PEGGY'S

Paragraphs

By PEGGY BELVIN

A DIFFERENT WORLD, housed in a canvas tent, went up just outside Colorado City last Tuesday.

A world composed of gilt-edged circus wagons, burlap, sawdust and sand. A world populated by wild animals, sword swallowers and wanderers.

Adults, tolerate the gaudy atmosphere and children love it.

Guess there isn't a child alive who isn't awed by the huge "ellants" as little children call them.

To them, it is a world of fascination, a zoo on wheels, a wonderland of popcorn and candy apples.

USED TO THINK I lived in the country, when I had to drive three miles to get to town. But now I realize that I was closer to town than I thought.

Good Buddy, WAYNE HELM, lives so far out in the country in the Snyder-Rotan area, that telephone lines don't even reach that far.

But they have solved the problem. They've hooked up two-way radios to the nearest house, and by relays resembling those of the pony express, their messages finally reach town.

BUT, I HEAR it's a friendly sort of place they live in. The sparsely-populated area is inhabited by people who are more closely-knit than city-dwellers.

Wayne informed me that when anyone went on a trip, they sent postcards home addressed to "Dear Mom, Pop, and Mister Warren."

Mister Warren is the mail carrier.

GOT TO THINKING this week about some of my favorite people here in town, and at the top of my list is a place reserved for MRS. BOYD DOZIER and MRS. U. G. HARDISON, mayors of our own Booktown, Federation Library. These two can locate a book in the stacked and crowded shelves in 30 seconds flat.

Next on my best-liked list would have to be LEON YEAGER, our chief of police, who drives around in one of the big white Fords, with the proper insignia on the side, but with a nice, smiling, gum-chewing man inside.

Also MISS GLADYS MILLER, the stern angel of the English classes at Colorado City High School and WELDON MOORE, big-wheel at Hutchinson Elementary School.

Too, I like DR. H. JENE STEAKLEY, the handsome, but painless dentist, and his cute little wife, BOBBIE.

And another of my favorite people is MRS. URDA WULFEN, who drives her brand new powder blue Chrysler up and parks it right beside our little Ford.

Sure am glad I didn't start out to make a list of our little-city citizens I didn't like. I'm afraid if that had been the case, there would have been no Peggy's Paragraphs at all this edition.

The Circus Is For Boys

The novelty stand at the A. G. Kelley and Miller Brothers' Circus here this week held great fascination for two of Colorado City's junior citizens. Inspecting the wares are Billy Goodwin, left, and Stoney Stone. The circus held performances in a tent south of town Tuesday afternoon and evening.

TO PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN

Mrs. Kinard Presents Review

Mrs. Larry Kinard presented a short review of three chapters of the book, "Some Women Amazed Us," at the recent meeting of the Women of the First Presbyterian Church in the church parlor.

The first chapter Mrs. Kinard reviewed was on Taiwan. The chapter had been written by Ruth McClellan, a missionary there. She told of the crowded conditions and poor living standards among the people there and what is being done by missionaries to provide hospitals and schools.

The next chapter Mrs. Kinard reviewed was on Korea. She said that the official Korean greeting was "soon ah su," meaning "Are you in peace?" She said that this showed how much the Korean people desire peace.

"Approximately 93 percent of the Korean population are still worshipping heathen gods," she said, "in spite of work done through the years by Protestant missionaries."

Mrs. Kinard told the group also about the United Presbyterian Church in the United States and what could be done about conditions here.

Mrs. Bob Robinson called the meeting to order. Opening prayer was by Mrs. John Brown.

Five of the members who attended the district meeting in Eldorado March 6 presented reports. Those who attended the meeting were Mrs. Robinson, W. M. Elliot, Roy Davis Coles, Ed Owen and John Brown. They reported that 68 persons were present at the meeting.

Next meeting for the group will be March 20. A Family Night supper will be served at the church. The final two chapters of "Education for Covenant Living" will be studied.

FIRST METHODIST

Revival Will Feature Evangelist and Music

Dr. Frank D. Charlton, left, pastor of St. Paul Methodist Church in Abilene, and Wesley Boyd, right, native of Ireland, will lead a series of evangelistic services opening Sunday here at First Methodist Church.

Revival services at First Methodist Church will begin Sunday and will continue through Friday evening March 29. Evangelist for the services is to be Dr. Frank D. Charlton, pastor of St. Paul Methodist Church, Abilene.

Two services will be held each day, one at 7 a. m. and another at 7:30 p. m. The 7 o'clock morning service will be a fellowship breakfast meet with coffee, milk, and doughnuts served before the usual working hours. There will be a song worship and a message from Dr. Charlton each morning.

In charge of music will be the Irish baritone Mr. Wesley Boyd formerly of Belfast, Ireland, and now of Oklahoma City. Mrs. Boyd will be accompanist.

Mr. Boyd is the soloist and song-leader for Rev. Joe Blinco, associate evangelist of Billy Graham. He has accompanied Mr. Blinco in many parts of the world, including Britain, the Caribbean, Australia, Canada and the United States. In Ireland he has won distinction at the Belfast and Dublin Music Festivals where in 1955 he won the premier awards at both Festivals including the famous John McCormack Cup. Wherever he goes he is called upon to sing many of his native Irish songs.

Mrs. Boyd, his wife, is a Professional Accompanist. She graduated from the Royal Academy of Music in London, and has accompanied many outstanding artists in the British Isles. She has toured the continent of Europe and the United States as pianist for the Belfast Girl Singers. Mrs. Boyd has also been a pianist for the Belfast Philharmonic Society and has played the violin in the Studio Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd have recently returned from Australia where they accompanied the Rev. Joe Blinco in the Billy Graham Follow-up Crusades. Together they make an outstanding contribution to evangelistic music.

On Saturday night March 30 at 7:30 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Boyd will give a religious concert in the sanctuary of First Methodist Church. A free-will offering will be received. The entire community is invited to attend this musical event.

Dr. Frank D. Charlton has been pastor of St. Paul Methodist Church since June 1, 1962. He came from Austin where he was superintendent of the Methodist Churches of the Austin District for the past six years. In August of this past year McMurry College conferred the honorary Doctor of Divinity upon Mr. Charlton. He is in wide demand as a revival speaker, Methodist Men's groups, and other occasions.

All town and county citizens are invited to attend the revival services where they will hear evangelistic preaching and special evangelistic singing. "We feel that we are fortunate in securing the leadership of Dr. Charlton, and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Boyd," said the Rev. Darris Egger, First Methodist Church pastor here, in announcing the coming revival.

Jay Adams Chevrolet turned the tables on a group of customers Friday.

The firm hosted the 10 guests at a luncheon in Baker Hotel's Garden Terrace Room. Jay Adams asked for complaints, not compliments.

Hosts for the unique event were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Dunn of Jay Adams Chevrolet and Phil James of Abilene, Chevrolet district manager.

Selected at random from a list of Chevrolet auto owners as a representative group to attend the luncheon and meeting were James Hull, Orbie Ray Linder, Dennis Walding, R. B. Baker, G. D. Foster, Noble Walker, James Cox, Mrs. Earl Brown, Mrs. Charles Nockolls and Mrs. Virgil Stone.

Dunn was master of ceremonies for the informal luncheon and the "complaint" session on customer service was conducted by James.

At the conclusion of the meeting gift certificates for free car wash and lubrication were presented to the guests.

IN CONCERT HERE

CCHS To Host TWU Choir

The Texas Women's University Modern Choir of Denton, known throughout the Southwest for its fine choral singing, will appear in Colorado City High School for a performance at 1:20 p. m., Thursday, April 4.

The Colorado City performance will be one of 13 concerts to be presented in eight Texas cities and one New Mexico City on the choir's annual spring tour, March 26-April 4.

The choir will sing before

12 high school assemblies and one military base.

The group's repertoire includes classical, sacred and American folk and popular songs. Thirty-six selected students representing many of the TWU colleges and departments compose the choir. Dr. J. Wilgus Eberly, director of the TWU Department of Music, is choir director. He has had wide experience as conductor, piano soloist and teacher.

The choir performs at many civic and social gatherings in the Denton-Dallas-Worth area throughout the year and appears at the University's Redbud Festival in March. Members are also scheduled to present an evening concert May 6 as part of TWU's concert and drama series.

The 1963 concert schedule includes performances in Lubbock High School and Carroll Thompson Junior High in Lubbock, Hobbs High School in Hobbs, N. What is your Question?

WHAT IS THE PLEA OF THE CHURCHES OF CHRIST?

Churches of Christ plead for the unity of all Christians by a restoration of Christianity as revealed in the New Testament. There are, then, two parts to this Plea. There is, first, a call to all who would follow the Lord Jesus Christ to be united, and secondly, the way in which this unity may be achieved is indicated—a return to the Christianity of the New Testament. Jesus prayed for his disciples "that they all may be one." So the churches of Christ see to work for the fulfillment of this prayer of Jesus by following the way that Jesus and his apostles taught.

WHAT ARE THE ESSENTIALS OF UNITY?

The Apostle Paul wrote to the church of Ephesus about these essentials and said: "There is one Body, and one Spirit, even as ye were called in one hope of your calling; one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all." The oneness comes because there is one body of which all are members, one Spirit who dwells in all, one hope which all cherish, one Lord whom all obey, one faith which all believe, one baptism which all have received, and one God who is Father of all.

IS THERE A PRIESTHOOD IN THE CHURCH?

There is indeed a priesthood in the church. All members of the church are spoken of in the New Testament as "an holy priesthood to offer up spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God by Jesus Christ." A priest is one who has special privileges of access to God and so can approach God on behalf of others. Each member of the church has the privilege of access to God through the one High Priest, the Lord Jesus Christ.

ARE THERE MINISTERS IN THE CHURCH?

A minister is a servant. All members of the church are saved to serve, each member should, therefore, take a proper part in the ministry of service of the church according to ability. In this sense all are ministers. There are, however, special ministries in the church such as guiding and ruling the local church, teaching, etc., and some are called upon by God and the church to guide and oversee the work of the congregation as elders or bishops, some to serve as teachers, etc.

JESUS CHRIST IS THE HOPE OF THE WORLD

"It is not what the Bible teaches that divides the world into religious groups, it is what the Bible does not teach that divides the world."

FAIRVIEW CLUB TOLD

More Emphasis Placed On Dress

More emphasis is placed on dress today than ever before, Mrs. Cricket B. Taylor, county home demonstration agent, told the members of the Fairview Home Demonstration Club at its recent meeting in the Community Center.

Mrs. Taylor presented the program at the meeting. Her program was titled "Wardrobe Planning."

"Dress is important in the business and social world today," she said. "Every woman has a strong desire to be attractive. Poise is the secret ingredient to attractiveness. You develop poise by wearing comfortable and appropriate dress."

"Clothes express the individual. They reflect one's personality and pride. You are judged by how people see you. A woman is a mirror of her husband's success."

Mrs. Taylor told the group that it is not necessary to spend a lot of money to be well-dressed. She said that careful planning is the secret to a correct wardrobe.

"Study your clothing needs before buying," she said. "You need knowledge to buy and plan correctly. Neither time nor money gives good taste. You need to know materials, designs, lines and color, and your individual needs. It is better to choose a good basic costume, that can be dressed up or down, according to the occasion."

She told the group that labels on clothing should be studied. She said that they would give information and instructions for care of the garment or material.

"Your activities influence your clothing needs," she said. "Use common sense in selecting clothing. To be smart and attractive, give lots of thought to your dress and know yourself. Every age has its charm in dress."

Mrs. Earl Hunter presided at the business session. Mrs. Lon Strain presented the devotion.

Members present at the meeting were Mrs. Sam Armstrong, Will Berry, Earl Brown, W. W. Jenkins, Earl Hunter, L. Strain, J. L. Strain, E. T. Strain, O. L. Simpson, Willard Thurman, E. R. Uzzie, and Mrs. Taylor.

Visits In Austin

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Smith and son, Wesley, were in Austin recently visiting their daughter and sister, Cathy Ann Smith, a student of the University of Texas there. Miss Smith is a sophomore student, majoring in education.

Lindsey Is Aggie High Point Man

Charley Lindsey, Colorado City basketball star, has concluded his first year with New Mexico State University as the Aggie's top pointmaker. Lindsey came to NMSU last fall, a former Trinidad Junior College stand-out.

In Colorado City's Wallace School, Lindsey was All-State for two years, highest-scoring boy in state play-offs for two years, and voted the most valuable player in state play-offs in 1961. He played basketball for four years while in high school.

Lindsey trailed behind seniors Russell, Matthews and David Brown, both from Albuquerque, N. M., throughout the NMSU 21-game schedule. But when the final figuring was done, Lindsey emerged with 121 points per game. Brown an even 12 and Matthews with an 11.7.

Furthermore, Lindsey's point production has been an unexpected bonus so far as Aggie Coach Presley Aske is concerned.

"At his height, Charley is one of the finest players I've coached in a long time," Aske says. "The only thing he needs is a tall man on the team to work with."

"He is not only a good player, but a fine young man with good personality and character," the Aggie coach comments.

The 6-foot-2 Lindsey played in every one of New Mexico State's 21 games this year. He not only led in scoring but also

6-2 was second high man in the rebounding with an average of 10.5 rebounds per game. See LINDSEY Pg. 5

Alexander Completes Training

Army Pvt. Curtis L. Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Alexander, Colorado City, has completed eight weeks of advanced infantry training at Fort Polk, La.

During the training, Alexander received instruction in combat techniques and fired the M-14 rifle and M-16 machinegun, two of the Army's newest infantry weapons.

The 21-year-old soldier entered the Army in October, 1962, and completed basic training at Fort Polk, La.

He is a 1961 graduate of D. W. Wallace High School here and attended Jarvis Christian College in Hawkins.

Yul Brynner plays the title role of the lusty, legendary Cossack leader, "Taras Bulba," in Harold Hecht's multi-million dollar production co-starring Tony Curtis. The Panavision Eastmancolor film opens Sunday at the Palace Theatre, through United Artists release.

Huge Movie Cast Stars Curtis, Brynner

Charging to the screen with where the battle scenes were filmed was dug up and cork substituted, with a thin layer of earth covering the cork to minimize the effect of falls from the Poles 400 years ago opens Sunday at the Palace Theatre, through United Artists release.

The mammoth operation of costuming the thousands of players in exact replicas of the uniforms worn by the 16th century Cossacks and Poles kept tailors and seamstresses busy from Paris to Rome, from Madrid to London. Brynner's and Curtis' costumes alone cost $22,000.

The huge scope of the picture can be appreciated in part when one is made aware of the fact that there are 250 speaking parts in the film. The huge international cast includes Sam Wanamaker, Brad Dexter, Guy Rolfe and Perry Lopez. Franz Waxman was enlisted for the job of scoring the film and a musical background of great beauty and excitement in moods ranging from comic to tragic, from serene to emotional is the raucous and stirring result.

1963 Feed Program Is Beneficial

Growers who participate in the 1963 Feed Grain Program will have four definite advantages over growers who elect not to participate, according to N. O. Brown, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation D. Community Committee.

Brown described these advantages as: A: price support will be available for the participating grower's 1963 production of corn, grain sorghum and barley; B: a substantial income from the acres diverted to feed grain.

It is assured regardless of drought, flood, insects, hail or crop disease; C: the price-support payment on the established yield of the planted acreage is also assured; D: an advance payment of part of the diversion payment, at the participants request, will be made at the time of signing up or as soon as possible after that time.

A grower participating in the feed grain program, the chairman explained, reduces his acreage of corn, grain sorghum, and barley by at least 20 percent of his farm's feed grain base acreage, and devotes this diverted acreage to a conserving use.

The first step necessary to take part in the program, however, is signing an intention-to-participate form at the ASCS County Office. The sign-up period extends through March 22.

CONVERSATION

YOUR EASTER bonnet "With all the frills upon it," say a group of English milliners, "is a visible analysis of your character."

Mercy! Isn't that carrying this generation's personality-probing mania a little far?

LONDON hat-designers advise, anyhow, that the woman who buys hats with bold crowns has "a wildly generous nature" and is adventuresome.

Narrow brim-lovers are "ready to pounce." Catty.

Wide-brim fanciers are calculating and very narrow-minded. "Wider the brim, narrower the mind," those British hat-makers hoot.

FEATHER-topped females are "frivolous, trivial, and feather-brained," it says right here. And further, "Emotionally insecure women like the feather hat—which can mean, too, marital unhappiness."

Brettons (or rollers) mean "a woman who has not grown up."

Flower petaled hats are the "pick of the harmless—but entirely negative character."

HEAVENS TO BETSY. What does that leave? It'd serve you right if English women revolted and wore their last year's bonnets this Easter.

Wait... there's the pill-box... usual choice of our First Lady. Pill-box indicates "a shrewd, smooth, very cool customer." So there you are! That black pill box, purchased three years ago and worn maybe five times, puts us right in the "smart" category. Not that we intend to let that influence the Easter judgement.

ONE FAMOUS American hat designer who calls himself "Mr. John" adds this edict: "Don't try to hide your character under a hat.... Some beautiful women don't wear hats but they do own five or six." Well? Why? If not to wear, why? Why wouldn't one hat do—not to wear?

Confusion, all is confusion. We intend to head for the first hat shop mirror in sight and buy what strikes the instant's fancy. And to heck with character. Hidden or otherwise.

HATS, as character analysts, are about as effective as counting buttons children used to do: "Rich man, poor man, beggar man...." Unless a woman has a hat not to wear for her every mood, the problem posed needs a computing program.

No woman born is ever ALWAYS any of those characters—generous, catty, narrow-minded, frivolous, or smooth. She's ALL of 'em—in spurts and by turns.

MOST WOMEN, hatted or not, are wildly generous one minute, narrow-minded as a charter member of the WCTU the next. Frivolous, shrewd, harmless, ready to pounce. All in good time. Like the weather.

This state of affairs has nothing whatsoever to do with hats. It's metabolism. Or motherhood. Or matrimony. Or money. Or mood. Or something.

AS LOVER of hats on other ladies, hater of hats when it comes to wearin' 'em... our solution is simple.

Don't let your hat give your character away. Give your hat away. Run bareheaded, and delighted, from any occasion "calling for a hat."

Wear a scarf. Or bright bandana. Make people GUESS your strong—and/or—weak points.

A woman may wear a gay little hat because she feels sad. And that is that. She may buy the silliest hat in town to give her spirit a lift when she's down.

Ever since the human race was started Women worried, or women light-hearted. Have worn Easter hats like bright flags unfurled To herald re-birth of the whole bloomin' world!

AMONG other joys of the current season is happiness for our Elizabeth Kirkpatrick Jones (Mrs. Jesse L.) and her City National co-workers. Elizabeth's been home since November with an injured knee. She's back at her bank duties now.

About to return she jokingly told Shirley Delaney (Mrs. Don) "When Elizabeth Taylor's knee was hurt she gave a champagne party."

Guess what? Shirley and Aveline Hallmark (of the drive-in window) presented Elizabeth with a present her first day back. A bottle of champagne.

LOCAL SCENE: The rebud is bursting in bloom on the Rudd Clinic lawn... ditto peach blossoms everywhere... hyacinths... and pussywillows.

In the class with an olden age run on a bank was that redemption center on 3rd St. Tuesday. Among the stamp-shoppers there saw Viola Erwin and Mary Lee Moore and Mable Majors (Mrs. Edgar).

THE OTHER AFTERNOON when our old friend Bert Wulfjen knocked at the house on Chestnut St. and handed us the letter from his daughter Louise (Mrs. Sam Geisenberger) we knew he was grieved about something. "Robert is dead," was about all he could say.

"I know you are going to be saddened by this as you can be," Louise ended her letter. "The only thing I can think of is to remember what a joy she was to so many people and how much happiness she gave to everyone." See CONVERSATION Page 7

THEY EARN 'EM—

Another group of our Colorado High students have distinguished themselves, their school and our town.

I'm speaking about the Future Teachers of America chapter, which was awarded a "Top 10 Projects" trophy at the State FTA meeting in Dallas.

Their accomplishment is nothing to let pass without applause—especially since only 10 other schools in the state earned the award and these included such metropolitan areas as San Antonio, Houston, Austin, Fort Worth, Abilene and Corsicana.

You might like to know, too, that Judy Root is the senior president of the chapter and Mrs. Gerald Gordon is sponsor-organizer of the group.

Cross the spot

Spot bowling is the more scientific of the two bowling methods. Spot bowlers say that it is easier to hit a target closer than 60 feet away.

When spot bowling, pick a spot on the alley anywhere from two feet past the foul line. As you release, reach out for that spot, keeping your eyes on it until the ball has passed over it.

If your ball takes the same path down the alley each time, you will find that spot bowling is a good method for getting strikes. However, to find the best method for yourself, try both pin and spot methods before deciding.

"One-tenth of the annual income, the state derived from tax was required to be set apart as a perpetual school fund, never to be diverted to any other purpose," she said.

"There were not many schools in early Texas," she said. "But as early as 1823, a school was conducted in Austin's colony. But these were crude affairs, one met in an abandoned blacksmith shop with no windows, shutters, or doors."

"As far back as 1832, Texas asked from the legislature of Coahuila and Texas, a grant of public land to be used for school purposes. It was not made. Texas' main charge against the Mexican government was that it had failed to provide for public education."

Good Sense In Airport Improvements

Frank Derigibus, our community's leader in aviation, is talking these days about improvements at our new City-County Airport, east of Colorado City. And he is talking good sense, too.

The improvements will require money, of course, but these are reasonable and in line with the step-by-step idea that brought us the airport in its present stage.

In an appearance recently before a civic club, Derigibus told of the need for paving the airport runway, installing lighting and properly marking the field.

His words didn't fall on deaf ears. The "idea" committee of the Chamber of Commerce—a group organized this year by Chamber president Charles Root—has talked about the improvements and endorsed the idea of Chamber of Commerce committees assisting the city and county with the airport improvements.

Another shoulder has been placed to the wheel, so to speak, by the Chamber of Commerce industrial development committee. The improvements look good to the industrial committee because they are tied closely with industry and business.

That's what Derigibus has made clear from the start. Lighting and pavement and other improvements—in an orderly, economical program at the airport—aren't for a flying club or fun fliers. These are improvements to assure maximum use of facilities by local business men, officials of firms doing business in this area, representatives of oil and industry hurrying to and from assignments here, emergency flights in and out of our county.

Too many times now Colorado City and all Mitchell County is handicapped—penalized—in industrial and business progress because of the fact that company planes can't move in and out of our local airport except during the day.

And it doesn't take much insight on aviation to understand also that our unpaved, dirt landing strip is subject to erosion, is capable of damaging planes and is not an all-weather landing strip.

All of which just emphasizes the good sense Derigibus has been talking and should encourage our city and county officials to join heads in a bonafide effort to see these improvements through in a practical manner.

"Death Book" On Our Highways

The official Texas "death book" for 1962 was closed Friday with 2,421 entries in the motorcade column—an increase of 107 deaths or five per cent over 1961, it was announced by Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

He said that in spite of the fact that travel increased four per cent in 1962, the 107 additional motorcade deaths raised the death rate per hundred million miles from 4.8 in 1961—the lowest in history—to 4.9 in 1962.

Garrison said the upward trend in traffic fatalities began in the summer of 1962 and is continuing into 1963 at an even greater rate. During the first 11 weeks of this year, there were 43 or 13 per cent more deaths than during the same period of 1962. So far in 1963, 364 deaths have been reported.

"This trend is especially alarming because nearly as many traffic deaths have occurred in Texas so far this year as compared with the same period of 1956, when an all-time high of 2,611 motorcade deaths were recorded," he said.

"Unless this trend is halted, Texas could well be headed for a new traffic death record—the most deadly year ever on our streets and highways. We can ill afford this tragic and needless loss of life. Traffic accidents are caused by a disregard of traffic laws and ordinances and it is essential that the public support our enforcement officers and the courts in controlling the violators.

"In the meantime, every driver should take cognizance of the current dangerous trend and avoid all hazardous situations—especially the violator whose actions might cause an accident," Garrison advised.

VOTING

Coming up soon on the calendar is election time—when citizens will name two Colorado Independent School District trustees and four City Council members.

The Record isn't in the habit of trying to tell its readers who to vote for in elections of this sort. Not because of editorial timidity, but because platforms and issues are not easily identified in these elections when, so often, the office seeks the candidate instead of the candidate seeking the office.

But the Record does have this to say emphatically:

School and municipal offices are places for dignified, dedicated and enlightened service. Any candidate or voter who attempts to belittle this service will do a disservice to the community and our concept of democratic government.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

'Give and Take' in House Budget Appropriation Bill

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
A $3,000,000,000 budget bill has been passed by the House of Representatives.

Before it cleared the House and went on to the Senate, the bill elicited several cries of anguish from some who protested agency requests as too small and some who claimed certain adjustments were too big.

Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo claimed reductions in the State Board of Control were too big, since they involved $1,000 salary raises for executive directors of those agencies.

Rep. Terry Townsend of Brady claimed deputy commissioners in the Texas Education Agency drew a total of $1,800 more than the Legislature authorized.

Townsend also tried to cut out a $250,000 appropriation to improve the newly-donated Wheatly Ranch in Blanco County as a state park. He claimed the money was needed for established parks. But this move failed.

Cotton's amendment to strike out the plane appropriation failed by a narrow 72-68 vote.

State college administrators requested $243,000,000 for the coming two years. For Gov. Price Daniel and the Legislative Budget Board recommended $226,000,000.

Gov. John B. Connally recommended $225,000,000. Paducah Rep. Bill Healy's appropriations bill allows for $187,600,000 to educate the bumper crop of war babies that is expected to begin to flow into state colleges next year.

Rep. Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs disagreed. He said that the plane is necessary for aerial surveys and photographs to confirm the 1941 state land survey.

Cotton insisted that the Land Office should hire commercial aerial photographers, as the Texas Water Commission does.

Another attempt to cut a specific recommendation out of the budget bill almost was successful.

Rep. James Cotten of Weatherford tried to get the House to "round" the State Land Office airplane. He pointed out that $100,000 is appropriated annually for operation and maintenance of a high-powered Land Office plane.

Cotton showed a photo-static copy of the plane's flight log for the year ended October, 1962. He stated, "In a year's time, only 68 flights were recorded. Sixteen were test flights to familiarize the pilot with the plane before he broke the propeller when he collided with another plane in a hangar and then he had to take eight more test flights to familiarize himself with the new propeller."

A Look At West Texas Through Editorial Page Excerpts From Its Leading Weekly & Semi-Weekly Newspapers.

Typographical errors often cause editors to lose in their sleep. Transposed letters can change dear to dare, live to evil, fear to fare, and fashion a thousand other unintended meanings.

The printing trade, however, is not alone in its vulnerability to typography and a Cross Plains minister tells this tale to prove it.

A fine, young couple married and the bride's pastor, away from home, telegraphed this message: "I John 4:18, which when referred to reads: 'There is no fear in love but perfect love casteth out fear.'"

The telegraph operator inadvertently left off the 1 in front of John, causing the message to read, John 4:18, which when looked up says: "For thou has five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband."

Kicking about everything under the sun? Common old Knocker? Are you one? Taking part in nothing that will do good? Wouldn't say a pleasant word if you could? Spreading your troubles and trials about, Common old Knocker, Cut it out!

Be a Haskell Booster. Tell all your friends. When they come to Haskell, trouble ends. Tell of all the good things being done. Of happiness, health, success and fun! Tell of resources in which we abound. Put on a smile, and pass it around. We have the best town in all the state. Tell folks about it, early and late. Talk to the Knockers—call in their bluff. Cut out the grumbling, there's trouble enough! Be a Haskell Booster, put on a smile. Quit your knocking, and make life worthwhile.

The name of Haskell was substituted for Shelbyville, one of the finest communities in this country, nestled in the verdant hills of Middle Tennessee. This town at the time that piece was written had so many situations comparable to those here now, same population, same distance from population centers, same problems.

Author of the piece about Booster or Knocker was the father of your pastor. He was editor of the Shelbyville Gazette, a fine paper, which since has become a daily, because Shelbyville has upwards of 40,000 people now.

IF SCREWWORM FOUND

Phone Mission to Report Infestation

Knowing immediately where every screwworm case in the Southwest is located has become so important to the eradication program that arrangements have been made so livestockmen can call the Mission headquarters to report when an infestation is detected.

When a screwworm case is found, officials would like producers to do two things: 1. collect about 10 worms from the wound, place them in water or alcohol and hold for further instructions; and 2. report the infestation to eradication officials by calling collect to Justice 5-1646 (Mission). No telephone call should be made unless a sample is available.

The following information should be available at the time the call is made: 1. Name 2. Address and telephone number where producer can be contacted. 3. Date when sample was collected.

4. Location of farm or ranch where case was found. 5. Location of wound on animal. Producers are urged to call day or night, whenever the sample is available.

WHAT MAKES PEOPLE RUN?—PART 3

In chatting with a patient recently, I told her that her mild diabetes was a disorder of the metabolism in which the pancreas failed to provide a chemical called insulin. Insulin converts sugar into fuel for the body. The fuel made from sugar is absolutely necessary in order for the body to perform its activities. When your heart beats, sugar is used. When your muscles act, they use sugar.

In the normal person the sugar taken into the body is stored in the liver, muscles, the skin, or burned by the body in order to keep us warm and to furnish energy. In the diabetic person this much-needed sugar is eliminated from the body in the urine.

Fortunately, with the discovery of insulin we are able to replace the missing chemical in diabetes. Insulin, however, is not a cure for diabetes. It is merely a substitute for the chemical that the incapacitated pancreas fails to supply. For this reason, the diabetic must also follow a strict diet.

A diabetic coma occurs when the amount of insulin in the body is insufficient to take care of the amount of sugar present. A colleague of mine, who specializes in the care of diabetics, says that patients with diabetes need not worry if they will follow their diets check their output of sugar, and be careful about their insulin. They must remember, however, that an infection of any sort will cause the diabetic condition become even more serious. This means that the more insulin will be needed at that time.

Although the tendency to diabetes is inherited, this disease may not show itself until later in life, and then usually in overweight patients. Two-thirds of the cases of diabetes which I have seen diagnosed were in patients past forty, and all were overweight.

AT 1921 CLUB MEETING

"Rosenwald Collection Unique" Mrs. Doyle Hester Tells Club

The Rosenwald Collection is unique in its singleness of purpose and independence of choice," Mrs. Doyle Hester told the members of the 1921 Study Club at its Friday meeting in the home of Mrs. V. R. Trulock, 340 W. 10th St.

Mrs. Hester presented a part of the two-part program at the meeting on "Art Collections."

She said that most collectors of our time are concentrating on sculpture and paintings of the last hundred years.

Mr. Rosenwald has dedicated himself to the graphic arts, she said. "His prints are from the earliest fifteenth-century wood and metal cuts to the most far-reaching experiments of today."

"About 35 years ago, Essie Rosenwald accidentally saw a print by D. Y. Cameron and on the spur of the moment bought it. Then as print collections were being auctioned in Europe, he found himself plunging heavily by that time in a suburb of Philadelphia was he was hooked."

The Adair-Grope Gallery in designed especially for the Rosenwald collection. It was to remain there during Rosenwald's lifetime, but the entire collection was given to the National Gallery of Arts in 1943.

Mrs. Hester told the members that in the early years of collecting, Rosenwald decided he must have professional help if he were to assemble a serious collection and secured the services of Elizabeth Morgan. She said that her job was to scour this country and Europe for rare and illusive pieces.

"Modern art has not been overlooked in the collection," she said. "Picasso, Munch, Feininger, Matisse and the young American Baskin are well represented. The Gallery is very generous in lending to numerous exhibitions throughout America and Europe."

Mrs. Trulock presented the second half of the program. She told the members of the Kress Collection.

"Masterpiece in galleries of 21 American cities fulfill a chain-store founder's dream of sharing his old world art with all the people," she said. "Samuel S. Kress helped other foundations establish museums to contain priceless pieces of art. For example, the National Art Gallery in Washington, D. C. houses 93 paintings from the Kress Collection. This museum is one of the class of museums—one as the Louvre in Paris, the Prado in Madrid, the Uffizi Gallery in Florence and the Vatican Museums in Rome."

She said that direct gifts have added to the original galleries that contain the work of such masters as Titian, El Greco, Tintoretto and Rembrandt.

"An outstanding art gallery is found in Raleigh, North Carolina," she said. "It contains 73 pieces from the Kress Collection. San Francisco's M. H. de Young Memorial Museum in Golden Gate Park ranks as one of the largest municipal museums in the west. It houses a great number of paintings from the Kress Collection."

Mrs. Trulock told the members that when the first regional gifts were made to the University of Arizona Art Gallery in Tucson, the Kress Foundation donated 24 paintings. These paintings have been called the finest of their kind in the Americas.

She said, "The famous National Art Gallery in Washington, D. C. contains the finest and greatest number of art works. These cover entire field of European paintings from the end of the middle ages to the threshold of Modern art."

The eleven members present at the meeting answered the roll call with "a famous collection."

Next meeting will be Friday, March 29, in the home of Mrs. Doyle Hester. Mrs. R. H. Ratliff will be leader. Mrs. Lee Lavender will present the program, "Purpose of the Peace Corps."

MUSEUM BRIEFS

By Harry Ratliff

This week the Historical Museum acquired another picture of interest. It is a photograph of the late Dr. McDonald, a brother-in-law of the late J. D. Wulffjen. The doctor was the "medic" who attended Sam Bass, outlaw, shot and killed by Dick Ware, Texas Ranger, July 10, 1878 in Round Rock.

Recently Mrs. Jack McKenney's room of fifth graders went through the museum as a field trip. Afterward, the youngsters wrote letters to the Museum Association telling how much they enjoyed the tour and what they liked best.

Among things they "liked best" were the mammoth bones, the old wedding dresses, the two-headed calf, old branding irons, one wrote "I liked everything." We appreciate the interest of these children and trust that before the end of the school year all students of Colorado City, Loraine, and Westbrook schools and their teachers will visit the museum.

Class tours can be arranged on any day of the school week by appointment. These conducted tours will have somebody at the museum to explain the different collections and objects, along with their connection with history of Mitchell County. This county is rich in history of the early day settler. The museum is attempting to preserve this heritage and pass it on to future generations. We need cooperation from all the county's citizens. We welcome visits. Visit the museum. You'll be agreeably surprised.

HEALTH—

I personally agree with most of my physician associates that excessive consumption of sugar and fat, as well as heredity, are important factors in the occurrence of diabetes. The older diabetic, therefore, is not entirely blameless for his condition. Had he watched his diet in early years, chances are that he could be leading a more healthy, normal life today.

News from the Library

The following is a list of new books just received at the Colorado City Library. They are available by request from Mrs. Boyd Dozier, librarian.

"BEANY AND THE BECKENING BOAT." Thomas Y. Crowell Company. Beany, disillusioned by her boy friend, welcomes the chance to make a trip to California to deliver her small nephew to his parents. The 1200-mile trip by car, made with her older brother, a motherly paying passenger, a boy, and Beany's rival, ended perfectly for Beany.

"LIVING WITH THE SEVEN WORDS." John Alexander McElroy. (Abingdon.) The last words of Christ take on fresh meaning in these forty-seven devotions which show how Jesus' life and teachings are supremely exemplified in the words from the cross. Author uses the unique approach of interpreting the words—all seven each money and what they do with it. Here, too, are some of the reasons behind the bitter week—in the light of a different theme for the week.

"THE GENTLE LIGHNESS." Richard Carter. (Doubleday.) A close look at the inside workings of America's largest organized voluntary health agencies—the American Red Cross and the American Cancer Society, for example—their purposes, programs, problems, how they raise money, and the locally-run United Funds for the interest and contributions of the public.

PROMISED in our secret heart never to write a sad column, this go-round. Just this once that self-promise is suspended long enough to tell all her C-City friends. Roberta is dead.

The voice that sang several stanzas of "At the Cross" and "Yes Sir That's My Baby" with or without special request is stilled. Roberta, who brightened lives of family and friends for 37 years was what some people call a "Polly parrot." She was the beloved pet of the late Mrs. Bert Wuttfen and has lived in Natchez, with the Geisenbergers since 1956.

Roberta was a lady.

BILLY GRAHAM, that great Christian, wrote something about dead pets once. He had been asked by a bereaved man who'd loved and lost a pet, "Do dogs go to Heaven?" What Graham replied is worth remembering.

"Whatever your soul requires to make you perfectly happy in Heaven, God will surely provide," he said simply. Isn't there an old favorite hymn that sings the promise "Somewhere the sun is shining... somewhere the song birds dwell?" Roberta looked a parrot. But to the day she died she was—a song bird.

GREAT DAY

FOR GETTING THINGS DONE BY PHONE

So maybe the rain is coming down in sheets. Lightning flashing. Thunder booming.

No matter how wretched the weather, you can keep right on using your telephone.

Some years ago, bad weather might have affected your telephone service.

Today, things are different.

Most telephone cables are now filled with pressurized dry air. If a cable springs a leak, the force of the escaping dry air holds out moisture and keeps phones working. An alarm automatically tells repairmen the location of the break. Usually, the trouble is fixed and you never know anything was wrong.

So go ahead and use your phone when the sky opens up and the rain comes down. Pressurizing telephone cables to give you storm-proof dependability is another improvement made with you in mind. Our never-ending goal is to improve your telephone service and make it more valuable to you.

Feed Program For '63 Has New Features

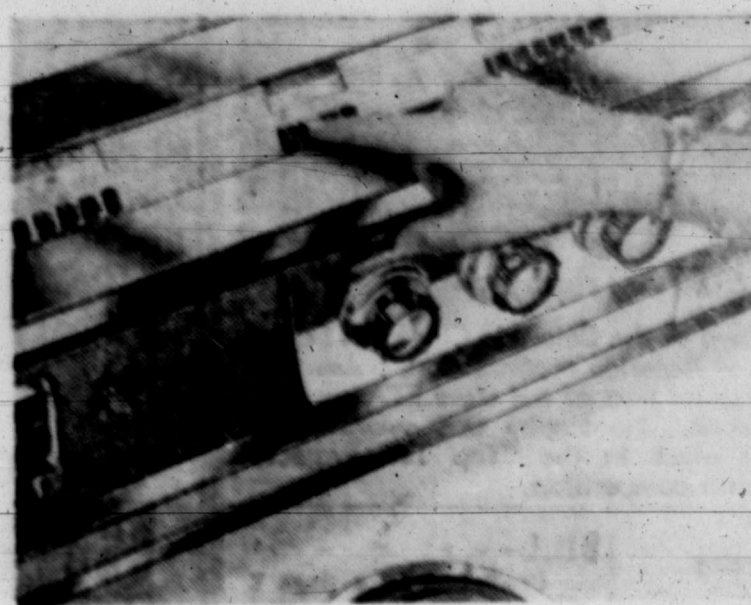

Growers who take part in the also qualify for regular price. 1963 feed grain program will support loans or purchase a receive a price-support payment in addition to the driver grain sorghum, and barley also payment according to crops.

Rate for the price support payment really serves as insurance. It will be made to growers who divert at least the minimum 20 per cent of the farm's feed grain into a conservation use. Even if the planted crop is destroyed by natural conditions, the grain is fed to the animals on the farm, the price support payment will be made just the same. Unlike last year's feed grain program, sorghum and barley will be available to 1963 program participants on the farm's entire See PROGRAM Pg. 8

Women who cook electrically know...

Electric cooking is accurate because it's flameless

Good cooks know how important accurate cooking temperatures are. On every electric range, regardless of price, you get accurately measured heat on all surface units and in the oven. There's no guesswork. You just set the controls for the heat you want and you get exactly the same heat from the same switch setting every time!

Only an electric oven can be insulated all around, including the bottom. This is because an electric oven is flameless and requires no flow of air into and out of it to support combustion. Temperatures inside the oven remain constant and the heat is evenly distributed for best results when you are baking or roasting.

NOW'S THE TIME TO CHANGE TO A '63 FLAMELESS ELECTRIC RANGE

"TOP TEN PROJECTS"

Local FTA Wins Thophy

The Colorado City High School chapter of Future Teachers of America won a "Top Ten Projects" trophy at the state FTA meeting in Dallas Friday and Saturday, March 8 and 9.

Miss Judy Root, president of the local chapter, accepted the award from John Lovelady, FTA consultant in the Dallas Coliseum. The Colorado City school song, "Live for Colorado," was played by Ray Plagens, Dallas organist, as Judy accepted the trophy.

Each fall FTA chapters throughout Texas undertake projects for the year.

The project results are judged by a commission of consultants and directors in Austin. The local group sponsored two speed-reading courses taught by J. L. Forrestal of Lubbock.

The third project bore the slogan, "Each One Help One." The local chapter thus aided teachers in many different ways.

Other schools that won the "Top Ten Projects" were: Corsicana High School, Pagoda High School, Sam Houston High School of San Antonio, Augusta Anderson High School of Abilene, Mineral Wells High School, E. T. Peterson High School of Fort Worth and St. Paul High School of Houston.

Students who attended the state meet earned their way by the merit system.

Gene Bates, junior student, had the greatest number of merits. Because of the conflicting date of the Junior Play, he did not attend the State FTA meeting, but will attend the meeting next year.

Mary Middleton, vice president, Texas Future Teachers of America, introduced the special guest, Dana Williams, Superintendent of Schools, Corpus Christi. Mr. Williams spoke on the subject, "Teaching—The Great Profession." He was also master of ceremonies for the meeting.

Entertainment was by Margia Clark, Sweetwater High School, who sang, "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing," and Janine Brown, Highland Park High School, who danced to "Moon River."

Ex FTA members and first-year teachers were asked to speak at the meeting.
