CROWD—over 170 people attended a meeting in the old Cunningham gym last Wednesday night to organize against Chem-Securities, Inc.'s proposal that a chemical waste dump be located just east of Cunningham. (Staff Photo)

Meeting Results In Statements Of Opposition To Dumpsite

By Nanalee Nichols

One hundred and seventy-six peopie rallied at the old Cunningham School Gym in Cunningham on Thursday, May 21, to discuss means and ways to block the proposed chemical dumping site which Chem Securities, Inc. is considering locating six miles east of the small community.

The meeting resulted in the formation of a Sulphur River Watershed Concern Citizens Committee, and a more organized approach towards blocking the dump site.

Those attending the meeting were from five counties which would be affected, Lamar, Red River, Franklin, Titus and Bowie. The majority of the crowd was from Lamar and Red River Counties.

A display map of the Sulphur River, and its flow to Lake Wright Patman, which supplies Texarkana and most of rural Red River County with water, was set up at the entrance, and petitions opposing the dumping site were available there for signing.

Prairiland School Superintendent Leslie H. (Buddy) Taylor, opened the meeting by stating that the purpose of the gathering was for "seeing how everyone felt, and what should be done."

Mrs. Jane O'Neal, one of the primary organizers of opposition to the dump, recapped what has appeared in newspapers. She pointed out that the location of the site, only three miles from the Sulphur River, and located in soil which has a high shrink and swell factor, didn't seem very desirable, Mrs. O'Neal also expressed concern over the transportation of the chemical waste to the disposal plant.

She mentioned that chemicals disposed of at the Chem-Security Inc. plant in Arlington, Ore., include PCB, Mercury waste, acids, causitcs, solvents, ink and paint residues, and that such things, if put into a local dump, would be extrememly hazardous.

John Swinson of Cooper, who was involved in blocking South West Nuclear locating a Nuclear dump site at Cooper, advised that the group should immediatley hire an attorney.

Among those attending the meeting were Red River County Judge Connie Sullivan, who was thanked for the action she and the Red River County Commissioners had taken in passing a resolution against the dump. Judge Sullivan stated that no one form Chem Securities, Inc. had as yet contacted any officials in the county.

Others attending the meeting, some making brief remarks in opposition were Lamar County Judge Brady Fisher, Lamar County Commissioner Jimmy Sparks, City Manger of Paris Bob Sokoll and Paris Mayor Billy Joe Burnett, John Mac Howison of Bogata, Raymond Haygood of AMPI and several people from Roxton and Cooper, who have been instumental in blocking the establishment of a nuclear waste dump in their communities.

Albert Roach, Chairman of the Texas Soil and Water Conservation, sent word stating that he had serious doubts about the soil in that area as being suitable.

Mrs. O'Neal stated that over 1,100 signatures had already been obtaines on petitions opposing the site, and that only half of the petitions had been called in.

P.C. Abernathy, another primary organizer against the dump site, told how he and traveled the south side of Sulphur River all the way to Atlanta, and then back up the north side, stopping each community along the way. He informed people of the proposal, and left petitions to be signed. Abernathy said "I found a lot of folks who hadn't heard about this, but I didn't find one in favor of it."

Mrs. O'Neal read a letter from State Representative L.P. (Pete) Patterson, in which he assured them of his continued opposition to the location of a chemical waster dump at the location.

Lamar County Judge Brady Fisher mentioned that he and Jimmy Sparks would sponsor a resolution opposing the site at the next Lamar County Commissioners meeting.

Fred Skidmore of the Red River Valley Water District Association turned in a petition with the names of water operators who opposed the site from all along the Sulphur River Area.

Associated Milk Producers areamanager Raymond Haygood announced that the AMPI would probably be willing to take action to block the dump.

John Mac Howison and W.C. Barnard of Bogata expressed concern over the possibility of seepage into the water sand which provides Bogata with its' water supply.

The meeting concluded with the formation of a committee, known as the Sulphur River Watershed Concerned Citizens Committee, which was made up of John Mac Howison, Bogata, P.C. Abernathy, Red River County, Jane O'Neal, Lamar County, Martha Hare, Franklin County, John Swinson of Delta County, and Neva Merle Crump of Titus County.

The committee will apply for a non-profit organization number, and will accept donations for the hiring of a lawyer and geologist.

A number of donations were taken at the meeting. Further donations, it was decided, could be sent to Jane O'Neal, Box 714, Cunningham, Tx.

The committee, and speakers, all stressed over and over that one of the best ways to get things accomplished was for individuals and groups to notify their congressman and state and national officials. A list of names and addresses and phone numbers was available also.

Another function the committee would have is to be a "recordable" voice at any public hearings scheduled on the subject.

Although anyone can speak at such hearings, only a designated party to the hearings can be recorded in Austin as opposing the project.

Consider the blackberry. It is lush, delicious, dark purple, and nature provides it with great abundance throughout the southern United States. Especially here in our area, and specifically this year, berries are plentiful and verging on ripeness.

There is, however, a price to pay for these cobbler-creating delicacies. Serveral prices, in fact!

One of the first, and most obvious, is the fact that balckberries grow in brambles. Brambles

Blood is a definite price one will pay for blackberries, in the form of scratchs, small holes and tears. Another, more sublte price, comes from chiggers. Everyone around here is familiar with the maddening itch and welts caused by the near-invisible little critters.

Ticks like blackberries too! Of course so do spiders, wasps and snakes.

But if one braves natures difenses thay can be rewarded by a golden brown crust, peeled back to reveal fat, juicy blackberries, far finer than any home-grown fruit.

Yes, blackberries extract a toll, but the sense of satisfaction as one eats cobbler and ice cream is worth it. Providing, that is, that all the itches are in accessible places!

Following their marriage on June 1, 1956, in the Fulbright Community, the couple established a home in that area where they still live today.

Mrs. Dugger is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Belcher of Cuthand and Raymond Dugger Jr.'s parents are the late Raymond Sr. and Margaret Dugger of Fulbright.

Champion Enters Rodeo

Bobby Cooper, current Bareback Champion, will be one of the top cowboys that will be entered in the Bogata rodeo June 25, 26, and 27. Bobby started out riding steers at the ripe old age of six, graduated into bull riding then later specialized in the bareback event. Bobby was a high school cowboy who attained the greatest win of his carreer when he won the Texas High School Championship all around. His only event now is the riggin riding and he is fast becoming an expert in it. He won the 1980 CRA Championship at Sulphur Springs, Texas with over $4,000 won in his specialty.

Bareback riding will be one of the seven events featured at the Bogata rodeo. Bareback is often confusing because the wild spuring of the cowboy is sometimes misunderstood as "showing off" when it is really the rhythm the cowboy uses to score points and stay up on his riggin. Make your plans now to attend the Bogata Rodeo and enjoy the competition among the top CRA cowboys and cowgirls.

Agricultural Update

Good soaking rains thoughout East Texas have certainly helped the moisture situation. Many farm ponds and lakes in the area have reached normal or almost normal levels. This should assure going into late spring and early summer with adequate moisture.

Dr. Randall Grooms, area livestock specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says that beef cattle producers should complete the breeding season by mid-June. That leaves only one month to complete this important activity and avoid calves being born during the summer months.

Grooms advises livestock producers to check the cow herd regulary for any cows that may recycle. If only one or two cows recycle in the average herd it may be the cow's fault. However, if several cows recycle, the bull should be checked and, in some instances, replaced.

Horn flies should be controlled in the beef cattle herd. Grooms says that horn flies interfere with the efficiency of the cttle and that a horn fly control program is very essential. Several insecticides are approved for controlling the flies. County Extension agents throughout the area have information on control methods.

In 1979, the Texas Legislature approved a Property Tax Code by the passage of Senate Bill 621. Under the guidelines of SB 621, taxing districts must value all the properties within their boundaries according to its fair market value. Districts must be in compliance with SB 621 by 1982.

The Red River County Appraisal District realizes that most citizens don't mind paying taxes as long as they feel they are being treated fairly. The fairness of property tax depends on how well the job of appraising property is done. To assure you, the taxpayer, of fair and equal treatment, and to comply with the requirement of SB 621, the Appraisal District, after careful consideration, has engaged Southwestern Appraisal Co., Inc. to conduct an equalization study of all property in the Red River County Appraisal District. Upon completion of this equalization study, the Appraisal District will be able to implement uniform and equal assessments for all property.

In the near future, field appraisers from Southwestern Appraisal Co., Inc. will be calling on you to request permission to inspect your property. How well we are able to do our job depends to a great extent on your cooperation. The better information we are able to obtain concerning property in the Red River County Appraisal District, the better your equalization study will be. We respectfully request your assistance. With YOUR help, we can assure that the cost of your local government is shared fairly and equally by all.

Her leadership activities include attending district leadership lab and the 1980 Texas 4-H Congress that was held in Lubbock. Dairy judging has also been one of Vickie's 4-H projects. Control Aquatic Weeds Now

Now is a good time to control aquatic weeks in farm ponds, according to Dr. Joe Lock, area fisheries specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The weeds may not be appearing in abundance this time of year, but during the cooler weather is the best time for control. If control measures are delayed until the plant are large and the weather is hotter, problems may be encountered with oxygen depletion. County agents throughout the area have publications available to help identify the aquatic weeds and give suggestions on control.

Persons interested in fruit and vegetable production in East Texas should mark their calendars for June 23, 1981. That is the day for the Horticultural Field Day at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Overton. Many items of interst are being planned. Tours of research plots showing the current research efforts in peaches, plums, apples, blackberries, sweet potatoes, southern peas, tomatoes and other vegetables will be conducted.

Additionally, demonstrations in drying fruits and vegetables for preservation will be gien by county Extension agents-home economics. Commercial displays of equipment relating to fruit and vegetable production are being scheduled. A tour involving landscape plants and Christmas trees will also be given.

LETTER TO EDITOR

We, several members of the Paris Diamond Softball Team and friends, would like to thank the employees of the Red River Haven Nursing Home for letting us seek shelter there during a heavy storm.

We were returning from a softball game at Johntown, and first ran into a cafe in Bogata because we were unable to see to drive because of rain, and high winds were blowing us all over the road. They told us we would have to leave because they were closing. We explained we were from out of town and just wanted to stay until the storm was over, and if we couldn't stay could we use their phone to call our families and tell them we were all right, but they said no.

We left and slowly made it down to Red River Haven Nursing Home, where we were treated extremely nice by people there.

We would like to say a special thanks to the lady who stayed with us during the storm which raged outside. She encouraged us to all call our families and let them know we were safe.

Her concern and kindness helped relieve our fears of the storm. Thank You, Red River Haven Nursing Home!
