Million Dollar Trust Fund Of Samuel Insull Is Probed

CHICAGO, Oct. 2. (AP)—A reputed million dollar secret trust fund, an alleged source of income for Samuel Insull fugitive utilities magnate, was the objective of investigation today following issuance of an order halting withdrawals from it.

The restraining order, issued on a petition of Gus Lowry, Sullivan, Ind., a holder of Insull company debentures, brought an admission that the allied trust fund also had been under government surveillance; although Insull's name had not been connected with it.

The fund is in the Harris Trust and Saving bank under the name of Constantine S. Eftax, Lowry's petition alleges. It asserted the name Eftax was assumed by Insull in connection with the transaction.

Kelly Begins His Fight To Escape Death

Deperado Declares Any Talk Of Guilty Plea From Him In Trial "Is All Bull"; He'll Fight All The Way

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 2. — George (Machine Gun) Kelly began a fight to escape the electric chair tonight, sending word from his cell that talk of any guilty plea from him in the Charles F. Urschel kidnaping "is all bull."

The accused kidnaper, brought here from Memphis yesterday with Kathryn, his wife, was so quoted by James H. Mathers, the lawyer he engaged to defend him against newly-filed state charges of robbery with firearms, which carry death as the maximum penalty.

To Represent Both

Mathers said he would represent both Kelly and Albert Bates, already convicted on a federal kidnap conspiracy indictment and due to be sentenced with six others Saturday.

Although Mathers quoted Kelly as saying: "I'm going to fight them all the way," the attorney said he had no agreement to represent Kelly on the federal charges, for which he and his wife are to be tried next week.

"I didn't talk to him about that case, except when he told me that all this stuff about him entering a plea of guilty was 'bull'," explained Mathers, who was the attorney for Harvey Bailey, jail-breaker convicted in the federal trial.

He declared the jail arraignment of Kelly and Bates on the state charges today was "null and void;" that his clients were entitled to "due process of law, including arraignment and preliminary hearing in court" and that he would seek a change of venue for the robbery trial.

"We're going to deny the robberies and we're not going to get the death penalty," Mathers added. "Whoever heard of Urschel being robbed at all in the kidnaping until right now? Besides, the criminal court of appeals has held time and again there should be no death penalty in simple robbery cases where no one is killed or even hurt."

Arbitration Policies Are Being Urged By Labor President

(By The Associated Press)

ATTEMPTS to revise unsatisfactory wage and working conditions provisions of the NRA codes, with the strike only as a last resort, were urged on the American Federation of Labor by William Green, president, yesterday.

Nevertheless, numerous strikes continued to sputter throughout the country.

Coal Area Troubled

The coal situation was the most widespread and troublesome. A new soft coal code went into effect today and Gen. Hugh S. Johnson issued an appeal, backed by the "authority of the president," on receipt of the message from General Johnson, Philip Murray, vice-president of the United Mine Workers of America, ordered more than 75,000 strikers in the western Pennsylvania coal sector to be back to their jobs not later than this morning. He said he interpreted the latest stand of the H. C. Frick Coke company as meaning it "virtually recognized the union."

The coal code involved a wage reduction at Peru, Ill., and another 250 miners walked out there. Twelve hundred others in the Evansville, Ind., area also remained idle.

Three Are Arrested

At Edgewater, N. J., three strikers, from the Ford Motor company plant were arrested for stone throwing and officials announced they would close the plant; 2,000 are on strike there. Acting Governor Emerson Richards of New Jersey refused a plea of Ford officials for protection by state police.

At Detroit, picketing of industrial plants by striking tool and die makers continued, with 10,000 men claimed to have walked out in a quarrel over wages in automobile factories. A threat to picket plants in other cities, to which employers

Southern California Feels Shock Of Quake; One Dead And Dozen Hurt

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2.—The earth quaked joltingly but briefly in Southern California again early today, as if in baneful echo to the disastrous shock of last March 10.

One death and about a dozen cases of injury and shock were attributed to the sharp tremor which shook brick masonry loose on some buildings and broke plate glass windows in half a hundred others. The damage had not been estimated.

Apparently centering in the coastal area 22 miles southwest of Los Angeles, the quake was felt as far as Santa Barbara to the north, San Diego to the south and San Bernardino to the east.

Three mild after-shocks were felt here and at Long Beach, where most of the more than 100 victims of the March 10 quake lost their lives. The after-shocks were at 4 a. m., 5:26 a. m., and 7:40 a. m. A slight tremor in the Imperial Valley at 8:54 a. m. was reported from Brawley.

Mrs. Sophia Kanapow, 73, suffered from a heart ailment, died as a result of intense excitement.

Legion Leaders Just As Frank In Opposition And Program Declares Veterans Entitled To Hospitalization

By RAY BRENNAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, Oct. 2. — President Roosevelt told American Legionnaires today in firm words tempered by a wide smile they must stand in line with other citizens in obtaining federal relief.

The Legion applauded his admonition, but moved on toward bringing to the floor of its 15th annual convention a veterans' rehabilitation program containing one point in direct opposition to his recommendations.

Program Approved

The Legion program, already approved by 43 state departments and certain therefore to reach the convention itself, declares every veteran entitled to free federal hospitalization for any ailment or disease, even if suffered since the armistice.

President Roosevelt told them emphatically they were not. To the ex-service men whom he speeded half way across the continent to see, he said:

"The fact of (his) having worn a uniform does not mean that he (the veteran) can demand and receive from his government a benefit which no other citizen receives."

Responsibility Recognized

For the veteran disabled by injury or disease while serving his country, the president said, the government has a responsibility and is willing to meet it. He spoke of hoping to increase their benefits.

"But the veteran burdened with ailments incurred since the war," the president said, "may receive federal hospitalization only if his local and state communities are unable to supply it.

"If the veteran has not wherewithal to take care of himself, it is the duty of his community to take care of him, and next the duty of his state.

Ready To Aid

"Only, if under these circumstances his own community and his own state are unable, after reasonable effort, to care for him, then, and then only, should the federal government offer him hospitalization and care—and the government is ready to do that."

The president spent a scant five hours in Chicago, and less than an hour of it in the flag draped Chicago stadium, scene of the convention's opening session and likewise of the convention that nearly 18 months

Butter Supply To Be Slashed

Early Transfer Of Millions Of Pounds Of Butter To The Tables Of Those In Want Is In Early Prospect

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—An early transfer of millions of pounds of butter to the tables of those in want seemed likely today as one of the first results of President Roosevelt's decision that a good way to get rid of farm surpluses was to give them to the needy.

At conferences with Harry L. Hopkins, chosen to head the emergency corporation whose purpose is to close the gap between overproduction and want, farm administration officials outlined plans to accumulate the butter surplus and turn it over to the relief organizations.

Tax Is Planned

An announcement within the week is in prospect and a part of the plan probably will be a processing tax on butterfat to raise some of the necessary funds.

Estimates of the amount of butter in excess of present commercial requirements ranged between 50,000,000 and 100,000,000 pounds. A one cent a pound tax on butterfat would raise more than enough money to take care of the oversupply. In turn, Hopkins probably would be offered the butter at prices around 15 cents a pound, or less.

Bullets Still Spatter Over Streets Of Havana Monday Night As Snipers Get Busy From Housetops

American Killed

More Than 100 Are Believed Dead; Officers Surrender And Are Taken To Hospitals Or To Prison

By JOHN P. McKNIGHT,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

HAVANA, Oct. 2. — Bullets still spattered Havana's streets tonight as even the surrender of besieged officers in the National hotel failed to bring peace after the bloodiest day in the city's history.

Havana's chief of police estimated tonight "not more than 100 killed and 200 wounded" in today's hotel battle, but was unable to say how many were killed or wounded in street fighting. The dead included an American.

Wild Pandemonium

After an all-day battle soldiers trooped riotously into the hotel at 4 in the afternoon finding no resistance. Wild pandemonium due to street fighting and the looting of the hotel's wine cellars apparently was mistaken by the officers for violation of the truce and they reopened fire from the top floors of the hotel, shooting into civilians and soldiers on the street.

Soldiers returned the fire for 20 minutes, after which all the officers surrendered peacefully and were taken either to prison or to hospitals.

Snipers Are Busy

Afterwards snipers and soldiers began to exchange shots over the length and breadth of the city in a renewal of hostilities, seemingly precipitated by the officers' surrender.

The American, Robert G. Lotspeich, a native of London, Ohio, was shot in the chest as he stood in the Lopez Serrano apartment building watching the tide of battle. The building of the Ford Motor company, adjacent to the scene of the hostilities, was damaged by a poorly directed shell intended for the hotel.

Battle Is Renewed

The truce, declared at 4:20 p. m. had been in effect only about an hour when soldiers outside the hotel fired into the air in attempting to disperse a mob which apparently was bent upon looting the hostelry.

The officers still remaining in the building returned the fire, thereby renewing the battle.

Three Associated Press employes were caught between the two fires near the hotel entrance and barely escaped with their lives, only the speed of their taxicab driver in dashing from the scene saving them.

The officers, who had signified their intentions to give up the fight by waving white sheets from the hotel, had accepted the terms of surrender. Soldiers then entered the building and began carrying out

Study Of Missions And The Bible Is Of Interest To Church Women At Meetings

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE BEAN WILSON
Avalanche Woman's Editor

NOT so many years ago people went to almost any extreme to keep from wearing eye glasses. Along in the same period women squeezed their feet into shoes that were too small, wore corsets that were too tight and didn't wear black unless they were very old or widowed.

That was an era of superficiality that preceded this time when women wear shoes that are number nines if that means comfort, when black is about the smartest color one may wear, it it happens to be becoming, and when every other person you meet wears spectacles. We even pride ourselves on having graduated from the Victorian era of the past.

Yet, we are not entirely out of our old ways. Not so long ago I was in a crowd in which there was a woman who couldn't read the words on a signboard across the street—and all because she was too vain to wear glasses.

There is such a thing as being sloppy in your freedom of dress, of course. But this day is an improvement in many ways over the good old times in the past, as far as women are concerned. There is greater comfort in this freedom that women have gained in their clothing and appearance.

And, unless I miss my guess by a long distance, women are better looking. Plenty of women add dignity when they don glasses and many certainly gain composure and comfort when they are able to see what is going on across the room. They gain, too, when they have shoes that fit, even if the number is larger than they had wanted to wear.

Women haven't all done a lot with the freedom of this century, but they have used a part of it to advantage in clothing themselves in comfortable and healthful things.

THERE'S LOTS OF SPACE

"WHY do they make city lots so small out here when there is so much space available?" Mrs. Ida Perrin wondered recently. Having lived for many years on a ranch, she feels the pinch of small spaces in a town no more crowded than Lubbock.

We wonderd, too, why the limit on space when there is more space than anything else in West Texas.

In a fertile river valley, in a mountainous country where much land is not rich or pleasant to live on, there may be an excuse for making plots of land so small. It seems, however, that in laying out a town in prairie country such as this, the lots might be expanded and all made big.

This may be a little late for Lubbock, but there doesn't seem to be any reason why people should attempt to crowd up in a small area in a country where almost any section is as good as another.

And all of that is said while I am perfectly aware that Lubbock is a "scattered" town in comparison to cities and many small places in other sections. In comparison, however, this section is rich in good land. Such sweeps of tillable land as we have here are not easy to find. So, why wouldn't it have been feasible to make city lots the size of acres instead of measuring off fifty feet or so?

Senator's Name Is Capitalized

NEW YORK, Oct. 2. (AP) — Testimony that the Loyal Order of Moose sought to "capitalize in every way" the name of United States Senators James J. Davis was offered in his defense today at his federal lottery trial.

Seeking to overcome the inference left by an article in the Moose magazine, signed by former Supreme Dictator Rodney P. Brandon, but written by Donald F. Stewart, the magazine's editor, the defense asked Stewart on cross-examination why he had stated in the article that the Mooseheart charity balls "originated in the keen mind of our director-general."

Davis is the director-general of Moose. The charity balls were part of what the government charges was a huge national lottery scheme.

"Because," Stewart explained slowly, "the executive committee of the supreme council instructed me to capitalize in every way the name of Senator James J. Davis in the columns of the magazine."

"Well did you have any knowledge that the charity balls did originate in the mind of Senator Davis?" asked Attorney Charles J. Margoitti.

"No, I hadn't," replied the witness.

"Shipping has not been resumed on account of a ten-mile current in the river which makes very dangerous any movement. Entire sections of the city have been abandoned and people are living in the streets," his message said.

If you want to GET RID of Constipation worries-

Science says Today use a LIQUID Laxative

1. Control intestinal action exactly—no "purging"
2. Measure to suit your individual needs to the drop
3. Banish Bowel Fatigue and the laxative habit

Here's Why:

Any hospital offers evidence of the harm done by harsh laxatives that drain the system, weaken the bowel muscles, and in some cases even affect the liver and kidneys.

A doctor will tell you that the unwise choice of laxatives is a common cause of chronic constipation.

Fortunately, the public is fast returning to the use of laxatives in liquid form.

A properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement. There is no discomfort at the time and no weakness after. You don't have to take "a double dose" a day or two later.

In buying any laxative, always read the label. Not the claims, but the contents. If it contains one doubtful drug, don't take it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescriptional preparation in which there are no mineral drugs. Its ingredients are on the label. By using it, you avoid danger of bowel strain. You can keep the bowels regular, and comfortable; you can make constipated spells as rare as colds.

The liquid test:

This test has proved to many men and women that their trouble was not "weak bowels", but strong cathartics:

First. Select a good liquid laxative. 2. Take the dose you find is suited to your system. 3. Gradually reduce the dose until bowels are moving regularly without any need of stimulation.

Syrup pepsin has the highest standing among liquid laxatives, and is the one generally used. It contains senna, a natural laxative which is perfectly safe for the youngest child. Your druggist has Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Relief Grant Being Sought

Total Of $2,670,000 Is Asked For Lateral Road Construction In Drouth And Flood Sections Of Texas

FORT WORTH, Oct. 2 (AP)—Application of an outright grant of $2,670,000 for lateral road construction in the drouth and flood stricken areas of Texas, was filed with the public works state advisory board here today by the Texas highway department.

The application lists the total cost of construction at $8,900,000. The application was forwarded to Washington as a relief measure.

The project will be coordinated, according to application, the Texas rehabilitation and relief commission supplying the labor, and the Texas highway department and bureau of public roads providing supervision. The application was signed by Gib Gilchrist, state highway engineer, and by Attorney General James V. Allred.

Some of the road construction work already has begun in the stricken areas of West Texas, hard hit by dry weather, and of the Rio Grande valley, which suffered from the recent gulf hurricane.

Food Supply Threatened

In New York, some 17,000 truck drivers staged a walkout which threatened the city's supplies of bread, flour and groceries to enforce demands for reduced working hours, without a pay cut. Baking plants were picketed.

At Hudson, Mass., 1,300 employes of the Firestone Rubber company, making footwear, refused to work today awaiting replies to their demand for 25 per cent wage increase and union recognition.

At Weirton, W. Va., where more than 11,000 Weirton Steel company employes are out on strike, 400 electrical and blooming mill employes split off, saying they "did not know what the strike was all about," and asked E. T. Weir for permission to return. Weir granted it and promised them protection from the picket lines.

loot, including stores of wine.

Saber Charge Made

Thereupon the riotous crowd of hoodlums appeared and the soldiers fired in the air to disperse them, later making a saber charge.

This brought about the renewal of the hostilities.

Many Americans living within the battle zone were endangered by the machine gun and rifle bullets which whizzed through the air and by the artillery shells which whined toward the hotel building.

Woman Is Trapped

During the hour truce, which lasted from 2 p. m. until 3 p. m., the wife of Colonel Julio Sanguily, former army chief of staff, left the hotel, where she said she had been trapped during the battle.

The hoisting of the sheet followed only a short time after a spokesman for the officers defiantly rejected demands that they surrender.

"We are not surrendering," he said. "They will find our bodies under the ruins of this hotel."

"B. Stocks

By JOHN L. COOLEY,

Associated Press Financial Writer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2. (AP)—Stocks began the month and quarter with a spiritless market today. The downward trend which has recently characterized trading was again in evidence, but trading loafed along at the slowest pace in more than a month. Until the late dealings the range for most leaders was narrow; today the close losses widened and there were numerous net declines of 1 to 3 points. wheat and corn finished lower.

With volume reduced to 959,610 shares, the smallest since August 15, it was apparent that even professionals were in an indecisive mood. The market was virtually motionless at times during the morning, doubtless because traders were awaiting President Roosevelt's speech. That talk was addressed chiefly to the veterans' direct interests and omitted the discussion of monetary policy which some thought might be included. It seemed to have no effect on market moods; prices continued their sag after its delivery, but there was no increase in offerings.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 2. (AP)—Cotton had a very quiet session today and prices slid off moderately mainly due to weakness in stocks. The close was near the bottom, showing net declines of 7 to 11 points.

The opening was firmer due mainly to the advance in sterling and Liverpool cables were hardly as good as due. Manchester cabled its market was quiet with a good inquiry but offers were low. First trades here showed gains of 6 to 7 points with December at 9.96 and March at 10.20 but prices eased slowly after the start on hedge selling and in sympathy with an easier opening of the stock market. In quiet morning trading December dropped to 9.87 and March to 10.13 or 7 to 9 points under the early highs and 2 to 3 points below the previous close.

Around noon the market recovered to levels exactly even with Saturday's close, but gradually eased off during the afternoon partly due to some disappointment at the president's Chicago speech but mainly due to weakness in stocks. In final trading, December dropped to 9.78 and March to 10.05, or 13 to 16 points below the highs of the morning. December closed at 9.78, down 1 points net, and March at 10.05 down 10 points net.

Liverpool is due tomorrow on New Orleans 5 penny points down.

Port receipts 48,108, for week 124,100, for season 1,910,104, last season 1,552,104. Exports 25,352, for week 54,297, for season 1,344,590, last season 1,191,075. Port stock 3,491,397, last year 3,620,865. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans Galveston and Houston 152,083, last year 99,171. Spot sales at southern markets 62,955, last year 37,989.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP)—An opening advance in response to steady Liverpool cables and an easier dollar was followed by declines in cotton today under realizing or liquidation and southern selling. December contracts after selling up to 9.99 declined to 9.84 in the late trading and closed at that figure. The general market had net losses of 4 to 9 points.

The opening was up 3 to 9 points on covering and trade buying which included some buying for Liverpool and continental account. Demand was readily supplied at the initial prices, however, and prices sagged later in a quiet market. Hedging which had been fairly active at the start, diminished around noon but reappeared toward the close, when liquidation or reselling by some of the early buyers was also reported. October sold off from 9.78 at the opening to 9.63 in the late trading while May declined from 10.39 to 10.25. Final quotations were at or within two points of the lowest.

The southern selling was accompanied by reports that cotton had been coming out more freely over the week end in the southwest and with general business here restricted by a disposition to await further developments, especially with reference to the cotton loan plan, or monetary policies. The market was sensitive to small orders. The president's address at Chicago, particularly those portions referring to farm income, came in for considerable comment, but was without apparent effect on the market. The New York cotton exchange service estimate world's consumption of American cotton for August 1,268,000 bales or the largest for any August since 1927. Exports 25,325 making 1,351,859 so far this season. Port receipts 48,502. Port stocks 3,478, 989.

Strengthened By Cardui

"Just after the birth of my son, I was weak and nervous," writes Mrs. W. H. Hannon, of Tulsa, Okla. "My back ached. I didn't get my strength back until I had taken Cardui. It seemed to build me up and give me strength. I was less nervous. Since that time, I was irregular. Not knowing anything better than Cardui, that is what I took, with good results. It settled my nerves, built up my strength. I have a good color, do all my work and feel fine, thanks to Cardui."

imals ever entered in a fair here. Douglas Pounds, swine superintendent, reported 274 animals in his division; L. A. Howard, of the dairy cattle department, reported 169 animals in that department.

George Samson, superintendent of the poultry department, reported about 140 chickens, six ducks, a pair of geese, a pair of turkeys and a pair of doves. Quality of all exhibits was much better than last year, he added.

THE ATTENDANCE

Fair officials late last night reported 9,698 persons filed through the turnstiles on opening day. The attendance was 2,216 more than the 7,482 visitors of the first day of the 1932 exposition.

Rabbits may be entered up to 9 a. m. today, when judging starts, M. E. Lawrence, superintendent, said. This was decided late yesterday, to permit a number of exhibitors to enter. Up to 5 p. m. Monday, 72 rabbits had been entered.

In the beef cattle department, Superintendent W. L. Stangel reported 38 head, not including club entries.

The John T. Wortham shows did a good business all day yesterday, it was said.

Last night there was a good crowd for the fireworks exhibition, filling the grandstand. Hundreds of people witnessed the display from cars or the main grounds.

Horse racing, given for the first time Monday, was an attraction. Several of the races were close and the crowd showed its appreciation of the hosemanship displayed.

A horse show is billed to start at 8 o'clock in front of the grand stand where the fireworks will be given. Local horses and other animals will be entered. Joe W. Bowman is staging the show.

War Veterans

ago nominated him for the presidency.

The president made the trip in a triple capacity—as president of the United States, as a comrade in the Legion, and as a man wishing to honor a compatriot who died from a bullet meant for him.

The president spoke with apparent frankness and without mincing of words to the 30,000 veterans gathered before him in the stadium—many of whom have voiced sharp criticism of the national economy act of last March that cut $300,000,000 a year from ex-service men's benefits.

Mometary silence several times followed his clean-cut utterances in opposition to the Legion's policy, but each time a ripple of applause arose.

Legion leaders, after hearing the president's views, were just as frank in disagreeing as he was in expressing them.

"The ex-soldier who is unable to pay for his own hospitalization should be cared for by the general government," said National Commander Louis A. Johnson of the Legion.

"We will continue to maintain that the war veteran is not in the same position as the average citizen, because of his service to his country in time of war."

Johnson expressed the belief that "every other phase of the president's speech was in accord with the Legion movement for veterans."

Jewel Robbery

N, made signed statements Sunday to Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney, at police headquarters.

Morris was charged in Justice of the Peace J. S. Connell's court here Monday with theft of the jewelry.

Case of Maxey, charged in Potter county with receiving and concealing stolen property, probably will be placed before a grand jury there today, Amarillo authorities said. Maxey pested $1,000 bond here Sunday.

Two of the rings, one of 1 karat 42 points, or nearly a karat and a half, and the other of 17 points, had perfect blue-white stones, and were valued at $1,500 and $100 respectively. The other, with a chip-stone, worn as a guard for the larger rings, was valued at $15. All three had yellow gold mountings, the two larger ones Tiffany settings. The watch, of 17 jewels, and a solid gold guard chain, with a pearl set in the center, were valued as heirlooms.

When recovered only the chip-stone still was in a ring. The case had been taken from the watch.

Lubbock police had a $50 check for a tipster whose information resulted in solution of the jewel-robbery, one of several to occur recently in Amarillo. Miss [illegible] had offered a $50 reward.

Another Popular Pastime

OF COURSE, it may not be true, but one may easily imagine that, whenever a legislative committee meets to figure out ways and means of securing revenue, the chairman clears his throat and speaks as follows:

"Gentlemen, there is just one easy, painless way to collect this added tax money. We must tax tobacco!"

Fourthwith, members of the committee agree, unanimously, slap on the percentage and John Smoker once more gets it in the neck.

A processing tax on tobacco went into effect October 1 and, of course, was added to the already lopsided amount which smokers pay for the privilege of smoking. Thus another 'class tax' went into effect—and Jones will pay the freight!

No one ever stops to think of taxing any of the numerous other non-essentials or 'luxuries' when an extra tax has to be raised. It goes on tobacco and there it stays, never decreased but often increased.

To The Morning Avalanche, this is decidedly unfair.

Tobacco should bear its share of the tax burden and smokers should certainly pay their part of government's expense.

But if the smoker and the non-smoker have the same rights of citizenship, why does it cost the smoker so much more in proportion to enjoy identical rights?

That's a hard one to answer!

CHICAGO'S "BRAIN TRUST"

President Roosevelt has in Mayor Kelly of Chicago a rival in resorting to professors for the solving of difficult problems of government.

The President has his NRA and Mayor Kelly his CRA, or Chicago Recovery administration. The "brain trust" which will man it embraces some noted educators, including President Hutchins of Chicago university, President Scott of Northwestern, and President Wilson of Loyola. In addition, it has a representative of labor, the head of the Civic Federation and Bureau of Public Efficiency and the president of the Northwestern railroad.

The chief immediate problem this group will tackle will be the city's muddled finances, which have defied the efforts of other leading minds. The mayor hopes that they will be able to eliminate the real estate tax and suggest other revenue sources to take its place. This, he thinks, would bring about a building boom.

In turning to educators, the mayor is following the example of the national administration. It is too early yet to judge the success of the latter's efforts, but the Chicago experiment wil be watched with interest by other cities facing difficult financial and other problems. Some good may come out of it unless the educators themselves turn politicians and view municipal matters through the eyes of these.

BALKING BANK BANDITS

An interesting experiment in the prevention of bank robberies is under way in Arkansas. Neither special alarm systems nor extra guards are employed, but the plan seems to have as effective possibilities as either of these or others that have been adopted in recent yars since bandit raids became so frequent.

Under a new regulation being applied to state banks, these institutions are permitted to keep only a small amount of cash out of their locked vaults during business hours, except in cases of special and unexpected demands. When it is necssary to withdraw from the vaults more than the normally permitted amounts, the banks must lock their doors or post two armed guards on duty.

In large institutions, these precautions might prove handicaps to prompt and efficient transaction of business but in smaller banks the handicaps are not so obvious.

If adhered to strictly, they should prove effective as deterrents to robbery. The amount of cash permited to be kept in the cages apparently is not large enough to prove tempting to bandits. Knowing that a successful raid would net them a sum insignificant compared to the risks they would take, robbers would be very likely to avoid institutions operating under regulations of the kind in effect in Arkansas.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

By REV. MARSHALL RHEW
Of The First Methodist Church

In Thee, O Lord, do I put my trust; let me never be put to confusion.

Deliver me in Thy righteousness, and cause me to escape: incline Thine ear unto me, and save me.

Be Thou my strong habitation, whereunto I may continually resort: Thou hast given commandment to save me: for Thou art my rock and my fortress.—Psalm Psalm LXXI, 1-3.

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

A VERY swell fight is on at the present moment among the "retail merchants."

The majority of the 1,500,000 affected would like to sew the business up into a cost-plus-10-per-cent code.

Those in the minority are making a very loud noise in behalf of the consumer. With a superior publicity organization they assure us the retailers' code is the bunk.

It really is a scrap between Macy's, of New York, and the Wanamaker type of stores. Macy peddles goods for cash and does away with the small loss that charge accounts incur. The other big department stores—New York leading—want a 10 per cent profit on their gross billings.

If you take a Macy man off in the corner he will admit quite a lot of the "inefficient merchants" may fall by the wayside under such a code as is contemplated by his interests.

At the same time any one of these cash-and-carry men will point out to you that the cost-plus-10 boys have six or more jokers in the hole.

Says the majority code now pending: Clearance sales, damaged merchandise, fire sales, perishable merchandise, discontinued lines of advertised merchandise and goods sold upon final liquidation of any business—are exempted from the proposition of adding 10 per cent to gross billings.

"SALES": The cash-only merchants say there is no way of riding herd on "sales" that might be inspired by any of these exceptions.

Further they announce that the two big mail-order houses first were lined up with the price-fixing idea but since have joined the Macy camp. Still giving you the slant from the no-credit stores, the mail-order houses checked up and found they could do more business on a lesser scale of profit.

EAU DE NICKEL: As the retail code affecting drug stores stands now those in the majority want to stop cutting prices at 21 per cent below the advertised figure.

This brings to mind a nationally known mouth wash which retails for a dollar a bottle. It is a U. S. Pharmaceutical formula and costs about 5 cents a bottle to manufacture.

Even at 21 per cent off it would seem high priced to the informed layman.

F. D. and F. C.: Since March 4—and for some months before that—you have been hearing about a gentleman named Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

Make no mistake about it—he is the works of this Administration and you can praise him or not.

Another man has stepped ever so quietly into the picture however and you might give him a little consideration.

His name is Frank C. Walker. He is treasurer of the Democratic National Committee and he was one of the first three inspired men who laid actual cash on the line 'way back last year to get Mr. Roosevelt nominated.

At present Walker is co-ordinating the "Executive Council" which embraces not only the cabinet but all of the emergency setups and meets every Tuesday the president is in Washington.

Walker didn't want this job. He had an eye on the governorship of Hawaii. It took specific legislation to make him eligible and the bill failed of passage.

LAGGING: Don't be astonished if Walker emerges as one of FDR's chief emergency fixers. NRA has been going ahead but not too fast. Public works was supposed to keep pace. Somehow or other it hasn't.

Henry Morgenthau, in charge of the Farm Credit administration, has seen the handwriting on the wall and demanded that farm mortgages be refinanced in two or three weeks rather than three to six months.

The Home Loan board under "Seaboard Bill" Stevenson—designed to give urban home owners a chance at refinancing—has been even more delinquent. It hasn't even sized-up its task.

Harry Hopkins, head of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, is doing a very adequate job.

You are safe in believing that President Roosevelt has decided to keep all of his extraordinary agencies in step. The job may be split in two but Frank Walker looks like a natural as one of the co-ordinators.

He has such an insight on the inside already.

NOTES: George O'Connor, Washington's favorite minstrel, returned from a recent Philadelphia ship launching with a new idea. . . . "Now I know what they do with all that water," he said; "they put boats in it." . . . Congressman West, who succeeded Jack Garner in the House as Uvalde's representative, received a letter from the Vice President the other day. . . . "Tell me," said Garner, "what's going on in Washington?"

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

INFLATION generals in New York privately concede a temporary set-back in their sweeping offensive.

They thought the embattled farm brigades led by Senators Thomas and Ellison Smith would smash the line and start mopping up. It didn't work that way. They are still confident of ultimate victory but admit they will have to wait until credit expansion gets a more thorough try-out. Meanwhile they are very busy recruiting congressmen for the next session and big doings are promised then if not sooner.

MONEY: An odd angle on the inflation battle is that impartial experts agree on the minor physical effects of either devaluation or the printing of $3,000,000,000 worth of treasury notes to replace government bonds.

They say that devaluation of 35 or 40 per cent would merely serve to confirm the existing situation in foreign exchange. Domestic prices might shoot up momentarily but would quickly tend to stabilize on a new level, leaving everybody except large debtors and creditors (including the U. S. government and its bondholders) just about where they were.

And even those who advocate the issues of treasury notes do not believe they would mean a real increase of currency in circulation. Instead it would be a matter of the new notes driving "better" money, such as federal reserve notes, into retirement. So any price gains that might follow would be the result of psychology and not mathematics.

WAR: A corporation head just returned from an extended European visit reports that war tension in France and Germany is mounting rapidly. High French circles are winning peasant support for their belief that it would be better to press forward now than to wait a few years when Germany will be better prepared. The situation is loaded with TNT and any little incident might set it off.

EXPLANATION OF LAST SATURDAY'S CARTOON

A STRANGE BET

Mr. Swaney had wagered that he would travel from Cromwell, Indiana, to California in less than 100 days. He was to start without a cent in his pocket, never beg for food or money, be accompanied by a dog, and both he and the dog were to weigh the same as when they started. Upon arrival he was to be the owner of $5. A final condition was that he was to look at his donkey all the way to his goal. Every point of this curious wager was fulfilled, and California was reached in this bizarre fashion in 97 days.

FROM CONVICT TO CONGRESS

After serving a term of a year and a day in Leavenworth Penitentiary, for addressing a Minnesota banker as a "Robber of Orphans and Widows," Congressman Shoemaker, Farmer-Laborite, of Minnesota, was recently permitted to take his seat in Congres by an overwhelming vote. In the litigation which the same "Orphans and Widows" instituted against the banker, the former were upheld by the courts.

Reader Disturbed By Loud Radios Seeks Some Help

Editor, The Avalanche: Since editors are supposed to know the whys and wherefores of everything under the sun and since I am a subscriber to your paper, I am taking the privilege to ask you a question. If you can consistently do so, please answer to the best of your knowledge:

If the federal government has the power to make laws, controlling the radio broadcasting system of the United States why can't the government of a city have the power to make a law and enforce it, prohibiting thoughtless (or don't care) owners of radios from turning their radios to the highest pitch at the most unearthly hours of the night when their neighbors need and must have sleep so as to be able to care for their daily duties?

Sure, this is a free country, but if a "Lonesome Cowboy" insisted on standing out in the street around five o'clock in the morning he would be reported to the officers and arrested as a public nuisance. The radio nuisances are not only in one part, but scattered throughout the city. There seems to be two or more in every block. One will insist on a wide open radio regardless of static, until midnight and sometimes later. Then when the poor neighbors have stuffed cotton in their ears, buried their heads under their pillows, swore, tossed, and turned and finally dropped off into a restless sleep, the early radio nuisance, before day light, opens up his radio at full speed with some old breakdown fiddling program—gosh! Even a cold plunge fails to pep a fellow after a night like that. And it happens every night in my neighborhood.

I thank you,
A Subsriber.

(Dear Subscriber: There is a law to serve you in your discomfort, although you can probably get better results by peaceably talking to your offending neighbors. You may ask the police force about the law covering public nuisances. That will help you if you can show the late, loud radio to be a public nuisance. Thanks for your letter. The Editor.)

Rival Managers Say They're Ready For Baseball's Show

NEW YORK, Oct. 2. (AP)—Here's what the rival managers had to say after putting the teams through their final paces today at the Polo Grounds.

Joe Cronin Senators—"Our team is right on edge and anxious to go. In fact I wish we had started yesterday. We are looking for a great series. Goslin will start for us in right field, against Hubbell or anyone else, but I'm sorry I'll have to keep you guessing about my pitching choice until tomorrow. It will be Crowder or Whithill or Stewart and they all are ready to go."

Bill Terry, Giants—"Everybody's okay but Terry right this minute and if he can shake off a cold that's bothering him a bit in the left eye, he will be ready to go with the rest of the gang tomorrow. We are all set. You know who's going to pitch and I don't need to tell you that he's good. We feel we can win with Hubbell."

"Cronin Is Boss," Says Clark Griffith

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP) — Clark Griffin, gray-haired president of the Washington Senators, took occasion today to bury two widely-circulated notions about his ball club as he watched the players in their last tune-up for the World Series.

"Joe Cronin is the absolute boss of this ball club on the field," said Griffith, in reply to questions. "He runs the team without any advice or suggestion from me, selects the pitchers and is responsible for the strategy. I might talk things over with him, afterward, but I make no suggestions before or during a ball game."

The other idea squelched by Griffith was that he had been so disappointed by the Senators' slow start in the spring he considered making some additional trades and even shifting pilots.

"That's just a lot of bunk," declared Griffith. "I can think of nothing more foolish. This ball club of ours was built with the idea of stopping the Yankees."

Stribling Given Chance For Life

MACON, Ga., Oct. 2. (AP)—William Lawrence (Young) Stribling, heavyweight boxer, his ring career ended by the amputation of his left foot as a result of an automobile accident yesterday, was given a "fair" chance for his life by physicians today.

His mother and father reached his bedside early this morning. The elder Stribling, known to the boxing world as "Pa," who has been his son's manager and adviser, came from Texas and Mrs. Stribling from the Stribing plantation in South Georgia.

Mrs. W. L. Stribling, Jr., wife of the fighter, is in the same hospital convalescing following the birth of a third child, a son. Her family physician informed her of Stribling's injuries, which also included a fractured pelvis.

She was permitted to speak to him after an X-ray had been taken. She bore up well after they exchanged greetings. Later she saw him again.

"How's the baby?" Stribling asked.

"Fine," she replied.

Mrs. Stribling was crying when he was wheeled back to her room.

The tournament calls for 54-holes of medal play and will be concluded Wednesday.

Scores of other visiting golfers follow: Mrs. Gaither Nowell, Waco, 90. Mrs. Charles Holloway of Corsicana, 99. Mrs. J. N. Garrity of Corsicana, 99. Mrs. Floyd Boone of Longview, 95. Mrs. U. N. Oliver of Amarillo, 101. Mrs. H. R. Stroube of Corsicana, 103. Mrs. Jess Rogers of Amarillo, 114.

Experts Go Groggy Trying To Figure Who Cronin Plans To Start; Play Begins At 12:30 (Local Time) Today

By ALAN GOULD,
Associated Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—In the vast dull-green arena beneath historic Coogan's Bluff, the players had their last rehearsals today under watchful eyes. Around the box-offices, the big rush was on for reserved seats, now available on the single-game basis, but there were still plenty to be sold. Along Broadway betting men were beginning to offer the tempting—even money and take your pick."

The groggiest of the experts, after a fortnight of struggle with the dope-sheets, was still trying frantically to decide which of the three candidates will pitch for the Washington Senators against Carl Owen Hubbell, ace southpaw of the New York Giants, in the opening game of the World Series tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 p. m. (Eastern standard time).

The chief pre-series uncertainty—Washington's pitching choice—was still a big headache for the critics tonight as the rival clans gathered, breathed defiance in the hotel lobbies and "dug in" for the duration of the latest of baseball's annual inter-league wars.

Mayor O'Brien Withdraws

The day's only withdrawal from the opening game "line-up" was Mayor John O'Brien, who was to have thrown out the first ball. The city's chief executive notified the Giants that "pressure of official business would prevent him even from attending the game.

"Football weather," cloudy and cool, was predicted for tomorrow. Officials of the New York club were optimistic of a crowd of at least 40,000. This would be some 9,000 short of a sellout for the Polo Grounds, all freshly decked out with red, white and blue bunting for its first World Series since 1924. The attendance will depend on the extent of the rush for 20,000 unreserved grandstand seats and 5,000 bleacher tickets, to be put on sale at 9 a. m.

Two games will be played here before the Giants and Senators shift the battle to Clark Griffith Stadium, Washington, for the third, fourth and fifth engagements, scheduled Thursday, Friday and Saturday. If neither team has collected four victories within that stretch, and the odds are all against it, they will resume the struggle at the Polo Grounds next Saturday, in the sixth game, and play the seventh and concluding game, if necessary, on Monday.

Thus, within a week's time, the new champion of the baseball world will be decided, barring a bad turn of weather, and it was still a wide open guess tonight as to whether it would be the well-balanced, more experienced American League standard-bearers or the aggressive, surprise-winners of the National League.

"Win With Hubbell"

The Giant's slogan is "win with Hubbell." The home club has an all-around advantage in the box that is admitted even by the Senators. They have a great young right-hander in Hal Schumacher and a veteran in fat Freddy Fitzsimmons and his deceptive knuckle ball. But the team's main confidence and chief hopes repose in the talented left arm of Hubbell and his famous "screw ball." It's the one weapon they think the harder-hitting American leaguers cannot resist.

In short, the shutout king of the National League, a lean, lanky fellow who thrives on tough assignments, is expected to throttle the Senator's big hitters and send the Giants off to a flying start. With Hubbell in the box, such things as Travis Jackson's troublesome knees at third base and Manager Bill Terry's cold, which has settled uncomfortably in his left eye, do not worry the home team.

Much more concern has been manifest over who will oppose Hubbell, but Joe Cronin, Washington's 26-year-old manager and shortstop, smilingly continued to "play possum" on the subject throughout the day.

"All I can tell you is that it will be Al Crowder, Earl Whitehill or Wally Stewart," said Cronin, as he passed all questions designed to pin him down. "They are all ready to pitch and I'll make up my mind tomorrow."

Maybe It's Crowder

Having gone around in a complete circle of "dope" during the past week, the experts' consensus tonight that it will be Crowder, the hard-working right-hander. They argue that Crowder has been the lead-off man in every vital series all year, that by starting the first game he can thus be used oftener and that Cronin still is playing a "hunch," dating back to last spring, when he accepted the "general's" confident offer to start the World Series.

Manager Joe waved aside the suggestion that Crowder might be reserved for strong-arm relief duty, along the lines that Connie Mack utilized Bob Grove in 1929 against the Chicago Cubs. He added: "Jack Russell and Al Thomas are slated for the main relief work, if and when they are needed."

On the other hand, it was pointed out Crowder has not been so effective during the last few weeks and that the chances are he would be less effective against the Giant's left-handed hitters than either Whitehill, ace southpaw of the Senators, or Stewart, another crafty left-hander. Terry and Mel Ott, the home team's chief clubbers, swing from the left side.

Whitehill Unlimbers

Whitehill was the only member of the "big three" to unlimber his pitching arm today. Cronin looked him over during a brief workout with Catcher Luke Sewell but refused to admit this had any significance. Crowder remained "under wraps" while Stewart shagged flies and hit to the infield.

Cronin's only definite statement was that Goose Goslin, the veteran slugger, will start in right field, with the idea of giving the Senators all possible "punch" as they aim for the short home-run targets at the Polo Grounds.

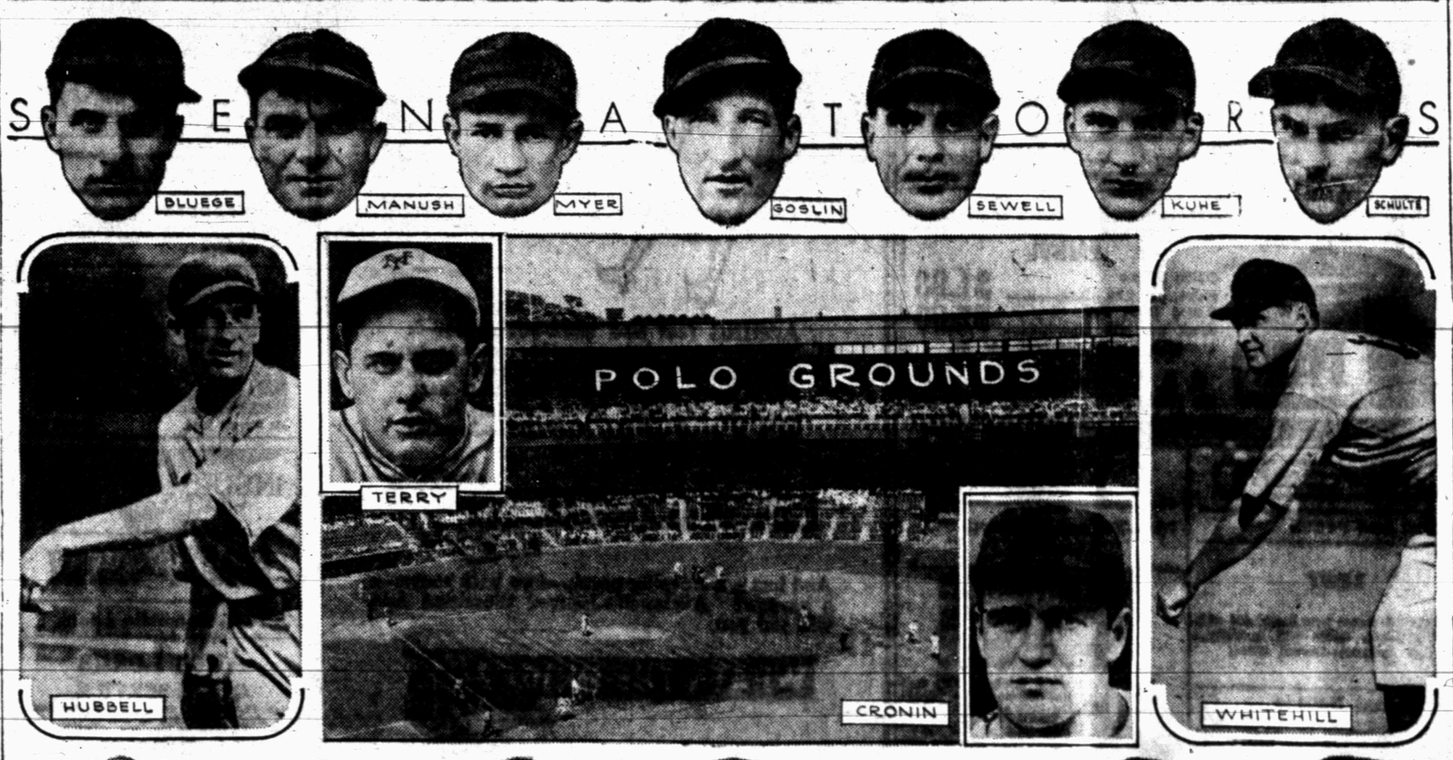

The Senators feel confident their ability to hit any—and all kinds of pitching will offset the admitted mound strength of the Giants.

The four big clubbers of the American League outfit, Manush, Cronin, Schulte and Kuhel, have driven in over 100 runs home than the corresponding "cleanup" quartet in the Giants' batting order. Mel Ott alone ranks with the Senators clouters in the rival responsibility of bringing the base-runners home.

Offensively, however, the Giants do not concede their rivals a thing. When Hubbell is pitching, the team has a "fifth infielder." They have made more double plays than the Senators, who nevertheless rank at the top of the American League in fielding as well as hitting. The Giant outfield can "get 'em and throw 'em out" in the words of Manager Terry who adds: "What more can you ask."

The answer to this and other inquiries can be referred to events on the field of battle tomorrow. The opening ceremonies will be brief. The emphasis will be on the ball game. The stakes are high and they will be fought for by two of the best matched ball clubs brought together in years.

Today's The Day--Here's The Stage And The World Series Cast

Stand back, football! This is baseball's day of days, for the World Series opens. And here are the men who will battle for the championship. Washington's Senators, led by the youthful Joe Cronin, pack more batting punch than the Giants of New York, but Manager Bill Terry has an excellent staff of hurlers calculated to cause most any slugger trouble.

Carl Hubbell, ace of the Giants' pitchers, is expected to bear the brunt of the work for New York, and the Senators may find difficulty in hitting his famous screwball. Earl Whitehill, capable lefthander, is one of the main hopes of the Senators, for the Giants depend largely on left-hand hitters. (Associated Press Photos.)

Lubbock High Game Changed

Westerners Go To Sweetwater On Friday Instead Of Saturday; Adopt Vacant Lots For Practice Sessions

Stirring up the loose dirt, dodging the telephone poles, and tackling viciously among the cactus plants, the Lubbock high Westerners, conquerors last Friday of the big Rangers Bullfrogs, worked out yesterday evening on a flock of vacant lots in south Lubbock.

Meeting another set of district champions, the Sweetwater Mustangs, who last week-end drubbed the Abilene Eagues, next Friday afternoon at Sweetwater instead of Saturday as originally scheduled, the high school lads are doing the best they are able on their improvised practice lot. They have relinquished their regular grounds at Fair Park for the week.

A dummy scrimmage against Sweetwater plays was the program yesterday. The squad showed some wear and tear from their clash with Ranger. Granbury, who hurt his shoulder in the game, was absent from the drill, and big Wimberly was considerably indisposed by a bruised femur. Vergil Griner, hurt in the Big Spring game, is still sporting a trick knee.

Mustangs Rule Favorites

Their third tough game in as many weeks, the Westerners are hardly favorites in the forthcoming clash with Ed Hennig's Mustangs. They put on a great offensive against Ranger, but on defense they allowed enough scoring to win most ball games.

Sweetwater is evidently a great defensive as well as offensive club. Against Abilene last Friday they only permitted the heavy Eagles to go for one lone first down.

Season Tickets For Tech Games Still For Sale

Season tickets, or football coupon books, for Texas Tech's home games, including Friday night's encounter with the Dixie university Rebels, will go on sale again this morning, W. L. Stangel, chairman of the Tech athletic council, announced yesterday.

With one game gone, the price for the season books have been slashed to $5.50, which guarantees a selected reserved seat in the grandstand for the balance of the football season. Six home games remain on the card, the Dixie game having been changed from Dallas to Lubbock.

Advance ticket sales for the Dixie game go on sale today, and fans are urged to buy them early. Only by purchasing tickets early this week may fans be assured of reserved seats. The price for the Tech-Dixie game has been cut from $1.65 to $1, including tax. This is the general admission price, which also provides reserved seats.

The coupon books and the game tickets are on sale today at the J. & J. Sporting goods store, and tickets for Friday night's game are also on sale at the Hilton Hotel drug store.

Races Please Crowd At Fair

Spirited Animals Provide Extra Thrill For Sport Fans At Panhandle-South Plains Fair Grounds Here

11

With H. R. Finley's Elnora S running the fastest heat of the afternoon, nosing out J. W. Hodges' Nettie Hill in the fourth and feature free-for-all, the Panhandle-South Plains fair's horse racing program was inaugurated yesterday before a cheering crowd of about 2,000 spectators.

The races are a special feature at the fair, starting daily at 3:30 p. m. Entries must be posted one day ahead of the races at the horse shed on the fair grounds.

Buster Lester Wins

In the first race yesterday, a contest of children's saddle ponies, Buster Lester rode his Smokie, 2-year-old dun horse, to victory over Topsy, owned by Mullins and Peters and ridden by Jockey Eddie. Topsy, a black 3-year-old mare, was a close second, and Sweetheart, owned by J. W. Harwell and ridden by Ernest Harwell, finished third. Only three places were counted in any race.

Day Book, a 4-year-old horse owned by W. McElroy and ridden by Jockey Frenchy, took the second race, a quarter-mile free-for-all with a $30 purse. W. O. Eubanks' Jodie Adkins, a rangy 10-year-old sorrel, ridden by Doss Fulcher, gave Day Book a battle but came in second. Vurdun Son, a 6-year-old sorrel horse owned and ridden by H. Maddox, ran third. Other entries were Chickasha Bob, owned by J. A. Zimmerman; Rolling Sox, owned by Ellerbee and Kemper, and Dolly, a bay mare owned by J. W. Ray.

Cowboy Mount Wins

Jim Harwell booted Irwin Heart, a nifty saddle pony, home ahead of the field in the third race, an event for cowboy saddle horses. Harwell's bay horse finished two lengths ahead of Joe Hopper's Daisy, a blue 3-year-old mare. Midnight, ridden by Claud Hardin, ran third.

Finley's Elnora S set a wicked pace to begin, and held it to win by a nose over Hodges' sorrel Nettie Hill. Billie Parker was atop of Elnora S. D. Fulcher rode Nettie Hill, Barney Owens, a late entry from New Mexico, owned by Keefer, a 4-year-old sorrel horse, ran third. Niggar, a black 6-year-old, and Mary Reed, Dick Gray's young bay mare, were the also rans.

Texas Miners To Continue Education At Texas U. Till Time For Game With S. M. U.

AUSTIN, Oct. 2. (AP)—Members of the Texas College of Mines football team continued their studies and training here today, having decided to remain here until Friday, when they will go to Dallas to meet Southern Methodist university on Saturday.

The El Pasoans, who played the University of Texas here Saturday, brought their books with them, Coach Mack Saxon having decided it would be too much traveling for them to return home prior to the Dallas engagement.

Thirty members of last year's football squad have returned to the University of Nevada.

Site Changed To Tech Grid Friday Night

Cawthon Sends Men Through Hot Scrimmage Yesterday; Rebels To Be Here With Purpose On This Week-End

Scrimmage, as tough as it comes on the practice field, was dished out to Texas Tech's Matadors yesterday as part of the preparation for Friday night's game here against the Dixie university Rebels of Dallas.

Originally scheduled for the Fair Park bowl in Dallas Friday night, the Tech-Dixie game has been moved to Lubbock for the same night. Arrangements were completed yesterday, W. L. Stangel, chairman of the Tech athletic council, reported, for the Lubbock game. Negotiations were begun yesterday morning by Coach Nick Dobbs and other Dixie university authorities, and Tech accepted the change.

Fear that Dixie would be unable to draw a crowd in Dallas large enough to provide the financial guarantee offered Tech was given as the reason for the transfer.

Undefeated Last Year

The Dixie Rebels, playing as the Jefferson university Rangers, gained nation-wide prominence last year by sweeping through a tough schedule undefeated. The team was ranked with less than a dozen other college machines which passed a unanimously succesful season, and was rated by some experts as right at the top of the heap.

Lack of eligibility rules at Dixie permits any students in the institution to play football. As a result, Coach Nick Dobbs, a believer in and exponent of the Notre Dame system, has gathered about him an imposing number of former college and university gridders who know their way around a gridiron. The University of Georgia is well represented on the team, one Jodie Whire, hefty halfback, having gained all-American recognition while playing for Georgia when the team defeated the collegiate big shots a few seasons ago.

Phil Davis, North Carolina State halfback, has run the century in ten seconds.

THE RETURN OF TARZAN, No. 44

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Fifty trips Tarzan made before he had buried all the gold within the secluded amphitheatre of the apes. So densely was it surrounded by tangled vines and creepers of huge girth that not even Sheeta, the leopard could worm his sinuous way within. Nor Tantor, the elephant, with his great strength force the protecting barriers.

Then he set out to revisit his cabin before returning to the Waziri. All was as he had left it. He went forth to hunt, intending to feast in comfort and spend this night on a comfortable couch. Roaming along the banks of a river, he stretched himself to rest upon the soft grass. Far to the south he heard a familiar sound—he could not mistake it.

It was the passing through the jungle of a band of great apes. He listened; they were coming his way. Tarzan melted into the branches and waited to inspect the newcomers. Presently, a chattering, hairy face appeared among the lower branches opposite. Tarzan could hear his words. The scout was telling the other members of the tribe that the coast was clear.

Nearly a hundred apes followed their leader. Tarzan recognized many members of the tribe. It was the same into which he had come as a tiny babe! Many of the adults had been little apes during his boyhood. He wondered if they would remember him. Tarzan walked to the end of an overhanging branch, in plain view of them. The quick eyes of a female caught sight of him first.

More Subjects Are Opened Up

Eleven Additional Matters On Texas Legislation Offered Solons; Cotton Men Would Be Reimbursed

AUSTIN, Oct. 2 (AP)—Eleven additional subjects were opened to the special session of the legislature by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today.

She suggested passage of a law that would regulate the occupation of hair dressers and cosmetologists by creating a state board for the licensing of persons, firms, co-partnerships, associations or corporations in that business. Another bill would reduce the state poll tax, required of voting citizens, from $1.50 to $1.

She submitted a bill that make an appropriation to reimburse growers and producers of cotton for expenses incurred by them through the years extending from 1929 to 1932 by reason of the state having established regulations requiring the growers to fumigate their cotton and sterilize cotton seed as a precaution against the spread of the pink boll worm.

Others matters submitted included:

Live stock laws for Upton county.

To validate all issues of funding and refunding notes, bonds, warrants, time warrants and treasury warrants issued or authorized to be issued by all cities under charters adopted and amended under provisions of article 11, section five of the constitution.

To provide for insurance of deposits in state banks after next January.

To provide for the government of water power control districts and water improvement districts organized in accordance with the provisions of chapter 247, acts of the 40th legislature.

Provide for governing bodies of all cities, towns and villages operating under title 28 of the revised civil statutes of 1925, the power to establish or erect warehouses and elevators for the storage of agricultural products.

Brief Bits Of News Picked Up At Fair Park

A RARE TABLE

M. L. Taylor, Lynn county farmer whose famous "Texas Star" table top recently attracted wide attention has another one on exhibit in the art department. It is slightly smaller than the first one but was made out of 28 different kinds of wood, eight of which were grown on or common to the South Plains. There are 556 pieces of wood in the top. The design includes 10 stars and the central star. One piece of wood is a cactus root or rather several pieces forming a star. A section of the side is made from mesquite.

HISTORICAL DISPLAY

Pioneers of the South Plains will be interested in the exhibit of reproduction of old time photos and snapshots, while the newer residents will follow the building of Tech, in the historical exhibit by Daniel's studio. There is a rare reproduction, a picture of the first court house with the famous steeple. It also shows the old windmill. Growth of the town and the plains in pictures, is always interesting.

TWINS ARE LEFT

"I've brought my twin cows and calves over here for several years, so I decided to leave them at home this time," said Oscar Stansell, Floydada dairyman and Jersey breeder. Stansell has 17 head including only one of his set of twin cows. He has had several sets of twin calves during the past several years.

HE WAS HUNGRY

An amusing incident was witnessed at the Gayoso Guernsey exhibit in the cattle barn yesterday. A prize Guernsey calf, dropped last week at Oklahoma City, was to be curried and dressed up before being shown but the youngster did not want to be dolled up. He was anxious to eat. The negro caretaker of the herd got the calf's nose between his legs and held it still while he got busy on the animal's coat with comb and brush.

PROUD OF DISPLAY

The H. B. Hales and Sons exhibit is in charge of R. P. Hales one of the sons who has 13 Holstein and four Guernseys in his exhibit. R. P. who is well known at Lubbock, Amarillo and Plainview dairy shows, is proud of his display of livestock. He and his three brothers are associated with their father and have advertised Amarillo extensively, although the farm is nearer Canyon and is in Randall county. "We live just a mile from the Canyon rural route, so we get our mail out of Amarillo and call it our headquarters," R. P. said.

HERE'S NEW TYPE

Those black cattle in the Texas Tech exhibit are Polled Black Angus, a new type of cattle for this section. The animals have attracted wide attention because of their glossy, coal black hair.

GIST HERD HERE

Three of Uncle John M. Gist's prize Herefords are here with their first calves. The Gist Hereford herd is well known all over the state and calves from the herd have taken prizes here as well as at the other leading shows of the state.

PLAYS IN HARD LUCK

C. Sears, well known Terry county rancher living a mile or so from Brownfield, played in a little hard luck. He brought over one of his prize bulls to enter the beef cattle show, but forgot about the tuberculosis test requirements until he arrived here. His animal was not tested, with the result that it was barred from exhibition.

HAVE MANY HORSES

"We've got a barn full of horses," said Joe Bowman, superintendent as he checked over the entries in his department. The horse barns were full with animals for all classes, draft horses, saddle horses, mules and jacks and jennets. Old timers said they could not remember when there were as many fine horses and animals on exhibition here. No check was available of the number.

PREPARE EXHIBITS

Local dealers in implements were preparing their exhibits. B. Sherrod, E. K. Hufstedler and sons, Allis-Chalmers and others were arranging their machines and displays. Dealers said that they anticipated more interest in showing of implements this year than for several years.

HAVE GOOD DISPLAYS

Certified grain sorghum breeders were on hand for the preparing of their booth in the agricultural building. W. M. Pool, of Bailey county and J. W. Hammock, Sudan, were in charge and both men brought good displays of their 1933 crops.

COUNTY EXHIBITS

Three county exhibits were being shown in the agricultural building—Hockley, Terry and Hale. J. P. Nystel of Abernathy was in charge of the Hale county booth, with the south part of the county furnishing the major portion.

DOUG POUNDS BUSY

Doug Pounds was so busy this morning he did not have time to check up and see how many hogs had been entered in the swine department. The hog barn full, with extra pens being built to take care of the large number entered. "We've also got 16 pens over in the old building," he added. "Never saw so many here."

ENTRIES ARE CHECKED

George Samson, superintendent of the poultry show, was preparing for a big exhibit. He was banding all entries and checking them in. The rabbit show, in the same building, also was expecting a large display. Between times Monday George went over to the agricultural building to assist in the checking in of displays.

PAINTINGS SHOWN

A painting "The Wharf" by Frank Klepper of Dallas, was one of the attractions in the art section in the woman's building according to Mrs. Chester Hubbard, superintendent. Mrs. Hubbard has seven out of town paintings on exhibit and there were three more received this morning by express, not yet unpacked. Ben Carlton Mead, Amarillo painter, who illustrated "Coronado's Children," has a display here.

ABERNATHY, Oct. 2. (Special)—A young men's class has been organized at the First Baptist church here with Rev. C. C. Griffith, the pastor, as teacher. Lewis Stambaugh was chosen president; Edwin Crow, secretary and Herbert Brown and Boyd Prather, group captains. Eighteen young men were charter members and the class meets every Thursday night.

Jangled nerves can make life miserable for those about you

These are trying times. No wonder nerves give way under the strain.

And a nervous man is frequently not responsible for the things he says.

But responsible or not, his bitter, sharp words can cruelly wound those around him—and cause scars which will never entirely heal, no matter how sorry he may be afterward.

Watch your nerves. Get your full amount of sleep every night. Eat regularly and sensibly. Find time for recreation. And smoke Camels—for Camel's costlier tobaccos never get on your nerves.

COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand of cigarettes!

How long does it take you to put a dot in the middle of each one of these sixty circles? Here is a test used by a great university. A good score is 25 seconds.
