

The Weather

WEST TEXAS: Fair and warmer in the Panhandle tonight. Saturday fair and warmer except in the south-west portion.

THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM

THE DAILY REPORTER (Consolidated March 10, 1929) THE DAILY TELEGRAM

MIDLAND, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1931

VOL. III.

Number 207

LAUNDRYMEN START 2-DAY MEET

Congressman Wurzbach of Sequin Dies After Operation

ELECTION IS TO BE HELD SOON

Was Only Republican Congressman of This State

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 6. (UP).—Representative Harry M. Wurzbach of Sequin, the only Texas republican congressman, died here today following an appendicitis operation. He was 57 years of age.

Eickenroht May Succeed Him

SEGUIN, Nov. 6. (UP).—Representative Wurzbach follows today believed Eickenroht, a close friend of the dead congressman, will be a candidate for his success.

Sterling to Set Date for Election

AUSTIN, Nov. 6. (UP).—Governor Sterling is expected to set a date today for the election at which Wurzbach's successor will be named.

MIDLAND MEN SPEAK BEFORE ROAD MEETING

Two Midland men, Arthur G. Jury, representing Hotel Scharbauer, and Paul T. Vickers, secretary of the Midland chamber of commerce, spoke at the meeting of Broadway of America delegates in Abilene Thursday. Jury made the principal speech for the hotel men represented, and was applauded as he declared one way to make travel heavier on the road was to improve hotel service.

Vickers was the author of two of the three motions passed, and spoke in behalf of the third. These were for signs at Metcalf Gap and a highway division west of Albany, and appreciation for work of President F. O. Mackey and the board of directors. The Midland men had a conference Thursday morning with Judge W. E. Ely, chairman of the state highway commission, regarding road matters.

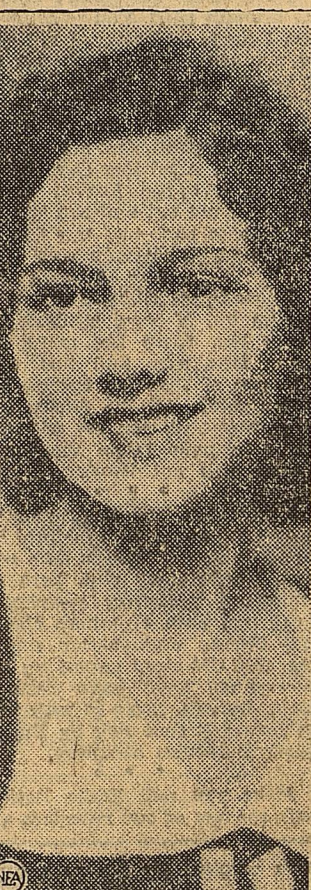

The meeting, as reported in part by The Abilene News, follows: Solving the old problem of traffic diversion by extensively advertising its own route as the most direct, best improved, and best equipped was the theme of a meeting of the West Texas division of the Broadway of America Highway association in Abilene Thursday. Representatives from 11 cities, from Strawn to Odessa, attended the session, held in connection with a luncheon at Hotel Wooten.

W. D. Conway of Ranger, a vice-president of the association which boosts the major transcontinental highway from Broadway, New York to Broadway, San Diego, presided. Grady Bell, executive secretary, presented the association's program for an extensive advertising campaign to be waged immediately.

Bell said directors of the association, at a recent meeting in Fort Worth, had voted to publish and distribute 200,000 maps, showing the advantageous route of the Broadway of America. In addition, a system of uniform signs, to be erected along the entire route, was approved.

Bell presented figures estimating that out-of-state tourists on the highway spend each year $6,570,000. In keeping with the program to popularize the Broadway route, the representatives voted to ask the association to erect, at Metcalf Gap and at the intersection of highways (See MIDLAND MEN page 6)

Freshman Queen

Mary Alice Pendleton, above, of Shreveport, La., has been named Freshman Queen of the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville, and who will disagree with the choice? Her picture will appear in the beauty section of the college annual.

FIVE KILLED AS PLANE IS SMASHED UP

CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 6. (UP).—Five men were killed last night when an express plane flying from Newark to Washington crashed. Officials said the cause would probably never be known.

Poppy Day Here Changed to Tues.

Due to all the business places of Midland being closed on Armistice day, American legion and auxiliary officers in a meeting this morning advanced the sale of poppies one day, making Tuesday, Nov. 10 Poppy day.

Winkler Officials Charged in Murder

PECOS, Nov. 6.—The Winkler county grand jury today returned indictments charging W. K. Wilson, Winkler county commissioner, and Al Jennings, Winkler county deputy constable, with the murder of W. M. Laughlin at Wink, Oct. 25.

ATTORNEY HERE

E. M. Whitaker, El Paso attorney, was a business visitor in Midland today.

JAPS WIN VICTORY AT RIVER

Statement Says Japs To Retire After Making Repairs

MUKDEN, Nov. 6. (UP).—Japanese troops were reported victorious over the Chinese today in a battle for control of the wrecked railway bridge over the Nonni river.

Jap Announcement Is Made Today

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6. (UP).—Japanese Ambassador Deubchi issued a statement today assuring the state department that Japanese forces repairing the Nonni river bridge in Manchuria plan to withdraw as soon as repairs are completed.

Umpire Resigns; Is Now Soldiering

A. B. Capers, who until three months ago was West Texas oil umpire with headquarters here, and since that time umpire of the Texas railroad commission, in the West Texas field, is "soldiering" with General Jacob F. Wolters in the martial law area since his resignation as umpire.

Many Wink Fans to Stanton Game Today

Wink football fans passed through Midland 200 or more strong en route to Stanton to attend what is considered by Wink as their strongest game of the year.

BUSINESS MEETING

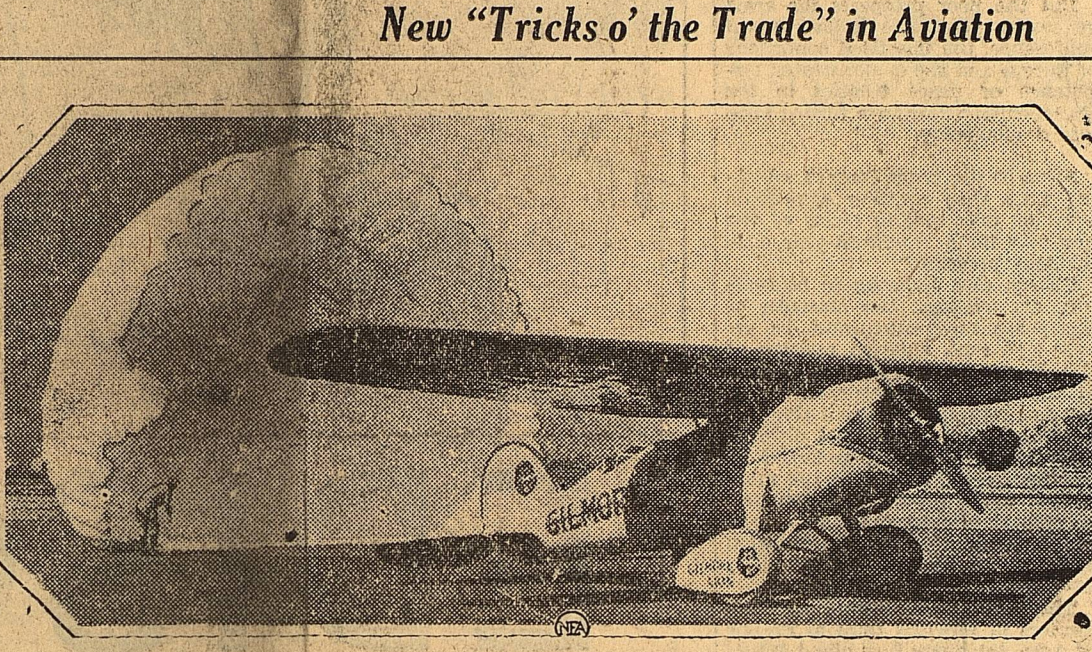

Directors of the Midland chamber of commerce will hold a business meeting Monday evening at 7:30 in the chamber offices.

ESTES IMPROVED

Bud Estes, who has been critically ill for almost two weeks, showed a decided improvement today. Attending nurses said his condition was the best in several days.

CHILD BEATEN AND HANGED ASKS SHERIFF TO LET SLEEP IN JAIL

The first negro child who had rather spend his time in jail rather than live at home has been encountered by the sheriff of Midland county, A. C. Francis.

A new idea in airplanes, the gyroplane, which would be capable of flying 145 miles an hour and of climbing 1500 feet a minute has been designed by C. L. Stauffer of Elkhart, Ind. The plane, shown at left, is said by its designer to combine the advantages of the autogyro with those of the airplane. It can take off in 10 feet and clear a 100-foot object at 150 feet, Stauffer says. In landing or taking off the upper wing rotates. The wings are parallel in normal flight.

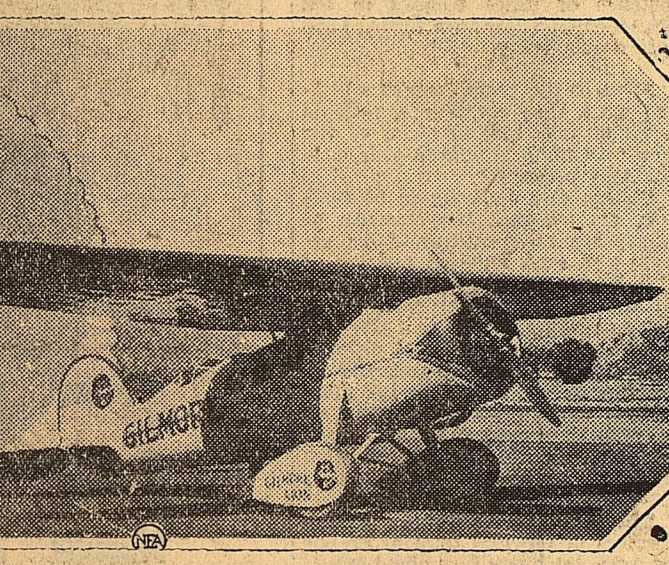

DEFENSE FUND FOR SHEPARD IS BEING RAISED

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 6.—Friends of Maj. Charles A. Shepard, Fitzsimmons General Hospital physician, convicted on charges of poisoning his wife so that he might marry Miss Kan, disclosed today that a defense fund totaling between $12,000 and $15,000 has been raised for the officer.

Boy Wins Case Against Lawyers

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 6. (UP).—Logic vs. law resulted in a victory for logic when Herman Keiper, farm boy, defended himself and his father in court.

New "Tricks o' the Trade" in Aviation

A giant parachute for planes, to be used to lower them when motors are stalled, is proposed by Colonel Roscoe Turner of Los Angeles. A view of the plane being used in tests, with the 90-foot parachute on the left, is shown at right. If tests prove satisfactory, Colonel Turner believes the hazards of flying will be greatly reduced. The parachute will prevent any possibility of the plane falling into a tail spin, Colonel Turner believes, and will allow heavily laden aircraft to descend slowly and evenly.

Freshies Initiated In Unique Service Held at Hi School

At an initiation ceremony that taxed all the ingenuity of profits and privileged upper classmen, something less than 80 freshmen and new students of the high school were given a rough taste of what one may expect upon entering school here.

Midland Teacher on Amarillo Program

Miss Vera Hefner, head of the Spanish department of Midland high school, will appear on the program of the 53rd annual convention of the Texas State Teachers association which will be held in Amarillo, Nov. 26 to 28.

Master and Dog To Serve Term

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 6. (UP).—A term in Ohio penitentiary was quite all right with Lady Charlene, German shepherd dog, so long as John A. Martin, her master, was going up that way.

SHIPLEY WELL STANDS 100 FT. IN OIL, REPORT

Oil filled up 100 feet in the hole within two hours at the Shipley No. 1 Monroe wildcat well about five miles north of Barstow late Thursday afternoon, according to reports received by oil men here today. Pay was picked up from 4663 to 4665 feet.

Sand to Replace Hulls at Course

Laying of sand greens at country club next week will realize plans that started several months ago and were climaxed Thursday night in a special meeting of directors in the office of Dr. John B. Thomas, president.

Finding of Arm Starts a Search

BIG SPRING, Nov. 6.—Officers here, believing a body may be found somewhere in the southwest portion of town following discovery of a human arm, are conducting a thorough search in that area.

PROGRAM STARTED AT 2:30

Barbecue This Afternoon and Dance This Evening

Twenty-five members of the West Texas Laundry Owners' association had registered by noon today for their two-day convention which was to start at 2 o'clock. The morning was spent in registration.

DANCE TONIGHT

Local people have been invited to the Laundrymen's dance tonight at 9 o'clock at Hotel Scharbauer. The entertainment committee specially invites girls for whom there is no admission charge.

Angelo was to be followed by a report of Secretary John T. Wallace of Stamford and the appointment of committees, an address of Bob Adams, president of the State Laundry Owners association, and an open forum.

A barbecue will be given the visitors at Cloverdale park at 6 o'clock. Clarence Scharbauer donated a steer for the barbecue. A dance will be given in the crystal room of the hotel beginning at 9 o'clock. No admission will be charged delegates and the public is invited.

A golf tournament will be staged at country club for the visitors Saturday. At the Saturday session will come reports of committees, an address by F. B. Fletcher of El Paso, S. Y. Jackson of Albuquerque and election of officers. The program Saturday begins at 9:30.

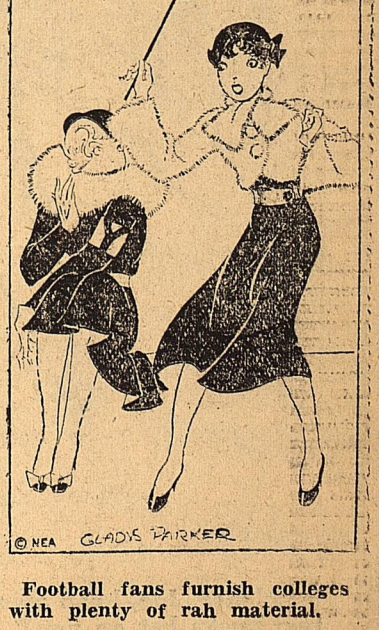

Miss Ruth Norwood and Mrs. Riley Williams were in charge of registration of delegates today. The registration book included J. E. Clark, Fort Bliss; R. H. Amro, Amarillo; R. A. Brown, Dallas; B. F. Kauffman, Fort Worth; W. R. Crawford, Dallas; C. Ben Simmons, Lubbock; A. M. Ivy, Dallas; J. L. Lay, Dayton, Ohio; O. W. McLeod, Lubbock; L. C. Holdaway, Big Spring; Mrs. Frank King and daughter, Big Spring; Ivon M. Coe, Wichita Falls; Paul J. Pong, Wichita Falls; J. W. Pond, Wichita Falls; John T. Wallace, Stamford; Charles Brown, Cisco; John C. Burnside, San Angelo; L. B. Beozley, San Angelo; Rube Miller and wife, Ozona; C. R. Simmons, Sweetwater; C. W. Clark, Abilene; W. E. Saunders, San Antonio; Paul Brown, Eastland; J. Ralph Lee, Colorado; V. A. Graham and wife, Dallas, and F. A. Haisb, Odessa.

McKEE BABY BORN

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McKee have announced the birth of a girl, who was born at 2:30 this morning. Mrs. McKee and the child were said to be resting well this afternoon.

American workers abhor the imposition of the dote regardless of any guise under which it is bestowed. —William Green, pres. A. F. L.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS

THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM
 Evening (except Saturday) and Sunday Morning
 MIDLAND PUBLISHING COMPANY, PUBLISHERS
 116 West Missouri, Midland, Texas

E. PAUL BARRON Publisher

Entered as second class matter at the postoffice at Midland, Texas, under the Act of March 30, 1879

Subscription Price	Advertising Rates
Daily, by Carrier or Mail $5.00 Per Year 50c Per Month	Display advertising rates on application. Classified rate, 2c per word; minimum charge 25c. Local readers, 10c per line.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may occur in the columns of The Reporter-Telegram will be gladly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the firm.

STORY OF THE TWO BOYS

The same editions of the newspaper that told how a 12-year-old boy in Washington had been sentenced to a life term in prison for murder also told of a year-old boy in Ohio who had just inherited upwards of one and three-quarter million dollars.

In that juxtaposition of two unrelated news items there is a volume of comment on the kind of civilization we have put together on the North American continent.

It is not necessary to go all the way with the determinists to realize that the chief villain in this Washington tragedy was a bad economic situation. As one of the court officials at the boy's trial remarked:

"His case is typical of the shattered home, diseased mind and poverty."

The youngster, in plain English, never had much of a chance in life. He missed his chance because of various things, but chiefly because the things that might have straightened him out would have cost more money than anyone was able or cared to spend for him.

So, at 12, he is a murderer and a life-terminer.

On the other hand, there is this fortunate little chap in Ohio. No one, certainly, will begrudge him his good luck; nor does his fortune make it in the least certain that he will turn out to be a first-class citizen. But the terribly impressive thing about it all is the fact that he starts with such an enormous advantage over the other boy. The cards have been stacked somehow. The odds are all in his favor; they were all against the Washington lad, from the moment that he drew his first breath of life.

Our society will be kind to the Ohio boy. It will have a good home for him, skillful teachers, a chance to play and grow and develop normally. It will be quick to nourish any divine possibilities he may display.

But for the other boy—a cell in a state penitentiary, for life.

No one person, no one group, is at fault. This dreadful contrast—it might rob you of a little sleep if you let yourself think about it—is simply a part of American civilization. It is, furthermore, a fundamental part. How much longer are we going to be content with that kind of society?

"FIXING" SPORTS

The autumn football season has not brought forward anything much funnier than the apparent revelation that someone has been trying to "fix" a big intercollegiate football game.

The gamblers have laid their filthy paws on many sports. Big league baseball once suffered from them. Wrestling has been under a shadow for years. There are plenty of unsavory rumors about boxing. Horse racing is in a similar class.

But no one who ever knew a college football player would dream of trying to corrupt a college football game. Those boys aren't playing for money or for fame. The spirit that sends them out on the field is intangible, hard to explain—and eternally beyond the reach of the fixer.

If someone really did try to promote crookedness in a college game, he must have been a singularly stupid sort of person.

HOOVER'S NAVY STAND

There is probably little doubt that the sentiment of the majority of Americans lines up with President Hoover in his argument with the officials of the Navy League.

The league's desire to see the American navy made strong and kept at the highest pitch of efficiency is, of course, perfectly understandable and reasonable. But in its bitter attack on the president, the league seems to have revealed a brand of big-navyism that would make the navy a sacrosanct institution beyond the reach of budget chiefs or the president himself.

It might be fine for the United States to maintain the world's greatest navy. But funds are scarce this year, and every government department must take a cut. The navy must get along on less money, and there is little sense in accusing the president of "abysmal ignorance" simply because he insists on that fact.

Washington Letter

Season of Discontent Faces International Peace Workers with Approach of Disarmament Conference at Geneva.

WASHINGTON. — Difficult has fallen upon the peace workers. This winter, long and fondly anticipated as bringing the great international disarmament conference at Geneva, now seems sure to be the winter of their greatest discontent.

The peace organizations will continue to fight with the few weapons they have. They will intensify propaganda, raise millions of signatures to peace petitions and disseminate into the ears of the statesmen of the world as often as they can corner them.

But the poor prospects for arms reduction after the Hoover-Laval conference, the unsettled conditions of Europe and the demonstrated impotence of peace treaties in the Manchurian affair have turned hope into despondency.

Some of the peace leaders, adopting what they consider a realistic attitude, now talk in terms of the necessity for a "hundred-year educational program."

Others, also claiming to be realists, declare that the strength of the peace movement must be directed at such aims as revision of the Versailles treaty, cancellation of war debts and reparations and Russian recognition, which they insist must precede any real disarmament. This program, endorsed by Senator Borah, is that of the more radical peace groups. The Women's International League for Peace and Freedom was the first organization in the world to protest the Versailles treaty when it was signed.

The peace workers find no more comfort in America than in Europe or Asia. Ask them how about President Hoover's $80,000,000 slash in our naval budget and they give you the ha-ha.

Don't you know, they say, that last year's naval budget was $360,000,000 and that this year the navy sent in an estimate for $401,000,000? And that when Hoover sent the estimate back to be cut to $340,000,000 it meant no more than a cut of $20,000,000 which is half the cost of a battleship? And that even the $20,000,000 is being taken out largely in navy yards, which congressmen and politicians are sure to protect and save?

The Inter-Organization Council, representing 60 peace organizations and committees or other national organizations, last spring adopted a policy of trying to get this government to urge some arms cuts at 10 per cent a year for five or ten years, although "left wing" peace societies separately declared for a 100 per cent disarmament treaty which might cover five or 10 years.

Undersecretary of State William R. Castle recently said that nations would be just as safe as now if they cut down their present military and naval structures by 50 or 75 per cent. Just what program the United States will have at Geneva in February has not been revealed, although it is expected to be far more drastic than France will stand for. Peace organizations hope our delegation will be empowered to agree to a combined program of budgetary and direct limitation.

A 25 per cent arms cut, which is more than anyone expects, would only put the world back where it was in 1926, as military and naval budgets have increased 27 per cent in the last five years.

Peace leaders say their only hope at Geneva lies in a strong manifestation of public opinion. It is hard to believe the manifestation will be strong enough to change the poor results now probable, but petitions bearing several million signatures will be presented. And there will be a couple of million signatures from this country.

Green Pavement Is Advocated by Expert

BOSTON, Nov. 6. (UP)—Green concrete roads, easy on the eyes, may be a development of the future. "White concrete roads are trying in the daytime to motorists, because of eye strain," said Dr. Albert Fitch of Pennsylvania State College of Optometry in a speech here. "Dark road are also hard on the eyes at night because it is difficult to make out the roadway easily. This causes eye strain."

"Green mixtures in concrete, with which we are now experimenting, will relieve the strain on the eyes when driving in bright sunlight."

PEACE AND QUIET

WESTPORT, Conn. (UP)—Wood Cowan, the writer, left the hectic life of Manhattan for the "peace and quiet" of Westport. Soon after he arrived here he was called over to aid Eva LaGallienne, the actress, who was severely burned by explosion of a water heater, and recently he was called to rescue a man who had become electrocuted while examining fuses in his cellar. He's getting a little fed up with country life.

Prices always lowest at McMullan's.

FOLLOW THE CLASSIFIEDS

STICKERS

A EATS A BIG There are three words, all composed of the same letters, missing from the above sentence. Can you supply them?

The Fly in the Ointment!

EDISON

Editor's Note: This is the last of 12 exclusive stories on Thomas A. Edison by Major William Joseph Hammer, his scientific associate and lifelong friend, who reveals the human side of the great inventor.

By WILLIAM JOSEPH HAMMER
 Lifelong Friend and Scientific Associate of Thomas A. Edison, as told to Willis J. Ballinger (Copyright, 1931, NEA Service, Inc.)

Although Thomas A. Edison amassed millions through his inventions, his fortune was comparatively small when you consider the vast wealth that his genius created. Edison, of all men, did the most to create the age of giant industry and gargantuan finance, but while some of the money he received from the sale of his inventions was unquestionably large, it was insignificant in comparison with the true value of his ideas—a value that was reaped in only a few years by others more skilled in the art of successful marketing.

An editorial in a prominent New York newspaper in 1923 estimated that the commercial value of Edison's inventions was more than $15,000,000,000. The computation was as follows:

- Moving pictures, $1,250,000,000.
- Telephones, $1,000,000,000.
- Electric railways, $6,500,000,000.
- Electric lighting and power, $5,000,000,000.
- Electric supplies, $857,000,000.
- Pictures, $37,000,000.
- Phonograph, $105,000,000.
- Electric car shops, $109,000,000.
- Dynamoes and motors, $100,000,000.
- Edison storage batteries, $5,000,000.
- Cement, $271,000,000.
- Telegraph, $350,000,000.
- Wireless telegraph, $15,000,000.

The fact that Edison long ago lost control of the real money-making power of his inventions. But then, money never meant much to him—except for new inventions. His wants were of the simplest.

His great years of inventiveness ranged from 1858 when he patented the vote recorder, which he hoped would be useful in putting an end to filibustering in Congress, to the close of the World War.

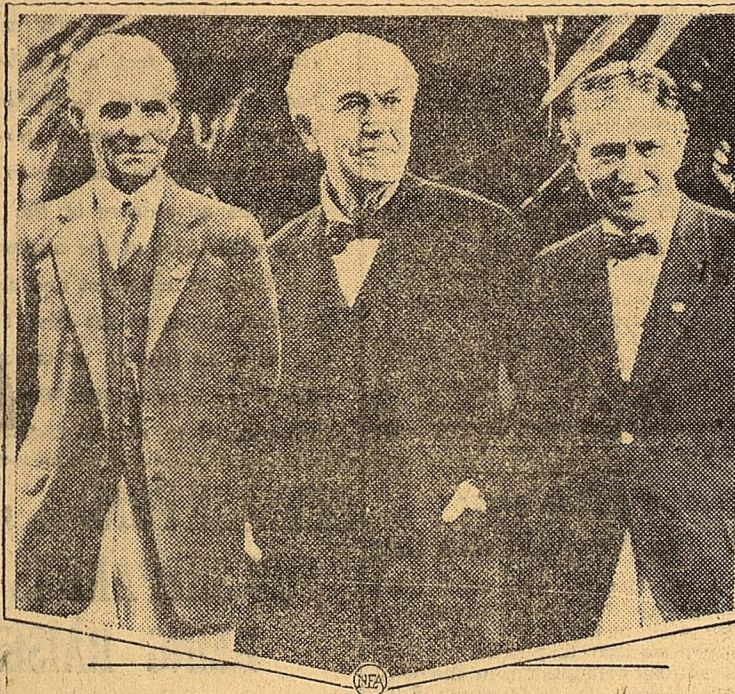

The emergency of the war aroused the veteran inventor to his last creative spirit. Besides solving the pressing problem of how to obtain a supply of phenol so vitally needed for aspirin, music and war shells, he contributed more than 40 war devices. Here are 12:

- A listening device suspended over the sides of merchant vessels for detecting submarines.
- An oleum shell for blinding submarines.
- A device for locating enemy airplanes.
- A system of telephonic communication for ships.
- The night glass.
- A device for reducing the pitch of battleships.
- A fire extinguisher for coal bunkers.
- A mirror reflection system of signals.
- A way to turn ships about quickly when his listener had detected the approach of a torpedo or submarine.
- An underwater searchlight.
- A steamship decoy.
- A coast defense system of submarine decoys.

"I made about 45 inventions during the war," he once said. "They were all perfectly good ones—but they pigeonholed every one of them."

Naval officers, he declared, resent any interference by civilians. The system he described as a "closed corporation."

The war over, Edison had one inventive problem left. This was how to extract rubber from the golden rod. On this he lavished his remaining strength, but he went to his grave still somewhat baffled by it. These latter days saw no diminution of work on Edison's part. He merely changed one kind of work for another. He still lived in his beloved laboratory. But now his worldwide fame exacted new duties from him. Much of his time was spent in receiving notable at his West Orange laboratory, in answering parts of a prodigious correspondence, and in replying to a considerable number of multitudinous queries that poured in on him from reporters, magazine writers and a generally interested public.

Edison and his cronies—Here is Thomas A. Edison and his two famous friends, Henry Ford, left, and Harvey Firestone, right, with whom he took many vacation jaunts in his late years.

It was at this period of his life that Edison began to make his jaunts with other great men. Firestone, Edison, Ford became annual cronies, and on these trips Edison was widely heralded for his unusual comments on almost everything.

Edison, also, in these late days, became intensely interested in education. He still sniffed at college degrees, and began to think out more effective ways to improve the college product. This resulted in the famous Edison examination, given to youngsters all over the nation, the winner being allowed his tuition and living expenses in any college he cared to enter.

The end of a long and useful life came suddenly. Up to last summer Edison had not seemed failing. He had appeared at times not up to his usual self. But there was little indication that the end was near. Four diseases laid claim to his sturdy body that had pounded out so many sleepless hours of vigil at the altar of his beloved science.

Last August the first break came. The vitality of that marvelous physique fought back and Edison actually resumed work in his laboratory. But it was the last, and indeed, the first defense. In his long life Edison had known the most unbroken and buoyant health. When the first determined assault of disease came, it found a body practically scuttled of energy.

The end came quickly but peacefully. For three weeks a world followed every bulletin from the bedside. Then a deep and unrelenting coma—and death.

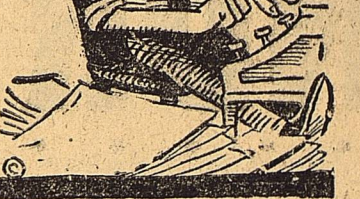

Even in those days of stupor, Edison, the optimist, smiled. The doctor said he did not recognize anyone by those smiles. But then, you see, Edison had smiled all his life at every hard problem and even death was perhaps no more fearful to him than just another problem.

THE END

WOULD FEED 200

FITCHBURG, Mass. (UP)—Joseph Semmino has grown a mushroom which he estimates is large enough to feed something like 200 persons. It is 15 inches high, 71 inches in circumference and weighs 30 pounds.

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.)

I overlooked making mention a day or two ago of a ballot which came in, calling for 1,000 votes for Big Lee as the man who looks like me. I didn't need to mention it, however, because I called off the election when those votes for Arthur Jury came in.

I see where the Rotary club poppy brought $5.00. You remember the bet I made yesterday. I am still on if you call it, although I'll admit I haven't had a bid as high as $5 yet. Come on, you bidders, and let's make this Town Quack poppy go for a good price. The big poppy sale comes off Armistice day when the Legion and the Legion Auxiliary members get out and run 'em down. Beat them to it and buy the Town Quack poppy. What's your bid?

I hate to see Midland money spent for an out of town product, but it looks like there are going to be some bets won and lost on the strength of that Big Spring-Sweetwater game. All the advice I have to give is that you bet with somebody in your home town so the money will not leave.

Look's like the story about Aubrey Legg making an address before the Big Spring Rotary club was all wet. The Rotary club here got a telegram yesterday denying that Legg had been anywhere about the Big Spring organization and saying that the story appearing in this newspaper must have come from Legg, himself, trying in with the advertisement that day by the Texas Electric Service company.

Have you met Eddie Botica? If not, see one of our reporters and he own church. By his oath and his training under scout law every boy who enters the movement dedicates himself to right living, to the service of God and to the brotherhood of man.

When a boy's mind is occupied with clean, wholesome and appealing activities the doors of evil are closed to temptation which knock with desire to enter. The hardest thing for parent and teachers to combat is that insidious propaganda of evil which the unoccupied boy picks up. They can recognize it in his countenance, in his growing reticence and unresponsiveness. But it is beyond reach. He will not talk of it. Every dad has had this experience where there are boys in the home. The boy scout movement has the preventative method and it has the counter attack for such conditions. No greater thing for our town of tomorrow could be done than to enlist every boy in scout age in the Boy Scouts of America. It is a name they will proudly assume if the adults will only provide the ways and means. The opportunity is ours.

Scouting

TRAIL OF THE SCOUT

By Claude O. Crane

The boy scout movement has passed the experimental stage. Its worth has been proven so effectively that none needs to question it being a national asset. The scout has written his trail in the open places of nature. Boys have by means of scout training learned to know nature and to love it. The exercise of body, mind and soul has been out of doors as much as possible. Healthful conditions are thus supplied for the proposed exercise of all three fundamental lines.

Trail in the Home

But the trail of the scout has also been blazed in the home. The boy who is taught the necessity of obedience in connection with things he personally wants to do, cannot help taking that lesson into his home life. He more readily obeys his parents than before. Scouting teaches the boy to be clean. Clean in body and mind. Clean, right thinking is constantly held before the scout as a standard to be maintained. If by chance the opposite for a moment shows its face, the frown of the other scouts soon puts it to flight and forbids its re-appearance.

Scouts do not bring the heads of parents to shame and humiliation. The trail of the scout is in the home. Kindness, cheerfulness and reliability are taught in scouting and induce a home reflex that brings smiles of happiness to parents' faces and smooths the wrinkles from their brows.

Scout in School

The boy scout movement does not aim to assume the responsibility of either the home or school for the boy, but to supplement and intensify the training of the boy, in character formation. The relation of the scout movement to the school is one of close cooperation and mutual helpfulness. One high school principal has described scouting by saying "It has done what no scheme has ever done before—made the boy want to learn." Teachers, therefore, like parents, have an easier time with scouts. This is the trail of the scout in school.

Scout in Church

As we have already shown, the scout movement is absolutely non-sectarian, both in principle and in practice. But its programs provide recreational activities which are easily adapted as an adjunct to the work of the church and Sunday school. It serves as an important need in keeping the boy in contact with the religious activities of his

DISPUTE DISRUPTS POST

PAWTUCKET, R. I. (UP)—Tower Post, G. A. R., which once boasted 650 members, has gone out of existence. This resulted from a dispute between two of the four surviving members, Charles H. Lewis and Robert M. Pollard, over the commandment of the post.

ROAR CURES DEAFNESS

GREAT BEND, Kan. (UP)—G. W. Shaffer, hard of hearing for ten years, was completely cured by the roaring of a gas well newly brought in near his farm. His advice to those similarly affected is to hunt up a new gasser.

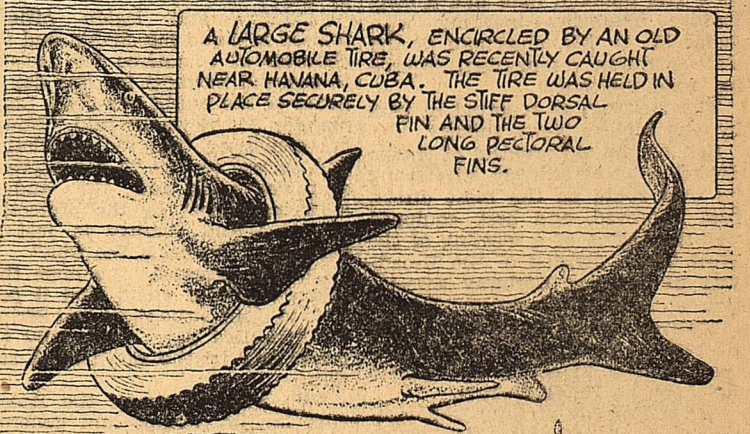

BLONDES "HARD-BOILED"

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—"The hardest-boiled girls and women we have at police headquarters are always blondes," says Mrs. Anna Jackson, in charge of the Women's Protective bureau here. "I don't know why blondes are so much tougher than other types, but they are."

DEAFNESS NO BAR

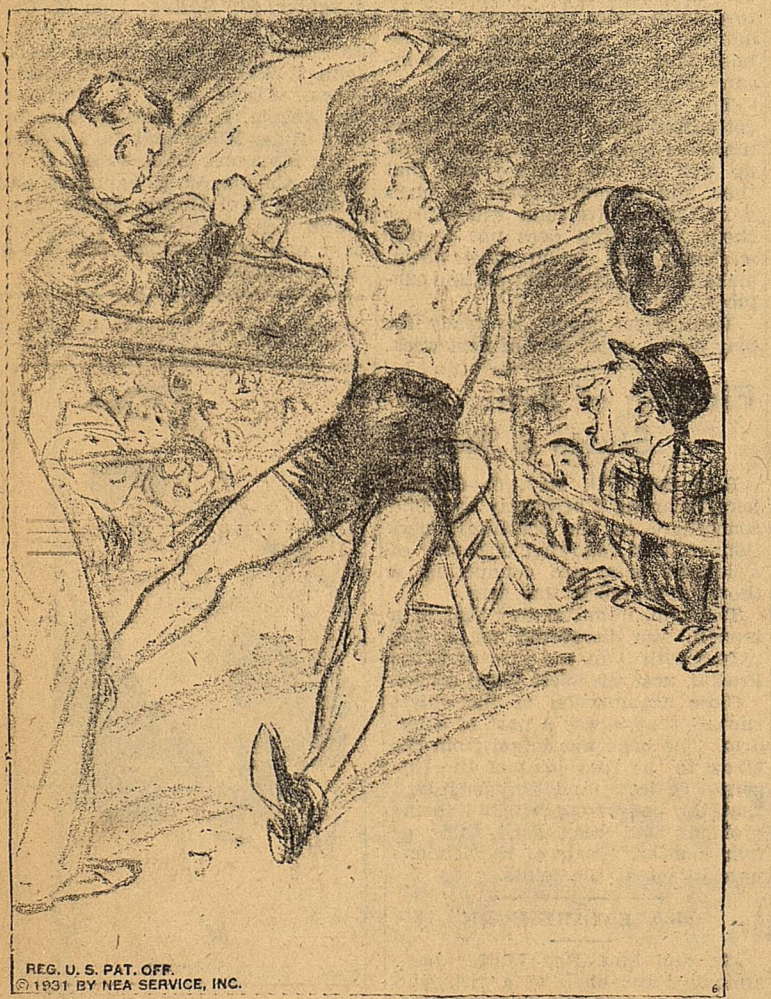

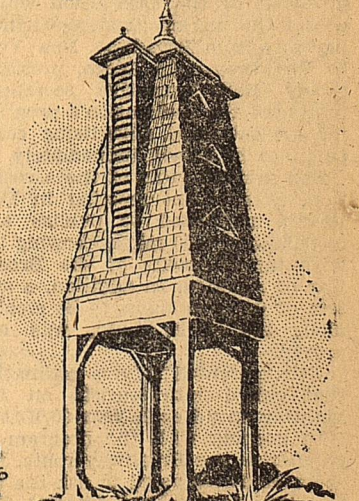

STOCKHOLM. (UP)—Deafness need not discourage "talkie" fans in Stockholm if they attend one movie house, one of the most modern in the Swedish capital. Certain chairs are equipped with special ear trumpets, electrically connected with the talking screen.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

MOSQUITOES

ARE THE FAVORITE DISH OF THE BAY... SO THE CITY OF SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, ERECTS BAT ROOSTS TO ENCOURAGE MORE BATS TO PATROL THE VICINITY.

"Please, Joe, keep away from that guy's left. I got two bucks bet on you."

SOCIAL NEWS PAGE FOR WOMEN

Officers of Friendly Builders' Class Are Elected

A business and social meeting of the Friendly Builders' class was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. A. Clark with Mmes. Jess Barber, E. L. Bailey, J. M. Connor, M. V. Coman and M. L. Baker as co-hostesses.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Iva M. Noyes, the vice president, Mrs. L. B. Hankins presided. New officers for a year were elected with Mrs. M. V. Coman and Mrs. Noyes heading the list as teacher and president respectively. Mrs. Hankins was elected assistant teacher; Mrs. Luther Tidwell, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Dulaney Ward, vice president; Mrs. D. E. Holster, reporter and Mrs. Frank Smith Jr., chairman of the visiting committee.

For the month of October, 55 visits were reported. It was voted by the class to have a Christmas tree party on the evening of Dec. 17. Mmes. J. L. Tidwell, Harry Tate, and J. S. Noland were appointed as a committee to be in charge of the tree decoration.

Mrs. Coman dismissed the business meeting with prayer.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses to Mmes. Dewitt Snead, W. O. King, D. S. Hughes, P. P. Barber, Hugh Miller, Frank Smith Jr., Horace Newton, Harry Tate, Dulaney Ward, E. P. Eubanks, C. E. Nolan, A. W. Lester, W. L. Jimeron, J. S. Noland, A. P. McKee, A. B. Stickney, D. E. Holster, L. B. Hankins and H. B. Edwards of McCamey.

Thursday Members Guests of Mrs. C. L. Jackson

A Thanksgiving motif furnished a pretty scheme for the Thursday club party given by Mrs. C. L. Jackson at her home yesterday afternoon.

The high club prize was awarded to Mrs. William C. Kinkel. Members of the club voted to adopt contract bridge to be played according to Culberson.

Dainty corsages of violets went as favors to the following who took part in the games: Mrs. Bill Blair and Mrs. Charles D. Vertrees, guests; Mmes. W. A. Yeager, M. R. Jackson, Joe Hemphill, Jack Hazeltine, W. C. Kinkel, J. B. Lovejoy, R. W. Patterson, C. E. Patterson, H. W. Matthews, and George T. Abell, club members.

Christian Endeavor Prepares Patriotic Program for Sunday

Observance of Armistice day by the Senior Christian Endeavor of the First Christian church will be in the form of a religious program presented Sunday evening.

An outline of the program follows: Song, prayer, song. Introductory talk, Adah Driver. "Armies of War and League of Peace," Lou Annice Reeves. "The World Today," Catherine Dunaway. "Causes of War," Johnny Kapp. "Resolutions of the Youth Conference," Haskell Wadkins. "Resolutions of the Youth Conference of North America," Tom Potter. "New Frontiers," Velma Winborne. Poem, "God's Dream," T. C. Clerk, Adah Driver. Song. Business session, Buster Howard. Benediction.

Birthday Dinner Is in Honor of R. E. Witty

In honor of her husband on his birthday anniversary, Mrs. R. E. Witty entertained a group of friends with a surprise dinner Thursday evening.

A centerpiece was of autumn colored chrysanthemums flanked with rose tapers. Places were marked with small china dog ash trays filled with candies. Guests were Messrs. Allen Watts, W. A. Yeager, Joe Hemphill, Joe Haygood, Lewis Link and Witty.

Mrs. S. S. Shottlander of Big Spring is in Midland today visiting her sisters, Mrs. Drushia Nelson and Miss Dora Evans.

Why Pay More when the best can be had for less?

K-B

That Famous Line of Poultry and Stock Feeds

Sold by

FARMERS' COOPERATIVE GIN
Phone 199
Midland

In the Pink of Fashion

Pink lace and youth is the modern theme song, as illustrated by the charming Worth gown of delicately tinted lace which is the one Miss Gertrude Murrell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Murrell, of Richmond, Va., will wear to be presented to society at the Executive Mansion by Governor and Mrs. John Garland Pollard, of Virginia.

CHURCHES

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Howard Peters, Pastor
9:45 a. m.—Bible school, H. G. Bedford, Supt.
11:00 a. m.—Communion and sermon. The subject of the sermon will be "Voices of Victory."
6:30 p. m.—Y. P. S. C. E.
7:30 p. m.—The pastor will preach on the "Wars of the Past and the Wars of the Future." This message will deal especially with prophecy and the China-Japan situation. All legionnaires and veterans of other wars are cordially invited to attend this service.

There will be Bible study next Wednesday night at 7 o'clock.

The fourth district convention of Christian churches will meet with the First Christian church at Sweetwater on Nov. 18. The pastor of this church will speak on "The Pre-eminence of Christ in Evangelism."

A one-day convention will be held with the church at Sweetwater on Nov. 19. Speakers for the occasion will be Patrick Henry, Mrs. McMaster, Mrs. Ora Shepherd and Jewell Matthews. It is hoped that a large number of the members of the First Christian church will attend these conventions.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

W. J. Coleman, Pastor
The Friendly Church
Sunday school—9:45 a. m.
Christian Endeavor—7 p. m.
Preaching by the new pastor at the morning and evening services.

PENTECOSTAL HOLINESS

O. W. Roberts, Pastor
Preaching services at the tabernacle in the morning at 11 o'clock and evening at 7:30 o'clock.

ST. ANN'S CATHOLIC CHURCH

Mass on Sunday morning at 8 o'clock and Thursday at 7:30 a. m.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

J. A. McCall, Pastor
Bible study—10:00 a. m.
Preaching and communion—11:00 a. m.
Young People's service—6:30 p. m.
Ladies Bible class Tuesday afternoon at 3:30.
Wednesday evening prayer meeting and Bible study at 8 o'clock. Preaching to be conducted by Mr. J. A. McCall.
All visitors are invited.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Christian Science services will be held in the Veale Music studio, in the Daniel building, 215 N. Colorado. Sunday services are at 11 a. m. and Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. A loving welcome is extended to all to attend the services.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Winston Borum, Pastor
The eleven o'clock services at the First Baptist church Sunday morning will be dedicated to the new officers of the church. The deacons, church officers, and all teachers and officers of all organizations of the church will occupy reserved seats as honor guests. The pastor will preach on the subject, "Spiritual Ambition" or "By What Authority Do Ye Do These Things?" Special music by the choir.

At the evening service, beginning at 7:30 there will be an orchestra concert followed by congregational singing and message by the pastor on "Isaac's Picture of Christ." Also there will be special music by Mrs. J. C. Wilson, director of the choir at Peecos, Texas, together with her sister, Miss Warren Collins, also of Peecos; and Mrs. Winston Borum.

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. E. H. Barron, Superintendent.
Baptist Training Service at 6:15 p. m. Mrs. L. A. Grantham, director.

Opening Recital of Association Given Saturday Morning

Two representatives of each studio member of the Fine Arts Teachers' association will be presented in the opening fall recital tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the Ritz theatre.

The programs, which are given monthly, are open to the public. Parents of the children are especially requested to attend in order to see the work being done by the various studios.

Patriotic Reading

A patriotic theme will be developed in the Co-Workers' class program Sunday morning when Dorothy Lou Speed reads a planologue, "War Rose." The piano accompaniment will be played by Mrs. A. J. Florey.

All favorite sacred hymns of the class will be directed by Mrs. Florey during a short "sing song."

The Woman's Missionary society will meet Monday afternoon at 3:30 in general session for Royal Service program.

Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30, followed at 8:30 by choir rehearsal.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Edwin C. Calhoun, Pastor
All regular services have been announced for the church during Sunday.

The pastor, who has recently returned from conference, will preach in the morning and evening.

Fall Hats Popular Prices McMullan's.

CLASSIFIEDS DO THE WORK

Happy Birthday!

TOMORROW
Mrs. D. M. Ellis
James Kerr
SUNDAY
Mrs. J. S. Cordill.

Personals

W. A. Yeager and Allen Watts made a business trip to Big Spring Thursday afternoon.

Paul Terrell and F. E. Vernon, government men of Austin, were in Midland this morning on a business visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Hampton Dennis and son, Myron, of Childress visited relatives in Midland the early part of this week.

R. S. Reese of Lubbock was here today on business with local merchants.

General J. C. Garrett and family of Philadelphia were guests in Midland Thursday night. They were en route to Fort Bliss to visit relatives.

L. L. Rector of Fort Worth is in Midland for a few days transacting business.

Word that Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Walsh and son will return to Midland to make their home has been received by friends here. The Walsh family left Midland early in the spring to live in Tyler.

Mrs. Allen Watts has recently re-

Helpful Health Suggestions

By Martha Bredemeier

HEALTH OF LONDON SCHOOL CHILDREN

In his annual report for 1930 on the school medical service the health officer for London says that the physical condition of London school children is better now than ever before, in spite of the present economic depression. The number of children receiving school medical inspection forms a high percentage of the total number on the school rolls, he says, and in addition all the children in attendance are also inspected three times the year by the school nurse. The interest of the parents is gratifying, and refusal of the parents to permit medical inspection is so rare as to be almost negligible.

The most striking figures, the report states, are those showing improvement in cleanliness. Very few children are now found who are suffering from tuberculosis. The number in 1930 being only 109 out of a total of over 300,000 children who received medical examinations. The heaviest burden of the school medical service is due to the poor conditions of the pupils' teeth, especially pupils in entering the classes, of whom 47 per cent in 1930 showed obvious dental decay. (London correspondent, Journal of the American Medical Association, Oct. 3, 1931, p. 102.)

turned to Midland from a trip, to points in Oklahoma and Kansas where she visited relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Rhodes and M. O. Boren of Fort Worth are business visitors in Midland today.

Eugene Britt of Shamrock spent Thursday night in Midland, leaving this morning for his home.

"I liked Chesterfield right from the start"

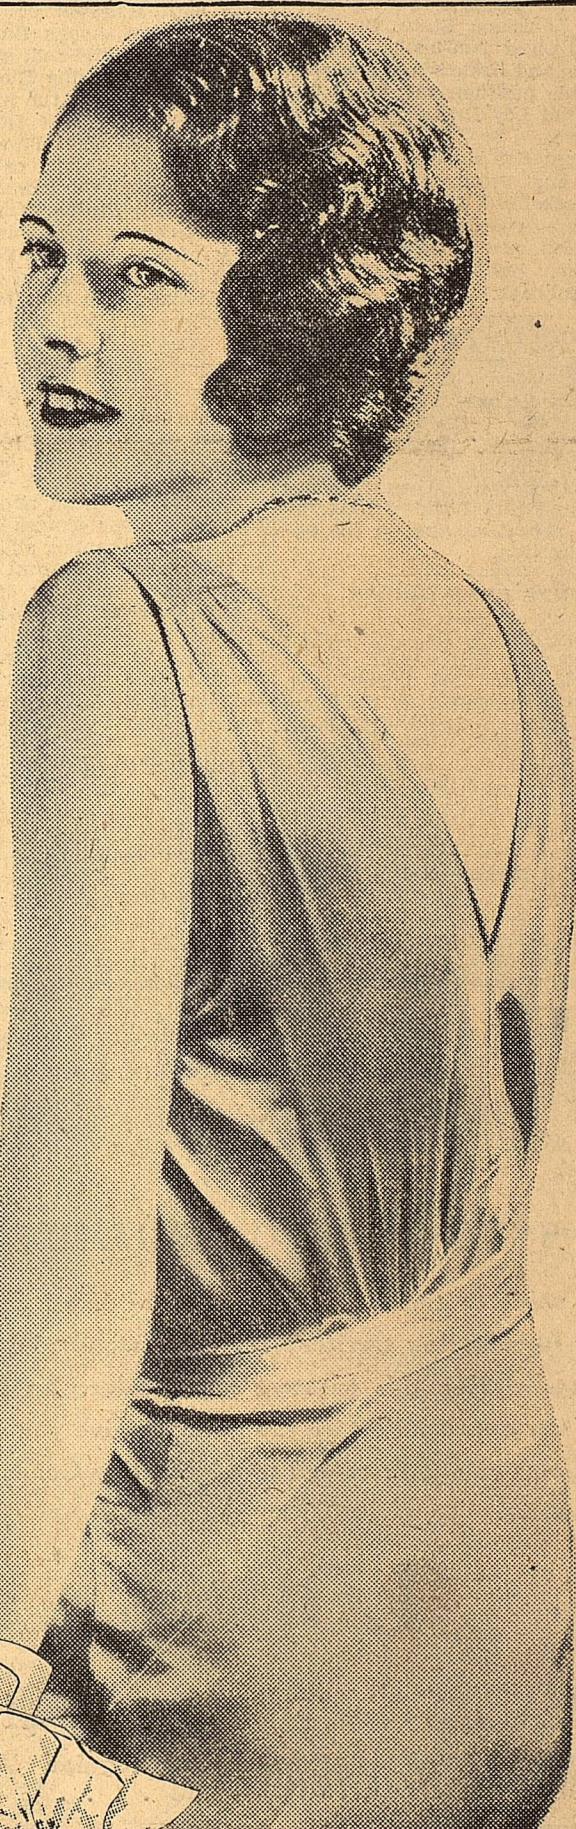

"No, I don't know a blessed thing about how cigarettes are made. But, of course, I would want the tobacco to be PURE. And then I've heard that the blending is very important. I'd want that to be done just right."

"Then the paper. I don't like paper that you can taste—or smell when it's burning. I'd want that pure too."

"Another thing. I want to smoke whenever I feel like it—without worrying about smoking too many. So I want my cigarettes MILD."

"But the main thing, of course, is TASTE. I don't care for over-sweetened cigarettes. I much prefer those that are just sweet enough."

"Chesterfield seems to satisfy in every one of these ways. That is why I'd rather have a Chesterfield."

SMOKERS tire of too much sweetness in a cigarette, and they don't like rawness. For a steady diet, they want a cigarette like CHESTERFIELD—a mild and mellow smoke, free from any over-sweetness or any harshness or bitterness. That's why more and more smokers every day are changing to CHESTERFIELD.

Good... they've got to be good.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

BUFFET SUPPER

A buffet supper was given by the Foods III class, for the Midland high school faculty, Friday, Oct. 30, at 5:30, in the dining room of the school.

Attractive autumn colors of orange and black in flowers and decorations made a pretty setting for the supper. The Halloween motif was also carried out in the cuisine.

Witches cut from black paper were placed in appropriate places. Jack-o'-Lanterns leering from dark corners and tall orange candles casting a soft glow over the table, caused a pleasing, though slightly eerie, effect.

The following menu was served: Pear-cheese salad Wafers Chicken a la king on toast Ripe olives Pineapple Bavarian Cream Ice box cookies

CLOTHING DISPLAY

The garments made by the first year clothing class will be on exhibition at Addison Wadley's store during the early part of next week.

Ella Mae Newland is back in school. She returned Thursday. She has been absent on account of illness for six and one-half weeks.

IT'S A FACT THAT—

Mead sang "that song" to Bessie going to the auditorium last week. Pud had better stay at home next time.

Mr. Lingo is called "Waterman" now.

Tom surely doesn't enjoy being in red tape!

Ed was actually allowing Jean to walk with another boy when he let her walk down the walk with Herman. We think neither Dorris nor Ed was pleased.

Miss McKenzie is so nervous when Mr. Shifflett comes down the hall that she can't even hold what she has in her hands.

Armistice is going to be a great day for many, especially those who don't just perfectly enjoy going to school.

Red was tired of Big Spring for once. She said she didn't want to go Monday to see the plays because she had been over there all week-end and she "just didn't want to go." Better watch! She is ready now for Odessa.

Some of the girls of the high school are going to go out for football soon.

James Walton didn't miss his train at San Angelo, but he missed his car. He was in Woolworth's "enjoying himself."

There is more than one girl with her eye on George, we wonder who she could be? Several know and several more could find out if they would watch more closely.

Ethel certainly knows where lipstick belongs.

Miss Burrus is one of the best-natured teachers in the high school.

WITH OUR EXES

The friends of Celeste Hankins, a senior in the Midland high school, 1930-'31, will be delighted to know that she is making a good record in Weatherford college this year. A letter from the president of the college to her brother on The Reporter-Telegram, states that she was one of only three students who made all "A's" during the first six weeks. The following is taken from a letter by President R. G. Boger:

"We are all happy indeed over the wonderful record Celeste has made. She may have written you but anyway, there were only three students who made all "A's" in the last six weeks. Celeste was one of these three. Certainly, we all have a right to be pleased over such an unusual record."

WHOOZIT?

Answers to last week's Whoozit are:

Lucille McMullan (senior girl). Lucille Shea (junior girl). Imogene Hale (sophomore girl). Harriett Ticknor (freshman girl). He is a brunette and oh, how good looking! Certainly is pest in 300 during the third period. (Senior boy).

Brown hair on our little friend! Always interested in whether the basement is locked. (Junior boy).

Another one with brown hair. Poor kid! He was certainly broken hearted Saturday night. (Sophomore boy).

Blonde and blue eyed. He is certainly fond of horseback riding. (Freshman boy).

Announcements

Saturday
Fine Art Teachers association recital to be given at the Ritz theatre at 10 a. m.

Chill and pie dinner will be given by the Circle B of the Presbyterian auxiliary at the American cafe.

Girls' auxiliary will meet at 4 o'clock at the First Baptist church.

Children's story hour at the court house from 2:30 to 3:30.

Boys' and Girls' World club program at the First Methodist church at 3:30.

Choice Cooks' Corner

Chicken Patties
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup chicken stock or milk
1-2 teaspoon salt.
Few grains cayenne pepper
1 cup cold diced chicken
Melt butter in saucepan, stir in flour; add chicken stock; season and bring to a boil; add chicken and cook slowly 5 minutes. Fill patty shells and serve at once.

Patty Shells
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1-2 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons shortening
Ice water.
Sift flour, baking powder and salt together; mix in shortening; add slowly enough water to make stiff dough. Roll out thin, cut in circles, and form on the outside of patty or muffin tins. Bake in a hot oven at 475 degrees F. open side down, until light brown; remove carefully from tins and return shells to oven and bake 5 minutes, open side up.

Ladies' Coats Popular Prices McMullan's.

Midland Lodge No. 145
KNIGHTS of PYTHIAS
Meets every Monday night at Castle Hall over Hokus-Pokus Store.
Frank Stubbeman, C. C.
R. D. Lee, K. R. S.

FROG MENTOR APPLIES POLISH CHAMOIS ON EVE OF BIG GAME

GAME IS A BARRIER TO TITLE HOPE IF LOST

By STANDARD LAMBERT
FORT WORTH, Nov. 6.—A vigorous application of chamois and polish to the offense and a test on the Owl defense constituted the final workouts of the Texas Christian Horned Frogs prior to their annual clash with the Rice Owls here Saturday.

Because of injuries, there will be several men who will be facing the Notre Dame "T" and "Z" formations that are used by the Owls for the first time. Had injuries not claimed a heavy toll, a corps of grid troops who are familiar with the Ramblers' formation would face the Owls. It will be the crucial test for the sophomores in the line, and if they give the Schmidtmann a victory, it is almost certain that the Frogs will face the Mustangs in the last game of the season with the conference title at stake.

The Horned Frogs will be defending a clean conference slate, while the Owls will be faced with the necessity of either winning the game or retiring as a contender for the championship crown. Their loss to Southern Methodist put a dent in their title hopes, and they should be fighting recklessly to remain in the race.

The Frogs will face the most powerful set of backs in the conference. If they can put the pedal on Jack Frye, Squires, Hammett, Jamerson, Wallace, the Driscoll twins and Thrasher, they should be able to stop any offensive outfit in the Southwest.

Injuries will keep Dan Salkeld out of the starting eleven. He will be replaced by Jack Graves, smart sophomore, who played a faultless game against Louisiana State. Cy Perkins, who played jam-up ball against Simmons and Arkansas in Boswell's left tackle position, will be at left tackle, and Loy Evans will be held in reserve.

The tentative starting line-up is: Graves and Pruitt, ends; Perkins and Shackelford, tackles; Lambert and Vaughn, guards; Townsend, center; Hinton, quarterback; Oliver and Spearman, halfbacks, and Capt. Green, fullback.

LOOKED—THEN RAN

ALBANY, Ore. (UP)—Truckdriver Louis Swander went fishing. A wildcat came out of the brush, stared at him. Swander remembered the copy-book maxim, looked the animal in the eyes. Then Swander turned and ran. Looking back, he saw the bobcat running in the opposite direction.

PRIZE BEAN GROWN

SELINGROVE, Pa. (UP)—The prize bean in this section was a California bean 3 1/2 inches long, grown on a garden plot at the home of Mrs. Joseph Hendricks, Penn. Avon, near here. The unusually large vegetable was entirely edible and tasted much like squash, according to those who ate portions of it.

New Fall Dresses now in McMullan's.

SELL WITH CLASSIFIEDS

SPORTS REPORTS

By R. C. HANKINS

Although some of the biggest games of the district are yet to be played, all-district title claims are being pinned on several outstanding candidates. Delker and Harrison of San Angelo were a bit disappointing last week against Midland, even though Delker did rip the Midland forwards to shreds in the last half and Harrison staged a 51-yard jaunt to pull the game out of the fire. But supporters of other backs had not given the Angelo crusher and The Wraith much credit for getting around gracefully in all-district shoes. Sam Baugh of Sweetwater is presumed to be the best quarterback, and a couple of Big Spring backs are given preference to make up the mythical quartet. It is our belief that Dennis of Big Spring would have to be given a place. Despite the fact that Mike Hicks has not been making the name of Roscoe, or Sweetwater for that matter, a by-word on other district entries' hearths, we should be inclined to give him a place instead of Delker. Who would fill the other place, granted Baugh is in line for the quarter position? As Marcos Williamson points out, there are Harrison of San Angelo, Sheridan of Sweetwater, Midkiff, Burris and Hallman of Midland, Swatz, Flowers, Heblson and Coburn of Big Spring. The three Midland flashes would have to compete for a place at half. Neither could seriously compete with Harrison or Baugh at quarter, even though Burris names the plays for Midland, and neither is worthy of bucking Hicks or Delker or Heblson for the fullback position. But either of the Midland men could do what Flowers, Heblson, Sheridan, Swatz or Wood are doing had they the powerful Sweetwater or Big Spring lines ahead of them, to our way of thinking. And none of the lads mentioned have anything in the way of speed that the Midland trio does not possess, to further give you our opinion.

Of more importance, however, is the fact that three or four men in the forward walls are outstanding. Hopper of Big Spring and Barnett of McCamey seem to be the best tackles in the district. Big Spring claims Dyer is head and shoulders above the other centers of the district, but we cannot add an amenity to that choice. Our own Ham Finnell, who to our way of thinking, has easily played the best season of any member of the Bulldog squad, is a man to dispute Dyer's supremacy, even though Dyer was heap captain in Indian territory last year.

Had McCall played in the Big Spring game like he did in Angelo, he would have only to play three more games of bang up football to absolutely clinch an end berth. But we doubt if Bull will make even a serious bid for an end post. He's too good natured, takes things too lightly. In fact, he loafs at times. Easily

McCAMEY TO TURN OUT BIG FOR THE MIDLAND HI GAME

McCAMEY, Nov. 6.—All McCamey, it now seems, will move on Midland on Armistice day. The big event which is sending a big delegation from here to that city is a football contest scheduled between the Badgers of McCamey, high and the big, fast Midland high school squad which tilted the dope bucket in the contest with the Bobcats at San Angelo last week, when they held the Concho tribe to a lone touchdown and point after in a gruelling game which tested the full fighting strength of the Bobcats.

This near victory filled Midland's cup to overflowing and they are entering the Armistice day tilt certain of triumph by an easy route and top-heavy score. McCamey, on the other hand, handicapped by early season eligibility rulings and by persistent injuries to first string players since, has seen seven of her 11 men put on the sidelines or off of the gridiron. This will be the first football game ever staged between these high schools and the big turn out is going to be due largely to the long pent up desires of fans and followers of the two delegations to see their favorites ply their might against each other. Last season McCamey was especially eager for the fray, but this time they are not so sure about whether a game in 1931 is the right thing, after all.

one of the most powerful men who ever represented the high school here, he could simply tear and smash his way to an all-district berth. In fact, we wish he could get mad, as we're informed he was on the eve of the last game, and wade through for what he deserves.

Burris is a flashy ball carrier but does not rate much at calling plays. We'd like to see him play half behind the Big Spring line. We'd say he'd make more yardage from running plays than either Flowers or Dennis. We'd expect Hallman to do about the same, and the Bulldog full would make as much through the line as Big Hebe Heblson. We may be wet, but we must be showed. Midkiff and Harrison and Little Swatz are more or less alike in characteristics. Each is small, elusive, fast as a streak and smart in a football suit.

We might be giving you a bit of dope on McCamey, but we cannot for love or money get the paper from that town mailed to us. For many months, The Reporter-Telegram has been sent to McCamey. In exchange, the McCamey paper was supposed to have been sent here. But we had a little misunderstanding last year when McCamey conceived the idea Midland was trying to throw that town's club out of the district on account of alleged ineligibility. The McCamey paper cut The Reporter-Telegram off its mailing files. The Reporter-Telegram kept being mailed to McCamey. We wrote a letter several months ago, at the beginning of football season, saying we were sending a daily paper on exchange for a weekly one, and not getting the weekly. Beyond that, we offered to pay the subscription price of the McCamey paper. And we received no reply to the letter! This morning we asked our circulation man to cut the McCamey paper off our mailing list. Maybe that will help; maybe not. At any rate, McCamey is coming here Armistice day for a game and the Parkmen are supposed to be plenty tough.

Obie Bristow, Big Spring head coach, made a brilliant speech over the Sweetwater public address system the other day. Here's just what he said: "Hi, folks. McCamey has the best oil fields in District 4, San

WELCOME, Laundrymen of West Texas

CONVENIENTLY located in the hotel building, we are ready to give you quick service on your

Cleaning and Pressing

Call No. 30. We'll be right up.

MIDDLETON TAILOR SHOP

—Phone 30—

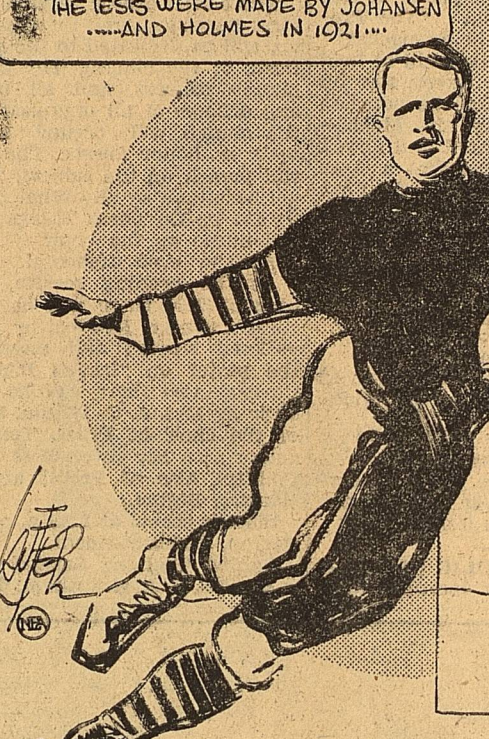

BRUSHING UP SPORTS . . . By Laufer

ONE IN 50,000,000

BABE RUTH IS A "MAN IN 50 MILLION", ACCORDING TO COLUMBIA PROFESSORS WHO TESTED HIS CO-ORDINATION—EYES, EARS, NERVES, GENERAL ATTENTION, MUSCULAR STRENGTH AND BASIC METABOLISM.

STATISTICS ON THE AVERAGE MAN'S ABILITIES SHOW THE BABE TO POSSESS ATHLETIC PROFICIENCY NOT FOUND IN ONE MAN AMONG 50 MILLION.

THE TESTS WERE MADE BY JOHANSEN AND HOLMES IN 1921.

THE BABE

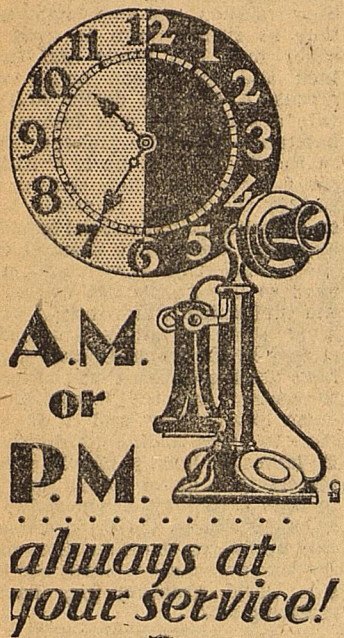

CONSISTENT GROUND GAINING!

CHESTER "COTTON" WILCOX OF PURDUE, IN TWO YEARS, CARRIED THE BALL 147 TIMES AND GAINED 1070 YARDS.

AN AVERAGE OF 7.3 YARDS PER TRY.

HIGH SCHOOL STANDINGS
DISTRICT 1
Results Last Week
Lubbock 32, Pampa 6.
Amarillo 67, Plainview 7.
Standing
Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Lubbock	2	0	0	1.000
Pampa	1	1	0	.500
Plainview	1	1	0	.500
Amarillo	0	2	0	.000
Games This Week
No games scheduled.
DISTRICT 2
Results Last Week
Wichita Falls 20, Electra 0.
Standing
Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Quanah	2	0	0	1.000
Vernon	2	0	0	1.000
Wichita Falls	2	1	0	.667
Childress	0	2	0	.000
Electra	0	3	0	.000
Games This Week
No games scheduled.
DISTRICT 3
Results Last Week
Breckenridge 34, Brownwood 0.
Abilene 21, Eastland 0.
Standing
Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Abilene	3	0	0	1.000
Cisco	2	0	0	1.000
Ranger	1	1	0	.500
Breckenridge	1	1	0	.500
Eastland	0	2	0	.000
Brownwood	0	3	0	.000
Games This Week
Saturday—Breckenridge at Eastland.
DISTRICT 4
Results Last Week
Big Spring 79, Colorado 0.
San Angelo 7, Midland 0.
Sweetwater 57, McCamey 0.
Standing
Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Big Spring	3	0	0	1.000
Sweetwater	2	0	0	1.000
San Angelo	2	0	0	1.000
Midland	0	2	0	.000
Colorado	0	2	0	.000
McCamey	0	3	0	.000
Games This Week
No games scheduled.
DISTRICT 5
Results Last Week
Central 6, Stripling 0.
North Side 18, Mineral Wells 13.
Standing
Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Central	2	0	0	1.000
Stripling	1	1	0	.500
North Side	1	1	0	.500
Polytechnic	0	0	1	.000
Mineral Wells	0	2	0	.000
Games This Week
No games scheduled.
DISTRICT 6
Results Last Week
Highland Park 20, Woodward Wilson 6.
Dallas Tech 20, Sunset 7.
North Dallas 6, Forest 0.
Standing
Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Highland Park	2	0	0	1.000
Woodward Wil-	2	0	0	1.000
Dallas Tech	1	1	0	.500
Sunset	1	1	0	.500
Forest	0	2	0	.000
Games This Week
Friday—Dallas Tech vs. Oak Cliff.
Saturday—North Dallas vs. Woodward Wil-
DISTRICT 7
Results Last Week
McKinney 53, Gainesville 0.
Standing
Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Denton	2	0	0	1.000
Sherman	1	0	0	1.000
McKinney	1	1	0	.500
Denison	0	1	0	.000
Gainesville	0	2	0	.000
Games This Week
No games scheduled.
DISTRICT 8
Results Last Week
Marshall 55, Sulphur Springs 0.
Paris 13, Texarkana 6.
Standing
Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Marshall	2	0	0	1.000
Greenville	1	0	0	1.000
Sulphur Springs	1	1	0	.500
Paris	1	1	0	.500
Texarkana	0	3	0	.000
Games This Week
No games scheduled.
DISTRICT 9
Results Last Week
Cleburne 19, Temple 13.
Corsicana 13, Waco 0.
Standing
Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Corsicana	3	0	0	1.000
Cleburne	2	0	0	1.000
Temple	1	1	0	.500
Hillsboro	1	1	0	.500
Waco	0	2	0	.000
Waxahachie	0	3	0	.000
Games This Week
Friday—Waxahachie at Waco; Hillsboro at Temple.
DISTRICT 10
Results Last Week
Tyler 31, Palestine 0.
Standing
Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Tyler	2	0	0	1.000
Austin	1	0	0	1.000
Lufkin	1	1	0	.500
Nacogdoches	1	1	0	.500
Palestine	0	2	0	.000
Games This Week
No games scheduled.
DISTRICT 11
Results Last Week
Bowie 45, Fabens 0.
Standing
Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
El Paso	2	0	0	1.000
Austin (El Pa.)	1	0	0	1.000
Bowie (El Pa.)	1	0	0	1.000
Fabens	0	2	0	.000
Ysleta	0	2	0	.000
Games This Week
Friday—Bowie vs. Austin.
DISTRICT 12
Results Last Week
Austin 0, Main Avenue 0.
Standing
Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Brackenridge	3	0	0	1.000
Main Avenue	2	0	0	1.000
Austin	1	0	0	1.000
Kerrville	1	1	1	.500
Alamo Hts.	0	2	1	.000
Harlandale	0	2	1	.000
Del Rio	0	2	1	.000
Games This Week
Friday—Harlandale at Austin; Del Rio at Brackenridge; Kerrville at Main Avenue.
DISTRICT 13
Results Last Week
San Jacinto 20, Bryan 0.
John Reagan 38, Jeff Davis 12.
Standing
Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
John Reagan	2	0	0	1.000
San Jacinto	2	0	0	1.000
Jeff Davis	2	1	0	.667
Sam Houston	2	1	0	.667
Bryan	0	3	0	.000
Milby	0	3	0	.000
Games This Week
Friday—San Jacinto vs. John Reagan.
Saturday—Jeff Davis vs. Bryan.
DISTRICT 14
Results Last Week
Port Arthur 25, Goose Creek 0.
South Park 12, Galveston 0.
Standing
Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Port Arthur	2	0	0	1.000
Beaumont	1	0	0	1.000
South Park	1	1	1	.500
Galveston	0	2	0	.000
Goose Creek	0	1	0	.000
Games This Week
Saturday—Galveston at Goose Creek.
DISTRICT 15
Results Last Week
Alice 26, Kingsville 0.
Standing
Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Robstown	2	0	0	1.000
Corpus Christi	1	0	0	1.000
Alice	1	1	1	.500
Laredo	0	1	1	.000
Kingsville	0	2	0	.000
Games This Week
Friday—Laredo at Corpus Christi.

Standing
----------	--	--

That's the Service You Get From CLASSIFIEDS

They Never Sleep!

They Are Working for You all Time and the Phone Is so Convenient, Use It!

CLASSIFIED

PHONE 77

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING RATES AND INFORMATION

Cash must accompany all orders for classified ads, with a specified number of days for each to be inserted.

CLASSIFIEDS will be accepted until 12 at noon on week days and 6 p. m. Saturday for Sunday issues.

PROPER classification of advertisements will be done in the office of The Reporter-Telegram. ERRORS appearing in classified ads will be corrected without charge by notice given immediately after the first insertion.

RATES:

2c a word a day
4c a word two days
5c a word three days.

MINIMUM charges:

1 Day 25c
2 Days 50c
3 Days 60c.

FURTHER information will be given gladly by calling—

77

1. Lost and Found

FOUND: Rim for Chevrolet truck. Pay for ad and get information. Reporter-Telegram. 205-32

2. For Sale or Trade

BOY'S OVERCOAT, size 2, good a new, for sale cheap. Phone 128. 193-4d

MILK COW, sow and pigs. Model T, Ford truck. Holzgraf. 206-1p

Rugged Design

HORIZONTAL

1 Entrance into society.

7 Genus of long slender insects, resembling stick insects.

9 Doctor (Abbr.).

10 Tardier.

11 Member of an Indo-Chinese tribe of Upper Burma.

13 Defeated.

15 Disjoins.

18 Institution for the care of the sick.

20 Songs sung for the dead.

22 Organ of sight.

23 Flower leaf.

25 To prevent.

26 Surface measures of land equal to 160 square rods.

28 To restrain through fear.

YESTERDAY'S ANSWER

LEAD
GIRDED
SOPRANO
HUT
EGO
ENATIC
PAL
STEWED
SPA
OAR
TIRADES
TIKRADES
DESK

30 To covet.

31 Carrier.

33 One who plunges head-first into water.

35 Sesame.

36 Fence stairs (Pl.).

38 Active principle of tobacco.

40 To upset.

42 Piece of news.

43 Negative.

44 Brilliant show.

46 Mother.

47 To inscribe.

48 Unusually excellent grade.

VERTICAL

1 Expunged.

2 Originated.

3 Wager.

4 Consumes.

5 Yielded top over nail.

6 Snare.

8 To deviate.

9 Abandonment.

12 Cattle producing country of South America.

13 There is a in cotton materials in India due to Gandhi's influence?

14 Point.

16 By way of.

17 Waiting on tables.

18 Warm.

19 —, classical language of —.

21 Fashion.

24 To become buoyant.

27 Trap for eels.

29 One who tells a lesson.

32 Corded fabric.

34 Wand.

37 Basketwork fillings.

39 Duration.

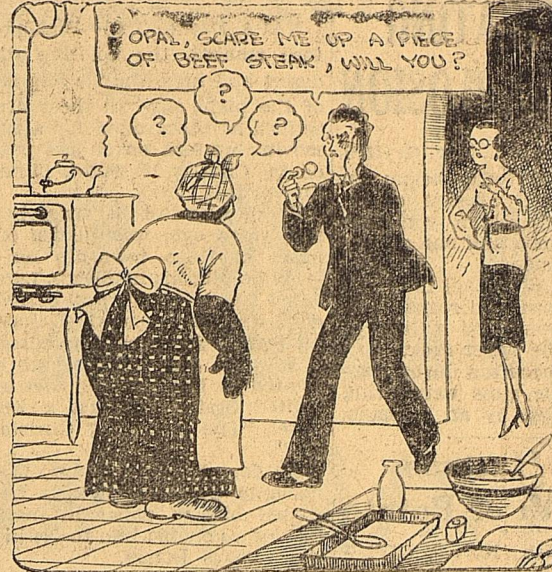

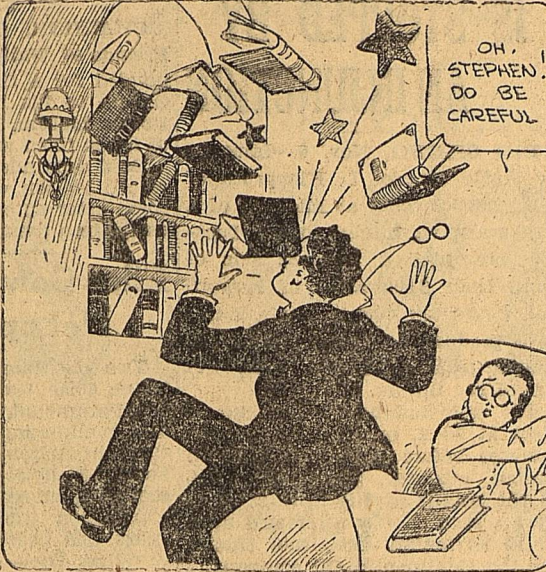

41 Pale brown.

45 Part of mouth.

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

Opal Is All for Action!

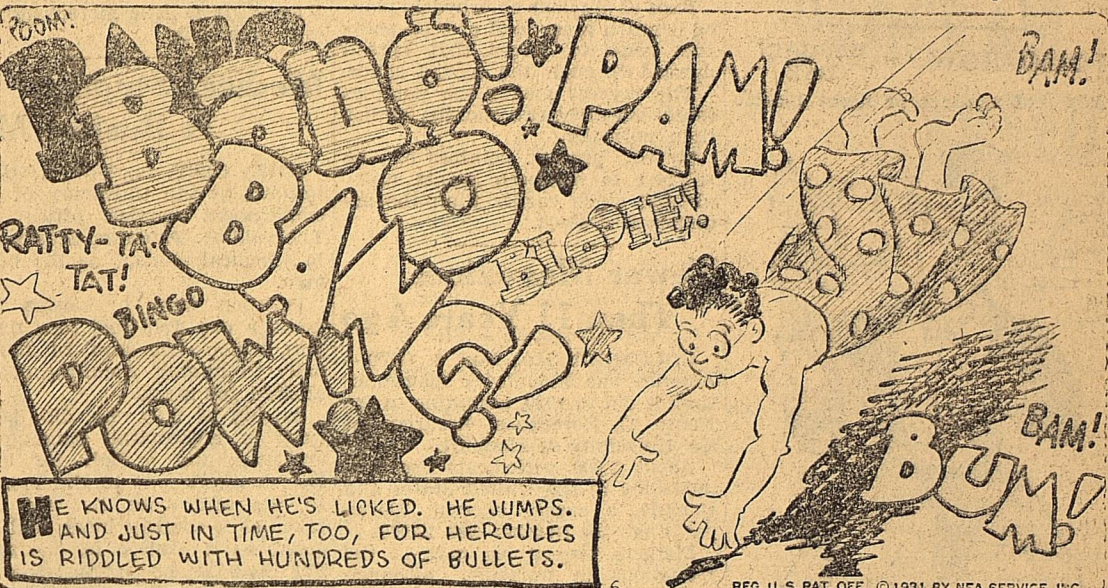

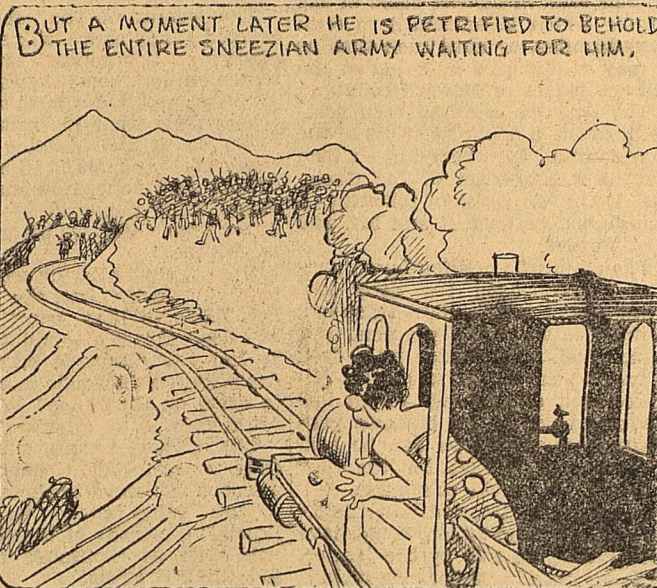

By Martin

WASH TUBBS

Just in Time!

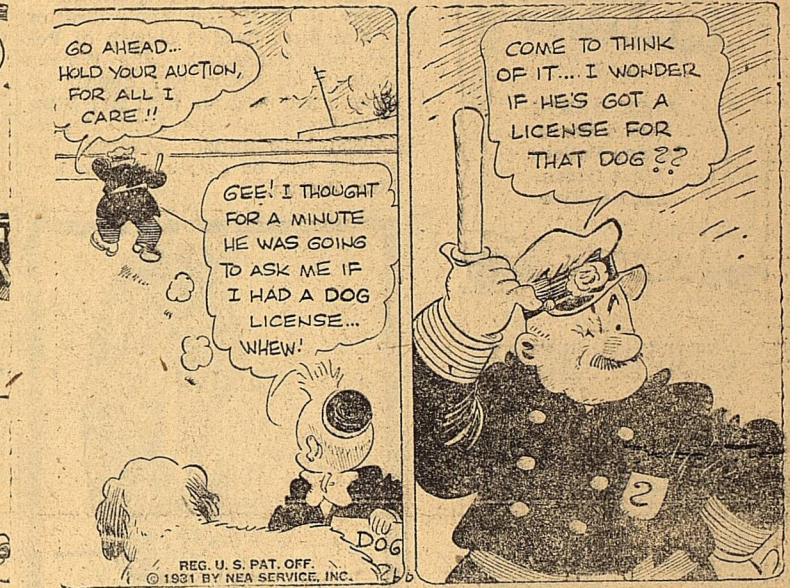

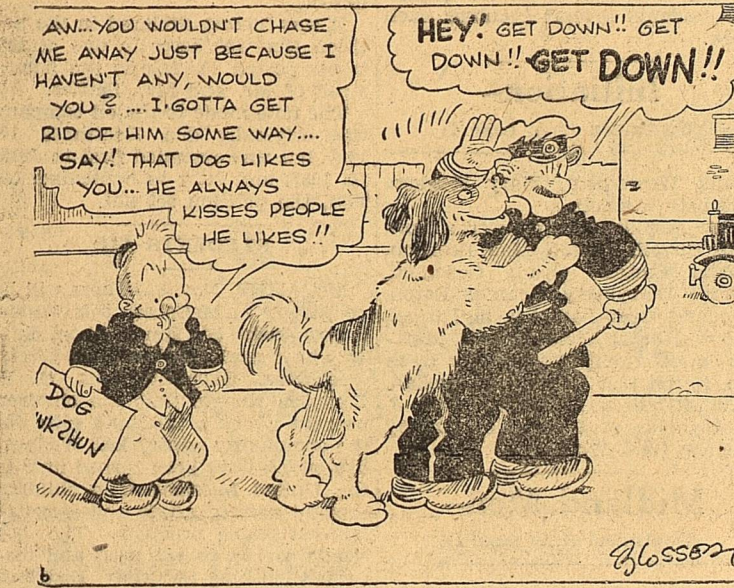

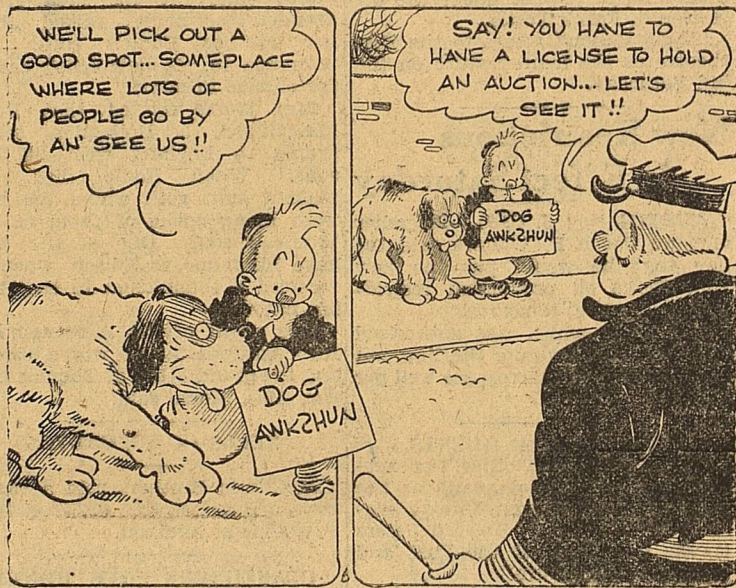

By Crane

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

On Second Thought!

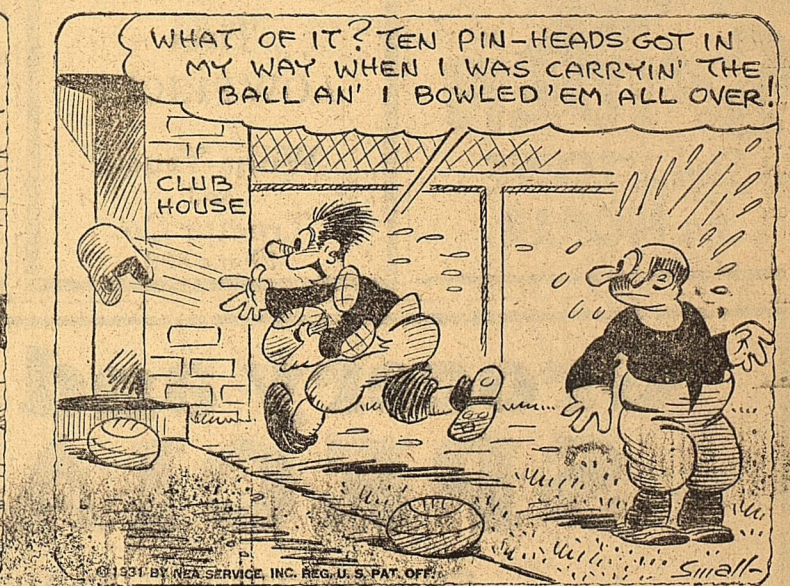

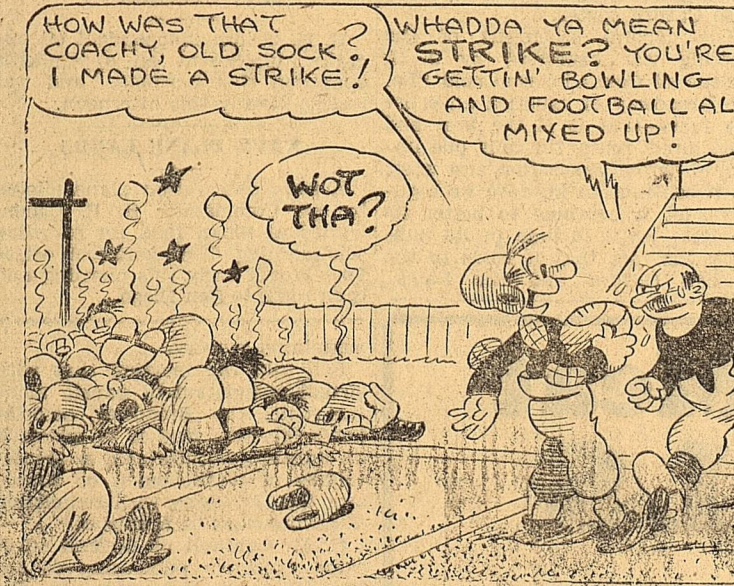

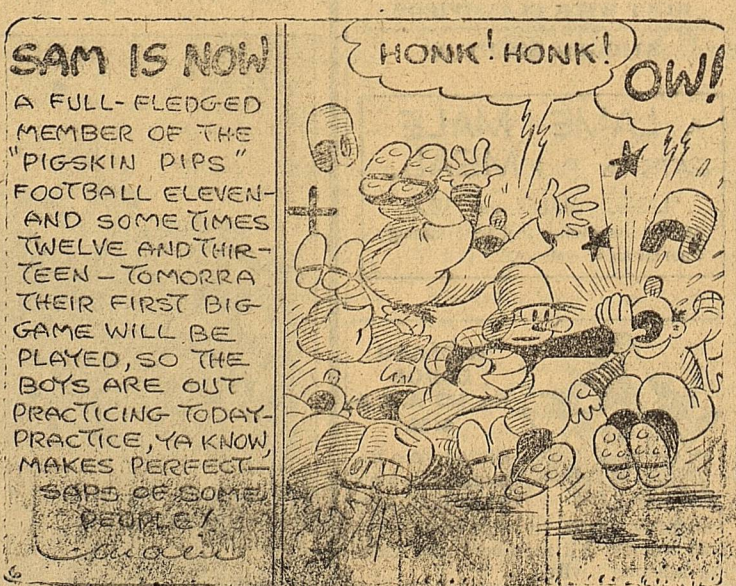

By Blosser

SALESMAN SAM

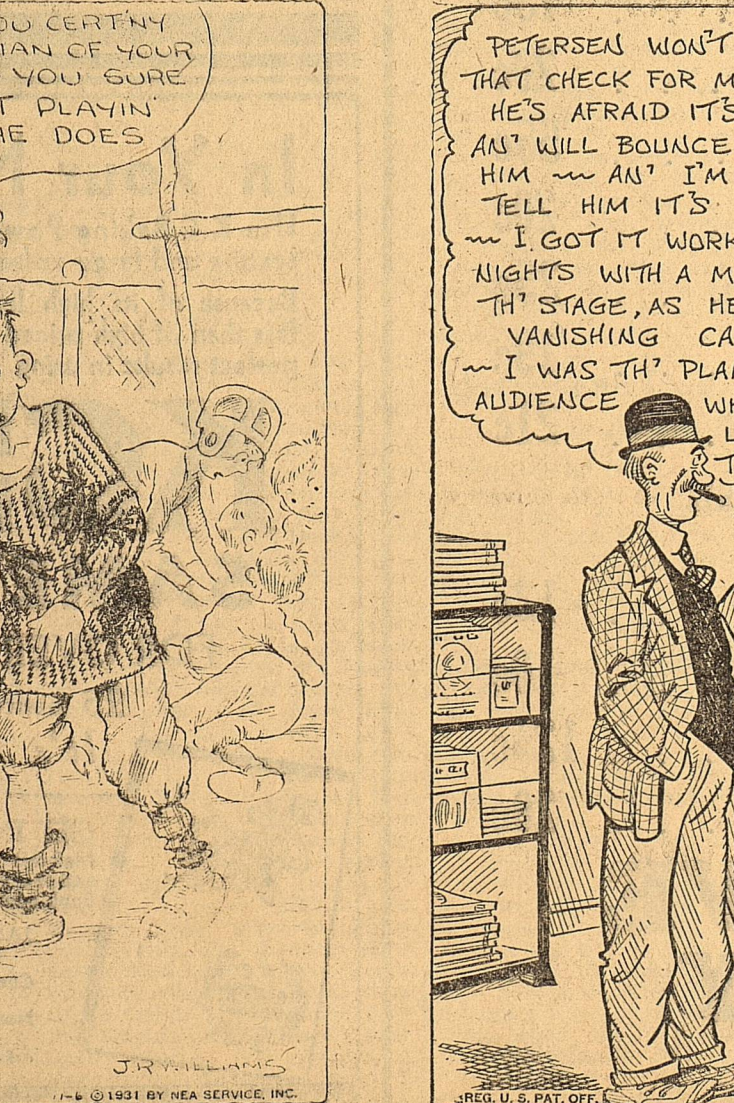

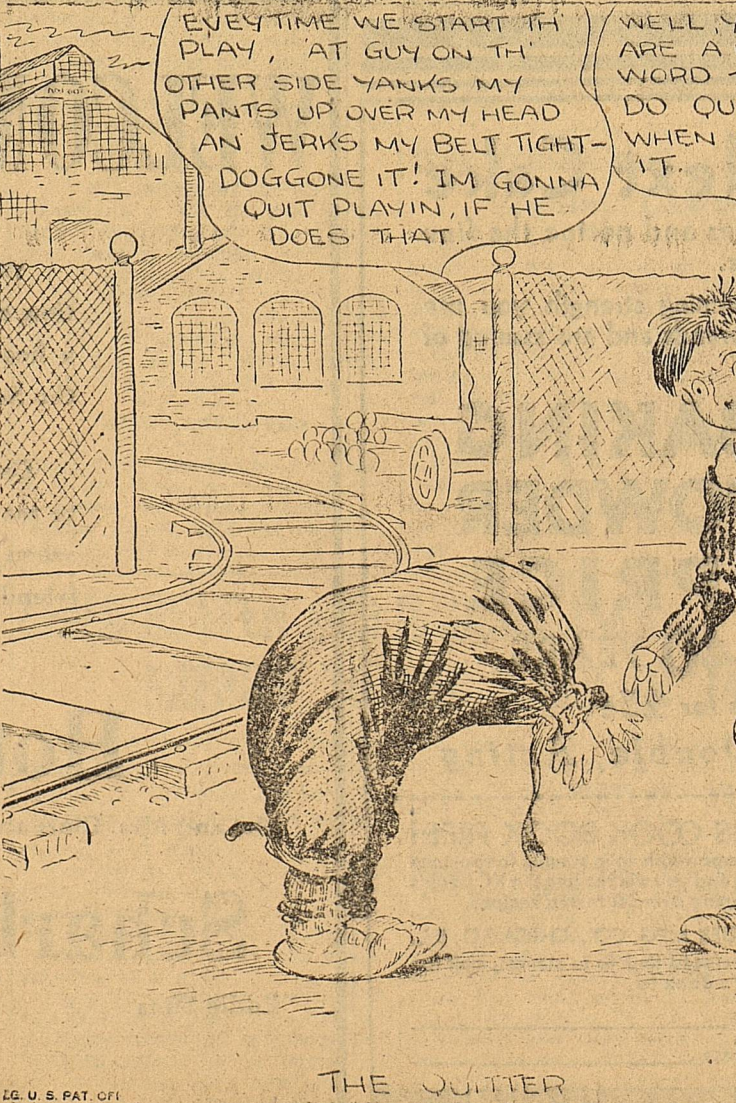

Spare Him, Coach!

By Small

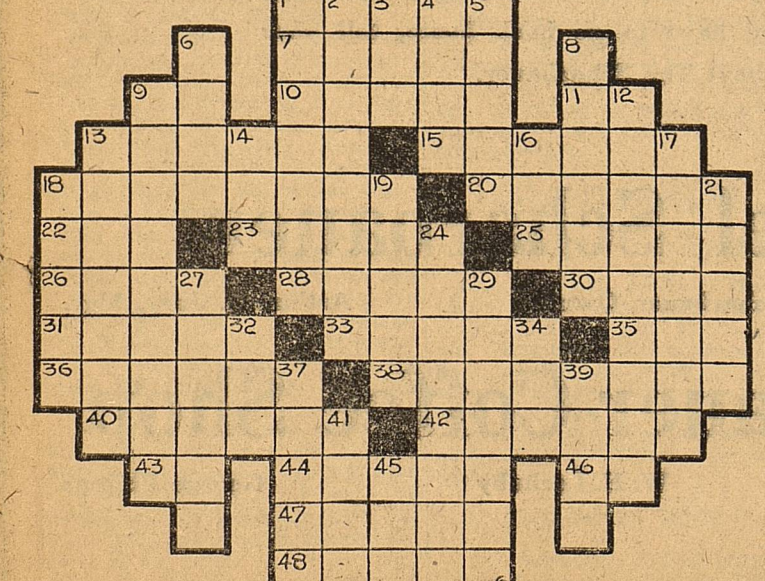

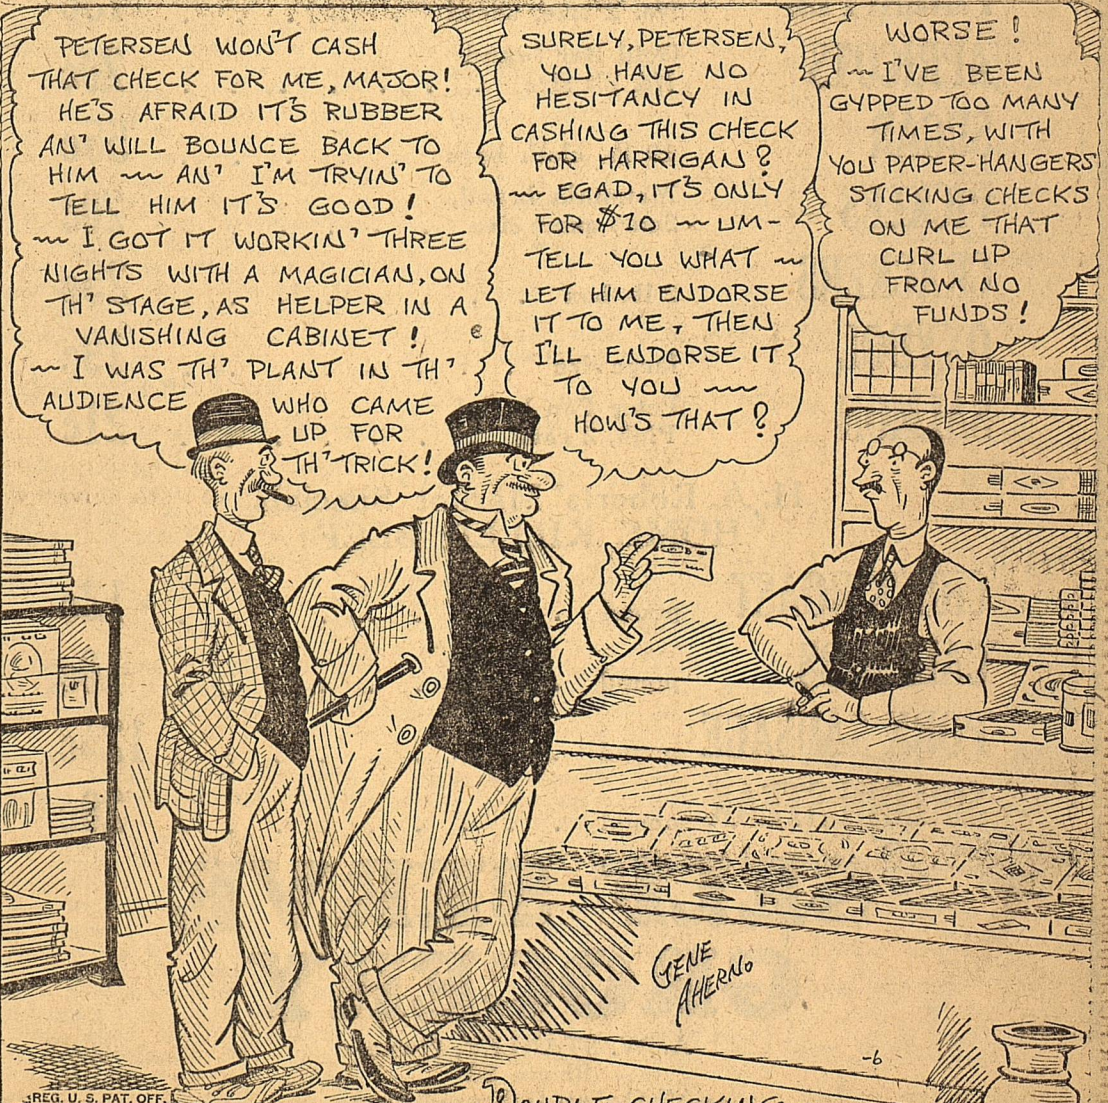

OUT OUR WAY

By Williams

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

By Ahern

JAIL SERVICES

Sunday school services will be conducted in the jail Sunday morning at 10:15 by a class of boys of the First Baptist church which is taught by R. O. Walker.

Any other boys of the city are invited to attend, said Walker.

In Norway, a chemical process has been invented to keep fish fresh for a month.

RITZ TODAY
One Day Only
Use Your Merchants Free Calendar Tickets

RUTH CHATTERTON
with Paul Lukas in
"UNFAITHFUL"

TOMORROW BARGAIN DAY
Any seat matinee or night 10c-25c

"DUDE RANCH"
A Paramount Picture

JACK OKIE
Stuart Erwin
Eugene Pallette
Mitzi Green
June Collyer

STARTING SUNDAY
Preview Sat. Night 11:15

THE SPIDER
with Edmund LOWE
Lois MORAN

NAVAL BOARD IS INVESTIGATING GUN EXPLOSION

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Nov. 6. (UP)—The naval board today began an inquiry into the explosion of an anti-aircraft gun which yesterday killed three seamen and one officer injuring nine others.

The explosion of a shell in a half opened breech was held responsible. Victims were swept by a hail of steel sweeping the upper deck.

The accident occurred during target practice. The guns were firing at a sleeve towed by an airplane.

Chemical Hastens Growth of Potato

ALLIANCE, Neb., Nov. 6. (UP)—Science has come to the aid of the certified seed potato growers of northwestern Nebraska.

Pans of ethylene chlorhydrin placed beneath a car load of seed potatoes generate fumes that spread upward through the sacks, speeding the process.

The process makes the potatoes reach maturity two months earlier than normally.

By this process, potatoes can be shipped to southern points and planted much earlier than the ordinary seed stock.

Fewer Magazines Than 11 Years Ago

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 6. (UP)—America has 3,000 fewer magazines than it did in 1920, according to Dr. Henry O. Severance, librarian at the University of Missouri.

About 9,000 periodicals are now published in the United States and Canada, a survey showed. Eleven years ago the number was 12,000.

Mergers play a big part in the reductions in numbers, although many of the magazines have been discontinued entirely.

MUSICIANS ON PROGRAM

Mrs. J. C. Wilson, choir director of the First Baptist church of Peconic, and her sister, Miss Warren Collins, of Peconic, will appear on the musical program with Mrs. Winston Borum at the First Baptist church here Sunday evening. The visitors will be guests of Rev. and Mrs. Borum.

GOODYEAR
Tires
LOW PRICES

Willis Truck and Tractor Co.
Phone 899

Blind Author Writes Novels

NAPA, Nov. 6. (UP)—Blazing western sunsets, the coloring of the desert and hills, the varying shades of the night sky—all these are described as background for a rapidly moving western novel just published by Charles H. Snow, blind author of this city.

Snow, who lost his eyesight several years ago, was justice of the peace of Napa township for four years despite his handicap. Later he acted as a newspaper correspondent and began writing stories, a number of which were accepted.

Now, he has had several books printed in England and two in the United States—the last a western novel, "The Sheriff of Christa Loma."

He does his own typing, using a machine over whose keys he has pasted bits of paper in ingenious fashion to enable him to distinguish the various letters.

The setting for most of his stories is laid in the southwest, a land of intense color. "If I had my eyes, I could do a little more," he modestly comments.

Medical Student Is Busiest Man

IOWA CITY, Ia., Nov. 6. (UP)—Records at the University of Iowa employment service office show Thorvald G. Petersen, Storm Lake, Ia., medical student as the busiest man.

Petersen went to classes three hours a day and held four regular jobs, which left him 30 minutes daily to himself exclusive of time allotted for meals.

Arising at 5:30, he did janitor work in a hospital building for an hour and a half for board. His classwork was in the morning. In the afternoon he was caretaker at a country home and then acted as a janitor in classrooms. For his room he watched the children of a local family each evening.

And, when he wasn't studying he did statistical work for graduate students several evenings each week.

Settles Sale Is Stopped By An Injunction

BIG SPRING, Nov. 6.—Issuance by Judge Charles L. Klapproth of 70th district court at Midland of a temporary restraining order Tuesday prevented a trustee's sale of more than 6,500 acres of Howard and Glasscock county lands, much of it producing oil property, all belonging to Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Settles of Big Spring.

The sale had been advertised to open at 10 a. m. Tuesday. A few minutes before that time Wilburn Barcus, attorney, presented papers to the sheriff at Big Spring which were served shortly afterward upon A. L. Arrington, substitute trustee for the Continental Oil company.

Judge Klapproth made the temporary order effective until the next regular term of district court in Big Spring which is scheduled to open next Monday, or until such time as it may be dissolved by either of the district judges of Howard county.

The trustee's sale had been posted to satisfy a debt of $118,000 to the Continental Oil company, which took over properties of the Group No. 1 Oil corporation following a transaction between it and Mr. and Mrs. Settles.

The plaintiff's petition for injunction acknowledged the debt but citing that the defendant twice had granted extensions of payment of a loan, which was secured by a deed of trust to the Settles properties, declared that due to very recent improvement in the oil business producing properties now can be sold on the open market for the first time since the debt was made.

The petition declared that the 6,500 acres of land which would have been placed on sale by the trustee, was now worth $200 per acre including oil and gas rights, or a total of $1,300,000 and that to sell all of it to satisfy a debt of $118,000 would be unjust.

It was further declared in the petition that 200 acres in one of the tracts posted for sale is the home-stand of Mr. and Mrs. Settles.

The note made to the oil company was originally due December 10, 1930, but was extended first to June 1931, and later to September 30, 1931, the petition set out.

Medical Student Is Busiest Man

IOWA CITY, Ia., Nov. 6. (UP)—Records at the University of Iowa employment service office show Thorvald G. Petersen, Storm Lake, Ia., medical student as the busiest man.

Petersen went to classes three hours a day and held four regular jobs, which left him 30 minutes daily to himself exclusive of time allotted for meals.

Arising at 5:30, he did janitor work in a hospital building for an hour and a half for board. His classwork was in the morning. In the afternoon he was caretaker at a country home and then acted as a janitor in classrooms. For his room he watched the children of a local family each evening.

And, when he wasn't studying he did statistical work for graduate students several evenings each week.

Initiation--
Continued from page 1

Frank Westerman, Mary Wisdom, Elizabeth Wolcott.

New pupils initiated were: Nora Mae Bizzell, Beulah Mae Brunson, Martis Cardin, Grace Copeland, George Derryberry, Frances Eaton, Margaret Grantham, Lucille Huegel, Valerie Huegel, Viola Ingham, Marilyn Jowell, Romie Koger, Jack Lawton, Naron Lee, Raymond Lewellan, Elga McCallum, Margaret Parks, J. C. Reynolds, A. W. Stanley, Audrey Ticknor, Sara Woods.

Midland Men--

(Continued from page 1)

1-A and 83 west of Albany, signs giving the correct directions from those points to El Paso, over the Broadway of America and the Dal-Paso Cavern routes.

The general sentiment of the meeting was expressed by J. H. Greene of Colorado, who said "Let the Broadway of America advertise the facts—that it is the best and most direct route, the only one improved across Texas east and west; let it continue to improve its highways, let it continue to better its services; let it include in its publicity the fact that it leads to the Carlsbad Cavern and the Davis mountains country."

Bell told the meeting that with virtual completion of paving along the route, the Broadway association's big task now is to advertise its advantages. He said a greater volume of traffic could be turned over the Broadway with completion of paving work in Arkansas.

C. M. Caldwell of Abilene advocated executive publicizing of the Broadway as the route to the Carlsbad Cavern and the Davis mountains.

The plan took off at Fort Worth early this morning and is en route to San Diego.

STUDENTS AID

MCCAMEY, Nov. 6.—There will be no hunger in McCamey this winter, it now seems. McCamey school children have made "Help Others Week" a success. Superintendent C. V. Compton reports that the children brought canned goods and sacks of non-perishable products. The boys' scouts are to collect used and discarded clothing Saturday. Distribution of all gifts will be by the United Missions.

Has Operation

B. H. Grube, independent oil operator, underwent an appendicitis operation this morning, and was resting quietly this afternoon.

Navy Plane Lands

A navy observation plane piloted by Lt. Commander S. P. Ginder landed at Sloan field last Wednesday morning. The plane took off at Fort Worth early this morning and is en route to San Diego.

mountains country.

Bell told the meeting that with virtual completion of paving along the route, the Broadway association's big task now is to advertise its advantages. He said a greater volume of traffic could be turned over the Broadway with completion of paving work in Arkansas.

C. M. Caldwell of Abilene advocated executive publicizing of the Broadway as the route to the Carlsbad Cavern and the Davis mountains.

The plan took off at Fort Worth early this morning and is en route to San Diego.

Settles Sale Is Stopped By An Injunction

BIG SPRING, Nov. 6.—Issuance by Judge Charles L. Klapproth of 70th district court at Midland of a temporary restraining order Tuesday prevented a trustee's sale of more than 6,500 acres of Howard and Glasscock county lands, much of it producing oil property, all belonging to Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Settles of Big Spring.

The sale had been advertised to open at 10 a. m. Tuesday. A few minutes before that time Wilburn Barcus, attorney, presented papers to the sheriff at Big Spring which were served shortly afterward upon A. L. Arrington, substitute trustee for the Continental Oil company.

Judge Klapproth made the temporary order effective until the next regular term of district court in Big Spring which is scheduled to open next Monday, or until such time as it may be dissolved by either of the district judges of Howard county.

The trustee's sale had been posted to satisfy a debt of $118,000 to the Continental Oil company, which took over properties of the Group No. 1 Oil corporation following a transaction between it and Mr. and Mrs. Settles.

The plaintiff's petition for injunction acknowledged the debt but citing that the defendant twice had granted extensions of payment of a loan, which was secured by a deed of trust to the Settles properties, declared that due to very recent improvement in the oil business producing properties now can be sold on the open market for the first time since the debt was made.

The petition declared that the 6,500 acres of land which would have been placed on sale by the trustee, was now worth $200 per acre including oil and gas rights, or a total of $1,300,000 and that to sell all of it to satisfy a debt of $118,000 would be unjust.

It was further declared in the petition that 200 acres in one of the tracts posted for sale is the home-stand of Mr. and Mrs. Settles.

The note made to the oil company was originally due December 10, 1930, but was extended first to June 1931, and later to September 30, 1931, the petition set out.

Medal Is Sought For Well Hero

CHARDON, O., Nov. 6. (UP)—Friends of Walter C. Best, 28, have applied for a Carnegie medal as a tribute to his heroism in rescuing Robert Molzon, 18, from the bottom of a gas filled well.

Best descended into the well to rescue Molzon who had been overcome after entering the well to investigate a dynamite explosion.

Film Cowboys All Het up Over Oakie

Two old-time film cowboys, loitering near the main entrance of the Paramount West Coast studios and reminiscing over their adventures in Arizona before they trekked to Hollywood to find work in motion pictures, pricked up their ears when the familiar jingle of "What the—!" ejaculated one of the ex-cowhands as he caught a glimpse of the be-spurred individual emerging from a sport roadster.

The wearer of the spurs also boasted gaudy chaps, silk shirt with elaborate trimmings, immaculate ten gallon hat, boots that shone like a mirror, and had a huge six-shooter dangling from his belt.

"So that's the talking picture western!" remarked the cowboy. "There ain't no such animal, or I'm crazy. They didn't dress like that in my time. Guess we better go back to Arizona."

"Pipe down," said the second cowboy; "it's Jack Oakie, the star, and he's liable to hear you."

"Don't care if it's Emil Jannings," replied the disgruntled critic. "Why don't they dress Oakie like we used to dress on the range? What's the world coming to, anyway?"

The cowboys were arguing about Oakie's sartorial elegance when someone explained to them that the picture being made was "Dude Ranch," a comedy of the fictionalized wild west as thousands of people still think it exists.

June Collyer, Stuart Erwin, Eugene Pallette, Mitzi Green and a host of others appear in the Paramount laugh feature under the direction of Frank Tuttle.

"Dude Ranch" comes to the Ritz theatre as the main feature on the bill Saturday.

New Restrictions In Effect Saturday

AUSTIN, Nov. 6. (UP)—Brigadier General Jacob F. Wolters said today that he would put the new East Texas oil production restrictions into effect tomorrow.

The order, which was authorized last night by Governor Sterling, cut production to 125 barrels per well per day.

LEGIONNAIRE GUESTS

Legionnaires and other war veterans will be special guests at the First Christian church Sunday evening when the Rev. Howard Peters speaks on "Wars of the Past and Wars of the Future."

The minister will speak especially on Biblical prophecy and the present China-Japan situation.

Rent With Classifieds Sticker Solution

A LAME MALE EATS A BIG MEAL.

"LAME," "MALE" and "MEAL" are the three words that were missing from the above sentence.

MIDLAND LODGE
No. 623 A. F. A. M.
Stated communications 2nd and 4th Thursday night in each month at 7:30 o'clock. All members and visiting Masons invited.
Henry Butler, W. M.
Claude O. Crane, Secy.

WELCOME, LAUNDRYMEN!

Whether stopping in Midland as a convention delegate or a casual visitor you will find a hearty welcome at Hotel Scharbauer and in the Scharbauer Coffee Shop.

Call on us for what you want. Let us help to make your stay more enjoyable. And then, when you have to go back home, tell your friends about The Scharbauer.

Hotel Scharbauer

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer, Owners. Arthur G. Jury, Mgr.

Scharbauer Coffee Shop

Eddie Sims W. H. Lochaby George Phillips

Lightfoot Here For Inspection Of Commandery

Jewel P. Lightfoot, grand sword bearer and representative of the eminent grand commander of the Knights Templar of Texas, inspected the Midland commandery No. 84 in an annual inspection Wednesday night. With him were two escorts, Jake P. Zurn, past eminent grand commander of the Knights Templar of Texas, and C. W. Conner, past commander of the Fort Worth commandery, No. 19. All were of Fort Worth.

A banquet was given in the Scharbauer hotel at 6:15.

The inspection was held at 8 o'clock at the commandery hall, with 45 Sir Knights present, 10 of them from Big Spring. Visitors were: R. T. Pinner, W. W. Inkman, R. Currie, J. N. Cowan, J. F. Wolcott, Arthur Woodall, C. W. Cunningham, Otto Wolfe, E. Notersline and R. V. Middleton of Big Spring, and Grove R. Porter of Waxahachie. All Sir Knights were in uniform.

The inspection paid high tribute to the commandery officers of Midland. These are: L. B. Pemberton, commander; Roy R. McKee, generalissimo; George Glass, captain general; John Howe, senior warden; L. L. Butler, junior warden; David M. Ellis, recorder; W. R. Upham, treasurer; H. Butler, standard bearer; J. A. Ellis, sword bearer; R. B. Cowden, warden; M. D. Johnson, prelate, and M. C. Ulmer, sentinel.

Edison Family From Holland

DETROIT, Nov. 6. (UP)—The trunk of the Thomas Alva Edison family tree was a Dutch family name, according to Mrs. Frederick H. Morse, a second cousin of the late inventor.

"Edison's name would have been recorded in history as Thomas Alva Marcellison," Mrs. Morse said, "if his great-grandmother hadn't talked about her brother Eddie's sons. Her reference to 'Eddie's sons' caused the change in name."

Mrs. Morse related that Eddie Marcellison, a Hollander, immigrated to England with his two sons. When Eddie died, the maiden aunt with whom the boys were living spoke of them as her brother's sons. One of the boys gave his name as Edison when he received a commission in the British navy.

The naval officer later came to New Amsterdam. He was a banker and the grandfather of Thomas Edison, Mrs. Morse said.

Sells Cows, Calves

McClintic Brothers sold a car of cows and calves this morning to J. P. Collins of Midland.

Answers Editorial Of Midland Paper

Joe Taylor, conductor of "State Press" in The Dallas News, has an interesting observation on a recent editorial that appeared in The Reporter-Telegram.

Said an editorial in The Reporter-Telegram:

"The Pacific freight steamer that got off its course in a gale and passed an isolated coral island where some eighty descendants of a roving beach-comber of the old days live in dreamy peace, untouched by the world's alarms, gave its crew an experience for which the ordinary mortal, probably, would give several years of his life. The dream of an island paradise in the South Seas is an old one—as old, at least, as Drake and Magellan. Very few of us, any more, even dream of living in such a place; but we still feel that we would like to visit one, some day, if the gods could be so kind. And there sailors had that ancient wish fulfilled."

And Taylor answers in The Dallas News:

"It must be right monotonous, living on a narrow island seldom touched by ships or visited by missionaries. If every day were like Sunday in grand old Texas it would get on your nerves after a while, wouldn't it? Another ship recently rescued three marooned sailors from a Pacific isle, where they had been six months. They had subsisted themselves on coconuts and wild pig meat. Sometimes they were fortunate enough to catch a few little minnows or shell fish in the beach puddles, but coconut and pig meat was their mainstay. And

Keystone Chapter No. 172 R. A. M.

Stated communications first Tuesday of each month, 7:30. All members and visiting Chapter Masons invited.
M. D. JOHNSON, H. F. Claude O. Crane, Secy.

CLASSIFIEDS SAVE MONEY

Hotel Scharbauer

WELCOME, LAUNDRYMEN!

Whether stopping in Midland as a convention delegate or a casual visitor you will find a hearty welcome at Hotel Scharbauer and in the Scharbauer Coffee Shop.

Call on us for what you want. Let us help to make your stay more enjoyable. And then, when you have to go back home, tell your friends about The Scharbauer.

Hotel Scharbauer

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer, Owners. Arthur G. Jury, Mgr.

Scharbauer Coffee Shop

Eddie Sims W. H. Lochaby George Phillips

City Car Company Gives Family Rates

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 6. (UP)—In an effort to stimulate street car riding on Sunday a new "family" car ride plan has been decided upon by the Public Service company here.

Fowell C. Groner, president of the company, announced the plan would be tried for four Sundays. It provides that a family of five may ride for a nickel each upon presentation of a single "permit" card. The permit cards are sold to those who ride regularly, enabling them to secure a rate lower than the usual ten cents.

Answers Editorial Of Midland Paper

Joe Taylor, conductor of "State Press" in The Dallas News, has an interesting observation on a recent editorial that appeared in The Reporter-Telegram.

Said an editorial in The Reporter-Telegram:

"The Pacific freight steamer that got off its course in a gale and passed an isolated coral island where some eighty descendants of a roving beach-comber of the old days live in dreamy peace, untouched by the world's alarms, gave its crew an experience for which the ordinary mortal, probably, would give several years of his life. The dream of an island paradise in the South Seas is an old one—as old, at least, as Drake and Magellan. Very few of us, any more, even dream of living in such a place; but we still feel that we would like to visit one, some day, if the gods could be so kind. And there sailors had that ancient wish fulfilled."

And Taylor answers in The Dallas News:

"It must be right monotonous, living on a narrow island seldom touched by ships or visited by missionaries. If every day were like Sunday in grand old Texas it would get on your nerves after a while, wouldn't it? Another ship recently rescued three marooned sailors from a Pacific isle, where they had been six months. They had subsisted themselves on coconuts and wild pig meat. Sometimes they were fortunate enough to catch a few little minnows or shell fish in the beach puddles, but coconut and pig meat was their mainstay. And

Keystone Chapter No. 172 R. A. M.

Stated communications first Tuesday of each month, 7:30. All members and visiting Chapter Masons invited.
M. D. JOHNSON, H. F. Claude O. Crane, Secy.

CLASSIFIEDS SAVE MONEY

Hotel Scharbauer

WELCOME, LAUNDRYMEN!

Whether stopping in Midland as a convention delegate or a casual visitor you will find a hearty welcome at Hotel Scharbauer and in the Scharbauer Coffee Shop.

Call on us for what you want. Let us help to make your stay more enjoyable. And then, when you have to go back home, tell your friends about The Scharbauer.

Hotel Scharbauer

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer, Owners. Arthur G. Jury, Mgr.

Scharbauer Coffee Shop

Eddie Sims W. H. Lochaby George Phillips

City Car Company Gives Family Rates

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 6. (UP)—In an effort to stimulate street car riding on Sunday a new "family" car ride plan has been decided upon by the Public Service company here.

Fowell C. Groner, president of the company, announced the plan would be tried for four Sundays. It provides that a family of five may ride for a nickel each upon presentation of a single "permit" card. The permit cards are sold to those who ride regularly, enabling them to secure a rate lower than the usual ten cents.

Answers Editorial Of Midland Paper

Joe Taylor, conductor of "State Press" in The Dallas News, has an interesting observation on a recent editorial that appeared in The Reporter-Telegram.

Said an editorial in The Reporter-Telegram:

"The Pacific freight steamer that got off its course in a gale and passed an isolated coral island where some eighty descendants of a roving beach-comber of the old days live in dreamy peace, untouched by the world's alarms, gave its crew an experience for which the ordinary mortal, probably, would give several years of his life. The dream of an island paradise in the South Seas is an old one—as old, at least, as Drake and Magellan. Very few of us, any more, even dream of living in such a place; but we still feel that we would like to visit one, some day, if the gods could be so kind. And there sailors had that ancient wish fulfilled."

And Taylor answers in The Dallas News:

"It must be right monotonous, living on a narrow island seldom touched by ships or visited by missionaries. If every day were like Sunday in grand old Texas it would get on your nerves after a while, wouldn't it? Another ship recently rescued three marooned sailors from a Pacific isle, where they had been six months. They had subsisted themselves on coconuts and wild pig meat. Sometimes they were fortunate enough to catch a few little minnows or shell fish in the beach puddles, but coconut and pig meat was their mainstay. And

Keystone Chapter No. 172 R. A. M.

Stated communications first Tuesday of each month, 7:30. All members and visiting Chapter Masons invited.
M. D. JOHNSON, H. F. Claude O. Crane, Secy.

CLASSIFIEDS SAVE MONEY

Hotel Scharbauer

WELCOME, LAUNDRYMEN!

Whether stopping in Midland as a convention delegate or a casual visitor you will find a hearty welcome at Hotel Scharbauer and in the Scharbauer Coffee Shop.

Call on us for what you want. Let us help to make your stay more enjoyable. And then, when you have to go back home, tell your friends about The Scharbauer.

Hotel Scharbauer

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer, Owners. Arthur G. Jury, Mgr.

Scharbauer Coffee Shop

Eddie Sims W. H. Lochaby George Phillips

they got awfully fat, despite the exercise they got in catching the pigs and climbing for the nuts. Very glad they were to be released from their isolation, and very happy were they at sitting down to good old sailor food like beans and hard-tack and salt bacon boiled with greens. A German doctor and his wife are now the sole human inhabitants of a little pinehead island in the Pacific and he is writing a serial account of their struggles to sustain themselves. It seems to be an experiment in nonsocial existence and they have built themselves a shack, laid out a garden and managed to live in comfort except for the wild animals and insects which annoy them dreadfully. Not needing clothes in the tropical climate, they have dispensed with that concession to society, but the insects prey them persistently and they may have to make themselves dresses of fig leaves ere long. It may have been insects that drove Adam and Eve to that extremity. Anyhow, life on a lonely island has its drawbacks. And nowadays, the radio must make the islanders curious about the outside world, granting they have a receiving set."

KILLED IN CRASH

WACO, Nov. 6. (UP)—J. G. Lancaster, 30, of Waco and Ed Ockander, 24, prominent local aviator, were killed today when their plane crashed here.

Grand Dix

Today Tomorrow

RICHARD DIX

with Jackie Cooper, sensational star of "Skippy"

YOUNG DONOVAN KID

The power of "Cimarron," glory of "Skippy," in one great drama. Krazy Kat — Phantom No. 8

Starting Sunday

"LOVER COME BACK" with Betty Bronson—Jack Mulhall

Matinee Daily—Always 10c-25c

Grocery and Meat SPECIALS

FOR SATURDAY, NOV. 7th

PINEAPPLE	Gold Bar brand No. 2 size, sliced	15c
APRICOTS	Gold Bar brand No. 2 1/2 size	20c
SUGAR	10 lb. cloth bags	55c
PICKLES	Mountain brand, Sour, quart size	20c
CRACKERS	2 lb. box	25c
OXYDOL	large size	19c
SALMON	Peter Pan brand, Pink, 2 cans	21c

H. A. Roberts' Market Specials
HOME KILLED BEEF

CHUCK ROAST	pound	12c
CALF RIBS	pound	10c
PORK SAUSAGE	pound	12 1/2c
SIRLOIN STEAK	pound	20c

SELF SERVE GROCERY

A. W. STANLEY, Owner
Phone 28
—All Orders Delivered Free—

In Your Next Cake

Use KC Baking Powder and notice the fine texture and large volume.

Because of its high leavening strength you use less than of high priced brands and are assured of perfect results in using

KC BAKING POWDER

SAME PRICE

FOR OVER 40 YEARS

25 ounces for 25c
It's Double Acting

GET THIS COOK BOOK FREE!

Mail this coupon with 4c in stamps for postage and packing and you will receive the KC Cook's Book containing over 90 tested recipes.

JACQUES MFG. CO., CHICAGO, ILL.
Enclosed find 4c in stamps, mail the Cook's Book to

Name _____
Address _____

MILLIONS OF POUNDS USED BY OUR GOVERNMENT

WELCOME, LAUNDRYMEN!

Whether stopping in Midland as a convention delegate or a casual visitor you will find a hearty welcome at Hotel Scharbauer and in the Scharbauer Coffee Shop.

Call on us for what you want. Let us help to make your stay more enjoyable. And then, when you have to go back home, tell your friends about The Scharbauer.

Hotel Scharbauer

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer, Owners. Arthur G. Jury, Mgr.

Scharbauer Coffee Shop

Eddie Sims W. H. Lochaby George Phillips