MULLICAN DENIES BAIL FOR LESTER

FALL DRAWS PRISON TERM, HUGE FINE

YEAR IN JAIL ASSESSED FOR EX-SECRETARY

NEW TRIAL IS DENIED AND FINE IS SET AT $100,000

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Albert B. Fall, former cabinet officer convicted of receiving a $100,000 bribe, today was sentenced to one year in jail and fined $100,000 after a motion for a new trial had been denied by Justine Hitz in the District of Columbia Supreme court.

Albert B. Fall

Under the law the maximum sentence that could have been given the former cabinet member was three times the amount he received or a $300,000 fine and three years in federal prison.

Took Short Time

The defense attorneys made a brief and formal motion at the opening of court and the proceedings were over in a few minutes.

Justice Hitz said had Fall been in good physical condition he would have imposed full sentence, but that in view of his health he would have suspended sentence if it had taken effect at once.

Will Suspend Sentence

The court let defense counsel understand that if the appeal were dropped he would suspend sentence as long as Fall's physical condition was such as it is now.

Doheny, accused of giving Fall the bribe in return for a lease on the navy's Elk Hills, California, oil reserve, was not in court when the former secretary of the interior was sentenced. In contrast to the tumultuous scenes in court when Fall

FARMING SAID TO BE STAPLE

PRICES INCREASED IN NEARLY ALL LINES, IS REPORT

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The department of agriculture announced today that its November reports showed agriculture to be in a stronger position this year than a year ago largely on account of lower production and higher prices.

Since early summer, the department said, prices of practically all groups of farm commodities with the exception of meat animals, had increased.

Output Decreased

Total output of principal food and feed crops this year, it continued, would be somewhat below that of last year although the acreage harvested would be about the same. Hay was listed as the only important crop which substantially exceeds production of last year.

Notwithstanding favorable weather in September, the department said, crops of grain, potatoes, sweet potatoes and tree fruits would be smaller than last season, and it now seemed probable that yields per acre of all crops combined would average 7 per cent below yields of the preceding ten years.

COTTON CHIEF MAY COME TO LUBBOCK SOON

CARL WILLIAMS, FARM BOARD MEMBER, TO BE INVITED HERE

The possibility of having Carl Williams of Oklahoma, member of the federal farm board representing the cotton states, as one of the principal speakers at the second annual Farmers' Short Course, to be held at the Texas Technological college this winter, was learned here today.

It being understood that Williams is to speak before a meeting of the Texas Wool Growers association at San Angelo early in January, plans were made at a conference held in the office of Dean A. H. Leidigh, of the Tech school of agriculture, this morning, to bring the farm board member to Lubbock on his way to or from San Angelo. Besides Leidigh, those attending the conference were H. J. Bower, professor of agronomy at Tech; Lynn Stokes, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association; R. E. Overstreet and N. H. Payne, officials of the Farm Bureau.

Uphold Dates

Dates for the Texas Tech short course will, therefore, be set in accordance with the itinerary of

(By Associated Press)

More than 400 round trip tickets for the Texas Tech special train to Waco had been sold shortly after noon today with indications that the 500 mark will be reached before night.

The majority of tickets already sold were purchased by college students and a number of local grid fans are expected to join Matador delegation.

Word has been received from Littlefield, Ralls and Crosbyton that delegations from these points will be on hand tonight at 7 o'clock when the special train pulls out.

Members of the Tech football squad, together with Coaches Higginbotham and Payne, will be included in the party.

Foul Play Is Seen In Borger 'Mishap'

BORGER, Nov. 1 (AP)—The body of J. H. Harris, 27, carbon black plant employe, today was found entangled in the machinery of the plant where he was employed by two fellow workmen. Police and insurance company officers immediately started an investigation.

Possibility of foul play was suggested after physicians had examined the body and reported a head wound had not bled. They also said Harris' skull and neck were possibly fractured.

A coroner's inquest was to be held late today.

'CONGRESSIONAL BOOTLEGGER' NAILED ON DELIVERY VISIT TO SENATE HALL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Arrested at the entrance of the Senate office building, George L. Cassidy, once known as "the man in the green hat," was at liberty today on $3,000 bond, posted on charges of transportation and possession of intoxicating liquor.

Cassidy was prominent in the news several years ago when he was identified as the man who had, when accosted by an officer in the House office building, dropped a brief case containing a bottle of liquor and fled. The policeman in question remembered only the color of Cassidy's hat and a search was instituted for "the man in the green hat" which finally resulted in his arrest.

The second arrest came yesterday. Police had followed him from his home to the Senate office building, where he left a package from the car and started again toward the entrance. Then he was arrested.

Police said the package he carried contained a bottle of whiskey and that two more were found in the machine. A search of his home, they said, disclosed a stock of 226 quarts of assorted liquors.

Walton Threatened Life Of Hamilton, Jury Told

SCHOOLMATES OF DEAD YOUTH TAKE STAND FOR ACCUSED MAN

(By Associated Press)

WEATHERFORD, Nov. 1.—Telling of threats Tom Walton had made against her father, R. H. Hamilton, before he allegedly shot Walton to death, Helen Hamilton was on the witness stand in her father's murder trial here today when court recessed at noon.

Helen, 21, now working on her master of arts degree at the University of Texas, where she was a student when her sister Theresa married Walton last February 10, said several of her friends and sisters in the Gamma Phi Beta sorority had told her of threats Walton had made against her father.

One of the girls, Grace Sanderson, told her, Helen testified, that Walton had said he had been a member of Al Capone's gang in Chicago and had "two Chicago gunmen shagging" Hamilton. Helen declared she told her mother of the threats and wrote letters to her father about them.

Five girls in all testified to threats Walton allegedly made against Hamilton.

(By Associated Press)

WEATHERFORD, Nov. 1—Schoolmates of Tom Walton, Jr., at the University of Texas, today told of threats he had made against his father-in-law, R. H. Hamilton of Amarillo, on trial for slaying Walton.

Three young women, two members of Gamma Phi Beta, sorority to which Walton's then 17-year-old bride belonged, and the third the daughter of an associate justice of the Texas supreme court, said Walton threatened to kill Hamilton while Theresa was in an Austin hospital recovering from an appendicitis operation.

Janet Carter, of Dallas, declared: "He (Walton) said that if any member of the Hamilton family tried to come between him and Theresa he had means to get out of the way without getting his own hands and feet dirty. He said that if I doubted that, I could write to a Chicago address and ask about the 'Kid from Oklahoma.' He said a rattlesnake was a gentleman because it rattles before it strikes. He said he wouldn't be a gentleman."

Miss Carter added that at the City, County Get Halloween Fines

DRUNKS AND GAMBLERS PAY OFF FOR THEIR CELEBRATIONS

In addition to innumerable instances of such actions as emptying swill barrels upon streets, sidewalks and at one home, throwing a bucket, full of such into the front room, the door was opened in response to a knock, thereby ruining a fine rug and injuring a radio and furniture. Hallowe'en in Lubbock was marked with the arrest of six persons for drunkenness, eight for gaming and seven traffic law violations.

Of the drunks, three paid fines of $14.15 each, including costs, in Judge Clark's court, and two paid $15 each in the corporation court.

Gamesters Pay Off

The eight gamblers were arrested by city police and paid fines of $5 each before Judge J. T. Innion this morning. One left turn violation brought a $3 fine and six who parked in the wrong zone for more than two hours each paid $2 in the city court.

Hallowe'en Pranks End In Shooting

LONGVIEW, Nov. 1 (AP)—J. B. Gordon, 18, Longview high school football star, received a flesh wound in the left arm last night as he and several other boys started to enter an old school building here to ring a bell. Joe Galvan, janitor and authorized to watch the property against Hallowe'en celebrants, admitted firing a gun to frighten the boys.

November Building Given Early Start

A brick and tile addition to the Ne-Hi Bottling company's building, at 2415 Main street, costing $1,000, was the only building permit recorded in the office of D. J. Schlag, city building inspector, this morning.

This permit was issued to J. R. Jameson, as owner and contractor on the addition.

October's building permits totalled $66,020 for 31, bringing the year's total to $3,070,484 for 542. With today's permit this year's total is raised another $1,000. October of 1928 showed $174,560.

MARKED GAIN SHOWN OVER LAST YEAR AS 1929 TAX MONEY STARTS IN HERE

Payment of 1929 taxes, which became due on October 1, have been much better through the month of October this year than for the same period of last year, according to County Tax Collector A. J. Clark.

"Although the report for last month is not yet prepared," remarked Mr. Clark, "we will announce the exact amount of taxes collected within a day or so. However, there is considerable increase over last year's collections, which is due to the cotton crop being gathered earlier than in 1923."

This year's automobile license tax will not be payable until on and after January 1, announces Mr. Clark, because of the new law regulating this. Last year motorists began taking out their new year's auto license plates on December 1. These plates for 1930 have arrived, however, but no receipt blanks.

To date a total of 10,438 passenger automobiles have been licensed in Lubbock county records of the collector's office reveal, with 1,134 licenses for motor trucks and a total of 4,530 automobile transfers recorded.

HABEAS CORPUS HEARING FOR ALLEGED SLAYER IS GREETED BY BODY OF THRILL SEEKERS

BY SUTTON CHRISTIAN
Of The Journal Staff

Clay Lester, 35, charged by grand jury indictment with murder in connection with the fatal shooting here October 24 of his estranged wife, Mrs. Virgie Lester, 36, was returned to jail this afternoon at 3:15 o'clock, after District Judge Clark M. Mullican had denied bail, following habeas corpus proceedings. Five witnesses were used on the stand.

Court Room Crowded

Judge Clark M. Mullican's published order this morning that sworn testimony in the hearing would be restrained from publication in Lubbock county newspapers had apparently aided in packing the court room with an interested mass of people at the morning and afternoon sessions.

Lester, his left hand pressed at times against his cheek and holding a sheet of paper and a pencil in the other hand, is maintaining a nonchalant composure throughout the proceedings. He did not take notes, however.

In a dark suit, slightly wrinkled, and wearing a neat cravat, he appeared presentably dressed.

Watches Witnesses

His eyes rested closely upon each witness. Once he placed his paper and pencil on the attorney's table, affected a studious pose, and in the next minute he had apparently disregarded what seemed to have been a planned notation of a witness' statement. He furtively glanced two or three times at District Attorney Durwood Bradley while the prosecutor was engaged in direct questioning of L. H. McKaughan, who operates a small store directly south of the cafe, on north Avenue, of which Mrs. Lester was part owner.

Roscoe, 10-year-old son of Lester, a pupil in the third grade at the George M. Hunt school, was not in the court room.

Necks Are Craned

Necks were craned in efforts to get advantageous glimpses when Lester entered the crowded room. Scores of late arrivals at the fore and afternoon sessions, unable to obtain seats, lined the walls in standing positions.

There was scarcely an attorney in the city who was absent from the proceedings.

A former student of Texas university and Texas A. & M. college, Lester appears alert and calm during the proceedings. At university he studied law, but the World war disrupted his plans for completion of work for a degree, and he never SEAFORD Del., Nov. 1 (AP)—Nineteen persons, among them the six-year-old grandaughter of former State Senator J. P. Dutton, were struck by shot in the accidental discharge of a shotgun during a Hallowe'en parade here last night.

The accident occurred when Thomas Dose, negro, 18, dropped the gun as it was handed to him by Allan Stack, state trooper, who had been firing at a stuffed raccoon in a tree on a float. Both barrels of the gun were discharged, and the shot scattered through the crowd. Among those slightly wounded were seven members of the Milford High school boys' band. Dose was arrested.

CHARGE FILED AFTER MURDER

PORT ARTHUR SUSPECT IS SILENT; CRIES OVER CORPSE

(By Associated Press)

BEAUMONT, Nov. 1—Maintaining a stoical silence, Luther Berwick, 23, was in jail here today, charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Miss Belle Crow, 18, and William Byrd, 21, in front of the girl's Port Arthur home late Wednesday night.

When arrested in Port Arthur, Berwick vehemently denied his guilt, or any knowledge of the double murder. After the murder charge was filed against him, he refused to talk further.

Shot From Car

Miss Crow and Byrd were shot to death from a parked car, as they alighted from another car in front of her home. They were found dead near the doorway with their hands still clasped together.

Police believe jealousy inspired the killing. Berwick, when taken to view the dead girl's body, broke into tears.

Dallas Police Seek Traces of Robbery

DALLAS, Nov. 1. (AP)—Police today were seeking a solution of the disappearance of $2,836 in a hand bag that disappeared from a motor truck of the Dallas Railway & Terminal company yesterday while it was en route from the Oak Cliff car barns to a Dallas bank. It was said the affair was reported to the police with a request that it be kept from newspaper reporters.

JUDGES FUSS OVER RATLIFF

EASTLAND BANDIT TO SCENE OF CRIME IN HOME COUNTY

(By Associated Press)

HUNTSVILLE, Nov. 1—The proposed sanity hearing for Marshall Ratliff, condemned Cisco bank robber, today had resolved into a fight between two courts, each seeking jurisdiction, with one court charging the other with disrespect.

The charge was made by Judge F. H. Singeltary, of Walker county, who was enjoined yesterday by District Judge George Davenport, of Eastland county, from having any further connection with the hearing.

Judge Singeltary declared the Ratliff hearing would remain on his docket until the prisoner was returned here, despite any actions in the Eastland court. "Ratliff," he said, "was literally kidnaped from this court."

Taken from Death Cell

The condemned man was taken from his death cell at the state penitentiary on a bench warrant, by Eastland county officers, who contend the sanity hearing should be held there because the bank robbery occurred in Eastland county. The injunction was issued after Eastland officers had spent two fruitless days trying to obtain a transfer to Eastland county.

The Walker county judge said he would not attempt to pass upon the question of jurisdiction until Ratliff had ben returned and the matter of the injunction settled. A hearing to determine whether the writ should be made permanent was set for today in Eastland.

SHE'S NOT SO POPULAR!

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 1 (AP)—Tony Noto, 27-year-old waiter and paroled bigamist, today chose to go to prison for two years rather than return to his first wife.

"I'd rather go to prison than back to my first wife," Noto said, and forthwith Circuit Judge Taylor revoked his parole on a two-year sentence for bigamy. He had been paroled on condition that he return to wife No. 1, Mrs. Elizabeth Wingron Noto, and stay away from wife No. 2, Mrs. Sybilla Noto. However, he returned to wife No. 2 and wife No. 1 caused his arrest. She again offered to take him back, but he chose prison.

PRO-LAW BEATEN IN NOVA SCOTIA

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 1 (AP)—After a plebiscite in which government sale of liquor received greater popular approval than prohibition leaders of various factions today were convinced that the result would be an end to prohibition in Nova Scotia.

There were two questions, as follows:

Are you in favor of continuing the Nova Scotia temperance act?

Are you in favor of the sale of alcoholic liquor under a government control act?

A majority vote yes on each question, but the vote for government control exceeded by more than 24,000 the number who voted for retention of the prohibition law.

Reporters Freed In Capital Rum Probe

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Three reporters from the Washington Times who were sent to jail for contempt of court after they had refused to give information requested by a grand jury, were released late yesterday on $500 bond.

They were freed after Justice Frederick L. Siddons of the District of Columbia supreme court signed an application for release on habeas corpus proceedings. The course was taken when Justice Peyton Gordon declined to reconsider his refusal to release the trio on bond pending an appeal from his decision.

LAKE TRAGEDY EXACTS LIVES

SIX PERSONS, ONE OF WHOM IS A WOMAN, BELIEVED DEAD

(By Associated Press)

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 1 — Six persons, one a woman, were missing and the body of a seventh had been recovered today as officials inquired into the most recent of Lake Michigan's tragedies—the sinking of the freighter Senator.

Feeling her way through fog, the Senator was rammed yesterday by the ore carrier Marquette and sank 30 miles off Port Washington, Wis. The Marquette herself was saved from foundering by rescue tugs.

Twenty-One Are Saved

Twenty-one persons were saved from the Senator. Among the missing was her captain, George Finch.

The missing woman was Mrs. Minnie Gormley, wife of the steward. Several survivors reported seeing her slip from a life raft. Her husband was rescued.

The two freighters loomed suddenly out of the fog and hardly had time to sound a warning before the nose of the ore boat ripped into the freighter. It went down before the crew could reach the life boats. It rolled over on its port side and sank rapidly.

Two Leap to Safety

Two of its crew leaped and grabbed the Marquette, saving themselves. A third, Ralph Ellis, radio operator, buckled on a life belt and jumped. He was pulled aboard the ore boat. Nearly a score clung to a life raft, and of these a fishing tug picked up 15. Three others supposedly were picked up by another ship.

Had Autos Aboard

The Senator was eastbound out of Milwaukee for Detroit and other ports with a cargo of 241 automobiles. The Marquette was south bound to Indiana Harbor, Ind., with ore for the steel mills.

SENATOR SHEPPARD, TEXAS, IN TALK OVER RADIO, SAYS PRO-LAW IS O. K.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas, co-author of the 18th amendment asserted last night that "logic and justice" require that the purchaser of illicit liquor be made equally punishable with the seller.

In an address over a nationwide radio hookup under the auspices of the Washington Evening Star, Sheppard contended that his recent proposal to congress that the law be amended to make the buyer equally punishable, would be valid under the constitution.

Points To Act

He pointed out that one section of the Volstead act provides that purchases can be made only upon permit. This section, he said, "in effect forbids purchase for beverage purposes because no permit to a buyer for such an objective could be lawfully obtained."

"If the sale of intoxicating liquor is a crime," he continued, "and is made so by the Volstead act under the authority of the 18th amendment, purchase is also a crime because a purchase is a necessary part of a sale.

Senator Sheppard termed prohibition as stronger today than ever, and said that since it became a part of the constitution, elections in the house and senate had brought larger majority for prohibiton than at any previous time.

CALHOUN IN SAN ANTONIO

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 1 (AP)—Assistant Attorney General Galloway Calhoun, of Austin, arrived in San Antonio yesterday to take up the investigation of the murder of Charles Stevens, prohibition agent, Sept. 24, which has led to the uncovering of a state-wide rum ring with headquarters in San Antonio.

RUM RING PROBED

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 1 (AP)—Bexar county grand jury returned a report to Judge McCrory at noon Thursday in which it outlined the ramifications of the bootleg ring which is believed responsible for the shooting of Charles Stevens prohibition officer here several weeks ago.

WALKER WILL FACE CHARGE

OKLAHOMA'S REQUEST FOR EXTRADITION IS REFUSED

(By Associated Press)

STINNETT, Nov. 1.—Sheriff Fred Bowles, of Ada, Okla., was here today seeking extradition of William J. (Whitey) Walker, scheduled to face three murder indictments when his case and that of Ed Bailey is called here Monday.

District Attorney Clem Calhoun denied he would ask dismissal of any of the charges against Walker. "I'm not going to release him as long as there is a chance for trying him," the prosecutor said.

Cases Are Weak

After stating previously cases against Walker in connection with the slayings of Deputies Kenyon and Elmer Terry were weak, Calhoun today announced former Policeman Sam Neal, with Policeman Coke Buchanan, when the latter was shot in Borger 12 days before the deputies were slain and already failed to identify Walker as connected with the Buchanan shooting.

Terrill Accused

"Testimony Neal offered in the original habeas corpus hearing for Whitey shows this, and the matter stands in black and white," the attorney asserted. "The man Neal accused of the shooting is Ray Terrill."

Calhoun said he did not think there was a possibility of returning Terrill from an Oklahoma prison for trial here.

The prosecutor talked the case over with former District Judge Newton P. Willis at Pampa last night.

"UNCLE BILLY" BUSY

"I just performed another $5 wedding," announced "Uncle Billy" Clark, justice of the peace, this morning. "That makes only three for the month of October," he continued, "and just 290 in all, since I have been justice of the peace."

"Uncle Billy" states that the new marriage law has materially affected the number of young folks who come to him for ceremonies of this nature.

SUGGESTS STOCK PROBE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Senate investigation of speculative operations on the stock exchange was proposed yesterday by Senator Nye, republican, North Dakota, but with the tariff measure holding sway there seemed some doubt tonight of early action on his resolution.

2 Failues Among Women In Offices

(By Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Nov. 1—A pretty young woman assistant city attorney of Houston yesterday told the Texas League of Women Voters, in convention here that there have been two outstanding failures among her sex in public office and no successes so outstanding.

"There is," the speaker, Miss Oveta Culp, added, however, "a vast difference between the women filling elective offices today and those filling them eight or ten years ago."

Defines Idea

Defining what she said was the difference between the old and new type of woman in politics, she declared the new type does not take herself seriously but does take her work seriously.

The young attorney urged hearers to remember that "poor representation among women is worse than none," spoiling present plans for their advancement and jeopardizing their future chances.

She told why she believed the two "outstanding failures" among feminine officialdom had been made. One woman, Miss Culp said, failed because she permitted one she trusted "unwisely and too well" to guide her policies.

Other "Mentally Lazy"

The other lost in the battle, she added, because she was "mentally lazy," easy going, willing to leave much to mediocre subordinates, and impatient with a system of government "admittedly antiquated" but which women must not tear down unless they have something better to put in its place.

Mrs. J. C. Griswold, republican national committeewoman for Texas, said women may function in politics in two ways—as party members and members of political committees. She explained the difference between a party organization and a campaign organization saying it was one thing for women to affect election results and another thing to affect party policies. In the latter field, she added, women still are "rather amateurish." The chief lesson they needed, she believed, was to be impersonal—to learn to "give and take."

One number on the program was an achievement roll call of local leagues, answered by delegates from Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Galveston, and Houston.

The Galveston league has the greatest number of delegates at the convention with Houston and Dallas following in the order named.

Mrs. Harris Masterson, of Houston, was mentioned for the presidency.

Six new members of the board of directors were elected. They are: Mrs. Helen B. Moore, member of the Texas legislature, Galveston; Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, New Waverly; Mrs. J. W. Kuykendall, Fort Worth; Mrs. J. W. Hopkins, Galveston; Mrs. A. B. Carter, Fort Worth, and Mrs. Sarah T. Hughes, Dallas.

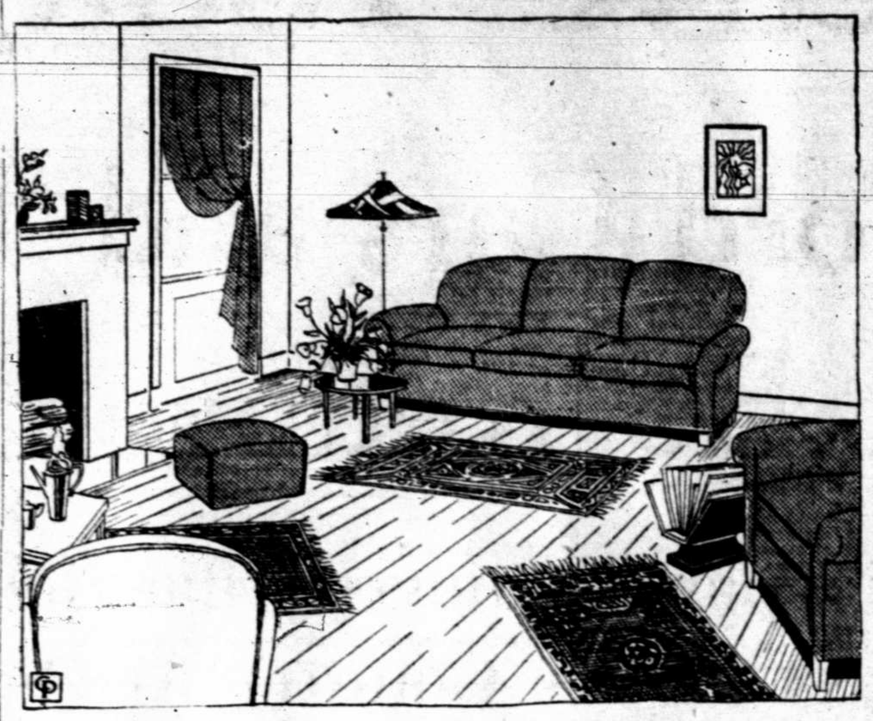

W. C. T. U. Re-Elects President

CORPUS CHRISTI, Nov. 1 (AP)—The state W. C. T. U. in convention here yesterday selected Mrs. Claude De Van Watts as president for the ninth consecutive time, and re-elected all othr state officers.

Mrs. William Gerhardt, local hostess for the convention, said yesterday that "politicing for two other candidates for president was subdued with prayer, this being a Christian organization."

Houston, scene of the national convention next October, is being considered for the 1930 state convention city.

OLD AND NEW FURNISHINGS ACHIEVE MODERN EFFECTS

By HILDA HUNT

A few occasional pieces of modern furniture with our larger old fashioned pieces give the whole room a modern aid without making it truly modernistic. Of course this combining of the old and the new should be done with judgment. After all it is a good idea to get the family used to the modern trend by introducing a few pieces now and then, instead of redecorating and furnishing entirely entirely in the modernistic, the sudden change to which would probably give father almost as much of a shock as the bill. On the other hand, one can combine the old with the new at very little expense.

The sketch illustrates this idea. Here the sofa and easy chairs were retained, as well as theoriental scatter rugs. The flowered tapestry upholstery was in too good condition to require reupholstering, yet the scheme had to be changed, as the tapestry was too decidedly old fashioned for a modern room. Fitted slip covers of a gray-blue upholstery material were made for the chair at the right and the sofa. Not to have too many pieces alike, the chair at the left was covered in yellow damask, in this instance sacrificing the tapestry upholstery.

Mahogany Stained Floor

Working with the blue-gray and light buff walls as a base, the floor was stained a dark mahogany. A soft shade of leaf green was introduced in the window drape, which was lined with yellow. Two thin silks were used for this purpose, so that the light shining through the yellow to the green gave a warmly illusive effect. The green was repeated in the modern lamp shade, in the little table with its yellow flower pot holding the lilies, and in the modern paper racy, lacquered green with a yellow lining, in the grouping with the overstuffed chair at the right.

A mahogany table with glass top was placed in the grouping with the yellow chair at the left. The ottoman in front the fireplace was covered with the blue-gray material. Yellow pipings were used on all the gray-blue coverings. A further tie-up in the blue, green and yellow color scheme was carried through in modern ornaments.

This is a very good color scheme for a room facing south, or for a room that gets the sun the greater part of the day. Blue and green are cool colors, and the room facing north, or where there was not considerable sunlight, would do better in warmer tones.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

Here's a young lady who believes in doing her Christmas shopping early. She asks for a suggestion for her boy friend's present. Well, let me think. I may as well tell her and maybe it will help the rest of you out.

Leather stores are good places to pick presents for men. There are bill folds, writing portfolios, brief cases, cigaret cases, shaving sets in cases, cigaret lighters, note books, diaries, address books, belts, slippers of various styles, desk sets and traveling cases of various kinds and sizes. Your photo in a leather case might also please him.

If he's athletic there are golf clubs and balls, tennis racquets and balls, skates, skiis, hockey sticks, baseball gloves, boxing gloves, bowling balls, etc.

Books, pens, pencils, book ends, stick pin or ring, picture for his room, oilcloth pillow for same, reading lamp, smoking set, smoking jacket, sweater, ties, socks, handkerchiefs.

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I am going with a nice fellow and I want to ask you what shall I give him for Christmas to please him. Shall I give it to him first or what, please?

"BROWN EYES."

Look over the above list, Brown Eyes, and take your pick. I've listed the good old reliable socks, ties and handkerchiefs last. The list includes articles at all prices. Usually the young man gives the lady his gift, and then, if she has one for him, she hands it to him.

WONDERING: Dear little girl, men who ask such things of their girl friends do not really love them. When the girls gives in they desert her, and she feels as if she had lost everything and could never have another lover. If you can possibly do so, forget him.

BUCK: Your letter did not reach me until after the date of your brother's wedding. A a general thing there is no use trying to break up such a match.

The man is sure he is right, and interference makes him more determined to do as he plans. The outcome of such a marriage is "on the laps of the gods," as the saying is. Which means that mortals can do nothing and it will have to work out as it may.

BLUE-EYES-G.: I hope the boy won't feel he is in a position to marry for at least three years, Blue Eyes. If you two married now—at 16 and 18 years of age—by the time you were old enough you would be sick of your bargain. Give the boy a chance to grow up before you marry him. If he isn't sensible enough to know you are both too young to marry, you be the wise one and tell him.

GREY EYES: Yours is the old question of what to do when your parents won't let you go with boys. As you are 18 you are certainly old enough to have boy friends and to be allowed to go out as long as you don't injure your health. I don't know what parents expect of young people like you.

But what can I say? If you "slip out" and go and they find it out they will be harder on you than ever, and besides I hate the deception and sneakiness of that kind of thing. Going joy riding with boys you know well and whom you can trust, is perfectly all right, but parents have come to have a horror of such pleasures from hearing of things that sometimes happen to girls. Your parents can't deny you the natural recreations of your age for much longer, Grey Eyes, so I can only advise you to be as patient as possible until they come to their senses.

"DEAREST VIRGINIA LEE: I am a girl in my teens and in love with a boy two years my senior. We went together about six months, and during this time we promised each other not to go with anyone else. I didn't keep my promise, although I think he did. When he found out how I had been going with other boys he quit coming. Now he is going with another girl. Tell me how I can win him back.

"HEARTBROKEN BABY."

I don't imagine you can. You deceived him and broke his faith in you and he's probably, very sensibly, decided that a girl who would not keep such a promise is not the girl for him.

BLUE EYED BET: There is no harm in going with boys if your parents approve, Bet, and unless you are foolish and cheap in your actions when with them I cannot see why the girls' mothers would condemn you.

Possibly the mothers do not approve of a girl of your age going with boys and they are afraid you will make their daughters dissatisfied if they are chummy with you. Why not let the boys go for awhile and cultivate the girls and try to get to know the mothers and prove that you are a good pal for their daughters?

As to the boy friend, I think it would be much wiser to let him go, as he seems disinclined to go to your home and is jealous. You do not want a loafer who hangs around corners for a friend.

"BROKENHEARTED NAN: A girl of 19 is old enough to go out without a member of the family tagging along. However, it is much better to have a big brother's escort to a dance than to go with other girls. Your family probably feels that that does not look well and will not get you the best reputation.

Why not accept your father's or brother's escort until you get a boy friend, be glad you have some one to look out for you, and get as much pleasure out of their companionship as you can. Brothers don't usually want to bother with sisters.

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I am 16 years old and full of pep. I bum with a bunch that is peppy too. None of them are fresh and none like to pet, but they do like to smoke, drink and have a good time.

"One of my girl friends is old-fashioned and wants me to quit going with this gang. I like her very much and I like to go with the gang and have a good time. What should I do? PEPPY."

I don't see why you can't dance and have a peppy time and still cut out the drinking and smoking, Peppy. That sort of thing is bad for anyone and you'll probably regret it later. Try out the girl friend's program for awhile and see if you don't get as much kick out of it as you do in running with the faster bunch.

Gay Party Is Held In McCrummen Home

The carnival spirit was paramount in a party given for members of the Jolly Dozen club Thursday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frazier McCrummen, 2308 Avenue P.

Entertaining rooms were colorfully decorated to emphasize the Hallowe'en motif, which also was stressed in appointments for games of foty-two. Clever stunts gave added interest to the occasion, and, at the close of the game hour, plates of pumpkin pie with whipped cream and coffee were passed.

Guests were Messrs. and Mesdames J. G. Biffle, A. H. Travis, Harry Hall, T. E. McNeill, W. H. Trice, W. A. Childers, and F. K. Mitchell.

THOMASON'S PLAY IS TALK OF SOUTH

"Stumpy" Thomason, Georgia Tech's great halfback, is the talk of the old South. When he hits the line something has to 'bust.' Here he is, in action, a mountain of brawn and brain.

'STUMPY' THOMASON, STAR HALFBACK OF GEORGIA TECH, LIVES UP TO ALL THE ADVANCE ADVERTISING, SCRIBE SAYS

By WM. A. BRAUCHER
NEA Service Sports Writer

Even before the first game of the season, sports writers down south were waxing enthusiastic about a Mr. Stumpy Thomason of Georgia Tech. It begins to appear they had something to wax about.

Before the season started they were calling him a "demon little back." Now he is referred to as "superhuman," and all this is not just the old ballyhoo, either.

Stump did a few things in the game with Florida that will be remembered for a long time by the thousands who saw a Tech team, trampled on the previous Saturday by North Carolina, rally to send the Gators home thinking up excuses.

He carried that ball for 141 yards, most of the gains by banging into the line, off the tackles, around the ends. That was against 130 yards by Warner Mizell, his running mate, who was chosen by several all-America pickers last fall. He tore off 45 yards at one clip right off left tackle. Another gain was 15 yards through the Florida line.

But most phenomenal of all the plays he made was a catch of one of Mizell's forward passes that looked impossible. It was in the third quarter and two Florida men were right over Stumpy at the time. The little giant leaped, took it right from under their noses, freed himself with a desperate lunge and raced off 35 yards to a touchdown.

His tackling was a great exhibition. Going down under Mizell's kicks he stopped the enemy in its tracks. Add to that an excellent job of blocking and running and you have just about got what the epic writers go around hunting for.

Like the five-and-two on those tumbling cubes, Stumpy is a natural. No one, not even Bill Alexander, had to teach him how to block and tackle. There is genius in the way he finds the spot where he is supposed to be. The young man is endowed with the nerve of a couple of your wife's cousins. And he can run!

When the time runs around to jot down a couple of halfbacks for the all-America, his name is going to pop up and if he keeps going as he is, the experts won't be able to keep Mr. Concentrated Dynamite out of there with a flock of erasers.

TICKETS ON SALE FOR BIG BATTLE

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 1.—Tickets to the Thanksgiving Day football game between the Texas Aggies and the Texas Longhorns go on sale today and will be sold through the mail only, James Sullivan, business manager of athletics has announced. Those desiring tickets should address their request to Mr. Sullivan, inclosing check or postal money order for the number desired at the rate of $3 a ticket.

Mr. Sullivan has stressed the fact that no tickets will be sold except through the mail and that orders will be filled as received.

The new A. and M. athletics stadium will be completed for the game. The stadium will have permanent seating capacity for nearly 34,000. Due to the indicated demand for tickets, it may be necessary to supplement the permanent seats with temporary seats at the south end of the structure, Mr. Sullivan has pointed out.

Nebraska And K. U. To Meet Saturday

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 1. (AP)—Nebraska, Big Six football champion, which started its season three weeks after the opening practice with a hard intersectional game and hasn't had a let-up since in four contests, faces another strenuous week-end.

Its opponent tomorrow in Lincoln for the Cornhuskers' homecoming is Kansas. Last year Kansas was defeated 20 to 0. But Kansas this year is stronger than for several seasons. The Nebraskans seem to lack some of their last season power, and the Kansas 33 to 0 victory over Iowa State last week has made the Lincoln fracas the outstanding one in the conference this week.

East and West Are Ready For Clashes

NEW YORK, Nov. 1. (AP)—With many strange elevens from far football lands already upon the scene in the east, Atlantic seaboard forces faced a final tuning-up today in preparation for the general intersectional warfare scheduled tomorrow.

Chicago's invasion of Princeton after an eight-year hiatus and Ohio State's visit to Pittsburgh held most of the intersectional interest as the Yale-Dartmouth clash at New Haven dominated the strictly eastern card.

MATADORS LEAVE TONIGHT FOR BAYLOR TILT

LIMBERING-UP EXERCISES TO END TRAINING

TECH TEAM AT TOP OF OFFENSIVE PLAY, IS COACH'S BELIEF

Nothing more than a final limbering-up exercise is scheduled for the Tech Matadors this afternoon as the college gridders prepare to take off at 7 o'clock tonight for Waco where tomorrow they will line up on the Cotton Palace gridiron against the Golden Bears of Baylor university.

Although Head Coach Grady Higginbotham was uncertain this morning the complete personnel of the squad that is to be taken on the Baylor invasion, it remained certain that at least 25 members of the squad would climb into their pullman berths on the special train, headed for Waco.

Arrive Saturday Morning

Tech's grid warriors and the entire Matador delegation will arrive at the Bruin-stronghold at 7:30 Saturday morning. The game is scheduled to start at 3 o'clock on the Cotton Palace field. Reports on the game will be received in Lubbock by quarters.

The Matadors had reached the peak of their offensive performance Thursday afternoon in the final hard signal drill. Two elevens ran through the entire catagory of plays on Tech field as a warm sun beat down from the first clear sky seen in several days. The whole squad appeared in the best of condition with all the cripples back at their regular positions.

Green Is Back

Dick Green, first string quarterback, who was out of the T. C. U. game with an injured ankle, directed the practice of one team yesterday and is likely to get first call tomorrow. Calvin Swift, center, who has been out for some time with a bad leg, is also back in condition and ready for action.

Green, Crites, Brothers and Woodridge composed the first string backfield combination in yesterday's signal drill, while Cappleman, Waller, Hodges and Bergfelt made up the other.

HORTON SMITH, KID GOLF FLASH, IS EARLY LEADER IN OREGON OPEN PLAY

(By Associated Press)

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 1—With a brilliant 67, five strokes under par for the first 18 holes, Horton Smith of Joplin, Mo., headed a nationally known field of players as the second round of the $1,300 annual Oregon cup golf tournament began here today.

Smith, who holds the French open championship, played a dazzling game and missed a short putt for a 66 over the Columbia country club course yesterday.

Par is Cracked

Par-cracking rounds also were played by Mortie Dutra of Tacoma and Ed Dudley of Delaware, each shooting a 69. Craig Wood, New Jersey, Oklahoma open champion, shot two under par for a 70.

Tommy Armour of Detroit carded a 71. On the ninth hole he drove 350 yards, pitched to the green and made a birdie three on the 420 yard hole, one of the most difficult on the course.

IN THE REALM OF SPORT

WITH ALLAN CARNEY
Journal Sports Editor

While the majority of major football attractions for the week will be played Saturday, several important grid conflicts are scheduled for today in the state. A pair of titular contests in the Texas conference will be played with Brownwood and Abilene furnishing the points of interest. The Trinity university eleven from Waxahachie invade Brownwood to tangle with the powerful Howard Payne Yellow Jackets. The Howard Payne crew is favored to repeat its 1928 performance of winning the championship and are thus likely to win over the Tigers. At Abilene, Coach Frank Bridges will send his huskies out to meet the Pirates of Southwestern university from Georgetown. Simmons has failed to show anything of championship calibre this season. The Cowboys are big and husky but their offense appears to lack a scoring punch. Bridges is employing his favorite spread formation this year and the team has not yet perfected the style of attack that carried Baylor to the Southwest conference championship when the Foxy Frank was in command.

Despite the fact that the Cowboys lack scoring punch, Bridges has molded one of the strongest defensive machines in the state, one that held the Texas university second team scoreless and the fast stepping Horned Frogs of T. C. U. to 20 points. Tech meets Simmons in Abilene on Thanksgiving day; by that time the Cowhands will probably have reached their strongest offensive performance.

A battle of considerable consequence in the T. I. A. A. football race will be played at Canyon Saturday when the Daniel Baker Hill Billies invade the Buffalo stronghold to meet the Bisons in a homecoming attraction for Canyon exes. The Buffs made a surprising showing against the Simmons Cowboys at Amarillo last week and may show the goats something in the way of winning conference football games. Daniel Baker has probably shown more improvement than any other college football team in the state this season. After losing to the T. C. U. Horned Frogs by the score of 61 to 0, the Billies began showing signs of strength, one of which was a 6 to 2 victory over the Texas Tech Matadors. In Mac Miller, Coach Blair has one of the outstanding guards in the T. I. A. A. But Saturday he will be opposed by another Miller, who carries about 30 more pounds of avoirdupois than the Billy forward. The Canyon Miller is a minister, but he is anything but meek on the football field. Carrying 220 pounds of dynamite, Sloan Miller is capable of wrecking just about any team's offense.

An impressive demonstration was staged at the Santa Fe railway station this morning when the Lubbock high student body gave the Westerners a rousing send off as they boarded the train for Amarillo. Firm in their belief that the gold and black warriors will bring home the bacon, the high school students are keyed up to a high pitch over the impending battle between the Sandies and the Westerners. Nothing short of an inspired performance can topple over the powerful Sandstorm machine, but the Westerners are in just that frame of mind. Only one thing is certain—it will be a stirring battle from start to finish. Seven members of the Lubbock aggregation will be playing their last football game against their ancient rivals and even those who are playing their first year on the Lubbock team have caught that indomitable spirit, which is close-akin to religion.

Needless to say, tears were shed

ONE OF FOUR ELEVENS YET UNBEATEN WILL FALL OFF

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Nov. 1.—One of four undefeated Southwest conference elevens will fall by the wayside when Texas university and Southern Methodist university match wits and brawn here tomorrow in the week's paramount attraction. A crowd of 24,000, the largest ever to witness an athletic event in Dallas, is expected to jam Ownby stadium.

Victory in the tussle will have an important bearing on the championship race. It would mark the sixth straight win for the powerful Longhorns and their third conference triumph. Southern Methodist, playing its first conference tilt tomorrow, has a record of three victories and two ties for the season, including a scoreless affair with Nebraska.

Crucial For Texas

If it can squelch the Mustang threat decisively, the Orange machine will be a top favorite to romp through its three remaining conference struggles and win its second straight championship, a feat never before accomplished. In their three succeeding games, the Steers will encounter Baylor, T. C. U. and Texas A. and M. in that order.

A win for the Ponies would boost their stock correspondingly high. Coach Morrison's team of sophomores and juniors would be probably the youngest outfit ever to make such a threatening gesture at the title. For all their youth, however, the Ponies have given no indication of stage fright in previous battles.

Orange Favored

Texas will enter the game a slight favorite, and justly so, considering its one-sided victories over such teams as Arkansas, Oklahoma university and Centenary. Any eleven that plays those three without having its goal line mussed up has something on the ball. The Mustangs also proved they were potent in trampling Mississippi, 52 to 0, last week, but the opposition was not what Texas has encountered.

While the Ponies and Longhorns

BROWNSVILLE IS PROTESTED

STAR END INELIGIBLE IS CLAIM; ACTION TO BE TAKEN

(By Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 1.—Brownsville High school's powerful football team may be knocked out of the Interscholastic league race as the result of notification filed at Brownsville today by Vice-Principal T. Guy Rogers, of Main Avenue High school, San Antonio, and Coach Benny Strickland, of Austin High.

Prefering not to use the word protest, since their teams had not yet met Brownsville, Rogers and Strickland notified the border officials, on the morning of the "big game" there Friday afternoon against Brackenridge High's Eagles that John Sylvester, end, is ineligible and has been throughout the season to date.

Played Four Seasons

Sylvester, it is claimed, on data secured at the Interscholastic league's headquarters in Austin, has played four seasons prior to this one. Certified twice by Brownsville officials on their eligible list, Sylvestor, it is claimed, entered school and played in 1925 and newspaper clippings show he played in 1926, 1927 and 1928.

The Brownsville coach, Douglas Fesenden, formerly of Main Avenue High, was warned not to use Sylvester in the game Friday against Brackenridge. If he does and the district committee, in its meeting on the case, rules Sylvester ineligible, Brownsville is subject to suspension from the Interscholastic league of from one to three years.

If Sylvester is found to be ineligible, the Brownsville victories over Robstown and Corpus Christi, both of which were achieved by overwhelming scores, will be forfeited to the losing teams and Brownsville will be virtually eliminated from the district race.

Player Is Upheld

BROWNSVILLE, Nov. 1. (AP)—J. W. Irvine, athletic director of the Brownsville school system, commenting on a report that the eligibility of John Sylvester, Brownsville football player, had been questioned, said Sylvester was playing his second year as a member of the Brownsville team.

"There absolutely is no question about the eligibility of Sylvester," Irvine declared.

'STOP THOSE SANDIES' RINGS OUT AS LUBBOCK HIGH LADS EMBARK FOR CRUCIAL FIGHT

A shrill war cry penetrated the chilly atmosphere at the Santa Fe railway station at 7:30 this morning when a half-thousand loyal boosters of the Lubbock High Westerners gave the 25 grid warriors a rousing send-off on their departure for the scene of the feature battle of the season Saturday with the Golden Sandies of Amarillo High school.

A full high school band and pep squad were on hand to lead the cheers which sent the Westerners off on a conquest deemed impossible by the majority of experts but altogether possible from the standpoint of a fighting Gold and Black horde of Westerner stalwarts.

"Stop the Sandies"

The Westerners boarded the north-bound train with the tunes they have learned to love, ringing in their ears, and the final pleas of an ardent student body to "Stop the Sandies' Dust." A reverberating answer came from a grimly determined group of gridiron warriors this morning and there was no question concerning the sincerity of "For the Westerners I Will."

Prior to the departure of the club this morning, Head Coach Henry Frnka pronounced the Westerners in perfect physical and mental condition for the crucial test tomorrow. The team's offense is clicking to perfection and a special style of defense has been worked out to stop the powerful onslaught of the Sandies. Every member of the squad who can possibly be used in Saturday's game was taken on the trip. The 32 to 6 defeat suffered at the hands of the 1928 Sandies has been forcibly impressed upon the minds of the Lubbock footballers, with the result that the squadmembers are keyed up to the highest pitch for their invasion of the Panhandle metropolis.

To Workout Today

The Westerners will arrive in Amarillo at 10:30 this morning and go immediately to the Herring hotel where they will make their headquarters. At 2:30 this afternoon, the Lubbock squad will take a secret workout on Butler Field, the battle site for the clash tomorrow.

A city-wide pep rally will be held at the high school auditorium tonight, beginning at 7:30, with the high school pep squad in charge. The high school band will also be on hand for the final gathering before the local delegation leaves at 3 o'clock Saturday morning for Amarillo. Late reports from high school authorities indicates that a crowd of at least 1,000 fans will ride the special to witness the Westerner-Sandy clash.

Guards Uncertain

Thursday's practice session indicated that Welch and James will be the starting guards Saturday although Coach Frnka insisted that he is yet undecided on the forward wall that will be sent out to stop the Sandy onslaught. Griggs and McGeehee are also likely to see service. Frizzell and Brawley are practically certain to get the first call at the tackle positions. The question of the center post remains unsettled last night with Leaverton and Crawford both fighting for recognition.

Following are the squadmembers making the trip: Smith, Prize, Lawson, Teal, Watkins, Martin, Leaverton, Crawford, Brawley, Hardberger, McCaslin, Williams, Foster, Rich, Watson, Price, McGeehee, Griggs, Green, Jarrett, Welch, Abbott and Blagg.

Moody Smith and Greer Prize were named yesterday to serve as captains in the clash Saturday with the Sandies. The last named will be playing his last game against Amarillo.

Officials for the game are: Hess (Austin College) referee; Fulling (Baylor) umpire; St. Clair (S. M. U.) head linesman; Ingerton (Centre) field judge.

More than $800,000 worth of silk and rayon hosiery was shipped from the United States to South Africa in the last 12 months.

SENATOR ALLEN, KANSAS, RAPS SOLONS FOR 'STALLING'

ARKANSAS' CARAWAY TURNS VERBAL GUNS OPEN ON SENATE'S FLOOR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The senate was called to task yesterday by one of its newest members—Senator Allen, republican, Kansas—as a group of men unable to legislate because of an "incapacity to control your feelings when you arise to make your speech."

Allen, was taken to task in turn by Senator Caraway, democrat, Arkansas.

Allen offered his observations at the close of a wrangle over the message today of President Hoover urging immediate action on the tariff bill

"Oratory Is Fruitless"

He noted that 4 1-2 hours had been spent today on "utterly fruitless oratory."

"Twice during this week," he continued, "I have heard members of the senate rise and plead for a statement from the president. When it comes to the senate we have this sort of a field day. Every time the senate has distinguished itself fighting presidents, the reputation of the president has gone up and the reputation of the senate has gone down.

"Then I judge the senator regrets that he is a member of this senate?" asked Senator Caraway, democrat, Arkansas.

"Oh, no, not at all," quickly responded the Kansan, who was publicity director for the Hoover campaign last year.

"Does he want to be a member of a discredited body?" continued Caraway.

"Oh, no, I would like to stay here long enough—I think perchance we may improve this body, which is not perfect," answered Allen.

"It has been very greatly improved since the senator came," observed Caraway.

After Allen said he could not hear Caraway, Caraway asked him not to speak so fast. "Give me time to understand what you say." Allen returned and Senator Caraway shot back.

"I do not expect to live that long."

Thought For Today

He that committeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning.—John 3:8.

* * *

If the devil take a less hateful shape to us than to our fathers, he is as busy with us as with them.—Lowell.

A Beacon

For some unexplainable reason the plight of the eight Canadian airmen who have been missing in the Arctic since the early part of September has not been getting the newspaper attention that it deserves.

There is something supremely fascinating about the story. Two aeroplanes took off from an Alaskan settlement 2,000 miles away. They have not been heard from since.

Thus, while a busy nation far to the southward occupies itself with the business and diversions of autumn, sniffs the pleasant October air and worries about nothing more serious than the weekly football games, the incredibly desolate barrens of northern Canada hide—somewhere—eight flyers, fighting their lonely fight against the ancient enemies, darkness, cold and hunger.

You would think that the situation would catch the country's imagination. But, for some reason, it hasn't. Canada is awake to what is going on; Canada is sending her best airmen to hunt for the missing eight. But the United States isn't paying any attention to them.

We are cheating ourselves by ignoring these flyers. We are not only losing an interesting story; we are depriving ourselves of something that would be a tonic for a civilization that has grown too secure and settled.

The United States is a long way from the frontier nowadays. Life has become stabilized. Most of us never know any experience more exciting than the daily ride from the home to the job on the street car or in an auto. We live in a time and place where the rough edges of existence have been worn off. We do not know what our race can endure.

Then, once in a while, something happens like this thing in the Canadian northland; something that reminds us that there are still men who go out of their way to skate where the ice is thin—men who leave the safety and comforts of civilization and go over the horizon to grapple with danger and earn their living under the shades of unending night.

It is important that we be reminded of this once in a while. The human race has a long list of follies, crimes and weaknesses on its record and we are apt to magnify them when we live too long in a time of peace and ease. We forget that there is a credit side to the ledger as well: an amazing tale of bravery, sacrifice and endurance.

So, now, we have our all-important reminder again. Up under the Arctic circle eight flyers are missing in a region of limitless desolation, and the fines flyers in Canada are risking their lives to look for them. We ought to pay more attention to it than we do. It would be everlastingly good for us.

No Wisecracks

A Chicago mail order firm, finding that there was a good deal of "traffic congestion" about the mirrors in its plant, discovered on investigation that the average girl employe spends no lers than six minutes a day using powder, lipstick and rouge before the looking glass.

One's impulse, on learning this, is to make some sort of wisecrack. But on second thought, perhaps no wisecrack is called for from any self-sufficient male. For, after all, the man who pokes fun at the flapper who heckles in front of every mirror is usually the man who says, "How Alice would be a doggone nice-looking girl if she'd only primp up a little bit once in a while."

In other words, the primping is done for the man's benefit, and the man ought to like it. So why should the man kick about it?

The [illegible] is over when the [illegible] vanishing for [illegible] is not in the vanity.

THE PLAINSMAN Says

That Girl on Broadway says it's easy to find fault because nobody wants it.

Kissing is all right. The Plainsman knows it. He can tell by looking at the people who claim it isn't.

Tomorrow afternoon Lubbock High school's Westerners will enter their crucial game of the season. Pitted against the powerful—and, likewise, self-confident—Amarillo eleven, the locals will be playing their hardest tilt on foreign field. Every man and woman who can go to Amarillo for the game should feel that to do so is "a bounden duty."

* * *

The Plainsman doesn't set himself up as any football prognosticator but he believes there's going to be a big upsetting of the well known "dope bucket" up in the North Plains metropolis tomorrow. The Sandies, cocky at the way they have been walking through opposition by top-heavy scores, seem to take the stand that the Westerners compose "just another football team." Right there is where they're kidding themselves—as all of us here realize after seeing the Frnka machine in action.

While Amarillo has been running wild against opposing teams from the start of the season to the present time Lubbock has been taking things easy, scoring just enough to win—but gathering momentum all the time for the big game against the Sandstorm. Playing "under wraps," which is to say they have been saving everything but straight play for the benefit of the Amarilloans, the locals are ready now to "strut their stuff" with a vengeance. Coach Henry Frnka and his side-kick, Coach Del Morgan, have some scintillating plays in the old sock and the Sandies are liable to find a fly in the soup during tomorrow's battle.

One of the Amarillo coaches told a Lubbock friend confidentially that Lubbock hasn't got a chance. Superintendent MacIntosh, of Amarillo, has written Superintendent M. H. Duncan here to the effect that he is "glad the Lubbock fans are looking forward to victory in the Amarillo game because after four o'clock Saturday, they'll have to be satisfied with second place." That's just the way The Plainsman wants them to feel—just as cocky as all out-doors. They'll be easier to knock over, easier to demoralize and will find it harder to function properly against opposition.

Amarillo undoubtedly has a wonderful football team. The lads up there must be good or they couldn't have gone as far as they have and have won over rivals as handily as they have. But Lubbock boasts a good football team, too, and don't you overlook it. Amarillo can't put any more men on the playing field than Lubbock can and as long as the forces are equal in number you can bet your bottom dollar there'll be some football played.

The Plainsman enjoys the distinction of being what M. H. Duncan and Henry Frnka call "The Original Westerner Fan" and should the boys lose at Amarillo it isn't going to make any difference to him as far as backing their ball club is concerned. The Westerners will be in condition. They'll be fighting. They'll be playing football all the time—win or lose—which, after all, is the best any club can do at any time. And the Sandies had better look out!

Associated Press wires running out of Austin bring good news to the South and to West Texas. Cotton will be the vogue in numerous styles of 1930 and recent experiments have proven that the fleecy staple may be used in the manufacturing of a new type of shoes.

The more cotton used, the more demand there will be for it. When people are educated to the fact that cotton is not 'cheap' they will buy more of it. People, generally—women, particularly—shrink from shoddy materials and, much to the disadvantage of the South, cotton has been placed in that position.

* * *

Doubtless more modern methods of refining and manufacture will eventually make cotton as popular in fabric as silk and linen is today. When that time arrives there will be more prosperity for all of us who reside on this side of the Rockies and the Mason-Dixon boundary.

Lobbying Reached Its Greatest Heights Of Brazenness In Administration Of Presiden: Grant, Rodney Dutcher Says

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the seventh story of a series of articles by Rodney Dutcher on the operations of Washington lobbyists in the past.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Lobbyists in the Grant administrations were often able to recruit the aid of the president himself in furthering their schemes for public plunder. These lobbyists did not hesitate to attempt to bribe the speaker of the house or to offer the vice president a prosperous corporation job to count on after his term expired.

It seemed as if nearly everyone in public life were selling out to the highest bidders and those who protested the general practice were subject to ostracism and political attack. Cabinet members, senators, congressmen and innumerable lesser officials were the lobbyist's willing prey. Bribery was used even to obtain passage of the $7,000,000 Alaska Purchase bill.

The railroads maintained the most effective lobbies. A correspondent suggested that congress adjourn permanently, leaving the placard on the door: "The business of this establishment will be done hereafter in the office of the Pennsylvania Railroad."

The Worst of All

Several of the road's attorneys were in congress. Claude G. Bowers, in "The Tragic Era," says "the lobby was more than ever open and insolent, that of the railroads, under the vigilant eye of Tom Scott, the most brazen and defiant of all." Attorney General Williams was regarded as the Pacific Railroad's own man.

The Credit Mobilier incident, involving the nion Pacific, was one of the major scandals of the time Congress had given the Union Pacific $27,000,0.") and 15,000,000 acres of land. Credit Mobilier was the name of the stock company used to milk the road of the huge subsidies granted it by the government. Congressman Oakes Ames was given stock to distribute among influential members of congress as a precaution against an investigation. The bribery revelations involved Vice President Colfax. Vice President-elect Wilson, a senator and the chairmen of the most important house committees, including a future president, James A. Garfield. A stacked committee whitewashed all but Ames in its report.

Speaker James G. Blaine, one of the most distinguished statesmen of his time, was badly tarred in 1876. Seven years previously Blaine, who had helped the Little Rock & Fort Smith railroad with one of its land-grant bills, was permitted to sell a large amount of the road's bonds and stock and to keep $125,000 in bonds which should have gone to the customers as a personal commission, plus $2,000 brokerage commission. When the road went broke and the bonds went bad the customers became incensed and the only way to avoid exposure for Blaine was to take back the bonds and reimburse the buyers.

Suddenly three railroads, including the Union Pacific, began to buy up the Little Rock & Fort Smith bonds. It was charged that they were saving Blaine's neck in return for his great legislative influence. Tom Scott, the Union Pacific's chief lobbyist, was an important figure in the deal. The facts damaged Blaine politically and probably kept him from the presidency.

President Grant's name figured in Jay Gould's attempt to corner the gold market. Instead of leaving it to a lobbyist, Gould himself had entertained Grant in royal fashion. Grant often helped the speculators and lobbyists. When a group of speculators was demanding that we seize San Domingo, Grant went himself to the Capitol and lobbied with senators for annexation. He accepted gifts from men who were here to seek profitable favors and privileges. He nearly always appeared to be on the side of the corrupt and opposed to those who protested corruption.

He personally lobbied for Northern Pacific subsidies to Jay Cooke. Cooke bribed some congressmen, had others — including Blaine — under financial obligation, maintained a powerful lobby which included state governors and had invited the president on fishing trips. Grant had his reward in 1872 when the corrupt whiskey ring, railroads and other favored industries poured money into his campaign chest.

A. R. Corbin, Grant's brother-in-law and an associate of Gould, was a notorious lobbyist for corrupt bills.

A headquarters of lobbyists was John Welcher's restaurant, patronized by nearly all the statesmen and politicians. "There is not a measure noted for importance in the last ten years but can be traced to these rooms," someone wrote. Many were the meals and bottles of wines which lobbyists bought for senators.

This was the period in which Mark Twain set "The Gilded Age," the central character of which was a beautiful girl lobbyist who vamped theh leaders of congress into supporting the purchase of a parcel of Tennessee land for a fabulous sum.

"The capital swarmed with ladies of indifferent morality, representing perfectly respectable business organizations in pursuit of privilege," says Bowers. "Attractive, fashionably dressed, and dashing were these women of the most daring lobby that had ever descended on a legislative body for purposes of pelf . . . The more audacious took pretentious houses as for a social campaign. These, the grand duchesses of the tribe, were good to look upon, clever conversationalists, altogether pleasing, and, while most were unmarried, their God-and-morality employers had conveniently provided them with husbands.

Vamping Congressmen

. . . They had abundance on the board, wine and brandy, but it was the seductive charms of these ladies that lured statesmen to their parties. They subtly conveyed the impression that, tired of their prosy husbands, the were read for a romantic interlude. . . . The cynical correspondent, studying her methods, noted that 'she will flare up at a mere glance of curiosity from a stranger, and pardon a kiss red-hot on the lips from a man who has a vote. . . . The lever of lust is used to pry up more legislators to the sticking point when money itself does not avail to seduce.' That there was not little blackmailing we may be sure . . .

"The industrialists had marched en masse upon the capital — iron, coal, steel, wool, leather — in the making of the tariff act that year."

Tomorrow: Lobbying in the last quarter of the century.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

DOCTOR GIVES EXCELLENT REASONS FOR FILLING CHILD'S FIRST TEETH

Answers to Mothers

God could not be everywhere; therefore He made mothers.—Jewish Proverb.

"Dear Doctor: Our four-year-old daughter has two teeth (the front incisors) that are beginning to show decay, but the dentist would not fix them because he said they would soon come out and it didn't pay to fill them. What do you advise? MRS. S."

I think you have gone to a dentist who is not keeping up with the advances in medicine and dentistry, Mrs. S. The idea that because the first teeth will soon fall out, they needn't have any attention, was found to be wrong years ago.

There are several reasons why the first teeth do need attention:

1. If the first teeth are decayed they usually are painful and prevent the child from chewing his food. This may cause nutritional upsets.

2. These decayed teeth are full of pus germs, which may be transmitted by the blood stream and settle on the heart valves and joints, etc., causing serious trouble.

3. The permanent teeth, being directly under the first teeth, may become infected and decay almost as soon as they appear.

4. Unless the first teeth are filled and cared for, they may be so painful that they either have to be extracted by a dentist, or the child works on them himself until they are loose enough to pull out. (Can't you remember how we used to spend time see-sawing the loose teeth back and forth?) This premature loss of teeth may cause the permanent teeth to come in irregularly, so the child has crooked teeth, and it also may cause the jaw to develop improperly.

5. If the child is taken regularly to the dentist, at least once in six months, beginning cavities can be filled when they are tiny with any pain.

6. The habits that the child acquires in caring for his teeth are going to be carried on with his permanent teeth, and through life, in fact. Going to the dentist will make him realize, more than anything else, the importance of his teeth, and therefore the need of the proper cleansing and the proper diet to furnish them the needed elements. The diet that makes for good teeth is also the diet for the best growth and development of the other organs of the body.

I'll add here that this diet includes three to four glasses of milk for lime and phosphorus and complete protein; two ounces or so more protein food (building and repair)—eggs, flesh food, cheese—whole grain cereals and breads, raw fruits and vegetables (for vitamins, mineral elements and bulk), and some cooked vegetables as well. The hard crusts of the bread and the raw fruits and vegetables will also provide exercise for the jaws and teeth, which is a large factor in the development of the jaws.

Now you can anticipate from all I have written what I'll advise, Mrs. S. It is to take your little girl to a dentist who keeps up in his profession.

We have a list of books on the general care and feeding of children, which you will find helpful. See column [illegible] for obtaining this.

Mrs. T.—Your question on the Menopause (change of life) are answered in our pamphlet on the Hygiene of Women.

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose, nor give personal advice. If she considers your questions of general interest, they will be answered in the column in turn. Requests for articles on hand must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed envelope and 2 cents in coin for each; for the pamphlets on "Reducing and Gaining," "The Kidneys and Its Excretions" and the "Hygiene of Women," 10 cents in coin (for each) and fully self-addressed stamped envelope, must be enclosed. From 1909 to 1923 he was a member of the Illinois house of representatives. He was elected to congress in 1923 from the eighteenth Illinois district, and has been returned each term since. He is a Republican.)

I think congress could strengthen the laws now on the statue books relating to undesirable aliens and enforcement of their deportation.

W. P. Holaday

Just what amendments may be offered I cannot say at this time. It remains for the future to determine, in the light of the latest data available in the hands of the department of labor.

It always has been impossible to determine the real number of deportable aliens in the United States. I have never personally had any idea that there are as many as some have estimated. The estimates of those deportable for one reason or another under the present law run as high as 4,000,000. I doubt if there are that many properly coming under the category of deportable undesirable aliens.

I firmly believe that provisions of existing law not only have permitted the states to rid themselves of alien criminals who would have been public charges and a burden on the states, but that the law has proven a strong influence for the good on aliens generally. I believe the existing law has proven a deterrent to crime. I have heard of some particular cases of aliens who possibly have been violating a law but who have announced that they have reformed and intend to be law-abiding citizens because of the fear of being deported from the United States.

I am convinced that the restrictive immigration law of July 1, 1924 a permanent statute, is as important as any law that congress has enacted for many years. It has kept out the excess of foreign labor and has been a god send to American labor. I am studying the operation of this permanent restrictive immigration act.

I expect to make a speech in the house, either in the last part of this session or early in the regular session, dealing with the way in which this law has worked out during these five years. I am going over the records of the administration of the law and other data in this connection to ascertain the real measure of its success.

Skeletons have been put on tariff free list. There's one in every family closet, anyway.

BURROUGHS BACK FROM SEED MEET

A resident of the Carlisle community, James Burroughs, grower of certified grain sorghum seed, has returned from Dallas where he attended an organization meeting of the Seed Growers association of the southwest.

The association was formed with its membership composed of seed growers from Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana. Fifty growers attended the meeting.

Burroughs, Pat Nix and W. A. Goeth, all of Lubbock county, are the only growers of seed on the South Plains this year, so far as is known, whose products will be sold under the state seal. This is the first year that grain sorghum seeds have ever been sold under the state guarantee, the pure seed law of Texas having been amendd only a few months ago to place grain sorghums under the protection of the standardization of the state, same as cotton seed has been for many years.

HOLMES TALKS TO BIG CROWD

FAMOUS TRAVELLER IS WELL RECEIVED IN LECTURE HERE

Using as his subject "The Glories and Frivolities of Paris" Burton Holmes, widely known lecturer, spoke to a large audience at the Tech gymnasium last night as the first offering of the college's artist course for the season 1929-30.

From his opening remark, "Oliver Wendell Holmes said that when good Americans die they go to Paris, but I say that all Americans go there and they do not wait until they die either." The speaker held his audience with humorous side-glances concerning Parisian life.

Whole City Shown

Beginning with views of the most famous avenue in Europe, Rue de la Pais, the pictures continued over the entire city of Paris showing scenes of the guide book and scenes which are of Paris but not to be found in the guide book.

World-famous landmarks were viewed including the Eiffel tower, tallest structure in the universe, towering over 1,000 feet; the Arc de Triomphe which was built by Napoleon to commemorate his victories and where sleeps today the Unknown Soldier of France; Notre Dame, shown in the sunlight and flooded in moonlight, and scenes of bridges which span the Seine river. The pictures digressed from usual ones in that side streets were visited and out-of-the way nooks and crannies shown.

Customs Explained

Continuing in his personal vein, Mr. Holmes carried his hearers to sidewalk cafes, explaining customs and showing pictures taken by himself 20 years ago presenting a strange contrast to twentieth century Paris.

The "flea" markets of the city were shown and Fontainebleau castle, Napoleon's favorite residence, and the reading stalls where it is said a Frenchman may receive a liberal education as he pauses each day to peruse a few days pages on his way to work.

The final scenes were of the fountains which are only turned on once a month; viewed in their natural coloring.

FOOTBALL DOPE

are supplying the principal fireworks, five other conference teams will engage outside opposition. Arkansas meets Louisiana State at Shreveport in the week's second most important engagement. The result will count in the Razorbacks' conference standing. They are favored to win and boost their percentage to .500.

Bears Play Tech

The Baylor Bears, in a dangerous frame of mind as a result of their defeat by Centenary last week, play Texas Tech at Waco. The result will be significant in comparing conference teams, as Texas Christian trimmed the Matadors, 22 to 0.

Jack Cisco's North Texas Teachers, who led S. M. U. for the first three quarters of their early season game, invade conference circles again to play Texas Christian at Fort Worth. It probably will be a romp for the Frogs, who plan to use their reserves freely.

There will be a teacher vs. pupil affair at Houston, where the Rice Owls, coached by Jack Meagher, entertain St. Edward's university. Al Serafini, who was a star under Meagher three years at St. Edward's is coaching the Saints and doing a cracking good job of it. Comparing their respective records for the season, the outcome of the game appears a toss-up.

The Aggies, out of the race but hopeful of making trouble for the leaders, have probably the easiest assignment for the week, meeting the Stephen F. Austin Teachers at College Station.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

You couldn't blame the cackling hen for chasing frightened Clowny when the careless lad had stepped upon a nest of thirteen eggs. Across the piles of hay they flew. The next thing that wee Clowny knew he toppled flat because he couldn't stand upon his legs.

The hen then lit upon his head and pecked until poor Clowny said, "Hey, get away. That hurts. My head is not made out of wood. I promise I will never again disturb a peaceful, setting hen. Let me alone and after this I always will be good."

By this time all the others woke and what they saw seemed quite a joke. Then Scouty scampered 'cross the hay and waved his arms in air. "Get out of here," he loudly cried. "Go on there, chicken, fly outside. You've paid wee Clowny back by giving him an awful scare."

Of course this scared the flapping hen. She cackled very loud and then flew straightway out a window and soon disappeared from sight. Poor Clowny sat and rubbed his head and then he very meekly said, "I thought that was my finish, boys, but now I feel all right."

"Shucks," said Carpy, "just when we were sleeping soundly as could be, you had to start a rumpus. Now we all are wide awake." Just then they heard a whistling sound and all the Tinies looked around. "That was the wind," said Coppy. "See? The barn's begun to shake."

And he was right. The wind blew strong and whistled quite a wild like song. And then the barn creaked loudly, giving everyone a scare. The barn then slowly left the ground and seemed to almost turn around. In just about a moment it was floating through the air.

Justice's Daughter Testifies

Alice Pierson, daughter of the associate supreme court justice, said "He said he was going to have Theresa at all costs. He said he would 'kill old man Hamilton' and have Mrs. Hamilton mentally incapable of caring for the three girls and he had friends in Amarillo who would help him." For a time Theresa roomed with the Piersons.

Christine Campbell, Groom school teacher, told the jury: "he said he was on Hamilton's trail and had had him shadowed for three days and if he made a false move he would kill him."

Walton Was Angry

All the witnesses declared Walton was angry because he had not been allowed to see Theresa while she was recovering from the operation. They likewise said that in each instance they had told Helen, Theresa's elder sister, about the threats. Two declared they had made statements to W. A. Keeling one time attorney general, who was a character witness.

GREEK-BARB FEELING IS UP IN TESTIMONY

WEATHERFORD, Nov. 1 (AP)—The first witness to threats Tom Walton, jr., allegedly made against his father-in-law were presented here today in the trial of R. H. Hamilton, charged with having slain Walton.

Two character witnesses, Fort Worth men, W. A. Hanger, lawyer and a former state senator, and Hal Lattimore, district judge and a former pupil of Hamilton's at Baylor university, testified first. They said Hamilton's reputation was good.

Sorority Girl Testifies

Then Miss Janet Carter of Dallas, sorority sister of Helen and Theresa Hamilton the defendant's daughters, told of spoken threats by Walton.

After preliminary questions, E. A. Simpson, of Amarillo, defense lawyer, asked:

"Miss Janet, did Walton ever say anything to you in the way of threats? If he did, tell the jury what he said."

Threats Repeated

"He said that if any member of the Hamilton family tried to come between him and Theresa he had means to get them out of the way without getting his own hands and feet dirty," Miss Carter said. "He said that if I doubted that, I could write to a Chicago address and ask about the boy from Oklahoma. He said a rattlesnake was a gentleman because it rattle before it strikes. He said he wouldn't be a gentleman."

"Did he show any unusual feeling at the time?"

"Yes, he was angry. He was drunk."

Engaged to "Barb"

On cross-examination, E. H. Grindstaff attempted to get the witness to say there was ill feeling between sorority members and "barbs" or non-fraternity men. Walton was not a fraternity man. Miss Carter declared she was engaged to a "barb" at that time.

Grindstaff asked whether Theresa and Walton were very friendly, and the witness said after the date of their marriage, Feb. 10, Theresa did not have dates with anyone else.

"What was the first thing Walton said to you?"

"I don't remember."

"What was the second?"

"I don't remember."

"At any time during the conversation did he say anything about being married to Theresa?"

"No, he didn't."

"Every time he made a threatening statement he said 'if' anyone interfered with him and Theresa?"

"Yes."

Went to Keeling

Miss Carter said she went to the office of W. A. Keeling, one of the character witnesses for Hamilton, and told him what she knew of the threats after Helen Hamilton had talked with her.

Grindstaff quizzed Miss Carter on her statement to the grand jury in Amarillo where she said she gave only the substance of Walton's statement.

"Why did you give the grand jury the substance of Walton's statement and testify here to his exact words?"

"Because I'm a defense witness."

Miss Carter was excused, and Alice Pierson, of Austin, daughter of Wm. Pierson associate justice of the Texas supreme court, with whom Theresa stayed, took the stand.

Took Her to Hospital

She said Walton took her to the hospital, where Theresa was recovering from an appendicitis operation.

"What, if anything, did he say about Theresa?" Simpson asked.

"He said he was going to have Theresa at all costs."

"How did he say he was going to do that?"

"He said he would kill 'old man Hamilton' and have Mrs. Hamilton proved mentally incapable of caring for the three girls and he had friends in Amarillo who would help him."

The third daughter is Mary Gail, 9.

Girl Told Hamilton

Miss Pierson declared she told Hamilton of these statements.

Grindstaff, with this witness, also attempted to show that sorority girls rarely had engagements with non-fraternity men. She said there was no feeling in her sorority against "barbs."

On the way to the hospital Walton told her he was going to see Theresa "if he had to shoot his way in," Miss Pierson declared.

When she visited Theresa the girl suggested that Miss Pierson get Mrs. Hamilton and have Mrs. Hamilton take Walton to the hospital, the witness said. Miss Pierson declared she found Mrs. Hamilton, but Walton was not taken to the hospital.

Teacher on Stand

Christine Campbell of Pampa, a school teacher at Groom, said she knew Helen, Theresa and Tom Walton at the University of Texas where she was a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, to which Theresa had been pledged.

While Theresa was in the hospital Miss Campbell said she went riding with Walton, and he said he was on Hamilton's trail and had him shadowed for three days and if he made a false move, he would kill him."

"I asked Tommy if he meant that, and he said: 'Yes, I am serious.'"

Repeats Conversation

As she stood on the steps on the sorority house, Walton said, the witness declared: "I haven't been able to get into the hospital, but things are going to change. I have two gunmen on Hamilton's trail and if he makes a false move I'll shoot him."

Questioned by Grindstaff, Miss Campbell said she had made a statement to W. A. Keeling in Austin. She had read the statement twice since she came to Weatherford, she declared. At the time Walton made the threats she knew Theresa and Walton were married, Miss Campbell added.

"After you learned of that marriage, did you ever reveal that knowledge to a living soul after the killing?" defense counsel Simpson asked.

"No."

Judge Carter, at the request of Simpson, instructed the jury not to consider Miss Campbell's knowledge of the marriage.

YOUNG BRIDE SEEKS HUBBY

CHARTERS PLANE WHEN HONEYMOON QUARREL GROWS SERIOUS

(By Associated Press)

WICHITA, Kas., Nov. 1—Pretty Mrs. Ethel Grimm of Akron, Ohio, who is 23 and has been a bride for six days today set out in an airplane to find Joe Grimm, 27, her brand new husband and to patch up a honeymoon quarrel which caused him to continue his motor car trip to California "solo" this morning.

Chartering a plane as far as Blackwell, Okla., Mrs. Grimm told the pilot to hedge-hop along U. S. highway No. 81 with an eye peeled for a sedan with an Ohio license.

They Quarreled

On their honeymoon trip from Akron to Los Angeles, where Grimm is employed by a rubber company, the couple quarreled at a hotel here last night. Mrs. Grimm was homesick. So Grimm gave her $300, told her to make up her mind and to either return to Akron or meet him in Los Angeles and went on his way by motor car this morning.

"It was all my fault," said the bride.

She hoped to head off Grimm at or before he reaches Blackwell.

BINGHAM IS SAVED BY FESS IN ROW OVER LOBBY MEASURE

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The Senate was called upon today by Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, to vote on a resolution to condemn Senator Hiram Bingham, republican, Connecticut.

The Nebraska Senator offered the resolution at the outset of today's session. It read:

Is Quoted

"That the action of the Senator from Connecticut, Mr. Bingham, in placing Mr. Charles L. Evanson upon the official rolls of the Senate at the time and in the manner set forth in the report of the sub-committee of the committee on the judiciary is, contrary to good morals and Senatorial ethics and tends to bring the Senate into dishonor and disrepute and such conduct is hereby condemned."

At the request of Senator Fess of Ohio, republican whip, its consideration was deferred.

STOCK MARKET CLOSES AS BUSINESS VOLUME SETS NEW RECORD

BROKERS STRIVE TO GET BACK ON EFFICIENT BASIS

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The stock market was closed today while brokers strove to catch up with the greatest volume of business ever transacted in four days in Wall Street.

The stock exchange and the curb market ended their week yesterday after a three hour session in which a flood of buying, stimulated by constructive financial news, recoupled much of the loss in quoted values suffered in the record breaking collapse of Monday and Tuesday.

Gains Are Noted

Prices on the stock exchange showed net gains ranging from two to 30 points for the day, and maximum gain on the curb was 55 1-2.

Buying orders flooded into the market, attracted by relatively low prices for high grade investment stocks resulting from the deflation during the fore part of the week.

Confidence which had reasserted itself Wednesday was further fortified by announcement of reduction of the New York federal reserve rediscount rate from six to five percent and of the rate of the Bank of England from six and and-half to six per cent.

Loans Reduced

Another feature of the day was reduction of brokers' loans for the week of $1,906,000,000, the greatest drop in history. Bank clearings for the day set a record with $3,853,000,000.

During the three-hour session on the stock exchange 7,149,390 shares changed hands, a figure far in excess of the average for a normal five-hour day. The ticker was an hour and 48 minutes behind the market at the close.

The stock exchange and the curb market will be closed until Monday to give brokers' forces a rest and to permit clerical staffs to bring their books up to date. Closing of the security exchanges does not affect commodity markets.

COTTON PALACE OPENS

WACO, Nov. 1 (AP)—The Texas Cotton Palace and Dairy Show opens here today. The most extensive stock exhibit in the history of the exposition is on display this year.

A feature of the day's program will be a football game between Corsicana and Waco High schools. The first dairy show in the history of the Cotton Palace will be the formal opening in the Coliseum Friday night when cattle will be paraded through the building.

PARSONS, Kas., Nov. 1 (AP)—Three men were injured, one seriously last night when a freight engine of the M. K. and T. lines crashed into the rear end of a freight train on a siding at Savonburg, 31 miles north of here.

COTTON OPENS STEADY TODAY

SOUTHERN SELLING IS OFFSET TO NORTHERN BUYING FRIDAY

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 2 points to a decline of 2 points. Buying on relatively steady cables and unfavorable weather appeared offset by southern selling and realizing or liquidation. Offerings were light, however, while buying continued, and active months sold about 2 to 5 points net higher by the end of the first half hour with December advancing to 17.95 and March to 18.37.

Trading continued quiet. Advances of some 5 to 7 points above yesterday's close met liquidation and southern selling, but offerings were light and reports of trade buying led to covering. At midday the market was steady with January selling around 18.07 and active months showing net gains of 3 to 4 points.

"Worth Many A Dollar To Feel As I Do," He Says

After Three Years Suffering Amarillo Railroad Man Finds Relief At Last By Taking Orgatone—Gains Daily

"It's worth thousands of dollars to feel like I do now, since Orgatone has taken away the trouble that has kept me in misery for the last three years," said Robert Kemp, a well known coppersmith, for the Santa Fe railroad and residing at 1305 Lincoln St., Amarillo, Texas.

"Whenever a man suffers as long as I did he gets to the place where he feels like nothing will do him any good," he continued, "and that's just the way I'd begun to feel. Long ago my stomach went back on me, food would sour causing gas and I would have dull headaches, become bilious and I would have no appetite and never felt good, always tired and sluggish and was so wretched at night that I could hardly sleep.

"I'd been well enough satisfied just to have my sufferings relieved, but that's not all Orgatone has done for me—I tell you I feel like a new fellow. I don't know what they have in your medicine but it sure has put vim and pep into me. I hardly know how to express to you just how much better I feel only I feel just like I could pick up one of those big Malle engines at the shops and set it right off the tracks. I tell you I feel fine and believe me I am going to continue using Orgatone for a while, anyway. It's the most wonderful medicine I have ever used."

PLAN LAID TO HURRY TARIFF

DEMOCRATS ARE AIDED BY GOP BOLTERS IN SENATE WRANGLE

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 — The powerful coalition of democrats and western independent republicans of the senate today was aligned with republican regulars on the question of expediting tariff revision but vigorously reaffirmed its determination to write the type of bill it wishes.

Spurred by the expressed desire of President Hoover, republican leaders meanwhile, strove to effect some means of bringing the bill to a final vote at the earliest possible date.

They Want Discussion

Senator Borah, Idaho, and Norris, Nebraska, republican independent leaders, and Harrison, Mississippi, and Walsh of Montana, democratic chieftains, had given assurances they were entirely willing to hasten the disposition of the bill, but warned at the same time they would insist upon "ample" discussion on many items.

The appeal of President Hoover and Senator Watson, Indiana, administration leader, for completion of the bill during the special session precipitated conflicting expressions.

Senator Reed, Pennsylvania, strongly identified with the republican regulars, reaffirmed his belief the bill would die in conference.

President Hoover's reiterated desire for a continuation of the flexible clauses of the present law with power vested in the presidency to change rates, drew the immediate fire of Jouett Shouse, chairman of the national executive committee of the democratic party.

Called "Regrettable"

Shouse said it was "regrettable that the president's only contribution to the solution of the tariff problem is another plea for that part of the flexible tariff provision which gives him authority to alter rates."

re-entered school upon his return from France.

Had Filed Complaint

The shooting of Mrs. Lester occurred on the morning of October 24, a short while after she had filed a complaint charging her husband with aggravated assault. Mrs. Lester alleged when filing the complaint before County Attorney Vaughn Wilson that her husband had beaten her the afternoon before when he had returned after a four-months separation.

Despite his order restraining publication of testimony before selection of a jury in the case, Judge Mullican courteously received newspapermen this morning and arranged for advantageous seating of the press representatives.

Lawyers Listed

Bledsoe, Crenshaw & Dupree are assisting Mr. Bradley and his assistant, Burton S. Burks, in the prosecution.

In cross examination, Charles C. Triplett, of the defense counsel of Schenck & Triplett, has querried witnesses in a manner not contradicting in substance the questions of the prosecution.

The morning session was concluded at 11:50 and the afternoon proceedings opened at 1:30 o'clock.

Witnesses testifying at the hearing other than the morning's witnesses, I. H. McKaughan, T. R. Kincaide, and Luther R. Slaughter, were Dr. Sam G. Dunn, surgeon at West Texas hospital; and Mrs. Rose Paschall, partner of Mrs. Lester in the operation of a small lunch stand near the scene of the shooting. Doctor Dunn and Mrs. Paschall testified in the early afternoon.

First Time In County

Refusal of the Avalanche-Journal publications to comply with a request that the sworn testimony of the Clay Lester habeas corpus proceedings be suppressed evoked a court order from District Judge Clark M. Mullican, of 99th district court, late yesterday, marking the first time in history that the local newspapers have been restrained by court ruling from printing news.

Action of the court in ordering the testimony withheld from publication is ostensibly to prevent a change of venue, seeking to avoid widespread publicity of District Attorney Durwood Bradley's signed statements.

Will Abide By Rule

Charles A. Guy, managing editor of the Avalanche-Journal publications, announced shortly after being cited by the papers that he would abide by the court's order. "We have always endeavored to serve our readers impartially in publication of news", he said, "but our efforts in so doing should never interfere with furtherance of justice."

All newspapers in Lubbock county were cited in the order, papers being served on the following: Charles A. Guy, editor, Lubbock Daily Journal and Morning Avalanche; Vestal Lott, night editor, Lubbock Morning Avalanche; Al Hill, editor, South Plains Farmer; L. H. Quinn, business manager, Avalanche-Journal, and editors of publications at Idalou and Slaton.

"Should any outside paper endeavor to circulate the direct testimony in this district, they also will be prohibited," said Judge Mullican last night.

Order Sworn Out

The order, as served by county officers, follows:

"THE STATE OF TEXAS
COUNTY OF LUBBOCK
IN CHAMBERS 99th JUDICIAL COURT, THIS THE 31st DAY OF OCTOBER A. D. 1929.

WHEREAS, there is now pending in the 99th district court of Lubbock Co., Texas on the Criminal docket of said court, a cause numbered 1319, entitled "The State of Texas Versus Clay Lester" in which the said Clay Lester is charged by indictment with having killed one Virgie Lester in Lubbock County, Texas, on or about October 24th, A. D. 1929:

And, whereas, after the presenting of said indictment, by proper order of this court, a special venire of 125 men has been summoned to appear in this court November Fourth, 1929, at which time this cause is set down for trial;

And, whereas, there is now pending in said cause an application by the said Clay Lester for a writ of Habeas Corpus which application is set for hearing November 1st, 1929

And, whereas, it is contemplated that the sworn testimony of witnesses purporting to know the facts in connection with the aforesaid, charge will be introduced at said hearing.

And, whereas, the publication of such testimony prior to the examination of the venire summoned in said cause would have a tendency to embarass, impede, and obstruct the administration of justice, and would probably bring in issue the qualifications of veniremen who should come into knowledge of such testimony:

WHEREFORE, it is the order of this Court that no person, firm, corporation, or association shall hereafter print, publish, distribute, or circulate in any manner, in the County of Lubbock, State of Texas, any of the testimony adduced at said Habeas Corpus hearing until after a jury has been selected in the above entitled and numbered cause in a trial on its merits.

(Signed) CLARK M. MULLICAN,
Judge of the District Court, 99th Judicial District of Texas.

THE STATE OF TEXAS
LUBBOCK COUNTY

I, Flora Atchison, Clerk of the District Courts in and for Lubbock County, Texas, hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct copy of order of the court prohibiting publication of the sworn testimony taken at the habeas corpus hearing on the application of Clay Lester in cause No. 1330, styled Ex Parte Application, Clay Lester vs. State of Texas, as the same appears of record on page 1, of volume 2 of the minutes of the 99th district court.

Witness my hand and seal of said courts at office in Lubbock, Texas, this October 31, 1929.

FLORA ATCHISON,
Clerk, District Courts, Lubbock County, Texas.

PROSECUTOR CLAIMS PANTAGES TRIED PLANE FLIGHT FROM COURT TRIAL

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1 (AP)—District Attorney Buron Fitts last night announced his investigators had discovered, before the close of the trial of Alexander Pantages on a statutory charge, that the vaudeville magnate prepared an airplane in San Diego, Cal., for flight from the country.

Fitts made the statement in connection with an announcement that his office would oppose any attempts defense attorneys might make to obtain Pantages' release from jail on bond. He has been confined since his conviction last Sunday. It also was made as an explanation of his demand that Pantages be remanded to the custody of the sheriff last Friday when the case was given to the jury, in spite of the fact the man had posted $25,000 bond.

Williams, and will be announced when it is definitely known whether or not he will be in Lubbock.

Other plans for holding this year's short course are being worked out, with the aim in view to have an attendance of between 3,000 and 5,000. There were more than 500 registered at the two-day session last winter. This winter's meeting will be held for three days, instead of two.

Aid on Program Sought

At this morning conference it was planned to call a meeting of all those who assisted in making the first short course a success, with community leaders of various counties on the South Plains, to help work out a definite program.

A three days session full of interesting addresses, conferences, discussions, etc., of many phases of agriculture, is the ideal set by college authorities in charge of the short course. To make this possible, there will be experts from the United States department of agriculture, the various farm organizations, experiment station superintendents, extension workers of Texas A. and M. college, among these being prominent men from Texas and several other states.

Preparations Made For Club Kiddies

Preparations are being made by Miss Louise Baird, county home demonstration agent, and D. F. Eaton, county agent, for the annual Lubbock County 4-H Clubs Achievement day program, which will be given here within the next several weeks.

Last year there were more than 200 members of boys and girls 4-H clubs gathered here for an all-day session, and a larger number are expected this year.

"Every club member must turn in a report on his, or her, year's work," remarked Miss Baird this morning, "before they can become eligible to participate in the Achievement Day event."

CHICAGO, Nov. 1. (AP)—Approximately 3,000 members of the Cleaners', Dyers' and Pressers' union were notified today to sever their union affiliations or be locked out by the Master Cleaners' and Dyers' association. The lockout will be effective tonight until the employes are willing to return on a non-union basis, officers of the association said.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1. (AP)—The Villa Venice, fashionable suburban night club situated in an expanse of terraced lawn and winding lagoons, was bombed last night with damage estimated at $3,000. The place is closed for the winter. Alfred Bouche, owner, knew no motive for the bombing.

DIVORCE GRANTED

LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP)—A divorce decree, nisi, was granted today to Hubert John Duggan, son of the late Alfred Duggan of Buenos Aires, and the Marchioness Curzon, on ground of misconduct of his wife, the former Joan Dunn, who he married June 26, 1928.

was found guilty, there was no demonstration today.

Fall showed no emotion. Mrs. Fall sat beside him and his two daughters were among the spectators. Mrs. Fall leaned forward over her husband's right shoulder and talked with him and patted him on the left shoulder.

Fall said he had no statement to make at this time. He waited for fifteen minutes for his new bond of $5,000 to be prepared for his signature. It was signed by the National Surety company.

Falls' three attorneys were present, including Mark Thompson, and based requests for a new trial largely on Justice Hitz' charge to the jury which they contended was prejudicial and on the admission of evidence regarding the least of the Teapot Dome Naval Oil Reserve to Harry F. Sinclair.

Plea Overruled

One lawyer in his plea for a new trial merely outlined grounds on which he based his motion and they were overruled without government counsel having to make a reply.

Just before sentence was pronounced Thomas E. Norris, foreman of the jury which convicted Fall, and Miss Virginia Cooper, 23-year-old stenographer, a jury member, took seats in the audience.

As soon as his bond had been signed, Fall, accompanied by his physician and members of his family returned to his hotel.

SAN ANTONIO RING PROBED

OFFICIALS, CRIMINALS ARE FRIENDLY, IS STATE'S BELIEF

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 1.—Here to investigate alleged statewide ramifications of a gang of liquor racketeers supposed to have killed Prohibition Officer Charles Stevens, Galloway Calhoun, assistant attorney general, had before him today a grand jury report charging that law enforcement officials in many cases had tolerated law breaking.

The report found the forces of crime were better organized than those of law enforcement and that many officers were offering criminals "friendship, assistance and protection."

In one case, the report said, an officer owned land upon which Lynn Stephens, charged in Steven's assassination, operated a still. The same officer, the report said, lived in a house owned by Stephens, visited Stephens' home and his bootlegging headquarters on one of the principal streets. Another officer, the state charged, owned property used for the storage of liquor.

Indictments Held Up

The grand jury reported it had not returned indictments in many instances where the "friendship, assistance and protection" offered the original element by officers could not be denied, because the evidence was not sufficient to obtain convictions, but the report urged that future grand juries pursue the investigation.

Calhoun was instructed to lend all assistance possible to local authorities in running down the liquor ring. Attorney General R. L. Bobbitt, in sending Calhoun here, indicated the evidence coming to him from other sections tended to corroborate the findings of the grand jury.

Death Trap Set

The death of Captain Stevens, a few weeks ago, which precipitated the investigation, occurred on a road between San Antonio and a nearby town late at night. A woman stopped Stevens' car as he was returning from a liquor raid and attempted to decoy him to a small bridge where several cars were parked with a story about a wreck. Sensing a trap, the woman was forced to ride in one of the two cars in which Stevens' party was traveling. This car passed the bridge without trouble, but a volley of shots greeted Stevens when his car approached. One of the attackers was killed, and Stevens died the next day from a wound. Several people have been indicted for the killing.

LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP).—A telegram to Lloyds from Cherbourg, France, said the steamer George Washington had arrived in a damaged condition caused by scarping a wreck as she passed the needles. A diver will be sent down to survey the damage.

MINER KEEPS IN GOOD SHAPE

Suffered From Sick Stomach Until He Began To Take Black-Draught.

Cambria, Va.—"For many years, I was a coal miner, and worked every day in the mines," says Mr. Silas Hamblin, of this place. "This life was very confining, and my health was not good.

"I suffered with gas, and often had sick stomach, due to constipation.

"My breath would get bad, and often I would get up in the morning with an awful taste in my mouth. My skin was yellow, and I felt pretty poorly generally.

"An old friend recommended that I try Black-Draught for this, and because he spoke of it so highly, I bought some. I found it an excellent medicine, and have used it ever since, whenever I needed anything for constipation.

"I keep a box of Black-Draught in the house, and I find that a small dose, taken occasionally, keeps me in good shape."
