End to apartheid now said possible

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Critics of apartheid praised the government for proposing changes in its segregation laws, but anti-apartheid rioting continued across South Africa and witnesses said police arrested hundreds of youths.

A government panel proposed Thursday repeal of the "pass laws" that keep blacks out of white areas. A day earlier, the government announced it was willing to grant South African citizenship to some blacks.

"This is the beginning of the end of apartheid," said Sheena Duncan, the white president of the Black Sash women's movement, which opposes the nation's system of racial segregation. "I really do think it means something. They are not playing around with words this time."

Helen Suzman, a white member of Parliament and veteran anti-apartheid campaigner, called proposed changes in the pass laws "probably the most important step forward in 30 years."

However, residents reported more trouble in Soweto, the black township outside Johannesburg. They said police rounded up as many as 600 students near a high school and held them in Diepkloof Prison under the state-of-emergency regulations that forbid gatherings outside school buildings.

Police said they opened fire with shotguns on "unruly" students, wounding a 50-year-old white teacher and 10 black students. The school where they gathered, Hlengiwe High, has been a center for students advocating school boycotts.

Witnesses said police did not hold students under age 12. The White City Jabavu neighborhood, where the arrests took place, has been the hardest hit in Soweto during the 13 months of unrest that has resulted in more than 700 deaths nationwide.

Rioting also swept the Cape Town area on Thursday.

The pass laws, instituted 40 years ago, require South Africa's 24 million blacks to carry special passes to reside near white areas or hold jobs in them.

Monthly sales up 3rd time

For the third month in a row, Snyder's sale tax continued to show some improvement this year compared to last — but a whopping loss in revenue reported in June is still keeping the year's total in the minus category.

Recent figures released by the Texas Comptroller's Office indicate the September payment reflects a 1.5 percent increase for the month only.

In August, a monthly rise of 18 percent was noted, and for July, the monthly comparison showed a 5.7 percent improvement.

But the June payment included a one month decline of 48 percent, and despite the "catchup" figures of July through August, the year's total is still some 7 percent behind.

The monthly report for September indicates the 1 percent tax on Snyder sales returned $61,017 this year compared to $60,069 last year. The other month's payments beginning with June, with last year's listed in parenthesis, were: June, $53,370 ($103,726); July, $59,306 ($56,055); and August, $106,262 ($90,068).

The recent figures reflect sales made in July and reported to the comptroller's office by Aug. 20.

The year-to-date figure now stands at $623,386 as compared to $670,852 for this time last year — a difference of minus 7.08 percent.

A sampling of area towns of larger or smaller size to Snyder indicates a general increase in sales tax returns. These include:

—Lubbock: a 6.9 percent increase with $9.9 million returned this year compared to $9.2 million last year.

—Abilene: holding its own this year compared to last. The exact figure this year is $6,067,064 compared to $6,066,336 last year.

—Odessa: a 5.5 percent increase with $5.7 million returned this year compared to $5.4 million last year.

—San Angelo: a 6.4 percent increase with $3.9 million returned this year compared to $3.7 million last year.

—Big Spring: a 9.1 percent increase with $1.1 million returned this year compared to $1 million last year.

—Snyder: a 7 percent decrease with $623,386 returned this year compared to $670,852 last year.

Effort by walkers to aid MADD goal

A group of walkers hoping to call attention to the efforts of Mothers Against Drunk Drivers (MADD) passed through Snyder Friday morning enroute to Washington D.C.

According to Ron Laird, coordinator for the "walk," the group began their journey Aug. 17 in Los Angeles and they hope to arrive for a candle light vigil in Washington Dec. 9.

Expenses for the group including a support van is being provided by the General Foods Corp., manufacturer of the breakfast drink Tang. The effort is being billed as the Tang march for MADD.

Laird, who hails from Colorado Springs, Colo. and is a four-time Olympics competitor in the "speed walking" competition, is joined by three other speed walking athletes.

They include John Fredricks of New Jersey; Mel McGinnis of Kentucky and Fabian Knizack of Michigan.

Laird said their trip across Texas includes large rally-type walks planned in Abilene and Dallas.

They arrived outside Snyder Thursday afternoon from Lamesa. They spent the night locally and began their walk again Friday morning along U.S. Hwy. 180.

Laird said one member of the team walks approximately one hour at a time using the speed walk technique. He said this style produces speeds of from 6-7 mph. In this way, he said they have managed to cover 40-50 miles per day.

Cogdell post aims at communication

A new staff position for both in-house and community public relations has been created at Cogdell Memorial Hospital. Named to the post is Kathy Minemier.

In her new position, Minemier plans to communicate hospital services to the community and to provide employee incentives and programs within the hospital.

To accomplish those goals, she and the hospital staff have created "Progress Notes" — an in-house newsletter to inform the medical community and the public about Cogdell's programs.

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "There ought to be a better way to start the day than getting up in the morning."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

Walter Buckel, in the Lamesa Press-Reporter, told about an East Texas couple who should have stayed in bed. Buckle got the story from the Pottsboro Press near Denison.

It seems a man was explaining why he was in the hospital. He said his wife had brought a bunch of plants into the house. It happened that a little green snake had hidden himself in one of those plants.

When the snake warmed up, it came slithering out of the plant pot and went under the sofa. The fellow's wife saw it and let out a loud scream.

He happened to be taking a bath at the time, but he leaped out of the tub and ran naked to see what his wife was screaming about.

His wife told him a snake was under the sofa. So he got down on the floor to look, and here came his dog and cold-nosed him. He thought it was the snake and fainted.

His wife thought he'd had a heart attack and called an ambulance. The attendants rushed in and loaded him on the stretcher and started carrying him out. About that time the snake came from under the sofa, the ambulance attendants saw the snake, dropped the stretcher and broke the man's leg.

Someone forgot to tell him to have a nice day.

Larry Crabtree, in the Vernon Daily Record, told about a job applicant who praised her former place of work. He was told they had great pay plus all the benefits--hospitalization insurance, dental insurance, time-loss insurance, vacations, profit sharing, year-end bonuses, pension plans, etc.

Crabtree asked why she left such a great job.

"They went broke."

Ask Us

Q. — Why are the freshman and junior varsity (football teams) not given just a little of the recognition we feel they deserve in the newspaper?

A. — The facts are, for the two freshman and one JV game played to date, the SDN has provided game photo coverage of the freshman (JV photos are planned) and both advance and game coverage for all three. Admittedly, the varsity team draws more attention — from fans and the newspaper alike — but we would remind that in only two years, freshmen and sophomore players turn into varsity players.

In Brief

Prices down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spurred by falling food and fuel costs, wholesale prices skidded down 0.3 percent in August, the steepest drop in more than 2½ years, the Labor Department said today.

The decline in the Producer Price Index — the fourth in the last 12 months — means wholesale prices have risen at an annual rate of just 0.8 percent so far this year.

Some analysts are starting to hold out the prospect of plunging commodity prices holding the final 1985 wholesale inflation rate even below the 0.6 percent increase in 1983 — which was the smallest since 1964.

One analyst is now forecasting a 0.5 percent wholesale-price inflation rate for all of 1985.

Technicians blast misguided rocket

KOUROU, French Guiana (AP) — An Ariane rocket from the European Space Agency's launch site in South America veered downward toward a populated area minutes after take-off, forcing technicians to destroy it, officials said.

The Ariane-3 rocket was carrying one American and one European communications satellite insured for a total of $145 million. Both of them were destroyed along with the launcher late Thursday.

The explosion marked the Ariane's third failure in 15 launches, and was a setback for the European challenge to the U.S. space shuttle as a means of placing commercial satellites into orbit.

Ariane had been successful in its previous nine launches, and had placed 14 satellites in orbit since June 1983.

"It's obviously a great disappointment," said Frederic d'Allest, president of Arianespace, the commercial arm of the 11-nation European Space Agency.

Space center technicians said their radar screens detected a change in Ariane's trajectory and a slow drop in its altitude beginning about seven minutes after take-off.

About three minutes later, the rocket was ordered destroyed.

D'Allest said a combustion problem had apparently developed in the third-stage engine. He said technicians would sift through computer data to determine why the rocket failed.

"We have had nine successive successes. The tenth launch was a failure and we are going to quickly set about determining the causes," he said.

The ruined satellites were the ECS-3, belonging to the European Communications Satellites series and insured for $65 million, and the American Spacenet-3, built by RCA for GTE Spacenet and insured for $80 million.

European Space Agency officials did not provide details of how the rocket had deviated from its prescribed course or how far it had dropped before it was ordered destroyed. French Guiana, on the northeast shoulder of South America, is wedged between Surinam and Brazil.

"It's premature to say why we lost our satellite tonight," said a representative of GTE Spacenet, Dr. Jerry Waylan.

After failures on May 23, 1980, during its second launch, and Sept. 9, 1982, during its fifth trip, the Ariane was revised dramatically, resulting in the more powerful Ariane-3.

By the beginning of 1985, Arianspace had $900 million worth of orders for launches. Arianespace officials have said they hope to win one-third of the telecommunications satellite business by 1995, and challenge the space shuttle developed in the United States by NASA.

President Francois Mitterrand of France, who stopped off on his way to a nuclear test site in French Polynesia, witnessed the Ariane's failure.

"It will work the next time," he shrugged. "Of course, I'm disappointed ... But I'm mostly disappointed for the technicians and all those who worked on this project."

Uterus removal and orgasm

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am 31 years old with severe cervical dysplasia. I've had two cone biopsies and am now seven months pregnant. My Pap is still Class III. A hysterectomy is most likely the next step. I once read that removal of the uterus lessens the intensity of orgasm. Is this true?

DEAR READER — We are reassured by gynecologists that hysterectomy does not affect orgasm or a woman's ability to enjoy sexual gratification. Of course, there are individual variations in this observation. Some women note increased intensity of orgasm, some women less. This is probably due to the influence of emotional factors. Certain females will enjoy sex more because the risk of pregnancy has been eliminated. Other women may have difficulty with orgasm, but they often give histories of less fulfillment prior to surgery.

Although it has been said before, it's worth repeating: Femininity and the concept of a whole woman have little or nothing to do with the uterus. The uterus is a muscular container that plays an insignificant role in a woman's sexuality. It obviously is vital to reproduction, but its absence has no known effect on a woman's sense of well-being, her enjoyment of sex or the complex neuromuscular event known as orgasm.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My fingernails are falling apart down to the quick. I am a 60-year-old woman and had unusually long, hard nails up until a few years ago. Would calcium or vitamins help?

DEAR READER — Calcium and vitamins may help your nail problem. Also, you may be helped by keeping your hands out of dishwater, using gelatin as a dietary supplement and using commercially available nail strengtheners. If these remedies fail, see a dermatologist to rule out the presence of infection or poor circulation to your fingers.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am a female, 69 years old, and I had a bad cold two years ago. Since then I have had no taste or smell. I went to a throat doctor and he said it will probably never come back. I don't believe that. Surely someone could help. Any suggestions?

DEAR READER — The virus that causes colds can sometimes affect the nerves that control smell. Occasionally, the sense of smell doesn't return because of a chronic sinus infection. If one specialist cannot advise you, try another. I am not familiar with any new treatment for this ailment, but otolaryngologists can often wash out the area behind the nose, give medicine and help people regain their sense of smell.

Send your questions to Dr. Gott at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101. Due to volume of mail, individual questions cannot be answered. Questions of general interest will be answered in future columns.

'Clown' escapes with lots of cash

RICHARDSON, Texas (AP) — A man in a clown makeup and a brown wig as a disguise escaped with an undetermined amount of cash Thursday in a robbery at a Murray Savings Association branch in Richardson, officials said.

The man entered the building at Coit and Belt Line with an employee about 8:45 a.m., displayed a gun, and forced another employee into a restroom before fleeing, but no one was hurt.

The robber, who was armed with a black pistol, was described as a white male, about 25, with a stocky build, police said. He was wearing a beige jacket or sweater and bright blue pants and was carrying a blue gym bag.

To improve attendance, officials at the Richmond (Ind.) High School offered $100 to any student who would attend school every day of the school term last year. It cost the officials $20,000 because 200 students had perfect records. Only 37 students had perfect slates the previous year.

Known for furniture...

Region offers arts center

By BARBARA MAYER
AP Newsfeatures

North Carolina's Piedmont region is known worldwide as a commercial furniture center. Twice each year retailers come from all over the world to look at and order furniture in High Point and the surrounding area.

But far fewer people know the same area is also an arts center. In fact, within a 20-or 30-minute drive from the furniture market buildings are a number of unique museums, galleries and decorative arts centers. Together they help make an impressive case for North Carolina as one of the major arts-producing states in the country.

In Winston-Salem, for example, are found the Museum of Early Southern Decorative Arts, Reynolds House and Old Salem, which are devoted to historic arts, as well as the Southeastern Center for the Arts, Piedmont Craftsman, Inc., and the Sawtooth Arts Center, which concentrate on the contemporary area.

In nearby Greensboro, there is the Green Hill Center for North Carolina Art, a non-profit gallery which devotes itself entirely to nurturing and exhibiting the work of North Carolina artists.

Besides these organizations located in the Piedmont area, organizations within a few hours distance include Penland Craft School in Penland, the John C. Campbell Folk School in Brasstown, and the Southern Highland Handicrafts Guild in Asheville.

No one is quite sure why the state supports so many artists and arts groups but Phyllis Lang, editor of "The Arts Journal," says the state is believed to have within its borders the largest number of artists, outside of New York and California.

According to Ms. Lang, the state's long history of support for the arts is partly responsible for the current fever of activity. She noted that the traditional arts, especially pottery, weaving and music, have always been important. Furthermore, the large number of visitors who come for vacations bring with them both interest and necessary support.

The appeal of the state as a place to live has attracted artists and craftsmen from other areas as permanent residents. Besides the Penland area in the Blue Ridge Mountains, where about 100 craftsmen live and work, other artists' colonies are found in Winston-Salem, Durham and Chapel Hill and in the Southern Pines region, she added.

Cynthia Ferrence, director of the Green Hill Center, noted that John White, the North Carolina colony's first governor, was the first painter in the new world. White, who emigrated to America from England in 1585, painted the flora and fauna and the Indians in the area. His work was recently exhibited at the North Carolina Museum of Art in Raleigh.

This early head start was not the only important milestone, according to Ms. Ferrence. She added that perhaps the nation's most famous experimental school, Black Mountain College, was founded in the Blue Ridge Mountains and was in operation from 1933 to 1956. Penland School of Crafts was opened in 1938 as one of the first attempts to use craft skills to upgrade impoverished rural lives. Then in 1949, Winston-Salem became the first city in the United States to establish an arts council.

The state's commitment to crafts also includes their use in construction projects. For example, the first in what may eventually be a series of tourist information "welcome centers" is scheduled for completion this fall.

Mosaic tile backsplash adds appealing design to kitchen

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

One way to dress up your kitchen sink area is to apply a mosaic tile backsplash to the wall over the sink.

No matter what the countertop surface — tile, laminate or wood — a mosaic tile backsplash adds an appealing new design element.

If the surface is clean, dry and structurally sound, mosaic tile will go over it provided the surface has no "give" to it. Glossy surfaces, which laminate usually is, need a light sanding before application to make the adhesive grip better. The tools and materials needed are a level or T-square, trowel, tile cutter, grout float, sponge, wall primer, tile adhesive, grout and tile sealer.

Use a level to determine if the countertop surface is straight. If it is slightly uneven, wait until you apply two coats of wall primer to the surface and allow to dry thoroughly. Then find the lowest point and place one tile against the wall at that location. Mark a line ⅛th of an inch above the tile and use this as your horizontal starting point. If the surface is level, the base of the wall becomes the starting point.

To establish the vertical working line, locate the exact midpoint of the wall. From that point, lay loose tile along the wall to one edge. This allows you to see how the end tile will have to be cut. Adjust the tile slightly to avoid small tile cuts. Once the starting point has been established, use a level or T-square to mark the line vertically on the wall.

Spread the tile adhesive with a notched trowel held at a 60 to 80 degree angle to the surface. Apply the adhesive on either side of the vertical line. Do not spread any more adhesive than can be tiled before it sets, usually about 20 minutes. Set the first sheet of tile in place along the line, using a slightly twisting motion and not sliding them in place. Work up and across from the starting point.

While you'll want to minimize tile cutting as much as possible, it's difficult to completely avoid it. A tile cutter can be rented or borrowed. The cutter actually scores the tile, which is then easily snapped into two pieces. When you cut tiles to fit around electrical outlets, although that is not always necessary, they do not have to have perfectly straight edges, since uneven cuts will be covered later by the switchplates.

Color Tile recommends the tiles be allowed to set 16 to 24 hours before applying grout, which is available in an array of colors. It is spread with a grout float over the entire surface of the area. The grout is gently forced into the tile joints. Two or three hours later, wipe off the remaining grout film from the surface with a dry cleaning pad.

After 15 to 20 minutes, excess grout should be wiped off the tile surface with a damp sponge. Two to three hours later, wipe off any remaining grout film from the surface with a dry cleaning pad.

The final step is to seal the tile surface with silicone tile sealer. Apply with a spray applicator or foam brush. The sealer protects the wall from dirt and moisture penetration.

Topnotch defense

By James Jacoby

When you spend a weekend playing 105 deals against 35 of the world's top bridge partnerships, you'd better be ready for some high-level bridge. South was unlucky that the West defender who doubled him in four spades was Mike Passell, Bermuda Bowl World Champion in 1979.

The double was for takeout. Passell felt that he could find a spot to play even if his partner took out to five clubs. When East passed the double, Mike still felt safe. After all, he had a singleton ace to lead and perhaps could find a way to get his partner on lead. He tried the ace of clubs. When he saw the dummy, he was tempted to cash the diamond ace and then switch to the king of hearts. But with that play, declarer would almost surely have made his contract. It would cost him nothing with that defense to simply take a spade finesse. With the king dropping, that would be 10 tricks. Instead, at trick two Mike switched to the four of hearts. Put yourself in declarer's shoes. Doesn't it look as if West has four hearts to an honor? If you duck the heart, East will win a potential singleton, get partner back in with the ace of diamonds and then get a heart ruff.

Declarer went up with the ace of hearts and played the club king to get rid of his diamond. Passell ruffed, cashed the K-Q of hearts, and then played the diamond ace. South ruffed but had no way to get to dummy to take the spade finesse. Down two. Tough luck, but tougher defense.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1985 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I wrote to you three years ago, telling you that a couple can be happily married even if there is a big gap in their ages because that is what happened to us. I was 14 and Jack was 61 when we married 10 years ago. We still love each other dearly, and he treats me like a queen.

We now have a son named Andrew Jackson. When I found out I was pregnant, we were so surprised we could hardly believe it. And yes, Jack is Andrew's father. I have been faithful to my husband all these years and will continue to be.

So you see, Abby, two people can be happy together regardless of their ages. I am enclosing a picture of Jack, the baby and me.

JANE McCARTNEY, DENISON, TEXAS

DEAR JANE: Thank you for the progress report. The baby is beautiful, and you and Jack radiate happiness.

Not every 14-year-old bride can live happily ever after with a husband 47 years her senior.

Congratulations to your Jack who treats you like a queen, and is able to deal you a full house.

DEAR ABBY: I am sick and tired of hearing that alcoholism is an "illness." It isn't; it's a vice, a moral weakness and a lack of self-control. Although chronic excessive drinking can cause a number of diseases, it is not in itself a disease.

I wish someone who insists that alcoholism is a disease would tell me what virus, bacterium or other micro-organism causes it. Or is it a genetic disorder, inherited at birth?

Obviously, to classify alcoholism as a "disease" portrays the drinker as a "victim" who is not responsible for the damage his drinking does to himself and others. Granted, this is very kind, but it is an undeserved kindness, having no basis in fact.

The fact is, everyone has a choice. He can either choose to drink or choose not to drink. And the person who chooses to drink more than he is able to handle is not an innocent victim of a "disease." He is a selfish drunk of his own making.

It's time we called a spade a spade. Thanks for listening.

HAD MY SAY

DEAR HAD: Because I "listen" doesn't necessarily mean I agree.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 19-year-old college student, and I've slept with a baby blanket for as long as I can remember. I've taken it to summer camp with me since I was 10, and now I have it at college. I am ashamed to say I am still very much attached to it. I've tried to sleep without it, but I feel like something is missing, and I can't sleep.

Do many adults have this kind of silly attachment to a childhood thing? And what do you recommend?

LOVES MY BLANKET

DEAR LOVES: I recommend that you continue to sleep with it as long as you feel the need. Yes, many adults have that kind of attachment to a childhood thing. (It's not silly; old familiar things offer security.)

A 30-year-old married woman once wrote to say she couldn't sleep without her tattered baby blanket and felt sufficiently ashamed to see a psychiatrist about it. He asked her three questions: Is it hurting anyone? Is it harming you? Do you enjoy it?

The psychiatrist assured her that if it didn't hurt anyone, harm her and she enjoyed it, it was OK. I would add, "Is it legal?"

More inmates are unlocked from cells

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — About 10,500 inmates remain confined to their cells today, four days after Texas prison officials ordered a lockdown. Thursday some 4,500 prisoners were let out of their cells, but 10,500 other prisoners remain confined in their cells at 13 units, said Charles Brown, spokesman for the Texas Department of Corrections.

About 4,500 low-risk convicts were unlocked Wednesday, Brown said.

Prison Director O. Lane McCotter ordered 17,000 inmates locked in their cells Monday after four prisoners were stabbed to death within a 24-hour period.

Brown said there have been no incidents of violence since the lockdown began, but guards have confiscated about 100 weapons, mostly knives made by inmates.

Prison officials say the entire system, which includes some 38,000 inmates housed at 27 separate units, is very tense.

Most of the recent violence has been attributed to a recruiting war between two Hispanic gangs known as the Texas Syndicate and the Texas Mafia.

Officials estimated about 800 inmates belong to gangs, but say the number is very conservative.

The U.S. Marines fought their first battle March 2, 1776, and captured a British fort in the Bahamas during the Revolutionary War.

Texas declared its independence from Mexico in 1836.

Woman may attend church again

HOUSTON (AP) — A 69-year-old woman, who was barred from attending services at the Antioch Missionary Baptist Church, can resume attending services after she promised not to be disruptive and church officials agreed not to harass her.

Odessa Shanklin and church officials agreed Wednesday to allow the woman attend services at one of Houston's oldest black churches.

Last week, State District Judge David Hittner granted a restraining order prohibiting Ms. Shanklin from attending church services.

Church officials, including the Rev. Michael Patrick Williams, claimed Ms. Shanklin sat in church seats reserved for deacons and other congregation members and had also used abusive language during church services.

Ms. Shanklin and her attorney, James Plummer, said the charges levied against her were church officials' retaliation for lawsuits brought by Ms. Shanklin against Williams.

"It's been our feeling all along that Rev. Williams has been the main cause of all this," Plummer said.

Ask The Preacher

"...about the reliability of the Bible"

By Randall Gray

I don't believe it's enough to simply say "the Bible is God's word." That is certainly the truth and enormously important, but the fact of the matter is that God also expects us to use the brains He gave us!

There is hard, clear evidence to show that the Bible is a superbly reliable historical document. Luke starts out his Gospel by making this significant, historically important statement. He says:

> "...since I myself have carefully investigated everything from the beginning, it seemed good also to me, to write an orderly account...so that you may know the certainty of the things you have been taught." Luke 1:3-4.

That's something to file away in your concept of the Bible's makeup. Those writers didn't just put down their information "off the cuff." They investigated and carefully prepared ordered accounts of the facts.

So understand that the Bible is a proven, factual source book for what man has done, as well as for what God expects.

Senior Center plans booth for Scurry Fair

Special activities for the Senior Citizens Center were outlined at a meeting of the center's Advisory Council Wednesday.

The center will have a booth at the Scurry County Fair Sept. 19-21, Gloria Shaw, Senior Center director, said. In October, the center will participate in the local Health Fair by demonstrating physical fitness ideas for senior citizens. These will include exercises designed for those with limited mobility and jazzercise for more active persons.

The Senior Center will also participate in the United Way Kick-Off Jamboree on the courthouse square on Oct. 1.

The Golden K Kiwanis Club has announced that it will be purchasing a new slicing machine for the center's kitchen, Mrs. Shaw said. The club has donated numerous items for the center, the most recent being a 100-cup coffee maker and a Bernina sewing machine. The group will sponsor a fish fry in October to raise funds for its local projects.

Wilma Dillard was named chairman of a committee to nominate new members for the Advisory Council. Other committee members will be Gay Hickman and Buster Starnes. Advisory Council members serve three-year terms and three new members will be taking seats on the council in October.

Girl's death puzzles police

MONT BELVIEU, Texas (AP) — The stabbing death of an 11-year-old girl who was left at home to swim with friends while her parents ran errands has police officers stumped in this community 30 miles south of Houston.

Carolyn Hahn, a sixth-grader, died Tuesday from four stab wounds to the neck, said Mont Belvieu Police Chief Fred Dodd.

"We believe the killing was sexually motivated," Dodd said. "Although the act was not carried out, there seems to have been an attempt made."

Special announcement for all candidates planning to sign up for the Clerk-Carrier Examination at the Snyder Post Office as well as many other Post Offices in the 795 Zip Code Area when it is announced. [Last given in 1982 — and since it won't be offered again for at least 3 years, don't miss out!]

4-HOUR WORKSHOP
Score 95-100% or Your Tuition is Refunded!

NOW is the time to prepare. The pressure is on to score as high as possible to get the job. Career Postal Workers will now earn a starting salary of $18,532 plus benefits — with an accelerated step increase plan; men and women, regardless of age, are eligible. The first step toward a postal service career is getting your name onto the "Register of Eligibles," which is accomplished by passing this Exam. To be one of the first hired, you need to get one of the higher scores! And to be hired at all during the next three years, you will need to score at least 95%.

This workshop is being offered now, prior to the formal announcement of the examination dates, to give you adequate time to prepare for the test. Many post offices begin testing within a week of the announcement which isn't enough time to prepare properly. By starting now, you'll be ready to attain high scores using our methods when the test is given.

Come to the workshop. If you don't feel, at the end of the course, that it will help you achieve a score of 95% or better, don't pay for the workshop! Furthermore, if your score is less than 95% on the official exam after using our techniques, we will immediately refund your tuition in full!

WANT TO RELOCATE? We are the publishers of The Postal Alert, the bi-weekly newsletter giving you postal exam dates nationwide. Only The Achievement Center provides this service. Learn how you can relocate to any area of the country you like.

ALL-DISTRICT PERFORMERS – Donna Anderson (left) and Karlene Thompson, a pair of all-District 2-4A players, return to help Snyder shoot for a championship in 1985.

Tigers capable of challenging for 2-4A title

It was 1981 when Snyder last quenched its thirst witha district volleyball championship. In terms of years, that's not so long ago. But for a school deep in volleyball tradition - 9 titles in 13 years - four seasons of doing without becomes a drought.

No one is making any predictions - certainly not first-year head coach Vicki Nelms - but the truth is Snyder's Tigers figure to enjoy a tall, cool drink again in 1985.

"I think we have a good chance to finish in the top of the district standings. We have good kids and they have a lot of potential. It's a matter of being able to put everything together and staying away from injuries. If we can do that, we could be right there competing for the district championship," said Coach Nelms.

Snyder brings back five full or part-time starters from the 1984 season, including Karlene Thompson and Donna Anderson, a pair of seniors who earned all-district honors a year ago. Both are three-sport standouts who will be pushing for SHS's Female Athlete of the Year award next spring.

Also returning as experienced varsity players are seniors Hope Hernandez and Kima McLarty, and junior Allison Adams.

Up from the junior varsity ranks are juniors Tammy Williamson, Leslie Ward, Sharnette Thompson, Shondra Robinson, Pam Casias, Donna Clay and Stacy Dunk.

The Tigers boast experience and depth. Even Coach Helms admits, "It's a shame we can only play six girls at a time because we have six that aren't playing as regularly that could be starting for most teams in our district."

If the team has weaknesses, they are well hidden most of the time. A lack of height - Anderson is the tallest player at 5-foot, 8-inches - is generally overcome by solid defense and good jumping ability. Good fundamental techniques have helped overcome the transition which comes about from a coaching change.

Nelms is much more critical, of course. She has to be.

"Our defense is not as good as it should be. Because we block the ball well, a lot of teams are dinking us (hitting the ball over the block and into an open area). We're still learning to defense that," she said. "We need work on our serving, too. Some games we serve well, but we haven't been real consistan with our serves."

Nelms feels the district race will be a tough one, as usual.

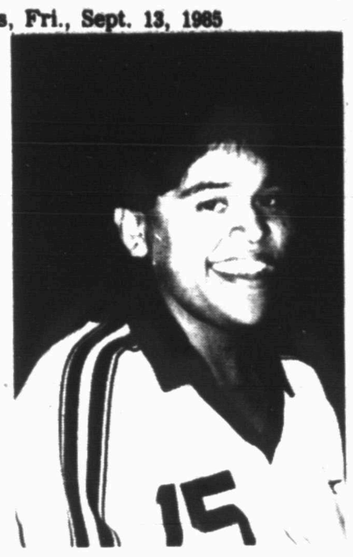

"Lamesa will be strong. Monahans is the defending state champion and that playoff experience is an asset for any team. Pecos and Lake View will be tough, too. Really, I think the competition will be tough on any given day. Any team can be beat."

After four years, is it Snyder's turn again to win a district championship?

"It's the girls' goal and our goal to win a district championship. But to get there it will take all 12 kids, fan support, and hard work," said Nelms. "A lot of hard work."

HOPE HERNANDEZ, 5-5 senior - "Hope is one or our better servers. She's an experienced player. She's someone who you don't always notice all the good things she does."

KIMA MCLARTY, 5-6 senior - "Kima improved a lot from last year but she has been hurt (ankle) this season. She has a lot of desire and she doesn't mind working hard. She is one of our captains."

KARLENE THOMPSON, 5-5 senior, all-district - "Karlene is a very smart hitter. She plays very well on defense. She's a competitor. She blocks well, has good quickness. She can set if we need her to."

ALLISON ADAMS, 5-7 junior - "Allison is another consistant server. You don't always notice her but she always contributes. She keeps the team up. She's a motivator on the court. She is one of our captains."

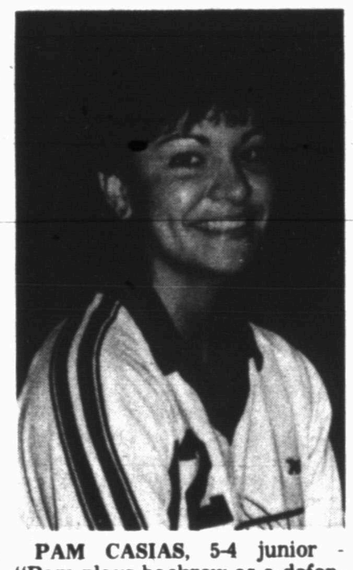

DONNA ANDERSON, 5-8 senior, all-district - "Donna is another good hitter. She blocks well. Her height is a definite advantage. She is one of our captains."

TAMMY WILLIAMSON, 5-2 junior - "Tammy has an excellent attitude. She works real hard and is willing to do anything it takes. She is a defensive player and she does some setting for us."

SHARNETTE THOMPSON, 5-4 junior - "Sharnette has been a starter since Kima got hurt. She's done a fine job for us. She needs to get over her nervousness but she is starting to hit the ball real well. She is one of our better servers."

PAM CASIAS, 5-4 junior - "Pam plays backrow as a defensive player. A lack of experience has hurt her, but she's a hard worker and continues to improve. She is also our backup setter."

DONNA CLAY, 5-5 junior - "Donna played the best she's ever played during the Breckenridge Tournament recently. She has good potential. She is basically a front row player. She can hit and block well."

STACY DUNK, 5-4 junior - "Stacy hasn't seen a lot of playing time. When she does, she's a hitter. She has good potential. She's a hard worker with a good attitude."

LESLIE WARD, 5-4 junior - "Leslie is another hard worker. She's seen limited action. We use her basically as a defensive player but she can also hit for us. She has a great attitude."

SHONDRA ROBINSON, 5-7 junior - "Shondra is our setter. She's a hard worker. She's still inexperienced but she is getting better everyday."

SHS Tigers enter Coach Nelms 'era'; goal is to fill gymnasium with fans

Suffice to say, there is excitment in the Snyder High School volleyball program.

A new coach, experienced talent and fine tradition have come together to promise a winning season in 1985.

"I'm very excited," said Coach Vicki Nelms, who came to Snyder from Chillicothe, where her team was ranked fifth in the state in Class 1A last year. "The kids here have a real desire to do well. They want to do well and when they want to work it makes my job a whole lot easier."

Nelms was born in Arkansas, but raised in Pacific, Mo., where she graduated from high school. She participated in volleyball, basketball and softball, and earned a volleyball scholarship to Arkansas State University, where she was named all-state (all-conference) for two years.

COACH VICKI NELMS

Her background in volleyball has helped her form some definite thoughts about coaching.

"I'm very team oriented. I believe in hard work and discipline," said Nelms.

She transferred to the University of Houston to work full time at Astroworld amusment park where she was food service supervisor. She left Houston in 1980 and finished her education at Arkansas State, where she was a student coach in volleyball.

After receiving her bachelor's degree in physical education she began coaching volleyball, softball and basketball in Portegeville, Mo. Her softball teams went to the state playoffs both years she coached in Portegeville, and her volleyball team reached the state level one year.

She went to Chillicothe, Tex., in 1982 where she coached volleyball, basketball, track and tennis for three years. Her 1984 volleyball team was ranked fifth in the state in Class A.

At SHS, she will also be assistant track coach, junior varsity basketball coach, and will teach health and physical education.

While Nelms is hoping to take Snyder back to the echelon of District 2-4A volleyball, she has other goals for the sport as well.

"We open district Saturday (Sept. 14) and our goal is to fill the gym at every home district game," she said. "We've very proud of our volleyball team and we'd like to show it off. The only way we can do that is to try and get people to come out and support us.

"We want to thank those fans who have been coming. There are a same certain few people who support us religiously. It really helps the kids when they know the community supports them."

Springs guilty; sentencing next

DALLAS (AP) - Former Dallas Cowboys running back Ron Springs said he hoped to sign a contract with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers after his sentencing today for resisting arrest in a topless nightclub.

Jurors were to return to state district court this morning to decide on a sentence for Springs, who admitted that he resisted arrest during a scuffle with two police officers at the Million Dollar Saloon on Jan. 18.

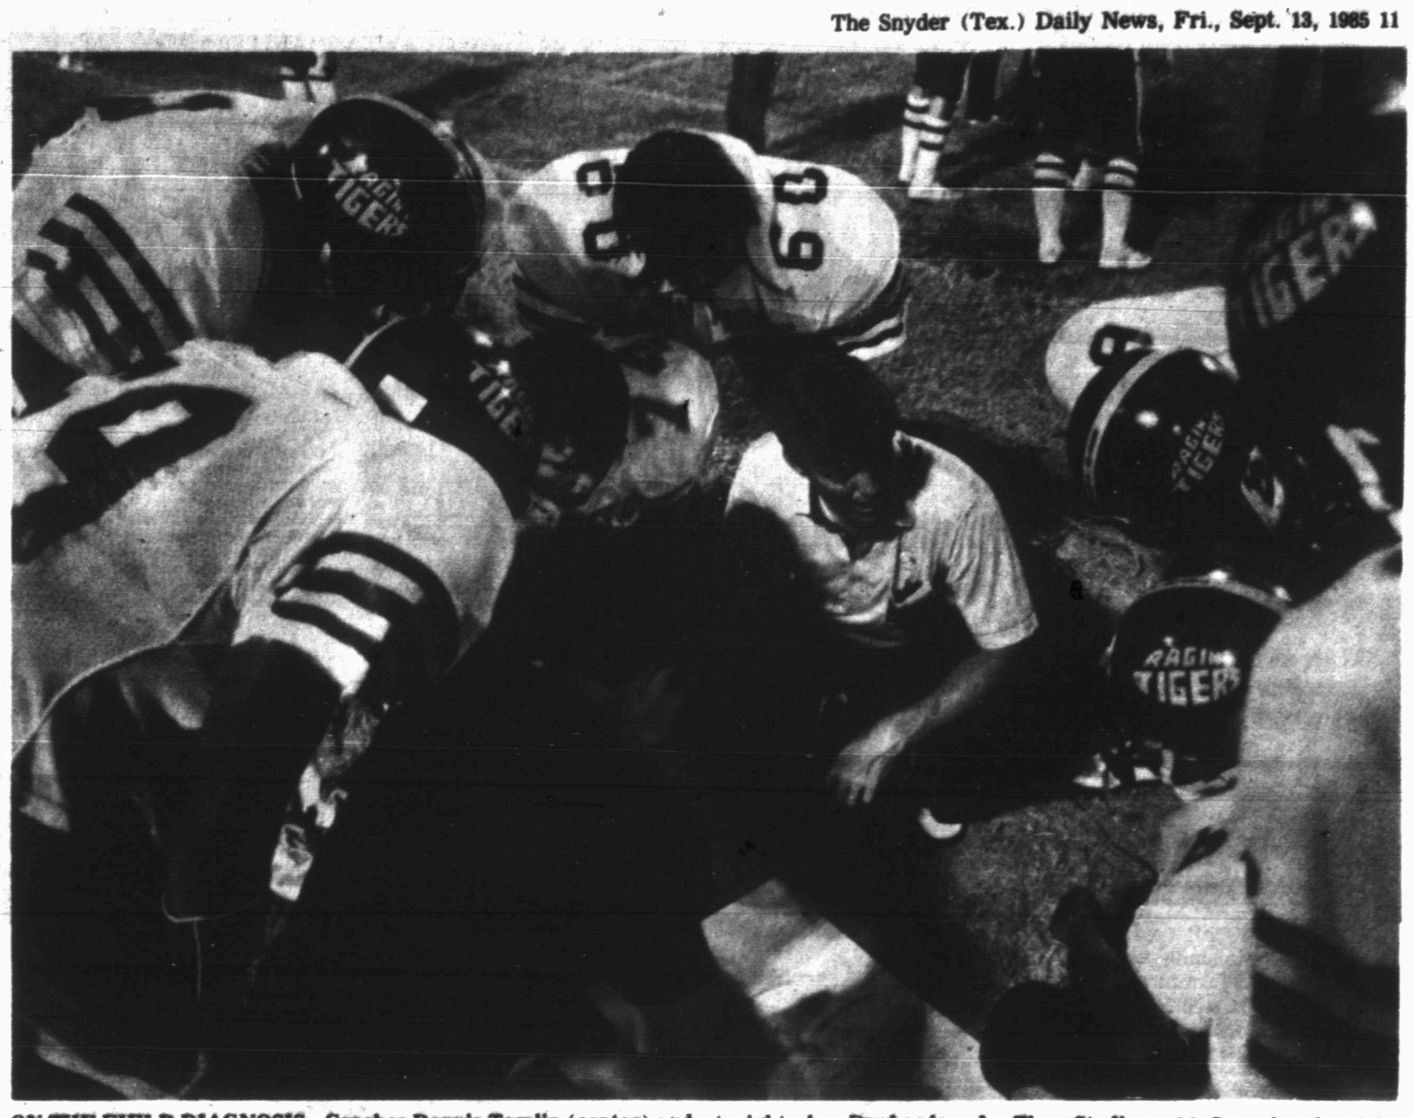

Thursday, the jury of nine women and three men returned after just under four hours with the verdict that Springs was guilty of resisting arrest, a Class A misdemeanor punishable by up to a year in jail and a $2,000 fine.

"I really feel just want the people to know, the people of Dallas and the people of the nation, that I did not by any means hurt any police officer."

Springs said he believed the accusations played a major role in his being dropped from the Cowboys.

"I don't have a job right now," Springs said. "I think it affected (my career) pretty good."

Springs said he hopes to sign with the Buccaneers and play tailback, a position he said he has always wanted to play.

Cats slam Rotan JV

The Cats opened the scoring as Mark Garcia ran over on a 4-yard run. Tracy Odom passed to Trey Wilson for the conversion.

Kenneth McClain tallied on a 2-yard run in the second quarter. Garcia ran over the conversion for a 16-0 lead.

Odom then hit Jimmy Taylor on a 30-yard pass with 3:47 left before halftime. This time the conversion failed; 22-0.

Snyder's final points came with 11 seconds left in the game when Garcia scored on a 30-yard run. The conversion failed.

Rotan had 86 yards rushing, three first downs, one penalty and committed four turnovers.

In contrast, Snyder had 163 yards rushing, 70 passing, eight penalties and one turnover.

Garcia rushed for 78 yards; Isrrael Hinojos for 66, Roy Gutierrez for 13 and McClain for 10.

Odom was 4 of 5 passing for 70 yards. Taylor caught two passes for 53 yards, Wilson one for 11 and Guiterrez one for 6.

Recovering fumbles were Taylor, Tyronne Durst and Todd Perry. Odom intercepted one pass.

Chiefs scalp Raiders

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) - The Kansas City Chiefs elected to throw their haymaker at the strongest facet of the Los Angeles Raiders. And it was the Raiders who blinked.

"We decided to go right at their cornerbacks, the strength of their team," said quarterback Bill Kenney. "The strength of our team is our wide receivers. We wanted to go right at them."

And that is exactly what the resurgent Chiefs did in a convincing 36-20 conquest of their longtime rivals Thursday night. Kenney, who had passed for 397 yards against New Orleans the week before, hit 18 of 38 for 259 yards and two touchdowns.

And when the offense bogged down, Nick Lowery was there to kick five field goals, tying the single-game club record which Jan Stenerud achieved three different times.

Hernandez keys Mets

by The Associated Press

Keith Hernandez couldn't have picked a better time to break out of his slump.

"I was hoping we'd get something going for me (in the ninth inning)," said Hernandez, who hit a run-scoring single to lead the New York Mets to a 7-6 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday in a tense battle of National League East Division contenders.

The victory in the rubber game of the three-game series lifted the Mets into first place over the Cardinals by a game.

"That was a big win for us," said Hernandez, who was 0-for-11 before his big hit before a largely delighted crowd of 46,295 at Shea Stadium.

The Mets blew a 6-0 lead and came back in the bottom of the ninth after the Cardinals had tied it in the top of the inning on Willie McGee's solo home run.

Meanwhile, the National League West-leading Los Angeles Dodgers saw their lead drop to 8½ games with an 11-6 loss to Atlanta while second-place Cincinnati was beating San Diego 2-1.

In other action, Montreal beat Philadelphia 6-3, Pittsburgh routed Chicago 10-2, and Houston beat San Francisco 5-2.

Four make debuts...

SWC takes underdog role

by The Associated Press

It's an underdog football Saturday for the Southwest Conference as Texas A&M, Texas Christian, Rice and Arkansas make their 1985 debuts.

Oddsmakers have installed the Georgia Bulldogs as a six-point favorite over the Baylor Bears in an 11 a.m. (WTBS-TV) nationally televised game from Athens, Ga.

The Miami Hurricane was a whopping 18-point selection over the Rice Owls at Rice Stadium in a regionally televised noon clash.

Alabama, fresh off its comeback victory over Georgia was a touchdown favorite over Texas A&M in a 6:45 p.m. (ESPN) nationally televised game from Birgmingham, Ala.

In other games, Tulsa was a seven-point selection over Texas Tech at Tulsa; Arkansas was a four-point choice over Mississippi in 7:30 p.m clash at Jackson, Miss.; and Texas Christian was a 12-point favorite over Tulane in a 7:30 p.m. game at Fort Worth.

Baylor, which opened with an impressive 39-18 victory over Wyoming, is 0-2 against Georgia, losing narrowly both times.

The Bears lost 24-12 in 1972 in Coach Grant Teaff's Baylor debut and fell 16-14 in 1978.

"It's a challenge to play between the hedges," said Teaff. "They have a great winning tradition. We catch them at a bad time, coming off a loss. They aren't used to losing in Athens."

Aggie Coach Jackie Sherrill will be returning to his alma mater, Alabama, to challenge 'Bama Coach Ray Perkins, his teammate on a national championship team in the 1960s.

Sherrill refused to announce his starting quarterback, saying he wanted Alabama to have to study both Craig Stump and Kevin Murray.

"They had to go back to 1983 to see Kevin in film," said Sherrill, who also refused to allow his quarterbacks to be interviewed.

Perkins said "Texas A&M is very impressive. They have the best athletes we will face all year. They will without question be the biggest team we will play this year and perhaps the most talented."

Texas Tech, which rallied for a 32-31 victory over New Mexico, will be seeking its first victory outside the state of Texas since 1978.

"We're going to have our hands full," said Tech Coach Jerry Moore. "They embarrassed us two years ago and last year they were one of the best teams we played."

Tulsa whipped Houston last week in the first of four games against the SWC.

Tulane Coach Mack Brown said "TCU has a great back in Kenneth Davis. Our program right now is quite similar to TCU's two years ago."

Danes : Soviet spy longtime double agent

LONDON (AP) — The defection of a top Soviet agent enabled British authorities to unmask 25 other Russian spies, but may cost the West its most important source of information inside the KGB, British and Danish officials said.

The British government announced on Thursday the defection of Oleg A. Gordievski, identified as the chief British operative of the KGB, the Soviet secret police and espionage agency.

Simultaneously, it said 25 Soviet nationals identified by Gordievski were being expelled for alleged espionage activities.

Officially the political counselor at the Soviet Embassy, Gordievski had served at the Soviet Embassy in Copenhagen in the 1970s. Danish officials revealed Thursday that he had established contacts with their counter-espionage at that time.

Minister of Justice Erik Ninn-Hansen said in a television interview the Soviet diplomat had been "an extremely important source of information to our security."

He said his defection meant that "probably the most important source of information" on Soviet spying has been lost to Western counter-intelligence.

Foreign Secretary Sir Geoffrey Howe called Gordievski's defection and the subsequent dismantling of the Soviet spy network in Britain "a very substantial coup" for British intelligence, repeatedly rocked by treachery within its own ranks since World War II.

A Foreign Office statement said Gordievski, 46, had pointed out the Soviet spies and had been granted political asylum because he "wished to become a citizen of a democratic country and live in a free society."

Alexei Nikiforov, a spokesman for the Soviet Embassy in London, said the British action was "without foundation whatsoever." He said it contradicted the desire expressed by Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher for improved relations with Moscow.

Anticipating a possible retaliatory expulsion of British diplomats from Moscow, the Foreign Office said any retaliation by the Soviet Union "would be entirely without justification," and said Britain "would take a very serious view" of such action.

One British specialist on Soviet affairs said the defection of Gordievski might be linked to last month's desertion of a top West German counter-espionage agent, who could have known about the Soviet operative's undercover work for the West.

Peter Reddaway, a senior lecturer in political science at the London School of Economics, said Gordievski may have been forced to drop his cover by the defection of Hans-Joachim Tiedge to East Germany.

"If Gordievski, the Soviet KGB man here, had been working with the British for some time prior to his defection, he might have been afraid that somehow Tiedge would have known about that," Reddaway said.

Asked what damage Britain had suffered from the 25 alleged spies, Howe said: "It's clearly serious. They were engaging in intelligence activities of a kind and on a scale that was unacceptable, and this action (the mass expulsion) is therefore necessary for the defense of national security."

3rd world suffers Bible shortage

NEW YORK (AP) — Bible translators printed 25 million copies of Scripture in African and Asian languages last year but said that was still not enough to keep up with the explosive growth of Christianity in the developing world.

In Africa, some converts are buying the Bible on the black market, said John Dendor-Samuel, who spent 22 years in Africa helping translate the Bible into African tongues. The Christian population there is growing by "leaps and bounds," according to the World Council of Churches

"At least in one case, I know a person paid the equivalent of 40 British pounds (about $55) for a copy of the Bible," said Dendor-Samuel, vice president of the Summer Institute of Linguistics in Dallas.

The Institute is one of several church organizations in the United States dedicated to translating the Bible from the original Hebrew and Greek texts into other languages.

The institute has some 2,000 linguists and 3,500 supporting personnel currently working on translating the Bible into 200 African languages, Dendor-Samuel said.

originally intended for employees, Snyder physicians suggested other individuals could utilize the information. Plans now call for the publication to be distributed to employees, hospital auxiliary members, physicians, hospital patrons or "anyone" in the community who wishes a copy.

Minemier hopes to eventually expand the newsletter to include medical articles and to highlight accomplishments attained by hospital staff and local physicians. "We hope to make it our progress notes to the community and hope that it will provide incentive to our employees too," she said.

Minemier added that possible long-range projects include a hospital-sponsored health fair and a mock disaster drill. "We also plan to try to do a lot more community teaching in areas like women and medicine, geriatrics and death and dying," she said.

She is also developing a "birthing package" of services to new mothers who use the hospital's birthing room.

"We are also trying to come up with ways to let the community know what is already available. We want to better inform the public about services that are available now," she added.

She emphasized, "We're also trying to utilize suggestions and ideas from hospital staffers."

Originally from Pennsylvania, she received a bachelor of science degree in marketing from Penn State.

She and her husband Dave, a petroleum engineer with Chevron, have lived in Snyder for three years.

Trespass noted at Towle pool

Police investigated Thursday a possible criminal trespass incident in Towle Park.

Park manager Jimmy Ward filed the complaint at 4:03 p.m.

He told police that he believed that someone had entered the office area of the Towle Park Pool without his permission.

3 jailed here, one for assault

Snyder police jailed three subjects on misdemeanor charges Thursday including one for assault.

An 18-year-old male subject was arrested shortly after 7:15 p.m. Thursday in connection with a complaint filed by a second man who said he had been assaulted on the parking lot of Furr's Supermarket Wednesday evening.

A personal disagreement between the two is thought to have prompted the incident.

City police also jailed one suspect for driving while intoxicated and one for public intoxication Thursday night.

Ragin' Tigers host Dunbar at 8 tonight

A large crowd is expected at Tiger Stadium tonight, where the Snyder High School Ragin' Tigers play their first home game of the 1985 season.

Snyder goes into the 8 o'clock contest with a 1-0 record after defeating Big Spring 42-28 a week ago.

The Tigers' opponent, Lubbock Dunbar, is also 1-0.

Tonight has been designated "Snyder Night" by coaches and Snyder Tiger Booster Club members. Fans are urged to wear gold.

Coach Dennis Tomlin called tonight's game the biggest Snyder has had since he and his staff have taken over the program.

"This is the biggest week and this game will be the biggest, to this point. We'll find out a little more about where we are as a team this week," said Tomlin. "Dunbar is picked in the top two in that district. They'll be tough."

Dunbar has good all-around talent, led by major college prospects Brian Jones and Nelson Pearson.

"Their middle linebacker (Jones) is 6-3 and 210 and is being looked at by a lot of major colleges," said Tomlin. "On the other side, they've got a prospect in their top running back (Pearson). To have success against Dunbar, you have to control those two guys."

Pearson, of whom Tomlin said is "very fast" is 5-11, 160. He rushed for over 1,000 yards last season. Both he and Jones are seniors.

Also lending experience and talent to the Panther roster are linemen Robert Watson (6-2, 210) and Stacy Jones (6-4, 220) and cornerback Dewayne Gibson. All five players were starters on Dunbar's District 1-4A championship team a year ago.

This will be the fourth meeting between the two teams since 1982 and all three previous games have been close - at least through three quarters. Because of Dunbar's size and numbers, however, the fatigue factor has taken its toll.

Coach Tomlin believes his team could be better prepared for that this time around, however.

"We match up with them in size better than we have before. We like to think we're a more physical team this year, too," said the coach. "And, we plan on resting our kids as much as possible. We played 44 of 48 kids in the game with Big Spring."

Snyder will go with basically the same lineup as against Big Spring. Tailback Justin Webb, despite suffering a shoulder bruise in the Big Spring game and missing workouts early this week, is listed as a starter by the Tiger coaches. Webb rushed for 167 yards on 21 carries last week.

Tomlin said workouts could not have gone better this week.

"We've had our best workouts of the year so far," he said. "The kids have really been paying attention and are picking up what the coaches are telling them. We've always had a good attitude and enthusiasm in our workouts, but we've never been as sharp as we have this week."

Snyder Night promoted tonight at Tiger Stadium

Forget Friday the 13th, tonight is Snyder Night at Tiger Stadium.

"The team is inviting all the townspeople out to watch them play," said Coach Dennis Tomlin. "The team promises their fans a fired-up, exciting ball game."

The Ragin' Tigers, 1-0, take on Lubbock Dunbar at 8 p.m. in a non-district ballgame. It is the first home game of the season for the Tigers, who defeated Big Spring on the road a week ago.

The Snyder Tiger Booster Club has urged fans to wear gold colors for the game. The club will be selling shirts, caps and bumper stickers at the game, as well as club memberships.
