Lindy, Wife Secluded In Englewood

Reason for Return To Country Kept Secret by Flier

ENGLEWOOD, N. J. Dec. 6. (AP)—Colonel and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh, home from their England exile, were secluded today at the Morrow estate on the Hudson river.

Why they returned and the length of the stay remains a secret.

The famous aviator left his two small children, Jon 5, and Land, 6 months old, in England. They may be at the Lindbergh estate, "Long Barn," "Seven Oaks," in Kent, England, or with Mrs. Lindbergh's sister, Mrs. Aubrey Niel Morgan, who lives in Wales.

The arrival of Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh almost passed unnoticed. An alert ship news photographer was the first person to see them. Other photographers and reporters were roving the first class quarters in search of "celebrities." Meanwhile Colonel Lindbergh, heavily muffled, and his wife hurried down the third class gangplank immediately upon the ship's arrival at its North River pier shed.

They slipped down a side freight elevator, without going through the formality of customs inspection, and sped away in a khaki-colored sedan waiting at the curb to the home of Mrs. Dwight Morrow, mother of Mrs. Lindbergh, in Englewood, N. J.

Hurrying up along the Hudson River the Colonel and his wife were not far from poignantly remembered landmarks of the feverish state-wide search in 1932, when Col. Lindbergh joined state troopers and G-Men in scouring Sourland Mountain thickets in the vicinity of his home at Hopewell, N. J.

Injuries Suffered In Wreck Blamed in Death of Salesman

Injuries received Thursday night when the car in which he was riding struck a truck about 11 miles west of Midland proved fatal at 12:30 Sunday morning to Jack W. Stough, 25, salesman for the Armour & Co., in a local hospital.

Stough suffered nine broken ribs and a punctured lung that were blamed for his death. His body was shipped to Arlington where funeral services will be held today.

Stough, with W. S. Watson, Cisco, also with the Armour company, was enroute from Odessa to this place at the time of the accident. Before his death, he declared he saw a truck, reported to have been driven by Weldon Hankla, stalled in the middle of the highway and that when he threw on his brakes in an effort to dodge it, his tires failed to hold on the wet pavement, the car whirling completely around and the driver's side of it striking the front of the truck. Watson received a broken arm and minor bruises and abrasions.

Stough was district sales manager for the Armour company and had been a resident of Midland for approximately 2 years. He was a graduate of North Texas Agricultural College at Arlington and of Arlington high school. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stough, and two sisters.

Scout Patrols to Be Reorganized

Boy Scout troop 54 will reorganize their patrol system at the meeting tonight at the scout hall at 7 o'clock. All members are asked to be present to simplify the task of forming the patrols. Also, scoutcraft and advancement will be given by special instructors.

Frank Stubbeman, attorney, will make the final lecture to the troop on civics, and Eagle scout requirements.

Also a number of games will be played by patrols and a special award will be made for the outstanding patrol.

The cast for the drama to be presented in Big Spring will be selected tonight and rehearsals begun toward the close of the meeting.

FEW LANDINGS FOR WEEKEND

One landing was reported at Sloan Field for this morning—made by on O-19 flown by Pilot Hofeditz who came from Vicks Field at El Paso and will depart for Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Two landings were made Sunday, both A17-A's, en route from Barksdale Field at Shreveport to Hensley Field at Dallas. At the controls were Pilots Culbertson and Bayse.

TO LAMESA.

Mrs. C. C. Carden left this morning for Lamesa to be with her sister and mother, both of whom are seriously ill. Her mother, Mrs. E. B. Osborn is suffering from flu while the sister, Miss Kathryn Osborn has typhoid fever.

Talking Peace in Person

John L. Lewis

William Green

The seriousness of their discussions reflected in their unsmiling faces, William Green, right, president of the American Federation of Labor, and John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, are shown above as they ended their first face-to-face discussion of labor peace terms. They were non-committal on progress of the parley.

T. C. U. Journalism Students Rank The Chinese-Japanese War as No. 1 Story

FORT WORTH, Dec. 6. — News of the Japanese-Chinese conflict constitutes the greatest story of 1937 in the opinion of students in the Department of Journalism of Texas Christian University here.

"Not only because of the terror and horror of the conflict itself, but also because of the far-reaching effects it may have on world peace, the war in the Orient is the foremost story of the year," was a typical comment reported by Prof. J. Willard Riding, head of the journalism department.

Other stories named, in the order of their rank, in the list of the "10 Best News Stories of 1937," are:

2. Civil War in Spain.
3. New London School Disaster.
4. English Coronation.
5. C. I. O. — A. F. of L. Struggle.
6. Proposed Supreme Court changes.
7. Crash of the "Hindenburg."
8. Disappearance of Amelia Earhart.
9. Ohio Valley Flood.
10. Death of John D. Rockfeller.

The following are typical comments upon the stories, with reasons for their ranking among the "10 Best":

2. Spanish Civil War: "Civil war—brother against brother—is always intensely dramatic, therefore news. In the case of Spain, there is also bound up the item of aid from other nations and the struggle for European supremacy."

3. New London School Disaster: "The major disaster of modern times, affecting children."

4. English Coronation: "Of world importance and interest at any time, the coronation this year was intensified as news because of the background of the abdication."

5. C. I. O.—A. F. of L. Struggle: "The question of what direction organized labor will take in its relation to employers is one of such far-reaching consequences that no one can say just what its social import might be. For the potential effect upon every American citizen, the news of this struggle might easily be rated as the most important of the year if not the 'best'."

6. Proposed Supreme Court changes: "The struggle over President Roosevelt's Supreme Court Plan was important in itself, but the political implications behind the story raised the news to its 'best' ranking. The appointment of Senator Black to the Supreme Bench is really a part of this story."

7. Crash of the "Hindenburg": "Stark tragedy struck here with super-dramatic suddenness, to make one of the greatest disaster stories since the sinking of the Titanic."

8. Disappearance of Amelia Earhart: "The dramatic loss of the country's greatest woman flyer and the intense search for her was one of the great human interest stories of the year."

9. Ohio Valley Flood: "Death, riding on disaster, will always be news. This flood was disaster intensified, filled with dramatic and heroic rescues and sacrifice; tragedy and humor strangely mixed in a thousand human interest flood stories."

10. Death of John D. Rockfeller: "The first of the modern multi-millionaires and the best publicized, Rockfeller could not help but make front page news in his passing."

Denver-Wasson Link Well Bails Oil; To Tube and Acidize Today

By FRANK GARDNER.

Toddie Lee Wynne (American Liberty Oil Company) No. 1 C. A. Thomas, southwestern Yoakum wildcat, yesterday appeared to have forged a link in the connecting of the Wasson and Denver pools as it was reported to have 1,500 feet of oil in the hole which could not be lowered by bailing. Operators said they would run tubing and acidize sometime today. The well is bottomed at 5,030 feet in lime. Reports current yesterday that it was bailing sulphur water were found groundless, whatever water was present being drilling fluid. Location is in section 864, block D, John H. Gibson survey.

In northwestern Yoakum, Stogner and Pipkin and No. 1 Brock estate, section 103, block D, is drilling lime and anhydrite at 4,198 feet. First brown lime string was logged at 4,180.

In the Bennett pool, Honolulu No. 2-677 Bennett, southwest outpost, is drilling with standard tools at 4,950 in lime, while the company's No. 3-677 Bennett is drilling salt at 2,525 feet. It topped anhydrite at 2,361 feet, slightly higher than other wells in the pool. Shell No. 1 Bennett, also in the pool, is drilling lime at 4,724.

Riley to Measure Up.

Mitchell & Sullivan No. 1 Shell-Riley, Gaines wildcat in section 447, block G, C. C. S. D. & R. G. N. G. survey, reached contract depth of 5,300 feet in lime and anhydrite and was slated to be measured up today preliminary to abandonment. It ran low structurally.

Conoco No. 2 Jones, northwest Gaines test in section 1, block A-8, public school land, is drilling lime at 4,934 feet after encountering an increase in sulphur water from 4,-919-22.

Shell No. 1 Cox, apparent failure on the southeast edge of Gaines' Wasson pool, is swabbing 30 barrels of sulphur water hourly, with no oil. Fluid level stands 3,500 feet from top. The well was plugged back from 4,995 to 4,790 for shutoff.

In western Yoakum, Wiggins et al No. 1 Bartlett is drilling lime at 5,208 feet.

Court Backs Texas Claim Against Co.

Highest Tribunal Upholds 'Hot Oil' Suit in Opinion

WASHINGTON. Dec. 6. (AP) — A supreme court ruling today permitted the government to continue its anti-trust proceedings in the southern New York federal district court seeking dissolution of the Aluminum Company of America.

The court also granted Texas the right to bring suit in state courts seeking to confiscate oil alleged to have been illegally produced by the Trinity Refining company, now undergoing reorganization in federal court.

Another ruling decided that lower federal tribunals do not have jurisdiction to prevent two or more states from attempting to impose inheritance taxes on the same estate.

"We Want Our Jobs Back," Pickets of Ford Plant Say

ST. LOUIS. Dec. 6. (AP) — Milton Johnson, manager of the Ford plant here, claimed a "moral victory" over striking United Automobile Workers of America today when 40 pickets milled about in the bitter cold bearing signs "we want our jobs back."

Until today the signs read "Ford on strike."

Johnson said that employment would be raised this week by hiring 40 additional men.

Airline Official Here on 'Logging' Trip for Friday

An Eastern Airlines plane bearing L. R. Fimian, district traffic manager of the company, landed at the Midland airport yesterday afternoon in one of a series of stops being made to "log" a route that will be followed Friday when air mail will be picked up here.

Fimian was met here by postmaster Allen Tolbert, chamber of commerce president Marion Flynt, assistant postmistress Elma Graves and several other persons.

The flight Friday will start in Odessa, with Midland the first stop. From here the plane will go directly to San Angelo, thence to Sweetwater and Mineral Wells.

All persons using the local postoffice have been urged by the postmaster to send an air mail letter to someone Thursday in order that it might be picked up on the mail plane. The letters must be placed in the mail either Thursday or Thursday night in order to go out on the plane.

Midland leaders see the idea as a possibility of procuring regular air mail service for the city in the near future to handle the steadily growing amount of mail that is sent by air each day by the many oil companies and other firms here.

A special cachet, depicting Midland as an oil, cattle and livestock center, has been ordered by the chamber of commerce and will be used by the postmaster and his staff on all outgoing air mail Friday.

Postmaster Tolbert said that he would be notified later in the week as to the exact time the plane would be here Friday.

Finding Jobs for Unemployed Said Function of TUCC

AUSTIN, Dec. 6 (AP).—Placing unemployed in jobs will be the main function of the Texas unemployment compensation commission.

Orville Carpenter, director, said today that notwithstanding payments of benefits beginning January 1, the commission's "real purpose" is to find jobs for the unemployed.

Man Is Accidentally Slain by His Wife

FORT WORTH, Dec. 6 (AP).—Mrs. Martha Matthews, 70, shot and killed her husband, Lon, 70, when she dropped a shotgun today. A justice of peace ruled it an accident.

CANTATA PRACTICE.

Rehearsals for the Christmas Cantata here will be continued tonight, all participants having been urged to be at the high school auditorium at 7 o'clock. Individual singers, as well as members of all choirs of the city are invited to participate.

MAKING COUNTY AUDIT.

Nolan Phillips, certified public accountant of Waco, arrived today with his staff of auditors to make the annual audit of Midland county records. In the party, besides Phillips, are B. B. Wedemeyer, C. M. Mace and Tracy Bennett. Mr. Mace is a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Holland here.

Japanese Advance to Within 2 Miles Of Nanking; Predict Entrance Soon

As Modern Borgia Walked Toward last Mile

Grating prison doors sounded a grim note for Mrs. Anna Marie Hahn of Cincinnati, convicted poison slayer, shown white-faced but calm at the extreme left of the picture above as she entered Ohio Penitentiary to await execution. The photo shows Prison Guard William Manke unlocking the steel gate to admit Mrs. Hahn, who was sentenced to die in the electric chair on March 10 for poisoning 78-year-old Jacob Wagner. Her attorneys have appealed.

Fighting In City Due to Start Tues.

Forces Occupy Home Of Chiang Kai-Shek Outside Town Walls

SHANGHAI, Dec. 6 (AP).—Japanese advanced within striking distance of Nanking today, and spokesmen predicted fighting in the Chinese capital by tomorrow.

Dispatches said troops were only two miles from the walls of the city. Columns of smoke were visible from fires in the city.

Shu Hsi-Wen announced his assumption of the Mayorship of Shanghai's "great way." Observers interpreted this to mean that the Japanese are setting up an autonomous government area outside the foreign settlement.

Japanese said forces had occupied the country home of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek outside Nanking.

The commander of the British gunboat Ladybird and two other Britishers were killed or wounded Sunday when Japanese airmen bombed the waterfront and shipping at Wuhu, Yangtze river port 60 miles southwest of here.

Two British steamers, the Tuckwo and Tatung, were hit. The Tuckwo was set afire and was believed to be a total loss. The Tatung's captain and his wife, both British, were wounded. Their steamer was beached.

Lieutenant-Commander Harry Barlow of the Ladybird, although suffering from shrapnel wounds, maneuvered his vessel alongside a hulk—old ship moored offshore to assist landings—belonging to the British Butterfield and Swire Company and towed it away before it was set afire.

The 3,770-ton Tuckwo, in flames, drifted against a hulk belonging to the Jardine Matheson Co., which then also burned. (In Shanghai officials of the Indo-China Steam Navigation Co., which owns the Tuckwo said they believed she had between 2,000 and 3,000 Chinese refugees aboard.)

The Wuhu American hospital, only one in that area, admitted more than 100 mutilated, burned or half drowned persons. American and British volunteers worked all afternoon rescuing victims.

Texas Senators for Housing Program of The Administration

WASHINGTON. Dec. 6. (AP) — Senators from Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas declared Sunday their hearty support for the theory of President Roosevelt's proposed housing legislation.

Some said their final vote on housing legislation would depend upon provisions of the measure but the general comment was "I'm for a housing bill."

"I think the fundamental principles outlined by the President in his housing measure are sound," said Senator Burke (D-Neb.), a bitter foe of the President's original court reorganization plan. "We should encourage the building of homes."

Senator Lee, (D-Okla), expressed himself in favor of housing legislation which would provide a lower rate of interest on loans. But the junior senator from Oklahoma suggested the federal housing, home owners loan corporation and slum clearance organizations should be consolidated to simplify administration of work being carried on "for the same purpose."

Senator Sheppard (D-Tex.) expressed himself in favor of the proposed legislation and Senator Connally (D-Tex.) said:

"If the housing bill policy proposed by the President enlists investment of private money in building new homes, it will be of substantial benefit."

"Of course at this time," Connally continued, "the government is not prepared to make any large outlay of government funds for such a purpose. The present demands on the treasury are such as to consume all the available revenue."

Planes Join Search For Missing Hunter

BEAUMONT, Dec. 6 (AP).—Pilots of three army planes vainly scanned marshy sections of Jefferson county today for M. M. Cook, Dallas duck hunter missing since Saturday.

Fifty persons afoot searched for the civil engineer who became separated from his son, S. H. Cook, late Saturday.

Wealthy New Yorker Reported Kidnaped

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Dec. 6 (AP).—Reports that Arthur Fried, 32, member of a wealthy family, had been kidnaped and was being held for $100,000 ransom brought federal agents here today. Fried vanished Saturday.

RETURN TO ABILENE.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Childers and Mrs. Dorothy Griffin returned this morning to Abilene after spending the week-end here. Mr. Childers played with the Midland team in two polo games. Mrs. Griffin is in the horse business, raising thoroughbreds at her ranch twenty miles south of Abilene.

Wink and Roscoe To Play Regional Game in Odessa

School officials of Wink and Roscoe, in a meeting in Big Spring yesterday, agreed to play the regional championship football game next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Odessa. Wink is champion of districts 7 and 8 while Roscoe has a clea rtitle in districts 5 and 6.

Efforts were made by the Midland chamber of commerce to have the game played here but officials of the two schools accepted an offer of the Odessa schools over the one made by Midland.

Fire Hazards of Yuletide Season Warned Against

AUSTIN. Dec. 6. — Marvin Hall, Texas fire insurance commissioner today called attention to the number of unusual fire hazards which should be guarded against during the festivities of the approaching holiday season.

"A destructive fire is the sworn enemy of the peace and happiness that Christmas should properly bring," Hall explained. "It is important, therefore to be familiar with the hazards common to the month of December which have in past years caused wasteful loss of life and property."

Some of the "Dont's" as listed by Commission Hall are as follows:

1. Don't decorate everygreen trees with highly inflammable materials.
2. Don't place cotton or lighted candles on the Christmas tree.
3. Don't carlessly smoke or get near an open flame when wearing a cotton Santa Claus beard.
4. Don't place a lighted candle in the window near curtains or other inflammable material.
5. Don't allow small children to handle fireworks.
6. Don't use pennies or wire to replace blown-out electric fuses.
7. Don't use kerosene or gasoline to start or quicken a fire.
8. Don't permit children and other members of the family to get too close to stoves and open fireplaces.

"Among the many things the people of Texas have to be thankful for this Christmas," Hall said, "is the exceptionally low fire loss of the last 11 months. The first six months of 1937 showed a lower fire loss than any six-month period during the last twenty years. It is doubly important during this last month of the year, then, to think of the fire dangers to life and property which continually threaten to blight rejoicing because of a careless act or the use of an unsafe article.

"If we Texans will but observe deligently all safety rules, particularly those pertaining to fires," Hall concluded, "this Christmas will be one of joy and happiness for all."

SEE FOOTBALL GAME.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie B. Hoss and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Edwards returned to Midland Sunday from Dallas, where they had gone to see the SMU-Rice football game played Saturday.

Another Victim Of Strange Malady Found in Chicago

CHICAGO. Dec. 6. (AP) — The nineteenth infant afflicted with a mysterious illness which has caused ten deaths in 12 days at St. Elizabeth's hospital was placed under doctor's care Sunday.

Three of seven other babies at the institution were reported by Sister Mary Adolphine, superior at the hospital, as being in a critical condition. Two were being given oxygen, she said.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6 (AP).—Parents of Daniel Ennesser, 12-day-old baby, offered the body of the child today that medical science may seek the cause of the intestinal disease that killed 11 babies in St. Elizabeth's hospital.

Doctors prepared to perform an autopsy after John Ennesser, father, said that he and his wife, Engeline, thought it "would help other little babies."

The new case was that of Roberta Murawski, 23 days old, who was born at St. Elizabeth's and returned there by her parents when symptoms of the intestinal disorder developed.

One of the survivors, six weeks old Sandra Traska, was taken home yesterday, apparently cured, but was being kept under supervision of health department doctors and nurses.

Meantime, medical science was attempting to write "died not in vain" alongside the names of the victims.

In St. Elizabeth's Hospital, and in the laboratory of Dr. Richard H. Jaffe, Cook county hospital pathologist, exhaustive tests were being made to discover the cause of the disease.

Dr. Jaffe's autopsies of two victims showed marked changes in their brains. Both he said, suffered what has been diagnosed as enteritis—acute epidemic diarrhea.

The brain changes, Dr. Jaffe said, led him to believe the disease was caused by a virus.

Dr. Herman Bundesen, president of the Board of Health, said the disease may be a very virulent ultra-microscopic, filtrable virus.

Cold Wave Extends Over State to Gulf

By Associated Press.

The fourth cold wave to hit Texas this winter extended all the way to the gulf, reports today indicated. Port Arthur's 22 degrees was the coldest in 22 months.

Corpus Christi 43, Amarillo 21, Paris 16, Dallas 32, San Antonio 31. were other low readings.

Temperatures in Midland fell below freezing for the fifth time in the last three weeks last night when the minimum of 27 was recorded. However, the mercury had climbed back to 52 at 1 o'clock this afternoon and relief from the cold was forecast. Warmer weather is forecast for this area tonight.

Continuance of Emergency Rates On Feed Is Urged

AUSTIN, Dec. 6 (AP).—H. F. McGill, Alice, president of the Texas, Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association, said today that drought conditions in certain Texas counties justified extension of emergency railroad rates on feed.

McGill and other cattlemen are here for a hearing on the situation before the Railroad Commission. He said "conditions in nearly 40 counties continue very bad; in places, cattlemen are wholly dependent on feed shipped in."

2 Suspects Held In Bank Robbery

DALLAS. Dec. 6. (AP) — Dallas police arrested two ex-convicts, flush with cash and driving a new car, today and held them in jail pending the arrival of Fort Worth officers for questioning in a $2,000 holdup of the Union Bank and Trust company there Thursday.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

WASHINGTON. Dec. 4. — Only seven months ago the President departed on his lat fishing trip in southern waters. The circumstances were very similar to those of today. Roosevelt's attitude—that he could take a fortnight off at a critical time and strengthen rather than weaken his position—was much the same.

The question naturally arises: Has the President made the same mistake twice?

The other fishing trip was a mistake. F. D. R. went at a time when Congress was more rebellious than ever before, when his Supreme Court plan was at stake, when the rest of his program was blocked. But he was quite confident. He was sure Congress would realize the masses of voters were behind him and that it would be more tactable after stewing around a couple of weeks.

He thought he had the court fight won. Probably he had—at the time. Justice Van Devanter hadn't quit. Majority Leader Joe Robinson hadn't died. But the administration leadership was weak, and in the fortnight the opposition gained strength rapidly and the court plan lost ground.

Other things happened, but in the end that April-May fishing trip was chalked up as a major tactical error.

Same Dangers Today.

CONGRESS today seems even more balky. The administration leadership is still weak. Most of F. D. R.'s program is blocked. There is danger that some of his favorite laws may be repealed and that Congress may stampede to "do something for business' much more drastic than the President wants it to do.

But once again the chief executive has gone away, believing that Congress will stew around in its futility, create a bad impression on the country and be virtually pining for his leadership by the time he returns.

Hold Everything!

"The chief thinks maybe he'll get her a horse for Christmas."

FLAG OF MOROCCO

Mohammed Goes To the Mountain

The Town Quack

The 9,750 Midland people who failed to see the polo game Sunday missed plenty. Of course that's basing the population at 10,000 inhabitants. There is a possibility that Midland soon will have one of the foremost polo teams of the southwest, with nationally known players moving here to engage in the game and train their horses. If so, there won't be any poor games played here, but some of the best teams in the country will be brought to Midland. In a case like that, we need a lot of interest on the part of the public. I believe the cool weather was responsible for the light attendance Saturday and Sunday, but it was all right out there, sitting in cars around the field. Next time a polo game is played at the fair grounds, be sure to take advantage of it.

Leonard Proctor, who says he can use only one pair of bridle reins, should have taken a lesson from Sheriff Gus White of Lamesa who rode out on a horse, using two pair of bridle reins, carrying a polo whip and a mallet, leading two extra horses and rolling a cigarette at the same time. All he lacked was having to draw his gun.

From the Texas Outlook:

A very delicate and important operation was about to be performed and all budding young medicos were requested to attend, look, and learn.

The observer's gallery was packed like the balcony in the local cinema palace in pre-boycott days. An awesome stillness descended upon the place as the deft hands of the surgeon began the unusual incision. The students watched breathlessly until he at length indicated that the work was done. Then to show their appreciation of his amazing dexterity, the entire house burst into tumultuous applause. The surgeon raised his hand for silence, bowed, and as an encore removed the patient's appendix.

S. E. C. HEAD PLAYS 'EM CLOSE

Chairman William O. Douglas of the Securities and Exchange Commission, who talks turkey to stock exchanges where billions of dollars in so-called values appear or disappear every day, got into a poker game with some boy friends last Saturday night.

It was decided to play table stakes and somebody suggested everyone buy five dollars worth of chips.

Then it developed that Douglas only had two dollars in his pocket.

(He played 'em close to his vest and only lost a dollar.)

Wage-Hour Setback.

LOBBYISTS for the wage-hour bill, notably those representing Labor's Non-Partisan League and C. I. O. unions, received a bad shock when Chairman John J. O'Connor of the House Rules Committee announced he wouldn't sign the petition to discharge the bill from his committee, where Republican and southern Democratic members had held it tight.

O'Connor's previous promies to do all in his power to get the measure out of the committee had been cited confidently as evidence that the American Labor Party, which polled 482,000 votes for Mayor LaGuardia in the recent New York City election, had the chairman on the spot. But after President Green of the A. F. of L. had attacked the bill, O'Connor thought he would be safe in failing to sign the petition for discharge.

Political reprisals against O'Connor in 1938 are now threatened.

Model Modesty.

GREENBELT, nearby Resettlement-built model community, has its troubles. But they're minor. A woman complained that lack of enclosed backyards and necessity of hanging undergarments on an exposed clothesline made her feel as if she were doing a strip-tease act.

The anagement gave two answers, in effect: "1 Drape 'em on the radiators. 2. You'll get used to it."

Treatment of Child Diseases Is Urged

AUSTIN.—"It is a great mistake to treat even light cases of measles, chickenpox, mumps, scarlet fever, or any other of the communicable diseases of childhood as though they did not amount to much," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer. "Treatment of that sort makes it possible for these diseases to spread and cause serious outbreaks among children whose impaired resistance makes them easy victims to any form of infection.

"Some of the most serious outbreaks we have had of scarlet fever, as well as of other diseases in different parts of the state, have been traced to mild cases—that is, to cases too light for the doctor to be called. In some instances the children have continued to go to school and to associate and play with other children. In others, after they have been kept at home for a few days suffering from what was believed to be just an ordinary cold, they have returned to school and have scattered those germs around among their schoolmates. Eventually a group of cases—sometimes very serious ones—have developed from the carelessly-handled mild case. The result was another epidemic that could have been prevented.

"There are several things worth remembering in connection with children's diseases. Nearly all of these diseases begin with a digestive upset or with symptoms closely resembling those of the common cold. Accordingly, it is a wise thing for mothers to regard every digestive upset and every common cold with suspicion until you are sure it is not the beginning of something more serious."

Texas Furnishes One-Fourth Cash On WPA Projects

SAN ANTONIO.—Texas cities, counties, and school districts have furnished twenty-three per cent of the $75,524,548 which was expended on Works Progress Administration projects during the first two fiscal years of operation in this state.

State Administrator H. P. Drought revealed today that local sponsoring agencies have spent $17,524,548 to purchase materials and otherwise to defray expenses of operating 5,140 projects in Texas. Drought's figures were taken from computations based upon the two years of operation following the inauguration of WPA in July, 1935.

On projects ranging from the building of farm-to-market roads to the payment of women workers for making garments in sewing rooms, the federal government has expended $58,140,435 over the two-year period.

Men and women employed on WPA projects have performed 168,566,001 man-hours of work. More than one-third of this time has been spent on highway, road and street improvements. Next largest employer of certified workers was the type of projects which includes sewing rooms and canning plants, designed to provide food and clothing for the destitute and unemployable while allowing those capable of working to earn a livelihood. In order follow public building projects, professional and technical projects, installation of sewer systems and other public utilities, and sanitation and health improvements.

Expenditures for WPA and sponsors were listed by Drought according to administrative field office territories as follows:

Dallas, WPA $8,262,890, sponsors $2,346,365.

Houston, WPA $8,375,911, sponsors $2,031,549.

Fort Worth, WPA $9,630,287, sponsors $2,696,933.

Waco, WPA $5,163,971, sponsors $1,452,726.

San Antonio, WPA $5,580,267, sponsors $1,419,702.

Laredo, WPA $2,306,877, sponsors $576,730.

Amarillo, WPA $2,460,454, sponsors $703,854.

Lubbock, WPA $2,756,365, sponsors $1,060,901.

San Angelo, WPA $3,532,199, sponsors $1,205,210.

El Paso, WPA $2,107,944, sponsors $701,232.

Miss Weatherred Entertains for Pastime Club

Miss Janie Weatherred was hostess to the Pastime club with a 42 party at her home, 909 E. Indiana, Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Awards in the afternoon's games went to Mrs. D. P. Weatherred and to Mrs. Fred Lundie, each receiving a set of salt and pepper shakers.

The club's gift to the hostess was a bottle of perfume and hose.

One new member, Mrs. Lee Roby, was present.

Guests of the club were: Mmes. M. A. Young, D. P. Weatherred, Fred Lundie, Pat Patterson.

In the membership campaign, Mrs. J. E. Miller's group had one new member and two visitors present, while Mrs. J. M. Sheen's group had one visitor.

Members present were: Mmes. J. T. Weatherred Sr., J. T. Weatherred Jr., J. E. Miller, Pat Boone, Skeet Childress, J. M. Sheen, C. C. Harris, and the hostess.

A party plate was served at tea time.

The club will meet next Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with Mrs. J. T. Weatherred Sr.

Midland Musician Receives Audition

STEPHENVILLE. (Spl.) — Luna Ruth Petty, senior piano student under Charles W. Froh in the John Tarleton College department of music, received an audition last week from Tomford Harris, Chicago pianist who played at Tarleton as part of the season's lyceum course.

Mr. Harris has concertized in Europe and America, has been soloist with the Chicago Symphony orchestra and with other symphony orchestras in Canada and the United States. At present, he is teaching piano and repertory classes at the American Conservatory in Chicago, in addition to playing frequent concerts.

Miss Petty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Petty of Midland, is a member of the O. W. L. S. social club at Tarleton, of the Little Symphony orchestra, and is president of the Tarleton girls' class at the Stephenville First Baptist church. Recently she was one of a sextette of girls who sang on a Tarleton broadcast over station KTAT, Fort Worth.

Couple Married at Fort Worth Will Make Home Here

FORT WORTH, Dec. 6.—When Miss Doris Yates and Paul Bouldin were married Sunday at 10:30 o'clock, the bride wore the traditional "something old." It was a diamond ring her grandfather, Mr. George Payne, gave her grandmother on their wedding day 50 years ago.

The Yates-Bouldin marriage took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Yates, 1401 Hammond street.

Rev. T. A. Rocket of McKinney, cousin of the bride, read the ceremony before the living room mantle in front of which were palms and ferns and baskets of yellow Chrysanthemums. White tapers lighted the wedding scene.

The bride wore a royal blue velvet dinner dress with high draped neckline around the edge of which was a band of rhinestones. The dress had a corseleted bodice, shirred shoulders and short, snug fitting sleeves. She wore a shoulder corsage of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

There were no attendants.

After the ceremony, a reception was held for 50 guests. The bride's cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom, centered the lace laid table, which was lighted by white tapers in crystal holders. Mrs. W. B. Beauchamp, aunt of the bride, presided at the cake and Mrs. P W. Bouldin, mother of the bridegroom, presided at the coffee service.

After the reception, the couple left for Midland, where they will make their home.

Naomi Class Has Three Visitors At Meeting

Good attendance was reported for the regular meeting of the Naomi Sunday school class Sunday morning at the Hotel Scharbauer. Three visitors and one new member were present in addition to other attendants.

Preceding the teaching of the lesson by Mrs. J. Howard Hodge, Mrs. S. M. Laughlin brought the class devotional.

Mrs. L. H. Tiffin led the song service, with Miss Frances Farnham at the piano. Miss Farnham also played the offertory.

The class will hold a business meeting at the home of Mrs. S. M. Laughlin, 210 S. Marienfeld, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Midland Women Attend Medical Auxiliary Meeting

Mrs. W. G. Whitehouse and Mrs. Tom C. Bobo were the two members of the District Medical Auxiliary from Midland attending the monthly meeting held at Big Spring Friday.

The meeting, postponed from the last Friday in November, was in the form of a Mexican luncheon held at the Monterrey Cafe.

Dr. Rogers, who is in charge of the tuberculosis work in Howard county, was guest speaker, choosing as his subject "The Romance of Tuberculosis."

Doctors' wives attending included the two from Midland, three from Odessa, and seven from Big Spring.

The December meeting of the auxiliary will be omitted and the group will gather at Odessa on the last Friday in January for the next regular meeting.

Personals

Mrs. A. S. Scott and daughter, Eloise, of Mineola are here visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Shirey and Mrs. A. J. Skeen.

Mrs. T. L. Scott of Ranger is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Georgia Bumpers.

Miss Sallie Ray Kuykendall of Ranger was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Smith.

Hilarious Satire On Administration Wins Popularity

Editor's Note:
The following review of "I'd Rather Be Right" has been prepared for publication by Mrs. J. Howard Hodge who read the play at a meeting of the Play Readers club recently.

By Mrs. J. Howard Hodge.

"I'd Rather Be Right" is a musical revue by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart with music and lyrics by Richard Rodgers and Lorenz Hart. It is an impudent, irreverent, and hilarious satire on the current administration in Washington that has taken New York by storm. "I'd Rather Be Right" is the kind of play that could be written and produced only in our much abused United States. It's opening was page one news in every paper in the country.

"I'd Rather Be Right" stars George M. Cohen as President of the United States. The story opens with an average American boy and girl, Phil and Peggy, wanting to get married but due to financial difficulties, they must put it off. Phil's boss won't give a raise in salary until the country seems more stable and Mr. Roosevelt balances the budget. Many suggestions are offered by the Cabinet, such as asking the women of America to give up cosmetics for a year and send the money saved from this to the government, by taxing government property, post offices, and so forth, by moving the gold stored ata Fort Knox to Washington. But to all this the Supreme Court says no.

Mr. Landon as butler to the Roosevelts, the PWA projects, Social Security act are cleverly introduced into the play.

Mr. Roosevelt goes on the air asking for a third term to which the Supreme Court declares the Constitution unconstitutional.

Finally the play ends with Mr. Roosevelt making a Fourth of July speech in which he says America is about the only country left where people can talk about what's wrong with the government. That it does not matter who's President, the people of America are the ones who count. That there's always been a sort of spirit that holds the people together and it always sees us through. His advice to Peggy and Phil is to get married—that they will come through somehow.

"But I'll balance it! I'm not through trying—not by a long sight", are his closing remarks amid cheers and waving of flags.

Christmas Motif Followed in Party For Saturday Club

Definitely in the holiday mood was the party with which Mrs. John M. Speed Jr. entertained the Saturday Bridge club and guests Saturday afternoon at her home.

Red candles, poinsettias, and holly brought the festivity of Christmas to the party rooms where four tables were appointed for bridge.

Prizes wrapped in Yuletide colors of red and green were awarded to Mrs. Jack Wilkinson for high score among guests, to Miss Margaret Miles for second high score, and to Mrs. Ben Black for high cut.

At the tea hour, tables were centered with Christmas trees and a salad course moulded in the form of a holly wreath was served. Favors were tiny Christmas trees.

Mmes. Ben Black and Conn Thomas were tea guests.

Woman's Day Is Observed by First Christian Church

Celebrating the annual Woman's Day of the church, observed on the first Sunday in December, women of the First Christian church had complete charge of the evening services Sunday.

Mrs. J. E. Pickering brought a devotional from Psalms 72:11-17 and Romans 10:11-15. She also led the responsive reading which was a part of the worship service opening the program.

Mrs. Lee Cornelius played for the song service.

"Larry's Gift to India," a missions play, was presented by Mmes. F. C. Cummings, B. W. Stevens, Chas. L. Klapproth, Wade Heath, and Glenn Brunson as the feature of the evening. Briefly, the play told the story of a mother who opposed her daughter's wish to take the place of a young missionary who had been killed in an accident and of how her objections were overcome when she learned the great need of India.

Mrs. Glenn Brunson, president of the missionary society, was in general charge of the program.

CHILDERS LEADS MIDLAND POLO TEAM TO WIN OVER PANHANDLE

SCORES IN FINAL MINUTE OF EXTRA CHUKKER FOR WIN

Cecil Childers, playing No. 3 for the Midland polo team, saved a Panhandle goal and then in a last minute drive, scored one for Midland to break a tie and win 6 to 5 for the home team Sunday afternoon as a small crowd of 250 looked on. An extra period was played to break the tie score of 5 to 5 which had been registered by the end of the sixth chukker.

The hard riding Panhandle "4" composed of Lamesa and Lubbock players, kept the lead almost throughout the game, but the locals came alive in the sixth period and outplayed the visitors long enough to nose them out by the one goal lead.

"Stay on the ball and don't spare the horses" might well have been the slogan of the visiting team, the members of which gave two fine exhibitions of horsemanship and team work Saturday and Sunday. Winning the first game 5 to 3, they came back strong Sunday and kept the ball at their end of the field most of the time. Only the superb defensive work of Cecil Childers enabled Midland to chalk up a win in the final few minutes.

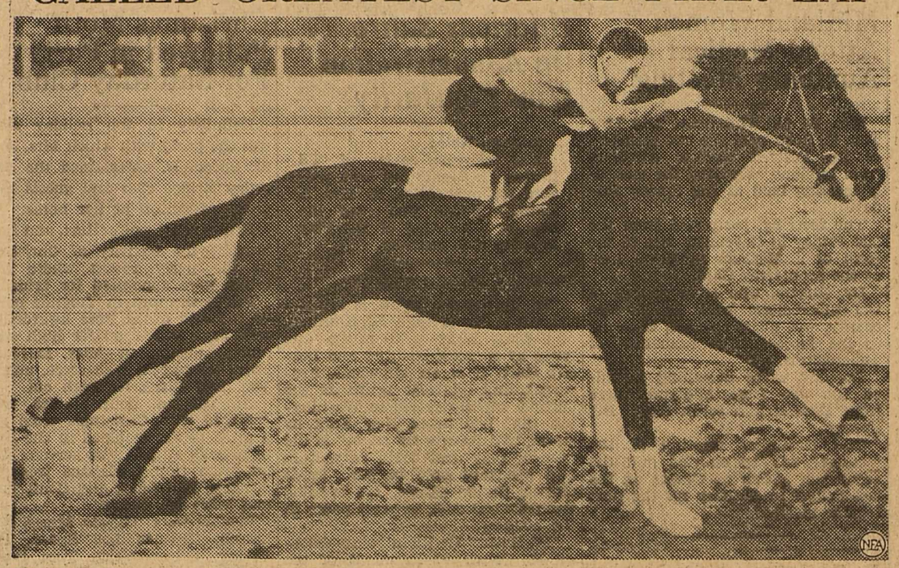

Led by Captain Gus White, who played the safety position, the Panhandle foursome was the most aggressive throughout Sunday's encounter. A. C. Woodward at No. 1 frequently got away from the entire pack, racing madly down the field, sometime to score and again to be ridden off until the ball would miss the goal by inches. Erie Barron and Spencer Barron, playing No. 2 and No. 3, respectively, stayed constantly on the ball, riding off their opponents, bringing the ball out of a huddle and following up Woodward when he got away with the willow. Gus White also put up a strong defensive game, often giving a powerful back stroke to a ball which seemed headed for the Midland score.

The Midland team, however, was not idle while this was going on. Waking up after the visitors had scored two early goals, the first in the opening half minute of play, they put up good team work and strong defense, Jay Floyd at No. 2 shooting three goals and Childers three. Gene Linthicum at No. 1 was especially effective at riding off his opponents and Rip Smith, at No. 4, was one of the most spectacular player on the field. An expert horseman, he repeatedly got away for long runs with the ball, got in some strong back strokes to stall off his opponents drives and was in every play from whistle to whistle.

Referee R. H. (Bob) Hester kept a close look-out for dangerous riding or crossing in front of opposing players, calling fouls according to the degree of danger inflicted. Lamesa was called down for three fouls, one of which enabled Cecil Childers to drive a Midland score through the goal posts. Midland was penalized only once and then when Rip Smith's dun horse elected to stop suddenly in front of an opposing player.

Scoring by the visitors was A. C. Woodward 2, Spencer Barron 2, Gus White 1. The game originally was scheduled for six chukkers but the extra period was played to break the tie and Timekeeper Chunky Cowden saw five and a half minutes of the seventh period elapse before the goal was shot by Childers, ending the affray. All four of the Midland players were riding green horses and failed to get the speed and action out of them which was demonstrated by the fast working Panhandle foursome. Well mounted and evenly matched, the opposing teams put up two strong exhibitions of polo, in the Saturday and Sunday games, pointing to possible numerous encounters to be seen on the Midland Fair field. The Sunday game was announced by loud speaker, to keep the spectators informed of the plays, players and scores.

CALLED GREATEST SINCE PHAR LAP

They're calling Amor Brujo, the gigantic stride and power of which you see in the above picture, the greatest running horse to set foot in the United States since the magnificent Phar Lap arrived from Australia five years ago. Thousands of Students Visit Ford Factory

DEARBORN, Mich. Dec. 6. — Thousands of students were numbered among the visitors from 52 foreign countries and from every American state and territory, except one, who have registered so far this year at the Ford Rotunda here.

Of the one million annual visitors a large proportion make the tour of the Ford Rouge plant here, on a 1096-acre tract, almost every trade and craft known is practiced in the production of Ford V-8 cars and trucks.

The students, seeing at close range the practical application of many of the principles they have studied in their classes, ask far more questions than any other class of visitors. For that reason they are given trained guides who are under instructions to go directly to department superintendents for replies to any question they are unable to answer themselves.

The school groups come from grade schools, high schools, and colleges, principally in Michigan and Ohio, and evening tours often are arranged for Detroit night classes in technical subjects. The special facilities are given the students because of Mr. Ford's belief that their academic knowledge is clarified and made practical, and a desire for more knowledge created, by a close inspection of advanced factory methods. The Rouge plant, now undergoing a $40,000,000 expansion program, long has been regarded as a model of production efficiency.

The open hearth, blast furnaces, foundry, rolling mills, glass plant, power house, motor building, and final assembly lines are of interest to all visitors, and the students in science generally are eager for detailed information on the testing methods and material control systems in constant operation in the 13 laboratories scattered through the vast plant.

Two or more student groups go through the plant in an average day during the school year. During the summer the teachers, rather than students, visit the plant in groups. Parties of them arrive daily from nearby cities, and individual teachers come from as far away as New Zealand, 12,853 miles away. The flood of visitor dwindles somewhat as the winter sets in, and the guide staff is wondering if there will be a visitor from Guam. That tiny island in the Pacific is the only American possession not yet represented in the lengthening roster of Ford visitors during 1937.

Headache Can Alter World Status If Dictator Is Victim, Says Savant

ST. LOUIS (U.P.)—A headache can alter the course of history, according to Dr. Thomas Cecil Hunt, of London, England.

The type headache known as "migraine" was described by the English doctor in a paper prepared for delivery before the International Medical Assembly which convened here.

"The periodic nature of migraine attacks," he said, "is, to me, one of the most remarkable and interesting things in the whole of internal medicine. Tending to affect especially those in high places, it might even change the destiny of the world, were an attack to occur at a vital moment in the life of a dictator."

The migraine headache appears at even spaced intervals; its chief causes are excitement, worry and fatigue. The fear of the monotonous attacks has been cured by hypnotism—but not the migraine.

"I have records of patients suffering for more than 40 years from attacks at precise intervals of the utmost regularity," he continued, "whether of three, four, six weeks or longer; others who have had weekly attacks and some whose recurrence has been at an exact hour of the same day, every week."

He estimated that one person in every ten has some of this affliction.

"In one case attacks had begun every Monday at 11 o'clock for at least four years without intermission," he related. "In another, every Sunday, exactly as had occurred in the case of his father before him.

"So regularly did her attacks develop that one of my patients actually said to me: 'I had a very bad attack tomorrow'!"

A young English barrister lost his vision and became a serious neurotic because of the attacks.

"I referred this patient to a psychiatrist," he said, "to aid in removing this fear and dread of an attack, and this he was able to do with complete success by hypnotism.

"Hypnotism, in my experience, can as a rule relieve the nervous symptoms, but not the migraine; suggestion acts also largely by removing the dread of attacks and restoring confidence alone can aid in this condition."

Although there is no apparent biological explanation for the fact, migraine most frequently affects women. Beginning in childhood, it wears away "of its own after 50

Don't Be Too Insistent on Spinach Mothers Are Told by Food Expert

ITHACA, N. Y. (U.P.)—Mothers may be over-rating the value of spinach when they plead with their children to "eat your spinach, dear, it's good for you."

For a long time the values of spinach have been extolled from various quarters, but recently, according to Prof. Hazel Hauck of the New York State College of Economics, it has been discovered that spinach has its faults.

Scientific experiments show that the calcium in spinach is not assimilated as easily as that in milk, Miss Hauck pointed out. This seems to be due to the oxalic acid in spinach, she said, which combines with the calcium not only in spinach but other foods as well, and becomes waste matter.

Spinach should not be discarded as unfit, but on the contrary should be eaten along with other green, leafy vegetables, it was suggested by Miss Hauck. No food is perfect, she explained, and even the best of foods may do harm if over emphasized.

"Many other greens are good in Vitamin A and iron. Of the greens thus far tested those found to contain none or only a trace of oxalic acid are lettuce, kale, endive, Brussels sprouts, dandelion, mustard greens and turnip tops."

Another criticism of spinach is that not all of its iron is available for blood-building. Although scientists need more evidence, present knowledge shows that the percentage of total iron available for building blood is generally less in green, leafy vegetables than in other foods such as grain cereals, egg yoke and liver.

Green leaves are not without value in this respect, however, according to Miss Hauck. Greens still may be valuable sources of iron, she explained, because they are relatively richer in iron than many common foods.

If the general public would forget the much-publicized panacean qualities of spinach, it would help vegetable growers to cultivate a greater variety of greens and at the same time would result in a more sane understanding of the true value of spinach, Miss Hauck ventured.

NYA Benefits Are Lauded by Kellam

DALLAS.—The gap between completion of school and the beginning of employment is the heart of America's youth problem, J. C. Kellam, state youth director, said in a speech delivered here.

"Bridging this gap from youth to adult responsibility, the National Youth Administration serves as an aid for thousands," he said. "On one hand the NYA provides part-time employment in high schools and colleges for needy youths who have passed their 16th birthday, this arrangement enabling thousands to continue their education.

"For those who have quit school, the NYA operates a work projects program, on which part-time employment on useful and practical public work is provided. These work projects are freighted with opportunity for youth to gain job training and work experience needed so badly in order to obtain one's first job."

Kellam said that the NYA had found that thousands of out-of-school youths had no idea of how to work as part of a group, and that many were unable to take direction from a foreman. "As the program got underway, it became even more apparent that youths on work projects needed special training," he added.

The training program which is part of and parallel to the NYA work projects is being extended and enlarged in scope, Kellam said. Through instruction given in spare-time classes conducted in cooperation with public schools, the state department of education, adult education program, and by NYA representatives, training opportunity in addition to that provided on the actual job is made available to the youths. More resident work and training projects, similar to those conducted last summer on which about 500 rural Texas boys and girls were afforded opportunity to receive instruction in agriculture are being planned, Kellam said.

The magnitude of the youth problem is illustrated by the findings of a survey made by the American Youth Commission in Dallas, on which a report will be published soon, Kellam asserted. "The commission's report will show, I believe, that when the study was made at least 25 per cent of the youth 16 to 25 years of age in Dallas desiring work were not regularly employed, and that to meet this problem, from the standpoint of employment alone, more than 10,000 full-time jobs would be needed."

Although the number the National Youth Administration has been able to help is small, its direct action represents only a part of the effect it has had upon the whole youth problem, Kellam said.

"The NYA program is based on the thesis that youth should have an opportunity to work at a reasonable wage. A pattern has been evolved—is being worked out; the NYA has done for a few hundred thousand what ought to be done for millions. It has helped some of those who could not attend school to do so and for others it has bridged the gap between formal education and a regular job," Kellam concluded.

cat, is shut down for orders at 4,137 feet in lime after hitting salty sulphur water at 4,120 which has risen 2,000 feet in the hole.

Water also was encountered by an Andrews wildcat, Gulf No. 1-G State, two miles north of the Deep Rock pool. It topped sulphur water at 4,468 which could not be bailed below 800 feet from bottom. The test is drilling ahead at 4,480 in lime.

Honolulu No. 1-6 J. E. Parker, Andrews test one-half mile west of the county seat, topped anhydrite at 1,960 and is drilling salt at 2,200 feet. On anhydrite top it is reported running about normal in relation to the two producers in the Parker area, a mile and three-quarters to the south. Elevation is 3,212 feet.

Ector Gas Line Slated.

Surveying is under way for a high-pressure gas line from the Goldsmith field in Ector to the Harper and Foster pools. To be operated by the Ector Gas Line Company, Inc., it will supply fuel for drilling wells in the latter areas, where gas volume is low. There will be 11 miles of 6-inch line running south from the Goldsmith area, and two 4-inch carriers branching off from it at the south terminus. Three miles of 4-inch line will be laid from the trunk line to the Harper pool, and ten miles of 4-inch to the Foster. Gas will be bought from Landreth Production Company, one of the major operators in the Goldsmith field.

Superior No. 1 Elliott F. Cowden, new producer in the Harper pool, flowed 1,054.41 barrels a day at 4,280 feet following nitro shot with 580 quarts. It topped pay at 4,070.

In the Foster pool, T. P. No. 2 Foster flowed 670 a day after 580 quarts at 4,200 feet. Pay was entered at 4,000.

"Mag" McKee Blows Out.

Magnolia No. 1-A McKee, "high" Ordovician test in the Imperial area of northern Pecos, attracted more interest today when it was reported to have blown out when opened up after being shut in for two weeks. Crew is said later to have run drill-pipe and is now circulating off bottom to keep hole clear of caves. Whether gas responsible to the blow-out is originating from upper zones or from the Simpson, middle Ordovician, topped at 4,775, was undecided. The well had threatened to blow out from upper gas showings before the Simpson was ever penetrated. Totel depth is 4,928 feet in Simpson shale and lime.

Hawaiian Follies Will Appear Here In Show Tues., Wed.

It's the Hawaii of the tourist's dream that is painted by the members of Bell's "Hawaiian Follies", for the delectation of theatre-goers, when they make their appearance on the Yucca Theatre stage Tuesday and Wednesday, matinee and evening.

The screen attraction in connection with the stage show is the United Artists' laff riot of Hollywood itself, "Stand In", featuring Joan Blondell and Leslie Howard.

All the glamour of the island paradise is included in the "Follies." There are dusky beauties who perform their native dances as the manner born with all it's native grace; guitars strum out their plaintive seductive melodies; and singers who chant their racial songs with a wealth of harmony. They also "turn on the heat" for rhythmic modern version.

Bell's "Hawaiian Follies," featuring a company of 12 native stars, presents 45 minutes of entertainment, singing, dancing and instrumental music that will undoubtedly win the favor of local show-goers.

Heading the cast is Robert Bell himself, Premier Hawaiian entertainer. Others who will be seen are Honolulu City Trio, harmony singers and popular American numbers; Kana Loki, famous hula dancer; Princess Leihe, in her sacred and ceremonial "Dances of Hawaii"; Neki LaMaka, rhumba star; John Kahookona, tenor soloist; Baby Joy, Hawaii's Shirley Temple and the Steel Guitar band, direct from the Moana Hotel at Waikiki beach.

Petrified Wood Collector Proudest Of Bat Found Encrusted in Stone

NIANTIC, Conn. (U.P.) — Charles H. Williams, who makes popcorn balls in the summer and collects petrified wood and stones of volcanic origin in the winter, will be off soon for the West Coast to roam the California desert, mush around Death Valley and scale mountains in search of material for his vast collection which exceeds 5,000 pieces.

He's not a geologist — just collects wood and stones as a hobby. His dog, Rex, is almost as good as his master in seeking out desirable material. It was all started by Mrs. Williams some years ago, but she recently died, leaving Williams and his dog to carry on, as he puts it.

Sometimes he brings back things more tangible than stones and wooden pieces. He has a bat, petrified in a piece of stone and an old alkali encrusted water canteen he picked up in Death Valley.

"What a story that could tell," he said. The bat in the rock was discovered in the Ozark mountains in Missouri. Williams has teeth from a skull three feet in diameter found in the California desert. He has the petrified fossil of a fish found on top of a mountain near Palo Verde, Cal.

Williams says he once found a whole mountain of petrified wood, which was gradually turning to asbestos; petrified clam shells in rocks from Oregon, stones of great brilliance from the Grand Canyon, zinc and lead formations from Missouri mines, and many other types.

His dog Rex, a Siberian samoyede, is as interesting to a visitor as the Williams' unusual collection. Williams came out of the house, and not realizing Rex was near, said: "I've forgotten my hat again." The dog ran into the house and returned with the hat.

Chides Roosevelt on Bad Grammar

Asking for a "new deal" in grammar to bring it to the level of that used by the men and women who mold public opinion, Professor Janet Aiken, above, of Columbia University, New York, in an open letter to President Roosevelt pointed out errors in grammar that appeared in reprints of his speeches, especially the use of "like" instead of "as" in making comparisons.

Named Russian Cabinet Woman

Here's one of the few women who ever managed to crash through the "For Men Only" sign in Soviet Russia's highest command—Mme. Viacheslav Molotov, wife of the Soviet Premier. Dean Emeritus of Engineering School In Fiftieth Year

AUSTIN.—T. U. Taylor, dean emeritus of the College of Engineering of the University of Texas, is now in his fiftieth year of service in that institution, and will observe his birth anniversary on January 2, 1938, when he will be 80 years old. Former engineering students now in North Texas will celebrate this occasion at the Jefferson Hotel in Dallas with a memorial banquet in honor of Dean Taylor. Major W. J. Powell, Joe E. Ward, and Frank Daniel are in charge of arrangements. Reservations have already been made by delegations from Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Dallas, and other North Texas towns, according to information received here.

Dean Taylor was born in Parker county about four miles from Cresson. At that time Parker was still a frontier county and the Comanches kept up their raids in that section until the latter part of the seventies. He lived on the side of one of the old cattle trails and saw hundreds of herds on their way to Abilene and Dodge City.

He is the only living member of the faculty of 1888 continuously connected with the university. When he entered the faculty, Oran M. Roberts, the "Old Alcalde"; Dr. Robert Lewis Dabney, chief of staff for Stonewall Jackson; and Dr. Robert T. Hill were members of the faculty. Of these, Dr. Hill is still living, now residing in Dallas. He is listed on the university staff as honorary lecturer in petroleum production engineering, and is enriching the literature of the Southwest with his recollections and experiences.

Dr. Hill, Gen. M. M. Crane, Geo. B. Dealey, J. B. Cranfill, Joe J. Taylor, E. J. Kiest and Mayor Holland, all of Dallas, A. A. Patrick of Weatherford and Ashley Evans of Bonham will be honor guests at the celebration.

The rose topped the list in a flower popularity census taken in 259 schools in New York state.

Warm days do not cause it to boil away—when properly serviced Mobil Freezone will afford satisfactory protection against the hazards of winter driving. Ever-Ready Auto Service. (Adv.) 12/31/37.

Frosh Caught in Bars Buy Beer as Penalty

KINGSTON, Ont. (U.P.) — Freshmen at Queen's University who are caught in a beer parlor are required to buy one large bottle of beer for each upper classman who catches them in the act, and the victim must leave immediately.

The "freshmen regulations" amendment was approved by the Arts Society Executive and the Alma Mater Society.

Freshmen are also required to wear mustaches under the amendment.

Coon Hunters Chagrined; Lose Dog and Their Way

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (U.P.) — Bill Garner of Peterborough and a companion have lost their zest for coon hunting.

In the chase their car turned turtle on a curve. Their dog vanished while trailing a fox and they bot got lost following the dog.

They finally managed to find their way home "coonless" and minus dog and car.

Beware The Cough

From a common cold

That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your common cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many cough remedies, such as Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, and fluid extract of Licorice Root, but it also has fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect, and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote, perfectly blended with all of these so that it will reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by both adults and children with remarkable results.

Thousands of people, who really know their drugs, use Creomulsion in their own families, realizing that this excellent preparation aids nature to soothe the inflamed mucous membranes, to heal the irritated tissues, and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion "tops" for coughs because you get a real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible, and active in going to the very seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is generally found satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritation, especially those stubborn ones that start as just a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained from the very first bottle of Creomulsion. Don't worry through another sleepless night—use Creomulsion.

Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product, and the relief that you want. (Adv.)
