Postponement Is Called By Foreign Ministers

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

GENEVA (AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers today postponed their talks for 24 hours at the request of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

The postponement was announced shortly before the ministers were scheduled to meet at Gromyko's villa.

The Soviet foreign minister requested the delay during a private luncheon with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd. Lloyd quickly obtained agreement from U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

The postponement will allow Gromyko another day to consult Moscow and study the new Western compromise formula for a stopgap Berlin settlement. It was assumed the Soviet government still had not reached a definite decision.

Moscow radio reported that Soviet and East German leaders met at the Kremlin today to discuss the Big Four problem in an atmosphere of "complete mutual understanding and friendship."

Western diplomats had expected to hear this afternoon whether the Soviets were willing at least to negotiate on the basis of the new plan. Gromyko was critical of the plan but had asked for 24 hours to study it before giving a definite reply.

Western spokesmen had made it clear that a rejection of the new formula by Gromyko would mean the end of the six-week-old foreign ministers conference.

Some high Western officials considered this only a tactical maneuver to give the Kremlin the appearance of seriously considering the Western offer before torpedoing it.

Others thought Gromyko actually wanted time to get new instructions from Premier Nikita Khrushchev and that some major Soviet concession might be forthcoming.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville were agreed that if Gromyko came into today's secret conference session with the clear intent of bargaining, they were prepared to make reasonable changes in the plan.

But it was said they would not weaken the key demand that the Soviet Union pledge not to interfere with the flow of Western traffic to West Berlin and the stationing of Western troops there.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was preparing to insist on a quick windup of the conference, however the bargaining went.

The new Western plan was delivered to Gromyko Tuesday night. The Western ministers went into the conference session Wednesday afternoon expecting it to be a crucial meeting.

It turned out to be the shortest so far. Gromyko did most of the talking, for about 15 minutes. Fifteen more minutes were occupied in translating his remarks from Russian. Then the session ended.

Court Does Away With Faubus Law

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A three-judge federal court today voided a state law under which Gov. Orval E. Faubus closed Little Rock public high schools last fall against integration.

The court added the governor's proclamation shutting down the four schools was void.

The Arkansas Supreme Court, in a 4-3 decision, recently upheld the disputed act but the three federal judges called it unconstitutional.

In the same ruling, the federal judges held invalid a companion state law which diverted public funds from the closed schools to others to which displaced pupils transferred.

The second act, the court said, was a device for depriving the Little Rock School District of funds to which it properly was entitled.

U.S. Circuit Judge John B. Sanborn of St. Paul and district judges Axel J. Beck of Elk Point, S.D., and John E. Miller of Fort Smith, Ark., held a hearing on the case here May 4.

Today's ruling was unanimous.

An appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court is considered certain.

Beck Denies Indictment

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Teamsters President Dave Beck and two trucking company officials have denied there was anything wrong in a $200,000 loan made to Beck by the other two while he headed the Teamsters Union.

Indicted Wednesday by a federal grand jury were Beck, 64; Roy Fruehauf, president of the Fruehauf Trailer Co. of Detroit; and Burge Seymour of New Preston, Conn., president of Associated Transport, Inc., New York.

Fruehauf and Seymour said the loan, since repaid, was made to Beck because he had previously made them loans when they needed them.

The indictment charged them with violation of the Taft-Hartley Act, one section of which prohibits union officers from accepting payments from management officials, and vice versa.

The $200,000 payment was made to Beck in 1954. In Seattle Wednesday Beck had no comment. His attorney, Charles S. Burdell, said that "naturally we'll fight this charge."

Burdell indicated he would seek postponement of the June 24 date on which Beck is expected to make his plea.

Most Of Japanese Cabinet Replaced

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi replaced most of his Cabinet today in a move to lessen dissension among rival factions of his Liberal-Democratic party.

Only party politics was involved in the change.

The government is pledged to continue Japan's close ties with the West despite Socialist pressure for a neutral policy.

Bombs Burst While Castro Is On TV

HAVANA (AP)—Three bombs exploded in Havana Wednesday night during a television appearance by Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Castro during his telecast made no mention of the bombings, which occurred in areas of the city away from the TV studio.

There were no reports of injuries or damages from the bombings, which were reminiscent of tactics used by Castro's underground during the terrorist campaign in Havana against President Fulgencio Batista.

Castro told his TV audience he would unmask elements of the press he accused of campaigning against his government.

Obviously nettled by editorial and other criticism of his land redistribution program, he said the newspapers would prefer to forget the "corrupt past and all the immoralities of past governments."

He did not explain what action he plans against the press. But he said a million rural residents would be brought to Havana soon for a rally in support of agrarian reform.

Hospital Staff Gets Dysentery From Milk

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The infection that made 108 persons ill—including many doctors and nurses—at Philadelphia General Hospital has been diagnosed as bacillary dysentery.

Dr. Sylvan Fish, head of the City Health Department communicable disease division, said today laboratory studies turned up the organism causing the dysentery.

A hospital spokesman said the outbreak is dying out.

Dr. Fish said the best guess is that the disease was carried in milk.

Beulah Is Losing In Intensity

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Tropical storm Beulah lost its bite today and weakened considerably as it moved inland into Mexico.

The Weather Bureau's advisory at 10 a.m. said Beulah, second major disturbance of the storm season, was no longer of storm intensity.

The bureau located the storm about 40 miles east southeast of Tampico, Mexico. Beulah's highest winds were estimated at 35 miles per hour, or 40 miles short of hurricane velocity.

"Remnants of the storm should drift very slowly southwestward and scattered squalls with winds up to 35 miles per hour will continue along the Mexican coast from Tampico to Tuxpan today," the Weather Bureau said.

"Seas have subsided to near normal over most of the middle and west Gulf. However, isolated squalls may still occur and small craft should exercise caution."

Except for some clouds in the El Paso area and Upper Texas Panhandle, skies over the state were generally clear. Partly cloudy skies and continued warm temperatures were predicted.

Scattered thundershowers were expected in South Central Texas, mainly in the south portion. Widely scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers were expected in Northwest Texas.

Queen Liz Begins Tour Of Canada

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip left by jet airliner today for a 45-day tour of Canada.

Fog will force the royal party to land first at the U.S. airbase at Argentia, Nfld.

Bad weather over St. Johns, the Newfoundland capital, forced British Overseas Airways Corp. to switch the landing spot. Fog has shrouded much of the rocky coast of Newfoundland for days.

From Argentia, the Queen, Prince Philip and their 11 attendants will make the 85-mile trip to St. Johns by car.

9-DAY PATTERN IS SCHEDULED

Commission Takes Drastic Slash In July Production

AUSTIN (AP) — The Railroad Commission again ordered a drastic slash today in the statewide July oil production allowable of 226,044 barrels a day.

The commission set the allowable at 2,666,771 barrels a day.

The commission ordered wells run on a 9-day producing pattern for the month, compared to 10 days in June.

Most major oil companies told the oil regulatory commission that the market for oil has decreased. They must reduce refinery runs, they said.

Only two companies requested a boost in the allowable.

The independents who testified at the monthly oil proration hearing also recommended a reduction.

Ira Butler, Fort Worth attorney representing several West Texas producers, told the commission that unless the demand begins to catch up with production "We are headed for a worse year than in 1958."

"The situation is so critical we are facing pipeline proration if we continue to take out of the ground oil that can not be used, goes to storage, and this causes waste," said W. A. Moncrief Sr., Fort Worth independent oil producer.

Chairman Ernest O. Thompson told the oil men crude oil and products are 59,010,000 barrels in excess of adequate stocks. About half of this is excess gasoline, Thompson said.

E. J. Henry of Houston, representing Atlantic, said that unless the company was able to find a market for crude in July and August "We will run out of available tankage for storage of crude oil."

Pecos Man Drowns In Balmorhea Lake

PECOS, Tex. (AP)—Kyle Ross, 3, of Pecos drowned yesterday when a car plunged into Balmorhea Lake, 45 miles southwest of here.

His grandfather, Asst. Dist. Atty. Warren Castle Sr. of Dallas, was in a hospital in good condition.

Castle said he blacked out from what he believed was a heart attack while driving his convertible car on a road beside the lake. The car left the road and plunged into the lake.

Committal Ordered For Parent Slayer

MAUSTON, Wis. (AP)—Circuit Judge Bruce Beilfuss today ordered 17-year-old Jane Dakin committed to a state mental institution "until discharged by law." The blonde high school senior was found innocent by reason of insanity Wednesday night of first-degree murder in the rifle slaying of her wealthy parents.

The court granted a state motion to reserve the right to appeal the verdict. Authorities said Miss Dakin would be taken to Winnebago State Hospital later today.

The Circuit Court jury of 11 men and one woman, after deliberating three hours, found that Miss Dakin was innocent on two counts of first degree murder because she was insane at the time of the act. This was the plea she had entered for her trial.

The girl admitted shooting her mother, Elizabeth, 43, and then her father, Thomas, 46, with an automatic .22-caliber rifle the night of Dec. 1. Seventeen shots were fired from the gun, most of them striking the parents. Afterward she went to a friend's home and told of the double slaying.

She testified at her trial that she had discussed "Hamlet" and other works of Shakespeare with her mother shortly before she shot the mother to death in their home here. She killed her father when he entered the home a short time later, she said.

Miss Dakin, who maintained remarkable composure during her 15-day trial, wept on the shoulder of her uncle, Phillip Dakin of Milwaukee, when the verdict was read to Judge Bruce Beilfuss.

The statute under which the girl was found innocent empowers the judge to have her committed for further treatment until she is cured to the point where there is reasonable certainty she would not again commit such an act.

The Wisconsin Diagnostic Center at Madison, which examined Miss Dakin for 60 days after the shooting, said the girl was mentally ill. It indicated that she could eventually be restored. If that happens she would be free, under Wisconsin law.

Testimony at the trial, and from a tape recorded interview with the girl admitted as evidence, disclosed she had planned to kill herself but instead shot her mother. The tape recording also quoted Miss Dakin as saying she had heard voices telling her that she was crazy and that at another time the same voices told her to bury two rabbits alive because "they couldn't live anyway."

Psychiatrists, testifying for the defense, said that the girl could not distinguish between right and wrong and obviously was insane at the time of the shooting and is now. Prosecution witnesses, including psychiatrists, testified that the girl was not insane.

The dead included Jerome Makara, 57, of Springfield; and his wife, Cora; about 55.

Their children, Geraldine, 15, and Edward, 11, were injured.

Long Still Wants To Resume His Duties

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A weary but determined Gov. Earl K. Long was back in Louisiana today, confined to a $22.50-a-day hospital room overlooking the Mississippi River bridge his brother built.

Long, 63, returned Wednesday night from a 19-day stay in a Galveston, Tex., psychopathic clinic. The return trip began as he stated firm intentions of resuming his duties as chief executive of his home state.

The extent to which this will be possible, at least immediately, remains unanswered.

Nearly a dozen doctors began checking today the physical condition of the ailing governor, who vows he will seek an unprecedented fourth term in December. They promised a midmorning bulletin.

Doctors at the Ochsner Foundation Hospital removed the telephone from the governor's "medium priced" room. They insisted a "no visitors" ban include politicians.

The big questions now: Will Long run again? Will his health permit it? Will he call a special legislative session to resurrect some of his pet bills that failed in the fiscal session?

Long slipped quietly and without comment into the privately owned general hospital after a plane flight from Galveston.

He immediately requested a bowl of peaches and cream. From his fifth-floor corner room he could see the big river bridge built by Huey P. Long, the late Louisiana governor and U. S. Senator.

The plane flight home began just 16 minutes after Probate Judge Hugh Gibson of Galveston County had released the governor from the protective custody of the John Sealy Hospital.

His wife had signed commitment papers June 2, three days after six men had been needed to place the governor on a stretcher for a flight to Galveston. Mrs. Long claimed her husband was physically and mentally exhausted. Wednesday she and Texas attorneys negotiated nearly seven hours before reaching the agreement that led to Gibson's dismissal order.

Mrs. Long said the governor had agreed to remain at Ochsner's two weeks or longer, if necessary.

Technically, Long became governor again when the Air National Guard plane crossed over the Texas-Louisiana border. He can exercise the full powers of his office unless incapacitated. Louisiana law, however, does not specify who can declare a governor incapacitated.

Miami Area Hit By Tornado

By ROBERT D. CLARK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Greater Miami area's first tornado in 10 years struck near bedtime Wednesday night, leaving at least 100 persons injured, some of them seriously.

"You just don't get that kind of damage from a straight wind," said forecaster Paul Moore in identifying the vicious storm.

It was the first twister to hit the southeast Florida coast since the late 1940s when a tornado ripped up property during a hurricane, Moore said.

Scores of bayfront homes were left in wreckage amid tangles of tree trunks, signs and overturned automobiles as the storm leapfrogged over a 12-mile path. Hundreds of persons were driven from their homes.

An 11-year-old boy, Frank Vaselotti, was reported in critical condition with head injuries.

Nearly 60 persons, some seriously hurt, were treated by hospitals, police and civil defense units mustered on a disaster footing. In all, about 100 were hurt, the Florida Highway Patrol said.

No one was reported killed.

Hardest hit was a four-block residential and business area around the 79th Street causeway where police Sgt. Stewart Cooley estimated the loss would run at at least to one million dollars. It missed downtown Miami.

L. S. Pope, picked up bleeding on the causeway, said he was on the second floor of a five-family dwelling when its roof blew off. His bed was flung into the air.

Don Shoemaker, who lives in the area, said: "I've been through two tornadoes and have never seen anything like this. It looked like a bomb had hit."

Mrs. Nola Cone, 40, scrambled out of wreckage of her bar with six patrons, shaken but unhurt.

"I've seen Oklahoma tornadoes but none like this," she said. "I heard this roaring sound and yelled 'Everybody hit the floor and get under something.'

"Then it struck. Bottles flew through the air. The cash register—it takes two men to lift it—fell off the counter. Parts of the ceiling fell down.

"The tornado must have lasted two minutes. As soon as it let up I shouted 'Count off. I want to hear seven voices.' And, thank God, they all spoke up. We got out of there."

John Brandt, 54, said he and his wife were in their small apartment when something wrenched their front window out of its frame.

"We ran into the bathroom," Brandt said. "I braced my back against the door and my feet against the bathtub. If I hadn't the tornado would have been in there with us."

City police, sheriff's deputies, a Florida Highway Patrol detachment, and Civil Defense auxiliaries shunted curiosity seekers away from the area and guarded against looting from stores and homes where building fronts stood wrenched open.

"Everything we had is gone—leveled," said Dr. George Ferro. "My $40,000 house is destroyed. There's a grapefruit tree where our living room was—our pool's been ripped out of the ground."

In a single block of north Bayshore Drive, in the area of greatest destruction, more than a dozen automobile lay overturned or crumpled. Some had been slammed against buildings.

House, Senate No Closer On Fund Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—The second special session of the Legislature is off and running, but no one knows where.

House members passed yesterday 83-39 their version of the state spending budget for 1960-61 and set tax hearings Monday in the wash of Gov. Price Daniel's renewed plea for quick action on the state's multiple problems.

Senators met today and could substitute their appropriations bill to guarantee a continuation of joint conference work beginning early next week. The House adjourned until Monday.

So far there has been no expression from any House or Senate leader that the two are any closer together on a tax bill.

Sen. Charles Herring, sponsor of the administration's tax bill in the first special session, said he would have to see what the House sent to the Senate before deciding whether to handle it.

Herring predicted the Senate now is closer to accepting a severance beneficiary tax on natural gas than when the proposal was rejected a week ago.

Daniel resubmitted his same program which was generally kayoed in the Senate.

This included the severance beneficiary tax, the abandoned property or escheat bill and increased taxes on interstate corporations—all rejected by the Senate.

One new idea is a gross receipts tax increase on gas pipeline companies.

"If you do not accept at least a 3 per cent severance beneficiary tax," the governor said, "then I recommend your consideration of a gross receipts tax . . . based on all receipts in Texas and half of all receipts from interstate transmission and sales."

Rep. George Hinson of Mineola, author of the administration's tax plan, submitted his bill yesterday which combines Daniel's program with part of the recommendations of the joint tax conference report. It would raise $183,755,000.

Daniel said 181 million dollars in new revenue is essential or the state government will bog down Sept. 1. He said the total can be cut 3½ million dollars if the Legislature finds a solution by July 1.

"For every month of delay in the effective date of the new tax bill we must levy approximately seven million dollars in additional taxes for the next fiscal year," he said.

Daniel again hit at the "third house," particularly the natural gas lobbyists.

"I understand some of the gas lobby has decided to make this session an all out fight against the governor and have even been so brazen to say 'We will have a tax made on the governor for every day the Legislature is in session.'"

He received three solid rounds of applause sprinkled with cheers when he entered the House chamber, when he was introduced and at the conclusion of his address. It was easily his warmest welcome from the Legislature this year.

Daniel's and Speaker Waggoner Carr's feud shot into the open when the first session ended in failure. Carr accused Daniel of disgusting and reprehensible tactics in promising to take any tax bill short of a sales tax or income tax and then backing down.

Daniel blamed Carr for the failure and said the speaker had stacked the House conferees against the House version of the tax bill. He also accused Carr of cooperating with the aims of the gas pipeline and interstate corporation lobbyists.

One of the matters submitted to the Legislature will be debated Monday by the House Reclamation Committee. It is a bill to guarantee public access to Texas beaches.

The House Appropriation Committee set a Monday night hearing on a bill to allow state colleges to charge students $30 a semester in compulsory fees.

Gang Leader Dies, Takes Secrets Of Meeting With Him

JOHNSON CITY, N.Y. (AP) — The man who played host to one of the largest gatherings of gangsters in the annals of crime in this country died Wednesday night.

Joseph Barbara, who suffered a heart attack May 29, carried with him to the grave another key to the mysterious meeting of 60-odd hoodlums and friends at Apalachin, N.Y., on Nov. 14, 1957.

The 63-year-old, short, once swarthy, bespectacled Barbara, shriveled and paled by illness, had lived on the fringes of death since he fell unconscious at his home in nearby Endicott May 29.

He lost the fight for his life at 7:35 p.m. But he won his fight never to divulge the sinister meanings behind the crime cabal at his plush, hilltop estate.

Despite repeated efforts to have him break his silence, Barbara evaded questioning by pleading illness.

Only last April it looked as though state investigators finally had him cornered. A State Supreme Court justice ordered Barbara, ill or not, to testify before the State Investigation Commission, an agency that has managed to jail some of the delegates to the underworld meeting for refusal to talk. No date was set for Barbara's hearing, however.

In his only public appearance after the gangland meeting, Barbara, looking drawn and haggard, sat silently in a wheelchair in U.S. Dist. Court in Syracuse April 27 while his attorney entered an innocent plea for him to charges of evading payment of nearly $40,000 in federal taxes.

Barbara died in Wilson Memorial Hospital during a routine visit by his wife, two sons, and a daughter, all of whom were seen departing later, weeping. A Roman Catholic priest accompanied the family.

Barbara had suffered a heart attack prior to the gangster convention at his home in 1957. In fact, many delegates to the meeting maintained they had visited Barbara only to see a sick friend.

His brushes with the law also antedated the so-called summit conference of crime.

His police history dated back to 1931 when he was arrested by Pennsylvania State Police on suspicion of a gangland slaying. His only conviction came in 1946 when he was fined $5,000 for illegal acquisition of sugar. He operated a soft-drink bottling business in Endicott and also distributed beer.

In 1956 Barbara held a meeting of hoodlums at a Binghamton, N.Y. hotel. The meeting, smaller than that of 1957, was supposed to be a gathering of bottlers. Police did not learn of it until the participants had dispersed.

The 1957 meeting, however, threw Barbara into the national and international spotlight.

The first faint suspicions of the meeting were aroused on Nov. 13 when an alert state trooper, Sgt. Edgar D. Croswell, noticed several big, flashy cars cruising into tiny Apalachin, 15 miles west of Binghamton, in south-central New York.

The drivers all had a certain similarity — big rings, big cigars, big hats, monogrammed handkerchiefs, silk ties, and expensive suits.

The next day while the "boys" whooped it up around a barbecue, Croswell, a Treasury agent and a group of troopers blocked off the road leading to Barbara's isolated estate.

The gay pinickers, bewildered by the sudden raid, galloped for cover. But 60 were rounded up, and a flock of investigations soon got underway. However, the boys all adhered to the code of the underworld: don't talk.

On May 21, in the largest attempt to crack the wall of silence surrounding the famed meeting, a federal grand jury in New York City handed down indictments against 27 men. They were charged with conspiring to obstruct justice. A nationwide round-up began. Only a handful remain at large.

Barbara was named a co-conspirator but not a defendant, since he had not been questioned.

Louis Prima, famous orchestra leader, made his first violin out of a cigar box and a borrowed mandolin string.

Solons Make Move To Arm American Patrol Planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators certain that our men can fight back immediately if they are fired on.

Bridges, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, and Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, are top members of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee. Johnson said this group, which he heads, will decide on the basis of a Navy Department report what course it will take in the inquiry.

Navy airmen said Wednesday that a communications mishap and two useless gun mounts in their patrol plane had left them at the mercy of the Communist fighters when their one operative gun in the tail assembly was knocked out. The tail gunner was wounded before he could fire a shot.

Adm. Wallace M. Beakley told a Senate hearing Wednesday that all naval planes are under orders to return any attack. Beakley, deputy chief of naval operations, said the attacked plane did not return the fire because its tail guns were shot out.

There was temporary disagreement over why other guns in the fore part of the plane and atop its fuselage were not working.

The plane's pilot told newsmen in Japan that needed spare parts for these two turrets hadn't arrived in time.

But the Defense Department said the forward turret had been purposely taken out of commission and the other removed to make way for special reconnaissance equipment, presumably radar or camera devices.

After the Washington announcement U.S. naval headquarters in Japan put out a statement saying that "the bow forward turret had partially been replaced by special detection equipment." It did not elaborate further.

But even if the forward guns had been working, they would have been of no use against the fighters, the Navy said.

In a report to Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga) of the Senate Armed Services Committee, it said the forward guns in the slow patrol plane "are for the purpose of strafing submarines on the surface and are of no value against fighter aircraft."

HEADED FOR THE ROUNDUP—Three of the four Snyder girls who will go to the National Girl Scout Roundup at Colorado Springs June 30, are pictured above with their duffle bags which they took to Lubbock this morning to be shipped in advance. Using oil as their theme, the four Snyder girls and four from Roscoe will make up the "West Texas Roustabout Patrol," at the camp. From left above are Annette Blum, Dawnel Wells and Connie Stanley. The girls will be at the roundup two weeks. (Lee Watson photograph)

Lubbock Home Is Lost Child's Haven

LUBBOCK (AP)—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Francisco Gonzalez has become a haven for five children who once needed love and help.

Brenda was lonely. Davis was lost. Robinette was sullen. Jose and Antonio could look forward only to a life of hardship in Mexico.

In a few years, these children came together to live under one roof and to learn that the cohesive force of any family comes not so much from blood relationships as from mutual love and understanding.

Brenda, 8, was the first of the three children adopted by Francisco and Mary Alice Gonzalez from a San Antonio welfare agency.

The couple next adopted Robinette, now 12, who at first was defensive and sullen.

"After a while, she began to smile," Mrs. Gonzalez recalls, "and from then on she found it easy to accept our love."

David, now 13, was adopted two years ago.

"I consider myself very lucky," she said. "They took me when I was 11 and that's older than most children who are adopted."

The other two boys, Jose Vera, 15, and Antonio Vera, 13, are wards of the Gonzalez family. They and their mother, Mrs. Rafaela Vera, who also lives in the Gonzalez' home, were brought to the United States from Mexico by Mr. and Mrs. Gonzalez.

Gonzalez, who operates a chain of washateries in Lubbock, is a graduate of the University of Mexico. Mrs. Gonzalez is a graduate of Texas Tech.

Brenda is of Hawaiian-Japanese descent, David is of Mexican-German ancestry, and Robinette is French-Indian.

"We never specified the age, sex, or race of any of the children we wanted to adopt," Mrs. Gonzalez said.

Frequently the family has held suppers which have been attended by as many as 200 persons. During the supper, color films of Mexico are shown.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

WE HAVE RECEIVED A letter from a mother of a Pony Leaguer who is complaining that her son isn't getting to play enough in the league games.

She says her son has played a total of seven innings in four years of ball here, three in the Little Leagues and one in the Pony League.

The mother implies that the managers are playing favorites, that her son is as good a player as some that get to play all the time.

And she added that several other mothers and dads have voiced the same complaints about their sons not getting to play.

We realize that it's pretty hard to take when parents go to the games night after night to see their son play only to see him sitting on the bench.

Although there could be a few exceptions, we don't believe the managers deliberately overlook a boy on their squads. It's only natural that a manager is out to win and with this in mind he is playing the boys he thinks is best.

It Happens All The Time

We don't know anything about this particular case concerning the letter we received. But this is something that coaches, managers and what have you are confronted with from Little Leagues on through the major leagues.

Yep, this goes in the majors where a manager's job depends on whether he wins or loses. Fans who follow almost any team will say "if Manager Joe Blow would just play John Doe more he wouldn't lose so often," or something to that effect.

We know it's hard for a parent to see that some boy is a better player than theirs.

But we don't believe it's quite fair to criticize the fellows who take on the task of managing a Little League, Pony League or any kid League team. These guys donate their time when they could be doing other things that they perhaps would rather be doing.

Maybe some do play favorites but if there are any they are in the minority.

There's one thing for certain, without these men to manage the teams there would be no organized kid baseball leagues.

Being Selected An Honor

This mother we heard from should feel proud that her son was even chosen on one of the local squads to begin with. Each year there are more than a 100 boys who try out for Little League but don't get chosen on a team.

So, it seems to us that to even get selected on a team is an honor within itself.

We've been in this sports writing business for 10 years now and we don't believe that a single season has passed in each of the sports we cover that we haven't heard some complaints along this line, either from a parent or a fan.

And, as we mentioned before, the manager or coaches for the most part are playing the boys they think are the best because they all like to win as much as the next fellow.

We can see both sides of this question. My two boys are getting almost Little League age now and we probably will feel badly, too, if they don't get to play. But having been around sports as much as we have, we're going to make every effort to console ourselves if they are relegated to the bench.

It's tough life these managers and coaches live. And to the guys who coach a team without pay, our hats are off to them.

Due to a typographical error in this corner yesterday, a point was missed that we attempted to get across. And some of you moms and dads may have been rather "bumfuzzled" over the way the phrase in question came out.

In referring to the bubble gum baseball cards, the statement read that the kids are "more interested in the bubble gum than they are the baseball cards." However, it should have read vice-versa.

Braves' Slump Goes On

By ED WILKS

What's with the Milwaukee Braves?

They've lost 10 of their last 15 and have been shut out three times in the last five games. Is this the beginning of the end to their hold on the National League pennant? Or is this just another of those slumps, such as they had and shrugged off while winning the flag the past two years.

Either way, they have only a half-game edge left from what was a bulging 4½-game lead a month ago after dropping a twi-night doubleheader at Los Angeles Wednesday night. They were checked on five hits by lefthander Sandy Koufax while losing the opener 10-2, then were blanked on two hits by Danny McDevitt, another lefty, as the Dodgers took the second game 4-0.

That put second place San Francisco, a 7-5 winner over Cincinnati, just one game behind in the "lost" column and within .009 percentage points of the champs. The sweep hoisted the Dodgers into fourth place, one percentage point behind Pittsburgh after the Pirates' 5-2 loss to the Chicago Cubs. Both the Dodgers and Bucs are only 2½ games from the top.

St. Louis whipped Philadelphia 10-4 in the other NL game.

As a refresher, the Braves blew almost all of an 8½-game lead with a 3-8 slump in early September before winning the flag in 1957. Last year they dropped nine of 15 at this same stage of the race but came out of the spin by building a quick 3½-game lead. They blew that, too, before taking over for good in July.

They've lost behind their best pitchers in this present skid, with Lew Burdette dropping two, Bob Rush three, and Bob Buhl one. In Wednesday night's opener, southpaw ace Warren Spahn failed to finish a five-run first inning for his third defeat in his last four decisions.

The Braves, getting a first game home run from Johnny Logan against Koufax (3-1), who gained his first complete game while beating Milwaukee a second time this year, had only a pair of singles by Hank Aaron in the nightcap. McDevitt (5-6), walked three, struck out two.

Los Angeles broke through a two-hit shutout by Joey Jay (2-5) in the seventh of a bases-loaded walk and an infield out, then added two in the eighth off Bob Trowbridge on a single by Don Demeter and Gil Hodges' double.

The Giants broke a 2-2 tie with five runs in the sixth against Orlando Pena (3-5) on three singles, one a two-run smack by Willie Kirkland, three walks and an error.

Cal Neeman, who singled and scored the tying run in the seventh for the Cubs, hit a three-run, inside-the-park homer in the eighth to beat Pirate southpaw Harvey Haddix (4-5), who has lost three to Chicago. Bill Henry (3-3) won it in relief.

The Cards made it 9 out of 11 with Ray Jablonski and Bill White each driving in three runs. A five-run fifth put it away against reliever Humberto Robinson (1-1) while lefty Marshall Bridges held the Phils to five hits and one run for a winning, 5 1-3-inning relief job in his major league debut.

Minton, Robinson Top Pony Batsmen

Tommy Minton of the Walter Hales Buffs in the Graduate Pony League and William Robinson of the Courthouse Tigers in the Pony League are the leading hitters in their respective leagues through games to date.

Minton is sporting a .429 average on nine hits in 21 trips. The Buff catcher is the only .400 hitter in the GPL.

Robinson owns the top bat mark in both Pony Leagues with a healthy .583 mark. The big Tiger first sacker has banged out 14 hits in 24 trips.

Two other Pony Leaguers with 10 or more at bats are hitting an even .500 to share the runnerup spot. Benny Minor of the Scurry Butane Dodgers and Danny Colwell of the Von Roeder Red Sox are hitting at a .500 clip. Minor has six for 12 and Colwell five for 10.

One other Pony Leaguer is hitting above .400. Jim Wilson of the Red Sox has collected 10 hits in 21 trips for .476.

The second top hitter in the GPL is Joshua John of the Optimist Club Cats who has seven hits in 18 trips for .389. The Cats also have the third, fourth and fifth leading hitters in Joe Fowler (.375), Ronnie Wylie (.364) and Darrell Rains (.350).

Fifteen Pony Leaguers and 14 in the Graduate Pony Leagues are hitting .300 or above.

The following includes all boys in both leagues who have collected at least one hit this season.

ABILENE (AP)— A reorganization of the coaching staff at Abilene Christian College will affect four of the schools sports.

Bill McClure, backfield coach, has been named director of athletics and will no longer assist with football. He will retain his position as freshman track coach, however. Line Coach Les Wheeler has been named first assistant head Coach Nick Nicholson and will continue to handle the linemen.

Director of intramural activities Dennis Calvert will take on as freshman basketball coach, replacing B team coach Jerry Mullins who has moved up to track field coach.

The football B team will be coached by Jimmy Hirth, former ACC halfback now doing graduate work.

Orioles' Pappas Halts Tiger Surge

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Young Milt Pappas has his first major league shutout, and he couldn't have picked a better time to nail it.

The big right-hander, 20, put it away with the best pitching of his brief career Wednesday night for Baltimore, dropping Detroit's Tigers 4-0 with a two-hitter and halting the Orioles' skid in the American League race.

Pappas, signed two years ago off the Detroit sandlots, struck out six and didn't walk a man. He had a perfect game going until Lew Berberet got the first of the Tigers' two singles with two out in the fifth inning. The other hit, in the sixth, was by Jim Bunning, who allowed only four Baltimore hits and had a perfect game for 4 1-3 innings. But he lost for the third time in his last four decisions.

Pappas retired the last 11 men in a row while gaining a 6-3 record.

That left the fourth-place Birds, who have lost five of seven since tying for first last week, 3½ games behind Cleveland's league leading Indians, whose game at Boston was postponed because of cold weather. The loss barred the Tigers, who had won three straight, from a second place tie with the Chicago White Sox, beaten 7-3 at New York. Washington escaped a last-place tie with Boston by beating Kansas City 7-2.

The Orioles, who had lost three straight, broke through Bunning's perfect spell when Gus Triandos and Chico Carrasquel hit solo home runs in the fifth inning. It was Triandos' 15th, giving him at least one against every club in the AL this season, and Chico's third. A single by Al Pilarcik, Gene Woodling's triple, and an error produced the other two Oriole runs in the seventh.

The fifth place Yankees returned to .500 with their second straight over the White Sox. Mickey Mantle's 14th homer, a two-on wallop into the third deck in right field at Yankee Stadium, capped a wrap-up, five-run second inning against loser Ray Moore (1-5). Bob Turley (6-7) made it six straight over the White Sox since August, 1956, but needed Ryne Duren's relief over the last 2 2-3 innings.

DIZ DELIGHTS FANS

Gas House Gang Relives Old Days

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The fearless, brawling Gas House Gang sounded more like a group of altar boys Wednesday night until Jerome (Dizzy) Dean took the microphone.

Old Diz brought the 25th anniversary ceremonies to life and showed 16,767 fans what they have been missing all these years.

Dizzy started slowly by saying how glad he was to be back in St. Louis, "where I was, after all, a pretty fair country pitcher."

He called St. Louis fans the "greatest in the country" and offered this prediction: "There won't be any clubs moving away from this town at all . . . no more." This was a reference to the old St. Louis Browns.

Then Dizzy brought the house down by thanking the organization which had made his appearance possible and naming his sports casting sponsor — a rival brewery to the one which owns the Cardinals.

As if that wasn't enough, he repeated a commercial of the same firm.

As an encore Dean took the microphone again and stomped out the Mudcat Band tune he had made famous, "Wabash Cannonball."

Diz was through then, but he had only started the show. Pepper Martin, Rip Collins, Joe (Ducky) Medwick, and others took a turn at bat while Dizzy — now 255 pounds and white haired — fogged them in.

Medwick gave the fans a thrill by going for the left field bleachers. One of his drives made it but was barely foul.

While Medwick was in left field the famed "battle of produce row" of the seventh game of the 1934 World Series was re-enacted. A few fans tossed vegetables on the field as part of the act, and Medwick was escorted off the field. Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick — chin on hands in the manner of the late Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis — ruled that Medwick would have to leave the game.

By the way, the Cardinals won the seventh game 11-0 over Detroit.

The perfect climax to the ceremony was the famed pepper game staged by Rip Collins, Martin and Jack Rothrock.

Polio On The Rise

THE DENISON HERALD

The Public Health Service reported that almost twice as many paralytic polio cases were reported between April and May 30 as in the same period last year. The figures were 175 to 89.

For the year to May 30 the number of paralytic cases stood at 362 compared with 192 for the comparable period last year.

Cases this year, PHS pointed out, are running consistently higher than last year. However, early in the year the number was unusually low, which makes the numbers reported currently look unusually large.

The Service is leading a nationwide polio vaccination campaign.

Stressed is the importance of taking all these three shots at the intervals specified for greatest effectiveness, and the fact that older people, particularly heads of young families, need the immunization vaccine as well as youngsters.

Success—or failure—of the vaccination campaign probably will be reflected later in the year, or next year.

Failure on the part of large numbers of families to take out this insurance against paralytic polio is due to procrastination and a natural tendency to put things off but in some cases to outright opposition on various grounds. In any case there is too much lethargy regarding it and it would be tragic if a serious outbreak must be the only means of waking the people up.

Monte Carlo Wheel Takes Boyle Funds

By HAL BOYLE

MONTE CARLO (AP)—Help!

Get me out of here or, better, lend me more francs. With a few hundred more francs I am sure I can whip the wheel—the roulette wheel that is.

From the time of my birth in Kansas City, Mo., I knew I was born to break the bank at Monte Carlo—or at least make the try.

Well, nobody can say I didn't make my play.

First I went to the dice table and tried to throw the dice that are hereditary in my family and once won one of my ancestors in Missouri the right to build a canal between Sedalia and London—God speed being granted beyond state lines.

They wouldn't take my dice and I got riled up and refused to use their dice.

By then my wife had got control of the family exchequer.

I explained I would break the bank at Monte Carlo at roulette. She said I was welcome to do so and God speed, but all she could lend me was 1,000 francs.

For a moment I thought she was bleeding generosity until I found out that 485 francs equals a dollar and 1,000 francs is only the sunny side of two bucks.

I found a roulette table where the going bet was 200 francs. Came to about 40 cents.

The table was surrounded by people who looked like they were either family advisers to the last Czar of Russia, or at least displaced cousins of Tovafich Trotsky. Each had a system.

They noted down the results of every turn of the wheel. They bet only about once out of every 50 times.

I passed up the 200,000-franc-limit table myself and sportingly put down 200 francs on No. 29, a lucky number in my vocabulary because it has always seemed to me the last number before 30. And you know what 30 is. Finis. Exit. So long.

I played it five straight times. It never came up.

Yet when I walked away from the table you could almost feel the respect of those sick foreign aristocrats. They had seen the last of the boy plungers of the Western world spend his entire wad—about $2.10—and stroll away tight-faced but smiling, bowing to a duke here, a duchess there.

Attempt Is Being Made To Save Eye

NEW YORK (AP) — Her eyes seared by lye hurled by a mysterious assailant, a bride-to-be faces delicate surgery today in an attempt to save the sight of one eye.

Dr. Milton Berliner, eye specialist, said Wednesday night regarding the condition of 22-year-old Linda Riss: "The right eye is hopeless. The left eye is badly damaged."

Linda had become engaged last Sunday. Monday morning, before she left for her job in a textile office, the apartment doorbell rang.

A Negro man told the girl's mother, Mrs. Bertha Riss, 55: "I have a present for Linda."

Bringing in a dress box, the man opened it, removed a glass jar and hurled lye into the face of mother and daughter. The assailant fled. Mrs. Riss suffered slight burns but did not require hospital treatment. The Risses are white.

Police believe the assailant might have been hired by a jealous suitor. Members of the Riss family have refused to name former admirers of Linda or her present fiance.

No Summit Meeting Under Any Threat

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bouncy Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev may have had President Eisenhower going what's on his mind. Now Eisenhower probably has Khrushchev a little puzzled, too.

That's because Eisenhower seemed to be agreeing with the Russian on one point, but not quite, and softening Wednesday what he said two weeks ago but, as it turns out, not quite.

It all stood months ago when Khrushchev made a threat: either the Allies get their troops out of Berlin or he would turn over to the East German Communists control of the ground, air, and rail routes leading to Berlin.

This would put the Allies in a pickle. They refuse to recognize the German Reds as the lawful government of East Germany. But if the Communists shut off their supplies, East Berlin, they'd have to deal with them or fight.

And dealing with them would be a form of recognition. At the same time, Khrushchev called on Eisenhower to meet him at a summit conference where all kinds of things could be discussed. That would include Berlin.

Eisenhower said nothing doing unless, first, the Soviet and Western foreign ministers met and, second, they showed some progress.

Khrushchev reluctantly agreed to the foreign ministers' meeting but lowered its importance. He argued that the top men make decisions, therefore, the ministers are errand boys. So, he claimed, a foreign ministers' meeting just wastes time.

The ministers met and made no progress. His June 3 news conference, Eisenhower seemed to agree with Khrushchev that the ministers were only transmission belts for top men.

"These foreign ministers are, after all, acting for someone else and the matters such as Berlin have to be brought back and studied carefully," Eisenhower said.

But he seemed to attach much more importance to the ministers at his news conference Wednesday. He said they are people who go to conferences clothed with a great deal of authority."

Next he appeared to be leaning a bit toward Khrushchev's view. He pointed out the ministers every night after their day's session at Geneva have to communicate with their governments back home.

He said they provide the mechanism through which agreements are supposed to be obtained.

But then he parted company with Khrushchev if he ever was in his company by refusing to agree to any assumption the ministers' meetings are useless. He implied that unless they prepared the ground for a summit meeting there was no sense in holding one.

But it was on another point — Berlin itself — that Eisenhower may have left Khrushchev scratching his head.

At his June 3 news conference Eisenhower emphasized that the Russians had created the Berlin crisis and then called for a summit meeting to settle it.

Before there is a summit meeting, Eisenhower continued, the Russians should agree the Allies can stay in Berlin until the whole problem of German unification is settled. In effect, since it won't be settled for a long time, this meant indefinitely.

He didn't flatly say this had to be done before he'd go to a summit meeting.

Asked if this is what he meant, he said: "I don't see how the head of any self-respecting government can go to an international conference in response to any kind of thing that can be called a threat."

He meant the Soviet threat to the West: Get out of Berlin, or we let the East Germans take over.

At this news conference Eisenhower was reminded of that June 3 statement. He was asked if Soviet failure to withdraw its threat about Berlin meant he could not go to a summit meeting on other things.

Eisenhower's reply seemed to imply he was softening his position about agreement on Berlin being a precondition to a summit meeting. He said he had just tied in his June 3 statement about Berlin as an example of progress.

He added: "If there is any kind of reasonable progress that justifies a summit meeting, why of course I would never decline the opportunity to go."

But after the news conference Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, talked with reporters.

"Even though the President didn't specifically repeat that June 3 statement, that is still just where he stands," Hagerty said. "He won't go to any summit conference under any threat regarding Berlin."

Col Industry Still Ha World Market

By M DAWSON

NEW YO (AP)—One American industry that hasn't "priced itself out the world market" despite high-age scales says today one rea its overseas sales are dwindli is that its prices are so low.

The coal stry says it is being barred n some markets by prohibitive ffs or import quotas and is ving trouble in a few others ause of continuing dollar shorta.

Dr. Ludwrhard, West Germany's min of the economy, promised dg his recent visit here that country's tariff on American coould be lifted as soon as surp German coal piled up at Ruhrtheads could be straightened out.

Paul Finet of Belgium, president of the European Coal & Steel Community, who is here this week, also thinks his organization will have the coal glut licked before too long.

American coal producers hope so, but they wonder if the German problem is temporary or chronic. They say they can deliver coal to Germany at a lower price than many European mines can produce it. And in time Europe will have to face up to it.

Piles of unsold German coal and increased mine unemployment led West Germany to clamp on a 20-mark ($4.76) a ton levy on imports, after the first 4½ million tons a year, which are duty free.

Trial, Funeral Are Ahead For Coyles After Losing Fight

WAKEHAM Mass (AP) — A speedy murder trial for one and burial in a pauper's grave for the other were in prospect today for the notorious Coyle brothers who shot it out with police and lost.

John Coyle, 24, charged with killing a Philadelphia policeman, said he is ready to return to Philadelphia voluntarily to face trial.

A court arraignment here on local charges was considered routine before Coyle is brought back to Philadelphia in shackles.

Coyle's younger brother, William, 22, was mortally wounded by police in an exchange of gunfire at the edge of a Middleboro cranberry bog Wednesday.

John dropped his two guns and surrendered when 12 state troopers all with guns blazing, pumped four bullets into the younger Coyle.

Each of the Coyles had fired on the police with guns in both hands, but none of the troopers was touched.

The gunfight ended one of the most intensive manhunts in Massachusetts history. More than 300 policemen had kept the Coyle brothers in a five-square-mile swampy woodland since last Monday.

They had fled into the woods after exchanging shots with two policemen who tried to nab them for robbing a nearby liquor store and firing a shot into the store's counter. As they fled they abandoned a hostage they had held captive, nearly foodless, for 10 days.

William Sedgwick, 49, said he had been grabbed in Philadelphia June 6, and driven in his car while tied in the back seat, to Massachusetts.

Police said the Coyles were fleeing after they had shot to death Patrolman James Kane, 27, who had spotted the brothers stealing milk from front porches.

John Coyle said his brother had shot Kane and added: "I was prepared to shoot the officer if he had survived."

The surviving brother showed no remorse when informed William was dead. He told police: "Well, you killed him, you worry about burying him. We have no relatives."

The end of the long manhunt came when Walter Schmidt of Union City, N.J., glanced out the window of his mother-in-law's home and saw a man crawling in the nearby brush.

Schmidt telephoned police, and in a moment three state police cruisers were on the scen. The officers alighted with drawn pistols and carbines, and the battle began when the Coyles were spotted barely 15 feet away.

Later John Coyle said he and his brother had seen Schmidt through the window and intended to take him as a hostage for their getaway if he would only step outside. Schmidt went to the telephone insead.

Geologists believe that Aruba, a Netherlands West Indies isle near the coast of Venezuela, is the top of a now submerged peak that was once forced above the Caribbean Sea by violent subterrenean movements.

BANDIT CAPTURED—John Coyle, 23, is brought out of the woods by state police moments after the Philadelphia bandit was captured with his younger brother near Middleboro, Mass. Salt Water Diversion Is Studied

HOUSTON (AP) — The U.S. Corps of Engineers will have a first report on a new survey to determine the best site for a salt water barrier on the Trinity River ready in January.

That was announced yesterday by Brig. Gen. William Whipple, Southwest Division Engineer in Dallas.

Houston's plans to divert water from the Trinity are based partly on building the salt water barrier at Wallisville. However, Gen. Whipple said it doesn't appear that site will fit plans for providing ample fresh water.

Houston's application for a salt water barrier at Wallisville comes up before the State Board of Water Engineers in Austin on Aug. 31.

Victor Bouldin, special counsel for Houston Mayor Lewis Cutrer, said that if the State Board approves the Wallisville site and the U.S. Engineers recommend one farther upstream it will be necessary for the board to pass on an amended Houston proposal before construction could start.

Bouldin added that further delay and expense might result from the necessity of redesigning the City of Houston's plans for the salt water barrier at another location.

Gen. Whipple said the new survey was begun last August after the Trinity River Authority raised doubt that the Wallisville barrier would fit its master plan for development of the river.

The Wallisville site was recommended some years ago by the U.S. Engineers as adequate to prevent salt water intrusion. But, Gen. Whipple said, the present need for fresh water along the lower Trinity River must be integrated into any plan of development as proposed by the Trinity River Authority.

Gen. Whipple said he would forward the first survey report to Major Gen. E. C. Itschner, chief of the U.S. Corps of Engineers in Washington, within a month after he receives it.

Biggest Police Aid Since Fingerprints

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The sheriff's office here has a new identification system it describes as the greatest help to law enforcement since fingerprints.

Sheriff Peter Pitchess said his men now can assemble in about 20 minutes the likeness of a criminal suspect drawn from descriptions of witnesses.

The system is based on a device called Identi-Kit in which the suspect's image emerges by use of overlaying transparent films. Each of the films bears a line drawing of a coded facial characteristic. A total of 62 billion facial combinations are possible by using the 500 transparent films.

The system was developed after 16 years research by the department's chief, Hugh C. McDonald.

Levelland Woman Dies In Missouri Accident

CARUTH, Mo. (AP)—A Texas woman was killed and eight persons were injured, one critically, near here yesterday in the crash of an ambulance and a car carrying six persons to a funeral.

The crash just outside this Dunklin County town on Route 164 killed Belle Howard, 76, of Levelland, Tex.

The dead woman was in a car driven by Elton Sullivan, 63, who suffered internal injuries. The Sullivan car was en route to a funeral in Steele, Mo.

Half Of Brilliant Minds Not Put To Advantageous Use

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — China and the Soviet Union outstrips us in the most precious resource of human brainpower, says the scientist-president of the Pennsylvania State University.

They have more people, hence a larger potential supply of brainpower resources.

Most vitally, continues Dr. Eric A. Walker, since they have more people they have more of the "five per cent" brains capable of big ideas, discoveries and solutions to problems in science and other fields.

"Very few of us have the imagination, intelligence and training needed for truly big steps and discoveries," Dr. Walker says in an interview.

"All through human history, only a very small percentage of people, perhaps as small as five per cent, had this kind of intelligence, from the time of cavemen who first used fire, or set traps, or developed the wheel or sail.

"Because there are more Russians than Americans, Russia has more people capable of real innovation. Potentially, China has even more than Russia.

"Our problem is to find our brilliant minds, then learn to use them to best advantage. Right now, we are using perhaps only half of them at anywhere near their maximum potential. We may never have enough to solve the new problems that inevitably will come along."

As an example, population is exploding. Dr. Walker says: There are nearly 180 million Americans and 2.7 billion people in the world today.

Within 40 years, some estimates make it 250 million Americans, and a world population of 4 billions. All will need food, clothing, substitutes for oil, coal, iron, electric power, and other resources which run short. This will call for new synthetic foods, and new sources of power from the sun or the atom.

Solutions must come from the small percentage of humans with the most brilliant minds, Dr. Walker thinks.

"We need minds which can synthesize, tie knowledge together, jump to the big concepts. All the rest of us are technicians compared with this kind of thinking."

Dr. Walker, who succeeded Dr. Milton Eisenhower as head of the nation's ninth largest university, has some suggestions to make better use of gifted human minds.

One step is greater support of education.

"We Americans do a great job of 'talking' good education, but apparently we don't really want it," says Christian K. Arnold, Dr. Walker's assistant.

"The United States actually spends less on higher education per capita from government revenue than any other civilized country. We trail far behind the Russians.

"We spend about three billion dollars a year on higher education, but 10½ billions on alcohol, one billion for baby-sitting, 1¼ on Christmas cards.

"Some estimates show we spend $15.31 per capita on higher education — a bit less than we spend on betting — and $85 per capita for alcohol and tobacco, and $87 on automobiles."

Dr. Walker suggests training "associates in science" through two-year college technical courses to do many routine tasks in science.

"Many students interested in science can't make the full four-year college training because it is beyond their capability," he says. "They drop out, and are lost to science.

"But we need them as data collectors, as designers, in many jobs where they would be highly useful, and personally happy. By doing this work, they free our most brilliant minds for really productive work, for their flights of thinking and fancy that result in truly big discoveries."

With colleges facing a tremendous wave of students in the next few years, the two-year associates in science courses would meet part of the need, Dr. Walker says. This also would leave the four-year college training open for more intensive, demanding training of the best minds.

"We should also be learning how to recognize our finest minds very early, and to provide scholarships as needed."

The Soviet Union is working in its own way to train and use its best minds, says the pipe-smoking Walker.

"But I'm convinced our education system is best, because we offer opportunities rather than forcing students to go in some decreed direction. It's a question of humanitarianism versus slavery. Our freedom of choice for students gives us especial strength."

Pistol Mishap Fatal

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP)—James S. Aikman, 52, of Greenville, Tex., apparently was looking into the barrel of his gun when it discharged, Coroner Cliff B. Raymer said yesterday.

A cleaning woman found Aikman's body yesterday. Raymer said Aikman evidently had been cleaning the Luger pistol which killed him.

Aikman, of 520 Greenville Court, Greenville, Tex., was staying in a Bowling Green Hotel.
