Largest Market Organization In World Is Okehd

Federal Farm Board Joins 150 Representatives Of Cotton Cooperatives In Approving Proposal

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 11. —Approval for establishment of the largest cooperative marketing organization in the world was received today by the Federal Farm Board from 150 representatives of cotton cooperatives and leaders of the cotton business.

The agency—strictly a marketing bureau—will be organized by the government and its policies directed by the government's farm board.

Plan Agreed On. The plan was agreed upon today at a cotton congress here. Alexander Legge, chairman of the board, said the American Cotton Growers' Exchange will be reorganized and incorporated by the government for $20,000,000, which is $10,000,000 more than was granted for organization of a grain marketing agency.

Stock in the association will be sold to cotton growers and the law will restrict sale of the stock to farmers only. There are more than 2,000,000 cotton growers in America, and the board hopes to organize and control all in the agency.

Control Indirect. Government control of the organization will be indirect, as the farm board is not allowed to hold stock in such corporations. State exchanges will give notes to the board for loan of money needed, and stock will be issued for sale to growers.

SUPPORT PLEDGED

Farm Bureau Is Favorable To Federal Board

CHICAGO, Dec. 11. —The American farm bureau today pledged its support to the federal farm board.

The action was taken in a resolution adopted at the closing session of the organization's eleventh annual convention, which elected Samuel H. Thompson of Quincy, Ill., president, for the third consecutive time, and chose Boston for its 1930 meeting.

"We pledge support to the federal farm board in all efforts to secure the broadest possible benefits to agriculture in the control of agricultural surplus, seasonal or otherwise, and in making the tariff effective on all farm crops," the resolution read. "Should it be found necessary to amend the agricultural marketing act to accomplish these purposes, we pledge our unqualified support in so doing."

Chinese Panic Stricken By False Reports Of Rebels' Approach; Forces Thrust Back Near City

SHANGHAI, Dec. 11. —China tonight continued a caudron of revolt against the Nationalist government.

Many thousands were reported killed or wounded in a battle for possession of Canton.

Rebels and Loyalists battled in Honan and Anhwei provinces.

False Reports Made. Thousands of Chinese made panic-stricken by apparently false reports of rebels' approach against the native section of Shanghai were prevented by armed white police from entering the city's foreign section for safety.

Nanking, capital of Nationalist China, was virtually denuded of foreigners.

Rebels, who had fought the Nationalist defenders of Canton since Monday night were halted at least temporarily and thrust back after penetrating the Loyalist lines to within seven miles of the city. The famous "Ironside division," which led the rebel attack, was said to have lost 5,000 men, captured in a Nationalist trap while retreating.

Severe Fighting Reported. Severe fighting was reported 50 miles north of Nanking between Pukow mutineers and loyal government troops. The wounded streamed into Nanking. The Loyalists were reported holding a line with three divisions and one regiment, against an attack begun by the mutineers.

South Plains Advertising Campaign Reaps Results

Many Farms of Area Being Sold Check Up Reveals

PRELIMINARY WORK on a survey for checking results of the national advertising campaign being conducted by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce to bring more farmers into the South Plains section of the state, shows many new tracts of land are being sold this fall, and that much building is in progress over the section with the new farmers preparing homes in which to live while cultivating their newly acquired farms.

Following a check up with local land agents, which was made by officials of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, some time ago, Garnet Reeves, publicity manager of the organization has just returned from a two day trip to a number of towns in the western part of the South Plains section to check with other land agents, real estate men, lumber yards and other sources to determine the number of new tracts of land sold, the amount of building on the newly sold farms, and to get other information.

Information obtained on this trip from Anton, Littlefield, Amberst, Sudan, Mulshoe, Morton, Levelland and Snyder indicates that the estimate of 600 new farms sold since August 1 this year is considerably low.

Receiver Appointed For Defunct Southland Bank

Ira Weekly to Find Exact Amount of Money Missing

EXACT AMOUNT of depositors' loss when J. M. Pope, owner of the Bank of Southland, charged with absconding last week, had not been determined, according to reports last night from Leon Moses, county attorney of Garza county. A petition was filed asking for a receiver to be appointed to investigate the condition of the bank and yesterday it was announced that Ira Weekly, of Post, had been selected.

Mr. Weekly will start at once upon his investigations in an effort to determine the exact loss. Pope disappeared from Southland about ten days ago leaving the vault to the bank locked and it was not until two days later that the time lock could be operated. The institution was closed the following Tuesday by Miss Alice Hord, assistant cashier, when it was discovered that enough cash to operate was not on hand.

Pope has not been heard from and his whereabouts remain a mystery.

Colleges And Jails Under Same Classification In Census Blanks; Dr. Barr Begins Work Today

there will be 90 enumeration districts under Dr. Barr's direction, and each of these will require possibly one enumerator.

The 17 counties which are to be visited are Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, Haskell, Stonewall, Kent, Garza, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, Gaines, Fisher, Dawson, Scurry and Fisher.

With the population appreciably more concentrated, the handling of the vast area is complicated. Each of the workers will make a daily report. See CENSUS WORK Page 3

Three Men To Be Sentenced Today By Judge Atwell

Trio Charged With Transportation Of Stolen Cars From Oklahoma To Texas—One Pleads Guilty

Three men will be sentenced this morning by Judge Wm. H. Atwell in the Lubbock division of Federal court, following verdicts of guilty this week. All of them were charged with transportation of a stolen automobile from Oklahoma into Texas.

W. H. Murphy and Richard W. Byrns, were both found guilty yesterday afternoon in a joint trial. They pleaded not guilty. Donald M. Bridges will be sentenced upon a plea of guilty.

No cases have been docketed for today's session but it was said last night that the court possibly would take up hearings on bankruptcy cases.

Wednesday morning Judge Atwell issued a decree favoring the defendants in the case of Frank E. Brown versus John S. McMurry et al. In that petition Mr. Brown, a resident of Holbrook, Ariz., sought recovery of 250 one-year-old steers, which he alleges he had sold to the defendant for a consideration of $12,947.10. His claim for recovery of the steers was based upon charges that a sale made for the above consideration was returned and marked "insufficient funds," after delivery of the stock.

To Spread Facts On Distribution

Garnet Reeves Represents Lubbock At Dallas Meeting; Effort Made To Secure Facts Of Manufacturers

Forces were organized at a meeting at Dallas Monday to spread the facts about the first national census on distribution, in an effort to secure complete, accurate and immediate reports from manufacturers and distributors. Garnet Reeves, publicity manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce represented Lubbock at the meeting.

John E. Palmer, chief in charge of the census information for the Federal Census Bureau, was the principal speaker at the meeting which was attended by a large number of civic leaders from points over Texas and Louisiana.

Methods Disputed. "The 'dog-eat-dog' methods in business are being displaced by the realization that a business can not succeed unless others are successful," Palmer said.

Palmer pointed out that the census was being taken not as a benefit to the government but as a benefit to, and at the request of, American business, that has come to realize the vital need for this kind of statistics. He compared the present methods of business to ship afloat on an uncharted sea.

"There is no such thing as over production," Palmer declared, "it is merely waste of distribution."

President Of Pennsylvania Manufacturing Co. Named To Post By Governor Of State; Fills Vacant Seat

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 11. —The seat in the United States senate made vacant by refusal of that body to seat William S. Vare, a resident of Holbrook, Ariz., sought recovery of 250 one-year-old steers, which he alleges he had sold to the defendant for a consideration of $12,947.10. Gov. John S. Fisher tonight signed a commission appointing Grundy to the senatorship. The naming of Grundy, who is president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' association and a power in the republican party in Pennsylvania, will give this state two seats in the senate for the first time since March 4, 1927, when the term of George Wharton Pepper expired, provided the senate accepts the nomination.

In announcing the appointment, the governor said Grundy had agreed to accept the commission, and that it was made with the distinct understanding he would be a candidate for the republican nomination for United States senate at the primary election in May. The commission signed by the governor expires in January, 1931.

Vare has announced that he is in the fight for the seat "to the finish."

Control Is Wrested From Mutinous Convicts At Auburn After Hours Of Rioting; Warden And Guards Seized

Several Hundred Heavily Armed Guardsmen And Police Quell Skirmish; Five Prisoners Reported Killed By Machine Gun Fire From State Troopers

(By Associated Press) AUBURN, N. Y., Dec. 11.—After hours of rioting, a besieging force of guards and police tonight wrested control of Auburn prison from convicts, leaving a death toll unofficially estimated at twelve.

The mutinous convicts had seized the warden, Edgar S. Jennings, and seven guards and killed the principal keeper, George A. Durnford, before the law after six hours of battling, gained the upper hand.

A mopping up with occupation of the prison yards and part of the cell blocks by several hundred heavily armed guards and police. Skirmishes incidental to the search of cell blocks, shops and offices brought a known total death of six convicts.

Late this afternoon, Chief of Police M. L. Cadin of Syracuse, acting in the quelling of the riot, reported that five other prisoners had been killed by machine gun fire in fighting in the south wing of the building.

Included among the death convicts, Cadin said, was Stephen Pawlask, Buffalo criminal, who figured as ring leader in the riot last summer. Ernest Pavesi, another ring leader in the previous riot, was included in the death list by Cadin.

The machine guns, according to Cadin, were in the hands of state troopers. A half dozen guards were shot or gassed when, under cover of a gas attack, Warden Jennings and the seven guards were snatched from the clutch of a score of convicts who held them hostage. Two other guards were reported to be held captive by the inmates, with word they would be executed if safe conduct from the prison was not granted their captors.

New Members Of San Souci Club Honored With Dance

Christmas Motif Is Emphasized In Elaborate Decorations; Geraldine Smith, J. C. Alexander Lead March

Function Is Held Wednesday Evening In Up-Town Dance Palace; Novelty Dances Given At Intermission; Girls From High School Serve Punch

AMONG the most elaborate functions of the season was the Christmas dance given by the San Souci club, girls' social organization of Texas Technological college, to honor new members Wednesday evening in the Up-Town Dance Palace.

In front of the building was a large lighted sign, in red and green, bearing the words, "San Souci." The Yuletide season was suggested in all particulars of the decorations for the ballroom, while a large chandelier was fashioned of silver tinsel, red bells and bright ornaments. It was made especially lovely by the reflection of many colored lights, which were used on a miniature Christmas tree in the center.

A red taper was placed on each post of the room, the posts themselves being draped in red and enfolded with mistletoe and cedar. In decorated booths and in other appropriate places in the room were arranged tables, covered with red and green and centered with greeniums.

New members of the club were seated at eight tables on the platform, which was attractively decorated with flowers and floor lamps. George Francis' orchestra was seated in front of the platform.

During the intermission, guests were asked to be seated at the tables, and all lights except candles and spotlights were turned off. Then the following dancing pupils of Mrs. D. K. Boudurant, accompanied by Mrs. Boudurant at the piano, gave an interpretation of "Singing in the Rain"; Louise Pearce, Margaret Stanton, Mildred Price, Sophie Bender, Sophia Farnorman and Frances Gunn. Three of the group were dainty pink costumes, while three were frocked in pink. These are the club colors.

Following the first number, the new members of the club were introduced by Mrs. Boudurant, who was hostess for the evening. Then other pupils of Mrs. Walker, Mildred Price and Frances Gunn interpreted "Ain't Misbehavin'"; and Lucille Walker closed the program with a classical fantasy dedicated to the new members to the San Souci club.

Miss Geraldine Smith, president, and J. C. Alexander led the grand march and were followed by officers, pledges and new members.

Punch was served throughout the evening by a group of high school girls, frocked in white organdy aprons and caps. The girls were John Anna Boyd, May Tom Simmons, Maxine Clark, Louise Pearce, Frances Snyder, Edith Phipps, Joan Sears and Reba Wayne Williams. Mildred Price and Margaret Stanton were the cigarette girls.

Chaperones for the occasion were the sponsor, Mrs. R. M. Chittwood, and the following patronesses: Miss Della Wilkerson and Mesdames Floyd Beall, L. C. Mardgen, John Chrysler, Earl Hunt, J. E. Vickers and D. K. Boudurant.

Westerners Undaunted By Reported Power Of Jackets

Lubbock Squad In Perfect Mental And Physical Condition For Fray With Cleburne Eleven Here Friday

Twenty-Eight Yellow Jackets Arrive Here Early Today And Take Final Workout On Tech Field This Afternoon; Tickets Going Fast

In perfect mental and physical condition, the Westerners of Lubbock High school are not in the least perturbed over the odds given the Cleburne Yellow Jackets in the battle here Friday afternoon on the college gridiron for the unofficial football honors among Texas high schools.

Confident that their famed fighting spirit will overcome the greatest of adversities, the Fray-Moragan crew worked up training Wednesday afternoon in the best of spirits and determined to uphold the good name of West Texas football in their inter-sectional combat with the Central Texas crew.

Jackets Here Today
Coach Howard Parker and 28 Yellow Jackets will arrive in Lubbock early today and take a final limbering up drill on the Matador turf this afternoon. The Westerners will likewise put the finishing touches on the attack that will be centered on the Cleburne machine tomorrow.

The Westerner club worked like clockwork in Wednesday's practice, clicking off plays with beautiful precision. The full category of tricks that will be unleashed on the Yellow Jackets were lined up and the entire team came through with all cylinders responding. A lengthy scrimmage against Cleburne plays and a snappy signal drill were followed by a final session on fundamentals—blocking, charging and tackling.

Several reserves who have seen little action since the first of the season are likely to break into the Lubbock lineup tomorrow against the District Four invaders. H. Britton, a versatile halfback who was transferred here from a Dallas high school, is due to take a hand in the Westerners' attack. Britton is fast and a capable blocker.

Reserves May Play
The members of the first string line that have played through the majority of the games during the last half of the season are due to give way to some capable reserves tomorrow. Several of these reserves have shown a marked improvement recently. Welch may be expected to take McGee's place at one of the guard posts and Williams is likely to see service at one of the tackle jobs. Watson and Hardberger are due to see some action at ends. In case Yancy Price is shifted to the backfield to assist the regular ball tongs, Hardberger is certain to fill his wing position.

One change was indicated for the Cleburne lineup in a message received last night from the Yellow Jacket camp. Alva Beck, stellar jacket pivot man, is mentioned to start at center in the place of Hagler. The other positions are intact with Hunter and Peyton at ends; Roper and Rhome at tackles; Drennan and Strickland at guards; Hopkins at quarter; Brandon and Stephenson at halves and Captain Jack Langston at fullback.

Pep Squad to Assist
The ticket sales committee, composed of twenty Lubbock business men, will be assisted today by the high school pep squad, led by Mildred Price and Martha Allen. The high school pep squad will be turned loose on the business district to make a final canvass of local fans. Officials for the benefit game, who have offered their services gratis are: W. G. McMillan, Vice Mayor, B. F. Condray and Rhodes Ingerton.

Athens Hornets To Play Sandies
AMARILLO, Dec. 11. (AP)—With football definitely in the background, basketball fans of the Panhandle are looking forward to a visit December 30 and 31 by Coach Jimmy Kitz and his national champion Athens High quintet. The Hornets, winners of the state and national titles last year, will play Amarillo high both nights. Spectators are expected from many miles around to see the tall East Texas boys in action.

Charge Railroads Violate Crew Law
AUSTIN, Dec. 11. (AP)—The State Railroad commission today sent letters to officials of six Texas railroads asserting those roads were violating the full crew law as interpreted by the attorney general's department. The attention of the commission has been directed to the fact that in some instances you are operating motor passenger cars on your lines in violation of the full crew law as interpreted by the attorney general, the letter stated. "This is to advise that the commission will take immediate steps to see that this law is enforced."

Letters were sent to the Missouri Pacific, Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf, Panhandle and Santa Fe and St. Louis Southwestern.

Four Major Leaguers Traded Back To Original Love

Cleburne Well Fortified At Extreme Positions

Dan Peyton, left, Eldon Pine, center, and Eugene Hunter, right, are the lads who will guard the Cleburne flanks when the Yellow Jackets line up against the Lubbock Westerners Friday afternoon on the college gridiron. Peyton is certain to start on the right wing for the Jackets while the other extreme post will be filled by Hunter and Pine. The first named is an all-district end.

Texas Aggies To Play Tough Grid Schedule In 1930

Games With Three Championships Carded For Farmers; Four Inter-Conference Tilt Are On Program

(Special To The Avalanche) COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 11.—Games with the champions of three major athletic conferences feature the gridiron program of Coach Matty Bell's Texas Aggies in 1930, according to the schedule announced by James Sullivan, business manager of athletics at the A. and M. College of Texas. The schedule announced by Mr. Sullivan includes the following: five of them with members of the Southwest Conference and four of them inter-conference clashes.

Heading the list of inter-sectional tilts, as well as the list of games with champions of 1929, is the clash with the Nebraska Cornhuskers, coached by Coach Dana X. Bible, former Aggie mentor who resigned last year to take up the reins as head coach at the University of Nebraska. The Cornhuskers this year won the championship of the Big Six Conference and are expected to be a serious contender for the title this year. The game will be played at Lincoln, Neb., October 4, and will be the second contest of the season for Coach Bell's charges.

Meet Tulane Greenies.
The other two championship teams the Aggies will play are the Tulane Greenies, undefeated and untied victors of the Southern Conference. The Horned Frogs will come to College Station, October 18, and the Aggies will meet the Greenies in Dallas, October 11. Other non-conference games to be played by the Aggies will be with Southwestern university of the Texas coast, September 27, when the Aggies will open their 1930 season; and the Centenary Gentlemen of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic association, at College Station, November 1.

The Aggies will open their conference schedule with the T. C. U. Horned Frogs October 18 and close it with the Texas Longhorns at Austin Thanksgiving Day. In the intervening time, the Belmen will meet the Arkansas Razorbacks, Rice Ovals and Southern Methodist Mustangs in a series of conference games broken only once, that November 1 by the tilt with Centenary.

Five On Foreign Soil.
Five of the Aggies' nine grid battles will be fought on foreign fields, the Tulane and S. M. U. games at Dallas, the Nebraska contest at Lincoln, the clash with Arkansas at Fayetteville, Ark., and the Longhorn classic at Austin. The other four games will be played within the new concrete Kyle Field stadium at College Station.

Following is the schedule announced by Mr. Sullivan: September 27, Southwestern university at College Station. October 4, University of Nebraska at Lincoln, Neb. October 11, Tulane at Dallas. Junction Ruled Out Of B Chase

Granger Ordered By State Bureau To Take Place Of Junction In Inter-District Play-Off

AUSTIN, Dec. 11. (AP)—The State Intercollegiate League bureau today ruled Junction out of the inter-district football playoff on account of having played an ineligible man and ordered Granger to take Junction's place in a game with Schulerburg to determine the Class B championship of Districts 12, 15, 18 and 22.

Granger was defeated by Junction in the first inter-district clash. Granger protested the playing of Captain Gay Munn of Junction, State Intercollegiate League officials today held that he was over age and ordered the Granger-Junction game forfeited to Granger. The hearing was held promptly at the request of the Junction superintendent who wanted the matter cleared up before his team played again.

Granger and Schulerburg representatives met at Lubbock to make arrangements for the game. Roy B. Henderson, athletic director of the Intercollegiate League, said he did not know what the effect of the ruling would be on the race in district 12, of which Junction was a member. He said he thought Junction would still be the champion inasmuch as a district hearing on the question had been held and Munn found eligible.

Rare Degree

B. of New York, above, in recognition of his character building influence as coach of the University of Mexico football squad. Root found the problem of teaching abstinence from alcohol and tobacco a difficult one, but it finally was overcome among his players. He was forced to employ an interpreter in his work and in addition had to serve as financial adviser to the university in the matter of sports.

Cards And Phils Figure In Trades At Annual Confab

Grover Alexander Returns To Phillies; Sammy Hale Traded To St. Louis Browns; Peel To Cards

BY BRIAN BELL Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK, Dec. 11. (AP)—Sixteen major leaguers were represented in the annual baseball meetings closing here today but only four contributed to the news of the day and these outside the council chambers. The St. Louis and Philadelphia clubs of both leagues completed transfers of players which will send four athletes back to their former baseball allegiance.

The St. Louis Cardinals traded Grover Cleveland Alexander, veteran pitcher and world series hero, to the Phillies, with Harry McCurdy, former White Sox catcher, for Homer Peel, outfielder, former Houston Buff, and Bob McGraw, pitcher. Alexander the Great entered the major league with the Phillies.

Schang To Macks
The St. Louis Browns followed by a trade by which Wally Schang, hard hitting catcher, will go to the Philadelphia Athletics, with Sammy Hale, a West Texas boy infielder, moving to St. Louis in exchange.

Alexander rejoins the Phillies after an absence of 12 years, during which he pitched for the Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals. Schang becomes a Mackman again after the same term of exile from Philadelphia. He started his major league career in 1913 under the colors of Connie Mack and since 1917 has caught for the Red Sox, Yankees and Browns.

Peel Back To St. Louis
Homer Peel who went to the Phillies from the Cardinals in the trade sending Jimmy Wilson to St. Louis, now returns to the Breckon, Rickey & Co., system. Bob McGraw, the other player involved, was also a Cardinal at one time.

The Phillies whose catching staff was reduced to a minimum by the death of Walter Lerman, now are well stocked with reserves, for in addition to getting the services of the capable McCurdy, the release of Al Cooper, a tall, hard hitting catcher, was procured by purchase from Birmingham.

There was little of public interest accomplished in the league meetings. President E. S. Barnard said:

Cy Leland Has Brand New Name

(Special To The Avalanche) FORT WORTH, Dec. 11.—Students of Texas Christian University have found a new name for Cy Leland, Horned Frog speed demon, voted the most valuable player in the Southwest Conference for 1929. "Change" is the name the students have hung on Cy. If that doesn't mean much to you in connection with the fastest man on a football field, here's the chart: Change is loose money that goes fast!

Mustangs To Have Motion Pictures On Irish Attack

Notre Dame Will Have Few Secrets From S. M. U. In Inter-sectional Clash At South Bend Oct. 4

DALLAS, Dec. 11. (AP)—The Notre Dame eleven, tricky as it is, will have few secrets from Southern Methodist university when the two teams clash October 4 at South Bend.

Coach Ray Morrison of the Mustangs has arranged to obtain a set of motion pictures of the micks in action during the past season so he and his players may study Knute Rockne's trickery at their leisure.

By running the reel very slowly and backing it up frequently to get the details of intricate plays and formations, the Ponies will learn exactly how the Irish affect their magic.

While northern and eastern coaches have used the movies in this way for several years, the idea is said to be new in this section.

Baylor and Aggie Athletic Teams May Meet in 1931

DALLAS, Dec. 11. (AP)—The meeting of the Southwest Conference here Monday failed to effect a reconciliation between the Baylor university and Texas A. and M. college athletic departments. The two schools will not meet in any sport for at least another year.

Since all of the students who were attending the two institutions at the time of the rupture have graduated it had been hoped the breach would be closed. There is a possibility the Bears and Aggies will resume relations in 1931.

Santa's Great Work Shops Explored

Names Of Lubbock Youngsters Are Found By Kleinschmidt As He Looks Over St. Nick's Castle

By CAPT. F. E. KLEINSCHMIDT
Special Correspondent to the Avalanche-Journal and Head of Expedition to Home of Santa Claus
SANTA'S CASTLE at the North Pole, Dec. 11.—(By Wireless)—It seemed we traveled for miles and miles through the gigantic gift shop, but we never grew tired looking at the many different gifts, for there is always something new, unique or marvelous in the new creations and inventions Santa produces in the toy line every Christmas.

Finally, Santa said: "Now let us start at the bottom, and he led the way to a moving stairway and descending we had glimpses of floor after floor of all kinds of rooms where armies of gnomes and fairies were working, shaping wood and steel, assembling molding, painting, and packing things."

Chief Gnome Found
At last we came to the bottom.
The first thing we noticed the chief gnome, who greeted Santa, and all his fellow workers, were dressed in machinists' or engineers' uniforms.

"This is my great power house," Santa explained. "You have all heard of the axle of the earth which points to the Polar Star, and on which the world spins around.
I have connected my machinery with this axle and the power that spins the earth drives all my machinery, the lathes and saws and drills, for you know it takes a lot of power to manufacture toys for over 50 million children each year."

Great turbines were turning huge fly wheels. Gigantic dynamos emitted electric flashes and sparks and pulling long leather belts. Hydraulic presses were pushing up huge pistons, wheels on wheels and inside of wheels, cables and shafts and belts, buzzing and turning and moving in all directions, but there was order about everything and you felt the great mind of a genius behind it.

We went up again, but this time on an elevator and as we passed one floor after another we noticed instead of numbers the names of different countries. On the top floor we read "United States" and at a sign from Santa the gnomes stopped the elevator.

Records Are Found Here was a large room with countless desks on which gnomes were writing in books. Shelf upon shelf was piled with books, like a huge library, but they were not storybooks, but ledgers, numbered and alphabetically arranged. The room was divided into sections and each section bore the name of a state in the Union. The State of Rhode Island occupied only a small space, but so did North Dakota and New Mexico, while Texas looked up exactly the 15th part of the whole room. You can easily guess the reason. It was the size of the State that counted and the number of children in each state and the books were records in which the deeds of the children were recorded and how they improved from year to year.

"You are from Lubbock, and here you are," Santa laughed, and sure enough we found Lubbock labeled.

"Now let's see," said Santa, and he took a book, turned over the pages and to our amazement there was written "Avalanche-Journal" wants to make the boys and girls happy in Lubbock. Send out an invitation to Santa Claus land."

And there were the names of the boys and girls who live in Lubbock.

Mrs. K. Astounded
"How is this possible?" Mrs. K. exclaimed. "How I manage to keep watch over the children?" Santa asked. "Well, you will find out before you leave and see my Magic Observatory."

Then Santa asked the gnomes
"What has little Josie Walker done today?" The gnome turned over some pages and then read:
"She helped her mother wash the dishes, swept the kitchen and minded the baby for an hour."

"Mark on the margin—A walking doll with real hair."
I glanced over some of the books marked Lubbock and there saw the names of Marian Turner, Joe Stanley Smith and "Horse-Fly Atcheson."

The world is increasing in population and is getting better all the time, and with it my work grows larger and larger every year. It makes me happier the longer I live, but you know," and Santa's eyes twinkled, "the children who give me more work and who keep the pens of my gnomes the busiest in chalking up good deeds are the Boy Scouts. Look at that row of books all marked "Boy Scouts." I ever since that wonderful organization started, I have had to put on a thousand extra gnomes each year.

Travelers Are Tired
We were somewhat tired from our last ride, and our eyes and minds were getting sleepy from all the wonderful sleep for the castle certainly never had expected any guests and the beds we had seen were so tiny no human being could possibly sleep in them. But Santa who is quick to anticipate the wants and wishes of children had already provided for our needs.

Gnomes and fairies had prepared fairlylike bedrooms and our Eskimoes stood gaping in wonder when they beheld their quarters.

Mrs. K. Excited
Mrs. K. ran from one piece of furniture to another. Pulled open drawers, looked into the mirrors and fingered the gossamer like curtains and lace the fairies had put up for her and even a powder puff, curling iron and perfume were there.

All at once she gave a gasp and sat down on the bed laughing until she could not speak. "I could not see anything to laugh at, but a beautiful eiderdown blanket covered with silky lace, until she pointed to the foot of the bed and I examined it closely, and above all things, the beautiful wrought iron legs were thick colored candy sticks. The bed panels that looked like polished bird's eye maple was taffy full of nuts. What looked like a wonderful mahogany dresser was made of chocolate and the knots were nuts. The mirrors were rock crystal candy. I recalled the fairy tale of Hansel and Gretel and the Witch who lived in a gingerbread house, but I never as a group up man expected to live in a similar house.

anger had faded out of them.

"Your name is Emil Sevier?" he asked at last, as cordially and easily as if he were addressing a fellow guest at Mrs. Rhodes' table.

"Your full name is Emil Sylvester Sevier, I believe?"

"How the devil do you know that?" the prisoner demanded, startled.

"Sylvester is my middle name, all right, but I don't like it, so I don't use it—sign my name Emil Sevier, or E. S. Sevier."

The manacled hands reached for the program, which Dundee politely permitted the prisoner to examine.

"Sevier," Dundee began quietly, "I see no use in wasting time. I know you want to get this business over with as badly as we do. Now listen to me courteously, please, without interrupting, and I promise you courtesy in return."

"I am not going to ask you, Sevier, if you were at the Rhodes House last Saturday night, for I know you were, and as I said, I don't want to waste time. . . . No, please! There's no use trying to protest, Sevier, for I have proof, and I am willing to show you the proof when the time comes. For several weeks you planned to rob Mrs. Emma Hogarth of the money she had, or was supposed to have, hidden in her room. . . . By the way, Sergeant Turner, was any large sum of money found in this man's possession when he was arrested?"

"He was too smart to be carrying it around with him," the detective sergeant answered, with poorly veiled contempt for the questioner.

"I never—"

"All right, Sevier," Dundee interrupted. "As I said, you planned for weeks to rob Mrs. Hogarth and you tried to get Cora Barker to help you do the job. She refused several times, the last occasion being Saturday night at the Little Queen theater. Once you tried alone—entering Mrs. Hogarth's room from your own room by means of a loosened board in the clothes closet. Mrs. Hogarth saw you and later warned the police that you were trying to rob her, and that her life as well as her money was in danger."

As Dundee spoke, very quietly, almost soothingly, the prisoner appeared to be shriveling up. But he obeyed Dundee; he did not speak. Only his eyes—held as if hypnotized—alternately denied, agreed or pleaded.

"On Saturday you announced your intention of going to Chicago to look for a new job, having been fired as violinist for the Little Queen. Early in the evening you checked your bag at the parcel room of the station, and shortly before 11 o'clock you told every one good-by at the theater. Then you went to the Rhodes House, bent on carrying out alone the scheme which you had planned for weeks. It was still too early for safety, however, so you managed to gain the shelter of the old greenhouse on the lawn, there to bide your time. As you waited you pleaded the new program for the Little Queen which you had picked up in the lobby that evening—just as you are pleading that one now."

The prisoner drew a shuddering breath and dropped the program with a gesture of fear and loathing. Before his trembling lips could form a lie, Dundee went on quietly, but relentlessly:

"A few minutes before 12 o'clock, Sevier, you believed the coast was clear. You crept out of the greenhouse, crossed the driveway and climbed to the second story of the house by means of the rose trellis on the west side of the porch. And although you are not a heavy man your weight broke one of the little slats in the trellis, and—I see by your hand—the thorns of the climbing rose scratched you rather badly."

"You had already possessed yourself of 'Dusty Rhodes' old tweed cap and you were wearing it when you entered Mrs. Hogarth's room and killed her. . . . No, wait!" he commanded sharply as Sevier gasped for words. "When you left that room by the window you were still wearing the cap, but you had removed it once to insert one of the parrot's green feathers beneath the lining, so that 'Dusty Rhodes' might be accused of your crime. . . . Keep your seat, Sevier!" he commanded sharply, as the prisoner struggled to his feet. Then, as Sevier sank back into his chair with strange docility, Dundee continued: "Dr. Weeks saw you running away from the Rhodes grounds, down the alley, at about a quarter after 12. Mr. Hogarth was murdered between 11:45 and 12 o'clock, Sevier, and—well, I think that's all," he concluded quietly.

"All!" Sevier tried to shout, but the word was a strangled sob in his throat. His manacled hands were at his collar, as if to help the words come out. "All! Well! Think you got me framed pretty, don't you? Well, I didn't do it. See? It's a pack of lies."

"Then why did you run away and hide for three days?" Dundee asked.

The Lubbock Morning Avalanche is not a luxury but as necessary as food. It brings THE WHOLE WORLD right before you.
You may never have the chance to see Hoover at Washington or King George at London or Mussolini at Rome. You may never see the stately Leviathan creep up to its pier in New York harbor and mingle with the nobles running the swiftest of the ship's reporters.
You may seldom see the white lights of old Broadway or the forensic battles on the floors of the legislature. You may have few acquaintances who can discuss the great issues of the day.
But with the Lubbock Morning Avalanche coming to your reading table every day, you are in touch with everything happening in this busy, interesting, thrilling world.

Mrs. White Feels It Her Duty To Make Statement

"Since taking Orgatone, I feel better in every way than I have in over a year," said Mrs. George White residing at 734 E. Pierce Street, while in conversation with the Orgatone representative a few days ago.

"I was in a dreadful condition when I began taking Orgatone," continued Mrs. White, "but I feel like a new woman now, and I want everybody to know what the medicine has done for me. I have suffered for over a year with stomach and liver trouble, and I was continually doctoring and taking medicine, but in place of getting better I kept getting worse. After eating a gas would form on my stomach and blast me up and make me miserable for hours, and my food didn't seem to do me a particle of good. I was so badly constipated that this caused me a great deal of worry and sometimes I was so nervous I could hardly sleep at all. Nothing seemed right to me and nothing helped me, and I had almost given up in despair."

"Orgatone turned the tide in my favor at once, and I began feeling better. Since using five bottles I had gained wonderfully, and I now feel full of life energy like I haven't felt before in a long time. I eat anything I want and nothing hurts me, and I sleep like a child every night. I'm not nervous. I'm sure, and the constipation is entirely relieved. I can now do all my house work without feeling the least bit tired. If all Orgatone has done for me isn't enough to make one praise it, I don't know what would be. I want my friends and everybody to know what wonderful medicine Orgatone is, and I take it my duty to humanity to give you my statement for publication."

Orgatone may be obtained in Lubbock at Bowen's Drug Store.

Cotton Fluctuates; Market Aimless

Little Desire To Trade In Cotton Market Wednesday

General Session Closes At Net Decline Of Four To Nine Points; Advance Is After Early Decline.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 11. (AP)—There was little desire to trade in cotton today and as a result prices fluctuated mildly. An early decline was followed by a moderate advance but the improvement lacked support and new lows were made in late trading. January contracts, which had recovered from 17.12 1/2 and ended and closed at 17.10, or 7 points net lower. The general market closed steady at net declines of 4 to 9 points.

With Liverpool cables 4 to 6 points lower than due, the local market opened easy. First trades showed losses of 4 to 5 points. March 17.38 and May 17.64, or 6 points below yesterday's close.

Buying Encouraged

Later the market encountered trade buying and covering and prices and under pressure of the demand active positions rallied moderately. March moved up to 17.48 and May 17.72, or 8 to 10 points above the low.

In the early afternoon the market lacked sustaining support and prices gradually eased to new lows for the day. Possibility of mill curtailment in Manchester added to the decline which carried March off to 17.37 and May to 17.62, or 10 to 11 points under the high. Final prices were at or near the low.

Several Leading Issues Take Dip In Trend Shifts

Stocks Drift Aimlessly On Weak Cross Currents Of Buying And Selling And Cautious Experiments

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER, Associated Press Financial Writer.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11. (AP)—Stock prices drifted aimlessly today on weak cross currents of buying and selling which represented little more than cautious experimentation by both speculators for the rise and the fall. After frequent shifts of trend, several leading shares dipped sharply. Sales were 3,897,300 shares, a moderate increase over yesterday.

The market appears to have reached a stalemate for the moment. More than a third of the trading of the past two months has been regained. The history of most previous bear markets of this century, showing sharp secondary relapses after about 45 per cent of the first declines had been regained, makes operators for the rise cautious at this period, but nevertheless optimism still predominates, and bearish efforts meet with meagre success.

The day's corporation and industrial news remained fairly favorable. The weekly steel trade reviews remained optimistic.

Credit was slightly firmer, call money holdings at 4 1/2 per cent, with no concessions in the outside market. Despite a slight sag in foreign exchange rates, a larger shipment of gold to England was rumored to have been negotiated. Time money was normally quoted a little easier at 4 3/4 to 5, but remained extremely dull.

were grouped about or converging on the prison to bar any last effort of the comparatively small group of convicts to escape. A group of power company workmen strung wire and erected flood lights in the prison yards to aid the small army watching from the walls.

Mutiny Is Fifth In Six Months

NEW YORK, Dec. 11. (AP)—Today's mutiny of convicts at Auburn which has occurred in penitentiaries in this country in the past six months. The outbreaks have taken the lives of 18 guards and prisoners, and caused prison property loss of more than a million dollars. Today's outbreak was the second at Auburn in the period.

Fifty long-term convicts attempted a wholesale delivery at Auburn one Sunday last July, when two-thirds of the guard force was off duty. Four prisoners were successful in their dash for freedom but others were driven back under heavy gun fire.

Reign Of Terror

For hours mutinous criminals created a reign of terror within the prison's walls, setting fire to buildings which resulted in more than $500,000 damage. Finally, with the aid of state troopers and police, the guards forced the rioters to surrender. Two convicts were killed, and 11 were wounded.

The Riot at Auburn occurred only a week after an outbreak at another New York state penitentiary—Clinton prison at Dannemora. Three convicts were killed in this mutiny when 1,500 desperate criminals rushed the guards. National guardsmen aided in quelling the disturbance.

Last August one prisoner was killed and three were injured at the Leavenworth, Kan., Federal penitentiary, when prisoners staged a disturbance in protest over the quality of their food.

Held Hostages

Closely resembling the present Auburn outbreak was the most serious of the other four riots, that at the Colorado State prison at Canon City, October 3. Seizing a number of guards, the Colorado prisoners held them as hostages and murdered one of them by one when officials refused to grant their demands for freedom.

Seven guards and five convicts were killed and the riot ended only when the leaders of the outbreak committed suicide after they saw their cause hopelessly lost.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11. (AP)—Eleven Newfoundland fishermen, captain, mate and crew of the schooner "Gander Day," arrived in New York today aboard the United States liner Republic, which picked them up before daylight last Friday after they had been blown 150 miles out to sea.

Passage Forecast

"We are highly pleased with the fact that the average farmer will not pay over 75 a year on a 100 acre farm. We confidently believe the bonds will carry in Slaton by a vote of three to one."

W. L. Bradley, president of the Security State bank of Idalou, is quoted as follows:

"I want to add my endorsement to the good roads bond program as sponsored by the Good Roads Association. I live in Idalou and am anxious for paved roads and, since this bond issue provides and the county commissioners issue that Idalou is being served, we are heartily for these bonds and hope to see them passed. I am particularly interested in the routes from Lubbock to Idalou."

O. L. Slaton Okays Issue

"Shall we vote $991,000 for paving three important highways through Lubbock county?" is the question contained in the opening sentence of the letter from O. L. Slaton, president of the First National bank, Lubbock. He continues: "That is the question that interests every tax payer in this county. It is a question that I am often asked. I want to say to my friends that I have studied the subject, costs and benefits, considerable study and that I am of the firm opinion that these bonds are for the best interests of Lubbock county and I shall vote for them."

"Every citizen should keep in mind that an average of about 100 miles of paved highways at a cost of around $10,000 per mile. That is a rare bargain for our country and is possible by reason of the fact that the state and Federal governments pay two-thirds of the cost of the bonds. I believe that these bonds carry by a large majority."

Maedgen Makes Statement

As president of the Lubbock National bank, C. E. Maedgen says: "I have read the advertisement in the Avanti stating the objections of Mr. Abernathy and others and feel that it is the duty of every citizen of Lubbock county, who has the real interest of the entire county at heart to carefully weigh both sides of the bond issue."

"We are all agreed that Lubbock county needs paved roads. These roads can not come by every day of the county. Their location is in the hands of the State Highway Department and we know that the department will locate them to the best advantage possible of the citizens of this county."

To Get Aid

"Lubbock county is getting state and Federal aid, or $2.50 for each $1.00 we vote, on approximately 75 miles of highway. We get dollar for dollar on the remainder. This means that we get around $2,500,000 of highways for the small sum of $991,000. I do not believe that any other county can make a mistake in accepting this situation and voting the bonds."

"I have studied the bond proposition from every angle and wish to inform my friends that I shall vote for the bonds, believing that they are the best thing for Lubbock county as a whole."

Stevens Favorable

From W. O. Stevens, vice-president of the Citizens National bank, is the following: "I have been asked by many friends as to how I will vote on the subject. I have carefully studied the bond benefits, have considered the cost and it gives me a great deal of pleasure to state that I will vote for the bonds. It is my opinion that their passage will be for the very best interest of Lubbock county."

"Of course the location of some of the roads will not please every one. No bond election was every unanimous, but it seems to me that the present bond issue is the fairest, cheapest and best that we have ever had."

Bond Issue

especially pleased with the fact that the bond petition provided specifically that the highways be paved by Idalou, Woodrow and Slaton. The highways all center in Lubbock, the center of the county. This plan guarantees that the roads, when paved, will serve all the towns of the county as they do at present.

South Plains

visited reported that a total of 312 new houses have been constructed in that time, the average cost of the improvements being approximately $1,000. This amount of building on the new homes totals approximately $312,000, which is the initial amount of money that has been released over the South Plains through the lumber yards. While the South Plains section was visited which is used as a basis for the belief that the estimate of 600 farms is correct.

Cash Payments Made

In addition to the $312,000 actually checked in the past two days as having been spent with the lumber yards of the South Plains on new buildings, a minimum of $480,000 has been paid as cash payments on the 600 farms, figuring the minimum of five dollars per acre on 800 quarter section tracts.

Furniture, groceries, hardware, implements and other necessities will also be purchased by these new comers which will swell the amount of money that they will bring in to add to the wealth of the South Plains.

Sales Improve

Land owners all over the section reported that sales this year since August 1 have been much better than the same period last year, one stating that from a 35 to a 40 per cent increase had been noted, while another stated that he had sold ten times as many tracts of land this year as last season over the same period.

Quite a number of new farmers are coming into the South Plains land every day now. The land agents report a big increase in the number of prospectors visiting here this year and expect a large number of those who come back to purchase later.

While the past four months have been good selling months, December, January and February are expected by a majority of the land agents to be better months for sales.

Hardware Company Looted Of $400 In Merchandise And $7 Is Taken From School Building Here

Continuing a series of robberies and attempts the Lubbock Hardware & Supply company Monday night was looted to the extent of approximately $400, according to reports from the sheriff's department yesterday. No clues as to identity of the robbers have been found.

Among the stolen merchandise were oxygen regulators, two electric drills, five electric torches, nine bonney wrenches and numerous minor articles. Entrance into the building was gained after a hole was drilled through the rear door and the bar dislodged.

Three local school buildings also were looted of articles valued at about $7 Tuesday night, leaving school property alone.

The desk of H. C. Bowlin, principal, at Central Ward school, was looted of $7, which was realized from the sale of books.

Supposedly trying to steal the proceeds of a minstrel show, the front door of the high school building was opened and the glass to the door of Supt. M. H. Duncan's office broken. Nothing but a five cent coin was missing.

Nothing was stolen from the K. Carter school, which was entered through a window.

A $5 fine each was assessed two young ladies in the city corporation court yesterday following filing of charges of petty theft, alleged to have been committed at City Drug Store, No. 2.

J. C. Levens, city prosecutor, announced yesterday that they were of well known families in this city but withheld their names. "Each stole a compact," he said, "and the value of the stolen merchandise is nominal."
