Officers Hope For Confession In Slaying of Boy Before Week Ends

SOME BELIEVE NEGRO NOW HELD IS INNOCENT

Veil of Secrecy Is Thrown Around The Investigation

BILLIARD CUE FOUND

New Clues Point To White Men As Boy's Murderers

Another mass of developments, the most striking of which were expressed belief that the slayer would be found one that a negro against whom strong suspicion has been diverted is probably innocent, were brought to light Thursday in the search for the slayer of Wesley Ashmore. Spurred on by the boy's death Wednesday night, the hunt was redoubled for the man or men who early Tuesday afternoon entered the C. G. Johnson cold drink stand on Ninth street, battered in young Ashmore's head and escaped with $25 from the cash register.

Secrecy Veils Work.

A thickening veil of secrecy thrown around county offices yesterday kept the case more or less under cover. Officials were reluctant to reveal the steps by which they are tracing down the murderer. Several declared, however, that the clues on which they are working were "warming up" and that important developments might be looked for today.

Those most active in the hunt hazarded a guess that a confession might be obtained before the end of the week. Others were more skeptical but all were agreed that a net was slowly being drawn about the slayer. As yet, however, no charges have been filed and, so far as is known, nothing bordering on a confession has been made.

Billiard Cue Found.

Two more clues were unearthed yesterday and added to the two already regarded by officials as being important. One was the finding of a short billiard cue, similar to the one believed to have been used with fatal effect on the head of the 13-year-old store clerk. This and other evidence said to have been found, the nature of which is being kept secret, was regarded as having extreme value. Investigators were busy throughout the day and last night linking up this chain of evidence with others that may have a bearing on the case.

White Men Involved.

The other clue, which developed unexpectedly yesterday, is said to involve white men in the murder. How far the investigation along this line had gone is not known.

In the meantime, the grand jury now in session has continued its investigatio of the affair. A large number of witnesses were called before it again yesterday, among them a negro youth who made some flat accusations against two other negro boys who are now in custody. He was to appear before the jury yesterday morning to tell his story.

It was simply to the effect that the two accused youths had laid the plot Sunday to rob the Johnson store. They were together Tuesday morning and again Tuesday afternoon, it is said, and one of them was seen to run from the store at about the time Ashmore was attacked.

Believe Negro Innocent.

The accusing negro identified one of the boys he said had left the stand. The grand jury heard him through but no action, so far as is known, was taken yesterday.

County officials last night stated that the negro youth spirited away to Fort Worth Wednesday after an identification by C. G. Johnson was probably not implicated in the affair. This angle of the case was one of the most promising unearthed up until Thursday morning, but continued investigation of his actions was said to have brought a growing conviction that he was suspected unjustly.

Funeral services for young Ashmore will be held from the First Baptist church Friday morning at 10 o'clock with Rev. O. L. Powers officiating. Burial will be in the Riverside cemetery.

He is survived by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ashmore and one sister, Mary Ashmore, all of 1319 Ninth street.

The active pallbearers selected for the funeral are: W. R. Ferguson, William Barringer, J. A. Maley, Jim Baber, Wiley Robertson, Frank Collier, and W. W. Gardner.

Honorary pallbearers will be members of Mrs. J. F. Briggs' Sunday school class.

COOLIDGE SON IS LAID TO REST AT OLD HOME

NOTABLES PRESENT

Executive Visits Home And Then Returns To White House

By The Associated Press.

PLYMOUTH, Vt., July 10.—In the little village cemetery where the maples and evergreens throw long shades across the old tombstones on the hillside, they buried Calvin Coolidge, 16 year old son and name-sake of the president, today. Restraining in large part outward manifestations of their sorrow, the parents, Mrs. Coolidge and John, the elder son, stood with bowed heads during the short, simple commitment service, until a marine bugler had blown "taps" across the grave.

The cemetery where Calvin was laid to rest lies on a little hill dominated by the green mountains which overshadow this village. In the family lot lie the mother of the president, ancestors and kinsmen.

Much of official Washington, including eight cabinet members, the speaker of the nation's house of representatives and the governors of two states, attended the service. The party from Washington came in the closely guarded train which was halted at Northampton for services in the Edwards Congregational church of which Calvin was a member.

As the last note of taps had echoed away, the family group went for a short time to the old white farm house of the president's father, Colonel John C. Coolidge, where the president took his oath of office on August 3, a year ago. Then, accompanied by the elder Coolidge, the little family, broken now by death, started on the journey back to Washington.

DEMOS DELAY ORGANIZATION FOR BIG FIGHT

Too Tired To Work Is General Opinion Of Committee

NEW YORK DESERTED

Delegates Hurry Home After Bitter Fight Over Nominee

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Eager to attack post convention details, the democratic national committee found itself today unable to bring fagged wits to serious business and decided to put off the formalities of organizing for the campaign until ever worked executives and party leaders caught up on sleep.

New York Deserted.

Tonight New York was a deserted village so far as the national convention was concerned. Hastily abandoned campaign buttons and multicolored badges were heaped in hotel repositories as evidence of the historic struggle which gave Madison Square Garden its great day. Weary, but smiling and exuding opposition of a November success, the phalanx of delegates alternates and advisers started homeward to tell the folks of the "strong and able candidates" resultant of their protracted labors.

Candidates Also Tired.

The candidates themselves, after a day of consultation and greetings—during which the presidential nominee was introduced to his running mate for the first time—prepared for a brief spell of organized and intensive rest.

John W. Davis, already committed to a campaign "direct to the country," returned to his home at Locust Valley, Long Island, with definite plans only for rest. Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska, prepared to return to Lincoln, planning to stop off at Chicago for a conference with middle western leaders in the party.

Many Wichitans Offer Aid to Mother Fighting to Keep Her Children

Many Persons Bring Bills to Office to Donate to Family; Load of Kindling Given.

Perhaps the most unanimous response that has ever greeted the efforts of the Record News to portray the true conditions in the city's poorer sections was accorded the story published in yesterday morning's paper about the mother with six children fighting to keep them at her side.

Calls began coming in early yesterday morning from people all over town, all of whom wanted to know the address so that they might give aid.

More than one came into the office with a roll of bills in his hand and desired to make some contribution to the cause. All of these were referred to the Salvation Army, that organization gladly furnishing such information as was requested.

Perhaps the most unusual of the donations conferred upon the family was a load of stove wood and kindling, given by a local citizen in order that the mother of the children might have wood to enable her to take in laundry work. Although this case has attracted a great deal of attention it is not generally known that it is one out of many in this city, and that such come to the attention of the welfare worker time after time each day.

To aid this cause the Record News is receiving subscriptions to its Milk and Ice Fund, the money thus received having already proved of inestimable benefit to many cases. Checks should be mailed to the Record News Milk and Ice Fund, care of Record News.

Mother Picks Up Own Daughter After Accident

Police Fail to Find Driver of Death Car When Report to Headquarters Is Delayed Many Hours.

Picked up in the arms of her own mother from beneath the wheels of an automobile that had just struck her down, little Ada Lois Weeks, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Weeks of 1302 Sixth, was rushed to General hospital early yesterday afternoon where she died early last night.

The accident occurred at Seventh and Lamar, one block from the main business district, at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon when the little girl was crossing the street with her mother and others. The driver of the car, a Dodge touring, gave a Record News reporter his name as Sidney Johnson, 1311 Pearl, helped get the child into a car to rush her to the hospital where death came at 7:15 p. m.

Report to Police Delayed.

Police at midnight had not located the driver of the car since they had not been advised of the accident until after the girl had died.

The little girl was crossing Seventh street from the Grace Methodist church toward town when she was struck, the driver of the car apparently not seeing her until it was too late. She was a member of a party of four, her mother, Mrs. D. F. Weeks, and two sisters, all of whom were going to town with the intention of seeing a show. Little Ada Lois had lagged behind.

Bystanders Cry Warning.

Her mother and her sisters had reached the sidewalk across the street when she was barely half-way over. Bystanders, seeing the car coming, cried out in warning to her, she turning her head and looking at the car as it bore down upon her. She seemed bewildered, and before she could get out of the way she had been struck and knocked to the pavement.

When help reached her, she was crying, "Mother."

Her mother, frantic, helped the child from under the car. There was no appearance of any real hurt to the child, except a look of pained horror in her eyes and a bent left leg that would not straighten. A dimpled knee was scratched where it had rubbed the pavement and a bit of blood from the slight wound had stained the immaculate yellow of the freshly starched dress she wore.

Mother Picks Her Up.

The mother picked the child up in her arms, but finding her heavy, surrendered her to a man who put her in a nearby car and carried her to the hospital. The ambulance came a moment later, but the girl was already on her way to the hospital.

Once at the hospital it was discovered that she was injured internally. Her strength slowly ebbed and she died at 7:30, just six hours after the accident.

Witnesses of the accident do not blame the man driving the car. He was not making excessive speed, they say, but was coming down Seventh street at the usual clip, and with his car so much under control that it was stopped almost by the time it had struck the bewildered child.

The father of the girl is an oil field worker, and he and his wife and three other small children survive. The body is in the hands of the Meeks Undertaking company, but no funeral arrangements have yet been made.

GERMAN SLAYER OF 22 IS HELD

Parents of Missing Boys Believe Fiend May Have Slain More

By The Associated Press.

HANOVER, Germany, July 10.—The list of Murderers attributed to a man named Haarman, who already has been found to have slain 22 persons, is growing as several families whose sons recently disappeared but who up until now had not suspected they might have been victims of the murderer, have begun searches to discover whether the missing men might have been killed by him.

Frau Schulenburg of Bertin, who came here to look for her son, found his hat, his handkerchief and four of his ties in Haarmann's cellar. The cellar is a low room made soundproof by boards and thick wallpaper and built close to the Seine river into which the murderer casts parts of the bodies of his victims. The fact that the room is lighted only by a lamp led to Haarman's undoing. One person who was enticed into the cellar overturned the lamp and escaped into the darkness.

Elkins, in charge of the inheritance tax department. Another large estate before the department is that of William Buchanan, late of Texarkana, who left about $2,127,000. Inheritance taxes this year will be several times larger than last year, when $127,000 was collected, Judge Elkins said.

COOLIDGE SON IS LAID TO REST AT OLD HOME

President and Wife Bear Up Well Under Great Grief

NOTABLES PRESENT

Executive Visits Home And Then Returns To White House

By The Associated Press.

PLYMOUTH, Vt., July 10.—In the little village cemetery where the maples and evergreens throw long shades across the old tombstones on the hillside, they buried Calvin Coolidge, 16 year old son and name-sake of the president, today. Restraining in large part outward manifestations of their sorrow, the parents, Mrs. Coolidge and John, the elder son, stood with bowed heads during the short, simple commitment service, until a marine bugler had blown "taps" across the grave.

The cemetery where Calvin was laid to rest lies on a little hill dominated by the green mountains which overshadow this village. In the family lot lie the mother of the president, ancestors and kinsmen.

Much of official Washington, including eight cabinet members, the speaker of the nation's house of representatives and the governors of two states, attended the service. The party from Washington came in the closely guarded train which was halted at Northampton for services in the Edwards Congregational church of which Calvin was a member.

As the last note of taps had echoed away, the family group went for a short time to the old white farm house of the president's father, Colonel John C. Coolidge, where the president took his oath of office on August 3, a year ago. Then, accompanied by the elder Coolidge, the little family, broken now by death, started on the journey back to Washington.

ROBERTSON MAY BE OFF BALLOT

Failure to File His Expense Account Properly Is Alleged

By The Associated Press.

AUSTIN, July 10.—A legal opinion to the effect that Judge Felix D. Robertson's name can be kept off the primary ballot as a candidate for governor because it is charged he failed to properly file his campaign expense account was rendered to Mrs. Claude De Van Watts, state president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union by a firm of Austin lawyers today at her request, Mrs. Watts announced. She did not disclose what steps she expected to take in the matter. Judge Robertson, the record shows, did not file an expense account himself but certified to an account filed by his campaign manager. The legal opinion holds this was not a compliance with the law.

Baseball Players Freed of Blame In Girl's Death

By The Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, July 10.—A coroner's jury late today returned a verdict of accidental death in the case of Miss Blanche Pearce, whose body was found early Tuesday morning at the bottom of a freight elevator shaft in a downtown apartment hotel.

William Skiff and Pete Scott, members of the Kansas City American association baseball club, in whose rooms Miss Pearce attended a party prior to her fatal plunge, were exonerated of any blame.

The coroner's jury censured the hotel management for inefficient elevator doors and absence of warning notices over them.

Following the inquest George Muehlebach owner of the baseball club reinstated Skiff and Scott, who had been indefinitely suspended pending the investigation.

Hospital physicians said her condition was serious.

Many Wichitans Offer Aid to Mother Fighting to Keep Her Children

Many Persons Bring Bills to Office to Donate to Family; Load of Kindling Given.

Perhaps the most unanimous response that has ever greeted the efforts of the Record News to portray the true conditions in the city's poorer sections was accorded the story published in yesterday morning's paper about the mother with six children fighting to keep them at her side.

Calls began coming in early yesterday morning from people all over town, all of whom wanted to know the address so that they might give aid.

More than one came into the office with a roll of bills in his hand and desired to make some contribution to the cause. All of these were referred to the Salvation Army, that organization gladly furnishing such information as was requested.

Perhaps the most unusual of the donations conferred upon the family was a load of stove wood and kindling, given by a local citizen in order that the mother of the children might have wood to enable her to take in laundry work. Although this case has attracted a great deal of attention it is not generally known that it is one out of many in this city, and that such come to the attention of the welfare worker time after time each day.

To aid this cause the Record News is receiving subscriptions to its Milk and Ice Fund, the money thus received having already proved of inestimable benefit to many cases. Checks should be mailed to the Record News Milk and Ice Fund, care of Record News.

DEMOS DELAY ORGANIZATION FOR BIG FIGHT

Too Tired To Work Is General Opinion Of Committee

NEW YORK DESERTED

Delegates Hurry Home After Bitter Fight Over Nominee

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Eager to attack post convention details, the democratic national committee found itself today unable to bring jagged wits to serious business and decided to put off the formalities of organizing for the campaign until over worked executives and party leaders caught up on sleep.

New York Deserted.

Tonight New York was a deserted village so far as the national convention was concerned. Hastily abandoned campaign buttons and multi-colored badges were heaped in hotel repositories as evidence of the historic struggle which gave Madison Square Garden its great day. Weary, but smiling and exuding opposition of a November success, the phalanx of delegates alternates and advisers started homeward to tell the folks of the "strong and able candidates" resultant of their protracted labors.

Candidates Also Tired.

The candidates themselves, after a day of consultation and greetings—during which the presidential nominee was introduced to his running mate for the first time—prepared for a brief spell of organized and intensive rest.

John W. Davis, already committed to a campaign "direct to the country," returned to his home at Locust Valley, Long Island, with definite plans only for rest. Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska, prepared to return to Lincoln, planning to stop off at Chicago for a conference with middle western leaders in the party.

ORIENT IN BAD WAY, SPLAWN

By The Associated Press.

STAMFORD, Texas, July 10.—Reports that the "Orient railway is in a highly prosperous condition should be severely discounted because the facts do not warrant any such statement," Dr. Walter Splawn, railroad commissioner, declared here late yesterday as he departed on a tour of inspection of the line. The object of this trip is to lend any possible cooperation in "keeping the road in operation," he said.

Accompanied by Porter A. Whaley manager of the west Texas chamber of commerce, Dr. Splawn's itenerary began at Rule and all towns on the line to Alpine will be visited, the inspection to end on July 18.

FILIPINO TROOPS TO BE "TAPPED"

By The Associated Press.

MANILA, July 10.—While a superficial investigation of all the Filipino regiments, comprising about 7,000 men, shows a negligable amount of discontent among enlisted troops except in approximately 200 men of the 57th infantry and 12th medical regiment, it is stated unofficially orders have have been sent to all officers of the Philippine scouts to make a thorough investigation of the personnel under their command to ascertain if discontent exists beneath the surface. Most of these officers are Americans.

Mother Picks Up Own Daughter After Accident

Police Fail to Find Driver of Death Car When Report to Headquarters Is Delayed Many Hours.

Picked up in the arms of her own mother from beneath the wheels of an automobile that had just struck her down, little Ada Lois Weeks, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Weeks of 1302 Sixth, was rushed to General hospital early yesterday afternoon where she died early last night.

The accident occurred at Seventh and Lamar, one block from the main business district, at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon when the little girl was crossing the street with her mother and others. The driver of the car, a Dodge touring, gave a Record News reporter his name as Sidney Johnson, 1311 Pearl, helped get the child into a car to rush her to the hospital where death came at 7:15 p. m.

Report to Police Delayed.

Police at midnight had not located the driver of the car since they had not been advised of the accident until after the girl had died.

The little girl was crossing Seventh street from the Grace Methodist church toward town when she was struck, the driver of the car apparently not seeing her until it was too late. She was a member of a party of four, her mother, Mrs. D. F. Weeks, and two sisters, all of whom were going to town with the intention of seeing a show. Little Ada Lois had lagged behind.

Bystanders Cry Warning.

Her mother and her sisters had reached the sidewalk across the street when she was barely half-way over. Bystanders, seeing the car coming, cried out in warning to her, she turning her head and looking at the car as it bore down upon her. She seemed bewildered, and before she could get out of the way she had been struck and knocked to the pavement.

When help reached her, she was crying, "Mother."

Her mother, frantic, helped the child from under the car. There was no appearance of any real hurt to the child, except a look of pained horror in her eyes and a bent left leg that would not straighten. A dimpled knee was scratched where it had rubbed the pavement and a bit of blood from the slight wound had stained the immaculate yellow of the freshly starched dress she wore.

Mother Picks Her Up.

The mother picked the child up in her arms, but finding her heavy, surrendered her to a man who put her in a nearby car and carried her to the hospital. The ambulance came a moment later, but the girl was already on her way to the hospital.

Once at the hospital it was discovered that she was injured internally. Her strength slowly ebbed and she died at 7:30, just six hours after the accident.

Witnesses of the accident do not blame the man driving the car. He was not making excessive speed, they say, but was coming down Seventh street at the usual clip, and with his car so much under control that it was stopped almost by the time it had struck the bewildered child.

The father of the girl is an oil field worker, and he and his wife and three other small children survive. The body is in the hands of the Meeks Undertaking company, but no funeral arrangements have yet been made.

GERMAN SLAYER OF 22 IS HELD

Parents of Missing Boys Believe Fiend May Have Slain More

By The Associated Press.

HANOVER, Germany, July 10.—The list of Murderers attributed to a man named Haarman, who already has been found to have slain 22 persons, is growing as several families whose sons recently disappeared but who up until now had not suspected they might have been victims of the murderer, have begun searches to discover whether the missing men might have been killed by him.

Frau Schulenburg of Berlin, who came here to look for her son, found his hat; his handkerchief and four of his ties in Haarmann's cellar. The cellar is a low room made soundproof by boards and thick wallpaper and built close to the Seine river into which the murderer casts parts of the bodies of his victims. The fact that the room is lighted only by a lamp led to Haarman's undoing. One person who was enticed into the cellar overturned the lamp and escaped into the darkness.

Gas Companies Pay Back Taxes

By The Associated Press.

AUSTIN, July 10.—A check for $50,284 was received today by the attorney general from the Dallas Gas company in settlement of a judgment obtained by the state for gross tax receipts. On discoveries made by Homer H. Pierson of the comptroller's department the state started suit to compel the gas company to pay the full receipts tax on gas sold by it. Before this time it had been paying only a part of the tax, leaving the remainder to be paid by the Lone Star Gas company, from which the Dallas concern buys its product. The suit was started in October, 1922.

WHERE DO YOU SOW?

IF YOU were sowing for a crop, would you sow in your own field, or in someone's else? Sounds like foolish question doesn't it? But there are a great many people who do sow in the other fellow's field when it comes to buying. Instead of buying from home dealers, or having home folks render them service, they send their money away to firms that they have never seen and folks they never will see.

THE MONEY spent at home yields a crop in building up home business—making it possible for home folks to buy what you have to sell. The money sent elsewhere doesn't do that. It can't, for it never comes back. Patronize the firms represented on this page and you'll be sowing in your own field—and reaping a twofold harvest. Spend your money where it will have a chance to return to you.

MOTORMEN ARE WELL SELECTED

Traction Companies Take No Chances With Personnel

Chester Rowell, well known California editor, in a recent issue of the San Francisco Bulletin wrote:

"The motorman on the electric street car is a picked man. His job may require only ordinary intelligence, but he must have more than ordinary self control and attentiveness. Even with these selected qualifications he is put under exceptional regulations to protect those who ride with him.

"Even before prohibition he had to be a total abstainer. He must attend strictly to business and not talk to passengers. Nothing less than this exceptional protection of the selected qualifications of a picked man is regarded as adequate for safety.

"The automobile driver is anybody who can get a car. He or she may be old or young, rattle-headed or attentive, responsible or careless.

"He may flirt with a giggling girl at his side, or fling smart-aleck jokes at the passengers in the car. He may gaze at the scenery, instead of the road.

"He may drink all he likes, provided he cannot be proved outright 'drunk.' And he guides a machine swifter, more erratic, less controllable and more dangerous than a street car. He needs more qualifications than the motorman, and he frequently has less.

"No wonder life has become a hazardous occupation."

Man's Best Tool Is Electricity Herbert Hoover Says By Radio

In addressing the annual convention of the National Electric Light association at Atlantic City, by radio from Washington, Secretary Hoover said:

"We have outdistanced all the world in our electrical development up to now. Today we have 27,000 telegraph stations, over 15,000,000 telephones, over 600 radio broadcasting stations, over 3,000,000 receiving sets with possibly 15,000,000 listeners, 9,000,000 homes are wired for lights, we have the capacity to generate over 27,000,000 electrical horsepower. The American wage earner has at his elbow 50 per cent more power than any of his competitors. In consequence his product is greater, his wage higher, and his physical strain is less than any other.

"The real purpose of all this development is that through more power we shall make a still greater saving in labor, increase the product of labor, and lessen the burden upon labor. Through even enlarged communication we shall increase our effectiveness in the direction of industry and commerce; we shall further the spread of intellectual ideas. Thus we gain in higher standards of living, wider enjoyment and comfort, to every fireside, which is the end and sole purpose of our economic effort as a nation.

The key to further progress in all fields of electrical development might be stated in one word—Interconnection.

"Power interconnection is now the road to our great electrical march to more economical expansion. In deed we have here before us a step of progress which will ramnify into every field of our economic life.

"This new vista in progress has been opened to us by the perfection in transmission of electric power up to 200 or even 300 miles and the higher mechanical efficiency or our generators up to 70,000 horsepower in a single machine. With these twin developments comes the opportunity to generate power in much larger and more economically located stations, to harness our water power which were too remote for use ten years ago and to bring them into the field of population. Herein do we have elements of often miscalled superpower.

"We have in the United States today about 6,000 separate power and lighting system. To take advantage of these new forces we need interconnections of these isolated systems over large geographical areas so as to provide a sort of a reservoir into which these larger streams of power may be poured from central plans and from our greater water powers. Some interconnection has taken place but in this large vision of our more recent engineering advances less than 10 per cent of the systems are interconnected. We have many gains to make through this wider interconnection and central generation. From them we shall secure cheaper production costs, in greater reliability, better utilization and consequent conservation of our coal supplies and larger utilization of our available water power."

COST RISES AS PHONES GROW

Each New Instrument Widens Range for All Others

As a telephone service grows larger the cost per telephone for operation and maintenance increases.

When a system has few subscriberd, conversations are few and operating costs are low. Subscribers are grouped around the central office and lines are shorter and less expensive to build; line troubles are fewer and maintenance easier.

As subscribers increase, each telephone user can talk to an ever-widening circle of friends and business associates. Operating costs per telephone grow as more frequent talks are held. Subscribers' lines begin to run farther and ever farther from the exchange until a big percentage of them are miles in length, expensive to build and increasingly expensive to maintain.

The simple central office equipment, switchboards, etc., must give place to more intricate and costly apparatus. Higher skilled workmen must be employed to take care of it. Expensive underground cable must be laid and aerial cable must replace open wires.

All along the line the scope of services broadens; the labor forces increase—and expenses grow proportionately.

Soviet Navy In Greatest Fear Of Seasickness

RIGA, Latvia, July.—Seasickness is a great handicap to the activities of the Soviet navy, says naval expert, Lukasevich in an article in the Soviet press discussing the necessity for long-distance cruising for the Red Fleet.

It is impossible, the writer says, to speak about the prepaeredness of the fleet unless it has had practical experience with such cruising. At present the Soviet fleet is manned by young factory workers, and he expressed the belief that more than half of the crew would be put out of action through seasickness in their first acquaintance with the wind and waves.

In the Caspia sea during the civil war, Lukasbevich added, sea-sickness disable 80 per cent of the crews, and the remainder had the greatest difficulty in saving the ships.

New Cable Lines Will Connect With Alaska

KETCHIKAN, Alaska.—With the completion of a new cable between Seattle and Seward, Alaska, next fall by the United States, army, Ketchikan will be one of the largest cable stations in the world, according to officials handling the laying of the line.

The first section of the new cable which links Seattle and Ketchikan was finished May 31 by the cableship Dellwood. The Dellwood then went to London to load cable for a second section which will connect Ketchikan and Seward. Another new line is to link Juneau, Wrangell, and Petersburg with this city. Ketchikan will then be a relay office for four lines, two going into southwestern Alaska, one to Seward and one to Seattle. All these cables will be used commercially.

Lemon and Chicken Are On Price Parity

BERLIN.—Roast chicken, eggs, black bread and cakes and other edibles produced locally, are reasonable in price in Russia, but when it comes to fruit, toilet stricles, or anything else which has been imported, they usually are nearly worth their weight in gold, according to Dr. Wilbur K. Thmoas of Philadelphia, executive secretary of the American Friends society.

Dr. Thomas recently completed an inspection trip of several weeks in Russian districts where the Quakers' organization is still assisting the inhabitants. At the railroad stations on different routes he noted that an entire roast chicken hold for approximately 75 cents, while a lemon, which had been imported, cost as much as the chicken.

A device recently patented by a French concern in this country is claimed to provide a silent key attachment for any form of typewriter.

KITCHEN WORK NOT SO HARD THESE DAYS

Ten years ago the special investigators of the census bureau reported that hired girls in housework had the highest death rate and lowest life expectancy of all classes of women engaged in gainful occupations. While women doing their own house work showed a less favorable bill of health than in the professions and in business, says the Texas Public Service Information bureau.

Today the picture is very different. "Out goes the broiling kitchen stove," says Dr. Hutchinson, "with its murderous blacking and coal scuttles and ashes, and in comes the clean, cool and dustless, enameled gas stove, controlled by a turn of the wrist and wiped white with a damp cloth; also at proper 'back' height to match the sink and table. Nothing heavier than a broom or skillet or aluminum tea kettle to be lifted or carried anywhere in the whole house."

Motor Horns on Horse Carriages Liven Street

BELGRADE, July 7.—On all two-horse open carriages which here take the place of taxicabs, automobile horns have replaced the shrill yells of the driver as he tears through the streets, and all because of a young American.

He came here to take over an automobile agency and found an overstock of horns. Sometime later, curiously enough, the city authorities passed an ordinance compelling horse vehicles to be equipped with these signals. The American is happy and so is the populace, because the constant shriek of the horns gives the city an appearance, or rather sound, of bustling modernity.

Motors Breed Class Jealousy, He Asserts

LONDON.—In the opinion of Lord Summer the safety razor and artificial silk are two of the most striking inventions of the present day. Speaking at a recent science guild dinner, Lord Sumner asid:

"The safety razor has exposed the face of man and artificial silk has revealed the legs of women. Of the motorcar, I doubt if any invention has done more to sow, to water, and to ripen a feeling of jealousy between classes."

Lynch Davidson Turns Down Challenge

HE REFUSES TO 'SLING ANY MUD'

"Hit Dog Howls," Says Candidate in Answer To Opponent

Special to The Record News.

LONGVIEW, Texas, July 10.—Lynch Davidson, candidate for governor, issued a statement at Longview today, answering T. W. Davidson's challenge to a debate on campaign issues, which the latter issued Sunday at Wichita Falls. Lynch Davidson's statement, addressed to his opponent, follows:

Will Not Sling Mud.

"Your challenge to me for a debate on what you term the issues of the campaign comes from the hit dog as a howl of defeat. Likewise, it is an evident effort on your part to draw me into the mud-slinging campaign you have been conducting. I pledged myself at the outset of this campaign to indulge in no mud-slinging or personalities and am not now going to be drawn into such controversies. They always becloud the fundamental issues and problems confronting the people of Texas. As for misrepresentations of your platform with which you charge me, I am perfectly willing to let the people of Texas be judge.

"Regarding the contract I made by which the Texas state railroad's operations are conducted by the Southern Pacific lines; if any profits are made the state gets half of them; the road is to be maintained in standard condition and whatever losses the road may incur, the Southern Pacific pays all the losses. It is a contract of which I am extremely proud. It has already saved Texas $320,000. I have almost boasted of this contract in every speech I have made in Texas and you heard me do so at Waco when I stated it was one of those cases I win, tails you lose' contracts. It becomes you to criticise the Texas state railroad's rehabilitation. You were one of the personnel of the joint house and senate committee that inspected the road after its rehabilitation, returned to Austin and voted a resolution of thanks and congratulations to me for the splendid work done in that connection. I thank you again for assisting me in spreading the news as to the contract by which the Southern Pacific lines operate the Texas state railroad.

'Petty Trickery.'

"The $23,000 appropriated to rebuild the road with, plus an additional $10,000, is still on hand in the treasury of Texas. While acting governor a short time ago you took from the files of the governor's office a complete statement in the most minute detail of the road's affairs, inspected that statement, and in an address at Austin that selfsame night offered a hat to anybody who could show the scratch of a pen or typewriter of that report in the capitol at Austin. It takes very small men to resort to such petty trickery.

"The citizens of Texas are not looking for criminations or recriminations. Candidates' platforms should be elucidated so that voters may determine their fitness or unfitness to serve the commonwealth. Practically every gubernatorial candidate has concentrated his attacks upon Lynch Davidson, and a number of them, like yourself, have challenged me to debates, hoping to draw me into a campaign of personalities. Time precludes my taking each of them out on the side for debating purposes and at the same time discuss with the people of Texas my proposals to solve their serious governmental problems.

Non-Partisan Principles.

"The Non-Partisan league principles to which you subscribed to get that organization's indorsement are so plainly socialistic that it is academic to debate them. You have not been frank with the people in discussing your Non-Partisan league platform, choosing rather to conduct a campaign of prejudice and passion, that the socialistic import of your Non-Partisan league policies be not understood. Section 2 of your platform proposes, according to its exact language, to amend the constitution 'for the elimination of the 35 cent ad valorem tax for general purposes.' If the English language means anything that means to take the tax limit out of the constitution and leave it to the legislature to fasten whatever amount of taxes it may want on the people—the sky the limit. Proof of that fact lies in the very next words of your platform which, using its exact language, favors 'an income, luxury, franchise, privilege, intangible and inheritance tax'; this tax to take the place of the ad valorem tax restricted by constitutional limitations of 35 cents. An income tax is without constitutional limitations of any kind, a fact well established by the manner in which the national congress legislates the federal income tax. I am strictly against the adoption in Texas of the income tax system as proposed by you.

"The insurance clause of your platform as presented by you expresses dense ignorance or is wilfully misstated. This plank in your platform proposes to amend the constitution, and quoting its exact language, 'providing for the adoption of the state insurance plan, whereby the state itself shall underwrite all accident and death insurance claims.' The compensation act is statutory and not constitutional, and certainly the above clause has nothing to do with amending the compensation act as stated by you. If the word 'underwrite' means anything at all in the English language it means to engage the state in the insurance business, just exactly as was done in North Dakota, and is the very language of the Non-Partisan league North Dakota platform."

Woman Ranks Next To Governor

SANTA FE, N. M., July.—New Mexico, the youngest state, is the first in which a woman stands next in rank to the governor. The recent death of Lieutenant Governor Jose A. Baca has left Mrs. Soledad C. Chacon of Albuquerque, the secretary of state, nearest in authority to the executive. Should Governor James F. Hinkle leave the state, during his absence Mrs. Chacon would be acting gover-

Bryan Selection Pleases Dawes

CHICAGO, July 10. — General Charles G. Dawes, republican vice-presidential nominee, expressed pleasure today that the democratic vice-presidential nomination had been conferred upon his old friend, Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska, the state where the general formerly lived. He issued this statement:

"Governor Bryan differs sharply, of course, in political matters, but that has never interfered with the personal friendship which for so many years united our families, and which started in 1889, when William J. Bryan and I set up housekeeping within three blocks of each other on D street in Lincoln, Nebr."

"I am glad of the honor which has come to Governor Bryan and to the city of Lincoln and the state of Nebraska in his nomination for the vice-presidency."

Law of Conduct in Theatres Laid Down by German Judge

BERLIN, July —A Berlin judge has formulated the limits of approval or disapproval of a play by a spectator as follows:

"If the management makes no preliminary announcement to the contrary, it must be assumed that it agrees tacitly to the old established custom that everybody who is so inclined may criticism the performance by signs of disapproval. Of course, the means adopted for expressing permissible artistic criticism must conform with middle-European customs. House keys and whistles are forbidden, for in the last analysis the theater is no field of battle where brute force decides the issue."

The ruling grew out of one of many law cases resulting from evictions from theaters of persons who were too noisy in their demonstrations.

Florida Man Plans to Hunt Lions With Bow and Arrow

DENVER, Colo., July.—E. R. Welch, a Florida nimrod, will hunt mountain lions in Colorado this summer armed only with bow and arrow, he has notified Stanley P. Young, in charge of the predatory animal division for the United States biological survey.

"No question about getting mountain lions if I get a shot at them," Welch wrote. "I can put an arrow through a one-inch plank. All I ask is that the lions be treed first. I'll guarantee to knock them off the highest branches."

Young assured Welch he would be welcome to chase mountain lions from one end of the Rockies to the other.

Police Must Learn How to Run

LOS ANGELES, July.—The police here are being put through a course in physical culture by Captain Walter Yant, former physical culture director of the 91st division at Camp Lewis.

Explaining the need for the course, Captain Yant said: "Very few policemen can run three blocks or even two, few can go up or down a rope. Having big muscles and being able to lift heavy weights are not physical fitness. Some officers don't know how to stand. Many don't know how to breathe."

Girl Bandit of Jugo Slavia "Marcelled" Not Bobbed

BELGRADE. — Not bobbed but carefully marcelled. Jugo-Slavia's girl bandit has been captured near Brbovo village together with a half dozen of her band of brigands.

Young and prepossessing, she is known as the "silken woman" because of her extravagance in dress. When captured she was clothed completely in silk and wore neat little patent leather pumps. Soft spoken and of quiet demeanor, she is described as enterprising and reckless as any man in her exploits.

The police are trying to discover her real name. Her fellow prisoners absolutely decline to divulge it.

LA FOLLETTE TO BE CARED FOR

Placing Electros On Ballots To Be Well Attended To

CHICAGO, July 10.—Herman Ekern, attorney general of Wisconsin, probably will have charge of arrangements for placing LaFollette electors on the presidential ballots of the various states in November, Representative John M. Nelson, national manager of the LaFollette campaign, announced today.

"We will make provision to meet special conditions in certain states," he said, "for example, I understand that in Minnesota the state parties are required by law to ratify the national party nominations before the nominees may be represented on the ballot. The state committee may do this or they may call a state convention to decide upon the candidate. This will be taken care of."

Any Way.

While LaFollette electors are expected to go on the ballots in many states, in some states perhaps the electors of the socialist party, which has endorsed Senator LaFollette, will be sufficient, as in Oklahoma, where the time for filing names of electors has passed. The same situation may exist in some other states but neither LaFollette nor socialist headquarters had the necessary data as yet for working out their plans.

State's Laws.

In California the senator's name must be written in by the voters, according to officials of that state. In Illinois, Nebraska, and Iowa, petitions must bear at least 1,000 signatures of qualified voters, while 500 signatures are required in Iowa. One per cent of the voters is required on such a petition for an independent candidate in Missouri. In North Dakota only 300 names are necessary and one per cent or less than 17,000 names are required in Ohio. Somewhat similar election laws exist in Minnesota and Wisconsin, as to nomination petitions. In Kansas a convetion must be held and 2,500 signatures obtained to nominate electors.

Daughter of British Premier Wins Praise From Society

LONDON. — Ishbel MacDonald, the premier's daughter, is winning commendation from society people for the way she has met the whirligig of royal ceremonies and stately hospitalities. Her simplicity and modesty have brought her through, says one commentator: she models herself on no one and is just Isbbel.

She is said to be developing into quite a society beauty too, but at the same time maintains the freshness and directness of the quiet Scottish girl, and is without the artificial mannerism of many of London's society girls.

Political Notes

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. July 10.—If the name of Robert M. La Follette, independent candidate for president of the United States, is to be placed before the voters of Missouri at the general election it will be necessary that petition bearing the signatures of at least one per cent of the voters be filed at least thirty days before the general election.

DES MOINES, July 10.—Five hundred qualified voters of Iowa must sign a petition for Presentation to the executive council before the name of La Follette may be placed on the ballot in this state, it was announced at the office of the state attorney general today.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 10.—Nominating papers bearing one thousand or more signatures must be filed on or before October 5 with the secretary of state if La Follette's name is to appear on the ballot for the November election, according to the Illinois election law.

OMAHA, Neb., July 10.—A petition signed by 1,000 voters filed with the secretary of state is necessary to place the name of La Follette on the general election ballot in Nebraska in November.

New Wear For Women Runs To Many Colorful Mixtures

ELBERFELD, Germany, July.—Strange but interesting combinations are coming to light this spring in various wares for women, many of the materials manufactured here being for the American trade.

Art silk jumpers in nine different color combinations, in each of which there are eight shades, is one of the season's novelties. Silk and wool jumper suits are being made here by the thousands in marl mixtures in which almond, brown, tan, blue, grey or fawn predominates. Tennis coats for the summer are in fancy patterns in saxe, almond, white, champagne and tan.

Multi-colored and marl mixtures appear to be predominating styles, but there will be some mingled stripes in two colors which experts say are very smart indeed. It is predicted that this season in America and England there will be more brilliant colors and wonderful contrasts than ever before.

Bremerhaven's 'Yank Town' Cleared of Beachcombers

BREMERHAVEN, Germany, July.—Bremerhaven's "Yank Town" has been dissolved. With three or four exceptions, all of the 500 to 600 beachcombers from America, who assembled here during the inflation period of the paper mark, when a glass of beer cost a fraction of a cent and meals could be purchased along the water front for five cents or thereabouts, have been sent home by United States Consul Albert H. Gerberich, out of funds provided by the American government.

Most of the men were sailors, cooks and stewards off the various vessels putting in here from American ports.

LA FOLLETTE AND BRYAN ARE TEAM

Declares Progressive In Naming Probable Victories

By The Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, July 10.—Declaring that Senator Robert M. La Follette and Governor Charles W. Bryan "would carry every state west of Pennsylvania and north of the Mason and Dixon line, with several southern states," Sheridan Carlisle, president of the National Progressive league, today telegraphed Senator La Follette, urging Bryan as a running mate.

Carlisle, an attorney, also is chairman of the state executive committee of the progressive party of Missouri. His telegram follows in part:

"Landslide.

"Nomination of Davis and Bryan by democrats means you will be elected president in landslide. But it is my judgment, which is result of knowledge of western conditions, that you should endorse Bryan as candidate for vice-president with you on progressive ticket.

"Most western democrats and many southern democrats are bitterly opposed to Davis, but like Bryan. Western progressive republicans also like Bryan and would be able to unite in complete harmony with western democrats who oppose Davis and favor you."

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

JULY 11, 1924.

THE TENDER SHEPHERD:—He shall feed his flock like a shepherd: He shall gather the lambs with His arm, and carry them in His bosom.—Isaiah 40:11.

PRAYER:—O Thou Good Shepherd of the Sheep, enable us to live in the knowledge that having given Thy life for us, Thou wilt also do for us all else we need.

MEANS GETS A STRIPED SUIT.

Gaston B. Means, former government investigator and known as the right hand man of William J. Burns, was given two years and fined $10,000 in the federal district court in the city of New York. Means was indicted and sent to trial for conspiracy to violate the Volstead act. He was the principal witness used by the senate investigating committee operated by Senator Burton K. Wheeler and he sought to besmirch the republican administration from the president to the White House janitor.

This winner of the striped suit is a North Carolinian, a man of education and high family connection and yet he has been indicted for most of the crimes known to the political high-jackers of the age.

Secretary A. W. Mellon was dragged from Washington to New York to appear as a witness in the Means case. What he had to say was to the point. He did not know Means socially or otherwise; he had never engaged in a business transaction with him; he had no knowledge of violations of prohibition laws and as for the issuance of spurious permits the agents of the government would have to go elsewhere to obtain information.

Andrew W. Mellon may be the possessor of an enormous fortune. He may be a successful financier and captain of industry but he is a man of honor and his money has not made him a menace. He is working for the American people for a salary of $12,500 a year. He is doing his best to give his country the best service at his command. His views on taxation may be unpopular to many but why should he be dragged from Washington to New York to appear as a witness in a police court case on the docket of a federal court?

Means has been put away. The law got him. No doubt he deserved the penalty meted out to him by a jury of his peers. There are many parasites in Official and political life who would be behind the bars of a penitentiary if justice wasn't a slow traveler.

REGARDING CRIME.

A recent editorial in The Record News regarding the small amount of crime in Wichita Falls, brought forth the following comment from the Dallas News:

If Wichita Falls is as crimeless as the Record News sees it, and if that condition continues long enough to become consistent, then a lot of other cities ought to send investigators to Wichita Falls and discover the secret of such tranquility. As a matter of fact, all our Texas cities are reasonably lawabiding. There are a few bandits still out of jail, and out of the ground, but banditry in Texas is far from profitable. Our police departments are energetic and intelligent, in the main, nothing being too deep for them except, in some cases, midnight floggings, now happily relegated to the barbarous past. There is no reason why crimes should be committed anywhere in Texas, save the age-old reason that a few men prefer robbery to labor, criminality to civility. Every quarter of our state offers attractive opportunities to men who would rather work than loaf. There is a bed and a roof for every industrious man, with two or three staunch meals every week day and an overfeed, with ice cream and cake, on Sunday. Any man in good health, with a will to earn, can make an honest living and encourage the savings banks anywhere in Texas. He can if he wants to, but if he doesn't want to he will try various substitutes for honest employment. Our lawless element, small though it be in proportion to total population, is the least worthy and the least intelligent group we have. Every lawless man, whether bootlegger, burglar or train robber, is in the last analysis a stupid and obnoxious individual who usually imagines himself smarter than the law, and painfully surprised whn he discovers his error.

William Phillip Sims says that France is going to build a great railway across the Sahara desert and then will be able to transport millions of black troops in case of war. More hell a-brewing.

PANTOMIME -:- By J. H. Striebel

HOW WAS THAT FOR AN "UNBOSSED" CONVENTION?

"OLIVER OCTOBER"

"Yes, sir," said she "fixing him with an accusing eye; "I do agree with you—absolutely."

"The strange thing about it," he pursued defensively, "is that I never thought of her as being especially good looking until recently. Funny, isn't it?"

"There are a lot of things we don't notice," said she, "until some one else pinches us. Then we open our eyes. I guess some one must have pinched you. It hurts more when a man pinches you—specially a big, strong fellow like Doc Lansing."

A pained expression came into Oliver's eyes. "The troubel is I've always looked upon her as a—well, as a sort of sister or something like that. We grew up just like brother and sister. How was I to know that she was pretty? A fellow never thinks of his sister as being pretty, does he?"

"I suppose not. But, on the other hand, he never loses his appetite and hopes and has the blues if his sister happens to take a fancy to a man who isn't her brother. That's what you've been doing for two or three weeks. If you had the least bit of gumption, you'd up and tell her you can't stand being a brother to her any longer and you'd like to be something else—if it isn't too late."

"Gee!" exclaimed he ruefully. "But suppose she was to say it is too late?"

"That's a nice way for a soldier to talk," said Mrs. Grimes scathingly.

The Centre of the Stage

He saw very little of Jane during the days that followed Mrs. Sage's return. Her mother demanded much of her; she was constantly in attendance upon the pampered lady. Oliver chafed. He complained to Jane on one of the rare occasions when they were alone together:

"Why, you're nothing but a lady's maid, Jane. You've been home five days and I haven't had a chance to say 10 words to you. Now, don't misunderstand me. I'm fond of Aunt Josephine. She's great fun, but, hang it all, she's right smack in the centre of the stage all the time. It isn't fair, Jane. You can't go on being a slave to her. She—"

"She has always had some one to wait on her, Oliver," said Jane. "I don't mind. I am really very fond of her. And she is just beginning to care for me. At first, I think she was a little afraid of me. She couldn't believe that I was real. The other day—in Chicago—she suddenly reached out and touched my arm and said: "It doesn't seem possible that you ever squalled and made the night hideous for me and your poor father. I can't believe that you are the same little baby I used to fondle and spank when I wasn't any older than you are now." Besides, Oliver, I like doing things for her. It makes father happy."

"But it doesn't make me happy," he grumbled. Then his face brightened. "Wasn't she great last night when she got started on Uncle Horace and—and all this hullabaloo he's stirring up?"

The fourth day after his wife's return to Rumley, Mr. Sage blurted out the question that had lain captive in his mind for weeks.

"If it is a fair question, my dear, would you mind telling me just why you came back to me?"

She leaned back in her chair and studied the ceiling for a few minutes before answering.

"I may as well be honest about it, Herby," she said, changing her position to meet his perplexed gaze with one that was absolutely free from guile. "I came back because they were through with me over there. I was getting passe—in fact, I was quite passe. They were beginning to cast me for old women and character parts. Two or three years ago they started my funeral services by seeing what I could do with Shakespeare. I was through. My musical comedy days were over. The stage was crowded with young women who could dance without wheezing like a horse with the heaves and whose voices didn't crack in the middle registey. People didn't want to see me in musical comedy any longer, and they wouldn't see me in anything else. I'm 53, Herbert—between you and me, mind you—and just the right age to be a preacher's wife. So I made up my mind to retire. You notice, Herby, I didn't cable to ask if I could come home—I cabled that I was on the way. Now, you know the secret of my home-coming. By the way, I've put by a little money—quite a sum, in fact—so you mustn't regard me as a charity patient. We'll pool our resources. And when the time comes for you to step down and out of the pulpit for the same reason that I chuckled the stage—why, we'll have enough to live on for the rest of our days. You won't have to write sermons and preach 'em, and I shan't have to listen to them. It's an awful thing to say, but we'll both have to mend our ways if we want our grandchildren to love us."

He laid his arm over her shoulder and gently caressed her cheek.

"You are still pretty much of a pagan, Jo," was all that he said, but he was smiling.

"But you are jolly well pleased to have me back, aren't you?"

"More overjoyed than I can tell you."

"No doubts, no misgivings, no uneasiness over what I may do or say to shock the worshippers?"

"I have confidence in your ability as an actress, Josephine," he said. "I am sure you can play the part of a lady as well as anything else."

She flushed. "Score one," she said. Then she sprang to her feet, the old light of mischief in her wonderful eyes. "But, Herby, what's going to happen when I spring all my spangles on the innocent public?"

"I shudder when I think of it," said he lifting his eyes heavenward.

"I saved every respectable costume I've worn in the last 10 years—and some that are shocking. Twelve trunks full of them."

"Never mind, old dear. I shan't disgrace you. I've got a few costumes I will put on in private for you. Bless your heart, Herby, don't look so horrified. I've still got my marriage certificate—though God only knows where it is."

He cleared his throat. "I've got it, my dear. You neglected to take it away with you when you left."

She smiled. "Well, I daresay it was safer with you than it would have been with me."

CHAPTER XVIII
Detective Malone.

It was the fourth week in September when the detectives arrived in Rumley. The city editor of the Dispatch interviewed Detective Malone, the chief operative in charge of what the newspaper man was jocosely inclined to classify as the "expedition."

"Where do you intend to begin excavating, Mr. Malone?" inquired the editor, notebook in hand.

Mr. Malone was very frank about it. "In China," said he. "We're going to work from the bottom up. If you'll go out to the swamp tomorrow and put your ear to the ground you'll hear men's voices but you won't understand a word they say. They'll be speaking Chinese."

The editor eyed him in a cold, inimical manner. "Umph!" he grunted, flopping his notebook shut. "It's a good thing you've got your Chinese army, because you won't be able to get anybody to work for you in this town."

"I guess that's up to the authorities," said the detective cooly. "I'm here to boss the job, that's all."

That afternoon the sheriff and the prosecuting attorney stopped electioneering long enough to pay a hasty visit to Oliver.

Half an hour later they left. Detective Malone and his partner, who had joined the county officials at the Baxter house, remained behind. They were smoking Oliver's cigars.

"How long do you figure it will take you, Mr. Malone, to finish up the job?" inquired the young man.

Malone squinted at the tree-tops. "Our instructions are to work slowly and surely. It may take six or eight weeks."

"In other words, you are not expected to be through before election day."

"Unless we find what we are after before that time, Mr. Baxter," said the other. "It's a big job, as you can see for yourself. Like looking for a needle in a haystack, eh, Charlie?"

His partner nodded his head in silent assent.

"We'll go out and take a walk around the swamp tomorrow," said Malone. "If you've got the time to spare, Mr. Baxter, you might stroll out with us now to the place where you last saw your father. Then I'll want to question your servants. It seems that he is supposed to have come home to change his clothes after he said goodby to you."

So Goes It

By BURNS HEGLER

Generally speaking, when a man talks about economizing he wants someone else to do it.

Now all the democrats have left to do is to conduct their campaign.

One Oklahoma delegate wired back home that he was getting tired of eating "hot dogs." That's nothing. Al Smith and W. G. McAdoo and a few others had to "eat crow."

The trouble is not that there is too much politics in the country, the trouble is that the country is not enough in politics. About all the average citizen does is to listen in.

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

Today's planetary aspects are good until late in the afternoon, and favor especially all work of a mechanical character, industrial engineering and occupations in connection with transportation. They counsel energy and activity in all lines of conservative endeavor and full advantage should be taken of this opportunity to prosecute uncompleted tasks to a successful finish. After 5 p. m. cessation from work, wherever possible, is advised, as at that time the aspects assume anything but a benign character, and fretfulness and mental worry will ensue, unless decided efforts are made to overcome this condition.

A child born today will enjoy normal health, and give very little worry, if ordinary care be exercised, on this score. Its disposition will show signs of meanness, which must, at their first inception, be treated with quick and effective discipline. It will also show more than the usual signs of selfishness and every effort must be made to instill into its mind the pleasure and satisfaction of little sacrifices for the sake of others happiness. With the proper environment and a good example, the inherent defects of this child can be ameliorated, even if not absolutely eradicated.

If today is your birthday, you would be much happier, and disseminate more contentment, if you were so disposed to stress so much what others think and say to you and your peculiarities—and we all have some.

You are too much disposed to take the ill-natured side and infer the worst. It is very often the case that the uncharitableness of others, where it really exists, is but the reflection of our own want of charity and lack of temper. It still oftener happens, that the worry to which you subject yourself, has its source in your own imagination.

Even though those about you may think of you uncharitably, you do not mend matters by exasperating yourself against them. You thereby only expose yourself unnecessarily to their ill-nature of caprice.

It is easy to misrepresent the intentions of people, and they often do not mean what at the time you supposed they meant; it is, as a general rule, better to be a little dull of apprehension when phrases seem to imply pique, and quick in perception when, on the contrary, they seem to imply kindly feeling.

Successful people born on this date are:

Susan Warner, novelist author of "The Wide, Wide World."

Samuel L. Dana, chemist.

Edward J. Phelps, diplomat.

John Wanamaker, merchant of Philadelphia.

Henry Abbey, author and poet.

Austin Corbin, railroad president, converted Coney Island into a summer resort.

Hawaiian Alien Labor Clause Sustained By United States Court

HONOLULU, July—The alien labor clause of the organic act of the territory, which forbids the employment of any except United States citizens on public works in the islands, has been upheld by Judge John T. De Bolt of the United States district court for Hawaii.

The issue was raised in the case of the government against John H. Hammond, engineer, Frank Minor and W. Yamana, who were charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States by causing persons who were noncitizens or ineligible to American citizenship to be employed in the construction of army buildings at Schofield barracks.

The defense filed a demurrer and a motion to quash the indictment on the ground that the labor clause was unconstitutional because it denies the right of a man to labor. Judge De Bolt overruled the demurrer, and denied the motion to dismiss the indictment.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

A HOPELESS AMBITION

We thought, when this metrical ditty was started,
We'd do what no bard has attempted, and try
To say something pleasant, and nice and kind-hearted
Respecting this month, which is known as July.
In all books of verse there are columns of copy
On all other months of the calendar year,
But poets feel too overheated and floppy
To hunt 'round for rhymes when the dog days appear.

And so we decided to make it our mission
To boost for the month that the bards have passed up,
When the crops may be seen in the pink of condition,
And the bees from the rose-leaves their pabulum sup.
"That the month of July has been thus far neglected
By all of these rhymesters," said we, "is a shame;
We'll do our goldarnest to make it respected
And maybe we'll gather the laurels of fame."

We've sat here all morning to think of some reason
To say that July is the best of the lot,
Or to find something good in the mid-summer season,
But all we have thought of, is: "Golly! It's hot!"
The sky is o'er hung with a gray humid vapor,
Mosquitoes we note, are becoming a pest,
And now, as we gaze in a daze at our paper,
An ugly black thunderstorm looms in the west!

We have thought of this theme for long hours together;
We still hold the month is deserving a song,
But we never can sing in intolerable weather,
And that is the sort that July brings along.
We see from our window the wan drooping daisies,
Through dust-covered foliage the bumblebees drone,
And we know that July, if it gets any praises
Must get them from some other pen than our own.

Dr. Frank Crane's Daily Editorial

The Great Creators

The great creators are the great minds.

Labor does not create.

Capital does not create.

It is mind that creates.

Even the creator of the world, that First Cause which reason forces us to suppose was not a banker nor a laborer, was a thinker. For God, we are informed, "is a Spirit," and a spirit is pure mind, not pure hands, not pure possessions.

The real wealth of a country therefore lies not in its laboring class, but in its thinking class.

We could name half a dozen thinkers who have added more to the wealth of the world than any hundred millionaires or any hundred thousand toilers.

Take Edison, who devised many things, and Bell, of the telephone, and Elias Howe, who invented the sewing machine, and Whitney, who conceived the cotton gin, and Fulton, who thought of the steamboat, and Ford, who developed a great automobile industry; these men have added more to the wealth of the world than all the Croesuses, Rothschilds, Rockefellers, Carnegies and Monte Cristos put together.

Sometime ago the Wall street journal said:

"Once a Scotch boy gathered some pieces of silver together—not many—the result of some years of saving from his labors as a plowboy on his father's farm. He walked to Edinburgh, where he invested his silver in linen and laces, beads, ribbons and gaudy things, attractive to feminine fancy. He made a pack of them all, which he belted on his back, and he started out as a peddler. He trudged to London. He arrived in dirt and rags, and—with a big idea.

This big idea has since proved itself the backbone of the economic world. It is the center, the nucleus of world rebuilding now. William Patterson was the lad's name, and from his idea grew the bank of England, which laid the foundation of the commercial prosperity of England and made a safe, sure and secure financial center for the commercial enterprise of the entire world."

And every man, in every business, everywhere, so long as our economic system lasts, is, whether he knows it or not, more indebted to this man's one idea for his own comfort and happiness than to all of his own best exertions. The great minds are the creators of the wealth of the world. The rest of us, reapers and ushers.

SOILS AND SOIL PHYSICS.
Preparing the Test for Soil Bacteria.

This article carries on the account we have been giving of reclaiming and growing crops on land that has become water-logged and alkalied. This land was located on a western irrigation project.

To try and find out why crops have failed to grow when first planted on this soil, it was decided to conduct some experiments to determine, if possible, whether or not it was a lack of soil bacteria that was responsible.

A liberal sample of soil was taken from some undrained land. Analysis of this sample showed a very high alkali content. It was placed in a specially prepared box or tank so arranged that the alkili could be washed out in a manner as near similar to field conditions as was possible.

When it was thought the alkali content was reduced below the danger point further analysis were made. After considerable work and analysis showed a soil that resembled quite closely in the alkali content and general chemical makeup the field soils that had been drained on the project and on which crops had failed to grow the first year.

It was felt now that, if this was a case of lack of soil bacteria which had caused the crops to fail, this sample would allow the proper test to be made.

The problem was to try these soils in their natural state and also to try them after soil bacteria had been added.

German Observer Approves America's Growing Morals

BERLIN, July—Alice Solomon, for many years identified with social work in Germany, believes that the American people have solved the problems of alcohol and dancing in a way that will make for a better generation.

Writing of her recent experiences in America, Miss Solomon expresses the belief that, while in the big cities there are evasions of the prohibition laws, yet, on the whole, the country is growing "dry," and that the number of opponents of prohibition is constantly decreasing.

As for dancing, it is Miss Solomon's belief that the social workers have been able to provide such opportunities for young people to amuse themselves at dancing that the objectionable dance halls are being done away and less frequented.

Today's Poem

CHLOE.

It was the charming month of May,
When all the flowers were fresh and gay;
One morning by the break of day,
The youthful, charming Chloe
From peaceful slumber she arose,
Girt on her mantle and her hose,
And o'er the flower mead she goes,
The youthful, charming Chloe.
Lovely was she by the dawn,
Youthful Chloe, charming Chloe
Tripping o'er the pearly lawn,
The youthful, charming Chloe.
The feathered people you might see,
Perched all around on every tree,
In notes of sweetest melody,
They hail the charming Chloe;
Till, painting gay the eastern skies,
The glorious sun began to rise,
Out-rivalled by the glorious eyes
Of youthful, charming Chloe.
Lovely was she by the dawn,
Youthful Chloe, charming Chloe
Tripping o'er the pearly lawn,
The youthful, charming Chloe.

Mothers

AND THEIR CHILDREN

The Daily Rest

One Mother Says:

During vacations I always insist that my children, even the older ones, take a rest at noon. It may not mean sleep, but each one must be alone, sitting or lying down for at least an hour. I provide them with pictures or books to look over, crayons and drawing paper. Usually they drop off to sleep, but even if they don't they are greatly refreshed.

PRETTY FROCKS FOR THE FASTIDIOUS

By MME. LISBETH.

Three unusually charming frocks are illustrated here—frocks that the most fastidious of women might well favor. One needs both dark and light frocks in one's summer wardrobe and here is your choice of plain dark blue, of the ever fashionable black and white combination and the airy little frock of light organdie with the quaint old-world effect lacing down the front.

Take the costume on the left. It is one of those simple things of pleated flat crepe in navy. Dainty collar and cuffs of ecru net give a chic finish to neck and sleeves. A handsome matching mantle is shown which really is the distinguishing feature of the costume. The hat of navy blue milan straw is trimmed with an ostrich fancy.

Another crepe costume is shown on the right. This time it is black and white printed combined with plain flat black crepe. A circular flounce of the plain black which is used on the front of the skirt only is the distinctive feature and this frock has a matching scarf edged with a trimming of brilliant Roman ribbon.

The dainty little frock in the center is designed for the garden party. It is fashioned of yellow organdie and has inserts of embroidery, and the lacing down the front of the bodice together with this embroidery trimming, makes one think of an old-world peasant frock and the wearer might fittingly do a charming folk dance. This is a distinctly youthful model and would be as appropriate for afternoon summer wear as for a garden party.

Isn't It a Shame That We Let Ourselves Be So Poverty-Stricken In Vocabulary When a World of Dictionaries Is Entirely Free?

Do you ever think about supplying your children with a large and inexhaustible vocabulary with which to carry on the business of life?

No? Yet I assure you that a mouthful of words is just as valuable an asset as a pocketful of money. With words you can cajole, persuade, conceal, hypnotize, wound or heal, make yourself loved or hated or feared at your pleasure. By your words and the skill with which you use them you are judged. They are the hall-mark of culture or the lack of it.

Every one knows this, and yet with the whole dictionary free for the taking, most of us are so poverty-stricken that we have only two or three hundred words, which we use over and over again without any reference whatever to their suitability. Which is as absurd as if we went to market in a point-lace evening gown or used a hundred-horsepower engine to do one flea-power work.

We never have enough words to go around and so we overwork the few we have and say "sure" to everything with which we agree, and that a gown is "swell," and we went to a "swell" dinner, and that So-and-So had a "swell" funeral, and we sure had a "swell" time in Europe last summer.

And that the Himalaya mountains are "wonderful," and that they make a "wonderful" nut sundae at the corner drug store. And that the baby has "cute" little ways, and that Niagara Falls is just too "cute" for anything.

And the men and women who haven't enough words in their tongues to cover the ordinary decencies of conversation are not in the least ashamed of it and do not try to supply their deficiencies, yet they would be mortified to death if they didn't have a change of shirts, or enough spoons to set the table, or if they had to wear their working clothes to a ball.

Yet, obtuse as we are to the nature and quality of the words we use ourselves, we are keenly sensitive to the value of the words that others use in speaking to us, and there is no surer passport to our good graces than to have just the right things said to us in just the right words.

To call a fat woman "fat," for instance, is to make a deadly enemy for life, but she purrs under your hand if you speak of her as "stately." Similarly, a living skeleton resents being described as "scrawny," but she beams upon the one who knows enough to say she is "willowy."

To tell an author that the book or play upon which he has lavished his soul is "sweet" makes him want to murder you on the spot, but he thrills with gratification if you call it "strong," or "tragic," or "realistic," or a "little masterpiece." No girl wants to be called "pretty" when she considers herself "spirituelle," or "vampish," or "dashing," and no young man would ever forgive the one who called him "nice," for there is invariably some adjective for which our vanity pants as the heart pants for the water brook and which flatters us to death, and just as invariably there is another adjective that we feel is a premeditated insult when it is applied to us.

Furthermore, the possession of a large and flexible vocabulary helps to enable us to maintain cordial relations with our fellow creatures. The wordless are reduced to the extremity of blurting out impolitic truths because they have no smokescreen of phrases behind which to conceal their thoughts.

Not so the man who is rich in words. He can always fall back upon some happy term that will not belittle his judgment or offend his auditor. When confronted with an ugly child by a proud parent he can say, as a diplomatic old doctor used to do under such circumstances, "Well, well, well, this IS a baby!" which was undeniable, and that sent the mother away beaming with gratification. He can call "temper" "nerves" and lack of common sense "temperament." He can tell any amateur artist that his work is full of promise or interesting and he can call it a "composition" instead of a "picture." And he can cling as to the rock of ages to "really," which deals with glittering generalities and is always translated according to the listener's pleasure.

A plentiful supply of words is a letter of credit in both business and social circles. The man who is halting in speech, who stutters and stumbles, and who cannot present any sort of business proposition in a clear, concise and convincing way, seldom gets very far in the commercial world. It is the good talker who sells himself and is a go-getter.

And it is the interesting conversationalists, the people "whose words are like slaves spreading a carpet of glory before us," as Kipling puts it, whom we ask to dinner and of whose society we can never get enough. Not the poor, dumb ones who are tongue-tied because they have no words to describe the things they have done and seen.

All of this being true, is it not a shame that we let our children go out into the world handicapped for a vocabulary, poverty-stricken in speech, when there are thousands upon thousands of words, each with a little meaning of its own, that may be had without money and without price?

Horn Glasses An Atrocity, Says British Eye Expert

LONDON, July.—Clement Jeffery, an eminent eye diagnostician, does not like the vogue which is fast gaining ground here of wearing horn-rimmed spectacles. Lecturing on "the nation's eyes," in London recently, he said that the wearing of horn-rimmed spectacles by adults was an atrocity.

Mr. Jeffery added that the chief cause of myopia was not near work, as is generally supposed, but mental strain. If all lessons could be made interesting and teachers and parents were paragons of love and patience, then myopia would be wiped out of the nation's defects.

Finnish Runner Breaks 2 Olympic Records

UNITED STATES ATHLETES CONTINUE FAR IN LEAD

Americans Capture Hammer Throw and Pole Vault Laurels Right Handily.

OLYMPIC STADIUM, COLOMBES, July 10.—Within two hours this afternoon Paavo Nurmi, Finland's great distance runner, raced to spectacular victories in the 1,500 and 5,000 metre events, breaking the Olympic records at both distances and winning an Olympic triumph such as no individual has ever achieved before.

Nurmi captured the 1,500 metre run against a fine field in three minutes, fifty three and three-fifts seconds, chipping off 3 1-5 seconds from the old record, but failing by 2-5 of a second to equal his own world record. He won the 5,000 metres from his fellow countryman, Willie Ritola, in 14:31 1-5 seconds, beating both the Olympic and the world record by several seconds. But even this super triumph of Finland's greatest ace could not check the onward march of the United States for the Americans demonstrated vast superiority in the pole vault and hammer throw, the remaining finals of the fifth day of the Olympic competition, and lengthened their mounting point lead over the rival Scandinavian nation in the duel for international athletic supremacy.

Americans Share Glory.

The glory which went in double measure to Nurmi was also shared for the day by two young Americans, Fred Tootell, Boston A. A., captured the hammer throw by a decisive margin from his countryman, Matt J. McGrath, New York A. C., veteran of four Olympics and Lee Barnes, the 17-year-old California high school boy, who won the pole vault laurels in the jump off with his coast rival, Glenn Graham. They had tied for first place at a height, 3.95 metres (12 feet, 11¼ inches), which equalled the Olympic record.

Share Top Place.

These feats sent Finland's emblem and the stars and stripes exclusively up the victory pole for the day. But another hero sprang to the front in Joseph Imbach, unsung and unheralded Swiss whirlwind, who won his heat in the second trials of the 400 metre run in the world record time of 48 seconds.

A crowd of nearly 25,000 the largest since the opening day, assembled in the expectation of witnessing the greatest struggles for honors in the Olympic battle and they were not disappointed.

Floral Heights Stops Utilities By 6 to 1 Score

Floral Heights Methodists backed by magnificent pitching of Griffin and almost faultless support from the infield, defeated the Utility club Thursday afternoon by score of 6 to 1 on the Twilight grounds. The victory for the Methodists gives them undisputed hold on first place with four wins and one loss out of five games played in the second half of the race.

Lead in First.

The Methodists took the lead in the first inning scoring four runs. Montgomery, first up, went out second to first. Mathis scratched a hit to first, and was advanced to second when Blue purposely passed Hale, Powell got a long single to center, scoring both runners. Floyd Randal struck out while Powell was stealing third. Thurman hit to second, and was safe on first when Coolidge let Martin's throw get by him, Thurman going to second, and Powell scoring. Thurman pilfered third, and a moment later scored on a hard single to center by Brown. Brown hooked second, but was left stranded when Crouch flied out to right.

Two More in Second.

In the second inning, the Methodists scored two more on two free bases, two stolen bases, and a single by Hale.

Griffin kept Utilities eating out of his hands until the seventh when one run was scored. Martin led off with a single through third, and was advanced to second on a clean single to right by Harris, Martin moved to third when Harris was forced at second by Johnston. Johnston took second on a wild throw to first by Hale, who was attempting to complete a double play. Martin scored on the play.

Shaw and Coolidge hit well for Utilities, getting two hits each.

Long, Long Trail Finally Leads Griff to Top

Not since 1912 had the Washington club rested as high in the American League race as they found themselves the other day when they plunged into first place. So these are great days for Griff, shown above in various poses.

Last Time Senators Led American League Pack Was 'Way Back in 1912

Old Fox's Tongue Is Hanging Far Out, But Clark Griffith Is Happiest Man in Baseball

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The American league hounds may lick their chops over Clark Griffith's baseball carcass before the present season ends but right now the Old Fox has the satisfaction of having eluded the pack, temporarily at least.

And the chase has been a long and grueling one—close to 12 years in length. So the Old Fox's tongue probably lies out of one corner of his mouth as he gets his breath.

Back in 1912 Griff performed the same feat. That year a winning streak of 17 games on the road sent the Washington club hurtling into first place. The end of the campaign found the team nestling securely in second place. Chic Gandil, who later departed from baseball under a cloud, joined the capital team that year and is given credit for being an important factor in its sensational showing.

That year, of course, Walter Johnson came the nearest—up to the present spurt—that he had ever approached to pitching for a pennant-winning team. At first thought it was believed Walt never had had the thrill of pitching for a first place team up to this year. That is a bit wrong, according to the records.

Griffith stepped out of active field management of the team in 1920 after leading the team to sixth place. The next year George McBride landed them in fourth place. The next year Clyde Milan landed them in sixth again and then last year Donie Bush landed them in fourth place and himself out of a job.

The club has come within one round of the pennant two years, that memorable year of 1912—and the year following. The next year 1914, the team finished in third place and in 1915 ran fourth. In 1918 the team finished third. These five years were the fattest the team ever has enjoyed—the only years it wound up in first division.

There is much in the present situation, therefore, to make the Old Fox grin.

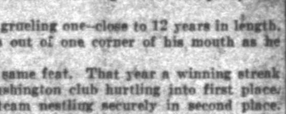
Sunday School Contests Today

Two Sunday school league games are scheduled for this afternoon. Grace Methodists will play off a tie with First Methodists on the Sabbath leaguer's diamond, while First Christians are slated to tangle in a postponed conflict with Yale Evangelicals on the Twilight ball field, said League President Dempsey last night.

Top O'Morn



Spudders were rained out at Dallas yesterday in the final game of the series. Beaumont and Wichita Falls will open a ten-day home stay for the homelings at Athletic park this afternoon. Game to be called at 4 o'clock.

In answer to a query published in The Record News Thursday as to whether or not local fandom desires once more the ring services of Duke Trammel, former local fistic favorite, a number of followers of the glove game, among them Bill McDermott, long a close observer of boxing in Texas, declared that Trammel isn't ripe for a return to Wichita Falls as yet.

If Trammel can take on two or three more good boxers, and make a showing as good or nearly as good as he did against Dago Ryan recently at Waco, when he knocked out the Dallas Wop, he then will be ready for a bout here before what should be a packed house, believe a numbers of fans, practically all of whom have expressed themselves as personally interested in the success of the Fort Worth school boy battler.

Just received an interesting missive from the secretary of one of north Texas' amateur baseball leagues, name of loop for obvious reasons withheld here, asking where he may locate a very large baseball score book. According to this gentleman the book he has at present is too full and entirely too small to handle all the errors made by the teams in his circuit.

Guess alibi chirpers over the league are sore put for grounds on which to accuse the Cats today of being lucky at winning a game. Dallas scribes have been slugging in the vicinity of a 1,000 average, building excuses for the Fort Worth victories, but that no run no hit tilt tossed by Salva Paul Wachtel over the somnambulent forms of Ira's Shreveport Gassers Thursday certainly causes a large slump in the alibi league averages.

Sparks Puts Gullion to Sleep in Second Round; Monte and Tabby Draw After 4-Round Mill; Lewis Puts on Good Act

Dick Withington of Oklahoma City Fails to Make Weight; Fort Worth Boxer Substituted; Kid Paul Take a Rerefee's Decision from Young Riley.

A flock of draws and a doubtful knockout in the second round of the feature bout resulted from a long drawn card at the Legion arena Thursday night. With the single exception of the Monte-Levine embroglio which produced some action, none of the fights had much of a kick.

The 12-round wind-up of the evening ended in the second round when Dick Gullion of Fort Worth, substituting for Dick Withington of Oklahoma City, went down for the count in front of a light left to the chin handed him by Speedy Sparks of New York. Withington appeared at the arena but declined to meet Sparks on grounds that he could not make the proper weight.

Sparks probably could have ended the fight in the first round had he so desired. As a matter of fact, Gullion was on the canvas at the end of the initial frame. He went down under a shower of rights and lefts to the chin but was saved by the bell.

Out For Count

Coming back in the second, he took a stiff right cross to the wind and then went out for the count when Sparks tapped him on the chin with a light left. The blow was landed while the men were in a clinch and was evidently not visible from many points in the galleries. It could be plainly seen from the press table, however, although it did not appear to have enough steam to do any damage.

The crowd set up an awful howl when Gullion stretched out and refused to rise.

Gullion's weight was announced as 158 and Sparks as 152. The latter, who started boxing here several years ago and who has since battled his way to something of a reputation in the east, was plainly a popular local favorite when he was introduced.

Monte Hits Tabby

The only real fight of the evening came in one of the preliminaries when Wildcat Monte and Tabby Levine mixed four fast rounds to an unpopular decisions draw. It appeared from the stands that Monte had a decisive edge but the referee called it a draw. Tabby won the third round by a wide margin, jabbing Monte's jaw with his left until the latter was spinning. In the other rounds, however, Monte was plainly the agressor and he hit harder and more frequently than did his adversary.

Red Lewis, 160, of Galveston, and Joe Burnam, 180, of Macon, Ga., were presented in the semi-final and stalled through 10 slow rounds. Lewis tried to fight but couldn't and Burnam either couldn't or wouldn't. Time after time he had openings through which a straight left could have been shot with telling effect. He used less than half a dozen of them however, and the rest of the time contented himself with patting his opponent's head in the clinches.

Lewis' facial contortions kept the crowd in an uproar and his comic antics alone saved the bout entirely.

Kid Paul Wins

Kid Paul of Wichita Falls, weight 138, won a referee's decision over Young Riley, 145, of Altus, Okla., by virtue of a three-inch longer reach. Kid Norfolk and Rattlesnake Kid, Wichita Falls negroes, slammed each other right lustily for four rounds and were content with a draw.

The bill opened with Kid Bean, weight 130, taking a terific lacing at the hands of Bob Riley, 138. The massacre was stopped at the end of the first round after Riley had hit him with everything but the water bucket.

Baylor Grid Prospects For Coming Season's 1924-25 Loom As Brightest

Bear Football Machine Matched For Tilt With Famous Notre Dame Eleven Year After Next

WACO, July 10.—Coach Frank Bridges of Baylor university has completed arrangements with Coach Knute Rockne of Notre Dame university, South Bend, Indiana, for a football encounter between the teams September 26, 1925.

After futile efforts to bring the famous Hoosier state team to Texas, athletic officials of Notre Dame agreed to a game with the Baylor university gridiron men on the Indiana field in 1925. Hailed throughout the nation as one of the greatest football teams in the country, the Notre Dame team owing to its crowded schedule, was unable to meet the Baylor Bears in Dallas, or any other city in Texas.

While sport scribes are of the opinion that the Notre Dame has a 10 to one chance of defeating Baylor next year, they also say that the Notre Dame Micks will not come through the battle with the Baylor Bears without knowing they have had a real contest.

Prospects for Baylor's football teams for both this year and for 1925 are considered excellent. All freshmen who enter Baylor university this fall will have a chance to make the 1925 team which goes to South Bend.

In addition, Jack Taylor, of Cameron, Texas, a cub star of last year's team whose giant bulk buried many a 'varsity player to the sod during scrimmages on Carroll field here, will be on the teams of 1924 and 1925. Taylor is the discus star who had Olympic team aspirations this year. He is somewhat of a giant. About six feet, four inches tall, he tips the scales at a little more than 220 pounds, and word from Milam county, where he is spending the summer on a farm, is that Texas roasting ears and frijole beans are adding weight to the noted Baylor athlete. Incidentally, he is as husky as the figures would indicate.

Jack Jones of Temple, Texas, who set the state interscholastic league afire in 1922 with his stellar work as a football player and all-around athlete for Temple high school, entered Baylor last fall and is eligible for this year's team.

Boody Johnson of Waco high, outstanding star of the 1923 interscholastic season, is expected to be in Baylor this fall. Perhaps not more than two or three of the men who have played on the Baylor university 'varsity squad during the last year or two will be lost by graduation when Coach Bridges and his Baylor Bears trek up to Indiana next year to meet the Notre Dame men.

A host of other players, of from average to exceptional ability, also completed their freshmen year at Baylor and will enter their sophomore year this fall, while many new football stars also are coming.

A recently widely published item referring to the general use of electricity in the homes in Utah has been pointed out by the Utah Power and Light company as slightly inaccurate.

Candidate On "Common Sense" Platform Is Coming

Thomas D. Barton, adjutant general of Texas since 1921, and candidate for governor, will address voters of this community at 8 p. m. Saturday at the American Legion arena, Tenth and Ohio streets. Mr. Barton was born in Gregg county 40 years ago, and after finishing his schooling operated a "country newspaper" for ten years. He was a traveling salesman for eight years and then became a retail druggist in Amarillo.

A statement issued to "the democrats of Texas" at the time Mr. Barton entered the race, is unique in its wording, and pleads for a "common sense" state government. It says:

"In announcing my candidacy for governor of Texas, subject to the democratic primary, July, 1924, it will be my purpose during the entire campaign to keep away from individualisms and carry my fight to the people upon questions of government. It is not necessary, of course, that I be elected governor of Texas, but it is necessary that some man be elected who believes in the fundamentals of government, upon which our nation and our state have flourished through greatness. The matters discussed in this announcement disclose my convictions upon questions of public interest. I make them the corner stone of my official character. If I am elected governor I will hold them sacred. By them I will set my course.

"In the first place I am not a politician and I say with emphasis that I believe our state government needs less of politics and more of common sense and earnest effort in its every day life. Having no desire for further political honors all appointments made by me during my administration as governor would be made solely in the service of Texas, without regard to my personal political fortunes. I am one of those who believe that Texas now needs the services of a governor who will pattern his administration upon the official life of James Stephens Hogg.

"I am unalterably opposed to any effort or campaign that has the effect of dividing the people of Texas into hostile, acrimonious camps, and the attempt to inject class or religious hatreds into a campaign in Texas should be frowned upon by every person who loves his state. There are too many needs in Texas today calling for days and nights of real service from men and women of vision and of strength, to allow soap box orators incite the election to high office of men having nothing to recommend them, save their spoken views upon such subjects."

Politics Still Warm in Montague

Special to The Record News.

NOCONA, July 10—The candidates for the different county and district offices spoke at Ringgold Wednesday night. As the primary date is getting nearer, politics is getting warmer. A considerable fight in the representative race is now on.

Some are claiming that Tom L. Walker was too late in coming in the race for representative and therefore not a legal candidate. However, Walker has a strong backing and will make it warm for his opponents.

Henry M. Burns of Nocona will very likely make several speeches over the county and claim the honor to act as the county's representative. He will hammer on the tax question and other live issues. Very little is heard of W. A. Morris, who is also a candidate from Montague for representative, as to his views of different issues. Morris is an old citizen of the county and well known. He has served the county in the past as representative, one or more terms.

Electrans Going To Graham Meet

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, July 10.—A delegation of approximately 25 Electra business men will attend the convention of the west Texas chamber of commerce at Graham on July 16.

A committee has been working from the local chamber of commerce and agriculture the past ten days, for the purpose of sending this large delegation, in an effort to land, the 1925 session for this city.

A "stunt" committee, members unknown to only the committeemen, will furnish publicity for the city at the Graham gathering, as an advertising feature for the plea.

LIGHT RAIN FALLS IN ELECTRA AREA

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, July 10.—A light rain fell here early this morning, and continued for about two hours.

The precipitation was light, but sufficient to relieve the hot winds which were prevalent late yesterday afternoon, which was the hottest day experienced here for the past two weeks.

The rain did not interfere much with crop movements and threshing, which is on in full swing in this entire section.

Nocona People Attend Belcherville Meeting

Politics Still Warm in Montague

Special to The Record News.

NOCONA, July 10—The candidates for the different county and district offices spoke at Ringgold Wednesday night. As the primary date is getting nearer, politics is getting warmer. A considerable fight in the representative race is now on.

Some are claiming that Tom L. Walker was too late in coming in the race for representative and therefore not a legal candidate. However, Walker has a strong backing and will make it warm for his opponents.

Henry M. Burns of Nocona will very likely make several speeches over the county and claim the honor to act as the county's representative. He will hammer on the tax question and other live issues. Very little is heard of W. A. Morris, who is also a candidate from Montague for representative, as to his views of different issues. Morris is an old citizen of the county and well known. He has served the county in the past as representative, one or more terms.

Electrans Going To Graham Meet

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, July 10.—A delegation of approximately 25 Electra business men will attend the convention of the west Texas chamber of commerce at Graham on July 16.

A committee has been working from the local chamber of commerce and agriculture the past ten days, for the purpose of sending this large delegation, in an effort to land, the 1925 session for this city.

A "stunt" committee, members unknown to only the committeemen, will furnish publicity for the city at the Graham gathering, as an advertising feature for the plea.

LIGHT RAIN FALLS IN ELECTRA AREA

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, July 10.—A light rain fell here early this morning, and continued for about two hours.

The precipitation was light, but sufficient to relieve the hot winds which were prevalent late yesterday afternoon, which was the hottest day experienced here for the past two weeks.

The rain did not interfere much with crop movements and threshing, which is on in full swing in this entire section.

Nocona People Attend Belcherville Meeting

Special to The Record News.

NOCONA, July 10.—Some Nocona people have been attending the protracted meeting at Belcherville, which is being conducted by Elder Reece, revivalist of Byers.

Texas Co. Cuts Price For Powel, Mexia, Currie, Gulf Coast Crude

FOLLOWS LEAD OF HUMBLE CO.

Standard Cuts Prices In N. Louisiana And In Arkansas

The Texas company has made a twenty-five cent reduction in its price for Gulf Coast, Mexia, Currie, and Powell crude oil, according to new prices posted at the local offices of that company yesterday afternoon. This reduction by the Texas company places the last of the large purchasers of south Texas crude in the reduced price ranks, although the Magnolia is still the lower on most of the grades, by twenty-five cents.

The cut in this instance was started by the Humble Oil and Refining company Tuesday morning, quickly followed by the Gulf and yesterday by the Texas company although their schedule is dated July 9, and will take effect on that date.

The new prices placed Currie at $2.00, Mexia and Powell at $1.75 and Gulf coast grades twenty-five cents below their former level, following the prices of the Humble and Gulf.

The Standard Oil of Louisiana has also announced 15 to 25 cent cut in northern Louisiana and south Arkansas.

Magnolia Drills Deeper, Baylor Co. No. 1, Portwood

The Magnolia Petroleum company is drilling deeper on its well on the Portwood lease, Baylor county, west of Megargel, after having the hole fill 1,200 feet with salt water from the 1400 foot sand from which a small production had been obtained for a while. The bottom of the sand was found at a depth of 1432 feet and drilling has already reached 1,441 feet.

Cranfill Brothers and Penn are drilling at a depth of 850 feet on their Mills No. 2, to the southwest of the Portwood well.

There is a derrick up for a test on the crockrell farm, just northwest of Megargel and northeast of the Portwood-Mills test.

Campbell Et Al Standardizing Chilson Test

Campbell et al are making preparations to standardize and place on the pump their test on the Chilson land, block 6, Denton county school lands, abstract 417, Wichita county, a short distance north of Murphy's Corners, with the expectation of making a 20-30 barrel well.

Oil rose in the hole yesterday to a height of more than 600 feet, the water percentage being small, this despite some bailing. On the strength of this showing it has been decided to make a producer of the well from the present level without going further into the sand.

The sand in this well was encountered a little past 1,528 feet, and has been drilled to a depth of almost 1,530 feet.

Local Men Charter New Oil Company

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, Tex., July 10.—A charter was granted to the Falls Petroleum company today to do business in Texas, home office being named Wichita Falls, and capital stock $50,000. W. E. Brothers, G. C. Wood, and C. E. Mitchell were the incorporators.

Texhoma Will Test Out 1580 Foot Orton Sand

The Texhoma Oil and Refining company and Staniforth et al have set casing and their No. 4, Kemp and Kemper, direct north offset to the Panhandle's No. 1, R. Orton, and will bail today, testing out the 1580 foot sand found in the No. 1 of the Panhandle and the No. 1 of the Texas company to the west. The entire group is to the west of Holliday, to the north and east of the original discovery well of the Texas company on the Orton land, northeast corner of their lease in the northwest quarter of section 2 SPRR survey, abstract 1200, Archer county.

Roberts-Hill No. 10 To Go to 1650 Feet

Roberts and Hill are drilling at about 1100 feet on their No. 10 Overby, and expect to reach the 150 foot sand and test early next week.

The Overby lease of Roberts and Hill includes 55 acres with six wells, averaging more than twenty barrels a piece. All of these six wells are producing from the 1500 foot sand. The new No. 10 will be the first on the nearby large Murray land producers.

Magnolia Completes Small Burk District Well

The Magnolia Petroleum company has completed its No. 104 well on its Hugh Reilly lease, southeast of Clara, Burkburnett district, and estimate its production at between eight to ten barrels from the sand at 1200-04 feet.

DEE BROS. GET SALT WATER WELL; HOLMES-HASKELL WAITING

Dee brothers and associates bailed salt water in their Martin addition test east of Archer City yesterday. It is not known whether the test will be abandoned or drilled to the 1,800-foot depth.

Holmes and Haskell bailed from 2 o'clock yesterday morning until seven Sunday day with only a small showing of oil. The test was left to set for awhile before going further.

Pennsylvania crude oil, Bradford district, was reduced 50 cents a barrel and now is being quoted at $3.25, all other grades reduced 25 cents to $3.25 a barrel. There were no other changes reported for the major districts, Mid-Continent being quoted from $1.25 to $2.25 a barrel, Gulf Coast grade "A" $2, grade "B" $1.70, and California crude from $1.00 to $1.40.

Chinese Coolies Leave Farms To Pull 'Rickishas' in Pekin

PEKING—The police estimate that there are 70,000 'rikishas on the streets of Peking. All but 7,000 belong to companies which lease them out to coolies at the equivalent of seven cents a day. More than 200,000 persons are dependent upon the livelihood gained by these coolies, it is said.

The average daily earning of a coolie is 25 cents a day, out of which he must pay his 'rikisha hire. In spite of the meagre profits, say the police, country people flock to the capital and engage in the business to an extent that is causing a shortage of farm labor.

London Cab Drivers Claim To Be of High Royal Blood

LONDON.—A one-legged cab driver named Benjamin Tyrrell has brought a claim before the chancery court to a baronetcy which has been in abeyance for more than a century. Tyrrell has written to the lord chancellor that he can prove himself to be the direct heir of John Tyrrell, third son of Sir Thomas Tyrrell, who died in 1705.

The lord chancellor has has replied that it is doubtful whether he can recover the family estates because of the lapse of time. The estates which reverted to chancery cover many thousands of acres and produce a large annual revenue.

Earthquake Drives Sharks In Swarms to Manila Bay

MANILA, July.—Fishermen have reported an unusual number of sharks in Manila Bay in recent weeks, and some scientists believe that the many earthquakes experienced in the Philippines and adjacent islands have driven the sharks into less disturbed waters.

It is said that in the days when Dewey's ships were lying in the bay near Cavite, "swimming call" for the crew was sounded each day, but now crews of the American fleet are forbidden to swim in the deep water unless they remain within the wire screening at Canacoa Bay, where the Cavite naval statio nis located.

Dining Cars Serve Reindeer

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal.—The mysterious nocturnal roar of motor cycles in the open fields at Del Rosa, near here, which for some time caused farmers in the vicinity many sleepless nights, was explained recently by a youth who declared that rabbit hunting on motorcycles by night was fast becoming the popular sport of the town cyclists. He explained that riders chased the rabbits through the fields until the animals neared exhaustion, then drew up alongside and grabbed them by the ears.

Irish Industry Declining

DUBLIN, July.—Miss Somers, the secretary of the Dublin Industrial Development association, in a paper read to the Dublin Publicity club drew a gloomy picture of the chances of industrial progress in Ireland.

During the Sinn Fein movement before the treaty of people took a strong interest in supporting Irish manufactures and the trade boomed. Now, Miss Somers said, the people were broken in morale and their confidence in themselves shattered, and their present day attitude was one of cynicism and disillusion.

More Autos in Philippines

MANILA, July.—Importations of automobiles into the Philippines, chiefly from the United States, increased approximately 150 per cent in 1923 over 1922, according to figures obtained from the bureau of customs. The total value of automobiles imported in 1923 reached $1,105,700, compared with $423,470 in 1922.

WHEAT SWINGS SHARPLY UP

Close Is Nearly One Cent Higher Than Opening

CHICAGO, July 10.—Critical crop conditions in the Canadian northwest, the result of hot winds and drought gave an upward swing to the wheat market today after an early decline.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, 1-2 to 7-8 cents net higher, September 1.15 to 1.15 1-8 and December 1.18 to 1.18 1-8 with corn ranging from 1 1-4 cents down to 3-8 cents up, oats at 5-8 @3-4 cents off to 1-4 cent advance and provisions unchanged to 22 cents higher.

Warmer weather today and indications of considerable improvement in the corn crop outlooked this week formed something of an offset for the extremely bullish character of the government report on corn. All deliveries of corn, nevertheless touched new price records for the season.

Oats averaged lower throughout the day, government figures pointing to a much larger production than was looked for.

Material advances were established in the provision market. The stimulus was high priced corn.

Japan Tries Educating Young Men of Korea

SEOUL, Korea—The University of Seoul, founded by the Japanese government of Korea, was opened here recently. The nw univrsity, to which it is intended to give a standing equal to that of the Imperial Universities of Japan proper, will admit both Korean and Japanese students.

Its purpose, according to the Japanese authorities, is to educate Koreans in the higher branches of learning so as to fit them to take part in the administrative, legislative and judicial functions of the government of their own country.

Sky-Roadhouses for Flyers Predicted by Air Minister

LONDON.—After having taken a peep into the future, Air Minister Lord Thomson came down to the house of lords recently and assumed the role of prophet. He said in three years' time he hoped to have in the air two kinds of airships suitable respectively to commercial and naval purposes. In ten years he hoped to see at least six airship constructors competing for orders in this country and building up a great and growing industry, serving the purposes of imperial communication, bringing people of the empire and the world closer together, and carrying freight as well as mails.

Sometime in the future, the minister said, he foresaw the day when noble lords would leave parliament house on gliders with light engines, and wing their way westward along the Thames valley or northwards to Scotland. On their way they will need a rest and perhaps they may call in at some great caravanserai floating serene, safe, high up, far removed from terrestrial fues and noise.

Russia Sends Plane to Persia Offers Self at Auction

MOSCOW, July.—Two airplanes constructed in Russian factories for the Persian government have safely arrived at Teheran, says the Rosta Agency. The machines started from Enzell, which is 250 miles from Teheran, and took only one hour and forty-five minutes to make the journey. The premier, members of the cabinet and the soviet diplomatic representatives were present at the aerodrome when the machines landed.

Spectacular Rise of Public Utilities Is Checked

NEW YORK, July 10.—Stock prices turned reactionary today, but not until sensational bullish demand had been staged in the public utility shares, 21 of which established new high highs for the year.

While the market letters of most commission houses expressed satisfaction with the democratic national ticket, many observers agreed that it was without apparent effect on the day's price movement. To some the action of the market indicated that the selection of a conservative candidate has been discounted and that a period of profit taking was in order.

American Water Works common was again the individual feature, establishing a record high for all time at 115 1-2 and then dropping abruptly to 102 for a net loss of 9 1-2 points on the days trading. The six per cent closed three points higher at 97 after touching a record peak at 99.

Publication of the U. S. Steel corporation's unfilled tonnage figures for June showed a decrease of 365,584 tons, somewhat smaller than was expected. This inspired a short-lived buying movement in the steel shares and other standard industrials, U. S. Steel common which had reached a new peak on the current movement at 101 1-2 in the early trading, eventually fell back to 99 3-4 for a net loss of one point, Baldwin and American Can each closed more than a point lower and Studebaker yielded fractionally.

Further cuts in crude oil and gasoline prices were over-shadowed by a sharp decline in crude production for the week ended July fifth and a substantial increase in gasoline consumption but most of the oil shares reacted in sympathy with the general list.

Marked heaviness developed in a number of the Tobacco shares, American Tobacco breaking nearly five points and General Cigar, Lorillard and Phillip Morris losing two to 3 1-2 points.

Losses of a point or more also quite common in the railroad group, some of the most conscicuous being Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Seaboard Air Line.

MONEY At Work

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds, and Investments

If there were no risks in business would profits be possible? Why?

Taking risks and running a business are as closely related as a bar of soap and a bath.

The business man, however cautious, is daily faced with the necessity of making decisions that may prove costly or profitable. He may sink a lot of money in machinery, advertising or finished products that may prove to be wasteful.

The business man always has the necessity of anticipating a future demand and supply before him and providing himself with the raw materials and labor necessary to produce the supply and meet the demand.

If he has calculated correctly he may make a profit, if not he will lose no matter how hard his efforts have been.

Were all risks to be eliminated in business the competition would become so keen as to do away with the possibility of profits.

NEW ORLEANS, July 10.—The cotton market today was fairly active at times and otherwise dull. It was largely a weather market, making moderate gains at the start on fears of unneeded rains in the western belt. July was sustained by the scarcity of supplies and the falling off in certificated stocks although it is believed that month has been pretty well liquidated. July traded at 27.02 near the start or 12 points above the previous close and eased off later to 26.83, but closed at 26.90, the same as yesterday.

October traded at 23.96 in the early part of the morning and then started to ease off and despite several good rallies dropped to 23.55 in the late trading, or 40 points down from the high of the morning. December declined from the early high of 23.77 to 23.40, a drop of 37 points. The close showed net losses for the day of 21 to 23 points on new crop months.

Exports for the day totalled 14,295 bales including 10,000 bales cleared from Wilmington for the continent.

Hogs were 10 to 15 cents higher, with pigs steady. The top hog price was 7.60 with bulk 7.25 to 7.50. Receipts 500.

Trade conditions in the sheep house were unchanged. Most of the supply of 200 head consisted of lambs, selling around 11.00 to 11.50.

Lighthouse Keeper's Rabbits Undermine Government Property

SEATTLE, July.—Rabbits which have defied the United States government by "digging everything except clams" and undermining "everything except the lighthouse" on Smith island, a small lone island in the Strait of Juan de Fuca at the entrance of Puget Sound, will soon have a hard time to exist. Poison bait is to be scattered about the island in an effort to bring the rodent pest under control.

Several varieties of rabbits were brought to Smith island 25 years ago by a lighthouse keeper who raised them for Seattle markets, but the island later was made a bird refuge, barring all firearms, and the rabbits multiplied to thousands.

Braces have been installed on a water tower and other government structures to keep them from toppling as a result of the burrowings.

Famous Zoo to Reopen

HAMBURG, Germany, July.—After having been closed since 1920 for financial reasons, the famous zoo at Stellingen, near Hamburg, founded by Karl Hagenbeck in 1907, has been reopened.

This is chiefly due to the initiative of Henry and Lorenz Hagenbeck, the two sons of the famous show man. Their greatest task was that of replenishing the zoo with species of beasts of prey from India and Africa that had been killed off during the World war to save food.

LOCAL OPTIMISTS TELL WHAT THEIR CLUB CAN BEST DO FOR THEIR OLD HOME TOWN

CLAUD MILLER, second vice president—"The greatest work that the Optimist club will do in Wichita Falls will be its friendship to the boys of this city. The members of this club are for the boys first, last, and all times. The boys of this city will find a friend in the Optimist club."

MARVIN SMITH, Director.—"The greatest aim of the Optimist club of Wichita Falls is to be the friend of the boys of this city at any and all times. We want to help them if they need us."

GEORGE HOLT, Director.—"There are many delinquent boys and girls in Wichita Falls that need help. The ambition of the members of this club is to be regarded as the friends of these boys and girls. The Optimist club of Wichita Falls is planning to do some great things but the greatest of these will be to help these boys and girls who need help."

BERT KING, first vice president—"One of the chief objects of the Optimist club in Wichita Falls is to create a paternal feeling among the different business houses in this city. The Optimist club will promote a better feeling among the business men of this city and start a new relation among them."

WHAT OPTIMISM HERE PROPOSES

Lon Stogner Tells Purposes Of Club Constitute

By L. G. STOGNER
President of the Wichita Falls Optimist Club

The optimistic field is too great to permit of going over within a short space, therefore I shall condense as much as possible my remarks.

In the rather unsettled affairs that have existed during the recent reconstruction period of the last few years the word "Optimism" has been much used, and often misused, and quite likely a greatly abused term. To some it simply means a fictitious state of mind, wherein one discards the facts or more probably disregards them, and with eyes to the sky, so to speak, and with folded hands, says: "Everything is all right." Such an attitude is not only foolish but dangerous. It is true the state of one's mind does have a very important bearing on their life. Whether this influence is beneficial or detrimental depends upon the manner we have cultivated the proper optimistic spirit and much to one's will power. Without the proper cultivation of the optimistic spirit we will naturally drift into a pessimist, which is the easy way, for these two are continually at war with each other. We therefore owe it to ourselves and to every other individual to cultivate the optimistic spirit which is in most every human being.

One of our great purposes as a club is to bring about a stronger brotherly and good fellowship feeling among our members and all others who have the best interests of the masses at heart, endeavoring to strengthen the slender thread into well-wrought band of good fellowship and the upbuilding of our home city especially, and the entire country generally, without regard as to who or where he is or how he may look at the spiritual side of life, just so he endeavors to be a worthy and useful citizen.

If the Optimist club of Wichita Falls can be of service in attaining these ends we will feel our efforts have not been in vain, and though we be but a babe as an organization, we ask all clubs and orders of a worthy character in the city to let us join hands with them to the end that Wichita Falls may become a better place for us to live and rear our families and continue its phenomenal progress that it has made, by which I feel within a few years our city will be the foremost in the south.

NEWEST CLUB HERE IS OLD ONE

Inspiration Comes From Crowd Held Up By Rain

Optimist International will be formally introduced into Wichita Falls this evening when the charter will be received for the club here at a banquet at the Kemp hotel.

Optimist International is the third oldest men's luncheon club in existence. Its beginning, inauspicious and lowly, may be traced back to Buffalo, New York.

Formed in 1911.

In 1911 at that place, a young insurance man, a newcomer in the city, gathered around him an enthusiastic group of men, when was formed the Optimist club of Buffalo. The young man was E. L. Monser.

Indianapolis caught the spirit (through a most trivial circumstance. Standing gazing at a low, murky sky, out of the rain under a portico, someone in a group of men suggested that one thing needed was an optimist club. It became a reality.

Washington has had an optimist club for many years, which came into existence a few years after the one at Buffalo.

Spreads in 1923.

Optimist International came into being in 1923. At a gathering of Optimist club members at Indianapolis in 1919, the various club represented banded into the International Optimist club. Optimist International was the name adopted in 1923.

Eleven clubs met at Louisville in 1919, the first convention. Since that time clubs have sprung up in nearly every large city of the country, and until 1923 no extension department was maintained, it is stated.

A board of directors elected at national convention control the association. This consists of a president, four vice-presidents, treasurer and eleven directors. All matters of finance are under control of this body.

An optimism states: As optimist is a man who does the best he can under all circumstances—hopefully. Although organized under different circumstances and separately, the first clubs that gathered to make it an international association had much the same principles on which their organizations were based.

MOONSHINERS PLAY FOR ROTARY CLUB

Entertainment at the Rotary club luncheon yesterday noon was furnished by the "Waco Moonshiners," jazz orchestra of Waco, Texas, now playing at the pavilion at Lake Wichita. The music furnished was of a different sort from that usually provided for these luncheons and proved highly enjoyable and was enthusiastically acknowledged by the Rotarians.

Hungry Hair Seals Threaten Heavy Loss To Salmon Fishers

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 3.—Destruction of one-sixth to one-third of the average spring salmon pack in the Fraser river by hair seals, has caused local fishermen to fear the fish will become extinct and a large revenue be lost.

So clever are the seals that it is a race between them and the fishermen every time a bobbing cork on the net shows that a salmon has struck it. The seals generally win. Wolf-like, a seal goes for the throat of a fish, and usually a head is all that is left in the net. Fishermen have tried spreading a "blind" net, to protect the actual fishing net, but the seals, evidently learning the trick, drive salmon into the net to make capture easier.

Not only do seals live on salmon, but when their hunger is appeased, they kill for sport, tossing the fish out of the water as a cat plays with a mouse. A seal can throw a 30-pound salmon clear of the water, the fishermen declare.

OPTIMIST CLUBS AID COMMUNITY

So Writes Secretary Of Newly Formed Organization

By IRA D. BROWN.
Secretary of the Wichita Falls Optimist Club.

The primary purpose of an Optimist organization in any city is community improvement. It accomplishes this purpose both directly and indirectly.

Indirectly through the spirit of Optimism inculcated in the hearts of its members who do not wait for plans and programs, but put their ideals into everyday practical application in their business and social relationship. And directly through the corporate efforts of the club along lines of community welfare.

If a club did not more than make good Optimists of its individual members, it would have earned its right to existence. But we all know that good Optimists can be made only by putting them to work, not for the club but for the community.

Optimism is not something that can be absorbed from talks around a lunch table. It is only acquired by those who are doing definite things to make human life better in the community. It is the business of the club, therefore, to put all its members to work. The opportunities everywhere are tremendous. Each community has its own needs which the local club will have no difficulty in discovering. And yet in some respects all communities are alike. The needs of any city are just human needs.

Now the first thing Optimism aims to do is to bring together representatives of every existing interest in any community to work together for the common good. That is, so far as I am aware, the sole purpose of our classified membership plan of organization. Two of each line, not to be exclusive, but to be inclusive, not so much to keep out other good men in a classification already represented as to insure the inclusion of all possible classifications and so to make the club truly representative of the community as a whole.

And I think it is a splendid and sufficient purpose. In our organization we are well safeguarded from the predominance of any special group, and from actions that may be prompted (whether consciously or unconsciously) by close feeling or prejudice. We are intended to be primarily a composite of all interests in society, business and professions. And we should make the most of this. Men must work together, yes, and play together, if they would understand one another.

In brief, the field of our efforts includes every form of improvement, civic, social, industrial, intellectual morals—aye, and spiritual.

In fact, the opportunity for Optimism is just as broad as the needs of human life.

The Optimist's Creed

Promise Yourself—

To be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind.
To talk health, happiness and prosperity to every person you meet.
To make all your friends feel that there is something in them.
To look at the sunny side of everything and make your Optimism come true.
To think only of the best, to work for the best and expect only the best.
To be just as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own.
To forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievements of the future.
To wear a cheerful countenance at all times and give every living creature you meet a smile.
To give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have no time to criticise others.
To be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear, and too happy to permit the presence of trouble.

BOYS' WORK UP TO LOCAL CLUB

No Hope For Efforts By Rotary International Rogers Asserts

"If the Rotarians are to accomplish anything in boys' work the individual club must do it instead of relying on Rotary international," declared P. A. Rogers at the Rotary club luncheon at the Kemp yesterday noon. Mr. Rogers has lately returned from Toronto where he was a delegate to the international Rotray convention held there recently.

Too Much Oratory

"As much as I enjoyed the sessions of the convention," Mr. Rogers asserted, "I am bound to admit that there was a great deal of fan-tail oratory connected with the boys' work divisions of International Rotary. I heard the same idea, 'the boy of today is the man of tomorrow,' repeated in every speech. The conclusion that I have reached is that if Rotary is to accomplish anything in boys' work the individual club must do it.

"As we went to Toronto we stopped off in Chicago, and by a little management succeeded in persuading the Cook county jail superintendent to allow us to pass through his jail.

Leopold Is Sullen

"He gave us enough information to be able to find Loeb and Leopold as we went through the jail. Loeb, a bright looking chap, was in his cell, and seemed to have a pleasant enough outlook on things, and somehow or other did not seem like the sort of fellow that ought to be there. Peopold, on the other hand was morose and sullen, and the guard told me it was necessary to watch him closely all the time.

"After seeing these two it was borne upon me that they had just had too much of the material things of life and that if they had had to get out and work a little for some of the ordinary pleasures that a boy usually gets through work they would not be in the place they are now.

Boys Needed Man Friend

"The need for boys' work was impressed upon me by seeing these fellows. While we were in the jail 51 prisoners were brought in. Two of these were adult men; 49 were boys between the ages of 18 and 23. If these boys, if Loeb and Leopold had had some man to show them the right way, there would be a different tale to tell now about the outcome of their lives."

Following Mr. Rogers' talk, Sam H. Cole, newsboy and boy-worker was introduced to the club. He seconded Mr. Rogers' words in every detail, and gave experiences of his own in nearly every country of the Americas and Europe and accounts of his dealing with boys.

PHILOSOPHY OF OPTIMIST TOLD

Noted Writer Gives His Views On Gospel Of Hope

A part of what we might term the optimist's philosophy is "If you can mend a situation, mend it; if you can't mend it, forget it."

Is it a good philosophy, or is it foolishness?

To me the term "optimist" marks the man or woman of energy and common sense, in contrast to the one of either supine inactivity or the one who will allow himself or herself to get, as we say, "all bulled up," when, in reality, there is no occasion for it.

Has the optimist, we are sometimes led to ask, something that the other fellow hasn't? There are those who have exchanged years of foreboding, gloom and at least apparent despair, with their many times attendant bodily ailments, for peace and health and strength and newness of power.

In other words, they have come into a newness of life that is, to speak mildly, quite marvelous, both to themselves and to their friends and acquaintances. Is it pure imagination? Then is imagination rather a good thing to have—especially when, as in such vast numbers of cases, these things last?

Is it merely a difference of temperament that life seems so gloomy and uncertain and get-nowhere to some, and so buoyant and certain and straight-to-the mark to others? If so, is there somehow or somewhere a power to change or alter temperament?

I believe most profoundly that the optimist has something that the other fellow hasn't. If it is a commonsense, get-somewhere optimism, I believe that its possessor has found primarily two great facts.

The one is that there is a science of thought—and he has some understanding of it.

The other is what might be termed the fact of the divinity of human life—the element of divinity, with insights and powers that are greater than the ordinary human.—Ralph Waldo Trine, in Watchman Advocate.

THE BUILDER GROWS

We are all blind until we see
That, in the human plan,
Nothing is worth the making if
It does not make the man.
Why build these cities glorious
If man unbuilded goes?
In vain we build the world unless
The builder also grows.
—Edwin Markham.

BANQUET WILL MARK EVENT

Elaborate Program Is Arranged By Backers Of Movement

This evening at the Kemp hotel the Optimist club of Wichita Falls will receive its charter and be formally incorporated into the Optimist International.

With the swift spread of the slogan and principles of optimist over the country, this city will have after tonight a link in the now long chain.

History of Move Here.

The history of optimism in Wichita Falls began proper on May 10, last. Grady H. Gaston, field secretary of Optimist International, whose headquarters are St. Louis, Mo., came to this city with the specific purpose of building in the fastest growing town in northwest Texas an optimist club.

At that time, just two months ago, Mr. Gaston plainly stated that Faith city was the livest town of its size it had been his experience to visit in this section of the country. His reception here was a welcome one, he stated, and he was impressed by the glad-hand fellowship. In his mind, he declared, Wichita Falls was "one of those optimist cities, right," and he was confident the principles would be well received.

Has Not Changed Mind.

Mr. Gaston has not changed his way of thinking. Last night, on the eve of the realization of his hopes and pains, he declared Wichita Falls had made a lasting impression on him. It was his sincere belief, he stated, that the club about to be received into the Optimist Brotherhood was well deserving of the honor.

The optimist field secretary faced a new town and a new field. His work went slowly at first, certainly, for as he explained "Optimist is strictly of invitation." He met some of the "live wores" around the city, and gradually felt out the situation. He was working for his "nucleus," he stated.

First Luncheon in June.

The nucleus was gathered at the Kemp hotel at an informal luncheon on Monday, June 2. Twelve men were present, and on this foundation Wichita Falls Optimist club was founded. They were put to work. With the idea before them of searching out among their fellows real optimists, they worked for what was to be the club.

At a called business session Monday, June 16, at the Kemp hotel, officers were elected, board of directors, and the first organization was completed.

Since that time luncheons have been held for the fifth luncheon club in Wichita Falls. Wednesday is the international meeting day. Perfection of the organization has been chief matter before the young club, but items of endeavor such as it will pursue in its regular life have also been taken up.

Tonight the club will be formally enlisted, and proceed under its own colors as a full fledged optimist club, international.

Socialist-Labor Candidate Has One Presidential Plank

PORTLAND, Oregon.—Frank T. Johns, a Portland carpenter, who was nominated as candidate for president of the United States by the socialist-labor party at a recent convention in New York, is planning a speaking tour to spread the doctrines of his organization, but he does not expect that his party will send a man to the White House this year.

"In order to carry on a campaign we must have a candidate," he said. "In this as in all our campaigns we will stress not the qualifications or the life of any individual but the principles of the organization."

He said the campaign would be on a one-plank platform which he stated: "Complete surrender of the capitalist class and substitution of a socialist system for the present capitlist system."

Union Revival Services at Chillicothe Attracting Wide Attention

FLOWERS PARTY HOLD INTEREST

Special Meeting Being Held For Various Classes of Citizens

Special to The Record News.

CHILLICOTHE, July 10.—The union meeting between the Methodist and Presbyterian people has grown in interest with each service until it has taken on city wide attention. The Flowers evangelistic party have demonstrated that they know how to conduct every phase of a revival.

Last Sunday was a red letter day in the campaign. Evangelist Flowers spoke in the afternoon to a crowded house of men at the Majestic theatre. At the same hour Mrs. Flowers spoke to a tabernacle full of mothers and daughters. One of the very interesting series of the meetings was that for the married women. Most of the married women of the city attended these services. Mrs. Flowers' messages to the ladies were unique. They were the first of their kind ever heard in this city.

This week each afternoon the young ladies of the city have been attending the special services for them. They have been well attended.

On Monday night of this week the boys and girls choir gave a special program that was enjoyed by everyone. On the same night the subject discussed was "Home." One of the largest crowds seen at the tabernacle was seen on that night. Evangelist Flowers has spoken nearly every night since his arrival. He was delayed in getting here on account of the last meeting at Coleman extending over a few days.

Saturday night will be farmer night. There will be reserved seats for the farmers. On Sunday there will be three services at the revival. In the afternoon at 2:30 a service of seculiar interest will be held.

AMARILLO TRIES TO BAN LIQUOR PRESCRIPTIONS

AMARILLO, Tex., July 10.—Agitation for a city ordinance which would prohibit drug stores from filling liquor prescriptions is expected to end with the filing of an opinion Tuesday by city counsel that such an ordinance would be invalid. Temperance workers started the agitation some weeks ago, following the decision of the United States supreme court that a similar ordinance passed in Los Angeles did not conflict with the Volstead act.

The opinion of City Attorney Jackson declared that "an ordinance passed by the city forbidding the sale by a druggist of alcohol, would be in conflict with the law of the state allowing such druggist to sell alcohol under certain conditions and regulations, and therefore would be, in our opinion, void."

Monocles and Horn Glasses Now Passe

By The Associated Press.

BERLIN, July 7.—Fashion's decree for German men this summer condemns the smooth shaven face so much in vogue since the war, when the upturned Kaiser moustaches went out. Now the Berliner of mode must wear the little military toothbrush bunch of hair on his upper lip and also abandon the monocle. With the single eye glass the horn rimmed spectacle is banned, and gentlemen are supposed to wear the conventional and unobtrusive gold or rimless glasses.

They also are warned to wear four-in-hand ties fully exposed and not to tuck them in between the second and third shirt buttons as of old. The colored silk handkerchief is tabooed and white linen is required. But with these conformities to the conservative fashions of the west, comes a vogue among the ultra set for high heeled shoes of the old Cuban style.

Bricks Brought Bishop Into Prohibition Fold

LONDON. — Brickbats were the chief cause of the conversion to teetotalism of the Bishop of London, this prelate said recently at a public gathering.

"I was led to become at teetotaller in a fit of youthful enthusiasm 40 years ago," the bishop declared, "because I saw brickbats being hurled at women trying to hold a temperance meeting in a town I will not name. When I saw that these devoted people had the whole of the publicans in the place heaving brick at them, I said to myself that a cause that wanted backing up with brickbats was not the cause for me. I have been a teetotaller ever since, and I am glad of it."

GERMAN TRICK STOPS EMIGRANT

Signpost Pointing To View Of Country Turns 'Em Back.

CONSTANCE, Germany, July 10.—At a fork in the road just out of the village of Weiler, near Lake Constance, a sign board which reads "Germans thinking of going to Americas please take this route," has been stuck up. Although it roused the ire of the local authorities at first, the sign was permitted to hold its place when its motive was explained by Hans Durst, its author, known locally as the village philosopher.

Too many persons of Weiler, and other localities of this part of southern Germany, had been talking of emigrating to North and South America, Durst explained to the authorities, and this fact inspired him to take some action to make the would-be emigrants think twice before the final step which would take them to foreign lands.

The sign post points to a dirt road which leads to a hill, the summit of which commands a view of the entire country for many miles around, Weiler being nestled in the valley below.

"Once the intending emigrants visit my lookout," said Durst to the authorities, "and see their own town and country from my hillside, and realize what a beautiful country they have been living in, they immediately give up the idea of seeking their fortunes elsewhere. All is contentment in Weiler nowadays, and there is not more talk of going to the Americas, either this year or next. I hope to put my sign on stone, and keep it at the cross roads for all time."

CITY'S BONDED DEBT REDUCED

Decrease of $1.24 Per Capita Since Jan. 1 Made

The per capita bonded debt of Wichita Falls has been reduced $1.24 since January 1, according to figures at the city clerk's office which show that this city's outstanding bonds of indebtedness now total $3,021,500. At the first of the year it was $3,071,000.

A reduction of 49,500 has been made by retiring bonds in the first six months of the year. This accounts for the lowering of the per capita debt from $67.22 to $65.98, or a cut of $1.24. This simply means that in order for the city to clear away all its bonded indebtedness, every one of its 40,079 population would be forced to pay $65.98.

City officials are reducing the debt as rapidly as they are able by calling in outstanding bonds and retiring them.

Ambulances Have Difficult Time Answering Calls

Local ambulance drivers have been experiencing considerable trouble in answering emergency calls during the last few weeks due to unthoughtful car drivers. An ambulance has the right of way over other cars and in answering emergency calls, in many of which a few minutes means the difference between life and death, it is forced to go at a rapid rate of speed. When a driver knows that an ambulance is coming he should draw up to the side of the curb and in that way give the ambulance driver every possible assistance.

In answering an emergency call Thursday afternoon one of the local ambulance drivers said that he was delayed by cars which got in the way and by a long string of cars following the ambulance and trying to beat it to the scene of the accident.

INTOXICATED DRIVING CHARGE IS FILED

Charges of operating an automobile while intoxicated were filed Thursday by the county attorney's office against W. E. Morris, an oil field worker.

He was arrested Wednesday night by city motorcycle officer Griffin and was lodged in the city jail for the night. His father, who was with him at the time, drew a fine in corporation court on an intoxication charge and the son was turned over to county officials.

At a late hour Thursday afternoon he had not furnished bond and was still being held in the county jail.

America's Lead In Poultry Is Conceded

LONDON, July 7.—In proposing the health of the American and Canadian delegates to the world poultry congress recently held in Barcelona, who were entertained by the British government here, Minister of Agriculture Noel Buxton admitted that America and Canada were ahead of Great Britain in poultry culture, but he added that he was proud of the fact that Great Britain's breeding stock was in demand in other lands. Britain, he said, had not yet developed her poultry industry sufficiently to meet her own demands, but she supplied the market for other people.

The British government, the speaker concluded, was very grateful to America for the courtesy shown to their representative, A. P. Francis, on the occasion of his visit to the United States last year for research work in poultry culture.

Jap Forces In Korea To Be Reinforced

By The Associated Press.

TOKIO, July 7.—Increase of the Japanese garrison in Korea from two divisions to three is under consideration by the high authorities of the army, according to the vernacular press.

This reinforcement, it is understood, is contemplated as a result of recommendations of Admiral Baron Minoru Saito, governor-general of Korea, who has represented conditions in the peninsula as demanding increase of Japanese military strength. Difficulties of patrolling the northern border of Korea against incursions by insurgent Koreans or Chinese bandits and the topographical handicaps under which the garrison works, are given as reasons for the requested increase.

Wyatt To Erect $40,000 Brick Building Here

A $40,000 building permit was issued yesterday to Wylie Wyatt for the erection of a new two-story brick building adjoining the Staley building on Indiana avenue just south of Eighth.

Work Begins On Flood Street

Stakes for grades were being set Thursday by the city engineer on Flood street between the ball park and the city limit, preparatory to grading work that will be a part of the general improvement of that highway. Seventh street has already been paved to the ball park, the improvement now contemplated will carry this on to the city limits, where the county will start surfacing the Petrolia road.

This will be gravel with an asphalt top and, while not as durable as concreate, will be an excellent addition to the county's system of hard roads.

Alleging that because of her incarceration in a cell with mature women, hardened criminals who used profane and obscene language in her presence, Lota Merrell, a minor, filed suit Thursday for $5,000 against W. G. Bralley, county juvenile officer, Sheriff W. W. Murphy and the Fidelity Deposit company of Maryland, sureties for the sheriff. The suit was filed in the 78th district court by Carrie Weaver Smith, next of friend of the minor plaintiff.

In the petition it is recited that the girl was arrested by the juvenile officer May 23, 1924, and pending her transfer to a training school was locked up in the county jail with women who were hardened criminals. The law states, it is pointed out, that juveniles, when in custody, must be held in cells by themselves.

As a result of the girl's experience, it is alleged that she is entitled to damages of $5,000.

Summer High School Graduates Receive Their Diplomas

Dr. N. F. Grafton of the First Presbyterian church delivered the principal address at the graduation exercises of the nine summer high school graduates at the old high school building Thursday morning at 9 o'clock.

Mental Capital.

"Education is an investment of mental capital. These first years have been years of hardship—untrained minds are to be compared with the first $1,000 a man invests. The income is small but as more capital is invested the results will improve. If you have the desire and ambition to go forward with your education the Wichita Falls Junior college is offering you the opportunity.

"The educated man has resources that the uneducated man does not possess. An education will give a man a reserve to draw from in a pinch. There are 15 million men over 30 years of age in the United States. One million of this number can neither read nor write. Only 12 million have gone to the grade schools and only 9,000 have come into prominence. From this number 650,000 have graduated from high school and 1,625 have come into prominence. Approximately 350,000 have gone to college and 8,854 have come into prominence. This shows the advantage of an education."

Chauncey Delivers Diplomas.

Judge W. B. Chauncey, president of the school board, delivered the diplomas to the following students: Enola Baldwin, Ralph Bracken, Lena Fisher, Gertrude Moss, Ruby Patterson, Velma Pearce, Doris Ragland, Mary Louise Smith, and Hubert Stringer.

An interesting program preceded the presentation of the diplomas.

CITY'S BONDED DEBT REDUCED

Decrease of $1.24 Per Capita Since Jan. 1 Made

The per capita bonded debt of Wichita Falls has been reduced $1.24 since January 1, according to figures at the city clerk's office which show that this city's outstanding bonds of indebtedness now total $3,021,500. At the first of the year it was $3,071,000.

A reduction of 49,500 has been made by retiring bonds in the first six months of the year. This accounts for the lowering of the per capita debt from $67.22 to $65.98, or a cut of $1.24. This simply means that in order for the city to clear away all its bonded indebtedness, every one of its 40,079 population would be forced to pay $65.98.

City officials are reducing the debt as rapidly as they are able by calling in outstanding bonds and retiring them.

Ambulances Have Difficult Time Answering Calls

Local ambulance drivers have been experiencing considerable trouble in answering emergency calls during the last few weeks due to unthoughtful car drivers. An ambulance has the right of way over other cars and in answering emergency calls, in many of which a few minutes means the difference between life and death, it is forced to go at a rapid rate of speed. When a driver knows that an ambulance is coming he should draw up to the side of the curb and in that way give the ambulance driver every possible assistance.

In answering an emergency call Thursday afternoon one of the local ambulance drivers said that he was delayed by cars which got in the way and by a long string of cars following the ambulance and trying to beat it to the scene of the accident.

INTOXICATED DRIVING CHARGE IS FILED

Charges of operating an automobile while intoxicated were filed Thursday by the county attorney's office against W. E. Morris, an oil field worker.

He was arrested Wednesday night by city motorcycle officer Griffin and was lodged in the city jail for the night. His father, who was with him at the time, drew a fine in corporation court on an intoxication charge and the son was turned over to county officials.

At a late hour Thursday afternoon he had not furnished bond and was still being held in the county jail.

CITY EQUALIZATION BOARD TO MEET

The city board of equalization will meet for the last time today to hear complaints against raises made in tax valuations for 1924. The session will be held in the city council meeting room in the basement of the Morgan building.

Notices of the sitting were mailed out ten days ago to the few remaining taxpayers whose renditions have been reviewed by the board.

America's Lead In Poultry Is Conceded

LONDON, July 7.—In proposing the health of the American and Canadian delegates to the world poultry congress recently held in Barcelona, who were entertained by the British government here, Minister of Agriculture Noel Buxton admitted that America and Canada were ahead of Great Britain in poultry culture, but he added that he was proud of the fact that Great Britain's breeding stock was in demand in other lands. Britain, he said, had not yet developed her poultry industry sufficiently to meet her own demands, but she supplied the market for other people.

The British government, the speaker concluded, was very grateful to America for the courtesy shown to their representative, A. P. Francis, on the occasion of his visit to the United States last year for research work in poultry culture.

Jap Forces In Korea To Be Reinforced

By The Associated Press.

TOKIO, July 7.—Increase of the Japanese garrison in Korea from two divisions to three is under consideration by the high authorities of the army, according to the vernacular press.

This reinforcement, it is understood, is contemplated as a result of recommendations of Admiral Baron Minoru Saito, governor-general of Korea, who has represented conditions in the peninsula as demanding increase of Japanese military strength. Difficulties of patrolling the northern border of Korea against incursions by insurgent Koreans or Chinese bandits and the topographical handicaps under which the garrison works, are given as reasons for the requested increase.

American Opera Is Sung In Germany

FRANKFORT, Germany, July 7.—Arrangements for the presentation of "Lakshmi," music by Hinon Bucharoff, and text by Isabel Buckingham, both of Chicago, have been completed here. This is the first opera composed in America to be put on in Germany in nearly eleven years.

Buccharoff, who arrived here recently to complete preparations with a German troupe for putting on his opera, is composer of "A Lover's Knot," produced by the Chicago Opera company in 1915.

Death Diverts His Sudden Fortune

DUBLIN, July 7.—William Brown, the Dublin cabman who recently found that he was heir to an estate of nearly $500,000, survived his fortune less than a fortnight.

Brown had driven his cab through Dublin for more than 20 years, and continued driving while the estate was being administered. He fell ill and died in a private hospital.

Wyatt To Erect $40,000 Brick Building Here

A $40,000 building permit was issued yesterday to Wylie Wyatt for the erection of a new two-story brick building adjoining the Staley building on Indiana avenue just south of Eighth.

Work on the structure has already been started and announcement was made by Mr. Wyatt some time ago that he contemplated building on the site. Retail houses will occupy the ground floor, it is said, while it is understood that the second floor will be used chiefly for offices.

Work Begins On Flood Street

Stakes for grades were being set Thursday by the city engineer on Flood street between the ball park and the city limit, preparatory to grading work that will be a part of the general improvement of that highway. Seventh street has already been paved to the ball park, the improvement now contemplated will carry this on to the city limits, where the county will start surfacing the Petrolia road.

This will be gravel with an asphalt top and, while not as durable as concrete, will be an excellent addition to the county's system of hard roads.
