Budge and his wife, the former Miss Dierdre Conselman of Glendale, Calif., are pictured below as they left the church. Mrs. Budge is a former Stanford university student.

America Ready To Fight, Is Blunt Warning

Roosevelt Orders Emergency; Nazi Ambitions Defied

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 28.—President Roosevelt will hold a special press conference late this afternoon at which he is expected to clear up the question of convoys.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, was advised by reporters that the chief executive's speech last night in which he committed the United States unreservedly to a policy of active resistance to all German efforts to gain control of the seas left some confusion around the convoy issue. Early replied:

"I think he will clear that up this afternoon and I would rather he would do it."

Patrol System Expanding

In his momentous radio address to the world last night the chief executive did not speak specifically of American naval escorts for British-bound ships. But he did say that the American patrol system was expanding and that all necessary additional steps would be taken to guarantee the arrival of American-made war supplies in England.

Early later had explained that he thought Mr. Roosevelt meant the patrol would be made better and more efficient and more ships would be added to it.

Promises Dynamic Defense

Probably, he indicated, Mr. Roosevelt will feel inclined to dispel doubt about what may be done, if anything, about revision of the neutrality law.

To a question whether the president's plea that all citizens put defense first meant that time for debate was over, Early replied by declaring that certainly free speech would continue.

Mr. Roosevelt, proclaiming a state of unlimited emergency promised the nation last night a dynamic defense against attack, or threat of attack.

Defies Berlin Warning

He told the world, in the face of Berlin warnings, of the administration's determination to deliver the goods to Britain, utilizing the present patrols which "are helping now" and "all additional measures . . (which) are being devised by our military and naval technicians."

He gave advance notice that occupation of Dakar, the Azores or the Cape Verde islands by Axis forces would constitute a direct danger to the safety and freedom of the hemisphere.

"We in the Americas," he declared, "will decide for ourselves whether and when, and where, our American interests are attacked or our security threatened.

Armed Forces Made Ready

"We are placing our armed forces in strategic military position.

"We will not hesitate to use our armed forces to repel attack."

To underscore the acute gravity of the world situation as he saw it, President Roosevelt issued his formal declaration "that an unlimited national emergency exists and requires the strengthening of our defense to the extreme limit of our national power and authority."

"Your government," he told the people of the United States, "has the right to expect of all citizens that they take part in the common work of our common defense—take loyal part from this mo-

Famous Persons Are Honored As Flying Fields Are Named

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, May 28—The war department today named six air corps flying fields for famous personages.

The Oklahoma City field was named Will Rogers field, for the humorist who was killed with Wiley Post, the flier, in an airplane crash in Alaska, August 15, 1935.

The airport at Ponce, Puerto Rico, was named Losey field in honor of Captain Robert H. Losey, a U. S. army air corps officer killed during a German bombing raid at Dombas, Norway, April 21, 1940 while serving as assistant U. S. military attache for the air corps to Norway.

Other names were Goodfellow field, San Angelo, in honor of the late Lieut. John J. Goodfellow, Fort Worth, who was killed in action in France, Sept. 17, 1918.

The only other occasion in recent years for departing from the army's usual policy of naming air fields for dead army officers occurred April 7, 1941 when the department named the Wichita Falls field, for the late Senator Morris Sheppard, D., Tex., chairman of the Senate military affairs committee who died recently.

Town Raided; Sky Battle Is Seen In Syria

French Surprised By Attack; One Bomber Downed

(By The Associated Press)

VICHY, UNOCCUPIED FRANCE, May 28.—A British air unit bombed the town of Sfax, in French Tunisia, this morning, an official French announcement said.

Details were not made available immediately concerning the bombardment of the important port town on the Mediterranean coast about 175 miles south of Tunis. French authorities said they had received only a brief message from officials in Tunis announcing the attack.

Eight Said Wounded

Sfax, a town of 40,000, is on a railway running from Tunis toward the frontier of Italian Libya.

A later announcement said eight persons were wounded aboard the French vessel Rabelais in Sfax harbor.

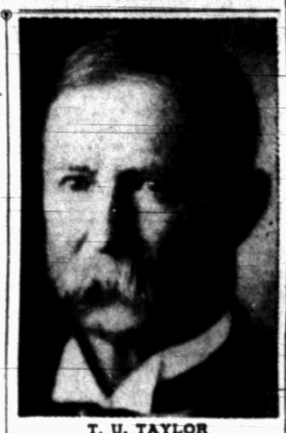

Authorized French circles said they were astonished by the attack and were unable to give any reason for it.

Planes In Battle

This was the second report today of French-British conflict. French dispatches from Beirut today said that British and French air squadrons had clashed in combat over Syria and that one British plane had been shot down.

All members of the three-man crew of the British plane, a Glenn Martin bomber, were killed, the dispatches said.

French planes went up to give battle when the British started bombing the airdrome at Neirab, near Aleppo, it was reported.

Death Claims Dean Taylor

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 28—T. U. Taylor, retired dean of the school of engineering of the University of Texas, died here today after long illness. He was 84 years old.

He was known to thousands of university students and former students as "the grand old man."

Retired Four Years Ago

Connected with the university teaching staff for more than a half century he retired about four years ago.

Taylor was an institution at the university. At student rallies preceding important athletic contests, he usually was a principal speaker.

Recently at a mammoth homecoming celebration of former students, a huge parade from the campus to the downtown and capitol sections was routed by his home, where he was ill, so he could sit on the front porch and see it.

Was Native Texan

A native Texan, born January 2, 1858, Taylor came to the university as a professor of applied mathematics in 1888.

Previously he had attended country schools in Parker, Johnson and Fannin counties, studied in the first class of the Sam Houston Normal institute and graduated from the University of Virginia in 1883.

He taught physics and mathematics in Miller institute, Virginia, from 1883 to 1888.

Friends said Taylor's health had begun to fail following the death of his son, Summerfield Taylor, a year ago.

The funeral will be held Thursday.

Axis Accusing Washington Of "Aggression"

Hitler, Mussolini Are Grimly Quiet; England Jubilant

(By The Associated Press)

Both Axis partners were grimly silent today—officially—on President Roosevelt's speech, but propaganda sources which do their bidding were allowed to hint that it may be regarded as an invitation to war.

Virginio Gayda, Fascist editor who often reflects Premier Mussolini's own views, said flatly that the United States president was "preparing for aggression" against Germany and Italy.

Now Virtually At War

Other Fascist circles in Rome said the fireside chat, committing the United States to a policy of resisting any German attempt to gain control of the seas, virtually put the United States at war with the Axis.

By late afternoon in Berlin, the German press had not disclosed to its public even that the president had spoken.

The German radio—in a broadcast also exclusively for consumption abroad—was heard by CBS in New York to denounce Mr. Roosevelt's attitude on freedom of the seas as meaning "nothing short of unlimited control by Washington" of the world's sea lanes.

Britain Is Jubilant

In Britain and throughout her empire, the president's words were heard jubilantly.

"The Axis partners were great experts in undeclared hostilities," said the London Evening Star in a full-page editorial headed "America at action stations."

"They now have their own weapon turned against them."

The newspaper pointed out that, while the declaration of war is a prerogative of Congress, the president of the United States, as commander-in-chief of the army and navy, "can send the ships and the men where he chooses."

One Step Nearer

The United States "has approached one step nearer to participation in the war" through President Roosevelt's declaration of an unlimited state of emergency, the widely circulated newspaper Nichi Nichi declared at Tokyo.

The president's indication, in

O'Daniel Veto Again Rejected By Senate

Overwhelming Vote Against Governor's Action On Auditing Measure Is Given

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 28 — The Senate by overwhelming vote today voted to override the veto by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel of a bill making the state auditor appointive by the legislature.

The vote was 25 to 1.

Similar action by the House was necessary to overthrow the veto.

Recently the legislature passed two other bills despite executive disapproval, one making an emergency appropriation for the state liquor control board and the other authorizing salary boosts for several counties.

Recommended As Reforms

Governor O'Daniel vetoed the auditor bill, he said, because the legislature did not also enact one giving the governor added powers in preparing the state budget.

The governor had recommended both bills as needed fiscal reforms. To pass the auditor bill and not the budget would strip the executive of virtually the last of his important functions, he declared.

The Senate acted without discussion on motion of Senator Weaver Moore of Houston, author of the bill.

Vote Tally Given

Lone vote against passing the bill over the governor's veto was cast by Senator A. M. Aikin, jr., of Paris.

The following senators voted aye: Harold Beck of Texarkana, Houghton Brownlee of Austin, Clay Cotten of Palestine, Clem Fain of Livingston, Marshall Formby of McAdoo, W. C. Graves of Dallas, Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo, Joe Hill of Henderson, Claude Isbell of Rockwall, Rogers Kelley of Edinburg, R. C. Lanning of Jacksboro, Vernon Lemens of Waxahachie, Karl Lovelady of Meridian, Jesse Martin of Fort Worth, Fred Mauritz of Ganado, Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo, George Moffett of Chillicothe, Weaver Moore of Houston, Ben Ramsey of San Augustine, Allan Shivers of Port Arthur, John Lee Smith of Throckmorton, W. E. Stone of Galveston, L. J. Sulak of La Grange, Kyle Vick of Waco and R. A. Weinert of Seguin.

Defense Outlay Grows Larger

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 28—President Roosevelt's request to Congress for an additional $3,319,000,000 for army and navy planes may boost cash defense expenditures beyond $31,000,000,000 in this and the next fiscal year, informed legislators said today.

These persons said probably more than half the money he sought would be spent in stepping up plane production over the $5,100,000,000 cash outlay level scheduled by the office of production management for the period ending July 1, 1942.

Hearings Reopened

The other half would go to pay orders already placed and for deliveries after that date.

Swiftly after Speaker Rayburn received Mr. Roosevelt's letter of request yesterday, the House military appropriations committee announced it would reopen hearings today on the war department supply bill, already standing in excess of $6,300,000,000.

Legislators said the total to be paid out by the treasury for defense equipment and materials actually delivered before July 1, 1942—without taking into account orders for subsequent deliveries—was likely to reach $31,000,000,000 instead of the $29,400,000,000 previously contemplated by the OPM.

The OPM, it was disclosed in a letter made public by Senator Brewster (R-Me), has scheduled production activities totaling $19,600,000,000 for the new fiscal year, compared with $9,800,000,000 estimated expenditures for the year ending June 30, 1941.

Two Big Pipelines To Be Constructed

NEW YORK, May 28. (AP) — Award of contracts for the construction of two gigantic pipelines to supply all the deep south with gasoline and natural gas—probably before the end of the year—was announced today by Ford, Bacon & Davis, Inc., constructing engineers.

The gasoline pipeline, to connect refineries in Louisiana with Greensboro, N. C., and to supply all the army camps and industrial centers in between, will cost about $15,000,000 and will be one of the largest lines in the world, about equal in size to the famous Iraq crude oil line.

The natural gas distributing system will run from the Monroe field, Louisiana, through the steel industrial area of Birmingham, Ala., and serve Atlanta and much of eastern Georgia. It will be a hookup of existing facilities and will cost between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000.

Crete Capital Falls; British Escape Cut

Germans Claim Allied Resistance On Island Smashed; Ships Said Blasted

(By The Associated Press)

Adolf Hitler's aerial invaders captured the capital city of Canea in the 9-day-old battle of Crete today, the German high command announced, and Nazi dive-bombers have frustrated a British attempt to escape by sea.

The German communique declared British resistance on the 160-mile-long island was smashed, with Allied defenders suffering heavy losses as they retreated.

Retreat Said Thwarted

The communique said dive-bombing Stukas had thwarted a British attempt to retreat by sea with the destruction of four ships totalling 5,400 tons and the damaging of two others in Suda bay, site of a big British naval base.

"The situation is serious," a London spokesman acknowledged.

The Rome radio reported that Italy's navy had safely escorted two convoys with 70 shiploads of Axis troops and supplies to the Mediterranean isle.

If true, this would tend to support Axis assertions that the British fleet has been driven from Crete waters by the fury of dive-bombing attacks. Dispatches from Alexandria, Egypt, said yesterday part of the British fleet had arrived at its base there.

Waging Exhausting Battle

With little naval support and Nazi 'chutists still dropping from the skies in great numbers, the British were pictured as waging a desperate, exhausting battle "under the appalling strain of continuous bombing from the air, day and night, with no letup."

DNB said Nazi bombers had scored hits on a 12,000-ton British troop transport south of Crete—presumably en route to the island with the reinforcements which Prime Minister Churchill said yesterday were on the way.

The Germans further claimed Nazi warplanes had sunk four British merchant ships totalling 13,500 tons in Crete waters.

Axis Liner Sunk

Striking back, a British submarine was reported by the London admiralty to have sunk an 18,000-ton Axis liner with 3,000 troops abroad, bound for the battlefields of Libya.

The admiralty said that a 5,000-ton French tanker, escorted by Italian warships and headed for Tripoli, was torpedoed and sent to the bottom, and that another 5,000-ton transport and a 4,000-ton

Lamesa Boosters To Pay Visit To City

A good will delegation including cowboys and cowgirls will be in Lubbock next Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock to publicize the annual two-day rodeo scheduled in Lamesa June 10 and 11, according to a letter received at the chamber of commerce this morning.

A committee to greet the visitors and escort them into Lubbock will be named, chamber officials said.

The letter advised that cash prizes totaling more than $2,000 have been posted for the rodeo. Afternoon and night performances are scheduled each day. A dance is scheduled each night and at one, according to the letter, an all girl orchestra will play.

Five Grand Children Proof Of Age Claim

DES MOINES, Ia., May 28 (AP)—A county welfare board recommended denial of a blind pension to a woman applicant who had no documentary proof that she was more than 18 years old, the minimum age requirement.

The state board of social welfare, however, suggested that the proof might be waived.

The woman, it seems, has five grand children.

Wise Old Owl Gave One Hoot Too Many

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., May 28. (AP)—Barber Claude K. Y. Eskew went fishing—and pulled out an owl.

Eskew was waiting for the fish to bite. Behind him sounded a derisive hoot. So, just for fun, he cast a plug toward a hollow tree.

Out flew the owl, still hooting, but hooked by a wing.

Oklahoma Cadet Dies After Santone Crash

SAN ANTONIO, May 28. (AP)—Burns suffered by flying cadet Jack O. Glaze of Ponca City, Okla., in a collision of two planes, at Kelly field, proved fatal last night.

Minor injuries were suffered by Oscar Johnson of Vincennes, Ind., pilot of the other plane.

Canada's Sweethearts, Dionne Quints, Celebrating Birthday

(By The Associated Press)

CALLANDER, Ont., May 28—Canada's five little sweethearts, the vivacious Dionne quintuplets, celebrated today their seventh birthday anniversary.

Yvonne, Annette, Cecile, Emilie and Marie had a mammoth cake to share with members of their immediate family.

Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, who brought the five girls into the world at a little farmhouse near this northern Ontario town, was recovering at a Toronto hospital from an operation and thus was forced to miss the celebration.

The girls' program for the day included a pontifical mass celebrated by Bishop Leo Nelligan of Pembroke; the presentation of a $17,500 ambulance, bought by them for the Ontario Red Cross society, and a broadcast before retiring in the evening.

Whether the girls will speak in French or English was not known. Their last broadcast

London Claims Axis Has Lost 561 Ships

LONDON, May 28. (AP) — Five hundred and sixty-one Axis ships totaling 2,873,000 tons have been sunk, captured or scuttled since the war began up to the middle of May, it was learned officially today.

The Germans lost 346 ships totaling 1,773,000 tons, of which 61 were captured or seized and 285 sunk or scuttled.

The Italians lost 215 ships totaling 1,100,000 tons of which 39 were captured or seized and 176 sunk or scuttled.

Nazis Claim British Tortured 'Chutists

BERLIN, May 28 (AP) — Formal charges of torturing German parachutists in Crete were made by a military spokesman today at the daily press conference.

He said the high command soon would make a public announcement.

British Prime Minister Churchill accused the Germans of disguising their parachutists in uniforms of New Zealand forces, part of the British-Greek army defending Crete.

This was denied by the German high command.

Selectee Laws Are Broadened

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 28.—Registrants may no longer be barred from selective military training because of statutory law violations.

General J. Watt Page, state director, explained yesterday that under revised regulations debarment of felons was limited to perpetrators of certain "heinous" crimes and habitual criminals.

Bans Are Lifted

"This will enable many patriotic young Americans who had been debarred because of some youthful misstep to serve their nation in the ranks of its armed defenders," he declared.

The amended regulations now ban specifically those who have been convicted of certain heinous crimes, who have been convicted on two or more occasions of a felony, who are chronic offenders with pronounced criminal tendencies, who have been convicted on at least three occasions of offenses punishable by jail sentences and jurisdiction, or any other civil authority.

C. C. Mills Claimed; Rites Set Thursday

Liquor Board To Issue Stamps In City; Price Increase Noted

The district office of the Texas Liquor Control board in Lubbock, which serves 21 counties, is receiving the fractional liquor tax stamps for distribution to retail dealers who must purchase them for affixing to present liquor stocks by June 1.

That was the announcement this morning of Pat M. Gaddy, in charge.

Passage of the omnibus tax bill by the legislature had these effects on retail liquor dealers: increased the tax on distilled spirits from 96 cents to $1.28 a gallon, and levied a tax of 22 cents on each prescription for liquor filled by drug stores holding medicinal permits.

There was no increase in tax on wine, ale or beer, and only dealers in whiskies, gins and other types of distilled spirits are affected by the new tax law.

All retailers are required to make an inventory of liquor stocks on hand as of midnight May 31 and report this sworn inventory to the board's office here. Board representatives

Governor O'Daniel To Unlimber New Fireworks In Senate Race

Public Speech Slated June 2

(By The Associated Press)

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's announcement that he would get into the open-air senatorial scramble with a public speech at Waco June 2, accompanied by his hillbilly band, headlined the campaign today.

The announcement from Austin brought speculation as to whether his gorgeous white dome-topped political battlewagon, veteran of his last successful gubernatorial race, would again be used to transport his barnstorming party. The governor did not say.

In two previous campaigns, he has used the central Texas city as a jumping off place with unquestioned success.

Other Candidates Busy

Thus far he has made one radio speech and other "pre-campaign" radio chats from Austin.

Other candidates kept busy.

Speaking to a meeting of service clubs at Galveston, Martin Dies called upon the people of the United States to stand united and demanded legislation to put an end to strikes in defense industries.

Dies will speak at Austin tonight. Burnett, Llano and Temple are on the schedule for May 29, and Waco May 30.

"Whatever destiny America has in the black days of this world war lies in the hands of that leader who spoke to us from the White House tonight," Lyndon Johnson said at Tyler last night.

Will Support FDR

"President Roosevelt is the one I have supported and shall continue to support when I am your United States senator.

"Britain must not fall and democracy will not be kicked around at the whim of Hitler, that Austrian paperhanger."

Johnson planned to continue his East Texas drive today at Longview.

Gerald Mann moved northward through central West Texas, speaking last night at Gatesville and today at Meridian, Stephenville, Grandbury, Cleburne and Hillsboro.

Referring to the freight rate situation, he said:

"The eastern section of this country has sought to retain its leadership as an industrial section by bringing about a discrimination in freight rates on shipments from the south to the east.

"They have contrived to keep higher rates on freight moving northward and eastward so that southern industries have had no chance to compete with northern and eastern industries."

Twelve-Grade Plan Is Approved Here

The state department of education's 12-grade system was approved for Lubbock city schools next year in a resolution adopted at the monthly meeting of trustees of Lubbock independent school district Tuesday afternoon.

The meeting was held in the office of Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, board president, in Lubbock sanitarium. Trustees attending were R. F. Bayless, W. G. Alderson, Chas. A. Guy and Dr. Hutchinson.

Installation In Progress

Dr. W. B. Irvin, city school superintendent, reported that the 12-grade system has been in the process of installation in local schools during the past three years.

The board set Sept. 8 as the opening date of the next school term and May 29, 1942, for the close. Christmas holidays will begin Friday, Dec. 19 and continue until Monday morning, Jan. 5.

The list of 325 Senior High school graduates who received their diplomas last night was formally certified. Similar action was taken for the list of 16 graduating seniors of Dunbar negro high school.

Zones for schools during the 1941-42 session were established as recommended by Dr. Irvin, who said that, with a few minor changes, they are the same as during the past term.

Leave Is Granted

Creation of the position of director of guidance in the system was authorized.

Resignations of Mrs. Pauline Hooser Keyes, Mrs. E. E. Key and Miss Christia Cowan were accepted. A year's leave of absence was granted to John T. Howell, member of the Sanders school faculty, while he is in military service.

Miss Nell McNeely was elected a member of the faculty for the 1941-42 terms. Mrs. Ed Terrell was appointed a member of the summer school faculty.

Model Small Homes Will Be Displayed

Model small homes will be displayed by two Lubbock lumber firms in observance of home building week June 1-7, according to announcement Tuesday. A statewide broadcast will signal the beginning of the observance Sunday afternoon.

Showings of model homes will be held in 100 Texas cities, P. S. Luttrell, state production manager of the Federal Housing administration, has announced.

Homes Named "The Texans"

The exhibit homes are named 'The Texans' and embody all the latest improvements and details of small home construction.

The home to be shown by the Maxey Lumber company has been recently completed at 1714 Twenty-eighth street, Homer G. Maxey, president of the company, announced Tuesday.

Cicero Smith Lumber company will show another model home at 2003 Thirty-first street, Price H. Caskey announced.

Officials of both companies will be on hand at the respective houses Sunday afternoon to show interested parties through them. Both houses will be offered for sale, it was said.

FROM BASIN TO BUCKET?—The familiar basin-type helmet of the United States Army, left, is about to give way to a bucket-type headgear, similar to that worn by the German soldier at right. Affording greater protection to the back and sides of the head, the new helmet has been undergoing War department tests. It weighs about two and a half pounds, three ounces more than the present model.

Eight Men Accepted For Army Air Corps

Eight men, including two of the same surname but not related, were accepted for enlistment in the army air corps here Tuesday and are enroute to March field, Calif., to begin training, according to Major Walter Jessee, district recruiting officer.

Roy L. Johnson and John H. Johnson, jr., were the Lubbock men. Others enlisting were: Day N. Oxford and Rufus W. Crawford, jr., Amarillo; Hiram T. Price, Pampa; Merle F. Padgett and Orville T. Bates, Childress and Wilburn C. Flippin, Plainview. The men left Tuesday afternoon.

There are now 59 vacancies at March field, 36 men having been sent there since the quota was assigned the district; 23 vacancies in air base detachment, Fort Sill, Okla., and 31 in the photo group, Lowry field, Denver.

GUARDS CLOTHES AGAINST MOTHS

Before packing garments, woolens, etc., expose to strong sunlight. Then have dry cleaned, steam pressed, or brush thoroughly. Next, clean out clothes chest or trunk and sprinkle Bee Brand Insect Powder liberally in corners and over bottom. Lay a sheet of paper over powder, place clothes on top, then cover clothes with more paper and over it sprinkle more powder. Bee Brand Insect Powder kills moths quick, yet it's safe to use. "YES SIR, we got this whole swell Touraide* free as air. Just went to the nice Conoco station near home, where we never traded before, and what didn't we ask for! But those folks came through. Look at this Touraide book—slick metal hinge—maps flatter'n a pancake. All the different routes marked. Same with side trips.

"Here's pictures of places . . . Stories about them . . . Camp and hotel prices. Ask where to fish or swim or play golf, and your free Conoco Touraide book tells you. It's so far ahead of clumsy old folders that you wouldn't be surprised at the same Conoco outfit having awful good gasoline and oil. So far, our Conoco Bronz-z-z gasoline has done this distance for $3.50 less than our best old average. The trailer hardly seems on, with the power from Conoco Bronz-z-z.

"And you sure want to know about Oil-Plating. Conoco's Germ Processed oil gives cylinders and things a slippy Oil-Plating that can stay up like any plating, with engine standing or running. Right from every start, you must get real lubrication from Oil-Plating, judging by the sweet-running car.

"Imagine driving clear out here, never adding to Germ Processed oil! They've got a right to the name Your Mileage Merchant, because they give you mileage, even if they never high-pressure you when you apply for your expensive Conoco Touraide free. Nothing else like it. You ought to have one right now."

Federated Clubs Bring Season To Close With Luncheons And Programs

Installation Is Conducted

Annual luncheons were conducted by several federated study clubs Tuesday afternoon and others attended programs to close a season's work.

Officers were installed at a meeting of the Lubbock Woman's Forum at the F. R. Friend home, 2005 Broadway. Mesdames R. S. Underwood, R. P. Fuller, Joe McIlhaney and Noel Stalnaker were hostesses.

Mrs. Raymond Marshall sang two selections.

Members of the house party wore sweetpea corsages. Other flowers were used in decorating the entertaining rooms. Retiring officers were Mesdames Underwood, president, Fuller, vice-president, Stalnaker, secretary and McIlhaney, treasurer.

Incoming officers are Mrs. Arch L. King, president; Mrs. G. V. Fulton, vice-president; Mrs. Clem Boverie, treasurer and Mrs. Howard Redding, secretary.

Committees Named

Mrs. King announced other officers and committees appointed as follows: critic, Mrs. C. D. Doggett; parliamentarian, Mrs. W. W. Morris; reporter, Mrs. Gradie Bownds; historian, Mrs. E. L. Richards; entertainment, Mesdames Fuller, Homer Maxey, Garland Newsom, C. R. Young and Stalnaker; by-laws and constitution, Mesdames Morris and Underwood; program: Mesdames Bownds, Marshall, Chester Elliott, Robert Maxey and Rem A. Thomson; welfare: Mesdames Ray Livesay, Jim Bledsoe, McIlhaney, Bill Davis; telephone: Mesdames B. E. Adair, William Lowrimore, jr., Roy S. Watts; finance: Mesdames Mark Allen, A. H. Maas, Emmett B. Kerr and Marcus Helber; speech arts, Mrs. Robert McCarty; art, Mrs. J. L. Horn; literary, Mrs. Turner Adams; project, Mrs. M. M. Ewing; representative to the City Federation, Mrs. H. J. Bingham; representative to the Lubbock County Children's council, Mrs. Jimmie Kerr; representative to the county Federation, Mrs. Herbert Ralls.

President's Luncheon

An annual president's luncheon was attended by Twentieth Century club at Hotel Lubbock. Committees and officers gave their yearly reports. Mrs. W. O. Stevens, retiring president, was presented with a gift from the club by Mrs. J. H. Hankins. Mrs. M. C. Overton, new president, was installed.

Those attending were Mesdames W. G. McMillan, A. L. Carter, T. B. Duggan, George W. Dupree, H. F. Godeke, J. S. Johnson, C. S. Mast, A. W. McKee, J. H. Murdough, M. D. Temple, W. B. Price, T. R. Prideaux, Roy Riddel, J. B. Jackson, J. R. Jameson, R. A. Studhalter, C. M. Trout, O. L. Byrd, Robert Allen and Henry Godeke of Muscatine, Ia., a guest.

A summary of the year's work was given when Sorosis club members met at the Hilton hotel for a one o'clock luncheon. Hostesses were Mesdames W. A. Clark, C. H. Smith, J. D. Peters, D. D. Cross, G. W. McCleary, Lamar G. West, R. S. Williams and Miss Vera Murfee.

Twenty-four members including Mrs. R. T. Campbell, an honorary member, and a guest, Mrs. E. S. Calvert of Tulsa were present.

Mrs. A. W. Evans, retiring president, made a speech and Mrs. W. P. Clement, incoming president, responded. Mrs. Campbell told the history of the gavel which is presented to the incoming president each year. Mrs. Williams, historian of the club, read a history of the organization since 1925. Mrs. Campbell and Miss Murfee are the only charter members who are now members of the club. There have been 64 members.

New yearbooks were distributed.

Officers Are Installed

Sixteen members of the Junior Sorosis club met at Hotel Lubbock for a luncheon. These included Mesdames Frank Todd, R. L. Edwards and W. A. Morgan, new members.

Reports were given and officers were installed. New officers are President, Mrs. W. L. Baugh, jr.; vice-president, Mrs. Howard Patterson; recording secretary, Mrs. Paul Fischer; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Don King; treasurer, Mrs. J. L. Adams.

"In This Our Life" (Ellen Glasgow) was reviewed by James G. Allen, dean of men at Texas Technological college, at a meeting of the Junior Twentieth Century club in the Tech library building.

Twenty members and five guests attended the session.

An installation service was conducted by Mrs. A. W. Young, retiring president of the Athenaeum club, at a luncheon at the Hilton hotel. Three-minute talks were given by each member on topics of Texas. Mrs. L. B. Cooper was in charge of arrangements.

Beth Ann Ryan Plays In Recital This Afternoon

Beth Ann Ryan was presented in piano recital at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Ryan, 1920 Fourteenth street. Her teacher is Mrs. E. L. Robertson.

The selections were: In the Alps, Country Garden and Old College Song (Thompson), Chinese Lanterns (Marhon), Hallelujah chorus (from Handel's "Messiah,") Waltz on the Green (Beaton), On the Lake (Anthony), Spinning Song (Elmenreich), Minuet (from Mozart's "Don Juan.")

Mrs. Ryan served refreshments at the close of the program.

Piano Students Are To Give Recital Friday

Mrs. E. L. Robertson is to present her piano pupils in closing recital Friday night at 8 o'clock in the First Presbyterian young people's department. This program is open to the public.

Two home body-builders, requiring an inclined surface, are demonstrated here by lovely Maris Wrixon, Warner Bros. starlet, who scarcely seems to need them.

In the top exercise, designed to make the waist supple, place the feet in straps, lie head down on the board, and then ascend to a sitting position. In the lower, using a grip which will pull the shoulders back, keep the legs straight, and raise and lower them.

Both exercises are done best to a rhythmic one-two count, but care as always should be taken not to overdo the first few times.

Club Is Host For Seniors

Las Cresas club entertained to honor senior members with an annual dance that began Tuesday night at 11 o'clock and continued until 2 o'clock this morning. The semi-annual event was held at the Hilton hotel with Jack York's orchestra furnishing music.

Senior members, who were honor guests, were Bernice Cocanougher, Marjorie May, Ruth Gray, Sylva Wheelock, Marilyn Cantelou, Betty Ann McAfee, Jean Smith, Mary Elizabeth Grimes, Mary Jane Kinard, Lucille Read and Mary Jo Jackson.

Each senior member invited a special guest and her date. The guests were Paulann Rogers, Nell Graham, Willella Nelson, Margaret Wallace, Mae Jean Faulkner, Temple Joyce McAfee, Norma Kelly, Averlyne Hatcher, Gloria Bess Darden, Mary Langford and Marion Stratton.

We The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT

An eighteen-year-old Fort Worth, Tex., girl has set a dangerous precedent.

She has put her fiance's protestations of love to the lie detector test. Things turned out all right in this case and the Miss, who is a Mrs. now, found out that her suitor did want to marry her for herself alone, and not because he thought it would be convenient to be married when his draft number came up.

But putting love to the lie detector test is dangerous business.

Here are some of love's sweet protestations that, though they might not fool a lie detector, easily fool a man or woman in love:

"You're the most beautiful woman in the world."

"Of course, I've been interested in other girls, but I've never really been in LOVE before. This is different."

* * *

PLAYING HAVOC WITH LOVE WORDS

"You aren't a bit like other men."

"You know I never LOOK at another woman."

"I think about you every minute that you're gone."

"Certainly I trust you."

"Of course I've never told another man I loved him."

"You know, I'd love you even if you weren't beautiful."

"I wouldn't change one single thing about you."

"I LOVE to hear about your work."

"Let's not talk about me. I'd much rather talk about you."

See what havoc a lie detector could play with love?

Let's just leave the lie detector to crime investigators—and continue to believe whatever we want to believe when it comes to love.

"The other morning I woke up with a cold. My nose was running—my eyes were running—and everything seemed to be running but my bowels. Right there Mama figured I was temporarily constipated, which made me feel worse. She gave me TEETHINA because Mama says TEETHINA is the nicest kind of laxative for little fellows like me. It cleaned my bowels and I feel better now. I want to thank my drug store for always keeping a big supply of TEETHINA on hand. TEETHINA costs only 30c for twelve nice-tasting powders." Give TEETHINA according to the directions in each package and write Teethina, Columbus, Ga., for a free baby booklet.

Ardath Byrd Is Honored

A pottery shower honoring Miss Ardath Byrd, bride-elect of Clyde E. Smith, was given Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. K. Mathis, 2319 Twenty-eighth street. Hostesses were members of the George R. Bean school faculty: Misses Lucille Collier, Claire Patterson, Dimple Watson and Mesdames Paul P. Cates, W. O. McLeod, Steve Dobbs, Anna Donaldson and B. C. Wells.

Guests were Mesdames E. L. McCrory, J. Floyd Dunn, J. C. Porter, Lattie Rankin, Josephine Ballenger, Ishmael Hill, D. J. Wilhelm, Misses Pearl Jackson, Harriet Kennedy, Edith Whitlock, Lois Mangum, Susie Shipp, Frances Conley, Evelyn Jones, Lottie Croslin and Ouida Buzbee.

Gifts were sent by Misses Katie Bell Crump, Velma McCandless, Dorothy Lomax, Mittie Jones, Mildred Boone, Margaret Bell and Mesdames B. H. Meskimen and Pearl Watson.

Winsome Class Luncheon Honors New Members

Honoring May members, the First Baptist Winsome class entertained with a luncheon at the activities center Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. D. D. Webster gave the invocation and Mrs. Gradie Bownds conducted a business meeting and Mrs. J. B. McCauley, jr., introduced the new members.

Mrs. J. V. Jones led a devotion and Mrs. Z. L. Wright gave a prayer.

Those attending were Mesdames L. W. Bell, Kirby Perryman, H. C. Allen, M. M. Smith, V. L. McGlocklin, John H. Cox, Jack Sims, Willis Cato, L. H. Barley, R. E. Hendrix, John Markham, J. P. Privett, Thurman White, D. T. Collins, G. L. Ashley, O. H. Gideon, Marie Jordan, D. T. Worley, Eugene Knox, Sam W. Wynn, Joe Lowrimore, John Lowrimore, Jack Markham, Paul Willis, Gene Leftwich, M. L. Hale Center Marriages Are Being Announced

HALE CENTER, May 28 (Special)—Announcement was made this week of the marriage of Miss Virginia Spykes, teacher in the local schools, to Owen Benn of Abernathy, on Dec. 26, 1940. The ceremony was performed in Sulphur, Okla., by Rev. G. L. Giles, Methodist minister. Mrs. Benn has taught languages and coached the high school girls sports in the high school here the last three years. She is the daughter of Mrs. Roy Spykes of Hermleigh. Mr. Benn is the son of Chris Benn of Abernathy, and is operating a farm six miles southeast of here. Both are graduates of Texas Technological college, Lubbock.

Another wedding of general interest was announced this week here. Miss Maxine Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Nute Watson of this city, and Pete Nachlinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nachlinger of Hermleigh, were wed in Clovis, N. M., March 29. Texans In All Walks Of Life Are Affected By Vital Legislation

Solons' Work Is Reviewed

BY RAY NEUMANN
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, May 28—Obscured by strife over more significant matters, an abundance of major legislation vital to Texans in all walks of life was written into the law books by the general session now nearing an end.

New statutes of state-wide importance included slashing unemployment compensation taxes, boosting the truck load limit, prohibiting force and violence in strikes, abolishing voluminous sales of liquor in dry areas and eliminating penalties on delinquent taxes.

Speed Limit Increased

Texas' 181 lawmakers also labored over and approved laws establishing a defense guard to replace the national guard now on active duty, adopting stricter drivers' license regulations, abolishing the bat and whipping in state prisons, exempting privately-owned trucks from the motor carrier act, extending Texas' borders 27 miles into the gulf of Mexico and increasing the state speed limit to 60 miles an hour.

Early in the session, the legislature amended the unemployment compensation act to save employers an estimated $10,000,000 annually by substituting a graduated payroll levy for a uniform three per cent and rewarding firms with stable employment.

Truck Load Limit Upped

Anear-decade-long fight to increase the 7,000-pound truck load limit culminated with passage of a bill boosting the allowable weight of trucks and load to 38,000 pounds.

Prohibition of violence in possible defense industry strikes was voted after the major portion of a drastic anti-strike bill, recommended by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, was ruled unconstitutional.

A clamp on an asserted "racket" in dry districts was adopted by limiting physicians' issuance of liquor prescriptions to 100 in 90 days and allowing drug stores to stock only 10 gallons at one time.

Intended to speed payments of delinquent county or state ad valorem taxes was a statute eliminating penalties on levies due July 1, 1940, if paid by Nov. 1, 1941, with 6 per cent interest.

Schools Benefitted

The legislature authorized leasing of Camps Hulen and Wolters and a coastal bombing range to the federal government and provided for financial aid to school districts burdened with new scholastics due to defense activities.

Extension of Texas' participation in the interstate oil compact to Sept. 1, 1943, permitting use of sweet natural gas in some instances in the manufacture of carbon black, simplifying organization of soil conservative districts and authority to condemn land for airports went on the statute books.

A new law, intended to increase the state's income through interest payments, provided obligations on school land purchases would not be due until Nov. 1, 1951.

Ticket Scalping Prohibited

Other measures permitted counties by local option to levy five cents on the $100 valuation for advertising purposes, exempted army post exchanges from the cigarette tax, prohibited sale of convict-made goods in competition with others, made fire-escapes mandatory in two-storied school buildings instead of three, provided a procedure for converting state banks into national banks and authorized publication of legal notices in bona fide newspapers only.

Approved finally also were bills to:

Prohibit athletic event ticket-scalping, allow railroads to issue passes to families of deceased or retired rail workers, lease Galveston a strip of submerged land to build a pleasure pier, exempt state banks from the note stamp tax, allow five students from each foreign nation on the American continents to attend state colleges tuition free;

Trials Are Affected

Allow acquisition of land for a bomber plant at Fort Worth, remove a ban on voting in county and statewide elections by citizens not possessing city poll tax receipts, make mandatory continuance of trials in which legislators were attorneys or parties in the case;

Authorize free text books for teaching of Spanish, appropriate $69,200 to water conservation districts, abolish out-of-state salt water fishing licenses, close the season on prairie chickens to Sept. 1, 1946, require state examinations for insurance recording agents and solicitors;

Many Others Okayed

Permit counties to use money seized in gambling raids in financing gambling investigations, authorize counties to levy a tax for park purposes, lift area restrictions on county parks, create Jim Hogg memorial park near Rusk, allow state banks to invest in FHA mortgages, permit cities to condemn property for water wells;

Allow school districts to vote taxes for building repairs, authorize courts to commit delinquent children to homes, require labeling of second-hand watches, eliminating tips in computing salaries for unemployment compensation purposes, authorize transfer of lands on a proposed Copano bay site;

Permit water improvement districts to buy fire-fighting equipment, authorize a 25-cent fee on registered insurance policies, allow counties to call elections on bonds to acquire land for agricultural experiment stations and give Texas A. & M. college power of eminent domain to acquire land.

Ex-Communist Valtin Reveals Russian Plots Among Sailors

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, May 28—Richard Krebs (Jan Valtin), former German Communist author of "Out of the Night," told a Dies subcommittee today that Tommy Ray, whom he identified as an internationally known red, is the "real power" in the National Maritime Union (CIO).

Krebs, who wrote the book to expose Communist activities after he had renounced his red affiliations, told the subcommittee that Joseph Curran is not the real head of the maritime union but "only a marionette for Tommy Ray." He said that Ray is also head of the "Communist faction" in the NMU.

Sent Money To Fink

Krebs told how he had sent considerable sums of money from Germany, where he directed Communist water front activities, to George Mink, former Philadelphia taxi driver, for organization of Communist seamens' clubs in the United States.

Mink, he said, was known among seamen as "Mink the Fink." He sent the money between the years 1930 and 1937, Krebs said.

Seamens' clubs were organized in most principal seaports of the United States and functioned as Communist cells, he said. In 1935 the Communists switched their policy from revolutionary to "Trojan horse" tactics, disbanded the clubs and ordered the members to penetrate trade unions and "conquer them," Krebs said. They were instructed to join the AFL seamen's unions on the West coast with the object to "overthrowing every union leadership that did not follow the party line," he testified.

The Communists failed to win their battle with AFL unions on the West coast, but did succeed in taking over whole unions along the East coast, Krebs said.

Tommy Ray, he added is now in the West Indies organizing Communist activities.

Krebs said the Communists are organized and instructed to use every possible means to "obstruct" the loading and shipment of war materials.

Rep. Jerry Voorhis (D-Cal) asked why, in that case, there was not more obstruction of shipments of war materials leaving East coast ports for England.

Okayed In Moscow

Krebs said this is because most of the shipments are being carried in British ships where the Communists are "poorly organized." American ships cannot carry war materials to England, he noted, adding that if they were to become involved there was "a Communist unit" functioning on every American ship along the East coast.

The leaders of Communist maritime activities in the United States, Krebs asserted, "had to be okayed in Moscow before they could assume their jobs."

Led 1934 Strike

The only American strike considered to be of world importance was the San Francisco waterfront strike of 1934, which led to a general strike there, he said. Ray Hudson a Communist-organizer, sent in reports on activities of the Marine Workers Industrial league, he said.

He said the strike was the only one in America which took place under Communist leadership, and developed into mass strikes, then a general strike.

The name of Harry Bridges was mentioned "in several reports written by Hudson," Krebs said, and Hudson "spoke of Bridges as his own subordinate."

Proposed Law Ruled Unconstitutional

AUSTIN, May 28. (AP)—A proposed new citrus marketing law is unconstitutional, Attorney General Gerald C. Mann ruled today.

He gave the opinion at the request of Speaker Homer Leonard of McAllen.

Mann said the bill made "unreasonable and arbitrary classification, discriminating against some producers of citrus fruit and favoring others in the same class and denying those in the same class equal protection of law."

The opinion stated:

"The purpose of the 'Texas citrus marketing act' appears to be to regulate the marketing of the citrus fruits by imposing certain marketing rules and regulations, including the quantity of production, and fixing the minimum price or 'floor' at which the fruit is to be sold from the tree by the 'producer.'

"Basically, the theory of such regulation seems to be to enhance the purchasing power of the 'producer' of citrus fruits and by improving his economic status, promote the public welfare and relieve chaotic economic conditions in the citrus fruit industry,'" Mann pointed out.

"We can see no reasonable basis to support the action of the legislature in its attempt to single out only three, of several, counties of the state of Texas that are known to be producing citrus fruits and bridle those engaged in producing and marketing citrus fruits, in those three counties, with such a law as the 'Texas citrus marketing act.'"

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills. —Adv.

FROM THE 1940 ANNUAL REPORT

"The wide public acceptance of Phillips products is reflected in an unbroken record of increased sales each year since marketing activities began in 1927. During 1940, total sales of finished products amounted to 1,174,000,000 gallons. The increase of 66,000,000 gallons over 1939 volumes represented a greater percentage gain than for the industry as a whole."

K. S. ADAMS, President — FRANK PHILLIPS, Chairman

Off the Beaten Path

NEW Higher Anti-knock Phillips 66

In 1927, only an idea . . . today, sales of more than a billion gallons a year.

In 1927, Phillips 66 was the name of an innovation in motor fuel, a gasoline off the beaten path. Today, 66 million is the 1940 increase in gallons over the sales for 1939.

From the beginning, Phillips has devoted itself to producing and delivering "greater value for the money." From the beginning, Phillips has never hesitated to step from the beaten path in search of any product improvement which might give finer performance or money savings to motorists.

A company, and a product, which have grown so swiftly in so short a time must have supplied special benefits to car owners, must have given extra value to win such rapid recognition.

First to offer high test gasoline at the price of ordinary motor fuel . . . first to match gasoline to weather . . . first to offer at all its stations the extra-powered gasoline resulting from the patented POLYmerization process . . . Phillips is a leader in research, ready at all times to leave the beaten path to make Phillips 66 an unexcelled gasoline in its price class.

On this record, and on this determination, we sincerely believe today's summer-grade Phillips 66 Poly Gas merits a trial by every car owner. We invite you to stop for a trial tankful . . . at any Orange and Black 66 Shield.

Congressional Opinion Sharply Divided Over Roosevelt's Speech

Talk Branded Move To War

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, May 28 — Congressional non-interventionists, differing sharply over interpretation of President Roosevelt's fireside chat, meet this afternoon to "consider the questions" it raised.

Reaction ranged from "it means war" to the statement of Sen. Carter Glass, D., Va., who "agreed with every word of it and more besides."

Sen. Robert A. Taft, R., Ohio, acting in the absence of Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D., Mont., issued the call for the non-interventionist meeting. In addition to gauging the effects of the address, the group will discuss ways of holding a national referendum to back up their assertion that more than 80 per cent of the country is opposed to involvement in war.

"This Means War"

Supporters of New Deal foreign policy praised the message as a magnificent analysis of the world situation. Glass said he favored convoys and "shooting the creation out of any foreign boat that interferes with convoys."

Rep. Melvin J. Maas, R., Minn., a member of the House naval affairs committee said, "this means war . . . it may take full fleet action to deliver the goods. This means shooting just as the escort system would mean shooting."

Divergent viewpoints among the isolationists were illustrated by the reaction of Taft and Sen. Gerald P. Nye, R., N. D.

Nye Is Critical

Taft said Mr. Roosevelt's proclamation of freedom of the seas had "no relation to the question of convoys because that doctrine never allowed the shipment of contraband of war such as our lend-lease materials."

Nye held that the president "gives notice that we already are convoying, probably in war zones." He deplored the fact that Mr. Roosevelt omitted "the usual word of assurance of determination to stay out of war." Congressional non-interventionists had sent the president a letter before his speech urging him to reassure the people that they would not be led to war.

Already Had Powers

"The declaration of an unlimited national emergency has no legal effect whatever," Taft said. "The president has no statutory or constitutional authority to declare such an emergency. His proclamation gives him no powers which he did not have a month ago."

Sen. Guy M. Gillette, D., Ia., a member of the Senate foreign relations committee, said the declaration of an "all out" emergency or of reassertion of freedom of the seas should call for action by Congress.

Sen. Theodore F. Green, D., R. I., also a member of the committee but a strong supporter of administration foreign policy, thought the speech implied that Mr. Roosevelt would ask for repeal of the neutrality act.

Claimed Indefinite

Other comment:

Senate Republican Leader Charles L. McNary of Oregon: "It was a timely review of the war situation but indefinite as it touches some of the major issues."

Chairman Walter F. George, D., Ga., of the Senate foreign relations committee: "It was a very strong statement of the basic philosophy of the administration."

Chairman Sol Bloom, D., N. Y., of the House foreign affairs committee: "The president's powers under his unlimited emergency proclamation are very sweeping but of course they do not include the power to make war."

Provokes War Hysteria

Rep. Hamilton Fish, R., N. Y., ranking Republican member of the House foreign affairs committee: "Just a sop handed out to the interventionists. It was a typical Roosevelt speech to provoke further war hysteria in an attempt to break down the will of over 80 per cent of the people who oppose involvement in war."

Speaker Sam Rayburn, D., Tex.: "It will be very satisfying and encouraging not only to the people in the western hemisphere but to democratic peoples throughout the earth."

Sen. Tom Connally, D., Tex.: "The president's demand for maintenance of America's traditional policy of freedom of the seas is unanswerable."

Two Texans Narrowly Escape Plane Crash

STAMFORD, May 28 (AP)—Ban Reid, Dallas, was in a hospital today. He said it might well have been a mortuary.

The Dallas pilot saved his life and that of another flying instructor yesterday by parachuting to earth when his plane went into a spin.

"We started whirling at 4,000 feet and there was nothing I could do about it," Reid said. "I fought the controls until we reached 2,800 feet, then decided we'd better abandon ship."

Reid said he shoved Don Thomason, Abilene, from the cockpit, then bailed out himself. Thomason was unhurt. Reid suffered a dislocated shoulder, a gash on the head and a possible rib fracture.

SIX ARE KILLED

MEXICO CITY, May 28 (AP)—At least six persons were killed yesterday when a bus carrying 40 passengers plunged into a 180-foot ravine near Tehuacan, Puebla state, about 150 miles south of here. Dispatches from Tehuacan said the other passengers were injured.

Stock Market

SHARES MOVE UPWARD

NEW YORK, May 28 (AP)—Aircraft, rail and farm implement shares moved upward out of the ruck of an otherwise irregular market today under the impetus of President Roosevelt's declaration of national policy.

The assorted improvements came late in the day after strikingly meager dealings, giving the whole list a firm undertone. Transactions totaled about 350,000 shares.

The dearth of any real action was obviously due to reluctance on the part of operators to engage in large-scale trading until they were able to summarize the ramifications of the state of unlimited emergency.

Among the more active gainers were Consolidated Aircraft, United Aircraft, Douglas, Glenn Martin, Sperry, Lockheed, International Harvester, Oliver Farm, Southern Railway, Union Pacific, Amerada, Continental Baking and International Paper preferred. The last three established new highs for the year. On the laggy side were Youngstown, Westinghouse, Western Union, Cerro de Pasco, Armstrong Cork and South Porto Rico Sugar, the last two reaching new 1941 lows.

Bonds followed the pattern of stocks. Commodities were mixed. In Chicago, wheat ended ½ cent to 1⅛ cents a bushel lower and corn ⅛ to ⅝ cent off. Cotton neared the close 10 to 30 cents a bale higher.

Permits Are Boosted By Three New Homes

After having been almost at a standstill for more than a week because of the weather, building activity began picking up with the issuance of permits for three residences costing a total of $7,950 Tuesday afternoon and this morning.

They boosted the building total for the month to $150,985 and for the year to $1,339,757.

The residence permits were: R. M. Howell, jr., owner, and H. E. Webb, contractor, 2406 Thirtieth street, $4,350; R. J. Herbst, owner, and E. L. Gabbard, contractor, 2006 Thirty-first street, $2,600; and Douglas Bowers, owner, and Tom Jenkins, contractor, 2612 Twenty-seventh street, $1,000.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, May 28 (AP) — Wheat prices slumped a cent a bushel today as the market reflected uneasiness associated with approaching harvest of a bumper crop and availability of limited storage space.

Wheat showed losses ranging to 1⅝ cent at one time but rallied, due partly to mill buying, and closed ½-⅛ lower than yesterday, July 95¾-⅞, September 97⅞-½. Corn finished ⅛-⅜ down, July 74¼, September 75⅝; oats ½-1 cent higher.

will calculate the amount of tax stamps needed by the retailer and he, in turn, will pay for these stamps and affix them to his bottled stocks.

The board's office is in the courthouse and will be open Sunday to distribute stamps and accept payment from dealers. Personal checks will not be accepted.

Retailers should obtain their stamps from the district office here if they operate in any of the following counties:

Lubbock, Hale, Swisher, Castro, Palmer, Bailey, Cochran, Yoakum, Terry, Hockley, Lamb, Lynn, Graza, Kent, Crosby, Dickens, King, Floyd, Briscoe, Motley and Cottle.

Legion Adding More Events

Two dances and a barbecue have been added to the list of events scheduled for the joint convention of the fifth division and the 19th scheduled for the joint conventions of the American Legion to which Allen Bros. post here will be host June 14 and 15.

Glen Hess, convention chairman, announced that dances are planned simultaneously in the Hilton hotel and the American Legion hall Saturday night, June 14.

May Hold Parade

The annual "wreck" of the 40 and 8, fun organization of the legion, has been set for Saturday, and probably will include a downtown parade.

The barbecue has been set for noon, June 15, in the Legion hall.

Plans also are going forward, according to J. Louis Murfee, commander of the local post, to obtain a speaker of national prominence to headline the program. In view of the national situation and the expectation that it will stimulate an all-time record attendance for Legion conventions in West Texas, Murfee said, prospects are bright that such a speaker will be obtained.

Letters Are Planned

Meanwhile, two letters inviting all members of the Legion and the auxiliary in the fifth division, which embraces practically the whole of West Texas, have been prepared at the chamber of commerce.

One, bearing the signature of Mrs. J. H. Hackfield, president of the Lubbock auxiliary, D. C. Weeks, adjutant of the Legion post, Murfee and Hess, has been mailed.

The other, in which presidents of local service clubs are to join, will be mailed the latter part of this week, officials said.

Mexican Fined $100 For Carrying Pistol

Domingo Flores, 21, a Mexican beat the rap on an aggravated assault case in county court, but found himself convicted of unlawfully carrying a pistol and was fined $100 and costs of court.

A jury of Joe Wilson, foreman, and C. E. Curry, Ance English, W. W. Gammill, C. L. Hoffman and J. J. Scharnburg listened to the testimony.

Two pleas of guilty were received by Judge G. V. Pardue, from Charles Sims and Jim Echols, each of whom was charged $100 fine and court costs on liquor law violation charges.

Sims, a negro, was met at the train Tuesday night and relieved of his luggage by Pat Gaddy, liquor control board patrolman.

A $10 worthless check will cost Murray W. Steele, about 55, $164.41.

A jury of Ance English and five others found Steele guilty of a charge of swindling after a hearing in county court. Assessment was placed at $10 and costs.

Costs aggregated $144.41, including $126.16 expenses incurred for Grady Harrist and Cap Moore, sheriff's deputies, to go to Houston for the defendant. The $10 check given H. H. Dungan also must be paid, court officials said.

Mexican Innocent

Eddie Calhoun, a negro, posted $250 bond on a charge that he was operating a common nuisance in violation of state liquor laws in the Flats district. Two other counts on the complaint charged possession of choc beer for sale purposes and possession of beer on which no state tax had been paid.

Plan Student Program

A student program "The Torch of Education", will include: prologue, Edna Raye Wortham; "Aims and Purposes of Education", with Bertha Pope discussing health, Earnestine McQuinney discussing worthy home membership, Marie Allen discussing mastery of tool subjects, R. B. Roberts, good citizenship, Robert Whitman, vocational guidance, R. J. Mitchell, wise use of leisure, and Jessie Lee Mack, ethical character; "Education—A Public Enterprise", Coquese Harris; "Our School", with Arthur D. Irvin discussing equipment and home rooms, Earnest Davis, assemblies, publications and clubs; Winnie Faye Hart, dramatics and music, Ray Merriwethers, "Athletics—A Character Organization", and Mary Lois Moon, presentation.

Choral Club To Sing

McNeil Price will sing "Who Knows," by Dunbar, and Edna Raye Wortham will give a piano solo, "Juba," by Dett, followed by the presentation of the class and awarding of diplomas.

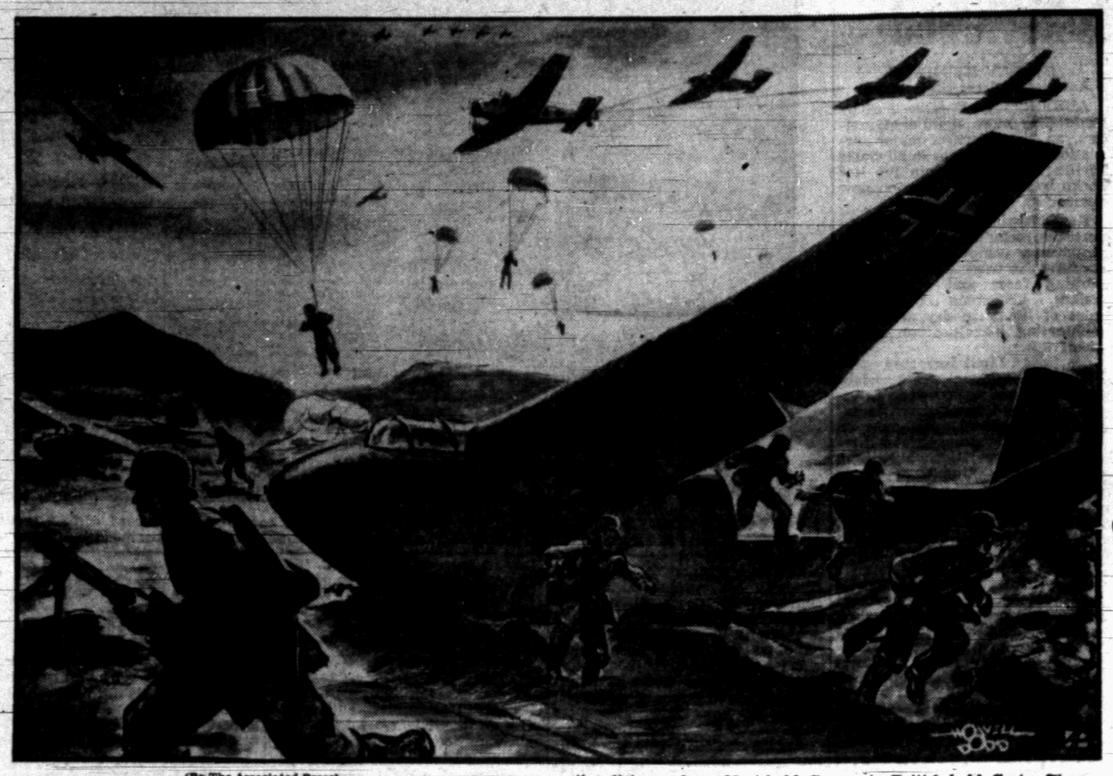

Following announcement of awards, the choral club will sing "Let the Hills With Song Resound," by Richards, followed by the benediction and the recessional.

Class advisors are Struggs, Frankie L. Bradley, Cornelia Branch, Grace Hale, Mildred Kavanaugh, Ella Ruby Nes, Lillian C. Struggs and D. H. Hill.

HEARINGS ORDERED

AUSTIN, May 28. (AP) — The highway commission today ordered public hearings May 31 and June 2 for county delegations seeking road improvements. Seventeen groups were docketed for hearing.

Invasion By Glider: Newest Art Of War

(By The Associated Press)

A CENTURY and a half ago Napoleon drew up an elaborate plan for attacking the British from the air — by balloon. But even he would be amazed by the latest technique of invasion from the sky by glider, transport plane and parachute.

Germany made the fabled isle of Crete the test tube for the first large-scale tryout of this war innovation. Here you see an artist's conception of the result — the most spectacular aerial invasion in history. Although there were reports that Nazi parachutists wore uniforms other than their own, particularly New Zealand, the Germans denied it. Regulation Nazi parachutists' uniforms are pictured here.

War gliders, carrying up to 14 fighting men, can travel easily the distance from Nazi-held Greece to British-held Crete. They also may be towed in "trains" as in this case, the towing device fitted in tail of the plane and nose of the glider. This attachment is controlled with a slip release, enabling both glider and plane to cast loose simultaneously—miles away from the objective.

Glider troops' biggest advantage lies in stealth. They can glide silently behind enemy positions and land in almost any kind of open country where there is 50 yards of clear space. Some gliders even have specially-designed wing flaps which serve as brakes.

Russia built the first military gliders, followed by Germany which reputedly has 25 gliding schools and perhaps 100,000 pilots. The United States army acknowledges making "unofficial" glider tests, reports the costs excessive and results unsatisfactory.

Marines To Leave—Sgts. Lon F. Rowlett and Harry J. Kuhns, of Oklahoma City, U. S. marine recruiting officers, plan to leave this afternoon for Amarillo, Rowlett said. The two men had secured 14 men on this trip and they are expected to leave with the recruiters late in the afternoon.

Inspects Rural Route — Postmaster Amos Howard this morning was making a final inspection of the sixth rural mail route out of the Lubbock office. He makes an annual inspection each spring.

Three Men Enlist—C. A. White and Obie B. Holder of Plainview and Dan E. Thrasher of Amarillo, were enlisted this morning for the 14th pursuit group and were to be sent to March field, Cal., Sgt. R. A. Jackson, chief clerk in the district recruiting office, said.

Major To Big Spring — Major Walter Jessee, district recruiting officer, left this morning for Big Spring to inspect the sub-station there. He also will meet his family, who are coming here for a visit from San Antonio. Major Jessee lives at 2418-B Broadway.

Grand Jury May Report—There was an unofficial report circulating early this afternoon in courthouse corridors that a 72nd district grand jury might report several bills to Judge Daniel A. Blair "in a few hours." The group found itself confronted with one more murder and one less assault to murder case, when information came from Slaton that Tom Rainwater, 30, a negro, had died of injuries suffered recently when, the state charged by complaint, he was shot by Ivory James, another Slaton negro.

VFW Plans Memorial Day Program Friday

Plans for an annual Memorial day program Friday by the local post of Veterans of Foreign Wars, were announced this morning by Briggs Robertson of Slaton, post commander.

Members of the post and auxiliary are to meet at Lubbock cemetery at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning. The regular ritual of VFW for Memorial day will be observed, he said. All graves of those who served in foreign lands, including those serving in the World war, Spanish-American war, the Philippines, the Boxer rebellion in China and Mexican wars will be decorated.

Mrs. E. H. Abernethy and Mrs. Ira Womack are in charge of securing flowers and persons who will donate them are asked to get in touch with them.

The auxiliary is assisting in the program, Robertson said.

Wage And Hour Suit Is Opened In City

First trial of a wage and hour suit to be heard in the Lubbock division of U. S. district court, was begun this morning before Judge T. Whitfield Davidson when testimony was started in the case of A. W. Belt against J. A. Hodges.

Belt was the first witness to be heard. The case was expected to consume most of the day. Carpenter and Boling and Nelson and Brown are attorneys for Belt; and Bean, Evans and Bean for Hodges.

Cases Set Thursday

Clyde O. Eastus, district attorney, and William Parr Fonville, his assistant, arrived Tuesday night and began working on the criminal docket, which is to be called Thursday. Several non-jury cases also are scheduled for Thursday.

Five members of the jury panel, who could not be reached Tuesday, when Judge Davidson announced the jury was excused until 10 o'clock Thursday morning, reported, said Grover C. Leigh, chief deputy U. S. marshal.

Baer's Claim Turned Down; Rematch Set

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP) — Buddy Baer's claim to the world heavyweight title, on the contention he was fouled by champion Joe Louis in their bout here last Friday, was rejected today by the District of Columbia boxing commission.

The commission upheld Referee Arthur Donovan's action in declaring Baer the loser by disqualification.

Chairman Claude Owen announced that Promoter Mike Jacobs had agreed to match Baer and Louis in a return title bout here the first week in October.

Germany Mourning Loss Of Bismarck

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, May 28 — Germany mourned today the loss of the battleship today the loss of the two most formidable naval units she ever launched, but the people were told it was better to dare the risks of sea warfare in a fight to win than to wait in port.

Mourned, too, were Fleet Commander Admiral Guenther Luetjens and the Bismarck's officers and crew, all of whom apparently died — so far as was known here —after Admiral Luetjens' last message early yesterday.

"Ship unable to maneuver. We are fighting until the last shell. Long live the fuehrer."

But Fight Goes On

(The Bismarck is believed to have carried a complement of between 1,300 and 1,500 officers and men).

The tenor of newspaper editorials today was "the Bismarck is lost, but the fight against England goes on."

The press emphasized that the Bismarck was sunk by numerically-superior British forces, and the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung declared:

"But even such superior forces would have been unable to defeat the Bismarck had it not been for the accidental effect of an aerial torpedo, damaging the ship's propeller and steering mechanism."

Aweida Sorrows and Verna Lu Lee, both of Clovis, N. M., were guests of Billie Bohannan of 2116 Thirty-first street. They came here to attend graduation services for Miss Bohannan, who finished Senior High school.

London Sees Nation Step Nearer Entry

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, May 28.—The Evening Standard, one of Minister of State Lord Beaverbrook's newspapers, said today President Roosevelt's speech last night "amounted to an iron pact between Allies."

Authoritative circles said that for the moment there would be no official comment on the address and it was hinted that Prime Minister Churchill himself might be the spokesman when official comment is made, possibly later today.

Answers Nazi Warning

All London's evening newspapers splashed accounts of the president's speech across their front pages under black headlines such as "Dictator Powers for F.D.R.", "Call to the U. S. People" and "Final Warning."

The Evening Standard editorial declared Roosevelt had answered the German warning against the use of convoys by proclaiming the freedom of the seas "in full face of the Nazi assault," and asserted:

"The president's defiance is absolute."

Says U. S. Stand Clear

The Evening News said the burden of the president's words to the Nazis were: "We will buttress the bastion of democracy, which is Britain, by war if necessary."

Hitler plainly has been told, the paper said, that he will interfere with the delivery of American supplies to Britain "at his peril—the peril that one shot may set the full forces of America in motion against Germany."

Trade Parleys May Bolster New Ties For Hemisphere Cooperation

U.S.-Argentine Talks Watched

BY LAWRENCE S. HAAS
United Press Latin American Editor

Prospects for closer economic cooperation between the United States and Argentina, which now appear as the result of the announcement of trade pact negotiations, are certain to have a far reaching effect upon Pan-American relations in general.

Although United States-Argentine relations always have been what Latin Americans term "correct," meaning that there has existed a scrupulous mutual respect for each other's sovereign rights and dignity, nevertheless an undercurrent of resentment has prevailed persistently in Argentina. As long as it lasts the United States' objective of harmonious understanding with other American republics will be difficult to reach.

Argentina is one of the great and progressive republics of South America. In normal times it is prosperous and economically independent. Its people have deep pride in their tradition and history, in their record as a democracy, and during the years they have come to feel that their country deserves a position of leadership in American affairs. They always have been resentful of any United States moves or policies that would give the appearance of United States tutelage, either in a political or economic sense, over a Latin American country.

Normal Market Good

In times of world order the United States is an important and active competitor for the Argentine market—for its automobiles, tires, office machinery, electrical appliances, farm machinery, steel products, and, to a somewhat lesser degree, its textiles, toilet articles, and hundreds of other commodities.

The Argentine adheres closely to the belief that his country must buy where it sells, and in recent years the trade balance with the United States has been unfavorable to Argentina. Essentially an agricultural country, Argentina's main products parallel those of the United States. They are principally meat, grains, wool, hides and linseed.

There is little or no market in the United States for Argentine grains and if there is a market for meat it has been blocked by United States cattle-raising interests which assert that the prevalence of the hoof and mouth disease would endanger the entire cattle industry of the United States if frozen and chilled meat were to be admitted here.

Argentina resents this charge and asserts that a group consisting of a single industry and its supporters in Congress have erected an obstacle to mutually profitable and happy commercial intercourse between the two countries.

Argentina Holds Key

Argentina's position among Latin American neighbors is a potent one, and there is no secret that the state department in Washington realizes that all-out economic, political and cultural cooperation between the United States and Latin America will not be achieved so long as a country of Argentina's importance is not a whole-hearted participant.

Argentine purchases from the United States have been curtailed severely recently because of a scarcity of dollar exchange. Loans and credits, totaling $110,000,000, have been granted by United States lending agencies to meet this situation, but the remedy is at best no more than transitory. Carlos Alberto Acevedo, finance minister, has stated that Argentina may be forced to seek additional United States credits if the existing economic situation persists.

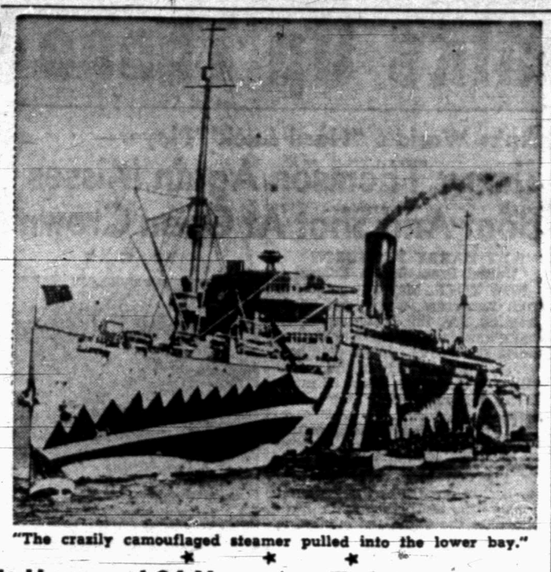

Argentina's markets have been depleted as a result of the war. The government is hard put to finance a vast crop purchase program to save the nation's farmers from economic ruin.

Talks Viewed As Important

The announcement of the trade treaty negotiations came at an auspicious time—the arrival of Dr. Enrique Ruiz Guinazu, newly-appointed foreign minister of Argentina, who visited Washington as an official guest en route from his diplomatic post in Italy to take over his new appointment in Buenos Aires. The invitation extended to Ruiz Guinazu perhaps is of greater significance than the goodwill gesture it implied, for the Argentine official and Secretary of State Cordell Hull had an opportunity to discuss common American problems and such conversations can easily be made the basis of important understandings.

Secretary Hull, in announcing the treaty negotiations, furnished a long list of commodities produced by Argentina on which the United States is willing to consider concessions. Many of these are items valuable to defense production. Some are food products, some luxury goods.

Public hearings on the proposed treaty will be opened next month in Washington and Buenos Aires. Trade treaty talks between the United States and Uruguay also were announced by Hull, and may be carried on simultaneously with the Argentine negotiations.

Here's The Story Of An A. E. F. That Sailed "Secretly" From U. S.; May 28 Was The Date

BY TOM WOLF
NEA Service Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 28—It was supposed to be a secret and they took many precautions to keep it so. For instance, they didn't embark at the pier. Instead they transferred from small transports after the crazily camouflaged steamer had pulled down into the lower bay.

None of the newspapers said anything about it. In fact that very day Congress was enacting a bill prohibiting "the publishing willfully of any information with respect to the movement, members, equipment, description or disposition of any of the armed forces of the U. S."

But every one knew about it. Baggage had been shipped from as far as the West Coast, labeled: Col. . . .; U. S. Army; S. S. . . .; Destination: . . .; Sailing: May . . .—with the blanks filled in. As one officer said: "They might as well have paraded down Main street behind a brass band." Still, it was supposed to be secret.

Knew About Torpedoes

The first part of the crossing was raw and cold. There was thick fog when they sailed and it held for several days. The first day out every one was inoculated against typhoid and vaccinated.

There weren't many other passengers—only 12 women in all in the cabin class. There was four times the necessary room in the lifeboats which hung outboard on their davits, just in case.

The captain was experienced, first rate. He'd been in command of the S. S. Arabic when she was torpedoed, so he knew all the ropes. He stayed on the bridge most of the time, taking heavily his responsibilities toward such important human cargo.

On the third day out, every one began studying French. That would be useful later. When they weren't studying, or attending staff conferences, everyone played shuffleboard or deck tennis.

Tension Rises Near Goal

As this ship approached the mid-Atlantic, the purser advised all hands to sleep in their clothing so as to be able to get to the lifeboats in the shortest possible time, if . . .

By the fifth day they had reached the danger zone. Nerves were tense, lifeboat drills frequent. But there was no sign of submarines. Three days later, steaming onto the horizon came a patrol of destroyers—and everyone cheered. From their stern masts flew the stars and stripes. It was good to see your own ships convoying you to safety.

They landed at Liverpool after riding overnight off the coast until dawn. Now the secret could be let out. Quickly the news was flashed to the United States:

General Pershing and 198 officers, who sailed secretly from New York on the S. S. Baltic on May 28, 1917 (24 years ago today), had arrived in London.

The first contingent of the A. E. F. was "over there."

More Drilling Activity Seen

Completions in the Slaughter, Wasson and Seminole areas and further drilling in a wildcat test held chief attention Tuesday in the North Permian basin oil field.

Humble, Standard and Stanolind No. 1 A. F. Byrd, southeastern Hale county deep test, is drilling past 4,840 feet in lime. Contract depth is 9,000 feet unless production is found at a lesser depth.

The new southeastern Cochran county area two and one-half miles west of the Slaughter field, opened recently by Atlantic Refining company and Ray R. Rhodes of Midland No. 1 Carrie Slaughter Dean, has been officially designated the "Rhodes pool" by the Texas Railroad commission. The discovery well has been assigned a daily allowable of 90 barrels. Forty-acre spacing will be employed in future drilling in the new pool.

Flow Of 1,368.96

The Texas company No. 2-B Mallett Land and Cattle company, in southwestern Hockley's sector of the Slaughter field, set a daily potential flow of 1,368.96 barrels of 30-gravity oil and a gas-oil ratio of 639-1 after acidizing with 6,000 gallons in lime from 4,930 to 5,020 feet, the total depth. It is in labor 23, league 49, Scurry county school land.

Magnolia Petroleum company is running Schlumberger electrical survey in its No. 2 Maple Wilson, deep test north of Slaughter production in Hockley county. Abandonment is likely. The test is bottomed at 5,596 feet in lime, approximately, 1,000 feet below the regular Slaughter pay level, in which some oil and water were found. The well is 440 feet out of the southwest corner of labor 10, league 41, Maverick county school land.

Solid lime was topped at 4,530 feet, 982 feet below sea level, by Texaco No. 1 S. T. Murphy, western Terry county wildcat in section 22, block K, public school land. It is drilling ahead past 4,536 feet in lime. Exceptionally rapid progress has been made on the test by Osage Drilling company, Inc., the contractor.

Larger Makes 1,071

Denver Producing and Refining company No. 28 J. A. Whittenburg estate, section 831, block D, J. H. Gibson survey, was the larger of two producers completed Tuesday in the Wasson pool of southern Yoakum county. It made 1,071 barrels of 33.60 gravity crude per day, with gas-oil ratio of 567-1, following 10,000-gallon treatment of pay lime from 4,822 to bottom at 5,158 feet.

The other Wasson well completed Tuesday was Mabee Oil and Gas company No. 4-D N. W. Willard, in section 759, block D, which flowed a rated 823.84 barrels per day at 5,195 feet. It was treated with 10,000 gallons in pay zone entered at 4,980 feet. Oil was 34-gravity and gas-oil ratio was 763-1.

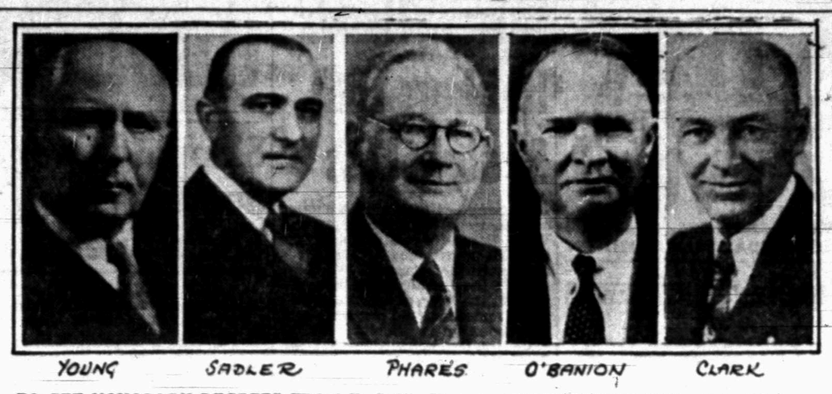

Mascho Oil company of Midland No. 1 M. M. Fisher, prospect southwest of Shafter lake in northwestern Andrews county, is drilling at 4,207 feet in hard lime. Located in section 16, block A-36, public school land, it has shown no change since logging a rainbow of oil from 4,142-44 feet and gas from 4,167-76 feet. The well is running high structurally.

Tops Yates Sand

Also in northwestern Andrews, Amscho No. 1 Texaco-University, in section 11, block 13, University survey, topped Yates sand at 2,880 feet and is drilling below 2,990 feet in anhydrite. Magnolia No. 1-20-38 B. B. Ralph, northwestern Andrews wildcat in section 20, block A-38, public school land, is trying to free stuck drillpipe at a total depth of 2,795 feet in anhydrite and salt.

Phillips Petroleum company No. 1 University-Andrews, southern Andrews deep test in section 32, block 10, University survey, is drilling below 8,101 feet in lime.

In central Gaines county's Seminole pool, Ohio Oil company No. 4 Mrs. Sarah J. Averitt, section 228, block & WTRR survey, flowed at the rate of 734.16 barrels per day upon completion at 5,260 feet. It topped pay lime at 5,064 feet and was acidized with 2,000 gallons. Oil tested 34-gravity and gas oil ratio was 708-1.

YOUNG SADLER PHARES O'BANION CLARK

TO GET HONORARY DEGREES FROM T. C. U.—Five prominent Texans will be awarded honorary degrees by Texas Christian university at the 67th annual commencement exercises Monday, June 2. Nineteen Persons Take Allegiance Oath In Federal Court; Duties Are Explained

Oath of allegiance to the United States was taken by 19 persons admitted to citizenship after naturalization proceedings before Judge T. Whitfield Davidson in federal district court here Tuesday afternoon. Among them was an American-born woman who lost her citizenship when she married an alien.

Judge Davidson delivered a lengthy address upon the duties of citizenship in the United States, the causes leading up to the formation of the republic, the constitution and its relation to citizens and the necessity of defending and supporting it at all costs. At the close, the class took their oath of allegiance with upraised hand, as they repeated the pledge given by George W. Parker, court clerk.

There were five former citizens of Germany in the group and six from Great Britain and its dominions and the remainder were from Mexico, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Netherlands, Hungary, Norway and Russia. The new citizens came from Lubbock, Snyder, Anton, Tahoka, Littlefield, Slaton, Brownfield, Post and Fluvanna.

In three other cases the examiner for the naturalization bureau, J. L. Daffron recommended continuance, because of technical reasons, such as failure to offer proof required by the government.

New citizens and their native lands are: William E. Griffin, Plainview, Canada; Harold Beaver Holford Scott-Tucker, Brownfield, England; William James Mitchell of Lubbock, Scotland and his wife Louise Jean Mitchell, the repatriate; Ivy Aikins Decker, Lubbock, Canada; Cyril Arthur Barnes, Lubbock, Great Britain; Catarino Mata, Lubbock and Pedro De La Criz, Lubbock, Mexico; Pete Benbenek, Snyder, Poland; Joe Bujnosek, Anton, Czechoslovakia; Rev. Peter Theodore Mersch, Littlefield, Netherlands; Frank John Repman, Slaton, Hungary; Olaf Waage Olsen, Post, Norway; Jennie Celia Grollman, Lubbock, Russia; Rudolph J. Svajda, Lubbock, changed to Rudolph Joe Swayder; Charles Lichey, Tahoka; William Mull, Fluvanna; John Denzer, Slaton; Karl Kraus, name changed to Charlie Kraus, all from Germany.

Jury Reports Thursday

Judge Davidson announced the jury would not report until 10 o'clock Thursday, when criminal matters are to be heard. Judge Davidson excused a number of members of the panel of 34 first called, because of illness and a special list of 10 more were picked up in town.

Lindsey Is Honored At Pythian Meeting

Lubbock Knights of Pythias lodge and visiting members honored Victor H. Lindsey, new district deputy grand chancellor, at a dinner meeting in the hall, 1107 ½ Avenue J, Tuesday night.

He was introduced by Dr. G. H. Ater, grand vice chancellor of the grand lodge of Texas. Lindsey, assistant district attorney, has been a leader in the Pythian order in Lubbock and West Texas several years.

There were 75 persons, including 12 visitors, attending the dinner and a business meeting that followed. Lindsey spoke briefly.

Those attending listened to President Roosevelt's talk.

Ten-Year Term Given Negro At Seminole

SEMINOLE, May 28 (Special)—Ten years in the penitentiary must be served by Willie Lee Fowler, 31, a negro who murdered another.

So decided a 106th judicial district petit jury here.

Judge Louis B. Reed and the jury, selected from a special venire of 50 men had heard evidence in the case since Monday.

The negro fatally shot Matthew Barnes, another negro, April 17, at Seagraves, the state proved. The jury deliberated an hour and a half, reporting at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Count on which Fowler was convicted was murder with malice.

Rollin McCord of Tahoka, district attorney, was assisted in prosecution by William A. Griffis, jr., Gaines county attorney. Defense attorney was Alvin Nemir of Seminole.

RARELY USED

Station masters have authority to change a train's schedule to accommodate a passenger who is late. This authority, however, rarely is used, and only in an exceptional case of known necessity, such as permitting a patient to be taken to a hospital.

Spudders Entertain Hubbers In Opening Contest Of Two-Game Series Tonight

Baseball Opportunityland

By Collier Parris

SO IN PURE DESPERATION, the Hubber management signed on Robert Rivera, the little Latin from California who has been playing some first base for the Lamesa Loboes.

Messrs. Chas. Engle and Jno. Gilchrist are getting very hard up for baseball game players. They have made their troubles known to Uncle Billy Webb, who must have been drafted, or something, because he hasn't been quick to reply. Maybe he's out beating the bushes for some talent. Our good friend Doug Minor doesn't seem to be doing such a hot job of scouting.

• • •

Rivera, who joins the Hubbers today as they go to Wichita Falls for a two-game series, came to Lamesa on the second day of the regular season, having been recommended to Manager Sam Scaling by a Far Western connection. He has played only so-so ball at first base for the Loboes, when he has played at all. Recently Manager Scaling himself, who'd rather play the outfield, has been doing the first base chores, and the word was out that he was looking for a first sacker. Times are getting pretty hard for the Hubbers when . . . .

• • •

It may be, could be, that Rivera, a hustling little fellow who takes a mighty cut at the agate and who doubtless does his best fielding first base, may go like fury with another club. Some cast-off ball players, when picked up by another team, do start playing great ball. Rivera may be a "find," and he may take care of the first base situation.

At least, we should be perfectly willing to give him a chance. One thing is certain: He can't weaken the Lubbock club at first base.

• • •

There's still room for a couple more ball players on the Lubbock lineup, or two positions that need to be filled by different players. Meaning third base and left field. The boys playing those positions now are good ball players and fairly good hitters, but Gene Schlereth should be back in the outfield, and Elvin Mahan should be back in the infield, at short. Warren Lorens, the infield newcomer who showed some spirit and "fight" last night in bucking a referee's decision and getting himself kicked out of the game, possibly could play third base. His natural spot is second base, but Bernie Bengston is doing a pretty good job of work there. Mahan will make errors at short — he'll hit almost as much as he fields — but on the other hand he'll turn in some remarkable plays. He comes up with the hot ones and lets the easy ones get by.

• • •

LUBBOCK IS NOT the only club that would like to bolster its lineup, however. Class D ball players are becoming harder to get, and the reason was very clearly pointed out by William G. Bramham, the czar of minor league baseball, in an Associated Press interview the other day.

"Big pay in defense industries, not the army draft, is causing minor league baseball its number one headache," pointed out Bramham.

"Industrial employment is taking far more men than the draft, as is reflected by voluntary retirement of players who have entered the branches of industry engaged in war activities.

"This is just about as it was in the first World war. Most clubs, particularly those in the Class D and Class C divisions, are finding able players scarce. But no professional club has gone under, although several semi-pro organizations have done so."

• • •

The good proxy is definitely correct.

At the same time, and in view of higher industrial wages and plenty of "jobs", right now is the hour the young men who want to break into baseball have been waiting for!

No better opportunity ever existed for baseball-minded young men to crash the gates that lead to fame and fortune in the national pastime.

Any kid with any natural ability at all, if he has a lot of hustle and desire — which go hand in hand with ability —can break into the lower brackets of baseball. And about nine out of ten big league players got their start at the bottom.

• • •

There's probably not a single club in Class D, C or B baseball that would refuse a young fellow a "look" if he asked for the chance, and there are very few clubs of even higher classification, even on to Class AA, that would let a likely looking prospect get away without giving him a chance or referring him to a "connection" of lower classification.

• • •

The case of Charlie Engle and the Hubbers is typical. Engle is literally crying for ball players. He was so desperate yesterday that he would have signed on anybody who knew a firstbaseman's mitt from a double play. He wanted to get in touch with a couple of Texas Tech boys who are just now becoming "exes," but learned that the boys "weren't interested." (We heard later, however, that Prince Scott, who has looked very good around here, went to Lamesa to discuss terms with Manager Scaling. The Hubbers could have used him).

• • •

Engle and Gilchrist have been trying to contact a certain Baylor university player, and another boy over at San Angelo, but hadn't been able to get a response, by letter, phone or wire, at the last report.

You gotta admit that the Hubber management is at least trying to get a ball club together. Meanwhile they're slowly but surely going nuts!

• • •

If you know of any ball players, or anybody who'd like to be a ball player, refer 'em to the Engle clan.

Lamesa Hands Hubbers 10th Straight Loss

A change of luck with a change of scenery is the hope of several West Texas-New Mexico league baseball clubs today as the schedule moves them around.

Even the Lubbock Hubbers still cling to the hope of winning a ball game sometime, and maybe they'll be pepped up in Wichita Falls tonight by the knowledge that the Clovis Pioneers finally won one.

The Clovis losing streak was even longer than Lubbock's, but the Pioneers took after the Pampa Oilers in the second game of a split doubleheader yesterday and stopped the depression with an 8-1 victory. They had dropped the opener, 2-7.

Rally In Eighth

At Lamesa, the Loboes swept the two-game series from Lubbock by rallying in the eighth inning to score a couple of runs to tie the score then another to win, 6 to 5, making the umteenth game in many days that the Hubs have either won or lost by a single run. It was Lubbock's tenth straight defeat.

With Donald Spyker pitching pretty good ball and the Hubs supporting him errorlessly in the field, the Hubbers scored four times in the fourth inning and again in the sixth to exercise a 5-2 lead for a time. Lamesa made one in the bottom half of the sixth, then Catcher Robertson batted in the tying and winning runs in the eighth. Lubbock got two on base in the ninth, but Bob Cowsar fanned Kauzlarich and Sakas to put an end to that threat.

After the game, Lubbock and Lamesa club officials got together on a "deal" whereby Lubbock acquired the services of Robert Rivera, hustling little Latin first-baseman, at least temporarily. Details of the acquisition were not announced, although Manager Engle, speaking for the Lubbock club, had previously said "we gotta have some help at any cost."

The Big Spring Bombers divided a doubleheader at Wichita Falls with the same Spudders who entertain the Hubbers tonight and tomorrow night and who come to Lubbock for a series beginning Friday night.

The Bombers, behind the shutout pitching of big George Boal, squelched the Spudders, 9 to 0, in the seven-inning opener, then lose the nine-inning nightcap when a couple of lefties, Kanagy and Lucas, pitched the Spudders to a 4-3 victory.

The Borger Gassers moved up half a game on the league leading Big Springers by defeating the Amarillo Gold Sox, 13-7, on the Amarillo field. Manager Bubba Jonnard sent five Amarillo pitchers to the hill, and although all five of 'em didn't give up but a dozen hits, they came at opportune times. The Sox collected 13 hits off Garland of Borger, but couldn't halt a two-inning, 8-run spree by the Gassers in the fourth and fifth frames.

Budge Is Upset In National Pro Meet

CHICAGO, May 28 (AP) — A persistent rival and the law of averages finally caught up with J. Donald Budge.

The California redhead has been breezing through all comers, amateur and pro, for a long time. His victims frequently included 26-year-old John Faunce, Hollywood professional.

Faunce always lost his Budge matches until yesterday.

Budge caught his rival in a red-hot streak and was knocked out of the national professional championship tourney in straight sets, 6-4, 6-1, 6-3.

His defeat left the title battle wide open. Big Bill Tilden swung back into action today against Keith Gledhill of Los Angeles in quest of a semi-final berth and Fred Perry of Beverly Hills, Calif., engaged Joe Nogrady of Dallas.

Cards' Speedy Clip Continues

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Among the many things Carl Hubbell must have learned in his down years of major league pitching is that the best way to win a ball-game is to do it yourself.

Even back in the days when he was pitching the New York Giants to National league pennants, "old squarepants" was the guy who seldom could get a run or two to work on. Now, in the twilight of his career, Hub is finding that the trouble persists, but he still manages to win his share.

Cards Win Again

Hubbell took personal charge last night of the Giants' first home game under the floodlights, conquering the Boston Braves, 2 to 1, although his team could get him only seven hits.

The Braves loaded the bases in the eigth on two hits and an error but a double-play saved Hubbell and he repaid that kindness in the ninth by singling home Bill Jurges with the winning run.

Another night encounter also wound up in the last half of the ninth, with the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals pulling out a 3 to 2 decision over the Chicago Cubs. Johnny Mize was called upon for pinch-hitting duty with

Links World's "Hard Luck" Player--
Jimmy Thomson Again Misses Boat And Shot At Open Crown

BY HARRY FERGUSON
United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, May 28 — A week from tomorrow they will start shooting for the National Open championship at Fort Worth, but the man who can hit a golf ball farther than anybody in the world will not be among them. Jimmy Thomson has missed the boat again.

All the four-leaf clovers on all the golf courses in the country wouldn't be enough to make up for the bad luck that Thomson has had in pursuit of the National Open — the top prize for the boys who play the game for money. It started back in 1934 and has been going on steadily. The latest clout on the head that lady luck gave Jimmy was no longer ago than day before yesterday down at Ridgewood, N. J.

Sixty golfers went out to play 36 holes. The low 12 men would win the right to go to the National Open. It was the same old story —as soon as Thomson starts shooting in anything connected with the big tournament he starts having trouble. He shot a 79 on the first round and a 73 on the second. That was too much to get into the low 12, but he was tied for an alternate's position and went out in "sudden death" playoff to try for it. He lost that, too.

JIMMY THOMSON

If he had won the alternate's position, he still would have had a chance to enter the Open in case some of the low 12 men found out they couldn't make the trip.

This will be the second Open

Veterans Lead Houston Play

BY WILLIAM T. RIVES
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON, May 28 — Two former Curtis cup players took attention away from the champion today as they squared off in the second round of the women's Trans-Mississippi golf tournament.

Mrs. Russell Mann of Omaha, Neb., former finalist in the tourney and Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite, attractive mother of two children, met in the outstanding attraction.

Betty Jameson of San Antonio, defending champion, figured to have relatively an easy time with Miss Marie Levi of Dallas.

Mrs. Mann Favored

Mrs. Mann was a slim choice in her match with the Fort Worth matron. She has played well despite her unfamiliarity with the River Oaks links, and yesterday swamped Mrs. M. W. Morgan of Baytown, Tex., 8 and 6.

Mrs. Goldthwaite, former Southern champion and three times winner of the state title, has been hooking badly of late and may fall a victim of Mrs. Mann's straight game if she still has the trouble with her game on the first tee.

In the opening round, Mrs. Goldthwaite eliminated Mrs. J. R.

Nation's Golfing Eyes Turned On Fort Worth As Open Draws Near

Top Stars Set For Tune-Ups

BY ARNOLD DIBBLE
United Press Sports Writer

FORT WORTH, May 28.—Bellwethers of the greatest collection of golf talent ever assembled swept into the city today to tune up for the South's first National Open tournament to be played at Colonial Country club June 5-7.

Native son Ben Hogan led the way back home. Others who made hotel reservations for today included defending champion Lawson Little, Goodall winner Paul Runyan, and Henry Picard.

Odds Are Short

The above trailblazing quartet hold such championship potentialities that you'd find few sharpers along the stem who'd quote anything but prohibitively short odds.

Ky Lafoon and power-driver Jimmy Thomson, a couple of veteran campaigners whom the gods saw fit to fail in Monday's qualifying tests, also made reservations. They probably will attend in the role of spectators.

Jimmy Demaret, the former Houston pro who burned up the 1939 winter circuit, Vic Ghezzi and Craig Wood were expected before the week end. The rest of the field of 172 file in early next week.

May Be Greatest

Before the newcomers arrived today workmen at Colonial had started erecting the series of 13 tents which transformed the beautiful, verdant club into a carnival atmosphere. Canvas-tops will house everything from a portable dining room to a ladies' powder room. The largest has been designed for the battery of sports writers to relay the story to the nation.

Signs pointed today towards the greatest Open in history. More than 4,000 season tickets have been sold with an advance take of nearly $30,000.

Record Attendance Seen

Advance sales surpassed by 1,000 the former record of 3035 sold at Canterbury near Cleveland last year, but fell more than $22,000 short of the receipts record piled up at Interlachen club, Minneapolis, in 1930 when Bobby Jones set the sports world agog with his famous "grand slam."

However, daily ticket sales were expected to zoom the receipts well past the 1930 mark for the Southwest, always a hot-spot of golf, has indicated a desire to make the 1941 tournament the best attended in history.

Layout Is Longest

Abnormally heavy rains this spring have put Colonial in excellent shape. The three new holes, Nos. 4, 5, and 13, have grown lush, tough fairways of Bermuda well able to stand the pounding of the estimated 50,000 spectators to follow the field.

Incidentally, many of the golf experts who have seen the course, predict that the tournament will be won or lost on the fifth hole, a 469-yard layout stringing narrowly along between the clear fork of the Trinity river on the right and a near-bottomless ditch on the left. The fairway seldom broadens more than 20 yards.

Colonial's layout of 7,068 yards, par 70, stretches longer than any course ever used for the National Open.

Rebels Coming Back With Good Pitching

(By The Associated Press)

It's difficult to make a prophecy about the erratic Dallas Rebels, but if their pitchers deliver as well as they have for the past few games they might yet be in the upper bracket of the Texas league.

Otho Nitcholas turned in a neat five-hit job last night at Oklahoma City to give the Rebs a 5-1 win—the second in a row—over the second-place Indians.

By the strategic placing of eight hits, the Fort Worth Cats scored two runs in the first and another in the second to take a 3-1 decision from the Tulsa Oilers.

The only other scheduled game, Shreveport at Houston, was rained out.

The Rebels collected nine hits—Heinz Becker and Bubba Floyd contributing two each—and knocked Walter Brown and Pete Mallory off the mound in drubbing Oklahoma City.

Garrison and English, with two hits each, were the siege guns for Fort Worth.

Cardinals

the bases full and he rapped a single off Jake Mooty to decide the game.

That victory kept the Cards 2½ games ahead of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who earned an easy 6-0 decision over the Phillies in the National league's only afternoon contest.

The Philadelphia Athletics, currently the "hottest" American league team, had to share some of the day's honors in the junior circuit with Detroit, which knocked off the league-leading Cleveland Indians, 9-6. The A's took a 5-2 trimming from the Boston Red Sox in the first game of a doubleheader but came back behind the three-hit hurling of young Phil Marchildon to win the second, 11-1.

Bruce Campbell, former Indian who had beaten his old mates Monday, did the same trick again for Detroit, clouting two home runs to drive in four tallies.

Chicago's second-place White Sox remained four games behind the Tribe when Bob Muncrief's six-hit pitching and Joe Grace's hitting carried the St. Louis Browns to a 5-2 triumph.

The New York Yankees staggered to a 10-8 decision over Washington after Red Ruffing had blown up in the sixth and lost a good part of a nine-run lead. Joe DiMaggio's homer and three singles topped the Yanks' attack.

Billy Conn Convinced He Can Kayo Louis

PITTSBURGH, May 28 (U.P.) — Billy Conn, the steel-town "killer," awakened today convinced that he can knock out Joe Louis.

This conviction unquestionably will have an important bearing upon their $500,000 title match at New York's Polo Grounds, June 18.

Billy, a notoriously weak puncher in the past, was sold on his own dynamite Monday night when he floored Buddy Knox three and a half times before a crowd that established new Pittsburgh records for fight attendance and gate—27,042 cash customers and a $68,154 gross.

Knox was in such helpless condition after his battering in the sixth and seventh rounds that he was unable to answer the bell for the next—giving Conn a technical knockout victory in the eighth.

Jimmy Thomson

that has found Thomson on the sidelines for failure to qualify. He sat out the 1939 tournament, too, and the reason for that was an even tougher break. There is a rule that the first 30 men in the Open are automatically qualified to enter the tournament the following year without going through the sectional trials. In the 1938 Open Jimmy finished in a tie for 32nd place. Then he failed in the sectionals.

Get Share Of Breaks

Last year at Cleveland he got every bad break that can come to a golfer and had 80-77 for his first two rounds. He was eliminated when the field was cut to 60 after the first two rounds.

Way back in 1934, at the Merion Cricket club in Philadelphia, Jimmy was sailing along nicely in the Open until the last round when he soared to an 84. In fact, it often has happened that lady luck waits until the final round of the big tournament to give him the business. In 1938 he had a 79 on the last round; in 1935 a 78; in 1937 a 78; in 1938 a 79. You can't afford to shoot one round that high if you are going to win the National Open.

In between these runs of bad luck Thomson is a good golf player — a bit wild off the tee when he starts booming them out past the 300-yard marker — but still a good golfer. His short game is not everything it should be, but his tremendous distance makes him a threat in any tournament he enters, except, of course, the National Open.

Once lady luck almost relented and let him win the big one. In 1935 Jimmy came up to the Open redhot. His drives were whistling like they had come out of a siege gun; his irons were straight and true; his putting was top-notch.

That one was played at Oakmont, near Pittsburgh, and it will be forever known as the tournament of the "nightmare greens." The greens had been cut so closely that they were as hard and slick as a piece of glass. Scores soared, but Thomson stuck to his guns and shot a pair of 73s for the first two rounds.

Going into the final day he looked like the winner. And then he shot that jinx score again on the final round—78. Meanwhile an unheard of young man named Sam Parks, a native of Pittsburgh, came in with a last round of 76 and won the tournament with a total of 299. Parks, who had played countless rounds at Oakmont, was the only man in the field who could solve the slick greens.

Thomson? He finished second with 301.

Trans-Miss Play

Somerville of Columbia, Mo., 6 and 5, but her medal score was several shots away from Mrs. Mann's.

Miss Jameson smothered Mrs. F. M. Hight of Houston, 9 and 8, shooting but one stroke over par.

Two other close matches were scheduled today. Miss Ellamae Williams, Chicago coat model, and Miss Kay Pearson, Texas champion, bumped together in a tilt calculated to go possibly the full 18 holes.

Other Pairings Announced

Miss Phyllis Otto, the 16-year-old stylist from Atlantic, Ia., met Elinor Jones of Albuquerque, perennial ruler of women's golf in New Mexico.

Yesterday Miss Williams defeated Mrs. M. M. Van Wormer of Beaumont, 7 and 6; Miss Pearson had some trouble disposing of Miss Helen Warren of Dallas, 3 and 2; Miss Otto trimmed Mrs. E. L. Rolfs of Houston, 6 and 5, and Miss Jones passed by Mrs. W. H. Ainsworth of Houston, 5 and 3.

Pat Grant, tournament medalist and student at Oklahoma Baptist university, figured to beat 15-year-old Polly Riley, promising Fort Worth girl, today, and other selections were:

Miss Marion Miley, who twice has won the championship, over Mrs. Elfred Beck of Dallas; Miss Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich., over Mrs. Donald Haines of Houston, and Miss Iva Mae Pilcher of Mexico, Mo., over Miss Hilda Urbantke of Austin.

ment forward. . . . All will have opportunities, all will have responsibilities to fulfill."

Disputes Must Stop

Addressing himself particularly to capital and labor, he asserted no disputes of any sort must interfere with arms production. The government henceforth would exert all its powers to end production stoppages. "Articles of defense must have the undisputed right of way in every industrial plant in the country."

This was the fireside chat for which the nation and most of the world had awaited eagerly for days. The radio carried it to the four corners of the globe in the languages of many peoples—Spanish, Portuguese, French, Italian, German, Arabic, Dutch, Czech, Slovak, Greek, Serb-Croat, Norwegian, Rumanian and Bulgarian.

Even before the president faced the cluster of microphones in the east room at the White House, the complete text of his address was being sent to Berlin and to Tokyo by Axis powers newsmen.

Foreign Reaction Slow

Foreign reaction was slow, particularly official quarters. Sleepless British people followed the broadcast with close attention, however, and the typical man-in-the-street comment was: "He's with us all the way . . . it means we're going to lick Hitler even sooner than we expected."

Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada saw "a clear declaration by the president that the United States has not only decided to reassert but is determined to maintain the freedom of the seas. . . . Germany will have to draw her own conclusions as to what may be involved by any attempt by force to frustrate delivery from America of munitions and food to Britain."

Opinion Is Divided

In Washington congressional opinion divided into two main schools. Supporters of the administration's foreign policy applauded the speech as "superb . . . excellent . . . courageous . . . a ringing call."

Opposition legislators called it a "speech to promote war hysteria . . . a typical Rooseveltian speech that took 45 minutes to say nothing that we already did not know . . . disturbing . . . an executive declaration of a war policy."

Senator Nye (D-ND), for example, remarked: "The Roosevelt war progresses. What does an unlimited emergency mean? Although he says the only thing we need to fear is fear itself, he proceeds to put fear in the American breast in abundance."

On the other hand, Senator Green (D-RI) of the foreign relations committee said "I think the president was called on to assert leadership and he has asserted it. I think the country as a whole will follow it and Congress will follow the lead of the people." He accordingly suggested immediate repeal of the neutrality act to "maintain American rights on the seas."

The president's proclamation of an unlimited emergency, it was generally conceded, clothed him with extraordinary powers that may be exercised as events warrant. By issuing additional proclamations, it was pointed out, he can close or commandeer radio stations, take over power houses needed for munitions production, demand preference for troops and war materials on all transportation systems, or suspend trading on securities exchanges —to name only a few possible uses of power.

Already Had Authority

Legal circles, however, believed the president already had authority to do these things under the previous "limited" emergency. They were inclined to regard the "unlimited emergency" proclamation primarily as an instrument to hammer home the full gravity of the country's present condtion.

President Roosevelt delivered his address before a distinguished gathering of the diplomatic representatives of all the American nations. Behind him were the massed flags of the 21 American republics.

Throughout the address, Mr. Roosevelt reiterated his conviction that hemisphere security was in jeopardy because of the Nazi plans for world domination.

Must Check Advance

"Adolf Hitler," he said at the very outset, "never considered the domination of Europe as an end in itself. European conquest was but a step toward ultimate goals in all the other continents. It is unmistakably apparent to all of us that, unless the advance of Hitlerism is forcibly checked now, the western hemisphere will be within range of the Nazi weapons of destruction."

He offered his audience a blueprint of what he looked for, should Germany triumph abroad.

First would come the familiar assurances from Hitler. There was a sardonic tone in Mr. Roosevelt's voice as he recited them: "I am now completely satisfied. This is the last territorial readjustment I will seek. All we want is peace, friendship, and profitable trade with you in the new world."

Would Seek Mastery

Should those assurances be accepted, he continued, the "dictatorships would be forcing the enslaved peoples of their old world conquests . . . to build a naval and air force intended to gain and hold and be master of the Atlantic and Pacific as well."

Next: "They would fasten an economic stranglehold upon our several nations. Quislings would be found to subvert the governments of our republics. And the Nazis would back their fifth columns with invasion, if necessary.

"I am not speculating about all this," the president asserted. "I merely repeat what is already in the Nazi book of world conquest. They plan to treat the Latin American nations as they are now treating the Balkans. They plan to strangle the United States of America and the Dominion of Canada."

Mr. Roosevelt noted that the Germans were in a position now to occupy Spain, Portugal, Dakar, "and the island outposts of the new world — the Azores and Cape Verde islands."

War Close To Home

"The war is approaching the brink of the western hemisphere itself. It is coming very close to home."

Mr. Roosevelt gave quiet emphasis to his next sentence:

"Control or occupation by Nazi forces of any of the islands of the Atlantic would jeopardize the immediate safety of portions of North and South America, and of the island possessions of the United States, and therefore of the ultimate safety of the continental United States itself."

It was not until the end of his speech that the president with measured gravity announced: "We reassert the ancient American doctrine of freedom of the seas."

Before he came to the peroration, however, he dwelt on the history of that doctrine in preserving hemisphere security and asserted that the "supreme purpose" of the Axis today was to obtain control of the seas, thus winning "the power to dictate to the" Americas.

Control Is Necessary

"If the Axis powers fail to gain control of the seas, they are certainly defeated. Their dreams of world domination will then go by the board; and the criminal leaders who started this war will suffer inevitable disaster."

The president formulated the national policy of the United States today in these words:

"First, we shall actively resist wherever necessary and with all our resources, every attempt by Hitler to extend his Nazi domination to the western hemisphere, or to threaten it.

"We shall actively resist his every attempt to gain control of the seas. We insist upon the vital importance of keeping Hitlerism away from any point in the world which could be used and would be used as a base of attack against the Americas.

Give Every Assistance

"Second, from the point of view of strict naval and military necessity, we shall give every possible assistance to Britain and all who, with Britain, are resisting Hitlerism or its equivalent with force of arms."

In stressing the intentions of the United States to resist attack, Mr. Roosevelt asserted that the attack "can begin with the domination of any base which menaces our security — north or south.

"Nobody can foretell tonight just when the acts of the dictators will ripen into attack on this hemisphere and us. But we know enough by now to realize that it would be suicide to wait until they are in our front yard.

"When your enemy comes at you in a tank or a bombing plane, if you hold your fire until you see the whites of his eyes, you will never know what hit you.

"Our Bunker hill of tomorrow may be several thousand miles from Boston, Massachusetts."

Elsewhere in his speech, Mr. Roosevelt made these observations on various topics:

Negotiated peace: "Your government knows what terms Hitler . . . would impose. Under those terms, Germany would literally parcel out the world—hoisting the swastika itself over vast territories and populations, and setting up puppet governments of its own choosing, wholly subject to the will and policy of the conqueror."

Peace-at-any-price advocates: "I am sure they are embarrassed by the sinister support they are receiving from the enemies of democracy in our midst — the bundists, and Fascists, and Communists. And every group devoted to bigotry and racial and religious intolerance."

Try, Try Again Just Means More Trouble

PORTALES, N. M., May 28.—Eight Dora, N. M., residents learned sometimes the try, try again method doesn't work and after four consecutive accidents they quit trying.

Starting for a dance in four cars, the group's trouble started when they had to abandon the first car because of a blowout. A double smash-up put the next two cars out of commission and the eight persons piled into the remaining car.

When it hit a slick piece of highway and overturned, they decided to quit. They took an ambulance into Portales.

Middleweights Meet In Title Struggle

CHICAGO, May 28 (AP) — Two terrific punchers with mutual dislike for each other—Tony Zale and Al Hostak—may pull Chicago's biggest indoor fight throng in ten years into the Chicago stadium tonight when they engage in a 15-round battle for the middleweight championship of the National Boxing association.

Zale, steel worker from Gary, Ind., defending champion, remained a 6 to 5 favorite to triumph over the Seattle, Wash., clouter from whom he won the title on a 13-round technical knockout last July. Zale had previously defeated Hostak in a ten round nontitle engagement during which Hostak suffered a broken left hand.

ITALIAN DELIVERIES

NEW YORK, May 28. (AP)—The Italian reported tonight that the Italian navy had safely escorted two convoys totalling 70 shiploads of Axis troops and supplies to Crete without loss.

Murderess Is Sent To Pen

(By The Associated Press)

BOSTON, May 28. — Trial of Mrs. Ruth Steadman, 26, for the strangling of her married lover Robert Emery, 26, ended abruptly today when she pleaded guilty to manslaughter.

She was immediately sentenced by Judge Vincent Brogna to serve 15 years in the women's reformatory at Sherborn.

Had Pleaded Innocent

The attractive young former Pittsburgh matron, mother of a year-old girl, had pleaded innocent at the outset of her trial to a charge of murder in the first degree, the penalty for which is death in the electric chair.

She had taken the stand only late yesterday to tell of her associations with Emery, father of two children, who was found strangled in her apartment last January 21.

The state had contended she killed Emery so "no other woman could have him." The defense in outlining his case indicated it would show Emery died in a suicide pact.

Charlie Akey, the "pro" out at Lubbock Country club, was exasperated over the actions of a new caddy, who was lolling on the grass while players waited. Finally, he could stand it no longer.

"Hey, boy!" Akey shouted. "Hop to it and grab that bag. Don't just sit around and look dumb like you were a member of the club!"

FORMER County Treasurer S. E. McMillan is the first to voice, via letter to The Plainsman, a worry that is in lots of heads these days.

Writes he:

"Lubbock has the most vigorous weed crop within its history.

"We hay fever victims would like for an active campaign to be waged at once against these allies of Hitler, as the morale of quite a segment of our citizenship will be affected should these noxious, pollen-bearing enemies be allowed to pursue their course unchecked."

Without a doubt, Mr. McMillan "has something" in the suggestion that Lubbock "go to work" on the weed crop.

But who's gonna do the work? The hay fever sufferers?

People, Mr. McMillan, are selfish and self-centered and those who come to no harm from the pollen just ain't a-gonna do nuthin' about it!

At least, we fear that will be the case, since we are never bothered with hay fever!

* * *

J. L. Graves passes this one along. You may have run across it before, but it's still good.

"Behold, the fisherman! He riseth up early in the morning, disturbing everyone on the place. He goeth forth with rod and reel and returneth late in the evening full of booze and the truth is not in him."

(Editor's Note: The above does not apply to any fisherman whose wife happens to read this column!)

"THE best laid plans of mice and men," as the feller says, "ofttimes go awry," and if the Nazi high command has any hopes of scaring Americans with propaganda—even that based upon fact—it has another think coming.

Hitler's great propaganda film, "Victory In The West," was shown in Washington the other day for the benefit of a select group of newspaper correspondents, who acted as "guinea pigs" for the occasion.

According to reports reaching The Plainsman, the film reveals, in a fantastic and terrifying way, how the Germans' motorized and mechanized forces conquered Holland, Belgium and France almost overnight.

But, oddly or not, the picture did not have the effect upon the Washington newspaper audience that Der Furore might have expected, or hoped for.

The boys who saw the film weren't scared by it. It made them mad. Best and concisely expressed, their reaction was: "Why we can beat that guy at his own game, if we have to!"

Army and Navy bosses are undecided—in fact there's quite a difference of opinion on the subject—whether or not to release the film for general exhibition purposes.

Some oppose the idea, for fear it might frighten people. Others think it will serve as a gruesome tonic to wake us up.

Our advices from Washington are that the latter group seems to be in the majority at the moment.

* * *

The Plainsman drove up to a filling station the other day, made his desires known and was surprised when the attendant shouted:

"Dionne quintuplets!"

We were frankly curious and asked the attendant why he hollered "Dionne quintuplets."

"Well," he explained, "you ordered five gals!"

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says another instance of unconscious humor is a golf addict talking about a "mental hazard."

* * *

A feminine reader with a long memory writes us as follows:

"About a year ago, you said in your column that 'a woman is a person who can hurry through an aisle 18 inches wide without knocking down piled up tinware, then drive home and knock the doors off a 12-foot garage.'

"Well, here's a description of the lordly male: 'A person who can spot a trim ankle three blocks away while driving a car along a busy street, but won't notice in wide open country a locomotive the size of the schoolhouse!'"

Calf-rope!

* * *

NEVER again! Never again! The Plainsman, who from time to time delights to revel in paper and ink regarding his love for West Texas surprises, "with air like wine, etc.," has learned his lesson. He found out something he had long suspected, i. e., that getting up early in the morning isn't always what it's cracked up to be.

With the Little Woman and the two oldest brats, your humble servant the other day set out for El Paso, just as the eastern sky grew pink. And the glorious West Texas sunrise found him right in the big middle of the "Woodrow lake," on Highway No. 9, the water lapping onto the floor of his low-slung car.

Courtesy of the Texas Highway department, he was shoved to dry road and then, courtesy the generous ministrations of A. B. Davis and Bill McMillan, who happened along, he finally got his car to running again.

But before The Plainsman got to Tahoka, his motor was knocking like a cement mixer and kindly mechanics there advised a "tow" back to Lubbock where quicker repairs were available.

Result: a 1941 automobile laid up for two days and a repair bill strangely reminiscent of the national debt.

Early birds get the worm, all right—and who wants a worm?

Jesse Andrew Raley, jr., better known as "Judge" probably because he isn't now and never has been a judge, would like the good ladies of Lubbock to help him and his buddies of Allen Brothers Post of the American Legion.

The Legion post here plans to decorate the graves of all veterans in Lubbock cemetery on Friday, May 30, which is Decoration Day.

There are 75 graves to be cared for, and the Legionnaires would like to cover every one with flowers — but they won't be able to do so unless they can get enough flowers from Lubbock gardeners.

Lubbockites with gardens are asked to contribute the necessary flowers and to bring them to the Legion home, just north of City Hall near Ninth street and Texas avenue, any time up to 5 p. m. Friday.

There will be someone on duty at the home throughout Friday to receive gifts of flowers for memorial purposes.

THE PLAINSMAN was strolling down the street the other day at noon, heading for the old feedbag.

Ahead of him (did you ever know a man who didn't have a roving eye?) he noticed two very nicely dressed young women swinging down the avenue.

Both were smartly dressed in the fashion of the times — the living, walking, breathing examples of what the well dressed young woman should wear, and can secure from any one of a couple of dozen Lubbock stores and shops.

As we were admiring their stylishness, etc., we were horrified to notice one — a young woman of around 25 to 30 — haul off and spit

She didn't "expectorate." She plain spit. She spit just like a man.

If there's anything in the world that cheapens a woman it is spitting.

The Plainsman, who frequently draws the Little Woman's ire by spitting out the car window, would rather hear a woman swear than see her spit.

It's not so bad for men — because they're not suppose to amount to much, anyway.

But for a woman, it is absolutely awful!

Conscript's Wife

BY BETTY WALLACE

YESTERDAY: After her visit to camp, Martha settles down to a quieter life, takes up bowling and knitting. Paul doesn't call often, apparently accepts the situation. But one night he drops in. "You're going to the country club dance with me," he announces. Martha is glad he insists. The party will be fun.

MUSIC FOR MARTHA
CHAPTER 13

The country club was blazing with lights as Paul nosed the car into the long, curving driveway. The white building with its tall columns stood out against the dark sky, on the slight rise of hill, like a southern manor house in a moving picture.

Martha Marshall, her red hair piled high in curls, Paul's orchid on her shoulder, caught her breath with a sudden guilty start. "I'm here, all dressed up and going to have a good time, while Bill's in that camp!"

But a moment later, as Paul was helping her out and they mounted the stairs together, the guilt died down. She had been so starved for fun, all these weeks! Paul smiled down at her. "You'll be the lovelist thing here."

Martha knew she looked well. The white dress, with its softly draped V and its tiny stars winking among the wispy folds of the full skirt, had always been very becoming. Her silver sandals were new. She felt light as a feather, poised, happy.

A girl in glittering sequin jacket looked at her curiously for a moment. Martha saw the fleeting homage in her eyes — the homage that one woman pays to another who looks even more beautiful. She was ridiculously pleased, and a little smile tugged at the corners of her lips.

Paul was saying, "I've reserved a table. That is, we're with a party. Ted Willis and Madge, and the Graces."

"Oh." He hadn't told her before, because she had known them all only during the time when she had been engaged to Paul. They were his friends, not hers. Bill had never met them.

"I'll be glad to see them again." She mustn't let embarrassment, any foolish self-consciousness, spoil her magic evening.

* * *

But Madge Willis was cordial, and her husband, Ted, claimed Martha at once for a dance. I don't get a chance like this often. Say, you're looking marvelous!"

Mary Grace only smiled at her, lazily. Mary had always been like that—off-hand, casual, accepting things at their face. Probably nothing interested her very much except clothes. She and Jack were immensely wealthy.

It was good to be dancing again. Good to be part of this gay, carefree crowd, good to hear music and smile up at a partner who hummed under his breath and had nothing more important on his mind than enjoying himself.

"Long time no see," Ted said, after a while. "What happened to the husband?"

It was not that he cared, especially. In this country club crowd it was extremely usual to attach no importance to the fact that a married woman appeared at a dance with an old friend.

"The husband's in the Army," she laughed. "Didn't you know?"

"No, I hadn't heard." He shook his head, in exaggerated concern. "Country's going to the dogs. They'd better not get after me!"

Paul claimed her for the next dance. They had always danced beautifully together. She gave herself up to enjoyment.

Someone tapped Paul. "You can't keep loveliness like that under a bushel basket, Elliott," said a tall man with tawny hair. "Come to me, beautiful!"

She smiled at Paul, helplessly. The man led her off in triumph, but half way across the room, Jack Grace cut in.

"I thought people weren't supposed to cut any more," Martha said. "It was too collegiate, or something."

"Rules are made to be broken. Ah, this is what I call dancing!"

"Look out," she warned, hmm. "Paul's coming back!"

"That," said Jack, "is much too blatant an infraction of the law. Out the door, baby." Expertly, he danced her through the open French doors to the veranda. "We'll admire the moon."

"No, you don't!" Paul said, behind them. "Give her back, sir!"

* * *

It was silly, maybe. But it was fun. When Paul left her for a moment to get her something to eat, a red-haired young person sidled up and suggested, "Run away with me? This is my evening for running away."

"I'd love to," she laughed. "But I'm chained. Besides, we'd look so odd. Two brick tops."

"We'd look beautiful together!" he said. "If you won't run away, at least dance with me. That'll give my girl something to think about."

"What did she do, run away with someone else?"

"You're a mind reader."

Paul rescued her, two minutes later. "Madge and Mary want to go to the Tortilla."

Martha realized, with amazement, that it was nearly 1 o'clock. "Where did the timego? We just came!"

She held out her hand. "My hankie, please!" In lieu of an evening bag, she had wrapped her compact and comb and the gilt tube of lipstick in a wisp of chiffon, which Paul had obligingly stowed away in a pocket. "I must look a fright. I haven't repaired my complexion all evening."

"Three freckles," Paul admitted, "have worked loose."

She darted under the looped velvet into the powder room. Mary and Madge were already there. A maid was on her knees beside Mrs. Grace, taking a firmer stitch in the draped girdle around her waist. "That fool, my husband, has a clutch like a gorilla!"

Madge was touching up her mouth. "Hello, Martha. My, you certainly mowed down the stag line tonight!"

"Thanks. I think it was a conspiracy. Be kind to working girls night."

"With those eyes," said Mary Grace, calmly, "you need never worry."

"Eyes my foot! It's the girlish, lithesome grace." Madge tittered. "I've gained two pounds and it's keeping me up nights."

"There's an exercise for that. You turn your head slowly from side to side when they bring up the whipped cream, darling."

* * *

The Club Tortilla, at 2 in the morning, with Ricardo and Regina whirling in a rhumba, was hard to leave. That's how it happened that dawn was definitely streaking the sky when Paul left Martha at her door.

"It's been wonderful, Paul!"

"You'd better sleep all day tomorrow."

But she had scarcely tumbled into bed—hardly closed her eyes—when the long, imperious ring of the phone woke her.

At first, she resisted it. She was so satisfyingly exhausted! But it kept on and on, and she got up at last.

"Hello? Hello?" Her very voice was sleepy.

"Hello, Martha?" She came awake with a start. It was Bill!

"Martha, where were you last night? I tried to get you until after midnight. I kept calling and the phone didn't answer!"

AN EXTREME TO BE AVOIDED

Possibilities cannot be ignored that the government may be forced by continuing labor troubles to take over and operate plants that are essential to the national defense, as was suggested in Washington the other day by certain Navy spokesmen.

But it is something that must not be done except as a most extreme last resort. If such a step ever does become necessary, all of us may be sure that there is grave cause for deepest concern as to the immediate safety of the nation.

True, much is to be desired in the way of improvement over the manner in which some of the industries are operated now. But if improvement is to be made, it should be accomplished through the present operators who, for the most part, have had long experience in the business in which they are engaged.

Just as surely as industry is taken over and operated by the government, they will be in politics—and all the governmental machinery everywhere stands as evidence that the government is not an efficient workman.

GENE FOWLER addressed the School of Journalism at the Univ. of Missouri . . . Knowing Fowler's colorful reputation and good nature, the authorities there asked him to lay off "muscle" journalism and other harsh aspects of newsgathering in his talk . . . Fowler agreed, delivered a sugary lecture on the moral code of reporters and the ethics of journalism, all couched (and sound asleep) in copybook maxims . . . Later, he gathered the students and led them outside onto the lawn . . . "Listen," he said softly, "every word I said in there was strictly off the pitchfork! The most important thing in journalism is the expense account. And remember this—drinking and gambling expenses are just as legitimate as cab fares and phone calls—to a guy tracking down a story!" . . . Over in the news room of the AP, Johnny Moroso, ship news reporter, was on the phone taking down the names of the men killed in that East River collision between an Army boat and a tug. . . . Moroso started on the first name, faltered for a moment and continued to take the other two. . . . Then he spelled them back carefully, including the name of the first victim—Henry J. Moroso, his brother . . . Over at the Game Cock tavern last night a group of newspapermen sat around discussing a stainless character on a local sheet . . . "All I know," said an editor, "is that those who can, print news, the others—print noise!"

The author of the hit "Arsenic and Old Lace" is Joe Kesselring. He was a character actor before he submitted that Broadway knockout . . . Joe wanted to come to Hollywood, but the studios refused to pay him more than $300 a week for his histrionics, so he turned them down, saying: "I won't come to Hollywood for less than $1,000 a week!" . . . Now, as a result of his big New York hit, he has been offered $1,200 weekly to return to Hollywood as a writer . . . The amusing part of it is this: Kesselring wrote "Arsenic and Old Lace" as a serious show — as a straight murder drama . . . But when the play-doctors, Crouse and Lindsay, read it they thought it was a scream—and kept Kesselring from all rehearsals. He didn't know it was a comedy until after it clicked!

"Why are you so worried over twenty planes?" he said, "After all, we still have many more than they" . . . Hitler flew into a tantrum . . . . "You fool!" he screamed. "Can't you see disaster ahead? At this rate we'll soon outnumber them only five to one!"

One Thing Certain

Not About Men, Or Ships, Or Sealing Wax, But Instead, Of:

Marks And Dollars And Cost Of Winning Wars

BY PETER EDSON
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 28 — Congress is so much in the habit of spending $100 million here and a few billions there that no one has taken time out to figure what this defense effort might cost if it keeps going.

But the Securities and Exchange commission boys concocted a little chart the other day which has some interesting implications. This chart, shown herewith, makes the closest possible estimate of the percentage of national income spent for national defense by Germany, Japan, the United Kingdom, Canada and the United States.

EDSON

The obvious question, after taking one look at this chart, is well, why not convert it into dollars? The equally obvious answer is that it can't be done. German exchange rates vary so much that they can't be translated into dollars. Living standards in Japan are so much lower than in any of the other countries that dollar comparisons are out of the question. Wages in the United Kingdom as well as Germany are lower than in the United States so, while $100 might buy 100 hours of labor in the U. S., it might buy 150 in the U. K. or 200 in Germany.

* * *

U. S. STATISTICS MOST ACCURATE

THE United States is probably the only one of the countries that has anything at all resembling accurate statistics on national income. Canada has just recently begun to compute national income, but three different sources give three different estimates, the middle and apparently most accurate being that of the Bank of Nova Scotia, which was used for this chart. Great Britain three months ago issued a White Paper with its first estimates of national income, putting the figure under eight billion pounds sterling. Japan's figures are so inaccurate they can't be plotted beyond 1939, and for Germany, which hasn't put out beyond 1940, these figures cover only the old Germany, without Austria and the 13 other occupied countries, their tribute and productive capacity.

The figures on which the United States percentage is calculated are interesting. In April, the nation spent about $760 million on defense. For May it will run about $850 million. By July 1 we will be spending about a billion dollars a month, or $12 billion a year. By July 1942 we may be spending $2 billion a month. The average for the fiscal year, July 1, 1941 to June 30, 1942, will be $1.5 billion a month, or $18 billion for the fiscal year. With U. S. national income at $90 billions for the year, this $18 billion figures at exactly 20 per cent of national income going for war expenses.

The dollar figures on U. S. defense effort are of course familiar—$13 billion under contract, $7 billion more authorized, $20 billion more being planned — a total of $40 billions unless the program is again expanded. That $40 billion of course compares favorably with the 90 billion marks Germany is supposed to have spent on preparedness before she began war. Using the international exchange rate of 2.4 gold marks to the dollar, that makes Germany's expenditure approximately $37.5 billion, but that covers only the prewar, preparedness effort and not the upkeep.

* * *

ROLL OUT THE DOLLARS

AS a purely unofficial calculation, if Germany's national income is now running at 100 billion marks a year (say equal to $40 billion) and if 60 per cent of her income is going to war expense, she is now spending 60 billion marks a year (the equivalent of $25 billion) on war, and getting more for her money because of lower labor costs and lower standards of living. On the same basis, if the United States were spending 60 per cent of her income on war, it would be $54 billions a year instead of the $12 or $18 billions we are currently shelling out.

From all this you are supposed to gather that the country which spends more dollars will build the most planes and the mostest bombs and therefore be the eventual winner.

WASHINGTON'S NEWS FROM THE STATES

IN THE ten principal cotton producing states of the South are 2.4 million farms, says Secretary of Agriculture Wickard . . . Half a million of these farms are without gardens, 600,000 without cows, 720,000 without pigs and 400,000 without even a hen. . . . State Department now reports $30 million collected in U. S. for war relief abroad. . . . Eight states still have poll tax as requirement for voting.

KING'S RELATIVE LOST

LONDON, May 28 (AP) — Lord Louis Mountbatten, second cousin of King George VI, was commander of the destroyer Kelly, lost in the naval fighting off Crete.

Although the navy announced that eight officers and 120 men, the greater part of the ship's complement, were rescued, there still is no report of what happened to Lord Louis.

FUNDS ARE ASKED

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP) — President Roosevelt asked Congress today for an additional $40,000,000 to enable the Tennessee Valley authority to install new generating facilities to meet demands of defense industries.

TWINS KEEP TOGETHER

Dennis and Kenneth, twins, of Fleetwood, England, sat next to each other in school, played football and tennis in the same teams, and joined the A. F. S. together. When they heard they were posted to the Scots Guards they resigned together. They left Fleetwood on the same train, but Dennis was taken ill and sent to a hospital. On his discharge he went to a military center new to him. The first person he met was Kenneth.

Big Demand
FOR
Poultry Products

GOVERNMENT GUARANTEES MINIMUM ON BOTH EGGS AND POULTRY.

HIGHER COST OF MEATS AND GREATER SPENDING POWER DUE TO DEFENSE EFFORTS INDICATE HIGHER PRICES AND MORE PROFITS FOR THE POULTRYMAN.

BUILD UP YOUR FLOCK

A good flock of hens will be worth having for some time to come if properly cared for.

CULL YOUR PULLETS AND LAYING HENS. Get rid of the loafers.

FEED THE PRODUCERS

Well-bred flocks will produce profits, if they are fed and cared for properly.

CHICKENS, TURKEYS
STAR SULPHUROUS COMPOUND
Given in water or feed. Destroys as they enter the fowl, intestinal germs and worms that cause most all disease and loss in egg production. Also rids them of lice, mites, fleas and blue bugs. Keeps the appetite good. Then you will have good, healthy egg-producing fowls and strong baby chicks. Costs very little. Money back if not satisfied. Mark Halsey Drug Stores.

GROW BIG PULLETS

THAT LAY Early!
By growing and developing your pullets properly, you can get them into production sooner and have them laying big eggs when egg prices are high. Purina Chick Growena (complete feed) or Purina Growing Chow to be fed with your grain is built to help get your pullets to lay lots of big eggs in the shortest possible time. See us for the poultry feed that fits your own particular needs.

NO. 668
AN ORDINANCE AMENDING ORDINANCE NO. 601 PROVIDING FOR ANNUAL LICENSES FEE OF 10c FOR EACH BICYCLE REGISTERED.
BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF LUBBOCK:
That Section 7 of Ordinance No. 601 be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:
The annual license fee to be paid for the registration of each bicycle shall be 25c and it shall be paid in advance on or before March 1st of each year. In pursuance to Section 8 of this Ordinance, such license may be transferred when the ownership of said bicycle is transferred, and a fee of 25c shall be paid to the City of Lubbock for the registration of such transfer.
A penalty of 50c is hereby levied and assessed against the owner of each and every bicycle within the City of Lubbock, Texas, who fails to register said bicycle or bicycles on or before June 1st, 1941, and a like penalty is hereby levied and assessed against the owner or owners of each and every bicycle within the City of Lubbock, Texas, who fails to register said bicycle as herein provided on or before March 1st, 1942, and March 1st, 1943, and on March 1st, of each and every year thereafter. Said penalty shall be collected by the City Secretary before any bicycle can be registered, however, it is not intended that a penalty shall be charged for the registration of a new bicycle. At the time of registering a bicycle, the City Secretary shall issue to each registrant a license plate. All registration fees, transfer fees and penalties collected under this Ordinance shall be paid into the general fund of the City of Lubbock, and it is so ordered.

FDR Means Business In Saying "It Will Be Done"

Cheering News To The British

BY DeWITT MacKENZIE
Journal War Analyst

President Roosevelt has taken a seven-league stride toward solving the two most urgent needs—and they are dangerously pressing needs—of Britain and her allies in their present critical position — production and transportation of sinews of war.

This move has come without a moment to spare if the Allies are to be sustained. The European conflict has reached a crisis where the outcome is as finely balanced as an egg on the edge of a knife. A major defeat on either side might start a debacle.

Must Realize Facts

We may say the vital question of transportation of essential supplies is fairly well solved, for in the face of repeated Axis threats the president says "all additional measures necessary to deliver the goods will be taken." It must be assumed that it is within the power of the United States to insure delivery of the goods.

There was finality in Mr. Roosevelt's "it will be done." That means business. If the Axis attempts to carry out its declaration to drive our aid from the seas, it also may mean war. We should have our heads buried in the sand if we didn't recognize that possibility.

Outcome On Oceans

The outcome of the war, as the president indicated, is pivoting on domination of the oceans. He pinned the point down with this:

"If the Axis powers fail to gain control of the seas, they are certainly defeated."

So much for the question of transportation, without which all our efforts at production would avail nothing in the way of aid for the Allies. There still remains the matter of production which the chief executive also has taken in hand.

From the standpoint of the Allies, quickening of speed in our manufacture is of the utmost importance. Britain is not getting what she needs to meet the assault of the most powerful war machine the world has known.

Two requirements which are a matter of life or death to her are warplanes and mechanical equipment, such as tanks. Lack of those two arms has defeated her on land, and daily the evidence increases that the Nazi air fleet is a grave challenge to the British navy, which thus far has retained domination of the sea, apart from the submarine campaign along the Atlantic lanes.

If the British lose the battle of Crete—and their position today is reported as serious—it will be due to their lack of air power, upon which the Nazis have depended almost exclusively. Two British cruisers and four destroyers have been sunk in this conflict — by warplanes.

The fate of Crete won't decide the battle of the Mediterranean, upon which so much depends, but it will have a telling effect on control of the Mediterranean. She may lose it if she doesn't get fresh equipment, and get it fast.

THE MAN WHO ISN'T THERE—Imagine the surprise of art patrons in St. Louis when they found in an exhibit above canvas by Artist Fred Conway who says it's his conception of "Pepper" Martin, long-time Cardinal star now managing the Sacramento club on the Pacific coast. "Pepper" is that swirl of dust making a circuit of the bases and clouding up the home plate.

Mexican Press Says U. S. Is Nearer War

MEXICO CITY, May 28 (AP)—Influential sections of the Mexican press regarded President Roosevelt's speech Tuesday night as the first actual step toward active combat in the war while a government spokesman said it was "so transcendental that only President Avila Camacho or Foreign Minister Padilla could comment on it."

The president and nearly all cabinet ministers were out of the city because of the annual mid-year vacation period for federal employees.

Raul Noriega, editor of the government newspaper El Nacional, said the president's proclamation of a state of emergency "fixes the first line of North America's battle. The stage of discussion and useless speeches has ended."

Mexico, he said, would "fulfill its obligations before the nations of our continent."

Gonzalo Herrerias, editor of the influential Excelsior, said the speech was a culmination of the president's defense policy linked with all the American governments, "in defense of liberty and in opposition to the plans for world conquest already perfectly marked out by the totalitarian countries.

"I might almost dare to say it is a pre-state of war."

Reduction In Use Of Steel Is Requested

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—A 20 per cent reduction in the use of steel by the producing branch of the oil industry to save 250,000 tons annually was requested today by the office of production management.

The request was made to representatives of the interstate oil compact commission and officials of the oil regulatory bodies of the principal petroleum - producing states. Its adoption would entail changes in present drilling practices.

Officials reported general agreement that substantial savings in steel could be made by encouragement of wider well spacing and unitization agreements to avoid unnecessary drilling. Under such agreements, all persons interested in a particular oil pool would develop the property jointly and divide the output in order to use the most efficient arrangement of spacing wells.

AIDED

NO PLACE FOR CATTLE

Cattle cannot live in the steamy hot lowlands of New Guinea, so a small herd of dairy cattle has been transported into the mountains by airplane and is doing well.

News Briefs

Annual Breakfast Monday — Faculty members of the engineering division of Texas Technological college will give an annual breakfast at 8 o'clock Monday morning in Hilton hotel to the division's graduating class, said F. A. Kleinschmidt, chairman of the committee in charge. Approximately 100 persons will attend.

Simmons To Meeting — Forty-seventh annual convention of Texas Cottonseed Crushers association in Galveston June 9 and 10 will be attended by George A. Simmons of Lubbock. Simmons was president of the association last year and is a member of the board of directors and vice chairman of the college relations committee.

Benson Named—W. D. Benson, sr., Lubbock attorney, was appointed by Judge T. Whitefield Davidson of the northern federal judicial district to handle all farm bankruptcy cases as conciliator for Lubbock county, a position he formerly had held.

Bids Rejected For Army Service Shoes

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP) — Announcing that the army had rejected all bids on 1,000,008 pairs of army service shoes and 283,816 pairs of CCC shoes because the offers were too high, the OPM said tonight that a price ceiling on hides would be imposed soon.

Price administration officials said that the ceiling would be based on a price of 15 cents a pound for hides of light native cows. The price, they added, is slightly under the top quotations which have prevailed recently.

The army will re-advertise for bids on shoes, officials said.

PESTS CAUSE HEAVY LOSS

Pests have made such great inroads on bananna plantations of Veracruz that unless the Mexican Government promptly eradicates the intruders 15,000 plantation workers will face starvation. Congressman Jose Ch. Ramirez advised the Ministry of Agriculture in Mexico City that shipments of bananas had dropped from 200 carloads a week to eight.

U. S. FOLK LOSE FILMS

American tourists in Auckland, New Zealand, are among those obliged to forfeit photographic films to the police. Many offenders, unaware of strict wartime regulations, have taken photographs at the Mechanics' Bay air base and on the city waterfront. The Americans photographed liners in port from San Francisco.

RENT RACKET CURBED

Rent racketeers in Glasgow, Scotland, are being forced out of business. The Women's Voluntary Service has prepared a landladies' register to aid wives and dependants of soldiers in finding rooms at reasonable cost. "A reasonable price" according to the women, is $2 a week for a furnished room and $7 a week for room and board.

Lubbock Grads Get Diplomas

Diplomas were presented to 324 graduates of Senior High school at commencement exercises attended by a capacity audience in the high school auditorium Tuesday night.

Highest ranking student for the four-year course was Monda Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hamilton of 1919 Twenty-third street.

Bill Anthony was high ranking boy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Anthony of 2119 Twenty-first street. Anthony and Miss Hamilton were presented scholarships by R. W. Matthews, Senior High principal.

Musical Program Given

Highlighting the exercises was a panel discussion by four class members of the subject, "The Challenge to the 1941 Graduate," with Cullen Chapman, class president, as chairman. Participating in the discussion were Jack Terrell, Bernice Cocanougher, Daniel Brown and Grace Halsell.

Invocation was offered by Fred Brewton during entrance of seniors to the auditorium.

Preceding the program, Senior High orchestra, directed by Miss Beulah Dunn, presented three numbers. Other music included a four-piano presentation by seven students, Carolyn Reynolds, Donald Kleinschmidt, Mary Lu Jobson, Ava Nell Turner, Bettye Joe Cardwell, Marion Chandler and Miss Hamilton; violin solo by Kleinschmidt, and saxophone duet by John D. Roberts and Phillip Klingman.

Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, school president, presented diplomas to January and May graduates. July graduates will receive diplomas at conclusion of their summer work.

Exercises were dismissed with singing of the Westerner song.

Plainview Youth Is Calm About Rescue

PLAINVIEW, May 28 (AP)—Gene Bloys, 9, was wading over a flowing draw in city park today when swift water carried him downstream.

He couldn't swim but caught a thorn tree and climbed it.

Companions called Police Chief Hoyt Curry who rescued him by tossing out a rope.

The boy was clad only in swim shorts.

"It's scratchy in that tree," he calmly told Chief Curry.
