-AAA outfit.

Plainview outplayed Vernon several weeks ago, yet lost a 19-13 verdict. Vernon coaches are still

Orange Bowl To Have Top Game On Jan. 2

By ED CORRIGAN

The Associated Press

Out of the welter of confusion that made up the college football picture today there emerged one solid fact—the Orange Bowl is going to present the four-star, gilded attraction on Jan. 2, Oklahoma vs. Maryland.

The picture still is clouded in the other three major bowls with perhaps a dozen assorted teams still in the running for berths.

Here's the picture in brief:

Rose — UCLA has the inside track, but Oregon State also has a chance as the Pacific Coast conference representative.

Michigan can get the Big 10 and if it defeats Ohio State Saturday, if Ohio State wins, then Michigan State will make the trip to Pasadena.

Sugar — All is confusion, following Pitt's 26-7 victory over a West Virginia team that had won 11 games in a row over a two-year span. The Southeastern Conference winner usually is the host team, but any of five schools still can take the league title.

Cotton — Texas Christian, which by the form chart, should wind up operations as runner-up to Texas A&M in the Southwest Conference, should be nominated host. Officials say Navy, Auburn, Georgia Tech and Mississippi all are in the running for the visiting bid.

If things work out as the Tournament of Roses officials hope, the Rose Bowl should put on a good attraction. UCLA must get past Southern California this week to clinch the Pacific Coast conference title, and do it without Ronnie Knox who suffered a broken leg in last Saturday's 19-17 squeaker over Washington.

If Southern Cal wins, however, and Oregon State, the surprise team in the league, beats Oregon there will be fireworks for sure. That would make a very Oregon State with a 6-1 record and UCLA with 5-1. State would have a talking point, although its 38-0 early season pasting at the hands of UCLA would count against it.

The Big 10 situation is quite definite. Michigan can buy its tickets to Pasadena if it gets past Ohio State. If Ohio State wins, Michigan State goes. An Ohio State victory would give the Buckeyes the conference championship, but they played in the Rose Bowl last New Year's and league rules prohibit a team from making the trip two years' running.

Michigan State already has completed its conference schedule and shows a 5-1 record. An Ohio State victory over Michigan would leave the Wolverines' at 5-2.

As for the Sugar Bowl, two teams from New Orleans were in the stands when Pitt clubbed the Mountaineers 26-7. They were all set to get out their pens and sign up Pappy Lewis and his team. Now, they say, they'll have to take a wait-and-see attitude. They spent quite a while in the Pitt dressing room after the game.

Actually, the fact that West Virginia was beaten does not eliminate it from consideration, and if it makes a good showing against trying to figure out how they won that one.

The Bulldogs will be in better shape physically for Big Spring than at any time since September.

Big Spring came out of the Snyder game in good physical shape and apparently will field their regular ball club against the Bulldogs. Coach Carl Coleman may make liberal use of the sophomores and juniors on the team, however, with an eye on next year.

Some of the B teamers may even be promoted, since the reserves have already finished their season.

The Steers need this game to insure themselves a 500 finish in conference play. They've won three and lost three within the league. They wind up against a double-teach Sweetwater outfit in Sweetwater Thanksgiving Day.

Syracuse Saturday. It will be right back in contention.

The Sugar Bowl folks still must look around for a host team. They usually take the Southeastern Conference winner and there still are five teams—Mississippi, Auburn, Georgia Tech, Tennessee and Vanderbilt—in the running.

Mississippi, currently the leader, has the best chance. If Ol' Miss can defeat Mississippi State Nov. 26, the race is over no matter what the others do. That wouldn't make the Sugar Bowl folks too happy, either, since Mississippi was all but disgraced by Navy last New Year's Day.

The Cotton Bowl is going to have to take the second-best in the Southwest Conference as its host team. Texas A&M, which is on probation, can lock up the title by burying floundering Texas Thanksgiving Day. The Aggies are prohibited from playing post-season games this year for violating recruiting practices.

Therefore, Texas Christian, if it gets by out-beaten Rice this week, will clinch second place and the bid.

The way thinking runs as of today—subject to sudden change—Auburn seems to have the best chance of heading for Dallas Jan. 2. The Plainsmen are bowl-minded, have had a good season, and should draw.

As for last Saturday's games, the only major upsets were Pitt's victory over West Virginia, the second year in a row the Panthers have dealt the Mountaineers their first defeat of the season, and Princeton's 13-0 Ivy League triumph over Yale. The result knocked Yale out of first place. Princeton can clinch the title by halting Dartmouth Saturday.

Oklahoma, No. 1 in The Associated Press poll, rolled to its 27th straight victory at the expense of Iowa State 52-0. Maryland took care of its last threat to the AAC title by whacking Clemson 25-12.

Michigan State trounced Minnesota 42-14; Michigan shut out Indiana 30-0; Ohio State swept past Iowa 20-10; Notre Dame topped North Carolina 27-7; Army shattered Penn 40-0, and Navy humbled Columbia 47-0 in other major games.

Aggies Were Year Late, Says Bear

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (U.P.)

The Texas Aggies, who were picked to finish last in the Southwest Conference football race, are expected to win the championship Thanksgiving Day. It's no surprise to Coach Paul Bryant, however.

"This stuff about A&M being a year ahead of time puzzles me," said the Aggie coach. "Why, we're a year late. I expected to win it last year."

Bryant came to A&M last season from Kentucky under a six-year contract charged with the responsibility of rebuilding Aggie football fortunes. A&M hasn't won a conference championship since 1941.

Last season the Aggies gave all of the conference teams trouble but wound up without a victory. But A&M virtually sewed up the title Saturday when it beat Rice 20-12, with one of the greatest come-from-behind surges in conference history.

A&M scored three touchdowns in the final three minutes. Twenty points in 129 seconds, is the way the Aggies put it. Lloyd Taylor, who made the first two touchdowns, got 14 points in 46 seconds. He kicked the extra points, too.

Everybody around here still was a little dazed today. They just never had seen anything like that before. "We were very lucky," said Bryant reverently. "I'm the luckiest guy in the world to have kids like this."

Dennis Goehring, stellar Aggie guard, said: "Coach sent in the first team and just told us, 'You guys can do it if you want to.'"

The next game—and the final—is with Texas here Thanksgiving Day. A&M hasn't beaten Texas since 1951 and that victory was the only one over the Aggies' deepest rivals in 16 years.

Victory over Texas always has been the most important aim of any year. Aggie coaches have saved their jobs with it.

A crowd of 41,611—a sellout—will be here for this one.

Ball Club Gets Week's Reprieve

Local friends of professional baseball have one week in which to do something about returning the game to Big Spring.

Longhorn League directors met in Midland Sunday and gave both Big Spring and Odessa a reprieve. Five other clubs posted $2,000 salary guarantees. Artesia was not represented but the word in Midland was that 'Artesia will go if it is encouraged.'

Pepper Martin, operator of the Big Spring club here the past two seasons, was present for the meeting in Midland but he said he would not operate in 1956.

He added he would turn over what players he has left to anyone who cares to take over the club.

Martin said the situation would improve here, once Big Spring got a new ball park, but he held out little hope for such a project. Odessa is faced with a similar problem.

Longhorn League operatives Saturday night, at which time a re-alignment with W-T-N-M League will be discussed. Errant clubs must post salary guarantees by that time or be counted out.

San Angelo, Midland, Hobbs, Roswell and Carlsbad were the teams which put up salary guarantees in Midland yesterday. All expressed a preference to go to Class B, if possible.

Martin revealed he had a feeler from another Longhorn League city in regards to serving as general manager but was uncertain about his plans. He may take a permanent job outside baseball.

Quinn To Take East Command

John Quinn, who had been listed by the U. S. Navy for advancement to rank of rear admiral, has drawn the Middle East command assignment.

He will be in charge of naval operations in the Persian Gulf and Indian Ocean areas. Mrs. Quinn and their son, Tommy, will accompany him around the first of the year to Bahrain Island, off the coast of Saudi Arabia, where his headquarters will be.

The Quinns already have plans to visit here around Dec. 2-3. Currently he is stationed in Washington.

'Wide Open' Demo Convention Meets Favor Of Sen. Morse

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Morse (D-Ore.) said today he favors a "wide open" Democratic convention next year and will stay clear of any presidential primary fight that may develop in Oregon.

There have been some reports that Morse might be advanced as a "favorite son" candidate to avoid a possible Democratic split in his state. But the Oregon senator said he would not go along in any such move.

"I am running for the Senate and nothing else," he said in an interview.

Oregon's May 18 primary may find both Democratic and Republican aspirants listed on the ballot, some of them against their wills.

A petition signed by 1,000 voters puts a candidate's name on the ballot, even without his consent. The candidate can't get his name off no matter how much he objects.

This might pose something of a problem for Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, who is to speak in Oregon Nov. 22 in behalf of Morse. Harriman expects to be New York's "favorite son" candidate but has said he will not enter any primaries.

There have been indications that Adlai E. Stevenson may elect to go into the primary. The name of Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee also is likely to be entered. Kefauver carried the state's 12 votes into the 1952 national convention, but lost the presidential nomination to Stevenson.

Stevenson apparently has strong organization support in Oregon this year. Howard Morgan, Democratic state chairman, is officially neutral, but has made no secret of his backing for Stevenson.

He has suggested that "Harriman and Tammany Hall money" might help finance Kefauver in primary fights with Stevenson while Harriman stands by to "sweep up" the pieces.

Kefauver told an ABC television audience yesterday he should know by mid-December whether he will seek the 1956 nomination, but said he was "not now a candidate at any rate."

Just after the network show, a panel member who asked Kefauver if he really intended to run reportedly was told "I think so." But the senator declined later to say whether he wants the nomination.

Stevenson is expected to announce for the nomination in Chicago Tuesday, two days before a meeting of the Democratic national committee. At that time, the committee will consider a proposed compromise for the "loyalty oath" by which some 1952 delegates wanted to bind all who participated to support the convention's nominee.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.), who was among those supporting the oath movement in 1952, said in an interview he regards the loyalty pledge as "dead."

Later, on a CBS television show, however, he said that if he were asked to judge the qualifications of Gov. Allen Shivers of Texas as a delegate, "I would say he could not qualify."

Shivers supported President Eisenhower against Stevenson in 1952 and has strongly indicated he would not support Stevenson in 1956.

Meantime Republicans arranged a meeting of their own national committee in Chicago Dec. 1. Business will include the official convention call, fixing the number of delegates for each state. Unofficial plans call for about 1,300 delegates, 84 more than in 1952.

Gov. Theodore McKeldin of Maryland, who nominated President Eisenhower at the 1952 convention, said he would like to do the same next year and expressed hope "he might be our candidate." McKeldin indicated he would be quite willing to run for vice president.

Sen. Alben (R-Vt.) said in a weekend interview that what he called the "failure of the Geneva conference" will greatly increase the pressure on Eisenhower to seek a second term. He conceded, however, "it's up to Ike to make that decision."

"He is the one man the world now looks to as able to solve our international problems by peace," Alben said.

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler accused the Eisenhower administration of having broken 40 pledges in the 1952 GOP platform since it took office.

Tech Applies For Educational TV

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech has applied to the Federal Communications Commission for permission to operate an educational television station on Channel 5, Lubbock, President E. N. Jones announced.

Jones said the station could be used for multiple class lectures, to provide student experience in television, and later for giving college credit courses via television. The latter possibility is far in the future, he emphasized.

Hunting Accident Kills Midlander

MIDLAND (AP)—Frankie Morris, 15, Midland High School student, was accidentally shot and killed while hunting rabbits near his home, 23 miles southeast of here yesterday.

Deputy Sheriff Ocie Renfrow said it has not been determined whether the fatal bullet came from the youth's gun or from one of his four hunting companions.

Officers said Morris and one other companion were trying to flush a rabbit from a hole and the other three boys were standing 50 yards away when the accident occurred.

Justice L. C. Stephenson ruled death by accidental gunshot wound.

Laborer Seriously Hurt In Stabbing

LAMESA — Albert Demerson, Negro laborer, remained in serious condition at the Lamesa General Hospital Monday morning after being stabbed at his home at 107 Canyon Sunday evening.

Sheriff Henry Mayfield said Demerson's wife, Willie B. Demerson, admitted the stabbing. He said a statement would be taken and charges filed as soon as the man's condition stabilizes. Neighbors took Demerson to the hospital. Physicians said the stabbing instrument barely missed his heart.
