POLA'S EX-HUBBY AND OPERA STAR SOON TO MARRY

Prince Serge M'Divani, former husband of Pola Negri, and brother-in-law of Mae Murray, will marry Mary McCormick, Amarillo, Tex., grand opera singer, "somewhere in southern California" soon. Serge has leased a Beverly Hills estate as their home after a wedding trip to Japan. The couple is shown below.

PORTO RICO IS TODAY'S HOST TO HOOVER

CHEERS AND HISSES ARE HEARD AFTER PARTY ARRIVES

(By The Associated Press)

PONCE, PORTO RICO, March 23 —The battleship Arizona, with President Hoover and two members of his cabinet aboard, anchored outside Ponce harbor at 6 a. m. today and began immediately to debark the president's party by motor boat to the quay here.

The president was the last to leave the Arizona, boats previously having taken the large company of newspapermen, photographers and others of the entourage, including Secretaries Hurley and Wilbur, ashore where a large crowd awaited their coming.

To Make Address

From Ponce, where Governor Roosevelt and island officials and political leaders were assembled to meet the president, the party planned to go in a caravan of 23 automobiles across the island to San Juan where Mr. Hoover planned to make an address in answer to his welcome.

Mr. Hoover was the second president of the United States to visit Porto Rico, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, father of the present governor of the island, having preceded him here in 1906.

The president will remain on the island about 36 hours, leaving Tuesday afternoon for the Virgin islands, the second and final stop on his combination vacation and official trip.

National guardsmen patrolled the roads en route from Ponce to San Juan.

President Hoover was enthusiastically cheered as he landed, but there was some hissing as the mayor officially welcomed him to Ponce.

Seek To Aid Widow Of Murdered Texan

SAN ANTONIO, March 23. (AP)—Three Baptist ministers today were raising a fund to aid the widow and five children of Paul Kardow, 53, killed by a robber Saturday night while he was capturing the man with the aid of L. R. Graham, owner of the store where Kardow was employed.

Kardow was formerly a heavyweight wrestler. Three years ago at a market here he captured a robber without being injured.

THREE ROBBERS OBJECT OF HUNT

DALLAS, Mar. 23. (AP)—Three robbers, one of whom was shot early Sunday during a holdup in Fort Worth, were sought today by Dallas police. N. O. Shepherd of Fort Worth reported he was kidnaped by the robbers in Fort Worth and was forced to drive them to Dallas, then was released and was told to return to Fort Worth.

One of the men was believed wounded by Fort Worth police in a gun fight when they attempted to rob an oil station while the officers were seeking them in connection with three other holdups. An automobile stolen Saturday from F. L. Talley of Dallas was found abandoned in Fort Worth and police believed the men stole the car here, driving to Fort Worth to stage the robberies. Two bridge games in private homes there were held up Saturday night.

INSPECTOR FOR STATE HERE LAST WEEK

"BAD CONDITION" IS CITED BY KINARD HERE MONDAY

About a dozen gasoline pumps and as many market scales have been "tied up" by J. A. Kinard, inspector for the weights-and-measures division of the state department of agriculture, of Austin.

Mr. Kinard said he passed all of last week here inspecting pumps and scales, and Monday morning ordered that some of the pumps and scales inspected early last week not be used until repaired or correctly adjusted.

"In Bad Condition"

"I found pumps and scales in Lubbock in a bad condition," the inspector reported.

The condition possibly was attributed to the fact that a similar inspection last was made here two years ago, Mr. Kinard opined. The inspector "tied up" only pumps and scales inspected during the first part of last week, as proprietors whose measures had been investigated late in the week may not have had time to make necessary changes, the inspector explained.

Those who had not made repairs and adjustments should do so immediately as an inspector will visit Lubbock later without advance notice, Mr. Kinard warned.

Cessation Ordered

In a reinspection this morning the inspector ordered cessation of operation of pumps and scales which had not been satisfactorily changed since his first inspection.

Inspectors of the weights-and-measures division rarely "tie up" pumps and scales at first inspections, as they wish to give operators an opportunity to "get in line" voluntarily, Mr. Kinard explained.

When the condition of weighing and measuring apparatus which has been "tied up" has been corrected, the operator may again use it legally as soon as he has sent an affadavit to the weights-and-measures

SEEK TO HELP FIRE RECORD

COMMITTEE ON FIRE PREVENTION WILL MEET TUESDAY

A meeting of the Lubbock Fire Prevention committee will be held at 4:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in chamber of commerce offices. H. D. Woods is chairman of the committee, which is affiliated with the chamber of commerce.

A 3 per cent bad-fire-record charge on fire insurance here will result in Lubbock property owners paying approximately $31,801 in excess insurance premiums, according to J. W. DeWeese, state fire insurance commissioner.

Results In Difference

Lubbock last year was allowed a 15 per cent good-fire-record credit, the 3 per cent charge dealt this year resulting in a difference of 18 per cent in fire insurance rates here.

"From the reports of your city fire marshal, it appears that the fires that have occurred in your city in the past where the property was seemingly over-insured have been one of the causes of your city receiving a bad fire record." Commissioner DeWees reported to city authorities.

"Considering this fact as shown by said reports, it occurs to us that if this class of fires could be reduced in your city during this year that in all probability your city would reduce its bad-fire-record charge next year," the fire insurance commissione continued.

July Selected To Try Leo Brothers

CRIMINAL COURT BUILDING, CHICAGO, March 23. (AP)—A jury to try Leo Brothers for the murder of Alfred ("Jake") Lingle, Tribune police reporter, was completed shortly before noon today and immediately sworn in.

The opening arguments were set for tomorrow.

As the last veniremen were questioned, the prosecution indicated the question of "why was Jake Lingle killed?" might go unanswered.

"The supreme court of this state has ruled," said Assistant State's Attorney Wayland Brooks, "and I think Judge Saboth will so instruct you, that the state is not obliged to prove why a man was murdered. If we can prove that this defendant fired the shot that killed Lingle it will make no difference then if we have not shown why he did it."

LAW TIGHTENS ITS GRIP ON "ENEMIES"

CHICAGO UNRELENTING IN DRIVE AGAINST RACKETEERING

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, March 23. (AP)—The law appears to be tightening its grip on Chicago's "public enemies."

One by one the men so classified by the authorities have been stacking their wits against the agencies of the law—and have lost.

The latest to feel the attack is William Neimoth, whose conviction for participation in a $47,000 payroll robbery in Baltimore in 1926, has been upheld by the court of appeals at Annapolis. Neimoth was sentenced to ten years. Attorneys said his chances for a rehearing were slim.

Neimoth's apparent failure to escape punishment followed closely the conviction of No. 1 on the list of 28 enemies—Alphonse Capone, who was sentenced to six months for contempt of federal court in Chicago. The charge grew out of his failure to respond to a summons from the grand jury which was investigating incomes. He is trying to avoid the penalty by an appeal.

Meanwhile Chicago police said they would not be surprised to see a new flareup of gangland guns as a result of the playing Saturday night of Johnny Genaro, known as a Capone henchman, and a brother of Joseph "Pepe" Genaro, a "public enemy." They said they believed a quarrel between the Genaro brothers and Jimmy Belcastro and Rocco Fanelli, also "public enemies" was responsible.

Two on the original list have been killed—Joe Aiello, North Side gang leader, who walked into a machine gun ambush last fall, and Jack Zuta, slain last August at Dalafield, Wis.

PANHANDLE GROUP WILL FIGHT TAX

AUSTIN, March 23. (AP)—A delegation of Panhandle citizens arrived here today to protest against passage of the bill levying a natural gas tax of three-eights of a cent per thousand cubic feet. The bill was expected to come up in the house tomorrow on a favorable committee report.

Ray Johnson of Amarillo was chairman of the delegation. The group included R. B. Masterson, rancher; Mack Sanford, rancher and oil-gas producer; Julius Dorenfield, attorney; Charles Keffer, attorney; Roy Collum, president of the Texas Automobile Dealers' association; Avery Rush, banker and gas producer; Lawrence Hagy, independent producer; Tex McIlroy, president of the Dixon Creek Oil and Gas company, independent organization; Hugh Alpaugh, Dixon Creek official; O. V. Vernon, manager of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce and Maurice Works, attorney, all of Amarillo; Mel Davis, oil-gas producer and rancher and Ed Dunningan, producer of Pampa and George Briggs, manager of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce; Guy Hill, secretary of the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce, representing Wheeler county producers.

Cicero Murray Will Attend Texas Meet

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Mar. 23. (AP)—Cicero I. Murray, chairman of the oil states' advisory committee, planned to leave today for Austin to represent Oklahoma at an oil proration hearing.

He will return Thursday to confer with his cousin, Governor W. H. Murray, before leaving for Washington where a national conference is scheduled to begin on March 30.

AMARILLOAN SUICIDES

AMARILLO, March 23. (AP)—Emmett A. Ballard, 25, a local bank employe was found shot to death here early this morning. A pistol was found by his side. He had been dead several hours. A verdict of suicide was given by the coroner. Despondency was given as the probable motive.

FAMOUS WILBORN FORECAST SAYS 1931 WILL SEE BOUNTIFUL YIELDS

Believe It Or Not—The 1931 crop yield will be a bountiful one for this section of West Texas!

Down in Garza county, near Post, the now famous J. I. Wilborn wind test has been taken and, according to oldtimers, 'it never fails'. Check on the direction of the wind at sunrise which, according to Indian legends, tells the crop story in advance, was made on March 22nd. According to W. O. Stevens, Lubbock and Post banker, it 'came out just right'.

Mr. Stevens learned this morning that the sunrise test yesterday showed the wind blowing from Southeast and East, which means a good yield for the year. Had the wind been from any other direction it wouldn't have been so reassuring, the banker, who has been watching the tests for years, declared.

This year's tests were made by Bob Rogers, oldtimer, son of a Garza county pioneer and son-in-law of J. I. Wilborn, who usually makes the prophecies. Mr. Wilborn, who has been in poor health lately, has gone to East Texas for a rest.

Mr. Stevens became attracted to the Wilborn prophecies when he was active in the banking business at Post. He reports that Mr. Wilborn's prophecies 'are always to be relied upon'. Mr. Wilborn learned of the practice from Indians in the early days of West Texas.

GOTHAM WAITS FOR CHARGE

ACTION OF GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT AWAITED IN WALKER PROBE

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 23.—Gotham was rife with speculation today awaiting the action of Governor Roosevelt on charges against Mayor Walker.

The Times said the governor was expected to send to Mayor Walker for answer to the charges filed by the city affairs committee.

The herald-Tribune quoted a close friend of the chief executive as saying the charges probably would be dropped as too vague and indefinite.

Referee Samuel Seabury, who has been conducting an inquiry into magistrates' courts and who was appointed commissioner to inquire into the conduct of District Attorney Thomas C. T. Crain, conferred with the governor at the latter's home for four hours yesterday. Nothing was made public.

Resolution For Oil, Gas Probe Favored

AUSTIN, March 23. (AP)—The house today adopted a resolution by Senators Pollard of Tyler and Parrish of Lubbock to appoint a committee to investigate oil and gas conditions and confer with similar committees from other states with the view of adopting a uniform code for the production of gas and oil. The resolution was adopted by the senate last week.

The committee will be composed of the governor, attorney general, chairman of the railroad commission, four senators and five members of the house. An appropriation of $5,000 was made to provide funds.

Santa Fe Permitted To Lease New Line

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—The Panhandle & Santa Fe railroad today was authorized by the interstate commerce commission to lease the 84-mile of the North Texas & Santa Fe.

Both lines are subsidiaries of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe. The North Texas & Santa Fe runs from Spearman, Texas, to Shattuck, Okla.

PLANE CRASHES KILL FOUR

TWO PLEASURE SHIPS WRECKED WITHIN 20 MINUTES SUNDAY

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, March 23.—Death rode the skies here yesterday, wrecking two pleasure airplanes and taking a toll of four lives with-in 20 minutes.

The first to crash were Wilbert Wadleigh, 35, writer of air and western stories, and his wife, Lorene Wadleigh, 32. They died in a rented biplane. Wadleigh said his wife would take the controls as soon as they were off the ground and witnesses said they believed the ship got out of control while the change was being made.

Aline Miller, 22, saleswoman, employed by the Emsco Aircraft company, took Ivan De Villiers, 40, motion picture airplane stunt flier, for a pleasure hop from Grand Central terminal. They were about 400 feet up when the plane side-slipped and crashed. Both were killed.

Oil Men Gathering For Austin Hearing

AUSTIN, March 23.—Oil men from Texas and other states were gathering here today for the proration hearing tomorrow before the railroad commission.

A large group of East Texans expected to oppose restriction of the new Rusk-Gregg county district at this time but the central proration committee planned to prepare proration recommendations for the new field as well as for the old areas.

Robert R. Penn, Dalas independent operator and chairman of the central proration committee, was one of the earliest arrivals.

Second Ruch Trial Is Summoned Today

GUTHRIE, Okla., Mar. 23. (AP)—The government summoned to a second trial today P. V. Ruch, former county attorney of Tillman county accused of entanglement in a so-called southern Oklahoma whiskey ring.

A previous jury which convicted numerous persons in connection with the alleged liquor conspiracy failed to agree on Ruch's innocence or guilt.

"MOTHER" PICKETT TAKEN BY DEATH; FAMED FOR MEMORIES OF CIVIL WAR

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 23.—"Mother" Pickett of the snow-white hair and charming accent no more will tell of the last confederate charge at Gettysburg or draw word pictures of interesting characters and incidents.

In a private hospital here yesterday, Mrs. La Salle Corbell Pickett, called "mother" even by presidents, died of hardening of the arteries in her eighty-third year. With her passed the tingling tale she told of how confederates stormed up Cemetery Ridge at Gettysburg July 3, 1863, only to be repulsed when they found the Union forces had not exhausted their ammunition.

She had reason to know that story well. She was 15 when she married the officer who led the southern forces—General George Edward Pickett. Before his death in 1875 she became known as "the child bride of the Confederacy" and was praised for her vivacity and beauty.

A favorite in society she knew every president beginning with Lincoln, and met authors, actors and diplomats. One of her most colorful manuscripts entitled "My Memory Chain," was left unfinished by her death.

FARM BOARD SAYS TO CUT ACREAGE OR ACCEPT PRICES

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Learning that he cannot expect the government to attempt stabilization of the 1931 wheat crop, the farmer today had two alternatives—to limit production to domestic demand or accept world prices.

The farm board made it clear yesterday that its grain stabilization corporation will not try artificial price maintenance indefinitely since the work is of an emergency nature and expensive.

No Policy Change

The board reiterated in a statement, however, it planned no change in policy in respect to 1930 wheat, now being stabilized through purchases of surplus stocks.

About 200,000,000 bushels of wheat have been bought by the stabilization corporation out of a $500,000,000 revolving fund authorized by congress.

Claiming these purchases in 1929 saved wheat farmers "many millions of dollars," the board said it could not indefinitely go on buying and holding these stocks.

"Farmers know this," the board said, "and would ask that it be done. It would not be, in the long run, in the farmers' own interest."

Reduction Held As Hope

Permanent relief lies in acreage reduction and efficient production methods, it said, renewing its plea for drastic curtailment. It saw some progress in this direction.

The board said nothing about cotton, of which it now holds 1,300,000 bales.

SENTENCE WHITES IN NEGRO'S DEATH

ATLANTA, March 23. (AP)—Two white men were under sentence today for voluntary manslaughter in connection with the killing last June of Dennis Hubert, student at Morehouse college and member of a prominent negro family of Georgia.

Aubrey Sikes was convicted Saturday and given from two to three years. T. L. Martin was convicted last year and given from 12 to 15 years. Four other white men are awaiting trial for the slaying.

The defense pleaded justifiable homicide, asserting that Hubert insulted a white woman with the six men on a negro playground. Evidence was introduced by the state that the alleged "insult" was the suggestion of a negro youth, not Hubert, to take "the drunk lady home" when she fell down on the playground.

Former Judge Freed Of Slaying Charges

ARDMORE, Okla., March 23. (AP)—Former County Judge A. J. Hardy was acquitted Saturday night, of the charge of slaying his young wife.

Hardy on the stand Saturday, told of his wife's death by the discharge of a shotgun last November while the two were on a hunting trip. He said a shotgun which he had placed in his automobile was discharged accidentally when Mrs. Hardy's foot slipped off the clutch and the car jerked forward. The state had contended he shot his wife, calling as star witness a negro farmer living near the scene of death, who claimed he saw Hardy pursue his wife and shoot her down.

Over Four Thousand At Sunday Schools

Sunday school attendance as reported in Lubbock churches yesterday morning totaled 4,500 persons. The First Baptist church had an enrollment of 1,194; First Methodist, 1,082. Other churches were as follows:

Broadway Church of Christ, 396; First Presbyterian, 343; First Christian, 335; Asbury Methodist, 219; Calvary Baptist, 214; Church of the Nazarene 160; Sanders Union, 142; Cumberland Presbyterian, 135. West End Baptist, 80.

CONFESSES PLOT

Charged with criminal syndicalism, following his alleged confession of a plan to destroy the nearly completed U. S. naval airship Akron, Paul F. Kassay, 38, Goodyear-Zeppelin mechanical expert and former lieutenant in the Austro-Hungarian navy, has been held at Akron, O., under bond of $25,000. Authorities say Kassay admitted planning to enter the control room of the dirigible before its maiden flight to see that the craft "never took the air."

REDS RALLY TO DEFENSE OF KASSAY

SEEK RELEASE OF MAN WHO ATTEMPTED TO WRECK DIRIGIBLE

(By The Associated Press)

AKRON, O., March 23.—Although denying he was a member of their party, communists rallied today to the defense of Paul K. Kassay, charged with plotting the destruction of the navy dirigible Akron being built here.

Miss Jennie Cooper of Cleveland, district organizer of the International Labor Defense committee, said she would come here today to post a $40,000 property security to obtain Kassay's release under $20,000 bond. Kassay's arrest, she said, was a "well-organized plan to discredit the communist party."

Plan Demonstrations

Demonstrations will be held in Cleveland, Youngstown, Toledo, Akron and other Ohio cities to "arouse sympathy in behalf of Kassay," Miss Cooper said.

Kassay's release also was sought on habeas corpus proceedings today by Miss Yetta Land, attorney for the International Labor Defense committee. She likewise termed the charges a "frame-up".

Assistant County Prosecutor George R. Hargreaves announced that the county grand jury had indicted Kassay on a charge of criminal syndicalism today.

Department of justice agents from Detroit caused Kassay's arrest Friday night, they charged he had attempted to weaken the structure of the giant ship and planned to get into the control room to see that it did not take the air.

Rangers Raid San Antonio Roadhouse

SAN ANTONIO, March 23. (AP)—Led by Captain Frank Hamer, a group of six Texas rangers yesterday raided Shadowland, a roadhouse near the city, and destroyed gambling equipment valued between $2,500 and $5,000. Seven men arrested by the rangers were released later on bond.

Several hundred patrons in the part of the building used as a cafe were not molested. Bill Cohan, one of the proprietors, said no one was gambling at the time of the raid. He said the equipment was not being used but was merely in storage.

Jack Bardwell Held On Liquor Charges

Charges of possession and sale of liquor have been filed against Jack Bardwell in Justice of the Peace H. K. Porter's court. Bardwell was arrested late Saturday. He is in city jail.

Two other men were arrested and jailed Saturday night on grand jury indictments charging liquor law violations.

TWO ARE KILLED

HOUSTON, March 23. (AP)—Two persons were killed in traffic accidents here last night. Mrs. H. J. McCannon, 66, was fatally injured when struck by a police automobile in front of her home. Hugh Quinn Cooper, 7, died on the way to a hospital after being hit by an automobile on the Hot Wells road.

WIDE AREA IS REPRESENTED AT AFFAIR

FOUR HUNDRED BOYS FROM THIRTY HIGH SCHOOLS ATTEND

High school vocational agriculture students from more than 30 high schools in West Texas, including the territory from the Texas and Pacific railroad on the south to Dalhart on the north, were here today for the sixth annual vocational agriculture contest sponsored by the school of agriculture of Texas Technological college.

More than 400 boys were entered in the competition. Work began at 9 o'clock and judging work was completed in the forenoon. This afternoon the boys were preparing their reasons for the selections in the group in which they were entered.

Decision on the first five positions in each contest will be announced tonight at a dinner to be served in the livestock pavilion by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

R. C. Mowery, general superintendent, declared the contest was the "most successful in the history of Tech." He and his assistants, members of the town visitors. Students were in charge of the several groups in the buildings of the school.

Location of the contests were: Dairy cattle at the pens west of the dairy barn; livestock contest, in livestock pavilion; poultry contest, barn half a mile west of pavilion; plant production, agriculture building and farm shop in a shed northwest of dairy barn.

Judges and teams entered were as follows: Livestock, W. L. Stangel, head; Glen Blackmon, Ronald Tom and Gordon Gillespie, with 19 teams entered; plant production; H. J. Bower, C. H. Mahoney and L. M. Starr, 19 teams entered; dairy cattle; H. G. Harbaugh, head; Rolle Middleton and J. W. Jennings, with 30 teams entered; poultry; D. F. Eaton, head and also judge, 22 teams entered; farm shop, H. M. Bell, head; J. A. Pipkin and T. A. McQuerey; 10 teams entered.

Colonel Sparkman was superintendent of the poultry contests; J. P. Williams, superintendent of the

GINNING TOTAL GIVEN OUT

COTTON PRODUCED IN COUNTY 33,889 BALES REPORT SHOWS

Lubbock county ginned 33,889 bales of cotton during the 1930 crop season, a preliminary report by the United States Department of Commerce released today revealed. The state of Texas ginned 3,886,141 bales, the report said.

Lamb county with 36,868 bales, lead the South Plains territory, twelve counties of which produced 245,213 bales, the report said. Dawson county with 35,432 bales was second with Lubbock following third.

Other county ginning totals follow: Lynn, 28,363; Terry, 24,524; Hockley, 28,283; Hale, 17,771; Dickens, 11,302; Crosby, 9,778; Floyd, 8,312; Garza, 6,391 and Gaines, 4,089.

CARRUTH MAY BE CHARGED TODAY

County authorities this morning said that charges probably would be filed against J. Richard Carruth, about 22, driver of an automobile which Saturday night collided with three cars and then struck a tree here.

Carruth suffered a fractured skull, cuts about the neck, head and face, and considerable loss of blood, according to attendants at West Texas hospital to which he was taken. Carruth was dismissed from the hospital Sunday but the attending physician ordered that Carruth remain in bed the next several days.

Driving westward on Main street shortly after 10 o'clock Saturday night, Carruth sideswiped two machines with his light coupe, collided with a third, and then struck a tree headon in the 1800, 1900 and 2000 blocks. No other persons were reported injured.

Refusal To Drink Is Fatal To Youth

SAN ANTONIO, March 23. (AP)—Refusal to drink from a bottle of whisky brought death to Pat Medola, 22, a postal messenger, according to detectives who investigated the fatal cutting of the post-office employe.

His head almost severed from the body by a slash from a heavy pocket knife, Medola died a few minutes after he was placed on an operating table at an infirmary late yesterday.

SPYING ON SPORTS

Well, since we can't get a rise out of local baseball enthusiasts, if any, and there seems to be none, we'll see what's going on in the bigger leagues. We hate to give up the idea of having no baseball in Lubbock this season and we're not giving it up, but the locality is slow to display any signs of interest.

Being a native of East and Central Texas, where they take their baseball seriously we grew up with a bat in one hand and a glove on the other and it's hard to get away from the spell of the diamond. Being a native of that part of the country also turned our admiration toward the Houston Buffs but it is not altogether through a feeling of patriotic duty that we now look toward the Buffs to go places in this season's Texas league season. Were we to name our selection in the 1931 race we would just about pick the Buffs, Texas league and Dixie champions of 1928.

All we know, as another great humorist says, is what we read in the papers and what we pick up here and there in the course of the day's work, and after reading what others with a better chance at observation have to say of the Texas League prospects we are forced to yield to an impulse that tells us Houston will be in the pennant running. With an airtight infield that contains Guy Sturdy, former St. Louis Brown at first Carey Selph at second; Eddie Hock at third and George Binder at short, and with an outfield containing such diamond luminaries as Homer Peel, Joe Medwick and George Puccinelli, the Buffs have one of the best fielding lineups in the country. The batteries, well, they could be better.

And the batteries are likely to be made better. If the field clicks as it promises the Buffs may be assured of first class pitching talent offered by the parent club, the St. Louis Cardinals, National league champs. The present staff of pitchers and back stoppers compare favorably with the others of the Texas league entries just now, but Skipper Joe Schultz could easily find places for a pair of first class hurlers. George Washington Payne and Tex Carleton are the only proved hurlers now with the large Houston squad.

Payne, the screw ball artist and one of the best the league has ever seen, is due to see his full quota of ball games from the Buff mound this summer. Carleton, who has played with Rochester for the past two years, was with the Buffs in 1928 and his metal was proven then. Pete Fowler, a southpaw from Reading, hurt his chances for a regular berth on the mound when he busted his pitching hand the other day. Then there's Paul Dean, 17-year old brother of Dizzy Dean of the Cards, who is a promising rookie. Hal Funk and George Sheflott are almost sure things behind the plate. Funk has been there for the past two seasons and Sheflott comes from Reading. Byron Lackey, former Texas Aggie catcher and All-Southwest conference muskman, is a rookie with the Buffs now.

And we reserving the right to change our minds three days before the season closes, we offer the prediction that the Buffs of the Bayou will play in the Dixie Series next fall.

We're reminded of another baseball story that makes the press box rounds at least twice a year and has since 1917. Stop us if you've heard it . . . The University of Texas Steers were at College Station in a crucial game with the Texas Aggies. The Longhorns were trailing by one run when they came up in the ninth and Uncle Billy was getting nervous. One out and nobody on. The batter up was the second man in the batting order, and he got on on an error.

Uncle Billy Disch paced up and down the bench and turned to a couple of second stringers who had been brought along for such an emergency. "Which one of you wants to git hit and earn a letter?" he queried. They both rose, flipped a coin and the winner took his position. Two outs and one on. The extra took a healthy swing, missed, and on the next throw managed to get in the way of the ball. It struck his thigh and the rookie limped to first. The clean-up man came along and as the story-book tale goes, swatted a two-bagger, scoring the runners and winning the game. The next man popped out. The boy got his letter and the Longhorns won the contest again. Uncle Billy was right on and there is no protest on the part of interested alumni.

They tell lots of stories on Uncle Billy and his ways of wrestling, but his "hit by pitcher" style is one of the best. Once a Longhorn gets on base he's likely to score.

CONNIE MACK HAS PROBLEM TO SOLVE

PROMISING ROOKIES MAY BOLSTER A'S INFIELD

BY ALAN GOULD

PORT MYERS, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—The development of the Philadelphia Athletics in their spring training camp has left something to be desired, to judge from performances, even though nothing has occurred serious enough to dislodge the world's champions as favorites in the forthcoming pennant race.

Although there is no pay-off on the results of exhibition games, the defeat of the A's in three out of four games with their world's series rivals, the St. Louis Cardinals, did not prove enjoyable to Connie Mack and his associates.

Mack Has Worries

With the start of the season only about three weeks off, Mack's principal concerns are these:

(1) The ability of the club's veteran infield to withstand the wear and tear of another full campaign effectively.

(2) The ability of Grove and Earnshaw again to shoulder the pitching burden to the extent of winning 50 games between them, besides saving a flock of others.

(3) The annual task of signing Al Simmons, the club's premier punch, complicated by reports that the famous outfielder intends to demand a $100,000 three-year contract.

Rookies Promising

Only the run of the season will furnish the answer to the first items. Mack has several promising youngsters for infield replacements if Dykes, Boley and Bishop fail to meet expectations or suffer mishaps. These reserves, however, are still short of big league requirements in experience. The A's gained a third sacker but lost their best utility man when Dykes was assigned to regular work.

In seeking support for the twin hurling aces, the A's have uncovered two unusually promising recruits in Hank McDonald, the California boy, and Lew Krause, an 18-year-old product of Philadelphia suburban diamonds.

If Mack can get winning results from one of these youths this year, he will be well fixed, for he counts on consistent work from Rube Walberg, Leroy Mahaffey, Eddie Rommel and Bill Shores in support of Grove and Earnshaw.

SCHOOL SERIES WILL START

INTRAMURAL GAMES IN BASKETBALL AT TECH OPEN WEDNESDAY

With varsity and freshman regulars and reserves acting as coaches and managers, sixteen teams, representing as many campus organizations in four leagues of Texas Tech will embark on a sea of intramural basketball Wednesday evening that covers a season of 54 contests.

The school of Liberal Arts, the school of Agriculture, the school of Engineering and the Independents make up the four leagues. With each league containing four teams, nearly 200 men will participate in the campus basketball program that holds forth at the local college gymnasium for the next four weeks.

Partly to offset the lack of spring intercollegiate competitive sports and partly to provide physical training for a large number of men has the intramural basketball season been planned. Coming under the general direction of the Tech athletic department, the intramural cage program will be personally directed by W. L. "Crip" Golightly, varsity basketball coach.

COUNTY MEET THIS WEEK

TWENTY SCHOOLS ARE EXPECTED TO VIE IN CONTESTS

Approximately 20 schools of Lubbock county will converge here on common ground Friday and Saturday in the annual county track and field meet. The games here are to decide the county championship and the representative in the district meet, also to be held here, next month.

All track and field events, tennis and playground baseball will be included in the program here Friday and Saturday. Eliminations will begin Friday morning at 10 o'clock and finals in nearly all events will be held Saturday afternoon.

AROUND THE TRAINING CAMP CIRCUIT

SEEK NEW CAMP

BILOXI, Miss., March 23. (AP)—Poor turnouts at exhibition games have led to talk that the Washington Senators will seek another training camp next year. President Clark Griffith is understood to be watching reports that from 15,000 to 20,000 have seen some games this spring on the Pacific coast and that attendance at St. Petersburg, Florida, has been satisfactory to the clubs already there.

MORE BATTING PRACTICE

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 23 (AP)—Training at the Red Sox camp will be one continual round of batting practice until Wednesday when the boys start on the road. President Bob Quinn leaves today for home highly pleased with the way things have gone during the training trip and Manager Shano Collins stays behind, dissatisfied and bound that within the next few days his boys are going to learn to hit harder and farther.

MAY GROW FINS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 23 (AP)—Wes Schulmerich says Al Bool and Socks Seibold spend so much time sitting around talking fishy they're beginning to grow fins. Al and Socks are the star fishermen at the Braves' camp They've made quite a collection during this training season.

LYONS LOOKS GOOD

SAN ANTONIO, March 23 (AP)—It looks like another big year for the big knuckle ball tosser of the White Sox, Teddy Lyons.

The star right hander, who won 22 games with his seventh place club last season, fell victim to a bad cold during early spring training but has come back with all his health and art again. In seven innings against the New York Giants he has been scored on but once and that was of the unearned variety.

HEATHCOTE WITH REDS

TAMPA, Fla., March 23 (AP)—The acquisition of Clifton Heathcote, utility outfielder of the Chicago Cubs, by the Cincinnati Reds has filled for the time being a hole in the Reds garden left vacant by the inability of Harry Heilmann, regular right fielder to get into shape because of illness. Though Heathcote has not been a regular Manager Howley expects his speed in the field and on the bases to help.

FIELDING SLOPPY

NEW ORLEANS, March 23 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians have been piling up an impressive scoring record in exhibition contests but there's another side to it. In eight games they have made 24 errors, a pace which if continued would set a record for sloppy fielding.

TURN ABOUT FACE

OAKLAND, Calif., March 23 (AP)—Cub pitchers, who were used up at the rate of four and five a game toward the end of last season, have made a great turn-about-face.

In four games with the Pittsburg Pirates the Cubs used exactly four pitchers and each won his game. They were Charlie Root, Bob Smith, Guy Bush and Sheriff Blake.

THINKS POLICY BAD

LOS ANGELES, March 23 (AP)—Even after seeing the Pittsburgh Pirates take four straight wallops on the chin from the Chicago Cubs, Manager Jewel Ens remains unconvinced that Manager Roger Hornsby's policy of permitting a pitcher to go the full route is a wise one.

Commenting particularly on the fact Guy Bush yesterday stuck it out through 11 innings, Ens said, "the Pirates are not going to take any such chance at ruining their arms."

GET 39 HITS

LOS ANGELES, March 23 (AP)—Detroit's Tigers slammed out 39 hits against Pacific Coast leaguers yesterday, but most of the slugging glory went to unheard ofs of the second team who defeated Seattle, 24 to 14, at Woodland and collected 27 hits. The regulars pounded out a mere dozen safeties to defeat Los Angeles, 9 to 5, behind good pitching by Hoyt and Uhle.

NO REST IN SIGHT

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Mar. 23 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns had no exhibition game today but if any of the players had an idea they were due for a rest they had not conferred with Manager Bill Killefer about it. Skipper Bill is displeased with the way his Browns have been fielding lately and he is not making any secret of it. Killefer, however, is just as happy over the way his players have been hitting.

CONTRACT OFFERED

BRADENTON, Fla., March 23 (AP)—President Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Cardinals disclosed today he had offered Chick Hafey, hard-hitting outfielder, a one-year contract for $12,500 and added the club would not go any higher. Hafey is demanding $15,000.

YANKS TO RETURN

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 23 (AP)—Despite a siege of rainy and wintry weather down here this year the New York Yankees have decided they'll put in their training licks at St. Petersburg again next season. The Boston Braves also have decided to return so the annual "city series" will be on again in full blast.

BABE IN JAM

HAVANA, March 23 (AP)—Babe Herman, slugging outfielder for the Brooklyn Robins, seems to get himself in one jam after another.

The Babe was mistaken for a waiter at the Casino here the other night and was a bit peeved until someone explained that only waiters wear white flannels in the Casino. For guests evening clothes only are comme il faut.

DEBATE NIGHT PLAY

SAN ANTONIO, March 23 (AP)—Back at their training camp after a week-end experiment with night baseball at Houston, the New York Giants still are debating the good and bad points of the floodlight game. The general opinion is against it, since the Giants lost to the Chicago White Sox Saturday night and beat them in Sunday's sunshine but they still have open minds. The teams have decided to try it again and plan to play next Wednesday's game here at night.

Steers Face Double Workout After Loss

DALLAS, March 23. —(AP)—After their 5 to 3 defeat yesterday against Wichita Falls, the Dallas Steers face a double workout today. Happ Morse sent his collects through a batting drill early this morning. This afternoon, the Steers planned to open a three game exhibition series against Jimmy St. Clair's Southern Methodist university nine.

MIKE HALL IS HIGH STAKE WINNER

OWNER GETS $100,000 IN AGUA CALIENTE RACE CLASSIC

AGUA CALIENTE, Mexico, Mar. 23 (AP)—Mike Hall, a thoroughbred which rose from the ranks of the platers, today at the age of seven was the second Agua Caliente handicap champion, giving his owner, Robert M. Eastman the world's richest stake of $100,000.

The big bay son of Hourless virtually came from retirement to win the second renewal of the classic which started in 1917 as the Coffroth handicap to double his total earnings in six years of turf activities.

Mike Hall staged a gallant drive yesterday to win from the Choctaw of the Audley farm stable, Miami, Fla., after leaving the barrier in the mile and a quarter test the last of the ten starters. Plucky Play, from the Northway stable, San Jose, Calif., was third, less than three lengths back of the victor.

Pace Too Fast

The fast time of two minutes three seconds, a new track record by one-fifth of a second, was too furious a pace for Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Sun Beau, odds-on favorite to take the classic and thereby become the world's greatest money winner.

Caught in the pack on the first stretch, Sun Beau was forced to check his pace frequently and jockey Frank Coltiletti was never able to get him in line for a good run until his strength was spent.

Mike Hall hit the fast distance in ninth place, but then moved rapidly to the front, passing the Choctaw in the last sixteenth of a mile.

ALL BUT TWO WINNERS ARE DECIDED IN MEADOWBROOK MATCH, MEDAL PLAY

As a result of matched and medal play at the Meadowbrook Golf club course yesterday all but two places in the first bracket of club trophy tournament winners were recognized. Medal play in the qualifying rounds deadlock for ninth place. Ten golfers are to receive gold and silver golf balls as trophies, each numbered according to the standing of the players.

Billy Holmes, winner of the Texas Tech student tournament, won first place in the trophy tournament and Ball No. 1 last week and J. N. "Speck" Kroger placed second. Mendall Hughett, Llye Holmes, Jack Wilson, all student golfers, and Clinton Bussey tied for third place and were to participate in medal play for third, fourth, fifth and sixth places. In yesterday's games Hughett shot a 76 for third place and Holmes took fourth with 80. Wilson and Bussey forfeited the right to play for third and fourth when they failed to show up. They will play for fifth and sixth places the winner to receive a gold ball and the loser to get No. 6 or the first silver ball.

P. Kroger's qualifying score was good enough for seventh place and Dr O. W. English took eighth place. Walter Pendleton and Larry Hines tied after the qualifying round for ninth place and in matched play yesterday Pendleton defeated Hines, 7 and 6, for ninth place. Both will receive silver balls.

Late Denson defeated Dr Cross for eleventh place and the winner has the right to challenge Hines for No. 10 ball.

TENNIS MATCH TO GIVE U. S. CHANCE

NEW YORK, March 23. (AP)—A three-day international tennis team match, beginning tonight, gives the United States a chance to recapture a few of the laurels which France's three invaders, Jean Borotra, Christian Boussus and Pierre Landry, won in the national indoor championships last week.

The matches will be handled in the same way as the Davis Cup matches which they closely resemble. Four singles encounters and one doubles match make up the program. The American team which faces the Frenchmen is composed of Frank Shields, second ranking American player, Berkeley Bell, conquerer of Shields and runner-up to Borotra in the indoor singles championship, and the Davis Cup stars, John Van Ryn, and George Lott.

Tonight's schedule sends Borotra, who won the American indoor title for the fourth time Saturday, against Shields, and Bell, the young Texan who made a plucky losing battle against Boussus, doubles winner with Borotra.

A solarium that revolves on top of a tower has been erected in France, so patients in each room receive the same amount of sunlight and cooling breezes.

FEE SYSTEM IS OPPOSED

UNDERCURRENT SEEN IN LEGISLATURE OF TEXAS

AUSTIN, March 23. (AP)—A determined undercurrent aimed at abolition of the fee system in county government in Texas has appeared in the Texas legislature, with the likelihood expressed that another constitutional amendment may be submitted to the voters to eliminate what several members term a "pernicious" practice.

A constitutional amendment proposing to abolish the fee system was submitted by the legislature about four years ago, along with the proposal to increase the salary of the governor, but met defeat. Those who sponsored the constitutional amendment at that time said they believed the public was not adequately informed on the subject and the officers, who depended on fees for remuneration, were a little too active.

Would Reduce Fees

Since defeat of the amendment, several efforts have been made by the legislature to reduce fees collected by placing a maximum. Dissatisfaction with the maximum $12,500, has been expressed on all sides by members of the 42nd session. It is a safe statement that if left up to the legislature, the fees would be abolished and the officers put on a straight salary basis.

The $12,500 maximum was placed on fee officers at the Fifth called session of the 41st legislature and has been in operation only a short time.

A bill has been introduced in the house by Representative Anderson of San Antonio which would limit the fees of office to $8,000 per year. Anderson was particularly bitter against the present maximum, saying it permitted justices of the peace to make enormous sums.

Earnings Cited

"Some of these justices of the peace make three times as much as the governor and $5,000 more per year than the justices of the supreme court, the highest law body in the state," Anderson said. "I fail to see the merit or justice of such a system as this."

Representative Young of Wellington, one of the leaders in the fee abolition movement, said the fee system was a throwback from the pioneer days when a man was not expected to devote his full time to being a constable or justice of the peace. "But the system has long outlasted its usefulness and should be thrown into the discard. It certainly has no place in the system of a modern and progressive state," Young said.

Young said the system served the purpose when a justice of the peace or a constable was called on to serve only an infrequent intervals and it was inadvisable to place them on a straight salary since the business did not warrant it. "Now, however," Young said, "the justices and constables have developed flourishing businesses in some instances and it has become what might be termed a 'genteel racket'."

Representative Stevenson of Junction said recently that data soon would be available for the legislature upon which some intelligent action could be taken. This was one of the big obstacles in the campaign for the constitutional amendment, lack of information to present to the public, Stevenson said.

Record Required

As a step to acquire this information, the legislature has required all fee officers to keep a record of fees collected.

A step to exclude officers in counties of less than 25,000 population from the provisions of this law was squelched last week when the house state affairs committee killed a bill by Representative Baker of Stockdale. The committee was unanimous against the bill, despite its being actively and heartily supported by the officials affected.

They claimed the law required them to hire additional help and put them to expense of furnishing books to make the entries.

This claim was contested by a member of the state auditor's department, who stated the entries could be made in a small cash book that could be purchased for from 50 cents to $1. He also contradicted statements officials would have to hire help, unless they were in a county where there was lots of business, and in that event, they could afford it.

The move to eliminate the fee system is in line with the movement to generally reduce the expenses of operating county governments, a large portion of the membership believing that it is not the state taxes that are a burden on property owners, but the lack of an efficient system of government in the smaller units.

Bill Introduced

A bill has been introduced to combine the tax assessor's and tax collector's office, the contention being that much of the work of these offices is duplicated. Abolition of the county treasurer's office also has been proposed as a sound corrective measure.

A reform that probably will meet with much favor, even though its passage is doubted in several sources, is the constitutional amendment of Representative Beck, of Fort Worth, signed by approximately 25 others, proposing to permit combination of the governments of the cities and counties. Beck's bill would permit the city and county to be governed along the city manager of commission principle.

Beck, and others interested in the proposal, believe such a plan would materially decrease the waste motion and much of the economic loss entailed by having separate governments for the county and city. The amendment has been reported out favorably by the constitutional amendments committee and may be called up for action in the near future.

The governing body would be elected in the same manner as a city council and the county and city would be divided into zones for special taxation purposes.

As originally drafted the bill applied only to counties having a population of more than 150,000. The committee amended the resolution to permit the legislature to authorize any county to adopt the plan or to permit any county to hold an election to determine the sentiment of the voters.

INCOME TAXES DROP OFF

COLLECTIONS FALLING BELOW EXPECTED TOTALS

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—Treasury officials gazed aprehensively at the financial skies today after another sharp drop in income tax collections.

A warning that revenue from this source might fall far below the amount expected was seen in the report for Thursday, the latest, which showed collections that day were only $44,178,143 compared with $70,852,867 for the corresponding day last year.

Total Is Down

That made the total for the month $239,123,961 compared with $384,835,426 for the same period last year and for the fiscal year beginning July 1, $1,410,555,005 against $1,637,487,657 the previous year.

This coupled with other declining revenue and increasing expenditures, made officials apprehensive that the prospective deficit at the end of the fiscal year would be appreciably larger than the $500,000,000 estimated.

Meanwhile, Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, returned from a trip through the east and middle west with reports of improved business psychology and a prediction that no increase in taxes will be necessary.

Recoveries Expected

"There was more talk in New York of business picking up than in the middle west," he said. "Business recoveries always start in the east first and spread to the west."

Investigation Held After Train Wreck

LEIGHTON-BUZZARD, England, March 23 (AP)—London, Midland and Scottish line officials today sought to learn the cause of the wreck which yesterday piled up the Royal Scot express, one of the finest trains in the world, and took six lives. Nine passengers were injured.

The train, which frequently has registered a speed of 90 miles an hour on parts of the 400-mile run from London to Glasgow, was proceeding at a rapid rate along a clean straight stretch of steel when the locomotive left the rails and keeled over on its side. The first two coaches telescoped and the third and fourth, after swinging around, crashed into another coach before turning over.

North Carolina will receive $10,874 as its share of receipts of national forests in 1930.

Some financial students have advocated that the deficit be met by reducing the amount of money placed in the sinking fund for use in retiring the public debt. This has been frowned upon, however, by President Hoover.

It also was recalled today that Mr. Hoover, in his last message to congress, said "most rigid economy is . . . necessary to avoid increase in taxes."

In his budget message at the same time he forecast a $180,000,000 deficit but said this could be met "by reducing the general fund balance from the amount in it at the beginning of the year, supplemented, if necessary, by temporary borrowing by the treasury."

Since then, treasury officials have forecast a $500,000,000 deficit. They have declined to comment on the latest income tax figures.

Man Lost Overboard Submarine Nautilus

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—Willard L. Grimmer, quartermaster of Sir Hubert Wilkins' polar submarine Nautilus, was lost overboard yesterday in the outer harbor as the craft was on the way to the Brooklyn navy yard for christening today. He was married three weeks ago.

Report of the tragedy by Commander Sloan Danenhower, skipper of the craft, was merely that Grimmer had been lost and that a thorough search had been made. Members of the crew said the cable, or deck rail, broke under his weight and that he fell into the sea from the after deck.

Bad Stomach Cause of Bad Skin

You can't expect to have a good clear fresh-looking complexion if your stomach is weak and disordered.

Undigested food sends poisons through your whole body, pimples appear in your face, skin grows sallow and muddy and loses its color. Your tongue becomes coated, breath most unpleasant. But these troubles will end quickly and skin clear up if you will start today taking that simple herbal compound known to druggists as Tanlac.

Tanlac contains nothing but herbs, barks and roots which have a cleansing, healing effect on a poor upset stomach. Just a tablespoonful before each meal stimulates the digestion naturally so that you can eat what you want without fear of distress. And when your stomach is in good shape again see how much keener your appetite is—watch how quickly skin begins to grow free of disfiguring eruptions. The cost of Tanlac is less than 2c a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Money back if it doesn't help you.

Texas Program Is Given Before DAR

A program on Texas artists, writers and musicians was heard Saturday afternoon when members of the Daughters of the American Revolution met in the C. S. Mast home at 2219 13th street. Mrs. D. K. Bondurant and Mrs. Mast were hostesses.

Roll call at the meeting was answered with quotations from Texas authors. Mrs. J. R. B. Cooper talked on Texas artists and musicians and Mrs. William Dingus talked on the authors. Mrs. O. V. Adams told of plans for the Washington Bicentennial celebration next year and the planting of some trees by the D. A. R. here was discussed.

Calvin Henson, a representative of the Lions club, told of the park that that club is developing and asked for the D. A. R. co-operation. Refreshments were served at the end of the meeting.

CHURCH OF CHRIST REVIVAL STARTED

Sunday morning services marked the beginning of the annual spring revival meetings at the Church of Christ on Broadway, under the leadership of Evangelist C. L. Wilkerson of Springfield, Mo.

Mr. Wilkerson comes to Lubbock from California where he has engaged in evangelistic campaigns since early in January.

The auditorium with a seating capacity of 1200 was filled at both the morning and evening services Sunday.

At the morning hour Mr. Wilkerson talked on the subject: "Sermons Seen." At the evening hour, "Sermons Heard and Felt," was the theme. The speaker recounted the various forceful sermons delivered by the apostles in the early church by the power of the spirit, and the effect of these sermons upon the groups hearing them.

Two services daily will be held throughout the two-week period, the noonday services beginning at 12:05 and ending promptly at 12:45 to enable employes to attend; the evening services beginning promptly at 7:30.

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

DR. MYERS

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

BORROW BOOKS

Books are expensive, and most parents cannot afford to buy nearly all they desire to read. In nearly every village or small town there is a public library, and all the larger cities not only have good central libraries, but have numerous branches also.

If you have never visited your nearest library do so at your first opportunity. Take your children with you. You will be very welcome. The librarian is happy to have more people come and use the books. The more the library is used the more important grows the librarians job.

Ask the librarian to show you the books, particularly those for parents. Most libraries now have many books on child care and training and on parent problems. You might find some of mine there, such as "The Modern Parent," "Building Personality in the Child," or "The Learner and His Attitude," and books for children on arithmetic. But you do not need to read my books to get my best if you read this column regularly.

Better read on the subject from other authors, such as Alfred Adler, Smiley Blanton, Edna Dean Baker, Douglas Thom, Phyllis Blanchard, Ada Arlitt, Ernest Groves, Walker and Walker, Max Seham, M. V. O'Shea, Karl Menninger, Faegre and Anderson, Blanche Weill, J. J. B. Morgan, Dr. E. V. Mc Collum, Mandel Sherman, Leta Hollingworth, William A. White, Karl de Schweinitz, E. Lee Vincent, George Herbert Betts, Lillian Gilbreth, Fowler Brooks Frank Richardson, Lois Hayden Meek, Mary Sayles, Roy Whitney, Jessie E. Gibson, Blatz and Bott, Eleanor Wembridge, Peckstein and McGregor, Lewis Terman, Frank M. Freeman. I have not attempted to list them in order of importance. The librarian will show you good books, too, by still other authors well known and reliable.

My rural friends often go to town where there is a library. Why not visit it and find out how you can be served? For those who do not have libraries near their home, or the kind of books they want, there may be available a traveling library.

A post card to the state librarian of your state capital would bring you the information. There often are special arrangements for clubs and P. T. A.'s for getting groups of books from county and state libraries.

Nearly every state provides a complete or partial service to groups or individuals free, the borrower paying only the carrying cost to and from the state library. A good many of my readers may have appreciated the opportunities they have had for getting books. You can also get books for your children.

Steel yourselves against high pressure salesmen who try to make you buy books you cannot afford to buy, or books neither you nor your children will often use. There are some excellent volumes and sets, however, particularly encyclopedias, worth buying. Nevertheless, it is always well to plan ahead and know what are the best books to be had, and to make as great use of the public library as possible, adding only those books you and your children will use frequently and will be using several years hence. Before building up a parent guidance library it were wise to know each book well before you purchase it. Anyway, my fellow parents, let us read and do our utmost to improve ourselves as parents, to the end that we and our children will be happier.

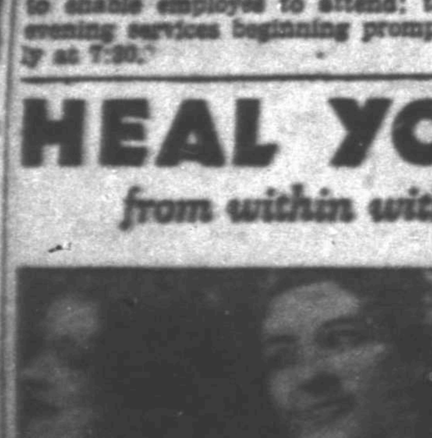

Veteran Florist Of White House Quits

WASHINGTON, March 23. (AP)—Mrs. Herbert Hoover and the president's wives who succeed her will have to do without the floral planning of Charles Henlock for White House parties.

Henlock, 74, will retire March 31 after 45 years in the White House green houses. Twenty of those years he has served as chief, but the rigid requirements of the retirement law now compel him to relinquish his position.

During his long term he has decided what flowers deck the state dining room, the blue room and the east room for receptions, dinners and even weddings.

Yoders Honored; Baptists At Party

Reports on two parties of Friday evening were received this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Yoder who are moving to Snyder, were guests of honor at a dinner served Friday evening in the W. A. King residence, 1009 Avenue X. Hostesses were Mesdames King, Bristol Chesser, Ronald Tom and Jim Williams. Other guests were the Yoders, husbands of the hostesses, Eugene Snyder and Jason Gordon Bridge and forty-two followed the dinner.

The other party was given for members of the First Baptist Euzelian Sunday school class in the home of Mrs. Paul Reed, 1606 Avenue N.

Elect Officers

Two officers were elected to fill vacancies: Mrs. Earl Thornton was elected president and Mrs. Joe Rice was elected third vice-president. A social hour followed.

Those who attended were Mesdames B. G. Williamson, L. O. Holley, Lloyd Nelson, T. D. Morrel, jr., J. J. Modrall, J. L. Brown, W. E. La[illegible]m, O. C. Moore, Earl Thornton, George W. James, E. O. Bateman, C. F. Litton, James M. Black, Allen Harper, J. F. Wofford, J. L. Helm, jr., and J. P. Morgan.

Glen Parsons Are Guests For Party

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Parsons, of Wichita, Kansas, who are visiting here as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Tatum, 2013 5th street, were named as honor guests at a prettily appointed party given by Mr. and Mrs. Tatum Saturday evening.

Three tables were arranged for games of forty-two. An Easter theme was stressed in appointments, and plate favors with the refreshment course were miniature chickens.

High scores were made by Mrs. Parsons and V. E. Goodwin.

Other guests were Messrs. and Mesdames John Graham, Joe Telford, Ben Beck, and Mrs. Goodwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Parsons are contemplating making their home in this city.

Miss James Visits At Baylor College

BELTON, March 23. (Special)—Miss Virginia James of Lubbock, president of Beta Pi Theta fraternity at Baylor college for women, was a guest of the same fraternity at Baylor university recently. A French visitor from Paris was a guest at the Baylor University fraternity.

Miss James, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. James, is a senior at Baylor. She is a member of Historical-Philo literary society and a member of the Choral club, which will leave for its eighteenth annual tour of Texas on March 30. She is also a member of the Scholarship society.

Girls' Basketball Meet Opens Today

DALLAS, March 23. (AP)—With over 340 girls, representing nine different states, entered, the fourth annual girls' national amateur athletic union basketball tournament will start here today. Nine games were scheduled. It will require two days to play the first championship round because of the record breaking entry field of 34 teams.

The Sunoco team of Dallas, three times winner of the national, after playing the last month with several injured players, is ready to enter the tournament at full strength. Sunoco will play tonight at 9 o'clock against William High school of May, Texas, and are favorites to win.

Probably the feature game today will be the Houston and Tahlequah, Oklahoma, contest at 4 o'clock.

GOOD MAYONNAISE DEPENDS UPON THE WAY OIL IS ADDED

Likewise, Flavor Development in Coffee Depends Upon Roasting Process

Housewives sometimes can add oil to mayonnaise ingredients in large amounts and not see the mixture separate. But in most cases there is disappointment. "A little at a time" is the best way.

Occasionally big batches of coffee can be roasted to perfection, but this result cannot always be depended upon. Because of this, Hills Bros., after years of study, originated and patented Controlled Roasting—a continuous process that roasts only a few pounds at a time.

A constant stream of the blended green coffees is introduced into a series of roasters in accurately measured lots—about three pounds. As it passes through in a steady, automatically controlled flow, the heat, which never varies, roasts every berry to uniform perfection.

No other coffee tastes like Hills Bros. Coffee because none is roasted the same way. It always comes to you fresh, because Hills Bros. pack their coffee in vacuum cans. By this process, air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken out of the can and kept out. Coffee does not stay fresh in ordinary cans, even if air-tight, because there is air inside the can. Grocers everywhere sell Hills Bros. Coffee. Ask for it by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can.

here's another fashion revolution

If you think there's never anything new, start studying these fabric combinations approved for spring

by ALMA ARCHER

stylist, of Haas Brothers fabric corporation, who designed material for the models introduced here.

telling it with the daisies . . . a navy blue flat crepe makes the skirt, the upper part of dress and jacket being daisy print of Algerian Red white navy accent tailored, heavy sheers are smartest of all, this Barnett model being a petal-krepe double georgette, worked with cirred braid and patent ornamental belt going scotch with a vengeance . . . chic, sheer worsteds adopt kendaire plaid patternings in townwear suits . . . the blouse is Renee flat crepe another demonstration that the new combinations are nothing short of radical . . . over the shimmering white chiffon is a jacket of apple green crepe contrasts in a town frock of pistachio green . . . the sleeve and shoulder section is basquenet wool mesh . . . skirt and jacket of matching wool crepe romantique not what you'd wear to church . . . though the ground shade of the printed jacket is a new stained-glass-window-blue . . . the other shade is picked up from the almond pink of the chiffon evening frock

FASHION this spring has decided to throw away just about everything and start all over. For this year, every spring costume should be spontaneous, alive and responsive to the personality of the woman who wears it. The combinations of color will be unlike any ever produced before, and some of the contrasts of fabric against neighbor fabric will be as unconventional as ice cream smothered in onions but, I may say, vastly more appetizing.

Color contrast is of course no novelty, and everyone is familiar with satin-with-crepe and chiffon-with-lace, but the innovations which will spring to the eye along with the gay little springtime banners of the crocus this year will be to fashion as new and charming as a mating of the orchid and the rose.

An upheaval necessarily has taken place in the dye pots. For a season demanding entirely new versions of color, the familiar combinations such as navy-and-yellow will be abandoned in favor of lighter-than-navy or darker-than-navy with a yellow about the shade of lemon but not the shade of egg yolk, which was familiar, and charming, too, a year ago. These gentle contrasts, so arresting and yet so suave, must be maintained consistently not only in the silks, both plain and printed, but also in the woolens.

A WHITE jacket may have a black skirt in the same crepe woolen, whereas the blouse will introduce an additional contrast of white Moleskin satin. A gray flannel skirt will boast a brown jacket of Rio Ondo tweed. A triple Belogia chiffon evening frock in white will gain a perky note in its flat Renee crepe jacket of apple green. The most delicate Jordan almond pink chiffon dancing dress will be finished bewitchingly with a jacket of Aphrodite printed chiffon in stained-glass-window blue relieved with the same almond pink of the dress.

And all form the paramount fashion of contrast! A dress may be print above and plain crepe below with a jacket in the print of the top of the dress. Another may reverse the order.

The only sure test for a correct contrast choice is an hour before the mirror. If the mirror reflects just a mass of opposites, the picture is wrong, but if the color and fabric differences blend in an effect of complete synchronization emphasizing the individual personality, the costume is right.

The fabrics for this spring are no jumble of uncertainty. They easily incorporate themselves into the costume without precipitating any breath-taking, violent contrasts. A matching endive green wool mesh forming the sleeves and shoulders modestly accents the lines of the wool crepe Romantique town frock with brief bolero jacket.

WHILE the rough, spongy rustic woolens predominate, old time favorites such as smooth, tightly-woven worsteds and other crepe de chine weights mark the newest trend in woolens. This means the starring of serge, fine twills, reps and tight crepes. This trend is as yet discreet and those who like to think ahead in their purchases will do well to plan a costume with one of these worsteds in the coat using the unexpected color of the pattern in the small design printed crepe or Moravia dress as a liaison, with the pastel ground color of the print acting as the contrast.

Eyelet embroidery, jerseys, and shantungs, comprise noteworthy repetitions in spring dress fabrics, but Petal-Krepe double georgettes, triple Belogia chiffons, printed silk romain, printed Chunda cantons, flannels and worsteds are the newest material entries.

Color contrasts in the development of ensembling of costumes proves the place of the monotone crepe frock. The smarter women will choose more often the muted colors, indicating the return to dusty pastels, whereas gaiety will be the more popular priced keynote. These more sober hues for spring may lead to an outbreak in the summer of a surge of vivid hues. A subdued and flattering Colonial rose is one of the newer silk shades, this color practically dispossessing turquoise from its seat of supremacy in many shops. Piecrust yellow, pistachio green, hydrangea blue, terra cotta, chamois beige and lapin beige are some of the colors now being mentioned for interpreting the Chunda canton day frocks in muted pastels.

SMALL-SPACED designs and all-over small prints are scheduled for the greatest style importance in daytime wear, while almost every woman will wish to introduce in her wardrobe at least one lively phase of fashion through an amusing stripe, plaid, dot or print of Persian derivation. These gay, entertaining prints supposedly sprang from an association of ideas of designers with the coming French Colonial Exhibition in Paris, and are unsurpassed for play dresses, pajamas, or any other purpose which permits tossing dignity to the winds.

Crisp cottons are smart only if a sufficiently good one is selected to warrant excellent workmanship, and will remain smart only as long as the crispness lasts. So look to your laundress!

Wool dresses remain outstanding, wool crepes and voiles being the most important. Romaine and other wool crepes often are varied with small armures in the weave. The rustic coatings and suitings introduce irregular flecking or random threads to relieve the patterns of the flat light weaves, but almost altogether in monotone.

There is widespread discussion of the importance of the all-fabric idea in spring coats. Spongy woolens and the newer smooth worsteds will vie for these honors. Darker-than-navy, black, putty beige, sand beige and fine rosy beiges and grays will dominate the spring coat woolens for street types. Most everyone is looking forward to this fashion return of beige with interest. This marked woolen trend has brought out many printed silks stressing gray and beige touches to relate the gray and beige woolens. Colored ground prints are paired with the dark basic ensemble shades for contrast.

Thought For Today

In thee have they taken gifts to shed blood; thou hast taken usury and increase, and thou hast greedily gained of thy neighbors by extortion, and hast forgotten me, saith the Lord God.—Ezekiel 22:12.

New Baseball

As the time approaches for the opening of the baseball season, fans are growing increasingly apprehensive about the new ball. With its heavier hide and coarser stitchin gthe new regulation ball, they fear, will slow up the game more than ever. And as if to confirm their gravest doubts, John McGraw, veteran pilot of the New York Giants, declares the new "pill" is deadened.

Reports of the deadening of the new ball, like those on Mark Twain's death, are greatly exaggerated. There is no evidence from the training camps that the ball isn't sailing as far as it used to, when properly hit, of course. Some of the players, it is said, haven't even noticed they were dealing with a new medium.

Far from slowing up the game, there is every reason to believe the new experiment will enliven it, or, at least, make it more interesting. In recent seasons, home-runs have grown to such epidemic proportions as to cause fans to look upon them as ordinary rather than spectacular. All that matters to them in home runs now, aside from the scores they bring in a given game, is who will make the most four-base clouts in the season.

Now the pitchers, thanks to the raised seams, can practice a keener deception. They will have better control, get sharper "breaks," more acute "drops." In short, they will be able to produce the same bewildering effects as "roughening" and "slicking" the ball, now taboo, enabled them.

With sluggers whacking the ball harder and to greater distances than ever before in baseball history, this new power afforded the pitchers will act as a compensatory factor, like an ordinary law of physics. It's as simple as that. At any rate, fans, watch for closer, more interesting games this season.

Africa

A representative of the Union of South Africa has arrived in this country to spread the word that Africa is no longer a wild continent but that it is quite as civilized, quite as modern as Europe or the United States. He quotes figures on production of iron and steel and boasts that symphony orchestras are taking the place of the beating drums of savage natives.

No doubt this is all true. Men who have visited the "dark continent" in the interest of science during the past 10 years have repeatedly urged the establishment of sanctuaries to preserve species of animal life that are fast disappearing. Africa is becoming civilized.

All this is thoroughly disheartening to one who likes to believe that somewhere in far-off places real adventure still exists. And what of future generations of small boys? Already most youngsters have discovered that cowboys can be found only in rodeos or wild west troupes; that Indian reservations are groups of farm houses with here and there a filling station or soft drink stand. As for pirates—they disappeared a hundred years ago.

Now there is to be no Africa, no impenetrable jungles made bloodcurdling by the roar of lions, the thunder of herds of elephants and blazing campfires waiting for cannibals to toast their victims. Of course, there is still the circus, but the lure of the "Big Top" was never the same as that of the jungles. Africa modern? Africa civilized? Yes, it is all most disheartening.

Thanks to several layers of flannel underwear he was wearing, a Maine sheriff was unharmed by a bullet. But it would be exaggerating to say he came off without a scratch.

The president of a tobacco company was given a $1,200,000 stock bonus. Puffing, no doubt, his honest pipe dream.

The Plainsman Says:

That girl of Broadway says she's figuring on getting a building permit so she can get her neck shingled.

HAPPY days are here again! At least, they're going to be here. On Page 1 of today's Journal you'll find where 1931 is going to be a good crop year, according to the annual prophecy made in Garza county.

The Plainsman was sorry to hear that ill health has caused J. I. Wilborn, pioneer Garza county man, to have to go to East Texas for a rest and made it impossible for him to make the prophecy. However, Mr. Wilborn's son-in-law, an oldtime cowboy, made the check on the wind at sunrise yesterday and from his report even Mr. Wilborn couldn't have done any better.

A good yield in 1931. That'll help some, even if prices don't get much better.

Sam T. Davis is figuring on getting office space in a revolving door, so he can write circular letters to members of the Rotary club.

SOME of the younger matrons of the city have been listening to a lady lecture on how to serve meals, which is a fine idea. But one place where The Plainsman can't agree with the lectures is on what to put on the table to interest hungry husbands.

Now The Plainsman doesn't know anything about cooking and less about how to serve what's cooked. But the lady lecturer said "putting steak and potatoes on the table isn't enough to satisfy a husband. You've got to have color." And there's where The Plainsman disagrees.

Mebbe he's not artistic enough. Mebbe he didn't have the right kind of fotching up in the first place. But at any rate, The Plainsman would rather sit down to steak and potatoes, served in common, every-day kind of dishes, than to sit down to a plate of salad decorated with all the bloomin' colors of the rainbow.

Advice to young housewives is not a regular department of this column but since it's free this time they have a right to take it or leave it. You young gals slip your husbands plenty of steak and potatoes and the color scheme will take care of itself!

OF COURSE, there's no harm in dressing up the table if you want to — but don't lose sight of the fact that artistic designs never filled an empty stomach. The principal thing about a meal is not what it looks like but what it's made up of, at least in The Plainsman's opinion.

There'll never be any arguments around The Plainsman's headquarters as long as the table has plenty on it to eat. Steak and potatoes, cornbread, buttermilk and good old turnip greens cover a multitude of sins—among them the fact that the water pitcher may be purple and the tablecloth yellow. You young women cook up the grub and throw it on the table. Then if you've got time off from your bridge, decorate the table if you want to. But take it from The Plainsman, your husband will never know how many color schemes you've worked out, or why.

That's the trouble with this country now, if you want to know it. Too many people are putting on the dog when it comes to nonessentials and expect to get by with a show when there's nothing back of it. The Plainsman don't know but one reason for having meals—that is, to get something to eat. If the food won't stand up to snuff, all the color schemes in the world aren't going to hold the home together.

LIVING is just like building a house. You've gotta have a foundation for it—a foundation strong enough to hold up the whole super-structure.

And meals are just like living. Their primary function is to fill up the mid-section rather than to please an eye that isn't particularly interested in being pleased.

It's all very nice for the young women of the city to learn how to put up a front when it comes to serving a dinner, because that kind of thing ought to be done on occasions—like when friend husband brings the boss home for a snack. But for every-day eating, the food's the thing. And as long as it's good to the last drop the meal's acceptable.

Oh, a lot of folks will throw the paper down and say The Plainsman's a low-brow. Well, mebbe he is—but most of the work's done by the low-browns, at that. And the folks who built this and every other country didn't worry about whether the glasses matched the light fixtures. They didn't have time. And there's enough work left to be done in these parts to keep our minds off the lack of table ornaments—providing the good old steak and potatoes is there in ample quantity.

That Man on Avenue Q says many a fellow who sets out to string a girl along, finds himself roped in.

At one of the group meetings out at the Tech the lecturer asked:

"Is there any man in this audience who would let his wife be slandered and do nothing about it? If so, stand up!

A meek little man in the rear rose to his feet.

"What?" roared the lecturer. "You'd let your wife be slandered and say nothing?"

"Oh, I'm sorry," the meek man replied. "I thought you said 'slaughtered'."

Well, It's An Interesting "Experiment," Anyway!

Proposed Recognition Of Soviet Russia By U. S. Causing More Debate Than Any Issue Since The 18th Amendment

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, March 23.— The question whether we should recognize Soviet Russia has caused a lot of argument and there is also plenty of dispute as to whether it makes any difference if we do or don't.

The pro and con arguments are based on both moral and material factors and it is just as well to give primary consideration to the material factors because those usually prove the most important in international relations in the long run.

There is a strong argument to the effect that it doesn't make any difference whether we have American-Russian diplomatic relations or not, because this country has been getting the big break in Russian trade. Not only has Russia been buying more from us than from any other country, but other countries have been buying a far larger proportion of Russian exports than has the United States.

Proponents of recognition, however, contend that in order to keep this large favorable trade balance and to increase our exports to the Soviet Union, we should be on friendly terms with that country, which means the establishment of diplomatic relations.

Another argument, heard frequently in recent months, is that we should have neither diplomatic nor trade relationship with Russia, that completion of her five-year plan will face the world with ruinous, cut-throat competition from cheaply produced Russian exports and that it is bad business to encourage Russia in any way.

The present unofficial relationships between the two countries, however, appear to dwarf in importance those official and formal connections which would be added if we granted recognition. Amtorg, the big Soviet trading corporation, flourishes in New York. We sold Russia $111,362,000 worth of goods in 1930, an increase of $30,000,000 over 1929 and exports to her for January were $14,789,000, more than $2,000,000 in excess of January in 1930. Imports from Russia were between 21 and 22 millions in both 1929 and 1930, although the last January showed a drop from $1,800,000 to half as much as compared with 1930's January.

The series of large contracts made by the Soviet with many large American corporations is an old story. The Soviet Information Bureau in Washington, although without official status in so far as the State Department is concerned, fulfills many of the functions of an embassy.

At the State Department, where Secretary Stimson has lately devoted himself to an intensive study of the Russian situation they say there is more determined opinion with regard to recognition than on any other single public issue except prohibition.

U. S. Lacks Facts on Russia

During the period of non-recognition, one official says, the chief thing this country has lacked, due to the fact that he have no U. S. government officials in Russia, has been accurate information on what is going on in the Soviet Union.

Our government has depended on information from border points, Russian newspapers and magazines, articles by and information from returned travelers. Accurate information is regarded as important, from various standpoints.

With diplomatic relations, the two countries would be in a position to cuss each other out officially and could always negotiate directly, instead of awkwardly through third parties, as when Stimson tried to intervene in the Russo-Chinese railway dispute.

Some persons also think that if we had a Russian ambassador here, we might more easily hold Russia to account for Communist propaganda or subversive activities in this country which might be traced to the Moscow government.

The immediate advantages of recognition to Russia, if one concedes the contention that non-recognition hasn't and won't disturb our export trade to her, are more numerous and obvious. Recognition presumably would make it much easier for the U. S. S. R. to obtain highly desired credits in this country. Russia's prestige would be strengthened over the world, her people probably would be encouraged and revolution within Russia would be discouraged.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

EDITOR'S NOTE: Four pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed stamped envelope to Dr. Logan Clendening in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1438 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are "Reducing and Gaining," "Hygiene of Women," "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are "Normal Diet," "List of Books for Mothers," Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

WEIGHT MAY BE REDUCED IN THE HOME

Reducing weight is, as everyone who has tried it knows, not easy. Theoretically it looks easy. If you eat less, you will weigh less. If you exercise more you will weigh less. And therefore if you exercise and diet you will reduce. That is actually true as well as theoretically true. The trouble is that old human nature comes along and wants to break the diet. And away goes your hard won reduction. Or rather, back comes your hard lost weight.

Dr. Clendening

In spite of all the difficulties, however it can be done. The aspirant must face the difficulties, but the assurance is that success is possible. This is proved by many instances of people who have done it, especially by those who have entered an institution or hospital and have taken a reduction cure there.

The question comes up of whether reduction cures can be carried out at home. They can, but in order to be successful the difficulties should be faced at once. Let us face them.

The first is that the reducer is often the only one in the family doing the reducing. When you see the rest of the family pitching in to the food on the table it makes things lonely and temptation is hard to resist.

Another difficulty is inherent in the fact that people with a tendency to overweight lose weight very slowly. I figure it theoretically this way. When you have less food than you require the body attacks its own tissues, that is what makes you lose weight. The tissue it attacks first is fat. Now fat yields nine calories a gram. There are 466 grams in a pound (avoirdupois). Nine times 466 is 4,194 calories in a pound of body fat. Three thousand calories is a good allowance for anyone for one day.

Therefore, theoretically, if you do not eat a mouthful in one day you will only lose about three-quarters of a pound.

Theoretically! I do not know whether that will work out in practice. But I would like to hear from readers who are willing to try it out scientifically and conscientiously whether it does so work out. I would not suggest going without food at all. What we want to know is actual body weight —stripped weight—over a period of several weeks. To do that a person who knows that the diet has been, say, 2,000 calories a day, should reduce it to 2,000 for several weeks. In four days the weight loss should be one pound.

The best way to do this is to form small clubs, all the members of which want and need to reduce. This has several advantages. It gives misery company for one thing, and then you have an object to reduce for. You are trying to prove a scientific fact, and this makes for more conscientious sticking to the diet, and through this for more success. Lastly, it gives us an idea of whether all people lose equally on the same reduction diet.

Stories Of Sunken Fortune Lure Men

PORTLAND, Ore., March 23 (AP) — Lured by stories of a sunken fortune, Curtis Brothers, Portland and Seattle house movers, seek to salvage the passenger steam Islander, which went down in Stevens passage, Alaska, August 15, 1901, with a loss of 72 lives.

Frank Curtis was here today to get figures on machinery and equipment. He said the chief prize sought was $3,000,000 in gold dust, said to be locked in one of the ship's safes. Another safe, he said, was reported to hold $400,000 in currency. Operations were set to begin about May 1.

"Give the little girl a hand," as the unlucky bridge fan said to the dealer.

SWAN

In New York With Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, March 23—One was a life-saver at Far Rockaway beach. One was an organist who joined a band in Buffalo, N. Y. And one was a University of California lad who took the ukelele degree and graduated to the Vernon Country Club, just outside of Los Angeles, before it burned down. Al Jolson found him there.

And having made their first five million, the song writing trio of De Sylva, Henderson and Brown found the wagsters referring to them as one of America's seven most important industries.

Almost a million dollars worth of advance movie contracts awaited them.

Yet, upon a recent day, the announcement came from Hollywood that this Croesus-trio of "Tin Pan Alley" had broken up. "Buddy" (George) De Sylva had decided to stay with the films and become a producer at a fabulous figure, having already shared in the profits of such a box office sell out as "Sunny Side Up."

And Lew Brown and Ray Henderson, being merely a couple of hard-boiled Broadwayites, had passed-up something like a sure half-million in cash money to return to the theater. Perhaps they will write "Scandals" for George White; perhaps they will first put on their own show—with other people's money, to be sure—smart Broadwayites seldom use their own currency, they're content with a share of the profits.

"Buddy" De Sylva, lyric writer for the trio, sat in a sumptuous suite in the Hotel Margery waiting for a boat to take him for a long vacation in Europe before he becomes the "lone wolf" of a team that has made radio-time history, before he returned to Hollywood with the title of "producer" on the Fox lot.

Possessing a songful turn of mind, De Sylva thought there might be a bright tune idea in something that went like "I've got a suite for my sweetie, YOU-something like that."

"But seriously," said the young millionaire song writer, sitting here waiting to go to Europe makes me just a little bit sad. You see, in the other room is my wife. And in the old days when we were struggling to put a song over, Ray and Lew and I would all come to our house. I don't know why they picked my house . . . yes, I do because my wife would always come out with a moonlight supper for the three of us. You see, we'd practically live ourselves in a room and the one who came out alive wrote the song."

"One thing has to be put straight —there wasn't any bad feeling. I've been out with them just a few hours ago."

"Yes," he admitted, "we had a lot of ideas in advance. We had names of songs and general outlines. I'm not going to do any more about these. They can have them. Also we have seven or eight songs already written and we decided that we'd just turn them out as songs. We'll not put them in songs or in pictures. They'll go on the market as straight numbers."

De Sylva does not intend to do much song writing for future pictures. The last film to which he was a party happens to be Gloria Swanson's forthcoming release. But two numbers appear in this. And he intends to make four songs the limit for any future picture.

Also he is going to "scout talent" for Fox in Europe. Winifred Sheehan has given him carte blanche to sign newcomers on the dotted line.

"Funny part of it is," comments De Sylva, "I'll probably find a Dietrich cleaning out my room when I get home."

The most profitable song written by the trio is, of course, "Sonny Boy." "Sunny Side Up" was their biggest paying enterprise, what with such hits as "If I Had A Talking Picture of You" and "Aren't We All." A couple of his own particular favorites are "Button Up Your Overcoat" and "You're the Cream in My Coffee." Their leading musical successes have been "Flying High," "Manhattan Mary," "Hold Everything," "Three Cheers" and "Follow Thru."

Henderson is the pianist. Brown is the former life-saver and De Sylva the youth discovered by Jolson, who bought his song, "N' Everything."

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The road to Delhi seemed to be an interesting sight to see. "Let's all get comfy," Scouty said. "This trip will take real long. I wish we had same marbles. Then we all could start a game again. Instead, let's do some tumbling stunts. That ought to keep us strong."

"I'll show off first," wee Clowny said. "Just watch me stand upon my head. Don't anybody push me. That would make me take a flop." He then got on his hands and knees and threw his feet in air, with ease. "Hurray! Hurray!" cried Coppy. "Keep it up! Don't let them drop."

Just then they hit a rut quite deep and Clowny fell down in a heap. "That wasn't fair," he shouted. "Let me try the stunt again." So up his feet went once more. The others then began to roar, and Carpy said, "You really are real clever now and then."

"The blood is rushing to your head," the Travel Man real shortly said. And Clowny flipped back to his feet amid the cheers of all. Some other good tricks then were done and all the bunch had lots of fun. "If I'd do that," the Travel Man exclaimed, "I know I'd fall."

They rode and rode for miles and miles and then each face broke out in smile because somebody shouted, "There is Delhi, just ahead. The trip was long, but now it's o'er and we can walk around some more. We still could use our truck, but I would rather walk instead."

They parked the truck and then they found a queer cart rolling o'er the ground. "Hey! Hey!" cried Clowny, "Will you let us have a little ride?" The driver of the truck replied, "Why, sure, my boys, just hop inside." In just about a minute they were jammed in, side by side.

SATURDAY'S ANSWER

U. S. LEADS IN MONETARY GOLD

NEW YORK, Mar. 23 (AP)—There is more monetary gold in the United States now than at any time in its history.

The amount, $4,685,000,000, revealed in the weekly federal reserve statement for March 18, is 42.5 per cent of all the monetary gold in the world, and is $1,000,000,000 greater than the previous high mark of $4,684,000,000 established May 14, 1927.

The figure is more than twice that of France which has maintained an astonishing rate of gold imports more than a year and is seven times that of England, the weekly statements of the Bank of France and the Bank of England reveal.

RECORDS GIVEN TO GRAND JURY

CHICAGO, March 23 —(AP)—Records which Mrs Shirley Kub once boasted "could blow up the police department" were turned over to a special grand jury which is investigating alleged police corruption.

Climaxing 14 hours of sensational testimony, the former undercover investigator for Commissioner John A. Alcock presented copies of original confidential reports to him. These reports contained names and instances of alleged corruption.

As one result, the jurors prepared to call before them at least four high police officers and several city hall officials. The reports were described as "The most important information on corruption we have received so far."

Huey Long Stirs Up Louisiana Politics

BATON ROUGE, La., March 23 (AP)—Governor Huey P. Long again stirred up Louisiana politics when he announced he probably would not call an election to fill a vacancy in the eighth congressional district.

The decision not to call an election to name a successor to the late Representative James B. Aswell threatens to keep vacant two seats in the national congress held by the democratic party at a time when one vote in either house may count heavily in organization proceedings. "I'll think it over. I'll discuss it with the party leaders, and make up my mind definitely later. There's no need for hurry, as congress doesn't meet until next December.

PLAN MEETING

CLARENDON, March 23. (AP)—It is announced here that the Southwest Texas Field Trial association will begin its second annual meeting near Clarendon April 6. Three events will be run, the puppy stake, junior all-age, and all-age.

FIVE MINUTE RECORD

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP)—For the first time in 12 years the annual meeting of the Birmingham Canal Navigation company lasted more than a minute. A special decree on toll rates prolonged the meeting to five minutes.

MUSIC FESTIVAL CLOSED SATURDAY

AMARILLO, March 23 (AP)—Amarillo, Canadian and Clovis won first place honors in various divisions of the band contests staged in connection with the eighteenth annual spring music festival which closed here Saturday. Amarillo and Perryton won all orchestra contest awards.

Class A band contest was won by Amarillo. Plainview placed second and Clovis third. Amarillo won first in class B division. Wellington second and Perryton third.

Canadian won first in class C band contests.

The Clovis ward school band won first over the Amarillo College of Music.

Amarillo placed first in class A orchestra contests, and Hale and second in class C. Perryton took first honors in class B.

Nearly 1,700 boys and girls contested in the three day events.

Highway Confab Is To Be Staged Today

ALVA, Okla., March 23 (AP)—More than 400 delegates from Raton, N. M. to Memphis, Tenn., are expected here today at a meeting of the U. S. 64 Highway association of which Gordon W. (Pawnee Bill) Lillie is president.

Delegates are expected from Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Fort Smith, Ark., and Little Rock, Ark., as well as smaller cities along the route.

Improvement of the highway will be the theme of all discussions.

Ceylon will be made a whaling center.

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, March 23.—(AP)—The stock market was still on the down-grade in early trading today in continuation of the trend that developed late last week.

Losses of 1 to 2 points were numerous in the first half hour, but as has been the case during other recent downturns, stock was not pressed for sale in important volume.

Business Slow

The week end business and trade reports continued to show slow but spotty recovery. The market seemed to be influenced primarily by bear selling and profit-taking in preparation for several dividend meetings later in the week. Liquid Carbonic, directors of which will meet soon for dividend action, lost more than 2 points. Westinghouse Electric slid off more than 1.

Other shares losing a point or two included U. S. Steel, Borden, Drug, Dupont, Sears, Stone & Webster, American Power & Light, Standard Gas, New York Central, Allied Chemical and Case. Auburn dropped 4. General Motors lost nearly a point, and American Telephone and General Electric were off fractionally.

Freeport Texas was an isolated strong spot, rising 7 to the year's best price. Air Reduction sold up 1. Radio held about steady.

Sterling cables opened steadily at $4.86.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 23. (AP)—Cotton had a rather quiet opening today and although Liverpool cables were about as due, first trades here showed losses of three points. The market continued to ease off slowly after the start mainly on selling due to a bearish construction of a statement by the farm loan board announcing it would make no further efforts to stabilize wheat prices which it was assumed would apply to cotton as well.

May traded down to 10.90, July to 11.18 and October to 11.47, or seven to nine points under Saturday's close.

At the end of the first hour, the market was a shade steadier and two to three points above the lows.

The market showed a sagging tendency all morning owing to liquidation due to weakness in stocks and wheat. May traded down to 10.77, July to 11.02 and October to 11.34, or 17 to 20 points below opening figures and 23 to 23 points under Saturday's close.

At noon, prices were a shade steadier and two to five points above the lowest of the morning.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 23. (AP)—Cotton opened steady today, 1 to 8 points lower in response to disappointing Liverpool cables which were followed by some local and New Orleans selling.

The announcement of the policy of the federal farm board with reference to the coming wheat crop seemed to have rather an unsettling effect on sentiment and may have led to a little selling at the opening. There was some favorable comment on this statement, however, and the comparatively light offerings were sufficiently well taken on the decline to 10.91 for May and 11.48 for October to steady the market, which after showing net losses of 6 to 10 points rallied 3 or 4 points from the lowest by the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables said Manchester and continental liquidation in that market had been absorbed by covering and reported buyers of cotton cloths and yarns cautious with a moderate turnover.

Trading was quiet after the early offerings had been absorbed but the rallies of 5 or 6 points seemed to meet a little more cotton and offerings increased slightly following publication of a report from Washington that the Federal Farm board would not buy any of the 1931 cotton crop to stabilize prices. May contracts sold off to 10.87 and October to 10.42 with the market showing net declines of about 10 to 15 points at midday.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Mar 23. (AP)—An immediate fall of more than a cent a bushel in wheat today followed announcement that the farm board would not attempt to maintain prices beyond May. Forced down by a rush of selling, July delivery, representing the new 1931 crop, tumbled quickly to 61 cents, a new bottom record unequalled in many years. Opening unchanged to 1c off, wheat afterward receded further. Corn started 1-4 to 7-8c lower and continued to descend.

YOUNG BANDITS ARE BEING SOUGHT

SAN ANTONIO, March 23. (AP)—Three youthful bandits who kidnaped a railroad ticket agent and negro porter in Corpus Christi and released them at Pettus after robbing the agent of $200 in cash were sought by police today.

Local officers were asked to join the search for the trio after Richard Sandler, ticket agent at the Southern Pacific station in Corpus Christi, was forced into an automobile by the three youths, driven to Pettus and robbed.

The kidnaping occured shortly after midnight it was reported, while Saddler and the negro were alone in the station. The bandit trio entered, threatened the victims with revolvers and took $200 in cash from a drawer.

Saddler and the porter were then forced to enter the automobile but were released after a ride to Pettus, about 80 miles from Corpus Christi.

Hope For Recovery Of Wounded Girl

HARRIMAN, Tenn., Mar. 23. (AP)—Physicians held hope today for the recovery of Miss Grace Gilliland, 21, whom officers said was shot by a jealous admirer at a high school party and dance Friday night.

Two bullets which entered the left side below the heart have been located, physicians said, and an operation for their removal will be performed as soon as Miss Gilliland gains strength.

Miss Virginia Morrow, 24, university of Tennessee co-ed, of Dallas, Texas, is recovering from a wound in the leg, inflicted by a stray bullet.

River Surrenders Body Lost 3 Months

DENISON, March 23. —(AP)—The body of Jeff Deason, 23, steel worker who was drowned Dec. 29 when he fell from the new free bridge here into the Red river, was enroute today to his home in Sterling, Colorado. Swollen by recent rains the river surrendered the body yesterday. Two farmers obtained a boat and recovered the body from the stream near Yarnaby, Okla., northeast of Denison.

Last Of Survivors Are Aboard Sagona

ST. JOHN'S N. F., March 23.—(AP)—The last of the Viking survivors at Horse island were safely aboard the steamer Sagona today, but the progress of the rescue craft toward St. John's depended upon her ability to clear a path through a high ice barrier.

A changing wind was regarded as a favorable factor in opening a trail for the journey to St. John's, where Sir Richard Squires, prime minister of Newfoundland, has announced an inquiry will be conducted into the explosion on the sealer.

Supreme Court Not To Reconsider Case

WASHINGTON, March 23. (AP)—The supreme court today refused to reconsider its recent ruling affirming the decision of the Texas supreme court which sustained the validity of proceedings against the Bain Peanut company of Texas and others brought by Dave Pinson and C. B. Guyger.

The suit had been brought in Comanche county, Texas, while the Bain company and other defendants contended it should have been brought in Tarrant county, Tex., where they resided.

ROBBER KILLED

HOUSTON, March 23. (AP)—Dale Barnwell, 26, was shot and killed by police officers yesterday when they surprised him and two companions opening a safe at a warehouse here. Bert O'Brien, 23, was arrested and charged with burglary. Officers were hunting for a man who they said served as Barnwell's lookout.

SHIP TRAVELS BY SHIP, MULE

When the steamship Ollanto arrives at its destination at Lake Titicaca, in Peru, it will have traveled by ship and by mule pack. It is being constructed at Hull, England, and when finished will be taken apart, packed in sections and shipped in a steamship to South America. It then will be taken overland by mule pack. The ship is 270 feet long.

COMMUNIST STABS FOUR RELATIVES

PORT FRANCES, Ont., March 23. —(AP)—Enraged by criticism of communism, of which he was an ardent supporter, Antanay Usziki today stabbed to death his sister-in-law, Mrs. Nick Strayko, 38, her two daughters, Olga, 19 and Ellen, 8, and wounded her 14 year old son.

Usziki stolidly walked 14 miles to Pinewood and surrendered to the Canadian national railway station agent.

Former Fireman Is Charged In Murder

DALLAS, March 23. (AP)—W. M. Douglas, 30, former city fireman, was charged with murder today in connection with the slaying Saturday night of Prince Albert Hunt, 30, violin player and radio entertainer.

Douglas was in jail and indicated a desire to remain there until the grand jury investigated his case. He expressed confidence he would be exonerated by the grand jury when it heard the facts.

Hunt was shot to death as he left a dance hall accompanied by Mrs. Hattie Douglas.

In a statement to the district attorney said he shot Hunt because the latter had wrecked his home.

Texas Is Favored In Boundary Case

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23. (AP)—The report of Samuel S Gannett, engineer, marking the boundary between New Mexico and Texas along the Rio Grande, in accordance with a decision of the supreme court, was approved today by that court.

The land in dispute was near El Paso. New Mexico claimed it, the controversy centering over the location of the Rio Grande river at the time the boundary line was originally located.

New Mexico insisted it was at that time on the eastern side of the valley, while Texas contended it was on the western side. The decision of the supreme court was broadly in favor of Texas.

Longshoreman Shot, Beaten To Death

NEW ORLEANS, Mar. 23. (AP)—Woodrow Wilson Gilmore, longshoreman foreman, was shot and beaten to death in the New Orleans dock strike area yesterday. Police were holding a cab operator for questioning today.

Seven persons were arrested soon after Gilmore's body was found but all were released except Kennedy. Police said they had learned the foreman frequented Kennedy's place. The suspect insisted he had not seen Gilmore since Saturday night.

The body was found near strike headquarters of the longshoreman's union. Authorities said Gilmore had been working on the waterfront only a week.

PAROLE BOARD SUBPOENAED

THREE MEMBERS ARE TO TESTIFY IN PEN PROBE

JOLIET, Ill., March 23.— (AP)—Blamed by two prison chaplains for the seething unrest in Illinois' twin penitentiaries, three members of the state parole board have been subpoenaed to appear before a special committee of the legislature investing prison conditions.

The Rev. Eligius Weir, Catholic priest, and the Rev. George L. Whitmyer, resigned Episcopal chaplain, agreed the week of disturbance which brought three deaths and a million dollars damage were due "to the parole board and the parole board only."

Charges Made

Discrimination against poor convicts, attempts to force prisoners to inform on friends outside the prison as a condition of release, and interference by the Cook county, (Chicago) state's attorney's office in paroles were among the specific charges.

Consequently, the second day of hearings by the committee was interrupted while Chairman Roger Little sent summons to W. C. Jones, parole board chairman; R. Keen Ryan and Thomas H. Cannon, the trio who comprise the board.

The charges of the chaplains engrossed the committee. Mr. Whitmeyer, asked by the warden to resign and charged with "fomenting trouble," said:

Discrimination Claimed

"The well-dressed relatives of inmates get every consideration by the parole board. Inmates represented by lawyers and politicians also get consideration. But if the relatives who come here to plead are poorly dressed and look as though they amounted to little — they get little time from the board."

Father Weir said:

"Neither the parole law nor parole regulations are at fault. It is the parole board members. Their attitude here has caused the trouble.

"There are boys of 16 imprisoned here with hardened criminals. And at the state reformatory, built for wayward youths, there are men of 30. And there are insane criminals here who should be in the asylum at Menard."

Charles Schwartz Is Denied Petition

LAREDO, Mar. 23.—(AP)—Charles Schwartz, alias Victor Miller, indicted by a Webb county grand jury on a charge of conspiracy to commit a felony in another state in connection with the alleged extortion of $50,000 from Joseph Rosenblum of New Orleans in 1929, was denied a petition for writ of habeas corpus by District Judge J. F. Mullally.

He was remanded to custody of the sheriff until his case is called for trial. He was expected to be tried in New Bedford, Mass., where cases were set charging conspiracy to steal. He was extradited from France after the alleged offense against Rosenblum was committed.

POTLIKKER-CORNPONE CONTROVERSY REACHES ALL PARTS OF GLOBE; ATLANTA EDITOR IS SWAMPED WITH MAIL

BY GEORGE HATCHER
Central Press Correspondent

ATLANTA, Ga.—"The importance of the trivial is too often underestimated," remarked the tired but happy Potlikker and Cornpone editor of an Atlanta newspaper, a role assumed by Julian Harris when he became the protagonist of the crumbling theory in a recent controversy over dietetic etiquette.

"It was, I think," he added, "Oscar Wilde who asserted that nature imitates art. But the case of Governor Huey P. Long, senator-elect of Louisiana, is that of a man who seeks to create the illusion that nature is to be changed by an artifice."

"Uncle Remus'" Son

Julian Harris, son of the eminent Joe Chandler Harris, creator of Uncle Remus, was awarded the Pulitzer prize in 1926, when he was publisher of a Columbus (Ga.) daily, for his successful editorial fight against the Ku Klux Klan in that section. Among other things, he is known in the south for his stand in connection with justice to the negro and now is aiding a commission of outstanding southerners in an investigation of the basic causes of lynching, with the objective of formulating a program to eliminate the evil.

Now, add to the characteristics of this well known southerner a keen sense of humor.

When Governor Long recently advocated dunking as proper to the enjoyment of eating potlikker, Harris took the opportunity to make a case against him. And after several weeks of good natured and somewhat humorous discussion concerning the relative merits of dunking and crumbling, it has been referred to as the "Abie's Irish Rose" of journalism.

This superficially fantastic but fundamentally salutary discussion has served as food for serious and facetious thought among rich and poor, intelligentsia and boobosie, scientist and hired hand, politicians and preachers. The momentous southern argument started on an ominous Friday, the 13th, in February, and has reached out into the farthest corners of the globe, as well as permeating metropolitan areas and the vast hinterland of America.

Notables Participate

Governors of 14 states, mayors, noted American writers, scientists, public figures of the radio and moving picture fields, have taken part in the discussion. The Potlikker and Cornpone editor soon was swamped with letters and messages conveying opinions, crates of tinned tomatoes, tumblers of potlikker and an abundant supply of cornpone.

It is an argument in which America's greatest newspapers have stood side by side, editorially, with the country "sheets," of rural southern New England and midwestern, or, perchance, differed here and there on a point of trivial import.

The issue has provided something more than a discussion, in Harris opinion.

Apple Sauce for Nation

"From the moment Governor Long discovered that someone differed from him on the question of dunking cornpone in potlikker," Harris says, "Governor Long ably aided a scheme to arouse the sense of humor of a nation wearied by talk of depression, prohibition, communism, and the like.

"Underlying the humorous side, the revival of the ancient custom of eating cornpone and potlikker, or of consuming the latter alone, has given the present generation an opportunity to add a health-giving diet to its menu.

"A number of persons joining in this symposium see a serious side to the discussion. Many have written of the value of potlikker as a nutritive and a score or more have told of its effective use in the case of children who were what they termed 'puny'."

S. C. EVANS TO ATTEND SHOW

DISTRICT AGENT IS EXPECTED TO BE HERE TUESDAY

Sterling E. Evans, district agricultural agent of Texas A. & M. college, is scheduled to arrive here Tuesday morning and remain until the close Saturday of the first annual Panhandle-South Plains Fat Calf, Pig, and Meat show. The exposition will open Friday at the Panhandle-South Plains fairgrounds here.

Mr. Evans was one of the first to suggest such a show, and has worked with county agents of the section to stimulate interest in the event, according to attaches o. the show.

A meeting of the meat-sales promotion committee of the exposition was held at 10 a. m. today in chamber of commerce offices. Prior to the meeting, chamber officials announced that Swift & Co. of Fort Worth and Peyton Packing company of El Paso had reported that they would send representatives to the calf and pig sales and the registered Hereford auction here. The Hereford sale, as well as auction of the four-H club and high school vocational agriculture entries, will be in connection with the show.

Other packing companies and railroads and allied organizations have been invited to send representatives to the exposition. Meat markets and hotels in other South Plains cities from which baby beef and pig exhibits will come have been invited to buy here.

office testifying that necessary changes have been made, according to Mr. Kinard.

Some oil companies have been careful to check their pumps and keep them adjusted correctly, the inspector said, but others "seemingly have not paid much attention to inspections."

"It might be a good idea when an inspector comes to town to keep faith with him," suggested Mr. Kinard, "as he does by not tying up pumps and scales as he goes along."

Goes To Tahoka

The inspector said he would go from Lubbock to Tahoka today, and thence to O'Donnell and Lamesa.

Fines of $25 and $200 are minimum and maximum penalties as fixed by state law, for operation of pumps or scales which have been "tied up" and adjustment of which the operator has not sworn to in an affadavit mailed to state authorities, according to Mr. Kinard.

ATTENDANCE AT MEAT SHOW URGED BY COMMITTEES

Two committees of the meat-sales promotion committee of the first annual Panhandle - South Plains Fat Calf, Pig, and Meat show this afternoon began a canvass of Lubbock business houses urging attendance at a mass meeting which will convene at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning in chamber of commerce offices.

Purpose of the mass meeting is to stimulate interest in the meat exposition, and business and professional men, persons affiliated with agricultural and livestock activities, and others will be asked to attend.

The mass gathering was called by R. J. Murray, chairman of the meat-sales promotion group, and any interested person is eligible to attend.

Committees visiting downtown business houses to encourage attendance at the mass meeting were Mr. Murray, Alex McDonald and R. D. Kinney, comprising one group, and N. L. Peters, B. C. Dickinson and Parker Prouty the other.

Contacts are being made with livestock buyers, chambers of commerce, county agents, vocational agriculture instructors, and similarly situated persons, in an effort to have a buyer accompany each baby beef exhibit to the exposition here Friday and Saturday.

Five Students To Face Questioning

LINCOLN, Neb. Mar. 23. (AP)—Five university of Nebraska students arrested in an apartment across from the campus Saturday and charged with possession of liquor were summoned for questioning today by Dr. T. J. Thompson, dean of men at the university.

Detective Frank Weygint said he confiscated about 120 bottles of beer and more than half a gallon of alcohol at the apartment.

PRORATION FOR EAST TEXAS FIELD IS ASKED BY PENN

DALLAS, March 23.—(AP)—Robert R. Penn, chairman of the Texas central proration committee, predicted here Saturday that the price of oil, which has dropped rapidly within the last few months, would go as low as 10 cents a barrel within a month unless proration were put into effect in the new East Texas field. Without proration in East Texas, he said, other fields would no longer "hold the umbrella" for East Texas.

Already the loss to East Texas producers due to the low price of crude has been about $600,000, Penn asserted—oil which should have brought a price of 75 to 80 cents a barrel has been selling for forty cents or less. On a total production of about 1,200,000 barrels, he said the loss had assumed large proportions.

Denies Report

"Reports from Henderson say I was quoted as having declared that outlets for East Texas to be recommended by the proration committee would be 30,000 barrels," said Penn. "This is absolutely untrue. The railroad commission has not yet met, the meeting being scheduled for next Tuesday, and we of the Texas central proration committee have not received the pipeline nominations. Also, we have not formulated any recommendations to the railroad commission and will not do so, before the hearing in Austin. Agitators in East Texas against proration repeatedly have tried to make it appear that the central proration committee is trying to throttle East Texas.

"This is an entirely false conception. The committee has no power whatever to fix outlets and acts only in an advisory capacity for the best working out of a common purchaser act which provides that there must be no discrimination between the purchasers in any field and no unjust or unreasonable discrimination between the various fields of the state."

CHARGE FOR CHANGE

ROME (AP)—The money changing business, already an ancient one in Biblical days, exists in Rome. It is limited, however, to a charge of one-fourth or one-half cent for every 100 lire note changed into small coins by banks.

Again Konjola Wins Triumphs

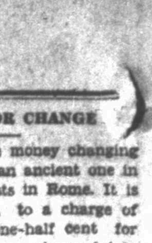

See How This Medicine Of 29 Ingredients Works When Put To The Test

A medicine must have merit when seven million bottles are used in two years. Well, that is Konjola's record. Results are what count, and Konjola can be counted on for results.

Mrs Clara Binz

Take, as a typical case of Konjola at work, the happy experience of Mrs. Clara Binz, Route Six, San Antonio. Read her grateful words: I had rheumatism in my right arm for seven years. Agonizing pains accompanied every attempt to use my arm. Gas bothered me after every meal, and I lost weight. I tried many medicines, but got no results until I tried Konjola. In three weeks rheumatism was conquered. My appetite is fine and I am gaining weight."

Mr. Joe Gonzalez

And see what Konjola did for Mr. Joe Gonzalez, 90 Eighteenth street, Galveston. He declares: "Rheumatism and kidney trouble kept me in misery for eight years. The pain was frightful, and at times I could not close my hands. Again, I could not walk. How I wish I had taken Konjola sooner. Results have been wonderful; I feel like a new person."

Mrs Dorothy Bradford

And can anyone wonder that Mrs. Dorothy Bradford, 512 West Magnolia street, San Antonio is enthusiastic over Konjola! Think over her words: "I suffered long with nervous indigestion and stomach pains. Gas formed, no matter what I ate, and I often suffered terribly for hours after meals. Just three weeks on Konjola and now I can eat anything. Konjola is truly wonderful."

So it goes whenever Konjola is given a chance to prove its merit and its worth. Konjola is for the aged or the infant; for all the family. Get Konjola at any drug store, and do not accept a substitute.
