

Porter Claims GOP Credit In Win By Shivers

AMARILLO (U)—Texas Republicans yesterday were given credit for the re-nomination of Allan Shivers as Democratic candidate for governor.

Republican national committee member Jack Porter of Houston said the conservative Republican voters did the "favor" by casting the votes which he said sent Shivers into the November general election against Republican nominee Tod Adams of Crockett, Tex.

Shivers, a conservative, won the Democratic nomination for a third term as governor when he beat Austin attorney Ralph Yarborough in the Aug. 23 primary. It was an election billed as a conservative-liberal contest, with Yarborough accusing Shivers of party disloyalty for his support of President Eisenhower in 1952. Shivers countered with charges that Yarborough represented left-wing elements.

Panhandle Democrats can "return the favor," Porter said, with votes for Leroy (Pebe) Lamaster, GOP congressional candidate, in the general election.

Lamaster, who ran unsuccessfully for the office as a Democrat in a special election in 1950, faces incumbent Walter Rogers of Pampa in the fight for the 18th District seat. Porter delivered his statement at a news conference while here to help map strategy for the Perryton farmer's campaign.

"There is no doubt," Porter said, "but that the Republicans of Texas pulled Gov. Shivers through. I am calling on those people to come back and vote for a congressman who will support President Eisenhower. We are calling on Democrats who supported President Eisenhower to return the favor which Republicans did for them in the recent Democratic election."

Porter stressed that the Republican party took no official position in the Shivers-Yarborough run-off primary.

A Republican Congress in 1955 is a necessity, Porter said, to insure success of the Republican program. Even a conservative Democrat would be harmful to the Republican cause, he said, because of "his vote for the organization of Congress."

FOR PRECINCT 3 POST Martin Demo Committee Told It Can Pick Nominee

STANTON, (SC)—Morgan Hall, Martin County Democratic chairman, said this morning he has been advised by the Attorney General of Texas, that it is now in order for the county Democratic committee to meet and fill the nomination vacancy occasioned by the recent death of Irvin Welch, county commissioner.

Welch was re-nominated in the July 24 primary but has since died. It is the duty of the committee, Hall said he has been advised, to name someone to the nomination to this person's name can be put on the November general election ballot as Democratic nominee for commissioner in Precinct 3.

The county chairman said he did not meet just when the committee will meet. Members of the committee, in addition to Chairman Hall, are Bob Deavenport, John Hoeche, Bill Orson and Elmer Dyer.

County Judge Bruce Frazier, who was appointed to that post last July following the resignation of James McMorris, says he has no further plans to fill the vacancy on the commissioner's court until after the November election. He says he then plans to immediately appoint the person selected by the precinct voters in that election.

In the meantime he has designated H. O. (Hub) Phillips, commissioner of Precinct 1, to look after matters in Precinct 3.

Frazier said he is aware of the fact that this designation of Phillips has created some misunderstanding among the people of Precinct 3. Phillips does not have the power to vote as Precinct 3 commissioner. Frazier said, nor does he draw any pay over his regular compensation as Precinct 1 commissioner.

It has been learned from a reliable source here that Sam Cox, rancher, is seriously considering becoming a candidate for the Precinct 3 commissioner's place.

At the same time Frazier has announced that Martin County's financial condition, which has been subject of a grand jury investigation, may not be as bad as some people had anticipated. He said the county owes only $50,363.61 in open accounts, and $16,128.36 which is due the state from the sale of automobile registrations to non-residents of Martin County. This total of $66,491.97 is in addition to the county's bonded indebtedness estimated at about $975,000.

Stanton Chuckwagon

Here for the 9th annual 4-H Club rodeo was a group of young cowhands from Martin County. Shown as they prepared for the rodeo parade Thursday are Curtis Winters, Wesley Clearman, B. R. Wilson, Tommy Wilson, Bobby Kelly and Norman Cox. The Stanton cowboys drove two chuckwagons to Big Spring for the rodeo. They're camped at the rodeo grounds until after the rodeo.

2,500 View First Performance Of Ninth Annual Junior Rodeo

A crowd estimated at more than 2,500 people turned out last night to witness the first performance of the ninth annual 4-H World Championship Junior Rodeo at the Rodeo Bowl in the Southwest section of Big Spring, and to see a first-rate performance on the parts of the younger cowboys and cowgirls.

The last two performances will be held tonight and tomorrow night, each of them starting at 8 p.m.

Last night's contestants came from over Texas, New Mexico and Louisiana, and the events included bareback bronc riding; cowgirl's barrel race; calf roping; wild cow milking; flag races; ribbon roping; a wild mare race; boot scramble; calf scramble and bull riding.

A'Ann Young of Lovington, N. M., was winner in the barrel race with a time of 19 seconds. Second was Peggy Sanders of San Angelo with 19.1, and third place went to Tommie Joe Williamson of Big Spring in 22.8 seconds. Vela Lou Richters of Big Spring was fourth with 26.2 seconds, and Rosemary Rice, also Big Spring, was fifth.

The fastest calf roping time during the show was 14.8 seconds turned in by Olin Young of Lovington. Other times were Monte Griffin of Lamesa, 15; Kenney McMullen of San Angelo, 17.1; Eddie Stephenson of Big Lake, 17.7; Cotton Kinney of Sulphur, La., 21.5; Ronnie Huckabee of Andrews, 23.8; Bill Martin of San Angelo, 28.5, and Billy Winn of Uvalde, 31.7 seconds.

Doyle McSpadden of Rotan won the ribbon roping in 11.5 seconds, followed by Olin Young of Lovington with 11.7; Pee Wee Shortes of Big Spring with 11.9; Billy McIlvain of Big Spring with 15 seconds; Cotton Kinney, the Louisiana cowboy, with 18.5, and C. E. Renfro of Melvin with 29.9 Kinney really had the fastest time, 8.5 seconds, but was penalized 10 seconds, when the cowgirl helping him took the ribbon off the calf's tail while the calf was down.

Other "no time" ribbon ropers were Bill Martin of San Angelo, Eddie Stephenson of Big Lake, Donald Hewett of Big Spring and Scott Saylor of San Angelo.

Receiving no time in the regular calf roping were Sidney Johnson of Snyder and Larry Stockton of Sterling City.

Monte Griffin was first in the flag race, which was run in two heats and then with a final runoff. Griffin had won first place in the second heat. Second in the run-off of the flag race was Leslie White of Big Spring, and third place winner was E. P. Birkhead of Midland.

Other contestants in the flag race included Carolyn Whitefield of Big Spring, Bill Wells of Eunice, N. M., Olin Young of Lovington, Warren Wise of Big Spring and Jim Seal of Snyder.

Birkhead was first in the first heat, with White second, Cooper was second to Griffin in the second heat.

The wildcow milking was won by James Shortes of Knott with a time of 42.7 seconds. Bill Martin of San Angelo milked his cow in 74.6 seconds, but was given a penalty of 25 seconds for a total time of 99.6 when he jerked the cow down in roping her. Olin Young milked his cow in 59.5 seconds but received a similar penalty for the same reason for a total time of 84.5 seconds.

Two Garden City cowboys, Larry Calverley and Jimmy McCordquale received "no times" in the first heat.

In the bareback bronc contest, riders who qualified were Jerald Chaffin of Vernon, Ed Workman (all-around cowboy at the 1953 rodeo), Wyatt Myers of Richland, Tee Nelson of Garden City, Sidney Johnson of Snyder, Don Workman, and Bud Jackson of Pecos.

Those contesting aboard the broncs from the string of Goat Mayo of Petrolia included Jerald Chaffin of Vernon, Ed Workman of Olton, Wyatt Myers of Richland, Texas, Woody Caffey of Knott, Tee Mayo of Petrolia; Sidney Johnson of Snyder and Don Workman of Olton.

Bull riding contestants who qualified were Ed Workman of Olton, Sonny Mayo of Petrolia, Don Workman of Olton, Jim Sealy of Snyder and E. M. Holt Jr. of Odessa.

Entered in the bull riding were the Workman brothers of Olton.

Sen. McCarthy To Take Stand

WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. McCarthy probably will testify early next week as his own chief witness against Senator Frazier.

That prospect—with its attendant likelihood of fireworks—took the major share of attention today as Senate investigators, their own record virtually complete on accusations they chose as the major ones, turned to the question of what to do with remaining counts.

The special Senate committee itself is in recess until Tuesday, because of the funeral of Sen. Maybank (D-SC) today and the Labor Day holiday Monday. But staff members were busy with closed-door studies of the 33 charges yet to be disposed of.

Just what happens Tuesday is undecided, since the committee has promised to do something with every one of 46 counts.

"We haven't closed the door on anything," said Chairman Watkins (R-Utah).

But the general expectation is that the committee, perhaps after a little more tag-end evidence of its own, will turn matters over to the defense.

"I anticipate I will be a witness," McCarthy told newsmen.

Neither he nor his lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, was discussing strategy. They would not say whether there will be any witnesses besides McCarthy himself.

The only announcement from Williams was that "we'll be ready to go on Tuesday."

The hearing so far has been almost entirely a rehash of old records and testimony.

Under orders from the Senate, the committee is considering a resolution by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) to condemn McCarthy's conduct as tending to bring the Senate into disrepute. Backing up the resolution, Flanders and Senators Morse (Ind-Ore) and Fulbright (D-Ark) aimed 46 overlapping, specific charges against McCarthy.

To get things started, the committee skipped some charges and lumped the others into five major categories. Working with unexpected speed, it finished putting into the record by midafternoon yesterday the documentary evidence, mostly from transcripts of prior hearings of other committees.

The two categories covered yesterday were charges that McCarthy (1) may have violated the espionage law by bringing into the recent McCarthy-Army hearings a document quoting a secret FBI report, and (2) urged government employees to break the law and violate their oaths of office by giving him secret information.

Long excerpts from the Army-McCarthy hearings were read into the record retracing the story of how McCarthy produced last May

Dulles Arrives In Asia For SEATO Pact Meet

TVA And AEC Chiefs Agree On Power Deal

WASHINGTON (U)—The Tennessee Valley Authority and the Atomic Energy Commission said today "a meeting of minds has been achieved on all fundamental issues" of an agreement between the agencies relating to the proposed Dixon-Yates power contract.

A joint statement by Chairman Herbert D. Vogel of TVA and General Manager K. D. Nichols of AEC made no reference to published reports that TVA was resisting, at least temporarily, administration pressure to get on with the contract ordered by President Eisenhower.

The statement appeared, however, to be designed in part as a reply to these reports.

It was disclosed last Wednesday that Harry A. Curtis, vice chairman of TVA, had protested to the Budget Bureau that TVA was being pressed on the matter but had not been given a copy of the contract which AEC proposes to make with a private power combine known as the Dixon-Yates group.

The contract is to call for 600,000 kilowatts of power to be supplied by a 107-million-dollar steam plant to be built at West Memphis, Ark. This power would be delivered to TVA at Memphis, Tenn., for distribution to consumers in the area. It would replace power which TVA supplied to atomic plants.

The proposal is a substitute for TVA's plan to build a new steam plant near Memphis. Congress has not appropriated funds for this.

The Vogel-Nichols statement said they had a conference, and that a copy of the Dixon-Yates contract was made available to the TVA staff last Wednesday.

The statement added: "There are obviously many technical details to be resolved before final agreement between TVA and AEC can be consummated, but a meeting of the minds has been achieved on all fundamental issues and the TVA will proceed in good faith and as expeditiously as possible to prepare the necessary data, and it is expected that the technical staff (16) of both organizations will get together for discussions within the next 10 days."

The chairman of the TVA and the general manager of the AEC are agreed that negotiations can proceed between the two agencies in the same spirit of good will that has exemplified past negotiations."

Woman Wins Long Fight With 'Uncle'

BLEDSCO, Tex. (U)—Mrs. Pearl C. Marr's 30-year-old fight with the government ended yesterday in victory.

Her victory may be shared now with hundreds of other homesteaders. For what she won, with the stroke of President Eisenhower's pen, was the mineral rights on her 20-acre homestead in northern Lea County, N. M.

Mrs. Marr, 62 years old now, but only 32 when her battle began back in 1924, believes a precedent has been set which other homesteaders might follow.

President Eisenhower had first announced he would kill, by pocket veto, the measure returning to Mrs. Marr the mineral rights on the land which she and her husband homesteaded in 1924 and proved up in 1927.

But yesterday, from his vacation headquarters in Fraser, Colo., the Chief Executive announced he had changed his mind and signed the bill.

JIMMIE TUCKER

T & P Promotes Tucker, Others

J. G. (Jimmie) Tucker is one of two top division officers of the Texas & Pacific Railway Company who are stepping up to new posts in the operating department following resignation of W. F. Kascal as mechanical superintendent.

Tucker has been appointed superintendent of the Louisiana division of the T&P at Alexandria, La., effective Sept. 16, according to an announcement from L. C. Porter, vice president in charge of operations.

Kascal has resigned his post to become chief mechanical officer for the New York Central System. T. E. Albright, who has been superintendent of the Louisiana division, will become trainmaster.

This set in motion other promotions. A. C. LaCroix, who has been assistant division superintendent in charge of the Toyah-El Paso sub-division, will step up to be in charge of the Baird sub-division.

J. A. Wright, who has been serving as foreman of road engineers of the western wing of the division, will become trainmaster.

Most of Tucker's railroad experience has been in Big Spring, although he stepped into it naturally as member of a confirmed railroad family. His father is William (Uncle Bud) Tucker, who headed up the activities of the T&P back in the days when Straw and Thurber were busy coal-mining centers. Jimmie Tucker actually had his first work experience with the T&P in 1919 but went on the regular payroll as cashier in Big Spring, 1924.

He came to Big Spring in January of 1932 as a rate billing clerk. Three years later he was appointed traveling freight agent, and then became general agent. The T&P made him trainmaster here in 1942. He became assistant superintendent of the Louisiana division in 1945 and served at Alexandria

Terms Conference Highly Important

MANILA (U)—U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles arrived today for an eight-nation Southeast Asia security conference he called "one of the most important international conferences of our time."

An 18-gun salute boomed as his plane landed. Two military bands began playing and a host of dignitaries crowded forward as he walked smiling from the big airliner.

"I am happy to be again in the Philippine Republic," Dulles told the crowd. "I particularly look forward to seeing again Mr. Magasaysay. I met him here before when he was minister of defense. Now I shall be honored to pay my respects to him as president."

Tomorrow U.S. and Philippine officials will meet in advance of the foreign ministers' conference opening Monday to discuss ways and means of strengthening the mutual defense pact linking the two nations.

"I am confident that through frank discussion and mutual understanding we shall find ways to advance further Philippine security," Dulles declared in his statement.

"Next Monday Manila will become the seat of one of the most important international conferences of our time. The representatives of eight free nations will meet here to discuss how to protect Southeast Asia and the southwest Pacific from aggression."

Immediately after reading his statement he drove to the residence of U.S. Ambassador Raymond Spruance.

The secretary was expected to dampen the enthusiasm of the Philippines and Thailand for a strong military alliance against communism.

The United States already has indicated it is not anxious to go along with their demands for a pact binding members to instant retaliation in the event of an attack against any one of them.

Washington is reported to prefer an agreement under which member nations would react to an attack against another member within the framework of their constitutional processes.

Labor Day Traffic Toll Of 390 Feared

CHICAGO (U)—Summer's last long weekend lured millions of Americans to the highways, roads, waters and skies today.

The National Safety Council estimated that millions of automobiles will choke the roads and that 390 persons will be killed in traffic mishaps in the 78 hours between 6 p.m. today and midnight Monday.

The council urged every motorist to use caution, drive at reduced speed and observe the rules and courtesies of the road.

In Michigan, where license plates proclaim the state a "water-land" for tourists and vacationers, Gov. G. Mennen Williams has declared a state of emergency over the weekend to keep traffic deaths down. National Guard units are helping patrol the roads.

Radio Free Europe Says Man Missing

VIENNA, Austria (U)—Radio Free Europe said today there was little doubt that one of its top Czechoslovak employees had been kidnapped by Russian agents.

Russians, RFE manager in Vienna, said that Stefan Kirpolsky 39, and his wife, Helena, 20, had failed to return from a vacation which took the couple through Austria's Russian zone Aug. 21.

Reached at Fort Worth, Regent Chairman Sealy said, "Our understanding is that the recent decision of the U.S. Supreme Court abolishing segregation has not been put into effect and will not be effective until after hearings this fall which were designed to aid the court in implementing the decision and determining just when and how segregation will be abolished."

Both McCown and Sealy said that when Ford completed his first year's work, primarily academic, that he may apply at the university.

FIRST ACCEPTED, THEN REJECTED Once Rebuffed Negro To Seek Texas University Entry Anew

AUSTIN, Tex. (U)—An honor graduate of a Negro high school looked for "some other method" today to enter the University of Texas after his acceptance notice was canceled by mail.

Marion George Ford Jr. of Houston, the student refused admission, said he had not received a letter mailed him by H. Y. McCown, university registrar and dean of admissions. But he admitted the announcement "caught me off guard."

"I don't know which way to turn," he said.

He said he and his mother, Mrs. Laverne Ford, would attempt to contact Tom Sealy of Midland, Tex., chairman of the university's Board of Regents, for an explanation.

"If I'm unable to move him," Ford said, "we'll have to use some other method to get my point over." He did not explain what method but said court action would be a waste of time.

"In a few years there will be hundreds of Negro students at the university," he said. "Why hold me back for this one year?"

After a recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling that segregation should end in public schools, the Texas Education Agency first announced it would abide by the de-

Growth Through Useful Work

CHRISTIANS SHOULD LABOR "HEARTILY, AS UNTO THE LORD."

Scripture—Colossians 3:23-24; 1 Thessalonians 4:10-11; 11 Thessalonians 3:6-12

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

IN HIS epistle to the church at Colosse, Paul writes about human relationships—the duty of wives, husbands, parents, children, servants. Then he turns to the duty of every individual to work well and heartily.

Never was there a more timely lesson for our times. As hours of work have been shortened due to mechanical helps, people generally seem to let down in their work, whatever it may be.

We hear on all sides of sloppy, slipshod workmanship. Workmen and women are well paid, but often they tend to be careless and lackadaisical, intent only on getting through the day with the least effort.

Of course this is not always the case. There are many conscientious workers who give their employers a full day's work for their wages, and perform their tasks well, but we hear many complaints to the contrary.

Paul was an educated man, but he worked with his hands at tent-making, which was his trade. We can be sure his work was well done.

Even if one is laboring at an uncomplimentary task, there will be a certain joy and satisfaction in doing a good job. Discussing this very thing with a young woman more and more; And that ye study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your hands, as we commanded you.

"Study to be quiet." How much our world needs to follow Paul's advice there. We rush about, we do our work hurriedly, often spilling it by trying to do it speedily.

"Be still, and know that I am God," said the prophet. We need to repeat that often. To be quiet and strive to be at peace; to turn a serene face to our associates and to do our work in an unhurried, but thorough manner.

We could do much to help others if we strove for this attitude, and we surely would please God and be more Christian like.

Children usually have to be admonished to do their small jobs, or to do their home work, but even a child feels more satisfied and happy if he does his work without being prodded.

Paul, in his second epistle to the Thessalonians, speaks of disorderly conduct. He had received a mixed report from the church in that city. The converts were being persecuted, but brotherly love was increasing under it. There were, however, reports of disorderly conduct in some, and Paul was concerned about that. He writes:

MEMORY VERSE

"Whatever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men."—Colossians 3:23.

recently we both agreed that when we accomplished something worth while we experienced a warm glow of satisfaction.

"And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men," Paul writes, and adds, "Knowing that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of the inheritance; for ye serve the Lord Christ."

A great deal is said in the Bible about work. Jesus spoke of His work and the work of the Father. It is mentioned in different books of the Old Testament. "God finished His work," after the creation.

Work gives balance to life. The person who never works may drift into dissolute habits to fill out hours of boredom. Work, even hard work, has its compensations if done "heartily, as to the Lord."

Most of our lesson is taken from Thessalonians. Thessalonica was the most populous city in all Macedonia, and it was at the height of its prosperity at the beginning of the Christian Era. It had a number of Jewish citizens and they had a synagogue.

Paul writes in his first epistle to the church there: "We beseech you, brethren, that ye increase

"Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which he received of us.

"For yourselves know how ye ought to follow us; for we behaved not ourselves disorderly among you; neither did we eat any man's bread for naught; but wrought with labor and travail night and day, that we might not be chargeable to any of you.

"Not because we have not power, but to make ourselves an ensample (example) unto you to follow us. For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither should he eat."

As for the disorderly and "busybodies," he says, "Now them that are such we command and exhort by our Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietness they work, and eat their own bread. But ye brethren, be not weary in well doing."

All of us know that when we work day after day, we grow weary, but let us remember Paul's admonition, and try to think of Jesus and His work, and "Be not weary in well doing." We shall gain our reward.

I AM AN ENGINEER

I am an engineer and this is my family. We have much to be thankful for—good health, our good country, a comfortable home, a good job and good friends and neighbors.

My greatest pride and happiness comes from my home and my family—Susie, my wife, and little Susie and John. We have ups and downs, like other families, but on the whole we fare pretty well. Best of all, we have each other.

I read an article in a magazine which said no nation could be completely destroyed which maintained the integrity of its homes. Nations begin to decay when they lose the stabilizing influence of the family.

That is not going to happen to our home if we can help it, and I think we can. We try to make it the best place on earth for each other and a pillar of strength for our community and country. We laid its foundations in God and religion.

Families that are bound together by love and religion do not break up. These ties grow stronger with the passing years. So we go to Church and worship God, and put our lives and hopes in His hands.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Rev. Ray Protzman, associate pastor of First Christian Church of Midland, will again speak at the local First Christian Church, 911 Gollad. The regular pastor, the Rev. Clyde Nichols is on vacation. Only an 11 a.m. service will be held at the church and the sermon will be entitled "Jesus and Your Work."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
That man as God's spiritual image, the child of a good Father, is capable of experiencing only good will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Man" to be read this Sunday at the Christian Science Church, 1209 Gregg.

CHURCH OF CHRIST
Continuing through Sunday evening, the open-air revival being conducted by T. H. Tarbet, minister of Benton St. Church of Christ, at Northwest Ninth and Gregg will have the following sermon topics: Friday, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and Thou Shalt Be Saved" (Acts 16:31); Saturday, "Everybody Converted Alike"; Sunday "Some Bible Cases of Non-Conversion." These sermons will be at 8 p.m. Sunday at 10:40 a.m. at the church Tarbet will speak on "The Lord's Supper." A short service will be held at the church at 7:30 p.m. Sunday before the concluding revival service at the open-air lot Sunday evening.

Lyle Price, minister of Main St. Church of Christ, 1401 Main, has returned from his vacation and from conducting services out-of-town and will hold services at the church Sunday. His topic at 10:30 a.m. will be "Walking With God" and at 7 p.m. he will begin a series of sermons on "The Bulwarks of the Faith."

At Ellis Homes Church of Christ, Air Base Rd., Marion Crump, minister, will have at his 11 a.m. sermon topic, "Naman the Lep-er." "The Prodigal Son" will be the title of his 7:30 p.m. sermon.

LUTHERAN
A special service will be held at 11 a.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Ninth and Scurry, when the Rev. A. H. Hoyer speaks on "Through the Church Enriched in Everything." It will be in preparation for the 25th anniversary of the organization of the church's congregation which will be celebrated Sept. 12. At 7:30 p.m. Walter League will meet at the church. Comparison Of McCarthy, Mitchell By Nixon Disputed WASHINGTON (AP)—There were at least two versions today of the language Vice President Nixon is said to have used in comparing Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell of the Democratic National Committee.

Neither version appeared to please either McCarthy or Mitchell. Nixon could not be reached immediately by closed news.

He spoke at a closed meeting of the GOP National Committee in Cincinnati Wednesday night. A committee source who asked not to be named said he declared in effect there is not much to choose between "the blasts of McCarthy and the drawing room innuendoes of Mitchell."

A Cleveland News dispatch from Cincinnati by staff writer Thomas Vail quoted Nixon as saying: "I "Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and Thou Shall Be Saved," Acts 16:31 and "Is Everyone Converted Alike?" will be the sermon subjects of T. H. Tarbet in the Open Air Gospel Meeting tonight and Saturday at the corner of North Gregg and Ninth Streets. Services will be held each night at 8:00 through September 5. Mr. Tarbet will also be heard each noon on "Five Minutes With The Bible" over KBST at 12:45. The public is cordially invited to hear these sermons.

can't see much difference between the belows of Sen. McCarthy and the blasts of Mitchell. In fact, Mitchell is using the McCarthy technique."

McCarthy commented: "I'm sure I don't like the comparison any better than Mitchell probably will."

Mitchell told a reporter from his vacation ranch at Taos, N.M.: "You can't figure out from this report whether Nixon and the other Republican leaders finally have decided that McCarthy is a liability to them."

Mitchell added that Nixon "is an expert on Sen. McCarthy but I don't think he knows much about me," and he said:

"I thought when you mentioned Nixon's name you were going to tell me the Republicans were announcing another Nixon TV extravaganza to claim the Dixon-Yates deal for private exploitation of atomic power was white as snow. 'What was the name of Nixon's dog?'"

Mitchell has been criticizing as "a raw deal" — and Republicans have been stoutly defending — an order by President Eisenhower for the Atomic Energy Commission to contract for electric power with a combine known as Dixon-Yates in Tennessee Valley Authority territory.

Nixon's office referred newsmen who asked about his Cincinnati remarks to James Bassett, public relations director of the GOP National Committee, who said of the Cleveland News account: "It is not an accurate quotation." He declined to make public a transcript.

EVERYTHING'S MAKESHIFT

Typical Family In Hurricane Area Using Kerosene Lamp

Editor's Note — Rhode Island was one of the hardest hit states in the path of Hurricane Carol, which battered New England Tuesday. The following story by John Ward of the Providence Journal-Bulletin tells of one family in a storm community and how it is facing three days after the storm.

By JOHN WARD
WAKEFIELD, R. I. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Jenne and their four children go to bed at 9 p.m. by the light of a single kerosene lamp that their family physician gave them.

That's all the light they have. They didn't have any light Tuesday night and had to go to bed at dusk. The hurricane had carried away power lines in this little village on Narragansett Bay, 18 miles south of Providence.

That storm had left them with their home but with a cellar full of water, a yard covered with puddles of salt water, no lights, no heat, no facilities for storing food and none for cooking it.

The Jennes, whose children range from 3 to 22, are typical of hundreds of families braving it out in many of the flood areas of Rhode Island, leading a bare existence in their water-soaked homes, struggling along with makeshift meals, sleeping in makeshift beds, wearing what clothes the storm has left them.

Mr. and Mrs. Jenne were working at the Quonset Point Naval Air Station and their son Robert at a bank in Providence when the storm hit.

A nursemaid, Mrs. Ethel Rose of Allenton, rushed the three children from the house and took them in her auto through rising waters to refuge at her own home.

The Jenne family was reunited late Tuesday afternoon to find the floodwaters had virtually destroyed all their first-floor furnishings, including everything in two bedrooms.

Last night, Mrs. Jenne, who perhaps typified all with housewives and mothers in the area, said, "Oh, we're living."

"We have just one kerosene lamp. Dr. Patrick O'Brien loaned it to us. The first night we went to bed at 8, but now we go at 9."

"We have been cleaning up and cleaning up. We get food as we need it for each meal from a store four miles away."

"We finally got our gas man to hook up our bottled gas stove yesterday afternoon. Before that we had to eat cold food like frankfurters although Wednesday we had steaks cooked on our outdoor grill."

"We invited our neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Willis and their children, over that night. They're worse off than we are. They live on the first floor and had 36 inches of water. We only had 24 inches."

"We just threw out all the children's shoes—10 pairs—and bed slippers. When we get paid tomorrow, we've got to buy new shoes for everybody. We've got most of our spare clothes hanging on the line to dry."

"My husband has carried four trailer loads of stuff, including our studio couch and rugs, to the town dump and there's a lot more down the cellar to go."

The back and side yard at the Jenne place were typical—shortly before dark last night—of yards throughout the flood area, as families ate meager meals at makeshift picnic tables, mostly salvaged furniture, and cooked food nearby over charcoal fires.

A reporter inquired whether the Jenne had asked for assistance from the Red Cross. Mrs. Jenne answered, "We leave the Red Cross to the poor people. They need it a lot more than we do."

Reds Seek Entry Into Auto Plants

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee says the Communist party has switched college-educated organizers from white to blue collar jobs in its drive to "colonize" the nation's basic industries.

A prime Communist target is the automobile industry, the committee said yesterday in a report. It said nearly 100 Communist intellectuals had been sent to work on Michigan auto assembly lines.

The report said "colonizers"—

Hurricane Toll May Still Rise

BOSTON (AP)—Gov. Christian Herter has waived the Massachusetts blue laws with an unprecedented executive order which permits retail stores to remain open Sunday and Labor Day to meet the growing food crisis resulting from the hurricane which battered New England Tuesday.

The action came as hundreds of repairmen and cleanup crews worked feverishly to restore electricity to the estimated two million who were still without power today.

Tons of foodstuffs spoiled in refrigerators that have been powerless since the hurricane struck, but state officials said loads of dry ice flown in from other states are helping to keep dairies, packing houses and storage plants "in excellent shape."

The Sunday sale of food was ordered for those who must buy from day to day because of lack of home refrigeration.

Meanwhile, fear mounted that the hurricane death toll might reach 66. A Coast Guard report said there has been no sign of a New Bedford fishing boat with 11 men aboard.

The scalloper Red Start was last reported Tuesday battling 65-foot waves in Nantucket waters. Later the Coast Guard reported it had sighted wreckage near the scene.

On land the search continued for more than a score of persons, many of them children, still listed as missing.

The federal government has classified both Massachusetts and Rhode Island as "major disaster" areas.

A Bible Thought For Today

Our Christian civilization has practically cancelled out the need for worthy people to beg. Swarms of beggars still fill the streets of unchristian lands. Giving does not impoverish nor does withholding enrich. "I beg I am ashamed." — Luke 16:3.

No Dog-Lover Would Be Insulted At Comparing Dog's Looks To His

There was a man in our little old town who lived alone with his black dog with a tan nose and tail-tip and old bachelor, well along in years, who minded his business and bothered nobody, and now for many long decades perhaps happily gathered to his father, with his faithful dog wagging his tail and following him when he strolls in the Elysian Fields.

As a boy, the knowledge grew on us that this man and his dog resembled each other in some indefinable but unmistakable way. Perhaps it was no more than a "kinship by association" impression, perhaps the way the man and his dog imitated each other's movements and mannerisms, but the resemblance was plain.

Since those far-off days we have noticed the same seeming resemblance in other men and their dogs, and have learned that this quaint notion is by no means rare.

In the human family, many married couples who have lived together for many years come to resemble each other in the same way, right down to a physical likeness, the result perhaps of unconscious imitation of facial expressions. For confirmation of this, study the faces of golden wedding partners as they appear in newspapers; not all couples resemble each other, but a remarkably high percentage of them do. Somehow, in some indefinable way, we find this as ennobling as it is startling.

Now comes a story from England, saying that dog owners of Wallasey, Cheshire, have been invited to enter a contest to see what man looks most like his dog, or vice versa.

Some timid souls have raised the question whether the dog owners of Wallasey won't take this as an implied insult. They don't seem worried about how the dogs will take it, and why should they? After all, to a dog his master is the most wonderful creature that walks the earth, a marvelous being who can do no wrong, whose every word is law, the sound of whose voice sets off tremors of delight in his canine soul.

Is a man any less human than a dog? Then why imagine any genuine dog-lover would feel mortified at having a look-alike with the one creature in all the world that loves him with unselfish, unquestioning devotion?

Dog owners of Wallasey, rise and shine — and may the best man win!

Reaching Asiatic Defense Treaty Could Bring New Accord On EDC

Before the wreckage of EDC in Europe had settled in the dust of hope, representatives of eight nations in the Pacific gathered in Manila to map a course of mutual defense against Communist aggression.

The nations were the United States, Britain, France, the Philippines, Thailand, Australia, New Zealand and Pakistan.

There was a stir over the premature release to a Manila newspaper of a nine-article draft of the proposed treaty. This treaty draft stresses economic aid more than a military alliance. It defines a treaty area that excludes Formosa but covers the Indochinese states of Cambodia, Laos and that part of Vietnam which is still free.

The draft pledges, in the case of Communist aggression, that each of the nations will act in accord with its constitutional processes. That is far from being a specific promise to give military aid in case of attack; such aid is merely implied. But it probably is as near as the eight participating nations can come to the NATO-type of mutual assistance.

The Filipino leaders in particular have sought a stronger alliance based on the NATO concept in which member nations are pledged to give immediate military aid in case of attack.

None of the Big Three in this Pacific line-up is ready to go that far. Britain and France are dead set against it, and the U. S. finds it unattractive.

However, the Filipinos probably would be satisfied with a stronger military defense pact with the U. S. Since the Philippines are our godchild, any aggression against that country would be equivalent to an attack on U. S. territory, impossible to ignore; so Uncle Sam may not be averse to granting the islands a stronger alliance, its terms to apply solely to the Philippines and no other territory involved in the current negotiations.

Similarly, if Britain would grant France a similar direct alliance, France might relax its rejection of EDC, and come into that organization. If EDC is revived, it will be on that basis. Churchill's promise to Mendes-France to render "all aid possible" in solving the EDC tangle hinted that an Anglo-French accord on this point is not impossible.

Matter Of Fact — Joseph And Stewart Alsop A Study Of Backgrounds Would Help Us Face Eastern Problem

The new figures which emerge in so many places these days upon our consciousness and into history were not born yesterday. To understand them it is necessary to search out their parents; their ideas as students; their political associations; their training. Only then can we understand who it is with whom we deal because the mature man is only an older boy.

For instance, I have never been able to understand Gen. George Marshall's lack of knowledge of Chinese personalities since he was in Tientsin, as the executive officer of the 15th Infantry, from 1924-27 when he was a lieutenant colonel. This was the period of the union between the Kuomintang and the Communists, leading to the split during Christmas week of 1926-27. These were years of revolution, of civil warfare; of the marching of troops and of protective measures taken by foreign troops, including the 15th Infantry. The United States sent additional Marines to protect American lives and property under Gen. Smedley Butler and some were stationed in Tientsin and nearby Peking. The original leader of the Chinese Communists was Chen Tu-Shu who was replaced by Chu Teh and Mao Tse-tung and Li Li-san, surely, Gen. Marshall, when he was in Tientsin, read at least the local newspapers printed in English, which gave full accounts of these events. Chou En-lai, when he was in China in those years, lived in Tientsin.

Similarly, it is astonishing that Ho Chi Minh is made out to be a man of mystery. In those same years, that is, between 1924-27, he spent considerable time with the Chinese Communists in Canton and in the drive northward. His original name was Nguyen Ai Quoc and he is an Annamite. Since boyhood he has been a revolutionist, spending many years abroad in China, England and France. He actually joined the Communist Party in Paris, and was sent to Moscow in 1923 for an indoctrination course which is essential for all Communists who are to become leaders in their own countries. He was, for a time, in 1924, employed in the Soviet consulate in Boston, a position it is to be explained by the fact that many important Communists are citizens not only of their own countries but of Soviet Russia as well. Most of the years between 1924 and 1930, he spent in Asia, principally China and Siam, working for the revolution.

The Viet Minh movement, which Ho Chi Minh heads, started as a united front operation designed to bring together all elements in Indochina, conservative, liberal, and Communists in an anti-French effort to end colonialism. It was naturally popular, as the French have always been disliked in Indochina, and received support from many Communist elements. Few realized, at first, that it was a Communist movement, directed by the Third International and that Ho had been especially trained for it.

With such a history, it is difficult to understand why the United States Office of Strategic Services employed Ho Chi Minh as an agent. The OSS was designed to establish a super-intelligence agency to provide our government with correct information on all subjects. How could Ho Chi Minh provide correct information when he was an agent of Soviet Russia, who had worked for the Kremlin in France, the United States, China and Siam and who had been especially prepared to establish and lead the Communist revolution in Indochina? The OSS has been accused of having been infiltrated by Communists and the CIA has been accused of retaining too many OSS employees.

Instead of fewer Congressional investigations, we ought to have more of them because it is essential for the American people to know why, when we thought we had won a war in 1945, we know in 1954 that we lost it. Why?

WASHINGTON — Just another routine day in Washington. One investigation of Joe McCarthy ended — and another one began.

Secretary of State Dulles says the U.S. must "re-appraise" its foreign policy since France killed the European army. Mr. Dulles feels so low, he may recommend that we outlaw foreign affairs.

Joe McCarthy gets into a row with Chairman Watkins of the new McCarthy investigation committee. Joe figures the best way to graduate in a hurry is to start yelling at the teacher on the first day of school.

Difficult Problem Presented In Trying To Rearm Germans, Keep French Allies

WASHINGTON (AP)—One grand wrangle—it will last for months, perhaps for years, and could split the Allies — is shaping up over France and West Germany.

This is a look at the problems: Nine years after the war West Germany is not free. Troops of the United States, Britain and France still occupy the country. The three powers have veto rights over important actions of the German government.

The United States and Britain think the time has come to let Germany have more, if not complete, independence. The Germans are demanding full independence. The United States and Britain probably won't accept that.

They may want to retain emergency rights. That is, they may want to be able to take over Germany if the Communists try to seize power by force.

The Germans' demands for full independence may be for bargaining purposes. They have a good bargaining position. The United States and Britain want them to rearm to help in the defense of Europe.

The Germans say they want full independence before talking of rearming. The two allies have to be careful not to alienate the West Germans to the point of turning them toward Russia or making them balk at taking part in Western defense.

At the same time, in wanting to rearm the Germans, the United States and Britain must face a question: Is there some way to limit German rearmament so she cannot again become a military menace to her neighbors?

The French have already expressed fear of a rearmaged Germany. Can the United States and Britain persuade the French to let Germany rearm?

Or, if the United States and Britain and their allies on the Continent insist on rearming Germany over French protests, will the French people be antagonized to the point of wrecking the Western alliance with the French?

The problem of the United States and Britain is how to satisfy both the Germans and the French without losing the alliance of either.

The French are in a position to throw a monkey wrench in American and British effort to grant Germany sovereignty. Since the French occupy part of the country, they could continue to occupy it. How then could the United States and Britain say Germany had sovereignty?

In 1949 the Western Allies created NATO, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. They set up a general staff to plan Western Europe's defenses. Under NATO they agreed to help one another in case any one of them was attacked.

But there was a weak spot: What was needed was a truly strong European army, already set up and waiting, in case Russia attacked. There was general agreement such an army, to be strong enough, needed German troops.

The Allies thought they found a solution: set up a single European army—called EDC, the European Defense Community—in which six European countries, including France and Germany, would place their troops under a single command.

The French stalled and this week killed EDC altogether. That left the Western Allies where they were when they set up NATO five years ago: no single European army and no rearmaged Germany.

Now the United States and Britain are talking of letting Germany rearm and become a member of NATO, which now has 14 member nations, including the United States, Britain and France.

But France is in a good spot to throw a monkey wrench in that, too. No new nation can become an NATO member unless all 14 present members approve.

If France used that veto to keep Germany out of NATO, the United States and Britain would have to find some other solution or try to change the NATO rules. That might cost them their French ally. If they don't let Germany rearm, they may lose their German ally.

Proper Lighting Could Assist Many Romances

NEW YORK (AP)—Well, guess we have now to spur lagging romances? Electrical beauty engineering. Yes, sir, that's right—electrical beauty engineering.

Many a beautiful courtship is broken up because the couple involved see too much of each other. For example:

Elsie, weary of the lack of fame and fortune she has found behind a typewriter, lays a trap for Elmer, her reluctant admirer.

She invites him to her apartment, sets him ablaze with a few dry martinis, and banks the fire with a fine home-cooked meal. She then lures him to the sofa. Elmer, soggy with comfort and secretly weary of bachelorhood, is ready to pop the question.

But he looks across the sofa at Elmer and what does he see? Under the cruelly bright floor lamp Elsie's hair looks like wires, each of her 1,312 freckles stand out like checkers on a checkerboard, and Elmer subconsciously is counting her chins—one, two, three. "Oh, no," he mutters, "Not that." Elsie is lucky if he doesn't jump up and race for the door.

Or, to be gallant about it, let's take it from Elsie's standpoint. She gazes across the sofa and what does she see? Are those hairs growing out of Elmer's ears—or feathers? Even more important: Are those things really ears, or flanges? What does he use them for? To hear with—or to fan himself on warm days? Elsie decides she'd rather look at a typewriter the rest of her life than those ears.

In either case the romance mildews because they have seen each other's defects too clearly, too soon.

So now there's a little gadget on the market called a Luxtrol powerstat wall dimmer. It operates on the theory that if love isn't blind, it at least should be near-sighted. By turning a little knob Elsie can make the light so soft and low her freckles become inviting mysteries and her three chins merge into one. Elmer's ears recede into the background.

'Hurricane Carol' Shows That We Still Can't Control Storms

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note.

This week's costly New England hurricane with its over fifty known dead and millions of dollars worth of property damage just barely missed "hurricane month."

For some reason, although the hurricane season covers a number of months from late spring into the fall, the deadliest of hurricanes have all come in September with the exception of a very few in late August or early October.

Recent years have been fortunate in that most hurricanes have either been of slight intensity or have hit comparatively poorly populated areas.

But, even with today's warning systems, a hurricane can cause tremendous loss of life as the New England toll indicates.

Although short memories are apt to place the Texas City explosion or the New London school disaster at the top of the list of disasters in the state, the one that actually was the greatest was the Galveston hurricane of Sept. 8 and 9, 1900. It was not only the greatest disaster in Texas but the greatest ever to occur in the United States. The San Francisco earthquake, the Johnstown, Pa., flood and the Iroquois Theatre fire in Chicago, terrible though they were, don't measure up. Toll from the Galveston hurricane and tidal wave never was known accurately. Bodies were washed miles inland, even a large freighter was found after the storm twenty or so miles inland. It's known that over 5,000 were killed and the toll is generally placed at about 6,000. Some say 8,000 were killed, though.

The storm set Galveston back for nearly 20 years. In the meantime Houston passed Galveston in population and began its rise as the leading city in Texas.

Of course hurricanes don't penetrate into West Texas. But side-effects do and, too, West Texans helped pay for the seawalls that now guard coastal cities in this state. Rains produced by hurricanes have caused loss of life and property numbers of times, in non-coastal parts of the state, the most recent, of course, being the Orons and Rio Grande floods. Those seawalls, such as at Corpus Christi and Galveston, were built by remission of all or part of state taxes collected in coastal counties, the seawall bonds being paid off in this way over the years. In the meantime the rest of the state bore a greater share of the expenses of state government.

Modern though we are, we've yet to stop a hurricane. All we can do is warn and even then sometimes warnings are not strong enough or soon enough. That's why people who live along the coast keep their fingers crossed during September. History shows that's when the big ones have come.

These Days—George Sokolsky

Islands Near Formosa Become Important In Asian Strategy

Chiang Kai-shek's government holds not only the island of Formosa but a number of small islands that run up to the coast of Chekiang province. Actually, the Tachen Islands are only 14 miles off the Chekiang coast. Quemoy is 15 miles off the Fukien coast. The Yangtze River delta includes Chekiang province. Shanghai, the metropolis of China, is in adjacent Kiangsu province, but geographically Shanghai is more a part of Chekiang than of Kiangsu, as, for instance, Chicago lies closer to Northern Indiana than to Southern Illinois.

The Acheson policy towards Formosa and these islands was that while the United States Seventh Fleet lies in Chinese waters to safeguard Formosa from being conquered by Red China, it also prevents Chiang Kai-shek from invading the mainland. In effect, it neutralized Formosa. Chiang, however, has succeeded in conducting some unimportant raids on the mainland, the objective of which was not military victory but espionage and contact with underground groups. The Acheson policy continued to prevail to some degree up to the Geneva Conference. It is now being revamped. The significance of current excitement in the Far East arises from the calling of the Manila Conference which meets on September 6.

It is politically essential for Red China to capture these islands and even Formosa. As long as Chiang continues to hold Formosa, an anti-Communist underground movement will continue to exist and might grow in force as more elements on the mainland become dissatisfied or can be disaffected.

There is an old Chinese tradition on this subject. When the Manchus conquered China, tradition has it that the last of the Ming took refuge on Formosa and from that island sought to recapture China. A Chinese pirate, a supporter of the Ming, who went by the historic name of Koxinga, ravaged the Chinese coast. He actually drove the Dutch out of Formosa. The Ming were a Chinese dynasty; the Manchus were aliens. Koxinga failed to restore the Ming. However, two secret patriotic societies, the Hung Pan and the Tsin Pang, the Red and Green Societies, were organized and for not quite three hundred years, until 1911, these organizations worked underground to restore China to the Chinese.

The Revolution of 1911, which made China a republic, led by Sun Yat-sen, was the achievement of these secret societies. Many of the principal leaders of the Revolution were members of these secret societies. Ningpo, a port in Chekiang province, was a center of Tsin Pang activity. Chiang Kai-shek is a Ningpo man, a protégé, in his youth, of the Chen family which was active in the Revolution, actually seizing Shanghai for Sun Yat-sen. It is probable that Chiang in his youth was a member of the Tsin Pang, although I cannot know it for a fact, as these societies remained secret in my days in China, only a few leaders making themselves publicly known. Sun Yat-sen told me stories of the heroism of the secret society members on many occasions and said that without them the 1911 Revolution could not have succeeded.

I am convinced from what I observe happening in China today that the islands off the coast of Chekiang, held by Chiang Kai-shek, are again being used as bases for patriotic secret society activity. There are families on some of those islands, particularly those close to Ningpo, that have a tradition of patriotism that never could be watered down by Marxian dialectics. There are families who number many ancestors who died in the nearly three-century battle to save China from alien rule. A very large part of the population of Shanghai consists of Ningpo families and their ties would still be strong to the concept that no foreign conqueror may be tolerated on China's soil.

The new American policy seems to be developing in the direction of using our fleet to defend these islands as well as Formosa. From these islands such ports as Shanghai, Ningpo, Amoy, Swatow and Fuchow can easily be blockaded. If air bases exist on them, as they undoubtedly do, the mainland can be bombed from close range.

Admiral Felix B. Stump has given to the Red Chinese every indication that seizure of any of these islands will be resisted. If this policy is carried out, it will be a definite diplomatic defeat for Chou En-lai, and from the standpoint of practicality, vitiates his success in Intochina.

Who Loathes Whom? This Brings Joe To Shrug Of The Shoulders

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

(This column is being substituted for that of Inez Robb, who is on vacation.)

WASHINGTON — The subject before the Joe McCarthy censure hearings now is loathing, but I can't guarantee which Senators are in a loathing mood.

The first session ended with the boss judge, Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah) banging his gavel in white-faced anger, and the chief witness, Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) buffalod probably for the first time in his life. Helplessly he shrugged his shoulders; never before had I seen him do that.

The argument was about whether one of the assistant judges, Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) loathed Sen. McCarthy. The gentleman from Colorado said he didn't loathe the gentleman from Wisconsin.

All he did say in a telephone interview with Robert W. Lucas, editor of the editorial page of the Denver Post, was that most of the Democratic leaders in the Senate loathed Sen. Joe. This obviously didn't include the modest Sen. Johnson. He loathed nobody and he said he felt well able to judge the McCarthy case on its merits.

This wasn't the way Sen. Joe, wearing a California sunburn and a dark gray suit, felt about it. So he whispered some to his attorney Edward Williams, a young fellow on the handsome side, who announced that he never had challenged Sen. Johnson's right to sit as a judge of Sen. McCarthy.

The white-haired Chairman Watkins, whom I'd always regarded as one of the kind men in the Senate, interrupted to ask then what was he protesting about? If he didn't challenge Sen. Johnson, why bring up the subject?

Counselor Williams said he understood that Sen. Johnson intended to get in touch with editor Lucas for a final, definitive statement about loathing Senators.

"But Sen. Johnson is not on trial here," snapped Sen. Watkins, giving his hammer a tentative bang.

Sen. McCarthy tried to say something. He got for his trouble a real 100-decibel gavel smack. Sen. Watkins announced that Sen. McCarthy could talk, or attorney Williams could talk, but not both of them.

"But I'm not being idly curious," insisted lawyer Williams, beginning to sweat around the ears. He said he meant if he were to give his client proper advice, he'd have to know for dead certain whether Sen. Johnson loathed Sen. McCarthy.

"That's not material to this hearing," the chairman roared.

"Aren't we entitled to know whether the quotations of March 12 (about loathing Senators) are correct, or incorrect?" Sen. McCarthy shouted.

Sen. Watkins, with the color draining from his face, said the committee had no jurisdiction over that.

"But Mr. Chairman," cried Sen. McCarthy. "Just a moment," snapped Sen. Watkins, whose lips now were the color of his face, which matched his hair. "I should be entitled to know," Sen. McCarthy interjected. "The Senator is out of order," said Sen. Watkins, after a flurry of gavel poundings. "We are not going to be diverted by these diversions and sidelines." "But," butted Sen. McCarthy. "The committee will be in recess," said Sen. Watkins. He stood up. Sen. McCarthy shrugged his shoulders helplessly. And I don't know whether we're going to learn much about Senatorial courtesy, or even about Senatorial loathing. But I do believe we are going to be entertained.

Phil Cochran Honored On His Birthday

COAHOMA — Mrs. Smith Cochran honored her son, Phil, on his fifth birthday Monday evening with a hobo party. The children all dressed as hobos, went on a hike and picked up sack lunches at different neighbor's houses. Suckers and balloons were used as favors and games were enjoyed on the lawn. Decorated birthday cake and punch was served to, Mike Salting, Betty Wilson, Gary Turner, Larry McKinney, Donnie Shive, Donna Duke, Marilee and Sidney Carr, Tommy and Jerrian Mense and Jan and Bill Sullivan.

Mrs. Cecil Foster of Sudan is here this week visiting her father John C. Adams and brother, Charlie Adams, who are both ill. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph White visited relatives in Mason recently. Mrs. Donald Lay and Don Nell recently visited her sister Mrs. C. W. Crenshaw in McCamey. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Rowe visited relatives in Odessa. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond D. Powell are moving to Snyder to make their home.

State Officers Attend Eagle Meet

Members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles from San Angelo, Midland, Odessa and Big Spring were present at the monthly meeting of District 4 recently held in San Angelo. State officers present were Earl Robertson of Midland and L. B. Cooper of Odessa.

Jack Sessions of San Angelo was guest speaker. During the meeting, five new members were initiated. After the business session, a fish fry was held, and music was furnished by a three-piece Western band. Plans were made for the next meeting to be held at the opening of Odessa's new Aerie. State president, Bill Hatler, and state secretary, Edward Steffler, will attend this meeting.

Cheryl Ann Stone Feted On Birthday

Bags of candy, tied with pink and blue ribbons were favors when Cheryl Ann Stone was honored with a birthday party in her home Thursday afternoon. The cake, decorated in pink and blue, was centered with a doll. Games were played and refreshments were served to the following guests: Kathy and Jimmy Webb, Marilyn and Allen Doelp, Sarah and Waldene Pike, Cynthia Pond, Emily, Kathy and Peggy Gilliland and John Campbell.

Elaine Hazlewood Is Second In District 4-H Dress Revue

STANTON — Elaine Hazlewood, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hazlewood of the Courtney community, was named one of the four winners in the annual District Six Dress Revue, held at Fort Stockton Tuesday. Out of a possible score of 125, Elaine scored 107, the second highest in the revue. She was modeling a "best dress" of cotton, trimmed with detachable navy blue velvet collar and cuffs. Her shoes, bag and gloves were of navy suede. A fiesta pink hat was her accent color. Silver earscrews and bracelet completed her outfit. The other three winners in the revue were Joyce Gibson of Andrews County; Joan Barton, Ward County; and Shirley Skains, from Upton County. Nina Robinson, clothing specialist of the Extension Service at A&M College, headed the judges' panel. Assisting her were Vera Thorman, home demonstration agent at Fort Stockton, and Mrs. Hattie Owen, home demonstration agent at Odessa. The four winners of the district revue will enter the state meet which will be held at Dallas during the State Fair. The girls' dresses will be judged Oct. 15 and they will model them on the following day. First place winner of the revue will receive an all-expenses-paid trip to the national 4-H meeting in Chicago. Second and third place winners will receive sewing machines.

Sure Cure For TV Teeth—Simple Twist Of The Dial

By CYNTHIA LOWRY, AP Newsfeature Writer. Now the British dentists are concerned about the new unpleasantness they call "television teeth." It afflicts children of television homes and is caused, as I understand it, by the little ones getting so wrapped up in whatever it is that British children look at instead of Hoppy, Roy, Gene and Howdie Doodle that they clench their teeth and make them crooked.

I hear American dentists have already accused the channels as depollers of teeth. Maybe not so much lately because they are campaigning busily against lollipop—but at least, some of them around these parts protested when it was planned to give away free lollipops to divert children from the needle when they got their anti-polio shots.

I know MY dentist, when my mouth is stuffed with equipment, is much more interested in asking me questions about my sugar consumption than my viewing habits. British television, like British radio and British films, is probably different from ours. But if television is injuring anybody's teeth in this country, I'd say it was the adult's. And I'd also say the injury wouldn't come from clenching teeth in rapt concentration but from grinding them in sheer, frustrated anguish.

I sometimes think I'll be down to the gum line another year of stoically paying the price for entertainment by suffering some types of commercials. I also suffer serious dental trauma from the smooth and smiling young people who go into ecstasies when they take a sip of instant coffee, lick a spoonful of ice cream, quaff a glass of beer or get behind the wheel of any new or used car.

My emotions, translated into frenzied workings of the jaw, are indescribable when, because of circumstances beyond my control, I must watch what the trade calls "television shows" in which brave, suffering and needy human beings trying to answer such questions as "Who was the first President?" for $1,500.

After weeks of concentrated viewing of proceedings referred to generally as "the hearings," it's a wonder a tooth is left in the mouth of any housewife in the nation. The suspense, the haggling, the flashing wit, the repetition, the

Mrs. Morris Describes Life In Japan For OWC

A genuine understanding of Japanese women was shown in the speech by Mrs. R. L. Morris in the Officers' Wives' Club, before a meeting of the club Thursday at Webb Air Force Base. During the two years in Japan with her husband, Mrs. Morris acted as a counselor to an association of Japanese women whose aims were to awaken women in their country to the political responsibility of voting and to effect laws to protect women. She pointed out how Japanese women are little more than men's property and in the event of divorce are left completely without material support. Mrs. Morris also colorfully described her personal impressions of the country, bringing out amusing customs and incidents. During a business session the following officer-candidates were named. They will be voted on at the next meeting: For president—Mrs. Clifford Holke Jr., Mrs. Robert V. Lipscomb, Mrs. Francis E. Jeffery.

LMS Has Program In Herring Home

"Man and God in the City" by Kenneth Miller was the basis of the program held for LMS of First Church of God Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. A. Hutchins. Mrs. E. L. Herring brought the program and topics discussed included "Why People Live in the City," "Striving to Get Ahead," and "Getting Ahead in a Christian Ideal." A group discussion was also led by Mrs. Herring.

Mrs. J. D. Jenkins in giving the devotion used Isaiah 43 as the basis with her thoughts being "Steadfast" and "Safety is in Stillness of Soul." The group shared their own experiences regarding stillness. Mrs. Terry Walton and Mrs. Truett Thomas offered prayers.

A business session was conducted and refreshments were served to 13. Mrs. G. B. Walters gave the closing prayer.

Methodist Class Chooses Projects

At a meeting of the Ruth Sunday School Class of Park Methodist Church Thursday afternoon, the group voted to undertake two projects: to buy a refrigerator for the parsonage and to entertain at the West Side Recreation Center on Sept. 17. The meeting was in the home of Mrs. Ralph Metcalf. The devotion was given by Mrs. J. L. Webb and Mrs. Jesse Young. The Rev. Jesse Young gave the opening and closing prayers. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. J. B. Hollis. There were 14 members and three visitors present.

New Mexico Guests Visit In Stanton

STANTON — Mrs. J. F. Frier of Lovington, N. M. and her daughter, Mrs. Emmilee Ingle of Tatum, N. M., were guests Wednesday in the E. T. Williamson home. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Vavra spent the day Thursday fishing at the Big Spring lake.

AAUW To Have Membership Drive

Plans for a concentrated membership drive were made by members of AAUW at a meeting Thursday in the home of Mrs. Bill Griese. This was the first meeting of the school year.

Any woman college graduate who is interested in joining the organization may call Mrs. Rogers Hefley, 4-7258, for information. Graduates of most colleges in Texas are eligible to join, according to Mrs. Leona B. Miller, publicity chairman.

President of the local group is Eulalia Mitchell.

Family Reunion

A reunion of the Franklin, Patterson and Walker families will be held all day Sunday at the Baptist encampment at the City Park. The families are inviting their immediate friends to attend.

Country Club Ladies Help In Tournament

Entrants in the Country Club Golf Tournament being held this weekend will be guests at a barbecue this evening at 7:30. Tickets for members will be $1.50. On Saturday at 9 p.m. a dance will be given for members, entrants and out-of-town guests. Jack Free and his orchestra will furnish the music.

On Sunday evening, beginning at 6 o'clock, an informal party for members, entrants and out-of-town guests will be held at the club, with members of the Ladies Golf Association as hostesses. Monday will see the end of the tournament with the awarding of prizes some time in the evening.

Hostesses from the Ladies Golf Association will be on hand both morning and afternoon to entertain wives of the tournament players. Friday morning hostesses will be Mrs. Bill French and Mrs. Jack Irons, with Mrs. Son Powell and Mrs. Champ Rainwater entertaining in the afternoon. On Saturday morning, Mrs. Roscoe Cowper and Mrs. Floyd Mays will serve as hostesses, while Mrs. Obie Bristow and Mrs. Charles Long will greet guests in the afternoon. Sunday afternoon has been given to Mrs. John Berkeley and Mrs. Fred Kasch. On Monday morning, Mrs. Tommy Hutto and Mrs. John Hatch will be hostesses.

During the tournament a booth serving sandwiches and cold drinks will be sponsored by the Golf Association, for the benefit of their project of buying furniture for the patio.

Birthday Celebrated

Although Brenda Kaye Seltzer is in a cast because of broken hip, she celebrated her sixth birthday recently with a party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Seltzer on the G 11 Road. Cake, ice cream and watermelon were served to about 20 of her friends and games were played.

Weekend Warning To Speeders

A glimpse of this in the rear view mirror could be a speeder's nightmare—which is what these Detroit motorcycle officers have in mind for the Labor Day weekend. Occasion for the mass parade was the addition of 75 shiny new motorcycles for the police department. Gov. G. Mennen Williams has declared a Labor Day weekend "emergency" on Michigan's highways to cut down the traffic toll. Helmeted National Guardsmen will help patrol highways throughout the state. Spread Of Christianity To Orient Urged By Baptists

Only hope to prevent world chaos or to spawn a new day in event of cataclysmic war is burning Christianity, two prominent Southern Baptist leaders said here Friday.

Dr. W. R. White, Waco, president of Baylor University, was quoting Winston Churchill indirectly, when he said that the only hope of averting a civilization-destroying war in the storm of communism is God.

Dr. Baker James Cathen, Richmond, Va., secretary of the Baptists' foreign mission board, told Baptist laymen assembled from 12 counties of District No. 8 for their annual encampment, that even if unprecedented catastrophe did burst, Christian people had the responsibility of working now to "leave the seeds which would be the only hope of a new day."

Sessions of the encampment continue through the afternoon at the encampment grounds a mile south on U. S. 87 and will be concluded with talks by Dr. Cauthen and A. C. Wimpey, assistant state Brotherhood secretary, starting at 7 p.m.

This age has produced a spiritual, religious, moral, home and intellectual bankruptcy, declared Dr. White. Yet, he did not despair, saying with Paul that "I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ."

A Gospel that "begins with the virgin birth for me and ends with the return of our Lord."

Saving of civilization is the result of saving individuals, he told laymen. "The primary purpose of the Gospel is to save individuals... it is to provide the salt of the earth and the light of the world."

He felt the world was being kept from under final judgment by those who truly know God. There was never a challenge for real Christians as today when they must stand against the cancer of communism, the most Godless defiance of our age, he declared.

The tragedy of western civilization is that it has come to know the Orient only when the Orient was in a period of decadence, said Dr. Cauthen, in focusing attention on the Far East. He said there were signs now that Western civilization was turning down on the cycle and the East turning up.

"Do you not sense the significance that China is flexing her muscles for the first time since the Ming dynasty?" he asked. "I tremble at the thought of China regimented."

Japan now presents the burning opportunity, he asserted. "If the Gospel of Jesus can get hold of these people and they can be claimed for Christ they would become a bulwark for peace and righteousness in the Pacific."

Too many people could not take personal concern in the Far East because it is so far away, he said, but "it's not far away when your son's in Korea."

Responsibility of Christians, and Southern Baptists in particular, he thought, was not primarily money but to "give us your sons and daughters," for young preachers to volunteer to go to the Orient, for others to match the devotion of a dentist making $25,000 a year and who gave it up to become a missionary recently.

Korean Vets In School Face No Earnings Ceiling

Veterans planning to go to school this fall under the Korean GI Bill were told today that the money they earn in after-school jobs will have no effect on the GI allowances paid them by the government.

Their monthly GI allowance checks will remain the same, regardless of outside earnings, Robert Sisson, manager of the VA Regional Office in Lubbock, said. In fact, these earnings need not even be reported to VA.

Dickenson Due In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A Virginia soldier convicted of collaborating with the enemy while a war prisoner is expected to arrive tomorrow to testify in the court-martial of another soldier similarly charged.

Cpl. Edward Dickenson of Big Stone Gap, Va., sentenced to 10 years hard labor, is to be a prosecution witness in the trial of Cpl. Claude Batchelor, a Kermit, Tex., ex-POW.

Dickenson may not take the witness stand in the court-martial held at Ft. Sam Houston here until Tuesday. The court-martial is to be recessed at the end of today's proceedings for the Labor Day weekend.

Batchelor and Dickenson were among the 23 Americans who originally chose to stay with their Chinese Red captors in North Korea. They were the only two who changed their minds and delivered themselves into Allied hands.

The Army indicated today's proceedings, like most of yesterday's, would be closed to the press and spectators because the witness is an Army intelligence agent. The agent took three statements from Batchelor in Tokyo shortly after the Korean war.

Batchelor's lawyer, Joel Westbrook, objected to the statements on grounds previous testimony had established no proof an offense had been committed. He was overruled.

sity for admission to begin the professional courses of his program.

Both maintained the first-year work was available for Ford at Prairie View. Ford disagreed. He said:

"The courses are not in the catalogue. They're just setting up a one-man class for me."

Sealy said that, at the time Ford was accepted, he "was under the erroneous impression" Ford could not get his necessary courses at Prairie View or Texas Southern.

McCown said today that Ford is "absolutely wrong" if he believes school authorities are setting up a one-man class to fill his needs.

"The courses for chemical engineering in the freshman year are plane trigonometry, college algebra, general chemistry, engineering drawing, and English composition. Everyone of those courses are offered at Prairie View. I've carefully checked the catalogue," McCown told a reporter.

The registrar refused to say whether cancellation of Ford's acceptance notice constituted a reversal of policy.

"Mr. Sealy told me to refer all questions to him. My letter will have to speak for itself," said McCown.

Under further questioning, he said he acted only in an administrative capacity in cancelling Ford's acceptance notice, and those responsible for university policy reached a decision. The board of regents is responsible for policy, McCown said he did not know whether the regents had held a formal meeting on the question of accepting Ford.

McCown also refused to confirm or deny an earlier report in local papers that possibly three Negro students had been accepted for under-graduate work this fall.

"Mr. Sealy will have to answer any questions about that," he said.

Moore, Luther Southeast Finals Reported; County Adds Location

Completions in the Luther Southeast and Moore Fields were reported today, along with another location in the Moore pool southwest of Big Spring.

Texas Pacific Co. and Oil's No. 1 Simpson in the Luther Southeast Field flowed 72 barrels of oil from the Siluro-Devonian through 6-64th choke in 13 hours. The well still was flowing for test and completion.

Completed in the Moore Field was the Duncan Drilling Company and O. D. and John I. Moore No. 2 Field. It had a potential for 24 hours of 78 barrels of oil and no water.

New location in the Moore Field is the Bowden-Hunter No. 1 C. W. Creighton, which is 330 from the south and east lines of the southwest quarter of Section 29, Block 33, Township 1-North, T&P Survey. It is three miles west of Big Spring. Operations are to start at once and projected depth is 3,500 feet for a test of the San Andres.

Speeding Fines Total $20 For Teen-Agers

City Judge Carroll Smith slapped fines totalling $70 on four teenagers for speeding and put $10 on another for failing to yield right-of-way.

The five were hauled into court after officers picked them up in the vicinity of 14th and Main Thursday night.

The speeding fines were two for $15 each, one for $20 and another for $25. One person picked up for no driver's license is taking the driving tests and another is to produce a duplicate license. A third party charged with leaving the scene of accident agreed to pay damages to cars figuring in the collision.

ASKS DIFFICULT LIFE IN PRISON

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Gustav Haubert, 46-year-old convicted Austrian embezzler, asked a Vienna judge to let him serve his three-month jail term on an especially hard cot.

"Also reduce my meals to the barest minimum," he pleaded. "I have decided to go into a monastery after I leave jail and I want to get in training."

Thirst And Temper Prove Quite Costly

A Latin-American woman found her thirst and temper costly Thursday evening.

When a northwest Big Spring tavern refused to serve her beer, she grew violently angry, police said, and punched her hand through the window of the establishment. Police brought her to the station on a charge of drunkenness, but not before a detour to the hospital where she picked up a $5 charge for sewing up her injured hand.

Father Of Local Woman Succumbs

Word was received here of the death this morning in San Angelo of the Rev. W. A. Knight, 83, father of Mrs. L. T. Hargrove of 1106 E. 12th. The Rev. Knight, a retired Baptist minister, had been in ill health for the past four years. Funeral arrangements were still pending.

Mississippi Man Charged In 'Accidental' Death Of Wife

RALEIGH, Miss. (AP)—A 59-year-old filling station operator of Polkville, Miss., is in jail at Jackson charged with murder and arson in connection with the death of his wife and the burning of his car Aug. 22.

Sheriff A. E. Bounds of Smith County said last night the charges were filed after Ross Hawkins' story of an auto accident that killed his wife "fell flat."

Injuries Reported In Area Collisions

Two Big Spring women received minor injuries in a collision near Webb Air Force Base this morning and an Arizona woman and her son were given first aid for injuries suffered in a mishap in this area.

Gladys Clark Hunt, 221 Wright, and Louise Bess, 206 Mobile, were shaken and received knee injuries in the auto collision at Mobile and Airport Drive. Mrs. Hunt was driver of one of the cars and Mrs. Bess was a passenger in a car operated by Claude Jiles Bess, 206 Mobile, said Deputy Sheriff C. H. Forgyus. The mishap occurred about 8:15 a.m.

Mrs. M. C. Gilbert and her son, Rodney Gilbert, of Ajo, Ariz., received first aid treatment at Cowper Hospital early today for minor injuries suffered in another mishap. Officers here had no report of the accident, but Max Perry of Borden County was reported to have carried injured persons to the hospital.

Midland

The Gulf No. 1-L Scharbauer, a test just 4 1/2 miles north of Midland, which topped the Pennsylvania at 10,430 feet, took a drill- stem test from 10,432-307. With tool open two hours, gas was gauged at the rate of 527,000 cubic feet per day. The gas surfaced in three minutes. Recovery consisted of 150 feet of distillate-cut mud (40 per cent distillate) and 30 feet of clean distillate. Flowing pressure was 300 and 30-minute shut-in pressure was 4,750 pounds.

Operator, at total depth of 10,507, will drill ahead for a test of the Ellenburger at around 13,000 feet.

$8,250 Is Asked In Suit For Damages

Billy Cecil Garrett has filed suit for damages against Jesse E. Ferrell in 118th District Court. He asks judgment for $8,250.

The plaintiff alleges Ferrell breached a contract providing for Garrett to receive a 50 per cent interest in a laundry and a guaranteed weekly income of $75 in exchange for supervision of the establishment.

Clyde McMahon has filed suit for foreclosure of a labor and materialman's lien and for judgment of $2,128.13 for materials. Defendant is Brodie E. Cain.

Suit on promissory note has been filed by S&M Lumber Company against S. A. Yates and suit for debt has been filed by Kountz-Carter Supply Company against John Odstril.

Untimely Sneezing Fit Loses Man His Auto

HOLTON, Mich. (AP)—Herbert Hislop, 38, of Holton, suffered more than the usual agonies of hay fever today.

A fit of sneezing gripped him while he was driving along US 20 near Holton Thursday.

Hislop said he lost control of his car which smashed into utility pole. He was uninjured but the car, Hislop said, "is a mess."

RODEO

Sonny Mayo, Bob Jackson of Pecos, Harold Thomas of Jayton, Joe Helms of Rotan, Bill Williams of Snyder, Roger Tucker of Sheffield and Doug Cunningham of Odessa. None of the bull riders were from Big Spring.

Calif scramble winner was Leslie White of Howard County 4-H Club, while Dale Nichols and Jimmy Whitefield, also Howard County, placed second and third.

Jerry Merrick won first place in the boot scramble. Skipper Driver was second and Wanda Boatler was third.

B. R. Wilson, of Stanton, won the wild mare race.

After-show calf roping times included Bill Phinizy of Lamesa, 24 seconds; Bill Martin, San Angelo 13 seconds; Billy McIlvain, Big Spring, 20.2; Sherty Russell, Lohs, 48.8; Jim McCordale, Garden City, 45.6; James Waltrip, Beckville, 50.4; C. McCARTHY

4 what he said was a letter from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, relating to security at the Army radar laboratory at Ft. Monmouth, N.J.

It was a 24-page document which Hoover later was quoted as saying contained verbatim passages from a 15-page memorandum the FBI had sent to the Army intelligence service. He said he hadn't written the 24-page document itself.

Williams contended some of the material read into the record was out of context. On his suggestion, other passages from the McCarthy-Army transcript were added, including one in which McCarthy declared:

"I would like to notify those two million federal employes that I feel it is their duty to give us any information which they have about graft, corruption, treason, and that there is no loyalty to a superior officer which can tower above and beyond their loyalty to their country."

The only flareup so far in the hearings came on the first day when McCarthy tried to raise questions about the impartiality of Sen. Johnson (D-Colo.), a member of the investigating committee.

McCarthy demanded that Johnson say whether he had been quoted correctly in a Denver Post article last March. The Post quoted Johnson as saying he was happy over recent events relating to McCarthy, especially a Flanders speech against McCarthy, and that all Democratic leaders in Congress lauded the Wisconsin senator.

Watkins silenced McCarthy with a cracking gavel. Since then the Wisconsin senator has left the talking to his attorney.

Traffic Mishaps In City Continue To Plague The City

Police said there was one reported at 1505 Wood involving a car owned by Mrs. Wanda Wayland Phillips, of 1504-A Wood, and another by Mrs. W. J. McDowell, 732 W. Ave. D, San Angelo.

There was a collision at 3rd and Gregg at 4:30 p.m. Thursday. Wayne Newton Jones, 19, of 1806 Settles, and Kenneth W. Bearman, 23, of 203 Carey, were involved. One of the cars failed to yield right-of-way, said police.

Leamon Savoy Motley, 19, Stanton, was driver of a pickup truck which collided with the rear of a car driven by Bobby Jim Holliman, 17, at 4th and Main at 6:42 p.m.

Water Consumption Near 5 1/2 Millions

Water consumption is still hanging near the 5 1/2 million gallons per day mark, City Manager H. W. Whitney said Friday.

The draw to Friday morning was 5,455,000 gallons and the day before it had been 5,992,000 gallons. For the first five days of the week the total has been 27,415,000 gallons, or an average of 5,483,000 per day.

Leafworm Attack On Cotton Seen Around 'Hail Belt'

A spotted heavy infestation of leafworms is in prospect for June cotton in Howard County's "hail belt," County Agent Durward Lewter warned today.

Hatch of the insects is expected next week, with weather to be the determining factor as to extent of farmers to keep a close watch on their crops and to poison if it seems necessary.

The hatch is likely to be spotted in the strip from the Martin County line to the center of the R-Bar community, and from Cauble to South Vealmoor, the agent said.

The county's bollworm infestation appears to be under control in most fields, although some have suffered heavy damages, Lewter reported.

Stanton School Enrollment Up

STANTON, (SC)—This year's enrollment in the Stanton City Schools shows an increase over last year, according to O. W. Winstead, superintendent.

Five hundred and 43 students enrolled the first day this year, Winstead said, which was an increase of 58 over the 1953 enrollment.

Three hundred and 86 students enrolled in the grade school this week, and 157 in high school.

Next Monday, Labor Day, will be a school holiday.

Labor Day will also be observed as a holiday by most Stanton business places, according to Mrs. Hila Weathers, manager of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce. She said this was one of the holiday dates decided upon by the Chamber's Merchant's Committee earlier in the year.

Pachuco Authority Examines Weapons

Lt. Richard D. Whitley, of the Los Angeles, Calif., police juvenile bureau and former commander of the gang detail established in 1948, examines some weapons found on gang members in a recent raid. Lt. Whitley says there is no evidence of any national organization of Pachucos or juvenile gangs, as believed by civil and military authorities who have discovered similar tattoo marks on youths throughout the country. On the contrary, youthful gangs are confined to tight neighborhood boundaries, he says. (AP Wirephoto).

IT HAPPENED

First Things First

JOLIET, Ill. (U.S.)—A plea by an unidentified woman for a cut in real estate and property taxes was rejected by the Will County Board of Review and, a member said, the reason was obvious.

"We've heard most complaints, but this woman had a new one," Tillman Woodhouse, a board member said yesterday. "She said she and her husband recently purchased their $30,000 home, a Cadillac and a lot of expensive home furnishings."

"What with keeping up all the payments, she said, they couldn't really afford to pay taxes at all, so she demanded a radical reduction."

Flames From Faucet

TOKYO (U.S.)—It was supposed to be a water faucet, but all Mrs. Asayoshi Hasegawa could get out of it was a stream of fire.

She was preparing her supper when water splashing from the faucet burst into flames, which quickly destroyed the kitchen.

Firemen finally traced the trouble to a faulty water main. Pressure from an oil refinery storage tank forced gasoline into pipes serving 80 homes in the neighborhood.

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (U.S.)—Paul (Hardrock) Simpson, a Burlington postman, celebrated his 50th birthday by running 50 miles yesterday.

Japan To Encourage Birth Control Plans

TOKYO (U.S.)—One third of Japan's married couples practice some form of birth control, the Welfare Ministry said today.

The ministry has just completed a nationwide birth control survey and plans to launch an extensive program to cut Japan's birth rate from one million to a half million babies annually.

The government has announced that it will appropriate funds for the purchase of birth control devices.

Secondly, should the NATO plan fail, London and Washington appear to have an understanding that they must then try to rearm Germany directly. They would prefer to do whatever they do with the approval and cooperation of France.

Britain has already proposed an eight-nation emergency conference to begin drafting a new plan for West German rearmament. It was reported yesterday that the United States was inclined to agree to the proposal, although no formal word has been received from Britain on it.

Officials Think Way To Rearm Bonn Due

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (U.S.)—After a week of worry and soul searching, U.S. officials are fairly confident today that a formula will be found in a reasonable time for arming West Germany as a partner in the anti-Communist defense of Western Europe.

But there is far less confidence that this formula will promote European unity. Some other device may have to be found for that.

As Washington views the situation, the tragedy of French destruction of the proposal for a European Defense Community is that EDC would have served both designs.

There had been deep concern here about a violent reaction in bursts of extreme German nationalism and the like. State Department officials said that has not happened. They regard as encouraging the moderate tone of German reaction, based on the theme of getting on with the task of strengthening Europe's defenses and unity.

Another fear was that American reaction might take a violent swing. Some officials now concede that perhaps EDC was oversold as a solution for Europe's troubles. If it failed, there was always a certainty that some other European defense plan, however much less desirable, would have to be found.

The ways still open in a practical sense appear to embrace only two possibilities.

First, the American and British government now favor solving the German rearmament problem by making West Germany a member of the 14-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Secondly, should the NATO plan fail, London and Washington appear to have an understanding that they must then try to rearm Germany directly. They would prefer to do whatever they do with the approval and cooperation of France.

Britain has already proposed an eight-nation emergency conference to begin drafting a new plan for West German rearmament. It was reported yesterday that the United States was inclined to agree to the proposal, although no formal word has been received from Britain on it.

Legion Ends Convention, Hopes Its Resolutions Prove Effective

By RUSSELL BRINES
WASHINGTON (AP) — The rear guard of the 36th annual American Legion convention started home today with a new national commander at the helm and a stack of re-sounding resolutions it hopes will influence government policy.

The four-day convention ended officially yesterday afternoon, with the veterans voicing in no uncertain terms their indignation about communism at home and abroad.

Congress is certain to hear of fresh legion demands for universal military training (UMT), for new anti-Communist legislation and investigations and for increased veterans' benefits.

Seaborn P. Collins Jr. of Las Cruces, N.M., yesterday elected national commander for the coming year, pledged a vigorous campaign to carry out dozens of resolutions.

Collins, a World War II flier, was chosen unanimously to succeed Arthur J. Connell of Middletown, Conn.

The convention also elected these other new officers:

Vice Commanders Leonard Jackson, Clark, La.; Robert Shelby, Salt Lake City; Howard C. Kingdom, Conneaut, Ohio; Patrick H. Mangan Jr., Brattleboro, Vt.; Dr. Carl J. Rees, Newark, Del.; and national chaplain, the Rev. Albert J. Hoffmann, Dubuque, Iowa.

The convention overwhelmingly approved resolutions putting the legion on record on:

Communism at home — Full support was voted for congressional Communist-hunting committees — that includes the Senate Investigations subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) — with the recommendation they be given "ample funds" to continue investigating "with no limitation of their present powers."

Communism abroad — The legion called on the government to warn Red China and Soviet Russia that further aggression in Southeast Asia would bring immediate military retaliation, by the United States alone if necessary.

It urged the government to study the possibility of severing all diplomatic relations with Russia and its satellites, of curtailing trade with Russia as fully as practicable, and of getting allies to eliminate all trade with Red China.

Global security — The legion promised an all-out fight for a UMT law that would guarantee at least 16 weeks' training for all young Americans. It urged Congress to provide funds to build up adequate air strength and to start a full-scale civil defense program.

The convention also proposed immediate rearmament of Germany under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and threw its support behind a collective security alliance in Asia.

Girl Scouts — The legion called on leaders of the Girl Scouts to explain what they have done about purging "un-American propaganda" from their publications and about removing those responsible for it. Details were not given, but the Illinois Department of the legion, sponsor of the Resolution, complained last month that the 1953 Girl Scout handbook was "packed with one world ideas" and had omitted sections on citizenship, the Constitution, the Bill of Rights, the U.S. flag, the national anthem. The legion said Girl Scout leaders have outlined remedial steps, which the convention commended and offered its help in continuing the job.

Atomic matters — The legion promised a fight against any move to bar the use of atomic weapons or to reach any nuclear agreement with Russia at this time.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

A Sturdy Dutchman and an attractive young woman of Holland.

In which country can we enjoy the longest life?

A straight answer to that question would be hard to give. It is likely that the majority of people will get along best (and live the longest) if they stay in their native land.

There are, however, figures which show the countries with low death rates. From these it is possible to make a list of healthful countries. The death rate figures also indicate which nations offer the least hope for long life.

In lists which I read years ago, New Zealand usually stood at the top. It now appears that the New Zealand figures failed to include the Maori natives of the islands. The picture has changed during the past 10 years, and a new leader has appeared. Holland now occupies the first position as a healthful country. Judging by the low death rate, a resident of Holland, or the Netherlands, is likely to have the longest life.

The figures indicate that a Dutch boy who is born this year is likely to have a life span of 70 years. A Dutch girl born this year will live one year longer, on the average. In most modern countries, women live longer than men.

Close after Holland comes Norway, and then comes Denmark. Among the other countries with low death rates are Canada, Sweden, Israel, Panama, the United States, New Zealand, the Union of South Africa and Great Britain.

The republic of Israel is proud of its low death rate. Since it is only half a dozen years old (as a republic) we can hardly speak of the average lifetime of the inhabitants. Nevertheless there are figures which show that the Jewish civilians in Israel have a lower death rate than the general population of any other country! The time seems likely to come when all types of people in Israel will have low death rates and will enjoy long lives.

A different and far less cheerful picture exists in some widely known countries. India and Egypt, for example, have very high death rates. The average lifetime in India is less than 30 years.

Filipino Train Wreck Claims Heavy Toll Which May Rise

By DON HUTH
MANILA (AP) — A heavily loaded logging train carrying more than 100 passengers on empty flat cars careened down mountainside and piled up on a wooden bridge yesterday, killing at least 82 persons.

Most of the others were injured, many critically, in what is described as the worst railroad disaster in Philippine history.

Cars, logs and crushed bodies hurtled from the wrecked bridge into a gorge 100 feet below. Cranes were hoisting massive logs from the gorge today and officials said additional bodies may be uncovered.

The wreck occurred on northern Negros Island in the southern Philippines and authorities still were trying to piece together exactly what happened.

Engineer Fabio Villarete, 46, said that as his train crept down a steep grade near the town of Fabrica 16 cars loaded with logs broke loose and began rolling free in an attempt to save his train.

Villarete said he raced his engine and seven coupled cars down the mountain, but the runaway cars caught up with the train on the bridge.

The crash derailed many cars, wrecked the bridge and tossed five cars over the side. Chains holding the logs snapped and the huge logs hurtled off the cars, crushing many passengers and sweeping others into the gorge. Some cars were smashed against the mountainside. Survivors said some bodies were torn apart by the logs. Others were crushed beyond recognition. Unidentified bodies were lined along the right-of-way.

Officials said passengers on the train were mostly employees of the Insular Lumber Co., which owned the train, and their wives and children.

Police Chief Emilio V. Licas described the wreck as "the most terrible accident I ever saw in all my life."

Island At Niagara Falls Gets Closed

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—The danger of new rockfalls on the American side of Niagara Falls—possibly over the Labor Day weekend—has led to the closing of Luna Island and part of Goat Island.

The sightseeing points were ordered barred to the public yesterday after geologists reported seven big cracks in the area and called the situation "very dangerous."

Conditions were described as similar to those of July 28, when 185,000 tons of rock tumbled into the 160-foot gorge, carrying away a slice of the American falls and part of Prospect Point.

Nat Shick Improving

Nat Shick, who underwent surgery in Dallas a week ago, continues to show improvement. Since Sunday he has been convalescing rather rapidly and was due to be released from the hospital by the end of the week. He will, however, remain in Dallas for a couple more weeks.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Doubts Sincerity Of Ones Accusing On Election Eve

To the Editor:

This is written, not to condemn nor to vindicate anyone in particular but to answer the accusation made in the Herald (advertisement) Aug. 27 against our entire law enforcement groups. We are sure that the aim of those who had it published was to direct it toward our sheriff and his co-workers but they made the accusation too broad, thus including the police department because the location where these criminals and law violators are "holed up," using the advertisement's expression, is within the jurisdiction of the police.

Both our sheriff and chief of police are Christian and family men. Somehow we cannot think of either of the men betraying their Savior, their children, grandchildren, or us, who have entrusted the welfare of our community to them.

These two groups, representing our law, are comparable to parents... if one should grow negligent and faithless in their duty, then the other must exert greater effort and care in performance of obligations... unless such time as they again gain the full support and cooperation of the other party. Thus, should be the relation of the law enforcement departments of our city and county.

As presidents of Big Spring and Howard County for more than half a century, we resent the accusation that our city and county are void of law enforcement. Since moving to the North Side 12 years ago we find that there is prejudice against these people. The minority groups are ostracized and made examples of when they err. Their needs, in the areas of physical, spiritual and moral are eminent. We attribute this prejudice to the lack of spiritual growth on the part of those who hold themselves pre-eminent. God, our Heavenly Father, is not a respecter of person and neither should we be. He condemns such. (James 2:9).

Our officers, in trying to maintain peace and order and apprehend criminals need our support, cooperation and prayers instead of criticism and cursing. Under the circumstances which they sometimes labor, we wonder how they do as well as they do. The Savior said: "He that is without sin among you let him first cast a stone." (John 8:7). Paul admonishes "... if any man be overcome in a fault, ye which are spiritual restore him..." and "for wherein thou judgest another thou condemnest thyself, for thou that judgest doest the same things." Even without the knowledge of your identity it is safe to say that seven of 10 of the group have at some time violated the law.

When an individual takes full credit for a job well done when it meant participation and cooperation of many, that one is cheating and any form of cheating is stealing and that breaks the moral law of God. If these charges are founded on hearsay instead of truth, prejudice instead of violations, idle and malicious gossip instead of facts, then several moral laws are broken. Each of this group should behold himself in the perfect law of our Lord, as laid down in the Sermon on the Mount, and discern what manner of man he really is. ... It is the act and not the degree of violation that makes one a lawbreaker and answerable to God as well as man.

Because these facts were not brought to attention of either law enforcement groups makes us doubt the sincerity of the concern for the future welfare of our youth and sincerity of those who use such methods and tactics.

A true blue Christian gentleman would have given the opponent a chance to defend himself and answer the charges. The use of the last edition of the Herald before election day as a means of poisoning minds of the voters against one who was not soliciting their votes on his own merits and records and not demerits of another was like shooting an unarmed man in the back from ambush. True Christianity is beneficial and admirable when found and exercised on the life of an individual, and what a vast difference it would make in the keeping of law and order if all possessed and practiced it.

Vossler In 23rd Tournament Field

Today is official qualifying day in the 23rd annual Big Spring Invitational Golf Tournament, which is being unreeled at the Country Club.

Match play begins Saturday morning while the 36-hole finals are down for Monday.

Ernie Vossler, the tournament favorite, and Buddy Brannon, both of Fort Worth, arrived Thursday in time to get in a few practice shots. Vossler found the course to his liking.

The plumber from Tarrant County, finishing up with birdies on 16 and 18, toured the course in four-under-par 68.

Brannon had an even par 72. Playing in the foursome with Vossler and Brannon were Bill (Red) Roden of Odessa, who sizzled with a 70; and Club Pro C. A. DeWees.

Roden captains the visiting team in the Hall and Bennett trophy matches, which take place at 1 p.m. today.

Red indicated Thursday he would use Brannon, Vossler, Bob Wortman of Midland; Arlyn Scott and Bob French of Odessa; Bill Craig, Colorado City; and Bill White, Lamesa, on his team.

Champ Rainwater captains the local team. The two captains will play each other.

Late Thursday, a total of 81 players had registered for the tournament and 45 of those had qualified. W. R. (Buster) Tuttle of Lamesa was still low among the qualifiers with a 72. He, of course, will not be eligible for the medal, since he did not tour the course on the appointed day.

Scott, a youthful Odessaan, is due to make a spirited bid for the tournament crown. He recently won the Glen Garden Invitational at Fort Worth.

Vossler has been bothered by a bad hand of late but he said Thursday it had ceased to bother him.

Local players who are well regarded in the tournament seedings are James Underwood, Jake Morgan and Bobby Wright.

DeWees stated this morning he still expected the entry list to reach 150. Last year, 117 took part.

Bobby Maxwell of Big Spring is the defending champion and there was no indication he would again be on hand. His family still held out hope that he would arrive in time to play, however. He is stationed at Camp Chaffee, Ark.

Last year's runner-up, Luke Thompson, will probably enter again, although he has had little time to play recently. Luke is the reigning City champion.

Perfect golfing weather is in store for the players, from all indications. Too, the course is in tip-top shape.

Members of the local Hall and Bennett Trophy team are Son Powell, James Underwood, Earl Reynolds, Jake Morgan, Weldon Bryant, J. R. Farmer, Tommy Hutto and Rainwater. Jeff Walker will serve as the alternate.

Reynolds paced the qualifying for the team with a 72-hole medal score of 285. Rainwater, of course, was exempt from qualifying.

A tournament dance will be held Saturday night, starting at 9 p.m. A cocktail party is set for 8 p.m. Sunday.

A barbecue will be held for entries at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

Roden is in a unique position in the tournament in that he is in a position to become the first player in history to win the title four times.

Eddie Morgan, Doug Jones and Charley Qualls have all won it twice but Bill entered his name on the list of champions in 1942 and again in 1947 and '48. He has finished close to the top on other occasions.

Wright was a semi-finalist here in 1951. Bobby, who does most of his golfing at the Mury course, has played better golf around the country than he has here. He was crowned champion of the Colorado City Invitational earlier this year and has been a finalist in several other meets.

Morgan is always tough on his home course. He knows the layout like he knows the back of his hand and he's a fierce competitor, when the chips are down.

The entry list of the 1954 meet may not approach some of the meets here in the past but it could be the best one of them all.

JOE BAUMAN

Bauman Aiming For World Homer Record Here Tonite

The baseball world will have its eyes on Big Spring for the next two nights.

Joe Bauman, Roswell's mighty man of swat, has his big bat "at ready." He's prepared to continue his onslaught on the all-time minor league record for home runs and establish one that will hold for a long time to come. The next one he strokes will do it.

The Big Spring-Roswell games are merely a side attraction. Everything in the Longhorn League race, as far as positions go, has been settled.

Roswell is a first division certainty. Big Spring is lodged in fifth place and can rise no higher nor sink no lower.

The Big Item is Bauman, who has made his greatest bid for the all-time home run championship in the past three weeks. The mark of 69, now shared by Joe Hauser of Minneapolis and Bob Crues of Amarillo, was considered out of sight by some observers as recently as two weeks ago.

Pepper Martin, owner-manager of the Broncs, refused an offer in four figures to move the series to Roswell at midnight last night. Martin said he reasoned the local fans, who had stuck by him all season, were entitled to sit in on any possible record-breaking.

Bauman hit four home runs in one game against Sweetwater Tuesday night. It's become a near-certainty he'd turn the trick, after this.

Big Spring fans have something to look for in the series. Jim Zapp, the Broncs' big Negro outfielder, is on a home run rampage, too, and odds are in his favor to set a new all-time Big Spring record.

He now shares the record with Julio Delatorre. Each has 31 and each achieved that record this year.

Local fans will tell you that had Zapp gone to spring training with the Steeds and been here all season, he'd have been right up there with Bauman. He's played in less than 90 games with Big Spring. Bauman has always had some trouble connecting for long distance swats here, although he has always hit well. He's clubbed only two of his home runs here this year.

Manager Pepper Martin will try to see to it that Joltin' Joe will have to be "on target" to add to his mark. The Broncs hurlers will lend special attention to him and use all their tricks to get him out. Whatever he gets, he'll have to work for it.

The Steeds need two wins to insure themselves a 500 won-lost season. They'll try to pick them up in the Roswell set.

Carlsbad moves in here Sunday for a double-header that will wind up the year's play for both teams.

The most talked about player in minor league baseball today arrives in Big Spring to join his Roswell teammates in battle against the resident Broncs tonight.

He is the 245-pound Joe Bauman, who is setting home runs that may never be broken in Organized baseball anywhere.

The modest, cheerful 32-year-old veteran broke into baseball in 1941 in the now defunct Northeast Arkansas League.

He played semi-pro baseball in 1942, was in the US Navy from 1943 through 1945, blasted home runs for Amarillo in 1946 and '47 and advanced to Hartford of the Eastern League in 1948.

He elected to play semi-pro ball for Elk City, Oklahoma, from 1949 through 1951 but got back in professional baseball with Artesia of the Longhorn League in 1952.

He was with Artesia again in 1953. In his three seasons in the Longhorn League, he has hit a total of 172 home runs.

In the eight games Bauman has played here, he has collected 15 hits in 31 attempts for an average of .484. He has scored 15 runs, has 26 total bases, two doubles, two home runs, has batted in ten runs, walked eight times, had one sacrifice fly and struck out only once.

Mike Rainey fanned him on a swinging strike in the third inning of the July 27 contest here.

That is the threat Big Spring hurlers will be facing when they line up against Roswell here this evening and Saturday.

The huge slugger last night slammed his 69th round tripper of the season, to tie the existing record. The high mark was set in 1933 by Joe Hauser, playing for Minneapolis. Bob Crues, with Amarillo in the West Texas-New Mexico League in 1948, tied it.

"It felt good," Bauman said, then was swept up in a wave of congratulations after the game.

Even if El Paso goes into the WT-NM League, things might work out best for the Longhorn League in the long run.

Lamesa might be ready to field a team again next spring, and Lamesa is generally acknowledged to be the best baseball town in the country, for its size. El Paso, on the other hand, is considered an ordinary baseball town, at best.

Lamesa obviously will have a good crop year and when the people there have the money they go all out to support their athletic teams. If Dawson County has a moist spring in 1955, then the county seat should be ready to return to the battle pits.

The city already has one of the best baseball parks in these parts.

Mountain Song, considered the outstanding horse at Ruidoso Downs this summer, has been nominated for the 1955 Kentucky Derby.

The unbeaten two-year-old is owned by Fred Turner of Midland.

Ranger Junior College's football prospects are supposed to be the brightest in years and two Big Spring boys should play major roles in the team's fortunes.

They are the Gilstrap brothers, Cecil and Raymond. Cecil is a 210-pound center. Raymond, at 185, plays end.

Both, incidentally, may study to become lawyers.

Coach Dick Henderson is working a squad of more than 60 at Ranger.

Local baseball fans get a chance to see what might be history in the making tonight and Saturday.

Joe Bauman and the Roswell Rockets head in here for two games and Joe is so close to the minor leagues' all-time home run record, he could easily make it here. The baseball world is watching him closely.

Joe has never hit too well in the local park and you can bet the local hurlers won't be giving him anything in the way of a fat pitch, just to see him shatter the mark set by Joe Hauser and tied by Bob Crues.

The big guy is "on target," however, so anything might happen. Under ordinary circumstances, he'll come to bat anywhere from eight to ten times in the two games. That might be enough.

JIM ZAPP In Record-Breaking Mood, Too

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports Scribe Jack Holden of Abilene wrote recently that Harry James, president of the Longhorn League, was inviting open warfare with the WT-NM circuit over the acceptance of El Paso in that circuit.

If that be war, then let's make the most of it. James has given the Longhorn League vigorous leadership all year, something neither the WT-NM League or the National Association has had.

El Paso can choose the company it likes but when James suggested it might be contrary to baseball law to leap-frog one league's territory into another circuit, he wasn't talking through his Homberg. The rules are there for all to read.

Some of the astonishing decisions George Trautman, president of the minor leagues, has made, along with his failure to take a firm stand on other issues, support the belief he will go to bat for the WT-NM League in this debate. That still doesn't keep James from having his say about it.

The Longhorn League is going to finish with eight clubs and most of the credit must go to James, who has done a good job as the circuit's chief executive.

The WT-NM League winds up with seven clubs. It is agreed that the close finish, with all teams battling right down to the wire for a spot in the first division, is all that saved the WT-NM League's bacon. Had the race up there been settled by the Fourth of July, as the Longhorn League's scrap was, the league probably would have folded by Aug. 1.

Even if El Paso goes into the WT-NM League, things might work out best for the Longhorn League in the long run.

Lamesa might be ready to field a team again next spring, and Lamesa is generally acknowledged to be the best baseball town in the country, for its size. El Paso, on the other hand, is considered an ordinary baseball town, at best.

Abilene Shaded By Pioneers

By The Associated Press

Len Ruyke of Amarillo chalked up his 20th victory of the waning West Texas-New Mexico League season Thursday night with a 5-0 shutout of the Lubbock Hubbers.

In the other games, the defending champs, the Albuquerque Dukes, now in last place, won their first game of the season in the Pampa ball park, 10-8; and league-leading Clovis edged Abilene, 7-4.

Ruyke gave up six hits, and the biggest threat to his win came on a scratch single in the third with two out, by loser Milt Ardrey.

Frosty Kennedy homered in the second, his 36th of the season, for Amarillo.

At Pampa, Albuquerque claimed its fourth win in 20 games against the Oilers. The Dukes have lost nine straight there. Winner of the 11-inning affairs was Alex Chavez, and Jim Lemons lost the game for the second-place Oilers.

Clovis' Jim Vaughn finally came out winner of the 3-hour-8-minute tilt at Abilene. Vaughn took over from starter Marcus Job and was relieved in the eighth by Reuben Phillips. Loser was Jim Newberry, fourth Abilene hurler.

AGAINST STANTON

Longhorn Defense Shines In Drill

The defense may win it for the Big Spring Steers this season.

The Longhorns engaged in a spirited scrimmage with the Stanton Buffaloes at Steer Stadium Thursday evening and the local team's defense over-shadowed the offense.

The Longhorns scored often enough but it was usually on their famed "belly pump" and on pitches that found the Buffaloes drawn too tightly.

Stanton fielded a tough eleven and gave every evidence that it is dead serious on winning District 4-A title laurels this year.

The Bisons found they couldn't move very much against the Steers' first string line but they did make headway against the reserves.

All along the Big Spring line, players stood out. Lefty Don Reynolds — who could be off to a sensational year — Joe Liberty, John Birdwell, Bob Jones, Jerry Graves, Dickie Milam and Teddy Bear Slate — all proved hard to move out.

Frosty Robison, Brick Johnson and Ronnie Wooten were all running to advantage while Tommy McAdams looked good in handling off the ball.

Mike Baulich, Burlly Peik, Jimmy Wheeler and Conrad McCaske all showed to advantage for Stanton.

Blocking still remains a serious problem for the local team. All too often, Stanton players were knifing in to get tackles when they shouldn't have. Ball carriers were left all by themselves too often.

Coaches Carl Coleman and Wayne Bonner have yet to find anyone who can block downhill with the deadly precision of Louis Stipp and J. C. Armistead, regulars on last year's team.

The Steers gave evidence of passing promise Thursday, too. Both McAdams and Charley Johnson can and did throw the ball.

Stanton was content to play defense mostly. The Buffs are trying to get ready for their big opener with McCaske a week from tonight.

Though there was no advance billing of the scrimmage, an estimated 500 to 600 people were present.

Tickets for the Andrews-Big Spring game, to be played in Andrews Friday night, Sept. 10, will arrive here Monday and will be placed on sale at the Tax Office and at John Dillreil's Sporting Goods Store downtown. They will be priced at $1.25. Big Spring was allotted 1,000 reserve ducats.

Student ducats, priced at 50 cents each, will be available at the tax office and the schools only.

Riding THE GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

There will be a big jackpot roping at Stanton tomorrow (Saturday) night. It is sponsored by the Martin County Sheriff's posse, at their arena at the east edge of town on Highway 80, and is open to the world.

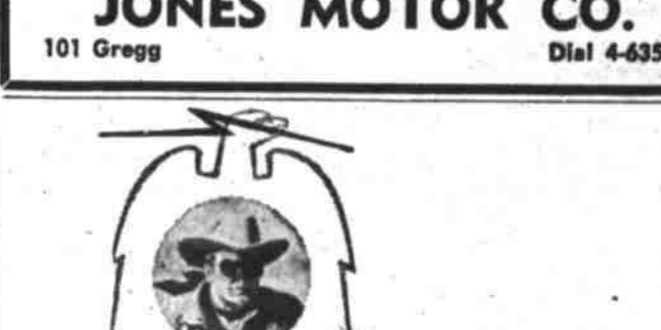

The government's first estimate on cotton is out. This estimate is 57,000 bales for Martin County and 22,000 bales for Howard County.

Over the country there is some cotton that is "mighty sorry". The variation in crops is just as spotted as the rains have been.

Stanton Students Pick Cheer Leaders

STANTON (Spl) — Four cheer leaders for the ensuing school year have been chosen by the Stanton High School student body.

They are Linda Cathey, senior; Nancy Glaze, junior; Jeannette Howell, sophomore; and Jan Nichols, freshman.

O. W. Winstead, superintendent, indicated that a new bus would be available to provide transportation for out-of-town games which the girls cheering section wish to attend.

The girls plan to practice at least once a week with the cheer leaders in order to be ready in time for the first game. There will be no organized pep squad as such this year. Every student who wishes to participate is invited to sit in the cheering section.

Godfrey Given Air Award In Virginia

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)—It's Arthur Godfrey's opinion that "people who haven't flown haven't lived."

That was the radio and television performer's comment here yesterday as he received a diamond-studded silver punch bowl given him by the Virginia Advisory Committee on Aviation for his contributions to flying education.

Godfrey told a regional meeting of the National Aviation Trades Assn. he passed a physical examination to enable him to pilot his own plane again Sept. 16.

That's the day the Civil Aeronautics Board will reinstate his flying license, suspended March 16 on charges of careless flying at the Teterboro, N. J., Airport.

President To Ink Bills, Play Some Golf Today

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower, back from a Rocky Mountain fishing trip, hopes to complete action today on bills passed by Congress during the closing days of the session.

Eisenhower and former President Hoover drove back late yesterday from Fraser, Colo., on the western side of the Continental Divide, where they spent three days casting for trout and generally taking it easy at a secluded ranch.

During the stay there the President also got in some work. He signed into law more than 100 bills, most of them of secondary importance. That brought to 473 the total number of measures he has approved since starting his Colorado work-and-play vacation Aug. 21.

He has killed 21 bills by pocket veto. Nearly all were minor measures.

Still awaiting action were about 20 other bills. Aides said he might be able to act on all or most of those today.

He had no scheduled callers at his Lowry Air Force Base office, and a round of golf was in the works for the afternoon.

Before he started back to New York aboard Eisenhower's private plane last night, Hoover was the dinner guest of the President and Mrs. Eisenhower at a downtown hotel.

Hoover, pink-faced from trout stream sunburn, caught the biggest fish during the stay at Fraser and Eisenhower called him "the champion." There was no word on the size or weight.

Tomorrow Eisenhower will take off early for a flying survey of reclamation projects in four states — Colorado, Wyoming, Nebraska and Kansas.

Bobo Rockefeller, Reno Man Mum On Any Wedding Plans

NEW YORK (AP)—Bobo Rockefeller and Reno hotel man Charles W. Mapes Jr. aren't confirming or denying reports that they are headed for the altar.

At least that was the situation last night after Mapes attended a dinner party for eight given by Bobo at her Park Avenue home.

Mapes, 34, and Bobo, 37, were friends in Reno, where last month she obtained a divorce and a reported six-million-dollar settlement from Winthrop Rockefeller. Mapes, a bachelor and son of a

Nevada cattle baron, said yesterday he was in New York "on a short business trip" but had this to say concerning wedding rumors: "Honestly, I don't think there is a story for you yet. I don't think we have any set plans. I do think Barbara is a lovely girl."

Bobo said, "There is nothing to report; we're just good friends."

Oil Field Fall Fatal

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—William Earl Kent, 51, of Electra, was killed yesterday when he fell about 60 feet from an oil field derrick.
