Not Much Action

Not Much Interest Shown By Voters

Pre-noon voting in today's election on 10 constitutional amendments was attracting only meager interest of Howard County electors, according to precinct officials.

Here in town, some of the bigger boxes were practically inactive. In some of the rural boxes, where even an election of exciting interest draws only a handful of votes, the precinct officials had nothing to occupy their time. One box, it was reported, had not a single voter show up the first four hours it was open.

In three town boxes, where usually heavy votes are cast in major elections, a total of 86 ballots had been cast.

Election officials were not too hopeful of any major buildup in interest as the day waned on. There would be, they said, some increase around 5 p.m., when workers ballot as they are on their way home from work.

None seemed to feel any heavy turnout of voters could be anticipated. There are 10 amendments on which the voters are asked to voice their sentiment.

Election officials said that counting the votes was not too difficult and that it was possible final topics from most boxes would be known early.

The polls opened at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, will keep her office open tonight to tabulate returns. She asked each precinct judge to report his totals early as possible.

In a taped television interview with newscaster Vince Leonard of KYW (Westinghouse) entitled "One Year Later," Goldwater also said the Johnson administration had turned down his request to visit Viet Nam as a reserve general in the Air Force.

At-A-Glance Picture Given Of Contests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are the principal contests in today's off-year balloting:

GOVERNORS
New Jersey: Democratic Gov. Richard J. Hughes, 56, favored for re-election against GOP State Sen. Wayne Dumont Jr., 51. Democrats seek to gain control of reapportioned legislature.

MAYORS
New York City: Close contest forecast between Rep. John V. Lindsay, 43, running on the Republican and Liberal tickets, and City Comptroller Abraham D. Beame, 59, the Democratic nominee. Also in race: author William F. Buckley Jr., 39, Conservative party nominee. Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner retiring after three four-year terms.

Cleveland, Ohio: Democratic Mayor Ralph S. Locher slightly favored in four-way race. His opponents: Republican County Auditor Ralph J. Perk and two independent Democrats, State Rep. Carl B. Stokes, a Negro, and Ralph McAllister.

Louisville, Ky.: Republican Alderman Kenneth A. Schmidt opposing Democrat Marilyn Volz, law school dean at the University of Louisville. GOP Mayor William O. Cowger ineligible for re-election.

Detroit: Mayor Jerome Cavanaugh heavily favored over Walter Shamie in nonpartisan election.

CONGRESS
Ohio: Republican Clarence Brown Jr., 38, favored to win his late father's seat in 7th District against Democrat James A. Berry, 35.

OTHERS
Philadelphia: Democratic Dist. Atty. James C. Crumlish Jr. in close fight for re-election against Republican nominee Arlen Specter, a former Democrat.

New York State: Democrats trying to retain both houses of reapportioned legislature. Former U.S. Sen. Kenneth B. Keating is Republican nominee for Court of Appeals against Democrat-Liberal Owen McGivern.

Referenda: Statewide voting on constitutional amendments and bond issues in Florida, Kentucky, New York, Maine, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Texas.

Another proposal would permit the legislature to fix the salaries of the presiding officers of the House and Senate, who now receive the same $4,800 annual pay of all other legislators.

JUDGE RETIREMENT
A fourth change in government issue would require retirement of judges at 75 and sets up procedures for mandatory retirement of judges for disability and for their removal for misconduct.

Two proposals were aimed at improving college education. One would provide a 5-cent ad valorem tax to construct college buildings. This would provide building funds for some of the newer state institutions.

Another would permit the state to make loans to needy college students.

One measure would keep the veterans' land purchase plan operating beyond the Dec. 1 cutoff date. It would allow the state to issue $200 million in bonds for further loans. A similar proposal in 1963 for $150 million was defeated. The program began shortly after World War II and allows veterans to borrow a limited amount for purchase of land at low interest rates.

The Justice Department did not formally challenge the ruling, which stands, but Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said the ruling "is not necessarily the only one which this department would have reached had it been charged with the responsibility."

UF Given Renewed Boost
The fruits of hard work began to show today, and the Employees Division of the United Fund began reporting in with large pledges and cash.

Today's report had a $170,352 total, more than $5,000 over the amount listed Monday. One of the big reports came from employees of Corden Oil and Chemical Corp., and there are still others at this firm to report.

Campaign leaders said this breakthrough might give the campaign new life, after a week-end of doldrums. The drive goal is $99,964 and the latest report puts the effort within 70 per cent of the total.

Volunteers with cards still in hand were urged to report on them as quickly as possible. Deadline for the formal campaign is near.

Some 14 agencies depend on the annual campaign to finance their welfare efforts during the year.

Only A Fifth Of Qualified Due To Ballot

By The Associated Press
Texas citizens voted today on 10 proposed constitutional amendments with early indications that only about 20 per cent of those qualified took the trouble to register an opinion.

Six issues involved money. Four proposals concerned the structure of state government. In advance of the balloting, Robert L. Johnson, head of the unofficial Texas Election Bureau, estimated as many as 400,000 might vote.

Johnson boosted his earlier prediction of 300,000 because of a late flurry of statements by state officials and others advocating or attacking the proposals. There was no campaigning in the usual sense.

TURNED DOWN
Voters turned down by a wide margin another amendment proposal Sept. 7, this one to increase the Senate to 39 members from 31. Voting then was 222,000. Another 16 amendment proposals will come up for vote next year.

Gaining the most interest was the plan to increase the terms of the governor and some other state officers to four years from the present two.

Advocates said officers need four years to complete their programs without the interruptions of campaigning, and noted that 36 other states have four-year terms.

MOST VOCAL
Opponents, the most vocal of which was the AFL-CIO, said they want more frequent opportunities to assess and possibly retire officials whose programs they do not like.

Another proposal gaining less interest would allow Texas House members to serve four years, doubling their present terms. Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama and Maryland now have four-year terms for House members.

Police said the Brink's building in Syracuse was broken into the weekend of Oct. 23-24 and thieves fired at least 30 rounds from a 20mm cannon to blast open the vault.

The thieves made off with $416,028 from the vault, including $100,774 in cash and $255,254 in checks.

TAKEN PRISONER
Frank, a bachelor and a mechanic on Long Island, was arrested Monday night in Washington, D.C., by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, who said laboratory experts positively identified the cannon as the one used in the burglary.

IRS Ruling Questioned
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has questioned an Internal Revenue Service ruling that permits anti-trust law violators to deduct triple-damage penalties from their income taxes.

A congressional study committee, making public the differing views, recommends that the deduction be ended by law, at least in cases where there were actual convictions of antitrust law violations.

The Justice Department did not formally challenge the ruling, which stands, but Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said the ruling "is not necessarily the only one which this department would have reached had it been charged with the responsibility."

Suspect Arrested In Brink's Haul

NEW YORK (AP) — In swift developments, the FBI arrested one man in the $400,000 Brink's burglary in Syracuse, N.Y., charged another still at large and recovered the cannon used to blast open the vault.

Jack Frank, 33, of Freeport, N.Y., taken into custody by federal agents, was to be arraigned today before a U. S. commissioner in Brooklyn.

NEPHEW SOUGHT
His nephew, Joel Singer, 22, of Chomedy, Que., is being sought in the burglary 10 days ago.

They were charged in Albany, N.Y., with conspiracy to violate the statute on interstate transportation of stolen property. The FBI also charged Singer with a violation of the federal firearms act in connection with the transportation of a 20mm antitank gun from Quebec to Syracuse.

The FBI said that it had recovered, with the aid of the Navy and Coast Guard, the antitank gun used in the burglary from waters near the Meadowbrook Parkway bridge to Jones Beach on Long Island.

CANNON TALLIES
The developments were announced Monday night in Washington, D.C., by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, who said laboratory experts positively identified the cannon as the one used in the burglary.

Airborne Unit Yanks In 3 Engagements

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. combat troops reported 92 Communist guerrillas killed and 26 captured in fighting in central Viet Nam today and Monday.

Men of the 1st Air Cavalry Division, who arrived in Viet Nam only seven weeks ago, fought three engagements against an enemy force of between 500 and 600 men near the U.S. Special Forces camp at Plei Me, 210 miles north of Saigon.

KILLED, CAPTURED
The airborne cavalrymen reported they killed 88 of the enemy, captured 26 others and picked up 26 suspects. A U.S. spokesman said North Vietnamese regulars were among those killed and captured.

There was no word on American casualties. The Plei Me camp underwent a week-long siege before the Communists were routed last week. The cavalrymen have been hunting down Viet Cong and North Vietnamese in the area since then.

ATTACK OUTPOST
The Viet Cong attacked an outpost near Qui Nhon, on the coast 260 miles north of Saigon, but a U.S. spokesman said paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division fought off the assault and killed four Viet Cong. The Americans suffered light casualties, the spokesman said.

In the northernmost sea rescue of the war, Capt. Norman P. Huggins of Mullins, S.C., was picked up after his plane was hit by conventional ground fire over a Communist surface-to-air missile site 35 miles northeast of Hanoi, a military spokesman reported.

RAILS OUT
Huggins headed out over the South China Sea and bailed out 57 miles east of Haiphong, North Viet Nam's major port. He spent an hour in a life raft before he was rescued by a plane piloted by Capt. David P. Westenbarger of Fairfield, Ohio.

During the rescue, two U.S. dive bombers shot up a North Vietnamese sampan that was heading for the downed man and firing machine guns at him. Huggins was reported in good condition.

Huggins was on a photo-reconnaissance mission over three SAM-launching sites which U.S. planes attacked Sunday. Pilots after the strikes said they left one site in ruins, knocked the two others out of action and destroyed a key highway bridge in the area. Small-arms fire brought down a Navy jet during the raid, and the pilot was presumed captured after bailing out.

GIFT AIRDROP
A U.S. C130 Hercules dropped 5,000 gift packages and 25,000 newspapers over a 90-mile stretch along the North Vietnamese coast south of the city of Vinh. The packages contained cloth, plastics, needles, thread, notebooks, towels and under-shirts.

SMOG LIFTS, L. A. Blinded
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Southern Californians, blinded by a week of heavy smog, now can barely see for all that light. "For four days last week, the smog was so heavy that smog alerts were declared—meaning that, if conditions worsened, industry could be shut down and traffic curtailed."

DO IT, SAID THE PRESIDENT
"Do it," said the president—and 32 hours later the answer came back: "Soviet nuclear forces not in a state of war readiness."

COST HIS LIFE
"The secret source," of course was Penkovsky, and the message he sent probably cost him his life.

NOT SPECIFIC
The communique contained no joint peace formula, however, and made no specific mention of U.S. troops in Viet Nam. It said the two governments expressed "growing concern" over the "new dangers" for peace stemming from the Viet Nam war.

IT SAID THE VIET NAM PROBLEM
It said the Viet Nam problem should be solved by strict application of the Geneva agreements of 1954.

AID UNDERSTANDING
The statement said the French-Soviet talks helped to build understanding between Eastern and Western Europe in a dialogue both sides said they hoped would continue.

THE ONLY SPECIFIC AGREEMENT
The only specific agreement mentioned was a pact to be concluded later covering Soviet-French cooperation in space research. It is believed this will apply to joint work on a communications satellite system.

Barry Hits At McNamara

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Barry Goldwater called today for the resignation of Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, urged an all-out bombing of Hanoi industrial complexes and blamed Govs. William W. Scranton and Nelson Rockefeller, both Republicans, for his defeat in last year's presidential election.

In a taped television interview with newscaster Vince Leonard of KYW (Westinghouse) entitled "One Year Later," Goldwater also said the Johnson administration had turned down his request to visit Viet Nam as a reserve general in the Air Force.

The Milk and Ice Fund, another of the United Fund agencies, supplies milk and medicine to needy families. Last year, $1,629 was spent on milk to the children of 18 families. Won't Run Again

Sen. Maurice Neuberger, D-Ore., has announced she would not seek a second term in the U.S. Senate next year. She was elected in 1960 to succeed her late husband, Sen. Richard Neuberger. She is shown with Boston psychiatrist Dr. Philip Solomon, whom she married last year. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Mrs. Neuberger Won't Run Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Maurice Neuberger, D-Ore., has dropped out of contention for reelection with a blast against the way she said senatorial campaigns are financed.

Mrs. Neuberger, who is really Mrs. Philip Solomon, made it clear in a statement Monday that one principal reason for quitting was that she didn't want "to be beholden to some group for campaign money and to go begging from friends and relatives."

AT STAKE

The Senate seat she occupies will be at stake in next year's election. Oregon Gov. Mark O. Hatfield, a Republican, is expected to bid strongly for it. Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., might seek the Democratic nomination.

The decision of the 58-year-old Oregon member not to run again probably will not be duplicated by her only woman colleague, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine. Mrs. Smith, who is 67, has not disclosed her plans but friends expect her to bid for a fourth six-year term next year.

Mrs. Neuberger said that since she had an operation for cancer four years ago she has known she probably would not run again. She said she made "a wonderful recovery," that her health is excellent and that she has been able to carry on the heavy workload of a senator.

JP Faces Charge Filed By Warden

CONROE, Tex. (AP) — Texas Game and Fish Warden C. V. Kincannon filed an aggravated assault charge Monday in Montgomery County court against Justice of the Peace Bo Calfee of Willis.

Kincannon said he went to Willis Sunday in uniform, but without his gun to "try to reason with" Calfee about alleged game law violations. "He jumped on me for no reason at all," Kincannon said. "He kicked me in the face several times."

Train Slices Bus In Two; Dead At 28

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A train sliced a bus in two at a crossing near the Teotihuacan pyramids Monday, killing 28 persons and injuring 16 others, officials reported. The train was en route to Mexico City from Veracruz.

Teotihuacan is about 25 miles northeast of Mexico City. It is the site of the famous pyramid of the Sun and the ruins of the ancient Toltecs and Aztecs.

Police said the bus driver apparently tried to race over the crossing ahead of the train. The driver, among 14 persons trapped in the forward part of the bus, was among those killed. Wreckage and bodies were hurled 200 feet by the impact of the crash.

Medic Notes Exercise Lack

HOUSTON (AP) — If you run a mile you may be exhausted but you're not likely to have any trouble with your back, says an internationally known authority on back ailments.

Pace to relieve tension when you are angry, Dr. Hans Kraus of New York City advised his colleagues Monday at a Southern Medical Association meeting.

"Get out and run a mile if your heart is healthy," he said. "It might ward off a chronic headache, headache or stiff neck."

Kraus treated the late president John F. Kennedy for back trouble. He said 50 per cent of all Americans suffer from one or more of these malady because "we're under-exercised and over-stimulated."

Klan Suicide Victim Buried

READING, Pa. (AP) — A Ku Klux Klan leader who shot himself to death when his Jewish background became public is being cremated and buried today.

Daniel Burros, 28, the grand dragon of the New York Klan, shot himself twice Sunday in the apartment of a Pennsylvania Klan leader after reading a newspaper story revealing his Jewish origin.

His parents identified the body Monday.

RULED SUICIDE
Dr. Michael Austin, assistant Berks County coroner, ruled the death a suicide after an autopsy.

Police said the parents, George Burros, 71, and his wife, Esther, 62, returned to New York after identifying the body. They declined all comment to newsmen.

Police said they told them their son had been away from home for more than a year and they had been unaware of his connection with what they called "un-American" organizations until July 1964. This apparently referred to Burros' reported membership in the American Nazi party and the National Renaissance party, a New York Right-wing group.

They told police they did not approve of his involvement with such groups, but could do nothing about it.

FATALLY SHOT
Lt. Walter A. Nawoczenski of the homicide department said the autopsy showed that one bullet entered Burros' chest and penetrated a lung, causing a hemorrhage. The second bullet entered the right side of the temple and was the fatal one.

Police said Burros' death occurred in the apartment of Roy E. Frankhouser Jr., 25, named by the House Committee on Un-American Activities as grand dragon of the Klan in Pennsylvania. Present besides Frankhouser, said the police, was Frank Rotella, 28, of New York City, identified as a New Jersey Klan leader, and Regina Kupiszewski, 21, described by police as Frankhouser's girl friend.

More People Feel Good!

By Halvard T. Hansen, D.C.

A number of low back complaints came to this office last week, and each one found relief through Chiropractic.

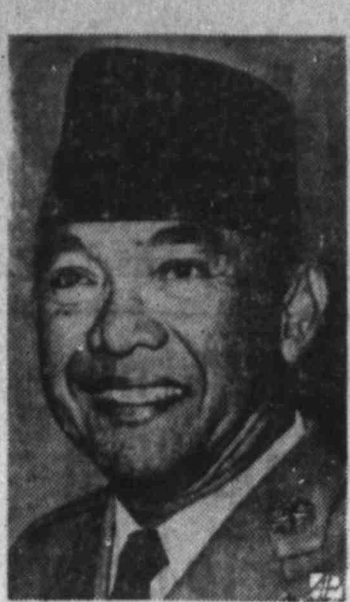

In most cases, it was a simple matter of releasing a stuck vertebra. This woman called and said she couldn't go on, the pain was so bad and after the second treatment even wondered if she needed to come back for further treatment as there wasn't any pain or discomfort No. 3016.

This woman also complained of back trouble but her primary complaint was headaches and almost as bad was the aching between her shoulders. Routine examination disclosed why she had the trouble and had suffered so long. Treatment was begun and just about from the first treatment, relief and release from pain came. She is a different woman today from the aching woman who came in No. 3015.

This woman came for a very uncomfortable complaint of pain between the shoulders, constant and made worse by any turning of the head or arms. The vertebra which had slipped was located and the irritation to the nerve was eliminated and she now feels better as well as the women above. No. 3023.

Indonesian Army Battles Terrorists In Anti-Red Drive

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Communist terrorism spread to west Java today as the army strove to put down Red violence in the central and eastern areas of the island, Antara news agency reported.

The agency reported the Communists were attacking the homes of non-Communist organization leaders in the west Java area of Tasikmalaja and had desecrated local mosques.

This was the first reported terror activity in west Java, where several Communist party branches earlier dissolved themselves.

President Sukarno, in the face of mounting Communist acts of terrorism, belatedly sanctioned Monday martial law that was proclaimed by the army in greater Jakarta and central Java areas.

Antara also reported a clash in east Java between 500 members of the youth wing of the party and security forces at Dukuh Karanganyar. The agency said one soldier and four rebels were killed and 16 Communist youths were captured.

The situation was still reported serious in central Java. The newspaper API said that at least 450 persons have been killed by terrorists in the Bojolan and Klaten areas of central Java.

AP Man To Cover Space

DALLAS (AP) — Activities at the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston will be covered for The Associated Press, starting this week, by former San Antonio correspondent Ronald E. Thompson.

Paul Recer, a member of the Dallas AP staff, will succeed Thompson at San Antonio Nov. 15. Both writers are 27 years old.

Den 5, Pack 202 met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Ben F. Johnson Jr., 707 W. 16th, den mother. The cub scouts opened the meeting with rehearsal of the advancement song. The theme for the November achievement parade was explained. Remaining time was spent making plaster casts of dog foot prints.

Wounded Sergeant Wants To Go Back

FT. GORDON, Ga. (AP) — Sgt. Claude W. Spiva, 23, wounded in an ambush by the Viet Cong, wants to go back to Viet Nam as soon as he is able.

His mother doesn't agree. "I don't want him to go back," said Mrs. J. D. McMillan of Decatur, Ga. "Of course it's up to him to decide, but it seems that once should be enough."

She said her son had planned to leave the Army when his enlistment ended in 14 months. Spiva would have six years in the Army at the end of his enlistment.

"DOING SOMETHING"
"I felt I was really doing something over there," Spiva said from his hospital bed. "I feel I can do a better job for the Army in Viet Nam than here in the United States."

The sergeant was wounded Oct. 8 when guerrilla forces ambushed a 1st Infantry Division truck convoy. He was riding in a truck with his squad when several grenades landed in it.

"The grenades killed two of my men, and in the course of the 20-minute ambush the company executive officer and a machine gunner were also killed," he said.

Spiva suffered a bullet wound in his arm and received grenade shrapnel in his right leg. "MUST STAY"
He said U.S. troops must stay in Viet Nam "as long as we are needed to keep the Communists from taking over Southeast Asia. Most of the troops feel the same way. The ones that are

Spaceman May Step From Gemini 6 To 7 During Orbit

MANNED SPACE CENTER Houston, Tex. (AP) — The Gemini 6 and 7 spaceships may maneuver to within inches of each other. Astronaut Thomas P. Stafford may leave No. 6 and walk over to No. 7 during the double orbital flight scheduled next month.

These possibilities came up Monday as the Gemini 7 astronauts discussed the flight with newsmen.

Astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell also disclosed they plan to circle the earth for 10 of their 14 days wearing only long underwear. The original Gemini 6 flight, with astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Stafford, was postponed Oct. 25 when the Agena rocket they were supposed to link up with failed to reach orbit.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration decided to try the unique doubleheader which has been dubbed the "Spirit of '76." It calls for Gemini 7 to be launched Dec. 8, with Gemini 6 to follow about eight days later. Gemini 6 is to stay aloft two or three days.

INCHES APART
Asked how close the two spaceships might come, Borman said:

"We really feel we could get to within a matter of inches. I'm not saying that we will. But all our simulations show that once you are within 50 to 60 feet, it should be easy to go the rest of the way."

Lovell said he would be pleased if the two Geminis came close enough to prove the basic objective of space rendezvous — "the ability to transfer personnel and materials between two space stations. That would be 25 feet, 50 feet or 100 feet, depending on the method of operation and the length of the tether line used."

According to a plan being studied by the space agency, Stafford would open the hatch of Gemini 6, step out and stroll over to Gemini 7, posing for pictures and perhaps rapping on the window.

DECISION DUE
A decision is expected within a few days.

Borman said a space walk definitely was out on his ship because of new lightweight space suits he and Lovell plan to wear.

"We plan," he said, "to take this suit off during flight and fly in a shirtsleeve environment for up to, we hope, 10 days."

Asked what would be worn when the suits were removed, backup pilot Michael Collins said: "Well, just long johns essentially."

Borman said an extra set of thermal underwear would be carried in case it became chilly in the cabin.

The lightweight suit weighs 16 pounds compared with 31 pounds for earlier Gemini models.

Tax Discount Drops Lower

County taxpayers, who did not settle their current tax bill last month, will find the discount allowed for prompt payment down one per cent effective Wednesday, Mrs. Zillah LeFevre, county tax assessor, pointed out.

In October, the taxpayers who paid off their bill were allowed a three per cent discount. Effective Nov. 2 at midnight the discount drops to two per cent. This holds through Dec. 1. Dec. 1 to Jan. 1, the discount is one per cent.

Mrs. LeFevre pointed out that taxpayers may also pay their poll tax at the same time they pay their regular taxes, and that an application for a poll tax receipt appears on the back of the tax statement sent to the property owners.

Postal Receipts Decline By $500

Big Spring Post Office receipts for October were about $500 down from the receipts for the same month a year ago. E. C. Boatler, postmaster, said Tuesday.

Receipts for last month were $33,459.13. This compared with $33,914.70 for the same month in 1964.

However, postal receipts for the first 10 months of 1965 are better than $15,000 ahead of the same 10 months in 1964.

Total receipts through Oct. 31, 1965, stood at $367,315.55. For the period in 1964, receipts were $352,933.43.

Bus Falls Into River, 74 Die

CAIRO (AP) — The death toll in the crash of a trolleybus into the Nile River Monday rose to 74.

Police said 10 more bodies were discovered caught in weeds in the river 25 hours after the accident.

The trolleybus swerved off the road and crashed into the river when the driver apparently lost control. His body was found today with the hands still gripping the wheel.

Found Dead

Julie Pasanen, 18, who lived in the Detroit suburb of Highland Park, was found stabbed to death Monday. She was working as a baby sitter at the time. Police said she had been stabbed and slashed several times. An 18-month-old baby was found playing near the body, police said. He was unharmed. The killer was being hunted today. (AP Wirephoto)

Stolen Car Found, Motor Running

A car stolen from a local drive-in restaurant about 11:45 p.m. Monday was found parked behind Fox's Pawn Shop, 210 N. Gregg, at 3:47 a.m. today by local patrolmen.

Paul Robert Clack, Box 3212, Webb AFB, told officers his car had been stolen from the Wagon Wheel Drive-In, 1611 W. 4th. A routine patrol check at 3:37 a.m. today found the car, with motor running, parked at the pawn shop. The car was returned to Clack today, officers said.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Says Medicare Not Free, And Due To Cost More

To the Editor:

On page 12A of your Sunday, Oct. 31, 1965, edition an article written by Tom Barry entitled "Medicare Is Free, Just Sign Up" is probably the most un-derstanding piece of fabrication and untruthfulness I have ever read in your paper.

Let's get the facts straight.

1. Medicare is not free!
2. Each recipient of hospitaliza-tion must pay the first $40 of charges on admission.

3. Each recipient of hospitaliza-tion must pay $10 a day after 60 days.

4. Each recipient of hospitaliza-tion must pay all the charges after 90 days.

5. Each recipient of nursing home care must first be hospital-ized for a minimum of three days—therefore must pay $40—then after 20 days in the nursing home must pay $5 a day for the next 60 days.

6. Each recipient of nursing home care after 90 days must pay all charges.

7. Each recipient of outpatient care for diagnostic services must pay $20 in addition to 20 per cent of all the charges.

8. Each recipient of outpatient care for diagnostic services must pay all charges after 20 visits.

9. For each individual who is eligible and "just sign up" in order to be eligible for 100 vis-its in the home must first be hospitalized and must pay $40 and except for large metropolitan centers—this service is at present not available.

10. None of these above serv-ices are free and there are no provisions for professional serv-ices payments.

Let's go to fact No. 11, the insurance part of this monstrous socialized medical bill.

The insurance policy has not even been written yet, accord-ing to the conferees now work-ing on this; but there is still nothing free about it. The re-cipient of this policy must pay $3 a month for this policy and the government must pay an-other $3 per month for each pol-icy issued. Considering there will be approximately 18 million people eligible for this policy, 108 million dollars a month ain't hay—and certainly not free.

I hope you can see that even the recipient must pay and this is not free in any sense of the word. Let me also challenge you to find out just what this farce is going to cost you and me, and particularly the indi-vidual that is, say 23 years old and makes $6,500 a year the rest of his life to age 65; and then read the testimony of the gov-ernment employees of the Health, Education and Welfare Depart-ment who testified at the com-mittee hearing on this bill and told this deaf Congressional committee that:

1. "The cost of this legislation for the first year will be about 6.3 billion dollars.

2. "At the end of seven years this program will still be 1.6 billion dollars in the hole and more taxes will have to be in-flicted on the working individual to take care of the deficit."

And take a look at the 36 amendments to this bill that have already been introduced into the Congress that will alter this bill and make it cost even more.

Free—it's a great word, but it does not apply to Medicare. I would venture to say that in 10 years medical care in the United States will cost 10 times more than it is today; not only are you going to have to pay for Medicare, but also pay your own bills for medical care.

GEORGE E. PEACOCK, M.D., Box 1111, Big Spring, Texas, Chairman of the Permian Basin Medical Society, Committee on Legislation.

The conservatives of the United States have turned almost overnight from "little old ladies in tennis shoes" and "old fog-ies" into young, executive-minded scholars. A recent sur-vey of the Conservative Party of New York City (which is run-ning William Buckley for may-or) showed the average age of its members to be 29.

Locally, the voice of this "new conservatism" is the Torchbearers' Abraham Lincoln chapter number 125. As noted in your newspaper last Friday, the Torchbearers is at last truly a voice. Its weekly radio program (KBYG, 9:05 a.m. Sunday) will be devoted to conservative phil-osophies which cross all politi-cal party lines.

DAVID THOMAS

Comedienne Is Now Mired In Sticky Scripts

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Elsa Lancaster, whose flut-tery manner conceals a thoughtful approach to comedy, believes in developing a funny character as a basically normal person.

"If you don't start out playing an eccentric or a nut," the British performer maintained, "you can turn all sorts of things—particularly small things—into surprise and comedy. But if the character is exaggerated to start, you have to do wild, outrageous things and keep get-ting wilder and more out-rageous as you go along."

HER THEORY

Thus, she continued, she plays Miss Culver, the head mistress in John Forsythe's school for young women—as a slightly vague, fuzzy but reasonable creature.

"Then if I do something not quite in character, even drink a glass of port or hicough—any-thing unexpected, really—it is likely to seem funny," she ex-plained.

That is—Miss Lancaster's theory, built out of long expe-rience. Unfortunately this truly gifted comedienne and some other good performers in NBC's "John Forsythe Show" are mired in some pretty sticky sit-uations and scripts. Normal or eccentric, it is hard to be funny in that series.

Apparently Forsythe, a man of taste, charm and ability, was persuaded that if the television audience accepted several se-sons of a series in which he played a gay bachelor blade trying to bring up one teenage niece, its enjoyment would be multiplied several times over if he played a gay bachelor blade trying to bring up a whole school full of teenagers.

Firefighters At Work

Local firemen above study a blaze early today in the home of Primitive Navarrette, 500 NW 4th. They said matches started a blaze in the home's bedroom, resulting in heavy smoke and fire damage to the home and its contents. Two fire trucks left the station at 8:10 a.m. and were unable to return until about 9:05 a.m. No one was injured in the fire.

Traditional Fall Festival Planned At St. Lawrence

The 10th annual St. Law-rence Fall Festival is set for Sunday, and with it the tradi-tional country sausage and bar-becue dinner.

The festival will be held in the Community Hall of the St. Lawrence Catholic Church, and the barbecue will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., and then supper will be served from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. This will be followed by games, the annual auction, and refresh-ments. The festival dance will follow at 8 p.m. with the Texas Plainsmen furnishing music.

Lester Jansa, Eugene Hirt and Forrest Eggemeier are co-chairmen, and Mrs. Lester Jan-sa is in charge of the women's activities.

Sausage will be made Sat-urday morning by a committee headed by Alfred Schwartz. Cecil Halfmann will be in charge of the barbecuing.

Merchants and others have donated items to be put in the traditional auction sale along with cotton donated by St. Lawrence parishioners. Calvin Peizel, San Angelo, will be the auctioneer. The Men's Society is giving a gun and the Women's Society an electric roaster. A plate charge of $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children will be made, and the meal will fea-ture German style sausage, bar-becue, beans, mashed potatoes, English peas, cabbage slaw, cranberries, pickles, desserts of pie or cake, and coffee or tea.

Shy Texas Boy Blames Companion For Crime

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Slender, shy David C. Walters, 18, said a flashy, fast-talking companion forced him to participate in the kidnap-slaying of a Mon-tana lumberman in September.

Grieving neighbors and family were in the courtroom Monday as Walters testified, mostly in his own defense.

Court was recessed just as Thomas J. Hanrahan, Lewis and Clark County attorney, started a sharp cross examination.

Walters pleaded for mitigation of sentence—a maximum of hanging for first degree murder or life imprisonment for kid-napping.

Walters pleaded guilty to both charges. A plea of innocent to the same charges has been en-tered by Charles E. Corliss, 25, Fulton, N. Y.

The two are accused of kid-napping and killing Donald C. Hammer, 48, Sept. 14 on a lonely Montana mountain pass.

Seizure of Walters will be Wednesday. The judge said if Walters is not sentenced to hang, terms for the two charges will be consecutive—one after the other.

In court as character wit-nesses were 18 residents of Keyes, Okla., where Walters graduated from high school in May. Walters was described by friends and members of his family as a shy, immature boy.

Walters said Corliss was seek-ing $150 to repay a girl friend and ordered Walters to hold up service stations and a cafe. Wal-ters said it was Corliss' idea to rob Hammer and they netted $17 and a cigarette lighter.

ANNOUNCEMENT AWAITED

Another Term For De Gaulle?

PARIS (AP) — Gen. Charles de Gaulle, who once gave up his power, has promised to tell the nation in early November whether he will be a candidate for re-election in December.

Most Frenchmen expect the answer to be yes. Several papers recently said he had made up his mind to seek another seven-year term and would announce his decision next Monday.

Most of those convinced that he will run, like to leave the door just a little bit open. Un-predictability has been a De Gaulle hallmark.

In 1946, he resigned as head of the provisional postwar govern-ment because he didn't like a constitution adopted against his will. He said it wouldn't work. It didn't, in part because De Gaulle had enough supporters in Parliament to keep successive governments in constant tur-mol.

WAS RECALLED
Although he kept a close watch from the wings, De Gaulle was officially off the po-litical scene 12 years. He was recalled in 1958 during the Al-gerian crisis.

De Gaulle will be 75 Nov. 22. He could decide he had earned retirement.

His wife, Yvonne, would love that. She longs to flee the restrictive formality of the Elysee Palace for the rustic simplicity of their country home at Colombes les deux Eglises.

Among his contemporaries, he has seen Winston Churchill tightly embraced by England in crisis, then turned out of office when the crisis had passed.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer was pushed out of office by his own party, and never seemed able to under-stand he wasn't wanted. De Gaulle would never want his image tarnished by a historical accident or an unavoidable shift in public opinion.

In his memoirs, De Gaulle decried the fact that, at the age of 84, Marshal Philippe Petain signed the armistice halting the fighting between France and Hitler's Germany.

"Odd age is a shipwreck," De Gaulle commented.

ANOTHER TERM?
If he decides to take another seven-year term, he will be 82 when that term expires.

De Gaulle has appeared strong and firm of voice in re-cent public appearances. He attended, how many times he had received individual minis-ters, ambassador and foreign chiefs of state. Some interpreted this as a swan song. Others saw it as proof that he is in constant consultation and as refutation of charges that he makes decisions all alone.

If De Gaulle were to step aside, a propaganda buildup would be needed for a hand-picked successor. Premier Georges Pompidou seems the most likely heir-apparent, but there has been no sign of any unusual effort to sell Pompidou to the nation.

De Gaulle obviously does not think that his program has been completely achieved.

French representatives at the European Common Market headquarters in Brussels, Bel-gium, were called home in July. France has since refused to take part in any negotiations.

De Gaulle is fearful of threat of supranationalism and a loss of the French veto.

The French attitude has been that nothing can be done before the presidential election.

MINOR POINTS
De Gaulle's supporters con-sider any reasons cited for his retirement as only minor, nega-tive arguments.

At his September news con-ference, De Gaulle detailed how many Cabinet meetings he had attended, how many times he had received individual minis-ters, ambassador and foreign chiefs of state. Some interpreted this as a swan song. Others saw it as proof that he is in constant consultation and as refutation of charges that he makes decisions all alone.

Farms Push Harvesting

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas farmers pushed cotton and sorghum harvests last week in near perfect weather—warm days and cool nights.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture reported Monday that weather and field conditions generally were good for land preparation and "some aggressive farmers" applied fertilizer for next year's crops.

Cotton harvest reached 43 per cent of complete and sorghum combining 98 per cent, both three per cent ahead of the 1964 pace.

Wheat seeding is entering its final stages on schedule with 1964.

Dry weather added momentum to the carrot harvest on the High Plains, and there is a good looking cabbage crop in the San Antonio area. Mildew hit cucumbers.

Cucumbers are suffering from bad weather and mildew in the Rio Grande Valley but good yields are expected from citrus harvests.

"Livestock are in very good flesh," the department said, with stock water adequate and fall calving on the increase.

Klan Offshoot Activity Bared

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional probes hope today to learn more about Nacirema Inc., apparently an offshoot of the Ku Klux Klan for those who wanted "more violent action."

Nacirema, which is American spelled backward, was described that way Monday by Philip Manuel, an investigator for the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Georgia Klan witnesses solidly refused to answer any committee questions about Nacirema, schools on how to handle explosives, or parties at a klavern headquarters near Atlanta that resulted in the arrest of five Klansmen on charges of maintaining a disorderly house.

GEORGIA CHARTER

Nacirema's charter from the state of Georgia was placed in the record. It stated as the purpose of the organization "to instill patriotism and re-activate liberty and justice for the body politic." Its address was given as a post office box in Mableton, Ga.

Nacirema's original incorporators were Clyde J. Newbern, Tom Gentry and R. H. Wynn.

Police reports on the disorderly house, also placed in the record, described a series of drunken weekend parties, with men and women staggering out to relieve themselves in the front yard in public.

On March 16, 1963, De Kalb County police stepped in and arrested five men at the house at 2666 Kelly Lake Drive outside Atlanta. They were John Brock, William Crowe, William Anderson, Robert Day and Billy F. Wilson. The charges against Brock and Wilson were later dropped. The disposition of the other cases could not be learned. Brock, Crowe and Anderson were called as witnesses Monday and identified as Klan officers. All refused to answer questions.

KLAVERN CENTER

The house was identified by the committee as the headquarters of a Klan klavern.

Anderson read the legal statement invoking the Fifth Amendment and other constitutional privileges in a slow and halting manner, prompted frequently by his lawyer whispering to him.

Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., said the record ought to show he did this because "obviously the witness has very little education."

Crowe and Anderson were identified by Manuel as the instructors at Klan schools on how to make bombs, booby traps and fire bombs.

Brock was identified by Manuel as the man who screamed, "Kill him, kill him," when Klan Grand Dragon Calvin Craig assaulted a 17-year-old Negro at a civil rights demonstration at Crawfordville last Oct. 16. Craig was arrested for assault.

Can't Talk, Says Luci

WASHINGTON (AP)—Luci Johnson replied, "You know I can't say anything" when reporters asked her about reports she was seeking her parents' permission to marry Patrick J. Nugent.

Earlier Monday, Nugent, 22, of Waukegan, Ill., told reporters, "My private life is my own and so is Luci's." He is employed here at the District Commissioner's Advisory Council on Higher Education.

The White House has neither confirmed nor denied the report that Luci, 18, a Georgetown University student, had asked permission from the President and First Lady to wed.

When today's hand was dealt at the Summer Nationals recently held in Chicago, most of the South players went down to defeat in their four heart contract.

With the diamond king located behind the queen, declarer learned that he had only one entry to dummy. The procedure usually employed by South was to lead the ten of spades for a finesse. When West turned up with the king, declarer found that he was permanently disconnected from the dummy and he ended up losing one trick in each suit.

At those few tables where South was successful, the play proceeded differently.

West opened the deuce of diamonds, declarer finessed the dummy's queen and East won the trick with the king.

The latter switched to the queen of clubs and South was in with the ace.

Declarer's problem was to confine himself to the loss of a single trick in the major suits, inasmuch as he was already marked with two losers in diamonds and clubs. With only the ace of diamonds available as an entry to the North hand, it appeared that South must choose between a finesse in spades or in hearts.

There was a further complication however, for, if declarer crosses over to the ace of diamonds to lead the ten of spades, for example, he must not only find the king on side, but the spades have to divide three-three to assure bringing in the suit without loss.

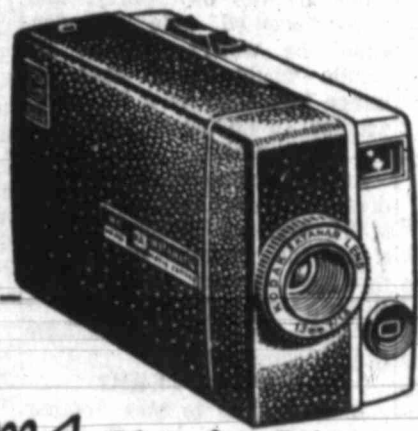

South decided that the trump suit would offer a more favorable prospect provided that he could develop an additional entry to the dummy to repeat the heart finesse. In order to accomplish his end, he played the queen of spades from his hand. West put up the king, cashed the king of clubs and led a third club which the declarer ruffed.

South crossed over to the ace of diamonds and led a heart for a finesse. When the ten of hearts held the trick, he was able to reenter the North hand with the ten of spades to lead another heart and put in the jack from his hand, as both opponents followed suit. The ace of hearts now felled the king and South claimed the balance. His losses consisted of one trick each in spades, diamonds, and clubs.

Market Grows For Pet Foods

NEW YORK (AP) — Chicken croquettes, mixed grill, a meal-dinner for Rover? Yes, they're making gourmet dog food now for particular pets.

Pet food was a $654.6-million market in the United States last year. It nearly has doubled since 1958. Predictions are that it will run more than a billion dollars by 1975.

Sales of pet food are growing despite a drop in the number of dogs and cats.

POPULATION DOWN
The dog population has declined from 24.1 million in 1961 to 22.9 million in 1965, according to a market research report. The cat population went down from 22.1 to 18.7 million during the same time.

But manufacturers are selling more dog and cat food. Sales the first six months of 1965 were up 10 per cent from 1964.

Trade sources say that is because more of the pets are owned by city and suburban families, which traditionally have been heavier buyers of commercially prepared pet foods.

EYE APPEAL
Eye appeal and convenience pet foods are the order of the day. Pet foods are being made to look like human ones. Advertisements show juicy red steaks or meatloaf touched with parsley.

There is what is billed as a gourmet cat food, compounded of liver, kidney, chicken, meat and fish to appeal to the most fastidious Siamese.

It is far removed from the day when great-grandmother filled the farm dog's dish with table scraps.

The big pet food companies are going all out to keep pets from feeding on the family's leftovers or sharing its meals.

TO PELLETS
In the past decade, the big swing has been to packaged dry foods, pellets expanded by air or steam. Manufacturers say they are cheaper than canned food, easier, and offer a more uniform product.

Then one manufacturer came up with a gravy made by adding water. Others followed with their own chunks with sauces.

Now there also are soft moist pet foods which come in various forms — hamburger patties or meatballs. Some are individually wrapped in meal-sized packages that don't need to be stored in the refrigerator.

The pet food manufacturers say the new dog and cat owners want small packages that don't require refrigeration or anything to be added before serving.

One brand even comes packaged with individual plastic trays, eliminating the need of a dish.

Weather? It's Mild

By The Associated Press
Despite three tornadoes, frost, damaging hail and some heavy showers, October added up as a mild month in Texas.

Temperatures for most of the state were slightly below normal and rainfall was a bit below par.

HAS EXCEPTIONS
Exceptions were on the South Plains, where temperatures were about normal or above, and in Central Texas and parts of the low rolling plains near the Red River, where the rainfall was normal or above.

Frosts were observed on the High Plains Oct. 1, 22, 26 and 27. Heavy rains that started in September continued in some sections through October's first week. For the rest of the month there was little precipitation except for heavy showers Oct. 17-18 over most of the state.

The Beaumont-Fort Arthur area for the eighth consecutive month had below normal rainfall.

Tornadoes struck near Anton and Abilene in the South Plains on Oct. 17 and in the Lower Rio Grande Valley near Mission the next day. None did major damage.

Hail storms pounded areas near Vega on Oct. 16 and in Lamb and Bailey counties on Oct. 17 to damage crops.

THE PICTURE
About the 20th day of month, balmy weather began and continued into November.

The table shows October precipitation, cumulative rainfall January through October, and percentage of normal through Oct. 31.

Skies Clear Over Texas

By The Associated Press
The pleasant monotony of cloudless skies over most of Texas gave way today to light rain in the extreme south and at least a few clouds in all sections.

Temperatures stayed generally mild.

Scattered showers fell in early morning across the area south of a line linking Laredo and Corpus Christi.

There was a solid overcast elsewhere in South Texas. High, thin clouds floated over the northern half of the state.

Forecasts called for occasional rain to spread up the coast and into parts of Central, Southeast and Southwest Texas tonight and Wednesday.

Kick In The Teeth

Although both Houses of Congress expressed strong desires that skip row patterns not be interfered with, the Department of Agriculture has ignored these expressions and has imposed drastic revision of the rules. For instance, those who plant on the two-and-two pattern no longer can count 50 per cent of acreage so planted as cotton allotment. They must count 65 per cent of the total cotton planting as allotment. If a producer persists in the face of this, he will suffer a 50 per cent reduction. He may plant four rows and skip two and thus escape with only a 15 per cent reduction, or he may plant four and skip four, and incur no reduction. The efficacy of the four-and-four pattern, however, is evidenced by the fact that only about 8 1/2 per cent of the current crop is so planted. We may expect more of it to go in this direction, but by no means an avalanche. The effect, then, becomes one of further acreage reduction for our dryland areas.

The department says that the two-and-two pattern increases yields. None will argue this, but this deduction is the acme of assiduity when it is considered that the department has allowed transfer of dryland allotments to irrigated tracts. What the two-and-two pattern has brought to this area, however, is not primarily increased yields, but the near imperative of stability for dryland producers. In years of ample rainfall, the increase in yields was not preponderant, but in years of drought or erratic rainfall, this pattern is a great help in averting failure.

If Congress is really wrought up about this kick in the teeth, we suggest that something specific be done at the next session to bludgeon it upon the consciousness of the USDA. It could be, too, that our congressman, who is chairman of the powerful appropriations committee, ought to wield the meat ax on the department until it pays attention.

A Bit Premature

The Texas Police Association's legislative committee has circulated petitions asking Gov. John Connally to call a special session to repeal the revised criminal code before it takes effect Jan. 1.

While the new code will present some new law - enforcement inconveniences and difficulties, it is premature to abolish the revised code before it has been given its day in actual practice. Whether it is perfect or not, the revised code aims at protection of individual constitutional rights, and without them there is reality are no rights for society as a whole.

The best police approach to operating under the new code, however, would be (1) to seek upgrading of police forces to overcome those difficulties and (2) in the years ahead to seek amendments to the code where experience may clearly demonstrate it to be vague or a needless handicap.

cap to assuring public safety.

The new criminal code is supported by the State Bar, the governor, the attorney-general, and a solid majority of the Legislature. Chances of its repeal are nil, though its further improvement certainly is not. Furthermore, unless its individual rights safeguards are retained, questionable criminal convictions in Texas would simply be overturned by federal appeals rather than by the state courts.

The broad, and we believe irreversible, trend of criminal law in this nation is to apply the U. S. Bill of Rights guarantees to state law enforcement and justice. The new code puts Texas in line with that trend. And Texas police authorities should be concentrating on how they can improve law-enforcement techniques to adapt to the trend, not wasting time and thought on improbable "easy outs" like the repeal proposal.

Marquis Childs Sweden, The Welfare State

STOCKHOLM — The unchanging face of this handsome northern city with the thin October sun bringing out the rosy color of the Great Square Palace is a sharp contrast to a world in upheaval. The careful ordering of life at every level is the rule in this nation that puts a high premium on stability.

From a past vanished almost everywhere are the tokens of continuity that mean much to a people who treasure tradition. The widower King, who will soon be 53, is not in residence now. Despite the loss of the heir to the throne many years ago in an airplane accident, the succession is assured. The King's grandson, Crown Prince Carl Gustav, will succeed him.

THE GOVERNMENT, too, is stable and the same party has been in power for 33 years. During World War II, and briefly at other times, the Social-Democrats have been in coalition with parties on the right. But while their margin is small the Laborites have exercised the real authority over a span of time that has seen the tides of change sweep away so much.

The Socialists won the last election on their proposal to expand the old age pension system raising the level to what is said to be the highest in the world. Eventually when the system is fully in force the citizen who retires at the age of 67 will receive a pension equivalent to about three-fourths of his average wage over the 15 best years of his working life. Nor is there any restriction on how much he may earn over and above his pension.

Billy Graham

Will you please tell me how to grow closer to the Lord through prayer? O. N. Prayer is a spiritual exercise, and the only way to become proficient in any exercise is by practice. The best way to learn to pray is to pray. I find that the more I pray, the easier and more natural it is to pray. But by the same token prayerlessness can become a habit — if we practice not praying, we lapse into prayerlessness, and pay the price of feeling "afar off" from God. The Bible says: "Draw nigh unto God, and God will draw nigh to you." He rushes to those who lift holy hands to Him in prayer. "Where two or three are gathered in His name" He will be in the midst of them. Remember, prayer is not just words. Our prayers must mean something to us if they are to mean anything to God. Remember too, prayer is a two-way conversation, and the most important part of it is listening to what God has to say to us.

Big Talk But Few Real Issues In Elections

WASHINGTON (AP) — Today's off-year elections: for the most part, dull, and particularly in the governorship races in New Jersey and Virginia. The New York City mayoralty race is a little perkier.

In all three: big talk but few real issues. The outcome isn't likely to show whether the Republicans can bounce back after their 1964 catastrophe with Barry Goldwater.

IN NEW YORK, where the Democrats have run the city two decades but got all split up in choosing Abraham D. Beame as their candidate, the Liberal-Republican candidate, Rep. John V. Lindsay, didn't even make a purely Republican try.

With a Liberal and Democrat as running mates, the lively, Yale-bred Lindsay has been making a "non-partisan" campaign against Beame, an accountant who rose through Democratic ranks to be city comptroller.

On issues there's little to choose between them. The third candidate in this contest, also Yale-bred, is the very conservative William F. Buckley Jr., author and publisher, whose role has been more heckler than candidate.

IF THE Lindsay-Beame contest is close, the votes one or the other loses to Buckley may make the difference, thus giving the Conservative group the balance of power and hope for more of the same in future races.

In New Jersey the candidates are really at a loss for ideas. There, where Gov. Richard J. Hughes, Democrat, is seeking re-election over Republican State Sen. Wayne Dumont Jr., the principal issue has been a college professor and Democrats expect a landslide.

DUMONT MADE a big thing of attacking Rutgers University's Prof. Eugene D. Genovese, who said last spring he welcomes a Viet Cong victory in Viet Nam. Dumont wanted him fired, but Hughes, while disagreeing with Genovese, says firing him would violate academic freedom. Rutgers is a state university.

In Virginia two conservatives are running against each other under the labels of Democrat and Republican.

The candidate of the powerful Democratic machine in a state where that party has won the governorship 20 times in a row is Lt. Gov. Mills E. Godwin Jr. The Republican candidate, whose party hasn't won the governorship since 1886, is A. Linwood Holton. In Virginia both parties seem tired and complacent, but the Democrats have a machine and the Republicans don't.

Even more conservative than Godwin and Holton, William J. Story of the Conservative party has been making his main pitch at the national government. He talked of freeing Virginia from dependency on Washington and made no predictions about winning.

The Season Jumpers A Bore

NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals today is the season jumper.

This is the person who prides himself on getting things done ahead of time. By now he probably already has eaten his Thanksgiving Day dinner and sent out his Christmas cards.

There is a tendency in several fields to jump the gun and get a head start on everybody else, and this has become a by-product of the ordinary fellow, who by nature is something of a procrastinator.

MAGAZINES HOPE to get an edge by mailing out their April issues in January. All sports, including baseball and football, appear to be lengthening their season. The idea is to start sooner and stay longer, thus milking every last possibility of profit by remaining on the scene as long as an excuse can be found to do so.

If nature started following this practice of advancing and extending the seasons, soon we'd be swatting mosquitoes in February and throwing snowballs in July.

One of the ways we achieve wonder and surprise in life is by accepting the changes that come our way in their proper order, in a cycle that follows a usual pattern. This is why the sequence of spring, summer, autumn and winter gives us so much pleasure. We like it that way: few of us think the system would be improved by mixing up the seasons so that we had roses in January and icicles in September.

BUT THAT is what the season jumpers of this world seem to be doing. They are trying to get a leap ahead of the other fellow.

If they plan to fly the flag to celebrate the Fourth of July, they run it up the flag staff on May 1.

They buy their furs and topcoats in August; they buy their beachwear and outdoor home cooking equipment in mid-winter.

They don't have much fun staying up on Dec. 31 to watch the new year come in as they are too busy coloring eggs for Easter.

Such people regard themselves as clever and efficient, and perhaps they may be. But they also are somewhat depressing to many of the rest of us who like to enjoy our holidays and our seasons separately as they come.

TAKE THE Christmas season, for example. When individuals or promotion firms start beating the drums for Santa Claus before Thanksgiving, they are starting the jingle bells atmosphere too soon.

Christmas comes but once a year, and it is the most welcome of celebrations to most of us — when it comes at its proper time. And that time is after Thanksgiving, not before it.

To Your Good Health Some Frequent Complaints Of Middle Age

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Dear Dr. Molner: Are numbness of the tips of the middle fingers on the right hand, a burning feeling down the right arm and hand, and difficulty in finding a comfortable position in which to sit or sleep, classical symptoms of any ailment? If so is there any therapy, medical or physical, other than aspirin?

Two doctors have agreed, independently, in my case that something is impinging on a nerve — one says a muscle, the other a vertebra, and that nothing can be done except to use aspirin. Do you think manipulative techniques might help? —J.E.L.

Yes, such a combination of symptoms can be significant, and it is not, as a matter of fact, uncommon. Numbness, burning, stinging, a feeling of fingers "going to sleep," and so on, are rather frequent complaints, usually as we get into middle age or later.

Sure, these things can happen, under rather unusual circumstances, when we are young, but they usually don't. As we go on living we accumulate injuries. We also become gradually "ground down." Our bones change shape, not rapidly, but slowly, the way a hinge of a door wears and gets creaky after years and years of use.

Sometimes a nerve, and sometimes a blood vessel, becomes pinched. Either situation can cause tingling, numbness, or other such symptoms, not at the point at which the pinching takes place, but farther along the arm (or leg) or in the fingers or toes.

Saying that nothing can be done except to use aspirin is not necessarily so, and I trust that you somehow misunderstood your doctors. I'm sure they knew that something else could be done, provided the discomfort warranted the effort and expense.

But let's get back to the tingling and numbness. A change in the bones of the neck, or a cervical rib, or some such condition, is the likely cause of pressure on nerve or blood vessels. X-rays of the neck structures can aid here. Depending on what they show, neck traction may help (drawing apart bones that have settled too closely together and stretching neck muscles). Or an operation to remove a segment of rib or other bone may be the answer. Manipulation, other than traction, is not likely to be of much benefit, but I certainly will not say that in some particular cases it may not be helpful.

The blocking of an artery may be at fault, a minor threat so far as total health is concerned, but strategically located so that it causes numbness, or a feeling of coldness in the extremities, or some such annoyance.

In some suitable cases, sympathectomy, or cutting of a certain nerve, can shut off the unpleasant sensations and improve circulation. And the patient wonders why an operation in, say, his chest, makes his fingers feel better. But before whatever treatment is used, the first step is to find out exactly what is causing the trouble.

Never take a chance on diabetes! For better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "Diabetes — The Speakeasy Disease." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim How Do You Get In These Jams?

You can get in some pretty tight places in this business of newspapering.

A lot of times you suddenly find yourself wondering how you ever happened to begin newspapering, in particular, and why you let yourself get into whatever jam you might be in at the moment.

LIKE THE TIME I went into a crummy "hospital" to interview the "doctor" for an advertising blurb. All through the interview on the second floor of an old store building I could hear a woman in the next cubicle. She was moaning and obviously very ill.

As I left I met a police officer and two men in plain clothes coming up the stairs. At the sidewalk entry I decided to wait and see what was up.

AFTER A LITTLE while, the trio came down the stairs. They pulled the old double doors closed, put a chain through some cleats and padlocked the entry. Then they took a placard out of their brief case — a big yellow card.

They tacked it up on the door. In big bold black letters I read "SMALL-POX" and, in smaller letters, the warning the place was under quarantine.

I DIDN'T GO back to the office — instead I raced to the nearest doctor's office. I had never bothered to get a smallpox vaccination. Now I couldn't get one quickly enough.

The quarantine was kept on the place for three weeks.

If I had been ten minutes later getting out of the "doctor's office" I would have been locked up in the building — along with the quack, the woman smallpox victim and several other luckless dupes he called "patients."

Another time . . . I heard an oil rig was on fire. My boss — who also was our cameraman — and I headed for the scene.

SURE ENOUGH there was the rig blazing like a torch. Gas and oil spewed red fire a hundred feet into the air.

You couldn't get close to the derrick because of the heat. However, the boss wanted a good picture so we went "way around, crawled down a ditch and got back of a roadside sign nearer the well. The boss began trying to get the old camera in focus. A lanky character in greasy clothing joined us.

He pointed a bony finger to the derrick, now only a hundred feet or so away.

"See that big tank?" he asked.

OF COURSE we could see it. It was at least 30 feet long and about as big around as a large barrel. It was almost against the red hot derrick.

"That tank thing," said the stranger, "is smack full of butane gas. Wonder she ain't already blown."

With that he ambled away. The boss peered around a corner of the signboard, aiming the camera at the flaring well. It seemed to me he was taking far too much time.

"LOOK," I urged, "snap that thing and let's get away from here."

Finally he was satisfied with whatever he saw and clicked the shutter release.

By that time I had crawled a half a hundred yards away and was all set to run. He joined me and we fled to the car and took off for town.

The tank didn't explode. But, gee, whiz, how was I to know it wouldn't?

—SAM BLACKBURN

Holmes Alexander Two At The Crossroads

WASHINGTON—Gov. George Wallace (D., Ala.) and Defense Department aide Adam Yarmolinsky won't be flattered at the joining of their names, and yet there is a commonality at this phase of their careers—for each is at a crossroads.

It might be said, in fact, that each is at a threshold which could lead to greater public service or to public oblivion.

THESE MEN are alike in another way. Each is the bete noire of the off-center political groups. Neither is anywhere nearly as bad as his enemies pretend, nor as remarkable as his boosters claim, but it would be hard to find a pair of men at the middle level of the public hierarchy who catch so much unwarranted abuse.

George Wallace has been written about and treated as a loathsome toad across the pathway of racial equality and amity, but in truth he is very much a slice-of-life character out of a sizable piece of America. Far from representing the oligarchy of plutocracy of the Deep South, he is a very brainy, very determined poor boy who came into power as a product of these times.

IRONICALLY, Wallace's career is not so much threatened by others, as by a weak spot in his own character. Like many who have tasted power and success, he finds it hard to set the intoxicating cup aside, and now he tries to change the rules in the middle of the game. In so doing he betrays his own principles.

First he tried for the eleven-hour revision of the State Constitution so that he might succeed himself as governor. The State Senate has blocked him, as was his duty. The talk is that he will now try to get around the Alabama law which forbids him to run for the U.S. Senate as a sitting governor.

A LEGITIMATE WAY is open to Wallace—he could resign the governorship next month and wait a full year before challenging Sen. John Sparkman. If he does this, and comes to Washington with a clean victory in the primaries and general election, he could refresh the fading strength of the Southerners' influence which, down the years, has been vital to the dignity and wisdom of that great institution we call the Senate.

ADAM YARMOLINSKY has been treated by those who don't like him with the same undeserved contempt that has been accorded to Wallace. Time and again, I have heard him named as the perpetrator of some nefarious scheme to downgrade the military or upgrade the subversives, but I have taken the trouble to run down these stories. None of them, in my experience, has had any substance. Yet Adam, perhaps because he has a conspiratorial name and is of Russian extraction on one side of his family, has become a hapless scapegoat whose promotions are blocked for no reason that does credit to the blockers. He has been scheduled for big jobs in the poverty war and at the Defense Department, only to be disappointed by rejection.

AS WALLACE is tempted to over-react to frustration and do something self-destructive to a useful career, so Yarmolinsky is tempted to throw in the chips and quit government service, very likely in a bitter state of mind. Neither of these far-apart men is indispensable — but both have some utility to the commonwealth. They should be preserved.

Art Buchwald It's No Place To Vote

WASHINGTON — Today is Election Day in New York City and for someone who doesn't live there it's been a very hard campaign to follow. It was one of the cleanest campaigns ever seen in New York and the only things that the candidates have charged each other with have been bigotry, racism, incompetence, stupidity, and moral turpitude.

As far as we can tell from the advertisements, a vote for William Buckley is really a vote for Abraham Beame. A vote for Beame is really a vote for John Lindsay. And a vote for Lindsay is either a vote for Beame or Buckley, depending on how you feel about David Dubinsky, the head of the Ladies Garment Workers Union.

MR. LINDSAY from the Silk Stocking District insists he is running as a Fusion candidate and not as a Republican. Therefore, a win by Lindsay, according to Republican leaders, would be a big boost for the Republican party all over the United States.

Mr. Buckley does not really want to be Mayor of New York City and has already announced that if he won he would demand a recount. His objective seems to be to prevent Mr. Lindsay from winning. Since he is not a serious candidate for the office, he has had the advantage of not having to discuss the issues. Because he's steered clear of the issues and only dealt in personalities, Mr. Buckley has been getting the most attention of any of the three candidates.

MR. BEAME is the Democratic candidate for Mayor and has been attacked for his height, his lack of glamor, and his handling of the city's books as Controller. At the beginning the only one in the Democratic party who hedged on his endorsement was President Johnson who had only sent him warm greetings through Vice President Humphrey. You can't do much with warm greetings during an election campaign, and many of Mr. Beame's supporters indicated that the warm greetings would have as much effect on the race as an autographed photo of Mr. Johnson's gall bladder operation.

MAYOR WAGNER has not campaigned actively for Controller. Beame, presumably because Sen. Robert Kennedy is supporting him. No national Republicans have campaigned for Lindsay because Lindsay was afraid that, if he did, he would lose the Democratic vote.

Mr. Lindsay has been attacked for being a white Protestant. Mr. Buckley has been attacked for being a Catholic, and Mr. Beame's only hope is that New York has never had a Jewish Mayor.

MR. BUCKLEY has accused Mr. Lindsay of being soft on communism and Mr. Lindsay has accused Mr. Beame of being soft on Mr. Buckley. / So today the citizens of New York City will have an opportunity to go to the polls and decide who their Mayor will be. It isn't an easy election to predict, at least not since Yale announced that Columbus didn't discover America and fouled up the Italian vote.

All I can say is: "New York is a nice place to visit, but I wouldn't want to vote there."

OIL REPORT

Sterling Has Two Completions

Two completions have been filed for Sterling County, a test is being run in a Dawson County well, a fishing job is in progress in Howard County, and operator is waiting on orders at a Borden County test.

Shell Oil Co. has completed its No. 2 F. M. Hildebrand in the WAM (Fusselman) field from perforations at 8,718-35 feet. The well pumped 30 barrels of oil and 30 barrels of water.

Total depth was 8,784 feet, and 5 1/2-inch casing was set on the bottom. Operator fractured with 6,720 barrels of oil and 6,350 pounds of sand. He then flowed briefly and died. He then fractured with a like amount of oil and sand and installed pump. He pumped load for nearly three weeks, but began pumping new oil Monday.

Location is 2,600 feet from the south and west lines of section 14-7, H&TC survey 13 miles southwest of Sterling City.

Sunset International Petroleum Corp. No. 1-41 Narramore, flowed 241 barrels of 36.8 gravity oil through an 18-64-inch choke from perforations at 6,584-94 feet. Total depth was 6,780 feet in the Triple M (Upper Wolfcamp) field. Operator set 4 1/2-inch casing at 6,770 feet, and acidized formations with 10,000 gallons. Gas-oil ratio was 1,570-1, and tubing pressure was 50 pounds per square inch. Location was spotted in section 66-17, SPRR survey.

Texaco, Inc. No. 1 C. E. Barrow, spotted 2,173 feet from the north and 2,108 feet from the west lines of section 3-36-3n, T&P survey, is preparing treatment of the Mississippi with an emulsion breaker at 11,446-488 feet. Operator swabbed 14 barrels of new oil and 30 barrels of load water in 14 hours. Total depth of the well is 11,475 feet. He set 3 1/2-inch casing at 8,490 feet and 2 3/4-inch at 11,472 feet.

Production from the Spraberry formation was 133 barrels of 38.8 gravity oil flowing through an 18-64-inch choke.

Location was staked 2,173 feet from the north and 2,108 feet from the west lines of section 3-36-3n, T&P survey, five miles west of Lamesa.

Apache Oil Corporation was doing a fishing job, for an unnamed object, in its No. 2 P. B. Adams at a total depth of 8,067 feet. Location is 600 feet from the north and 780 feet from the east lines of section 42-33-3n, T&P survey 7 miles southeast of Ackery.

In Borden County, H. L. Brown Jr. and W. J. Heath were waiting on orders at a total depth of 6,700 feet. They took a drillstem test at 6,615-6,700 feet. The tool was open 4 1/2 hours and they recovered 1,200 feet of gas in the drill pipe, five feet of oil and 40 feet of slightly oil-and-gas-cut mud. The 30-minute initial flow pressure was 237 pounds, and the flow pressure was 55-63 pounds. The 30-minute final shut-in pressure was 584 pounds.

The No. 1 McDowell Estate location was staked 1,980 feet from the south and 1,787 feet from the east lines of section 94-25, H&TC survey.

DAILY DRILLING

DAWSON—Gordon Koss Oil & Exploration Co. No. 2-3 Wright, spotted 1,220 feet from the north and 1,980 feet from the west lines of section 25-35-5n, T&P survey, six miles west of Lamesa. Operator set 18-64-inch casing at 6,771 feet in time below 1,220 feet.

Texaco, Inc. No. 1 W. L. Rendie, five miles west of Lamesa, was set 18-64-inch casing and pulling core No. 2. Core No. 2 was pulled to 7,000 feet and operator recovered 27 feet of very fine-grained sand. It was streaked 80 feet from the south and west lines of section 3-36-3n, T&P survey.

GLASSCOCK—Someday Oil Corp. No. 2 Beth Fowler, spotted 1,000 feet from the north and 1,040 feet from the west lines of section 6-35-2n, T&P survey, six miles southeast of Stanton, was drilling in time below 1,000 feet.

Jury Selection Begins For DeLeon Trial

A jury was being qualified at noon today to try Benjamin DeLeon for burglary. The case was before Judge Ralph Caton in 118th District Court.

DeLeon is being tried for the second time. At his first trial some months ago, the jury disagreed and a mistrial had to be entered.

DeLeon's case was not scheduled to come up until later in the week. However, the defendant slated for trial today, Crawford Vivian Burns, charged with DWI, second offense, decided to enter a plea of guilty. He was sentenced to serve nine months in the state penitentiary. This moved the docket forward. T. B. Thompson, charged with theft by bailee, won a continuance at his request. This brought DeLeon up as the next defendant to face trial.

Laurel B. Caghey, charged with DWI, entered a guilty plea before court opened for the day to a charge of DWI second offense. The judge assessed his punishment at 60 days in jail and a fine of $200.

In neither the case against Caghey or Burns was probation granted.

On Monday afternoon Joe Neil Bell, who has been at liberty on a 3-year probation sentence, was brought before the court and his probation nullified. Bell had been convicted of car theft and given probation. He will now be taken to the state penitentiary to serve the three years.

Birch Speaker Due In Midland

John H. Rousselot, former congressman from California and presently Western district governor of the John Birch Society, will speak on civil rights at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Midland Community Theatre. The title of his speech is "Civil Rights—Communist Betrayal of a Good Cause." Since Jan. 1, 1963, Rousselot has supervised activities of the society in Washington, Oregon, California, Idaho, Nevada and Arizona.

Wanted Elsewhere

Lloyd Cecil Dorris, who gave local police a Stephenville, Tex., address when he was picked up for drunkenness last Friday, has been transferred to county jail awaiting word from Denver, Colo., police, who want him on a larceny by bailee charge, city police said today. When he was picked up Friday, officers found a notation in his previous city jail papers concerning the Denver charges, and notified the Colorado police.

Overseas Gift Alert Sounded

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unless they're traveling by air, Christmas packages headed overseas should be mailed no later than Nov. 10.

If air mail is used, the deadline is extended to Dec. 10. These are the dates recommended by the Post Office Department for assured delivery of parcels in time for Christmas.

The same deadlines hold for surface and air mail greeting cards headed overseas.

Within the United States, postal officials recommend mailing no later than Dec. 5 for parcels intended for distant states, Dec. 15.

Mrs. Weathers To Have Surgery

Mrs. Hila (Stormy) Weathers will undergo open heart surgery Thursday morning at the hospital in Van Nuys, Calif. Last week she submitted to a cardiac catheterization, which paved the way for the operation this week to replace a faulty heart valve with a plastic one.

Mrs. Weathers, who formerly was coordinator of volunteer activities at the Big Spring State Hospital, has been living in Van Nuys with her daughter since retiring here several months ago. Her address is 6565 Sepulveda Blvd., Van Nuys, Calif., 91401.

Wreck's Aftermath

William C. Bedwell, 1308 Owens, escaped serious injury Monday evening when his car went out of control on West Fourth, jumped a curb, took the top off a hillock, flipped, and struck the residence of C. A. Horton, 1383 W. 4th, officers said. Only light damage to the house resulted, but the car was a loss. Bedwell was reported in good condition at Cowper Clinic and Hospital today. The mishap occurred at 6:10 p.m. Pictured here are two local officers looking over the car's remains.

Crosscurrents In Economy Pointed Up

NEW YORK (AP)—New car sales are setting a record this month, and by doing so are helping to offset the plunge of steel production to the lowest level in nearly two years.

These crosscurrents in the economy are important not only for what they reveal of the present state of industry and trade but perhaps more for what they might do to consumer and business psychology.

BASIC INDUSTRY
Steel-long has had the reputation of being a basic industry. When mill production booms, the public thinks all must be well with the rest of the economy.

Auto sales long have been regarded as the chief clue to the public's feelings about the present state of affairs and about future prospects. New car sales are a test both of how much money the public has to spend and of its willingness to spend it.

So now steel production is falling and auto sales are rising. Economists are quick to come up with explanations of both factors and of their apparent contradiction.

In the first 20 days of October 547,000 American made cars were sold, compared with 374,000 in the like period of 1964.

The industry counts on selling enough more to push October's total above 800,000. At mid-month, the dealers were selling 64 per cent more a day than a year earlier.

IN PERSPECTIVE
In the case of steel, the drop in production for eight straight weeks, with signs that the decline is continuing, also must be put into perspective. The mills now are producing at less than two-thirds of capacity, at the lowest level since December 1963.

But most of this drop had been expected. It resulted from the big buildup in stocks by consumers who feared a steel strike. This was averted by a new labor contract settlement early in September. Consumers have lots of steel on hand and aren't pressing the mills for shipments.

But what is worrying the mills is that the drop in new orders, although that too was expected, is more severe than first thought likely and is lasting longer than the mills had hoped.

No Injuries In Four Accidents

Four Monday traffic accidents injured one, officers said. The patrol car of Travis Lee Hart, 1344 College, was damaged when it was struck in the rear by an unidentified car in the parking lot of the First National Bank, officers said; the cars of Bruce Irving Hinshaw, Box 412, and Sion H. Carstensen, Stanton, were in collision at the intersection of Twenty-Third and Gregg; the parked car of Donna Lou Whitten, 1022 Osage, was damaged when struck by a car driven by James Donald Weidel, 1905 Mittel, in the Wesley Methodist Church parking lot, officers said; and at 1800 S. Gregg, Thomas Kirkpatrick, 2201 Carl, and Carl Willard Small, 2803 Crestline, escaped injury when their cars collided.

Romance From 1913 Blossoms Into Wedding

DEL RIO, Tex. (AP)—A romance which started in Mexico's revolutionary days of 1913 culminated in a simple wedding Monday afternoon for Col. Alfredo Villegas, 74, and Mrs. Adela Belandere Perez.

Justice of the Peace Sergio Gonzalez Jr. performed the double ring ceremony in the office of County Judge James Lindsay. Witnesses were Juan Gaitan and Gonzalo Moya, both of Del Rio.

The bride became famous because of the battle song "Adelita," which was written for her.

The couple first met in 1913 at Ciudad Juarez. She was a member of the Order of La Cruz Blanca, a field nurse organization. He was a fighter for Pancho Villa.

Villegas lost track of Adelita in 1915 and in 1917 married Gelsa Cardenas. She died four years ago. Adelita also married, and her husband died.

The two met again in 1964 through a letter which she had given to Col. Arnulfo Torres, a friend of Villegas. Torres died while with Villegas, and the letter was found on his body.

Villegas now operates a grocery store at San Felipe.

When the engagement was announced, he said: "We want to make each other happy in our old age."

The bride flew from her home in Mexico City to meet Villegas in Piedras Negras Monday.

ABILENE (AP)—Reps. Jim Wright of Fort Worth and Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls will speak this week at a special convention session of the State Farmers Union here.

Wright will speak on Thursday and Purcell is to speak Friday morning.

India Must Ration Food

Who's The Winner?

From the glum look on Ernie Terrell's face, it's hard to tell he just retained his World Boxing Association heavyweight crown in a 15-round fight against Canadian heavyweight champion George Chuvalo of Toronto (right), who feels his battered nose. Terrell won a unanimous decision in Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens Monday night. (AP Wirephoto)

Ernie Terrell Given Nod In Chuvalo Bout

TORONTO (AP) — Ernie Terrell still is a champion today, but the crown which sits atop his 6-foot-6 frame still doesn't make him the big man in the world of heavyweight boxing. He knows this.

Terrell won a unanimous 15-round decision over George Chuvalo Monday night to remain champion. But he still is only champion of the World Boxing Association, not of the world.

The man recognized by everyone but the WBA as king of the heavyweights — Cassius Clay — puts his share of the title on the line against Floyd Patterson Nov. 22 in Las Vegas.

Terrell was not a picture of jubilation in his dressing room after making the first defense of the title he won by outpointing Eddie Machen in Chicago last March 5.

"Everyone has always made fun of me, mostly because I'm a singer as well as a fighter," said the champion, who also is head of a musical combo, "I don't know why people get this laughing image of me."

His victory over Chuvalo probably won't change Terrell's public image immediately, but it could do so indirectly because it puts him in line for a shot at the winner of the Clay-Patterson fight — a fight which would give boxing a single heavyweight champion again.

The WBA threw the heavy-weight division into its present Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde state by stripping Clay of his crown for signing a return bout contract with Sonny Liston before their first fight in 1964.

Terrell, 28, hardly used his right hand at all in defeating the plodding, two-listed Canadian. The Chicagoan, who had a seven-inch advantage in reach, threw stinging left-hand punches to Chuvalo's face almost from the opening bell until the final gong.

Although there were no knockdowns, Terrell, who weighed 206, drew blood from Chuvalo's nose and cut him about both eyes.

The Canadian, who weighed 209, required 10 stitches to close two five-inch cuts over his left eye.

Referee Sammy Luftspring scored it 72-65, Judge Fred Norbert called it 73-65, and Judge Jackie Burke made it 69-65 for Terrell.

The fight was scored under the five-point-must system, in which the winner of a round receives five points and the loser four or less.

The action didn't end with the fight. Terrell accused Chuvalo of repeated fouling. He pointed to an inch-long gash in his left eyebrow and said it was caused by butting. He also said Chuvalo kept stepping on his feet.

The referee warned Chuvalo for butting and Terrell for thumbing in the eighth round.

Chuvalo was bitter about the outcome and said he was "willing to go to the Supreme Court (of Canada)" to protest the decision.

Permian Scouting Report Will Be Given Tonight

Jack Tayrien, Goliad Junior High mentor, has headed up the Big Spring team which has had the job of scouting the Odessa Permian football team this year.

Tonight at the Quarterback Club meeting in the High School Cafeteria, Tayrien will give the scouting report, going into detail as to the formations the Panthers use, the depth and experience of the opposition etc.

Action films of the Big Spring-

Abilene Cooper game will be screened, in addition, with the commentary offered by head coach Don Robbins.

Robbins will also bring those attending up to date on the Steers' battle plan for the Panther game.

Refreshments will be served to those attending. The club will be in charge of Stanley Ballou and Jack Griffin, co-captains of the Quarterback Club.

Federal Official Promises Refugee Resettlement Aid

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The federal government has pledged that the nation — and not Florida alone — will help resettle refugees from Cuba.

More than 300 arrived at Key West Monday and 11 more boats were on their way.

"The President and federal departments are particularly concerned that the whole country take up this problem," said John Gardner, secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

NOT ALONE

He told a news conference: "The citizens of Florida have made tremendous contributions and Florida must not be asked to carry the burden alone."

Gardner said plans are to fly out between 3,000 and 4,000 refugees monthly.

HOLD MEET

Gardner and Buford Ellington, representing President

Johnson, met Monday with Florida political and civic leaders, including congressmen, mayors and a representative of Gov. Haydon Burns.

Gardner said the refugees would be quickly resettled in other parts of the United States.

He said the new influx would not be comparable "to the first flood" in 1959.

He reported that refugees brought to Miami after clearing customs would "be on their way in 48 hours" if they can be resettled.

Some refugees arriving at Key West said they had heard they were resented in this country.

"I am told that Americans resent our presence here," said Senora Mercedes Muniz de Capote. "If they knew what we go through they might understand."

The Egyptian approach did not request any specific amount of aid but made known total requirements and sought to learn the prospects for some kind of assistance. It was more a feeler than an outright request. The final decision will be up to President Johnson.

Americans in Egypt have been encouraged by Nasser's decision to halt direct aid to the Congolese rebels. Restrictions on U.S. firms operating in Egypt also have been eased and the new cabinet appears to be trying energetically to put Egypt's economic house in order.

Gift For A Baby

DEAR ABBY: One of the girls in our office has a new baby, born out of wedlock. She decided to keep the baby. She worked here for seven months and everyone liked her a lot. Here's the problem: Another girl in the office is taking up a collection to buy a gift for the baby. I am of the opinion that if I give something toward the gift, it will look like I am condoning immorality. If I am in my place, would you give?

DEAR HIGH: The baby is

Texans Die In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has announced the names of three more Texas servicemen who died recently in Viet Nam. They were:

Army Sgt. I.C. Frank Nadany, husband of Mrs. Lula Nadany of El Paso.

Army Pfc. Frank Garrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Garrett of Scurry.

Marine Pvt. Reyes Flores, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Flores of Abilene.

Forty Millionth Scout Enlisted

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Peter Steitz is only 11, his rank is still a tenderfoot—but he got a mighty big serial number today.

Peter, a member of St. Bartholomew's Boy Scout Troop 177, was listed by the Boy Scouts of America as the 40 millionth boy to join the scouting movement since it began in this country on Feb. 8, 1910.

Egypt Puts Out Feeler For U.S. Aid

CAIRO (AP) — Facing a food shortage, U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser seems to have found nowhere to turn but to the United States.

Both the Soviet Union and Red China are themselves importing wheat. West Germany and Britain might help, but Egypt no longer has diplomatic relations with Bonn and has antagonized Britain by supporting rebels in South Arabia. Some French wheat apparently is available but only on commercial terms.

IMPROVE RELATIONS
Nasser has liberally criticized the United States in the past, but U.S. officials here say that Egypt recently has been trying to improve relations. These officials are urging Washington to act favorably on an approach for help.

The Egyptian approach did not request any specific amount of aid but made known total requirements and sought to learn the prospects for some kind of assistance. It was more a feeler than an outright request. The final decision will be up to President Johnson.

Americans in Egypt have been encouraged by Nasser's decision to halt direct aid to the Congolese rebels. Restrictions on U.S. firms operating in Egypt also have been eased and the new cabinet appears to be trying energetically to put Egypt's economic house in order.

KENNEDY LIBRARY
Last month Nasser contributed 1,000 volumes from his personal library to a new John F. Kennedy Memorial Library housed in quarters donated by the government for a nominal dollar-a-year rental.

The old Kennedy library was destroyed last November by rioting African students protesting the U.S. role in the rescue of refugees from the Congolese rebels.

The United States has already provided a new $11.6-million food grant under Title III of Public Law 480.

Under this program, food is supplied through such U.S. voluntary agencies as CARE, Catholic Relief and World Church services. Most of the food is directed to children and all of it is a gift. U.S. authorities report that five million Egyptian children are receiving food under this plan.

"PEACE FOOD"
Public Law 480 is the basic legislation in the U.S. Food for Peace program. The greatest help for Egypt would come under Title I. This provides for the sale of surplus U.S. food — mainly wheat and corn — for Egyptian pounds.

Since the 1952 inauguration of the Nasser regime, the United States has supplied $1.23 billion worth of aid to Egypt under Title I, U.S. aid mission figures show.

DEAR ABBY: After reading many letters pro and con about whether cats DO suck the breath from babies, I am impelled to comment. To suck anything, the sucker must surround with his lips the receptacle from which he sucks in order to create a partial vacuum. Consider the shape of a cat's mouth. Now tell me how a cat can make a vacuum so that no air is admitted through any side. It's impossible. But even if it WERE possible, the baby could still obtain air through its nose!

Now tell me, how can a cat "hold" a baby's nose while covering its mouth? As long as the baby is getting air, no vacuum can be produced.

Another fact. Cats are naturally curious, and their hearing is especially acute. When a cat puts his nose against something, he is investigating. In the case of a baby, the cat is probably curious about the "escaping air." A cat will seek warmth, and could conceivably suffocate an infant by lying on its face. But as for the story about cats sucking babies' breath, it's scientifically impossible!

N. Y. Voting In Spotlight

WASHINGTON (AP) — New Jersey, Virginia and a half-dozen Eastern and Midwestern cities — including New York, Philadelphia and Cleveland — hold the spotlight in scattered off-year election balloting today.

In most of them, Republicans are trying to supplant Democratic office-holders. The results will be watched closely for possible portents for the 1968 congressional and 1968 presidential elections.

Most interest has centered on New York City. An estimated 2.5 million of the city's 3.6 million eligible voters are expected to decide a hotly contested mayor's race between Democratic City Comptroller Abraham D. Beame and Rep. John V. Lindsay, a Republican running with Liberal party backing at the head of a fusion ticket.

CLOSE RACE
Straw polls indicate a close vote. The race is complicated by the presence of a third candidate, author-publisher William F. Buckley Jr., the Conservative party nominee.

Democrats are favored to capture both governor's contests. In New Jersey, Democratic Gov. Richard J. Hughes, 56, is expected to defeat GOP State Sen. Wayne Dumont Jr., 51, while in Virginia Democratic Lt. Gov. Mills E. Godwin Jr., 50, is rated a probable victor over Republican A. Linwood Holton, 42, and Conservative party nominee William J. Story, 55.

Republicans are making strong bids for mayor of Cleveland, Ohio, and district attorney of Philadelphia. Other important mayoral elections are in Detroit; Louisville, Ky.; and Akron, Ohio.

ELECTING LEGISLATURE
New Jersey, Virginia and New York are electing legislatures, while Kentucky is filling some seats. In the only congressional contest, Republican Clarence J. Brown Jr., 38, is favored to capture the Ohio 7th District seat held for many years by his late father, Brown's Democratic opponent is James A. Berry, 35.

Although Lindsay, 45, has soft-pedaled his Republicanism, a victory or even a good showing in defeat could propel him into the front rank among future GOP presidential possibilities. Beame, 59, won the nomination by defeating retiring Mayor Robert F. Wagner's choice, Paul R. Screvane. The comptroller received President Johnson's endorsement last week and Democrats hold a 7-2 registration advantage.

BIG VOTE
In New Jersey, a turnout of 2.3 million of the more than 3.1 million registered voters is anticipated. Democrats claim a big lead for Hughes and hope to capture control of both houses of the recently reapportioned legislature for the first time in more than 50 years.

Dumont has attacked Hughes for refusing to dismiss Eugene D. Genovese, a Rutgers University professor who said he would welcome a Viet Cong victory in the Vietnamese war. Hughes said he disagrees with Genovese but that to fire him would be to violate academic freedom. Rutgers is a state university.

In Virginia, where Gov. Albertis Harrison is ineligible to run again, Godwin seeks to extend the 40-year control by the Democratic organization led by U.S. Sen. Harry F. Byrd. Story is likely to take votes of conservatives in both parties.

RECORD TURNOUT
Both Godwin and Holton have made vigorous efforts to capture the Negro vote, and a record turnout of 550,000 voters is expected. Both Godwin and Holton are predicting victory. An overwhelming Democratic victory is expected in legislative races.

In Cleveland, Republican County Auditor Ralph J. Perk is trying to capitalize on a Democratic split to oust Mayor Ralph S. Locher.

In Philadelphia, Democratic Dist. Atty. James C. Crumlish Jr., faces a strong challenge from Arlen Specter, a Democrat turned Republican. Democrats have dominated the city's politics since 1949.

In Louisville, GOP Alderman Kenneth A. Schmied is trying to be the second Republican mayor in a row after 28 straight years of Democratic control. Martin Volz, law school dean at the University of Louisville, is his Democratic opponent. Republican Mayor William O. Cowger is ineligible for re-election.

REPUBLICAN BID
In Akron, home town of GOP National Chairman Ray C. Bliss, Republican John Ballard hopes to become the first GOP mayor in 12 years. The Democratic nominee is Ray C. Shepard, law director under outgoing Mayor Edward O. Erickson.

In Detroit, Mayor Jerome Cavanagh is heavily favored over Walter Shemie in a nonpartisan election while in Pittsburgh and New Haven, Conn., Democratic Mayors Joseph M. Barr and Richard C. Lee are strong choices over Vincent S. Rovitto and Joseph J. Einhorn respectively.

In New York State, Democrats are trying to retain control of the reapportioned legislature. In the only statewide contest, former U.S. Sen. Kenneth B. Keating is the GOP candidate for the Court of Appeals against Democrat-Liberal Owen S. McGivern.

Eight states have referendum constitutional amendments or bond issues: Florida, Kentucky, Maine, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Texas.
