Overseas Fighters Help Lynn County On Bond Quota

Fighting men overseas and buyers of large bonds this week boosted Lynn county's sales during the Seventh War Loan to approximately $570,000.00, a check-up Wednesday morning revealed. With little over a week to go, Lynn county still lacks $80,000.00 reaching its overall goal of $650,000.00 in War Bond sales. However, most of the large bond sales are already in, and the quota will not be reached unless the people buy briskly this next week.

The Tahoka bank has sold a total of $455,000.00 in bonds and has credits from outside sources to this county of $30,000.00. Other sources in the county are conservatively estimated to have sold a total of $85,000.00 worth of bonds.

Overseas fighting men are buying bonds as well as fighting the war. This week, W. B. Slaton was informed by Nathan Adams of Dallas, state chairman, that Lynn county was being credited with $9,300 00 in bonds bought by these

Sgt. Meeks Home From Germany

T/Sgt. Othell W. Meeks, expert rifleman with General Patton's Third Army in its spectacular advances in Europe, arrived home at 2.00 a. m. Monday from the war in Europe. The son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Meeks, Wilson, Rt 1, Sgt. Meeks' furlough extends to July 18.

Though he did not enter the Arwy until February 28, last year, the youthful sergeant has lived a lifetime in those few months.

Overseas less than a year, he was the sixth oldest man in point of service in his company when released to come home. The rest had been casualties.

Sgt. Meeks trained only four months in the States, before being sent overseas as a replacement on August 1, and after spending four days in England was sent to the Normandy beachland to join Co. L, 317th Infantry, 80th Division wiith Patton's Third Army, in time for the great breakthrough that resulted in disaster for most of the German armies in France. Patton's drive by-passed Paris, and Sgt. Meeks was with the army when it stopped on the Mozelle river.

In the great Mozelle river battle Company L lost 100 of its 170 men as battle casualties.

Then came the great German counter-offensive in December, and Sgt. Meeks was with Company L when it was rushed 200 miles to the north to help stop the thrust Here, they entered the battle line on Christmas eve, and in this Battle of the Bulge Company L lost all but 30 of its men as casualties.

Back on Patton's front, he was in action when his Army broke across the Rhine River, and started its wild and daring rampage into Germany. So fast was the advance that airplanes supplied the spearheading tanks with gasoline. The Third Army pushed all the way across southern Germany,, slashed into Czecho-Slovakia, cut back into Austria, and there, on May 1, a few days before the German capitulation, Sgt. Meeks, along with 800 men of the Third Army, was granted furlough to come home. They rode in boxcars all the way back to Le Harve, France, and embarked on a ship homeward bound.

"I was just lucky to be one of the few men of my company to come through the war unscratched," Sgt. Meeks told The News.

Asked what he thought of General Patton, Sgt. Meeks exclaimed, "The greatest general in the war!"

He expressed deep appreciation of the fact that he had received the home paper most of the time he was on the battlefront. "You can never imagine how much we enjoyed reading the papers from home," he said. "I read every word in every issue."

A member of the world's mightiest Air Force, which, according to Field Marshel Von Rundstedt, former German Western front Commander in Chief, "Shattered our supply lines upset all efforts to move our defense forces", Sgt. Barham holds the Air Medal with Three Oak Leaf Clusters to that Medal for "Meritorious Achievement" durng his missions.

Gaignats Are Home From New York

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Gaignat returned home Friday from New York City, where they had been to the marriage of their daughter, Myrna Dean, which took place on June 6 at U. S. Military Academy, West Point. The groom is Lt. Thomas Williams McNiel, son of the late Colonel and Mrs. Jacob Ramser McNiel of Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaignat were accompanied to New York by their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Charles A. Gaignat, who was matron of honor at the wedding, and her small daughter.

While in New York, Mr. and Mrs. Gaignat visited Capt. and Mrs. Elbert Boullioun, formerly of Tahoka. The two couples among other places visited the late President Roosevelt's estate at Hyde Park, and also the magnificent adjoining Frederick Vanderbilt estate.

Lt. and Mrs. McNiel were due to arrive here Wednesday of this week.

W. R. Warren Has Wrestle With Tractor

W. R. Warren of Route 4 had a narrow escape last week in a tussle with his John Deere tractor, and has been limping around since, but is glad to be alive.

He was plowing in the field, when the bullwheel casing blew out. He cut the gas off, got down off his seat and went around to pull the clutch out. On doing so, the tractor lunrched forward, and the wheel caught W. R.'s left foot. In a flash, W. R. could picture himself being pulled under the wheel and run over by the plow, and quicker than we can write this he decided to sacrifice that foot and possibly a leg to save his life. He grabbed hold of the tractor frame with all his might, forced his body around under the tractor, but was pulled to the ground. Luckily the tractor suddenly went dead, and W. R. was lying between the tractor and plows.

W. R. says the moral is this: Be dead sure your tractor is out of gear before you pull the clutch out. Modern farm machinery is dangerous.

S. J. Cowart has been confined to his home by illness the past few weeks.

He is visiting his wife, the former Marian Mason, and baby, at Post and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Minor, and family, here.

Survivor of Carrier Franklin Will Speak At Big War Bond Rally on Court House Lawn in Tahoka Tonight at 8:30 O'clock

LT. FRED HARRIS

Lt. Fred Harris of Dallas, flight officer on the famous Naval aircraft carrier Franklin, will be principal speaker at the big Seventh War Loan program in Tahoka on the courthouse lawn tonight, Friday, at 8:30 o'clock, according to Truett Smith, chairman of the Lynn county War Finance committee.

Everyone in Lynn county is urged to hear this war hero.

Recently returned to Texas on leave, and now touring the state on behalf of War Bond sales, Lieutenant Harris tells a vivid story of the gallant Franklin which limped home 13,000 miles after being hit by the first Japanese suicide plane. As the ship burned, ammunition exploded. The ship appeared doomed. But the officers and men finally extinguished the flames. There were 800 casualties, and it took four days to bury the dead.

The naval officer was formerly Dallas county commissioner, and has seen service in both the European and Asiatic theatres of war. He parteicipated in the off-shore bombardment preceding the North Africa landing and later in the Italian campaign.

People who want to make Lt. Harris fighting mad have only to intimate that the was is about over. "The boys in the foxholes know this war isn't over. Those boys are meeting death on the dark frontiers of strange and distant lands," he declared at a recent Dallas meeting.

Sgt. Harris Frazier Visits Most Europe

S/Sgt. Harris Frazier has had some unique experiences in this war. Entering the Army in June, 1941, he has been overseas the past 34 months, during which time he has done service in practically every European country and in North Africa. He has been stationed successively in England, Italy, Egypt, Iran, Germany, and Russia. He spent many months in Russia, and recently sent his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Frazier a number of Russian souvenirs.

In a recent letter, quoted below, he reveals that he now is in Germany making a "bomb survery":

I received your letter on Jan. 1 the other day. I have moved so much it took a long time catching up with me. At present I am south of Frankfurt-on-Main at Darmtadt, Germany. This is a beautiful country over here but the towns are all flat. Nearly every town is just a pile of debris. These Krauts sure took a beating this time, and they are all glad to see the war end, because it means that the bombings will stop—and they were really afraid of them. I have been in all of the European countries now except the Balkans.

"Well, I guess there isn't anybody left at home now, but it won't be long before they will be coming home now. I hope to get back to the States this fall or as soon as I finish my present job. This is a Bomb Survey I am in now. I guess all the people really celebrated V-E Day at home. It wasn't much of a change over here since it came on so slow anyway. Well, tell everybody hello!"

THANKS FRIENDS HERE

I wish to thank each and every one from Tahoka and elsewhere for the nice cards and letters they sent me while I was in the hospital and also for the flowers. I appreciated it all very much. It makes one feel good to have so many friends. Thanks, all. — Mrs. A. J. Kaddatz, Idalou, Texas.

What must I do to be saved? Such a vital, personal question is one that we simply cannot afford to be wrong about, hence we must turn to God's word for the answer. Plese read Acts 16:19-34 for a full account of the conversion of a man who was not a believer in Christ until he was convinced by the preaching of the word of the Lord. Let us notice Paul's and Silas' answer to this very question. "Believe on the Lord Jesus, and thou shalt be saved, thou and thy house." Why tell him to believe? Because he was a man of the Macedonian province where the gospel had never been preached before, and was therefore not a believer, was that all they told him? Verse 32 says "They spake the word of the Lord unto him, with all that were in his house." They must have told him to "repent or perish" as Christ said in Luke 13:5, because the next verse says the jailer "took them the same hour of the night and washed their stripes," thus showing that he did repent. Furthermore they must have told him the thing Christ told them in Mark 16:16--"He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved," since he "was baptized, he and all his immediately" Vevse 34 tells us he "rejoiced greatly with all his house, having believed in God."

This man then had faith in God, repented of his sins, was baptized for the remission of sins, had the promise of his Lord that he would be saved in complying with these requirements, hence he had reason to "rejoice greatly."

Twenty-two percent of the land surface of the United States is desert.

His bare feet know the farm by heart. The cool, moist earth at planting time. The icy dew at sunrise in the pasture. The cloddy field that had to be plowed too wet last spring.

What do they tell him of your farm today? Does he sense the wartime burden it has borne . . . the price it has paid in fertility, depreciation of fences and buildings, wear and tear on machinery? Perhaps not. But if this loss is not repaid, he will surely discover as the years go by that something is wrong underfoot. The productive power of the farm may be undermined, and with it his opportunity for a college education, or his chance of farm ownership.

On the other hand — if you set up a reserve of War Bonds . . . NOW . . . to replenish lost soil fertility, to increase herds to peacetime strength, to repair buildings and replace worn equipment . . . his future will be assured.

Prepare now to replace these items FIRST—they represent the EARNING POWER of your farm. We owe it to our barefoot boys and their older brothers overseas to buy MORE War Bonds and keep them for this future need.

Washington Side-Lights

(By Congressman Geo. Mahon)

Our Committee on Army appropriations, made up of five Democrates and three Republicans, is presenting to the House this week the thirty-eight billion dollar Army Appropriation Bill. In my opinion, another bill of this size will not again be submitted to the Congress during this century — certainly not unless there should be a World War 111. And the world need not and must not permit World War three.

The sum of twelve billion dollars for pay of the Army is by far the largest item of the bill. The next largest item is for airplanes and Air Corps equipment, with Ordance, consisting of weapons, bombs, and ammunition ranking number three.

We plan to pass the bill in the House on Friday, June 22nd.

Our Committee expects to follow up on the expenditures as best we can, even to the extent of visiting war areas if we can find the time to do so. It is impossible for any human being to be familiar with every phase and detail of our gigantic and far-flung war program. A Congressman finds it impossible to do all the things that should be done.

My chief legislative assignment in Congress throughout the war has been on the Appropriations Sub-Committee for the Army.

As a result of dry weather, many questions have recently arisen in regard to crop insurance. It is evident that an adequate crop insurance program has not yet been devised. After consulting with crop insurance officals both in Washington and in Texas, I have responded to telegrams and letters as follows:

"Crop insurance officials advise that if cotton is not planted, premium will not be payable and insurance cannot be collected. They advise that if planting is done under conditions generally considered good farming practice in the area, then insurance would attach. As for example, when farmers generally in the area who are not insured are planting. I realize that this is rather indefinite, and I suggest the County AAA office be contacted for more specific and authoritative instructions forwarded from State office. Am anxious to be of every possible assistance in this highly important matter".

War not only costs money and lives. Surgeon General Norman Kirk of the Army remarked to me the other day that four thousand soldiers who have lost limbs have already been fitted with artificial limbs and returned to civilian life. Seven thousand boys who have lost limbs are still in Army hospitals.

I recently asked a lone American soldier who, with rifle in hand, was standing guard in front of the Japanese Embassy in Washington, to tell me about his job. It soon became apparent that he was not displeased to have this bit of Jap real estate under perfect control and subjection. He was an upstate New Yorker with overseas service to his credit.

MURDERERS, HIJACKERS CAUGHT AT LUBBOCK

Lubbock and Lynn counties were the scene of an exciting man-hunt all day Sunday, and Sunday night, and Monday morning following the dastardly killing of W. T. (Bill) Lamb, 49, a Lubbock service station operator shortly before 4 o'clock Sunday morning. A young man and his young woman companion, A. J. Wright, 21, of Abilene, and Winnie McKeever Garner, 18, of Deming New Mexico, were arrested at about 9 o'clock Monday morning in the Slide community in the southwestern part of Lubbock county near Lynn County line, and were taken to Lubbock and placed in jail on charges of murder.

Lamb had resisted when they drove up to his service station and undertook to rob the place. A fast and furious fight followed. Lamb succeeded in knocking a pistol out of the young woman's hand and fired two shots at the man who had been slugging him on the head with a pistol. His shots failed to take effect, however, and Wright shot him.

The couple jumped in their car and left, and before long the hunt for them had started. They wrecked their car near Slide and after walking awhile hid in a gin and vacant house until officers got hot on their trail. Then they started out walking again and were surrounded by officers out southwest of Slide.

Sheriff Sam Floyd and Deputy Cleve Bairrington of Tahoka were among those in the forefront of the hunt. They were the two men who scratched in the sand where the couple had sat and found the pistol which Wright had used. He had broken the handle off while slugging Lamb in the service station.

Wright and the woman, who met in Abilene and had gone to Fort Worth and were hitch-hiking their way back, robbed the man who was giving them a ride at Cisco and then stole his car, came on out to Brownfield and robbed a service station there of $90.00, then rushed to Lubbock and pulled the job there.

When finally run down and caught, they had no firearms, and offered no resistance. Thus ended for awhile at least their career of crime.

Miss Clara Faye Nordyke underwent surgery at the Lubbock General Hospital Monday afternoon, and while her condition was reported as satisfactory it was expected that it would be neresary for her to remain there several days.

Harley Jolley Buys O'Donnell Shoe Shop

Pfc. Harley Jolley a few days ago closed a deal for the T. A. Wimberley Shoe Shop in 'Donnell and took charge of the business Tuesday. This is a well-established business there, Mr. Wimberley having been operating it for a long time.

Many friennds here are hoping that Harley will meet with splendid success. Early in the war he went into the Navy, serving in the Atlantic and the Mediterranean ares. He helped the invasion forces to land in North Africa, and saw much nerve-racking service. Later he was given a medical discharge. After being out for sometime, he joined the army but was never sent overseas. He was given a second medical discharge last October.

Harley is a splendid young man and deserves to succeed.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui, many women say, has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion,* thus help build resistance for the "time" to come. Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes. Try it!

TWO TRANSIENT THIEVES IN JAIL HERE

Two thieves charged with the theft of $50.00 on Monday night from the residence of Mrs. Effie Autry at the "Y" just this side of O'Donnell were arrested in Lubbock Tuesday and brought to Tahoka and placed in jail here Tuesday night.

They are said to be s tragglers from the Merchant Marine overdue in port.

They appeared at the Autry home Monday night and asked the privilege of sleeping in the car. Noting their uniforms, Mrs. Autry invited them to sleep inside. When she awoke the next morning they were gone, and also $50.00 from her son's billfold.

A. T. Beard has been seriously sick the past several days.

OUR RACE PROBLEMS

Acting obviously upon suggestions or demands made by the Association for the Advancement of the Colored Race, an organization which had its inception in New York and other northern cities, Negroes all over Texas are making demands for better living conditions, better educational facilities,, better industrial opportunities, and even for social equality everywhere and under all conditions.

We are in sympathy with many of these demands. Here in Tahoka, due chiefly to the fewness of Negroes among us until three or four years ago, we have not furnished our Negro residents with adequate educational facilities. They have had practically none during the past year. But we are happy to state that situation is soon to be remedied and a neat and we trust adequate school building is to be constructed for their use. We hope that additional rooms will be provided as needed and that additional teachers likewise will be employed as the increase in population may demand In other words, we hope that Tahoka furnishes them every reasonable educational opportunity that our colored population may desire.

Furthermore, we believe that something in the way of encouragement and assistance in bringing about better housing conditions "over on the hill" should receive the attention of our white population There are some nice residences over there but too many mere shacks that look more like chicken houses or cow sheds than places of human habitation. We are wondering what, if any thing, the white people of Tahoka can do to remedy that situation.

We believe that if the Association for the Advancement of the Colored Race would devote its energies and thinking to matters of this kind rather than to the bringing about of social equality in this state, they would get a lot more sympathy from the white folks and would do a lot more good.

They are right, for instance, in demanding that the Prairie View State Normal College be made a much better educational institution than it is, but they are wasting time in seeking to gain the admission of colored students into the University of Texas and other higher institutions of learning for the whites. They may win their point, from a legal standpoint, but even then they would probably make little use of the "opportunities" thus granted to them by the courts.

Yes, we hope that the white people of Texas will afford the Negores bettir educational facilites, secure for them better housing conditions in many cities and towns of this state, and help them in many other ways, but Negroes should quit listening to the fulminations of some of their Northern leaders who are demanding "social equality" for them in the South, the right of inter-marriage of the races, and the abolishment of all race distinctions Pursuit of ambitions such as these can only lead them into troulbe

According to some news stories coming out of Germany, U. S. soldiers and their officers alike are becoming tired of the anti-fraternization order. The officers say that it can not be enforced and serves no good purpose. Probably it should be relaxed. It may be that many Germans are still Nazi-minded, especially among the youth, but if American soldiers were permitted to talk with them it might be that they could give these German youth some common-sense ideas and help them to become democratic. There is not the ghost of a show for the Germans to make Nazis out of our young men after they have seen so much of German fanaticism and barbarity. Let the boys talk — and the gals too.

British authorities are already announcing the inauguration of a creasing degree of self-government is to be accorded the natives, it is promised. It is to be hoped that the promise proves to be a reality. Great Britain has done much for India, but many British have been there chiefly as exploiters. Under American rule, we believe that India would have been revolutionized long ago, industrially, econmically, politically, and educationally. We wish the British God-speed in the new policies which they have announced.

Rumors that Hilter is still alive and is hiding here and there and yonder are becoming more numerous. Since neither his body nor that of his companion has ever yet been identified among the dead, the belief grows that he is still alive. We hope the cowardly skunk can be found and brought to justice for if we are to punish the war criminals it would be most unfortunate if the leader of the gang should escape.

Now that the War in Europe is over

What about travel?

Now, you may naturally ask, "Won't it be a little easier to get accommodations?" . . . "Won't it be a little more comfortable to travel?"

We of the Santa Fe would like to hold out some hope to our friends who have good reasons for taking a trip, but who find it difficult to do so.

We would like to give those who do travel all the little niceties of service that are part of the Santa Fe tradition.

Bigger Traffic Loads

The stubborn facts are that the traffic to our Pacific ports of war is stepping up instead of letting down!

This means, in the war days to come, there will be more passenger and freight traffic—new loads and greater loads and less space for civilian travelers than ever on Santa Fe rails.

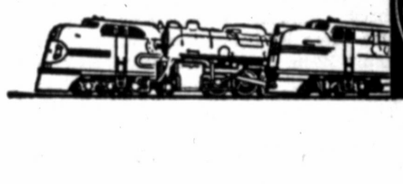

In The Meantime

Santa Fe facilities have been enormously increased — bigger yards; more freight Diesels; centralized traffic control at key points; and improved shop tools and practices which keep our locomotives rolling.

In peacetime these increased facilities will enable us to provide better service than ever. But in the meantime, the stuff needed to lick Japan is top priority.

So—again we ask, "Unless your trip is essential, can't you put it off until we have a little better opportunity to serve you in the traditional Santa Fe manner?"

Hear the Story of the Franklin

The epic of a might U. S. Aircraft Carrier and its crew who wouldn't quit.

As Told by a Surviving Officer

Lt. Fred Harris of Dallas, flight officer on the famous aircraft carrier Franklin, will speak in Tahoka Tonight (Friday) at 8:30 o'clock on the Court House lawn, in the interest of the Seventh War Loan. He is a veteran of the North Africa invasion, and has seen much service in the Pacific. He is a former county commissioner of Dallas County.

Lt. Harris was flight officer on the now famous Carrier Franklin when it was attacked by Jap suicide planes. In one of the most remarkable feats of bravery in Naval history, the Franklin still lives. Though a burning inferno, the Franklin's crew fought to save the ship amid further Jap bombings, fire, and ammunition explosions on board that took the lives of 800 of her crewmen. The crippled but proud ship was then sailed 13,000 miles to New York under her own power, where it is now being refitted for action against the Japs.

The crew of the Franklin would not quit when it looked as though there was not a chance for survival aboard the burning craft. We must not quit, must not let up, in the purchase of War Bonds. The war is not yet over by a long shot. Join this mighty effort to supply the money for the war materials to whip the Japs so our boys can come home! Buy another War Bond NOW! Lynn County must not let its 1,800 service men and women down! We must reach our quota of $650,000 in the Mighty Seventh! Hear Lt. Harris tonight!

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1- Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion,* thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2- Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

LOOK INTO this 2-way help*!

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

Don't Worry About Us! We'll do it!"

THEY tell us that the fat salvage problem has got to be licked in the small cities, the towns and on the farms.

Our country has to have one hundred million more pounds of used fats this year over last. And we're the people who must save it.

We've rolled up our sleeves! We'll save every drop and bit it is possible to scrape—and keep on doing it till the last Jap is licked.

HOW TO DO IT: Save all used fats in a tin can. Keep it handy to the stove. Scrape your broilers and roasting pans, skim soups and gravies, for every drop counts. Keep solid pieces of fat, such as meat trimmings and table scraps, in a bowl. Melt down when your oven's going, add the liquid fat to the salvage can. Take the can to your butcher as soon as it's full. He will give you four cents and two red points for every pound. Your County Agent or Home Demonstration Agent can give you full particulars.

100,000,000 More Pounds of Used Fats Are Needed This Year!

Approved by WFA and OPA. Paid for by Industry.

Pearl Harbor, T H. — Small ships of the Navy assigned to the Central Pacific are repaired, serviced and supplied at the Section Base here. Operating as an activity of the Fourteenth Naval District, the Section Base personnel are helping to keep the Central Pacific clear of enemy fleet units.

Reagan is the son of Mr. C. H. Reagan of RFD 4, Tahoka. Before entering the naval service in July, 1943, he was a farmer.

Susan's bath is the last of four
The water's hot . . . and there's gallons more!

AH!... WHAT FUN it will be to live in a house where even the faucets are touched with magic! Where a faithful automatic Gas water-heatiog system keeps all the hot water you need constantly on tap!

Ample Hot Water Is Essential Need In Modern Homes

Modern living standards in America demand a supply of hot water at uniformly correct temperatures between 130 and 140 degrees Fahrenheit available at any time of the day or night. At these temperatures, hot water provides the greatest usefulness for the upkeep of the home and the health and physical well-being as well as comfort of the family.

An automatic gas water heater provides the practical means for this standard of hot water service, and is the most popular equipment for the purpose because of its reliability and economy.

The economy of a gas water heater results from an easily controlled and dependable automatic device which turns on the gas as required by the household needs for hot water, thus using precisely the amount of fuel necessary, no more, no less.

When Mr. Brown Retires

He's Going to Stay on the Farm

In a few more years, Mr. Brown will be 65, and he's going to quit farming then. But he isn't going to quit the farm. He's going to stay right there, and let Jim take over. It will be Jim's farm from there on, and Mr. Brown is just going to sit back and take it easy. And he won't have to ask Jim for money, either, because the check he'll get each month from Southwestern Life Insurance Company will be ample to take care of his needs—as long as he lives.

You can do exactly what Mr. Brown did, and when you think about it, you'll realize, just as Mr. Brown, that it's the reasonable thing to do. Mr. Brown had everything on his farm insured — the house, barns, livestock, implements — everything, except the most important asset on that farm — himself! And when he realized that, he started investigating, and he found out he could do a dual job with Southwestern Life Insurance: protect his family in event of his death, or quit and let Jim take over, with an independent income for himself at a retirement age of his choice.

The cost of such a plan is so reasonable it will please you. It pleased Mr. Brown. Get the figures today and see for yourself.
