Two Teachers Are Added to School Faculty by Board

Mary Foreman Resigns to Become County Music Supervisor This Fall

SUPERVISOR—Miss Mary Foreman has been elected Supervisor of Music in the Hall County Schools. She has resigned from the Memphis school faculty to accept the new position.

Election of two teachers at a recent meeting of the board of trustees completed the faculty of the Memphis Schools for the 1939-1940 term of school, Roy R. Fultz, president of the Board, announced this week.

Gene Barnett, a graduate of Texas Technological College of Lubbock, was elected to succeed J. T. Warren as Vocational Agriculture instructor in Memphis High school. Barnett will begin his duties here July 1.

Warren had taught in the local schools for the past half year, coming here from Texas A. and M. in February to replace Johnny E. Key, who resigned at that time to accept a position with the Rural Rehabilitation Service.

Fultz also announced the election of Buren Carr, a graduate of Abilene Christian College of Abilene, to succeed Miss Mary Foreman as music supervisor in the elementary schools.

Miss Foreman has resigned to accept a position as County Music Supervisor for Hall County Schools. She was recently elected to that position by the Hall County Board of Trustees.

Carr will take over Miss Foreman's duties as supervisor of music in West Ward and Junior High school, and will conduct a beginner's band to supplement the High School Black and Gold band which will again be under the direction of Prof. G. W. Johnson.

Carr has been a student of band at A.C.C. The position of County Supervisor of Music was created in this county for the first time this year, and Miss Foreman, who has an outstanding record of work in the Memphis schools, was employed by the County Board to take over the duties. She will work with the students of all the county rural schools during the coming year.

Memphis Boy Dies Of Sun Stroke

Eber Dill, 16-year-old son of Mrs. Bob Dill of this city, died early Wednesday morning at Fort Worth as a result of a sun stroke.

Eber had lived in Memphis for several years, and attended the local schools.

He is survived by his parents, Mrs. Bob Dill of Memphis and Bob Dill of Fort Worth; one brother, Vernon Dill of Amarillo; and three sisters. One sister, Becky Dill, lives in Memphis, and another, Mrs. Mabel Stuart, is a resident of Fort Worth.

Rotarians' Retiring Prexy Gets Crashing Farewell Tuesday

A crash of broken glass at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday noon sent Carl Periman, general County Attorney and retiring president of the club, searching vainly for his handy vest-pocket edition of Emily Post's Etiquette while he racked the legal brain for a tactful way out of a most embarrassing situation.

It was a solemn moment for the Rotarians, Periman, having just turned over the reins of office with a few well-chosen words of advice to his successor, Carl Harrison, was all set to graciously receive a set of beautifully matched glasses as a parting gift. Mayor J. Claude Wells, after making the presentation speech, moved forward with the precious glassware poised on the tips of his outstretched fingers—then to Periman's horror, sent the entire collection crashing to the floor at his feet.

REA Home Wiring Lags; Yarbrough Urges More Speed

High-line Construction Halted Temporarily By Shortage of Poles

Arrival of three car-loads of poles Tuesday and Wednesday speeded up work on the 117-mile power line being built by the Hall County Electric Co-op this week after a shortage of poles had temporarily halted operations.

A wiring campaign, started by co-op directors in an effort to have at least 75 per cent of the farm homes on the line wired for electricity in time for completion of the project, is lagging, however, according to Alvis Yarbrough, project superintendent.

At least 75 per cent of the 300 co-op subscribers must have their homes wired for electricity before the line can be energized. Four wiring crews are at work, and have wired 85 houses to date.

Completion of the project, scheduled for August 1, may be delayed slightly by lack of materials, but at the present rate of progress, it appears that the line will be ready before subscribers are ready to use it.

A wiring and plumbing loan fund has been made available through the federal Rural Electric Administration, and members of the co-op can now borrow funds for the wiring at low interest rates on a five-year loan. The loans are handled by a board appointed by the directors of the Hall County Co-op.

Frank Foxhall, holding true to form, moved down all opposition in defending his city golf title to capture the annual tourney crown on the Country Club course Sunday afternoon, defeating his younger brother, Ed, 6 and 4 in the 36-hole final.

Foxhall advanced 3 and 2 over Jack Walker in the opening round of play, and defeated Carl Harrison 2 and 1 in the semi-final. Ed defeated O. B. Smith 5 and 4 in the opener, and advanced to the finals by taking Noel Woodley 4 and 3 in the semi-final match.

R. S. Greene captured the A flight crown Sunday afternoon, defeating O. B. Jones 5 and 4 in an 18-hole match. C. O. Davenport took the B flight in a grueling final with Jack Norman which ended with Davenport 1 up on the 21st hole.

Harold (Chesty) Walker won a close one over Herschel Montgomery in the C flight, going 1 up on the 18th. Ross Springer, winning the D flight final, was forced to play one extra hole, taking Bryan Reynolds 1 up on the 19th.

O. B. Smith captured the championship consolation, going 1 up over Jack Walker on the 20th hole. Leslie Foxhall, another brother of the champion, defeated Russell McClure 5 and 4 for the A flight consolation.

Carl Eudy won the B flight consolation 2 and 1 over Jim Morris, and Irvin Johnsony defeated M. J. Draper to take consolation honors in the C flight. Lloyd Hicks Jr. defeated Nelson Combest, 5 and 3, in the D flight consolation.

Thirty-nine golfers made up the largest field to enter a city tournament in several years. Qualifying rounds were played Sunday, June 18, and tournament play was started on the following Tuesday. All final matches were played Sunday.

23 FIRMS PICK SPONSORS FOR REUNION RODEO

Gala Show Planned For 1939 Pioneer Reunion July 27-28

Twenty-three local firms have already agreed to sponsor girls in the Rodeo Reunion at the annual Hall County Old Settlers Reunion here July 27-28, Mrs. Murray Dodson, chairman of the committee on sponsors, announced Wednesday.

The girls will ride in one of the most colorful shows ever presented in this section, if plans of the Rodeo and Reunion committees are carried out.

They will ride in the opening day "Parade of Progress" which will open the 1939 pioneer reunion Thursday morning, July 27, and will lead the grand entry at each matinee and night performance of the two-day rodeo.

Separate prizes will be awarded winning local and out-of-town entries. First prize to the out-of-town girl will be a $100 saddle, and the winning local entry will receive a $35 pair of boots. A number of other prizes will be awarded runners-up.

More than 100 girls are expected to take part in the Reunion, Mrs. Dodson said. No out-of-town sponsors have been received at this early date, but an excellent start has been made with the local firms, the chairman announced.

The following sponsoring firms and entries have been received:

Get a Horse And Get Out And Get In The Parade

Can you crack a black-snake whip, twirl a lariat, or ride a horse?

If you can do any or all of these, the rodeo committee for the Hall County Old Settlers Reunion is interested. The committee is searching this entire area for an old-time trail driver who can still swing a long whip, and for trick-roping experts who'll take the center of the arena at the two-day rodeo.

As for horses, there's a place in the parade for everyone who has a horse and can ride. Hundreds of horses are wanted for the huge opening day "Parade of Progress." Get out your boots and saddle!

Pre-Celebration Parties Planned In Regalia Drive

First Costume Ball To Be Staged Next Friday Night; Free for All

An old-fashioned party will be staged by the Regalia committee for the Hall County Old Settlers Reunion next Friday evening, July 7 at Cyclone Stadium, beginning at eight o'clock.

Two pre-celebration parties are planned by the committee, the second to be held on Friday evening, July 21, only five days before the opening of the two-day reunion and rodeo.

Each will be a costume ball. Games and dancing will be featured, with both old-fashioned square dancing and modern "jitter-bugging" included on the program.

No charge will be made for admission to the affairs, committee members have announced. The public is invited, but no one will be admitted unless he or she is wearing either the official cowboy or pioneer regalia which has been selected by the Reunion committee.

Gold shirts and big hats, or pioneer dresses, and wide-brimmed bonnets are the styles set for the fashion parade during the next three weeks.

John L. Mason Dies Suddenly At Home Monday

Aged Man Found Dead In Field Near House Last Monday Afternoon

John L. Mason, 78, of Lakeview was found dead in a field near his home shortly after noon Monday. The aged man had been dead for several hours when the body was found. Heart failure was given as the cause of death.

Mr. Mason had left his house at about 7 o'clock Monday morning to work on his shelterbelt rows. His step-son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Patton, who were living with him, became alarmed when he failed to return for lunch and discovered the body at about 1 o'clock Monday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the home of his step-daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Phillips, at 1613 Brice street, in Memphis. Rev. J. W. Hawkins, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiated. (Continued on page 5)

Names of Deceased Pioneers Wanted

Mrs. D. H. Davenport, who will be in charge of the memorial service at the Old Settlers Reunion here July 27-28, requests all who have lost their pioneer loved ones in Hall County since July 1938 to report the names to her at Lakeview immediately.

She also asks that the deceased loved ones be represented by some one in the family at the memorial service, the time of which will be announced later.

500 MEMPHIANS TO LAKEVIEW MONDAY EVE

Second Good Will Trip To Estelline Next Monday Nite

A delegation numbering well over 500 people made up an auto caravan to Lakeview Monday night on the first of a series of "good neighbor" expeditions to near-by towns and communities.

Led by the Memphis band, a horde of gold shirts, ten gallon hats, and pioneer dresses swarmed into Lakeview at 7:30 Monday evening to stage an hour-and-thirty-minute variety show from an improvised stage erected on Main street. A crowd estimated at more than one thousand people was on hand.

The second of the series of "good will trips will be made next Monday evening to Estelline. Trippers will leave from the City Hall as before at 7 o'clock, and will open the show on the square at Estelline at 7:30.

Tuesday, July 4, a large delegation, headed by the band, will be sent to Clarendon to attend the annual Clarendon Rodeo and Independence Day celebration—one of the oldest shows of its kind in the Panhandle.

The program at Lakeview was opened with the theme melody, "I'm An Old Cowhand," played by the band, with Miss Nell McNeely singing the vocal.

Anita Meacham appeared on the program in two vocal numbers, including "Give Me My Boots and Saddle," accompanied on the accordion by Rayburn Jones, and young Rayburn played an accompaniment. (Continued on page 5)

League Teams to Stage All-Star Game Sunday

Annual Mid-Season Classic Between North and South To Be Played in Memphis

Stellar players from the six teams in the Hall County Baseball League will meet here next Sunday, July 2, in the loop's annual All-Star Baseball game.

Memphis, Hedley and Goldston, representing the northern half of the circuit, will join forces against Lakeview, Estelline, and Tell. The game will be played on the Memphis diamond, just south of Cyclone Stadium.

Managers for all six teams in the league met here Thursday night to pick the top-notch players from each section for the annual all-star battle. C. E. Bentley of Memphis will be manager of the North team, and will be assisted by managers from Hedley and Goldston.

Don Wright of Lakeview will manage the South's aggregation, with Joe Marcum of Estelline as field manager. J. McCoy of Childress will be calling the play from behind the plate, with John Sullivan of Lakeview handling umpire's duties at first and second and W. M. Davis of Memphis ruling the third base spot.

On the roster for the North are Thompson of Hedley, Richie of Goldston, Morris of Hedley, Stewart and Hoover of Memphis, Terry of Hedley, Melcar and Lawrence of Memphis, Armstrong of Hedley, Brisbane and Littrell of Hedley, and Warren of Memphis.

Playing for the South loop are Redwine of Tell, Farley of Estelline, Stages of Tell, Leggett of Lakeview, McGee of Lakeview, Hale of Estelline, J. Marcum of Estelline, Andrews of Estelline, Isham of Lakeview, Seago of Lakeview, Barron of Tell, and Blackmon of Lakeview.

All players who are regularly enrolled with league teams will be issued passes to the game. Admission will be 25c for men and 15c for women.

Players taking part in the game will split the gate receipts after expenses are paid, Jack Boone, president of the League, announced. Gatekeepers will be Andy Simmons and John Dennis, both of Memphis.

Baptist WMS Has Meeting Monday

Members of the Baptist WMS met Monday afternoon in their regular meeting in the church study.

The program was opened by the song, "Sweet Hour of Prayer," by the entire group, followed by prayer offered by Mrs. S. B. Foxhall. "How Firm a Foundation" was sung. Mrs. R. E. L. Pattillo brought a beautiful lesson from Matthew, seventh chapter. Mrs. J. Wm. Mason gave the closing prayer.

Those present were Mesdames B. Baldwin, George Thompson, S. B. Foxhall, E. T. Prater, Ed McMurry, Clara Pritchett, J. P. Godfrey, Glen Carlos, R. E. L. Pattillo, John Barber, Jim McMurry, J. Wm. Mason, H. B. Gilmore, N. M. Lindsey, H. C. Crow, F. R. Curtis, L. G. Rasco, Mary Combest and Miss Ruby Thornton.

EASTERN STAR MEETING

The Eastern Star will meet July 4 at 7:30 o'clock, and all members are urged to be present.

Southern Women Eager to Tell!

"One is bound to be gratified by the enthusiasm of Southern women for CARDUI," says one of the Touring Reporters now conducting a Query in Southern cities. "Of the 1297 CARDUI users we have seen so far," she said, "1206—or 93 out of every 100—said it definitely benefited them!"

CARDUI's remarkable success in helping weak, rundown women who suffer from headache, depression, nervousness, and other symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition, is explained by the way it promotes appetite and digestion, and so builds physical resistance. Try CARDUI!

Circles Picnic at Hightower Home

One of the most enjoyable social events of the summer season was a picnic supper held on the lawn of the country home of Mrs. N. A. Hightower Monday evening by Circles 1, 2 and 3 of the Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church.

Tables for four were attractively set in the color scheme of red and white with red verbenas as center pieces.

Miss Ruby Hoffman opened the quarterly meeting with a devotional, "The Friendship of Jesus Christ." S. E. Ross Jr. of Amarillo gave a clever reading, "Sunday Evening Tea." Mrs. Fred Maxwell gave the invocation. During the business meeting reports were given by officers of all three circles.

Fifty-four members enjoyed the evening.

Greenbelt Union Meets at Plaska

The Greenbelt Union of the Methodist Epworth League met at Plaska Tuesday evening, June 27. The program was presented by the young people from Memphis and Plaska.

A hymn, "Into My Heart," opened the program. Freda Erwin gave a piano solo, and the leader, Miss Vada Webster, gave a short introductory talk on Peace.

Edna Dewlen read the scripture lesson, and Rev. Gordon from Clarendon led the group in prayer. Dorothy Dewlen and Edwanda Jones sang "Sweet Peace," accompanied on the accordion by Rayburn Jones.

Rev. Story of Plaska made an interesting talk on Peace, Demarcus Golden entertained with a piano solo, and Mrs. Billie Porterfield closed the program with a prayer.

A short business meeting was held, and Memphis was selected as the city for the next meeting. Clarendon young people will supply the program.

Games were played, and light refreshments were served to Marian Gordon, Betty Jo Bartlett, Edith Shelton, Carlton Gordon, and Rev. H. C. Gordon, all of Clarendon; Marion Duren, Edwanda Jones, Jessie Lee Burk, Gwendolyn Porter, Vada Webster, Rayburn Jones, Maidee Thompson, Dorothy Dewlen, Joyce Duren, Edna Dewlen, Mrs. W. L. Porterfield, and Mrs. Roy Guthrie of Memphis; and Demarcus Golden, Freda Erwin, Thelma Grayce Wheeler, Pauline Vallance, Emma Lou McMaster, Mrs. Walter McMaster, Kathleen McMaster, Zola Lee Foster, Rev. Frank Story, Mrs. Frank Story, Charlene McBride, Cecil Foster, Mrs. A. Giddin, Florene Storey, Wilma Jean McMaster, J. E. Erwin, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Tiner, Ouida Orr, and A. Giddin of Plaska.

Those enjoying the evening were Misses Billy Jo Prater, Betty Frances Fultz, Helen Bray, Sandra Morris, Muffett Merrell, Genevieve McCool, Gloria Scott, Frances Simmons, Mary Elizabeth, Bryan, June Edmondson, and Harold Smith, D. H. Chrysler, Bobby Lindsey, Temple Deaver, Billy Joyce, Dwight Kinard, Jack Miller, C. H. Smith, J. H. Maxwell, Hiram Wood, and the hostess, Winifred Jane Tarver.

Picnic Party Is Given for Boots Maxwell Saturday

Misses Charlene Gerlach and Patsy Hall honored Miss Boots Maxwell with a farewell picnic Saturday evening at 7 o'clock.

The group met at the home of Miss Gerlach, 721 North Eleventh street, and then went to Roadside Park where they enjoyed a lovely picnic supper, after which they attended a midnight preview. The girls went to the home of Miss Betty Callahan for a slumber party following the show. A delicious "midnight" was served.

Those enjoying the picnic-party were Peggy Walker, Foy Young, Neysanell Coursey, Ty Williamson, Betty Callahan, Joe Crump, Nina Ruth Nelson, Keith Wells, Charlene Gerlach, Elmer Fisher, Patsy Hall, R. D. Easley, Talmadge Pounds and the honoree, Miss Maxwell.

Harrell Chapel Club in Meeting

The Harrell Chapel Needle Club met Tuesday afternoon, June 27, in the home of Mrs. C. R. Woodson. Two quilts were quilted and a number of tea towels made.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames W. A. McClanahan, Leo Collins, A. H. Jones, Ben Moore, W. L. Morrison, Louis Richards, Claud Fowler, Roy Francis, Jim Phillips, Otho Jones, and Jess Daniels, and Miss Mildred Richards.

The club will meet Tuesday, July 11, with Mrs. W. L. Morrison.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Black of Amarillo were in Memphis Sunday.

Mrs. L. J. Campbell of Turkey visited her son Lester Campbell here Thursday.

as a leader and a teacher but never as a boss," Mr. Gillentine said.

Sam Braswell, Clarendon editor, spoke on Mr. Wells as president of the Texas Press Association and of the Panhandle Press Association. He also pointed out the fact that Wells took advantage of the opportunities in his home town, instead of looking for greener pastures elsewhere.

Stressing his varied and successful service to the community and section, Judge R. H. Coker discussed Mr. Wells as a citizen.

Bud Manzer, Wellington banker, was toastmaster.

Now sole owner of the Wellington Leader, Mr. Wells is a former mayor of Wellington, and former president of the Texas Press Association and Panhandle Press Association. He was born on a farm near Wellington, attending the public schools there. He graduated from the University of Texas in 1924, then began working for the Wellington Leader.

CHURCHES

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The pastor will bring a message Sunday morning on the subject, "The Power of Christ" with I Corinthians 1:23 as the text. Does Christ have the power today that he ought to have? What about the power of Christ in Memphis? What interferes with his power today?

Sunday evening the message will be on "Sin" with I John 3:4 as the text. The word "sin" is a short, innocent looking little word, but it is quite meaningful. It is rather significant that "I" is right in the middle of it.

The prayer meetings have been well attended and the programs are interesting. You have a most hearty invitation to come and see how you like these services. The Sunday school and B. T. U. attendance has been fine for the past several Sundays. If you are a Baptist, you should help to keep the good work up. You always have a big place to fill in all the work of the church.

Rev. J. Wm. Mason, Pastor.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

In the July number of "Christian Herald" by Grace Noll Crowell, are these beautiful words: "Beyond the clamor of these latter years, we catch the voices that have long been stilled. Of the ancient fathers, battling their fears, Yet trusting that the promise be fulfilled, That 'The Lord will be a refuge for the oppressed.'"

And that they that wait upon Him will be blest. "This July Fourth the flag against the sky."

The land they left us, ours to have and hold. God grant that we, their children, keep the high Bright torch of liberty they lit of old.

Burning beneath whatever blasts may aim Their fury on its upward lifted flame."

It will be beautiful for you to attend church service next Sunday morning and evening keeping in mind that we are to honor and keep singing "Faith of our fathers living still."

Brother and Mrs. Porterfield, of the Methodist Church, we extend to you a most cordial welcome now that you are workers with other pastors and friends of Memphis.

E. C. Cargill, Pastor.

Mrs. Minnie Lokey and daughter, Willie Margaret, of El Paso, who are visiting in Newlin, were in Memphis Monday.

Wallace Takes Poultry Course

H. R. (Whitie) Wallace of Lakeview has returned from Lubbock where he attended a special course in poultry diseases given by Dr. Salsbury's Laboratories of Charles City, Iowa.

The training course is especially designed to enable managers and poultry service representatives of hatchery and feed stores to render a more useful service to poultry raisers in this community in handling poultry problems and improving flocks.

The school consisted of five full days of intensive study and training in poultry management, sanitation, and disease prevention. First aid methods of disease control, post-mortem work and vaccination by use of government licensed bacterins and vaccines were demonstrated and explained.

The training is offered by Dr. Salsbury's Laboratories through a trained traveling staff carrying full equipment for demonstration purposes.

1940 Licenses Purple On White

Julian Montgomery, state highway engineer, announced this week in Austin that the State Highway Commission had approved the colors to be used in the 1940 motor vehicle license plates as follows:

On passenger cars, purple on white; commercial, orange on black; farm truck, black on yellow; and on tractor, trailer, dealer, motor bus, motorcycle, sidecar, gold on blue.

The 1940 plates will be manufactured by the Texas Prison System, and will be placed on sale by county tax collectors March 1, 1940.

Bids for Rodeo Concessions Now Being Received

Horace DuVall Is Head Of Concessions Body; Final Date Is July 12

Bids are now being received for concessions at the Hall County Old Settlers Reunion Rodeo, Horace DuVall, chairman of the concessions committee, announced Wednesday.

Bidding will be opened for four separate concessions, DuVall announced. Concessions will be made by the committee for sale of cold drinks, sandwiches, ice cream and candy, and popcorn and peanuts.

Each bidder must specify which concession he is bidding on, DuVall said. Any person is permitted to bid on any or all concessions, but each bid must be made separately. All bids must be sealed and mailed to the Concessions Committee, Old Settlers Reunion and Rodeo, Box 1080, Memphis.

Concessions will cover all four performances of the two-day rodeo at Cyclone stadium. Only one person will be given each concession, but the concessionaire may subdivide and set up as many stands as he desires for the sale of his article. The committee reserves the right to reject any and all bids, DuVall said.

Bids must be in by 10 o'clock on the morning of July 12. All bidders must be present at the office of the Chamber of Commerce in the City Hall at that time, when bids will be opened. Bids will not be considered unless the bidder is present.

Hiway Patrolmen Now on Duty In College Classroom

Officers Are Detailed to Instruct Classes in Traffic Safety in Texas Colleges

Now is the time of year when stalwart highway patrolmen climb off their motorcycles and do classroom duty.

They are there as teachers, detailed to instruction in traffic safety.

Ten colleges and universities in Texas this summer are offering studies in safety education, and the state police are frequently called on for materials and teaching personnel in traffic safety.

The material—booklets, charts and surveys—goes out from state headquarters but the men are picked as instructors by their district patrol captains. Of the 60 per cent of the patrol who are college-trained, at least 44 studied teaching courses and a number of the patrolmen are former school teachers.

In several instances, schools asking for patrolmen as traffic instructors have requested their own graduates who are now on the patrol.

Clarendon Group In Concert Here

A delegation from Clarendon, led by the Clarendon High School Band, stopped in Memphis Wednesday afternoon for a street concert heralding the annual Fourth of July Celebration and Rodeo in that city next Tuesday.

The Clarendon celebration is one of the oldest in the Panhandle. Featuring the celebration are the rodeo, parade, fireworks display, band concert, old fiddlers' contest, and street dance.

Two rodeo performances will feature the afternoon and night of the celebration.

Estelline Drops To Third Place In Pennant Race

Memphis Back in Lead; Lakeview Second After Estelline Loses Sunday

Squeezing through a narrow 2-1 decision over Tell in a game on the local diamond Sunday afternoon, the Memphis baseball team climbed back on top with a one-game lead in the Hall County League pennant chase after dropping back into a tie with Estelline last week.

The Estelline nine, meanwhile, dropped a 10-3 slugfest to the rejuvenated Hedley team in a game on their home diamond, to fall back into third place behind the fast-moving Lakeview club. Lakeview administered a sound 10-5 shellacking to luckless Goldston at Lelia Lake to complete Sunday's loop schedule.

Hoover of Memphis and Staggs of Tell fought a dramatic battle from the pitcher's mound Sunday afternoon as both teams played heads-up ball to give their hurriers excellent support and keep the game in the air until the final strike.

Hedley, after a bad early-season start, has started clicking and appears to be a good shot to land in the top-four for the Shaughnessy play-off. On the strength of their win over Estelline Sunday, the Hedley nine advanced to a tie for fourth place with Tell.

No League games are scheduled for next Sunday as all teams will take part in the annual All-Star game to be played in Memphis Sunday afternoon. Regular play will be resumed the following week.

The standings:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Memphis	8	3	.727
Lakeview	6	3	.667
Estelline	7	4	.636
Tell	4	6	.400
Hedley	4	6	.400
Goldston	2	9	.182

Skull of Huge Buffalo Found Near Memphis Recalls Pioneer Days

The buffalo still haunts the prairies. Not in more than fifty years have the big shaggy animals been found in Hall County, though many old-timers can remember when their bones were a common sight around the flats.

A large buffalo head uncovered near Memphis Tuesday by T. J. Martin, therefore, is attracting interest from all comers. Old-timers, viewing the massive skull, recall buffalo hunts of former days and to many "newcomers" the head is indeed a rarity.

Measuring 23 inches from top to bottom, with a horn span of 26 inches and eye sockets 3 inches in diameter, the skull was found on the Browder Ranch on property belonging to the Memphis Waterworks by Martin and Lee Ford. The head was uncovered in a fifteen foot canyon, where it was partially buried in the sand.

Martin estimated the skull to be more than 50 years old, but it is in a good state of preservation.

Part of the bone is petrified.

The head, with its sticking to the bones, to The Democrat office after the find on July 27-28—a real pioneer days on the prairie.

dion solo, "Ragtime Cowboy Joe." Charlene Gerlach was featured in a tap dance number, accompanied by the band playing "Darktown Strutters Ball."

Three Lakeview girls volunteered to take part in a balloon-blowing contest, and were awarded prizes by Carroll Smyers, chief wrangler for the Memphis delegation. Nell McNeely, accompanied by the band, sang a new arrangement of "Beer Barrel Polka."

A "cowboy trio," featuring Buster Helm, T. E. Noel, and J. C. Ross, won popular acclaim with a group of cowboy songs rendered in barber shop harmony. Featuring the program was a string-entating contest by three Lakeview boys, with gold shirt and silk handkerchiefs awarded as prizes.

Mrs. Donald May presented the climaxing number in a comedy role as "Arabella," with a humorous monologue skit.

Mayor J. Claude Wells extended a welcome to the people of Lakeview and the entire county to attend the Pioneer Celebration on July 27-28, when Memphis will be host city, promising to throw away the keys to the city jail and open the town to all comers.

Mac Wilson, chairman of the rodeo committee, in a brief talk sketched plans for the Rodeo which will be one of the principal features of the Pioneer Reunion.

Mrs. D. H. Davenport, secretary of the Old Settlers Association, replied to the welcome address on behalf of the people of Lakeview and promised to attend the Reunion in grand style.

Carroll Smyers, secretary of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, was the "wrangler" for the show.

Arriving in Memphis Tuesday for a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Draper was her sister, Mrs. Bunkin Cannon and children, Hicks and Marjorie, of Sanderson.

odist Church of Lakeview, was in charge of the services, assisted by Rev. R. G. Brister, pastor of the Lakeview Baptist Church, and Rev. J. Wm. Mason, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Memphis.

Burial was in the Union Hill Cemetery at Lakeview, under the direction of King's Mortuary of Memphis.

Mr. Mason is survived by his widow, 3 step-sons, and 2 step-daughters. Two step-sons, Vernon Patton of Lakeview and Richard Patton of Memphis, and one step-daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Phillips of Memphis, were present for the services.

Mr. Mason was born and reared in Alabama, moving to Texas when he was 14 years of age. He had been a resident of Hall County for the past 30 years. He had made a profession of faith in early childhood, and was a faithful member of the Methodist Church.

Mr. Mason was married to Mrs. May Patton on December 27, 1917, and they have lived near Lakeview since that time.

Special music at the services Tuesday included "Abide With Me," "Does Jesus Care?" and "Nearer My God to Thee." Pallbearers were Clarence Gosdin, J. B. Duren, Bill Williamson, Ross Springer, Paul McCanne, and E. C. Burnett.

increase. Assessments dropped in 1935 to $40,005.92, however, and were down to $39,329.99 in 1936. The low mark of the five year period was reached in 1937 when ad valorem assessments totaled only $30,322.45.

An increasing number of claims for exemption under the homestead law has accounted for part of the drop, Ferrel stated, but the bulk of the decrease has been as a result of loss and decrease in property values.

A probable hike in the state ad valorem tax rate will be made in 1940, officials believe. At any rate the new bill, if it passes, will mean no immediate saving to the taxpayers of Hall County, since the half to be returned to the counties will be collected as usual by the state. It will, however, mean a great deal of additional revenue to Hall County, and may eventually reduce local taxes in that manner.

"GOOD NEIGHBORS"

THE ENTHUSIASM with which the first "Good Neighbor" expedition last Monday was undertaken and received was highly gratifying to its sponsors, and judging from the spirit exhibited throughout the evening, it was an occasion to which the time-worn expression of the society writer, "and a good time was had by all," might be applied in all sincerity.

When one community joins wholeheartedly in paying a neighborly visit to another community, something of value to all concerned must come out of it. Neighborly visits have become altogether too infrequent in this high speed age, and people are often surprised to discover that it's really fun to say "hello" to a friend.

The purpose of the trip was not primarily to advertise the Old Settlers Reunion. The Reunion itself does not belong to Memphis, but to the whole county, and Memphis, as the host city, is merely taking the lead in trying to give the pioneers of Hall County the biggest celebration which they have ever held. If through the agency of the good neighbor trips the people of the entire county are brought to the point of enthusiasm in putting over the Reunion, then one valuable purpose has been accomplished.

But more important to all concerned is the opportunity for a friendly gathering of neighbors such as has become regrettably infrequent in recent years.

In order that the "good neighbor" visits may extend to the whole county, the people of Memphis, individually and officially, have extended an invitation to the people of Lakeview and to all Hall Countians north of the river to join the good neighbor caravan to Estelline next Monday night. Jointly, these groups are extending an invitation to all of Hall County south of the river to meet them there for a neighborly visit.

That's getting somewhere, neighbors.

HELP BEAUTIFY FAIRVIEW

A GREAT DEAL of favorable response to suggestions made recently in The Democrat for beautifying Fairview Cemetery have poured in. Many people are interested in a plan which will bring water for flowers and trees within the gates of Fairview Cemetery.

The plan is simple, and can be carried out easily enough and at comparatively small expense, but it will require the interest and cooperation of a large group of citizens. It is a plan which should not be delayed... one which should receive immediate attention. An organized effort while the idea is fresh can turn the trick and create a place of lasting beauty as a monument to the dead.

BACK TO THE FARM

A MARKED DECREASE in the Hall county scholastic population is noted in official school census reports released Monday by County Superintendent Vera Tops Gilreath.

Only 3,376 children of school age were listed in the county under the recently completed 1939-40 census... sixty-nine less than last year. The small loss in itself is not alarming, but census figures show that it represents a trend which has continued for the past seven years.

There are now 738 fewer children of school age than in 1933, when the scholastic census showed 4,114 scholastics in Hall County schools. The number dropped in 1934 to 3,867, and again in 1935 to 3,660.

A slight increase was noted the following year, 1936, when 3,833 were enumerated; but the census dropped again in 1937 to 3,467 and then in 1938 to 3,445. This year's figure is the lowest of the period.

The greatest decrease appears to have been in the smaller independent schools and in the county's rural schools. Many rural schools have reduced their teaching faculties and a number of consolidations have occurred. While the consolidation of schools may be a bright spot on the educational horizon, the conditions which have made it necessary are far from encouraging.

Fewer scholastics in the rural districts point toward the significant fact that there has been a trend in population away from these districts, which means simply that there are fewer families on the farm and consequently less production in an area which depends essentially on farm production for the support of its business. Too often it also means that there are more families in town and on government relief.

The return of prosperity, as far as this agricultural section is concerned, may well come hand in hand with the return of the small farmer to the land.

Press Paragraphs

CULLED FROM THE
DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGES

Except for the hurried course of the motor-survey, many accretive destinations would remain yet in the itinerary of travelers who have touched all ports, including eternity.—Douglas Meador in The Matador Tribune.

This town is what the people living here have made it—nothing more, nothing less. It will be in the future, next year, and the next year what people now living here make it. If each one goes about his own business and gives no thought or effort toward improving the town, it will not progress or advance. Of itself it cannot. We talk much about making our town a better town, but as long as we have no plan or make no definite effort toward making it a better town, it is not going to improve very fast. In other words, our town will be what we plan to make it. All that is necessary to do is to select an objective, one definite thing to do, and then get behind it and stay behind it until it is accomplished. Every town that has made progress has done it in just this way, and this formula will bring progress to any town that sincerely applies it.—The Ford County News.

New Dealer's Revised Version, Declaration of Independence: We hold this truth to be self evident; that the Government of the United States has the right to have John Q. Citizen do that which the Collector of Internal Revenue wants done.—The Moore County News.

"Boys evidently do not need so many swimming pools, tours, and libraries as they need plain jobs. That may sound crude in this young-bring-the-duck age, but recall that practically all the great men of all history were workers. They knew how to sweat. They preferred exercise to physic.

"The greatest phenomenon in America today is our indifference to idleness. The happiest people are those who work for what they get. The happiest period in the nation's history was when the people had jobs—just plain, ordinary, sweaty jobs at fair wages."—The Donley County Leader.

The fellow who wrote a world history from 5000 B. C. to A. D. 1939 found few sales for his book. They didn't like the way the story ended.—Apostle of the Temple of Truth, Donley County Leader.

Almost unbelievable is the fact that sheet water has risen almost 60 feet in some sections of Donley County during the past twenty years. Soon after the turn of the century, a water well was drilled in a pasture vegetated only by range grass on the W. I. Rains place near Hedley. Around 75 feet was drilled before the bit struck water. Today water runs from the same well, and willows and marsh grass grow in abundance.

In a land where storm cellars are as necessary to the farm homes as electric appliances are to the town resident, H. K. Leathers of near Lelia Lake is without a dug-

Since the sheet water's rise, Leathers says that a cellar 6 feet deep immediately becomes a well. A neighbor, however solved the difficulty by burrowing a cellar in a high banked turnrow on the side of a hill.

The common belief is that the water rose with a slight tremor felt a number of years ago. In any event, the earth's strata must have undergone a sudden change.—From Random Reflections in The Clarendon News.

The News believes that at the first session of Congress following the next Presidential election an amendment to the Constitution of the United States should be submitted to the people proposing that the President should be limited to two terms of four years each, or better still, to one term of six years.

During the past few years the federal government has so broadened its activities, and the powers granted to the President or assumed by him have been so expanded, that we believe it wise if not absolutely necessary that such curtailment of his term of service be made. . . . This year probably would not be an opportune time for the reason that any movement in this direction would be misunderstood or misinterpreted by its enemies and might delay if not defeat its adoption. But at an early date it must be done.—The Lynn County News.

THE LADY AND THE ROUGHNECK

SHE SAID SHYLY, "Couldn't I take a peek?" He said bashfully, "Er-r lady, you can try."

He was a roughneck, which is the regular name for a worker like him in the oil fields. She was a dear, with two little grandsons back East whose lips would round as she told of looking down the world's deepest hole . . . down well-nigh 3 miles . . . down the famed 15,004-foot Conoco oil well in California.

You too are invited to see it. Of course, as the lady knows now, you can't squint so awfully far down a 3-mile bore. But if you could only get a squint into the 3-inch bore of your motor car's cylinders! . . . if you could only watch patented Conoco Germ Processed oil give your engine wondrous OIL-PLATING! Then you'd see those precious working parts not merely oil-splashed and oil-smeared but OIL-PLATED with a perfect skin-fit—as bumpers are chromium-plated. Chromium-plating surely doesn't thin out, fry up, or drain down; and neither does OIL-PLATING. So it stays clear up to the cylinder head despite 400 or 500 miles a day; despite 4 or 5 hours' parking—and longer. Then all your Summer starts and spurts will be wear-proofed by slippery OIL-PLATING that's never all gone. Beats any mere on-again-off-again oiling, particularly when you tote up all your miles between quarts! Area Offices for Soil Conservation Established at Lubbock, Perryton

Establishment of area offices at Lubbock and Perryton to manage all operations of the Soil Conservation Service in the Panhandle of Texas and Oklahoma was announced today by H. H. Fennell, director of the Southern Great Plains region of the Service with headquarters in Amarillo.

The Lubbock office will have supervision of soil conservation work in the Southern High Plains with O. T. Williams, who has been manager of the Hereford project, acting in charge. The Perryton office will be in charge of work in the Oklahoma and north Texas Panhandle with George M. Parker, who has been manager of the Guymon, Okla., project, in charge. Both offices will be opened around July 1, Fennell stated.

Work units to be supervised by the Lubbock office include the demonstration projects at Vega and Hereford; CCC demonstration camps at Memphis, Littlefield and Lamesa; water conservation projects on the Tierra Blanca, Tule and McClellan creeks; water facilities work in the Mustang-Seminole drainage-way near Lamesa; and on the Lebo-Gypsum creeks drainage in Childress county, and cooperative work with wind erosion districts in Oldham and Deaf Smith counties.

Units under supervision of the Perryton office are the demonstration projects at Guymon, Okla. and at Stratford, Dalhart and Channing, Texas; the CCC demonstration camp at Perryton; water conservation projects on Rita Blanca, Boggy and Wolf creeks; the Tri-State land utilization project in Dallam County; water facilities development on the Rita Blanca and Coldwater and Palo Duro creeks, and on the North Canadian River in Oklahoma; and cooperative work with wind erosion districts in Dallam, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hartley and Moore counties.

The establishment of the Lubbock and Perryton offices is coincident with the setting up of similar offices at Denver and Pueblo, Colo., Dodge City and Salina, Kans., in the Southern Great Plains, Fennell explained.

This move to decentralize the management and supervision of field operations of the Service is made in the interests of economy and efficiency, according to Fennell. Heretofore all projects and work units of the Southern Great Plains region have been supervised directly from the regional office at Amarillo, excepting those in eastern Kansas which have been under the direction of the Salina office.

Operations of the Soil Conservation Service have been steadily expanding since regional offices were created in 1935, Fennell said. Addition of the land utilization program which was transferred from the Bureau of Agricultural Economics last fall, the water facilities program authorized under the Pope-Jones Act of 1937, and other work units have increased field operation in the region to the extent that it no longer seems economical or advisable to attempt management of field work from the regional office at Amarillo, the director explained.

The area offices being created will have the necessary technical and administrative staff for management of all present projects and work units of the Service and any additional projects that may be established at future dates within their respective areas, Fennell stated. The regional office at Amarillo will continue to function in a supervisory capacity with decreased staff.

The creation of area offices not only will save considerable money by decreasing travel expenses, but also is expected to increase the efficiency of field operations by having the management and direction of field work nearer the various work projects, Fennell said.

"Forgotten Children" Result of Lack Of Adequate Protection in Texas

Weighed in the balances and found wanting—that is Texas' machinery for adequate guardianship and protection of the state's two and one-half million children, University of Texas sociology experts declare.

"Texas Children," a 900-page report, just off the press, analyzes the data accumulated by the Texas Child Welfare Survey in a five-year study.

The survey, employing more than 2,200 investigators to gather information on 364,397 children of 140,000 families in 222 counties of the state, was started by the Texas Relief Commission and the Texas Division of Child Welfare, but was taken over by the University Bureau of Research in the Social Sciences in 1935 and carried to completion.

One of the most exhaustive research projects ever conducted by the University or other state agency, this study not only tabulates and analyzes statistics on children of Texas, but traces the development of each phase of child welfare since the middle ages, and then fits the Texas situation into the national picture.

In practically all directions, traditional mistreatment and neglect of underprivileged children, children of broken homes, illegitimate children, mentally or physically handicapped children, has given way to well-meaning if limited legal protection, the survey points out.

Creation by the Legislature in 1931 of the Division of Child Welfare as a branch of the State Board of Control was one of the white spots in "the course of a long and honorable legislative history," the report asserted. This enactment has borne rich fruit, but the Texas system is still woefully deficient.

While the study does not pretend to present a cross-section of Texas children, it does claim to give actual facts concerning the families studied. Rather than sending its investigators to poll "average" families, the survey made a house-to-house canvass of the families of ex-service men and women; all families having blind, crippled, and otherwise handicapped members, and the families on relief.

Rufus Greene In Semi-Finals of Tri-State Golf

G. D. Beard Loses First Round Match Wednesday; Greene in First Flight

R. S. Greene, Memphis' entry in the Tri-State Senior Golf Tournament which opened Tuesday at the Country Club course in Amarillo, advanced to the semi-finals in the first flight Wednesday defeating W. T. Rogers of Lubbock 4 and 3 and Dr. R. P. Parcells of Amarillo 3 and 2.

Greene was scheduled to meet A. N. Holmes of Shamrock in a semi-final match Thursday.

G. D. Beard of Memphis, who qualified Tuesday for the fourth flight, lost his first round match to J. T. Patman of Clarendon, 4 and 3, and a consolation match to Ed Clark of Oklahoma City, 1 up on the 19th.

Both men played in qualifying rounds at Amarillo Tuesday. Greene making the first flight (not championship) with a score of 91, and Beard landed in the fourth flight with a qualifying score of 102.

Henry Woods and son of Brice were Memphis visitors Sunday.

E. Pate of Lodge was in Town Tuesday.

Miss Ruby Thornton spent Wednesday in Amarillo.

Father of Texas Extension Service Will Be Speaker

S. F. Lever Scheduled to Appear on Short Course Program at A. & M.

A. F. Lever, former congressman from South Carolina and the joint author of the Smith-Lever Act which established the Extension Service, will be one of the featured speakers at the Texas A. and M. Farmers' Short Course scheduled this year for July 12, 13, and 14.

Lever's appearance will be of especial significance, since the Smith-Lever Act was signed by President Woodrow Wilson on May 8, 1914—25 years ago. He will speak at the general assembly meeting Friday morning, July 14, on the subject "The History and Personalities Connected with the Passing of the Smith-Lever Act."

Other noted speakers will include F. F. Hill, governor of the Farm Credit Administration, Washington, D. C.; Joseph Perkins, president Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, of Eastland; and H. S. Hilburn, editor of the Plainview Herald. Walter Jenkins of Houston will again lead the group singing.

H. H. Williamson, director of the Extension Service, said the Short Course "was being given back to the farm people" as farmers, ranchmen, and farm women have prominent parts on the program.

Included in the rural representatives who will speak are Arnold Ferguson of Spearman; Mrs. T. C. Byas of Bertram; Ella Calfee of Itasca; G. L. Florence of Gilmer; Mrs. J. M. Gillespie of Edna; R. A. Graham of Greenville; Peter Harton of Danavang; Mrs. W. G. Kennedy of Muleshoe; J. R. McCarty of Calvert; Ethel McKinney of Cameron; L. L. Mackey of Longview; L. T. Mahugh of Plainview; H. H. Nixon of Harrold; Mrs. Alvin Peterson of Olivia; Joe Snodgrass of Doole; Mrs. Emma Talley of Dille; and T. P. Walton, Groveton.

Mrs. Hollis Boren returned Friday from Tulsa and Dimmitt where she had been visiting her daughters, Mrs. Chas. Weisenburg and Mrs. Billy Morrow.

Mrs. Steve R. Powell left Thursday for Williamson, Va. where she will visit her mother until September.

Miss Mattie May McMasters of Lakeview was in Memphis Saturday.

When You Observe the Fourth of July, You Are

Celebrating Freedom to Serve

FREEDOM, regulated by justice, dates back to July 4, 1776—the Birthday of America. This nation was founded on, and consecrated to, the idea of liberty, freedom, independence. This applies, not only to the nation as a nation, but to the individual in his daily life.

The Electric Industry, asking only freedom to serve efficiently and economically, contributes much to that priceless gift: more liberty and ever-greater freedom. Through Electric Service, men and women have been emancipated from thousands of tedious, nerve-racking, exhausting tasks both in the home and in other industries.

West Texas is traditionally the Land of Opportunity and the Home of the Free. Its history is linked with the fact that Your Electric Servant was free to keep pace with the region it serves ... expanding its facilities to meet the needs of every community and anticipating your future demands for Service. As a result, you now are free to enjoy freedom from drudgery.
