HAHN MAKING EFFORT TO SUPPLY LABORERS

H. J. Hahn, district labor agent, dispatched from the Ft. Worth Office of U. S. Employment Bureau and who is located in the offices of the Chamber of Commerce here, reported that again the labor flow was normal into the community and he felt the increased demands for pickers which the recent fair weather has caused will be met.

Last Sunday 265 and Monday 225 Mexicans came here as result of Hahn's effort to secure extra labor farmers were asking for. Mr. Hahn states that now his anxiety for labor needs for this section is past and that he feels the actual needs can be well taken care of. They decided that the free school term for a child transferred to Lamesa should be 4 months and 11 days. The high school tuition rate was set at $7.25 per month. They also set the county apportionment at 75 cents per capita.

The board also instructed their secretary, W. T. Webb to correspond with the state department of Education and chairman of the Commission of Legislature, our State Senator and Representative, and to appeal for the payment of the 40 per cent, or the balance due on the high school tuition.

Legion Post Plans Armistice Program

The Allen Houston post of the American Legion, with the co-operation of the Ladies' Auxiliary and other organizations of the town, is planning an all-day program celebrating Armistice Day next Friday.

The program as announced this week by post commander, Ebb Phillips will begin at ten o'clock with a parade through town, the personnel to consist of ex-service men, as many in uniforms as have them, the Ladies Auxiliary, football team, boy scouts, school children, and other organizations, with the band leading.

The parade will be followed by a patriotic address from Rev. Cooper at the bandstand, that feature of the day to be closed by "Taps" at eleven o'clock. Lunch will be served to ex-service men and their families at twelve o'clock at the Legion building.

Lunch will be followed by an interesting program, beginning at one thirty. Mrs. Brandon will read "Twilight Reveries", the orchestra will render a variety of musical selections, Hon. Carl Rountree will deliver an address, and a male quartette will add to the musical part of the afternoon's program, which will adjourn at two-thirty for a football game. Every man in uniform will be admitted free.

How to Vote November 8

As the ballots you will be handed when you go to the polls on November 8th you will have a job finding a place large enough to spread it out so you can study the amendments and properly prepare your ballot.

If you want to vote the Democratic ticket straight, leave the first column unmarked and then proceed to draw two or three lines thru the names on the columns headed Republican, Socialist, Communist, Jacksonian and Liberty parties. There are two additional columns, Independent, and blank—but as there are no candidates listed in these two columns it will not be necessary to draw thru them.

The names of the presidential and vice-presidential candidates do not appear on the ballot. In voting for the entire list of Electors for President and Vice President you are in fact voting for the president and vice president of the party of your choice if you leave those in one column only. Remember in voting a straight ticket to draw two or more lines from top to bottom of all columns of candidates except of the one party you wish to vote for.

You can vote a split ticket if you so desire. Scratch the portions of one ticket and leave the corresponding portions in the column of the party you favor unscratched—and then scratch all other party candidates.

HIGHWAY MEN ESTABLISH OFFICE HERE

F. B. Ogel, C. A. Tubbs and Cecil Pray of the State Highway Department arrived in Lamesa this week, establishing their office in the old home demonstration agent's room in the court house.

Mr. Ogel stated Wednesday that work had already started on the surveying of Highway Number 9 running north and south through Lamesa.

Last week at a meeting of the county commissioners' court they agreed to obtain right-of-way across the county for the construction and paving of Highway Number 9. The agreement covers the entire distance to the Martin county line and is for a 100-foot right-of-way.

TORNADOES LOOKING FORWARD TO SLATON TILT

Lamesa is looking forward to the Slaton game here November 11. Of course this date will bring to mind a football game for the afternoon every year but more attention this year in as much as Slaton the old rival in football for Lamesa will be in Lamesa.

Last year Slaton was Class A. This year she is back in Class B and will be Lamesa's keenest competition in the conference B District title race.

Last Friday Lamesa lost to Brownfield by the score of four to seven. It was indeed a real battle with Lamesa out playing Brownfield in every stage of the game—except of course the time when Neil fast half-back of Brownfield stole away with a faked run of sixty yards that netted six points for the Cubs with the extra point kicked won the game by three points. In this game Lamesa made fourteen first downs to the Cubs four and three penetrations for the locals to the Cubs none.

Each year either Slaton or Lamesa runs a special train to the 11th game. This year Lamesa is getting ready to receive Slaton's special train with the large host of fans that will surely follow their much touted team to invade Tornado territory and fight victory.

The odds will be against the locals in Friday's game since almost the entire backfield shake up is taking place this week on account of Jimmy McKinnon and Smidt, speedy halves are out of the game on account of severe injuries received in the Brownfield game at Brownfield last Friday. A large attendance of fans is expected to witness Friday's tilt here.

And now for the 7th—Lamesa's Seventh Monthly First Monday and Trades Day. What a crowd and what a time. Yes, and look what bargains the merchants of Lamesa are offering. If you miss it you miss something.

Prizes—Contests—$20 In Gold

Prizes? Yes and several of them. Contests? Yes, lots of them. But the feature contest and the contest that will attract the biggest crowds is the Ladies Sawing Contest. Two-by-fours will be on hand and the judges will see too that every lady who wants to enter this contest will have a chance to do so. All ladies will bring their saws all sharp and ready. Sawings will take place in groups and the winner of each semi-final group will get a prize—of some sort—and it will be worth while. But the grand prize—the lady winning over all groups will get twenty ($20) Dollars in Gold. Think of it twenty dollars in gold. Will it be worth working for. Yes, and you can count on keen competition and more ladies sawing this time than before. Better come early and start with the ten o'clock group. Sawing at ten, eleven in the morning and at one, two three, and the finals at four p. m. on Monday, November 7th.

Horse Swapping—Farmers' Chance

Look out for the horse swapper here next Monday. They will be here from all parts of the country. Come in with what ever you have to trade and let's cover the vacant lots around the square with stock and tools of all sorts. Somebody will be here to either trade or buy what you bring in. Now is the time of year to get rid of what you have that you do not want to carry over next year. Better take advantage of this opportunity this fall while these Trades Days are at highest pitch and the people have money and are in the right mood for trading. Farmers this trades day is your opportunity. They are for you and if you fail to bring in your stuff you have lost. These opportunities come only once each month. Come to Lamesa with your stock and tools next Monday.

RED CROSS DRIVE SET FOR NOVEMBER 11 TO 25

Lamesa and Dawson county will stop between the dates of November the 11th, and 25th to do duty to suffering humanity over the United States and the world by subscribing memberships to the American Red Cross. This is the time set for the annual drive for funds and memberships to keep such good work as the Red Cross going.

Louis B. Reed has been named by the National Chapter to have charge of this work here and he informs us that soon a complete announcement of organization will be made and the necessary machinery will be installed to reach out the homes of Lamesa and Dawson county for making this drive a success.

No one can doubt the good the Red Cross has done—even here at home. More than $7,000 in actual money and goods have been sent into Dawson county in the past two years. Certainly it is time to show our appreciation and we feel that the people of this county will do so.

MISS SARA MAY NOLAN AND WILLIS EDMONSON MARRIED WEDNESDAY

PUNCTUATION MADE EASY
 Returning from school the other afternoon little Dorothy proudly informed her mother that she had learned to "punctuate."
 "You see, Mamma," explained Dorothy, "when you write 'scat' you put a hatpin after it, and when you ask a question then you put down a button hook."

FATAL CARELESSNESS
 It is one of the most amazing facts connected with modern life that the number of deaths resulting from carelessness makes no greater impression upon the general public.
 In spite of the daily record of grade crossing accidents, drivers continue to take a chance, with an inevitable percentage of fatal results.
 The same is true of other practices which take their grim toll of human life.
 Persons who are ordinarily careful in protecting their property or their health appear to throw discretion to the winds the moment they grasp the wheel of an automobile, and positively invite disaster through failing to observe the most elementary cautions.
 The jaywalker is equally reckless,
 taking the chance of being run down for the sake of saving a few steps or a moment's time. Those who are careless of other dangers help to swell the harvest of deaths.
 And the most lamentable fact is that no amount of warning appears to have any appreciable effect.
 Proud father (showing triplets to a visitor): What do you think of them?
 Visitor (Pointing to one in middle): I'd keep that one.

With Europe contending that America did not pay her fair share of the World War expenses. Capper's weekly visualized them next asking us to pension their soldiers.
 After a cessation of his immediate financial worries, John went by the pawn shop and redeemed his suit of clothes. He failed to remove the tags and his mother found the suit next day, and noticing the tag on the coat asked, "John, what is this tag on your coat?"
 John lost very little time in answering, Oh, I was at a dance last night, mother, and checked my coat.
 A moment later mother came across the trousers, tagged in the same way. With a puzzled tone she asked: John, what kind of a dance was that?
 Miss Marie McDonald spent the week-end in Lubbock visiting relatives.
 "What was the absent-minded school ma'am arrested for?"
 "Driving across an intersection against the policeman's sign."
 "Didn't she see him with his hand raised?"
 "Yes, but she thought he was asking permission to leave his post."

ARMISTICE DAY

The American veteran who put down his rifle "155" or "Gremade" at 11:00 a. m. on November 11, 1918, knew at that moment that he had great cause to rejoice. It is true, however, that many people fail to understand why we continue to celebrate the anniversary of that great day, and we take this space to offer some very pertinent information.

We, Americans had lost, in combat with the enemy, 35,560 men killed outright; 14,720 more had died, or died shortly thereafter, from wounds received in action; 4480 of our buddies had been taken prisoners and 205,690 had been wounded, 90,830 of them seriously. The cost to the United States from April, 1917 had amounted to well in excess of one million dollars per hour.

The Armistice marked the close of a world conflict that had endured for four year, three months, and fourteen days a conflict that had taken more than 16,000,000 human lives—a conflict which cost more than $478,000,000,000.

We celebrate the anniversary of Armistice Day to remind the citizens of the United States that war costs are tremendous and that the surest and cheapest way to maintain Peace is to be always Prepared for war.

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION ELECTS OFFICERS

At a meeting of members of the Dawson county Library Association the following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. Jack Phinizy, president; C. A. Baldwin, vice-president; and Miss Thelma Lee Norman, secretary-treasurer and librarian.

A representative from the following named clubs are directors of the association: P. T. A., County Federation Clubs, County Schools, Boy Scouts, Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, Lamesa Luncheon Club, Delphian Club, Womens' Study Club, and American Legion.

Plans are going forward to increase the number of volumes in the library this year and to steadily build it toward a self sustaining institution in the county. Already much interest has been manifest in this project and a continuous demand for books and reading has increased.

Under the leadership of these fine officers no doubt we can expect progress and the success of this new institution for Dawson county. Let's everybody co-operate.

STUDY CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING FRIDAY

On October 28, the Womens Study Club met at the Club House with the president, Mrs. Jack Phinizy, presiding. Twenty members answered roll call by giving interesting events of the day. Mrs. Dixie Kilgore was the leader and the following program was given:
"Roosevelt, who he is, and what he has done" by Mrs. Truman Campbell.
"Texas History," Mrs. Z. T. Davis has in her collection several interesting books and maps, published in 1710. She also had a newspaper published at the time of George Washington's death that gave in a very interesting account of his funeral.
"Einstein for Us," Mrs. Jimmy Cotten.
"Amendments"—Mrs. Carl Rountree.
"Texas Politics at Present"—Mrs. Dixie Kilgore.
The club will meet again November 10th.

THE GOVERNORSHIP

It is by no means improbable that a republican governor will occupy office in Texas next year.
Governor Sterling's bolt may carry with it a few thousand democratic votes, but it will not explain a most unusual political phenomenon. The responsibility must rest with the leadership of the democratic party in Texas.
Democratic domination of state affairs is threatened for the reason that the democratic party, for many years, has refused to put its best foot forward in the gubernatorial campaigns. There is no such dearth of democratic timber for the governorship as a casual observer might infer. But petty politics and poor leadership, have combined to bring the party to its present sorry pass.
The voters, the executive committee and the Supreme Court have decided that Miriam A. Ferguson is the party's nominee for the governorship. There is nothing for the party to do, save to rally to her support and elect her in November. But the substantial and conservative element of the party should at once begin mending its fences for the next campaign. And they should see to it that the party has a candidate behind whom they can unite all the solid elements of Texas democracy.
It is not wise to begin building for success in 1934 by inviting defeat in 1932.

INFORMATION ON THE CURING OF PORK

By R. H. Mathis

Now that O'Donnell has had its first killing frost of the season, many people are looking forward to the time when they can kill their hogs and store away another year's supply of meat.

For centuries, people have been using the dry salt method of curing their pork but this is now being rapidly replaced by more modern methods. Pork that is cured with salt keeps well but soon loses much of its flavor and becomes so salty that it can hardly be eaten at all. By using one of the improved methods, anyone can preserve bacon and hams that will equal in taste and quality the meat that is sold every day at grocery stores for twenty and forty cents per pound.

For the benefit of those who have hogs to kill, several of the latest methods of curing pork are being given in this article.

Dry Cure or Sugar Cure Method

For every one hundred pounds of meat to be cured, thoroughly mix up eight pounds of salt, two pounds of brown sugar and two ounces of saltpeter. Rub half of this mixture on the meat and pack it down in a barrel or stone jar. Save the other half of the mixture. At the end of seven days repack the meat and rub on the remainder of the curing mixture. Let the bacon cure not to exceed one and one half day per pound per piece. For example, if your piece of bacon weighs ten pounds each, they should be cured not to exceed fifteen days.

Let the hams and shoulders cure three days per pound per piece. For example, fifteen pound hams should cure for forty five days. Let the shoulder butts cure one day per lb. per piece.

Brine Cure or Sweet Pickle Method

For every one hundred pounds of meat to be cured use twelve pounds of salt, three pounds of brown sugar, three ounces of saltpeter, and six gallons of water. Dissolve the curing mixture in the water and bring to a boil. This should be done on the day the hog is killed. Allow the brine to get thoroughly cold. Never pour warm brine on the meat. Pack the meat in a clean oak barrel or stone crock. Hams should go in first, with the skin side down, next the shoulder, skin side down, and last the bacon, skin side up. Weight the meat down with a rock so it will not float in the brine. Use a hard flinty rock or clean bricks. Now pour the cold brine over the meat. All the meat should be covered with the brine. Place curing barrel in a cool, well ventilated place. After seven days the meat should be repacked to insure a uniform cure. The bacon should remain in the cure not to exceed one and one half days per pound per piece. For example, if your pieces of bacon weigh ten pounds each they should be cured not to exceed fifteen days. The hams and shoulders should remain in the cure three days per pound per piece, or if your hams weigh fifteen pounds each they should remain in the cure forty five days. Let the shoulder butts cure one day per lb. per piece.

Smoking Method

The reasons for smoking meat are as follows: (1) smoke dries the meat; (2) the creosotes deposited on the meat act as a preservative; (3) the smoke imparts a very desirable flavor; (4) smoking tends to prevent molds from forming.

The kind of wood used in making the smoke has much to do with the success of the process. Green hickory gives the best flavor. Green pecan is also a very desirable wood to use. Any hard wood, such as oak, etc. can be used with good success. Corn cobs give satisfactory results. Do not use pine because it gives a very objectionable flavor to the meat. After the meat has been soaked hang it up in the smoke house and allow it to dry about twenty four hours before starting the smoke. Let the fire burn with a very small flame so as to provide live smoke. Live smoke gives a brighter color and improves the flavor. Do not let the meat get hot enough to cause the fat to drip. The temperature should not go over one hundred and twenty degrees Fahrenheit.

It takes about thirty hours of continuous smoking to finish the job. A good smoke requires a very strong fire and allowed to die down during the afternoon, or the smoking can be done in one continuous process. Either method gives good results.

Principle, Patriotism Or Party

What Others Say:

Franklin D. Roosevelt in Pennsylvania during present campaign: We should never put party above country, and even though we are extreme party men, if we are honest and patriotic, we necessarily want to have our party command the respect of honest people. If our party is wrong, we perform a duty to our country when we criticize it. This sham slogan of party regularity is one of the greatest evils confronting our Government." At McCook, Nebraska, Governor Roosevelt said: "The citizen who permits his party spirit to control his vote when his conscience tells him that such action is wrong, disregards his patriotic duty which he owes to his family, his home, and his country.

George Washington (in his Farewell address) speaking of party spirit said: "It exists under different shapes in all Governments, more or less stifled, controlled or repressed; but in those of popular form it is seen in its greatest rankness and is truly their worst enemy."

IS FERGUSON A DEMOCRAT

(Quoted from an open letter recently appearing in Daily papers under signature of a well known writer)

On August 21, 1919, Jim Ferguson said: "Lo and behold! As soon as the Democrats got in power they have made the corruption of the Republicans look like 30 cents and we who have been members of that party are truly ashamed of the record." (Ferguson Forum, August 21, 1919.)

And in a signed statement in his Forum of March 4, 1929, he said: "What interest has a Democratic President ever shown for the welfare or even the rights of the Texas farmer or Texas ranchman? who wants to be a Democrat, anyhow? It is past history, present trouble, and a future disgrace."

And in a signed statement in the Forum of April 15, 1920, Jim Ferguson said: "The Democratic party is a blowed up concern and everybody knows it. It is dead and it ought to die. It has betrayed the people and belied its principles."

The Democratic National Convention of 1920 at San Francisco nominated Franklin D. Roosevelt for Vice President and Jim Ferguson and his Forum bitterly opposed his election, and openly worked for the election of his Republican opponent.

Ferguson had himself nominated as the presidential candidate of the American party and urged all Texas Republicans to vote for him, as the most effective means of insuring Hardings' election. In the Ferguson Forum of Oct. 14, 1920, over his signature, he said: "A republican vote in Texas for the American party ticket is equal to half a vote for Harding. Every Republican voter who wants his vote to count and be effective will add his vote to the American party ticket (on which Jim Ferguson was running for President) and thereby make a cinch of beating the Democrats in Texas."

During the same campaign, in his fight against the Democratic candidates, Cox and Roosevelt, on Oct. 21, 1920, in a signed statement Ferguson declared: "Our only hope is to carry Texas for the American party electors and take Texas out of the Democratic column and thereby insure the election of a Republican President, who will give us some relief, just to show how bad the Democrats were. The Texas politicians, all Democrats, have not got the pride of a jackass or the decency of a skunk. They stand for nothing and they are nothing."

And a week later on October 28, Jim Ferguson declared over his signature in his forum: "Everybody knows whether they will admit it or not, that the national Democratic party is gone forever. Deserting its principles, its name has become a national disgrace and its organization is a complete wreck."

In the Ferguson Forum of Oct. 7, 1920, in a signed statement Jim Ferguson showed his democracy and his devotion to Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democratic nominee for Vice President, as follows:

"The infernal Democratic party can't run the schools."
"The infernal Democratic party can't build roads without graft."
"The infernal Democratic party can't run the State Government without vicious extravagance."
"The infernal Democratic party is already condemned and beaten in the national campaign, Cox is a joke, and Wilson is a memory."
"Whether you are a farmer in the country or laboring man in the city, whether you are a stockman on the ranch or a business man in town, ask yourself, with your conscience to answer: 'Why should any Texan vote the Democratic ticket?'"

In this same campaign Ferguson urged Democrats to vote against Roosevelt for Vice President and Cox for President, and all other Democratic nominees, regardless of the pledge they had taken in the Democratic primaries. In a signed editorial in the Forum of Sept. 23, 1920, headed: "Do Not Be Bluffed or Bulldozed," he said:

There is a set of bulldozing politicians telling the people that if they go to the polls and vote the American party ticket after they have voted in the primary that they will be prosecuted in the courts. By this means they expect to intimidate a lot of good people and either keep them away from the polls or threaten them into voting the infernal Democratic ticket. Do not pay any attention to such threats. You are an American citizen—free and independent. Go to the polls and vote as you please, regardless of whether or not you went into the Democratic primary."

And then, after Franklin D. Roosevelt's defeat for Vice President, in a signed statement in the Ferguson Forum of Nov. 4, 1920, Jim Ferguson gloated over the results as follows:

"The American party has much to be thankful for. While we did not win but a few of the offices, it has done its part in wiping the infernal Democratic party from the face of the earth. The Democratic party is only a coterie of 'hit-suckers' who will soon be choked off from living off the people and giving them nothing in return."

Be not deceived, Rooseveltism does not include Fergusonism and it does not condone it. If Franklin D. Roosevelt were a citizen of Texas he would vote to keep Fergusonism out of power. Within the last few weeks in a speech in Nebraska he declared:

"The citizen who permits his party spirit to control his vote when his conscience tells him that such action is wrong, disregards his patriotic duty which he owes to his family, his home, and his country."

WHEN FERGUSON BOLTED

To The News:

I note a correspondent says James E. Ferguson stayed out of the Democratic primaries in 1920; and, therefore, did not bolt the Democratic nominees, whom he so bitterly opposed and denounced that year; and I heard State Chairman Maury Hughes over the radio make the same claim.

This is correct, as I have always pointed out. Ferguson did not enter the Democratic primaries of 1920 and did not bolt the Democratic nominees, although he publicly and repeatedly urged all others who did participate in the Democratic primary election that year to bolt, and help elect Warren G. Harding President.

But two years before, in 1918, James E. Ferguson did enter the Democratic primary election both as a voter and a candidate for Governor, and after he was defeated for Governor in the Democratic primary, by a majority of 247,725 votes, he bolted the Democratic nominee, William P. Hobby, and urged all Democrats who had entered the primaries, regardless of their pledge to vote for Judge Boynton, the Republican nominee for Governor.

And he bolted again in 1922 after participating in the Democratic primary election that year, both as a voter and a candidate for the United States Senator, and being overwhelmingly defeated by Earl B. Mayfield he stumped the State, urging all Democrats who had entered the primaries and taken the pledge to vote for the Republican nominee for United States Senator.

In a signed communication in the Ferguson Forum, also published in the Dallas News of September 21, 1922, page 8, column 1, under the heading "My Country Calls," Ferguson, declaring his support for the Republican nominee, said:

"How shall I vote? There is one broad principle that should govern this privilege; vote for that which your conscience tells you is right and against that which your conscience tells you is wrong. When anybody starts out to tell a voter to do otherwise, then he has an axe to grind and you had better look out. . . . It is a simple law that everybody knows, that fraud makes void every contract which is tainted. . . . Those of us who so believe have decided that we will not vote for the so-called Democratic nominee. . . . and to make certain absolute defeat the help of the Republican party machinery has become available."

"I want to be fair about this question. If the voter's conscience really tells him that this kind of a crowd worshipping these kinds of principles is democracy then he should go and vote for Mayfield and his crowd. But if our conscience tells us that these things can not endure in a free country, then no pledge ought to bind us, and we are moral cowards, if we do not go to the polls and vote our convictions."

payer, but to the state, in the aggregate, a tremendous sum.

Some legal minds incline to the opinion that exemption of the homestead from the state ad valorem tax may result, automatically, in its exemption from county, school, city, and other ad valorem levies. If that be true, the money saving to the taxpayer would become worth while, but the effect would be chaos.

Moreover, is there any reason to believe that the amount subtracted from the state's tax bill actually will be saved? Obviously, the state must replace the money thus lost by the imposition of some other tax. Will the home owner pay the same, or an increased, contribution to government through some other agency? Upon his light bill, for instance? Or his gas, or telephone bill?

Government always has and always will cost money. Eventually the beneficiaries of government pay its cost, if not from one pocket from another. And the history of most attempts to evade or shift the cost of government has been sad, invariably resulting in failure and invariably imposing a penalty for the attempt to defy the inexorable law that he who dances must pay the fiddler.

The home owner is the pillar of government, and its greatest beneficiary. He should think twice before he attempts to cure his tax ills by drinking the nostrum of homestead exemption. For it may prove to be, not a cure, but an opiate, designed to lull him into sleep the while taxeaters pillage his savings and plunder his castle.

No tax relief is sound, except it results from a decrease in the cost of government.

collateralization a full margin of additional cotton be put up against each note and account, because when it is sold, any over-payment will be refunded.

It was further stated that releases of balance of crops will not be allowed or issued in any case until cotton has been properly classed and all necessary papers are turned into the office of the Secretary of Agriculture. Just the fact that the borrower has sufficient cotton on hand or has delivered a certain number of bales, is not acceptable. The borrower is not released nor any crops under mortgages to the Secretary of Agriculture released until the full accounting records are completed.

Farmers who are not members of a Texas Cotton Co-Operative Society may send their cotton to the seed loan pool No. 99,000 through the association, it was pointed out.

LOANS NOT SETTLED UNTIL COTTON SOLD

Further information regarding the collateralization of government crop production loans has been received from officials of the Texas Cotton Co-Operative Association.

The officials state that no loan is paid until the collateralized cotton is sold for enough money to absolutely clear the farmer of his obligation including any expense incident thereto and additional interest.

"The acceptance of cotton on a collateralized basis does not, in any manner, pay these loans," they state, "and all cotton buyers, merchants, bankers, and business men or co-operative managers should convey the impression that the farmer's loan is not paid on a basis of nine-cent cotton until the cotton market actually reaches a nine-cent price or better, and the cotton is sold for enough to cover all charges, interest, etc. The farmer still has his obligation to the Secretary of Agriculture until the note is completely paid.

"If the cotton, after March 1, should be sold for less, the farmer still owes the difference on his note, but if it is sold for more, any over-payment will be refunded to the borrower or those who are properly entitled to this refund."

As was brought out in previous articles appearing in the Index, the farmer has the right to order collateralized cotton sold until March 1, 1933, and after that time the Secretary of Agriculture takes the authority. Therefore, nine-cent collateralization does not, in any manner, mean the payment of his obligation. It is suggested that in all cases of

THE CHRISTIAN AND WORLD PEACE

Psalm 22:27, 28; Psalm 68:1-7; Psalm 72:1-19; Isaiah 2:1-4; Matthew 28:18-20; Ephesians 2:13-19.
GOLDEN TEXT—Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God. Matthew 5:9
PRIMARY TOPIC—Peace and Good Will Among Men.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Our Part in Making World Peace.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Why Work for World Peace.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Christian Duty to Promote World Peace.

The Scripture selections for today's lesson are vital, but in the settings given by the lesson committee will be decidedly misleading. World peace can only come through the appearing of the Prince of Peace, and the establishing of His Messianic kingdom. Clearness here is imperative.

I. The Lord, the Ruler of the Nations (Ps. 22:27, 28).

The present unhappy conditions in the world are a result of the failure of the nations to recognize Jesus Christ. As long as the peoples of the earth refuse allegiance to Jesus Christ and are swayed by the gods of their own creation and lust, there will be war and bloodshed.

II. How Gladness is to Come to the Nations (Ps. 68:1-7).
This is to be realized by the assertion of divine power. When God arises

1. The enemies will be scattered (vv. 1, 2). They shall be put to flight before the Lord God Omnipotent. Two figures are used: Smoke dispelled by the blast, and wax melted by the heat. The wicked shall perish before the whirlwind and fire of divine power.

2. Happiness will prevail among the righteous (vv. 3-6). The rule of the Lord will bring rejoicing on the part of the people of God.

III. The Character of Christ's Reign (Ps. 72:1-19).
This Psalm describes the glorious reign of Christ upon the earth. It is that reign for which we pray when we say "Thy kingdom come."

1. It will be a reign of righteousness (vv. 1-4). Justice and equity shall be meted out to all.

2. It will be an unending reign (vv. 5-7).

3. It will be a universal kingdom (vv. 8-11). All kings shall fall down before him, and all nations shall serve him.

4. It will be a beneficent reign (vv. 12-14). Christ, the King, will have compassion upon the weak who are unable to help themselves.

5. It will be a prosperous kingdom (vv. 15-17). Full blessing shall then come to the earth. There will be no depression at that time.

IV. Israel's Spiritual and National Position (Isa. 2:1-4).
This scripture pictures the place of influence which shall be exercised by Israel in this time.

1. When shall it be? (v. 2). "In the last days." By last days is usually meant in Scripture, the times of the Messiah, for this is the primary subject of all prophecy.

2. What shall it be? (v. 2). The restoration of the kingdom of Judah to the place of pre-eminence among the nations of the world. This vision of Zion's glory refers to the millennium age, at which time other nations of the world will learn of the truth of God through the chosen nation.

3. The result (vv. 2-4). The return of God's favor to this chosen people shall be "life from the dead" to the nations of the earth (Rom. 11:15).

a. Nations shall flow unto it (v. 2). This pictures the masses of the people moving toward Jerusalem.

b. Nations shall encourage each other (v. 3). Jealousies will be forgotten and each will move to Jerusalem to be taught of God.

c. Peace in the earth (v. 4). When Israel shall be in her God-appointed place with Jesus Christ as King, wars will be over.

V. The King's Great Commission (Matt. 28:18-20).
1. The royal authority (v. 18).
By virtue of his divine authority he issues this commandment to the disciples and declares that all power in heaven and earth has been given unto him.

2. The commission itself (vv. 19, 20).
a. To teach all nations.
b. To baptize them in the name of the Triune God.

c. To teach them to observe all of Christ's commandments (v. 20).
3. The available power (v. 20). Those who obey Christ in carrying out this commission shall enjoy his abiding presence.

American-Made Washers Sail Seas On Three Palatial Big Steamships

S.S. VIRGINIA
Household electrical washers, such as are used every week to banish the washday problem in 8,800,000 American homes, have taken to the high seas.
The Virginia, the California and the Pennsylvania, the biggest liners ever built in the United States, have just been equipped with eleven washing machines, regulation domestic models. Thus, as is pointed out by J. R. Bohnen, of Chicago, secretary of the American Washing Machine Manufacturers' association, passengers get "back-home" service while they sail in ease and comfort from New York City to Havana, and through the Panama Canal to San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco.
All the comforts and advantages of the most exclusive Atlantic crossings are provided by these 33,000-ton vessels of the Panama Pacific Line, outfit especially for Panama Canal service. In addition they are the world's largest commercial vessels with electrical propulsion. Each is 613 feet long and 30 feet broad.
"American-made household washers

"AT HOME" AT SEA

have been adopted in more than sixty foreign countries by housewives who rapidly are imitating their United States cousins in their demand for ease of cleansing and the personal satisfaction of having the washing "done right," said Secretary Bohnen. "Now the American household product completes its globe-trotting by serving families on the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans."

tober 1 indicated an average yield of 40 per cent; five year average, 54 140 pounds per acre, compared with 165 pounds last year and 126 pounds the 10 year average." Carl Robinson, senior statistician, says. "A yield of 140 pounds per acre applied to the 13,908,000 acres remaining for harvest gives the 1932 forecast of 4,063,000 bales, which compared with 5,320,000 bales in 1931 and 4,038,000 bales in 1930. The five year average was 4,613,000 bales.

"The northwestern district (including the South Plains) has still to run the hazards of early freezes and unfavorable harvesting weather, but with average conditions prevailing from now until harvest, this area will produce a crop about equal to last year's production of 1,152,000 bales."

Statistics for this area are: October 1, 1932, crop conditions, 74 per cent; 1931, 67 per cent; 1930,

"Let's Get Set for a Cozy WINTER"

Already warnings are coming from weather bureaus predicting this to be one of the most severe winters in many years. However, winter winds and rains are severe any time unless one's house is in condition to withstand them. Perhaps in the last few months, due to uncertain economic conditions, you have allowed little repair jobs about your house, garage, or improvements to go unattended to. Right now you can make these repairs as cheap as any time in history. Look over the place, see about the roof, if it needs re-shingling, re-papering or patching. How about the window panes, your doors, and floors. If there is any opening where cold air can enter, tell us your needs and we will give you an estimate. In nearly ever instance the small cost of repairs will be more than paid by the saving effected in heating costs, and will certainly be more pleasant. Let us figure on your fall painting and papering.

TORNADOES LOSE TO BROWNFIELD 7-4

The Brownfield Cubs practically dashed the Tornadoes hope for the district championship in the first conference game of the season on their opponents field. At the same time the Cubs proved to the district fans that they have not gone into hibernation as was hoped by some Lamesans. The Brownfield club carried off the score by a margin of three points, the score being 7 and 4. The Tornado line was up to par but the backfield worked too slowly to put over a touchdown. Twice the Tornadoes backed the opposition into dangerous territory and each time won two points by a safety. Neil, star halfback for the Cubs, performed as was expected and gained the Cub's only touchdown by a spectacular 60 yard run.

During the first few minutes of the game neither team could make an impression against the other, and it was apparent from the first that the teams were about evenly matched. Neil and Huckaby figured principally for the Cubs in carrying the ball end runs and off-tackle thrusts. Cox, Tornado quarterback, pulled the first spectacular play by a 25 yard end run. The Cubs did not make but three yards being forced to punt. Neil punted the ball 50 yards and Wilkes returned the ball to the 50 yard line. Cox delivered a perfect punt out of bounds on the Cub's three yard line. Smith, center for the Cubs, centered the ball too high which resulted in a safety for Lamesa making the score 2-0. Wilkes made a first down for the Tornadoes, and McKinnon completed the Tornadoes first pass for ten yards. Cox delivered a second creditable punt out of bounds on the Cub's 17 yard line, which was followed up by another safety for Lamesa. Cox received the ball and made 20 yards in another end run, following this up with a punt over Brownfield's goal line. The quarter ended with Lamesa's ball on their own 40 yard line.

Cox carried the ball for ten yards around right end in the first play of the second quarter, but the gaining was halted for awhile until Brownfield tried passing as a means of starting things again, and succeeded with two completed passes for 15 yds each which placed the Tornadoes ball on their own twenty yard line but the Tornadoes met the situation with a strong defense and kept the Cubs from making a first down. The Tornadoes did not let the ball stay in the dangerous territory long. They moved the ball back to midfield by end runs and punts. This ended the danger for the half, which ended with Lamesa's ball on their own 40 yard marker.

Schmidt was substituted for McKinnon who was hurt during the first half. The teams began to rely almost solely on punting as their offensive, realizing the uselessness of running against the line. Neil lost five yards in a fumble on their own 45 yard line. Wilkes returned Huckaby's punt for 20 yards, and was downed on Lamesa's 32 yd. line. Neil punted and this time Wilkes fumbled allowing a Cub to cover the pigskin in the Tornadoes 25 yard line but again a strong defensive held the Cubs. Huckaby incompleting a pass and the ball went over. Cox punted 25 yards with no return. Huckaby took the ball out of bounds for 20 yards, and the Tornadoes were penalized several times for roughness. One of Schmidt's passes was intercepted for ten yards, and Neil followed this up with a sixty yard run for a touchdown, and the ball was placed kicked making the score 7 and 4 in favor of the Cubs.

In the third quarter Schmidt began to connect some of his passes and completed three for 23 yards before the Cubs knew what had happened. These passes placed the oval on Brownfield's ten yard line. Gable attempted a field goal but it went too far to the left. Neil punted out of danger, but with the aid of another completed pass soon had the ball back on the Cub's five yard line. Schmidt received a leg injury and Berry was substituted as halfback, but the Tornadoes began to lose ground after this and the game ended with the teams battling in midfield.
