The SDN COLUMN

Gene Merrifield, the Snyder Chamber of Commerce manager, has been living in a literal fairy tale of realism, if there is such a thing. The unexpected word just a few days ago that his sister and her family, given up as dead many years ago, had been found in Africa, set in motion a Christmas season that Merrifield and his kinsmen are not likely to forget. In fact, Merrifield confesses that he still must continually convince himself all over again that the events of the past few days are real.

His sister, Mrs. Howard Kelly, along with her husband and three daughters, likely could have escaped some time ago, but after the missionaries had been held captive by a tribe near the equator for several years they reconciled themselves to a life in the jungle. In fact, they ultimately concluded that it was meant that they should be there.

The chief of the tribe which took them captive 26 years ago knew they were medical people, Merrifield said. And the tribe undoubtedly benefitted from the medical knowledge of Dr. Kelly and his wife, who is a registered nurse. Through their work and advice the frequency of death in the village was reduced substantially and the population increased from about 2,500 to an estimated 6,500.

The Kellys, after 26 years there, still feel that they "belong" in the village, and their dedication is bolstered by the fact that many in the tribe have accepted Christianity and they have succeeded in maintaining an influential church and a small hospital. They hope to take many supplies and much equipment back to the jungle with them when they end their unexpected visit to the United States. One major item they are seeking is equipment to supply electric power for their hospital. They also want to take along some seeds with the hope that new food crops may be introduced to the village.

As for transportation, a helicopter is about the only thing that would be of particular benefit. There are no roads where they have been, and if a person gets off a trail he has to blaze his way with a machete.

When they return to Africa, the Kellys will take a lot of modern civilization with them. But they will be happy to leave jet planes behind.

"They're just too fast," the Kellys told Merrifield.

There were no jets when the Kellys were captured in 1941. Moreover, penicillin had not been released then, either.

Merrifield noticed one paradox during his visit with the Kelly family. They apparently were unperturbed by the attire of native women in the tribal village (mostly topless, to use a modern term) but were shocked by miniskirts in the civilized world.

AIRLIFTED TO BATTLE

Marines Face Heavy Fire

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines battled a powerful Communist force today 20 miles south of Da Nang. A helicopter airlift landed a detachment of the 5th Marine Regiment in a muddy rice paddy that later seemed ringed by a battalion of the enemy—perhaps 500 men.

AP correspondent Kim Ki Sam reported in a dispatch from the area that virtually every helicopter landing the Leathernecks and removing the wounded drew sniper and machine gun fire.

"The Marines built up their force and consolidated their position behind the two and three-foot-high dikes as sporadic firing continued into the night," Sam wrote. "There was no announced casualty report from either side."

Heavy enemy machine gun and mortar fire spewed from a fortified hamlet about 400 yards from the landing zone. Marine jets and helicopter gunships worked over the Communist positions there and in tree lines around the paddy, their bombs and rockets landing so close that in some cases splinters whizzed over the Marines.

Other action in three battles in South Vietnam's coastal provinces had raised the Communist toll to 288 dead since the Christmas truce.

American paratroopers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade launched the third assault Wednesday as helicopters landed them in a jungle area 250 miles north of Saigon where a Communist force of battalion size was reported.

The paratroops almost immediately flushed a force of about 300 Viet Cong and held them at bay for nine hours while artillery roared in and 31 jet planes in succession pounded them.

The battered Communist force pulled back along bloody jungle trails by nightfall, and 31 enemy bodies were found along with 18 abandoned submachine guns. Twelve paratroopers were killed and 34 wounded, the U.S. Command said.

The battle took place about 25 miles into the jungled foothills west of the coastal city of Tuy Hoa.

Simultaneously, South Vietnamese troops were engaged about 100 miles up the coast in the lowlands of Quang Ngai Province. A government battalion of regulars and militiamen ran into a Communist outfit of unknown size, drew back and called in 105mm howitzers. A government spokesman said 40 of the enemy were killed, almost all by the artillery, while government losses were light.

Sporadic fighting also continued along the coast just below the demilitarized zone where the Viet Cong 416th battalion was cut to pieces in a battle Tuesday. South Vietnamese forces reported catching a few more enemy soldiers during mopping up operations, bringing the claimed Red loss in that battle to 217 dead.

All the heavy fighting since the truce Monday has taken place along the central and northern coast where American and South Vietnamese sweeps were launched to counter unending Red buildup efforts.

However, American officers continue to believe new fighting is building up along the Cambodian border, in the Central Highlands and the jungled Communist War Zone C northwest of Saigon.

The presence of increased enemy supplies in the border area was demonstrated Wednesday night by a heavy mortar barrage fired into an American base camp at Dau Tieng, in the old stucco buildings of Ta Michelin rubber plantation.

The Red gunners fired 180 shells at the sandbagged camp, some with delayed fuses which went off hours later. The barrage wounded 39 soldiers of the 25th Infantry Division and a Red Cross worker.

Air officers reported new heavy strikes against North Vietnam Wednesday and said the weather improved slightly but ceilings remained below 3,000 feet in most areas. Hanoi claimed two U.S. planes were shot down, but initial American reports listed no losses.

Truck convoys in the southern part of North Vietnam were again the chief targets, as they have been since the truce ended, the U.S. Command said.

No Large Invasion In Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Reliable military and diplomatic sources said today that North Vietnamese and Pathet Lao forces are more active than usual in Laos but no large-scale Communist invasion of the country is taking place.

The sources, both American and Laotian, said the Communists have staged unusually large scale raids for rice on the agricultural communities of Nam Bac, near the royal capital of Luang Prabang, and Phalane, near Savannaket in the south.

Military sources said both areas are still in government hands.

Sources in Vientiane, endeavoring to explain reports of a Communist invasion, said the Laotian government frequently claimed the situation is "tense" in order to protest the presence of North Vietnamese troops in the country.

American intelligence sources estimate there are 40,000 North Vietnamese combat and support troops in Laos in the areas controlled by the Viet Cong.

In Washington, the Pentagon and the U.S. State Department at first took a similar attitude toward reports of new Communist military activity in Laos. But after reports from Saigon and Bangkok of large-scale North Vietnamese inroads into the kingdom, State Department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey said Communist attacks in Laos are of serious concern to the United States "and we are watching the situation closely."

US Sailors Seek Asylum

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Four American sailors who deserted and fled to Moscow to protest the Vietnam war will ask for political asylum in Sweden, the Swedish Committee for Vietnam announced today.

It said the Americans would arrive early Friday on a regular flight from Moscow and immediately seek asylum in Sweden as political refugees.

The Americans are Richard D. Bailey, 19, of Jacksonville, Fla.; John M. Barilla, 20, of Catonville, Md.; Craig W. Anderson, 20, of San Jose, Calif.; and Michael A. Lindner, 19, of Mount Pocono, Pa. They deserted their ship in Yokosuka, Japan, and were taken to Moscow six weeks ago.

The Swedish committee said the Americans had appealed to it for help.

The sailors lack American passports but have been issued Red Cross documents similar to those given refugees after World War I.

A member of the diplomatic community in Moscow reported Wednesday the four were "fed up with Russia" and were anxious to get to Sweden.

Frigid Front Moving Down

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bright sunshine prevails over most of Texas today but a new cold front moving down from the Rocky Mountains was scheduled to bring a new round of snow, rain and freezing temperatures to much of the state by tonight and Friday.

A fast-moving snowstorm that moved across the northern half of Texas Wednesday snarled city traffic, left some bridges dangerously slick, and dumped three inches of snow on Texarkana. During the night Lufkin had a heavy hour and a half snow that melted as fast as it fell.

Most of Wednesday's snow had melted but 1½ inches still covered the ground at Texarkana this morning.

Early morning readings were in the upper teens in the Panhandle and in the 20s and 30s at most points in the state. Temperatures around Brownsville were in the 40s.

The Weather Bureau said today's warming trend will be short lived and that cloudiness will start increasing over most of the state as the new front brings snow to the Panhandle by late afternoon. During the night the snow is expected to reach over the northern half of the state while rain can be expected in the southern portions.

Precipitation was widespread but light over Texas with Lufkin's .53 of an inch the heaviest reported.

Maximum readings Wednesday afternoon ranged from 27 degrees at Amarillo to 73 at Brownsville and McAllen.

Pre-dawn readings today included Dalhart 18, Amarillo, 19, Lubbock 20, Midland, San Angelo and Childress 21, Texarkana 23, Abilene 24, Wichita Falls 27, Tyler 29, Del Rio 30, San Antonio 31, and El Paso and Laredo 32. Brownsville's 45 was the highest in the state.

Ship Buzzed, Say Soviets

MOSCOW (AP)—A U.S. Navy two-engine tracker plane buzzed a Soviet navy ship in the Mediterranean and dropped exploding devices that sounded "like bombs" and bathed the vessel in blinding light, the Soviet defense ministry newspaper Red Star, reported today.

Because the captain of the supply ship could not immediately tell if it was a "prank" or a real attack, the newspaper said, he would have been within his rights to open fire on the American plane.

But apparently, the captain took no action and the plane flew off.

The accusation was one of several such charges made in a recital of alleged harrassments of Soviet ships in the Mediterranean by the U.S. 6th Fleet.

The Soviet fleet in the Mediterranean now numbers about 30 ships, compared to 55 ships for the United States.

Record Amount Contributed To Fund

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Texans contributed a record $34,535,015 this year to United Fund campaigns in 207 towns and cities. Goals ranged from $700 in small towns to $8 million in Houston.

J. Harold Stringer, president of Texas United Funds, Inc., said contributions were still coming in.

Burglaries Are Similar

The stealthy burglars who took $40 from the S&H Green Stamp Center here Christmas Eve after entering the building, Santa Claus fashion through the rooftop, may be the same ones who hit two trading stamp stores in Big Spring.

"The Gold Bond store and the Frontier Stamp Redemption Center both were broken into in Big Spring — either on Christmas Eve or Christmas night," said Chief of Police Stephen Clark.

He said that the modus operendi (method of operation) was the same in the three burglaries.

"They entered through the roof," he said. Officers have obtained at least one new clue in the robberies, but they are withholding the information pending further developments.

MODERATES' EXTREMISTS

Greece Beset By Conflict

By PHILIP DOPOULOS
Associated Press Writer

ATHENS (AP) — The Revolutionary Council behind Greece's regime is reported beset by an internal conflict between moderates and extremists.

The moderates, headed by Premier George Papadopoulos, favor a softer line against opponents of the army group that seized power April 21, informed sources said.

The extremists, according to the sources, want repressive measures continued; a continuation of press censorship and persons they consider hard-core leftists to remain in jail.

This situation was underlined by the regime's about-face on the Christmas amnesty announced Saturday by Papadopoulos.

The premier said that all political prisoners arrested after the April coup would be set free.

About 2,600 such prisoners are being kept on the Aegean islands of Leros and Yioura, and Papadopoulos said they would be among those freed, But 24 hours later the military dictatorship's chief security officer, Col. John Ladas, said those on the islands were "hard-core Communists" who were not included in the amnesty and only about 300 persons would be set free.

So far the premier has said nothing about this reversal of his announcement.

Ladas is considered one of the leaders of the Revolutionary Council's extremist faction. Others are said to be Col. Constantine Karydas, secretary-general of the ministry to the premier's office, and Air Vice Marshal Antonios Skarmaliorakis, head of the civil aviation authority.

The moderates are reported led by Papadopoulos and the other two leaders of the coup who have been considered a ruling junta—Deputy Premier Stylianos Patakos and Coordination Minister Nicholas Makarezos.

Papadopoulos has shown a conciliatory attitude toward King Constantine, whose attempt to oust the regime failed Dec. 13. But the council is said to be undecided whether to let the king return in the next few days or wait several months. The hard-liners reportedly want the king to remain in exile for some time to come.

Many council members are rumored to be against the return of Queen Mother Frederika, considering that she exercises undue influence on her son.

Informed sources say Papadopoulos, Patakos and Makerezos are hesitant to clash openly with the extremists for fear of creating disunity.

Mahon Due Here Tuesday

Rep. George Mahon of the 19th District of Texas is scheduled to be in Snyder on Tuesday, Jan. 2, for a mid-winter visit with constituents here.

Rep. Mahon will be guest speaker at a joint meeting of local service clubs at noon Tuesday at the First Methodist Church. The Lions Club will be the host club, and persons not associated with the various clubs who wish to attend may do so, it was announced.

Kennedy Memorial Plans Grounded

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dallas County's plans to build a memorial to President John F. Kennedy have run aground again, this time on the rocks of the New York bond market.

The $100,000 memorial to Kennedy, slain Nov. 22, 1963, two blocks from the proposed site, is to rest atop a $2.8 million, 490-car underground parking garage.

County officials had hoped to take bids on the garage project before the first of the year. But financial advisors are now counseling the delay of the sale of revenue bonds until the New York market promises lower interest rates.

Construction time for the garage, once the dirt starts flying, is estimated at 18 months.

BOARD'S TIGHT CREDIT

Pressuring For Tax Hike?

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some business leaders view the Federal Reserve Board's moderate move toward tightening credit as not-too-subtle pressure on the administration and Congress to raise taxes and cut spending.

The board announced Wednesday its unaninous decision to raise reserves on checking accounts—meaning banks must keep more money on hand at all times and thus cut back on lending. The action, said the board, was taken to stem inflation at home and strengthen the dollar abroad.

"It shows that Martin is trying to get his message across to the President," said one Midwestern banker of the surprise action.

The banker, who asked that his name not be used, referred to Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Reserve Board, who has urged spending cuts greater than those recommended by Johnson while backing the President's proposal to hike taxes.

A similar assessment was given by Ward C. Krebs, chairman of the credit policy committee of Wells Fargo Bank of San Francisco.

"Since there has been no fiscal support in combatting inflation by this administration and Congress, it is necessary for the Federal Reserve to go it alone," said Krebs.

That view was oft-repeated by other bankers contacted by The Associated Press in the wake of the board's announcement.

All seven board members have publicly endorsed Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge, which the House Ways and Means Committee plans to consider for a second time Jan. 22.

Wednesday's announcement was the first by the board of a switch from its policy of easier money which has marked 1967. There have been hints of a tightening, however, in recent banking statistics.

What the board did was to require banks with demand deposits —usually checking accounts —exceeding $5 million to place 17 per cent of them in reserve if they are large city banks and 12.5 per cent if they are small banks.

US Preparing Viet Hospitals

By BARRY KRAMER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The United States is preparing three hospitals with a total of 800 beds and staffing them with American military doctors and nurses to help care for the thousands of civilian victims of the Vietnam war, high U.S. officials disclosed today.

Civilian casualties are mounting—one American expert estimates them at 100,000 this year—and Vietnamese hospitals are unable to care for many of them.

The U.S. officials said American military hospitals since last March have been authorized to accept as many wounded civilians as they have room for, and about 300 a month have been treated. Some civilians had been treated even before that, they added.

A 300-bed civilian hospital at Tuy Hoa, entirely staffed by U.S. military doctors, nurses and orderlies, will open in a few days, the officials said.

A second hospital, with 200 beds, is expected to be completed at Chu Lai before the end of January. A third hospital, at Can Tho in the Mekong Delta, is expected to open in late spring with 500 beds for U.S. soldiers and 300 for civilians.

The first two hospitals are being converted from existing U.S. military facilities, while the Can Tho facility is a new structure. The space available admissions at other U.S. hospitals are to continue.

The building of the Can Tho hospital indicates that U.S. officials expect increased fighting in the delta, and a consequent increase in both military and civilian casualties.

Vietnamese government figures show an average of 4,000 civilians killed and wounded were reported each month during the past year, or at least 48,000 civilian casualties during the year.

But Col. William W. Moncrief Jr., U.S. assistant director for public health, estimated that only half of the civilian casualties are reported and the war's toll of civilians this year will be 24,000 killed and 76,000 wounded.

Father Takes Bodies To Funeral Home

JONESBORO, La. (AP) — A father who told neighbors he considered the world "too wicked" for his four little girls delivered their bodies to a funeral home Wednesday and said he had killed them.

The father, Earl Clinton Watson, 31-year-old worker at a Jonesboro meat processing company, was taken to a mental hospital for observation and examination.

Tina Charmine, 9, and Karen Hope, 8, had been killed with a 30-06-caliber rifle. Margaret Wendy, 5, and Faith Erline, 3, had been strangled.

Townspeople said Watson frequently announced that the "world is too wicked a place for my kids to grow up in. He had talked of studying for the ministry.

Watson told his wife, Margaret Ann Watson, Wednesday morning that he was taking the four girls to visit his mother.

Later he drove to the funeral home, owned by Mrs. E.L. Edmonds.

"I didn't know anything was wrong," Mrs. Edmonds said. "He appeared calm. I asked if I could help him."

She quoted Watson as saying, "I've had an accident. I've killed my babies."

He sat quietly in the waiting room until officers arrived. He was dressed in slacks and a sports jacket.

Eight Cities Approve Tax

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The one per cent city sales tax faltered once Wednesday en route to eight more victories at the polls.

Six approval votes came from cities and towns in the San Antonio metropolitan area but the suburb of Hollywood Park voted 65-37 against adoption of the tax.

The eight approvals ran to 150 the tax's list of approvals. Hollywood Park's disapproval put the defeat total at 20.

The closest approval was a 55-54 squeaker at tiny Amherst, some 40 miles from Lubbock. Littlefield voted 482-405 in favor of the tax.

More elections will be held today in Carthage, Midland, Crystal City, Kermit, Nixon, Sulphur Springs and Sweetwater.

Wednesday's results included: Alamo Heights, 334-91; Balcones Heights, 144-11; Castle Hills, 74-38; Leon Valley, 64-11; Olmos Park, 137-12 and Terrell Hills, 160-23.

Plea Is Entered

Gene Barnes, Snyder, pleaded guilty in County Court Wednesday to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He received a $50 fine plus court costs and a 3-day jail term. The offense occurred Dec. 24. Judgment and sentence were entered at the same time.

Trucker Killed In Rail Crash

TYE, Tex. (AP) — A truck driver was killed and three trainmen injured when a transport carrying 6,000 gallons of gasoline collided with the engine of a Texas & Pacific Railway freight train Wednesday night near this West Texas town.

The victim, later identified as Gene Middleton, about 40, a driver for Crown - Tex Oil Co. of Tye, was burned beyond recognition in the roaring holocaust that followed the collision.

The explosion and fire were heard and seen in Abilene, five miles away.

The crash occurred on Farm Road 707 as the truck, which had just taken on a full load at a nearby gasoline blending plant, attempted to cross the track ahead of the 85-car freight train. The truck's wreckage was carried more than 100 yards down the tracks and its flaming load of gasoline started a fire that burned off three acres.

Fire units from Tye, Abilene, Merkel and Dyess Air Force Base finally brought the blaze under control.

Mobley Rites At Hermleigh

Graveside rites and burial have been set for 2 p.m. Friday at the Hermleigh Cemetery for Arthur W. Mobley, 81, who died Tuesday in a hopital at Spearman.

Mr. Mobley was a barber at Hermleigh for many years before moving to Spearman several years ago.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. William E. Spencer of San Jose, Calif., and Mrs. Ellzey Vandenberg of Spearman; a son, Max B. Mobley of Fort Worth; eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Local arrangements are in charge of Bell - Seale Funeral Home.

Sorority Entertains With Dinner

The Iota Psi chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha entertained their husbands and dates with a Christmas dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted McMillan recently.

The home was beautifully decorated using a blue and green color theme. Centering the table, covered with white linen, was a blue and silver candle arrangement. Games were played following the dinner.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Pat Ainsworth, Frances Billingsley and Gene Kimble, Helen Breeden and Raymond Kellner, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Harber, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Jack Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Payne, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Copeland and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stone.

Frozen coarsely chopped onions are handy to keep in the freezer, but they have to be chopped really fine for use in hamburgers, Tarter sauce, French dressing and some salads. The onions come in plastic bags, available in the freezer sections of food markets.

For chicken done on a charcoal broiler, brush chicken with soy sauce, honey, ginger and dried thyme and marinate for several hours. Grill on a rack about 6 inches from hot coals, turn often and baste with the marinade. It takes about 1 hour.

Cities That Affected History

CITIES OF DESTINY. Edited by Arnold Toynbee.

In this large and lavishly illustrated work, Toynbee has brought together essays by 19 specialists, writing about a cross section of the great cities of the past and present.

No one book could give a comprehensive history of each of these cities — several of them have been "cities of destiny" more than once — so each writer has taken "some particular phase of each city's history that has been great in the sense that it has made a mark on the subsequent history of civilization."

So it is interesting to see not only which cities Toynbee selected, but also the phases or periods in which each is presented.

The essays are grouped, in accordance with the editor's theory of historical development under the headings of City - States, Capital Cities and Megalopolis.

The four city - states are Athens in the age of Pericles, Quattrocento Venice, Medicean Florence and Goethe's Weimar. Among the 11 capital cities are Alexandria under the Ptolomies, Rome of the Antonines, the Paris of Abelard and St. Louis and 18th Century St. Petersburg.

It is the Megalopolis section that probably will interest American readers the most. After a piece on Victorian and Edwardian London, it moves to "The American City in History" a study of all our fast-growing cities by Allan Nevins, followed by Andrew Sinclair's "Mid-20th Century New York" and finally an unnerving look into the future.

This culminating chapter, "The Coming World City; Ecumenopolis," by Constantinos A. Doxiadis, finds that "the city of the future is going to form a world-wide network," in which no single center will be dominent. Among other forecasts by this author is that we will have a transportation system based on tunnels, tubes and radar-controlled, rocket - propelled vehicles, connecting small cells of human existence.

MARY AUSTIN HOLLEY, THE TEXAS DIARY. Edited by J. P. Bryan (University of Texas Press, $4.95)

Mary Austin Holley was an early-day lady swinger who seemed to get around a great deal although widowed and with limited sources of support.

For instance, she was able to visit Texas three times although there is evidence that she didn't like it too much, particularly the heat and the necessity for sea travel.

She was a niece of Moses Austin, considered the father of Texas, and for that reason alone had easy entrance into any society on the Texas frontier.

Some of her other kin were in Texas and she made quite a ball out of visiting them. She may have been helped along by the fact that she was a pretty, witty woman.

Mary Holley may have been one of the best known women in North America in the early part of the 19th Century. Her husband had been a noted but controversial clergyman. And she was an author —producing the best authentic descriptions of early Texas to that time.

The diary is interesting because of its authenticity in telling of the actual day-to-day life of the Texans.

James Perry Bryan, the editor, is a Lake Jackson attorney, historian and past regent of the University of Texas.—The AP

REFLECTIONS ON LATIN AMERICAN DEVELOPMENT, By Roberto de Oliveria Campos (University of Texas Press, $5)

The Brazilian revolution of 1964 was brought about by economics as much as anything. The country was stagnating financially and per capita actual income was falling while inflation ran riot. Creeping Communism was abroad.

With the revolution came a 600-page action program, mostly about finances. One of the architects of this plan, and probably its chief builder, was Roberto de Oliveira Campos who was named minister of planning.

In this book, the minister analyzes Latin American development. He finds that under the circumstances, a nation's growth cannot be left to chance—it must be by planning, but not the planning of Communism. In fact, the author finds democracy growing stronger in Latin America.

Within a year, effects of the action program were remarkable. The rate of inflation was cut sharply and the balance of payments position improved. This brought some investment slow-down and unemployment. By year's end, however, expansion resumed and employment increased. And foreign investments began to appear secure and thus increased.

The book will be particularly interesting to economists of all branches, particularly those with Latin American interests The author is unusually candid and clear.—The AP.

MEXICO'S RECENT ECONOMIC GROWTH, Translated b Marjory Urquidi (University of Texas Press, $5)

Mexico is the bright star of Latin America in economic progress. Its gross national product actually has increased much faster than European countries.

It differs from stagnant Latin countries because of the extent of its land distribution and because is industrial growth has been complemented by its increase in farm output.

Also, Mexico has successfully resisted the consumption demands of the upper and middle classes, meaning fewer imports. It approaches the austerity programs of Great Britain when that country gets in monetary trouble.

In the introduction, Tom E. Davis further says that—"The current dynamism of the private sector in Mexico...is without peer in the more industrialized countries.

How Mexico was able to accomplish all this is outlined in "Mexico's Recent Economic Growth" in a group of expositions by experts on topics ranging from the relation of private and government financing to income distribution among the people.—The AP

ASPECTS OF THE RENAISSANCE, Edited by Archibald R. Lewis (University of Texas Press, $6)

The Renaissance long has posed problems for scholars—where it began and ended and how great was its impact on Western Europe as it emerged from the Middle Ages.

The problem was the topic of a symposium at the University of Texas with scholars from over the world speaking. The talks have been edited into this new book.

The discussions were divided into politics, culture, arts and letters, the Reformation and science and economic life.

The editor, Archibald R. Lewis, is a professor at the University of Texas.—The AP.

STUDIES IN HONOR OF DeWITT T. STARNES, Edited by Thomas P. Harrison, Archibald A. Hill, Ernest C. Mossner, and James Sledd (University of Texas Press, $7.50)

DeWitt T. Starnes taught at the University of Texas for nearly half a century. He was the author of nine books, sometimes with other writers, and he wrote innumerable articles for scholarly publications.

TEST FAN RESPONSE

Two Tiger Tilts Set In Coliseum

The Snyder High School Tigers will play their first two home conference basketball games in the Scurry County Coliseum.

Announcement of plans to switch the two games from Tiger Gym to the coliseum was made by Bill J. Hood, superintendent of schools, who said that response by the fans will be analyzed after the two games are played, and then a decision will be made on the site for future games.

The Tigers will be hosts to Levelland on Jan. 5 and to Brownfield on Jan. 12 in the coliseum.

The possibility of playing some regularly scheduled games in the coliseum had been under study since the Canyon Reef Tournament was played in the huge county facility in early December. Hood said the Tigers would need to attract a minimum of 100 extra paying customers for each game for the school to "break even" financially in games at the coliseum.

Coaches and school officials are hopeful that fans will respond. The coliseum offers the best facilities in West Texas for high school sports events. Theater - type seating, spacious parking areas, excellent lighting and a generally good atmosphere have been cited as strong points of the coliseum.

For viewing a game, there is not a bad seat among the 3,000 permanent seats in the coliseum.

Oilers Thrilled

HOUSTON (AP) — American Football League championship games are nothing new to Bob Talamini but the veteran Houston Oiler offensive guard says preparations for Sunday's encounter at Oakland are providing him with a special thrill.

"This time, we were down so long and everybody said we'd finish last again this year, so it has to be a bigger thrill," said the former Kentucky star.

Talamini was a rookie when Houston won the first AFL championship in 1960. The Oilers won again in 1961 but lost the 1962 championship to the old Dallas Texans in pro football's longest game.

"Those early championship games were exciting but they didn't mean as much as this to the people because nobody knew whether the American League was going to survive or not," he said. "We won the Eastern Division this year when nobody believed we could. Many still find it hard to accept."

Safety Jim Norton and defensive end Don Floyd are the only other Oilers remaining from the original 1960 squad.

Floyd agrees that winning the division title this year supplied the greatest thrill.

"It's hard to explain why," Floyd said. "We had to come so far after a slow start. It just means more than winning those other titles."

The first three division championships were followed by dismal 6-8,4-10 and 3-11 seasons.

Tide Drills Outdoors

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Better weather for the Cotton Bowl team s is expected today after workouts in snow and rain for Alabama and indoors for Texas A&M.

Alabama had a tough workout Wednesday as the Crimson Tide tried to get in a needed hard practice session in view of a loss of a couple of days at Tuscaloosa because of rain.

Snow fell throughout the day and was coming down at its hardest when Alabama went through a two-hour drill at a high school stadium.

There was some concern when starting offensive guard Bruce Stephens sprained an ankle and had to forego part of the workout session. He was not seriously hurt, however, and was expected back today. However, Kenny Martin, the starting Alabama fullback, was still trying to throw off an attack of the lu.

S'West Fives Drop Openers

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three Southwest Conference teams made their start in tournament play Wednesday night and each lost to make the intersectional record 15-38.

Baylor took an 85-75 licking from Alabama in the Mobile Basketball Classic as the Crimson Tide broke open the game in the early minutes of the second half with a 10-point splurge.

Tom Jones with 29 points and Mike Nordholz with 29, were two too much for Baylor, which was led by David Sibley with 20.

Arkansas tried the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City and was beaten 65-58 by Auburn. The Plainsmen snapped a 37-37 tie, took a 10-point lead midway of the second half and Arkansas could get no closer than six points the rest of the way.

Wallace Tinker hit a basket and two free throws to pull it out of reach with only a minute left. Robert McKenzie of Arkansas was high man of the game with 20 points.

Texas was drubbed 54-42 by Oregon State in its start in the Far West Classic at Portland. The Beavers held a 30-12 halftime lead and then went into a semistall. Seven-foot Vic Bartolome led all scorers with 16 points. Gary Overbeck topped Texas with 11.

Baylor, Arkansas and Texas play again in their tournaments although it will be in the consolation bracket.

Meanwhile Southern Methodist will be opening its bid in the Dallas All-Sports Tournament and Texas Christian will be in the Holiday Classic at Storrs, Conn.

Trinity In Eighth Spot

Once-beaten Kentucky Wesleyan took over first place from San Diego State in The Associated Press' small-college basketball poll today. The Aztecs, defeated twice last week, dropped to fifth.

Evansville climbed into the runner-up position, followed by Indiana State and unbeaten Long Island University.

Kentucky Wesleyan collected 96 points, including 10 for one first-place vote, in the balloting by a national panel of 12 sports writers and broadcasters. The Panthers from Owensboro, Ky., second a week ago, beat Texas Wesleyan 113-87 last week and lifted their record to 5-1.

Evansville totaled 76 points in the voting which was on the usual basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc. The Aces downed Southwestern Louisiana 2-80 and Augustana, S.C., 109-97 last week for a 6-1 mark.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-etc basis.

Hot Pipers Tip Colonels

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Pittsburgh Pipers got piping hot when it counted and thus are within one game of the leading Minnesota Muskies in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball Association today.

Trailing virtually throughout their game against Kentucky Wednesday night, the Pipers scored 11 straight points in the final 3½ minutes to defeat the Colonels, 100-98.

Minnesota was idle. In the only other game, Denver trounced Houston 108-82.

In the National Association, Philadelphia defeated New York 114-105, Cincinnati beat Los Angeles 132-127 and St. Louis downed Boston, 116-113.

Chico Vaughn was high for Pittsburgh with 28 points, followed by Tom Washington with 24 and Art Heyman with 23. Louie Dampier topped the Colonels with 17.

Denver's victory lifted its record to 18-17, good for third place in the Western Division. Houston is fifth with an 11-21 mark. Willie Murell dropped in 28 points to lead the Rockets' attack while Grant Simmons had 20 for Houston.

No Frills For Oakland

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Straight football — no fumbles or interceptions allowed — is the way the 13-1 Oakland Raiders will play it against the Houston Oilers Sunday in the chips-down fight for the American Football League crown.

That's the way Coach John Rauch sees it, and his eyesight so far has encouraged the oddsmakers to give the Californians a 10½-point advantage over the Texans.

The scribes and the team like to think the Raiders come complete with instant adjustments to odd defenses, should the Oilers decide to try it.

Raider quarterback Daryle Lamonica agrees with Rauch's "straight" strategy. Said the AFL's most valuable player:

"We must play hard-nosed football. Executions; not gimmicks, is the way to win. But we have to minimize our mistakes — no fumbles or interceptions."

Rauch, hedged a speck on that, announcing, "We'll have a few wrinkles in our defense that the Oilers didn't see in our game in Houston (which the Raiders won 19-7)."

Jets, Starts Tangle At Milk Bowl Game

MCALLEN, Tex. (AP) — The Oak Cliff Jets from Dallas tangle with an all star team from the Lower Rio Grande Valley Friday at McAllen High School Stadium in the 18th annual Milk Bowl charity football game.

Proceeds from the game go to the Rio Grande Children's Home.

The Jets, frequent performers in the Milk Bowl, defeated Houston's Baby Oilers 34-8 in last yea.'s game.

McGuire Ousters Is No Surprise

NEW YORK (AP) — The sudden firing of Dick McGuire came as no surprise to the coach of the slump-ridden New York Knicks.

"I knew it was coming," McGuire said Wednesday after he had been fired as coach and replaced by chief scout Red Holzman. "When a team is losing, changes have to be made."

McGuire, 41, was fired moments after the Knicks dropped a 114-105 decision to Philadelphia. It was their fourth straight loss and ninth in 12 games.

"The team improved under Dick last year," said Knick President Ned Irish, "and we expected it to be even better this season. We have been disappointed."

McGuire took the Knicks into the playoffs last season for the first time since 1959.

They were expected to be greatly improved this year with the addition of high-priced rookies Bill Bradley and Walt Frazier. Instead, they have slipped to a 15-23 mark and fifth place in the six-team Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association.

"The decision was made Wednesday to make the change," Irish said. "Holzman was the logical man to consider. He has the background and knows the personnel."

Holzman, a former Knick and Detroit star and later a coach for Detroit and St. Louis, said he doesn't plan any drastic changes immediately.

McGuire will take over Holzman's scouting duties at least for the remainder of his one-year contract. No announcement was made on the length of Holzman's coaching contract.

Bill Dickey caught 125 games for the New York Yankees in 1931 without allowing a passed ball.

HENRY JORDAN HAS RESPECT FOR POKES

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Sports Writter

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—A balding Henry Jordan of the Green Bay Packers, who probably has less hair and more moves than any tackle in football, is feeling like Henry Jordan again—he's worried as usual.

"Don't talk to me about the Super Bowl. I don't even think about the Super Bowl," said Jordan Wednesday as he prepared for the Dallas Cowboys and John Niland, the guard he will oppose in Sunday's National Football League championship game.

"That Niland, he's a good one," said the 6-foot-3, 250-pound veteran. It was Jordan's typical way of getting ready. Niland is good. So is Jordan, although a week before he wasn't so sure about that.

Jordan, who will be 33 next month, was beset with self doubt as he readied for the Western Conference playoff game with the Los Angeles Rams last Saturday. He has worried not only about the Rams and guard Tom Mack, but about Henry Jordan, the oft-time all-League selection. "I was losing a little confidence in myself," he said.

For three weeks, Jordan and his mates had not been getting to the enemy passer. The usually stingy Packer defense was giving up an unusual number of points, and the Packers even dropped two straight games.

Some die-hard Packer fans thought that possibly old age had finally caught up to Green Bay. "It wasn't only the fans," Jordan confessed.

Jordan proved he wasn't quite ready for the rocking chair. "Our Fearsome Onesome," was what fellow tackle Ron Kostelnik called Jordan after the 28-7 Packer victory Saturday.

Jordan truly was fearsome. Four times he sped by Mack to spill Ram quarterback Roman Gabriel for losses. Ram runners who tried to come up with yardage through Jordan's position got nowhere.

Field Generals May Shine In Sun Bowl

By PAT THOMPSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — The labels on the two University of Texas-El Paso quarterbacks are stamped: Handle With Care.

And Mississippi coach Johnny Vaught, whose Rebels play El Paso in the Sun Bowl Saturday, says he has taken special care in defensing veteran Billy Stevens of Galveston, Tex., and junior Brooks Dawson of Carizzo Springs, Tex.

Their records speak for themselves," Vaught said after the Rebels arrived in El Paso Wednesday. "They are just as good as any quarterbacks in the country."

It has, however, taken a boxfull of Purple Hearts to get them ready for the 1:45 p.m., EST, game.

Stevens has had more injuries during his three-year college career than his number of near records which include most passing yardage, 6,485; most touchdown passes, 51; most pass attempts, 943, and most offensive plays, 1,072.

Stevens has played with a broken hand, a broken finger, bruised ribs, a virus, an injured knee, and played when his two-year-old son was seriously ill.

During El Paso's 17-0 victory over Colorado State, Dawson had four front teeth knocked out. Stevens came in to lead the victory.

Dawson started again the next week against Wyoming, which beat the Miners 21-19.

Stevens threw six touchdown passes in a 47-17 romp over Brigham Young. The next week against New Mexico Stevens had a knee banged up, and Dawson went in and threw for six touchdown passes—high in the nation this season.

The two quarterbacks combined to lead the Miners to a 6-2-1 record and national leadership in team scoring with a 35-point-per-game average and in forward passing with a 301.1-yard average. Dawson also led the nation for most total offense yardage in one game, 426, and the two quarterbacks combined for 26 TD passes.

"Which one is he going to start?" Vaught asked. El Paso coach Bobby Dobbs said Wednesday he hadn't decided on a starter.

The two quarterbacks will be working against an Ole Miss defense that allowed 151 points in a 6-3-1 season and 109 completions in 201 attempts, a 54 per cent average.

FOR COWBOYS

A Matter Of Pride, Money

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Besides $30,000, which they might make if they beat Green Bay Sunday, the Dallas Cowboys also have another little matter to consider—they need to topple the Packers to remove their greatest detractors.

Never has Dallas defeated Green Bay when the chips were on the line in National Football League play.

They have met four times under these circumstances and on each occasion the Cowboys lost. Only one other team in the NFL holds a shutout in league series with Dallas. That is Baltimore, but the Colts have won only three times.

Dallas has met Green Bay in 12 exhibition and league games since entering the NFL in 1960. Green Bay won six of the eight preseason games.

And now the Cowboys go to Green Bay to meet the Packers for the NFL championship the second year in a row.

Coach Tom Landry has taken the view that playing Green Bay for the title last year has helped the Cowboys' chances this time.

"Defensively we are a year older and we will have profited from what happened in last year's championship game," said Landry. "Our ability to handle the outside receiving of Carroll Dale and Boyd Dowler will be a determining factor."

Dale and Dowler took touchdown passes in last year's 34-27 victory by Green Bay.

He said if Dallas could move the ball and be as alert as it was in the 52-14 thrashing of Cleveland last Sunday when the Cowboys won the Eastern Conference championship and got into the playoff against Green Bay "we should stand a good chance."

Dollar's Strength At Stake In Proposed Tax Package

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration is drafting a package of measures wrapped around a new and urgent appeal for higher taxes in an attempt to solve one of its most perplexing problems—the continuing drain of dollars to other countries.

Details of the package, now a closely guarded secret, are expected to be spelled out in the messages President Johnson will begin sending Congress next month.

The first hints could come in his State of the Union message soon after Congress reconvenes Jan. 15.

Officials of the Treasury and Commerce departments have been meeting with White House aides to hammer together a program for next year expected to emphasize increased export sales and higher taxes to maintain economic stability.

A tax increase tends to keep exports competitive and to stifle any tendency to increase imports.

New impetus was placed behind the proposed 10 per cent tax surcharge Wednesday when the Federal Reserve Board announced a move toward tighter money, shifting from the easier money policy which marked 1967.

Because a tax increase is involved, the burden of the new balance of payments program will fall on big business and the ordinary citizen.

The recent bold-buying spree in Europe heightened efforts to draft an effective plan to stem the flow of dollars overseas.

The continuing dollar drain, which began in 1949, has cut the U.S. gold supply in half. Other countries are able to buy gold because Americans spend more in those countries than foreigners spend here.

The strength of the dollar itself is at stake in the new program because of this.

Until now at least the government has avoided any mandatory controls over the flow of dollars abroad. There has been talk in nongovernment circles of imposing controls on overseas investments but many administration officials are committed to a voluntary program and can be expected to fight such a move.

One of the early programs to stem the dollar tide fell on the American tourist, whose duty-free allowance on souvenirs he bought abroad was cut in 1965 from $100 at wholesale to $100 at retail, a cut of about $55.

It is still in effect but the new effort in travel will be to bring more foreign tourists here to offset American spending abroad rather than to restrict the movement of Americans.

Government officials have repeatedly ruled out a head tax on departing Americans, partly because two-thirds of them go to Canada and Mexico.

Restrictions on trade and travel could also result in retaliation by other countries, a move the administration wants to avoid. This leaves investment as the only major area for possible control.

The Vietnam war and direct overseas investment each drain more than $2 billion annually from the country while the travel gap this year is expected to hit a record $2 billion.

Fatter U.S. exports could help offset some of this. Fowler has spoken of "selective pressures to encourage American industry to cultivate foreign markets more aggressively" but has refused thus far to spell out details,

Guide To The Aging Of Humans

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The aging of the year — good old 1967 — makes everyone feel older too.

It's that way every year. Each passing year gives something to us, and it takes something from us; in time the parade of the years squeezes us dry, and we all blow away.

It is easy to tell how old a year is by simply glancing at a calendar. How can a human being tell when he is old? That isn't quite so easy, but it can be done.

Age in people is determined by a number of things—the chief indicators being physical condition, conduct, and mental attitudes.

Here's guide to test yourself. You are probably old if most of the following things are true of you:

You are short of breath climbing a hill, but long-winded in any social situation.

Rather than go to a doctor, you prefer to doctor yourself by selecting your own pills and potions at the drug store. You secretly take medicine the rest of the family doesn't know about.

You think your great-grandchildren are even cuter than your grandchildren but feel too nervous to baby-sit with them.

Uncle Sam sends you more money than you send him.

Your children get very possessive about you. They now feel it is their duty to give you more good advice than they were ever willing to accept from you in earlier years.

When you are unwilling to do what someone else wants, he gets even by saying, "You're getting too stubborn and set in your ways."

You study the obituary pages more closely than you to do the stock market lists, and feel a bit disappointed on the days when nobody of importance dies.

Teen-agers may not get up to give you a seat on the bus, but sometimes middle-aged woman do.

Although you may have voted against Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover, you're willing grudgingly to admit that both were men of real character. Character and principle are big words with you now. "If a man doesn't have character and principle, he doesn't have anything," you often say.

Whenever you start to reminisce about how life used to be, everyone in the room starts to cough, makes an excuse to leave, or gets a restless look in his eyes.

Whenever you see the price tag on anything, you give a shake of the head and a long inner whistle. Everything costs so much more now, and most of it isn't really worth it.

You enjoy your sleep less at night than you do your naps during the day.

There is nothing you want to throw away. Even your wife fusses about your habit of stuffing drawers with folded brown paper bags, bits of string and laces from old shoes. "Never can tell when it might come in handy," you inform her sagely.

If someone complains about reaching middle age, you remark. "Oh, I don't think it's so bad—I'm getting used to it."

That's the surest sign of all you're getting old—when you start enjoying feeling middle aged.

Masters Asks To Resign

AUSTIN (AP) — B. E. Masters, president emeritus of Kilgore College, has asked the State Board of Education to accept his resignation, effective Jan. 1, 1968, and to give his job to a younger person.

Masters, a board member for nine years, said, "At my age it would be better for the State Board of Education and for me to yeild the place to a younger person. This has been a pleasant nine years for me."

Masters' age was not included in the letter of resignation nor was it available from the education agency.

The board will consider Masters' request at its Jan. 6 meeting. The procedure, if it accepts the resignation, would be for the board to appoint a successor until the next general election.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE STATES

QUESTION: Why is California called the Golden State?

* * *

ANSWER: 1848 and '49 were great years for California. "Gold discovered at Sutter's Mill" was the cry everywhere. Shining nuggets had been found where John Sutter built his mill on the American River, and people began pouring in to stake gold claims. The great gold rush of 1849 was on, and all America was linking the words "gold" and "California" together. Soon Californians were finding other golden things besides metal nuggets. When irrigation came, desert soil turned into magnificent farm land and soon there were golden oranges, wonderful fruits and vegetables which brought showers of gold to the growers. By 1910, the gold mine of moving picture production had made Los Angeles the world's motion picture capital. The Golden Gate International Exposition of 1939-40 brought attention not only to the spectacle of the golden sun sinking westward in the glittering Pacific, but also to the golden opportunities opening in California in every field of effort.

Europe Eyes '68 With Uncertainty

LONDON (AP)—Business in Western Europe goes into 1968 with an air of uncertain optimism after a year of slowdown.

The uncertainty is caused by the devaluation of the British pound, and fears that Common Market developments could be impeded by a political freeze between France and the five other members resulting from Britain's exclusion. But the five are unlikely to gamble their own prosperity against fighting for Britain.

If U. S. inflation continues, European exporters see a chance to sell more goods in the United States at relatively lower prices, West Germany's slow recovery is seen as another potential spur to business throughout Europe.

Britain is in a class by itself as the sick man of Europe. Whetherdevaluation of the pound will bring recovery depends largely on how the British themselves follow through. In any case, it will be a black year on the British home market.

To keep demand and investment flowing into the export trade, home consumption is to stagnate or perhaps fall. The bite of higher taxes and interest rates and a new credit squeeze is estimated at about $1.8 billion, almost 2½ per cent of the gross national product. But if exports rise as predicted, employment should rise with them.

The Common Market countries had the smallest production rise of their 10-year association. Their increase of gross national product was estimated at 2.5 per cent last year, half of that for the years between 1960 and 1965. The Common Market Commission predicts a growth rate of 4.5 per cent in 1968.

West Germany is the key to this forecast. To curb inflation and boost exports, West Germany underwent a squeeze in 1967. Between 20 and 25 per cent of the country's industrial capacity lay idle. Unemployment rose to 673,000.

Late in the year, interest rates were cut and the government launched a program of deficit spending. Private investment has risen, and economic research institutes now predict a 5.5 per cent rise in the gross national product during the first half of 1968. Little harm is expected to come to German business from Britain's devaluation.

Unemployment in France is creeping upward. But the slump of the past 18 months has bottomed out. Department store sales and new car registrations are rising. However, French industry is increasingly nervous as the July 1 date approaches for full freedom of trade within the Common Market.

Italy moved ahead strongly in 1967, and economists expect that the nation's "controlled explansion" will continue. Production by industry and agriculture continues to rise.

Belgium and the Netherlands were hard hit in basic industries by the decline in world trade. Both countries still are troubled by upward wage pressure, but order books are fuller than a the end of 1966. The squeeze in Holland stimulated industrial mergers.

The outlook is especially uncertain in Scandinavia.

Sweden has been suffering serious price inflation, but even though exports have been rising the balance of payments is in the red.

Denmark devalued by about half the amount Britain did, and home consumption is expected to suffer. Exports had been stagnating before, and retail prices had jumped. A tight squeeze now is in prospect.

Norway was hit badly by devaluation in Britain and Denmark and the Bank of Norway forecasts a reduction in home consumption. Finland also is facing a squeeze following a one-third devaluation in October.

Spain devalued by the same degree as Britain. This is expected to boost tourist earnings, the major source of the nation's foreign currency. The devaluation was considered long overdue because of heavy inflation accompanied by industrial growth. With it, the government clamped down a wage and price freeze and started cutting government spending.

Swiss economists predict a slow economic revival following a slowdown caused by restrictions on building and foreign labor. Austria is less hopeful and is still battling wage and price inflation.

In Greece, the economic situation has political overtones.

The April 21 army takeover was a blow to tourism. The remittances of foreign workers, the other major factor helping the balance of payments, were cut by Europe's slump. The military junta has liberalized credit and guaranteed wheat prices in a bid to restore prosperity and stay in power.

In Communist Eastern Europe free market economic reforms are underway, but they are hamstrung by ideology inflation and the influence of Russia as the region's dominant economist force.

Czechoslovakia's program of putting key industries on a profit basis has brought widespread inflation. Factory managers unfamiliar with a market economy jacked up prices by as much as 30 per cent.

Hungary's reform program goes into effect in 1968. In anticipation of a switch from centralized control to supply and demand, consumer prices soared.

Romania also is introducing a free market element, but badly needs more capital and know-how to develop its chemical and other heavy industries. Its 14 per cent growth rate topped the Communist world in 1967.

Bulgarian economic planners also have tried to industralize, but since half the nation's production is tied to trade with the Soviet Union, this has proved difficult.

Poland is trying to mechanize its agriculture but, like most Communist countries, suffers from a shortage of hard currency. East Germany has no plans to liberalize, and although its growth statistics indicate an upward trend, they are often misleading.

Outside the Soviet bloc, Yugoslavia entered the third year of liberalizing economic reforms with industry stagnant and facing difficulty selling to the West.

$1 MILLION WORTH OF FOOD

Stamps Help Feed Needy

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Orange and blue bills that look like play money are helping 2.6 million needy Americans buy nearly $1 million worth of food every day.

Known as food stamps, by June 30 they'll be circulating in 1,200 areas of 43 states and Washington, D.C., including 8 of the nation's 10 most populous cities.

Backers of the stamp program call it the most promising approach yet to the goal of putting better food on the poor man's table without making it a handout.

Nobody gets food stamps for free. The poor pay for them, swapping cash for stamps worth many dollars more.

Some find it a little cold-blooded that the government extracts money from those it professes to help.

But Congress shows its approval by giving the Agriculture Department a bigger budget for stamps every year—$185 million for the current fiscal year, up from $116.3 million last year.

"We've got to get away from this idea of giving the poor everything we think they need," said Rep. Leonor K. Sullivan, D-Mo., the stamp program's best friend on Capitol Hill.

"In this program the people are taught how to spend their money," she said. "As little as it is, they learn to budget it."

Mrs. Sullivan and others badgered the Eisenhower administration for a stamp program through much of the 1950s. It had too much of a welfare state aroma about it to suit Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson.

Exit Eisenhower in 1961, and with him Benson. Enter President John F. Kennedy, determined to have stamps.

Kennedy's first executive order was to establish a pilot program in a handful of cities. Congress put it on a formal continuing basis in 1964.

A shopper armed with books of stamps, signed on the back so no one else can use them, can buy just about anything on the grocer's shelves so long as it's food and—with the exception of coffee, tea, cocoa and bananas —American-grown.

Purchase of tobacco and alcoholic beverages is forbidden. But no one at Agriculture kids himself that there's 100 per cent compliance on this. Especially in the little one-man neighborhood groceries where the customer and the man behind the counter are friends from way back.

Deep Well Brings Colorado Quakes?

By LOUDON KELLY
Associated Press Writer

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Renewed interest is being focused on a deep well drilled at the Rocky Mountain Arsenal and any possible connection with a five-year series of earthquakes in the Denver area.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has announced a study is being made to determine if waste fluids standing in the deep—and now unused—well should be pumped out.

Denver had its heaviest earthquake last August, registering 5.5 on one Richter Scale and causing considerable property damage. Another jolt last month was nearly as severe. No injuries have resulted.

A Denver geologist, David M. Evans, has contended for more than two years that pumping of waste fluids into the 12,000-foot well at the arsenal northeast of Denver triggered the earth shocks. Before that, quakes had been unknown in Colorado. Some scientists agree with Evans, but others are skeptical.

But this much is known:

The well was completed in March, 1962 and wastes from the manufacture of chemical weapons at the arsenal were pumped under high pressure into the well for disposal underground. Just a little more than one month later, the first quake ever measured on instruments in Denver occurred.

Since that April day more than 1,500 temblors have been recorded here, although most of these went unnoticed by the average citizen.

Evans, who is director of the Potential Gas Agency for the Mineral Resources Institute at the Colorado School of Mines, said the well was drilled into a stratum of extremely hard granitic rock.

"As fluids were flushed down the well from the arsenal pressure built up in the rocks below," he said. "The forced-in liquids lubricated the rocks and caused them to shift and slide. As a result, we have earthquakes."

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: When my husband courted me I was secretly flattered because he was terrible jealous. I thought it was proof of his love. Now that we've been married for seven months, I'd give anything if he weren't so jealous.

He is jealous of every man I mention, look at, or pass on the street. He accuses me of winking at them and giving them encouraging signals and what not. He accuses me of meeting men on my lunch hour, and says he "knows" I have been with a lover if I get home fifteen minutes late. No one is safe from his filthy accusations. (Even the young boy who delivers the newspaper!) He keeps after me to "confess" things and there is nothing to confess! I will gladly go to the police station and take a lie detector test or truth serum. Anything to prove my innocence once and for all.

FAITHFUL

DEAR FAITHFUL: Sorry, but even if you were to subject yourself to a lie detector test and truth serum, it wouldn't mean a thing. Your husband would probably accuse you of being in cahoots with the man who gives them. Your husband is the one who needs the help. Constant accusations without basis is symptomatic of a very disturbed mind.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My problem is not another woman. It's a pipe. My boy friend is forever sucking on that blooming pipe, and it is driving me out of my mind. He is either knocking it against something to loosen the old tobacco, or packing some fresh tobacco into it, or cleaning it, or looking for matches. It really keeps him busy. He doesn't even enjoy it. He says he only took up a pipe because he quit smoking cigarets and this gives him something to do with his hands. Help!

ALMA

DEAR ALMA: Don't complain. You could be lucky.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Will you please explain why a daughter will ask her poor, aged mother to come and prepare the evening meal for her family, and then, after completing all the chores, about 10 o'clock at night, this selfish daughter will let her mother walk home alone in the dark while two cars are parked out in front of the house? I would like to see this answered in the newspaper.

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: For the most accurate answer to your question, ask the daughter.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Re. the bride who divorced her groom of three weeks because he refused to use a deodorant: You said, "Too bad she didn't work up more of a sweat over him before they married."

I'll bet she did, but, like most women, she planned on "reforming" him after the wedding.

As far as I'm concerned, a woman has never had better grounds for divorce. A man is not more masculine because he goes around smelling like an animal (skunk). Neither is he less a man because he uses a deodorant. A daily shower, or even two, is no protection against perspiration odor. Only a deodorant is. No matter how good a man looks, it's how he SMELLS that counts. And the same goes for women.

ALL MAN

Railway's Application Protested

AUSTIN (AP) — Trainmen, a state senator, city and county officials have protested Missouri Pacific Railway's application to discontinue two passenger trains (7 and 8) between Longview and San Antonio, the Railroad Commission said today.

Public hearings on the application will be held in Longview Feb. 5, Austin Feb. 7 and San Antonio Feb. 9.

The original hearing was set for Jan. 3 until a protest was filed by the Railroad Brotherhoods, said Walter Wendlandt, head of the commission's transportation division. Then, he said, notices of the railroad's application and of the hearings were sent to mayors of every community along the route.

Wednesday was the deadline for filing official protests, but Wendlandt said anyone appearing at a public hearing would be given a chance to be heard.

He said the railroad claimed the passenger schedule was not economically feasible. The trains, one each way, pass through Austin in the early morning hours.

Filing official protests, the commission said, were Wayne Sellers, publisher of the Palestine Herald - Press; the Anderty County judge and three county commissioners; Sen. Charles Wilson Lufkin; Jack Ohlrich, New Braunfels mayor; Ralph Miller, president of the Anderson County Chamber of Com- County judge; Robert Totah, vice president of the transportation division of the Anderson County Chamber of Commerce; Palestine City Council (signed by J. T. Alldredge); the Comal County Commissioners Court and 25 Palestine residents, mostly businessmen.

Also, Herbert O. Paul of Austin, chairman and state legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; Billy R. Cowan of Austin, representing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and Robert R. Wheatley of Amarillo, representing the Texas State Legislative Committee of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freighthandlers, Station and Express Employes.
