Southwestern Rail Moving Into Wellington Facility

Southwestern Rail Products, Inc., closed its operations in Burns Flat, Oklahoma, last week in preparation to moving into the new facilities in Wellington.

"We hope to have this plant in production by November 1," said Mrs. Frankie Salazar, office manager.

Some machine tools have been moved here already, and additional shipments are arriving by truck daily.

The crane steel is being erected, and the plant offices are near completion.

"We still lack some concrete to be poured for the spike machine base. The spike machine will be the last thing to be moved in, and when it is set up, around November 1, we will be ready for production," said Mrs. Salazar.

It is uncertain how many employees will be moving here from Burns Flat, with housing being one of the determining factors.

Several Wellington people are already employed and training at the Burns Flat plant, and these will be returning to Wellington. Some are now working at the new plant receiving material as it comes in.

"We still have a lot of moving to do," the office manager added.

There is still some minor construction to be done, but much of these will be completed by company employees. Some work on the buildings will be finished after rail spike production has started.

The railroad spur onto Southwestern Rail grounds is still to be put in, and the contract will be let for that. Eventually, grounds around the buildings will be paved.

"We still have quite a bit of finishing-up work after we get in production," Mrs. Salazar explained.

City of Wellington employees on Thursday, dug the pit which will be concreted and used to recirculate water, Mayor Bill Hatch reported. "There are already rows and rows of kegs brought in," he added.

Electrical crews were working in the plant late last week, and the machine shop is being set up next to the office in the south building.

Southwestern Rail Products, Inc., with Wayne Smith as president, has operated with one spike machine in its Burns Flat plant. A second machine is now being rebuilt by Harlan Foster of Hollis, who has the only equipment in this part of the country.

The Wellington plant, however, was built with a capacity of four spike machines, a capacity that would quadruple Southwestern's present production.

Southwestern is the only independent manufacturer of railroad spikes in the country, all others belonging to major steel corporations.

Not counting the spike machine being rebuilt or any others to be installed in the future, Southwestern will employ approximately 60 persons and operate on a 24-hour, 7-day a week schedule.

Hospital Budget Operates in Black

The Collingsworth General Hospital board has reported favorably on a $613,337, budget for its operation during the fiscal year beginning October 1. This is a budget that will allow the hospital to operate in the black and show an income over expense of $44,837.

The budget will be formally approved on the second reading at the next board meeting Monday, October 24.

Most of the remaining regular meeting Monday, Sept. 26, was given over to preparations for the visit of a Medicare Inspection team Tuesday through Thursday, October 11 to 13. Inspecting every facet of the hospital's operation will be Robert B. Price and Dr. Juanita Carroll.

As part of this, one room with private bath and outside entrance was designated an isolation unit, and another room set aside for storage.

Expansion of the x-ray department into another small room was approved.

Charles Floyd, administrator, reported to the board that the transformer and control unit on the x-ray machine had gone out and could not be repaired. He reported the purchase of replacements at a cost of $13,000.

A visit through the x-ray and laboratory facility ended the meeting.

The budget Mr. Floyd presented does not call for an increase in hospital room rates at this time.

"I feel we can hold the line at least part of the year," he said.

It does include increases in salaries resulting from the new minimum wage of $2.65 per hour, which will become effective January 1, 1978.

Administration and general expenses will account for $90,321, the budget shows. Professional care of the patients accounts for $155, Krueger will visit Amarillo, Claude, Panhandle, Borger, Pampa, and Wellington as part of his campaign. He will be in Wellington at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 2, in the Heritage Room.

"I'm an Independent Democrat," Krueger said of his personal campaign style, "and I want to meet as many Texans as possible so I can be an effective and independent voice for them in the U.S. Senate."

FIRST COTTON

Tommy Hightower, right, stands beside the county's first bale of 1977 cotton with Grover Graham at Davis Gin, Dodson. Hightower ginned the hand-pulled cotton Thursday, Sept. 22. Twenty-one hundred pounds of the Lockett 4789-A cotton yielded 580 lbs. of lint and approximately 1,000 lbs. of seed. The cotton was planted on John Hightower's place about 3 miles west of Dodson around June 30.

Quail School Board Calls $295,000 Bond Election

The Quail School Board has called an election to determine the issuance of $295,000 in bonds for the construction and equipment of school buildings. It also calls for the assessment of an ad valorem tax not to exceed the rate of $1.50 on the $100 valuation of taxable property in the district.

The election will be held Tuesday, October 11, in the Quail Mercantile Building. The school board has hired Underwood-Newhouse of Amarillo to sell the bonds, with Bob Davis handling the issue. O.R. Thompson of Amarillo was hired as the architect, according to Supt. Wilford Arthur.

If the bond issue is approved, it will complete a proposed building project, which would include six separate buildings plus a gymnasium, Arthur said.

One of these buildings, containing 8 classrooms, is now under construction at a contract price of $80,000. Other buildings will be:

- A cafeteria.
- A vocational agriculture building.
- A homemaking building.

-A science building.

-Restrooms.

Plans call for administrative offices to be added later, Arthur said.

Construction has also begun on vo ag and restroom buildings.

The school district has applied for federal disaster funds to help replace the buildings destroyed in a tornado last May, but Arthur declined to release to the Wellington Leader the amount of federal funding for which application has been made. He said that he would release the amount to the public only after he had received a check, and that he expected the check in the next 10 days.

Arthur said U.S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen's office had notified the school that all "pinpoint disaster" claims would be funded, but that the Senator's office had not given him a dollar figure on the funding.

The federal funding, in addition to $153,000 in insurance money and the bond proposal, if passed, would complete the building program, Arthur said. Arthur declined, however, to give a total cost for the project, but said he would release complete building plans and total cost for next week's paper.

The entire district will constitute a single election precinct for the election on October 11.

Pat O'Hair will be the presiding judge and Cary Don Neeley, the alternate presiding judge.

Absentee voting will be conducted at the office of Principal Tommy Thornhill at the Quail Baptist Church between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Opening and closing dates of the absentee voting were not indicated in the election order.

The bond proposition and tax proposition will appear separately on the ballots.

Proposition No. 1 is: Shall the Board of Trustees of said District be authorized to issue the bonds of the District, in one or more series, in the aggregate principal amount of $295,000 for the purpose of the construction and equipment of school buildings in the District and the purchase of the necessary sites therefor, with said bonds to mature, bear interest and to be issued and sold in accordance with law; and shall the Board of Trustees be authorized to levy and pledge, and cause to be assessed and collected, annual ad valorem taxes on all taxable property in the District, sufficient, without limit as to rate or amount, to pay the principal of and interest on said bonds?

The wording on the ballot for Proposition No. 1 will be: For or against: The issuance of bonds and levying the tax in payment thereof.

Proposition 2 in full reads: Shall the Board of Trustees of said District be authorized to

Disaster Designation Sought on Hail Loss

Application has been made to have the north part of Collingsworth devastated by hail on Tuesday, Sept. 20, declared a disaster area.

A letter prepared by the Commissioners Court and Judge Zook Thomas has asked Governor Dolph Briscoe to request the Department of Agriculture for the designation.

A copy of this goes to the state office of the Farmers Home Administration, and in this instance, the state office will be empowered to make the designation, according to Raymond Hodges, county supervisor.

Reports of 100 percent crop loss continue to come in.

The County Emergency Board has compiled figures that show the loss to crops ranges from 100 percent down to approximately 20 percent, and that the area extends over the north one-third and east one-fourth of the county.

Approximately 3,000 acres of cotton was affected, 2,000 acres of haygrazer, 1,000 acres of milo and approximately 60 section of grass.

Making up this board are Mr. Hodges, Tommy Powell of SCS, Bob Weatherly of ASCS and County Agent Don Reeves.

Spearheading the effort to secure the disaster designation is Commissioner W.R. Breeding, in whose precinct the heaviest of the damage occurred. Rudie Tate has told The Wellington Leader that farmers in the Dozier-Samnorwood area alone estimate their loss at from 1200 to 1500 bales of cotton. In addition to loss of haygrazer and milo.

In general, almost the entire county north of Lutie and Samnorwood was affected in varying degrees.

A number of stock men have reported sage brush and grass beaten into the ground to such an extent that they have had to move their cattle.

The loss was 'heaviest around Dozier, and some of those reported to have 100 percent losses are Harvey Pat Bradley, E.E. Darrow, Doug Darrow, Jimmy Breeding, J.C. Breeding, Worth Shields, Keith Shields, B.A. Purkey, and Donald Coleman, all of the Dozier-Lone Mound area.

Other heavy losers have been named as Ronald Carter, Mark Simpson, John Simpson, James Martindale, John Holton, Sam Seago, the Phillips sisters, the James Murry farm, Jim Ray and Mike Oldham.

Rockets Play Another AA Team at Canadian Friday

Wellington Skyrockets, still leading District 2-A, travels to Canadian Friday, Sept. 30, to meet another AA team, the Wildcats.

"I think we'll go up to Canadian, put everything together, and gain momentum that we are going to need when we go into district play," said Coach James Williams. The Rockets have two more games before conference competition starts.

Canadian, in its second year as an AA school, has a 2-2 record.

"As far as size, they do not have a big team but they are quick," said Williams.

Largest boy on the offensive team is the fullback, 191 pound Kelly Flowers--considered "a real strong running back."

Next largest--and outstanding as well, is quarterback, Gary Bob Hutchenson, at 182 pounds. Both are seniors.

tackle Clay Flathers, 149; split end Roger Conn, 139; and right end Scott Francis, 132.

This will be the Wildcats homecoming game.

What is concerning Coach Williams and his staff are the injuries the Rockets received in the Childress game Friday.

Fullback Ricky Jones and center Joe Thomas are out with turned ankles and neither has worked out this week.

"If they're not all right by Friday, we're going to have to start someone who hasn't started, but they're going to

NO COTTON

This devastated cotton field just south of Dozier will yield no cotton this season. Neither will most of the cotton acreage in the Dozier-Samnorwood area, because of the hail storm which struck Sept. 20. Many farmers called it the worst they have ever seen.

Vernell's Jewelry To Hold Grand Opening Oct. 1

The grand opening of Wellington's newest store, Vernell's Jewelry and Gifts, will be held Saturday, October 1, the owners Vernell and D.C. Hale have announced.

Their new store is located at 817 West Avenue, in a building remodeled for the specific needs of a jewelry store. This is their first time in business in Wellington.

The owners live in Shamrock, where Mr. Hale is employed by Ashland Oil. He is planning retirement next year after having been associated with the company almost 30 years.

Mrs. Hale has owned and operated Vernell's Jewelry at Shamrock four years, having bought the Draper Jewelry. They will continue in this store, with the Wellington store representing an expansion in the business.

Almost identical items will be carried in both stores, and which will include fine jewelry and gifts of all type for the family.

Kent Payne, now associated with the Shamrock store, will move here as manager within a short time. Also associated with the store are Mrs. J.W. Tarver and Miss Pam Vines.

Gladys Hobbs is in charge of the watch repair department of both stores and will remain in Shamrock.

Mr. and Mrs. Hale have lived in Shamrock since 1951, although he was reared there. Mrs. Hale is from Central Texas, and in Shamrock, she was associated with an accounting firm before entering business for herself.

She is a member of the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce, Business and Professional Women's Club, the Emerald Study Club and Church of Christ.

The couple have two children, and three grandchildren.

"We have had many Wellington customers through the years. Now we will bring our merchandise to them, instead of their coming to us," said Mrs. Hale.

Ronald Cummings McLean Principal

Ronald Cummings has begun his first year as principal of McLean High School.

A former Wellington teacher, he has also taught at Turkey, Texline and Estelline. He attended Quail High School and Clarendon Junior College and received his degree from West Texas State University.

He and his wife, Marie, have three children, Tanya, Tina and Jimmy. Cummings is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cummings.

Construction Begins Mon. Widening FM 338

The first work on widening and resurfacing FM 338 from the southwest corner of the town section west three miles came Monday, Sept. 26, when barricades and signs were placed on the limits of the project.

This is a $284,549.24 project with Ivan Dement, Inc., of Amarillo as the contractor.

The contractor will begin extension of the culverts October 3.

"When grading operations are in progress, people are urged to exercise extreme care driving in the construction area, especially at night," declared O.V. Johnson, resident engineer for the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

He gave special emphasis to the prevalence of vandalism in some areas, and Sheriff John Rainey has assured Johnson and the contractor his department will be especially alert. It is customary for members of the sheriff's department to check regularly at night on highway projects under way in this county.

"Problems of vandalism have been experienced on other projects in this area causing excessive property damage as well as endangering people's lives." "Barricades, signs and lights are used to protect the traveling public and damaging or removing some of these could cause serious injury or possibly death for some innocent person. All persons, particularly young people, should be aware of this.

"Any person detecting danger areas of any kind should notify the Highway Department of the Sheriff's Department as quickly as possible.

Mr. Johnson said 120 working days have been set up on the project.

This part of FM 338 is one of the older Farm-to-Market roads in the county and the narrowest—only 18 feet. Under the present project, it will be widened to provide a 24-foot travel surface with improved grades and sight distances. This entails reconstruction of grading, structures, base and surfacing. When it is completed, the road will give added safety, comfort and serviceability in line with higher traffic volumes than were ever foreseen when it was built.

In part, this is due to the building of FM Roads 1056 and 1547, which made the tract under construction the first leg of a direct route from Wellington to Memphis—the only road between these towns that most local people ever use.

940. The dietary department is listed at $46,951, and housekeeping at $30,355.

Making up the balance are the operation of outpatient and emergency departments, the hospital's part of operating the Ambulance Service and the cost of operating Dr. Reynaldo Perez office.

Based on a tax roll valuation of $14 million and a tax rate of 70 cents per $100 valuation, the board expects net taxes available for operation at $88,690.

Estimated hospital revenue, based on 4,900 patient days at $58 per day, should give Collingsworth General $588,064, the budget shows. The $25,253 difference will be made from taxes, as will the $18,600 required to service the hospital's bonds.

Due to replace them will probably be Kirk Patterson at center and James Thomas at fullback.

Replacements for Joe Thomas and Jones on defensive have not been picked.

"I thought the game with Childress could have gone either way, but some key plays went against us, and against a good team like Childress, you can't come back from these.

"We're not out of the district race, and that's our objective. We know our kids can play and we're not down and out," declared the coach.

Faith Baptist Calls Pastor From Floydada

The congregation of Faith Baptist Church has called the Rev. Nathan Mulder of Floydada as its new pastor.

In addition to pastoral work, Mr. Mulder is farming 800 acres of land at Floydada and he and his family will move to Wellington after their crops are gathered.

Rev. Mulder entered the ministry November 5, 1962, a graduate of Wayland Baptist College, Plainview.

He is a former pastor of Northfield Baptist Church at Northfield, and this is his second pastorate.

He and his wife, Kathy, have four children, Cindy, 11, Penny, 9, Jimmy, 8, and Cory, 6.

"This is a young family and enthusiastic, and we are eager for them to come here," said Mrs. R.B. Lucas, a member of the church.

Town-wide Cleanup Begins at Dodson

From 25 to 30 Dodson people worked most of Saturday cleaning Main Street from the Nazarene Church to the west city limits, and FM 1642 south from Main to the edge of town, and the results were startling. Approximately 5 truckloads of debris were hauled off.

This was the first of the official work days by which the town proposes to clean up itself.

"But we still have lots and lots of work to do," said Mayor Lonnie Roberson.

Other organized work days will be set until the town has been covered.

Debris that remained from a building that was demolished in downtown was hauled off and the lots leveled; a grease pit from an old service station was filled, and "lots of junk was cleaned up," the mayor said.

Weeds were mowed along Main Street and FM 1642, trees were trimmed and trash picked up at various locations.

Mrs. Alston Moves Store

Mrs. Jessie Alston of Quail has moved her grocery store from the intersection of Highway 203 and FM 1547, to a two-story building in Quail's mid-section.

At the same time, she has opened the Quail Snack Bar. In addition to hamburgers, she is offering lunches on some days at present, with plans to make this a permanent arrangement.

Mrs. Alston's son, Jerry Alston, is now operating the Exxon Service Station where her grocery was formerly located.

Mrs. Alston also volunteered her Snack Bar to the Quail School to use as its cafeteria until the new school is built. Cafeteria staff members are in charge of feeding the students.

Mrs. Alston bought her new location recently from Mrs. Barney Boyett.

Oct. 7 Deadline for Voter Registration

Those who are not registered voters have until 5 p.m. Friday, October 7, to register in order to vote in the two elections November 8.

These include the special election in the 31st Senatorial District to fill the seat vacated by Senator Max Sherman when he became president of West Texas State University.

The other election which is state-wide, is the general election on amendments to the Texas Constitution.

Those wishing to register are to go to the office of Ocie Scott, county tax assessor-collector. Registration in Texas now costs nothing.

Voters, however, must be on the rolls at least 30 days before the date of any election.

Newcomers to the state or voters who have married and changed names, or who have moved and have a new address since last voting, should check in the tax office to be sure their names are on the voter rolls before October 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat McAlister of Spur visited friends here Sunday evening and Monday morning and were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Foster. They were enroute home from Reed, Okla., where they visited his family.

Community Development Fund Loan, Grant Guidelines Set

A second community meeting for the HUD Community Development Grant covering the north part of Wellington was held Tuesday September 20, at the Community Action Center for the purpose of setting the guidelines for the loan and grant portion of the $98,000 HUD Grant. Howard Powell presided at the meeting and J.M. Romo led the opening prayer.

Mrs. Tessie Burba went over the guidelines set forth by the steering committee which were: Loans will be limited to $300.00 for materials for any one dwelling and repayment will be at 5% interest. Mrs. Burba said that repayment will be worked out with each individual and would not be set in a way as to work a hardship on any family.

The grant portion was explained. It consists of $15,000.00 to be used to purchase paint. When an entire city block is cleaned up and fixed up, then paint will be available to paint everything on that block (including barns and fences.)

Mrs. Burba explained that another program through Housing and Urban Development called Weatherization Program, could be available to those who fall under low income guidelines. This program is available to anyone meeting the economic guidelines regardless of what part of Wellington they live in.

Under the Weatherization grant materials in the amount of $250.00 will be furnished free of charge to insulate a house and install storm windows. Mrs. Burba said that the initial application could be picked up at the Community Action Office for this program.

Mr. Powell said that applications are available at the Community Action and that the staff there would assist them in filling out the application. The applications will be processed by the Steering Committee as they are received.

Hypoglycemia Tests Planned October 12

The free blood pressure clinic for Collingsworth County residents 55 years or older is scheduled for Wednesday, October 12, from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Mrs. Rita Anderson, R.N., public health nurse, will be here to test individuals for hypoglycemia (low blood sugar).

"Many individuals have gained the impression that hypoglycemia is common in the American population and is often going unrecognized. Many healthy persons with no symptoms have low or high blood sugar levels. The goal of proper management is to detect, correct or control the health problem," Mrs. Anderson explained.

"The community is encouraged to utilize the health clinics in order to control or counteract conditions that threaten health or decrease the enjoyment of life."

Free blood pressure clinics are held on the second Wednesday of each month in the Senior Citizens Center at 702 East Avenue.

Seniors Set Western Supper on October 7

Wellington Senior Class will hold a western supper Friday October 7, preceding the Wellington-Tulia football game.

Serving will begin at 5:30 p.m. and continue until 7:00 in the school cafeteria, located on Childress Street.

The menu will consist of Western beans and chili, cornbread and salad. Dessert will be sold separately.

Senior class members are selling tickets, which are $3.00 for adults and $1.50 for grade school students.

"You may get your tickets from any senior class member or the sponsors, Mrs. P.M. Scott, Coach James Williams, or Coach Robert Hicks."

"If you miss on a ticket, the price will be the same at the door," said Clay Don Lacy, one of the seniors working on this project.

Skyrockets Lose First '77 Game to Childress

Wellington Skyrockets suffered their first loss of the season Friday, Sept. 23 to the AA Childress Bobcats, 21 to 6. The loss left the Rockets with a 3-1 season record.

The Rockets dominated the first quarter with a drive that started with James Thomas' kickoff return to the 23 yard line. Wellington put Ricky Jones, Arnie Ingram and George Darton to work behind a fine offensive line to move the ball to the Childress 49. On third down and 6, James Thomas sped for 42 yards, following great downfield blocks, and outstepping Childress defenders for 20 extra yards to the 7 yard line.

The Rockets moved to the 1 yard line where a big Childress defensive effort stopped them on 4th down.

On Childress second play, hard hitting Rocket defense forced a fumble and Wellington recovered at the Childress 2 yard line.

One play later Carl Taylor connected to Jon Sessions for the Rockets only score of the night. The extra-point kick failed, and Wellington lead 6-0.

The Rockets next possession took them from their own 19 down to the Childress 20 before the ball went over on downs. The drive saw Craig Needham making good yardage and Carl Taylor keeping for good gains when his receivers were covered.

Childress was unable to move the ball again against a stiff Rocket defense keyed by Charles McIntosh, Ricky Jones, and Kevin Hall. On second down at the Childress 31, the Rockets forced another fumble and Richard Garcia recovered.

The momentum was all with the Rockets when they came out of the huddle for first down on Childress 32. James Thomas took the ball around right end and scampered for a touchdown, but the play was called back for an illegal procedure penalty against the Rockets. It was the first of many penalties at key times that repeatedly took the wind out of the Rockets offense. It was also the first of the penalties that many Wellington fans and seasoned football observers felt amounted to one of the poorest jobs of officiating they had ever witnessed.

Childress took possession on their own 24 and on the second play, Ricky Anderson broke from the 25 around right end and took it the distance for Childress first score. Perry Morren's kick put the Bobcats in the lead 7-6, a lead they never relinquished.

Carl Taylor put in three fine defensive efforts just before halftime to stall Childress again. Taylor was the only man left to stop Kenny Dean after a 25 yard dash, and Taylor plugged him at midfield. On the next play Taylor stopped a Childress receiver just after the ball was caught, and on the next play intercepted a Childress pass.

Childress took the second half kickoff and drove to the

A Skyrocket fumble on the Rocket's own 12 set up Childress final score. Ricky Anderson took the ball in from the 1 yard line and the extra-point kick finished the scoring at 21-6 before the end of the third quarter.

Neither team could put together a scoring drive in the final quarter.

Janyth Estes With Xerox in Greece

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Estes visited over the weekend with their daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hairgrove, Craig and Rynda, of Arlington, and Miss Janyth Estes of Dallas.

Miss Estes is leaving Thursday, Sept. 29, for Athens, Greece, where she will work for Xerox, Corp. She has been employed by this company in Dallas and her work in Athens will be similar to that she is now doing.

A graduate of Wellington High School in 1965, she attended Texas Tech University and West Texas State University.

Mr. and Mrs. Oran Rogers of Freeport spent several days with her mother, Mrs. F.F. Popwell. They also visited her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Popwell, and other relatives.

Mrs. W.W. McClaskey has returned home after a short visit with a daughter, Mrs. David Armstrong, in Lubbock. Mrs. Armstrong brought her mother home and also visited a sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Smith.

Mrs. Ernest Harwell Cited for Volunteer Program Leadership

Because volunteering to help someone or some cause has become second nature to Mrs. Ernest Harwell, she was recently nominated for consideration in the Annual Texas Center for Volunteer Action Volunteer Awards Program.

She was nominated from Region 1, by Nova Purdy, of Lubbock, regional consultant for volunteer services, State Department of Public Welfare. Co-sponsors were Jim Forrester, John Alf Thomas and Tessie Burba.

Mrs. Harwell has served as coordinator of volunteers in Wellington two and one half years.

A nurse, and later an x-ray technician for doctors at St. Joseph's and Collingsworth General Hospital 41 years, she is equally as busy during her retirement as she was during her professional years.

One of her favorite projects centers around the Senior Citizens Center. Here she has assisted in organizing crafts and other activities, visiting nursing homes and personally helping hang paneling and upholster furniture for the center.

Because of her health care experience, she takes blood pressure of approximately 200 Collingsworth County people in the center's free blood pressure clinic.

Her association with Care Corps began in May 1975, when, with the cooperation of John Alf Thomas, food stamp worker and Tom Vermillion, now of Lubbock, a protective services worker, an orientation was given a group of approximately 15 women from Wellington churches. The group unanimously selected her as their local coordinator. Here are some of the accomplishments of Wellington volunteers under her leadership, which amount to more than 2,000 hours monthly.

"Mrs. Harwell is able to motivate others to help in the community because she is so highly motivated and is personally deeply involved in helping her neighbors on a regular basis," said Mrs. Purdy.

Although she retired from a job in the community's health care system, she remains deeply involved. She helped the Emergency Ambulance Service in working for Emergency Medical Technician classification; she works with the Red River Red Cross Regional Blood center during its bloodmobile visits, and some years ago, she helped to organize a complete Civil Defense emergency hospital in the community. Kept in storage in Bura Handley Community Center, this is capable of caring for 200 persons in an emergency such as a tornado or a nuclear attack.

Mrs. Harwell is active in First Baptist Church and Mission Bautista Mt. Sinai. She is a past president and involved member of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Probably her best support comes from her husband, Ernest.

This is the first year the volunteer awards program has been held.

Memphis Downs Seventh Grade

Wellington 7th grade football team lost to a larger Memphis team 24-0 on Cyclone Field Thursday, Sept. 22.

Wellington's team is the smallest in District 2-A.

"They didn't really hurt us on running," said Coach Ronnie Glenn. "We worked all week on stopping their sweeps. They hurt us on passing. They threw two for touchdowns. Once their quarterback dropped back and we had everyone covered for a pass and he ran."

"After the half, we let them have two easy touchdowns. We just couldn't get going," said their coach.

He praised the work of defensive cornerbacks Wade Williams and Billy Chandler, as well as Williams quarterbacking on offense.

Fees to be Charged for Private Fish Stocking

AUSTIN—Texas landowners who have ponds in need of fish must pay to have them stocked in 1978.

During the recent session of the Texas Legislature, lawmakers approved Senate Bill 286 which gives the Parks and Wildlife Department authority to charge for large mouth bass, channel catfish and hybrid sunfish which go to private lakes and ponds. The fish had been free to pond owners in the past.

Parks and Wildlife Commissioners recently approved rates which include:

- largemouth bass, $2, per acre,
- channel catfish, $4 per acre,
- hybrid sunfish, $5 per acre.

In addition, a $2 fee will be charged for each application made to the department for fish. On site delivery of large numbers of fish to lakes will cost an additional 25 cents per mile round trip from the nearest state hatchery.

Also, instead of delivering fish to each county seat in Texas, fish will go to 29 distribution centers around the state. In most cases, people will be within 50 miles of each central distribution site, or the fish may be picked up at a state hatchery if it is closer than the distribution site.

P&WD inland fisheries hatchery coordinator Bill Rutledge said the move to charge for fish is an effort by the department to cut some operating costs, particularly those financed by Game and Fish Fund Nine.

Rutledge said in fiscal year 1976 (Sept. 1, 1975-Aug. 31, 1976) some 4.5 million fish of the three species were delivered for private lakes.

"Largemouth bass cost the department 3.4 cents each to produce," said Rutledge. "Channel catfish cost 7.1 cents each and hybrid sunfish, 10.7 cents each. The hybrids cost more to produce since both redear and green sunfish broodstock must be maintained in hatcheries.

Rutledge said landowners

Bilbrey Moves To Miami SCS Field Office

Don Bilbrey, who transferred to the Wellington Soil Conservation Service office from the Forest Service, has been assigned to the Miami field office as range conservationist.

He will be working primarily with ranchers, but he will also be involved with a watershed project on Red Deer Creek that is about to become operational, said Tommy Powell, District conservationist.

"We have certainly enjoyed working with Don. He is well experienced in working with ranchers, primarily due to his experience in the Forest Service. We think he will be a success wherever he goes, for people enjoy working with him Powell continued.

He and his wife have two sons, Chan and Joe, and three older children away from home.

I Saw... by Virginia Kobey

Johnny Roberts was discussing farm conditions the other day for the afternoon coffee crowd:

"I know how to make money out of wheat at $2.50 a bushel," he told them. "You can't do it with $12,000 tractors, but you can do it if you'll go out and get four mules and work them. You can grow your feed for them.

"I can make money on 50 cent cotton that way. I've sold lots of cotton for 5 cents a pound." These were some of the high points of his discussion.

And Monty Mitchell was talking about the proposed farmers strike that is in the news. He doubts they will. Then he began to speculate what would happen to business if all the farmers stayed at home for a week. And beyond that, he speculated as to the economic effect on Amarillo if the farmers stayed at home. "Amarillo's just a supply house for the farmers business from all over the Panhandle and South Plains," he pointed out.

CITY STATE BANK

Occasionally newspaper readers are startled by the surprise discovery of large sums of money in the mattress or under the floorboards in the home of a recluse. Wealthy eccentrics sometimes even are robbed and killed for the thousands of dollars kept hidden in their houses. Only recently newspaper headlines told of such an incident. Such stockpiles are "socked away" (and interest earnings lost) by someone who "doesn't trust" banks. The very thing the money owner sought to avoid, risk of loss, is increased instead of decreased. It is practically impossible for your money to disappear from the bank. But even if it should, your loss would be made good by an agency of the United States government. Each depositor's account is insured up to $40,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC). The safest place for your money—whether a few dollars or several thousand—is in the bank, ready for you to claim whenever you need it... you can BANK on it!

Many at the fair art exhibit admired the painting of the coiled rattle snake by Mrs. C.D. Messer. Using acrylics as her medium, she reproduced faithfully all the markings. This is a western painting that is different to what is usually expected.

Wilbur DePauw is recovering from major surgery recently at an Amarillo hospital and is able to be out some, although he is still weak. Many of his friends were not aware he has had this surgery.

This office had a call Tuesday afternoon from Read-Poland Public Relations in Austin asking the political advertising rate. The young woman calling said on being asked, that their client was Bob Price. This is shaping up for an interesting political year.

Being Single Good & Bad

COLLEGE STATION--49 million Americans are single, reports Debby Johnson, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Some choose to be single, while others inherit it through death of a spouse, marital dissolution or other circumstances.

Today the single state is much more acceptable, and chances for happy marriage are far greater for those who marry at a later age, says the specialist.

Many singles are happy about many aspects of their lifestyle, Miss Johnson says. For example, they do not have to explain getting home late; they have more privacy; they can keep on with their habits without having to tolerate annoying habits of others.

Personal

Recently Mr. and Mrs. T.L. Wilkerson met two of their daughters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Holt and Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Craig from Ft. Worth at Lake Stanford and spent five days fishing. The Wilkersons have just returned from a weeks fishing trip to Lake Texhoma with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Randall of Hollis. Visiting in the Wilkerson home this week are his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts, of Los Angeles, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Watson and Angela visited his mother and brother, Mrs. Vesta Watson and Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Watson, in Canyon Sunday. They also visited their daughter, Tanya, who is attending West Texas State.

Former County Woman Has 100th Birthday at Muleshoe

A long-time resident of the northwest part of the county, Mrs. Annie Nicholson, celebrated her 100th birthday Tuesday, September 30, in Muleshoe.

She was born Annie Littlepage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Littlepage, in Cobden County, Illinois.

She was married to Charles Nicholson in 1898, and at the turn of the century the couple came to Collingsworth County, traveling by train to McLean.

Their first home in the southwest was a one-room house with a dirt floor, one door and one window, on the Sitter Ranch. They spent most of their life in the Enterprise Community.

Minimize Stress by Career Planning--Like Your Work

COLLEGE STATION--Help minimize stress by career planning, urges Debby Johnson, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. "Not all stress is bad, of course," says the specialist, "but prolonged periods of distress can be harmful."

Plan to LIKE the work that will occupy you from eight to five for the next forty to fifty years, the specialist says, and that alone will alleviate distress. To avoid work-related stress, which often leads to illnesses, Miss Johnson recommends that you try to find the kind of work that is "play" for you.

The ideal job is one the alone.

Living alone is also expensive. Taxes, housing, food, transportation--all come out of one pocket.

There is often no one to complain to, nor to boast to; no one to come home to, nor to say "I'm sick" to.

Singles may treasure their independence, but with this may come the absence of emotional closeness with someone of the opposite sex.

Mrs. Wells Has GN Club

The Good Neighbor Club met in the home of Mrs. L.W. Wells Friday, September 16 at 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. R.L. Karnes, president presided over the meeting. Mrs. Wells gave the opening prayer followed by volunteer prayers.

The hostess gave an interesting program displaying lingerie that was worn in the 1920's. These were garments that Mrs. Percy Wells had kept from the Wells Department Store, which she and her late husband operated here on the west side of the square. Some of the garments were made from french voile crepe trimmed with imported lace, and Easter Isles hand embroidered pajamas along with dress patterns of 1959 were shown.

Each member went far back in her memory to describe her wedding dress and tell where she was married. In those days the majority of the weddings were in the parsonage.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch, Mrs. Ella Stephenson, Mrs. Charles Cason, Mrs. M.L. James, Mrs. Earl Alexander, Mrs. Karnes and the hostess, Mrs. Wells.

--work is good, idleness is bad.

--too many holidays mean that nothing gets done; only by steady work can we build a great nation.

--work remedies loneliness, grief and disappointment.

This work ethic is at least partially responsible for locking many Americans into stressful jobs year after year.

Stress cannot always be eliminated, nor should it be, necessarily. However, by choosing the right job at first, or by changing jobs to find the right one, many can alleviate damaging work-related stress, Miss Johnson says.

FASHION FOCUS FALL '77

From fabrics to silhouettes to color, the biggest news in fall fashion is softness. The coming season's best looks will be soft to the eye, soft to the touch and best of all, soft to wear.

The suit, with pants or skirt, is definitely here to stay, being the most versatile and practical option for today's lifestyles. This year's suit is more feminine with less construction. Jackets are shorter, rounded, boxy; skirts are fuller, tiered, dirndled; pants are soft and narrow. These softer sportswear separates are the items to buy to up-date last year's suit. Try coordinating a blouson drawing jacket, dirndl skirt, pleated skirt, rounded vest, peasant top, or shawl with the tailored separates you now have.

The most exciting news is the return of the dress. Soft, feminine dresses will be a whole new way of dressing to students who have grown up in the jeans era. There will be romantic looking dresses with fullness, tiered skirts, collar and yoke interest, and tucking--worn along or layered with cowl sweaters, blouses, and soft shirts.

The return of the mini we've been hearing about is not really a mini at all. It's an oversized sweater or top, usually belted, and worn over tights, leg warmers, or very narrow pants. It's a look only for the very young and very slim. For the majority, hem length is no longer dictated by fashion--it wavers between just below the knee to mid-calf depending on what's most flattering to the wearer.

The rugged outdoor look strongly continues this fall, but it's freer. These easy-to-wear coats and jackets are unlined, unconstructed, and free hanging. They can be belted at the waist or worn loose. You'll see hooded wrap-around coats, capes, ponchos, blankety shawls, shearling jackets and vests--all designed to be layered on during the cold weather.

NOTE: The unstructured shapes make coats and jackets this year easier than ever to sew.

Men's fashions will have a more relaxed look, too. There will be loose, full-cut shirts, pleated trousers, wrap coats, and oversized sweaters. The rugged outdoor trend is still big in outerwear and in styling for indoor fashions. Look for functional fabrics, utility pockets, D-rings, and other hardware.

The Ivy League look also makes a comeback with shetland sweaters, loafers, and elbow-patched jackets.

Neutrals play an important part in the color story for fall. Ivory, camel, winter white, and gray enrich the softly tailored suits and separates.

Alexander Honored Sun.

Clyde Alexander was honored on his 85th birthday Sunday evening, Sept. 18, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Swift at Dodson.

Hosting the event with them were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hunt and Mr. and Mrs. Vance Hunt.

Gifts were presented to the guest of honor. Home made ice cream and the birthday cake were served to Mr. and Mrs. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Swift, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Hunt and John, Mr. and Mrs. Bundy Moore and Tane.

Winter pastels make a strong statement for pairing with suits--in soft shirts and sweaters and evening wear. The new colors, called "Tapestries," include garnet, topas, gold and rich red inspired by luxurious tapestries.

As in fashion, the major direction in fabrics is soft. Fabrics will be given soft surfaces by brushing, sueding and napping. Flannel, corduroy, velveteen, and brushed jersey are perfect for the texturized look, with challis being the winner for all those soft dresses. Persian-inspired paisleys and florals are richly colored and excitingly combined. As always, plaids will be popular for fall, but this year they have fresh, zippy colors rather than the traditional tartan combinations.

Finally, fabrics for sewing the great-outdoor looks gain in popularity and are now widely available.

Most Affluent U.S. Families Now Have Two Wage Earners

COLLEGE STATION--Most affluent U.S. families depend on at least two wage earners, reports Dr. Carolyn McKinney family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

According to the American Council of Life Insurance, four out of five American families in the richest fifth of the population have two or more wage earners in the household, the specialist says.

Usually, the two who work are husband and wife, although in some of these families employed children also supplement the family

Recuperative Powers

No better example exists of nature's recuperative powers than the surprisingly quick comeback of the brown pelican, which is returning in greater numbers to the Texas Gulf Coast following a ban on use of DDT and other long-lasting pesticides.

National Audubon Society reported 34 young pelicans, by far the largest number in recent years, were fledged in two representative coastal Texas colonies. Hopeful signs also have been reported in Louisiana.

The brown pelican is the state bird of Louisiana, graceful while flying but ungainly afoot as it waddles clumsily along the beach. Although they appear to be plentiful, the federal government placed brown pelicans on the endangered species list because of a lack of nesting success due to thin-shelled eggs resulting from persistent pesticide residues.

Now that healthy chicks again are being hatched, the danger period to the species may be drawing to a close. It's worth considering that we may have discovered the pesticide danger in time to prevent ecological disaster, which perhaps ultimately would have involved man.

Wanted: A Plan

JIMMY CARTER may be reflecting that there are two sides to this business of an "imperial presidency." Get Congress in an assertive mood, and there is no telling how much of the White House's presumably excellent advice will be rejected. The energy bill is a case in point.

The administration energy plan sailed through the House virtually intact because Speaker O'Neill willed that it should. But the Senate is a different matter. The Senate is picking the Carter plan apart like a stuffed artichoke.

The gas-guzzler tax is out; the crude oil tax is in trouble; likewise the tax that would force factories to shift from oil and gas to coal. Deregulation of natural gas is at least a live possibility. Russell Long is talking of a multibillion-dollar energy research program that would be financed by any oil tax that is ultimately passed.

It has to be said that nearly all this is encouraging. Virtually any feasible energy plan is better than the Carter plan, which as critics have pointed out over and over is more a tax plan than anything else, long on discouragements for consumption, short on incentives to find new energy.

The gas deregulation measure is of course crucial. No single measure that could be passed this year is more urgent than the lifting of price controls from new natural gas. The Senate may vote decontrol, and then again it may not, but at least it is talking seriously of the matter, which is more than the House did.

But there is all the same cause for concern. For it is not by any means clear that what will emerge from the Senate in due course will resemble an energy plan.

Such has been the fate before of energy plans sent up to Capitol Hill; Congress has looked at them, yawned, passed a few makeshift compromises, then turned to other matters.

This could happen again, should the administration plan fall into really serious trouble. Mind: The administration plan deserves all the trouble it is getting. But the need is not just to scuttle the plan's more obnoxious features; it is to come up with an alternative plan that will get the job done.

This is because the energy crisis is real. Worse, it has been real for years, only Congress long declined to admit the fact. The latest reasonable date for us to launch an energy program was 1973, at the time of the Arab oil embargo. Thus 1977 is unreasonably late to get about so urgent a task, but at that it is better than 1978 or 1979.

We need a program. We need a free enterprise program, one founded on confidence that the marketplace economy can provide most of the solutions that the dead hand of government bureaucracy can eminently not provide. Most of all we need such a program now.

All very well that the Senate should be dismantling the Carter program. But let us have something to take its place. An excellent start would be the long overdue deregulation of natural gas prices.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Angry farmers marched—or drove—on the state capitol last week, protesting low prices for their products.

Their trucks and tractors roared up Austin's broad Congress Ave.

More than 300 attended a rally on the state capitol steps to hear the farmers complain of a price squeeze which is driving many off the farm.

They got a sympathetic ear from Gov. Dolph Briscoe, House Speaker Bill Clayton and Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

"American agriculture is one of the greatest success stories of the world," Briscoe told the unhappy farmers. "Unfortunately, it is not a success story for the individual farmers and ranchers."

Ron Butler of the rally-sponsoring Texas Farmers Union said farm prices are worse than they have been since the great depression of the mid-30's.

Butler said the demonstrating farmers are trying to make people aware that their sources of food may be in jeopardy.

Brown called for a new national food policy that "does not change with each change in administration."

Briscoe, Brown and Clayton met privately with Farmers Union leaders to plan a push for food policy.

Farmers Union President Jay Naman said a nationwide farmers' demonstration is planned in Washington—where it may do more good.

Democrats to Meet

Key state and national Democratic party groups will hold meetings in Texas next month.

The Commission on Presidential Nomination and Party Structure will convene here October 5 for a hearing on its proposals for Democratic delegate selection.

October 22, the State Democratic Executive Committee will meet in Amarillo to review a dozen state party rules change recommendations.

Recommendations before the national group (known as the Winograd Commission) may prove controversial. Critics claim they tend to move back toward the winner-take-all system for presidential preference primary delegate elections.

PUC Collects $9 Million

The Texas Public Utility Commission collected more than $9 million in gross receipts assessments for fiscal 1977—a 38.75 per cent increase over 1976.

Largest amounts paid were Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, $2.8 million; Houston Lighting and Power, $1.4 million; Texas Utilities Company, $1.8 million; Central and Southwest Corporation, $888,854 and City Public Service Board of San Antonio, $371,711.

PUC is authorized to collect one-sixth of one per cent of gross receipts for all utilities within its jurisdiction. The commission budget for utility regulation is $3.8 million for fiscal 1978 and $3 million fiscal 1979.

Gov. Briscoe appointed Rep. Tom C. Massey of San Angelo to head the new Legislative Commission on Public School Finance which is assigned to develop a revised system of financing public education. Massey also heads a special committee studying financing of the Southern Regional Education Board—a 14-state higher education compact.

Briscoe appointed V. Murray Jordan of Brady 198th district judge and Ronald L. Sutton of Junction to succeed Jordan as 198th district attorney.

Courts, Attorney General Speak

Top state appellate courts refused to stop Lo-Vaca Gathering Company from shutting off Crystal City's gas supply due to non-payment.

The Court of Criminal Appeals upheld a 10-year prison sentence of a Fort Worth man for rape of a mentally-retarded 49-year-old woman who could not speak.

A 50-year sentence for murder in Sinton was reversed and sent back for new trial on grounds the indictment failed to specify the weapon used.

An Ellis County man got a new trial on a pistol packing charge because the trial judge accepted his relinquishment of the right to have a lawyer.

A new trial was granted a Jefferson County man for striking an officer because the trial judge did not hold a hearing on his competency.

County commissioner can force real estate developers to comply with county road standards even if they do not file plats and even if they disclose roads are not maintained by the county, Atty. Gen. Hill said.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

A city council can establish the office of city fire marshal with full subpoena powers to carry out duties. The state fire marshal also may delegate his subpoena powers to the city marshals on a case-by-case basis if he is unable to conduct required investigations in person.

A sheriff or constable may not recover the costs of postage in addition to fees when service of citation is sent by mail.

If under established policy prior to Sept. 1, 1975, faculty members did not accrue sick leave, a university is not required to compensate a separated employee for such leave on termination. Whether such policy was in effect is a question of fact.

Circulation of a "known shoplifters" list by retail merchants would not violate penal law but might give rise to civil damage suits for libel or invasion of privacy if false.

Jerome D. Chapman is new Human Resources Commissioner heading welfare operations.

Austin businessman Lowell Lebermann announced he has decided against running for state treasurer in 1978.

Twenty-seven new industries located in Texas during August, creating 1,260 jobs and 2,361 spin-off jobs, with a $155,498,394 annual economic impact.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Dear Editor:

Westview certainly appreciates the wonderful response we have had to our plea for cents off coupons, but it has been so great that we are having to say "whoa" for now! Do you remember the time when Moses had to stop the people from giving because they "exceeded" the need? Well, that's what we feel we had better do at the present time. We have had such a tremendous response that we actually have enough to do us until about the first of January.

I was hesitant to write the above paragraph because I felt if I stopped people from sending them, they might forget to get involved again in 1978 when we needed them, but I have always wanted to be honest with those that helped us at Westview and not be deceiving so decided I'd take my chance.

We are all getting back into the swing of school again! The daily schedules really change when "book learning" get priority. Some of our boys thoroughly enjoy studying, while others could "care less" if they ever learned their 3 R's. I was reading in the Grit Paper the other day that schools were taking a new look at the old 3 R's and decided the country schools and smaller schools of America might have been the wisest after all when they kept grounding the students in the old-timey foundation lessons and teaching phonics. More and more schools were turning back to the old fashioned lessons now, and hoping for better results.

I can think of a few other "ideas" on raising children that haven't worked out, and it's a shame many have let their offspring be reared the way some "expert" told them—only to have the "expert" say, "I'm certainly sorry to have to admit this, but I was wrong!" That's when I want to get on my little soap box and say, "Just follow God's word and you won't have to regret what you taught them."

Enough preaching for now—so I'll sign off with just a big THANK YOU for your suits and clothing. In Christian love, Jack Sikes

Deadline Near On Drought Farm Loans

Farmers in Collingsworth County who plan to apply for federal emergency loans to help them recover from drought losses should file applications no later than Sept. 30, 1977, at their county office of the U.S. Farmers Home Administration (FmHA).

FmHA County Supervisor, Raymond D. Hodges, issued this reminder that terms of the special Drought Impact emergency loan program, for which Congress appropriated extra loan funds this year, carry the Sept. 30 deadline for loan application.

The rule applies in counties where farmers' eligibility for loans is based on Drought Impact designations made by the Federal Interagency Drought Emergency Coordinating Committee. Collingsworth County is under that type of designation. Mr. Hodges said estimates of loan amounts needed under applications filed by Sept. 30, can be revised if necessary in the course of loan processing. In some cases, production loss this year may not be finally determined until later than Sept. 30.

FmHA, the credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, makes farm emergency loans to cover losses resulting from designated natural disasters and help farmers restore production to pre-disaster conditions.

Under new legislation signed into law by President Carter, Aug. 4, loans not exceeding $250,000 to offset production loss from disasters occurring since last July 1 are made at an interest rate of 3 percent. Loss to offset that portion of actual loss exceeding $250,000 are made at an interest rate of 5 percent. Additional financing for production purposes, or for making major adjustments in farming operations, is at a higher rate. Applicants must show that necessary credit is not available to them from commercial lenders serving their localities. Farmers may obtain further

Bob Watson, 100th Judicial District juvenile probation officer, discussed school dropouts and truancy at the District Parent-Teacher Organization Leadership Conference in Amarillo Tuesday morning, Sept. 27.

Truancy and juvenile crime often go hand in hand, he told the group.

"Make it a point to know your children's friends better. You may know Bill Smith down the block comes from a good family, but do you know Bill Smith?" Watson asked the group.

"Know where your teen is at night, every night. Adhere to the rules you set up. A rule set and broken and not punished is teaching that child not to obey any rules.

"I am often asked by parents what I feel is the chief causes for children getting in trouble," Mr. Watson continued. "I believe they are broken homes, little or no church attendance, school dropout, and parents paying little or no attention to teen activities."

The speaker cited national statistics that agree with his conclusions.

Turning to the dropout, Mr. Watson had these suggestions he has found helpful for getting the youngster back in school.

-Arrange for a teen, preferably a young college student working his way through, to talk to the dropout, pointing out the advantage of an education.

-Determine what the youngster likes to do best and try to work it into a career, helping him determine what will be required, and that if he doesn't have a career, he will have to work for wages.

-If there is a girl he cares for, stress the possibility of marriage, and work on his ego as to what it is to be a breadwinner.

-If the family has a church bond, talk to the minister. If not, find one.

-Best of all, prearrange a talk with a professional employment counselor in the private employment sector, discussing jobs and requirements for these. This will have great weight on a teen. If necessary, pay for the service.

-If you are a parent, don't be afraid to ask for help. It is there. The parent will be unable to get the child out of the rut by himself. Ask a juvenile probation officer. If he can't help, he will know where help can be had.

"If the schools would enforce the regulations already on the books, they could keep a lot of kids in school," Mr. Watson declared.

"I personally would like a grant for a probation officer to work on truancy in the 5 counties of the 100th Judicial District. If we start working with children from kindergarten on up and train the child to stay in school, and the parent to keep him there, by the time that child is in the sixth and seventh grades, he is less likely to drop out."

In the latter part of his talk, the probation officer explained laws relating to school attendance, including compulsory attendance, exemptions from these requirements, and the penalty for thwarting the compulsory attendance law.

This latter section holds the parent or person standing in parental relation to a child liable to a fine, with each day the child is absent constituting a separate offense.

Shamrock Due Savings & Loan

"The Association will be formed under the Texas

Savings and Loan Act and will have a single class of capital stock consisting of Permanent Reserve Fund Shares. Application for a charter will be made within a short time.

The proposed association will have a total capitalization of not less than $1 million, Mr. Cates said.

The board of directors of the proposed association is presently composed of Don Wells, Don Biggers, Ernest Henderson, Glynn Bell, Raymond

Asphalt Work Begins On Street Project

City workmen poured the first asphalt Wednesday, Sept. 28, on streets to be surfaced in north Wellington, City Manager Glen Taylor reported.

This paving program is under the $98,000 block grant which the city received for improving that part of town north of the Ft. Worth and Denver Railroad track.

Mr. Taylor said base material was hauled last week and is being put down as fast as city employees can get to it.

"We have one whole street, Galveston, ready to go, and we will shoot it tomorrow from 3rd Street to the railroad track. We'll do Fort Worth Street next and then work our way west," Taylor said Tuesday night.

The portion of the block grant funds not used for surfacing the streets will go into a program for repairing and refurbishing houses in the section of town north of the railroad track.

Base material was secured from Ivan Dement Inc., which is operating a crusher plant at Red Bluff 9 miles west of Wellington for its FM 338 improvement job.

Mr. Taylor indicated city workmen will continue on the street surfacing project until they finish it or until weather becomes too cold to pour asphalt.

Mrs. Tatum Visits Honolulu

Mrs. J.W. Tatum returned home recently after spending a month with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chang, in Honolulu, followed by visits to relatives in California and Colorado.

Much of her time in Hawaii was spent in visiting points of interest in the Honolulu area, including the Academy of Arts, Honolulu Zoo, the island's oldest church, many of its parks, and the Iolani Palace.

She celebrated her birthday while in Honolulu, and was honored at Fisherman's wharf.

Most exciting of all, she said, was the plane ride, her first.

Mrs. Chang has lived in Honolulu about 25 years. Mr. Chang, a musician, teaches three days a week. He has his own band and plays each evening at one of the major beach hotels.

The Changs live only two blocks from the ocean, Mrs. Tatum said, but high rise apartment buildings now block their view of the water.

En route home, Mrs. Tatum visited a grandson and family in Ontario, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Billy Blades, and four children. At Greeley, Colorado, she spent a week with her sister, Mrs. Edna Van Meter and the latter's daughter, Mrs. Hugh Trimble. In Denver, she was a guest of a nephew, Sonny Tatum, and of Miss Asenath Meyers.

Her last stop was to visit Mr. and Mrs. Bill Richards and Mrs. Loretta Duval in Pampa.

Assembly of God Revival Opens Sunday

Revival services will begin Sunday, October 2, at the Assembly of God Church, with Evangelist Darline A Lambert of Checota, Okla., in charge of the preaching. It will end Sunday, October 9. Services will be at 7:30 p.m.

She will have with her the Gospel Express team, also known as the Kelly Express Team.

On one night during the revival, plans are to have a quartet from Altus, Okla., said the Rev. Raymond Vaughan, pastor.

"Evangelist Lambert is in great demand and we feel we are fortunate to have her come to our church," said Rev. Vaughan. "This is the only week she has open for almost two years.

"Evangelist Lambert will be preaching salvation, the Holy Ghost, healing for the mind, body and soul, the second coming of Christ and prophecy messages." She is sometimes billed as "the Little Jew," said the pastor.

"The music team will thrill your soul singing old time and also new songs. Mr. Kelly is among the best guitarists."

"I have announced my candidacy for Governor of Texas. I'm confident I can and will win.

"According to a statewide poll, 6 out of 10 people are ready for a new governor. The poll only confirmed what I've been hearing all over Texas this year. People are against the idea of anyone holding the state's highest office for 10 years. No governor has been given 10. It goes against a tradition that's as old as Texas itself.

"There are other reasons folks are ready for a new governor. State spending has jumped from $3 billion to $8 billion the last 6 years. The Dallas Morning News reported, 'during Briscoe's years in office, nearly all state government will have gone on a spending spree. And the Governor has done nothing to discourage it. He's vetoed less than two-tenths of one per cent of the two previous budgets and not one penny's worth of the current appropriations; it's the first time that's happened in twenty years. In a related story, the News pointed to the fact that during the Briscoe years the number of employees paid by the state has risen by 50,000.

"And, while we've heard the boast of 'no new taxes,' we've seen our property taxes increase by $1 billion along with substantial hikes in state licensing fees.

"I've traveled the state this year, visiting with folks. Whatever their overall assessment, most Texans lacked confidence in the present governor's persuasiveness and vision. They felt he had failed to measure up to their expectations and to live up to his promises.

"Texans are hungry for an effective gubernatorial spokesman on energy policy. They are frustrated that our governor hasn't been able to get the Texas viewpoint across in Washington. They are wondering, too, why our governor hasn't been speaking out forcefully for a farm policy that would help our beleaguered farms and ranches.

"I fully agree with the people's assessment; that's why I'm seeking the office of Governor.

"I'm proud of my record as Attorney General and Secretary of State. It shows that I'm not afraid to roll up my sleeves and work hard. It indicates that I have the ability to assemble a capable staff, that I prefer to work closely with people, and that I'm not reluctant to make changes when they can benefit the state. I'll be this kind of governor, given the job."

Family Service Center Open House On Sunday

Open house will be held at the Wellington Family Service Center Sunday, October 2, in order that area people may become more familiar with its purpose and the work it is doing. Visitors will also meet the center's staff.

Calling hours are 2:00 to 4:00 p.m.

Hostesses will be Mrs. B.M. Sims, a member of the regional board of Panhandle Mental Health Mental Retardation, Mrs. Kenyard Poteet, chairman of District VI, Eastern Division, MHMR, and Mrs. Murray Dodson, a member of the District VI board.

Joining them will be Larry Barton, director of the center and its counselor; Mrs. Don Hall, secretary; and L.E. Swaim, alcoholic counselor.

The latter service is from a separate agency approved by Panhandle Regional Planning Commission but contracted to the Family Service.

This center served the four counties of MHMR, Collingsworth, Hall, Donley and Armstrong with headquarters in Wellington. County and city officials and interested visitors are due to attend from all four.

"We have been accepted beyond expectations," Mr. Barton declared. "We have been open three months and our case load is approaching the 50 mark, and this shows there is a definite need for the Wellington Family Service Center."

The service it offers concerns mental health in all its aspects—social, emotional and educational.

Counseling is its primary function, the director explained. This included individual and family counseling, drug and alcohol counseling, quite a bit of emergency intervention involving potential suicide, several cases of child abuse, and quite a bit of family therapy relating to marital maladjustment. Mr. Barton is working with several individuals thought to have been mentally retarded but who are not, giving them emotional and social support so they may enter some training program and become self sufficient both economically and socially.

Mr. Swaim counsels exclusively in alcohol and alcohol related areas, and he has a heavy case load which is separate from that of Mr. Barton.

The center's support comes from many sectors—including doctors and the hospital. Juvenile Probation Officer Bob Watson who has referred several delinquent youths with good results. Judge Zook Thomas uses the center in relation to those who have been committed to state hospitals for treatment. These are only a few who have used the services of the Family Service Center.

"We work very cooperatively with the Texas Department of human resources, the county judges and commissioners courts," said Mr. Barton.

Mrs. Sims explained that Panhandle Regional Mental Health Mental Retardation is an agency of the Texas Department of Health Resources, with Clark Wooldridge as regional director at Amarillo Mrs. Clair Rigler is regionalization director.

The Panhandle region has two divisions, Western and Eastern, and each of these is in turn divided into three districts.

Mrs. Sims was the first District VI chairman and now is its representative on the Eastern Division and a member of the Panhandle Regional Board.

Mrs. Poteet is the current District 6 chairman, with Jeff Walker, superintendent of Clarendon Schools, vice chairman, and Miss Tops Gilreath, Hall County school superintendent, secretary.

PTO Announces Halloween Carnival Oct. 29

Wellington Parent-Teacher Organization has announced its annual Halloween Carnival, which will be held Saturday, October 29, in the Elementary School. The hours are 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The PTO held its first meeting of the new school year Wednesday, Sept. 21, to plan the carnival. Mrs. Kenny Brown, president, pointed out that everyone is welcome to the carnival for a night of fun that will also benefit the school.

Mrs. Brown also introduced her officers, Mrs. Troy Gene Thomason, vice president; Miss Lennie Morgan, secretary; Mrs. Leamon Bawcom, treasurer; Mrs. Billy Wilkerson, reporter; Mrs. Don Hendrix, publicity chairman; Mrs. George Barton, carnival chairman and Mrs. Charles Floyd, ticket chairman.

August Sales Tax Check $9,238.83

Wellington's share of the one percent city sales tax for the month of August amounted to $9,238.33, according to State Comptroller Bob Bullock.

This is up 11 percent from August 1976.

Payments to date for 1977 total $39,165.41, and this is well above the amount the city council expected for a full year when the sales tax was put in effect here.

The 1976 payments through August were $35,014.05. This shows a 1977 sales tax increase of $4,151.36 for the first eight months of the calendar year.

Bullock said that some 880 Texas cities have been mailed checks totaling $57.6 million for their share of sales taxes.

Bullock said the increase in sales tax collections in Texas is outpacing that of most other states, signaling the continuing vigor of the state's economy.

"This has got to be a good sign for everyone—the consumer, the merchant, and the taxpayers," Bullock said.
