Equality Day Is Marked

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Feminists staged demonstrations and fairs, conducted church services and honored their greats during "Equality Day" activities marking the 53rd anniversary of women's suffrage.

Seneca Falls, N.Y., site of the first women's rights convention 125 years ago, saw an elaborate ceremony Sunday to induct the first 20 members of the new Women's Hall of Fame.

"Great Guts" awards were presented in Los Angeles at a combined picnic, fair and demonstration sponsored by the National Organization for Women.

The awards honored women including Billie Jean King, the tennis star; Olga Connolly, the former Olympic athlete; Rep. Shirley Chisholm, D-N.Y., and singer, Helen Reddy, who created something of a feminist anthem with her rendition of "I Am Woman."

In Washington, a women's fair continued in a park near the White House and a rally was set for today on the steps of the Capitol.

A Catholic feminist group demonstrated outside St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York to protest inclusion in the day's liturgy of a verse by St. Paul, Ephesians 5:22, saying: "Wives should be submissive to their husbands as if to the Lord."

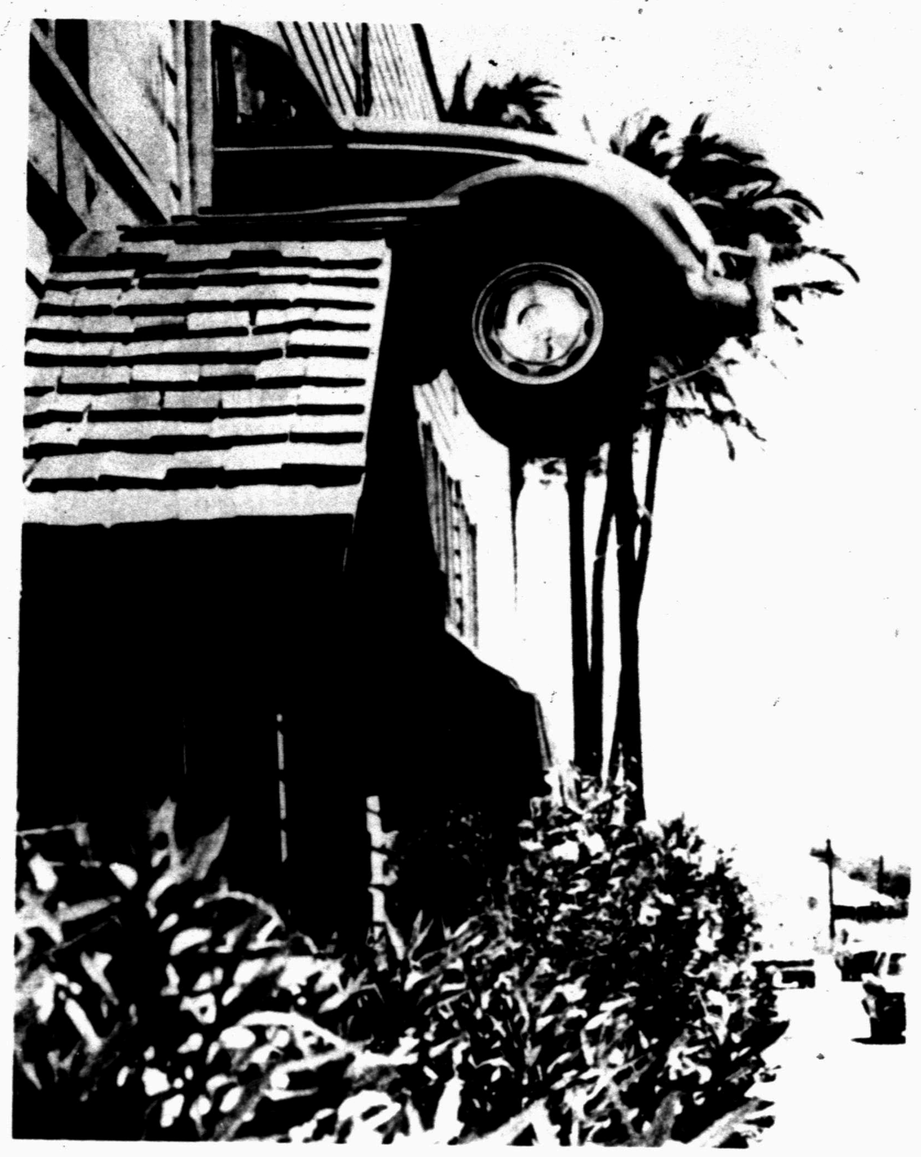

Also in New York, a group called Lesbian Feminist Liberation converged on the American Museum of Natural History with a 20-foot long, lavender-painted "female" dinosaur made of paper-mache.

The day marked the signing, Aug. 20, 1920, of the 19th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, giving women the right to vote. But a number of activities focused attention on the pending equal rights amendment intended to wipe out all discrimination against women.

In Cincinnati, bicyclists and roller skaters wheeled around Fountain Square in a "Ride for Rights." Feminists designated "Giant Step Backwards" awards for those they blamed for blocking ratification of the amendment in Ohio.

Women ministers led a feminist service at Trinity Methodist Church in Atlanta. At Christ Congregational Church in Princeton, N.J., there were readings from "The Women's Bible," written in the 1890s under the direction of Elizabeth Cady Stanton.

And "Roast chauvinist pig" was the main dish at a picnic held at Rock Springs, north of Orlando, Fla.

ONE WAY TO AVOID TICKETS—Although it looks like a way to park out of reach of the meter maids, a Hawaiian auto repair shop decided to attract attention recently by hoisting a Volkswagen up to the second floor and sticking it outside for an advertisement. (AP Wirephoto)

Colombian Air Crash Kills 41

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — A Colombian airliner carrying 41 persons crashed into a foggy hill outside Bogota and burned today minutes after take off. Police and the airline reported all aboard were killed.

Officials said 36 passengers and a crew of five were on the turboprop airliner of the domestic Colombian line Aero-Condor when it took off from Bogota International Airport. It was on a flight to Cartagena, Barranquilla and San Andres Island, a Colombian possession in the Caribbean.

Five minutes after it lifted off, the plane hit the fog-shrouded Cerro del Cable mountain, they added. Newsman who went to the scene of the crash said the aircraft slammed into the hillside with such force that it split in two.

"There were pieces of legs and cut and burned bodies scattered all over the hill," said one of the newsmen.

Police and rescue teams from Bogota, the 8,660-foot-high capital surrounded by mountains, were dispatched to the site.

Some of the passengers were scheduled to change planes at Barranquilla in northern Colombia for a connecting flight to Aruba and Curacao in the Dutch Antilles.

Insurgents Cut Supply Roads

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Communist-led insurgents pushed closer to Phnom Penh today, cutting the capital's highway to the sea again at a point 15 miles from the city.

The fighting for control of Highways 4 and 5, the country's major supply lines, was the heaviest since the end of U.S. bombing 12 days ago. Battles were reported at several spots along both routes.

In the closest major clash, Khmer Rouge rebel forces surrounded a company of government troops a half mile from Ang Snoul on Highway 4, about 15 miles west of Phnom Penh. A civilian vehicle was ambushed and two persons were killed and another was wounded.

Highway 4 connects Phnom Penh with Kompong Som, Cambodia's only deepwater seaport, from which supplies flow into the capital city.

Highway 4 and Highway 5, which connects Phnom Penh to the rice-growing Province of Battambang to the northwest, were cut Sunday for the first time in nearly two months.

"Fighting is reported on the principal routes during the last 24 hours," said Col. Am Rong, the government's chief military spokesman. "The enemy is trying to create some difficulty by stopping supplies to Phnom Penh.

The spokesman said both highways were cut at points where they are crossed by the insurgents' supply corridors. He said the Khmer Rouge and their North Vietnamese allies were trying to keep their own routes open so they could supply their forces in the southern part of the country before the monsoons in mid-September.

On the political front, Prince Sisowath Sirik Matak, one of the leaders of the 1970 coup that overthrew his cousin Prince Norodom Sihanouk, called on Sihanouk to help stop the war in Cambodia by admitting that he alone was responsible for the fall of the monarchy and for the involvement of Cambodia in the Vietnam war.

He made public a six-page open letter to Sihanouk in which he accused him of collaborating with the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong from 1966 until he was deposed and of selling out to the Chinese and North Vietnamese.

Meanwhile, in Saigon the South Vietnamese government claimed a record 93.4 per cent voter turnout for senatorial elections Sunday. As expected, returns showed two slates aligned with President Nguyen Van Thieu winning overwhelmingly.

Releasing Of Vending Firm's Records Stalled

By GODFREY ANDERSON
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Eldon Mahon issued a temporary restraining order today preventing the state from revealing corporate records of former owners of the B&B Vending Co..

The release of the records had been announced last week by House Speaker Price Daniel Jr. who had scheduled a news conference in Austin today to make the records public.

Judge Mahon set a hearing on the issue for 10 a.m. Sept. 6.

Raymond B. Williams and his brother, Burnie H., former owners of B&B Vending Co., filed the suit Friday asking for an injunction. The suit claimed that the Williams brothers "would be exposed to possible abuse, wide-spread publicity and circulation of infamous and ill-based stories if the speaker went ahead."

Judge Mahon took the action after meeting for more than an hour with lawyers for both sides in his chambers.

The vending company delivered the corporate records to a House subcommittee in 1969 during a legislative investigation into alleged high pressure tactics used by vending companies to gain control of taverns.

The suit said that books, tapes, papers and documents concerning the vending industry were turned over to former Rep. Richard H. Cory of Victoria and his subcommittee only after the Williams brothers were assured by investigators the maerial would be kept confidential.

Daniel indicated he would have Department of Public Safety Director Wilson Speir produce the documents from storage for scrutiny by the office of Texas Atty. Gen. John Hill and the press.

The documents were furnished to the subcommittee at a time when B&B operated one of the largest vending and amusement machine operations in three states. It was sold in July 1969 to Interstate United Corp., a Chicago based firm, with Burnie Williams remaining as manager.

Raymond Williams has a distributing company in Dallas that sells jukeboxes, pool tables, cigarette and candy machines to distributors over much of Texas under the name of Commercial Music Co.

He also has operating companies at Austin, Fort Worth, Temple and Wichita Falls.

There has been renewed interest in alleged links between the vending machine industry and organized crime since Rep. Jim Mattox, D-Dallas, asked for state investigation of rumors that New Orleans Mafia don Carlos Marcello has growing influence in Dallas.

New Law May Cut Poll Boxes

Scurry County Commissioners noted this morning that the huge list of new laws going into effect today could reduce the number of voting precincts in Scurry County by two.

Section 4 of Senate Bill No. 11, which became effective this morning, sets the minimum number of registered voters at 100 for maintaining a polling place. The maximum is 2,000 for a polling place using paper ballots and 3,000 for a box using voting machines. There are no voting machines iin operation in Scurry County.

Inadale, with 67 registered voters, and Bison, with 92 registered voters, fail to qualify as voting boxes under the new statute.

Commissioners indicated that the voting box changes will be put on the agenda for a meeting Sept. 4. They have until October to alter the voting box lineup to conform to the new law.

The two polling places in question may either be annexed to other boxes, or precinct lines may be altered to shift more voters into the two falling below the 100 mark.

The latest voter registration list shows a total of 8,579 registered in the county. Previously, 50 was the minimum number of registrants required to maintain a polling place.

In other business this morning the commissioners court accepted a bid of $621 from IBM Corp to furnish a typewriter for the district attorney's office, and took no action on a single bid received on construction of a bridge on Rough Creek in the northeast part of the county.

NY Bank Ups Prime Rate Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Chase Manhattan Bank, the nation's third largest, announced today that it was increasing its prime lending rate to 9¾ per cent from 9½ per cent, effective immediately.

If the rise becomes industrywide, as most observers expect, it would mark the 15th time this year that American banks have lifted the minimum lending rate they charge their most creditworthy corporate customers.

In Washington a spokesman for the Committee on Interest and Dividends, part of the President's economic controls program, said the committee had no comment on today's boost.

The announcement by Chase Manhattan comes a week after the last ¼ percentage point rise spread through the industry.

Police Give In To Gunman

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — The besieged gunman holding four hostages in a locked bank vault told police early today that he had tied them to the walls. He said that if anesthetizing gas were pumped in they would strangle when they lost consciousness.

Police immediately suspended operations to capture the gunman and a convicted murderer with him and free the three young women and a man taken hostage last Thursday.

The police agreed to a truce until 9 a.m. EDT, lowered sandwiches and drinking water through an opening they had drilled in the ceiling of the vault, and withdrew their forces from the area. They gave no indication what they would do when the truce ended.

"We would not like to see these young people hanged, that's why we agreed to a truce," said Police Chief Curt Lindroth.

"We are dealing with an inhuman being who does not hesitate at anything. We could hear the girls plead for their lives. Their despair was genuine."

Police began drilling through the ceiling of the 19-by-40-foot vault Sunday night in apparent preparation for the gas attack. The gunman fired one shot into the vault's ventilator drum during the drilling, but nobody was hit.

The police had been trying to starve the gunman out since the six were locked in the vault on Saturday. Police had refused them food, water or a portable toilet.

The gunman told police Sunday he had burned about half of the $650,000 ransom paid him last week. Apparently this was in response to the suggestion of a reporter in a telephone interview with the man that he burn the money as a symbolic protest against prison conditions.

The man was also promised safe passage out of Sweden if he released the hostages, but he insisted on taking two of them with him.

Texans Pay Tribute To LBJ

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Tears and smiles marked ceremonies today issuing the Lyndon B. Johnson commemorative postage stamp on the 65th anniversary of the late President's birth.

At graveside ceremonies in the Johnson family cemetery Sunday, a black wreath from President Nixon was placed on the late president's resting place by three military men.

Marine Col. Haywood Smith of New Orleans, a former military aide to Johnson, placed the Nixon wreath. He was assisted by Air Force Col. G. A. Edwards, wing commander at Bergstrom Air Force Base near Austin, and Marine Staff Sgt. Keith Herring, stationed in Austin.

After the slow, memorial salute from the three soldiers, Smith walked to the foot of the grave and shook hands with Mrs. Johnson, her two daughters and other friends and kin of the former president.

About 100 tourists, visiting the cemetery witnessed the ceremonies. The Johnson family burial plot is now part of a National Historical Site operated by the National Parks Service.

A special dinner and program for many of the late president's former staff members and friends was held Sunday night in the LBJ Library.

Johnson died of a heart ailment last January.

Rogers To Rejoin Board

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — William P. Rogers will rejoin the Gannett Co. Inc. board of directors after he leaves his post as secretary of state Sept. 3.

Rogers was on the board of the communications firm before he was appointed to the Cabinet job in December 1968.

Israelis And Arabs Clash

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli and Arab forces exchanged fire today along the cease-fire line in the occupied Golan Heights of Syria, the military command announced.

It was the first reported outbreak along the line since July 12 when the Israelis said three Syrian tanks entered the Golan demilitarized zone and opened fire on Israeli positions. One Syrian tank was knocked out in that encounter, the Israelis said.

The action today began when the Arabs opened up with bazooka and small-arms fire at an Israeli army patrol at the southern end of the heights, captured from Syria in the 1967 Middle East war, a communique said. The Israelis returned the fire.

The communique did not say if the clash involved regular Syrian forces or guerrillas. Israel has always claimed that Arab irregulars could not strike across the Syrian [illegible] line if they did not have prior approval from the Syrian army.

Should mom tell kids she had to marry?

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 By Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: What do you tell your children when they ask how long you have been married, and you are ashamed to tell them? When I was married I was three months pregnant. We had gone together for two years. We loved each other, and it just happened.

We were married as soon as possible, and now have five lovely children. The oldest is 14. My husband and I never celebrate our wedding anniversary. We just don't talk about it.

Lately, our 14-year-old asked us when our anniversary is. I said, "in December," and changed the subject. I don't know how long I can go on doing this.

My husband says we should add on a year. Would this be right? Other people know how long we've been married, and I don't want my children to catch me in a lie when I preach to them the importance of being honest. But Abby, I want my children to respect me, and if they knew the truth it may not set a good example for them. Please tell me what to do. Thank you. A MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I can best answer you by submitting this exchange:

DEAR ABBY: I was born six months and two days after my parents were married. [I figured it out when I was 16.] When I mentioned it to my mother she became flustered and close to tears so I never mentioned it again.

Mom and Dad are tops as parents, and I don't care if they did have to get married. I love them just the same.

Abby, you could help a lot of people who had to get married if you would tell them how to handle it when their children bring it up.

Should they lie about the date of their marriage? Or should they say the first baby was "premature"? What's the best answer? THEIR DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: The truth, while sometimes embarrassing, is always the best answer. But no couple HAS to get married. The boy can run off and leave the girl to face the problem alone. Or he can deny paternity.

Some girls choose abortion. Others prefer to have the child, and put it up for adoption. Some have the child and keep it.

The couple who marries when a baby is on the way, and make a success of that marriage [and there are many], deserve respect and understanding.

DEAR ABBY: You stated that a couple could be married by a ship's captain. Whoops! Not any more. They used to be, when voyages lasted months and sometimes years, but times have changed, and so have the rules. Marriages performed by captains at sea will legalize a union while the couple is at sea, but when they reach land, they must be remarried. VOICE OF EXPERIENCE

DEAR VOICE: Thanks. I am presently over my head in letters from readers who advise me of the change. Mea gulpa.

DEAR ABBY: Here is my solution for that artist who found it hard to paint outdoors [landscapes, etc.] because he always drew a crowd who watched him and sometimes made remarks which distracted him.

I also enjoy painting landscapes. I don't object to a few spectators, but when they get too chatty, I simply remove my hat and pass it.

I rarely get more than a few coins, but it sure thins out the crowd in a hurry. ANOTHER ARTIST

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Secretary Injured In Explosion

By G. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A secretary at the British Embassy was seriously injured today when a letter bomb exploded while she was sorting embassy mail.

A spokesman for the U.S. Postal Service said the letter was delivered to the embassy by the British diplomatic courier system and "did not enter the United States mail stream."

The explosion occurred about 9 a.m. on the sixth floor of the embassy.

Within hours Acting Atty. Gen. Robert Bork ordered the Federal Bureau of Investigation to conduct an intensive investigation into the incident.

Bork said the probe would be carried out "in cooperation with the embassy and the metropolitan police." The U.S. Secret Service also was investigating the incident.

George Washington University hospital officials identified the victim as 51-year-old Nora Murray and said she lost one hand and that the other was seriously injured.

Meanwhile, the State Department issued a statement saying the United States "strongly deplores this shocking act of violence against a diplomatic mission accredited to this country."

"We express our deep regret both to Her Majesty's Government and to the innocent victim of this senseless attack," the State Department said.

There have been more than 30 such bombing incidents during the past month in London.

The secretary-general of the London stock exchange and his private secretary were injured Friday by a letter bomb mailed to the chairman of the exchange.

British officials have blamed the Irish Republican Army for the London bombings.

REPRESENTS TEXAS — Charlotte Duggan, 14, of El Paso, flew to Atlanta, Ga., today where she will represent Texas in the Miss National Teen-Ager Pageant during activities for the next six days. Miss Duggan won the title of Miss Texas Teen-Ager at a pageant held July 6-7 in San Antonio in which there were 149 other contestants. Fifty-one girls will compete for the Miss National Teen-Ager title.

Quick Decision On Tapes Unlikely

WASHINGTON (AP) — It could be the end of October, or later, before there is a final court decision on whether President Nixon must release White House tapes to a federal grand jury and it is unlikely any indictments will be issued until then.

And, if the court battle goes beyond Dec. 5, the term of the grand jury investigating the break-in and cover-up would expire. There is no way of extending it under the rules of procedure for the federal courts.

The prosecutors could be forced to go ahead without the tapes or face the prospect of having to introduce a new panel to the complex case.

U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica has promised to have his decision on the tapes by Wednesday. But there still would remain the time-consuming written and oral arguments before the Court of Appeals and then the Supreme Court before a final decision.

According to many forecasts, it could be near the end of October before a decision would come from the Supreme Court.

The possibility that it could take even longer led Watergate special prosecutor Archibald Cox to appeal in his brief for quick action.

Cox said time would be needed after the evidence was received to pursue leads and "also for adequate deliberation."

He also wrote that it would be "of questionable propriety" for the grand jury to vote whether to return indictments prior to receipt of the evidence sought.

Cox also must know whether the tapes would or would not be available to defendants and their counsel before the indictments are drawn up.

The Supreme Court ruled in 1963 that the government must provide defense counsel with any material in its possession that might tend to show the innocence of the defendant.

Appearing Sunday on ABC's "Issues and Answers" presidential adviser Melvin R. Laird was asked about an earlier statement in which he said Nixon should release the tapes and whether he still felt that way.

"No, I am supporting his position and I believe the judicial branch should make this determination," Laird said.

"It has been presented to the courts, and my advice ... was political advice and it did not take into consideration the over-all legal requirements," he said.

Welfare Number Declines

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The number of persons on welfare in New York state has declined by an estimated 143,000 from the peak level of March 1972.

State Social Services Commissioner Abe Lavine reported the statistics in a letter to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller released Sunday.

He said he could confirm his earlier speculation that "a 10-year cycle of rampant welfare caseload growth has now been brought under control, if not actually reversed."

Lavine said the number of cash assistance beneficiaries in the state has decreased by an estimated 143,658 persons, or 8 per cent, since the caseload reached an all-time peak of 1,826,360 persons 17 months ago.

In the second quarter of this year, from April through June, Lavine said, the caseload declined by 59,397 beneficiaries. He said this was the largest quarter-to-quarter drop in 25 years.

"We believe the accelerating downtrend is due in very large measure to the impact of reforms initiated under your 1971 welfare reform proposals and subsequent state legislation," Lavine said.

The 1971 reform proposals streamlined state welfare operations and toughened audit controls.

Lavine also credited a more detailed, new eligibility questionnaire for helping reduce the caseload.

He indicated that the reduction has been more noticeable outside New York City than in the city.

Of the almost 60,000 dropped from the rolls in the April-June quarter, Lavine said, about 36,000 were in counties outside New York City. But 71 per cent of the state's welfare recipients live in New York City.

Persons 18 And Over Now Adults

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More than 670,000 Texas young people crossed the legal threshhold from child to adult at 12:01 a.m. today.

That was the hour a new state law dropping the age of majority from 21 to 18 took effect.

Gone are the old legal restrictions that required an 18-, 19-or 20-year-old to ask his parents to co-sign a note when he borrowed money—even if he was out of school, married and holding a job.

A person 18 and over now has full legal control over his or her body. Doctors no longer must obtain parental consent before performing needed surgery. A young woman can obtain an abortion without letting her parents know or asking for their permission.

While probably few persons in the 18-through 20-year-old age group have had trouble obtaining alcohol, they now can buy beer, wine and liquor without subterfuge.

Atty. Gen. John Hill issued an opinion saying the Texas Youth Council must release about 200 persons from state reform schools because they are adults and no longer under council jurisdiction.

The new law also had the effect of lowering the age at which young men can marry without parental consent from 19 to 18. Woman already could marry at 18 without their parents' permission.

Under another law that took effect today, 18-year-olds are to be called for jury service along with all other qualified adults.

Singing Assn. Re-Elects Devers

J. Lawrence Devers of Snyder has been re-elected president of the West Texas-New Mexico Singing Association at Cloudcroft.

Also re-elected by the regional organization was Devers' wife, Ruby, secretary-treasurer, and Jim Arndell of Albuquerque, vice president.

Airman Lee To Duty In Turkey

DENVER—Airman Johnny R. Lee, son of Mrs. Betty Wiseman, 2105 O'Neal St., Snyder, has graduated at Lowry AFB, Colo., from the U.S. Air Force munitions maintenance specialist course conducted by the Air Training Command.

Airman Lee is being assigned to Incirlik AB, Turkey, for duty with a U.S. Air Force support unit.

The airman attended Snyder High School.

Swedish King In Coma Today

HELSINGBORG, Sweden (AP) — King Gustaf VI Adolf of Sweden lay in a coma today, his life slowly ebbing away.

The 90-year-old monarch still clung to life after massive stomach surgery and five days in a respirator, but his kidneys had almost stopped functioning and his heart was failing.

The king's doctor, Prof. Gunnar Biorck, said several Swedes had offered the king a kidney.

"We are grateful, but a kidney transplant is not presently under consideration," he said.

A hospital bulletin said the king had probably suffered additional intestinal bleeding early this morning and his condition was "still critical."

Hundreds of the king's subjects gathered during the night in front of the city hospital where the king lay and at Sofiero, his summer home near Helsingborg.

Surgeons removed half of the king's stomach and part of the duodenum last Tuesday in an attempt to check a bleeding ulcer. He rallied after the operation but developed pneumonia Wednesday night.

City Firemen Kept Busy

The Snyder Fire Department was busy this weekend answering calls of grass fires due to the hot dry weather in this area the past several days.

Friday at 2:20 p.m. they answered a call to a grass fire at Ave. C and U.S. 84. A simultaneous call came from one and a half miles out on the Clairemont Highway where another grass fire was underway.

A grass fire was reported Saturday at 5:50 p.m. on North Ave. E. The last grass fire occurred at 5:50 p.m. Sunday at College Ave. and Twelfth Street.

One house fire was reported this weekend near the Midway Community. Considerable damage was done to the vacant house owned by Scott Bavousett of 3006 Forty-first Street.

Texas Areas Get Showers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Occasionally heavy thunderstorms spread from Louisiana into East Texas and down the Texas coast today, and continuing showers were promised over the eastern half of the state.

There also were showers in the Southwest Texas Hill Country from Kerrville to Bandera and in South Texas from Alice to Corpus Christi, while fog plagued some eastern and southern areas.

Skies were clear to partly cloudy in other sections and August heat maintained its grip in all area.

Top temperatures Sunday afternoon mounted as high as 99 degrees at El Paso. Brownsville was the coolest point with a maximum of 84.

HOSPITAL NOTES

ADMISSIONS: Vollie Shipp, Fluvanna; Kirk Herrley, Rt. 1; Dwayne Lewis, 3007 Ave. I; Marvine Blaylock, 2303 Forty-third; Gene Alarcon, 2106 Forty-first; Ida May Tucker, 121 Twenty-fifth; Elbert York, 3100 Ave. W; Eula Camp, Rt. 1, Box 13; Grover Brown, 1007 Twenty-fourth.

Mishaps Are Reported

Two parked-car accidents were reported yesterday and one this morning. A 1968 Pontiac owned and operated by James Earl Williams of 1610 Twenty-seventh Street was backing out of his driveway and ran into the front of a parked 1970 Volkswagen owned by Roy Wood of 3758 Dalton.

At 1:43 a.m. this morning, a 1965 Pontiac Grand Prix, owned and operated by Flora Kirkpatrick of 2701 Ave. Y, rolled back and hit a City Patrol Car parked on Twenty-eighth Street.

A 1966 Chevrolet owned and operated by Darrell Lessley Ward, 610 S. Seventh, Big Spring, Texas was in collision Saturday with a 1967 Ford owned by Bertha C. Holdridge, Hermleigh, and driven by Jess Raymond Holdridge of Hermleigh at about 2 p.m.

David Monroe Loflin of 3003 Forty-first St. lost control of his car when the left front tire struck the curb as he was entering U.S. 180 and bent a highway sign to the ground.

Rites Held For Mrs. Woodard

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. H.V. Woodard, 53, of Haskell. Mrs. Woodard, the former Dorothy Pinkerton, was born in Snyder March 15, 1920, and attended Snyder High School. She graduated from ACC in 1943 and taught at Haskell 18 years. She married H.V. Woodard in 1945 and he survives.

Other survivors include two daughters, Rhonda Woodard of the home and Mrs. Rita Franks of Abilene; two brothers, Frank Pinkerton of Snyder and Eugene Pinkerton of Jacksonville.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. today at the Church of Christ in Haskell. Holden-McCauley Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements.

FROM THE GREEKS comes Greek Style Vegetable Skillet done with lamb or beef, and vegetables beloved by Mediterranean peoples—eggplant, mushrooms, onion, garlic, tomatoes, zucchini and green pepper.

Dish From Ancient Greece Makes Modern Time-Saver

The Greeks would like a word with you about cutting down your work in the kitchen — including the number of pots and pans for washing.

Follow the example of these Mediterranean people, and make one of their skillet meals for dinner. Delicious! The recipe for Greek Style Vegetable Skillet will set you on the pleasant path to saving work and time when you cook. This dinner is made with either lamb or beef — to your taste — although the lamb is the traditional Greek choice. Onions and garlic do their flavorful work, and then marvelous vegetables join the parade — mushrooms, tomatoes, eggplant, zucchini, green pepper. There's convenient packaged pre-cooked rice in this skillet, too, so it's truly a meal with all courses combined in one dish. The indispensable step in this Greek masterpiece is adding Ac'cent. This natural product has a wonderful way of bringing out the richness of the meat flavor and blending together the many elements of the dish into a harmony.

Another example of this style cookery is a Chicken Skillet with Mushrooms and Tomatoes. This dish makes a delicious sauce as it cooks, and the savory mixture is served over cooked noodles. Hearty and satisfying. It has the same pleasant attributes of saving work in the kitchen both before dinner and afterward at clean-up. These dishes are friendly to cooks caught in a bind for time.

GREEK STYLE VEGETABLE SKILLET

1 pound ground lamb or beef
2 medium onions, thinly sliced
1 clove garlic, minced
½ pound mushrooms, sliced
3 medium tomatoes, peeled and cut into wedges
1 small eggplant, pared and cubed
2 medium zucchini, cut into ¼-inch slices
1 medium green pepper, chopped
1 teaspoon Ac'cent
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dried leaf oregano
½ cup packaged precooked rice
¼ cup chopped parsley

YIELD: 4 servings.

Use 2 tablespoons salt with ground beef.

Beauty Shares Self

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — The new Miss Black America says the essense of beauty comes from within and is spiritual.

"It's a sharing of oneself with others," said Arnice Russell, 22, of New York City. "That's all I really want out of life: to share myself."

First Days Of School

COLLEGE STATION — With the school rush on again, parents face the important task of helping the young child develop emotionally, as well as physically, in his new environment.

"One of the very best ways to help your child in school is to be very much aware of how he feels about his world," according to Dorthy Taylor, Texas Agricultural Extension Service family life specialist.

"Far too often parents assume that as long as they feed, dress and care for the physical needs of their child, they have fulfilled their parental responsibilities.

"Today parents face a similar educational task in learning about the mental health requirements of children. The need for such attention to emotional development is apparent — children with school problems largely are affected with poor emotional health."

Miss Taylor outlined the following general rules of helpful parental conduct:

Assume the concerns and worries your child has are as important to him as your worries are to you.

Don't minimize his lost school book, his forgotten paper or his boredom with a monotonous task.

Encourage your child to talk about his concerns — sometimes negative feelings are best handled by simply talking them out.

Help your child in whatever way he wants you to — the child must be accepted on his own terms, not on those of his parents.

Be encouraging and always ready to go out of your way with little hope of thanks at that moment.

Miss Taylor stressed the need for parental concern and understanding in preventing and solving school problems.

Flower Show Rules

Mrs. S.L. Terry, president of the Snyder Garden Club and general superintendent of the Flower Show at the Scurry County Fair, has requested that we make available to those who have not obtained the Fair catalog the rules and regulations of entering the flower show so that no one will be kept from entering because of lack of knowledge of the rules.

In a condensed form, not numbered, here are the general rules. This shall be a Standard Show in accordance with rules set by the National Council of State Garden Clubs. All amateur gardeners and exhibitors in this area are eligible to exhibit for competition in both horticulture and artistic design divisions if entries conform to all rules in the schedule. Entries will be accepted between 8 and 11 a.m. Thursday Sept. 13. Entries may not be removed before 10 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 15. Entries may be removed Sunday, Sept. 16, from 2-5 p.m. Container grown plants must be delivered between 1 and 8 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 12. Other entries must be in the building by 10:50 a.m., classified, entered, and ready for placement by 11 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 13. Judging by nationally accredited judges will begin by 1 p.m. Sept. 13. The committee will not be responsible for properties, although reasonable care will be exercised. No artificial flowers, foliage, or fruit may be used in the show. No cut fresh fruits or vegetables permitted. Stuffed birds, nests, or eggs are not to be used in any entry; exception—educational exhibits, when proper permission has been given. Only show judges, clerks, and flower show chairmen may be in the show room during judging. The classification committee chairman should be readily available. The classification committee may disqualify any entry which does not conform to the schedule. Exhibitors are encouraged to place a card in interpretation with each artistic exhibit. Decision of the judges will be final but the show committee is free to interpret a controversial ruling. Exhibits not provided for in the schedule can be exhibited for display only. Plant material on the conservation list of District I may be exhibited in all divisions under these specific conditions: Any exhibit containing a protected variety must be accompanied with a card listing both botanical and accepted common name of the plant and certification that it was grown by the exhibitor, from seed or other method, or that it was established as a native wilding on the exhibitor's property. The Conservation List is as follows. Sotol-Dasylirion leiophyllum, Blue Bonnet-Lupinus subcarnosus, Indian Paint Brush-Castilleja lindheimer, Standing Cypress-Gilia ruba and Spanish Dagger-Yucca torreyi.

Below is the Horticulture division rules. All horticulture specimen must be yard grown by the exhibitor. Container grown plants are excepted from yard grown rules but must have been in exhibitor's possession at least three months. Containers for specimen will be furnished by exhibitor-king size coke bottle preferred. Exception—Extra large or extra small specimen will be exhibited in bottle scale with specimen.

The Handbook will provide any definition which may clarify nomenclature used in this schedule. Judging of specimen will be according to the standards set by National and American Plant Societies, where applicable. Other specimen will be judged by scale of points recommended by National Council. Handbook page for scale of points follows genus section or by side of class. When accurately named, more than one entry per subdivision of a class may be entered by exhibitor; example—Roses, Div. II, Class 15, sub-div. red, as many named varieties or red roses as desired. Collections to be five in separate containers tied together. Follow schedule description for collections. All specimen should be fresh and well-groomed. Presence of insects may disqualify an exhibit.

The Artistic Division Rules are as follows. All classes are named. Exhibitor is free to interpret the class any way he or she wishes. Scale of points will follow each section in artistic. No high awards can be given in the novice, miniature, or youth sections. A novice is one who enterd competition for the first time or who has never won a blue ribbon in previous shows. Miniature or small arrangements are small scale designs in which the dimensions have been set as not exceed 8 in. in any direction including container, base, and accessories. All exhibits must be made by exhibitor. Foliage materials and bases may be used in artistic design classes. Other rules are in the General Rules.

The list of Divisions and Sections will be given here but the catalog should be consulted for the list of classes which are too numerous and detailed to mention here. The list of Divisions will give you some idea of the types of things to be entered. Division I-"This Earth We Share"-artistic design. Section A-"Something In A Garden" Tri-Color; Section B-"Here-There-Everywhere"-Creativity; Section C-"Natures Art"-Award of Distinction; Section D-"Small Places"; Section E-"New Growth"-Novice (Designers Choice); Division II-"Out Living Land"-Horticulture; Section F-Roses-"Earthly Tribute-; Section G-Chrysanthemums-"Stars Shining Brightly-; Section H-Dahlias-"Changing Scene"; Section I-Biennials and Perennials, SectionJ-Annuals; Section K-Shrubs and Trees; Section L-Container Grown Plants; Division III-State and National Objectives-Section M-Conservation-An Invitation to Birds; Section N-Education-Display showing new horticultural introductions and new methods; Division IV-Young Gardeners; Section O-Artistic Design; Section P-Horticulture.

Record Interest Level Forces New Decisions

By JOSH FITZHUGH
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The record rise of interest rates this year has presented investors with a new and complex set of financial decisions.

Effective yields of 8, 9 and 10 per cent and sometimes higher dangle seductively these days before practically everybody with money in the stock market, or even the standard 5¼ per cent savings account.

But the investor has to answer some fundamental questions for himself before making a choice.

Take a hypothetical individual with a family, some money in growth stocks, and $20,000 in his passbook savings account.

He is pretty well informed on the basic workings of the stock market. He believes firmly in maintaining the $20,000 in savings as a cash reserve — in a safe and readily accessible place where it will be available for emergencies.

He's also keenly aware of inflation, and the toll it is taking on the purchasing power of the $20,000.

But, most likely, he's less familiar with the credit markets.

"Analysts say that the inverse yield curve current in the present market makes short-term fixed-income securities particularly attractive to cookie-jar savers," he reads in a newspaper financial story. "Such instruments as Treasury bills, commercial paper, agency issues, municipal notes and even corporate bonds are receiving increased attention."

At about that point, slightly mystified, he calls a broker at random — say, Henry Arbeeny, a fixed-income securities specialist at Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis.

There are many possible approaches, says Arbeeny. Do you want a short-term or a long-term investment? Does your tax bracket suggest taxable or tax-exempt income?

"The menu is large and confusing," he says. "Even some brokers haven't figured it all out."

One obviously attractive new possibility comes in the up to 8 per cent returns offered by many banks on federally insured four-year deposits since the government lifted the interest ceilings on those deposits.

But only 5 per cent of a bank's total deposits can go into those accounts, and by now many institutions are "sold out."

Additionally they reduce the accessibility of the money. If the money has to be withdrawn for an emergency before the four years have passed, the depositor's interest for the entire period of the deposit drops to the passbook level, and he is further penalized three months' interest.

Other fixed-income investments can also have their drawbacks, Arbeeny says — the trick is to have a clear definition of one's needs, and then to fit the investment to them.

For those in the 30 per cent income tax bracket and higher, he says, tax-exempt municipal bonds and notes represent the best potential return. Those under the 30 per cent bracket are likely to find their best return in taxable issues, with their higher pretax yields.

Long term or short? Long terms offer the alluring prospect of catching interest rates at a high and riding them well into the future, when rates may be much lower.

But, Arbeeny points out, the holder of a long-term security can suffer should he want or need to get his money out of it before it matures if the security's price has fallen since he bought it.

"If, at the time he invests, the investor is thinking that he may have to withdraw the money for some reason, he's far better off to stay with short terms," the broker observes.

The disadvantage of short-term securities, on the other hand, is that, even if bought at a time when interest rates are at a peak, they provide that high rate only for the few months before they mature. If rates come down in the meantime, the investor finds himself with money to invest and no further access to the peak rates prevailing earlier.

Junior Editors' Quiz on POLTERGEISTS

QUESTION: What is a poltergeist?

ANSWER: Poltergeist is a word of German origin referring to a noisy spirit or ghost. From early times, people have believed in supernatural beings who frequently invaded the physical world. Sometimes they were thought to be dangerous, and other times they were considered as benign and perhaps humorous.

Fairies with magical powers were known to many countries. These spirits have been called by various names such as dwarfs or little people, elves, brownies, gnomes, goblins, leprechauns, pixies, trolls and hobgoblins. Each part of the world seems to use a different name for these unusual beings.

The Germans have their poltergeists or noisy ghosts. In the home, they are said to make chairs rock, break dishes, throw things around and make pictures fall. Outside the home, they throw stones and make horses shy. They seem, it is said, to delight in starting mischief and making gurgling noises in wells. They make their presence known through knockings or other noises. Some people believe in them and place a spice cake on the back step to appease them.

'Things' From The Mail Bag

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

If you like to go to a zoo, the chances are that you are more intelligent than someone who doesn't. And you probably earn more money. A recent study found that almost three-fourths of the zoo-going public had a high school education or better. Less than half of the nonzoo-goers did. The zoo buffs also had higher average incomes.

Women who have silicone fluid injected into their breasts to enlarge their bustline may pay a later price for their vanity. The fluid can migrate elsewhere in the body. In the case of one 22-year-old woman it collected in painful masses in her abdomen and had to be removed surgically.

Needles were one of the first tools invented by man which have remained in constant use through the centuries. They have been found in the ruins of all civilizations and peoples, from the Eskimoes to the Zulus.

Animal crackers: We speak of a herd of deer, a pride of lions, a school of fish, a flight of doves, a skulk of foxes, a covey of quail, a pack of dogs, a muster of peacocks, a gaggle of geese, a bevy of beauties, a swarm of bees, a watch of nightingales, a host of men, a congregation of people, a slewth of bears, a clustering of beetles, and a flock of sheep. But what is a gathering of killer whales? Well, they travel in a family group called a pod.

Durable banner: The flag of Denmark, a white cross on a red ground, is the oldest national flag in history. It has remained unchanged since the 13th century.

Tree treasures: Despite all the woodlands that have been cut for timber in this country, often wastefully, America still has 75 per cent as much forest area as existed when Columbus landed.

Forgotten firsts: In 1891 the first outdoor electric sign in the United States was erected here. It advertised Spencerian pens. The signs quickly became popular, and within 10 years the Times Square and Broadway area had been nicknamed "The Great White Way."

Worth remembering: "If we spent more time counting the blessings we have, we'd have less time to spend longing for the luxuries we don't need."

HPC Meeting Series Is Set

BROWNWOOD—First in a series of Howard Payne College meetings will be held in Midland, Tuesday.

The confab, featuring HPC president Dr. Roger L. Brooks as the main speaker, will be held at the Midland Country Club at 7:30 p.m.

Ex-students, parents, prospective students and friends of the Baptist institution have been invited.

Other HPC officials expected to attend the meeting are Dr. Leon Woods, director of ex-student affairs; Bob Havins, vice-president of development and public relations; and George Hine, director of community relations.

Silias Byrd, Brownwood, national president of the HPC Ex-Students Association, will also attend the meeting.

A meeting is also scheduled for Snyder, Sept. 6 at 7 p.m. at the American Restaurant.

DIXIE TEAMS ARE LOADED

Perennial 'Bee' Put On Bear

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP) — Alabama has been pegged as the team to beat in the Southeastern Conference football race this fall but Paul "Bear" Bryant wonders why.

"Who in the world voted?" asked the nation's winningest active coach. "They must not have seen us in the spring. I can name a lot of teams that look like they should win it to me."

Tennessee may be at the top of Bryant's list. The Vols, traditionally a defensive power, will turn to an explosive offense triggered by quarterback Condredge Holloway and running back Haskel Stanback.

Alabama and Tennessee appear to be the class of the SEC but Auburn, coming off an incredible season built on basic football, and Louisiana State, loaded defensively, could make things interesting. Improved Georgia and Florida loom as prime darkhorse contenders.

The six SEC teams should rank among the South's top powers along with North Carolina and North Carolina State of the Atlantic Coast Conference and independents Tulane and Georgia Tech.

North Carolina, winner of 15 straight conference games, is a slight favorite to nudge its high-scoring neighbors in the ACC chase while defending champion East Carolina and perennial power Richmond figure to fight for Southern Conference supremacy.

Alabama seeks a third straight SEC title and again plays more games than other contenders — eight. The Tide won with a 7-1 record last year, losing to 6-1 Auburn in the final game.

However, Bryant's Tide must face all contenders — Georgia, Florida and Tennessee on consecutive weekends beginning Oct. 6, LSU in a nationally televised battle Thanksgiving night and Auburn Dec. 1. Tennessee doesn't play LSU and Florida.

Alabama lost five All-SEC performers, including All-American guard John Hannah, center Jim Krapf and quarterback Terry Davis from the offense.

Wilbur Jackson, a speedster, is one of the top running backs in the league and Wayne Wheeler returns with all-conference credentials at wide receiver. The Tide defense is headed by end John Croyle, tackle Mike Raines and linebacker Chuck Strickland, but must overcome the loss of three deep backs.

Bill Battle, 31-5 in three seasons at Tennessee, must rebuild a defense that lost such standouts as Jamie Rotella, Carl Johnson, Conrad Graham and David Allen. But the offense will be exceptional with the gifted Holloway, a junior, and Stanback, who broke the school's all-time rushing mark of Hank Lauricella by gaining 890 yards last year.

Ralph "Shug" Jordan's Auburn Tigers posted a surprising 10-1 record a year ago and will have the same type club, stressing defense and a no-mistake, ground-oriented offense. Chris Linderman is the top runner and linebackers Ken Bernich and Bill Newton and halfback David Langner head the defense.

LSU lost most of its offense, including rifle-armed passer Bert Jones, but should be a contender on defense alone where tackle Steve Cassidy, linebacker Warren Capone and cornerback Mike Williams star.

Georgia returns seven offensive and seven defensive starters and hopes to avoid the injuries that slowed its aces last year, quarterback Andy Johnson and running back Jimmy "The Greek" Poulos.

Florida is probably the SEC's most improved team but faces a killer schedule in Doug Dickey's drive to give the Gators their first title ever. There are 39 lettermen and 20 starters returning, including sensational running back Nat Moore.

Mississippi also faces a rugged schedule, but has returning proven quarterbacks Norris Weese and Kenny Lyons and All-SEC tight end Butch Veasey.

North Carolina lost 13 starters but Coach Bill Dooley says, "We feel we have the nucleus for another good team and that we will be competitive in the ACC." The Tar Heels and Wolfpack meet in a showdown on Oct. 6 in Raleigh, but State faces Nebraska and Georgia the two previous weeks.

Lou Holtz has 15 starters returning at State, including all-conference stars Bruce Shaw, Willie Burden and Stan Fritts in the defensive back Mike Stultz. Burden has gained 1,500 yards in two years.

Maryland has 21 starters back but must face both the Tar Heels and Wolfpack on the road. Duke must overcome the loss of Steve Jones, ACC player of the year in 1972.

Virginia should be better with 17 starters back but Wake Forest and Clemson face rebuilding years under new coaches — Chuck Mills at Wake Forest and Jimmy D. "Red" Parker at Clemson.

East Carolina could repeat in the Southern Conference with 42 letter winners and 17 starters returning, including quarterback Carl Summerell, who accounted for almost 1700 yards offense, and Carlester Crumpler, who rushed for 1309 yards and scored 102 points last year.

Richmond has 10 of 11 defensive starters back, headed by All-Southern linebacker Pat Kelly and back Bob Loprete. The Spiders also have fullback Barty Smith, top blocker in the league last year and one of the SC's top pro prospects.

William & Mary is a solid choice for third place and could challenge for the title with 18 starters back, including quarterback Bill Deery, who ran for 823 yards and passed for 860 in 1972.

The Citadel and Furman have new coaches in Bobby Ross and Art Baker and don't figure with All-Southern tackle Ron Reynolds keying the defense. Davidson has the nation's No. 4 receiver back in Walt Walker, who caught 62 for 1031 yards. VMI will be better but faces a rugged slate. Tulane and Georgia Tech should settle the independent issue when they meet in New Orleans on Oct. 27.

Tulane returns such stars as defensive tackle Charles Hall, defensive end Mike Truax, quarterback Steve Foley and running back Ricky Hebert.

Tech has a pair of superstars in safety Randy Rhino and receiver Jim Robinson and also counts on quarterback Jim Stevens, who sparked a Liberty Bowl Victory over Iowa State when he replaced the suspended Eddie McAshan.

Paul Dietzel is installing the veer offense at South Carolina, bringing in five new assistants to make the switch from a pro-type attack. Florida State will be rebuilding, having lost ace passer Gary Huff and receiver Barry Smith.

Miami of Florida faces a rugged schedule under new Coach Pete Elliott, but the Hurricane has three outstanding linemen — Tony Christiani and Rubin Carter on defense and Dennis Harrah on offense.

Tampa also has a new coach, former assistant Dennis Fryzel, and should be strong again with Freddie Solomon and Mark Wakefield heading the offense as a pass-catch team.

Virginia Tech lost quarterback Don Strock, while Southern Mississippi returns 33 lettermen, including Doyle Orange, who rushed for 905 yards last year. Memphis State steps out of the Missouri Valley Conference to join the independent ranks this fall.

Golf Worm Turns For Greene And Schroeder

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Last winter, Bert Greene was in a hospital in northern California with a gunshot wound in his right foot. Down the coast in La Jolla, John Schroeder had his left hand in a cast and was wondering if his brief career was over.

Both capped their comebacks Sunday with companion victories in pro golf's only double-header — Schroeder sweeping through a sparkling field of stars to the Match Play championship and Greene outlasting veteran Miller Barber in a five-hole sudden death playoff for the title in the L&M Open.

It was the first American victory for each, and they joined Hawaiian Open champion John Schlee as the only first-time winners on the pro tour this season.

"This is one of the greatest days — certainly the luckiest day—of my life," said Greene, a lean, 29-year-old veteran of seven years on the tour.

Greene's career appeared to be in danger last year when he accidently shot himself in the foot. He had a pistol in his golf bag and the gun discharged while he was loading the bag in the car.

He picked up $20,000 from the total purse of $100,000 after dropping a six-foot birdie putt on the fifth extra hole. He and Barber had finished the regulation 72 holes tied at 278 — six-under-par on the 6,786-yard MacGregor Downs Country Club course.

The match play was on the same course, with the 27-year-old Schroeder beating graying veteran DeWitt Weaver 2-up in the final after disposing of Lee Trevino 1-up with a birdie on the 18th hole of the morning semifinals.

"Oh, man, this is the greatest," he said clutching the $40,000 first-place check that more than quadrupled his earnings for the year.

Schroeder developed tendonitis in his left thumb in 1971 and suffered through 2½ years of poor play and pain that occasionally "was so bad I couldn't use the thumb to pick up a glass."

Finally he sought the aid of old pro Paul Runyan.

"He watched me play one hole and told me to change my grip. He said it would two things: make me hit the ball better and ease the pressure on the thumb," Schroeder said.

"It worked."

Bills Are Plagued By Old Nemisis---Losing

By FRED ROTHENBERG
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Buffalo Bills have a new 80,000-seat stadium but can't shake an old nemisis — losing.

The Chicago Bears handed the Bills their fourth straight loss 13-10 Sunday in a controversy-filled National Football League preseason game.

In Sunday's other NFL games, the New York Giants beat the Pittsburgh Steelers 29-24; the San Francisco 49ers punished the Denver Broncos 43-7 and in the only night action, the Green Bay Packers tripped the Kansas City Chiefs 21-16.

The Rich Stadium clock was inoperative throughout the second half and the officials on the field kept the official time with stopwatches, causing some problems.

The Bills were down 13-10 in the waning seconds of the game, but were driving toward the Bears' goal line. Then Dennis Shaw found J.D. Hill with a 50-yard bomb.

Chicago's Allan Ellis tackled Hill which led to the two players mixing it up as the officials permitted the clock to run out.

"We were told there were 16 seconds left by the judge on our side and now we find out there were only four seconds left," said Bills' Coach Lou Saban.

In another game the Giants gained their fourth victory in as many tries, going ahead early as New York safety Spider Lockhart intercepted a second period Terry Bradshaw pass and zoomed 42 yards for a touchdown, breaking a 3-3 tie.

Several minutes later, rookie Brian Kelley picked off another Bradshaw toss and went 30 yards for the score. Meanwhile, soccer-style kicker Pete Gogolak booted five field goals.

San Francisco scored two touchdowns before Denver completed an offensive play and had 40 points befor the Broncos could dent the scoreboard.

Steve Spurrier threw TD passes to Gene Washington and Ted Kwalik while Bruce Gossett kicked four field goals to pace the romp.

MacArthur Lane rushed for one touchdown and threw for another while quarterback Scott Hunter added the Packers' third six-pointer in the Green Bay Packers' 21-16 victory over the Kansas City Chiefs.

Jan Stenerud kicked three field goals and Jeff Kinney scored on a one-yard TD plunge for Kansas City.

Saturday, the St. Louis Cardinals edged the New York Jets 13-10; the New England Patriots pounded the New Orleans Saints 31-6; the Minnesota Vikings trounced the Oakland Raiders 34-10; the San Diego Chargers defeated the Philadelphia Eagles 24-17; the Washington Redskins breezed by the Baltimore Colts 20-3 and the Cleveland Browns trimmed the Atlanta Falcons 20-17.

Thursday night, the Houston Oilers nipped the Dallas Cowboys 27-24.

Friday night, the Miami Dolphins stopped the Los Angeles Rams 17-14 and the Cincinnati Bengals beat the Detroit Lions 17-10.

U.S. Extends Wightman Edge

By PHIL CANNADAY
Associated Press Sports Writer

BROOKLINE, Mass (AP) — The Wightman Cup tennis matches went the way they were supposed to, with the United States girls extending their winning margin in the 50-year-old classic to 38-7 and Chris Evert dominating singles play.

Although the British won only two of the best-of-seven matches, Virginia Wade, Great Britain's first playing captain since 1964, refused to be downcast.

"I'm not disappointed, because our team has had such little experience," she said Sunday after the matches ended before 3,500 at Longwood Cricket Club.

Miss Wade, the heroine of Great Britain's last Wightman Cup victory at Wimbledon in 1968, teamed with 19-year-old Glynis Coles Saturday for a 6-3, 2-6, 6-4 doubles victory over Chris Evert and Marita Redondo, National City, Calif. She also defeated Patti Hogan, La Jolla, Calif., 6-2, 6-2. Sunday in singles play.

The United States team, like the British squad, was youthful, with its members averaging 19 years of age. Jeanne Evert, Chris' 15-year-old sister, was the youngest girl ever to participate in the international competition.

The cup went to the Americans for the fifth consecutive time in Sunday's first match, when Chris Evert won her sixth straight Wightman singles contest in three years, defeating Veronica Burton 6-3, 6-0.

The Americans finished the series in grand style when the team of Jeanne Evert and Miss Hogan finally got by a stubborn duet of Lesley Charles and Lindsey Beaven 6-2, 4-6, 8-6. The final set went 14 games.

The matches got under way Friday with the aces from each team, Chris Evert and Miss Wade, playing a single match, won by Miss Evert 6-4, 6-2. Miss Hogan defeated Miss Burton 6-4, 6-3 and the following day, Linda Tuero of New Orleans stopped Miss Coles 7-5, 6-2.

MERRITT'S NEW FASTBALL

Gaylord Victim Of Own Strategy

By FRANK BROWN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas Rangers pitcher Jim Merritt beat Cleveland's Gaylord Perry at his own game Sunday.

The veteran Indians pitcher wasn't available for comment after his club was beaten 9-0 and 5-3, but Merritt made it clear that he had taken a page from Perry's new book, in hurling the three-hitter that beat the Cleveland right-hander in the first game.

"I threw about 25 Gaylord fastballs," said Merritt, using the nickname reserved for a Perry specialty — often called the spitball by frustrated hitters.

"We've been losing quite a lot of ball games lately," said the 29-year-old Merritt, "and I decided to try something new."

The pitch was enough to befuddle the Indians, who managed to collect only three hits off that "Gaylord fastball."

In other American League games, the Oakland A's blanked the New York Yankees 1-0; the Chicago White Sox took a doubleheader from the Detroit Tigers, 4-1 and 3-1; the Milwaukee Brewers held off the Minnesota Twins 3-2; the Baltimore Orioles crushed the Kansas City Royals 10-1, and the California Angels edged the Boston Red Sox 1-0.

A's 1, Yankees 0

Mel Stottlemyre pitched no-hit ball against the A's until Joe Rudi singled with one out in the eighth. But Rudi was sacrificed to second by Ray Fosse, raced to third on a wild pitch, and came around to score on a single. It was the only run the A's and Ken Holtzman needed in defeating the hard-luck Stottlemyre 1-0.

White Sox 4-3, Tigers 1-1

"Those first innings have been killing us all year," said Detroit Manager Billy Martin after two-run first inning outbursts in both games sent his Tigers to 4-1 and 3-1 defeats.

Carlos May hit two home runs and a double, backing Jim Kaat's three-hit pitching in the first game. In the nightcap, Bill Melton hit his 16th home run in his first start as a designated hitter for the White Sox.

Brewers 3, Twins 2

The Brewers stopped a ninth-inning Minnesota rally that produced two runs and left a runner on third in gaining a 3-2 victory. Jim Slaton had been cruising along with a three-hitter, but a triple and two singles cost him two runs and he was yanked for relief pitcher Carlos Velazquez, who got the final out.

Orioles 10, Royals 1

Paul Blair rapped an inside-the-park grand slam homer to spark a 13-hit Oriole attack in Baltimore's 10-1 victory over Kansas City, lifting Jim Palmer to his 10th consecutive triumph. It was the Orioles' 13th triumph in a row

Angels 1, Red Sox 0

Bill Singer won a pitcher's duel from Luis Tiant, getting a second-inning run on Leroy Stanton's single as the Angels overcame a three-hitter by Luis Tiant and beat the Red Sox 1-0. Singer pitched a six-hitter and upped his record to 17-10.

Record Set By Donohue

ELKHART LAKE, Wis. (AP) — Mark Donohue set a track speed record Sunday in his third consecutive victory of the Canadian-American Challenge Cup sports car race series—and still wasn't satisfied.

"The speed slowed down much more than I expected," he said.

But racers had to tangle with 95-degree weather and Road America's twisting, four-mile layout, and Donohue observed: "Everybody was in the same boat."

He had set a track record of 122.053 miles per hour in Saturday's qualifying, and averaged a record 114.021 m.p.h. Sunday, topping George Follmer's 1972 mark.

Turbo-charged Porsches dominated the 100-mile qualifying heat and the 100-mile title heat, although deprived of fourth place by Scooter Patrick of Hawthorne, Calif., in a McLaren.

Donahue, of Media, Pa., lapped all but the second and third-place cars and finished 29 seconds ahead of No. 2 finisher Jody Scheckter of South Africa. Follmer was third.

Banks' Fight Causing A Legislature Battle

By BILL STALL
Associated Press Writer

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A new car buyer in California often can get a lower interest rate at a bank with headquarters in Tokyo, Hong Kong or Montreal than at one based in San Francisco or Los Angeles.

California's small and medium-sized banks are feeling the pinch of such foreign competition and are beginning to fight back. And that fight has plunged the California legislature into the world of international finance.

Thirteen foreign-based banks have California subsidiaries. They compete vigorously for customers by offering a full range of retail banking services, including low-interest loans.

Deposits in their California vaults have grown from $514 million six years ago to $1.6 billion this year. Telephone book listings include the Bank of Tokyo, Sumitomo Bank of California, Hong Kong Bank of California, Bank of Montreal and California Canadian Bank.

The legislative battle has pitted the state's big banks, including the giant Bank of America, against the smaller independent banks.

The battle revolves around two bills designed to stem the growth of foreign banking in the state.

One measure would prohibit any new foreign banks from entering the California market unless their home countries gave California banks the same privileges. It is awaiting a first hearing in the Senate Insurance and Financial Insitutions Committee.

A similar bill that has passed the Assembly and is before the Senate committee would prohibit the establishment in California of any more foreign banks that are affiliated with any commercial or industrial businesses.

The foreign banks have hired some high-priced law firms to fight the legislation.

The larger California banks with extensive foreign interests — primarily Bank of America and Wells Fargo Bank — also are fighting the bills. They argue that foreign firms are more likely to buy California products if they have home-country bank outlets here.

The larger banks also fear that countries in which they operate, especially Japan, will retaliate with similar restrictions.

But Michael Rafton, president and chairman of the Central Bank headquartered in Oakland, said foreign banks have an unfair advantage because they have a greater freedom to operate than do their domestic competitors. They are not covered, for instance, by a federal law that prohibits U.S. banks from engaging in nonbanking activities such as industrial production.

Rafton said the foreign banks are able to offer lower-interest loans for such consumer goods as autos and television sets because they are "tied in with huge conglomerates that can shift funds around to undercut domestic interest rates. They can play in our ball park, but we can't play in theirs," he said.

Oil And Gas Assn. Slates 1973 Barbecue

West Central Texas Oil and Gas Association has set its 1973 barbecue for Sept. 6 at the Sweetwater Country Club in Sweetwater.

Golf will begin the activity at 8 a.m. and the board of directors and advisory board will meet at 2 p.m. Refreshments will be served at 5:30 p.m. and the association office has asked that those planning to attend make reservations as early as possible.

All tickets will be held at the gate for dispersal.

Jim C. Langdon, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, will address the board of directors at 2 p.m. Expected to attend are the presidents and staff of the five Texas Independent Oil, and Gas Associations, plus staff people of the Association of Oilwell Servicing Contractors, Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association and members of the Texas Railroad Commission. Invitations also have been extended to all area members of the Texas Legislature.

Shortages Of Paper Are Causing More Problems

By JOSH FITZHUGH
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Shortages of paper are causing increasing problems in the supply and availability of newspapers and such basic items as business forms, corrugated boxes, waxed paper and paper bags.

Much of the attention so far has focused on newspapers, some of which have run low on newsprint because of paper mill and railroad strikes in Canada. But increasingly tight situations also are being reported in a wide variety of other paper products.

A Los Angeles maker of bags and wrapping paper reports it is able to buy only 60 to 70 per cent of the paper it needs. A Bridgeport, Conn., grocery store says it is running out of paper bags. Gulf Oil Corp. says it finds suppliers are reluctant to bid on large orders of business forms.

In Washington, D.C., the General Services Administration reports that paper inventories are short millions of pounds.

An emergency procurement system based on national security priorities has been invoked "seven or eight times" in the recent past to supply paper to the Department of Defense, the Central Intelligence Agency and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, a GSA spokesman said.

The reasons cited for the paper shortages are many and complex. A principal consideration, observers say, is that new paper mills are costly and take two to four years to build. Several years ago, there was a glut of paper, prices were low and there was little incentive to build new plants.

Then came the business boom of the early 1970s, at the same time as governments were moving toward stricter pollution control. Industry officials say that over a billion dollars, or approximately one-half of all new capital investment, went into pollution control, cutting into funds for expansion.

Today, mills are reported working at full capacity. Yet industry officials say they have been hampered by such factors as economic controls, labor problems, bad weather in timber country, power cutbacks and a lack of investment capital.

"The return on investment has not been sufficient to attract a large amount of commitment to build new capacity," said Edwin A. Locke, president of the American Paper Institute.

Some critics contend that, faced with overproduction and low prices in the late 60s, the paper companies deliberately avoided developing new capacity to create a tight supply and thereby raise prices.

"People who make those statements don't have the facts at hand," said Ralph Michaud, a paper industry analyst with the brokerage firm of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis.

Sixteen new mills should be constructed by 1975, the paper institute reports, but that may not be enough to stave off spot shortages, higher prices, less variety, and a substitution of lighter for heavier weights of paper.

"While average annual capacity growth for all grades of paper was 3.7 per cent between 1956 and 1972, our most recent survey shows a modest annual increase of 1.4 per cent from 1972 to 1975," said John F. Darrow, senior vice president of the institute.

Witness Passes Lie Test

NEW YORK (AP) — Time Magazine says a lie detector test has shown that a prime witness against Vice President Spiro T. Agnew in the investigation of an alleged kickback scheme "told the truth about personally delivering funds extorted from contractors to Agnew."

The news magazine reported Sunday that the witness, Jerome Wolff, "has agreed to testify, in return for limited immunity from prosecution himself, that Agnew has extorted bribes from state and federal contractors."

Time also said Wolff, president of Greiner Environmental Systems Inc., has turned over to prosecutors "a diary listing some of the payoffs he purportedly delivered to Agnew" in 1967-68 while Agnew was governor of Maryland and Wolff was head of the state road commission.

According to an article in the magazine's current issue, Wolff's firm is among eight contractors named as suppliers of illegal funds in the indictment last week of Baltimore County Executive Dale Anderson.

Time said the lie detector test was given to Wolff by FBI polygraph experts after a visit to Baltimore by the Justice Department's chief criminal prosecutor, Asst. Atty. Gen. Henry E. Petersen.

The magazine said the lie detector findings probably would not be admissable in any court proceedings.

Pope Critical Of Danish Plan

CASTEL CANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI says a Danish plan to film an erotic movie on the life of Christ is offensive to all Christians.

The Pope labeled the idea an "ignoble and blasphemous outrage."

"Where has the community conscience gone?" he asked Sunday in delivering his weekly blessing at the papal summer palace here.

Tentatively titled "The Love Affairs of Jesus Christ," the film is to be made in Southern France by director Jens Joergen Thorsen.

The Danish film institute has provided almost a third of the $330,000 budgeted to produce the film.

Women Exchange Services

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Need somebody to pierce your ears? Bake a lemon pie? Or make a blintze?

Two suburban South Euclid women and their Service Exchange can put you in touch with them. But it'll happen only at the price of your own talents.

For a $15 annual fee, the organization gives its members 10 coupons apiece. The coupons are worth an hour of another member's time—at building dog houses, tending bar or pet sitting.

A monthly newsletter—and the Service Exchange files—keep members in touch with each others' talents. And because extra coupons are earned and not purchased, members have to keep themselves in circulation in order to maintain buying power.

"Many people are not in a position to buy all the services they need," cofounder Esther Goldberg said. "But if people do things for each other, it eliminates the need for money."

Her partner, Jean Kraig, added, "The service also eliminates the impersonal feeling you get when dealing with large firms and can provide services the large firms are not interested in."

The two women said the exchange opened in July and has grown to a membership of about 50. Each member usually lists several skills, they said.

"It's amazing how many things people can do that they take for granted and don't realize are valuable to other people," Mrs. Goldberg said.

"Some of the services are for things money can't buy. For example, a family may need someone to look in on a convalescent once or twice during the day. We can provide people who are willing to do that."

Other services offered by the exchange included flower arranging, camera repair, piano lessons, furniture finishing, puppet shows, electrical work and diet planning.

Officer Blamed In Bomb Error Is Suspended

AGANA, Guam (AP) — An Air Force officer who was found principally responsible for the accidental bombing of a Cambodian village has been suspended from duty, reprimanded and ordered to forfeit $700 pay, the Air Force announced today.

Another officer was reprimanded and suspended, and two were given letters of admonishment, said a spokesman for the 8th Air Force at Andersen Air Force Base.

An admonishment is the lightest form of punishment possible in the Air Force, and a reprimand is the next lightest, according to the Pacific Air Force Command in Honolulu.

The officer, Capt. Prince A. Brumfield, was the radar-navigator aboard the B52 bomber which dropped its bombs on the village of Neak Luong Aug. 6, killing 137 Cambodians.

A Pentagon report Friday said the radar-navigator had failed to flip a critical offset switch, causing the bomb load to miss its intended target.

The other reprimand went to Maj. Donald R. Fair, the commander of the errant bomber. He also was suspended.

Security Income Applications Due

BIG SPRING—The Big Spring Social Security Office is now taking applications for supplemental security income payments, a federal program scheduled to start in 1974. It will establish an income floor for people in financial need who are 65 or over, or blind, or disable,65 according to Don Minyard, Social Security District Manager.

People already receiving state old age assistance or state aid because they are blind or disabled need not apply, said Minyard. They will receive more information later this year about how the program will help them.

First monthly payments under the new program will be made next January, said Minyard. Until then, the state public assistance offices will continue payments in the usual way.

People not getting public assistance now who think they may be eligible for the new federal payments should call or write the Social Security Office in Big Spring to find out if they should apply, Minyard said. The federal supplemental security income payments will be made by the Social Security Administration, but the program will be financed by federal general revenues—not by social security contributions from workers and employers. It is not the same as Social Security, Minyard explained.

Aim of the new program is to provide supplemental payments in cases of need so that people 65 or over, or blind, or disabled will have a basic cash income of at least $130 a month for one person and $195 a month for a couple. This doesn't mean that every eligible person or couple will be getting that much from the federal government every month, said Minyard. The amount of the federal payment any person gets will depend on how much other income he has, and also the value of his assets.

People who need more information to decide whether they might be eligible for the federal payments should call Social Security at 267-5226, or write the office at Box 2031, Big Spring.

Food Stamps Are Due Here Nov. 1

The first food stamps in Scurry County will be issued November 1, 1973. But before the statewide food stamp program is implemented here, there is much work to be done.

Commodities is the food assistance program currently operating in this county. The 62nd Texas Legislature appropriated $7.7 million for a statewide food stamp program to replace all county food stamp programs and commodity food distributions. By November 1973 the 254 counties in Texas will be operating the statewide program administered by the State Department of Public Welfare.

Before the first stamps are issued here, extensive preparation must be completed. Current commodity recipients will be notified that food stamps will replace the present food assistance program. Most commodity recipients should be eligible for food stamps also as well as others who might not receive commodity foods.

Certification for food stamp eligibility will begin at a later date. All persons who don't make much money or who are unemployed are encouraged to apply at that time. Welfare recipients aren't the only ones who can qualify for food stamps.

Local issuance offices will sell the food stamps to all who are certified eligible to receive them. Participating households will be able to buy their stamps at the issuance office nearest them and at their own convenience. The long waiting lines which are now a problem at commodity distribution centers should be eliminated.

Food stamps, which can be used for the purchase of most foods and food products, will be accepted by many of the local grocers. Payment is made by tearing the necessary amount of food stamps from the coupon book at the time of purchase. Tobacco, alcoholic beverages and imported items can not be purchased with food stamps.

Grocers can deposit food stamps just as they do money. Local bankers then send the stamps to the United States Department of Agriculture for redemption.

For more information about food stamps, contact the local welfare office at 2604 Twenty-fifth or call 573-8346.

Mine Shaft Is Studied

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (AP) — Two federal mine inspectors studied a copper mine shaft in central Arizona desert today in search of the cause of a cave-in that resulted in the deaths of two miners.

A medical examiner's report released Sunday said David Deeder of Casa Grande, a 42-year-old Hecla Mining Co. assistant shift foreman, and Terry Udall, 25, of Fort Collins, Colo., died of dehydration and heat exhaustion at least five days before rescuers reached them.

Udall and Deeder were trapped in the tunnel 1,200 feet underground Aug. 17 when tons of debris fell between them and the exit of Hecla's Lakeshore Mine 35 miles south of here. Their bodies were recovered Saturday.

Casa Grande Justice of the Peace George Pickerel, who released the autopsy findings, said a coroner's jury would begin a formal inquest next week.

Rescue teams worked round the clock more than eight days before they broke through the wall of mud and rock that had trapped the two miners.

Fire Damage Undetermined

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The regional fire center in Boise, Idaho, says it will be a week to 10 days before the cost of the 52 major forest and range fires that blackened 200,000 acres can be estimated.

The last of the 52 major blazes was brought under control Saturday.

A spokesman for the Interagency Fire Center said there were thousands of minor blazes to be considered in any estimate of damage and fire-fighting costs in the Pacific Northwest.

Three firefighters died during the last two days of battling the blazes, raising to four the number of known fire-related deaths.

A spokesman for the Boise center said on Sunday that only 3,000 firefighters remained on duty, compared with more than 10,000 when the fires were at their worst.

About 140 workers remained Sunday at northeastern Oregon's Freezeout fire — the last of the major blazes to be contained — to watch hot spots and clean up. Most of the 1,000-person force was demobilized. The fire was controlled after it consumed 16,000 acres.

Memphis Busing Begins Smoothly

By DOUG STONE
Associated Press Writer

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Buses rolled across the city today carrying an estimated 28,000 pupils to the opening day of public school classes under a court order to desegregate one of the South's largest school systems.

Officials said the busing of about a fourth of the registered enrollment went smoothly except for anticipated and minor first-day problems. About 160 buses made multiple runs covering 508 routes to transport pupils to 140 schools.

A school spokesman said the total number of pupils attending the first day of classes was not yet known.

"It has been very successful," the spokesman said of the busing. "There have been no major problems and that is due mainly to the people of Memphis."

He said the only reported problems with the start of busing had been buses running late, others failing to pick up pupils at designated spots and at least five buses breaking down.

The $1.6 million busing program was ordered May 3 by U.S. District Court Judge Robert M. McRae Jr. His order originally envisioned the busing of almost 40,000 pupils, but the total fell because enrollment dropped. Officials have said many white parents were now electing to send their children to private schools, rather than have them bused.

"We never expected any trouble," the spokesman said. "However, we had made plans and preparations for that possibility."

Officials said they were prepared to cope with any difficulties. Seventy tactical police were on standby to augment motorcycle officers and police helicopters assigned to busing.

A control center was manned at school board headquarters, and Supt. John P. Freeman Jr. said the board's race relations specialists would be "at the schools where we feel they are needed."

Civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was slain in Memphis in 1968, and there have been riots here as recently as late 1971. But leaders of both races have predicted a smooth start for busing because of changed attitudes.

Maxine Smith, a black school board member and executive secretary of the city's branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said that aside from minor confusion, the beginning of busing would be "just another school day."

"Busing is no longer an issue," said Hunter Lane Jr., school board president. "It's a fact of life now, and we are trying to make it as painless as possible for the community."

The board has sponsored a busing-information program for parents since before an earlier McRae order under which 9,000 pupils in lower grades began riding buses in January. There were no initial problems, but trouble flared several days later at a few schools.

Some experts feel that only about 30,000 of the 40,000 pupils covered in the May order will ride. The city had anticipated an enrollment of 130,000 this fall but has only 101,000 registered, although late sign-ups were expected.

Memphis is 37 per cent black, and schools have a 67 per cent black enrollment this term, an indication that some white parents have put their children in private and church schools. There are now about 213 such schools, about twice the number at this time last year.

McRae's order is under appeal by the NAACP as inadequate by about 17,000 pupils. The NAACP has waged a 13-year battle to desegregate Memphis schools.

Police Sent To Lancaster

KILMARNOCK, Va. (AP) — Police were sent into Lancaster County Sunday night to cope with with authorities said was a series of racial disturbances apparently triggered by the slaying of a black farm worker.

At midnight, police said the situation was under control. There were no reports of serious injuries Sunday.

Sheriff Garland Forrester said there were at least five separate incidents of assaults, shootings, firebombings, cars being overturned and window smashings.

The sheriff said about 12 persons were arrested.

About 50 state troopers and deputies from neighboring counties were sent to the rural, eastern Virginia county.

Forrester attributed the incidents to the shotgun slaying Saturday night of Clarence Milton, 30, a black farm worker.

The sheriff said Leslie Dawson, 24, of Weems, a white farm worker, had been charged with murder in Milton's death. Dawson first was placed in the Lancaster County jail but was transferred to the Richmond County jail Sunday night.

Forrester said Dawson's parents were threatened and shots were fired at their home Saturday night. The sheriff said the Dawsons were in protective custody and had been taken to an undisclosed place.

The sheriff said two white youths in a car were stopped at the community of Lancaster Courthouse on Sunday afternoon by six or seven blacks, forced off the road, chased on foot and assaulted. No one was seriously injured, authorities said.

Five more whites were assaulted by blacks in the Crawford's Corner area of the county, and cars were overturned and windows were smashed, the sheriff said.

About 8:30 p.m. Sunday, eight cars stopped in Kilmarnock and a group of blacks got out and began smashing windows, Kilarnock Patrolman J. D. Jones said. He said at least seven windows were smashed in four businesses.

Authorities said a small manufacturing plant was firebombed in White Stone about 10:30 p.m., causing an undetermined amount of damage.

Indoor Tennis Is In Demand

Career Corner

by Joyce Lain Kennedy

what job would you like to see explored in this column?

Dear Joyce I am interested in running an indoor tennis club I understand such clubs are in big demand now How big an investment would be needed? — D.V., Chicago

Tennis participation has grown rapidly in the last few years and indoor clubs are mushrooming at an astonishing rate There are about 11 million players in the U.S. with more venturing on the courts daily.

SOME 1,500 INDOOR facilities serve these love-struck players (as compared to 50 in 1965) and hundreds more are planned. The clubs usually have 4-8 courts, locker-room facilities, and a lounge or viewing area. Some feature everything from baby sitters to Bloody Marys. Whether Spartan or luxurious the indoor clubs require initial investments of between $250,000 to $1,500,000.

Owners say the strategy for profits is keeping the courts busy all day, evenings, and weekends.

ONE OF THE MOST profitable indoor clubs is located in suburban Chicago. The club rests on 11 acres of land (which costs $125,0000 and has an attractive Tudor-style exterior ($650,000). Air conditioning, indirect lighting, saunas, whirlpools, a nursery and other accessories brought the initial cost close to $1 million.

The club is open October through May and part time during summer months. Courts are filled to 85 per cent capacity at a charge of $8.12 per hour per court (plus a small membership fee). Last year the 8 owners netted a smashing $75,000 in profit.

NOT ALL OF THE indoor clubs are so successful, however. A tennis magazine recently published a survey of 9 indoor facilities in cities in the midwest. Only 3 of these clubs were reported to be profitable after 3 years of business. The other clubs reported losses after 3½ years of business. The article, noting that tennis must be introduced to the community and new players developed, said:

"The capital investment is sizable. Cash losses for 2 to 3 years should be anticipated. Usually the major investor or investors must put up additional funds to take care of cash losses and satisfy dubious creditors. The investors are generally tennis nuts and may find themselves cleaning courts, cutting grass and promoting memberships while their own games suffer from the many distractions and headaches."

ONE PARTIAL PAIN RELIEVER for new entrepreneurs is the air-supported bubble top — cheaper and faster to build than the conventional metal frame structure. A 5-court bubble costs about $175,000 not including land, while a like-sized permanent structure costs over $450,000.

But bubble maintenance is costly. Heating bills are more than twice as high as for a normal building, lighting and insurance are also more expensive.

WHAT'S WORSE, the tennis bubble itself may be about to burst. Some indoor court owners say the industry is over-built, that the number of indoor clubs has grown faster than the number of new players. The double faults of high building/maintenance costs and over-concentration of facilities could put new owners out in the first match.

Not surprisingly, "for sale" signs are already up at a number of the newer indoor clubs across the country. In fact, many tennis operators predict a major slowdown within 2 years, similar to the one that struck the bowling industry 20 years ago.

STILL INTERESTED? The U.S. Lawn Tennis Association will send you a free list of its publications for further reading. Send your request to me at this newspaper — within 30 days — enclosing a stamped, self-addressed, long white envelope. Please allow several weeks for delivery. Write "Tennis" in corner of your outside envelope.

CONSUMER ALERT

BY JOHN HILL
TEXAS ATTY. GEN.

AUSTIN—While some 250,000 Texans are in the process of registering for college and university courses this fall, and thousands more entering vocational and technical training in public junior colleges, there are others who will be looking to private trade and vocational schools.

These private schools, which offer courses in a wide range of subjects—from stenographic or welding, to accounting or TV repair, can provide career training for the new high school graduate, as well as the person looking for a new field for his or her particular talents.

Prior to 1971, the prospective private vocational student was at a disadvantage when he began shopping for a school. Advertising claims frequently went way beyond what a school actually could guarantee. Misrepresentations of course offerings, job-placement capabilities, and payment plans were complained of.

Witnesses told a legislative fact-finding committee of experiences involving educational disappointments, such as signing up for training which was not in fact available, as well as economic frustrations, such as being required to pay out allegedly worthless contracts.

Legitimate trade and vocational school operators became concerned, and urged that all the private schools be regulated.

As a result, the Texas Legislature passed a Texas Proprietary School Act, which took effect in 1972. The act, administered by the Texas Education Agency, required T.E.A. certification of the private career schools; requires state approval of the courses they offer, and prohibits misrepresentations in course sales and advertising.

As of now, some 240 proprietary schools have been certificated by the state, and applications from about 30 newly-organized schools are pending approval.

This has been an obvious benefit to the Texans seeking to further their educational opportunities, and increase their earning capacities, in institutions apart from the college and university systems.

The Texas Proprietary School Division of the Texas Education Agency maintains a list of all certified schools, and their approved courses, as well as all institutions qualified for veterans' training.

And the T.E.A. also works with my Consumer Protection Division in the investigation of charges of unauthorized "career schools," as well as any complaints of misrepresentations by authorized operations.

I am told that an average of one complaint a week is received, and that most of these have been found to relate to misunderstandings, rather than violations of the act.

But my office has had occasion to file suit as legal representative of the T.E.A., primarily when we have uncovered violations by pyramid sales schemes which offered as part of their marketing plans "schools" which were not schools at all, but merely part of the sales pitch.

If you or your child encounter any problem which you consider to be a violation of the Texas Proprietary School Act, do not hesitate to contact the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division, or the T.E.A.

But since it's always better to be safe than sorry, keep these precautionary measures in mind when you start talking about private trade or vocational education:

—Beware of high pressure sales methods.

—Look out for exaggerated promises, such as "easy" courses, or "guaranteed" job placement.

—Read every word of the contract offered, and determine the refund policies of the school in the event of illness or some other event which could prevent you from completing a course.

—Visit the school. Talk to the faculty, and talk to persons who have graduated from the school.

—Be certain that the operation is certificated by the Texas Education Agency, and if you still want reassurance, check with your local Better Business Bureau, and with major employers in your community.

Once you have found the right school, the rest is up to you. Good luck to you.

Nude Body Is Found

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — The nude body of a 23-year-old Corpus Christi woman was found in a motel refrigerator Sunday in Corpus Christi.

Police identified the woman as Grace Roy.

Officers said the daughter of Sunset Motel manager Frank Haskell found the body as she cleaned the kitchen of the unit.

Haskell said the last occupant of the room was a truck driver who left Aug. 17.

No ruling was made at once on the cause of the woman's death. Vernon Moore, an investigator for the Nueces County medical examiner, said no wounds were found on the body.

The motel manager said a table had been propped against the refrigerator door to hold it shut. Because the last occupant complained the table needed repairs, Haskel said he thought the table had been placed against the refrigerator for support.

Martha To Leave John

WASHINGTON (AP) — Martha Mitchell says her husband, former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, is "going to jail," and she plans to leave him, according to the Washington Star-News.

An article in the newspaper's Sunday editions said Mrs. Mitchell was interviewed in a telephone call from her New York apartment. She indicated that she is bitter toward President Nixon, the newspaper said, saying her husband "had a fine reputation on Wall Street" until Nixon "got ahold of him."

Mitchell, currently under indictment in New York on charges of obstructing justice and attempting to defraud the government in connection with alleged campaign contributions to the Nixon campaign, resigned in July 1972 as director of the President's re-election campaign.

"We have been suffering," the newspaper quoted Mrs. Mitchell as saying in reference to the Watergate scandal.

Mrs. Mitchell was quoted as saying that she and her husband love each other very much, but their relationship was finished after an incident in California during the campaign in which she claimed she was "beaten up" by a Secret Service agent. Mrs. Mitchell told the Star-News that the agent manhandled her to keep her from talking to the press.

The newspaper said Mrs. Mitchell said she had seen a "leather-bound campaign strategy book," containing plans for "dirty tricks," which was written by Nixon and his former aide, H.R. Haldeman.

She was quoted as saying the book included "the procedures of everything that has happened—I saw it with my own eyes."

The Star-News said it had contacted presidential Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren, who said there is not and never has been a brown leather book connected with the 1968 and 1972 campaigns.

The article also said that Mrs. Mitchell said her husband talked frequently with Nixon during the summer of 1972 and that the President was aware of the truth of the Watergate case at that time.

Abilene Crash Kills Trio

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Former city councilman Harry Walker, 38, and two other Abilene residents died late Sunday in a collision of a motor home and a pickup truck.

The crash near the Denton Valley community, about 13 miles southeast of here, also killed Margaret Langford, 15, and Kathy Merrell, 15.

Walker, a well known certified public accountant, was president of the Abilene-based Saxon Oil Co. He had been named this city's outstanding young man by the Abilene Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1966.

Walker's wife Barbara, 40, was brought to Hendricks Memorial Hospital here.

Treated and dismissed were Guy Williams, driver of the pickup; Paul Walker, 15, Pam Walker, 11, and Buddy Fisher, 15, all of Abilene.

Investigators said one of the vehicles was trying to pass the other when the first one suddenly attempted a left turn into a driveway.

After the collision, the motor home, driven by Walker, careened into a tree and burst into flames. The burning vehicle started a grass fire and firemen battled the blaze for more than an hour.

Occupants of the motor home were en route to sing at a Baptist Church in Cross Plains, officers said.

Housing Proposals Blasted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., charged today that tentative housing reform policies of the Nixon administration are "a formula for disaster."

"Their effect will be to increase housing costs, swell the budget, and add to inflationary pressures," he said in a statement.

"At the same time the proposals abandon low-income families to overcrowded, substandard and dilapidated housing in a poor environment," he added.

James T. Lynn, secretary of housing and urban development, is to announce the new policies next month.

But the Wisconsin senator said he had learned details of the proposals in advance. He is the No. 2 Democrat on the Senate housing subcommittee and chairman of the appropriations subcommittee that handles HUD funds.

Proxmire said it was his understanding the administration planned to abandon the subsidy programs designed to help poor families buy homes or find low-rent apartments.

Lynn suspended these last January pending his study of all HUD programs.

In their place, the senator said, the secretary will propose a system of housing allowances for the poor that they could use to look for housing on the private market.

Proxmire said the proposals would contribute further to a decline in housing starts at a time when high mortgage interest rates already are curtailing production sharply.

The musk ox, which once existed in many northern countries, today survives wild only in the Canadian Artic and Greenland.

TRY THIS TASTY RECIPE!
CHICKEN HAWAIIAN
2½ to 3 lb. fryer, cut up (or use fryer parts)
½ cup flour
1 tsp. powdered ginger
½ tsp. salt
½ cup cooking oil
1 cup chopped green onion
½ lb. sliced mushrooms
14½ oz. can sliced pineapple
½ cup papaya juice or apricot nectar
10½ oz. can chicken consomme
1 tbsp. soy sauce
2½ oz. pkg. sliced almonds
Salt to taste
Combine flour, ginger, salt in paper bag; shake chicken parts in mixture. Brown in hot oil; set chicken aside. Drain fat, return ¼ cup to skillet and saute onions and mushrooms. Add browned chicken, syrup from pineapple, papaya juice or apricot nectar, consomme, soy sauce; simmer, covered, ½ hour. Salt to taste. Add pineapple, almonds; cook 15 min. or till chicken is tender. Makes 4-6 servings.
SERVE WITH TOASTED COCONUT RICE: Toss 4 cups hot cooked rice with ¼ cup melted butter or margarine and 1 cup shredded coconut, which has been toasted on a cookie sheet under your broiler.

Johnston's No-Roach Provides 24-Hour Protection In Homes

Chances are she DOES....have roaches, ants and other crawling pests in her home. But like everyone....she hates to admit it.

Don't be embarrassed. "Mrs. Homemaker", these pests have been with us since prehistoric times - and all we can do is rely on science to provide ways to prevent and destroy them. There are many products which offer temporary solutions but only one which offers protection 24 hours a day for months and months - Johnston's No-Roach.

Johnston's No-Roach (comes in an amber bottle with a free brush attached) is different....and it's different for many reasons. No-Roach eliminates the need for frequent application of messy, unsafe sprays and powders....No-Roach is clean and easy to use. Simply brush this odorless, colorless liquid around baseboards, sinks tablelegs....behind cabinets and appliances, on shelves and inside cabinet doors. Use Johnston's No-Roach in bathrooms and anywhere else cockroaches may breed. No-Roach dries fast to form an invisible path of death that kills roaches, ants, spiders, silverfish, all crawling insects - and best of all it continues to kill effectively for months.

To keep ants out of the house, brush No-Roach across window frames and door sills. Ants will not cross the coating. Use No-Roach with confidence.

USE WITH CONFIDENCE—Housewives use Johnston's No-Roach with confidence to destroy roaches and other crawling pests. It is applied easily with the handy brush.

It is available at Furr's, Piggly Wiggly, Minute Market, Safeway, Everybody's, Rainbow and all grocery stores.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Gov. Alberto Orozco Romero of Mexico's Jalisco state is scheduled to arrive here Sept. 6 with 16 other Jalisco and Guadalajara officials.

Famous Ferrari Tires Carried Here By McCormick's Super 66

McCormick Phillips 66 Super Service, located on the southeast corner of Avenue A and the East Highway, now carries world famous JTW Ferrari tires. A steel-belted radial tire, it often is good for 40,000 miles.

"If you buy a Ferrari tire from us, we'll balance it and mount it free," said James Ray Harbin, manager of the station for the past five years. He has been with McCormick for 22 years.

"The JTW Ferrari tire carries a good guarantee," Harbin pointed out. "The guarantee is good as long as the tire has a measurable tread," he added.

McCormick Phillips 66 Super Service also carries Michelin tires, another quality tire that will give you good service.

McCormick & Son Oil Company of Snyder owns other Phillips stations in Snyder as well as ones located at Post, Colorado City, Roscoe, Sweetwater, Roby and Lamesa.

The Phillips 66 Super Service on the East Highway is one of the best stations in West Texas. There is plenty of parking space around the station, and it dispenses gasoline from eight pumps as well as two diesel pumps.

"We provide all of the services normally found at a service station," said Harbin, "such as wash and grease jobs, fixing of flats and wheel balancing.

Harbin and his employes take pride in the service they provide each customer.

"We always wash windshields and check the oil level in each customer's car," he pointed out.

Other employes of the firm are John Martin, Elmo Powell, John Montez and Felix Alvarez.

Of course, you can get Maco batteries, belts, hoses and air filters at the McCormick Phillips 66 Super Service station.

OUTSTANDING TIRE—James Ray Harbin, manager of McCormick Phillips 66 Super Service on the East Highway, displays a JTW Ferrari steel-belted radial tire. It is one of the best tires made. Customers often get as much as 40,000 miles out of them.

Nanaimo, British Columbia, originally a Hudson's Bay trading post, is now the second largest community on Vancouver Island.
