Kent Wildcat Is Producer In Ellenburger

Star Oil Co. of Dallas and associates No. 1 Blanche Young, southwest Kent County wildcat, almost on the east line of Garza County, flowed oil from the Ellenburger at the estimated rate of 70 barrels an hour naturally on a drillstem test at 7,876-7,822 feet.

That would indicate a new discovery from the deep pay.

The wildcat if four miles north and slightly west of the two small Ellenburger producers in the Polar field of Southwest Kent County.

Operators are preparing to run casing and try to complete the prospect as a commercial producer and the opener of a new Ellenburger field.

It is located 1,980 feet from the north and 660 feet from the west lines of section 54, block 5, H&GN survey. That makes it five miles northwest of the town of Polar.

The oil came during a one-hour and 25 minute drillstem test at 7,786-7,822 feet. Gas surfaced in six minutes. And oil started flowing at the end of one hour and 20 minutes.

It was flowed to pits for five minutes. There was no gauge on the flow. After the tool was closed the drillpipe unloaded oil all the way out.

Total recovery, which was left in the pipe, was 7,800 feet of clean oil. There was no water.

Early Korean Victory To Make Little Change In Mobilization

By ELTON C. FAY
(Associated Press Staff)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—An early end of the Korean war may make a difference in how the United States deploys its military force but leave unchanged the program for building that force up to a 3 million man strength.

All evidence today pointed to continuation of the rearmament program, including more manpower, even if the shooting in the Far East stops soon. Plans reportedly were under serious consideration to boost the Air Force up to 95 to 110 groups.

NO LET-UP

President Truman said last week there must be no let-up in the defense program. High military officials since then have told Congress the program was planned before hostilities started in Korea and that the war triggered it.

Moreover, Pentagon spokesmen said today that as far as they knew the calling up of reserve and draftees would go ahead without change, whatever happens in Korea.

But cessation of the Korean war would help solve an especially thorny problem for the Army.

Under the western European defense project the United States is committed to augmenting its forces there. The army has been faced with the dilemma of finding troops for this purpose, while at the same time meeting the heavy demands of the Korean war. It now has only 10 divisions, of which six are in Korea and one in Germany.

TWO WAYS

To date, Army thinking has been along the line that a start on augmenting the European force could be made in one of two ways: By sending a National Guard Division of which five are now being brought into federal service or by sending a "cadre" division.

Some high Army officials have looked with coolness upon the idea of using a National Guard division. They raise questions like this: How long could a guard unit be kept abroad under non-war conditions? What would happen when the service of draftees sent into the unit to build it up to strength expired? Would complaints of discrimination be raised by a state if its guard division was singled out for a long overseas tour of duty?

These same officials thought that, perhaps, the answer might be the "cadre" division—a nucleus organization which could be filled out with recruits, sent overseas and whipped into combat shape at a training center in Germany.

MIGHT BE IT

When the Army announced on Tuesday that it was reorganizing the 4th Division to convert it from a training to a combat division it was assumed that this might be the cadre division destined for European service.

But a change in plans might follow an early fold-up of the Korean war, releasing some of the six battle-experienced divisions now on duty there for the western European defense buildup.

While there is no thought in the Pentagon that the tens of thousands of reserve officers and enlisted men being called into service now individually or in units will remain a permanent part of the armed forces, neither is there any clear idea on when they will be released.

Generally, the plan is to hold them in service until new men, and in many instances new officers, can be trained and fitted into their spots.

Man Arrested As Suspect In Local Robbery

Walter Randermann, 33 years old, was arrested last night in Brenham, Tex., on a warrant issued here by W. C. Davidson, justice of the peace, in connection with the armed robbery of the Western Union telegraph office here Tuesday night, Chester Bairrington, chief of police, said today.

SENT OFFICERS

Two Snyder policemen, Edwin Q Basinger, assistant chief, and C. C. Dawson, have gone to Brenham to bring Randermann here. They are expected to return early tomorrow, Bairrington said. Positive identification will not be possible until then, he added.

Using pictures and fingerprints already filed in the police office from previous charges, police tentatively identified Randermann and sent out a state-wide alarm, Bairrington said.

Police said Randermann had been a Snyder resident here for the last several months, while working as a rig builder for a company here, and that he lived at the Traveler's Inn on the Sweetwater highway.

When arrested, Randermann was driving a 1947 Mercury five-passenger coupe, according to Bairrington.

IN COURT HERE

Randermann had been assessed a fine of $123.50, including court cost, in county court here Monday. He was found guilty on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Bairrington said city court charges against him in the past included intoxication, disturbing the peace, and resisting arrest.

The Western Union office on Twenty-fifth Street was robbed Tuesday night of $593.68, while employees were counting money just before closing time around 8 o'clock. Jasper J. Goben, manager of the office, and Mrs. B. T. Bynum, a clerk, told police they were threatened by a man with a revolver, who took the counter money and ordered Goben to open the safe.

Before the thief was able to get more money, however, a customer entered the office, and he fled.

Impound State Department Is Lewis' Answer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. (AP)— If he were the nation's No. 1 dog catcher, John L. Lewis said yesterday, the first thing he'd do would be to impound "the sad dogs . . . which now infest our State Department."

President Truman had been quoted Wednesday as saying "I wouldn't appoint John L. Lewis dog-catcher."

He couldn't afford to, the Mine Workers' chieftain retorted yesterday, or he "would have more brains in the dog department than in the Department of State."

IN LETTER

Lewis said in a letter to Colorado State Sen. Neal Bishop:

"Naturally, the first duty of the bureau of the dog, as staffed by the undersigned, would be to collect and impound the sad dogs, the intellectual poodle dogs and the pusillanimous pups which now infest our State Department."

The dictionary says pusillanimous means: "Destitute of manly strength and firmness of mind; of weak or mean spirit; cowardly."

STARTED AS JOKE

Bishop had started the whole thing a couple of years ago by suggesting jokingly to Mr. Truman, an old friend, that he appoint Lewis ambassador to Moscow because he offers "a more formidable appearance than Stalin, roars 'no' louder than Gromyko, hurls more choice invectives . . . than Vishinsky."

It was in Mr. Truman's prompt reply, made public by Bishop only this week, that the President said he wouldn't name Lewis dog catcher.

Since the President wouldn't want more brains in the dog department than in the State Department, Lewis said in his letter to Bishop made public here, "his remarks to you are eminently justified."

U. S. To Reject Aid To British For Rearming

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. (AP)—The United States is about to turn down a three-year British rearmament program calling for approximately $1,500,000,000 in free American aid.

A note is being drafted at the State Department which would rule out any long-term commitment to Britain until specific plans have been agreed upon by all 12 North Atlantic pact nations.

Department officials said last night the note will specify that the United States believes an "interim arrangement" is all that can be decided upon now.

Officials who have been studying the British proposal for nearly two months indicated they believe the amount asked by Britain is too large in view of the results that can be expected.

They hold the view that the rearmament program should be tackled by stages, and that no long-range planning can be entered into with individual countries until each treaty member knows in detail what and how much it must produce for the common defense against Communist aggression.

Britain is reported anxious to use some American dollar aid if needed to build up her gold and dollar reserves. The United States stand on this is reported to be that such an arrangement would violate the arms aid bill by Congress, and that there must be a strict accounting of every dollar spent to boost arms production.

Advance Elements Of Siamese Armed Forces Reported In Korea

TOKYO, Friday, Oct. 6. (AP) — Advance elements of Siamese forces have arrived in Korea, a report from Pusan said today.

They were presented United Nations flags Thursday at that South Korean port by Col. Alfred Katzin of South Africa. Katzin is the personal representative of UN Secy. Gen. Trygve Lie.

The Siamese group, headed by Maj. Gen. Visit Disakul, will arrange for "logistical support" for other Siamese forces due to arrive in the near future.

Gen. Disakul said his forces will be accompanied by a medical unit and will be transported on ships of the Siamese navy. The naval units then will join the UN naval forces operating in Korean waters.

School Accident Shows Need For Law, Signs, Crosswalks

An accident yesterday afternoon in which a 6-year-old schoolgirl suffered a broken leg is expected to hasten the posting of school zone traffic signs, passage of ordinances ordering speed limits around school and other safety measures.

No charges were filed against Mrs. Irene Murphy McIntosh, 612 Thirtieth Street, the driver of a slowly-moving automobile which struck the child as she stepped into the street from between parked cars.

NEAR SCHOOL

The accident occurred yesterday afternoon on Aveune M, just east of the High School. The child, Loula Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Thomas, was going from the primary school to her home near Memorial Park on Twenty-second Street.

Police said she stepped from between two parked cars into the path of Mrs. McIntosh's car. Police reported the car was traveling at about 15 miles an hour.

After emergency treatment at the Snyder Hospital, the child was transferred to the Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Abilene.

Chester Bairrington, chief of police, stated yesterday that paint and equipment for painting crosswalks around the schools has not yet arrived.

Patrolmen are usually posted around schools at closing time, Bairrington said, "but due to recent losses on the force, we don't have enough men to cover all the schools at one time."

Ordinances designed to reduce the legal speed limit around schools in session have not yet been submitted to the city council. Under the city general traffic code, passed a few months ago, the speed limit in a school zone is the same as it is elsewhere in the city, 30 miles an hour, Bairrington said.

W. W. Park, city attorney, said it would be simple to amend the code to include school zone speed limits, and that such a proposal likely would be presented to the council as a result of the accident yesterday.

MONEY, AUTHORITY

Bairrington said that at present there are no signs posted around the schools warning motorists they are entering a school zone. He expressed confidence that after yesterday's occurrence the proper measures would be taken to see that such signs were posted.

To purchase the signs, Bairrington said, authorization from the city will be necessary, as well as an appropriation of money to buy them.

For painting crosswalks, money already has been appropriated and authorization given, he said, but due to the war situation, the paint has not yet been delivered.

M. E. Stanfield, superintendent of schools, today conferred with Bairrington. Stanfield said the school system would do everything it could to help the police department regulated both pedestrians and motorists in the school areas.

Stanfield added that lessons in safety are being incorporated in all teachers' programs and that plans for further safety education in the schools are being discussed.

UN Army Won't Move Over The Korean Border

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. (AP) — Britain assured Russia and Communist China today that Gen. MacArthur's forces in moving through North Korea would not advance beyond the Korean border.

Kenneth Younger, British minister of state, gave this "solemn assurance" during final debate in the UN General Assembly on an eight-power resolution authorizing MacArthur's forces to proceed beyond the 38th Parallel.

Younger said the UN troops in MacArthur's command would not remain in North Korea any longer than necessary to insure unification and pacification of the country. Russia and Communist China border on Korea.

The assembly rejected a last-minute Soviet attempt to gain North Korean participation in discussions of the Korean case. Then it moved quickly toward final ratification of the eight-power resolution, initiated by Britain and supported by the United States.

By a vote of six in favor, 41 against and six abstentions, the assembly rejected Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob A. Malik's request that both North and South Korea be invited to appear before the United Nations as equal parties to the dispute.

Malik opened the Soviet bloc's final attack on the eight-nation resolution for unifying, pacifying and rehabilitating all Korea under UN aupices. Defeat of the Russian last-gasp fight was a foregone conclusion.

Express Train Wrecked

New York Central's New England States Express (Boston to Chicago) plowed into a derailed oil tank car at Erie, Pa., touching off an explosion of fire. Between 40 and 50 persons were hurt, none critically. An unidentified crew member said "If we'd had wooden cars on this train it would have been awful."

Truman Signs Doctor Draft

ABOARD YACHT COMMANDER, Chesapeake Bay, Oct. 6. (AP) — President Truman signed today a proclamation providing for the drafting of physicians and dentists for the armed services.

Presidential Secy. Charles Ross announced Mr. Truman had put his signature to the document but gave no details of the proclamation's provisions to newsmen on this yacht who are trailing the President on his Chesapeake Bay cruise. Ross said the text of the proclamation would be made public later in Washington.

Reds Assault French Troops In Indochina

SAIGON, Indochina, Oct. 6 (AP)—Communist-led Indochinese Nationalists attacked French forces today in small but violent battles throughout the Indochinese state of Vietnam.

A French military spokesman said these attacks may signal the start of the long anticipated autumn offensive by the Vietminh guerrillas of Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh.

French forces retreating from the evacuated frontier post of Caobang last night made junction with another column protecting their retreat. But several Vietminh battalions were reported attacking a wide stretch of arterial highway extending southeast to the main French frontier base at Langson. One mitor French post was abandoned before the Vietminh assault.

There was a resurgence of Vietminh guerrilla operations along the South Annamese coast. Roads there have been cut and vehicles attacked. In a large, rich rice-growing region about 100 miles southwest of Saigon, the Vietminh carried out another widespread series of attacks. French-Vietnamese posts have been attacked, roads cut and new infiltration into villages defended by local militia.

JAKARTA, Indonesia, Oct. 6. (AP) —Radio Amboina said today two Indonesian government corvettes shelled the town of Amboina, seat of the rebel South Moluccan Government yesterday, and an Indonesian war plane strafed the town.

The rebel-controlled radio said South Moluccan defense forces repulsed Indonesian government ground forces attacking in the direction of the capital. The attack was launched from the Tulehu district, nine miles from Aboina town, where Indonesian troops went ashore a week ago.

Ira Man's Right Leg Fractured in Accident

Ralph Foster, one of the station owners, said the brakes on an automobile which he was driving onto a grease rack failed to hold, the car striking Dosier and pinning his leg against the brick wall.

Foster said Dosier had been an employee there two days. The accident occurred at 12:20 o'clock. Dosier was rushed to the Snyder Hospital in a Bolger-Barnes ambulance. His condition was not considered dangerous.

Artificial Rubber Plants To Reopen

CLEVELAND, Oct. 6. (AP) — The federal government's decision to reopen all of the nation's artificial rubber plants will create 5,000 new jobs, William S. Richardson, president of the B. F. Goodrich Chemical Co., estimated today.

His firm was the largest producer of American made rubber during the last war.

It now operates a government plant at Port Neches, Tex., with a design capacity of 60,000 tons and plans to reopen and operate a similar government plant at Institute, W. Va., which has a design capacity of 90,000 tons.

Korea War In Brief

(By the Associated Press)

The battlefronts: South Korean troops drive another 20 miles to within 32 miles of Wonsan in North Korea. Other South Koreans fan out behind them. United Nations forces mass in strength below 38th Parallel awaiting signal for invasion as Reds desperately try to bolster defenses. Red losses since June 25 from all causes put at 200,000.

United Nations General Assembly meets on eight-nation plan for Korea's future, ready to give topheavy approval to proposal containing tacit permission for UN invasion of North Korea.

UN Army Below Parallel Is Still Poised

MacArthur Estimatse Red Casualties To Be Around 200,000

TOKYO, Oct. 6. — South Korean troops punched 20 miles deeper into Communist North Korea today on the east coast while other allied forces massed for the expected big push to the Red heartland.

The forward South Koreans were more than 75 miles beyond Parallel 38, the border where they had crossed into enemy territory last Sunday.

Arrayed below the boundary was the bulk of the poised 175,000 United Nations troops. Air and naval support was at the 38th Parallel ready for an offensive.

Another vise apparently was being forged to crush the remnants of the reeling Reds — officially estimated by MacArthur's headquarters to have suffered 200,000 casualties since their June 25, invasion.

40,000 PRISONERS

Forty thousand of the Red manpower losses were listed as war prisoners of the allies.

The other casualties admittedly included some duplications. This means a man might have been wounded, removed and then returned to battle, wounded again and pressed into action again.

The Reds' heaviest losses of men —and materiel — have been suffered since Sept. 15 when the allies leaped to the offensive climaxed by the liberation of Seoul and entrapment of Red divisions in the South.

Of the 40,000 Communist prisoners-of-war, 14,028 were listed as taken in three days this week. This presumably was in the continuing mopping up of straggle bands widely scattered in the south and around Seoul.

The deep plunge into North Korea on the east coast was reported by AP Correspondent William Jorden, traveling with the South Koreans.

NEAR TONGCHON

Jorden said the South Korean Third Division pushed off after an artillery exchange with the Reds near Changion, some 60 miles north of Parallel 38, and by nightfall had neared Tongchon.

Tongchon is 32 miles southeast of Wonsan, big Red industrial center on the east coast.

Communist prisoners taken in the long drive northward have reported a stand would be made at Wonsan, or on its outskirts. Prisoners taken Thursday said they heard Russian advisers were helping prepare fortifications there.

MORE SIGNIFICANT

The steady push of the South Korean Third Division on the dusty coastal road toward Wonsan appeared to be taking on added significance. The possibility of a sledgehammer land-sea-air concentration against the Red industrial center was pointed up by these other events:

— Conferences between Capt. Fred Stelter, chief of staff of the east coastal naval support fleet, and Gen. Lee Cong Chan of the South Korean army;

— Re-establishment of Pohang airstrip — some 250 miles south of Wonsan — as a U. S. Fifth Air Force fighter base for close support of Korean Republican east coast forces; and

Unneeded Bribing of Soviets By Giving Away China's Land

By HANSON W. BALDWIN
Military Analysis of The New York TIMES.

(Sixth of seven articles)

We won the war against Japan, but who will say — against the background of the Orient of today—that we won the peace?

The political mistakes made in the war against Japan were several and major; this discussion is merely a notation on a few of them.

On the greatest of these errors — our failure to develop a politically reasonable China policy — is treated only inferentially in this discussion. (In tomorrow's installment.) The importance of this failure is obvious now that Communism has won most of the Asiatic continent.

ERRORS OF YALTA

The mistakes of Yalta illuminate and are fundamental background for the errors in our China policy.

Those errors were founded on the same philosophical quicksand that betrayed our steps in Europe. We forgot again in China that true cooperation with militant Communism is impossible, except on Communism's own terms.

But we made other grievous errors in China which compounded the basic one.

We evolved — painfully, slowly, and with difficulty — control over the supplies we gave during the war, but no sooner was military victory won than we dissolved, voluntarily, our wartime supply system, and we relinquished all real control over events in China.

And yet throughout the war and the chaotic period of civil war that followed we could have called the tune; the Chiang Kai-shek government needed us far more than we needed it.

TOO EAGER

Perhaps the saddest chapter in the long history of political futility which the war records was the Yalta conference of February, 1945. As former Secretary of War Stinson writes, "much of the policy of the United States toward Russia, from Teheran to Potsdam, was dominated by the eagerness of the Americans to secure a firm Russian commitment to enter the Pacific war." This "eagerness" reaches its crescendo at Yalta, where we attempted to pin down prior elusive Soviet promises to take up arms against Japan.

For all these reasons and because of a fundamental military as well as political misconception — Russia held the whip hand, and U. S. representatives placed themselves in the amazing position of "giving away" territories which did not belong to us, and of undertaking to secure concessions which impaired the sovereignty of a friendly allied state.

The political misconception, so obvisous now, should have been apparent then; it was not to our interest, or the interests of China or of the world, to make Russia a Pacific power; it was not to our interest to beg or barter for Russia's entry into the Pacific war.

JAPAN WHIPPED

Nor should military considerations have affected this political judgment. At the time of Yalta, Japan was already beaten — not by the atomic bomb, which had not been perfected, not by conventional bombing, then just starting, but by attrition and blockade.

The full seriousness of the Japanese plight was not then, of course, completely understood. Our military men were preoccupied and concerned with the fierceness of the Japanese defense; the tactical situation obscured these hopeless strategic position of Japan, and some of our commanders took, therefore, far too pessimistic a view.

Mistakes in intelligence, or rather in evaluation, also contributed to an erroneous assessment of Japanese intentions and capabilities. We feared that even after the main Japanese islands had been conquered, the enemy resistance would continue on the continent of Asia with the much-vaunted Kwantung Manchurian Army as its core.

NOT SO STRONG

Yet our intelligence officers in Washington and throughout the Pacific for months had been identifying units of the Kwantung Army and of its air support which had been transferred from that quiet area to various battle sectors. By late 1944 it was — or should have been — apparent that what remained of the Kwantung Army was largely composed of green conscripts and second-rate troops, with virtually no air support, incapable of a prolonged campaign; it had been bled white to provide reinforcements for other fronts.

We also confused Japanese capabilities with Japanese intentions. We beleived the Japanese would resist to the last man, no matter how hopelessly beaten.

These completely erroneous beliefs were not held, at the time, by all our experts; but they were, unfortunately, the controlling opinions. Prior to the conference, an intelligence estimate of the Japanese strength had been furnished to the Joint Chiefs of Staff. This estimate, which served as the basis of their judgments at Yalta, was extremely pessimistic. Without Russian assistance, it was estimated, the Japanese might be able to prolong the war until the fall of 1946 or even until 1947 or 1948.

Other intelligence estimates, notably a far more optimistic one prepared by different authors in the intelligence section of the war department general staff, one one naval estimate challenged this viewpoint. So did two intelligence papers which were prepared for the combined chiefs of staff (Anglo-American) in September, 1944, and January, 1945.

NOT TO PRESIDENT

Best available information indicates the more realistic estimates never reached joint chiefs of staff level, although Adm. William D. Leahy, the Presidential chief of staff, may have seen the naval estimate.

After the Yalta conference had convened, still another intelligence estimate, prepared by the Twentieth Air Force, was sent to Yalta. This estimate took the viewpoint that Japanese resistance was rapidly weakening. This estimate, too, never reached the highest echelons.

Thus, the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who gave Roosevelt the military advice upon which his political decisions were (in part) based, framed their own judgments at Yalta on the basis of a faulty intelligence estimate.

Our attempts to get firm Soviet commitments about the war against Japan reached a preliminary crisis in October, 1944 (more than four months before Yalta), when Churchill visited Moscow.

Stalin reiterated his intention, first announced to Cordell Hull at Moscow in October, 1943, then more or less formalized at Teheran, of entering the Pacific war, said he needed three months after V-E Day to stockpile supplies in Siberia, declared that the U. S. could have air bases and one naval base in the Far East; but added that "if the United States and Great Britain preferred to bring Japan to her knees without Russian participation, he was ready to agree."

Furthermore, there was a little item of additional supplies that Russia would require to help her build up a two months' reserve in Siberia. All in all, Stalin said, the Russians would need more than a millions tons of cargo, and they must be delivered by June 30, 1945, the deliveries to be in addition to those already being made under the Fourth Lend-Lease Protocol.

SOVIETS STALL

As the Soviets stalled on their promises and we delivered supplies, the months drew on into the winter of 1944-45; and at Yalta, in February, President Roosevelt, pressed by the U. S. Chiefs of Staff, again took up the questions of bomber bases in Siberia and the date of Russian entry into the Pacific war.

Stalin again agreed in principle, but he got down in black and white his price: the Curzon line for the eastern border of Poland, the Kurile Islands, and controlling economic and strategic concessions in Manchuria.

But it was not until the spring, when Germany was at her last gasp and Japan near the end, that, in the words of General Deane, "it was found that the net increase that would result from putting four groups of B-29's in the Amur River district would be 1.39 per cent of the total bomb tonnage we could place on Japan without using Russian bases".

This was convincing proof, adds Deane, "that the slightest increase in our bombing effort and the advantages of an added direction of approach for our bomber formations were not at all commensurate with the logistical effort involved in establishing our forces in Siberia."

A little late — after more than three years of U. S. participation in the war and numerous major concessions to Russia, concessions which were to affect the peace — to be making this ABC logistical discovery! Bi then Rusia had most of the supplies she had demanded; and she had carefully recorded the secret concessions of Yalta.

YALTA CONCESSIONS

Russia drove a hard bargain at Yalta. Stalin promised to enter the war against Japan within an estimated 90 days after the end of the war against Germany, but for it he got the Kurile Islands, all of Sakhalin, half interest in the railways in Manchuria, Port Arthur, a Russian - controlled "free port" in Diaren, and thus strategic hegemony in important northeast Asia.

"... it is my belief writes Sherwood, "that Roosevelt would not have agreed to that final firm commitment had it not been that the Yalta Conference was almost at an end and he was tired and anxious to avoid further argument. I believe that he was hopeful that when the time came to notify the Chinese, he would be able to straighten the whole thing out with Chaing Kai-Shek—but that hope, of course, was not realized."

These agreements were made with no representative of China, the country most affected by them, present; we undertook the amazing task of helping to secure Chinese acquiescence in arrangements which in effect gave away Chinese territory and advanced the border of Communist Russia almost to Peking.

Tigers Favored Over Rotan In First of 6A Contests Tonight

District play will begin at 8 o'clock tonight when the Snyder Tigers take a trip to Rotan for the first of six district games to be played with 6A teams this season.

Although the Yellowhammers lost 10 of 11 starters four of them all-district men, they are still a rough and ready crew. The only starter left from last year is halfback Weems.

HEAVY CENTER

The Hammers will go onto their field with a fair-sized line, featuring 197-pound Belez, who is offensive center and line-backer on the defense. The man to watch on passes in this game is Quarterback Martin, who has been tossing them freely in previous games this season.

Tigers remember the 20-0 score when Rotan ran over them last year and took district championship. But the Hammers are out this time with an entirely different team most of them fresh into high school.

Rotan has lost all games this season — to Spur 33-19, to Anson 52-6, and to Haskell 70-0. Our best connection would come from looking at the Haskell-Albany game when Haskell took them 8-0, the 70-0 victory of Haskell over Rotan, then the 33-13 the Tigers made over Albany. If we used those games as sole basis for prediction, that would put the Tigers about 58 points in favor. But most fans have learned to stop predicting scores of high school games.

ASSISTANT COACH

Yellowhammer Coach D. V. Marcum is using a winged-T offense that has possibilities with his backfield. Rotan's assistant coach, Horace Bostick, was once coached by Snyder's Speedy Moffett at Big Spring High School, and was a schoolmate there of one of our assistant coaches, Hal Battle.

A slight injury received in Tuesday afternoon's practice session will hold Tiger Center Grant Teaff out of the game tonight unless he is needed. His slot will be taken by Lowell Bearden, who is usually run into the game as end. Filling Bearden's position will be either Wendell Autry or Hugh Smith.

OFFENSIVE LINE-UP

Tigers	No.	Wt.	Pos.	Wt.	No.	Yellowhammers
Autry	65	139	E	150	74	Roe
Voss	86	150	E	155	75	Collins
Keller	76	182	T	185	78	Gilland
Stokes	75	163	T	210	85	Shipp
McCormick	67	159	G	147	69	Posey
Tate	77	177	G	147	65	O'Brien
Bearden	89	163	C	197	77	Belez
Coffee	20	124	B	140	66	Martin
Green	32	150	B	170	63	Weems
Woods	24	147	B	165	62	Hale
Harrison	10	144	B	170	70	Hamlin

Grimmitt, No. 42, 136, will again double with Harrison at halfback. Defensive substitutes are Birt, 217, No. 79, tackle; Thornton, 205, No. 78, tackle; and Sims, 124, No. 22, back.

A&M-Sooners Only Unbeaten Pair Meeting

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Texas A&M goes giant-hunting with more than a sling-shot tomorrow in the top game of a predominately intersectional Southwest Conference football program.

The Aggies, tough and querulous after a couple of seasons of pitty-pat stuff, tackle the nation's fifth ranking team, mighty Oklahoma, at Norman in the only game matching undefeated, untied, outfits.

Three other Southwest Conference elevens will be playing bannèr intersectional games and the home front will bristle with the Arkansas-Texas Christian joust—first of the season to go into the championship standings.

Southern Methodist, unbeaten, tied and unworried, plays disheartened Missouri at Columbia, Mo.; Rice takes on the team that has given it the most trouble—Louisiaia State—at Houston, and Baylor meets the south's current sensation, Mississippi State, at Shreveport.

The Arkansas - Texas Christian meele at Fort Worth and the Rice-LSU and Baylor-Mississippi State games all are at night.

The Aggies meet a team that has gone through 22 games without defeat. They are not considered within 14 points of the Sooners by the odds-makers but at Aggieland they have other ideas. A&M showed a terrific ground game, a good passing attack, and an excellent pass defense in one-sided triumphs over Nevada and Texas Tech and the feeling is that the Aggies are back in the swim with the best of them.

Texas Christian is a three-point favorite over Arkansas on the basis of an equal although losing battle against Oklahoma A&M and the fact that the Horned Frogs will be playing at home. But there's gloom thick enough to cut with a pinpoint around TCU. The Frogs, who haven't beaten Arkansas since 1943 are crippled, sore and outweighed.

Rice, victorious last week in the season opener with Santa Clara, meets an LSU team that fell before Kentucky 14-0 but beat obscure College of Pacific 19-0. It appears time for the Owls to lick the eleven that has taken them to a cleaning every time since 1944. Rice is a three-point favorite.

Southern Methodist isn't expected to have too much trouble with a Missouri team that lost to Clemson 34-0 last week, except that SMU always has had trouble with the Tigers, losing to them in 1948. The odds-makers say SMU by 14 points.

Baylor isn't given much chance against Mississippi State. The Maroons licked one of the ranking teams of the South last Saturday when they toppled Tennessee 7-0. Baylor has a fair record—a 7-0 loss to Wyoming and a 34-7 win over an impotent University of Houston. The Bears are posted as seven-point underdogs.

Texas, seventh member of the conference, has no game this week.

Hitting six out of seven last week, we're feeling our oats. Ruminate over these:

Texas A&M vs Oklahoma at Norman—can't see anything but a Sooner victory; Oklahoma by 10 points.

Southern Methodist vs Missouri at Columbia—it would be awful for the Methodists to lose this one but don't worry about it; SMU by three touchdowns.

Baylor vs Mississippi State at Shreveport (night)— Mississippi State's too cocky; Baylor will nose 'em out.

Rice vs Louisiana State at Houston (night) —end of the road for LSU; Rice by two touchdowns.

Bitter Battle Predicted For Tomorrow's TCU-Arkansas Tilt

FORT WORTH Oct. 6. (AP)—Some blows struck with the hands and arms in the Ozarks a year ago are reflected in the crowd that will see the Texas Christian-Arkansas football game here tomorrow night.

At least 25,000 are expected to watch the first Southwest Conference battle of the season and, with favorable weather, Amos Melton, TCU business manager of athletics thinks the 35,000 stadium capacity may be approached.

It will be the largest crowd ever to watch Texas Christian and Arkansas play and Melton declares there's no doubt but that the big turn-out will be largely because of what happened in the game between these two bitter rivals at Fayetteville last fall.

Arkansas beat TCU 27-7, after which Coach Dutch Meyer of Texas Christian filed a protest with the Southwest Conference charging the Razorbacks had used hands and arms too promiscuously and left him a long injury list.

The conference faculty committee passed a censure of Arkansas for its extra-curricular rough play.

There had been other such incidents in previous years. It was generally understood that the censure was not only for 1949 but covered the other occurrences, too.

Anyway, it has been a crowd-getter for this year's game.

Melton and other officials don't think, however, that the fans will see any waving arms and fists. "I look for this to be the most gentlemanly game on record," said Melton.

Texas Christian is moving to make it that way. Coach Meyer has informed his squad that the least untoward act will mean the player or players take a permanent place on the bench.

Coach Otis Douglas of Arkansas feels the same about it. "Just another ball game to us," he said at Fayetteville. "As for the trouble last year, we would like to forget it, and I think Dutch Meyer would like to do the same." Douglas became coach at Arkansas this year, succeeding John Barnhill.

Meyer is quite pessimistic regarding the outcome of the game. He was told that the odds-makers were installing Texas Christian as a three-point favorite and roared: "Why, they're crazy men. We haven't a chance to win this one. We're not only crippled but we're going against a line that out-weighs us more than 30 pounds to the man."

Chances For Phillies To Make Comeback Slim After 2 Losses

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Staff)

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. (AP) — Only a miracle comeback can save the hitless Phillies now as the World Series moved into covernous Yankee Stadium with New York holding a 2-0 lead. One home run blast by "the same old Joe DiMaggio" put the Phils on this desperate spot.

Not since the 1921 New York Giants, has a club won after losing the first two series games. And that was back in the days of the best-of-nine series.

Talk of "four straight" buzzes in Yankee ears with odds 1 to 15 on the American Leaguers to coo their 13th world title. Some 70,000 fans will be on hand for the Phils first visit.

Yankee Ed Lopat (18-8) is a 5 to 12 choice over either Ken Heintzelman (3-9) or Bob Miller (11-6) for today's third game. Manager Eddie Sawyer will pick his starter in the clubhouse before batting practice.

TIMELY HIT

No miracle—but only a timely base hit—was needed to rescue the Phils in the first two games when they lost 1-0 and 2-1 in 10 innings on DiMaggio's home run. Now they are fresh out of pitchers like Robin Roberts and Jim Konstzanty who can be counted on to chill sluggers like the Yanks.

Sawyer has no complaints about the excellent jobs of his first two pitchers. They contained the Yankee power hitting like Yogi Berra and Johnny Mize. They put the shackles on DiMaggio until he rocketed Roberts' pitch into the upper left field seats yesterday afternoon. But this is the end of the line. Now the batters figure to cut loose.

Lopat, a chunky lefthander with a knuckler, screwball, slider and a little bit of everything except a fast ball, may not match Vic Raschi and Allie Reynolds in effectiveness. Still, in the vast confines of the stadium, Lopat can be expected to pitch his usual steady, capable game. To succeed he must continue to check the righthander power of Del Ennis and Andy Seminick, strangely silent in the early games.

MAYBE MILLER

It could be that Sawyer already has made up his mind to pitch Miller but doesn't want the youngster to worry about the job overnight. A handsome rookie who made the big hop from Terre Haute, Ind. to the majors in one season, Miller won his first eight starts. His best pitch is a streaking fast ball. Since mid-September, the 24-year-old rookie has been troubled by a sore shoulder. In his last two starts he pitched fine ball in the early innings but weakened badly.

Heintzelman, a grey - thatched southpaw of 35 years, might have the "nothing stuff" to fool the free-swinging Yanks. He didn't win a game from May 8 to Sept. 15 but hung up 17 victories in 1949. If Heintzleman pitches, Manager Casey Stengel probably will shuffle his son at third base instead of Brown.

"We can't be any worse in the Yankee Stadium," said Sawyer last night, "maybe our kids will snap out of it. We'll play our usual game and score some runs—I hope."

BAD HOP

Sawyer summed up the Phils troubles neatly when he said, "It looks like we need four bases on balls to score."

It took a bad-hop single over Coleman's head to drive in the lone Phil run of the series in the fifth inning yesterady. Time after time they left the big run on base. In the eighth and ninth, they hit into rally ending double plays.

After DiMaggio's homer they still had a chance to bounce back against Reynolds. They moved pinch hitter Jack Mayo to second base with one out in the last of the tenth. But he died on second as Richie Ashburn and Sisler failed.

DiMaggio's blow, his first series hit, ruined Roberts. The Yanks nicked the Phil 20-game winner for 10 hits. Still he staved off disaster until Stengel's "big fellow" lined his seventh World Series homer into the laps of the gasping customers.

Nearly Perfect

AKRON, O. (AP) — How round can a rubber tire get?

According to B. F. Goodrich tire engineers, 12 solid rubber tires used at Langley Aeronautical Laboratory, Langley Field, Virginia, are within 2-1,000 of an inch of being perfectly round.

The special tires are used on a carriage for both water tests with seaplane floats and impact tests with an airplane wheel touching a concrete runway.

Breckenridge-Abilene Meet Tonight In The Top Schoolboy Game

(By the Associated Press)

Breckenridge meets Abilene tonight at Abilene in the feature game of Texas schoolboy football for the week.

It matches two Class AA powers, Breckenridge undefeated and untied; Abilene once beaten but surging back up.

Fourteen of the state's sixteen undefeated, untied Class AA teams have games. The lone eleven with an unsullid record in the City Conference also plays. That's Lamar of Houston, which rolls against Class AA Miller of Corpus Christi.

Only five games were played in Class AA Jefferson of El Paso Class AA and the City Conference last night.

In Class AA Jefferson of El Paso lost to Highland of Albuquerque, N. M., 34-0, and Hillsboro was defeated by City Conference Amon Carter-Riverside (Fort Worth), 14-6.

In the City Conference, Alamo Heights of San Antonio beat Lanier (San Antonio) 21-7 in a District 4 conference game, Milby (Houston) downed Sam Houston (Houston) 19-10 in a District 3 conference tilt and Adamson (Dallas) played independent Jesuit (Dallas) to a 6-6 tie.

The right to worship where and as we choose is only one phase of the liberty we Americans prize, and for this and all of our other freedoms we owe a debt to Christianity.

Religious convictions, woven into our Constitution, gave strength to our pioneers. Reliance upon God, and fidelity to the Church, made our forefathers brave, patient and determined. In such faith was America born.

Through the Church and by authority of the Bible, Christianity says that all human beings have worth—that each one has a place—that man's first responsibility is to his Creator.

The Church is the symbol of this belief—the steadfast instrument through which it is worked out. Therefore the Church deserves our support. It stands for decency and order. It and the Church school are the safest places for our children.

Choose your Church—give it part of your time and means—participate in some o activities—and you will find life taking on a new and richer meaning.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

TALK OF THE TOWN

BY FRANCES BIOW

Of all the jobs women in Snyder take and hold, perhaps the hardiest is MRS. F. C. JOHNSON'S choice. This vigorous lady, who lives at 315 Thirty-first Street, heard of the large motel going up out on the "Y" and went out to look the situation over. She's naturally partial to carpentry and allied fields, as her husband is a carpenter. She promptly hired herself out as a laborer, job being to pick up dropped building materials, fill in anywhere there is a need on the construction job. She's quite pleased with it, loves the outdoors. Funny thing, too, she's not the sturdy type. Small and fragile and lithe, she will surely help make that Chrsitmas deadline on construction.

AROUND TOWN: Luncheon with MRS. GERALD SHEID, who worried because a fire whistle sounded. "It would with half the boys on the volunteer force out of town for a fire convention in Rotan." . . . MRS. AUBREY STOKES very unhappy with a "crick", which kept her away from her busy desk at Snyder National Bank for all of several hours . . . A. L. SHELTON back on duty, smiling his amiable smile around the square, except when the parking meter says VIOLATION . . . Change of weather leaving cases of sniffles in its wake, discussion among the girls of what-on-earth to wear. MRS. R. E. PATTERSON says a suit is the only thing . . . Much flurry going on around Western Union re the robbery . . . MRS. LAWRENCE DUMAS describing the wonderful-smelling apples in such abundance in the Fort Davis mountains where the Dumases weekended. "Mr. Dumas said 'Let's buy some and go home and make fifty apple pies', as if we have time to make one apple pie, however good pie is these zippy fall days."

Famed Lawyer Of Evolution Trial Is Dead

CULVER CITY, Calif., Oct. 6. (AP) —Dudley Field Malone, internationally famed attorney, actor and one-time prominent Democrat, is dead at the age of 68.

Malone gained national recognition as an associate of the late Clarence Darrow in the famed Scopes Evolution trial in 1925.

He succumbed in his sleep last night at Culver City Hospital after suffering a hemorrhage Wednesday, his physician, Dr. David N. Trimble, reported. The veteran barrister had suffered from a heart condition for 12 years.

Malone served as collector of the port of New York during World War II. He was an assistant secretary of state for seven months in 1913 during Woodrow Wilson's first term as president.

Among the causes he espoused were women's suffrage, repeal of prohibition and freedom for India.

During the 1920s he achieved an international reputation with his handling of divorce cases in Paris, then the forerunner of Reno. His clients included Ganna Walska, Julius Fleischmann and W. K. Vanderbilt.

Born in New York, June 3, 1882, Malone was graduated from St. Francis Xavier College and Fordham University law school. He was admitted to the New York bar in 1907. In 1939 he became a member of the California bar and in recent years had served as counsel for 20th Century-Fox Studio. He had lived in West Los Angeles 11 years.

He was married and divorced three times.

Chicago Betting Goes On In Spite Of What Mayor Tells Senators

CHICAGO, Oct. 6. (AP)—The Tribune said today a reporter yesterday placed a bet on a horse race with a clerk in a cigar store across the street from the U. S. courthouse.

At the time, the Tribune said, a U. S. Senate Crime Investigating Committee, was in session in the federal building. It said the bet was placed shortly after Mayor Martin M. Kennelly was reported to have told the committee there is not a place in Chicago where you can walk in and bet on a horse.

The Tribune said the reporter bet $3 on a daily double at Hawthorne track and was told: "If they win come back this aftrenoon for your money."

He didn't go back, as both horses failed to finish first.

Pension Hikes Given By G.E.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. (AP) — The General Electric Co. announced today it has given a voluntary "cost of living" increase to 7,000 already retored employes.

For the majority of these pensioners, the company said, the increase is between $24 and $49 monthly with some receiving smaller amounts.

Charles E. Wilson, GE president, said:

"General Electric initiated i. pension plan in 1912. Then, as now, the objective was to provide an income to supplement employes' savings and thus assist them in spending their later years in comfortable retirement.

"We recognize, of course, that inflation and the increased cost of living have worked to the decided disadvantage of this group and, in many cases, brought hardship on those who had made worthy contributions to the company and had planned well for their retirement. It is hoped that this amendment to our pension plan will materially assist those who have been so affected."

Car Burns At Home One Mile From City

Confused reports caused volunteer firemen to be late last night at the scene of the burning 1949 Mercury sedan belonging to Darrel Rouse, employee of the Nolen Drilling Co., one mile past the Y on the Colorado City highway.

The fire was reported about 7:40 o'clock when Louis Hodgin, roughneck for the Olsen Drilling Co., was driving by there on his way to his home in Colorado City and saw the car in flames. Hodgin immediately returned to Snyder to report the fire.

Parked next to the house of Rouse's father, Claude Rouse, the car was pulled by use of a rope tied onto another car until it was several yards from the Rouse home.

Unable to find the fire, the volunteer fire fighters had returned to the station. A witness went into town and again called the department. Firemen arrived to douse the flames at about 8:20.

Total loss in damage to the auto was the result of the fire.

Missing Child Found Dead In Water Lagoon

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 6. (AP) — The body of 23-month-old Keith Campbell, object of a widespread search by 500 persons, was found yesterday in the muddy waters of a partly drained lagoon.

The blonde, hazel-eyed daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell wandered away from her home early Wednesday night. A helicopter aided ground searchers who fanned out from the Campbell home at a former army air base here, managed by the father as a civilian project.

The child's body was found entagled in vegetation in shallow water.

The Winning Run

Joe DiMaggio, Yankees' centerfielder, is greeted by the team's batboy as he scores the game winning run on his home run into left field stands in the tenth inning of the second World Series game against Phillies in Philadelphia. The yanks won, 2-1. Umpire is Bill McGowan.

Building Curbs Being Drafted By The Federal Reserve Board

By SAM DAWSON
(Associated Press Staff)

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. — Home builders are on the anxious seat today as the federal reserve board drafts new curbs on the housing boom.

New down-payment rules and across-the-board controls of the building industry will be announced next week, Thomas P. Coogan of Miami, Fla., president of the National Assn. of Home Builders, predicts. Some think the rules will be fairly mild. But Coogan thinks not.

TOO TOUGH

He says the ones the board has in mind are too drastic. The building industry naturally is interested in keeping the home building boom going. It has been one of the staunchest props of this year's prosperity. Coogan says it is based on real need for new homes in a growing population.

Fiscal authorities, however, have been watching the mushrooming of home mortgages with concern for some time. They feel the easy credit terms, the low down payments and the long periods the mortgages run, are among the biggest spurs to inflation. And some have even wondered if he nation might not suddenly find itself over-built if the housing boom continues unchecked.

DEFENSE NEED

With the Korean war standing a rearmament program, Washington also wants for defense production many of the materials that have been pouring into new homes. The first step was to lighten up on the easy credit the federal government was giving home builders through federal insurance of mortgages. The step expected next week will probably tighten all mortgage terms, whether backed by federal guarantees or not. Any drastic allocation of materials, however, could cut the boom down to size even faster.

A record 1,300,000 new housing units are going up this year. New credit curbs will cut this back to 800,000 or 900,000 next year, some federal authorities estimate.

COULD HURT

Such a drastic cut in home financing and building could do more injury than good to the country, says Earl E. Crabb, chariman and president of Investors Diversified Services, Inc., of Minneapolis. He says the present practice of paying off home mortgages on a monthly basis assures such a flow of return money that home building can be suported at the high level without contributing to inflation.

A slowdown in home building is already under way, the National City Bank of New York reports. It notes a drop in residential building contracts in September and a sharp drop in applications for FHA mortgage insurance.

Defense Department Civilian Employment Boosted Over 86,000

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. (AP) — The Korean war boosts civilian employment in the Defense Department by 86,372 during July and August, the Byrd Committee reported today.

The increase brought to 839,521 the number of persons employed by the department as of Aug. 30.

Total civilian employment in the executive branch of the government rose to 2,042,309 at the end of August. The committee said this was the first time it had passed the 2 million mark since October, 1949, exclusive of temporary census employes hired last spring.

The committee is a Senate-House group, headed by Sen Byrd (D-Va), which attempts to bring pressure for reduction of what it regards as non-essential expenditures.

5 Are Injured In Fights Here

Sheriff's department officers today are still searching for an unclub just west of town, within 36 known assailant involved in one of three fights which have occurred at the Log Cabin, a night club just west of town within 36 hours this week, and which have resulted in five persons being injured.

Two of those injured were hospitalized, one suffering from head wounds received in a fight Wednesday night, and the other suffering numerous deep lacerations received in a knifing there Tuesday night, Vernie Head, deputy sheriff, said.

Most seriously injured Tuesday was Tommy Swaim, 18, who was hospitalized for numerous knife wounds, one of which was a gash from the upper part of his back across his shoulder, and through a portion of his chest region.

R. J. Allison, 25, an employee of the club, received two deep cuts in the same fight, one across the upper part of each leg. Allison was treated at the hospital but was not admitted as a patient.

The other man injured Tuesday, Vernon (Bunny) Matthews, owner of the club, lost the tip end of a finger in a scuffle for the knife, Head said.

Injured in a fight about midnight Wednesday night were Ernest M. Howell, who is being treated in the hospital for head wounds believed to have been caused by soft drink bottles, and Clifton Minor, who was treated at the hospital but then released.

Head said Howell and Minor were fighting each other and that six or eight others were also involved in the same fight.

Another fight also occurred there earlier Wednesday night, Head said but no known injuries resulted.

Reinforced Acoustics Experimented With In Supreme Court Chamber

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. (AP) — Judges, lawyers and spectators may soon be able to hear distinctly all that is said in the Supreme Court.

Experiments began yesterday with a semi-concealed loudspeaker system, in the hope of overcoming complaints against the acoustics in the court's great, marble chamber.

The situation is so bad that some of the justices at one end of the high bench frequently are unable to hear their associates at the other end, unless voices are raised.

A New York City electronics firm is experimenting with speakers designed especially to reinforce the volume of judges' and lawyers' voices, but not so loud or so changed in tone that amplification os noticable.

If the system can be made to operate satisfactorally in an empty court chamber, it will be tried later during a session of court. If a majority of the justices are then satisfied, Congress will be asked to buy the system for the court.

No estimate of the cost has been nade.

Three Wills Found Disposing Of Half Million Left By Man

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6. (AP) —Where there's a will there's a—but which way for a probate judge now confronted with three documents disposing of eccentric Charles Babonet's $500,000 fortune?

The third will was filed yesterday—with reservations by public Administrator Ben H. Brown. It is in the form of a rambling letter dated Aug. 17, 1945 and addressed to "Dear Friend Abe" in pencil on four sheets of tablet paper.

DENVER MAILING

Brown said it was apparently mailed from Denver, Colo., with an accompanying letter from "Abe," who failed to identify himself or give an address. Brown told the court he was offering the will for probate with the reservation he could not yet determine if it was authentic.

A Miss Betricia Reed was named as the chief beneficiary—for $200,000. The writer said he had met Miss Reed for an hour once in Richmond, Calif., but believed she had since moved to Denver. Other bequests included $35,000 to a "Dr. Mel, who might be found in Colorado," and $15,000 each to Boys Town, Neb., and Santa Barbara Mission, Calif.

OTHERS

Opposed to this, Judge Newcomb Condee will have to consider Oct. 19.

Will No. 1—filed by the Bank of America after it was found shoved under a door last month. This is the one that left the William Tyson family $100,000 for an act of friendship 31 years ago. It is dated Oct. 2, 1943.

Will No. 2—Mailed to Brown from Sacramento, dated May 26, 1941, but torn in half so that its terms are virtually illegible.

The three wills have this in common: All were submitted anonymously. And all add to the mystery of Babonet, the recluse who died last Aug. 7 at the age of 66, leaving oil riches never dreamed of by friends here.

Little Korean May Find New Home With The Marines He Saved

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6. (AP) —Butch Chango, an 11-year-old Korean whose mother and father were killed by American bombs in the Inchon landing, may find a foster home with two Southern California Marines.

The immigration service showed a letter today from Corps. Gordon M. Paris of San Pedro and Al Poy, Lomita, asking permission to bring Butch back to the U. S. because he saved their lives.

Butch warned them that Red troops were near, the letter said. They asked him how he knew.

"Because the crickets have stopped chirping over there in the rice field," Butch said.

The Marines turned a machine gun on the rice paddy and smoked out a squad of Red Koreans.

Legion Head Demands Ousting Of Acheson

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6. (AP) —National Commander George N. Craig of the American Legion demands the removal of Secretary of State Dean Acheson on the grounds that he "has lost the confidence of the American people."

Craig, who arrived here yesterday for the Legion's annual convention opening Sunday, said "many resent Acheson's defense of leftists and even persons convicted of perjury."

"His utility in government has ceased. He should be removed."

Four-County Singing

M. O. (Jack) Patrick announced today he is expecting many visiting singers at the regular four-county singing Saturday night at the Dunn Methodist Church. Counties in the area which are participating are Scurry, Fisher, Nolan, and Mitchell.

Rock veins at or near the surface in the Belgian Congo produce cobalt, tin, zinc, lead, cadmium, silver, gold and diamonds.

New Equipment Is Available In Soil District

A whirlwind terracing machine, a two-row grass and legume planter and an eight-foot grass seed drill are among the latest pieces of equipment purchased by the Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District board for use in this district.

"The district-owned equipment is available for conservation use to all farmers within this soil conservation district," stated Charlie Hunnicutt, chairman of the board.

It is available for rent, the fee being used to cover maintenance, depreciation and operating costs. This is in compliance with the regulations set by the State Legislature which appropriated the funds for use in soil conservation districts.

John Zalman, Jr., a member of the board who lives six miles south of Hermleigh, is in charge of the equipment. He reported that currently there is considerable demand for the two-row planter. Those wishing to use the equipment should contact or write Zalman in Hermleigh.

The whirlwind terracing machine is available at a rate of 65 cents an hour plus $1 per day for each day kept. Rental on the two-row planter and the grass seed drill is 40 cents per acre plus $1 per day. This equipment should be picked up and returned to the Zalman farm.

The board anticipates further purchase of machinery needed by the farmers and ranchers and have asked for additional funds for this purpose.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 2,075 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure after 30 minutes was 3,300 pounds. Top of the Ellenburger is at 7,787 feet.

Elevation is 2,326 feet. This exploration had previously showed possibilities of making oil in the lower Strawn lime when it had a recovery of 455 feet of clean oil and 300 feet of heavily oil-and-gas-cut drilling mud during a four-hour drillstem test at 7,231-56 feet.

There was no water in that zone. Top of the Strawn lime is at 7,188 feet.

Humble Oil & Refining Co. No. 1 W. C. Dulin, Southeast Lynn County exploration, appeared to have found for small commercial production from the upper zone of the Mississippian lime.

The project had been treated with 1,000 gallons and with 3,000 gallons of acid through casing perforations at 9,020-9,080 feet.

After the last injection it swabbed 23 hours and recovered a total of 194 barrels of fluid. There were 99 barrels of new oil, 60 barrels of load oil, and 35 barrels of formation water. Swabbing is continuing.

Operator probably will install a pump and try to complete the project from the Mississippian pay.

It is located 2,038.6 feet from the west and 1,980 feet from the north lines of section 431, block 9, EL&RR survey.

The project is the northwest offset to the Magnolia No. 1 Garza Land & Cattle Co., a flowing producer from the Pennsylvanian Lime. Humble No. 1 Dulin failed to get any possibilities in the pay found by the Magnolia discovery. It drilled on to the Ellenburger and made water in that zone above a total depth of 9,373 feet.

Operator then plugged back to test the Mississippian. Casing was cemented at about 9,200 feet.

Magnolia Petroleum Co. No. 1 Ella M. Conrad, southwest Borden County wildcat, two and one-half miles east and slightly south of the Reinecke-Canyon field, topped the Pennsylvanian reef at 7,262 feet, to give it a datum of minus 4,927 feet on that market.

It drilled to 7,277 feet and samples showed slightly oil strain and slight porosity.

A drillstem test was attempted at 7,267 - 7,277 feet. A hole was found in the drillpipe and there was no test.

Operator is conditioning hole and will try another test tomorow.

Location is 360 feet from the north and west lines of section 79, block 25, Lavaca Navigation Co. survey.

The prospector started to go to 8,500 feet to test the Ellenburger. If it should develop commercial production before reaching that formation, it probably will stop and complete.

R. J. O'Brien, Jr., and associates of Shreveport, La., have abandoned their No. 1 Long, as a wildcat failure in Northwest Garza County. It is four miles east of the Buenos field.

NINTH PHILLIES

Joe Collins is playing first base, Gene Woodling in left field, and Tom Ferrick pitching for the Yankees.

Hamner clouted Ferrick's first pinch between DiMaggio and Woodling in left-center for a double. Only a bare handed stop by DiMaggio prevented Hamner from stretching it.

Seminick bunted a low pop fly to third which Johnson could have caught. He elected, however, to let it bounce but Hamner sneaked into third safely and Johnson barely threw out Seminick at first. It was scored as a sacrifice.

Goliat was purposely walked.

Whitman, a lefthanded hitter, batted for Konstanty.

Whitman bounced to Collins whose throw to Berra nipped Hamner at the plate. Goliat advanced to second on the play.

Ralph Cabellero went in to run for Goliat.

Mapes came in to get under Waitkus' fly in short right.

No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

NINTH YANKEES

Mapes struck out.

Woodling beat out an infield single to Bloodworth who fumbled the tricky bounder.

Bloodworth made a diving slap of Rizzuto's liner but could not hold the ball and Woodling reached second on the single.

Coleman singled to left-center between Mayo and Ashburn scoring Woodling with the winning run.

Snyder Fire Pumper Team Wins Contest

Fire Chief N. W. Autry and about 20 Snyder volunteer firemen took honors in Rotan yesterday at the Mid-West Fireman's Association semi-annual meeting as they outraced others with a six-man pumper team to win with a time of 22.8 seconds.

Members of the team were W. J. Ramsey, D. T. Pierce, Bill Brown, Bill Hardy, Gerald Sheid, and Doug Burney.

Following Roby's 14.7 time on the two-man hookup, the Snyder team placed second with 15.5. Hamlin's six-man hookup team took that race in 14 seconds and Snyder did not place.

Approximately 300 volunteer firemen took wives and visitors to the meeting as the Rev. Earl Creswell of the North Side Baptist Church, Snyder, opened activities with his invocation.

Autry, past president of the association, made the response to the welcome address given by L. E. Newton, formerly of Rotan. Principal speaker of the afternoon program was Col. H. R. Brayton of College Station, supervisor of the Fireman's Training Schol, who made a talk on butane fires.

Five hundred people were present to feast at the chuck wagon supper at the swimming pool grounds in the evening and to dance at the VFW hall after the supper.

Cities who had representatives there other than Snyder were Rotan, Roby, Baird, Cisco, Albany, Post, Merkel, Stamford, and Colorado City.

Hamlin was decided as host for the next meeting in April.

Man Is Beaten, Then Thrown From Car

A 34-year-old oil field worker, Carl Jim Pettis, formerly of Bastrop, La., was found beside a highway here last night badly beaten and believed robbed.

Pettis told officers of the sheriff's department this morning that three men, whom he met yesterday afternoon took him in an automobile last night, beat him unconscious and threw him out of the car.

One of the men, Pettis told officers, saw him cash a check for about $75 in a store north of the square, followed him to the west side of the square, then asked him to accompany him in a taxicab to a place north of town where they met with two other men and drank some whisky and beer.

Pettis said he did not know the men nor the man who found him beside the road and took him to motors attracted enough buyers today to bring the stock market up to a slightly higher price level.

There was no rush to buy, as was the case yesterday but there was a steady and continued demand that resulted in the addition of comfortable fractions.
