Explorer VI Roars Into Space

PLUCKY SMILE—Barbara Rowe, 9, of Sunnyside, Wash., smiles gently as she faces another long series of skin grafts at a Seattle hospital. Barbara has already undergone several skin graft operations for burns suffered over 50 per cent of her body when her clothes caught fire at her home last April. The girl is able to use only the fingers on her left hand. She is surrounded by dolls sent her by well-wishers who head of her plight. (AP Wirephoto)

Kauai Island Is Lashed By Hurricane

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

HONOLULU (AP) — A howling hurricane turned the encnanted movie island of Kauai into a mass of devastation today.

It blew down houses, unroofed others, knocked out communications and power, flooded some sections, left roads impassable, cut water supply to some communities.

The rare mid - Pacific storm known as Hurricane Dot, swirling up on Kauai from the south, hit it with 75-miles-an-hour winds and torrential rain, and moved northeast out to the open sea where it began to disintegrate.

Damage could run into millions. Communications, hampered by knocked-out communications, waited for complete full assessment of damage, especially to the sugar and pineapple plantations.

The storm first struck Kauai Wednesday night after dealing a glancing blow to the islands of the Hawaiian chain only, glancing blows in the previous two days.

By early today, the Weather Bureau said, "The worst is definitely over."

The island is the northernmost of the Hawaiian archipelago and the locale of the movies "South Pacific," "Beachhead," "Pagan Love Song," and others.

It was the only island to feel the full force of Hurricane Dot, much the same as it bore the brunt of the last hurricane to hit Hawaii early in December 1957.

It has 28,000 inhabitants. Defense officials attributed the lack of casualties to advance notice and preparation.

British Queen Expects Third Child

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II is going to have another baby, her third, probably in January or February.

A Buckingham Palace spokesman announced today that a royal baby is on the way, disclosing the 33-year-old Queen was pregnant during her long and tiring tour of Canada this summer.

The spokesman said the Queen has rejected suggestions that she cancel the tour because "she knows the disappointment it would have caused."

The birth will be the first in more than 100 years to a reigning British sovereign. Queen Victoria gave birth to Princess Beatrice in 1857.

Prince Charles, heir to the throne, was born Nov. 14, 1948, and Princess Anne Aug. 15, 1950. Queen Elizabeth's coronation was June 2, 1953.

The Queen returned to London Sunday from Canada. She called in her doctors, Sir John Weir and Lord Evans, the next day. Only then was her pregnancy confirmed, the spokesman said. Since then she has spent nearly all her time resting.

After her doctors confirmed that she was pregnant, the Queen stayed close to home — Buckingham Palace. But Thursday she left for Balmoral Castle, her home in the Scottish highlands, with her husband, Prince Philip, and the children.

The Queen was smiling as she boarded the train for Scotland. She appeared far from exhausted despite the rigors of her 45-day tour of Canada that also took her to Chicago.

The arrival of a new royal baby will change the line of succession to the throne. It now is Prince Charles, Princess Anne, Princess Margaret, the Queen's 28-year-old sister.

Should the new child be a boy, he will be No. 2, coming ahead of Princess Anne. If a girl, she will come after Princess Anne, but before Princess Margaret.

A palace statement said, "The Queen, who has been seen by her medical advisers since returning from Canada, is stated to be in good health."

The news was given out by Cmdr. Richard Colville, the Queen's press secretary.

"Both the Queen and Prince Philip," Colville said, "have always been anxious to have more children—and they are very happy about it."

142-Lb. Load Is Fired

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON AP — Explorer VI satellite is in orbit and will remain aloft for more than a year, the Space Administration announced this afternoon.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A powerful Thor - Able rocket carrying a 142 - pound "paddlewheel" satellite roared aloft today in an apparently successful launching.

All three stages ignited properly, the Air Force announced, 15 minutes after the spectacular blastoff at 9:23 a.m. at Cape Canaveral.

If successful, the satellite could open a new era of larger, more advanced space research vehicles.

The satellite, to be called Explorer VI if it orbits, contained a flying laboratory to investigate many mysteries of space.

The three-stage rocket was aimed at a highly elliptical orbit that would take it as far as 23,000 miles into space and as close as 160 miles to the earth.

Because of this eccentric course, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said it will be hours before it can be determined whether the satellite achieved orbit. The announcement will be made in Washington.

Fifteen major experiment devices were crammed into the spheroid-shaped satellite which is 26 inches in diameter and 29 inches long. Its main mission was to study the radiation belts that surround the earth. Knowledge of this potentially deadly radiation is a key to manned space travel.

The satellite was called a paddlewheel because of four solar vanes designed to pop out from its sides.

These paddles were designed to convert the sun's rays into electrical energy to power radio transmitter batteries. If successful, future deep space probe rockets will employ this device to send information back from millions of miles in space.

A five-pound "kicker" rocket rode at the base of the satellite. If needed, this was designed to be fired by a ground signal. Scientists planned to use it only if they determined that the satellite would burn up in the earth's atmosphere.

The kicker would add 50 to 100 miles to the payload's low point.

The satellite was expected to make only one orbit every 12 hours because of the long journey into space. This compares with an average of two hours for most earlier satellites.

The paddlewheel satellite carried the most comprehensive scientific package ever sent aloft by the United States. This symbolizes the complex type of research planned for future space exploration with bigger vehicles. More powerful rockets now being developed, such as Thor-Delta, Atlas-Able, Vega, Centaur and Saturn, will make this advance possible.

The paddlewheel devices were grouped in six main categories:

1. Three instruments to measure the extent and intensity of the Van Allen radiation belts that hover over the earth at altitudes between 1,300 and possibly up to 52,000 miles.

Although the satellite's intended apogee is only 23,000 miles, these instruments could record radiation millions of miles above the Van Allen band.

2. The solar paddle system. During launch the four 3-foot-long paddles were folded under the satellite like a bird's wings. They were to spring out and lock in place after a plastic jacket covering the payload was jettisoned.

The arms were placed to receive maximum sunlight with none in the shadow of the others. The solar cell system was built to recharge the batteries during the satellite's lifetime, expected to be about a year.

3. A 2½-pound scanning device — something like a television camera — which was to relay a crude picture of the earth's cloud to earth as radio signals. They could aid in weather forecasting.

4. Four devices to study the behavior of radio waves in an effort to learn more about space communications. From 50 to 2,000 miles above the earth is an area called the ionosphere. This area

Courthouse, Jail Projects Urged Here

The Chamber of Commerce civic affairs committee, in a meeting held yesterday afternoon, went on record in favor of asking the county commissioners court to take prompt action toward several improvements.

Needed improvements suggested by the committee were a new county jail atop the courthouse and the remodeling of the courthouse.

There was discussion by the committee after a report by a subcommittee composed of Gene Dulaney, chairman, Walter Hales, John T. Lynch, Jr., and Mel Gilbert. The sub-committee, originally appointed to survey the jail, brought recommendations on the new jail and on other courthouse needs.

There has been considerable discussion among county officials and other citizens in recent months about need for a new jail and additional courthouse facilities. In the courthouse, the county clerk's office and county tax assessor's office are out of space to expand, while their records are expanding by the month. Some state offices formerly housed in the courthouse are no longer there because of lack of space. Several other offices are out of space and out of room for any expansinon.

There are no dormitory facilities in the courthouse for housing criminal case juries.

Several theories have been advanced recently as to what should be done to relieve the situation. There has been some discussion about adding to and remodeling and refacing the present courthouse, as well as discussion concerning the possibility of a new courthouse. The commissioners court has not yet gone on record for any specific proposal.

In yesterday's committee meeting there was discussion about the remodeling and refacing of the courthouse at Seminole, where more was added to the building at the same time at reasonable expense.

The committee plans further study on the jail-courthouse question.

At the committee meeting, the panel heard a report from Wayland G. Hoit, on the establishment of the 132nd District Court here as a permanent court. The court was temporary and due to expire but it was made a permanent court after the chamber committee and Rep. Renal B. Rosson of Snyder took action earlier this year.

D. R. Scott, chairman of the chamber committee, read a report submitted to the committee by Ed Harbough, who had been head of a sub-committee on civil defense but who has moved from Snyder. The sub-committee is making plans for a program to make residents more conscious of civil defense. Members of that sub-committee are Herbert Feather, B. F. Darby and J. D. Hinton.

Robert R. Patterson reported to the committee on the status of the attempt to secure an office of the Texas Employment Commission. Patterson said the application made by Snyder two years ago for the office is officially on file with the TEC. While Snyder meets qualifications for such an office, the apparent delay in securing one is lack of enough federal funds in the TEC budget at this time.

Texas Youth Kills Widow

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—A 20-year-old sailor has confessed killing a wealthy widow who was "sort of a benefactress" to him, police say.

Wade Zack Brown of Pampa, Tex., told of shooting Mrs. Lela Helmis Peet, 69, as she sat in her living room Tuesday night, Capt. Robert Presley said. The bullet was fired through a window.

Presley said Brown told him that Mrs. Peet had loaned him $400 to buy a car and that he still owed her $340. He said he went to her home to ask an extension of the loan but she refused.

Then, according to Presley, Brown said he stole $43 from Mrs. Peet's purse while she was out of the room and shot her from outside because he knew he would be suspected of the theft.

Brown said he met Mrs. Peet through a shipmate, the son of one of her neighbors.

Weak Front Moves Across State Today

By The Associated Press

Temperatures dipped and thunderheads built up as a weak cold front moved through Northwest Texas Friday.

The front slipped slowly southeastward during the night and extended along a line from Lubbock to Childress at dawn.

Amarillo reported an early morning thundershower and other showers fell as the front passed through the Panhandle and South Plains. Moisture generally was light, however, and the rainfall slackened after sunrise.

Clear skies covered most of the rest of the state, with Texarkana, Austin and Galveston the exceptions. Each had partly cloudy weather at dawn.

Long range forecasts call for more of the hot, sticky weather which has blanketed the state through the week. Thundershowers are likely in East Texas, while North Central, Northwest and Southwest Texas can expect occasional thunderstorms through the middle of next week, the Weather Bureau said.

The only measurable rainfall for the 24 hours ending at 6 p.m. Thursday was .97 inch at El Paso, .94 inch of which fell in a predawn thundershower.

Presidio was the hottest of the hot spots Thursday with a maximum temperature of 108 degrees. Laredo, Mineral Wells and Wichita Falls had 101 and Alice, Cotulla and Childress had 100.

Other readings ranged down to 88 at Galveston.

Panel Slaps At Pentagon; Funds Slashed

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today criticized Pentagon construction policies as it whacked $278,187,300 from the $1,563,200,000 requested for military building programs for the current fiscal year.

The $1,284,012,700 it recommended, subject to House action next week, is about 18 per cent less than the President requested to finance hundreds of construction projects in the United States and abroad.

The committee gave the Air Force $777,066,600 of the 915 million it sought. The Navy's request for 253 million was cut to $188,637,000. The Army's bid for 372 million was trimmed to $272,564,100.

The committee approved all funds requested for air defense missile facilities and electronic ground environment facilities, but voted to prohibit the use of funds for Bomarc missile sites in the northwestern part of the country between the Great Lakes region and the Pacific. It said the funds should be withheld until consideration has been given to moving these installations farther north.

The committee cited an empty Air Force hospital at Evereux, France, constructed recently on a high priority basis, as an example of "the piecemeal and short-range planning which has marked this program."

It told the Defense Department to standardize housing programs as much as possible to save costly architect-engineer fees. It questioned the policy of allowing dependents of service personnel to reside in highly critical overseas areas.

The state-by-state breakdowns for Texas included:

Army: Ft. Bliss, $8,000,000; Ft. Hood, $585,000; Ft. Sam Houston, $1,000,500; Killeen Base, $25,000.

Air Force: Amarillo AFB, $214,000; Bergstrom AFB, Austin, $170,000; Biggs AFB, El Paso, $259,000; Carswell AFB, Fort Worth, $1,327,000; Dyess AFB, Abilene, $217,000; James Connally AFB, Waco, $216,000; Lackland AFB, $121,000; Perrin AFB, Sherman, $408,000; Sheppard AFB, Wichita Falls, $89,000.

Army National Guard: Martindale, $210,000; Gainesville, $111,000; Houston No. 2, $264,000; El Campo, $104,000.

Army Reserve: Alice, $28,000; Bay City, $28,000; Brownsville, $152,000; Galveston, $152,000; Marshall, $28,000; McAllen, $28,000; Odessa, $152,000; Rio Grande City, $28,000; San Marcos, $152,000; Sinton, $152,000.

Navy Reserve: Beaumont, $65,000; Dallas, $348,000; Galveston, $204,000; Kingsville, $35,000.

Air Force National Guard: Grand Prairie, $1,491,000.

Air Force Reserve: Ellington $703,000.

Among projects specifically turned down by the committee were these:

Texas: Webb AFB, $1,712,000 for air defense facilities; Sheppard AFB, unspecified amount for hospital; Ft. Sam Houston, $510,000 for aviation facilities; Amarillo AFB, $1,040,000 for technical training facilities; Lackland AFB, $1,186,000 for technical training facilities; Webb AFB, $1,712,000 for unspecified air training projects.

Houston Man Wins Acquittal In Slaying

HOUSTON (AP)—Vester Lyman Morris won acquittal from an all-male jury Thursday on charges of slaying a man he accused of breaking up his home.

Morris, 31-year-old nurseryman, was accused of shooting to death Bill O. Parker, 38, last March 19 as Parker sat with Morris' wife in a parked car.

The jury deliberated about five hours.

Huge Search Continues For Bank Robber

MINERAL WELLS (AP)—One of the biggest manhunts in the history of this West Central Texas area continued today as officers sought a daring Negro gunman who robbed a branch bank of $30,000 Thursday.

Helicopters, military police, highway patrolmen, soldiers and county and city officers joined in the search.

The object of the hunt was the sport shirt-wearing gunman who forced two women employes of the bank at Camp Wolters to hand over the money, then marched them into the vault and locked the door.

He escaped by auto, officers said.

The women, Mrs. Betty Jo Trigg and Mrs. Audrey Anastas, sounded the alarm with a buzzer in the vault connected to the adjutant's office, two blocks away.

The bank, a facility of the First National Bank of Mineral Wells, is in the center of the Army base at the edge of town.

Mrs. Trigg said the Negro—about six feet tall and wearing a green sport shirt, khaki pants and a baseball cap—flashed a silver revolver and told her, "This is a holdup. Don't make me shoot you."

The man scooped up the money and forced the women into the vault. They were freed by Maj. Leland Woods, the adjutant, after the buzzer sounded.

Dedication Is Set

WESLACO (AP) — The new office and laboratory building for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station here is to be dedicated Oct. 5. The facilities will house research and extension personnel.

Smokes With Flavor Seen

LOS ANGELES (AP)—If you like to play the gracious host, and your guests sometimes ask for cigarettes, you may shortly find yourself inquiring: "Cinnamon or chocolate?"

Or maybe: "How about trying a new-mown hay?"

The prospect of flavored cigarettes was discussed at a news conference Thursday by George Weissman, vice president and director of marketing for a major tobacco company, Philip Morris.

"The cigarette industry," he said, "is in the process of revolution. There is a possibility that the cigarettes we smoked a scant five years ago may become obsolete.

"The American public has let us know they will buy flavor. To that end, many cigarette companies are right now testing cinnamon flavor, chocolate — even new-mown hay."

No Change Sought In Bracero Wages

WESLACO (AP) — The Department of Labor says it has recommended no change from last week in the price to be paid braceros for picking cotton in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Ed McDonald, regional director, said wage findings effective Aug. 6, in Cameron, Hidalgo, Willacy and Starr Counties, are $2.30 per hundredweight, irrigated and dry land.

Ike, Meany Urge Passage Of Opposing Labor Curb Bills

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Criticizing Congress' actions on a labor bill thus far, President Eisenhower called Thursday night for a new law strong enough to end racketeering in labor-management relations.

Speaking out as the House headed toward a bitter battle over the issue next week, Eisenhower addressed a nationwide radio-television.

"I am talking about a reform law—a law to protect the American people from the gangsters, racketeers and other corrupt elements that have invaded the labor-management field," he declared.

A bill the Senate passed last April "is not effective," Eisenhower said, and a revised bill prepared by the House Labor Committee is even less so.

He put his prestige behind a substitute sponsored by Reps. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga) and Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich), and said that bill offers "a good start toward a real labor reform law."

A few hours later AFL-CIO President George Meany said in a radio broadcast that the bill Eisenhower backed is a "blunderbuss that would inflict grievous harm on all unions," whether they are corrupt or clean.

Most labor unions are opposing even the bills Eisenhower described as ineffective and are backing still another bill which Meany said is aimed at "getting rid of crooks, instead of getting rid of unions." It is sponsored by Rep. John F. Shelley (D-Calif).

Reaction ran the full scale between Eisenhower's and Meany's views. In between were many supporters of the Senate-passed bill who contend that unless the House passes something along that line, a Senate-House disagreement will kill all such legislation. The Senate bill was sponsored by Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-NC).

Labor's spokesmen called the President's stand anti-union. They said he had been taken in by catch phrases. Republicans hailed his demand for "truly effective" legislation as a reflection of public opinion. Democrats demanded equal air time to reply to Eisenhower's arguments.

Eisenhower emphasized the legislation he asks has nothing to do with wages or strikes or a new approach to collective bargaining.

A cleanup of crookedness and corruption "is not a partisan or political issue," Eisenhower said.

"It is above any partisan political consideration," he added. "It affects every American, regardless of occupation, regardless of political affiliation."

He described as "a national disgrace" the evidence of wrongdoing disclosed by the Senate Labor-Management Committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark).

In outlining the aims of effective labor legislation, Eisenhower stressed particularly the need for bans on coercive or "blackmail" picketing of employers, and on secondary boycotts involving third parties to a labor dispute; for enforcement of democratic rights of of union members; and for giving the states authority to settle labor disputes which now are turned aside by federal agencies.

Of coercive picketing and secondary boycotts, which bring pressure against employers not involved in labor disputes, he asserted: "I want that sort of thing stopped. So does America."

In a bid for public pressure on Congress for legislation meeting his specifications, he said: "It is my earnest hope that Congress will be fully responsive to an overwhelming national demand."

Seldom has Eisenhower resorted to the stark terms which studded his talk to the nation.

Unless the people speak up, "crooks and racketeers could prevail," he said. "Oppressive practices," "blackmail," "abuses of power" and "racketeering" were some of the other terms the President applied to the targets of his criticism.

At Least Eight Killed In Blast

ROSEBURG, Ore. (AP)—A dynamite truck parked beside a burning building exploded with mammoth force early today. At least eight persons were known dead.

The blast shattered buildings and spread a raging fire over the downtown area of the city of 12,200.

Hospitals held 52 persons, at least three of them critically hurt. Physicians and blood plasma were flown from nearby Grants Pass.

The blast and fire virtually leveled six blocks of warehouses, small businesses and residences.

Debris was spread through another six blocks, including the heart of the business district.

The fire was controlled some four hours after the blast came at 1:20 a.m.

There was a crater 50 feet wide and 20 feet deep where the truck, from Pacific Powder Co., Tenino, Wash., had stood.

The truck blew up moments after the fire siren had sounded the alarm for a blaze at the Gerretsen Building Supply Co. building, beside which the driver had parked it while he got a cup of coffee.

The driver, George Rutherford, Chehalis, Wash., said he was walking back to it and was knocked down by the blast. He was hospitalized, with injuries believed not critical.

At the height of the fire the six-story Umpqua Hotel's 65 guests and employes were evacuated.

The manager, Dick Smith, said that at his home, two miles away, windows were blown out.

First of the dead identified was Asst. Fire Chief Roy McFarland.

As the flames spread they caught a building beside which a railroad tank car of propane gas was parked. After early fears that it might explode, firemen said they had it cooled down and danger was averted.

Roseburg, 185 miles south of Portland, is at the heart of the Douglas fir lumber industry. Lumber and building supplies occupied several buildings in the stricken area.

The National Guard was called out to prevent looting.

Surveys of damage showed serious losses distant from the blast. Jewelry store display windows, three blocks from the blast, were thrown into the street. Bank doors were blown in.

Former Conquering Hero At Odds With Greek Officials

By VASSO MINGOS

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Five months ago George Grivas returned to Athens a conquering hero. The government promoted him from colonel to lieutenant general and Greek girls and boys danced in the streets.

On Cyprus, he had led the underground EOKA organization of Greek Cypriots against the island's British rulers. His homecoming to Athens followed the signing in Zurich and London of accords by Greece, Turkey, Britain and the Cypriots, granting independence to Cyprus.

Now controversy is swirling around Grivas, and he is at odds with the Greek government, which once supported him, and several Cypriot leaders, including Archbishop Makarios, the head of the Greek Cypriot community.

Greek politics appear to be in for a stormy time.

Grivas lashed out against the London-Zurich agreements. His words seemed to confirm what most Greeks already thought — that the former guerrilla leader had decided to enter Greek politics.

Grivas insists he does not want to get into politics. But he adds: "If the fatherland calls me, I shall once again obey the call."

And he was acting like a politician. When Premier Constantine Karamanlis struck back at him, Grivas tried to get in the last word.

For the present, the Grivas-government dispute is causing only a ripple on the political scene. Parliament is in summer recess. Many politicians who might have been expected to jump into the fight are on holiday abroad or in the hinterlands.

But come autumn and the resumption of Parliament, the controversy could blow up into a major storm.

Ever since Grivas returned from Cyprus, he has been sought out by leaders of many opposition parties. Each sees him as a man with a name that could bring victory at the polls.

If he agrees to lead an opposition group, his popular appeal would make him a formidable challenger of Karamanlis.

There are some in Athens who feel his opposition to the Cyprus accords will do him no good. They believe the Greek people are tired of the strife of Cyprus and do not want to see it revived.

But there is no doubt the name of Grivas still stirs Greeks. Athens newspapers immediately started taking sides in the dispute.

Eleftheria, a newspaper backing the opposition Liberal party, said Grivas' criticism had confirmed "that the agreements constituted a conspiracy against the Cypriot people . . . (and) were the fruits of the weakness of the present (Karamanlis) government."

Ethnos, a big independent afternoon newspaper, noted Grivas' statement that he had not been consulted about the agreements and therefore could not be held responsible for them. The paper reprinted Grivas' proclamation to his EOKA men after the accords were signed.

He said: "Those who will not accept the agreements . . . will not only divide the Cypriot people but probably the entire (Greek) nation. . . . As regards myself, although this solution is not the one expected, it is preferable to national dissension. . . ."

By last month Athens was full of talk that Grivas had turned against the accords and opposed the way Archbishop Makarios was implementing them. On July 26 Makarios in a sermon referred to "circles in Athens who for their own purposes are trying to split the Cypriot people and create confusion."

Several days later Grivas spoke up. He said he wanted to disassociate himself from the accords "in view of the unpardonable tendency to retreat before British and Turkish demands."

Karamanlis countered with a claim that Grivas was sowing discord. Grivas said he would not be muzzled. The Karamanlis government followed with an announcement that it stood by the accords.

Reports circulated that authorities on Cyprus were concerned that the controversy might upset the independence agreement and spark new strife on the island. But most Cypriot leaders appeared to be backing Makarios.

4th Session Is Rumored

By ED OVERHOLSER

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Legislature ended after 201 days of lawmaking Thursday but the hottest rumor swirling through the Capitol today is a fourth special session in October.

This would be to consider the Hale - Aikin school report and teachers' pay raise which virtually went untouched during the regular and three special sessions.

Gov. Price Daniel has denied repeatedly he plans to call the lawmakers back in the fall but most apparently will be surprised if he doesn't.

At the beginning of the Legislature Jan. 13 more than 30 per cent of members polled by the Associated Press listed the Hale-Aikin report as one of the top three issues facing them.

Taxing and spending, as expected, hogged the spotlight almost the entire seven months. House action Thursday adopting the joint appropriations committee report was the last vital act in working out a stop-gap spending and taxing program for the next two years.

Senators elected Frank Owen III, El Paso, as president pro tempore until the Legislature next convenes.

The largest tax bill in the state's history goes into effect Sept. 1. Smokers will carry the brunt for about half of the 185 million dollar revenue-raiser.

It took this record size bill to cover the $2,418,557,106 appropriations measure which is fed by a multitude of funds, including federal aid. Spending from the key general revenue fund was increased 41 million dollars to $322,849,008.

One of Daniel's strongest recommendations failed to be enacted. He wanted the state to receive money, property and dividends abandoned in banks and other institutions. The bill was battered down at every important test.

The Legislature also failed to take action on an approved constitutional amendment setting up medical care and hospitalization for those [illegible] old aged rolls.

Another Daniel platform, a juvenile parole system, died again after a last - minute effort in the House brought it to life temporarily.

One of the major legislative acts advanced by 11 weeks the dates of the summer primaries. Campaigners will have to hit the trail when the weather is still nippy next spring.

This was plugged as the Lyndon Johnson bill to allow the U. S. Senator to have his race for re-election out of the way before going to the national convention, there his supporters hope he will ge. the presidential nomination.

Another law guarantees to the public the right to use beaches to swim, camp and fish along the Gulf Coast. It prevents private developers from blocking beaches with fences.

Lawmakers decided they should get $4,800 a year annual salary. The voters will make their decision on the proposed constitutional amendment Nov. 8, 1960. They have been paid $5,025 each for this year's work, thus far.

Another amendment adopted would, if approved by voters, drop the 10 per cent legal limit on small loans and allow the Legislature to license and regulate lenders and set interest rates.

Of 27 criminal and jury revisions recommended by the Texas law enforcement study commission three were passed.

Leaders in both houses said the major accomplishment was finding new money to balance the current budget and finance state government for the two years beginning Sept. 1.

Hermleigh Schools To Open Aug. 31

HERMLEIGH (Apl.) — About 320 students are expected at the Hermleigh schools when they open here Aug. 31.

O. B. Paty, superintendent, said a full day of classes will be held on the first day. Buses will run, and the cafeteria will be open.

Paty said he had prospects for filling the staff but was still short a commercial teacher and assistant coach.

This year the high school will offer two new courses. They are physics and second year Spanish. The school began Spanish instruction last school year.

Registration was held last spring but students new to the school and those who did not complete registration last spring will do so on the first day of school.

Administrators working with Paty are George Vicary, high school principal, and Joe May, elementary principal.

Little Rock Awaits Test

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Police made quiet preparations today for the handling of any disorders that might flare when public high schools open on an integrated basis next week.

Chief Gene Smith said his force did not know what to expect but wanted to be ready.

Six Negroes are scheduled to join about 1,700 whites at Central and Hall high schools. Three Negroes were assigned to each by the school board.

Reports persisted that Gov. Orval E. Faubus may summon an extraordinary session of the Legislature and seek new anti-integration laws. A school-closing measure Faubus used to close Little Rock's four public high schools last fall was ruled invalid by a federal court several weeks ago.

New Home

You can tell a "quality" house the minute you step into the kitchen. The layout, the amount of storage and work space and the selection of the appliances practically speak for the whole house. Look first at the range. Does it have a Gold Star on the front, indentifying it as a quality appliance? Then ask to see the water heater. Inquire about its recovery rate and be certain it is adequate to meet the laundry, dishwashing and bathing needs of your family. If the builder has made good use o fthe space and chosen high grade appliances, you can be fairly certain you are looking at a quality house.

Kim Yohoi, Cycling Tokyo Mite Wows Moscow Crowds

By A. I. GOLDBERG

MOSCOW (AP)—For a week a tiny [illegible] held Moscow in the palm of her hands.

Kim Yohoi, who just shades 100 pounds and claims to 21 years, has a bicycle acrobatic act that topped the Harlem Globetrotter acts in applause night after night.

There was no mistaking it. After the crushing clatter of applause that filled the 16,000 - seat sports arena at Lenin stadium the Russian audience always set up cadence clapping — which is the most here.

Born to Entertain

Kim is the youngest of eight in a family that is one way or another has been in the entertainment field for years. Her father, at 73, who taught Kim most of her tricks, still rides a trick bike like a youngster, according to Abe Saperstein, the Trotters owner-coach.

One of her sisters was born in a New York hotel and had her first crib in a dresser drawer while papa was playing the Palace, Kim says.

Asked how many there are in the family, Kim answered, "There were eight but most of them got married."

Kim goes onto the floor for an eight minute bill of bicycle and monocycle tricks that include just standing still, doing a vaquero twist through the frame, and twirling upside down on the handle bars while the bike moves around the floor.

She practices two hours a day every day just to keep in shape for the bit.

And it paid off here.

There was plenty of applause for the other acts, a Scottish monocyclist who balanced cups and saucers, a German brother and sister act in which she twirls head down on her brothers head, an Argentine youth doing flamenco dancing on roller skates, a table tennis match, and the Trotters basketball team.

But Kim received the loudest.

Handy With Tools

She's handy with a tool wrench, too, making all her own repairs. Papa taught her how to do that and the trick of winding a tire tube around the tire to lessen the chance of punctures.

The last night the Trotters were in town, Moscow's TV brought the show live to the thousands who hadn't been able to get tickets to the soldout house. After each act the Young Pioneer kids streamed onto the floor with bouquets for each member of the troupe. At the end of the performance the audience surged down to the sidelines and the Trotters moved along the crowd, shaking hands eagerly put forward.

There was a banquet afterward given by Soviet officials and it was warm and hearty. During the stay, the group was spotted in the Kermlin Gardens by Soviet Premier Khrushchev who hustled out of his automobile to shake hands.

But it was the spontaneous urge of the people, just people, to get down to the floor and take the Americans by hand — including the Chinese Americans on the San Francisco team that played in the exhibition — that was heartwarming.

Hard-Cooked

Hard-cooked eggs are simmered over a low flame 20 to 25 minutes. Hard-boiled eggs can be cooked in 10 minutes over a high flame. Most people prefer hard-cooked to hard-boiled eggs because they are more tender. High temperature toughens egg protein and produces a rubbery texture.

Heating-Cooling

A new combination summer cooling and winter heating system is now available that needs only 3 and ¾ square feet of floor space. If you wish, the unit can be installed for heating only. When you want to add cooling, it's simple and takes very little time to add the components to the already built-in compartments.

Mom Trains For Olympics With Children On Sideline

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)— Olympic diver Juno Stover Irwin has retired four times. Now she is working toward another comeback.

And most days at the Los Angeles Swim Stadium, her four reasons for retiring watch critically from the pool's edge as she goes through her practice dives.

They are Mike, 8, Maureen, 6, Randy 5, and Cynthia, 15 months.

Three-Time Olympian

If the training goes as planned, the 30-year-old Glendale housewife will try to win a place on her fourth Olympic team next year.

Juno is the wife of Russ Irwin, head of the parts department for an aircraft company. They were married in 1950.

She was an Olympian in 1948, 1952 and 1956. When she competed in the 1952 games, she was 3 ½ months pregnant.

"Lack of divers" is the reason she gives for attempting her fourth comeback. "Diving seems to be in a period of lull among the women in this country right now," Mrs. Irwin says. "The coaches should be striving to develop new talent, for without it some other nation will be winning the Olympic titles."

Long Layoff

She has been training since May. "I was anxious to get back into competition," she says. "I haven't competed in three years and that's the longest layoff I've had."

Mrs. Irwin's figure is testimony to the worth of her daily exercise. Cute, freckled and a compact 109 pounds, she looks younger than her 30 years. But she doesn't feel that youth is a necessary requirement for diving.

"Diving needs perfection and to get it you must have experience," she says. "I think in this sport experience is more important than youth."

Special Problems

Being a housewife has its drawbacks. She settles the child-care problem during the day by taking the youngsters with her to the pool. They have a picnic lunch in nearby Exposition Park. At night, Pop does the baby-sitting.

Her housewife duties don't allow her as much practice time as other divers have, she says. "Most of the girls either go to school and have the summer vacation, or work in the winter and take the summer off for practice. My homework goes on all the time."

There are other problems. She almost missed this year's National AAU Swimming and Diving meet in Redding, Calif., when Randy and Cynthia came down with tonsilities. They recovered just in time.

The winner of the Miss America contest is given a $10,000 scholarship.

OUR VIEW

Shoplifter Problem

There's been a change in the law covering the offense of shoplifting, and over at neighboring Abilene a group of merchants is putting it to use to curb one of the biggest "leaks" in retail business.

Formerly, shoplifting was treated as simple theft—that is, if the value of articles stolen amounted to less than $50 the charge was merely a misdemeanor. Now, repetition can enhance the charge, and after the first two offenses, shoplifting is no longer a misdemeanor, no matter how small the value of the article taken.

Shoplifting is one of the most widely practiced law violations in the land, according to store managers and law enforcement authorities. In times past, prosecution often was sporadic at best. Sometimes store managers would be reluctant to press charges if they got their merchandise back.

However, there has been a change in attitude. Some merchants have learned by experience that prosecution cuts down on the number of cases of shoplifting, and the fact that they prosecute has little or no effect on their business volume.

The busy season for shoplifters usually comes when crowds are in town—during the Christmas shopping season and when families are doing seasonal buying, such as school clothing and supplies.

Most merchants by now are familiar with most of the techniques used by shoplifters, and they keep a sharp vigil in their stores for same. The shoplifter's life is getting more difficult every day.

McGuire Sisters Wear Fame Well

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The McGuire sisters started singing in an Ohio church choir just 25 years ago.

The beanpole-slender youngsters of 1934 now are the highest paid girl trio in show business today, and perhaps of all time.

The one thing most people want to know about them—particularly people who come from large families—is how they settle their quarrels.

The answer is simple. They settle their disputes the same way the U.S. Congress does—by majority rule.

"Our policy is that if two agree on anything the other has to give in," said Phyllis, who acts as spokesman for the girls, although she has the least seniority.

"We generally manage to keep out of each other's hair. But occasionally we do have arguments. When we do we speak our piece, take a vote—and forget it.

"But we try to avoid the friction that might come from being together too much. On the road we stay in separate rooms, and meet just before the show."

As in any household, each of the sisters has her own chores. Chris, the eldest, picks the wardrobe. Dorothy, whom the other refer to as "the normal one," handles the props. She also acted as family treasurer until the trio hired a business manager.

They have recorded nearly 300 songs. Teen-age polls rate them the top trio. They have sold more than 10 million records.

They started out at $210 a week. This year, one soft drink firm alone is paying them $250,000 — plus all the soda they can swallow — for a year's supply of TV and radio commercials.

They also spend some 20 weeks a year on the supper club circuit.

Their smash success hasn't turned any of the girls' heads.

Here is their reaction to it:

Dorothy—"You're public property. You have no privacy. Your life is not your own."

Phyllis — "You can't take backward steps, but success has proved more than I bargained for. I've learned that success is getting what you want, but happiness is wanting what you get. But right now I'm still riding on cloud No. 9 — and looking for flying saucers."

Chris — "Success is something you strive to get, but when you get it you don't have it. It has you."

The McGuire sisters have one thing that sets them apart from most entertainers. They pay 10 per cent of their income to an agent — but they also just as regularly give another 10 per cent to the church in whose choir they first sang together as children a quarter of a century ago.

Deserter Is Back On Feet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A man who claims he deserted the U.S. Navy in 1917 bounced into the Social Security office Thursday sporting an ensemble of fancy new duds.

He is 73-year-old Lewis E. Clayburg, who arrived in Oakland, Calif., July 16 and attempted to give himself up as a deserter.

The Navy agreed Clayburg had deserted, but declined to prosecute.

It did establish that Clayburg is old enough to qualify for Social Security.

So he got a check Thursday for $1,137 and assurance of $90 monthly.

The story of Clayburg's troubles also got him a $100-a-month job as maintenance man at an apartment house here, so he says he'll just keep the $1,137 in back payments for a rainy day.

Addison Requests Withdrawal Of Suit

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—An attorney for a uranium upgrader promoter asked Thursday that a suit for four million dollars against six Bexar County and Texas law enforcement officers be dismissed.

The promoter, John Milton Addison, had accused the officials of persecuting him.

Addison is due to go to trial Aug. 31 on theft charges.

Once Confident, Krush Now Cocky

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Is there one word which describes the difference between confident and cocky? Sure. It's K-h-r-u-s-h-c-h-e-v.

But the Soviet Premier still acts like a boy with two heads. He crows out of one and cries out of the other.

While Premier Nikita Khrushchev looks and acts more powerful, as he surely is, he also shows startling signs of self-conscious inferiority. An example is what happened to the display of American goods at the fair in Moscow.

It's no discredit to the Soviet Union which started late, that it is still far behind the United States in industrial production, particularly in consumer goods.

But Khrushchev's government—which means the Premier himself—through its controlled press tried to belittle the evidence of American production at the fair and even set up a fair of its own to distract the Russian people.

Nevertheless, here's how Khrushchev grew from confident to cocky:

1955—Just before he went to the Geneva summit meeting, when he was No. 2 man behind Premier Nikolai Bulganin, he said the Soviet Union wasn't going to Geneva out of weakness, it didn't have "broken legs," and "if you don't want to talk seriously, we can wait and hold on."

1959—Just before coming here for his September meeting with President Eisenhower, Khrushchev says he won't be coming with rockets in his pockets.

The 1955 statement was defensive, as if he felt the Allies were looking down their noses. Then the Soviet Union was ringed with American bomber bases — as it still is—but then it had no missiles and was trying to get production up.

Now the Soviet economy is working overtime although still behind this country in agriculture and industry. But now the Soviet Union has missiles and has surged ahead in their development.

Khrushchev's present cockiness isn't sudden, it's been growing. A little over two years ago, in a TV interview, he told the people of this country: "Your grandchildren will live under socialism."

Why did he suddenly need a bigger hat?

First, he's Premier now. He won an intraparty fight, booted out Bulganin and took his job, and tossed his rivals into Soviet limbo. He's the undisputed No. 1 man, the boss. More than that happened. Soviet military strength grew meanwhile.

In the fall of 1956 with one statement the Soviet Union proclaimed to the world that only two powers counted, the United States and itself. With one statement it set out to relegate those old empires and world-rulers, Britain and France, to second-rate roles.

That was when it threatened to smash them and Israel if they didn't stop their attack on Egypt. Eisenhower saved the day by pressuring all three of them into stopping their war.

And in 1957 the Soviet Union sent up its first satellites, beating the United States into this field of the future. It went on to one achievement after another, including a moon-shot.

So Khrushchev really was rubbing it in when he said he wouldn't come here with rockets in his pockets.

As time moved, Soviet fear of American long-range bombers may not have diminished. But its own confidence — in military strength, at least—bounced ahead with its progress in long-range and intermediate missiles.

Two years after Geneva Khrushchev was feeling so sure of himself, that he challenged the United States to a "peaceful rock-[illegible] War would be the worst and would be fought on American soil.

That was in November, 1957, after the first Soviet satellites had gone up. Just a year later, on Nov. 14, 1958, Khrushchev was challenging the West to an all-out production race.

He predicted the new Soviet production plan would result in the world's highest living standards.

And just a few days after that —Nov. 27, 1958—he really challenged the West—to show its strength and determination by threatening to force the Allies to pull their troops out of West Berlin if they didn't go voluntarily.

This put the West in such a box—because it would be so terrifically difficult to avoid being forced out of Berlin without—war—that it sought through talks to find a peaceful solution and avoid a showdown. The talks lasted weeks.

They got nowhere. Finally Eisenhower, to avoid a showdown or at least postpone it, invited Khrushchev here for talks. Since this was exactly what the Russian wanted, it's no wonder he can swagger sitting down.

Workers Save Eight From Burning Cars

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Two cars crashed and burst into flames near here Thursday, trapping four women and four children. But three quick-thinking construction workers using a wrecker pulled the cars apart and freed the eight.

One automobile carried the pregnant wife of Col. Francis Gabreski, commander of the Myrtle Beach, S.C., Air Force Base and the top living U.S. air ace.

One person was injured seriously in the accident, which occurred about nine miles south of Wilmington on U.S. 17, just 75 yards from the Lincoln Construction Co. The cars were going in opposite directions.

Shop Foreman R. P. (Runt) Spivy said he and two workers "grabbed our fire extinguishers went running" when they saw the flaming cars.

In one car was Mrs. Gabreski, 34; two of her eight children; Mrs. Gladys Gruenwald, whose husband, Col. Kenneth Gruenwald is commander of Shaw Air Force Base in South Carolina; and Mrs. Georgia Orr, whose husband is Lt. Col. Richard Orr, also stationed at Shaw AFB.

In the second car was Mrs. Alice Faye Ellis of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and her daughters, Margaret Dawn, 11, and Holly 4.

Mrs. Ellis was reported in serious condition. Mrs. Gabreski was admitted to a Wilmington hospital. Officials said she had suffered only a slight cut on one knee but was held overnight for observation because she is pregnant. All of the others received only slight injuries.

Ingo Ready For Rematch

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS, France (AP) — World Heavyweight Champion Ingemar Johannson said today he is ready and willing to meet Floyd Patterson in their title return bout in New York on Sept. 22.

The champion said in an airport interview he came to Paris Thursday to discuss the muddled heavyweight situation with Bill Rosensohn, promoter of the June heavyweight title bout in which the Swede dethroned Patterson with a third round knockout.

Asked if he would meet Patterson in a rematch on Sept. 22 at New York's Yankee Stadium, Johannson replied:

"Yes, that's the way it looks now."

When Johannson arrived Thursday he went into seclusion. Newsmen were unable to locate him, and where he met with Rosensohn remained a secret.

He was vague about where the meeting with Rosensohn took place. Was it the plush hotel (Prince De Galles) where New York's Truman Gibson, head of National Boxing Enterprises stayed?

Johannson replied:

"I didn't notice where we were. I had a long talk with Mr. Rosensohn and I didn't notice the surroundings."

Rosensohn himself still was among the missing.

Gibson denied his presence in Paris had anything to do with fighting.

Back in New York the district attorney's office continued its investigation of the promotion of the Johansson-Patterson June fight by questioning Charley Black, pal of Cus D'Amato, manager of Patterson.

These were the late developments in the baffling picture of the promotion of the June 26 affair and plans for the rematch, which tentatively had been scheduled for Sept. 22.

Edwin Ahlquist, Johansson's advisor, previously announced he and Ingemar would fly to New York "some day next week" to discuss fight plans and find out what all the squabble is about.

Gibson, who with Johansson and Rosensohn did a disappearing act shortly after arriving in Paris, later returned to his hotel and said he was surprised to learn that the champion and the promoter also were in the city. Before leaving New York Wednesday night, the former head of the defunct International Boxing Club said he had turned down an offer to purchase Rosensohn's one third interest in the Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc., which holds Johansson's contract for the rematch.

"We came over to see our daughter who is going to school here," Gibson said. The Chicago lawyer said he had learned of the presence of Johansson and Rosensohn in Paris through Jack Solomons, London promoter. But all efforts to locate either proved futile.

Rosensohn appeared at the New York district attorney's office Wednesday for questioning and left accompanied by a body guard. The next day he turned up in Paris.

That Johansson is bewildered and sick of the whole sordid mess is well known.

Before leaving Sweden, the Stockholm Expressen quoted him as saying: "As things are now, I refuse to fight Sept. 22."

The newspaper quoted Johansson as acknowledging he had signed a contract to meet Patterson within 90 days but is doubtful if the mess can be unraveled so soon.

North Is Slight Favorite In 25th All-Star Grid Tilt

FORT WORTH (AP) — The North rates a narrow edge in the twenty-fifth all-star football game of the Texas Coaching School tonight with a ground attack vs. passing attack bringing prospects of a scoring duel.

The North, bigger and more powerful, with a terrific running game and boasting the psychological edge—it hasn't lost in five years—was picked by 10 of 18 writers in the game.

The slight margin came because the writers weren't certain what an all-out air attack by the South might do.

Darrell Tully, of Spring Branch, coach of the South, is using a dazzling spread T featuring speed as he tries to break the stranglehold the North has thrown over the series.

He has promised he'll pass the ball half the time although he has runners as talented as the North.

The North boasts a 207-pound line that outweighs the South by 13.5 pounds to the man and Tully doesn't want to buck that wall any more than necessary.

The game will wind up the schoolboy careers of 56 youngsters. Four of them, however, won't get to play because of injuries. All are on the North squad They are guard Mike Gieb of Garland, center Bobby Whisnand of Electra, halfback Danny Davison of Royse City and end Leland Allred of Wichita Falls.

Elwood Turner of Sweetwater, coaching the North, said the loss of the four hasn't dimmed his chances materially.

Turner thinks he has the line to handle the South's running game but he's doubtful he can throw up a defense in the secondary to fully take care of the passing of Stuart McBirnie of San Antonio Jefferson.

North Stars Still Rule In Basketball

FORT WORTH (AP) — The North continued its domination of the all-star basketball game of the Texas Coaching School Thursday night, controlling the ball and giant Lewis Qualls of Smiley to beat the South 57-45.

The heat helped hold down the 7-foot Qualls, who played more than anybody expected—18 out of a possible 24 minutes—but who wasn't very effective at rebounding and scored only seven points.

Brilliant Jim Thompson of Bowie and Don Rosick of Fort Worth Poly led the North in an outburst midway of the third period that pulled the pupils of Amos Turner of Grand Prairie away to stay.

When the North took over the lead for good it ended a thrilling battle. Seven times the score was tied and nine times the lead changed hands.

The South put up a much better game than anticipated. It had been picked to lose by as much as 22 points. But the North never was more than 14 points ahead and that came after the South had virtually spent itself in a frenzied fight.

The North obviously was in better physical condition. Even in the last minutes it was using the fast break. Qualls, though, suffered from the intense heat and seldom moved faster than a trot.

Thompson was the outstanding player, getting 14 of 20 votes from the sports writers. He scored 10 points, played a grand floor game and plucked five rebounds.

Rosick, 6-foot-7 Fort Worth favorite, was the top rebounder. He grabbed the ball off the backboards eight times—a sixth of the rebounds made by the entire North team.

The South had 28 rebounds with Qualls getting three.

Rosick also scored 10 points and was second in the voting for outstanding player with three ballots.

The North was extremely accurate along the free throw lane and this finally shot it ahead far enough to coast. The North sank 21 of 31 free throw attempts. The South managed 13 of 25.

Willlard Schmidt of Cincinnati pitched in 16 games before he gave up a home run this season. Duke Snider of Los Angeles hit it.

In 15 years of coaching college football, Duke's Bill Murray shows 100 victories. His teams have lost 40 times.

Whitey Lockman and Pete Whisenant, Cincinnati Red teammates, were boyhood neighbors at Paw Creek, N. C.

Ringney's Button Pushing Pays Off

By The Associated Press

Soon they'll be calling Billy Rigney a push button manager. The fellow who pushed the recall button that brought Willie McCovey back from Phoenix may have won the pennant for the San Francisco Giants.

The Willie firm—McCovey and Mays—did it again Thursday. As a result the Giants are riding high with a full game lead on idle Los Angeles and a two-game edge on Milwaukee after taking two out of three from the Braves.

Just to prove the Giants do have somebody else except McCovey and Mays in the lineup Sad Sam Jones went all the way with an eight-hitter for his 15th victory and shortstop Eddie Bressoud weighed in with a three-run homer in a 7-1 romp over the Braves.

But it was McCovey, the long legged rookie, who got the Giants off winging by driving in the first run. McCovey wound up with two of the Giants' 10 hits. After his first eight days in the majors he is hitting .467 with 14 hits in 30 at bats. He has hit safely in all seventh straight games he's come up.

Mays smashed his 18th homer in the seventh and also chipped in with two singles and scored twice. Jim Davenport and Mays started it off with singles in the first. McCovey's bloop single drove in Davenport and Orlando Cepeda's sacrifice fly scored Mays.

Los Angeles was idle yesterday and has another off day today. The Dodgers return to action Saturday night at home against Milwaukee. Cincinnati also had an open date.

Pittsburgh went on the biggest hit binge of the major league season, collecting 23 off St. Louis pitching in an 18-2 romp. The Pirates scored 10 in the ninth inning, the most by any National League club this year.

Chicago finally snapped its seven-game losing streak with a two-run rally in the eighth that beat the Phillies 4-2. Ernie Banks' double started the spurt. An error by Humberto Robinson, who was the loser on relief, a walk and Bobby Thomson's run-scoring single added up to two big runs. Don Elston, called in when Art Ceccarelli was chased in the eighth, won his sixth on relief.

In the American League, Chicago and Baltimore battled to a 1-1 tie, stopped by curfew after 18 innings. Cleveland cut the White Sox' lead to 1½ games by downing Washington 5-2. Detroit's Paul Foytack shut out the New York Yankees 4-0 while Red Wilson and Eddie Yost homered off Art Ditmar. Leo Kiely saved Jerry Casale's eighth victory as Boston edged Kansas City 4-3.

Lions, Rams Open Action

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Lions and Los Angeles Rams, two of the big 1958 National Football League disappointments, begin their "wipe the slate clean" campaign Saturday in the first all-NFL exhibition game of the 1959 season.

The Chicago Cards had the first taste of battle on Wednesday when they lambasted Toronto of the Canadian Big Four Football Union 35-26. The Rams-Lions game at Boulder, Colo., is the first of 39 exhibition games before the season gets under way Saturday, Sept. 26.

The Rams carried on one of the most extensive house - cleaning campaigns in pro football history. In one sweep last January, they traded their second, third and fourth draft choices, and four varsity performers for halfback Ollie Matson of the Chicago Cards.

General Manager Pete Rozelle figured that Matson was the running power the Rams could have used to beat out Baltimore for the 1958 Western Conference Crown. The Rams finished third.

Matson is definitely slated to handle the punt and kickoff returns in addition to his ball carrying that netted 505 yards in 129 carries for Chicago last year.

Detroit, with top draft choice Nick Pietrosante at the College All Stars camp, must go with John Henry Johnson at fullback. Lions Coach George Wilson, whose team finished with a 4-7-1 record in 1958 after being world champions the previous year, still feels he has the nucleus of a title contender.

Favorites In AA Football Are Picked

FORT WORTH (AP) — Terrell, New London, Jasper, and Edcouch-Elsa are getting the most attention in the Class AA division of Texas schoolboy football.

The teams were picked as the standouts this season by coaches attending the Texas coaching school.

Stamford, the defending champion, wasn't rated very high even though its coach admitted it should be one of the favorites for the district title.

Stamford lost heavily from its championship team and reportedly has little material coming up.

Terrell, bulging with experience as usual, was considered the top team but there came reports of an awesome New London outfit in the making. There are 18 lettermen at the East Texas school with nine of the 1958 starters back.

Jasper and Edcouch-Elsa also have lettermen galore—21 at Jasper, 16 of them seniors, and 17 at Edcouch-Elsa, with 10 returning starters.

These were rated district favorites:

1—Dimmitt, 2—Muleshoe, 3—Floydada, 4—Denver City, 5—Perryton, 6—Stamford, 7—Cisco, 8—Hamilton, 9—Olney, 10—Azle, 11—Terrell, 12—Richardson, 13—DeKalb, 14—Linden, 15—New London, 16—Hillsboro, 17—Brady, 18—Belton, 19—Georgetown, 20—Smithville, 21—A&M Consolidated, 22—Liberty, 23—Port Acres, 24—Jasper, 25—Deer Park, 26—Edna, 27—Gonzales, 28—Goliad, 29—Pearsall, 30—Freer, 31—Refugio, 32—Edcouch-Elsa.

Substitute For Substitute Due

NEW YORK (AP)—A substitute for a substitute gets his big chance in the 10-round main event at Madison Square Garden tonight, setting the stage for a possible upset.

Benny Paret of Santa Clara, Cuba, was advanced to top billing when two prospective opponents for Gaspar Ortega, fifth-ranked welterweight title challenger were unable to appear. Florentino Fernandez of Cuba, the original Ortega opponent, came down with a virus, and Charley Scott of Philadelphia, first choice as a replacement, withdrew because time was too short to get ready.

Home Clubs Come Through

By The Associated Press

The home clubs and the leaders in both divisions came through in the Sophomore League Thursday night.

Hobbs, the North Division leader, trimmed Midland 12-7. Carlsbad beat Roswell 3-1 to stay two and one-half games behind.

Alpine defeated Plainview 10-7 and Odessa nipped Artesia 8-7.

In each case, it was the home team winning.

They play at the same stands Friday.

Alpine, the South Division leader by a wide margin, had to come from behind twice to beat Plainview. Plainview went ahead 7-5 in the top of the eighth, but Alpine scored five runs in the bottom of the eighth to win.

Hobbs scored its 12 runs on six hits. Ken Clark hit a two-run homer for Hobbs in the second and Larry Stolzer got one in the third. George Johnson hit a two-run homer for Midland in the seventh.

Carlsbad's Manny Perez scattered six hits and struck out ten for the victory over Roswell. The only Roswell run was unearned.

Dick Smith singled home Ron Zeller with the winning run in the bottom of the 10th to give Odessa its victory over Artesia.

Millers On Hitting Spree

By The Associated Press

For a team in a hitting slump, Minneapolis surprised a few people Thursday night. The Millers cracked 26 hits in sweeping an American Association doubleheader with Houston.

The triumphs left Minneapolis still close on the heels of the Eastern Division front-runner, Louisville.

Three of the Millers' safeties were home runs, two by Roy Smalley. Southpaw Chet Nichols gave up three hits before winning 5-3. In the nightcap Ted Wills, like Nichols relieved late in the game, also allowed three hits. That contest ended 13-4.

A two-out single in the ninth by Al Spangler gave Louisville a 3-2 decision over Indianapolis.

Football coach Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech shows 110 victories for 14 years as a college mentor.

Anthony Abbatiello, leading driver at the Freehold, N. J., harness track with 26 winners in 1958, has 19 horses under his care.

Guadalcanal Retains Few Signs Of War's Big Battle

EDITOR'S NOTE — Seventeen years ago today U. S. Marines hit the first Pacific beach in the Allied island-hopping offensive against the Japanese in World War II. The place was guadalcanal, and for six months it was hell on earth. What's it like now?

HONIARA, Guadalcanal (AP) — Along the main road of this capital of the British Solomon Islands Protectorate, a double row of scarlet Poinciana trees gives shade and color to a small-town road full of modern cars, erratic bicycles, and dawdling pedestrians.

Modern public buildings, neat houses with gardens of plumeria, brilliant Bougainvillia and annuals make the township gay.

There is little to remind a visitor that on Aug. 7, 1942, U. S. Marines waded ashore on this island to start the long, costly pruning of the Japanese World War II island empire.

Other Pacific campaigns were bloodier. But Guadalcanal was the first. Here the legend of Japanese invincibility was broken. Here occurred some of the Pacific's most terrifying battles in a disease and vermin-filled jungle so thick an enemy could be a yard away—and unseen.

The Marines landed near Tenaru on the northern coast to capture an airfield which the Japanese had nearly completed. They took it with little difficulty, named it Henderson Field, and had it in service within a few days. But the Japanese came back.

Bitter fighting followed along the coast from Cape Esperance in the west down toward Aola in the east. Gradually it moved inland with bombing, shellfire, exploding mortars, hand-to-hand combat, and the ever-present smell of death.

U. S. transports poured in equipment, more men, machines and supplies. The island was transformed into a tremendous base, which became for a time the nerve center of America's war effort in the South Pacific.

Afterward the rubbish of war told a silent story all down the coast. Wrecked Japanese transports, Japanese guns, broken Japanese equipment.

The heaps of wartime junk now have been cleared away. An Australian bomb disposal unit has removed most of the unexploded ammunition which littered the foothills on the north coast.

A Qantas civilian transport flies into Henderson Field weekly from Australia and New Guinea. Two Australian shipping companies send cargo and passenger vessels to the Solomons about once every six weeks. Some 400 Europeans, 300 Chinese, and 1,800 Solomon Islanders make up the cheerful community of Honiara.

Jungle ridges behind the coastal plains have been cleared for housing sites. Behind the houses, traces of old American roads can still be seen winding into the inland hills. But you must go on foot to explore them because the American bridges have broken down—victims of time and the tropics.

The war is not forgotten. Each year a Remembrance Day service is held at a cenotaph outside government house. Flags of all nations that helped win back the Solomons are flown and prayers are said for those who died.

Last year several hundred American tourists came to see the island. Some of them had lost sons here and were afraid that they would see the grim reminder of war. They went away comforted, after seeing the flowers and color of the little town, the beauty of the islands, and the native children who danced and sang for them.

City Featured In Pipe Line Publication

TULSA, Okla. — The town of Snyder, its industries, and much of its history, is featured in the July issue of the Connecting Rod, employe publication of the Service Pipe Line Co.

Service is in the process of constructing two new buildings in Snyder for their district offices. Formerly, the offices were located about five miles from Snyder, on the highway to San Angelo, V. T. Tracy is Snyder district superintendent for Service.

The article tells of the close ties between the city and the company that have grown up since Service laid its first line in the Snyder area in 1950.

About 30 Service families contribute to the community's social and civic affairs and the companys district payroll adds some $365,000 annually to the economy of Snyder.

Also mentioned in the article are the benefits Snyder affords its citizen — a new city library, two parks, a nearby lake, 35 churches, a new hospital and a city hall now being completed.

Another Dies Of Botulism

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) — Botulism, a rare form of food poisoning, killed another member of a family here Thursday.

Kenneth Nelson, 45, Kansas City, Mo., was the third member of his family to die since they ate from a jar of home-canned beets. His daughter, Wanda, 15, and his stepfather, Aaron Gruwell, 74, died shortly after the family was stricken last week.

Nelson's wife, Naomi, 41, remained in critical condition but hospital authorities said they noted some improvement. She was allowed to leave an iron lung Thursday. In its most severe form, botulism paralyzes the breathing muscles.

Two other members of the family, Lavicia Gruwell and Martha Nelson, 4, were reported improving at a hospital here. All were stricken while the Nelsons were visiting at the Gruwell farm. Mrs. Gruwell is Nelson's mother.

Civic interests here have started a fund-raising drive to aid the surviving members of the family. It includes three Nelson children who didn't eat any of the poisoned beets.

Meany To Receive VFW's Gold Medal

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars will award its first Americanism Gold Medal to George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO.

Selection of Meany was announced Thursday by John W. Mahan, VFW president. The medal will be presented at the VFW convention at Los Angeles Aug. 31.

Mahan said the medal will be awarded annually to "an individual who, through his acts during this past year, has distinguished himself in the cause of American ideals."

Meany will be cited for vigorous opposition to communism, Mahan said.

Minister At Rites For Harding Dies

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The Baptist minister who conducted funeral services for President Warren G. Harding in 1923 died Thursday.

He was Dr. James S. West, 84, who retired in 1955.

West was pastor of the First Baptist Church of San Francisco when Harding died at the Palace Hotel in the California city. A member of the President's party called the minister, who made arrangements and conducted the funeral at the hotel.

Zsa Zsa To Move Away

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Burglars and the servant problem are driving Zsa Zsa Gabor out of Hollywood, the Hungarian actress says.

She said upon her return from Naples, Italy, Thursday that she is going to sell her home here and move into a New York apartment.

"Now I am going to move forever," she said. "Nowhere in ze world is ze servant problem so bad as it is here. This time when I go abroad I feenish wiz ze servants and what happens? Burglars came and took all those lovely diamonds Rubi (Dominican playboy Porfirio Rubirosa) gave me.

"Servants are probably bad there (New York) but in a small apartment one can get by with a few."

QUESTION: How crazy is a loon?

* * *

ANSWER: The loon is a large bird that looks somewhat like a wild duck. However, it has a longer bill than the duck and it makes poor eating because its meat is tough and dark. The loon is an expert swimmer and diver. It lives by diving beneath the water for fish. There is nothing to indicate that the loon is crazy. However, it has a harsh, screechy voice that sounds at times like the cry of a madman. Its weird cry is heard mostly at night. This sound has given rise to the expression "crazy as a loon" and also to "loony," a slang word meaning crazy.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: Visit the bird house at the zoo or the bird section at the museum. There you might find the loon. If there is no zoo or museum near you, look up the loon in a book on birds or an encyclopedia.

Margaret O'Brien To Wed Saturday

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Remember that little girl with the freckled face and the braids? Well, she's grown up and getting married Saturday.

Not the little girl who lived next door. But Margaret O'Brien, the child screen star whose wistful charm won millions of fans.

Margaret, now a serene 21-year-old brunette beauty and again a busy actress after an awkward years absence, weds Harold Robert Allen Jr., 24, a commercial art student.

The ceremony will be conducted in St. Martin of Tours Roman Catholic Church. The couple will honeymoon in Hawaii. Upon their return, Margaret plans to continue her career, Harold his studies.

Margaret says they met four years ago on a double date — with other partners. They have been going steady a year.

Harold is the son of Harold R. Allen, an aircraft design specialist. Margaret's mother, Mrs. Gladys O'Brien, a former dancer, died a year ago.

Margaret decided she wanted to be a movie actress at the age of three. It was not until she was five that she made it.

A picture of Margaret on a magazine cover resulted in her first picture assignment — a government short film starring James Cagney. Then she appeared with Mickey Rooney in "Babes on [illegible]."

Margaret became a star in her next picture, "Journey for Margaret," portraying a British war orphan.

Starring roles followed in "The Lost Angel," "Canterville Ghost," "Meet Me in St. Louis" and many others.

She was earning $2,500 a week when she was nine.

She won an Academy award in 1944 as the best child actress and was named one of the 10 top box-office stars in 1945 and 1946.

She and her fiance ran into a momentary snag when they went to get their marriage license Thursday. They forgot to bring any money. The clerk wouldn't take Harold's check.

"What'll we do now?" Margaret asked.

A reporter cashed Harold's $2 check.

"Chivalry isn't dead," Margaret smiled.

Skindivers Find Eight Slot Machines

ANNVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A pair of skindivers found eight slot machines in the Millardsville Quarry Thursday but they were full of water, not money.

Burt Webber, 16, of Robesonia, Pa., and Ted Roberts, 27, of Reading, Pa., brought four of the machines to the surface but were unable to raise the others.

State Police said it would be up to Lebanon County Dist. Atty. James Whitman to decide what to do with the machines.

Beer Cache Draws Crowd

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Someone discovered a cache of beer buried in a dumping ground east of this city Thursday. The word got out. Soon cars lined the road, whole families turned to their joyous tasks with picks and shovels.

Police said a beer distributor reported he had buried the beer because it was unfit for human consumption.

But reports at the scene were that it was buried either because it was flat or because it was 6 per cent beer, which won't be legal in Oklahoma until Sept. 1. Only 3.2 per cent beer is legal now.

A heavy rain belted the area but that only speeded the digging.

No one would say how much beer was buried but it must have tasted pretty good because many were seen drinking it on the spot.

Borgnine Says Talk Of Wedding Erroneous

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Ernest Borgnine says Katy Jurado's announcement in Mexico City that they will be married Aug. 15 is erroneous.

"I am well aware, as is Miss Jurado, that my divorce under no circumstances could become final until Aug. 29," said Borgnine.

Mrs. Borgnine's petition to have set aside the divorce she obtained from the actor last Aug. 29, comes up for hearing today in Santa Monica Superior Court.

Mrs. Borgnine named Miss Jurado as the "other woman" in her divorce action and said Borgnine had used undue influence in persuading her to get the decree.

A fine specimen of young manhood... maybe my neighbor or maybe yours. He is not a bad boy, just one without training. His parents don't like the church and actually boast of never attending. What a tragedy.

How unfair to the children of such homes... to put "Other Gods first." This lad needs love, direction, guidance. He needs forgiveness, for only "as we forgive can we be forgiven." Police officers, "Big Brothers" and good church people help but it also requires being acquainted with God.

Have you asked the court to parole a boy to you instead of allowing him to go to jail? Maybe he needs just one more chance. The manifold mercies of Heaven are available, if a man, woman or child will turn in good purpose to Him. The church on the corner can help any boy, or girl, or man, or woman. Won't you see for yourself?

You In The Church... The Church In You—
Form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the CHURCH. Be a faithful worker. Attend every service.

WELL DONE

(Question) "Will the Lord say 'well done' unto us?"

(Answer) This is a thought provoking question. We may say "Well done" to an employee to inspire greater effort or to a child to incite him to continue. A few years ago when returning from overseas I viewed this statement when we neared the Golden Gate bridge. On the far shore of the treasure island there were bold letters stating, "Welcome Home, Well done". Many on board ship had played a vital part in the war effort, others had made little contribution. Yet when our Lord used this expression he did not do so with sham or farce, he uttered this to a servant that had done well. To a servant that was GOOD and FAITHFUL, Too, he was faithful over a few things committed into his trust. (Matt. 25:21-23) The Lord cannot say, "Well done" to those who have not done well. He told some who had Prayed, Prophesied, cast out demons and done great works (they thought) in his name to depart, I never knew you. These had deceived themselves. They had not acted true to his will. (Matt. 7:21-23). A great reward is promised to those who continue in well doing. "I will set thee over many things, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." (Mt. 25:23) Paul wrote to a group who made a fast start but slowed down, "Ye did run well, what did hinder you . . . " (Gal. 4:17) It is good to get off to a good start in a race but it is vitally important that we continue to run if the goal is to be reached and the prize won.
