Officials of the Texas Election Bureau, an organization established by newspapers of the state many years ago to gather and tabulate election returns, are worried about a possible handicap in their work Saturday night.

If the telephone strike is still going on, communications between various counties and the election return center in Dallas may face delays. The election bureau, which now serves all news media, was somthing of a phenomenon at the outset. It attempted to get complete, unofficial totals of all voting for state political races the night of the election

Texas, of course, has enough counties to make this a chore for any organization. However, the Texas Election Bureau got the job done and now it is relied upon by all interested parties for quick and amazingly accurate election returns within hours after the polls close.

Procedure has been updated continuously to keep pace with expanding vote totals. In the early days a good, hot state - wide race normally would attract less than a million voters in Texas. In fact, as I recall, no single candidate ever received as many as half a million votes in a contested Texas election (primary or general) until about 1938. Now, nearly two million voters may be expected to turn out for statewide elections of average interest.

In those earlier days, election night brought extra equipment into newspaper offices. A telegraph operator brought his equipment in and hooked it up with a special line to the Texas Election Bureau. The operators received the state - wide returns by code and copied them in longhand for the newspaper.

Now, the regular news service wires carry the election returns, since membership in the election bureau includes all news - gathering agencies and all media. In those earlier days, only newspapers were members and not all of them subscribed to the service. —WACIL McNAIR.

COMMUNIST PRESSURE SHIFTS

Battles Rage In Vietnam

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Fighting raged today for the third straight day in the northeast corner of South Vietnam, where U.S. and South Vietnamese troops reported killing 616 of the enemy in the past two days.

Military spokesman said 43 Americans were killed and 221 wounded in heavy fighting Tuesday. The South Vietnamese lost six killed and 17 wounded. Allied casualties in two days of fighting in this sector totaled 60 killed and 279 wounded.

Military spokesmen said units of the U.S. 3rd Marine Division and South Vietnamese infantrymen regained contact about noon with a sizable North Vietnamese force near the Marine division's headquarters at Dong Ha. U.S. fighter-bombers and artillery were pounding the enemy positions.

It appeared that the Communist command might be shifting pressure to South Vietnam's northeast corner from the northwestern section, where the U.S. Marine combat base at Khe Sanh was under siege for 77 days earlier this year.

The Marines and government troops fought day-long battles Tuesday as they swept the northeast seacoast to take pressure off allied bases just below the demilitarized zone and off their land supply line, Highway 1. The allied forces are operating within a mile of each other and about nine miles below the eastern flank of DMZ.

After large clashes Monday near Hue and Dong Ha, the allied forces fought until nearly midnight Tuesday north and east of Dong Ha, and other allied troops drove off an enemy attack near Quang Tri City, eight miles farther south.

South Vietnamese forces reported killing 100 North Vietnamese Tuesday near Dona Ha in the same battle area where allied units claimed 130 enemy dead the previous day.

In another clash near the village where the U.S. 3rd Marine Division is headquartered units of the division reported killing 92 of an estimated 400 enemy soldiers fighting from fortified bunkers.

The U.S. Command maintained its security blackout on news of Operation Delaware, in the A Shau Valley southwest of Hue, but said U.S. B52 bombers attacked North Vietnamese truck parks and gun positions today in the valley.

In Da Nang, about 50 miles south of Hue, South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu told a May Day labor rally "the government is determined to take care of the people living in the northern provinces, the area of hardest fighting."

Thieu reiterated that his government never will negotiate with the Viet Cong and said it will not cede "even one centimeter" of land to North Vietnam.

Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky spoke to about 6,000 workers in a Saigon stadium and blasted foreign critics—apparently in the United States—"who have never set foot on our soil and have never understood the problems of this country and its people."

Talks Site Accepted By White House

WASHINGTON AP) — The White House quickly accepted today an Indonesian suggestion that preliminary peace talks with representatives of North Vietnam take place on an Indonesian naval vessel in the Gulf of Tonkin.

There was no indication whether the suggestion was also acceptable to North Vietnam.

Shortly after Indonesia's suggestion was announced in Jakarta, White House press secretary George Christian told newsmen:

"A neutral ship on a neutral sea would be a good meeting place."

He said Indonesia's proposal "is acceptable to the United States."

Christian made it clear that the U.S. government—and presumably Hanoi—had been informed of the Indonesian plan in advance of the public announcement in Jakarta. "You can assume that there have also been other contacts on this," he said.

In announcing acceptability of Indonesia's idea, Christian said, "As you know, both the United States and North Vietnam have ambassadors in Indonesia."

One of the stumbling blocks in finding a site for preliminary talks with North Vietnam has been a search for agreement on a location where both countries and their allies have diplomatic representation.

Poor Ask For Vietnam Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, leader of the Poor People's Campaign, told Secretary of State Dean Rusk today money spent in Vietnam needs to be used to help solve problems of the U.S. poor.

"The resources which are so vital and necessary to carry on the fight against poverty here at home are being used to fight this war 6,000 miles away," Abernathy said as campaign workers began their third day of conferences with government leaders.

Rusk extended a courteous welcome to the group of several dozen poor at the meeting in the State Department auditorium Similar welcomes by other government leaders in the two preceding days surprised many of the workers of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference organizing the campaign.

"It is out of love that we come here," Abernathy told Rusk and quoted President Abraham Lincoln's phrase: "A house divided against itself cannot stand."

Abernathy, SCLC president, said Tuesday of the campaign's demands for adequate jobs, income, housing and education: "We don't want sympathy, we want action."

"We will be back at a later date, in about 10 days," he told Rusk today, alluding to his vow earlier to return in vastly swollen numbers after exacting no promises of immediate federal aid.

"We want to enjoy some of the comforts you other people enjoy," Mrs. Martha Graff, an Oklahoma Indian nearly in tears, told Rusk. "That's why we put you in these offices, to solve these problems for us."

"Many times we eat once a day," she added. "We send our children hungry to school ... We don't want our children to go through what we're going through ..."

Ike Suffers Mild Attack

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) —Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is expected to be hospitalized here several weeks following a heart attack that an aide describes as mild.

The 77-year-old soldier-statesman suffered a "myocardial infraction," a blood clot in a heart artery, the March Air Force Base Hospital said. It was his third heart attack since 1955.

The bulletin issued late Tuesday was the first official word of his illness. It said "a general prognosis cannot be made at this time."

Although the bulletin did not specify when the attack occurred, it was assumed the retired five-star general was stricken Monday after playing golf in the morning.

Edd Crowder Rites Today

Funeral service for Edd Crowder, 86, were set for 2 p.m. today at the First Methodist Church.

Mr. Crowder, a resident of Snyder for 70 years, died Tuesday morning in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Dr. John English was to officiate at the funeral rites and burial was to be in the Snyder Cemetery, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

Flag Raising Is Loyalty Day Event

About 100 patriotic citizens gathered on the north side of the Courthouse this morning to witness a Flag raising ceremony that called attention to Loyalty Day.

Mayor Bobby McCormick previously had designated today "Loyalty Day in Snyder" in opposition to the annual Communist May Day observance on May 1. The Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 8231 was in charge of the Flag raising ceremonies, and its commander, T. V. Early urged local citizens to fly the American flag today "in respect to the scarifices that many have made that we may enjoy freedom.

George Killam, county attorney, spoke at the ceremony, calling on Americans to let the letters in the word "Flag" stand for ideals that have made the country great.

He said F could stand for faithfulness, fellowship and fideity. Similary, L stands for love, liberty and lawfulness; A stands for aims, aspirations and America; and, G stands for goodness, greatness and Godliness.

Henry Clark, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presented the VFW Post a plaque in appreciation for "community service." Early accepted it on behalf of the Post.

The National Anthem was played and all present stood at attention as the Flag was raised.

Invocation and benediction were given by Rev. Herman Valladares.

Price Fixing Is Upheld

WASHINGTON AP) — The Supreme Court upheld today the Federal Power Commission's authority to fix on an area-basis maximum rates for the sale of natural gas to pipelines.

The 7-1 decision, in the landmark Permian Basin case, held that the area approach to regulation of producers' rates is a proper interpretation of regulation powers given the commission by Congress in the Natural Gas Act of 1938.

The decision affects immediately gas produced in the Permian Basin fields of Western Texas and southeastern New Mexico and piped mostly to California and the Midwest.

The basin accounts for some 11 per cent of all natural gas moving in the interstate market. Home owners and businesses will be in line for refunds of about $40 million.

Farm Picture Some Rosier

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department painted a somewhat rosier outlook for farm income this year than it had forecast previously.

A report on the farm income situation said realized net income of farm operators this year is expected to increase around 5 per cent or $725 million more than last year's $14.5 billion, or a total of $15.225 billion.

The department's last previous forecast, made last fall, was for an income this year about the same as last year. Realized net income is the amount remaining after farmers pay operating costs.

The report said this improved outlook reflects several recent developments, including increased exports of farm products, holding of large quantities of grains off market under programs designed to improve prices, and higher prices being received for milk, some fruits and vegetables.

Rocky, McCarthy Victors In Primary

BOSTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who wasn't a candidate when the polls opened Tuesday, scored an upset write-in victory today over favorite son Gov. John A. Volpe on the Republican ballot in the Massachusetts presidential primary.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, the only entrant on the Democratic ballot, captured slightly more than 50 per cent of the Democratic votes.

Volpe, alone on the Republican ballot in a bid to enhance his chances for the vice presidential nomination, trailed Rockefeller by about 1,000 votes in near-final returns. Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon ran third, amost 5,000 votes behind Rockefeller.

A new state law requires that all the state's 34 Republican delegate votes go to Rockefeller on the first ballot at the Republican National Convention, and that all 72 Democratic votes go to McCarthy on the first ballot at the Democratic convention.

Trailing McCarthy on the Democratic ballot were, in order, Massachusetts native son Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, and President Johnson.

McCarthy ran fourth on the Republican ballot, capturing about 10 per cent of the vote from Republicans who could not obtain a Democratic ballot but wrote in his name on their ballots. A scattering of Republicans also voted for Kennedy and Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

In all, write-in votes were cast by about 56 per cent o. the more than 329,000 primary voters. The state has 2.6 million registered voters.

125 Absentee Ballots Cast

There were 125 ballots cast during the period for absentee voting which closed yesterday at the Scurry County Courthouse, according to a report by Beverly Ainsworth, county clerk.

She said an additional 13 ballots were received through the mail. Another 34 ballots still are out and could be received by noon Saturday.

The ultimate total four years ago, the last presidential election year, was 139. So, this year's total could exceed that of 1964.

Texas Candidates Vie For The Last-Minute Spotlight

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Outside influences shouldered back into the middle of the Texas political stage today while candidates for governor and other statewide offices jockeyed for last-minute advantage in Saturday's primary elections.

Among the Democrats, Gov. John Connally scheduled a statewide telecast of a speech on "matters of urgency to our state and nation"—widely expected to court backing of his desire for a favorite son candidate's role at the party's national convention in August.

Reaction to the reentry of New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller in the Republican presidential derby raised lively echoes, meanwhile, among state GOP partisans. In this connection, former Republican national committeeman Jack Porter of Houston called on party members to oust their state chairman, Peter O'Donnell of Dallas, and endorsed California Gov. Ronald Reagon for the presidential nomination.

Adding still another facet to the diverse political scene, backers of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York in the Laredo vicinity launched a series of mock precinct conventions to drum up support of his bid to be the Democratic nominee for president.

Dist. Judge James E. Kazen said a long range goal of the mock conventions in the Laredo area was to keep Webb County delegates to the State Democratic convention from being bound by the unit rule, and probably pledged to Connally as a favorite son contender at the national convention.

Connally himself was expected to appeal in tonight's address also for adoption of the unit rule in precinct conventions to be held after the polls close Saturday. Such a rule would bind all 104 Texas votes at the Chicago convention to the majority's choice.

Maids Trained To Seduce, Destroy

By T. JEFF WILLIAMS

DA NANG, South Vietnam (AP) — That beautiful Vietnamese girl, her silken black hair swirling about her fragile body as she bathes in the stream, can be an angel of death.

Viet Cong terrorists around this big Marine base are now using "seduce and destroy" squads of girls, in attempts to entice Leathernecks to their deaths.

Marine sources said three Marines were missing and one was killed by the female assassination teams in three months.

A captured Viet Cong confirmed that attractive girls were being recruited and trained in English and intelligence work for the assassination teams.

In one recent incident, three Marines on patrol near their camp spotted three girls swimming nude in a stream. A few minutes later, one Marine lay dead, face down in the water. The other two are still missing.

"It is considered probable that the females were used as lures," the sources said.

The first inkling of the death-dealing decoys came in January when Marine conterintelligence units uncovered what they called a "Viet Cong suicide platoon, composed of approximately 30 females." The girls were already operating near this sprawling Marine complex.

The girls, many believed to be fresh-faced teen-agers like many Marines, work in the time-honored tradition: strike up a conversation, get the Marine talking about himself, make an appointment for a quiet rendezvous, then arrange the kill.

Marine sources are concerned enough to warn the lower ranked men. The 8 p.m. curfew in the city of Da Nang, is strict.

Much of the city is completely off limits to the Leathernecks. Houses of prostitution, vermin-infested, tin-roofed shacks, stand less than 100 yards from the main gates of some camps. Officials are not too concerned with these. They cannot be eradicated but can be better patrolled when nearby.

They are concerned, however, with the houses located deep in the twisting, dark alleys and fragile-looking maidens bathing in the leaf-ringed streams near here. They may bestow the kisses of death.

Australians Search For James Earl Ray

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Australian police are making a nationwide search for James Earl Ray, wanted in the United States on a charge of killing Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Police officials said the U.S. Federal Bureau of Investigation cabled that it had information indicating Ray, also known as Eric Starvo Galt, might have fled to Australia.

Australian police have also begun an intensive examination of all entry documents filed at points of entry since King's assassination, but officers say nothing positive has turned up yet.

Angelo Banker To Join Richardson Bank

RICHARDSON, Tex. (AP) — Douglas Pond, president of the Texas State Bank of San Angelo, has been named president of Citizen State Bank in Richardson, retiring president John H. Head said.

Head said Tuesday he would continue to be a member of the bank's Board of Directors.

The retiring president also announced that Dallas Mayor Erik Jonsson would become an associate director on the board. He said Jonsson had acquired a substantial interest in the bank.

Connally To Plug Favorite Son Role

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally was expected to plug for his favorite-son candidacy in the national Democratic convention in a special statewide television broadcast tonight.

The governor also was expected to urge the adoption of the unit rule in precinct conventions Saturday. The unit rule would bind all of Texas' 104 delegate votes in the national convention to the preferences of the majority.

There was speculation that Connally would endorse a candidate in the governor's race.

Connally announced the television broadcast Tuesday, saying he wanted to discuss "matters of urgency to our state and nation."

Says Nixon Will Get Nomination

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon will get the Republican Party's presidential nomination by the third ballot, a former Eisenhower cabinet member predicted Tuesday.

But Fred A. Seaton, secretary of the interior and assistant defense secretary under President Eisenhower, said he was glad Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York had entered the GOP race.

Nixon has improved his chances of winning the presidency this time around because he is "eight years older, more relaxed and more mature" than he was when he first ran in 1960, Seaton said at a news conference.

A Hastings, Neb., newspaper publisher, Seaton was in Dallas to speak to a Radio Free Europe fund luncheon. He is a former Associated Press director.

A personal advisor to Eisenhower during the 1952 campaign and now similarly aligned with Nixon, Seaton said he sees signs that might indicate a "revolt of the voters" similar to the one that occurred in 1932.

He would not draw any direct analogies to the events that led to the election of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, but nevertheless concluded that the possibility of similar "foments" could lead to the election of Nixon.

The voters are likely to "toss out" a large number of Democratic incumbents, he said, recalling 1932 and a country that was in such a state of economic disease that it would have been almost impossible for a Democrat not to be elected.

Reselessness over the Vietnam war, inflation and higher taxes are producing conditions that could make it impossible for a Republican not to be elected this year, he said.

Hazel Bolding Rites Today

Funeral service was set for 4 p.m. today at Colorado City for Hazel (Susie) Bolding who died Saturday in Del Rio after a brief illness.

Miss Bolding, 37, was a former Colorado City nurse and had formerly lived in the Dunn community. She had lived in Del Rio for the past two years.

Surviving are two brothers, Aubrey Bolding of Albuquerque, N. M., and Kenneth Bolding of Tulsa, Okla.; two sisters, Mrs. Edith Weaver of Big Spring and Mrs. Mildred Rose of Snyder.

Kiker and Son Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Stalinists To Be Ousted

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's interior minister promised Tuesday that his department and the police would be purged of old-line Stalinists. He also announced that wire-tapping equipment is now outlawed.

"Three or four deputy ministers together with other top officials will be replaced," Interior Minister Josef Pavel told the Czech news agency CTK. He added that personnel changes would go "down to the ground."

Pavel pledged a careful investigation of all officials who took part in the Stalinist purges of the 1950s and said all "defaulters will have to answer to the law or will be dismissed from the police force."

The shake-up in the police department came to light on April 12, when Pavel disclosed that he was separating the secret police from the regular civilian police services. This move was recommended in the Action Program of party chief Alexander Dubcek, helmsman of the new liberal course. At that time Pavel also said he was trying to remove from the force "people who violated the law."

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I know you will find this hard to believe, but every word of it is true.

There is an elderly gentleman (in his eighties) living in a small single room in a local hotel. This man has married children and grandchildren in town who hardly look at him.

He can't dress himself, or bathe very well, and his eyesight is failing, so the maids help him. (The maids take better care of him than his own family.)

Several months ago, a maid found him on the bathroom floor. He had fallen the night before and couldn't get up, so he just laid there, cold and shivering all night.

He eats only once a day on a tray sent to his room, and that's usually oatmeal and coffee. On Sundays the kitchen is closed, so he doesn't eat from Saturday until Monday morning.

How can people be so heartless? Today is Sunday, and believe me, Abby, my appetite is gone just thinking about that poor, old, neglected man.

"A FRIEND"

DEAR FRIEND: If you really want to help, why don't YOU look in on the old gentleman? (You don't have to be a relative to extend a kindness.) Writing to me without a clew of who YOU are, who HE is, or even the city in which he lives, is futile. And your loss of appetite won't help him much, either.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl who has just started to date. I am going to ask you a question I have asked many others but I have never been able to get anyone to give me a straight answer.

When a girl really likes a fellow and they are alone together, naturally they are going to make out some, but how far should a girl go?

WANTS TO KNOW

DEAR WANTS: The limits of self-respect will provide the answer. A boy who has genuine affection for a girl will never do anything that will degrade her, or make her feel ashamed. Courtship is preparation for marriage; ask any boy how far he would like the girl he marries to go on a date. And if he's honest, you'll have an honest answer.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: You recently printed a letter from someone who said if an adopted child turns out bad, it could be because of "bad blood." Well my blood ("bad" or otherwise) boiled.

I was adopted when I was an infant. I don't know exactly how old I was when I learned about it but it was early enough for me to say, "Yes, I know," when a cousin whispered what he thought was a big secret.

Much later I became curious about my natural parents. After satisfying that normal curiosity, I pormptly put it aside and seldom think about it until some ignoramus makes a statement about "Bad blood." Then I blow up.

Of course, heredity is a factor, but the strongest force in shaping a child's character is enviroment, and an adopted child will be more like the couple who adopted him than anyone else.

However, here is one fact that seems to be overlooked. The adopted child KNOWS that he was wanted, and that he's not in the family because she forgot to take "the pill," or they got drunk one night. For this reason, the adopted child should be especially secure in the knowledge that he is loved by his adopted parents.

If you print this, please use my right name. I'm d--- proud of it.

2 Mishaps Are Logged

City Police investigated two motor vehicle mishaps Tuesday that resulted in considerable damage, although there were no injuries.

The first one occurred at 12:30 p.m. at Twenty-fifth Street and Avenue M.

Involved were the 1965 Model Chevrolet of Harold Don Bowman, 1910 Thirty-first Street, and the 1959 Model Chevrolet pickup of E. M. Messer, 401 Twenty-fourth Street. Damage to the car was estimated at $500, and damage to the pickup was placed at $225. A city street marker, valued at $15, was destroyed in the collision.

The other collision occurred at 5:30 p.m. on the North Towle Park Road at Denison.

Involved were the 1960 Model Chevrolet stationwagon of Joan Braziel, 1010 Thirty-second Street, and the 1963 Model Ford of Charles Lewis Vernon, 3111 Beaumont. Damage to the stationwagon was estimated at $300, and damage to the other vehicle was placed at $250.

Police Patrolmen Ben McNulty and Brad Gambrell investigated the mishaps.

Scout Units Camp Out

Five Boy Scout troops from the Lone Buffalo District spent Saturday night camping on the annual "Advance-O-Ree."

This event provided an opportunity for instruction and advancement in various scout crafts and skills. Unit leaders were assisted by members of Explorer Post 212, sponsored by the Lions Club.

Troop 35, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, was recipient of the "Wolfwang" award for the best troop camp.

Other troops participating were 27, sponsored by the First Methodist Church; 36, sponsored by the Rotary Club; 123, sponsored by the VFW Post 8231, and 177 sponsored by Stanfield Elementary School P-TA.

Tractor Purchase Approved By Court

County Commissioners Monday accepted a bid from Wilson Motor Company for a tractor to be used in Precinct 2. The firm's bid of $3,797.35 was the apparent low bid submitted.

Commissioners also approved a motion to maintain a section of road as a county road. It begins on the west right of way line of State Highway 208 and extends west to the John E. Brown residence.

Meeting At Pyron Friday

Semi-annual meeting of the Pyron Cemetery Association will be held Friday, according to an announcement by Ross Williams, president of the association.

Special Week Launched By Witnesses

Jehovah's Witnesses of Snyder are beginning a special week of activity, today, when Circuit Supervisor Robert N. White visits the local congregation.

Mr. White, accompanied by his wife Ruth, travels a circuit of 14 congregations and one isolated group in north western Texas.

According to Roy Chamberlain, presiding minister in Snyder, the purpose of the week-long visit is to give practical assistance to each individual witness in his personal ministry.

"It is part of our religion," Chamberlain said, "for each member to share in house-to-house witnessing. Therefore we look forward to the three visits a year from our Circuit Supervisor."

Tuesday evening a "Ministry School" to provide training in public speaking and "Service Meeting" to give counsel in Bible teaching were held. Following this, Mr. White addressed the congregation in a 30-minute discourse.

Today through Sunday, witnessing activities will be conducted from house to house in Snyder in which local members will be aided by Mr. White in their teaching technique.

The audience will share in the Saturday evening program at 8 p.m. when "New Things Learned" are discussed. Scriptural admonition will then be offered by White in a 30 minute talk on improving personal ministry.

The climax of the week's activities will be a public address Sunday at 3 p.m. when White discusses "Provision For Rejoicing to Time Indefinite." Final remarks to the congregation will bring the program to a conclusion.

All interested persons are invited to attend the meetings which will be held at the Kingdom Hall, 607 Avenue S. No collections are ever taken.

Announcement Is Labeled A 'Hoax'

An engagement announcement in last Friday's issue of the Snyder Daily News has been labeled a hoax.

"It obviously was someone's idea of a prank," said Mrs. Floyd Buttrell. The announcement said that her daughter, Linda, was engaged to Bill Price, 1912 Avenue L.

Neither of the two young people nor parents knew anything about it, said Mrs. Buttrell. The Daily News accepted in good faith the brief announcement, which was submitted by a woman, and regrets any confusion it may have caused.

Eggs and rabbits heralded the spring season centuries before the first Easter basket was filled, the National Geographic Society says. # Draft Board Officials Fear Plan Could Create Chaos

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) The Selective Service System has withstood a proposed major overhaul, but now a team of senators favors a change to permit men challenging their draft status representation by an attorney.

Nine senators, led by Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., are sponsoring a bill that would guarantee potential draftees the right to be represented by counsel in any proceeding before a Selective Service board.

Legal representation currently is ruled out. One argument for this: The draft system contends it would not be fair to the poor, who couldn't afford attorneys.

Long's Judiciary subcommittee on administrative practice and procedure sees in the Office of Economic Opportunity—a way around that objection.

Earl Johnson, who heads the poverty agency's division of neighborhood legal services, is among witnesses slated to appear at a May 16 hearing on the draft-counsel measure.

Johnson said in an interview his agency would attempt to provide counsel to youths facing the draft who could not afford it otherwise, should the bill be enacted.

But Johnson said he has no idea what the possible caseload might be if the bill were enacted. "We don't have unlimited resources," he said. "If the load became too great we wouldn't be able to handle them all."

Publicly, Selective Service is taking no formal position on the matter. But privately, officials there said it could create chaos for the draft boards.

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the Selective Service director, is to testify on the measure and the bill's advocates expect him to oppose it.

A form letter currently is sent to lawyers or draftees who ask why they can't have counsel before draft boards. The letter notes that draft board members are generally without legal training.

"Our efforts through the years," it continues, "have been aimed at keeping the procedures so simple that it would not be necessary to have legal counsel at any hearing before the local board.

"We have always been of the opinion that it would be unfair to the many who cannot afford to hire attorneys if the sons of other families were permitted to have their cases presented by legal counsel."

However, the form letter adds, a government appeals agent is attached to each draft board, assigned to be "equally diligent" in protecting the rights of the government and the potential draftee. Sponsors of the bill question whether this kind of dual service is really possible.

Furthermore, Sen. Long voices belief the Supreme Court would hold denial of counsel unconstitutional.

Killed As Bluff Falls

DENISON, Tex. (AP)—A bluff overlooking Lake Texoma crumbled suddenly, burying one youth and injuring another, the reservoir manager reported Tuesday.

Manager Joe Wilson said Samuel Allen Fox, 10, was killed Monday when tons of dirt and huge clay boulders cascaded down the bluff to the water's edge.

Dale Kilgore, 13, suffered a broken leg and facial injuries but was freed by a companion, Therl Keld, 17. All three are from Oklahoma City.

Keld said the trio had been standing atop a steep bluff when the ledge caved in. He ran for help after freeing Kilgore, but young Fox was dead when rescuers reached his body.

Are Clothes Really Ready To Wear?

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — The garment industry classifies the clothing I buy in department stores as ready-to-wear, but I take issue with that designation.

By the time I have removed all the price tickets, tags, labels, washing instruction cards, strings, fiber content affidavits and pins from my purchases, I feel I've done about as much work as the seamstress who made them.

It's all very interesting reading matter, though, and it does make for sparkling conversation, should anybody compliment me on a dress.

"This old thing?" I say nonchalantly. "It's just a little wrinkleresistant blend of 87 per cent viscose rayon, 5 per cent imported silk and 8 per cent acetate tricot, bonded to 100 per cent acrylic to give finer fit, appearance and comfort."

If my friend has been doing her homework she'll take it from there. "What's the residual shrinkage?" she'll inquire thoughtfully.

"Oh, this luxury fabric, exclusive of ornamentation, may be washed with reasonable care," I reply. "Ironing is not necessary, but if desired, I use a warm (not hot) iron."

In addition to providing dramatic discourses at social gatherings, the material appended to my wardrobe gives me more for my money. By the time I have a blouse in a true ready-to-wear condition I have salvaged enough pins to pierce every voodoo doll in Africa. As a matter of fact, I haven't had to buy a straight pin since I took sewing in the sixth grade.

Ordinarily I manage to get rid of all this extraneous matter before the apparel goes out of style, but on one recent occasion there was a slight slipup.

I had bought a new spring coat, but the weather was still too cold to wear it so I hung it in the closet without preparing it for action. It suddenly turned warm enough for my coat to make its debut so I hastily removed the price tag and off I went in my new finery.

I was on the bus when the lady sitting next to me hesitantly asked if I realized there was a label on my coat seeve.

It was a lovely label, all right, done in fine satin and with a beautifully woven announcement that the coat was fabricated 100 per cent of a well known brand of wool. Proud as I was of that fact, I didn't think I should be flaunting it on my sleeve.

However, this decoration was sewed in four corners and neither I nor my new-found friend was carrying a pair of scissors. She did, fortunately, have a metal nailfile and by gently sawing away at the threads was able to divest my coat of its unwanted ornament.

Junior Editors Quiz on CHILI

QUESTION: Does chili come from Chile?

ANSWER: Chili is a Spanish word meaning red pepper. Mixed with chopped meat and beans, it puts pep into the peppery dish called chili con carne, which is biting the tongue of our young friend in the picture. Many people get used to this hot taste and enjoy it. Raising red peppers makes profitable farming in the Rio Grande valley of New Mexico and other more southern places. Chili peppers are native to the American tropical regions and their taste is most appreciated in hot countries, where strings of bright red peppers give a colorful note as they hang drying in the sun.

Chili, the pepper, has no connection w , Chile the country, most of which lies south of the tropical zone. This strangely shaped country is shown in black on our map. The name Chile is supposed to be an Indian word referring to the cool snows on its mountains. A cold current moves along the coast giving a somewhat chilly climate — but let's not get mixed up all over again!

Panthers Claw Bengals

HE'S SAFE — Lubbock Dunbar's Ronald Kinner prepares to slide into home plate safely during the district baseball clash with Snyder here yesterday. Tiger catcher Max Moreland is in good position to make the tag, but the ball arrived too late. The visiting Panthers won 5-2.

Snyder's Tigers led for one inning, but timely hitting in the late stages of the game propelled Lubbock Dunbar to a 5-2 verdict in the District 3-AAA baseball encounter here Tuesday afternoon.

It was the third loss of the campaign for the Tigers and virtually eliminated them from title considerations, although Lamesa, the loop leader, fell an 0-1 victim to Brownfield the same afternoon.

Steve Holder, who fired a brilliant no-hitter last Saturday, was charged with the loss. The Panthers tagged him for eight hits enroute to their second district victory against four losses. Steve walked four and fanned three.

Wallace, the winning hurler, walked seven and hit one batsman while experiencing a touch of wildness. But he was tough in the clutch and allowed only four hits while striking out six.

Larry Wadzeck and Steve Moffett took Annie Oakleys for Snyder to open the bottom of the 2nd and advanced on a sacrifice by Jodi Williamson. Then Max Moreland cracked a fly to deep center with Larry tagging up for h firs run.

The Tigers seemed to hit the ball solidly, but several long booming flies went directly to the outfielders. Consequently, the Bengals left 12 men stranded on base when they could have capitalized on the many free passes with timely hitting.

Dunbar evened things in the fourth when Cox walked and scored on a double by Wallace.

The Panthers went ahead 2-1 in the 5th on a walk to Newman, an error and singles by Davis and Kinner. They added a run in the sixth, after the Tigers cut the margin to 3-2 in the same frame, they pushed across two insurance tallies in the seventh.

The 6th inning Dunbar score resulted from a single by Glenn, a fielder's choice and another one base hit by Meredith. Snyder scored in its half of the frame on a single by Holder, a fielder's choice and a single by Mickey Almond.

Melton's double, an error, a walk and a single by Cox accounted for the final two Panther tallies.

The Tigers host Levelland at 2 p.m. Saturday in their next outing, then close out the campaign the following Saturday at Lamesa.

The Tiger infield looked sharp in the loss Tuesday, nipping runners at first several times on close plays. It was the lack of an offensive punch that made the difference in the contest.

Astros Rip Reds 3-0

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

With nowhere to go but up, Larry Dierker and the Houston Astros went for double or nothing . . . and made a twin killing.

The Astros, rebounding from a chaotic 17-2 loss to Cincinnati that deposited them in the National League cellar, backed Dierker's two-hit pitching with five double plays Tuesday night and blanked the Reds 3-0.

It was only the second victory for the Astros in their last 11 games and the first triumph for Dierker after three straight setbacks during which he was given a total of three runs' support.

In other NL night games St. Louis held off Los Angeles 2-1 and Pittsburgh overtook the Chicago Cubs 4-3. The New York Mets edged Philadelphia 1-0 and San Francisco trimmed Atlanta 7-0 in afternoon action.

Dierker, a 21-year-old fireballer whose fortunes had sagged after an opening day victory over Pittsburgh, limited the hard-hitting Reds to a pair of singles. He struck out seven and issued three walks, but the Houston infield turned over double plays in the second, third, fourth, sixth and seventh innings for a single game club record.

The Astros broke up a scoreless duel between Dierker and Cincinnati southpaw Gerry Arrigo in the eighth, tallying all their runs on Ron Davis' double and singles by John Bateman, Denis Menke, Jim Wynn and Doug Rader.

Ray Washburn stopped the Dodgers with ninth inning relief help from Joe Hoerner and ran his pitching mark to 3-0 as the Cardinals won for the seventh time in their last eight starts.

St. Louis scored its first run on a three-base error by left fielder Jim Fairey in the third inning and added what proved to be the winner in the sixth on Curt Flood's infield hit, a wild pitch by loser Bill Singer nd Mike Shannon's bad-hop single past second baseman Paul Popovich.

The Dodgers ruined Washburn's shutout bid in the eighth, when Fairey tripled and scored on an infield single by Popovich.

Pittsburgh spotted the Cubs two ninth inning runs, then rallied for three in the bottom of the ninth, Manny Mota driving in the last two with a two-out pinch double.

Run-scoring singles by Al Spangler and Don Kessinger gave the Cubs a 3-1 lead before the Pirates pulled it out on a single by Willie Stargell, a walk, Gene Alley's run-scoring single and Mota's double to center field off reliever Bill Stoneman.

Ron Swoboda seized the major league home run lead and powered the Mets past Philadelphia with his seventh homer, second inning blast off Chris Short. Don Cardwell stopped the Phillies on five hits for his first victory after two losses.

The Giants stole four bases, setting up four runs, and buried the Braves behind the clutch pitching of Ray Sadecki, who gave up 10 hits but breezed to his third victory in four decisions after working out of jams in five of the first six innings.

Midland Marksman Takes Top Trophy

Out of town shooters won two of the top three trophies at the rifle shoot held Sunday at the Canyon Gun Club range.

Walter Butler of Midland took first place in the competition for .222 caliber weapons and up with 25 shots at 100 yards. The second place trophy went to Bob Hanson, also of Midland.

Harry Ward of Snyder took third.

Gals Begin Second Round

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Chlotiele Cooper of Austin medalist of the 1968 competition, has advanced into the second round of match play today in the 35th annual Texas Women's Public Links Golf Tournament.

Mrs. Cooper repelled the upset bid of Martha Flato of Kingsville Tuesday to take a narrow one-up victory in the first round.

Others who advanced into today's second rounds are Thelma Taylor of Brownsville, Cleo Thompson of Greenville, Bee Copeland of Austin, Glenna Howell of Gonzales, Doris Gingrass of Edinburg, Belle Witt of Gonzales, Viola Kizer of Austin, Edith Thompson of McAllen, Sam Chapman of Victoria, Virginia Slagle of Harlingen, Betty McCoslin of Houston, Betty Heflin of Houston, Vivian McVey of Austin, Olga Posey of Brownsville, and Helen Fetters of Cuero.

Lions Seek Field Leader

By BILL HALLS
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions have all but agreed to trade three players and the team's top National Football League draft choice next year for quarterback Bill Munson of the Los Angeles Rams.

"There is no such deal, nothing is in the works in that area," said Joe Schmidt, head coach of the Lions.

But a high Lions' source said: "What did we give up? Nothing. I don't want to go to training camp this year with the same situation we had last year."

The situation was quarterbacking, Detroit's major problem for several years. Last season, with veteran Milt Plum and Karl Sweetan alternating at quarterback, the Lions managed only 1,631 yards passing compared with 2,752 in 1966. Detroit won four games, lost seven and tied two.

The source said Detroit will trade flankerback Pat Studstill, halfback Tommy Watkins and Plum, plus the team's top draft choice for Munson, whose option with the Rams ran out at midnight Tuesday.

Fair Sex Cries Foul

NEW YORK (AP) — Bernice Gera says there is nothing she'd like better than to yell "Play ball!" but claims her umpiring ambitions have been so thwarted that she's reduced to hollering "Foul!"

Mrs. Gera, a 35-year-old Queens housewife, yearns to trade in her apron and become organized baseball's first woman in blue. She doesn't like to be told "You're out!" and like any good ball player she is ready to argue the point.

The blue-eyed brunette filed a complaint Tuesday with the State Human Rights Commission charging the commissioner of baseball, William D. Eckert, with discriminating against her because of her sex.

Mario Biaggi, her attorney, said Eckert won't even let his client have an application blank although she is "duly qualified as a baseball umpire." All she wants is a chance to start in the minor leagues, he said.

"I'm ready now," declared Mrs. Gera, who graduated last year from a West Palm Beach, Fla., school for umpires, "although it may be a long time before the big leagues are ready for a lady umpire."

"Mrs. Gera has been around baseball and sandlots since she was eight years old," said Biaggi. "She hits a baseball 350 feet and can pitch a good ball."

"I think it's wrong, if I'm qualified, to deny me a job," said Mrs. Gera. "Thats all I ask for." If the rights commission finds probable cause for her complaint it will order an investigation and hold public hearings.

BUCS, CELTICS HOLD PRO PLAYOFF LEADS

By LARRY ELDRIDGE
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Reserve Don Nelson's "greatest game" and a typically spectacular performance by John Havlicek have boosted the Boston Celtics to within one victory of the National Basketball Association championship. But Coach Bill Russell says it was a "very bad play" on his own part which clinched matters.

Havlicek's field goal Tuesday night with 38 seconds left in an overtime period had given the Celtics a 119-117 lead over Los Angeles. The Lakers' Elgin Baylor then drove in for what could have been the tying basket.

Suddenly Russell came out of nowhere to block the shot and that was it, with Nelson sinking a clinching free throw in the 120-117 victory.

The decision left the Celtics with a 3-2 lead in the best-of-7 series as they strive to regain the championship they lost to Philadelphia a year ago. The sixth game will be played in Los Angeles Thursday, with the seventh if necessary, scheduled in Boston Sunday.

"I was guarding Melt Counts and I came off him to block that shot," Russell said. "Actually, it was a very bad thing to do, but I thought I'd be sneaky, and it worked this time anyway."

Nelson picked up by Boston after being cut by the Lakers two years ago, wound up with 26 points and 12 rebounds plus a strong defensive effort against his old mates.

Havlicek led Boston's scoring with 31 points, and also added 10 rebounds and eight assists. He went the entire 53 minutes.

New Orleans can wrap up the ABA title tonight at home against Pittsburgh. The Buccaneers lead the Pipers 3-2 in their best-of-7 series.

Tuneup For International

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Final practice rounds were played today for the $100,000 Houston Champions International, which has lost a touch of sparkle due to several big-name dropouts.

The Houston Golf Association closed out the field at 98 players, six fewer than were anticipated.

The tournament, which begins Thursday on the 7,118-yard, par 36-35—71 Cypress Creek course, has placed Julius Boros on the list of non-contestants.

Boros said Tuesday that his doctor had recommended a week's rest because of a bad back.

Billy Casper, leading money winner in 1966, said earlier that he withdrew because of business commitments. Arnold Palmer and Ben Hogan are out because of injuries.

Gary Player of South Africa was one of the early arrivals. Jack Nicklaus said he will be at the course with Gardner Dickinson.

Registrations Tuesday included Miller Barber, Don Massengale, Don January, Tommy Bolt, Jacky Cupit and Harold Henning.

BRUNET, ANGELS SOCK TRIBE 5-3

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

American League hitters are ahead of the pitchers, particularly when the pitchers are doing the hitting. And the California Angel hurlers may do some hitting of their own the next time Cleveland pitcher Sonny Siebert steps to the plate against them.

Minnesota's Dave Boswell, California's George Brunet, Baltimore's Bruce Howard and Chicago's Gary Peters all came through with big hits Tuesday but only the first two managed to pick up victories for their pitching.

And Siebert may have started a beanball war by allegedly brushing back California's Don Mincher three times in Cleveland's 5-3 loss to the Angels. Siebert also yielded two singles to opposing hurler Brunet, who scored both times.

Boswell drove in two runs with a homer and double but needed relief help as Minnesota edged Boston 7-6. Howard knocked in a run with a double but had to leave in the third inning after walking six batters as Baltimore outlasted New York 6-5.

Peters doubled to start a three-run seventh-inning uprising as Chicago took a 4-1 lead over Washington. But the Senators tied it in the eighth on Ken McMullen's two-run homer and won out 5-4 on McMullen's second homer of the game in the 12th.

Oakland's Paul Lindblad pitched 4 1-3 innings of perfect relief as the A's whipped Detroit 3-1 on Ramon Webster's three-run first-inning homer.

California Manager Bill Rigney was seething about the Siebert-Mincher episode.

"Tell Siebert we owe him one," he snorted. "He's going down the first time we see him again. He leaned my big guy (Mincher) back three times. That's the guy who took one on the chin from Sam McDowell the last time we were here."

The Angels, trailing 2-1, scored the tying and lead runs in the sixth inning on Jimmie Hall's double and consecutive Cleveland errors by second baseman Chico Salmon and first baseman Tony Horton.

Lindblad retired Jim Northrup to end a Detroit threat in the fifth and knocked off the next 12 batters as well.

Chicago's Peters was two innings away from being a winning pitcher after Tommy Davis smashed a three-run homer in the seventh.

But the Senators bounced back on a single by Sam Bowens and Frank Howard's run-scoring double before McMullen homered on reliever Bob Locker's first pitch to tie the score. His game-winning blast in the 12th was his fourth home run of the season.

Baltimore took advantage of a New York error and other misplays for three unearned cuns and reliever Moe Drabowsky put down a ninth-inning Yankee uprising.

With the bases loaded and one out, pinch hitter Frank Fernandez attempted to squeeze the tying run home but bunted a soft liner to first baseman Boog Powell for an unassisted double play.

Boswell had to be bailed out by Al Worthington in the sixth inning as the Twins swept their two-game series from the Red Sox. Ron Perranoski, another relief pitcher, got Carl Yastrzemski to pop up for the final out with the potential tying run on second base.

Breakthrough May Come In Taxes-Spending Question

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The behind-the-scenes maneuvering over higher taxes and spending cuts is at that critical stage where a breakthrough or another bust—could come any time.

Key administration leaders are confident Congress will approve higher taxes in this election year although there are indications they might have to backtrack further on spending before any agreement.

The lines of communication between the administration and Congress are open wide and both sides are talking and listening.

One source said both sides agree taxes should be raised and spending should be cut. The only problem now, he added, is to draft the type of package that can win acceptance from both liberals and conservatives.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler has continued his private meetings with Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee. The latest was Tuesday.

Committee Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., said no agreement on spending cuts has yet been reached but, "I'm of the opinion we'll find a solution." He indicated this might take several weeks.

He described the $6 billion in spending cuts already voted by the Senate as "unattainable and unacceptable" and said the slashes proposed by Mills are "deeper than the Committee on Appropriations will accept."

Mills reportedly wants a $5 billion cut and the administration is insisting $4 billion is the maximum it can accept.

The admnistration reportedly will go along with a 10-4-6 formula—a $10 billion cut in appropriations requested for the next fiscal year, a $4 billion cut in spending and a $6 billion cut in appropriations approved in prevous years but stll unused.

Fowler expressed hope Tuesday in a talk before the U.S. Chamber of Commerce that action on taxes won't be blocked by squabbling over details and procedures or "marginal differences as to the degree of expenditure reduction required."

One of Fowler's chief arguments in seeking a tax hike is that it would curb inflation—a prime concern of his Chamber of Commerce audience.

Fowler hinted the idea of a 10 per cent income tax surcharge might be abandoned in favor of an increase in basic income tax rates, a tactic reportedly favored by some Congress members who have opposed the surcharge.

Styrofoam Boats Nibbled By Nutria

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Houseboat and marine floats made of Styrofoam are in danger of nutria nibbling, says the Parks and Wildlife Department.

The department suggested covnie Springman, caretaker at the Ridgewood Yacht Club on Lake Waco, as saying nutria made holes in the plastic foam floats under the club's service building.

Now the building lists in one corner. Nutria used the holes for nests, Springman said.

The department suggested co ering floats with galvanized hail screen if nutria are causing problems on a lake.

TOTAL INVOLVEMENT IN VIETNAM WAR

Then Dawned This Day Of Crisis

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the crisis-filled election year summer of 1964, tranquil days were few indeed, and Tuesday, Aug. 4, was never destined to be among them.

It dawned a day of crisis, at home and abroad.

In Washington that morning, President Johnson and the National Security Council prepared to discuss a new outbreak of violence on Cyprus.

Two hundred miles to the north, in New Jersey, the citizens of Jersey City reeled from another night of racial rioting that left 15 injured.

Far to the south, the bodies of three civil rights workers, murdered June 22 by a white mob, would be found buried on a Mississippi farm.

These were the major events that demanded public attention on that Tuesday, but before it was over the war in Vietnam would surge to the forefront.

This was to be the day that the United States stopped advising the South Vietnamese how to fight, and started doing it.

A total involvement in the Vietnam war began at 10:39 a.m., Washington time, by official log. It was 9:39 p.m. in the Gulf of Tonkin and the U.S. destroyers Maddox and C. Turner Joy reported they were being attacked by North Vietnamese patrol craft.

In Washington, the secretaries of state and defense had been at their desks more than two hours when the word came. At 11, while the destroyers were still firing into the dark night and dodging torpedoes that showed on their detection gear, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara telephoned the news to President Johnson. The President, it was reported, was furious.

Two days before, three North Vietnamese torpedo boats had attacked the Maddox in the gulf. The boats were disabled.

"The other side got a sting out of this," Secretary of State Dean Rusk said. "If they do it again, they'll get another sting."

The United States added the Turner Joy to the patrol and warned that grave consequences would follow any further incidents.

Now there was another incident.

In the 7 hours and 28 minutes that followed the first report of the attack, the decision was made: If the bee stings, go for the hive.

Here, from various accounts, is what happened in that 7 hours:

In the Pentagon, after receiving the first word, McNamara went one floor down from his third-level office into "The Tank"—the Joint Chiefs of Staff briefing room of the National Military Command Center.

There he huddled with Cyrus Vance, deputy secretary of defense; John T. McNaughton, assistant secretary of defense for International Security Affairs, and all the Joint Chiefs of Staff except their chairman, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, who was in New York.

"Throughout the remainder of the morning and early afternoon, flash message reports of the engagement, some ambiguous and some conflicting, continued to pour in," McNamara said later. "The President was kept informed of these developments."

In addition to the President, Rusk and McNamara, members of the National Security Council that summer were Edward A. McDermott, director of the office of Emergency Planning; McGeorge Bundy, special assistant to the President for national security affairs, and Bromley Smith, executive secretary of the council.

The National Security Council's noon meeting began as scheduled, but the issue which prompted the conference, the new crisis on Cyprus, was shunted aside.

Before going to the White House for the meeting, Secretary of State Rusk met at the Pentagon with representatives of the Joint Chiefs.

Information was, at best, fragmentary. At 10:24, the Turner Joy reported it had opened fire on one target, that its radar had observed numerous hits, and that the target had disappeared from the radar scope.

At 10:47, the captain of the Turner Joy said he and other men on the bridge saw a searchlight stab into the sky.

The Security Council discussions continued into lunch, which lasted two hours. The director of the Central Intelligence Agency, John A. McCone, and Deputy Defense Secretary Vance, joined in the talks.

During that time, the most disturbing report of all arrived. The commander of the two ships, Capt. John Herrick, sent a cable that "freak weather effects and overeager sonarman may have accounted for many reports (of torpedoes). No actual visual sightings by Maddox. Suggest complete evaluation before any further action."

"Obviously we were concerned and we immediately began to examine it," McNamara said later. "I personally called Admiral Sharp (the Pacific fleet commander in Honolulu) and brought this to his attention and said we obviously do not want to carry out retaliatory action unless we are 'damned sure what happened.' Those were the exact words."

It was agreed at the luncheon, the White House says now, that some retaliatory action would be taken if the attack proved bona fide. McNamara went back to the Pentagon with Vance.

At 1:30 p.m., the Maddox and the Turner Joy reported that the attack appeared ended. At 3 p.m. McNamara and Vance began a 2½ hour review with the Joint Chiefs of Staff of the confusing picture presented by the many cables.

Much of the message traffic during that time has been withheld for security reasons. But Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., made public one Navy message he said was sent to the Maddox in the interval:

"1. Can you confirm absolutely that you were attacked? 2. Can you confirm sinking of PT boats? 3. Desire reply directly supporting evidence."

McNamara said that at 2:45 p.m., Herrick reported he was certain the original ambush was bona fide.

"Details of the action present a confusing picture," McNamara said, "but he had made positive visual sightings of cockpit lights or similar lights passing near the Maddox; and the Turner Joy reported two torpedoes passed near her."

During the meeting with the Joint Chiefs more messages came in from the destroyers, from Pacific naval headquarters, and, McNamara later hinted, from secret sources in North Vietnam, supporting the contention the attack was real.

In the State Department and the White House, top echelon people were busy on the diplomatic track. Personal messages were going out from the President to certain heads of state, plans were being drafted for a meeting of NATO, SEATO and the U.N. Security Council.

And the now-controversial Gulf of Tonkin resolution, later passed by Congress, was being put into final form.

Gen. Wheeler, chairman of the joint chiefs, returned from New York about 4:30 and "found that my colleagues were engaged in discussing the types of targets that might be struck" in retaliation.

"The President was kept informed fully during the day," McNamara said. "The number of calls and meetings I had with him exceeded 11 during the day and it was late in the afternoon that he approved the attacks."

Even with this authority, McNamara withheld the execute order. Then, at 6:07 p.m. "the commander in chief Pacific called again and I was present down in the Joint Chiefs' quarters when the call came in.

"We discussed it, and he stated he was fully assured the attack took place. I stated that I was then convinced that it had and I released the executive order on the strike."

The hours of decision-making were over.

Now the crews aboard the carriers Ticonderoga and Constellation made ready to go for the hive—the bases from which the North Vietnamese patrol boats had come.

At 6:15 p.m., the National Security Council gathered in the Cabinet Room of White House, to be joined half an hour later by top congressional leaders, including Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, Minority Leader Everett Dirksen, Majority Whip Hubert H. Humphrey, Sen. J. William Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, ranking Republican on that committee, and Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper, ranking Republican on that committee.

They discussed the first draft of the congressional resolution which authorized the President "to take all necessary steps to prevent further aggression." They also reached consensus on the retaliatory air strike.

Not until 6 p.m., when the State Department announced there had been "a second deliberate attack" on U.S. ships, did the world learn what had happened in the Gulf of Tonkin.

The President asked for television and radio time to tell the American people. He expected to go on the air at 9 p.m. but had to delay the time to give the first plane time to reach its target.

At 11:36 p.m., he spoke from the Fish Room of the White House:

"As President and commander in chief, it is my duty to the American people to report that renewed hostile actions against United States ships on the high seas in the Gulf of Tonkin have today required me to order the military forces of the United States to take action in reply.

"...That reply is being given as I speak to you tonight. Air action is now in execution against gunboats and certain supporting facilities in North Vietnam which have been used in these hostile actions."

CAREER CORNER

By F. J. LAIN

Pediatrician's Challenge is Child's Health

The Camden Courier Post and Miss Lain award a new Mercury portable, courtesy of the Royal Typewriter Company, to Denise Trasatti, Stratford, N. J., for her question:

"I would like to be a doctor specializing in pediatrics. Do you have any suggestions for a future physician?"

A — Yes, thanks to the American Academy of Pediatrics. Pediatricians are children's doctors, and as population zooms, opportunity is not just knocking in this field — it's banging on the door.

If you're planning on private practice, it's important to have as great an interest in people as in disease because much of pediatric practice is focused on health supervision.

RELATIONSHIPS & MEDICINE. So that there'll be no misunderstanding, I certainly am not suggesting that the pediatrician does not need a sound and exhaustive training, and profound knowledge of the latest medical advances, but rather am pointing out that a large portion of the pediatrician's knowledge is used in his role as trusted health advisor for the patient's normal growth and development.

PLENTY OF REWARDS. If you have the mental equipment, self-discipline, curiosity and other necessary strengths, ask yourself these questions: Do you enjoy children? Do you want a broad and exciting field with intellectual challenge? Do you have compassion for others? Are you considerate? Do you think you'd like to see rapid and dramatic results from treatment, and want to save lives still to be lived? Want to stay young at heart? If so, maybe pediatrics is for you.

PRO'S & CON'S. Pediatricians should expect to work long with overanxious or overprotective mothers. However, as Dr. R. James McKay, Jr., chairman, department of pediatrics, University of Vermont, says, any well-compensated professional should expect to work more than eight-hour days, and physicians who are unsympathetic to worried mothers should choose another specialty.

MONEY. Although the busy surgical subspecialist still makes more, the busy pediatrician's income is comparable to that of other medical specialties, about $25-30,000 and up.

WOMEN. A natural! The widely known "Apgar Score" test which is used to determine the health of a newly born infant, was developed by woman pediatrician, Dr. Virginia Apgar.

TRAINING. You should be at least a "B" student; medical school's a tough track. In high school, take the standard prep course for college. Altogether, pediatricians invest an average 11 years in college and medical training.

FUTURE PHYSICIANS' CLUBS. Formed by local medical societies in cooperation with school officials, these (and similar career guidance clubs) offer lectures, field trips, medical education finance planning, etc. Write for "Horizons Unlimited," a free handbook on medical careers from the American Medical Association, 535 N. Dearborn, St., Chicago, Ill. 60610.

MORE INFORMATION: For free career pamphlet on pediatrics, write the American Academy of Pediatrics, 1801 Hinman Ave., Evanston, Ill. 60204.
