Pioneer Line-Up for Kiwanians

BY TEACHER-NOVELIST

Historical Highlights Told At County Heritage Luncheon

Rich lore of Colorado City's history was recounted for Kiwanians here Tuesday as they paid tribute to pioneer guests at their Civic House luncheon. The event was Mitchell County Heritage Day, a special event for appraising the contribution of pioneers for the community today. Special guests were five well-known pioneers — Mrs. Jack G. Smith, sponsored by Keith Miles; Mrs. E. H. Winn, sponsored by James E. Payne; J. Lee Jones, sponsored by Ed Majors; Cal Wright, sponsored by John T. Merritt; J.B. Holt, sponsored by Dick Wistrand; and J. Errol Riordan, sponsored by Paul Boston.

Principal speaker for the luncheon was Mrs. D. M. Parmelee, Colorado High English teacher, who now is writing a historical novel concerning the period of the Texas Revolution. And Mrs. Parmelee, who has prepared a wealth of historical data concerning Colorado City, reported interesting, rich lore concerning the community's pioneer days. Her 35-minute historical report won heavy applause from her luncheon audience.

"As far as drama," Mrs. Parmelee emphasized, "there is no place in Texas that can outshine your community here." It was unique to the pioneers and the Kiwanians that one of the finest researchers of Colorado City's history came, from a school teacher who has lived in the community less than 10 months.

Mrs. Parmelee traced local history from such dates as early 1540 when the Spaniards were in this area, the 1830

IN WHEAT REFERENDUM

Chairman Urges Voting Response

A last minute reminder to eligible growers for Friday's wheat referendum was issued Thursday by A. L. Young, chairman of Mitchell County Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation Committee.

The marketing quota referendum — which will determine the level of price support for 1959 wheat crop — will be conducted Friday from 8 a. m. until 7 p. m.

Five polling places for eligible wheat growers will be at ASC office in Colorado City, Lions Building in Loraine, Payne Baptist Church, gin office in Westbrook and Cuthbert Store.

"Eligible" growers, Young reminded, are those farmers who will have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain in 1959.

Since growers with 15 acres or less of wheat and those in the feed wheat program are exempted from marketing quota provisions, they are not eligible to cast ballots on 1959 wheat marketing quotas.

The chairman points out that the vote is on marketing quotas for the 1959 wheat crop, not acreage allotments. Whether or not quotas are approved, wheat acreage allotments will remain in effect as a means of determining the individual grower's eligibility for price support.

The level of the available wheat support will vary, however, according to the outcome of the vote.

If at least two-thirds of the growers voting approve the quotas, support will be available on the 1959 wheat crop at a national average of not less than $1.81 per bushel, or 75 per cent of parity.

If quotas are not approved by the necessary two-thirds of the votes, support for the crop will be available at about $1.20 per bushel, or 50 per cent of parity.

Junior Net Tourney Set Here

Boys' junior tennis tournament is scheduled to begin here Monday, 9:30 a. m. at Junior High courts.

The tournament is co-sponsored by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce and City Recreation Department.

Boys wishing to compete are asked to contact Win Talley, tournament director, at Junior High from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. Friday or Saturday.

The tournament will begin at 9:30 a. m. Monday with first round of singles matches, followed by doubles matches from 10:30 to 12 n.

The matches will continue through the week until champions are crowned in the singles and doubles divisions. Trophies will be awarded winners.

Boys 18 years of age or under on Jan. 1, 1958, are eligible to compete. Entry fee is $1 per person.

Winners of the tourney will be sent to the Jaycees' State Junior Tennis Tournament in San Antonio, July 10-11-12.

Noise Foils Burglary At Drive-in

A passerby apparently side-tracked burglars Tuesday night at Dairy Dream drive-in on W. Second at Lone Wolf Creek.

Police were alerted to the possibility of a burglary at the drive-in by a local ranch employee, who reported hearing a noise at the cafe.

The rancher's attention was drawn to the drive-in by the noise and he saw one person on the outside of the building, he told police.

Policemen Dave Shackelford and Jimmy Latham hurried to the drive-in to investigate, but found no one on the scene. The police said the burglars failed to gain entrance and apparently fled after being discovered at work by the passerby.

School Enrollment 'Squeezes' Budget

300 Jump In Last Two Years

Climbing enrollment with its demand for additional teachers is causing operational expenses to multiply for Colorado City public schools.

The student population increase has been spiraling upward during recent years.

But most citizens have not realized how swift the enrollment climb has been.

The increase in enrollment since the 1956-57 school year, however, will amount to 300 students when the school open their doors in the fall.

And the cost of hiring three new teachers necessary to cope with the expanding enrollment — plus the district's employer payments for Social Security — will jump operational costs by approximately $21,000.

Those are expense items, too, that school officials cannot very well cut.

All total increases in operational expenses are expected to add approximately $35,000 to the 1958-59 school budget.

And school officials have instituted a drive for delinquent taxes, hoping the back tax collection will be successful enough to stave off an immediate tax rate increase.

Actual student count reveals that enrollment at Colorado City's five public school increased from 1,782 students for the 1955-56 school year to 1,947 students for 1957-58.

"Those are actual nose counts," said Supt. Frank Wilson, "and the 1,947 for the '57-58 year is the actual count at the close of school last May."

Enrollment this fall will be at least 2,081 students — an increase of 299 over the student count two years ago.

And the 2,081 estimate for fall of 1958 represents only the actual count of students (those promoted within the school system last spring) plus conservative estimate of first grade enrollment (based on pre-school census).

So, actually, the enrollment for 1958-59 is likely to increase even above the 2,081 figure.

Here is how the increase has been counted in the various schools:

Primary School — 521 students in '55-'56; 566 students in '57-'58; and 574 students for '58-'59.

Hutchinson Elementary — 446 students in '55-'56; 507 students in '57-'58; and 548 students for '58-'59.

Junior High — 385 students for '55-'56; 394 students for '57-'58; and 420 students for '58-'59.

High School — 263 students in '55-'56; 301 students for '57-'58.

TO FILL VACANCIES

New Shuffle in Coaching Staff

Don Wiggins of Albuquerque, N. M. has been hired as seventh grade coach for the Colorado City Junior High School.

The hiring of Wiggins was approved this week by the school board, announced superintendent Frank W. Wilson.

Wiggins will fill the position occupied this year by Bob McMillan, who has been moved to high school as assistant under Head Coach Homer Jefferson.

McMillan was moved up when Assistant Coach Dean King received his notice for induction into the U. S. Army.

One vacancy still exists in the coaching ranks here with the announcement of the resignation of Larry Morton.

ninth grade football and basketball mentor.

Supt. Wilson said a replacement for Morton will be hired in the near future.

Morton, who coached the high school tennis team in addition to his junior high duties, has accepted the principal's position at Shallowater Elementary School near Lubbock. Morton's net teams this year lost only one interschool match and his top tennis pupil, Bob Rader, went to the regional singles finals.

A graduate of Texas Tech, Morton was head coach at Cooper High before moving here last fall. He formerly coached at New Home and Meadow before going to Cooper.

The Mortons and their two children will move to Shallowater around July 20.

King, who was assistant coach here for one year, is now in Spur prior to reporting for active duty in Georgia.

A member of the ROTC at West Texas State, King will enter the Army as a Second Lieutenant.

Wiggins, the new seventh grade coach, is a native of Dublin. He graduated from high school there in 1950 and served four years in military service.

He attended Ranger Junior College where he graduated in 1955 and in January this year graduated from North Texas State College after attending the college in Denton 2½ years.

His major was physical education.

Wiggins has been employed as a physical education teacher in West San Jose Elementary School in Albuquerque since January, working with boys up through the sixth grade.

Wiggins is 26, married, but has no children.

McMillan, 23, the new high school assistant, has been in the school system here since December 2. He is familiar with the Wolf Riders after working with Head Coach Jefferson in spring training in April.

He was an all-district performer at Sweetwater High School and played guard and linebacker on the Baylor University grid team from 1951 to 1955. After graduation, he served as a freshman football coach at Baylor for 1½ years.

McMillan served six months in the U. S. Army prior to coaching his position here.

Also working with Jefferson and McMillan in high school this fall will be Ron Gurley, who started as seventh grade coach here last fall but was moved up to high school level in the spring following the resignation of Head Coach Bob Rely and the appointment of Jefferson as head mentor.

With the appointment of a new ninth grade coach, the Junior High coaching staff will be Win Talley, eighth grade, and Wiggins, seventh grade.

New Store Front For Ben Franklin Store

New modern store front for the Ben Franklin Store was completed this week.

The plate glass and aluminum exterior is the first step in a complete store remodeling, according to store owner Charles E. Freeman.

The interior remodeling will begin soon with new fixtures and counters scheduled to arrive in the near future.

Store Names Holbert to Sales Post

Bill Holbert is the new sales manager of Kirschbaum Appliance Store.

Holbert fills the vacancy that has existed since the air crash death of Bob Kirschbaum, partner in the appliance store with his father M. L. Kirschbaum.

Holbert's wife, the former Betty Jean Palmer of Sweetwater, is the sister of the late Mrs. Bob Kirschbaum.

Holbert, who has been a resident of Sweetwater majority of his 37 years, resigned as salesman for Hall Wholesale Company of Dallas to accept the position here.

He was employed as a salesman for Western Windmill Co. of Lubbock for 18 months, selling hardware and plumbing supplies, prior to working for

FOR ENTIRE COMMUNITY

Clean Up Week Reset June 27

Colorado City's big Clean Up, Paint Up, Fix Up Week has been reset for June 27-July 3.

The date was announced to provide for more planning for the all-community project and to provide a week end so that homeowners could have extra hours for cleaning, painting and improving their property.

Sponsoring the Clean Up, Paint Up, Fix Up Week are the Chamber of Commerce, civic development committee and Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Civic clubs, women's organizations, business firms and individuals will join in to make the project a success, according to Dr. H. Jene Steakley, chairman of the civic committee.

Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up is not just a one-week program but a guide-for-better civic living according to Jeff Taylor, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

"The future of our city is dependent on the traits shown during our Clean Up campaign, namely, cooperation, progressiveness, and energetic interest," Taylor declared.

"The results we accomplish and the habits of cleanliness and beauty which we acquire will persuade tourists to stop over in our city, will create an environment which will attract new industry and citizens. New industry means many new jobs, with special opportunities for our youth."

Her shoulder-length veil of nylon tulle was gathered into a bandeau enhanced with white roses and lilies of the valley.

The bride carried a Bible covered with white satin and a bridal bouquet of white carnations with white satin streamers.

Traditional wedding music was played.

C-City Pioneer Dies in Houston

Funeral service was conducted in Houston Saturday afternoon for Mrs. James L. Shepherd Sr., pioneer citizen of Colorado City.

Mrs. Shepherd, a resident of Houston more than 20 years, died Thursday night in a Houston hospital after being stricken with bronchial pneumonia.

Funeral was conducted Saturday at 2:30 p. m. in Houston's River Oaks Baptist Church. Burial was in Huntsville.

Mrs. Shepherd was born Julia Josey in Huntsville and moved to Colorado City in 1888 to teach school here.

She was married in 1889 to James L. Shepherd, a pioneer lawyer in the Colorado City area who held a judgeship from 1902 to 1912.

The family moved to Cisco in 1919 and lived there until Judge Shepherd's death in 1935. Mrs. Shepherd moved to Houston after her husband's death.

Mrs. Shepherd was active in church, civic and club affairs while living in Colorado City.

Survivors include three sons—James L. Shepherd Jr. and Robert A. Shepherd of Houston and Garland Shepherd of Beaumont; two daughters—Miss Madeline Shepherd and Mrs. Ford Hubbard of Houston.

FOR IMPROVING THEIR SOIL

Turner Brothers Like 'What They See' in Peas and Guar

Dewey and Travis Turner, two aggressive young farmers and both cooperators with the Mitchell County Soil Conservation District, are becoming believers in summer peas and guar for soil improving crops.

This year Dewey Turner, who farms the Towle place near Seven Wells, has a 40-acre field of guar and about 80 acres of guar and peas interplanted for soil improvement and protection. Part of this acreage is on Soil Bank land.

Travis Turner, who farms a portion of the Trulock holdings, has about 25 acres of Texel guar for a possible seed crop and he plans to follow it with cotton next year.

"To receive maximum soil improving benefits," Travis remarked, "I am going to bust out my water furrows and bed directly over the guar rows."

"Then I will use sweeps for cleaning the beds next spring and plant exactly where the guar is this year."

Last year Travis had 21 acres of Chinese red cowpeas which made excellent growth. He treated his seed with cowpea inoculant to insure the formation of nodules on the roots.

"I didn't want to risk not having enough of the right kind of organisms in my soil," Travis explained, "because without them, your chances of producing much nitrogen for the next crop are pretty slim."

The results of his soil improving crop can already be seen even this early in the season. His cotton following peas is considerably larger and healthier looking than cotton following grain sorghum planted the same time only a short distance away.

"I am convinced that a boll count of the two patches later on in the season will show even better results," Travis emphasized.

"I am expecting some increase in yield," he added. "A very small increase will easily replace the income I lost by planting the 21 acres in cowpeas instead of grain sorghum and my land is in better condition to absorb and hold moisture."

In the same vein, Travis pointed out that if he gets an increase in yield, it won't cost him any more to produce it and the organic matter added to my soil is just like insurance in case of drought.

SCHOOLS—

in '57-'58; and 351 students in '58-'59.

D. W. Wallace — 167 students for '55-'56; 179 students in '57-'58; and 188 students for '58-'59.

Colorado City public schools already are employing eight teachers above the state's minimum foundation schedule. And if three more are employed this fall the excess total will be 10 whites and one Negro teacher.

State school aid program provides funds for paying the big bulk of the teacher salary requirements — paying a foundation schedule on basis of teacher appointment to average daily scholastic attendance.

But for Colorado City public schools to qualify for one more teacher in this aid program, the average daily attendance must climb to 1.613 students.

Last year — the period for which the coming year's assistance is computed — the average daily attendance here was 1.588.

Because enrollment was climbing during the year and did not reach its peak until the close of the '57-'58 school terms, Colorado City's average daily attendance did not reflect as high as it should.

"Our only hope for additional assistance in the coming school year," Wilson said, "is to qualify under the state's emergency program."

"Then we would have to have an average daily attendance of 1.758 students for two consecutive six week periods."

PONY LEAGUE'S TOP TEAMS SQUARE OFF

White Sox, Athletics to Tangle in Friday Action

Athletics will get another crack at the league-leading White Sox Friday in the high-light game of the Pony League.

They meet in the second game.

The teams—resting in the 12 positions in league play—have met on three prior occasions this season with the White Sox walking off victorious each time.

In the last meeting between the two clubs, the Sox were pressed to take a 2-0 decision over the Athletics.

But that's the only time the Sox have been pressed this season in winning nine straight games.

In action Tuesday night, White Sox whammed the Braves 12-0 behind the one-hit pitching of Thomas Vest and Steve Hillhouse.

Athletics walked all over the Cardinals in winning a 15-3 decision.

In the Sox-Braves contest, the Sox teed off on Brave hurler Kenneth Stinson in the first inning for four runs. Kenneth Beasley led off with a single, Danny Latimer walked, Vest doubled and Hillhouse, playing at first, rapped a double. Two Brave errors helped bring across the runs.

Sox added two more runs in the second, one in the third and two more in the fourth frame.

In the fifth inning, Beasley, Latimer and Hillhouse all scored again with Hillhouse's triple the biggest base blow.

The Braves' lone hit came in the fifth inning off Vest when Roger Richards slammed a triple.

But Vest tightened down to strike out the next two batters and retire the sides.

Vest got 10 strikeouts in five innings while Hillhouse got four in the final two frames.

Hillhouse led the Sox at the bat, batting a perfect four for four with a single, two doubles and a triple.

Charles Houston went the pitching route for the Athletics as they routed the Cardinals 15-3. He allowed only two hits with one of the hits a home run by Willie Joe Smith in the first frame with two men on base that accounted for the Cards' entire three-run output.

Behind 3-0 the Athletics scored four runs in the bottom of the first to take the lead. Terry Davis, the Athletics third sacker from California, started it off with a double.

Houston followed with a single, Bill Bird walked and Curtiss Scott used a Carl error to reach base to complete the scoring.

Coach Toby Dearen's Athletics kept the basepaths hot with two runs in the second inning and seven in the third.

Scoring in the third began with Bobby Stewart's double, followed by Martin Christian walks by Dickie Summers, Joey Dean, double by Davis, single by Houston, single by Scott and three Card errors for the seven big runs.

Scott and Archie Biggers capped off the Athletics scoring in the sixth inning, adding runs No. 14 and 15.

Following their first inning runs, the Cards were able to get only a lone single, again by Smith, in the third inning.

The Athletic hurler Houston led his team at the bat with two singles and a double in four trips to the plate.

WILSON DEFEATS MACKEY FOR TITLE

College Students Dominate Ninth Annual Golf Tourney

College students dominated the ninth annual Colorado City Invitational golf tournament here last weekend.

It was North Texas State's Lanier Wilson, a cool-playing junior, who took the championship Sunday afternoon over Frank Mackey of Colorado City, a TCU golfer, 1-up.

And two of Wilson's North Texas teammates—Jack Harris and Mike Moses—grabbed trophies.

Harris defeated James Hall of Colorado City, 3 and 2, to take the second flight while Moses topped Odessa, 4 and 3, for the third flight.

The only non-college golfer to take a flight was Cecil McClatchy of Snyder who defeated ex-Colorado Citian Sam Coker of Midland, 1-up, in the final flight.

In the championship finals Wilson twice missed short putts which could have ended the match earlier.

Mackey, who had a big lead in the semifinals, made up a two-hole deficit on Wilson's missed putts but lost the match as he got off in the rough on No. 17 and bounced his ball off a couple of trees before reaching the green in six.

Mackey kept himself in the match with a nice iron shot most of the way while Wilson had only a couple of good iron shots throughout the match, one of which cinched the title.

Following Mackey's difficulty on No. 17, Wilson's tee shot on the final hole was off to the right of the green. Mackey's was on with a 15 foot putt for a birdie.

But Wilson laid his ball up within two feet of the pin for par.

Wilson's widest margin of the day came on No. 14 when he sank a 15-footer for a birdie-2 and a two-up lead. But Wilson missed a four-footer on No. 15 and wound up with a par-4. He also missed another on No. 16 for a bogey and Mackey evened it up with a par.

Mackey defeated defending tournament champion Bill Craig of Colorado City, 1-up, in the semifinals. Mackey and Craig were even up on No. 15 but Craig hit his tee shot into heavy brush on No. 18, taking two strokes to get out. He overshot the green to wind up with a six on the par-three hole while Mackey won the match with a bogey.

Wilson eliminated Colorado City's Johnny Grubbs, 2 and 1, in the other semifinal match.

20 LETTERMEN RETURNING

Raiders Have Fine Material But Schedule is Too Rugged

Texas Tech Red Raiders football team faces a rugged schedule this fall with 20 lettermen returning to mold a winning team for the Lubbock school.

The schedule and prospects for the '58 season were released this week by Bill Holmes, Tech sports publicity director.

The Raiders have 20 of 28 lettermen from 1957, which includes nine starters and 18 of the top 22 players.

Two starters lost are end Pat Hartsfield and guard Charlie Moore.

Southwest Conference schools on the schedule include Texas A&M (the opener on Sept. 20 in Dallas), Texas TCU, Baylor and Arkansas.

Others on the schedule include West Texas State, Tulane, Arizona, Tulsa and Houston.

Only four games are on tap: Sept. 27—West Texas; Oct. 18—Baylor; Nov. 8—Arizona; and Nov. 22—Arkansas.

Although the Raiders had a poor 2-8 record last season, they lost a number of games by narrow margins. For instance: 14-19 to LSU; 12-15 to Baylor; 0-3 to Tulsa.

According to Holmes, the line will be weak in depth but the backfield experienced. Season outcome bears heavily on position switches, notably Gene Bentley, 235, from full back to guard; Bill Turnbow, 205, from center to guard; Floyd Dellinger from quarterback to halfback; Glen Ameron from quarterback to full back.

Spotted as the men to watch are center E. J. Holub, a 225-pound sophomore giant; end Jerry Selfridge, 210-pound junior and halfback Ronnie Rice, 175-pound junior.

One of the brightest transfers is quarterback Bob Wickett, who attended Notre Dame his freshman year and will be eligible this fall at Tech.

All the statistical leaders are returning this fall. Rice, the starting left half, led the team in rushing last year with a 6.4-yard average; Doug Duncan, leading ground gainer in 1956, but out last year scolastically, is slated for the starting fullback post; Jerry Bell, 192-pound co-captain quarterback from Ballinger, was total offense leader with 664 yards, completed 48.1 per cent of his passes and was punting leader with 38.5 yards.

Rice, the swiftly from Lefors averaged 57.3 yards per kick, return last season.

Bell led the team in scoring with 31 points, followed by Rice with 24, halfback Jimmy Knox with 21. Knox was a starter with a 4.4 rushing average last year but has been ousted by John Roberts, 170-pound senior from Stillwater, Okla.

Added experience should result in improvement over 1957, although the strengthened schedule can partly offset that.

Strongest in the Tech line are tackles Jim Henderson, 220-pound two-letter winner Phil Williams, 215-pound three-letter winner; and Bentley, the 235-pound exfullback at guard.

Although Coach Dewitt Weaver's gridders won't be eligible for SWC football until 1960, they are apt to make things rough in '58.

Little League Resumes Play Thursday Eve

Little League resumes play Thursday night after being "sanded out" Monday night. The two games Monday were cancelled when high winds and sand whipped across the city. The games will be replayed at a later date.

Meeting in Thursday games are the Pirates vs. Giants in the initial tilt with the Yankees and Indians squaring off in the nightcap.

School Delinquent Tax Drive Is Equalizer

Taxes long have been the brunt of gags and jokes by the American public. Wit and humor have helped Mr. and Mrs. Citizen to laugh about their perennial tax bill.

But there also has been cultivated the "gripe" about any and all taxes that are the backbone of our government and our public services.

And you can expect a gripe or two concerning the new move by Colorado Independent School District to collect long riding delinquent taxes. That's because the district trustees have authorized attorneys to go into court, if necessary, to collect.

A careful look, however, reflects the collection plan for what it really is: an equalizer and fair approach for all the taxpayers.

The collection program is designed to prod delinquents to pay up their part of the assessed cost for operating our public schools. It provides for those persons, when it is at all feasible, to do what 95 per cent of the assessed property owners have been doing all along.

This delinquent campaign not only equalizes the tax cost of our public school system, but it also protects the regular taxpayers against loss of income through future statutes of limitations or a build up of unpaid taxes over property values.

But even more important, possibly this year, is the fact that the $30,000 in delinquent taxes sought in the drive may save Colorado Independent School District property owners from another immediate tax rate increase.

Initial budget estimates indicate the 1958-59 budget for Colorado City public schools may require between $30,000 $40,000 more than during the school year now ending.

Extra cash from the delinquent tax collection might provide the money to offset that additional expense. And if it does, then the possibility of a higher tax rate would be minimized for the time being.

That's no promise against a tax rate hike. But it makes good sense to tap long-standing delinquent tax bills first before calling upon everybody to pay more.

Let's Pitch In

Nothing is worse for a city—like a person—than an "I don't care" attitude.

And a city is, after only a sum of its parts: people, you and I.

With Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up time approaching, it is time for us individually and collectively to rid ourselves of any indifference and get ready to support the coming campaign.

If we continue to dump trash on that vacant lot down the block, scatter fruit peels and wrappers from car windows, and ignore garbage and trash regulations, we will soon have a reputation for messy unconcern.

Tourists, visitors, new business are not attracted to that kind of city any more than you want to become better acquainted with an unkempt, rumpled-appearing person.

Let's each make a firm resolution to obey our city's disposal ordinances, stop littering streets and sidewalks, and otherwise blemishing our collective property.

If we do, and then clean, paint, and repair our individual share of the city, whether it be room, apartment or house, apathy's curse will be soundly defeated by energy's dividends.

Look To Safety

SHINNERY PHILOSOPHER

No, Sir! Not Now, Mr. Congressman!

Editor's note: The Shinnery Philosopher on his Johnson Grass farm on Bone Hollow Creek has an odd idea this week, which is not unusual with him.

Dear editor:

I was listening to the radio the other night—I don't listen to it very much on account of it doesn't leave enough time to think, by the time somebody has said something and you settle back to think it over he's off on something else. I prefer a newspaper, where you walk around, and still come back to the same place—at any rate, I was listening to a Congressman. I don't even know what state he was from, and he said something that suddenly made me come alert.

What he said was: "It's time we returned the government to the people."

Now I have heard this statement lots of times before, but somehow or other it stuck in my mind this time and I've been thinking it over for a couple of days and have come to the conclusion that as far as I'm concerned I'm not sure I want the government back. Not at this time.

That is, I guess if I was running the government and it was in the financial shape it is, I'd be looking around for somebody to unload it on too, but with my present financial strain I don't see how I can take it on.

Understand, I think the government's sound all right, it still owns more than it owes and it has an awfully steady income, and I think it will eventually pay out, but it's the longest-term investment I ever heard about, and some of its stockholders are the hardest people on earth to please.

Nope, I don't believe it's the right time to return the government to the people. We're saddled with so many other debts and burdens I just don't believe we're in shape to take on anything else right now. A man can get too far out on the limb.

I'll appreciate it if you'll tell that Congressman and any other government officials who have come around to the conclusion it's time they gave the government back to the people that I decline the honor. They're stuck with it and will have to work it out the best way they can.

In fact, the more I think about it the madder I get. That's a shoddy trick, waiting till the government's in the shape it is and then trying to give it back to us. Yours faithfully, J. A.

TEXAS AGRICULTURE

D-Day for Fire Ants, Hoppers

By JOHN C. WHITE, Agriculture Commissioner

The Texas Department of Agriculture has declared open war on two major farm pests—the grasshopper and the imported fire ant—and is engaged in active battle on two vital fronts in East and West Texas.

The two enemies are being engaged in separate campaigns befitting their individual tactics. The grasshopper, an ancient foe, has been met in a pitched battle in several counties with a mechanized force of eight federal-state spray units.

These units are working along major roadways to prevent organized movement and regrouping of hopper offensives in highly strategic points such as field crops and rangeland.

On the eastern front, federal-state "demolition" troops are waging more subtle warfare on the imported fire ant through means of a federal-state quarantine recently imposed in six East Texas counties. A new adversary, the native South American Fire ant first began its march on Texas last year after having been introduced into Alabama several years ago.

Natural movement of the ant is rather slow; however, "subversive" movement by

7-Point Program Projected For Traffic Control in Texas

If a fire-breathing dragon were loose on the Texas countryside—smashing cars and their occupants, slapping down pedestrians—there'd be no question about the need to get rid of the monster. An aroused public would demand that SOME-BODY DO SOMETHING!

In actuality, innocent people ARE being maimed or killed every day as they go about their business. Thousands are lost every year.

But somebody IS doing something. Right now, officials and private citizens are forming a massive "posse." They're going after the killer—the monstrous indifference, carelessness and other difficulties that bring death on Texas streets and highways.

Leaders are members of the Texas Traffic Safety Council created by the Legislature just a year ago. Gov. Price Daniel is chairman; Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety, vice-chairman. Heads of numerous other state agencies are members.

Formation of the Council was the starting point for a campaign which, for the first time, brought the official power and prestige of state government to bear on a growing problem. For some years Texas vehicles and their drivers had been outgrowing highway facilities and outdistancing law-enforcement agencies by sheer weight of numbers. In 1956 Texas had an appalling all-time high of 2,611 motorcyclists.

Governor Daniel called it a public emergency.

With only a skeleton organization, the council hammered away through 1957 at tightening enforcement, organizing holiday safety campaigns. By the end of the year the toll had dropped by 72.

In February of this year the governor appointed the state's first full-time traffic safety director. He is Brad H. Smith, veteran South Texas newspaper, radio and television man and past president of the Texas Press Association, who has for many years been a volunteer worker in traffic safety.

First move was to acquaint Texans with the enormity of the problem. In this Smith says he'd had unstinting help from mass news media and volunteer assistance from every type of civic group.

In April Governor Daniel climaxed publicity efforts with a statewide broadcast calling for a "crack down" on two major evils—speeding and driving while intoxicated. Simultaneously, local traffic safety councils were formed in 190 counties. An estimated 5,000 people participated.

Meanwhile, the battle is being pushed on other fronts. A survey of traffic-control resources resulted in recommendation of a 7-point program.

gram to bring Texas up to par:

1. A statewide program to bring greater public cooperation.
2. More rigid enforcement of present laws.
3. Adoption of the Uniform Driver's License Law.
4. A law to permit police to use chemical tests and other scientific aids to detect drivers.
5. Development of strong, fair, effective traffic courts.
6. A State Highway Patrol double its present size.
7. Universal driver education in public schools supported by state aid.

Besides the state agencies working cooperatively through the new Council, other groups are part of the crusade. A major source of help is the 20-year-old Texas Safety Association, a pioneer group which finances its efforts on a voluntary basis.

Texas Legislative Council is studying traffic problems and will report to the 56th Legislature.

Bringing new weight is the Governor's Highway Safety Commission. Scores of prominent Texans answered Governor Daniel's call to give citizen support to official efforts. First Commission meeting is set tentatively for Fall.

Results thus far are encouraging. For the first 23 weeks of this year the toll was down by 101 persons, about 11 per cent, from last year. There were 163 fewer deaths, down about 17 per cent, from '56.

Goal for 1958 is a year-long 10 per cent drop or 254 lives saved—a real stab at the dragon.

JULY SNOW STORM—Next summer's Democratic precinct conventions will be like an extra after-hours election. There'll be rival "platforms" and rival candidates, but only one key issue—who's to control the party.

Battle lines were drawn when the State Democratic Executive Committee held its June meeting in Austin. Governor Daniel, as head of the party in Texas, called on his moderate-conservative cohorts to "snow under" the liberal-labor Democrats. He accused DOT of trying to usurp the party name for a "splinter group."

SDEC is recommending electing precinct delegates to county conventions by primary ballot and moving primaries up to May and June. It also suggests a search for means to prevent party line crossing at primary time.

DOT is pushing for its "code of ethics" for conducting conventions and a party registration law to keep out Republicans.

Relative merits of the two "platforms" may be as confusing to some voters as a snowstorm in July. What's clear is that if the moderate-conservatives win out, Governor Daniel will continue at the helm of party affairs in Texas. If the DOT prevails, Mrs. Frankie Randolph, national committee woman and DOT chairman, will take the wheel.

SHORT SNORTS—Governor Daniel has asked the State Board of Water Engineers to have ready by Dec. 1 a survey of Texas water needs that is to be presented to the next Legislature. Study is to be projected to the years 1975 and 2000.... For the fourth straight week the Texas Employment Commission reported a drop in unemployment payments. Jobless persons receiving benefits totaled 79,965 in the last report. During the spring the total soared above 91,000.

LOCAL BUSINESS

Every Business Has Its Virtues

By JOE ED BOATRIGHT, Record Advertising Mgr.

Occasionally we run across a business man who says, "Sure I believe in advertising but I just don't have anything to advertise."

"If that is true, how do you stay in business?" we have been tempted to ask. In answer, the business man begins to list dozens of virtues of his place. He mentions his location, his special service, his quality merchandise, or the friendly, personal service.

Actually, just a partial listing of such claims would make a fine advertisement for a store or service. If the good qualities of a business can be described verbally to a few people, they can be described just as effectively to thousands of people through advertising.

Every place of business has something to advertise. The very fact that it is operating—that it has a product or service to sell—indicates that it is unique in some way, and that some people prefer it to other places.

Every merchant can discover unique and special features he has to offer. These are the things he can sell best through advertising. And he can be sure that many potential customers do not know about his unique and special features unless he is a consistent advertiser.

A successful grocery store in South Alabama looks and operates just as it did 75 years ago. It advertises the fact, featuring such times as turnip greens and fat-back. The advertising works because the old-time atmosphere is something unique.

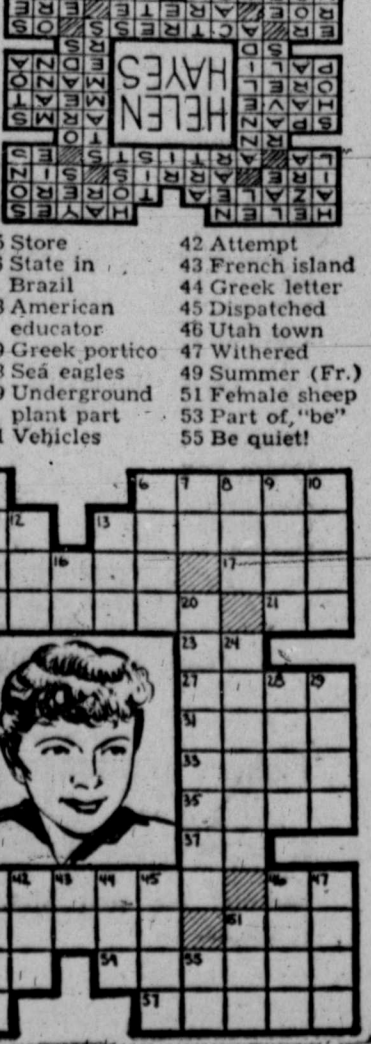

However, without the use of clear advertising, the store would have passed from the scene with cracker barrels and bulk flour.

Yankee Goes Home

AT TWO CHURCHES

Commencements Climax Schools

LORAIN — Vacation Bible schools at Loraine's First Methodist and First Baptist churches have concluded after successful programs.

Commencement exercises over the week end climaxed programs of the schools. Stories of the life of Jesus, readings and prayers were presented by pupils attending the five-day school.

Following the services, crafts and other handwork made by pupils during school were displayed in Fellowship Hall.

Assisting Mrs. Linam were Mrs. Percy Bond, Mrs. Claud Morrison, Virginia Templeton, Fran Griffin, Beverly Johnson, Katrina Wells and Kaylene Lankford.

Refreshments were served each day by the Women's Society of Christian Service.

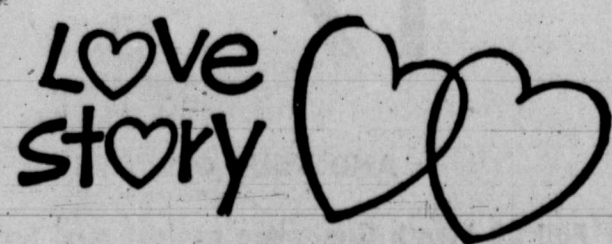

Thieves Take Candy Load From Stand

Approximately $7 worth of candy was taken from the Little League park concession stand Friday. Thieves broke a lock on the concession stand door to gain entrance to the small building.

Officials of Little League Auxiliary, who operate the concession stand to raise funds for the Little League, Pony League and Minor League baseball programs, believe the break-in was in the early afternoon between 12 noon and 3 p.m.

Park caretaker was at the concession stand until 12 noon Friday and then returned at 3 p.m. He discovered the break-in when he returned, according to auxiliary officials.

No equipment was taken from the building, just the candy.

It seems this girl was so cr-r-azy about the service she got from her Phillips 66 Dealer that she'd buy only one gallon of Elite-Fuel at a time... just so she'd have an excuse to come back often.

It was rather trying for this Phillips 66 Dealer, considering all the free services he provides for every customer on every visit. Brushing out inside the car, for example. Cleaning the windows all around. Checking the tires, battery, and radiator.

It turned out just about as you'd expect. Such an obliging fellow, she decided, would be a handy man around the house. So she hooked him.

The trouble is, of course, that most Phillips 66 Dealers are so dedicated to their jobs that house-hold chores get short shift. No moral here for wives. Obvious moral for motorists:

Farmers Get Reminder of Wheat Date

Mitchell County Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation committee Thursday reminded farmers again of the July 1 deadline for 1959 wheat acreage allotment applications.

Farmers on land on which no wheat was seeded for grain in any of the years 1956, 1957, and 1958 and for which a 1958 wheat allotment was not established, may apply for a wheat acreage allotment according to A. L. Young, chairman of the county committee.

The owner or operator of such a farm must apply in writing to his ASC County Committee by July 1, Young stated, otherwise a 1959 wheat acreage allotment will not be established for the farm.

Young explained that 1958 wheat acreage on a farm which did not have a 1958 wheat acreage allotment does not qualify as wheat history acreage for the purpose of establishing acreage allotments.

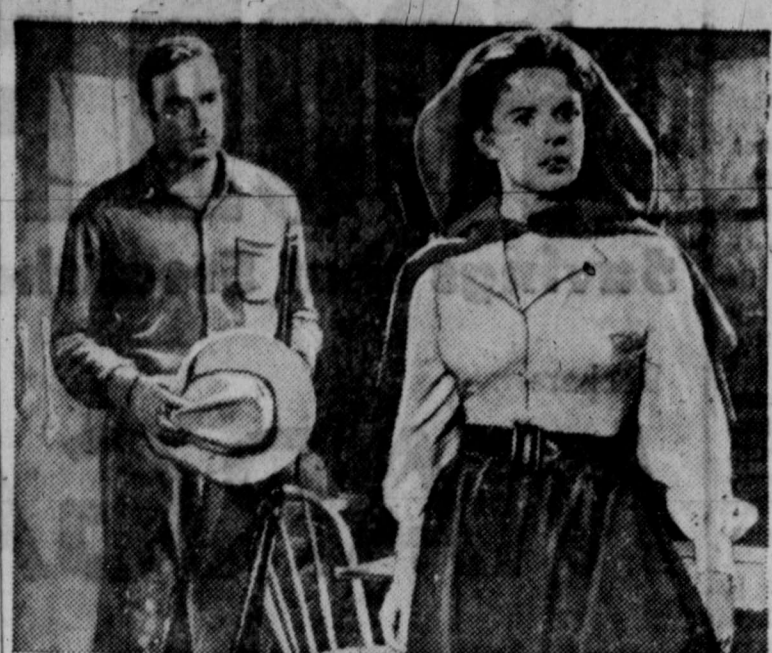

A 1959 old farm wheat acreage allotment will not be established for a farm without wheat history in 1956 and 1957, and on which wheat was planted for grain in 1958 with out a 1958 wheat acreage allotment unless an application is filed by July 1.

Blank application forms are available at the ASC County Office for use in filing requests for allotments.

Annual Award Presented W. L. Doss

W. L. Doss, owner of W. L. Doss Rexall Drug Store, is one of a selected group of Rexall druggists to receive the Rexall Mortar and Pestle trophy, presented by the Rexall Drug Company as an annual award to outstanding member druggists.

The award is an authentic replica of a mortar and pestle dating back to Spain in the 15th century. It was presented Thursday by Rexall representative, Gene York.

The historical mortar and pestle, still an important implement in the druggist's profession, is an ancient symbol of pharmacy. Its use for pulverizing medicinal herbs is recorded in the histories of ancient Egyptians, Hebrews of Biblical times and the Roman era.

ries the face of Medusa, Queen of the Gorgons, on all four quarters. Tales of Medusa abound in Greek mythology, the most famous being the story of Perseus who cut off her head. The myth was that anyone who looked on her face would be turned to stone. Since Perseus had become immune to this power, he held her head aloft in battle and vanquished the enemy.

Partly because of this myth and other allusions to serpents in literature, they have become a symbol to ward off evil. Hence, they are used in the staff of Aesculapius, the prescription department.

symbol of the medical profession, and in the well known Caduceus. Antique mortars and pestles with distinctive characteristics are widely sought by collectors, often bringing as much as $1500 and more for an unusual specimen.

The Rexall replica of this prized antique is mounted on a black walnut pedestal with a plaque inscribed with Doss's store name, and signed by John Bowles, president of the company's Rexall Division. It is on display at the store's staff of Aesculapius, the prescription department.

Mitchell in Alert Area For Hoppers

(Following cotton insect report was prepared for The Record by Cooperative Extension Work, Lubbock.)

Lack of rains during the past week has been favorable for increased season cotton insect activity.

Reports from over the rains area indicate that infestations have often been heavy, with resulting damage very apparent. Prevailing high winds have hampered control operations.

Thrips were reported in medium to heavy infestations throughout the area. Heavy hatching and continuous movement of the insects into cotton fields caused rapid increases in populations on cotton, particularly in Crosby, Lamb, and Lubbock Counties. Under such conditions, control has often seemed rather poor. Infestations on cotton in the southern part of the area have decreased somewhat, with improvement in plant appearance.

Where populations of thrips are heavy and movement into cotton fields continues, the interval between treatments should be shortened to 4 or 5 days. Dosages of recommended insecticides should also be increased toward the upper limit indicated in the Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects.

Grasshoppers were present along turnrows and other uncultivated land in all counties. These insects were also present in many fields, although feeding on cotton had not been observed in a majority of fields.

The hoppers were reported moving into fields from grassland in Gaines, Hale, Lubbock, and Mitchell Counties. Damage was generally confined to the outer edges of cotton plantings.

As grass and weeds dry or mature, cotton should be checked frequently so that control practices may be used once feeding on cotton is observed.

Flea hoppers were found in light infestations in the earlier planted fields in most localities. Light to medium infestations were reported in some fields in Castro, Lynn, and Swisher Counties.

Aphids, flea beetles, and garden webworms appeared in medium to heavy infestations in parts of scattered fields.

We strongly urge everyone to consult the Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects for recommended insecticides and dosages. Guides are available at county agent's offices.
