Foundry Reopens Tuesday

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (AP)—Perfect Circle Corp. reopened its piston ring foundry today with troops and five pickets patrolling together in a litter of stones and broken glass left from last Wednesday's strike riot.

About 70 workers entered the foundry as the doors were opened imposing martial law, protected all of New Castle and Hagerstown and two plants at Richmond.

Four tanks sat on the foundry parking lot here, facing the plant, where about 90 nonstrikers were evacuated by state police last Wednesday after an exchange of shots that wounded eight persons. Half a dozen guardsmen carrying rifles walked patrols outside the foundry fence.

Only five pickets, without placards, marched quietly at the foundry gate, contrasted with an estimated 5,000 sympathizers who touched off the riot last week which prompted Gov. George N. Craig to send in guardsmen.

The CIO United Auto Workers union has been on strike against Perfect Circle here and at Hagerstown and Richmond, Ind., since July 25 in a contract dispute.

The company's decision to reopen came after Gov. George N. Craig proclaimed full martial law for New Castle and extended it to include all of surrounding Henry County, the town of Hagerstown and the Perfect Circle plant area in Richmond.

New Castle itself had been under modified martial law since the 600 guardsmen moved in last Wednesday.

The martial law order shut off all sale of liquor. Mass meetings were banned except for churches, schools and school athletics, movies, clubs and fraternal organizations. Carrying of weapons was banned except for authorities. No curfew was imposed.

Roadblocks were set up on all roads leading into New Castle with orders to stop all cars and confiscate all liquor and firearms.

The governor's order of full martial law was protested by the UAW, which called it "putting property rights above human rights." Union officials stayed away from a negotiation session which had been arranged by federal mediators.

"We refuse to attend any meetings within the shadow of fixed bayonets and Sherman tanks," said Don Ballard, Indianapolis regional publicity director for the UAW.

The foundry, which has a normal work force of 260, had about 100 workers inside last Wednesday when an estimated 5,000 strike sympathizers demonstrated outside. Shots were fired from both sides, and eight persons were wounded.

The foundry previously had been closed by pickets but had been reopened under a court order limiting the number of pickets to five. The Hagerstown and Richmond plants have been operating with part of their work force.

ON GUARD AT STRUCK FACTORY—Two members of the Indiana National Guard man a 50-caliber machine gun in an emplacement in front of the Perfect Circle Corp. foundry at New Castle, Indiana. Governor George Craig placed New Castle and two other towns under martial law after eight persons were wounded last week during a clash at the strike-bound plant.

Dulles Plans Talk With Ike

DENVER (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles called at Fitzsimons Army hospital today to join President Eisenhower in their first foreign policy conference since the President's heart attack Sept. 24.

Dulles entered the hospital after a 30 minutes conference with Sherman Adams, the President's chief deputy, and James C. Hagerty, White House news secretary.

Adams and Hagerty, as well as Carl McCardle, assistant secretary of state, accompanied Dulles to the hospital where he was to consult with presidential physicians in advance of a 15-minute meeting with the President.

The Eisenhower - Dulles conference centered primarily around the agenda for the foreign ministers' meeting opening at Geneva later this month, which Dulles will attend.

The secretary of state was to have a news conference at 11:30 a.m. MST. The conference marked the first presidential step back toward active directioin of the U. S. foreign policy.

A 7 a.m. medical bulletin said the chief executive "continues to progress satisfactorily without complications."

Advance indications were that Dulles would call on the President during the morning at Fitzsimons Army Hospital, spend about 15 minutes there, and then held a news conference at the Denver White House at Lowry Air Force Base.

The secretary flew here last night from Miami, Fla., where he addressed the annual convention of the American Legion. He said there the United States will go to the Geneva fireign ministers conference with two sets of plans, one to meet any Russian obstruction and the other to exploit any genuine Soviet harmony moves.

On arrival here aboard Eisenhower's private plane Columbine III, Dulles told newsmen at the airport:

"Just say my principal feeling at the moment is one of personal gladness that I shall be able to see the President again, and it is a very good sign that the doctors will let us have the kind of a conferences we'll have."

Dulles got to Denver as the President was ending another day of satisfactory progress in his slow convalescence—at a pace his physicians now say will keep him in the hospital for at least four more weeks and possibly five.

It was a day during which he got outside for the first time since he was stricken. His hospital bed was rolled onto a terrace near his eighth-floor room and he spent 30 minutes there basking in the warm autumn sunshine with a excellent view of the majestic Rocky Mountains to the west.

It was a day too during which he handled the biggest batch of government business since he was taken ill. Late in the afternoon he

1. Chose Harold S. Vance, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Studebaker-Packard Corp., to be a member of the Atomic Energy Commission. A 65-year-old Republican whose salary will be appointment which is subject to the Senate confirmation when Congress reconvenes.

2. Named Meyer Kestnbaum, head of the Hart, Schafner & Marx clothing firm, to be a special White House consultant serving without pay. Kestnbaum was chairman of the President's Committee on Federal-State Problems. Now he will advise Eisenhower on the recommendations of that committee, as well as on those made by the Hoover Commission on government reorganization.

3. Gave recess appointments and promotions to two service officers. Rear Adm. Charles R. Brown, now on the Joint Strategic Survey Committee, advances to vice admiral and becomes deputy commander and chief of staff of the U. S. Atlantic Fleet. Maj. Gen. Clyde D. Eddleman becomes a lieutenant general and takes over as deputy chief of the Army staff, in charge of plans.

4. Signed an executive order delegating to the Office of Defense Mobilization authority to release certain national stockpile materials for defense purposes in event of an enemy attack. The White House said the President's illness was not a factor in delegation of the authority.

5. Put his name to a proclamation officially designating tomorrow as Christopher Columbus Day.

6. Signed two other executive orders which the White House said would be made public later.

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, announced last week that Eisenhower's conference with Dulles today would deal exclusively with matters the President was familiar with before his heart attack.

For example, they planned to talk about the agenda for the forthcoming Geneva meeting of the foreign ministers of the United States, the Soviet Union, Great Britain and France.

The broad outline of that agenda was agreed upon at the summit conference held in Geneva last July. It included German unification, European security, disarmament and development of East-West contacts.

The President's physicians counted on today's conference as a morale booster. Referring to the session at a news conference here Sunday, Dr. Paul Dudley White, noted Boston heart specialist, said:

"I think it is going to be very helpful for the President, rather than the other way around. We feel quite sure that when a person worries and thinks over what he ought to be doing, it may do his nervous system, and thereby his circulation and heart, more harm than to have a little mental activity which is not going to be strenuous.

"But this is not going to be a rubber stamp conference either. He is going to be allowed to express his opinions. . . ."

Tire Company Has Walkout

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Employes of the General Tire and Rubber Co. went on a wildcat walkout today after a Negro worker was transferred to a department where only white persons had been employed previously.

Union and management officials worked together trying to stop the strike and said they had hopes of ending it sometime today.

The strike began at 6:30 p.m. yesterday, spread as succeeding shifts came to work until a total of 950 persons had left their jobs today.

Plant manager Howard Corsmo and H. D. Lynn, president of the United Rubber Workers Local 312 made appeals this morning to a mass meeting of workers.

Plan To Combine Air Forces Sought

By EDDY GILMORE

PARIS (AP)—Gen Alfred M. Gruenther today urged the free nations of Europe to integrate their air forces to meet any surprise attack by Russia.

Speaking to the defense ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organiation, the supreme commander described the present air command system as "archaic."

The integrated air force command he advocated would allow the West to be alerted and get off the ground with much greater speed than now possible.

Gruenther said the integrated command should be divided into four main areas: Northern European, Central Europe, Mediterranean and Britain.

Under the present Nato setup the various air forces are under national control. This also applies to civilian warning systems.

Gruenther told the ministers that in quality and quantity NATO was behind planned schedules, but added:

"If war should come today, Oct. 11, we probably would win, but I can't guarantee this will always be the same in the future."

The supreme allied commander said greater efforts, not lesser efforts, are needed.

"If we get into a war, there's no prize for second best," he said.

The general said, however, that NATO countries should show an understanding of the problem which faces France in North Africa. France has already recalled 64,000 reserves and has taken other steps to remedy the scarcity of French troops at the disposition of the NATO command, he said.

Gruenther said North Africa is not his responsibility but "an uneasy and an unsafe North Africa would be a definite threat to my task."

The ministers this afternoon will gather at the Palais de Chaillot to hear reports by the NATO standing group officers.

The defense ministers' conference yesterday heard British and American air and naval commanders warn that Russian military might was increasing constantly, particularly in jet planes, submarines and nuclear weapons.

The speakers qualified these warnings, however, by saying they do not believe the Russians want war—at least not as long as there is a strong deterrent in the West.

Board Denies Clemency For Mrs. Parsons

AUSTIN (AP)—The Pardons Board denied today an application for release of Mary Jean Parsons, serving 10 years for murder in the shooting of her husband in El Paso in 1952.

Clemency had been sought Thursday by her wealthy mother, Mrs. Jan Fleeger of Dallas.

Mrs. Fleeger's plea was supported by statements from a number of psychiatrists that Mrs. Parsons, 23, needs treatment not available at Goree State Farm for a mental condition diagnosed as schizophrenia.

Jack Ross, chairman of the board, said investigation "shows Mrs. Parson's adjustment to prison routine has been very good".

Her whole setup and demeanor show she is adjusting very nicely and she is in touch with what's going on—in touch with reality," Ross said. "She is an exceptionally well behaved prisoner and a leader in the prison farm."

Ross said the board did not have a written opinion in Mrs. Parsons' mental condition, but "we do have the opinion of our investigator, the warden and others down there as to whether she is acting in an abnormal manner."

"She has been a leader in the Goree Farm Garden Club, and she has been very helpful in establishing an Alcoholics Anonymous group although she is not an alcoholic herself. She helped organize the AA group merely to help others," Ross said.

He said Mrs. Parsons, who entered the prison Oct. 28, 1954, would have to serve six years to qualify for release without credit for such things as good behavior.

With her present good behavior classification, Mrs. Parsons would be eligible for consideration for parole after serving a total of two years. This means she will be entitled to consideration for parole about one year from now, but Ross emphasized that a prisoner is "not a cinch to be paroled automatically."

Mrs. Parsons was charged with shooting her husband, Lt. Richard Parsons, in Feb. 16, 1952. A judge ruled she was sane in El Paso four months later. A Wichita Falls jury convicted her a year after the shooting. She remained free almost another year while awaiting appeal decisions of the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Ambulance Arrives Late, Woman Dies

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mrs. James William Winsor, 21-year-old bride of 10 days, lay injured on a Hagerstown, Md., street for half an hour last week after an automobile accident.

An ambulance crew finally arrived, explaining it had just returned from a false alarm. Pranksters had summoned the ambulance to a highway out of town, leaving a catsup-spattered dummy at the designated spot.

Mrs. Winsor was taken to Washington County Hospital, then transferred to University Hospital in Baltimore for treatment of head injuries.

She died in the Baltimore hospital yesterday.

DULLES SPEAKS TO LEGIONAIRES — U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles raises his hands in response to applause from Legionnaires as he spoke at the opening session of the 37th annual American Legion Convention in Miami, Fla.

SPEAKER for the first activity in connection with Oil Progress Week here was Fred Husbands, executive vice-president and general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, who spoke to Snyder's oil products distributors, jobbers, bulk plant personnel, and service station operators. He called the station operators Snyder's "best ambassadors." (Lee Watson photograph)

Oil Progress Week Banquet Is Held

"You constitute the town's best ambassadors . . . many of the people who visit this town you see first and last," Fred Husbands of Abilene, executive vice - president and general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce told service station operators at an Oil Progress Week banquet here last night.

Husbands was speaking at the dinner given by Snyder's petroleum products distributors for service station operators and bulk plant personnel and their wives. It was the first of serveral activities this week in observance of Oil Progress Week.

Distributors and jobbers present at the banquet, which was attended by more than 100 persons, were Herman Doak, Gulf; Claude McCormick and two sons, Bob and Beecher McCormick, Phillips 66; J. H. Sullivan, Humble; Gay McGlaun and Alfred McGlaun, Texaco; Bill Line and Carrie Line, Standard of Texas; Leon Autry, Magnolia; Prentis Bass, Cosden; Carl Herod, Conoco; and Barber Johnson, Cities Service.

Husbands' main theme in his address was how the U. S. will develop by 1960 and what part the people who get petroleum products to the consumers will play in that development. For example, he pointed out that researchers have said that the average work week will be shorter and the average worker will earn more, so he will have more leisure time and more money to spend on such things as travel.

A team made up of 25 economic researchers and engineers found, among other things, that the average male citizen will work 37½ hours a week, have an annual income of $6,200, and will be able to buy numerous new conveniences, such as lighting which will turn on at the wave of a hand, three - dimension color movies, cars which prevent collisions electronically, and many other improvements.

Great strides will be made in medicine by 1960, such as "wonder" drugs at aspirin prices, bodies illuminated from the inside for surgery, and others.

In the big boom which is now started to provide all these things, West Texas will see a large industrial growth. Husbands stressed that service station operators have a large part in helping industry establish here, as well as work the tourist industry.

Master of ceremonies for the dinner was Bob Crowell. Mrs. Jay Hendren was guest soloist, singing "Temple Bells," "The Coo - Coo Clock," and "Danny Boy." She was accompanied by Bob Clinton.

Among guests was Mrs. Janette Newman, Snyder's oil progress queen.

The dinner was sponsored by the distributors and jobbers through cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce merchants committee.

The week's special activities will continue with oil progress programs at several civic club meetings.

On Saturday, oil-related businesses will display equipment beginning at 1 p.m. at the exhibit barn in Towle Memorial Park, and at 6:30 p.m. that day a barbecue will be held, followed by a program which will have W. J. (Bill) Murray, railroad commissioner, as main speaker. The program will also include presentation of a "magic suitcase," showing how many things are made from oil products.

Tickets for the barbecue and program are now on sale by the Chamber of Commerce, Desk & Derrick Club, and West Texas State Bank.

Communist Hurls Charge At Faure

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP)—A Communist charge that Premier Edgar Faure's government is using methods too harsh in trying to stamp out rebellion today opened the National Assembly's three-day debate on Algeria.

Pierre Fayet, a Communist deputy from Algeria, was first to take the speaker's stand.

Fayet said newspaper reports indicated there were scenes of horror in Philippeville as the French struck back at rebels who had slain scores of French in the uprising last Aug. 20.

He said the harshness of the French reprisals only aggravated the situation.

Premier Faure excused himself from attending all the debate. He said he lost so much time during last week's crucial Assembly debate on Morocco he had to catch up on his office work. Interior Minister Maurice Bourges-Mounoury was sitting on the government bench.

With the Communists the only faction favoring the Algerian nationalists, Faure was expected to win a grudging endorsement for his policy of military action against the terrorists and guerrillas.

The Assembly has approved home rule for France's other North African territories, the protectorates of Tunisia and Morocco, but unlike them Algeria constitutionally is a part of France itself. The bulk of the deputies neither want to let the territory go nor give its eight million Moslems the same rights that the 1,230,000 residents of European origin enjoy.

The Algerian French, for example, elect 16 deputies to the French National Assembly while the Moslems—more than six times as numerous—name only 12.

One strong sentimental factor in Faure's favor was his withdrawal of France's delegation to the U. N. General Assembly after it voted 28-27 to debate the Algerian situation. The walkout was widely popular in France, and the deputies would be reluctant to repudiate the government on any questiin connected with it.

The grim daily reports of terrorist activity in Algeria continued to flow across the Mediterranean. At Bouderbala a dozen rebels armed with Tommy guns and rifles shot down a native municipal councilor in the market square. At Douar Souhalia 15 terrorists set a grocery store afire and cut a 17-year-old girl's throat. Near Marnia the bodies of three kidnaped Moslems of French citizenship were found under a pile of stones, their throats cut.

The French struck back at a band which raided the European residential district at Jemmapes, killing three and taking 30 others prisoner.

In the other North African hot spot, Morocco, French businessmen and shopkeepers went back to work today after a 24-hour strike protesting the government's plans to meet the nationalist demands for home rule. The strike was particularly effective in Casablanca, the protectorate's big port and commercial center where strong-arm gangs of French toughs helped to close shops.

Credit Union Proposed For Teachers Here

An organizational meeting has been called for 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Snyder High School study hall for all school employes interested in the Scurry County Schools Federal Credit Union.

The meeting was called by the Snyder Classroom Teachers Association, which had previously adopted as a project the forming of a credit union here. One previous meeting has been held, and sufficient participation was assured at that time for chartering the credit union.

Daniel Martin, high school distributive education teacher will be moderator for the meeting. Here to discuss organization of the union will be Ray Irsland of the Federal Credit Union Agency at Dallas.

Martin said the union will complete its organization and elect officers at the meeting. The union will be open to all school employes in the county, whether they are teachers, bus drivers, cafeteria workers, maintenance personnel or others. There are four schools in the county and more than 250 employes.

Purposes of such a credit union will be explained at the meeting. Through such a union, school employes may invest their money on a savings plan which will start out possibly paying three per cent interest during the first year but will build up to not more than six per cent. The union will loan money at the interest rate of one per cent of the unpaid balance per month, which will amount to about six and one-half per cent, Martin said.

The union, after it has built up its funds, will be able to loan a maximum of 10 per cent of its assets to one person. In its beginning stages, directors will set maximum loans.

The union will elect its own treasurer to handle the funds.

18 Injured In Explosion

MARCUS HOOK, Pa. (AP)—An explosion rocked a low-pressure receiving unit of the Sinclair Oil Co. refinery in nearby Trainer yesterday and showered workers and supervisors with liquid fire, injuring at least 18 men, four critically.

Flames poured out of the unit and covered those closest to the explosion. Homes and stores in a 20-square-block area were shaken.

A company spokesman said a bad break had developed in a gasoline line in the basement of the receiving unit and the explosion occurred while 8 to 12 men, mostly supervisors, tried to repair it.

The receiving house, a 20 by 40-foot brick and steel building was wrecked. The flames were put out in about an hour and a half.

The receiving unit takes in and dispenses a variety of petroleum products after the refining process. It handles an average of 50,000 barrels of oil daily. Some 1,450 persons are employed at the refinery.

The blast occurred a few minutes after the day force had left the plant but some of the workers upon hearing the explosion rushed back and helped fight the fire.

There was no estimate of damage.

Zoning Ordinance Passed By Council

A city zoning ordinance for Snyder was passed on second and final reading by unanimous vote of the full city council in a special meeting which began at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The meeting had been called by Mayor Malven K. Stevenson one week earlier for purpose of considering the second reading of the ordinance.

J. L. (Broadway) Browning, councilman, in making the motion that the ordinance be passed on second reading included the stipulation that the ordinance become effective in approximately 45 days, with the actual effective date to be Dec. 1.

The motion was seconded by Dr. Robert H. Hargrove. All councilmen voted for passage of the ordinance. The ordinance had been passed unanimously on first reading when it was considered the first Monday night of September.

Earlier the city planning and zoning commission had unanimously recommended the ordinance to the council, after the commission had worked for more than one year on drafting the ordinance.

At a public meeting held by the commission and council only one person appeared to protest passage of the ordinance, and his objections were mild.

Reason for the delay in making the new zoning ordinance effective is to give Roy Dunlap, city manager, a chance to set up an effective administration of the ordinance, and to give the council time to select five men to serve on a oning board of adjustment, called for in the ordinance.

The board of adjustment will serve as a final city judicial board for the ordinance, hearing appeals for amendments to the ordinance from individuals who wish to get their property classifications changed, and hearing other questions which may arise because of the ordinance.

In addition to passing the zoning ordinance, the council heard a report from Dunlap that the fire warning siren in southwest Snyder had been relocated to a point 150 feet west of its former location near the home of the minister of the Thirty-seventh Street Church of Christ.

Names of a list of 14 applicants for the position of chief of Snyder police were read by Dunlap, and a meeting later this week was called to allow each applicant a personal appearance before the council.

Imogene Coca Gives Up Big TV Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—Imogene Coca, the comedienne who made a sensational television success as Sid Caesar's sidekick, has voluntarily given up a multi-million dollar contract with NBC following failure of her own individual program last year.

Her contract with the network guaranteed her a minimum of $100,000 a year and still had nine years to run. Last year she received about $500,000.

NBC pleaded with her not to relinquish the contract, even though she has not been appearing on any program this season.

However, Miss Coca said:

"I told them I already had thought it over thoroughly, and simply wished to have my freedom.

"Funny, isn't it, that getting loose from a $100,000 guarantee every year should be my idea of freedom?

"But now I can do what I want. I love television, but the show I did on my own (after the parting from Caesar, who now has his own program) wasn't what I wished it to be.

"I couldn't do anything I wanted in any other medium — stage, screen or night clubs—without first having to satisfy my NBC contract limitations. Now I can make my moves without thinking only of television."

Miss Coca did not say so, but it was believed the deaths this year of her mother and her husband might have had some influence on her decision.

She said she plans now to appear for a $60,000, three-week engagement at a Las Vegas, Nev., hotel beginning Nov. 1. Before that, however, she will "break in" the act—a small revue-type show—in Dallas, Tex., from Oct. 21 to 29.

Miss Coca and Caesar scored a tremendous sucess on NBC's "Show of Shows," in which they were teamed five years and won countless awards.

Of her decision to leave the network, NBC said:

"We were not anxious for Imogene to leave, even though her show last season was not successful."

Transit Strike Ties Up Buses

ST. LOUIS (AP)—All streetcars and buses in St. Louis were tied up today by a strike of AFL operators of the Public Service Co., forcing about 200,000 persons to walk or hitch a ride to work.

The strike was voted unanimously by some 1,400 union members last night.

The union rejected a 12-cent-an-hour wage increase across the board, to be granted over a 27-month period. That was the recommendation by a special mediation panel set up July 12 to end the prolonged deadlock.

John Rowland, recording secretary of the union, declared the panel's recommendation was "worse" than previous company offers.

The 12-cent hike compared with an across-the-board increase of 26 cents an hour which had been asked for the AFL Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes, Local 788.

After the old contract expired last March 1 and the union turned down two offers by the company, the special three-man panel took over.

Affected are 1,921 bus and streetcar operators now receiving $1.87 an hour and 544 nonoperating union employes, some receiving more and some less than the operators.

Texan Named For Yugoslav Aid Position

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—H. H. Williamson, retired Agriculture Department official and former director of the Texas Extension Service, has been selected to help Yugoslavia set up an extension service in that country.

The International Cooperation Administration (ICA) disclosed today that the Yugoslav government had approved the choice for the assignment and only final negotiation of a contract is required before Williamson leaves for Europe.

Williamson, who has been in the real estate business in Bryan, since his retirement from federal service months ago, is an authority on modern farming techniques.

He is expected to pattern an extension service in Yugoslavia after that which has been operated through the Agriculture Department in this country for many years.

The extension service provides technical advice and assistance to farmers throughout the United States through agents assigned to counties. Williamson has been in this work most of the time since his graduation from Texas A&M in 1911.

Williamson has been here for some time conferring with officials in the ICA division which provides technical assistance to foreign nations in agricultural production.

The ICA has a contract with Texas A&M under which a number of faculty members of that college are now helping organize a modern agricultural education system in east Pakistan.

D. W. Williams, vice chancellor for agriculture at Texas A&M, is expected to go to east Pakistan soin to check up on the educational program.

GOP Funds Are Sought

NEW YORK (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall says that even if President Eisenhower does not run in 1956, the GOP will win with the help of "Ike's philosophy, personality and the record of his administration."

And if the President should decide to seek re-election, Hall said yesterday, he will "sweep the country just as he did four years ago."

Hall told a "Pulse of the Nation" luncheon, given by New York's National Republican Club, that only the President could say whether he will seek re-election. "We must leave that decision entirely to the President himself," Hall said.

He said he had no idea when Eisenhower would announce his plans, but he thought the President's heart attack might prompt an earlier announcement than would normally be expected.

In foreign affairs, Hall said, the President has brought in a "bold and dynamic" policy to replace "indecision and fumbling."

On the domestic scene, he said, "more Americans are working at more jobs, making more money with more take-home pay and more value to their dollar to buy more good things of life than ever in our history."

"And it hasn't taken a war for America to be prosperous," he added. "The Republican party represents prosperity with peace. The New and Fair Deals were never able to achieve prosperity without war, or peace without unemployment and depression."

Court Charge Is Regretted By Lawyers

AUSTIN (AP)—Two groups of lawyers said yesterday they resented and regretted recent criticism of Judge Lloyd Davidson and the Court if Criminal Appeals.

Speaking up were the lawyers of Davidson's hometown of Greenville and the Bar Assn. of Sulphur Springs and Hopkins County.

The court and Davidson set off a flurry Wednesday when they knocked out 104 indictments returned by a Duval County grand jury probing alleged corruption in the South Texas political area of George Parr.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd and Dist. Atty. Sam Burris of Alice had directed prompt and sharp criticism at the court's action. They said a motion for rehearing would be filed and they might ask the court to disqualify Davidson on grounds he had expressed an opinion in the case before becoming a voting judge on the court. Davidson for 10 years was a commissioner on the court before his election as a judge last summer.

Thirteen attorneys including Dist. Atty. O. S. Moore and County Atty. Bill Pemberton of Hunt County said they regretted that "politicians have seen fit to abuse" the judge and the court.

They said the integrity and honor of the judge and the court should not have been brought into question by politicians.

Their remarks were in a telegram to The Associated Press.

T. J. Ramey and Neal McKay, president and secretary of the Hopkins County Bar Assn., also sent a telegram to The Associated Press saying the association unanimously resented the "impugning of the integrity of Hon. L. W. Davidson, a former resident of this county by self-seeking politicians."

"We have abiding confidence and faith in his honor and integrity. We can vouch for his sincerity. We believe the opinion of Judges Davidson and Morrison was prompted by a fearless and honest performance of their legal duty," they said.

The court's majority opinion by Davidson and presiding Judge W. A. Morrison had ruled the Duval County grand jury was illegally constituted. Judge K. K. Woodley dissented.

Burris was quoted in Houston later as saying Parr had supported Davidson in the 1954 elections. Davidson said his opinion was the result of his "open and fair consideration." He insisted he was not disqualified in the case.

Man Has Troubles On Cotton Patch

CUBA, Ala. (AP)—Joe B. Killian planted 16 rows of cotton to draw tourists to his service station and souvenir stand.

Now it has drawn the eyes of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and Killian is in a first-class dispute with the government. Agents of the Agriculture Department say he owes a fine of $6.37 for planting the crop without a government cotton allotment. They estimated it will yield 36 pounds of cotton.

"They can't understand that I want to grow cotton just to give away to tourists," Killian said yesterday, somewhat baffled.

Killian wrote Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson a registered letter giving his side of the controversy. The letter was referred back to the local cotton office at nearby Livingston, which now has the dispute under consideration.

Gov. Shivers Attends Show

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Shivers made a rare stage appearance last night when the motion picture, "Lucy Gallant," had its world premiere at the Paramount Theater.

The governor, who makes his professional movie debut in the film, was back in theatrical circles for the first time since his days as a member of the University of Texas Curtain Club.

John Bustin of the Austin American staff said the governor "indicated he isn't the least bit rusty on the boards—a fact also borne out by the polished performance he gave in the picture itself."

"His (the governor's) ready ad-libbing with Charlton Heston, the star of the picture, was quite warmly received by the capacity, first-night audience which also responded to Gov. Shivers' film appearance with a heavy round of applause."

"I'm afraid if you ever leave office," Heston told the governor, "you'll come out to Hollywood and give me some stiff competition."

"I don't think I'll ever try that," Shivers replied. "To be quite frank, you people work too hard to suit me."

Services Are Held

SAN SABA (AP)—Services were held today for Glenn Cummings, 43, who died yesterday from burns. Matches in Cummings' pocket apparently ignited while he was walking through the woods. His widow, three sons and a daughter survive.

Policewoman Stops Mugger

NEW YORK (AP)—A trim, young policewoman proved to be more than a match yesterday for a husky mugger, making up in know-how and spirit what she lacked in size and strength.

Repeated reports of women being molested at a subway station in the financial district, which is lonely and nearly-deserted at night, brought transit policewoman Dorothy Uhnak, 25, to the scene.

With another policewoman and a transit cop hiding nearby and ready to aid her, Mrs. Uhnak climbed up and down the subway stairs hoping to lure a mugger. For six days nothing happened.

Finally last night a man grabbed her from behind with a strangle hold and shoved a gun in her face. She acted with lightning speed. Breaking his hold and knocking the gun from his hand, she turned on him and knocked him down. She had him sprawled at the bottom of the stairs by the time her two colleagues arrived.

Her captive was later booked as John Thomas Bishop, 21, Negro, of Brooklyn, on charges of felonious assault, attempted robbery and weapons law violations.

A demonstration of the best known methods of hair and scalp treatments to be given to the citizens of our city.

WHAT IS YOUR REASON FOR BALDNESS?

ALL MERRILL CLIENTS IN THE VICINITY OF SNYDER, TEXAS, ARE INVITED TO APPEAR AT MANHATTAN HOTEL, ON THURSDAY ONLY, OCTOBER 13, 12 NOON UNTIL 9 P.M. THESE PRIVATE INDIVIDUAL EXAMINATIONS ARE FREE OF CHARGE AND ARE A PART OF THE ESTABLISHED SERVICE TO OUR CLIENTS.

Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, Sept. 24 in an interview here today, R. Blaine Dixon, international hair and scalp consultant and Director of Merrill Hair & Scalp Consultants, said: "There are many different scalp conditions that may cause men and women to lose their hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so called cure-all can correct all these different conditions," he explained.

READ WHAT A FEW OF THE MEMBERS OF THE AMERICAN HAIR AND SCALP ASSOCIATIONS' MANY SATISFIED CLIENTS HAVE SAID ABOUT THEIR HOME TREATMENT IN THEIR UNSOLICITED REPORTS; THERE ARE MANY MORE IN OUR FILES:

"My hair has grown very much, you can see new hair all over my scalp. The new hair looks lively and much better. I am well pleased with my hair, it looks so much better and much thicker and I thank you so much."

C. Burkett
Dothan, Alabama

"I am quite well pleased with the success I have had as far as I have gone, which was the three months course, and I am convinced that with continued massaging and non-alcoholic shampoo I will be able to take care of my scalp without further treatment. I have learned quite a lot about caring for my scalp."

R. Langton
Walla Walla, Washington

"Since beginning my treatment my hair is softer, more manageable, and it is not breaking or coming out nearly so much. I notice a general appearance of new hair all over my scalp. I am very pleased with the treatment."

B. P. Brown
Alva, Oklahoma

Guaranteed

Not everyone can be helped by the Merrill Home Treatment. Only those we think we can help are accepted for treatment. Those who are accepted for Merrill Home Treatment are given this guarantee, "If you are not completely satisfied at the end of thirty days, your money will be returned." This is only because most people are skeptical of claims that hair can grow on balding heads. Usually when a person avails himself of the Merrill treatment, his skepticism disappears.

No Cure-All

"We have no cure-all for slick, shiny baldness," Dixon emphasizes. "If there is still fuzz, that hair follicle of the scalp is still producing hair. Merrill's users have grown hair. We have many reports testifying that after using our home treatment, weak fuzz has developed into healthy mature hair. Proper use of this home treatment may bring about a healthy scalp condition which will help the body to produce new hair. If there is any fuzz at all, a healthy scalp condition may be restored, and the hair may grow normally again as nature intended." There is one thing Dixon wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temple or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is someing wrong, and it should be given immediate attention.

Free Examination

In addition to reexamining present clients, the Merrill method of home treatment will be demonstrated to others who are interested. The examination is very thorough and highly technical. It requires 20 to 30 minutes. The Consultant makes no charge for this examination and no appointment is necessary. After examining the person, he is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost. Regular reports are made to the Merrill firm in Oklahoma City to check the progress of the home treatment.

HOW'S YOUR HAIR

IF IT WORRIES YOU CALL OUR CONSULTANT, LEE EDWARDS AT THE MANHATTAN IN SNYDER ON THURSDAY ONLY, OCTOBER 13, 12 NOON UNTIL 9:00 P.M. THE PUBLIC IS INVITED. THE EXAMINATIONS ARE PRIVATE AND OPEN TO MEN AND WOMEN. YOU DO NOT NEED AN APPOINTMENT AND YOU WILL NOT BE EMBARRASSED OR OBLIGATED IN ANY WAY.

Dixon-Yates Pact Still Under Study

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) —Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission has conceded publicly for the first time that "there may be a question as to the validity" of the Dixon-Yates contract.

He said in an Oct. 7 letter made public yesterday by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) that any cancellation payment to the Dixon-Yates power group is being held up while the question of validity is studied intensively.

Both Edgar H. Dixon and Eugene A. Yates, heads of the two major utility companies involved renewed their contentions that the now-abandoned contract was a valid one.

Anderson, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said in a statement that AEC now appeared to be moving toward the position he has maintained all along. He has contended it never was a binding obligation on the government, and that no cancellation fee was due Dixon-Yates.

The AEC consistently has maintained heretofore that the contract became legally effective some time last winter.

The contract was negotiated by AEC last year at President Eisenhower's direction. It called for a 107-million-dollar plant at West Memphis, Ark., to supply power to the Tennessee Valley Authority to replace TVA electricity and used elsewhere by AEC.

On July 1 this year the President directed that the contract be terminated and the AEC has been conducting negotiations looking toward a final settlement of the contract since that time. If it is binding, the government is obligated to pay costs incurred by the Dixon-Yates group. There have been estimates these could run to several million dollars.

Strauss wrote Anderson last Friday, "It appears on the basis of our study thus far that there may be a question as to the validity" of the contract.

"Under these circumstances," he said, "the commission has decided to hold in abeyance the negotiation of the major aspects of a settlement with the company until our analysis has been completed."

Woman Dies In Fire Car

LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (AP) — A church organist burned to death yesterday in an automobile which her minister said she set afire a few minutes after he attempted to talk to her.

Coroner Charles Larkin said the interior of the car had been soaked with gasoline. He said the reason for her action was not known.

The organist, Mrs. Mildred Hitman, 48, a divorcee, disappeared a week ago. The Rev. Paul W. Burres, pastor of her church, and members of the congregation had been searching for her.

Yesterday the Rev. Mr. Burres, pastor of the Wesley Methodist Church of Kansas City, Kan., and Loren Land, 18, spotted her car south of here near U. S. Highway 783.

"I stopped behind her car and went up to the door to talk to her," the minister said. "She didn't want to talk. She just started the motor and drove off."

He said they followed and noticed she had a couple of matches in her mouth.

"We saw her throw one in the back of the seat," he said. "Then came the explosion. The back glass was blown out. The trunk lid came back toward us and we had to dodge it, as we were following close. The car was a mass of flames as it went off the road. We couldn't get in to her, and she was already dead anyway."

Controls Put On Tampico

TAMPICO, Mexico (AP)—The Mexican army clamped tighter controls over flooded areas of Tampico today in an attempt to check widespread looting.

Hundreds of residents lined up for military passes required for access to their homes, from which the Panuco River waters are receding. Many found their dwellings stripped.

Army commanders prohibited removal of any property from the flooded one for a period of eight days.

Twelve helicopters from the U.S Navy's airplane carrier Siboney continued rescue activities, giving a rest to those from the carrier Saipan. The Saipan's helicopters had been worked almost around the clock for five days.

High winds and steady rain limited helicopter activities yesterday but the first relief train reached the isolated stricken port. Its 10 boxcars were loaded with 600 field tents, 141 tons of food, 1,000 oil stoves, 12 tons of clothing and large quantities of soap and detergents.

Twenty-five planeloads of meat and canned foods were flown in from Monterrey, and five more U.S. Air Force transports arrived with medicines and emergency supplies.

Series Of Atomic Tests Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new series tests has been scheduled on the Nevada desert about Nov. 1—but this time there may be no atomic explosions. An AEC announcement indicated the tests will aim at learning whether atomic weapons can be accidentally detonated by fire or by nearby explosions of bombs or artillery shells.

If nuclear weapons prove safe under such circumstances as believed, the only explosions presumably will come from more conventional devires.

The numble pronghorn antelope, fastest animal in North America, has bounced back from threatened extinction until it is safe to allow a limited hunting season.

Dulles To Paris

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles will leave by plane Oct. 22 for Paris on the first leg os his trip to Geneva for the Big Four foreign ministers meeting. Phenix City Official Back Behind Bars

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP)—Former Atty. Gen. Si Garrett is back in Alabama and behind bars here, and speculation mounted today on whether he will stand trial for one of the state's most sensational murders.

Garrett was clapped in the Russell County Jail yesterday after he surrendered voluntarily and announced he is ready to prove his innocence in the murder of A. L. Patterson, Democratic nominee for attorney general who had promised to clean up Phenix City.

Garrett's statement, issued through his attorney, said he is cured of the mental illness that has kept him in a sanitorium in Galveston, Tex., for the past year.

Circuit Judge J. Russell McElroy of Birmingham, the special judge who already has presided at the murder trials of two other men indicted in the Patterson killing, scheduled a hearing here Friday on a habeas corpus petition seeking bond for Garrett while he is awaiting trial.

Some legal sources contend the case against Garrett was seriously weakened by the acquittal of another murder defendant, Arch Ferrell, former solicitor for Russell County.

Former Chief Deputy Sheriff Albert Fuller, indicted for first-degree murder with Garrett and Ferrell, was convicted last spring and is now serving a life sentence.

Typhoon Hits Part Of Tokyo

TOKYO (AP)—A weakening typhoon sideswiped Tokyo today, delivering a glancing blow instead of the expected head-on smash, then curled out to sea.

The huge metropolitan area, the world's most densely populated, had been braced for a full-scale blast.

Instead, the center of the storm skidded by 70 miles east of Tokyo, just off the Pacific Coast. Its center winds were slowing to 85 miles an hour as the storm blew itself toward extinction.

Tokyo still was hurt by the storm. Streets were sprayed with shattered window glass, houses were flooded and electric power failed.

Landslides cut roads and rail lines from Tokyo and big waves sank at least two fishing boats with eight crewmen.

Song For Ike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A $100-a-plate California Republican audience listened last night while Brian Sullivan, Metropolitan Opera singer, recorded for President Eisenhower a favorite song, "Bless This House." The recording was sent immediately by plane to Denver.

Closer Ties Sought In UN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Diplomats looked today for Canada to urge closer U.N. ties for the proposed atoms-for-peace agency than those suggested by the United States.

They predicted Canadian Delegate Paul Martin would take this stand in his appearance in the atomic energy debate before the U.N. Assembly's top Political Committee this afternoon.

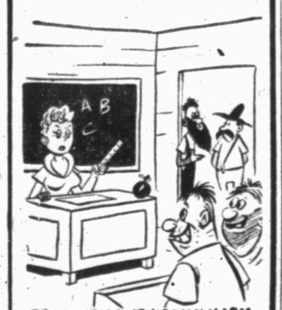

The United States, with British support, has insisted that the body should be similar to a specialized agency and not too closely linked to the U.N.

Observers recalled that Canada's Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson and other Ottawa government leaders have stressed repeatedly that the U.N. should not be bypassed when the proposed atomic agency is finally set up.

The United States, Canada and seven other powers have drawn up a draft statute for the agency and distributed it to all governments for comment. The draft has left open the question of U.N. ties.

India and a number of smaller countries want the agency subject to recommendations of the U.N. Assembly.

Preserving Small Farms

A congressional committee trying to find out why so many families are leaving the farm, with special reference to the plight of the small-scale farmer, turned up some impressive evidence in a hearing at La Grange, Fayette County, last week.

Willis and Ivan Antosch of that county offered an allotment plan they believed would be effective in stopping the drift of small farmers from the land. They would give a minimum cotton allotment to each cotton growing family, with increasingly greater acreage cuts for larger farms.

Willis declared that after shrinking cotton allotments drive the families from the soil, "doctors, lawyers, bankers and merchants buy up the farms and use them to deduct profits from their income tax."

In areas where cotton is the main cash crop, reduced cotton allotments can be disastrous. J. Perrin Willis of Rusk, in Cherokee County reported that the county had lost 763 farmers in the last five years. Cherokee is not a major cotton producer, so it is likely other causes than acreage reduction figured in the situation there; but other witnesses testified acreage cuts had been a big factor in counties depending on cotton as the principal cash crop.

The development of large-scale farming, sparked by merchanization, undoubtedly has been the main factor in the drift from the farms, which has reached alarming proportions in recent years. Just as surely the gradual whittling down of acreage allotments has forced many small farmers to seek some other means of livelihood.

Whether the damage already done can be repaired by a new allotment plan that would deemphasize the role of the large-scale producer in favor of the little guy is anybody's gues, for there are other factors involved. The fundamental issue at stake, however, is this: Is the American small farmer worth preserving? The answer is: a thousand times yes. From the founding of the Republic to this good day no segment of our population has made greater contributions to the molding of the American chapter than the farmers, of whom 90 percent are "small" operators.

Only A Start Is Made

A series of ads in Editor & Publisher and other magazines sets forth the approaching wonders of the Atomic Age in terms the layman can understand without putting much strain on his mental processes.

In behalf of the Atomic Energy Commission, atomic power plant in the country, to be operated by Westinghouse is building the first full-scale peacetime the Duquesne Light Company of Shippingport, Pa. It is a pressurized water reactor in which uranium salts will circulate through the reactor where heat is generated. The heat is converted into steam which in turn is used to generate electricity, which in turn will drive the wheels of industry.

The astonishing thing about this particular system, to the layman, is that this new reactor "keeps on making as much atomic material as it needs to operate," to quote the ads. That is possible, if our understanding is on straight, because of the "breeder" principle, wherein atomic materials create more atomic materials. That beats perpetual motion all hollow.

So far the designers and builders of this reactor merely hope that it will become competitive with conventional fuels. This hope may not be realized for years, as long as there is an abundance of petroleum, coal, lignite and the like, but it is comforting to know that the world does not face a fuelless existance, but can carry on for eons thanks to atomic energy.

It may be decades before atomic energy becomes strongly competitive with coal and petroleum, but when it does actually take over the principal role of power production, petroleum and coal will continue as indespensable commodities because of their marvelous and lavish richness in chemicals in endless combinations.

Long after the last coal, gas or oil power plant has disappeared, if ever, the world will have need of all the petroleum it can develop to fulfill its chemical needs.

Meantime, only a start has been made with atomic energy for peacetime uses. It's a long way to Tipperary.

Television Capture

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Officials at the state mental hospital were watching television. The local program was "Sidewalk Superintendents," which is broadcast from the street.

"Say," said one of the hospital men, "That looks like one of the patients."

"Yes, it is," another said. "Somebody better go get him."

And they did.

Life-Haters Beware: Gigantic Conspiracy To Make People Live Longer Is Revealed

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone reflections of a Pavement Plato:

Are you a life hater?

When you see somebody happy, do you secretly want to see him miserable?

Do you stir in everyone you meet a desire to serve you as a pallbearer?

If so, be warned. There is a gigantic conspiracy against you. It is a massive scientific plot to make the human race live longer. Its goal: To raise the average life span to 100 years.

The books, magazines and newspapers are full of advice on how to live to be old.

But this is the worst kind of news to you, isn't it? You would rather hang crepe than holly. You'd rather cry than laugh. Life never leaves you breathless, but you wish it would — because breathing is only a nuisance. Your biggest regret is that you weren't born dead.

Is there no help for you? Can a group of rascally scientists force you to live to be 100? Not if you don't want them to!

Here are a few sure-fire tips on how not to live to be old:

1. Develop your present nonwinning personality to the utmost. Fight down any temptation to praise or approve of anything that has happened since the Chester A. Arthur administration.

2. Crab out loud at everybody. Blow your top early and often. Remember, it isn't the passive complainer that gets apoplexy. It's the guy who pops a gusset over trifles.

3. If you have a small presistent pain in your innerds, don't go galloping off to the doctors. If they are curious about what's wrong with you, make 'em wait for the autopsy. They won't cure you then.

4. Always do your looking for sunsets on rainy afternoons. Then you'll never be surprised by joy.

5. If you're not in a rut now, get in one as soon as you can, and dig it as deep as you can. Always walk the same way home. Avoid all change of any kind. Change and variety spice life, and you don't want yours spiced.

6. Avoid marriage at all costs. Matrimony works oddly. It gives a man more to holler about — but it also makes him live longer.

7. If you go hunting, go with total strangers. They are much more likely to mistake you for a deer.

8. Never sit down to a meal unless you are thoroughly worn out or have worked yourself into a towering rage. Avoid all nonfattening foods. If you must eat green vegetables, fry them. Fry them twice.

9. Get four hours of sleep each night — but no more. Don't play tennis except under a hot sun.

10. Never read poetry, see a new play or associate with children. All these things are like deadly poisons to your sense of gloom. They make you feel younger.

Any man who follows these 10 simple rules, I guarantee, won't live to be old. But he'll feel old all the time, older than Methuselah. n And, if you're a born killjoy, isn't that the way you really want to feel?

Over-Eating Biggest Peril On A Transatlantic Flight

By INEZ ROBB

Before I hang up my passport and portmanteau for the nonce, I would like to speak of the only peril of which I am aware in transatlantic flying.

This is the very real and ever-present danger of foundering on food as the transatlantic lines step up their fierce rivalry for the tourist's stomach. They—the air carriers—have dug in along the alimentary canal and obviously intend to fight it out along that line if it "cirrhosifies" every liver in the land.

As an old transatlantic commuter, I don't know how much longer my digestive tract can stand the strain of a nonstop, 3,000-mile Lucullian orgy of rich vittles and richer liquids. It is getting too rich for my blood.

The transatlantic lines, all flying approximately the same equipment at approximately the same speeds, have been forced to base the competition on calories. The result is that the passenger, his feet more or less nailed to the floor of the plane, arrives at his destination stuffed like a Strasbourg goose.

And you may well ask, "Is that bad?" I guess the answer is "No," as long as the passenger can waddle off the plane unassisted. I just barely made it down the flight steps by myself both going to and coming home from Europe via the Scandinavian Airlines System.

This wine - and - dine duel among the transatlantic carriers is a great thing for the passengers on the theory that travel is broadening, anyway, and nowhere as much so as in the vicinity of the hips.

But it wasn't until I had cleared American customs (and I'm a traveler who thinks American customs officials are just dandy) that I realized I had forgotten to declare my most-solid and unforgettable Scandinavian souvenir, that 10-pound roll south of the equator.

In fairness, SAS isn't responsible for all of it. I did real well by those delicious smoked reindeer tongues in Finland, by the ptarmigan and Arctic cloudberries (somewhat like large yellow raspberries) in Norway, by the crayfish cooked in dill in Sweden and by the pastry in Denmark.

And by a great and familiar American dish that confronted me like an old friend at the Siljansborg Hotel on Lake Siljan where I spent my final days in Sweden. "Chicken a la Malabar Farm" was the piece de resistance on the menu the first night I went down to dinner.

Shades of our friend Louis Bromfield, indeed! Shades rather, of Reba, the inspired culinary despot who has presided over the Malabar kitchen for years. There, thousands of miles away was her chicken and rice, served with a tomato and curry sauce.

And how did it get there? Well, it's a small world—and the Siljansborg Hotel once hired a cook who traveled to America with her employers who, in turn, spent a week at Malabar. The cook had wasted no time on Mr. Bromfiedl. She knew, a genius when she saw one, and she had spent her days in the kitchen with Reba!

Books Put Collector To Sleep

By JIM GREENWOOD
Corpus Christi Caller-Times
Written for the Associated Press

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Dr. John Frederick McGregor, a chiropractor turned photographer, collects books, but he seldom gets around to reading them.

"By the time I finish reading the paper at night," he says, "I usually fall asleep if I try to read a book."

In 15 years, McGregor has collected almost 6,000 books—paperback westerns, science fiction, detective mysteries and all the rest. Their bright shining covers line the walls of his apartment here.

"Doc," as the widely-known South Texas commercial photographer is called, collects books simply because he likes to.

Neatly shelved according to publisher and book numbers, instead of authors, he has collection upon collection of paper-back "pocket books," a scattering of hard-back editions and some magazines. Stuck away in a closet are all the issues of Life Magazine ever published.

Doc says his life collection grew "about like the habit of going to church or to lodge meetings....once you get in the habit of going, you sorta hate to stop."

McGregor got in the habit of collecting books when he was a boy in Kittanning, Pa., 45 years ago.

Scouts Of Both Parties Checking Farm Pulse For Indication Of Vote In 1956

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON (AP) —Democratic and Republican scouts are prowling the farm belt these October days checking the political temper of the farmers and then trying to project their readings into the 1956 presidential year in terms of votes.

No one yet has found a foolproof method of discovering how the farmers will vote. Nor can one say confidently that farmers will vote as a bloc any more than druggists, electricians, fishermen and golfers. But the guessing game goes on and there is no vote which is studied, analyzed, watched, wooed and feared more by politicians than the farm vote.

At the present time, messages from the farm belt are reported to be encouraging to the Democrats because farmers are not happy about farm prices and their own economic position in relation to the industrial worker. The Republicans are concerned because a discontented farm belt could mean trouble at the polls.

One GOP scout, recently returned from a trip though the farm country, brought back this story:

"I went back to my home and visited my brother on the farm where I was raised. When I was a kid, mother baked her own bread. We milked our own cows. We canned fruit and all kinds of garden truck. We had fresh eggs and fresh butter and there were frying chickens running all around the place. We didn't have the modern conveniences, but we lived well.

"My brother gets his bread and butter from the store. He buys milk and eggs and frying chickens and canned food from the supermarket in town. He says it's cheaper that way. And maybe it is. I don't know.

"He's living better than he ever lived before—far better than we did as kids. He's even got power steering on his tractor.

"But he's sore because prices aren't what he thinks they should be. He says Ezra Benson (Secretary of Agriculture) keeeps teelling farmers they have to expect a leveling off—but that nobody is saying the same thing to the industrial worker. And he doesn't like it."

There are about five million farmers in the country today. With their wives and children of voting age they probably total more than 12 millions. And how they vote is tremendously important.

Three years ago presidential candidates Adlai Stevenson, Democrat, and Dwight Eisenhower, Republican, pleaded their cases before 100,000 farm folk gathered in the open fields near Kasson, Minn. The throng listened to their speeches, standing almost silent, giving no hint of favoritism for either man. You felt as though here was a giant jury gathered to pass judgment on the two parties.

The bulk of the farm vote went to Eisenhower. But the farm jury must judge again in a few more months. And the politicians are trying to find out whether the verdict will be the same.

Republican Leaders Face Up To Possibility Of Fight

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders are facing up to the possibility today that the party may be ripped wide open in another slambang fight for the presidential nomination if President Eisenhower doesn't run again.

There is growing belief among some GOP chiefs that the President — if he steps aside — should "choose" his favorite candidate for the nomination or at the very least point a finger to indicate who he thinks would be the best man to carry forward his program.

As far as most of the "old pros" are concerned, there's little doubt that they would favor a nod to Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

During these past two critical weeks of the President's illness, the Republicans have shied away from public discussions of what might happen if Eisenhower finishes out his term and then retires to his farm at Gettysburg to enjoy the life of an "elder statesman" and country squire.

But in private the GOP strategists are discussing the practical facts of political life and what the political scene will look like without Eisenhower. They are not as optimistic in private about Eisenhower running as they have been in public.

One man who sits in the GOP councils, and knows whereof he speaks, has this to say:

"A lot of us think Eisenhower will have to pick the nominee if we are to avoid a fight. Unless he does, we will be cutting ourselves to pieces by next spring in the maneuvering to line up convention votes, and in the presidential preference primaries.

"This kind of fight isn't going to do the party any good. We'll need all the unity we can get, and it will be up to Eisenhower to see that we are united.

"I'm not saying Eisenhower can name his man and get him the nomination without a contest. I'm not sure any president ever can do that when he's retiring and leaving the field open.

"But if Eisenhower lets his choice be known early in the year, it would scare off some hopefuls and make it much easier for us to get behind Ike's man. This is the only way I know to avoid a fight."

At this stage, it appears Nixon is in the best strategic position despite some formidable handicaps. Eisenhower picked Nixon to be his running mate in 1955 and seems to have a real affection for him — but it remains to be seen whether the President thinks the 42-year-old Californian is ready for the run for the presidency.

The biggest and blackest political cloud over Nixon's chances is that he probably won't be able to command control of his own state's delegation to the convention.

California Gov. Goodwin Knight has brought the state's GOP feuding right out into the sunlight by declaring that if Eisenhower doesn't run, he intends to lead the California delegation to the national convention even at the risk of an open fight with Nixon.

The Nixon camp has accused Knight of "fantastic pretensions as a bona fide contender for the office of president." But Knight, as governor, is in a good position to do what he says.

And so it would seem that Eisenhower — assuming he doesn't run — has a big decision ahead of him: remain silent and let the presidential hopefuls in his party fight it out; or speak out in favor of a candidate and thus try to preserve a unified front as far as it is possible.

Sprawling East Texas Field Observes A Quiet Birthday

DALLAS, Oct. 11 (AP)—The sprawling, colorful East Texas oil field which has influenced the petroleum industry more than any other oil producing area in the world, quietly observed its 25th birthday this week.

Quiet, that is, considering its early days.

The exact birthdate was Oct. 3, 1930.

On that day, C. M. (Dad) Joiner, in his 70th year, brought in the No. 3 Daisy Bradford in west Rusk County. His first two wildcats in the area had failed.

That discovery well is still producing—a mere 2.4 barrels daily as allowed by the Railroad Commission.

At the beginning it was estimated as good for 5,600 barrels a day from the fambulous Woodbine Sands. Wells sprouted throughout the section, some producing as much as 22,000 barrels daily. For a while it was believed there actually were three fields. No one could believe one field could be 27 miles long.

In less than a year after the discovery well came in the field was spouting more than one million ballers per day. By the time the field was a year old it was being enlarged by the completion of an oil well every hour.

The boom which had breathed life into a depressioin-stricken area had backfired and threatened to destroy all the benefits it had brought.

The price of oil dropped to 5 cents a barrel. Bottom-hole pressure, which had caused the wells to flow freely, was dropping alarmingly. On the day the Joiner well was compleated, oil was $1.10 a barrel.

National Guardsmen and Texas called for help from state officials. Rangers enforced laws limiting each well's production and forbidding interstate movement of oil produced over the legal allowable. Bootlegging of "hot oil" became an industry within itself.

In part because of drawn guns, production was controlled, the the market price stablized and botton-hole pressure restored.

the well-behaved behemoth of world

The East Texas field became oil. Through June the field produced 3,196,313,758 barrels. Experts believe there's almost that much still underground.

Brazil To Show Works Of Engraver In U.S.

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Brazil is presenting the work of two of its young modern engravers at the Pan American Union.

They are among the top personalities in the realm of print making in Brazil, where according to the show's sponsors "the graphic arts of the country, accompanying the trend toward total abstraction in painting and sculpture, have likewise developed along nonfigurative lines, exploring new forms and techniques."

One of the artists is Fayga Ostrower, who was born in Londz, Poland in 1920 but who migrated to Brazil some 20 years ago and became a Brazilian citizen in 1940. Miss Ostrower studied at the Gettulio Vargas Foundation in Rio de Janiero and has had important shows of her work throughout the country, in Chile, Ecuador, Japan, France, Switzerland and the Scandinavian countries. Currently, she teaches art at the Museum of Modern Art at Rio. In addition to her work as an engraver she has designed textiles and jewelry, as well as illustrations for books.

Last year the young artist obtained a Fulbright fellowship for study in the United States, and at the Brooklyn Museum Art School she has been learning still other new techniques, in etching, aquatint and woodcut, and her examples of these are also included in the showing at the Pan American Union.

The other artist is Arthur Luiz Piza, who was born in Sao Paulo, in 1928. He studied with the painter, Antonio Gomide, and held his first one - man show in his native city. He moved to Paris in 1951 where he joined the atelier of the renowned printmaker Johnny Friedlander and has exhibited in France and Switzerland. He returned to Brazil to exhibit his works and to execute a fresco for the church at Jullanolis in the state of Sao Paulo, but is now making his home again in Paris.

RADIO-TV REPORT

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Many people complain that advertisers won't take chances on new types of TV programs. But Slocum Chapin, of ABC-TV, says advertisers will take a chance.

Chapin says the smaller advertiser usually is looking for a sure buy because he can't afford to be wrong but that the larger ones take the chances.

He says food manufacturers prefer time on Thursday or Friday evenings becahse about 40 per cent of the food for American tables is bought on Fridays and Saturdays. On the other hand, auto manufacturers have no objection to TV time on Saturday night because a family thinks a while before it buys a car.

"No one can really tell what's going to make a sure-fire show on television," says Chapin. As an example, he pointed to ABC's highly successful "Disneyland." When it started, advertisers were lukewarm. "Now," says Chapin, whose office is on 66th Street, "There's a waiting line of ahvertisers stretching down to 42d Street."

Some programs aim at selective audiences and make no attempt at capturing the mass of viewers. One such low-budget program on ABC-TV is desiyned to hold the interest of business executives, Chapin says, and its sponsors are pleased with the result.

You always hear about it when an actress's marriage breaks up. But a solid marriage goes unnoticed. So let's give a little notice to Patricia Bright who has been happily married for the past 10 of her 14 years in show-business. Currently she's appearing in "It's Always Jan" (CBS-TV), a situation comedy series which appears on Saturday eveninys.

"My husband is the doll to end all dolls," she says. "He's completely pro-my career. But if he ever objected to it I'd give it up on the spot."

Her husband, Stephen Blumberg, vice president of Brooks Costumes, Inc., shares equally with her, she says, the responsibilities of bringing up their two sons aged 4 and 8.

"The Mickey Mouse Club" (ABC-TV) is packing in the kids these autumn afternoons. The program has variety and seems pitched to children of various ages. From one adult viewpoint there's only one objection: too many commercials.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

RECKLESS, PRIDE OF THE MARINES. By Andrew Greer. Dutton.

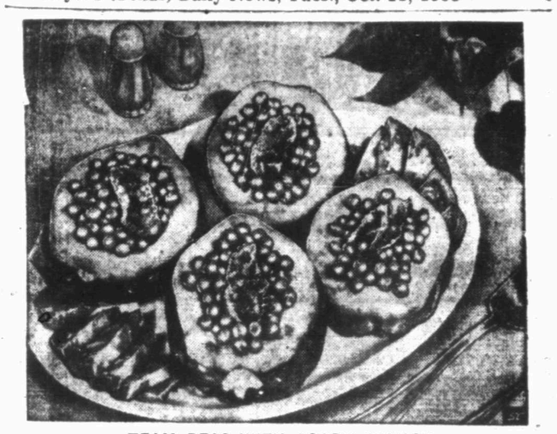

At Panumunjom, where Korean truce talks were held, there were strict rules about where a man could and couldn't aim a gun. Chinese Reds, slyly figuring they were out of harm's way if they dug a trench right along the line between war and no-war, began to dig toward the Marines. The only answer was the accuarate recoilless rifle, or "reckless" as the Marines dubbed it. Is charge weighed 108 pounds and was carried to exposed positions by sweating Marines, or Shank's Mare. So Lt. Pedersen got a real mare, "Reckles."

Reckless couldn't talk, or at any rate couldn't talk English, and she didn't sleep between sheets at night, but there was might little else she couldn't do by herself or that wasn't done for her. The wonder isn't that she ran ammunition, hardly flicked an ear at shell fire, paid no never mind to woulds, even learned to duck into shelter by herself when the bombardment was heavy. The wonder is that tough Marines, with no soft heart for anyone, picked grass for her by the handful, gave her their C rations, covered her with their flak jackets; the wonder is that she bread with jam, liked her milk, soft drinks and beer out of a glass, gobbled up poker chips and the blanket on which were sewn her sergeant's chevrons. And the greatest wonder of all, to this exdoughboy, is that she couldn't get along without Marines; she butted in on their conversations, shared their sleeping quarters.

Poor horse! Soldiers would have taught her to load, aim and fire, not just tote the ammo; and this wouldn't have been her biography, but her autobiography. But she was a grand horse, and still is in retirement at Camp Pendleton.

Altheneum Club Hears Demonstration On Oil

The contents of what one young- has called "Mom's chemistry set" were spread out in plain sight and discussed at length by Mrs. Robert R. Patterson when she presented the "Magic Suitcase" demonstration here yesterday before members of the Atheneum Study Club.

Taking unfair advantage of the fact that no men were present, Mrs. Patterson initiated her awed listeners into the mysteries of modern chemical witchcraft. She showed them how crude petroleum is transformed into fabrics, beauty aids and perfumes.

Mrs. Patterson also explained that oil now supplies the United States with more than half of its fuel and all of its lubricants. Petrochemicals, she added, are responsible for thousands of useful products ranging from auto tires, through the asphalt roads that those tires run on, and on to insecticides and fertilizers.

The demonstration was concluded by giving full credit to the know - how and competitive ingenuity of America's oil women - and men - for finding steadily increasing supplies of petroleum and for refining them into useful products.

"Producers drilled nearly 200 million feet into the earth last year while refiners turned out gasoline one third more powerful than they were able to make a quarter century ago. One result was that, while the average wage earner in this country works one hour and 52 minutes to earn the price of a shirt she - or he - works only 7½ minutes to earn the price of a gallon of gasoline, without taxes," Mrs. Patterson said.

That Lamp You Want Is Available

If you don't see what you want in a lamp just ask for it. Chances are you'll be able to get it.

Small and large, slender or bulbous, china or metal, plain or exotic, lamps are designed to please the penny bank or silk purse this fall.

The exotic theme is stressed, of course, to satisfy the new international look in home furnishings. Italy, Spain, Scandinavia and the Orient influence a large segment of new American designs.

Airy lanterns, chubby spice jars, Chinese candlesticks and vases stress the Oriental influence. Italian alabaster and even Venetian glass lamps, looking much like the ancient glass from the island of Murano, makes their elegant appearance even in budget-priced lamps. Some American-made lamps stress colorful harlequin patterns of Italian inspiration.

Architectural forms — columns in angular, curved, reeded, faceted and obelisk shapes are popular and many of these are in walnut, fruitwood or maple woods.

Mrs. Lila Dodson, school lunchroom director, and Mrs. Pearl Blanchard, head of the high school cafeteria, are among leaders in local arrangements.

Mrs. Dorothy Robey, fish and wildlife service home economist, was to give demonstrations. Also on the program was to be William I. Cabaniss, fishery marketing specialist from the fish and wildlife service.

Back in Grandma's day vegetables had definite seasons. Green peas, for instance, were around only in the spring and summer. But now you can have spring vegetables all year round. Right now why not combine quick-frozen peas with a fresh fall favorite—acorn squash? They make a two-season special and mighty good eating.

PEAS IN SQUASH NESTS

2 acorn squash
4 teaspoons butter
8 teaspoons brown sugar
1 box frozen peas
½ cup pea liquid
3 tablespoons butter
2 teaspoons flour
1 chicken bouillon cube
¼ teaspoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon chopped chive

Cut squash in halves lengthwise and scrape out seeds and pulp. Arrange in baking dish. Place 1 teaspoon butter and 2 teaspoons brown sugar in each squash half. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Pour boiling water to depth of 1 inch around squash. Cover and bake in hot oven (400 F.) 30 minutes; uncover and bake 30 minutes longer.

Cook peas as directed on package. Drain, reserving ½ cup liquid. Melt butter in saucepan. Add flour and blend. Add pea liquid and bouillon cube. Cook and stir until thickened. Add lemon juice, chives, and cooked peas.

Work brown sugar and butter mixture into squash meat with fork. Arrange squash halves on serving platter and fill centers with peas. Serve with crisp bacon, if desired. Makes 4 servings.

X-Ray Unit Will Be Sent To Snyder Area

The Division of Tuberculosis of the State Health Department is sending an -ray unit to Snyder to be set up in the basemenet of the court house from 1 p.m. Tuesday October 18th to noon Saturday, October 22nd.

Every resident in Scurry County from 15 years of age and over is invited, be they short or tall, thin or fat, puny or powerful, because even those who may not have had a sick day in their life can have the beginnings of TB!

Why X-ray the apparently healthy? Did you know that people can look and feel well and still have tuberculosis. Did you know that TB may have no outward symptoms in its early stages? By the time the symptoms which we all recognie appear - loss of weight, coughing, spitting blood - chances are the disease is in an advanced stage, and difficult to cure.

Whatever the outcome of a person's chest X-ray, he has nothing to lose - everything to gain. If his X-ray is clear he will know his chest is clear. If tuberculosis is discovered, he knows he can take steps toward checking the disease before his illness becomes more serious.

The X-ray is free, no disrobing is necessary, the results are confidential, and it only takes a few moments of your time. Take a minute, and you may save a lifetime of trouble.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

THE SNYDER TIGERS will be idle this week but there'll be some good games close by this weekend.

Two of the most important District 1-AAA games will be played within 50 miles of Snyder Friday night, Monterey at Sweetwater and Levelland at Big Spring.

The latter, of course, bears the most watching since both Big Spring and Levelland sport unbeaten 1-AAA records. Levelland, however, has a tie to mar an otherwise perfect district mark.

If Levelland wins over Big Spring then all of the 1-AAA teams would either have a loss or a tie or both to mar their district records with exception of the Tigers.

The Bengals, of course, will remain unbeaten for at least another week since they have an open date this week.

Levelland, despite its tie with Sweetwater, still seems to be the team to beat in 1-AAA. The Lobos showed some of their early season power last week in disposing of Palo Duro, 45-0.

Levelland seems to gain most of its prestige by running up big scores on the "weak sisters." The Lobos have had only one severe test and they could only gain a tie with the then winless Sweetwater Mustangs.

Just what the Lobos really have should come out in this week's game with Big Spring.

The Monterey-Sweetwater game could turn out to be a dilly. Both will be fighting to revive their hopes for a piece of the District 1-AAA bunting.

Monterey bounced back last week from their loss to the Tigers with an easy 27-7 conquest of Plainview. If the Plainsmen upset the Mustangs, then the Lubbock outfit will bear watching down the way.

But Sweetwater should handle the Plainsmen.

Sweetwater Game Here May Be Big One

The way things are shaping up, the Sweetwater-Snyder game here Oct. 28 is going to be a "Big one."

The Tigers have one game before then and will be heavily favored to win it, that game being with Plainview.

Sweetwater has Monterey this week and Vernon next week, both at home, before meeting the Tigers here.

If things go according to Hoyle, then both Sweetwater and the Tigers will own unbeaten 1-AAA records when the two teams meet here although Sweetwater will have one tie.

We're putting the cart before the horse, though.

Tiger coach, John Conley, we found out the other night isn't looking ahead on his schedule.

Conley was in the press box Saturday night at Tiger Stadium where the Snyder and Big Spring B teams were doing battle.

Some optimistic fan in the press box asked Conley who is the team to watch in some of the other districts which the winner of 1-AAA will be playing in the state playoffs.

To which Conley quipped:

"I don't know. The only team I'm watching now is Plainview."

Plainview, of course, is the next Tiger foe.

This might serve as a caution to other fans here who may be getting a little overly optimistic. There are still a lot of tough assignments ahead for the Tigers in the regular season without worrying about some of the teams in other districts.

Let's go along with Conley and his charges in "taking one game at a time." In this game of football anything can happen.

Conley Remembers Breck's Fate

Conley brought out something last week that probably he has benefitted much from it. The Tiger coacher said that last year's Breckenridge team was one of the finest high school teams he had ever seen.

Yet, this Breckenridge team lost one game and was tied in another in our own district. (Breck was in 1-AAA last year, you'll recall).

Despite the tie and loss, the Buckaroos represented 1-AAA in the state playoffs and went on to win the state title. The Bucks wound up in a tie with Big Spring for the district title last year but won a state playoff berth since Breck had beaten Big Spring in the regular season.

In the regular season, Breckenridge was beaten by a Sweetwater team that lost three games in District play and was tied by sixth place Levelland. According to reports we've heard on the latter game, the Buckies were extremely "lucky" in gaining as much as a tie with Levelland.

So, you can see, anything can happen in this game of football.

QB Meeting Set Tonight

The Snyder Quarterback Club will hold its weekly meeting tonight in the high school cafeteria, according to J. B. Davidson, club president.

The meeting will get underway at 7:30.

Films of the Snyder-Monterey and Snyder - Vernon games will be shown.

Tiger coach John Conley will comment on last Friday's game with Vernon.

All sports enthusiasts are invited to attend the meeting.

Texas Senior Golf Tourney Underway

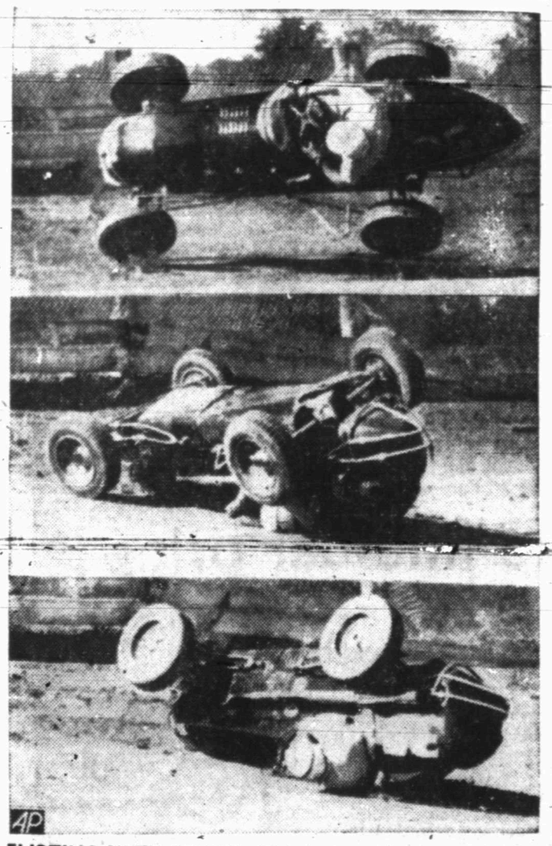

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Bartlett Cocke, San Antonio architect, was the favorite today as match play began in the Senior Championship of the Texas Golf Assn.

Todd Favored

DALLAS (AP)—Harry Todd, Dallas pro, was the favorite today as the $5,000 Preston Hollow Open Golf Tournament began.

Todd shot 5-under-par 65 yesterday to sweep honors in the $1,500 pri-amateur. The Dallas veteran picked up $100 for low pro score and an extra $200 as pro on the winning team which contained amateurs Frank Wharton and Earl Shelton of Dallas.

Bobby Cupit, Dallas, and Ernie Vossler, Fort Worth, turned in 66s.

FLIRTING WITH DEATH—These three photos show what happened after the race car being driven by Wally Hostetler hit a rough spot in the track at Terre Haute, Ind., during a qualifying trial for midget races. The car turns over in air (top), seems to be crushing Hostetler's head on the track (center) and comes to rest up-side-down (bottom) as Hostetler attempts to free himself. Hostetler suffered only from an arm injury.

Austin To Get TL Franchise

DALLAS (AP)—The Texas League wound up its fall meeting today with the troublesome Beaumont situation apparently settled by transfer of the franchise to Austin.

Only a few details remain to be ironed out before Austin can be welcomed back into the league after a 41-year absence and Beaumont, a charter member, drops out.

Austin guaranteed Allen Russell, owner of the debt-ridden Beaumont franchise, 175,000 attendance for the coming season in order to get the club. Russell accepted and now it's up to the Texas League to satisfy the Big State League, of which Austin was a member.

Asked Compensation

The Big State, through its president, Howard Green, asked compensation for the loss of a member. The Big State will receive a small amount of cash and the assurance that its clubs will have working agreements with leagues of higher classification. In other words, the Texas League will obtain working agreements for all of the clubs that need them.

Texas League President Dick Butler said he didn't know how long it would take to obtain these working agreements but that it possibly could be done within the next two weeks.

Green said he wanted at least two working agreements—for Harlingen and for the club that replaces Austin. He also asked that the Texas League obtain working agreements for two clubs that may be added. The Big State League now is a six-club circuit. Butler said his league would make every effort to obtain the additional working agreements.

Offered $100,000

Before reaching the agreement with the Big State League on transferring the franchise, Russell was offered $100,000 by Corpus Christi, a Big State League member, as an outright purchase, but turned it down because it wasn't as much money as he wanted.

The league directors finished their meeting early today and departed for their homes. Among the final business transacted was adding a year onto Butler's contract, thus running his contract through 1957. He is serving his first year as president.

Bonneau Peters of Shreveport was elected vice-president, succeeding Jimmie Humphries of Oklahoma City.

Future Tiger 11s Set For Action

While the Tigers take a week off this week, the four "future Tiger" teams will be seeing action, all on foreign soil.

All four of the lower classed Snyder schoolboy teams will play in Colorado City this weekend. The Junior High 8th graders will play the CC 8th graders at 6:30 p.m. Thursday which will be followed by a Freshman game between the two schools at 7:30 p.m.

Then Saturday, the Junior High 7th Grade team will go against the CC 7th Grade team at 10 a.m. Saturday, and the Tiger B will meet the CC B team at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

It will be second meeting with Colorado City for three of the four Snyder teams. Only the B teams of the two schools will be meeting for the first time.

In the first meeting with the CC teams the Snyder Freshmen, 8th and 7th Grade teams recorded victories. The Freshmen won by 19-0; the 8th graders by 34-7; and the 7th graders by 28-0.

For the season, the Snyder Freshmen and 8th Grade teams are unbeaten while the Tiger B and 7th Grade elevens have each lost one. Both the Freshmen and 8th Grade teams own 4-0 records. The B team has a 2-1 record and the 7th graders a 3-1 mark.

The B team record to date is as follows:

Snyder B 18, Loraine 6; Snyder B 32, Sweetwater B 13, Snyder B 32, Big Spring B 38.

The Freshman record:

Snyder Frosh 13, Sweetwater Frosh 6; Snyder Frosh 19, Colorado City Frosh, 0; Snyder Frosh 19, Lamesa Frosh 0; Snyder Frosh 14, Big Spring Frosh 13.

The Junior High 8th Grade record:

The Junior High 7th Grade record:

The Tigers will rest this week with the Plainview Bulldogs next on tap. The Bengals will journey to Plainview Oct. 21 for a District 1-AAA confab.

In the Tiger statistics through last week's game with Vernon, Joe Baxter and Jack Spikes continued to roll up yards on the ground.

Baxter retained his lead with 91 yards against Vernon that put him within one yard of the 400 mark. Spikes gained 86 against Vernon to give him a season total of 316 yards.

Both Baxter and Spikes have toted the ball 52 times.

Powell Berry and Jerry Taylor continued 1-2 in the passing department on the Tiger squad. Taylor completed four out of five against Vernon while Berry hit one out of two.

Berry, for the season, leads with 8 of 11 for 124 yards to Taylor's 6 of 12 for 104 yards.

Milton Ham is the top pass receiver with seven catches for 93 yards.

Alan Snead leads in punting with a 37.6 average on 10 kicks.

Baxter tops the scoring with 44 points.

Six of the eight football coaches with the University of Mississippi are former Rebel athletes.

Martinez, Manager Settle Family Fued

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Welterweight Vince Martinez and Manager Bill Daly have buried the hatchet after a family feud that prompted an investigation of an alleged "boycott" of the Paterson, N.J., boxer by the managers' guild.

Under terms of the new five-year private contract, the manager's share of 33 1-3 per cent will be split between Daly (23 1-3 per cent) and Anthony Martinez (10 per cent), the fighter's father.

Daly still is suspended in New York state for failure to testify at an inquiry into International Boxing Guild (managers) affairs by the New York State Athletic Commission. However, he says he is willing to appear at any time whenever asked by Chairman Julius Helfand.

In the meantime, Daly is taking aim on the welterweight title held by Carmen Basilio of Canastota, N.Y., with an offer of a $75,000 guarantee for a Basilio-Martinez match in Los Angeles next summer. Basilio is defending his championship against Tony DeMarco at Boston Nov. 30. If Basilio loses, the offer stands for DeMarco.

Daly broke bread with the Martinez clan, father and son, yesterday in a Paterson, N.J., restaurant, when he announced the new cintract. Their former contract expired March 9, 1955, but they had "broken" a year ago. Martinez had two fights last year after the break, and two more this year after the contract expired. He boxes Lester Felton of Detroit at Providence Monday.

"I'm happy everything turned out for the best," said Vince. "I could have signed with other managers but I'm sure I'm better off now. I'm more satisfied my father and Bill got tigether on an agreement."

Pop Martinez also was satisfied. "I think from now on we'll get along okay," he said.

Daly said the dispute was with the fighter's father. "Pop and I are both stubborn by nature," he said. "We fought it out down-the-line until common sense prevailed. If it hadn't been for outside influences, the whole thing would have been a 30-day wonder."

Daly took a rap at Bob Christenberry, former commission chairman, and his former associates, whom he called "publicity seekers who widened the breach when they saw a chance to get headlines." He said Helfand "inherited the package — a problem thrust upon him."

Michigan Takes No. 1 Spot In AP Grid Poll

Michigan, bidding for its first national title since 1948, moves into the No. 1 spot this week in the Associated Press Football poll, overhauling Maryland's mighty Terrapins, who fell to the runner-up role.

Michigan proved its comeback as a national power by humiliating Army 26-2 Saturday. It was the third game of the season for the unbeaten Wolverines and it convinced the nation's experts.

The Wolverines had a healthy 209-point margin in the poll over Maryland, which gathered a 4-0 record by whipping Wake Forest, less imposing than the previously unstopped Army machine, 28-7.

Oklahoma, with its winning string now stretched to 22 games, remained in third place, followed by a general shakeup that listed Notre Dame, Georgia Tech, Wisconsin, Texas Christian, Navy, UCLA and West Virginia in that order.

In realigning the top 10, the nation's sports writers and broadcasters gave Michigan 80 first-place votes -- nearly four times as many as the Wolves picked up last week. Adding points on a 10 for first, 9 for second, etc., basis, Michigan wound up with a total of 1,662 after a count of the 191 ballots.

Maryland, which held the No. 1 position for two weeks, collected only 45 firsts (the Terps had 88 a week ago) and a 1,457-point total. Oklahoma was awarded 21 first-place votes and totaled 1,350 points.

Notre Dame moved up a notch, shifting places with Georgia Tech. Wisconsin jumped from ninth to sixth, displacing Army, which tumbled to 18th.

Texas Christian took a step up from eighth, where Navy took over after being 12th last week. UCLA, the preseason choice but already hung up by Maryland, slipped from seventh to ninth. West Virginia, up from 11th, replaced Southern California, upset by Washington 7-0, in 10th. The Trojans slipped to 16th.

The leaders with first-place votes in parentheses:

1.	Michigan (80)	1,662
2.	Maryland (45)	1,457
3.	Oklahoma (21)	1,350
4.	Notre Dame (7)	1,286
5.	Georgia Tech (3)	881
6.	Wisconsin (11)	707
7.	TCU (4)	645
8.	Navy	641
9.	UCLA (1)	556
10.	West V. (11)	331
	The Second 10:

Fumbles Beat Us, Says Army Coach

NEW YORK (AP)—Army Coach Earl Blaik still is talking about last Saturday's 26-2 licking the Cadets took from Michigan — and he wants to forget it.

"We've seen movies of the game," he said today, "and it's sickening. Michigan wasn't hitting us harder than anyone else, but when you lose the ball on fumbles eight times as we did, you give the opposition 400 yards.

"Michigan is a fine team and I don't want to take anything away from it. But we were able to move, as deeply bottled up as we were, until we gave the ball away each time. There isn't a thing a coach can do about this. We know the boys don't want to fumble and take extra precautions, maybe too many."

How does it feel to have a team that has run up a string of 22 straight victories?

"It doesn't mean a thing," said Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson, whose Sooners go after No. 23 against Kansas Saturday. "It won't affect good football players either. They're not concerned with statistics. In fact, statistics don't mean a thing in football.

"It's too bad the season isn't over now."

Believe it or not, the Michigan State first-stringers haven't scrimmaged since the season began and they have a date with mighty Notre Dame Saturday in the NCAA Television Game of the Week.

"We're too thin to take chances of getting our first string hurt in practice scrimmages," explained Coach Duffy Daughter. "When you have a lot of players, you can afford to scrimmage them and absorb an injury or two. But we can't take that chance."

UCLA's much-publicized Ronnie Knox, whose shoulder has been bothering him, should be able to play against Stanford Saturday, the team physician reported. But Sam Brown has won the No. 1 tailback spot.

Quick Kicks Paying Off For Sooners

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Opponents of the undefeated, untied Oklahoma Sooners have a kick coming. Against the quick kick.

This potent portion of the Sooners' offense came into its own against Texas last week. Four quick kicks set the Longhorns back so deep they wore themselves out trying to come out of the hole.

"You try to move the ball," is the way Coach Bud Wilkinson laughingly explained the strategy of the quick kick, Oklahoma style, yesterday.

Wilkinson's football teams have always used the quick kick as a means of chasing foes back ni their own bailiwick. But this year's club, riding a string of 22 victories and third-ranked nationally, never demonstrated it so effectively as it did beating Texas, 20-0.

Three Loop Games On Tap In SWC

By The Associated Press

Three conference games plus Baylor's contest in Seattle with powerful Washington this weekend kept Southwest Conference football elevens going at top speed in Tuesday's preparations.

Baylor, working almost exclusively on its offense, had a smoother looking runninig game than on Saturday. Soph Kenneth Helms, who ran and passed so well against Maryland and Arkansas, took over the team-running chores ahead of Bobby Jones and Jimmy Davenport.

Rice reported three first-string players injured after Saturday night's victory over Clemson. They are fullback Jerry Hall, guard Jay Riviere, and guard Mat Gorges. All are expected in the lineup against SMU Saturday.

The Mustangs began hard drills for their conference opener against the Owls. Rice and SMU were listed as the conference's top teams in the pre-season predictions but the Mustangs have lost 2 out of 3. Rice has 2 victories and a tie.

Bear Bryant's young and ambitious Texas A&M Aggies were in excellent conditiin and fine spirit as they prepared to meet undefeated and unextended TCU. This game conceivably could decide the conference champion, many are saying.

TCU, like SMU, worked out in secret in preparing for the capable Aggie eleven Bryant has fashioned at College Station. The Aggies have won three, lost one, while TCU has won four straight.

Coach Abe Martin said Monday the Saturday game with Texas A&M would be "an awful lot of fun for the spectators."

"Not the coaches," he added, "they'll be suffering."

At Fayeteville, Coach Jack Mitchell said his Razorbacks of Arkansas "haven't really been getting beat."

"We've just been coming out on the wrong end of the score," said Mitchell. "These boys don't like to get beat any more than I do and we're going to win one." He said the Hogs, defeated by Baylor and Texas Christian, would work mostly in pass defense in preparing for the University of Texas this week.

The Longhorns, 20-0 losers last week to powerful Oklahoma, started the week's drills with two backfield men sidelined by injuries suffered in the Oklahoma game. They were Mickey Smith and Larry Graham, both of Houston, who suffered mild concussions.

Trabert To Turn Pro

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Amateur tennis champion Tony Trabert is expected to turn professional today.

Promoter Jack Kramer said the signing awaits only completion of attorneys' studies of the fine print in the contract and "I don't expect anything to hold up the deal."

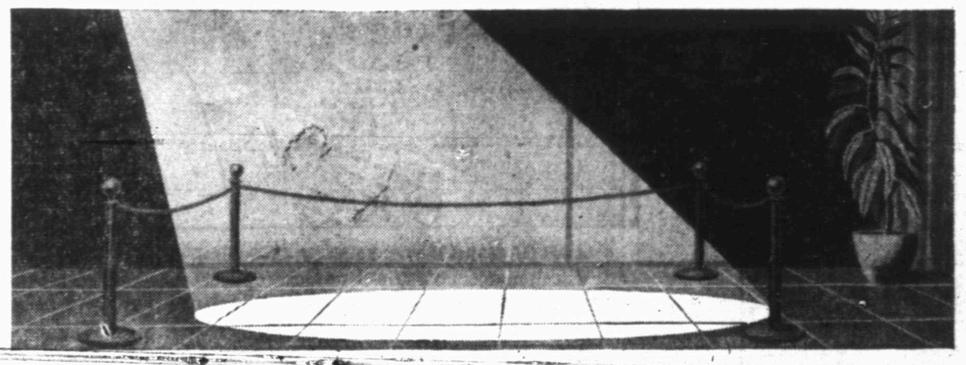

Kramer expects not only to bring Trabert, the U. S. and Wimbledon champion, into the pro ranks but also the Australian Davis Cup aces, Lewis Hoad and Ken Rosewall. Snaring this trio, rated as the world's three best amateurs, would constitute the biggest pro tennis raid in history on the simon pures.

Kramer's attorney and Trabert's brother Marc, a Cincinnati lawyer, were going over a few revisions each side asked in the proposed contract. Marc Trabert flew here yesterday.

The promoter declined to give the actual amount offered Trabert but said the amateur king will get mpre than Australia's Frank Sedgman did when he turned pro. Sedgman got a $75,000 guarantee against percentage of the gross that carried him somewhat above that figure.

Kramer said publicity over the Sedgman offer "cost me, as Tony just had to look back at the news stories to see how much Sedgman got. Naturally, he asked for more, and will get it. From now in I'm playing it like they do in baseball. Let there be speculation only."

Politics By Post Office Is Denied

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department says Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) is "wholly misinformed" and "totally incorrect" in his charges that postmasters have been fired by "illegal and political" means.

This was the department's preliminary reply last night to Johnston's charges, made in a statement announcing a "sweeping" investigation.

The department reserved its full-dress reply for a speech to be delivered today by Norman R. Abrams, assistant postmaster general, to a postmasters convention in Detroit. The department promised Abrams' speech would "fully and completely" refute Johnston's charges.

Meantime, Sen. Carlson (R-Kan) said in a telephone interview from his Concordia, Kan., home that Republicans would "welcome" the Johnston investigation. Johnston is chairman of the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee. Carlson is the group's ranking Republican member.

Johnston said committee investigators now are checking on a large number of complaints. He said that eventually public hearings will be held in Michigan, Texas, California, Illinois, Missouri, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania and North Carolina.

He said his committee has received "thousands of documents" showing that the postal inspection service "under new and cleverly devised instructions from Washington is being used simply to oust postmasters because it is thought they did not vote for President Eisenhower in 1952."

"Some of the methods used by this administration are strikingly similar to the methods used by Nazi storm troopers under Hitler," Johnston declared.

"The tactic seems to be to force or scare a postmaster into submitting his resignation. Many thousands have done this rather than spend their hard-earned money in a fight to save their jobs."

He said that never in his nine years on the Post Office Committee has he "known the morale of postmasters and postal employes to be so low."

In its preliminary reply, the department said Johnston is "wholly misinformed" and expressed regret that he "has undertaken to make public charges without first checking with the department."

"Sen. Johnston says that 'many thousands' of postmasters have the resignations of postmasters unbeen forced to resign under political pressure," the department said.

"The inaccuracy of this statement is proved by the fact that der this administration other than by reasons of becoming eligible for pensions are in the hundreds and these are for reasons of health and other normal causes."

The department said that of "only 538 postmasters actually removed by this administration," 203 were ousted for embezzlement; the rest for "good cause," such as "poor management, failure to devote the required time to duty, personal misconduct and theft of mail."

"Only four were removed for illegal political activity," the department added.

Johnston said his commitee "has information indicating that the jobs of postmasters and postal employes in Texas and several in some other states have been sold to the highest bidder."

Psychiatrist Seeks Study Of Impotence

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A psychiatrist today urged family doctors to ask their patients about their sex lives as a means of uncovering and treating impotence in men and frigidity in women.

The inability of many adults to function sexually often is hidden under assorted vague complaints which they describe to their physicians, Dr. Richard H. Gwartney told the California Academy of General Practice.

People whose real trouble is sexual weakness or a dislike of sex activity frequently go to their family doctor with complaints of upset stomach, restlessness, diarrhea or headache, he said. They won't talk about sex unless they are led into it.

Usually, he added, these individuals came from homes where sex was a tabooed subject.

"The most terrible thing that can happen to a girl," he said, "is to have a home in which sex is an ugly, forbidden word. This girl, like others of her age, is constantly being made aware of sex—at school, in the movies and in social contacts outside the home. But she has no place to turn to for good advice. The only way she can get advice about her urges is through an outsider or in the gutter."

It is adults with such a background whose sexual failures are masked by the vague complaints, Dr. Gwartney said. In the great majority of cases their trouble is psychological rather than physical. They associate sex with dirt and guilt. Or they fear what other people may think. He went on:

"Family doctors can treat most of these cases successfully if they uncover the trouble at an early stage and can convince the patient that his difficulty is mainly in his mind. He can assure the patient that sexual weakness occurs now and then even in the normally happy, well-adjusted person; that it is nothing to be ashamed of."

Middle East Trip By Nixon Is Uncertain

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Capital observers saw no prospect today that Vice President Nixon's now-postponed trip to the Middle East and Africa ever will take place.

They saw that result stemming from a number of factors, including President Eisenhower's illness, a more touchy diplomatic situation in the Middle East, and Nixon's own potential role in advance of next year's presidential election.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty announced the postponement yesterday. He said Nixon would remain in this country to preside over meetings of the Cabinet and the National Security Council while the President recuperates. He told newsmen he could not say whether the trip would be rescheduled later.

But observers saw little likelihood that Nixon would be leaving the country for any length of time even after the President recovers.

Some diplomatic observers remarked that the Middle Eastern situation has grown so much more critical since Nixon's tour first was proposed as to raise a question as to whether it should have been undertaken in any case.

When the plans for the fice president's visit were first announced Aug. 23, it was made clear that he was to be charged with no diplomatic responsibilities. He was merely to show a friendly American interest in the countries visited.

Since then have come such developments as Egypt's deal for arms from Czechoslovakia, concluded against U. S. urgings.

There was some feeling in diplomatic circles that it would be almost impossible now to send a good will mission headed by an important official to the Middle East without running into great pressures involving U. S. pilicy decisions.

Heart Disease Study Is Made

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The Bantu Negro tribes of central and south Africa may give science a key to curbing heart diseases in the Western world.

Doctors have found members of the Bantu tribes immune to coronary thrombosis and other heart ailments.

One reason is that these Africans have "Peter Pan" blood vessels—they "never grow up." The arteries and veins of a Bantu 70 to 80 years old compare favorably with those of a European of 20 to 30, doctors say.

Research has shown that most white men have much larger deposits of lime salts and fatty materials in their bodies than the Bantus. Such materials tend to harden the blood vessels over the years and apparently create conditions making the heart more susceptible to disease.

Why the Bantus have less is still unknown.

Dr. I. Bersohn of the Johannesburg Institute if Medical Research says, "The problem is to find what protects the Bantu blood vessels frim aging."

Symington Campaign Plans Called Off

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Plans by supporters of Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri to discuss a "Symington for president" campaign have been called off at the senator's request.

D. W. Gilmore, Kansas City insurance man and former state senator and circuit judge, had sent invitations to a small group of the senator's backers and state Democratic leaders for a meeting on the proposal at Sikeston, Mo., next Saturday.

Symington said yesterday that when nhe received the letter about the meeting, he wrote Gilmore requesting no such meeting be held.

Gilmore said the meeting will be held but he'll try to see there is no talk about a Symington presidential campaign.

S... ...E VOICE LULLS EISENHOWER—Mrs. Dana Gugl...., pipe smoking singer whose voice it was disclosed lulls President Eisenhower in his Denver hospital room, takes time off from a recording session with her husband, Danny, to show their son Jan, 9, a letter she received in Northridge, Cal., from Mrs. Eisenhower thanking them for the tape recordings they sent the President. Danny, once an arranger for the late Glenn Miller, writes the music and his wife writes the lyrics and sings all the vocals.

Cotton Prices Support Level And Allotments May Be Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Experts agreed today that cuts in the level of cotton price supports and in the national cotton acreage allotment are probable for 1956.

The acreage allotment, they figure, will likely be set at between 17 million and 17½ million acres compared with the 1955 allotment of 18,200,000 while the support price may range somewhere between 75 and 86 per cent of parity. The 1955 support price is 90 per cent.

The clincher came yesterday with an Agriculture Department report estimating the 1955 cotton crop at nearly 14 million bales and the average yield per acre at a record 402* pounds.

Department experts and others agreed that it adds up to a smaller acreage and a drop in price supports from the present level of 90 per cent of parity—barring, of course, any change in the laws.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson must announce by Oct. 15 the cotton allotment. Cotton farmers then vote in mid-December on whether to accept acreage and marketing restrictions.

In setting the national acreage allotment the secretary considers the present supply, the new crop, the probable domestic consumption, probable exports and the carry-over which will exist Aug. 1.

A year ago he concluded that in view of the big surplus the 1955 crop should be held to 10 million bales and accordingly set the acreage at 18,200,000 acres, calculated to produce such a crop on the basis of the national average yield per acre. He cannot, under law, call for a crop under 10 million bales.

Despite the acreage cut from 21 million acres in 1954, the 1955 cotton crop is estimated at a whopping 13,900,000 bales. In other words, an Agriculture Department expert pointed out, despite a 14 per cent cut in acreage, there is a two per cent increase in production over last year.

Consequently experts figure Benson again will call for a new crop of 10 million bales.

Mathematically, since the per acre yield has been increasing steadily in recent years—it was 374 pounds last year—fewer acres will be required to produce 10 million bales in 1956 than in 1955.

Department experts are looking for a 1956 national cotton acreage allotment around 17 million acres, a drop of more than a million acres from 1955.

As to the probable 1956 price support, the picture isn't quite so definite.

Authorities say the level will be under 90 per cent of parity unless Congress enacts and the President signs new legislation to replace the present flexible support program with a mandatory 90 per cent program.

One department spokesman said the 1956 support level, under present law, may be between 75 per cent of parity and 86 per cent of parity. Much depends on what estimates of consumption and exports are used, what the 1955 crop estimates show next January and how a mathematical set-aside allowed by Congress for cotton is applied.

All signs point to an estimated carry-over Aug. 1 of around 12 million bales, compared with this year's carry-over of 11,100,000. An increase in exports could alter the picture.

Mamie Signs Many Notes

DENVER (AP)—The White House says Mamie Eisenhower so far has signed more than 11,000 "thank you" notes acknowledging part of the "tens of thousands" of get-well messages President Eisenhower has received.

And she intends to go on signing more—and means to see that every message gets a reply, James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, said yesterday.

Hagerty said he checked the statement about more than 11,000 signatures with Mrs. Eisenhower herself before making it public, and he later reiterated the figure.

Hagerty didn't say so, but a big share of the replies Mrs. Eisenhower is sending out probably are identical. The latter are prepared for her signature by a secretarial staff.

The First Lady has been at the hospital since a few hours after the President was hospitalized Sept. 24.

"It is, of course, impossible to answer personally all of the mail, which right now totals tens of thousands," Hagerty said. Form cards are being prepared to acknowledge messages which do not get a personal reply.

"Both the President and Mrs. Eisenhower are deeply grateful for the thousands of 'get well' wishes and prayers for recovery that have come from people throughout the nation and the world," Hagerty said.

He reported that Mrs. Eisenhower—who has had a heart condition herself since childhood—is feeling "fine" and bearing up well.

Yugoslav Air Crash Probed

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Austrian and Yugoslav governments today were investigating the crash of a Yugoslav airliner in which two Americans and five others died in the Vienna Woods.

Twenty-two other persons, including four Americans, were injured when the American-built Convair of the Yugoslav Airline crashed into a fog-blanketed hill yesterday.

The American dead were Frank Allen, 30, McAdenville, N. C., a member of the military assistance staff at the U. S. Embassy in Belgrade, and James Abshier, 29, Jewett, Tex., from the naval attache's office at the Belgrade Embassy.

Allen's Yugoslav bride Melita, 25, whom he was taking on her first visit to the United States, also was killed. The Allens were expecting a baby.

The injured included: Frank P. Irwin, Iuka, Ill., Lt. Col. John I. Rhea, U. S. Army chaplain at Heidelberg, Germany and Mr. and Mrs. Mercer B. Barrows, Haverford, Pa.

The cause of the crash was not determined immediately.

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — King Husein of Jordan was reported under treatment here today for a chronic stomach disorder.

Land Claim Is Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court has turned down a federal effort to restrict Louisiana claims of offshore submerged lands having oil reserves worth many millions of dollars.

By a 6-0 vote, the high tribunal rejected yesterday a Justice Department request that Louisiana's seaward boundary be fixed at three geographical miles from its shore. Louisiana contends its boundary extends about 10½ miles into the Gulf of Mexico, the same as Texas.

The court rejected the motion without giving any explanation. Its action left open the question of ultimate ownership of the mineral resources in the disputed offshore area. This issue may have to be settled in litigation.

Nation's Crude Oil Output Increases

TULSA (AP)—The nation's daily average production of crude oil increased 56,575 barrels to 6,707,575 during the week ended Oct. 5, the Oil and Gas Journal's survey showed today.

This brought the Journal's estimate of 1955 production to 1,892,412,725 barrels compared to 1,786,397,309 a year ago.

Most of the rise was due to Texas' 64,100-barrel advance to 2,811,600 barrels.

Louisiana was up 7,700 barrels to 754,400; Colorado up 300 to 151,300; New Mexico was off 2,400 to 228,500; Arkansas off 550 to 73,100 and Oklahoma was off 500 to 533,900.

CAB Grants Certification On Airlines

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board granted permanent certificates yesterday to Trans-Texas Airways and Central Airlines of Fort Worth.

Trans-Texas received the classification for Houston and a route in Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Tennessee.

The CAB is required to grant permanent certificates to local service airlines for at least 50 per cent of the cities they serve.

The CAB authorized Tran-Texas to serve these points on a permanent basis:

In Texas—San Antonio, San Angelo, El Paso, McAllen, Harlingen, Corpus Christi, Victoria, Houston, Fort Worth, Dallas, Tyler, Longview-Kilgore-Gladewater, Lufkin, Beaumont - Port Arthur, Austin, Fort Stockton, Brownwood and Texarkana.

In Arkansas—Hot Springs, Little Rock, Pine Bluff, and Eldorado.

In Tennessee—Memphis.

In Louisiana—Shreveport.

The CAB granted Trans-Texas temporary three year certificates to serve Kerrville, Pecos, Marfa-Alpine, Beeville, Coleman, Galveston, College Station-Bryan, Marshall and Brady in Texas; and in Arkansas Stuttgart, Helena, Camden and Magnolia.

The proposals to grant permanent certificates for the five other airlines completed the initial legal steps toward permanent certificates for 13 of the 14 local service airlines.

The CAB proposed that Central be certified permanently to serve 91 airports or cities:

In Texas—Amarillo, Borger, Dallas, Fort Worth.

In Oklahoma—Enid, Ponca City, Bartlesville, Tulsa, Muskogee, Oklahoma City, Lawton and Duncan.

In Arkansas—Fayetteville, Fort Smith, Hot Springs and Little Rock.

Central would receive temporary three year authority to serve Sherman-Denison and Paris, and Woodward, McAlester, Ada, Ardmore and Stillwater, Oklahoma.

Vote Returns In Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The pro-Western Moslem Masjumi party whittled down the lead of the Indonesian Nationalist party to about 600,000 today with the help of revised unofficial returns. More than 28 million ballots had been counted, about 80 per cent of the anticipated total.

Heavy majorities on Sumatra and Borneo in Indonesia's first popular national elections put the Masjumi in a position to challenge seriously the Nationalists' bid to capture the largest number of the 260 elected seats in Parliament and form a government for four years.

Revised unofficial tabulations for the major parties showed: Nationalists 7,379,116, Masjumi 6,776,924, Moslem Orthodox Radicals 6,170,926, Communists, 5,798,012.

The Nationalists have worked closely with the Communists.

Final official returns from all Indonesia's 3,000 islands are not expected for some time.

Texas Stock Broker Takes Stand Today

FORT WORTH (AP)—Frank Cowart, a Houston stock broker, was back on the stand today as a Securities and Exchange Commission hearing continued into sale of a firm's uraninum stock.

Cowart handled sales of stock of Universal Service Corp. of Houston until an SEC order placed a temporary stop eight months ago. The hearing is on whether the stop should be made permanent.

A Walter Winchell television program of Feb. 13 came into prominent mention in the hearing yesterday as SEC Atty. C. W. Aston questioned Cowart.

"Considerably so," the broker replied when asked if Winchell's description of Universal's purported uranium discoveries caused any sales pickup in Universal stock.

Cowart said he did not know who supplied the data to Winchell.

The witness also was questioned concerning the sale of Universal Stock to an out of state buyer in violation of the company's Texas charter which limited sales to Texas because the firm then was not registered with SEC.

Cowart said he sold the stock to Mrs. Archie Rogers of Knoxville, Tenn., because he was not aware she was not a resident of Texas.

The company since that time has filed a registration statement with SEC, which questioned Universal's claims of uranium and quicksilver mercury deposits and oil and gas holdings in Brewster County.

Cowart testified that of two million shares of cent-a-share stock issued by Universal 1,200,000 shares were transferred to Bert Thompson, principal stockholder and promoter of the Universal setup. Only 500,000 shares, the witness continued, were assigned to the company treasury for those who bought in $20,000 in formation shares before incorporation.

Universal stock prices ranged from 40 cents per share up to $25 per share, he said.

Doctor's Call Is Expensive

LONDON (AP) — Mrs. Kathleen Wildy learned yesterday that calling a doctor for an old friend will cost her a 3,123 pounds — $8,744.40 inheritance.

The friend, Mrs. Christine Hambidge, was seriously ill but declined medical aid. "If you call a doctor I will tear up my will, and it makes you my heir," she told Mrs. Wildy.

Alarmed by Mrs. Hambidge's condition, Mrs. Wildy called a doctor anyway and Mrs. Hambidge tore up the will as threatened.

She later relented and made a new will in Mrs. Wildy's favor, but failed to have it witnessed before she died. Yesterday the probate court held the second will to be invalid. The money goes to Mrs. Hambidge's niece, Mrs. Jean Mead.

In addition to losing the inheritance, Mrs. Wildy was assessed 400 pounds — $1,120 —court costs.

Indictments Are Returned

SAN DIEGO, Tex. (AP)—Asst. Atty. Gen. Sidney Chandler says 24 of the 104 indictments overturned last week by the Court of Criminal Appeals have been returned a second time by a grand jury which meets legal requirements.

The court in a split decision overturned the indictments involving alleged irregularities in Duval County because, it said, the grand jury was illegally constituted.

Chandler said last night the 24 indictments were returned this summer by the present Duval County grand jury although they were not disclosed then as reindictments.

D. C. Chapa, Oscar Carrillo Sr., and Santiago Sanche were involved in the 24 counts and were based on alleged misuse of Duval County funds.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd, critical of the appeals court ruling, was expected here this week to take part in the case. Chandler, Asst. Atty. Gen. Sam Ratliff and Dist. Atty. Sam Burris met with the grand jury yesterday. Several witnesses were heard.

Chapa apologied for not appearing for trial and said he had been told by his attorney that his presence was not necessary. A new trial for the two, former Duval County officials, has been set in Tyler for Nov. 14.

Miss Truman Back In U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Margaret Truman returned today from a two-month vacation in Europe — and once more denied that she is engaged or expects to be.

She was wearing a diamond sapphire ring, which she said her parents had given her as a college graduation present. She said it was what probably touched off engagement reports.

"This is the only ring I've had on," she replied as reporters meeting her on the liner United States brought up the betrothal matter.

"There's no truth to it. I'm sorry there isn't . . . I'm more disappointed than you are."

Miss Truman visited Italy, England and Austria, sightseeing and shopping.

She said she made recordings twice weekly for the National Broadcasting Co., and is scheduled to appear on television shows later with Jimmy Durante and Martha Raye.

Her parents, former President and Mrs. Harry S. Truman, met her ship as it docked.

Mrs. Isaacs Rites

Services for Mrs. Emma Sofa Isaacs, 84 were held yesterday 2:30 p.m. with burial in the Snyder Cemetery, under the direction of Bell Funeral Home. She had formerly lived in Snyder for several years.

U.S. Policy Draws Blast

GALVESTON (AP) — The United States is spending more money for water conservation in foreign countries than it is spending for the same purpose in this country, Sen. Price Daniel says.

He spoke last night to the Texas Water Conservation Assn., saying:

"I believe we should keep up our foreign aid program but we ought to spend more of this money for water conservation in our own country."

The senator said Texas' water situation is more serious than that of any other state.
