Farm Trailer Owners Must Buy Tags

Owners of farm trailers were reminded this week that these trailers must have a license tag if they weigh as much as 4,000 pounds and not more than 10,000 pounds.

Miss Louise Fulcher, tax assessor-collector, said this is in accordance with a recently-passed state law.

The tags cost $5.00 and are to be had at her office.

Highway patrolmen also pointed out that each farm trailer must have an adequate hitch and must have one burning red tail light that is visible 500 feet to the rear, and two red reflectors.

Farm trailers cannot be pulled more than 30 miles per hour.

September 15 is the enforcement date on the farm trailer tags, Miss Fulcher said.

The accident occurred at the end of the morning service, about 12:15 p.m.

Mrs. Jenkins said that while her ankle was improved Monday, she will be out of her office most of the time for several days and probably through this week. She is convalescing at her home northwest of Wellington.

County Begins Work on Civil Defense Program Tuesday

TEXAS LONGHORNS FROM COLLINGSWORTH

These Texas Longhorns, from Louis Tittle's Lost Creek Ranch in the northeast part of the county, went through the Wellington Livestock Commission ring recently and were sold to a California buyer, who will announce plans for their use. The steers, ranging from a yearling to nine years old, weighed up to 1590 pounds. Texas Longhorns have no particular color marking. Mr. Tittle, Mangum, Oklahoma resident and former member of the Oklahoma Highway Commission, has raised Longhorns since 1945, getting his original stock from the Government preserve near Lawton, Okla.

Collingsworth county's Civil Defense mechanism started rolling Tuesday night, Sept. 12 when a group of committee chairmen named by Joe A. Coleman, assistant CD head for the county, met to learn their duties and discuss first plans.

County Judge C. C. Bishop, Civil Defense administrator for the county, presided.

It was pointed out that the Civil Defense set-up will operate in case of either a natural disaster or nuclear attack, but most of the talk in this first meeting centered on the possibility of fallout protection for the county should the latter occur.

The CD advisory committee named by Coleman includes:

Mayor Hiram Cudd, CD Package Hospital and transportation; City Manager Bura Handley, hospital and public utilities; Dr. Carter Holcomb, Hospital and doctors; Sheriff John Rainey, law enforcement; Mrs. John Coleman, morale; Herbert Bearden, finance; James Richardson, shelter; J. L. Harper, superintendent of Wellington schools, training for the Wellington area; Supt. Herman Moseley, training for the Quail area; Supt. Orville Cunningham, training for the Samnorwood area; Supt. T. E. Lennon, training for the Dodson area; and Miss Virginia Robey, public information and publications.

Richardson reported plans for a survey of all existing shelters which would give fallout protection. He indicated that families will be asked to indicate possible home shelters, such as storm cellars, that can with some additional work, be

Two Stations

Burglars Take $750 Worth of New Tires

Burglars took approximately $750 worth of tires in two recent hauls in Wellington, one from Patrick Service Station and the other from Holton Auto Store, Sheriff John Rainey reported.

Holtons was entered first, when burglars pried off an entire window at the back of the store.

Twelve new tires, all black, were taken.

Sheriff Rainey estimated their value to be at least $260.

Entry was gained at the Patrick Station some time on Tuesday night, Sept. 5, from the rear, when burglars broke out a window in the wash and grease room.

Twelve white sidewall tires of the best quality, valued at around $500 were taken. Going from the wash room into the office, the burglars also took approximately $40 in silver from the cash register, Robert Patrick, owner, said.

The station closed about 10 p.m. Tuesday and the burglary was discovered by Douglas Kittrell and Ronnie Colson when they opened at 7 a. m., Sheriff Rainey said.

Assisting Rainey in the investigations were Deputy Kenneth Hodge and Police Chief Troy Marsh.

1958 Reorganization

"Low Priority" Means Guard Not Ready For Active Duty

Because of Wellington National Guard unit's change-over from a medical company to an infantry company in March of 1958, it is a low priority unit, and that means it is not ready to be called to active duty, by the present military method of measurement.

First Lieutenant Bob Lynch, executive officer of Co. E of the First Battle Group, explained this after the 49th Armored Division was "alerted" last week, causing some uneasiness among local residents.

"At the time of the reorganization, the Medical Company here and Shamrock's Battery C, 474th Field Artillery were combined into the present Infantry Company. We had a complete change of branch. Every man who stayed in the unit went from the medics into the infantry, so we had to back up in our training and go back through our individual infantry training," Lynch explained.

"We have just now finished up our squad training, completing it at camp this summer. Presently we are working on platoon training and will take our army training tests at camp next summer. It usually takes about a year to each pha , nd ne t will be the company phase.

"Because of this, we are in a lower priority than those units that have been alerted. At one time we were right up with them, but we had to drop back," Lt. Lynch continued.

He pointed out that the term "alerted" as used in referring to the National Guard units last week does not have the usual meaning of the Army term.

"Those units that were 'alerted' will simply have extra training drills and they will have attached to them control group personnel, men in the active reserve who do not belong to a reserve unit. These control group personnel will be required to drill with the units to which they are attached if they are in commuting distance. If the units are called up, these control group personnel will go along. The closest unit of the 49th Armored Division is at Vernon.

"We do have vacancies in our unit and anyone in a control group who wants to transfer into our unit can do so," Lt. Lynch pointed out.

Units of Company E, 1st Battle Group of the 142nd Infantry operate both here and at Shamrock, but headquarters for the unit is in Wellington. Capt. Willard Harrell of Shamrock is Company Commander. Sgt. Donald Settle is full time employee in the Wellington office.

Big and Powerful Cyclone

Rockets Meet Memphis Here Fri.; Home Schedule Opener

With the stimulus of victory behind, the Skyrocket spirit lives up its name as Wellington prepares for the Memphis Cyclone in the opening game of the 1961 season.

"We are very, very pleased with the boys. Their spirit is high and they are highly confident. We sincerely think every boy will show the same spirit in the Memphis game that he did in the game we won from Hollis," Coach Frank Lindsey declared Monday.

The Cyclone-Rocket game will be played at Powell Field Friday at 8 p.m.

Memphis is reported to have one of the strongest teams in quite a few years. It is the same team as last year minus two starters, Lindsey said.

The Cyclone, playing Class A ball, won the district last year and is picked by sports writers as third this year. However, a lot of people, including coaches, think this is wrong and that Memphis can repeat their last year's championship.

"They have a reasonably good passing attack and running attack. They're pretty well balanced," Lindsey said of Friday's opponent.

The Cyclone lost its opener 21 to 14 to Tulia, one of the stronger Class AA teams of the Panhandle, however Friday night, Memphis came back to defeat Estelline 36 to 0.

The Cyclone will present the biggest line the Rockets will play all season—an average of nearly 200 pounds across the line, compared to the Rocket line of between 155 and 160 pounds, Coaches Lindsey and Kenneth Grunewald report.

As to playing, they run the inside belly series, along with the short flanker play at times.

Quarterbacking the Cyclone is Bunky Adcock, a senior and former Wellington player. He moved from here as an eighth grader. Outstanding at half is Eddie Jones.

Wellington coaches did not single out any Rockets as outstanding following the Hollis game, as is their custom in promoting team pay and team spirit, rather than spectacular performance by one or two men.

The Skyrocket band will perform at half time, Director Tubal Cain said.

For Cattle

County Due to Get Man on Check Case

Collingsworth county has next call on a prominent Cooper rancher who has signed a statement that he wrote more than $24,000 worth of bogus checks in Texas and Oklahoma, Sheriff John Rainey has revealed.

The man, identified as Howard L. Rich, is now in custody of Comanche county officers.

He was arrested at McAlester, Okla., and maintained his innocence until he was identified by Rusty Henard as the man who in December 1960 gave him a bogus check for $1,139 in payment for 17 head of cattle.

Sheriff Rainey, Henard, and Allen Jefferies, brand inspector from Clarendon, went to McAlester last week where Rich was being held.

The local men reached McAlester about noon and Henard identified Rich immediately as the man who had bought the cattle from Wellington Livestock Sales. Following lunch, Rich began giving Oklahoma officers and a Texas Ranger from Dallas his statement, which finally ran 14 pages, the Sheriff said.

"This was the fourth or fifth sale barn he hit, as far as we know," Rainey said. He still had in his possession 11 check books, including the one on a Childress bank which he used to pay Henard, signing the check "Bennett Childs."

In Comanche county, where he is now in custody, Rich is accused of buying cattle and paying for them with a $750 bogus check.

A Cooper resident since 1953 Rich gave no hot checks in that area and has no past criminal record.

Sheriff Rainey said that he was considered a leading citizen there, being active in the Chamber of Commerce, and in work to secure a dam near the town. He is a 32nd degree Mason and taught a men's Bible class in the Methodist Church. He was consignee for an oil company, owned 700 acres of land and a nice home.

Oklahoma State Crime Bureau Agent Rudolph Myers said the man had used a dozen aliases. Investigation began at McAlester a week before his arrest when someone at the stockyards noticed the license plates on his pickup were changed from Texas to Oklahoma. Myers said the Oklahoma plate was taken from an Oklahoma farmer near Paris, Texas. Two Texas tags were found inside the vehicle. Oklahoma officers believe his bogus checks may total as much as $100,000.

8 Years Music Offered

Twenty Enroll in Grade School Band

Organization of the Grade School band has been completed, director Tubal Cain announced this week.

It will be made up of fifth grade students, with an enrollment of about 20.

Students in the grade school band will spend a year in preparation for the junior high band. If a student participates each year at school, he may receive after 8 years of band training and after graduation, if he qualifies, he may participate in four additional years in college or university band, Cain said.

Any parent who wishes to enroll a student in the grade school band is asked to contact Cain at the high school band house.

With this band, there are now 88 students in the band program, including: 20 in grade school; 38 in junior high; and 30 in senior high.

This is the smallest band enrollment of any school in Class A or Class AA in the Panhandle, but the program is having a steady growth and can be expected to arrive at full strength in four or five years, Cain declared.

A Newspaper

A proposed rule defining what a newspaper is has been published in the Federal Register, but we like this one better. It was written by a six-year-old girl named Diana and sent to a West Coast newspaper which published it in the paper's Letterbox. It went like this:

"Newspapers. We need them so we can know who reks and drownds and who shoots somebody. And who wants a house or who dies or gets a baby. It tells if your dog is lost. They are good n shelves and to make bond fires. They also do good under a baby's plate and to keep dogs offa things. You can wrap potato peelings in em. You can put one when you defront. They tell about shows and how much things are."

To which the editor of the paper added: "P. S. Diana, they are also good to swat things with, like flies and public officials and things."

Can We Buy Friends?

. . . And we are constantly hearing from all the one-worldlers and moralizers of the day that we, in the United States, must try to help those masses of people in the United States, must try to help those masses of people in Asia, and Africa and South America, to obtain a better life. Of course, that is right and good — that we should help them if we can. But how?

Can our billions make them friendly to us? On the basis of the record so far, apparently not. Can giveaways make them satisfied with their lot in this world, and not wish to take away some of our riches and comforts? Can we force democracy on uneducated people who have no idea what the responsibility of democratic restraint is all about?

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

Idea seems to be going around that watching TV is inspiring youngsters to go out and steal and shoot people and otherwise make nuisances of themselves.

But my hep-teen neighbor says any reasonably bright kid wishing to go delinquent can think up better devilment than is being promoted by today's in-the-rut TV writers.

Says he has ingested considerable TV in his short time, but all it has ever misled him into doing was trying out that hair grease.

I see where Senator Fulbright says us people don't need to be told anything about the cold war menace.

My abstract neighbor says he guesses Leadership is bothered considerable by subject-citizens trying to learn government secrets, such as where is their money going, and who is preparing to exterminate them.

Says next thing we know, some second-string taxpayer will be wanting to know how come it seems like so many high-level decisions are being made by rolling Liberal-loaded dice.

Practically everybody around here is talking about bomb and fallout shelters these days.

And among the items of equipment recommended for these is guns and ammunition to shoot shelterless neighbors who might wish to crowd into your hole with you and eat up your survival groceries.

My debt-beat neighbor says he can't afford a shelter big enough for his whole family, and in case of attack he will have a serious emotional problem, deciding which of his kids to take in to safety with him and his bird dog.

A heap of comment these days, about U.S. children are not much account physically any more.

My second-thought neighbor says some people blame this sad situation on the fact that kids these days don't have wood to chop and hogs to slop and water to tote.

But says he figures the real trouble is that we are just now well into the second generation of the automatic shift and power steering age, and natural evolution toward a no-muscles man has already set in.

I see where the real reason has come out as to why General Walker got marooned at an empty desk.

Seems it got reported around that he made campaign noises in favor of the wrong party in last Fall's election, and this is especially sinful of a military man, who is not supposed to have any citizen sentiments.

My party-first neighbor says he is now glad the Administration so moved in this matter, on account of he would rather be Red than saved by a Republican army.

My gallivanting neighbor says he notes all over the country a rash of drive-in banks, drive-in theatres, drive-in eating places, etc.

In fact, man and his car are getting very hard to separate, with some people even being born in cars, others practically living in them, and some even dying in them.

Says just the other day he saw a drive-in church, which he reckons is for folks who just won't go if they have to walk, and preachers may now need to start offering a drive-in Heaven.

MEAN . . . Better Service

AND . . . More Money

At the beginning of the 1961 Harvest, officers and directors of the Dodson Farmers Co-op Enterprises extend a cordial invitation to make use of our services and facilities during the season. It will mean greater net profit on your cotton.

This gin was planned and built with one idea in mind: to serve the cotton grower better. To do this, our machinery incorporates a number of features not found in the average run of gins. These distinctive features include:

- Super Champ cleaners that take out sticks on machined cotton as well as dirt & trash.
- Two Drying Operations instead of one.
- The Super Type Lint Cleaners . . the Carding Lint Cleaners first remove pin trash and shale, then the Moss Combs to give smoothness and blend spots, bringing many light spot grades up to white grade.

All of these, plus an experienced gin crew, mean you will get a better turnout and a better sample when you gin at the Dodson Farmers Co-op Enterprises Gin.

And of course, there are those appreciated rebate checks that return to the grower at the end of the season. Remember, the more you gin, the larger your rebates.

We are now receiving grain-top prices

The Department asks that you do "take it with you" when traveling. Dispose of your travel litter in proper containers. Please keep Texas highways clean for the enjoyment of others.

Rockets Roll Up 38-0 Victory in Opener

The Wellington Skyrockets tore the Hollis Tigers apart on their own field before a fine crowd of spectators Friday night. The Rockets with 20 men, put on a great show of defense and offense against Hollis' 29. Larry Snider kicked the pigskin for Hollis to open the game, received on the 20 it was returned to the 30.

Wellington's number one first down came as Hollis drew a penalty two downs later for offside. Wellington turned the ball over to Hollis after four downs of unsuccessful play.

Hollis' third down with the ball produced their only real threat of the game. A pass from the quarterback to End Larry Davison was good for 23 yards and almost a clear field, until Lynn McLain hauled him down on the 23.

The next play Hollis' quarterback romped over his left tackle down to the 12-yard line. The next four downs saw the ball wind up on the 5-yard line and the Rockets take over.

Jackie Daves pounded out seven yards, followed by Gary West in a 35-yard sprint over his right guard, Herman Childress. The first quarter ended several plays later with little more gain.

Early in the second quarter Wellington drove to the 20 and lost possession of the ball by a fumble.

Hollis tried three unsuccessful plunges and our hard-working linemen and one incomplete pass lost the ball on downs.

Wellington took the ball on the 34, drew one 5-yard penalty, back to the 29, and started to march.

The first long run was by Richard Mauldin for 27 yards, followed by the rest of the backfield adding their talent to move the ball to the 34 on Hollis' end of the gridiron. The following play gave the Rockets their first touchdown on a beautiful pass to Herbert Duncan from the quarterback. The play that produced the 2 extra points was even more spectacular, as Richard Mauldin lateraled to Jackie Daves who in turn passed to Duncan again for the points.

Raymond Sanders, Rocket center and kick-off man, made his first of many trips to boot the ball to the Tigers. Received on the 10, Perry Estall took severel good steps and was smothered by eager Rockets.

Hollis slowly moved it back to the 44 and then punted to the Rockets.

Soon after gaining possession of the ball, Daves had rolled up another quick first down. Again the backfield teamed up and hammered out the yards and placed the ball on the 25 where Gary West grabbed it and disappeared far around the left for 6 more points.

Daves on the try for points also took the road that led far to the left and trotted across untouched.

Lloyd Hays, taking the ball off Sanders' foot on the goal was snowed on the 10. Woody Parker showed one more first down for Hollis as the clock ran out for the first half.

Tiger backs proceeded to bang our line but fine defensive work by Rommie Forbis, Glenn Thomas, and Delmer Duckworth and the rest of the line foiled them again.

Wellington took it on their own 48, rumbled to the 12, where Gary West scrambled into the end zone again. The try for points failed as a result of a fumble in the backfield.

This sent Hollis to the air in search of points, resulting in 17 attempts, 7 completions and 3 interceptions. After 8 passes, Mauldin snagged one and hustled downfield to be dragged down from behind by Troy Morrow. The Rocketts' next play, also a pass, gave the ball back to the opponent.

Three incomplete passes later, Jackie Daves received the fourth down punt on his 40-yard line and shook off would-be tacklers for 60 yards and ran the score up six points more. Again West entered the end zone for 2.

Hollis gave a 25-yard run-back on the kick. After another interception by Mauldin and a pass from McLain to Duncan, the score read 38 to 0, when West covered the ground for the 2 extra points once again.

The remainder of the game saw Wellington intercept one more pass, lose the ball to Hollis on a fumble, get it back and lost it again for 3 more downs before the end of the game.

The Rockets have shown great promise and an unusually hard working, spirited line, a smooth-operating backfield, which combined with a little outside support makes a winning team, so let's provide them with a little support on Friday night at Powell Field, when they take on the Memphis Cyclone at 8 p.m.

FORT JACKSON, S. C. — Private William P. Estes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Truman A. Estes of Wellington has been assigned to Company D, 5th Battalion, 5th Training Regiment at Fort Jackson for eight weeks of Basic Combat Training. This is his first phase of six months active duty training with the U.S. Army and a part of the obligation he incurred upon enlisting in the Army National Guard. His National Guard Unit is the 142nd Infantry of the 36th Division.

He will be taught rifle marksmanship under the U.S. Army's Trainfire program that enables the modern soldier to become a better rifleman in less time than previous methods. In this program, most of his training consists of firing his rifle at pop-up targets at unknown distances on terrain which duplicates combat areas.

Other highlights of his intensive training include squad tactics, bayonet and hand-to-hand combat, and crawling the infiltration course while machine gun fire is popping overhead. Many of his instructors are combat veterans of World War II and the Korean War.

Rural Carriers Begin 1961 Acreage Survey

Postmaster L. B. Bratten announced today that Rural Mail Carriers will begin distributing 1961 Acreage Survey Cards to patrons on their routes about Sept. 14.

The Post Office and U.S. Agriculture Departments cooperatively make this survey each year. These reports, directly from farmers, are the basis for official estimates for Texas acreage of all crops harvested in 1961.

To be sure this community is well represented in the survey, Postmaster Bratten urges each patron receiving a card to fill it out and return it to his mailbox.

Rural mail carriers working on this project are: R. T. Savage, Route 1; C. N. Savage, Route 2; Neva Harrison, Star Route 5; Rufus Sweat, Star Route 6.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

The City of Wellington has a financial statement in this issue of the paper and an excellent and most unusual statement it is. It covers the period from 1958 to September of 1960. Soon they will have another covering the period from September of 1960 to September of 1961. We will have a detailed story at that time. Few cities in Texas, if any, can publish such a statement of solvency and sound city management. As a matter of fact the City of Wellington has been in excellent shape since the early twenties and its bonds have commanded a premium price.

The bonded indebtedness was only $76,500 in September of 1960 and they had cash and bonds of $58,834.04 on hand at that time, not to mention water accounts receivable and delinquent taxes, most of which are good. If these were in the treasury, the City of Wellington would be debt free and have $12,000 cash on hand and something over $800,000.00 in assets if they could buy in the outstanding bonds. That was last September. The indebtedness is less now.

When I was mayor in the early thirties we bought up all the outstanding bonds that carried a repurchase clause, reducing the indebtedness from something like $220,000.00 to $112,000.00. That is not exact, but it is about the figure. The rest could not be bought until each due date and the City has been paying them off as fast as the bondholders could be forced to part with them. City of Wellington bonds were and have been too good an investment to part with before due date.

It will be noted that the city lists all receipts and expenses by categories as well as balance sheet. Such a financial statement is excellent advertising for our town.

Congratulations to the 1961 edition of the Wellington Skyrockets. Their 38 to 0 victory over Hollis surprised everybody and Hollis most of all. It is a remarkable achievement when a twenty-man squad can defeat a forty-man squad. Let's all turn out for the Memphis game next Friday. Say, don't we have some more husky boys in high school that out to be trying out for the team?

Louise and I were in Austin last Saturday attending an ad meeting of The Texas Press Association. Most of the publishers and ad men left shortly after 5 o'clock and the hotel was empty. We went to a picture show with the Bill Bergers of Hondo. When we returned the lobby of the Driskill was filled with refugees fleeing from the destruction and devastation of hurricane Carla. There were women with young children in their arms and holding other children by the hand. They were calm but their faces were strained and even the children were quiet and subdued as if sensing that something ominous was following them.

We left Austin Sunday morning with a few fluffy clouds —lambs in the meadow with an occasional small but darker gulf cloud—in the September sky. We could detect the people from the coast still coming in from the southeast as we headed into the northwest. All hotels and motels in Austin were full when we left. It is remarkable to note how few lives were lost in this astounding exodus of half a million people. It is a tribute to the quality of the people who were forced to flee and to the officials who directed the movement.

peace justice court at McAlester, he pled guilty to taking two power saws from a lumber firm and paying for them with a hot check. He waived preliminary hearings and was bound over to a district court, where he entered a plea of guilty and received a one-year suspended sentence, according to a wire story.

Sheriff Rainey said Rich began giving hot checks about a year ago and besides cattle, has bought tractors, brush cutters and other items.

"He had the finest," the Sheriff remarked.

Open House Honors Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Peeples on Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Peeples were honored on their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, Sept. 3, when an open house was held in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Peeples.

Hosts were their children and grandchildren, and sisters of Mrs. Peeples, who were Mrs. O. B. Raburn and Mrs. Lois Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Peeples are retired farmers of the Lutie and Samnorwood community, having begun their residence there in 1919. In 1957, they moved into Wellington. They came to Collingsworth county in 1906 and were married in the Lillie community on Sept. 4, 1911.

At the open house, the couple greeted approximately 100 guests.

The reception table was laid with a gold satin cloth covered with gold net, draped with white bows and streamers. The centerpiece was of white spider mums and golden grapes arranged on milk-glass pedestal. The wedding cake was decorated with white, golden edged wedding bells, topped with a bride and groom enclosed in a heart of gold.

Flowers used through the entertaining rooms came as gifts from friends.

Soft background music was furnished by a daughter, Mrs. Virgil Estes, who used many old-time favorites.

Mrs. James Braziel of Quanah, a granddaughter, served the wedding cake, and Mrs. Rex Peeples, a daughter-in-law, poured. Cheryl Estes presided at the register and Gayle Peeples displayed the gifts. Both are granddaughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Peeples are the parents of nine children, six sons and three daughters.

Five were present, including Ray Peeples, Hubert Peeples, and Mrs. Virgil Estes of Wellington; Rex Peeples of Lakeview, and Denzil Peeples of Dallas. Children unable to attend were Lt. Comdr. E. B. Peeples of Preston, Md., B. W. Peeples of Norristown, Penna., Mrs. Estelle Gregory and Mrs. Mona Mellott of Springfield.

Altogether, the couple has 32 descendents and among them, they have lived 606 years.

Civil Defense

converted into fallout shelters. This will probably be handled through the schools, he said.

It was pointed out that while there are several public buildings such as the court house, community building, and a few others, that have basements of a type which already would offer protection, these for the most part are small and could shelter only a small number.

Coleman said that the possibility of a public shelter will be explored.

The Civil Defense school held at Quail in the spring was described by Moseley, who added that he believed another school in the community would draw even larger crowds.

He explained that instructors for these schools are available through the Texas Education Agency, provided the CD class is sponsored by a school.

Mayor Hiram Cudd pointed out that in case of atomic attack, Wellington, on the master Civil Defense plan, is set up to handle 8,500 evacuees from Wichita Falls.

"We could do it," he added. "We have churches and schools. There is the compress. There's lots of room there. The gins could be used in off season.

"You'd be surprised at how many places you could rake up. I'd hate to have to tackle it but it can be done," the mayor added.
