Slight Drop In County's Cotton Acres To 65,672

Only 300 Less Than '59 Total

Mitchell County's cotton acreage allotment for 1960 will be 65,672.4 acres—a slight cut of 301.9 acres from the 1959 total.

The reduction is actually only .53 of 1 per cent, but it continues a downward trend evident for Mitchell 6 out of the last 8 years.

For the 1959 crop, Mitchell County cotton producers had their total acreage sliced approximately 5,000 acres or 7.83 per cent to 65,974.3 acres from the 1958 allotment of 71,421.3.

The '59 acreage allotment was announced Thursday by W. R. (Bob) McGuire, chairman of Mitchell County Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation Committee.

McGuire, at the same time, said that official notices for 1960 individual farm allotments are being mailed out to county growers.

These individual farm notices should reach all operators of "old" cotton farms within the next few days.

Mitchell County's acreage allotment has been cut in all but 2 years since 1954. In '54 the total was lowered to 71,895 acres, then increased to 75,542 the next year.

In '56 the acreage was dropped more than 5,000 acres to 70,257 and then increased in 1957 to 72,462. But it was cut again in '58 to 71,421 and sliced more than 5,000 acres in 1959 to 65,951.

As in 1959, two allotments for 1960-crop upland cotton will be established for each farm, and if marketing quotas are in effect for the crop, each farm operator will have an opportunity to choose the one he wants.

If he elects and complies with the Choice (B) allotment (which is 40 per cent larger than the "A" allotment), his crop will be eligible for price support at not less than 60 per cent of parity.

If marketing quotas are not in effect for the 1960 crop of upland cotton, only the "regular" allotments will be available and price support to cooperators will be available at 50 per cent of parity, as directed by law.

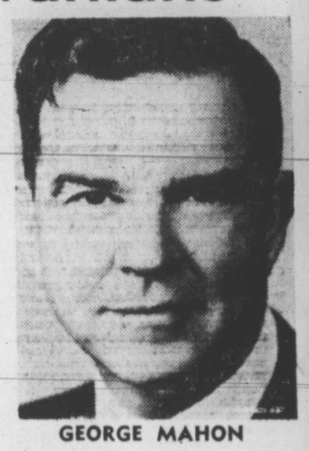

McGuire explained that farm operators who elect the Choice (B) cotton allotment must register their choice at the County ASC office. If the referendum on Dec. 15 approves marketing quotas for the 1960 upland cotton crop, farm operators will then be notified of the deadline for filing such (B) choices.

If the operator intends to grow his cotton under the (A) Choice, no action need be taken. Failure to elect Choice (B) will automatically make Choice (A) effective on the farm for 1960.

Allotments are established for all farms on which cotton was planted or regarded as planted in any one of the past 3 years. The minimum farm allotment is the smaller of the farm's 1958 allotment or 10 acres.

INSTALLATION SPEAKER

Mahon for Kiwanians

GEORGE MAHON

Congressman George Mahon will be principal speaker for the Kiwanis installation dinner here Dec. 15.

Sie Hamm, outgoing president of Kiwanis, announced this week the Colorado City congressman had accepted the invitation of the club.

Mahon, who heads the important House sub-committee on military appropriations, is considered one of the outstanding leaders in Congress. Only this week he pin-pointed serious financial waste in certain military projects.

The installation will be a ladies night event in Civic House.

Heading the slate of officers who will be installed at the dinner for the 1960 term will be Jack Jordan, Sun Oil Company employe.

H. I. Berman, former president of the local Kiwanis organization and now lieutenant-governor of Kiwanis Division 22, will be installing officer.

OVER 28,000 BALES NOW

Cotton Ginning To Top 30,000

Mitchell County cotton ginning Thursday went above 28,000 bales.

And, indications are that the county's 1959 crop will touch 30,000 bales—more than even the optimists predicted a few months ago.

That's the report from 10 gins operating in the county as the plants moved into the final stage of ginning on the current crop.

Actually, the 10 county gins Thursday had turned out 30,132 bales. But 3,375 of those were at the China Grove Gin, where only about a third of the ginning is Mitchell County cotton.

So, counting only 1,375 bales at China Grove as Mitchell cotton, the actual figure for the county Thursday was approximately 28,132 bales.

Operators of the gins estimated approximately 2,500 more bales of cotton yet to move to the gins from county fields. If that is the situation, then Mitchell County's final ginning total will be near 30,670 bales.

Some estimates for Mitchell's crop had been at the 30,000 mark earlier in the year, but most had been shortened after weather conditions of late summer and early fall.

If the ginning continues as predicted by gin operators, then this crop will be the best for Mitchell County in 9 years.

Here is the report by gins:

China Grove — 3,375 bales ginned (2,000 of these from outside the county), about 150 more bales to go.

Buford Co-op 5,700 bales ginned, about 600 more due.

Westbrook Planters — 2,430 bales ginned and 100 more estimated.

Loraine's Guitar — 3,277 bales ginned, 225 more bales expected.

Loraine's Co-op 4,150 bales ginned, 350 bales estimated to come.

Loraine's Producers — 1,278 bales ginned, about 75 more bales estimated.

C-City's Producers Co-op—4,857 bales ginned and approximately 640 more bales estimated to come.

C-City's Guitar—2,123 bales ginned with about 150 more bales expected.

C-City's Swift — 1,790 bales ginned and 200 more estimated.

C-City's Yoakum — 1,152 bales ginned and about 100 more bales in the field.

Colorado City's 4 gins already have turned out 9,872 bales of cotton. The 3 gins in Loraine have processed 8,705 bales.

IN COUNTY JAIL

Leach Faces New Felony Complaint

A few days ago David W. Leach protested what he considered unnecessary newspaper publicity on his prison record.

The 33-year-old police character, who served prison time for assault, theft and forgery, asked the Colorado City Record:

"When are you going to stop picking on me?

"I've paid my debt. I've sweated it out and I'm going straight."

However, Thursday he was in Mitchell County Jail charged with the felony offense of possession of a pistol away from his residence.

It was the second charge filed here against Leach in less than 6 weeks.

And he was in jail because he couldn't post $2,500 bond set in the pistol case.

He had more troubles, too, from the fact that the person who posted Leach's $1,500 bond in the earlier charge 6 weeks ago had notified Sheriff R. E. (Dick) Gregory he was withdrawing.

The weapon's complaint against Leach, which also points out his conviction here in 1954 for assault with prohibitive weapon in a gun battle with police, will go before Mitchell County grand jury next week.

District Attorney Eldon Mahon, when he filed an aggravated charge against Leach in connection with injuries that sent Jerry Joe Free to the hospital, declared his intention then of placing that charge also before the grand jury.

Leach was arrested on the pistol charge by Sheriff Gregory. He was riding in a car with 2 other men on the Snyder-Colorado City Highway.

When the sheriff stopped the car, Leach raised up from the floor, Gregory said.

Gregory, who filed the pistol complaint, said witnesses reported Leach had flashed the weapon Saturday. It was an incident during a period of days when Leach and his wife were having family trouble, according to the sheriff.

Infact, once during the squabbles the wife had run away from Leach in San Angelo and called police there. But Leach had left the scene, only to be picked up a couple of days later between Snyder and Colorado City.

Window Contest Lists 7 Entries

Seven clubs and organizations have entered the city's annual "Light a Window" contest for Yuletide.

The annual event, which has as its theme "Keep Christ in Christmas," offers $100 in prize money with $50 for first place, $32.50 for second and $17.50 for third.

But despite the cash prizes and public applause for the contest in previous Christmas seasons, "Light a Window" entries are less than half the number entered in 1958.

First unveiling of the decorated windows will be Saturday at 3 p. m.—time for the community's Santa Claus parade.

However, to be eligible in the judging and prize money windows still can be prepared by Dec. 12 even if they miss the Saturday date, Dec. 12 is the date the windows will be judged.

Organizations preparing windows already are Zetagathian Study Club, Business & Professional Women's Club, Mitchell County Tuberculosis Association, 1959 Study Club, Girl Scouts, Jaycee-ettes, Kiwanis.

Organizations entering the contest are arranging for use of business display windows on their own this season, according to Rex Felker, Chamber of Commerce manager. Previously, the windows had been assigned by a drawing for participating groups.

Here are the sites for window entries, so far: Zetagathians, Craddock-Witten Ford in 100 block Walnut; B&PW 100 block of E Second in the building formerly occupied by Landau's; TB Association, Max Berman Department Store at E. Second and Elm; '49 Club, Roberts Butane and Appliance, 100 block E. Second; Girl Scouts, 200 block of Walnut at Henry Lewis Tax Service; Jaycee-ettes, 100 block of E. Second at Roberts Butane & Appliance; Kiwanis, 200 block of Walnut in Root Estate building.

"Light a Window" is sponsored by merchants committee of Chamber of Commerce.

DOWNTOWN AT FRANKLIN'S

Pastor's Wife Foils Store Theft Attempt

Sharp eyes of a minister's wife and alertness of a woman policeman teamed together Thursday to thwart a theft in a downtown store.

A team of city police, sheriff, state and constable officers shortly after had taken into custody 2 ex-convicts as suspects in the case.

Held as suspects were a pair identified as David Leon Allen, previously convicted of theft and on bond now in a Fort Worth theft case, and Arthur Ray Stein, also who had served a term for theft.

Police Chief Leon Yeager said both were from Fort Worth.

Officers believe the 2 men worked together in an attempt to steal money from Ben Franklin Store, 185 E. Second, at 11:35 a. m.

But the theft attempt was foiled when Mrs. James Carraway, wife of the Calvary Baptist Church pastor, became suspicious of a man in the Ben Franklin Store.

Mrs. Carraway, a shopper, thought she saw a man bend down and take something near the checking counter of the store.

As she left the store she told Mrs. Luther Harrison Jr., policewoman on parking meter duty.

The man under suspicion then ran to a parked car, then left the car and hurried down an alley, then hurried across the T&P Railroad tracks just south of the business section.

Police were notified and quickly took up the chase, joined by state police, constable and sheriff's officers.

Rev. Carraway, who had chased the suspect immediately after he ran from the store, followed the man south of T&P Depot.

Officers then apprehended the suspect as he attempted to hide among houses.

Found in the car from which the suspect ran was a money sack from Ben Franklin containing $9.50.

Another man, believed to have been in company with the suspect, left the store during the chase.

But Louis Schafer, husband of the police dispatcher on

FROM FAIRVIEW CLUB

Favorite Recipes For the Holidays

Here are two tasty recipes that are favorites of the Fairview Home Demonstration Club.

Mrs. Will Berry gives us her favorite recipes for a pecan pie. All you have to have is 3 eggs, 3 teaspoons butter, ½ cup sugar, 1 cup corn syrup, ¾ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, and 1 cup pecans.

Combine, eggs, sugar, butter, salt and flavorings. Beat until blended and add nuts, syrup and nutmeg. Put into unbaked pie shell and bake in moderate oven for 40 minutes.

Mrs. Ed Strain submits her favorite bread recipe called "Swedish Tea King." The ingredients necessary are 1 package of yeast, 1/8 cup warm water, ¼ cup sugar, 2 and ½ cups flour, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ cup shortening, and 1 egg.

Soften yeast in warm water, scald your milk, add sugar, salt and shortening then cool until lukewarm. Add flour to make a thick batter then add softened yeast, egg and rest of flour. Kneed until smooth then place in greased bowl let rise until doubled in bulk, place in oblong pan (14 by 12 by ½ inches) brush lightly with margarine. Mix together ½ cup brown sugar, ¼ cup chopped dates, sprinkle over dough roll up and seal edges. Place on greased baking sheet. Form a ring of dough, cut into ½ inch slices to within an inch of bottom. Let rise again. Bake in 375 oven 25 to 30 minutes.

While warm frost and decorate with nuts and cherries.

To make icing use ½ cup confectioners sugar (sifted) 2 teaspoons milk and ¼ teaspoon vanilla then beat until smooth.

Visit With Aunt

Mrs. Paul C. Holmes and Miss Helen Fraser visited with their aunt, Mrs. Lewis Miller, over the week end.

Plans were made for the Christmas party which will be in the Baker Hotel Dec. 15.

Attending were Mrs. Steve Stephens, Mrs. O. B. Trulock Jr., Mrs. Bill Holbert, Mrs. W. D. McClure, Mrs. R. E. Greyory Jr., Miss Bertie Lou Dorn, Miss Janice Myers, Mrs. Trammell, Mrs. Robert Barman, Miss Hickman, Mrs. Bennie Franks, Miss Merrill, Mrs. Robert Barman, Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. Burt, Mrs. Austin McCloud, Mrs. John Brand, Mrs. Alan Conley, Mrs. Undell Moore and guest, Mrs. Norris.

VERSE MAKING

Mrs. Trammell Presents Talk

"Verse Making" was the topic of study for the Beta Sigma Phi when they met with Mrs. Eddie K. Norris serving as hostess, Tuesday, Nov. 24.

The program, "Verse Making," was presented by Mrs. James Trammell.

Mrs. Trammell asked "how shall a young poet start?" She then answered by quoting Sir Philip Sidney: "Look in thy heart, and write."

The speaker explained that you will be able to write verse more readily if for some time previous you have been reading other poems.

"Shakespeare imitated Christopher Marlowe; Pope imitated Horace and Dryden; Wordsworth was a deciple of Milton as Keats was of Spencer and Tennyson of Keats. Walt Whitman studied the great rhythms of the King James version of the Bible," Mrs. Trammell stressed.

The speaker stated that there is a verse in the Old Testament which contains all the letters of the alphabet except "J."

"You must make your choice, when it comes to writing something entirely original," Mrs. Trammell said, "whether you will write in free verse or in meter and rhyme. Verse and rhyme offer obstacles and opportunities that cannot be found in free verse," said Mrs. Trammell.

The speaker stated that a verse shows feeling and that it is full of pictures and appeals to other senses besides that of sight.

Miss Jane Merrill called the meeting to order and Mrs. George Smith read the minutes of the last meeting. Miss Mary Hickman gave the treasurer's report and Mrs. C. C. Burt gave a report on the Federation Club meeting.

Big fish grow to be bigger because there are so many persons who fish in the winter who don't know how to get them.

You must fish deep and hit 'em hard!

You can fish deep with minnows, or you can use most any of the new bottom dragging lures and come up with some bass that will hang over the side of the baking pan.

It sounds strange but the fisherman who knows how to take fish off the bottom usually comes up with a string of oversize bass. Those big old bronze backs just simply stay deep in the cold weather. But they must eat.

Although there has been considerable bottom fishing recently, too few fishermen actually know how to bottom fish. They also lack the patience required to work the right areas slowly enough.

It is a slow job, dragging the bottom with an acceptable lure long enough to come up with two or three bass. If those two or three, however, weigh more than a half-dozen small ones, then the time has been well spent.

A good fisherman, who knows the water, can go out almost any time in the winter and come up with poundage. He won't do it normally with topwater lures, however.

Favorable weather for top water work now is out of the picture. It will not return until early spring when the willows begin to green out and insects get on the move again. Bottom fishing definitely is in.

Deep down fishing isn't exactly new. It was done a long time ago with Shannon and Johnson spoons, Hawaiian Wigglers, Chuggers, Bombers and Whopper Stoppers. The pork chunk also was useful.

The lead-head or jig, however, has come along in more recent years. My first introduction to lead-head bottom draggers was with the late Charlie Stracener, one of the best anglers West Texas ever has produced. Along in the middle forties Charlie came out with a modest homemade lead-head that had a few cat whiskers on each side. We fished several times together in Lake Trammel near Sweetwater.

This was more than a fishing trip. I needed some pictures of big bass to illustrate an article I was writing. I was told Charlie knew how to catch them. He did.

Charlie, whose son Bernard now is a good fisherman, tossed his Charlie Bug, as he called it, as far out as he could. The lure just lay there on the bottom for a minute or two. Then he gave it a slight yank.

It took him a half-hour to work his lure back into the boat and most of the time he came in empty. When he did connect, however, it was a big bass. In the course of a day's fishing, he came up with a dozen that would pull the scales to around 50 pounds.

That is good bass fishing!

I still have one of those original Charlie Bugs. It looks nothing like today's lures, but it worked then.

It wasn't too much longer until the Bomber boys at Gainesville brought out the Bushwhacker, which was a lead-head with a blade spinner and the hook fastened to steel wire. There was a bucktail on the hook, and it fooled a lot of bass.

A little more than four years ago I was introduced to the plastic worm on Lake Caddo in East Texas. They were very scarce at the start. You bought them from under the counter, like nylon hose during the war.

About that time another researching fisherman came up with a synthetic black eel, and long slender pieces of pork rind. They were attached to both spoons and jigs.

Some of the worms had spinners ahead, and gang hooks attached to the worm with monofilament. Cast against a cypress bole and permitted to sink down slowly and then retrieved worm crawling fashion, this rig accounted for some good strings. They were small by comparison with the fish caught off the bottom with the jig'n-eels or the worms with jigs.

Finally Dave Hawk improved that method by attaching a worm to his famous Extractor lure instead of a buck tail. That worked so well he tried using hackle on the hook ahead of the worm.

Now Bill Norton of the Sportsman's Products Co., has issued a polka-dot worm in about six delicious colors. This works equally well on the rig or the jig.

Norton also has developed a formula for making these worms from non-attaching plastic, with an impregnated odor. They are completely machine made, which helps keep the cost down.

So here is our recipe for catching big bass during the winter months:

Rig up with a good plastic worm or a long black eel. It can be attached to either a jig or an extractor. Use a fairly heavy line, perhaps a 12-pound test so that you can pull loose from ordinary brush without breaking the line.

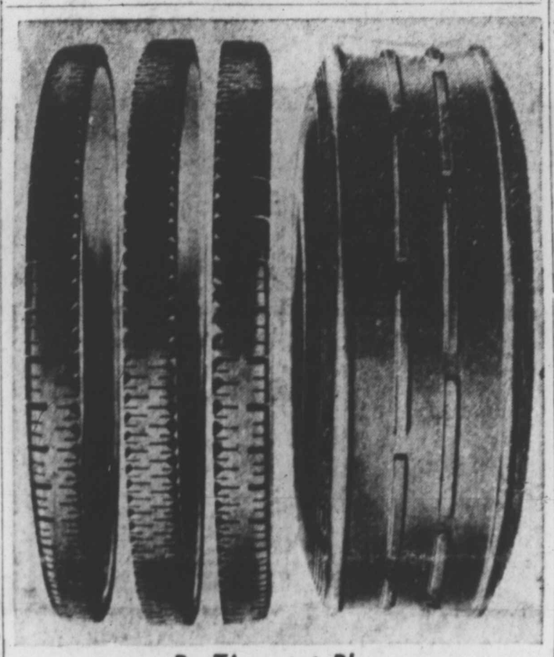

Go to known bass waters, and where the water is fairly deep. The spot where a ledge enters the water is very good. Make your cast out ahead and let it sink down to the bottom, preferably alongside the ledge.

When you are sure the lure has reached the bottom, work your lure very slowly. Just inch it along. Occassionally give enough of a jerk that the lure will rise a few inches off the bottom.

The weighted head of the lure sinks first, which means the tail of the worm or eel will continue to wiggle in the water. A big bass can resist it for awhile, but if the worm continues to look alive after he has had time to study it no fish can stand the temptation.

Frequently you can feel him sucking on the worm. Don't jerk it too quickly. Let him take the entire worm into his mouth and swallow it. When he does that you'll know it. Set your hook well and then bring him to the top. That's where your heavy line will pay off.

Try it for yourself!

Child's Own Language Makes Ideal Present

Word game for youngsters: entertaining and educational.

BY EDNA MILES

Scrabble, in some form, has been played for a good many years. Back in the Victorian era, it was a word game called "Ghost." For ghost stories and horror tales of all kinds were dear to the hearts of Victorians.

In its modern form, scrabble for juniors is played on a two-sided playing board. Printed on the board are interlocking word tiles. Children with larger vocabularies who don't need the help of words printed on the board can play on the reverse side.

The first letter of each word shows a colored illustration of the word itself. This starts the game off in lively fashion.

Children playing on this side get a bonus of bright yellow counters for completing words. They also have the chance to catch each other by holding back

While scrabble is fun, it also gives children a chance to develop their mastery of words. And this is something that every parent is, or should be, concerned about.

Ratliffs, Bodines in Valley Mills Visit

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. (Bob) Ratliff Jr. and 2 children, Kathy and Mike, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bodine were in Valley Mills for a Thanksgiving Day visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sefton Pickens.

They were joined in Valley Mills by Mrs. C. A. Baer Jr. and son, Jim. The group saw Valley Mills defeat Whitney for the regional football championship and tackle for Valley Mills was Steve Pickens, grandson of the Bodines.

IN SAN ANGELO TONIGHT

C-City Drops Second To Steers, 59 to 43

Coach Caddo Matthews' third chapter in "Learn While Playing the Good Ones" will be written tonight in San Angelo.

Both the A and B teams of his Colorado City High basketball team cranked up their bus today for games against AAAA San Angelo High.

It's the third trip by the Wolves in this early basketball season. And No. 3 also against strong AAAA competition.

Matthews was breathing somewhat easier as his squad climbed aboard the bus for San Angelo. Not that the competition weakens, but because his varsity showed definite sign of life Tuesday night in Big Spring.

Saturday night, in their opener, the Wolves journeyed to Midland with only a week's practice under their belts. Midland, already recognized as a AAAA power in West Texas, shot the Wolves dizzy before waltzing off the gym floor with something like an 80 to 17 triumph.

The Wolves took it on the chin again Tuesday night from the Big Spring Steers. But it was no race track and, except for the first quarter, it was almost even up.

That's definitely encouraging to Matthews and his players — a small squad which boasts only one starter from the team that ended C-City's 1958-59 cage season last winter.

Jerry Haley, the lone returning starter, was the big gun in the Wolves' scoring Tuesday in Big Spring as he registered 6 field goals and 4 free tosses for 19 points. Contributing 8 points was Steve Smith, followed by Perry Lovelace with 6.

Leading the Steers in their victory pace was Jay LeFevre, who solved C-City's defense and hit for 25 points, including 12 field goals. He got a nifty assist from Rex Appleton, who hit for 5 field goals and 1 free throw for 11 points.

Cold and frustrated at the start, the Wolves were behind 15 to 4 when the first quarter ended. Haley finally hit from the field early in the second quarter and the Wolves warmed up, but couldn't ever catch up.

In the B team game, C-City lost 42 to 35 as Big Spring B overcame an early Colorado lead. Infact, the local B unit jumped to a 12 to 7 lead in the first quarter and continued with a 17 to 13 advantage at the half.

C-City B still was ahead 32 to 28 at the end of the third quarter, but Big Spring spurted in the final minutes for a 42-35 decision. Line-up for the local B was: Lyons 2-1-5; Moser 2-1-5; Moore 2-4-8; Roth-

87-39 OVER McCAMEY

Wallace Gets Win No. 36

Wallace Wildcats made it 36 wins in a row (32 last year and 4 this year) when they walloped McCamey in McCamey Tuesday night.

The score was 87-39. The Wallace girls also won by a 71-26 score.

Tony Jones, Charles Lindsey, and Curtis Scott were the offensive stars making 26, 24, and 17 points respectively.

David Miles, Jerry Williams, and Clifton Lee seemed to concentrate more on defense but also did well offensively.

The game began with a defensive touch as Wallace could make but 10 points in the first eight minutes and McCamey could counter with only 6.

The first half score was Wallace 25; McCamey 11.

The shooting of Lindsey, Jones, and Scott stepped up the scoring pace in the last half as the trio hit for 48 points among them. Timely shots by David Miles, Jerry Williams, and Clifton Lee added to the victory.

Wilbert Benson had 15 points for the losers.

Thelma Christian (36 points), Etta Lindsey (25 points), and Sue Taylor (9 points) led the Wallace girls to their 71-26 win.

Outstanding guards for the Wallace team were Dorothy Johnson, Effie Woods, Ardell Atkins, Lorene Johnson, and Jewelene Williams.

Ruby Evans had 16 points for McCamey.

Wallace plays Hamlin here Friday night, seeking win No. 37.

Lag In Fund Campaign Can Be Costly

The fact should be apparent that Mitchell County United Fund's finance campaign has slowed to less than a walk. At mid week, to be exact, pledges and contributions were more than $7,000 short of the goal.

Naturally, a project of the magnitude of United Fund drive cannot be accomplished within a day or two. Even the most successful conducted within our community has required weeks before all the loose ends are tied up.

But the current campaign has developed a lag and sluggishness that easily could drag into defeat.

Citizens from all areas of the county volunteered their time and services for United Fund. Many of these have gone the extra mile, so to speak, making repeated visits, accepting additional assignments in their contact work to meet the financial goal.

It takes more than a hundred or so workers, though, to make a success of United Fund. There must be community-wide interest and support. And if there is a letdown in one neighborhood or among one group, then the entire United Fund is weakened.

This United Fund finance campaign has the same goal as last year—$27,875. There is no increase and the entire amount is sorely needed for funds all next year (1960) for 9 deserving agencies which provide for health, youth and charity.

We need to re-examine the purpose of United Fund and understand its success depends upon each of us. If we fail, there is nobody else to do the job for us.

We need to realize this United Fund campaign is for 9 separate causes and agencies, all wrapped into one, and giving just enough for one is not sufficient for all 9.

Something else we best understand, too. If we let United Fund fail without sufficient support or interest, then we will be back in the old rut with 9 separate fund campaigns — each needing and seeking as much or more than allocated through United Fund, each requiring and demanding nine times as much of our time and effort.

Why Not Save 'em Time Here At Home?

The final splurge is on. And most of us will be in it, too, as we shop and buy and wrap for traditional Christmas gifts.

Business men, especially the retailers, have been looking for the start of this shopping spree for several weeks. Clear weather, increased activity in stores and cash register rings are evidence enough that it definitely has arrived.

The parade Saturday at 3 p. m. with bands, shetland ponies, floats and Santa, too, will be just a last-minute reminder for all of us to hurry into the shopping rush before it is too late.

This is big business for merchants. It also is a period that requires no little stamina and patience on the part of the rushed shopper.

Hometown shopping affords an opportunity for both to assist each other. For the merchant, Santa shoppers swell the cash register with extra profit. For the shopper, the hometown store is convenient and time saving.

But there will be some who will drive the highways to other cities looking for greener pastures, spending money for travel expenses and wasting time when, in most instances, the same items could have been obtained at home at the same price.

There will be those businesses, too, that will wonder why these citizens speed in their autos to other towns at the beck and call of out-of-town advertisements when they, as local merchants, have done little or nothing to remind them these quality items are right here at home.

The splurge is on, all right. And most of it can be fattening for cash registers right here at home if the merchant makes an effort.

This parade Saturday will be a collective reminder, an attraction to draw families downtown. But it will take more than that to get 'em into the individual stores and keep 'em off the highways going out of town.

Cooling Off Period?

SHINNERY PHILOSOPHER

Foreign Aid Plan Needs a Reverse

Editor's note: The Shinnery Flats Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bone Hollow Creek may be ahead of the times this week, which is a switch from normally being behind the times.

* * *

Dear editor:

One of my favorite schemes to restore self-confidence in the world has been a plan to send American diplomats abroad to try to get some foreign aid for the United States.

This wouldn't result in any foreign aid for us, but it might get over the idea to all the countries we're helping that eventually the well may run dry and they'd better start digging themselves. It doesn't hurt to get rocked back on your heels once in a while.

If we do try such a plan, I hope the foreign countries sending aid to me will be far - sighted enough to use the latest plan we've adopted for them.

According to an article I read in a newspaper last night which I brought home from town to put under my mattress to keep out the cold, the United States has revised its foreign loan plan and is now requiring any country that borrows money from us to spend it in this country.

This makes a lot of sense and if any foreign country wants to lend me money, I will guarantee to spend it over there, if it'll accept money orders.

But the second wrinkle in the loan plan is what interests me. Washington has announced that in the case of Afghanistan, the money will be in the form of direct aid instead of a loan, "because the economy is in bad shape."

I wish to announce to all foreign countries interested in helping me out that I can meet this new requirement satisfactorily. My economy is in bad shape too. In fact, you might call this farm out here one of the under-developed spots of the earth and badly in need of foreign aid.

Understand, I don't begrudge all the help we've given other countries. But times change. The man who was on top last year may be on the bottom next year, and it won't do any harm to look to the future.

We've got to cushion the shock, in case the United States ever asks for foreign aid, and I'll be glad to pioneer in this and accept some, just to get the rest of the country used to the idea.

WATER ENGINEER RESIGNS

Special Session Talk, Feb. 1 Filing Clips Political Holiday

State Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Ordinarily, between Thanksgiving and Christmas, politicking takes a back seat to holiday preparations in the Capitol.

This year a lot of people are more concerned with what sort of "gifts" they'll get in January.

Gov. Price Daniel has called special elections to fill the three legislative vacancies for Jan. 9. For the several candidates already actively running for these offices, election would be a highly acceptable post-season "present."

Governor Daniel also has written members of the Legislature asking how they feel about having a special session early next year to raise money for higher teacher's salaries.

Some already have stated, bluntly and publicly, that this is a "gift" they could pass up. It would force them to choose, right before running for re-election, between disappointing the teachers and passing a new tax, which always makes somebody unhappy.

Several have said that they feel the matter of teacher raises either should have been settled during the sessions last spring and summer or should be postponed until the next regular session. After statewide elections, it's pointed out, legislators might have a clearer idea of what all the people want.

Other lawmakers, however, say they feel teachers should have an immediate raise.

Talk now is that, if the special session is called, it will be about Jan. 12, just after the special elections.

For state officials in general, holiday dreams are focused, not on Dec. 25, but Feb. 1, the last day to file for a place on the primary ballot. For the candidates, no "visions of sugar plums" can compare with the hope of having Feb. 1 end with no tough opposition in sight.

* * *

ENGINEER RESIGNS — McDonald D. Weinert has resigned his post as chief state water engineer effective Jan. 12.

Weinert said he was not leaving because of being "under fire by anyone" and that he did not have another position at the time.

Weinert is a retired Army Engineers Corps colonel. He was hired in April, 1958, to head the Water Board's planning section. Legislature authorized the planning section to study all the state's surface and underground water resources and make a statewide report to the Legislature.

Water Board has been the target of critical statements in recent months by the Texas Water Conservation Association and the Texas Society of Professional Engineers. TWCA charged that friction between board members had caused the state's water program to lag.

Governor Daniel, in a recent speech, recommended that the Water Board be reorganized along the lines of the State Highway Commission.

* * *

FIGHT CONTINUES — Whether the Trinity River or the San Jacinto is the best source for Houston's future water needs is the issue in a prolonged hearing before the State Water Board.

Trinity River Authority and the City of Houston are seeking permits to build two dams near Houston. San Jacinto River Authority is contesting the application. It contends Houston has an agreement to get its water from the San Jacinton and that Trinity water is insufficient and polluted.

Engineers for the Houston-Trinity group have presented mountains of statistics in support of their case that Trinity water will be adequate for industrial use and cheaper than San Jacinto water.

City of Denton has dropped its opposition to the proposed dams after coming to an agreement with TRA and Houston to protect water rights of the Garza-Little Elm and Grapevine reservoirs.

* * *

STUDIES GAS PRICES — Railroad Commission is now considering the record of nearly a year's heated discussion over whether Lone Star Gas Co. should be allowed to raise its rates.

More than 300 Texas cities are affected.

Lone Star is asking to increase rates from 30 to 40 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. It says that 9 cents of this is swallowed up by the higher prices it must pay for gas at the wellhead. It is asking also that some system be established to adjust prices to customers automatically when costs to the company go up significantly.

Attorneys for the affected cities charge that the gas company is trying to put an unfair share of the costs on householders rather than on the big industrial consumers.

* * *

RECORD SALES — Totals thus far indicates Texas should hit an all-time high in retail sales in 1959, says the Bureau of Business Research.

BBR's estimate of total 1959 sales, based on the good showing of the first 10 months, is $13,658,000,000. This would be 8 per cent better than last year.

WASHINGTON REPORT

Czar May Answer TV Quiz Puzzle

By CLINTON DAVIDSON
Special Correspondent

Mr. Robert Lishman, counsel for the committee which investigates activities of Government agencies, answered his telephone and then turned to me and said, "We are getting the New York Grand Jury records regarding the TV quiz shows." Hhe obviously was pleased and excited.

Thus began an investigation which has shocked the nation.

TV's difficulties were not only foreseen, but were predicted. They resulted from the unwillingness of leaders in the industry to punish adequately those who violate criminal laws in the program which they bring into the living rooms of millions of Americans.

I speak from first-hand experience. Shortly after the close of World War II I called on a top N. B. C. official and urged the appointment of a so-called "czar" with authority to protect the good reputation of TV.

I suggested appointment of someone with the authority that Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis had in baseball or Will Hayes has in the movie industry, and warned that unless this was done TV could destroy itself.

I mentioned that as more and more shows were produced in Hollywood and as a larger number of Hollywood personalities were used on TV programs, the moral tone of the programs would be affected by Hollywood morals.

This official, who was greatly impressed with the power, progress and prosperity of his industry, dismissed my suggestion with the statement that the movie industry needed such a "czar" but that television did not.

Shortly after that conversation a woman featured on an hour-long program beamed to the home, used some shocking profanity on the air. I called officials of the company and asked what they were going to do about it. I was told that the announcer had apologized and that they had no intention of doing anything more.

The Roman Catholic Holy Name Society complained to the Federal Communications Commission, and I called on an FCC official who admitted that this profanity was a definite violation of a Federal Statute and therefore a Federal Crime.

The FCC, however, declined to do anything about the incident on the grounds that the industry was in the process of setting up its own organization to prevent such things as this from happening.

At the suggestion of the FCC, I talked with the party, who headed this organization and asked him what penalty would result from someone violating criminal laws on television. He replied that his organization intended to provide a seal of good behavior for broadcasters and that in the event of such violations this accrediting seal would be taken away.

Television is having its difficulties today and will have even greater future difficulties, largely because the industry has not been willing to inflict any more than a "tap on the wrist" punishment by removing a seal.

Since this self-policing organization was formed, liquor advertising has been introduced on TV and profanity has increased. Mr. Doerfer, Chairman of the FCC, has suggested, since the quiz show scandals, that the idea of a TV "czar" for television should be looked into.

LOCAL BUSINESS

Big Difference in Desire and Need

By ROY V. FOX
Record Co-Publisher

There is a big difference between desire and need.

The merchant must understand this difference before he can sell effectively to the American consumer. Very few sales in modern retailing are based on basic needs of the buyer.

Nearly all consumer buying in America is the result of desires which have been created by advertising. Retailing which is not tied to advertising is doomed to stagnation.

In our economy of plenty, the consumer has too few unfilled needs to utilize more than a small fraction of our national product. The driving power of our economy is necessarily provided by advertising which continuously raises the desire level of consumers.

Professor David M. Potter of Yale University, is one of the distinguished economists who recognizes advertising as a necessary force in times of prosperity. He says:

"When potential supply outstrips demand — that is, when abundance prevails — advertising begins to fulfill a really essential economic function."

It has been estimated that we could "take or leave" one-third of the purchases we now make with little personal inconvenience. If too many of us chose to "leave" instead of "take" the optional products we have been buying, a major depression would result.

This danger has been recognized by the giants of American business. So, in 1954 and again in 1957, when depression threatened, enlightened business actually increased their advertising.

Thus, it is a function of advertising to make certain that we consume enough of our national product to keep our economic wheels running.

This function is not served until the merchant, on the local level creates desire for each product which leads to the final sale.

BIBLE COMMENT

Nature's Growth Stops for Yule

Once again we come to that time of year when the trees have lost their foliage, the streams run ice cold and the skies gather overcast.

Color seems to have disappeared from our lives, and the chill seems to crawl into our bones seeking a permanent home until springtime.

Life has subsided to a minimum of necessity. The birds hover in the eaves, dead plants appear as though they never will reawaken.

By the end of December the world of nature we know and enjoy will be almost at a stand-still.

What more perfect time of the year could there be to celebrate the birth of the Christ child?

By its very somberness, nature seems to be preparing for the annual visit of this most holy and joyful anniversary.

It is as though the entire world of nature, not wishing to detract from the great event, stands in the wings of the cosmic theater while the greatest of all pageants takes place in the center of the stage for all the peoples of earth to watch with their undivided attention.

The gloom of the season acts almost as a foil to the celebration of the birth. The absence of natural beauty around us appears to emphasize the splendor of the Christmas coming.

The world takes an inferior position, leaving the planet to the world of man that he may sing the praise of the One who devoted His life to him.

Mr. and Mrs. Horton Observe Anniversary

LORAINE — Mr. and Mrs. Phil H. Horton observed their 50th wedding anniversary at their home on Lightfoot Street Thanksgiving Day. Hosting the affair were their sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Horton, Corpus Christi; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Horton, Sweetwater; and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Horton of Ackerly.

A gold theme predominated decorations throughout the house and the dining table was laid in lace over gold. A large wedding cake, topped with an old fashioned bouquet and a gold wedding ring centered the table. Bronze and gold mums decorated other party rooms.

Two granddaughters of the Hortons, Margaret Horton of Abilene and Dana Ruth Horton of Ackerly poured punch and served cake. Coffee was poured by their only grandson, Johnny Horton of Corpus Christi.

Presiding at the register was Golda Cary.

Mrs. Horton, the former Mattie Manly was born July 22, 1891 in Grimes County near Singleton, Tex. Mr. Horton was born Nov. 5, 1887 in Grimes County near Bedias.

Mr. and Mrs. Horton were married as they sat in their buggy in front of Singleton Baptist Church Nov. 21, 1909. Rev. Arch Allen, pastor of the church performed the ceremony.

The couple lived in Grimes County until they moved to Mitchell County in 1921. Mr. Grimes is a retired farmer and both are members of First Methodist Church.

The Horton family includes 3 sons, 3 daughters-in-law, 3 granddaughters, 1 grandson and 2 great-granddaughters. All were present but 1 granddaughter who was unable to attend.

LOCAL CONCERT

60-Voice Chorus To Sing Saturday

The A Cappella Chorus of Lubbock Christian College will present a free concert here Saturday night.

Directed by B. Wayne Hinds, the 60-voice chorus will sing at 7:30 p. m. in the auditorium of Fifth & Elm Streets Church of Christ.

The appearance here will be one of 50 concert appearances by the college organization this year.

Members of the chorus are from communities throughout the state and various parts of the nation, as well as from abroad.

The program here Saturday will include hymns and other sacred music. It will feature a special number, "A Sermon in Song."

Both the chorus and the church congregation extend a welcome to the public to attend the concert, according to Henry Lewis.

Lewis and Grandol Forehand of Colorado City are members of the Lubbock Christian College advisory and development board.

LCC, a liberal arts junior college, opened its third year of academic operation this fall with an enrollment of approximately 350 full time students.

STARTS SUNDAY

Roman Empire to Unfold at Palace

Starting Sunday at the Palace Theatre will be "Sign of the Gladiators," starring Anita Ekberg, Jasque Sernas, George Marshall and Chelo Alonso.

This is the story of the loves and wars of Zenobia and her lover, General Marcus Valerius, of the Roman Legion. General Valerius eventually was the one responsible for the downfall of Zenobia's mighty empire.

Valerius gained the confidence of Zenobia, although he was still loyal to the Roman Empire, and subsequently was able to furnish the Romans with enough information to lead to the defeat of Zenobia's Armies.

"Sign of the Gladiators" is filmed in Colorscope. If you view this movie you will see screen splendor that will amaze you when the charge of 10,000 horsemen clash with the firethrowing catapults of a pagan empire. The sultry dance that the slaves do will electrify you. Each of these are just a few of the experiences that you will see in this movie.

Anita Ekberg plays the fiery Zenobia. Portraying General Valerius is George Marshall.

The missiles we have nowadays can be compared with the fire balls that the ancient Roman artillery used to launch against the enemy. The scene where the machine is used to launch the fire balls required thousands of extras. These fire-throwing catapults were perfect reconstructions and the fire was obtained in the authentic was as the Romans did thousands of years ago.

"DISEASES ARE THE PENALTIES WE PAY FOR OUR NEGLECT OF THE MEANS OF HEALTH"

"Quotation by Lord Jeffrey (1773-1850)

Your own body is a wonderful manufacturer of medicines for the cure of disease. As soon as any invading germ or virus attacks you, your blood rushes its weapons of defense to the danger zone.

If your health and strength are good you win the fight and the attack is defeated. But, if your resistance is low, any disease can gain a dangerout foothold.

Therefore it is wise to visit your physician for regular check-ups to make certain you have enough energy to fight off sickness. He can prescribe the proper needed medication.
