Indiana Sways To Cause Of Wets; Becomes Tenth State To Ratify Repeal

Unofficial Returns Show That Repealists Get Enough Votes To Control Convention

(By The Associated Press)

INDIANAPOLIS, June 6 — Indiana today became the tenth state to vote in favor of repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Incomplete unofficial returns showed that repealists had mustered sufficient votes to control the convention to be held June 26 at which the state's stand on ratification will be formally registered. There will be 329 delegates to the convention.

Ratificationists rolled up the 165 votes necessary for a majority by carrying all of the larger counties of the state and many of the smaller ones.

The delegate apportionment to counties was based on population with one to each 10,000 citizens.

Man To Hogtie Mighty Stream

(By The Associated Press)

BOULDER CITY, Nevada, June 6.—Not content with twisting the Colorado's tail until it roared, man today starts hog-tying the mighty river.

For a little less than three years workers in the mile-deep canyon have been preparing for the hour when the dyke which will tame the stream would begin rearing itself from bedrock.

Today the first cubic yard of concrete was to be poured into the great forms whose contours will become an arch 730 feet feet high and 1,180 feet wide, a concave barrier which will raise the height of the river 582 feet, provide flood control, irrigation and domestic water, and power.

Authority Of Senate Body Challenged By Morgan Counsel

BY WILLIAM L. BEALE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 6 — Senate investigators today voted overwhelmingly to examine J. P. Morgan & company partners about stock transactions affecting their taxable incomes, but for the present continued to study the Van Sweringen railroad domain with its Morgan financing links.

The decision regarding income tax inquiries was made by the banking committee by an 11 to 6 vote after a hotly argued two hours behind locked doors while the Van Sweringen brothers—O. P. and M. J. — waited to testify and J. P. Morgan joked with his aides in the warm hearing room.

Authority Challenged

After listening to John W. Davis, Morgan counsel, challenge the committee's authority to drag out into public income tax returns made secret by law, and their own counsel, Ferdinand Pecora, reply that his questions to young Thomas S. Lamont were within the scope of the inquiry, the senators adopted this resolution:

"It is the sense of this committee that it should inquire into the practices of buying and selling securities as such practices may affect the taxing powers of the government; but inasmuch as the legal right of the committee should proceed immediately with railroad, public utility and all other phases of the investigation and the subcommittee charged with the investigation be directed to report a resolution enlarging the powers of the committee as soon as possible in such manner as may be

Texan Takes Off To Regain Lost Time

Landing Strut Is Cracked At Omsk But Jimmie Is Unhurt And Takes To Bed For Few Hours Of Rest

(By The Associated Press)

OMSK, Siberia, June 7 (Wednesday)—Nearly half a day behind the world girdling record he hopes to beat, Jimmie Mattern was shooting over interior Siberia today toward Chita, 1,700 miles due east of here.

Favorable weather ahead and half a day on the ground here with its refreshing sleep were factors to aid him in making up the advantage he lost yesterday.

10 Hours Behind

The Texan took off from here at 1:10 a. m. Moscow time (5:10 p. m. Tuesday, eastern standard time). As his plane cleared the ground he was just 10 hours, 41 minutes behind the pace set by Wiley Post and Harold Gatty when they set the world circuit traveling record of eight days, 15 hours and 51 minutes in 1931.

Mattern left Omsk just three days, 12 hours and 50 minutes after his departure from New York for his record-breaking trans-atlantic flight to Norway.

(Post and Gatty passed over Omsk three days, two hours and nine minutes after leaving New York, flying on to Novosigirsk. It is recalled they encountered trouble later, plunging into a mudhole at Blagovestchenck, where their plane was mired for 14 1-2 hours.)

Strut Is Broken

Mattern landed here just 54 minutes ahead of Post and Gatty's time, arriving from Moscow at 5:35 a. m. (eastern standard time Tuesday). A wing strut broken in landing was repaired here yesterday. Mattern covered the 1,400 miles to Omsk from Moscow in 12 hours, 21 minutes.

Worn by the strain of his lonely air travels from New York—which

El Paso law enforcement officers last week served notice on beer sellers they would be prosecuted after June 1 if they persisted.

Detectives late today attempted to buy 3.2 per cent beer in seven El Paso cafes. They said beverage represented as beer was sold to them in six of the cafes.

Entire Nation Has Jitters As Mother Nature Is On Rampage

Old Timers Declare 1933 Is The "Carnsarnedest" Year In All History

BY NORMAN BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6 — The far, wide west has the jitters, the midwest and south are jumpy and the east lifts amazed eyebrows—all on account of the Old Dame Nature.

She acts like chills and fever—shakes things up here and blows them down there—gives California a spring dance that's a "frost" and beams on Florida with her warmest smile.

Old Timers Baffled

From Canada to Mexico and even way up in Alaska old timers looked baffled and proclaim 1933, Thus far, about the "carnsarnedest" year ever. Just out—and—out freakish, that's all.

Right down to 66 below zero, a new record for the United States, plunged the mercury at Riverside, Yellowstone national park, in February, while in Ohio every month since New Year's has been warmer than the sixty year normal average.

Thermometers cutting up (or down) almost everywhere and such upsets as snow fluttering on Pacific coast orchard blossoms were disturbing enough without the earthquakes and tornadoes and other antics.

Quakes Recorded

Quakes ,the severest in years, rattled California, western Nevada, and southern Alaska, the most disastrous being in the Los Angeles area March 10, with its toll of 121 dead at Long Beach and nearby communities and property damage estimated at $75,000,000. Montana and Kentucky had little ones, just "jigglers."

Leaders Predict More Liberal Senate Proposal Is Likely To Be Accepted; Action Is Being Withheld

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 6—Despite a presidential modification of the veterans cuts, the wave of house insurgency swept forward unabated tonight with leaders predicting a more liberal senate proposal would be accepted.

The change announced by President Roosevelt today fixed the average reduction in compensation of direct service connected cases at 18 per cent which a White House estimate said would amount to $60,000,000 more than originally had been planned.

Withhold Action

The senate limitation of 25 percent upon such cuts brought in a group of cases that were presumed to be of service connected origin and had been estimated to cost $170,000,000 more than the first cuts called for, or $110,000,000 more than the administration plan.

Withholding action on the senate amendment to the independent offices bill, Democratic leaders indicated belief the house was in such a mood as to go ever farther and reduce the limits on cuts to 15 per cent.

The administration's compromise proposals are to be given to Chairman Buchanan (D-Tex) of the appropriations committee tomorrow. He will meet with the Democratic steering committee and the special Democratic veterans committee and they will decide whether to permit

Plan To Cut Acreage Of Cotton Reported Reached

Cash To Be Provided To Repay Farmer; Backed By FDR

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Senator Smith (D-SC) tonight was reported to have obtained the support of the administration for a program of financing cotton acreage reduction this year.

After a conference with Secretary Wallace, Smith said he would offer his program in the form of several amendments to the industrial recovery-public works bill when it comes up for consideration in the senate.

To Provide Funds

The main feature of the program will be to provide for funds to finance a reduction plan being worked out by administrators of the farm adjustment act.

Smith refused to disclose how much money he would seek to have provided for the purpose, nor would he reveal other details of his program until he has laid them before the senate.

It was reported Wallace approved Smith's program, which would be a substitute for a previous proposal made by Smith and other southern senators that $200,000,000 be set aside under the public works bill to finance retirement of basic crops listed in the farm act. A total of $100,000,000 already is available to begin acreage reduction activities under the act.

Clear Way Sought

Meanwhile, Wallace and his aides sought to clear the way for beginning a reduction program providing congressional support is given.

Plains of administrators are being closely guarded because of the prob-

Shelby County Man Declares He Will Assume His Duties Today; Has Been Friend Of Fergusons Since 1914

Wood Will Take Place Denied Denison; Special Meeting Likely Will Be Called In The Next Few Days

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 6—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today named John Wood of Timpson, Shelby county, to be chairman of the Texas highway commission. Wood had been one of the governor's secretaries since her inauguration last January 17.

Wood will take the place that the courts said Frank L. Denison of Temple was ineligible to fill because the senate refused to give him a two-thirds majority vote for confirmation.

Assumes Duties Today

Wood said he would assume his new duties tomorrow. He said he probably would call a special session of the highway commission within the next few days. Mark Wiginton, recently appointed secretary of the commission, announced the commission would meet on June 19 and 20 to award $500,000 in maintenance contracts and confer with delegations from counties seeking designations and asking other favors. Wood said he would call the commission before that date.

Denison had been named to the place occupied by the late Cone Johnson of Austin, whose term expired last February 15.

The other commissioners are W. R. Ely of Abilene and D. K. Martin of San Antonio, appointees of former Governors Dan Moody and R. S. Sterling, respectively. Ely has been chairman for several years. The governor has the privilege of making her appointee chairman.

Denison Is Refused

The senate refused to confirm Denison's appointment, but the governor sent his name to it a second time in hope of receiving its approval. Each time she was notified Denison had "failed of confirmation" by the senate.

The governor claimed only a majority of the senators present and voting needed to give their approval to Denison's appointment and that a two-thirds majority was not nec-

State - Paid Beer Election Now Is Sought In Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 6 (AP)—Beer forces today virtually abandoned their campaign to raise $91,500 to finance a special election July 11 on proposed legalization of the 3.2 drink in Oklahoma.

Under the referendum act of the regular legislature, the election would be held provided the beer advocates raised the $91,500 expense by June 15.

Dueling's Comeback In Germany Proves To Be Decided Flop; Girls Now Favor The Nazi Youths To Rapier-Marked Ones

(By The Associated Press)

HEIDELBERG, Germany, June 6.—Rapiers again are clicking in "alt Heidelberg," but student dueling isn't what it used to be here or in any other German university town.

The nazis, with their penchant for history and tradition, lifted the ban on student duels put into effect in 1928, but somehow the comeback has much the appearance of a fade-out.

It's considered much sweller in university circles today to flash a brown storm trooper's uniform than the savage-looking scar that used to make girls' hearts flutter on the walled promenade along the Nackar river.

The nazi ideas of 100 per cent patriotism are, in fact, coming to take almost 100 per cent of the student's time. Such hours as are not requisitioned for political mass meetings, collecting "Marxist" literature and making trouble for anti-nazi professors are being devoted to "wehrsport," or military training.

There's hardly time left for the strenuous training for 20 duels, required of a student to win his honors.

Aside from the time factor is the situation of the sponsors of dueling, the "corps" of fraternities.

Once towering mountains of social prestige, they have been humbled by the economic storm.

It's getting harder and harder to find pledges who can afford the frequent beer drinking bouts typical of German fraternity life, let alone live up to such rules as riding at least second-class on railways or suburban cars.

Pre-Nuptial Events Honor Miss Virginia Conley Who Marries Today

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE BEAN WILSON
Avalanche Woman's Editor

UP IN the offices of the Chamber of Comerce there are three silver loving cups, each presented to Lubbock for winning the clean up and paint up campaign in Texas. This year another cup is to be presented and there are those who are making an effort to line it up with the three that have already come to Lubbock.

The three cups came here in consecutive years because this town made the best campaign for cleanliness in Texas. This year we can hardly afford to do less than make another best campaign.

We don't have to be rich, you know, to have a clean place. In fact, some of the neatest and cleanest places here belong to people who have the least money. Also, some of the places with the prettiest flower gardens and grass plots belong to people who do not have a great deal else.

It is a considerable distinction for this city to be able to capture the prize for cleanliness from the rest of the towns in the state—particularly when we have a wind that is continually piling weeds and papers in corners and blowing trash out of cans and in to the neighbors front yard. So, we can be doubly proud of the distinction that we have won and look forward to capturing the cup for 1933.

One should not feel that he is handicapped in keeping the place clean because there is no money for a hired man. Most places can be kept with some hoeing and burning of trash.

There's the additional advantage, too, of chopping down the weeds: We have less hay fever when the cause is removed. So, whether or not you are particularly interested in the looks of things, you may want to clear out the weeds to make the sneezes less frequent.

Your place is being inspected this week and it will be inspected again. Boy Scouts have already made trips up and down the alleys of the town and have made reports on the conditions. Club women are being asked to report on the condition of front yards—all because this town wants to be rated first in cleanliness again in 1933.

TRUE LOVE STORIES

THERE are those who believe that this is a practical age and that all romance died with the end of the age of knights and ladies. There are those who preach that the young people of today are "cold blooded" and that there is no such thing as true love that inspires them to denounce the world for the ones they love.

Yet, in this unromantic age, there are princes, aplenty, it seems who are perfectly willing, even eager, to leave their thrones to some one else and all for the love of young women who have not the fortune to be princesses.

This may not be an age of romance, but the world isn't turning entirely to material things when young men still sacrifice so much in order to marry their sweethearts. There was Prince Lennart of Sweden who married and became just an ordinary citizen. There's the heir to the Spanish throne who is to marry a Cuban, Prince Wilhelm of Austria who chose as his bride a girl not of royal blood.

This may not be an age of romance, but fate must be pleased with the plots of her modern love stories.

THERE'S one advantage in being poor, you don't have to lie awake at night wondering when the kidnapers will get you.

DALLAS, June 6 (AP) —Ivan Pool, murder, five others were in custody and additional charges were pending today in connection with the slaying of Nick Raspasky, 57, hotel operator, May 2.

Pool, identified by five witnesses as the fictitious officer who lured Raspasky out of his room late at night, was held in solitary confinement, while authorities perfected written statements from others who had been detained.

Hired Killing

M. L. Miller, special investigator for the district attorney, and Tom Manion, deputy sheriff, who teamed together a week ago in investigation of the case, termed the slaying as a "hired killing" and asserted it had many spectacular angles. A chance remark made by a prisoner in the county jail and overheard by Manion started officers on a series of tips which led them, they believed, to a solution of the mystery.

Pool was arrested at a hotel Sunday night.

The Sox rapped Herb Pennock freely in the opener but he kept their eleven hits widely spaced and, with the aid of three double plays, allowed only two runners to reach third.

Babe Ruth's eleventh home run of the season, giving him the lead in both major leagues, was the big blow of the second game, which the Yanks won by rallies in the sixth and seventh innings.

Soft Ball League Enthusiasts Meet Tonight At Eight

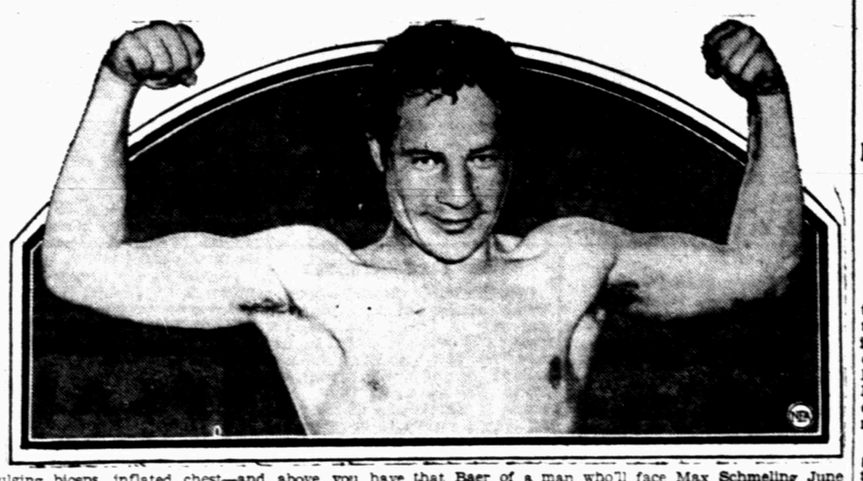

Organization of a Lubbock soft ball league may be completed tonight when prospective managers and other interested persons meet at the chamber of commerce offices in City Hall at 8 o'clock.

Agitation for such a league, in which business and professional men should have opportunity to play, was started last week. Almost immediately chamber of commerce officials and members of service and civic clubs became interested. The proposed league probably will be made up of eight teams, although there is the possibility that enough teams may be entered to justify the organization of two leagues.

A committee of local business men has been appointed by the chamber of commerce to draw up plans for the league and to report at tonight's meeting. A. B. Davis probably will preside until permanent officers are elected tonight.

Plans call for a schedule which will allow games to start late in the afternoons in order to permit business and professional men and office workers a chance to play.

CUBS BEAT PIRATES

CHICAGO, June 5 (AP)—A four run rally in the eighth inning, in which Koenig's pinch single tied the score and Hendrick's pinch double drove across the winning runs, gave the Cubs a 5-3 victory over Pittsburgh today.

The uprising was at the expense of Leon Chagnon, Pirate right hander, who went into the eighth with a 3 to 1 lead, due principally to Gus Suhr's home run with one on in the second.

Plays about celebrities have captured the London stage. Biographies and histories are being dug up to supply material for plots. A new Bronte play is so successful that eight others about the Brontes are on the way. A Richard II play is brilliantly successful. A Browning play drew nearly all London. Seven-Game Losing Streak Is Ended As Cats Support Davis And Win Series Opener; Tulsa Drops One

BEAUMONT, June 6. (AP) — A Beaumont rally in the ninth fell one run short of a tie and Fort Worth broke its seven game losing streak this afternoon by taking the first game of the series 4-3. Davis fanned seven and received better support than Fritz.

McHenry's hard single to left that got by Easterling in the eighth broke a 2-2 deadlock with Washington, who had singled, crossing the plate all the way from first. McHenry also counted when Susce tried to catch him off third and the throw struck the Cat outfielder on the shoulder and rolled into left field. The teams meet in a doubleheader Wednesday.

TULSA DROPS OPENER

SAN ANTONIO, June 6. (AP) — Larry Bettencourt's home run over the far left field wall, the second put over the left field fence this year, climaxed a 14 hit, 9 run attack by San Antonio here today and the Tulsa Oilers lost the opening game of the two day stand 9 to 4. Heavy hitting featured the game. Ed Baecht worked seven innings for Tulsa and Bivins finished. Hal Wiltse went the route for San Antonio, the visitors making the most of eight hits, four of which were doubles. Besides Bettencourt's home run the Missions clouted seven two baggers. Most of the noise came in the late frames as the score stood 3 to 2 in favor of San Antonio to start the seventh.

Fort Worth Star Wins First Match In Women's Southern

ALBANY, Ga., June 6 (AP)—Playing in her first major tournament, Mrs. Bee Cockrell of Gadsden, Ala., came within a short putt of dethroning the champion, Mrs. Ben Fitzhugh of Vicksburg, Miss., today in the opening match play round of the Southern Women's Golf tournament.

She forced the title holder to the 19th green before losing one down.

This was the nearest approach to an upset in the day's play as the double medalists, Miss Aniela Gorczyca of Fort Worth and Miss Margaret Maddox of Atlanta, together with other favorites, won easily.

The Universities of Georgia and Alabama will resume football relations in 1934, restoring a rivalry that went through 30 games, until it was suspended in 1930.

Odds Advance On German As Battle Nears

Feeling High And Tickets Go Fast As Thursday Evening Approaches; Both Fighters In Fine Physical Trim

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 6—Lacking the turbulent last minute arguments of the old days, but interest and feeling running almost as high as it did when Tex Rickard was at the helm, Jack Dempsey's battle of the Maxes worked out of the training camp stage today and into the metropolis.

Max Baer, the bronzed young giant from California, packed his training clothes and lolled about his camp at Atlantic City, his conditioning work completed, waiting only to pull out tomorrow for New York and the fifteen- round engagement with Max Schmeling in the Yankee Stadium Thursday night.

Maxie Lingers In Camp

Schmeling, the methdocal Teuton who held the heavyweight title almost two years and wants it back, took his final boxing drill at his country club camp on Lake Swannanoa, N. J. He will rest and wait through tomorrow, staying in camp until time to drive in Thursday for the weighing in ceremonies.

As the training drives came to an end fhere wasn't a sign of a scratch or imperfection on either gladiator. Baer, burned a deep brown by the New Jersey sun, weighed in around 210 pounds after his last workout and intends to "dry out" another pound or so. He will boast a weight advantage of about 20 pounds over Schmeling, in addition to inches in height and reach. The belting Teuton will scale about 190 pounds.

While a few of the experts, coming in the past few days from as far away as California and Texas, watched Schmeling work for the last time, the remainder joined the throngs about the slightly bewildered Dempsey, talked and argued fight.

Odds Are Longer

The odds in favor of the splendidly conditioned Schmeling lengthened with the arguments. His crowding offensive, bolstered with a sharp, cutting left jab and a right cross that has knocked out Johnny Risko, Mickey Walker and Young Stribling, seemed the perfect battle style against a big, wide open target of the Baer type. Today Schmeling was mentioned at 2 1-2 to 1, with the possibility he will enter the ring at 3, or even 4 to 1.

Baer's strength, it was conceded, lies in his apparent imperviousness to punishment, his reckless courage, and the body belting power in the long arms that hang from the widest shoulders of any heavyweight in the ring today. Western critics who have seen him in recent fights insist he has improved greatly in training here.

Ticket sales went along merrily again today as a warm sun and bright skies encouraged the belief in favorable weather reports for Thursday. Dempsey believes the attendance will be well over 60,000 with gate receipts edging close to the $300,000 mark.

The problem of converting the stadium from a ball park into a fight arena started the moment the Yankees' double header with the Red Sox ended this afternoon. A corps of workmen, with Dempsey in personal charge, were engaged for all night duty.

Physical Education Class For Men To Start At Tech Monday

A physical education class for Lubbock men is to get under way next week at the Texas Tech gymnasium. Bill Stubbs, Texas Tech athlete from Corpus Christi and for the last two years instructor of a class of tumblers and acrobats at the college, will have charge of the class.

While the course primarily is designed for the benefit of under-exercised business men and office workers, and the class limited to twelve or fifteen men, Stubbs said yesterday that if more than that number or if men in other lines of business desired to take the course, two classes would be organized.

The first class will be held Monday night of next week at the Tech gymnasium. Stubbs requests all interested persons to meet with him at 8 o'clock.

Calisthenics, basketball, boxing and wrestling, tumbling and acrobatics will be offered.

Stubbs, who has completed extensive courses in the work, directed the Tech tumbling team which performed at basketball games for the last two seasons.

Locker-Room Gossip Suggests Dark Horse Will Beat Sarazen

Broiling Sun May Get Goat Of Veterans; "If The Wind Comes Up From The Lake, Anything Can Happen"

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

GLENVIEW, Ill., June 6 — Gene Sarazen may be the man to beat in this year's National Open golf championship, starting Thursday over the 6927 yard layout of the North Shore golf club, but the boiling temperatures today on the course as well as in the locker rooms developed a consensus that a "dark horse" will gallop out from the pack to win the tournament.

It may be no more than a "hunch" but America's best money golfers, after inspecting this battle field, have become convinced anything can and probably will happen during the 72-hole test which will pay big dividends to the long, accurate hitters.

"Not only is this the kind of a course that is liable to sandbag anybody on short notice," said one of the veterans this afternoon, "but it's the kind of a field that seems bound to produce a real scramble for the championship. Sarazen is on top now but he will have a tough time staying there. It's not like the days when every pro who teed off was wondering what Bobby Jones would do.

"I wouldn't be surprised to see a half dozen well bunched in the stretch this Saturday. Maybe you will find veterans like Walter Hagen, Bobby Cruickshank or MacDonald Smith battling younger stars like Paul Runyan, Craig Wood and Johnny Revolta, or maybe you will find fellows who have never been around the top before. If the wind comes up from the lake, anything can happen."

Three of the hottest features of today's activity were the 90-degree weather, Ky Laffoon, sharpshooting pro from Denver, who followed up a previous day's 70 by negotiating 18 holes today in 35-36—71, one under par, and Johnny Goodman, the Omaha amateur who duplicated Laffoon's score by a brilliant finish.

Moore Presents His Side Of Gas Controversy Here

Legal Action Hinted If Completion Of System Blocked

City officials first proposed that the city of Lubbock construct or acquire a municipal gas distribution plant, John W. Moore, owner of the Moore Construction company, charged yesterday. The Moore company holds a franchise for a gas system in Lubbock.

Mr. Moore's statement came as the result of action on the part of the City commission Saturday in extending his original franchise until August 1, 1933.

Legal Action Hinted

Hint of possible legal action against the city should negotiations for completion of the gas system be halted by a reduction in rates by the West Texas Gas company came from W. D. Girand, ar., Mr. Moore's attorney.

"If they (the City Commission) think they're going to use him as a cat's paw to get lower rates from the West Texas Gas company, they're going to have to pay him for his time and trouble," Mr. Girand declared.

"The City of Lubbock, on December 9, 1932, granted me a franchise to build and maintain and operate a gas system in the City of Lubbock," Mr. Moore said in the office of his attorney. "This was necessary in order to get capital to finance the building of a pipe line from the gas field to Lubbock. Later on, at the special request of Mr. W. H. Rodgers, Lubbock city manager, who approached me and said that the proposition looked good and that the city was in a better position to own and operate the distribution plant than an individual, and asked why not let the city take over my distribution system and me deliver gas to the City of Lubbock at the gate.

"Came From City"

"This proposition came from Mr. Rodgers as the city manager of Lubbock to me and did not come from me to the city manager as stated in the article in Sunday's Avalanche-Journal", Mr. Moore continued. "When this proposition was made to me, I realized that it was the best for me to let the city operate the plant, for it is rather a dangerous business for a man to come into a city with a competing gas line unless the city is cooperating with him. I expressed my willingness to turn the distribution system over to the city and requested Mr. Rodgers to give me some assurance that the city would take over the distribution system and would purchase gas from me, so that I could show the money market I was in a position to dispose of the commodity if I built the line. This was necessary in order to finance the project."

Letter Exhibited

Mr. Moore exhibited a letter from City Manager Rodgers which stated the city was "ready and willing to enter into a contract to buy gas at the city gate for sale to its consumers and is financially able to acquire distribution within the city, details to be worked out later."

"If and when you present a plan to furnish gas at an acceptable rate, we are ready, able and willing to enter into a contract on such terms as will insure us agreement will and can be carried out," the letter said.

"Relying upon the written promise of the city through its city manager to accept gas at the city gate, I immediately abandoned all thoughts of installing a distribution system," Mr. Moore said, "but my efforts were directed towards the financing of a pipe line to bring natural gas to the gates of the City of Lubbock. And as a result of much time and a very large expense, I did eventually succeed in raising the money, procuring the gas with the necessary leases, right of way and all that was essential and necessary to bring as here and then submitted the proposal which was published Sunday."

Failed To Call Him

Mr. Moore criticized the city commission for calling in a group of citizens to confer on the proposal without giving him a chance to appear in the meeting also. He charged this action was in direct opposition to cooperation pledged him in the project.

In answer to objections lodged against his proposal by city officials, Mr. Moore declared his proposal covers fully povisions which officials pointed out it did not provide.

"The proposal shows that I have a lease on 8,300 acres in a proven field with producing gas wells at this time," he said. "It further shows that I offered to enter into a bond that I would produce the gas to the gates of the city within 120 days after a contract was signed and it further shows that I offered to convey to the city in trust my lease on the 8,300 acres and to give to the city a mortgage on a pipe line more than one hundred miles in length as security to the carrying out of my part of the contract."

Given In Proposal

In answer to the city's objection on assurance of continued maintenance of the pipe line by friendly hands, Mr. Moore said, "The assurance was given in my proposal that I offered and gave to the city an option of purchasing my leasehold interest and pipe line at any time I offered it for sale. Furthermore, I offered and obligated myself not to sell my leasehold interest or pipe line without first giving the city the refusal thereof."

In regard to a rate objection, Mr. Moore said no agreement had been made on the minimum rate and no agreement was tried to be reached. He said no counter proposals were submitted to him or his attorney and they were not asked if a reduction could be made or if any agreement could be reached. He said a statement by city officials that the minimum rate would be raised from eight cents to 19 cents after the first five years was "misleading" and that the eight-cent rate was for users of 10,000,000 cubic feet a month only. The minimum rate for the city for the first five years would be 25 cents, he said. He said the eight-cent rate was only put in the contract to cover the future in event some large manufacturing plant should come to Lubbock.

Gas of High Quality

With reference to the charge that no provision as to heat units or quality of gas offered would obligate city to take untreated gas, Mr. Moore said, "This same question was raised in the City commission meeting and we informed the council that the heat units in the gas I proposed to serve to the city was 1120 heat units to the 1,000 cubic feet, as against 920 heat units in the gas now being furnished the city of Lubbock. I further stated in the open meeting to the commission that all this gas was of high quality and would be treated and refined before it was turned into the gates of the city and this and all other matters complained of could have been easily taken care of in a contract between the city and myself had the city seen fit to avail itself of the opportunity of getting cheaper gas for the citizenship of Lubbock."

Mr. Moore declared there was no action on the part of the city to seek a reduction in the minimum amount of gas used per month and that the only reason he set a high minimum was to protect himself in some way. "No complaint was made of this offer to me," he said, "neither was I consulted nor asked to reduce it and nothing has been said to me whether I would take a smaller minimum or not. The city was requiring bonds and every other condition that could be imposed on anyone and to bring in a gas line here and get the gas rate reduced by the present or some other company and then refuse to take my gas would have been ruinous to me and on these conditions I would never have been able to finance the project."

Can Build System—Claim

Mr. Moore contended the city is in a position to build its own distribution system regardless of the "prohibitive price placed on the present plant by the West Texas Gas company" and said he had 4,000 cards signed by Lubbock citizens agreeing to take his gas which he offered to turn over to the city.

The contractor said there was no condition in the commitment from the Chicago financial house that says they would not furnish the money for the pipe line unless the city acquired the present system and that no complaint was made of that and no opportunity given him to get a new commitment from the financial backers of the pipe line but that this objection was used "as a subterfuge and a smoke screen to hide the true reason why they would not accept the gas as tendered to them."

Mr. Moore said he had entered this project "in good faith and have spent a great deal of money and much time in order to finance a pipe line and cheaper gas to the citizens of Lubbock and have succeeded and am now in a position and was at the time of the proposal to the City of Lubbock to furnish gas at the gates of the city . . . and am ready, able and willing to enter into a contract to furnish gas on a basis that will reap a fair rate on the investment to me, which in no event would be larger than the sale as set out to the city, but the city did not see fit to ask a reduction of rates or a revision of the scale or invite me to their meetings, which were held behind closed doors and have in all instances worked against my interest rather than to cooperate with me."

Plans Gas Refinery

Mr. Moore said he planned to constructing a gasoline cracking plant at Seagraves in event the pipe line was built. He said the gas to be brought here contained five quarts of gasoline to the 1,000 cubic feet and was ample enough for gasoline extraction.

He also announced the Texas Pacific Coal and Oil company had made tentative plans for construction of an oil refinery in Lubbock and that he had secured right of way for the pipe line along with his gas line rights.

LOW PRICE CARS VS. CHEAP CARS

We do not build a low-price car: the cost to us of building our car is pretty high.

But we do sell a high quality car at a low price.

Almost every new Ford V-8 car we have built so far this year, has cost more to manufacture than its selling price was. As you buy them at only $490 to $610, we have to depend on increasing volume to make up the difference.

The reason for this is simple: — a manufacturer who gives good value must expect to lose money on the first cars he sells because he cannot charge all his costs to the people who are first to buy.

But with the purchaser it is different — he cannot afford to lose anything on a car. It must give him full value from the first, and keep on giving him full value for years.

Two things make possible our combination of low prices and high cost quality:

1. Volume Production
2. Taking only one profit

First, we set our price at what would be fair to the public on the basis of economies we enjoy in volume production. Then, in order to justify and maintain our low price we must get volume sales.

Thus it comes that a car which is really high-cost to make, is also low-cost to buy.

There is a difference between a cheap car and a low-priced high quality car.

Ford prices are always fixed at a point which makes it profitable for a customer to buy.

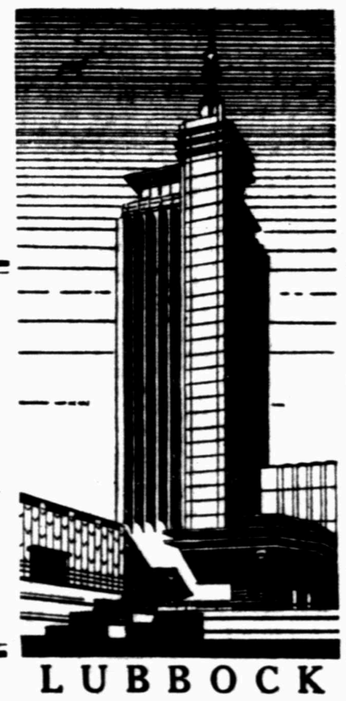

Good and lasting business must produce profit to the buyer as well as to the seller. And of the two, the buyer's profit must be, comparatively, the larger one.

It pays us to sell the Ford V-8 because it pays you to buy it.

Carter "Steals The Show"

TEXANS who recognize the intensity of the long-standing Dallas-Ft. Worth rivalry—and what Texan doesn't?—will wonder what Dallas civic and political leaders thought when Amon Carter, the Cowtown publisher, "stole the show" as Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt stopped in Dallas for breakfast.

Dr. Carter made no bones about it.

He boarded Mrs. Roosevelt's plane at Ft. Worth and took charge of arrangements. He entertained her and some friends for breakfast at Dallas and took only a brief time to introduce the First Lady to the Governors Ferguson before leaving them on the outside of the breakfast party, thus evening up an old score.

To those of us who are interested in the Ft. Worth-Dallas rivalry only as an always amusing spectacle, the success of the former Texas Tech regent in shunting Dallas to one side produces a chuckle.

The incident also served to prove the contention heard on many sides since last November, namely that Amon Carter is closer to the Roosevelt administration than anybody in the Lone Star state.

TECH MOVES FORWARD

Gradual reorganization of Texas Technological college is driving steadily along and changes voted by directors in their Monday meeting are in line with stressing the technical side of the institution.

That the field of the college should be continually broadened no one will deny and that the scope of its service should be extended is the wish of officials and patrons, alike.

There is a great future for Texas Tech and the type of intelligent planning it is receiving from the directors will stand it in good stead.

No institution can prosper to the fullest extent without the generous, thoughtful direction such as Tech has always received from its executives and board members.

The state and the college are both fortunate in this regard.

BABY BONDS

When the government undertook the herculean task of financing the World war the public wondered where the needed billions could be found. By issuing Liberty bonds in denominations as low as $50 the government found all the money it wanted in the pockets of millions who had never owned a bond or share of stock before.

So the administration's public works program, involving the raising of $3,300,000,000, evokes no doubts as to the government's ability to raise the money.

While money is scarce today the proposed baby bonds of $20 denomination will find their way into millions of hands and countless hands. During the war days living costs were higher than wages and salaries yet most homes found the money for at least one bond of each loan.

Baby bonds made reconstruction possible in France after the war: they will make reconstruction possible in America today.

Were the government to issue public works bonds in denominations of $100 and higher, it would deprive of the opportunity to buy many who ask nothing more than a chance to help their country out of a danger closer than the threat of 1917. These will consider it a privilege to participate even at some personal sacrifice in the financing of a reconstruction program which promises to lift their conutry and themselves out of hard times.

A wise man is one who stops in his kitchen for a sandwich before going to a church supper.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

THE President is having plenty of trouble inside on this war debt business. Leaks and hidden opposition are thwarting his best laid plans. He feels somewhat miffed about it.

The thing started when a certain European debtor sounded us out not so long ago on a new idea. It called for partial payment of the June 15 debt installment. Each debtor would pay what he could without taxing the Treasury and we would not call it default.

It was a very ticklish business. The utmost secrecy was preserved. That is, it was until Mr. Roosevelt called in his advisers and asked what they thought.

Next day two New York newspapers published a version of it all over Page One.

The cat could not have been let out of the bag at a worse time. The radio sputtered fast, taking the news to Paris. There the French government was trying to cajole the Chamber of Deputies into paying us the installment due last December 15. Deputies were on the verge of making the appropriation when the news from New York upset the applecart. The deal was called off.

The White House here issued a prompt denial but a denial never catches up with a fact. It was too late. The deed was done.

If the administration can get Congress out of town before June 15 this debt business may be settled yet.

You may see Italy come forward with what they call a modus vivendi. That means a way of making the payment without making it. It would be some variation of the partial payment plan. Arrangements for something like that have been going on some time, but they will not be sprung unless Congress quits. The wolves on the hill would howl too much. Already they have an inkling of what is going on and are determined to break it up.

That factor will probably keep things up in the air until the last minute.

LEAGUE: Nobody lifted an eyebrow when we sent delegates last week to the International Labor Council of the League of Nations.

The reason was that the news was broken so gently. A newspaperman heard about it 24 hours before the delegates were to sail. He was told by an official source that the information must not be released until 11 a. m. the following day. The delegates sailed an hour before that time. Obviously some administration sources thought an effort might be made to stop the delegation. They knew opposition protests would be useless after the delegates had gone.

This incident adds another important link in the chain of evidence that we are working closer and closer with the League every day.

BREAKS: Probably the worst break of the administration so far was Lady Perkins's statement: "The South is an untapped market for shoes . . . When we have put shoes on the South, the special revolution will have begun."

The second worst was the Labor Department intimation that a forestry camp would be started for girls.

Both ideas have been modified considerably.

Miss Perkins is fully informed now that southerners wear shoes, also clothes when they have the money. Thousands of letters have poured in from the Southland carrying the news.

Also it has lately been discovered that tree planting is probably a man's job.

However women will continue to do plenty of talking, as usual.

NOTES: A railroad cannot demote an engineer to fireman for economy's sake under the Railroad Bill unless it continues to pay an engineer's salary . . . Just as a matter of history Senator Glass never carried out that threat against Huey Long to name the state in which he thought banking was rotten . . . Senator Connolly of Texas has inherited the Long-Overton investigation since Senator Bratton has retired . . . If Connolly is permitted to follow his personal inclinations somthing may be done . . . Congressmen have received more mail opposing the new income tax proposals than on any subject this session except Veterans reductions.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

DON'T be surprised if you wake up some day soon and find that tax-exempt securities have been abolished.

It's in the wind. Some of the administration's advisors figure it as the only answer to the tax-evasion problem. The first plan was to try it out on the new government issue of June 15th. But if it were applied only to new government securities it would handicap them as against the older issues.

Political pressure against the step is very strong and there is a big question whether it can be swung against that opposition. Secret trial balloons will be sent up in important political and financial quarters in the next few weeks. If the odds against it are too heavy it will never be brought to light. But if success is indicated it is likely to be jammed through in a hurry.

DEVALUATON: The British have thought up a nifty on devaluation. The idea would be to cut the gold content of the dollar by 20 per cent and that of the pound by about 40 per cent. That would assure the pound a permanent trade advantage. They have tried to enlist support for the plan in local financial circles but are not getting anywhere.

Our London delegation is not likely to have any green in its eye either.

DEBTS: The British government and administration friends here rate the war debt question privately above all others. It must be settled behind the scenes if at all. Government circles abroad are unanimous in feeling that the success or failure of the Conference hinges on this.

British financiers have pointed out to New York associates that the entire saving on conversion went to pay the December installment of the American debt. They sadly add that even cancellation would not reduce their tax burden. Only trade revival can do that. That is why Britain, though she wants to lessen her financial obligations to us, is even more anxious to make trade deals that will bolster her foreign revenue.

SPECULATORS: Mr. Roosevelt is expected shortly to issue a warning against speculation. But word has been quietly passed to insiders that they can go ahead without interference so long as they stay on the right side of the fence and don't overdo it. The bull market has been a big help to commodity buying and to banks and no one wants seriously to discourage it.

SIDELIGHTS: Brokers are no longer broke . . . They made enough in the last two months to carry them the rest of the year . . . The stock market gained in May for the first time in five years . . . The value of all shares traded on the big board has risen 11 billion dollars since March . . . You can get a bet in high quarters that sterling will go to $4.25 in a few weeks, stabilization fund or no.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE QUEEN OF 321 HUSBANDS

Taitou, "the light of Ethiopia", embarked on her extraordinary marital career in 1863 when she was only 12 years old, by marrying her employer, a bare foot regimental water carrier. Early adopting the motto of promotion through marriage, she tripped to the altar, with ever-increasing frequency, rising in social importance with each succeeding venture. In the one year (1882) preceding her meeting with the Emperor, she married in quick succession 2 generals, a governor and the Emperor's brother-in-law. After having passed in marriage almost every rank in the civil and military hierarchy of her country, she finally crowned her life's work by marrying her sovereign, the Emperor Menelik, who was her 321st husband, and with whom she was subsequently associated in power for 20 years.

Her formula for success was to marry "a little chief, then a bigger one and one still bigger." She yielded great power in the affairs of the country and was deposed in 1910 by the Shoan Rases (council of chieftains).

Letters To The Editor From The People

County Commissioner, Like Roosevelt's Aide, Believes In Public Report To The Tax Payers

Editor the Avalanche: "Why write?" Those were the opening words of Prof. Moley, assistant secretary of state, and the President's most intimate advisor. His answer and boldness encourages me to keep my promise to be open and frank with the people concerning my official thinking and doing, believing that impartial publicity is the people's safeguard in government.

We are again at a taxation crisis. We have better hopes for prosperity but those hopes are based on the propects of better economy, principally lower taxes. Let us boost those hopes by action.

I said last year our county valuations were 25 per cent too high. The people with much agitation and pleading got a cut of 10 per cent. This year we have cut almost 25 per cent in salaries but the valuations are still too high in many cases.

The argument that the officer's salary should be held up because his responsibility and his work is as great as ever is all wrong. The masses who pay the salaries have as much work and responsibility as ever but their incomes are almost wiped out and the officer who thinks he should not suffer with his people is untrue to them.

I think the only basis for valuing property for taxation is its present market value or its net income earning power. The idea that property can have a real value, taxable when it is a liability, and cannot be sold for any value is foolish. If a court ever said so I am sure they would reform their opinions now.

There is an idea among non-property owners to the effect that property should be taxed high enough to make the owners get rid of it so the non-owners could get possession of some of it. But if property carried that much burden nobody would want to own it. Then it would revert to the state to be worked by tenants without the pride that ownership stimulates.

If we have proper development we must have individual ownership of property and we should not tax it to where it is unattractive to would-be owners.

Many owners have rendered their property at a lower value than it stood at last year and that is justly so. But all so rendering are notified to appear before the equalization board to show cause why their property should not go back to the value it stood at last year.

The law gives the people the right and urges them to go into conference with their tax setting officials, not only in setting values but also in setting budgets and rates. I, for one of the officials, write and urge the tax payers to meet with us, singly or in groups, to confer on these matters on which the members of the court themselves disagree, which shows there is room for honest disagreements. Where there are disagreements there are hopes for conciliation by honest conferences of all concerned. We are not acquainted with the conditions of each one's individual property.

Prior to June 5 I should be glad to confer personally with all in my precinct that have received rendition notices that I may have better knowledge of each one's case.

W. P. Florence,
Commissioner, Precinct No. 2.
Slaton.

They might satisfy the majority the members of the house," Fish lied. He added, however:

If we are given a chance to vote a 15 per cent limit, this house approve it 2 to 1 and will pass over President Roosevelt's head he vetoes it."

The house, with nothing to do ex- t talk, got into such a wrangle er the veterans legislation that defeated two moves of Majority ader Byrns to adjourn. On a bsequent vote however, the day's sion was ended.

At the White House it was esti- ated the presidential change uld reduce the saving that had en expected from veterans ex- nditures from an original $460,- 0,000 to about $400,000,000.

Pecora said later he thought the committee's existing authority was ample, but agreed that while any doubt existed, more power should be asked of the senate. Meanwhile he turned to questioning O. P. Van Sweringen and found the going slow.

The railroad operator held fre- quent whispered conferences with his aides and Pecora, not satisfied with his answers, once appealed to Sena- tor Barkley (D-Ky), the acting chairman, for assistance in getting a reply to questions about Erie rail- road stock aequisitions.

Barkley propounded the questions himself for a while then and received the same answers Pecora had. As on the opening day, the investigator sought to show the Van Sweringen rail interests were acquired with bor- rowed money.

Show Little Interest

Morgan and his partners looked on with an air betokening little in- terest, but were alert when Chair- man Fletcher read the resolution his committee had adopted, Morgan leaning far over to catch the words and later conferring with Davis.

On the senate floor Secretary Woodin was once again assailed for the presence of his name on a list of preferred Morgan clients in 1929.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, June 6 (AP)—Cotton was rather erratic in fairly active trading today but the trend was mostly lower and the close was at net declines of 13 to 14 points.

The market opened easier although Liverpool after the holidays was about as due.

Later the market rallied in sympathy with higher stocks and on reports forecasting favorable Washington developments on acreage-lessing plans. July rallied to 9.30, October to 9.48 and December to 9.64, up 15 to 20 points from the earlier lows and 3 to 7 points above yesterday's close.

The market ruled erratic in the early afternoon, but became much easier later owing to selling on fears of a favorable weekly weather and crop report by the government tomorrow. Prices dropped to 8.95 for July 9.18 for October and 9.33 for December or 28 to 31 points down from the highs of the morning. There was a rally of 9 to 11 points at the end on covering and July closed at 9.04, down 13 points net, October at 9.28, down 14 points and December at 9.44 down 13 points.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 3 to 4 penny points down.

Port receipts 22,416, for week 30,768, for season 6,367,741, last season 6,853,408. Exports 12,710, for week 61,044, for season 7,193,726, last season 7,92,801. Port stock 3,822,123, last year 3,778,224. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 119,028, last year 72,469. Spot sales at southern markets 10,048, last year 1,746.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 6 (AP)—Fluctuations were rather nervous and irregular in cotton today, with rallies from an early decline followed by renewed weakness under liquidation promoted by the afternoon heaviness of the stock market.

October contracts broke to 9.21, but recovered part of the loss closing at 9.32. The general market closed steady at net declines of 12 to 16 points.

The opening was 7 to 12 points lower on profit-taking attracted by yesterday's advance.

July sold from 9.08 to 9.29 and December from 9.48 to 9.68 making net advances of 4 to 6 points on active positions, with the buying attributed partly to rumors of improving prospects for acreage reduction.

Prices turned downward later July selling off to 8.98 and December to 9.37, or 23 to 27 points net lower, but closing quotations showed rallies of about 10 to 12 points from the lowest on covering.

Grains

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, June 6 (AP)—Excellent demand for wheat was reported today on the Fort Worth cash grain market. Other offerings were only fairly well taken. Estimated receipts included: wheat 27 cars; corn 6; oats 2; barley 2 and sorghums 4. Prices ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid to destination, delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat No. 1 hard 80 1-2@82 1-2. Barley No. 2 nominally 38@39; No. 3 nominally 37@38. Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 1.00@1.02; No. 3 milo 96@99. No. 2 kaffir per 100 pounds $2@94; No. 3 kaffir 90@92.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn No. 2 mixed 58@59; No. 3 white 60 1-2@61 1-2; No. 2 yellow 58@59 No. 3 white 60 1-2@61 1-2; No. 2 yellow 58 1-2@ 59 1-2.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats, No. 2 red 32@ 33 1-2; No. 3 red 31@31 1-2.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 6 (AP)—Responding to forecasts of cooler weather, wheat prices underwent something of a setback late today.

The downturn of values came after values earlier had averaged higher, influenced by the fact that this was the fourth successive day of scorching temperatures southwest and west, with the mercury in some cases breaking the top record. Crop experts expressed belief that shriveled and lightweight wheat would constitute a large part of the 1933 harvest.

Wheat closed nervous, 1-8@3-8 under yesterday's finish, corn 1-2@7-8 down, oats 1-4@3-8 advanced, and provisions showing 5 to 10 cents decline. Improved conditions for corn planting tended to pull corn prices down. Oats were relatively firm owing to crop damage reports from parts of Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas.

Provisions lacked support notwithstanding upturns of hog values.

Closing indemnities: Wheat July 71 3-4 @7-8, 74@74 1-8; Sept. 73 3-4@7-8, 75 3-4 @7-8; Dec. 76 1-8, 78@78 1-4. Corn — July 43, 44@-8; Sept. 45 7-8@46, 47 5-8; Dec. 48 7-8, 50 1-8@1-4.

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, June 6 (AP)—Financial trading continued brisk today, especially on the stock exchange where shares stumbled into selling after an early advance and then firmed again. Speculative bonds had a good run-up. Wheat, interested in weather news, had small declines on the day, and cotton sagged.

Stocks were mostly higher until noon when Santa Fe's directors announced the preferred dividend cut. This chilled all rail issues and advances in other directions were checked. However, late buyers effected a reduction of most losses and the average net change by the 90-stock composite was a trifling loss. Volume totaled 6,205,969 shares.

Steels were steady to firm; so were utilities whose average edged into new high ground. A few recent fast movers in the industrial category backed water, but there was a liberal assortment of gains for specialties. Carriers remained rather heavy.

U. S. Steel reached a new high for the year at 54 3-4 but closed unchanged. General Motors, Chrysler and Nash kept the motor group prominent.

Mother Nature

Texas, while Montana and New Mexico were surprised by tornadic winds. More than 150 dead and unestimated property damage were left behind.

Greeted By Frost

Bellingham, Wash., snickered as "straw hat day" June 1) was greeted by Old Nature with a severe frost. The Pacific coast generally felt much the same. May in Portland, Ore., was the coolest in 25 years. Southern California, traditional summerland, while shaking off a drenching which at Santa Monica was the heaviest in fifty years, could find hardly any signs of summer.

Across the continent, conditions were reversed. Jacksonville, Fla., announced the hottest May for the northern part of the state, with a mean average of 78.6 degrees, in the weather bureau's 62 year records. North Carolina had the warmest May since 1896. The average of 78.6 degrees for the month at Montgomery, Ala., was the highest the weather bureau knew anything about.

Tentative order for a number of cattle cars for loading of cattle at Brownfield has been given the Santa Fe by the Babicora Development company for late this week. The concern has been shipping 14 and 15 cars a week from its pens north of Brownfield. Last week the shipment was to San Francisco. W. R. Hearst, owner of the concern, is reported planning continuation of the feeding experiments on a permanent basis. A total of 5,750 head was fed, starting the first of December last year.

Cotton is coming up for a good stand and the acreage is larger than last year. Scurry county in 1932 ginned over 50,000 bales, largest in the county's history.

Improved agricultural prospects around Slaton, with indications of a fair cotton price, may mean additional dividends for depositors of the closed Slaton State bank and the First State bank, W. R. Chancellor, receiver, said while here yesterday. No dividend is in sight at this time, the receiver explained, but he hopes that conditions this fall will insure liquidation of the bank loans so that depositors will receive a payment.

Battle-Scarred Rooster And Perky Bantam Fare Forth For Excitement

A BATTLE-SCARRED white rooster and a perky bantam cockrel fared forth to town last night, and the spectators tittered as their mobile perch moved by.

C. G. Farr, 1631 Main street, wondered what the fun was about; and the fowls atop his coupe seemed bewildered in strange surroundings in front of a cafe in the 1100-block of Avenue J.

The chickens, their wings fluttering and their feet clutching the car top, had ridden from Lubbock Poultry & Egg company plant.

Arrived in town, the roosters settled down side by side. The larger one, after a sleepy glance at the moon, tucked his head under a wing. The bantam stared in wide-eyed amazement.

Farr, eating in the cafe, grinned broadly. The chickens had gone to roost on his car; he learned they were there when he found why the passersby were laughing.

essary. She asked the senate to say how the vote stood for and against confirmation, but it refused to divulge that information with an explanation only the result of an executive session could be revealed.

Come Before Senate

Wood's name will come before the senate for confirmation when it meets again. Unless the governor should convene an extraordinary session of the legislature it will not meet again until January, 1935, the end of Mrs. Ferguson's present term. The governor has indicated, however, that she will bring the legislature back this fall.

Wood was brought up on a farm in Georgia. He came to Texas in 1902. He covered Texas as a traveling salesman for about five years. Since 1913 he had resided in Shelby county. He has been a close personal and political friend of the Fergusons since 1914, when Mr. Ferguson first ran for governor.

Cotton Acreage

able effect on current market prices of cotton. It was reported that the plan which is now the center of consideration contemplates two main elements:

First, payment of a sum to growers for each acre of cotton retired to reimburse them for the cost of seeds, fertilizer, and other outlays on the crop now in the ground. The payment might be a flat average rate based on average costs throughout the cotton belt and not on the basis of past yields. A payment of $8 an acre has been suggested by some of the administrators but a final decision on this point has not been reached.

Second, offering of options to farmers under the Smith pool plan. About 2,500,000 bales of cotton on which the government has made loans is to be available for this purpose. Secretary Wallace is now seeking to acquire title to this cotton from the farm credit administration which inherited control of it from the farm board and other government credit agencies.

Proposed Sale Of Property At Plainview Set July 5

PLAINVIEW, June 6 (Special)—Sale of the Harvest Queen Mills properties here is scheduled for July 5 at Plainview, under an order issued in federal court at Amarillo by Judge James C. Wilson.

The mill and elevator, owned by the Harvest Queen Mill and Elevator company, has been in litigation for some time, as an outgrowth of the closing September 12, 1931 of the Plainview National bank. H. G. Hinn was president when the receivership came.

Judge Wilson stated from the bench at Amarillo, in announcing the sale, that it did not necessarily mean that the sale would actually be held. It is the purpose of the court to ascertain what the properties would bring, he explained.

World Flier

he left early Saturday—to Norway, to Moscow, and then to this city on the Siberian steppes. Mattern decided to halt here for a few hours of sleep and recuperation.

Averages 120 M. P. H.

The flight from Moscow to Omsk was made at an average speed of nearly 120 miles an hour. The American reported encountering bad head winds almost all the way. Except for the broken strut, however, the man and machine were both functioning in fine style.

Weather bureau reports indicated that the solo flier will meet much better conditions east of Omsk than he found to the west of this city. Very slight headwinds, clear skies and good visibility are promised for the next stage.

On arriving Mattern first gave attention to his plane, making sure that it was thoroughly inspected and being tuned up, then went off to bed announcing that he would resume his flight early tomorrow.

Tries For Chita

Mattern will try to make Chita, 1,700 miles away almost due east, for his next halt. But if he meets unfavorable weather conditions he said he will land at Krasnoyarsk, approximately half way to Chita.

The Soviet aviation authorities at Omsk were "awfully good to me," the American flier said. He was given food abundance and was put to bed at the airport when he had satisfied his hunger. At the same time attendants were reloading his ship with fuel.

AN Announcement
Of Importance
To Every Lady In Lubbock

By Mrs. Ida C. Handley, Owner-Manager of the
CO-ED BEAUTY SHOPPE

Mrs. Handley states that although she has been owner of the Co-Ed Beauty Shoppe for approximately one half of a month, that has been ample enough time for her to see that there is a class of trade in Lubbock that really can distinguish between and appreciate REALLY GOOD BEAUTY WORK. She realized that to make a success of business she would have to cater to that particular class.

TO GIVE THE CLASS OF WORK THEY WANTED IT WAS NECESSARY FOR MRS. HANDLEY TO MAKE AN ALMOST COMPLETE CHANGE OF PERSONNEL . . . getting older, more experienced beauticians, than the ones formerly employed, as she realizes that the average young girl isn't qualified to really do the class of work that she wants the "CO-ED" to be known for.

BELOW IS A LIST OF THE PERSONNEL NOW EMPLOYED BY MRS. HANDLEY —

Beatrice Harvey
Who is well known for finger waving, permanent waving, marcelling, etc.

Beulah Nettles
Specialist in Permanent Waves, Finger waving, hair-dyeing, scalp-treatments, etc.

Hazel Fields
formerly of Anne's Beauty Shoppe, Plainview. Especially apt in eyelash dyeing, manicuring, facials, etc.

Mrs. Handley appeals to every lady in Lubbock, to give the Co-Ed just one trial, as she KNOWS NOW that she can please them, in

TARZAN OF THE APES No. 3

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Black Michael was even quicker than the brute who had attacked Lord and Lady Greystoke with an axe, and the sailor went down with a bullet in his back. "I'm captain of this ship now, an' what I says goes," said the mutineers' leader, looking threateningly on his fellows. "These here are my friends. Don't touch 'em."

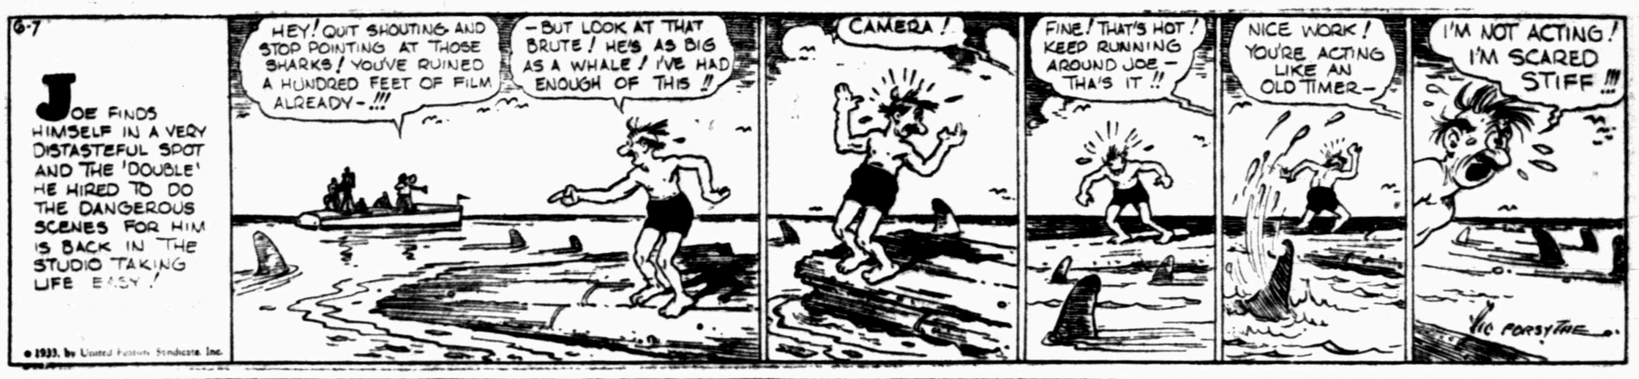

Following the murder of the officers, land was sighted, and they learned they were to be put ashore with their belongings. Remonstrance against the inhumanity of landing them upon an unknown shore, to be left to the mercies of the savage beasts, and possibly still more savage men, was absolutely useless.

Before dark, the barkentine lay peacefully at anchor in a land-locked harbor. The surrounding shores were beautiful with semi-tropical verdue, while in the distance the country rolled from the ocean in hill and table-land, almost uniformly clothed in primeval forest. No signs of habitation were to be seen.

No pleas, threats, or promises of reward could move Black Michael. 'I'm the only man on board who would not rather see you both dead: but you saved my life once, and in return I'm going to spare yours. We put you ashore tomorrow." The deep roar of a lion came from the dark shadows of the distant jungle!

As darkness settled upon the earth, the woman shrank closer to the man in terror-stricken anticipation of the horrors lying in wait for them in the awful blackness of the nights to come, when they two should be alone upon that wild and lonely shore. What treachery awaited them in that dark, mysterious tropical forest?
