Texas Unemployment Relief Outlined

State Leaders Gather Friday In Conference

Sterling Invokes John Smith Maxim That "Those Who Do Not Work Should Not Eat"; Group Is Perfected

Survey Scheduled

Speakers Estimate Unemployed At From 125,000 To 250,000 In State; Recommendations For Relief Adopted

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 16.—Texas' unemployment problem was considered today by a conference of business, industrial and professional leaders who gathered on call of Governor R. S. Sterling. A permanent organization to be known as the governor's committee for the relief of unemployment was perfected.

Governor Sterling invoked a maxim of John Smith of Virginian fame that "those who do not work should not eat," proposing that employment be provided for those who seek to earn a livelihood and expressing opposition to the dole system.

Ideas Advanced

Many ideas of how the situation could be remedied were advanced by a string of speakers from widely separated sections of Texas and representing groups from all walks of life, and the meeting finally adopted a long list of recommendations.

Speakers estimated the number of unemployed in the state at from 125,000 to 250,000, but the conference authorized the governor's committee to make a survey to obtain accurate information.

It was voted to cooperate with the national government's campaign to administer unemployment relief

Western Texas Orders Issued

Railroad Commission Cuts Oil Allowable In West Texas To Ten Per Cent Below Current Proration Figures

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 16.—The Texas railroad commission today issued orders cutting the allowable in West Texas oil fields ten per cent below current proration figures.

An allowable for the Van Field in Van Zandt county, near the Big East Texas pool, was tentatively fixed at 50,000 barrels daily, the same as at present permitted, but an official order had not been signed, R. D. Parker, chief supervisor of the oil and gas division, stated.

The new West Texas allowables are Yates, 65,000; Crane-Upton, 16,700; Ector, 6,300; Howard-Glasscock, 26,000; Winkler, 40,000; Salt Flat, 10,000; West Central Texas, 30,000; North Texas, 57,000. The Darst Creek field allowable in southwest Texas was fixed at 18,000.

Church Delegates Arriving In San Antonio For Session

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 16 (AP)—More than 50 representatives of churches in all parts of the state had arrived here Friday to attend the synod of the Cumberland Presbyterian church.

Approximately the same number of church women were in attendance at the two-day meeting of the Texas Synodical Missionary society. Rev. A. C. Deforest of Hubbard yesterday was elected moderator of the synod meeting.

Edison Family Is Holding To Vigil

Constant Companion Of Great Inventor Is Giving Way Under Strain Of Futile Hope

(By The Associated Press)

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 16. — Every member of his immediate family and his personal physician were grouped around Thomas A. Edison tonight as the end approached for the snowy haired creative genius.

The 84-year-old inventor lay in a coma. His circulation was showing signs of the strain, but Dr. Hubert S. Howe said the quality of his pulse was better at 8:30 p. m. than it had been in the morning.

"I am afraid the end is near," said Charles Edison, a son, who added that Dr. Howe's presence was as "much for mother as for any emergency" that might arise from his father's condition.

Dr. Howe said he would remain throughout the night although he did not anticipate an emergency for 24 hours.

The arrival tonight of a daughter, Mrs. Marion Oser, completed the family circle of six children.

At 10 p. m. tonight Dr. Howe issued the following bulletin:

"Indications at present are that Mr. Edison will have a quiet night as far as can be told. There will be no emergency during the night. His circulation continues about the same as two hours ago."

West Texas C. Of C. To Begin Fight On Taxation; Outline Of Plan Made Public Friday

Local Committees Are To Lead Fight; Expenditures Are To Be Fought; Groups Will Sit In Budget Meetings

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Oct. 16. — The West Texas Chamber of Commerce will begin its fight on taxation at the source—public expenditures—next week.

First work assignments, plan of organization and objectives will be mailed from West Texas Chamber of Commerce headquarters at Stamford Monday to seventy community committees, already organized, D. A. Bandeen, West Texas Chamber of Commerce manager, announced here tonight. Committees are to be formed in the remainder of the 101 towns in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce area.

Local committees will fight expenditures by cities, counties and school districts. A central committee, of which C. M. Bassett, El Paso, is head will study and analyze state expenditures.

Objectives of the movement are to reduce public expenditures, reorganize the machinery of state, county and city governments, through elimination of duplications in administrative efforts and equalize taxation. The watch word is "legislative action only for reducing public expenses."

Committees will be instructed to work under the new budget law which requires government units to have public hearings on proposed expenditures. The groups will sit in with school trustees, city councils and county commissioners in preparation and adoption of budgets.

French Miss Wants To Meet American Girl

HAVRE, Oct. 16. (AP)—Pierre Laval may be going to America to see President Hoover but his 18-year-old daughter, Jose, is out to meet the American girl.

Smiling over her victory in winning her father's consent, she told the Associated Press in precise English today:

"This is the happiest day of my life. I am so delighted to go to America for I have wanted to go all my life. I want to see the American girls. Everybody says they are so chic and charming. I am looking forward with great pleasure to meeting them."

Asked if she had purchased a new wardrobe for the trip, she shook her head and replied "I didn't have time." She was wearing a long brown coat collared and cuffed with leopard, a brown and white checkered wool dress, a brown hat trimmed with a bow of brick colored ribbon and a huge shoulder bouquet of orchids.

When she left the Gare Saint Lazare in Paris, many of her friends crowded forward to shake her hand and to wish her bon voyage. She paused a moment on the steps of the train, waved her hand in farewell and disappeared into her compartment.

Orders For Arrest Of All Gypsies Issued On Border

EL PASO, Oct. 16. (AP)—Orders to arrest all gypsies in El Paso county were issued here today after officers had been advised a gypsy woman, her husband and a 13-year-old boy were wanted in Dallas in connection with a $2,000 swindle. Large numbers of gypsies have congregated just across the state line in New Mexico preliminary to going to San Francisco for their annual conclave.

Former U. S. Official Found Not Guilty In Fraud Charge

FORT WORTH, Oct. 16 (AP) — A federal jury tonight acquitted J. Forest McCutcheon, former assistant United States district attorney here and found guilty Dewey I. McNabb, McCutcheon's co-defendant on a charge of conspiring to defraud the United States.

Trade Balance Of World Is Turning To United States

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16. (AP) — America's part in feeding and clothing the world has quickly returned to the United States an advantageous balance in foreign trade.

In contrast with an unfavorable balance of $1,847,716 in August, the commerce department today reported the nation's shipments of wheat and cotton largely accounted for the difference.

Controversy Over Prize At Fair Results In Stabbing

DALLAS, Oct. 16. (AP)—Controversy over a gallon of wheat exhibited at the State Fair of Texas which failed to win first prize resulted in the stabbing of J. A. Moore, superintendent of agriculture at the exposition, today.

Moore was stabbed below the heart. His condition was not considered serious.

Texas Anti-Saloon League Leaders Open Lecture Series Here Tonight

A TEMPERANCE lecture by Hayward H. Johnson of Dallas at the Calvary Baptist church, Nineteenth street and Avenue Q, tonight will mark the beginning of a series of temperance services to be held at Lubbock and other towns on the South Plains, church leaders announced Friday night. Mr. Johnson is superintendent of education of the Anti-Saloon League of Texas.

Dr. Atticus Webb, head of the state league, will address the congregation at the Asbury Methodist church, Twentieth street and Avenue T, at 11 a. m. Sunday. At the same hour Mr. Johnson will speak at the First Church of the Nazarene, Fourteenth street and Avenue Q.

At 3 p. m. Sunday, Dr. Webb will direct a trial drama, called "Who Killed Earl Wright?" at Levelland. The cast will consist of 25 Levelland citizens. The service will be held at the First Baptist church. At the same hour, Mr. Johnson will direct a similar program at the Baptist

Ten Year Prison Sentence And $50,000 Fine Is Facing Two Anti-Smith Campaigners In Event Of Conviction

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Bishop James Cannon, jr., must stand trial on charges arising from his management of thousands of dollars contributed to his relentless anti-Smith campaign of 1928.

With Miss Ada L. Burroughs, treasurer of his "headquarters committee, anti-Smith Democrats," in Virginia, the Southern Methodist prelate was indicted before the District of Columbia supreme court today for conspiring to violate the federal corrupt practices law.

Return 10 Counts

The grand jury returned 10 counts, carrying a possible maximum penalty upon conviction of 10 years imprisonment and $50,000 fine for each defendant.

Failure to report contributions of $65,300 from E. C. Jameson, New York capitalist and Republican, as required by law, was the basis of the indictment. Bond was fixed at $1,000 for each.

Assistant District Attorney John Wilson said he would seek an early trial.

Makes Statement

From Atlanta, where he is attending a meeting of the college of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, the churchman said:

America Aids League Group

Washington Government Takes Seat At Council Table For Part In Effort To Prevent Sino-Jap War

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—For the first time in history the Washington government was receiving reports tonight from a representative sitting with the council of the league of Nations.

Amid a ripple of excitement and conjecture in the capital as to the ultimate result the United States definitely allied itself with the league efforts to dispel the threat of war between China and Japan.

Japan Objects

The step was taken despite Japanese objections. The formal invitation was received in Washington after the council had voted 13 to 1—Japan casting the one opposing vote—to admit the United States. The invitation pointed to the Kellogg-Briand anti-war pact as the instrument for dispersing the storm clouds overhanging Manchuria.

Although it cast a wholehearted lot with the league's possible attempt to invoke the Kelogg pact, the American government remained aloof from any obligations under the league's covenant.

Former Lohn Banker Given Three Penitentiary Terms

BRADY, Oct. 16. (AP)—William F. Roberts, jr., former cashier of the Lohn State bank, was convicted here today on a charge of forgery and pleaded guilty to two similar accusations.

He was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary on each of the three counts, to be served concurrently. The charge on which he was convicted by jury accused him of forging a note for $2,700.

Grape Concentrate Ruled As Violation Of Federal Laws

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 16. (AP)—Sale and possession of grape concentrate for wine making purposes was outlawed in a verdict today by United States District Judge Merrill E. Otis.

Judge Otis convicted the Ukiah Grape Products Co., Inc., of New York, distributors of a grape concentrate product, of violating the national prohibition laws.

The concern was fined $100 on each of seven counts, five for sale and two alleging possession.

Planned Gas Cut Fails At Abilene

City Commission Refuses To Adopt Motion Friday; Purchase Of System Considered

(By The Associated Press)

ABILENE, Oct. 16.—Introduction of an ordinance reducing domestic gas rates here by one-third, from 75 cents to 50 cents for 1,000 feet, failed before the city commission this afternoon when no commissioner would meet Mayor Lee R. York's invitation to move adoption of the ordinance.

Instead, with the mayor finally concurring, the commission issued a statement asserting it will go on with the fight for lower rates if the people desire it and express their desire in a petition asking that an election be called on the proposition of issuing revenue bonds for the purchase of the gas distribution system here, or for putting in a competing system. Bonds would be retired only from sale of the utility. The petition will not be considered unless it bears signatures of qualified voters equal to ten per cent of the vote cast at the last municipal election.

Failure of the ordinance—drafted and ready for introduction—followed a gas hearing yesterday before the commission in which Chester H. May, operating vice-president of Community Natural Gas company, appeared for his company, which earlier in the day had closed a deal for purchase of the Abilene and Cisco distribution systems from the West Texas Utilities company. Jap Freighter Sends SOS In North Pacific

Fear For Safety Of Crew Felt As Three Liners Search For Survivors; Lindbergh Ship First To Arrive

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16.—The deck-load of the Japanese freighter Yonan Maru, reported sinking in the stormy North Pacific early today, was found by the Dollar Liner President Jefferson, cruising in the vicinity, late this afternoon.

In a message to the Mackay radio station here, the Dollar liner said:

"Found deck-load, but nothing else. Cruised vicinity three hours in company with Ayaha Maru and Taigen Maru, but no ships found trace of anything except logs from Yonan Maru deck-load."

Search Hampered

The Japanese freighter carried a crew of 40 to 50 men. The three ships proceeded immediately to the position given when the freighter sent its first SOS, but the search was hampered because of poor visibility due to rain and high seas.

The Jefferson, whose passengers included Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, was continuing the search, as were the two other ships, in the hope some of the crew may have escaped on lifeboats.

The cause of the difficulties resulting in the supposed disaster to the Yonan Maru was not told by the freighter. The vessel was carrying a lumber cargo to Shanghai, having left Portland, Ore., September 30. The Yonan indicated earlier it had lost the deckload.

Tivoli Threat Is Bared In Juarez

EL PASO, Oct. 16. (AP)—An anonymous letter, construed by Mexican authorities as a possible threat to destroy the Tivoli gambling house in Juarez, was received by a newspaperman and made public here today.

Ramon Muela, police chief in Juarez, said additional guards would be placed about the building to safeguard weekend crowds, which were warned in the letter to "stay away."

A bitter fight to close the Tivoli, on grounds it is injuring business in El Paso, has been waged by some El Paso persons. Others have said Americans should not tell Mexicans how to run their affairs.

The Tivoli is operated under a Chihuahua state charter.

Cooperative Move Of South Given Praise Of President

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16. (AP)—The cooperative move of southern bankers and the farm board to bolster cotton prices by storing 7,000,000 bales was lauded today by President Hoover.

He termed it "constructive action of the type the country needs," and added he hoped it woud "meet with success."

SISTER IS DEAD

Miss Johnnie McCrery, head of the food department at Texas Technological college, left Friday night for Corsicana after receiving a message informing her that a sister, Miss Maggie McCrery, died there at 8 p. m. Friday.

Bruening Gets German Power As Reich Ends

Germany Reverts To A Virtual Dictatorship By Confidence Vote; Other Parties Leave Government Chamber

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Oct. 16.—Germany reverted tonight to a virtual dictatorship under Chancellor Heinrich Bruening when the reichstag, after giving the chancellor a vote of confidence, voted to adjourn until February 23.

HEINRICH BRUENING

Adolf Hitler's national socialists and Alfred Hugenberg's nationalists arose and walked out of the chamber following the confidence vote, announcing they had no more interest in what the reichstag might do. Even with support of the communists the two parties were able to muster only 270 votes against the chancellor. The vote in favor of the confidence motion was 295.

To Launch Campaign

The adjournment paves the way for Chancellor Bruening to launch a campaign immediately to put Germany's economic house in order without interference from parliamentary opposition.

It came after a night session during which communists and social democrats, taking advantage of absence of the national socialists and nationalists, put through a resolution asking the government to suspend work on the construction of "pocket cruisers" and to use the money thus saved to feed the children of the poor.

The vote on this resolution was 211 to 181.

Price Of Governor's Oath In Louisiana On A Decline

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 16. Anyone who might wish to take the oath of office as governor or lieutenant governor of Louisiana henceforth can do so at half price.

In the wake of a series of oath takings for both offices as a consequence of Paul N. Cyr's movement to oust Huey P. Long from the governorship, a notary public in Baton Rouge announced today he will administer the oath to anybody for any office hereafter for 25 cents. Heretofore, the price has been fifty cents.

Arkansas Solon Kisses Movie Queen As Colleagues Look On And Applaud

(By The Associated Press)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 16. State Representative W. L. Ward kissed Wanda Hawley, the motion picture actress, before the whole house of representatives today by explicit invitation from none other than Wanda herself.

Meanwhile his colleagues showed their approval with loud hand-clapping and cheering shouts.

It all happened in this manner:

Miss Hawley appeared in a show here and Representative Ward, a widower, sponsored a legislative invitation for her to visit the house. He introduced her on the floor and in so doing, he said he wished he could kiss her. Then he went to his seat as she began talking.

"If Mr. Ward were up here now, I'd grant his wish," the actress rejoined before the representative had more than gained his chair.

Ward heard well and started down the aisle on a run, and planted a resounding kiss on Miss Hawley's lips.

Aged Farmer Dies As Result Of Dickens Mishap; Lubbock Man Hurt; Rancher Is Killed

J. V. Dement, 70, Instantly Killed As Truck And Car Smash On Highway; J. L. Hornbecker Slightly Injured; Foreman At W. G. Murray Sheep Ranch Victim As Team Bolts

(Special to The Avalanche)

SPUR, Oct. 16.—J. V. Dement, 70-year-old farmer of the Afton community, was killed and J. L. Hornbecker, traveling salesman with headquarters at Lubbock, was injured at about 2 o'clock this afternoon when the automobile in which the two men were riding and a truck collided on the highway five miles north of Dickens.

Dement was killed instantly. His skull was fractured in two places and his neck broken, physicians who examined the body reported. Hornbecker suffered a severe scalp wound and minor cuts and bruises. He was taken to the Nichols sanitarium here for emergency treatment, but later was removed to Lubbock.

Backed Into Highway

In relating details of the accident to members of the Dement family, Hornbecker said the accident occurred when the truck, said to have been driven by Claude Gentry, storekeeper at Elton, backed into the highway in an attempt to turn around. Hornbecker said his view was obstructed by a small hill and that he did not see the other machine until it was too late to stop. He endeavored to miss the truck by speeding up, but his efforts were in vain, he is said to have told Joe Allison, son-in-law of the crash victim.

Hornbecker said he was giving Dement a ride to Lubbock. They had met at a store at Afton.

Farmer Gives Aid

Jim Nolan, a farmer, had just arrived at his field near the highway when the accident occurred. He carried Dement and Hornbecker to Dickens, where the traveling salesman was treated and Dement's body examined.

Funeral services for Dement will be held at 5 p. m. Saturday at the Church of Christ here. Burial will be in a Spur cemetery. The deceased had been a resident of Dickens county for about six years. He moved from Spur to the Afton community about three months ago.

He is survived by his widow, six daughters, Mrs. Verta Adcock, Mrs. Ella Birdwell, Mrs. Ina Carter, Mrs. Joe Allison, Mrs. Lora Duvall, all of Spur, and Mrs. Mattie Law, of Atlanta, Tex., and two sons, Will Dement and Wesley Dement, both of Spur.

Wheels Of Wagon Pass Over Body

(Special to the Avalanche)

LITTLEFIELD, Oct. 16.—Alton H. Pettit, 27, foreman of the W. G. Murray sheep ranch near Enochs, 30 miles southwest of Littlefield, died at his home at the ranch early this afternoon as the result of injuries suffered shortly before noon today when the wheels of a heavily loaded farm wagon passed over his body.

Pettit was thrown off his perch on a stack of feed troughs he was taking to a barn near the ranch residence when the team of horses hitched to the wagon became frightened and ran away. The foreman's three-year-old son, Alton, jr., who was riding with his father, also was thrown from the wagon but escaped with minor injuries.

Gives Child Aid

Although his chest had been crushed, Pettit led his son to the residence and administered aid to the child's wounds. The man's home was about 300 yards from where the accident occurred.

The foreman was found sitting on a bed by Mrs. Pettit when she returned home from Littlefield, where she had gone to shop, about an hour after the accident.

"Call a doctor quickly," he told his wife. "I am badly hurt and I have been sitting here more than an hour."

Dead Upon Return

Mrs. Pettit rushed to the Howell gin at Enochs and summoned aid from Littlefield. Her husband was dead when she returned to the house.

Physicians examining the body said the man suffered several broken ribs and crushed lungs. His death followed an internal hemorrhage, they said.

The horses and wagon were found at the barn, toward which they were headed when Pettit and his son were thrown to the ground. Troughs were scattered over the entire route, investigators said.

Funeral services for the man probably will be held at Levelland Saturday, it was announced tonight. In addition to his widow and son Alton, jr., Pettit is survived by another son, who is about a year old.

Unemployed Contractor Is After Long's Senate Seat

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 16. (AP)—In today's quiet aftermath of the stormy challenge of Huey P. Long's right to be "governor and United States senator" it developed that not only was his gubernatorial right attacked but a man out of a job took the oath of senator and said he would go to Washington and "occupy Long's seat."

The latest title claimant was Joseph C. Land, unemployed contractor, who took a senate oath at Shreveport and said that because he was out of a position he would welcome the $10,000 salary in Washington that is awaiting Long. The position there was vacant, Land said.

Sharpened Axe To Cut All Expenses Called By Hoover

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16. (AP) — A sharpened axe designed to slice the expenditures of the government down to the last allowable cent was called for today by President Hoover.

He decreed this move as the "one course of sound fiscal policy," in times when the income of the people is reduced and when taxes or loans may stifle economic recovery."

The president's call for subtractions by every arm of his administration was made before a group of newspaper men that surrounded three sides of his desk.

Mother Shoots Four Children

Despondent Woman Kills Her Children And Then Commits Suicide; Financial Worry Given As Cause

(By The Associated Press)

WILMINGTON, O., Oct. 16 — A 35-year-old mother shot and killed her four children and then committed suicide at their home in Reesville near here tonight.

The dead were: Mrs. Russell Ward and her children, Arlene, 11; Audrey, 8; Edith 7; and Richard 4.

Blame Finances

Authorities blamed financial troubles for the tragedy. The mother, who had told friends she was so worried she "couldn't think," went to the village school to get her children. She told them they were "going away."

The husband was in Wilmington at the time of the shooting. He found the bodies when he returned home.

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

MERICAN women may not be perfect but it irks me considerable for a European to come over to New York, look around awhile and go back home to write a book on us, presumably presenting us true to type. Even when he says things that are true, I don't want to give him credit for having the proper insight on us as Americans, which it goes to show how annoyed I am.

This is the sort of thing that Prof. Gerhard Venzmer of Berlin has done and if a story that recently appeared in newspaper magazine sections, written by him, is a measure of what his book will be, I want to suppress the edition.

Professor Venzmer needs to look about a bit at American women if he is going to write a story on them, it seems to me. Even though New York is made up of all classes of people from all sections of the country, he could not see American women as a composite picture in any city. There is a lot of territory in the United States that is not covered by even greater New York.

Woman is the guide in America, not merely the machine, he would have his readers know. "It starts in the school where the boy, under the direction of female teachers, goes out into life the conviction that in all things the culture, the civilization, the spirit and the words of woman are vastly above those of man. Everything possible for the happiness of the women is gladly contributed by the husbands," he says. He thinks women of all ages are alike, that "one must use a magnifying glass to find a woman who can carry her age with dignity and distinction" and that "they appear in rustling evening dresses, the stenographer wears her silk to the office, the worker toils in a simple dress in the factory."

He has a lot more to say about us as Americans and even when he is right I don't like it. American women have their faults, to be sure, and so do European women. We don't expect to be perfect and we don't expect to include every one in any general classification but Professor Venzmer might have looked around a little more before he had so much to say about us and he might have credited us with at least one good thing. And, another thing, if anyone is going to offer criticism of American women, it might as well be those who have to associate with us, not some one in another country.

FOR STALE BREAD

TODAY'S hint: Stale cake can be freshened by dipping into sweet milk for an instant and rebaking slowly.

ALL ONE NEEDS

ONE does not need a proverbial fortune to get by this autumn, according to some beauty specialist. One needs a new hat, a perfect skin, a new makeup and good cheer."

How true. But do not these things take up the fortune, after all? What is money without good taste? And what is fortune for most women without a perfect skin, a new makeup and chic? Man may like anything or nothing at all and if he has money he needs other things because money spells so much to the ordinary man. But a woman with wealth and without beauty of some sort is almost as unattractive to man as a homely woman without money. While the girl who works behind the counter in the five and ten may aspire to almost anything, if she has beauty and the right kind of a smile.

A woman's fortune lies in her face and not in her purse at all, as far as men are concerned.

WE'RE MAKING HISTORY

SOME one called in the other day. The Boy Scouts were wanting to make a pilgrimage to some historical point in the section. Where should they go?

At the time there seemed to be few places to suggest. We have no battle fields, we have no old forts, no decaying log cabins where residents or missionaries were born. There are few sites of towns long since declined. The old Estacado colony was suggested, but there is little there for the Boy Scout to use in rebuilding in his mind the little outpost of civilization that it was 40 years ago; the old rock house in Blanco canyon was suggested and since then the old Tahoka Lake ranch.

* * *

This section is not covered with historical relics for it is new. The things that we establish now may be historical for another generation but those of us who live here now have the privilege of making history rather than looking back on the long dead enterprises of a forgotten people.

Interest Is Centered In Club Parties

Two Clubs Are To Be Honored

Mrs. Burnett Cox Is To Give Party For Alumnae Club; Miss Melba Mae Tatom Is To Entertain

Guests were Messrs. and Mesdames A. T. Cocanougher, W. H. Trice, L. D. Casey, D. Williford, O. C. Moore, J. G. Oslin and Frazier McCrummen.

166 Patrons Hear Speakers At P-TA

There was an attendance of 166 patrons and teachers at a meeting of the Dupre Parent-Teacher association at the Asbury Methodist church Thursday afternoon. Talks by C. E. Luce, traffic officer, and Jack Douglas, general manager of the South Plains A. A. A., featured the meeting.

In addition to the talks, room programs were given by children who are taught by Mrs. E. E. Key and Miss Leona Bowlin. In room counts for the most visitors during the week, Mrs. T. A. Rhodes' room was winner. Miss Bowlin's room had the largest attendance of mothers at the P.-T. A. meeting.

Two special visitors for the afternoon were the past president of the P.-T. A., Mrs. N. L. Peters, and Mrs. Will N. Morgan.

YWA Officers Are Installed Friday

New officers that have recently been elected in the First Baptist Y. W. A. took their places last night in a meeting in the home of Mrs. O. A. Tyner. This meeting, which was devoted to a missionary program, will take the place of the regular meeting next Tuesday evening.

Recently intalled officers are as follows:

President, Miss Georgia Knight; first vice-president, Miss Ruth Dunn; secretary-treasurer and reporter, Miss Emma Chapman; group captains, Misses Rose Davis, Frances Wynn; social chairman, Misses Mary Alice Scott and Opal Louise Creighton.

Six And Six Club Is Given Party By Mrs. Frank Maddox

Mrs. Frank M. Maddox, 1627 Main street, entertained in her home Thursday afternoon for Six and Six club members.

Games of forty-two were played in rooms decorated in dahlias and ageratums.

Guests were Mesdames R. G. Shelton, W. R. Spencer, K. Carter, Temple Ellis, W. H. Meador, L. C. Ellis, W. N. Woodall, G. M. Cosby, J. C. Street, W. L. Baugh, Sam T. Davis and J. T. Howell.

Local Couple Is Wed Friday In Ceremony Read At Church

Miss Ruth Slaton, D. V. Mims Are Married In Presence Of Few Friends; Luncheon Is Given Later

Miss Ruth Slaton, only daughter of O. L. Slaton, and Duigiud Vincent (Dick) Mims were married in a simple ceremony read at high noon Thursday at St. Paul's Episcopal church. Rev. Bradner J. Moore, rector, officiated at the service and only a few relatives and friends of the couple were present.

Following the marriage, the bride's father was host to members of the two families with a luncheon in his home at 1210 Avenue R. In the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Mims left for a short honeymoon. Upon their return they will reside at 1012 Avenue R.

W. R. Waghorne played the nuptial organ music.

For her wedding, Mrs. Mims chose a corded brown velvet tailored dress with white satin collars and cuffs. Her hat and accessories harmonized and she wore a lapel corsage of orchids and valley lilies.

The bride has grown to womanhood in Lubbock and has been one of the social set leaders. Her father, who is now president of the First National bank, has been prominently identified with the progress of Lubbock and the surrounding territory during almost the entire history of the town and the family is known throughout the state. Mrs. Mims is a former student in Texas University, Austin, Southern Methodist University at Dallas and at Texas Technological college.

Mr. Mims, who is the son of the late C. D. Mims, at one time secretary of the state, is warehouse superintendent for the State Highway department here. His home was in Austin before he came to Lubbock.

Miss Ruth Mims of Kansas City, Mo., the groom's sister, and J. W. Hoover of Midland, the bride's cousin, were here for the wedding.

Small Girl Is Given Party In Honor Of Her Birthday

Wilma Jean Freeman was named honoree when her mother, Mrs. John R. Freeman, 2605 20th street, entertained Thursday afternoon. The occasion marked the little girl's sixth birthday. Mrs. Freeman was assisted in entertaining by another daughter, Miss Lois Freeman.

Outdoor games were played by the guests, who later joined in story-telling indoors. Cake and cream were served to Barbara Ann Tatum, Barbara Jean Grandy, Jean Caroline Harvey, Betty Ann Cogburn, James Cogburn, Billy Garner, Kelly Cawthon, Joyce and Elaine Stone of Sudan.

Baptist Class Is Entertained Here

Members of the First Baptist Philacurian class were entertained by Miss Ruby Atwood in her home at 2117 5th street Thursday evening. This class is attended by Tech girls and Miss Atwood is the teacher.

In addition to games and other diversions, piano numbers were played by Miss Dorothy Mae Scott.

Those who attended were Misses Edith Stubbs, Agnes Klein, Evaughn Clack, Emma Chapman, Mary Wells, Ruby Ford, Louise Jones, Louise King, Dorothy Mae Scott, Gertrude Pool, Kathleen Wilman, Marie Riddell, Ruth Hearrell, Ena Armstrong, Christine Settles, Delene Reed, Georgia Knight, Lida Faye and Vida Maye Simpson, Laurel and Kathryn Lee and Frances Wynn.

TASTE-TEST PROVES SUPERIORITY OF ROASTING METHOD

Hills Bros. Coffee, Roasted Differently, Has Flavor No Other Coffee Has

To drink Hills Bros. Coffee, after you have been drinking other brands, is certainly a revelation. It has a marvelously rich, satisfying flavor that no other coffee has.

This delicious difference is due to the way Hills Bros. Coffee is roasted. Instead of roasting in bulk, as others do, Hills Bros. use a process they invented and patented. It's called Controlled Roasting.

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow . . . a little at a time . . . so the delightful, unvarying flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by this patented process that roasts evenly, continuously . . . a little at a time. Temperature and flow of coffee through the roasters are always under control. (Hence the name "Controlled Roasting.") A uniform roast, such as no bulk method equals, is absolutely assured. A perfect, unvarying flavor results in every pound.

This delicious coffee comes to you in vacuum cans. Air, which makes coffee go stale, is removed and kept out of these cans. Ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. But Hills Bros. Coffee can't go stale! Order some today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trademark on the can.

a little goes a long way because it's CONDENSED

White King Granulated Soap is Condensed. That's why there is greater value in the White King package. It means economy for you. All possible moisture and air is removed when it is made, and no artificial fillers or bulk are added. It is just all mild, pure condensed soap—packed with suds and washing power in every grain.

Mild and efficient; the pure vegetable and nut oils that go into White King make this soap fully efficient in the lukewarm and cool water that modern fabrics demand. Cool water spares tender hands from irritation. Hot water that ordinary soaps require is just as hard on your hands as it is on your clothes.

White King works equally well for every household use from dish pan to washing machine. You'll save money on the soap bill when White King is used—the modern, condensed soap that gives greater value.

District Meet Will Be Today

Over 100 Children Expected Here From Towns Of South Plains To Attend Session At Asbury Church

Over 100 children from South Plains towns are expected to be present for a meeting of the Lubbock Methodist district of the Boys' and Girls' World club, an organization fostered by women's missionary societies, at the Asbury Methodist church at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

A program of musical numbers, dramatic skits and readings will be followed by a picnic lunch served on the Dupre school campus and a play hour directed by Mrs. J. A. Brashear.

Mrs. R. A. Metcalfe of Slaton, conference superintendent of children's work, is to preside at the meeting.

Program Is Released

The following program is to be given:

Call to worship, apostle's creed, prayer; hymn, "Tell Me the Story of Jesus," reading, Levelland delegate; piano solo, Marjorie Wells, Tahoka; reading, Ralls delegate; the story of the MacDowell French Mission, Mrs. Metcalfe; hymn; "In the Land of Evangeline," Miss Mary V. Shook, O'Donnell; special music, Lamesa delegate; "Evangeline," retold by a representative from Tahoka; dramatization, junior auxiliary from Slaton directed by Mrs. Fred Tudor;

Greetings and a personal word will be given the group by Mrs. J. Frank Potts; Post representatives are to state a dramatic production; visitors will be introduced and a Bible hour is to be directed by Mrs. W. R. Graeber of Post.

Delegates are expected from Lamesa, Levelland, Lorenzo, Lubbock, Southland, O'Donnell, Ralls, Ropesville, Crosbyton, Idalou, Slaton, Anton, Tahoka, Post, Seagraves, Wilson, Meadow, Brownfield and McCarty.

Abilene Bankers To Face Charges

ABILENE, Oct. 16. (AP)—Failure of the Abilene State bank August 28 had a legal aftermath today.

The grand jury of 42nd district court, making its final report of the current term, returned indictments against A. E. Pool, president, and B. Miller, vice president of the closed institution.

One offense is charged against both officers, that of receiving deposits in a bank in a failing condition. Two indictments were returned against Pool, each containing three counts; and one indictment against Miller, containing three counts.

Judge M. S. Long has set the trials for October 26, and bond for each defendant was set at $1,000 in each case.

An economic conference of leading industrialists, agriculturists and merchants is to be held in La Paz, Bolivia.

Today's Events

chapter are to meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon with Mrs. D. K. Bondurant and Mrs. P. V. Brown in Mrs. Bondurant's home. This meeting was originally announced for 4 o'clock.

The Pan Hellenic club is to have a luncheon at one o'clock in the home of Mrs. F. R. Friend, 2005 Broadway.

Mrs. J. B. Jackson, 2811 22nd street, is entertaining at 3 o'clock this afternoon honoring small girls in a class in the First Presbyterian church which she teaches.

Further Evidence Of Man Is Found

CARLSBAD, N. M., Oct. 16. (AP)—Further evidence of the existence of man in the pleistocene era antedating the three periods of basket makers was discovered in Guadalupe mountain excavations this summer forty miles northwest of Carlsbad.

Edgar B. Howard, in charge of an archeological expedition from the University of Pennsylvania, announced today that the summer's work, among other things, had unearthed a folsom spear point and evidence of hearths in strata lower than the basket maker burial levels.

Further identification of the spear point was made by Dr. Barnum Brown of the museum of natural history, New York, who came here on an inspection trip and to assist in completion of the summer's field work.

Britain Points To High Tariff

LONDON, Oct. 16. (AP) — David Lloyd George points to the United States as a country in which high tariffs have not spelled prosperity.

The veteran liberal leader, advising his followers to vote for free trade labor candidates in preference to "food taxing" conservatives if there was no alternative, said in a radio address last night:

"To insure that their natural and accumulated wealth should be enjoyed by their own citizens alone, they (America) build up the highest tariff wall in the world.

"Yet there is more actual privation in one American city than in the whole of Great Britain.

"The specter of bankruptcy is stalking through that rich country whose streets two years ago seemed paved with gold. This year there will be a deficit of $300,000,000 in the federal budget."

Mrs. M. T. Hill of Midland is visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Hambright, 2222 16th street.

Member Of Bandit Gang Is Captured; Robberies Told

EMPORIA, Kas., Oct. 16. (AP) — Earl Montgomery, identified by officers as the third member of a bandit trio who held up two filling stations at Eskridge Tuesday night and kidnapped Mike Duff, attendant, was captured near here today after holding up another station and fleeing into a wooded section. Authorities said Montgomery gave a detailed confession of the three robberies.

In his confession Montgomery said Loren (Bud) Conley, who was slain by a posse at Eskridge, and Roosevelt Reynolds, wounded and captured there, had got him drunk Tuesday night and persuaded him to use his car and take part in the robberies.

A Canyon, man produced a tomato plant this season ten by twelve feet in area from which he harvested two bushels of tomatoes. Careful culture, he maintains, will make three tomatoes produce enough to supply the average family.

Dallas Man Fails To Appear For Prosecution Of Two Men

DALLAS, Oct. 16. (AP) — Robert Brassell failed to appear in court here today to prosecute two men whom he had accused of kidnaping and beating him.

The 27-year-old plaintiff had complained the men attacked him in the belief he was a police "stool pigeon." He said they accused him of disclosing the activities of Dallas gamblers.

The defendants, Johnnie Leslie and Jack Darby, charged with aggravated assault, appeared in court with their attorney.

Princess Ileana and her bridegroom, the Archduke Anton of Hapsburgh, intend to do most of their traveling in the airplane which was King Carol's wedding present.

Coach nan made many substitutions e game reached its waning nts, and even before that but everybody he sent in con- d to do damage and there was g to stop the charging West- except the timer's gun.

Bert Williams attained the ts last night, or at least the ts attainable in a game of sort, when he played a most nt game at tackle. The whole ck wall functioned almost esly, once it got its collective into the game, but the play- of Williams was outstanding. ain Bob Crawford at center, Ed Watson at end and Rosser t at tackle also played fine s in the line. The Lubbock wall hed over the weaker opposition a steam roller over egg shells, that does not do justice to in- uals of the Tiger lineup who y showed the locals something he way of sustained fight and .

Co-Captain linton, the star ball toter, was of the game with a broken nose, Rigsby, one of the Rigsby boys, his share of attempted ball ying.

me kind of a record must have set last night when Lubbock ered in 36 first downs. Two made by Snyder, one of them esult of a 15-yard penalty in- ed on Lubbock. Somebody was ting about it being a world's rec- but there was no time to think ut it before Lubbock made an- er touchdown.

Scoggin, the Offensive Star

ack Scoggin was the individual lugging star of last night's e. When he learned to use his arm effectively he was a de- on long end runs. Although he de two touchdowns, Scoggin de nearly all of the others pos- e by carrying the pigskin to hin striking distance. Cecil Mer- was a fine running mate. Bill vidson pushed over three touch- wns in the final period and kick- two goals in that quarter to take ring honors, and his work in dfield was commendable.

All in all it was sort of a sloppy me, with the Westerners show- nothing particularly impressive cept for the big score. Not more an two or three plays were used night, and not many passes were ed. Five out of eleven were com- eted for appreciable gains, but e Westerners failed to play the me that will be necessary when ey meet tougher opposition. While ey gained 648 yards in scrimmage ainst 39 gained by the Tigers, the ak opposition failed to bring out true test of what the locals are pable of doing against teams eir own size and standing.

Westerners Start Slowly

Starting slowly and showing othing at first, or maybe it was cause of an inspired Tiger de- nse, the Westerners pushed over e first touchdown in the first arter, the only one for that per- d. Barnett made it after Scoggin d carried it to the 2-yard line. Barnett made another early in the second after a sustained drive down the field by Scoggin and Merrill. Scoggin scored the third on a 37-yard run around end. Four touchdowns were accomplished in the third period, Barnett making the first after a long gain by Scoggin, Britton crashing over for the second and Merrill running 16 yards for the other. Four touchdowns were made in the final chukker.

Slaton Battles Lamesa To 7-7 Tie In Practice Game

SLATON, Oct. 16—(Special)—The Slaton High Tigers battled the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes to a 7-7 tie here this afternoon in a non-district game.

Coach McCollum's Tornadoes pushed over a touchdown in the first quarter and the try for point was good. In the second period Slaton scored a touchdown and kicked goal for the extra point.

The parade of the Slaton pep squad between halves was one of the most striking features of the pep program.

May Be Shifted

ELVA BAKER-GUARD

Elva "Big 'Un" Baker, above, a guard on Pete Cawthon's Texas Tech varsity Matador team, looked so good in Tuesday's game against the Haskell Indians at Dallas that he may be shifted to a tackle position from now on. The playing of Truett Owens and Bennie McWilliams was not without criticism last Tuesday and either of these lads may take a turn on the bench with Baker getting a shot at regular tackle position.

Brownfield-Post Battle To A Tie

(Special to the Avalanche)

POST, Oct. 16.—Brownfield and Post battled to a scoreless tie here Friday, playing a game filled with thrills seldom seen on a high school field. Playing in ideal weather and on a fast field both teams displayed snappy plays that kept the crowd filled with enthusiasm.

Outstanding players for Post were Key at end, Stanley at center, Travis Loyd, Hawthorne and Speck in the backfield. The Post passing machine worked repeatedly and kept the Brownfield boys guessing.

The Brownfield team depended largely upon power plays that threatened on several occasions.

Men playing a stellar game for Brownfield were Gaza at fullback, Graham at end, and Burnett at quarter.

Post threatened seriously on two occasions, and until the last quarter clearly outplayed the Brownfield team.

Post made 9 first downs and Brownfield 7.

Marshall Defeats Tyler Lions, 6-2

TYLER, Oct. 16 (AP) — Hadlock, Marshall quarterback, intercepted a forward pass and scampered 80 yards for a touchdown to give Marshall a 6 to 2 victory over the Tyler Lions, 1930 school boy champions of Texas.

Tyler scored a safety in the third period.

Tech Gridmen Look To Game With Minemen

Coach Smith Makes Changes In Line, Sending Price To End To Replace Teal; May Shift Line Further

After consuming two days in more or less "gentle" workouts, the Texas Tech Matadors will go through a heavier practice today and start Monday in a series of tough drills as they prepare for their second intersectional game of the season and the first ever played on the home lot. They meet the Colorado School of Mines eleven here next Friday night.

With Head Coach Pete Cawthon in Amarillo yesterday as a witness to the Tech freshman-Amarillo Junior college Badger game and in Pampa today as an official in the Amarillo-Pampa high school game, all coaching duties this week have fallen upon Line Coach Dutchey Smith. Del Morgan, the other assistant coach, will be back with his Picadors today to assist in the varsity training, probably sending his charges against the Matadors in a light scrimmage session.

Smith Holds Fort

Coach Smith therefore has had and is having the experience of shifting the lineup to take care of the big hole left when Bill Teal, star end, was whittled from the lineup by a serious injury in Tuesday's game at Dallas. Yancy Price, a natural end, having played that position in Lubbock High school, as a Tech freshman and with the Matadors in spring training, has been shifted from regular fullback position to that of left end. It will behoove the former all-state high school end to strut his very best stuff if he comes close to filling the shoes left vacant by Teal.

To take Price's place in the backfield Harold Crites, plunging halfback, is being especially groomed. Murray Nichols, the regular fullback on the "shock troops" lineup and who looked fine against the Indians at Dallas last Tuesday, will divide time with Crites at full and there is sure to be a scrap for the place at the start of each game.

Other Backs Get Chance

This shifting around will give other backs a chance to break into the regular lineup. Slick Close appears to be one of the most eligible of the "shock troopers" to be promoted to the starting lineup. Playing his first season under Tech colors, Close has shown remarkable ability so far. He was one of Cawthon's most important ground gainers in the Haskell game.

Lefty Sollis, another "shock trooper" who has shown considerable ability and ball lugging capabilities, is due for more work with the regulars. Heavy and willing, the sophomore southpaw is due to appear about as much as any other halfback in succeeding games. Jim O'Leary still looks like the starting quarterback. Speed Moffett will divide time with him and with one of the halfbacks in future games. The Moffett kid, a whiz last year in a broken field but who has not had the chance to get going on a dry field this season, is headed for heavy work.

France Still "In"

Lawrence "Shorty" France is still the flash of the Matador backfield, due to carry on at one of the halfback positions as long as he hangs around the campus, but competition is getting tougher for the diminutive ball carrier. His punting, however, has so far exceeded anything in the way of boots on either side of the field in previous games.

While they go into the game with the strong Rocky Mountain Conference team with the potential winning advantage on their side, the Matadors are taking the game seriously, hoping to turn the game into a most decisive victory for Texas Tech. They run up against some outstanding men when they meet the Miners from Colorado and there is every possibility of a desperate struggle.

Canyon Buffs Bow To Daniel Baker

CANYON, Oct. 16 (AP) — Coming from behind a 19 to 6 lead taken in the first half by the West Texas Teachers college Buffaloes here Friday night, the Daniel Baker Hill Billies romped and sprinted their way to a 40 to 19 victory in the two squads' first T. I. A. A. battle.

Opening with plenty drive and power, the Buffs forced the forward wall of the visiting eleven to give way. They completely ruled the first half, although the Daniel Baker crew put up a great fight.

Captain Warren Not To Play For Oklahoma Sooners Today

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 16 (AP) — Guy Warren, little Oklahoma halfback and captain, will not be in the Sooner lineup that battles the Texas Longhorns in the annual Texas Fair classic tomorrow.

Warren was left behind when a squad of thirty left Norman today because of a school ruling requiring students who participate in extra-curricular activities to maintain a specified scholastic standing.

Pete Maloney, 175 sophomore back, will draw Warren's assignment.

Warren has been the mainstay of the Sooner attack for three years.

Harvard And Yale Games To Be Watched With Interest Today

Army Meets Harvard In What May Be Classic; Yale Meets Chicago Eleven; Individual Stars In Limelight

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Few, if any attendance records will be broken along the college football fronts tomorrow, but Harvard and Yale step into the mid-October picture with two magnificent gestures to prove that sentiment still can compete with modern commercialism.

In a season that has already hit the gate receipts, Harvard plays the Army tomorrow at West Point, where no more than $100,000 can be collected for a spectacle that has drawn an average in excess of $200,000 for the past three years at Cambridge.

It is the first time since canvas jackets were discarded that the Crimson has invaded the gray citadel up the Hudson for gridiron warfare. Army holds the edge and figures to win if Barry Wood's great passing arm can be restrained.

Yale, breaking tradition, goes west for the first time to play Chicago and honor Amos Alonzo Stagg, the "old man of the midway," on the fortieth anniversary of his advent there and nearly 50 years after he gained athletic fame with the Elis. Albie Booth will be watched with as much interest as any eastern ball carrier since Red Cagle romped westward for the Army. If inspiration means anything, Chicago should win from a Yale team that has yet to reach full development.

Sectional and conference battles meanwhile reach critical stages in the south, midwest and far west, with only a few scattered intersectional tussles listed.

Two of the longest jaunts find Florida's strong 'Gators invading Syracuse, and favored to score another triumph for the south, and the University of California at Los Angeles moving into the Northwestern Wildcat's stronghold at Evanston without much chance of avoiding a shellacking. Oklahoma is a short-ender against the University of Texas.

Abernathy Tumbles To Loboes Of Levelland By 19-0 Score

ABERNATHY, Oct. 16—(Special) The Levelland Loboes defeated the Abernathy Antelopes, 19 to 0, here today in the second game between the clubs this season.

The Loboes scored first in the first quarter when Gravit took a pass from Gano Tubbs for a gain of 36 yards and a touchdown. The second score came in the second period on a 40-yard end run by Gano Tubbs. Troy House plunged through the center of the Abernathy line for three yards and the final touchdown in the fourth period.

Mustangs And Owls Meet On Houston Grid

Texas Steers Hope To Gain Importance In Tilt Today With Oklahoma Sooners At Dallas; Frogs Vs. Aggies

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Oct. 16. — Southwest Conference curtains will be drawn aside their full length tomorrow and the gridiron stage will be occupied by three championship combats and one intersectional encounter.

Southern Methodist will charge against the Rice Owls at Houston, the Arkansas Razorbacks will meet Baylor at Waco, and Texas A. and M.'s fighting Farmers will battle Texas Christian at Fort Worth.

Steers Meet Sooners

Smarting under a 7 to 0 defeat by Rice last week, but determined to retrieve some of its football honor, the University of Texas, 1930 conference title holder, hopes to smash through the University of Oklahoma in an intersectional game at Dallas.

With Bob Gilbert, regular quarterback, on the shelf because of an infected heel, Southern Methodist invades the Rice Institute campus prepared to flood the air with footballs. Rice, conqueror of Texas and realizing a victory over Southern Methodist will give her a long lead for the conference championship, will meet the Mustang aerial attack with one of the most brilliant ground games in the conference.

Travis or Jorday will replace Gilbert in Southern Methodist's backfield. Neither can pass like Gilbert, but both are considered superior ball carriers. Rice's thunderbolting Richard Janerson, Bert Mueller, Jap Thrasher, Jack Frye and Tom Driscoll, ball carriers, who smothered Texas last week, are ready for the Mustangs.

Tradition Fires at Cowtown

The game at Fort Worth will mark the 1931 conference bow of Texas A. and M. and Texas Christian in a game where traditional fires will again flame in what promises to be a superior battle between two elevens boasting powerful running attacks.

Not since 1924 have the Aggies won from Texas Christian. They knocked at the door last year, but Captain Noble Atkins' field goal gave Texas Christian a 3 to 0 verdict. The fighting Farmers will go into tomorrow's game with a determination to break their six year jinx.

The Fort Worth team will pit one of the most powerful front walls in the conference against A. and M. On the line will be Ben Boswell and his educated toe which recently beat Louisiana State university with a 17-yard field goal. Another lineman will be Johnny Vauht at guard who promises to be all-American timber.

The Arkansas and Baylor game fails to rank in interest with the other two, but it is sure to be a bitter fight. It will be Baylor's first 1931 conference game. Arkansas lost to Southern Methodist last week. Baylor lost to Centenary 24 to 13, but revealed a lot of promise.

Texas Is Under Dog

Anxious to atone for last week's defeat, the University of Texas Longhorns are expected to shoot their football works against Oklahoma. Dope favors the Sooners, who two weeks ago beat Rice 19 to 7, and Rice, in turn, beat Texas. It is doubtful if Moody, who has a broken nose, and Neibuhr, who has a fractured wrist, will be in Texas' lineup. If not, Texas will be weakened at tackles.

Badgers Smear Fish For 14-0 Win Yesterday

Albert Lard Leads Amarillo Junior College Team With Old High School Style To Set Picadors Back

(Special To The Avalanche)

AMARILLO, Oct. 16. — Twisting and fighting his way through the secondary defense after his line had opened a big hole, Albert Lard, former Pampa High school star, traveled 81 yards in the final quarter to give the Amarillo College Badgers a 14 to 0 victory over the Texas Technological College freshmen here today.

The other counter came in the first period when Bill Crass, Badger fullback, scored after a series of drives had carried the ball 50 yards to the freshmen's one yard marker. Crass kicked goal after both touchdowns.

Picadors Show Force

The Picadors showed the result of the past weeks of training against the Matadors, putting up the greatest defense the Badgers have faced this year. Only twice were the bruisers able to pierce their forward wall to do damage. The Badgers made 10 first downs to the freshmen's eight.

Open Air Attack

The frosh squad opened an aerial attack in the last period that three times carried the ball within the Badger 10 yard line, netting them six of their first downs, but the line plungers could not put on the finishing touch. One pass was intercepted after the freshmen had gone to the Badger 20 yard line. Lard's sprint followed.

In the second quarter 200 fans saw Del Morgan send in an entire substitute eleven. Al Baggett counteracted with substitutions and before the game ended 52 men had seen action on both squads.

Trinity Defeats Denton Teachers

WAXAHACHIE, Oct. 16 (AP)—A pass, Shick to Kroulik in the third period, gave Trinity University a 7 to 0 victory over the North Texas Teachers of Denton here today.

Shick's punting virtually decided the victory. The Teachers outgained the Tigers in the first half, registering 15 first downs to three for Trinity, but lacked scoring punch. The Teachers failed to threaten in the second half.

Trinity's triumph today established it as one of the strong contenders in the 1931 Texas Conference campaign. North Texas on successive week ends defeated Austin College and Southwestern University, Texas conference elevens.

White House Becomes Richer In Its Lore By Residence Of Mrs. Hoover

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16. (AP)—Because Mrs. Herbert Hoover has lived there the White House has become richer in its own lore.

The gold piano, the chairs and beds and tables can now tell a more connected tale than ever before of when and whence they came. For each boasts a little key number that clicks with Mrs. Hoover's card catalogue of White-Houseana.

Regrouping furniture according to its period when she first entered the White House as mistress, Mrs. Hoover became enamored of the tradition of the place.

With research workers helping her, she has now delved into library of congress records relating to the executive mansion. She has collected and hung in its great upper hall all available prints artists have made of it. She has studied old photographs to trace particular pieces from room to room. She has had new photographs made to identify the furniture in its present setting.

For a home always historical, the White House has been somewhat lacking in written history, and many were the gaps Mrs. Hoover had to bridge.

But memoirs and letters left in the archives by other president's wives who had felt the urge to write of it helped her.

FOUR ARE KILLED

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 16. (AP) — Four Mexican army fliers were killed today when two planes collided a thousand feet in the air and crashed. It was the second such accident at Valbuena Field in the past fifteen months.

Nearly 300,000 pounds of grapefruit will be exported from Porto Rico this year.

MAYOR INJURED

GREENVILLE, Oct. 16. (AP)—J. A. Purkey, mayor of Peniel, was severely burned on the right hand today when he came in contact with a high voltage wire. He was injured while repairing street lights. The shock rendered him unconscious.

PRESIDENT NAMED

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 16. (AP)—Mrs. Frederick Edey of New York today was re-elected national president of girl scouts.

New regional members elected to the national board include Mrs. Sully B. Roberdeau, Austin, Texas.

Brownfield Plans Vagrancy Measure

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 16. — The county commissioners of this county and officials of the city of Brownfield, held a joint session yesterday for the purpose of adopting a common program relative to prosecution of vagrancy cases against a number of people who are refusing to work in the cotton fields or perform other work at prevailing wages, but who are able to exist without any visable means of support, and who at the same time are expecting to be taken care of by the various charitable agencies which are expected to function during the winter months. The conclusion arrived at, was that a choice of working in the cotton fields would be offered to them and if they refused that they would be arrested and put to work, under guard, on the rock pile or county roads. It was also decided that no food or clothing would be furnished during the winter to any person who could not produce evidence showing that they had supported themselves during the harvesting season.

Last winter, the county and charitable organizations were very liberal in assisting transient people and did not inquire too closely into reasons causing requests for aid, but this attitude is to be altered and each case will be closely investigated before any funds are expended. It is common belief that many people over this and other states have concluded that it is easier to live on charity than it is to work and such are going to hit a stone wall so far as this section is concerned.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: PAUL IN THESSALONICA AND BEROEA

Scripture Lesson: Acts 17:1, 8-11

Acts 17:1. Now when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Jews.

5. But the Jews, being moved with jealousy, took unto them certain vile fellows of the rabble, and gathering a crowd set the city on an uproar, and assaulting the house of Jason, they sought to bring them forth to the people.

6. And when they found them not, they dragged Jason and certain brethren before the rulers of the city, crying, These that have turned the world upside down are come hither also;

7. Whom Jason hath received: and these all act contrary to the decrees of Caesar, saying that there is another king, one Jesus.

8. And they troubled the multitude and the rulers of the city, when they heard these things.

9. And when they had taken security from Jason and the rest, they let them go.

10. And the Brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night unto Beroea: who when they were come thither went into the synagogue of the Jews.

11. Now these were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether these things were so.

Golden Text — Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law.—Ps. 119:18.

Time:—A. D. 51.

Place:—Thessalonica and Beroea.

Introduction

The name of Amphipolis, "Around the City," is derived from the fact that it is almost surrounded by the river Strymon. The journey from Philippi to Amphipolis is said by Renan to be "one of the most beautiful days' journeys Paul ever experienced." He must have remained in Amphipolis over night. Both Amphipolis and Apollonia were too near Philippi to be safe places for work, and they could later be evangelized from Philippi. So Paul pressed on to Thessalonica, about one hundred miles southwest of Philippi. "As St. Paul approached Thessalonica, he must have wondered at its beauty, for it was then, as now, built in the form of an amphitheatre, sloping down towards the sea and with the snow-clad heights of Olympus rising in the distance behind it." "Thessalonica" means "Thessalian Victory," a name given by Cassander who rebuilt the city, and who named it after his wife. She was the half-sister of Alexander the Great, and was so named by her father, Phillip of Macedon, because he won a great victory over Thessaly on the day he received news of her birth. The modern name of the city is concerned to Saloniki (Salonica), and under that name it has long been a fruitful center of American missions. "The greater part of the city was accidentally burned during the World War, when Salonica was the base of the Allied Balkan forces. Even while the new and modern buildings are rapidly rising, as part of Greece's great era of prosperity, one still hears tales of 'the fire'."

Paul In Thessalonica

Following his rule to make the synagogues the bases of operations, because the Jews were best prepared to receive Christianity, Paul spoke for three Sabbaths in the synagogue of Thessalonica, opening the Scriptures to his hearers, and especially unfolding the Old Testament prophecies of Christ's sufferings on the cross and his resurrection, and drawing the inevitable conclusion that Jesus of Nazareth was the long-expected Messiah. The result of this powerful preaching was the winning of some of the Jews, who threw in their lot with the missionaries, and also many of the Gentile proselytes to Judaism. "A number of the leading women also cast in their lot with the heralds of the new faith. Luke makes it a rule to notice how far the teaching of Paul reached the woman, who in the circumstances of ancient life had not such ready access to the public lectures of strange teachers. In the Christian assemblies these women found opportunity to give public expression to their views, and thus to strengthen their religious convictions and to affect the opinions of others.

"The World Upside Down"

"These that have turned the world upside down are come hither also." "There is nothing that has such tendency to turn the world upside down, as our glorious Christianity. The fact is that the world now is wrong side up, and it needs to be turned upside down in order that it may be right side up." T. DeWitt Talmage.

"Agitation is our profession. Unless we have denied the faith and mean to be the worst sort of infidels, we intend not to let things remain just as they are in human life and human society, but to keep on altering them for the better."

The world into which Christ came was hard and terribly cruel, little regard was paid to human life, the most brutal slavery was everywhere, no care was taken of the sick, the infirm, and the aged, and the most abominable impurity was flaunted without shame. "The world is still very far from being a kingdom of God, but it is immensely nearer than it was when Christ came into our midst. We date our years from the time of his advent."

"One truth is true for all: 'Except ye be born again, ye cannot see the kingdom of heaven.' Except ye be thoroughly renewed, turned upside down, ye cannot be saved."—C. H. Spurgeon.

PAUL IN BEROEA, Act 17: 10-15

"And the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night unto Beroea." Berea is about fifty miles west of Thessalonica. "Beroea is beautiful, a wholly charming spot, worth visiting for its present attractiveness. Flowing streams abound in and about this town of many waters, and the trees and cotton and other vegetation are luxurious. The people are pleasant, prosperous, and distinctively dressed. The smiling, friendly children would win the hearts of any occidental Sunday school."—William T. Ellis, L. L. D. "The city was founded a thousand years before any of the great cities of Europe were built, saving perhaps Athens and Rome."—Rev. Francis E. Clark, D. D.

THE NOBLE BIBLE SEARCHERS, v. 11

"Now these were more noble than those in Thessalonica." The word translated "noble" has been taken over in our English word "eugenics." They were better-born and so of better character. "Examining the scriptures daily." Every day, and not simply on the Sabbath, these noble Beroeans, compared the Old Testament prophecies of the Messiah with what the apostles told them of Jesus Christ. "Whether these things were so." "True nobility of soul consists in willingness to receive the Word, combined with diligent testing of it. Christ asks for no blind adhesion. The true Christian teacher wishes for no renunciation, on the part of his hearers, of their own judgments. 'Open your mouth and shut your eyes, and swallow what I give you,' is not the language of Christianity. If professing Christians today were better acquainted with the Scriptures, and more in the habit of bringing every new doctrine to them as its touchstone, there would be less currency of errors and firmer grip of truth."—Alexander MacLaren.

TROUBLE IN BEROEA

"Besides the Jews, the converts included many Gentiles, not only Greek men, but "Greek women of honorable estate," women of wealth, position and influence like the "chief women" of Thessalonica and Lydia of Philippi. But the Jewish foes of Christianity were once more on the warpath, coming from Thessalonica in their mad bigotry, and once more arousing the crowd against the missionaries, doubtless with the same old charges of sedition and treason which they had found so effective before. Warned by past experience not to allow these hostilities to get to the point of riot and compel the intervention of cowardly authorities, at once the Beroean converts decided to send Paul away, as the most prominent missionary, keeping Silas and Timothy in Beroea to instruct them further.

ON TO ATHENS

On account of his physical infirmities, it was not safe for Paul to travel alone, so that a delegation from Beroea conducted the apostle to the sea, a distance of about twenty miles, and thence, either by the road along the seacoast, as some think, or by ship, to the great historic city of Athens. There they left the apostle and returned to Beroea, bearing Paul's injunctions that Silas and Timothy should join him in Athens as speedily as possible.

BOLD PREACHING, 1 Thes. 2: 1-5

It is very likely that Paul's enemies, the Jewish opponents of Christianity, had in the apostle's absence slandered him, impugning his motives, and declaring his object to be self-seeking. Such slanders Paul refutes by reminding his readers of his sufferings in Philippi, in spite of which, and in spite of the persecutions in Thessalonica, the apostle continued bold in his preaching of the gospel. He had not sought to please men, but God. He had not flattered men, he had not sought men's money or men's applause. He had been simple, sincere, and courageous in his desire to win souls to Jesus Christ.

Youths Play Hookey, Find Gold

Playing hookey from a public school's field day at Windsor, Ont., proved worth while for these four youngsters. They are shown near the spot where they discovered $4,000 worth of virgin gold hidden in two cigar boxes. Their joy, however, was short lived, for the Canadian government is expected to claim it.

Revival To Open In City Tuesday

A fundamentalist revival meeting will begin at 7:45 o'clock next Tuesday night in the Rex theater building. T. Myron Webb, author and Bible teacher, of Denver, will conduct the services.

The evangelist said he was in Lubbock "for the sole purpose of proving that the Bible is from 2,000 to 4,000 years ahead of science." Present social, economic, ecclesiastical, and political conditions of the world were foretold by the Old and New Testament prophets, he said.

Here for an indefinite period, Webb will discuss, in the light of his understanding of Bible prophecy, "Modern Infidelity and the Bible," "Russian Communism and the Antichrist's Reign," "A World Dictator in 1932," "Will Christ Return in This Age?" "Russia, Germany, Italy and the Jews in Prophecy," and other subjects.

"Drink All the Coffee You Like Within Reason", Doctors* Now Say!

Watch the Kind...That's All!

Rare Mountain Coffees Of Central America Are Safe, Far Finer Flavor, Too, Because Nature Herself Leaves Out Rank, Noxious Oils

Drinking Samples of Rare Mountain Coffees in Central America. Experts agree no other coffee grows so free of rough offensive oils.

(FOLGER PHOTO)

Now comes the highest scientific opinion to upset completely all our old ideas about coffee drinking.

You often hear, for instance, even those who love coffee most say they can't drink it at all. Or can drink only a cup a day. Or can drink it only in a "denatured" form. This because of the effect it has on the digestion and nerves.

Now doctors tell us we can escape all this. Anyone, they say, can drink coffee. And as much as one likes within reason.

For they now find that it's not how much coffee you drink, but the KIND of coffee you drink, that influences your digestion and nerves.

Avoid Doubtful Coffees!

The so-called coffee ills of nervousness, indigestion, headache, etc., they now tell us, come from certain rank, noxious oils. It's not coffee itself, but these oils that upset your nerves and stomach, and they are not found in FOLGER'S Coffee.

Mountain Coffees Are Safe

In Folger's we use a coffee that is grown on the western slopes of mountains in Central America. A region where Nature produces probably the finest coffee known today. It has a rare tangy flavor and mellow rich body not duplicated anywhere else in the world. And in this rare coffee, Nature leaves out the noxious, offensive oils that abound in rank and doubtful coffees.

Endorsed by Doctors

2,571 doctors* recently tested actual samples of Folger's Coffee. They report that, in their opinion, it can be drunk by any normal person without anxiety. And that its fine stimulation is actually beneficial to the average, normal person.

Folger's is packed in key-opening vacuum tins. Any can you buy is always fresh. As fresh as it was 30 minutes after it left the roaster.

Try Folger's for a week. You'll enjoy a flavor that experts concede is not duplicated by any other coffee grown. Note its wonderful invigoration. Note its after-effect.

And you'll realize why tens of thousands of housewives are discarding cheap, ordinary coffees for this richer, finer kind that is safe.

Signed statements to this effect, from 2,571 physicians who have actually tested Folger's Coffee, are on file in our offices.*

Chief Mike Stine Acquitted As City Court Gropes Way Through Divergent Testimony In Trial For Table Theft

GROPING its way through a litter of humorous and widely divergent testimony having to do with the operations of the defunct Lubbock Athletic club, a corporation court jury Friday afternoon acquitted Chief Mike Stine, Cherokee Indian wrestler, of theft of a small wooden table valued at $4.

Sam Karetsky, fined $15 in corporation court last week for disturbing the peace in Stine's home, was the complaining witness. He charged a table which had been taken to the Indian's home was made from lumber in a partition which had been torn down in arranging the athletic club quarters.

Testimony Varies

The building, in the 400-block of Avenue H, was rented to Joe Blinn, matchmaker, for $75 a month, Karetsky, the owner, testified. Stine testified he obtained the lumber elsewhere and permitted a carpenter who built the table free admission to professional wrestling and amateur boxing matches promoted by Blinn. Karetsky said he paid the carpenter.

Defense pleaded a claim of right in Stine's moving the table. Karetsky's staccato dialect and characteristic gestures several times amused the crowd so much that Judge J. T. Inmon pounded for order, utilizing a pocket knife as a gavel after his knuckles were sore.

City Prosecutor Jess Levens attempted to show that Stine and Blinn, whom the defense said had "skidooed," were partners; the defense that Blinn and Karetsky were partners. Karetsky declared that after wrestlers were paid, the Community Chest given a percentage, and other expenses accounted for, no money was left to pay rent. Stine, who wrestled at the club and served both as an instructor and as custodian, charged he had received only 2 per cent of a promised 15 per cent of gross receipts.

Involved explanations and counter descriptions of operations of the club overshadowed the theft charges in the testimony. Stine denied he had threatened to thrash Karetsky or that the latter had asked him for keys to the building. Karetsky, it developed, had a new lock placed on the vacated club quarters. The Indian said he was using the table as a dining table.

Hill Stewart, attorney for Stine, asked Karetsky if he weren't "a good business man," on which the complainant shrugged and opined "nobody is now." Halted once by Stewart, who asked Karetsky if he was quoting a man "word for word," the latter replied: "I'm not so awfully a smart man—I might miss a word."

California Man Eats Meal And Reads Own Obituary In Morning Newspaper

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Oct. 16. (AP)—It's a rare occasion when a man can eat breakfast and read his obituary in the morning newspaper at the same time. But that's what happened to Jacob Lee Kennedy, 84, today.

Kennedy was stricken with convulsions about midnight. A doctor was summoned and he was pronounced dead. Newspapers were notified and arrangements made with an undertaker.

Later the elder man showed symptoms of life. Relatives, who had left before the ambulance came, called at the undertaker's—only to learn Kennedy was eating breakfast and reading his own obituary. The doctor was unable to explain Kennedy's recovery.

Speaker Will Talk On Cotton Situation Here This Afternoon

Welton Winn, Lubbock man, announced Friday that the present cotton situation, the low price and the remedy will be discussed in a talk this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the district courtroom of the courthouse by a man who has given 40 years study to the farmers' problems. Mr. Winn issued an invitation to all farmers to attend.

Bankers and business men are also invited, he said.

Three diamond wedding anniversaries have been celebrated in the little village of Snodland, England.

Navy Department Cuts Its Budget

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16. (AP)—Meeting President Hoover's demand for greater economy, the navy today completed and transmitted to the White House a revised budget, slashing substantially the appropriations to be requested for the fiscal year, 1933.

Secretary Adams let it be known that the reduction made was not quite $61,000,000, the figure understood to represent President Hoover's wishes. He would not, however, discuss the new proposal further. Originally the navy asked for $401,000,000.

Since the administration is understood to be committed against further cuts in the building program, the reductions are expected to cut right across the existing program for naval activities.

Substantial reductions in personnel, laying up of many fleet vessels and the closing or abandonment of some navy yards have been mentioned as probable means of securing economy.

Naval officials would not disclose the plan pending consideration by the budget bureau.

SOLDIER DIES

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 16. (AP)—Private Frank Chinche, Fort Sill soldier, who was brought to Fort Sam Houston yesterday in a Kelly Field airplane ambulance, died in station hospital this morning. His back was broken in an automobile accident October 10.

Something WIVES never mention

SHE would never tell you, of course—but part of the success of her husband is due to her. She knows that vitality and "push" are based on health.

So she serves meals that guard against constipation, which so often handicaps work with headaches, loss of appetite and energy. Two natural correctives of constipation are "bulk" and Vitamin B.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is rich in both. "Bulk" to exercise the intestines. Vitamin B to tone them up. The two promote regularity.

Just make sure that your husband gets two tablespoonfuls daily of this delicious cereal. This gentle corrective is far better than pills or drugs—so often habit-forming.

Raskob Tightens His Grip

JOHN J. RASKOB, virtual dictator of the Democratic party in the Northeast, has taken another firmer grip upon the political organization. Mr. Raskob, who battered his way from a bookkeeper's desk to a position as one of the nation's most successful financiers, has just made another $100,000 "gift" to democracy, and as things stand now has a $285,250 "mortgage" on the party, not including the latest $100,000 donation.

Mr. Raskob is in no danger of winning any popularity contests in the South—Southern Democrats despise his name with almost as much venom as they do the strains of "Yankee Doodle." But it must be admitted that he has used his money bags to increase his power and prestige, until "We'll have to ask Raskob" has become almost a standing statement among Democratic chieftians.

The Morning Avalanche holds no brief for John J. Raskob. As a matter of fact, we feel that he and his forces have done more harm to the Democratic party than the Republicans, themselves, have. But he has us where he wants us now—and we can't do anything much about it. The man with ready cash can cut about as wide a swath in politics as in any other field.

TOO ORIENTAL?

With Americans, who modestly place themselves first among the superior and progressive peoples of the world, China is synonymous with an inferior state of civilization and racial and national backwardness. Western civilization is willing to forget the remarkable civilization of ancient China but makes ado about the illiteracy rate, low standards of living, economic instability and crude industrialism of modern China.

It is not particularly pleasing to 100 per cent nordic blonds to be told that China enjoyed the benefits of a perfected civil service until Western influences disrupted the government in 1905.

The Chinese civil service included five separate winnowing examinations, the first test taking place in the capital, and the final one in the palace. The first test was distinctly local. Those who won the earlier trials qualified for minor public appointments, according to their standing, but the winners in the palace tests were qualified to become ministers of state. Long before democracy was dreamed of in the Occident, the Orient was recognizing ability irrespective of social status.

While the Western world is boasting of its many contributions to the new civilization of the Far East, let it acknowledge certain benefactions of Oriental origin.

Practical Health Problems

SENSITIVITY TO AILMENTS

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

THERE seems to be in certain families a tendency toward what is called allergy, a form of sensitivity whereby the taking into the body of certain forms of protein results in symptoms that are known as allergic symptoms. For example, hay fever and asthma may run in families—one member of a family may have hay fever, another asthma, another may break out with eruptions of hives on eating certain foods.

When both parents suffer from some form of sensitivity, there is a likelihood that at least one-half their children will probably develop some form of sensitivity during life. These allergic manifestations may skip one generation and the mother and father be free, whereas the children display various types of allergy. Investigations made with the special idea of allergy in mind revealed some family history of sensitivity in almost 60 per cent of cases, when both mother and father had sensitivity, 90 per cent of the children developed such a condition within the first 10 years of life.

The nature of the sensitivity developed, as pointed out by Dr. Warren T. Vaughan, depends largely on the conditions in which one lives. Thus people who live in the British Isles develop hay fever chiefly from exposure to grasses, while in the United States most cases of hay fever are associated with the pollens of the ragweed. In this country the concentration of ragweed pollen in the air is much greater than that of any other plant, including the grasses.

It was found that the children of certain immigrants in New York slept on felt pillows of which the chief constituent was rabbit hair. Most American children sleep on feather pillows. Thus more children of immigrants were found sensitive to rabbit hair than of the American population, and more of the American population were found sensitive to chicken feathers than of the immigrant population.

Miners and bakers were found to be sensitive to wheat flour, paper makers to the dust of wood pulp, laboratory workers to the hair of the guinea pigs, and workers around the race tracks to horse hair.

This would seem to indicate that it is not a specific sensitivity that is inherited, but merely a general tendency to senstitivity, the exact nature of the disturbance depending on the surroundings in which the individual works and lives. The symptoms associated with sensitivity seem to depend to a considerable extent on the way in which the sensitizing substances get into the body.

Sometimes it is inhaled; sometimes it is eaten; sometimes it is kept in prolonged contact with the skin, and sometimes it is injected under the skin. Thus, hay fever, sneezing and running of the nose may be associated with the inhalation of various pollens. Eruptions on the skin are developed from long contact with furs and from the use of powder containing orris root, or some similar substance. All sorts of foods may be involved in food allergies—strawberries usually causing hives; chocolate being associated with attacks of headache.

Suspension Is Advocated

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

Library of Congress

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16. — A world suspension of warship building will be strongly urged during the coming winter.

The state department has intimated four different times that the Washington government is favorable to such a plan, but would prefer to havev the offer come from some other country.

It probably will come, in the near future.

England is understood to be preparing to request a five-year holiday of the sort suggested. Premier Laval of France, it is reported, will discuss the plan with President Hoover, while here the latter part of this month. Foreign Minister Grandi of Italy actually proposed it, in a speech at the last League of Nations meeting. Chairman Borah of the U. S. senate committee on foreign affairs recently indorsed it warmly.

THE IDEA appears to have much to recommend it.

Warships are expensive, and no one denies that there seldom has been a juncture in history when the world's powers had greater need to economize.

If all of them at once cease the construction of fighting vessels for an agreed period, it would seem that none will gain any advantage.

And yet, argue spokesmen for the Navy League of the United States, this is exactly what will oscur. That is to say, all will gain relatively in sea strength at the expense of Uncle Sam, should he and the remainder of them stop building now, simultaneously.

Provided this difficulty can be overcome, observe the league's spokesmen, they will be in favor of the program.

ACCORDING to the Navy League's showing, England, Japan, France and Italy are so thoroughly up-to-date with their warship-building that, even though they make no additions or replacements, each will have a tolerably formidable fleet still available at the end of a five-year holiday; whereas America's fleet already is so much farther advanced on the road to obsolescence that five years will see a much larger fraction of it past fighting serviceability.

In so saying, the league folk are not referring to vessels in the capital class—the battleship category.

Under the last naval compact (the Treaty of London) a holiday in the construction of capital craft exists now and will continue until after 1936. As to battleships, America and England are approximately on an equity; the British line-up is slightly stronger than America's but the difference is unimportant.

The present scheme is to extend the holiday to other classes of vessels—cruisers, destroyers, aircraft carriers and submarines, especially.

WHILE the Treaty of London did not provide for a suspension in the construction of these smaller types of men-o'-war, it did limit American, British and Japanese tonnages in all of them, but neither America, England nor Japan has built quite up to the limit. Japan has nearly done so; England has not lagged far behind; America is much behindhand, except in respect to submarines, with which Uncle Sam is better supplied than John Bull, though not so well as Japan and France.

England, parenthetically, for geographical reasons does not like submarine warfare and frequently has tried to have it outlawed but always has failed, due to French and Japanese balkiness.

What France and Italy desire is a matter, to be sure, of little direct consequence to American naval experts, further than that the strength of their fleets affects England calculations, which of course do weigh heavily with Washington's strategists in casting up their own reckonings.

BE ALL THAT AS IT MAY, the three leading sea powers' respective ratios of naval strength, counting the various types outside the capital class, and averaging them on the basis of present serviceability, works out as follows:

England, 13.1; America, 10; Japan, 9.6.

So much more rapid, however, will be the deterioration of America's line-up, because of its greater present average age, than either England's or Japan's, according to competent naval authorities, that at the end of a five-year suspension of replacements, they figure the comparison would be:

England, 16; Japan, 13; America, 10.

Before a naval holiday is declared, the Navy League is clamorous for a rectification of this prospective disparity.

"IF ECONOMY ALONE is sought," said a retired admiral, who was particular to warn against use of his name, in view of President Hoover's well-known advocacy of a policy of naval retrenchment, "there are plenty of ways of accomplishing it without reduction in America's sea strength.

"Ten years ago, during the period of my last command, the national investment in the fleet was $50,000,000; in shore stations, $880,000,000.

"Of the fleet at that time vessels representing a $427,000,000 investment, or slightly more than half of the total, were in Pacific waters. Yet on the Pacific coast there were only two stations, and of these Puget Sound was the only one of consequence, Mare Island lacking accommodations for large ships. On the Atlantic coast it was then and still is difficult to find a port, from Passamaquaddy Bay to Key West without its naval station."

"THE SITUATION was so ridiculous," continued the admiral, "that a naval board was appointed to weed out the most useless of the number.

"It found even more than I have mentioned. It found naval stations that no naval officer ever had heard of. It found a station on the Great Lakes, where war vessels have been prohibited, almost immemorially, by treaty with Canada. It found—since the World war, bear in mind—one station in the south still engaged in providing timber for wooden frigates.

"And no one naval station did that board succeed in having abandoned. The politicians would not permit it."

Two heads are better than one if they are not on the same self.

Insurance is all right, but driving sanely is also a good policy.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE TREE-CLIMBING GOATS OF MOROCCO:

On the western coast of Morocco, where vegetation is comparatively scarce, the domestic goats are sometimes sorely pressed for food. Close examination of the larger branches of the argan trees of that district shows that the animals, for centuries wandering up and down, have worn actual runways in the trees.

The goat has been a domesticated animal and an associate of man since the Stone Age, and as there are many indications that the Berbers may be a very ancient people, the idea is permissible that this practice of herding goats in the argan trees may be one of the most ancient of their customs.

The Reverend F. W. Galpin of Hatfield, Broad Oak, England, is the performer on a thousand instruments and owner of an extensive collection. He mastered such instruments as the mammoth bassoon, the buccin, the zummarah, the arghoul, the serpent, the rebec, the pibgorn, and a host of others of grotesque shapes and bizarre names. Some of the instruments would cause a great deal of amusement if brought into a modern concert room. Others are either modern or ancient versions of our present-day instruments.

GUILTY LIPS

©1931 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Pretty NORMA KENT, 20-year-old secretary, marries MARK TRAVERS, son of F. M. TRAVERS, millionaire real estate leader, in spite of the father's treats to disinherit.

The story opens in Mariboro, middle western metropolis. Mark sells his expensive roadster to get money for the honeymoon and he and Norma go to fashionable Blue Springs. There Norma meets HOLLIS STONE, and it is evident from the girl's manner that she has known Stone before.

Their money is soon gone, partly due to Mark's gambling. With $500 borrowed from Stone the couple returned to Mariboro. Mark sets out on a round of pleasure seeking instead of hunting work. When their funds dwindle again he and Norma move to a cheap apartment. Mark gets one job and loses it. Then he becomes a floorwalker in Blossomdale's department store. In spite of poverty the young couple are happy.

Mark's father sends for him, offers to take him back into his own company if Mark will prove he can make good. His first task involves a business trip to France. Norma is to remain at home. She is frightened but cannot persuade Mark to give up the opportunity. With his parents she goes to the railway station and sees him depart on the five weeks' trip.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXX

Travers led the way through the station and his wife followed beside Norma. Mrs. Travers said as they stepped out on the sidewalk, "Harvey has the car over at the right."

Everything before Norma was a blur. She followed Mrs. Travers into the limousine. She sat close to the window and stared out at the street. There were men and women passing. Taxicabs and trucks and other vehicles. The whole scene before the girl's eyes became a meaningless haze. She tried to wink back the tears but they persisted.

Her father-in-law was saying something to his wife. Norma did not hear what it was. Then she was aware that they were moving away from the station.

Somewhere in the distance train wheels turned faster and faster carrying Mark away from her. Mark was gone! There had been that last moment when she had seen him smiling back at her from the car platform. Waiving and smiling. Now he was gone and she would not see him for five weeks. Five weeks—it seemed endless, impossible!

Norma clutched her hands together tightly. She could not cry out now. She could not give way and sob out the terror in her heart. She could only sit there gripping her icy fingers, telling herself over and over that she must manage to keep from breaking down before these strangers. Yes, they were strangers and they hated her.

The girl's lips became a tightly pressed line of crimson, struggling to steady itself but frequently trembling.

Mark was moving farther away every minute. Nearer and nearer to New York and the ocean liner that was to put the Atlantic between them.

Five weeks made up of moments as long as each of these? Five weeks of torture and uncertainty—?

Suddenly she realized that the car had stopped. Mr. Travers was getting out.

"Be home around six," he said over his shoulder. "Needn't come for me, Harvey. I'll stop at the club and ride out with Summerville". He moved clumsily as he got to the sidewalk and turned away without a backward glance.

The chauffeur looked questioningly toward Mrs. Travers.

"You may take us home, Harvey." The woman sighed as she spoke. "Such a day!" she murmured to Norma. "I had to rush away from luncheon. Meeting trains and waiting in stations is loathesome, don't you think so? I'll be glad to have my tea."

The girl did not answer. Mrs. Travers gave her a searching glance, then went on. "I want to tell you I think you've acted sensibly in this matter, my dear. So foolish to become emotional. Shows such ill breeding. Of course I was a Randolph before my marriage. No doubt that's why such things affect me so. The Randolphs, as you

PASS TRY-OUTS

Twenty-two students have passed tests for membership in Sock and Buskin, dramatic club, and initiation will be held Tuesday evening in room 202. The try-outs were held Wednesday from 2 to 10 p. m., before a committee of which Hilma Bartlett is chairman.

Students who met the approval of the committee are: Jesse McIlhaney, Audrey Miles, Frances Wiginton, Bob Tipps, Verla Blasingame, James Toothaker, Warren Powers, John Chamberlin, Calvin Hazlewood, Dan C. Taulman, Ellis Mills, Margaret Owens, Marjorie Jo Beasley, Mary Alyce Scott, Charles Maedgen, Roscoe Bayless, Luvenia Boyd, Mayola Emory, Parker H. Taulman, Grace Stephenson, Marjorie Wimberley, Elizabeth Dryden.

On the day of initiation every new member will wear black domino masks to classes and anyone seen without a mask will be subject to disqualification.

HOLD MEETING FRIDAY

Lilah Gaye Rodgers, president of the Y. W. C. A., presided at a meeting of the cabinet Friday afternoon.

A discussion was held of the purpose of the "Y" which is "to realize a full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God," and what it should mean to the members.

PLAN FOR RIFLE CLUB

Reorganization of the men's Rifle club is being planned by L. W. Chapman, president last year. He will probably call a meeting of prospective members within the next week, according to announcement made yesterday.

There were about 30 members last year, and Chapman expects a larger number this term, as more have expressed interest in it. The work will be entirely separate from the military science department, and will be coached by Captain Thornton of the local National Guard unit. Any man on the campus is invited to try-out for the club.

If enough girls are interested in forming a rifle club, one will be organized, and any girl who wants membership is asked to see Chapman.

VISIT IN BIG SPRING

Anne Dunman, freshman student from San Angelo, left Friday afternoon to spend the week end in Big Spring where she will meet some friends from her home.

TO NOMINATE OFFICERS

Appointment of a nominating committee was the chief business of the debate club at a meeting held this week. The next session will be Tuesday, October 27, when the committee's report will be heard and election of officers held.

Those serving on the committee are: O. O. Williams, chairman, Tom Watson, and Jesse McIlhaney. Frank Ward, Carrol Thompson and Garland Smith were on the program.

OGDEN SPEAKS TO CLUB

"Recent Developments in International Relations" was discussed by M. E. Ogden of the government department at a meeting of the International Relations club Friday evening.

Other speakers were Garland Smith, whose subject was "Andrew Carnegie—His Gift to International Peace," and Frank Ward, who spoke on "Value of the Study of International Relations to College Students."

Special musical numbers were given by Carrol Thompson.

COMMITTEE MEETS

Members of the social service committee of the Y. W. C. A. met Friday evening at College Inn to organize their group, which has a membership of about 25, and to plan work for the year. Ines Hensley is chairman of the committee.

An immediate project is a rummage sale which will be held October 29, 30 and 31 down-town.

HOLD FIRST SESSION

The Tech unit of A. I. E. E. held its first meeting of the term this week, with J. M. Dyer, president, presiding.

Charles Houston read a paper which he will present next week in Kansas City before the national meeting of the association, and a business session was held.

W. P. White is vice-chairman and Charles Hatchett is secretary-treasurer of the society, which was organized here in the fall of '29. A special meeting will be called soon to complete plans.

FISH TO HAVE PARTY

Four hundred freshmen attended a fish meeting held this week, at which plans for a party were formulated.

Russell Brown of Brownwood, who is president of the class of '35, appointed several committees to arrange the party details. It will be held October 30 in the gymnasium.

VISITS OUT OF TOWN

Ora Mae Haynie, Fort Worth, who is a transfer from C. I. A. to the liberal arts school, is spending the week end in Amarillo with her brother.

LEADER TO BE HERE

Miss Fern Babcock, regional student secretary for the Southwest Division of the Y. W. C. A. will be on the campus October 28 and 29th. During her visit she will give a series of lectures to "Y" members and will hold personal conferences with all girls interested.

Prevents dishpan's dirty ring

WHEN you wash dishes in hard water, there is always a scum around the dishpan. It is dirty and hard to get off. But wash dishes in soft water . . . no scum and no dirty ring.

Water softened with Mel'o has wonderful cleaning effects. No scum forms. Mel'o makes soap much more effective. It saves hands. It makes dishes sparkle. Get it at your grocer's.

SICK HEADACHE From Constipation

HERE is a purely vegetable medicine which has benefited thousands of men, women and children, and which you should try when troubled with constipation, or biliousness. Mr. H. H. Rogillio, of Lake Charles, La., writes: "When I let myself get constipated, I feel dull and sluggish and all out of sorts, not equal to my work. When one has this feeling it is time to take something before he feels worse. I certainly have found Black-Draught quick to relieve. I used to have severe headaches and suffer a great deal. I found this came from constipation, and that Black-Draught would correct it. That is why I began using Thedford's must know, have been leaders in this country since colonial times. Some day I'll show you the family history—"

The monologue continued. Mrs. Travers grew animated as she reviewed the importance of her ancestors. So many acres of land. So many servants. So many Randolphs in Congress. A cousin in the governor's chair. As long as she was talking Norma had her thoughts to herself.

Now and then the girl nodded, murmured a "yes" or "no." If Mrs. Travers had been observant she might have been nettled that her words created so slight an impression. Mrs. Travers was not observant. To her it was inconceivable that anyone should fail to be awed by the splendors of the Randolphs.

The limousine slowed and turned into the drive at the side of the Travers residence. It halted before three steps leading to the entrance. Harvey was holding the door open, waiting for them to descend.

"You can put the car up," Mrs. Travers told him as she swept forward. "I won't need it again."

The haze of unreality faded before Norma. The brick mansion was as forbiding as it had been when she had visited it before but it was real enough. Thompkins, a servant whose face she remembered, met them in the hall.

"Have there been any messages?" Mrs. Travers demanded. "Did anyone call?"

"No, Madam."

The older woman turned toward Norma. "Tompkins will show you your room," she said. "It's in the west wing and I hope you'll find it comfortable. Your trunk should be there by this time—" It was the expression on the man's face that made her check the words and add, "Well, Tompkins? What is it?"

"Excuse me, Madam, but the trunk has not come."

"What? But I left orders—!"

"A man from the transfer company telephoned. He said there was no trunk at that address."

Mrs. Travers whirled. Apparently interference with arrangements she had planned irritated her. "There's been a mistake," she announced. "There must have been a trunk there!"

Norma had found her voice. "It doesn't matter," she said. "I'll see about it tomorrow."

"Very well," Mrs. Travers agreed. "But I wouldnt put it off until tomorrow if I were you. They're frightfully careless, you know. There's a chance you'll never even see your things—"

"I'll take care of it," Norma assured her. "If you don't mind, I'd like to go to my room now."

"Of course. Will you come down for tea or would you like it sent up to you?"

"I don't believe I care for any, thank you. I thought I'd lie down a little while."

"Very well. Dinner's at 7:30. Ring for Isabel if there's anything you want, my dear. Show her upstairs, Tompkins."

The girl found herself following Tompkins' stiff, narrow shoulders down a long hall. The room before which they stopped was the smallest she had seen in the Travers home. It was simply decorated. "Comfortable," as Mrs. Travers had suggested, but certainly not of the style to be expected in such a dwelling.

Tompkins apparently thought the same thing. It was plain he did not regard Norma as worthy of the solicitous manner in which he addressed Mrs. Travers.

"Your room," he said shortly, and that was all.

"Thank you." Norma entered and closed the door behind her. There were two windows, both on the south. They looked out over the garage and a stretch of lawn at the rear of the house. There was a door in one wall. Norma opened it and found a clothes closet. She moved to one of the windows and looked out.

Suddenly the girl sank to the edge of the bed and hid her face in a pillow.

"Oh, Mark!" she sobbed. "Mark —come back to me!".

Stealthily Norma opened the door leading into the hall. Lights were burning at the far end of the corridor. There was no one in sight.

She held her purse closely under her arm, stepped into the hall and closed the door quietly. Her footsteps made no sound on the thick carpet. She walked to the top of the stairs and hesitated. Then she went down two steps and heard the wood creak under her.

No other sound came though she waited. Norma peered over the banister searching for Tompkins. He must be in another part of the house. The girl paused long enough for a sharp intake of breath, then went on quickly. She reached the ground floor. Clear sailing! Neither Tompkins nor anyone else was to be seen.

She crossed the hall way and pulled open the outer door. As it closed after her there was a rustling sound behind but she did not turn.

Outside Norma felt the cold air strike her cheeks gratefully. She walked as swiftly as she could, not once glancing backward. By turning to the left a tall hedge arose to shield her from view of the Travers home. Still she walked rapidly, almost running.

It was only a little after six but the December twilight spread heavy shadows across the street. Norma walked a block, two blocks, with little notion of the direction in which she was heading. She was not familiar with this part of Marlboro. The streets were strange and they wound about irregularly. Houses were set far back from the sidewalks.

She was searching for a car line but none came in sight. She must have walked half a hour before she stopped uncertainly at a street intersection. The night wind was cold now. The girl drew her coat closer, shivering. It was a suit coat, not warm enough for December.

A block away she could see the gleaming lights of motor traffic. Suddenly a vehicle bulkier than the others loomed in sight. The Laurel Park bus line! With warm eagerness Norma hurried toward the lights. She was too late for the first bus, waited for the next.

"Do you go to Eighth street?" she asked the driver when she had climbed on board.

"No Ma'am. Broad street's as far as we go. You can get a transfer."

"Thank you," said Norma. She took the slip of pink paper and crammed it into her purse. What difference did it make whether she got off at Eighth street or Broad?

One or two other passengers looked at the white-faced girl curiously. She stared through the window, unaware of these glances. Half an hour's ride brought them to Broad street. Norma followed the others out of the bus. She glanced up and down the street, then started walking westward.

Across the street the hands of an illuminated sidewalk clock shone clearly. Seven forty-five. Norma was surprised to find it so late. Last night at this time she and Mark had been packing his traveling bags. Last night? It must have been years ago!

"I can't go on this way," Norma told herself. "I've got to decide what to do."

She had come to the end of her plans. Curiously during all the time she had thought about slipping away from the Travers home she had never planned the next step. Of course she must find a place to live. Somewhere Mark's father and mother would not look for her. Chris' apartment would be the first place they would think of—providing they made any effort at all to find her. Norma was not sure they would bother.

Still it was better to stay away from Chris.

The girl stopped at a corner and bought a newspaper.

"I ought to eat something," she remembered. She was not hungry but it would be foolish not to eat. She had scarcely tasted food during the past three days.

There was a restaurant down the street where Norma had often lunched, a cheap, clean place. One of a large chain of restaurants. She went there, found a table in an obscure corner of the big room.

When the waitress presented the menu Norma ordered listlessly. A few moments later she could not remember what she had asked for. She hoped the food would be hot.

It was pleasant and warm in the restaurant. Norma opener her newspaper and began to scan the "Rooms for Rent" section. Then she heard her name spoken.

Funeral Services For Rancher Held

(Special To The Avalanche)

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 16.—Funeral services for B. Smith, 50-year-old Yoakum county ranchman, who was found dying from a bullet wound in his chest Thursday afternoon on the highway near Tokio, Terry county, were held at 3 p. m. today at a Baptist church at Plains. The body was buried in a Plains cemetery.

Smith died a short time after he was discovered lying in the road by A. M. Brownfield of Brownfield. A verdict returned by Justice of the Peace J. E. Shelton of Brownfield stated death resulted from gunshot wounds accidentally inflicted. A small calibre target was found near the man's body. Officers were of the opinion that the gun was accidentally discharged as it was being taken from an automobile by Smith. The man was alone.

He is survived by his widow and several children.

Six Furloughs Are Issued Friday By Texas Governor

AUSTIN, Oct. 16. (AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling issued six furloughs today to inmates of the state penitentiary. Thirty-day leaves were given Mark Hitt, Hardeman county, burglary; W. R. Smith, Harris county, forgery; Harold Orgeron, McLennan county, burglary and theft; 60 days were granted E. C. Lloyd, Hamilton county, violating prohibition law, and Otis Lee, Parker county, forgery, and two weeks to Rush Downs, Montague county, burglary and theft.

Scores Of Students And Residents Of City Pay A Final Tribute To Memory Of Young Thomas McMillan

Scores of high school students and townspeople thronged the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam B. McMillan, 1904 Sixteenth street Friday afternoon to pay tribute to the memory of their classmate and friend, Thomas McMillan, 15-year-old Lubbock high school senior, who died at 9 a. m. Friday as the result of a broken neck suffered while he and a friend were plaing in the school gymnasium Wednesday.

The funeral service was conducted at the McMillan residence at 4:30 p. m. Rev. J. O. Haymes, pastor of the First Methodist church, assisted by Rev. R. C. Cambell, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated.

Burial At Whitewright

The body was sent Friday night by Rix Funeral home to Whitewright, Grayson county, for burial. Pallbearers were Wendell Watson, M. K. Foster, jr., Hollis Carroll, Scott Gardner, Frank Bennett, Mason Jones and Hubert Allensworth, high school seniors, and Paul Eubanks, freshman at Texas Technological college.

A scheduled high school football game between Lubbock and Snyder, was postponed from 3 p. m. until 7:30 p. m. out of respect to the deceased high school student.

Practicing Stunt

McMillan and Carroll were practicing a somersault trick in the gymnasium when they collided. A vertebra in McMillan's neck was fractured and his body from the neck downward was paralyzed. Physicians at the Lubbock sanitarium, after examining the youth, said young McMillan's chances of recovering were very remote.

Thomas McMillan was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam B. McMillan. They moved here from Whitewright. Mr. McMillan is connected with the Lubbock Auto company here.

Victims Of Fire In City Improve

A. F. Sedgwick, about 20, of 2002 Avenue J, and L. P. Criswell, 19, of North Avenue O, who were painfully burned shortly before noon Friday, were resting as well as could be expected, attending physicians at the West Texas hospital reported Friday night.

Sedgwick was burned on the left leg, left thigh and right hand; Criswell on the right thigh and both hands when their clothing became ignited as a small quantity of gasoline accidentally was slopped on a fire at which they were warming. The two youths are employes of Womack, Herring and Rollins, a construction company, and were at work on a road project a short distance south of Lubbock.

E. F. Waldrop, 30, an employe of the Lubbock Cotton Oil company, was treated at the Lubbock sanitarium early last night for injuries he suffered when his hand was caught in a cylinder cup as he was unloading a choked cylinder at the oil mill. He suffered a deep laceration in the palm of the hand, attendants at the sanitarium said.

Woman Held In Carlsbad Theft

Jennie V. Brown, Lubbock negro woman, was in jail Friday night awaiting the arrival of Carlsbad, N. M., officers who plan to return her to New Mexico to face charges of robbery. She was arrested here by members of the sheriff's department.

The Brown woman and another negress are alleged to have stolen $295 from a white man. The other woman is in jail at Carlsbad, the Lubbock officers were informed.

The Lubbock negress announced she would fight extradition and that she probably would call for a habeas corpus hearing.

Deputy Sheriff Joe Rieger left Friday night to get Dewitt Shelton, negro man, who was indicted here Thursday for the murder of Bertie Robinson on last July 8.

A white woman and a negro porter were being held in the city jail last night for investigation on the complaint of a man who said the two stole about $90 from him Thursday night. The woman allegedly is a vagrant, police said.

ARE MAKING TRIP

Sheriff and Mrs. Wade Hardy and daughter, Lou Ann, are making a trip through Central and South Texas. They expect to be gone about a week. Sheriff Hardy attended a peace officer meeting at Fort Worth this week.

Twenty thousand visitors went through Carlsbad Caverns in August.

Moderate Trading Features Cotton — Market Arrivals Show An Increase — Export Business Raises Prices

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 16. (AP)—Moderate trading featured the cotton market today and prices fluctuated narrowly with no special trend. There was a slight decline early in the session on hedge selling but prices rallied later on evidences of a firmer stock market, but no activity developed and there were long intervals between trades.

In the late trading the market firmed up in sympathy with strength of stocks and prices made new highs 13 to 15 points above the lows. The close was at the top being called steady and showing net gains for the day of 8 to 10 points. Liverpool is due tomorrow 3 to 4 penny points up on New Orleans.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Oct. 16. (AP)—A moderate early decline in cotton today was followed by advances on trade buying and covering.

December contracts sold up from 6.08 @6.23 and closed at 6.21 with the general market closing steady at net advances of 8-12 points.

The small volume of selling orders reaching here from the south were regarded in some quarters as indicating a firmer holding movement, while others thought that it might be partly due to delays in picking and the movement of cotton by recent unfavorable weather.

Markets At A Glance

NEW YORK, Oct. 16. (AP)—
STOCKS strong; popular shares in demand.
BONDS irregular; liberlys sag, second grade issues rise.
CURB firm; narrow changes.
FOREIGN EXCHANGES irregular; sterling easy.
COTTON steady; trade buying, absence hedge selling.
SUGAR higher; trade buying.
COFFEE higher; steadier Brazilian markets.
CHICAGO—
WHEAT firm; bullish Indiana acreage, large exports.
CORN steady; small receipts, bullish Argentine surplus.
CATTLE irregular.
HOGS lower.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Oct. 16. (AP) — Cash grain demand was good. Quotations fagged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas Gulf ports and group three points, freight paid:

Wheat, No. 1 ordinary hard milling 52-53; No. 1 hard 13 per cent protein 53@54; No. 1 hard 14 per cent protein 57@58; 15 per cent 61@62; 16 per cent 66@66.

Corn, No. 2 mixed 35@36; No. 2 white 36@37; No. 3 yellow 43@44.

Barley, No. 2 36@38.

Sorghums, No. 2 milo per 100 lbs. 72@73; No. 3 kaffir 71@73.

Basis delivered Texas group three; oats No. 2 red, 32@34.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 16. (AP)—Broadening of export business in North American wheat lifted grain values today anew. It was estimated 1,500,000 bushels of Canadian and United States wheat was bought today for shipment overseas, and that total foreign takings in the last week were 6,000,000 bushels or more. Indications pointed to a better milling demand in Europe, and with Canadian stocks of wheat greatly reduced compared with a year ago much damp and sprouted wheat was reported marketed in Canada.

Wheat closed firm, 3-8 to 5-8 cents higher, corn 1-8 to 3-8 up, oats unchanged to 1-4 to 3-8 advance, and provisions unchanged to 15 cents off.

Local Negro Is Arrested Friday

George Mayberry, Lubbock negro, was arrested Friday on two indictments returned against him by the 99th district court which adjourned Thursday.

One indictment charges him with perjury in connection with his testimony before the grand jury in the Bertie Robinson murder case. The complaint alleges he testified that Bettie Lou Heron, another negro woman, fatally stabbed the Robinson woman when he knew the stabbing was done by another party, Dewitt Shelton, negro, is charged by indictment with the murder of the Robinson woman.

The other bill charges Mayberry with violation of the liquor laws. Bond was set by Judge Clark M. Mullican at $2,500 in the perjury case and $1,000 in the liquor case.

Lubbock Man Is Held In Attack

Examining trial for Travis Lewelling, 27, of Lubbock, charged with statutory criminal assault upon a 15-year-old Lubbock high school girl, will be held before Justice of the Peace H. K. Porter this morning, County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson said Friday.

Lewelling was arrested Friday morning by members of the sheriff's department upon a justice court warrant.

County Attorney Wilson said the girl, who was confined to her bed, made a written statement Thursday night giving details of her relations with Lewelling. The man first attacked her about September 15 while they were parked on the Brownfield highway at night, the statement read. The girl said she was out with Lewelling several times after that date, the statement related.

In her signed statement, the girl charged that Lewelling "charmed her like a snake charms a bird" and said he would marry her, the county attorney said.

Abilene Gas

said the consideration was $1,000,000.

May told the Abilene commission his company would not reduce the rate because, he said, under the present rate the Abilene system has not been making a fair return. Sales of gas here the past year were announced at $354,387.34, total operating expense at $303,645.57, and net return at $10,772.19. This, May said was only 1.4 per cent of the plant's book value of $770,012.89. May contended the Abilene rate is already lowest of any of the 250 points served by his company.

Stocks of Russian lumber in Argentina are reported to total 18,000,000 board feet, and forced liquidation of the soviet local trade organization is expected.

Stocks And Commodities Gaining In Strength; Sentiment Moves Upward

BY JOHN I. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 16. (AP) — While United States government and many other high grade bonds showed effects of higher money rates, stocks and commodities gained strength today and sentiment in financial circles seemed to move up a notch or two with them.

Government securities were weak, as was to have been expected. Losses in other bonds which normally move with money proved to be rather general, although secondary issues, where large yields are available, tended to improve. This was especially true of the rails.

Railroad shares provided the basis for the stock market's advance after a little shakiness at the opening. Prices were advancing most all day and there was a final spurt at the close. The net advance averaged 2.3 points. Trading again was relatively dull, the turnover amounting to 1,420,273 shares.

church at Lorenzo.

Both Dr. Webb and Mr. Johnson will participate in a service at the First Methodist church here at 7:30 p. m. Sunday. Assisted by two young people of the church, the anti-saloon leaders will give a drama, "The Harvest." This drama, written especially for the church hour, is deeply religious and has been pronounced a strong vehicle for getting over to the audience truths concerning temperance, Dr. Webb said. The Cumberland Presbyterian church and the First Christian church probably will join in this service, sponsors of the program said.

Dr. Webb will spend the remainder of next week directing the trial drama, "Who Killed Earl Wright?" in the following Panhandle-Plains towns: Crosbyton, Monday night; Petersburg, Tuesday night; Silverton, Wednesday night; Quitaque, Thursday night, and Floydada Friday night.

MIDDLEWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 16. (AP)—Cattle arrivals at eleven markets totalled 15,000 compared with 14,500 last Friday. Killing steers were mostly steady to 25 higher. Best fat yearlings and matured steers ranged at 9.40@9.75; with other native and fed western steers at 7.00@8.60. Common to medium western steers were noted at 4.00@7.00. St. Louis reported sales on eleven cars of Texas grass steers at 4.00@5.15. Most replacement steers sold at 4.00@5.75 with choice yearling stockers at 6.00@6.50.

Hog trade was unevenly 10-25 lower. The day's top was 5.40 on desirable medium and strong weight butchers. Offerings totalled 77,300 against 82,048 a week ago.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Oct. 16. (AP) — Hogs 500; truck hogs mostly steady to 10 higher; late sales 15@25 lower; rail hogs 10@15 lower; early truck top 6.10; better 170-240 lb. truck hogs 5.75@6.10; 405 lb. truck hogs 5.35; medium to good 219 lb. rail butchers 5.80; packing sows 4.90 or steady.

Cattle—1,500; cattle and calves steady; receipts lacking in quality; common slaughter steers 3.00@4.00; fair slaughter yearlings around 6.00; butcher heifers 3.00@5.00; fat cows 3.25@3.50; butcher grades 2.50@3.00; low cutter sorts 2.00@2.25; bulls scarce; good young stock cows 3.85; good stock heifers 4.50; good stock calves around 5.00@5.50; good heavy slaughter calves 4.75.

Unemployment

as explained by Captain J. F. Lucey of Dallas, a member of the national committee.

List Recommendations

Among the recommendations were:

The governor call a conference of oil interests to propose adoption of an eight-hour day and six day week in that industry.

The state highway department and other units of government engaged in public works observe an eight-hour day.

All business and industrial enterprises adopt a five day week or shorter day for their employes wherever possible.

Use Of Manpower

Use of manpower instead of machines in construction of public roads and in other work.

Preference be given own citizens and men of families by municipal, county, state and all political units.

Instead of discharging employes to reduce overhead reduce hour of their employment, thus dividing employment.

Purchasing only Texas products.

Department heads undertake immediately the expenditure of all funds made available for public improvements.

Native Labor

Employment of not less than 90 per cent of native labor on all projects.

National government requested to use local materials wherever possible in prosecuting construction projects.

Federal land banks be petitioned to extend leniency to borrowers.

Urge federal government and congress to hasten work on the rivers and harbors program.

Counties urged to construct and improve lateral highways.

Heads of all governmental departments requested not to employ more than one person from the same family and all other employers observe the same rule where possible.

Set Aside One Day

A proposal that the governor set aside by proclamation one day when every resident of Texas would be expected to contribute his income for that day to a fund for unemployment relief, was defeated.

It was voted that cooperating with the governor's committee to comprise 100 members named by the chief executive would be the legislative unemployment committee recently created and the state labor commissioner.

Regional advisors will be appointed and committees were recommended for every city and town of more than 2,000 population, county committees to be consolidated with town committees in places of less than 2,000 population.

Senator J. W. E. H. Beck of DeKalb was chosen permanent chairman of the conference and Mrs. Sarah Hughes of Dallas, secretary.

Colon, Panama, has placed a tax on showings of talkies.

Bishop Cannon

"I am not surprised at anything that the Roman Catholic district attorney might do."

It was the second time he had directed public attention to the faith of District Attorney Leo A. Rover. Earlier, he said Rover had ignored his offers to testify before the grand jury.

To Make Bond

Robert H. McNeill, the bishop's attorney, said Miss Burroughs would make bond in Richmond, Va., her home, and arrangements would be made for the bishop's bond upon his return to Washington.

McNeill expressed confidence "a full and open hearing when all the facts can be brought out, will vindicate the conduct of Bishop Cannon and his associates."

Four of the counts presented by the grand jury charged Miss Burroughs with wilful failure to report Jameson's contributions to the clerk of the house of representatives. Four others charged technical failure to report.

Conspiracy Charged

The 66-year old clergyman was charged with abetting the eight violations, while two additional counts named him for conspiring with Miss Burroughs to commit the offenses. Under the law an abettor is made equally responsible.

Eight overt acts were listed by the grand jury to sustain each conspiracy count. They included the campaign reports filed by Miss Burroughs but allegedly not accounting for all the Jameson contributions; the receipt by Bishop Cannon of $10,000 from Jameson and subsequent payment of $2,832 by the clergyman to his committee and a telegram said to have been sent by the bishop to Jameson three months after the election.

Until then, Jameson's gifts had not been included in reports of contributions, but the New Yorker had told the senate campaign funds committee of his donations.

The telegram said:

"Tried to talk to New York, but office closed, Lincoln's birthday. After careful examination records, thinks statement should be 'paid headquarters committee anti-Smith Democrats $17,300, paid Virginia committee anti-Smith Democrats $48,000, making total $65,300.'

"This will correspond exactly with our official reports. Call Lincoln 2946 Washington any time after 8:30 until midnight tonight when leaving for New York. Sailing Thursday."

Later, after the time limit allowed by law, Miss Burroughs made a report to the clerk of the house detailing the $17,300 contribution. Bishop Cannon contended before the senate campaign funds committee headed by Senator Nye, Republican of North Dakota, that the other $48,000 was for a state campaign and did not require a report.

Negro Is Near Death At Sanitarium As Result Of Shooting Late Friday

J. E. McKnight, 50-year-old negro packing house employe, was shot and perhaps fatally wounded at 11:30 o'clock Friday night as he and A. D. Robertson, negro taxi driver were traveling northward on Avenue A in the negro quarter. Pitso Lambert, 22-year-old negro, was arrested at midnight by city and county officers and was being held in connection with the shooting.

Officers said Lambert admitted shooting McKnight. An automatic pistol and a Winchester rifle were taken off of Lambert when he was arrested.

An exploratory operation was to be performed upon McKnight early this morning to determine the extent of his injuries. Physicians at the Lubbock sanitarium, where the man was taken following the shooting, said three leaden pellets entered his back on the left side. It was feared that his lungs, intestines and other vital organs were penetrated.

McKnight said he did not know who shot him. While in the operating room, he told his wife that he and Robertson were looking for Lambert to try to iron out trouble between Lambert and another negro. Lambert had been carrying a gun with him in the negro quarter, McKnight said.

Robertson said the shots were fired as he and McKnight were passing in front of Lambert's house in the 100-block on Avenue A. When the first shot was fired, McKnight yelled that he was shot, the taxi driver told officers. Three or more shots were fired, he said. Robertson, who was sitting in the same seat with McKnight escaped uninjured.

Officers said they believed the shots were fired at close range.

Sullivan Gets Jail Sentence

Youth Is Convicted By Jury Of Violation Of Texas Anti-Mask Law; Suspension Of Term Is Denied

LINDEN, Tex., Oct. 16. (AP)—William Sullivan, 21, was convicted here today on a charge of violating the Texas anti-mask law and sentenced to five years imprisonment.

He was found guilty of disguising himself as a negro in the kidnaping of J. H. Boyd, a filling station operator, on the night of Sept. 17.

Three of Sullivan's alleged accomplices, Earlton Sullivan, Willard Fish and Hardy Luce, were shot to death by the station operator when he resisted abduction.

The jury was delayed for hours in reaching a verdict over failure to agree whether blacking the face constituted masking. Judge George W. Johnson settled the issue by instructing the jurors to find Sullivan guilty if he was masked or disguised in any way to resemble a negro at the time of the kidnaping.

The jury immediately reached an agreement. It refused to consider defense petitions for a suspended sentence.

District Attorney Elmer Lincoln announced he would not try Sullivan on another charge pending, that of assault to murder.

HEARING IS HEARD

FORT WORTH, Oct. 16. (AP)—Reduced rates on cotton seed crude oil from Texas points to California were defended as the only means by which railroads can meet competition and condemned as a sinister threat against Texas oil refiners in a hearing before Examiner Witters of the I. C. C. here today.

Unconscious Youth Is Found On Highway; Body In A Cast

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Oct. 6. (AP)—An unconscious youth, believed to be Lawrence Stovall of Dallas, was found on a highway near here today. Police are investigating. The upper part of his body was encased in a plaster cast.

In a moment of semi-consciousness in a hospital the youth whispered "Dallas, Texas—Stovall—Lawrence Stovall—."

Authorities said the cast appeared new and when they asked the youth how long it had been on he held up four fingers. Physicians prepared to take x-rays to determine what injuries caused the encasing of the youth's body.

He lapsed into unconsciouness before authorities could learn other details.

Capone Jury Likely To Get Case Today; Smile Missing

FEDERAL BUILDING, CHICAGO, Oct. 16. (AP)—Al Capone, merciless gangster and underworld power, and Al Capone, spirit of openhanded generosity and friend who never failed, were the contrasting pictures etched in oratory by attorneys for government and defense in final pleas at the gangster's income tax trial today.

Capone sat with sullen visage, his usual smile missing, moving from his slumped position only to hand notes or documents to his lawyers, and replying with noncommital grunts to reporters' questions. Even his clothing was more somber. The case against the big, scarfaced gangster was completed today except for two hours remaining of the government's final plea and Judge James H. Wilkerson's instructions to the jury. The jury probably will begin deliberating the gangster's fate by tomorrow noon.

State officials recently inspected the proposed route of the Davis Mountains highway near Fort Davis.

Conference In City Is Ended

St. Louis Loan Director Now In New Mexico For Meeting In That State; Statement Is Issued Here

R. H. McElveen, director of the St. Louis feed-seed loan office of the United States department of agriculture, who came here Thursday for a conference with Texas field men of the office, left Friday morning for New Mexico where he will hold a conference with his agents there.

Before leaving Lubbock, McElveen commented on the Lubbock county production loan situation.

"The policy of liberality adopted by the department in the collection of loans to farmers in drouth stricken areas, applies to all parts of the territory," he said. "However, the general financial condition of county will not be affected materially, regardless of the policy the department may pursue.

"About $64,000 was loaned to Lubbock county farmers; the average loan to the 403 borrowers in the county being about $155," he continued. "In the event all of the loans were written off the books and repayment not required, the county as a whole would not be affected greatly. On the other hand, if payment in full should be demanded by the government, such policy would not bankrupt the county."

McElveen said the same might be true of many counties in the south. The government, however, does not contemplate drastic action in tht collection of the loans except in cases where the borrowers are able to pay their debt to the government.

Texas Pioneer Doctor Buried

Dr. L. W. Hollis, Abilene, Is Death Victim; Is Credited With Having Performed First Appendix Operation

ABILENE, Oct. 16. (AP)—Dr. L. W. Hollis, sr., one of West Texas' earliest and best known physicians, and credited with having performed the first operation for appendicitis on record, died at his home here last night after an extended illness. He was 70 years of age.

Dr. Hollis was born in San Augustine, Texas, the son of a Confederate surgeon and after graduating from the Louisville school of medicine came west as a young doctor in the early 80's, when this country was being opened up with the coming of the Texas and Pacific railroad. He settled in Anson, Jones county, coming to Abilene in 1890, where he had lived since.

In 1885 Dr. Hollis performed an operation on a young woman in Anson, removing an "abscess." Two years later medical authorities recognized it as the first operation for removal of appendix.

Dr. Hollis is survived by his wife and four children, Mrs. M. B. Hanks of Abilene, Mrs. Marvin K. House of Big Spring and Drs. L. W. Jr., and Scott Hollis of Abilene. Four sisters, Mrs. MacMerchant of Abilene, Mrs. Max Andrews of Oklahoma City, Mrs. W. T. Russell of Oklahoma City and Mrs. Jim Skinner, of Dallas, and a brother, W. H. Hollis of Hawley, also survive.

Funeral services will be held here this afternoon.

YOUTH WOUNDED

ELECTRA, Oct. 16. (AP)—The accidental discharge of a rifle critically wounded Lee Onlis, 14, at a farm near Dundee late yesterday. The boy was not expected to recover. The accident occurred when he was hunting. His father, Frank Onlis, said the boy fell in such a way that the trigger caught.

Forty Trunks Reveal Huge Fortune In Gems Held By Eccentric Woman

NEW YORK, Oct. 16. (AP).—Mrs. Ida Wood's forty trunks have produced a fortune in gems nearly equaling the $900,000 fortune in currency she carried on her person.

Examination of the last of the trunks was continued today. Many pieces of jewelry found yesterday had been stripped of their gems, Mrs. Wood apparently having taken out the stones and hidden them separately. Most of the jewels were found in different hiding places. Some still are missing. Her nephew and guardian, Otis Wood, was hopeful the missing gems would be found in the trunks which remained today to be searched.

Still indignant over the encroachment by the law on her seclusion, the 93-year-old woman, belle of another day is spending some time with needle and thread, repairing her old-fashioned gowns. She holds the garments within a few inches of her eyes for her sight is very poor.

A report filed by a physician with the court, which has taken over the eccentric recluse's affairs, sets forth that Mrs. Wood suffers from hallucinations. The report speaks also of a "paranoid trend," and notes that Mrs. Wood smokes cigars with "evidence of appreciation."

An affidavit filed yesterday by Mrs. Blanche Wood Shields, a stepdaughter of Mrs. Wood who is contesting the guardianship of Otis Wood, protested against the "shocking and unconscionable" fees of physicians who attended Mrs. Wood.

Mrs. Wood continues her resentment of the guardianship, remarking indignantly to one visitor: "Since when has old age become a crime?"

Pope Pius Will Offer Up Prayer

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 16. (AP) — Pope Pius XI will offer a prayer for the Spanish people at St. Peter's cathedral Sunday, Oct. 25, he informed Monsignor Tedeschini, the papal nuncio to Spain, by telegraph today.

He instructed his ambassador to notify all the Spanish priesthood to join their prayers to his on that day which in the church calendar is the feast of Christ.

The pontiff will offer his prayer in public "with the special intention," he wrote to Monsignor Tedeschini, "that the tribulations which afflict the church and the faithful people of the beloved Spanish nation shall cease.

"I hope that with divine aid, with the good assistance of men, and by just, legitimate methods, the wounds already suffered will be healed and something much worse avoided — the obscuring of the splendors of traditional faith which is the sole salvation from the perils which in Spain menace society itself."

Houston Jeweler Dies After Mishap Between Automobiles

HOUSTON, Oct. 16. (AP) — V. A. Corrigan, 40, Houston jeweler, died today of injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

His machine collided with another, occupied by V. F. Neuhaus and Ray Nixon, San Antonio oil operators, on the Old Spanish trail. Nixon told ambulance drivers the collision was caused because the highway was slippery.

F. D. Yates, with a score of eight out of a possible 11, won the British chess championship tournament at Worcester.

Druggists Find New Way To Stop Headaches

Realizing that no one drug can conquer all headaches, as they come from so many causes, two North Carolina druggists developed a combination of several ingredients which function together, giving three-minute, safe relief for any kind of headache, neuralgic, sciatic or rheumatic pain, quiets the nerves and leaves you normally buoyant, without depression or bad after effects.

This combination of pain relieving ingredients, so efficient for women also at special times, may be found at any drug store or soda fount under the name "B-C" (10c and 25c) ready for use in easing pains and quieting nerves in three minutes. "B-C" is the most amazing preparation of its kind ever discovered and is guaranteed harmless. (Adv.)

Paderewski Park Selected As Site For House Statue

WARSAW, Oct. 16. (AP) — Tiny Paderewski park has been selected as the site for a statue to be erected to Colonel E. M. House, the Texas political leader who held a place of world prominence in war days.

Because of the esteem in which Poles hold Colonel House—they believe him responsible for Poland's independence through his intercession in their behalf with President Wilson—the suggestion of a statue to him caused immediate gratification.

It is through the generosity of Ignace Paderewski, who recently gave his nation the Wilson memorial at Posen, that the House statue is to be erected.
