THOUSANDS CELEBRATE LABOR DAY HERE

Railroad Shopmen Will Accept Offer

WASHINGTON, Sept. .—President Wilson's proposal for a wage increase of four cents an ho pending reduction in living costs will be accepted by railroad shopmen now ing a strike vote, it is indicated in early returns received at the American deration of Labor.

"About one-third of t 7,000 locals have voted and reported," said Secretary John Scott of the lway department. "There seems to be a strong sentiment against strike on now, especially on the part of those men who walked out last month a lost several days. Several locals in Chicago voted strongly to accept President's proposal."

KNOXVILLE IS GUARDED BY 1200 TROOPS

Parade the Streets Ready to Quell Any Renewed Attempts At Race Rioting

KNOXVILLE, TENN., Sept. 1.—Twelve hundred Tennessee national guards were patrolling the streets here today ready to quell any renewed attempts at race rioting which resulted in the death of seven and the wounding of scores during Saturday night and Sunday.

Troops are distributed in eighteen points throughout the city and machine guns have been placed in positions where they could rake streets if it should become necessary.

The rioting followed the storming of the jail by a mob who was after a negro charged with murdering Mrs. Bertis Lindsey.

Stores Are Looted.

Hardware stores and pawn shops were looted of firearms. Windows were smashed, doors demolished and the places ransacked. The jail and sheriff's residence were stormed by a mob about a thousand strong Saturday night. Sporadic disorders broke out again yesterday and continued for several hours. Two negroes and one white man were wounded yesterday in renewal of the rioting.

Special police and deputies under Police Chief Haynes, supplemented by reserves, were cooperating with the soldiers.

A special session of the grand jury has been called for Wednesday to probe the rioting.

Parade Called Off.

Today's parade of union labor was called off. All candidates for city offices who have been campaigning during the past few weeks have cancelled their speaking engagements for today. Police were compiling an accurate list of dead and injured. Lieut. James W. Payne of Providence, Ky., who directed the machine gun fire early Sunday morning, and Private Pete Henderson, were among those killed.

Many bodies of negroes were removed during the rioting by relatives and friends and an accurate list of negro dead is difficult to obtain. More than two score whites were injured.

Earl Lindsay, husband of Mrs. Gertie Lindsay, Arkon, Ohio, the woman whose death was the cause of the rioting, arrived here this morning. Mayes, the negro charged with killing Mrs. Lindsay has been positively identified by Mrs. Ora Smith, a cousin of the dead woman, and is in jail at Chattanooga. Mayes denies the charge.

Police today were searching for twelve prisoners who were released from the county jail early Sunday by the mobs.

NEGRO IS LYNCHED IN LOUISIANA FOR ATTACKING WOMAN

BOGALUSA, LA., Sept. 1.—Trailed by bloodhounds, caught and identified by a white woman as the man who attacked her on Saturday night, Lucius McCarty, negro discharged soldier, was lynched by a mob of a thousand men late yesterday. McCarty's body was then tied to an automobile, dragged through the streets and burned in front of his victim's home.

McCarty was captured by a sheriff's posse. The mob surrounded the officials and took the prisoner to the outskirts of Bogalusa.

REPORT CLUE TO MURDER OF R. J. COOPER

Police Declare That Two or More Were Connected With Tragedy.

NASHVILLE, TENN., Sept. 1.—"Robin J. Cooper was killed by two or more men and the murderers will soon be apprehended," was the statement made by Chief of Police A. J. Barthell today. Barthell did not reveal the theory upon which the police were working. It was understood, however, that the investigation so far tends to disprove the theories at first advanced that he was the victim of bootleggers or that blackmailers were responsible for his death.

Much importance is attached to a statement of a house girl in the Cooper home who declared that on Thursday night she heard a man calling, "Cooper, Cooper!" just before Cooper left his home on the fatal automobile ride, indicating that the caller was some more or less intimate acquaintance. The identity of that caller and the significance of a remark made by Cooper as he left in his automobile that "If you had asked for more, you could have had it," are believed to be the all-important questions involved.

Mr. Cooper's funeral was held today. Mrs. Cooper, who was in Evanston, Ill., at the time of the death of her husband, arrived yesterday with her father, Milton H. Smith of Louisville, Ky.

AMERICAN CITIZEN REPORTED KILLED BY MEXICAN BANDITS

EL PASO, TEX., Sept. 1.—Adam Schaeffer, an American citizen, was killed by Mexican bandits at his mine in the state of Zacatecas, August 28, according to a telegram received by the American Smelting & Refining Company here today. Schaeffer was an independent mining operator and was 35 years old.

FEDERAL DISTRICT COURT WILL CONVENE TOMORROW

The stage was all set Monday for the opening of federal district court here Tuesday. Court convened Monday morning but immediately recessed until Tuesday because of Labor Day and the barbecue at the old Goodnight ranch.

Judge W. R. Smith arrived Sunday night from El Paso. His secretary, F. P. Harrington, has been here for several days.

W. R. Harrell, assistant United Stats attorney, also has arrived. Louis C. Maynard, U. S. district clerk, is expected Tuesday as is W. P. Stokes, chief deputy U. S. marshal.

Federal court will be in session here for at least a month.

SISTER ANXIOUS TO LOCATE G. LANE

HOUSTON, TEX., Aug. 26.—At the request of Mrs. K. M. Pellett of London, England, who fears that some disaster has befallen her brother, British Consul Barnes at Galveston is endeavoring to locate G. Lane, who Mrs. Pellett says is a ranch owner somewhere in the state of Texas.

Mrs. Pellett wrote Consul Barnes that she had not heard from her brother for many months and feared he had met with misfortune.

FEARING MOB VIOLENCE POLICE ARE GUARDING NASHVILLE JAIL

NASHVILLE, TENN., Sept. 1.—Fearing mob violence police today placed extra guards around the jail in which they are holding William Baggett, widower, who yesterday is alleged to have confessed killing his stepdaughter, Miss Lillian Carver, because she refused to marry him.

According to Baggett's story, he shot the girl Saturday night from ambush on a country road over which she was driving with David Davenport, whom she had promised to marry. He watched, he told police, while the girl died in Davenport's arms.

Davenport, who was arrested following the shooting, was released yesterday.

GREAT CROWD WITNESSES WHITE SOX-TIGER GAME

DETROIT, MICH., Sept. 1.—The greatest crowd that ever attended a morning ball game in Detroit packed Navin Field long before the first game of the White Sox-Tiger series was called this morning and by the time play started more than 25,000 fans packed the stands and playing field. Williams, who was knocked out of the box in Cleveland yesterday, was sent in by Gleason to essay a comeback. Dauss started for the Tigers.

Conference of Labor and Capital Will Be Called by the President

By W. S. FERGUSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Announcement by the President of the date on which he will call a conference of representatives of capital and labor for a complete discussion of relations between the two and putting the whole question of wages upon another footing, is expected before the departure of the President on his transcontinental tour Wednesday.

The date, it was believed today, will be set for soon after the Presidents return—probably early in October.

While the initial announcement of the President, made in his Labor Day statement, did not go as far as some advocates of the "round-table" conference desired, it was generally accepted as the first step toward working out a solution of the tangled economic and industrial conditions.

Hope for Agreement.

Basil M. Manly, joint chairman of the War Labor Board with William H. Taft, who first advanced the "round table" plan, today declared he had strong hopes that the conference to be called by the President "will result in substantial agreements being reached, not only on the direct relations between capital and labor, but upon practical means of combatting the high cost of living."

It was generally believed that the President's statement would give labor leaders great support in gaining acceptance of their program of moderation by the rank and file of workers throughout the country. With such a conference pending it was felt that the threatened steel strike might now certainly be averted; that while the steel workers might not gain an immediate conference with the steel corporations officials, which they were demanding, they are assured of a hearing in the general conference the President will call.

Danger Greater Than War.

In addition to the renewed appeal for cooperation by every one in the right on the high cost of living, the President recognized the unrest in the mass of labor. Pointing out that the country is facing a danger "greater than war," he expressed the hope that workers will endorse the position of their leaders "and thereby move with the government instead of against."

No intimation as to the plans the President has in mind was forthcoming today. It is assumed the names of those to be invited to the conference will be made public in a subsequent announcement fixing the date. The belief is such plans as may be adopted may be the outgrowth of the exchange of ideas about the "round table" rather than the approval of any preconceived program.

SUSPENSION OF STRIKES SUGGESTED AS MEANS OF REDUCING PRICES

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Suspension of strikes for a period of six months, or for such time as President Wilson may require to reduce the high cost of living was urged in a report made public today by the Cost of Living Committee of the New York State Federation of Labor.

In making its recom[illegible] which was submitted adop[illegible] American Federation of La[illegible] bor unions generally thro[illegible] country, the committee al[illegible] that no new strikes be c[illegible] the six months period, e[illegible] that may be necessary to re[illegible] ers of intolerable oppression.

PARADE RECORD ONE FOR CITY; LAY CONER STONE OF THE TEMPLE AND CELEBRATE AT CITY PARK

"Didn't know there were so many carpenters in Texas."

The line of parade was more than two miles in length and countermarched on its own trail, the head of the line doubling into Scott avenue long before the last of the procession had passed the Times building.

The decorations were equal to anything ever seen in the city.

The day was perfect, the early shower having laid the dust and the light clouds tempering the sun's too ardent rays.

The colored section of the parade was one of the most conspicuius in the line of marchers

Union workers of Wichita Falls, you did yourselves, the city and the cause of labor the highest credit.

The first day of autumn pronounced by the laws of the nation to be "labor's own," dawned brilliantly this morning in smiling recognition of the efforts of the committees to give the hosts of Union Labor in this district the time of their lives, and contributing its genial approval and assistance in providing the perfect day. Members of the various organizations from north, east, south and west began to arrive by the early morning trains, all of which brought hundreds of men who were to help swell the monster parade and with them were their wives and children, thoroughly imbued with the holiday spirit and bent on being a part of the program from start to finish.

The main event of the day was laying of the corner stone of the fine new temple now in course of erection, which is to be built and owned entirely by the union organizations of this district, a worthy edifice that is to cost $50,000 and be a credit to organized labor and this vigorous and rapidly growing metropolis.

Successful Year.

This year is peculiarly significant to workingmen in Wichita Falls. Never before have they been seen so strong in numbers, so thoroughly organized and so prosperous through constant employment at the highest wages ever received in their experience. The constant expansion of the oil fields which is ever swelling the flood of fortune pouring into the business channels of the city, gives assurance of a greater building activity and more labor employing enterprises, and the contracts now existing between contractors in various lines and the locals here mean a continuation of remunerative work for all who are now embraced in the forces of unionized labor. For this reason the faces of the happy throng that surged through the streets and overflowed the big city park across the river, wore the smile that refused to come off, and thorough contentment ruled the big doings till the curtain of night, the symptoms of nearing dawn or the outgoing trains gave notice that all good things must come at least to a temporary rest.

Business Suspended.

As all business was suspended there was no possible excuse but "sick in bed", to keep any union man out of the line of march, and no such turnout of man power was ever seen in the streets of this city before. The various trades vied with each other in putting the greatest percentage of their membership in the parade, and the aggregation of combined "brains and brawn" was the most inspiring sight union labor ever witnessed in North Texas. It is estimated that between 4,000 and 5,000 men were lined up for the march, not to mention hundreds of those whose assigned duties kept them busy at the park or elsewhere, all taking some important part in the wonderful program.

Corner Stone Laid.

A challenge of labor to the brutal elements of capital, a demand from labor that capitali treat it justly and that the cost of living be materially l[illegible]ered were made this morning when the cornerstone of the Labor Temple on Travis st.—the "foundation stone of labor's new era in Wichita Falls" the Rev. H. F. Draper, speaker of the day, termed it—was laid.

A vast crowd of people—labor and its constituents—packed itself into the street before the [illegible]ple and sat huddled about the front end of the foundation of the building, and frequently Dr. Draper was interrupted by applause, while the few remarks of J. B. Marlow, who actually laid the stone in place, assisted by Harry Awker, president of the bricklayers' local, won spontaneous applause.

Deposits in Stone.

Contained in the stone were the address of Dr. Draper, the histories of the Trades Council of the Carpenters and Joiners No. 977; of the iron workers, the painters and the line of march of the Labor Day parade, together with the numerous union organizations taking part.

Music by a band enlivened the occasion, while its martial airs added to the spirit of patriotism which seemed to prevail.

Upon the stone is chiseled the following:

Labor Temple.

Building Committee
L. B. Wilson, Chairman
Jack Prather, Secretary
F. M. Willis — W. L. Wells
J. L. Good — B. O. Howell
Lee E. Dalton

Immediately following the ceremonies at the temple, the parade started down Seventh-st.

Open With Prayer.

Dr. Draper opened his address with an eloquent prayer. He asked divine blessings upon the host of labor who had come to pay tribute to the day, saying that labor came together as the children of God, the people of the earth, on this day, to commemorate the activities of mankind. He also asked divine blessings upon the American Federation of Labor and upon all the workers of the world, for they strive, he said, for the betterment of mankind, the establishment of brotherly love and the uplift of humanity. He asked blessings upon the trades council and the workers of Wichita Falls.

A brief history of labor and of unionism was recited by Dr. Draper. He declared that posterity will look back upon this day with pride and reverence and that they will pay tribute to the men—to labor—which brought them prosperity and happiness.

Early Unions.

There were actually unions in the historic days of Rome and Greece, said Dr. Draper. Workers of that era united, as do workers of today, for protection from the mightier power. Through the middle ages the organizations of the artisans grew, although, at that time, said the speaker, they were "but as children wandering in the darkness."

But because of the ceaseless warfare about them, traces unions became more and more necessary as the artisans got together in protection, believing that in union there is strength.

He turned back the pages of labor's history, figuratively, and took his hearers through the times in Europe when its growth was most pronounced, telling of labor's desires for union immediately after the French revolution and in Germany just at the time Martin Luther was at the apex of his renown.

Federation Organized.

It was in 1886, with the organization of the American Federation of Labor in Ohio that labor first obtained a strong foothold in America, declared the speaker. Previous to that, there had been unions, but they were weak and separated.

"These men were forced to organize," said Dr. Draper. "Men had been slaves of commercialism. Capital had its heel upon their necks. Labor had to unite because the men above them, above them in power and authority, but not as men—had combined. Labor acted in self protection.

"Today we have 115 international unions, of nearly 3,500,000 members with a constituency of 20,000,000 people."

Tribute to Carpenters.

A tribute was paid to Carpenters and Joiners 977, the first union organized in Wichita Falls. The carpenters organized in 1906, when wages

PACIFIC FLEET PASSES THRU GOLDEN GATE

Forty-Two Grey Giants of American Navy Pass In Review.

GREAT ENTHUSIASM IS MANIFESTED ON ARRIVAL

Thousands Witness The Spectacular Scene at San Francisco Today.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—A flag flung covenant of protection, forty-two grey giants of the American navy, steamed from their overnight anchorage off Bolinas Bay, north of San Francisco and, piloted personally by Admiral Hugh Rodman, commander in chief, swept through the Golden Gate and passed the famous old battleship Oregon, the reviewing ship in a marine spectacle which thrilled a multitude of spectators. It was the revie here of the new Pacific fleet before Secretary of the Navy Daniels and other national, state and municipal officers. In addition to those in the review a train of nine supply and fuel ships later entered the harbor and cast anchor.

From every hill and structure overlooking the broad sweep of the harbor, countless thousands had gathered since early morning to view the pageant. Not since May 1, 1908, when the Atlantic fleet visited this port on its tour of the world, had San Francisco been spectator to a naval review.

Homs In Pacific Waters.

Not a few thrilled at the thought that the fleet had come to make its home in Pacific waters.

Majestically the long line of war craft crept carefully through the storied Golden Gate, past the Presidio military reservation, and the once impregnable old Fort Point, whose thick brick walls the engineers of Civil War days built to withstand the solid shot of enemy frigates; past the modern Forts Miley and Winfield Scott, on the San Francisco side of the harbor, and under the long range guns at Fort Baker and Baury, hidden in the Golden brown hills on the opposite shore, where Mount Temalpais stands sentinel to the Golden Gate.

Passes the Oregon.

As the battleship Oregon was passed by the leading dreadnaughts, Telegraph Hill, a landmark famed for its association with San Francisco's early history, came into view, its rocky slope thickly crowded with sightseers. Thence, the fleet swung into the upper bay past Goat Island and came to rest while the harbor resounded with the shrilling of whistles from scores of welcoming craft.

The formalities began with the anchoring of the Oregon, commanded by Captain Ivan Wettingell, off the old exposition grounds—now the Marine, at ten o'clock. About 11 Mr. Daniels and the secretarial reviewing party boarded the historic vessel. As the secretary reached the quarter deck and the naval form for his advent was fulfilled, the big guns at Fort Scott, boomed a salute of nineteen guns.

Long Line of Fleet.

By this time a long line of fleet—coming single file—was approaching the gate, led by the dreadnaught New Mexico and with the dreadnaughts Mississippi and Idaho following at intervals of 700 yards.

The next group, commanded by Rear Admiral R. E. Coontz was composed of his flagship, the dreadnaught Wyoming and the dreadnaughts Arkansas, New York and Texas, following, preserving the distance of 700 yards between ships.

Vice Admiral Clarence S. Williams on his flagship, the pre-dreadnaught Vermont, led the next group, which also included in this order the pre-dreadnaughts Nebraska, the armored cruiser North Carolina, the pre-dreadnaught Georgia and the cruiser Seattle.

Rear Admiral Henry A. Wiley commanded the group in his flagship, the cruiser Birmingham in the destroyers Ludlow, Crane, Anthony, Williams, Chauncey, Sproston, Lamberton, Breese, Ramsey, Radford, Gamble, Montgomery, Rathburne, Buchanan, Elliott, Waters, Dent, Philip, Yarnall, Tarbell, Wickes, Zoosley, Lea, Ward, Boggs, Walker, Thatcher, Crosby and Palmer. They were preceded at intervals of 350 yards.

AUTOMOBILE INTRODUCES NEW LANGUAGE IN TEXAS

AUSTIN, TEX., Sept. 1.—The automobile has introduced a new term into the Texas vocapulary, according to a resident of West Texas, who was in attendance upon the railroad commission hearing in Austin.

In this land of distance and pastures there are many gates across the roads, which traveling salesmen with their small automobiles have voted more efficient means of reaching their towns, in many cases, than are the railroads. And in many western hotels, according to the teller of the story, may be seen a sign stating that a car traveling from there to a certain town desires a "gate opener." This gate opener is given a free ride, with the understanding that he alight to open and close all gates encountered.

FOR ALMOST A YEAR GIRL HAS PLANNED TO AVENGE ALLEGED WRONG

CHICAGO, Sept. 1—How for nearly a year Miss Marie Meyers, 35, stenographer in the office of Charles W. Richards, 54, manufacturer, planned to avenge alleged wrongs by her employer, was revealed in her diary discovered by police and made public today, following finding of the bodies of the man and woman in her apartments Saturday night.

Clenching a revolver in one hand, Miss Meyers' body lay close to that of Richards. Police believe she shot him to death and then took her own life after writing her last diary page.

"I m not the only girl he downed," she wrote under date of several months ago. One day last week she wrote she could not "stand any more of his abuse."

On the last page of the book was written an antidote for poisoning.

TWENTIETH CENTURY LIMITED WRECKS; ENGINEER KILLED

CLEVELAND, OHIO, Sept. 1.—The Twentieth Century Limited ran into a freight wreck at Painesville, Ohio, about 30 miles from here last night, resulting in the death of Thomas Sankey, 40, the engineer and a severe shaking up for the passengers. The freight train, running on parallel tracks, buckled and several cars piled over in the way of the flyer.

Prompt application of the brakes by Sankey prevented a more serious crash railroad officials said. Flying timbers, it was believed, killed the engineer

R. D. LANEY IS ELECTED MAYOR OF BURKBURNETT

At a special election held in this city last Tuesday, a mayor and alderman was elected to fill the unexpired terms of these offices made vacant by resignations.

R. D. Laney was elected mayor by one majority, the vote for mayor being: R. D. Laney, 48, and O. Iohoefner, 57.

M. Clendenin was elected alderman by a majority of five votes, the vote being M. Clendenin, 50, and Dave Thorne, 45.

The election was hotly contested during the day and a scattering vote was cast from the time the polls were poen until they closed. The small vote cast is accounted for by reason that qualified voters are scarce in Burkburnett, the large population moving here since poll tax assessments were made.—Burkburnett Star.

FIFTEEN CARS OF CEMENT ARRIVE TO RELIEVE SITUATION

Fifteen cars of cement arrived in the Denver yards at 9:45 this morning, and although it is a legal holiday permission was secured for delivery to the various consignees, and this will aid materially in relieving the famine that has been in evidence for many days." said M. E. Cox this morning.

"This makes about 35 cars that we have succeeded in releasing out of the jamb at Fort Worth since last Thursday, the result of constant effort for several days past. The highest praise should be given to L. C. Mahoney and R. W. Foster, his assistant, who have worked night and day in getting a knowledge of just where the cars were and when we once located them it was a matter of pressure only, to get them released and transferred to the Denver. We found that the Texas Pacific had laid off 48 cars between Fort Worth and Weatherford, in clearing the Fort Worth yards. I feel certain that W. T. Peyton, the new director of all Fort Worth terminals, will bring order out of the confusion there, and that much better service will be received on cars for Wichita Falls than before his advent. I found that the sidings of the Denver from here to Fort Worth have been cleared up to a great extent, and the congestion considerably relieved."

EXPECT ADAMS TO SUCCEED ODELL AS DISTRICT ATTORNEY

That Jed C. Adams of Dallas will succeed W. M. Odell who has resigned as United States district attorney for the northern district of Texas, was the talk in federal and political circles here today.

Mr. Odell's resignation was announced Sunday.

Should Mr. Adams receive the appointment he would hold office for four years, even should the republican party swing into power in 1920. It is expected that an appointment will be announced within a few days, and federal officials here expect it to be Mr. Adams.

WONDERFUL ADVANCE MADE BY HAWAII IN MORE RECENT YEARS

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Secretary Daniels' formal reception upon his arrival in Hawaii calls to attention the wonderful advance of America's Pacific territory from deepest superstition and heathen practices to a condition of modern civilization epitomized in the state welcome to the secretary of the navy. Less than 100 years ago the system of tabu was in full power there, until the Hawaiian women abolished it.

The superstition of tabu—the word meaning sacred, forbidden and from which comes the English word taboo—held men and women alike in abject slavery, but the bondage of the women was greater. When anything was placed under tabu the penalty for touching was death.

A king or chief was tabu. None dared touch his person or clothing, or enter his home, walk in his shadow or stand erect in his presence. No woman might enter her husband's eating place or partake of food in his presence. Certain of the most delicate and savory of foods were absolutely tabu to women. Girls were taught that such foods were poison to them. From time to time priests declared periods of total tabu when the people were compelled to remain in their grass huts. They could not even bathe. Light, fire or work was prohibited. Dogs and chickens were muffled so that their cries would not annoy the gods.

Are Good Christians.

All this was changed before the arrival of the first missionaries. The Hawaiians now are practically all good Christians. Nevertheless, the missionary work which the Episcopal church took over from the Church of England upon annexation is being continued and will be expanded greatly as a result of the Episcopal nation-wide campaign to marshal the church's entire resources to meet the new tasks laid upon it in the new world era following the war.

Much of the work there will be among the Japanese who are three times as numerous as the Hawaiians, and among the Chinese and Koreans. Hawaii is one of the most cosmopolite of places. Men from practically all nations make their homes there.

It was upon the death of Kamehameha I., called the Great, in 1819, that two of his widows decided to break the strangle hold of the tabu system. Kamehameha's son Liholiho was proclaimed king, and his father's favorite wife, Kaahamanu, was made co-ruler, although Liholiho was a son of Keopuolani. Word of the downfall of idolatry in Tahiti had reached the women of the king's household.

Rules Are Violated.

Kaahumanu struck the first blow during the ceremony by publicly exhorting Liholiho to abolish the tabu system. The same night Keopuolani ate with her son, violating one of the strictest rules of the system. Kaahumanu announced that not only would she break the laws of tabu but that she intended to renounce her country's idols and cease worshiping its gods. Liholiho at last was prevailed upon to aid her. A great feast was arranged to which the king invited many women of high rank. There he formally broke the tabu by eating with them. No terrible calamity followed, such as had been predicted by the teachers of tabu.

Many of the priests urged the king to go still further in his reforms and to overthrow idolatry in the islands. Hewa Hewa, powerful high priest of the war god, declared "there is only one Great God in the heavens" and upheld the king's action. The latter finally gave the order to burn the temples and destroy the idols. It was Hewa Hewa who applied the first torch.

Civil war followed, a party of priests, led by Kekuaokalani, nephew of Kamehameha the Great, who had charge of the national worship. He was killed in a great battle which the liberals won and Liholiho issued a proclamation forbidding the nation to return to idolatry.

This was just a few weeks before the arrival of the first missionaries. The last and most obstinate of the tabus, those relating to Pele, the fire goddess who dwelt in the fiery crater of Kilauea, the world's greatest active volcano, on the island of Hawaii were not broken until four years later when Kapiolani, ruler of a district in the southern part of the island, journeyed to the very brink of the crater and threw stones into the House of Everlasting Burning, the fiery furnace where Pele dwelt, and ate of the forbidden chelo berries sacred to Pele and which first must be shared with her before any one dared to eat.

Since that day, Hawaiians have never returned to the tabus, and idolatry was soon banished forever from the islands.

DECLARES MESSAGE OF CARRANZA WILL BE A NOTABLE ONE

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 1.—Manuel Aguirre Berlanga, secretary of the interior and chief of President Carranza's cabinet, declared in a statement tonight that the President's message which will be read at the opening of the regular session of congress Monday night would be "the most interesting in 30 years and would give newspapers a chance to repair the wrong they had done the country."

The secretary criticized the newspapers for demanding daily official statements from the government on "matters which sometimes take weeks to arrange," and asserted they "aided interventionists by publishing news stories containing errors in facts and editorials based on erroneous premises."

It was intimated in the statement that the President's message would deal at length with matters affecting international relations and outline the government's policy regarding settlements.

CHARGE AMERICAN INVOLVED IN RECENT TAMPICO ROBBERIES

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 1.—Federal authorities here declared yesterday that an American citizen named Polley had been arrested at Tampico and had confessed to complicity in recent robberies of oil companies. His confession involved other Americans, Mexican authorities said. Secretary of State Berlanga issued a statement yesterday preliminary to President Carranza's message to congress which will be delivered this afternoon.

Berlanga declared the statements of the interventionists that Mexico was crushed and that her salvation was hopeless exceptthrough foreign action, were devoid of truth. This was demonstrated, he said, by the large investments being made constantly by foreign interests.

SOUTH'S MOTOR CAR WEALTH PER CAPITA IS FAST INCREASING

While the South does not lead in the number of motor cars owned per capita, the greatest increase in cars bought during the last five years has been in the farm States, with the South well in the lead, according to figures compiled by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

The country over, the increase in the number of cars owned was nearly fourfold, but in the South the increases ranged from five-fold in Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia and New Mexico, to 10-fold in Mississippi and Louisiana, and 16-fold in Oklahoma.

While the Southern States were moving up faster than the rest of the country in the number of new motor cars during the war they still lack a good deal of leading in automobile wealth per capita.

Motor Car Wealth Per Capita.

Based on estimations made by the New York Times, the wealth of the United States in motor cars this spring was $34.20 per inhabitant. The per capital averages range from $11.99 in Mississippi and $11.56 in Alabama to $88.32 in Iowa and $88.84 in Nebraska. Arizona led among the Southern States with a per capita automobile wtalth of $50. Texas was second with $32.61.

Several of the largest manufacturing States, including Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Jersey, rank below Texas in the automobile wealth per inhabitant.

MOVEMENT IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION.

A meeting attended by two thousand negroes and about one thousand whites was held at Austin Sunday night at which the relations between the people of the races was discussed in an effort to promote continued good relations. At this meeting resolutions were adopted declaring opposition to the efforts of outsiders intermeddling in racial relations in the South and declaring that the whites and the blacks of the South were competent to solve their own problems.

Such a movement might well be followed in other communities throughout the state. There is no mistaking the fact that riots in other sections have made the negroes in Texas nervous and excitable and the whites apprehensive. This is a situation that might easily get beyond control.

The better elements among the negroes do not want social equality with the whites and are not in sympathy with leagues and other associations being promoted for that purpose. The better elements of the whites are in sympathy with the legitimate aspirations of the blacks and desire to see them protected in their proper sphere. A disclaimer by the negroes of support to the propaganda for social equality and assurance by whites of a desire to give protection to negroes in their proper rights is apparently needed at this time.

Clay and rock are given us; not brick and squared stone. God gives us no raiment; he gives us flax and sheep. If we would have coats on our backs, we must take them off our flocks and spin them and weave them. If we would have anything of benefit, we must earn it and, earning it, must become shrewd, inventive ingenious, active, enterprising.—Beecher.

It is to labor, and to labor only, that man owes everything possessed of exchangeable value. Labor is the talisman that has raised him from the condition of the savage; that has changed the desert and the forest into cultivated fields; that has covered the earth with cities, and the ocean with ships; that has given us plenty, comfort and elegance, instead of want, misery and barbarism.—McCulloch.

LUDWIGSHAFEN THE SCENE OF A BATTLE FOR INDEPENDENCE

COBLENZ, Saturday, Aug. 30.—French troops are in complete control of the situation at Ludwigshafen, where an attempt to establish an independent republic in the Palatinate appears to have come to a head early yesterday. Two persons are reported to have been killed during the fighting. The followers of Dr. Haas are seeking to make the Palatinate independent from Prussia. They are also accused of desiring to sever the Palatinate entirely from Germany.

were $2 a day and working conditions and hours were very unfavorable, said the speaker. On March 5, 1906, there were 21 charter members. Today this local has more than 1,000 members. They, said the speaker, were the pioneers of unionism here and labor owes to them much.

As early as 1909 a trades council was agitated here, but formal organization was not perfected until 1914.

"Things now have changed and they shall remain changed," said Dr. Draper amidst applause. "Labor organizations and trades councils are not accidents; they are necessities and are founded upon the necessity of man to protect himself and to get a just wage for his hire. Organization gets justice.

Principles Adopted.

"The labor unions feeling the need of moral uplifts have attempted to build churches and conduct services, but have always failed. The church also realizes if it is to carry the Gospel to the masses of people it must co-operate with labor. The federal churches of Christ in America representing thirty denominations and seventeen million members, on December 15, 1912, adopted the following principles of their belief and were ready to morally stand.

"For equal rights and complete justice for all men in all stations of life.

"For the protection of family, by the single standard of purity uniform divorce laws, proper regulation of marriage and proper housing.

"For the fullest possible development of every child, especially by the provision of the proper education and recreation.

"For the abolition of child labor.

"For such regulation of the condition of toil for women as shall safeguard the physical and moral health of the community.

"For the abatement and prevention of poverty.

"For the protection of the individual and society from the social, economic, and moral waste of the liquor traffic.

"For the conservation of health.

"For the protection of the worker from dangerous machinery, occupational diseases, injuries and mortality.

"For the right of all men to the opportunity for self-maintenance, for safe-guarding this right against encroachments of every kind and for the protection of workers and the hardships of enforced unemployment.

"For the suitable provision of the old age of the workers and for those incapacitated by injury.

"For the principle of conciliation and arbitration in industrial disputes.

"For a release from employment one day in seven.

"For the gradual and reasonable reduction of the hours of labor to lowest practicable point, and for that degree of leisure for all, which is a condition of the highest human life.

"For a living wage as a minimum in every industry and for the highest wage that each industry can afford.

"For the most equitable division of the products of industry that can ultimately be devised.

"For the right of employes and employers alike to organize.

"For a new emphasis upon the application of Christian principles to the acquisition and use of property."

Labor and the Churches.

Labor and the churches, said Dr. Draper, have co-operated to get happiness and prosperity for humanity. The demands of labor, he said, are almost identical with the platform of the federated churches, and they two cannot fail.

"Capital is amazed and heathenism stands in awe at the co-operation of labor and the churches and the similarity in their demands," he said.

"If profiteering does not stop, if we are not given a square deal, then labor and the churches will unite and rise up and get justice and a reduction in the cost of living," declared Dr. Draper. He told of a farmer who had sold his garden truck for two cents a pound only to later see it sold by a grocer for 10 cents a pound. "That is profiteering," said he.

"Capital cares for the dollar and not for humanity," he declared, as he read the platform of labor and the things for which it stands. He was loudly applauded.

While the cornerstone was being made ready to place, [illegible] Barlow made a few remarks relative to the high cost of living. He said an appeal had been made to the department of justice and that an investigation was now under way.

"Every time wages have gone up, the cost of living has gone up, too," he said. "There is one thing labor and capital must do and that is to get together and quit jumping on each other, for every time they do the cost of living gets higher."

He told a story to point his statement.

Dr. Draper lead in the Lord's prayer and the offices of the trades council spoke these words as the stone was put in place:

"For these high purposes we come to lay the foundation stone of the Labor Temple to be dedicated to the cause and the upifft of humanity in the name of the American Federation of Labor."

The band played the Star-Spangled Banner and the services were over.

Line of Parade.

At the head of the great procession rode a squad or mounted police, followed by a splendid band which enlivened the march with popular selections that quickened the spirits and footsteps of the sturdy marchers.

First line were the officials of the trades and labor council, representatives of every organization in the city. Then came the mammoth float emblematical of organized labor in its unity, a most creditable creation. Following in the order named were the Structural Iron Workers, Hoisting Engineers, Street Car employes and Sheet Metal Workers.

The Cooks and Waiters float was the second of the artistic conceptions to grace the parade, and attracted much attention and favorable remark. The Cooks and Waiters local marched behind their float and after them in the line were the Barbers' local, Typographical local and Printing Pressmen.

The Auto Mechanics fairly outdid themselves in the preparation of the splendid float which was next in line, and the proud members of the local followed as a rear guard. The Stage Employes Labor Union were next in line.

The railroad men were on schedule with the Switchmens' float, one of the most striking features of the parade. The Switchmen's local, Railway Carmen and Plumbers and Steamfitters locals brought up the rear of the first section.

Second Division.

A second fine band preceded the second division, and after them came the Electricians' float which was a marvel of ingenuity and a most effective feature. Then came the Electricians' local and the Bricklayers and Painters locals.

One of the handsomest floats in the parade was that of the Meat Cutters, next in line of parade, with the members of that local in close order, followed by the Carpenters local, one of the strongest in numbers, the Spanish local, Railroad Truckers and Hod Carriers.

The Hod Carriers float was a fitting finale to the long procession; that is the official procession, but a large number of handsomely decorated automobiles filled with the families and friends of the marchers were strung out for blocks in rear of the parade.

The line of march began near the labor temple, on Seventh street at Travis, passing east on Seventh to Ohio avenue, south on Ohio to Tenth street, west on Tenth to Indiana avenue, north on Indiana to Seventh, west on Seventh to Scott avenue, south on Scott to Tenth, west on Tenth to Lamar, north on Lamar to Seventh and west on Seventh to Travis where the laborer's army was mustered out.

Then followed a grand rush for the waiting automobiles which speedily transferred their heavy loads to City Park and returned again and again until the activities of the scene had been shifted to the amusement grounds across the river.

Features of the Parade.

Given the place of honor at the head of the line the Oil Field Workers local of Burkburnett was represented by a decorated auto with officials of the local carrying the banner of the organization.

The Cooks and Waiters local courteously provided automobiles for the waitresses who represented one branch of the organization.

The American Yeomen presented the gorgeous float that has won prizes on many occasions, one of the richest in design and coloring ever seen on a similar occasion. The Kings and Queens of labor were richly attired in their "robes of office," and the handsome knights and ladies of honor presented a striking ensemble. The Royal equerry presented plumes of red and green to the passing marchers who decorated their headgear there with.

The electrical workers float was a full fledged telegraph line, with the juice turned on, and many branches of their highly technical calling were splendidly exemplified. This float appealed to the crowds who expressed their admiration in no uncertain terms.

The automobile of the Meat Cutters local was a beautiful specimen of the decorator's art, employing the national colors in a number of effective designs. The big car was occupied by a bevy of attractive ladies who were happily esconsed in the bower of hunting.

With its banner flung to the breezes bearing the emblem: "Labor Omnia Vincit," the Carpenters and Joiners local presented the largest line-up in the parade, and that is saying something. Their ranks extended for more than two blocks when compactly massed, and it seemed as if there was no end to the "regimental force."

Alert salesmen, boys and men, pressed the sale of chances on the $1,000 diamond ring at every halt of the line, and drove a thriving trade. If there is anybody in Wichita Falls who has not invested in these privileges it is strange indeed, and the oversight may be remedied at the park this afternoon and upon 8:00 o'clock tonight.

The Delco Light Co. put up a creditable competition with the sun in its fine display.

The colored local, with its own band in a big auto, cut a wide swath with their natty uniforms of blue shirts, jumpers and neat caps. Their turnout was large in numbers and attracted much attention.

Shaw-Chambers had a striking entry in a car whose color announced its progress a block away, the richest of yellows—lemon or orange. A large Edison graphanola was the motif of the symphony in color.

Childress Wins 15-Inning Game Sunday

In probably the prettiest and most bitterly fought pitchers' duel ever to take place here, Childress won the first game of a 2-game series at Katy park yesterday from the locals, 2 to 0 in 15 innings.

Erratic playing by Manager Fullwider and baserunning that was more daring than brainy lost the game for Wichita Falls, although Jones, the hefty young port-wheel hurler for the visitors, deserved to win, for in the 15 innings he allowed but two hits and one of these was a mere freak, which goes for a hit because the ball was thrown to the wrong place on a "fielder's choice."

Petty, the big left-hander recently procured by the locals, was in superb form too, and pitched magnificent ball. With the sort of support back of him that was accorded to Jones, he would have been a winner. He fanned 20 of the visitors and allowed but five hits, only three of them being clean, one a beaten out infield swat and one an error of judgment when Powell threw a ball to short when he should have thrown it to first or second.

Pitchers Battle.

While the pitching was by far the outstanding feature of the game, the defensive play of the Childress team was magnificent. The infield was a vertiable stone wall. With Ray Williams, who won fame as a ball player while holding down first base for the University of Texas Longhorns, as a pivot, Harper at third, O'Neil at short and J. Dickson at second constitute an infield that is fast, snappy, with plenty of ginger, but, withal, accurate and brainy. J. Dickson and Harper got everything that came anywhere near them and they and Williams figured in the greater number of the visitors' put-outs.

For the locals, the catching of Thompson was excellent. He is, by the way, a heady, hard working catcher, and has the ability to steady the pitchers. Roy Bourland's catch of Harper's fly in the eighth was a beautiful play and resulted in prolonging the game, for had it gotten away from him the visitors would have won in the eighth.

Opportunity In First.

In the first inning Wichita Falls had two men on, through Bourland's single and Jones' error, but could not score. In the eleventh after Powell was safe on O'Neill's error and had been sacrificed to second by Graves, he was tossed out by Lewis. In the twelfth with one out, Roy Bourland was hit and stole second. He reached third when Fullwider hit to Harper, who tried to catch Bourland, but failed. There was only one out and a run seemed certain, but Newberry hit to O'Neill, who caught Roy Bourland at the plate. Fullwider was caught and run down when he first tried to score and then went back toward third on a passed ball, ending the local's best chance to win.

After he hit Harper in the first inning, Petty settled down and twirled beautiful ball. He did not allow a base on ball, had magnificent control and looked the winner he would have been had he received good support and a bit of stick work behind him. He pulled out of several rather ticklish holes, caused through erratic fielding.

The visitors made both their runs in the fifteenth inning and neither was earned.

How Runs Were Made.

O'Neill, first up, was safe on Fullwider's error. J. Dickson knocked a dinky little grounder to Powell. Instead of throwing the ball to catch O'Neill or to first to nail Dickson, he hesitated a moment and then threw to Haile, who was not near enough to any runner to tag him. Crow sent a grounder to Petty, who threw O'Neill out at third, making frantic efforts to win the game even despite him teammates' erratic playing. Jones sent a sharp single over Ray Bourland's head, however, and J. Dickson counted with the first run in the long battle. Petty fanned C. Dickson and Harper came to bat. He hit to short, and on the throw Fullwider made another error, his fifth for the game, and Crow counted.

That ended it, for Jones held the locals in the last of the fifteenth as he had held them throughout—helpless.

The same teams play this afternoon and Weiss or Smith will pitch for the Leopards.

The tabulated figures tell the sad story more eloquently than can words, so here you are:

BOSTON SHORTSTOP HAS PLAYED IN 501 GAMES BATTING 1,700 TIMES

BOSTON, Sept. 1.—Statistics compiled here show that Everett Scott, shortstop of the Boston American baseball club has achieved a record by playing in 501 consecutive league games, beginning June 20, 1916. He has been at bat 1,700 times, made 511 hits for a total of 511 bases and attached a batting average of .246 and a fielding average of .966. Previous marks for consecutive playing were set by Eddie Collins when he completed a run of 470 games and by George Burns of the New York National League club, who played 459 games.

GREATEST BOXING EVENT EVER STAGED IN ENGLAND

LONDON, Sept. 1.—Fight talk was the main topic of London sporting conversation today on the eve of one of the greatest boxing shows ever staged in England.

Interest became acut with the determination of training in the camps of Joe Beckett, the British heavyweight champion, and Eddie McGoorty, the American soldier scrapper, who are to meet tomorrow night in a 20 round bout which will feature a card including two British champions, a French champion, two Americans and a crack British heavyweight.

Both Beckett and the American are reported in perfect condition to mill the 20 rounds for a purse of $10,000 and a side bet of $10,000.

Beckett will weigh about 184 while McGoorty will enter the ring about 165.

The champion will enter the ring a favorite over the American.

The winner will probably meet the French champion, Georges Carpentier, in December to decide the opponent for a world's championship scrap with Jack Dempsey.

One preliminary will bring together Charles Ledoux, French bantam champion, and Walter Ross, British champion, in a 20 round go for $10,000.

The other preliminary will be a 10 round melee between the American heavyweight, Fred Fulton and Arthur Tonnley, one of Beckett's sparring partners. This bout is also said to be for a purse of $10,000.

OIL FIELD WORK needs "CATERPILLAR" TRACTORS

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

THE 5 and 10 Ton "Caterpillar" tractors, offered for oil field work are duplicates of the tractors we furnished to the United States and allied governments for the hauling of guns, equipment and supplies.

These tractors that completely changed artillery tactics by their speed, tractive power and dependability, might have been specially designed for oil field work, so well do they fit the conditions. Holt engineers developed special "Caterpillar" trailers, gun mounts and numerous other equipment for army use. The same men have designed a special winch attachment as dependable as every other part of the machine, to provide the quickest power for pulling rods and tubing. This winch has been developed in conjunction with expert oil field operators for the special needs of the industry. It is Holt quality throughout.

CATERPILLAR

The power of the Holt engine and the positive traction of the "Caterpillar" tread take the HOLT TRACTOR and its load out on the new lease—over new fields, through swamps, deep sand, heavy muck and mire and over roads impassable even for horses and mules. Behind it goes a train of trailers, carrying heavy machinery, boilers, lumber and steel for derricks, massive tools for drilling, iron casings or any other supplies necessary to support old and new operations.

Rainy seasons and bad weather cannot hold up drilling or pumping operations when the "Caterpillar" is on the job.

Know all about the "Caterpillar" and what it will do for you. Learn how it reduces production costs by making constant, uninterrupted operation possible. Write today.

GOVERNMENT PLANS PROSECUTIONS ON A WHOLESALE SCALE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The house this week is planning to give to the government's high cost of living campaign, its biggest boost—providing of cash for the department of justice's prosecution of profiteers and hoarders.

A deficiency appropriation bill carrying the additional money through necessary to bring down prices will be placed before the House late in the week. Committee members have already given the assurance that it will carry ample provision for the nationwide campaign against profiteers planned by the department of justice. Sentiment in congress favors wholesale prosecutions as the only means of stopping exorbitant charges.

Two Million Asked. .....

Attorney General Palmer has asked about $2,000,000 for the campaign, most of which will be to pay additional attorneys, United States marshals and secret service operatives to run down the profiteers. Evidence is already being gathered for the prosecutions as soon as congress authorizes the appropriations necessary to carry the fight to a finish.

Supplemental appropriations may be granted other departments for publicity campaigns against prices, but the bulk of the high cost of living fund will be given the department of justice so it "may get right after the profiteers" as Chairman Good of the appropriations committee has expressed it.

J. ARON & CO. CLEARED OF COFFEE HOARDING CHARGE

Members of the coffee trade received with considerable interest and apparently much satisfaction the news that the firm of J. Aron & Co., of 95 Wall street, had been exonerated by the Federal authorities in St. Louis in connection with a charge of hoarding coffee. Libel proceedings, under which 281,840 pounds of coffee were seized in a St. Louis warehouse, were dismissed by United States District Attorney Hensley.

The coffee was the property of J. Aron & Co. and was stored in the S. N. Longs warehouse. At the time of the seizure, representatives of the firm declared emphatically that the libel action instituted a grave injustice to them. They stated that they would be able to prove that the firm was guiltless of the charge which would be demonstrated after certain facts had been submitted to Washington.

Advices from St. Louis indicate that District Attorney Hensley will not relax in his efforts to enforce the anti-hoarding statutes. He added that Aron & Co. had shown that they were not hoarding the coffee in violation of the Lever Food Laws.

It is understood that District Attorney Hensley will prosecute to the limit every case where a violation of the statutes is discovered. Referring to the case of Aron & Co., he said that the coffee against which a libel action had been filed had been in the warehouse since October, 1918, and it, therefore, occurred to him that the holding of this quantity of coffee for such a long time constituted hoarding within the meaning of the law.

The company took up the matter with Washington authorities and also with the District Attorney's office in St. Louis. Facts, which were hitherto not in the possession of either the District Attorney or Washington were presented by the representatives of the Aron company, it was declared by the District Attorney, these facts could not have come into his possession.

According to District Attorney Hensley, he became convinced that Aron & Company had been among the heaviest sellers of coffee in the market. It also developed that the seized coffee was merely the remnant of a large quantity, which had been originally placed in this warehouse for the market, and that this coffee, in connection with large quantities of other stocks was being offered for sale and being sold.

It was stated by District Attorney Hensley that in view of these facts, he was convinced that the owners had no intention of hoarding the coffee, but were really seeking to dispose of it. He added that he dismissed the libel in order that the coffee might be released at once and placed on the market.—Exchange.

Notice of libel proceedings against the above mentioned firm was carried in press dispatches several days ago.

POSTAL EMPLOYES ARE DISCUSSING MORE WAGES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Delegates from nearly every large city of the country were on hand today for the opening session of the 11th convention of the National Federation of Postal Employes. The convention, which officials of the organization said would be the most important it has ever held, will consider chiefly the adoption of a course for securing better wages and working conditions for postal employes. The high cost of living problem also will come in for serious consideration, it was said, with particular attention given to ways and means of dislodging profiteers.

We have some attractive leases in McLennan county, some of which are within 1½ miles of the Harrington well, now drilling at about 2750 feet, which is showing considerable gas at this time.

This is the Well of
Waco Oil Refining Company

We also have some leases in two miles of Fleetwood well which is about 1200 feet deep and which is about 5 miles north of Harrington well. We will only sell a part of our holdings at this time. It is worth investigating if you are in the market for leases.

MISS HULL KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT NORTH OF THE CITY

OTHER OCCUPANTS ESCAPE

Party Had Started Early for a Two Days Outing at Medicine Park.

Miss Mary Hull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hull, 1404 Travis street, was instantly killed early Sunday morning when an automobile in which she was a passenger went off the grade on the Burkburnett road at a turn near the Panhandle refinery. Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Trevathan and children, Violet and Marian, and Dollie Hull and Miss Lola Morgan, the other occupants of the car, were all bruised and Violet Trevathan received a severe cut on the leg, but none of the others were seriously injured.

The party had started for Medicine Park, Okla., for a two days' outing. They had made an early start and daylight was just breaking at the time of the accident. Mr. and Mrs. Trevathan were on the front seat, Mr. Trevathan driving. The car was running at a moderate speed. In the uncertain light the car swerved over too far at the turn and slid off the grade. It turned over its top and fell on its side. Mary, who was on the back seat, was crushed and i. is considered miraculous that any of those in the car escaped serious injury. All were stunned. Men driving two trucks reached the scene a few minutes later and gave first relief.

Mr. and Mrs. Hull with Mr. and Mrs. Welch Morgan and baby were driving a few hundred yards ahead in another automobile. They had gone some little distance and not seeing the lights of the following automobile concluded they had had tire trouble and turned back to help. They reached the place of the accident just as the body of their daughter was being lifted from beneath the wreck. The body was placed in their car and hurried to the city but physicians said that life had been extinct for some time and it is believed that death was instantaneous.

Mary Hull was 22 years old and had the esteem of all who knew her. She leaves her father and mother and three brothers and three sisters and many friends to mourn her untimely death. Her sisters are Mrs. E. D. Trevathan, Mrs. Welch Morgan and Miss Dollie Hull. Her brothers are R. L. Hull who lives at Thornberry and W. H. and Luther Hull who live with their parents here.

The funeral will be held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Hull at 1404 Travis street at 5:00 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. O. L. Powers, pastor of the First Baptist church, will conduct the service. Burial will be in Riverside cemetery.

PVT. FRASIER GAINED BY TAKING ORGATONE

Charles O. Frasier, well known private at the base hospital, Camp Bowie medical department, Fort Worth, in discussing the benefits he had derived from the use of Orgatone with the Orgatone representative at Renfro's drug store a few days ago, said:

"I have gained in weight and strength on three bottles of Orgatone and I now fee' like a different man. I suffered from stomach trouble, nervous indigestion and disordered kidneys for nine years. I got so I could hardly sleep at night, I had no appetite and what I did eat hurt me. I was all run down, had no energy and felt weak and lifeless. My head ached my back hurt all the time and the pain in my back bothered me constantly. I was constipated and felt like I was about half dead, just good for nothing all the time.

"I heard about Orgatone and decided to try the medicine myself. Well, by the time I finished my second bottle I found out what I read and heard about it was true. All my troubles are gone, I can eat anything I want at any time and sleep like a log at night. My appetite is so enormous I can't eat enough to satisfy me and my nerves are steady as a clock. My headache and backache have left me and I'm not bothered with my kidneys or anything else. I couldn't ask for a medicine or treatment to do more than Orgatone has done for me and I'm glad to recommend it."

Stomach and liver trouble and kidney derangement are often caused by catarrhal inflammation of these organs. The dull throbbing headaches, the pains in the pit of the stomach, loss of appetite, no ambition, drepression of spirits and the persistent attack of hard colds are characteristic symptoms of this condition from which so many people suffer.

Orgatone was designed to bring about an astonishing improvement in your spirits, appetite and general condition. Many in this city are now testifying that the treatment reserves your strength and gives you renewed energy and is an unfailing comfort to all who suffer from such troubles.

Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy, but a new scientific treatment absolutely free from alcohol in any form and is sold in Wichita Falls exclusively by the T. F. Young Drug Company, corner Ninth and Indiana, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative.

WILFONG & WOOD SELL BUSINESS TO J. F. LONG OF CITY

The well known establishment of Wilfong & Woods, headquarters for the disciples of Nimrod and Izaac Walton for many years, has been purchased by J. F. Long, who took possession of the premises September 1. The new proprietor will conduct the business on the same lines as formerly, and it is said he contemplates the installation of a steam table for lunch service in addition.

Wilfong & Woods succeeded to the Noble business location on Ohio avenue about eight years ago, having previously been in the office supply and typewriter business for several years. They specialized in sporting goods and outfits for hunters and anglers. The Wichita Falls Gun Club owes much of its prestige to the enthusiasm of Gus Wilfong, who is one of the crack shots of North Texas.

The fine collection of trophies of the chase that have been viewed with much interest by thousands during the years they have embellished the walls and shelving, is to remain as it is, one of the attractions handed down from the days when big game of all sorts was found in the woods, hills and brakes of the northern Texas country.

Mr. Long has been in business here for about 12 years, recently active in the oil game in which he has been quite successful. No announcement has been made regarding the future plans of Gus Wilfong, but he will continue to reside here and remain an active factor in the community's upbuilding. Mr. Woods is to become manager of the Associated Oil Company, one of the largest local companies in the Wichita Falls fields.

W. M. Odell, United States district attorney for the Northern District of Texas, has tendered his resignation to take effect September 15. W. E. Allen, his assistant at Fort Worth, has also tendered his resignation. Both men will enter the practice of law at Fort Worth.

It is reported that Jed C. Adams of Dallas, will be named to succeed Mr. Odell as district attorney. Senators Sheppard and Culbertson are reported to have agreed upon recommending Adams for the place when Mr Odell contemplated tendering his resignation several months ago.

FOUR WOMEN AND TWO MEN ARE ARRESTED IN CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN

In line with the announced intention of the police to make way upon women of qu stionable morals and with their male consorts, six arrests were made Sunday. Four women and two men were taken to police headquarters, where they deposited $10 each, which sums were forfeited in police court this morning.

"You are going to eventually have to leave the city, so you might as well leave now," the culprits were told by Assistant Commissioner of Police Goodfellow. "You will continue to be arrested and fined until we make it so uncomfortable you will not want to remain here."

RECOVER CIGARETTES AND TOBACCO STOLEN FROM A DENVER CAR

Cigarettes and tobacco valued at $480 were recovered by the police in a raid on an establishment in Fourth street Sunday night.

Three men were arrested and Monday were transferred to the county jail. They denied their guilt, but charges will be filed against them.

There were 30,000 cigarettes and 45 cartons of tobacco. All of it had been shipped from Fort Worth and was destined for Burkburnett. It was stolen from a Fort Worth & Denver freight car in the yards here and cached at the place in Fourth street where the police found it.

The men, it was said Monday morning, will be charged with burglary of a boxcar.

OFFICERS BREAK UP AN INTERESTING POKER GAME

Eight men were having a delightful time playing poker Sunday when Officers Morgan, Counts and Johnson swooped down upon them. All eight card players were arrested and haled to the police station in accordance with the new ruling, which forbids policemen assessing fines at the time the arrest is made.

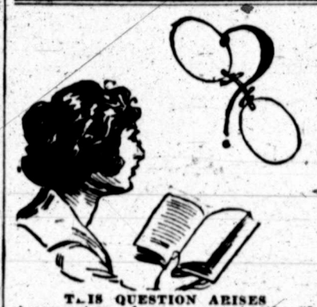

Each man deposited $15 as bail, which, in lieu of fines was forfeited to the city.

AN ADJUSTMENT OF VALUES

We are asked a good many times, "Why the high price of coffee?" There are, of course, many contributory reasons. Among them: The frost damage in Brazil last August. The fact that Europe has had practically no coffee for four years, and the surplus in the United States is practically nil. Prohibition is also a factor. But the REAL REASON is an adjustment of values among commodities. A few years ago Rio sevens sold for 5¾ cents per pound, so did cotton. Now cotton sells for above 30 cents and Rio sevens for twenty-two. Wheat used to fluctuate between sixty-five cents and a dollar, and is now two-twenty. So it stands to reason the Brazilian can't take the old prices for his coffee and get by. Coffee is still the cheapest commodity of consumption—and the last to advance.
