Jean Borotra May Quit Court To Give His Attention To Business

(By NEA Service)
PARIS, France, July 6.—Jean Borotra, the picturesque "Blonding" of tennis, sometimes the greatest and at worst one of the best players in France, may soon disappear from international competition. His business necessities...

JEAN BOROTRA

Borotra's business keeps him traveling a great deal. He can be seen from the fact that he has not been nearly 200 nights in training in his home town. Often he has been up at tournaments in a plane just in time to change for play.

He was not able to go to Rome this year as a member of the French Davis Cup team playing Italy. He hopes to play in America this year with the team but that will be his last appearance in major competition. At that he may not journey to America.

Business has prevented him from devoting much time to tennis this season. As a result he has not appeared in his usual places except for occasional brilliant sports. Critics have noticed that he looked dejected and out of spirits in his last tennis.

Talk going man is usually the most popular player in France. At ways an excellent sportsman.

Po-Tailors Swat Embalmers 7 To 3

The Po-Tailors cracked everything that "Evo" Marshall, husky moundsman of the Rix Embalmers, tossed across the platter yesterday afternoon at the Merrill Park and won the game from the funeral directors with a score of 7 to 3. It was in the fourth inning that Marshall went to the showers under a heavy hitting barrage of the Tailors. The Po-Tailors bunched six hits and scored as many runs in the fourth frame off of Marshall.

Taylor, shortfielder for the Clearers and Pressers, cracked out a triple and a double in the three trips to the plate. Nine hits were collected by the Tailors from the morticians. Score:

The German contingent was thereby brought up to 53 per cent, compared to but 27 per cent during March. Of other scientific and instructive films that passed the censor in April, 129 were German and 38 foreign.

Tonight Sharkey weighed 154 1/2 pounds. Just 2 1/2 pounds more than he expects to carry into the ring against Dempsey.

IGNORING THE LAW

We do not think for a moment that Lubbock people are not law abiding citizens.

Of course they do not come under the class of felons. They do not rob, murder, steal or bootleg.

Over in Ranger a few years ago officers had the same condition to contend with. People insisted upon standing within three feet of the busy firemen.

There are hundreds and thousands of bootleggers in this fair land, and a majority of them oppose the Volstead Act.

THE BOOTLEG INDUSTRY

Many, many people have predicted that the Volstead Act is doomed to failure, and the excuse they give is that the Act is not in harmony with the desire of Americans as a whole.

There are hundreds and thousands of bootleggers in this fair land, and a majority of them oppose the Volstead Act.

THE VALUE OF GAS

Just at this time we can think of nothing that will benefit Lubbock any more than an adequate supply of gas—gas at a moderate price.

Still we feel sure that there will be liquor and plenty of it as long as this old world stands. Just as long as there is a craving or desire for liquor there will be liquor.

The Volstead Act has not failed nor will it fail. In time it may be modified to some extent, but if this modification comes we may look for more drastic enforcement.

have you believe otherwise. America will always have her quota of drunkards, but their number will be reduced from year to year.

LUBBOCK NEEDS MORE LIGHTS

It is doubtful if there is another city in Texas with Lubbock's population where so few street lights will be found.

We boast of our city's beauty. We admit and even insist that it is the best town on the Plains and one of the best in Texas.

There are two power plants in Lubbock. Electricity is not considered expensive—especially so since the city owns one of the plants.

LUBBOCK IS BUILDING

No, Lubbock is not on a boom—it has passed the boom stage, but Lubbock is growing.

While we have not made an actual count of new buildings, we feel safe to say there are no less than 75 houses under construction at this time.

LUBBOCK A BARGAIN CENTER

Dealers in some cities may find it necessary to "cuss" the mail order houses and abuse the patrons of same.

This goes in almost every branch of business—dry goods, groceries and all.

OUT OUR WAY

THE MOURNERS AND THE CORPSE.

SO THINK WE

We think that every Lubbock citizen should do his best to show in all men a great thing.

We think that if Lubbock county expects to keep up with the progressive stride of her neighboring counties, she will have to come to the front and put over paid surfaced bond election by a large majority.

We think that the young generation should be controlled more by the parents rather than through the channels of the government for a better and cleaner life.

We think that the Lubbock county Municipal Park should be a pleasure to the local citizens.

We think that the Lubbock Aeroplane Club should be given the best of cooperation in its work.

We think that Lubbock is indeed fortunate in having excellent fire-fighting equipment.

We think that the Lubbock county Municipal Park affords much pleasure to the local citizens.

We think that everything looks favorable to the South Plains for a prosperous fall.

We think that the citizens of this have three big problems now facing them and each one of them should be carefully handled.

EDUCATORS TO CUT DELEGATE NUMBERS

ALSO APPROVE PLANS TO ESTABLISH HOMES FOR ELDERLY TEACHERS

SEATTLE, Wash., July 6.—Tenative approval was given today by the National Education Association of a plan to reduce the number of delegates by a half to two thirds after Dr. P. H. Claxton, superintendent of schools in Tulsa, Okla., had explained the plan. On suggestion of Francis G. Blair, president, the plan itself was held up to allow delegates to read the report. The association requested Cornelia S. Adams of Richmond, who is to be chosen president tomorrow, to continue Dr. Claxton as chairman of the committee to work the plan.

with the leases since a government official could not be bribed to commit an act which he had no legal authority to commit.

Bribery Case Stands

Justice Hix held that the executive order transferring jurisdiction of the naval oil reserves from the navy to the interior department was valid until revoked or voided by the courts and that consequently the contention of the defendants was without weight. At the temporary trial involving the leases, held here last December, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty after the senior Doherty had testified that the $100,000 which he sent to Fall by his son while the leases were being negotiated was simply the loan of one old friend to another and had nothing to do with the leases.

Trial of the bribery indictments will go over until the fall term of the District of Columbia supreme court and probably will be postponed until after the trial of Fall and Harry F. Sinclair on indictments charging a conspiracy in connection with the leasing of the Teahua mammoth oil reserve to Sinclair's mammoth oil company. The Fall-Sinclair case is set down for October 17, but some cause may arise whereby that case, already twice postponed at the request of the government will be delayed again.

(By Associated Press) PARIS, July 6.—Public interest in American trans-Atlantic aviators continued to rise today. It spread in general, and there were stories of whole flotillas of airplanes coming to Europe of Charles Levine returning home as an air passenger in the Columbia with a French pilot at the "stick", of a 4,000 mile non-stop flight from Brussels to the Belgian Congo across the heart of the Sahara, and further plans of Commander Byrd for exploring the region around the South Pole.

Stimulating this interest with numerous incidents of various kinds the most dramatic of which happened when Commander Byrd and his comrades paid a visit to the Hotel Des Invalides, home of France's war wounded. It is here that the "broken wings" of the war are spending quiet quiet days in peace.

"Miracle" Performed

The mutilated men were lined up to meet the American aviators, some of the standing, others in rolling chairs. Among the latter was Captain Charles Legendre, a paralyzed aviator who was so moved by the appearance of Byrd and by the courage the American fliers had shown, that he determined he would walk, and he did walk. With Byrd holding his arm and Noville the other he ascended the stairway leading to Napoleon's tomb and with them gazed down upon the emperor's resting place for the first time, though he had lived within a few yards of it since 1918.

Shot in Legs

Legendre in a losing fight with a German plane over the Harried terrain of Verdun was shot through both legs, which have been almost helpless since the mutilation being torn away. The moment Byrd appeared Legendre wheeled himself to the steps of the tomb. He was the first man to whom the commander was presented in the ranks of the "broken wings".

Inspired to Walk

He looked up at Commander Byrd and said: "I want to walk." Byrd, Noville and Acosta leaned over and grasped the cripple under the arms and stood him on his feet. Painfully he moved, his legs being made his way up the steps leading to the entrance of the tomb.

Went to Walk

They stood there while General Marivaux, who lost a leg in the war, told of the significance of the tomb and its torn battle flags of many historic struggles. "Now he had finished, Legendre said to Commander Byrd that though he had lived only a few yards from the tomb for nearly nine years, it was the first time he had been inside, and added feelingly: "Your courage gave me courage to try to walk again."

Will Fly Across

Charles Levine made the announcement today that although Clarence Chamberlin could not accompany him, he planned to return to the United States by air. He hopes to obtain the services of a French pilot on his prospective flight, but no date has been fixed for the attempt.

While the men who came over in the America were with the "Broken Wings", Chamberlin and Levine the guests of the International League of Aviators in their clubhouse in the Bois De Boulogne. It was there that Levine gave his check for 100,000 francs for the construction of a clubhouse for aviators at Le Bourget.

Diplomats Talk Mexican Relations

RELATIONS with Mexico which have been causing the administration some concern in the past two years will be gone over at a conference here tomorrow between President Coolidge and Ambassador Sheffield of Mexico who is expected to arrive at the summer White House early in the morning. While no new steps in the Mexican situation are planned by the president, he is interested to hear first hand how the agreement between this country and Mexico recently against the confiscation of American property there has been working out.

In his address in New York in April Mr. Coolidge disclosed that the Mexican ambassador had given him a promise that his government would guard against confiscation of American property and would protect American lives. On the basis of this conversation, the president then was optimistic over the possibility of ironing out the differences with Mexico which arose over the dispute of the oil and land laws. The conference tomorrow also is expected to accelerate a decision by Mr. Sheffield on his intention of retaining his post which rumor frequently has had it that he would quit. At the summer White House it has been explained that the ambassador had come to this country to attend the Yale commencement. Search thy own heart: what search they do in others in thyself may be.—J. The negro held the girl in front of him as a shield against the father's shots until he made his escape.

HEREFORD IRRIGATION IS PROVED TO BE SUCCESS SAYS LAND-OWNER THERE

HEREFORD, July 6.—Dr. G. W. Heard, who owns one of the best paying irrigation farms in the Hereford shallow water belt, says that we must have farmers to understand irrigation farming, the shallow water district is to be developed in the right way. "The fact that the small unit plan is the best for this section is all right, but we must remember that either a large unit plan or the small one can be made profitable, if managed the right way; but neither will be successful with a farmer who is not sold on irrigation, he says. This section holds a certain lure for the investor, once he is sold of the possibilities of the shallow water district around Hereford, but few people in Hereford have come to the full realization of the assets of the land, Dr. Heard says. The small unit plan should be boosted because it is in the reach of many small farmers while the big plan can be installed only by the farmer who are able to farm on a large scale. Both the large and small units are successful under proper management, he explains. Dr. Heard cites O. L. Rutherford as an example of what can be done with the small unit plan. Mr. Rutherford is selling on an average of 50 cents worth of products each month and is not running more than fifty cent capacity. Dr. Heard's statement is very interesting. There has been a great deal of talk lately concerning irrigation in the Hereford shallow water belt. Many have said that the big unit is too expensive and unprofitable, and that smaller units will be more economical. It seems to me that much of this talk has been a "black eye," so far irrigation is concerned. Wrong Impression Given. To the fellow who does not know, it has tended to condemn irrigation, whether a big plan or a small one, because the main difference between the two is the difference in the amount of money the farmer wants to invest. The amount he has to invest, and the more he has to invest, the more he has to hope for. The man who has money and looks for only twenty acres would be foolish to install a 300 acre unit plan; and I believe the man who wants to farm on a large scale would show equally poor judgment, if he installed an outfit that could take care of only 20 acres. The small unit plan may cost some less per acre to install and operate, but not enough difference to make one a success and the other a failure. "There are many people who could pay for a small unit, than for a big plant, and this fact makes the small unit plan of irrigation attractive, and one we should boost. But we must not lose sight of the fact that it is not the big plant or the small one that will make irrigation a success. The system or management under which it is operated is far more important. The Hereford Brand has given notice of a small unit plan to be installed and operated by O. L. Rutherford, and that it will be watched with much interest. The brand might very well state with certainty, before the plan is installed that it will be a howling success; not because it is a small unit and costs some less per acre, but because it will be O. L. Rutherford in charge. This man has had charge of a big plant, and has made it pay and pay big. It has never failed in Hereford people that irrigation has not failed here, but that many of the fellows who have managed plants have failed to take advantage of the opportunities offered. "It is nothing which is reserved for the big farmer that is operated by Mr. Rutherford, and that same thing will be true when he takes charge of the small unit plan. This man is selling from the farm an average of 50 cents worth of farm products each month, and is running at about fifty per cent capacity. "Yet this is not enough to convince many of the 'doubting Thomases' in Hereford that the Hereford shallow water belt is a big business. We should sell ourselves on this fact before we can do constructive development," he concludes.

Scot Scientist Coming To U. S. To Show "Invisible Light"

Inventor J. L. Baird and his "noctovisor" which, by means of invisible light, will transmit images through fog.

The present very effective smoke screens laid down by war vessels of little use. With the noctovisor we will penetrate the screen and see the ships back of it."

By MILTON BRONER, NEA Service Writer.

LONDON, July 5.—John L. Baird, the brilliant Scot who has invented a television apparatus, will come to New York soon for the purpose of showing that television is just as practicable across the Atlantic ocean as is wireless telephony and other discoveries which will have perhaps even greater value. Baird, for instance, with his television machine, saw that it was necessary to place the sitters in the midst of very powerful lights which were bad for the eyes. He then started to work "trying to see what could be done with the 'invisible light rays' particularly those known as the infra-red rays."

"I now place a person in a room in pitch darkness," he says. "I play 'invisible light' rays upon his face. He sees nothing. The darkness is rather blackish. But in another room, by means of the television, I project his features on a screen, complete in detail and with even gradations of light and shade. Do you see what that means in patterns in 'gas lines'?" Baird says. "A millionaire with $500,000 to spend in an extraordinary way will decide one of these days to put an 'invisible light' engine in an airplane. It will be a great success. We know that after a time aviation will have its off-hanging problem. But these are 'engine problems' to keep us busy for quite a while."

DEVELOPMENT OF THE DIESEL ENGINE IS SOUGHT TO MAKE AIRPLANE SAFER

WILEY FIELD, Va. (AP)—The study of a tiny spray of research engineers here, to put the possibility of fire from each time an airplane leaves ground. Epoch in aviation awaits the moment of an oil burning engine to replace the gasoline type. James H. Doolittle, and the Navy's Advisory Committee for Airplane Safety, established by congressional act, are working on the problem. A great majority of airplane fatalities result from explosions. Edward R. Sharpe, chief clerk of the committee's Langley Memorial Aerodrome, says that the problem is an explosion, or gasoline in contact with hot metal. The plane's operation is burned to death. "We must have an air engine consuming a non-inflammable fuel, preferably oil, but of low grade is not exact." The development of such an engine is not to come overnight. The principle of the Diesel engine, however, is being studied and the principle of the Diesel engine is being studied and the principle of the Diesel engine is being studied.

Drugs Excite the Kidneys, Drink Water

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache. The American man and woman must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. "Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative process and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health. When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, all remedies, or you are obliged to seek relief, two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have constipation, when the weather is hot, begin drinking lots of good soft water, and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Filit Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This infamously is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with Filit, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of trouble, and to prevent kidney trouble."

FLOYD FAIR OPENS ON SEPTEMBER 22

INCREASE IN SIZE OF THE EXPOSITION THIS YEAR NOW BEING PLANNED

FLOYDADA, July 6.—September 22, 23, and 24 are the dates set for the annual Floyd County Fair to be held at Floydada. Directors of the fair this year are enthusiastic over the prospects for a splendid exposition and plans are being made to entertain the largest crowd ever gathered here. One thousand copies of the fair catalogue and premium list will be mailed out to interested parties over the county this month. This will give them ample time to select their exhibits and prepare them for show purposes.

One of the best features of the 1932 fair is the community and home demonstration exhibits which attracted comment from every one who saw them. This year the management of the fair is expecting as many as fifteen community exhibits and twenty home demonstration exhibits. Liberal premiums are being offered for the best community exhibits as well as the home demonstration work. Premiums in these two departments range from twenty-five dollars to ten dollars. Every rural community exhibiting will receive as much as ten dollars.

Among the amusement features being planned for the fair are football and polo games. For the first time polo was played on the South Plains here during the 1926 fair and attracted people from all over the Panhandle. The strong Wichita Falls team is expected to be one of the competing teams.

Borger Officers Are Working Hard

HEREFORD, July 6.—Law enforcers of Borger, Texas, are taking active steps to curb the crime wave that has been sweeping the oil field, according to figures given out by C. S. Purcell, former Dear Smith county sheriff, and now a peace officer at Borger, while he was "visiting here last week. He has been in Borger 110 days, and during that time officers have made over 2,000 arrests on charges ranging all the way from vagrancy to murder. From Saturday night to Monday morning of last week 135 arrests were made in the oil field metropolis, indicating that officers there are on the job, and doing their part to enforce the laws.

Hog Industry Is Now On Increase

HEREFORD, July 6.—The raising and feeding of hogs is fast becoming one of the major industries of the Panhandle, as is revealed by the fact that G. W. Brumley, hog buyer of Hereford, paid farmers of this section more than $50,000 for porkers during the month of June. He shipped 46 cars during the month, most of which went to California, Fort Worth, Kansas City and Arizona. Mr. Brumley has been buying hogs for the past ten years, and has seen the industry develop from its infancy to one of the money crops of the Panhandle. He did better than a half million dollar business last year and the figure for 1927 will probably exceed that mark. Mr. Brumley thinks the Panhandle country holds a great future for livestock feeding, dairy farming and poultry.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The cost of living, as far as the principal articles of food are concerned, is 55.1 percent higher than it was before the war, as measured by Labor Department statistics. But is lower than it was at the peak of high prices in 1918, 1919 and 1920. In those years it was 82.2, 85.9 and 102.4 percent, respectively, higher than in 1913. Ham, tea and coffee, however, are higher now than they were in the post-war years, and potato prices have been expended only in 1920. Prices for many articles have doubled, and some have almost tripled since 1917, and some have more than doubled since 1913. Comparing the figures for May, this year, with the 1913 average, sirloin steak is shown to have increased 66.5 percent, round steak, 65.9; rib roast, 57.6; chuck roast, 46.9; plate beef, 25.6; pork chops, 73.3; bacon, 76.2; ham, 109.3; hens, 80.2; milk, 56.2; butter, 39.4; cheese, 67.4; lard, 29.2; bread, 67.9; flour, 66.7; corn meal, 70.0; rice, 21.8; potatoes, 164.7; sugar, 32.7; tea, 42.2; and coffee, 61.7. Only eggs are cheaper, having declined 2.6 percent.

It is getting so the police station is not safe for police. If they open a door they are liable to get shot. The year in some of the beer bottles captured in recent raids swelled, popped and burst the bottles. Though there were several water pipes broken yesterday while laying mains for the new gas line they were immediately repaired by the West Texas Gas company. This nothing unusual now to have to drive to the middle of the street and have to pass through a narrow place across the ditch dug to hold the gas pipe. But one does not mind this when they know they will get to cook and warm fast and coffee, 61.7. Only eggs are safe state.

NAVY PARACHUTE COACH WHO FEARED "DEATH LEAP" NOW TEACHES OTHERS

(By Associated Press) LAKELIURST, N. J.—Alva F. Starr has helped a hundred men "to die—and yet live." Starr is "professor" of higher education at the navy's only parachute school. His latest class of eight have just proven themselves competent of packing parachutes and jumping with them. And the "professor" who, in navy parlance, is chief boatswain's mate, feels justifiably proud that none of his boys has "fallen down" in his studies. Like the first hundred years, the first parachute jump is the hardest, instructor and pupils agree. It felt "like legal execution," said William Cohen, aviation machinist's mate, second class, and one of Starr's graduating class this summer. "But when I began floating," he added, "oh, boy, what grand and glorious feeling."

Remembers First Jump

Starr, veteran of 30 or more jumps from every type of aircraft, including the Shenandoah, the Los Angeles, land planes, sea planes and kite balloons, still keenly remembers his first leap into space. He had been a witness of a fatal jump a few days before his turn came. And his suspense was heightened by being forced to wait for a companion to leap. "When my companion received the signal a most hideous and indescribable expression, which I doubt is surpassed by victims of an electric chair, passed over his countenance," Starr recalls. "But grim determination drove him into attempting what he himself believed could only end in a fatality." Starr was thankful that the interval before his jump was short enough to leave him strength to release his parachute. "I must have been suffering from the same fit of desperation as my companion passed through. For as I received the signal I fiercely

WHO SAID SMILES HATH NO VALUE?

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—If you don't think smiling costs money, ask Ashton Temple. Temple put up a dramatic plea for leniency after he had admitted the charge of beer running. Court told him to take a seat while a few other cases were disposed of. It looked like Ashton would get a suspended sentence. Then he smiled. Court saw him smile. Calling Temple to the bench, the judge fined him $1,000. The smile fled.

Practical Fishing President's Way

BOSTON, (AP)—Work-fishing gets President Coolidge, if he uses worms to catch trout, has that assurance from Illus Perry, Harvard professor and former magazine editor. "The philosophy of worm-fishing," comments Perry in a new book, "Pools and Ripples," "is that of results, of having something tangible in your basket when the day's work is done. It is a plea for compromise, for getting the coat according to the season, for taking the world as it actually is. . . . Here, as elsewhere in the world, the best things are nearest, and there is no last or killing, week in and week out, as your plain garb or golf-green angleworm."

PLAN RESURRECTION

LEXINGTON, N. C.—A municipality that has not held an election for 25 years now seeks resurrection. Yadkin College is the name of the town, and but for a lawsuit over a bridge, the village might still be sleeping. Yadkin College used to be the center of a thriving little tobacco industry. Consolidation of tobacco interests throughout the country closed the Yadkin College shops.

Taxiplane Rates Cut To Cab Level

RHOOKLANDS, Eng. (AP)—Taxiplane cost the British passenger no more than hire of the humblest taxi-cab.

Two small taxiplanes can now be hired at a shilling a mile from Lieutenant Colonel G. P. Henderson, who has opened an air-taxi garage here. Experienced pilots are permitted to drive their machines themselves at the same charge.

In 1920 converted war-time airplanes were introduced as air-taxis. The charge for a two-seater was then five shillings a mile.

ONLY THREE STUDIES FOR 'IDEAL' SCHOOL

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—Choosing courses would be the least of the worries of a student in an "ideal high school" visualized by Dr. W. W. Comfort, president of Haverford College.

Only students ambitious to get to college would be admitted, and only three subjects would be taught. Dr. Comfort thinks they should be mathematics, English and Latin.

These three subjects, he says, will train the mind for anything else. He believes that three-fourths of the subjects taught in public schools are worthless in the mental development of pupils.

FINDS CHAUCER DATA

CHICAGO, (AP)—Geoffrey Chaucer, English poet, was traced as a manager of large estates and was compiler of customs and clerk of the king's works at various times during his career. Prof. John Matthews Manly of the University of Chicago has found.

Manly has returned from an inspection of Chaucerian evidence in London. He is writing a text on the poet.

BORROWED VIOLIN COMES BACK AFTER 41 YEARS

LAWRENCE, Kans. (AP)—Separated for 41 years from a violin, H. T. Martin, curator of the Dyche Museum of the University of Kansas, has recovered the long lost treasure and vowed that never again will he lend it, even to his best friend.

In 1870 the instrument was purchased by his father, William Martin of Nottingham, England, from a miller who had owned it for 40 years previous to that time.

When H. T. Martin came to the United States in 1886, he lent the instrument to an old friend of his father, Harry Flinder of Illinois. He later lost touch with Flinder and efforts to regain the violin were unavailing. He had almost forgotten the matter when he received a letter recently from a daughter of Flinder. She told Martin the violin was in the possession of a man living in Washington. He wrote immediately and the instrument came to him.

BUSHMEN JOINING DODO AND MAMMOTH

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP)—The Australian bushmen apparently are preparing to join the dodo, the passenger pigeon and the mammoth in the limbo of extinction.

This aborigine has been notable chiefly by reason of the scientific conclusion that he represents very closely the lowest standard of human culture. By comparison, the early American Indian was a model of civilization.

The decline of the bushman is noted in a report to the commerce department from Sydney. A census of the primitive population just completed by the Australian government concludes that the death rate among them is five to each 100 annually. The latest census placed their number at 22,200, a decrease of 2,110 since 1925.

Slaton Announces List Of Teachers

SLATON, July 6.—C. L. Sone, superintendent of the public schools here, announces the following teachers have been selected for the high school department during the 1927-28 term: H. M. Pevehouse, principal; Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Nash, Misses Juanita Mawdsley, Maud Dean, Amy Daniels, Nina Blair, Madge Runford, Edna Watson, Iva Cary Thelma Elvins and Mr. Kennedy. A name to head the English department has not been selected.

SPIRIT OF AIR TRAIL BLAZER HOVERS OVER HONOLULU GOAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 6 (AP)—The spirit of a gallant air man—Commander John Rodgers—hoovers, in sentiment at least, over a new goal of American aviators.

The landing field at Honolulu, an objective of present trans-Pacific fliers, was named with impressive ceremony last March for the great flier, whose leadership of a courageous attempt to make a similar flight won for him and his companions acclaim throughout the world. Commander Rodgers died in an airplane crash at Philadelphia.

John Rodgers airport comprises 113 acres of ground in the shape of an "L" giving landing or take-off space regardless of the direction of the wind. It has runways of 5,000 feet and 3,000 feet. They vary in width from 1,000 to 1,200 feet.

The field is marked with a simple shaft of granite, which is being fixed August 12 as the beginning of the year in which his prizes, totaling $25,000, would be available for a West Coast-Honolulu flight. James D. Dole, wealthy pineapple dealer, had in view weather conditions. The best weather of the year is to be expected between Aug. 12 and Sept. 15.

Of the prize money $25,000 goes to the first to make a non-stop span of the Pacific and $10,000 goes to the second successful flier.

One of the principal entrants in the contest for the Dole prize is Nicholas Misovich of San Francisco, who sailed the Pacific before he turned to aviation.

Honolulu also is a port of call on the proposed flight from Dallas, Texas to Hongkong, China, in which there are a score of entrants.

William E. Easterwood, Jr., Dallas broker, is sponsor of the long distance project. He conceived it as a memorial to his brother, Jess Easterwood, world-war flier, who was killed in a crash at Cocosolo.

The Westinghouse Automatic Iron. Correct ironing temperature... always

Really a wonderful iron

As much in advance of the electric iron which you may now consider the last word in safety and convenience, as the first electric iron was over the sad irons heated on top of the stove!

Imagine an iron that turns itself off before it gets too hot—then turns itself on again before it gets too cool!

What a help, and what a safeguard! You don't have to press and pull on fine fabrics to help out an iron that's unheated. You don't have to rush with fussy sheer things for fear your iron will get too hot.

Always there's heat just as it should be, evenly distributed all over the generous broad surface of the iron, down to the very end of the tapering point designed especially for those hard-to-iron places.

The temperature is controlled automatically by the Million Dollar Disc Thermostat—a simple bi-metal disc, nothing to go wrong, nothing to get out of order.

Come in and let us demonstrate it today while our special offer is in force.

Free This month only

With every Westinghouse Automatic Iron sold this month we will give absolutely free this all metal Kitchen Stool, 24" high. Every joint electrically welded. Rubber tipped feet. The strongest kitchen stool made.

—will take this wonderful automatic iron home. Only $1.00 a month with your electric bill for seven months. No interest. No extra charges. We give you full benefits of the regular cash price—$1.75—plus a year premium. Take advantage of this Special Offer today.

TEXAS UTILITIES CO. LIGHT POWER ICE

Panama, June 16, 1919.

The prize of $25,000 would go to the first aviator making a successful flight from Dallas to Honolulu within 144 consecutive hours, including time of stops. Two stops will be permitted, one at Honolulu and another at either Guam or Manila. An extra stop at San Francisco will be permitted under certain conditions.

The flight must be made in an American made airplane, equipped with an American made motor. It must be completed before midnight September 15, 1928, Dallas time.

The average person has only 11 minutes of actual sleep each night, according to Dr. Alfred P. Haake of New York.

LARGE PART OF WORLD WEARS AMERICAN HOSE

WASHINGTON, (AP)—An increasingly large and, presumably, important part of the world's population is wearing American hose.

Styles and colors favored in the United States are taking the fancy of more and more feminine purchasers abroad. The popularity of the American exports, the Commerce Department learns, is increasing throughout the world, rising last year to a total of 6,956,737 dozen pairs valued at $22,111,259.

Though it may seem incredible, 68 per cent of the hose exported was the cotton variety, as compared with 14 per cent made of silk.

The cotton hose represented only 38 per cent of the total value however, whereas the silk accounted for 41 per cent.

DEPOT AND NO TRAINS

LARRABEE, Wis.—A depot waits here for the railroad that never came. The station was built in the late 60's and it is two and a half miles from the nearest railway. Jason Fellet was so sure the road was going to pass his place that he built a depot on a knoll which overlooks the farm. The road went up through Brillion instead.

The railroad is sometimes known as the "wash bear," because it washes his food before eating it.

MORE FLIERS

CURTISS FIELD, I. I.—A five-fold increase in the interest displayed by the general public in aviation followed Colonel Lindbergh's flight to Paris, according to M. M. Merrill, superintendent. The average number of pupils applying for flying instructions used to be about three pupils a week he pointed out, whereas now about two apply each day.

A recent order of the French war department requires all officers of the general staff to be stenographers in order to transcribe secret documents and orders that should not be seen by secretaries.
