Thursday update

Execution Stayed

DALLAS (AP)-Death Row inmate Anderson Hughes, who was scheduled to die Friday has been granted an indefinite stay of execution by U.S. District Judge Robert M. Hill.

Hughes' request to delay his death by injection was rejected Wednesday morning by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

The defendant was convicted of capital murder in the Sept. 23, 1974, shooting death of Mesquite policeman Travis E. Williams.

Farm Bill Clears

AUSTIN (AP)-A bill designed to make land purchases easier for young Texas farmers and ranchers cleared the Legislature on Wedneday.

Under the bill, the state would agree to guarantee up to 90 percent of the amount an approved applicant borrows to buy farm and ranch land.

The Senate accepted a conference committee report on the bill Wednesday. The House approved the same report Friday.

The bill now goes to the governor.

Caucus Votes Today

WASHINGTON (AP)-Texas opponents of a House Democratic Caucus resolution backing extended oil price controls held out little chance of swaying the outcome before a twice-postponed roll call vote was held today.

"There's no doubt about the fact that there's a sufficient number of votes to pass the resolution," said U.S. Rep. Phil Gramm of College Station.

SALUTORIAN AND VALEDICTORIAN—Zenda Ball England, left, was named salutatorian of Snyder High School, and Melinda Leigh Masters was named valedictorian. Less than a 10th of a point separated the two. The pair was honored at an awards ceremony held Wednesday afternoon at Snyder High School. (SDN STAFF PHOTO)

Legislators Haggle Over Spending Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—Legislators writing a spending bill for 1980-81 went around and around today over a ban on money for a presidential primary in 1980 but decided to let it stand, at least temporarily.

"We're still working on something," said Sen. Grant Jones, D-Abilene, head of the Senate members of the appropriations conference committee.

However, a few minutes earlier Jones announced "as far as we know we are adjourned" in compromise talks for the state spending bill covering the next two years.

The committee gave preliminary approval several days ago to a special provision saying that none of the $4.47 million set aside for financing of primary elections in 1980 could be used to select delegates to a national presidential convention of a political party or to express preferences on candidates for president.

"Gov. Bill Clements has made it clear he will veto the appropriations bill if this rider stays in," said Jones; "so I suggest we remove it."

"Our position is that we should not be paying out state funds for a private purpose. I'm not sure it is constitutionally sound" said Rep. Bill Presnal, D-Bryan, head of the House conferees. "There is a disagreement on interpretation of the law."

"We are trying to interpret the law in this rider," said Rep. Fred Agnich, Dallas, the only Republican on the committee. "I think it needs to be removed ... The Texas Republican Party has already ordered a presidential primary on its own at its primary election in May. We need to take this rider out or we will be interfering with party affairs."

"Clements says he will veto this bill if we leave the rider in. Let's get him to agree not to veto anything out of this bill if we leave the rider out. That's a square deal," said Rep. Bill Heatly, D-Paducah.

Heatly added, "We're not interfering with party affairs, we're just interfering with the state paying for it."

Jones suggested the rider might be amended to provide that the state would not pay for that "portion" of an election concerning a presidential primary.

"You're trying to amend that law by rider in the appropriation bill," protested Agnich, after talking with an aide from the governor's office. "If there is argument about what can and cannot be done under election law, then the law should be changed."

Top '78-'79 Students Named At Snyder High

Less than a 10th of a point separate Snyder High School's 1979 valedictorian and salutatorian, it was announced at a special awards ceremony held at the high school yesterday afternoon.

Valedictorian is Melinda Leigh Masters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Masters of Snyder. She has a 4.6338 grade point average on a five-point scale. Salutatorian is Zenda Ball England who has a 4.5588 average. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Ball of Fluvanna and the wife of Rudy England.

Honored at the ceremonies yesterday were the top 10 students in each class, and special awards were presented to students in individual fields.

Commencement ceremonies will be held at 8 p.m. June 1 at the Scurry County Coliseum.

Honoring the top 10 in each class was Mal Donelson, owner of Mal Donelson Chevrolet Co. and a Gold Coater representing Snyder Chamber of Commerce.

The top 10 in the senior class are: 1.) Melinda Leigh Masters, 4.6338. 2.) Zenda Ball England, 4.5588. 3.) Anne Elizabeth Beuerlein, 4.5089. 4.) Michael Ernest Wimmer, 4.5044. 5.) Michael Wayne Greenfield, 4.5030. 6.) Sherilyn Kay Campbell, 4.4892. 7.) Karen Jean Littlepage, 4.4600. 8.) Rita Lynn Black, 4.4276. 9.) Sarah Lynn Fagin, 4.4118. 10.) Cynthia Alice Koonsman, 4.3948.

From the junior class, the top 10 are: 1.) Suzanne Denise Fisher, 4.6312. 2.) Darrell Wayne Calvert, 4.6255. 3.) Belinda Jean Scott, 4.5632. 4.) Donna Gayle McGee, 4.4804. 5.) Bettsey Jane Patterson, 4.4553. 6.) Glenna Beth Dennis, 4.4340. 7.) John Mark Preston, 4.4312. 8.) Jamie Delaine Hataway, 4.4155. 9.) Scott Randall Marlar, 4.3833. 10.) Alice Marjann Morrow, 4.3702.

Top 10 in the sophomore class are: 1.) Mark Allen Robertson, 4.6677. 2.) Billy Kris Seale, 4.6166. 3.) Charlotte Renee Masters, 4.5137. 4.) Robert Earl Schooler Jr., 4.5064. 5.) Paul Archer Fagin, 4.4700. 6.) Diane Sentell, 4.4500. 7.) Dalinda Kay Roberts, 4.4448. 8.) May Elizabeth Bowen, 4.4437. 9.) Tracey Lyn Westmoreland, 4.4433. 10.) David Ornelas Martinez, 4.4166.

Top 10 in the freshman class are: 1.) Kelley Ann Scott, 4.6500. 2.) Rebecca Ann Musick, 4.5615. 3, 4, and 5, tied, Stephen Gregory Gressett, 4.5583; Tommy Allen Gressett, 4.5583; and Valeta Lynn Wheeler, 4.5583. 6.) Jacqueline Deeann Pylant, 4.5500. 7.) Stockton Edward Roberts, 4.5250. 8.) Beverly Ann Duff, 4.5166. 9.) Jennifer Lynne Cole, 4.4916. 10.) Bobbie Anita Brooks, 4.3916.

Special awards went to Glenn Jones, student, and Burnell Hargrove, teacher, for attending a nuclear symposium sponsored by Texas Electric. H. F.

Chiles To Speak At Chamber Banquet

Eddie Chiles, who heads an oil field service and offshore drilling firm but has gained more fame for his "angry" radio commericials, has accepted an invitation to be guest speaker at a Snyder Chamber of Commerce banquet Sept. 20.

Plans for the banquet were announced this morning by the local chamber. The chamber had hoped to have a banquet this spring, but conflicts ruled out suitable dates and efforts were directed to a fall banquet.

"We feel fortunate to have Eddie Chiles as our speaker," said Bill Warner, chamber manager. "He is a successful businessman and is especially familiar with the oil business which means so much to the Snyder area." He is chairman and chief executive officer of The Western Co. of North America.

Chiles has become well-known for his commercials appealing to the public to reverse trends toward ever bigger government and to support the free enterprise system. He is featured in an article in the June issue of Texas Business magazine, with his picture on the cover.

"The United States has been good to me. I started with absolutely nothing and I took advantage of the great opportunity here and now I'm rich. I think this opportunity should be preserved for the coming generation," Chiles is quoted in the magazine.

Plans for banquet ticket sales will be announced later.

Ten Graduating Tonight At Gail

GAIL—Borden High School will graduate 10 seniors tonight in a ceremony that begins at 8 in the auditorium. Dub Bowlis, newsman for KLBK Radio in Lubbock will be the guest speaker.

Seventeen junior high students will graduate into high school Friday. That ceremony also begins at 8 p.m. in the auditorium.

The SDN Column

There's no place like home to live after you retire from your profession, and home is Snyder to Rupert and Virginia Short.

They moved back this week following about a year and a half at Kerrville, which is known as an attractive dwelling place for retired people. It is nice down there, the Shorts agree, but it is not home.

They really did return home in the strictest sense, not only to the town, but to the very same house they occupied before they left Snyder. About the time they decided they wanted to return, their former home at 3001 33rd Street became available and they promptly repurchased it. A moving van brought their household furnishings up the first of the week and now they are getting settled again in familiar surroundings.

Prior to retiring, Rupert was assistant superintendent for Sun Pipe Line, and Virginia was a teacher in Snyder Public Schools.

Although the rains never did produce as much runoff as the Colorado River Municipal Water District desired, the 2,000 acre feet or so of new water caught by Lake J.B. Thomas was of considerable importance to Snyder. It assures that the lake will have enough water to supply us well into next winter. Earlier the CRMWD had indicated that enough water remained in the lake to take care of Snyder's needs through the summer. And if history means anything, Lake Thomas should catch more water between now and next fall. Rex Fields, one of Snyder's CRMWD board members, tells us that only once in the history of the lake has it failed to catch 3,000 or more acre feet between May and October.

The lake has been on the low side for many years now, but somehow it has managed to produce enough water for Snyder, which is its chief responsibility since Lake Spence and well fields take care of the remainder of the district. And, fortunately for Snyder residents, the quality of the Lake Thomas water is the best in the CRMWD. Water from Lake Spence and from wells in Martin and Ward Counties is "hard" compared to Lake Thomas water, due to higher content of salt and other minerals.

Although it would be possible with some modification of pumping facilities, Snyder has never been required to draw on Lake Spence water. But when supplies have permitted, Lake Thomas water has been mixed with Lake Spence water to upgrade the Spence quality for use in other CRMWD cities. So, if Lake Thomas could fill up again, it would benefit the entire district.

Personnel Items On School Agenda

Snyder School Trustees tonight will consider two resignations and a request for reassignment and discuss the school food service program at a special meeting.

The meeting is set for 8 p.m. in the board room of the administration building.

On the agenda are the resignations of Horrace Bostick, high school principal, and Hugh Lowry, driver education teacher at the high school, both of whom announced recently that they planned to take early retirement.

Also up for consideration will be a request by Roy Carter, athletic director, that he be reassigned as a high school math instructor. Carter has been teaching some math courses while serving as athletic director the past three years.

A request will be presented for use of a school station wagon June 2-8 to take a local delegation to the National Conference of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes at Estes Park, Colo.

Tonight's special board meeting had originally been set as a budget work session, but most of the budget except salaries was reviewed at a meeting last week and action on most remaining items must await decisions by the legislature.

Resort Owners Expect Good Holiday Crowd

By The Associated Press

Gas may be in short supply in some places and nearly 20 cents a gallon more expensive than last year, but many of the nation's resort owners say they expect business to be pretty good this Memorial Day weekend.

That assessment came Wednesday as President Carter worried the nation would avoid dealing with its fuel problems "unless there is such a severe crisis with shortages that the American people are shocked."

The President continued to accuse Congress of excessive timidity in dealing with energy issues as House Democrats renounced his plans to lift oil price controls, plans that could make Americans pay an additional $12.2 billion for petroleum products within three years, according to a congressoinal study.

Q-Why have part of the streets around Snyder's square been resurfaced and the remainder left unfinished?

A-The city retopped the south side and east side of the square several months ago. The north and west side streets are maintained by the state and city officials say they were advised that these would be included the next time the state had some pre-mix pavement work in this area.

Legislators Learn...

There's $350 Million More Than Expected

AUSTIN (AP)-Texas Legislators got word Wednesday they have $350 million more to spend than they thought but Gov. Bill Clements doesn't expect it to help his pleas for $1 billion in tax relief.

"I'll still have the last massage on the appropriations bill," Clements told reporters in reference to his veto powers. "I've been expecting the Legislature to leave me to do the dirty work."

Comptroller Bob Bullock made a new revenue estimate for 1980-81 that was $350 million higher than his December estimate, largely because of increased oil taxes.

Speaker Bill Clayton said later the additional available funds would be absorbed by school finance, and possibly for pension increases for retired teachers and state employees.

"The only thing we'll have left on the table is what the governor redlines in the appropriation bill," Clayton said. "And I have been led to believe he would cut pretty deep."

Finishing touches were scheduled to be put on a general appropriations bill totaling more than $20 billion today.

House and Senate negotiators have said previously it would leave $360 million on the basis of the December estimate. Bullock's estimate Wednesday would mean more than $700 million left for other spending.

Clayton said none of the new money would be used to enlarge the compromise appropriations bill.

"In my revenue estimate to you last December, I forecast that funds from existing taxes and other sources would total more than $21.2 billion in the 1980-81 budget year - an increase of $2.8 billion more than the state is spending in its current budget," Bullock said Wednesday in his report to the Legislature.

"I now estimate that revenue resources will be $3.15 billion more than what the state is spending in its current budget."

Bullock said the December to May upswing of Texas revenues included an increase of more than $344 million for the next two years, state investments up $22 million and the motor vehicle sales tax will increase by $29 million. Franchise taxes will be up $19 million as a result of record corporate profits.

"On the other hand we expect a decrease of $96 million in sales tax revenue because nagging inflation has shifted consumer dollars from normally taxable goods to meet the rising prices of non taxable goods, particularly food and utilities," Bullock said.

wave of uncertainty

Forgive a lot of people for thinking that they are living in the Twilight of the Gods, that so many things which they have taken for granted for so long are about to be taken from them.

For some time now, some of us have decided we are homesteading on the lip of a volcano, that just down the road there will come a time when we can't cool them when the hot weather gets here, can't always keep our food for future consumption and can't drive our cars even on necessary missions

Gasoline has suddenly become one of the most precious commodities, and we're using it at an alarming rate. Some of us are driving more than ever before, as if we were planning junkets in order to take our minds off the problem.

Critics of the oil industry say that expenses haven't gone up all that much, that the major producers keep upping the price even after reporting record profits. In short, they greeted the goods news by allocating less and less gas to their various distributers, intent on charging more and more for the product.

The gasoline crunch is stumping some of the best minds in America. You talk to some of the people in California, where the earliest forms of rationing were started, and they angrily will tell you that the oil barons purposely created a shortage in order to drive up the prices.

The president is taking a lot of heat. The anvil chorus which has gone to work on him likes to say he instituted no plan to head off a shortage, yet now is pleading with Congress for emergency powers to ration the fuel.

No one in Congress seems to agree on what to do to ease the shortage, yet everyone agrees that something should be done. The shortage may even now be reaching crisis proportions. If that is the case, Congress has waited to long to act.

The average American is running scared. There's no doubt about that. Yet he absolutely refuses to do what he can to solve the problem. He's driving more than ever before. He refuses to give up his luxury vehicles. He wants all members of his family to have the wheels to travel when they feel like it. The perfect rationing plan, to him, would be to restrict everyone's purchase of gasoline but himself.

People in other parts of the world have been on an austerity program for years, mainly because their fuel prices have always been higher than ours.

To the Americans' credit, they've been told so many things about the fuel crisis, or lack of it, they don't know what to believe. Consequently, they get in their vehicles and drive around aimlessly, worrying about it.

The problem obviously calls for a meeting of the minds and demands that each of us sacrifice a little in our life style. The point is, are we willing to do it until the time comes when we are forced to?

it's only wagering

The king may be gone but the sport of kings is back in business in Iran.

A dispatch from Tehran reports that the luxurious race track the shah opened only last year has been permitted to reopen after the revolution's religious leaders decided that racing does not violate the Koran's prohibition of gambling.

It was decreed that placing bets on horses is permissable since it is merely "wagering".

Sure, Sure.

by john long

George Washington, I understand, always sought a degree of anonymity, shunned the limelight, and preferred a life of simplicity and solitude. He never got it, either in life or in death.

I know because I have jus returned from Washington, D.C., where I got to see everything from George Washington's false teeth to the tavern where he did much of his drinking. His life was marked by service to his country, and his death is marked by the public display of almost everything he owned.

I vacationed in Washington, D.C. for about a week and a half. (I wrote my columns ahead of time so no one would know I was gone.) I left the District of Columbia feeling a little sorry for 'ol George.

You can whip out a dollar bill from your wallet and see Washington's enigmatic smile. The reason it's enigmatic is because Washington never parted his lips to bare his teeth.

I had always heard that Washington began his adult life with a set of wooden teeth, and at one time he probably did have a set of wooden choppers. But the teeth of his that are on display at the Smithsonian are made of gold and ivory. I don't see how he could have eaten with them. I suspect he didn't. I'll bet those gold and ivory teeth of his were just for show and tell.

In Old Town, across the Potomac in Virginia, I got to see George's favorite drinking establishment. It, too, has been carefully preserved. I was tempted to go inside, but I didn't. I couldn't help wondering, though, how much American history was actually made there. For all I know, Thomas Jefferson may have been inspired to write the Declaration of Independence after spending a pleasant hour or two at the watering hole. It's not impossible, you know.

I went to Mount Vernon, Washington's home, and got to see everything else associated with him, including his grave. As I stood gazing at his grave I could have sworn I saw it move slightly. At first I dismissed it as being only my imagination. But, again, I thought I saw it move.

Then, I figured it out. George Washington was turning in his grave because he had been separated from his false teeth.

Heroes, even American heroes, can have feet of clay.

era essay

I am calling this essay: "About Women--Without Passion."

That is a sneaky device to solicit your undivided attention.

What it means is that we are going to try to talk about a sensitive subject--dispassionately.

We are going to try to discuss the Equal Rights Amendment--without rancor.

For the Equal Rights Amendment to be ratified requires the concurrence of three more states. They now have until June of 1982 to make up their minds.

So the subject is "on the back burner," so to speak.

With no state voting right now, there will not likely be a better time to consider the subject objectively.

Those opposed to ERA have predicted dire consequences: "It will merge toilets, it will legalize prostitution and homosexual marriages, it will destroy the family."

In 15 states where women are already guaranteed equal rights, none of these dire predictions has come to pass.

On the other side of the ledger, however, ERA would beget important institutional changes in marriage, government, education and employment.

There are only 23 words in the proposed amendment: "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any state on acount of sex."

Simple as it sounds, legal authorities are in agreement that it would end sex discrimination in employment, in public education and in the military.

Under ERA a married woman would be free to use her own surname rather than her husband's.

In divorce settlements, wives could expect an equitable division of property and husbands could expect equal consideration in child custody.

ERA would immediately cancel thousands of federal, state and local laws which treat women and men differently.

In Massachusetts only men are prohibited from making obscene phone calls.

In North Carolina only men are prohibited from peeping through windows.

In Mississippi women are limited to 10-hour working days; men are not.

The United States Civil Rights Commission has identified some 800 sections of the United States code which contain substantive sex bias or sex-based terminology.

Should ERA be ratified, here will remain for all a constitutional "right of privacy" enunciated by the Supreme Court in 1965. That means that laws dealing with unique physical characteristics would prevail--such as laws relating to abortion.

And unisex toilets.

To avert eventual disillusionment, this needs to be understood: The law can guarantee "equal legal rights." It cannot guarantee "equality." Indeed, no two individuals of whatever sex are "equal."

As some men are suited to heavy work and to military combat, and some are not--so it will be with women.

I guess what I'm saying is "Don't expect too much."

If I were a woman I think I would resent most the disproportionate pay scale for similar employment. For 15 years we have had a law specifically designed to correct that. It hasn't yet.

congressional comment

by charles stenholm, mc

WASHINGTON, D.C. In "Wealth of Nations," Adam Smith argued that profits are the legitimate return for risk and effort and that the "invisible Hand" of market forces would convert private greed into public benefits.

The economic theories of Adam Smith are as applicable to the marketplace today as they were 200 years ago. The free enterprise system works because it allows a person to reap the benefits of his labor. Profits are the invisible hand that motivates individuals to make a product or perform a service that will benefit the community as a whole. The better an entrepreneur is able to perform this service, the bigger the reward (profits) he receives.

Profits are called by many names these days--obscene, exorbitant, and excessive. Granted, profits can be improper if they are exploitative or the result of price-fixing schemes or monopolies. But we must remember that in a capitalist economy the promise of monetary reward is a prime motivator. Without hope of a reasonable rate of return, no one would start a business, introduce a new product or service, or even continue producing an old one. And without the reality of profits, no business in the long run can keep itself alive--except by government subsidies.

Also we must remember that even if profits are excessive in the short run, the market will adjust and force prices downward. Pocket calculators are a good example. Today a good calculator can be bought for as little as $10 from a variety of companies. Just a few years ago only a limited number of firms made calculators at a price many times that of the present rate. The same will happen in our energy industry if only permitted. The profit incentive will attract new firms into the market and production of additional hydrocarbons and alternative sources of fuel will become more feasible. In the long run excess profits will disappear as competition increases and the public will benefit.

The basic principles of free market economics are understood by people everywhere, whether they admit it or not. In contrast, governments seldom recognize the advantages of individual initiative. The Russian people understand free market economics. The state takes 90 percent of the production of collective farms in the Soviet Union, but lets workers keep what they earn by farming their backyards. Soviet state agriculture is perpetually in poor condition and a third of farm output is backyard production. The Soviet leaders have tried everything but increasing the size of backyards.

The hostility towards profits largely rests on the myth that dividence flow mainly to the pockets of wealthy individuals. In terms of dollar value, nearly half of the corporate shares these days are owned by institutions such as pension funds, college endowments, and even churches. The assurance of a retirement income and the availability of a college scholarship all depend heavily upon the profitability of U.S. corporations. So the next time you hear that somebody's profits are up, remember the invisible hand might be working for you, and rest assured that the competition is looking for a way to cash in if government will only let them.

wall street calmer

NEW YORK (AP)—A hush has fallen on Wall Street, where earlier this decade the defenders of private securities markets clashed with government regulators over the modernization of trading.

Confrontations are rare now; the dialogue is calmer, the interfaces less angry. Muscle-flexing is hardly part of the scene. And so even is the level of discussion that many people assume the issues have died.

They haven't. What has happened is the presence of William "Mil" Batten, 69, who became chairman of the New York Stock Exchange in 1976, succeeding James Needham, a tough, sometimes combative chief executive.

Though assertive, as executives are, Batten's style is low key. "I don't think much is accomplished by confrontation," he said the other day. "We can get more done if we avoid it than if we seek it out."

It's Batten's management style. "I'm result-oriented," he said. The way to achive goals is to have each group understand the other. If screaming would do it, if it would achieve goals, I'd be for it."

He is a reasonable man. "The objectives of the SEC (Securities and Exchange Commission) and people in this business are the same," he said. "We want a market in the public interest. We want integrity."

Although you can find an argument on almost any subject in this notoriously opinionated community, many people feel the Batten style is right for the times.

Under Needham, himself a former SEC commissioner, the hard in fighting probably was required, since stock exchanges at the time assumed they were fighting for their lives. Few SEC opinions were left unchallenged.

But now the law is written. Under a 1975 act of Congress, the various exchanges are committed to linking their facilities into a central marketplace. Congress didn't specify the form, but it stated the goal.

As head of the biggest exchange of all, Batten's role is to maintain a constructive dialogue with other exchanges, with the SEC and with his own membership, and somehow to balance it all with the public good.

To date, as he sees it, the linkage is evolving smoothly and "in accordance with the act," although he concedes some disagreement with the SEC on the rate of progress - on the timing of advances.

Winners Named At 4-H Roundup

More than 500 South Plains 4-Hers from 19 of the 20 counties in Extension District 2 competed in the 4-H Roundup Competition on Texas Tech University campus Saturday, May 12.

About 500 4-H boys and girls competed in the district wide event which included 29 contests. Winners received their awards in ceremonies at Coronado High School auditorium.

To qualify for the state contest, a team or individual must have a first or second place win in the senior division, which is for youths age 14 and older.

In junior competition, which was held simultaneously with the senior contests, Scurry County had two first and two second place victories. Juniors do not compete beyond the district level.

Other counties taking a large portion of senior division honors included Gaines County with five qualifying wins and Swisher County with five.

Winners were presented at an awards assembly, which followed the contests. The Pioneer Natural Gas Company donated the ribbons for the winners, with Bob Carthel of Pioneer presenting the honors.

Those entering from Scurry County not pictured but competing in the district contests were:

Natural Resources: Kelly Tolbert - Ennis Creek 4-H. They placed fourth on their "Nuclear Age" demonstration.

Clothing: Isabel Rios of the Snyder 4-H placed third on her "clothing" demonstration.

Open Class, Susi Foster - Ira 4-H Club and Kaila Barbee presented "Gymnastics for Your Health" and received 4th place.

Scurry County had 39 residents on the Texas Tech University campus displaying support of their 4-H program. Mrs. Blanche Chisum, extension agent, expresses thanks to the efforts of 4-H parents and leaders that worked hard to get these teams ready for competition.

The world's first known fishing rod was excavated along with the remains of a 10,000-year-old man in northern Europe.

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

Normal results for the charity game will find North playing in two or three clubs and probably coming up with nine tricks. Some East-West pairs will get into the bidding and wind up getting set at some red-suit contract.

The bidding in the box shows what happened when one West player elected to open in third seat with a sort of psychic lead directing diamond bid.

North started for trouble when he made an unusual takeout double. East made a sensible redouble. South bid one heart. North tried two clubs. South rebid correctly to two hearts. He couldn't tell about that North distribution.

North passed. After all he did have ace-jack of hearts and East doubled. He had his values.

West was most unhappy, but could find no place to go and passed, as did North.

Now West got off to the unfortunate lead of a diamond. At this point South could make two hearts, but South managed to produce a total misplay.

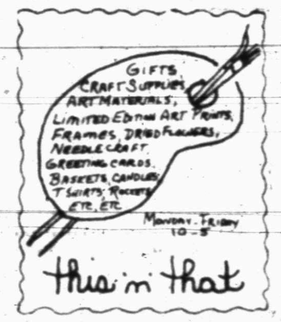

At trick two he led a heart to dummy's jack. East won and led a heart back. We won't give the rest of the play except to say that South continued to play give away and held himself to five tricks for 800 in the bucket and about as bad a score as possible.

Burnt-Orange Bantam Wins

RIO GRANDE, Ohio (AP)—Lola B. may have been scared by the crowd - or maybe she just didn't like her tailfeathers being tickled by a toilet plunger.

Whatever the reason, the 15-ounce burnt-orange bantam shot out of an open mailbox Saturday to wing a record 302 feet, 8 inches in the Eighth Annual International Chicken Flying Meet.

Her owner, Sherwood Costen, of Point Pleasant, W. Va., said he had raised birds for years but never entered a competition. And he said Lola B., winner of the $500 prize, had never before flown outside.

Most of the 152 chickens entered flatted only a few feet or plopped to the ground directly under the 10-foot high launching platform.

Tourism Discussed At Meet Of WTCC

Plans for stepping up promotional work in the field of tourism and conventions was discussed Wednesday afternoon in Abilene at a meeting scheduled by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Ray McLaughlin of Alpine, who heads the tourist and convention division of the WTCC, presided. Recommendations were made for promoting trade shows, area participation in efforts to attract tourists, developing special maps of the area and advertising tourist attractions, convention facilities, etc., to attract travelers from other states.

Attending the meeting from Snyder were Bill Warner, manager of the chamber; Mr. and Mrs. Art Feinsod of the chamber tourist development committee and the Snyder Motel Association, and Guy Sullivan, chairman of the Scurry County Board of Development.

Houston Bans Dripping Candles

HOUSTON (AP)-Houston's City Council has banned dripping wax from downtown streets.

An ordinance approved Wednesday sets a $10 fine for anyone allowing candles to drip during ceremonies or protest marches.

The ordinance prohibits a candle from being lighted in the area unless its base is surrounded by a container large enough to catch and hold wax drippings.

Some councilmen said slippery wax drippings could endanger pedestrians.

When the first five men were named to the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1936, Ty Cobb received the most votes, beating out Honus Wanger, Babe Ruth, Christy Mathewson and Walter Johnson.

Celtics Turn Hoops Over To Bill Fitch

BOSTON (AP) The Boston Celtics' rebuilding program has been handed to Bill Fitch, whose future roster remains a mystery.

The inauguration of Fitch as the eighth head coach of the once-dominant National Basketball Association team was viewed Wednesday as the first move in a prospective whirlwind of maneuvers by Celtics President Red Auerbach.

Fitch, released from his Cleveland Cavaliers contract on Monday, conceded he can't guarantee a return to glory by Boston because, "I don't know enough about who's going to be here."

Auerbach puffed his trade-mark "victory" cigar at a Boston Garden news conference and asserted, "We're not building a ball club to make the playoffs. We want to build a club to win the whole thing."

Fitch replaced player-coach Dave Cownes.

ROY CARTER...resigns as athletic director

Carter Resigns As Tiger AD

Roy Carter, Snyder High School athletic director for the past three years, has submitted a request for reassignment from his present capacity to "a full-time mathematics classroom teaching job at any level, or any agreed upon assignment."

Carter, a long-time SHS instructor, submitted a request earlier this week. The board will act upon the request at a meeting this evening.

Under Carter, the present coaching staff guided Snyder High School to five district championships in 1978-79, including a state title in volleyball and bi-district crowns in football and baseball.

"I feel like I've accomplished a lot of the things I set out to do," he commented this morning. "I had a hand in selecting and organizing the present coaching staff and helping them in various ways, but they deserve all the credit for the work they've done. Give that credit to them."

A native of Rotan, Carter first taught at Snyder in 1954-55 as a seventh grade coach. He took a head football-track, athletic director's position at Dalhart for the next three years, before returning to Snyder as a junior varsity coach.

Carter later served as Snyder High School vice principal for seven years, until 1976 when he was named athletic director.

He received his bachelors degree from Hardin-Simmons in 1952, whre he was a three year letterman in football, and named All-Border Conference as an offensive center. Carter also attended the University of Texas, University of Houston, Oklahoma State University and received his masters at Texas Tech University. He currently holds 30 hours of work above his masters degree.

A math teacher his major at Hardin Simmons, as well as athletic director, Carter's teaches geometery and fundamentals of math.

I love teaching, he explained as a reason for wanting reassignment. There are math openings available here now and that is a reason why I've made this decision at this time.

Tonight's board meeting will be held at 8 in the school administration building. It was not known whether the board would take action on filing the vacancy at the meeting.

Vilas Enters Third Round

ROME (AP) Top-seeded Guillermo Vilas beat Phil Dent 6-2, 4-6, 6-4 to qualify for the third round of the $200,000 Italian Open.

Vilas' opponent in the third round will be Paolo Bertolucci, who beat Tomas Smid 6-4, 5-7, 7-6 in their second-round match.

Harold Solomon beat Chris Lewis 3-6, 6-2, 7-5 and Dick Stockton reached the third round by beating Alvaro Fillol 6-3, 6-2.

Adriano Panatta, the hometown favorite, advanced with a 6-4, 6-2 victory over American Bill Scanlon while two other local favorites, Paolo Bertolucci and Corrado Barazzutti, won matches. Bertolucci defeated Tomas Smid 6-4, 5-7, 7-6 and Barazzutti downed Kim Warwick 6-2, 6-4.

Everton Selected For 'Star' Game

Sid Everton, voted District 3-AAA's Player of the Year, has been chosen by the Texas High School Baseball Coaches Association to play in the North-South All Star Baseball game.

The senior right-hander, 10-2, joins the ranks of only two other Snyder High School athletes named to play in the game. They were Kelly Ragland and Robert Alderete.

The annual game will be held in the Astrodome in Houston, 4 p.m. June 23.

Everton, named All-District for the past two years, has an ERA of 0.89, and with a batting average of over .325 for the season, is one of Snyder's leading hitters.

Everton was also named All-District in basketball during the 1978-79 season.

Lewis Named Coach Of The Year

Eight Chosen All-3AAA

TOBY NEVES

Snyder High School placed eight individuals on the 1979 3-AAA All-District Team which was released today.

Albert Lewis, who guided the Tigers to a third consecutive conference championship, was selected Coach of the Year.

Special recognition went to Sid Everton of Snyder and Mark Price of Lamesa. Everton, a pitcher and utility infielder, was named Player of the Year. Price was chosen Newcomer of the Year.

Others named to the first team from Snyder were outfielders Mitch Mackey and Bobby Degrate, first baseman Scott Crenwelge, shortstop Richard Crayton, catcher Toby Neves and designated hitter Pete Willis.

Tony Degrate, Tiger pitcher, was selected honorable mention.

Everton, a senior with a 10-2 season record, joined Brownfield's Roy Lee Tealer (6-8) and Lamesa's Armando Morales (7-8) on the all-district pitching staff. Everton has an ERA of 0.89.

1979 was the second year in a row for Everton to make the squad. Mackey and Crayton were also named all-district in 1978. Crayton as Newcomer of the Year. Crenwelge was all-district in 1977 also.

Under Coach Lewis this season, Snyder High School has won a third loop title, and for the second time in three years, clinched bi-district championship. Having won their last six ballgames in a row now, the Tigers will begin region competition next week against Borger-Pecos victor.

Tim Murphy and Mark Dobson of Brownfield were the other outfielders named to the team this year. Kelly Reid, Brownfield, was also an all-district first baseman along with Crenwlege, and Raul Romero of Brownfield was third baseman. Lamesa's James Goolsby was the all-loop choice from second base.

Bullets Looking For Number 2

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) —The Washington Bullets, with a chance to become the first repeat champions of the National Basketball Association in 10 years, may not be the fat cats they're depicted as.

When the Bullets struggled to beat Atlanta 4-3 and then had to overcome a 3-1 deficit before prevailing over San Antonio, some observers figured they had lost the desire which carried them to the top last year.

But veteran forwards Bobby Dandridge and Elvin Hayes say a second championship would be even more satisfying than the first.

"We have more reason to win than Seattle," Dandridge said as the two finalists of last season prepared for tonight's contest in the Capital Centre, the Bullets leading 1-0 in the best-of-seven series.

"Two championship rings would be icing on the cake for Wes (center Wes Unseld), Elvin and myself," Dandridge said. "And we have some young players who realize that a lot of great players in the league never even get to play for the championship."

France ceded Alsace-Lorraine to Germany in 1871.

NBA Fines Spurs Coach

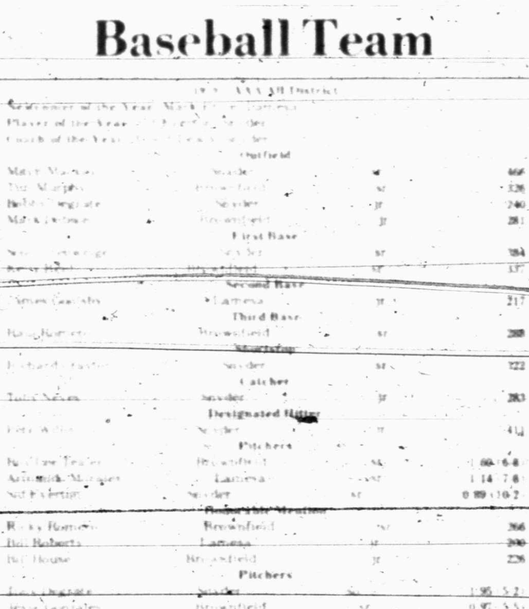

NEW YORK (AP)— Doug Moe, coach of the San Antonio Spurs, was fined $3,000, the largest cash fine ever levied against a National Basketball Association coach for conduct detrimental to the league, NBA Commissioner Larry O'Brien announced.

Moe was fined for comments following San Antonio's 107-105 loss to the Washington Bullets in the seventh game of the Eastern Conference playoff series.

The largest previous cash fine against any NBA coach was $2,500, assessed against Dick Motta, then of Chicago, in 1974.

Oliver Slams Texas Past Minnesota Twins

ARLINGTON (AP)—The first clue that Al Oliver was in for an extraordinary night came in batting practice before Texas' game with Minnesota Wednesday night.

"I hit one out of the park that broke the bat. Another one broke the bat and hit the wall. I felt super strong," Oliver said in the Ranger clubhouse after hitting three home runs, driving in four runs in Texas' 7-2 victory over the Twins.

The 11-year veteran hovered near the .400 mark the first month of the season, but had been in a mini-slump lately. He had only nine hits in his 48 latest at-bats going into Wednesday's series-ender with Minnesota.

"In April I was embarrassing the other guys on the team because I was getting all the hits. In May, they've been embarrassing me. But this game was great. I hope, I'm back on the track again."

The 32-year-old outfielder became the first Ranger to ever hit three homers in a game at Arlington Stadium, and his 3-for-4 night pushed him to .304 at the plate for the season.

Ranger manager Pat Corrales put Oliver in the lineup as a designated hitter Monday, and held him out of the lineup Tuesday.

"With the day off, and the rest, I felt super strong," Oliver said.

"I think players themselves know they can't play 162 games. I just had to take it on myself to set him down for a day," Corrales said. "It's hard to make out a lineup and leave out an Oliver or a Zisk, but it's just got to be done from time to time."

Minnesota manager Gene Mauch, asked what kind of "book" the Twins had on Oliver, replied:

"When he's swinging good, you can take the book and throw it away. That's why they pay him all that money. When he was with Pittsburgh, we used to eat him up belt high inside. The next series we'd pitch him that way and he'd knock down all the fences."

All of Texas' runs Wednesday came on homers. Oliver and Pat Putnam hit two-run homers in the first, Mike Jorgensen hit a one-run homer in the fourth, and Oliver made curtain calls for solo homers in the fifth and eighth.

Braves Scalp Houston With Five-Run Blast

COACH ALBERT LEWIS

ATLANTA (AP)— "Maybe I should warm up a little longer, or just pretend the first inning is over when I go to the mound," said rookie Tony Brizzolara of the Atlanta Braves.

The lanky right-handed pitcher survived a four-run Houston eruption in the first inning Wednesday night and went on to win his first major league game when the Braves used a five-run rally in the eighth to edge the Astros 6-5.

"When I struck out the first hitter in the game, I think I was a little too relaxed," said Brizzolara who was called up from Richmond last week and had no decision in his first start against the San Francisco Giants Saturday night.

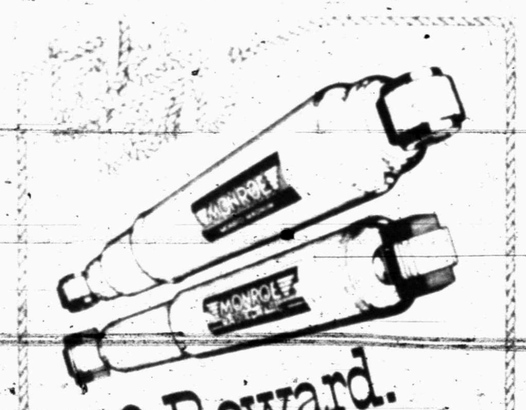

After the strikeout, the roof caved in when Houston got five hits, including a two-run double by Jose Cruz and RBI singles by Enos Cabell and Alan Ashby to quickly stake JR Richard to a 4-0 lead.

"I just told myself that if I continue to do that, I wouldn't be in Atlanta much longer," Brizzolara said. "I was worried I might not be here if I didn't straighten out."

He did, checking the Astros on only two hits through the next seven innings before leaving for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

Jerry Royster's two-run single and alert base running highlighted the game-winning rally.

Jim Gentile of the Baltimore Orioles hit back-to-back grand slams on May 9, 1961, against the Minnesota Twins.

Pressure Building Up For Wheat 'Arrangement'

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)- Further pressure has been generated in Congress for the United States to form with other key wheat-producing nations "a cooperative arrangement" to dictate the price of bread grain in world trade.

A nonbinding "sense of the Senate" resolution was approved Wednesday on an 80-15 vote after three hours' debate, despite warnings by Sen. Richard Lugar, R-Ind., that it was the first step toward "a wheat cartel that simply will not work."

"How does the senator know? We've never tried," responded Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D.

He and other backers of the resolution rejected grassroots calls for a cartel to raise wheat prices to the level of prices for crude oil charged by the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries OPEC - the so called "bushel for a barrel" campaign.

A bushel of wheat cost about the same as a barrel of Middle East oil about eight years ago in world trade but now oil is almost five times more expensive.

But they said that talks need to be held and prices hiked "modestly," because joint exporter-importer talks to set prices have failed and farmers have to sell for less than their costs of production.

World grain figures by the Agriculture Department lend weight, on paper, at least, to the idea.

According to those, the United States, Canada, Australia and Argentina account for about 78 percent of the total wheat in world trade in 1978-79.

Further, the USDA report showed, the four countries will have left in reserve as of July about 44.3 percent of the estimated total wheat in the world, some 46.6 million metric tons out of a global estimate of 105.2 million metric tons.

A metric ton is about 2,205 pounds and is equal to 36.7 bushels of wheat.

The resolution, approved last week 7-1 in the Foreign Relations Committee, calls for arrangements to "achieve equitable prices" but suggests no level or type of arrangement.

Lugar objected to that vagueness, the lack of hearings by the Agriculture Committee and spase attendance at the debate.

"This is a pretty serious thought," he said. "We are talking about ... asking the president to take the leadership in setting up a cartel arrangement for wheat in this world, albeit an informal one."

Because wheat can be grown almost anywhere outside the tropics, Lugar said, nations other than the four leading exporters would soon produce more and undercut any price-fixing scheme.

Carter administration officials are conducting wheat talks, primarily with Canada, but have echoed Lugar's arguments against an attempt at a cartel.

McGovern said that the three other top exporters are "ready to cooperate" to end price-cutting competition among the four nations. Of the four, only the United States does not have a government agency selling grain abroad.

Europe and Japan are taking advantage of U.S. farmers by adding tariffs to wheat while undercutting U.S. makers of products they ship here, he and other senators argued.

Marvin Decision May Be Appealed

LOS ANGELES (AP)- The attorney for actor Lee Marvin says he will seek reconsideration of a $104,000 award to Michelle Triola Marvin. And David Kagon said he might even appeal the landmark decision.

Kagon said Wednesday his threat to appeal was spurred by a request from Miss Marvin's attorney that Marvin pay some $500,000 in fees stemming from the case.

He said the actor was willing to accept the ruling if "that was the end of the matter. Unfortunately, the plaintiff has seen fit to take further action."

Last month, a judge rejected Miss Marvin's contention that she had an implied contract to share her lover's assets, but awarded her $104,000 for "rehabilitative purposes."

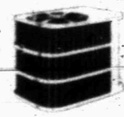

Ex-Black Panther Wins 1, Loses 2

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)- Former Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver won one legal skirmish and lost two in his efforts to get the California Supreme Court to suppress evidence in his coming trial for attempted murder.

A 4-2 decision Wednesday by Justice Frank Richardson held valid two warrantless police searches of an Oakland home after an April 1968 shootout in which Cleaver's companion was killed. But the court agreed the search of a car found some distance away was illegal.

Construction began on the Suez Canal in 1859.

Over Memorial Day Weekend...

Highway Deaths Expected To Exceed 500

CHICAGO (AP)-The National Safety Council estimates between 500 and 600 persons may die on the nation's highways over the three-day Memorial Day weekend despite expectations that many motorists will have trouble buying gasoline.

Over the 1978 holiday period, The Associated Press counted 528 traffic related deaths.

Jack Recht, statistics manager for the council, said Wednesday the number of deaths likely will be affected by the availability of gasoline. The estimate was made about four weeks ago, he said, before the shortage when gasoline supplies were roughly the same as in 1978.

"We're committed to that estimate at this moment," Recht said. "My own feeling is that it might be somewhat lower than that estimate," depending on the number of miles Americans drive. "It's too late to revise it."

But he noted traffic deaths were up 13 percent in the first three months of 1979 compared to last year - "a pretty phenomenal increase" - and had influenced the 500 to 600 estimate. The council said 10,360 persons died through March, and a 1972 record of 56,278 deaths would be broken if the higher death rate continues.

In 1978, 51,901 persons were killed in traffic accidents, and a 13 percent increase this entire year would mean a record 58,641 deaths.

"On the one hand, you have a gasoline shortage; on the other hand, you have an indication of a relatively large increase in fatalities, the explanation for which we don't have details," said Recht.

However, council President Vincent L. Tofany said "an assumption seems proper that higher speeds are behind the disturbing increase in fatalities."

Tofany said observing the national speed limit of 55 mph will help conserve fuel. Its introduction five years ago has saved at least 35,000 lives, he said.

Roloff May Testify Today

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) -Grand jurors investigating an unreported stabbing incident at one of evangelist Lester Roloff's child care homes may call the fundamentalist preacher to testify today.

Grand jury foreman Oscar Reyna said last week that the panel would call Roloff, who had volunteered to appear.

"I feel we will be calling him Thursday or Friday," Reyna said.

The panel, looking into the stabbing of former Rebekah Home resident Misty Hardman of Kansas, was scheduled to reconvene today.

Reyna said last week that the panel "definitely" would take some action against the girls allegedly involved in the incident, but not against the evangelist.

Because all seven of the girls were minors at the time, Nueces County Attorney Mike Westergren said the jury could not indict them, but could refer the incident to a juvenile court.

In another matter, a state district judge in Austin postponed a hearing on a contempt of court motion filed against Roloff by Attorney General Mark White.

White filed the motion May 16, asking Judge Charles Matthews to close the evangelist's child care homes, and levy civil penalties against Roloff for failure to comply with a 1976 court order to allow state child care licensing inspectors into the homes.

At the request of Roloff's attorneys, Matthews postponed a scheduled May 29 hearing on the motion until June 13.

The evangelist, citing the doctrine of separation of church and state, has refused for nearly six years to let his homes be inspected by state licensing workers.

INFLATION FIGHTING ideas

Inflation Fighting Ideas Based On Information Provided By The U.S. Government Office Of Consumer Affairs.

Our stores will continue to have an adequate selection of beef to meet your needs. Beef supplies are down and will continue to be short while the cattle producers are rebuilding their herds. Other meats, such as poultry and pork, are in more plentiful supply.

Now is a good time to buy chickens, turkeys and pork, all of which freeze well. Remember, too, that it is always less expensive to buy chickens and turkeys whole and cut them to the needs of your family.

May begins the seasonal peak for milk production so supplies of cheese, butter and nonfat dry milk should be on the the increase. You can help save money by using reconstituted nonfat dry milk in any recipe calling for regular milk.

Since fruits and vegetables are seasonal in nature, buy them during the peak of their season.

Fresh fruit such as apricot, sweet cherry and peach harvests are just beginning. Good buys on these fruits should become more common as the harvest continues.

Apples and grapefruit seasons are ending and this may cause prices to rise a bit. Bananas should be a good buy during the summer months as supplies increase. Raisins will stay high all year because of rain damage to the 1978 crop.

Potatoes are abundant and prices reasonable. Nutritious, low in calories, potatoes go so well with so many dishes and are easy to prepare.

Dry beans are a great buy due to recent years' bumper crops. Though a high protein food, many beans are slightly deficient in one amino acid, methionine. This is overcome when they are served or combined with small amounts of meat, dairy products, or certain cereal grains. Rice, corn and pork, in combination with dry beans, do create a balance of protein, and at this time, all are inflation fighting buys. An idea: leave meat on your next ham or smoked picnic bone and put it in your pot of beans for additional flavor and nutrition.

May is a good time to buy pork, poultry, milk products, potatoes and dry beans.

together, we can be INFLATION FIGHTERS!

For Bank Fraud, Conspiracy, Misuse Of Funds...

Burt Lance Eager For Day In Court

ATLANTA (AP)-Former federal budget director Bert Lance, once so close to Jimmy Carter that he was sometimes called the "deputy president," says he is eager for his day in court on charges of bank fraud, conspiracy, and misuse of funds at two Georgia banks.

"I know that I am innocent," Lance said in a statement Wednesday after he and three northwest Georgia businessmen were indicted by a federal grand jury.

"I have an infinite faith in the fairness of the American people, and I know that no jury will find me guilty of the charges directed against me," Lance said.

The indictment, which makes no mention of Carter, concerns Lance's banking practices before he resigned the presidency of the National Bank of Georgia to serve eight months in the Carter administration in 1977.

It alleges a conspiracy to commit banking violations and fraud against agencies of the government from 1970 to the present. The indictment said the conspiracy "has resulted in losses and potential losses in excess of $500,000" to the banks involved.

The charges follow nearly two years of investigation by various agencies.

Lance's first appearance in court could come as early as today. He is to be arraigned before U.S. Magistrate Allen L. Chancey Jr., but officials still had not announced the details early this morning. A trial could follow within 90 days.

Lance, who had been a major fund-raiser in Carter's presidential campaign, came to Washington as director of the Office of Management and Budget when Carter was inaugurated in 1977. For a time, they had lunch together twice a week and consulted daily by telephone. They had been political associates since 1966, and when Lance resigned on Sept. 21, 1977, an emotional president announced it.

Now Lance is charged in 22 of 33 counts in an inch-thick indictment. If convicted on all counts, the maximum penalty would be 95 years in prison and a fine of $115,000.

The charges against him include conspiracy, misapplication of bank funds, falsifying personal financial statements to banks, and making false entries in bank records. The grand jury described a pattern of bad debts covered and re-covered by new loans - eventually 383 loans from 41 banks that totaled more than $20 million - that benefitted the defendants, their families and their associates.

The allegations relate to Lance's terms as president of the Calhoun, Ga., First National Bank in 1963-1975, and the National Bank of Georgia in Atlanta in 1975 and 1976.

The indictment does not touch on loans from the National Bank of Georgia to Carter's peanut business in Plains, Ga., which are now the subject of a separate grand jury investigation headed by special counsel Paul Curran.

Car Bill Wins Preliminary OK

AUSTIN (AP) - A bill allowing auto dealers to charge customers $25 for paperwork branded "a new car tax bill" by one opponent won preliminary House approval Wednesday night.

An 83-50 record vote, taken after two hours of stormy debate, advanced the bill.

Final passage, expected today, would return the bill to the Senate for action on changes made by the House, chiefly dropping the limit on the "documentary fee" from $35 to $25.

Rep. Jerry "Nub" Donaldson, D-Gatesville the sponsor, said he was doing consumers a favor and merely straightening out a conflict in the law.

But opponents, both liberals and conservatives, saw it another way.

"When I went home last weekend, all I heard about was 'this tax they want to put on cars.' I have a feeling this is the kind of bill that is going to come back and haunt us when we go back home," said Rep. John Sharp, D-Victoria, a conservative.

Sharp said a firm in Austin processes documents involved in automobile purchases for $3.50, and I understand it is a pretty lucrative business.

Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas, usually regarded as a liberal, said the bill would add $30 million to auto dealers' profits next year.

"This is not a documentary fee bill. This is a new car tax bill," Bryant said.

The bill was heavily lobbied on one side by the Texas Automobile Dealers Association and on the other by the Texas Consumer Association.

Several representatives said they were flooded with telephone calls from auto dealers in their districts, urging them to vote for the bill.

The outer green leaves of lettuce are coarser than the inner, tender leaves, but have higher calcium, iron and vitamin A value, reports Gwendolyne Cyaff, a consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The Texas A&M University System

No easy arthritis cure

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - My father-in-law drinks a mixture of equal parts of honey, cider vinegar, black strap molasses and dry sherry wine and says it corrects deficiencies causing arthritis. I don't see how this could help arthritis. Am I wrong?

DEAR READER - No, you're right as rain. If it were that easy to relieve arthritis, the disease would have been cured long ago.

Osteoarthritis, the common form in middle-aged and older people, is not a deficiency disease. Often it's called wear and tear arthritis or degenerative arthritis. Associated with wearing, overuse or improper use of joints.

If your father-in-law enjoys his mixture, that's great but he shouldn't be deluded into thinking it's really correcting his arthritis.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 4-10, Osteoarthritis. Others who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY. 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I am 63 years old and have emphysema. At present I live in southern California just south of Los Angeles and inland from the coast about 10 miles. Would I be better off healthwise to live near Tucson at an altitude of 2500 feet where the air is thinner or would I be better off in the same climate I'm living in now if it were less smoggy? Are there any vitamins that I could take that would be helpful to me?

DEAR READER - If you have emphysema, you have trouble exhaling all of the used air in your lungs. The net effect of this is to produce a condition that resembles altitude in many respects. Your whole system has to work harder to provide adequate oxygen for your blood. Altitude is associated with thin air, as you expressed it, and provides less oxygen so people with such forms of lung problems usually should avoid altitude. The relatively low altitude that you're talking about won't make all that much difference.

The moisture inside your lungs is constant. It comes from the body itself. You can't dry out your nasal passages, your throat and windpipe but not the lungs where the actual air exchanges occur and where your disease is located.

You need to be in a climate that is relatively free from air pollution. It is true that many industrial irritants adversely affect even the normal lung and this is an added insult if the lung is not functioning at optimal level as occurs with emphysema and other lung problems.

You have to be careful about choosing a location that you think would be better. Many areas that were once havens of clean dry air now have industries nearby that generate industrial pollutants. These may not always be readily apparent as the irritant effect of ordinary smog is.

Anyone planning to move to an area because of improved climate would be well advised to go there first for a visit and check out the local situation in regard to industrial plants and other possible sources of pollutants before he makes a permanent move.

'Dead Issue,' Says Clayton...

Denies Plot To Sneak By Split Primary Bill

AUSTIN (AP)-A "split" presidential primary which many believe would help John Connally is a "dead issue," says House Speaker Bill Clayton.

Clayton denied knowledge late Wednesday night of any "plot" to out-maneuver the 12 "Killer Bee" senators by sending the Senate a split primary bill as an amendment to an otherwise unrelated bill.

Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas, told a news conference that conservative Democrats had just such a plan in mind.

"There is no plan so far as I know to run out a presidential primary bill I can't understand what is so important about a dead issue," Clayton, an advocate of the split primary, told reporters.

Gov. Bill Clements said Tuesday he had refused an offer by Bryant to deliver House votes for initiative and referendum, in trade for Clements' propose to veto a split primary bill.

Clements, who badly wants the Legislature to submit an initiative and referendum proposal to the voters, said he told Bryant "to go jump in the creek."

"I'm still convinced that Gov. Clements can get initiative and referendums passed without a special session, if he vows to veto a rigged primary bill that would throw $5 million in taxes down the drain," Bryant said.

Clayton contends a March presidential primary would force candidates to combat Texas issues. It also would let conservative Democrats vote for Connally in the GOP presidential primary then support conservative candidates in the Democratic primary for state offices in May.

Rep. Susan McBee, D-Del Rio, chairman of the House Elections Committee, said she knows of no bill on the House calendar that could become a presidential primary vehicle.

"This is another example of the paranoia that seems to be rampant this session," she said.

Two "Killer Bee" senators who broke a Senate quorum for five days to thwart a separate-day primary bill expressed concern over reports of House efforts to keep the idea alive.

"We're trying to get the House members cranked up," said Sen. Ron Clower, D-Garland.

Sen. Lloyd Doggett, D-Austin, said, "I think they want to pass that split primary bill so bad that they're looking at any bill that has 'election' on it."

Doggett said 80 House members oppose the measure and, "If all those people stand by their word on the presidential primary bill better than our Republican members did over here, we ought to be secure."

Clayton also said a rider in the state budget bill that would deny state funding of the 1980 Republican primaries if the GOP has a presidential primary without legislative approval would be changed or removed.

GOP rules provided a presidential primary, and Clements said he would veto the entire appropriation bill if the rider stays in.

Clayton said the U.S. Justice Department is exploring the possibility of a violation of the Voting Rights Act if the GOP holds a state-funded presidential primary but Democrats do not.

Surprised To Receive Roses

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)-Sandi Crandell says she doesn't know who sent her 248 dozen roses. The card said, "A rose for each day I have known you," and asked, "Do you like peanut butter and jelly sandwiches?"

"I was floored," she said. It took florists 20 minutes to unload the nearly 3,000 roses from the truck they rented for the delivery.

Greg Parrish of The Flower Patch Shop won't say who the mysterious admirer is, only that he gave the buyer a break on his usual price of $10.48 a dozen.

Miss Crandell was busy giving most of them away Wednesday to friends, neighbors, hospitals and nursing homes.

"Tell whoever sent them thanks," she said. "And if he cares to reveal himself, I don't bite."

Legislative Action Wednesday

AUSTIN (AP)-Here are highlights of Wednesday's session at the Legislature:

Senate:

SJR15, repealing the 10-cent state property tax, tentatively approved, 14-10.

SB551, regulating architects and landscape architects, accepted House amendments on voice vote and sent to the governor.

SB921, creating a 21-member Texas Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Council, accepted House amendments on voice vote and sent to the governor.

SB1222, creating a dental advisory committee in the state health department, accepted House amendments on voice vote and sent to the governor.

SB41, regulating the drilling of water wells in the Edwards Underground Water District, accepted House amendments, 31-0, and sent to the governor.

SB10, raising the maximum interest on loans of $250,000 and over to 18 percent, accepted House amendments on voice vote and sent to the governor.

SB767, licensing home health care agencies, accepted House amendments on voice vote and sent to the governor.

SB324, probationary period for county jailers, accepted House amendments on voice vote and sent to the governor.

SB1157, reorganizing the Texas Commission for the Deaf, accepted House amendments on voice vote and sent to the governor.

SB296, establishing a housing program for families of low and moderate income, refused to accept House amendments and granted conference committee.

SB463, transferring the Waco State Home from the Texas Youth Council to the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, accepted House amendments on voice vote and sent to the governor.

SB313, consolidating the Board of Registration for Public Surveyors and the Board of Examiners for Licensed Land Surveyors, accepted House amendments, 31-0, and sent to the governor.

SB797, regulating certified public accountants, refused to accept House amendments and granted conference committee.

SB287, preserving the State Bar of Texas, refused House amendments and granted conference committee.

SB1275, administering development corporations, accepted House amendments, 31-0, and sent to the governor.

Davis Weds In Midnight Rites

FORT WORTH (AP)-Karen Master and Cullen Davis were married at 12:50 a.m. today within an hour of the expiration of the 30-day waiting period after his divorce from Priscilla Childers Davis.

Shortly after midnight - as soon as the law allowed - the couple went to the home of Tarrant County Clerk Madrin Huffman and bought their marriage license, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram said in a copyright story in late morning editions today.

The wedding was at the home of Davis' longtime friends, Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Hudgins and was attended by about 25 friends and family members.

The Rev. Dick McCreath, Fort Worth Presbyterian minister, officiated. He was assisted by the Rev. John H. Stanley Jr., rector of Trinity Episocopal Church.

The couple will pass up a wedding trip to begin moving immediately into the $6 million Davis mansion on Mockingbird Lane.

"We plan to re-decorate one room at a time," the new Mrs. Davis said.

Davis still faces three felony charges in connection with the August 1976 shooting at the mansion and a July 9 re-trial date on a charge he plotted to hire a hit man to kill District Judge Joe H. Eidson Jr., the original judge in his divorce from Priscilla.

THE BUNKERS -- Edith and Archie Bunker (June Deen and Haskell Beard off-stage), entertained visitors to the Senior Center Wednesday with a lively debate on whether or not to pay a visit to the center. "Archie" finally succumbed to "Edith's" cajoling and was pleased to find old friends enjoying the center's activities.

Senior Center Has Busy Week Here

"Get Acquainted Week" in the Scurry County Senior Citizens Center has attracted some first-time visitors and brought entertainment enjoyed by all, Gloria Shaw, director of the center, said.

"It's been a great week for us," Mrs. Shaw commented, adding that there is still Friday left for other first-time visitors to come. Friday's special program, starting about 11:30 a.m., will feature music by The Swingers from Snyder High School.

Friday is the regular day for blood pressures to be checked in the center, and the Senior Center Choir will rehearse at 1 p.m.

A nutritious meal is served at noon in the center Monday through Friday and senior citizens who would like to eat there are welcome to join the group.

Mrs. Shaw welcomes inquiries about activities at the center and encourages all senior citizens to visit the center to learn more about activities in which they would like to participate.

Ex-Amarillo Cop Sentenced To Five Years

AUSTIN (AP) - A former Amarillo policeman has been sentenced to five years in prison for kidnapping.

An Austin jury deliberated an hour and 40 minutes Tuesday before convicting Jimmy Paul Vanderbilt of the March 1975 abduction of Jerre Tucker, 25, the only prosecution witness against Vanderbilt.

The former police officer still faces a capital murder charge in connection with the shooting death a month later, in April 1975, of 16-year-old Katina Moyer, the daughter of former State Rep. Hudson Moyer. No date has been scheduled for that trial set to be heard in Beaumont.

Vanderbilt's kidnapping trial had been moved from Amarillo to Austin on a change of venue, but State District Judge George Dowlen of Amarillo retained jurisdiction and presided over the trial.

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals last March overturned Vanderbilt's earlier conviction and death sentence in the Moyer case.

Walk-A-Thon Is Postponed

A Walk-A-Thon which had been scheduled for Saturday by the Heart Association has been postponed because of numerous end-of-school conflicts.

Randy Perkins, chairman of the event, said it would be rescheduled in September.

This John Is Flushed With Rage

By Abigail Van Buren

1979 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Women recently set up a howl because hurricanes were being named after them. Considering the destructive nature of hurricanes, they had a legitimate beef. To satisfy the women, weathermen started calling hurricanes "himacanes" and even named some after men. Last year there was a beaut off the coast of Mexico which was called John.

Well, John happens to be my name, and it has already been badly abused.

John was perfectly respectable name until women started using it to refer to the toilet. Then streetwalkers began calling their customers "johns."

Also, when a woman wants to break off a relationship with her boyfriend, she writes him a "Dear John" letter even though his name might be Harry.

I object.

JOHN IN FLORIDA

DEAR JOHN: Object if you will, but Johns have also been honored over the years. We've had popes named John, kings named John, and four presidents named John. And don't forget the Johnny-come-latelys. Objection overruled!

DEAR ABBY: Maybe I'm too sentimental, overly sensitive, or just plain petty, but I have to get this off my chest!

For all the years before my daughter was married, on Mother's Day she'd remember me with a lovely card to which she'd add a sweet personal message. Now that she's married, she still sends me Mother's Day cards, but they are always "TO GRANDMA, from Little Julie, Jack and Jim."

Now, Abby, I adore my grandchildren, but I am not their mother! Although my daughter buys, signs, and sends those cards "to Grandma," they are not an adequate substitute for a Mother's Day card from her. It would mean so much if she would scribble a little message, saying, "Mom, I love you. Have a nice day . . ." or something like that.

I hope you publish my letter because my daughter never misses your column. There! I feel better already. Thanks, Abby.

ME IN SUFFOLK, VA.

~~DEAR ME: Mission accomplished.~~

DEAR ABBY: Our 22-year-old son has had his own apartment for nearly a year. His girlfriend recently moved in. She is 21. We aren't very happy about it, but at least they told us themselves rather than let us hear it from friends.

The girl's parents also live in this city. We have never met them and have no idea how they feel about their daughter living with a fellow without marriage.

Should we make any effort to meet the girl's parents? I have heard that if a couple marries and the parents haven't met, the groom's parents should make the first move to meet the parents of the girl. Is this correct? And does it apply to live-ins, too?

We have a married daughter. When we invite her and her husband to dinner, should we include our son and his live-in friend just as though they were married, too?

Please help us, Abby. This living together business for young people is something we are totally uninformed about. Thank you.

RESPECTABLE PEOPLE

DEAR RESPECTABLE: When you invite your son to dinner, invite his girlfriend, too.

Make no overtures to the girl's parents until (and unless) your son suggests it.

The teen years are the questioning years, Abby has the answers to all your questions in her booklet, "What Teenagers Want to Know." Enclose $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents), self-addressed envelope.

Erma Bombeck Tells Why Socks Go AWOL

How many times have you put three pairs of brown socks into the washer — and only got two-and-a-half pairs back? If Erma Bombeck's mailbag is any indication, it's more commonplace than the common cold.

In a recent "At Wit's End" column, Erma described one of her losing battles of the socks. Thousands of readers wrote in, sharing their experiences. Now, in a special three-part series starting May 27, Erma tells some of the ways the washing machine socks it to us.

It's a delightful romp through the "futility room". It's Erma Bombeck's special "At Wit's End" columns.

Property Tax Bill Gets Tentative Approval

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP)—"Grandson of Peveto," a property tax appraisal bill that has endured more perils than Pauline, gained tentative House approval Wednesday, 72-66.

The bill would create a single office in each county to appraise property for cities and taxing districts. County governments could have their own separate appraisal offices if they wished.

A final House vote was scheduled today. Passage would return the bill to the Senate for a crucial decision whether to accept changes made by the House.

Rejection by senators would tie the bill, like the hapless maiden in old-time movie thrillers, to the railroad tracks with the locomotive of final adjournment bearing down.

"Your people are going to love this bill," grinned Rep. Wayne Peveto, D-Orange, at the outset of House debate.

The bill is nicknamed "Grandson of Peveto" because this is the third straight legislative session in which Peveto has crusaded for a single appraisal system.

In 1975 and 1977, the bill made it through one chamber of the Legislature but not the other.

Peveto abandoned several controversial provisions of his previous bills and concentrated on the single appraisal concept, which Gov. Bill Clements has endorsed.

"Taxpayers won't have to appear before three or four or five boards of equalization. They would only have to appear before one," Peveto told the House.

Rep. Lynn Nabers, D-Brownwood, objected that the bill would replace long-accepted local assessing practices with new rules dictated by the state.

Rep. Foster Whaley, D-Pampa, said he would vote against the long, complex bill because Peveto had once advised him.

"If you don't understand a bill, always vote no."

Although counties could have independent tax appraisal offices, Peveto predicted most would voluntarily join the new local appraisal districts his bill would create.

Some water districts also could have their own appraisers.

Corn, potatoes, tomatoes, squash and beans were unknown in Europe until the early explorers brought them back from the Americans.

Snyderite In Army Reserve Promoted

AUSTIN—Wade McCarty, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.J. McCarty, 907 27th, has been promoted in the U.S. Army Reserves to the rank of Chief Warrant Officer Two. McCarty is a 1966 graduate of Snyder High School and married to the former Carol Elme of Snyder. He teaches drafting at Lanier High School in Austin.

McCarty joined the Army in 1971 and entered the reserve unit in 1974. He is chief of a team engaged in imagery interpretaton on the company unit level.

John Wayne To Celebrate 72 Saturday

LOS ANGELES (AP)—John Wayne, the cancer-stricken hero of 200 movies, will celebrate his 72nd birthday Saturday with a gold medal from Congress and the prayers of countless fans.

Wayne is in stable condition after a May 2 operation that revealed cancer in his intestine. He was reported gaining strength and has been taking short walks down hospital cordors.

Plans for the birthday were not available Wednesday, but hospital spokesman Al Hicks said Wayne will get at least one birthday cake.

And the House approved a bill authorizing a congressional gold medal, one of 84 ever minted, to honor the actor.

Cotton

NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton futures No. 2 were higher at midday dealings today.

The average price for strict low middling 1 1-16 inch spot cotton declined 82 points to 59.41 cents a pound Wednesday for the ten leading markets, according to the New York Cotton Exchange.

Late afternoon prices were 65 cents to $1.60 a bale higher than the previous close. Jul 60.34, Oct. 61.70, and Dec 61.35.

Grain

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat No 2 hard red winter 3.65¼n Thursday; No 2 soft red winter 3.85¼n. Corn No 2 yellow 2.68n hopper 2.62n box. Oats No 2 heavy 1.48¾n. Soybeans No 1 yellow 7.28¼n.

No 2 yellow corn Wednesday was quoted at 2.67¾n hopper 2.61¾n box.

Probe Report Of Exposure

City police are investigating a woman's complaint that a man exposed himself to her Wednesday afternoon at Varsity Square Shopping Center.

The incident was reported to the police department about 5:10 p.m.

Also yesterday, a minor traffic accident was reported. It is alleged to have occurred, however, about 7:10 p.m. Tuesday. It involved a parked 1965 Dodge pickup owned by Aubrey Gene Williams Sr. Of Hermleigh and second vehicle which left the scene.

About 4:15 a.m. today, police were dispatched to the city dog pound to investigate a break-in. Reports show that locks on two gates had been sawed off and that the dogs inside had been turned loose.

SIDE GLANCES

"It can't be so horrible...it has no arms to hold a guitar and no mouth to sing punk rock songs!"
