HST Takes Oath In Gala Inaugural Today

STORM SNARLS TRAFFIC—Trolley buses stack up behind a stalled vehicle in downtown Kansas City, Mo., as the heaviest snow storm of the season struck the city. Traffic was at a standstill as snow fell at the rate of an inch an hour. Last night, the Weather bureau said the Kansas City area was buried under an eight-inch snow blanket that forced the closing of schools and blocked many Missouri highways. (AP Wirephoto.)

Pampa Man Offered City Manager Post

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

STEVE MATHEWS, 36, Pampa city manager, will advise the city commission here today whether he is available for consideration for appointment as Lubbock city manager.

He made this statement late Wednesday in a long distance conversation with The Morning Avalanche, but declined to give any inkling as to what his decision might be.

"I cannot make an announcement for several reasons," he said during the conversation. "Anything I might say would be subject to change. But I promised to let the Lubbock city commission know by Thursday (today) whether I am interested in the job, and will do that."

No "Deal" Completed

His statement was the latest of several developments which followed the confirmation Wednesday of rumors that the commission is considering Mathews as the successor to Marlin R. Smith, jr., whose resignation as Lubbock city manager is to be effective Feb. 15.

Prospects still appeared considerably confused Wednesday night. Mathews emphasized he did not apply for the job here. He and members of the Lubbock city commission agreed that no definite deal between them has been completed.

But all confirmed that Mathews visited Lubbock and conferred with the city commission after Smith announced his resignation last Friday.

Snags May Be Hit

It was agreed also that Mathews has been given the first opportunity to accept or refuse the job here. If he advises the city commission he is available, there appeared no question as to his being appointed at the $12,000 a year salary Smith now receives. The Pampa position pays approximately $8,000 a year, Lubbock officials were advised.

However, the possibility that the appointment might hit any of several snags was acknowledged.

One concerned the question as to how the Pampa city commission might react to Mathew's contemplated change. Previous announcement of the conferences with the Lubbock city commission were withheld, officials here ex-

TWO ROOKIE COPS ARREST SUSPECT IN EL PASO

Ex-Convict Confesses Slaying Of Oklahoma City Attorney Who Prosecuted Him In Robbery Trial

(By The Associated Press)

EL PASO, Jan. 19.—Police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation announced late today that Roy Frank Godbey has confessed he killed an Oklahoma City lawyer who once sent him to prison.

The announcement was made jointly by acting Chief of Police J. W. Fitzgerald and FBI special agent D. K. Brown.

They said Godbey, arrested here early today, signed a statement that he shot and killed Earl Pruet on Jan. 11 in an Oklahoma City skyscraper office.

Prior to that, the tired and travel-stained prisoner had stoutly maintained he was not to blame.

At the same time, however Godbey defiantly asserted he should have poisoned a town's water supply and otherwise avenged himself for a "framed" robbery conviction.

Officers here declined to release more details on Godbey's statement. They said statements made by Godbey were now under investigation.

Godbey told reporters, however, that he threw the gun used in the shooting out of a bus window when he left Oklahoma City after the slaying.

Earlier Godbey had waived extradition. Oklahoma officers enroute here to return him to Oklahoma City were not expected until tomorrow.

In launching a southwest-wide manhunt last week Oklahoma officers had said Pruet was slain for vengeance. Godbey was charged with murder after witnesses identified him from photographs as the man who killed Pruet.

In talking to police and reporters earlier in the day—before the dramatic announcement came that he had confessed—the 52-year-old

Truman Slates Prime Foreign Policy Talk

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Harry S. Truman will utilize the most dramatic moment of his life—his inauguration tomorrow at noon—to issue what he considers his most important foreign policy statement.

His intimates in this heaving, jumping carnival-town tonight agreed that the 33rd president, in the first moments of his full four-year term of office, will make an unprecedented demand that the truculent nations of the world follow the peace principles of the United States.

Just how extensive is the Truman peace plan remained a secret shared by the President and a handful of his closest advisers, who worked with him on what he feels is the most important speech of his career.

Capital Goes "All Out"

His remarks, to be broadcast to a tensely waiting world, and the solmenity of the two-Bible oath-taking ceremony, will be the only sober-sided aspect of the biggest, brassiest blowout that staid old Washington ever saw. Not since Jackson's day has normally blase Washington gone as "all out" for an inauguration.

Indeed, the speech and the taking of the oath will be the only serious facets of the President's busy schedule. That schedule neared its peak speed today as he raced from a luncheon with his party's finance committee, thence to a reception given by governor of Missouri Forrest Smith, then to the electors dinner, then to a bizarre "gala" featuring hundreds of Hollywood and Broadway stars.

The President's appearance before his chief financial backers at lunch today afforded him opportunity to say that he will aim to give service to the people in general, not to special interests.

To Rise At 5:30 A.M.

He rejected the formal resignation of the finance committee of the Democratic national committee, and called on its members to remain on the job during the next four years, ". . . to work to implement our program."

The 64-year-old former haberdasher, World War I artilleryman, judge, senator and vice president will begin the busiest day of

Freezing Rain Forecast Here

FREEZING drizzle this morning, occasional rain this afternoon and Friday may contribute to the South Plains' growing reservoir of soil moisture, the Weather bureau forecast last night.

While the South Plains' temperatures were relatively cold they were in sharp contrast to blizzard conditions that existed over much of the Midwest states where high winds and snow again battered big cities, snarling traffic, and inflicting new damage in agricultural areas.

Warm Up Forecast

Temperatures are expected to remain cold over this area until this afternoon when a general warming up is expected to set in. A low of 15 to 18 is forecast for this morning, with a high of 34 to 37 coming during the afternoon. Friday's readings probably will range from a low of 25 to a high of 43 degrees, the weather station north of Lubbock said.

The new precipitation today likely will come from a warm mass of air "overriding" the present cold front that is holding over this area, the weatherman said. Friday's predicted rain will be brought by a storm that is now moving in from the Pacific coast. The Pacific storm, a low pressure area, is expected to bring more warm air into the South Plains with resulting occasional rains.

The Pacific front probably will bring clear skies to the Plains this weekend, the weatherman explained.

Temperatures Stay Low

Wednesday's temperatures failed to clear the freezing mark despite the brilliant sunshine that flooded most of the area. The highest reading of the day was 29 degrees, a seven degree rise from the early morning minimum.

The Associated Press weather summary last night reported that

Drew Story Faces Five-Year Prison Term

Hobbs Man Is Found Guilty In Bomb Case

By R. C. HANKINS
Avalanche Staff Writer

A jury verdict of guilty was returned by a 99th district court jury at 4:50 p.m. Wednesday in the case of Drew Story, and a sentence of five years in the state penitentiary recommended.

Story, 42, of Hobbs, N.M., was convicted of placing dynamite in an office of Texas, New Mexico & Oklahoma Coaches, Inc., with intent to "injure property."

The dynamite bomb was exploded the early morning of June 14 in the office of Hurley Carpenter, assistant general manager of the bus company. None was injured, but there was property damage. Union drivers of the company were on strike at the time.

Appeal Is Indicated

In response to queries of newsmen, J. E. Vickers, defense counsel, indicated that Story will appeal from the conviction.

The jury received the case at 3 p.m., court officials said, after argument of counsel. Assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr made the opening argument for the state, followed by Vickers and then by District Attorney Lloyd Croslin, who closed for the state.

The jury verdict was signed by Howard Medlock as foreman.

Preparation of a jury charge required the entire morning.

Evidence Concluded Tuesday

Evidence was concluded late Tuesday. The state introduced as one of its 12 witnesses Clyde Lomax, 24, former Hobbs policeman who gave evidence against Story. Lomax testified that he, Lomax, placed the bomb in the bus terminal but that Story had assisted him by accompanying him here from Hobbs, driving the car in which he said he had placed dynamite and fuse and caps, and acting as lookout when Lomax admittedly fashioned the bomb.

The state desperately sought to corroborate that accomplice testimony, as is required for final conviction, but could find no "outside" witnesses who could identify Story as having been seen that night nearer to Lubbock than

Taft Accused Of Using Filibuster

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19—Senator Pepper (D-Fla) today angrily accused Senator Taft (R-Ohio) of resorting to filibuster tactics to block repeal of the Taft-Hartley law.

"He won't get away with it," Pepper declared.

The Pepper-Taft row got started yesterday at a Senate Labor committee meeting.

Pepper told the committee that on Friday he will move to send to the Senate floor right away, without hearings, a bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley law and restore the old Wagner act.

Delay Is Threatened

Taft, a co-author of the Taft-Hartley measure, retorted that if Pepper carries out his plan, he (Taft) will offer "one by one" a long series of amendments designed to delay action on the motion.

Taft estimated it would take at least a couple of weeks for the committee to complete debate on his amendments.

Today, Pepper quickly interrupted a reporter who started to ask about his reaction to what Taft has in mind.

"Yes, I've heard about that," Pepper snapped. "It's a filibuster. This is the first time Senator Taft has appeared as a champion of filibustering. I had understood the Republicans were committed to the idea of ending filibustering."

Taft Claimed Obstinate

Pepper was alluding to a GOP pledge to help change the Senate rules to prevent legislation from being talked to death by opponents. The Democratic leadership also is backing the proposed rule change. However, it would apply on the Senate floor and not in committees.

"In his usual obstinate way, Senator Taft is trying to block a showdown on this issue," Pepper said, "and it is clear he is going

Emory W. Hood, Garza County Resident, Dies In Dallas Hotel

POST, Jan. 19. (Special) — Emory Wayland Hood, 49, Garza county resident for about 25 years, was found dead in his room in a downtown hotel in Dallas today.

The body is to be returned here Thursday morning by Mason Funeral home ambulance, the funeral home reported tonight. Definite funeral arrangements have not been made, although services likely will be conducted at the Central Baptist church west of Post near the Grassland community. It was not known tonight whether burial will be at Post or at Grassland.

Hood, who farmed about 12 miles west of Post, was in Dallas for treatment at a hospital in that city, it was reported here tonight. Dallas police and a justice of the peace there said Hood died from natural causes and had been dead for at least two days. His body was found by the building engineer of the hotel.

Survivors include the wife; a son, Wayland Hood, of near Post: his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hood, who reside west of Post; a brother, Bryan Hood of Plainview; and two sisters.

ARGUMENTS AGAIN SLOW TRIAL

Communists' Defense Attorneys Assail New York Jury System

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Jan. 19—Defense attorneys for the 11 top Communists on trial for conspiracy against the government challenged the New York jury system today and argued that the method of selection is unconstitutional.

The entire day in the court of Federal Judge Harold R. Medina was consumed by the protracted defense arguments despite repeated indications from the bench that the court was anxious to get on with the trial.

Judge Medina will decide when the court reconvenes tomorrow whether to permit arguments on the validity of the jury system to continue.

United States Attorney John F. X. McGohey moved at one time to strike out the defense motion challenging the method of jury selection in the southern district of New York. Judge Medina, however, refrained from making any decision on the McGohey proposal.

Earlier Judge Medina had rejected a defense motion that a federal judge outside the district hear the challenge of the defense

10 Are Killed In Ship Crash

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Appredawn collision between the cutter Eastwind and an oil tanker in a fog bank today killed 10 Coast Guardsmen and set fire to the war-honored Coast Guard vessel.

Twenty-one were injured in the crash, off the New Jersey coast.

Nearly 12 hours after the Eastwind was rammed, 17 of her injured were brought to Brooklyn aboard the rescue vessel, S. S. Suzanne.

Four other injured men, along with 79 not hurt, arrived aboard another rescue ship, S. S. Junior.

Flames Threaten Ammunition

The Suzanne's rescue workers, struggling in chilling winds and rough seas, took an hour and a quarter to transfer the 17 by lifeboat from the flaming Eastwind, whose World War II exploits made it one of the Coast Guard's outstanding combat vessels.

For a while towering flames threatened to explode the cutter s magazine. But 47 of her uninjured crew, including eight officers, stuck to her charred decks and brought the fire under control seven hours after the crash occurred.

The Eastwind later was taken in tow by the Coast Guard cutter Sassafras. The vessels were expected to reach New York tomorrow morning.

Hit Amidships

The collision occurred at about 3:30 a. m. (EST) about 60 miles southeast of Barnegat light. This is about 100 miles southeast of New York City and 43 miles east of Atlantic City, N. J.

The skipper, Capt. John A. Glynn, radioed the cutter was hit amidships in the starboard side where chief petty officers were

Chiang's Cabinet Proposes Truce

NANKING, Jan. 19. (AP)—The cabinet of Chiang Kai-Shek's reeling government today proposed an immediate truce in the civil war and early peace talks, but apparently only after bitter debate.

So fiercely did the struggle rage over this second peace move in three weeks that Premier Sun Fo reportedly threatened to resign unless the ministers voted for negotiations with the Communists.

An official announcement said the "government" was making known its "desire" for peace. It did not mention President Chiang Kai-Shek, who under the constitution must give final approval of any peace move.

Officials To Move

The step came as Pieping's surrender in the north appeared to be hanging on new negotiations, as the Reds neared the Yangtze and as the government announced that on Friday the foreign office and some other ministries will move south. Most of them will go to Canton.

The U.S. joint advisory group also prepared to end by Saturday all functions in Nanking except for a token force of top officers, it was learned reliably. The rest of

GM Announces Price Increases For New Line Of Chevrolets

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (INS) — General Motors corporation tonight announced an average increase of 7½ per cent in prices of its new line of Chevrolet passenger cars.

W. F. Armstrong, general manager of the Chevrolet Motor division, said the increases took into consideration only the additional costs faced in the development and manufacture of a completely new design, and the tooling and reconversion of Chevrolet plants.

He pointed out that more than 50 million dollars was spent on the 1949 product, compared to approximately 15 million dollars for a changeover in the pre-war period.

The lowest priced new model is the Fleetline special two-door sedan, with a list price of $1,340. The highest priced model is the Styleline deluxe convertible coupe with a price tag of $1,760.

Two Persons Injured In Traffic Mishaps

Severe damage was done to vehicles in two wrecks Wednesday night in and near Lubbock, but injury to persons involved was slight, investigating officers said.

Mrs. Elsie S. Merriman, 37, of 3008 Twenty-sixth, was treated at Lubbock Memorial hospital for an abrasion of the left ankle and a contusion of the left hip, injuries suffered in a collision about 5:30 p. m. at the intersection of Eighteenth and Ave. J. A Rix ambulance carried her to the hospital.

Mrs. Merriman was going north on Ave. J and had almost completed the crossing of Eighteenth street when her 1941 Buick was struck from the right by a 1942 Chevrolet pickup truck driven by Haskell D. Pool, 17, of Anton route 2. Pool was given a ticket charging negligent collision, the investigating police patrolman said.

A miraculous escape kept a Lubbock man's name off the list of victims of "cemetery curve" on Slaton highway early last night.

Smylie C. Wilson, about 68, was driving his 1947 Dodge coach from Slaton toward Lubbock when he failed to "make" the curve, the vehicle striking a telephone pole. He was taken to Lubbock Memorial hospital by a Rix ambulance and treated for bruises and abrasions. X-rays were taken, but no fractures were discovered, hospital attendants said. The car was demolished when it struck the pole, highway patrolmen said.

Last Rites For L. V. Vivian, Slaton Rancher, Set Today

Funeral services for L. V. Vivian, 73, Slaton rancher who died about noon Wednesday in Lubbock Memorial hospital, are to be conducted at 2 p.m. today in the First Methodist church of Matador, with Rev W. B. Vaughn, retired Methodist minister of Matador, officiating.

Burial will follow in East Mound cemetery at Matador with Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral home here directing.

Mr. Vivian had been a patient in the hospital about six days. Survivors were not known here last night.

President In Top Form For Program

Demos Go 'All Out' At Capital Dinner

By CHAS. A. GUY, EDITOR
Lubbock Avalanche-Journal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (Special)—If this little piece doesn't fit together in all its joints it's due to one—or both—of two reasons and for which we hope readers will forgive us.

In the first place, this is the first time we've ever made a living while wearing soup and fish. And in the second place, we've turned to the typewriter after our first dinner with the president of the United States—not to mention the vice president-elect, all but one of the members of the Supreme Court; all the members of the cabinet and, no doubt, the assistant postmaster (a deserving Democrat) from Wahoo Center, Wis.

Messrs. Truman and Barkley were right behind home plate and we were in deep left field. We aren't crying. The dinner, staged by the presidential electors of the United States at twelve bucks fifty cents a copy, was a big success. It not only filled the Rhode Island size gold room of Washington's swank Mayflower hotel with fortunate recipients of engraved invitations, but jammed five slightly smaller dinner rooms as well, where diners heard and saw the program by television.

Come to think about it, we were pretty lucky to be in left field of the principal dinner room, instead of in the basement sapphire room with the second cousin of the boss of southside Chicago's Ward 2. After all, we probably were the only guys in the joint who didn't vote for Truman-Barkley, with the exception of electors from South Carolina, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama—plus an assistant cameraman of the television crew.

Television In Spotlight

Speaking of television, this new form of anaesthetic was used here tonight for the first time in the 160-odd year history of the Electoral college and everybody tried to get into the act. One guy from Texas, we regret to report, made so many strolls around the Gold room that acquaintances feared he was suffering from amnesia until they discovered that he was only trying to maneuver himself in front of the video gadget.

Mr. Truman was in fine form in

Frenchman Claims American Men Are Poor Love Makers

By JAMES PADGETT
INS Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19.—Claude Marsan, the pint-sized Frenchman who claims he knows everything there is to know about the subject of love, insisted today that his "l'amour - toujours - l'amour" lectures were clean as the driven snow.

Cross-examined on the second-day of his Los Angeles trial after an opening-day shocker in which he repeated the "art of love" talk, which police claimed was obscene, the 39-year-old Frenchman denied all charges brought by deputy city prosecutor Robert Burns.

Gulps Glasses Of Water

Marsan evinced no stage fright yesterday when, in company with shapely Barbara Weir, clad in the "too revealing" gown she wore at the show the police raided, he told a middle-aged municipal court jury that American males are "sadly lacking" when it comes to lovemaking.

Today, however, Marsan gulped glass after glass of water and appeared to have been seized with a first class case of the jitters.

The love lecturer denied that he had ever advocated free love.

There were explosive "non! nons!" when the prosecutor asked him if he had recommended pre-marital or extra-marital relations.

He was most vehement when prosecutor Burns wanted to know if his public lectures might be termed "obscene or lewd." Marsan had this to say:

"Certainly they are not ob-

ARMISTICE DRAFTED

TEL AVIV, Israe, Jan. 19. (AP)—The first draft of an Israeli-Lebanese armistice agreement was written today at the Lebanese frontier village of Ras En Naqura, a reliable source said here. The agreement was drawn up after conferences between representatives of the Lebanese government and an Israeli delegation.

Bevin Again Averts Showdown On Israel

LONDON, Jan. 19. (INS)—Prime Minister Attlee admitted today that he and his ministers ordered reconnaissance flights over the Egyptian-Israeli border by five RAF planes which were shot down by Jewish gunners Jan. 7.

The admission was made in the House of Commons on a demand by Winston Churchill, Conservative party leader, for information on the origin of the order.

Foreign Secretary Bevin again staved off an attack on his Palestine policy by members of his own Labor party by the expedient of failing to show up at a scheduled meeting.

Informed sources said Bevin had mollified some of his critics by announcing Britain's readiness to release Jews detained on Cyprus and indicating the government is considering recognition of Israel. These sources predicted recognition by Britain may not be far off.

SOVIET CO-OPERATION URGED

Lovett Hurls Blunt Challenge At New Red Peace Offensive

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. — Undersecretary of State Lovett today challenged a budding Russian peace offensive with the declaration that actions—not words—are what count in ending the cold war.

He suggested the Soviets should co-operate in solving the Berlin crisis and completing an Austrian independence treaty if they are sincere in saying they want to improve relations between East and West.

Lovett told a news conference that American officials are very much interested in assertions by various Communist leaders abroad that such an improvement is possible and that the United States and the Soviet Union particularly can get along in peace.

Proof Is Demanded

Other officials said the recent outcropping of such statements indicates that Communist leaders —notably Marcel Cachin in France and Palmiro Togliatti in Italy — evidently have received some secret directive from Moscow, aimed at starting a new peace maneuver.

Lovett's insistence on what he

Electoral Setup Okay With HST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (AP)—President Truman, in a pre-inaugural talk tonight, opposed abolition of the electoral college.

"I'm in favor of letting the constitutional provisions for electors stay as they have been for the last 160 years," the President said at a dinner given by members of the college.

A "who's who" of top figures in government turned out to honor the President and Vice President-elect Barkley at the affair.

Mimicks Commentator

The President, in one part of his speech, mimicked the style of radio commentator H. V. Kaltenborn. He satirized Kaltenborn's election night broadcast in which, the President indicated, the radio commentator forecast a Republican victory on the basis of early returns.

The electoral college has been the target of critics who charge that it is outmoded, and sometimes leads to thwarting the will of the people.

Under the electoral system, each state has as many votes as it has members of Congress, and the candidate who carries the state, no matter by how small a margin, is supposed to get the state's entire electoral vote. On three occasions in the past, candidates with a majority of the nation's popular vote lost the election.

A number of Democrats and Republicans have introduced resolutions in the new Congress call-

JOHN Q. ADAMS' INAUGURATION MOST SIMPLE

Andrew Jackson, 'Peoples' President,' Can Claim Wildest Inaugural Day Of Any American Executive

(EDITOR'S NOTE: As Washington prepares for the gala inauguration of President Truman, Stefan Lorant, noted authority on American history, has unearthed many new facts about the inaugural ceremonies of previous American presidents.

This is another article in a series by Mr. Lorant highlighting the most dramatic episodes of presidential inaugurations since the birth of the republic.)

By STEFAN LORANT
(Written Exclusively For INS)

When John Quincy Adams—who followed Monroe in the presidency—was notified that the House of Representatives had selected him for the highest office in the land, he became so excited that "sweat rolled down his face. He shook from head to foot and was so agitated he could hardly stand to speak."

His inauguration was simple and dignified. He took the oath, delivered his address, and returned home to dine. In the evening he stayed for a while at the inaugural ball at Carusi's Hall, but soon went back to the White House and wrote in his diary:

"I closed the day as it had begun with Thanksgiving to God for all his mercies and favors past, and with prayers for the continuance of them to my country and to myself and mine."

Faced Quick Opposition

At the very beginning of his term, the president ran into trouble from the supporters of Andrew Jackson.

They said that he had secured the presidency through a corrupt bargain with Henry Clay, who switched his own vote to Adams when the election was thrown into the House of Representatives. For this Clay was made Secretary of State.

Jackson was defeated, but the campaign for the next election began immediately and lasted four full years. For the Jackson men it was a people's crusade and its goal was the election of "Old Hickory" in 1828.

After a virulent contest in which the Puritan Adams was accused of making use of a beautiful girl to seduce the passions of Emperor Alexander (Czar of Russia) and sway him to political purposes," the candidate of the people, Andrew Jackson, won.

The Democratic spirit of the country made itself felt. The people did not care that Jackson was called an adulterer, a gambler, a cock-fighter, a bigamist, a drunkard, a murderer, a thief and a liar. They voted for him anyway.

Was Big Day In Capital

The whole country seemed to converge on Washington for inauguration day.

Daniel Webster wrote that the capital had never seen such a crowd before. Persons have come 500 miles to see General Jackson, and they really seem to think that the country has been rescued from some dreadful danger.

Jackson was staying at Gadsby's. The hostelry was crowded with his supporters who roamed about the rooms, shook his hand, and waited for their rewards.

The General cut a sad figure among this cheerful and tumultuous mass. Only a few weeks before he had lost his beloved wife.

"He was in deep mourning," wrote an Englishwoman who saw him on his way to Washington. "He wore his grey hair carelessly but not ungracefully arranged, and in spite of his harsh, gaunt features looked like a gentleman and a soldier."

At half past 11, "The President-elect on foot, uncovered, surrounded on the right hand and the left by gigs, wood-wagons, vehicles of every sort crowded with women eager to be near the chief, and followed by the officers of his suite and hundreds of strangers without distinction of rank, walked to the capitol."

Was Inspiring Scene

At noon he delivered his inaugural address on the eastern portico and was sworn into office by Chief Justice John Marshall.

"The scene," wrote The American Daily Advertiser, "was a most beautiful and inspiring spectacle.

The grounds and gates, with the crowd of carriages without; the line of soldiers in the park; the towering flight of steps covered with members of Congress, officers of the Army, foreign ministers, ladies dressed in all the varying hues of fashion; the president; the crowd of heads and the innumerable eyes bent on one spot, all taken together presented to the outward eye an assemblage of images never to be forgotten."

Talk Was Short

Jackson's inaugural address was short—it did not take more than a few minutes to deliver.

When he finished, the rope which had been stretched across the steps was torn away, and with a wild shout the crowd surged forward to grasp the hand of the "people's president."

With great difficulty "Old Hickory" made his way to a horse, mounted it, and surrounded by a dense mass of admirers, started for the White House.

One who was there reports that "the President was literally pursued by a motley concourse of people, riding, running helter-skelter, striving who should first gain admittance into the executive mansion, where it was understood that refreshments were to be served.

Gobbled Up Drinks

The presidential mansion had never seen such a sight before.

Men from the country climbed with their muddy boots on damask chairs; they gobbled the drinks which the waiters brought in.

"One hundred and fifty dollar official chairs were profaned by the feet of clodhoppers." Justice Story noted: "I never saw such a mixture. The reign of King Mob seemed triumphant."

And another observer related:

"The noisy and disorderly rabble . . . brought to my mind descriptions I have read of the (French Revolution) mobs in the Tuileries and at Versailles."

Men, women, children, farmers, laborers, ambassadors entangled and filled every corner of the house.

Jackson Escapes "Party"

"High and low, old and young, black and white poured in one solid column into this spacious mansion.

"Here was the corpulent epicure grunting and sweating for breath, the dandy wishing he had no toes, the tight-laced miss, fearing her person might receive some permanently deforming impulse.

"Several thousands of dollars' worth of art glass and china were broken in the attempt to get at the refreshments: punch, lemonade, and other articles were carried out of the house in buckets and pails; women fainted; men were seen with bloody noses, and no police had been placed on duty."

Friends formed a cordon around the president, trying to protect him from the well-wishers.

Jackson was "sinking into a listless state of exhaustion."

Eventually he escaped through a back exit, hurried to his lodgings at Gadsby's and went to bed, while on the lawn of the White House the punch-drinking celebration went on throughout the night.

Survivors include her husband, two sons, Winfield of Corpus Christi and Radcliffe of Laredo, and a daughter, Mrs. John Hurd of Laredo.

Fort Worth Filling Stations Boost Price For Washing Cars

FORT WORTH, Jan. 19. (U.P.) — The price of car washing went up today at more than 200 filling stations in Fort Worth.

The stations jumped the car wash price to $1.50 today, with the hopes that stations throughout the city would follow suit.

Increased labor and material costs were given as reasons for the price hike. Other prices range around $1.

Houston Cafe Operator Builds Up Heavy Backlog Of Charges

HOUSTON, Jan. 19. (U.P.) — Al Syphrett, who likes to keep a "quiet" cafe, collected a backlog of four cases in county-court-at-law today.

The middle-aged cafe operator tried last night to calm things down in his establishment, allegedly using a pistol as a persuader.

J. W. Allison, 38-year-old construction worker, complained that he was just about to step into his car when Syphrett aimed a pistol at his feet and fired.

Syphrett said it was all a mistake, and that he had not fired a weapon of any kind.

"I merely ran the fellow out when he got to making too much noise. I like things quiet," he said.

Police reported they uncovered a smoking revolver under the counter.

Syphrett walked a familiar path into Justice Tom Maes' court. A charge of aggravated assault was added to other charges of carrying a pistol, driving while intoxicated and assault by auto in connection with a fracas at a tourist court here last Sept. 2.

Hope For Quick Agreement On North Atlantic Alliance Fades

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Early optimism over the ability of the Western Powers to reach quick agreement on the wording of the proposed Atlantic Alliance has given way to realization that a lot of work is still to be done.

Much tip-toeing goes on around the point where American reservations regarding freedom of action collide with the necessity for a pact strong enough to assure Western Europe of our full support and to serve as a definitive warning against aggression.

Mere determination of what each nation can contribute involves a lot of work.

But one big factor is not even under the control of the Washington conferees.

Scandinavians Slow Pact

They can't really do the job until they know where Scandinavia stands. The Scandinavians are having a lot of trouble deciding that among themselves.

Sweden is determined to maintain her neutrality. Heart and soul she is with the West. She is attaining a considerable degree of standardization with us in her munitions industry through orders from Britain and elsewhere. She is arming, and there is little doubt where she will stand in a crisis. But she sees no point in stirring up trouble by taking a formal, contractual stand which Russia would consider hostile.

At the same time, Sweden doesn't want to be pushed into isolated neutrality while Norway and Denmark tie up with the West. So Stockholm is proposing a "one-for-all" defense pact with her neighbors if they will stay out of the Atlantic pact.

Norway and Denmark, however, lean to the West. Under no illusions about the ability of Scandinavia to stand alone, they would like a regional defense agreement with Sweden which would permit alliance with the West also.

The U. S. is putting the pressure on all of them with its announced policy of lending military aid only to those who toe the whole-hog line. This must have rather shocked Sweden, who needs help in making any defense measures effective.

The U. S. policy isn't just political pressure. As long as there isn't enough war material to go around, it's naturally going to be allocated within the contractual family. When all's said and done, America's national security is the first consideration of everything we are doing.

I think there is some question whether this pressure on Sweden is good right now. If, as seems pretty sure, she is really going to be with us in time of crisis anyway, her signature on a piece of paper would merely create a new point of conflict with Russia without really changing the Allied military picture. The real change might come if she were driven into isolation.

HEALTH NEWS

STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS, RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS

and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

Drugless Health!

NO MATTER how long you have been suffering from stomach, kidney and rheumatic distress, and what drugs you have tried before, you can, now, hope for relief if you take GEO-MINERAL. With your eyes SEE the results seven days after you start taking it.

DRUGGISTS, Chemists cannot make GEO-MINERAL. It comes from the earth — Nature's laboratory. Contains NO dope, NO alcohol, NO oil. ONLY Nature's minerals—the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.

Wonder Minerals

FOR THOUSANDS of years sufferers, on advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to get cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Mineral Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

WE HAVE all heard of the miraculous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece, where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

IF YOU ARE a sufferer, and can not go to the mineral springs, try GEO-MINERAL which contains a blend of the same minerals that can be found at the world's best springs. The minerals in it may work miracles.

Amazing Results

WATCH your elimination from your bowels two or three days after you start using GEO-MINERAL. The waste, black as coal, will break away and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, and feel the relief. Be sure to watch for all this to realize its priceless value.

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite when your eyes lack that bright spark and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

Read What They Say!

"We wish to state that after selling Geo-Mineral for eight months, this product has broken all sales records in the medicine line in our drug store"—reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C. "Users report almost miraculous results, helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidneys, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the druggists' shelf with the merit of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few refunds.

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!

TRY it today! It may do wonders for you—and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

Mexican Confesses Second Torso Murder

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 19. (AP) — The Sacramento sheriff's office announced today Victoranio Corrales has confessed to having committed a second torso murder.

He did not immediately give the name of the victim but officers said it undoubtedly was that of the woman whose body was found in the steamboat slough, near Sacramento, June 21.

Corrales, a Mexican day laborer, was quoted by the sheriff's office yesterday as confessing that he had beaten Maria Pulido to death with a hammer, dismembered her body with an axe and thrown the pieces in the American river near Sacramento.

This admission led investigators to question him about the death of the woman whose mutilated body was found last June. The sheriff's office said he finally confessed killing and dismembering this woman, Alberta Gomez, who, like Miss Pulido, was a former resident of Corrales' home town, Irapuato, in the state of Guanajuato, Mexico.

Sheriff Don Cox said Corrales told him Miss Gomez was slain in the same shack in Brighton where Miss Pulido was killed.

Corrales was quoted as saying he used an axe to cut up the Gomez woman's body—the same implement used in dismembering Miss Pulido after he had beaten her to death with a hammer.

While this inquiry was in progress, officers last night recovered the body of a white man, also decapitated, from the river. He had not been identfied and, thus far, authorities have no idea who was responsible for his slaying.

Dallas Teacher Is Accused Of Excessively Punishing Pupils

DALLAS, Jan. 19. (AP)—A temporary restraining order was issued today against a Dallas woman teacher who allegedly has been inflicting excessive punishment on pupils.

The order followed a petition alleging excessive punishment which was signed by 21 parents.

A hearing to determine whether the restraining order will continue as a temporary injunction was set for 9:30 a. m., Jan. 27 in 44th district court.

The petition said Edward Shores, 15, eighth grade student at Sidney Lanier school, was "choked" and beaten with a hairbrush handle.

Judge Frank G. McDonald of the 66th district court in Hillsboro, sitting for Judge W. L. Thornton of 44th district court in Dallas, issued the restraining order.

Several chapels burned during the war and several others were sold and moved away.

British Announce Plan To Send Jet Fighter Planes To France

LONDON, Jan. 19. (INS) — The British Air Ministry announced plans tonight to send 30 Vampire jet fighter planes to France as part of the Western defense program.

The announcement said the decision was the outcome of talks between armed service chiefs of the two countries.

The planes, which will be flown by French pilots, will be delivered during 1949. Later, it is planned to adapt French factories to Vampire production.

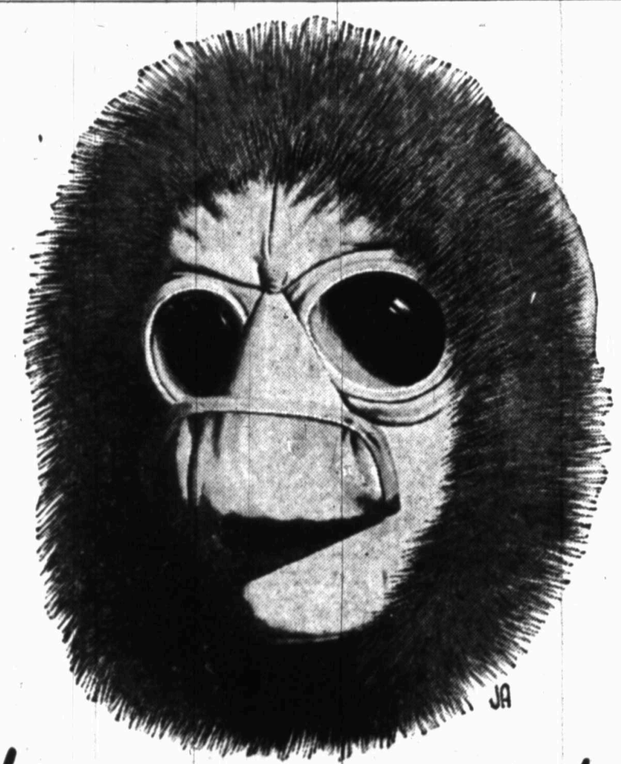

Morning Coughs Often Due to Bronchial Asthma

Do you cough and cough, especially mornings and at night? At times do you feel like you were tearing yourself to pieces trying to get rid of strangling mucus and still you choke, gasp for breath, wheeze and often can't sleep? The cause of these devitalizing symptoms may be recurring attacks of Bronchial Asthma. In such cases, the very first dose of Mendaco, a physician's prescription, usually starts almost instantly to help relax that clogged up stuffy feeling in the bronchial tubes, then helps Nature loosen and remove thick, strangling phlegm. This helps you get good fresh air into your lungs and promotes restful sleep. Mendaco is not a smoke, injection or spray, but is a tasteless internal medicine which works thru the blood, thus reaching the bronchial tubes and lungs. Mendaco must satisfy in every way or your money back is guaranteed. Ask your druggist for Mendaco today, and take exactly as directed. Adv

Film Urging Reform In State's Prison Setup Shown Here

A movie urging reform of the Texas prison system highlighted the program at the weekly Exchange club luncheon in Hotel Lubbock Wednesday.

The movie, produced by the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce and shown today by Glenn Woody of the local Jaycees, advocated adoption of the Ellis plan for prison reform, due for consideration this year by the Texas state legislature.

The film showed deplorable living and working conditions now existing in the state penitentiary at Huntsville and at several of the state prison farms. Accompanied by a narration relating many shortcomings of the current prison setup, it depicted such outstanding examples as pre-Civil war buildings in which prisoners are housed; crowded, unsanitary living and feeding conditions; outmoded farming and manufacturing equipment with which prisoners must work; and unfavorable living and working conditions for guards employed in the system.

The move is being shown in connection with the Jaycees drive for prison reform in 1949 — already announced as the club's number one goal this year.

The current "March of Dimes" campaign sponsored by the Exchange club got off to a satisfactory start this week, Warlick Carr said in a brief talk outlining various phases of the drive. Carr said the initial response to 17,372 letters mailed Monday to solicit funds for the campaign was encouraging.

Charles Cathey presided at the luncheon, at which Hugh McAfee, a guest, was introduced.

Postponement Ordered in Rape Trial Of Seven Dallas Youths

DALLAS, Jan. 19. (AP) — Examining trial for seven Dallas youths charged with rape of a 15-year-old Dallas girl was postponed this morning until 9 a.m. Friday.

Justice of the Peace Pierce McBride postponed the hearing when Assistant District Attorney Waller Collie presented a doctor's certificate that the victim was physically unable to appear.

Defense attorneys won a motion to reduce bond for the youths charged from $10,000 to $7,500 each.

The youths are charged with raping the girl after breaking up a teen-age party early Sunday morning.

Preparing to celebrate her 100th birthday, Mrs. Mary McDonald of Turriff, Scotland, sent for her birth certificate—and learned she was 101.

WHERE ARE THEY?

THERE is a saleswoman in Rocksprings, Wyo., who thinks Lubbock's citizenship includes 27 millionaires. This startling bit of information was contained in a letter written by Mrs. Henry H. Williamson of Rocksprings to her mother, Mrs. B. N. Duff, who passed the story along. We agree with Mrs. Duff that the joke is too good not to share.

Mrs. Williamson, who was a secretary in the Crenshaw-Dupree law office for several years, was in an apparel store in Rocksprings lately and in trying on coats mentioned to the clerk she was going to Texas this spring. When asked where in Texas, Rosemary said Lubbock, where upon the saleswoman gasped and said she is coming here too.

The following conversation took place:

The clerk, "You know Lubbock is the richest town in the country."

Rosemary, "Lubbock?"

The clerk, "There are more millionaires there than any town in America its size. There were 27 millionaires from Lubbock up in Jackson last summer (she has a branch shop in Jackson); two of them were worth 85 million, one having 40 and the other 45."

SINCE the Wyoming woman owned property at Church Butte, a gas field, she said she held several conversations with the "millionaires," who were interested in the field.

Mrs. Williamson said she suddenly remembered she had left her children in the car and so she made a hasty leave without discovering the names of Lubbock's 27 millionaires. We'd like to know that ourself.

THOSE GIVEAWAYS

ONLY a short while ago it was the mystery dramas. Now it's the giveaway programs—offering everything from free theatre tickets to new homes, all-expense tours and automobiles—that have radio's critics aroused.

This latest indoor sport, outguessing the giveaway contestants, brings 10 million pairs of ears to such shows as "Hit the Jackpot." Thirty million people were said to listen regularly to the "Walking Man" program on "Truth or Consequences." "Stop the Music" attracts some 70 million listeners each week.

SO great has become the giveaway craze, that a battle royal is shaping up betwen the critics and the proponents of the radio giveaways. It causes us to wonder: Is it worth the effort?

Radio has gone through program crazes before. The popularity of certain types of radio programs is only a little longer than that of a new tune or a new trend in women's hats. Long before the moral and legal issues involved in the giveaways have been settled, these programs will have passed into oblivion: to be replaced by a new fad that for the moment will have caught the ears of the multitude.

AIR-MINDED BOSSIE—"What's all the hurry about?" this heifer was probably asking herself as the noon-time rush of arriving and departing airliners buzzed about her on the runways at Municipal airport Wednesday. Airport authorities couldn't figure out how she gained entrance to the field or who owned her, but there she was, contentedly grazing in the breeze fanned up by threshing propellers of big planes. It would be a better story if she had tried to scramble aboard one of the departing ships, but Ed Colby, airport director, dispatched a crew to coax her elsewhere before her reservations were confirmed. Jesse Jones Urges Revision Of Houston Building Codes

HOUSTON, Jan 19 (U.P.) — Jesse H. Jones, number one Houston builder, urged the city today to revise its building codes, and early indications were that his request would be complied with.

The former U. S secretary of commerce suggested to Mayor Oscar Holcombe that changes in method of construction and development of new building materials would make the re-alignment necessary.

Jones' letter, read to the city council, said that the building codes could be modified to reduce building costs and still maintain present safeguards.

During Houston's city manager era, Mayor Oscar Holcombe recalled, an 18-month study was undertaken for revision of the codes. "Thousands of dollars were spent," the mayor said, before the idea was abandoned.

The revision would allow modern methods to be used in Houston's construction boom, which some sources have said is held back by "antiquated" building regulations.

Mayor Holcombe and the council referred Jones suggestion to public works director J. M. Nagle, and asked him to recommend a plan immediately.

1,500 On Florida 'Vacations' Get New York Unemployment Pay

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 19. (U.P.)—The Department of Labor reported today that 1,500 New Yorkers are collecting state unemployment insurance benefits under balmy Florida skies.

So many New York residents are claiming unemployment insurance benefits from Florida that the division of unemployment has decided to open an office in Miami to investigate.

"There is some real hard-boiled chiseling going on down there and we intend to put a stop to it," a labor department spokesman said. "Frankly there is a big group down there for a vacation and nothing else. There are others who wouldn't work if they had to. And, of course, there are legitimate claims."

The state is paying out about $22,000 a week to unemployed New Yorkers who are in the winter vacationland.

Last year, Florida investigators paid by New York, looked into claims filed by absent New York residents. They found enough evidence to reject claims totaling $15,000 a week.

South Plains Relays To Be On April 15-16

Second annual South Plains Relays, organized for the purpose of providing a major track and field meet for schools of West Texas and eastern New Mexico, will be held April 15-16 at the Texas Tech track, officials announced Wednesday afternoon following a meeting of the executive committee at the City hall.

Major step taken by the group was the decision to extend the Relays to a two-day meet. Preliminaries will get underway at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, April 15, with finals starting at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, April 16. Last spring the meet was held in one day, with preliminaries during the morning session and finals in the afternoon.

Awards Increased

The executive committee also approved a plan for increasing the value of the awards to the individual competitors. First, second and third place winners in all events this spring will receive gold, silver and bronze miniature track shoe awards, instead of the medals which were presented in 1948. The move is designed to give the individuals something of real value to show for their performance in the Relays.

The regular trophies will be awarded to the final first, second and third place teams in the meet.

Financial report on the 1948 Relays event was submitted by A. C. Hamilton, treasurer of the South Plains Relays organization. The report showed that the organization received a total of $206.70 from admission charges last year, with expenses tabulated at $137.18. Largest single expense was for trophies and medals, a $78.90 item on the report. The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce underwrote $100 of the expenses, but the money was not needed.

Announcements In Mail

First announcements of the 1949 Relays will be mailed out by the City Recreation department within a few days, officials said. Other forms and letters will be mailed to interested schools at regular intervals.

Sponsors of the Relays, other than the Recreation department, are Lubbock Public schools, Texas Tech and the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Eight members of the executive committee attended the meeting Wednesday, including Pat Pattison, Freddie Brown and E. J. Lowrey, Lubbock public schools; Morley Jennings and Maxey McKnight, Texas Tech; George Bond, Chamber of Commerce; and Curtis Barrett and Hamilton, City Recreation department.

Sport Magazine Honors Walker

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (AP) — Eleven sports stars, voted outstanding in their particular fields in 1948, were honored tonight at Sport magazine's first annual awards dinner.

The star-spangled list included Lou Boudreau, manager of baseball's World Champion Cleveland Indians; Doak Walker, the two-time All-American halfback from Southern Methodist University, and Jack Kramer, tops in the tennis world.

Ben Hogan, named premier performer among the golfers, and boxing's Marcel Cerdan of France, the middleweight champion of the world, couldn't attend. Cerdan is in France and Hogan is golfing on the Pacific Coast.

Also absent was Citation, the Calumet Farms' wonder horse named tops on the turf. Citation is eating oats at Miami.

Each of the figures, selected by a panel of judges for the magazine, received a trophy.

Honored were:

Racing — Citation, winner of racing's triple crown; Baseball—Lou Boudreau, manager of the World Series champion Cleveland Indians; Basketball—Alex Groza, University of Kentucky; Boxing—Marcel Cerdan of Paris, world middleweight champion; College Football—Doak Walker of Southern Methodist, All-American halfback; Professional Football — Frankie Albert of the San Francisco 49ers; Golf — Ben Hogan, U. S. Open and P.G.A. champion; Hockey—Buddy O'Conner of the New York Rangers, winner of the Lady Byng trophy; Swimming — Joe Verdeur of Philadelphia, Olympic record holder; Tennis—Jack Kramer, world professional champion; Track —Harrison Dillard of Baldwin-Wallace, world's record holder in hurdles who won Olympic sprint title.

QUINTET OF GOLDEN GLOVERS IN TRAINING—The regional Golden Gloves tournament, to be held in Tech gym Jan. 31, Feb. 1 and Feb. 2, is attracting more boxers this year than have appeared in a long time. Many of the entries are boys who have appeared on the Lubbock card in the past, trying once again to make the team that goes to Ft. Worth for the state meet Feb. 9 through 14. A large number of the Golden Gloves hopefuls are training nightly in Foster's Gym, 2417 Main street, including this group. Above, left to right, are shown Gene Robertson, novice middleweight; Travis Fry, open lightweight; Dale Ballew, novice lightweight; Alex Garcia, novice featherweight; and Kenneth Crawford, novice featherweight.

Injuries KO Two Lubbock Boxers

Unexpected injury to two Lubbock boxers has changed the team personnel that will go to Plainview tomorrow night to oppose the Plainview Jaycee boxing squad in an inter-city card.

Don Williams, Lubbock heavyweight, has infected gums and the doctor worked on them yesterday, then forbid him to fight at least before the regional Golden Gloves. And Pat McCarty, featherweight, came up with a lip in such bad shape that he also has been sidelined indefinitely.

O. C. Foster, Lubbock trainer, said that he would make substitutions before the fights, but did not know yet which boys would make the trip. A 16-man squad from Lubbock will be on hand to meet the Plainview team, Foster assured Plainview Promoter Bud Dean.

Dean's team will enter the inter-city bouts as strong favorites, after their showing in bouts so far. The Plainview boxers beat Amarillo Junior college, lost to Abilene and took part in a triangular meet at Canyon last night.

For this card, Dean will combine his light and heavy teams into a unit. Calvin Pyle, the great Lockney middleweight, will be the headliner on the Plainview card, but should have stiff competition from James Bickel, a boy who was one of two Lubbock fighters to win bouts from Amarillo.

One of Lubbock's chief hopes will be Ray Crenshaw, classy Texas Tech welterweight, one of the pre-tournament favorites. Crenshaw will face a stern test in G. D. Jeffcoat of Plainview and the bout ought to be a crowd pleaser.

Bill Thompson of Plainview and Dan Williams of Lubbock should put on a great light heavyweight scrap, while Dub Bruington, Plainview, and Wayne Raney of Lubbock should also be a great fight in another light heavyweight go.

T OF C FIGHT FIZZLES

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (AP)—The Tournament of Champions' New York debut was a financial fizzle tonight as only 1,297 turned up at Manhattan Center to see Rusty Payne, Pittsburgh heavyweight contender, cop a unanimous 10-round decision over Curtis Sheppard, the hatchet man from Baltimore. Payne weighed 181¾, Sheppard 203.

GOLF MEET DATE SET

GALVESTON, Jan. 19. (AP) — Ray Seymour, president of the Texas Public Links Association, announced today that the twenty-second annual State Championship Tournament would be held at Galveston's municipal golf course June 23-26. Regional qualifying rounds for the national tournament will be held at the same time, Seymour said.

UNRESERVED TICKETS AVAILABLE

Reserved Seats For Regional Golden Gloves Meet Sold Out

Persons desiring reserved seat tickets to the Lubbock regional Golden Gloves tournament can slow down to an abrupt stop; there ain't no mo'.

Morley Jennings, Tech athletic director and Gloves official in charge of ticket sales, said that the last reserved seat ticket was sold early Wednesday. Fight fans, eager to be assured of good seats, bought the tickets in groups for all three nights, Jan. 31, Feb. 1 and Feb. 2.

But remaining on hand were a large number of general admission tickets selling at $1.20 each and assuring fight patrons of seeing the show. The tickets will be sold on a first come first served basis and general admsision ticket holders will be given a fair chance at the better seats.

Good Seats Remain

The unreserved seats number some of the best vantage points in Tech gym. They consist entirely of bleacher seats on three sides of the ring, which will be set up in the middle of the floor. Doors probably will not be opened until 7 each night, thus giving fans a chance at the better of the unreserved seats.

Meanwhile, entries continue to arrive daily, with three of yesterday's applications coming from Lubbock boys. John R. Pritchard, jr., of 1807 15th street, a 21-year-old with two years of experience, came in at 137 pounds. Pritchard probably will fight as a lightweight in the open division. He has had five fights and won four of them, winning the novice division's middle-weight title last year.

Jimmy Peden of Big Spring, now living in Lubbock, also entered the open division yesterday, coming in as a bantamweight. Peden fought in the Golden Gloves at Big Spring, has plenty of experience and is a better boxer this year than last.

Utley Enters

Forrest Bell of 204 Avenue U, an 18-year-old 160-pounder, yesterday entered the novice class. Bell has had no experience so far in the ring, officially, but hopes to win the middleweight division title.

Sonnie Utley of Lubbock Route 2, a former New Deal High school star, entered the novice division in the light heavyweight class. Utley is an 18-year-old fighter weighing 164 pounds and has had no official experience. But he has looked good in workouts at Foster's Gym, 2417 Main street, official Golden Gloves training headquarters.

Tribe Signs Thurman Tucker, Bobby Wilson For 1949 Season

CLEVELAND, Jan. 19. (AP) — The Cleveland Indians announced today that Thurman Tucker and Bobby Wilson have signed 1949 contracts.

Tucker, a centerfielder from Mineral Wells, Tex., hit .260 for the Tribe last year.

Wilson is a 23-year-old second baseman from Goldsboro, N. C.

CHERRY TO GET $15,000

DALLAS, Jan. 19. (AP)— The Dallas News quotes an authoritative Austin source as saying Blair Cherry, who is remaining as head football coach at the University of Texas, will have a 5-year contract and an annual salary of $15,000.

LaDue, O'Dowdy Win Tag Match

A large crowd braved sub-freezing weather last night to see an Australian tag team match at Sled Allen's arena that had a little of everything, including a referee and four men in the ring at once.

The crowd got its money's worth out of the main go, as well as the first main event, in which Bill Parks and Vic Weber wrestled to a draw.

Milt Olsen, who just last week lost his Texas Junior Heavyweight crown, and Eddie Gideon were no match for Monte LaDue, new titleholder, and Pat O'Dowdy. The rough, tough element upset the heroes again, pummeling them into submission in three bitter falls.

By comparison, the Parks-Weber bout was like a breath of fresh air after an evening in the stables. The two scientific grapplers, the inexperienced against the experienced, staged a fine wrestling match.

Parks won the first fall in 24 minutes with a cat toehold, only to have Weber take the second in 15 minutes with a rocking chair cradle. Then they went eight minutes to a draw, the gong breaking up their match.

Olsen got the best of O'Dowdy in the first fall on the Australian tag team match, using a series of body slams and pin to win in 21 furious minutes.

LaDue evened the bout in the second fall, using an inside stepover toehold to subdue Gideon in 11 minutes. And LaDue returned to use the same hold in the deciding fall to pin Gideon again, this time in six minutes. It was a glorious free-for-all, with Referee Lobo Brown getting in on the excitement.

Next week's wrestle royal will have ten percent of the net receipts being given to the March of Dimes.

Cooper Becomes Eighteenth Member Of Cub Hurling Staff

CHICAGO, Jan. 19. (AP) — The Chicago Cubs came up with another surprise today in their campaign to shed the memory of a dismal 1948 season. They signed Mort Cooper, 34-year old former pitching star of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Cooper, peeled down to 205 pounds, but inactive last year following a third operation on his arm in August, 1947, becomes the eighteenth member of the Cubs' pitching staff.

Cooper's 10-year major league career lists 128 victories against 75 defeats.

CAR TEMPTS THIEVES

ERIE, Pa. (U.P.)—An automobile was stolen twice in one day and recovered both times. Police found a car reported stolen abandoned in a downtown area. When the owner, Verono Flaherty, went to retrieve his car, it was gone again. He later found it parked a few blocks away.

Hummingbirds, known to feed on flower nectar, also have a diet consisting of tiny flies, bees, beetles and other insects.

Westerners May Battle Lamesa; Drill For Borger Tilt Friday

Lubbock Will Seek Third District Win

Lubbock High's Westerner cagers may tangle with the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes here next week in a non-conference game, with all funds received through ticket sales tagged for the annual March of Dimes campaign, it was reported Wednesday night.

Dr. James Reynolds of the Exchange club, sponsor of the March of Dimes in Lubbock county, revealed that he had gained the approval of Lubbock Athletic Director C. R. Pattison and Coach Roy Morris for the proposed game, but said he had been unable to contact the Lamesa officials. Only approval by the Lamesans is needed to assure the game, Reynolds said.

Will Be Third Meeting

The game, if played, will represent the third clash of the two South Plains rivals this season. The Lubbock quint took the first meeting by a 39-21 count, but Lamesa won the second encounter at Lubbock, 22-20. Much rivalry has developed between boosters of the two teams as a result of the series, and Exchange club officials believe that a final tussle between the quints would result in a crowd of more than 1,000 fans at the Chapman field gymnasium and a substantial contribution to the March of Dimes.

Exchange club members plan to contact the Lamesa officials today.

The Westerners were not worrying about a re-match with the Tornadoes Wednesday afternoon, as they went through a brief—but stiff—drill session at the Chapman field clubhouse. The Westerners are scheduled to battle the strong Borger Bulldogs in a crucial District 1-AA clash here Friday night, and the Lubbock schoolboys are extremely busy in preparing what they hope will be a torrid welcome for the Panhandle quintet.

The Bulldogs, who held mighty Pampa to a narrow 32-28 district triumph last week end then defeated Plainview Tuesday night, are slated to give the Westerners one of the toughest tests of the conference title chase. The Borger cagers feature a fast-breaking offense built around a trio of veterans, making up in smooth ball-handling and accurate shooting what they lack in height.

The Westerners will be bidding for their third 1-AA win.

Only one game will be played Friday night, starting at 8 o'clock since the Lubbock "B" team will be playing in a tournament away from home.

Boudreau May Get $82,000

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (INS)—The New York Daily Mirror said tonight that manager Lou Boudreau, of the world champion Cleveland Indians, will sign a contract with the club calling for $82,000 a season.

The Mirror story said that the contract will be for two years and that announcement will be made next week in Cleveland, coincident with the baseball writers' dinner.

Boudreau was honored tonight by a sports magazine at a dinner where he was named "Athlete Of The Year." Owner Bill Veeck of the Indians was among the speakers.

Neither would comment on the signing.

The Mirror pointed out that Boudreau's reported forthcoming salary would approximate the amount paid by the Indians to pitcher Bob Feller last season.

The Mirror quoted Veeck on Feller's salar yas being "either $82,250 or $82,500 last season."

Feller thus was baseball's highest-salaried workman, but is expected to suffer a cut for the forthcoming campaign, whereas Boudreau is almost certain to get a raise beyond the estimated $50,000 he was paid last season.

Box Office War To Continue Next Year

Junior Football Loop Plans '49 Operation

CHICAGO, Jan. 19. (AP) — Amid conflicting rumors which indicated that ownership of the Los Angeles Dons and the Chicago Rockets might change hands, the All-America Football Conference today decided to continue its box-office war with the rival National Football League next season.

Reports which could not be confirmed had Ben F. Lindheimer, chairman of the AAC executive board, ready to sell his interests in the Los Angeles Dons in order to buy the Chicago Rockets, who won only one out of 14 league games last season.

Conference To Continue

This rumor followed an earlier terse statement issued by Lindheimer after an executive session of the eight club owners that:

"The All-America Conference will continue."

Lindheimer indicated that it will be decided at another executive session tomorrow whether the league will operate with six or eight clubs.

"Some time tomorrow afternoon," Lindheimer said, "I hope to have a statement that will set everything right."

Owner Branch Rickey of the Brooklyn Dodgers was not available for comment as to whether the Brooklyn Dodgers will operate in the AAC next season.

Loops Won't Merge

R. E. (Slim) Garn, president of the Chicago Rockets, said he knew nothing about the possibility of Lindheimer buying the Rockets.

"I heard the rumor," Garn said, "but I don't know anything about it. I wish it were true."

Lindheimer's statement that the AAC will continue to operate, ostensibly killed strong rumors that more powerful AAC members might merge with the National loop, which opens its annual schedule meeting tomorrow.

Tinkers Capture Levelland Meet

LEVELLAND, Jan. 19 (Special) — Lubbock's Thomas Tinkers won the championship of the third annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Independent basketball tournament here tonight by nosing out the Levelland Refiners, 35-29.

The Tinkers jumped into the lead early in the game, on the shooting of Weldon Minchew, and held a 19-15 edge at halftime. The Thomasmen boosted their margin by two points during the tight final half.

Minchew topped Thomas scorers with 10 points, while Rip Sewell notched 14 for the Refiners.

In the first game of the card, Primm Drug of Brownfield took third place in the tourney by drubbing Derrick service of Idalou, 45-29. Jake Geron paced Primm with 10 points, but Durham tallied 11 for Derrick.

Kidd Predicts TIL Will Reorganize

HOUSTON, Jan. 19 (AP) — Reorganization of the Texas Interscholastic League districts was predicted today by J. Rodney Kidd, league director general.

Kidd said the Big City Conference is here to stay, thus spiking speculation the conference would be eliminated and its participating teams returned to Class AA classification. The Big City Conference is made up of schools in Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio.

Kidd foresees a split in the ranks of AA.

"When you realize," he said "that such schools as Highland Park, Amarillo, Wichita Falls, Waco and Odessa rule their districts to such an extent that hardly another member stands a chance, you see the need for a change."

The director said the league plans to form an eight-district AAA division to include what he termed "super high schools" with large enrollments. The contention is it is unfair to put teams from schools of large enrollment against teams with a smaller enrollment.

Smaller schools and Class A schools that are growing by leaps and bounds will form a Class AA circuit of 16 districts while Class A will include 16 districts instead of 32 as it now does. Kidd believes the Class B circuits will remain virtually intact.

LUBBOCK PROBABLY WOULD BE IN NEW ALIGNMENT

Lubbock High school officials reported Wednesday night that they were caught completely by surprise by the statement by J. Rodney Kidd, director of the Tex-Interscholastic league.

Athletic Director Pat Pattison pointed out that the Lubbock grid schedule for 1949 was only recently completed, under the recent redistricting program, and that he had not received any information concerning another change. Pattison said that he felt certain that the new plan revealed by Kidd would not be placed into effect before the 1950 season.

Coach Pattison also said that he was "reasonably certain" that Lubbock High would be included in any such AAA conference. Lubbock High is one of the larger schools in the state, with 1,300 students this year despite one unusually small class, and that high school enrollment next year is expected to be approximately 1,500.

Virginia's Noertker Is Top Cage Scorer

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (AP)—A red hot battle still is being waged in the race for individual scoring honors among the nation's major college basketball teams, with a new high man popping up just about every roll call.

This week, the high point-maker is Joe Noertker of Virginia, whose 264 points in 12 games gives him an average of 22 per contest.

Figures, released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, are for games through Jan. 15.

Tony Lavelli, the Yale point manufacturer, moved up from fourth to second with a 21.8 average in 12 contest; Ohio State's Dick Schnittker, with 21.5 in eight games, retained third; Chester Giermak, William and Mary, advanced from sixth to fourth with a 21.3 average in 17 games; and Vince Boryla, Denver, second a week ago, is fifth with 21.3 for 12 games.

Sports Study

By Earl Sandday

Lubbock sports fans who are still unhappy because the High school Westerner gridders were overlooked at the recent meeting of the Texas Sports Writers association will be happy to hear that two of the local gridders have been named on the all-opponent team selected by the Amarillo Golden Sandstorm. The Sandies are very well equipped to pick a good opponent team, since they played 13 games—against teams from all sections of the state—in going all the way to the state finals in Class AA last season. And, as the coaches emphasize, you can't fool the kids who play the game. They know "who gets the job done."

Here's the Sandies' choice for an all-opponent eleven:

Backs—Bobby Brown, Lubbock; Dick Parma, Waco; Jimmy Patterson and James (Sonny) Mobley, Odessa.

Ends—Bob Rooker, Lubbock; Derral Davis, Pampa.

Tackles—Bobby Jack Phillips, Pampa, Howard Pilcher, Borger.

Guards—Bill Athey, Waco; Dale Stroope, Odessa.

We are very glad to see that Lubbock's Brown and Rooker were selected by the Sandie gridders. We've known all season that the two boys were two of the top performers of the state—and that opinion has been "backed up" by the statements of many of the coaches we have talked with. We were also very glad to see that both Jimmy Patterson and James (Sonny) Mobley of Odessa were honored by the Sandies. Patterson is, in our opinion, the best power-runner in the state and one of the top college prospects. Mobley, despite his light weight, was probably one of the top three broken-field runners in the state this season.

The few Lubbock fans who managed to travel down to Brownfield Tuesday night were well pleased with the showing the Westerner cagers made in drubbing the Cubs, 45-17. The Westerners were favored to win, but not by such a decisive margin. But the Lubbock schoolboys played one of their better games of the season against the Cubs and were quite impressive. An interesting angle of the game was that Brownfield used a zone defense against the Westerners—the first time, to our knowledge, that the Lubbock quint has faced the same kind of defense that it employs. But the Westerners had little trouble in scoring against the Cub zone, chiefly because the Cubs didn't have enough height to guard the Lubbock center, Jim Wilson.

On the subject of the Brownfield game, we can't resist the opportunity to reveal a "secret plan" cooked up by the Westerners during the game. The Westerners probably could not have received Coach Roy Morris' permission to pull the joke, but we think even the Brownfield fans would have been amused if they had gone ahead.

First we must explain that the Brownfield gymnasium was constructed several years ago, and even the Brownfield coaches, players and fans say that they need—and are hoping for—a new building. The lighting system is not as adequate as those in use in most of the other District 1-AA gyms, leading, of course, to considerable humorous criticism by the visiting teams. The Lubbock boys couldn't resist the old gags, asking each other if they had "brought along your radar equipment," or "when do they turn on the lights." Later the Westerners slipped Forward Charles Galey a match, and instructed him to strike it some time as he was dribbling down the court. But, of course, Charley wouldn't cooperate with the plan. Maybe the Brownfield boys can have just as much fun when they come to Lubbock's field house later this season.

Anton Legion To Hold Third Annual Tourney

ANTON, Jan. 19 (Special) — Third annual American Legion independent basketball tournament will get underway here Wednesday night, Jan. 26, officials have announced. The meet will continue through Jan. 29.

First 16 independent quints to enter will be included in the tourney bracket, it was reported, and no teams will be entered after the single bracket is filled. Entries, including a $10 fee, should be mailed to Pat Byrum, Box 313 at Anton.

Cash prizes of $75, $50 and $25 will be awarded to the first, second and third place teams.

Mexico City sports promoters are importing women wrestlers.

Roosevelt Will Meet New Deal

NEW DEAL, Jan. 19. (Special) —Roosevelt High school will bring both boys and girls teams here tomorrow night for important District 7-B conference basketball games.

The first game will start at 7 p.m. and brings together the outstanding New Deal girls team and the almost as strong sextet from Roosevelt. Both teams have lost to Cotton Center, District 18 defending champions, while New Deal also lost to Meadow and Roosevelt lost to New Home.

This game may turn into a personal duel between Bertha Jones of Roosevelt and Marie Wales of New Deal, both standout forwards.

The Roosevelt boys are strong contenders for conference honors this year, with strength all down the line. They are led by Dale Ray and James Daniel, both outstanding.

New Deal cagers aren't quite so strong this year, but have shown flashes of power. They dropped Floydada and Post, both of District 3-A to indicate that they cannot be counted out of the running.

More Than 30 Fighters Entered

Local Boxers Enter Tahoka Jaycee Meet

TAHOKA, Jan. 19. (Special)—The Tahoka Junior Chamber of Commerce fight card, scheduled here Friday and Saturday nights, gained impetus today with nine more entries.

Included in the boxers sending in their applications were six boys from Lubbock, two from O'Donnell and one from Tahoka. All will fight in the two-day tourney, aiming at handsome trophies that will be awarded the winners in each weight division.

G. W. White, publicity chairman for the Jaycees, also announced that there would be an exhibition bout Friday night between Jesse B. Lawson and John L. Martin, local colored boys. They will stage a middleweight bout sometime during the proceedings Friday night only.

Malouf Enters

White, who will referee the bouts both nights, also is attempting to secure a heavyweight exhibition bout.

Boys sending in their entries yesterday from Lubbock were Jim Peden, bantamweight; Leroy Malouf and Dwayne Keith, welterweights; Kenneth Crawford and Dalton Davis, lightweights; and Jimmy Hall, middleweight.

From O'Donnell came entries of Gordon Gass, featherweight, and Charles McLaurin, lightweight.

More Boxers Expected

Benny Brooksher, a flyweight, was the Tahoka entry.

The entry list now includes over 30 boxers, many of whom come from Lubbock, Tahoka and O'Donnell, with other towns also represented. Both nights of fighting will find full cards for the spectators and the entry list is expected to swell with additional entries on Thursday.

Admission prices will be 80 cents for adults each night and 40 cents for school children and Tech students. Tickets may be secured from the Jaycees, various stores around Tahoka or at the gate the nights of the fights.

The Carolina parakeet, which once ranged as far north as Wisconsin, now is restricted to Florida and is almost extinct.

Bahrameter Falls Dead On Hialeah Park Race Track

MIAMI, Jan. 19. (INS)—Bahrameter, a 4-year-old from Grandview Stables, fell dead while running in the fourth race at Hialeah Park in Miami today.

The jockey, Jack Turner, was thrown, but escaped with minor bruises. Turner said he thought Bahrameter's "heart just stopped." Bahrameter was not one of the favorites of the day.

Inaugural Rises To Climax Today

his life when he rises at 5:30 a. m. tomorrow. It will be a day of both pomp and homely gestures, moments when he will stand out starkly as the world's foremost citizen, and moments when he will relax with old and trusted friends.

The homely side will come first. At 7 a. m. he will breakfast and exchange reminiscences with "the boys of battery D"—a hundred members of the company he commanded in France in 1918.

Informal-Luncheon Planned

He will return to Blair house, which he and his family and a few guests are using in lieu of the White House, change into formal attire and be rushed to Capitol Hill behind a phalanx of siren-screaming motorcycles.

There, at high noon of a day which the nation's No. 1 weatherman predicts will be chilly, cloudy but rainless, he will rest his left hand on the well-thumbed little St. James version Bible he used the day Franklin D. Roosevelt's death thrust him into an office he did not want. During the ceremony he also will touch the parchment pages of a reproduction of a 15th century Gutenberg Bible, presented to him today and dedicated to his late mother by Missouri friends.

When he has finished his speech, shortly after 11:30 a. m. (CST), he will accept the plaudits of a crowd which police estimate will reach 150,000, and then retire into the old capitol for a most informal luncheon. It has been arranged for him by his old friend Leslie Biffle, the secretary of the Senate. The wispy little Biffle conducted his own one-man poll during the dark days of the campaign and his findings gave fresh heart to the President's speeches in his supposedly forlorn race against Gov. Dewey.

Parade To Begin

With him at the luncheon will be 34 of his closest associates, including his wife and daughter; Vice President Alben Barkley, Barkley's daughter and son-in-law; Chief Justice and Mrs. Fred Vinson; Associate Supreme Court Justice and Mrs. Reed; Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn and his sister; key figures in the House and Senate, his military aides and official representatives of the Protestant, Catholic and Hebrew faiths.

The lunch will be as cold as the sentiment is warm. It will be featured by sliced cold turkey and ham, potato salad, jellied fruit salad and a choice of deserts—either pumpkin pie or a cut of the white layer cake which has been encrusted with an edible version of the Missouri state emblem.

After luncheon the President will emerge from the capitol to find its grounds and environs jammed with floats, armor, marchers and other ingredients of what finally will unravel into a 7½-mile parade. Accompanied in his open car by Mrs. Truman and their daughter Margaret, and with his old World War I buddies as a guard of honor, the President will lead the parade down historic Pennsylvania avenue beginning at 12:30 (CST).

Reds' Trial Drags

to the jury system.

The crux of the defense argument is that under the existing system for choosing a jury only a "blue ribbon" panel can be selected. The defense contends that manual laborers, the poor, negroes and unemployed citizens are thereby excluded from jury service.

Ruling Is Cited

McGohey denied emphatically that the panel of 525 prospective jurors was constituted illegally.

He told the court that in October of last year Judge Murray Hulbert ruled there was no evidence that the working classes had been excluded from the list of veniremen.

Judge Hulbert's decision was handed down after the filing of an affidavit by William Z. Foster, national chairman of the Communist party. Foster had charged that negroes, laborers and unemployed persons were systematically excluded from the jury list.

Foster is one of the 12 ranking Communists originally indicted on charges of conspiring to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

Charge Is Denied

Because of the illness of Foster, who is suffering from heart trouble, his trial has been severed from that of the 11 other defendants.

Citing the ruling of Judge Hulbert, McGohey declared:

"The defense has presented no new evidence to support their charge of discrimination."

Richard Gladstein, attorney for the defense, asserted that McGohey was attempting to place "technical barriers" in front of the defense contention that the jury system is illegal.

Presbyterian Group's Meeting Accents Foreign Mission Study

First Presbyterian Men-of-the-Church and church women attended a covered dish supper and meeting emphasizing the foreign mission study last night in the church's Fellowship hall.

Approximately 100 persons attended. A panel discussion of the foreign mission program in China was conducted by Dr. T. F. Wiesen, Mrs. Joe Ma, and Tom Cleveland. The audience asked questions which were answered by the speakers.

Special music was presented by a violin trio composed of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stennis and J. H. Penn, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. C. M. Trout.

Lt. Thurston Mallard, president of the men's organization, presided.

Pampa Man Offered

plained, to give Mathews opportunity to advise the Pampa commission of the conference here.

The Pampa commission met Wednesday. Mathews said he was discussing the possibility of his removal to Lubbock with members of that body late in the day. Their reaction to the prospect was not reported.

$12,000 Indicated As Top

Lubbock officials would not speculate on what the effects might be if the Pampa commission should offer Mathews a substantial hike in salary to remain there. They expected that such an offer might sway his decision because of his business interests there, including the controlling partnership in a prospering laundry.

But it seemed definite that the Lubbock commission will not enter into a bidding competition with the Pampa official body for Mathews' services. The $12,000 now paid to Smith was indicated as the absolute top the Lubbock commission will offer for a new manager.

It was acknowledged, however, that the Lubbock commission will have to start from scratch in seeking a manager if the negotiations with Mathews should fall there. No one else apparently is under serious consideration.

Smith May Stay On

If Mathews should declare himself out of running, it probably would mean that Smith would be asked to continue in the position until a satisfactory successor can be found. He said when he submitted his resignation that he would agree to such an arrangement, if necessary, but would prefer to be released from his present duties on Feb. 15 so as to re-enter the field of consulting engineer.

Mathews is a native of Commerce and a graduate of East Texas State Teachers college there, majoring in government. He received his master's degree in 1935.

His first experience as a city manager was at Borger in 1938. He was 26 years of age at the time and the youngest city manager in Texas.

Served In The Navy

He went to Pampa as manager in 1940, but obtained a leave of absence in 1942 to go into the navy, serving until Feb. 15, 1946. His two and one-half years of sea duty included service in the Atlantic, Mediterranean and Pacific areas. He was a lieutenant, senior grade, at the time of his severance from service.

He returned to Pampa and became a partner in a laundry. In April, 1947, he was offered the city manager's position and accepted with the agreement that he be allowed to retain his business interests.

He is a vice president of the Texas City Managers association and a member of the International association and the League of Texas Municipalities. He is president of the Pampa Rotary club, Baptist, a Mason and a Shriner. Mr. and Mrs. Mathews have a son, Stephen, 2.

Familiar With Conditions

Members of the Lubbock commission said that factors which have impressed them with most favor in their consideration of Mathews is his first-hand familiarity with conditions on the Texas High Plains and the excellent condition of the Pampa City government.

Members of the commission said further they do not believe that a transfer from Pampa, with 20,000 population, to Lubbock, with more than 60,000 will be too big a jump.

They also are persuaded, they said, that Mr. and Mrs. Mathews will be satisfied to remain in Lubbock if they move here and that Mathews would not begin looking for a better job as soon as he was settled comfortably in the one in this city.

DEMONSTRATES LOVE TECHNIQUE—Claude Marsan, a French man who calls himself an expert on making love, demonstrates how it should be done, with red-haired Barbara Weir, 24, as his model. They repeated the demonstration in a Los Angeles, Calif., court, where they are on trial on charges of staging a lewd show. Marsan claims the show is educational. (AP Wirephoto.)

scene or lewd. My lectures are tres educational."

The pale and nervous Marsan also denied that he had devised the following wording for his advertising signs:

"The unknown Frenchman in person dares to demonstrate his French courting technique with a live model. The management advises that ladies are permitted to see this show, though it is designed to teach the men how to get and handle women."

Marsan told the court that his mission was "to save the American home."

Lack Of Love Scored

He blamed marital difficulty in the United States on the inability of American males to make love properly. Said the love expert:

"The lack of art in making love is a great factor in the breaking up of many homes. It is tragic that so many marriages go on the rocks because of ignorance."

Marsan's recital of the lecture that got him in trouble with the law lasted three hours yesterday in the packed courtroom.

He scored American hubbies for "being in too much of a hurry," claiming that American men were always rushing and "can never spend more than 10 or 15 minutes on anything."

Marsan advised that there'd be more happy American homes if husbands would continue their courtship throughout marriage and never miss a chance to tell their wives how much they love them and what beautiful dollies they are.

called proof of Moscow's good faith indicated the State department is highly skeptical about this latest Soviet move.

Actually, policy making officials here say privately they can regard it only as a propaganda operation—unless and until it is translated into deeds.

May Obstruct Unity

As propaganda, they say, it may be designed to obstruct the western powers' increasing unity by making people feel that everything is going to work out all right after all, without any further great effort being necessary.

Authorities who recall that the Russian grab of Czechoslovakia sped congressional action last year on the European recovery program, say the Russians may now feel that if they ease up Congress may delay action on new projects coming up in the weeks ahead, particularly the proposed North Atlantic defense pact and military aid to non-Communist countries.

These are the moves which diplomatic authorities say point to a likely new Soviet peace offensive.

Reds Talk Peace

1. Last Thursday Communist leader Marcel Cachin, in a heavily applauded speech to the French Assembly, said he believed better relations between East and West were possible and that Communist Russia and capitalist America could co-exist peacefully. French Communist publications gave his talk special attention.

2. Cachin then went to Italy where he and Palmiro Togliatti both hammered the same theme in speeches over the weekend. Perhaps more importantly, they kept their criticism of the United States to a minimum.

3. The Soviet embassy information bulletin here published New Year's greetings "to the people of the United States." This statement by Boris Izakov, a Russian newspaperman, stressed the idea that "there are no barriers to the good will of peoples aspiring toward a common aim (of peace)."

In addition to the specific developments, reports have reached Washington that rumors are circulating in Western Germany that Russia and the Western Powers may reach a German agreement in the spring.

"The people made it clear in the election that they want the Taft-Hartley law repealed as fast as possible."

Taft and other backers of the law see it quite differently. They don't believe the election was a mandate to get rid of the measure. They say that generally the law has worked well, needs a few changes but no far-reaching revision.

Armed Forces Have Limit Under Budget

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—The armed forces now have 1,621,000 men—all they will be allowed to pay under the 1950 budget. For the next 18 months they can only take recruits to fill expiring enlistments.

This was revealed today when Secretary of Defense Forrestal released figures on the strength of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Air Force.

President Truman in his budget message to Congress set the strength of the armed services in the coming fiscal year (July 49-June 1950) at 1,616,000.

He did not include in his figures about 5,000 cadets and midshipmen at the military and naval academies. These 5,000 are included in Secretary Forrestal's 1,621,000 figure for the armed forces as of Dec. 31.

The services will continue to recruit men, a defense official said, to replace those going out. He declined to say how many are expected to leave the service monthly but agreed that recruiting would be smaller.

In addition, future draft calls have been cancelled and there is no indication when they will be resumed.

Story Found Guilty

That caused Vickers to move for a peremptory instruction for a jury verdict of acquittal. The motion was overruled Wednesday morning by Judge G. V. Pardue, presiding.

Lomax and Houston Miller, about 30, a Lubbock business man and former union driver for the TNM&O, are under indictment charging arson by explosive in connection with the bombing.

Their trials, formerly set for this week, have been advanced on the court's calendar for Feb. 24.

Two Other Cases Tried

Two other felony cases were disposed of Wednesday afternoon by pleas of guilty. Freddie Russell, a 22-year-old negro, was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary for forgery, and a five-year suspended sentence tracing to a former conviction in a similar case was set aside, for a total assessment of eight years, it was announced. Chester L. Witcher, 30, of Melrose, N.M., was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for forgery.

Judge Pardue granted a continuance motion of Horton B. Sessums, 26, of Lubbock route 1, after defense counsel informed the court they needed further time in which to locate a witness. The case was reset for Feb. 21, officials said. Sessums is charged with maiming.

Three cases are on the calendar for today: Those of Jimmie B. Cousins, 27, charged with theft; George Sneed, 29, a negro, pandering; and Reyes Cisneros, 18, of Post route 1, assault with intent to murder. In addition, the case of Jack Baucom, 47, charged with swindling, may be tried, Croslin indicted.

State Officials To Honor G. H. Sheppard

AUSTIN, Jan. 19 (AP) — Both Houses of the legislature and all branches of state government pay tribute tomorrow to State Comptroller George H. Sheppard, 73, who died last night.

The body of the veteran state official will lie in state in the Senate chamber from noon until 2 p. m. Both Houses plan to adjourn before noon in his honor. Flags on all state buildings were lowered to half mast today. Governor Jester has asked all state offices to close for the two hours the body will lie in state.

The funeral will be at the First Methodist church here at 3:30 p.m. Burial will be in the State cemetery.

As comptroller, Sheppard was the state's chief agent for collecting taxes and estimating the amount of revenue available for spending.

At the time of his death he had been in office longer than any other elected state executive.

Murder Verdict For Lubbock Man Upheld

The court of criminal appeals in Austin Wednesday overruled a motion of George Brown, Lubbock negro, for a rehearing, the Associated Press reported.

Brown, 55, was sentenced March 18 to 15 years in the state penitentiary for murder in connection with the Nov. 11, 1947 shooting of Willie Byrd, another negro. That sentence was affirmed on review. Judge G. V. Pardue of the 99th judicial district presided at the trial.

Walker Stanton was foreman of the grand jury that indicted Brown, H. P. Watkins of the trial jury.

In the justice court of C. E. Lynn, Brown pleaded innocent Wednesday to a charge of disturbance on complaint of a negro woman, identified as his former wife, and bond of $300 was set by Lynn.

Demos Go 'All Out'

one of his now popular, but still surprising, off-the-cuff speeches.

With his head bobbing, his strong jaw jutting and showing plenty of teeth all the while, the President brought down the roof a brick at a time when he recounted his election night experience. He impersonated the venerable, clipped-tongued Hans Kaltenborn who, the President said, was still predicting a Dewey victory at 4 a. m. on November 3 with the Truman-Barkley ticket out in front by a couple of million votes.

Sees Era Of Peace

Only Mrs. Truman and Margaret—who must have gotten the high point of dad's speech around the breakfast table—failed to let go with belly laughs at the President's beautiful burlesque of commentator Kaltenborn's style of delivery. But after having his fun with his erstwhile detractors, Mr. Truman closed on a serious note, expressing profound belief in the right-thinking people of the nation and the world. They, he said, will work out of today's global unrest into a long and soul-satisfying era of peace.

Senator Barkley, erroneously introduced by former U. S. Attorney General Homer Cummings as "the Vice President of the United States" some 14 hours in advance of his taking the oath, spoke briefly, spinning a few of the stories which have made him the capital city's most loved figure. Senator J. Howard McGrath, of Rhode Island, who doubles as chairman of the Democratic national committee; and House Speaker Sam Rayburn, of Bonham, Tex., also spoke briefly, about what a wonderful thing Electoral college is, especially when it racks up a victory for their side.

Entertainment Is Tops

Miss Gladys Swarthout, who is considered quite a singer in the Metropolitan opera league and really is, started the business off with a rendition of The Star Spangled Banner; Robert Merrill, a Met teammate of Miss Swarthout, also sang, and an orchestra made up of members of the U. S. Marine band furnished music throughout the evening.

The Mayflower hotel, Mr. Conrad Hilton's local boarding house, really put on the dog food-wise, with neat assistance from the people of France (who probably will be surprised to learn that they furnished the various wines) and the people of Cuba, who gave the special seegars for free.

The formally dressed—or undressed—ladies and the equally formally dressed (and apparently corseted) gentlemen got themselves started off on Manhattan cocktails, swung into diamond back terrapin soup and filled puffed pastry. Then, with the aid of hot snacks, hearts of celery, queen olives and sweet sauterne, they waded into Key West pompano on creamed spinach, bonne femme and then took a breathing spell before the main course. It consisted of breast of capon on Kentucky ham, topped with fresh mushrooms, perigourdine, flanked by new stringless beans in butter, sweet potatoes, Missouri, with pineapple, and washed down by plenty of champagne. Along with with all this came little hunks of something called sandwiches, Independence, a piece of cake allegedly made from the original recipe of the George Washington family, and a red-white-and blue raspberry sundae marked down on the scorecard as "parfait victoire."

It was a good party and worth $12.50—especially to ladies with new gowns and diamonds to show off; enthusiastic gentlemen of New Deal leanings and working reporters needing something to write about. Texas, as usual, got a shade more than it's share of the limelight, racking up one of the four principal speakers and three of the 35 places at the raised presidential table; Speaker Rayburn, and Senator and Mrs. Tom Connally.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dunn of route 2, have received official word that the body of their son, Pfc. James Henry Dunn is being returned to this country from the Pacific. Pfc. Fumes from a water heater which condensed near a floor furnace were responsible for a fire run to a residence at 3009 Nineteenth street about 5:57 p. m. Wednesday, firemen said. They found no fire. However, a four-room negro residence north of the canyon on College avenue was destroyed about 7:17 p. m. when an oil stove exploded, showering the place with burning oil, firemen said.

A "very slight" improvement was noted in the condition of J. O. Jones, 80, of 1710 Twenty-ninth, hospital attendants at Lubbock Memorial hospital reported last night. There was no great change in his condition, however, which still was reported as serious.

ing for a constitutional amendment to abolish the electoral college. Under this plan, each state's electoral vote would be divided among the candidates in proportion to the popular votes they receive.

With smiling sarcasm, President Truman gave a remarkable exhibition of commentator Kaltenborn's style of broadcast while the audience roared with laughter. He paid his respects, too, to NBC commentator Richard Harkness in the course of a talk in which he once renewed his pledge to seek permanent world peace for the benefit of all the world.

Reviews Election Night

Mr. Truman carried his audience back to election day, Nov. 2, when he sped away to Excelsior Springs, Mo., 28 miles from Kansas City, to spend election night.

After a sandwich, and a glass of buttermilk at 6:30, he said, he dropped off to sleep.

Awakened about midnight, he said he tuned in to hear a broadcast by Kaltenborn and Harkness. Then, imitating Kaltenborn's famous style, the President quoted the commentator as saying at that time:

"While the President is a million votes ahead in the popular vote, we have yet to hear from the country."

He went on to quote Kaltenborn as saying that when the rural votes were in, Mr. Truman will be defeated "by an overwhelming majority."

Other Views Heard

Then, the President went on to say that Harkness, in an analysis showed how the President couldn't get a majority.

"I went back to sleep," Mr. Truman said.

At 4 a. m., he said a secret service man suggested that he tune in on the radio again. Again it was Kaltenborn talking, he related. Then, imitating Kaltenborn again the President gave these reported quotes:

"The President has a lead of 2,000,000 votes, but it is certainly necessary for the election to go into the House."

He said Kaltenborn went on to say there was no possibility of his being elected.

Then he turned to the secret service agent and said:

"I better go back to Kansas City. It looks like I'm elected."

He said he was "not in any way elated" over his election victory, but felt a sense of overwhelming responsibility. He asked the help of all the American people in carrying out that responsibility.

More than 1,900 guests had places at the huge banquet at the Mayflower hotel. These included the President's cabinet, Supreme court justices and most members of Congress.

Guests invited included Mrs Truman and daughter, Margaret and Dean Acheson, whose nomination as the new secretary of state was confirmed by the Senate yesterday.

Also, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson widow of the World War I president; James A. Farley, former Democratic national committee chairman; Myron C. Taylor, the President's special envoy to the Vatican; French Ambassador Henri Bonnet, and Cuban Ambassador Guillermo Belt.

St. Paul's Episcopal Church Men's Club Elects Officers

The Men's club of St. Paul's Episcopal church met Wednesday night in Seaman hall for a regular business session, highlighted by an election of officers.

New officers include Ralph Dorsett, president; J. Harmon Jenkins, vice president; and Alex Cooke, who was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Outgoing officers are Truman Chumley, president; and Frank J. Smith, jr., vice president.

A musical program arranged by W. W. Rix, program chairman, featured Rex Glimp, vocalist.

The club also passed a resolution commending the erection of an educational building for St. Paul's church, and urged its support by the Parish.

Rites Planned For Lamesa Man, Woman

LAMESA, Jan. 19 (Special)—Funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Milton Edmonson, 63 and 60 respectively, who were found dead in their home here late Tuesday afternoon, probably will be conducted at 3 p. m. Thursday in the Lamesa Church of Christ.

The services are pending arrival of a daughter of the Edmonsons, Mrs. Joe Wotitka, of Las Vegas, Nev. It was reported tonight by relatives here that the services will be held at that time if she arrives before then, but will be postponed until later if she does not arrive.

Burial will be in Lamesa cemetery, with Higginbotham Funeral home of this city directing.

The Edmonsons, whose death was attributed to food poisoning, were found about 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon by their daughter, Mrs. Luther Peterson, also of Lamesa. A local physician surmised that they had been dead since 10 or 11 o'clock Monday night.

Mrs. Edmonson's mother, Mrs. M. A. Adams, 79, who was found seriously ill in her bed in the Edmonson home was rushed to Price hospital here. Her condition tonight was still critical. Relatives said she had been in a coma since she was found in the Edmonson residence and had been able to give no information as to what had happened.

Dawson County Sheriff Roy King and Texas Ranger J. L. Rogers took specimens of food found in the Edmonson home to Austin for analysis but no report had been received from them tonight.

The Edmonsons are survived by three daughters, including Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. Wotitka, and Mrs. B. R. Jones of Lubbock; and three grandchildren.

Mr. Edmonson is survived by his mother, Mrs. W. D. Edmonson of Lamesa; four brothers, J. E. Edmonson, W. C. Edmonson, Clyde Edmonson and Willis Edmonson, all of Lamesa; and three sisters, Mrs. Maude Teague, Mrs. Harvey Trice, and Mrs. Inez Keathley, all of Lamesa.

Survivors of Mrs. Edmonson in addition to her mother, Mrs. Adams, include a sister, Mrs. Mae Brock of San Francisco, and a brother, Hugh B. Adams of Indio, Calif.

Godbey Confesses

Godbey had declared:

"I did not kill Pruet. Yes, I swore I'd get even with him in 1932 when he framed me. But I didn't—I didn't try. I wasn't in Oklahoma City the day of the slaying, and I haven't been there since 1926."

Pruet was prosecutor at the time Godbey was tried and convicted at Waurika, Okla., for a $9 holdup at nearby Jefferson. Godbey received a 35-year sentence. With time off for good behavior, he was released Nov. 12 after serving a little less than 16½ years.

Water System Guarded

Recalling Godbey's threats at the time to some day kill everybody connected with his conviction, Oklahoma officers have been guarding two other trial figures. They also placed a guard about the Waurika water system after Mayor O. D. Kennedy said he was tipped it might be poisoned.

Godbey apparently referred to that in talking with reporters today.

"I should have put potassium cyanide in the water up there," he declared. "I should have carved 'em all up into hamburger meat."

Questioners found his mild appearance in sharp contrast with Godbey's defiant words. Slightly stooped, he stands five feet 10 inches tall and weighs but 150 pounds. Metal-rimmed spectacles cover his blue eyes. He has false teeth and also requires a hearing aid.

Man Looks Familiar

Godbey offered no resistance as he was taken into custody.

It was 3:17 a. m. (CST) when two rookie policemen stopped the ex-convict and a companion in the east edge of El Paso's business district. They questioned both merely because of the hour.

Somehow Godbey looked familiar, officers R. J. Miner and W. G. Dunaway decided. Taken to the police station, he was identified from a photograph received here Monday.

Godbey was unarmed. He was wearing a hunting cap, a checked suit, an extra pair of khaki trousers and a khaki jacket when officers picked him up. In his pockets were $5.26 and a bottle of pills obtained in his name from a Fort Worth pharmacy. The label was dated Jan. 3.

(In Washington, Undersecretary of State Lovett said the question of whether to move the U.S. embassy was being worked out by American Ambassador John Leighton Stuart in consultation with diplomatic representatives of other nations in Nanking. He added that the State department also was taking up the matter with other governments here.

PEACE DELEGATION RETURNS

PEIPING, Thursday, Jan. 20. (AP)—A distinguished peace delegation returned to this besieged walled city last night after talks with the Chinese Communists—but the Red shelling continued today.

Unconfirmed reports of peace and truce swirled through the anxious city. The Chinese press appeared convinced that an understanding had been reached.

May Split Staff

(The embassy staff totals 154, including dependents, with 84 other Americans listed as residents in the city, according to State department records. Washington officials said if precedent is followed, the embassy staff might be split with some remaining in Nanking while others moved south with Chinese government officials.)

Lull Settles In Law Violations

Few offenses were reported to police and other law enforcement agencies Wednesday, as the lull in law violations continued through several days.

Officials were stumped by the reasoning of a thief who stole a vividly painted two-way-radio-equipped taxicab early Wednesday morning and returned it to within a block of where it was taken after driving it.

Every police cruiser and taxicab in town could have spotted the car from a considerable distance, because of its yellow hood and top and its radio transmission aerial, police said.

Taken Early Today

Alton L. Abbott of 1211 Ave. K, taxicab company operator, told police the car taken from Main and Ave. K about 6:55 a. m.

It was recovered in an alley near that address at 8 a. m.

J. B. Winchester of Slaton was not so fortunate, officials said.

His green 1941 Ford coupe, license AP 3092, was stolen in Slaton and had not been reported seen since.

The sheriff's department reported arrest of Ernest Malone, 19, a negro, on a misdemeanor theft warrant. He had not entered his plea before County Judge Walter Davies.

Charged With Theft

Malone is charged with theft of a pistol from Ivery Jackson, jr., another negro, in a complaint drawn by County Attorney Waggoner Carr.

The police said three sacks of flour and one sack of beans, lost off a truck this morning, were being held at the police station for identification of their owner.

A bike was reported stolen from Charles Roberts of 519 Hub Homes, police reports showed.

MIDWEST IS BATTERED BY COLD, HIGH WINDS

(By The Associated Press)

Bluster-happy winter flailed the western part of the nation with blizzards, floods and a bitter cold wave Wednesday and raked some eastern sections with destructive winds.

One of the worst storms of the season spread over Montana and the Dakotas. The storm brought blizzard conditions and biting cold.

Winds Cause Damage

The Kansas City area was buried under an eight-inch snow blanket that forced the closing of schools and blocked many Missouri highways.

The coldest weather of the year overspread much of the Midwest. Chicago, which has escaped severe cold so far this season, was warned to expect an overnight minimum of zero to five below.

Destructive winds knifed across southern Michigan and central New York.

Winds of hurricane force unroofed buildings, smashed windows and ripped down power and telephone lines in the Flint, Mich., area. The winds built up to 95 miles an hour in brief gusts. A man was crushed to death by a falling tree.

The Detroit area was pounded by 75 miles an hour winds that shattered more than 100 store windows.

A snow belt, preceding the cold front, brought sleet, glaze or snow to most of the Midwest.

quartered. Most of the dead, he said, were chief petty officers.

No injuries were reported among the 42 crew members of the 504-foot tanker Gulfstream which proceeded to New York under her own power with only a damaged bow.

There was no panic aboard the 3,000-ton, 269 foot cutter as fire started after the crash, a crew member reported.

Bridge Housing Torn

"They behaved fairly orderly," Quartermaster Dewey Chapman told WOR radio reporter John Wingate by radio-telephone.

The Eastwind, which normally carries a peacetime crew of 120, was in ice-breaking service.

The Eastwind was bound for Curtis Bay, Md., when the crash occurred.

The Gulfstream, owned by the Gulf Oil Corp., left Philadelphia last night for Kuwait, Persia, and other Persian gulf ports without cargo.

J. Updyke Klagwhistle Ready To Take Top Government Post

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Klagwhistle's the name. J. Updyke Klagwhistle, son, ready to turn my back again on the Lorelei entreaties of private business and serve my country in an alphabetical bureau. Give me room, son, and let me get up there on that grandstand and shake hands with Little Old Harry.

Salt of the earth, little old Harry. I can just see his kindly blue eyes a-twinkling when he sees me, soon as I can get by these cops and that mob of unruly, obscene opportunists trying to get up there to share little old Harry's hand.

Was In Philadelphia

What's that, son? You say you saw me at the Republican convention in Philly? Well, I ain't saying no. What, you interviewed me there? Hmmm, well, that's a different matter, son. Come to think of it, I did drop by Philly for a week or two, just to size up the situation for little old Harry.

That statement I gave you about Dewey winning even if he was a chinaman? Har, har, son. Can't take a joke, eh? You're not very bright, son, if you didn't get what I was saying between the lines.

You'll remember I said that Dewey would be "one of our greatest" presidents. Get the hedge, son? Didn't go as far as saying he'd be the greatest, did I?

Can Explain Picture

That picture of me with my arm around Paul Lockwood? I can explain that, too, son. Did you ever notice how much Paul looks like Dan Parker, the sports editor? I thought it was good old Dan, see, and just wanted to tell him I never miss his column in PM. Get the angle? Some of my best friends are pressmen.

Oh, the radio program I was on with Elliott Bell? He's the son of Alexander Graham Bell, isn't he? Well, son, if he isn't —like you say—then I was the victim of a cunning plot to destroy my prestige as a selfless Democratic office holder ever ready to unfurl the pristine banner of little old Harry.

And that statement I made that John Foster Dulles would make a great secretary of state? Yes, I do remember that very well, son. I stick by that statement, son. But you'll notice I didn't say Secretary of State of any particular country, did I? Right now I'll give you a little scoop, son. The country I had in mind was Peru. I thought it was too obvious to mention at the time.

Contribution Was Late

My campaign fund check, which didn't arrive at Sen. McGrath's office until November 17? That's the post office department for you, son. I checked up and found out I had spelled his name MacGrath, so the letter laid in the dead letter office for weeks and weeks, while a lot of conscienceless rascals in Washington spread the word that I was giving up on my good friend Little Old Harry.

Son, I'm just wild about Harry, and if I can get through this mob you'll soon see that he's just wild about, he's just wild about me-e-e-e.

After I shake his hand in friendship, and tell him I stand ready to serve my beloved government in any capacity, commensurate, of course, with my talents, I'm going to look in on good old Charley Ross, young Matt Connolly, good old Harry Vaughan, and young George Allen. A grand crew, those lads, and all just waiting to hear from J. Updyke Klagwhistle. So long, son, I see an opening, and I do believe that's my old pal Perle Mesta sittin' up there purty as a picture. Hello, Perle, dear, what time does your party start? And —

That Wallace Session

How's that, son? The Wallace convention? Let me see, now. Yes, I believe I did pass through Philadelphia that week. Purely business, of course. Little old Harry's business, if you want to be let in on a secret. Sure, I had a kind word to say about Wallace's chances. That was part of the plan, son. Ingratiated myself, see? Even made a contribution when William S. Gailmor made his pitch. Didn't want to look conspicuous, get it? Besides, good old Bess was a Wallace, wasn't she? Well, I'll be moving on now, son. Just saw my old friend Clark Clifford up yonder and want to shake the hand of the man who—

The Strom Thurmond convention? Yes, son, come to think of it I did get down south about that time. Wanted to get the real lowdown on that revolt, son, so's I could pass the word along to Little Old Harry. Look at him standing up there, son, big as life. Makes my old heart pound to know that he's my friend. Well, son —

Thomas? You say he announced that I sent him a campaign check. That's right, son, I believe I did send some little contribution to him. But I like his news broadcast. Never miss it. What's that? He don't broadcast? Well, I'll bet you a purty he does . . . Every evening. I'm talking about Lowell Thomas, son; who've you got in mind. Norman? hmmm, so that's where my check went, eh? Well, I'll do something about that post office situation after I get things cleared up with Little Old Harry. So. Gotta go now, son. Little old Harry's starting around the crowd, quizzical-like, and if he isn't looking for me I'll miss my bet!

Novelist Reported Considering Farm Project At Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 19. (U.P.)—Novelist Louis Bromfield may begin operating a farm here similar to his famous Malabar farm in Ohio.

R. W. Knight, secretary of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, said discussion with Bromfield for such a farm had been going on for some time.

He said the Chamber of Commerce believed the farm could increase the value of the irrigated Wichita valley through introduction of soil-saving practices.

Bob Huge, Bromfield's business associate, arrived yesterday to inspect proposed sites for the farm.

Early English Mapper Called Pre-Dallas Area 'Good Country'

FORT WORTH, Jan. 19. (U.P.)—There wasn't even a Fort Worth or Dallas in 1841, but this area was "good country" anyway.

An unidentified English map maker thought so. On his map, published in London in 1841 by John Arrowsmith, 10 Soho square, was notation "this is good country," printed in the area between the Trinity and the Trinity's Clear Fork.

City Land Agent Herman Aston found the copy of the map when he was cleaning out some old files.

Storms Improve Plains Moisture

AUSTIN, Jan. 19. (U.P.)—The United States Department of Agriculture today summed up the results of the first effective precipitation in several months and announced that general optimism prevailed over most of Texas.

In a weekly crop and weather bulletin, the USDA said the moisture situation was improved in virtually all areas except the southern and coastal bend counties.

Prospects Improved

In the northern high plains, the USDA said, moisture has been sufficient that surface and subsoil moisture have met.

Rain, sleet and snow, blanketing the western half of the state earlier in the week, was "particularly beneficial in the southern high plains, the low rolling plains and the trans-Pecos area" where the drouth has been most severe.

Prospects were also reported as greatly improved in the central, northern and eastern counties.

More Moisture Needed

However, in all of these areas additional rainfall was generally needed, the report said, to fill stock tanks and to supply needed subsoil moisture.

Although the chilling wind that accompanied the precipitation caused some shrinkage to unprotected stock, losses were reported as relatively light.

The low temperatures restricted plant growth and limited field activities. However, small grains, clovers and winter grasses were expected to respond, the USDA said, to the improved moisture situation as soon as the temperature moderates.

New Trial Ordered For Midland Man Convicted Of Fatal Shooting

AUSTIN, Jan. 19. (U.P.)—A sentence of 15 years for murder, assessed against Armo Spears of Midland, was reversed and remanded for new trial today by the state court of criminal appeals.

Spears was convicted in connection with the fatal shooting on Oct. 12, 1947, of Robert L. Wallace.

In remanding the case for new trial, the court noted that "in view of the penalty inflicted, 15 years, it is evident that the doctrine of adequate cause was not accepted by the jury . . ."

Spears was divorced on Aug. 12, 1947. Court testimony claimed that he was attempting a reconciliation at the time of the slaying in October, and he was later remarried in December of 1947.

The court suggested that "the condition of his (Spear's) mind at such time (of the slaying) could have been useful to the jury in determining the presence of malice or an adequate cause."

Dallas Police Station Gets Fan Letter Praising 'Calls'

DALLAS, Jan. 19. (U.P.)—If fan letters are an indication, the Dallas police radio (Station KVP) has a Hooper rating of at least one.

Acting Chief of Police Bill Brogdon today received a letter from a Big Sandy, Tex., woman who said that "KVP had the best program on the air."

She said that she and her husband listened daily until 11 p. m. She "raved" about the voices of the Dallas policemen who "call" over KVP.

Brogdon said he intended to answer her letter and "thank" her for her kindness.

Fat Is Not a Nice Word When Applied to the Body

Don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolates. Possibly one bulgy person in 100 has some glandular disturbance and that is truly a case for a physician. Never take any treatment for a gland condition without your doctor's advice. But for the other 99 per cent who are trying to fight the "Battle of the Bulges" common sense is the watchword. It is not necessary to overeat and it is not necessary to go hungry, either. Furthermore, it just doesn't make sense to go on a strenuous diet—take off weight and then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot continue a starvation diet over a protracted period. Within the last year or so, several diet and vitamin "plans" have appeared on the market, which means cut down on the food intake and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress. But as mentioned above, you can't keep this up very long and when you quit — back comes the fat.

An exhaustive survey recently made among Texas druggists showed one outstanding reducing aid is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It allows you to eat plenty. You eat all you want but you eat LESS. Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. It definitely stops you from eating more than necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time, it dehydrates and eliminates.

Nearly one and a half million bottles of this preparation, called Barcentrate has been sold in Texas in the past four years.

You can get a four-ounce bottle of Barcentrate from any Texas druggist. Mix with 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take just two tablespoonsful twice a day.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose that ugly fat, the makers agree to refund your money.

First Water Shipped From Olney Reaches Archer City

ARCHER CITY, Jan. 19. (U.P.)—Citizens of this drouth-ridden town today were using the first of 70,000 gallons of water hauled here from Olney.

Nine tank cars of water from Lake Olney left Olney yesterday for Archer City, where the municipal lake stands at what officials have termed a dangerously low level caused by the record fall and winter drouth.

Water hauls will be made three times weekly until the situation is eased, it was reported.

Sorority Plans Iron Lung Benefit Dance

The four Lubbock chapters of Beta Sigma Phi, international sorority for young women, will sponsor a dance Friday night at 9 o'clock at the Cotton club, proceeds from which will be used to complete a three-year campaign to raise funds for the purchase of an iron lung for the city of Lubbock.

At the dance, C. A. Rodgers orchestra will furnish music. Tickets are $1.20 per person, and are being sold by members of the sorority. Tickets will be sold at the door Friday night. About 1,500 tickets have been put on sale.

The iron lung, which costs approximately $1,500 plus delivery charges, will be presented to the city in formal presentation ceremonies pending arrival of the machine here. Sorority officers have announced that the iron lung purchasing fund still is about $300 short of the purchase price.

Miss Bert Hartzog, president of the city council of Beta Sigma Phi, Wednesday urged community-wide participation in Friday night's benefit function.

Selection Of Texas Mother Of 1949 Starts At Cleburne

CLEBURNE, Jan. 19. (U.P.)—Selection of the Texas mother of 1949, who will be a candidate for the national honors, has started, it was announced here today.

Mrs. Dollilee-Davis Smith, Texas chairman of the sponsoring Golden Rule foundation, said deadline for nominations and letters of recommendation will be March 9. Mrs. Smith is now receiving nominations, she said.

Texas claimed national honors in 1938 with Mrs. Grace Noll Crowell of Dallas being selected.

Mrs. George W. McDaniel, Abilene, was named Texas mother last year, while Mrs. George T. Jester, Corsicana, mother of Gov. Beauford Jester, was named in 1947.

Dallas Boy Credited With Saving Sisters From Fire

DALLAS, Jan. 19. (AP) — Harry Edwards, 14, was credited early this morning with saving his two younger sisters from a fire which claimed the life of Mrs. Ethel Fisher, 48, a roomer at the boy's home.

He was in a rear room of the residence when awakened by smoke about 3 a. m. His step-sisters, Rosa Lee Moore, 10, and Nancy Jane Moore, 9, were in another bed in the same room. He led them to safety.

Mother of the children, Mrs. C. D. Williams, was away from home working.

Firemen estimated the total damage at $2,750.

Burgess Meredith Sought Second Time To Play Newsman's Role In 'Pyle's Indiana'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 19 — The late Ernie Pyle admired Burgess Meredith very much as an actor, so he would be pleased to know that Lester Cowan is paging Buzz to play Pyle for the second time in "Pyle's Indiana."

Fact is, Cowan would like to repeat on the same gang who made the original "G.I. Joe" and get William Wellman back to do the directing. I don't know whether he will get Bill or not—he hasn't been feeling too well lately and says he wants to take time off from movie making to enjoy his big family.

"Pyle's Indiana" was written by Paul Cavanaugh, an old friend of the late, great war correspondent, so maybe Wellman will be tempted.

Danny Kaye Gets Show

Warners has just bought "Thief of Broadway" for Danny Kaye. It's a natural for Danny—all about a Broadway comedian who swipes gags and impersonations from other comics and is a flop. Then one night he plays himself and is a riot.

Harry Wald is set to produce this little epic, which will be loaded with musical numbers. Warners have no intention of again letting anyone say of a Kaye movie: "not enough routines for Danny."

Oh, yes, "Thief of Broadway" is based on an original by Max Shulman.

I've always said you can pick up more news at a party than anywhere else—and I certainly got an earful at the wonderful party given by the Jack Bennys.

Billy Wilder told me that Gloria Swanson gets into Hollywood next week to talk to him about going into "Sunset Strip," the story about Hollywood he and Charlie Brackett are making.

"Gloria has given up her television show," Bill said, "and I'm hoping she'll be interested in doing a picture."

Pola Negri, Gloria's arch rival in the old silent days, is also in the running for a part. And the man they want to play the director is Joseph Von Sternberg, discoverer of Marlene Dietrich and one of the most eccentric megaphoners who ever twirled a mustache.

Don't for a moment think the romance of Greer Garson and Buddy Fogelson is a thing of the past. Greer is working on her picture, so naturally she doesn't go out evenings, but they were together all day Sunday.

Right from Washington I hear that there are 27 acts to be put on at the gala performance preceeding the Inaugural ball, and those in charge are wondering how they can get them all in.

Describes Party

The Jack Benny party must go down as the most beautiful one yet given in our town. To William Haines, who achieved an enchanting effect, goes credit for the decor. Old-fashioned chandeliers entwined with gardenias lighted the tent, which was a bower of flowers; even the place cards were in bouquets of gardenias. Someone said that Jack's new salary, the largest in radio, was all spent on the party which honored Mr. and Mrs. William Paley.

At no party has there been such gorgeous gowns, nor have the women ever looked more beautiful. Everyone had a new dress for the occasion, and the favorite color was pale blue. Jane Wyman, Jennifer Jones, Joan Fontaine, Doris Vidor and Dianah Shore were a few who wore a very pale blue satin.

The hostess, Mary Livingston, was in white lace. The bride, Mrs. Louis B. Mayer, was much admired in pale gray. Loretta Young had a dress that looked like a candy stick. On her it was becoming, she's so slim. Joan Bennett was a dream girl in white lace, and Rosalind Russell in pale yellow was lovely; so was Barbara Stanwyck in grey. Mrs. William Goetz had one of the most striking gowns.

Clark Gable came all by himself. Jimmy Stewart escorted Gloria McLean. Just everyone was there—the Douglas Fairbanks, the Ronald Colmans, the Danny Kayes, the Alfred Vanderbilts, Gracie Allen and George Burns, Deborah Kerr, the Van Johnsons, the Johnny Greens, the Mervyn Leroys, the Jules Steins.

Hugh Herbert—and we do mean the actor—was at Sportsman's lodge with a pretty model named Catherine Parker.

Mickey Rooney, who owns a lot in Bel Air, has started building a house. 'Tis said it's for Martha Vickers, his bride-to-be.

I keep hearing that Cy Howard and Ann Southern are getting hotter and hotter. Wonder what happened to her ski instructor.

THIRSTY ONLY

Merger Of Telegraph Unions Into One AFL Group Proposed

DALLAS, Jan. 19. (AP) — Proposal for merging the Telegraph Workers union with two other American Federation of Labor unions was made in Dallas today by Simon P. Oster, Dallas, president of TWU.

Oster said the union's executive board has approved the proposal. The membership's vote will be complete by Feb. 15, he said.

The TWU, AFL, is considering merger with the Telegraph Employe's union (deep south) and the Commercial Telegraphers union (midwest, far west). Under the plan the TWU and TEU would become divisions of CTU.

Should the merger be approved the new union, composed of about 35,000 employes, would represent all Western Union employes in the nation except those in the New York City area, now represented by a CIO union.

After 35 years service with the Post Office department, C. H. Peek retired Oct. 1, but that is only part of the story.

He soon was back at work in the Tech branch post office in the Texas Technological college administration building.

Peek served as superintendent of mails at Lubbock post office seven years and held that position at time of his retirement. Previously, he had worked at the money order window in the finance section about 90 per cent of the time and had served as mail dispatcher and clerk.

$800 Year Salary

He began as a clerk July 1, 1913, on a salary of $800 a year. He was the fourth clerk at the postoffice. At the time he had taken the examination, the salary had been $600 a year. "I thought when we got that $200 increase, that was good pay," he said. "There was no complaint of the salary. Living expenses were so much less than they have grown to be since then."

There were no carriers then. Lubbock's residents, who then numbered about 1,500, called at the post office for their mail. Carrier service was not initiated until 1921. The four clerks and the postmaster comprised the post office staff.

S. P. Robbins began service as postmaster the same day that Peek began work as a clerk. Robbins succeeded S. P. Stubbs, who retired from service and who has since died.

The post office then was located in the Merrill hotel building, which was located where the Hilton hotel now stands. The post office was moved in about 1919 or 1920 to the location now occupied by Southern Auto stores at 1212 Texas Ave. In 1924, the post office was moved to Ave. G, across the street from its present location.

Ten years later, it moved to the present federal building which was completed in 1934.

While Peek served at Lubbock post office, four men held position of postmaster. In addition to Robbins, H. C. Duering, and John L. Vaughan were postmasters and L. F. Rankin held a temporary appointment.

"I can say that it's been a fascinating work and I've enjoyed it most of my life and I still like it," Peek said at the branch office at Texas Tech. "As far as retirement is concerned, I was ellbigle to retire and then this work came up and I think I would be better satisfied with this than with nothing to do."

His wife became clerk in charge of the Tech branch post office June 1. Mrs. Peek now is ill and unable to spend all of her time at the branch office, said Peek.

Peek qualified for full retirement benefits, fulfilling requirements of both 30 years in service and having reached 60 years of age.

He likes his work at Texas Tech. He knew many persons on the college staff before going to work in the branch post office. As he talked, Miss Murvel Rankin, clerk in the purchasing office, went by the window and he pointed out that she was the daughter of L. D. Rankin, who had served

No Relief Seen On Easing Laws

By MAC ROY RASOR
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Jan. 19 — Labor's hopes for sympathy from the 51st Legislature nosedived today.

Unexpectedly quick confirmation of Gov. Jester's appointment of Ben Ramsey of San Augustine as secretary of state hoisted storm warning for any attempt at easing last session's restrictive labor laws. Labor looks on Ramsey as a foe.

The House met briefly, quitting in respect to State Comptroller George H. Sheppard who died last night.

Quick Okay Given

Ramsey as a state senator had authored one of last session's anti-strike laws and had sponsored seven other labor restricting laws in the Senate. Labor had asked Gov. Jester not to make the appointment and was hastily recruiting battle forces yesterday to try to get the Senate to block the confirmation.

The Senate's answer to labor's opposition came before any protest could be made. The upper body received the recommendation at 11 a.m. By noon the appointment had sped through a two-minute committee-approving session and was endorsed by a secret session of the Senate as a whole.

Ramsey takes the post now held by Paul Brown of Harlingen.

Other Senate business included swift approval of a resolution calling for a federal constitution amendment to protect state's rights to their tidelands, receipt of more than 200 other appointments of Governor Jester for confirmation, and introduction of six more bills.

Tidelands Plan Approved

A unanimous voice vote approved the tidelands resolution by Senator John J. Bell of Cuero after three members had unsuccessfully voted against scuspending rules to consider it.

"If the government can confiscate the property of the state of California, or Texas, then it can confiscate the property of individuals," Bell warned. The resolution asks Congress to call a convention to draft and submit the constitutional amendment to the states.

Gov. Jester's request for appointment approval covered Liquor Control board members Leonard B. Brown of Kerrville and J. Gordon Bristow of Big Spring, Adjutant General K. L. Berry of Denton, Board of Control Member T. B. Warden of Austin, Employment Commissioner Dwight Horton of Blanco, industrial accident board member Leonard Carlton of Opposite conditions also hold true, with greater consumption when quality is high and prices moderate.

Test Undreway On Snyder Well

Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 Moore, three miles southwest of Snyder, in central Scurry county, and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 207, block 97, H&TC survey, washed perforated section in the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian at 6,845-65 feet, with 1,000 gallons of acid.

After the pressure was lifted, the project kicked off and flowed out the load of residue from the injection, and then flowed 32 barrels of new oil in six hours, through a one-quarter inch tubing choke.

There was no water. The well was still flowing at last report. Total depth is at 6,885 feet. The seven-inch casing is cemented on the bottom.

This possible discovery will continue testing until its full producing ability is determined.

Test Scheduled

Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1 Periman, north-central Scurry county wildcat, three miles east of Dermott, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 438, block 97, H&TC survey, was bottomed at 6,582 feet in a lime, shale and sand section and was scheduled to take a drillstem test.

No information had reached Midland at the time this report was prepared regarding the nature of the indications of petroleum which had been logged in this venture.

Magnolia No. 1 Hicks, southeast Gaines county deep exploration, about 20 miles southeast of Seminole, and 660 feet from north and west lines of tract 16, league 273, Loving county school land survey, had reached 11,841 feet in an unidentified lime and shale, and was boring deeper. Up to now it has not reported having logged any possibilities of production.

Retoiner Is Set

Placid Oil company No. 1 Davis, north-central Scurry county possible discovery from the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian, six and one-half miles north and a little east of Snyder, and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 387, block 97, H&TC survey, set a retainer at 7,075 feet.

The casing was perforated at 7,053-63 feet ,and that interval was treated with 1,000 gallons of acid.

In 18 hours of swabbing, following the injection ,the recovery was 101 barrels of fluid. Of that 50 barrels was 28 gravity oil, 50 barrels was salt water ,and one barrel was fasic sediment and drilling mud. Swabbing to clean out and test was continuing.

U.S. OFFERS CROP PROTECTION

ACA Urges Cotton Growers To Insure Under Federal Program

Federal crop insurance on cotton against the production risks which cotton growers cannot control is strictly a non-profit program designed to give cotton growers basic protection of their business enterprise at the lowest possible cost, according to announcement by Walter Y. Wells, secretary of the Lubbock County Agricultural Conservation association.

Applications for this all-risk crop insurance protection are being taken at the county ACA office, 1320 Ave. Q. Cotton farmers are urged to consult that office for details of this protection and sign applications for insurance to avoid risk of losing the money invested in cotton crops.

It was pointed out that premiums paid by producers for Federal Crop Insurance protection are urged only to pay losses to farmers who have the misfortune to lose their cotton crops through no fault of their own.

Possible Cost Reduction

Favorable loss experience in the county which resulted in an accumulation of premiums over losses paid to Lubbock county farmers would make it possible to reduce the cost of this protection. Some reserve must of necessity be accumulated to cover any possible catastrophic losses before sound business practice dictates a move to reduce costs for such protection.

"I think farmers should recognize that this protection is worth far more than the annual cost to them," Wells declared. "The premium they pay is established at a level that is intended to cover only the risk of loss under the Federal Crop Insurance policy."

He pointed out that expenses of operating the program are appropriated each year by Congress as a service to farmers, and that in doing so, Congress has provided farmers with the machinery for building a program of protection of their crop investments and is providing the cost of operating that machinery.

Fosters Stability

"Farmers certainly should realize that it is an opportunity for them to build greater stability under their farming operations and that this protection is available to them at less than the actual cost," Wells said.

He stressed that Federal Crop Insurance is a business proposition, and is not for the farmer who wants "something for nothing," nor is it for the farmer who only wants to protect his investment the year that he feels he may have a loss.

"It is an opportunity for good farmers to have a program of needed protection against unavoidable crop risks at a very reasonable cost. We hope that all eligible farmers in Lubbock county will become policy holders in our county crop insurance program," Wells declared.

American Seaman Arrested In Mexico On Marijuana Charge

TAMPICO, Mexico, Jan. 19. (U.P.)—Police today said the American freighter "Agwistar" was held at dock yesterday until agents arrested an American seaman for attempting to take marijuana to the United States.

They claimed the seaman, John Nicholson, bought a "considerable amount" of the drug from two other sailors, a Mexican and a Porto Rican.

These two sailors and two other persons were arrested by police, it was learned. Police tried to arrest Nicholson with the four, but he escaped and fled to his ship.

City authorities appealed to U. S. Consul Harold B. Quarton, who talked to the captain of the "Agwistar," according to police. The Captain turned Nicholson over to police. The "Agwistar" then sailed for New York.

Nicholson is still held by police.

Soldier's Services Set At San Antonio

CORPUS CHRISTI, Jan. 19. (AP)—Felix Longoria, Latin-American citizen from Three Rivers, who was killed in the Pacific war, will be reburied in San Antonio, his family announced today.

A special funeral ceremony will be held in Washington prior to the San Antonio burial.

Scheduled reburial services for the soldier, originally planned at Three Rivers, attracted wide attention recently when the widow reported that a Three Rivers funeral home had discouraged the use of its chapel. Sen. Lyndon Johnson arranged in Washington for the soldier to be reburied in Arlington cemetery after this report was issued.

T. W. Kennedy, manager of the Rice Funeral home at Three Rivers, gave a different version of what happened at Three Rivers.

"There was no question whatever of discrimination involved," said he. "I discouraged the use of the chapel, frankly, because of friction I heard existed between members of the family. Due to this friction, I thought it would be better that the services be held at the widow's home or some other private home."

The Longoria family decided on San Antonio as the reburial place after R. E. Smith of Houston, chairman of the Texas Good Neighbor commission, urged that the service be held somewhere in Texas.

Truck Blaze Cooks Up $7,000 Omelet In St. Paul Street

ST. PAUL, Jan. 19. (INS) — Fire and 12-below zero weather combined today to scramble up a $7,000 omelet in downtown St. Paul.

The fire started from an overheated oil stove in a truck trailer loaded with 575 cases of eggs as C. F. Smith, Mason City, Ia., the driver, was starting a run to Los Angeles.

Firemen turned hoses on the flaming interior of the truck and hurled out flaming egg crates to get at the blaze.

By the time a relief truck arrived, what eggs hadn't been cooked inside the truck had been frozen.

Lars Larson, foreman of the street cleaning crew dispatched to unscramble the mess, had only one comment. Said he:

"It's no yoke."

ASHTRAY HAZARDOUS

SCITUATE, R. I., (U.P.)—Emptying an ash tray resulted in a $230 highway accident. While dumping the tray on the dashboard of his automobile, Alcott E. Phillips veered to the left of the highway's center marker and collided with a pickup truck. Both vehicles were damaged.

$88,500 Missing In Postal Theft Found

CHICAGO, Jan. 19. (INS) — The $88,500 in currency taken in a mail pouch robbery last Thursday was found hidden today in a culvert in a Waukesha, Wis., park.

Postal Inspector E. J. Holmes, who has been in charge of the investigation, said the money was recovered by authorities after two boys stumbled onto it and informed police.

He declared that the currency was still in its original shipping envelopes.

The postal inspector speculated that the thief or thieves abandoned their loot because of fear of being caught.

The currency shipment, which included some mutilated money, was being sent from the First National bank of Waukesha to the Federal Reserve bank in Chicago.

The pouch containing the money arrived at the railroad depot, where it was supposed to have been put on a Soo line train, but postal inspectors established that it never was put aboard the train.

They believe it was snatched off a waiting mail cart which had been left unguarded for approximately a half hour.

Brazilian Finds Basic Greatness Of U. S. In Education, Religion

Bringing the message from his native Brazil that "we think the American people are a great people, and they are great because of their education and religion," Dr Oscar Machado, president of Porto Alegre college in Porto Alegre, Brazil, brought a message of international good will to the Rotary club Wednesday at the Hilton hotel.

Speaking with a sprinkling of spicy humor, the visiting educator drove home the main theme that to correctly interpret a people, the examination must be made from the standpoint of the people involved, from their spirit and philosophy of life.

Hurry, Worry, Unnecessary

He fears that people in the United States think his people are lazy, but in defense of that he warned that people in the United States are in too big a hurry, citing hurry and worry as two things that kill. He said his people do not accept the U. S. theory that time is money. To them, he said, time is not money, but it is life, and "so we take time to enjoy life."

He was amused and somewhat amazed at the habit in the United States of being able to buy a Sunday morning paper on Saturday night or earlier, and buying a Saturday magazine on Tuesday or Thursday. In our country, he said, we buy the Sunday morning paper Sunday morning, and the Saturday magazine on Saturday.

He chided people in this country for "watching figures—some of them walking around — "for trying to figure out things ahead, such as weather, business trends, and other things, and trying to know what will happen ahead. This gave him the opportunity to take a shot at election polls, and other such widely accepted ways of trying to look ahead.

Dr. Machado believes that his people are misinterpreted in the United States, that conclusions are drawn from too little information, and this information is interpreted, not from the standpoint and point of view of his people, but applied from the hurry and worry standpoint of North Americans.

Your greatness, he said, is not in your great civilization, your scientific progress and know-how, your gadgets and rapid transportation facilities, but "I think with many of my countrymen that your greatness lies in your system of education and your religion."

He warned, however, that "you must never become too proud," because "history tells the story of many nations—their rise, their decline and their fall—because they become to proud of themselves."

He believes that people fundamentally are not superior or inferior, but that they are different because of their attitudes and ways of life, and that "if we are going to build the sort of international understanding and good will the world needs today, we must understand people and their ways and point of view, because there are always going to be differences.

Message Relayed

He said before leaving for the U. S., he asked several people in his country what message they would have him bring to the United States. One business man, not a churchman, but what he said seemed to be a typical view, asked him to tell the American people that "we think they are the most Christian people in the world, because wherever in the world there is any need from disaster, war or otherwise, there you will find a representative of the American people, teaching, preaching, fighting, and serving."

The United States, he said, is in position to teach the world how to live in peace, in freedom, and in plenty.

The speaker was introduced by James G. Allen, program chairman.

French S. Pruitt was introduced as a new member. Visiting Rotarians included L. W. Chapman of Floydada, Rev. Jordan Grooms of Levelland, J. S. Hilliard of Littlefield, Ted Elstron of Fort Worth, C. M. Fields of Slaton, Dr. J. W. Loveless of Slaton, Sam Davis of Ralls, Ted Harwell of Burkburnett, and Mark Allen of Seagraves.

Club President Irving Jones was in the chair, with invocation by Rev. Travis A. White, a visitor.

Sheriff Says Banking Heir's Death 'Closed'

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 19. (INS)— The mystifying death of Grenville Baker, wealthy banking scion, was declared a "closed matter" today by Tallahassee Sheriff Frank Stoutamire.

The sheriff said his office had unearthed no evidence of murder, but added that if there are any new developments he will have "an open mind."

The sheriff's statement was made while FBI authorities continued probing Baker's death. The 27-year-old socialite's body was found early Monday beside a wrecked jeep. He had been shot through the temple.

One of the last persons to see the multi-millionaire alive stated flatly today that he believes the banking heir's death to have been accidental.

Floyd Whiddon, the ex-convict tavern keeper companion of Baker agreed that there is always the "possibility" of murder or suicide, but discounted these as "remote."

Barrow's Former Pal Nabbed At Houston

HOUSTON, Jan. 19. (U.P.) — An old school chum of Clyde Barrow's, who remembered when the notorious outlaw was a "sissy," was arrested here for questioning today in a $335 theater robbery.

William Daniel Jones, 32-year-old two-time convict who acquired the sobriquet of "Deacon," was picked up at the home of relatives. Police said they wanted "to ask him some questions" about the Jan. 8 holdup of the Kirby theater, on Main street in downtown Houston.

The shabbily dressed man admitted serving two prison terms. He was convicted of murder in Dallas county in 1934 and served seven years of a 15-year sentence. Jones also said he was released only in September from the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kans., after serving 29 months for possession of narcotics.

Jones' association with Barrow began when they were in school together, he recalled.

Amarillo Child's Electric Bed Warmer Works Almost Too Well

AMARILLO, Jan. 19. (U.P.) — A budding Amarillo "inventor" believed today he had a good idea but agreed he needs more study in applied electronics before offering competition to makers of electric blankets.

Dickie Lafavers, who is every bit of four years old, marveled at the warmth of the family's electric blanket. When his mother wasn't around, he connected an extension cord to which a 60-watt light bulb was attached.

He placed the bulb between covers of his bed and settled down for a catnap. An hour later, his mother smelled smoke. Dickie was warmed, but not by his invention.

Five-Day Shutdown Of All Oil Fields Except East Texas Seen

AUSTIN, Jan. 19. (AP)—A five-day shutdown of all oil fields except East Texas was indicated today as the Railroad commission prepared for tomorrow's February proration allowable hearing.

Members of the commission said a one day increase of the sutdown may be necessary to permit full application of January's daily allowable cut of 250,985 barrels.

American Petroleum institute figures for the first week of January show Texas crude production dropping only 156,150 barrels daily.

January's allowable slash was based on a four-day shutdown on all fields except East Texas which was continued on a 20-day production schedule.

The commission at its hearing last month set a January allowable of 2,466,034 barrels daily but the figure had climbed to 2,508,232 by Jan. 15.

The API reports Texas production during the week ending Jan. 8 averaged 2,333,500 barrels daily.

Decline Is Noted

There was no indication of further reduction of production in the East Texas field.

Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson said Jan. 1 tests indicate an increase of 1.80 pounds per square inch in bottomhole pressure in the field during December.

Should a five-day shutdown of other fields be ordered, the fields would produce only 23 days of the 28 day month.

Advance purchaser nominations for Texas crude in February total 2,786,288 barrels daily, a decline of 100,946 from January.

Railroad Commission district 8 in West Texas showed the greatest drop in nominations, falling 54,530 barrels daily.

Chile plans to produce beet sugar for the first time and hopes for aid from foreign capital to develop the new industry.

Convict's Effort To Lose Fingerprints Proves All in Vain

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 19. (AP)—Before Leonard Lebeau broke out of jail he tried to burn off his fingerprints with a cigarette, but today—30 years later—his painful effort proved futile.

Lebeau, 53, a Decatur, Ill., nightclub operator, was arrested there Jan. 7 on charges of burglary, larceny and receiving stolen property. His fingerprints were sent to Washington for a routine check against the records of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

FBI Matches Prints

The scarred prints were found to match those of the Leonard Lebeau who escaped from the Oklahoma State reformatory Nov. 1, 1918. Confronted with the evidence, Lebeau said he climbed over the prison wall after burning his fingertips with a cigarette and scraping the seared flesh on the floor of his jail cell. He had served three months of a two-year burglary sentence.

After his escape Lebeau changed his first name to William and settled in Decatur, where he now owns a nightclub, a novelty shop and apartment buildings.

He was arrested two weeks ago in connection with the theft of $4,200 in property from the Multibrick Co., at the Illiopolis, Ill., Ordnance plant.

Sheriff Meredith Rhule said he had received word from Claude Wood, warden of the Oklahoma reformatory, that Lebeau still is wanted as a fugitive. But he probably will be tried here on the theft charges, Rhule said.

Soviet Pilot's Claims For Jump Record Are Disputed

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 19. (INS)—A news report that a Russian pilot had claimed a record jump from a jet plane flying 477 miles an hour was disputed today by the Strategic Air Command headquarters at Omaha.

The command said one of its pilots bailed out of a jet fighter plane traveling 530 miles an hour.

He was First Lieut. Frederick L. Webster of the Fouth Fighter group, Andrews Air Force base in Maryland. His spectacular leap was made on July 4, 1947, near Fort Meade, Md.

Except for bruised eyelids caused by the terrific wind pressure, command headquarters said Webster was not injured.

Lieut. Webster bailed out when his F-80 jet fighter zoomed out of control at 1,500 feet altitude while flying in formation with three other planes.

Mexico now has a "Postman's Day."

New York Journalist To Begin Series Of Talks In Plainview

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 19. (Special)—Charles A. Wells, New York journalist, cartoonist, and world traveler, will begin a four-day speaking engagement Sunday at First Baptist church here.

Wells will also speak to high school groups and civic organizations on major problems confronting the world today. His discussion topics will include capitalism and socialism, white supremacy, Christians and the atom bomb, and labor. He will deliver the sermons at both services of First Baptist church here Sunday.

Draws With Lectures

A speaker who draws as he lectures, Wells manipulates his sketches to illustrate each point of his message. His drawings are especially effective as Wells points out the need of the world for Christ and that only through Him can there be peace.

Wells has traveled widely on assignment as feature writer and artist for newspapers and religious periodicals.

The journalist was raised a Quaker and received his education in a Quaker university. He early became interested in religious work, but after graduation, turned to newspaper work. He first worked as a sports cartoonist and sports writer, and later became an editorial cartoonist and writer.

In later years, special feature and art assignments took him to many parts of the world, including Russia, Germany, and China. For a number of years his work has been regularly syndicated to newspapers and religious periodicals. His radio appearances have been favorably received.

Wells has spoken on the campuses of a number of colleges and universities including Wake Forest college, Louisiana State university, and Duke university, and before Rotary, Lions, and other civic clubs.

Supreme Court Takes No Action On Dispute

AUSTIN, Jan. 19. (AP)—The Supreme court took no action today on the state's appeal of a permanent injunction against a railroad commission order to shutdown the Heyser oil field.

Oral submission of the case was made before the court last week.

Heyser was one of 15 fields involved in commission shutdown orders alleging wasteful flaring of oil well gas incident to the production of crude oil.

The commission ordered the fields closed until steps were taken to conserve gas. Temporary or permanent injunctions were obtained by operators in each of the fields.

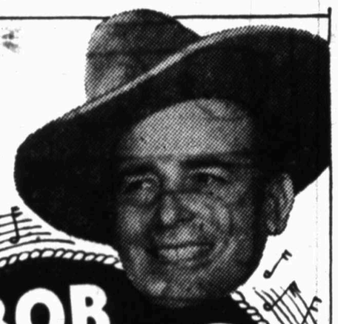

Members of the commission today said there has been no change in a January 25 show cause hearing on 26 other fields alleged to be flaring 177,000,000 cubic feet of oil well gas daily.

The flicker's diet is almost 50 per cent ants.

The Welfare Plan

UNLESS convincing evidence is supplied that the President's proposed $8,000,000,000 a year social security program would operate more satisfactorily than the system now in effect, the huge increase in payroll levies he advocates will be impossible to justify.

The present system operates primarily as a revenue producing rather than a plan which guarantees security for the earner during his advanced years. To collect social security benefits, the individual must pass his 65th birthday anniversary. Unchallenged records show that the average age at death of persons on the social security roll is 65½ years. The average person collects on his social security for six months, and dies.

Most of the money now produced by the one per cent payroll deduction, thus is regarded as velvet which the politicians have spent without hesitancy. They have known that the vast majority of the people would not live long enough to claim more than a negligible part of the gigantic fund they have helped to create. Social security has been used since its inception as a form of taxation rather than an instrument of protection.

It might be that the scheme advocated by Mr. Truman, which would more than triple social security payroll deductions for most wage earners, would give eligible persons more in return for their money than they have received in the past.

But experience supports suspicion that the primary purpose of the scheme is to raise more money to spend rather than to provide protection for deserving people. Unless and until that suspicion is removed, it is difficult to see how the plan can win substantial support either in Congress or among people already burdened by excessive taxation.

Deserved Recognition

THOSE acquainted with Don L. Jones as an individual and the long-time superintendent of the Lubbock Agricultural Substation will approve unreservedly his selection as the 1948 "Man of the Year in Texas Agriculture" by the Progressive Farmer, Dallas farm magazine.

Space limitations would not allow dwelling in an ydetail upon the services Mr. Jones has rendered to Texas, the Southwest and, more specifically, to West Texas and the High Plains region. But no one will challenge the statement that new and improved farm and ranch methods of many kinds, developed largely under his supervision, have added inestimably to the productive wealth of the area. And, apart from his duties, he has found time to be an active and splendid citizen.

No one in any field more richly deserves special recognition of outstanding service than Don L. Jones. Those who know him doubtless will rejoice much more than himself that some of the honor he long has merited has come his way at last.

"United States citizens are in a state of fatigue," says a government official. It is no wonder, what with their carrying the world around on their shoulders.

A minister says the game of bridge is a menace to religion. We agree, in a way, in that the way many play bridge is a sin.

What man is he that desireth life, and loveth many days, that he may see good? Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from speaking guile. Depart from evil, and do good; seek peace, and pursue it. Psalm 34: 12, 13, 14.

Toast To Truman Today

Beware Of Romance

By ROBERTA COURTLAND
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: When sixteen-year-old Merry Carson learns that her dashing father, Kin, has asked her selfish mother, Susan, for a divorce, her whole world turns topsy-turvy. Kin leaves home and Susan goes to pieces. Aunt Jane comes to look after things. The doctor tells Merry her mother needs a change and suggests they take her to St. Vincent's, an inland resort. He says Susan's illness is only a state of mind; what she must have is a new interest in life.)

VIII

JEFFERSON LAYNE, Kin's attorney, came to the house with the necessary papers on which he had to have Susan's signature and to explain the very ample settlement Kin was making on his wife and daughter. He emerged from Susan's room white and shaken and very grateful for the stiff drink of Kin's famous Irish whiskey that Aunt Jane had waiting for him.

"Good Lord!" said Jeff, wide-eyed. "Poor old Kin!"

"Quiet!" said Aunt Jane grimly. "But don't forget, Mr. Layne, Susan is suffering, too, very deeply, and if it's chiefly in her pride—well, for a woman like Susan, that's a terrific blow."

"Of course," said Jeff, and drank again, and looked at Aunt Jane curiously. "Are you Kin's sister? Or Susan's?"

"Neither," answered Aunt Jane with her usual briskness. "I'm a sort of thirty-second cousin, twice removed. I belong to the 'no' white trash' branch of Susan's family, the Aunt Jane who is always being sent for when things blow up and Susan can no longer cope."

Jeff nodded.

"I tried to explain to Susan that Kin insists that he see Merry occasionally," he said. "He will expect her to spend at least a month of her summer vacation with him and Lissa."

"Merry's going to be 17 come vacation time, laddie," replied Aunt Jane. "I've an idea she will have something to say about that. However, leave us let sleeping dogs lie! We'll take this thing a day at a time, don't you think? That's as far ahead as I seem able to find strength to plan."

Jeff looked at her with honest commiseration. "May I say you have my deepest sympathy?" he said frankly.

"You may," said Aunt Jane cheerfully. "And thanks. I'm going to need it."

IN the meantime, Merry had slipped out for a walk while her mother slept. She had avoided any contact with her old, beloved gang—had refused to talk to them when they called; had even refused to go downstairs when Tip presented himself, as he did with a dogged persistence at least once every 24 hours.

This afternoon, to be sure of avoiding anyone she knew, she had gone down through the kitchen garden, out the service gate and into a narrow alley, one end of which opened out into fields and after that woods. She followed this end of the alley, and just as she came out into a favorite spot, a small secluded stand of pipes, Tip rose up before her.

Merry caught her breath and took an involuntary step backward, and Tip said grimly, "I've been watching for you, Merry, and waiting for you. But you don't have to look so scared."

"I'm not scared. Why should I be?"

"I don't know. But you've been giving me the brush for so long I had to think of some reason why. I haven't done anything to make you run out on me."

His young face was grim and tired and his eyes were bitter

"Tip, you know why I didn't want to see anybody."

Tip looked at her curiously.

"This thing has blown you clear off your rocker, Merry. You've always seemed like a sane, sensible girl. I don't get it—running around hiding out from your friends."

"I'm not hiding out." She broke out in a little wail, "Oh, Tip, I've always been so insanely proud of Mother and Dad. I've always thought I was the luckiest girl in the world to have two such wonderful parents. Why, I never dreamed that they weren't as devoted, as fond of each other, as your Mom and Dad. And to find that for two years Dad has been in love with another woman — Tip, it just about kills me."

She began to sob like a heartbroken child, one arm crooked over her convulsed face.

"POOR baby!" said Tip, and would have taken her into his arms. But she evaded him, putting out her hands, holding him off, lifting her young, earnest, tear-stained face, not knowing or caring how she looked.

"It's only the people you love who can hurt you, Tip. So I'm going to be smart; I'm not going to be in love with anybody— not ever!"

"Merry!"

"I mean it, Tip. That's why I sent you back your ring. I want you to forget all about me, Tip, now while you're young and we haven't made any plans."

"Plans?" We've had plans ever since we finished grammer school, Merry. You've always been my girl; we've always known that as soon as I started to work, we'd be married."

But she thrust her shaking fingers into her ears and cried out, "No, no, no, Tip. I won't listen. I won't. You've got to forgive me. We're going away, Mother and Aunt Jane and I. And I hope we never come back. I won't see you again, Tip."

And suddenly she was running back along the little alley to the green gate and banging it shut behind her and stopped her ears against Tip's voice calling her name.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

IT IS very strange that this news item should meet my eyes just a few minutes before I am ready to deal with a subject one of my readers has asked me to write about.

The subject is marriage.

The reader who wants me to write something encouraging about marriage doesn't get along with his wife She nags him She bosses him She humiliates him in front of other people.

BRANDIES

What shall he do?

He doesn want to ask the professional "lovelorn" columnists and trouble shooters. He appeals to me as man to man, because from my column, he takes it that I am happily married.

Here is that news item, or rather a condensation of it:

The Kuanyama Ambo tribe of Southwest Africa are not burying their wives alive any longer when they get out of line. They beat them to death first and then bury them.

This, I gather from the news dispatch, is about the first forward step in the history of the Kuanyama Ambo in five thousand years.

But please don't take my word for it.

If you are interested, write to Dr. Edwin C. Loeb, who recently returned from an African expedition for the University of California.

I could advise my reader, who can't get along with his wife, to move to Southwest Africa and live among the Kuanyama Ambo.

That would probably be the simplest way to dispose of his matrimonial problem.

But he would have to quit his job here in America.

And the moving might be too expensive.

So we will have to help him find some other way.

Being married only 27 years, and not having had much trouble with my wife, I am not much of an expert on matrimonial troubles.

Let us see, therefore, what some of the classic experts say about marriage, and particularly about wives.

HOMER said in his Odyssey: Though you love your wife, do not tell her all you know; tell her some trifle, and conceal the rest.

Moliere, the French author and cynic, said: Who is the fool who does not wish his wife were dumb?

Here is Alexander Pope: To please a wife, when her occasions call, Would busy the most vigorous of us all. And trust me, sir, the chastest you can choose, Will ask observance, and exact her dues.

Not much help so far, is it?

But here, perhaps is the answer. Perhaps my reader—like too many men—wants the kind of wife John Quincy Adams wrote about:

"I want (who does not want?) a wife
Affectionate and fair,
To solace all the woes of life
And all its days to share;
Of temper sweet, of yielding will,
Of firm yet placid mind,
With all my faults to love me still,
With sentiments refined."

TO MEET CRITICISM

GOP Makes Changes

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The Republican representation on Capitol Hill is quietly giving itself that "new look" which so many GOP spokesmen demanded as a result of five successive presidential defeats, climaxed by the Truman election which cost them their finest opportunity in twenty years.

The minority has not shifted its right-of-center stance too ostentatiously. They have not indulged in top-policy conferences, adopted any revolutionary resolutions or condemned the men whose behaviour and influence on legislation led President Truman to assail the Eightieth Congress as a "do-nothing body." Politicians rarely react that way, as the Democrats showed when they welcomed rebellious "Dixiecrats" and Senator Glenn H. Taylor back into the fold.

TUCKER

Nevertheless, the Republicans have gone in for legislative housecleaning in a small but significant way.

LOST: Four once powerful Republicans in the House generally credited—or blamed—for giving the Eightieth Congress a reactionary taint and twist have lost a great deal of their legislative and political authority.

They are Representative Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, former majority leader; Representative John Taber of New York, former chairman of the Appropriations committee; Representative Clarence J. Brown of Ohio, a dominant figure on Rules when the GOP enjoyed control; and Representative Clare Hoffman of Michigan, whose conduct as a member of the Education and Labor committee cost the party almost as many votes as enactment of the Taft-Hartley Act.

IMPORTANCE: They enjoyed their tremendous influence in the last session not because of their qualities of leadership as much as for the key positions of management they occupied. Even former Speaker Martin, who frequently differed from them, had to defer to them because of their importance in the legislative organization.

Now Mr. Halleck is only an ordinary run-of-mine member. He also lost a great deal of prestige when, at Philadelphia, he withdrew from the nomination race in favor of Governor Dewey, hoping to place himself in line for second place on the ticket. He has been a disgruntled and disillusioned man ever since.

WEAKENED: Mr. Brown stays on Rules, but that once dominant group has been clipped of its wings through the recent change in legislative procedure. He can no longer align his Republican sidekicks with two conservative Democrats to block proposed legislation. In fact, so weakened is Rules' authority that several men have refused assignments to it, whereas once the, fought to get on.

Mr. Taber whose penny-pinching propensities offended almost every element in the electorate, can grumble and roar but, as mere ranking Republican on Appropriations, he will have no more voice than the humblest committeeman. To relegate him further into the background, the Democrats have given themselves two additional members on this watchdog unit.

ROUGH: House Republican leaders have been especially rough on Clare Hoffman. Nor are there any regret over his low estate because he has been as irritating to the Republicans as John E. Rankin of Mississippi is to the Democrats. He rarely receives partisan support for his tirades on or off the floor.

The Michigan man virtually ran Education and Labor when Republicans were in the majority, and also headed the Committee on Executive Expenditures. Inasmuch as minority members may sit on only one committee, he must give up one of these places.

RIBBING: Administration Democrats may have done the cause of international cooperation greater damage than any realize by their unchivalric treatment of Senator Vandenberg and other Republican framers of the bi-partisan foreign program.

Surviving isolationists on the GOP side of the Senate aisle have tried to capitalize on the arrangement reducing their representation on the Senate Foreign Relations committee. They are needling Mr. Vandenberg in an attempt to pull him over to their viewpoint. Their approach to the distinguished Grand Rapids member is Michavellian.

"Well, Van," they chortle, "don't say we didn't tell you so. The White House used you when they needed you, but now they've got all they want out of you, they throw you aside." Or—

"You were just a fall guy, anyway. They let you think you were shaping foreign policy. But you didn't know beforehand about the Truman Doctrine, the Marshall Plan or the Acheson appointment."

Mr. Vandenberg will exhibit more patience, tolerance and forgiveness than politicians ordinarily do, if he withstands this sort of ribbing for long.

PACKING: Inside reason for "stuffing" the committee with Democrats is fear of opposition against the proposed North American military alliance, also against Marshall Plan appropriations in the amount President Truman has asked.

Many members, including Democrats, are not sold on the scheme of arming European forces, fearing that it will inevitably commit us to future conflicts. An adverse report might have been forthcoming from Foreign Relations under the previous lineup, whereas the "packing" apparently insures favorable action in the committee.

INVESTIGATION: An investigation of major American life insurance companies that may match the Pecora investigation of Wall Street is contemplated by Representative Emanuel Celler, new chairman of the House Judiciary committee.

Although the Brooklyn lawyer insists that he simply seeks information on the financial operations of the firms, he has been stirred by reports that several of these insurance corporations have made loans of $200,000,000 to the Royal Dutch Shell Oil company.

In view of oil interests' activities in the Middle East and the Dutch East Indies, and their involvement in the Palestine and Indonesian disputes, Mr. Celler believes Congress should have more information on such deals.

He points out that Shell was able to avoid the scrutiny the State department, the S.E.C. and the Federal Reserve officials usually give to loans which, in one way or another, impinge on the conduct of foreign policy. Had the company obtained its money through floating an issue of securities or by borrowing from a bank, it would have had to supply complete data to the government.

Mr. Celler contends that life insurance companies, with billions to lend at home and abroad, ought to be required to show how they are using such vast assets. He added that 6,000 letters he has received on the proposed inquiry reflects tremendous public interest in the subject.

UN-AMERICAN GROUP SHUFFLED

Committee Changes Are Praised

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, — However successful the Truman administration may be with the President's civil rights program in the 81st Congress, it has struck one fine blow for civil liberties on another important front close to home.

This is in reorganization of the House Un-American Activities committee in the interest of orderly and proper procedure to protect the fundamental rights of citizens. That was accomplished by appointing responsible Democratic members with legal background and training to the committee.

STOKES

It was President Truman's own doing. When asked at a press conference some time ago what would be done about the Un-American Activities committee he told the questioner to see the new Speaker of the House. Speaker Sam Rayburn now has come through with the reorganization of the committee's Democratic personnel.

The purging process eliminated Rep. John Rankin (D., Miss.), who had contributed to the criticism directed at the committee by using it recklessly as a forum on occasion. His departure was achieved by a rule that a chairman of a committee could not be a member of another committee.

Mr. Rankin is chairman of the Veterans committee. Another condition imposed for membership, that members have legal training and background, resulted in retirement of another Southern Democrat, Rep. Edward F. Hebert (La.), a former New Orleans newspaperman, who often had exerted his influence against excesses and irregularities by the committee.

The reorganization process was aided considerably by the election. Two very active Republican members, Representatives John McDowell (Pa.) and Richard B. Vail (Ill.) were defeated. Whether Republicans, in making up their slate for the committee, will give a place to the former chairman, Rep. Parnell Thomas (N. J.), under indictment on salary kickback charges, was undetermined. He was re-elected, though by a reduced majority, in a rock-ribbed Republican district.

But the committee now is safely controlled by moderate Democrats, which seemes to assure legal and constitutional procedure.

How much of an influence the Un-American Activities committee was in the election no one can tell. President Truman made it an issue with his "red herring" tag, which Republicans threw back at him. The defeat of two of its most active Republican members may or may not be a sign. But the American people are notably skittish about inquisitorial bodies that pry into men's opinions and beliefs, and the Un-American activities committee, in performance of a job that Congress feels is necessary, certainly had gone far beyond bounds in that direction.

Its investigation of Hollywood writers some months ago was a rather terrifying spectacle to watch. That was conducted in a raw and ruthless manner. At the time, it was intimated that its future program included investigations into schools and colleges and "left-wing" magazines and newspapers, whatever the latter term might include. How much effect the moving picture investigation has since had on the output of Hollywood probably cannot be measured, but the abject attitude of some leading figures of the industry when they appeared here was rather disturbing to see.

It is assumed that this atmosphere no longer will prevail about the committee. To dispel it was the purpose of the reorganization.

The committee also gave the appearance in the last year of being used as an instrument to attack progressive organizations and causes, as well as labor. President Truman was very conscious of that. The election result indicated very plainly that the majority of people can have no sympathy with such an objective, and the change in personnel would seem to preclude such a course in the future, with the committee confining itself to actual subversive activities.

How the committee had come to be regarded in congress, itself, was indicated by the very few applicants for membership on it. It was avoided like the plague in preference lists of members. The Democratic leadership recognized that the only thing to do, since it would be continued, was to start from chratch almost literally and make it a committee of responsible members. That was the solution.

Quite a movement had developed to abolish the committee entirely, and this had support within the administration and in Congress. But the committee regained some standing when it turned up the Whittaker Chambers' "pumpkin papers" shortly before Congress returned here, and this reduced the strength of the abolition movement.

STOCKS STAGE RALLY
NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (AP)—A last-minute flurry of buying shoved the stock market into plus territory today.
The final score showed a sizable majority of gains running from fractions to more than a point. Closing prices were just about tops for the day.
Late buying, slight as it was, was enough to straighten out a market that had meandered over a fractional price course through the day.
Turnover picked up a little in the final hour but the total remained at the low level which has persisted for the past ten days or so. Sales of 750,000 shares compared with 770,000 yesterday.
The bulk of trading was again largely on a professional basis.
The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .4 of one point to 65.9, the fourth rise in a row and a level equal to the top since early November.
Of the 961 issues which changed hands, 437 advanced and 248 declined.
Air line stocks consistently stayed ahead through the day. Fractionally up were Pan American Airways at 8⅝, American Air Lines 8¾, United Air Lines 12½, Eastern 16¼, and Transcontinental and Western 12⅝.
Some of the rails, after a wobbly day made a strong finish. Up a point or more were Santa Fe 109½, Southern Pacific 48¾, Southern Railway 39¾, Union Pacific 89. Illinois Central added ⅝ at 29¾.
American Telephone recouped a little more of the losses sustained on news of an anti-monopoly suit against the company. The final quote was up 1¼ at 148.
Others ahead included U. S. Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodyear, Firestone, Douglas Aircraft, Consolidated Natural Gas, Phelps Dodge, Dow Chemical, General Electric, Owens-Illinois, General Foods (added by the first extra dividend since late 1946), Standard Oil (NJ), and Paramount Pictures.
Unchanged to slightly lower were Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, Anaconda Copper, Union Carbide, Allied Chemical (down 2), and Radio Corp.
Boosted in the curb were Mid West Corp., Louisiana Land, Humble Oil, Kaiser-Frazer, Electric Bond and Share, Cities Service, American Light, Niagara, Hudson Power, Pancoastal Oil, Pantepec Oil, and Northeast Air Lines. Sales of 210,000 shares compared with 200,000 yesterday.
Bonds followed stocks in the late swing upward.

Cotton

NEW YORK COTTON
NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (AP) — Cotton futures turned irregular today, following early steadiness, as profit taking and hedging met only scale down trade support. Sales of about 2,500 bales of nearby March futures by a leading spot firm presumed to be against purchases of spot cotton, also discouraged rallying tendencies.
Futures closed 45 cents a bale higher to 20 cents lower than the previous close.
