Moody Uses Veto In Effort To End Texas Demo Bitterness

GOVERNOR PUTS BLUE MARK ON 17 MEASURES

Executive Holds Breach In Texas Party Would Be Prolonged

Dan Moody Files Total Of 45 Measures Passed By Legislature

AUSTIN, April 2. (AP)—Holding if it became a law "it would prolong the bitterness" aroused by the split in the party during the last presidential campaign, and "continue to widen the breach," Governor Moody late today vetoed the anti-bolter bill.

The bill was written by Senator A. J. Wirtz of Seguin and passed both houses after a bitter fight. It would have empowered the state Democratic executive committee to bar as voters and candidates in future primaries those who left the party to vote for President Herbert Hoover last November.

The governor turned in 17 vetoed bills and three he had approved this afternoon, after having filed 25 measures this morning, including two appropriation bills which had been partly blue penciled.

Reasons for Veto

"It may as well be discussed from its effect upon the Democratic party and thereby its effect upon the state at darge, in view of the fact that the Democratic party has been, is now, and I hope in the interest of the general welfare, will continue to be the predominant political party of this state," the governor said, in giving his reasons for vetoing the Wirtz bill.

"I have nothing to say about parties controlling their own destinies as voluntary organizations. Under ordinary circumstances a bill of this kind would excite little interest and it would have my approval. However, the bill comes at this time as one of the indirect results of the division which occurred in the Democratic party in the campaign preceding the recent general election. It appears evident to me that if the bill becomes a law it will prolong the bitterness which that campaign aroused and will continue to widen the breach in the Democratic party. I am of the opinion that the welfare of the party and the welfare of the state are to be advanced by promoting harmony among those whose views are in accord with the principles of the Democratic party."

Some Bills Left

Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas and other leaders in the campaign by bolters in Texas last fall, who called upon Democrats to vote for the Republican nominee—claiming that to favor Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York would be to encourage opponents of prohibition, threatened to organize an independent movement to defeat the "Tammanyites" as they called sponsors of

Hambone's Meditations

'Demo Doctor'

To heal the wounds suffered by the Democratic party in Texas last November when the state went for Hoover, Gov. Dan Moody vetoed the Wirtz bill Tuesday. The bill would have virtually barred "bolters" from Democratic primaries. The governor vetoed 16 other bills.

CALLES KEEPS UP CANNONADE AGAINST FOES

Bloody Battle at Jiminez Continues With Both Sides Suffering

LOYALS GAIN GROUND

Rifles, Machine Guns, Cannons and Airplanes Used in Fight

MEXICO CITY, April 2. (UP—Heavy fighting continued at Jiminez, Chihuahua, today as federal troops directed by Minister of War Plutarco Elias Calles and Gen. Juan A. Almazan hammered away at a force of rebels which resisted desperately.

Losses were heavy. The government admitted 50 federal dead and said the rebels lost "many additional." The government claimed to have the rebels bottled up in Jiminez. Gen. Almazan personally directed the offensive against the railroad station and other positions within the town which the rebels still held. The remainder of Jiminez was in federal hands.

Rebels "Desperate"

The presidential palace announced at noon that sanguinary fighting continued and that the rebels were unable to break through the federal circle of fire. The efforts of the rebels to break through were described as "desperate."

Calles reported that the federal attack was renewed at 5 a. m. after a determined rebel cavalry attack had been withstood. It was the second day of fighting, yesterday's battle having lasted since before dawn to nearly dusk.

Escape Thwarted

At 5 a. m. today, Calles reported, the rebels attempted to escape through the sector held by Gen. Eulalio Ortiz but were repulsed. The war minister telegraphed at 8:30 a. m. that the battle was at its height.

Calles reported at 10:20 a. m. that federal airmen had made a bomb attack on the enemy trenches. "The loyalists have the greater part of the city and are advancing to dislodge the rebels from their positions," he announced at that time.

Gen. Ortiz successfully resisted three charges by 1,300 rebel cavalry at 4 a. m. Calles reported. The failure of the rebel cavalry charge, Ortiz said, resulted in the federals tightening their cordon around the city.

Calles Optimistic

Calles declared that the insurgents did not have sufficient troops outside of Jiminez to attempt to recapture the city. The war minister concluded his report by adding:

"From these reports, senor presidente, you may be assured that the extermination of the traitors headed by Escobar, Urbalejo and Caraveo is a question of hours, although I greatly fear that the responsible leaders themselves are safe many kilometers distant from the battle."

BATTLE IN SINALOA

MAZATLAN, Sinaloa, Mexico, April 2 (UP)—One hundred soldiers were killed in a battle between federals and rebels at Quelite, Sinaloa, Monday according to advices received here today.

Quelite is north of Mazatlan and slightly off the main route to Culiacan. A battle is said still to be in progress.

U. S. CITIZEN KILLED

NACO, Ariz., April 2. (UP)—An American citizen was critically injured and 200 other persons fled to safety here today when bombs dropped from a rebel airplane attacking the federal garrison in Naco, Sonora, fell on this side of the international boundary line.

Grand Jury Calls City Manager In Crime Quiz

Fairtrace and Court Investigators Confer on Robberies; Two New Motorcycle Officers Authorized

Possible methods of checking the widespread epidemic of burglaries which has swept the residence section of Wichita Falls during the past few months were discussed in a conference between George Fairtrace and members of the 30th district grand jury before the adjournment of that body Tuesday afternoon, according to information in the hands of courthouse officials.

More extensive and surer protection to householders and property was urged by members of the investigating body, it was reported, and plans were completed for further action to be taken when the jury re-convenes on April 25, during the last week of the present term of court.

Later in the day Mr. Fairtrace announced two new motorcycle officers would be added to the police department under the new budget for the fiscal year. The budget remains to be approved by the city council, and unless some change is made by that body, the two officers will be named about April 15.

The new officers will be used chiefly to patrol the residential section, it was said. No other increases in the personnel of the police department is contemplated at present, the city manager announced.

Firemen Face Electrocution Peril To Extinguish Downtown Blaze

The perils of "hot" electric wires, crisscrossed over the top of the Grand Leader, clothing store at 824 Seventh street, and the Puritan lunch room, adjoining it, were faced by city firemen late Tuesday night when they were called to extinguish a blaze originating, it is thought, in the kitchen of the restaurant.

The fire, at first appearing formidable, centered in the rear part of both establishments, which firemen found ablaze on their arrival. While one crew of firemen streamed water into the front doors of both places, another crew sought to hack holes in the roof of the lunch room in the rear.

Wires Charge Metal

Here the fire-fighters found their most formidable obstacle. Electric wires, short-circuited by the water, probably charged every piece of tin and metal. There were cries of pain as men trying to heave an axe into the roof came in contact with the tin smoke chimneys and other bits of conveyors. One fireman, O. H. Scott, of central station, was literally knocked down when he accidentally brushed up against a skylight charged with "juice."

Once only, at the beginning, did the fire come to the entrance of either of the stores. That was when flames rushed to the front part of the lunch room. They were quickly checked.

Damage to both of the places probably will run to about $50,000, First Chief J. L. McClure said.

Youth Reports Fire

The fire was reportetd to central station at 11:20 o'clock by Jack Atkins, 18-year-old youth, of 503 Scott avenue, who only about an hour before had alighted from an automobile bearing him from San Antonio. He had started home, he said, when he noticed flames in the rear of the lunch room. He pulled the alarm at Seventh and Indiana.

At the same time another youth, Harland Hubbard, turned in an alarm at Indiana and Eighth streets.

WASHINGTON, April 2. (US)—An investigation of United States attorneys' offices by Attorney General Mitchell will be completed within two weeks, he announced today. NELSON HEADS JUNIOR C.-C.

Division Names Officers At Meet Tuesday

Walter Nelson Jr., was elected as the first president of the recently organized junior division of the chamber of commerce at a meeting of the directors held Tuesday night in the chamber of commerce offices.

Other officers elected at the meeting are Jerry Vinson, first vice president; Charles W. Nolen, second vice president; and John Barnard, third vice president. By virtue of action taken recently, Mr. Nelson becomes automatically a member of the board of directors of the senior chamber of commerce, as well as executive of the new organization.

Membership of 250

Hubert M. Harrison, general manager of the chamber of commerce, who presided at the meeting during the election of officers, announced that the junior division now has a total membership of 250, of which number 22 were formerly members of the senior organization, and transferred their memberships to the junior body. Members of the division have pledged $2,797 toward the 1929 work of the chamber of commerce, $770 of which has already been paid in cash, it was announced.

Opinions expressed Tuesday night by members of the board of directors indicated that two of the chief objectives of the new organization will be the provision of pleasant social contacts for the members, and the welcoming of young business and professional men who move to this city.

The present staff of the chamber of commerce will serve the new division until it is deemed necessary to engage a secretary for the junior body, it was stated. Allotment of terms, with reference to tenure of office for directors, resulted as follows: J. A. Kemp Jr., Ralph Pittman, James V. Allred, John Barnard and T. J. Waggoner Jr., will serve one year; Dr. Bailey R. Collins, Walter Nelson Jr., J. L. Randel, Shadie Hale and James W. Ryan, two years; and Robert K. French, Frank Haley, Charles W. Nolen, Jerry Vinson and Sam B. Spence, three years. Determination of tenure of office was by means of drawing lots. Hereafter, five new directors will be elected annually.

Program of Work

The new president was authorized by the board to appoint committees on by-laws and program of work. Questionnaires will be sent out to the entire membership at once, it was stated, for the purpose of obtaining suggestions relative to time of meetings, the best method of maintaining contact between the members, and general promotion of the organization.

Those present Tuesday night were Walter Nelson Jr., Jerry Vinson, Charles W. Nolen, John Barnard, Dr. Bailey R. Collins, Ralph D. Pittmann, Robert K. French, J. V. Allred, J. L. Randel, Frank Haley, Shadie Hale, James W. Ryan, Sam B. Spence, and T. J. Waggoner Jr.

LONG LOSES IN FIGHT AGAINST HOUSE ACTION

Attorney General Holds Method of Procedure Is Legally Okeh

NIGHT SESSION HELD

Ancient Law Passed In 1855 Cited to Prove Governor's Claim

BATON ROUGE, April 2. (AP)—With Attorney General Percy Saint upholding the impeachment procedure which had been challenged as illegal by opponents, the Louisiana house of representatives tonight resumed consideration of 19 charges of impeachment against Gov. Huey P. Long.

The attorney general held that the law of 1855 was not applicable to the present impeachment proceedings and that the house of representatives was within its legal rights in adopting its own rules to guide the hearing.

Leaders of the Long forces temporarily blocked the hearing today by arguing that the law required the submission of a sworn memorial with a list of witnesses to the legislature which should appoint a committee to report to a subsequent session of the legislature, or whether the house has the power under the constitution to conduct an impeachment investigation against a governor under its own rules.

Chinese Nationalists Plan to Levy Surtax

SHANGHAI, China, April 2. (AP)—Reports from Japanese sources in Nanking today said that the Nationalist government had decided to levy, beginning April 10, a 2½ per cent surtax on commodities passing through the Chinese customs, over and above the present duties. The purpose of the surtax is to defray the government's expenses in relieving famine sufferers in Shansi and Kansu provinces.

Col. E. M. House Improving After Major Operation

NEW YORK, April 2. (UP)—Col. Edward M. House, important figure in the administration of President Wilson, underwent a major operation this afternoon in a New York hospital. The operation was apparently successful and physicians reported Colonel House afterwards as "in excellent condition."

A statement issued at 5:30 p. m. and signed by Dr. Albert R. Lamb of the Harbor hospital staff said:

"The operation was for the removal of a diverticulum of the bladder that contained a papillary growth confined to one portion of its wall. This had caused bleeding for the past 48 hours, which made the operation imperative."

Members of the family of the wartime advisor and trusted friend of President Wilson accompanied him to the hospital, which he entered only a few minutes before the operation.

WISCONSIN DRY LAW VOTED ON

Brewery State Turns Out Huge Poll

MILWAUKEE, April 2. (AP)—Two hundred twenty-nine precincts out of 2,780 on repeal of state prohibition enforcement act show yes 21,455; no 19,974; removal home brew penalty yes 19,383; no 17,993.

MADISON, Wis., April 2. (UP)—Cities where famous breweries once flourished and bock beer announcements mingled with the posters of aldermanic candidates, turned out their thousands today to counteract the vote of the dry rural communities in the battle for endorsement or repudiation of the Wisconsin prohibition law.

The vote was expected to settle the fate of the much mooted Severson enforcement act, although it will neither repeal nor save the law, being intended merely as a guide to the legislature now in session here.

A second question on the ballot, overshadowed by the repeal fight, was the question of amending the state dry act to remove penalties for making and selling beer.

The compaign waged over the referendum was the most bitter since prohibition became a factor in Wisconsin politics. Drys called the special vote a question of whether Wisconsin would secede from the union in regard to the prohibition law. Wets called the vote a decisive step in the movement to smash prohibition state by state.

In a whirlwind campaign for the present referendum, Duncan challenged the voters to "vote as you drink; be honest with yourself and with the state." Dry leaders characterized his slogan as "government of the belly, by the belly and for the belly."

Four other states have repealed their dry laws—Nevada, New York, Montana and Maryland.

755 BALLOTS CAST IN DULL CITY ELECTION

Harvey Wins Easily, With 658 Votes to 91 For Opponent

2 COMPLIMENT JONES

McCutchen Leads Ticket With 742 Ballots; Spoonts Polls 739

Scoring a victory of more than 7 to 1 over his opponent, R. O. Harvey, candidate for place No. 1 in the city council, defeated M. McCormick by a vote of 658 to 91 in the only contested place in the annual municipal election Tuesday.

The lack of competition in the other two places caused a very light vote of 755 ballots to be cast in the three boxes, located in the Wichita county courthouse, the South Side Baptist church and the Alamo school.

McCutchen Leads Ticket

C. E. McCutchen, candidate for place No. 1, received a poll of 742 votes while J. M. Spoonts, candidate for place No. 2, was given a total of 739 votes.

Oral Jones, one of the three members of the board whose terms expired, was given two complimentary votes in the Alamo school box. He was not a candidate.

Mr. Jones, Leon Deaton and Roy E. Carter, the three aldermen whose terms expired this year, completed their last meeting as city board members Monday night in the regular council meeting and the three new members will be installed in office Monday night, April 8.

The Alamo school box received the heaviest poll of the three boxes with a total of 397 votes, McCutchen getting a poll of 390 votes in the Alamo school box while 281 ballots were cast for Mr. Spoontts.

Harvey scored almost a 19 to 1 victory over McCormick in the Alamo box with a total of 374 votes to 20 ballots for his opponent.

McCormick polled his heaviest vote of the three boxes in the courthouse with 50 votes to 233 for Mr. Harvey. The total vote cast in the box was 286.

Light Vote

Mr. McCutchen received 281 votes in the courthouse box while 278 ballots were cast for Mr. Spoonts.

The South Side Baptist church box received the lightest poll of the three boxes with a total vote of 72.

Mr. Harvey received 51 ballots in this box to 21 for McCormick. Seventy-one votes were cast for McCutchen while 70 were cast for Spoonts.

The summarized results of the election are as follows:

	Courthouse	Alamo School	Baptist Church	Total
McCutchen, No. 1	281	390	71	742
Spoonts, No. 2	278	391	70	739
McCormick, No. 3	50	20	21	91
Harvey, No. 3	233	374	51	658

TATE AND MORROW LEAD AT DALLAS

DALLAS, April 2. (AP)—With returns complete from 18 precincts and partial returns from 23 others, it appeared certain tonight that J. Waddy Tate, self-styled "hot dog" candidate, and Temple Houston Morrow, would engage in a run-off election for mayor of Dallas. Tate had 7,064 votes and Morrow 5,233. Three other candidates had slightly over 3,000 votes between them.

'BIG BILL' WINS

CHICAGO, April 2. (US)—Mayor William Hale Thompson's forces made virtually a clean sweep of today's aldermanic election winning nine of 11 places. All of the reform organizations' candidates were defeated. The new council will comprise 27 Republicans and 23 Democrats although all were elected under the non-partisan law.

Dry Raid Slayer Ordered Held As Jury Finds Shooting 'Unnecessary'

GENEVA, Ill., April 2. (AP)—A coroner's jury today recommended that a deputy sheriff who shot and killed an Aurora woman during a liquor raid, be held to the Kane county grand jury for prosecution on a charge of manslaughter.

The jury reached its verdict after spending the day hearing witnesses tell of a raid on the night of March 25 on the home of Joseph De King of Aurora, during which De King was beaten into unconsciousness by Deputy Roy Smith, who also shot Mrs. Lillian de King. Gerald de King, 12 years old, then shot and wounded the deputy who had killed his mother.

The jury in its verdict found that Mrs. de King had come to her death from gunshot wounds inflicted by Roy Smith during a raid on the De King home. The shooting was termed unnecessary and the warrant on which the raid was made was called illegal by the coroner's jury which asked the grand jury to inquire into the warrant also.

Gerald, slim, fair haired and dressed in knickers, was the principal witness at the inquest. He told how he had shot and wounded Smith after watching the deputy club his father into insensibility and shoot and fatally wound his mother.

"I just picked up a revolver and shot him," said the boy without a quaver.

In one vital point the boy's testimony disputed that of the deputy. Smith, from his hospital cot in Elgin earlier in the day had told the jury Mrs. de King was pointing a pistol at him when he stumbled and shot her accidentally after the boy shot him.

Gerald said his mother was seated at a telephone calling for help when Smith fired at her and that he himself did not shoot until his mother had fallen. The boy followed his father on the stand and climbed into the witness chair after his father had whispered, "Don't let 'em fool you kid."

NEW BLUE SKY LAW PROPOSED

Secretary of State Continues Agitation

Special to The Record News

AUSTIN, April 2.—Another effort is to be made by the secretary of state's department to have enacted at the coming special session of the 41st legislature, a new blue sky law. The special session will be convened April 22, the governor stated.

The new law will be known as "the securities act" and will supersede the present blue sky law. It was drafted by John Martin, blue sky commissioner in the secretary of state's department and is patterned after the Pennsylvania law on the subject. The present law applies only to the sale of stock while the proposed measure takes in all classes of securities and makes the stock or bonds salesmen responsible to its provisions.

Oil stock and leases are also included in the new law. Its administration is placed in the secretary of state and the attorney general. The proposed act does not apply to a guardian's or conservator's sale nor to offering for sale or delivery in the ordinary course of business any security or pledge given in good faith as security of a debt.

All persons, firms or corporations desirous of taking advantage of the provisions of the act, are required to register in the secretary of state's department. Power is also vested in the secretary of state's department to revoke or suspend any person, firm or corporation believed to be operating in violation of the law.

This bill was passed finally in the senate at the recent regular session of the legislature, but was allowed to die on the calendar in the house for lack of time for consideration. The measure was sponsored in the senate by Senator E. A. Wirtz of Seguin and Walter Woodward of Coleman. The attorney general's department has approved the provisions of the measure.

(INS)—With the reading to the jury of a series of hectic love letters allegedly written to Helene Garnet Patton Inman by John Steele, well known vaudeville actor and singer, the sensational suit of Walker P. Inman to divorce his wife practically reached a close today. The letters had been introduced as evidence yesterday afternoon and today were read to the 12 men who will decide the marital battle.

Mrs. Inman sat with downcast eyes as the letters filled with terms of endearment and partly couched in poetic style were read.

The testimony of Lee Baldwin, for 10 years secretary and financial adviser to Inman, was to close the case of the Duke tobacco fortune heir this afternoon.

Charles Miller, former chauffeur for Mrs. Inman, was recalled to the stand today for cross examination. He was asked if he knew a man named Huston. Replying that he did, he was asked if he had told Huston that he had to watch Inman because the latter "got drunk." He denied making the statement, that he ever lived in Texas and that he had known a man named Maxwell of Fort Worth, Texas. On re-direct examination, Miller charged that Mrs. Inman had drunk frequently with Huston, who he said was employed on Inman's yacht.

Bones of Huge Mastodon Found in Sand Pits Near Frederick, Okla.

Special to The Record News

FREDERICK, Okla., April 2.—Remains of several additional species of extinct animals have recently been added to the collection found in the Andrew H. Holloman sand pits north of Frederick. Included in this list are fragments of a shell of a large land turtle which some of the scientists told Holloman probably weighed fully 1,000 pounds. Other fossils include the toe of a llama, bones of a musk ox, ground sloth and the antlers of a deer.

While excavating sand Saturday Holloman discovered a large fossil, the exposed portion being oval, some six inches in diameter. Although Holloman worked as carefully as possible, a portion of it broke off the end of the bone. A message was sent to Dr. C. N. Gould, Norman, Okla., state geologist, who had requested Holloman to notify him of any important discovery. Gould happened to be away but his secretary, J. O. Beach, and C. E. Decker, paleontologist professor, motored to Frederick Sunday.

En route to Frederick they stopped near Rush Springs and examined fossils of a mastodon which had been unearthed in a side road. Travel had damaged these remains to such an extent that they could not be preserved.

With the assistance of A. H. Krause, a friend of Dr. Gould's, Holloman removed the fossil from the sand pit. Not counting the part that had been broken off, it was found to be fully three feet in length. Kodak views were taken of the fossil before it was removed by Krause. After being taken to Holloman's office these fossils were badly shattered. Upon being seen by Dr. Decker they were pronounced by hi mto be the remains of a mastodon or elephant. What Holloman believes is a bone from the same animal was recently found a few feet from where he found this fossil but at about the same level.

Fourth Clarendon Man Is Hijacker's Victim

Special to The Record News

CLARENDON, Texas, April 2.—D. O. Stallings of this city was the fourth victim of a hi-jacker here within two weeks when he was struck down while returning home about 8:30 p. m. today. Stallings was only about 30 feet from his front steps when someone struck him from behind just as he turned to see who was coming behind him. He yelled and the man ran off without getting anything. Two women have had their purses snatched out of their hands and Robert Dillard, employe of the West Texas Utilities company, was knocked out in the office of the local plant here. Local citizens have had enough of this sort of thing and plan an organized means of defense and apprehension for such outbreaks against law abiding citizens.

What sets Pierce-Arrow apart

Body and Engine by Pierce-Arrow—and Pierce-Arrow in every part!

BRIEFLY, pride is what puts Pierce-Arrow first among fine motor cars. Pierce-Arrow owners are naturally people of pride. And pride has been a vital part of Pierce-Arrow manufacture from the beginning.

The new Straight Eight is in quite the loveliest Pierce-Arrow tradition. In a word, it has distinction—a quality born of pride—one that is peculiarly Pierce-Arrow.

When the newly expanded Pierce-Arrow organization undertook the creation of this new car, there was a single cardinal principle laid down. That principle was: "Preserve Pierce-Arrow fineness!"

The aim was a car that would combine slenderness and beauty with size and power—a car that would make bulk and stodginess forever unfashionable in the upper circles of motordom.

And how the resulting automobile—the new Pierce-Arrow Straight Eight arrived at the psychological moment and captured a fastidious field, is already a matter of fine car history.

Renew Your HEALTH By Purification

If the reading of this article teaches you only this one lesson about your own body it may be worth more than millions of dollars to you; for of what use is money without health, or after you are dead?

The lesson is this:—"Keep your system pure and you will have health and strength to gain and enjoy happiness, success and length of years."

But you may ask:—

How Can I Keep My System Pure?

That is not a hard question to answer, for physiology plainly teaches you that your liver, which is larger than all of the other glands of the body combined, has the special work of purifying your blood and thereby your entire system and of keeping it pure and healthy.

How Does the Liver Purify?

Physicians tell us that the liver has several functions, one of which is to manufacture a greenish-yellow, bitter fluid called bile, which, between meals, is stored up in the gall-bladder, but after each meal is poured out into the intestines. The bile is purgative and antiseptic or prophylactic. In health it is your bile that makes your bowels act regularly and freely every day—it is Nature's purgative. It is your bile that keeps your bowels pure, clean and free from fermentation (gas) putrefaction and decay. Remember that germs do not thrive where there is fresh bile and there can therefore be no fermentation to cause gas, nor putrefaction to produce poisons or toxines. Also, as bile is Nature's purgative, there can be no constipation if the bile is flowing naturally and freely from the gall-bladder into the bowels after each meal.

But when the bile becomes stagnant your bowels stop acting regularly and the contents become a breeding bed for the germs of fermentation (gas) decay and disease. These poisons, (called toxines) are gradually absorbed into your blood and circulate all over your body, poisoning, irritating or inflaming your brain and nerves, your muscles and joints, your heart, lungs, skin, kidneys, and every vital organ of your body. Your doctor calls this "intestinal toxaemia," and tells you that your system is "toxic."

Functions of Gall-Bladder

In 24 hours your liver secretes about 25 to 30 ounces (5 to 6 teacupfuls) of bile, which flows through millions of minute canals, or ducts, uniting to make a large tube which empties into the gall-bladder, as creeks and rivulets unite to form a river that flows into a lake. Your gall-bladder is a hollow muscle that serves the double purpose of a reservoir and a pump. Its functions are similar to those of the urinary bladder. About three hours after eating, when the food is passing from the stomach into the intestine, your gall-bladder should begin its peristaltic contractions, thus pumping the bile into the small intestine where it is mixed with your food. (Bile is also a very important digestive fluid, aiding in the digestion and absorption of fats and oils. But that is too long a story to relate here.)

Nature's Danger Signals

When your car gets out of order you can tell it. It is the same way with your bile. Nature gives you warning — not by words, but by signals or symptoms. Your doctor recognizes these danger signals and you should also know them and instantly heed them. It may save you much pain, serious illness and perhaps big repair bills.

When the bile becomes stagnant in your gall-bladder and is dammed back into your liver instead of flowing freely into your bowels you, sooner or later, begin to feel some of the following symptoms:—Your breath may become unpleasant, your tongue coated, a bad taste in your mouth, your food (and tobacco) loose their natural flavor, your food does not agree with you; you may have heartburn, gas or fluttering around the heart, dizziness or blind spell; you may be troubled with belching or frequent passages of gas from the bowels: the gas "balloons" your bowels and presses so hard on the kidneys that it gives you pain, soreness, stiffness in the small of your back over your kidneys, making you think you have kidney trouble; at night the gas in your bowels presses upon your bladder making you get up frequently, thus breaking into your sleep. In the morning you are tired instead of refreshed. Gradually your health is injured. Your complexion becomes sallow, muddy or yellow — your skin may be disfigured with liver spots or pimples; dark rings may appear under your eyes, you may become sleepless, restless and irritable or blue and melancholic. You may have frequent colds or dull headache; your bowels stop their free, full and natural action; you have constipation, gas, putrefaction and self-poisoning or "intestinal toxaemia," as the doctors call it. High blood pressure, with headache and swooning spells, may result from continued neglect.

How to Make the Bile Flow

But when the bile stops flowing freely, how can we start it up again? The answer is: Take Calotabs at bedtime and drink water freely the next day. This formula represents the best thought and experience of the best physicians. No other purgative will do. If you take oils, salts, cascara, or the many other simple-laxative syrups, powders and candy laxatives you are merely wasting valuable time. They only make you feel better for a day or two. They do not remove the cause, for they do not promote the expulsion of the bile which is Nature's purgative and intestinal antiseptic. When you take Calotabs you know that you have taken a real doctor's medicine. It cleans you out thoroughly. Every inch of your twenty-five foot canal, including your stomach, small intestine and large intestine, is thoroughly cleared and washed clean and pure and your bile is flowing freely. Next morning your system feels purified and refreshed and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please and go about your work;—there is no danger, for Calotabs are perfectly safe and create no habit, except the habit of healthy bowel actions.

What Are Calotabs—How Do They Act?

Calotabs are sugar coated tablets, containing the minimum effective dose of a thoroughly purified and refined calomel combined with assistants and correctives. The calomel facilitates the expulsion of the bile from the gall-bladder into the intestines and also serves as a mild intestinal antiseptic. Every physician knows that no other medicine can take its place; there is no such thing as a substitute for calomel. The assistants act like salts, washing the calomel out of the system and preventing its accumulation and any possibility of danger. The correctives settle the stomach and bowels, preventing nausea, sickening and griping effects. Calotabs, (and water) therefore, give you the combined effects of calomel and salts in a perfectly safe and delightful form.

The medicine chest of every home should be supplied with Calotabs, one of the most important of all family medicines. It is needed in many cases of sickness, and, if used occasionally as needed, may assist Nature to correct conditions which, if neglected, may lead to serious illness.

Avoid disappointment by refusing imitations. Your druggist can supply you with genuine Calotabs or will order them for you. For your protection, Calotabs are marketed in original packages only, bearing the copyrighted trademark. Family package, containing full directions, only 35 cents.

NURSE QUIZZED ABOUT DEATH

Autopsy Ordered After Pierson Inquest

PALM BEACH, Fla., April 2. (AP)—A. Romeyne Pierson Jr., of Palm Beach, and Glenn Ridge, N. J., was found dead in a room in his estate "Manlatan," near Boynton Beach today.

An autopsy was ordered after an inquest, held in the Pierson home, at which a nurse who reported finding the body testified. Authorities said they were not satisfied with her testimony.

Authorities said the nurse testified that Pierson had been under the influence of liquor late last night, and had fallen on the floor of his room. She said she and Mrs. Pierson attempted to carry him to a bed, but were unsuccessful, and that Mrs. Pierson put a pillow under his head and told her to "let him lay there until he sleeps it off."

WASHINGTON, April 2. (US)—Secretary of State Stimson's pet parrot which he left in the Philipines is suffering from melancholia.

The bird, magnificent in its resplendent red, blue and gold plumage has long borne the name of "The Old Soak."

Since Secretary Stimson left the island, "The Old Soak" has refused to talk and sulks in his cage. As a result the secretary proposes to send for the parrot. It is a Macaw of unusual accomplishments since it speaks Chinese fluently and refuses to learn English, except for a few snappy phrases.

Weary Fliers Reach Town Afoot After Hardships in Savage Land

BOGOTA, Colombia, April 2. (AP)—Two weary aviators for whom all hope had been abandoned turned up at Tumaco, southernmost port of Colombia, last night after a two days' voyage in a small boat along the coasts of Ecuador and Colombia.

The Uruguayan fliers Cesario Berisso and Maj. Rogelio Otero, who had been missing since their departure from Payta, Peru, Sunday, said that they had been forced down on a river in northern Ecuador when the motor of their airplane caught fire. Their mechanic was seriously injured and the plane destroyed.

The part of Ecuador in which they landed is wild and savage, and the aviators had much difficulty in making their way down river to the coast. They reached Humaco after two days' of perilous navigation.

Effect of Sex Questions Depends Upon Character of Sponsors, He Says

GALVESTON, April 2. (AP)—More light on the sex questionnaire of the University of Missouri was shed here today by Dr. Howard E. Jensen, professor of sociology of the university. Three men recently gave up their places after an investigation of the questionnaire. Dr. Jensen attributed the probe to "yellow journalism" publicity.

"The questionnaire can only be judged fairly in the light of the nobility of character and sincerity of motive of the men who sponsored it," Dr. Jensen said. "It lends itself readily to sensational journalism and furnished ready capital to elements hostile to the university. What has happened in the case of the sex questionnaire will not curtail honest research. However, we shall not use any more questionnaires."

HOOVER WANTS TO VISIT HOME

President Hopes to Go to California

WASHINGTON, April 2. (UP)—President Hoover is looking forward to a few weeks in California before the regular session of congress convenes next December.

If the special session finishes its business early in the summer, the president would like to go to his Palo Alto home for four or five weeks in August or September. He would take advantage of this opportunity to be away from the White House executive offices during the extensive alterations which are planned to make room for the augmented staff.

Heretofore there always has been an unwritten law about the capitol which has kept the president from venturing too far from the White House. This argument carries little weight with President Hoover. He regards the trip lightly. Even should an emergency arise which demanded his presence in Washington immediately, he has suggested to friends, he could return in 20 hours by airplane.

Mitchell's Action Praised by Fish

WASHINGTON, April 2. (INS)—Rep. Hamilton Fish, Republican, of New York today issued a statement condemning Senator Glass, Democrat, of Virginia, for his attack on Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National City bank of New York, after Mitchell placed $25,000,000 into the call loan market to check the stock market decline.

Fish asserted that Glass' statement "is not warranted by the facts."

"The spontaneous action of Mr. Mitchell helped to save the market from a panic which would have seriously affected business generally and might have impaired the credit of the federal reserve system," said Fish.

Mrs. John M. Fox Elected Head Of Reagan School P.-T. A. Monday

Mrs. John M. Fox was elected president of the Reagan Junior High school P.-T. A. Tuesday afternoon in the annual election of officers held at the school. Other officers chosen included the following:

Mrs. E. W. Napier, vice president and program chairman; Mrs. Floyd Allan Bash, finance chairman; Miss Jean Paden, recording secretary; Mrs. J. A. Lamance, treasurer.

Pastor Gives Talk

The devotional exercise was led by the Rev. Patrick Henry, pastor of Highland Heights Christian church, who spoke on "Leadership, the Example of Christ." He discussed the theme along the line of what has a child a right to expect from parents; how can a mother or teacher expect to gain the confidence and love of her children if she constantly loses her presence of mind and temper before them; and honesty.

Miss Elsie Savage, recording secretary, gave her report; Mrs. R. L. Underwood, the treasurer's report, and Mrs. J. B. Hubbard gave the membership report. Reagan P.-T. A. now has 158 members.

It was voted that the association would finance the student representatives to the Latin tournament to take place in Sherman April 12 to 14.

A round table discussion was held in which the Reagan delegates to the recent 13th district P.-T. A. convention held at Vernon took part. Mrs. Paul Barnett, president, gave a resume of the convention, and Mrs. John M. Fox, publicity chairman, gave a complete report of the transactions during the convention and excerpts from the addresses.

Scrapbook Displayed

The Reagan publicity scrapbook, which was one of three winning 100 per cent honor in the convention at Vernon, was displayed at the meeting. The other two books with the Reagan book were from the Austin and Sam Houston schools. These books are to be sent to Austin for judging by the state publicity committee. One book is to be selected from the district and it is to be forwarded to Washington, D. C., to compete for the national honor.

Preening Along Peacock Alley

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

Miman comes into his own today. Milady long has dominated the fashion spotlight. But it doth please the male of the species to array himself in habiliments of fashion and color.

So the worm (we men) has turned. And Miman will strut his stuff today.

The occasion is to be a masculine style show and it is to feature the hostess day luncheon at the Woman's Forum. Prominent business and professional men about town will show what the well-dressed man will wear. Other prominent and professional men about town will be guests of their wives and mothers and sweethearts at the luncheon, in order that they may observe, and observing, turn thoughts from sordid business problems to contemplation of sartorial splendors.

Verily, we are to be reformed—if the Woman's Forum has its way.

Art for art's sake.

Jerome Bernstein is to have a prominent part in the presentation and it is rumored that a committee of husbands has been appointed to present Mr. Bernstein with a big, choice bouquet of raspberries. (Editor's note—Mr. Bernstein is manager of the Orchid Shop exclusive ladies apparel.)

Among other noted figures whose figures will be models for Miman's attire, include:

Bill McKamie, manager of an ice company. The way that man wears clothes would make you turn cold with envy.

Joe Hatchitt, lawyer. He consented to appear on the condition that Al Smith and Jimmy Walker be portrayed and that "The Sidewalks of New York" be softly played with the lights turned low. (Editor's note—It is rumored that Mr. Hatchitt will portray a man in mourning as he never has recovered from Texas going G. O. P.)

Ben G. Oneal, another exponent of Blackstone. The big fish and game man, president of the local Ike Walton chapter. He probably will show what the sportsman should wear, and will carry a gun to shoot the first man who laughs at him.

Bruce Greenwood, still another of those gentlmen who gets paid for arguing. The Bugs Baer of the legal profession. Jurors laugh it off for his clients.

Jimmie Allred—himself—in person. Dapper Jimmie. Former district attorney and candidate for attorney general. One of the few men who is an ex-office holder and not a hasbeen. He'll be a wow as a model.

J. M. Gilliam, KGKO manager. Probably will show what the swimmer will wear. Wave lengths—

L. D. Beidleg, realtor. "Now this rain is SO unusual for this climate and this view is unsurpassed." Rumored he is to impersonate Hoover in today's show. Still believes in Santa Claus after Hoover's election.

Well, there you are. I wouldn't miss it for words.

You MUST come over.

Read this colyum tomorrow for a round by round description of the great masculine style show of Wichita Falls.

Business Women Give Dance at Camp Noble

Camp Noble Monday evening was the scene of the most elaborate and successful party given there this year, when Misses Glenna Miller, Lena Dirzpath and Mrs. Rose Tickell sponsored a dance for the Business and Professional Women's club. Mrs. Mary Crane assisted as hostess.

The hall was decorated beautifully in green and gold and that motif was carried out through the evening's program. In the center of the hall was a very large, elaborately trimmed hat box and guesses were made as to its contents. When it was finally untied, little Miss Billy Ruth climbed out and carried a huge bouquet of sweet peas, tied with gold ribbon, to Kirk Schwing, who had guessed the contents of the box to be a little girl. The dainty little miss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Ruth, then did a solo dance.

Walter Penny sang several numbers. The music for the dance was by Gordon Shay's orchestra, the dance lasted until about 1 o'clock Tuesday morning.

A second contest was won by Miss Opal Balleau, who was presented with a large cake, decorated in green and gold. About 175 guests were present.

Oh, These Women

By LEOLA ALLARD

NEW YORK, April 2. (US)—Woman in beauty parlor insisting that girl who is dyeing her hair shut door each time she goes out for more henna, so no one will see her dyeing.

Somehow she had the idea that when she was thoroughly dyed, no one would know.

Dyed from the ears up.

The girls are wearing bouquets where they used to wear them years ago—right over the place where the heart should be.

Speaking of bouquets. Woman at theater the other night in third row wearing a shoulder full of tumbling orchids, eight in all. She didn't have much else on, but you wouldn't have seen it anyway because of the orchids.

In front of her a woman with a row of Gardenias trailing from the shoulder to the waist line, back and front. Not just a whiff of Gardenia, just a faint lovely odor, but an atmosphere that requires candles and a quartet singing "Lead Kindly Light."

A Gardenia is a Gardenia, but a flock of Gardenias like that one is a pain in the heart.

A divorce granted 30 years ago was not made final until a few days ago when the judge who granted it remembered that he forgot to sign the papers, making one Californian a free man.

And that happened in Los Angeles where people take airplanes to Mexico to get divorced, and then marry before they fly back. That's the lovely thing about that Los Angeles, it has everything.

Judge Joseph Sabbath, who has heard 50,000 divorce cases, celebrated his 59th birthday in Chicago and says he is a cheerful, happy man. A man who is happily married, and has listened to 50,000 others who aren't, ought to be a little bit glad of his luck.

In Russia a couple married 15 minutes, got a divorce after quarreling about where they should live. So Russia claims a record.

Pardon us. In Chicago a couple got married in the judge's chambers, and when they got outside the girl said she never saw such an indifferent bridegroom, so he retorted, "Well, go and find a better one," and left her at the courthouse door. Six minutes.

But remember the jewelers are still making presents for golden wedding anniversaries, for the people who keep their small troubles to themselves.

WE WOMEN by Betty Brainerd

MINERVA'S MIRROR

PEOPLE who see and will admit their own shortcomings should not carry on because others have similar shortcomings. The trouble with most of us is that, knowing we are imperfect ourselves, we expect and insist upon perfection in others.

None of the surgeons who make a specialty of lifting faces could do anything to improve the inner beauty of a woman who is double-faced.

Things have come to such a pass nowadays that that lucky woman who wears real pearls is suspected of wearing imitations of imitation pearls.

A sailor who has a sweetheart in every port usually goes back to his ship "all wet."

The ultra-cautious woman is one who, having had her hair bobbed, saves it for the day when "switches" will be popular again.

The only important difference between a laughing hyena and a jackass is that a jackass has longer ears.

Among other things, a woman who tries to prove that black is white is color blind.

"The sins of the fathers are visited upon their children" . . . as if the children were incapable of committing enough of their own!

Love is life. Life leads inevitably to death . . . and you can draw your own conclusions!

An optimist is a man who thinks all other men are optimists.

Betty Brainerd will be glad to help her readers with their problems. Send a self-addressed stamped envelope to her in care of this paper.

Women in the 'Thrilling Thirties' Prove Most Alluring to Men

The Famed Sirens of the Ages Probably Perfected Their Technique in the Thrilling Thirties; For at No Other Times Is a Woman So Fascinating to Every Man Below Sixty.

At what age is a woman most attractive to men? In the recent trial for murder of a young man who had killed the husband of the woman with whom he was in love, the lawyer for the defense said: "When this affair began this boy was only 22 while the woman was much older, and history shows that a man of 22 is but clay in the hands of a woman in her 30s."

I think this true, and that at no other time in her whole life is a woman so alluring to men as she is in her 30s, and especially is this the case if she has any mentality.

To begin with, she is generally then at the height of her beauty. She is the full-blown rose, not the immature bud. The angles of girlhood have softened into the curves of womanhood. She has acquired poise and no longer jumps about like a monkey on a stick or is awkward and gawky. She has learned how to dress, how to play up her charms. Her artifices have become art.

She has developed a technique in handling men. The young girl is a bungling amateur whose methods are raw. She treats men with brutal frankness and tramples ruthlessly over their vanities. She is full of egotism and expects men to devote their time and money to entertaining and amusing her. She expects men to flatter and cajole her and tell her how wonderful she is and that her eyes are like violets washed in dew and so on.

The woman in her 30s has generally had a husband and, like Mr. Kipling's hero, she has learned about men from him. Therefore, she does not use the crude tactics the girl employs when she desires to attract a man. She does not mount a pedestal and beat upon the cymbals and ballyhood her own charms and graces. On the contrary, she turns the spotlight full upon the man and sings a song of praise in his honor about how big and brave and strong he is, and no man ever wearies of listening to the saga of his achievements.

She knows how to rub a man's fur the right way until he purrs under her hand like a tame cat. She possesses the subtlety that can suggest things so insidiously to a man that he thinks it was his own idea to present her with a diamond bracelet and spend money upon her that he cannot afford. She knows how to camouflage her treachery to her husband under a piteous story of being married to a man who doesn't understand her and who cannot give her the love she craves. Above all, she knows how to play upon a man's passions as upon a harp with a thousand strings.

The woman in her 30s is fascinating to all men, but she is peculiarly fatal to boys because she is more sophisticated than the girls of their own age and it flatters them to death that they are able to charm a woman of the world. In addition she is more amusing and entertaining and easier to get along with than a young girl. Few flappers have any conversation. They merely exclaim and shriek and giggle and when they have exhausted their supply of adjectives and there is nothing to have hysterics over they are dumb.

The woman of 30 knows how to skate skillfully around those places where the conversational ice is thin and a boy gets sunk in the icy waters of silence. That is another reason why any woman in her 30s who wants to bother with them can have a trail of cake-eaters following her.

The real reason why widows can marry all around young girls is because they are generally women in their 30s; women who are at their best physically and mentally; women who know life and men; women who have added the wiles of the serpent to the cooing of the dove and who in handling men possess a fineness that it takes knowledge and experience to acquire and that no girl will have until she also is in her 30s.

However, the age at which a woman is most attractive to a man depends also upon a man's age, and if the woman in her 30s is most attractive to boys in their 20s and to middle-aged men, it is the debutantes who make an irresistible appeal to men in their 60s and 70s.

Indeed, it may be said that the older a man gets the younger he likes them, as is amply proven by the number of aged millionaires who marry flappers young enough to be their granddaughters.

There is something pathetic in it as well, for it is a clutching at the gayety, the enthusiasm, the high spirits, the laugher that the old man has lost and that he somehow believes he can get back again in a young wife. He thinks he can warm his palsied old hands at the fires of youth. He thinks that the touch of young lips on his cheek will stir the sluggish blood in his veins, and so the only women who attract him are those who have what he has lost, extreme youth.

No one will deny the charm of a young girl, but it is in her 30s that a woman is really most attractive, and that is why so many women who know their birthdays never get over 33. Why, I know women who have been 33 for the last 20 years!

Quick Success

Few girls in pictures have made such rapid strides toward success as this charming New Yorker. Just a few months ago she was given her first job, shadowing a star. Within three hours, she had a real part in the picture—"The Loves of Sunya."

Miss Bayard says: "I am told my selection was largely due to my perfect skin and lovely hair. I've really never taken much trouble with either. For my hair I use the simple method that most of the girls I know here in New York are so enthusiastic about. It's so easy. All you do is put a little Danderine on your brush each time you use it.

"This method is just what a busy girl needs. It's so easy; and it keeps your hair and scalp so clean you don't need to shampoo half so often. I am letting my hair grow and I find Danderine helps make it soft and easily manageable. I can arrange it any way I want and it stays that way. All my friends are complimenting me on the appearance of my hair, nowadays because Danderine has brought out all its natural color and made it so soft and lustrous."

Danderine removes the oily film from each strand and makes dull, stringy hair gleamy, soft, easy to dress. It tones and refreshes the scalp; helps overcome dandruff. It is delicately fragranced; isn't sticky or oily; doesn't show. All drug stores have the generous 35c bottles.—Adv.

NEW OFFICIALS NAMED IN TEXAS-OKLAHOMA ELECTIONS

MUNICIPALITIES MAKE CHANGES

Mangum Reelected For 17th Term

The ups and downs of political life in Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma trekked into the spotlight Tuesday, when Wichita Falls joined its neighboring cities and towns in a march to the polls in the regular city elections.

The results of this widespread voting resulted in nothing that could be described as spectacular.

Probably one of the most interesting phases of the city elections in this vicinity was the re-election for the 17th time of Dr. G. F. Borden as mayor of Mangum, Okla. Altus, Okla., likewise held an exciting election. In both these places the heaviest vote in years was reported. Oklahoma towns held their regular city elections in the wake of the primaries held about one month ago.

Nothing out of the ordinary was reported from remaining Texas towns in this vicinity, most of the city heads and officials being re-elected, or those winning over the incumbents doing so at no great risk.

MANGUM REELECTS MAYOR FOR SEVENTEENTH TIME
Special to The Record News

MANGUM, Okla., April 2.—Mangum honored its mayor, Dr. G. F. Borden, with reelection for the seventeenth time today, in a city election which was marked by the second effort of a candidate to oppose the veteran city official since first he entered politics here. He was opposed this year by W. F. Hearne.

Dr. Borden's victory was clearly apparent late tonight, although the total vote had not been announced pending last minute counting of belated ballots.

The contest was heated, the election being marked by heavy casting of ballots. The novelty of the election was opposition to Dr. Borden, the first he has experienced in six years.

J. C. Nelson was elected police commissioner, and I. W. Cunningham was elected commissioner of finance.

ALTUS ELECTS HICKMAN FOR SEVENTH TIME
Special to The Record News

ALTUS, Okla., April 2—The Democrats of Altus marched with certainty to victory in the city election today, boosting their candidate for mayor, S. E. Hickman, into his seventh term of office by defeating Dr. Raymond Fox, Republican, decisively. Hickman came out of the fray with 878 votes. Fox received 741.

The race for mayor was the high spot in the election, receiving even more attention in the regular balloting than in the primary held here about a month ago. There were 1,619 votes cast.

So enthused were the Democrats, in fact, that not a Republican was ushered into office by the voters.

Miss Jessie McKinley, Democrat, defeated W. L. Little, her Republican opponent for city clerk, polling 1,344 votes to his 163. Luther Smith, with 1,172 votes, defeated Willie Dobbs, Republican, 328 votes, for city treasurer. And C. E. Branch, who polled 1,272 votes, beat R. C. Ballard, his elephantine opponent, for street commissioner in the grand manner. Ballard received 189 votes.

John Ford, the Democrats held, is to be Altus' city mashal during the coming year. He received 1,333 votes to 205 received by his Republican opponent, John Salwaechter.

Grover Fuqua was elected councilman for ward one over Ralph Morgan, the vote running 335 to 132. J. D. Durham, with 435 votes, defeated Clyde M. Gregory, with 86 votes, for councilman from ward two. Bourley Clanton, 232 votes, defeated Harry E. Stoner, 42 votes, for councilman from ward three. And Oren Vorhies, with 165 votes, defeated Frank Bradley, 45 votes, for the position of councilman from ward four.

Miss Rhoda Bell George, with 1,242 votes, was unopposed for re-election as treasurer of the city school board.

Wichita Woman Wins Freedom When She Tells of Hubby's Four Other Wives

The story of a man who married five times without troubling with the formality of a divorce between weddings was told by bride No. 3 in the course of annulment proceedings before Judge P. A. Martin Tuesday afternoon.

The young petitioner told the court that her husband had two living, undivorced wives at the time of his marriage to her, and that since that wedding he has taken two more brides.

"He left me six months after the wedding," she said, "and I first learned of the other wives when I was asked to testify in an annulment proceeding for the second one of them. Since then I've found out about them all one by one."

The plaintiff said she did not know the whereabouts of the man but that she understood he was being held on bigamy charges in another state.

THE SIAMESE TRIPLETS

Daily Editorial

AGRICULTURE is not entering upon evil days, but emerging from them.

There's scarce a century between the scythe and the combine, the flail and the thresher, the pointed stick and the chilled plow.

Pigs and cows and bees have just started to go to college. Soil analysis, selective seeds, blight prevention and pest fighting are newborn babes.

And please note that Mrs. Cyrus McCormick, widow of the harvester's inventor, died so recently that taxes on her estate weren't settled until 1925.

Alfalfa hadn't reached the dictionary, much less the range, when Cleveland left the White House. And paved rural roads waited upon the automobile.

The last quarter century introduced agriculture to more improvements, more exactness, and more living comforts than the whole procession of deceased ages.

American soil has barely opened its eyes upon possibility and dares not yet believe what marvels and wonderments intensification will bring from its Protean fertilities.

EVERYTHING up to now has been done mainly by hit and miss, or guess and fumble.

Then suddenly, innovation, after snubbing him for aeons, descends upon the farmer, requiring the complete revision of tools and rules, pressing upon his bewildered brain facts and formulas and efficiencies—time-savers and waste-checkers, such as trade and industry took hundreds of years to absorb and digest into their systems.

Budget, balance sheet and depreciation—silage, nitrogening and dairy testing—the animalization of grain—the forced maturing of meat and the evolution of super milk and egg strains weren't written on the farthest horizon of past imagination.

Agriculture on the decline? Ananias statistics and pessimism never conspired upon a more mischievous lie?

Everything the world begins to lack, grows and lies or browses upon local soils.

Professor Experience is simplifying distribution; engineers are devising the fine batch of robots to substitute for man power.

Scientists are cross-examining stalks and husks and tankage, putting 'em through test-tube quizzes to glean further values for packers and manufacturers, dairymen, paper mills and sugar bowls.

They're snatching fertilizers out of the air, and compounding ripening gases for tardy fruits and vegetables.

They're educating refuse-heaps to become future bank accounts.

The universe, trapped between vanishing food areas and spreading consumption centers, desperately calls upon intelligence everywhere to keep supply in stride with demand.

Commerce and finance are, willy-nilly, compelled to help out. Their own fortunes are inextricably tangled in rural problems. The three estates share a common interest and must pull in the same shafts as peers and team-mates.

They're economic Siamese triplets—one can't sicken without weakening the rest.

Bread box, money box and shoe box are inter-dependent—so are triphammer and locomotive and milking stool. Panic and prosperity alike prove it.

DAVID BRANCH'S DAILY FILOSOFY

"He who rightly divides his day into work, rest, study and play, adds years to his life and happiness to his soul."

All work and no play truly makes Jack a dull boy, and all play and no work makes Jack a parasite. Study to show thyself approved in your work and play, remembering that sufficient rest is essential to proper vitality and clear thinking.

The Brooklyn churchman who told his congregation that nervousness is normal must have been watching the man who finds he has come to church without breaking that $5 bill.

Etiquette note: The young man asking a father for his daughter's hand has to be prepared to answer the question of whether or not he can furnish alimony sufficient to support the girl in the style to which she has been accustomed.

Our Everyday Marvels

THE HUMAN RACE loves marvels. It will go a long way to find something that will make its eyes pop out; and, having found it, it will insist on making its discovery seem as mysterious and awe-inspiring as possible.

Thus, every so often, someone turns up with a plan for going to Mars.

A Florida gentleman was going to travel by rocket. He had his machine all constructed, and even set a date; then, somehow, the whole project was forgotten, and a waiting world was deprived of a chance to gape.

Now a youthful high school professor in Indiana wants to try it. He has designed a machine which will get its power from the "ether waves"; and the designer is confident that it will make the trip in not more than 10 minutes.

We like to read about these things. To be sure, not one man in fifty thousand doubts for a moment that all such projects must inevitably come to grief; yet the whole idea is a marvel, and there always remains the lurking hope that in some mysterious manner someone will be able to defy space and time and go sailing away through the heavens, offf on a journey that would make Magellan's great cruise look like a trip to the corner delicatessen.

We love marvels. The man who is going to fly to Mars can always be sure of a sympathetic audience, even if he does have difficulty getting people to take him seriously.

But why must our marvels be so spectacular? Our ordinary daily life is full of wonders and mysteries, if we have eyes for them. Some of them make a trip to Mars look insignificant. Why can't we see them?

Consider the daily life of the ordinary man. He gets up in the morning, eats a breakfast the items of which came to his table from such diverse places as Brazil, Iowa, California and North Dakota. He goes to his work in a street car, carried along by a force that no man on earth really understands. At his work he gets mail that was whisked across the continent to him by airplane, talks over the telephone to a man 25 miles away, and, perhaps, directs the operation of a machine that does in an hour what used to take a score of men a day to do.

In the evening he again is taken home by the mystery of electricity, reading in a newspaper an accurate account of everything of note that has happened anywhere on earth during the past 24 hours. In the paper he sees a photograph that was sent by telegraph 2,000 miles; he reads a dispatch that was radioed across the Pacific; the print that conveys the message was made by one of the most marvelous machines ever invented, the linotype.

At his home, he goes to a radio and turns a dial, taking his choice of entertainment that comes to him through the empty air from any place in the nation he chooses. Then, perhaps, he steps out to a theater and sees a play acted by phantoms—a movie, as he calls it. He goes home through streets lighted by the same mystery that propelled his street car that morning, riding in an automobile driven by the combustion of a liquid that lay in the earth for millions of years before its use was discovered.

A trip to Mars? We run into things more marvelous than that every waking hour of our lives.

Murder Parked Four Days

THE AVERAGE AMERICAN, it is to be suspected, minds his own business pretty well, after all. In a Detroit residential district an automobile was left parked at a curb four days. No one went near it, no one examined it. Its presence was highly unusual, of course, but the people living nearby didn't give it a thought.

Finally a policeman investigated. Looking inside the car, he found the lifeless body of a woman. Investigation showed that she had been murdered, and that the murderer had disposed of her body by the simple expedient of leaving it in the car and abandoning the car.

It is surprising to learn that that auto, with its ghastly freight, could have stayed at a curb for four days unnoticed. But the American city dweller has a way of minding his own business. He doesn't get nosey when something a little out of the way happens in his neighborhood.

Presidential Handshaking

WASHINGTON dispatches say that President Hoover soon will have to decide whether or not to continue the presidential custom of spending from 30 minutes to an hour every day in shaking hands with tourists who troop to the White House.

This custom is a gracious thing, in a way, suited to a democracy. The poorest man in the country can shake the hand of the president, provided he can get to Washington.

Yet, all in all, it is a very foolish custom. The president is a very busy man and needs every bit of energy he has. He should not be obliged to shake the hands of 500 or more strangers every day of his life.

We won't quarrel with the president if he decides to discontinue the practice.

Financier Ford

HENRY FORD amazed an interviewer in Florida by replying, when asked what he thought about the heavy speculation in the Wall street market:

"I don't know a thing about it. I never looked at a stock quotation in my life."

This rather unexpected answer ought to be broadcast all over the land. It might serve to impress on us the fact that the real development of the country does not take place in Wall street, and that the wheels of industry can move quite independently of that whirlpool of speculation. Henry Ford doesn't know a thing about stock prices, bull movements and all the rest; and if he can afford to turn his back on such things, a good many of the rest of us can do likewise.

EXPERT ADVICE FOR LOUISIANA

We never know until the day's news is out, just who is impeached next, and we see by this morning's papers that our friend Charles Moon has gone to Louisiana to give those boys down there the benefit of his experience in impeaching governors.

Moon was a member of the Oklahoma house board of managers, and a bloomin' smart one, too. If that bunch of boys are really serious in Louisiana and will listen to Moon, we wouldn't give Governor Long two-bits for his job.

The Day Book of a New Yorker

Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, April 2—They tell how Benny Leonard, retired lightweight boxing champion of the world, came to change his name from Eddie. One day he ran across Eddie Leonard, the noted minstrel, who said:

"You ought to change your name, young fellow. Somebody will be getting mixed up."

"Well, I see nothing so terrible about that," replied the young fighter with indignation.

"You don't," responded the minstrel. "Well, you wait until somebody insists on you singing 'Ida' and doing a dance and then—"

"All right! All right! I'll change my name, if that's the way it is."

And so Eddie Leonard became Benny Leonard.

Although it is a well known fact that Broadway is flooded with a superfluity of legitimate theaters, the movie house magnates have felt reasonably safe. No matter how many new and big movie palaces go up, there seems to be ready audiences to fill them.

But recently there has been a change for the worse. It is reliably reported that if Warner Brothers erects a new theater and that Fox puts up its 52-story building and theater and Paramount erects another there will be plenty of empty seats day and night in the movie houses. Zit's theatrical newspaper, an authority on such matters, states emphatically that another fifteen or twenty thousand seats on Broadway would wreck every house in the street. It is difficult to believe, however, when you try to get into a movie house at night and find yourself a part of a huge line that forms for hours. In fact, the demand for seats in movie palaces is one reason for the innovation of the morning and midnight shows.

The question is, was New York without a mayor a few days ago? It seems that Mayor Walker had to go to Albany on official business. In his absence Aldermanic President McKee was supposed to act as mayor. But McKee was in Florida. The next in line, according to law, would be the vice chairman of the board, who happens to be Charles A. McManus. McManus was ill.

Therefore, the city was without a mayor and if conditions were the same as in the old days it would have been appropriate for some obscure but ambitious fellow to step into the city hall, hang up his hat and proclaim, "I am the mayor."

Well, in a sense that is exactly what one individual did. Frank A. Cunningham is an alderman from Brooklyn. When he came into the city hall there was clamor and confusion. Nobody seemed to be clear as to who should be mayor, so Mr. Cunningham simply took possession of the mayor's desk and enjoyed his brief moment of triumph and fame.

In this connection I am unable to share in the enthusiasm over the general practice of Boy's day which involves the habit of installing boys as "mayors," "district attorneys," and such for a day. The idea, as I understand it, is to inculcate into the boys an understanding of and reverence for his city's official life and to stimulate him in civic endeavor and pride.

Right here in New York I've seen boys installed in "official" positions and it always seemed quite silly. They hampered officials and, according to a later check up, went away with a premature sense of their own importance. It's a lot of fun, perhaps, but a good many of us used to prefer playing cowboy and Indian. And so far as I know, none of us grew up to be cowboys or Indians, nor did we achieve any particular reverence or admiration for them in later life. It's all right to play being mayor, too, but when we played cowboy and Indian we didn't get to go out to the Arizona plains and Indian reservations to do it.

Under Columbus circle is being constructed the largest subway station in the world. Above it pass the city's millions and few of them know that anything is happening below the ground. There is a quarter-mile of expanse under the circle. The whole station is built on a mammoth scale. The track space is wider than the Interborough's to accommodate wider cars. The platforms are wider and there is an extra platform between the two express tracks which can be opened or closed. There are, in fact, two surfaces below the surface of the ground. New York continues to dig down, deep into the earth, even while it rises to the skies.

Big Crowds Attending Maskat Bridge Tourney

The tournament will be completed Wednesday night, both men and women being invited to enter, it was announced.

Hughes to Give Talk At Lions Luncheon

The inequalities said to exist at present between the educational opportunities offered in urban and rural districts will be discussed by Prof. Hughes, it was said.

The speaker will be introduced by Burl Bryant, county superintendent of schools.

Strong Demand Here For Good Rent Houses

The greatest demand for desirable rent property experienced by real estate agencies in this city in several years has developed within the last two weeks, according to information given by different dealers Tuesday.

Practically all offices handling residence property have received numerous calls from prospective tenants, it was stated. Many of the inquiries were said to have specified six and seven-room brick veneer houses in desirable locations. Houses of all sizes and with a wide rental price range are being sought, it was said.

PHILLIPS

More system and efficiency, however, mark his preparations. He will leave as little as possible to chance. Mr. Coolidge used to hold himself open to invitations and suggestions, and never knew where he would angle from one season to another, but Mr. Hoover, a big business man and an engineer, goes about it in a businesslike way.

Herbert has been in office less than a month, but already he has picked his streams, mapped out his fishing country, had blueprints made of the deep holes and had the habits of all fish in that section catalogued by card index.

Essentially an engineer, he will probably layout each and every detail of his fishing expedition as minutely as he would lay out plans for a summer's work on a new suspension bridge. He probably has it all figured out how many fish he will need during the second quarter, where they will be at a specific date, and how much time it will take to catch them.

Probably Mr. Hoover has a fish secretary whose duty it is to prepare and keep the fish files. Suppose on a warm May day he wants to catch a speckled trout weighing exactly two pounds and a quarter.

"Miss Finch," he says, "give me a report on two and a quarter pound trout."

Miss Finch goes promptly to the steel cabinet, looks under "Tal to Tuv" and finds:

Trout (speckled; 2¼ pounds): Brook No. 7-K, section E-43; available May 4 to June 26; walk 35 yards, 2 feet, 9 inches from spot marked by white oak No. 657, north to bushes No. 45, series HK, and cast 22 feet 8 inches.

He presses a button and immediately a subordinate appears with his rod and reel. Another button turns on certain lights in a department presided over by the clerk of baits and lures. If the pink lights go on it means that Mr. Hoover desires dry flies. If the green lights flash it means wet flies. Red lights mean worms.

Arriving at the stream, all is efficiency and system. Mr. Hoover will take no fooling from the trout. They must take the bait quickly or look for a big shakeup in every branch of the stream.

Out goes any trout that refuses to work in harmony with the administration's purposes.

And the fish might as well realize one thing now as later: When Mr. Hoover desires to see them he will take no message that they are in conference.

President Hoover has received a gold harmonica from children of Lake Worth, with the request that he learn to play "America" on it. Perhaps it is just as well for the neighbors that he has picked out a retreat in the deep woods this summer.

Speakeasy Study

Comfortably fried, he sat at a table, drinking with one hand and making copious notes on a bale of paper with the other. From time to time he would talk to himself and smile triumphantly. Then he would order another drink.

"Who's the big pen and red ink man?" asked the customer.

"Don't mind him," said the barboy. "He comes in here every day to work on a how-to-enforce prohibition plan in a $25,000 prize contest."

Special Edition Of 'War Cry' to Be Sold

Announcement of a Founder's Centennial Birthday number of "The War Cry," Salvation Army publication, which is to be sold during the second week in April for the benefit of the Salvation Army's young people's congress and fresh air camp this summer was made Tuesday by Capt. Z. H. Parker, local commanding officer.

Instead of the usual 16-page edition, the centennial number will be a 40-page number, printed on magazine paper, and with multiple colored illustrations and photographs. It will review the history of the organization from its beginning in London in 1865 to the present time.

The paper will sell for 25 cents, and the proceeds are to be used to send young people from the local post to a 10-day training school and camp near Dallas during the summer, Captain Parker said.

Scout Leader Tells How to 'Sell' Boys

A picture or mechanical representation of a boy in action is the quickest and most direct method of appealing to a boy through an advertisement, according to Frank B. Creighton, Boy Scout executive, who spoke on "Advertising to Boys" before the Ad club at the Kemp hotel Tuesday noon.

A boy wants to do what he sees another boy do, and is confident of his ability to do it, Mr. Creighton said. Personal letters also are welcome to a boy, the speaker stated, and are assured of a careful reading.

"Billboard advertising of cigarets make an appeal to the small boy which it is hard to overcome," Mr. Creighton said, "and there are boys in the first grade at school who smoke regularly, with their parents' consent."

Health And Diet Advice

Economy in Cooking

It has been said that a French family could live well upon the food thrown away by the average American housewife. Of the food set on the table an equal amount usually finds its way into the garbage can. The French housewife is trained to give daintiness and variety to her dishes and, at the same time, throw away nothing. She uses the trimmings of meat for meat stock and, like a skilled artisan, often produces wonderful results with small means.

The actual amount of food wasted each year in the United States is estimated to be well over $700,000,000, and, unfortunately, this waste occurs in the homes of the poor as well as in the mansions of the rich. The principal extravagance occurs from serving a greater variety of food than is necessary, in discarding nourishing parts and in combining foods in such incompatible mixtures that much of the value is lost.

A meal does not have to be complicated to be appetizing or wholesome. The most healthful meals are usually the most simple. Sumptuous dinners not only cost more in time required for preparation but in energy required to recover from the effects of overeating. By following well balanced menus, one not only saves the extra cost of food but avoids doctor bills and losses of salary on account of sickness.

There is no need to serve a six-course dinner. Two or three courses of plain, wholesome food are all that should ever be eaten at a meal, and it will be found that the healthiest, strongest people invariably use only a few foods at one time. It is better to eat a large quantity of two or three plain foods than to eat small quantities of a great variety of dishes. There should be variety in the diet, but not all in one meal. It is possible to prepare any one food in a variety of ways which lends interest to the diet and avoids monotony.

No wholesome food should ever be thrown away. It is possible to prepare appetizing dishes from left-overs in the form of stews, hashes and soups. A dish of this type is not only an economy, but may be the most delicious part of a meal. A good cook must be ingenious. It is possible for her to make a very appetizing meal out of a few scraps of meat, some left-over vegetables and perhaps a few potatoes or bread crumbs. Some of the most delightful dishes are prepared from the simplest ingredients.

Unfortunately, few housewives are trained in the economy of buying and preparing foods. If a modern business were conducted on the same plan as the average household, it would probably fail. Every food not likely to spoil should be bought in quantity amounts and in this way one can avoid the increased price of small buying. No food should ever be thrown away if it is possible to use it at a subsequent meal. Food should not be kept long enough to permit it to spoil. A little watchful care in kitchen economy may mean a substantial saving during the course of a year.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

To Pull or Not to Pull

Question: Q. J. writes: "My dentist insists that five of my teeth should be pulled out, and that it would be better to pull them all out. I am 60 years old, in splendid condition physically, excepting that I am bothered once in a while with rheumatism (or gout) in my big toes. My teeth do not bother me in any way. In fact, they appear to be perfectly sound. From the X-rays I am enclosing, what would you advise?"

Answer: I have examined the X-ray pictures you sent, and find indications of either pyorrhea, or trench mouth, and this is probably the reason your dentist advised the removal of your teeth. The toxins responsible for rheumatism usually cause a lack of resistance to the tooth infections and for this reason I believe it would be well for you to follow the fasting and dieting regime, then consult a dentist who is willing to treat the infection locally. It is likely that the teeth need not be pulled. Judging from your X-ray photographs, there is possibly one dead tooth, and if it is actually dead it should be removed.

Question: Mrs. N. R. writes: "Am greatly pleased with the results from using your diet for acne. The hard lumps have almost entirely disappeared, and the face is clearer and smoother now. However, purplish marks or scars from the lumps remain. Will they gradually disappear, or is there any treatment I could use for them?"

Answer: I am pleased to know that you have obtained such good results in overcoming your trouble with acne. The purplish marks are liable to remain for some time—until the congestion has entirely cleared up. A treatment with hot and cold wet applications should be of assistance, and if this does not entirely overcome the trouble, these spots should be treated with the ultraviolet or actinic light.

For the first time this spring, a veteran Spudder lineup Friday will oppose an invading nine at Athletic park. Except possibly for first base and the pitcher, the Wichita Falls club which will open the Texas league championship season will be arrayed against the Chicago White Sox in the opener of the three-game series.

With the pennant hunt in the Roberts loop under way two weeks from today, the process of "trying out," as the saying is, has been ended. And except for that questionable matter of first base, the makeup of the Spudders for April 17 is set. Again, of course, the pitcher also is excepted.

Peter Lapan will start his first game of the season behind the bat. Turgeon, Swenson and Benton will man three infield guns and Bennett, Fitzgerald and Eldred, reading from left to right, comprise a veteran outfield.

Clements Still in Race

Dallas Clements is all to be desired of a first baseman—defensively. But after a satisfactory start the Texas youth's hitting has fallen away to a disappointing figure. He still is in the contention for the place, but Bill Bean also is to be given a chance at the job.

Incidentally, speaking of first sackers, and with no particular bearing on the Spudder situation, word was received yesterday that Buck Stanton, star here of 1928 and now with the St. Louis Browns, is mending nicely from a recent operation on his knee. L. H. McEvoy, vice president of the Browns, wired the good news that Buck will be able to play ball not later than June 1, and as good as ever.

While Eldred is to see some service in the series with the quarreling Chicagoans, Dick Sullivan and Garland Orr, contesting for the fourth garden job, also likely will have their fling. Skipper Jim is anxious to see more of those lads under fire before he passes final judgment on them.

Garms Still Crippled

Debs Garms and Jack Crouch, the sparkling pair of kids laid up with ankle injuries for several days, are growing better. In fact, Crouch was out in diamond regalia yesterday, having his cut at the plate but otherwise favoring his injured prop. It still will be several days before the young Mr. Garms will be back there contesting with George Spiers for the utility infield job.

The usual practice game was dispensed with yesterday and two long sessions of routine drill, in which batting was stressed, marked the day's work.

Ed Taber, one of the three bespectacled lefthanders, worked on the hill for a time in hitting drill, one of the few occasions the fellow from the Eastern league has been out there. Taber was ill when he reported here and has been rounding slowly into condition but should be able to work this week-end.

Athens Victor In Cage Meet

Texans Win in First Round Of National Tourney

CHICAGO, April 2. (AP)—Athens, Texas, with a team of six foot giants, moved into the second round of the national high school basket ball tournament, eliminating an equally large team from Cleveland, Tenn., 44 to 22.

The three Tompkins—Bennie, Fred and John—abetted by Sumner and Brannon, dashed through the southerners defense almost at will. The rangy Texans piled up a lead of 21 to 11 at the half and continued to widen the margin even with substitutes in the lineup. The Tompkins trio tallied 29 of the victor's points.

Women's North-South Golf Champ Defeated

PINEHURST, N. C., April 2. (UP)—First round of match play in the women's North and South open golf tournament today resulted in the elimination of the 1928 champion, but otherwise was marked by no startling upsets. All of the better known stars defeated their opponents to achieve a place in the second round to be played tomorrow.

The defending titlist, Mrs. O. S. Hill, of Kansas City, was defeated by Edith Quier, of Reading, Pa., 2 and 1 in hard-fought and evenly matched contest.

THE BOXING racket has come to a terrible state of affairs. I am referring to the so-called champions and near-champions of pugilism, the most colorless, inept bunch of alleged first-raters that ever trod the resin.

Never before in modern boxing, nor far back in the dim annals of fistiana, was there such a situation prevailing as that today, when not a single champion or contender in any division is held as a great fighter. Not a fighter today, from flyweight to heavyweight, stands out above the others with any clarity. Not a champion today worthy of the name—and indeed, with one or two exceptions, there is not a wearer of the royal purple holding rightful claim to that honor.

HEAVYWEIGHTS—a lot of big palukas. Dempsey in his heyday could take any two of them in one night. But Dempsey is through. He might TRY to fight again. But time has taken its inevitable toll. Even the umpchays fighting now could beat him.

Sharkey and Stribling showed their true worth in that fiasco of Miami Beach. Paulino is no better. Schmeling has been greatly ballyhooed. But he must go a long, long way before he is a great fighter. And there are the heavyweights.

The next real heavyweight champion will be a man now unknown; some youngster who will come up like Dempsey and batter his way to the championship as the Man Mauler did a decade ago.

THE LIGHT heavies—not much better. Loughran looked like a promising champion a year ago. But he is a powder-puff puncher. Too, he is quitting the 175-pound division to fight as a heavy. At that, he is as good as the other heavyweights. Lomski, Slattery, Delaney, the other leading light heavies of the past few years are slipping rapidly and this division once bristling with efficient fighting men has deteriorated until it is no better than the heavyweight class.

MICKEY WALKER was a great fighter five years ago when he was welter champ. He is middleweight king today by grace of two questionable Chicago decisions. Only a mediocre battler now. Rene DeVos seems best of the challengers. But nothing to grow excited about.

Joe Dundee, middleweight champion, has been deprived of his title by the National Boxing association—if that means anything. Dundee couldn't and wouldn't fight. Jackie Fields beat Jack Thompson in that affair at Chicago which resulted in a riot. Fields is recognized in states governed by the N. B. A. as champion.

A synthetic champion, at best.

SAMMY Mandell is the lightweight champion and the best of a poor lot. He makes his opponents come in overweight or meets them in no-decision affairs where his title is not at stake. But at that, Sammy did beat Jimmy McLarnin, one of the best of the challengers, last year. McLarnin still is rated as lightweight and as such the best of the contenders. But Jimmy can't make the 135-pound limit. He would be a fit opponent for Mushy Callahan, champion of the junior welterweights, a synthetic division.

Tod Morgan is champion of the junior lightweights, another of those nonsensical classes created in New York for political reasons. Honeyboy Finnegan probably is best of the challengers. But who cares?

ANDRE ROUTIS caught Tony Canzoneri not in the best of shape and won the featherweight crown. Whereupon he beat it to his beloved France, in contrast to the gallant Criqui, who fought two months after deposing Johnny Kilbane as featherweight champ. Canzoneri still probably is best of the challengers and is rated to whip Routis—if he can get him back in the ring with him again.

There is no recognized bantam champion. Fidel LaBarba, former flyweight champion, is one of the best in the banty division. Others include Bushy Graham and Kid Chocolate. All claim the title. But they won't fight each other to prove it.

Shades of Terry McGovern!

There are several pretty good little fighting men in the flyweight division. But like the bantams they claim the title and won't risk their claims by fighting other leading contenders. New York recognizes Corporal Izzy Schwartz and the N. B. A. says Spider Pladner of France is champion. Frenchie Belanger, Johnny Hill and Frankie Genaro are other good boys in the mite division.

THERE YOU have the crop. Talk about the farm relief. Boxing needs relief—and plenty of it.

Fat purses and an indulgent public that has permitted innumerable rotten fights has ruined the sport. Not until the worm (the man who pays) turns and demands real action for his money, will there be alleviation for the situation.

COMMY ORDERS SHIRES HOME

Sox Owner Backs Blackburne in Iron Fist Rule

CHICAGO, April 2. (AP)—Charles Comiskey, owner of the Chicago Americans, ruling with an iron hand, today stepped in to end the rebellion brewing among the White Sox.

The "Old Roman" in a long distance telephone conversation with Manager Russell Blackburne, ordered Art Shires, recalcitrant young first baseman, to return to his home in Italy, Texas, to remain there at his own expense until he considers that he is in playing condition.

Commy Backs Lena

The order was received by Blackburne in Dallas, Texas, a few minutes before Shires was scheduled to board a Chicago bound train for a star chamber session with the "Old Roman." Thus Comiskey made it plan to the White Sox that Manager Blackburne could do all the dealing with the dissatisfied players and that his word was law.

Shires, a promising rookie first baseman, and Bill Cissell, who cost the Sox $123,000 in 1927, were benched, and Shires dethroned as captain, at Ennis, Texas, last week, when they were charged with celebrating too much and refusing to obey Manager Blackburne.

Cissell, reports to Comiskey said, has since made his peace with Blackburne and the other dissatisfied players also had quieted down.

Sox Take to Road

Blackburne has the reputation as being a stern disciplinarian, a quality Comiskey said he found lacking in Ray Schalk, whom Blackburne succeeded.

The Sox who had no game in Dallas today, broke camp tonight to start on a two weeks' jaunt northward, meeting minor league teams in 14 daily exhibitions. They engage Des Moines, Iowa, Western leaguers, at McAlister, Okla., tomorrow.

TIGERS LOSE AGAIN

BEAUMONT, Texas, April 2. (UP)—Even the presence of Manager Stanley Harris in the lineup could not bolster the Detroit Tigers enough to make them formidable and the Cubs beat them today, 10 to 2. Harris played third base for six innings and made the star fielding play, a one hand stop of Stephenson's torrid grounder.

Nehf gave two hits in four innings, a homer by Hellman over the left field fence bringing the only Detroit scores.

45-Round Title Battle Planned

NEW YORK, April 2. (UP)—It's not how long the boys are in the ring but what they do while they're in there that counts.

Fight fans whose fancies are stirred by a Tia Juana promoter's proposal for a 45-round bout for the light heavyweight championship shouldn't overlook the fact that it's quality and not quantity that counts in fisticuffs.

Those who complain against the dull ten round bouts of the present era would have twice as much about which to complain if the length of most of these modern fights were doubled.

The agitation for legislation permitting longer fights in many states doesn't take into account the fact that there were just as many poor 20-round bouts in "the good old days" as there are punk 10-rounders today.

Who was the greatest and most spectacular fighter of our days? Jack Dempsey

The records show that Dempsey fought only three fights over ten rounds in length in his entire career.

YANKS ARISE TO OCCASION

Champs Great Money Players, Success Shows

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

NEW YORK, April 2. (UP)—One of the secrets of the success of the New York Yankees has been the ability of Miller Huggins' ball club to rise to the occasion in every crisis.

During the supremacy of the Yankees they have been able to surmount every obstacle except in the lone instance of the 1926 world series when the St. Louis Cardinals triumphed in seven games.

Looking back over the past three years of major league baseball one recalls how the Yankees (a seventh-place club the season previous staved off the Indians and Athletics in 1926; how the Yankees won the pennant in 1927 by 19 games and the world series from the Pirates in four straight; how the Yankees beat back the Athletics in that memorable September series last season and, crippled and badly worn out from their strenuous finish, conquered the Cardinals in another four-game world series.

Rough Journey Ahead

Looking ahead one visions rough and rocky journeys for the Yankees of 1929 with their uncertain infield, their weak catching staff and their doubtful pitching corps.

Yet baseball's wisest seers consider it folly to predict the overthrow of the Yankees regardless of the handicaps confronting them now. In this connection it will be remembered that the Yankees came north last spring looking like the worst ball club in the league only to find themselves once the season was under way.

The Yankees will open the season with Leo Durocher at shortstop, John Grabowski and Bill Dickey doing the catching and a pitching staff composed of Waite Hoyt, Henry Johnson, George Pipgras, and either Fred Heimach or Tom Zachary as the left-hander. Roy Sherid and Gordon Rhodes, recruits, will be pressed into service frequently.

Lyn Lary, the $100,000 Oakland flash, will be on the bench. Benny Bengough will be out of the lineup until his throwing arm recovers, which may not be soon. Herb Pennock, star southpaw, will not be asked to start a game until a month after the opening of the season because of his arm. Wilcy Moore, relief pitcher, remains in the doubtful class despite his assertions that his arm has recovered.

Durocher Erratic

Despite some flashy fielding in a relief role last season, Durocher has got to prove he's a major league shortstop. In 29 games at shortstop last year Durocher had the unimpressive fielding average of .490. In 66 games at second base he fielded .948, the poorest mark in the league for any player who participated in 50 or more games.

Bengough's loss is likely to weaken the Yankees considerably at the most vulnerable spot in the team since Grabowski is no great shakes of a catcher and Dickey is only a year out of college baseball.

Any discussion of the Yankees' infield eventually must work itself around to Tony Lazzeri's shoulder. Although Lazzeri's shoulder apparently is all right now, one hard throw from the wrong position may be quite enough to bring back the old trouble.

And if Lazzeri should have to go to the shelf, the Yankees' infield will be composed of Lou Gehrig and three other players.

These, of course, are only the probabilities and the Yankees—a team which has always made the most of every opportunity—are never beaten until the last man is out.

Two Ring Battles Carded Tomorrow

NEW YORK, April 2. (AP)—The fistic spotlight this week will be divided between Los Angeles and Boston.

The West gets the larger part of the calcium glare with a battle between Tod Morgan and Santiago Zorilla for the junior lightweight championship. The bout was scheduled for Tuesday night but was postponed until Thursday because of a boil on Morgan's leg.

Boston's contribution is a heavyweight struggle Thursday night between Otto Von Porat, hard punching Norwegian from Chicago, and Cleveland's ex-contender for the championship, Johnny Risko.

WALLACE STOPS CHAPIN

PHILADELPHIA, April 2. (AP)—Billy Wallace of Cleveland lambasted Mickey Chapin of Scranton for seven rounds here tonight before the referee stopped the fight in the eighth and gave him the decision on a technical knockout. Wallace weighed 135 pounds, Chapin 138.

April Dreamers

There are all the millions who are chained to desk or den,
Those who've never looked upon the mountain, sea or spar,
Yet of those who've roamed the world and traveled back again
There are no adventurers who've traveled half as far.

Through their dusty panes they've looked each April, year on year,
Out beyond the Khiber Pass,
down below the Horn,
In their dreams they've known the roads beyond the last frontier,
Tracked the open wilderness, the jungle and the thorn.

In their guarding walls of gray,
held to one lone beat,
They have seen the camp smoke
as it circled, thin and blue,
And in day dreams down the world,
through the crowded street,
They have found the canyons with the rivers tumbling through.

They have trailed the Amazon,
hunted down the Nile,
"Rolling down to Rio" where the armadillos wait,
They have known Mombassa Land,
mile on endless mile,
Into open country through the city's guarded gate.

They have heard the whisper of the winds that tramp the glades,
Each one with a secret of the forest or the streams,
And above their weariness the glamour never fades
As they follow Romany along the road of dreams.

You Figure It Out

The ways of the "heathen Chinee" may be peculiar, but they have nothing on the modern fight game. Senior Paulino Uzudum is paid $10,000 for bowling over a party who has to be wakened from a refreshing sleep at the moment when he is supposed to be at ringside. Mickey Walker is guaranteed $50,000 for losing a fight and $10,000 for winning one. One pretty good looking fighter by the name of Max Schmeling comes along and every one has a contract with him or his manager except President Hoover, Henry Ford, Thomas A. Edison and Mussolini. There must be an answer, but what is it?

The Amateur Tangle Again

Dear Mr. Rice: Will you be so kind as to tell us where the first of your three types of athletics can be found? I have a profound interest in amateur sport and in those who are entitled to engage therein, but cannot conceive of amateurs without money or restrictions or organization being the foundation of amateur sport. In fact, I do not believe they can engage in sport. Some one must furnish the funds to provide the equipments that are necessary to every form of public sport today. To include in your second class organized amateur athletics and declare it in toto "a necessary evil" is to condemn every sport program and the schools, colleges, "Y's" clubs and organizations generally who are not professionals or who do not put on professional sport programs.

To do away with organized amateur sport organizations is to make certain in a short time a "lack of funds" for the professionals in the fundamental athletic equipment and to make the professional sport impossible in years to come.

It is easy to offer a formula that will clear up the whole amateur situation for the good of sports of every kind. To develop and put in effect such a proposition would require some real work on the part of many and for something other than the financial returns. The trouble is not primarily with the amateur athlete, but with those ready and willing to sacrifice that individual for selfish reasons. An amateur does not get financial reward for his sport ability or reputation.

—THOMAS E. WHITE,
President Lansing Athletic Assn.

It was not the intention of this column to suggest that organized amateur athletics were a necessary evil. The idea was to suggest that organized athletics, carrying a matter of gate receipts, had to be accompanied by a number of evils, necessary or not. Gate receipts are necessary to carry out a complete sport program of equipment and playing fields. These must be paid for, and there is no other way to handle the matter, since so many millions are required to take care of the needs of such a vast army. But gate receipts, one way or another, are always accompanied by certain evils, which in this case are possibly the lesser evils.

Mr. White says that "an amateur does not get financial reward for his sport ability or reputation." Possibly not. But a lot of them do who live and play under the name of amateur and who are recognized as such in every form of sport.

The amateur situation is far from perfect and it is also far from hopeless. But it will always be in some form of trouble when gate receipts run as high as they do now, no matter what good use most of these gate receipts may be put nor how necessary they may be for the general good of the public at large.

That Weight Matter

"You are all wrong," writes L. P., "about the weight starting on the left foot in addressing the ball. Any good pro will tell you that the weight must be evenly distributed on both feet." Any good pro won't, although some may like this method. Ever hear of the "forward press" so often advocated as the back swing is started? Starting with a majority of the weight on the left foot merely gives a better leverage to pass it along to the right foot as the back swing gets under way. It is merely a trifle easier to let most of the weight swing to the right foot, if one starts it from the left. Try it out some day and you'll find out for yourself.

HUMPHRIES TO BATTLE HALL

Popular Scrappers to Meet Here Tonight

"When that Cyclone strikes, I won't be hidin' down in a cellar; I'll chase him right back to Childress. That Cyclone will be a gentle breeze when I finish with him." Thus growled Pug Humphries, Oklahoma boxfighter, to Promoter Alex Ross when they talked via Mr. Bell's long distance hello boxes yesterday, as the Sooner prepared to leave his home at Shawnee for Wichita Falls.

Humphries, the rough, tough hombre of great ring popularity here, meets the Cyclone tonight in the 10-round feature quarrel of the weekly boxing show at the Palace theater. Humphries has met and defeated some of the leading welters in the southwest. His pleasing bouts here have made him a big favorite with local boxing enthusiasts.

Hall has compiled an impressive string of victories, including several knockouts, here this winter, But Humphries is apt to prove a far more formidable foe for Hall than a majority of the Cyclone's adversaries.

Tommy Scott of Electra and Rudy Hodge of Houston step in the semi-windup of an excellent card of prelims. They are to go eight rounds and their mill is a rematch from their fast six-round scrap last week.

HERRICK'S BODY SAILS FRIDAY

Ambassador's Remains Go Through Brest

PARIS, April 2. (US)—Ambassador Myron T. Herrick will leave his beloved France Friday through the port of Brest, from which just 10 years ago thousands of American fighting men sailed homeward after the final drive to victory.

Tentative arrangements approved this evening contemplate taking the ambassador's body to Brest on the regular train from Paris Thursday evening and placing it aboard the cruiser Tourville at the port early on Friday.

Members of the U. S. embassy staff and high officials of the French government, together with representatives of the American colony in France, will accompany the beloved envoy on his last journey over French soil. Special final honors will be accorded at Brest.

The program for the rites in Paris, as approved, includes services at the embassy at 10 o'clock Thursday, at which General John J. Pershing will speak for the United States; Premier Raymond Poincare for France, and Ambassador de Leon, of Spain, for colleagues of the diplomatic corps representing all nations.

A military guard of honor will escort the body from the embassy to the American protestant Episcopal cathedral, where Dean Beekman will conduct the rites of the Episcopal church. The body will then remain in the church until placed aboard the train in the evening.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, April 2. (AP)—Early declines under renewed liquidation, Wall street and southern selling, promoted by a favorable view of the weather news and relatively easy cables, were nearly all recovered in cotton today on trade buying and covering. July contracts, after selling off to 19.82, advanced to 20.02 and closed at 19.99. The general market closed steady at net declines of 2 to 6 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 2 to 7 points in response to lower late cables. There also seemed to be more selling in anticipation of a favorable weekly review by the weather bureau tomorrow. Active months sold about 18 to 23 points net lower during the early trading, with May declining to 20.40 and the new October contract to 19.81.

There was probably some selling on a private report pointing to a prospective increase of 4.7 per cent in acreage and estimating the area likely to be planted at 49,137,000 acres.

Offerings were not particularly heavy or aggressive, however, and the market steadied up during the afternoon on covering. Some trade buying also was reported. Support became a little more active late in the afternoon, when there appeared to be further covering and some Wall street and New Orleans buying promoted by the better tone of the stock market. Old crop positions fully recovered their losses, while the new crop regained all but a few points of their earlier declines. The close was a point or two off from the best.

Part of the late afternoon buying may have been inspired by expectations of a bullish report on boll weevil survival, as traders appeared to be expecting a report from the bureau of entomology within a few days. Another private report on acreage intentions was issued pointing to an area between 45,400,000 and 46,710,000. This report said plowing was about 25 per cent completed compared with 35 per cent last year. It also forecast a reduction of about 28 per cent in the use of fertilizers.

Cable advices from Liverpool said there had been some covering there against 3,000 bales of cotton involved in a warehouse fire.

Exports today 19,466, making 6,862,292 this season. Port receipts, 15,424. U. S. port stocks, 1,724,031.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, April 2. (AP)—After easing for practically the whole morning session the cotton market strengthened in later trading today following a report from Washington that the date of publication of the official boll weevil report would be announced after the close. July rallied from 19.72 to 19.94 and closed at 19.92, or net unchanged for the day. The general market closed unchanged to four points net down.

Liverpool cables were slightly lower than due and first trades here showed losses of five to nine points in sympathy. Prices continued to ease off after the start on the favorable weather in the belt and by the end of the first hour May traded down to 19.70, July 19.78 and October 19.71, or 13 to 14 points below yesterday's close.

Some trade buying and covering entered the market and checked the decline but the demand was supplied at slight recoveries and the market turned easier again under selling promoted by a bearish private acreage forecast. By noon May dropped to 19.65, July 19.72 and October 19.65, or 18 to 20 points net down.

During the afternoon uncertainty over what the forthcoming weevil report would show prompted shorts to cover and prices rallied making new highs for the day with May at 19.85, July 19.94 and October 19.82, or 17 to 22 points up from the lows. Final prices were a shade under the top.

LEE RUBBER AND TIRE CORP.

The Lee Rubber and Tire corporation is one of the slightly smaller tire producers. It also puts out a complete line of miscellaneous rubber goods. The latter line accounts for about 25 per cent of the total business of the company. It owns the entire stock of the Republic Rubber company of Youngstown, Ohio, and also has two selling subsidiaries as well as control of some non-active corporations. Its plants are located at Conshohocken, Pa., and Youngstown, Ohio. The former has a daily capacity of 2,500 to 4,000 casings. Sales branches are maintained in principal cities. The mechanical rubber goods are made at the Youngstown plant.

The concern has been conservatively managed, but largely due to the fluctuations of crude rubber it has shown losses in at least four of the last 10 years. These losses have exceeded the profits of other year. The deficit years were 1921, 1923, 1924 and 1926. For the 10 months of 1927, to October 31, the company showed a net of $784,000. In the year to October 31, 1928, net was about $166,000.

There is no funded debt. Capital stock outstanding consists of 300,000 shares of no par value. The last dividend payment recorded was in September, 1923, in which year $1.50 a share was paid.

As of Oct. 31, 1928, total current assets amounted to $6,221,110. Total current liabilities were $2,294,736 and net working capital was $3,926,374. Book value applicable to the 300,000 shares of outstanding capital stock excluding patents and trade marks amounted to $27.48 a share.

Petroleum Shares, Particularly S. O. Of New Jersey, Lead Stock Recovery

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, April 2. (US)—Oils led recovery in the market today. The petroleum group moved ahead steadily with Standard Oil of New Jersey the outstanding feature but the rally in the rest of the list was rather half-hearted. Lack of confidence in the trading community was betrayed by the falling off in dealings to under the 4,000,000-share level although the call money held at 12 per cent throughout the day. Standard of New Jersey gained 3 points, Indian Refining 5⅜, Marland 2⅞ and others in the group closed from 1 to 2 points higher. Steel gained 1¼. Motors about the same amount, Can moved up 2½, Radio 2, and Miami Copper 3 points. The federal reserve officials met in Washington again but maintained the reticence that has surrounded their undercover operations of the last fortnight.

Each day sees more wise traders step out of the market. They don't like the battle royal over money. Until they see the reserve board, Durant, congress or the insurgent bankers standing as sole victor as the battle ends they are likely to remain out of dealings. At the moment the betting favors the reserve for past performances the money powers appear a "sure thing" in a stock market fight. Normally money should have eased today but banks called more loans and as the close approached there was fear the rate would go higher. Another factor to nervousness was knowledge that certain congressman are busily preparing data on the reserve and its relations to the stock market for the special session. No one expects the ultimate result of such preparations to be more than mere noise but a scolding congress disturbs business.

Oils held their leadership but found it difficult to make much headway in the face of growing nervousness in the speculative community. Marland buying was attributed to Morgan interests while mid-westerners were most active in Sinclair. Skelly Oil achieved more prominence coincident with reports that earnings were running well ahead of the $3.75 a share earned last year. The main influence to the Skelly operation, however, is to put the stock at a better level for achieving the ideas of insiders in connection with merger plans. Pan-American is another oil benefiting from sponsorship of inside group while Texas and some others benefit both from the prospect of even better earnings as a result of stabilization progress and consolidation plans.

Tobacco shares are another group that do not appear to have been over-exploited. Like others in such cases, however, they labor under burden of the reserve activities to a greater degree than the wildest pool stocks to the extent that they are kept from proper level by money uneasiness. Merger developments are rumored with Cigar Stores and others mentioned. Bethlehem was helped by the highly optimistic opinions on the outlook expressed by Chairman Schwab and President Grace at the annual meeting. Extra dividend by Bethlehem is expected within the next six months. Goodyear Tire is expectetd to issue highly favorable report of earnings for the first quarter which will show the redemption of the preferred is warranted. Miami Copper directors increased dividend to a $4 rate as forecast.

Most firms charged from 9½ to 9¾ per cent interest for carrying accounts during March but there were some who penalized customers as much as 5 per cent premium over the legal 6 per cent rate. Every week that passes with such interest charges gives added incentive to liquidation. Of course, its the "public" pays such rate as the big operators can and do make their own arrangements. It is doubtful if any operator of importance is paying more than 6 per cent to carry accounts. With the money controversy promising to increase interest charges it is no surprise that trading declines in volume for the main question at the moment for the public trader is the price of money rather than the price of stocks.

TEXAS LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, April 2. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Stocker cattle made up a good portion of the receipts on today's livestock market. All classes slaughter cattle sold steady with a few sales indicating a little strength.

Slaughter steers consisted of about four loads, with two loads good heavy steers from a nearby feed lot that sold at $11.85, and a load clearing at $12.25. One load unsold at the noon hour.

Odd head and package lots made up the bull supply and they cleared at values in line with the week's trading. Better heavy bulls around $8.00 and $8.50, common light ones around $7.00.

Some of the slaughter yearlings showed strength with a top of $13.50 for a load with other loads at $12.50 and $13.00. Package lots sold up to $13.50; individuals at $14.00. The supply was comparatively light.

Very few cows offered and they sold fully steady, packages up to $9.00 and $9.50, with most of the butchers around $7.50. No canners and cutters of any consequence changed hands and very few of the very thin ones obliged to take tickets under $5.50, sales up to $675.

Hardly enough good calves on hand to test market. Some of fair quality and on yearling order sold at $11.60, with a load in the southern yard at $10.50. Most culls sold around $8.00.

Trade in the stocker division included several cars common steers at $8.50 to $10.00. Good stocker calves sold at $12.00 to $13.25.

Hogs 10c to 15c higher today; rail top $11.35 and truck top during the morning $10.80; bulk 175 to 250-pound butchers $10.25 to $11.25; packing sows $8.75 to $9.75.

Sheep steady; shorn fat lambs at $14.00 and yearlings at $12.50; shorn fat wethers at $10.00. Some shorn feeder lambs sold at $12.00.

MIDWESTERN REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, April 2. (AP)—(U. S. D. D.)—Livestock trade around the 11-market circuit was featured by an active demand in most killing classes of cattle at unevenly higher prices. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 25,900, a shortage of 13,300 from a week ago and 10,400 less than the corresponding day last year. Upturns of 25@50c were registered on fed steers and yearlings. Current values at most points being 50@75c higher than last week's close. Receipts the balance of the week should be moderate if the advance is to be maintained as demand at eastern dressed beef markets does not warrant such sharp gains. Choice heavy Nebraska steers at Chicago scored $14.60 while light weight steers at both Omaha and Chicago reached $14.40. Stocker and feeder steers ruled firm to slightly higher with several loads of choice stock steers, calves at Kansas City clearing at $14.00.

Shippers purchased freely of hogs at prices unevenly, 10@30c higher, but packers were bearish and failed to follow the early advance in its entirety. A few points closed slightly lower than Monday's average. The day's extreme top of $12.15 was paid at Chicago. Total offerings were around 74,400 as compared with 86,751 last Tuesday and 101,025 a year ago.

Fat lambs found a slow outlet at generally weak to 25c lower values, some markets on late rounds reporting losses of 25@50c. Aged stock was scarce with prices unchanged. Chicago had a top of $17.50 on fed wooled lambs and secured $16.35 for choice light weight clippers. The supply approximated 61,000, a decrease of 1,700 from a week ago but 3,800 heavier than a year ago.

KANSAS CITY, April 2. (AP)—Hogs—Receipts, 8,000; market 10@25c higher; top, $11.80 on 200 to 210 pounds; packing sows, $9.75@10.75.

Cattle—Receipts, 5,500; calves, 500; market, steady to 25c higher; slaughter steers, good and choice, 950 to 1500 pounds, $12.25@14.50; fed yearlings, good, choice, 750 to 950 pounds, $12.50@14.75; cows, good and chonce, $9.00@11.00; vealers (milk-fed), medium to choice, $9.00@13.75.

Sheep—Receipts; wooled lambs, extremely dull; sheep steady; lambs, good and choice, 92 pounds down, $16.35@18.60; ewes, medium to choice, 150 pounds down, $8.75@11.25.

FORT WORTH, April 2.—Hogs—Receipts, 2,800; market, 10@15c higher; rail top, $11.35; truck top, $10.80; bulk medium choice, 180 to 250-pound rail hogs, $11.00@11.35; bulk desirable 175 to 250-pound truck hogs, $10.60@10.80; packing sows and pigs steady; packing sows, mostly $9.00@9.75; feeder pigs, $8.25@9.00.

Cattle—Receipts, 2,300; general trade in all classes cattle and calves about steady; some strength in better grades fat yearlings and some weakness or small drains in cull and common slaughter calves; two cars good 1305 and 1290-pound beeves, $11.85.

Sheep—Receipts, 2,500; few sales, market steady; shorn fat lambs, $14.00; shorn fat yearlings, $12.50; shorn fat weathers $10.00; good to choice, shorn feeder lambs, $12.00; few shorn feeder lambs and yearlings at $11.00.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 2. (AP)—Wheat prices rallied in lively fashion today after an early setback. To an important extent, the late upturns were responsive to buying here against simultaneous selling at Winnipeg, and evening-up process to balance recent large spread trades which were of exactly a reverse character—sales in Chicago with purchasing at Winnipeg equal. Late advances of wheat values here were also in a measure traceable to renewed strength of the stock market.

Chicago closing quotations on wheat were firm, ⅝c to 1⅛c net higher, whereas corn finished ¼c to ½c off, with oats unchanged to ¼@⅜c lower, and provisions varying from 5@7c decline to a rise of 40c.

Final transactions in wheat here were at the day's top figures, more than 2c a bushel above the earlier bottom level. Meanwhile, the Canadian wheat visible supply total was announced as showing 995,000 bushels decrease for the week, and Canadian country marketings were reported as smaller than at this time a year ago. Messages toward the end of the day telling of need of rain in parts of Kansas where also something of a stimulus to wheat buyers here, and so also was the fact that speculative trade was larger than yesterday on account of better wire service.

In contrast with the strength which the wheat market developed during the last half of the day was the notable downward trend that at first was in evidence. Despite the fact that in connection with Argentine port labor troubles Liverpool wheat quotations were higher than due, the Chicago wheat market early was without buying support except on declines or what came from previous sellers who were in a position to collect a profit. Reports current at the time were indicative that as a whole the domestic winter crop of wheat was making satisfactory progress, with a new authoritative estimate but putting the condition percentage at 82.5, abandoned acreage at 7.1 per cent and the probable yield 580,000,000 bushels compared with last year's final total of 579,000,000 bushels. Another transient bearish factor was 2,048,000 bushels increase this week of the amount of wheat afloat on ocean passage.

Corn rallied with wheat, but failed to recover in full from downturns which went before. Commission houses were persistent sellers of corn future deliveries, ignoring good shipping demand here and a cash corn trading basis unchanged to 1c higher. The Argentine corn harvest was reported to be proceeding rapidly and promising to surpass earlier expectations. Oats followed corn.

Provisions were firmer early, responsive to upturns in hog values, but best prices failed to hold in the face of scattered liquidation.

Slick and Prairie Plan Test Below 8,000 Feet

Special to The Record News.

TULSA, Okla., April 2.—Success of the Texon Oil and Land company in drilling a well to 8,525 feet in the Big Lake field of Reagan county, West Texas, is prompting Tom Slick, Inc., and Prairie Oil and Gas company to plan an 8,000-foot test in Southern Seminole county.

The old Slick No. 1 Davis, in the northeast corner of 26-6-6, which had a hole full of water at 4,227 feet, is the test to be deepened as Oklahoma's deepest test hole.

Word comes from Konowa, to the west of the Slick-Davis well that rotary tools have been ordered back into the hole. It will be reamed down and then deepened as far as possible with rotary and then drilled in with standard tools.

Plans of the Slick-Prairie combination are still not complete, it is understood, but the test will be closely watched.

Mr. Slick has had a greater interest in the Konowa-Sasakwa region than any other operator. His first Seminole lease was there and his first test well was close to this deep failure. It was a shallow gasser.

BOSTON, April 2. (UP)—The "bad book" bill, which would have made it necessary to consider the text of a book in its entirety before condemning it as obscene, was defeated in the state senate today by a vote of 15 to 13.

FLOOD THREATS IN CENTRAL U. S.

Mississippi and Other Rivers Reported Rising

CHICAGO, April 2. (UP)—Rivers and lakes, swollen and whipped by Easter day gales and rains, gave new threats of floods in the central part of the United States today.

Streams in Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa and Missouri, were threatening to overflow their banks. Lake Michigan was still beating against crumbling seawalls along the Chicago waterfront. The great Mississippi was rising again and required constant guard of levees in Illinois and Iowa.

With communication systems, damaged by storms, repaired, the toll of Easter day storms increased to an estimated 50 injured and two dead. Damage to Chicago's seawall alone was estimated at $1,000,000 while the Southwest, swept by tornadoes, reported heavy property damage.

Shipping on Lake Michigan was interrupted by the lashing lake waters which for a time threatened to wash away the city water works at St. Joseph, Mich., and the coast guard station off Lincoln Park in Chicago.

Between Hannibal, Mo., and Fort Madison, Iowa, 1,000 volunteers aided state militia in the battle against the rising Mississippi to prevent it from sweeping away dikes and levees and flooding thousands of acres of rich farm lands. Some of the levees are in such a condition that breaks are expected momentarily, reports said.

$600,000 More Needed In Flood Districts

WASHINGTON, April 2. (UP)—The American Red Cross today reported to President Hoover that, according to its latest estimates, between $500,000 and $600,000 will be needed to complete the disaster relief work in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi and Tennessee, which recently have suffered from extensive floods. Contributions to date total $327,900.26.

Asylum Superintendent Is Himself Confined

NEW YORK, April 2. (UP)—After 30 years of working among insane patients at Manhattan State hospital, where he was supervisor of attendants, Dennis Doody, 55, found himself in the psychopathic ward at Bellevue hospital today for observation. Hospital officials said Doody's recent erratic behavior was the result of ill health and not of his occupation.

IKE WALTONS BACK ONEAL

Other Chapters to Send Moody Petitions

Petitions are to be circulated in Wichita Falls, Olney, Graham, Seymour, Burkburnett, Electra, Vernon and other cities in this section asking Gov. Dan Moody to appoint Ben G. Oneal, president of the Wichita Falls chapter of the Izaak Walton league, as one of the six fish and game commissioners who will assume control of all such matters in this state Sept. 1, according to action taken at the regular meeting of the local chapter at the courthouse Tuesday night.

Leader in Work

Mr. Oneal has not only been active in the interest of fish and game protection in this community, but for several years has been a leader in the formation of state legislation designed to provide needed regulation of hunting and fishing.

Material progress on the construction of bass rearing ponds at Lake Kemp was reported Tuesday night by those to whom various phases of the project had been assigned.

A survey of the land above the dam, where the ponds are to be located, was made Tuesday afternoon by the building committee. Following the report of this survey given by W. Daniels, chairman of the committee, the meeting voted in favor of the construction of two large ponds instead of three smaller ones, as originally planned. Each of the two will be approximately 600 feet long, 110 feet wide, and will be graduated to a maximum depth of six feet, it was said. Dirt work and laying of four-inch pipe lines are already under way, Mr. Daniels said, and should be completed within the next 10 days.

Field notes prepared by the building committee will be used by the general committee, headed by Judge C. M. McFarlane, in contracting within the next few days for the exact territory to be used by the Izaak Walton league in developing rearing ponds now and in future years. J. W. Pond, chairman of the finance committee, reported that contributions are coming in satisfactorily to assure the success of the project.

Delegates Named

Mr. and Mrs. Ben G. Oneal and Jack Loggie were elected Tuesday night as delegates to represent the Wichita Falls chapter at the national convention of the Izaak Walton League of America, which is to be held in Chicago on April 18. Mr. Oneal, president of the local chapter, was empowered by vote of the meeting to appoint alternates.

Organization of a league chapter at Vernon last week with a charter membership of 61 was reported by a committee which assisted in the forming of the chapter. Mr. Oneal and other members of the league here will attend a banquet to be held by approximately 150 sportsment at Graham Thursday night, when an Izaak Walton league chapter will be organized there. A large lake is nearing completion near that city, it was stated, and the nimrods of that community, some of whom have kept in close touch with activities of the chapter here, have declared their intention of providing early protection and regulation of hunting and fishing.

More than 40 persons were present at the meeting Tuesday night, and a motion commending the regular attendance of a number of women members was unanimously passed.

The next meeting of the chapter was set for Tuesday, May 7, at which time delegates to the state convention to be held at Galveston on May 10 will be selected.

BUILDING PERMITS

Two building permits totaling $8,800 were issued Tuesday by the city engineering department.

One of the permits was issued to W. F. Parrish for the construction of an $8,000 residence at 1006 Holliday street. Mytinger and Walker were named as contractors for the job.

The other permit, which was issued for $800 for repairs to a residence at 213 Houston street, was made to L. G. Brown. J. W. Birdwell will be the contractor.

"IT'S A FINE THING," SAYS A. L. BRIDGES

Foreman City Water Department Says He Feels Better Than in Ten Years—Gained 8 Pounds

Of all the men in Wichita Falls, and vicinity, there is none better known than A. L. Bridges, of 1432 Sibley avenue, foreman of the City Water department, having served in that capacity for the past eight years.

While in a conversation with the Orgatone representative, Mr. Bridges said:

"I suffered from stomach and bowel trouble, and nervousness," he continued, "and was in a very run down, worn out condition. I got to where I didn't have an appetite and what little I did force myself to eat, would cause gas to form, and at times I could hardly get my breath, and everything soured on my stomach.

"I had nervous, sick headaches, most all the time, and was so restless at night, I could not sleep, but would roll and toss all night and when morning came actually felt worse than when I went to bed. I had a bad case of constipation, and was losing confidence in myself, I felt so bad.

"Orgatone had helped so many people here in Wichita Falls, I decided to try it, and it has certainly been a fine thing in my case. I have not only gained eight pounds in weight but feel better than in years.

"I eat anything I want now, and it doesn't bother me in the least, and my food agrees with me and gives me nourishment. I'm not nervous as I was, and sleep like a baby at night, and am entirely relieved of all my constipation. Orgatone has been a wonderful medicine in my case and I am glad to recommend it."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Wichita Falls, exclusively by the Allison's Drug Store, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative. Also at Burkburnett by the City Drug Store.—Adv.

Delinquent Taxes of County At Lowest Figure in Years, Report Says

The Wichita county delinquent tax roll for 1928 will be lighter than any compiled during the last six years, according to figures contained in the annual financial report being prepared in the office of Gdy C. Raley, tax collector.

With the opening of the county's fiscal year on April 1, the collector's office began the preparation of the yearly report to the state and to the county, involving a detailed exposition of the county's financial situation. Mr. Raley said Tuesday that indications already pointed to a smaller list of delinquencies than at any time during his service as collector.

The larger percentage of paid up taxes was partially explained by Mr. Raley as the result of the hundreds of tax suits which have been and are still being pushed by the county. The policy of the collecter's office in sending tax statements "like grocery bills" was also credited with bringing results.

The collector's office will be busy with the annual report for the next six weeks, Mr. Raley said.

GRAND JURY INDICTS FIVE

Conference With Manager Ends Brief Session

of indictment early Tuesday afternoon, the jury, impaneled Monday morning by Judge Allan D. Montgomery, closed its shortest regular session, adjourning until April 25, when matters developing during the month will be disposed of.

The body submitted no written or oral report beyond the indictments, but officials indicated that special investigations, started during the opening day of the session, will be worked out during the recess. Witnesses who testified against a precinct traffic officer, who is charged with having exacted fines and forfeits will be recalled when the jurors re-convene, it was understood.

F. W. Bently, alias Curtis C. York, was charged with forgery in naif a dozen counts of an indictment returned Tuesday. Bently was arrested in Oklahoma several weeks ago. His bond was set at $1,500. George Adams was indicted for the theft of a car belonging to T. Harvick on March 3, in another of the bills returned. Charges were also brought against Dewey Good, indicted for the theft of an automobile and of accessories. The two other bills, involving burglary and theft, name defendants not yet under arrest.

Trial of the men named in the indictments Tuesday will be set for the week beginning Monday, April 15, Sam Spence, district attorney, announced Tuesday afternoon. Criminal business already on the docket will occupy the court during the coming week.

DAILY THEFT REPORT

Four cases of petty theft netted property and cash valued at approximately $245 Monday night and Tuesday for local house prowlers, according to reports received Tuesday afternoon at police headquarters.

Franklin Allday, member of the Wichita baseball club reported the loss of a diamond ring valued at $150 from the Spudder clubhouse.

Burglars who entered the residence of E. T. Duff, 1504 Hays street, through a rear window escaped with around $40 in cash while a suit of clothes was stolen from a roomer at the Norman rooms.

The loss of an automobile casing was reported by Mrs. Edna Hambrick, 1006 Burnett street.

Funeral Services For W. M. Huey Held

Funeral services for W. M. Huey, 40, who died Sunday at his home, 1106 Sixteenth street, were conducted from the Dalton-Powell Funeral home at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon by Rev. Patrick Henry, pastor of the Highland Heights Christian church. Burial was in Riverside cemetery.

The local chapter of the Elks lodge and the American Legion officiated at the services.

Active pallbearers were J. F. Friberg, John Dobbs, Carl Lewis, B. D. Donnell, R. B. Parker and J. W. Reasor.

Mr. Huey was the founder of the Huey Printing company here.

City Makes 'Last Call' For Screens for Cafes

The last call for screens or fans to comply with the city ordinance on protecting cafes and restaurants from flies and other insects was issued Tuesday by Dr. J. M. Farrell, chief city sanitary inspector.

Screen doors must be placed in the entrances, or a fan on the inside and a fan on the outside must be placed over the doors to comply with the city ordinance.

WOMEN MUST PAY

'Frails' Should Bear Half Whoopee Expense, Collegians Vote

One of the largest audiences ever to attend a debate staged by the Junior college senate voted unanimously Tuesday night, after hearing arguments pro and con, that "frails should shoulder half the whoopee fare."

Speaking in more enlightened terms, the audience voted that it approved the proposed practice of flappers paying half of the expense of dates. The arguments revolved around the declaration that women should have equal responsibilities with their equal rights.

SILVER FLEET VISITS HERE

14 Cars in Coast-to-Coast Good Will Caravan

The Silver Fleet of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber company, consisting of 14 silvered automobiles and one heavy truck, all equipped with Goodrich Silvertown cord tires, arrived in Wichita Falls about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon en route to Los Angeles on a good will tour from New York to the Pacific coast and return.

The caravan was met at the outskirts of the city by Major J. W. Akin, Captain Scott of the police department, and two motorcycle policemen, who ushered the visiting fleet to a large section reserved in the 800 block on Scott avenue. A crowd of several hundred persons quickly gathered to greet the unusual motorcade. Mayor Akin delivered a short address of welcome to Commander H. E. Schaeffer and the 19 college men comprising the crew of pilots.

The Goodrich Silver Fleet is engaged in a 30,000-mile performance demonstration tour, which started at New York on Jan. 23 and is expected to consume most of the present year for completion. Different trans-continental routes will be followed to and from the Pacific coast. Members of the party will remain in Wichita Falls until Wednesday morning.

R. D. McAfee, Oklahoma City representative of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber company; W. P. Mathews of Dallas, assistant branch manager; and P. E. Slack, representative for the Wichita Falls district, were present here with the fleet. The following cars make up the caravan:

Studebaker, president eight; Packard, roadster; Lincoln, sport phaeton; Buick, master six phaeton; Chevrolet, coach; Whippet, coupe; Ford, roadster; Essex coach; Chrysler, 75 coupe; Pontiac, sport cabriolet; Nash, advance coupe; Hupmobile, four-door sedan; Auburn, sport sedan; Oldsmobile, four-door sedan; Mack, truck.

Two Navy Recruits Enter Service Here

Willie Andrew Horton, Route 2, Wichita Falls, and Alton Earl Clay of Paducah left Tuesday afternoon for Dallas where they will undergo final examinations on their applications for enlistment in the United States navy.

If the recruits pass the last tests they will be sent directly to the training school at San Diego, Calif., C. R. Valverde, recruiting officer here, announced.

Census Reports Show Increase in 11 Districts

School census reports from 11 Wichita county school districts show an increase of 52 names over the lists compiled last year, Burl Bryant, county superintendent, announced Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Bryant, said that from present indications he expected the complete reports to show very little variation from the census rolls of 1928. The total from the 11 districts stands at 1,107 against a total of 955 last year.

Eleven other districts, among them those which include Burkburnett, Iowa Park, Electra and Valley View, are still to report, Mr. Bryant said. An increase of more than 150 is expected in the report from the Burkburnett schools, he said, and another from the Cashion district. The Pleasant Valley and City View districts show the greatest growth of those already reported.

The reporting districts and their totals for this year and last are listed below:

District—	1929	1928
Clara	235	242

Cobb	46	33
Beaver Creek	20	19
Prairie Cottage	26	28
Pleasant Valley	121	84
City View	185	163

Totals from all over the county, are expected in the office of the county superintendent on or before April 10, the superintendent announced.

Girls Also Lead 'Em Astray, Says Rev. Crimm

There are just as many girls ruining boys today as there are boys ruining girls, Rev. B. B. Crimm, cowboy evangelist, declared Tuesday night in the tabernacle at Yale and Twenty-second when he preached on "The Prodigal Son."

"We used to sing 'Where Is My Wandering Boy Tonight' but now we can also sing 'Where Is My Wandering Girl Tonight,'" Crimm said.

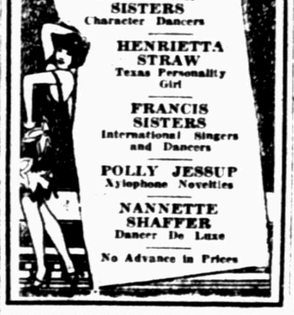

Rev. W. H. Townsend, pastor of the Lamar Avenue Baptist church, led the congregation in prayer. Special songs were sung by William E. Young and Miss Stella Evans.

On Wednesday night Crimm will speak to women and girls only in the tabernacle while Fred Rapp, in charge of the men's work with the evangelistic party, will speak to men and boys in the Yale Avenue Evangelical church.

Cottage prayer meetings will be held in the following homes at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon: Mrs. S. A. Oliver, 1612 Pearl; Mrs. A. Cromeans, 2223 Holliday; Mrs. W. R. Moore, 1507 Twenty-fifth; Mrs. C. R. Heginbotham, 2132 Princeton; Mrs. R. A. Jeffers, 2226 Broad; Mrs. H. M. Shoup, 1429 Thirty-seventh; Mrs. J. S. Cannon, 2108 Mississippi.

Tech Club Hears Talk on Paint

Watson Tells of Manufacture in Address

A talk on the manufacture of paint by Charles E. Watson, local manufacturer, was the feature of the regular monthly banquet of the Technical club which was held Tuesday night at the Wichita club.

Mr. Watson stressed the influence of climatic conditions on paint in different sections of the country. Paint falures are due in many cases to the improper mixtures for the climatic conditions in which it is used, he said.

Samples of the Watson paint were demonstrated to the members of the club. Mr. Watson explained that his paint is all tested on the roof of the distributing house at Scott avenue and Seventh street before being placed on the market.

A two-reel picture of the manufacturing process in making zinc oxide, a basic ingredient for paint, was shown.

Local firms represented at the meeting who use paint manufactured by the Watson Paint company are the American refinery, the Wichita Motor company, the Clark Spudders, the Bell Telephone company, and the Wichita Falls and Southern Railway company, Mr. Watson asserted.

SHERIFF DROPS DAY JAILOR

Hawkins, 21 Years in Service, Released by County

George Hawkins, day jailor at the county jail during the past year, was released from the service of Wichita county Tuesday morning by Sheriff W. G. Bralley, Mr. Hawkins announced. No explanation of the change was given him, Mr. Hawkins said.

The former jailor has been a peace officer in Wichita county during the past 21 years, having served during that period in the police department, as deputy sheriff and as sheriff. He was made jailor last April.

Mr. Bralley said Tuesday afternoon that he had made no appointmnt to fill the vacancy. He made no statement about the release.

Jim Gordon, former deputy constable at Electra, Tuesday night assumed the duties of Frank Watkins, former night jailor, who tendered his resignation several weeks ago. Mr. Watkins, who has been in the employ of the county since last August, has accepted a position as collector to the Caro Motor company at Burkburnett.

SOUR TASTE AFTER EATING

Gas Pains and Other Indigestion Troubles Suffered by Virginia Man.

Wytheville, Va.—"I have been using Black-Draught for about 30 years," says Mr. C. R. Suthers, who lives on the Lee highway here.

"I first began using Black-Draught for indigestion and gas pains. After I would eat, my food seemed to ferment and I would belch it up. I would have a very sour taste in my mouth. I would also have shortness of breath.

"My wife read about Black-Draught. She had taken some, and thought it would help me.

"And I want to say that it is certainly a good medicine. I have taken it for constipation, colds, or anything where a good laxative was needed, and it has never failed to help me.

"It seems to cleanse the system and keeps me in good shape. I am glad to recommend it to my friends. After using it for 30 years, it seems to do me as much good now as it did when I took my first dose."

Thedford's Black-Draught is prepared from highest quality medicinal herbs and roots, in a convenient powdered form. Easy to take and has no bad after-effects.
