

JUST TALK

By JAMES HILL

Last week we paid a call on Charlie and Janet Clarke and their two daughters, and during our visit Charlie and I discussed photography, something we have both been interested in. Charlie told me he was starting a photography studio here in Knox City.

The new business venture will be known as Jancharles Studios. Commercial and portrait photography will be featured.

Charlie has bought the best equipment money will buy and should be ready for business by the time you read this.

We have always thought Knox City needed a commercial studio, and we are glad that Charlie has decided to put one in here.

The Clarkes have picked up rocks from all over the US and have a large number of rocks from all over the world. They have made numerous articles and have a complete rock cutting workshop. I don't know, but I doubt seriously if there is a place other than Dallas where you could get a diamond cut and ground with 64 facets in it! Well, you can get it done right here at home!

Charlie made a trip with me Friday to Abilene to our negative maker and was extremely interested in how they make negatives for our new litho press.

Don't be at all surprised if we run a color picture of some local kid in the paper some day.

Naturally our press isn't large enough to print it on a page, but we could run it on the little press and paste it to a sheet inside, couldn't we?

Such ideas and progressive thoughts such as these are what keeps Knox City head and shoulders above most small towns, we believe. Most of our local merchants are always striving to make this a better place in which to live and raise their families and a better business town.

Practically all our businesses have men with years and years of business experience behind them and a young man following them up with new ideas and concepts of the future.

So far it has been an unbeatable union.

Off hand the businesses here that come to mind where there is only one man or woman in it without a youngster to follow in their footsteps—they have stayed even with the times by being progressive too, and in some cases even more so than the younger men and women.

We are extremely glad we aren't the only ones who think this is true, for a tour down main street will show what we mean and a short trip through the residential section will verify the rest.

VIVA La Knox City!

Some of Knox City's biggest boosters, however are men like Roy Baker who have left our nice little community and journeyed forth to seek their fortunes elsewhere. Roy and his wife, Margie live in Ruidoso, N. M., you know, and ever now and then Roy writes us to verify some of the things he reads in the Knox County Herald. The wife wrote him a letter Tuesday to get him straight on a few of the latest things here.

Roy says he thinks the Herald is tops and doesn't make as many mistakes as some of the New Mexico dailies(?)

Gad! what newspaper they have there!

Remember the old saying, "All they want is your blood?" Well that's what the KC Blood Bank program wants April 6. They don't want it all though, just a small pint. If you can, give to this worthy cause.

Bill Wilson Found Dead Wednesday

Bill Wilson, a farmer west of Knox City, was found dead in his field, late Wednesday.

Mr. Wilson's wife, Minnie, had become worried about him when he didn't return from the field, and went to look for him. She found him near his irrigation pipe and went to a neighbor for help.

Justice of the Peace Eddie Carr and Dr. T. P. Frizzell arrived on the scene at 8:40 p.m. and said death was by natural causes. Dr. Frizzell said he apparently died of a stroke.

Funeral arrangements were pending at press time Wednesday night.

GOVERNOR PRICE DANIEL recently presented his personal contribution to patients of the Texas Rehabilitation Center at Gonales to help keep the Center in operation. The Governor urged all Texans to join with him in assisting the state's disabled citizens by mailing contributions to TRC, Box 58, Gonzales, Texas. Directors of TRC have said they will be forced to close the rehabilitation center unless sufficient funds are received within the next two weeks.

Ten Questions About Most Important Five Minutes You Can Spend Answered

Knox Citians will be called upon to donate blood to the Red Cross Regional Blood program Friday, April 6 from 12 Noon to 6 p.m. at the Methodist Educational Building.

The ten most asked questions are reprinted here for information:

1. Is my blood donation needed? — Yes—and urgently. Every year, medical science discovers new applications for blood in the fight against injury and disease. The need is constantly increasing, and the only source for blood is donations by people like yourselves.

2. How is blood used? Whole blood is used in surgical operations, to combat shock, in cases of severe burns, for victims of injury. Blood derivatives, for a great variety of purposes — among them, as a preventive medicine for measles, infectious hepatitis; for victims of hemophilia; and others.

3. Can I be sure that my blood donation will be used? — Yes! No blood is ever wasted. If blood is not used for a transfusion within 21 days, it is made into plasma or blood derivatives which keep indefinitely.

4. How much blood am I asked to give? One pint. There are approximately 12 to 15 pints in the human body, depending on weight.

5. Does it take long? No, less than an hour. The actual donation takes only about 5 minutes.

6. What precautions are taken for my protection? Before you are allowed to donate, doctors and trained nurses will check your temperature, pulse, hemoglobin, blood pressure, and medical history.

7. How long does it take the body to replace the pint donation? The fluid is replaced within a few minutes. The iron content requires several days for replacement through food.

8. How many blood groups (types) are there? There are four main groups of blood: A, B, AB, and O. Each is either Rh positive or negative.

9. Do patients pay for blood? No one has paid for Red Cross blood. (Hospitals make a reasonable charge for crossmatching and administering the transfusion and share a part of the blood center's processing cost).

Moreover, residents of participating counties in the Red Cross Regional Blood Program can receive blood without charge even in other areas, if the hospital will accept the blood. Be sure to notify your community or county blood program chairman or the Red Cross Blood Center in Wichita Falls if you become hospitalized away from home and need blood.

10. Am I eligible to give blood? Yes—If you're between 18 and 59 and pass the physical check-up. (Written permission of a parent is required for unmarried persons under 21). Blood can be donated at 8-week intervals, but no more often than five times a year.

REMINDER—It is advisable not to eat for four hours prior to making a donation. Too much fat content in your blood may cause a reaction in the patient who receives the transfusion.

You may drink black coffee, soft drinks and fruit juices and eat dry toast (no butter), with jam or jelly, boiled or poached eggs.

Lion President Gerald Averitt called upon Supt. of Schools E. A. Youngblood, program chairman for the month of March, to introduce the program.

Youngblood said he had appreciated being program chairman for March and had enjoyed having students of the school as his program. "Today I would like to introduce our science teacher, Mr. Winchester."

Mr. Winchester said Tommy Scott, one of his students, would show his project he had shown at the Wichita Falls Science fair and in which he had placed high in the first division.

Tommy's project was the skeletal development in the Hamster.

On display were the bones of hamsters from two hours after birth to the age of maturity.

The project is to show the bone construction and growth of hamsters, and he told the club the process he used in making the flesh transparent and the bones red.

Tommy said this was a great benefit in animal husbandry, also.

Although Tommy will graduate this year and his project will end, he said Ronnie White, another outstanding science student here, will take over the project and enlarge upon it.

Ronnie plans to study other animals and poultry specimens Tommy said.

Tommy Scott Shows Lions Club Science Project

Knox City Lions Club held their regular meeting Wednesday at the Educational Building of the First Methodist Church.

Zeb Smith announced that the Lions Club would have a team for the volleyball tournament here April 5, 6, and 7, and asked the members to be on hand Wednesday night at the Junior High gym to practice.

Smith said there would be two trophies awarded to the best mens team and the best womens team.

Dr. Charles Markward reminded the club that the Knox County Blood Bank would be in Knox City April 6 to solicit blood for the new blood program started here last year.

He said the program had proved to be extremely successful, and that to his knowledge no one had been called in the middle of the night to donate blood.

"There have been 30 to 40 pints of blood sent to other hospitals for patients of Knox County," he said.

Dr. Markward said persons who will donate blood are asked to make appointments at their convenience and that if they are made, they will not be detained very long.

Mrs. Herbert Bellinghausen and Mrs. Sam Clonts are co-chairmen of the drive.

Lion President Gerald Averitt called upon Supt. of Schools E. A. Youngblood, program chairman for the month of March, to introduce the program.

Youngblood said he had appreciated being program chairman for March and had enjoyed having students of the school as his program. "Today I would like to introduce our science teacher, Mr. Winchester."

Mr. Winchester said Tommy Scott, one of his students, would show his project he had shown at the Wichita Falls Science fair and in which he had placed high in the first division.

ASC Office Explains New System Of Measuring Cotton And Soil Conserving

The new system of measuring cotton has many farmers scratching their head. The question of "how are you going to plant your cotton" is quite common among farmers this year.

Several factors should be considered according to Arche Lieb of the Soil Conservation Service.

Which way will make the most profit? The first thought of many factors is to use a skip-row pattern that will spread the cotton over the entire farm. However, this type of farming has many disadvantages. Some of these are hidden. One of these "hidden" disadvantages is the effect this type of farming has on the soil. Skip-row cotton returns very little plant residue to the soil. The soil becomes more depleted each year when nothing is returned except cotton stalks.

As the land becomes depleted profits go down. Crop failure is another disadvantage of a one crop system. If something happens to the cotton crop the entire years income is lost. By growing more than one crop the farmer increases his chances for having some return each year. As the old saying goes, "It's best not to put all your eggs in one basket."

A second factor to consider is the type of soil. Increased farming costs have made it unprofitable to farm cotton on poor soil. Recent studies with farmers have shown that unless a field will average about 100 pounds of lint cotton per acre, there will be nothing left after expenses are paid. The rising costs of machinery, repairs and labor makes it necessary to keep the land built up in order to make profitable yields. Every farmer should take a second look before planting cotton on steep, shallow soil. The expenses may be more than the income.

Lieb stated that a balanced cropping system can be carried out in several different ways. Some may prefer to plant the cotton in a skip-row pattern that will allow them to come in later and plant a second crop in the blank rows. This has worked well for several farmers in the district. Crops such as sorghums, cowpeas, guar, small grains and winter peas have been used. Others may wish to plant their cotton on less acres by using solid planting or a two-in and one-out pattern.

By so doing they can use the remainder of their land for growing another crop such as sorghum or small grain. These crops can then be rotated so that all the land receives adequate amounts of plant residue to keep it productive.

Crop rotations and proper land use are essential to prosperous farming. The Wichita-Braos Soil Conservation District encourages every farmer to practice conservation farming.

Following the footprints of Jesus during this lenten season, we see Jesus coming to John to be baptized. John was preaching on the banks of the Jordan river. We hear him quoting the prophet Esaias, saying: "The voice of one crying in the wilderness, prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his path straight."

Many were baptized of him in Jordan, confessing their sins. Then John cried, "I indeed baptize you with water into repentance; but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear; He shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire. This was the new dispensation the Father was bringing in, the dispensation of the Holy Spirit, which will be until the second coming of Jesus. To be able to stand true, we must obey the commands of Jesus to wait until we are endowed with His power from on high. In waiting with faith believing we find it streaming from the ever flowing fountain.

He was commanding officer of the 512th Transportation Port Company and served in Greenland as well as the states. At the time of his release from active duty, he held the rank of First Lieutenant.

Gunter was first employed by the Extension Service as associate county agent in Hale County in 1954-56. He resigned to work for a commercial concern but re-entered the Extension Service on Sept. 1, 1959, as agent in farm management for District 2. He served in this capacity until his transfer to his present position as area agronomist in 1960.

SOIL ADDITIVES AND CONDITIONERS—

As expected in a rapidly changing agriculture, new products such as soil conditioners continue to appear on the market. Some additives and conditioners may have merit while others are of questionable value or may be entirely worthless. Such materials are sometimes greatly overpriced. Benefits to be derived from their use may be stated in vague or misleading terms and statements may be based on mere opinion or pure fancy. It is always hazardous to purchase a material that bears no guarantee as to its formulation. By not stating what is in the product the seller is in no way liable, and existing laws such as those governing fertilizers have no jurisdiction over the manufacture or seller. The primary soil conditioner for this area is organic matter and if your soil contains a modest one per cent organic matter this is equal to 20,000 lbs. per surface six inches. We have known bacteria deficiency, and it is estimated that there are 400 to 500 lbs. of live

Gets Special Training

Army Pvt. Richard D. Melvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Melvin, Knox City, is receiving eight weeks of advanced individual infantry training with the 100th Division at Fort Chaffee, Ark. The training is scheduled to end April 6.

Melvin is receiving instruction in infantry unit combat tactics and the handling and firing of infantry weapons.

The 100th Division, a Kentucky Army Reserve unit, was recalled to active duty and assigned to the reopened Army Training Center at Fort Chaffee. More than 1,000 officers and enlisted men have been assigned to the center which is now giving basic, advanced individual and special training to Regular Army, Army Reserve and Army National Guard personnel.

The 22-year-old soldier entered the Army in November, 1961 and completed basic training at Fort Carson, Colo.

Melvin is a 1958 graduate of Knox City High School.

bacteria in an acre furrow of soil. The population rises and falls depending on the amount of residue returned, moisture, and temperature. Contrary to some claims made for conditioners there is no known practical procedure for changing soil texture since texture refers to the size of the individual soil particles. Structure of clay soils can be improved by the addition of certain materials but the cost may run as high as $400. per acre —It's your money—consider the products carefully before buying and do not expect them to substitute for the plant food elements commonly obtained thru commercial fertilizers.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Capital newspapermen quizzed candidates for lieutenant governor at a Sigma Delta Chi dinner and found wide variety in the answers.

At a prior meeting the professional journalism society had quizzed the gubernatorial candidates.

Big news of the session was the unanimous opposition to legalizing pari-mutuel betting on horse races. Texas voters will have an opportunity to express their own views on this subject at the May 5 primaries.

Rep. V. E. "Red" Berry of San Antonio got this issue listed on both the Democratic and Republican party headquarters with petitions signed by more than 200,000 persons. Petition asked the legislature to give the people an opportunity to vote on pari-mutuel betting.

Further questions to the candidates at the newsmen's dinner revealed diverse opinions on repeal of the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting. Four favored repeal; two opposed it. Senator Preston Smith and Bill Hayes were the opponents.

Candidates present at the meeting were Senators Preston Smith, Jarrard Secrest, Crawford Martin and Robert Baker, all democrats, and Bill Hayes and Kellis Dibrell, republicans.

Speaker James A. Turman, the seventh candidate, was absent.

Former Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey moderated the discussion. He closed the session with a comment that most people underestimate the importance of the job of lieutenant governor. Because all state policy is made by the Legislature, the lieutenant governor is of prime importance. He presides over the Senate, names the Senate Committees, and decides which committees will handle bills. Thus he has almost absolute control over the course of legislation—which is state policymaking.

POLL LISTS HIGH—It seems like there's a record number of candidates running for state and national office this year. There also appears to be a record number of potential voters.

A recent count showed 2,373,857 Texans paid poll taxes or filed for exemptions this year.

That's 218,212 more eligible voters than last year.

VISIT IN FORT WORTH
Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Woodward and family visited her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Corley, and her sisters and their families in Fort Worth last week end.

With 15 county totals still due at the State Comptroller's office, including some big cities, the list may exceed the record-setting 2,594,254 who paid to go to the polls in the 1960 presidential election.

All poll-tax payers who show up at the May 5 primaries will answer the big question: Do they want to keep the poll tax as a voting requirement?

Their answers on primary tickets of both parties should be a representative decision on the long-battled subject.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES—Annelina County Attorney Dan Brazil asked Attorney General Will Wilson whether a precinct chairman who is elected in a May primary can take office immediately.

He was told that even though a man becomes precinct chairman without a runoff, he must wait until the Saturday after his county run-off election before he assumes his new duties.

Attorney General also ruled that the "banking escheat" law calls for bankers to advertise for missing depositors in May of this year.

He also interpreted the criminal code to read that a justice of the peace cannot collect a $4 trial fee if the case at hand is dismissed.

EGG STANDARDS UPGRADED — Benefits of the crackdown on egg grade violations in 1958 were reaped by Texas housewives. Number of below-quality or inedible eggs reported for the last quarter of 1961 was only 1.2 per cent.

Agriculture Commissioner John White said this incidence is "the lowest in history for Texas and probably as low as a level ever

Uncle Ben from Benjamin says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb's preacher come by the country store Saturday night, announced he was plum wore out from working on his report. Preachers in his Church, he explained, has to fill out an annual report by the end of March ever year telling all the things they done during the past year. He says if they keep adding pages to it, pritty soon the only thing he'll have to report is that he has been busy filling out reports.

But the good parson allowed as how his report was bringing to light some mighty interesting things. Fer instant, he said, it showed they had 309 Committee meetings last year and he is hoping they will git a certificate fer this achievement. He figgered them 309 Committee meetings come to around 1,342 man-hours and the Bishop might even award the congregation a bronze plack.

Another thing his report showed, he told the fellers, was how pore most of the folks is in his community. He said the Good Book orders us to give according to how much the Lord has prospered us and, according to his church records, they had one of the worst depressions last year since Noah and the flood. Fact is, he said, he was thinking about taking food baskets to some of his members. A bunch of families in his congregation didn't give a cent during the year, so he figgers they must be in bad shape.

Fer instant, he said, one member of his Choir ain't give a nickel to the church in three year. The good Parson said he drove by this feller's house the other night to ask if he could help him out a little till he got on his feet, but he didn't stop because he saw in the driveway where somebody else had done been by and give him a new car.

He told the fellers they was a chancet the Bishop might promote him to a bigger church on account of his fine annual report. He said his report showed he had not only preached 104 sermons and attended 309 Committee meetings, but he was serving as Athletic Director of the Sunday School and was head coach of the horseshoe and ping-pong teams.

Country preachers, he allowed, don't have to worry this time of year about their income tax report. Fer that, he said, he was thankful. He claims he takes the report ever year, signs it at the proper places, and writes a note at the top saying he's a country preacher. In case that ain't enough, he puts down how much salary he was pledged, puts right under it how much he got, and subtracts. He says he's showed a loss fer 30 year straight, ever since he took up preaching.

Yours truly,
Uncle Ben
