NUMBER 6.

LIVESTOCK TO BE T. B. TESTED

KANSAS COUNTIES ON STATE LINE WILL BE OFFERED FREE TESTING BY GOVERNMENT

Ochiltree county has been included in the tuberculosis testing area of the state and farm livestock herds, according to County Agent Guy R. Sheets, stockmen in this county have been offered this service free of all cost, providing enough interest is shown by livestock owners.

The meeting held last Thursday afternoon at the Ellis Theatre, thirty-five stockmen were present to meet with R. L. Cuff, live stock commissioner of the Kansas Live Stock exchange and Doc Potter of the Bureau of Animal Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Cuff addressed the meeting, pointing out the marketing advantages and the advantages of raising stock in tuberculosis accredited areas. Dr. Potter explained the work as done by the state.

Federal government, asking for cooperation of cattlemen in this work. According to County Agent Sheets, special test area has been started in the counties in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas bordering on state lines. The cause of this movement in the Panhandle is the Federal ruling, passed by the House of Representatives, for the first time, requiring after July 1, 1934, that all cattle entering accredited counties for feeding, grazing or breeding purposes must come from an accredited county or tuberculosis tested.

This work is already under way in Dallas and Hartley counties. Over 10,000 head of stock has been tested. The veterinarians conducting this work are furnished by the state and national governments at no cost to the livestock owners.

According to Mr. Cuff, as the corn feed lots are the ultimate goal of the feeders shipped from section, owners will soon be with the choice of accrediting cattle at home or paying almost prohibitive prices of testing in transit. All bulls, pure breeds, milk cows and per cent of the cow herd are animals tested in accrediting as range or semi-range counties.

Anyone interested in this project requested to get in touch with sheets immediately, as the work is started at once in order to be included in this area.

Candidates Are Warned

Posters or Campaign Literature Permitted on State Highway Right of Ways

Political candidates are warned to refrain from placing posters or other campaign literature on the right-of-way of state highways. The Texas State Highway Commission, in a decision made two weeks ago, that such material was same class as merchants' and actors' signs and are not permitted.

The commission believes that this is fair to all and is necessary to prevent past prohibition of other signs on the highways.

Candidates are cautioned to observe this ruling.

LAWYER LEAVES; CANADIAN GAINS AND WE LOSE

While many of us have known some time that Charlie Callaway was "going on up" in his organization, his actual leaving us to stop and think and what a whale of good he has been for the town community. It has been writer's privilege to have associated with Charlie for years and during that time we feel that we have come to know him. Perryton has lost a good man and Canada has gained one. Whether a call for the school, for country, for some civic prize, for the Red Cross or helping hand to someone or individual, you always find him right on the mark.

Most freely of his time he has been more active in community work in Perryton. Charlie Callaway, and Callaway has been just as a worker in the women's this city. While we are sorry, mightily sorry to see him leave us, we know that we have the sentiment of all when we say that we are glad to see them much success and in their new home at San Antonio.

Cleaning Plant Burns

Harlow Cleaners Plant Destroyed In Early Tuesday Morning Blaze; Loss Is Large

The cleaning plant of the Harlow Cleaners was completely destroyed by fire Tuesday morning, the alarm being turned in at 5:20 o'clock. The entire contents of the plant were destroyed and considerable damage was done to the building.

According to R. C. Harlow, proprietor of the cleaning shop, the plant had been in operation most of the night, in an effort to catch up with work brought into the shop Monday as a result of a special offer on Perryton's 29th Day Sale. The plant had been closed down only a short time before the fire call was turned in. It is thought that accumulated fumes in the building combined with the intense heat were responsible for the fire.

All the cleaning equipment was a total loss but no clothing was left in the plant building. The tile building was badly damaged. The loss was covered by insurance, it is understood.

Another fire call this week, turned in at 8:55 Monday morning was a water haul as far as the fire department was concerned. The only blaze that could be located was a coal fire in the Mecca Cafe which was smoking badly.

ALLOW 15c OFF FOR GOOD FIRE RECORD

Word was received in Perryton this week that the State Insurance commission had again granted a 15c reduction to this city, for good fire record during the past year. According to Fire Marshal R. H. Gamel this amounts to a saving of $3.00 on the premium per $1,000 worth of insurance.

Perryton has been given this reduction every year since 1920 with the exception of 1923 when only a nine cent reduction was allowed. It has become such a regular allowance that Perryton citizens have taken it as a matter of fact, but all credit for this reduction is due Fire Marshal Gamel and Fire Chief W. B. Lilly and the members of the Perryton fire department who have made this good fire record possible.

SPRING CLEAN UP WEEK HERE

PROPERTY OWNERS ARE URGED TO CLEAN UP HOMES AND YARDS NEXT WEEK; ANNUAL AFFAIR

Next week is Spring clean-up week in Perryton and all property owners are urged to clean-up their yards, homes, and other buildings of the winter's accumulation of rubbish in order to reduce the possibility of fire and help beautify the city.

Clean-up week is an annual affair in Perryton and the thoroughness of the response by the public is responsible for the splendid fire record this city has enjoyed during the past several years. The drive this year is being sponsored by the Sorosis club who are cooperating with other civic bodies to make it even more successful than in the past.

All material that can be burned should be disposed of in this manner while other rubbish should be piled conveniently near the alleys in order that it may be hauled off by the city trucks.

Following the clean-up week campaign, the Sorosis club expects to announce a yard improvement contest in which the three departments of the club are offering prizes. The details of this contest will be announced later.

Anyone wishing to employ help in the clean-up work are requested to call the Chamber of Commerce office. Those wishing to do such work are also asked to register at this office.

Tom was playing at the Canadian Country Club with Oscar Studer and M. N. Davis on February 28, when he joined the Golf Hall of Fame. It was on a 140 yard hole, and he drove with a No. 3 iron into a strong west wind.

In speaking of his candidacy, Mr. Freeman stated that his chief aim in asking for the office was to cut down the expenses of the county.

"If elected to office I intend to cut every corner on expense," Mr. Freeman stated, "and save the county all the money possible. I have never ask for public office before, but am doing so at this time, not alone for myself, but for the benefit of the people of Ochiltree county."

FEDERAL CROP LOAN COMMITTEE

LOCAL COMMITTEE WILL BE READY TO ACT ON CROP LOAN APPLICATIONS IN FEW DAYS

The Ochiltree county committee through which applications from farmers for crop production loans from the $50,000,000 allocated to the Secretary of Agriculture for that purpose by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act, has been formed and will be ready to pass on all loans in the next few days. County Agent Guy R. Sheets will accept all application, passing them to the committee for approval or disposal. Mr. Sheets expects to have a supply of loan application blanks by the latter part of this week. Henry S. Clarke, National Director of the 1932 Crop Production Loans, emphasizes that all loan applications must be approved by the county committee. Mr. Sheets will have full information regarding the loans.

If a loan application is satisfactory to the county committee, they forward it to the regional office at Dallas, where it is checked by the regional legal department and also by State representatives who are familiar with conditions in this region. If approved by the regional office, checks are mailed immediately for the initial installment of the loan. The right is reserved to make the loan in installments. This county committee was selected by the regional director.

Preference will be given to farmers who made a 1931 crop failure. The loans will be secured by a first lien on crops to be planted. No loan will be made in excess of $400 to any one farmer nor will over $1,600 be loaned to the tenants of any one land owner in a single county. Loans in this area will be based on the approximate cost per acre, but in no case shall exceed over $3.00 per acre with $1.00 per acre for repairs and other expense, other than seed, feed for work stock and fuel and oil for tractors. Right is reserved to make loans at rates lower than the above schedule. Applicants must agree to use seed and methods approved by the Department of Agriculture and also to plant a garden for home use and a sufficient acreage of feed crops for their live stock.

No loans will be made to an applicant who has a means of livelihood other than farming, nor to a minor. Loans will not be made to a person who did not operate a farm in 1931; for summer fallowing; or for a total acreage in excess of the average planted by the borrower in 1930 and 1931. Loans will not be made for the purchase of machinery, live stock, or for the feeding of live stock other than work stock used in crop production, or for the payment of taxes, debts, or interest on debts.

The loans will be due on or before November 30, 1932, with interest at the rate of five and one-half per cent per annum. A meeting of the county committees will be held in Amarillo on Thursday, March 10, at which time the full procedure of the crop loan program will be discussed.

Rangerettes Defeat 1931 Fast Kansas State Champion Team

LOCALS DEFEAT PLAINS GIRLS

RUN UP SCORE OF 46 TO 30 IN TUESDAY EVENING GAME
AT PLAINS, KANS.; PLAY
HERE MARCH 5

The Rangerettes won a fast game from the Plains, Kans. girls basketball team, at Plains on Tuesday evening, March 1, by a score of 46 to 30. This was the second game the Plains team has lost in the last five years. The Rangerettes will play them again on Tuesday, March 8, in Perryton.

The game started off fast with the Rangerettes taking the lead. At the end of the first quarter they had an eleven point lead. In the middle of the second quarter Perry was put out on account of fouls, with Roper taking her place. The half ended with the Rangerettes in possession of a fourteen point lead. The score was 28 to 14.

The last half was all in favor of the Rangerettes with them in possession of the ball most of the time. At the end of the third quarter the score stood 38 to 19.

In the last quarter, Plains held their own against the local girls, however the Rangerettes made 12 points while Plains made eleven. The game ended with the score 46 to 30 in favor of the Perryton Rangerettes.

The Rangerettes on a whole played a fast game against the Kansas 1931 state champions, although Plains seemed to be a little off because of the way they handled the ball. Frederick was the outstanding player for the Plains team.

PLAINS GIRLS TEAM COMING TO PERRYTON

The girls basketball team of Plains, Kans., will play the Perryton Rangerettes in a return game in the Perryton school gymnasium on Tuesday evening, March 8.

Both teams are very good, and this game is scheduled to be the hardest game of the season for the local girls. The Plains team has been defeated only one time in the last four years, and not one time in the past two years. The Rangerettes have lost one game out of nineteen games that they have played this season.

SCOUT NEWS

The Girl Scouts met last Friday for their regular meeting. Mrs. R. O. James, one of our sponsors, gave a talk on "The Dangers of Electricity." She then had Mary Madelon Sherman and Cleo to demonstrate artificial respiration. The Scouts planned a hike for the following day and the rest of the meeting was spent in the studying of Tenderfoot and Second Class scout tests.

SCOUT HIKE

A group of Girl Scouts started out to LaMaster's farm about two-thirty Saturday afternoon. After they reached their destination, although puffing and out of breath, they had enough energy to play several spirited games, practice tying knots and flag signaling.

After so much work and play, the scouts became hungry, so Leta McColl built a fire with only one match and they roasted their weiners.

About 5:00 o'clock a group of weary and tired girls came dragging down the highway, coming back toward Perryton.

REVEREND HENDRIX SPEAKS TO CLUB

On Friday, February 26, Rev. J. W. Hendrix of this city spoke to the Junior High School Travel club of his trip made through Washington, D. C., Mt. Vernon, and Philadelphia, and on the life of George Washington.

This talk was very interesting as well as very instructive.

Those speaking on Thursday morning of this week are Tip Top Collingsworth, Emilie Withers and Lawrence Morton.

COUNTY INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE MEET

At a meeting of the teachers of Ochiltree county, on February 27, in Perryton junior high study hall, it was decided to hold the county interscholastic league meet March 25 and 26 in Perryton. Entries for events should be in no later than March 18. Finances for this year's tournament will be derived from the sale of tickets at the various schools and at the meet at 25c and 50c.

Some slight changes have been made in conducting some of the events. Rural schools will compete in volleyball, playground ball, and base ball, the winners playing Perryton for first place. Playground ball will be played by 1931 base ball rules with slight modifications as found in the interscholastic league constitution.

Much preparation is being made for this meet by the different rural schools, and it is expected to be a big event.

DOUBLE WIN IN SPEARMAN TILT

RANGERS AND RANGERETTES
BOTH TURN IN VICTORIES
IN CAGE GAMES
PLAYED HERE

The Rangers chalked up another victory over Spearman, Wednesday night. They seemed to be in top form and showed clever basketball. Big Jim Anderson was the first to make a field goal, and was a dangerous threat the rest of the game, as he was high point man. Jim made five field goals. Morton was next high with three field goals and two free throws. The quintet as a whole played a good defensive game. The Spearman Lynx could not get through the Ranger defense, and most of their shots were long. The score at the half was 12 to 3 in favor of the home boys.

The second quarter started with Anderson scoring a field goal, Garrison repeating, and then Spearman started a little scoring spree.

Atherton of the Lynx seemed to be the only threat, but Anderson kept him well covered. The game ended 30 to 11 in favor of the Rangers.

The Rangerettes won another decided victory, but for a while it seemed as though it might be anybody's game. The Marshall sextet was not in top form Wednesday night, and played very ragged ball at times. The guards and centers were working fairly well, while the forwards were just off. Devers and Perry were the outstanding players for the locals, while Hazelwood of the Lynx was the only threat. The game ended 35 to 24 in favor of the Rangerettes.

HEAR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

On Thursday, February 25, the high school student body and faculty members had the honor of listening to District Attorney W. J. McConnell of Panhandle in a short address in the senior high school assembly period at 8:30 a. m.

Mr. McConnell's speech contained much information and instruction for the youth of the school. Much comment has been drawn from the students, who seemed greatly pleased with the talk. Perryton Senior High school takes this means of inviting Mr. McConnell back again at his own convenience to make another address to its constituents.

DEBATING TEAMS SELECTED

Perryton High school is fortunate enough this year to have two debating teams. Lura Mae Sharpe and Eloise Stevens make up the girls team. Edwin Lawson and Arnold Krause, with Jesse Elsdon as alternate, make up the boys' team.

The second class debate will be held on Friday, March 4. This is in preparation for the debates which are being planned with teams from neighboring towns.

Don't be without the time. Get your watch repaired at Crisp's Jewelry Shoppe. 66-17-6.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

Most of the students who have been absent on account of sickness are back in school again.

The commercial students are about to survive over the six weeks exams which were not at all too easy. We feel that Mr. Haggard should be proud of his bookkeeping class, because of the excellent grades made on the test. There were only two grades below 90, and the largest percent were above 95.

We regret very much that Velma Fisher has not been with us for almost a month on account of the sickness of her mother who is a patient at the Shattuck hospital now.

The advanced arithmetic class have been having some very interesting ciphering matches lately. The students were very enthused last week when Marvin Phillips ciphered Mr. Haggard down. A little bit of practice soon makes a person perfect or at least better than they have ever been before.

GEORGE ROGERS CLARK

By Earl Dunn

Down the Ohio River in an old wooden boat
Clark and his men did sail;
He was going to Kaskaskia, in his heart he could not fail.
He reached the fort in silence and made his way to the old door side;
An Indian saw him standing there And through the door did glide;
The men ran to get away, the women stood and screamed;
And through the open doorway Clark's rifle barrel gleamed.
His soldiers rushed and seized the men,
And made them be right still.
Till he took them back to his camp Stationed by the old flour mill.

TRI-STATE CAGE

On last Friday morning, our Rangerettes left to attend the Tri-State tournament at Dalhart, Texas. Dalhart, Stratford, Colen, and Perryton were the only girls' teams represented. The Rangerettes had to play Colen, and then Dalhart, two very strong teams.

The local sextet won what was thought the hardest and toughest game that they have played this year when they clashed with Colen. Colen had a small team, but they proved that size did not have much to do with it. For a while it looked as if it might be anyone's game, first with the score tied, then Perryton ahead, and then Colen ahead.

In the last half, it looked gloomy for Perryton when Anna Mae Cudd, forward, was fouled out at the beginning of the quarter. Todd took her place and fed the ball to Opal, and when the game ended, the score was 36-44, in favor of the Rangerettes.

In the finals the Rangerettes played the Dalhart girls. This game proved to be the most thrilling game of the tournament. Dalhart, at one time in the first half, was fourteen points ahead. Captain Cudd of the Rangerettes called time out to look the situation over and when they came back they were more lively than ever and at the end of the half, the score was 24-31 in favor of Dalhart. In the second quarter Perry, who was jumping center for the Rangerettes, was put out on fouls. In the fourth, Anna Mae Cudd was knocked down and was badly hurt. This caused the team to fight harder, and at about the middle of the last quarter the score was 36-36. Dalhart then sank two field goals and the game ended 36-40 in favor of Dalhart. Eds won high point honors for Perryton and Mitchell for Dalhart.

RANGER 1932 SEASON CLOSSES

WIN THIRTEEN GAMES, LOSING
FIVE IN BASKET BALL;
WIN FIRST IN ONE

The Perryton Rangers closed a successful basketball season with a one sided victory over their keenest rivals, the Spearman Lynx, on Wednesday night, February 24. The final score was 30 to 11.

In the four years that E. E. Shupe has coached here, that victory marked the seventh of the Rangers over the Lynx, while Spearman has won from the Rangers four times.

During the season just closed the Rangers won thirteen games and lost five. A new team was developed, a fact that was largely responsible for four defeats out of the first seven games played. The only game lost in eleven starts was to Hedley at the district tournament with the score 25 to 21. The Rangers averaged close to 25 points per game to their opponents 14.

The bright spots in the season included victories over Shattuck, two victories over Spearman, winning the Canadian tournament, and handing the Garden City Junior college team a one sided defeat.

The Perryton Rangers closed their basketball season here Wednesday night, February 24, when they defeated the Spearman Lynx by a large score.

I went to Plains, Kans., on Tuesday evening and watched the Rangerettes defeat a team that had lost only one game in the last five years, and what I mean is it was well worth the trip. The Rangerettes played one of the best games that I have ever seen them play this year. It looked like every time that Cudd or Eds got the ball it meant another two points, and it did. At truck to pass on them.

Plains will be here on next Tuesday, and if you care to see two good teams in action you had better come and see the game. It will be a good one.

I for one wish that "Alfalfa Bill" Murray would have the bridges built larger and longer and wide in the State of Oklahoma, because there is not enough room for a car and truck to pass on them.

George M. Perry of Perryton has presented the local high school with a note on the Republic of Texas amounting to ten dollars.

The note bears the number "2692" and is made payable to the bearer. It was dated at Houston, Texas, on June 1, 1836, and is signed by Henry Smith, Treasurer, and Sam Houston, president of the Republic of Texas.

This piece of currency, which has become worn by time, will be framed and placed in the school museum.

Perryton schools take this means of thanking Mr. Perry for this gift, which is appreciated by the entire membership.

Donations of this kind have helped the school build up an attractive museum.

CRAZY "CRAZE" TALKING

Anna Mae Cudd received a slight injury at the Dalhart tournament. She is recovering nicely and will be able to play in the second Plains game.

Frank Teague has turned into a sport reporter and he is making a good one. He went to Dalhart and did a good job of writing up the games there. He also helped me with the Spearman games.

BOYS GLEE CLUB MEETS WITH LIONS CLUB CHORUS

On Monday evening the boys glee club of the local high school met with the Lions Club Male chorus, at which time they practiced singing together. The Lions chorus has invited the high school singers to meet with them at any time in the future.

The Lions club also voted to loan their music to the boys glee club. This will enable the boys to learn more songs than they would otherwise, because of the expense they would be put to in purchasing the music.

This courtesy is greatly appreciated by the glee club.

When asked if there was anything of interest happening in the manual training department, E. E. Shupe replied that the boys "are just sawing wood."

OPERETTA WILL BE GIVEN FRI.

SECOND PRESENTATION OF
"LOVE PIRATES OF HAWAII" TO BE GIVEN FRIDAY EVENING

The operetta, "Love Pirates of Hawaii," will be presented again to the public on Friday evening of this week at 7:45 p. m. in the local high school auditorium. The operetta prepared by the boys' and girls' choral clubs of the high school, has been rehearsed and improved; the players now feel that they are able to make a record performance.

This operetta was given in Perryton on the evening of February 16, and because it was such a great success it drew forth much comment from the public. Several who were unable to attend this performance asked that it be restaged, and as a result the high school administration decided to present the players again. Persons who missed the first presentation of this operetta should not fail to see it on this date. Those who have seen it should come and enjoy it again.

"Love Pirates of Hawaii" is being given for the people of Perryton and community. Don't miss it!

G. Ward Moody, music director in the local schools, was severely ill with the influenza on Friday and Saturday of last week.

Lonnie McGarrough donated twelve gold fish, including one beautiful Japanese fan tail, to the science department of the local high school for the aquarium.

LUTHERAN CHURCH NOTES

A pastor went down into the country to visit a member who had built a new barn, and on the barn was a cupola upon which they had put a weather-vane with this text of Scripture on it: "God is love." The pastor said to the farmer: "What do you mean by putting that text of Scripture on the weather-vane? Do you mean that God's love is as changeable as the wind?" "Oh, no," was the reply, "I mean to say that God is love, whichever way the wind blows."

The highest manifestation of God is love, whichever way the wind
the sending of His dearly-beloved Son into this sin-cursed world as its Savior and Redeemer. God's love reached its climax in the substitutionary suffering and vicarious death of Jesus Christ. Greater love hath no man than this: to lay down his life for his friends; the infinitely greater love of God moved Him to lay down His life for His enemies.
Oh, let us love Him; for He has first loved us!

God's great love is the central theme of all our Lenten services.
We bring you the saving and sanc-tifying message of the cross, and bid you welcome in the name of our crucified Lord. Sunday morning services begin at 10:30, those on Wednesday nights (mid-week Lenten services) at 7:30 o'clock. Sunday vices.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH NOTES
J. Wm. Hart, minister
In preparing for our Easter revival we dedicate March as "Loyalty Month." Every Christian is urged to express his loyalty in two ways. First, he is asked to be in every service up to and including Easter. Second, he is asked to make March a month of self denial and at the close of the month to make a self denial offering.
Responses last Sunday were highly commendable and encouraging. Let us do even better next Sunday under the slogan "Loyalty To Christ."
Beautiful specials are being prepared for next Sunday. The two sermons will be "The Best Friend of the Brokenhearted" and "God and The Groceryman."

Put your questions in the question box each week until Easter.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
"Christ Jesus" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, February 28.
The golden text was from John 3:17. "God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved."
Scriptural passages included the following: "Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life:
no man cometh unto the Father,
but by me" (John 14:6).
The following from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, was also read as a part of the service:
"Born of a woman, Jesus' advent in the flesh partook partly of Mary's earthly condition, although he was endowed with the Christ, the divine Spirit, without measure. This accounts for his struggles in Gethsemane and on Calvary, and this enabled him to be the mediator, or way-shower, between God and men.
Had his origin and birth been wholly apart from mortal usage, Jesus would not have been appreciable to mortal mind as 'thy way'" (p. 30).

METHODIST CHURCH
John Witt Hendrix, Pastor
The session of the church school will open at 9:45 a. m. sharp. If you mean to be on time, to take part in the singing, the devotional period, be with your department on time, you will be in your place at 9:45 a. m. Just a few minutes do not mean a lot to you, but it certainly does to the church school.
The services last Sunday were well attended. However, we had twenty-three of our number who attended the District League meeting in Tex-homa. The church greatly missed them, especially missed the attendance of the young people at the regular worship services.
The choir will render good music at the services next Sunday and the pastor will preach both morning and evening. The subject of the morning sermon, "What Next in Christianity?" and for the evening, "Moses Spurns the Treasures of Egypt."
It was the effort of the pastor last Sunday morning to set forth the fact that God is working unceas-ingly at his world which is in an unselfish condition; if this is true, what is he trying most to do right now; what is his particular point of endeavor just now, and the pastor will seek to point out at least one of these points.

tian? Have you found it the next

STATE HIGHWAY BONDS

Dear Editor:

As local member of the Citizens' State-Wide Legislative Committee on good roads in Texas, I am requested by the State chairman to aid in giving information as to the proposal for the state wide bond issue.

It has been misstated by some that $300,000,000 in bonds are proposed, whereas the committee only propose $212,000,000, of which $112,000,000 is to be used to replace the County Bonds which are outstanding in the various counties and on which the citizens of Texas are now paying interest. Some of the counties are now paying as high as six per cent interest. The other $100,000,000 of bonds would be used under the proposed plan at the rate of $20,000,000 per year, over a period of five years, together with the Federal appropriations and at the same time give a system of connected highways, and provide the highway department with a source of sufficient revenue that it can be economically spent over the period of five years.

As will be seen by the use of the $112,000,000 to relieve the County bonds in the various counties, the proposed program would shift the tax burden from the property to the users of the highways, since the State wide bond issue would be retired from gasoline taxes.

The proposed bill contains a guarantee against this state wide bond issue ever becoming subject to payment out of property or land taxes.

I think, Mr. Editor, that in your county that the people would prefer to be relieved of the road bond taxes on their land and other property in the county and shift the burden to the state generally to be retired out of gasoline taxes.

It is true that the bonds would draw interest but as it is now about $2,000,000 is drawing interest from various local counties.

Bond issues have been voted in various counties largely on account of the hope that the county bonds would be retired by the state-wide issue against gasoline tax. This issue will be before the coming legislature which meets in January.

But to which legislature there have been chosen and elected representatives and senators in the coming primary in 1932. This question being put before the people time in order that various candidates for representative and senator may declare themselves on the matter so that the people who are for the state wide issue may choose the candidates that are for the state wide issue and those that are against the state wide issue may choose the candidates that are opposed to the same.

The high-point of this question is: shall the taxes on lands and real estate and on personal property continue to pay the outstanding bonds that have been voted and that are being voted to pay on the bill for state hard-surfaced highways, or shall the bill be paid entirely by those who use the highways, through the medium of gasoline tax payments.

This is not intended as an open letter to request candidates for the legislature to declare themselves on the issue of the state wide bond issue, but it seems to me that it would be appreciated by the people if such candidates for the House of Representatives and State Senate would declare themselves on this issue, as it is perhaps one of the most vital issues affecting the pocketbooks of the people that will come before the legislature to be elected and chosen this summer.

Respectfully submitted,
Walter R. Allen,
Committeeman,
Perryton, Texas.

CUDD GETS HIS BUCK

Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 21, 1932.

Dear Ed:

Leto the boys down on Wolf Creek think my last account of the Four Perryton Buck Hunters went into your waste basket, but course you know I didn't. You might just as well tell 'em the truth. Just tell 'em that Brillheart thought so much of the narrative that he offered me a lot of inducement to forget about it—same as the man at the close of an alimony suit.

An now comes a letter from the Bar Z sayin' they has a hankerin' for my yarns! Why Ed these here ain't no yarns, they's the whole cloth. Maybe they's makin' fun of my ignorance. Bout thirty-three years ago that gawd had a heap of fun outen me when I was huntin' antelope out there where the Canadian highway is now. They give me a horse to ride by the name of Steamboat and sent me out with a top hand by the name of Lige Roberts to bring in some prong horn steaks. On the trail out, we stopped at a windmill to see if it was runnin'. It was. I climbed back on Steamboat a little slow, cause he seemed to be a little taller than when I got off seemed like his back was bowed he wrong way of sumph'n. An' then he throwed me into the second story of a Sampson windmill. The hunt ended when I caught my cayouse down by the river.

But that was a long time and a long ways from New Mexico. One frosty mornin' last fall Alibi Cudd comes amblin' over to my camp and wants to borrow some more ammunition for his lever action Chinbuster. Said he only brought 200 with him and they was all smoked up. I didn't have none in gross lots so he wouldn't take none but said he would loaf around camp that day same as me, an' put some knots in his belt and some venison under it. Said he was tired anyway of lookin' at so many deer, all mavericks too, and just tryin' to be branded with an undercrop ear or a lazy bar on the side with a thuty-thuty.

So we stayed to camp while the rest of 'em went out to make history and misses. Last we was able to see of the other three till late that days was when they went over the cap rock, and Barber was a singin'.

I thought he would an' I wished he Cudd—
But my, oh my
That Alibi!

Bout noon, I seed Cudd drag out a roll of smooth wire and start to string it from his camp to the canyon rim. Knowin' a Texan could do most anything with bob-wire I gets curious, cause they can start a Model T or stop a run on the bank with it, and do most things in between. I left the beans to burn and the flies to blow while I ambles down to Cudd's camp fire, and axes him what's the big idea.

"Well, I don't mind tellin' you" says Alibi. "I just got sicken tired of it and I intends to stop it."

"Meanin' which?" says I.

"Why I'm tired of smellin' stinkin' feet."

"How kum?" says I.

"Why this gang haint washed their feet since they voted for Hoover, and they say that they aint goin' to wash 'em again till they votes next year."

"No say," says I.

"Well I'll just stretch this here wire down hill from the tent to that tree, and when the gang goes to sleep tonight, I'll just tie their boots together, hang 'em on the line, give the wire a yank, like that, and they will slide down to that air tree."

"It works thisaway" he continues.

An then he tied the tails of two dead bob cats together and started them on the slide that ended a hundred veras from camp.

"Fine," says I, and I ambles back to my camp to throw out some burned beans and cuss abli.

Aint had time to even put a new pot of beans on to cook when I hears that old wire sing like a telephone line in a snow storm, and I hears Alibi groan and then shout. Bout fifteen minutes later he comes amblin' up to where I was shootin' the blow flies off the meat, and axes me what the game is in regard to killin' deer with an ax. I told him that I didn't think it was against the law to hunt deer with an ax, but I thought it was a dam-fool thing to try.

"Well," says Cudd, "I just got done killin' one with mine!"

I went down to his camp on his invite. Now I aint goin' to corroborate his story any more I have to, but there was the ax and there was the buck. The buck was a hangin on the wire, his head over the wire and his antler pressed tight against his side in a perfect half-hitch.

Alibi said the deer came along jumpin' thirty feet at a jump and nine feet high. He hit the wire on the jump and at an up-grade angle, got the half-Nelson on hisself and slid up hill from the momentum for fifty yards and stopped against the tent, where he hung and kicked till Alibi axed him to die. "You would have kicked too, if you had a hung yourself thataway" says Cudd.

It was sundown when Brillheart and Twobelly Glasgow got back to camp, with their energy and ammunition all gone. Barber stayed out till the stars and camp fire come out so as to light the way to camp. He wasn't lost or nuthin. Said he just loved the evenin' air, the smell of the spruce and pinyon. Maybe so, that's another story.

Knowin' that Alibi didn't have no ammunition left, the bunch wouldn't believe the story he was tellin' 'em. They allowed he found the buck killed, drawed and hangin' in some tree and borrowed it. But he didn't. He got it honest all right. Later on he got the carcass past the Ranger Station, but he couldn't get his story past 'em.

You know, Ed I have tried to tell you all about these Native Sons that Texas should be proud of, but its too big a task. They was out here ten days, this is only up to

Only One White Spot On Business Map

This map represents business conditions in every state in the Union as set forth in the March number of Nation's Business, official publication of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States

Washington, Feb. 28.—The first month of the new year in business showed year-end continuation of low speed in industry, as pointed out by Frank Greene, of Bradstreet's, in his monthly summary for Nation's Business Magazine. Yet, industry, he says, made a better showing than either wholesale or retail trade.

"Of the individual happenings of the month," says Mr. Greene, "some were of a grave, almost a somber, character. The returns for the fourth quarter made by leading steel corporations were about the poorest in a generation; foreign trade and trade balances were the poorest since the Great War began; railroad earnings were the slackest since the ending of that conflict; commodity prices, far from living up to some 'stabilization' theories, made the lowest levels since early 1930; bank suspensions, although not as numerous as in the autumn and early winter months of 1931 and 1930, were still heavy, and business failures set up new records in number, although not in liabilities."

"On the more favorable side of the account might be mentioned agreement between the railroads and their personnel on a ten per cent wage cut. This, coupled with the rate advances granted the roads earlier, may prove the most encouraging feature appearing in two years. Of possibly equal value was the movement in the building industry to reorganize wage scales with the aim of preparing that great ready-money industry for future expansion. Of the trades actually showing real expansion in output, the automobile industry with its steady rise since last autumn deserves notice as providing the chief source of new demand in steel industry."

"In the line of rather negative movements might be classed the agreement of petroleum interests to cut out Sunday work to avoid burdensome production, and the effort toward curtailing cottongoods production."

"Wholesale trade did not expand over December, a small decrease this year comparing with a slight increase last year. Retail trade did not, of course, expand in either year over December, but the decrease in percentage from December this year is a trifle less than a year ago 'although there were five Sundays this year in January as against four last year. Industry showed a gain this year in January over December but the increase was not as large as it was last year. In collections a small gain was shown. Last year a good-sized decrease was shown. This change may reflect a slight easing in the financial situation."

"The two largest mail-order houses report a combined total of sales for January 21.7 per cent below those of January, 1931. This compares four days. The half ain't been told. Very truly,
Jesse X Brownlee

P. S. Say Ed, would you want one more letter bout when Barber acted as Immigration Patrol Inspector? (Shoot it.) with a decrease of 18.9 per cent in December but a gain of 4.8 per cent in January 1931 from the like month of 1930. The largest mail-order house is quoted as saying in its annual report that in 1931 for the first time in its sales through branches exceeded its mail-order trade.

"China-store sales in January, according to preliminary report, decreased ten per cent from January a year ago as against a decrease of 7.3 per cent in December but a gain of 11.7 per cent in January, 1931, from January, 1930.

"Chain and mail-order stores combined (preliminary report, in the case of the chain total) for January showed a decrease of ten per cent from a year ago as against a decrease of 9.3 per cent in December but a gain of 10.6 per cent in January a year ago over January 1930.

"Department-store sales for January decreased 17 per cent from January a year ago, these comparing with a decrease of 13 per cent in December, 1931, from 1930 and a decrease in January, 1931, from 1930 of seven per cent.

"As was to be expected failure liquidation continued into January and brought the fourth largest total of bank failures and the largest single week's and single month's total of all business failures. The after-year-end crop of failures is always heavy, however. The trend of liabilities was even more marked than was the gain in number."

"In 1931 with a 9.4 increase in number over the hitherto record year 1930, liabilities increased 58 per cent. This was due mainly to the large number of banks suspending. According to the Federal Reserve Service's report these totaled 2,290 with deposits of $1,759,000,000, increases of respectively 70 and 103 per cent over that organization's records for 1930. The bank suspensions exceeded early estimates, some ten per cent of the country's banks suspending during the year as against about five per cent in 1930 and six per cent in 1929.

"One of the less encouraging features of the month just passed was the continuing downward movement in commodity prices. This was foreshadowed by the weakness of the Weekly Food Product Index in recent weeks and by the apparent continuance into January of the record low levels of all farm products reported by the Agricultural Department index in mid-December. The February 1 Monthly Index touched $7.5243, a decline of 2.7 per cent from January 1 and the lowest since July 1, 1931. The drop of 2.9 per cent shown last October was the nearest approximation to the February 1 drop just shown. Of 13 groups of commodities, eight declined from the January 1 level, two gained and three remained unchanged. Principal losses were shown in live stock, provisions and hides and wool. Of 105 commodities quoted, 18 rose, 37 declined and 53 remained unchanged on February 1 as compared with January 1 this year.

"Some of the other important occurrences in January were the slight decline in pig-iron production, a fraction of one per cent from December, of 43 per cent from January a year ago of 71.7 per cent from January, 1929; and the gain of 5.2 per cent in silk deliveries to mills over January last year. Crude petroleum output declined but gasoline stocks are expected to show a gain."

Against Disarmament

Women of American Legion Auxiliary Are Against Disarmament Propaganda Plan

The women of the American Legion Auxiliary have made a strong plea to the American delegation at the Geneva disarmament conference to safeguard the security of the United States. WHO PAYS?

Recently the head of an animal remedy concern made the statement that his payroll was over $2,000,000 a year. In his state are a number of other similar concerns which we believe are doing as large a business. A greater number of other smaller ones are operating. Who pays for it?

Go into other important livestock states and you will find somewhat the same story. Thousands of remedy peddlers, many of them with few qualifications, other than a fluent vocabulary, are swarming the livestock sections of the country. Millions upon millions of farmers' hard-earned dollars are being taken in exchange for pills and liquids, many of which might just as well be poured into the sewer.

Many of these remedy peddlers have been known to make all sorts of unjustified claims for the products they sell. They will assert that their so-called "medicines" will cure diseases that are incurable. There are no known drug remedies for contagious abortion in cattle, hog cholera, influenza, tuberculosis, distemper, heaves in horses, bacillary white diarrheas in poultry, fowl cholera, roup, diphtheria, chicken pox or black head in turkeys. Yet remedy peddlers often claim their products as cures for these diseases.

In some cases they will sell their products as a cure-all for everything. In other cases they will make a diagnosis or get the company's "specialist" to come out and make the diagnosis. They will produce the remedy. In too many cases the hired man is just as well qualified to make the diagnosis as the so-called "specialist."

There are high-class manufacturers of livestock remedies. But they are not likely to turn their products loose with just any high-powered salesman to be prescribed for any condition he may find. Consult a good veterinarian. If he says a remedy is good and worth the money, use it.

In times like this it is poor business to pour millions upon millions of hard-earned dollars into the pockets of unscrupulous remedy peddlers and manufacturers. Are you paying part of this toll?—Successful Farming, Des Moines, Iowa.

putes in the party chiefly centering around the so-called "stop Roosevelt" movement. They do not want him to clash with Roosevelt in any of the States. His big chance to win the Democratic nomination in Chicago, as they see it, lies in a deadlocked convention. If Roosevelt is blocked, they believe that Garner will inherit many of the Roosevelt delegates.

However, there is a fly—possibly an over-sized horsefly—in the Garner ointment. He may be satisfactory to the wets and acceptable to the dries, barring the fanatics and professionals on both sides, thereby minimizing the inevitable split on prohibition. He may have stamina and all the qualities of statesmanship and leadership, but will he be acceptable to the Democratic voters in the great industrial States of the East and North? Without the votes of the delegates from at least a substantial number of these States it is hard to figure out where that necessary "two-thirds" is coming from. In the final analysis, of course, the Democrats will try to fix upon a candidate who they believe will be strong in all elections of the country. Of what avail the nomination of a man who can run well only in the less populous States of the West or a man who can hold the solid South, but who cannot win in the North and East?

While Roosevelt against the field has been the picture presented in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination, and the New York Governor has been making all the running and setting the pace, present indications would seem to be that the field is closing in on him, seeking to take away from him the big bloc of delegates which were promised to him by many leaders of the party. Speaker Garner is undoubtedly threatening the Roosevelt lines, and in addition to that, out in the West and Southwest "Alfalfa Bill" Murray, of Oklahoma, another Democratic Governor, is cam-pagining desperately for delegates.
Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, of Maryland, and former Governor Alfred E.
Smith, of New York, are slashing into the Roosevelt forces in the North and East. Ohio, in the Middle West, is held at least temporarily by Gov. George White, and Senator James Hamilton Lewis may have the big delegation from Illinois.

There are those who claim to have discovered another insect in the Garner salve. The Speaker would seem to have taken too much to heart the oratory of certain Lincoln Day speakers. Because some Republicans have ventured to commend President Hoover for the constructive economic program that he has set in motion, Mr. Garner says that the Democratic boys won't play with them any more. They are tired of letting Herbert Hoover be "it" all the time. As long as the Democrats do not permit their irritability to get the better of their common sense, and do not attempt to sidetrack legislation because of a few over-zealous Republicans proclaim that to President Hoover exclusively is due the credit for the indignation thereof, although it is necessary legislation, the public will probably pay little attention to Democratic clamors and Mr. Garner's call for the termination of a political "truce" which in reality never existed. But if they begin throwing monkey wrenches into the machinery just because the Republicans are seeking to direct the operations, they are likely to lose caste with the country and Mr. Garner, who comes nearer to telling the Democratic House what to do than any other Democrat in years, not a little of his present popularity.

In the meantime, the Republicans are marking time. President Hoover has let the Illinois primary go by, refusing for a second time to enter into contest with Joseph I.
France of Maryland, who is the only candidate entered in that State.
Hoover likewise stayed out of North Dakota, preferential primary. In fact, the first open battle move of President Hoover's renomination campaign sounded last week with assurance from the White House that he will enter the Ohio primaries.
This decision was made known by Postmaster General Brown, being groomed as the campaign manager of the Republican National Committee. Just returned from a survey of conditions in Ohio—his home State—Mr. Brown reported political pointers favorable for Mr. Hoover filing.

Not displeasing to the Republicans was a statement by Representative Blanton in the House of the Garner rally in Texas which brought an assertion from Representative Shafer, Republican, of Wisconsin, that "the same forces are at work in the Democratic party now that turned the Madison Square Garden convention of 1924 into a mad house."

When Flood Waters Rose at Gainesville

Highest water in years was registered at Gainesville, Texas, last week due to heavy rains in North Texas. Pictured above is the lower part of the business section, just after flood water came sweeping in, forcing dozens of firms temporarily to suspend business. Water rose to depth of several feet here. Lower photo shows a scene in Leonard Park, Gainesville's playground, nearly all of which was flooded. For a time heavy damage threatened when a dyke gave way, but park employes hastily repaired the break.

Connally Just "Plain Farmer Tom"

U. S. Senator Tom Connally takes time out from directing the still cautious and tentative John Garner presidential campaign and dons his working clothes to assist running lines and terracing his farm near Marlin, Texas.

Bill's Monument

The people of Grayson county have marked the birthplace of Governor William H. Murray of Oklahoma with this concrete slab. It is located in Collinsville, Texas, where "Alfalfa Bill" Murray officially announced his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination next Thursday. H. J. Platte stands by the monument.

ation operations in wheat and cotton. This in spite of the fact that the Farm Board has stated repeatedly that the operations of these stabilization corporations were due only to extreme emergencies caused by large overproduction for which the Farm Board was in no way responsible. The surplus of wheat and cotton existed before the Farm Board went into operation and it must not be forgotten that the farmers, bankers, and politicians of the wheat and cotton belts brought considerable pressure on the board in order to get it to undertake the so-called stabilization activities. As a matter of fact, some of the most severe critics of the Farm Board at present are the same people who were most insistent that the Farm Board artificially peg the price of wheat and cotton.

to stop price declines, it cannot be held responsible for such declines."

DAIRYING—DON'T "GO INTO IT"; GROW INTO IT

There is always danger of over-production of any farm product, but Dr. Tait Butler, the well known livestock specialist, thinks there is nevertheless a fine opportunity for Southern farmers in dairying. In the current issue of The Progressive Farmer Ruralist he says:—
"The dairy cow can help to earn that '$500 More a Year' on many Southern farms. Yes, there is, with a favorable pasture season next summer, danger of an overproduction of dairy products, but this is probably less serious when applied to dairy production than to almost any other farm product, because milk is an essential food, the consumption of which should be greatly increased, especially throughout the whole South. Also, dairy prices, although low, have held up better or suffered less in this depression than most farm products and will probably continue to do so.

"Who should call on dairy cows to help him earn that additional $300 a year from his farming?"

"No one should go into the business of producing milk until his farm is equipped with buildings needed to care for and protect the cows. He does not need expensive buildings, but he needs building where Southern farmers in dairying. In the cows can be comfortably housed. He does not have to protect them from snow and cold, but he must protect them from rain and mud.

"In certain sections it is often stated that the land is too low and wet for dairying. Such sections are often better adapted to dairying than higher sections where the soils are poorer and feed production more expensive. It is easier and cheaper to protect cows from rain, with roofs, and from mud, by sheds with concrete floors, than from the extreme cold of many sections which profitably produce dairy products.

"No one should go into the business of milking cows until he has convinced himself that he can and will produce an abundance of feed for them, on the farm near or where the cows are kept. In brief, no one should start in the dairy business unless he is determined to learn and succeed, and believes that he can and will succeed.

"It is usually better and cheaper for the beginner to grow into dairying as one or two cows grow into a herd of 25 or 30 by the natural increase, than to go into dairying by buying a herd of 20 or 30 cows to start with.

"It is often said that the best guarantee of successful dairying is good cows. Good cows are necessary for the best results, but since more than half the costs of producing dairy products, in the South are feed costs, we have put the feed problem first in Southern dairying and propose to keep it there until the cows we have are decently fed."

Biological note from a Denver paper: "One rate can produce 1,658 rates and mice in a single year."

ALFALFA SCHOOL NOTES

The flu has been prevalent in our community for the past two weeks, but most all having it are greatly improved at this writing.

Miss Lactia King, our former teacher, spent Sunday night in the C. C. Freeman home.

Opal Sayer, Wanda and Jewel Leffell and Pauline Callihan were absent from school one day the past week, due to illness. Up to this date only Jackie Callihan and Geraldine Freeman have perfect attendance records. Quite a bit of rumor has been going around that the high school plans to put out an annual for this year. To do this they will need the cooperation of the parents.

Friday night we had our elimination declamation contest and the following students were winners: in the sub-junior, Wanda Leffell; juniors, Eldon Leffell and Jackie Callihan. All the declamations were given nicely and it was really difficult for the judges to make a decision. The stage was beautifully decorated and for this we want to thank Nig Freeman, Dale Horton and Frank Jackson who worked diligently with the decorations. Five of the high school students and Miss Thredgill gave a small comedy play, "The Double Honeymoon" which was enjoyed very much.

The undergraduates assisted by a few outsiders are practicing on the play, "An Old Fashioned Mother." It will be given at the close of school. The cast includes Pauline Callihan, Ruby Delbrugge, Marjorie Horton, Jackie Callihan, Geraldine and Nig Freeman, Orville Jines, Roy Linn, Happy Guffy and Miss Ira Thredgill.

Sunday, a group of students and their parents met at the school house and had a picnic lunch and played many outdoor games. Everyone proclaimed an enjoyable time.

Lawrence Callihan and Nig Freeman were exploring in Bourbanese Canyon and discovered many peculiarities characteristic of the Indians.

C. C. Freeman and A. H. Tandy made a business trip to Oklahoma, the past week-end.

Mrs. C. C. Freeman honored her daughter, Miss Geraldine, with a dance, Saturday evening. Many of her friends were present to enjoy the affair.

Music was furnished by an orchestra composed of Mrs. Freeman, H. B. Freeman and F. W. Mahana.

One novel bit of entertainment was the beautiful harmonica music by Bill Dutcher and George Seitz. Those not caring to dance spent the evening with dominoes. Mr. Freeman and Val McLannahan were winners in this.

Marjorie Linn has been seriously ill, but is some better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Alec Barton visited their daughter, Mrs. Linn, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eastburn and Mr. and Mrs. Purcell of Canadian, visited in the Jackson home, Sunday.

Among the flu victims we might mention the names of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Widmer, Floyd Erard and Mrs. C. C. Freeman.

CALLAWAYS TO GO TO CANADIAN

PIONEER OCHILTREE COUNTY LUMBERMAN PROMOTED TO ASSISTANT MANAGER WHITE HOUSE CO.

Chas. W. Callaway, for twenty-two years manager of the White House Lumber Co. in Ochiltree and Perryton, has recently been promoted to the position of assistant general manager of the White House Lumber company with headquarters at Canadian. Mr. Callaway has already taken over the duties of his new office. Mrs. Callaway and the children will not move to Canadian until after the end of the present school term.

This well earned promotion means that Perryton and Ochiltree county loses a valuable citizen and a most excellent family. Both Mr. and Mrs. Callaway have been most active in community, civic, church and school life, and their leaving will leave a vacancy that will be hard to fill in the ranks of those who have built Ochiltree county and Perryton.

Chas. W. Callaway came to Ochiltree over twenty-two years ago as manager of what was then the Tepe-Hoover Lumber Co., the forerunner of the present White House line of lumber yards. When Perryton was started in 1919, the yard was moved to Perryton. He has ever been a willing worker and booster for the Panhandle and has given liberally of his time, talent and ability to civic matters, having served on the local school board, the city council, chairman of the county board of education, a past president of the Chamber of Commerce and the Perryton Lions club, and always square behind any movement for the betterment of the community.

At Canadian, Mr. Callaway will take over the assistant general management of the White House Lumber company which maintains lumber yards and building material stores at Canadian, Higgins, Miami, White Deer, Pampa, Panhandle, Pollett, Booker, Perryton, Spearman, Shamrock, Laketon and Morse. B. F. Tepe is general manager of the company.

R. H. Prewitt, who has been manager of the White House yard at Spearman for the past three years, comes to Perryton as local manager about March 15. Mr. Prewitt was with the White House at Panhandle before going to Spearman. It is planned to hold a big "open house" at the yard here shortly after Mr. Prewitt arrives and we have been informed that it will be the policy of the White House to hold these "open house" affairs annually with a full representation and display of the many lines carried. General office officials and representatives of the manufacturing companies will be present.

ENTER BEEVES IN STOCK SHOW

TWO BABY BEEVES FROM THIS COUNTY ENTERED IN 4-H EXHIBIT AT AMARILLO SHOW

Almon and Cavert Norris, sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Norris of the southeast part of the county, in company with their parents and Guy R. Sheets, left Sunday with two baby calves for the Amarillo Fat Stock show where they will enter them in the 4-H club competition.

According to County Agent Sheets, this is the fourth year that the Norris boys have had exhibits at the Amarillo show and each year they have won prizes and sold their exhibits at enough premium to more than pay the expenses of the trip. The fat stock show opened in Amarillo, Monday morning and will continue for the first four days of the week.

BORGER BIRTHDAY FETE SOON

SIXTH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION ON MARCH 8TH WILL FEATURE RODEO PARADE, SPEECH

BORGER, March 3. — Borger, lusty industrial city of the Panhandle, will be six years old on March 8, and on that date, as on every birth anniversary in the past, the city will celebrate.

The birthday celebration this year is to be on a record-breaking scale, according to officers of Hutchinson County Post of the American Legion. The post has staged some of the big birthday celebrations of the city and knows how Borger and her friends like their celebrations, arranged.

Rodeo, parade and dance will be among the items on the program. Bill Heskew, a Legionnaire who is chairman of the rodeo committee, will round up the cowboys riding the ranges of this section and have them in the show competing for fancy prizes. In the vicinity of Borger, Heskew said, are some real cowboys surviving in one part of the country where that feature of the old west still lives.

Bands, cowboys and floats prepared by merchants of the city will compete for prizes in the parade. What is planned to be the longest and most interesting procession in the history of the city will be followed by a program of speaking to include Josh Lee, Colonel Thompson and Colonel Tack. Other noted orators will be invited.

Hugh Miller of Phillips is in charge of preparations for unveiling in connection with the celebration of a monument to honor the dead of Hutchinson County Post, "those who have served."

DIETRICH PLAYS NEW ROLE IN LATEST FILM

"Shanghai Express," Marlene Dietrich's first starring picture since she returned from Europe, is scheduled as the feature at the Ellis Theatre for Monday and Tuesday of next week. This thrilling story of adventure and romance was originally written by the well-known novelist and traveler, Harry Hervey, and dramatized for the screen by Jules Furthman, who also wrote the screen play of "Morocco." Miss Dietrich's first starring picture made in America.

Josef von Sternberg, maker of "Morocco" and "Dishonored," also directed "Shanghai Express." The supporting cast is headed by Clive Brook, who recently played the leading role in "24 Hours," and Anna May Wong, Oriental heroine of the picture "Daughter of the Dragon."

Miss Dietrich plays the part of a notorious and glamorous woman of the world, while Brook portrays a British officer who meets her, after years of separation, aboard the Shanghai Express, which is held up by a Chinese bandit general, played by Warner Oland.

"Shanghai Express" is a stirring melodramatic picture with a large cast of celebrities. More than a thousand Orientals of various races were used as extras for atmosphere effect.

MRS. G. K. READING APPOINTED DIVISION CHAIRMAN AND MRS. DAVE SHANKS LOCAL HEAD

Mrs. G. K. Reading has been appointed chairman of the Better Homes in America committee for Division 1, comprising seven counties in the Panhandle section and Mrs. Dave Shanks has been named as the Ochiltree county and local chairman, according to announcement made this week by the national organization.

This is the eleventh nation-wide campaign of Better Homes in America, an educational organization established for public service in the interest of home improvement. President Hoover is honorary chairman of the organization and Secretary Wilbur is president. The headquarters is in Washington, D. C., with Dr. James Ford in charge as executive director.

The Better Homes campaign is designed to stimulate the improvement of housing conditions and bring about a more wholesome type of home and family life. The programs carried out by local committees are determined by the needs and conditions in the community. Features include lectures and discussions, exhibits, contests, and where possible the demonstration of one or more new or remodeled houses to show how the better type of homes can be provided for families of modest income, at a cost within their reach. Care and repair programs as a means of relieving unemployment during the winter are being emphasized again this year. These programs culminate in Better Homes Week which in 1932 will be from April 24 to May 1.

The findings of the president's conference on home building and home ownership, which took place in the first week of December, are giving added stimulus to the Better Homes campaign this year. The studies of the various conference committees include such subjects as the design of homes, home construction, financing of homes, household management, homemaking, landscape planning and planting for homes, the elimination of slums and blighted areas, farm and village housing, home information centers, home furnishing and decoration, and standards and objectives.

More than eight thousand communities took part in the 1931 campaign and Better Homes in America is looking forward to even greater cooperation in the coming year.

The fund is being raised by voluntary contributions from Units of the Auxiliary throughout the country. It was authorized by the Auxiliary's National Executive Committee at a recent meeting at national headquarters in Indianapolis. MORE DAYS THAN DOLLARS

Bill Rumpus says he isn't "anyways" excited about what Congress might do for us any time soon, but in the current issue of The Progressive Farmer-Ruralist he gives the following sound and characteristic advice on meeting the present "tuff situation":

"We're bogged down in a mighty muddy rode, as you might say, an' we got t' ease out of it slow an' keerful. Main thing t' do is t' keep th' mules pullin' steady an' easy, an' not let th' waggon slide off into th' ditch ef we kin help it. Don't get all excited an' het up ef you kin keep from it, an' ef you feel like you jest natchally got t' do sum'n rite this mornin', git out an' dig up sum of them old stumps that you been plowin' around fer th' last 20 years, r' else fix up your pasture fence like you been aimin' t' do fer 5 r' 6 years, an' always been to bizay t' git to it. I bet you got a plenty of time on your hands now. In fact, it wouldn't surprise me none ef you had more days than you got dollars."

FARMERS KEEP PRODUCING WHEN OTHERS STOP

How to start the wheel of exchange moving again is a vital problem for everybody these days. But to no class of people is the solution more important than to farmers. The farmer never goes on strike. No matter how low prices are, he keeps right on producing. And when the machinery of exchange breaks down and other classes quit producing, while they wait for prices to get better, the farmer becomes the worst victim of the system.

Take the matter of houses, for example. Nine-tenths of our farmers are living in houses less good than they ought to be. The farmers in these houses have not quit work or gone on "half time." They have said in effect, "The world needs wheat, cotton, tobacco, etc., and we will go on ministering to the world's needs as fully as we have always done." The result is that prices of wheat, cotton, and tobacco have collapsed.

But prices of commodities farmers buy have not come down proportionately. For when times get bad, other businesses go on strike and thus cut down production in order to maintain prices. Suppose manufacturers of furniture, lumber, plumbing fixtures, paints, roofing, etc., should keep running full time in spite of depression: then prices of their products would drop as farm prices have dropped and farmers could keep on buying. The farmer would have goods and the manufacturer markets. Suppose carpenters, plumbers, brick masons, etc., said: "We will keep on working full time for whatever we can get." Then their wages would come down to figures at which farmers could hire them and farmers would have houses and these men would have work.

The farmer of course has the advantage that he can produce much of his own living at home and so avoid all "the high cost of exchange" on these items. But we repeat that so far as the farmer must buy things a condition like the present hits farmers harder than anybody else.

—The Progressive Farmer-Ruralist.
