Many Homeless In Flood Area

Arkansas Takes an Enormous Toll of Property as Flood Waters Sweep Lowlands of State; 16 Negroes Killed

(By Associated Press)

LITTLE ROCK, May 19.—Arkansas looked tonight upon the latest of its many flood scenes to see hundreds of persons sheltered in box cars, tents and private homes as swollen streams of South Arkansas continued to take an enormous toll of property.

Added to flood waters from torrential rains of the past few days was the toll of windstorms, both of life and property. Elaine, in Eastern Arkansas, was the scene of a tornado yesterday which killed 16 negro farm workers. They were buried today on their plantation homes. Nearly 50 others were in hospitals in Helena.

2,000 Homeless

An estimated 2,000 persons were sheltered in tents and private homes at Smackhover after being forced to vacate their homes as flood waters of Smackover creek spread over 50 square miles.

In the vicinity of Fulton, on the Red River in Southwest Arkansas, hundreds of others had abandoned homes in lowlands as backwater crept around ends of levees.

Highways over South Arkansas were inundated. More than a score of trunk roads were closed today.

Damage in the Smackover and Ouion district today was estimated by railroad officials at $1,000,000.

ATHLETE TO BE HANGED

Former Ski Champion Awaits Death Early Today

SYDNEY, N. S., May 19. (AP)—Apparently indifferent to his fate, Ingvald "Ring" Anderson, former ski jumper of New England, tonight stolidly awaited the morning hour when he is to be hanged for murder.

Found sane by alienists despite the plea of his mother and friends of Berlin, N. H., that he was insane, Anderson was to die "sometime after midnight," probably at daybreak.

Anderson was convicted of the murder here in February of Debbie Rehberg, night clerk in the Sydney hotel where he was a guest. Futile appeals were carried to the higher courts.

'Cat Eye Annie' Is Captured

AUBURN, N. Y. May 19. (AP) "Cat Eye Annie" McDowell, notorious jewel thief who escaped from the Auburn women's prison today was back in her cell tonight, the last of her many escape plots gone awry after she had gotten 15 miles from the institution.

In a break that baffled prison officials she sawed through the wood surrounding the lock of her cell door, crept down a corridor to a reception room on the first floor, donned clothing of Acting Warden L. Heacox of the men's prison and got away. No one knew just how she scaled the walls.

Airport Bond Bid Rejected By City Dads

Commission to Seek Higher Price for $35,000 Bonds; Architects Present Plans for Proposed Hangar

Though one bid was received last night by the Lubbock city commission for the $35,000 worth of bonds for improvement of the municipal airport, members of the body voted to reject the bid in an effort to gain a higher price than was offered.

Last night's bid was offered by a representative of the E. F. Ditmark company, with headquarters in San Antonio.

Hangar Considered

Prior to offsr of the bond price the commission entertained representatives from three local architects' firms, each explaining drawings and plans which had been made as a suggestion for a hangar at the Lubbock port.

The Butler company, represented by M. C. and F. L. Butler and Hugh Dryer, was hired by the body and plans are to be worked out for a hangar within the near future, according to instructions of the commission. A meeting with the architects is to be held shortly at which time definite plans for the building will be laid.

While the commission still refuses to sell the $35,000 worth of bonds, the amount left from the original issue of $75,000, plans at this time call for an early start on the hangar for the port, though other improvements will possibly be delayed.

No discussion was made of the offer made last Friday by the board of directors of the Lubbock Board of City Development in which that body voted to appropriate a fund sufficient to pay the difference between the par and accrued interest and the amount the commission can sell the bonds for.

Graf Zeppelin Will Continue Over Atlantic

Giant German Ship Anchored At Seville, Spain, After Being Forced Over Africa by Extreme Heat Waves

(By Associated Press)

SEVILLE, Spain, May 19.—The Graf Zeppelin rode peacefully at anchor here tonight at the end of the first leg of her voyage from Friedrichshafen, Germany, across the equator to South and North America.

Twenty-four hours from her starting point the giant of the air had experienced as her first difficulty a heat wave that enveloped Spain, avoiding which she had been blown off her course two hours, adding the African continent to her journey.

The Graf nosed up to her mast at La Tablada airport, her own specially constructed anchorage, at 5:40 p. m. (10:40 a. m., Central Standard Time). Her flying time was about 28 hours and 30 minutes. This included several hours during midday when she cruised about over Northern Africa out maneuvering the heat wave.

Thousands in the vast throng that greeted the airship remained to witness the preparations for her resumption of the trip shortly after dawn tomorrow.

The Graf tomorrow will shape her course for the Canary and Cape Verde Islands, after which she will head southeastward across the equator to Pernambuco, Brazil, her first scheduled stop after this city.

Thomas Brown Meets Death at Plainview Sunday when His Motorcycle and Automobile Collide at Intersection

Funeral services for Thomas Brown, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Brown, 1623 Sixteenth, who died in a plainview hospital late Saturday night following a crash with an automobile, will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the family home. Rev. David C. Ross will officiate.

Active pallbearers were announced last night as: Glen Chase, Arthur Chase, James Williford, Roy Gibson, Wade Anthony and Otto Flynn.

Death occurred at 10:15 o'clock Sunday night from injuries received at noon Sunday. Young Brown, a member of the Lubbock Motorcycle club, had gone to Plainview on his machine in company with a number of friends.

According to reports, Mr. Brown was going east at one of the main intersections of Plainview when an automobile approached from the south, going north. Brown did not see the auto until too late to swerve and he was struck on the side. Force of the blow was sufficient to knock him off his machine and along the pavement for several feet.

Investigation of his injuries at the hospital revealed a fractured skull besides minor injuries.

Besides his parents, the dead man is survived by two brothers, Albert of Lubbock, and W. H., jr. of Houston and a sister, Miss Mary Parker Brown, of Lubbock.

HEAVY RAINS CEASE

Flood Conditions in Texas Are Relieved Monday

DALLAS, May 19. (AP)—A cessation of torrential rains that fell in many parts of Texas last week aided today in relieving flood conditions that had reached serious proportions in northeast Texas.

The most serious conditions were at Jeffetson on the Cypress river and Texarkana on the Red river. Flood waters had inundated lower sections of Jefferson, driving out many negro families and a few white persons.

The Cypress river stood at 26.3 feet, more than eight feet above flood stage. A further rise of little more than a foot would cause the inundation of a number of main streets at Jefferson.

Militant Minister Released From Jail; Contempt Of Court Is Charged

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, May 19—The Rev. R. P. (Bob) Shuler, radio broadcasting pastor of the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, South, walked out of the county jail tonight free, temporarily at least, after serving 15 days of a 20-day sentence for contempt of court.

The pastor's release was effected on a writ of habeas corpus granted by the state supreme court in San Francisco. The writ is returnable before the high court here June 3. Dr. Shuler's attorney posted $650 bond with the local clerk of the supreme court and served the necessary papers upon Sheriff William I. Traeger before consulting his client.

Objects To Move

"Rev. Bob," as the militant pastor is known here, objected at first to obtaining his liberty with a string to it that would require his presence n Los Angeles before June 13. He said he wished to be able to keep two speaking engagements in Kentucky and Virginia colleges and it would be impossible if he must return on June 3. After a

Methodist Official Says He Is Sorry For Activity

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, May 19.—By a vote of 54 to 11, the Episcopacy committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, tonight exonerated Bishop James Cannon, jr., of Washington, D. C., of charges of stock market speculation.

The committee found that the allegations filed by Judge G. T. Fitzhugh of Memphis, Josephus Daniels of North Carolina and a score other laymen were not substantiated by the evidence these men presented.

To Make Report

A committee was appointed to draw up a formal report for the conference, in which the accusations will be listed, and the committee's findings upon them will be listed.

The formal resolution adopted was "that the character of Bishop Cannon can not be passed, and that a committee of five draft a statement for the conference, which shall include Bishop Cannon's letter."

Cannon told the committee, it was revealed, that he had "fallen into the hands of a bunch of sharpers"—referring to Kable and Company, the New York firm with which his stock market transactions were carried on. He said he was "sorry" and that he would not "do it again."

Although the letter to which reference was made was not available, the gist of it was obtained, he told the committee that in regard to his business dealings with Kable and company he had been accused of immoral conduct, in that he knowingly engaged in stock market gambling. He said that he thought he

Argument Over Use of Water Heater Given as Reason for Shooting; Victim's Body Sent from Lubbock

(Special to the Avalanche)

LOVINGTON, N. M., May 19.—Claude Wood, 30, a barber and part owner in a barber shop at Hobbs, oil town of Lea county just across the state line from Texas, is in the county jail here tonight under $10,000 bond on a charge of murder, following the fatal shooting early Sunday of Charles Dobbins, 54-year-old Hobbs undertaker, whom he is alleged to have shot Saturday night.

Wood waived preliminary hearing and was ordered held under $10,000 bond by Justice L. O. Tomlinson at his hearing here this afternoon. He was remanded to the county jail and at a late hour had not made bond, Sheriff C. E. Cain announced.

Next term of court for Lea county is scheduled to be held in September. Unless he makes bond, Wood will be held in the jail until that time.

HOBBS, N. M., May 19. — All Hobbs today was saddened by the sudden and unexpected ending of a shooting in the rear of a barber shop in a building owned by the victim, Charles Dobbins, local undertaker, Saturday about 6:30 p. m.

Mrs. Dobbins, the widow, was here yesterday and then returned to Lubbock where the remains of her husband were being prepared for burial.

Charged With Murder

Claude Wood, part owner of a barber shop which occupied one of the buildings owned by Mr. Dobbins, is in jail at Lovington, county seat, charged with murder. He surrendered to Leo W. De Cordova, city marshal and deputy sheriff, shortly after the shooting.

According to reports the two men had differed over the use of a water heater which supplied hot water for both establishments. Dobbins is said to have ordered Wood not to use the heater. His removal was to be penalty if he used the heater.

Saturday evening Mr. Dobbins and his wife were eating supper in the

Higgins Not Held On Pro-Law Case

A news report in Monday afternoon's Daily Journal, to the effect that D. F. Higgins was being held in lieu of $1,000 bail on charges of violation of the prohibition laws, was in error and it is the sense of this article to correct the misstatement of facts.

Higgins, arrested late Saturday night on pro-law charges, was released on bond shortly after being taken into custody of county officers. His bond was arranged before he was incarcerated and this statement is being made in fairness to him.

The error in publication occurred when a reporter confused the Higgins case with the pro-law charge against Buddy Porter, also arrested Saturday night, and who Monday was being held in jail. Porter's bond was also set at $1,000 and he had not made it late last night.

"Scarface Al" Capone Again Arrested By Miami Police On Vagrancy Charges

(By Associated Press)

MIAMI, Fla., May 19.—Miami police tonight arrested Alphonse "Scarface Al" Capone, Chicago racketeer, who is resting here, for the third time in 10 days in furtherance of the city's plan to take him in custody every time he is found in the city. He was charged with vagrancy. He made cash bond of $100 and was released immediately.

Capone was arrested as he attempted to enter a fight arena where he was arrested last Monday night and taken to the municipal jail.

Al Prignano, 38, who accompanied Capone to the fight arena, also was arrested, and he, too, was booked for the third time since the city officials here adopted the "Chicago plan" in what they say is an attempt to force Capone from the city.

Prignano likewise was released under $1000 cash bond on the vagrancy charges and departed with the racketeer, both asserting their intention to return to the arena to witness the bouts.

Hearing of the two cases was set for tomorrow morning in municipal court.

706 Take Advantage of New Irrigation Rate Here

So far 706 water rate applications have been filed by residents of the city for the new five months minimum of $3.00, William H. Rodgers, city secretary, said yesterday afternoon.

"The number of applications for the special rate was a surprise to me as I had not expected more than 300 or 350 persons to take advantage of the rate," the city secretary said. "We will take care of all applications up to the last of the month as the rate will apply on the next bills issued. That means that applications made before the last of May can be figured on bills of June 1.

"The minimum is for 6,000 gallons per month at the rate of $3 with additional water at the rate of 10 cents per thousand gallons.

252 Per Cent Increase for County Shown

Census Figures Released by Dr. I. E. Barr Reveal Gain Of 22,192 in Population in Past Ten Years

2492 Farms Listed

Number of Farms Boosted by 147 Per Cent Since Last Count; Figures Subject to Correction, Barr Says

LUBBOCK county had a population of 39,091 as of April 1, compared to 11,996 in 1920 and 3,624 in 1910, Dr. Irwin E. Barr, supervisor of the census, announced last night. Figures are total, but subject to correction.

Gain in population is 22,192 or 252 per cent, the supervisor said.

The gain since 1910 is 976 per cent, the population showing an increase of 35,367 over the report of twenty years ago.

2,492 Farms Listed

This year's census showed a total of 2,492 farms in the county as compared to 1,009 in 1910. This is a gain of 147 per cent.

"Records of my office show Lubbock county had 208 farms in 1910 and but 46 farms in 1900," Dr. Barr said.

At the same time, figures on the census of justice precinct No. 4 and No. 5 were announced. No. 4 had 1,301 as compared to 393 on January 1, 1930. There were 200 farms in this area. Precinct No. 5 had 1,909 population in 1930 with no comparative figures for 1920.

"The reason for this is that the boundaries of justice precincts have been changed since the last census," the supervisor explained. "Thus new precincts will not be shown with comparative figures."

A resolution to ask property owners and residents to report to the city manager any unsightly vacant lot in their community was passed. It was announced that names of complainants would not be made known in any report.

Louise Pierce and Sue Michie, costumed as Spanish dancers, will entertain during the second act, and comedy will be introduced through the character of Sir Percival Chetwood, cleverly played by Roddy O'Neall.

As the story opens, Bob Harrington, after an absence of four years at college, is expected to return to the home of his foster aunt, Mrs. Mary Montgomery, whose daughter, Sylvia, was his boyhood sweetheart. Having fallen in love with another girl, he sends his chum, George Taylor, who closely resembles him, to substitute for him at the week-end party. George has always been anxious to meet Sylvia, whose picture greatly attracts him. He arrives amid preparations for a Spanish Fiesta and finds Sylvia more charming than her photograph.

Unexpected guests, Sir Percival Chetwood and M. Rene LeMon arrive and are welcomed as distinguished noblemen by Mrs. Montgomery. That night while the guests are dancing, a robbery takes place and suspicion is turned to George, who is forced to disclose his identity. Things look dark for him until the guilty parties are brought to justice. A telegram from the real Bob announcing his marriage leaves George free to finish the story in the approved fashion.

Moore, employes of Grissom-Robertson company here, yesterday afternoon said the report was in error. Miss Grimes came to Lubbock from Roswell, New Mexico, and Moore hails from Carlsbad. Carnegie Hero Medal Will Be Sought For 15-Year-Old Hero; Plans Started

Plans were set in motion yesterday by friends of Cecil King, 15-year-old hero who saved the life of a nine-year-old boy on May 2, to secure for him a Carnegie hero medal.

J. O. Green and E. A. Gatlin were named a committee of two to make the necessary arrangements to apply for a medal for young King. A complete record of the affair, with statements and recommendations from city and county officials, prominent citizens and others, will be made and forwarded to the proper authorities in Pittsburgh, Pa.

On Friday, May 2, Ben, the nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Alexander, while playing near a lake in the southwestern part of the city, fell from a raft into the water. Unable to swim a stroke, the lad went down in the water, which was over his head, for the second time. Then he failed to appear.

Cecil, playing with a group of friends, saw the fall and rushed into the water in spite of the fact that he, too, could not swim. Ducking and diving at the spot where he last saw the lad, Cecil managed to locate the body and brought it to shore.

Help had hurriedly been called and the boy, thought dead, was taken to a hospital where he was revived by artificial means. For a time it was thought he would not survive but he is now said to be fully recovered.

Victim Of Shock Reported Better

Unless complications set in, Frank R. Revier, 35, who was burned about the back and hips by a high tension wire of the Texas Utilities company at a substation at Avenue C and Tenth, Saturday, will recover, it was said last night at the Lubbock sanitarium where he was taken after the accident.

Mr. Revier was burned severely when he became entangled in the transformer at the substation, where he had been at work cutting weeds. Employes of the company, when informed of the affair, at once turned off the power, thus permitting the body to be removed.

At the hospital it was said the severest burns were on the back and right hip. There is said to be a chance of complications setting in. He has been conscious since a few hours after his arrival at the hospital.

Twenty-two thousand volts of electricity passed through the man's body as he was clinging to the metal wires.

Mr. Revier had been an employe of the local farm bureau gin before working for the utility company. He has a wife and two children.

FINE IMPOSED

LAMESA, May 19. (Special)—A $5.00 fine has been imposed in Lamesa to speak to inmates of the city jail without permission of the police. Since the jail is located on the second floor of the city hall, friends of jail-birds formerly gathered under a window of the jail and shouted their conversation. LAKELAND, Fla., May 19. (AP)—Imprisoned four hours at the bottom of a 35-foot abandoned well containing eight feet of water, Jean Gray Brown, 14, today probably owed her life to her courage and ingenuity.

Falling into the well while wandering about blindfolded during a high school sorority initiation Saturday night, the girl built a make-shift platform out of a few boards found floating in the water. She said she kept herself above the surface with one arm and dug bricks out of the wall with the other hand. Then she inserted the ends of the planks in the holes and supported herself across them.

Meanwhile, members of the sorority, her parents and scores of friends were searching for her. When daylight came they found a trail made by a broom she had dragged with her. The girl was unconscious when taken from the well by firemen.

In dress it's Distinction

in a cigarette it's Taste

IT'S THE UNUSUAL that distinguishes a gown. Again, it's the unusual that sets Chesterfield apart.

STYLE in a gown, "chic" in a hat—and in a Chesterfield, Taste!

TASTE IS THE REAL REASON for Chesterfield's enduring popularity . . . the better taste of choice tobaccos, mild and ripe, blended and cross-blended to a rich delicacy of flavor, unique in a cigarette—in every sense of the word . . . "TASTE above everything".

We state it as our honest belief that the tobacco used in Chesterfield cigarettes are of finer quality and hence of better taste than in any other cigarette at the price.

AGED WOMAN HURT

Southland Resident Knocked Down by Dog

Suffering from a broken hip, caused by being knocked down by a dog at her home, Mrs. E. R. Downs, 81, of Southland, is in the Lubbock sanitarium in a serious condition. She was brought to the sanitarium yesterday shortly after noon.

On Sunday, after returning from an automobile ride, Mrs. Downs went into her home and was greeted by the pet dog, who jumped at her. His leap carried sufficient strength to overbalance her, causing her to fall to the floor.

Because of her advanced age, it is feared she will be forced to remain confined to her bed for some time. She is said to be having considerable pain.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

The Golf Player's Burden

Bobby Jones is starting a campaign this year for four great championships, the British and the American Amateur and Open titles. If he can go through these four, playing the kind of golf that wins, he will establish himself (if, indeed, he is not already so established) as the greatest golfer of all time. For golf is a business that does the same thing to a well-ordered set of nerves that a playful Persian kitty can do to a skein of woolen thread.

Jerry Travers was supposed to own a set of nerves that he could keep pretty well handcuffed. Travers went about the fairways and the greens with a face that bore all the enthusiastic expression of a cold storage egg. With silent tongue and immobile features, he became known as the poker face of golf. The only symptoms he ever betrayed of the turmoil that must have gone on within him were occasional flicks of his club after his shots, and you had to be a mind reader to analyze these.

The Agony

Yet for all of Travers' granite countenance he suffered. During the night before his last match in England, he lay awake all night, tossing, turning, planning, fretting, hoping. He had shot a 72 the day before. After a night of torture he went out to be beaten, with 89.

Travers was magnificent at concentration. In 1915 at Baltusrol he needed 9 par holes in a row to win. During the playing of those nine holes he saw nothing outside of his game. Several times friends took his arm and spoke to him. He did not respond—he didn't even know they were there. He won by one stroke, but for days after he was on the verge of breakdown.

Jones Happier Now

Jones has learned how to go along without the impetuous outbursts of his earlier days, taking his breaks philosophically, doing his best on every shot. He is happier as a golfer now than he was before George Von Elm handed him that generous pasting back in 1926 at Baltusrol. Jones used to let his nerves explode quite often before that defeat, and he has Von Elm to thank for the attitude he takes toward the game today.

But the most philosophical attitude in the world must fight to hold its place against the mounting stress of championship battles. The Walker Cup and the other matches in which Jones will appear this year number five. Imagine the constantly increasing pressure. Suppose he has gone through three of these events with victory and he is under the burden of winning two more to make it a clean sweep. Talk about your ninth inning with the bases loaded! This is a job for Hercules.

Sometimes I wonder if it isn't better to pop off once in a while and break the tension. During the British Open at Sunningdale in 1926, Wild Bill Mehlhorn broke a brassie across his knee and played magnificent golf after that. Who knows the answer, if any?

Jones Awarded Gold Vase in Medal Tourney

Atlanta Wizard Wins by Stroke Over Brownlow at Sunningdale; Has 143 for 36 Holes

BY FRANK H. KING
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUNNINGDALE, Eng., May 19. (AP)—Bobby Jones today won the Gold Vase of Golf Illustrated, shooting a sensational 68 in the afternoon after an ordinary 75 in the morning to lead a great field of amateurs in the 36-hole medal competition.

Jones' total of 143 won by a stroke from the Hon. W. G. Brownlow, son of Lord Lurgan, who scored 69 and 75.

The record for the newly constructed Sunningdale course was broken by Brownlow's 69 and Jones' 68.

Other Americans Enter

Three other American Walker cup players entered the play. George Voigt, scoring 146, George Von Elm 147 and O. F. Willing 152. Bobby Baugh, American scholar at Oxford, had 154.

Until Jones began to burn up the course, Brownlow was regarded a certain winner. A tall, gangling youth, he appears on the links dressed in ordinary street clothes and wearing gloves. He never seems to be participating in a match except when he walks over to his caddy and takes a club. He then makes his shot, returns the club to the caddy and walks on.

Miss Diana Fleshwick, women's champion of Great Britain, presented the trophy.

The Prince of Wales and his brothers, the Duke of York and the Duke of Gloucester, were in the gallery.

Recognition Of Records Made With Starting Blocks Appear Unlikely; International Body Rejects Device

BERLIN, May 19. (AP)—Disapproval of George Simpson's time of 9 2-5 seconds for the 100 yards was forecast today when the records committee of the International Amateur Athletic Federation recommended rejection of the American proposal to recognize sprint records made with the use of starting blocks.

Simpson, of Ohio State, ran the century in 9 2-5 seconds at Chicago last June. Subsequently the mark was accepted by the National Amateur Athletic Union with the proviso that the use of starting blocks be approved by the international federation. The A. A. U. took similar action of Dick Rockaway's time of 22 4-5 seconds for the 220 yard low hurdles, both records having been made with starting blocks.

Although Simpson's record seems certain to fall of international sanction, an American may get his name into the record books as having run the hundred in "nine-two." Frank Wykoff, University of Southern California, recently duplicated Simpson's time and ran without the use of starting blocks. This mark, however, will not come up for international action at this meeting as it was made too recently to receive sanction even from the A. A. U.

The committee's ruling on starting blocks was the most important business of the day. It approved; however, a German proposal that electrical timing be used in contests and record attempts.

SHOOTING WITH SHUTE

by DENNY SHUTE

Golf teachers and critics are almost unanimous in declaring that the pivot is the whole secret in golf.

It is not a swinging around of the shoulders by a twisting movement at the waist, nor getting up on the big toe of the left foot in the backswing and upon the big toe of the right foot in the downswing, nor dipping low with first one shoulder and then the other. You can't say that one certain part of the body is responsible for the pivot.

In a full swing, pivoting is a coordinated twisting of the body in which the ankles, knees, hips and shoulders respond to the swing of the arms. For short shots where little effort is required (chip shots and putts), the swing of the arms may not be sufficient to cause the body to twist.

There is but one way to obtain the smooth functioning of all these parts in a pivot. It cannot be accomplished by giving thought to the ankles, knees, hips and shoulders. Concentrate on your swing; permit the body to respond freely to the swing of your arms. And the result is the correct pivot.

TOMORROW: Chip Shots.

Leo P. Flynn, Famous Boxing Authority and Matchmaker Dies of Pneumonia in Gotham

NEW YORK, May 19. (AP)—Leo P. Flynn, one of boxing's most picturesque characters, died of pneumonia at his home here today after an illness of less than a week. He would have been 51 June 1.

With him when he died was his wife, Kate, who for many years assisted him in the management of his string of boxers; Benny Clapp, a flyweight boxer and Mgr. Daniel F. Burke, rector of the Church of St. Philip of Neri, who administered the last rites of the Catholic church.

At one time Flynn had under his wing as many as 30 boxers. On one occasion a score of them were performing on the same night.

Flynn was one of the most successful matchmakers the late Tex Rickard ever had at the old Garden.

After the split between Jack Kearns and Jack Dempsey, Flynn was Dempsey's chief adviser and handler for the Manassa Mauler's second fight with Gene Tunney.

Although he never managed a champion Flynn handled many fine prospects in his career, Dave Shade, the late Bill Brennan, ack Renault, Newsboy Brown and among the negroes Kid Norfolk, Panama Joe Gans and Tiger Payne.

The "Silver Fox" was noted for his ability as a pocket billard player and his steady nerves made of him one of the best golfers among boxing's followers.

HELD FOR BOMBINGS

Man Arrested in Attempt to Bomb Chicago Cafe

CHICAGO, May 19. (AP)—In Frank R. Phillips, police believe they have found the answer to several of the city's recent bomb outrages.

They trapped Phillips yesterday in the act of bombing a restaurant at 607 North Clark street. Acting on a tip, the officers lay in wait. The man placed the bomb in the restaurant doorway and ignited the fuse by pressing the lighted end of his cigar against it. Police rushed in, firing in the air. One of them trampled the sputtering fuse. The others captured Phillips.

Bussey Takes Country Club Open Tourney

Jo Dick Slaughter Loses Final Match Sunday, 6 Up and 4 To Go; Dow, Powell and Wowell Winners

Lubbock's champion West Texas golfer added another trophy to his growing string of triumphs here Sunday afternoon when Clinton Bussey turned back Jo Dick Slaughter six up and four to play in the final match of the Lubbock County Club Open tournament.

The deciding match of the tournament ended on the thirty-second green, Bussey taking a birdie to clinch the contest after leading his opponent throughout the afternoon round.

Slaughter held his own with Bussey through the first 18 holes but found the going too steep in the afternoon. The winner held a decided edge over his opponent on the greens, Slaughter encountering considerable difficulty with his putter.

Bussey Better On Greens

The two were on about even terms in their gaines during the day with the exception of putting and Bussey's superiority was in evidence on the greens. His tee shots were often much better than Slaughters also.

The champion displayed wisdom in the selection of clubs for shots on several occasions and lay perilously near the pin as a result.

In the second flight, Melvin Dow and N. L. Peters battled to the 36th hole before the match was decided Saturday. Dow was the winner, one up.

In the third flight, D. A. Dowell and J. Crisler played 18 holes and Dowell was 5 up. Dowell was accredited as winner as Crisler was forced to default the last 18 holes.

W. B. Powell went out in the fourth flight to show youth that age is not too bad after all. He won over Jimmy Alls in his match to take first place in the flight.

To Name Team

The selection of Lubbock's team for the West Texas tournament at Brownwood next week is likely to depend upon the performance of the players in this tourney just played. Lubbock, holder of the team prize from last year, is to endeavor to capture it again this year.

HIGHWAYS DESIGNATED

Two Chisholm Trial Routes Will Be Marked

AUSTIN, May 19. (AP)—The state highway commission today granted permission to the Chisholm Trail association to designate two state highways as Chisholm Trails. One of the trails will be designated as the Chisholm Trail and the other the Western Chisholm Trail.

The Chisholm Trail will run from Brownsville to Red River Station in Montague county via San Antonio, Austin, Waco and Fort Worth while the western trail will run from San Antonio to Quanah via Brady, Coleman, Abilene, Stamford, Rule and Crowell.

The trails will be designated by a Texas steer head insignia and cost of the marking will be borne by the Chisholm Trail association.

Dempsey Is Shocked At Death of Flynn

CHICAGO, May 19. —(AP)—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, was shocked at the death of Leo Flynn.

"Leo was a good pal and one of the keenest boxing men I knew. He probably would have acted as my manager again had I decided to attempt a comeback."

The death of Flynn was Dempsey's second loss in three days, his boxing manager, Jack Wall, having died in Milwaukee Saturday.

Youthful Star

Hurling a 1-0 victory in these days of heavy home run hitting is an achievement for a veteran star but when a youngster pitches two 1-0 games it is time to sit up and take notice. Benny Frey, Cincinnati youngster, is the lad who has performed those feats, and one of those games was against the highly-touted Chicago Cubs!

Slaton Defeated In Sunday Fracas

Dee Puckett's diamond aggregation pulled a ball game from the fire at Merrill Park Sunday afternoon by staging a ninth inning rally to nose out Slaton, 5 to 4.

After the locals had knotted the count at 4 all in the last frame, Blevins came through with a base knock, advanced to second on Waller's infield roller, went to third on [illegible] and scored on Young's long sacrifice fly to give his club the decision.

Henson started for Lubbock but was relieved by Scott. The latter turned in a neat game from the third inning on.

NEW YORK, May 19. (AP)—Under the eye of an alienist, James, "Texas Jim," Baker, alleged poisoner of Henry Gaw, night watchman, today watched the choosing of a jury to hear his trial for murder.

Baker has been under observation in Bellevue hospital since last Thursday, by court order, because his attorney, James Murray, insisted he was insane.

Younger Stars Are Hard Hit On First Day

R. C. Hunt Battles Wind and Wet Course to Score 73 for First Round; Carlton Shoots A 73

RIVER OAKS COUNTRY CLUB, HOUSTON, May 19. (AP)—A graying veteran was medalist today in the the first qualifying round of the Texas Amateur Golf Association's annual tournament.

W. C. Hunt of the Houston Country club fought a wet course and a bit of wind to take a 73, two strokes ahead of his nearest competitors, George Rotan, another old timer, and Preston Moore, both of Houston.

Youngsters Falter

With the triumph of the experienced ones came ill fortune to the younger and more brilliant. Ossie Carlton the favorite took a 78 and counted himself lucky; Bud Mckinney, the Del Rio star, got a big 81; Gus Moreland of Dallas, another youngster, had an 82. Tommy Cochran of Wichita Falls was one of the old heads who failed to keep up the tradition. He came in with 85.

L. L. Atwell of Houston, one of the early finishers, was up toward the front with a 76.

Everybody will go 18 holes again tomorrow before completing the qualifying.

Better Scores Likely

Tomorrow's play will weed out all except 32 men from the first division and the next 64 will go in second and third flights. If the golf is no better, several men in the 80's should make the first detachment, but the prospect of drier fairways made this nothing more than a possibility.

Brownfield Wins Over Advertisers

(Special To The Avalanche)

BROWNFIELD, May 19.—Taking advantage of their opponent's miscues, the Brownfield all-stars nosed out the Lubbock Advertisers here Sunday afternoon, 4 to 3, in a contest featured by effective hurling.

Joe Hoyle, the Lubbock moundsman, pitched air-tight baseball for the losers but was afforded loose support in the pinches. Hoyle limited the Brownfield sluggers to three scattered hits and whiffed 10 batsmen, but his mates' errors accounted for the four runs.

The visitors scored their three counters on seven safeties.

Cleveland Census Reveals 897,458

CLEVELAND, O., May 19. (AP)—Cleveland, one of the first of the country's leading cities to submit its census report to Washington, has a population of 897,458, census supervisors announced today. Greater Cleveland, which includes all of Cuyahoga county, caught a large overflow of growth from the city proper and grew to 1,197,813.

While Greater Cleveland was showing a percentage increase of 26.76 from the 1920 population of 943,495, the city itself found a growth hardly half as rapid from its previous total of 796,841, with 12.63 per cent. Actual growth was 100,617 and 254,323 respectively.

Shifting of urban population to suburbs due to natural migration and abandoning of large downtown housing areas to make room for business and transportation facilities was ascribed as the reason for smaller gains in the city.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land:

But if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword; for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.—Isaiah, i, 19, 20.

THE BRADY SENTENCE

ANOTHER sensational murder trial has ended and once again has been paraded, in all its futility, our once-respected system of trial by jury—as a ghastly, lecherous corpse of jurisprudence.

After hearing sordid evidence and listening to the impassioned pleas of brilliant counsel, a Dallas jury has returned a guilty verdict. Twelve men, citizens of a modern Texas metropolis, have ruled that all books will be squared if John Brady spends three years in prison for the fatal stabbing of his youthful paramour. Get that—and get it straight! Three years in prison, the jury has ruled, will be a fair exchange for eons beneath the sod—and, in the opinion of the jurors, will make 'even-Stephen,' the account of Society versus John Brady, convicted girl-slayer! The decision, ladies and gentlemen, represents an idea of justice in the State of Texas, edition of 1930!

Justice! Justice! Justice!

Don't make us laugh! It's no laughing matter. It is one of the most serious matters facing Texas of today—an ominous warning to beware, for even as the Brady verdict was announced the threatening rumble of mob violence had not died away in the land. Almost within a stone's throw of the Dallas bar were jumbled the blackened ruins of another Texas courthouse, burned when a mob refused to entrust to court and jury the administration of a criminal case. Failure to exact retribution for crime, through the proper channels, presents a dire problem which threatens the very civilization of a great state!

Today, from the far-flung borders of Texas, people are ridiculing the sentence in the Brady case. From Texline to Beaumont, from Texarkana to El Paso, dazed Texans are rubbing their eyes, their brains numbed by the stunning conception of justice and of the crime of murder. Four millions of people are thunder-struck. And four millions of people are asking themselves: "Is murder a felony in Texas—or is it a minor charge, to be taken lightly and dealt with as a mere misdemeanor?"

When a crimson knife loosed the life blood of a defenseless girl to splash beneath her feet, there was committed a murder. When that cruel weapon severed the life cord forever, there was taken a life—something that cannot be given back, which nothing can restore anywhere this side of Heaven. As that life fled—even if it were, as the testimony showed, a dwarfed, blackened life of a loose woman—the battered body of Lehlia Highsmith was consigned to the sod as long as this world stands in its present state.

Hopes were blasted. Plans to 'go straight' were rent asunder. 'Finis' was written to a human life forever. Yet, a jury has ruled, John Brady may atone, may square things with society, by spending three years in prison!

What an uneven, unfair, inadequate decision! What a travesty on justice! What a weakening blow to the vitals of respect for law, for peace and safety in the Lone Star state! What an open invitation to others to 'go thou, and do likewise'! What a guarantee of legal protection to others who would ruthlessly take a human life!

If that Dallas jury was not convinced that John Brady committed the murder of Lehlia Highsmith, etc., etc.—Brady should have been freed, to walk again among his fellows. But if that jury was convinced that Brady did the slaying—and by its verdict it must have been so convinced—then the punishment should have been drafted to fit the crime and should not have been the putrid, weakly, compromise that it was.

Texans had best awake from the lethargy which now threatens to exact a dastardly retribution. Juries had best remember that their first responsibility is to society and to civilization, not to the aniveling, fawning cry of 'Mercy'—when mercy won't fill the bill. Those charged with the administrations of our courts should bend to hoist them back to a place of public esteem and members of the bar should move to aid that end by placing a stamp of disapproval upon drama and trickery which so often plays a leading role in the trial court.

Respect for law, for court and for justice must be maintained through strict adherence to demands of the statutes. To further tempt fate in Texas is to court disaster and to invite shame.

Uncle Sam figures that on June 30 he will be able to meet his bills and be a little to the good.

If men will persist in smoking in bed, mattresses ought to be made of steel wool.

White House library should be censored before its installation by Senator Smoot.

TARIFF FIGHT NOW ENDING IN CONGRESS VITALLY AFFECTS EVERY U. S. CITIZEN; SENATE CONSIDERS NAVAL TREATY NEXT

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

STATE, WAR, NAVY BUILDING

WASHINGTON, May 19.—How the tariff fight ends, between now and congress' adjournment, will make a great deal more difference to the average American than the outcome of the senate's argument over the agreement reached at the recent naval conference in London.

The cost of living, jobs and considerations depend on tariff rates.

Issues of future peace or war, in the course of the next 50 or 75 years may depend on the answer to the naval question; that is to say, they might, if (in strict confidence) the whole controversy were not 90 per cent bunk.

However, the effects of whatever is done in confection with the naval matter will not begin to be felt inside of three or four weeks, as the effects of the final settlement of the long-drawn-out struggle over the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill will.

For all that, as a cross-word puzzle, the naval bargain framed up at the London conference in the last three months does have its points of interest.

It will be worth watching, to see how it works itself out.

Presumably it does not mean much of anything.

As soon as it became apparent, as the London negotiations progressed, that nothing could possibly be accomplished in the direction of naval reduction, the American and English delegations got busy to contrive a treaty that would look like something genuine, to submit to their respective publics for political purposes.

The American public, in particular, positively had to be provided for.

Inexhaustibly gullible as it appears to be, it evidently actually was expecting a real chicken to hatch out of a chine egg, and obviously, if the incubator failed to work, was due to be badly disappointed—with probable political "repercussions," as the diplomats say.

In this instance it happened, too, that the American representatives were dealing, in Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, with an undoubtedly sincere Briton—impractically pacifistic perhaps, but indisputably well intentioned. As to his admiralty, maybe there was room for discussion, but Ramsay himself unquestionably was all wool and a yard wide throughout.

Besides, he also had political "repercussions" to be reckoned with.

The Japanese, French and Italian negotiators seemingly were less worried concerning their home publics being more manageable mayhap, or more blase and less hopefully expectant.

Anyway, it is plain that the Japanese, French and Italian representatives arrived in London on the lookout, not so much for a treaty, to take home and brag about, as for whatever advantages they might be able to pick up, in the course of the discussions, for their three nationalities.

The Japanese very clearly got what they were gunning for—the maximum navy they are able to support, with some few limitations tacked onto the American and British sea establishments. Being satisfied thus, they naturally were extremely well disposed to join Prime Minister MacDonald, Secretary Stimson et al in fixing up a treaty that would appear to the best advantage to ordinary non-naval folk in England and the United States.

The French and Italians were not so enthusiastic but at least created no unnecessary row. What was the use?

Under the circumstances the only practicable sort of pact was one so artistically jumbled that it stumps the veriest expert to explain just what it does mean.

The process of jumbling is not as difficult as it looks.

Types of ships and armaments are so various that, by averaging them up, re-dividing them, contrasting one combinatioon against another and shuffling them repeatedly around, even a rear admiral finds it hard to tell whether he is putting to sea with a squadron of battle craft or homewart bound in command of a destroyer flotilla.

This was done capably enough at London so that it can be plausibly argued, at one and the same time, on the senate floor, that the United States is building up its fleet at a cost of $100,000,000 a year and that we shall save a billion in the next decade.

In fact, it is being done—with varying figures, of course.

Naturally the civilian delegates who attended the conference had no notion what it all was about.

The American and British experts managed it between them (the Japanese merely looking on and occasionally chipping in in their own interest), and it goes without saying that each group did its utmost to get the better of thhe other. Only time can tell which was most successful. It was a couple of years before Uncle Sam realized how neatly he had been hornswaggled at the earlier Washington conference.

FINDS "OZONIZED" AIR OF LITTLE VALUE IN CHECKING DISEASE

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

Ozone is merely a different form of oxygen than that which commonly occurs in air. High above the surface of the earth where the air is very cold and dry and where ultraviolet rays are abundant, the amount of ozone is considerable.

As has been pointed out by H. B. McDonnell, this ozone layer serves as a screen to protect the surface of the earth from the effects of too much ultraviolet light. Near the surface of the earth the amount of ozone is much less. It is reported to be as much as 0.01 to 0.02 thousandths of a gram for each cubic yard of air.

Ozone has a penetrating odar. It is known to destroy bacteria when in high concentration. Therefore, from time to time devices have been developed for adding ozone to the air with the idea that it would aid in producing pure air and also that it might control disease.

Almost twenty years ago the American Medical association conducted a series of experiments to find out whether or not there might be any value in ozonized air either for the control of coughs or colds, or for any other purpose which might be valuable to mankind.

The results of these investigations, which were carried on in the University of Chicago, indicated that in ordinary amounts ozone had little if any effect on the bacteria and that in higher concentrations it might cause serious harm through irritating the tissues.

Recently, Dr. McDonnell has repeated these experiments, using a modern ozone producing apparatus. The effects of ozone in various concentrations were tested on guinea-pigs and a careful record made of their weight and temperatures and the general effects on their health. Not only were normal guinea-pigs studied, but also those suffering from tuberculosis.

The Husband Hunter

By RUTH DEWEY GROVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY

NATALIE CONVERSE tries to conquer her jealousy over her husband, ALAN. But when he is called to the home of BERNADINE LAMONT, a popular night club hostess, she demands that he refuse to go. He explains that Bernadine is the widow of a war buddy who had saved his life. The actress tells Alan her doctor has given her only a short time to live and asks him to care for her son, BOBBY. He promises and tries to tell Natalie but her rebuffs silence him. He confides in his secretary, PHILLIPA WEST, who has been waiting for this opportunity.

When Natalie comes to the office, Phillipa tells her about helping Alan pick out toys for Bobby and shows a letter from Bernadine. Natalie leaves in a rage and Alan follows, but her accusations drive him back to the office. He finds Phillipa there and takes her out. However, a pleasant week-end at Lake Placid restores harmony to Alan and Natalie. This makes Phillipa furious and she changes an order of Alan's for orchids. Natalie goes to a bridge party and has all her old anger aroused on hearing another woman boast that Alan has sent her orchids. She accuses him and refuses to believe his denials. Angered, Alan takes Phillipa out again and wonders if he could love the girl when she coyly refuses his kisses.

On returning home he finds Natalie packing up and she tells him she is leaving. They quarrel bitterly, and wounded pride prevents either one from seeking a reconciliation. After she leaves the house seems desolate to Alan and he seeks consolation with Phillipa. She flaunts her victory to the office force.

Meanwhile, Natalie is regretting her hasty decision and longs for a word of love and foregiveness from Alan. But his letters seem cold, and her resentment grows.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XX

"Oh, Nat, listen to me a minute," the younger girl pleaded when Natalie told her to be quiet, or go away.

"But I'm writing to Alan," Natalie protested.

Florence was to enthusiastic over her own affairs to attach much importance to Natalie's at the time. She grabbed Natalie by the hands, and pulled her over to the improvised chaise-longue, of which she was so proud.

"Please, Nat," she begged. "I've just had the grandest news. Got to spill it on someone."

"Go and pick on mother," Natalie told her. But she allowed herself to be plumped down on the chaise-longue, and remained there while Florence tumbled down beside her.

She couldn't help being interested in her sister's "news." Usually whatever Florence had to confide was a very entertaining nature. Just now she was irresistibly lovely. Natalie enjoyed watching the rose of youth flower in her sparkling eyes and breathlessly parted lips, in the tender, flushed skin and her unconscious grace.

"Well," she laughed, "what is it, Florence? Have you just heard from the Prince of Wales?"

"Why, how did you guess?" Florence cried, in mock amazement.

"Oh, I know," Natalie assured her. "It doesn't matter whether it's the same Prince of Wales who is heir to the British throne, it's always the Prince of Wales."

Florence sighed. "You've been through it; you ought to know," she said. Then, more quietly: "That's just why I've come straight to you with my news. You see, Nat," she settled closer, "I was sure you would understand when I tell you why I want you to take me back to New York with you."

Natalie was stunned. But he not so . . .

"Oh, I know you aren't going right away," Florence broke in; "but you can't stay here forever, Nat, darling, much as we'd love to have you. That is, not unless . . ." she stopped and looked at Natalie searchingly. "Nat! You haven't left Alan, have you?"

Natalie replied without pausing to consider her answer. She wasn't ready to tell her troubles. "No, of course not," she said hastily.

Florence relaxed, and the happy smile came back to her face. "Thank the Lord," she exclaimed. "You know I'm 100 per cent for Alan, Nat. I think he's swell. And if you let him out of the family, I'd be tempted to go after him myself."

Natalie smiled weakly. She wasn't certain she hadn't made a mistake in deceiving Florence. Perhaps the truth would be betted. It had to come out some day. Why put it off? The answer lay deep in her heart. She knew she did not want to face the risk of a definite and final break with Alan.

"So you see, you've saved me from a very difficult position," Florence was going on. "I happen to be in love with Andrew Jones. It would break my heart to give him up. Oh, Natalie, isn't it heavenly to be in love?"

Her voice trailed wistfully across Natalie's auditory sense and brought her mind back to Florence and her "news."

"What?" she said sharply. "Oh, yes, Florence. Of course it's heavenly, but don't forget dear, that anything which can reach one extremity can reach another."

"If you mean that love can be hellish, say it," Florence smiled. "But I don't see how you'd know—with a husband like Alan—unless you read it in a book."

Natalie thought of Andrew. He wasn't a handsome boy. Intelligent, likeable, neat. A man's man, possibly, when he grew up. Natalie did not think that women would give his wife much to worry about. Florence might, if she married him, never know what it meant to live with a man who had an overpowering attraction for women.

She had no mind to disillusion the girl unnecessarily. "I'm sure it will always be heavenly for you, Florence," she said tenderly.

Florence grimaced. "That's the trouble with everyone," she declared. "You know you meant to warn me of something, Nat. And now you've changed your mind. You're afraid to scare me. Why should you be? Whatever there is coming to me I'll get. No one can keep us from experience, you know."

Natalie suddenly drew her over and held her close. "Well," she laughed. "Are you engaged to Andrew, dear?"

"That's just it," Florence admitted. "I'm not. And he's going away. You know what that means, Nat."

"I'm afraid I don't," Natalie confessed.

"It means that if I don't follow him, I won't get him, that's all."

Natalie knew her sister and the young girl's friends too well to be shocked. "Don't you trust his love for you?" she asked.

"Oh, Nat, be your century," Florence urged. "You know how it works. He'd pine for me for a while—until he got acquainted and met some other girls; then I'd pass out of the picture."

"It isn't inevitable," Natalie comforted her.

"But it's a chance. And I'm not taking chances where Andy is concerned. I'm playing safe, even if I have to read the last page first."

Natalie was a bit worried now. "But if he hasn't proposed to you, Florence, darling, don't you think it's because he isn't in love with you?" she asked.

"You know better than that," Florence retorted. "I haven't helped him find it out, that's all. But now that he's going to take a position in New York, I've got to do something."

"So that's your big news!"

"Yep. And that's why I want you to take me back to New York with you." She sank back, confident and beaming. "You know you've coaxed me to come," she reminded Natalie as her sister's silence began to worry her. "I couldn't before, on Andy's account. But nothing could be sweeter now, could it?"

Natalie stared at her, uncertain and unhappy.

"Oh, Nat, you want me, don't you?" Florence cried. Natalie heard the doubt in her voice and forced herself to speak.

"Don't be a goose," she said, chokingly. "Only . . . you won't be in a hurry to go, will you, dear?"

"Of course, I will," Florence affirmed; "but I won't try to hurry you, darling. Mother wouldn't let me anyway."

"Have you spoken to her about going home with me?"

"Not yet."

"Then go and tell her now."

It was in Natalie's mind when she sent Florence away that she would write her letter to Alan. But when she was back at the desk again, she found that her mood had changed. Her anger had left her. She didn't know what she wanted to say now. But certainly she wasn't going to ignore his highhanded attitude, unless . . . unless she ignored it altogether.

She got up from the desk, and closed it decisively. Why write to him at all? Surely no response would be answer enough. She would not admit she was glad, now that her anger had cooled, to evade the issue, but there was a slight, secret glow about her when she went to join Florence and her mother. Florence did not notice it—being too absorbed in discussing her future plans. But her mother was relieved to see that the cloud that had shadowed Natalie's countenance all morning was lifted.

Natalie's satisfaction with her course did not extend to Alan as the days passed and he received no word from her.

At first he was disappointed and hurt. Then followed a period of anxiety which ended when he received a letter from a friend in Natalie's home town, who casually mentioned having seen Natalie at a party.

"So she was having a good time, was she?" Alan reflected bitterly. Well, two could play at that game. He was through with moping, he decided.

The next day—he had received the letter at home—he did not tell himself he ought not to be thinking of Phillipa West, as he had told himself several times in the recent past.

He dwelt with frank pleasure upon the prospect of taking her out again to the theater and a supper club. He wondered if she would go, recalling what had passed between them the day before.

Result Has Been Amazing Says Lubbock Farmer

"For several years I have had an awful lot of trouble with my stomach and everything I ate disagreed with me and after meals I would have that puffed up bloated feeling," said Mr. W. W. Murrell of 1614 Ninth Street, Lubbock, Texas. "I would belch my food up and got to the point where I was afraid to eat anything because of the suffering I knew it would cause me. I was constipated and had terrible headaches and my sleep was very poor and my system seemed to be all run down. I was losing weight and felt tired and worn out all the time. My condition grew gradually worse all the time and I felt that unless I could get the right medicine my troubles would soon become critical. A friend recommended Argotane to me and it has not only relieved me of my troubles but it has built me up amazingly. I have taken one bottle and my stomach is in good shape. My appetite is fine and I eat what I want without feeling a sign of indigestion and the gas does not form on my stomach any more. My heart seems to be back to normal and my constipation is gone. Argotane has been a great thing for me and I don't think anybody can make a mistake by giving it a fair trial. It has started me on the road to health and I think it is the best medicine in the world.

Genuine Argotane may be purchased in Lubbock at Bowen's Drug Store. Adv.

Cotton Fluctuates; Stocks Take Drop

Weather Cause Of Early Rise And Late Drop

Advances on Damaging Rains In Mississippi Valley Are Wiped Out After Report of Better Weather Prospect

NEW ORLEANS, May 19. —(AP)— The cotton market was again entirely a weather affair today, gaining nearly a dollar a bale in the early trading owing to damaging rains over the week end in Mississippi valley and in the southwest and later losing the gain on prospects for better weather in the southwest and lack of sustained support. The general market closed steady at net declines of 8 to 27 points. The new crop months showed the greatest declines.

July closed at 15.91 down 11 points net for the day and October closed at 14.81 down 26 points net.

Port receipts, 13,449; for week, 23,447; for season, 8,346,810; last season 9,237,631. Exports 8,310; for week 10,907; for season 6,253,072. Last season 7,297,840. Port stock 1,702,557; last year 9, 299,630. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans Galveston and Houston 63,896; last year 80,456. Spot sales 3,440; last year 7,313.

Decline Follows Early Advance

NEW YORK, May 19. (AP)—An early advance in cotton on reports of heavy rains and floods in parts of the central and western cotton belt states was followed today by a very rapid decline under liquidation prompted by a more favorable weather forecast and weakness in the stock market. July closed at 14.22, a decline of 18 points. New October closed at 14.79, a loss of 21 points, while the general market closed barely steady at 18 to 31 points net lower.

Certificated stocks at the designated delivery points, including Savannah, were reported at 515,763 bales while May notices in all of the market so far were estimated at 428,700 bales. The Liverpool market was steadier and was said to have been influenced by continental buying and covering. Cloth and yarn sales were reported below production. Exports today 8,258, making 6,409,131 so far this season. Port receipts 13,149. U. S. port stocks.

Setback Suffered By Wheat Values

CHICAGO, May 19. (AP)—Wheat suffered a material setback today, largely owing to assertions that Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Nebraska crops showed big improvement. A leading private crop expert forecast that the states named would produce 10,000,000 bushels more wheat this season than indicated by the official May returns. The United States' wheat visible supply total today showed 4,064,000 bushels falling off, but the decrease was less than was generally expected.

Closing quotations on wheat were weak at virtually the day's bottom level, 1 5-8@2 1-4c a bushel under Saturday's finish. Corn closed 65-8@1 1-2c down, oats 1-2@1 3-8 off, and provisions unchanged to a decline of 20.

Curtailed Receipts Stimulate Demand For Killing Classes In Mart Circuit

KANSAS CITY, May 19. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Curtailed recopts of cattle around the eleven market circuit stimulated demand for most killing classes and a general price advance of .25 was put into effect. Lighter weights of fed steers and yearlings continued to comprise the bulk of receipts. Chicago scored 14.35 on 1550 pound steers and realised 13.75 on choice light weight steers. A six car string of 989-1250-pound horned Texas cake fed steers on the Kansas City market went at 10.00 and 10.10.

The movement of stocker and feeder steers was the lightest in several months with hardly enough available at Kansas City to make a test of market conditions. Shipment of thin steers will probably be light until the middle of July when grass cattle start coming. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 48,700, a decrease of 12,000 from a week ago and 10,000 short of the corresponding day last year.

was dealing with a "proper" investment company, and that when he realied he was not, that he had made a mistake, he cancelled all his contracts with the company.

Sorry For Actions

He said he was sorry his actions had caused any embarrassment to the church or his friends; that his motives could not be questioned; and that he would never again engage in any such transactions.

J. H. Terrell of Ocadia, Fla., secretary of the committee, disclosed that Cannon himself first asked for "a complete investigation" of the charges against him in a letter dated May 2, a week before the conference opened.

Charges filed by Pitzhugh and his associates were characterized as "a pile of allegations enough to to fill a thirty page newspaper, without evidence to support them."

Under the rules of the church, Cannon will be entirely free of the charges when the committee makes its report to the conference, since the committee's actions in regard to these specific accusations, are final.

Mr. Daniels said he was "astounded and astonished" when he was told tonight of the decision.

"I never believed it possible," he explained, adding, as if in afterthought, "Cannon defended himself when it started the charges evidently brought about his penace.

A strong program of entertainment is scheduled in addition to business sessions. New Braunfels has outdone itself in the variety and class of entertainment provided for the visitors. Typical southern hospitality is the prevailing order of the day and the guests from the newer sections of the state are amazed at the large number of courtesies prepared for the visitors.

Beautiful Landa Park, on the banks of Comal Springs at New Braunfels, charmed the visitors Monday evening when a dutch lunch was given by the local chamber of commerce. This delightful park of nearly 100 acres lies in the angle formed by the springs, where they turn away from the hills. These wooded hills, rising upon one hand, shut in an arresting vista. Grassy prairies slope to the water's edge on one side, while on the other rise in rugged majesty the rocky buttresses that break the force of the wintry blasts and afford inviting shelter. The touch of civilization has but toned the wildness of its grandeur and natural charm.

Evening Of Pleasure

Hundreds of the visitors spent an evening of pleasure in the swimming pool and others crowded into the dance pavilion.

The afternoon session was crowded with informational topics discussed by six authorities on credit and economical problems.

Frank Caldwell, field secretary of the National Credit association, St. Louis, talked on the subject of "Information Not Insufficient."

Discuss "Cold" Checks

The legal channels for handling of fraudulent checks were discussed by T. L. Loughridge, vice-president and credit manager of W. C. Munn company, Houston.

Arthur H. Hert, marketing specialist of the University of Texas, cited services offered by the Bureau of Business Research at the State institution.

"What do the Figures in Your Office Show You?" was the subject of a talk by D. M. Moffatt, of Luedecke-Moffatt company, Austin.

Business conditions of the State were emphasized as on an upward trend by R. O. Huff, vice-president of the Central Bank and Trust company, San Antonio.

Dr. Kenneth Dameron, professor of economics at Rice Institute, spoke optimistically of the outlook in retailing in Texas.

They were charged with having an understanding that a considerable portion of this liquor would be distributed to various officials of the city of Borger and of the United States government in consideration for protection and immunity.

The defendants, already under bond made several months ago when they were arraigned, will be brought into court again this week to enter pleas, Alex Mood, prosecuting attorney, said tonight. The trials were set for the present term of court.

Stocks Taken For Declines 3 to 5 Points

Monotony of Last Week's Narrow Price Fluctuations Is Broken by Drop; Professionals Not in Charge

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, May 19. —(AP)—The monotony of last week's narrow price fluctuations was broken today by a decline that carried leading stocks down 3 to 5 points. There was nothing to suggest, however, that the move was not under the direction and sponsorship of the professionals.

Bull pools, discouraged with holding stocks in the face of the public's apparent distaste for the present market, let their favorites go. The statement of Secretary of Commerce Lamont that normal business activity should return in about three months was received without a flurry and prices sagged steadily during the early hours. The decline uncovered substantial stop loss orders and encouraged short selling, with the result that closing prices were generally the lowest.

Two Shots Fired

Two shots were fired into the body of the undertaker, one penetrating the left breast near the heart and the other the right breast. He was rushed in an ambulance to Lubbock but died before he arrived there.

Mr. Dobbins had the only undertaking establishment in Hobbs. Another is expected to be opened shortly.

Besides his widow, the dead man is survived by two daughters and a son, H. W. Dobbins, an undertaker at McCamey.

The remains of Charles Dobbins, of Hobbs, N. M., accompanied by his widow and their only son, H. W. Dobbins, undertaker at McCamey, were sent from Lubbock to Newton, Kas., his former home, for burial.

Mr. Dobbins died in an ambulance while en route to Lubbock to a hospital, following a shooting on property owned by the wounded man.

H. W. Dobbins arrived late Sunday following receipt of word of the death of his father. Burial will be in Newton, probably Wednesday.

Wood and Marshal McComb by criticising their handling of criminal cases growing out of the Julian Petroleum corporation stock scandal. The fine has not been paid.

Mr. Shuler announced that he would leave tomorrow morning by airplane for Dallas, Texas, where he would attend the remaining sessions of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, conference.

clubs, the police department and city officials were enlisted, the report showed. A thousand alley lots, 1270 back yards and 469 vacant lots were cleaned, besides numerous basements, porches, attics, garages, furnaces and the like.

Nearly 2,000 rubbish piles were burned, 850 insects breeding place destroyed and 1559 rats killed, the report showed.

Discussion was held on the reports of numerous junked automobiles being left on down town vacant lots. An effort is to be made to have this situation remedied.

Rubbish Piles Cited

In the southwest part of Lubbock, it was pointed out, there has been found a practice of dumping rubbish in a lake between 21st and 22nd streets. John Lemond, chief of police, said the dumping of rubbish would be stopped by the police department. A reward has been posted for reports which result in an arrest. Similar conditions weer reported from the Mexican section.

A list of winners in the several classes was presentel the committee. They were approved.

Besides Chairman Atkins, members present included D. Jarrett, Joe Nislar and Ross Edwards. City Manager J. Bryan Miller sat in with the group for the first time. Chief of Police Lemond was present as was Gerald Wrenn of the chamber of commerce.

Recommendation of Hoover Is Passed by Congress Monday To Transfer Prohibition Bureau to Justice Dept.

By CECIL B. DICKSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP)— Final congressional action on President Hoover's first major proposal to strengthen dry law enforcement was obtained today as the house unanimously agreed to senate amendments to the Williamson bill authorizing transfer of the prohibition bureau from the treasury to the justice department.

President Hoover was expected by administration followers to affix his signature as soon as the measure reached the White House.

The transfer will become effective July 1.

Under the measure, however, the industrial alcohol division and the narcotic bureau, which had been coordinated with the prohibition bureau, will remain under treasury jurisdiction. It was understood Prohibition Commissioner Doran would remain head of the industrial alcohol division for a time at least.

SLAYERS SOUGHT

Houston Man Taken for 'Ride' By Unknown Gunmen

HOUSTON, May 19. (AP)—A reddened automobile in which the police believe W. L. Edwards rode his ride of death was found late today, but his shotgun assassins still were sought without avail. The machine was of the same type as that occupied by two men who had told detectives Saturday that they had "kidded" Edwards, threatening jocosely they said, to kill him.

Edwards went for his "ride" last night. To federal, county and city officials, to his lawyer, a newspaper reporter and to friends the aviator had foretold his end, saying: "Gunmen have been imported to kill me."

Gunmen killed him, as he had feared, and under a rather bedraggled crepe myrtle bush his ride ended, his body torn with the slugs of a shotgun loosed upon him at close range.

Loss Not Checked In Sunday Blaze

Complete checking of fire losses of the William Cameron and Co., wholesale sash and door manufacturers, 910 Avenue P Sunday afternoon will not be made until insurance adjusters arrive, probably today, it was learned yesterday.

The fire, discovered about 1:30 p. m. Sunday, was started from a pile of trash located near a door at the rear dock. The blaze had made good headway when the firemen, in response to the alarm, arrived.

Loss to the contents was estimated at in excess of several thousand dollars. Building loss was not computed.

Firemen are of the opinion that some one passing by the place tossed either a match or a lighted cigaret into the trash. Possibility of spontaneous combusion also was advanced.

City Prisoner Needs Money Too Badly to Pay Fine

One of Desk Sergeant J. T. Inmon's clients yesterday preferred to remain as a guest of the city rather than pay the fine of $15 which the court had addressed on a charge of being drunk.

After Judge Inmon in corporation court Monday had announced the amount of the fine, the man pulled from his pocket a ten dollar bill, a five, a one and thirty cents in silver. He paused a minute then turned towards the cells, replacing the money in his pockets.

"Need the money so I guess I'll take the 15 days," he told the judge.
