E. P. RUM RUNNER HANGS SELF

Woolley Expected to Take Stand at Dallas This Week

INDICATION IS CASE WILL GO ON FOR A WEEK

Defendant's Grief Is Told of by a Witness

DALLAS, Dec. 9, (U.P.)—Testimony of character witnesses in the Woolley trial again caused it to move slowly today. No afternoon session was held, with expectation that the defendant will testify next week.

Members of the jury were permitted to take any recreation they wanted over the week end and voted to get shoe shines.

Eddie Carroll, ambulance driver who answered the call when Mrs. Dorothy Joyner Woolley was killed, testified this morning that the defendant, Toy G. Woolley, seemed genuinely grieved.

The trial was expected to last another week. W. A. Hamilton, principal of the school at Alma, where Mae Carroll taught in 1923, said she could be believed.

ICKES STUDIES OIL PROPOSAL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9, (U.P.)—Secretary Ickes, oil code administrator, was completing study of a counter proposal to price fixing today, the plan having been submitted by dominant oil concerns.

The proposal was an agreement formed by 24 major firms to stabilize prices, limiting production and fixing a margin of profit for refiners and handlers from well to consumer.

Killing of Wolves Will Be Discussed

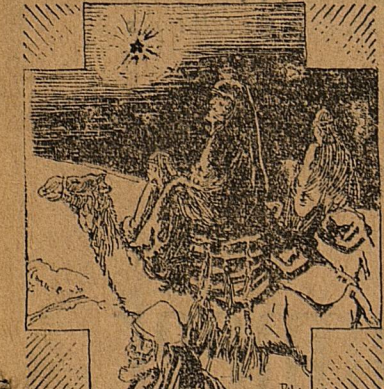

Ranchers are asked to meet at the chamber of commerce office at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon if they are interested in coyote killing. Eddie B. Ligon, assistant predatory animal control leader, will be in Midland at that time to take up with ranchers plans for a war on coyotes.

Santa Will Be Here Tomorrow

There he is! Nearly 1000 children will be making that cry Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. They'll be yelling "There he is" because they'll be seeing Santa Claus for the first time in 1933.

Old Santa sent a telegram Saturday from the North Pole to the Midland chamber of commerce and said he would be here on time Monday afternoon. He said he wanted to see what a fine city Midland is, so he will ride around town. He will start his ride on Main street at the T. & P. depot. Everybody in Midland, grownups as well as children, is invited to welcome St. Nick. He will have some candy for all the good children in Midland, he said.

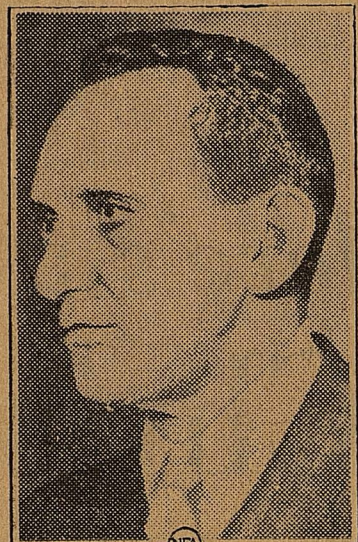

The Story of Christmas

And even as the shepherds gave praise for the birth of their Saviour, there came out of the east unto Jerusalem Three Wise Men, saying, Where is He that is born king of the Jews? We have seen His star in the east.

12 SHOPPING DAYS will CHRISTMAS

Trial Judge

Judge Joseph B. David, above, Chicago criminal court judge, will preside during the trial of Dr. Alice L. Wynekoop, charged with murder in the slaying of her daughter-in-law, Rheta. Trial has been set for Jan. 4.

GIFT CARLOAD OF CALVES SHIPPED

A large carload of calves averaging good quality was donated and shipped by business and cattlemen of Midland and surrounding territory to the Methodist orphanage at Waco last week.

"By the liberality of the people and the railroads, and the good management of O. B. Holt and E. J. L. Greenleaf, the gift will reach the orphanage without one dime of expense to that institution," said the Rev. Kenneth C. Minner.

The list of those who donated calves follows:

Geo. W. Glass, O. B. Holt, Clarence Scharbauer, Mrs. Phil Scharbauer, F. A. Bird & Son, W. M. Pyle, Bob Preston, T. M. Addison, Ed. Dickinson, Tom Nance, Midland Farms, H. G. Bedford, Mgr. B. N. Aycock, Bill Kelson, A. C. Francis, C. C. Miles, Hugh Corrigan, W. T. Walsh, J. R. Hendrick, Frank Ingham & Son, Billy Bryant, Proctor & Faskin, Sam Preston, W. A. Hutchinson, W. W. Brunson, Roy Parks, B. H. Blakeney, Marcus Gist, R. W. Smith, Tom Preston, Henry Barrow and Son, Drs. Folsom and Alexander of Dallas, J. M. Caldwell, J. L. Greenleaf, Dick Gowden, Continental Oil Co., Conner Bros. market, C. M. Goldsmith, Elder Chevrolet Co., First National bank, Midland Feed store, Midland National bank, H. J. Neblett, Landmark Production Co., N. W. Ellis, Harry Watson, Hokus-Pokus grocery, Midland Hardware Co., Methodist board of stewards, Burton-Lingo Lumber Co., Scharbauer Hotel Coffee shop, Harry Adams, Oil Co., Piggy-Wiggy grocery, J. W. Driver, Fred Wemple, M. M. Fisher, Frances Lowe Peters. Trucks for rounding up the calves were furnished by Perry Craddock, Midland Transfer Co., A. G. Greenhill, Jack Mayfield, J. C. Miles, M. H. Crawford and L. J. Stephens. Feed was furnished by J. E. Hill. Assistance was given in rounding up the calves from a territory extending over a hundred miles by Fount Armstrong, Ted Perkins, Edgar Truelove, Bob Preston, M. W. Whitmore, Jack Merritt, J. H. Pine, George Lee, J. F. McLaughley and J. Phillips. Gasoline for operating the trucks was donated by Lenton Brunson, Scruggs Buick Co., H. H. Conger and J. O. Vance.

The T. & P. railroad, through the cooperation of its local agent, J. J. Hamlett, is furnishing and hauling the car free of charge.

"Surely this entire undertaking expresses on a large scale the true Christmas spirit of generosity, good cheer, and good will on the part of a very large number of our citizens," the minister said.

DEFENDANT, ODESSA DOCTOR, GIVEN VERDICT IN $90,000 DAMAGE SUIT

Verdict for the defendant was returned Saturday in district court at Odessa in the suit of W. W. Hemphill et al. vs. Dr. Emmett V. Headlee, in which $90,000 was asked in damages.

The jury deliberated four hours, returning the verdict in favor of the Odessa physician at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon, court attaches said. The case was opened for trial Wednesday morning and final argument of attorneys was completed Friday night.

Seven doctors testified, including Dr. Carroll, eminent bone specialist of Dallas, it was stated. The case involved 65 issues, or questions

Bulletin

COPYRIGHT UNITED PRESS
MADRID, Dec. 9. (By telephone from Gibraltar)—A long planned anarchist revolution broke out in north-eastern provinces today.

After spreading rapidly in a dozen towns it seemed to have reached its height. Authorities were hopeful that the revolt had failed, however they were watchful.

Bombings, street fights and a railway wreck marked the outbreak.

GOLD PRICE LEAK IS INVESTIGATED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9, (U.P.)—Treasury officials today started investigation of alleged "leaks" in the government's daily domestic gold price, enabling foreign exchange traders and speculators to gather large profits, it was learned. There were complaints that the price was available in London before it was learned here.

Howe Urges Early Christmas Mailing

The mailing of Christmas packages should be done immediately and with observance of a few simple rules, according to John P. Howe, postmaster, who said:

"In connection with arrangements for handling Christmas mail, we wish to remind the public of the importance of the proper preparation of such mail. To this end the cooperation of patrons is sought and the particular observance of the conditions set forth in this article is urged."

"Prepay postage fully on all mail matter. If you are in doubt about the postage on a letter, paper, magazine or parcel, have a clerk weigh your mail and rate it for you."

"Christmas cards for local delivery will go for 1 cent each when sealed. They will go for 1-2 cent unsealed when going out of town. For quick service use the special delivery air. The rates are negligible compared to the service."

"All parcels must be carefully packed in strong durable containers, wrapped in heavy brown paper and tied securely with stout twine. They should be addressed in ink, one side only, in the lower right hand corner with the sender's return in the upper left hand corner. Parcels may be marked 'do not open until Christmas,' but Christmas seals and stickers should not be placed on the address side of mail."

"The successful handling of the Christmas mails is dependent principally upon mailing sufficiently early to permit delivery before Christmas day, and the handling and delivery or dispatch of all mail received each day. To accomplish this there must be a full measure of cooperation by all, first, by the public in properly preparing the matter for the mails and then mailing sufficiently early; second, by the post office in providing the public with adequate facilities and necessary information; third, by all employees in putting forth unstinted effort along the lines set forth above and in handling the mails efficiently as received."

"Too much emphasis cannot be placed on the urgency of mailing early, since there will be no window service from the night of the 23rd until the morning of the 26th. If you wait Christmas day mail them in time to arrive at their destinations. All special delivery matter and daily papers will be delivered and out going mail will be dispatched."

"It is urged that all mail for other states be placed in the office not later than December 12 and mail for Texas not later than December 18. Follow all these suggestions and you will find that this will be your very best Christmas."

HATPINS BARRED

LONDON, (U.P.)—Women's hockey rules in Britain for 1933-34 provide that "no player shall wear a hard-brimmed hat or hairpins."

Midland Certain to Get New State Highway Soon

Midland "positively" will get a new state designated highway, is the statement made by Judge W. R. Ely of the state highway commission to Paul T. Vickers, secretary of the Midland chamber of commerce, at Abilene Friday.

Judge Ely previously had told the county judge and commissioners of the county commissioners and chamber of commerce Midland was entitled to additional highway facilities and said a new road for Midland was certain. He repeated this to the Midland man Friday but pointed out that the promise of the road didn't mean it could be built the next day.

The highway commission did not state when the road would be started, nor exactly to where it would be built, but said "It may start before you expect it." He said money had been made available for completion of No. 1. This road should be started soon.

Vickers was en route home from Burkburnett when he went to see Ely. The Midland man delivered the principal address at the annual banquet of the Burkburnett chamber of commerce. More than 300 people in this town of about 3,000 population attended. The Midland man spoke on "The Chamber of Commerce and the Social Revolution."

SCOUTS HONOR GUESTS TONIGHT

Program for the union services for scouts, to be held at the First Baptist church this evening at 7:30, were announced by the Rev. Winston F. Borum, who will preside, and A. C. Williamson, scout executive of the Buffalo Trail council, as follows:

Troops 52 and 54 in reserved seats as honor guests.

Congregation standing, "America" Invocation, The Rev. E. E. Chaffin.

"Onward Christian Soldiers," Congregation.

Scripture Reading, The Rev. K. C. Minner.

Spiritual, Baptist Melody Girls.

Awarding of badges.

Tenderfoot, The Rev. W. J. Coleman.

Second and First class, Frank Stubbeman.

Merit badges, Marvin C. Ulmer.

Candle ceremony, 15 scouts, directed by Buster Howard.

Address, Scout Executive A. C. Williamson.

"Stand Up For Jesus," Congregation standing.

Scout benediction, Clarence Day.

Chiselers Receive Mild Lambasting

Community chiselers in Midland are lambasted indirectly by Secretary L. A. Wilson of the Vernon chamber of commerce. Wilson believes community chiselers are about everywhere, as witness the following:

"Those who unfairly scheme to defeat the national recovery program have been called 'chiselers' by Candide Roosevelt, and that word has therefore been given a respectable place in American English."

"The term 'chiselers' can be and ought to be applied also to those who use all means to defeat the community's best interests by using subterfuges, excuses and alibis of one kind or another to avoid doing their part to support the chamber of commerce."

"I can't afford it, times are too hard."

"I don't have time to attend meetings."

"I disapprove of the way they do things."

"I don't believe it's worth anything."

"These are a few of the numerous excuses, alibis and hard luck stories given by some business men for not joining the chamber of commerce. And in 101 per cent of such cases there's not a grain of truth in the whole act. And those who offer such excuses delude themselves and nobody else when they plead those alibis. All these subterfuges are made in an effort to 'save' money by a matter of fact the real result is that they lose money by this short-sighted, niggardly policy toward their community and themselves."

"When will these chiselers wake up to the fact that they are really community chiselers?"

"Too Darn Far" With His Jokes

AUSTIN, Dec. 9, (U.P.)—Morris Glass of Abilene, editor of the Texas Ranger magazine at Texas university, was put on disciplinary status by the probation committee today on account of a joke titled, "Too Darn Far."

The joke related a groom's hectic day with a corset wearing bride who cooked trick rubber biscuits and enjoyed driving too close to fire plugs.

Target at Polls

Called the "hand-picked" candidate of Senator Huey Long, Mrs. Belvoir E. Kemp above, was the central target in the rebellion of 12 Louisiana parishes against the special election to choose a representative in Congress to succeed her late husband. Burning of ballots and other violence marked the event. Her name was the only one printed on the ballot. She was elected but offered her resignation in the face of state indignation.

TWO KILLED IN WRECK OF TRAIN

CHILLICOTHE, O., Dec. 9, (U.P.)—Two were killed and two were injured early today when the Sportsman, fast passenger train of the Chesapeake & Ohio, left the track and plowed into a ditch.

Harry Gresham, 49, engineer, from Huntington, West Va., and an unidentified negro who was riding the blinds were scalded to death. Spreading rails were blamed for the accident.

DEADLINE EXTENDED

So many additional names for pink boll worm claims came in Saturday that the chamber of commerce is holding up the sending of the names for one more day. Those who have not yet registered are asked to complete the registration before 5 p. m. Monday.

RANCH HOME BURNS

The Monahans ranch home of J. T. Regsdale burned Friday morning. It was a two-story house, the place, modeled this summer, was not covered by insurance. Loss was estimated at approximately $2,000. A defective flue was blamed.

TROPHY CHASE TICKETS BEGINNING TO BE EXTENSIVELY USED IN CITY

Trophy chase numbers were going fast in Midland Saturday. Thrifty shoppers want some of the presents Midland business men will give on Dec. 22.

Some confusion existed as to the basis of giving away trophy numbers, which a committee member explained as follows:

One number is supposed to be given with each purchase, provided the purchase amounts to as much as a dime. However, only one number will be given for a purchase, even if it amounts to $1, but for each purchase which amounts to more than $1 an additional number is to be given for each dollar's worth or fraction thereof. However, stores may alter this plan, the committee decided, if it does not suit them. Firms which were giving away trophy numbers last week were: Hokus Pokus grocery, Conner Bros. meat markets, United Dry Goods company, Perry Bros. Variety store, McMullan & Co. Dry Goods company, Ideal Cleaners, Kaydell Shop, City Drug Store, Petroleum pharmacy, Wilson Dry Goods company, Wadley Department store, M System grocery, Clarence Saunders grocery.

Other firms are expected to get their trophy numbers Monday. Trophy numbers are available to any store in Midland free on application at the chamber of commerce office. All stores or business houses in the city are invited to participate in the trophy chase.

Claims He Slept On Bare Jail Floor

JUAREZ, Mex. (U.P.)—Juarez prisoners stripped him of his clothes and left him shivering in his underwear, William E. Schnadek, 20, St. Louis, said.

Schnadek asserted he was arrested without cause and held in the jail 10 days.

"At 11:50 p. m. they held me at the bridge and told me it was closed," he said. "I started to look for a place to stay, then I was arrested."

After sleeping on the bare floor for two nights in his underwear, Schnadek said he obtained some old clothes and was put to work on the garbage trucks.

Red Cross officials in El Paso will give him transportation home.

EL PASO, Dec. 9, (U.P.)—Heriberto Alaniz, 30, captured yesterday during the gun battle between border patrolmen and liquor smugglers in which three were killed, hanged himself with a belt in his jail cell today.

He had made a statement that rum runners had bribed Juarez customs officers to permit departure of liquor. He was angry when the smugglers started across the river.

Family Bus Repaired; Kids Back in School

Seven children will get to go back to school Monday, mainly through the generosity of the Naomi Sunday school class.

Little girls among the seven would have to walk 5 miles each way, or a total of 10 miles each day, to go to and from school, because the family car needed equipment. The Naomi class paid the bulk of a fund, to which a few individuals and firms contributed to make up the balance. Lowe's Service station sold all needed car equipment at cost to enable the members of two families to start back to school.

Burglars Break in Pecos Drug Store

PECOS—Burglars broke into the Pecos Drug company Thursday morning, robbed one cash register of small change, ransacked a desk, and departed unimpeded.

A brokeli ransom in front of the store furnished the clue to the thief's entrance. Of the three cash registers, only one was robbed. It contained only a small amount, used as change for early morning trade.

A desk containing only papers and bills was searched thoroughly every item in each of the fifteen or twenty drawers and compartments being emptied upon the desk. It was left in a complete state of order. It is believed that the prowler was looking for the day's receipts, which were, however, locked securely in the safe. Cigarettes, stamps, and narcotics were left untouched.

BULLETIN

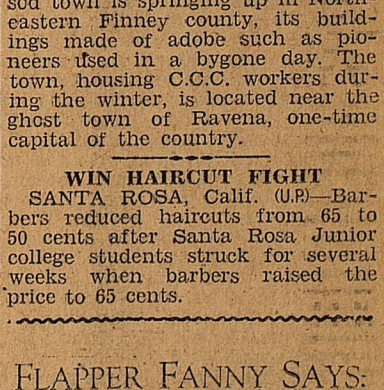

No championship award will be made this year in the Southwest. The decision was decided by conference nabobs at a meeting late Saturday to hear charges against the University of Arkansas, which had used an ineligible substitute tackle in three games.

High School News

RECOGNITION GIVEN SCHOOLS

A large group of visitors from the Snyder schools attended the chapel exercises of the Midland high school Friday morning. Prior to this year they have gone to a teachers' institute, but during the visitation to this part of the state instead of their usual custom.

On hearing the unusual assembly work done in our school, they selected Midland above larger high schools in Texas to see if the rumors of its unusual work were true. They expressed their gratitude for the entertainment by short informal speeches, and were shown over the building by Supt. Lackey.

Midland schools are famed over the state for their assembly exercises. The following praise given by the Women's Federation that met in Midland last spring is an example of the high commendation the school receives.

"Musical numbers presented to the Sixth district Women's Federation club convention at Midland were of great merit and most inspiring. All Texans should listen to the Midland school in its assembly singing. Throughout the high school years students are seated in the auditorium according to their voices. Ensemble singing is taught them, and sung to the accompaniment of four pianos, including cantatas, oratorio, and opera selections, folk songs and other music of real value. All is done from memory. The concert reading of literary classics is a revelation to the listener. Women's club delegates were privileged to sit on the stage of the auditorium in tiered seats and watch the eager faces of the 300 or more students as they demonstrated their great ability." Texas Federation News, Yearbook Number—May, 1933.

RECEIVES MEDAL

Alma Lee Hankins is the first student in the high school to receive a medal for typing this year. She has averaged over 40 words a minute on 15-minute tests with not more than two errors.

The pin is an Expert Typist emblem of sterling silver, and was presented to Alma Lee by Mr. Shifflett Tuesday morning in chapel. This award has been earned at an earlier rate in the school year than any during previous years.

The second award to be presented to any student who qualifies, is a gold-filled pin given for a net speed of 50 words a minute with not over five errors on a 15-minute test.

Other students in the three typing classes are expected to qualify for the silver pin soon.

FOOTBALL BANQUET A CLIMAX

Climaxing the affairs of the season will be the annual football banquet, which is always the highlight of the fall sports and is looked forward to by all the students connected with athletic events.

Plans for the banquet are incomplete, but arrangements will be under way soon under the supervision of the faculty.

Program, decorations, and menu committees will be appointed soon. Heretofore the banquet has been held in the Crystal ballroom of the Schaeffer hotel. The place and date will be announced later by Supt. Lackey.

CHAPEL REPORTS

High school students were entertained Thursday morning by two small students of the Vickers' studio, Patsy Lou Arrington and Geraldine Fuller. They sang "O! Where Has My Little Dog Gone" and gave tap dances. A midgey pep squad from the Vickers studio gave some yells and performed stunts on Friday morning at the chapel period. To add a little humor to the program some "fish" were chosen to get up on the stage and recite the "Professional." After one stanza they left the stage in a storm of laughter. The following boys participated: Ralph Lamar, Billy Estes, E. B. Rountree, Woodrow Heldberg, Spurgeon Blackburn, Joe Seymour, Newell Ellis, Frank Miles, and Russell Wright.

Freshmen have to same some recognition.

SATISFY THAT GRUDGE!

Students, if you have a deep-seated, life long prejudice, if you have been waiting for a time to get sweet revenge, here is your chance. In 1922 study hall there is a little yellow box in which students are allowed and invited to place any scandal they might know. Names must be signed to all contributions in order that the editors may investigate the authenticity of the statement, but these names will not be made public.

ADS

The ad committee for the junior play is at work now, and has already done good work in securing ads. The junior play will be a Christmas presentation and much Christmas advertising is expected because of this fact.

Those on the committee are: Elizabeth Payne, Virginia Boone, Eddie Blanche Cowden, Jessie Inman, Melba Lee, Leona Goodman, Robert Howe, Elwood McWilliams, Harriett Ticknor, Annice Johnson, Frank Westerman, Fred Barnes, Robert Rankin, Isabel McClinton, Felix Hattom, Louis

Cantelon, Lorena Gann, and Edna Mae Elkin.

CANTATA

The Midland high school is working diligently on the Christmas cantata, "The Wondrous Story," which is to be given at a Christmas program of the Literary society. Mr. Lackey hopes to present the cantata at Big Spring during the Oil Belt Teachers' association. All schools from Midland to Mineral Wells will be represented at the association.

STUDENTS ARE AMBITIOUS

When we studied the selection of color in Clothing II the class suggested that red is one of Anna Beth Bedford's most becoming colors. Anna Beth, thinking that is she looks well in red, she will look better in more red, spent the greater part of last week's holidays making herself a new red dress. She was joined in the project by Verna Leene McWilliams who also looks well in red, we guess.

The dress reds look very nice and we are proud of Clothing I students who can make themselves a dress and who are energetic enough to do so by themselves.

GIRL MAKES CHRISTMAS MONEY

What high school girl is there that wouldn't like to be able to make her own Christmas money? One student, Marcelline Wyatt, who is taking Foods II, is gaining quite a reputation for her famous cakes. She has made about five dollars making and selling birthday cakes, and now that the Christmas season is on, her purse is being swelled again. One afternoon after school she made three nice fruit cakes and sold them for a dollar apiece—a profitable afternoon, one should say.

H. E. GIRLS MAKE GARMENTS

A new class project was begun in Clothing II this week. We are making play suits for children from the age of two to six years. The primary aim of the project is to teach the girl how to select children's clothes since there are only a few new construction problems involved. In several cases the materials have been furnished for the girl and she will make the garment without charge while in other cases the girl will be paid for the finished suit. Still other girls are making garments for a small brother or sister. The garments range in price from twenty-five cents to one dollar.

QUARTET

The girl's quartet is organizing now and is working faithfully on new songs. Several girls have been tried out for the position left vacant by the graduation of Charline Earrott, who sang first alto. However, the place will be filled temporarily by Harriett Ticknor.

Those now composing the quartet are Melba Lee, first soprano; Alma Lee Hankins, second soprano; Harriett Ticknor, first alto; and Juanita Cox, second alto.

EX-STUDENTS HOME

A great many of the ex-students of Midland high were home for the Thanksgiving holidays. Among them were Ella Mae Newland from Tech; Addie Lee Haag, Ida Beth Cowden, Helen Margaret Ulmer, Wright Cowden, and Merwin Haag from Texas university, and John Inman from Arlington.

Others home for the holidays were Frank Midkiff, Bill Hogsett, Allen Sherrod and Johnnie Sherrod.

WHAT KIND OF A GAME!

Few tickets to the all-star football game had been sold by Thursday noon. Maybe the students were in consternation as to what kind of a game to expect from the remarks Head Coach Barry made about the teams.

The substance of his report was that he had been flattered into coaching the team for two days. Two practices are better than none. About 35 reported for practice, three-fourths of whom he had never seen. Most of them had been stars at one time or another, mostly another. When he suggested a nap after practice they flatly refused.

He warned them against casualties but most of them went off the field lighting one. He believed the game would look like football in spots. Mr. Lingo would play quarterback and Mr. Henderson fullback—how full, he didn't know. The students were invited to come out to see the slaughter or suicide which ever it might be.

Supt. Lackey added that he saw a similar game one time and they always brought two water buckets onto the field. The contents of one were sucked from a sponge and followed by a drink of water from the other.

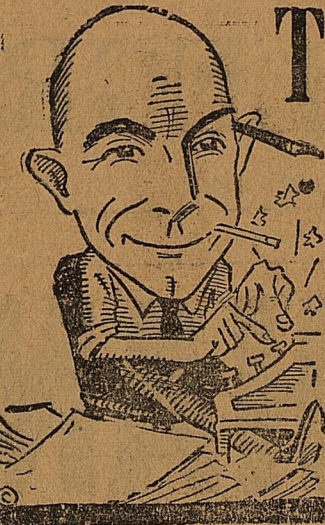

BULLDOGS WILL BE READY

The Bulldogs who will be eligible next year are getting ready to start winter practice. The boys will seek to develop skill in blocking and handling the ball.

According to Coach Barry, this practice will help in developing the muscles in the arms and legs. No definite date has been set when practice will start.

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.)

The reason I believe Midland is a good sized town is that the smaller the town the more space the newspaper devotes to automobile accidents in which nobody was injured.

Al Smith coined the expression, "the Baloney Dollar", and he's opposed to slicing it any thinner.

There's one argument in favor of inflation. Bank robbers would have to back trucks up to the bank to haul away the money.

Archaeologists, digging in the badlands of South Dakota, found the remains of the plasiadapidae family. Their family must have choked to death trying to give its name to the census taker.

The Town Grouch's wife has long made the family living by taking it washings. Lately her business has not been very good, and she is complaining somewhat. And what do you suppose her husband says about it? He says that his wife "should try to be optimistic; her trouble is a psychological depression and not based on reality; if she would smile more, conditions in the home would become better." If she shoots her husband, we will pay her attorney fees.

Lackey's car. When the conceited boy friend asks for a date about a week before the football banquet and you say haughtily, "I have one already, thanks." When a freshman is complimented for his singing. A football boy eats his first piece of candy this year after football season.

When you are bragged on by Mrs. Barry in Latin class.

When a handsome football player condescends to smile at you.

When a senior boy asks a freshman girl for a date.

When people say, "This is the best Midland High News we've ever seen."

WITH THE SNEAKER

Friends, Hello! Hello! Hello! I'm back with you again. I was so busy trying to find out what the faculty members were up to for the holidays that I didn't get the "low down" on you last week. Did you miss me?

Well, I've already discovered that Dorothy Cummings has a very vicious temper. You may not believe me, but she presented a very astonishing spectacle as she chased E. P. Driver with an ax Saturday night at a dance.

Look out theah, May Beth! You and Hunter Midkiff either found the water good or each other very interesting at the dance.

Task, task, Mary Frances! Did I hear you say that you regretted not being at home the night a good looking Green boy came to see you?

And by the way, what is this we hear about Josephine Ray acting very absent-minded and abstractedly lately? We wonder whether Bob White can have anything to do with it?

Shame on trifling Louise Wolcott. She could hardly wait until Mervin returned to Austin so she could give C. C. Foster a late date Saturday night.

It's really true that two Maria boys came to Midland Saturday to see Virginia Boone and Charibel Bryan—girls, when did you make your hit? And while I'm on the subject of Virginia, I might mention that when she says she had a "Bum" time, that she might not mean what you'd think???

Hold your breath, pals: Annabel Youngblood has been seen in the company of B. C. Driver twice in the past week. It looks serious. May-be that's the reason for the far away look on B. C.'s face in chapel. Anna denies that it is true, of course, but Belle, you might fool some of the people some of the time, but you can't fool the Sneaker.

Old Sneakie wouldn't think of embarrassing Edna Mae Elkin and Isabel by telling how scared they were that their dates from Big Spring for the dance Friday night weren't going to show up.

Oh, I say—have you seen Alma Lee's smallest receiving set that her friend, Doris Black, brought her from Galveston? It not, get Elwood McWilliams to tell you about it.

And imagine the shock to the English class when Miss Burrus quoted from Shakespeare, "I could a tale unfold."

Sir Francis Bacon says of love: "In life it doth much mischief."

"Ain't" it so, Billy Patrick? Maybe you will find consolation in your new girl friend Helen Dunagan. We wonder if she can really take Elizabeth's place.

It's been in the "Wonder Column" every week whether Billy Estes has heard from "Snookie" Maylor. Why didn't you ask the Sneaker? He saw Billy's little eyes gleam bright enough to make his golden curls look like a halo as he pulled the letter from his pocket and answered, "I have," when the question, "Has any one heard from Snookie?" was asked.

And it's killing me that Verna Leene McWilliams has a crush on Hunter Midkiff, and Welma Johnson has one on Frank Cowden. Don't blame you, girls—Browning said, "A man's (or woman's) reach should exceed his grasp for what's a heaven for."

Now, friends, I think I'll sign off for no good reason at all.

The Sneaker.

"COURTING"

Have you noticed how much courting—There is going on these days? All the freshman guys are sporting Brand new sweethearts; it's the craze.

While we seniors tend to duties, Freshmen pick out whom they want.

If we dare to mention studies, They act most nonchalant.

When the first term is over, When the fish begin to slip, Then they'll scurry off to cover—

Boys, let's not give up the ship.

—Lois Hornsby.

TO MAE WEST

Dear Mae:

I have been a long-devoted admirer of you and my greatest desire is to be exactly like you. I am fairly popular but I recently lost my boy friend to a brunette. Somehow I believe I could have kept him longer if I had possessed a beautiful figure like yours.

You see, I am very thin, and I eat plenty of food but it does not seem to affect me. Tell me, what is your diet? Do you eat between meals? I consume all the sweets I see, but they haven't added an ounce.

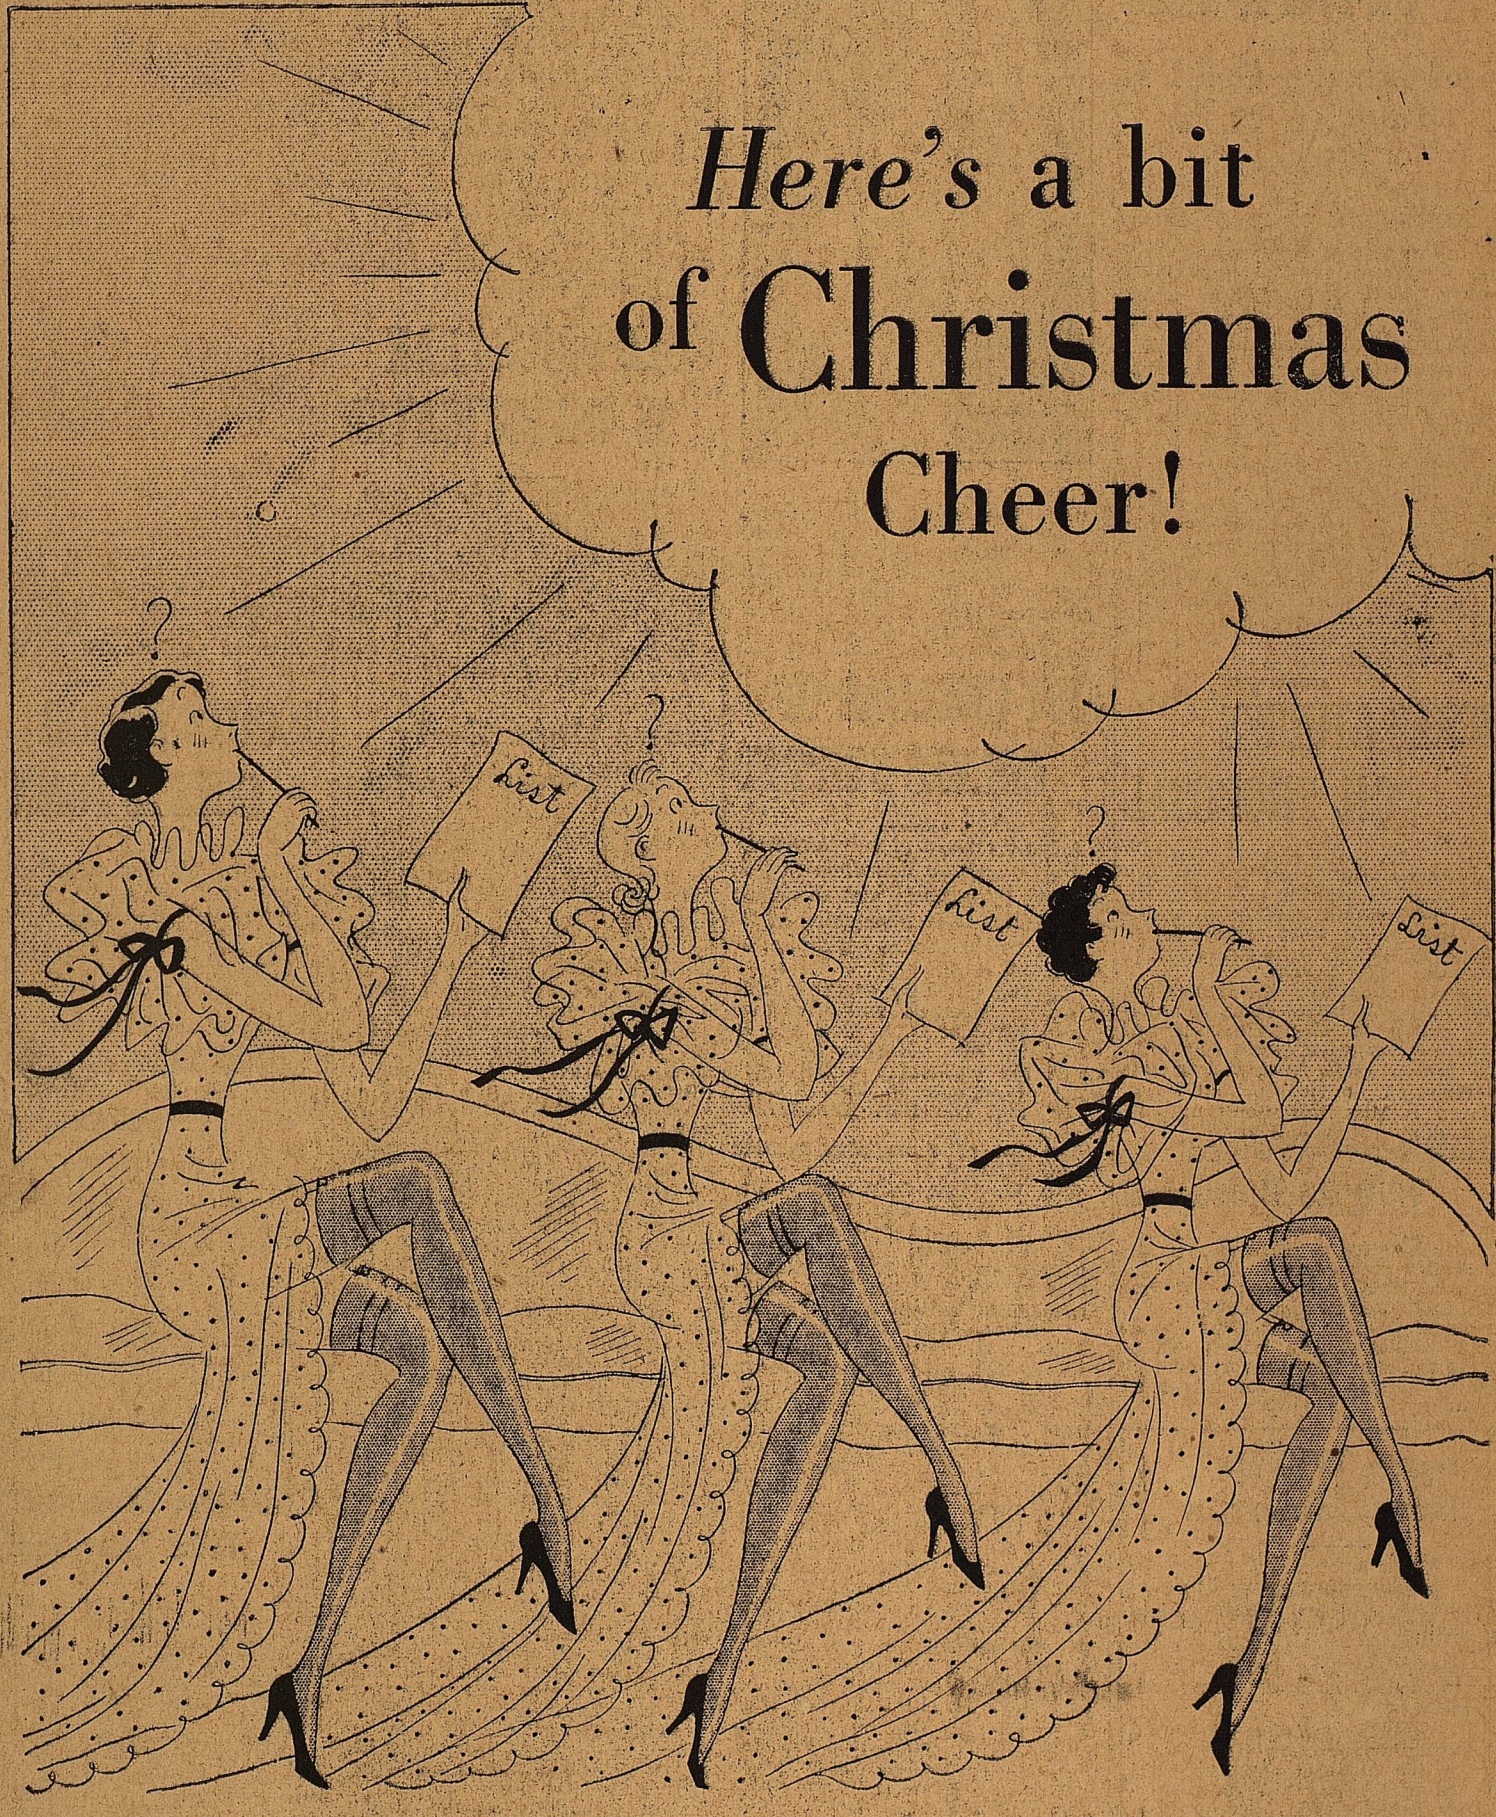

I am a blonde, too, and I think my facial features are fairly like yours except that I have freckles. Won't you please advise me as to adding weight and acquiring buxom curves?

I shall be waiting in tense expectancy for an answer.

Sincerely,

Joanna Filson.

ROLICKING HAS-BEENS DISPLAY SOME OF THE FORM THAT MARKED HEY-DAY IN THE AULD LANG ZYNE

In a game surprisingly sprinkled with impressive moments, a bunch of Midland fellows who played football in the good old days of the Gay Nineties or thereabouts, E. C. (Before Crutches) overpowered a similar club from Stanton Friday afternoon, 13-0, and the athletic fund of the Midland high school was fattened $87.50 as its share of the gate.

Plenty of Thrills

It was a game that was indifferent only in spots, one that brought the stands up in a cheering mass repeatedly as Stanton's twinkling-toed will or the wisp, Speedy Moffett, cut loose on a punt return or spun through a two-inch hole in the line and played hide and go seek with the Midland secondary. Or possibly the delirium was occasioned by the dash of that place of swivel-hipped backs, Henderson and Lingo, the blocking of Burris and Fryar, the pass snatching of Holtzman, Nicholson and Hyde or the pass interceptions of Hyde, Hill, Pinnell and Lingo. Or the excitement could have been generated by almost any one of the other players of both squads who arose on certain downs to flash a hint of the form they once displayed on grids over the country. Especially did some of the exes of the high school look good in the line. Stanton's failure to go places over a sustained period may be attributed to the powers of such fellows as Sheik Ray, Red Hill, Tom Collins, Johnnie Pliska, the Pinnells et al.

Lingo Is Scoring Ace

Charles A. Lingo, running at No. 1 position, scored both touchdowns, the first on a three-yard stab at the line and the second on a 45-yard sweep to the left. His first touchdown came after a series of plunges by himself and Bryan C. Henderson had placed the ball on the three-yard stripe after Burris

Hyde of Stanton had punted out on the Stanton 25. Midland had driven to the five-yard line a moment before. The second marker came as a surprise to both clubs. The play was to have been a lateral pass to No. 4 man but the play misread and Lingo had to run with the ball. And run he did. Olin Fryar, the best blocking back ever turned out by the high school, rolled under a roaming Stanton end and Lingo drove by his speed and eluded a last-second dive of the Stanton safety as the goal line was reached.

Fumble Mars Chances

Stanton was the first club to threaten, right at the beginning of the game. Burris received on the Midland goal line and wormed his way only 10 yards before being swarmed. Line plays could not dent the Stanton forward wall and Carl McAdams got off a punt of only 12 yards. "Alley Oop" Bloomer, Stanton full, crashed over the Midland line for 13 yards on his initial effort, but a fumble of a lateral on the Midland nine-yard line allowed Midland to recover on its own 10 and McAdams kicked. Stanton again threatened when Moffett took the ball on the Midland 40 and dashed back for 20 yards to the Midland 20, but Pinnell intercepted one of Hyde's passes and McAdams a moment later got off a long rolling punt that set Stanton back to its own 30.

Sensational Tackle

Stanton made only one other definite threat, the last play of the second period. Moffett passed to Benson for a 35-yard gain and the back was in the clear except for Burris, who was partially blocked by a Stanton tackle running interference but managed to bring down his man on the Midland 20. The tackle was one of the most brilliant ever seen here and was "next to impossible." Burris explained later that only for the fact the blocker came in a bit low was he able to reach Benson.

Crowd Cheers Favorites

In the final moments of the game Midland aided by a 17-yard pass completion to Nicholson, drove to the Stanton 12 but failed to make first down and the ball went over. Several pass interceptions followed and Stanton had the ball on its own 20 as the game ended.

Unusual interest attached to play of several "oldtimers," and a good representation of oil men and business men were out to watch them play—"then" referring to such fellows as McAdams, Kansas U. full; Holtzman, VMI product; Nicholson, TCU end, and Henderson and Lingo, who flashed under the direction of Pete Cawthon.

Jess Offers Summary

A brief summary of the game, compiled from records of Jess Rodgers, shows that Midland made eight first downs to five for Stanton; kicked four times for an average of 32 yards, against five times for an average of 17 yards for Stanton; tried nine passes, completed two for 47 yards, had one intercepted and six to fall incomplete, against Stanton's attempt of eight, completion of two for 50 yards, loss of three by interception, and three being incomplete; penalized four times for total of 40 yards, against two for Stanton and a total of 20 yards; gained from running plays a yardage of 167 against Stanton's 60, and lost from running plays 26 against Stanton's 13.

Stanton Drives Deep

To start the game, Moffett kicked off to Burris, who returned 10 yards from his goal line. McAdams hit right tackle for one yard. McAdams lost a yard at left end. McAdams kicked out on the Midland 22, a distance of 12 yards. Bloomer hit right tackle for 13. A lateral pass, Hyde to Moffett, was fumbled and Midland covered on the Midland 19.

McAdams kicked to Moffett on the Midland 40, and the flashy back returned to the Midland 20. Moffett's pass to Benson was incomplete. Moffett's pass was intercepted by Pinnell on the Midland 20, and he returned 7.

McAdams hit right tackle for one yard. McAdams failed to gain at right end. McAdams kicked a rolling punt that bounded past Moffett to the Stanton 30. Moffett kicked to McAdams, who fumbled and Pliska recovered for Midland on the midfield ribbon. Lingo's pass to Holtzman was good for 30 yards. Lingo went over right tackle for 6. Midland substituted Henderson and Estes for McAdams and Holtzman. Henderson hit right tackle for 4. Henderson hit left tackle twice for no gain. Lingo went off right tackle for 5. Lingo's pass to Hill was incomplete, the ball going over to Stanton on the Stanton 5.

Drive Nets Touchdown

Bloomer hit center of line for 7. Moffett failed to gain at line. Hyde kicked out of bounds on the Stanton 25.

Henderson went off right tackle for 5. Henderson hit tackle for 6. Midland substituted Straughan and Fryar for Estes and Ray. Lingo hit right tackle for 9. Henderson hit line for no gain. Lingo went through center for 3 yards and a touchdown. Lingo's attempted goal from placement went wide.

Henderson kicked off to Glazner. Stanton received on the Stanton 35 to 43. Hyde went over right tackle for 10. Midland substituted Ferguson for Nicholson. Wilson hit left guard for 2. Moffett made 10, but Stanton was offside and drew a 5-yard penalty. Midland substituted McWilliams for Pliska. Moffett passed to Benson for 15 yards. Benson lost 2 when he fumbled. Moffett made 2 at right end. Midland substituted Mills for Hill. Bloomer lost a yard at line. Hyde's pass was incomplete, and the ball went over to Midland on the Stanton 33.

Henderson Takes Gallop

Henderson went around right end for 38 yards, a brilliant choppy run in a broken field, and was stopped by Bloomer, who caught him by a wrist and dragged him down in a clear field. Lingo hit line for no gain, but Midland was offside and penalized five yards. Fryar hit line for 5. Midland drawing a penalty of 15 yards for holding. Midland substituted Blevens for Straughan. Lingo, aided by Fryar's timely blocking, went around right end for 45 yards and touchdown. Burris hit line for the added point. Score Midland 13, Stanton 0.

Midland substituted Mills for Ferguson. Lingo kicked off to Moffett, who returned from the Stanton 10 to 30. Midland substituted W. Howard, B. Howard, H. Howard for Henderson, Nicholson and Foster. Moffett's pass to Benson was incomplete. Moffett made 5 at right end. Moffett's pass to Benson was good for 35 yards, the back being stopped by Burris in a brilliant tackle on the Midland 20 as the half ended.

Clubs Fire Passes

Stanton kicked off to Fryar, who returned from the 25 to 40. McAdams hit right tackle for 3. McAdams hit left tackle for no gain. McAdams hit left tackle for 8. Henderson hit right tackle for 7. Holtzman lost a yard at line. McAdams' pass was incomplete. McAdams kicked to Moffett, who returned from the Stanton 25 to 45, but Stanton was penalized 15 yards to its own 10 for clipping.

Moffett kicked to Burris, who returned from the Stanton 35 to 29. Henderson hit left tackle for 2. McAdams' pass to Nicholson was good for 17 yards. Midland substituted Estes and Lingo for Holtzman and McAdams. Henderson hit line for no gain, and Midland received a 15-yard penalty for holding. Lingo hit right tackle for 4. Lingo's pass was incomplete. Lingo went around left end for 10. Henderson failed to gain at line, the ball going over to Stanton on the Stanton 12. Moffett went around right end for 9, then off right tackle for 12. Lingo intercepted Moffett's pass and was downed on the Stanton 45, a beautiful one-handed interception.

Estes fumbled and recovered for no gain. A lateral pass to Burris was short and the back was thrown for a 15-yard loss. Burris lost 4 at left tackle. Hill kicked out of bounds on the Stanton 30. Hyde hit line for no gain. Moffett hit line for no gain twice in succession. Moffett's kick was partially blocked and went out of bounds on the Stanton 35.

Passes Intercepted

Burris made 5 at right tackle. Burris again picked up 5 over tackle. Henderson lost 2 at left tackle. Midland drew a 5-yard penalty for too much time taken in the huddle. Burris' pass was intercepted by Hyde, who was downed by Straughan on the Stanton 19.

Moffett's pass was intercepted by Hill, who returned from the Stanton 33 to 20. A bad passback to Henderson lost 18 yards. Henderson hit right tackle for no gain. Burris failed to gain at line, and his pass was incomplete. Henderson failed to gain at line, and the ball went over to Stanton on the Stanton 20. Moffett's pass was incomplete as the game ended.

Football Captain Is Given a Medal

PECOS.—The Pecos Rotary club had as their guests members of the Pecos Eagles' football squad at their regular luncheon held Thursday at noon at the Orient dining room.

Marvin Cowan, one of the seniors on the squad, made a brief talk as did Capt. Bill Toliver and Coach Buddy Withers.

President Jack Hawkins of the club presented Capt. Toliver with a silver football trophy from the club as a "Most Valuable Player" award. The three pep squad leaders, Misses Dorothy Nabers, Mary DeHolley, and Beverly Chambers, also attended.

FOOTBALL SKETCHES

By R. C. HANKINS

In the gloaming of a crisp Friday afternoon a bunch of thoroughly tired fellows, tingling from a needle shower and the pleasurable thumping gesture at Father Time, went in to dinner and piled into bed, mentally patting themselves on the back at having received nothing worse than scarified skin areas in the football game of former grid stars. While they snored we turn the clock forward a few hours, pull aside bedroom shades and give you a different peek-a-boo. There's a big husky back who grinned a few hours ago as he slid under the eiderdown; he's carefully nursing a charley horse now—and, of all things! his wife is helping him into his trousers.

Lingo hurt a shoulder, a Stanton man is still dizzy from watching Henderson's churning feet in a 38-yard broken-field run and some are suffering from their heart as a result of Burris' pulling down of Henderson on a run that looked like touch-down—and a few such matters—but no casualties, in a strict sense, were announced by Head Coach L. K. Barry.

In fact, we understand there were more casualties in the grandstand than on the field.

Doc's Oil of Joy nostrum evidently has its advantages for the spavined joints of ex-gridders, as well as horses. Some of the lads who left the field at the half went back into the mill as fresh as your maid-en aunt on a spring night.

Individual cheering sections gave impromptu cat-calls, Bronx birds and the like—picking out their favorites for indiscriminate razzing. The shades of their appreciation differed slightly—whether one of their friends ran for a first down or fumbled for a loss; they were having fun from the shelter of the grandstand and the satisfaction of knowing their own rocks were safe. One of those who felt smuggest was this department—up there on the highest seat safe from shoulders, knees and straight arms. Someone inquired about our not being on the field and we glibly explained that, although nothing but good relations exist between Stanton and ourselves, we don't owe Stanton enough to help the Martin county town win a football game by playing in the Midland backfield.

Frankly, we were surprised at the speed of some of the boys, and at their condition. They substituted plenty, but still were called on to do plenty of running. To Stanton goes the unusual credit of having substituted only one or two men. And when all's said and done, Speedy Moffett, Stanton quarter, was the class of the day. He can thrill a crowd to its collective toes even when losing yardage. We'd like to promote a race between him and a fork of lightning sometime just to see if lightning is as fast as the wise men claim.

It would be impossible to go into individual mention of the clubs, as so many played and so many showed to advantage. But there were a few plays that were as sensational as we've seen in years. In fact, we have seen but one tackle in the last few years that rates with that of Loyd Burris, former Midland high captain and quarter, on the last play before the half. Henson had taken a pass from Moffett and was breezing down the sideline for a touch-down. With a blocker between him and Burris, who was playing safety, it didn't seem possible he would stop short of a touchdown unless he got both feet in the same shoe. But Burris made a despairing dive, high enough to partially escape the low flying block of the Stanton interference, and he stopped Henson. The other play of that sort referred to was last year in the Texas-TCU game, when Hank Clewis dived over a blocker and made Red Oliver trip himself on a touchdown ramble that had started in his own end zone and was concluded about the Texas 36.

Fryar's absence from the game a few seasons, during which time he has sailed the Pacific and been bar-racked on the west coast, doesn't seem to have impaired seriously his slashing game. The back carried the ball only once from scrimmage, picking up 5 yards over tackle, but his blocking and tackling were as pretty as ever. And that means plenty to those who watched him a few seasons back. Other high school men like Collins, Hill, Pliska, Burris and the Pinnells looked in the pink.

The school students concentrated interest on the performance of Assistant Coaches Lingo and Henderson, and none was disappointed. These big men carry lots of drive and more speed than one would have suspected after being out of the game so long. Lingo carries a mean stiff-arm and lots of power, and speed. Henderson has the most baffling shiftiness and drive seen in a long time. He is fast as a snake, too. He was able to get a temporary charge. For the entire game, interference only a few times and was shaken loose only once, for nearly 40 yards; but anyone who watched him dance choppy one moment then swing into a long-stride the next to draw tacklers out of position can imagine what a wow he was when we watched him play around 1926 or 27. Lingo's one-handed pass interception was one of the cardinal thrills of the affair. He is really an end, and has not run with the backs much. You should see him in the role of a wingman. And see Hendy with backs and linemen working smoothly.

Coach Barry did an excellent bit of coaching of the all-stars, having little time to steer them but giving simple, effective plays to his men. For the entire game, we take this occasion to publicly thank him.

We sign off with the announcement of semi-official sanction. Midland is likely to meet some club, probably Big Spring or Stanton or Peecos, in Lackey field Christmas afternoon. How would the fans support such a game? Discuss the matter with the exels and pledge yourself to buy ducks, and such a game will follow. Depend on it, some of the fellows who didn't find all the speed they expected in the old legs want to see if they can't get going better next time.

Ritz to Sponsor Library Benefit

Manager J. Howard Hodge of the Ritz theatre announced Saturday that, in cooperation with Miss Marguerite Carpenter, Midland county librarian, he will sponsor a book benefit show for children Thursday afternoon, Dec. 14.

This book drive will mean many new volumes for the library, it is estimated. One book or more in good condition will admit one child, or a library book due prior to Dec. 1, 1933, will also be accepted. Books must have backs and magazines will not be accepted.

The picture, "Tillie and Gus," will be shown, and it is especially suitable for children, being a hilarious comedy featuring Baby LeRoy, Allison Skipworth and W. C. Fields.

CONCERNING EX-STUDES

DENTON—Regardless of terra themes and notebooks that are due before the holidays, the students at Texas State College for Women (CIA), are eagerly counting the days, and even the hours until December 21, the day on which Christmas vacation begins.

Many out of the state students and others who live in far corners of Texas have not been home since the beginning of the school year in September. About 75 students remained on the campus during the Thanksgiving holidays.

None of the Midland students returned home for the Thanksgiving holidays. Misses Olga Trammell and Nell Wayne Carlisle remained in Denton, and Miss Helen Woodrum, a former Midland girl, and Miss Jess Edith Carlisle attended the State-A. & M. game at College Station. Miss Carlisle also visited her roommate, Miss Joe Cox, in Dallas and attended the T. C. U.

Wife, 75, Is Silent on Nights Away from Home

DETROIT. (U.P.)—John Morrow, 83, was granted a divorce from his wife, Kate, 75, here recently because he charged she was absent from home many nights during the week and that she refused to tell him where she had been.

Morrow and his wife eloped to Toledo and were married in 1923. According to Judge Lester S. Moll, who granted the divorce decree, he is the oldest man ever to obtain a separation writ in Wayne county.

FARM DISBANDED NUDISTS

SALINAS, Calif. (U.P.)—The Sunshine Health club, nudist colony near here, disbanded after a rancher opened a bee farm adjacent to the colony's quarters. The nudists, who weathered chill mornings, foggy evenings and even poison oak, said the bees were more than they could bear.

Lakewood, O., has a good fire prevention record; it has ranked first among cities of its size in the United States five times for its prevention record.
