

BOTH ARE 1-1

Friona, Lockney Clash In Vital Game Friday

Two football teams with identical district records but opposite season marks square off in a vital District 3-AA game tomorrow night in Friona.

The Friona Chieftains and Lockney Longhorns, who both took district-opening wins last week, are 1-0 in district standings, tied with Abilene for the lead.

However, while the Chiefs sport a 2-4 season record, Lockney's reports reads a 4-2.

It will be "win or else" for each of the teams in tomorrow's game, as a loss would hurt either team's chances for a district title.

Lockney started slowly, losing to class A Hale Center and Kress, but has bounced back to win its last four games, beating Petersburg 14-0, Ralls 34-13, Slaton 42-12 and Olton last week, 27-18. Olton had been picked in most quarters in pre-season ranking as the team to beat for the district title.

Tomorrow's game will be the seventh meeting in football between teams from Friona and Lockney High School, dating back to 1938, and the series is all tied up at three wins for each school.

Lockney won the first two games, 19-0 in 1938 and 33-0 in 1939. Friona took a 25-0 win in 1940, and won 12-6 in 1946 before Lockney won 26-13 in 1947. Then the Chieftains won, 28-14 last season as the series was resumed after a 16-year lapse.

The Chiefs were forced into a lineup change for the game when co-captain Bob Sims came out of the Dimmitt game with a sprained knee.

Brig Bingham will open at the guard slot in Sims' place, and Bill Weatherly will play center. Mike Riethmayer will take Sims' place on defense.

Coach Don Light said this week that the team's spirits were helped immensely by the Chieftains' 21-6 win over Dimmitt in the district opener, and that workouts the first part of the week had been spirited.

The team knows it will have possibly its toughest district battle on its hands tomorrow night. The Longhorns will bring a tough team which features better than average speed. Two players, Melvin Sissney and Mitchell are cited as being break-away threats.

Game time is 7:30 p.m.

School Board Joins Panhandle Group

The Friona Independent School District's Board of Trustees voted at its meeting last week to join the Panhandle Educational Services Organization at West Texas State University.

The purpose of the organization is to be available for services pertaining to the Educational Opportunity Act, in which the board has voted to participate during the 1965-66 school year. The act is primarily to assist the educationally deprived students, and Friona's share of the federal money will amount to approximately $14,000 for the current year.

In other business, the board voted to purchase a new clock and scoreboard for the new high school gymnasium.

A report was heard on the Future Farmers of America project east of Friona. The FFA borrowed $1,000 last year to build pens. One-half of the money has been paid back, and the chapter will finish the note within a year. The FFA raises money through pruning trees, selling a calendar, collecting fees from members and charging a small fee for the use of its barn and pens. The pens are primarily for the use of chapter members who are city residents and have no place for their projects.

Superintendent Alton Farr reported the gross sales from football games since his last report as follows: Dalhart, $1546.25; Muleshoe, $1564.65; and Hale Center, $811.80. Each school shares 50-50 after the game officials are paid.

Farr also reported that the audit by the firm of Glover, Graham and Brown has been completed, and the auditors are to give a complete report of the audit at the next board meeting.

A proposal was heard from Jake Diel, Muleshoe, for repairing the bus barn lot. The board decided not to do anything along this line at the present time.

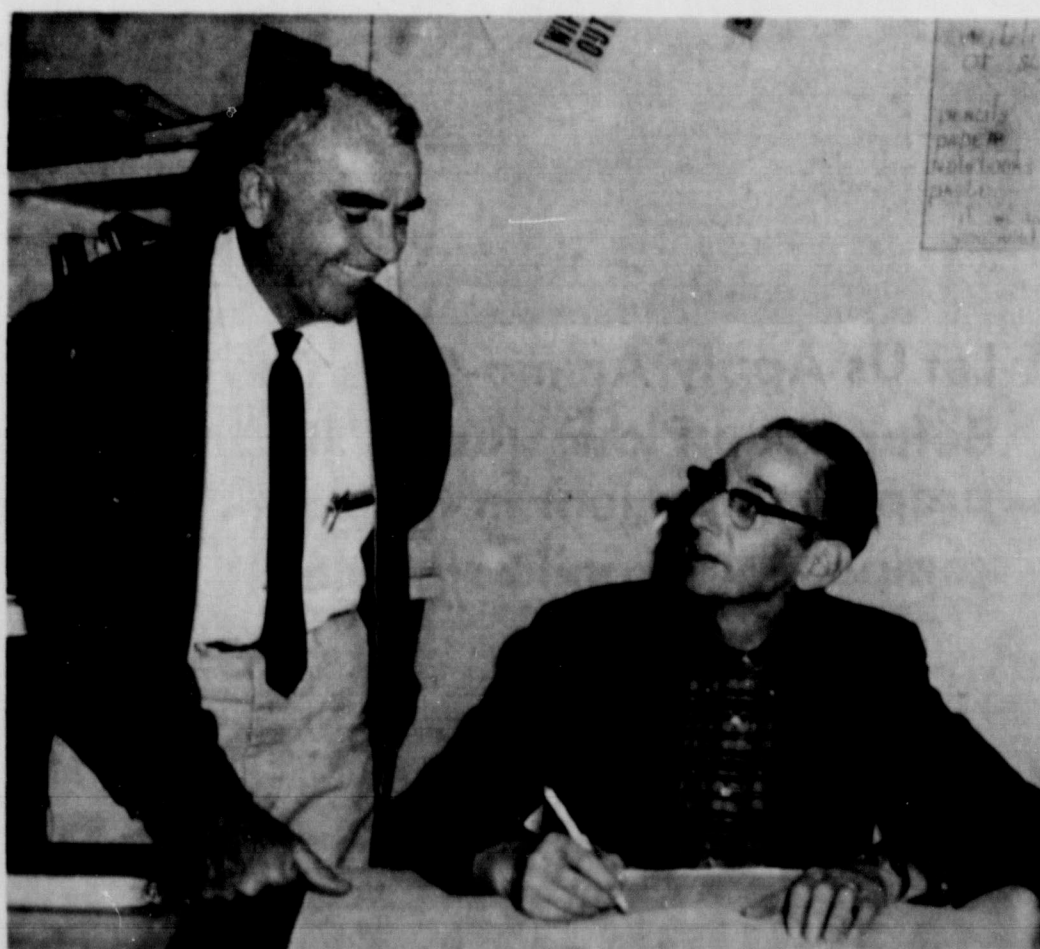

Rain, Hail Halt Harvest

The maize harvest in the Friona area was interrupted during the weekend by rains and late-season hail on Saturday and Sunday, which caused considerable damage in places.

Fair weather the first part of the week saw some farmers starting to cut again by Tuesday afternoon, although the grain was still too wet in many instances.

Rain received varied from the official measurement of .49 inches on Sunday in Friona to an inch and more north of town. The hail damage was not too general, although several in the Rhea community reported damage.

Among those who received some hail damage were Jack Patterson, Claude Mears, Cordie Potts, and Jim Dixon.

OFFICIAL WEEK . . . County Judge Loyde Brewer, seated, is shown signing a proclamation making next week "Eye Bank Week" in Palmer County, in recognition of local Lions Club work toward the High Plains Eye Bank, a sight-saving institute headquartered in Amarillo. Shown with Judge Brewer is A.L. (Jake) Outland, president of the Friona Lions Club.

The common cold will become even commoner this fall and winter. Signs point to a great increase in the incidence of colds, which even in a normal year strike 25 times as often as any other disease.

Families with school-age children will be especially vulnerable -- statistics show that parents get twice as many colds as other adults.

As for children themselves, the three S's -- sniffles, sneezes, and stuffy noses, -- always take a big toll of the three R's.

This year, more colds are bound to increase school absences, which last year averaged 18 days per pupil, or about one day in 10, according to Katherine H. Hain, M.D., Director of Medical Services for a pharmaceutical firm.

Dr. Hain projected this figure from data compiled by the National Education Association.

Her statistics reveal that in Texas the average student was absent from school 17 days during the last school year. The state ranked 25th in attendance in the nation, with an attendance record of 90.3 per cent.

The best attendance was achieved by the state of Washington, with an average of 8.8 days missed and an attendance record of 95.1 per cent.

The first onslaught of colds strikes the schools early during the first month of the school year, Dr. Hain says.

The second wave comes in the winter and is often more severe. These winter colds are more likely to lead to complications.

Faced with a child sneezing and sniffing, should a mother send him to school?

Physicians are not in complete agreement, but many like Dr. Hain feel that if there is no fever there is little reason for the child to be absent.

Because a cold is communicable for about three days before the symptoms appear, chances are the other children have already been exposed to the child's cold germs.

He should, however, try to avoid close contact with others, cup his mouth when sneezing, and use disposable tissues so as not to increase chances of infection.

One sneeze can blast 20,000 virus-laden droplets up to 12 feet in the air. Some of these cold-carrying droplets are still suspended after half an hour!

Rest is important in fighting the cold war. The child with a cold should get as much sleep as possible and be encouraged to rest during the school day.

Despite what you have heard about feeding a fever or starving a cold, Dr. Hain suggests instead that the child be given as much food as he wants, no more and no less.

Plenty of juice is a good idea, however.

An antihistamine -- aspirin medication will help relieve the cold's symptoms, help make the child feel more comfortable and help prevent complications, but there is no "cure" for a cold.

In children as in adults, the cold must run its course -- generally three to seven days.

If symptoms persist or a fever develops, the child be kept at home and a doctor consulted. There is no reason to confine the child to bed if the doctor does not recommend it.

Dr. Hain also states that it is not necessary to keep the child in pajamas when he is roaming about the house.

Unfortunately, your child's first cold of the season will not help much in immunizing him against the next one.

Some authorities believe that one cold may perfect against another, but only for a few weeks -- and all authorities agree that one cold offers no immunization at all if an unrelated virus hits the next time.

The mother of the cold-struck family can take some comfort in the situation, however. Colds have been plaguing mankind since the Ptolemies -- but mankind somehow keeps recovering.

AT CORPUS CHRISTI

Couples Attend SCD Convention

Two Friona couples attending the 25th anniversary meeting of the Soil and Water Conservation Districts of Texas in Corpus Christi October 12-14.

Attending from Friona and representing the Farmer County Soil and Water Conservation District were Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Black and Mr. and Mrs. H.H. Horton, Jr.

More than 500 people, representing 183 districts throughout the state attended the convention. The 183 districts represent more than 99 per cent of the land area in the state.

Black, who is chairman of the local district's board of supervisors, in addition to being vice-president of the Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts, gave the response of the convention well-come which was presented by Melver Turman, mayor of Corpus Christi.

Speaker for the Thursday night banquet was Attorney General Waggoner Carr. The attorney-general pointed out that the state legislature is becoming more concerned about conservation of our natural resources. Also attending the meeting was state representative Bill Clayton of Springlake.

Carr pointed out that the spiraling population growth in Texas and the United States was using up land area at the rate of 15,000 acres every 10 years. The uses of water in industry, irrigation and for municipal supply, will likewise skyrocket in the future, he said. Black, who was re-elected as first vice president of the state associating, stated that the meeting served to encourage everyone to make a greater effort to accomplish their local tasks.

IH Schedules Demonstration

A demonstration will be held Friday at Farmer County Implement Company for the new International - Harvester 1206 "Turbo Diesel" tractor.

The demonstration will be held adjacent to the company's location, and will be available for test runs anytime between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Friona's Ross Ayers Advanced To Brigadier-General's Rank

Ross Ayers last week received notice of his advancement in rank to Brigadier-General with the National Guard, and received new orders placing him in command of SFR Brigade of the 36th Division headquartered in San Antonio.

Gen. Ayers will become commander of one of the eight "strategic reserve" brigades throughout the nation, which were being re-inforced and creating a stepped-up training program. He will assume command on Nov. 1.

The National Guard is increasing its strength from 50 per cent allowed previously to 100 per cent, and will receive twice as much training equipment as it has had, Ayers pointed out in an interview.

Part of the new program will be to cut down on the time it takes between mobilization and deployment (combat) of National Guard units. Where it currently takes from six to eight months the objective is to cut this time to six to eight weeks.

Gen. Ayers will supervise the training of the brigade, and will visit the home station of each unit. The 36th division has units in Beaumont, Corpus Christi and Midland.

His new advancement and change of orders relieved Ayers of the supervision of five National Guard battalions, located at Lubbock, New Braunfels, Gonzales, Abilene and El Paso.

Primary reason for the new stepped-up program for the National Guard is the increased demands on United States troops in Viet Nam, Gen. Ayers indicated.

Ayers enlisted in the National Guard in 1931 while a student at Texas Tech. He was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in 1939, and was called to active duty in November of 1940.

He served as artillery officer for the 36th division during World War II, seeing 30 months of combat duty in Italy and Europe. He was separated from active duty with the end of the war, having received the Silver Star, Bronze Star and Croix de Guerre. In 1946, when the National Guard was re-organized, Ayers was given command of an artillery division located at Lubbock, and was advanced in rank to colonel.

The Friona State Bank plans to launch a unique contest whereby contestants can exercise their weather predicting talents by venturing a guess as to when a designated temperature will arrive in this area.

Prizes include a $100.00 Series E Bond, a $50.00 Series E Bond, and a $25.00 Series E Bond.

Further details will be published in the near future.

Ayers Advanced...

In 1960, Ayers was made Division Artillery Executive Officer, and then in 1961 was chosen Commander of Division Artillery.

A native of Grayson County in East Texas, Ayers came out to the Plains to attend school at Texas Tech because he wanted a chance to play football. He was a starting guard three years and captained the 1932 Tech eleven which with a 9-2 season record was the first winning team at the college.

Receiving his bachelor's degree in 1935, Ayers became a teacher and assistant football coach in Lubbock, a position he held until World War II intervened. After the war, he worked for the Veteran's Administration in their re-habilitation program from 1946 until 1950.

In 1950, Ayers got into the farming business in Lubbock County. A friend told him about the big land sale in Farmer County by the Capitol Syndicate in 1951, and he purchased an acreage near Hub. It was not until 1958 that Ayers moved to Friona.

"However, I had applied for the job as football coach at Friona High School while I was a senior at Tech, and lost out to Bill Stevens," Gen. Ayers recalled. It was this connection with the Friona superintendent at the time, George Heath, which led to his purchase of the Hub land later on, he points out.

The son of a Baptist preacher-school teacher-farmer, Ayers grew up as an East Texas "country boy" near Sherman. As to how he came to choose Texas Tech for his college work and wind up as a resident of West Texas, Ayers tells it this way:

He had been promised a job by the coach at Texas A&M, but when the Aggies changed coaches, Ayers found that his job prospect went out the window, along with his chance to play football there.

He had worked during the summer for a construction crew, and his boss asked him, "Why don't you go out to this new college at Lubbock?" Ross says that his reaction was "Where?" He had never even heard of Lubbock up until that time.

But he took the suggestion and came west. "And I've never been back, except to visit. I found the people of West Texas to be the friendliest I had ever seen. And they still are," he says.

Ayers played on the first Tech team to beat a member of the Southwest Conference, as his team downed Southern Methodist and Baylor. He has a son, Joe, who is a senior at Tech. Joe has recently followed his father's footsteps into the National Guard.

Ayers and his wife Flora Mae are active in church and club work in Friona. Their daughter, Ann, is a sophomore at Friona High School.

QUESTION: How could the Maize Day Celebration be improved for next year?

Mrs. Ralph Wilson: "We need some new interest in the celebration. Something like an arts and crafts show might be of interest. This could be with or without competition. We should also try to get more Farmer County old timers to come."

Dale Hart: "It seems that Maize Days is strictly a Friona event. Perhaps we could include the whole county more and make it into a county fair. We have good possibilities for a fair with so much agriculture around us."

Daisy Jameson: "The Chamber of Commerce could sponsor a contest while this year's celebration is still fresh in everyone's mind and before the holidays. They could offer a prize for the best ideas for new Maize Days activities."

Steve Messenger: "I'd like for everyone who enters a girl in the queen contest to make arrangements for her to ride in the parade. We always need more floats to make a better parade."

Mrs. Andy Hurst: "When we had the parade and the barbeque on the same day everyone turned out and people were more enthusiastic about the celebration. If we could get more people to play a part in the proceedings the interest would be keener."

Mrs. Raymond Adams: "We could have the celebration during homecoming week and each person could bring something to exhibit such as quilts, handwork, agricultural samples, etc. I definitely think we should keep Maize Days and build it up -- it helps draw our community together."

Porter Roberts: "We need less apathy among the people... more enthusiasm. We ought to promote the shave permits more. This could be built into a real community-spirited program."

Fifteen Accidents Recorded In Month

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 15 accidents on rural highways in Parmer County during the month of September, according to Sergeant W.E. Wells, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for twelve persons injured and an estimated property damage of $33,520.00. The monthly report does not include last Friday's wreck near Bovina, in which two men were killed.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county from January through September of 1965 shows a total of 102 crashes. As a result of these crashes there were two persons killed and 59 persons injured. The estimated property damage amounted to $87,991.00.

November 29, 1965 is the deadline for applications for the next Patrol Training School.

"Applications for the position of patrolman should be made as soon as possible," the Sergeant stated. Those who are selected to fill these positions have the privilege of knowing that they stand as the symbol of order in our society and are respected by all abiding citizens.

"The work of the patrolman is challenging," the Sergeant pointed out, "but the rewards are many. Each man answers a call to serve with the best of opportunities for participating in the constantly developing effort to curb the dual menace of increasing crime and traffic accidents."

Full details on qualifications can be obtained from the nearest Department of Public Safety office or from an DSP Patrolman.

Annual Trick Treat For CROP Scheduled

The Annual "Trick or Treat" for CROP (Christian Rural Overseas Program) Campaign will be conducted by the Friona FFA chapter on Saturday night, October 30. It was announced today by Rev. Paul Mohr, County CROP chairman. The FFA chapter, whose advisors are David McVey and Benny Pryor, also conducted the campaign last year, and did a very creditable job, according to Rev. Mohr.

The CROP program uses contributions to send surplus farm commodities to those who need it most overseas. The food is sent directly to missionaries of all denominations, who then distribute it. In this manner, there is very little overhead cost involved. That is why a contribution of $4.00 will provide rice to feed one child a meal a day for a year in Hong Kong.

Farmers who wish to contribute maize to the program may do so by informing the elevator manager that he wishes to transfer a portion of his crop to CROP. Maize gifts are especially desired at this time.

"Surely the people of Friona are filled with compassion when they note that two-thirds of the world's population goes to bed hungry every night," says Rev. Mohr, "and will use this opportunity of giving directly to starving people."

NOTRE DAME vs S. CAL. (TV)

The House-Senate conference committee report now makes possible a more complete analysis of the new cotton program.

Still, it remains for the Secretary of Agriculture to issue the regulations and interpretations necessary to clearing up the law's more nebulous terms and provisions.

Loan value and payments are essential as have been reported. The loan in 1966 is set at 21 cents per pound basis middling-inch at average location. It will be set at no more than 90 per cent of the "estimated" world market price for the other three years of the program.

Price support payments will be made at 9.42 cents per pound on the projected yield from domestic allotment (65 per cent of effective allotment.) The Secretary of Agriculture will set the amount of this payment for each of the succeeding three years, but the combined loan value plus the price support payment must provide the farmer with at least 65 per cent of parity on 87.5 per cent of effective allotment. Parity is now 41.76 cents per pound.

Acres diversion payments, in 1966, will be 10.5 cents per pounds times projected yield from diverted acres up to 35 per cent of effective allotment. Producers have the choice of diverting the minimum 12.5, 25 or 35 per cent of allotments. After 1966 the Secretary is directed to set diversion payments at no less than 25 per cent of parity on the acreage required to be diverted. He may require cooperators to divert less, but not more, than 12.5 per cent of their allotments after 1966.

Diversion payments on the difference between the mandatory diverted acreage and 35 per cent of allotments apparently may be set by the Secretary anywhere between zero and 40 per cent of parity after 1966.

One half of these payments may be made at the time the producer signs up to participate in the program. The other half will be made at the Secretary's decision before the total effects can be calculated.

The method of determining "projected yield," is also a point in question. The Conference report says: "Projected farm yield for any crop of cotton shall be determined on the basis of the yield per harvested acre on the farm during each of the three calendar years immediately preceding the year in which such projected farm yield is determined adjusted for abnormal weather conditions, and for any significant changes in production practices . . ."

But, the report further stipulates that projected yield shall in no event be less than the normal yield as established under the current program.

This makes clear that projected yield for 1966 cannot be below normal yield as already established for a farm. But it is not plainly spelled out whether the normal yield might be re-figured in 1967, 1968 or 1969.

For an example of how the three permissible alternatives would affect gross income on a High Plains farm, assume the following:

1. 100 acre effective allotment.

2. 500 lbs. per acre projected farm yield.

3. 500 lbs. per acre actual yield.

4. 18¢ per lb. loan value (300 points off middling-inch)

With these assumptions, the producer who plants the maximum permissible, 87.5 acres, would receive:

18¢ loan times 87.5 bales produced ----- $7,875.00

9.42¢ per lb. on 65 bales (projected yield from domestic acres) ----- 3,061.50

10.5¢ per lb. on 12.5 bales (projected yield from diverted acres) ----- 656.25

TOTAL GROSS INCOME ----- $11,592.75

If he plants 75 acres he would get:

18¢ loan times 75 bales produced ----- $6,750.00

9.42¢ per lb. on 65 bales (projected yield from domestic acres) ----- 3,061.50

10.5¢ per lb. on 25 bales (projected yield from diverted acres) ----- 1,312.50

TOTAL GROSS INCOME ----- $11,124.00

It can be seen that gross income under normal conditions would likely be less with the greater acreage cut. To determine which alternative will bring the best net return, each farmer will need to inject his own acreage allotment, yield, production costs, cost of diverting acreage to approved conservation practices and other factors.

Also, it is to be hoped that the market price for cotton will be above the loan value used here. This possibility will depend to a large extent on how the Secretary handles CCC stocks. The bill places some restrictions on the sale of CCC stocks, but it is generally thought that the Secretary has enough latitude to either bolster or depress market prices. Reports are already being received that some landlords have notified tenants they will not rent in 1966. Presumably they have calculated increased income from the land by farming it themselves under the new program. Whether they are wise in this decision may depend on the Secretary's interpretation of the law, which says "The Secretary shall provide adequate safeguards to protect the interests of tenants and sharecroppers . . .". To date there is no indication as to what those "safeguards" might be.

Sale or lease and transfer of allotments between growers within a state may be permitted by the Secretary "if he determines that it will not impair the effective operation of the program involved." The word is that such sales or leases will be permitted at least in 1966, subject to the following restrictions:

1. A two-thirds majority vote by growers in a county referendum before allotments can move across county lines (to be held November 23 this year);

2. Adjustment of transferred allotments from one farm to another when there is a significant difference in yields on the two farms;

3. Total cotton allotment for any farm to which an allotment is transferred by sale or lease cannot exceed the farm acreage allotment for 1965 (excluding reapportioned acreage) by more than one hundred acres;

4. No sale of a farm allotment shall be permitted if any sale of cotton allotment to the same farm has been within the three immediately preceding years;

5. No transfer of allotments from farms subject to a mortgage or other lien unless agreed to by the lienholder; and

6. No transfer of allotments between January 1 and June 1 of any year.

To qualify for diversion payments under the law, a farm will be required to devote to approved conservation practices an acreage equal to the sum of (a) the reduction in cotton acreage required to qualify for such payments and (b) the average acreage of cropland devoted to soil conserving crops or practices during a base period prescribed by the Secretary.

The Secretary may permit planting of guar, sesame, safflower, sunflower, castor beans, mustard seed, crabs, plantago ovate or flaxseed. The rate of payments would then be determined by the Secretary at up to one-half the payment rate otherwise applicable.

Producers may elect to apply to county ASC offices for additional acreage, produce cotton outside the program, and forego all loan and payment privileges. All cotton from the farm electing this route must be exported. The Secretary has a maximum of 250,000 acres that can be applied to all such requests in 1966. How they will be apportioned has not been announced, but they will be available only to the holder of an allotment in 1965 or his heir.

The 250,000 acres for this purpose is called "export market acreage reserve." For 1967, 1968, and 1969, the size of this export market acreage reserve will be the same if cotton carryover is reduced by as much as one million bales. Otherwise the export acreage will be cut in proportion to the amount the carryover reduction falls short of a million bales.

We are in the process of planning and scheduling various kinds of crop demonstrations for next year. We would welcome any suggestions from you on what you need more information about. It may be fertilizer, cultural practices or something else that you feel is a problem. We hope to get a few fertilizer research trials in Palmer County next year.

If you would like to cooperate on some of this type of work or have suggestions on what you would like to see work done on, let me know.

It looks like we will have the best yields ever on most crops. However, our net profit may not be as much as in previous years due to increased costs. Which means we've got to be constantly on the search for new ways to lower production costs.

These game birds do need some protection and cover if they are to increase in this area. We believe that farmers should give some thought to leaving some cover, only one acre can be a big help, especially if there is not any other natural cover anywhere close.

Producers may elect to apply to county ASC offices for additional acreage, produce cotton outside the program, and forego all loan and payment privileges. All cotton from the farm electing this route must be exported. The Secretary has a maximum of 250,000 acres that can be applied to all such requests in 1966. How they will be apportioned has not been announced, but they will be available only to the holder of an allotment in 1965 or his heir.

The 250,000 acres for this purpose is called "export market acreage reserve." For 1967, 1968, and 1969, the size of this export market acreage reserve will be the same if cotton carryover is reduced by as much as one million bales. Otherwise the export acreage will be cut in proportion to the amount the carryover reduction falls short of a million bales.

Studies made in 1963 with strippers with tractor mounted baskets and strippers with drawn trailers showed that the average labor requirement for harvesting a bale of cotton with the basket system was 40 per cent lower than for the conventional drawn trailer system.

Now that grain sorghum harvest is about over for most farmers need to leave a little of their sorghum stubble standing to provide cover this winter for pheasants. We don't mean a lot of acreage but many farms may have some point rows or a corner in a field that could be left standing. Probably the least interruption to next year's farming operation would come from leaving this stubble on ground you plan to lay-out.

I wanted to mention this because about 1900 pheasants were bought and released by Palmer County farmers in the fall of 1963. Last year we had a pheasant season and quite a few people had the pleasure of pheasant hunting.

The 4-H girls in the Oklahoma Lane Community may well be proud of the work done in their home improvement projects. One thing that all girls (and their mothers too) said helped them most was organization of drawer space. Having a place for everything and everything in its place makes dressing and grooming one's self much easier and quicker and prevents frustration.

This study on organization in the bedroom may well be carried on over into other activities of our lives too. Mrs. Webb Guber, the leader is to be commended for her part as a leader. It took interest not only of the girls in bedroom improvement, but also interest and help of the parents for these girls to succeed.

CLOTHING PROBLEMS IN FABRIC SELECTION

Fall sewing is one activity for many homemakers that is being given some thought as to the selection of fabrics. As new fabrics are made available, more knowledge of techniques in sewing these is needed, as well as information on buying.

More bonded fabrics will be on the market this winter than ever before. Manufacturers predict that in a few years that 60 per cent of all fashion fabrics, including linens and bedding, will be bonded.

Often women ask why some bonded fabrics separate. The type of process determines the longevity of the bond. Here are three types of laminated methods used in bonded fabrics.

(1). ADHESIVES glue the fabrics together. This is the least expensive process and the least successful as the glue is easily dissolved by solvents used in a drycleaning process.

(2). HEAT SETTING a polyurethane foam between two fabrics is more expensive but lasts longer since it is not destroyed by drycleaning solvents. This middle layer, however, is so thin that it is difficult to distinguish it from an adhesive.

(3). LOCKLINED fabrics are made of two layers connected during the weaving process. This is rarely found in clothing because of the expense of the construction process.

In April of next year a county wide program on new fabrics, their Selections and Care will be given in Bovina. This should be of interest to all consumers whether they sew or buy.

The cost of clothing is higher now and care in selection will be more important to the homemaker who must "stretch" the clothing dollar.

TOPPLE DIMMITT, 21-6

Chieftains Make Good On "Starting Over" Plan

The Friona Chieftains made good on their vow to "start over" with the beginning of district play last week, and came out with a 21-6 win over the Dimmitt Bobcats in a game at Dimmitt.

The Chiefs put the skids on their three-game losing streak, and did it against one of the oldest rivals. The win was the third straight win for Friona over Dimmitt, one of the longest, if not the longest streaks the Chieftains have ever accomplished against their Castro County rivals.

The Chiefs took an early 7-0 lead, saw it cut to 7-6, and the score hung at that precarious margin for the better part of three quarters before Friona scored two quick fourth-quarter touchdowns to put the game on ice.

Friona kicked off to Dimmitt to begin the game. The Bobcats made just nine yards in three plays and were forced to punt.

The Chieftains didn't get started like a house-on-fire, but used a couple of breaks to get a scoring drive going. On fourth and nine from their own 24-yard line, Friona used its shift prior to getting ready to punt, and pulled Dimmitt offside. That made it fourth and four, and to most people's amazement, the trick worked again, giving Friona a first down at the Dimmitt 34.

Larry Johnson raced 27 yards to the Dimmitt 39. Tackle-turned fullback Ray Braxton gave the team a first down at the 29 with a two-yard gain on his first attempt at carrying the ball.

The drive got another break a couple of plays later when a personal foul penalty against Dimmitt moved the ball to the Bobcat 12. Johnson made five yards and then Joe Mabry scooted seven yards for the tally. Bob Sims' booted the point and it was 7-0 with 5:30 left in the first quarter.

Friona came out with excellent field position on the kickoff, which was finally covered by Dimmitt at their own nine-yard line. In the final analysis, however, the Bobcats were to march the entire 91 yards for a score.

Penalties against the Chiefs totaling 53 yards, two in succession for a total of 48, aided the Bobcat cause. A personal foul penalty gave Dimmitt life at their 33-yard line, and then the officials called a pass interference penalty, which cost Friona 33 yards and gave Dimmitt a first down at the Chieftain 34-yard line.

A 21-yard scamper by a Dimmitt back further enhanced the drive, and on third down from their eleven, a pass worked for the remaining yards and Dimmitt had made the scoreboard click. The kick was wide, and Friona clung to a 7-6 lead.

Neither team was able to dent the scoreboard during the remainder of the first half, although Friona threatened. The Chiefs gained possession of the ball with just a minute left in the half, and 67 yards from the Dimmitt goal.

Johnson gained 17 to the 50, utilizing their time outs, the team worked the ball to the 18-yard line, where with nine seconds showing on the clock, Sims attempted a field goal, but it fell short.

Friona missed on another chance to stretch their lead as the second half began. Braxton returned the kickoff 44 yards to the Friona 49 to give the team good field position. The Chiefs picked up three downs, but on a fourth down try, Braxton was stopped a yard short of a first down at the Dimmitt 10.

Neither team could muster a threat for the next 12 minutes of playing time, and midway through the final quarter, it appeared that Friona was just going to have to protect its slim 7-6 lead.

However, an intercepted pass set the Chiefs up on the Dimmitt 42-yard line, and on the first play Mabry scampered around right end and blasted 42 yards for the score. Sims kicked true, and the score was 14-6.

Dimmitt might have returned the kickoff for a touchdown, but Gene Weatherly, who kicked off, reached up a hand while sprawling on the ground and tripped up the ball-carrier at the Dimmitt 42.

On Dimmitt's first offensive play, Sims intercepted another pass, and ran it 10 yards to the Dimmitt 45. However, a 15-yard penalty silenced any scoring attempt on this drive.

After Dimmitt took over at its own 20, the Bobcats once again went to the air. And, for the third time in a row, the pass came to rest in a Friona Chieftain's hands. Mabry intercepted this one, and ran it back from his 34 to the Dimmitt nine.

It took Friona just one play

REC Representatives Attend Convention

Three members of the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative and their wives attended the Region 10 meeting of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association in Santa Fe, New Mexico this week.

ing the meeting included Jerry L. Anderson, executive assistant to the general manager of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, Washington, D.C., and Norman M. Clapp, administrator, Rural Electrification Administration. Governor Jack Campbell of New Mexico gave the welcoming address.

Freshman Team Downs Canyon

Friona's freshman football team scored a 38-6 win over the Canyon freshmen in a game here last Saturday morning.

Scoring for Friona was divided among Tony Perea with two touchdowns, Johnny Barker, Mike Pavalus and Wilson Ruffins.

Perea scored on a 60-yard run; Pavalus intercepted a pass and scored, and Ruffins scored on a pass from Johnny Barker.

The freshmen, now 3-2 for the season, take on Littlefield a week from today.

Bill Nunn Is Fund Chairman

Bill Nunn has been named general chairman of Friona's United Fund Drive.

Nunn states that a kickoff breakfast has been scheduled for Tuesday, November 16. A goal for the 1965 drive has not been established.

The new chairman stated that he would propose that downtown businessmen help by urging their employees to contribute to the U.F. drive, so that the businesses could secure a "100 per cent" window sticker.

This would also facilitate the individual soliciting, Nunn points out.

SHERLEY DEFENSES... Tommy Sherley is shown bringing down Dimmitt's quarterback after a short gain in last Friday's game at Dimmitt. Friona won the game 21-6.

Thirty-Nine Attend Achievement Tour

Home Improvement Achievement Tour of Oklahoma Lane 4-H girls was held Saturday, October 16 from 2 to 4:30 p.m. A total of 25 members and 14 adults met at the Oklahoma Lane Community center and went to the homes of Mrs. Johnnie Rundell, Gilbert Kaltwasser, Leon Billingsley and Webb Gober. Here they saw results of work done by 4-H girls in the improvement of their bedrooms and homes through 4-H work.

At the home of Tina, Sherree and Gay Rundell the most outstanding improvements included the study center located in the corner of the large bedroom shared by the three girls. The desk, study lamp, chair and a screen divider to prevent distraction when working, was a useful and attractive grouping. Shelves, and racks provided for in closet made greater use of space, and drawer dividers to help keep clothing orderly and easy to find was another addition that attracted attention. A large cedar chest was refinished in a natural low sheen satin finish by the girls in a workshop last summer was of interest especially to the adults.

Cheryle Kaltwasser's bulletin board, bedside table and decorative bird cage attracted attention of the group along with other improvements.

The attractive refinished walnut bedside table of Janis Billingsley created interest of the group. Re-arrangement of closet and drawer space for greater convenience was another feature of improvement in her bedroom.

A very small closet with a lot of usable space was outstanding feature of Kathryn Gober's room, along with the refinished sewing stand and pictures.

The project work is under the direction of the County Extension Service. According to Mrs. Cricket B. Taylor, County Extension Agent, the objectives of the bedroom improvement project is to make bedrooms more useful, convenient and attractive by providing a place for all personal things, making better use of space, select appropriate colors, pictures and furniture to meet the needs of bedroom activities.

Mrs. Webb Gober, project leader, assisted by the 4-H girls and Mrs. Rundell explained and discussed the project work carried out by the girls.

At the Webb Gober home, refreshments were served to the following: LAZBUDIE CLUB: Mrs. Ralph Broyles, Ann Blackstone, Diane Coker, Kathy Coker; OKLAHOMA LANE CLUB: Tina Rundell, Sherree Rundell, Gay Rundell, Kathryn Gober, Janis Billingsley, Cheryle Kaltwasser, Mrs. Johnnie Rundell, Mrs. Gilbert Kaltwasser, Mrs. Webb Gober, Mrs. Walter Kaltwasser, Mrs. Cyrus Dale, Rhonda and Cindy Dale;

I've never known for sure just what is meant by the term "Indian Summer" but if Tuesday was a sample, I'd sure like for us to have more Indian Summer days. It has been entirely too pretty for anyone to have to spend the entire afternoon inside.

The beauty of Friona and the beautiful afternoon gave Carol Ellis and me a good excuse to get out a few minutes and while we were enjoying the beauty spots, we were shooting some of them for the enjoyment of our readers.

We ran onto three women golfers on the golf course. The Country Club golf course is something for any club member to be proud of. The greens are well kept and very attractive.

Pictures made while we were out looking around will appear elsewhere in the Star this week.

A little six year old girl was made very happy one day last week when she was able to talk to her daddy on the telephone. Her daddy had been critically ill and in the intensive care unit of a hospital several days and she had not been able to visit him nor talk to him.

When he was able to be moved to a room, he called to talk to the little girl. After a few minutes, she said, "Daddy, do you have whistles on the telephone?"

Grownups in hearing distance at first thought they had not heard clearly, but she repeated the question and there was no doubt about what she was saying.

She had heard her mother and other adult relatives say he was allowed to have visitors once in a while and she thought perhaps the same rule applied to telephone conversations.

A round-up of uniforms for Girl Scouts for all ages has been planned for Saturday, October 23, from 9 to 11 a.m. in the Community Room of Friona State Bank.

Anyone having uniforms for sale or exchange is asked to bring them to the bank. The ones for sale need to be marked. Anyone in need of a uniform should check with leaders on duty.

Uniforms may also be donated if the owners desire.

Probably newspaper people become more conscious of errors in spelling than average citizens. It seems that sign painters would be especially careful about painting names on buildings. However, it isn't unusual to see a misspelled word in a sign.

One morning last week as I came to work I noticed a beautiful new sign on the front of a business building. At the time I noticed that the name of the firm was not spelled correctly. Then a few days later I was driving past the same building and noticed the entire sign had been painted over.

Apparently the owner noticed the error, too.

Prayer Disussed By Sunday School Teacher

Mrs. Claude Osborn, teacher of the Fidelis Sunday School class of First Baptist Church, presented a program on "Prayer" at the Monday evening meeting of the class in the home of Mrs. David Campbell.

Guests were Mrs. Sloan Osborn and Mrs. Pete Meason of Friona and Mrs. Floyd Kizzia of Delight, Arkansas.

Following the program refreshments of nut bread and spiced tea were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Joel Landrum, and Mrs. Leon Massey.

Other class members present were Mesdames Jim Roy Clements, Jerry Hinkle, Don McMahan, Pat Ferguson, Dale Williams, Dale Smith, Max Field and Jarrell Wright.

It's laughing lightly at Dame Despair;

It's looking up at the stars above

And drinking deeply of love;

It's struggling on with the will to win,

But taking loss with a cheerful grin . . .

It's serving, striving through strain and stress,

It's doing you Nobler - that's Success!

I like the following definition of success. Hope you enjoy reading it.

"It's doing your job the best you can

And being just to your fellow man;

It's making money . . . but holding friends,

And staying true to your aims and ends;

It's figuring how and learning why,

And looking forward and thinking high,

And dreaming a little and doing much

It's keeping always in closest touch

With what is finest in word and deed;

It's being thorough, yet making speed;

It's daring blithely the field of chance

While making labor a brave romance;

It's going onward despite defeat

And fighting staunchly, but keeping sweet;

It's being clean and it's playing fair;

Lange, local Red Cross chairman, announced this week that seventy-five dirty bags, which had been made by local women, were shipped to Red Cross National Headquarters at St. Louis for shipment to servicemen in Viet Nam. WHAT A LOVELY WAY TO SPEND A DAY . . . Probably Mrs. Steve Messenger, Mrs. Glen Mings and Mrs. David Smith didn't spend the entire day Tuesday playing golf, but they spent several hours in the afternoon. Mrs. Messenger, an experienced golfer, was photographed as she demonstrated some of the finer arts of the game to Mrs. Smith a novice as Mrs. Mings looks on. Mrs. Messenger said, "Cherry Ann and I are supposed to be teaching Betty how to golf and she is about to beat us."
