Board, Teachers To Start 'Agreement' Talks

Colorado Independent School District board has agreed to start discussions with Colorado City Classroom Teachers Association which could conclude with a professional "communication agreement" with teachers.

Decision to start the discussions came Monday night in a board meeting with unanimous vote from all five trustees attending. – Curtis Latimer, Dub Waldrip, O. B. Trulock, Jr., Mrs. Kenneth Cowan and Tom Rees.

Aims and mechanics of an agreement – termed "professional consultation" in some school districts – has been gaining approval in numerous areas of Texas.

Here in Colorado City, the proposal has been studied by teachers and school officials since summer. These informal actions began after State Senate passed legislation in May enabling teachers and schools to enter into professional agreements.

Teachers are backing the agreements as a valuable aid for opening communications between administrators, officials and the classroom teachers for better educational program.

At same time, officials and others view the movement as definite unionization of teachers.

Mrs. Paul B. Hunter, president of the Classroom Teachers Association; Frank Brownfield, chairman of professional rights committee of the association, and Mrs. Marie Cammack, represented teachers at the meeting.

They asked for the board to agree to initiate the discussions as an enabling move for "cranking up. . .going to work" to see if the plan was feasible here.

Waldrip presented the motion for the board's action, emphasizing "communication" instead of consultation agreement. It states:

"We initiate activity on part of Colorado City Classroom Teachers Association, school board and school administration to investigate the possibility or workability of a communication agreement."

Brownfield, quickly agreed that "communication agreement" was a better term than consultation.

The board named Waldrip chairman of the discussion committee representing the district board. With him will be Rees, an attorney, and Mrs. Cowan.

Named by the board to represent school administrators in the discussions are Assistant Supt. Lloyd McKee, Mrs. Wayne Griffin, Junior High Principal Don Dulin and Athletic Director Truman Nix.

Brownfield, vocational agriculture teacher; Mrs. Robert Aycock Jr., Primary teacher, and Mrs. Earline Sellier, Primary teacher, were appointed by the board to re-

Force of a collision involving Colorado City's rural fire truck and a passenger car, early Monday, bounced the car to the lawn of the Paul Cooper home, 140 West 6th St. and changed the course of the truck from north to east at Oak and West 6th.

Fire Truck And Auto In Collision

Girl Injured In Crash

Colorado City Fire Department, enroute to a rural haystack fire, was in collision with a passenger car here at 8:05 Monday morning.

Miss Angilina (Angie) Garcia, 23, passenger in the 1965 car driven by her brother, David Garcia, 25, received painful injuries in the accident.

Rushed by Kiker ambulance to Root Memorial Hospital, Miss Garcia is under treatment for a fractured scapula (collarbone) She is employed at Colorado Drug Co.

According to Jim Mauldin, Texas Highway Patrolman who investigated the wreck at request of Colorado City Police Department, the fire truck, a 1962 model bought especially to fight rural fires, was driven by James Sprott.

Sprott is one of the two full-time firemen employed by the city. He was unhurt.

Sprott was going north on Oak St., sirens open, and ran through the stop sign at 6th and Oak, Mauldin said. Garcia and his sister were traveling east on 6th St. and crossed Oak as the fire truck passed the stop sign, said Mauldin.

Damage to the Garcia car was estimated by Patrolman Mauldin as "a total loss." Garcia escaped injuries.

Extensive damage to the rural fire truck, including a bent frame, will cost in the neighborhood of $800 to repair said Virgil Eaton, fire marshal here.

Citizens Gather Friday For New Industry Project

A community-wide meeting Friday night in Civic House will discuss immediate action in a new industrial development program for Colorado City.

Time will be 8 o'clock – thirty minutes later than initially announced Sunday.

Developments by three special project committees of Colorado City Chamber of Commerce and Industrial Team Inc. will be reported to citizens.

These committees are chairmaned by Dr. Dave Bridgford, Trevlyn Kelley and Joe Bell.

Oscar Castillon, industrial development specialist with Texas Electric Service Company in Fort Worth, will be here with an out-of-town group that is expected to include leaders in an industrial development program which brought major manufacturing to Sweetwater.

"This is a meeting of tremendous importance to our community," said Charles C. Thompson, Industrial Team president.

"Our town has stepped forward with a splendid surge of interest and support for new, immediate emphasis on industrial development," Thompson continued, "and this meeting Friday night with all of us – friends and neighbors meeting together – is for the purpose of carrying this action to success."

The three committees, which moved into action through the cooperation of business men throughout the community, have been busy in three separate projects, all tied to the same objective.

They have been working specifically with an industrial contact, but their work is aimed also toward developing a full-time industrial development program for the future as well as the immediate.

New directors will join hold-over directors in a meeting Monday to choose a new president for 1969 to be honored at the Jan. 16 banquet along with 1968 president, Jim Kelley.

'The Messiah' At 7 P.M. Friday

Community singers to present Handel's "Messiah" here Friday evening have announced a change in time for the sacred music program.

The program will be sung at 7 p.m. in First Baptist Church auditorium instead of at 7:30 as originally scheduled. Change in time was made, said Curtis Baker, to allow citizens in the congregation to attend the 8 p.m. Communitywide meeting in Civic House.

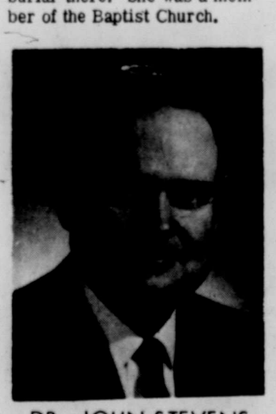

Baker directs the music from "The Messiah," with Mrs. Baker as organ accompanist. Singers are from all parts of the community.

Ten choruses from the oratorio will be sung by the 36-member mixed choir.

Of "The Messiah," Baker said, "Although composed in 1741 by George Frederick Handel, the oratorio retains its original freshness, vigor and beauty to the highest degree.

"The Messiah represents the ripened product of Handel's genius and is inspired throughout. It is widely sung and rightly considered one of the most glorious manifestations of the Christian faith," Baker said.

The public is invited to hear its local presentation.

Atheneum Study Club Has Health Program

Atheneum Study Club of Loraine heard a program on Today's Health in the home of Mrs. B. H. Johnson, Dec. 3.

A study of Plastic Surgery was presented by Mrs. W. A. Taylor.

"Plastic Surgery is nothing new," began Mrs. Taylor. "It was used in Egypt and India thousands of years ago to improve man's looks."

Cosmetic, or Plastic Surgery can improve ones looks, but also has its limitations, its dangers, and its costs in discomforts and dollars, continued Mrs. Taylor, but it also has its rewards. It may correct breathing difficulties, sagging eyelids, protruding ears, and other disfigurements.

"It will not serve as a cure-all for one who blames his appearance for lack of success in life – but if the patient feels that his looks have been improved, his personality also improves, and that gives him an extra measure of self confidence to enable him to face life more happily," the speaker said.

Mrs. C. H. Martin discussed "Tomorrow's Transplants."

It was just about one year ago, she said, that the first heart transplant in history was made in South Africa. Other human organ transplants that have been done are eye, lungs, liver, kidney. The era of widespread kidney transplantation began in 1963.

"Much research is now in progress in the field of human organ transplants," she said.

Perhaps the most pressing need of this research, is for a method of preserving these transplants in healthy condition until needed by a patient. This need is being investigated in a number of medical centers. It can be expected that short term organ preservation will become possible in the not too distant future, she added.

"It is not likely that transplantation, as long as it holds out a promise of life, will be abandoned," Mrs. Martin concluded.

Mrs. Hal Bennett was program moderator and led the club Collect, and presented the speakers. Roll call was a first aid hint.

Mrs. T. J. Riden conducted a short business session. Members were reminded of the Club Project to plant a tree in the City Park on Arbor Day. Gifts were brought for the State Hospital in Big Spring.

The hostess served refreshments to twelve members: Mrs. Hal Bennett, Mrs. Lily Bennett, Mrs. Percy Bond, Mrs. Glen Coon, Mrs. T. L. Finley, Mrs. C. R. Green, Mrs. Woodrow Pratt, Mrs. W. A. Taylor, Mrs. Cora Johnson, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Riden and the hostess.

A SALUTE TO Our YOUTH

You don't find these young people at draft card burnings, beach resort rumbles or LSD dens. They are generally too busy being good citizens to have time for such foolishness. Their aims and ideals remarkably resemble the lofty ideas which helped establish this land. Their ideas of industry and thrift are surprisingly similar to the habits practiced by the pioneers who carved a nation out of a wilderness.

We are unblushingly proud of these young people and others like them for on them rests the hope of the future. And day to day as we see these young people at their appointed tasks . . . the future begins to look brighter.

Bilberry Home Hit By Fire

Fire in the living room area of the Henry Bilberry home at 721 East 9th St. damaged the floor, base boards, ceiling, and partially destroyed the north wall during the noon hour Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bilberry were away from home, lunching with the Kiwanis Club, when the fire was discovered.

Fire was confined to the living room where workmen had been installing new carpeting Tuesday morning. All the house received extensive smoke damage, said Virgil Eaton, fire marshal, and Mr. Bilberry.

Mr. and Mrs. Bilberry are living temporarily at the Villa Inn until the fire and smoke damage to their home can be repaired.

Wolves Win 70-41

Coach Caddo Matthews' Colorado High School Wolf basketball team whipped the Ballinger High School team by a score of 70 to 41, Tuesday night, at Ballinger.

Randy Parker was high man in the game with 19 points. Ballinger's Howard McDaniels scored 9 points for the losers.

Wolves took third place last weekend in the Slaton Invitational Tournament when they went down to Dunbar High of Lubbock by a narrow 2 points.

Parker was one of five players named to the all-tournament team.

Morris Urges Mail Now

Postmaster A. M. Morris is urging Colorado City residents to start their Christmas shopping and mailing now.

"The Post Office will be hard pressed to handle the tremendous volume of Christmas mail expected," he said.

He noted that selections are better early in the season, shopping is more enjoyable, and one can be assured that his mail will be delivered before Christmas.

"Literally billions of pieces of mail will be delivered between now and Christmas. If everyone were to wait until the last week to mail their gifts and greetings, postal facilities would be severly overloaded," he said.

"More important, special greetings would not be delivered on time. Public Cooperation is the key to fast and on-time delivery at this time of the year."

BILLY ROSE

He asked citizens to purchase and mail gifts as soon as possible and to mail them with ZIP Codes.

Postmaster Morris also encouraged all persons receiving mail to make a special effort this year to up-date mailing lists by recording the ZIP Codes in return addresses of incoming mail.

"That's the easiest way to get the ZIP Codes you need. You can also look them up in our lobby ZIP Code Directory or call the post office," he said.

Billy Rose Graduates

Marine Private Billy E. Rose, 19, of Route 1, Loraine, was graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego, Calif.

He will now undergo from two to four weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps assignment.

The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M-14 rifle and 45-caliber pistol are equally stressed, and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps teamwork.

A thorough study of basic military subjects, hygiene, first aid and sanitation, and the customs, courtesies, history and mission of the Marine Corps serve to polish the new Marine's recruit education and prepare him to join the Marine combat forces.

Hesperian Club Names Nominating Committee

A new nominating committee for Hesperian Study Club was named Friday during a meeting of the group in the home of Mrs. S. O. Wulfjen.

Mrs. E. H. Winn was chosen as chairman of the committee.

Serving with her will be Mrs. Lynn Halbert and Mrs. Bennett Scott.

Club members voted to endorse Miss Maynette Davis as candidate for Mesquite District scholarship recipient. They also voted to accept an invitation from Zetagathian Study Club to attend a federation guest day program Jan. 9 in Medallion Room.

Roll call was answered with each member telling her favorite Bible scripture. Mrs. E. M. Majors conducted a Bible quiz.

Mrs. J. W. Watson presented the program concerning status of women of the Bible reviewing "One Woman – Eve".

"There is no sentence in all literature more majestic than the first sentence in Genesis," Mrs. Watson began as she reviewed the creation of the world, man and woman.

"Though Eve fell short of the ideal in womanhood," the group was told, "she rose to the dream of her destiny as a wife and mother.

"Paradise had been lost. She knew that. But something wonderful, maternal care, had been born. In Eve motherhood became a great sacrifice and a sublime service."

The winged creatures and the animals in the Garden of Eden achieved their motherhood lightly, Mrs. Watson explained, but for Eve, though, motherhood was often achieved at the price of anguish, it became her sacred responsibility.

A guest for the afternoon meeting was Mrs. A. R. Carter.

Members attending were Mrs. Winn, Mrs. O. L. Simpson, Mrs. Sam Thompson, Mrs. Halbert, Mrs. G. D. Foster.

Miss Gladys Miller, Mrs. C. C. Thompson, Mrs. Watson.

Also, Mrs. Majors, Mrs. Bennett Scott, Mrs. E. M. Miller and the hostess, Mrs. Wulfjen.

Which Is It ... Only A House Or Your Home?

Proud of your house, aren't you, with central heating, wall-to-wall carpet, modern kitchen, gadgets galore.

But is it a home? There's a difference, you know.

All the wizardry of man can't make a home out of four walls unless there is love inside -- the kind of love which understands, binds, heals and holds a family together just because they want to be together.

You can't find it at the lumber yard or in the refrigerator or on a monthly installment plan. Only in church.... through Christian faith.

That's why the smallest bungalow often is the sturdiest, happiest home when a giant mansion is not. The people who live there live with God, renewing their faith and seeking His blessing in church... regularly.

Loraine Students See Demonstration

A fire prevention demonstration was presented to high school students at Loraine Dec. 3 in the school cafeteria.

The demonstration was presented by Joe Smetana, safety director of Texas Farm Bureau, and Stanley Hackfeld, who was serving as the school's junior fire marshal.

The program was sponsored by Mitchell County Farm Bureau as part of a long-range fire prevention program now being conducted by the Texas FB Safety Department.

Smetana used a variety of demonstration equipment and materials to dramatize seven basic facts about fire, its use and control – what fire is, how to control fires, the fact that nothing is fire-proof, kitchen fires and their control, fuel vapors, power of petroleum products and household wiring and overloaded electrical circuits.

He emphasized that fire depends on fuel, heat and air and that these three things come together in deadly and destructive combination every 57 seconds – an average of 1,500 home fires every day, causing more than 500 deaths in home fires every year.

He reported that many fires caused by overloaded electrical circuits and improper fusing are blamed on faulty wiring.

Smetana suggested that "faulty thinking" is involved more often than "faulty wiring".

A special guest during the school assembly was John Tiller, president of Mitchell County Farm Bureau.

Mrs. Thompson Is Speaker For Zeta Delta Club Meet

Mrs. Charles C. Thompson was guest speaker last Thursday evening for a meeting of Zeta Delta Study Club in the home of Mrs. Cullen Davis.

Before discussing her topic, "Texan in the White House", Mrs. Thompson emphasized the importance of accepting responsibility as citizens of America.

"Regardless of the political party we choose," the speaker urged, "get involved because our future America depends on what we do as young citizens."

Lyndon B. Johnson, our Texan in the White House has cast a lengthening shadow over American history for more than a generation, Mrs. Thompson began.

"Eastern critics have lampooned him as petulant, impetuous, unsophisticated," Mrs. Thompson said, "however, to his admirers he ranks with Franklin Roosevelt in vision and achievement."

She listed accomplishments and disappointments for Johnson in the last five years.

She said war which he inherited kept him from progressing in areas of social legislation as he planned but he believes the U. S. is doing what it must under it's obligations under the Southeast Asia Treaty.

She named another achievement as the passing of the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

"He believes that social changes brought about at home by legislation bearing his imprint was one of his greatest contributions," the group heard.

"In late autumn of 1967 the picture changed because of the growing uneasiness in Congress.

"It seemed to be his darkest hour as his former supporters changed sides," Mrs. Thompson said. "There was campus demonstrations, picketing of draft induction centers, peace marches on pentagon, etc.

"Politically, Johnson appeared to be in trouble.

"Still at the controls, he shocked the world by announcing that he would neither seek nor accept his party's nomination in 1968.

"All Americans agree that he remained one of the least predictable men to ever occupy the White House."

Mrs. Thompson concluded her talk by relating a personal visit with the President and Mrs. Johnson at Johnson City.

She described both President and Mrs. Johnson as hospitable and unspoiled by elevation by the highest position of public trust. She said the President is a devoted family man and loves the Hill Country.

Mrs. Johnson was named as her husband's ablest advisor and critic.

Guests in addition to Mrs. Thompson for the evening club meet were Mrs. Larry Ivy, Mrs. Mike Hart and Mrs. Charles Walker.

Members present were Mrs. Hubert Bassinger, Mrs. Jackie Corbell, Mrs. Don Fite, Mrs. Dale Geiger, Mrs. Bobby Nobles.

Mrs. Eddie Piland, Mrs. Tom Rees, Mrs. Dave Sanders, Mrs. Doug Simmons, Mrs. Dennis Wright and Mrs. Davis.

Goss Gets Ft. Hood Recognition

Specialist Fourth Class Thomas J. Goss III recently received a letter of commendation from staff and faculty of United States Army Artillery and Missile School at Fort Hood.

The letter commended Goss for his superior performance of duty qualifying him as "honor graduate of the Master Mechanic Course, Class Number 3-69 of United States Army Artillery and Missile School".

"Your average percentage grade was 96.73 per cent," the letter continued.

"This achievement was the result of the energy application, technical proficency and sound judgement which you exhibited throughout the course."

Goss, 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Goss II of 933 East Sixth Street, is a Colorado High School graduate and attended Angelo State College in San Angelo.

He was an honor graduate from "I" Corps Artillery specialist academy in Korea in September, 1967.

He and his wife, the former Ida Jean Bassham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Bassham of 1344 Elm Street, now live in Copperas Cove near Fort Hood.

Sue Opens Flower Shop Here

Sue's Flower Shop, owned and operated by Mrs. Tommy Christon of West Highway 80, is a new Colorado City business recently opened.

Mrs. Christon (Sue) has been working with flowers as a hobby for about five years on a part-time basis because as she says, "I like to work with flowers."

Her interest grew when she completed a flower arrangement study course by correspondence.

She has now opened Sue's Flower Shop on a commercial basis. The shop is located in a red brick house adjacent to the Christon home, six miles from town on the west side of Lake Colorado City road, at the Interstate 20 intersection.

The shop will specialize in personal attention to flower arrangements, flowers for parties, showers, and flower decorations for home and church weddings.

Mrs. Edna Neeley, mother of Mrs. Christon, will assist with the florist shop.

Collection Of Gifts Underway

Collection Center for gifts to less privileged families at Christmas is open each day from 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the old library building, corner of 1st and Elm Sts., downtown.

The center is being sponsored by Mitchell County Ministerial Alliance with Colorado City Jaycees in charge of the toy department.

Gifts needed to help fill Christmas baskets to be delivered Dec. 22 are good used clothing, shoes, linens and household items, canned foods.

Mrs. R. C. Hamilton, hostess at the Christmas Collection Center, and volunteer workers are sorting items by size.

Toys—used or new—are wanted by Jaycees to help make Christmas happier for less fortunate children in the county.

Sunday School classes, civic organizations and clubs wanting to give a Christmas basket are asked to work through the list being compiled by the Ministerial Alliance who hope to see that baskets are delivered to homes where the most need exists.

Telephone has now been installed in the Christmas Collection Center. The number is 728-3679.

CONVERSATION CORNER

NOTE with proper pride that when Preston Smith of Lubbock takes the oath of office as new Governor of Texas, come January 21, he'll do it against a Western background.

Western-style inauguration is being planned by Lt. Governor Ben Ramsey and Dr. Elmer C. Baum, both of Austin. They have announced country and Western music for some of the inaugural balls. How 'bout that ?

Furthermore, entertainers invited for the victory dinner, Jan. 30, are Jimmy Dean, old Plainview boy who is now a famous country-Western singer. . .Glen Campbell, Eddy Arnold. (Also Robert Goulet for goodness sake !)

Everything's gonna be Texas-sized with a giant parade and a welcome mat the size of Texas, they're saying down in Austin.

Whoopee ! West Texas takes over the capital city. These boots are made for dancing.

WEST TEXAS.

What do you think about when you hear our part of the country called that ?

Born in deep East Texas where the postoaks tickled the clouds and tall cedars talked to the stars, I had never seen West Texas until I up and married me a West Texan.

West Texas. Well, when I hear it now there comes, sudden as a hail storm, the distinct pictures West Texas holds for the heart.

Picture of the prairie where Indian Blankets grow. . . scattered small hills green with juniper trees. Sometimes us West Texans call them "scrub cedar."

WEST TEXAS ?

It's cotton and cattle and the pumping of the oil wells with nodding machines looking like giant grasshoppers at feeding time.

It is the sunset of scarlet, seeming near enough to touch. It is lambing time. It is coyote (pronounced ki-oat) tales hanging on a barbed wire fence.

West Texas is feathery Tamarack growing all along the edges of sullen, muddy rivers. Most of us call it "salt cedar."

It is man made lakes, flat and long-fingered like a mammoth hand.

It is the chapparal or paisano. . .racing down a country road. Nearly all of us call him the "road runner."

West Texas is a rattlesnake hunt. A rodeo. West Texas is a deer lease. . .a field of yucca even though we call it "bear grass." West Texas is the cactus flower. Part of them we refer to as "prickly pear."

WEST TEXAS ?

Why, it's ranch communities, towns, small cities where people say "Howdy."

West Texas is a barbecue. It is mesquite trees, reliable weather forecasters.

It is also the private plane on many a spread. . .the wide highways. . .the school bus shuttling children. It is the quarterhorse and pickup, the Cadillac and tractor.

It is music at the drop of a ten-gallon hat. It is church on Sunday.

WHAT do you think about when you hear yourself called West Texan ?

Most of all, of the people in West Texas. People well acquainted with sun. People who wear traces of wind almost always in the face and hair.

People who'll plow if a neighbor is sick. People who care and know how to show it whether they know how to say it or not.

West Texas is cotton gins and oil mills and refineries. It is cross-country buses. It is kids in college.

But more than all those, West Texas is her people. Men. . . women. . . boys, girls, babies. . .loving the land they share whether anybody else in the world understands or can see why or not.

Brush off that welcome mat down there in Austin. Tune up those "git-tars." West Texan Preston Smith of Lubbock is saying "Y'all come."

And Washington D. C. was never like Austin, Texas, will be if all of us West Texans take him up on it.

WEEKEND guests in the home of Glade and Wilson Hrbacek were his son Jimmy Hrbacek, Jimmy's wife Joy, and their children Scot, Shel, and Doug, of Dallas.

Mrs. John Brown and Mrs. Roy Davis Coles have had as guest their sister Lucy who is Mrs. H. W. Hanks of Berkeley, California. She's visiting for now in homes of the Hanks family at Sweetwater and Nolan.

SEEN LATELYS included Barbara Gray (Mrs. Carroll). . . the Joe Morrens. . .Judge Austin McCloud. . .Mrs. L. W. Rhodes of Loraine. . .Emily (Mrs. Dub) Waldrip on the shopping scene.

Saw Inez Howell (Mrs. Graydon) in the downtown area. . . Sheriff Lewis Claxton window shopping. . .Loree Mann (Mrs. Charles) admiring an elegant stereo.

Dorothy Rowland (Mrs. Bryan) working at Kirschbaum's. . . Mildred Mann Boyd at the Corner.

Heard a favorite voice and turned to see FP (Favorite Person) Emmabeth Thompson, wife of Charlie. . .She and Linnie Thompson, wife of Sam, were buying Christmas goodies.

BRIEF ENCOUNTERS brought greetings from Virginia (Mrs. Raymond) Fuller just back from working with Christmas decorations for the Country Club.

Met her daughter, cute Judy Myers, shopping for a hot-pink notebook at Maniss Supply.

Mrs. Les Terry of the L.T.N.S. (Long Time No See) department was on the shopping scene. . .Bill Holbert, too. Another time, another place chatted with Bill's wife Jean and youngest daughter Ann. . .Ida and Maurice Kirschbaum and grandson Joe.

FAMILIAR FACES, all around places, were worn by Elmer Martin, county judge, at lunch with Harvey Allen, Lamesa architect.

Gwen Wistrand (Mrs. Dick) and Mrs. Harris Hamilton of Loraine, coordinator for the Community Action Program were in a lunch hour twosome.

Pat McKinney was an office dropin. . .Buddy Lindsey. . . Mrs. Weldon Hardegree. . .Nell (Mrs. Bennett) Scott.

HEAR TELL that our Toby Dearen is improving fast now after a recent heart attack.

Hear, too, that Calvary Baptist Church members and friends have received a Christmas letter from the Don Laing family who are in San Paulo, Brazil. Don, former Calvary Baptist pastor, is a Southern Baptist missionary and is also to work in the Baptist Publishing House.

The Laing family expects to move to Rio in early February. Don and his wife Barbara will finish their language school in January but will continue to study Portugese when they reach Rio de Janeiro.

Paul and Jan, the older children, will go to the American School. DeWretha will go to a Brazilian school. The smallest Laing, Sonya, is still a pre-schooler.

KEEP IT MERRY

Nothing takes the merry out of Christmas any more than the face of a little child turned up wishfully . . .but left out when others are playing with new toys and eating good things.

There will be kids like that, though, within out community this season unless all of us take time to fill baskets for their needy families.

Our Ministerial Alliance, bless 'em, has opened headquarters in the old library at Elm & First, where you can deliver food and clothes and toys.

Let us all give so there will be none of those faces with empty stomachs to mar our vision Christmas Day.

Council also approved a contract with the Community Action Program to furnish space for the CAP Neighborhood Center. The program coordinator and aides will occupy 2,000 sq.

and aides will occupy 2,000 square feet of the city-owned Community Center on East 10th St., a building of 7,000 square feet.

Councilmen estimate the city's donation of space for the CAP to be worth approximately $500 per month contributed as the city's 10 percent share in financial cost of the program.

Federal funds from Office of Economic Opportunity fiance 90 percent of the Community Action program.

J. A. Sadler, Jr., city manager, told the Colorado City Record Tuesday that the rural fire fighter, bought new in 1962, "Will likely be repaired.

"A new one," he said, "Would cost at least $3,000. And if we consider a new fire truck it should be the bigger one which is an older model than the rural equipment."

Virus Kills Duke Baby

Funeral services are pending for Rebecca Samantha Duke, the four-month-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Duke, 843 Vine St., with Kiker and Son Funeral Home in charge.

The baby was discovered dead in her crib about 8 a.m. Tuesday by her mother, who rushed her to a clinic.

Autopsy performed in Abilene, at request of the parents, revealed that the infant died of virus pneumonia.

The Duke family moved to Colorado City one month ago. Mr. Duke is a driver for Steere Tank Co.

Surviving the baby are her parents, one brother and one sister; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Devine, paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Warren, all of Austin.

present the teachers association.

"That's as far as we can go tonight," Latimer told the teacher delegation. I hope we can come up with something beneficial to all concerned."

Mrs. Hunter reported to the board that the association membership included 87 of the district's 88 professional teachers. In a referendum with printed ballots, 68 of the 87 members voted.

Sixty-six favored an agreement between the teachers and the school board.

Sixty-six also voted for a teacher committee of the association to represent in an agreement plan.

Fifty-nine of the teachers said they would serve on an agreement committee representing their association if called upon.

Only two of the 68 teachers voting said "no" to the agreement proposal.

Nineteen teachers did not return ballots, neither voicing an opinion for or against the proposal.

Jimmy Henderson, one of a group of citizens attending the board meeting, said he had been a member of a union in previous years and urged caution in the move which he described as a "union."

"If this is local," he spoke, "then okay. It is a good thing.

"But we should not bring in outside union help. We can solve our problems here at home.

"I think there is a need for better communications and this may be the thing."

He suggested also that no teacher be selected on the final agreement committee (if the plan is later adopted) who has not had tenure here within the local system.

Brownfield, board members and Supt. McMath stated that the discussions were preliminary to explore the possiblity of an amicable agreement that would work toward better school program.

Board members left no doubt they were cautious as to the move and implication involved.

In a separate action concerning teacher relations, the board approved the appointment of nine teachers to a new education policy committee, recommended by Supt. James G. McMath.

They are Mrs. A. G. Furlow, and Mrs. Earlene Sellier, Primary; Mrs. Newby Pratt and Mrs. Lawrence Ruddick, Hutchinson; Lanny Brentz, Wallace; Mrs. Arnel Smith and Mrs. Doug Chitsey, Junior High; Miss Kathryn Wilson and Miss Ann Carwile.

"This will be an advisory committee for the superintendent," McMath told the board. "It is hoped that through this committee to establish lines of communication for all our professional staff.

"Its work will not be confined to any topic.

"The advice will be listened to and considered wisely," the superintendent emphasized.
