Party Crashing Wolves, Estacado Decides Zone

It's not supposed to be, but it is.

All because Colorado High's 1969 Wolves are the kind of footballers you don't snub.

So, Friday night -- 7:30 p.m. sharp -- they crash a championship party.

They trot right out on their home field to battle State Champion Estacado for No. 1 honors of District 3-AAA North Zone.

Back there in September when it all started, this 1969 season the wise ones said no. They pointed their finger at Coach Truman Nix's squad and sent 'em to the celler position.

Football urchins destined for nothing more than one win, if they were lucky, all season long, they declared.

And their predictions didn't change much, for title play, when serious head knocking began within the Zone and the Wolfpack had started a series of AAA opponents.

Three weeks ago, the hearlding still was all Estacado, the splendid club who romped to State AAA titlist last fall after degrading every opponent in powerful 3-AAA.

A cinch, the Lubbock sports writers spoke to the people. Already the champs, their printed words said, with only a few odds-and-ins to tend in the final offerings of North Zone schedule.

After all, isn't this the undefeated Estacado rambling with only one big starter missing from their 1968 record of 14-0 able to score again and again with Tailback James Mosley, Wingback Larry Miller, Sprinter Jesse Lethridge and Quarterback Kenneth Wallace.

Then came Saturday night in Lubbock. The Wolves stunned Lubbock Dunbar all 3-AAA, 6-3, in spacious Lowrey Stadium.

And, the fancy facilities of this Lubbock football field couldn't contain the crash of predictions from that 6-3 score.

So, now it happens.

Colorado High, with a not-so-gaudy 2-1 record in Zone and a more than respectable pedigree of 7-2 all season, comes to the big party with Estacado, hardly marred at all with a 8-0-1 season banner and perfect 3-0 in Zone.

Count on a standing room only crowd of spectators at Wolf Stadium.

They'll come by the thousands, these spectators, to see the kids you call men now -- the Wolfpack who have knocked aside 3-AAA prodical, fighting their way up a path they weren't supposed to tread.

Truthfully speaking, the Wolves -- except for Larry Holder's gimp knee -- will be best physical condition in a long, long time. Even Tommy Boyd returns to action from sickbay after nursing a broken hand for weeks.

True, too, with Saturday night's bruising date with powerful Dunbar, the Wolves have one less day to get ready for the champs, one less day to ease out the kinks and the aches.

But, just as they don't pay attention to what's supposed to be, they don't look for an excuse to stumble over.

Five of the top eight scores in all 3-AAA will be in the starting line-ups: David Garcia (83) and Stan Bracy (48), Colorado City; Larry Miller (117), Ken Wallace (72) and James Mosley (44), Estacado.

It will be decided, though, on defense. If the Wolves can contain the Estacado express, then they can expect their Steve Vest - engineered attack to keep 'em in the game.

That's the way they did it Saturday night with Dunbar Panthers, who lined up as two and three touchdown favorites with 19 seniors and 16 juniors not a sophomore in their ranks.

It was the kind of uphill performance that had Coach Nix muttering in the dressing room about "I don't know what they (the Wolves) are made up of, .. but its good stuff."

It was the kind of gutty work that stacked the league's No. 2 scoring offense for only 175 total yards -- 159 on the ground miserly 16 in the air.

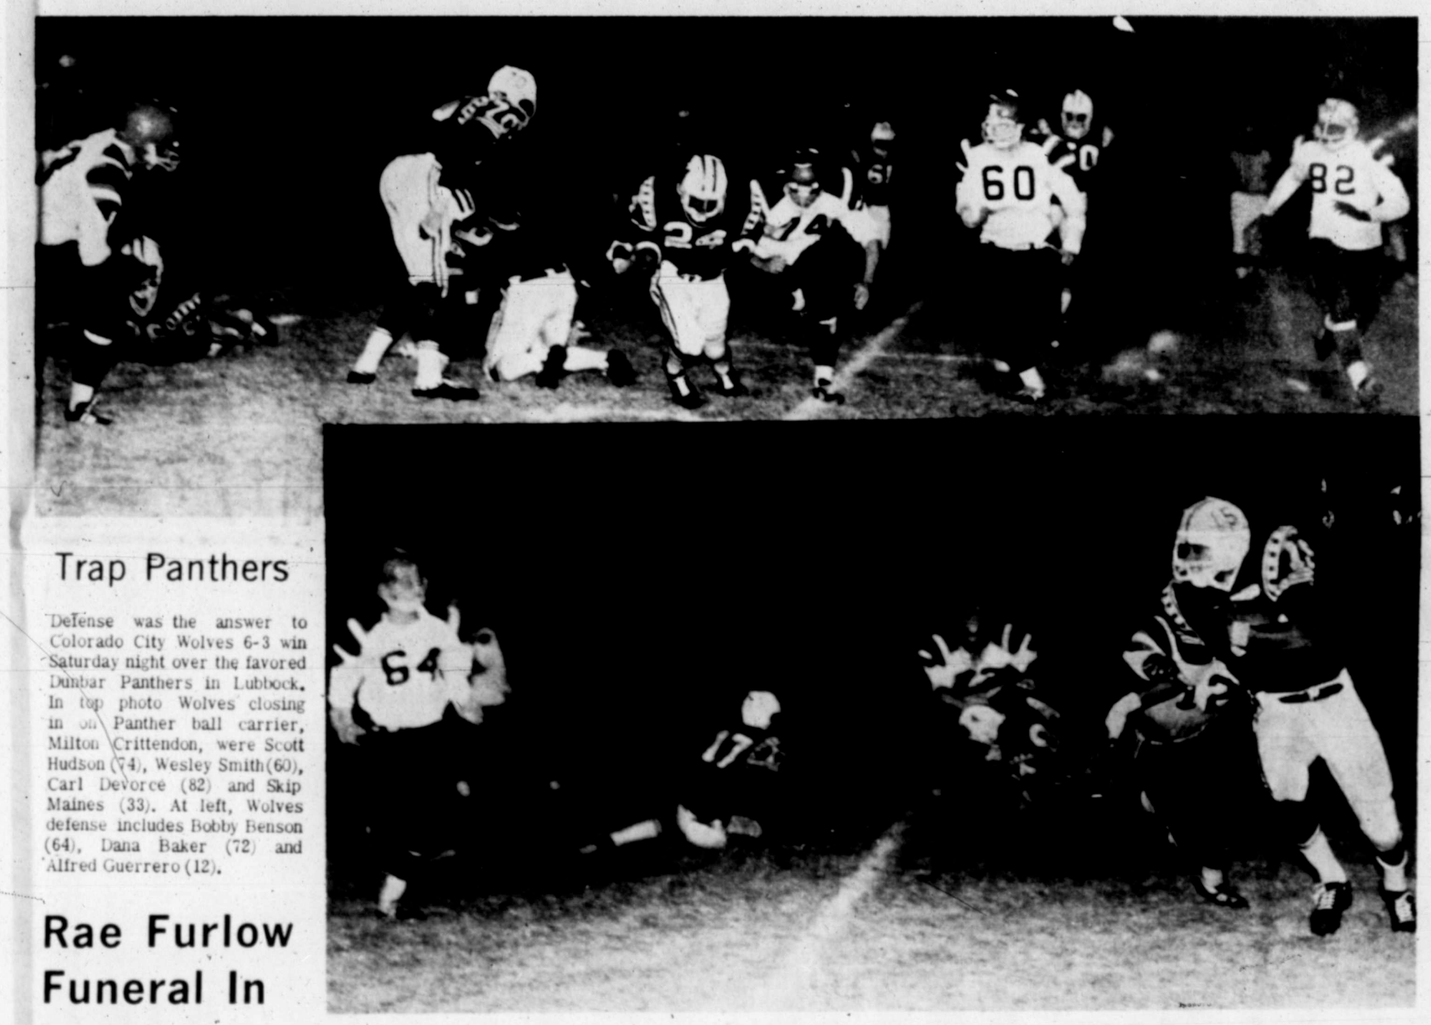

It was the kind of opportunism that score the only touchdown of the game and made their 83 rushing and 85 passing yards pay off the most.

It was the kind of football

Pastors Plan 3 Events

'Good News' Project, Thanksgiving Program

Mitchell County Ministerial Alliance will sponsor a special observance of National Bible Week this month in addition to its traditional community-wide Thanksgiving service.

The interdenominational Thanksgiving program will be Tuesday evening, Nov. 25, and Bible Week will be highlighted by an earlier event Friday, Nov. 21.

Rev. Weems Dykes, minister for First Christian Church, is chairman of the Thanksgiving service which will be at 7:30 p.m. in Colorado City's Oak Street Baptist Church.

Heading plans for Bible Week observance is Rev. Larry Lakey, pastor First Assembly of God.

Plans for both programs were advanced at a meeting of the ministers Monday at noon in Villa Inn Restaurant.

Ministers will distribute 400 copies of Good News For Modern Man, modern worded translation of the New Testament, and 1,000 Bible-reading markers and posters to business firms.

These will be delivered at 10 a.m. Nov. 21 in both Colorado City and Loraine.

Markers also will be distributed through churches and provided churches for inserts in their church news bulletins.

The local Bible Week events will be in cooperation with a nationwide observance proclaimed by President Richard Nixon.

Work also is moving ahead on a third important project by the alliance. This is the annual Christmas basket program for needy families within the community.

The ministers already are requesting that persons knowing of needy families to contact Rev. Billy Wilkinson, pastor of First United Methodist Church, so the names can be placed on the basket list.

Other organizations who participate in the basket program are urged also to contact Ministerial Alliance for names of families to whom these organizations will distribute baskets.

In this manner, with all groups working from a master basket list, the distribution will be more efficient, more needy families will be gifted and chance for duplication will be minimized.

Ministers in their regular monthly alliance meeting have discussed possibility of reviving a Bible course in Colorado High School. However, the alliance has withheld decision on the instruction program until conferring with school administrators.

At the meeting Monday were ministers, including a new member C. W. Parmenter, St. Luke Methodist; John Morrison, a visitor; and Jack Parse, Howard Potts, Don Timberlake, Robert Bracy, Clarence Minton, Cecil Tune, John Hancock, Glenn Roenfeldt, Frank Prewitt, Lakey, Dykes and Wilkinson.

Drug Policy Developing

School Board At Work On Details

School officials are closer to a stated policy dealing with any future drug problem with Colorado City schools.

Board members studied provisions for a definite policy Monday night, but took no action. They decided to wait for more study and, possibly, minor revisions in the wording before adopting specific regulations.

The step here for policy dealing with "dangerous drugs and narcotics" follows a growing concern for a problem appearing in numerous towns across the state.

Local school officials have been furnished guidelines for a policy on legal foundation worked out between State Commissioner of Education J. W. Edgar and Texas Attorney General Crawford C. Martin.

It is important that a school board adopt and publish definite discipline policy before certain action can be taken according to the attorney general and commissioner's legal study. And that's why Colorado City school trustees are mapping policy now -- to be in position for school administrators to deal with any problems which might develop in the future.

Three major provisions are in the proposed policy which was before the board Monday.

These include (1) disciplinary action for any student who commits a drug or narcotics abuse, (2) who uses drugs or narcotics while attending classes or participating in school functions, and (3) any student who sells or administers drug or narcotics to another student on school property or at school functions.

Also included in the proposed policy are steps providing opportunity for a student to prove his or her innocence prior to explusion for drug abuse.

It also allows the schools to take disciplinary action

Board Approves Tennis Courts

Those new tennis courts -- in the talking stage for years -- finally are coming to Colorado High.

Colorado Independent School District board of trustees voted Monday night to award a contract to Stone Construction Company of Colorado City for the project.

"We expect to start work almost immediately," Supt. James McMath said Wednesday.

Only minor change in plans and the issuance of a work order by the architects remains before construction actually begins.

The Colorado City company, owned by Virgil Stone, submitted the low bid of $11,774.50 for the three concrete courts which will be built at corner of East 15th and Locust on the north end of the physical education field at the high school.

Thurston Carter submitted a bid of $14,837 for the same work.

Both Carter and Stone also submitted proposals for the courts complete with lighting -- $15,568 for Stone and $18,837 for Carter.

However, school board decided to eliminate lighting for the time being. Placing of conduits now, though, will allow installation of lighting at minimum expense in the future.

The contract, which is being awarded to the low bidder without delay, specifies that work begin within 20 days after a work order is issued and completed within 60 days from the order date.

That means the new courts will be ready in time for spring sports activities.

Two asphalt courts at the east side of the main high school building will be kept in operation, making a total of five courts for the school.

Architects for the new courts, which will include fence and backstops, are the firm of Welch and Hampton.

Roenfeldt On Baptist State Board

Rev. Glenn L. Roenfeldt, pastor of Colorado City's First Baptist Church, has been elected to the executive board of Baptist General Convention of Texas.

He will serve a three-year term on the board which heads up the 1.8 million member organization of Southern Baptists within the state.

The Colorado City minister will be one of 192 pastors and laymen to meet four times each year to conduct business of the Texas convention.

Roenfeldt, active in civic affairs as well as his ministerial duties, is a graduate of Wayland Baptist College.

Agriculture Census Data Due Soon

Information about the 1969 Census of Agriculture is expected to be available in Mitchell County ASCS office by Dec. 1, according to Eddie R. Braswell, ASCS office manager here.

Braswell said the Bureau of Census in Washington late this month will send to all county ASCS offices an information packet containing a reference handbook, an introductory letter and a sample questionnnaire. Information in the packet will help county office employees answer questions from farmers about the 1969 Agricultural Census.

He said farmers will receive the 1969 Agricultural Census questionnaire by mail on or about Jan. 1, 1970. The question-

THEY CAN'T BE BEAT!

How about these kids in our community?

With all the adverse publicity that youths are getting around the nation, I'll climb on my soap box and brag about the wonderful bunch of young people here.

For instance take the Wolves -- the young football team at Colorado High School -- who were rated at the bottom of the zone listing to begin the season and through sheer determination Friday night will play a decisive zone championship here with Lubbock's state champions.

Another example -- the 115 4-H youths who Saturday will stage their annual Achievement Awards program in CHS cafeteria. Among the 55 or so awards presented will be Gold Star Awards, the highest honors for 4-H'ers at county level.

And still another example are members of Junior Honor Society who Tuesday expressed their concern for our nation and world situation by sponsoring a Veterans' Day assembly program at Colorado Junior High.

No, our younguns can't be beat. Regardless of Friday night's score or Saturday's Gold Star winners, we have the best of the new generation.

Self Culture Members Study Education, Hear Book Review

A study of education and a book review Friday afternoon highlighted a meeting of Self Culture Club in the home of Mrs. Wilfred Fox.

Mrs. L. A. Strain, leader for the program, told of a General Federation of Women's Clubs projects, "Little Acorns."

Mrs. L. B. Elliott reviewed the book, "Time to Speak Up," written by a GFWC parliamentarian, Mrs. Jessie Haver Butler.

Mrs. Strain explained the General Federation's "Mother Goose" program is similar to the schools' head start activities and is proposed for a club activity where no head start is planned.

The speaker reported that 33 per cent of school children are Mexican American and in two years will be 45 per cent.

She discussed functions of "Mother Goose" programs and advised that clubs should begin their programs on modest scales, involve other community groups and eventually transfer the project to a community.

"To learn how to form ideas and to present them effectively takes effort," Mrs. Elliott began her review of "Time to Speak Up."

If a speaker puts over her message in an orginal way - creating new thoughts in an orginal way - she is an orator, Mrs. Elliott continued.

A desire to serve furnishes an incentive, the drive and enthusiasm for a cause is necessary for an effective speech.

"Your character goes into your speech," the group was told. "What you are speaks louder than what you say. There is little hope of getting our world out of its present mess unless we learn how to think clearly and are able to put our thoughts into words and action."

"Poise is essential - it is that elusive ability that enables a person to appear calm even thoug scared."

Mrs. Elliott reviewed advise for a confident speaker.

In concluding she said, "Have something to say-say it-and then sit down."

During a business session cash donations were voted for McKnight Hospital Christmas gifts, Mesquite District Scholarship Fund and Big Spring State Hospital.

Reports were heard from Mrs. E. L. Tiller, delegate to Mitchell County Federation and representatives to district workshop in Albany. Club members voted to give Christmas articles to residents of Denson Rest Home.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Fox.

Attending were one guest, Mrs. Earl Hunter, a former member; and all members of the club - Mrs. Paul Beeman, Mrs. Earl Brown, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. C. P. Gary, Mrs. Leroy Gressett, Mrs. A. A. Herrington, Mrs. A. H. Jackson, Mrs. L. A. Keith.

Hesperian Daughters Hear 'Ecumenical Movement' Report

Mrs. Willis Jones last Thursday discussed "The Ecumenical Movement," during a meeting of Hesperian Daughters Study Club in the home of Mrs. John M. Worrell.

Mrs. Jones, introduced by Mrs. A. L. Geer, traced the history of World Council of Churches, organized with representatives of 234 protestant and orthodox bodies of Christianity.

The club heard Mrs. Jones report of last summer's World Council meeting at which time the Pope praised the Council functions.

"There are countless other ecumenical efforts," Mrs. Jones explained, "including, in one field alone, more than 100 joint Bible translations currently in progress in various countries around the world."

The speaker revealed that long before proclamations on racial justice were commonplace the First Assembly of World Council of Churches declared that "segregation by religious organizations is a scandal within the Body of Christ."

Over the years, she continued, the council has been an outspoken apostle of brotherhood -- although its ringing declarations have also insisted that racism should be fought by nonviolent means.

Mrs. Jones also told of decisions made recently during an international consulation on racism in London, organized by the Council.

Club members heard the discussion of James Forman's Black Manifesto, the demand for reparations and the uniting of various churches into one church body.

She spoke of the United Methodist Church linking together the Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren Church, the Presbyterian Church's approval of union with the Reformed Church in America.

"In Canada, the Anglican and United Churches set 1974 as target date for union," Mrs. Jones said.

The Church of England and the Methodist Church in England have begun studying blueprints for reunion which, if accepted by their church government, could give England a united church by 1980.

Mrs. B. W. Tartt, president, presided during a business session opened with the reading of "A Collect For Club Members."

Attending the meeting were Mrs. W. H. Boney, Mrs. Weems Dykes, Mrs. Curtis Erwin Sr., Mrs. R. F. Fee Sr., Mrs. Geer, Mrs. E. V. Grantland, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. B. W. Kaulins, Mrs. Waverly Massingale, Mrs. Tartt, Mrs. B. R. Whitson and Mrs. Worrell.

Next meeting, Nov. 18 in the Boney home, will feature a demonstration, "The Splendor of Family Holidays," by Mrs. Katherine Cauley, home economist for Lone Star Gas Company.

Jones Gets Lead In HCJC Play

Robert Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Jones of 844 Cedar Street, has been selected for the lead role in a new production at Howard County Junior College in Big Spring.

The production by the college's Drama Department is scheduled for early December.

The play, "The Proposal," by Anton Chekov is a one-act comedy and has a cast of two males and one female.

"The Proposal" will be in a combined performance including "A Christmas Carol" and other Yule readings.

Jones was recently chosen a board member of HCJC "Hawk Players" and will be a featured soloist at a talent show being hosted by the collectnewspaper staff.

He will sing "Eidelweiss" from "The Sound of Music" and "A Time For Us" from "Romeo and Juliet."

Diapause: A Word That Spells Big Trouble For Cotton Insect

Reducing the number of boll weevils that survive the winter is the prime goal of a diapause control program, according to Emory Boring, entomologist of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Vernon.

"To survive the winter, the boll weevil must attain a condition called dispause," Boring pointed out. "The weevil in late summer begins to add body fat, stops reproductive activities and goes through other physiological changes that prepare him for hibernation."

The diapause control program calls for continued poisoning in early fall until all bolls are mature. . .He pointed out that this procedure will reduce weevils entering hibernation more than 90 per cent.

With fewer weevils entering hibernation in the fall, far smaller numbers survive the winter and emerge into young cotton in the spring. This means that many cotton farmers do not have to poison for weevil control until August, which allows beneficial insects to increase and help control boll worms. Properly carried out, the program will result in a 30 to 50 per cent reduction in costs of insect control plus increased yields, Boring said.

"Boll worms have become a major threat to our cotton because we have in the past killed out natural enemies of the worms (beneficial insects) through early poisoning for boll weevils. If we can avoid early weevil poisoning, the beneficial insects will give control of bollworms and spider mites," said Boring.

Where cotton is defoliated and harvested before frost, producers might consider the addition of methyl parathion or Guthion to arsenic acid of phosphate-type defoliants.

Boll weevils move into other fields or to hibernation sites as their food supply is destroyed. If the weevils are destroyed at the same time cotton is dessicated or defoliated, however, the number which otherwise might overwinter will be significantly reduced.

The cost of adding an insecticide to the harvest-aid chemical may be more than off-set by reduced spraying costs the following year," said Boring. He recommended adding one-hald pound of methyl parathion or one-fourth pound of Guthion to arsenic acid or phosphate-type defoliants or dessicants.

These insecticidal materials, he warned, should not be used with chlorate defolinats or dessicants.

"Stalk destruction immediately after harvest is another important step in reducing overwintering weevils population. This practice completely removes any possible food sources for the weevils, according to the entomologist.

CONVERSATION CORNER

LIFE, being what it is, can be confusing and complicated all over just now.

But life is never dull—even for the "Silent Majority" who sit on the sidelines, trying to behave.

All in one day, if you can sit still long enough, you can hear Vice President Spiro Agnew blister the Moratorium March planners verbally. . .hear promises of full coverage in color for the second moon walk. . .and watch Milton Berle do a fan dance on the Joey Bishop Show.

NOT SURE whether or not this corner belongs among the "Silent Majority," for the simple reason that she has never won any tropies for staying silent any length of time.

More often, through the years, she has been a loud minority on many an issue, public and private.

Of course she is an associate member of the "Silent Majority" right now if silent prayers count. Silent prayers for the safety of both Moratorium Marchers and the law men whose duty it is to protect the lives of our volatile young protestants for peace.

AS a loud minority member at heart and by nature, the record of this reader-writer is nothing to write home about.

Was too young to vote for Al Smith but wept with my Democrat father when Mr. Smith was defeated.

Campaigned for Homer Rainey in bistry for the governorship of Texas. . .and again for Ralph Yarborough who lost, then got kicked upstairs to the United States senate.

Cast enthusiastic ballots for Adlai Stevenson both times he ran for President.

And have protested in print every Nov. 11 since Armistice Day became for most of us a non-holiday. The "war to end all wars" did not end all wars and that's sad. But Nov. 11, 1918, ended THAT war—one step in the right direction.

BE ALL that personal history as it may, have lived to see this become a name-calling age.

And I protest that. Not since the War Between the States with its "copper-heads, bush-whackers, carpet-baggers, and scallawags," have the people of this country flung so many labels around.

Weary of the Doves and the Hawks. If they can't get together themselves as American leaders, where is the hope that the United States and Hanoi can get together? P.D.Q. and just like that?

WHILE we're on the subject of name-calling and labels, there is another and quite ridiculous side to the current craze.

This loud minority is sick to death of terms like "senior citizen," for one thing. . ."the establishment," for another.

If this keeps up, somebody is going to have to re-write the whole dictionary for the benefit of senior citizens and the middle-aged establishment so that they'll know when to call a young rebel a hippie or peacenik, and an older person a square and so on.

New definitions will be needed, too, for bread, grass, speed, pad, mod, fuzz, and zip code.

FURTHERMORE, this madness for calling organizations by their initials has to end somewhere. It was probably started by the United States Department of Agriculture with its SCS, ASCS, FHA. . .take it from there.

Now we've got SDS for the dissendent kids. . .NAACP for Civil Rights supporters. . .the CAP. . .not to mention the VFW, the SPCA, the DAR, the UDC. . .earnest organizations, all.

Most of those were probably started by headline writers who couldn't squeeze Community Action Program or Veterans of Foreign Wars or Society For Prevention of Cruelty to Animals into a headline.

But if the trend keeps growing what we're gonna have to have is a new expanded alphabet for that new dictionary.

We're running out of names, initials, and alphabet.

SAW Virginia (Puddy) and Rush Neff at the Down Town. Puddy, Baylor U. grad, is about to run out of excuses for the Baylor Bears, along with some of the rest of us Baylor exes. Only Puddy has a second choice team. As daughter of a late former Aggie, she roots for A&M, too. And as a native Texan for the Dallas Cowboys.

Twosome in a lunch booth was made up of Ruby (Mrs. Drue) Cawthron and Bonnie (Mrs. James) Brown.

In other duets were Dwain and Betty Williams. . .J. D. and Mary Jo Hill. . .Betty and John M. Worrell, Sr. . . Howard (also a Baylor ex) Cox and his wife Elizabeth. . . Clem and Frances Myers.

HAD the pleasure of a chat with pretty Wanda (Mrs. Harris) Hamilton whose daughter Charla, Navy nurse from Great Lakes, has been visiting her parents.

Spied Curtis Latimer of the LTNS (long time no see) department. . .Mozelle Callender, proud of an exquisite antique clock she acquired for her home. . .Kelly and Ty Roach, children of the Ed Roaches.

Mrs. Warren Tayman of Stamford, mother of Mrs. Raymond Fuller, celebrated her birthday here Sunday with the Fullers, their daughter Terry, and son-in-law Larry Smith of Austin.

BRIEF ENCOUNTERS brought greetings from Mrs. Oscar Majors in City National Bank. . .Ditto Nina Farmer. . .and George Womack CCPH (Colorado City Playhouse) enthusiast who let this Playhouse fan sit in the sample opera house chair, upholstered in crimson.

The old opera house, to be the new Playhouse, will boast the colorful and comfortable chairs for audiences when the Playhouse renovation project is completed.

SUNDAY-go-to-meeting faces belonged to Glenn and Lillian Thomas. . .Coach Truman Nix, his wife Mavis, and their cute blond daughter Kandy.

Also to Ida (Mrs. Keith) Miles. . .Pearl (Mrs. Lester) Watson. . .Fannie (Mrs. Paul) Cooper. . .the Olson Sweats. . . Leonard Henderson. . .Mabel Smith. . .Mattie (Mrs. Witt) Hines. . .and attractive Mrs. Bill Sorenson.

ONE of the happiest families in town just now is the family of Barbara and Carroll Gray.

Carroll is a Sun Oil man, Barbara is a secretary in the office of James G. McMath and Lloyd McKee, superintendent and assistant "super" for Colorado Independent Schools.

Gray son George, aged 15, is at home recuperating from neuro-surgery performed recently in Baylor Hospital at Dallas. He hopes to be back in school sometime in December.

The day was brightened by telephoned appreciation for the Colorado City Record as expressed by Barbara. Seems Laverne and Bob Chalker sent the Grays the Record while George was hospitalized.

"Never in this world did we realize how much this little newspaper means to people away from home," was the way Barbara put it.

FORMER C-Citians who still read the Record visited the Grays at the big city hospital.

They were Brooks and Dean Teague, now of Irving, Earl and Betty Cook, Bill and Fredalyn Everett. . .Also Mae (Mrs. Jack) Jordan of Big D, and Joan and Charles Baker of the Sun Oil family.

"We were strangers," says Barbara, "until the Colorado City Record reached your readers in the Dallas area."

MARK OF EXCELLENCE

Impala's hidden persuaders:

①350-cu.-in. engine
A new more powerful standard 250-hp V8 makes the 1970 Impala move with all the more assurance.
On good ol' regular gas.

②Anti-theft column lock
A locking system is built right into the steering column. When you take your key with you, you lock not only your ignition but your steering wheel as well.

③Aluminized exhaust system
It simply means that your original muffler, tailpipe and exhaust are going to last longer than you'd probably expect them to.
Fair enough?

④Side guard beams
They look like highway guard rails, and they're built into both sides of the car for extra protection in case of impact.
Not too many cars have them.

⑤Inner fenders
Up inside every fender is another fender to protect against slush and mud and help keep your Impala looking young.

⑥Flush and dry
We build the car so that rain and wash water can run down through the inside of the rocker panels, then out.
Air follows to do the drying.

⑦Full Coil suspension
Huge coil springs at all four wheels are four big reasons why a Chevrolet Impala rides smoother and quieter than a low-priced car has any right to.

WOLVES

which forced the favorites to make mistakes.

Biggest mistake of all was the fumble by Davis on a pitch out from Davis first after Carl Devorce's kickoff opening the third quarter.

Sophomore Scott Hudson pounced on the free ball, giving C-City possession on Dunbar's 21 yard line.

Garcia promptly sliced over guard to the 17, then cut over and with a pitchout to the 12.

Sophomore Skip Maines' third-down try was splendor, digging his way to the Dunbar 8 for a first.

Then, Vest, on a roll out around left end lost to the 10, thanks to Dunbar Guard George Thomas.

On third down, Vest hit Garcia, hanging loose in the flat zone, with a perfect throw and the halfback juggled the ball, then hurried to the one.

Maines sliced over right guard without a doubt for a 6-3 lead.

It just didn't make any difference that the extra point kick was no good.

Neither, did it matter that Big R. B. Young kicked a three-pointer, his 38th success in 39 tries, from the 12-yard line in the second quarter to put Dunbar into a 0-3 lead. Nor that he missed another in the fourth quarter.

The score was 6-3 and the Wolves had made sure they would crash the championship party this Friday night.

One Night Showing

Mable and Wally Taber and a mammoth rock leopard all star in "Safari Moja" scheduled for a one-night showing Wednesday at Palace Theatre. The movie is rated excellent for whole-family entertainment.

'Safari Moja' To Show At Palace

"Safari Moja," a color-adventure film about hunting and fishing, wildlife and native life, will be shown at Palace Theatre next Wednesday.

The movie, to be shown here only one night, was filmed and produced by internationally known sportsman-photographer Wally Taber.

Filmed on two continents and the Polar Ice Cap, the whole-family entertainment is designed for those who share Tabers enthusiasm for out-of-doors

In the movie Taber bags a massive polar bear with bow and arrow, blasts half-a-dozer rhino with blunt arrows to percipitate a charge for the camera, performs a canoe safari on the wild Ruvu River of Tanzania and uses a rubber life raft to catch up on his fishing on Peace River of Columbia.

The explorer goes above the farthest-north land mass in the world to stalk ice bear on the Polar Ice Cap and down the other side of the globe to Mozambique where he filmed primitive man and the denizens that keep him alert.

While Taber doesn't put lion in your lap, he calls the wily predators of many species within spitball - throwing distance.

First Christian Plans Preaching Mission

Sunday morning worship service will begin a four-day preaching mission at First Christian Church.

The 10:50 a.m. service has been designated as laymen's day, according to Rev. Weems Dykes, First Christian minister.

J. D. Hill, Joe Leonard and Bob Lindley will speak about lay participation as a Christian in daily walk of life.

Sunday evening Rev. Charles Reece of First Christian Church of Sweetwater will be guest speaker and present guitar music.

In Monday's 7:30 p.m. service Rev. Michael Waco of First Christian Church of San Angelo will speak and sing. Rev. Waco has sung with the Metropolitan Opera in New York.

Rev. John Beard of Big Spring's First Christian Church will be guest speaker Tuesday evening. The service will also feature special music.

Wednesday evening speaker will be Rev. Robert McArthur of First Christian Church of Snyder.

"Theme for the series of meetings will emphasize parables of Jesus," Rev. Dykes said, "and the public is cordially invited to attend these services."

against any student convicted of a drug misdemeanor or felony outside the school.

School board members will study a revised version of the proposed policy again at their December meeting.

Any policy must provide adequate recourse for an accused student to defend himself and the policy must be developed in a manner to provide for reasonable action.

"When a school board has published a discipline policy concerning dangerous drugs and narcotics, a student may be expelled for violation of such policy," Attorney General Martin has notified the state school system. However, the attorney general also pointed out:

"The school board must conduct its own hearing, and disposition of state court charges will have no effect on action of the board (except as evidence)."

"The board incurs no liability if its actions are reasonable, but it may not legally suspend or expel a student from school solely on the basis of an indictment for a narcotics offense. The student is entitled to a hearing in which he is given every fair opportunity of showing his innocence of the offense charged and the requirements of due process of law must be fulfilled before a school board may expel a student."

CENSUS

naire should be filled out and mailed back to the Census Bureau not later than Feb. 15.

Braswell said farmer cooperation in this census is very important because decisions that will lead to improved farm programs must be based on reliable facts and those facts can only be obtained through a nationwide census of all farms and ranches.
